Motion of State to Dismiss Appeal Is Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—Ninety members of a carnival troupe on a tour of county fairs were held in jail today for questioning concerning the theft of tires and tubes from the Texas highway department warehouse at Navasota.

MOTHER CLAIMS HER DAUGHTER IS POOR MAMA

AS WE were taught history in the grades, war was a glorious thing through which nations moved from obscurity to greatness. Didn't war win our independence? Didn't we win the Indian and Mexican wars? And Spain? Old histories were largely recitals of decisive wars, and they said little of the cost of war.

AUSTIN, Oct. 10 (AP)—Joe Palmer, condemned to die in the electric chair at Huntsville prison for the murder of a prison farm guard, received a new lease on life today when the Texas court of criminal appeals denied the state's motion to dismiss Palmer's appeal because he had escaped.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Dizzy Dean and Brother Paul, star pitchers for the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, arrived here by airplane from St. Louis shortly before 2 p. m. today for an exhibition baseball game tonight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—It was mother versus daughter again today in the supreme court struggle for guardianship of Gloria Vanderbilt, 10-year-old heiress who has been called a "poor little orphan."

MAID STICKS TO TALE, SAYS REPORTER JUSTICE

IT HAS been considered a patriotic thing to glorify the military work of a nation. Every nation allis for its losses and glorifies its fighting ability. Therefore the children of nearly every nation are taught to think that war is honorable and that national honor is something to fight for at the drop of a hat.

Palmer and Hamilton were given the extreme penalty on conviction of murder charges in the death of Mayor Crutcher, slain during a break at the Huntsville prison farm January 16 in which Hamilton and Palmer and several others escaped. The spectacular raid on the farm was engineered by Clyde Barrow, a pal of Hamilton's, later killed by Louisiana officers near Arcadia, La.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The nation's wheat crop was estimated today at 498,200,000 bushels, the lowest since 1920, according to the department of agriculture which also reported the indicated corn crop at 1,416,772,000 bushels, showing the ravages of this year's severe drought.

Those taking the examination were Nelson Link, Henry Phillips, Clay Hill, Don Durkin and Coleman Prescott, all of Pampa.

Mrs. Morgan yesterday testified that her daughter paid little attention to little Gloria. In an affidavit, she has declared Mrs. Vanderbilt was "not a proper or suitable person to have the care or custody of my grandchild."

SUCH a service is rendered by showing of such horribly real films as "Forgotten Men" at La Nora theater today under auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It is hard to look at, and you may lose some sleep after viewing it, but no sane person after seeing it, could approve of war except as a last resort.

Palmer was captured a short time later near Paducah, Ky. He had fallen asleep exhausted in a field near a railroad track. A new law was invoked for the first time by the court in reinstating Palmer's appeal. It vests the court with discretion to reinstate appeals in capital cases where the escaped convict is captured or returns within 30 days. The old law set a limit of 10 days within which a convict must be returned under penalty of having his appeal automatically dismissed.

Prices Will Go A Little Higher, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt feels that commodity prices should go a little higher before an attempt is made to stabilize the price level.

Asked if further questioning of Mile. Maria Caillot, the former personal maid to Mrs. Vanderbilt who "told on" her mistress, had shaken her story concerning an incident involving Mrs. Vanderbilt and a titled English woman, Justice Carew said: "Mr. Burkan (attorney for Mrs. Vanderbilt) gave her a long cross-examination on that incident and I am sure he feels he diluted it somewhat, while the opposing counsel undoubtedly feels he did not. The maid stuck to her story."

FORMERLY, only a small per cent of the residents of a nation went to war. The last war changed this sending millions of the "flower of youth" to destruction every year. We heard much of atrocities during the last war. But who seeing boys blown to bits, can think of this as less horrible than torture of noncombatants? In the next war there may be no atrocities—everyone will be in danger of air raids, gas, and dangers now carefully kept secret.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (AP)—The price stabilization studies being made by the president and his advisors were described as showing that in the period from 1920 up to the present prices have fluctuated as much as 500 to 1,000 per cent. It is these wide disparities over short periods that Mr. Roosevelt was said to be trying to avoid in steering the nation toward a more permanent economic level.

Although European capitals were intensely uneasy, spokesmen professed to see no prospect of war as a result of the murders. Conditions in Yugoslavia, where an uprising was held possible following Alexander's death, were reported to be quiet.

THE FULL costs of war are never counted. If this nation is heading toward state socialism or communism, its progress in that direction was hastened a generation by the economic upheaval caused by the war. The depression was war-made. Present expenditures for recovery and relief may be changed very largely up to the war. President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university has estimated the cost of the conflict as follows:

COURT HOLDS OCCUPATION LEVY ON VENDING MACHINES IS LEGAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 10 (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today sustained constitutionality of an act levying a graduated scale of occupation taxes on coin operated vending machines.

The ruling was made in affirming two ex parte appeals from Travis county by Joe Day, charged with displaying a machine without a receipt attached. Lower court holdings were upheld by the appellate court.

Convicted of Annis Jackson, McLennan county, in the slaying of her husband, Ed Jackson, was sustained. She was sentenced to five years.

'PRETTY BOY' FLOYD CALLED ONE OF GANG

SOLUTION ANNOUNCED WITH ARREST OF GALLATAS PAIR

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 10 (AP)—Solution of the Kansas City union station slaying by gang officers and a convict June 17, 1933 was announced by the department of justice today as Richard Tallman Galatas, and his wife, Elizabeth, were brought here for arraignment on conspiracy charges. Mr. and Mrs. Galatas were arrested Sept. 22 at New Orleans.

Agents of the department said the Galatas were the only ones to be arraigned today but that only two of the 14 named in the case were still at large.

These are the notorious southwest outlaw, Charles Arthur (Pretty Boy) Floyd and his companion, Adam Richetti, who with Verne Miller are named as the actual killers.

Miller was found slain near Detroit, apparently by gangsters. Two others named are dead and one is in prison.

The withering machine gun fire, which endangered the lives of many passengers on the union station plaza shortly after 7 a. m. that June, Saturday, cut down Frank Nash, convict being returned to Leavenworth who the machine gunners sought to free; Raymond J. Caffrey, department of justice agent; William J. Grooms and Frank E. Herrmann, Kansas City detectives, and Otto Bauer, chief of police of Meriden, Okla.

Maurice M. Milligan, United States district attorney for western Missouri, today named the 14 in the case as Floyd, Richetti, Miller, Harvey Bailey, one of the kidnapers, James F. (Boss) Egan, Oklahoma millionaire, and Paul Miller, in prison; Robert C. (D-B) Brady, slain near Paola, Kan., early this year as he, with other convicts, fled from the Kansas state prison at Lansing; Mrs. Louise Conner, Hot Springs, Ark.; Herbert A. Farmer, slain near Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Galatas; Frank Mulloy, Kansas City; Mrs. Frank Nash, wife of the slain convict; Louis Stael and William Underhill, slain in Shawnee, Okla.

With the exception of the two fugitives, Charles Arthur Floyd and Mrs. Galatas, all the others have been reported as arrested and are in prison.

Nash had been in prison in Hot Springs, Ark., on June 16, when he was freed, and driven rapidly to train and headed back toward Kansas City.

William Stanley, assistant attorney general who announced in Washington the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Galatas, said investigation had shown it was Galatas who informed Mrs. Nash of her husband's capture.

Stanley said Mrs. Nash communicated with Louis Stael, roadhouse proprietor at Chicago, and that in the meantime, Galatas and Mrs. Nash went to the farm home of the Farmers in Jones, Miller, in Kansas City, was given last minute instructions by telephone as to plans for freeing Nash.

Bank at St. Jo Robbed of $700

ST. JO, Oct. 10 (AP)—Three unmasked men today robbed the First National bank of St. Jo of an estimated $700 and forced two officers and two customers of the bank to ride to the edge of town as they fled.

The men drove up to the bank in a black (V-8 Ford) sedan bearing an Oklahoma license number and one of them entered, leaving his companions in the motor car. The man gathered up what money he could see and forced S. C. Roach, assistant cashier; George A. Wright, assistant cashier, and Chancy Morgan and Allen Agee to accompany him. The hostages were released in a short time.

The robbers' car headed west but was later reported to have been seen on a highway east of St. Jo. No attempt was made to enter the bank's vault.

TERRELL, Oct. 10 (AP)—Four men drilled their way into the safe of the Security State bank of Quinlan, 16 miles north of Terrell, early today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money after binding J. C. Winder, a night watchman.

Officers believed they worked 3 hours with an acetylene torch to penetrate the walls of the safe. No estimate of the loot was available. The safe was expanded by the heat of the torch and lock experts were summoned from Dallas to open it.

Fire losses in the United States for the year 1933 as estimated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters totaled $269,778,480, the smallest loss since 1916.

This is a per capita loss of $2.15 as compared with a per capita loss of $3.21 in 1932. It is interesting to note just what are the leading causes of the waste from fire. The following tabulation shows the amount of losses by causes of fires of known origin in 1932, the latest year that such information has been compiled by the Actuarial Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

LAW MUST HAVE FACTS TO TRY HAUPTMANN

Consider the pleasant ins and outs of the law's technicalities.

New York lawyers, who have studied the case against Bruno R. Hauptmann, Lindbergh kidnaping suspect, point out that what the general public has taken for a very strong case against him is really pretty weak.

To begin with: Is Hauptmann to be tried in New Jersey for kidnaping? By New Jersey law, kidnaping is a felony, and no indictment can be drawn there if two years have elapsed between the time the crime was committed and the time the grand jury takes the case.

But this statute is voided in cases where the prisoner has been a fugitive from justice. Very well, then—from what was Hauptmann a fugitive? There was no charge against him any time before his arrest. No kidnaping indictment was ever handed down.

Can New Jersey try him for murder? To do so, the state must prove that he was at the scene of the crime—which, unless the authorities have important evidence at whose existence they have not even hinted, may well be quite impossible. They must prove that the Lindbergh baby was murdered, which may also be difficult.

Indeed, some lawyers assert that as the evidence stands now, there is actually room for doubt whether Hauptmann could even be extradited from New York to New Jersey.

Suppose, then, that he stands trial in New York for extortion. It is reported that Dr. John F. Condon is unable to identify Hauptmann definitely as the man to whom he gave the ransom money. In that case, say the lawyers, the New York extortion charge might not survive a session in court.

All of this indicates that the road to a conviction in the Lindbergh case may be a rocky one. The fact that a man is found in possession of money definitely identifiable as the ransom money may be damning, in the eyes of the general public; in a court of law, more evidence is needed.

Now this does not necessarily mean that the law is, as Mr. Bumble once remarked, "a ass." The law is quite properly devised so that an accused man gets the benefit of every doubt. A man must not be convicted on mere likelihood; the jury must be certain.

But it does throw a light on some of the difficulties that lie in the path of a prosecutor. A case that looks strong to the man in the street may look weak indeed to the lawyer in Pampa or elsewhere.

A Washington Daybook

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — The future showers of dead cats may fall more often on the White House lawn and thud more often against the White House walls.

For the "dead cat shield" is gone and President Roosevelt will be more in the direct line of fire, with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson out of the NRA.

Johnson's successor, Donald Richberg, will play a far less protective role for his chief, as he has made it plain that the new NRA board is little more than an advisory group to the president.

Johnson personally "took the rap" for a great deal of criticism and so strong and so broad a pair of shoulders will be missed.

After Oct. 15, when the blunt cavalryman takes his departure from NRA offices—where his work already is terminated—the politically minded wonder what will be the effect. One thing is certain—Johnson will be missed, not only as a dead cat target, but as a personality, a phrase corner, and a tremendously vital force.

His best friends will tell you that the general meant it when he said, in a vibrant voice, "I love that man," referring to the president, and he showed it in the manner and words of his bowing out. They don't expect any great repercussions when the general breaks into print.

The vast NRA offices which occupy more than a whole floor of the giant Commerce Building here are all the product of the one man regime of Johnson. It was 15 months ago that he moved into a small and crowded office here with a mere skeleton organization.

Under him, it grew to the nearly 4,000 people (2,676 in the capital) who make up the Blue Eagle's brood today.

From the modest start at $50,000 a month, it now costs nearly $1,000,000 a month to maintain the NRA organization.

The New Dealers, with November elections in the offing, have gone literary in a big way, and the president, with his "annual report" book once a year, is placed in the shade by his associates.

Secretary Wallace's second book since entering the cabinet, "New Frontiers," is just being issued. Secretary Perkins' "People at Work" is still prominent on the shelves. Donald Richberg, who admits he hasn't had time to write one, watches his publishers reissue a book he wrote some years ago, "A Man of Purpose."

Secretary Ickes' "The New Democracy," is just out, and forthcoming soon is Attorney-General Cummings' "Liberty Under Law and Administration."

Don't get the idea that any of these persons neglect their regular work to write books. Cummings', for in their regular work to write books. Cummings', for in-lace dictates.

much for the land, which adjoined Howard University, local colored educational institution. It was to have been called Howard City. PWA officials are going to try for another site, but give fair warning that they won't go for any inflated values.

With President Roosevelt planning another $2,000,000,000 public works program, we'll have to admit he's giving the unemployed the works.

"In union there is strength," says labor's slogan, but we'll soon learn whether it is as strong as steel.

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell says he'd like to see the United States build 50 dirigibles like the ill-fated Akron, which is all right if we have a few more like him to inflate the bags.

Huey Long Wins Supreme Court Bench Election

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 10 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long chalked up another victory at the polls today and went back to New Orleans to complete the political annihilation of his arch-enemy, Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley.

Lieut.-Gov. John B. Fournet, candidate of the "Klingfish" in yesterday's "extra primary" election of a state supreme court justice in the third district, defeated District Judge Thomas Porter, who based his campaign almost solely on his opposition to Long.

Unofficial returns from 234 of the district's 256 precincts gave Fournet 20,532 votes and Porter, 16,623 votes. Porter claimed he was elected in the September primary. He contended that as his opponent, Justice Winston Overton of the supreme court, died a few days before the balloting, he was unopposed and therefore the democratic nominee.

Long, however, had the district democratic executive committee declare the primary "null and void" and the new election was called for yesterday.

OFFICIAL MOVIES OF WAR WILL BE SHOWN IN CITY TODAY ONLY

"Forgotten Men," a war spectacle with official film from the archives of the world's fourteen warring nations, will be shown at the La Nora today only.

This is an unbiased official record of each nation's participation in a struggle where millions of men fought like demons; died in droves; faced death, devastation, despair and destruction to make one of the most stupendous action spectacles ever photographed. Al Handy, a Sergeant-Major of the American Expeditionary Forces, who saw exciting service at Kimmel Hill, Hingham Line, Bellecourt and Somme, explains the American sections of the film in "Forgotten Men" which predominate, in a clear, concise manner. Sergeant Handy was wounded at St. Soupley in October, 1918 and received the following decorations: Silver Star, Purple Heart, Croix de Guerre and Conspicuous Service Cross.

You will actually see "U" boats sinking ships; cannons belching death and destruction; sky fighters crashing to death in flames; air raiders showering missiles of devastation; machine guns murdering thousands; the horrors of hand-to-hand fighting and killing with bayonets; fierce fighting with the most hideous of weapons—liquid fire; Zeppelin raids; hundreds of tanks spitting venomous death; and the twisted mass of strangled horses in the wake of a gas attack.

The American scenes are most astounding, starting with the Declaration of War up to the signing of the armistice. Every scene is real—not staged! Hundreds of cameramen of all nations died that you might now see it.

Owing to the great number of casualties and the actual killings that are plainly visible, it is not recommended for those having weak hearts or for nervous people who

SHAWNEE HAS VETERAN CLUB BACK FOR TILT

HAS ALREADY PLAYED THREE BEST TEAMS IN OKLAHOMA

A pack of snapping, snarling Wolves will come out of Shawnee, Okla., Friday night with the set purpose of winning another game of football from the Pampa Harvesters under the lights at Harvesters field. The Wolves last year won a 7 to 0 game on their own field.

Shawnee has been keeping its power and ability to itself to this season. No information as to the size, ability, and prowess of the Wolves has been received in Pampa and it will be an unknown club that will face the Harvesters at 8 o'clock Friday night.

It is known, however, that Shawnee has an almost veteran team back this season. The team has already met three of the strongest high school teams in Oklahoma this season, winning one game, tying one, and losing the other by one point.

Harvester coaches have been working their charges at top speed since defeating North Side of Fort Worth last week. New plays have been assigned and yesterday a light scrimmage session followed nearly two hours of punting, passing, blocking, and tackling.

Many of the Harvesters are suffering from bruises received in the game last Friday or in scrimmage sessions last week. As a result, there will be no heavy scrimmage this week. Another light scrimmage is in order for this afternoon. Tomorrow will be set aside for running plays and defensive work.

The work of W. J. Brown, brother of a Pampa star of many years ago, has been outstanding this week. The little halfback has been showing much improvement in his ball carrying while his defensive play has been outstanding. He will see plenty of service in the game Friday night, coaches declared.

Red Fanning has been doing much consistent punting in the past few weeks and may get the call to do considerable booting in future games. He will be ineligible for play Friday night because of his grades.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: William Brown has been accused of accepting $10,000 to pass defective work on a school building as the result of evidence gathered by Jenny Case, his jilted fiancée. Marian Gordon, Daily Dispatch reporter, has been held so long on the case that she has missed a dinner date with Lon Casad, who is most important in her scheme of things. But just as the jury announces it has reached a verdict, Lon arrives in the courtroom, and Marian feels better about everything.

Chapter Four VERDICT
William Brown was deathly pale. He had affected an air of assurance which seemed almost grotesque when one noticed the twitching nerve in his upper cheek, and the quick clenching and unclenching of his hands.

Linda Brown, present at this important moment, seemed the more composed of the two, but Marian wondered if that composure wasn't a feigned defiance of Jenny Case, who sat watching—like Tabby waiting for me to put the saucer on the floor.

The judge was on the bench, had questioned the jurors and the foreman was on his feet, the folded slip which contained the future of William Brown in his hand.

"We the jury," he said in his sonorous voice, "find the defendant, William Brown," he paused impressively, "not guilty."

A roar swept over the courtroom in spite of the rapping of the bailiff's gavel. Marian, eyes intent upon Jersey Case, saw the girl's mouth open in ludicrous astonishment. She started to arise as though to protest, then sat back, jerked there by the hand of someone beside her.

"But he is guilty—her lips formed the phrase.
Marian turned to the defendant who had stood to accept the verdict. He had sank into a chair as though his knees had suddenly given away.

Linda was standing, not looking at her father, but gazing over his head, across the room at Jenny, bitter triumph in her expression.

"And that's that," remarked Marian wearily to Lon, "come on, let's get out. Jones will phone in the story, I'll report to Bowen tomorrow."

"They made their way through the crowds to the street and Lon's rooster.

"Marian," said Lon, "you look worn out. I'm going to take you straight home. Ian, this work is too hard on you, I'm going to—" he stopped as a driver shot his car up on the left hand side, then cut directly in front of him, "can't talk here, I'll talk to you tomorrow night."

SAILOR WINS LAST 2 FALLS FROM HIS FOE

PAT GARRISON THROWS LOBO BROWN IN 18 MINUTES

Sailor Clingman took a lot of punishment before going after Charlie Carr at his game last night at the Pla-Mor auditorium. The sailor lost the first fall but took the next two in rapid order, although he was nearly out at the close of the last fall.

Pat Garrison, substituting for Kid Thomas of Borger, threw Lobo Brown of Amarillo in 18 minutes with a series of body slams and a body smother. The bout started fast with both grapplers using many holds. Both used slams, head scissors, and arm locks but suddenly somebody did something wrong and they exchanged arm stretches before Garrison started his series of slams. Fug Cole was the third man in the ring.

Jack Van Beber of Lubbock won an uninteresting semi-final from chief Wa-Shawn, Apache Indian, when he pinned him in 25 minutes following a series of body slams. Van Beber did most of the wrestling with the Indian getting in a few holds. The Indian was a husky-looking specimen but he didn't live up to his looks or advance reputation of being a rough and tough mauler.

Van Beber used slams, arm locks, splits, and drop kicks. The only hold used effectively by Wa-Shawn was a hammerlock, but Van Beber broke them by sending the Indian to his knees. They exchanged arm stretches just before Van Beber started his series of slams and smother to win.

A blind war veteran sang several numbers preceding the main event, and then introduced the contest. Lobo Brown was the third man in the ring. He almost got the worst of the argument. Carr opened by gouging Clingman's eyes and then choking. Clingman slammed Carr and got headlocks but Carr bit the sailor. Clingman got a toe hold but Carr came up with a spine and gouged Clingman's eyes and then slammed the referee and Clingman both, pinning Clingman in nine minutes.

Clingman started slamming Carr to open the second fall but the referee broke up the fight and got a full Nelson. They exchanged holds in rapid succession with Clingman having much the better of the wrestling. Then Carr got dirty and Clingman got mad. He pulled Carr back through the ropes, drop-kicked him several times, and then pinned him in five minutes.

Things really got rough in the last fall. Carr gouged and choked but Clingman came back by forcing Carr over the ropes and choking him with both hands. Clingman drop-kicked Carr but that worthy came back and kicked Clingman through the ropes. As Clingman returned, Carr got an airplane spin but as he fell, Clingman rolled on top and pinned the Louisiana's shoulders to the mat in 6 minutes.

It was announced during the evening that Pat Garrison and Eddie O'Shea, two lovable Irishmen, will meet in a 30-minute time limit affair with nothing barred next week.

way to your place in a cab. I've given him orders on the pictures I want. You'll reach Reno at midnight tonight. Marks, our correspondent there, will meet you in his car and rush you to the resort where Silver has been living. He says he can make it in an hour and a half by taking a short cut. That gives you an hour to get your story and telephone it back here. I'll keep the wires cleared for your call. Okay?"

"Okay," responded Marian still in a dazed voice.
She placed the receiver back on the hook, then turned to find Anne studying her with apprehension. "Pack my overnight bag, will you, Anne?" Marian asked, "it seems I'm on my way to Reno on the toughest assignment I've ever tackled."

As she bathed and dressed she talked, answering Anne's questions sketchily.
"Silver...? She's the gorgeous girl I used to go to Hills with. I was a frosh when she was a junior and she took me under her wing. Oh, she had reasons. I was a perfect foil, long and lanky and freckled as a Plymouth Rock hen. What's she like? A composite picture of all the physical beauty in the world, pale, golden hair, big brown eyes, lovely real color in the most petal-like skin you ever longed to touch. She used to wear silks and satins when the rest of us were wearing serge and linen."

BOOS FREQUENT IN CONVENTION OF LABOR BODY

New AFL Members Are Called 'Rubbish'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10. (AP)—Bitter resentment of trade union leaders against the description of their new members as "rubbish" brought forebodings of a tempest today on the floor of the American Federation of Labor convention here.

Refusing to let go unchallenged the insinuation these new members do not measure up to the caliber of older members of the A. F. of L., Francis J. Gorman, head of the United Textile Workers, declared he will have such inferences be stricken from the convention records.

The threatened fight revolves around a loudly boomed statement made before the convention yesterday by Daniel J. Tobin, international president of the teamsters' union.

"While pleading that drivers of beer wagons should come under the jurisdiction of the teamsters rather than the Brewery Workers' Union, Tobin declared:
"Our organization is made up of staunch unionists. We have none of the rubbish that has come into other organizations during the last year."

The prolonged "boos" breaking out after this remark were the first, A. F. of L. veterans said, they ever had heard on the convention floor against an international union president.

The buzz of criticism heard against Tobin's statement presaged the possibility Gorman's motion today might evoke discussion overshadowing temporarily the building trades department dispute and the preliminary report of the resolutions committee.

The building trades controversy comes before the convention this afternoon when the adjustment committee brings in its report.
The department refused in its convention a week before the general A. F. of L. meeting to seat delegates from the carpenters, brick layers and electrical workers international unions.

The A. F. of L. executive council

BOY KING IS EN ROUTE TO NATIVE LAND

11-YEAR OLD LAD IS RETURNING FROM ENGLAND

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP)—Peter Karageorge, 11 years old, fumbled into the last night a carefree schoolboy at Sanroyd school. Today he arose as King Peter II, ruler of Yugoslavia.

The news of his father's tragic death at Marseille, kept from him all night was imparted early this morning. Before Peter could realize the significance of the news he was en route to Belgrade.

Last night the housemaster was notified to arouse Peter earlier than his dormitory mates. With sleep still in his eyes he was awakened, a message was whispered in his ear that urgent news awaited him in the headmaster's office.

Dressing hastily, Peter followed the housemaster to the school office where his tutor, C. C. Parrott, and the headmaster were seated. Probably still wondering what school rules he had broken, the news was imparted that changed him from Peter Karageorge to King Peter II.

rules the building trades action illegal and the department appealed to the convention. The adjustment committee was expected to support the executive council.
If it does, a "legal" meeting of the department would be called in Washington, D. C., within 45 days. The three "outcast" unions with the support of four other sympathetic groups would dominate that gathering at which new officers would be elected.

Among matters referred to the resolutions committee is one introduced by John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers that industrial unions as well as craft unions be given a place in the A. F. of L.

Under the industrial union plan, all employes within one industry, no matter what their type of work, belong to the union in that industry.

PROFESSOR OF ART SHOWS HOW BEAUTY ABOUNDS IN OIL FIELD

FORT WORTH, Oct. 10.—Texas oil fields are not usually regarded as artistic. Prof. S. P. Ziegler, head of the department of art at Texas Christian university, however, holds views that differ from those of most persons. This artist is working on a series of lithographs and etchings depicting various phases of the oil industry in Texas.

"My plan in making this series," he says, "is to leave a record, one which is as complete as I have time to make it, of the methods by which the oil industry is carried on today. To date the subjects for the pictures have been rather broad and general. I hope soon to add to the series more intimate and detailed subjects, such as the men at work in the various processes used in the industry."

Prof. Ziegler began the work back in 1927 in West Texas, and most of his subjects to date are selected from that field. More than 50 lithographs and etchings have been made so far, including such items as the Eastland discovery field, a burning slush pit, an oil refinery, derrick, "gasers," etc.

Prof. Ziegler won first prize in the Southern States Art League exhibition held in San Antonio in 1929, with his lithograph of the Eastland discovery field.

Heisermann, of Mt Holly, said: "He gave the children an electric train and then turned off the current. He made her cook with an oil stove so she would buy kerosene at his service station. He deliberately passed up chances to make money so he couldn't support her." The chancery court granted the wife a $10 a week support order.

Peter took along only one small brown suitcase, regulation equipment for boys at a preparatory school. He was dressed simply in a grey flannel suit and still wore his scholar's cap. His tutor and a special detective accompanied him.

As the automobile left the school grounds on which Peter yesterday played games with his mates, the new king looked straight ahead as though wondering what the future has in store for him.

Peter celebrated his eleventh birthday September 9, at Bled, Yugoslavia.
He had looked forward to that day as one he could spend with his father whom he loved affectionately. But Alexander was too busy with affairs of state and Peter, upon being informed he could not have an airplane or at least a motorcycle for his birthday is reported to have said: "It will be so much more fun when I am grown up because then I can do just as I wish like papa does—shoot, and sail, and fly."

Today the father who was too busy lies dead from an assassin's bullet—the son, only 11 years old is king, with airplanes, motorcycles, and a troubled kingdom as his legacy.

To Every Car Owner in Texas

THE Continental Oil Company will within a few months celebrate its Sixtieth Anniversary. It began business in 1875. In this time it has grown from a sectional organization to a far-flung institution. And yet, we are just as local in operation as is a single store in your home town.

We are "home folks" to Texans and, I am sure, always will be. The goodwill we enjoy from the people of my division—Texas—is my greatest satisfaction. All of us—Conoco jobbers, dealers and employees—thank you for your confidence and patronage.

We try to merit this patronage by being respectful and courteous at our stations and, more important, by supplying products that fit the needs of Texas motorists. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, for instance, was developed to give you greater motor protection and lower oil consumption.

But before we offered it to you, we put it up against five other nationally known oils in a Destruction Test on the Indianapolis Speedway. We ruined six brand new motors to show you how to protect yours. How we won out in this test is told in an interesting booklet that you can get at any Conoco Station. Please drive in and ask for a copy.

Sincerely yours,

QUEEN KEEPS CALM IN FACE OF DISASTER

KEEPS DRY-EYED AND FIRMLY ERECT IN PUBLIC

MARSEILLE, France, Oct. 10 (AP)—Queen Marie went to her slain soldier-husband today, dry-eyed and firmly erect.

She went "just as a queen should," said Francois Pietri, French minister of the navy. "She spared herself nothing."

When Queen Marie, a sister of King Carol of Rumania, learned at Briancon the king had been assassinated, she asked that he be left exactly as he was and where he died. She found him there, stretched out on a couch in the police prefecture.

For 20 minutes she remained alone with her dead, kneeling beside her husband's body as Pietri and others withdrew.

Marie was shaken by grief when she learned of the death aboard her train and fainted several times during the night. But when she arrived she apparently regained her composure although showing signs of the tragic strain.

The queen arrived in the early dawn aboard a special train with only four passengers, Mme. Edouard Herriot, wife of the former premier, caught the train along the line late at night and tried to comfort her. She brought with her black so the queen could arrive dressed in mourning.

The only others were the lady-in-waiting and Court Marshal Dimitrijevitch.

Pietri met the queen and expressed his and France's grief. Then, walking steadily between the court marshal and Mme. Joughannaud, wife of the Marseille prefect who was with the king when he died, and who closed his eyes, Marie entered an automobile and was driven swiftly past bare-headed, silent little groups to the prefecture death chamber.

The queen came from the room, haggard and shaken and apparently near collapse. She controlled herself and went to a room in Madame Joughannaud's apartment in the prefecture.

There she discussed what must be done and disapproved a plan to array the king in the uniform of a marshal of the army. Instead, she said, he should be dressed as she knew he would wish—in the simple field uniform of a common Yugoslav soldier.

When the queen had gone the vast room of the prefecture was transformed into a chapel. The body of Foreign Minister Louis Barthou was brought from the hospital.

Sherman White Discusses Boy's Work at Meeting

"The best reform school anywhere is our own home, and I wonder if it isn't the only one," said County Attorney Sherman White today in a talk before the Rotary club on a program devoted to boys' work.

The program, which included a reading by Farris Oden, was arranged by Lee Bowden, scoutmaster of troop 20 and chairman of the boys' work committee of the Rotary club.

Mr. White told of the work of law enforcement officers and the fine cooperation of the Pampa Child Welfare board and other interested citizens. He told of the various Texas homes for homeless, dependent and delinquent boys and girls. He told of the few cases in which it was necessary to send from Gray county.

He urged that parents accept the responsibility of looking after their children, pointing out that any boy or girl from the best of families needs guidance. He thanked civic clubs for their part in supplying funds and giving help in the child welfare work of Pampa and this territory.

Interesting figures on fire losses and the costs in time, money and lives caused by fires were given by Mrs. Lillian Jordan, president of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club. She urged care in handling matches and proper checking up of fire hazards around the home.

C. O. Huber, John Locke, and E. W. Statton were visitors today.

Following the program President Earl O'Keefe called a meeting for 7:30 Thursday night of directors and all committee chairmen of the club.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—Stocks snapped back briskly today following their setback of the previous session. There were many advances of 1 to 3 points and final prices were around the best of the day. The activity expanded on the upturn, with transfers approximating $50,000 shares. The close was firm.

CENTENNIAL

He concluded by reading the Texas declaration of independence.

Publisher R. H. Nichols of Vernon, member of the state Centennial commission, in a short address referred to the general ignorance of Texas people about their state history. He believes the Centennial will be worthwhile from an educational standpoint alone. Financially, the Centennial is likely to be enormously successful, he added. There are 15 millions of people living within one night's ride of Dallas, and undoubtedly visitors would come from all parts of the nation, and would visit all parts of the state. Basically, the Centennial is a huge piece of advertising, which should have lasting beneficial results.

Possibility of securing federal aid for the project was mentioned by Mr. Nichols.

An excellent and authentic one-act play written by Archer Fullingim was presented by a high school class under the direction of Ben Guill, high school teacher. The play, called "Introduction to a Sacrifice," showed Stephen F. Austin shortly after his return from imprisonment in Mexico. Against the advice of relatives who feared his delicate health would not permit participation in the revolution, and his desire for a quiet pastoral life, he joined Travis and other patriots in the struggle, providing the steady influence needed to prevent petty jealousies in the army from disrupting the revolution.

Odell Walker was cast as Stephen F. Austin; Ella Faye O'Keefe as Mrs. Emily Perry, his sister; Paul Schneider as Samuel Williams, his secretary; Dorothy Harris as Mrs. Mary Holley, his cousin; and Mrs. Bob Johnson as William Barret Travis, the patriot. Otto Rice spoke the prologue.

Judge Ivy Duncan was toastmaster. He was introduced, after preliminary remarks, by Clarence Kennedy, president of the Junior chamber.

Local speakers, recalling that Pampa's first Pre-Centennial was seen by 20,000 persons, told of the possibilities of these celebrations and of plans for Pampa's events of 1935 and 1936. It was emphasized that Pampa is not opposing any Centennial plans but is urging that every community take note of its history and illustrate its most outstanding event in pageantry.

C. C. Bishop of Wellington, chairman of the Centennial organization in the Panhandle, told of plans made some time ago at a session of representatives of some of the counties for an "All-Panhandle" celebration in 1936. He appointed Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon to plan the program, with a committee, and select the site. Dr. Hill said the Palo Duro canyon had been selected.

Various county representatives spoke enthusiastically of the Centennial and thanked the Jaycees for arranging the banquet.

Visitors including advisory board members present were as follows: Mrs. C. A. Burton, Mrs. A. T. Cole,

Gerhard Files A Damage Suit

AMARILLO, Oct. 10.—Charging that his arrest in Antonito, Colo., this summer, and the search of his automobile upon a theft warrant sworn out by J. C. Anderson, Jr., of Amarillo, were without proper reason, and claiming his reputation and business have been injured, Henry Gerhard, of Gray County, has filed suit against the Home Owners Loan Corporation official for $25,000.

The suit, filed in 47th District Court here, charges that Gerhard's automobile was searched and that he and his wife were arrested, in the presence of several friends, at Antonito on August 24, upon Anderson's suspicion that he and Mrs. Gerhard had stolen two diamond rings belonging to Mrs. L. D. Parker.

Gerhard states that the rings were not found in his automobile. He asks $15,000 actual and $10,000 exemplary damages.

The petition states that Gerhard is engaged in buying and selling milk and cream in Gray county.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 (AP)—The market turned easy at the beginning of the second hour, due to some hedge selling and rather heavy liquidation of foreign interests. December broke through the 12-cent line to 11.97, March dropped to 12.08, and May to 12.16, or 9 to 11 points below yesterday's close.

Later in the morning the market rallied sharply on shorts covering and buying induced by a sharp upturn in wheat and by reports of a good demand for spots.

December advanced to 12.10, March to 12.20 and May to 12.28, or 12 to 13 points up from the earlier lows, and one to three points above the close of yesterday.

Near noon the market was active and at the highs.

Church Members To Have Special Revival Service

Members of First Baptist church will be the special guests at their own service this evening, First Baptist church night in the revival now in progress. Crowds are increasing from this and nearby communities.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, minister, said that last night's crowd was the largest week-day crowd since the church was built. Many attended the first morning service yesterday.

Morning sermons, at 10 a. m., are a series on what Baptists teach and believe. Those who attend are asked to bring their Bibles for use as a text book.

George Wilson, Sioux Indian who is in charge of songs, will be back tonight after a short absence. A large, well-trained choir assists him in leading enthusiastic congregational singing.

Services start promptly at 7:30 and end by 9 p. m. The sermon subject this evening is Who Is Going to Hell From Pampa? Sunday afternoon at 3 the evangelist, a Russian Jew, will speak on "Why the Jews rejected Christ when he first came, why they reject him today, and why I, Jew, accepted him as my savior."

Appelman preached last night on "Following Jesus." He declared, using the lives of Abraham, of Moses, of David, of Peter, of Paul, of Moody, of Sunday, of George Truett, as illustrations, that those who had put their hands into the hand of God, giving up their lives in unhesitating obedience to His service, have been made great by the power of God. He called attention briefly to the facts of his own life, claiming that only the power of Christ could have taken a crooked young Jew lawyer and made a Gospel preacher out of him.

"There never has been a time in the history of the world," he went on to say, "when loyal, true-hearted, courageous, honest-to-the-lord Jesus-Christ-followers of the cross were more needed than they are today, and right here in Pampa."

Appelman plead with the great congregation before him "to forsake sin in any and every form, big sins, little sins, in between sins, sins of omission, sins of commission; to clear the track for the presence and power of the Holy Ghost, so that a great work might

WHEN YOU'RE TOO TIRED TO GO ON...

Get a LIFT with a Camel!

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

ANY TOBACCO MAN WILL TELL YOU:
"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

In light of the recent scientific confirmation of the "energizing effect" in Camels, note what Miss Engelhard, champion woman mountain climber, says:
"Mountain climbing is great sport, but don't try it unless you have plenty of energy. Many times up there above the timber line, within a short climb of the goal, I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. A Camel lifts me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on to the mountain top!"
People in every walk of life have found that Camels increase their energy. Perhaps you have observed this among your own circle of friends.
You'll like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more, so go ahead! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

SALESMAN E. W. Davis says: "I'll say this for Camel's costlier tobaccos—they taste better! And when I'm tired a Camel revives my energy!"

BOAT RACER Florence Burnham says: "For a long time I have been a Camel fan. Camels, being so much milder, never disturb my nerves. I smoke them all I want."

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves!

And providing further that the City Commission may, at its discretion, order the transfer of any license from the original licensee, or the unexpired portion thereof, to another person, upon the application of the owners of said license and the filing by the transferee of the application provided for in Section II hereof, and the payment by the transferee to the City Secretary of a fee of

Section VIII: Public Liability Insurance

Section XII: Constitutionality
Any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is hereby declared to be unconstitutional or invalid by the courts, such decision shall not effect the validity of the remaining portion of this ordinance and the City Commission hereby declares that it would have past this ordinance and each section, sub-section, sentence, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the other sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional and invalid.

be done in Pampa for Christ." He insisted that "true Christians would be found anywhere and everywhere serving Jesus, doing His will, carrying on His activities, loyal to His church, to His people, to His kingdom activities." He pleaded with the Christians gathered there to give themselves to the task of winning souls to and for the Son of God. He stirred the hearts of the congregation by telling of an incident during the last war when a company of American soldiers made a bridge of their own wounded, dying bodies across a barbed-wire entanglement in No Man's Land. "In some such fashion," he cried, "must we Christians make bridges of our own lives that over them sinners might come to Christ and be saved."

Immunitization Is Made Efficient in Diphtheria Fight

Immunitization against diphtheria during the last few years has been so improved that it would be almost possible to stamp out the disease, if every child were given the inoculation. A few years ago the inoculation consisted of two or three injections at weekly intervals giving sixty-five per cent of those inoculated protection. At present statistics show that with the new one-dose immunitization as high as ninety-six per cent of those inoculated is reached.

These statistics are based on observations made on children under ten years of age from four to six months after they were immunized. It is common knowledge that diphtheria usually becomes more widespread during the winter. Thus, it can be seen that it is wise to have children immunized in advance of the season of greatest incidence so that some time may elapse during which the immunity develops.

Parents are urged to have their children immunized now.

JUST LIKE READING IN Daylight!

When you say that about your own reading lamp, rest assured that you have the proper light. For daylight is the best kind of light there is. The nearer we come to daylight quality in our home lighting, the further we remove the possibility of eyestrain.

Make it a habit to read under lamp bulbs of at least 100 watts, and make sure that you are using good lamps—then you will know you are getting light of uniform quality and that you are getting all the light you pay for.

You can improve your lighting still more by painting or papering in light colors, especially the ceiling which reflects and diffuses light all over the room.

Make sure too that the eyes of your family get enough light. Eyesight is your most precious possession.

LAST WORLD SERIES GAME IS AS ROUGH AS GRID BATTLE OR MAT MATCH

MARTIN PLAYS LIKE BLOCKING GRID HALFBACK

ROUGHTEST PLAY IN ANY SERIES IN LAST TWO GAMES

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DETROIT, Oct. 10 (AP)—The fabulous Brothers Dean and the St. Louis Cardinals bestirred the baseball world today like a Siamese twin colossus, and St. Louis rules the national pastime again for the third time in nine years.

Sharing in their world series glory is the entire National league, for years the underdog in the annual fall baseball battle. Not only did the big Brother Dizzy and 17 Brothers Paul subdue the Detroit Tigers four times in seven games, something never before approached in baseball history, but the senior circuit can boast its third conquest in four years, and consider wiped out forever the humiliation heaped on it by the Yankees and Athletics.

The shoe is on the other foot, and it is the American league's turn to rub rueful heads and prepare for a winter of worrying over the swing of the balance of power in exactly the opposite direction in four short years. St. Louis beat the Athletics in seven games in 1931, and though the Yanks trounced the Cubs in 1932, the Giants beat the Senators last fall.

The Cards failed to wipe off the books the record rally of ten runs in one inning the Athletics piled up on the Cubs, but they came close enough as they closed out the riotous 7-game battle yesterday with big Dizzy's second victory, a shutout scored by the widest margin in series history, 11 to 0, effecting another National league record, Christy Mathewson's 9 to 0 whitewashing of the Athletics for the Giants in 1915.

They rammed home seven runs in the third, routing two pitchers who had beaten them earlier in the series, and the wobbly young giant, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe. They disposed of the Indian left hander, Elton (Big Chief) Hogeist, who had held them in subjection previously in relief roles. They subsided temporarily under the influence of Tommy Bridges, the slim curve ball artist who pitched the Tigers' third victory, but they broke out all over again in the sixth and seventh innings to complete a vengeful day with four more runs.

Medwick Expelled.

Almost transcending the ball game though, was the unprecedented demonstration of 17,000 disgusted faithful in the left field bleachers, halting the ball game for 17 minutes between halves of the sixth inning, and finally forcing another history-making decision, the expulsion by High Commissioner K. M. Landis of Joe Medwick, Cardinal left fielder, to complete the wild picture of what the boys are already referring to as the psychopathic series.

Incensed at the whole proceedings in general, and Medwick in particular, the Detroit fandom that lived and died thousands of deaths this summer loyally rooting the Tigers into the American league pennant suddenly cracked wide open under the strain of the route. Medwick's brief clash with Marvin Owen, Detroit's third baseman, as the Cardinal slugger slid into third after tripping to far right center off Bridges, provided the spark for the outraged explosion.

Owen Starts It.

Medwick boomed into third with plenty of gusto, and observers in the press box overhead, peering down intently, saw the third baseman flick his right foot quickly at Medwick's legs. The chunky Cardinal, a firebrand all through the series, still lying on the ground after his bid, promptly reared back with both feet, and lashed out with his spikes toward the upper part of Owen's body.

They were both very mad, but as they jumped for each other, Umpire Bill Klem, who was almost standing over the play, and athletes from both sides, rushed in, pushed them in opposite directions, cooled them off, and the game went on.

The score was 9 to 0 in favor of the Cards, and Bridges was firing rapidly. The Tiger fandom, seeing the demoralization of their first world series view in 25 years, burst all series record bounds of indignation.

Medwick Pelted.

They pelted oranges, banana peels, hot dog buns, apples, pop bottles, anything they could reach, over the screen in left at Medwick as he trotted out to his position starting the Tigers' half of the sixth. They booed and roared with the abandon of the outraged, and in a twinkling they started all over again, there again covered with debris. Medwick retreated to let the storm die out, and everyone stood around for a few minutes while groundkeepers cleaned the place up.

But the moment Medwick tried to stroll nonchalantly back, the mad mob ever since he took over the management last winter, there was nothing for Umpire-in-Chief Harry Gelsel to do but appeal to Landis.

The shaggy-haired potentate called the culprit, Medwick and Owen, to his box, along with the umpires and managers Frankie Frisch and Cochrane for a sort of rump court martial in full view of everyone. He asked Medwick if he had any reason for kicking at Owen and the outfielder, with 40,902 witnesses, the official attendance, against him, he didn't. Asked, then, why he had done it, Medwick replied:

Taken Away.

"Well, you know a lot of things happen when you slide into third."

Landis immediately thumbed him away and Joe strode off in the company of five policemen, for safekeeping, and the subjugation of the Tigers went on.

Medwick also might have told Landis that a lot of things happen when you slide into the plate, too, for it was his plunge into Cochrane in the third inning of the second game here, when he was thrown out by Cochrane for a sort of rump court martial in full view of everyone. He asked Medwick if he had any reason for kicking at Owen and the outfielder, with 40,902 witnesses, the official attendance, against him, he didn't. Asked, then, why he had done it, Medwick replied:

Taken Away.

"Well, you know a lot of things happen when you slide into third."

Landis immediately thumbed him away and Joe strode off in the company of five policemen, for safekeeping, and the subjugation of the Tigers went on.

They Amaze Even Their Own Mates; "We Are Just Now Getting Warm-ed Up"

DETROIT, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Deans, Dizzy and Paul, are going to keep right on pitching.

While most of the world series players packed their grips for a big push to the wide open spaces to catch up on some long lost sleep or chase jackrabbits, wild boar or deer, Dizzy and Daffy still couldn't resist the lure of the diamond. They are preparing, to the amazement of even their own mates, to join a baseball barnstorming troupe.

"Shucks, Paul and me are just getting warmed up," boasted the famous Dizzy, who has pitched in "only" nine games—three of them world series engagements—over the past 19 days. "I feel like I can throw baseballs all winter and then start right out on the 1935 season. So does Paul."

"Sure," broke in Paul. "I'm in great shape now. 'Am I tired?'"

So, the two brothers, who won 49 games between them in the great Cardinal rush for the National league pennant and all four St. Louis victories in the world series, are going to keep on throwing 'em. Dizzy didn't know exactly, but thought he and Paul would join the barnstormers in Chicago next Sunday.

Manager Frankie Frisch of the new world's champions and Mickey Cochrane, pilot of the tamed Tigers, wanted nothing but sleep.

"I'm going to stay in bed for five days," said Frisch. "Am I tired?'"

"Me for some good shut-eye," Mickey said, "and then two weeks of golfing and hunting. After that, I'm going to Honolulu for three weeks vacation."

SOUTHWEST IS GOING STRONG THIS SEASON

CONFERENCE IS BACK IN NATIONAL PICTURE

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (AP)—The Southwest conference, first brought into national football prominence by the spectacular air raids of Ray Morrison's Southern Methodist Mustangs, is riding high, wide and handsome again this year.

It has been no secret, of course, that good football and plenty of it was being played by the six big Texas school and their non-Texas conferees, the University of Arkansas, but it took Rice's decisive conquest of Purdue and Texas' victory over Notre Dame last week to boost the conference back into the national sport picture.

During the off season, no conference in the country so radically shifted its coaching lineups, and both Rice and Texas scored their amazing triumphs under the leadership of new pilots. The 9-9 tie with Louisiana State's powerful Tigers and then the setback of Purdue have started Jimmy Kille's regime at Rice off to a booming getaway. Jack Chevigny, a Notre Dame star of a few years back, is the pilot at Texas.

The other two new loashes, Homer Norton at Texas A. and M., and Leo Meyer at Texas Christian, have been less successful. Norton turned out a series of strong defensive elevens at Centenary but his Texas Aggies have been whipped soundly by Temple and tied by Texas A. and I.

The hold-over, coaches include Morrison at S. M. U., where another fine team is on hand; Fred Thomson at Arkansas and Morley Jennings at Baylor. Arkansas again has one of the best outfits in the conference but the Razorbacks, playing all their games in the Southwest, are not so well known "abroad."

Rice and Southern Methodist meet in the banner game of the Southwest's Saturday card while Arkansas, with a conference victory over Texas Christian to its credit, plays Baylor. Texas hopes to stop Oklahoma's Sooners, hailed as one of the Big Six's best and Texas A. and M. faces Centenary, beaten by Oklahoma last week after going through 24 consecutive games without defeat. Texas Christian leaves its home quarters to battle Tulsa.

The conference's most important remaining inter-sectional games this season included Southern Methodist's tangle with Fordham at New York Oct. 27; Texas A. and M.'s just with Michigan State at San Antonio Dec. 8; Texas Christian's game with Santa Clara at Fort Worth Dec. 8; and Rice's contest with Creighton of the Missouri valley conference at Omaha Oct. 20.

SEVEN RECORDS ARE SET, NINE OTHERS TIED IN SERIES

Chain Baseball Pays, Say Cards

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 10 (AP)—"Chain baseball," as practiced by the St. Louis Cardinal management, paid dividends this year.

Yesterday the Missouri team in the majors won the world series, and last night the Columbus club, champions of the American Association, won the little world series, making it a gala day for Branch Rickey, et al.

The Birds won five of nine games from the Toronto Maple Leafs, who annexed the International league title.

The Birds won the series a year ago, and then the Cardinals took such stars as Rothrock, Burgess, Whitehead, and Paul Dean to St. Louis, and sold Bill Lee to Chicago. "This year, with the gaps filled with last year's substitutes and players brought in from other Cardinal farms, the club finished second in the Association race, and then beat Minneapolis in the play-off for the flag."

Yesterday afternoon the Leafs beat the Birds 5 to 1 to even the best classic at 10 games each, but last night the Ohio entry routed six Canadian hurriers to pile up 16 bingles and win 13 to 8.

Another Missouri team, Springfield, also a Cardinal farm, already had won the Western Association pennant for the season.

ADMISSION TO SHAWNEE TILT IS INCREASED

75 CENTS NECESSARY TO PAY TRAVELING EXPENSES

The football game between the Pampa Harvesters and the Shawnee Wolves will begin at 8 o'clock Friday night, with admission 75 cents general.

The increase in admission is necessary because of the long distance to be traveled by Shawnee, which gets traveling expense. The local athletic association has gone out of the state to bring some of the strongest teams to Pampa for games with the Harvesters, and to get strong competition, it is necessary to pay more.

Next Friday night the fast little McLean Tigers will come to Pampa for another game. Tickets to that game will be 50 cents general admission.

McLean last year held the Harvesters to a 6 to 6 score. McLean has another strong team this year, although having lost 6 to 0 games to Shamrock and Tulla, two of the strongest Class B teams in this section of the state.

Admission to all conference games will be 75 cents general admission. That price was set by the district committee.

Dizzy Needs a Shave But Is Smiling, Happy

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10 (AP)—A crowd of several thousand persons turned out to greet Dizzy and Paul Dean and the rest of the Cardinals as they returned from the world series wars this morning.

The Cardinals' world series special pulled in at 8 o'clock, mounted police and approximately 100 other officers struggled to keep the crowd back, without much success.

Dizzy Dean, who shutout the Detroit Tigers in the deciding game of the series yesterday, left the train wearing a white sun helmet. Dizzy needed a shave badly, but the whiskers did not bother his disposition. The great pitcher smilingly did everything the photographers asked of him. Ernie Osrath limped from injuries suffered in the series.

Within fifteen minutes after the train pulled in, a victory parade, headed by Mayor Bernard F. Pickmann, Breadon and Manager Frankie Frisch, got under way.

FIREMAN, SAVE MY BIRD!

WINNIPEG—Desperately, firemen battled to save the patient's life. Artificial respiration was resorted to. At last, the patient stirred; in a short time he was back to normal. Mrs. George Martin's pet parrot, nearly suffocated by smoke from a fire in the basement, was saved.

The main convention will convene in Miami, Fla., October 22.

The Atlanta celebration will include a parade, bugle corps competition, and other features.

Food-Faith-Fun Program Is At Church Tonight

The Why of Christian Nations, will be the discussion topic for weekly "food, faith, and fun night" at the First Methodist church this evening. Gaston Foote, pastor, will direct the discussion.

Starting with a covered dish supper at 7 o'clock, the hour will include recreation and the study period. All members of the church are invited to attend and bring their friends.

Forty-nine books were catalogued, 5 were donated, 57 were mended, 2 were lost, and 35 were overdue. Nine were given in lieu of fines. Fines assessed totaled $8.76, and rural patrons paid 70 cents for library privileges.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW ABOUT YOUR TELEPHONE

Scientists of Bell Laboratories are paid to be dissatisfied with telephone service... to find better ways of furnishing it... to keep the cost of service low. With their help, the men and women who give your telephone service here could not do their job so well.

1. The telephone had its birth nearly 60 years ago in a makeshift research laboratory, where Alexander Graham Bell watched a tiny straw attached to the eardrum from a human skull trace wavering lines on smoked glass. In the half century and more since then, the history of the telephone has been told in the countless scientific problems that have been solved.

2. Bell Telephone Laboratories, the research arm of the telephone service, has contributed the developments that led to transcontinental and transoceanic telephone calls; that make possible 1800, instead of 50, pairs of wires in a single telephone cable; that allow, by using special equipment, for few simultaneous conversations over a single long distance line.

3. Entirely as by-products of this research, the scientists employed at the laboratories have invented an artificial larynx for persons deprived of speech by throat operations, produced many aids for the hard of hearing, and developed equipment for sending pictures over wires.

INVENTIONS of the research scientists at Bell Laboratories have been devoted, not to swelling profits, but to improvements and economies that have aided this company in giving good service at a fair cost to the telephone user.

This policy has been adopted in the belief that, as much from your standpoint as from our own, it is sound and workable. It is based upon the feeling that in an undertaking planned like the telephone service for the long pull, what is best for the telephone user is in the end the course that will bring us the surer, more enduring success.
