WAS REPORTED SURROUNDED IN A CORN FIELD

ONE OF THREE MEN IS WOUNDED, SAYS SALESMAN

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 12 (AP)—Frenzied search for Charles Arthur 'Pretty Boy' Floyd, outlaw, was on in Missouri today after the desperado had been reported at three points in the north central section of the state. Federal, state, county, and city officers joined forces in a will 'o' the wisp chase after Floyd and two companions had been reported seen five miles south of Mexico.

MOBERLY, Mo., Oct. 12 (AP)—Search for Charles Arthur 'Pretty Boy' Floyd, outlaw, centered here shortly after noon today when Mrs. Ed Ginter reported to police three men stopped at her home at noon and one asked for a towel and soap. She said one of his companions had cut his finger on a car door. She said the man appeared nervous and that after entering the car the three departed at high speed north toward Cairo, six miles north of Moberly.

FULTON, Mo., Oct. 12 (AP)—The trail of three men, one believed to be Charles 'Pretty Boy' Floyd, was lost today at Kingdom City, at the intersection of highways Nos. 40 and 54, by Adair county officials.

Kingdom City is about 12 miles south of the corn field where the southwest outlaw and two companions were reported surrounded. Officers of the Missouri state highway patrol, county and city police rushed into the area. Roads were blocked.

Floyd, who this week first was definitely linked with the slaying of four officers and their convict prisoner at Kansas City June 17, 1933, was reported in Iowa yesterday, headed south, presumably to retreat in Missouri or Oklahoma.

O. L. Blanchard, salesman for the Western State Specialty company of Kansas City, a former detective, reported to Mexico police that he had definitely identified Floyd when three men stopped him five miles south of here this morning.

Blanchard told the officers that he was on his way from Columbia to Mexico when he stopped to help three men stalled in a lane just off the main highway.

The men headed toward Kingdom City on highway No. 40. Police at Louisville were immediately instructed to block the Missouri river bridge there.

When Blanchard started to help the three men, they drew revolvers, but let him go when they were convinced their automobile would not carry them fast enough, he said.

Blanchard said he was almost certain that one of the three men was Floyd. A man in the back seat of their car was wounded, he said.

Extradition of Man Held Here Asked Governor

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Oct. 12 (AP)—Sheriff Ira Allen of Quay county today sent requisition papers to Gov. A. W. Hockaday asking the extradition of Jim Poe held at Pampa, Texas, on a burglary charge.

Poe, Sheriff Allen said, is wanted several weeks ago and now held in Las Vegas and Estancia, N. M., for robberies in Quay, Harding, San Miguel, and Turrance counties.

Poe, arrested at McLean, has been in jail in Pampa for more than a week.

Ed Mitchell, one of the largest stock raisers in New Mexico with headquarters near Albert, was a visitor in Pampa yesterday. He was seeking grazing land for his cattle.

I SAW—

A story in an Austin newspaper which stated that Eugene Worley, state representative-elect from this district had made his first speech before the house, after being caught unaware by Speaker Coke Stevenson.

Question marks on high school students' faces as they watched Principal Lem Sone lose a foot race to Ben Guill. Mr. Sone said if he lost the race he would wear over-shoes to school for a week.

PRESIDENT OF LIONS TO COME HERE DEC. 14

Territory Rally To Be Held on That Evening

Lions District Governor F. L. Pitts of Lubbock, in the course of his speech at a zone gathering of clubmen at the Schneider hotel last night, announced that President Vincent C. Stubbins of the International Association of Lions clubs would come to Pampa Dec. 14 for an evening rally of Lions of this territory.

Mr. Hassall, a noted attorney of Omaha, Neb., will be accompanied by other international officials.

Governor Pitts spoke at a business meeting of clubmen at 7 p. m., and then made a typical address on "selfish service" at the banquet. After looking over Pampa this morning, he went to Higgins for a rally tonight.

In addition to a large audience of Pampa Lions, ladies, and guests, there were 7 visitors from Clarion, headed by Sam M. Brasswell, director of Lions International; 11 from Miami, 14 from McLean; 4 from Claude and 4 from Pampa.

W. H. Patrick, Clarion banker, was elected zone chairman to succeed T. A. Landers of McLean. Mr. Brasswell was made secretary. Miami was given the next meeting.

Mr. Patrick won for his club a beautiful flag set presented by President H. H. Hicks of the Pampa club.

LATE NEWS

HILLSBORO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Sheriff J. W. Freeland said today that Herschel Taylor, arrested in Fort Worth, had confessed to the slaying of Walter J. (Money) Jones, Cleburne houseman and money lender, one week ago.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Washington Evening Star said today that federal agents investigating the Kansas City union station massacre had uncovered evidence of a political and gangster combine starting in its implications that a federal grand jury investigation would be instituted almost immediately.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 12 (AP)—Walter Childers, 29, was taken into custody today for questioning about the kidnaping in Louisville, Ky., of Mrs. Alice Stoll, after officers said they found tufts of brunette hair and strips of white cloth in an automobile wrecking company.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Senator Lewis of Illinois, chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee, said in a statement today no changes in the value of the dollar or other inflationary moves were being contemplated by the administration, Frankly disturbed by widespread inflationary talk resulting from yesterday's White House conference, Lewis said Senator Bulkley of Ohio had been misunderstood if he left the impression President Roosevelt favors a further revaluation of the dollar.

TWO KILLED IN ANOTHER TRAIN WRECK IN IOWA

Two Critically Hurt, When Cars Leave Track

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 12 (AP)—Two persons were killed, two critically injured and six others were less seriously hurt early today when a fast Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train left the rails six miles east of here, and three cars tumbled into the path of an onrushing passenger train from the opposite direction.

All those injured were in the derailed train No. 14, bound for Chicago, which was derailed by the westbound train No. 23.

The fatal crash was the second to be made in Iowa within 24 hours, coming up a death toll of six with more than 25 injured. The first accident occurred near Guttenberg yesterday when four were killed and 18 injured in the derailment of a Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific passenger train.

The dead were Mrs. Esther Roberts of Des Moines and Sam Mason, negro, of Chicago, waiter.

The injured were: Madeline Roberts, 12, daughter of Mrs. Roberts, reported dying; H. H. Copes, Austin, Minn., critical condition; J. B. Neely of Chicago; R. F. Burn of Chicago; Walter Webb, negro, waiter of Chicago; Mrs. Virginia Willwood of New York, minor injuries; Dorothy Lee Neff, 8, and Edith Neff, 9, both of Solon, Ill., minor injuries.

Fifteen Tons of Hay Burn on Farm

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barns and nearby hay stacks at the D. F. Keen farm, 5 miles east of Pampa on Highway 33 yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Mr. Keen estimated that 15 tons of hay were burned.

The Pampa fire department was notified of the fire and one of the large trucks was sent to the scene. Water from the booster tank was used to keep the house and nearby garage from catching fire. Gasoline drums in the garage were kept cool with water and an explosion and worse blaze were prevented.

Mr. Keen had no insurance on his place. He estimated the loss of hay and buildings at several thousand dollars. The blaze had gained much headway before being discovered and there was no chance of saving the hay or buildings.

WOMAN KILLS SELF
HASKELL, Oct. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Leonard Harrow, 45, wife of a Rochester farmer and mother of two children, shot and killed herself in the cellar of her home three miles west of Rochester last night.

STOLL RANSOM ALREADY PAID SAYS LAWYER

RETURN OF WOMAN IS AWAITED BY HER HUSBAND

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12 (AP)—The ransom demanded for Mrs. Alice Spred Stoll has been paid and the family awaits the kidnaper's fulfillment of promises, was the announcement here today by Berry V. Stoll, husband of the young society woman who was snatched and forced from their home late Wednesday. The ransom note had named the demand as $50,000 but the Stoll announcement did not mention the sum.

The formal statement said: "We have carefully followed instructions, met all ransom requirements, and are awaiting fulfillment of promises."

The parties may act freely without fear or hindrance," Berry V. Stoll said.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12 (AP)—In a furious chase after an automobile reported to have contained a woman and a bandaged head, Berry V. Stoll whose wife was kidnaped Wednesday afternoon, dashed southward through Kentucky today.

Whether Stoll's announcement meant the money actually had been given the man who kidnaped Mrs. Stoll or had been given to persons designated by him, remained unexplained as there was no comment when the formal statement was given to newspapermen, in Stoll's behalf.

Highways throughout central and southern Kentucky were blocked by sheriffs and other officers on a request made at Hodgenville by a detective who accompanied Stoll.

The pair who had left the Stoll home in Louisville drove through Hodgenville about 11:15 a. m., heading towards Elizabethtown after the detective had requested the sheriff at Hodgenville to telephone to sheriffs in nearby counties to watch for the mysterious machine. It was reported to have been driven by a man and to have had a woman passenger.

The description of her head being bandaged apparently made the wealthy young oil company executive almost certain it was his wife, since her maid, Ann Woollet, had declared that the unidentified man who snatched Mrs. Stoll from her home and left a $50,000 ransom demand, had slugged her on the head with an iron pipe until she bled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12 (AP)—Berry V. Stoll drove furiously southward through Kentucky today, in what was believed to be an effort to make contact with or catch the kidnaper of his wife. Accompanied by a detective, he passed through Hodgenville some 40 miles south of his Louisville home.

Borger Woman Is Injured in Wreck

Mrs. R. P. Cowan of Borger is in Pampa hospital with severe cuts and bruises received in an automobile accident two miles west of Lake-ville this morning. Three other persons were treated for minor injuries but were later able to leave the hospital.

The crash was between a car going east and a truck loaded with watermelons and roasting ears being driven toward Pampa. The produce was scattered over a wide area by the impact.

3 Escaping Prisoners Free McAllen Officer at Red River in Oklahoma.

DENISON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Three escaping prisoners, fleeing prosecution under the new federal kidnaping law by forcibly transporting Deputy Sheriff Jack Rapp across Texas into Oklahoma by automobile, released their captive unharmed, and today continued their flight afoot north of the Red river.

The McAllen officer, missing for 33 hours, appeared unexpectedly last night at the Denison police station to tell of being overpowered and abducted by the desperate prisoners while transferring them from McAllen to Edinburg Wednesday morning.

RELIEF ROLLS GAIN 200,000 IN ONE MONTH

Number of Relief Families Increase, Also Costs of Providing for Them.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, reported at his press conference today that the number of families on relief rolls jumped from 3,800,000 in July to 4,000,000 in August.

Hopkins estimated the total amount of public funds expended for unemployment relief during August at $147,000,000 compared to $130,865,000 in the previous month.

The number of single persons on relief, which reached 500,000 in July, was not yet available for August.

The relief administrator told reporters that preliminary reports from 110 cities during September showed the number of families on their relief rolls had remained almost stationary since August, and that relief outlays in those cities dropped to $46,276,000 during September compared to $49,308,000 in August.

Hopkins warned, however, that it was "very risky to draw any conclusions" from these apparently favorable figures. He pointed out that a payroll falling due just after the end of any month might cause total outlays in that month to look unusually low.

A list of studies being made for President Roosevelt's committee on economic security was made public. Unemployment insurance, provisions for old age security, public work as a means of economic security, and employment opportunities headed the list.

Hopkins insisted the order in which the studies were listed had no significance.

False Alarms Often Costly as Would Be Fires

The cost to the taxpayer is just the same when fire apparatus is sent in response to a false alarm as when a genuine fire. Annual reports of fire chief in large and medium size cities and many small ones show that a large number of alarms answered by the fire department are false alarms.

It is not easy to estimate the actual expense of responding to a fire alarm, as costs vary in the different communities according to the length of the run, the pieces of apparatus responding and other factors. One city estimated that the cost of a run averages $350. While this may be high for the average size city, it is evident that a large expenditure of money is involved every time the apparatus leaves its headquarters.

In connection with the observance of Fire Prevention week the insurance department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States emphasizes the danger of these alarms. Every time an alarm is sounded some of the city's equipment must respond. If a real fire should occur while the apparatus is away from headquarters, valuable time is lost and what might have been a small fire may easily develop into a serious one. Firemen always run the risk of death or injury in traffic accidents when speeding to a fire.

This hazard is just as serious when answering a false alarm. It is illegal to turn in a false alarm and violators should be apprehended and severely punished. For the safety of our firemen and citizens, when speeding to a fire this hazard is a law-enforced law should not be tolerated.

Queen Widow Is Seriously Ill

INNSBRUCK, Austria, Oct. 12 (AP)—It's cargo sorrow, pain, and Yugoslavia's hope for the future, a special train passed through here today.

It bore Peter II, child-king of Yugoslavia, his mother, the widowed Queen Marie, and her mother, the Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania.

The train was heavily guarded; the blinds on its windows were drawn; every precaution had been taken against a repetition of the tragedy at Marseille which ended the life of little Peter's father, the late King Alexander.

The only newspaperman permitted to board the train here was the Associated Press correspondent. To him, Marie of Rumania divulged that her daughter had spent the night in torment with infected teeth which she had had under treatment in Switzerland before she started for Paris only to learn of her husband's assassination.

This pain, she said, was aggravated by the bereaved queen's acute gall bladder trouble which had not yielded to temporary treatment in Paris.

ACCOMPLICES OF MURDERER CONFESS PART

ADMIT THEY SHARED A ROOM WITH PETRUS KALEMEN

PARIS, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Surete Nationale announced today that two terrorist suspects, Yaroslav Novak and Ivan Rajlich, alias Wladislav Benes, had confessed that they had been sent to France on a secret mission by the Yugoslav organization "Poverch" but that they did not know what their mission was.

Rajlich was said by the police to be the man who talked. He is alleged to have told them that he and his friend came to Paris on "blind" orders and were told that they would be met here by others who would give them instructions as to what to do.

The Surete officials said Novak and Rajlich admitted they had shared a hotel room in Paris with Petrus Kalemen, the assassin of King Alexander and Louis Barthou. They said they met Kalemen in Paris.

Rajlich said his false Czechoslovakian passport, which named him "Benes," was delivered to him in Paris by a man he knew only as Sarbot, who spoke Serbian and Croatian.

Novak said his passport also was false and confessed that he got it in Zurich Sept. 28 on the day he crossed the border. It was given him, he said by a stranger called "Little Hans."

Rajlich confessed, said the Surete, that he and Novak were told that if they got no instructions in Paris to go to Lausanne where they would be met by an agent of the organization.

The Surete said they got off the train by mistake at Thonon on the night following Alexander's assassination at Marseille, otherwise they might have escaped to Switzerland. They were arrested at Thonon.

Neither Rajlich nor Novak appeared to resemble a photograph of Nikmit Nalis, the alleged terrorist agitator whom police are seeking on a tip of the Belgian authorities that Nalis came to France to assassinate Alexander.

Fontamerleau forest still being searched by a posse for a fugitive who escaped grannies, leaving a ransport in the name of Sylvester Mahly.

Inhabitants of that region reported occasional glimpses of a stranger. Egon Kramer, who shared a hotel room at Aix-en-provence with Kalemen, also is sought by police, who believe that at least six members of the revolutionary band came to France, half going to Marseille in an attempt on the King's life there, the other half remaining near Paris for a second attack if the first failed.

Florence Bank Is Burglarized

FLORENCE, Oct. 12 (AP)—The Union State bank of Florence was burglarized of a small amount of silver by three men early today.

Surprised while cutting into the bank safe with an acetylene torch the men fled in a coupe or roadster on the Georgetown road.

Stanton Gardner, cashier, said the loss would not be known definitely until tomorrow, since this was a legal holiday and the vault was protected by a time lock.

The burglars blew a hole in the outer vault apparently with dynamite and then sought to burn a way into the inner safe. The hole in the outer vault was large enough for a small man to enter, but that in the inner safe was no larger than a pencil.

A small amount of silver was in the outer vault and all larger sums were kept in the inner safe.

About 4 a. m. O. B. Atkinson, president of the bank, and Gardner, died today at Seagrade, N. Y., his secretary announced.

Twinkles

Consider the Mexican fire bush—how it grows.

An anonymous Pampa "lover of beauty, and sufferer" delicately writes us to urge burning of all the bushes before the seed is shed. And we do, herewith, having gone and done so personally.

The fire bush is not un-beautiful, it is hardy, it holds the soil well, and is a dust-catcher (shake one some time). But it is as prolific as Johnson grass.

And our correspondent suggests that the boy Scouts clear the vacant lots of weeds. With we add, the help of the fire department, the civic clubs, the study clubs, the Rifle club, all golfers, all bridge players, all who drink whisky, and all re-totallers. It's a good idea.

Uncle Sam has overlooked something. The Blue Eagle has never taken the place of the rooster on the weather vane.

Musings of the moment: This is a great state. Better transportation is surely to be welcomed in order that Texans may better know their state. The State Fair of Texas is attended by very few persons from this area. There were 83,150 persons on the grounds on the first day. . . . Things of general interest to Texans, such as the Centennial, are within reach of as many out-of-state visitors as they are convenient to residents of this state.

Brevitorials

OCTOBER 19 AND 20 will be big days at the West Texas State Teachers college, which will celebrate its silver anniversary. Students, the thousands of ex-students, and friends of the institution will take note of its progress and service through the years. Every community should be interested, since every community has from one to several dozen teachers who received at least a part of their inspiration and training at the school.

THIS WRITER, an ex-student, has seen his attitude undergo several changes in the years since his graduation. When, in the spring of 1925, he walked from the building, diploma in hand, it was with mingled feelings of elation and regret. Very real to him then were the various organizations, athletic teams, literary societies, college paper, school spirit. The keenest regret was in leaving the classmates with whom he had traveled four pleasant but strenuous years.

TODAY, AS WE return to the school, we see a greater institution, new buildings, a fine museum, more paving, a better stadium, a more dignified entrance, and a more completed. But the old classmates are gone, the names of the football players are new to us (excepting the ex-harvesters), and the hundreds of faces of students are bewildering as we look in vain, on the most visits for a familiar face. Yet there is one group which is as familiar and as friendly as ever, and which ties us to the school as does no other factor—the teachers. Those instructors who took us in our eager ignorance and four years later gave us fit to grant us certain honors and at last a diploma are as real now as they were then.

IT IS A PECULIAR fact that the teachers of strongest personality and best scholarship and who save us the most difficulty as a student, now live our profoundest gratitude. And those teachers, in the college and later in university, who exhibited inadequate scholarship—these there were very few—are remembered with the least enthusiasm. Often, when we are confronted with hard problems, the solution is easily reached by asking: "How would Dr. . . . answer this?" or "How would Miss . . . view this question?" As the poet said, we are a part of all we meet and poor indeed is that student whose life has not been directed by the scholarship and personality of great teachers.

'Daddy' Browning Dies of Illness

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Edward West "Daddy" Browning, wealthy real estate operator and husband of the former Frances "Peaches" Brennan, died today at Seagrade, N. Y., his secretary announced.

After a cerebral hemorrhage last June Browning was confined to the hospital for joint diseases in New York City.

I HEARD—

Bill Jarrett, former football coach at St. Augustine, Fla., declaring that he never saw a better developed bunch of football boys than the Shawnee Wolves. They worked out at Harvester field this morning.

More about Bob Watson and his vacation. It seems that Bob was matrimonially inclined when he left Monday. The report has not been verified.

COOPERATION IN OIL PLANS IS PROMISED

TEXAS AND U. S. TO WORK TOGETHER ON PROBLEMS

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.
AUSTIN, Oct. 12 (AP)—Closely related between federal and state governments in efforts to control Texas crude oil production was forecast after conferences in Washington between Col. E. C. Thompson, member of the Texas railroad commission, and national oil code authorities.

The state would continue to concentrate its efforts toward more complete control over intrastate movements of crude. The federal government would concern itself chiefly with keeping a watchful eye on interstate activities to prevent shipment from the state of illegally produced petroleum.

It has been suggested that a federal tender committee be organized to pass on applications for permission to ship oil in interstate commerce from the East Texas field. The state has such a committee which has proved effective in checking sources of oil sought to be moved from the area.

The state and federal committees, it has been proposed, would sit together to expedite action by minimizing duplication of duties.

Federal officials are reported ready to undertake an active campaign immediately. A section of the petroleum code, prohibiting production in excess of state allowances, has been reinstated after it was discovered in a test case, which had reached the supreme court, that it had been inadvertently dropped by President Roosevelt during an executive review of the petroleum code.

An anxious eye is being kept on the East Texas situation by the entire industry. Unofficial reports state the movement of illegal oil as a result of an injunction prohibiting the commission from requiring approved tenders before refined products can be shipped. The proportion that is causing some apprehension.

The legislature acted, somewhat futilely it is thought, to give the commission added powers but the law granting the commission specific authority to prohibit shipment of refined products unless first approved by the state will not become effective until the latter part of December. It failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote in the house to make it operative at once.

In the words of one oil observer, the industry has "the jitters." He attributed the uneasiness directly to what he termed unsettled conditions in East Texas.

HUNGER STRIKE SETTLED
CLARINDA, Iowa.—The hunger strike that Lloyd Jewell, 26, conducted in protest against the Iowa state liquor law is ended. Jewell, in jail on a charge of bringing Missouri liquor into Iowa, said today he broke the strike after 16 days on the advice of friends and lawyers. Doctors ordered warm milk and toast for the first meal, with regular meals to start tomorrow. Officers said they doubted Jewell's claim that he didn't take any food during the strike.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 14.
The Golden Text is: "The Lord is our judge, and the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us" (Isaiah 33:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whether it is easier to say to the sick of palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk" (Matt. 9:1-8).
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sickness, sin, and death, being inharmonious, do not originate in God nor being to His government. His law, rightly understood, destroys them. Jesus furnished proofs of these statements" (page 427).

Joseph Wanderly, pastor.
Sunday Mass, 8 a. m.
A series of lectures by the Rev. Francis J. Ludwig, explaining the teachings and work of the Catholic church, will begin Sunday evening at 8 o'clock and continue daily next week. The speaker is a native Texan and well-known lecturer.
The public is extended a cordial invitation to hear him. No collections will be taken during the series of talks.

Father Runs Amuck, Kills Family of 6
BOULOGNE, France, Oct. 12 (AP)—A crazed father killed his entire family of six today, set fire to the house and then hanged himself in a hay mow.
The man, Alfred Mouchaux, locked the doors of his home, beat his wife to death with a shovel in a bedroom, then went to the kitchen where his five children were at breakfast. He killed four and mortally injured the youngest, Lietto, aged four.

and below, spread out like a crinkled piece of silver paper, lay the moon-washed Lake Tahoe, rimmed with snow peaked mountains and fringed with black pines.

Swiftly they descended to the shore, rolled along the road to turn into an imposing grey-stone entrance and follow the drive to a large rock and log lodge, around which were smaller buildings.
Marks drew up before one of these, already hedged in with parked cars, and Marian sat looking at it. Behind the mountains reared, pine and fir covered to the snow line. Before it lay the lake. For one scant moment it appeared to be a pioneer lodge on the frontier of civilization, fire light flickering on its window panes, smoke curling up from the stone chimney.

Chapter SIX
DIVORCE PARTY
Marian wondered how Silver would take the news. She tried to recall any hint of tragedy during school days, and of Silver's reaction.
There had been the time Silver's imported chow dog had been run over by a truck. Silver had seemed more angry at the driver than concerned over the dog. Marian had been the one to carry the whimpering animal to her room, summon the veterinarian, then accompany the dog to the hospital to stand by while his forelegs were put into casts.

She remembered too that after the casts had been removed and the dog moved about with a grotesque limp, Silver had discarded him with a laugh. Oh, well, he was happier than he had ever been with her. He spent serenely glorious days on the Gordon ranch, chasing cotton tails he could never catch, because his hop so closely resembled their own.

Perhaps marriage, four years of living in unity with another being, had taught her something, softened her. Husbands were more important than pets. Yet, Marian believed one could gauge much of a person's character by their treatment of animals. That made her think of Long and his Hero, the big golden blond German shepherd who rode about with him when she wasn't in the car. She must see he wasn't deprived of his rides. The three of them could ride in that wide seat.

They were circling Sacramento. She put her thoughts aside like so many cards as they landed. A messenger was waiting for her with a wire. From Bowen probably. She hesitated a moment before opening it, then did and read:
"Hendon holding his own. May last through night. Effect reconciliation. Bowen."
Marian handed the wire to Estes, who read it with a queer little snort of disgust. "He must think you're Dan Cupid's twin sister," he remarked.

Marian smiled, but she was relieved that her word to Silver wouldn't be one of death. She relaxed, as they took off again, and when the stewardess came with sandwiches, salad and coffee, found her early evening appetite had returned.
Refreshed, she leaned back, determined to enjoy this trip. Dark blue sky above, a lazy old moon working its way up from the hills below and ahead of them. The far flash of beacons wheeling white rays against the silvered tips of the Sierras, or punctuating the landscape with dots of red and blue.

Sounded down there was her home, its planted acres spread out like a tattered crazy quilt with pines and redwoods for a fringe. She wondered if the family would hear the roar of the ship and remark, "There goes the east bound," never realizing she was in it.
Lulled by the rush of the ship through the night she relaxed, slept.
Estes prodded her into consciousness as they topped the divide, a moment later, pointing out Truckee road and then, long after that, the long straight row of lights which marked Reno's thoroughfare. She was wide awake by the time the ship had taxied into the vast hangar which opened into the reception room.

Henry Marks, the Dispatch correspondent, was waiting at the door, and rushed them through without the ceremony of a greeting.
"Got to step on it," he remarked as he ushered them into his car. "We're taking the Galena Creek road over Mt. Rose. It's a little rough and may be slick on the top side but we couldn't make it in time by any other route. Hang on and pray."

Marian understood what he meant a few minutes later. They had left the Carson highway and were racing below and around the side of the sky. She who had ridden fire trucks, police ambulances and air-planes, gripped the side of the car and hoped the equipage would stay on the road, and she in the car. And then she forgot her fear. They had topped the mountain and below, spread out like a crinkled piece of silver paper, lay the moon-washed Lake Tahoe, rimmed with snow peaked mountains and fringed with black pines.

Swiftly they descended to the shore, rolled along the road to turn into an imposing grey-stone entrance and follow the drive to a large rock and log lodge, around which were smaller buildings.

Marks drew up before one of these, already hedged in with parked cars, and Marian sat looking at it. Behind the mountains reared, pine and fir covered to the snow line. Before it lay the lake. # MEXICO STILL ENGAGED IN WAR AGAINST CATHOLIC EDUCATION

MEXICO, D. F., Oct. 12 (AP)—Despite increasing student and Catholic protests, the government has made known it intends to institute socialistic education in all secondary schools in the country and continue its strict anti-church attitude.

Combined with sporadic uprisings by small groups of armed men, the student and religious agitation is seen by many as presenting a serious problem. But the government apparently feels there is no need as yet for energetic action to check it. Student feeling against making socialistic education compulsory in all schools except universities has been most strenuously exhibited in Monterrey, Zacatecas and in this city. Authorities in Monterrey felt it necessary to close the University of Nuevo Leon, opened only a year ago, after a series of clashes between students and police. Several were injured.

In Zacatecas federal forces and police broke up a meeting of students demonstrating for "liberty of curriculum" and expelled leaders of the movement from the state. Healed university undergraduates stoned the government newspaper, El Nacional, on two successive days. A 48-hour strike called by students in the capital was partly successful. In the face of this opposition, the chamber of deputies has placed with plans for the reform, and placed the selection of the socialistic curriculum in the hands of officials named by the state.

Protesting against the confiscation of the Teresian college in Puebla which will be turned into a school for socialistic education, students of that city aligned themselves with several thousand Catholic women in a 2-day battle with police in which one person was killed and many wounded.

Previously more than 30,000 Catholics participated in a "mute demonstration" here during which they broke through police ranks and marched to the national palace where they stood in silent protest against closing of churches. The agitation among students and Catholics is attributed by General Plutarco E. Calles, former president and so-called "supreme chief of the revolution," to clergy and reactionaries who have been conspiring for more than a year "to make trouble for the revolutionary government."

General Lazaro Cardenas, who will take office as president Dec. 1, has made it evident through his policies and perhaps to make them more stringent. On a current tour of the country he has repeatedly denounced the religion of the Catholic church as "fanaticism." The principal object of his anti-church campaign is "economic," Cardenas said.

Strikingly different conditions must be met by the human system when frigid Winter comes. Diet must conform to new needs, resistance must be built up to more rigorous weather.

P-TA MEETINGS HAVE UNUSUALLY INTERESTING PROGRAMS

FIRE DRILL IS EXCITING END FOR ONE TALK

BUSINESS MEETING IS PART OF PROGRAM AT BAKER

Fire prevention methods taught daily at B. M. Baker school were vividly impressed on the minds of more than 100 mothers who attended the Parent-Teacher association meeting here yesterday afternoon, when the school's fire-bell sounded just after they had heard a talk on "What to Do When the Fire-Bell Rings."

They cleared the building in a little more than two minutes. The 600 pupils at Baker school can clear the building at the same signal in less than 50 seconds. Their first attempt at responding to fire drill was a surprise ending to the fire prevention talk by Principal, A. L. Meek.

Pupils of Miss Martha Wulfman's and Miss Ethelene Murrell's rooms presented short fire prevention plays.

A talk on the state birthday was given by Mrs. W. J. Hurst, who read the greeting from the state congress. An offering of $2.05 was made to the state founders' day fund. A cake symbolizing the twenty-fifth birthday of the Texas congress was served to close the meeting.

Plans were made in the business session for a Halloween carnival Tuesday night, Oct. 30. The annual membership drive was also stressed. It started this month; several new members have already been enrolled, and many others are expected.

Mrs. Cecil Lunsford was named president of the band mothers' club for this year, and called a meeting for Wednesday to complete election of officers. It will be at the school building at 2 p. m. All members of band mothers are expected.

MRS. COOK IS HOSTESS FOR BRIDGE PARTY

Queen of Clubs and Table of Guests Entertained

Mrs. Charles C. Cook was hostess to the Queen of Clubs at her home yesterday, and included a table of special guests with the members.

A black and orange motif suggestive of Halloween was used in the decorations of fall flowers, the table appointments, and the refreshment course.

Mrs. H. D. Keys made high score for club members, Mrs. Siler Faulkner for guests, and Mrs. A. M. Martin cut high.

Mmes. W. A. Bratton, Don Conley, Willard Webb, and Faulkner, and Miss Margaret Buckler were guests of the club. Members present were Mmes. M. A. Graham, Neil McCullough, J. H. Key, Howard Buckingham, I. B. Hughey, Keys, and Martin.

LEFORS NEWS

LEFORS, Oct. 12.—The LeFors Study club met at the school house Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance for the interesting meeting.

LeFors public school teacher were entertained with a party Tuesday evening at the school. Bridge formed the entertainment for the evening.

Mrs. Ada returned Wednesday afternoon from Borger, where she has been visiting a sister who is ill.

Frank Collum, Alice Matteson Betty Duncan, and Lorraine Wilson visited Miss Jewell Collum Sunday in Amarillo. Miss Collum is in the nurse school at St. Anthony's hospital there.

COURT RECORD

VINCENT ACQUITTED

Scott Vincent was given a verdict of acquittal in district court yesterday on a charge of maintaining a common nuisance at Kingsmill; that is, a place where intoxicating liquor was kept and sold. Several ballots were taken by the jury, whose members were as follows: Dick Walker, foreman, N. C. Jordan, Edgar Bailey, J. P. Johnson, C. W. Bowers, J. T. Harrison, F. A. Hukill, J. B. Kelly, D. L. Lunsford, H. B. Shelton, J. E. Moore, H. T. Gillispie.

A member of the jury said the evidence was not sufficient to show that the defendant operated or controlled the place.

Called for trial today was the case against Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Taylor, charged with maintaining a common nuisance inside the city limits of Pampa.

A marriage license has been issued to Jack O'Neal and Paul Ida Wynn.

MRS. BURGE TO HEAD HORACE MANN P-TA

Members vote to sponsor camp fire girls

Mrs. A. L. Burge, vice president, of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association, was elected yesterday as president to fill the vacancy left when Mrs. J. D. Lawson moved to Amarillo.

Mrs. A. C. Green was named vice president in her place.

About 125 adults attended the meeting yesterday. The program opened with group singing led by Miss Loma Brown and accompanied by Miss Frances McCue. George Wilson, Indian baritone, sang two solos, Lonesome Road, and Somewhere a Voice is Calling, accompanied by Raymond Culp.

Camp Fire Girls, under leadership of Mrs. B. Barrett, presented a short program, and in the following business session the association voted to sponsor a troop of Camp Fire Girls here.

A talk on fire prevention was given by Fire Chief Clyde Gold. Tribute to the founders of Texas Parent-Teacher congress was paid by Mrs. V. E. Fatheree. Mrs. George Nix was program leader.

A Halloween carnival planned at an earlier meeting of the finance committee was adopted as a project. It will be at the school building on Oct. 26, with an attraction in each room. Proceeds will be used to purchase chairs for the auditorium, members decided.

Members of the finance committee are Mrs. K. T. May, chairman; W. S. Bennett, Mrs. R. A. Myers, Miss Lella Clifford, and Mrs. T. B. Robinson.

Cake and punch were served from a table beautifully decorated with fall flowers. Mrs. E. R. Smith, hospital chairman, Mrs. Bob Seeds, and Mrs. Bruce Pratt were in charge. A silver offering for the Texas birthday fund was taken.

Mrs. J. L. Lester's room was the pennant for having the largest per cent of parents present.

New Staff Will Direct Younger Methodist Group

New officers and leaders will be in charge of the intermediate department of First Methodist church for Sunday services at 9:45 a. m. and 8:45 p. m. Activities in progress by the department now include a Halloween party for October 26 and preparation of a box for the school thrift room, directed by the social service committee.

The new officers are Maxine Ott, president; Charles Shelton, vice-president; Roy Lee Jones, secretary; Joe Nelson, usher; Virginia Nelson, pianist; Ethel Wilder, song leader; Catherine Culberson, publicity chairman.

Leaders are Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, counselor; Mrs. N. F. Maddux, secretary; Mrs. R. A. Seiby, Mrs. D. E. Whitteberg, Mrs. Roy Tinsley, and Everett Westbrook, teachers.

Standing Committees:

Recreation, Helen Frances Draper, chairman; Mrs. Seiby and Mr. Westbrook, advisors; Betty Bell, Reta Lee Eller, Mildred Pierce, Wayne Coffee, Harry Clay.

Evangelism, Noble Lane, chairman; Mrs. Tinsley and Mrs. Maddux, advisors; Roy Lee Jones, Betty Ann McTaggart, Jack Hesse, Mary Lee Morris, June Beck.

Sunday Program:
The morning program for Sunday has been announced as follows:
Theme, "I Would Be Kind"; prelude, pianist; call to worship, Noble Lane; scripture, Romans 12:1-10, Ellen Horn; prayer, Dorothy Burton; vocal trio, I Would Be True, Ethel Wilder, Leona Hurst, Maxine Ott; talk, Mrs. Hunkapillar; announcements.

The program for the League service Sunday evening has as its theme, Don't Lie. After the piano prelude and two hymns, What a Friend We Have, and Trust and Obedience, the scripture reading will be given by Betty Elkins.

A prayer by Leona Hurst, song by the girls' trio, hymn, Telling the Story of It, by Jack Hesse, talks, quotations, and the closing song are other program numbers.

FUGITIVES

They had almost completed the 12-mile trip to Edinburg when Clifford Hood and Carl Hood, riding in the back seat of Rapp's car, suddenly seized him. F. M. Hood, father of the other two prisoners, was seated beside the officer. He jerked Rapp's pistol from its holster.

Rapp was dragged into the back seat and Clifford Hood took the wheel, driving at high speed until they came to a side road. He turned down this road, reaching an isolated place, stopped the car.

The fugitives gave Rapp the choice of going with them or being "left in the brush." It was made clear that being "left in the brush" meant losing his life. The officer chose to go with his captors.

Rapp was robbed of $15 and the flight was resumed. Traveling along side roads wherever possible and dodging around towns and cities, the Hoods managed to keep pursuers off their trail and crossed the Red river at Preston Bend, 11 miles northwest of Denison, at 7 a. m. yesterday.

They turned right into the river bottoms and spent all day concealed in the brush. Much of the time in hiding was spent deliberating what should be done with Rapp, but finally they decided to allow him to go free.

"We are doing this to make the case lighter against us if we are caught," the elder Hood told the officer.

Rapp said the Hoods fully realized what they were doing in carrying him across a state line in violation of the federal kidnapping law, but they expressed preference for a federal prison, if they should be captured, rather than go to the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville.

F. M. Hood said he would rather die than go back to the Texas penitentiary. He and Clifford had served time in prison for burglary, but had been paroled. They had been sentenced to the county jail.

Carl Hood was arrested at McAllen and charged with burglary for the theft of firearms from a house. His father and brother were picked up for investigation.

The Hoods waited until dark last night before driving back to the highway and releasing Rapp. They let the air out of the tires on his car to delay his reaching a town and putting pursuers on his trail. Rapp said they disappeared in the river bottoms, confident that if they could get two or three hours start they would be able to evade capture.

Rapp pumped up his tires, with the aid of a man living a short distance down the road, and drove into Denison. He spent the night here and planned to return to his McAllen home today.

In describing the wild drive of more than 600 miles across Texas, Rapp said his captors did not bother to tie or gag him. They kept him covered with his pistol, however, and gave him to understand he would be shot if he tried to escape.

From the Edinburg area, they headed west to near Laredo, then angled back south of San Antonio to Seguin. Near San Antonio they stripped license plates from a car they found parked beside the road and fastened the plates over those carried on the officer's car.

At various wayside filling stations they replenished their supply of gasoline and oil, paying for it with the money stolen from Rapp.

From Seguin, they traveled by way of San Marcos, Austin, Waco, and Fort Worth, but avoided going thru these cities.

Members Leave For Music Club District Meeting

Mrs. Philip Wolfe and Mrs. Frances Sturgeon left this morning to attend the annual convention of the district federated music clubs at Plainview today and tomorrow. Mrs. Wolfe is chairman of choral music in the district, and will direct choruses there.

She is alternate and Mrs. Sturgeon delegate from the Texas district club here. A Treble Clef chorus, directed by Mrs. A. N. Dilley, also planned to attend a part of the convention program and compete in the choral contest.

Troop Officers Named By Girls

Patrol leaders and officers were elected here by the Scouts troop, the Cactus troop, when patrol divisions were made in a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Jane Covey was chosen troop scribe, Mildred Durham and Virginia Nelson patrol leaders. The patrol names chosen were Tejas and Yucca.

The meeting was in Miss Madge Rusk's room at junior high school. A hike was planned for next Thursday afternoon after school.

Shower Honoring Recent Bride Is Given Yesterday

A bridal shower was given Mrs. Ommo Behrends yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chris Baer, with Mmes. Harold Baer and Carl Baer as co-hostesses. The honoree was before her marriage last week Miss Jane Green of Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Guests inspected the many gifts, and enjoyed a pleasant hour informally before refreshments were served.

Those present were Mmes. Ommo Behrends, S. W. Kretzmeier, N. M. Kite, Roy Kretzmeier, J. S. Rice, Lyman Jackson, William Jackson, F. J. Hudges, G. W. Lunsford, W. L. Fisher, Steven Oates, Marvin Elder of Borger, Harry Hoare, Louie Behrends, Ernest Crane; also Mary and LeRoy Kretzmeier, Bobby Hoare, and Earnestine Crane. A gift was sent by Mrs. J. P. Yoder.

Good Fire Drill Records Made At Woodrow Wilson

Fire drill records have been made by pupils at Woodrow Wilson school as a part of their observance of national fire prevention week.

Yesterday the children cleared the building in 38 seconds in an open drill, and required only 39 seconds for a block drill, which started with doors of the building closed.

Mother and Father Singer Groups Are Plan of Webb P-TA

Organization of mother and father singer groups was decided upon at a meeting of Webb Parent-Teacher association Tuesday evening.

Fifteen members were present then at the Webb school. The evening was devoted to business, and an entertainment was planned for the near future.

SUBJECTS FOR REVIVAL HOURS ARE ANNOUNCED

Special Services To Be Included on Sunday

"Birds of a Feather" will be the subject of Hyman J. Appelman, Russian born Jew who is now Texas state evangelist for the Baptist church and speaker in the First Baptist revival here, for this evening.

Saturday night he will preach on "A Called Meeting With God." There will be no Sunday morning service.

The Sunday program includes special services with the regular worship program. A prayer meeting at 9 a. m. will start the day, with everyone invited. Sunday school will convene at 9:45.

The morning sermon subject is "What Must You Do to Be Saved?" At 3 p. m. the evangelist will speak on "Why the Jews Rejected Jesus Christ, why they reject him now, and why I, a Jew, accepted him as my Savior."

A young people's rally at 6:15 p. m. will be addressed by the visiting preacher.

Services each night this week were well attended. Morning meetings at 10 o'clock have brought together many for prayer and Bible study. The morning hours are devoted to discussions of what Baptists believe and teach about baptism with the holy ghost, speaking with tongues, and holiness.

George Wilson, Sioux Indian song leader, is directing a large choir, stirring congregational songs, and presenting solos.

Members are being added to the church at each service. The Rev. C. B. Lancaster, pastor, reports.

MEMBERS VOTE TO SPONSOR CAMP FIRE GIRLS

A talk on fire prevention was given by Fire Chief Clyde Gold. Tribute to the founders of Texas Parent-Teacher congress was paid by Mrs. V. E. Fatheree. Mrs. George Nix was program leader.

A Halloween carnival planned at an earlier meeting of the finance committee was adopted as a project. It will be at the school building on Oct. 26, with an attraction in each room. Proceeds will be used to purchase chairs for the auditorium, members decided.

Church To Give Program Tonight At Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN, Oct. 12.—The White Deer band under the direction of Professor Armstrong will have the feature part of a program to be given by the Community church at the new school auditorium Friday evening October 12.

White Deer boasts one of the best school bands in this part of the state, and the people of the Skellytown community are looking forward to their coming here. The event will be of special interest at this time as a band is in process of organization here.

Other interesting features on the Friday night program will be a unique series of pantomime and some mystifying stunts by Jasper, the Houdini of the Panhandle. In connection with the program the ladies of the Community church will serve cats. The proceeds will go into the parsonage building fund.

Members Leave For Music Club District Meeting

Mrs. Philip Wolfe and Mrs. Frances Sturgeon left this morning to attend the annual convention of the district federated music clubs at Plainview today and tomorrow. Mrs. Wolfe is chairman of choral music in the district, and will direct choruses there.

GUESTS SPEAK YESTERDAY TO HOUSTON UNIT

Three guest speakers with three topics of vital interest presented the program for Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the school building. Fire prevention, school health, and state founders day were the subjects.

Fire Chief Clyde Gold reviewed the low fire loss in Pampa in recent years, and attributed it largely to the emphasis placed in schools on fire prevention and safety measures. He urged cooperation of parents to carry out the methods learned by their children.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher brought greetings of the state Parent-Teacher congress and reminded members of its 25th anniversary this month. She asked a rededication to principles set by the founders, who stressed child study because children are the greatest asset of the state.

Miss Llewellyn Shelby, school health director, outlined health objectives of the system and spoke especially of common colds, the most prevalent disease among pupils.

Colds should be taken seriously, she said, and children kept at home until the disease is under control to prevent spreading the infection.

Principal A. L. Patrick explained a proposed state law that would limit the revenue of schools, and urged that Parent-Teacher association members vote against it since it would cripple school assets.

Mrs. J. W. Garman reported on the last city Parent-Teacher council session, where needs of the school thrift room were especially stressed.

Plans were made for a chili supper soon, and it was announced that the executive board will entertain room mothers next Thursday from 3 to 6 o'clock. The attendance award was made to Miss Wilma Chapman's room, represented by the most mothers present.

Entertainment on the program included three songs, The Kite, Slumber Song, and Echo Song, by a girls chorus directed by Miss Estelline Harris; and a sextette, Beautiful Blue Danube, with Marjory McColm as accompanist.

LEFORS NEWS

LEFORS, Oct. 12.—The LeFors Study club met at the school house Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance for the interesting meeting.

LeFors public school teacher were entertained with a party Tuesday evening at the school. Bridge formed the entertainment for the evening.

Mrs. Ada returned Wednesday afternoon from Borger, where she has been visiting a sister who is ill.

Frank Collum, Alice Matteson Betty Duncan, and Lorraine Wilson visited Miss Jewell Collum Sunday in Amarillo. Miss Collum is in the nurse school at St. Anthony's hospital there.

Members Leave For Music Club District Meeting

Mrs. Philip Wolfe and Mrs. Frances Sturgeon left this morning to attend the annual convention of the district federated music clubs at Plainview today and tomorrow. Mrs. Wolfe is chairman of choral music in the district, and will direct choruses there.

She is alternate and Mrs. Sturgeon delegate from the Texas district club here. A Treble Clef chorus, directed by Mrs. A. N. Dilley, also planned to attend a part of the convention program and compete in the choral contest.

Rebekah Club Has Meeting and Plans For Bazaar Soon

The Rebekah club met with Mrs. W. J. Brown Tuesday, with Mrs. Cora Baer as leader and Mrs. Emory Noblett acting as secretary.

Plans were made for a bazaar at the next meeting date, early in November. Sandwiches and cocoa were served during a social hour.

Present were Mmes. A. J. Castka, Paul Brandeberg, G. C. Saunders, C. R. Followell, Mary C. Horner, Carl Baer, May Fessy, Chris Baer, G. T. Bunch, Opal Cooke of McLean, Pat Hickman, Noblett, Owen Young, Hall, Winifred Roberts, Park Brown, Joe Brown.

Mrs. Chris Baer is to be the next hostess.

Birth Party Is Given for Kathryn Oliver This Week

Kathryn Oliver was entertained with a party Thursday evening at the home of her Scouts troop, Mrs. C. T. Oliver, on her tenth birthday. After games, refreshments were served.

Guests were Norma Lee Lane, Winnie Jean McKenzie, Margie Williams, Genevieve Hill, Virginia Lee Walberg, Antoinette Lee, Ellen Lee, Peggy Webb, Rachel Hollaman, Inez Shaw, Josephine Kincheole, Emma Jean and Richard Reed, Anita Oliver, and Mrs. Hill.

Good Fire Drill Records Made At Woodrow Wilson

Fire drill records have been made by pupils at Woodrow Wilson school as a part of their observance of national fire prevention week.

Yesterday the children cleared the building in 38 seconds in an open drill, and required only 39 seconds for a block drill, which started with doors of the building closed.

LECTURE SERIES OPENS SUNDAY AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

A series of explanatory lectures on teachings and methods of the Catholic church will begin Sunday evening at Holy Souls church here. The Rev. Francis J. Ledwig, nationally known lecturer, will be the speaker.

Everyone is invited to the services at 8 o'clock each evening. No collections will be taken.

Subjects for each day of the week, beginning Sunday, are announced as follows: Who Is a Loyal American, Am I My Brother's Keeper? The Church and the Bible, The Truth About Confession, The Real Presence, The Sacraments, Which Is the True Church?

The lectures aim to clear misunderstandings regarding the Catholic church, without attacking or criticizing any other church or organization.

Sorority Chapter To Open Season

Opening a new season, the Beta Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national women's educational sorority which was formed here last spring, will have a luncheon at the Schneider hotel Saturday at 1 o'clock.

Most members of the local chapter are residents of Pampa, but several women from nearby towns are also included and are expected to be present for the luncheon.

Church To Give Program Tonight At Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN, Oct. 12.—The White Deer band under the direction of Professor Armstrong will have the feature part of a program to be given by the Community church at the new school auditorium Friday evening October 12.

White Deer boasts one of the best school bands in this part of the state, and the people of the Skellytown community are looking forward to their coming here. The event will be of special interest at this time as a band is in process of organization here.

Other interesting features on the Friday night program will be a unique series of pantomime and some mystifying stunts by Jasper, the Houdini of the Panhandle. In connection with the program the ladies of the Community church will serve cats. The proceeds will go into the parsonage building fund.

PROJECTS FOR YEAR STARTED IN WILSON UNIT

An evening meeting with an educational program was planned for the next event of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association, Nov. 6 was the date announced at the regular session yesterday afternoon at the school building.

Another meeting early in November is to be an old fashioned box supper as a benefit for the association.

Announcement was made that Mrs. P. O. Anderson will open a lunch room for school children in her home Monday, to serve temporarily until the school can start operating its own cafeteria. The cafeteria project is an important one for the Woodrow Wilson association this year.

Observing founders' day, a talk was given on the organization and history of the Texas Parent-Teacher congress by Mrs. Claude Lard, city council president here.

Mrs. T. F. Morton gave two readings, and the school Kid band played three numbers, with specialties by Gene Barber, Frankie Yates, Loyce Lane, and Jean Lively. A reading was given by Lorraine Murphy.

The program opened with the association song and the Lord's prayer in union.

SHAWNEE FANS CONFIDENT WOLVES WILL BEAT PAMPA AGAIN TONIGHT

CLOSE BATTLE IS PREDICTED ALTHOUGH PAMPANS WILL BE OUTWEIGHED SEVERAL POUNDS

FANNING WILL BE OUT OF GAME; LOCALS WILL BE FIGHTING TO AVENGE DEFEAT OF LAST YEAR; BIG CROWD EXPECTED

WHAT—More football.
WHEN—Tonight at 8 o'clock.
WHERE—Harvester field.
WHO—Pampa Harvesters versus Shawnee Wolves.
ADMISSION—Adults 75 cents, students 25 cents. Tickets on sale at Pampa Drug No. 1 or at gate.
OFFICIALS—Referee, Hicks (Baylor); umpire, Barrett (Georgia Tech); headlinesman, Walstead (SMU); field judge, Dennard Trinity.

Probable starting lineups with comparative weights:

Pampa—	Wt.	Pos.	Shawnee	Wt.
Owens	160	LE	Jones	148
Noblett	160	LT	Williams	190
Smith	158	LG	Moats	165
Haner	167	C	Rhynie	190
Parks	152	RG	Stephens	160
Green	200	RT	Deathridge	170
Mumford	165	RE	Hunter	160
Hamilton	145	QB	Perry	160
Dunaway	144	LH	Corgan	150
Mackie	185	RH	Reynolds	165
Nash	152	FB	Gentry	170

Sharing and snapping and living up to their name, a pack of husky Wolves from Shawnee, Okla., arrived in Pampa this morning primed to defeat the Pampa Harvesters tonight. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

Shawnee last year downed the Harvesters in their home lair 7 to 0, and hope to repeat the medicine at Harvester field. They looked big enough to accomplish the feat, but size apparently doesn't mean much to the scrapping Harvesters. Last week the green and gold were out-weighted but defeated North Side of Fort Worth 22 to 0.

The Wolves will provide much tougher opposition than any team previously faced this season, with the exception of the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City. The Wolves' attack has been effectively stopped only once this season. Seminole was the team to hold Shawnee to a scoreless tie. The Wolves got off to a great start with a 41 to 0 win in St. Louis. Then came the terrific battle with Seminole and a 13 to 12 loss to McAlester with two of the Shawnee three year lettermen on the bench with injuries.

The Wolves will be at full strength tonight. The two injured stars have completely recovered. They worked out with the squad all week as the press and ground attack was perfected. Perry and Corgan race the ends with Gentry, hure fullback, doing the line plunging. Johnson does most of the blocking and occasionally carries the ball. Jones and Hunter are a pair of pass snatching ends.

The Harvester line will be out-weighted a total of 21 pounds and the backfield a total of 23 pounds. The Harvester backfield will weigh 16 pounds less than last week with Nash taking the place of the ineligible Fanning at fullback.

After drills this week confined mostly to the study of blocking, tackling and new plays, the Harvesters are expected to provide a smoother offense tonight. Defensive work was not forgotten in the preparation for the big Wolves. Only two light scrimmage sessions were conducted because of minor injuries to several of the first string players. Coaches spent much of their time with second string players, preparing them for active service.

RICE-MUSTANG BATTLE HOLDS BIG INTEREST

OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS WILL PLAY AT DALLAS

By BILL PARKER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

The rigid Southwest conference football front will be blasted with a touchdown bombardment tomorrow when a schedule of two conference championship and three inter-conference games are played.

Southern Methodist university gridsters embark today for Houston and their combat tomorrow against the Rice Owls. This game, first 1934 conference game for both teams, is the center of interest.

After a stiff practice yesterday, Coach Morley Jennings put his Baylor Bears aboard a train bound for Little Rock where the Bruins will engage the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, the uncrowned 1933 conference champions.

A squad of 30 Texas A. and M. Aggies left College Station today for Beaumont where tomorrow they will play the Centenary college Gents.

Coach Dutch Meyer headed a squad of 27 Texas Christian Froggies to Tulsa for tomorrow's game against the Tulsa University Golden Hurricane.

Ambitious to win the conference flag, Southern Methodist and Rice promise a terrific battle. The Mustangs proved their strength last week by holding Louisiana State to a 14 to 14 tie. A well developed assortment of passes and Robert Wilson's running attack will feature the Mustangs offense.

Victorious last week over Purdue the Owls have their power-house backs, Bill Wallace and Jim McCauley ready to splinter the Mustang line.

The Owls are favored but the difference is only a shade. One of the largest crowds to ever see a football game in Houston is expected.

Having started their conference campaign last week with a 24 to 10 triumph over Texas Christian, the University of Arkansas huskies are set for a tough game against Baylor, even though Baylor lost last week to Texas Tech. Coach Fred Thomson and 33 players left today for Little Rock to battle the invasion of the Bears in what they hope will be their second consecutive conference victory. Arkansas is out to stop Russell and Pearce, Baylor's two scoring stars. Arkansas will depend on LeForge, C. Bueker, Jordan and Jeffers to crack the Baylor line.

En route to Dallas, the Oklahoma Sooners planned a stopover and workout today at Denton. Coach Hardage freed his Sooners through a hard scrimmage yesterday and will taper off with a light drill today. Hardage will combat the Longhorns with 14 backs, six ends, three centers, nine guards and eight tackles.

Oklahoma whipped Texas last year 24 to 0.

PITTSBURGH FAVORED TO WIN FROM TROJAN TEAM

PROGNOSTICATOR PICKS NOTRE DAME OVER PURDUE

By HERBERT W. BARKER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Donning iron helmets for protective purposes and operating on the theory that the best defense is a strong offense, football prognosticators plunged anew into their weekly task today.

Utterly disregarding the explosions of last week, here's how the slate for today and tomorrow shapes up so far as can be discerned from this neutral corner.

Pitt-Southern California—The Panther, finally gets a shot at Howard Jones' men of Troy in his own backyard. If Jock Sutherland's huskies don't get revenge for those Rose Bowl whappings of 1930 and 1933 it won't be because they didn't try. Southern California, soundly whipped by Washington State, will present a new lineup that may prove dangerous but the betting nevertheless is on Pitt.

Purdue-Notre Dame—Both were beaten in their debuts last week. Purdue will have Duane Parvis and Jim Carter this week and the Bollinger attack should not stall so frequently as it did against Rice. Strictly on a hunch, though, this particular guesser leans in the general direction of Notre Dame.

Ohio State-Illinois—Perhaps as close a ball game as the card offers, but this ball goes to the Buckeyes, if they can find the answer to Jack Boyon's passing.

Navy-Maryland—Another Tom Hamilton's Sailors but it may be close.

Yale-Penn—Both beaten last week but the Elis showed more against Cornell than Penn did against Ursinus. A tie for Yale.

Stanford-Northwestern—This looks like Stanford's year.

Georgia Tech-Duke—The Engineers ruined Duke's perfect record last year and probably will pay for it tomorrow.

Southern Methodist-Rice—Both strong, both tied Louisiana State, leaving the would-be prognosticator in an ever more embarrassing spot than usual. If it's not the loss of the coin says Southern Methodist.

Cornell-Syracuse—Cornell isn't as bad as the defeat by Richmond indicated but Syracuse's veterans get the call.

Army-Drake—Well, it's a nice ride to West Point.

Oregon-Washington—They're still talking about Oregon's rout of U. C. L. A. but Jimmy Phelan's boys may be too tough.

Temple-Tulane—There's scoring power to burn in Pop Warner's Temple eleven and the Owls are favored.

Florida-Tulane—The Green Wave of Tallahassee.

Michigan State-Carnegie—Carnegie isn't on hand with its full bag of tricks but State looks much stronger.

Michigan-Chicago—Reaching in to the pet fedora, and the answer is "Michigan."

Oklahoma-Texas—It should be wiser to skip this one but disregarding the consequences, Texas after a brisk battle.

Harvard-Brown—There's considerable doubt whether Harvard is ready for this one.

Georgia-North Carolina—Despite the close call with Furman, a ball for Georgia.

Texas A. and M.-Centenary—The Gentlemen of Centenary get the call.

Iowa-Nebraska—The Cornhuskers are favored to win, but Nebraska is a tough nut to crack.

West Virginia-Washington & Lee—Possible tie material here; otherwise, West Virginia.

Columbia-Virginia Military—The Blue Devils' lead in this one is striking.

Mississippi-Tennessee—Tennessee the choice.

Iowa-State-Missouri—Can this be the end of Missouri's long "dry" spell?

Manhattan-Georgetown—Probably close but Manhattan looks good.

Frierson-Williams-Fritz Crisler has enough players to take on all of the "little three" the same afternoon.

Wisconsin-South Dakota State—Clayton's Badgers, of course.

Auburn-Louisiana State—L. S. U. should get past its obsession for ties in this one.

Kentucky-Clemson—Kentucky is improving rapidly and should win.

Vanderbilt-Ginnel—A breathing spell for Vanderbilt.

New York-West Virginia Wesleyan—N. Y. U. indicated choice despite the Dobacs' 3-0 victory last year.

Alabama-Mississippi State—Alabama.

North Carolina State-South Carolina—Unless Hank Anderson has repaired the Wolfpack's defensive gaps, this vote goes to South Carolina.

Colgate-St. Bonaventure—The Red Raiders roll on.

Dartmouth-Maine—Likewise Dartmouth.

Holy Cross-Catholic—And another one.

Tulsa-Texas Christian—Tulsa picked in a close one.

Baylor-Arkansas—Arkansas' Razorbacks should win comfortably.

Utah-Brighton Young—One more for the Utes.

Friday Games
 Fordham-Boston College—Jimmy Crowley's Fordham Rams are plenty tough.
 Bucknell-Duquesne—The Dukes, barring accidents.
 Detroit-Washington & Jefferson

Phillips 66

GASOLINES ARE different, TOO!

That's why Phillips 66 is the "100% custom-tailored gasoline."

It starts cold motors with split second speed. Needs less choke and hence delivers more miles per gallon. Reduces vibration and increases power. Cuts down noise and steps up speed. And it simply can't be beat for acceleration by any other gas even at a higher price.

These are the results you actually feel in your car, results that prove there is a difference. Get the money-saving facts for yourself by getting a trial tankful at any Orange and Black 66 Shell.

Fresh, Clean, Tamper-Proof Phillips 66 MOTOR OIL In Cans... Refinery-Sealed 30¢.

IF YOU want to buy gasoline CHEAP, it all means get Phillips UNIQUE.

It is a good gas at a cut price... an excellent value because it more than meets U. S. Government specifications for Motor Grade gasoline. In every way it is equal or superior to other motor fuels sold at a similar cut price.

But if you want the MOST ECONOMICAL gasoline, we frankly do not recommend this cut-price grade. We sincerely say that you will save more money and get more pleasure out of motoring with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

It contains Lead Tetraethyl to give it the highest possible anti-knock at its price. Its high test rating (gravity) is always at the highest point possible under our process of CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, which matches Phillips 66 to your location and weather.

Because Phillips originated this pre-adjustment of gasoline to climate at the refinery, and has been doing it for a longer time; our facilities and experience in this respect are greater than those of other refiners.

OCTOBER GRAVITY (or high-test rating) 65.8°... ANTI-KNOCK RATING 70 OCTANE

Phill-up with Phillips for GREATER MILEAGE

Buffets to Meet Cadets on Road—Outcome Puzzling

CANYON, Oct. 12.—Although the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes came through in grand style to defeat the highly-touted Texas School of Mines team 20 to 6, Coach Baggett and Cox are working Captain Walker and company hard to prevent any let-down when the Buffs journey to Roswell Saturday for their first road trip of the season.

Now that the Buffaloes have started clicking, Coach Baggett will take some of the time which has lately been all taken up by blocking and tackling and put it on the execution of plays. However the fundamentals will receive their share of the practice period.

Baggett is an advocate of the Rochue system of football and that system calls for exact timing and precision in the execution of plays. This week Baggett will attempt to add polish and finesse to the Buff offense.

Against a husky, powerful bunch of Miners from El Paso, the Buff offense worked smoothly enough to bring them a 20 to 6 victory, but several times just one man failing to carry out his assignment prevented a touchdown. This week Baggett and Cox will work for the exact timing which a well balanced offense requires.

An aerial offense is also receiving attention this week. Against the Miners the only two passes which the Buffs tossed were good for touchdowns. Against the Cadets of New Mexico Military Institute, the Buffaloes intend to throw a good many more passes, anticipating the same results. Many of the passes of the Buffs are deceptive in that they start like running plays or spinners, etc. It was this deception that led to the downfall of the Miners.

Captain Brown of the Institute has only four lettermen back, but he has twelve squadmen from last year's team which did not lose a game and several newcomers are beating the veterans out of their positions.

Captain Brown has three men in his forward wall who scale 200 pounds or over. Grandevie, right tackle, weighs 225, while Green, a guard and Allison, the other tackle, both weigh 200 pounds even. Bragaw, a guard who weighs 220 pounds, will probably see lots of service in the game.

The Presidents seem due for a beating.

Kansas State-Marquette—A slight edge for Marquette.

Bucknell-Duquesne—The Dukes, barring accidents.

TIGER MAN TO MEET CYCLONE TUESDAY NIGHT

TUFFY McMULLEN AND ERNIE ARTHUR IN SEMI-FINAL

More newcomers will appear on the Pampa mat Tuesday night when another big wrestling card will be presented. Headlining the card will be Bud Edwards, known throughout the wrestling world as the Nebraska Tiger man, and Cyclone Mackey, Amarillo veteran, who will wrestle best two out of three falls in the main event.

A new face will also be seen in the semi-final when Tuffy McMullen, East Texas terror, meets Ernie Arthur, French-Canadian lumberjack. The preliminary will bring a couple of good freshmen together in Pat Garrison, Pampa, and Eddie O'Shea, Fort Worth.

Edwards has been making things uncomfortable for everyone in El Paso the past few weeks and is now stretching his conquest into the Panhandle. He will be making his first appearance in this section when he comes to Pampa to meet the Amarillo Cyclone. Information filtering into this section would make one believe that Edwards is tougher than most of the grapplers to appear here this year.

The Nebraska man will be up against a tough customer in Mackey, who doesn't mind whether they come rough and tough or nice and scientific. The Amarillo veteran can take 'em coming or going in any style or form as he has already demonstrated to Pampa wrestling audiences.

Everyone knows Tuffy McMullen as a two-fisted mauler who delights in tough competition. He has terrorized East Texas for years and is now coming to the west to continue his conquest of the tough boys. Arthur would rather have the going rough and will likely get his wish Tuesday night.

Two reports are being circulated about the preliminary. One report has it that the two Irishmen, Garrison and O'Shea, will meet with nothing but the best, while the other report has it that the meeting will be nice and scientific.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Financial resources. Scarcely had we gotten away from this tragedy when another state institution, with a bare of trumpets and a million dollars' worth of free advertising was established in our area and began competitive service. Since that time (1928), two other publicly supported colleges have opened their doors in our territory. Then, too, we have been afflicted with the depression, accompanied by a prolonged and disastrous drought, and seconded by wild-eyed proposals to curtail or destroy the one institution that has brought the abundant life to hordes of aspiring youth in West and North Texas.

In spite of these difficulties there has been a steady growth in both the quality and the volume of our service. Practically every community in fifty or more Northwest Texas counties and many communities in other parts of the state and nation have felt the upward pull of your Alma Mater. More than 16,000 of you have here sipped at the fountain of knowledge, and through you multiplied other thousands have gained new strength. It is not too much to say that The West Texas State Teachers college has held high the torch of enlightenment and has kept burning brightly by its side the pure, white flame of Christian idealism for this quarter of a century. It is, therefore, fitting that you and she should come together to frisks, vegetables, poultry, and severally we may continue and improve our service to the stricken country. Hence, with all the warmth of my heart, and on behalf of the faculty and student body, I extend to all Exes, wherever they may be, or whatever their condition, a cordial invitation to come home. A great program and a great welcome await you.

Food Store Opens On South Cuyler

The Consumers Market, operated by Harold Rothschild and George Muller, is announcing its opening at 123 South Cuyler street. A complete line of fruits, vegetables, poultry, and fish will be handled.

The Consumers Market was operated for some time about two years ago in the same block at another location. The managers of the new store were formerly with Baum's food store.

UNEMPLOYED HOLD KEY TO INDUSTRIAL JAM

An administration that came into office to the tune of a nation-wide banking collapse and the almost complete stagnation of trade and industry, is being forced by the irresistible logic of circumstances to discover in unemployment the key log of the entire jam.

The banks have been put on their feet, and trade and industry are being stimulated; but 8,000,000 unemployed men can cast a longer shadow than closed banks and unbalanced profit ledgers, and if their condition cannot be improved the improvements that are made in other quarters are not likely to be permanent.

It is this factor in the situation which is more and more coming to occupy the center of the administration's attention. It is reflected in the president's recent assertion that he "will not accept as a necessary condition of our future a permanent army of unemployed," and it bids fair to give the administration an extraordinarily complex problem.

It is interesting to analyze the unemployment army. A few months ago Isador Lubin, U. S. commissioner of labor statistics, made such an analysis. He found that factories, making consumers' goods—food, clothing, luxuries, shoes, and so on—are now employing only 400,000 fewer persons than they employed in 1929. The durable goods industries—those which produce things used in the making of other things—are, on the other hand, now employing 1,500,000 fewer persons than they employed in 1929.

Employment in the railroad, mining and "service" industries is about 2,000,000 below the 1929 level.

Thus, in these great industrial and business groups, a complete return to the 1929 level would result in re-employment of only 4,000,000 men. And more than twice that number, by the most conservative figures, are now idle!

Where do we turn, then? Most of the remaining jobless, says Mr. Lubin, originally worked in building construction, on the farms, and in professional and domestic service. The new housing program may restore jobs to those in the first group; improvement in the farm situation is the key to the second group; and only a general, all-around business revival will take care of the third.

Analyzed in this way, it is obvious that the unemployment problem is far from simple. No one program, by itself, will come close to solving it. There must be a broad attack on many fronts.

The Milwaukee brewing company that has chosen its May Queen for next year made a mistake. She'll be engaged in her film contract by that time.

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON.—While attacks on the Bankhead cotton curtailment law are less severe than they have been, opinion here is that the act still is in for some stormy weather.

Assurances by the federal government that steps will be taken to remove inequalities affecting the small cotton producers particularly have eased the situation somewhat, but it remains to be seen whether the government will be able to satisfy all.

The situation is this: Under the Bankhead law cotton production is limited to 10,465,000 bales. Ninety per cent of this total production is classified as the regular allotment while the remaining 10 per cent is held in reserve to adjust inequalities as they arise.

Under the pressure of complaints, especially from the small producers, orders have gone out to the state committees to redouble efforts to complete the individual allotments of the 90 per cent that the reserve may be utilized as quickly as possible.

Clamor for Modification

Most of the discontent seems to lie in the cotton producing states east of the Mississippi river where production has exceeded allotments. Faced with the possibility of having to pay a tax of 5 1/2 cents a pound on all cotton above the quota if they hope to market it, the clamor for either abandonment of the law or drastic modification has been loud and insistent.

On the other hand the Texas legislature, in the foremost cotton producing state, turned thumbs down on a proposed resolution demanding immediate abandonment of the machinery of the Bankhead act.

The principal argument advanced was that Texas cotton farmers are getting today about as much for their cotton as they did last year.

Help for Small Producer

The important question at the moment is: Will the 10 per cent reserve allotment be sufficient to pacify those who are complaining of inequities? Agricultural officials have expressed the opinion it will take care of most of them. Others are frankly skeptical, believing the reserve allotment will be exhausted before the situation can be remedied.

There's a unanimity of opinion that the small producer should be taken care of as quickly and as generously as possible. It is pointed out that he is a victim of a situation which has developed through no fault of his own and which he could not have prevented.

The future of the Bankhead law may hinge on just how successfully the government is able to remedy the situation with which the small producer is now confronted.

Judge Declares Gloria's Friends Are Respectable

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—The court fight for the custody of Gloria Vanderbilt moved sedately through another cloistered session today with no hint of anything sensational in the account of proceedings given out to the press by Justice John F. Carew, presiding over the case.

Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, who is attempting to regain custody of her 10-year-old daughter, Beasley's testimony was concerned with what sort of places he drove Mrs. Vanderbilt and who her escorts were. He said that he took her to restaurants, cabarets, and motion picture theaters, the latter "quite a good deal."

Mrs. Whitney, the child's aunt, is fighting her sister-in-law for custody of the child. Mrs. Vanderbilt charges that Mrs. Whitney "spirited the child away" on September 21.

Whitney "spirited the child away" on September 21. The jurist disclosed today that he had awarded custody of the girl to Mrs. Whitney pending the outcome of the present proceedings. It is customary to make such temporary award to one of the interested parties, he explained. Mrs. Whitney failed to attend the trial today, for the first time. The second witness today was Charles Zaug, Mrs. Vanderbilt's butler. J. A. Gallaher of Amarillo was a Pampa visitor today. Read our Classified columns.

Banish Body Odor This New Odorless Way

Leaves No After-smell

After a bath you want to be clean, feel clean, and smell clean; you don't want to carry with you the odor of a strong-smelling soap that can't keep a secret. It isn't the smell of a soap that gets you clean anyway; it's the lather.

Ordinary toilet soaps don't lather freely enough in this hard water. In fact, often they yield only a sticky soap curd that works down into your pores and dams up stale perspiration instead of removing it. Kirk's Castile, a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, lathers abundantly even in hard, cold water. It goes deep into the pores, mixes with the stale perspiration curds and sets them free. In a twinkling your body is as fresh and clean smelling as a woodland breeze!

"Lathers Instantly in This Hard Water"
—says Bolvidore, Illinois, citizen

Try Kirk's Castile today. Banish body odor the odorless way. Half again larger than the average toilet soaps—an exceptional bargain. Be sure to ask for Kirk's by name.

FIRST STRANDS OF WIRE STILL DOING SERVICE

Barbed Wire Recalls Fence - Cutting War

AMARILLO, Oct. 12. (P)—One of the first strands of barbed wire to whine the knell of open range in the western cow country still stands in the outskirts of Amarillo.

The fence, which was built along the east side of the vast Frying Pan ranch in 1882, escaped fence cutters and has withstood the ravages of sweeping winds, tumble weeds, and the ice of many winters.

For half a century the barbed strands of black wire have hummed to the wind as small ranches and heavy-set pure-breds replaced the open range and lanky longhorns. During that period West Texas changed from a frontier to a place of civilization from a vast empire of cattle and cowboys to a land of industrial and agricultural enterprise.

Barbed wire played a big part in taming the west, the singing strands defining settled boundary lines that once were decided by verbal agreement or powder and lead. But the General Topic: THE CHRISTIAN AND HIS BIBLE.

Scripture Lesson: Acts 8:26-39.

26. But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the same is desert.

27. And he arose and went: and behold, a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who had come to Jerusalem to worship...

28. And he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah.

29. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31. And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me? and he besought Philip to come up and sit with him.

32. Now the passage of the scripture which he was reading was this, He was led as a lamb before his shearer is dumb: So he opened not his mouth.

33. In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: His generation who shall declare? For his life is taken from the earth...

34. And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speakest the prophet 'this' of himself, or of some other?

35. And Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this scripture, preached unto him Jesus.

36. And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water: what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37. And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39. And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing.

Introduction

We find ourselves in the early days of the Christian church. The first step in organization had been taken by the appointment of seven deacons, who were to care for the temporal interests of the church and especially its charities, leaving to the apostles their great work of preaching the gospel. All of the first deacons (Acts 6:3) were "men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom." They were, of course, good executives, and some of them were much more. Stephen, named first in the list, was the first Christian martyr, a preacher of great power and unbounded zeal. Philip, named next, is to be distinguished from Philip the apostle. He is called "Philip the evangelist" (Acts 21:8), and with good reason. When persecution broke out after the death of Stephen, and many of the Christians were driven from Jerusalem, Philip followed his charges northward into Samaria, where he worked miracles, preached Christ, and won many converts, among them being the notable Simon the sorcerer. It was after this that he was sent on the mysterious and blessed errand that we are to study.

Philip and the Angel. v. 26. "But an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip." An "angel" is a "messenger" according to the significance of the Greek word. Philip was doing angelic work, and it is not strange that an angel was sent to direct him further.

"God rewards faithful work with more work. Samaria was a borderland between Jew and Gentile, but in preaching to the eunuch Philip was on entirely Gentile ground. So great a step in advance needed clear command from God to impel it and to justify it."

"Go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza." "Down" because Jerusalem is on high ground, while Gaza is on the coastal plain. Gaza was the most southerly of the five cities which were the capitals of the Philistines. "The same is desert." This was added to the direction in order that Philip might distinguish between the two roads which joined Jerusalem and Gaza.

Philip and the Eunuch. v. 27. "And he arose and went." A long journey of sixty or seventy miles stretched out before him, but Philip undertook it without question or hesitation, a splendid example of prompt obedience. "And behold, a man of Ethiopia." A great country of Egypt, now called Nubia and Abyssinia. "Who had come to Jerusalem to worship." There were many Jews in Egypt. Thus this royal treasurer had become a Jewish proselyte. "He had visited Jerusalem, very likely, in the same way that Luther had visited Rome, thinking that that was the great center—the joy of the whole earth, the spiritual house of God. And it is not at all improbable that, leaving Jerusalem, he was just as disillusioned and just as miserable as Luther was after being at Rome. Now he had left Jerusalem, and was driving down the way back to Ethiopia, and he had turned to the Word of God in his disappointment with the city of God. He was again at the Old Testament Scriptures. And as he was studying the Old Testament Scriptures, the New Testament met him in the person of Philip!"

Rev. Robert F. Horton, D. D. "Philip and the Holy Spirit, v. 29. "And the Spirit said unto Philip, 'Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.' The lines are closing in. The light is breaking on Philip's mind. He begins to see why God has sent him down this desert road. Thus it always is. He learns the truth who follows on to know it."—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D. "Just as, in the curious blossom of a common ground, the insect is guided by the peculiar shape and color of the blossom to the particular spot where it can carry out the higher purposes of the plant, and cannot choose any other path, so Philip was guided to the very place where he should meet the Ethiopian eunuch on his way home from Jerusalem. He was shut up in Providence to that one course."—Rev. Hugh Macmillan, D. D., LL.D., F.R.S.E.

An Honest Inquirer. v. 31. "And he said, How can I, except some one shall guide me?" "In these days of universal Bible study a man is occasionally met with who insists on getting along without 'helps'; the Bible itself is enough for him; commentaries would only hamper and confuse him. But the part of wisdom is to take advantage of every possible assistance in getting at the true meaning of the Scriptures. They are so inexhaustible, that, doing our best, we can only pluck a few flowers from the vast, fragrant field; and the more the better; and if any friend can aid to our store, the blessing of the Lord be upon him."—Rev. David James Burrell, D. D. "And he besought Philip to come up and sit with him." He did not hesitate to make a friend out of the travel-worn stranger, and to admit his own need of instruction. He did not coldly invite him, but eagerly begged him. "Where, among us, are they who are willing to study the Scripture in the spirit of this heathen? Where do we find any who, if they cannot understand a passage, do not quickly tire of going over it again? God does not reveal himself to mere intellectual inquirers, to religious amateurs; those whom he promises to satisfy are they who, like the Ethiopian, are hungry and thirsting for righteousness and truth?"—Rev. Eugene Bersier, D. D.

A Wise Teacher. v. 35. "And Philip opened his mouth." A phrase introducing momentous utterance, see Acts 10:34; Matt. 5:2; here defined by the words, "declared unto him as joyful news of Jesus," i. e., the fulfillment in him of this and other Messianic traits (compare Acts 3:43)—Prof. J. Vernon Bartlett. "And beginning from this scripture. This is the way to start any person on the Christian life: begin with him where you find him, go on from there. Any Bible passage will make a fulcrum with which you can push over into an earnest mind the truth as it is in Christ Jesus. "Preached unto him Jesus." The sorrows of Christ's crucifixion were not the end. "The life which had thus ended in shame had begun again in glory; the cross had led on to the crown. "And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water." "All the while Philip was talking, they had been driving on across the desert; and at last they came to where a stretch of water lay cool, and pleasant, flashing back the glories of the sun."—S. B. Macy. "And the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water: what doth hinder me to be baptized?" "It is evident from this question that Philip had not only preached Jesus as the Christ, but had also spoken of the individual's relation to his kingdom, and among other things of baptism. It also shows that the eunuch had accepted Jesus while Philip had been speaking."—Prof. George H. Gilbert.

Philip Baptized the Eunuch vs. 38, 39. "And they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch." The Lord Chancellor and the humble messenger of the cross became Christian brothers in that hour of true fellowship. "And he baptized him." The rite of baptism, solemnly commanded by our Lord, is the most fitting entrance into the Christian life. It signifies by the water the cleansing from sin through the blood of the Lamb. It is a public witness to our faith. It is the solemn beginning of that separation from the reign of worldly interests and consecration to heavenly interests which marks the true Christian.

"And when they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more." Philip disappeared suddenly, for he would have his work in the power of the Lord and not in his own power. "The incident, is a most inspiring example of the benefits which flow from Bible-reading when the heart is tender and true and the life is quick in obedience.

Ed Dunigan and Gene Green were to return this afternoon from St. Louis, Detroit, New York and other eastern cities. They have been gone three weeks.

conquest of the barbed boundaries was not without a fight. There was a howl of protest when wire came to the cow country and for a time the sound of cutters, winchesters and six-guns brought discord there was legislation, too. It was the opinion of cattlemen that their stock would run into the wire and be cut to pieces. The idea of fencing watering holes and range-land brought a bad taste to the mouth and blood to the eyes. Wire-cutters destroyed the fences and ranchers who had fenced had to post armed guards to ward off the cutters.

Two years after the Frying Pan ranch was fenced the Texas legislature passed a bill providing that no man could use for free range more than 25 head of stock without having at least 10 acres of open range leased for each head of stock.

The bill, which was passed in January, 1884, stated that there were about 30,000,000 acres of public school land unsold and unleased, adding that favored classes were being enriched by its use by unlawful fencing and overstocking. The law was designed, among other things, to correct wholesale fence-cutting that brought actual hostilities in many localities.

Cost of fencing the Frying Pan ranch was slightly over $39,000. Post were secured from the breaks of the Canadian river. The work was done by unwilling cow-punchers who stretched the wire by winding it around the hub of a wagon wheel. Unlike fences of today, the 52-year-old strands were placed one on one side of the post and one on the other. The fence is four strands deep.

Barbed wire came to the Frying Pan soon after the "thorn-like" fencing was invented by J. F. Glidden, DeKalb, Ill., farmer who later bought the Frying Pan. Glidden's patent dated November, 1874. The first two reels of barbed wire were made at Rochelle, Ill. A merchant at Gainesville bought the first wire shipped to Texas. That purchase started a movement that eventually brought an end to the open range.
