Red Refusal Of Proposal Is Forecast

BERKLEY, Calif. — (AP) Secretary of State Acheson challenged Russia today to demonstrate her desire for peace by accepting a new seven-point program to free the world from "destructive tensions and anxieties."

Boiled down, the seven steps Acheson proposed call for an end to Russia's aggressive diplomacy, both in her dealings with satellites and with the western world, and for new moves to conclude peace treaties and to find some solution to the problem of atomic controls.

Bluntly, he predicted Russian refusal of any attempt to settle these points of "greatest difference" between the East and the West.

But he insisted that they "must be identified and sooner or later reconciled if the two systems are to live together, if not with mutual respect, at least in mutual security."

Otherwise, he said, the United States can only continue to resist aggression where it finds it, and to "press ahead with the building of a free world."

Acheson's address — a major statement of American policy — was made in a speech he said to have taken three months to draft — was prepared for delivery at the University of California, in connection with the Conference on International Cooperation for World Economic Development.

These are the points he listed:

1. Join with the West in defining peace terms for Germany, Japan and Austria — without trying to make them satellites — merely refraining from any interference with the new status of the Far East.
2. Withdraw military and police forces from the Soviet satellites and "refrain from using the shadow of that force to keep in power persons or regimes" which do not command popular confidence.
3. Drop the present "policy of obstruction" in the United Nations and help make the U. N. a serious instrument for building international peace and security.
4. Join in seeking "realistic and" (See REIDS, Page 4)

'Big Mo' Men To Face Trial In Grounding

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — General courts martial were ordered today for the commanding officer, the operations officer and the navigator of the Battleship Missouri as a result of the vessel's grounding in Chesapeake Bay, January 17.

The officers to be tried are Capt. William Brown, E. Frost, prof. Fla., the Big Mo's skipper; Comdr. John R. Millett, operations officer, and Lt. Comdr. Frank G. Morris, of New York, navigator.

The courts martial will be convened March 27 at the Norfolk Naval Base. The trials will begin at that time, naval spokesmen said, if the defendants are ready to proceed. All proceedings will be open to the public and the press.

The courts martial were ordered by Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith, commander of the cruiser force of the Atlantic fleet, after a review of the proceedings of the Naval court of inquiry which investigated the grounding.

Smith's action was announced by Adm. William M. Fechteler, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet.

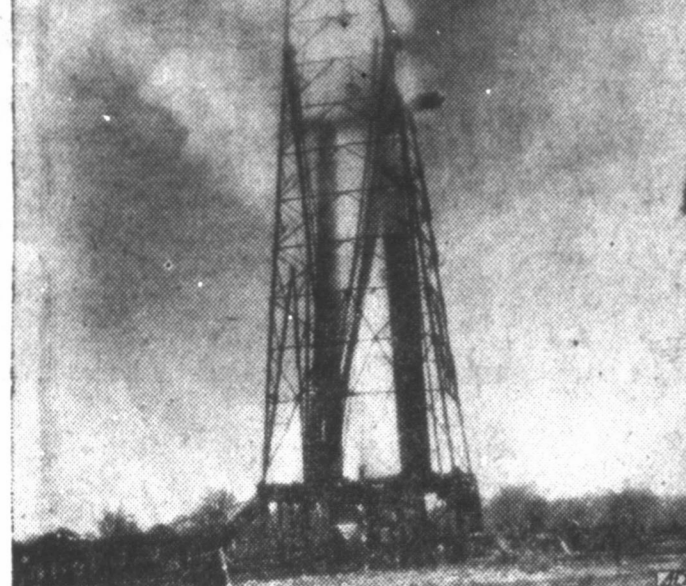

Fechteler said "the formal charges and specifications to be served upon these officers and upon which they will be tried, will not be made public prior to the convening of the respective courts. The individual officers concerned, however, may release the charges and specifications in their respective cases at their own discretion."

Fechteler said Smith did not consider the evidence against Lt. John E. Carr, of Norfolk, Va., combat operations officer of the Missouri, of sufficient gravity to warrant trial by court martial. However, Smith has addressed a letter of reprimand to Carr.

Brown, Millett, Morris and Carr were defendants before the court of inquiry, which heard a half hundred witnesses during 18 days of sessions between February 3 and February 28.

Fechteler said no serious blame was "considered as attached" to Ensign Elwin R. Harris, of Norfolk, Va., the Missouri's assistant navigator, and therefore no disciplinary action was taken in his case.

The Big Mo, the nation's only active battleship, ran aground off Point Comfort while trying to run a secret electronic range. She remained stuck on her sand shoal for 15 days and was finally refloated February 1 on the fourth attempt.

WILDCAT BLOWS OUT—A fine spray of oil and gas is spouting from this wildcat oil well that blew out near Tyler, Texas. A nearby school disbanded classes and police evacuated an area of one square mile, hoping to keep the mist of oil and gas from igniting. The well had been drilled to 8,000 feet.

Decentralization Is Backed by Rogers

Atty. Walter E. Rogers, candidate for the 18th U. S. Congressional seat for Texas, summed up his platform in a four-page statement today, advocating a "return to the American way" of decentralization of power and opposition to proposed legislation that would increase power to any certain group or groups of individuals.

He indicated the Taft-Hartley law needed revision in parts, but did not advocate outright repeal of perpetuation of the law.

"It would be unfair for a person to take a definite stand on a matter unless he clearly understood it," he said pointing to the law. The law is divided into five sub-chapters, 44 sections, and 37 sub-sections, he said, but voiced endorsement of the subsection requiring union officers to sign affidavits showing them to be free of Communist affiliations or beliefs.

Expanding on the law, Rogers added, "If labor and capital are unable to strike a working balance and the government is called upon to strike that balance for them, a law similar to Taft-Hartley is necessary for the protection of the citizens who are not primarily affected by a labor-management dispute, but are directly subjected to privations and hardships from such a dispute."

He said, further, that some sections with which he has dealt in his law practice met with his approval while in others he would recommend changes. These, he said, were isolated cases and do not give a true picture of the (See ROGERS, Page 4)

Alien Arrested In Slaying of Texas Sheriff

PRESIDIO, Texas — (AP) — Jose Villalobos, 24-year-old Mexican national, was arrested today in the slaying of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow of Presidio. Deputy Sheriff Mack Tarwater quoted the man as saying he shot at the sheriff four times when the two had a fight, using the officer's own gun.

The slaying occurred early Sunday morning on a lonely mountain road north of here.

Villalobos was taken into custody 70 miles southwest of here in Mexico and was taken to Ojinaga. He had cuts and bruises on him caused by going through thorns and brush and his shoes were virtually worn out.

The capture was on the Rio Concho and Villalobos was taken (See ALIEN, Page 4)

State Health Chiefs Rapped

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association ended its 73rd annual session here yesterday with sharp criticism of state health officials and illegal horse meat sales.

Laws dealing with the shipment of horse meat "have been wantonly disregarded and shamefully unenforced," the association said in a resolution.

Recently large shipments of horse meat, disguised as choice beef steaks, were seized in Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

"The association vigorously and unqualifiedly condemns the inefficiency of those officials who have, through official negligence or other causes allowed this scandalous situation to develop," the resolution read. "We commend those vigorous and efficient officials who did discover and divulge the disgraceful facts."

The resolution added that "the responsibility for the enforcement of the law (dealing with horse meat) rests with the State Board of Health and with the state health officer. We are emphatically dissatisfied with the official conduct of our state agencies and officials in regard to this law and its lack of enforcement."

The association also recommended that the state legislature enact more effective laws governing the sale of horse meat.

Dallas was selected as the 1951 convention city over a bid from Fort Worth by a vote of 91 to 81.

Ray W. Willoughby of San Angelo was elected president of the association. He succeeds Bryant Edwards of Henrietta.

Jack Roach of Amarillo was elected first vice president of the cattle raisers' association.

Man Hurt When Gasoline Ignites

A porter at Tom Rose Ford Sales and Service, 121 N. Ballard, suffered minor hand burns at 9:40 a. m. today when a car caught fire in the Ford body shop.

George Austin, the porter, was washing an auto engine with gasoline when the blaze occurred. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said.

Firemen were called, but the fire was out when they arrived. Winborne said the wires were burned from the motor and the paint on the hood was scorched.

Three Apartment Buildings Being Built Near Hospital

A Pampa construction firm has announced that it has started work on three apartment buildings, each to contain eight, three and one-half room apartments, north of Highland General Hospital in the Highland Park Addition.

Total cost of the three buildings is expected to be more than $180,000, it was said.

But Hogan, superintendent of the Osborne Construction Company, said construction work on the apartment houses should be completed in about six months.

Located in the 1300 block on Coffee, the apartments are one of the major projects of the Osborne Construction Company at the present time. Each apartment house will be two stories, and valued at an estimated $55,000 Hogan said.

Each unit will have three and one-half efficiency rooms with approximately 740 square feet of floor space.

Sidewalks, driveways, parking areas and laundry houses will be constructed around the apartments. They will be known as the Red Deer, White Deer and Highland apartments at 1326, 1332 and 1334 Coffee, Hogan said.

Jake Osborne is president of the company, and J. K. Neale is vice president. Other Pampa construction jobs of the company at present include remodeling of the temporary headquarters for the First National Bank and residence for Dr. H. H. Hicks.

Meanwhile, the City Engineer's Office this week issued a building permit to Albert Reynolds for the construction of a $35,000 residence.

The seven-room stone house will be built at 1800 N. Russell by Louis Anderson, contractor.

Budget Slash Reported Due

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has tentatively worked out a $1,200,000,000 cut in President Truman's spending proposals for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

The committee has not formally taken final action, but it was learned a "central committee" has recommended the cut.

The committee is working on an omnibus bill embracing items for which Mr. Truman asked $30,328,000,000.

Members of the committee said these have been trimmed to roughly $29,112,000,000.

The president's overall budget requests for the fiscal year starting next July 1 were $42,439,000,000. This included approximately $3,000,000,000 for Marshall Plan foreign aid and $9,000,000,000 in so-called permanent appropriations and trust funds.

These two items are not dealt with in the omnibus bill.

The "central committee" recommendations will be presented to the full committee next Monday. The following week the omnibus bill is scheduled to go before the house.

The appropriations group has recommended no huge cuts in any departmental funds, although a sizeable percentage reduction has been ordered for the so-called "civil functions" of the army engineers. These civil functions include river and harbor and flood control projects.

Father Jailed Here In Unusual Action

County Judge Bruce Parker set a Gray County Court precedent yesterday when he gave C. A. Stanley a 90-day jail sentence for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

This was the first case of its kind in Gray County, according to Charlie Thut, county clerk.

The charge was filed against Stanley as the result of an investigation concerning articles recently stolen from several Miami business firms.

Mrs. Stanley testified that her husband contributed to the delinquency of their children through his drunkenness which usually resulted in the children being chased away from the home, and by this action, caused them to resort to stealing in order to get money to buy food and clothing for themselves and their mother.

Stanley was paralyzed on his right side eleven years ago by a stroke. He has not worked since that time, and has left the job of making a living up to Mrs. Stanley. He is crippled.

The Stanleys have nine children, several of whom are minors.

The case was transferred to Gray County Court at the request of Roberts County Judge Woolly Ponds and Cy Carr, sheriff of Roberts County, who attended the trial and the hearing which preceded it.

Berry Sells Business Here

H. C. Berry, who has been an owner of Berry's Pharmacy, corner Cuyler and Foster, since 1945 has sold his interest in the business to Clyde Oswalt.

Oswalt had been a partner in the firm for about two years. Berry, who had resided in Pampa for about 17 years, is moving to Fort Stockton, Texas, where he has a wholesale oil and gas agency with Phillips Company.

The deal was closed between the two former partners this week. Berry's will be known hereafter as Clyde's Pharmacy. Oswalt said this morning.

Leopold Puts Future in Lap Of Solons

GENEVA — (AP) — Leopold III, exiled king of the Belgians, has decided to leave the decision on his future to Belgium's Parliament, he announced today.

"Whatever the decision which Parliament will take and for which it assumes, in conformity with the constitution, the entire and exclusive responsibility, I'll bow to it," Leopold said in a statement released by his secretary, Jacques Pirenne, at a news conference.

Leopold, exiled from his homeland since the war, won 57.7 percent of the vote in an advisory referendum last Sunday on whether he should return to his throne. Many political leaders in Belgium feel this percentage is far too small for a king, who is supposed to represent unity for his people. Other political factions feel he should be returned.

Premier Gaston Eyskens denied published reports that he had urged Leopold to abdicate.

SHAMROCK PREPARES FOR IRISH FESTIVAL

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Bursting is flying on the streets of Shamrock and green and white decorations are going up throughout the city, in preparation for the "big doings" tomorrow when thousands pay tribute to the memory of St. Patrick, the Irish Patron Saint.

Shamrock is a veritable beehive of activity as the Irish draws near for the gigantic St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Businessmen and women are working feverishly on the many decorative floats which will move down Main Street tomorrow in a panorama of color and artistic design.

Plans are being completed for the Pilot's Sunrise Breakfast which will begin the Irish celebration tomorrow morning.

To add to the color and attractiveness of the pioneer float, the "old-timers" are reported to be digging up costumes they wore in the good old days.

Many comic entries are being planned to add Irish wit and humor to the colorful parade.

Numberous bands, including the McMurry Indian Band from Abilene, will march in holiday style as the 1950 procession makes its way through the downtown section of the Irish City. Also featured will be the Khiva Drum and Bugle Corps of Amarillo, dressed in boots, buckskin chaps, and other Western regalia, topped by their traditional red fezzes.

The color scheme of the entire show will be based on traditional Irish green, including hats, shirts, ties and dresses. Big noses, clay pipes, and luxuriant beards will complete the costumes worn by the Irish citizens honoring the Patron Saint of Old Ireland.

State and national officials will ride through the parade in cars and floats.

A platform will be located in the heart of the business section where District Judge Lewis Goodrich will preside and introduce visiting dignitaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Shamrock will be crowned and the Irish Rose of 1950 will be selected from the bevy of beautiful girls that will make up the group of Colleen's. (See SHAMROCK, Page 4)

Truman Signs Oleo Tax Bill

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
KEY WEST, Fla. — (AP) — President Truman today signed the bill to repeal the federal tax on oleomargarine.

It was Mr. Truman's first action after his arrival here for vacation after a sea voyage from Washington yesterday.

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, said the signing of the bill was done at the "Winter White House." The measure was flown here by courier plane from Washington yesterday.

Under the new law all federal taxes on margarine are wiped out. But it does not interfere in any way with taxes or restrictions placed on oleomargarine by any state government.

Earlier, Mr. Truman, his spirits buoyed by calm seas yesterday and today, was inclined to laugh off the misery of Monday and Tuesday when the presidential yacht Williamsburg unsettled stomachs and made life miserable.

"I lost four pounds," he said of the rough days, "because I couldn't eat." He laughed heartily. Reporters, viewing his bulging waistline, were inclined to be skeptical.

He even indicated he might try a sea trip here again, something Secretary Ross hinted during the height of the rough weather was unlikely.

"Do you think you'll do it again?" reporters asked.

"Yes," he said, "it was a very nice trip. I think everybody enjoyed it."

Even Ross said the "last two days made up for everything."

Child's Care Is Demanded By Bergman

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Ingrid Bergman wants her money back from her ex-husband.

She wants her 12-year-old daughter, too, and "reasonable" support for the child.

The actress' attorneys filed suit yesterday against Dr. Peter Lindstrom, whom she divorced in Mexico Feb. 9, demanding an accounting of personal and community property and custody of their child, Pia.

Miss Bergman, 34, demanded $154,000 (after taxes) which she said she earned in making the movie "Stromboli" for Director Roberto Rossellini on the island of Stromboli in the Mediterranean.

Last Feb. 2 she bore a son in Rome which Rossellini said was his. Their plans to be married have been delayed by legal technicalities in Sweden, Miss Bergman's birthplace.

The actress said Lindstrom, 45, Beverly Hills brain surgeon, has been holding the $154,000 as her American agent. But, she insisted, he has no right to it because it was earned after she left him more than a year ago.

Miss Bergman now is in Italy. Her daughter, Pia, has been in Lindstrom's care since Miss Bergman left to work for Rossellini a year ago. Lindstrom has indicated he will ignore the Mexican divorce and take action in California courts.

BEST SCOUT OF THEM ALL was Daniel Carter Beard, author, artist, outdoorsman and founder of the movement which became the Boy Scouts of America. In dress and spirit, the perfect picture of the old woodsman, "Uncle Dan" Beard brought the pioneer traditions of Daniel Boone into the Twentieth Century and into the lives of millions of American boys. It was in 1905 when Beard, then editor of a recreation magazine, got the idea for a boys' outdoor organization. He formed the "Sons of Daniel Boone," which grew to 150,000 members in five years. In 1910, Beard's "Sons" merged with a British organization headed by Lord Baden-Powell to form the International Boy Scout movement. Today there are two and a quarter million American Boy Scouts.

Elmer Cornpone Finds Mere '10 Percent' Can Be Tricky

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — The frosted door pane bore the "The Celebrity Stable — Celebrities Bought, Sold, Rented and Exchanged."
Inside the office with his feet on his desk sat the famous Broadway agent and celebrity manufacturer, Wheeler. "Ten Percent" Tophop, he said, "I'm tired of being a nobody. I want to be famous."
The door opened and in strode a tall, rawboned youth carrying a straw suitcase.
"I'm Elmer Cornpone from Pea Hollow, Tenn.," he said shyly. "I'm tired of being a nobody. I want to be famous."
"My boy, you have come to the right place," said Wheeler. "The public is crying for new celebrities," said Wheeler, going into his pitch. "To be a well-known celebrity you have to be able to do something special or you have to have something — money."
When Elmer confessed all he had left was $23.45 — including a $10 Confederate bill — Wheeler looked depressed. He asked if there was anything Elmer could do. Young Cornpone scratched his head and finally allowed:
"Well, I can put two needles in my mouth and knit a baby sock in 15 minutes. But everybody in Pea Hollow already knows that."
"But the world doesn't," exclaimed the agent excitedly. "Son, that's a wonderful stunt. You're a natural celebrity."
In the next two weeks Cornpone was the guest star on 15 different programs.
Then he got his own show. Dressed in a pair of satin overalls, he would start knitting the baby sock with the needles in his teeth while a 92-piece band wearing silk hillbilly costumes played in the background. In the finale, as he knitted the toe, Elmer made wisecracks from one side of his mouth and played "Dixie" on a Harmonica in the other side. Elmer endorsed three breakfast

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

HORSE AND BUGGY TO HELICOPTER is the story of the American Red Cross nurse in the Twentieth Century. Through the years since this vital nursing service was founded in 1910, Red Cross nurses have gone on their errands of mercy by whatever form of transportation presented itself. They have traveled on skis and snowshoes, mounted horses, paddled boats, driven "tin lizzies" through mud and snow and very often walked to visit the sick and injured in isolated or disaster-stricken areas. The "horse and buggy nurse" picture was made shortly before World War I. The "helicopter nurse" shot was taken a few weeks ago, when nurse Myrtle Wilson of St. Louis, Mo., went by Coast Guard "copter" to aid flood victims along the St. Francis River in Arkansas.

Town's Citizens to Share Profit on Oil With Unlucky

PLAINVILLE, Ind. — (NEA) — Not everybody in Plainville can drill for oil in his own backyard. But in this boom town, where 16 producing wells have been brought in within the last three months, nearly all 700 citizens will share the profits.

Since the first gusher came in this winter, right in back of the town bank, 15 other drill rigs struck oil within a two-mile radius, and oil has been found at two levels under the town limits.

Indiana law, however, sets a limit of one well to each 20 acres. Even though Plainville got a special ruling that allows a well for each 10 acres within town limits, it left a lot of property owners out of the bonanza.

Postmaster Roy Strang, who owns the vacant lot on which the first well was brought in, decided "some of the folks might not feel so good if they couldn't have a well themselves."

So all the landowners got together before the boom really started and signed an agreement that all owners within a 10-acre well area will share alike, according to the amount of land they have.

"Whether they bring in a gusher or a duster then," Strang explains, "there won't be any hard feelings among neighbors."

Early wells are producing about 200 barrels a day. Every eighth barrel goes to the property owners under lease royalties, and most estimates are that landowners soon will be getting between $4 and $8 a day.

Plainville's citizens are mostly farmers, and oil has brought no great change in the town's quiet tempo.

Charles E. England, president of the Farmers State Bank, thinks the "share alike agreement" will mean better times for some of the town's low income families, however.

Main street is solidly lined these days with like model cars, whose owners are newcomers.

Farmers who stop in at a soda fountain in the evening for ice cream or a milkshake now rub elbows with drillers and company owners; despite the boom, Plainville has remained a "dry" town.

Grocer Morris McWilliams, who calls meetings of the landowners by putting a notice in his store window, says the biggest change he's noticed are the number of strangers.

"Sometimes I pass a man on the street and don't even know him," he observes.

Along with the smell of crude oil in the air, however, there is quiet enthusiasm over the "share alike" idea. And the boom has given Charlie Bennington, the filling station attendant, a new gag to pull on sightseers who drive through town on Sundays.

Whenever they stop for a quart of oil, he shakes his head and explains: "Sorry, we don't have it in quarts any more. Just in barrels, at $2.77 each."

General Motors Has Peak Profit

NEW YORK — (AP) — The General Motors Corporation has announced that its profits had reached a record of $69,434,232 in 1949 and that its payroll had soared to a new peak of $1,440,000,400.

The firm's annual report to its 434,000 stockholders also disclosed that production, sales and tax payments had hit record highs.

The 1949 earnings were equivalent to $14.64 a share of common stock. This compared with the previous high of $8.72 a share in 1948, when profits reached $440,447,724.

ROGERS

entire law." He offered to discuss any particular section of the law a voter may have in mind. Rogers also said that many features of the law would be subject to treatment by the courts for many years, and added it would be "presumptive" on his part to flatly declare it a good law or a bad law.

He voiced strong disapproval of government control of any industry "except on a temporary basis, for the protection of this country or the prevention of distress and privations of its citizens." This was in answer to a question concerning government control of coal mines in the event of continued strikes.

Rogers tabbed President Truman's Civil Rights program as a "gross misnomer" and said, "... individual rights guaranteed under the Constitution, if properly protected by the courts, dismiss any necessity for legislation that would ultimately result in a centralization of power." The candidate declared opposition to FEPC, declaring it "would rob the individual of his freedom to contract under the Constitution."

He voiced his opposition to socialized medicine asserting he "had never found the medical profession to be shirking in duty when I needed their ministrations."

Rogers would neither endorse nor condemn the present farm program calling it "extensive" in scope. He described the farmers as the "backbone of the country" and asserted they needed protection from the "chicanery and artifices of the so-called middle man."

He voiced disapproval of the government's right to tell a farmer how much he could plant, saying that farmers in the Panhandle and other places were "folks of sound discretion who are capable of acting for their own benefit without dictation from the outside."

Rogers strongly favored REA as a sound investment declaring private industry had been afforded the opportunity to meet the needs of rural electrification and had failed to meet those needs.

He viewed telephone co-ops in the same light, saying they were "in order" if private industry fails to meet the needs of farmers and ranchers needing telephone service.

Regional federal projects such as TVA and the Colorado River Authority the candidate saw as an investment toward ultimate defense and protection of the country. He added that a small town and ranching in Texas have been highly benefited by the Colorado River project.

He condemned federal aid to schools for any purpose asserting it would lead to a Washington bureau telling local governments what textbooks should use. He endorsed a veterans' bonus plan, but on the basis of "need and service, and in all cases of death and injury."

Rogers opposed reduction of military expenditures, claiming there are "too many other places for reduction in government costs." He would also fight for whatever sum is necessary for the proper protection of the country and its citizens.

Like the farm program and Tar-Hartley, he called the Hoover Plan too extensive in its entirety, but voiced fear the latter in some instances could lead to "centralization of power and throttle individual freedom."

He refused to single out any government department for reduction, but added "all federal agencies, with few exceptions, are overstuffed."

He declared: "Government should be operated on a sound basis just as private business is operated, because we are paying the bill."

He advocated aid for the needy to the extent that it enabled the individual to eventually shift for himself, but opposed a plan that enabled a man, capable of making his own living, "to live on the efforts of others."

He concluded by saying for that reason he believed the Marshall Plan and ERP to be sound in theory — "it is its administration we must watch."

Longview, Texas, is the southern terminus of the "Big Inch" pipe line extending into Illinois.

effective arrangements for the control of atomic weapons and limitations of armaments in general."

5. Stop using Communist party apparatus to overthrow by subversive means "established governments with which the Soviet government stands in an outward state of friendship and respect."

6. Quit badgering American diplomatic representatives, who are now being "treated as criminals," and branded as "sinister people" with whom all contact is "pregnant with danger."

7. Stop "systematically distorting to their own peoples the picture of the world outside their borders, and of our country in particular."

He assailed Soviet propaganda which he said hammers at the idea of "a capitalist encirclement, of a United States craftily and systematically plotting another world war."

While he argued that agreement on this basis would not be a one-sided bargain, he added: "I fear, however, that I must warn you not to raise your hopes."

"No one who has lived through these post war years can be sanguine about reaching agreements in which reliance can be placed and which will be observed by the Soviet leaders in good faith."

Acheson's address on "tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union" followed a speech yesterday at San Francisco on U. S. policy toward Asia. The secretary plans to return to the capital tomorrow.

by a party headed by Capt. Carlos Chavez of the state Rangers at Ojinaga. Others were two of his rangers, Deputy Sheriff Tarwater and Calvin Darst of the immigration border patrol at Presidio.

The man was tracked to the mountains yesterday and the searching party returned here to get an automobile especially equipped for traveling on such terrain.

Villalobos was captured two miles from the town of Buchillo Parado. He formerly worked with the radio patrol at Chihuahua City, Mexico.

The man told officers the sheriff wanted to see his papers, that he didn't have them and the officer jumped on him. Tarwater quoted the Mexican as saying he grabbed the sheriff's gun during the struggle and fired four times.

Officers said there was another man — this one a United States citizen — with Villalobos, but the Mexican would not talk about that. Tarwater said the two were seen together at the Mexican border shortly before the shooting.

Officers had found Villalobos' pocket book near the scene of the shooting, Tarwater said; and also had discovered a letter the other man had written regarding his own citizenship papers.

Morrow, 43, was shot and left dying on a rugged road leading northward to Marfa—about halfway to the deserted silver and lead mining town of Shasta.

The officers' handcuffs were missing but they were not found on Villalobos.

Shot once through his chest and once alongside the head, Morrow staggered across the road, lay drooped over a wire fence where a pool of blood was found later, then managed to return to his car. Blood stains on the car showed that he pulled himself along it, finally got into the driver's seat and headed for Presidio. But when he had traveled a mile he collapsed and died. The car plunged into a ditch.

The three men were picked up yesterday afternoon shortly after highway patrolmen spotted them at the race track east of town. Officers arrested them after they passed a school bus discharging passengers.

Lewis Elmer Casada, Pampa, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail this morning for driving while intoxicated. Sentence was in county court.

His two companions, Ben Dumas and Charlie Huffine, also of Pampa, were assessed fines of $24 each by D. R. Henry, justice of the peace.

Officers said there was another man — this one a United States citizen — with Villalobos, but the Mexican would not talk about that. Tarwater said the two were seen together at the Mexican border shortly before the shooting.

Officers had found Villalobos' pocket book near the scene of the shooting, Tarwater said; and also had discovered a letter the other man had written regarding his own citizenship papers.

Morrow, 43, was shot and left dying on a rugged road leading northward to Marfa—about halfway to the deserted silver and lead mining town of Shasta.

The officers' handcuffs were missing but they were not found on Villalobos.

Shot once through his chest and once alongside the head, Morrow staggered across the road, lay drooped over a wire fence where a pool of blood was found later, then managed to return to his car. Blood stains on the car showed that he pulled himself along it, finally got into the driver's seat and headed for Presidio. But when he had traveled a mile he collapsed and died. The car plunged into a ditch.

Three Men Fined In County Courts

Lewis Elmer Casada, Pampa, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail this morning for driving while intoxicated. Sentence was in county court.

His two companions, Ben Dumas and Charlie Huffine, also of Pampa, were assessed fines of $24 each by D. R. Henry, justice of the peace.

The three men were picked up yesterday afternoon shortly after highway patrolmen spotted them at the race track east of town. Officers arrested them after they passed a school bus discharging passengers.

$25,000 in Jewelry Taken by Burglar

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Theft of an estimated $25,000 in jewelry from the home of Lewis Kayton, local business man, was reported by police today.

Detective E. I. Campa said the burglar apparently had taken a towel from a clothes line in the rear yard, wrapped it around his hand and smashed a window to gain entry.

No one was home. Camp Colorado, east of Coleman, Texas, was once commanded by Col. Robert E. Lee.

Handy and Easy Are Both Wrong

Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.

"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooch-pooch" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."

Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point,"

New Industry Is Launched On Pampa Man's Invention

LOCAL INVENTOR SUCCEEDS—L. A. Morrison (right) displays three of his starters, which have put battery starter oil equipment in the class with the Model T. The starters pictured (1, 2, and 3) are double reduction type for 15 to 27 horsepower multiple cylinder engines and friction type for large-wheel engines. Another industry has started in Pampa — an industry which is producing a device invented by a Pampa man.

True, the new business is small at present, but almost all industries started on a small scale. L. A. Morrison, who has been mechanical supervisor at the local Humble Pipe Line Company during the past four years, has invented a revolutionary starter that is being adopted by many oil companies.

After 15 years with Humble, Morrison was convinced a new kind of starter is needed for oil field pumping equipment. Since keeping the company's equipment in shape is his main duty, he is in the "know" on needed oil equipment improvements.

Realizing the cost of keeping battery starter equipment in shape is excessive, he began tinkering with the idea of an air and gas starter — amid the amused smiles of his fellow workmen. But Morrison has come out with just such a starter, and it puts battery starters in the past class.

Morrison Starter Inc. already has supplied several of the larger oil companies with starters. Included are Humble, Stanolind, Gulf, Sinclair, Slickly, Continental, Moran and Marfax. More than 200 of these starters are now on order from oil companies throughout Texas and Oklahoma.

Morrison leads Morrison Starter Inc. as president; George Klinger, formerly of Pennsylvania, is vice president; Bob Watson, 720 N. Sumner, secretary; and Charlie Wagner, 1317 N. Starkweather, sales manager. The starters are assembled at the present work shop of the company at 419 E. Craven.

The first of the Morrison starters was completed about nine months ago. However, Morrison used five months in testing to prove they were workable.

The company is now able to make these simply constructed, easily operated starters for all types of oil pumping equipment with the exception of drilling motors. One of the best liked features of the motors is that they operate just as effectively in bad weather as in good. Morrison has a friction type starter for large-wheel engines, a double reduction type starter for 25 to 40 horsepower multiple cylinder engines, a double reduction type for 15 to 27 horsepower multiple cylinder engines and a small friction type for Fairbanks Morris, Continental Supply and Oil Well Supply Company White engine.

Morrison is still working on the small friction type starter, but expects to have it perfected in the near future. Also, he is experimenting on a motor made of phosphorous bronze plastic and synthane that will withstand any corrosive gas.

1,059 New Jobs Created in State
AUSTIN — (AP) — Opening of 22 new Texas firms last month provided 1,059 new jobs for Texas workers, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Twelve new Dallas firms put 218 persons to work. Three new firms in Austin hired 441 workers. Two new Houston firms employed 184.

Other Texas cities receiving new firms and employment included Amarillo, four hiring 53; El Paso, four hiring 46; Longview, two hiring 47; Corpus Christi, two hiring 27; San Antonio, two hiring 24; and Fort Worth, one hiring 21.

Only firms hiring eight or more employees were covered in the TEC report.

Turf Projects Underway at College Station

COLLEGE STATION — Two projects to improve turf for all uses — including home lawns, golf courses, football fields, cemeteries, parks and roadsides — are being conducted by the agronomy department at Texas A&M College.

Although almost everyone is interested in turf in one form or another, little or no research work has been done on the subject heretofore, according to Dr. R. C. Potts, director of the projects.

Among the results expected to come out of the research are football fields that remain green throughout the playing season.

As a part of the project dealing with establishment, maintenance and improvement of turf by cultural methods, personnel of the agronomy department is attempting to work out a combination of grasses to make this possible.

Now underway is a combination of bermuda grass and Kentucky 31 fescue. If the combination proves satisfactory, Dr. Potts said, it will provide green turf the year around, whereas bermuda grass alone is dormant through most of the football season.

The wearability of Kentucky 31 fescue, which remains green through the winter, is being studied to find out if it will stand up under playing field conditions. An effort also is being made to learn if it can be established in fields already sodded with bermuda grass.

Kentucky 31 fescue was chosen for the project because it is a perennial grass and appears to be tougher than some of the other grasses, such as winter rye, which remain green in the winter.

Rodeo Rider Is Acquitted In Slaying

MIDLAND — (AP) — After deliberating two hours and five minutes a district court jury decided to acquit Herbert Frizzell, Beaumont rodeo performer, of a Frizzell was charged in the pistol slaying of Henry Preston (Buck) Jones, rodeo judge, who was shot down last Aug. 4 before a large rodeo crowd in Big Spring.

The Beaumont man also is charged with murder in the death of Carl Myers, 23, Abilene College student, who was fatally struck by a stray bullet during the Big Spring shooting. He has not been tried on that charge.

Frizzell took the stand yesterday to tell of a long series of

U.S. Non-Scheduled Airlines Rally Forces to Halt Curbs

NEW YORK — Nonscheduled airlines are making another attempt to rally their forces against the stringent federal economic regulations which threaten to push all but a few hardy independents out of the air transportation picture, according to Aviation Week. The irregulars have only meager resources to throw into the battle as their number has been badly thinned by bankruptcies and Civil Aeronautics Board enforcement crackdowns. Nevertheless, the publication says, they have again stirred up interest — and some sympathy — on Capitol Hill. Leading the current fight for broader nonscheduled operation rights is the Independent Air Carrier Conference of America. This group is charging that all CAB members have subscribed to policies which will force the independents to the wall and give presently certificated carriers a monopoly on air transportation. The nonscheduled group contends that CAB has undermined the development of adequate, economical and efficient air transportation, saying that the board has discriminated against the nonscheduled by paying the certificated lines large subsidies for operating over competitive routes. Also, they charge that CAB has "acted to destroy the large irregular operators by unreasonably oppressive regulations and drastic enforcement action."

Child Actress Must Abandon Movie Career

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Lora Lee Michel, the nine-year-old who ran away from her life as a $100 a day actress, is through with the movie—by a judge's order. Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott said yesterday that Lora Lee will be made a ward of the court and studied for awhile, then she will "will be kept in juvenile hall and be placed in another foster home where she can have fun like any other child."

The child twice has complained to authorities that she was beaten and starved in order to keep her weight down for movie roles. Tuesday, however, she revealed her story and told Judge Scott her foster parents had been "wonderful" to her.

"Because Lora Lee is a problem child, we expect to have considerable difficulty in finding a home to suit her needs," the judge said yesterday.

"She will be permitted normal visitation privileges from her foster parents and she may, if her viewpoint responds satisfactorily, be permitted at some future time to return to Texas with them in the event they wish to return there."

Her foster parents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, who adopted the child in 1945 in Texas. Since coming here, Lora Lee has played in a score of movies.

Judge Scott said the Michels had agreed to sign a petition asking that the child be made the ward of juvenile court. When approved, the petition will cancel the custody rights won in court by the Michels last month. Lora Lee's natural mother, Mrs. Lena Brunson of Nederland, Texas, came here after Lora Lee first complained to authorities several weeks ago.

In awarding custody of the Michels, the judge advised them to take the girl out of the movies. Shortly thereafter, however, Lora Lee was back at work in a studio. Yesterday Judge Scott said that under no circumstances would Lora Lee again be permitted to work in the movies or engage in other employment that would upset normal childhood.

Refuge is Residence Of Rare Whooping Crane

LAFAYETTE, La. — One of the world's rarer birds, a whooping crane, rests in the Aransas Wild Life Refuge, Texas, after leading two helicopters and a private airplane a wild chase across the swamps of Southwest Louisiana.

John L. Lynch, biologist with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, told the story of the bird's capture in an interview.

"We got him near White Lake," the biologist said. "We have been keeping tabs of these cranes for the past 15 years. Today there are only 37 in the world and this is the only one in captivity from Louisiana."

There were a few down in that same area about 15 years ago, but the 1934 flood drove them into the rice fields and I'm afraid most of them were wiped out. This particular crane has been down there by himself for the past two years. Bob Allen from the Audubon Society in Florida and I spotted him Saturday morning. We were in my plane. I'd seen him about a week and a half earlier and chased him but he out flew me.

"Allen and I returned to Lafayette and were joined by two helicopters. We took out from the swamp and spotted the bird. Frankly we just flew him down, following him until he flew himself out and crash landed."

"Pilot L. L. McCombee set the copter down right next to him and Nick Shexnayder, another Audubon Society man, walked out on the float and picked him up. Later we loaded him in my plane and flew him to the refuge."

"We're pretty sure it's a male," he said, pointing out that it's the hope of the U. S. service to bring the birds back into existence on a large scale.

Blaze Destroys Bracero Center

EAGLE PASS — (AP) — The bracero recruiting station here was destroyed by fire yesterday.

Oscar C. Harper, director of the center, said all records were for the present.

The government has announced it was considering closing the station on grounds Valley employers are not using the facilities.

Harper said, however, that a number of Valley farmers were Bracero contracts and extensions of contracts involving about 500 days.

Cause of the blaze was not known.

At San Antonio, John W. Hol-

University's two-mile relay business. Jon and Josh Tobey are ment officer, said the station twins. Joel is a younger brother.

Cattlemen Demand Action On Selling of Horse Meat

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Southwestern cattlemen aren't pleased about this state's current horse-meat scandal.

"Individually, they've been saying all along that it just shouldn't have happened. Here are a few comments heard in the hotel lobby."

Jay Taylor, of Amarillo, former Association president: "I think it's one of the most damaging things to meat consumption in Texas, and one of the most deplorable and unnecessary evils we have. It could have been eliminated by a little honesty. I think it's something that Texas should stop, and in a hurry."

I. O. K. Kothmann, of Brady, Angus breeder: "I'm for labeling everything what it is."

A. M. Harkey, Hereford raiser from Mason: "I feel pretty bad about it. A man doesn't know what he's eating any more."

Lee du Bose, Pearsall: "It's a damn disgrace."

Fred G. Howard, Pearsall: "It's a darned shame to misrepresent horsemeat for beef."

Edwin M. Jackson, Eldorado rancher: "I hope I never have to eat an horsemeat. I think this is an organized racket that someone is cleaning up on."

J. C. Crosby, San Angelo: "It's a bad thing for the beef industry. Sure every Cowman is mad about it, because someone is just profiteering on our business."

Prairie Fire Burns Over 3 Sections

MOBEETIE — (Special) — A roaring, four-hour prairie fire swept over four sections of land here Tuesday before it was finally brought under control by firemen from Wheeler and Mobeetie and by residents of the area using tractors.

The blaze ate up 800 bales of hay on the Paul Jeffus ranch but a large herd of cattle in its path on the Bill Corcoran ranch were moved to safety before the fire hit.

No buildings or stock were reported destroyed. The blaze broke out about 4 p.m. and was brought under control about 8 p.m.

VA Approves Fourth-Year Farm Course

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Veterans Administration has fallen into step with those who hold that it takes four years to make a farmer.

The agency ruled that a four-year course of GI Bill institutional on-farm training offered to veterans by certain states is entirely within the law setting up the on-farm training program.

A VA spokesman said that Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New York, Maine and Iowa previously had limited the training to two or three years, and that the question arose when they wanted to extend courses to a fourth year for veterans who could qualify.

In the other states, he said, four-year courses for on-farm trainees were approved from the very start.

Hospital 'Rooming In' Plan Goes Back to Grandma's Days

AT HOME IN THE HOSPITAL—Mrs. Jean Norton shares her bed with Junior when she slides over the table-top bassinet in the "rooming in" unit at Franklin Hospital, San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO — (NEA) — Maternity care is taking a step back to grandmother's day, when babies were born at home and shared life with mother almost from birth.

The difference is that the hospital is replacing the home with "rooming-in" units, in which mother and child share the same quarters throughout the confinement period after the first 24 hours.

This return to old-fashioned theory actually represents one of the newest practices in obstetrical care and is beginning to gain acceptance across the nation. It is typified at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco, where the fifth "rooming-in" unit in the U.S., just opened, is attracting the interest of many other West Coast hospitals.

Far more scientific than home methods, the new unit is a streamlined ward decorated in pinks and blues and partitioned off into glass cubicles. A nurse at her desk in the center of the ward is able to observe each mother and child at all times. In keeping with the "natural approach," babies are fed on demand rather than according to an arbitrary schedule; many doctors now concede there is strong relationship between natural feeding and an infant's emotional development.

Most of the time, junior is right next to his mother's bed in a transparent, bed-high table bassinet. The bassinet slides on runners to facilitate diaper changing and bathing, operations which are performed by the mother rather than in a "dormitory" type nursery.

There is also a sound-proof "banishment chamber" in which the baby can test his lungs without disturbing anybody.

"Rooming in" is a break for fathers, too. No longer need he wait in the corridor for a momentary peek at his child through the plate glass of a nursery window. In the new-style units, he washes his hands, dons a sterile gown, and takes his place at the head of the family during visiting hours in the temporary glass house.

In praise of the new theory, Dr. Philip A. Reynolds, a noted Los Angeles obstetrician, reported to the California Medical Association:

"Under former routines, the mother of a first-born baby... leaves the hospital without acquiring any of the skills and experiences needed for its care at home, and without having become accustomed to the physical and emotional reaction of her baby. In rooming-in she becomes well-acquainted with a multitude of things so easily taken for granted by nurse and physician, but which to her are tremendous mental hazards. The transition from hospital to home is easy."

John Branson To Appear in Recital Sunday

JOHN BRANSON

John Branson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Branson, 1009 Mary Ellen, will be presented in a piano recital by the First Methodist Church Sunday at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church.

A church spokesman said of Branson, who is now preparing to receive his Master of Music Degree in the spring at the University of Tulsa:

He "needs no introduction to the people of Pampa, as he has played here in the past and all that have heard him realize that his ability to express himself through the medium of his instrument is that of a real artist. His love for the piano, his poise before his audience, and the singing tones given in response to his technique, are qualities that he possesses and are those seldom seen or heard."

During his five and one-half years in the Army Signal Corps, Branson was able to study privately for a time with Dr. George Liebling in California. Following discharge from the Army, he studied with L. O. Podolsky at the Sherwood School of Music in Chicago, and is now studying with Mrs. Helen Ringo, well-known pianist and teacher, at Tulsa.

It was announced a free-will offering will be taken at the Sunday program. It will go into the Building Fund to be applied on the new building now going up.

He will include in his program "Prelude and Fugue, D. Major," Bach-D'Albert; "Sonata in F Major, Opus 5," Brahms; and "Kreiseriana," Shumann.

Chandler Egan, who won the 1904 amateur golf title at the age of 20, was selected for the Walker Cup team 30 years later.

SCOUT-ACTRESS—Gale Foster, 8, of Mattapoisett, Mass., is one of 800 Girls Scouts in "Women of Tomorrow," a new two-reel film saluting 38th birthday of Girl Scouts.

TWENTY-MILLIONTH CHILD—Little Zora Mohamood, 3, of Karachi, Pakistan, becomes the twenty-millionth youngster to be tested in the International Tuberculosis Campaign sponsored by the U.N. Dr. Erik Roelsgaard of Denmark makes the tuberculin test, as Zora's father, Ali, a professional extractor of venom from cobra snakes, holds another child for examination. The mother, wearing the traditional veiled dress, looks on at left. The anti-tuberculosis campaign is going on in 18 countries of Europe, North Africa, the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

Arthritis Hormones Termed Exciting Medical Discovery

DALLAS — (AP) — The new arthritis hormones — acth and cortisone — may lead to some of the most exciting medical discoveries of the century, a Michigan physician declared.

"In my opinion," said Dr. Jerome W. Conn of Ann Arbor at the Dallas Southern Clinical Society's 19th annual conference, "medical science is on the threshold of many wonderful discoveries involving the adrenal glands. It is time all doctors get better acquainted with the physiology of these glands."

Adrenal with the physiology of glands.

Adrenal glands are small organs at the upper end of each kidney. They are stimulated by both cortisone and acth — nickname for adrenocorticotrophic hormone.

These two drugs have had dramatic effects on rheumatoid arthritis, he said.

"The most amazing thing that I've seen," he declared, "is the action against the whole field of allergy. Anything of an allergic nature, such as asthma, appears to respond quickly to either substance."

A hundred cadets will act as guides for the thousands of visitors expected on the campus for the inauguration, which will be held on Kyle Field beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Bill Clarifying Natural Gas Act Is Boosted

FORT WORTH — (AP) — If the United States Senate fails Friday to approve the Kerr bill clarifying the Natural Gas Act of 1938, the independent producer and royalty owner will be at the mercy of a gigantic interstate pipe line monopoly, according to E. I. (Tommy) Thompson, Austin, executive vice president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

He made the statement after a survey of directors of his association.

"Without the necessity of Federal Power Commission jurisdiction," said Thompson, "independent producers of natural gas during the past 12 years have supplied an ever-expanding volume of gas to the nation at a slightly reduced cost to consumers."

"If the Senate fails to follow the House lead in approving the amendment, the producers will be faced with either of two courses. They can: (1) proceed under the Panhandle Eastern decision and sell their gas producing properties at a fair price to one of the 38 pipe line companies, or (2) withhold from sales all gas that might leave the state."

"In either case the ultimate effect would be to remove conditions under which the thousands of independents could continue in the business of searching out this nation's yet unscratched gas reserves."

Ochiltree Wheat Farmers May Join State Group

PERRYTON — (Special) — Ochiltree County wheat farmers met Saturday to discuss whether or not the county would become a member of the Texas Wheat Growers Association. Carl Kuper of Dalhart, president of the Texas Wheat Growers Assn., and R. C. Buckles of Stratford, vice president, were present for the meeting.

The group organized and elected officers to represent the county. Officers elected were L. R. Conner, president; W. H. "Bill" Lance, vice president, and County Agent Hood Willis, secretary-treasurer. The three directors elected were Ben Peckenpaugh, Audie Conley, and Cliff Herndon.

This group will represent the county at the state meeting in Amarillo. Further information will be secured before they decide definitely to become members of the state association.

The local farmers already have a county organization, and the Ochiltree County Wheat Improvement Association, which was organized three years ago, is realizing results.

In 1949 Ochiltree County was the highest county in the Texas-Oklahoma area in the production of good milling wheat, with 85 percent or over, being of a good milling variety. Attention given good wheat seed is recognized by the 3800 acres of certified wheat which was raised in the county in 1949, with still more farmers raising certified wheat this year, according to County Agent Willis.

The convocation opened Sunday night with the annual report of Bishop G. H. Quarterman of Amarillo.

The Rev. C. Gresham Marmion, J.E., member of the National Council of the Episcopal Church and rector of the Church of Incarnation of Dallas, was principal.

State Draft Boards Classify 2,454 1-A

AUSTIN — (AP) — State draft boards classified 2,454 men 1-A in February.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

HUNTER AND HUNTED, and on apparently friendly terms, were Gen. John J. ("Black Jack") Pershing and Mexican bandit chieftain Pancho Villa. This picture of the pair was made during the "watchful waiting" period at the Mexican border, before Villa made his raid across the border to sack the town of Columbus, N. M. Following this incident in 1916, President Wilson ordered Pershing to lead a force into Mexico to capture the roving bandit. Pershing didn't catch Villa, but he and his troops gained valuable field experience that was to serve them well in France. Shortly after the Mexican adventure, Pershing sailed for France to command the American Expeditionary Force in World War I. Villa, sometimes called Robin Hood of Mexico, was ambushed and killed in 1923.

Mercedes McCambridge Cool to Hollywood Fable

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — It wasn't movie offers that convinced Mercedes McCambridge to settle in Hollywood. It was acquiring a husband.
 Miss McCambridge is the heavy favorite to snag the Oscar for her hard-bitten performance in "All the King's Men." Despite the acclaim she won in her first screen role, the radio actress was indifferent about settling here.
 "I had never thought about Hollywood before," she said. "It was like another world. I managed to keep busy—and happy—working in New York. The idea of invading Hollywood never occurred to me."
 That was before she and Radio Producer Fletcher Markle tripped off to Las Vegas to tie the knot. "I'm married now," she said. "And a wife has to go where her husband goes." Markle works in Hollywood.
 The actress is doing her second film role in "Lightning Strikes Twice." What about the future?
 "I'm just browsing around," she said guardedly. "I've had good parts both times, so I have liked making movies so far. I'll defer my opinion until I've had more experience."
 One thing is certain—she won't change her name.
 "A lot of people have told me it's too long and I should change it," she remarked. "I won't. It's my own name and I like it."
 They had better let her have her way. She might want to adopt her full name—Carolina Mercedes Agnes McCambridge Fifield Markle. It's Mer-Say-Deez, by the way, with accent on the Say. Friends just call her Mercy.

Appellate Court Says Life Term Is Legal

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Court of Criminal Appeals has affirmed conviction and life sentence for P. C. Porter in a Red River County property dispute slaying.
 Porter was convicted in the death of W. J. Stearman after the appeal court had reversed a prior conviction in the simultaneous slaying of Stearman's son, Willie Lee Stearman.
 The slaying occurred in October, 1947.
 The appeal court said it found no reversible error in the second conviction.

Red Tape Too Tough For Town's Officials

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. — (AP) — The government is building a post office at what should be 309 Sierra Madre St. But the number on the building will be 303.
 Inspector William Lees explained that officials erroneously listed the address as 303 when they mailed approval of the new site. "We decided it would be simpler to change the building number than risk involvement in red tape by insisting that the government change the number on its records," he said.

Dog's Drawback Just Too Much

HOBBS, N. M. — (AP) — Buddy Brown will never know if his dog Connie would have won a prize in a recent animal show here.
 Connie is quite a dog. Her real name is Constance of Vakeck. She does tricks and lists 21 champions in her pedigree. She dances and attends all meetings of Girl Scout Troop No. 3.
 But Buddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown, will have to just go on believing she would have won first prize.
 The rules said all animals had to be caged to enter.

Delilah's Dirty Trick Wins Sampson Divorce

DETROIT (AP)—Benny M. Sasser, 30, of Detroit, was proud of his long hair. And when his 19-year-old wife, Murtis, applied the shears while he slept, he was aghast. Sasser took his complaint into court, and received a divorce from Murtis.

Skeptical Thieves Learn Hard Way

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—A couple of burglars either can't read or like to pull a job the hard way. They broke into a safe here yesterday, after hacking at the handle and finally removing the pins from the safe's door hinges. The loot was a razor and 20 cents. On the side of the battered safe the company had painted: "No money inside." And beneath that—the combination.

Temptation Wins After 80 Years

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eighty years ago Irwin S. Pierce's mother gave him a jar of blackberry jam. He opened the jar yesterday and said it tasted fine. "I couldn't resist the temptation any longer," said the 90-year-old Vineland, N. J., man. The blue whale is the largest species of whale.

North Texas Milk Producers May Request Government Aid

FORT WORTH (AP)—The North Texas Milk Producers Association may ask federal aid if the cutting of milk prices gets out of hand. "We have no plans for asking the government to step in now," J. O. Woodman, manager of the association, said, "but we're watching the Dallas situation carefully and if it's going to develop into a cut-throat war and the producers need federal help to protect themselves, we'll certainly ask for it." He said recent action of Oklahoma milk producers in asking for a federal investigation was a basis for possible similar action. Woodman said that Fort Worth and Dallas dairies "gained as a result of last week's milk price cuts. They cut producers more than they did consumers." He said the association had scheduled meetings in Denton and Cleburne to protest cuts in prices paid producers by Dallas and Fort Worth distributors.

Deportation Hearings Resumption Scheduled

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Deportation hearings will be resumed in this area within a few days, John W. Holland, district enforcement officer for the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said. He announced appointment of 12 hearing examiners to conduct the proceedings stopped Feb. 20 as result of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling. The court ruled that officers making investigations could not hold deportation hearings. The decision involved aliens affiliated with organizations advocating overthrow of the government by force and violence.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE— BUT TRUE!
IT'S ANOTHER TIDE MIRACLE!
IT CUTS WASHDAY WORK IN HALF!

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING
...THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TIDE!

Just wash—wring out—hang up!

WOMEN EVERYWHERE say it's the best washday news ever! They love the time and trouble and water they save by skipping the rinsing! But most of all they love the way their clothes come dazzling clean. You already know how clean Tide gets clothes with rinsing—cleaner than any other washing product known. Now try the same wonderful Tide without rinsing, and compare the results. You'll be amazed to see how bright and clean your wash comes right from the wringer. Get Procter & Gamble's Tide today. Every package of Tide on your dealer's shelf right now will give you a dazzling clean wash without rinsing!

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT WASHING WITHOUT RINSING

1. Will this method really get clothes clean? Yes, Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—clothes come from the wringer CLEAN and as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.
2. Will clothes come white? Yes, clothes come dazzling white! Just see if you can possibly tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed shirt!
3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you use Tide without rinsing, clothes dry soft and fluffy... iron easily.
4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe... skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

"SAVES SO MUCH TIME ON WASHDAY!"
SAYS MRS. JOY MAYO OF PORTLAND, MAINE
"No more rinsing is wonderful news for every woman who washes clothes! It's such a timesaver, to take the wash right from the Tide suds, put it through the wringer, and onto the line! And everything looks so bright and clean!"

When you wash without rinsing—
NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT KNOWN WILL GET CLOTHES CLEANER THAN TIDE

SAME TIDE! SAME PACKAGE! NEW MIRACLE!

Grace Friend...

Readers of The Pampa News are invited to send their problems to Grace Friend. Letters not published in the columns will be answered personally provided a self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed with the question. Writers must sign their names although they will not be printed without the writer's permission.

Dear Mrs. Friend: I don't suppose my problem is so different from many young women in my position and yet I just don't know what the right thing for me to do is.

My mother is a widow. She is in good health and has sufficient income to live in and yet she insists that she cannot get along without my staying with her.

Hitherto I have never minded but now after all of these years I have fallen in love with a wonderful man who wants to marry me.

Now I know that the twenties are behind me and that I may never have another chance to marry and as a matter of fact I don't want another chance as I am quite desirous of spending the rest of my life with this man who wants me.

But the fly in the ointment is mother. She says that she cannot get along without me, that if I leave her her health will break that I am her only child and that she has cared for me since my father died when I was 12 and that I would be ungrateful to walk out now.

I don't believe having her with us would work out as she is pretty set in her ways and anyhow Henry doesn't want her to live with us although he doesn't mind her being near by. A number of years ago he was divorced and he thinks that his marriage was a failure because of his mother-in-law's interference. I don't want that to happen now.

Grace, can you help me in this matter as you have others? Camille

Dear Camille: I have little sympathy for mothers who try to swallow their children's lives, who keep them near them when it is their place to go forth and make their own way.

If your mother is well and financially independent as you say, then do not hesitate to marry your man and leave her.

Of course it will be hard for her to give you up. You have become a habit through the years and no doubt have made her life exceedingly pleasant.

Her feeling that she can't get along without you is largely selfish probably as she does not want to adjust her ways to a new life.

I am sure that once the break is made she will adapt herself to the change.

If you live near you can help a great deal by dropping in for visits and by taking her out occasionally or having her over for dinner. Show her that you don't intend to forget her and before you know it she will be happy with the change and probably be boasting to her friends about her "considerate son-in-law."

"TWINKLE, TWINKLE, LITTLE STAR..." — Some folk thought it was a miracle when a star-shaped object hovered above the steeple of this new church in Memphis, Tenn., during opening services. But freckled, six-year-old Billy Strong (inset) had the explanation. He was flying his home-made kite near the church when a gust of wind broke the string and carried it over the church where its lines were entangled in telephone wires.

Major Teams Skip Cowntown Track Meet

FORT WORTH — (AP) — One of the nation's biggest track and field meets goes on here this weekend but if any records are broken it probably will be purely accidental.

For once the Southwestern Exposition meet, in its twenty-second showing, will boast only of its competition. This should be better since all the big guns of the University Division — the main one — will be elsewhere.

Texas and Texas A&M, which always run one-two and furnish most of the record-breaking, didn't like the track last year and also didn't care for such a large field that caused preliminaries on the same day as the finals. So they are having meet at home Saturday. Even Oklahoma A&M, another standby, has divided its squad. Most of the top men will be in Chicago for the Daily News Relays.

There'll be only one defending champion from 117 schools who already entered from 117 schools with 767 of them in the Junior College Class. But Corpus Christi, which won the High School Division last year, hasn't yet entered.

There are close to 1200 athletes already entered from 117 schools with 767 of them in the Junior College Class. But Corpus Christi, which won the High School Division last year, hasn't yet entered.

There are 147 entries in golf from 29 schools, 15 of them colleges. Thus the total of athletes is over 1800. Last year there were more than 1600 in track and golf combined.

Best chances at records come in the College and Junior College Divisions. Johnny Slack of North Texas State, who last week won the discus throw with 145 feet in the Border Olympics, may better the college class mark. The record here is 145 feet. Carl Olski of Brownsville might clip the 228-yard dash record held by Jack Taylor of the Corners, Okla. Aggies, at 21.8. Otsuki did 21.9 at the Border Olympics.

Harris Seeking Help for 1950 Washington Nine

ORLANDO, Fla. — (AP) — Frankly, Bucky Harris is looking for help. The new manager has no delusions about the Washington club that staggered home last in 1949, some 47 games back.

"I'll have my bait out when the other clubs start asking waivers," he said. "Boston has 20 pitchers, the Yankees have four catchers and a flock of pitchers. I'm keeping an eye on that waiver list."

Harris talks like a determined man. If anybody wants first baseman Eddie Robinson, for example, the talent cost will be high. Same thing goes for any of the others. He is smart enough to know that no one player is indispensable on a club such as Washington. What is needed is talent in bulk.

Bucky is high on his new outfield combination of Gil Coan in left, rookie Irv Noren in center and Sam Mele in right. All three are young with their best days ahead.

The infield will be the same as 1949 with Robinson on first, Al Kozar on second, Sam Denton on short and Eddie Yost at third. Al Evans is set as No. 1 catcher, followed by Grasso.

"I'm counting on seven pitchers definitely," said Harris. "I'll carry ten altogether. The first seven are Scarborough, Sid Hudson, Joe Haynes, Dick Weik, Floyd Hittle, Mickey Harris and Steve Nagy."

The Philadelphia Athletics have finished in the first division of the American League only once since 1933.

SPRING SWEEP—California coach Ky Ebricht, standing with megaphone, looks on as his Golden Bears stoking up the Oakland Esplanade in first workout of the 1950 season. The sweepswingers, 10 shells strong, turn. Ebricht with plenty of material to defend his Poughkeepsie Regatta title.

Jolter's Heel OK, Indians Have Bad Case Of Butterfingers, Cubs Lose to Farmhands

By the Associated Press
PHOENIX, Ariz. — One of the New York Giants who think a highly of the current revamped team is hard-hitting outfielder Bobby Thomson.

"I'm convinced that there is a certain intangible something needed to win," says Bobby. "Whatever it is, I have a hunch we have it around here."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — That blistered heel that temporarily sidelined Joe DiMaggio apparently has left no ill effects on the Cincinnati Reds' great slugger. Jolter Joe got back into action yesterday in the game with the Philadelphia Phillies and connected for two hits. The Bombers buried the Phils, 23-6.

BRADENTON, Fla. — Manager Billy Southworth scheduled a double workout for his Boston Braves today in preparation for the first of a five-game "city series" against the Boston Red Sox. The Tribe dropped a 7-4 decision to Cincinnati yesterday.

SARASOTA, Fla. — Charley Schanz, the former Philadelphia Phillies hurler seeking a Boston Red Sox berth, and rookie Gordon Mueller were named by Manager Joe McCarthy to hurl today. The Soxers ran their Grapefruit League winning streak to four games by downing the Cards, 11-4 yesterday.

TUCSON, Ariz. — Cleveland's Indians, who sparked at defense last season, are having a bad case of fumble-fits in their exhibition contests.

The Tribesmen have made 14 errors in six exhibition games, including two against the Oakland Oaks yesterday.

TAMPA, Fla. — The Cincinnati Reds' "varisty" were to take things easy today while the "B" team does the work.

The reserves had a game scheduled with the St. Louis Cardinal reserves.

The slugger Reds had themselves another field day yesterday as they licked the Boston Braves, 7 to 6.

LAKELAND, Fla. — Detroit Tiger Manager Red Rolfe would like to see repeal of the March 1 spring training deadline opener.

"The pitchers need an extra week," he says. The Tigers play the Philadelphia Phillies today.

PULLERTON, Calif. — The Chicago Cubs first team suffered a humiliating 5-4 defeat at the hands of its Los Angeles farm club yesterday. The Cubs will play Sacramento today.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The St. Louis Cardinals' injury list goes up and down as spring training progresses.

ed no broken bones.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Robert Nelson Hooper rapidly is becoming the fair-haired boy of the Philadelphia Athletics' pitching staff.

Hooper — rookie up from Buffalo — held the Brooklyn Dodgers hitless for three innings yesterday.

The Mackmen won 4-1.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — What does Manager Eddie Sawyer think of his Philadelphia Phillies after their fourth straight defeat?

"I'll do 'em a lot of good," philosophized the Phil general manager yesterday after the 2-4 loss to the New York Yankees.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Chienes and Elmer Riddle drew the pitching assignment for the Pittsburgh Pirates today as they prepared to meet Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Pasadena, Calif. — The St. Louis Browns riddled the Chicago White Sox pitching staff yesterday, engineering a rousing 11-2 victory. It was the third straight defeat for the Sox.

Jimmy Bond on JH All-District

Jimmy Bond, eighth grader and team captain of the Junior High School Reapers, was the only Pampa grade school basketball player named on the all-district team of the Panhandle Junior High School Basketball League.

Buddy Cockrell, freshman center, was named on the second team.

Along with Bond on the first team are Tommy Middleton, Canyon; James Thompson, West Texas; Bobby Covington, Borgert; and Bobby Graham, Sam Houston.

Borgert captured the league title, as did his senior team, the Bulldogs.

Central Ousts Pipers From NAIB Meet

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — The title fellows still have a big chance as the National Intercollegiate (NAIB) Basketball Tournament moves into its quarter-final round tonight.

Of the eight seeded teams, only Brooklyn College and Indiana State of Terre Haute remain in the championship running.

Other quarterfinalists are East Central Oklahoma State, Central College of Fayette, Mo., Davis and Elkins, of Elkins, W. Va., University of Tampa, Baldwin-Wallace and Central Washington College of Education.

The two top-seeded teams, defending champion Hamline University and Westminster College of New Westminster, Pa., got booted out yesterday.

Hamline lost to Central College, 76-66, last night. Westminster lost, 85-75, to Davis and Elkins yesterday.

Brooklyn yesterday bowled over Central Oklahoma tonight.

Indiana State takes on Baldwin-Wallace, Indiana got by Arkansas Tech, 87-79, last night.

Baldwin-Wallace won 82-62, over seeded East Texas State of Commerce.

In other games, University of Tampa trimmed George Peppine College, 69-61, and East Central Oklahoma eliminated River Falls (Wis.) Teachers, 76-64.

Titleholders Open Tourney Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. — (AP) — A collection of 39 champions opened the first round of the Women's Titleholders Tournament today and only three or four golfing names which count with the gallery were missing.

The four days the best in feminine golf will chase after the first 1950 crown among the big three of women's open tournaments—the Titleholders, Western Open and National Open.

Recent rains and cloudy hints of plenty more to come made the Augusta Country Club's sandy and poney 6,619-yard course a long playing, short roll layout.

Peggy Kirk, a long-legged, long-ball hitter from Findlay, Ohio, is defending her title. Other titleholders winners trying again are Babe Zaharias of Chicago, Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta.

Helen Hicks is the only former winner not playing.

The field of 39 is the largest ever assembled.

Among the newcomers are the Bauer sisters, Marlene and Alice, from Midland, Texas, who threaten to outdraw if not outscore their elders. Alice is 22, Marlene 16; and they combine bobby sox beauty with golf birdies.

The only entry who failed to show up on the opening tee was Mrs. Ballard Cockrell of Mineola, Texas.

The New York Yankees have not finished out of the first division of the American League since 1925.

NIT In Semifinals Tonight; CCONY, Bradley Favorites

NEW YORK — (AP) — Whether CCONY's rocketing sophomores can keep up their sensational surge toward the National Invitation Tournament basketball title is up for decision again tonight.

Nat Holman's youngsters meet their toughest foe yet in Duquesne's Iron Dukes, out to slow City's fast break to a fizzle.

Toppeded Bradley, still the tournament favorite, plays St. John's of Brooklyn in the second semifinal.

CCONY reached the semifinals by defeating second-seeded Kentucky and defending champion San Francisco by wide margins.

St. John's is the only club left that has won previous NIT titles — in 1943 and '44.

The tournament's outstanding performer so far, CCONY forward Ed Warner, weaving in and out of the pivot, will try the same tactics against Duquesne center Charley Cooper.

The speedy heavyweight killed off Kentucky and San Francisco with a variety of shots — drives, taps, sets, pivots.

Softballers to Meet Tomorrow

An organizational meeting for Pampa softball players and teams will be held tomorrow night at the City-Court Room in the City Hall. This is the first meeting of the year for the softballers, and a large turnout is hoped for in order that most of the plans can be made.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 o'clock.

Ken Raffensberger, Cincinnati hurler, was the only pitcher in the National League to notch one, two and three hit games in 1949.

Pampa Boxers Set For Irish Tomorrow

The Pampa Boys Club boxing team will help the city of Shamrock promote its annual St. Patrick's Day celebration Friday by furnishing some stiff competition for the Shamrock High School boxers in some inter-team bouts that night. The bouts will be held at the Shamrock High School Gymnasium, starting at 7 o'clock.

Hoping to fill out a large card of bouts, and with the consent of the Shamrock coach, the local team has gone out of the city to locate boxers with sufficient experience to engage a couple of the stellar Irish mittmen, Donnie Ray, Bobby Campbell, and Joe Landrum, two of the toughest and finest high school fighters in the state, possess too much experience for the beginning Pampa fighters. So, three Amarillo boxers have been added to the Pampa team so that the citizens of Shamrock will get to see their top stars in action.

The matches that have been made by the addition of these three Amarilloans plus Benny Martinez against Donnie Ray, and Pete Perez against Joe Landrum and Monte Scott against Bobby Campbell.

In some of the other weights the probable pairings will see Jimmy Bennett fighting Billy Campbell, Bobby Wilhelm facing Jerry Pennington, Delmar Cox meeting Jimmy Pennington, Billy Ed Cooper facing Kenneth Woods and Keith Kelly against Ed Carver.

A total of 14 or 15 fights will probably be matched.

Earlier this year the two teams fought at Shamrock, with the bouts winding up in a 5-4 draw. But again that night, these top-rate fighters on the Shamrock team didn't get to see action because of the little experience that the Pampa boys team possessed.

The Pampa team, so far this season, has defeated both Panhandle and Kress and lost to Lefors twice and Wellington. After Friday's bouts there will be only two remaining team matches on this season's schedule. They take the Pampa team to Clarendon and to Panhandle.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hassel—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What four golfers have won both the U.S. Amateur and the U.S. Open during their careers?

FRIDAY NIGHT sports fans from the Panhandle area will get an opportunity to see one of the most fabulous figures in the history of boxing in action. Joe Louis, rated along with Jack Dempsey as the top heavyweights ever to enter a ring, fights in Amarillo's Municipal Auditorium. Being only an exhibition bout, the action can't be expected to be too furious, but the form and agility of the champion should be pleasing to most fans.

On the card with the five-round exhibition are five other bouts. There will be one four-rounder, three six-rounders and a 10-round windup, making a total of 37 rounds of fighting for fans, provided all of the matches go the limit.

Louis' opposition in the exhibition bout will come from Sterling Ingram, Colorado state heavy-weight champion.

Louis, during his 15-year career of 42 professional fights, earned approximately $4,000,000. Five of the Brown Bomber's fights drew more than million dollar gates.

His real name is Joseph Louis Barrow. He was born on May 13, 1914 in a share-cropper's shack in Alabama. From that lowly beginning he went on to overcome many obstacles, including his color, to become one of the most widely known names in the world.

Joe moved to Detroit when he was 12. His first opportunity to don the gloves that were to bring him fame and fortune came when he had trouble with studies in grade school and his mother sent him to Bronson Trade School to learn to work with his hands instead of his head. And learn he did as a multitude of fighters can tell you.

Louis is expected to fight for the current exhibition tour was supposed to be a testing ground for the Bomber as he tried to find out whether he could stand the pace of the big time again at his age.

With the wrangling that has been going on over the heavy-weight crown since Louis relinquished it, it is most probable that he will fight Ezzard Charles, regarded in most parts as the current champion, for the crown again.

Fans who see Friday night's bout will not only be seeing the former world's heavy-weight champion but probably the future champion also, in one person, Joe Louis.

NOTES ON JOE LOUIS. . . As an active champion, Louis had one of the most enviable records of all time. Since his retirement undefeated, he has remained one of the most respected men connected with the fight game.

The Brown Bomber capably defended his title over a span of eleven years, not including almost four years he held it while in the army from '42 to '45. He won the title in Chicago on June 22, 1937 from James Braddock by an 8th-round knockout. His last title defense before his retirement came in 1948 when he KO'd Jersey Joe Walcott in the 11th

Walcott Winner at Seminole

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Cary Middlecoff, professional golfer playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla., banked $2,760 today for his double victory in the 11th annual Seminole Golf Tournament.

The National Open champion finished the 54-hole event yesterday with an aggregate of 207 to take $1,000 in that division. He teamed with C. Douglas Dillon, New York stock broker, for a tie with professional Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and a Leray Berdeau of Paris, France, at 128 in the 36-hole pro-amateur end of the tournament.

Middlecoff and Ferrier pocketed $1,250 for their pro-amateur scoring. Ferrier also won $662.50 when he finished second in the 54-hole tourney, with a score of 209.

Others in that bracket were Roberto di Vincenzo of Buenos Aires, Lew Norham of Oakmont, Pa., and Henry Picard of Los Angeles. Five professionals tied at 211, worth $290 each. They were Claude Harmon of Palm Beach; Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif.; Henry Hanson of St. Andrews, Ill.; Pete Cooper of Ponte Vedra, Fla., and Dick Mayer of Palm Beach.

Zealots Rank Stanich Ahead of Robinson at UCLA

By JIM O'LEARY
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The return of Jackie Robinson to the west coast for the filming of his story set speculation abroad as to the proper ranking of George Stanich among UCLA all-around athletes.

Jackie Robinson would go a bit further, rank him on top. Stanich is the high jumper.

THREE-WAY EDGE—Present University of California at Los Angeles observers rate pitcher, high-jumper and basketball stickout, George Stanich, a better all-around Bruin athlete than the highly-regarded Jackie Robinson. The Sacramento, Calif., senior plans to enter professional baseball.

The National League's most valuable player of 1949 has come to be accepted as the most versatile athlete to attend the University of California at Los Angeles, but present Bruin observers feel Stanich is the equal of Robinson. Zealots would go a bit further, rank him on top.

Just having a working basis on which to compare his exploits with the remarkable five-sport Negro athlete stamps handsome and capable George Stanich as outstanding in his own right. Robinson, it is recalled, was an outstanding halfback in his undergraduate days. In basketball, he led the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference in scoring in 1940 and 1941, was NCAA broad-jump champion in '40 with a leap of 24 feet, 10 1/4 inches. Tennis champion of the southern division of the Coast Conference, Robinson was, of course, an outstanding baseball player.

Basketball captain, high-jumper and pitcher Stanich is not all that, but the zealots have their point. "You never see Stanich at his best," they state with some justification. "The nature of his duties is too conflicting."

From January 1st on, the quiet, pleasant but determined youngster, only 20, is busy as the proverbial bird dog on the hardwood, but limbering up his throwing arm. By spring he has started high jumping.

The latter two, especially, are necessarily dependent on perfect timing and temperament. Hustle and drive can get you a lot of places, but not over the cross bar or by a tight squeak with two on and no outs.

By commencement week in June, the six-foot three-inch, 195-pound Sacramento senior will have traveled over 100,000 miles representing the university in sports all over the country, and in the 1948 Olympic Games in London and later in Europe.

New York basketball fans walked out of Madison Square Garden during December in the face of poor west coast showings, yet the rugged, hard-driving Stanich did all but sell tickets aiding UCLA to defeat City College of New York, 60-53.

Possessing a good bounding take-off, he tied for the top height in the final Olympic trials, shared the third place high-jump medal in London.

Eight major league clubs have contacted the curve and fast ball pitcher, Cleveland going as high as $30,000 last year. Probably reluctant to end his collegiate career somewhat abruptly, Stanich held out for $10,000 more, did not sign.

An A-B student, with added time to hustle dishes in the faculty kitchen, George Stanich is a busy man, certainly ranks high in all-around excellence.

Irish Start Workout On St. Pat's Day

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Notre Dame's football forces, beaten in 38 straight games, spring practice tomorrow, St. Patrick's Day. It's an old Irish custom, and 100 sturdy will be on hand to observe it.

Three golfers have won U.S. and British amateur championships in the same year: Harold Hilton (1911), E. O. Jones (1930), and Lawson Little (1934 and 1935).

Glenn Cunningham won a Baxter mile at the "Newsworld" A.C. track meet five times.

Cardinals Would Go With Early Start by Stan Musial, Most Unpredictable Hitter

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
VERO BEACH, Fla. (NEA) — The Dodgers didn't win the National League pennant last fall. The Cardinals collapsed completely only a few jumps from the wire.

And the Brooks already are worrying about the Red Bird who gives them the most trouble, Stan Musial. Stan the Man continually is guilty of felonious assault at Ebbets Field, where it hurts most.

How would you like to be a pitcher faced with the task of stopping Musial with a cork jammed? What bit of sorcery would you use on the Donora Dandy, whose individualistic left-hand batting stance has his eyes cocked over his right shoulder like a thief taking a quick look while running from a cop.

"I've actually laid awake nights trying to figure out ways of putting the brakes on Musial," intones Roy Campanella, the hydrant-shaped other half of Branch Rickey's remarkable Negro battery. "Nothing works. There's simply no way to pitch to him. He is the most unpredictable hitter in the National League, far and away the best."

Newcombe, who bagged 17 games after reporting in mid-May to be the N. L.'s most valuable rookie, offers this advice to this year's crop of pitching peagreens: "Don't try to be smart and use fancy stuff against Musial. You may get him once one way or the next, and he'll pit your ears back."

"I've learned one thing about him. It's absolutely necessary to keep your pitches mixed up. Your only chance is to throw his extraordinary timing off."

"Above all, don't make the mistake of trying to fool him twice with the same pitch. You're a sucker if you do, for he'll invariably hit the ball for distance, or so savagely on line that no one can get his hands on it."

Showing just a little more early foot, Musial easily would be the National League's top 400 hitter since Bill Terry popped down in front in 1930. Certainly the St. Louis restaurateur would enjoy a tremendous year.

Despite the fact that Musial broke slowly, he showed the way with .367, 1943, .365 in '46 and .376 in '48.

From the All-Star Game on, the records show him to be a sizzling hitter.

He gets hottest with the weather in August. In '47, when he suffered from tonsillitis and appendicitis, to the extent that operations were necessary at the season's end, he was batting a sickly .188 on June 1, yet finished with .312. At mid-season last year, he was batting .298, but wound up with .338, losing the championship to Jackie Robinson by only four points.

It is difficult to imagine just what kind of a season Stan Musial would have if he got off to a flying start.

And with him would go the Cardinals.

Apaches Champs With No Place To Defend Title

TYLER — (AP) — Tyler Junior College is in the unusual position of not being able to defend a national championship in basketball unless invited to do so.

The Apaches were eliminated from national consideration in the regional tournament last week. Now, unless one of the regional champions does not choose to be present at the national and Tyler is asked to take its place, the season is over for the Apaches.

But anyway, Tyler has one of the highest scoring freshmen in the business.

O'Neal Weaver, the high school sensation at Little Martins Mill last year when he rolled up 1,086 points, has 628 this year in 38 games.

The Massachusetts Supreme Court ruled that the Boston Red Sox are not liable for damages because a patron was hit by a foul ball.

In other words, you pay your money and you take your chances.

The ball clubs had been bothered quite a bit by lawsuits resulting from fans who got in the way of fouls.

It was getting so the vendors would walk around, hawking their wares like this: "Peanuts, popcorn, cigars, cigarettes, phone books — can't find a lawyer without a phone book."

Now, the Massachusetts Court has said that the fans can't collect damages.

Fans, say the judges, should keep a civil suit in their heads.

Disappearance of Destroyer USS Jarvis Pacific Is Finally Explained by Navy

MYSTERY SOLVED—The disappearance of the Destroyer USS Jarvis during World War II has finally been solved by the Navy. A Japanese report during the war said a ship resembling New Zealand's ship, Achilles, had been sunk, when actually it was the Jarvis. All aboard perished in the torpedo attack.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The mysterious disappearance of the only U. S. surface warship unaccounted for at the end of World War II has at last been cleared up on the Navy's records.

After seven years of patient detective work, Navy historians announce they have solved the riddle of the destroyer USS Jarvis, which sailed off into space Aug. 9, 1943, from the Coral Sea southwest of Guadalcanal, following the sea battle of Savo Island. A Navy flier from the carrier Saratoga was the last friendly person to see the Jarvis, limping along in the pre-dawn haze bound for Australia. Six weeks later a terse Navy communique announced that intensive air and surface searches had failed to reveal any trace of her. Next of kin of the 246 officers and men on board were notified.

Ordinarily, a surface ship going down would have left flotsam, or there would have been survivors to give an accounting of their ship. The Jarvis' position was well established in a small ocean area which was meticulously scanned by aviators and seamen. Yet she vanished without a trace. Up to now that's been all anybody knew.

In a few hours her crew had put out the fire and patched the engines. The destroyer DeWey towed the Jarvis to a shallow water anchorage. A check showed 14 men missing and seven wounded. As Comdr. Graham was putting the seven wounded aboard the flagship MacCawley, he told one of them he would head for Sydney, Australia, for repairs that night—Aug. 8—to avoid the almost certain Jap air attack the next day.

Despite a 50-foot gash in her side, the loss of all her radio gear and many of her guns, it was felt sure the cripple could make Sydney. The mine sweeper Hovey was ordered as escort, but was never able to rendezvous with the Jarvis. With his radio gone, it is assumed Comdr. Graham might not have been informed the Hovey would be his escort and left without it.

A few hours before the Saratoga scout plane saw the Jarvis for the last time, she was spotted by the destroyer Blue. The Jarvis refused aid proffered by the Blue and sailed on.

No successful clue to what happened after that was turned up until this year, when a Navy historian, who had been working on the problem for years, decided to re-examine the log book of a Jap torpedo squadron based on Rabaul.

The Jarvis was part of the task force assigned to the invasion of Guadalcanal. During the attack she purposely took a Jap torpedo in her side to protect the cruiser Vincennes. Her skipper, 39-year-old Lt. Comdr. William W. Graham, of Palmyra, N. J., refused to abandon ship although she was stopped dead and flames spurted and swept the forecastle.

Battle reports by several Jap pilots for that date made references to an "Achilles-type" cruiser having been "blown to bits".

Silage-Fed Lambs at Tech Out-Gain Alfalfa Feeders

LUBBOCK — Sorghum silage-fed lambs out-gained lambs fed a straight alfalfa ration during the first 56 days of a 75-day dry lot feeding research project now in progress at Texas Technological college.

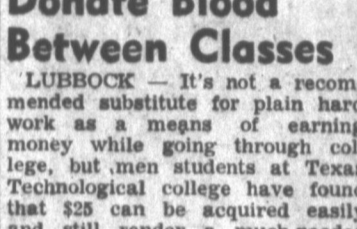

Prof. Ray C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, said concentrates in the project consist of cottonseed and milo. Roughages are varied to determine the most effective type for dry lot feeding. Alfalfa hay, red top sorghum silage, red top sorghum bundles, African millet bundles and heira bundles provide the roughage.

Lambs fed on silage showed an average daily gain of 36 pounds per head, compared with 33 pounds per head for alfalfa, 31 pounds per head for sorghum bundles, 29 pounds per head for African millet and 27 pounds for heira. Professor Mowery said the cost per 100 pounds gained ranged from $13.50 for silage to $16.50 for heira.

The research project will be concluded March 17 and the animals will be available for observation at the quarterly meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association in Lubbock March 18. Harry E. Blendon, Lubbock graduate student, is in charge of the search.

Oil Allowable Hike in April Is Predicted

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A small increase in April crude oil production is expected to be ordered here today.

The Railroad Commission already had received requests for increased production by the time it began a statewide hearing for testimony on which to base its April allowable order.

Major crude purchasers earlier this week estimated they will need 2,396,102 barrels daily next month. This is an increase of 86,231 barrels daily over March demand estimates.

The state's daily allowable March 1 totaled 1,968,348 barrels.

Speculation before today's hearing began that the commission leaving the state on a 17-day production schedule in April.

This would mean a daily increase of approximately 40,000 barrels and would place the state's daily allowable near 2,000,000 barrels.

Texas went on a 17-day schedule this month after the commission adopted a new formula for determining its production allowables.

Today's hearing was expected to concentrate on discussion of the new formula, which takes into consideration well depth, acreage, and market demand.

There has been much criticism of the formula from operators of deep wells and wells with high MER's, the maximum amount a well can produce without waste and damage.

When well depth was made a factor of the formula, allowables for many flush production fields dropped sharply. Many operators feel that such wells now are victims of discrimination.

Members of the commission have indicated they may make minor adjustments in the formula but that there will be no major changes.

Production areas which received the deepest cuts when the new formula was adopted have had sharp increases in April purchaser nominations.

Of the 86,231 barrel nominations increase, 49,000 are for the commission's District 8 (West Texas) which was cut 80,000 barrels this month. District 8 (Gulf Coast) nominations increased over 20,000 barrels daily after its allowables were cut 82,000 in March.

Well-Informed Carry Burden Of Democracy

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Evidence keeps bobbing up to show that a lot of Americans don't keep themselves informed.

This is a weight around the necks of the rest of the people who want a better democracy. It plays into the hands of those who don't.

In a speech last night Gordon Dean, a member of the Atomic Energy commission, spoke of a survey made by expert public-opinion takers.

He said the survey, made in December, three months after President Truman announced an atomic explosion in Russia, showed 28 percent of the polled people hadn't heard of it.

This brings up the old question: How do you get a good democracy? The ideal democracy is one in which everyone is completely informed on every issue and every issue of voting age votes directly on every issue and on every law that's proposed.

But our society is not the ideal democracy. It can't be. It's too complex, with all the different groups dependent on one another for production of clothes, food, light, housing and so on.

Producing those different things and earning a living keep most people too busy to be completely informed on every issue and to vote on every one. So we elect a Congress to represent us and act for us.

We reserve the right to tell our congressmen what we feel on the issues that arise; to put pressure on them to vote the way we think they should, and to change them, who wouldn't read or listen to our congressman when we no-

Recordings Will Teach Self-Help

LUBBOCK — Music and foreign language students at Texas Tech will be listening to wire recordings before long — listening to a familiar voice speaking the language they are learning.

The speakers will be the students themselves. Dr. C. B. Qualla, head of the foreign languages department, says wire recordings will be used extensively in French, German and Italian diction courses.

"The emphasis will be on pronunciation and diction — it will be oral work almost exclusively," he says.

The only Longhorn cattle in Texas today are in the San Antonio Zoo.

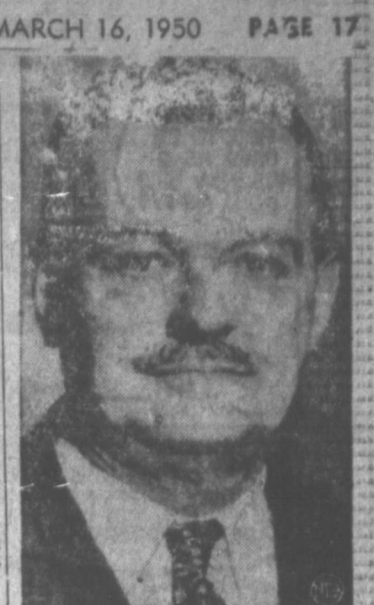

Society is built upon trust, and trust upon confidence in one another.

views. long believe he represents our But to do those things intelligently, so that we will have a Congress acting most responsibly to the will of the people, means we have a responsibility and obligation to be informed on as many issues as possible.

How do they get well-informed? By reading newspapers, magazines, books, listening to the radio, watching television discussing events.

In turn that imposes, say, on newspapers and radios an obligation of doing a good job of informing their readers and listeners. This is so, since it's to their own self-interest, or should be, to help create an intelligently-run democracy.

How well these sources of information do their job will vary, of course, from paper to paper, from radio to radio. But — no matter how well the information is pumped out, there'd still be people, and probably plenty of them, who wouldn't read or lis-

OK'S "MERCY DEATHS" — Dr. Clarence C. Little of Bar Harbor, Me., above, outstanding cancer authority, has suggested a law legalizing "mercy killings," with proper safeguards. Dr. Little endorses the idea of allowing a person to make a will, to be opened if and when he is stricken with an incurable disease, stating whether he wishes to be killed painlessly.

Now She Shops "Cash and Carry" Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of sagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Don't Lie

THE STORY: After Azalea Palmer found her father with his skull crushed by a desk telephone in his library, police learn of a quarrel between the victim and Azalea's fiancé, the sculptor Paul Moody. Azalea's father, the wealthy Wendell Palmer, tried to break up his daughter's romance with the artist, and he also had vetoed a commission that would win Moody fame for a statue group on a new building. Police detective James Stivers has found fingerprints on the telephone, used as the murder weapon, and he has set out in company with Pete Kelso, another police detective, to search Paul's studio for further prints.

possibly have killed anybody. The caretaker was too ancient and too feeble to be handled roughly—even by Kelso, who was afraid the old man might fall apart if shaken vigorously. It was Stivers who finally ended the trouble when he said:

"If you're so sure your boss is innocent you ought to be glad to have it proved by scientific methods. I promise you we won't break a thing, shift a thing, or steal a thing."

At last the old man admitted. He showed a disposition to stand guard over the treasures, but he had other tasks and reluctantly left, shaking a tremendous fist at Kelso and cackling:

"If you mess anything up, I'll pull your head off and throw it in your face."

EVEN to men whose business it was to visit grewsome scenes or the haunts of grewsome people, there was something uncanny, occult in the great studio.

Though empty of all life but their own, it was peopled, almost forested, by finished and unfinished images of men, women, children, in marble, bronze or oiled clay. And somehow they seemed more alive than living people.

A great horse was only half released from the mass of modeling clay that held his hindquarters in a huge unfinished block. A panther seemed to be straining in ferocious agony to writhe out of the imprisonment of incompleteness. Every emotion seemed to be alert here, laughter, sorrow, love, hate, yearning.

Among the humans there were the heads of old, old men and women, and of children so pretty and so gay that one felt they could not really be good art. They were too human for that.

VIII
DETECTIVES JAMES STIVERS and Pete Kelso reached Paul Moody's studio as fast as the police car could whisk them through crowded streets where all traffic stopped dead or pulled to the curb as the wails of the oncoming siren pierced the air.

The studio was part of an old warehouse with one room large enough and high enough of ceiling to house the big and little sculptures Paul Moody had turned out, or was working on, or dreaming of.

Alongside and above were his modestly furnished living quarters. The reception room was merely a corner of the workshop with a big rug, a divan, chairs, the necessary small bar, and a few other comforts for his visitors, clients, or models.

As the invaders from the police department expected, Paul was not at home, and there was some difficulty in finding the arthritic old caretaker. He made still more difficulty about admitting strangers even though Pete Kelso flashed his badge.

The suggestion that Paul Moody was wanted for a murder sent the old man into a fit of cackling laughter at the idiosyncrasy of the police and Kelso's particular nonsense in imagining that Mr. Moody could possibly have killed anybody. The caretaker was too ancient and too feeble to be handled roughly—even by Kelso, who was afraid the old man might fall apart if shaken vigorously. It was Stivers who finally ended the trouble when he said:

"If you're so sure your boss is innocent you ought to be glad to have it proved by scientific methods. I promise you we won't break a thing, shift a thing, or steal a thing."

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

Written for NEA Service
At the Chatham Hotel, New York City, where the first public Canasta match was held, Mr. F. Burton Fisher, manager of the hotel, and I sat in the press room, discussing some of the plays of Canasta. He asked me if I thought conventions might develop in Canasta as they do in bridge.

We were in the middle of a discussion of the famous suit-directing play in bridge when in-walked Harry Fishbein, one of the owners of the Mayfair Bridge Club in New York City. Harry entered into the discussion. Suddenly he jumped up and said, "Give me a pencil. I have the most dramatic situation of the suit-directing play you have ever seen." So between us we built up today's hand.

You may not approve of the bidding, but to create this situation we could not allow West to bid spades. That would have spoiled our whole story. After we had finished the hand we let Mr. Fisher and the rest of the spectators see only the North and East hands, so I suggest that you cover up the South and West hands.

The opening lead of the ten of clubs is won by East with the ace. East cashes the ace of hearts, South plays the king and West the queen. Now what should East shift to? If you have not looked at the South and West hands, I am sure most of you will have East continue with a heart, but he should not.

In the first place the discard of the queen of hearts by West makes him with the ten. If South held the king-ten of hearts, he could not afford to play the king on the first trick, as that might be giving up a sure trick. East must now try to reason out why West played the queen knowing that West also held the ten.

In the suit-directing convention the play of an unusually high card asks you to shift to the higher of the two suits not trump. Therefore in this case West is asking East to shift to a spade, which, of course, sets the contract.

Freight Trains Equipped With End-to-End Radio

All Texas to Colorado diesel-powered, time freight trains of Burlington Lines now are equipped with end-to-end radio communication facilities.

The new diesel-electric freight locomotives have been equipped with permanently installed sending and receiving sets for use of the engine crews, and portable sets are provided for train crews who ride in the caboose.

With constant radio communication available enroute, the movement of trains is facilitated tremendously, and the safety of the rolling stock, cargoes, and the men is enhanced greatly.

Radio communication between engineers and trainmen on high-speed freight trains has been in the experimental stage, but now is an accepted facility, Burlington Lines being one of the first carriers in this territory to make permanent installation on time freight trains operating in the Southwest.
