PRICE FIVE CENTS

Twinkles
Being a king is no fun. Yet millions of folks think it would be fun to be a king.

NRA apparently will abandon price-fixing as a policy. The price of folly, also, cannot be fixed.

One of our first acts on coming to Pampa in February of 1927 was to buy rubber boots to enable us to cross Cuyler and Foster streets. Truly, "those good old days."

If you believe the republicans this is the land of the shackled and the home of the regimented.

Uneasy, too, lies the head of a football coach. Blair Cherry has lost a dozen pounds this season and Odus Mitchell talks to his boys in his sleep—when he sleeps.

Musings of the moment: The world series is over, we are glad to report. But names of this year's heroes and duds will be remembered all winter and used as conversation fodder around stoves and bars. Obscure indeed, by comparison, are the football players. Linesmen are the forgotten men and only a few super-glidders will be remembered beyond Christmas. We think of football in terms of schools, rather rarely of players. The football hero is like a movie star—great and shining today but almost forgotten tomorrow.

Brevitorials
AGITATION for building of more state highways cannot logically be separated from the sufficiency or insufficiency of the funds available therefor. Pledges to complete the state's cardinal highway system "by 1936" are meaningless without the funds to carry out this program. Uncle Sam will help but has the peculiarity of asking states to match his dollars.

TEXAS LEVIES a 4-cent tax on gasoline. Only two cents of this goes on the roads and part of it for maintenance. As stated by the Texas Good Roads association, the state common school fund received the record total of $8,496,212 as its one-fourth "cut" out of the gasoline tax income for the fiscal year ending August 31, or $1,000,000 more than in any previous year. The schools needed the money badly, but they had no other source. Another cent, or fourth of the gas tax income went to the board of county and district road bond indebtedness. Gray county receives benefit from this when the state pays part of the interest and sinking fund requirements on highway 33.

THE $8,496,212 of the second group went to help relieve Gray and other counties of the burden of building main highways. This left $16,992,424 to carry out the purpose for which the tax was originally intended—construction and maintenance of county roads. It is rather obvious that such a fund is far from adequate to complete all the state highways. It would close the main gaps, but if the state highway commission does nothing but close gaps for the next two years it will do an injustice to counties not on cardinal highways but which are served by other state roads. Obviously, the state highway fund needs supplementing substantially in the next two or three years.

MOTORISTS from other states will spend many millions for gasoline when they visit the Centennial. It would be right and proper to anticipate this attendant income from the gasoline tax and to make more road construction funds available. It is highly debatable whether the gasoline tax should be increased a cent for the purpose. Taxes once raised are seldom lowered. The petroleum industry already is bearing far more than its rightful share of the burden of government. And there might be a tendency to divert more

UNITED STATES HAS WORLD'S WORST RECORD IN FIRE LOSS

America still bears the stigma of producing the world's worst fire record. Recent statistics indicate the necessity of keeping fire waste as low as possible. The National Fire Waste Council and the Insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States are sponsoring a competition known as the Inter-Chamber Fire Waste Contest among more than 600 cities in all parts of the country.

The results obtained by the cities, reporting in the contest, coincided with their participation in continuous fire prevention programs. This indicated very definitely that fire losses can be decreased through concerted effort.

Last year the cities making returns in the contest showed a remarkable decrease in property loss

FEAR KIDNAP VICTIM WILL DIE

Two Suspects Held In Assassination

THIRD FLEES FROM POLICE INTO FOREST

BOTH ARE OF AUSTRO-ITALIAN ORIGIN, CARDS SHOW

PELGRADE, Oct. 11 (AP)—A mob today stormed the Italian consulate at Sarajevo, the city in which the Archduke Franz Ferdinand was assassinated, starting the world war. The rioters were angered by the assassination of their King Alexander.

Police finally dispersed them, but only with difficulty and after they had also stormed the Croatian society building. The plant of the Great newspaper at Osijek, Yugoslavia, was sacked by mob.

LJUBLJANA, Yugo-Slavia, Oct. 11 (AP)—Anti-Italian riots broke out here today after a meeting at which speakers alleged all attempts against King Alexander's life including that made at Zagreb last March had been financed and prepared in Italy.

Speakers at the meeting drew deduction that it was probable the assassination by Petrus Kalemán was inspired by the same source. Later the crowd attempted to attack the Italian consulate but police intervened and prevented it.

BY RICHARD B. MASSOCK, Associated Press Foreign Staff, Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Two suspected terrorists, arrested today as accomplices of Petrus Kalemán, a hero of King Alexander of Yugo-Slavia and Louis Barthou, foreign minister of France, were found to be carrying passports indicating they were of Austro-Italian origin.

France's police, under nationwide fire because of the assassinations, arrested their suspects, bringing at the day in an effort to solve the mystery of the king's death. It is shaking the diplomatic foundations of Europe.

Rumors spread that the government of Premier Gaston Doumergue might resign in order to reorganize. The feeling of the French people was running high. Not only because of the assassinations but because of previous alleged shortcomings of police work.

The two arrested suspects said they were Vladimir Boues and Vlasto Novok. The passports they carried were Czech-Slovakian and showed they had been born in Zerz, Italy, in 1903, and Novok in Genoa, Italy, in 1900. Both of these places then were Austrian territory.

They were arrested at Thonon on the border of Switzerland shortly after a third suspect, Sylvester Chalmers, had escaped from police hands into a Fontainebleau forest. Chalmers was identified by a passport which he dropped, a passport which indicated he had been issued by the Czechoslovakian consulate at Zagreb from

5 KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN RAIL WRECK

Milwaukee Passenger Train Leaves Tracks

GUTTENBERG, Ia., Oct. 11 (AP)—Five persons were killed and an undetermined number of passengers were injured when a Milwaukee passenger train left the rails near here early today and plunged into a creek.

The wrecked train, a local from Savannah, Ill., to Lacrosse, Wis., included among the approximately 25 passengers in its single coach a number of school children who boarded the train at Turkey River shortly before the accident.

Rounding a curve at 7.25 a. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 9, the train plunged from the creek trestle into the stream bed. The engine exploded and the cab and tender were torn from the boiler as it struck the water. A mail dispatching car and passenger coach were both derailed and overturned.

In the excitement the less serious hurt entailed from the mangled cars and began the rescue work. Aid was summoned from Guttenberg and nearby farms came to help.

Diphtheria May Be Taken From Disease 'Carrier' Work Lists To Be Posted Here

School health authorities pointed out today that diphtheria is a contagious disease caused by the Plebs-Loeffler bacillus. Children are susceptible to the disease up to the age of 10 years. One does not have to come in contact with a child who has the disease in order to contract it, but may take it from a "carrier"—one who carries the disease but is not sick.

Diphtheria attacks the nasal passage and the throat, then begins to grow.

Some persons have a natural immunity and will not develop the disease. The Schick test is a method by which doctors find out who may and may not take diphtheria. A weak solution is injected just under the skin. If a red spot appears within 2 to 4 days and remains about two weeks, the person is susceptible to the disease. If it does not redden, he is not subject to the disease, therefore does not need to take toxoid.

BUT LOUDEST CHEERS ARE RESERVED FOR PRINCE REGENT

By CHARLES MEISTER, Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 11.—The 11-year-old Crown Prince Peter was proclaimed King of Yugoslavia today by both houses of parliament setting as a national assembly.

In a scene of sadness and silence, broken only by the spoken pledge of the members sitting as a national assembly, the oaths to make the 11-year-old son of the slain Alexander King Peter the Second.

Each member took the oath individually to support the King's constitution and the law of the land.

A solemn scene was presented as the pale, nervous Prince Paul, Alexander's cousin and head of the newly appointed agency, looked down from the royal enclosure at hundreds of a-d-visaged deputies, as each raised his right hand and with the left on the Bible pledged himself to the new regime.

Prince Paul himself dramatically won the heart of parliament by a simple laconic speech.

After swearing faithfully to serve his country and to preserve the unity of its people he said: "Thank you for your confidence in me. I think you have not made a mistake in me."

The deputies then broke into prolonged and excited cheers such as have seldom been won by a carefully worded oration in the parliament where the ceremony took place.

The senators and deputies, still feeling the shock of Alexander's assassination at Marseille, obviously were made ready by the prince's words, and the sincerity of a mild-mannered young man who simply and courageously accepted a grave responsibility he never had sought.

Yugoslavia was outwardly normal today but 27 military airplanes were made ready for instant take-offs, just in case.

The planes were wheeled from their hangars at Zemun, just across the river.

Otherwise, no special security measures could be observed. Many parts of the country reported there were no signs of any popular effort to overthrow the government. Some observers said the only possibility of unexpected action would be the seizure of power by the army—but this, they added, is highly improbable.

An elaborate funeral will be given Alexander. He will be placed in the Srebrphagus he completed only a few weeks ago, an indication that he had a premonition of death.

For two days Alexander will lie in state here. Then, after consecration services at the national cathedral, the body will be borne to the Royal Memorial church at Topolo where the Srebrphagus is, beside that of his father King Peter. Topolo is Alexander's native city.

Search Is Under Way for Valley Deputy Sheriff

McALLEN, Oct. 11 (AP)—More than 500 men joined in a great manhunt today for the missing Hidalgo county sheriff, Jack Rapp, who disappeared yesterday morning while transporting three prisoners to Edinburg.

Border patrolmen, immigration officers, customs service men, and scores of Legionnaires swelled the small army which took up the search. Two planes were pressed into service to circle the territory on the theory that he either had been killed and his body hid in the brush or that he was tied up in some isolated sector of the brushland.

A woman relative of one of the three prisoners has been questioned but has refused to give any information of value. The men with Rapp when he was last seen were D. M. Hood and his sons, Carl and Clifford.

The family came here about two months ago and established a camp in the basement of an unfinished building. City and county officers arrested the three men Sunday and found several articles allegedly stolen. Carl Hood Monday led officers to a cache of stolen property in the floodway south of McAllen.

Wayne Nicholson Injured When Car Strikes Culvert

Wayne Nicholson, city traffic officer, is in Pampa hospital recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident early yesterday morning near Memphis, Henry Ford, also of Pampa, was cut and bruised but was able to be taken to his home. The two men were brought from Memphis yesterday afternoon.

The two Pampans were returning from a business trip to Dallas and were driving through at night. Near Memphis, Nicholson went to sleep with Ford behind the wheel. Ford said he apparently went to sleep momentarily but awoke when the car ran off the pavement. He pulled the car back on the pavement but before he could slow down, the car crashed into a cement culvert.

Mr. Nicholson suffered a fractured foot and severe bruises about the body. Mr. Ford was cut and bruised. Both were taken to Memphis following the accident. The car was badly damaged.

RICH MATRON HAD BEEN ILL OF BAD COLD

EDUCATED CRIMINAL IS HOLDING HER FOR $50,000 RANSOM

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 11 (AP)—Fears that Mrs. Alton Stoll, young society matron, might die in a kidnaper's hands was based, it was learned today, not only on the fact that she was beaten with an iron pipe until blood came, but she was suffering from a severe cold that had required a physician.

From members of the family of Berry V. Stoll, oil company vice president, police learned during the night that the 26-year-old former Bryn Mawr student and junior league member, was ill when a white faced man kidnaped her late yesterday for $50,000 ransom. Today Mayor William Schuchert, night chief of police, said the young woman had a high temperature yesterday afternoon when an unidentified man got into the Stoll home by a ruse, subdued her and her maid, Ann Woollet, and forced Mrs. Stoll to leave with him in an automobile.

The Stoll family and that of William S. Speed, retired capitalist father, announced from the start they were ready to pay the ransom and today Mr. Stoll reiterated:

"We are not so much interested now in the capture of the kidnap as we are in the return of Alice. All we want is to get her back alive."

Meanwhile, federal agents were being concentrated in Louisville to aid in the search on orders from Washington and Gov. Ruby Laffoon offered all possible state aid. "It's a mighty ugly case," the governor added in making his announcement.

But splashes of blood, the cultured wording of the threatening ransom note and the hysterical cry of an almost hysterical maid were all the sleuths had to go on for hours after the kidnaping.

The victim was seized in her home on Lime Kiln Lane, in the fashionable but remote upper river road section of Louisville, 10 miles from the city proper. The kidnaping came about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, saying he had come to repair the telephone, which had been giving trouble.

Looked Like Fiend.
Ann Woollet, 24-year-old maid, who husband is a caretaker at the Stoll estate, admitted him. She said he "looked and acted like a fiend." He "foiled around with the wires" she said and then ripped away the connection. Mrs. Stoll, who had been ill several days, came down stairs when she heard the noise.

The man, named Mrs. Woollet with a gun, forced her to tape the hands of her mistress. Then he tied the maid to a chair, gagged her and told Mrs. Stoll he was going to kidnap her.

They talked about the matter for some time and Mrs. Stoll offered the man a check if he would let her go. He replied by hitting her on the head with a piece of iron pipe. Her head was cut and began to bleed but the maid said she was not unconscious.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, aunt of 10-year-old Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, is expected to cross her side of the court fight over custody of the little heiress today with a personal appearance before supreme court Justice John P. Carew who is conducting the hearing in camera.

Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, mother of the child, who is seeking to retain custody of the girl is then expected to start presentation of her side of the case.

The presentation of the plaintiff's witness will prolong the suit several days as witnesses from the other side of the Atlantic—notably Prince Gottfried Hohenlohe of Langenburg—are awaited to bolster Mrs. Vanderbilt's contention that she is a fit person to have custody of the child.

Justice Carew announced yesterday that he would probably talk with Gloria before the case is closed. He said any such interview would be in the presence of any interested persons and their counsel.

JUDGE ORDERS HEARING HELD NEXT MONDAY

SIX WITNESSES WILL PRESENT ALIBI FOR GERMAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—The State of New Jersey suffered a set back today in its efforts for the immediate removal of Bruno Hauptmann to its jurisdiction for trial on an indictment charging him with the murder of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

Despite pressure on the part of New Jersey authorities for an immediate hearing on an application of the defense for a writ of habeas corpus in an effort to prevent the extradition, Supreme Court Justice Ernest E. L. Hammer granted a request of the defense and set Monday at 11 a. m. for the hearing.

Hauptmann, meantime will be in the custody of the New York police commissioner, occupying his same cell in the Bronx county jail where he was placed in default of $100,000 bail on the extortion indictment returned against him in that county.

The technical legal maneuvers incident to the setting of Monday for a hearing on return moved rapidly in two Bronx courts. During them Hauptmann technically was a free man for a few seconds, although surrounded by New York City and New Jersey state police and Bronx county detectives.

Hauptmann, his shoulders erect and his face freshly shaved, was led into Bronx county court before Senior County Judge James M. Barrett for the first of the court proceedings.

His face has assumed a prison sullen since his arrest last month. He had on the grey suit he was wearing at the time of his arrest, a brown shirt open at the throat, no tie and black shoes. A green handkerchief showed in his breast pocket.

District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx, addressed Judge Barrett, informing him that extradition papers calling for Hauptmann's removal to New Jersey on the murder charge were ready.

Special Train To El Paso Grid Game Suggested

A. E. Tusha, traveling freight and passenger agent, and R. H. White, traveling auditor, of the Santa Fe Railroad company out of Amarillo, were Pampa visitors today. They were here in the interest of a special train to El Paso, where the Harvesters will play on the afternoon of October 27. The officials said that numerous inquiries had been received regarding the price of tickets for a special.

The Board of City Development was asked to receive calls from interested persons so that a preliminary check could be made regarding the demand for the train. The round trip ticket in a day coach would be $10.30.

It would also be possible to secure Pullman accommodations by chartering cars if the trip were made at night. The suggested time of leaving is 5 o'clock Friday morning with arrival in El Paso about 7 o'clock that night. The return could be on the same hours Sunday.

Or, the trip down could be made at night, if fans desired to sleep in day coaches, and the return could be in the daytime.

School officials said this morning that they would allow the team to go on the special train, in a private car, if enough fans purchased tickets.

Santa Fe officials said that 150 would be required to assure the special train. Usually 200 tickets are required to make a special train possible.

I SAW—

An ardent Harvester fan who was worrying himself sick over the fear that Fort Worth Central high will beat Amarillo on Butler field Saturday, and that Pampa won't get a chance to be the first to break the 6-year-old tradition Thanksgiving.

Yesterday the testimony, according to Justice Carew who is providing a daily resume, turned to financial matters.

Mrs. Laura Kilpatrick Morgan, mother of Mrs. Vanderbilt, testified that she had considered her daughter lacking in proper maternal affection ever since the grandchild was born but that she did nothing about it until Mrs. Vanderbilt applied last month for full custody of the girl's $2,800,000 estate.

It was this estate, according to a petition filed in surrogate's court with the application for custody, that provided Mrs. Vanderbilt's only income of $48,000 a year and enabled her to contribute to Mrs. Morgan's support.

Justice Carew said that testimony showed that Mrs. Morgan had received a $50,000 yearly pension contributed by Mrs. Vanderbilt and another daughter, Lady Furness. Mrs. Morgan testified that the pension ceased last month but she denied that she expected it to be continued by Mrs. Whitney in the event she wins custody of Gloria and her estate.

THREE UNIONS REINSTATED BY A MAJORITY

BUILDING TRADES TO CONTROL OWN DEPARTMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11. (AP)—The long and spirited internal battle in the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor has ended with three unions, labeled as "incorrigibles" by their opponents, virtually in control of the department.

Backing President William Green, the 54th annual convention of the A. F. of L. by an overwhelming vote last night supported its executive committee in declaring the recent building trades convention illegal because it refused to allow re-affiliation of the Bricklayers, Carpenters and Electrical Workers Unions. The vote settling a problem which has rankled for years in the inner councils of the federation was 19,398 to 3,926.

The executive committee had ordered the three unions reinstated in an effort to present a "united front to industry" in the formation of codes and settlement of disputes.

The three "incorrigibles," with the support of a few of the lesser unions now affiliated with the department, tentatively set for Saturday, delegates agreed during the six and one-half hour debate which preceded the roll-call vote.

It appearing to the City Commission that the occupation of pawn brokers and as well circuses and shows are taxed by state law and that the City of Pampa is entitled to levy and collect from such occupation a tax of one-half of the amount of the State tax, and the City of Pampa has no ordinance levying a tax on said occupation and that the general welfare of the City of Pampa requires the levying and collection of an occupation tax on said occupation by the City, an emergency is hereby declared and the rule requiring that the ordinance is to be read upon three separate days before final passage is hereby suspended and this ordinance shall become effective upon its passage and publication as required by law.

Passed and approved this 8th day of October, A. D. 1934.

Mob Dissuaded From Lynching Beaumont Black

BEAUMONT, Oct. 11 (AP)—A mob apparently intending to lynch Jack Jackson, negro accused of slaying a white farmer, was dissuaded from violence at the Liberty county jail last night.

Six men in the mob, which numbered about 50, stormed into the jail yard carrying a telephone pole and, apparently, a battering ram. As the mob approached the jail door with the pole, District Attorney Clyde E. Smith met the men and appealed to their honor that the law take its proper course.

Sheriff L. V. Higginover then told the mob bluntly: "You're not going to bother this negro."

Rumors that a move was contemplated to lynch the negro had circulated in Liberty all day.

Jackson, sought for three weeks as the suspected slayer of J. J. Andrews, Devers, Texas, farmer, was caught in Beaumont Tuesday.

Unless the differences are composed within the next 45 days a new department convention will be held in Washington, D. C., with the bricklayers, carpenters and electricians admitted to elect officers and transact business.

Efforts to bring about a peaceable settlement of the internal fight were started immediately. President Green pledged all of his efforts and those of the executive council would be devoted to an attempt to negotiate a fair settlement.

President Michael J. McDonough of the department, who led the fight against the re-affiliation, said he "still hoped for a settlement" although he could not predict what his future actions would be.

Declarations that the entire battle "was only politics" were freely tossed back and forth as the debate continued.

Before the convention today is another long list of resolutions, some 150 of which remain to be acted upon before the convention closes, tentatively set for Saturday. They include several of the recovery program, others on company unions, industrial or craft unionization.

INDIANANS TO PLAY AT BALL THIS EVENING

A popular orchestra will greet dancers and music lovers tonight when Bob Dunning and his Indianans play for the regular Thursday night dance. The band is billed as the "hit band from the banks of the Wabash" and reports from the many places where they have played, has led the management of the Pampa auditorium to make plans for a large crowd tonight.

The regular tie-up with the theaters will be given in connection with the dance. Admission will be 25 cents with a charge of 5 cents per dance with the admission charge credited for that amount on a ticket to the theaters. Credits will be allowed for any admission paid before 9 o'clock.

The Dunning band comes to Pampa highly recommended and a big evening is planned. Ten pieces make up the band which plays a wide variety of numbers. (Adv.)

SHAWNEE'S BIG VETERANS OUTWEIGH HARVESTERS SIX POUNDS PER MAN

QUARTERBACK OF LAST YEAR TO LEAD PACK

WOLVES HAVE LOST A GAME, WON ONE AND TIED TEAM

Again tomorrow night the Harvesters will be outweighed when they take the field against the Shawnee Wolves of Shawnee, Okla. The big Oklahomans will place a team averaging 168 pounds in the field while the Harvesters, with Nash at fullback, will average about 162 pounds.

Game time will be 8 o'clock with admission 75 cents. Shawnee is expected to arrive in Pampa tonight or early tomorrow morning in order to rest for the game. The Wolves have won a game, tied a game, and lost a game this season.

The Wolves opened the season with a 41-0 victory over a high school team in St. Louis. The following week they fought a scoreless tie with Seminole, said to be one of the strongest teams in Oklahoma this year. Last week, playing without Jones and Williams, three-year lettermen and the only veterans in the line, the Wolves lost a 13 to 12 encounter to McAlester, another strong contender for state honors.

Three lettermen of three years experience will lead the Wolves attack. All other members of the starting lineup have one letter to their credit. Dick Perry, fleet quarterback, is the other three-year letterman on the squad. He is one of the boys who dealt the Harvesters much misery in Shawnee last year, when the Wolves won 7 to 0.

Last year the Wolves lost one game, to Capitol Hill, the champions. Only three teams scored on the Wolves last year and the points against them totaled 38 while they were amassing 135 contacts. The 1933 Wolves finished second in the Mid-State conference. This year they are pointing to the championship.

The Harvesters will have to watch the sweeping end runs of Gorgan, 150 pounds and the lightest man in the Shawnee backfield, and the crushing line drives of Gentry, 170-pound fullback, Perry, 160-pound quarterback, and Reynolds, 165-pound halfback, round out the Shawnee starting backfield.

The Wolves are particularly strong in reserve strength, being able to send into the line two 190-pound guards, a 195-pound center and a 210-pound tackle. A fleet, mid-age backfield is also available when the shock troops need rest.

The Harvesters will not be at full strength, or in the best of condition when they face the big Wolves. Red Panning, first string fullback will not be in uniform because of scholastic difficulties. Lloyd Hamilton, quarterback; Hazel Mackie, halfback; Captain Monroe Owens, end; and Bill Parks, guard, were unable to scrimmage yesterday because of leg and shoulder bruises yet yet held from the Fort Worth game last week. Bob Drake and Ray Elkins, substitute halfbacks, will not be able to play because of injuries received in scrimmage sessions last week, coaches report.

Coaches put "well" charges through a stiff scrimmage yesterday afternoon. The work of substitutes was outstanding and the "injured" regulars appeared nervous as they watched from the sidelines. The work of Brown, Rose, Webb, and Powell was particularly gratifying in the backfield, while the linemen also clicked more smoothly.

Horror Scenes In Revolt Told By Eye-Witness

MADRID, Oct. 11 (AP)—Scenes of horror in the isolated province of Asturias, now the center of a red revolt which has raged for a week were described today in a message from a Spanish correspondent accompanying government troops.

The army encountered instances where civil guards had been slain by overpowering forces, the correspondent reported. More than 1,000 armed rebels attacked the civil guard at Campomanes and 15 guards from Leon who attempted to relieve the post were killed. The civil guard quarters were literally torn to pieces by bullets. Campomanes was retaken by the army Sunday.

Many were slain on both sides and hundreds of cattle in the region were killed by flying bullets. Insurgents were equipped with light artillery. In one bombardment near Campomanes, more than 150 rebels were killed, the newspaper man reported. Vega and del Rey have just been overcome after a terrific bombardment. An advance from two directions on a red stronghold at Mieres is now planned.

Autogiros are being used for the first time in actual Spanish combat. Two are operating with the army in Asturias on patrol duty and carrying dispatches in the mountainous territory.

SAYS BOOTLEGGERS THRIVE CHICAGO—Bootleggers are still selling 50 per cent of the alcoholic beverages consumed in this country today, said Joseph Triner, Chicago, chairman of the national code authority for the alcoholic beverage wholesale industry. Unless liquor taxes and license fees are reduced, he said he feared the legitimate liquor business will cease to exist.

7,000 INFELDERS STEAL ALL BALLS AS DEANS PITCH GAME

Nightmarish Game Ends in Fifth Inning; Brothers Spread Stuff for Crowd.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 11 (AP)—Dizzy and Paul Dean were adopted sons of Oklahoma today—the fact of their Arkansas nativity impudently waved aside by 15,000 rabid baseball fans who fascinated with their famous "fog and plow" balls at an exhibition game here last night.

The game, probably modeled on one of Judge K. M. Landis' best nightmares, ended after five and a half innings had elapsed and the supply of baseballs was exhausted. The Holdenville Horrors played with a pick-up crew of former major and minor league players. Their opponents, the sable-hued Kansas City Monarchs, found themselves on the short end of a 4 to 0 score.

Every time a baseball glorified by momentary contact with the pitching paw of a Dean fell among the fans who swarmed onto the playing field, that ball was immediately transformed from a trade tool into a souvenir.

The game ended, men, women, and children cluttered up the infield and peered over the catcher's shoulder.

"Any guy should be able to pitch with 7,000 infielders," commented someone.

The boys both spread their stuff for the crowd. Paul, who pitched the first three innings, bore down in the pinches and fanned three.

Hallahan To Be Traded to Cubs For Pat Malone

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (AP)—The echoes of the world series haven't died away yet, but the report and rumor season already is on. Bill Hallahan, the world champion Cardinals' little southpaw, according to the first of the rumors, will be a member of the Chicago Cubs next season, and Pat Malone, big righthander, will do his pitching for the Cards.

The Cubs need a southpaw, and Frankie Frisch, pilot of the Cards, is said to be willing to part with Hallahan to get Malone. Malone won 14 games and lost 7, but was used little during the last month of recent season, following difficulty with Manager Charlie Grimm. Hallahan won 8 games and lost 12, but pitched a whole of a game against Schoolboy Rowe, in the Tigers' first victory of the series.

WARNER TEAM SEEMS TO BE ONE OF BEST

BATTLE FOR MYTHICAL TITLE NOW BEYOND CALCULATION

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—This business of picking candidates for a national football championship, which provides a lot of fun for the fans every season without doing any real harm, apparently will have to await the returns of later games this year.

A flock of early season upsets and other beatings have taken the edge right off this year's set of intercollegiate contests, many of which might have been regarded as "natural" in the race for the mythical title.

Saturday's big trio of games from the intersectional viewpoint are Pittsburgh-Ohio in California, Stanford-Northwestern and Temple-Indiana with Michigan State-Carnegie Tech, and Detroit-Washington and Jefferson ranked close behind. Of these games only Michigan State and Carnegie present a pair of unbeaten teams and there is some doubt as to the place of this contest in national affairs.

The Spartans, by their 16-0 triumph over Michigan last week, took an important position but Carnegie has had a pair of close calls against Geneva and Miami of Ohio. Hence the Technicians aren't rated as title candidates yet.

Among the teams in the top three games, Southern California has been beaten by Washington State and another good team as fairly stiff early season opposition from W. and J. and West Virginia ended with a pair of 27-6 decisions for Pitt. Pop Warner's Temple outfit itself is very good or Virginia Poly Tech and Texas A. & M. aren't, for Temple beat that pair 34-0 and 40-6, respectively.

W. and J. beaten by Pitt, should give the first real hint as to the strength of the Detroit team which has whipped two minor opponents.

Drake, with a weak record so far, can be rated as only a minor opponent for Army while Columbia's victory over Yale last Saturday has made the Lions overwhelming favorites over the twice-defeated Virginia Military team. The George Washington-Citadel clash also is of minor importance.

As for the teams that are battling within their own sections for recognition as major powers it's a different matter. The mid-western program includes Ohio State-Illinois and Nebraska-Iowa as games of major importance; in the southwest are Texas-Oklahoma and Rice-Southern Methodist. The south presents Tulane and Florida and Tennessee and Mississippi, all unbeaten, and Louisiana State-Auburn, Georgia-North Carolina, Duke-Georgia Tech, Kentucky-Clemson and others. The Oregon-Washington clash tops the west coast slate. In the east, Princeton, Cornell, Harvard-Brown, Manhattan-Georgetown, and Yale-Pennsylvania on Saturday are the leaders despite the defeats suffered by some of the teams.

Both Klem and Delancey used over-ripe words for which they should be fined," Landis said of the two incidents. "Imagine how it looked when one of the women in that crowd in the lobby turned and asked someone who the man using profane language was and heard that someone say 'why, that's Umpire Bill Klem, of the National League.' I'm not going to stand for that sort of thing."

He said it was the first time in his 14 years as baseball commissioner that he had found it necessary to fine an umpire.

Umpire Clarence Owens fined Delancey $200 for abusive language in St. Louis. Landis said the fine was illegal.

Cherry Says His Team Will Lose On Butler Field

AMARILLO, Oct. 11 (AP)—Coach Blair Cherry of the Amarillo high Golden Sandstrom believes a 6-year-old tradition will be broken Saturday when the Sandies meet Central high of Fort Worth here.

Since the Sandies dedicated Butler field six years ago they have not been defeated or tied on the home gridiron. This is the tradition Coach Cherry has in mind.

Here is why the Sandstrom coach is worried: Central high Panthers have played three games, defeating Waco, 28 to 0; Mineral Wells, 28 to 6, and Ranger, 27 to 19. The Sandies have played but two games. They won both, defeating El Paso and the West Texas State Teachers college frosh.

The Sandie-Central tussle will be one of the highlights of Texas high school football this week.

STATEWIDE OIL HEARING TO BE HELD OCT. 29

Production Schedules Will Be Reviewed And Revised

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—Texas oil operators today received notices of the Texas railroad commission of a statewide production hearing October 29. Conditions of the various fields will be reviewed, prefacing a revision of state production schedules for November.

Recommendations of the department of interior of the state's daily quota for next month likely will be before the commission then. In recent months the state regulatory agency has held production within the federal allocation.

Current schedules permit a daily output of approximately 942,000 barrels compared to the federal quota of 956,100 barrels. State schedules were trimmed to 929,533 barrels October 1, but several subsequent revisions raised the total.

Production in the East Texas field was approximately 402,000 barrels, based on a permitted flow of 3.6 per cent of each well's hourly potential. Last month each well was allotted four per cent.

The commission varied from its policy of mid-month meetings to give engineers additional time to complete experiments in East Texas on a new type of test to determine the field's potential, the allowable is calculated from that basis.

Experiments were made to ascertain the relationship between tests made through tubing and through casing. If the ratio is constant, tubing tests likely will be used in wells could be tested, at less departure from normality. Because the cost of equipping wells for casing tests is high, only a few of the field's more than 14,000 are eligible.

Tubing tests could be made, however, on a large majority of the wells, enabling the commission to obtain more extensive data from a greater variety of wells.

Notre Dame, 7 to 6, substantially proved that speed and power still is the most essential requirement in football.

The forward passing fad for Southwest conference teams started several years ago when Southern Methodist enjoyed a phenomenal campaign because of a scintillating aerial attack.

Since that time it has been a habit of Southwest conference coaches to endeavor to win the majority of their contests via the forward pass route. Records prove that an aggregation depending on forward passes for victories will conclude the season with the amazing discovery that their passes defeated them just about as many times as they won.

Passes are part of football and always will be. Passes, when completed for long gains, are the gridiron's thrill of thrills, but when teams in the Southwest conference take a few flat zone forward and basket passes and beat powerful Pacific coast, western and eastern machines, they are guessing wrong.

The conference ledger proves that Rice, coached by youthful Jimmy Rice, and Texas, under the guidance of young Jack Chevigny, really added prestige to the conference when they emerged victorious Saturday over two of the country's headline teams.

Rice and Texas won with power plus speed. Young Kitts and Lohengry know that power wins and they are developing it. During his stop over here while en route to Houston from Purdue, Kitts admitted that he stressed power and speed. He said that it was power, plenty of it, that got John McCauley, Rice halfback, loose on that 50-yard run that spelled the margin of victory for Rice. It took blocking power and running power to get McCauley into a broken-field and it required speed after he once got there. That's why Rice beat Louisiana State and Wallop Purdue—because the Owls know fundamentals, have power and speed.

And the story of Texas' victory is brief. Gaining possession of the ball on Notre Dame's 14-yard line, Bohn Hilliard and Hugh Wolfe hammered and pounded and battered their way through the Notre Dame line from where Bohn crashed thru for a touchdown on the fourth down. Again it was power—the game Southwest conference teams surely must play if additional victories are to be registered against such teams as Purdue and Notre Dame.

MIAMIANS AND CLARENDON TO PLAY FRIDAY

LEFORS PLAYS GROOM; McLEAN TO BE HOST TO PANHANDLE

Class B football in this area will flourish Friday afternoon and night, although there will be only one conference game. The Miami Warriors will go to Clarendon to open the conference season. The Warriors will be the underdogs, but Coach Ellis Locke has done wonders with his team in the last two weeks and the Bronchos of Coach Frank Stocking are hoped to have a stiff game.

The little LeFors Pirates of Coaches Bill Bronson and Francis Smith will go to Groom for an important game Friday afternoon. The two teams have long been rivals. Groom defeated LeFors in the Pirate lair last year and revenge is the keynote of the Pirate song. Kenneth Kendrick is Groom coach.

Panhandle will invade McLean for a battle Friday night. Panhandle has one of the strongest teams in several years. Coach Pat Gerald has been pointing to the McLean game for some time. The Panthers won a 6 to 0 game from Canyon to boost the Panther stock. Coach Garrison Bush of the Tigers will have his full team ready for Panhandle and the game will be a pointed for the game with the Pampa Harvesters in the following week.

The White Deer Bucks, fresh from a 13 to 7 win over the Pampa Gorillas, will go to Wheeler for a game Friday afternoon. Wheeler last week downed Mobeetie 6 to 0 in a great game. The two teams are evenly matched.

Claude will jump into the big time circuit when they go to Memphis Friday afternoon. The Owls of Memphis are usually considered one of the strongest teams in the Panhandle. Claude has another great team this year.

The Pampa Gorillas will rest this week after three hard games, all lost by small scores.

Cottage Cheese Making Learned By Hopkins Club

"Tempt the children with cottage cheese dishes by adding fruit and vegetables and preparing different kinds of these dishes," said Miss Ruby Adams, Gray county home demonstration agent, during a cheese demonstration Tuesday when Mrs. Ott Campbell of the Hopkins club was hostess.

Hopkins club women felt themselves fortunate to learn the secrets of cottage cheese making imparted by Miss Adams. She demonstrated two methods, one using a gallon of clean skimmed milk which had clabbered, and the other using sweet milk with rennet tablet.

Both were excellent in texture, but most of the Hopkins women preferred the clabber cheese. Miss Adams also made a delicious cheese and nut loaf and gave the recipe for it.

Miss Fae Davis, recreation chairman, suggested that the club have a community Halloween mask and costume party soon. The date is to be announced later.

Merten Club Has Demonstration on Cottage Cheese

"Cottage Cheese is no by-product; it has the same food value as a glass of whole milk," Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, told women of Merten club yesterday when she presented a lesson on cheese making at the home of Mrs. C. B. Hany.

Its mild flavor makes cottage cheese suitable to combine with many fruits and vegetables—raisins, pineapple, parsley, carrots, tomatoes, pepper, celery, prunes, berries, and nuts are all good. It makes useful salads and open faced sandwiches.

She listed advantages of the rennet method of making cottage cheese as follows: Finer texture and more uniform results, less time and attention in making, weight reduced. The natural souring method has these disadvantages: Slow curdling, undesirable fermentation, bitter and undesirable flavors, lack of uniformity.

After a business session refreshments were served to Mrs. Adams, Miss Ford, Phillips, Knapp, Taylor, Heard, Fischer, Browning, and the hostess.

Briscoe School Patrons in Rally

Patrons of the Briscoe school in Wheeler county held a community meeting Tuesday dedicating a new school gymnasium and having an educational rally. County Supt. O. B. Miller and Deputy State Supt. Bryan Dickson were the principal speakers.

Ladies of the community served a basket dinner in the gymnasium to about 400. At the close of the dinner a decorated birthday cake with five candles, representing the fifth anniversary of the Briscoe school, was presented to the faculty and trustees by Mr. Miller. The cake was baked by Mrs. Charles Chandler.

CANDLES BURN ON ROOSEVELT BIRTHDAY CAKE

First Lady Forgets Birthday to Stay Young

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (AP)—It's Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's fiftieth birthday today, but Sisile and Buzze Dall are much more excited over it than is the First Lady.

So that the grandchildren might blow out the birthday candles, the celebration was fixed for tea-time instead of dinner. And the cake was about all the festivity Mrs. Roosevelt would permit, for her theory is:

"The more you forget your birthday as you grow older, the younger you stay."

Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the president, who celebrated her eightieth birthday at Hyde Park a few weeks ago, was expected for tea. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt, who live nearby in Virginia, planned to drop in. Elliott said:

"Mother's a difficult person to celebrate birthdays with. She wants the day to slide over with as little fuss as possible."

Mrs. Roosevelt's daily calendar was posted by clear or public appearances for the day—perhaps because she didn't wish the public to make a fuss over it either.

But the First Lady's friends remembered the date. Flowers filled every vase; telegrams stacked up; gifts and good wishes poured into the White House.

This plan of divided chapel hours was presented to the room for the visitors who have been attending programs, and for the increased number of pupils.

Many visitors attended the program yesterday, which featured a talk on fire prevention by Fire Chief Clyde Gold, and the presence of members of the First Baptist revival party.

Difficult Award Is Won by Woman Of Laketon Club

Laketon Home Demonstration club is proud that one of its members, Mrs. E. I. Gillespie, won first place for canned meals in the recent county club exhibit.

This is a difficult exhibit that must include a balanced menu for a day suited for the individual's family, and five standard containers of standard quality products.

Mrs. Gillespie was the efficient 4-H pantry demonstrator for her club last year. Adequate diets are of particular interest to her, and she really knows her vitamins, club members say.

Following is the winning menu arranged and exhibited by Mrs. Gillespie: Chicken a la king, lamb-quarter greens, buttered okra, scalloped corn, Waldorf salad, hot rolls, butter, pears, vanilla wafer, tea or milk.

She is an all-round club woman, and is serving as reporter this year. Her ambition is to be first place winner in club publicity books next year.

CHRISTIANITY IS FOR HEROES SPEAKER SAYS

CROWDS GROW AT FIRST BAPTIST REVIVAL SERVICES

"Christianity is a religion for heroes and not for selfish cowards," Evangelist Appelmann said last evening at the climax of his sermon on Paying Our Debts, one of a series of revival messages being delivered at the First Baptist church.

"We owe a debt to Jesus Christ," he said, "to those mighty men of old have paved the way for us in blood and tears, to those about us now, our fellow citizens in Pampa.

"Tremendous sacrifices have been made to carry on the work of Christ and the church. Women have been thrown to beasts, men crucified and burned at the stake only because they were Christians.

"To pay our debts we must first of all accept the salvation that Christ purchased for us with his blood on the cross. We must hold up the banner, carrying on the traditions, go on with the work that the heroic martyrs, the sacrificial saints of old paid for in suffering, sorrow, and sacrifice.

"It is our unchangeable, undogedable obligation to those about us to lead exemplary lives, to pray for them, to do all we possibly can to lead them to our Savior."

Three hundred persons responded to an invitation of the evangelist for consecration of their efforts to assistance in the revival. Three young men, Fred Matthews, Joe Peacock, and W. B. Hersh, presented themselves for membership in First Baptist church.

90 TROUPERS OF CARNIVAL HELD IN JAIL

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF STATE AUTO EQUIPMENT

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 11. (AP)—Ninety carnival troupers jammed the Ellis county jail today as state authorities prepared to file charges against them for a series of raids on state highway department warehouses.

Two truck loads of automotive parts, tires, tubes and shop tools identified as stolen from warehouses at Navasota, Fairfield and Clarksville have been recovered, along with some rims belonging to the Missouri highway department. Officers also were trying to determine whether any of the loot had been taken from warehouses at Sulphur Springs and Denton.

"I am sure we have located the ring-leaders of the gang," said L. O. Phares, superintendent of the Texas highway patrol, after he and other officers finished questioning most of the carnival workers. They were several among those under arrest.

Phares estimated that at least $2,000 worth of the recovered equipment belonged to the State of Texas.

"This case is just getting started," Phares notified his office in Austin, indicating more disclosures were impending.

An official of the Missouri highway department was en route to Waxahachie to represent his state in the case.

Shepiff Dave Pears of Ellis county started picking up the suspects Tuesday night and soon had the jail packed.

ILLEGIT LOVE AFFAIR IS TOLD IN TESTIMONY

WOMAN RELATES PLOT TO KILL HUSBAND IN STATEMENT

CENTREVILLE, Oct. 11. (AP)—Defense attorneys striving to prevent Ibb Bass being sent to the electric chair for a slaying which grew out of an illicit love affair, today sought to convince jurors the illiterate young farmer was mentally deficient.

Several witnesses were summoned to testify today concerning Bass' mental state. The prosecution based its case largely on statements allegedly made by Bass and Mrs. Charles Salsberry. The statements related how the defendant and the woman, to prevent interference with their surreptitious romance, plotted to kill her husband.

Over defense objections, the statement of Mrs. Salsberry, telling how she and Bass sat beside a spring in a pasture and conspired her husband's death, was introduced.

The statement disclosed how she administered a deadly poison to her husband, telling him it was medicine, then set fire to their home and left him to die in the flames.

How she told a pre-conceived story of a lamp in the house exploding and causing the fire was related in the statement.

Jim Ball, owner of the farm on which the Salsberys live, testified that he suspected something was "wrong" as soon as he came to the scene of the fire and saw his tenant's burned body.

He said he immediately notified officers and, in the ensuing investigation, they obtained the statements from Bass and the woman.

District Judge S. W. Dean said the trial of Mrs. Salsberry, also charged with murder, will be transferred, probably to Huntsville, for the next term of court there.

Missing Youth Found; Amnesia Attack Blamed

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11. (AP)—Edward G. Crist, 17, son of a Gettysburg, Pa., physician and object of a nationwide search since his disappearance from Lawrenceville Academy last Saturday, was found last night in a dazed condition in police headquarters.

It is believed he was a victim of amnesia. Shortly before midnight, Louis Gebhard, elevator operator at the police station, saw a man standing in the vestibule. As Gebhard opened the door to find what he wanted, the youth fell to the floor.

The boy was taken to a hospital but was unable to tell his name or anything about himself. Found in his pockets were an automobile operator's card bearing the name of Edward G. Crist, 110 Chambersburg street, Gettysburg, Pa., and a Pullman car stub from Atlanta, Va., to Washington, D. C., dated Oct. 8.

An investigation by Police Lieutenant Robert Davis disclosed that Crist had been sought since he disappeared from the fashionable preparatory school at Lawrenceville, N. J. Police said that Crist, when questioned sometime after he was taken to the hospital, recalled having been at school last Saturday and that he had $80 at that time. He had only six cents when found last night.

The young man said he had no recollection of having been to Atlanta and could not account for the Pullman ticket.

DON'T MIND ME
OMAHA—Oscar Arnston, a mail carrier suing for divorce, told the court his wife whipped him with a hoe, a washboard, a baseball bat, and finally a whip.

The beatings were administered, he said, when he was slow in washing the dishes, cleaning the floors, scrubbing the basement or doing the ironing.

In reply to his attorney's question as to what he did during the beatings, Arnston said he "just kept on working."

Mrs. M. C. Barnes of Mobeetie spent yesterday afternoon transacting business here.

WITH MONEY SCARCE, DIRECTOR OF RELIEF CALLS FOR RE-CHECK OF ROLLS TO OUST CHISELERS

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—Calling upon county administrators for a complete re-check of relief rolls, State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson declares here that "we must drop from the rolls every case not clearly entitled to relief before winter comes. The exhausted condition of our fund makes it essential that we pare our rolls so that we may adequately care for those in dire need during the winter months."

To county administrators, Johnson quoted the following excerpts from a letter from Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator:

"I know that you will agree that it is imperative that relief rolls in your state be examined at this time to remove therefrom any persons not actually in need. A complete recheck of your relief families is possible now, and it should be made before entering upon the heavier period of the late fall and winter. We will appreciate your cooperation in having this review made at this time."

"There have been some reports reach this office which would indicate that few families are receiving relief wherein the head of the family is employed on full time. I wish to advise you that it is contrary to our policy to supplement the wages of full time employes with relief funds."

In line with this communication, Johnson instructs administrators to "scrutinize relief rolls most carefully, reinvestigate where possible, and weed out all of those ineligible. Some counties in this respect are in excellent shape, but there are a number where the relief load is out of proportion, and immediate steps must be taken to cut the load in these counties. Administrators can ascertain whether the load is out of line by comparing it with the population of their counties."

The state director also sent a questionnaire to counties seeking to determine the number of families and individuals removed from rolls due to placement of workers in cotton fields.

Johnson said he was interested to know whether farmers had had difficulty in obtaining cotton pickers. He asserted protests had reached Washington that clients will not leave the relief rolls and go to the cotton fields.

"If that's true, it's a grievous situation and we intend to remedy it. Our relief program was not intended for people who shirk opportunities to make an honest living and we won't stand for such individuals attaching themselves to our relief rolls and chiseling their way into a portion of the funds rightfully intended for honest unfortunate," Johnson declared.

"I already have caused to be inserted in the newspapers of the state an advertisement wherein it was explained that clients refusing to accept jobs at the prevailing

We never know for sure how much we will receive from national authorities for special programs. CLAIM LAZIA ARRANGED RENDEZVOUS FOR OUTLAWS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 11. (AP)—The name of John Lazia, recently slain lieutenant in the political organization of "Big Tom" Pendergast, was linked today with the machine gun slaying of four officers and their prisoner here June 17, 1933.

Federal agents checked asserted information that Lazia had arranged a meeting of three outlaws that led to the slaying of the officers and Frank Nash, their prisoner, in front of the union station.

Chalmy, before he escaped, in a fusillade of police bullets, was taken an automatic pistol clip of the same type as Kalemian used in his sub-machine gun.

The two prisoners' passports showed that they had been issued in Trieste.

The police said they believed Kalemian and the suspects were part of a huge terrorist gang determined to slay not only King Alexander but high military officials of France as well. They said the two men they held were to have remained in Paris to make the second attempt at the king's life if Kalemian failed at Marseille.

Bens, under a French police grilling, told his questioners that his friend Novack was really Nikomir Nalls, whom police had been seeking as a terrorist agitator ever since Belgian authorities two weeks ago told them he was on French soil and intending to assassinate Alexander.

But they were none too sure of this identification, for Sylvester Chalmy, in his escape at Fontainebleau, dropped another passport bearing the name Sylvester Nalls. It appeared to be possible that the real Nalls was neither one of these men. Chalmy's passport showed he was born at Karlovach, a Croatian city.

A detailed description of the famous Paris slaying, which was the first, has been sent with his fingerprints to all police in Europe.

The police theory is that the band of plotters consisted of four, perhaps five leaders. One known terrorist, agitator, suspected of participation, has been hunted; publicly. This man left another country shortly before the date of Alexander's visit and French authorities were warned by police of that nation. Police said they believe he acted as a guide and interpreter for Kalemian and his companions in Paris and directed operations from here.

Authorities think members of the band drew lots to determine who should make the assassination attempt—with his death a certainty—the fatal draw fell to Kalemian.

A false passport apparently was provided Kalemian, making it appear he was a Czechoslovakian.

Another Victim Of Assassination, Small Girl, Dies

MARSEILLE, Oct. 11. (AP)—One name was removed today from the list of dead on the assassination of King Alexander, when authorities announced policeman Gallil still lives.

The police, who still are in a state of nerves as a result of Tuesday's tragedy, announced Gallil's death but it was said at the hospital he still breathes although his condition is serious.

The number of dead remained at five, as Yolande Parisis, a 14-year-old girl who was wounded by stray bullets, succumbed in a hospital.

The condition of General Alfonso Georges of the French superior war council was described as satisfactory.

The other victims in addition to King Alexander and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou, were a widow spectator and the killer himself, Petrus Kalemian.

RICH MATRON

The man was in the house about an hour and a half. The two women were alone. All the time help was nearby if they had been able to summon it. Frank Hardin, 55, negro hired man on the place, was working in a nearby field. He had a rifle, as sheep killing dogs have been giving trouble.

The Stoll's 145-pound Great Dane, "Bruno," played nearby.

Hardin said he saw the kidnaper drive up to the house but suspected nothing wrong.

The kidnapping was discovered by Mr. Stoll when he went home at 5:30 last night. He telephoned police from a neighbor's home.

Mrs. Stoll is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Speed of a family prominent in Kentucky for generations. Her husband is vice president of the Stoll Oil Refining company which produces and refines oil and operates a chain of oil stations in Louisville. She is a niece of Frederic M. Sackett, former senator and ambassador to Germany in the Hoover administration. The families are regarded as among the wealthiest in this section.

Police hurried to the Stoll home. Mayor Neville Miller, Director of Safety Dunlap Wakefield and other high officials sped after them.

Having telephoned Stoll returned home and on his wife's bed on the second floor found the kidnaper note in a sealed envelope. The note was refused to tell what it said. But Major William Schmidt, night chief of police, revealed that it was typed on two sheets of legal cap mostly in black but in some parts red ink.

It was understood the note first warned the family not to notify federal officers and that it went on to point out three other cases where federal officers had been called in to solve kidnappings and families of the victims had to pay the ransom money demanded. The note also was understood to have advised the family to contact certain individuals of national importance. No intimation of their names was forthcoming. Toward its close the note, it was reported, referred to the fact that the gardener Fowler Woollet, husband of Mrs. Stoll's maid, was away and that the kidnaper would have to hurry.

The note was directed to "Stoll." It contained abuse of the family and a hint that Mr. Stoll's brother, William A. Stoll, would "be next." Schmidt said there were no misspelled words that the typing was neat and the diction good.

"It's my opinion that the man who wrote the note was an educated man," Schmidt added.

There was a typed demand for

Legislature to Convene Friday

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—The advance guard of the Texas legislature began arriving in Austin today preparatory to the opening at noon tomorrow of a fourth special session called to deal with relief subjects.

The main body of the law makers was not expected to arrive until shortly before the session is called to order.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson worked on her message to the legislature. She asked special consideration of five topics—more adequate provision for relief, remission of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, appropriation for a centennial observance, establishment of the Colorado river authority to supervise completion and operation of a hydro-electric project and remission of certain taxes in the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district to aid obtaining a $50,000,000 public works project.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 11. (AP)—Stocks swung into another forward push today that carried many issues up 1 to around 3 points and brought the best trading volume since the early part of August. The upturn was attributed partly to a mild revival of inflationary psychology. The close was rather strong. Transfers approximated 1,450,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 11. (AP)—In lively dealings, wheat rose late today to around 7 1/2 cents above last week's inside quotations.

A sensational advance of 2 1/2 cents an ounce for barley, together with Washington reports of possible moves toward further reevaluation of the dollar, served as incentive to wheat buyers. Stimulus came also from persistent dry weather south-west and west and from strong foreign markets.

Wheat closed strong at the day's top level, 2 1/2-3% over yesterday's finish, Dec. new 1.02-1.02 1/4, corn 1 1/4-1 1/4 up, Dec. new 76 3/4-77, oats 1/4-1/4 advanced, and provisions unchanged to 25 cents higher.

Prior to the proceeding in county court, Fawcett announced that he was prepared to produce "four or five witnesses," who, he said, would testify that Hauptmann was not in New Jersey the night of the kidnaping and murder in New Jersey.

The defense counsel said that Mrs. Hauptmann was prepared to testify that she was with her husband on the night of the kidnaping and that he could not have participated in the crime.

COURT RECORD

Hal Bule was assessed a year in jail yesterday by a jury which heard details of his assault on Floyd Hoskins. The charge was reduced to a misdemeanor before it went to the jury, hence no prison sentence was assessed.

Today the State's attempt to close a so-called "liquor joint" at Kingsmill was under way. This was alleged to have been controlled by Scott Vincent.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 11. (AP)—More than 75,000 children congregated today for communion before the 105-foot cross in Plaza de Mayo, center of the thirty-second international eucharistic congress.

Four cardinals presided at the communion service, in which 250 priests assembled to distribute the communion.

The children for more than a year have engaged in their own juvenile crusade of preparation, and during the last few months have been rehearsed by eucharistic processions in their respective parish churches and Catholic schools.

BATTLE OVER PROHIBITION IS IMMINENT

REPEALISTS ADVOCATE LIQUOR-CONTROL PROPOSITION

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—Stratagems are being laid for the biennial struggle over prohibition.

The battleground will be the legislature. The length of the contest cannot be predicted but it will get under way shortly after the regular session convenes in January and extend through several weeks at least.

Controversy will center around proposed submission of repeal of the prohibition section of the state constitution. Anti-prohibitionists are laying plans for an aggressive drive to obtain early disposition. Prohibitionists, their cause somewhat weakened by recent events, will strive to obtain submission in a form least obnoxious to their views.

Plans for a permanent, statewide organization to direct the campaign of the repealists have been made by the Texas Prohibition Repeal League. Leaders of the league said more than 6,000 signatures had been obtained to a petition to request the legislature to submit the proposition to an early vote. They hoped to have more than a half million signers by the time the regular session rolls around and maneuvering for position is started.

The repealists will not go before the legislature with a straight-out proposal to repeal state prohibition and leave the gates wide open. If they should make such a proposal it is generally believed its chances for success would be slight. Instead they will offer a plan that would set up a system of liquor control that would enable dry territories to remain dry, eliminate many objections raised during the prohibition era such as the open saloon, and provide other adequate safeguards.

One of the main talking points to be used by those sponsoring repeal will be the revenue it would bring in to a needy treasury. Receipts from liquor taxes, they will argue, would go a long way toward providing badly needed funds in the state treasury.

The likelihood of submission of repeal was increased when the democratic party at the Galveston convention included it as a plank in the platform. James V. Alford, democratic nominee, favored submission in his successful campaign and the platform conformed to his stump pronouncements.

One dry leader in the house, who asked that he be not quoted said he believed the legislature would submit the proposition if the wishes of the prohibitionists with respect to guarding against return of saloon day evils were included in the resolution.

Four Killed in Mystery Blast

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 11. (AP)—The bodies of one woman and four children were recovered today in the smoldering ruins of a three-story building, wrecked by a mysterious explosion.

The victims were Mrs. Robert Crouse, two children, Kathleen and Joseph, and Sanny, 5, and Peter, 1, children of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dudas.

A search was continued for Mrs. Dudas and an unidentified man believed trapped when the wooden structure collapsed this morning and burst in flames.

The other occupants escaped. Robert Crouse, who was asleep in a room on the second floor, said the explosion blew him across the street. He offered no explanation of the blast when taken to a hospital.

Edna Dudas, 7, sister of two of the victims, apparently climbed from the debris before the flames spread. She was only slightly injured.

The explosion rocked the north end of the city, awakening residents, who were reminded of the great Halifax explosion of 1917 which claimed 1,635 lives. Dynamite stored in the cellar was believed to have caused the blast.

Hopkins Satisfied With Texas Relief Under Existing Law

AUSTIN, Oct. 10. (AP)—Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board of control, said today following his return from a series of conference with federal relief officials in Washington that he saw "no reason why the existing relief law should be changed."

Teer said the law under which relief is being disbursed met with the approval of Harry L. Hopkins and that Hopkins recommended no changes.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson submitted relief questions in her proclamation convening the legislature in special session starting at noon Friday. The governor is dissatisfied with a provision of the relief law limiting monthly expenditures of state bond funds to $1,000,000 during October, November, and December and $1,500,000 during January and February. The governor also was not in accord with the legislature in issuance of only $6,000,000 of $9,500,000 available in relief bonds.

"I told Hopkins I believed we could operate under the law," Teer said. "He said go ahead. He had no objections to the budget feature and said that if funds for direct relief under the federal-state matching agreement were not adequate he would supplement them from other sources."

Strongest Voice In Labor Parley

Coke Stevenson Assured Enough Votes for Chair

JUNCTION, Oct. 11. (AP)—Friends of Coke R. Stevenson, of Junction, speaker of the house of representatives, have been assured that he has been pledged sufficient votes to insure his re-election. He is a candidate to retain the post when the new legislature convenes in January.

It is the belief of friends here that relations between Governor-elect Alford and Mr. Stevenson are not close. With the withdrawal of Rep. J. B. Ford, McGregor, as a candidate, Alford announced he would favor the election of Rep. R. W. Calvert, Hillsboro.

Calvert was one of the strongest supporters of the McGregor man until he quit the race. Ford was backed by a strong group on most of those favoring him have switched to Calvert.

There is considerable interest here in the outcome of the race and friends of the speaker are working hard among friends in other sections of Texas in an effort to re-elect Stevenson.

No town as small as Junction has furnished a speaker in recent years and friends point to Stevenson's ability to make decisions and his growing political skill as reasons why he should be re-named for the office.

ELBERT HOOPER IS LEGAL CHIEF IN OIL SECTION

Chosen by Alford to Succeed Neal Powers

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP)—Appointment of Elbert Hooper, first assistant attorney general, as chief of the legal staff in the east Texas oil field is taken as an indication that James V. Alford, democratic nominee for governor, intends to keep a close tab on that turbulent area between now and the time he assumes the chief executiveship.

Hooper is regarded as one of the most able assistants in the attorney general's department. He is bound to Alford closely by strong personal and political ties and is in hearty accord with Alford's policies. In addition he has maintained a careful check on operations in the oil field and will not be a total stranger to his new duties.

Hooper will be retained as first assistant and will spend a portion of his time in east Texas during the legal machinery setup to prosecute proration law violators and the remainder in Austin as Alford's right bower.

The ace investigator of the attorney general's department also was assigned to east Texas to aid in bringing proration violators to trial. He is H. D. Bishop, who handled most of the detail in working up Alford's suit against 15 major oil companies and two petroleum associations for alleged violation of the Texas anti-trust statutes. Bishop will be stationed at Longview.

"We are determined to continue vigorous prosecution for violations of orders of the commission up until the very day of my retirement as attorney general," Alford stated. "I know the situation will be more than capably handled under Hooper's supervision."

Hooper will succeed Neal Powers who came into office with Alford and has been in active charge of the east Texas staff for more than a year. Powers' resignation was accepted with deep regret by Alford who said he "is a splendid lawyer who has been an asset to my department especially in connection with his most capable handling of the east Texas oil problems."

Powers will enter private practice in Tyler.

Those interested intensely in enforcement of the railroad commission's oil orders plan another attempt at the forthcoming special session to obtain enactment of a law establishing a criminal district court for the oil field to handle proration violations only. The dockets of the east Texas district courts are clogged with cases and there is little hope of obtaining a speedy trial for violators.

The volume of litigation in the oil field is tremendous. Most of the suits, excepting those charging infraction of oil allowances, involve property lines and consume much time in trial.

The special oil field criminal court is advanced as a happy solution to much of the legal trouble being encountered by the commission in attempting to enforce its regulations.

Stations of Texas in an effort to re-elect Stevenson.

No town as small as Junction has furnished a speaker in recent years and friends point to Stevenson's ability to make decisions and his growing political skill as reasons why he should be re-named for the office.

Age 13

Old enough for strong drugs?

What the doctors say about giving children a medicine of adult strength.

It is not wise to give a laxative of adult strength to a child, just because you give it less often or in less amounts.

Stomach upsets and bowel troubles of growing children can often be traced to this single mistake.

What to Give a Child

There is a better way to relieve occasional sluggishness, or constipation in a child of any age:

Avoid all use of mineral drugs, whether they are salts, pills, tablets, or "candy" form. Even once a month is too often to give any child a cathartic strong enough for adults.

Use a liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative). California Syrup of Figs has the right amount for children's use, and this rich, fruity syrup does not harm or upset a child's system.

When you change to California Syrup of Figs instead of harsh medicines, you risk no more violence to your child's appetite, digestion, and general physical condition. You'll have a safer, more satisfactory result. Those little upsets and complaints just disappear as a rule and the child is soon normal and happy again.

Something to Think About

Doctors advise liquid laxatives, and hospitals use the liquid form. And a child who has been convalescing in the hospital usually comes out with bowels working like a well-regulated watch.

Give that headachy, bilious child California Syrup of Figs when constipated, and a little less each time until bowels seem to be moving regularly and thoroughly without need of help.

THE "LIQUID TEST"

Constipation in children can be relieved, in this manner:

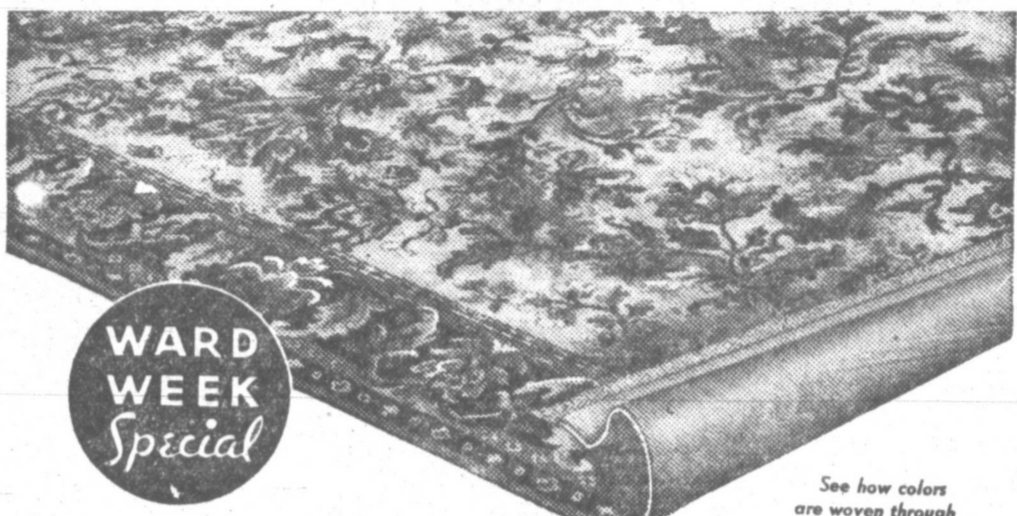

First: select a liquid laxative of the proper strength for children. Second: give the dose suited to the child's age, and condition. Third: reduce the dose if repeated, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

An ideal laxative for this purpose is California Syrup of Figs which every druggist keeps in stock. Be certain that it is the genuine product, with "California" blown in the bottle.

MANY ARE BOUND BY A VICIOUS SYSTEM

One of the hardest things to do, in trying to assess the rights and wrongs of a tangled social order, is to apportion the blame properly between individuals and the system under which they live.

It is hard to stay indignant at an abstraction. We like to personalize our antagonisms. A human target is the first thing our anger requires.

If things are going badly, it is much easier to take it out on John Jones or Bill Smith than it is to center our wrath on society as a whole.

You get an illustration of this in a paragraph in a recent issue of "Advance," the national weekly of the Congressional and Christian churches.

In this magazine a correspondent suggests that the church too often fails to make its criticism of current ills specific. Why, he asks, should not the church put aside its fine statements of general principles and come out, for instance, in open denunciation of a vestryman who hires girls in his factory for $10 a week?

And the editor of the magazine suggests that this question is not quite as simple as it looks.

"There are circumstances," he remarks, "where the employer and the manufacturers are the victims of a competitive system quite as much as the worker."

"It is one thing to demand that Mr. X, a vestryman, should pay his employees a living wage. It is another thing to enable him to do so against the competition of unscrupulous employers who have no ideals, either decently pagan or Christian, in this business enterprises."

Now this point, it seems to us, is worth emphasizing. It is too easy to forget that under any competitive system all players are bound by the general rules of the game. These rules, the pressure of competition, being what it is, frequently lead to bad conditions.

Our respected vestryman may indeed pay his employees less than a living wage—but all too often his sole alternative is to go out of business altogether, in which case his employees would get no wages whatever.

In such case it is worse than useless to get vexed at Mr. X. If we are going to insist that even the humblest worker is entitled to a living wage, our proper point of attack is the system which makes low wages necessary—not the individual through whom the system must operate.

A Washington Daybook

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—All your life you've probably heard about government red tape. Did you ever see red tape unwinding? Well, I did.

The Veterans' Bureau is just completing the unwinding and throwing away of 200 miles of real, authentic, tangible government red tape.

It had inherited from the old Pension Office the dusty document files that record the cases of soldiers of post-Civil War days. Down in a dungeon-like cellar, three floors below the street, the records lay.

The folded documents, those relating to each case tied neatly together with red tape about a half inch wide (the same kind you see on documents in lawyers' offices), stood upright in deep, narrow, galvanized iron trays with a handle on the front to slide them in and out of their shelving.

The Veterans' Bureau, which contains records on some 10,000,000 individuals, is crowded for space. So last March Chief Clerk W. C. Black started 237 emergency employes to taking these red tapebound packets of the table-tops, from the tin tray sorting them, and re-filing them in a modern flat filing system.

As the red tape, often faded and rotten, was snapped on each packet, a cascade of dust spread on the table-tops, for the tin tray files were open at the top and not dust proof. Three hundred and sixty thousands of these packets have been unwrapped and transferred to 2500 filing cases, the 200 miles of red tape going into the wastebaskets.

Of course, that's only the cases actively drawing benefits. Thousands of tin-tray files of inactive cases remain, with their red tape about them, because it's figured that it's hardly worth the time to unwrap and re-file them.

One result of all this is that many Washington housewives, will have new window boxes. Refiling made the ancient tin cases useless. But though narrower than the usual window box, they're really excellent for flower pots, and the bureau sold them for just that, thus getting some small by-product return on the job.

Don't get the idea that these millions of files in the cavernous depths beneath the Veterans' Bureau are all the soldiers files. The bureau has 18,000 feet of widows' records in one detached warehouse and 50,000 feet of similar records in another. To say nothing of the Revolutionary and War of 1812 records, which are at the Navy Department.

Many of these documents have already been flat-filed, because their condition demanded it—there are commissions on which "His Majesty George III" etc. is crossed out and "The Commonwealth of Massachusetts" scratched in with a pen—that's the vintage of those records. Some of them may be transferred to the Archives building when that's finished.

Speaking of red tape, the Indian Bureau just unraveled some itself. For 50 years Indian agencies have been making out a complete new roll of all Indians every year. Thus an Indian 50 years old has been reported 50 times.

Just this year somebody had the happy thought that, if the agencies merely reported the births and deaths each year, these could quickly be checked against a permanent list at Washington, thus giving just as good a record, and eliminating work that has been calculated to have wasted the equivalent of the time of one stenographer working seven hours a day for 853 years.

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

The police inspector of Lille, France, was caught running a gambling and dope racket, and the French people for a time thought they were in Chicago.

Rumanians are still trying to get Mme. Lupescu out of the country. Many wouldn't mind if King Carol got sore and threatened to go with her.

A 70-year-old Hungarian farmer wanted to be put into an asylum for marrying 50 years ago. A wise bird, to wait 50 years before letting it be known he was crazy then.

WINTER FLOWER SHOW

McALLEN, Oct. 11. (AP)—One of the few mid-winter flower shows of the United States will be held at McAllen Feb. 12. This date has been selected for a big celebration to which all south Texas is invited. In addition to the Garden club's flower show the American Legion will stage a horse show and rodeo and during the week the chamber of commerce will present musical and dancing programs to entertain winter tourists. Paul T. Vickers was named general secretary.

A "PRETTY" PICKLE

GROVE CITY, Pa.—Sixty-three years ago, Adam Urey, of Grove City, placed a small cucumber, still in the vine, in a narrow-mouthed bottle containing salt brine. Today, the pickle occupies the entire bottle, and Urey figures it (the pickle) is about ready to eat.

30,000 TREES TO BE PLANTED AT DALHART TO STOP EROSION

DALHART, Oct. 11. (AP)—H. H. Fennell, director of the Dalhart wind-erosion control project of 30,000 acres, said tree-planting would aid plains region agriculture. "A consistent program of tree-planting carried out years ago would have saved the Panhandle from much erosion injury the past two years," Fennell said.

"There have been enough trees planted to have these plains a waving mass of green but the planters have not put the trees in low places where water stands after rain to insure their lives but have planted them where they wanted them with reference to their house or barn." Fennell said he plans to set out 30,000 trees in the erosion control project as roadside windbreaks for cultivated fields. The trees will be Russian olive, apricot and Chinese elm.

Every proved method of prevention will be employed by technical experts of the soil erosion service, in cooperation with the farmers, Bennett said.

"He added that while wind erosion usually is incidental to drought, 'poor management of the land is largely responsible for a 'proper' taking spread.' Remarking that continued use of land without restoration of the humus supply develops loose soil.

Bennett cited a report from H. H. Fennell, to the regional director of the Dalhart project, saying 'proper' conservation measures in the Panhandle would store up enough moisture to 'bridge' virtually any drought.

"So far as our records of wheat run back there has not been a time when preparatory conservation would appear capable of bridging a drought, sufficiently at least to provide a ground cover," Fennell reported.

"The conservation of all available moisture therefore becomes a prerequisite to our ability to maintain a vegetable cover, particularly through the droughty periods when it is most needed.

"There would be no wind erosion problem of any consequence in this area if the available moisture supply permitted regular crop production and the residue of these crops were conservatively used.

"Regarding the methods most practical in reconditioning damaged land and affording permanent protection thereafter, I think there is no question about vegetative cover being the final solution both for temporary barrenness and a permanent protection."

FARLEY READY TO TOSS BOMB IN GOP RANKS

SAYS CONGRESS WILL HAVE VERY FEW REPUBLICANS

By CECIL B. DICKSON (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The democratic high command is planning to toss a bomb into the congressional campaign in the form of a prediction that the next congress will have the smallest percentage of republicans since pre-civil war days.

Chairman Farley probably will make the forecast on or about November 1, on the basis of a survey of prospects by the democratic national committee's headquarters.

The survey indicates at present, democratic chiefs say, that the G. O. P. will have only about 25 senate seats and fewer than 100 house seats in the 74th congress provided there are no upsets in the elections on November 6. These figures are disputed by republican spokesmen. Declining to acknowledge losses in either branch, they predict gains in both.

In the present congress, republicans fill 35 senate and 114 house seats; democrats have 60 senate and 390 house places. Farmer-lawyer-borles hold one senate and five house seats. There are vacancies in the house.

Of the 35 republican seats in the senate, 16 are at issue in November. If the democratic survey should prove accurate, it would mean that the G. O. P. would lose ten of the sixteen and about 15 house posts.

Before the campaign started, democratic leaders conceded that they might lose about 40 house seats to the republicans but insisted they would retain all their places in the senate.

Basing his forecast on more recent developments, Farley already has predicted republican senate strength will drop to its lowest ebb since the period before the civil war. He declined to admit any net loss in the house, Chairman Lewis (D. Ill.), of the democratic senatorial committee asserted his party would control the next senate by more than a two-thirds majority.

That some house seats will switch back into the republican column has been conceded by Farley, but he has said these losses will be offset by gains in eastern states. The democratic survey was said to indicate the G. O. P. is favored for house gains in two districts in Kentucky, three in Missouri, four in Indiana, two in Kansas, probably three in Iowa, and probably five in Michigan, while several of the eleven held by democrats in California and a few others in scattered western states appear doubtful.

Republicans on the other hand, say they have good chances of senatorial gains in Wyoming and Montana. They expect to pick up enough democratic posts to give them 145 house seats—or enough to break the two-thirds majority now held by those in power.

Mexican Skins A Sheep Every Sixty Seconds

OZONA, Oct. 11. (AP)—Art became identified with sheep-skinning here last week when Petacio Garcia entered the ranks of "pelt gatherers" with his keen-edged pocket knife. Tot Richardson, manager of the pelting crew was growing ill-tempered as one "skinner" kept popping up oftener than others with a pelt for inspection. He directed an assistant to follow Petacio to determine where he was getting all the skins. The assistant timed Petacio and found he was skinning sheep at the rate of one every 60 seconds. But new orders from the government were received and Petacio now turns in a pelt every 60 seconds. Petacio is making about $12 per day, being paid four cents per pelt and he skins around 300 animals daily.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Marian Gordon, reporter for the Morning Dispatch, just has recently returned from hearing the jury's "not guilty" which frees William Brown of the charge of accepting a bribe for passing defective work on a new high school building. Now she learns that her schoolmate the beautiful and tricky Silver Hondon has been granted a Reno divorce from Cliff Hondon, and that Hondon has shot himself. Marian is to go by plane to Reno to break the news to Silver, and get a story. Marian is explaining to her roommate, Anne.

Chapter Five
RENO

"What sort of a chap is Hondon?" asked Anne.
"Fine fellow as far as I know," returned Marian, "a little erratic, maybe. Always had more money than was good for him. Good looking, crew man on the U Varsity. Silver took me to the races one year."

"Think it was his fault she applied for a divorce?"
"Probably, in so far that he'd give her anything she wanted, like all the rest of us. She has the most unholly way of taking the things one loves most and making the giver glad he's giving. I haven't seen her since her wedding, but I understand he spoiled her like everyone else. These, how do you like the new dress?"

Marian had donned a lilac colored angora frock, pulled a bigge silver hat over her hair and slipped into a beige lapin swagger coat.

"Stunning," declared Anne with enthusiasm. "I'm so glad you're getting some sense about clothes. You should take a few tips from this Silver friend of yours. Lon's the kind of a fellow every woman's bound to make a try for and you're going to have to learn you can't always depend upon your hair and eyes to get you by. You're too practical, you and your plain tailored clothes."

"That from you," chided Marian, "you and your uniforms."
"But my Albert's a doctor and I'm only a nurse. Besides I have dimples. With those I could save a man's life and never be given credit for it. There's a horn . . . and the buzzer. Here are your gloves. . . need any cash?" Anne followed her to the door. "Oh, and fan, if Hondon holds his own, he'll be under my care, they won't take a chance on moving him tonight."

Marian found the cab at the curb. Estes and his camera inside. "And just as I was pulling the quilt up to my chin," he was lamenting, "her went the telephone."

"You were lucky," laughed Marian, stowing her bag alongside his camera. "My chin hasn't seen a quilt for so long, it would probably think it was an eclipse of the moon."

As the cap careened around the corner, Estes spoke. "Say Ian, what's this yarn about. I thought this marriage was one of those made-in-Heaven affairs."

"It was, but they didn't keep it there and this hemisphere is rough on marital unions."
"Another woman?"
"I don't think Cliff knew there were other women."
"Another man, then?"
"N-no," she paused as the cab shot into the estuary tube and wheeled along the floor of the bay to fast the signal lights ran into a single flare of red, blue and green.

"No," she repeated as they came out on the island, "people are divorced for other reasons."
"Not really," chortled Estes. "If they are us newsmen don't hear about them."

The cab skimmed the tree-lined avenue, crossed a bridge and scurried along a dyke that rimmed the bay-shore. To the left the airport buildings blazed like a fiesta city, and in the field, small ships arose and settled like queer species of night-flying moths.

They pulled up before the terminal. Silver rushed into the building where their tickets awaited them, then out onto the field where the trimotor express waited in the tremulous glow of flood lights.

Marian felt a pulse of excitement beat in her throat. The sheer beauty of the silver ship with its wide-spread wings, the roar of power from the testing motors, erased the shabby scene of the court room and the later news of the tragedy from her mind.

She settled back into the comfortable seat, adjusted her belt for ease on the upward swing of the ship, heard the sharp clang of the cabin door, saw the co-pilot join the pilot in the control cabin. She accepted cotton for her ears from the stewardess in olive drab, then looked about her.

FEDERAL BODY THROUGH WITH BABY 'SNATCH'

GOVERNMENT HAS QUIT LINDY KIDNAPING CASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The department of justice has written hints to a manhunt it pursued unnecessarily for more than two and a half years, ever since the night in March, 1932, the Lindbergh baby was stolen from its crib.

The department considers its work done now that Bruno Richard Hauptmann has been indicted for extortion and murder in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping.

"We have nothing more to do," said William I. Stanley, assistant to the attorney general. "The case has moved to a point where it is a question of complications."

What these complications may be were not explained by Stanley, but it is no secret that federal operatives disagree as to the course which should be taken against Hauptmann. Some department of justice agents feel that an airtight case of extortion has been built up against the German stowaway carpenter, while the murder case against him is more circumstantial. They are understood to believe therefore, that the wiser course would be to proceed with the stronger case first.

No hint of any friction, however, was contained in the statement with which the department of justice wound up its active part in the case last night.

"In view of the fact," the statement said, "that an indictment charging Hauptmann with extortion was returned by the Bronx county grand jury in New York on Sept. 26, and an indictment for murder was returned on October 8, in Hunterdon county, New Jersey, and as no federal indictment is being sought, the active participation of the department of justice in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping case has been brought to a conclusion." The withdrawal announcement came about the time Governor Lehman of New York was ordering Hauptmann's extradition at the request of New Jersey, but it was said that the announcement was in preparation before the governor's action.

IT'S MAN WHO PAYS—MAYBE—
BRAZIL, Ind.—An English law 400 years old may free Mrs. Anna Price, 71, on trial for shooting Herman Hayden, 48, her farm tenant. Last August, when she said Hayden threatened to tear off a padlock Mrs. Price had placed on a shed, she allegedly shot and wounded him while her husband looked on. Defense counsel invoked a sixteenth century rule of law which holds that when a married woman commits an offense with her husband present, the husband is responsible.

"No More Dynamite for Me!"

And that's What YOU would Say, After Making the "Liquid Test" Described Here

If, by making one little change, you could relieve a condition of sluggishness within 24 hours, and feel about 100% better—would you do it?

David Wadsworth did. You can do the same. All that is necessary is to get your bowels in the right condition. But you can't do that by doing them violence.

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives. They've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use a liquid laxative to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

To Relieve Bowels
Constipated or sluggish bowels can never be corrected with violent purges. They can be safely relieved with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without forming the laxative habit.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative made from fine herbs, pure pepsin, senna and cascara. It is most agreeable to take. The comfortable bowel movement from Syrup Pepsin is a joyful relief
