ARMY DRIVE

Today, the Salvation Army needs funds with which to continue its essential services to all men. Help the Salvation Army to continue its valuable work by giving generously to its current campaign, which gets underway Tuesday.

THE PILOT WALKED AWAY—Pilot F. H. Nolte, 49, miraculously cheated death when his converted P-38 fighter plane crashed into a residential neighborhood at Sun Valley, Calif. The plane hit a tree, sliced into one house and careened off another. Although badly gashed about the face, Nolte walked away from the wreckage. He suffered a possible skull fracture, but doctors said his condition is good. Occupants of the two houses also were unhurt. (AP Wirephoto)

Bundled Marines Advance On Red Power Reservoir

Dogged Fighting on Coast Is Underway

SEOUL, Korea.—(AP)—Parka-clad U.S. Marines pushed cautiously five and a half miles through undefended, icy hills toward the great Changjin reservoir today. While the Marines advanced in the center of the front, there was dogged fighting near both coasts. Back of the front, United Nations forces drew a solid defense line across the narrow waist of Korea. The line was completed by the junction of the Third Division, built up to battle strength by the addition of South Koreans and Puerto Ricans, and the South Korean Eighth Division.

The advancing Marines, bundled like Eskimos, waded through a corkscrew gorge in a subzero weather without tank support. Tank tracks churned the mountain road into a soggy mass that bogged down the heavy equipment. Marine planes flew close cover. Even that was unneeded as the leathernecks ran into a scattered handful of Chinese Communist remnants, remnants of the 124th Division, garbed in padded cotton uniforms. The Reds were eliminated without marine loss.

Marine planes flew close cover. Even that was unneeded as the leathernecks ran into a scattered handful of Chinese Communist remnants, remnants of the 124th Division, garbed in padded cotton uniforms. The Reds were eliminated without marine loss. To the west, Communists appeared to be digging in or fighting dogged actions, but on the east coast they swarmed to the attack. North Koreans guarding the approaches to the Soviet border attacked in force on the east coast. Monday under cover of a blizzard, they advanced with tanks and self-propelled guns. They pushed across the Oranong River, about 30 miles from the Soviet border, threatening to outflank a South Korean regiment.

Near the west coast, U.S. First Cavalry Division units advanced a mile and one-half to the walled town of Yongbyon. Patrols reached the walls but did not enter the town. Heavy Communist resistance stopped other First Cavalry troops near Won, eight miles south-east of Yongbyon. And five miles south of Won, estimated three regiments of Chinese Reds smashed a two-mile front in lines of the South Korean Sixth Division. Allied fighter-bombers halted this drive.

And five miles south of Won, estimated three regiments of Chinese Reds smashed a two-mile front in lines of the South Korean Sixth Division. Allied fighter-bombers halted this drive. Elements of the U.S. 24th Division advanced up to two miles on the extreme western end of the front, about 18 miles west of Kun. A U.S. Army spokesman said this placed them in the vicinity of Tungsan, four miles northeast of Pakchon and about 60 miles southeast of Sinju, entryway for Chinese troops from Manchuria.

Fleets of B-29s swung back to the front, hammering again. (See MARINES, Page 10)

LEATHERNECKS PULL UP SPEED—U. S. Marines on northeast front reached vital Chosin Reservoir (power station symbol) as South Koreans on east coast entered Chongmyong (1), just 28 miles from Chongjin. In between, U. S. 7th Division troops advanced eight miles north of Pungsan (2), and patrols reported Reds may attempt to hold a firm line in the Kapsan area to the north. Striking west from east coast, Yanks spearheaded to team with Americans at Tokchon (3), to prevent Communists (soldier symbols) from splitting Allies in two (broken arrow) with smash offensive. In northwest, enemy was reportedly on the defensive, digging in (jagged symbols) just out of range of UN forces' reach. In the air, B-29s struck enemy (bomb blast symbols) to choke off Chinese Red troops and arms pouring into Korea. (NEA Newsmap)

Revolt Flares In Nepal, One City Is Seized

NEW DELHI, India.—(AP)—Tiny Nepal's dispute between its excited democratically inclined king and his all-powerful prime minister has flared into open rebellion by the King's supporters in the Nepal Congress Party. Congress Party insurgents have proclaimed their own government and are reported to have seized Birganj, second-largest city of the little kingdom on India's north border, adjacent to Communist-invaded Tibet.

Unconfirmed reports said 1,000 rebels have advanced 12 miles from Birganj toward Katmandu, the Nepalese capital, and have captured the airstrip at Semra. The Nepalese embassy, however, said the government garrison at Birganj still was resisting the rebels and was being reinforced from Katmandu.

The rebels captured the governor of Birganj and his family and took them to Bihar. Indian officials rescued them and gave them refuge.

An Indian foreign ministry official announced that Nepal's director general of foreign affairs who is the son of the ruling prime minister is scheduled to come here for consultations with the Indian government. It was not known when he would arrive.

The Indian official also denied previous reports that a Nepal Congress Party man crossed from India into Nepal for Saturday's dawn attack on Birganj. He said according to information reaching his government the attack was carried out by 150 local congress partisans and 80 Nepalese soldiers who went over to their side.

Operators Say 'Locked Out'

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Long distance telephone operators in New York City charged today they were "locked out" when they reported for work after striking equipment workers removed picket lines. The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said the charge of "lockout is absurd."

In Pittsburgh, mounted police dispersed a crowd of pickets who surrounded a small Bell truck halted in traffic. There were no injuries.

The CIO equipment workers struck against the Bell System in 44 states last Thursday in a dispute over wages and length of contract.

Removal of the picket lines in New York was part of the "hit and run" tactics of the CIO Communications Workers of America to snarl Bell System long distance lines. The flash picketing was designed to catch management unawares and throw long distance service into chaos. Today, wire camera reported at the AT&T long lines center in three shifts. Large numbers of them, estimated at 1,300—left the building, within a short time. They charged they had been told by chief operators to leave after they said they would continue to respect picket lines. They said the company told them they had other workers for the jobs.

The operators' union charged its members were refused work when they declined to sign contracts which would have pledged them to cross picket lines.

Pampans Attend Safety Session

Pampa was represented in Lubbock this afternoon with three local men at a special meeting designed to make plans for a proposed safety council.

Austin officials were in Pampa several weeks ago to help with the plans for the proposed organization. The purpose of the council will be to foster safety rules in driving and in various jobs throughout the area. Lubbock has signed intentions of forming a council also, and the Pampans were on hand to discuss correct procedures.

Among Pampa men who made the trip are Warren Hesse of The Pampa Daily News, Chief of Police John Wilkinson, and Mayor C. A. Huff.

HALF-WAY PEACE NEW YORK.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said last night that he no longer believes peace can be obtained by meeting Russia "half-way."

UN Readies Tri-Prong Attack Against Red Chinese

LAKE SUCCESS.—(AP)—The United Nations mounted a three-pronged diplomatic offensive today, seeking to neutralize Communist China and to prevent the Korean campaign from exploding into World War III.

On the eve of the departure from Peiping of a Red delegation to the security council, diplomats moved swiftly to keep the war localized.

The basic strategy was to reassure Chinese Communist leaders that UN forces had no designs on their territory, would not interfere with China's supply of electric power from North Korea dams and would build a united, democratic, independent Korea which would present no threat to China.

This was combined with a clear warning, however, that continued Red Chinese intervention in Korea would lead to drastic action. As though to point up these efforts, a spokesman at Gen. MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters announced that the current allied push toward the Yalu River is just a limited offensive.

Informed observers here considered this indicated that the UN military command also was treading gingerly, hoping to win a decisive victory over the North Koreans while giving the Chinese an opportunity to withdraw with a minimum loss of face. The UN's strategy was applied in these three directions:

1. Australia's James Plimsoll, a member of the seven-nation group would be available, with other commission members, in case Peiping should attempt to negotiate a border settlement.

There was no indication that the Chinese Reds had made any approaches in this direction, but Plimsoll's flight was regarded here as further evidence of UN determination to leave no door unopened in an attempt to solve the question peacefully.

Other commission members are Chile, Pakistan, the Netherlands, the Philippines, Thailand and Turkey.

The general assembly's 60-nation economic and social committee, in joint session, pushed a plan for the post-war rehabilitation and relief of Korea.

Besides the physical reconstruction, this plan envisages a peaceful democratic hand and stresses that UN forces will be withdrawn as soon as its aims are completed.

Several council members continued private discussions on implementing the main strategic line. First made public in a (See UN READIES, Page 10)

White Deer Woman Injured in Accident

WHITE DEER (Special)—Mrs. Glendon Young of White Deer was injured in an auto collision early Sunday morning with an Amarillo car.

Suffering a fractured skull and multiple bruises and abrasions, she was rushed to Highland General Hospital in Pampa.

Three children in the car with Mrs. Young were not hurt. The White Deer car was enroute to Sunday School when the collision occurred.

Hospital attendants state Mrs. Young's condition is fairly good. Mrs. Young's husband is employed at J. C. Daniels in Pampa. Names of other persons involved in the collision and further information are unobtainable at this time.

There were no other injuries.

FUNDS SEPARATED AUSTIN.—(AP)—The state's cash is deposited in 48 state and national banks, Auditor C. H. Cavness reported today.

Surviving are her parents, one sister, Margaret Ellen York, Lefors; three brothers, Marshal, stationed in Korea; Marvin Ray and Charles Marion both of Lefors and one half-brother, Thurman Pinkerton, Houston.

Draft to Send 50 for Exams

Officials of the Gray County Selective Service Board have announced a special call of 50 men to report for physicals Dec. 18. The surprise order, by telegram from Austin this morning, nullified a previous report that no calls for physical exams would be made during November and December.

No reason accompanied the new order. Officials expect additional information concerning the order within a few days.

Board members advised those men between the ages of 19 and 29 who have signed their intentions of joining the reserves or the National Guard to do so without delay.

Deferments still are given for all members of the reserves and the guard, according to draft officials. The draft call is eligible to those components after they have taken their physicals for induction.

Lefors Girl Dies In Pampa Sunday; Rites Held Tuesday

Vira Marcella Dickerson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dickerson, Lefors, died at 9:25 p. m. Sunday in Morley Hospital.

Miss Dickerson had been seriously ill since Friday. Born on April 25, 1936 in Lefors, she attended Lefors public schools and was in the ninth grade this year.

Surviving are her parents, one sister, Margaret Ellen York, Lefors; three brothers, Marshal, stationed in Korea; Marvin Ray and Charles Marion both of Lefors and one half-brother, Thurman Pinkerton, Houston.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday from the First Baptist Church of Lefors with the Rev. Lester Foster, pastor of the Church of God, Lefors and Rev. A. R. Mitchell, pastor of the Church of God, Pampa, officiating.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, Ward, in making arrangements.

Library to Get Books in Shower

El Progreso Club is sponsoring a book shower at the library from 10 until 11:30 Tuesday morning. Each guest is to bring a book to the library. Books in a wide range of prices are on sale at the library for this purpose.

Miss Alice Marriott, author of several books, will be present, and two collections of art work will be on exhibit. The work of Miss Margaret Lefranc, who has illustrated some of Miss Marriott's books, will be shown, as will a photographic exhibit.

Coffee will be served during the hour and a half period.

Chinese Red Leader Said in Manchuria TAIPEI, Formosa.—(AP)—Chinese Nationalist intelligence reports said today Chinese Red Leader Mao Tse-tung is in Manchuria conferring with high Soviet and Red Korean officials on the next phase of the Korean war.

Pact Deputies Call Christmas Deadline

LONDON.—(AP)—Atlantic Pact deputies called today for a definite decision by Christmas on how western Germany is to be brought into the western European defense system.

The deputies, opening sessions here, faced three big problems. 1. To ally French fears that the use of Germany in a combined defense would provide the basis for a future independent German army.

2. To try to salvage parts of the French Premier Rene Pleven's plan for West European defense. 3. Exactly what contribution the Germans should make toward that defense.

Opposed by many of the deputies, the French plan calls for organization of a supra-national European Defense Council to control the combined West European army, use of German troops only in small units and the pooling of war industries.

The United States and Britain do not want to delay raising of the European army until a defense council can be formed. They also want German forces of division size in the army.

The future of this far to find an answer to any of these problems was delayed the appointment of a supreme commander for the defense army. London military sources say U. S. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is certain to get the post.

Some deputies are reported saying the appointment of the supreme commander, to get things moving, has become a matter of considerable urgency.

Gen. Omar Bradley, U. S. chairman of the Atlantic Military Committee, is expected in London the last week of November for a joint conference of his committee with the Atlantic Treaty deputies.

Bradley's committee, composed of 12 chiefs of staff, has been studying the military clauses of the French plan for two months.

If agreement on plans for the European army is reached at this late November meeting and 30 members say it will be given the French plan has to be thrown overboard.

The North Atlantic defense ministers are scheduled to give their approval at a meeting here, tentatively called for early December.

Following the sessions of the defense ministers, the foreign ministers of the Atlantic powers will meet either in Brussels or London in mid-December to approve the form of German aid to western defense.

That will be the green light for formation of the defense force.

Nationalist Chief Faces Six Charges

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico.—(AP)—Pedro Albizu Campos, fanatic leader of the short-lived revolt two weeks ago, was charged on six counts Sunday. His bail was set at $95,000.

Charges filed against the 63-year-old president of the tiny Nationalist Party included subversive activities, attack with intent to kill, and four violations of the law requiring registration of firearms.

A total of twenty-five other Nationalist leaders were charged during the weekend. Most of them were accused of subversive activities. District attorneys investigating the revolt said all Nationalist leaders now were under arrest and the first part of their investigation had been completed.

SIX PERSONS KILLED IN TWO-CAR ACCIDENT SNYDER.—(AP)—Six persons were killed about 3:44 a. m. today in a shattering two-car smashup seven miles east of here on Highway 180. Two of the victims were children.

Army Fund Drive To Open Tuesday With Breakfast

The 1950 Salvation Army drive for operational funds will begin at 7:30 a. m. Tuesday with a kickoff breakfast in the American Legion, VFW Hall, 123 W. Foster.

Ruby Ward, president of the Pampa Jaycees, has been named chairman of the campaign, with a goal of $7,000 to be reached. The drive will be carried on through Dec. 5 or until the goal is reached. It was announced by Ward.

Residents interested in attending the breakfast and who would like to assist with the fund-raising should contact Lt. Fred McClure, commander of the Salvation Army.

Administration Reveals New Blueprint for Foreign Help

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A blueprint for a vast new American foreign aid program, including economic help to western Europe beyond the scheduled end of the Marshall Plan, was made public by the administration last night.

It probably will form the basis for President Truman's foreign economic recommendations to the new Congress next year.

The chief executive made public a global survey of economic prospects and American aid in the light of the Communist threat and the western rearmament program. The survey calls for far-reaching developments in American policy to provide help running into billions of dollars over the next few years—perhaps $8,000,000,000 or more.

Mr. Truman released the report, prepared by former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, as a document deserving "the attention and study" of the American people. But administration officials said there is no doubt that its main recommendations will largely shape the President's foreign economic proposal in his State of the Union message to Congress in January.

This will pose squarely the issue of how long and how much the United States wants to give to lend friendly nations to help them rearm and strengthen their political and economic life against the threat of communism.

The administration had had assistance directly to private enterprise in foreign countries instead of giving to governments which he said "use it to buy up and socialize industry." (An obvious reference to Great Britain.)

Mr. Truman said that he thought the Gray report would prove useful to Congress and to the administration in formulating plans to deal with present and future world conditions. He made no reference to the controversial nature of some of the recommendations.

In the main, Gray proposed action along three lines: 1. Foreign assistance—a vastly expanded U. S. aid program carrying billions not only for Europe but also for underdeveloped areas—Africa, Asia, and Latin America—and administered by single agencies in Washington.

The Marshall Plan has succeeded in producing real recoveries in western Europe, the report (See BLUE PRINT, Page 10)

Meads Back On PR Page

Those popular bakers of Mead's Fine Breads are back in the columns of the Business Review page. The friendly fathers of the Mead's Fine Breads were so pleased with the reception given them by the Panhandle at their recent open house in their new district headquarters that they informed the editors of the Business Review page that they were more than ever going to concentrate on increasing quality and service to people of the Panhandle and Pampa.

Although this reporter has an aversion of long standing to the use of the big "I" in reporting anything in public print, he'll admit to the temptation and break down with a single use of it on this occasion. There are many stories of success to be recounted throughout the nation. Many of them true, a success against many odds, or just plugging along it's public relations expert. However, when I stumble on one that seems to ring with the true tone of genuine people making a success against many odds, or just plugging along it's worth a turn at the console of the Corona for a narration for public consumption.

At the corner of Ballard and Foster in a location more prominent for its surroundings is a bank on one side, a church to the east and a large dose of Uncle Sam to the south—rests the Pursley Motor Co. Long identified with Dodge-Plymouth, the Pursley firm is known to every motorist in Pampa. Not much known, it is the agency for a pair of the more popular motor vehicles in the country, but because of the fine hand and personality of the general manager, they are seen and felt throughout the entire installation, but the story gets ahead of itself.

This was designed to be a piece about "Doc" Pursley, this time the automobile is secondary in importance. The information supplied by his contemporary, "Doc" Pursley is obliged to enter the record books of the Pursley family history. It seems to be the best method of making a record of a life well lived. The Pursley family history is a record of a life well lived. The Pursley family history is a record of a life well lived.

After a nine year stretch at selling automobiles, "Doc" decided he had earned a rest. He passed control of his automobile business to his son, Charley, and returned to Pampa to live with his parents. Now "Doc" spends his time in raising cattle and lending a hand in civic affairs as well as helping out in the automobile business when he's needed.

According to all calculations, the foregoing data would place the Pursley family in Texas circa 1891. That's long enough to consider any man a full fledged Texan as well as a pioneer. Even though the Pursley family left Idaho before "Doc" was able to give an infant rendition of the Idaho state song, the spell of the potato was upon him. His first major business venture was in a grocery and general merchandise vendor in Miami. He eventually got pretty well wrapped up in the business and attained success in a more than average manner. At least he succeeded well enough to acquire a wife, raise and educate two children and depart some distance from the days of the sod hut.

In 1940, "Doc" fell under the spell of Dodge and the automobile. He acquired the Dodge-Plymouth franchise and moved to Pampa to apply his sales ability at helping put America on wheels.

Now "Doc" spends his time in raising cattle and lending a hand in civic affairs as well as helping out in the automobile business when he's needed.

Gaston Johnston, the manufacturer of the popular NO ROACH have a last minute warning to homeowners who are inclined to be a little overconfident about a cold-snap dispensing with all of those cute, kitchen plymates commonly known as Cockroaches. It takes more than one cold spell to eradicate the Cockroach for the winter. He isn't just about to go into his winter-long sleep until the weather is consistently cold enough to virtually paralyze him.

It wouldn't be a bad idea for you to take a trip to Cretney's and get a pint or two of NO ROACH. With this popular bug killer and a brush, you could have a fine time giving the Cockroaches a winter sendoff that would preclude any necessity for retreatment of the habitat of this little brown friend of yours.

It's the simplest thing in the world to apply. One application with a brush of this colorless, harmless fluid will assure you of roach-free premises for the rest of the season.

With the advent of more and more stringent controls by the government on private money and its spending, this might not be too propitious a time to toss out a remark regarding savings. However, in the face of event that seem likely to come, it seems rather apropos the situation to make a remark or two regarding increasing the family savings.

In this modern day, no one thinks of saving without thinking of insurance in the same breath. Insurance has become known as one of the more painless ways to build an estate and hang on to it for the lean and hard years. With such fine agency help as that offered by Ott Shumaker it is an elemental process for you to do something about preparing for the later years. Ott will be glad to show you some pretty fine plans for painless removal of a portion of your income to be laid away in sensibly planned savings account. Frozen Ford's Holiday Goodies At Jo Austin's
It's about time for the merchants of Pampa to start inserting the well known "It's only a few more days until Christmas" in their advertising. In the same vein, Jo Austin of the Crystal Palace is prompting her customers to get plans made for Christmas candies, cigarettes and cigars. It's never too early to get those orders in and be assured that the chosen items will be ready for use at the appointed time. You'll find the Crystal Palace to be an ideal place to choose and order those toothsome morsels for Christmas and Thanksgiving holidays. The proffered merchandise is of high quality, covers almost limitless variety and is priced within the reach of everyone.

Do that holiday shopping before the rush starts. Most of the people in town had been forewarned and had their automobiles prepared for the wintry blasts. Many other weren't quite so fortunate. Charley Ford and his Shamrock crew spent considerable time on Thursday getting frozen cooling systems back into operation.

Now that everyone is convinced that the Panhandle is still capable of having a fair-to-middling winter, don't forget the warnings Charley Ford has issued. It isn't too late to drop in and have Charley do something about preparing the family bus to defy the heavy winter yet to come. Better late than never, better safe than sorry.

Don't Duck Duck It's Still Early
David Caldwell is sporting a pretty large grin these days. Old man winter decided to relent and prepare the weather for better hunting. Now that we have the cold weather with us, if we can get the old boy in control of the weather to give us less wind and a bit of an overcast, those ducks will be a little easier to entice into the path of a charge of shot.

David is earnestly attempting to help you make this a successful hunting season all the way through. If you'll keep in touch with him, he'll attempt to keep you supplied with guns, ammunition and information concerning the elusive Pintail and Mallard. There is still a good supply of hunting clothes, guns and supplies available at the Sportsman's Store.

Ott Has Saving Problem Answers
There's a new star on the insurance horizon of Pampa. It seems that a couple of our more enterprising citizens got together and decided that Pampa could use another insurance firm in more ways than one.

As a result of the tete a tete of these progressive men, we've got the new Pampa Insurance Company operating across from the Courthouse on North Russell. J. C. Daniels, of whom you have been hearing considerable during the past year or two, and Ray Salmon are the leading lights in the new firm.

Anyone in Pampa who reads advertising can be pretty sure that anything under the golden touch of J. C. Daniels is going to be a success. Congratulations to J. C. and Ray.

Jonas Cites Need For Seasonal Fabric Care
A long time ago on these pages, your Service Cleaners put out a warning that it was time to get out the winter duds and bed clothing and have them cleaned and refurbished against the coming of heavy winter weather.

Although old man winter may be featuring his forces in a short-lived sample of what is yet to come, it's time you heeded the warning of Oliver Jonas and started going through your articles of clothing, bed wear and other winter accoutrements with an eye toward getting them ready for hard winter wear.

As important as readying winter articles for use is the task of getting summer clothing and summer utility articles prepared for winter storage. Cleaning, mending, mothproofing are all an eye toward preserving the life of valuable fabrics. You'll have plenty of time to get the job done, but will your cleaner have the time.

Give service cleaners an early call in order that they may give you uninterrupted service and undivided attention. Both of you will profit by taking advantage of early orders and intelligent preparation for the long winter months to come.

Hair Pieces Add Glamour for That Special Occasion

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If glamor's your goal, don't forget to include in your magic box of tricks a good hair piece. These pin-on tresses, when chosen in a color and texture matching your own locks, can cover a multitude of mistakes — both your own and those of nature.

Hair pieces, whether they are used for concealing results of over-zealous scissors sessions, for hiding more fundamental hair problems, or simply for varying your coiffure, are important beauty aids in the hurry-scurry of modern living.

Many women, whose busy schedules allow no time for the lengthy hair-dressing sessions required by elaborate coiffures, style their hair quite simply depending upon hair pieces to add interest to the arrangement.

Others rely upon these supplements to help them avoid that unkempt look that depends upon many of us between hair settings.

If your own hair is unsuited to dressing in coiffures currently holding fashion's eye, try a hair piece to help you achieve the effect you desire. Various types are suited to every budget and any mood.

A pony-tail switch, perky with grosgrain ribbons for daytime wear, becomes glamorous after nightfall when combed into a small bun chignon worn high on your crown with velvet bows.

For extra-special evenings, this same type hair piece can be arranged in a cluster of bustle-back curls.

Chignons, worn low on the neck, lend an air of sophistication to the most casual, short haircut. They may be dressed in a variety of puff arrangements to conceal the ends of brief tresses; adorned with jewels or flowers for formal occasions.

The best hair pieces, according to a leading firm, are constructed of real hair in natural colors.

Carburetor Too Rich Makes Motorist Too Poor

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that helps save gasoline by "Vacu-mating." It is automatic and operates on the supercharge principle. Easily installed in a few minutes. Fits all cars, trucks and tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7817 700 W. State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacu-matic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or just send your name and address on a penny post card today.

Switches made of hair that has been bleached and re-dyed are often dry and brittle as a result of this process, as well as unnatural-looking in color. As a rule it's difficult, they say, to match the texture of your hair with that of these poorer-quality pieces.

Once you have chosen a hair piece, give a careful attention to its styling as you do to that of your own hair. Avoid sticking it on in makeshift fashion at the last minute. Plan ahead, treating your hair piece as an extension of your own tresses, if you wish to derive from it the ultimate in beauty.

Barbara Chastain Is Shamrock's Pirate Sweetheart

LEFORS — (Special) — Barbara Chastain was presented as the Pirate Football Sweetheart of 1950-51 at a ceremony at Shaw Park Friday, Nov. 3.

Miss Chastain and her four attendants, Sheila Ross, Elaine Poarch, Wanda Vaughn and Marie McPherson, entered the field in a lime green convertible. The Lefors Band and pep squad formed a large heart and arrow. As the band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," co-captains Don Stokes and Ray Dickerson escorted Miss Chastain into the center of the heart. She was presented a large bouquet of chrysanthemums and the traditional Sweetheart locket. The four attendants received mums corsages presented to them by their escorts.

As a conclusion to the ceremony, Miss Chastain and her attendants were escorted to their chairs beside the Pirate squad.

Miss Chastain, a senior in high school, is active in many activities. She has been in the pep squad three years, a member of the student council two years, and feature editor of the high school paper two years. She was chosen as Halloween Carnival Queen during her junior year, and was also FHA President and FHA Sweetheart. She has been freshman class secretary, junior class treasurer and a member of the Girls' Sextet for two years. A special page on the Football Sweetheart and attendants will appear in the annual.

Getting Along With Others

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
A best-selling book of recent years told how to make friends and influence people. It has been related to the attainment of what is called success but the problem of getting on well with others is one of the oldest and most acute problems of humanity.

Around that problem are histories of unhappiness and strife. Here and there, however, shine noble stories concerning those who have achieved happiness and rewarding friendship through the happiness they have brought to others.

Throughout the Bible, and particularly in the Psalms and Proverbs, the topic of human relations is touched upon with a wisdom that might well counsel our society of today.

On the subject of enemies, the Hebrews wisely wrote, "Agree with thine adversary quickly; don't answer a fool according to his folly; a soft answer turneth away wrath." Such counsels indicate that even in their limited society, difficult relationships must have existed.

It has been a great tragedy of history that not only has religion failed to curb the quarrels and dissensions of man with man and nation with nation, reaching a climax of tyranny in the two world wars, and the threatened third, in our twentieth century, but in the sphere of religion itself there has been bitter conflict, with intolerance of spirit, and the physical cruelty of dire and terrible persecution.

The greatest practical task of Christians would, therefore, seem to be to solve this problem of getting on well with others, and to purge religion itself of the curse and disgrace of the conflicts and bitter dissensions that have been, and still are, within its own sphere.

When I seek to face with realism dark situations and difficult problems I try to find what optimism there is in any ray of light, and a real ray of light shines, I think, through recent developments in world Christianity, and especially in the movement of Protestant churches toward a World Council of Churches.

That organization has not as yet achieved its full strength, but one of its greatest achievements in my judgment is its institution of a "World Communion Sunday," a conscious communion and fellowship of all Christians. This is in contrast to the sectarian idea of exclusive groups, known as "communions," which, by their very exclusiveness, deny the deeper meaning of communion.

Incidentally the New Testament Greek word, translated "Communion," is the same word elsewhere translated "fellowship." The greatest need of the world is Christian fellowship.

modest, say that you don't like the dress or refer to it as "this old thing."

RIGHT: Accept the compliment graciously with a pleased, "Thank you, I'm glad you like it."

You go to a party in a private home that turns out to be boring indeed.

WRONG: Tell all your friends how boring the evening was.

RIGHT: Never accept another's hospitality and then run it down. It is quite all right to make up your mind that you won't let yourself in for another such evening, but it's all wrong to make fun of or complain about an evening spent in another's home.

3 Districts Battle for Title in CC

By The Associated Press
Half of the field in the state play-off of the Texas schoolboy football City Conference will probably be known this week.

In the Houston District John Reagan can sew up the title with a victory or tie against San Jacinto.

Fall of Lamar was the biggest surprise of the season. John Reagan lashed Lamar down 6-0.

District 1 (Dallas)—Thursday: Sunset vs Crozier Tech; Friday: Forest vs North Dallas; Saturday: Adamson vs Woodrow Wilson.

District 2 (Fort Worth)—Thursday: Poly vs Amon Carter-Riverside; Friday: Fort Worth Tech vs Arlington Heights.

District 3 (Houston) — Thursday: Lamar vs Austin; Friday: Davis vs Sam Houston; Saturday: San Jacinto vs Reagan.

Pacific Coast Claims California Is Roughest, Toughest in Nation

NEW YORK — (AP) — California really loaded this year? They insist "yes" out on the Pacific Coast where the Golden Bears battered UCLA Saturday, 35-0, for their 32nd regular season victory in a row.

Elsewhere, fans probably will choose to reserve judgment until after the Rose Bowl game, Jan. 1.

Smith, the mighty Aggie fullback, lacks only one yard of gaining as much running with the ball as Benners has by passing.

Smith has rolled up 1124 yards on 151 carries, averaging 7.4 yards per run. Benners has 849 yards per run. Benners has 1124 yards rushing beating any combination of rushing and passing.

Bill Tidwell of Texas A&M is second in rushing with 624 yards on 159 carries. Larry Isbell of Baylor is runner-up in passing with 71 connections in 147 throws for 948 yards.

Hal Riley of Baylor is the top man in pass-receiving. He has caught 29 for 458 yards. Bennie White of Southern Methodist has snared 21 for 381.

UCLA's Coach Red Sanders declared: "I think California has the best team in the country."

Northwestern beat the Bears in the Rose Bowl two years ago, 20-14, and Ohio State won, 17-14, last Jan. 1.

In whipping UCLA, the Golden Bears, who lost 26 lettersmen by graduation, hurdled the biggest remaining obstacle between them and a third conference championship.

Pacific Coast grid followers now are hoping that the Big Ten will send out something besides a secondary representative for the Pasadena game, so the Bears can recapture lost prestige.

Ohio State, second ranked nationally, is regarded as the best team in the Western Conference and is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl under present rules.

Class A Winds Up Season This Week

By The Associated Press
Class A high school football roars to a finish this week with 36 playoff entries still to be decided.

The 18 teams that can start making playoff plans now have either won clear titles or have beaten the only teams that can possibly tie them for district titles.

These are Shamrock in District one; Kermit (5); Colorado City (6); Coleman (7); Arlington (12); Mineola (14); Mt. Vernon (15); Mexia (19); Lavaca (20); Georgetown (21); New Braunfels (24); Wharton (27); Karnes City (28); Sinton (29); South San Antonio (31); and Pearsall (32).

Interscholastic League rules call for all champions to be decided this week, with the five-week championship playoff starting next week.

Unless districts depart from a standard custom, where two teams tie the title goes to the one that beat the other.

Some terrific games are set on this last week in this sprawling division of 20 teams and the undefeated, untied list is already down to eight and the unbeaten but tied drop has been cut to six.

One of the perfect teams, Olney, runs into one of the unbeaten but tied teams, Crowell, Friday night with the District 10 title hanging on the result.

Another such meeting, Brenham vs. unbeat Elgin, will decide District 23.

And French, which has been tied, is the underdog in its game with powerful Nederland, which has 424 points to 82 for the op-

Giants Blast Cardinals in Pro Football

NEW YORK — (AP) — With one month of the season remaining, the National Football League found itself all scrambled up today with no less than six teams in a red hot battle for championship honors.

The won and lost figures in both divisions are exactly the same for the leaders after Sunday's program. Cleveland's Browns still are leading the American Conference, while the Los Angeles Rams displaced the New York Yanks atop the National group.

The Rams have a tough job next Sunday when they meet New York.

Los Angeles eased into first place by blasting the Green Bay Packers, 45-14, while the Bears tamed New York's Yanks, 28-20.

The Cleveland Browns had a rough time subduing the San Francisco 49ers, 24-14. The Giants pulverized the Chicago Cardinals, 51-21. The Philadelphia Eagles blanked the Redskins, 33-0; and the Steelers defeated the Baltimore Colts, 17-7.

Thus Cleveland and Los Angeles lead their divisions with seven victories and two losses each. The Chicago Bears and New York Yanks are despoiled for second place back of Los Angeles, with six wins and two defeats. The New York Giants and Philadelphia have the same won and lost mark in their second place tie behind Cleveland.

All-Winning Deaf Players Rarely Miss The Silent Signs in Huddle

By SANDER HOLLANDER
NEA Special Correspondent
GREENBURGH, N. Y. — (NEA) — The coach formed a pair of numbers with his fingers, indicating to the substitute inside him his choice for the next play.

The youngster raced into the game, transmitted his instructions. A halfback sped 65 yards on a reverse for a touchdown.

It was the wrong play.

"I called for a lateral," said Paul Kennedy, coach of the New York School for the Deaf. "The boy misunderstood my signal."

This Kennedy points out, is unusual among his charges, who by means of the manual alphabet, sign language and lip-reading, learned their football very well.

The record — five triumphs, unbeaten, with a 42-point average. Most of the games are against hearing teams.

Kennedy, erstwhile football player and wrestler at East Stroudsburg, Pa., Teachers, uses the T and single wing. For each he has a different signal for the center snapback. When the quarterback wants the ball in the T, he slaps the pivotman in the rear. In the single wing, the center, waiting for between his legs, waits for the fullback to open his fists.

The line lines up in an unusual inverted V. Kennedy says his boys have a better chance of seeing the ball passed from center in this alignment. By looking out of the side of the eye linemen know when the play begins.

The quarterback uses sign language in the huddle.

They have two-plate football at this beautiful, rustic institution two miles out of White Plains, N. Y. Until this season Kennedy had so sign a squad he had to scrimmage one side of the line against the other. The closing of St. Joseph's School for the Deaf boosted Kennedy's squad to a gigantic near-30 figure. This has, of course, helped pave the all-winning path.

The players — 200 in student enrollment, ranging from three-and-a-half years to 20, although nobody of more than 19 is permitted to play football — come from everywhere and all economic levels. The captain of last year's club, for example, was Soliman Boushnaq, of Palestine.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.,
NEW YORK — (AP) — It's a safe prediction that baseball's national defense rule will come in for a lot of discussion and perhaps some overhauling at the winter meetings. Shag Shaughnessy, International League president, proposed some changes at the recent executive committee meeting but was turned down.

He still thinks it's a bad rule. "They're taking the young players awfully fast—in our league," says Shag. "No body wants to sell an old ball player."

It may be just like the last year. The players used up all their option years while they were in service, and when they came back they couldn't be sent out to gain experience. They wanted to go out — just like the bonus kids want to be sent out — but the rule prevented it. I want them to change the rule so a kid can be sent to the minors if he asks for it."

Lady Keglers Close Meet In Amarillo

AMARILLO — (AP) — Fort Worth, San Antonio and Big Spring tied for championship honors with three titles each in the Texas Women's Bowling Association tournament that closed here last night.

El Paso and Corpus Christi bagged two apiece and Houston, Dumas and San Angelo one each. Wanda Bucking, a Fort Worth stenographer, won the Class A all events with the 1,648 total she posted last weekend. Mrs. Bucking and Liz Young, also of Fort Worth, finished first in Class A doubles with 1,094.

Grace Baskin, last year's all events winner, led the singles field with 555 and her Stratus Frank Co. team of San Antonio won its second consecutive Class A team championship.

Other winners included: Class B, all events: Mary Ruth Robertson, Big Spring, 1,592; a team: Modern Way Food Market, San Angelo, 2,397.

Class D singles: Frances Glenn, Big Spring, 539; Douglas: Rita Ferguson-Jean McGuire, Dumas 916; all events: Frances Glenn, Big Spring, 1,398.

Polo Game Matched

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — The Mexican Polo Federation announced today it had arranged for a Spanish team to play in Mexico for the first time. The 20-goal Spanish squad, formed at the Domecq and Echeverria brothers, will play five games against a Mexican team which has not yet been chosen. The dates have not been decided upon.

Taliaferro Follows Crowd In Strader's Fake Bootleg

TRAFFIC—The left tackle and guard lead it.

By RED STRADER
New York Yanks' Coach

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The Yanks' fake bootleg play, shown in the accompanying diagram, takes full advantage of the speed and power with which Left Halfback George Taliaferro runs. It is my favorite play.

Quarterback George Ratterman pivots to the right, hands off the ball to Taliaferro, continues to his left as if carrying on a bootleg play.

With the right end, Barney Poole or Danny Edwards, taking the defensive fullback, this puts four blockers in front of the runner in addition to Jack Russell's down-field blocking.

CONVOYED — George Taliaferro follows the crowd.

Buffaloes Win Border Loop; Sun Bowl Eyed

PHOENIX — (AP) — West Texas State College is the 1950 Border Conference football champion. And the Buffaloes will probably receive a bid to the Sun Bowl game Jan. 1 at El Paso.

They were idle Saturday, but Texas Western handed them the championship by a surprising 21-20 victory over the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. H-SU had a mathematical chance of tying the Buffs.

West Texas goes to Abilene Nov. 18 to play the cowboys. The Buffaloes are undefeated in five conference games. The Cowboys have won two and lost two.

Arizona State College at Tempe handed the University of Arizona a 47-13 trouncing Saturday.

The Sun Devils will probably receive a bid to the Salad Bowl game Jan. 1 at Phoenix.

Saturday Tempe will play Colorado A&M. Arizona will meet the Red Raiders of Texas Tech at Tucson. The Red Raiders favored over Tulsa last week, took a 39-7 beating.

New Mexico University meets Bradley Army was merciful in handing the outcasted Lobos only a 51-0 defeat Saturday.

New Mexico A&M to South-Western Tech of Oklahoma 18-16. The Aggies entertain Colorado Mines for their final game.

Texas Western is idle this week.

Moseley Wins Golf Tourney At Laredo

LAREDO — (AP) — Fred Moseley, San Antonio, won the first International Golf Tournament here yesterday when he carded 73, one over par, for a 72-hole total of 299.

Rummerup was Armando Rivero, Mexico City, with 75-508. Lonnie Wendland, Corpus Christi, was third with 74-510. Bill Erzurth, San Antonio, was fourth with a 79-320.

Set for today were the International Cup matches with 12 low Mexico players playing 12 low United States. Oscar Casso, Nuevo Laredo, is captain of the Mexican team with Sylvan Polak, Mexico City, as co-captain. Moseley is captain of the United States team with Wendland as co-captain.

Ten Districts in Double A Football Have Co-Leaders

By The Associated Press

Two district championships have been determined and three of the other 14 districts have undisputed leaders as the Class AA division of Texas schoolboy football rolls through its final weeks.

Texasarkana and Baytown are kings of Districts 9 and 12 respectively and await the start of the state play-off Dec. 9.

Denison is out front in District 7, Lufkin in District 10 and Harlingen in District 16.

Ten districts have co-leaders.

District 1 — Pampa and Plainview.

District 2 — Childress and Wichita Falls.

District 3 — Lubbock and Odessa.

District 4 — Abilene and San Angelo.

District 5 — Breckenridge and Cleburne.

District 6 — Grand Prairie and Highland Park (Dallas).

District 8 — Port Arthur and Port Neches.

District 11 — Corsicana and Temple.

District 13 — Corsicana and Temple.

District 14 — Austin and Kerrville.

District 15 — Alice and Laredo.

District 16 is in a huge tangle with four of the five teams in a virtual tie for first place. They are El Paso, Slaton, Austin (El Paso) and Bowie (El Paso), each with one loss. These teams play each other this week.

District 2 will establish an undisputed leader because Wichita Falls plays Childress.

In District 8 Grand Prairie and Highland Park get together.

In District 10 Lufkin plays Conroe for the championship. Conroe has lost a game but can take the title by beating Lufkin.

In District 13 Corsicana meets Temple in the game due to decide the title.

Six teams are undefeated and untied in the state. They are Pampa, Breckenridge, Texarkana, Cleburne, Port Arthur and Corsicana. Only Corsicana and Texarkana, which plays Kilgore, have games this week.

Aggie Basketeers Open at Canyon

STILLWATER — (Special) — Thirty-one games, including the All-College tournament in Oklahoma City, confront Coach Hank Iba's Oklahoma A&M college basketball squad. It's the longest schedule since 1948 when the Aggies also played 31.

A&M opens December 4 with West Texas in a game to be played in Canyon if the new Buffalo fieldhouse is completed in time or in Amarillo otherwise. It was scheduled as the dedication game.

Abilene Leads Pack in Texas Conference

By The Associated Press

Southwestern University and McMurry tangle this week in the only game in the Texas Conference and it means little in the standings.

Undefeated, untied Abilene Christian last week clinched at least a tie for the title with a 33-14 victory over Austin College.

In other games, Howard Payne licked McMurry in a wild scoring duel, 59-34, and Texas A&I took over second place by itself by licking Southwestern, 26-7.

Brad Rowland of McMurry scored three touchdowns to boost his total for the year to 10 and top individual scorers with 60 points. Alton Green of Abilene Christian is second with 54 points.

SUNNING BLONDE — Cleo Moore, blonde motion picture actress, smilingly prefers a sun tan 2 1/2 times to taking a plunge into the pool at Los Angeles, Calif.

HELPFUL FLOOR COLORS

When it is feasible to paint factory floors, colors of medium depth are usually advisable. Such a coating aids floor maintenance and also serves as a light reflecting surface.

Male Australian monitor lizards stand upon their hind legs and wrestle for possession of a mate.

Wider Garage Door Offered This Month in Panhandle

A new nine-foot-wide all-steel garage door by Strand Garage Door Division of Detroit Steel Products Co. will soon be available in this area. Shipments of the door are to be begun by the factory by the middle of November, according to word received by William Bartlett, of Santa Fe Sash & Door Co., Canadian, local distributor for this area. The wider steel door has been designed to accommodate the wider cars now being built, and it combines beauty with strength and durability, it is claimed. The exterior features attractive horizontal lines to give a new look. A rugged, new X type steel bracing has been used to add strength and rigidity to the one-piece all-steel door leaf. This bracing not only withstands shipping and handling from factory to completed job, but assures the owner of lifetime durability and low upkeep.

Many Nations Contribute to Paint Business

By LENORE KENT
WASHINGTON, D. C. — In a world acutely conscious of the interdependence of all nations, the products of many industries emphasize the advantages of peaceful trade relations. Among these, the paint industry's products illustrate this point with special force. Literally, their ingredients are to be found in the world's four corners. Paint industry materials are, in a sense, "United Nations" products obtained from the nations of the world that are peacefully united through commercial enterprise.

Modern Roof Cover Frees Home Owner Of Shingle Worries

The problem of costly roof repairs and replacements, once commonplace with home owners, has been overcome to a large degree through the development of improved materials, building specialists report. Greater resistance to fire, wear and weathering, they say, has added many years to the life expectancy of today's roof.

THINKING OF BUILDING, PAL?—If you've got enough dough to get over the hurdle of the new credit restrictions, you'd still better check your cost estimate. Recent wage increases won by nearly 30 per cent of union construction workers in 85 major cities have pushed up the average hourly scale of all union construction workers to $2.32 an hour. Newschart above shows the average rates by crafts in the month of November estimated by the Bureau of Labor statistics.

Four Out of Five Build Frame Houses; Hardwood for Floors

Lumber is holding its own as the predominant building material for American homes, according to a recent survey by a widely circulated home planning magazine. Almost two-thirds of the home owners responding to questionnaires said their new dwellings were of straight frame construction and 14 percent stated they had used masonry veneer over wood framing. About 20 percent described their homes as of solid masonry.

The figures were based on replies from more than 11,000 persons. Most of the houses were in small towns, in cities and in suburbs. Only about one-fourth were in the country. Average cost of the houses was $11,699. Building trade reports, as well as other surveys, also reveal that hardwood remains the No. 1 choice for residential flooring. It was estimated several years ago that approximately 80 percent of American homes were equipped with hardwood floors. More recently a survey of home owners showed that 85 percent preferred floors of oak.

Make Good Impression With Wall Finishes

Attractive wall finishes and furnishings help to sell the standing of a business concern to its employees as well as to its business prospects. Clean, smoothly painted surfaces in colors that are well selected speak well for the efficiency of a firm, the firm's pride in itself and consideration of its employees.

Pre-Decorated Panelboards End Refinishing Woes

Giving the bathroom a permanent finish is the aspiration of most home owners, who dread the periodic repainting of these surfaces. Hundreds are turning to factory-finished material which can be applied without expert help.

Well-Cared-for Wallpaper Will Last Great Deal Longer

By BOB SCHARFF
Written for NEA Service

Has Junior left a smudgy reproduction of his fingerprints on your wallpapered walls? Or have you had an unfortunate accident, when moving furniture around, that gouged a piece out of your wallpaper? Don't worry. These and other wallpaper difficulties can be simply remedied.

Whenever wallpaper becomes loosened at the edges it is a simple matter to stick it back into place with ordinary library paste. Press down tightly, using a clean blotter to protect the paper.

When bulges occur in paper, a slit made through the bulge with a razor edge will allow paste to be forced behind the paper. Then, press the paper carefully with a soft cloth. If wallpaper has become badly torn or defaced, it will be necessary to apply a patch and if this is done carefully the defect should be practically invisible.

exact matching position. To match paper that is faded, place the new piece directly in the sun and leave it till it has faded to exactly the wall's paleness. Then match the patch carefully as it is put on.

Most of the modern wallpapers, being washable, are easily cleaned with a mild solution of soap flakes and warm water. First of all, make sure that all loose dust and dirt have been removed by going over the entire surface with a soft cloth.

When there is an extra piece of the wallpaper on hand, select a portion to match the pattern and tear off, tearing being from the back to leave edges that are thin and feathery. The paper should not be cut because sharp edges cannot be concealed. The patch is then covered with paste and applied to the wall in match with the pattern, the edges being lightly brushed and rubbed into contact. By using enough paste, the patch can be slid to the

It is used by taking a fair-sized mass in the hands and working it until it is warm and plastic. Then, the wallpaper is simply wiped with the cleaner in long, even strokes, all in the same direction.

Because the outside of this cleanser constantly gets dirty, the mass should be constantly worked in the hands, so that the fresh clean parts are brought to the surface.

Police Teach Men A Lesson in Poker

Several men have decided it doesn't pay to play poker in back rooms of cafes, according to John Wilkinson, chief of police, as a direct result of a raid on the Busy Bee Cafe Saturday night by Pampa police.

Officers Johnson and Patterson were cruising past the cafe late Saturday evening, when they saw lights in the back room. Raising the cafe, they found seven men whose noses were buried deep in a poker game.

The stakes must have been high, as the players didn't notice the entrance of the officers. The game proceeded for several minutes, and finally someone discovered that they had two unwanted guests.

"I pass," said one of the men as the two officers were observed. "We were just looking," said another. "What makes you fellows think we were playing poker?" was the third comment.

Poker or no poker, the men were taken to the station and arrested in connection with charges of gaming.

As the men left the station one remarked, "It's sure getting hard when a man can't even fiddle around with a deck of cards."

said, but the rearmament program forced by the Korean crisis and new trends of Soviet aggression, mean that the countries will continue to need help for three or four more years.

The amount of economic assistance they will need remains to be figured out, but at one point Gray's advisers tentatively estimated the cost at $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year. Meanwhile, the U.S. in cooperation with the International Bank would also undertake a loan and grant program for the underdeveloped areas totalling at least $1,100,000,000 a year, far beyond anything previously planned.

2. Domestic economic policies—drastic revision of American tariff, shipping, agricultural and other internal policies which Gray described as conflicting with the country's foreign economic policies aimed at helping friendly nations produce and sell more goods for dollars.

3. Conditions of aid—the Gray Report takes the line that the United States, using aid agreements and distribution as a lever, should continue to insist on high performance by other nations in carrying their share of the load. For example, the aid which any particular European nation would receive would depend on the extent of its own sacrifices in rearming for the common defense; similarly in the underdeveloped nations the amounts of loans or grants would be decisively influenced by the production opportunities plus the conditions created by local government for attractions and safeguarding investments.

HE CAME TO KILL

by ADELINE McFRESH
 Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Ann Maggie Thorne is smothered to death in bed and all of the household, including Peter, a nephew who arrived on the eve of the crime, are suspected. Leana, a grand-niece, clears herself of a clumsy attempt to implicate her in the crime. The suspect is a man who was planted under his pillow by his wife, Sondra. This follows an attempt to kill 24-year-old Ann Agatha, sister of the slain woman. Ann Agatha had been overheard arguing with Peter earlier and Peter had accused her of murdering Ann Agatha. Sheriff Clem Pardy and Deputy Mart Preston arrive for questioning and Peter, apparently agitated, starts to leave the room. As Mart tries to stop him, Peter tells the deputy with a blow on the chin. Leana is then by her suspicions which point first to Peter Thorne and then to his brother Jasper. It begins to look, the girl decides, as if either one or the other had killed Ann Maggie Thorne.

"Hitting below the belt gets results, Leana," he said soberly. "Lawyers learn that. You're an extrovert, Leana. Your every feeling is reflected in your face, your actions. You wouldn't have come out here if you hadn't trusted me. Would you?"

"No, I suppose not."

"Then why are you afraid of me?"

Lying would not save her now. Peter was too close, he was too cunning.

"I was looking at your hands, Peter. But if Sondra was with you—"

She left the accusation hanging there, gnawing at his alibi.

"I didn't say that, Leana. Remember?" Peter was smiling. Pleasantly, not at all as a killer should smile. He said then, softly, "Have you ever looked at Sondra's hands, Leana?"

.....

DAWN was a widening band of gray in the east when Leana tumbled into her bed for a few hours' sleep from which she awoke as unrefreshed and tired as she had been throughout the night of terror.

The terror was still there, only seen in the grim light of morning, it was worse. The tiny fear-lines that had been obliterated by the kind light of shaded lamps were visible now, and the mannerisms of fear were more pronounced. Or perhaps, Leana thought as she seated herself across the breakfast table from Jasper Thorne and his wife, her senses, her suspicions, were more acute this morning.

There was little conversation, none of it about the murder or would-be murder, but Leana was sure she had interrupted something of the sort. She felt unwanted, as though either Jasper or Sondra, or both of them, resented her.

She looked up from the plate of bacon and eggs Mrs. Carstairs had just placed in front of her. "I'm

Services Held for Alanreed Woman

ALANREED—(Special)—Funeral services were held here this afternoon for Mrs. Julia Earhman Carter who died Saturday night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Earhman of Alanreed. Services were held in the First Baptist Church with Rev. S. T. Greenwood in charge, assisted by Rev. R. W. Stringer of Groom. Burial was in the Alanreed Cemetery.

Julia Earhman Carter was a resident of Alanreed for 14 years, moving from Hedley in 1936. On June 1 of this year she moved to Groom.

She was born March 26, 1917, and was married to Lester Carter of Alanreed on Aug. 17, 1947.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Earhman; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Farley of Merkle and Mrs. Edith Boyd of Greer; S. C. One brother and one sister predeceased her in death.

She had been a member of the First Baptist Church since 1929.

The Claybourne Funeral Home of McLean was in charge of arrangements.

at Sinuiju and set three main supply points aflame with fire bombs.

A spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters said both bridges across the Yalu River from Manchuria to Sinuiju were believed knocked out after Monday's attack.

Forty B-29s made the fire attack. They loosed 340 tons of incendiaries on Sakchu and Chosan, on the Yalu River north-east of Sinuiju, and on Mansi, communications center between Sinuiju and the northwest front.

Three other communications and supply centers were set aflame Sunday in the B-29 scorched-earth raids. The Air Force is methodically burning out Red collection points for men and supplies.

MacArthur's intelligence officer said there had been no information for two days on whether Chinese Communists still are sending reinforcements in large numbers across the Yalu. He said the Chinese appeared to be throwing more strength into the central part of the peninsula between the Changjin reservoir and the Yalu River.

This would place heavy concentrations between the main United Nations positions and Kang-fye, Red Korean command center.

Intentions and capabilities of the Chinese forces still are not apparent, the intelligence officer said.

James Plimsoll of Australia, a member of the United Nations seven-man commission for Korea, was enroute to Korea to study at close hand the Chinese Red crisis.

Before leaving New York, he called Chinese Communist interference "unwarranted and unnecessary." Red China authorities earlier spurred a UN offer to debate the issue.

Beautiful Efficiency In Kitchen Flooring

A spic and span kitchen that is beautiful as well as efficient has cabinet surfaces painted a tint of coral. The floor is covered in deep blue linoleum and wall surfaces that show between the upper and lower tiers of cabinets are a lighter tone of the same delphinium blue. The ceiling and the wall surface above the top cabinets are painted cloud grey.

Most lambs that die do so the first week of their lives.

resolution at Friday's meeting — and on what attitude to take when the Chinese Reds arrive.

Communist Foreign Minister Chou En-lai notified the council Saturday that he was sending a delegation to Lake Success in accordance with a Sept. 29 invitation to debate charges that sealing off of Formosa by the U.S. Seventh Fleet constitutes aggression.

Chou rejected an invitation, extended last Wednesday, to send representatives to argue Gen. MacArthur's charges of Chinese Communist intervention in Korea.

His cable suggested, however, that the Formosa charge be enlarged to include accusations that America is guilty of aggression in Korea and Manchuria.

It is doubtful that the allies fighting in Korea will agree to this, but it was apparent that, in one guise or another, the Korean issue would be fought out around the council table when the delegation arrives — probably at the end of the week.

Meanwhile, American sources expect further public debate — probably Tuesday or Wednesday — on the original resolution which spelled out the policy the UN is now following.

This afternoon's council session is scheduled to be devoted to

Wheeler Has Three Liquor Cases for County Court Term

Wheeler had an unusual term of county court last week, disposing of three liquor cases by jury trial.

Rena Edwards, Shamrock, received a fine of $500 for illegal Sale of Liquor in a Dry Territory. The sale was to Liquor Control Board Agents.

She has several previous convictions on the same count.

This was the highest verdict assessed by a jury for this offense since the law came into being in 1935.

Jack Thompson, also of Shamrock, was fined $300 on similar charges.

Carl Bracken, Twitty, received a fine of $100 for Illegal Possession of Liquor.
