By The Associated Press
Winter played an encore in Texas Saturday night. A sluggish cold front inched into the state. But behind it, it had the promise of a zip from sub-zero temperatures in Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. The genuine cold air was lagging behind the actual front in Texas.

Russians Vote On Single List Of Candidates

MOSCOW, Sunday, March 12.—(AP) — Citizens throughout the vast Soviet Union began casting their ballots this morning for delegates to the Supreme Soviet (parliament).

Polling booths opened at 6 a. m. local time, and the first voting started in the far eastern reaches of Siberia.

The election is for a single-list of candidates.

Members of the Politburo spoke in the campaign for the election of the state of Communist and non-party bloc candidates. They assured the people the big issue is the Soviet Union's policy of peace.

In the light of these statements, many foreign diplomats predicted Russia would make some overture toward a new effort to settle the barbed problems dividing the world, or at least come forward with a strong hint for an overture for the west.

Although tradition calls for Prime Minister Stalin to make a speech on election eve there was no indication late Saturday that he had done so.

U. S. delegation sources at the United Nations in New York said these newest speeches indicated there is widespread fear of war among the Russian people and the leaders are trying to calm them.

Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov said Friday night what Stalin has emphasized in repeated statements for four years — that Soviet policy is based on belief in the possibility of "peaceful co-existence of two systems (communist and capitalist); and their peaceful economic competition.

In other words, Molotov denied that Russia believes one system eventually must destroy the other by war.

He expressed reservations whether a similar belief is shared by a similar belief in his argument boiled down to this: Russia does not fear peaceful economic competition with capitalism; capitalism does. Therefore, if legislative matters, such as school support, would be fully developed in his campaign.

How about "hiblilly music?" Cuberson was asked, but he wasn't ready to say.

He said he hadn't held a union card for 40 years but wouldn't like to see wages go back to that level.

Culberson Hat In State Ring

AUSTIN — (AP) — Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson will run for governor on a platform hitting "run-away" cost of state government.

The stocky state official announced his candidacy Saturday, formally telling Texans what most have known for a long time. Culberson, 63, said his campaign actually has been under way for about a year and he has organizations in 134 counties.

"Firmly believing that a change in attitude is necessary towards the wasteful operation and run-away cost of our state government, I am formally announcing my candidacy for governor," his statement said.

Culberson said he would open his campaign in Hillsboro, his former home, in May. Culberson's legal residence is now Edna, where he owns a drygoods store. He is a former railroad employe, county clerk and county judge of Hill County, and has served on the railroad commission since 1941.

Culberson said he would not resign as railroad commissioner.

He was the second major candidate to announce formally. The other is Casso March, deep in his third try for the job. Gov. Allan Shivers has not formally announced but he is also actively campaigning.

Asked if he had heard whether W. Lee O'Daniel would run, Culberson said he didn't know.

"Would you care?" he was asked.

"It's come one, come all," he laughed. "Naturally I'd like to have the field to myself."

Claude C. Wilder, Austin attorney who has been active in many Texas political campaigns, will be Culberson's manager.

Culberson said taxation and specific legislative matters, such as school support, would be fully developed in his campaign.

How about "hiblilly music?" Culberson was asked, but he wasn't ready to say.

He said he hadn't held a union card for 40 years but wouldn't like to see wages go back to that level.

Typoid Epidemic Started in Orange By Boy Scouts

ORANGE — (AP) — A county officer said Saturday five Orange Boy Scouts who neglected to follow their own teachings have touched off a typhoid outbreak which endangers the public in general here.

The statement came from Dr. H. H. Key, director of the city-county health unit.

He said the five Scouts were on a hike recently and drank from a river, although they had been taught not to do so without first purifying the water.

Two had been immunized, three had not. In a few days the three developed typhoid. Since then, the health director said, 12 other persons here are suspected of contracting the disease.

"With the disease already prevalent and so many of our people unprotected," Dr. Key said, "we have the stage set for an epidemic."

Immediate immunization of every unprotected person in the county was recommended.

Most school age children were immunized against typhoid during a campaign just completed, the physician said.

Accident Injures Two From Lefors

One Lefors teen-ager was hospitalized and another slightly shaken at 1:45 p. m. yesterday when the car they were riding in turned over 5.3 miles south of Pampa.

Injured and taken to Highland General Hospital was Harmon D. Crutcher, 19, Lefors. Extent of his injuries was not fully determined last night, hospital attendants said, but added he was not seriously hurt.

His companion, Kenneth Florence, 18, Lefors, was released from the hospital after first aid treatment.

Pampa Arrest Ends Manhunt

A statewide manhunt for a man charged with hot checking and bigamy ended here on a tip by a local oil well supply operator Friday.

Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle said Thomas Shields Guthrie, Dallas, faces charges of bigamy in Perryton and hot check charges in Odessa, Midland, Lubbock, Abilene, and Amarillo.

Guthrie was arrested in this hotel room here by Kyle, Chief Deputy Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Deputy Sheriff Louis Holmes after a search of a house in Perryton.

Kyle added, Guthrie introduced himself as a superintendent for the Sunflower Gasoline Co., and would cash personal checks at various oil well supply houses. The checks bounced.

Guthrie was taken to Lubbock yesterday to face hot check charges there. In the meantime Sheriff Ray Fagan, Perryton, left for Lubbock to take Guthrie back to the Ochiltree County seat where he faces bigamy charges.

"If he isn't prepared to substantiate his charges, he should withdraw his allegations," Sheriff Kyle said in a statement. "This is much too important to the country and its foreign policy to be left to attorneys."

McCarthy promptly retorted that the department has in its own files FBI data "which shows that every one of the cases is a bad security risk under (secretary of state) Acheson's own yardstick. This information is fully available to Acheson's man."

Peurifoy indicated that his statement was prompted by McCarthy's plans for basing his charges on a few "thoroughly documented" cases. Instead of going into each case in detail, "I was surprised," Peurifoy said, "to see that Senator McCarthy has stated he will not try to present the complete details of the 81 cases in which he claimed in his Senate speech last February 26 that there are disloyal people in the State Department."

"I think that Senator McCarthy owes it to the country to make available to the committee any evidence which he has that involves the loyalty of persons in the Department of State, whether it be the 205 that he said were Communists in Wheeling, the 57 that he said were card carrying Communists in Salt Lake City, the four that he said weren't Communists at all in Reno, the 81 that he mentioned on the floor of the Senate, or just one."

McCarthy told reporters Saturday that he will tell Senate Communist-hunters Monday about "a man now in the State Department who is holding an important position."

Public hearings will be resumed then by the Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating McCarthy's charges that Communists have infiltrated the department.

McCarthy repeated at a news conference that the first case he will outline to the subcommittee Monday — dealing with the department official in an important position — is "infinitely worse" than the first case he presented.

The first deal with Dorothy Kenyon, a former U. S. member on a United Nations commission. McCarthy charges she has been affiliated with at least 28 Communist front organizations.

Miss Kenyon, also a former New York City judge, called McCarthy a cowardly liar in reply. The subcommittee has invited her to testify Tuesday.

Radio Forum On School Bonds Slated

The March 18 school bond election will be discussed roundtable fashion from 2 to 3 p. m. today over Station KPND.

Ken Palmer, station manager, will serve as moderator, but neither side in the bond election controversy would say who its two forum speakers would be.

Opposition to the election which calls for issuance of one and a quarter-million dollars in bonds is based on the lack of plans for an elementary school in Southwest Pampa and the $90,000 appropriated for the Negro school. The faction says there should be more funds for the Negro school.

Teachers Pick New Officers

Dr. Ruth Lowes, West Texas State College, Friday night was named president of District 9 of Northwest Texas Conference for Education at the Amarillo Municipal Auditorium.

Other officers include B. R. Norman, Amarillo, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Hayne, Amarillo, secretary; and Morris H. Jones, Goodnight, treasurer.

Introduction of officers followed an address, "The Elementary School of Tomorrow," by Dr. Henry Otto, University of Texas. He stressed the value of teaching citizenship responsibility through student directed activities in the classrooms, lunchrooms and on the playgrounds.

Dr. Otto accused educators of continuing to judge "how well students are doing solely in terms of tasks assigned to them by the school." Rather, he said, educators should be thinking in terms of how well the school is doing by its students.

Local teachers who took part in instructional or discusional phases of the conference were Kenneth Baumgardner, Orlan Butler, Miss Eloise Lane, Miss Grace Crump, Miss Gwen Johnson, Miss Pearl Spaug and Miss Thelma Henshe.

The date of the next annual conference was announced as March 9, 1951. It is traditionally held in Amarillo.

State Department Insists Solon Prove 'Spy' Charges

Clarification of Statements Urged in National Interest

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The State Department told Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) Saturday he should back up his claim of communism in the State Department or retract the charge in the national interest.

The challenge was flung by Deputy Undersecretary of State John E. Peurifoy.

"If he isn't prepared to substantiate his charges, he should withdraw his allegations," Peurifoy said in a statement. "This is much too important to the country and its foreign policy to be left to attorneys."

McCarthy promptly retorted that the department has in its own files FBI data "which shows that every one of the cases is a bad security risk under (secretary of state) Acheson's own yardstick. This information is fully available to Acheson's man."

Drive Nearing Middle Point

About half of the $10,337 goal in the local Red Cross fund campaign had been reached Saturday at press time.

Robert "Pinkie" Sims, general chairman, said that more than 600 dwirtschaftsfreies or $500 raised the first week of the drive is unusual. He commended the volunteer workers who have completed their work. "A telephone brigade will be used this week as a reminder for residents who have not yet contributed," Sims said. "One of the women's business clubs has agreed to the telephoning."

In the past follow-up letters have been sent as reminders to residents.

J. R. Sparkman and Larry Fuller, co-chairmen of the Lefors drive, said the business district has been covered the tele and residential solicitation will begin tomorrow.

Belgium Sets Leopold Vote

BRUSSELS, Belgium — (AP) — Belgian voters decide Sunday whether exiled King Leopold III ever can return to his vacant throne.

They have been thinking about it, off and on, ever since Leopold overruled the advice of his ministers and surrendered unconditionally to Hitler's invading German troops May 28, 1940.

About 5,500,000 men and women are to give a straight yes or no answer to the question: "Do you think King Leopold III should resume the exercise of his constitutional power?"

In other words, do you think Leopold should come back?

Leopold has announced he will abdicate if he fails to get 55 percent of the votes in the national test.

Voting is being conducted from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. (1 a. m. to 6 a. m. CST time). The interior ministry expects to have the first official returns about 9 p. m. (2 p. m. CST) and the complete tabulation early Monday morning.

Pampano Selected On Economy Group

Three Pampa men have been named on a "cut-the-costs" commission appointed Saturday by Gov. Allan Shivers to study the executive branch of the state government to see what can be done to step up efficiency and economize.

The 537-man committee, which will be narrowed down to an executive committee, includes Roy Bourland, Ivy Duncan and E. L. Green, Jr. The men reported Saturday they had not received official notice of their appointments.

The economy commission, to be patterned after the Hoover Commission, will be concerned with the proper administration of services being provided by the Legislature and how economy can best be effected, Shivers told Associated Press.

The economy commission will necessarily have to take into consideration the state's financial structure and condition," Shivers' announcement said. "Texas Economy Commission" is the official name of the group.

Additional members will be named by the lieutenant governor and speaker of the House, from the Legislature.

The commission's recommendations will be presented to the next Legislature through the legislative budget committee, and through commission members who are also lawmakers.

Charges Filed Against Pair In Cow Theft

Two Gray County cowboys were in court Sunday charged with cattle theft after they walked into the sheriff's office Friday night and surrendered.

The pair had been on the "wanted list" after warrants for their arrest had been issued in Roberts County. The warrants were issued on a complaint filed by Allan Jeffries of the Texas Cattlemen Association.

According to Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle the two men made signed confessions admitting they took two white faced two-year-old cows from the ranch of Bob McCoy late last month and sold them to Frank Haines, Mobeetie. Haines later sold the cows during an auction, but did not know they were stolen property. Both cows have been returned to McCoy.

About 9:30 p. m. Friday McCoy called the sheriff's office here to report the two boys had called him and said they were going to give up. Later they walked into the sheriff's office while Chief Deputy Rufe Jordan and Deputy Louis Holmes were out hunting them. They left the office only to have Jordan and Holmes walk in five minutes later. About a half-hour later the pair again came in to surrender and decided to wait until someone came in to arrest them.

Harmonica Artist Puts Instrument In Musical World

John Sebastian, harmonica virtuoso, proved that the harmonica has a definite place in the musical world at Friday's Pampa Community Concert at the Junior High School Auditorium.

Known for his unusual musical artistry and personality, Sebastian was called back for two encores. They were his arrangement of "Elophidoy in Blue" and a hoedown number.

Between selections by Debussy, Bach, and Gershwin and Mozart, Sebastian made musical comments that kept the audience laughing.

Listeners that were especially well accepted by the audience included "Romanian Folk Dances," "Dance of the City Kids," "The City Sleeps," "The City Awakens," "Ritual Fire Dance," and "Three Pieces for Harmonica," which were arranged by Sebastian.

Doomed Man Reprieved in Last Minutes

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP) — A convicted slayer sat jubilant in his Ohio penitentiary death row cell Saturday after a dramatic eleventh hour reprieve saved him from the electric chair Friday night.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche granted Theodore R. McClure, 23, Cleveland, a 60-day stay of execution at 7:10 p. m., only 50 minutes before McClure's scheduled electrocution.

McClure owes his lease on life to a group composed of a doctor, a detective, an author and a publisher who call themselves "The Court of Last Resort."

The "court" is strictly unofficial, unpaid and voluntary. It investigates suspected miscarriages of justice.

Its members are Dr. Le Moyné Snyder, former medico-legal adviser to the Michigan State Police and author of a murder-detection text; Raymond Schindler, New York private detective; Erle Stanley Gardner, author of many murder-mystery novels; and Harry Steeger, publisher of "Argosy" magazine.

Dr. Snyder said his group had had time for only a preliminary investigation after McClure made his appeal to the "court." But he decided:

"There are several things which don't look right about it." McClure — convicted of killing Nicola Salupo in a Cleveland grocery holdup, had eaten a "last meal" of fried halibut, pigs feet and mustard, and collard greens, among other things, before the reprieve.

He said surgeons, clinicians and radiologists had joined hands to produce a steadily increasing number of controls for thyroid disease, the type of which is Koter.

Doctor Haines turned over the reins of the organization to Dr. T. C. Davison of Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Merrill N. Foote of Brooklyn, N. Y., was named president, to succeed Doctor Davison in 1951.

No Damages Awarded in Libel Suit

STINNETT — A Hutchinson County 8th District Court jury late yesterday refused to allow the W. Rigdon, business agent of the International Union of Operating Engineers, any damages in his $100,000 libel suit against The Amarillo Times.

The suit was brought following articles written by T. E. Johnson, managing editor of The Times, during the union's strike in May, 1947.

The trial started on February 24 and lasted two weeks. The case went to the 11 man jury at 5:15 p. m. Friday and the verdict returned at 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

During the trial, Arthur Leigh Fischer, Berger, and Otto Mullinax, Dallas, representing the plaintiff, called eight witnesses to the stand. Defense attorneys called one.

A similar suit is pending against the Borger News Herald, but is expected to be dismissed in view of Saturday's verdict.

The 11 man jury was okayed by both sides after Juror Ernest Nichols became ill during a recess of court called to allow the Court to prepare its charge.

Representing The Times (Panhandle Publishing Co.) was the law firm of Sanders, Scott, Saunders, and Smith, Amarillo.

At the time the so-called libelous articles were written and published Rigdon was both president and business agent of the union. Currently he is only business agent.

Rigdon, alleged his character had been defamed by the articles.

Jailed 'Girl' Revealed as Unhappy Boy

CARLSBAD, N. M. — (AP) — Undersheriff Cruz Fernandez says that a person held for more than a month in a woman's cell as a girl has turned out to be a runaway 16-year-old boy.

He said the boy was arrested six weeks ago and charged with entering a residence. The prisoner identified himself as Patsy Odell, 20.

Fernandez said a private conference with Dist. Judge C. Roy Anderson when the case came up for hearing developed that the "girl" was a boy who had run away two months ago from his home in Del Rio, Texas.

The officer said the youth wore long hair and feminine clothing. He went first to San Antonio, and then came here where he worked for a week as a house maid.

Fernandez said the boy's parents are coming to get him. He told officers he ran away following a teacher's reprimand.

Pampa Lions Vote to Back School Bonds

After informative talks on the March 18 school bond election were given by Dr. Douglas Nelson and Arthur Teed, Lions Club members Thursday voted to get behind the bond issue.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was the first civic club last week that voted to support the school bond issue which it did at Tuesday's luncheon meeting.

Dr. Nelson, when explaining phases of the proposed bond, said: "We have almost reached the place where the students are bulging out the windows."

The bond asks a 50 percent increase in classrooms, or the addition of 24. Dr. Nelson said the maximum number of children that should be put in elementary classrooms for the most efficient instruction is 24 or 25. Many of the local elementary classrooms house 40 or 45 students at the present time.

Further, he said, Pampa High School was built to accommodate 900 students. There are now more than 1,000 students enrolled and there will be even more in the future.

He asserted a need of additional vocational and physical education instruction at High School and refuted the argument that the proposed gymnasium is "mere luxury."

"The majority of Pampa High graduates do not go to college," he continued, "and those who don't, want to learn a trade in high school. Our present facilities prohibit adequately teaching most trades."

Teed had charge of the question and answer period. He said if the bond is not passed two "cold hard facts" will have to be faced — next year's students will have to attend half-day sessions and the vocational and physical education programs will have to be slighted.

"The school board realizes that within the next few years at least one additional school will have to be built to accommodate the increasing student population of Pampa," Teed said. "However, between 500 and 600 students are needed for best results in the operation of an elementary school."

He continued that for the present additional classrooms "will fill the bill."

Under the proposed bond issue the school improvements can be made without raising the maximum tax rate of one dollar, he said.

Clifton Estes was taken into the Lions Club as a new member. President O. E. McDowell introduced the March Lions Sweetheart, Mona Cox, and March Cub Lion, Bobby Crockett.

Morris Enloe, chairman of the Lions minstrel, which will be presented March 16-17, announced the entire cast has been asked to meet at 2 p.m. today in the City Palm Room.

Dr. L. J. Zachry, Concessions Committee chairman, asked all members of the club who are not in the minstrel cast to help box candy at 2 p.m. today at Plains Creamery.

Arraignment of Couple in Thornton Death Postponed

AMARILLO — (AP) — Arraignment of a man and wife indicted for the slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, oil field explosives expert, was temporarily postponed Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Johnson were to have been arraigned before Judge Henry S. Bishop of 27th District Court Saturday morning. But Judge Bishop and District Attorney Lloyd King were in court at Canyon.

Thornton, daring explosives expert of the world's oil fields, was found slain in an Amarillo motel last June 23.

Mrs. Diana Jean Johnson was arrested in Washington Feb. 8 after she told police her husband killed Thornton. Several days later officers arrested Johnson in Muncie, Mich.

Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heaney of Lynwood, Calif., have arrived here and have engaged an attorney for their daughter, Byron Singleton of Amarillo. Friday night the couple, in an interview, described their 19-year-old daughter as "a nice, clean, Christian girl."

E. T. Miller, Amarillo criminal lawyer, is representing Johnson.

Nash Expected To Exhibit New Rambler in April

DETROIT — (AP) — Nash's new Rambler car should be ready for public introduction next month. The Rambler is the new smaller model with which Nash is going after business in the lower price field. Details still are being withheld, but it is fairly well understood the new vehicle will be a five-passenger model, on a 100-inch wheelbase and powered with an 82-horsepower engine.

Since they gave up their own plans for smaller, lightweight cars early in the postwar period, General Motors and Ford have displayed little outward interest in such units.

Unlike Kaiser-Frazer, also planning a smaller model, Nash did not show the Rambler at the recent Chicago auto show. It plans a vigorous promotion drive, however, when all its dealers have been supplied with the new unit.

Like other models in the Nash line the new economy car will be of the single unit body and chassis construction. Industry observers who have seen it describe it as presenting a low, graceful silhouette and of less than 2,500 pounds overall weight.

Like the yet-to-be-named Kaiser-Frazer smaller model, the Rambler will seat three persons in front and two in the rear. Access to its luggage compartment is from the back of the car. In the K-F smaller model the luggage compartment is reached from the inside of the vehicle.

Children of Many American Farm Workers Said Starving Even as Aliens Are Imported

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The AFL National Farm Labor Union has told President Truman an estimated 100,000 children of jobless American farm workers are starving while big-scale farm operators continue to import workers from Mexico.

NFLU President H. L. Mitchell urged Mr. Truman in a letter to take immediate action to remedy the situation and provide surplus food for needy farm families.

Mitchell said the plight of 100 children found starving at a migratory workers camp near Phoenix, Ariz., is not just an isolated case. He called it "merely a symptom of a grave problem which extends through the southwestern and southern states." He said 100,000 or more could be found suffering from a similar condition.

He urged the president to abrogate immediately the international agreement with Mexico which permits the importation of Mexicans for farm work. He said the U.S. Employment Service should return to Mexico all such contract laborers in this country.

Mitchell said there have been official reports of farm workers' children dying of malnutrition this winter in the San Joaquin Valley of California. He said he had a recent report that Americans engaged in farm work were unemployed and without food for their families in the Imperial Valley of California.

Mitchell said such conditions exist while large-scale farm operators are importing an estimated 9,000 Mexicans under contract between this government and Mexico. In addition, he said, "additional thousands of illegal aliens had been enticed into the United States by such growers to work at starvation wages."

He said the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service should

Pacific Pact To Include U.S. Urged

CANBERRA, Australia — (AP) — External Affairs Minister Percy C. Spender has urged formation of a Pacific pact including the United States.

He made his plea in a report outlining to parliament the foreign policy of Australia's newly-elected moderate coalition government.

Such a pact, Spender said, should not only be a defensive one but should aim at promoting higher living standards and increased cultural and commercial ties of nations in the Pacific area.

Spender declared that the center of gravity of world affairs now lies in the Pacific and Asiatic areas. The ever-increasing thrust of communism, he said, had posed new problems for Asia's newly independent states — Pakistan, Ceylon, India, Indonesia, and Indochina.

"We should work with the new states," Spender said, "economically and commercially in the technical as well as political fields in order to maintain (their) newly-won independence."

Spender said Australia hopes to stimulate trade with the United States in order to increase the flow of American capital to boost this country's development. He invited U. S. and other investors to think of the "many profitable opportunities" for their capital in Australia.

Records Tumble in Border Olympics

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

LAREDO — (P) — Schreiner Institute won the junior college championship and Odessa finished first in the high school class Saturday as the Border Olympics decided half its titles.

Ten records fell in the junior college class. The high school boys set three new standards and tied another.

Schreiner rolled up 39 points in easily beating out Southwest of Brownsville despite Carl Otsch's 36-4 points as high man of the meet. Southwest got 25 points. Victoria was third with 21 and Laredo fourth with 17.

In high school Odessa scored 24 6-7 points and Gorpuz Christi wound up second with 21 1-7 while Bestiment was third with 20 1-2 and Galveston was fourth with 15. High man of this division was Joe Childress of Odessa with 30 1-2.

Finals in the university and college classes in which two new records already have been set in the former and four new marks and one tied in the latter were scheduled late Saturday.

The day was featured by a mighty discus throw by giant George Kadera of Texas A&M as he set a new record with 165 feet 10 1-2 inches. It bettered the oldest mark in the Border Olympics books — the 157 feet 5 inches heaved by Jess Petty of Rice in 1935.

The discus was one of two final events held in the university division. The other was a javelin throw of 191 feet 11 inches that won for Tobin Rote of Rice.

The university shot put mark also went by the boards as Harold Moss of Louisiana State did 46 feet 11 1-2 inches — a half-inch better than the record set by Kadera in 1948. This was done in a preliminary.

Five final events were held in the college division with one new record being set. Johnny Slack of North Texas State tossed the discus 146 feet 10 inches to better his own record of 140 feet 3 1-2 inches set in 1949. Howard Johnson of Trinity University won the mile run with a time of 4:28. Arturo Ochoa of East Texas State captured the javelin throw with 270 feet 5 inches and Mike Mercado of East Texas State won the half-mile with a time of 1:55.7 while Ochoa won the 200-yard low hurdles in 24.4. Ochoa bettered the record in this event with 24.1 in the preliminaries.

The old record was 24.4 set by Tom Tope of Southwest Texas State in 1948.

UNIVERSITY DIVISION

Discus throw: 1 — George Kadera, Texas A. and M., 165 feet 10 1-2 inches (new record); old record 157 feet 5 inches set by Jess Petty, Rice, in 1935; 2 — Randy Clay, Texas, 157 feet 11 1-2 inches; 3 — Ed Hooker, Texas A. and M., 137 feet 9 inches; 4 — Jack Adkins, Southern Methodist, 137 feet, 8 inches.

Javelin throw: 1 — Tobin Rote, Rice, 191 feet 11 inches; 2 — Raymond Marek, Texas State, 189 feet 9 inches; 3 — Donald Klein, Texas, 178 feet, 4 inches; 4 — John Simpson, Texas A. and M., 168 feet, 7 inches.

McCarthy, O'Glee Defeated In Tournament of Champs

CHICAGO — (P) — The littlest guy and the biggest batter pack the knockout punch on the Golden Gloves squad Chicago will send against New York's best amateur scrappers at the Chicago Stadium March 28.

In Chicago's Golden Gloves showdown before 17,246 at the Stadium Friday night, 112-pound Nate Brooks of Cleveland and heavyweight Earl Sudduth of Rockford, Ill., were the only champions who halted their opponents.

Sudduth, a 22-year-old laborer who is married and has a two-month-old son, stole the spotlight in the evening's 24-bout festivities which climaxed an extended shakedown of title-holders from 26 states.

Sudduth sledge - hammered Kirby Seals of Los Angeles for the canvas for a technical knockout in 1:17 of the opening round in his title match. Earlier in the evening, Sudduth polished off Chicago's Van Leonard in just 45 seconds of a semifinal clash.

Brooks, a 16-year-old student at Cleveland's John Adams High School, won his 112-pound crown with a third-round technical knockout of James Quinn, Los Angeles.

In team competition, Los Angeles was the winner with 23 points (based on a point for each victory since the tourney opened Feb. 27).

Pat McCarthy, rugged flyweight from Amarillo, was eliminated from the tournament in the semifinal round Friday night. Mc-

Horned Frogs Finish Spring Grid Workouts

FORT WORTH — A Spring football practice blessed by unusually good weather came to a close for the Texas Christian University grid squad Saturday. Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer held a lengthy final scrimmage under game conditions.

For the Frogs, who finished in third place in the Texas Longhorns in last Fall's Southwest Conference Race, the early-year drills have produced some interesting developments. Perhaps the most important was the inauguration of a new formation — the T-wing.

In this setup, a split line is backed by wings directly behind the ends, a fullback at normal depth behind the right guard and a normal T-formation up-back. Runs and passes from the formation proved so successful that the line, especially at the tackle spots, is much more questionable.

So far as the backfield is concerned, the big problem has been to replace Lindy Berry, the great quarterback and captain, passing skill and ability to select plays in the early stages to hold his spot.

He'll be backed by Dexter Bassinger, Gilbert Barlow, Duane Grissett and Robert Snow.

On the whole, the backfield material is deeper, faster and bigger than it has been since the war. The 200-pound freshman fullback, John Morton, the 220-pound Californian who was a regular last year, has been hard pushed by Bobby Jack Floyd, a Paris Junior College transfer. Jim Amburg, the 200-pound freshman grad, and Jack Ray, ineligible last Fall, complete the quartet.

Johnny Dunn, Stephenville senior, has been one of the great sensations at left half. He's backed by veterans Homer Tompkins and Bob McFarland, plus two fine newcomers, John Harville and Bobby Harding.

There's been a bitter battle at right half between Johnny Medanich, the Pecos flier who has shaken off injuries of last season, and Malvin Fowler, the mighty 250-pound freshman star from Van. They're about even as the spring work closes.

Strength in the line is spotty. Center looks strong with lettermen Max Eubank and Roy Pitcock returning along with Carl-ton McCormack, 240-pound freshman.

The ends look fair although some top hands have missed much work with wounds. Back are Bill and Bobby Moorman, said Wilson George plus Wog stars Wayne Martin, Teddy Vaughn, Bobby Blair.

Five guards return but they are fairly light. Milton Farmer, Alton Taylor, Billy Willingham, Dick Love and Herbert Zimmerman are the vets. There are some big graduates of the Wog team but so far they have shown lack of seasoning.

The tackle positions may be the key to 1950. Capt. Clarence Marable, senior veteran, has done no work because of the knee wound sustained in the Texas A. & M. game last fall. However, the leg is mending and its 220-pound owner is almost certain to be ready.

Other lettermen back are big Douglas Conway and Norman Hughes, neither of whom was a regular. A "find" has been Frank Struska, the veteran fullback who was shifted up front this Spring. He's shown every indication of making the grade as a lineman.

Freshman tackles who may break in include Don Thompson, the Odessa "All-Stater," Jack Temple, big Charles Wrenn, Bill Buck and Robert Zolt.

As the Spring session ends, Dutch has quit worrying too much about the leather-lugging department. He thinks the line may come around pretty fair under the hand of Albie White, great Frog tackle of 1938, who returned as forward tutor this Winter. If it does, the Christians could be fairly tough.

Both the Boston Braves and the Cincinnati Reds this season will play only two day games in St. Louis. Each club has nine night games at Sportsman's Park.

HARVESTER HUSTLER—Jimmy Howard, Harvester basketball forward, proudly exhibits "Hustling Harvester Trophy" he received from Coach Clifton McNeely, right, Saturday night's basketball banquet in the Senior High School Cafeteria. The trophy was presented by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee. (News Photo and Engraving)

Jimmy Howard Receives First 'Hustling Harvester Award'

Jimmy Howard, high-scoring all-district forward on the 1949-50 Pampa Harvester basketball team, was selected by Coach Clifton McNeely as the first recipient of the "Hustling Harvester Award." The award, a presentation of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Sports Committee, was made last night at the first annual basketball banquet held at the Senior High School.

Howard, who led the District 1-A in scoring this season and was a unanimous choice on the all-district basketball teams, earned the honor with his fine team spirit and hustling attitude throughout the entire season, at practice and in games. Howard is a Senior, and currently No. 1 man on the Harvester golf team.

Another surprise of the banquet was a suit of clothes given to Coach McNeely by the basketball fans of Pampa. McNeely's team this season became the first in the history of Pampa High School to sweep the season's series from Amarillo and also gave him a record of 4 wins and 3 losses to Amarillo in the three years he has been at Pampa.

Guest speaker for the night was Cecil "Stutterin' Sam" Hunter of Amarillo, who gave an entertaining talk on the game of basketball. He was introduced by L. N. Atchison, master of ceremonies.

The coronation ceremony for the basketball queen, Eudaine Ellis, was a highlight of the program. Miss Ellis was escorted by James Galloway, Harvester captain. Attendees were Martha Parks, escorted by Jack Sutton, and Harriet Schwartz, escorted by James Claunch.

The dinner was served by the mothers of the basketball boys. Members of the Harvesters who were feted were James Galloway, Jimmy Howard, Jack Sutton, James Claunch, Tony Jones, Marvin Bond, Carl Kennedy, Elmer Wilson, Gordon Yoder, Ronnie Samples, Glen Tarpley, and David Crossman, manager of the team.

Members of the Guerilla basketball team present were Eugene Bonny, DeWey Codney, Billy Davis, Roy Pool, Duane Jeter, Jimmy Cook, Jimmy Smith, Tommy Smith, Fred Williams, Billy Rex Campbell, Bill McPherson, Tolle Hutcheson, Jimmy Dulaney and the Guerilla basketball coach, Tom Tipps.

Other guests present included sportswriters Putt Powell and Jerry Sheridan of Amarillo, and several college coaches from around the state.

'49 Kill Tops Previous Year

AUSTIN — (P) — More hunters, deer and turkeys were killed last season than in 1948.

That's the tentative report of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. It issued statistics yesterday on the basis of reports from approximately 200 of the state's 254 counties.

Thirty-seven hunters died while trying to bag deer, turkeys or waterfowl. That was nine more than the year before.

The probable deer take slightly exceeded the total estimated kill of 25,403 for the previous year, the commission reported. It did not quote an exact figure on the past season's kill.

A turkey bag of 9,000 was tentatively set, some 2,000 more than in 1948.

The commission considered the higher collective bag estimates particularly significant because poor shooting weather prevailed during much of the past season.

An offsetting factor was the greater number of hunters. Incomplete returns indicate a slight increase in the total big game licenses over the previous year's 300,000 mark.

Included in the list of fatal accidents were 13 victims who drowned while hunting waterfowl and five who died of heart attacks.

Eleven hunters were killed by accidental discharge of guns held by themselves or others. A stray bullet was blamed for one death. Four were killed by guns in the hands of companions and one died when mistaken for game.

One was killed when he fell from a tree, and another was fatally wounded by his own gun while crawling through a fence.

In six of the deaths, intoxication was a contributing factor.

Men's Pin Meet Going

The first weekend of the Pampa Men's Handicap Bowling Tournament got underway last night at the Pampa Bowl with team competition. The tourney resumes this afternoon at 4 o'clock when doubles will be rolled. Another shift of doubles starts at 6 and then singles bowling follows that.

Next weekend the same schedule will be followed, with team bowling on Saturday and doubles and singles on Sunday.

The teams that bowled last night were the Pampa Dry Cleaners, Leder's Jewelry, Hughes Insurance Service, Hall and Pinson, Texas E&F and Babot.

The schedule for this afternoon is as follows:

On the 4 o'clock doubles shift: G. Gray-Scott; M. Gray-Colgrove; Harrison-Ryan; Behrman-Baxter; Lawson-Brake; Rogers-Riddle; and Parsley-Front.

On the 6 o'clock shift: Hutchens-Donnell; T. Smith-Weiborn; B. Ormsion-D. Ormsion; Moore-Gilmore; Evans-McFall; C. O. Duenkel-C. A. Duenkel.

Only one of last year's winners will be back in this year. That is John Hutchens, who captured both the singles and all-events in the '49 tourney. Peg's Cab, which won the team last year, is not bowling this season, nor is the doubles combination winners, McCrery and Loving.

Louis Ready to Display Talent To Panhandle Fans on Friday

STERLING INGRAM

AMARILLO — (Special) — Joe Louis, boxing's famous Brown Bomber, will display his flaring wares here on March 17 when he fights an exhibition against Colorado Heavyweight Champion Sterling Ingram at the Municipal Auditorium.

Louis, who is expected to try for a title comeback against champion Ezzard Charles this summer, will fight four rounds on a five-hour card arranged by Promoter Gilbert Pendley and Matchmaker Arvis Woodring.

The main event will be a ten rounder between Hubert Gray, sensational 145-pound battler from Wichita Falls, and Nelson Levering of Topeka, Kansas.

Gray, who is well-known and respected in this area, has lost only four of his 63 professional fights. One of those losses was to Lew Jenkins, former lightweight champ, by a 10th-round TKO.

Wayne Strawbridge (156) of Colorado Springs, will meet Harold Hultitt of Topeka, Kan., in a six-round semifinal event. Hultitt recently was picked as an "Outstanding Prospect of the Month" by Ring Magazine.

The two bouts have not yet been announced.

Tickets for the bouts have been moving fast. They are on sale in Amarillo at Creney Drug and the Roosevelt Bar, or may be ordered by writing Arvis Woodring, 500 West 10th, Amarillo. Prices are $4 ringside, $8 reserve seats or $2 general admission.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Morris—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Where will the national AAU basketball tournament be held this year?

CONGRATULATIONS TO JIMMY HOWARD on being selected as the first winner of the "Hustling Harvester Award." Howard certainly deserved the special recognition through his consistently fine team play and hustling spirit the entire season. Pampa High School will miss him, as well as Gallamore and Sutton, next season when basketball rolls around.

The choice was undoubtedly a difficult one for Coach McNeely to make, as the entire team was hustling most of the time. What was probably the deciding factor in McNeely's choice was Howard's attitude during practice. He was always one of the first out for workouts and one of the last to quit. He worked hard to stay in peak physical condition so that he could go at full speed for an entire ball game, which he did consistently. Being comparatively small, 5-10, in this game of tall men, he made up in hustle what he lacked in size.

He will make somebody a fine college ball player.

Last night's affair was the start of a big weekend for several of the Harvester football and basketball players. This afternoon many of them, along with their coaches, will be guests at the Amarillo News-Globe District 1-AA banquet honoring the all-district football and basketball players.

The banquet will be held at the Herring Hotel, with many outstanding coaches from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico attending. It is the annual luring time for the coaches who hope to get these all-district athletes to attend their particular school.

Last night's basketball banquet reminded me about the football affair last winter where Coach Tom Tipps received a leather medalion for being the moaningest coach in the district. Which in turn made me think that this period of spring football practice isn't exactly a training period for the athletes alone.

Last Tuesday morning, when the wind was at its highest and the dust blowing so thick you couldn't see the twenty yard line from the thirty, Coach Tipps was practicing his moaning act.

"Such weather. It'll probably last for 30 days," he groaned. "Little good this spring work will do us indoors, etc., etc., etc." Prepare another medalion.

ANSWER: Denver, Colo., will again be the site of the AAU basketball meet this year. Last year it was held in Oklahoma City.

An English bettor wagered one pound at odds of 10,000-to-1 that (a) the Conservatives would win the election; (b) Churchill would be prime minister; (c) Cromwell would win the Grand National; (d) China Verdict would win the Lincolnshire Handicap; (e) Cambridge crew would beat Oxford; (f) Chelsea would take the soccer title; and (g) Canada would win the world ice-hockey championship.

That wasn't a bet; that was a tragedy.

Can you imagine a guy going into an American bookie, and saying: "Look, Mac, I wanna place a bet wit' ya. I bet the Dodgers win the National League pennant; Stan Musial and Ted Williams win the batting titles; Joe Wee Reese and Joe DiMaggio win the Most Valuable Player awards; Detroit takes the Stanley Cup; Washington wins the Foughkeepsie Regatta; Bradley takes the National Invitation basketball tournament; Oil Capital wins the triple crown; Harry Truman says he'll run again; some horse wit' the name of something-or-other Hanover wins the Hambletonian; Olivia de Havilland and Broderick Crawford win the movie Oscars; and Shirley May France swims the channel next summer."

"Now, tell me — what odds will ya give me on the whole thing?"

"Even money," says the bookie. "You're betting on a lot of pretty sure things in there, bub, and the best I can do for you is even money."

"Yippee," screams the bettor. "I win!"

"Whaddya mean, ya win?" asks the bookie. "Ya haven't even made the bet yet."

Withdrawal of Team Creates NAIB Uproar

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — A furor caused by the withdrawal of an invitation overshadowed last minute arrangements for the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball (NAIB) six-day tournament beginning here Monday.

The University of Nevada, which had been invited, was dropped from the 32-team field Friday night. Executive-secretary Al Duer's committee decided the District 4 team did not have the proper financial backing for the trip eastward.

The squabble started over reports that a Las Vegas gambler, L. B. (Benny) Bimbin, had forked over $1,000 to John Cahlan, a member of the university Board of Regents, to help defray expenses of the team. Only part of its expenses are paid by NAIB.

Action of the committee brought rebuke from acting President G. E. Parker of Nevada and the school's athletic director, Harry Frost.

Certified by virtue of playoff victories Friday night was East Texas State, of Commerce, (66-53 over West Texas State).

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (AP) — After the tragic death of LaVern Roach following a fight at St. Nick's, there was a lot of talk about requiring boxers to wear head guards. The Intercollegiate Boxing Association has used these devices for two years and the coaches gathered here for the 27th IBA Tournament agree they provide a "heck of a lot" of protection. "I told Eddie Egan last night," says Eddie LaFond of Catholic U., "that the pros had better start using them right away." The guard the collegians use is a narrow band worn just above the eyebrows, protecting the ears, and covering the back of the neck with a sponge rubber pad. It might not be enough to prevent deaths or serious injuries, but it would help.

SPORTSMENTION — Harry Todd, the Dallas pro, is almost making good on the Texas yarn about a golfer who struck oil when he took a divot. Todd and nine Lakewood club members are in an oil drilling venture that looks very promising. Joe DiMaggio, who benefited wildly about the rule restricting the size of the web on baseball gloves, sticks his first and second fingers in the second finger of his glove, leaving the other vacant to help form a bigger pocket.

'Lucky Thirteenth' Year of Derby to Be Biggest Affair

By W. E. FISH
General Sales Manager
Chevrolet Motor Division

The All-American Soap Box Derby has become a national institution, and for boys the nation over it is one of the highlights of every summer.

This year, the "lucky Thirteenth" in Derby history, we expect more boys than ever to enter the 150 local races, and more spectators than ever at the local and national races. The National Finals will be held in Akron on August 13.

The Derby's sponsors, the Pampa News, Culberson Chevrolet, the Pampa Lions Club and the Chevrolet Motor Division, believe the combination of the 15th race and the Finals on August 13th will be lucky for the American boy. It will make a national champion of some boy. But, even more important, it will inspire tens of thousands of boys throughout the nation to do their best in building and racing their cars in the keenest sort of competition.

The Soap Box Derby has reached maturity in its 13 years of existence. We feel that this year's race, both local and national, will be bigger and better, more hotly contested and of more widespread national interest than any of the preceding years.

Chevrolet is proud of its role in this important activity, which since 1934 has been called the "greatest amateur racing event in the world." We are proud to share with our 150 co-sponsoring newspapers the important task of promoting and directing this great race.

The Derby teaches handicraft and trains youth in sportsmanship. The stakes are high: a $5,000 college scholarship for the winner, a Chevrolet sedan for the runner-up and valuable merchandise prizes and trophies for others of the top winners.

But every boy, whether he wins or loses, will be richer because of the valuable experience which he will cherish for life. Every boy who competes in the Soap Box Derby profits by his experience.

Pampa boys who wish to enter the local race may do so by going to Culberson Chevrolet and picking up their entry blanks and rule books for the 1950 Derby.

The date for the local race has not been set as yet, but will be sometime in July. The winner will be taken to Akron, Ohio, by The Pampa News.

Texans Tops in National Skeet Shoot Rankings

DALLAS — (AP) — Highest individual averages for 1949 by regularly shooting members of the National Skeet Shooting Association firing at registered targets were compiled by young Mickey Michaels of Galveston and by Joe H. Frost, Jr., San Antonio banker, the national headquarters here announced Saturday.

Michaels, the Texas champion, topped the all gauge field with 1937 x 1250, while Frost compiled the highest average in 20 gauge competition with 496 x 800. Each figured for a .922 target smashing percentage.

Leaders in all divisions grouped in the several shooting activity brackets were announced. Col. E. H. (Toot) Sloan, manager of the NSSA, said after a careful checking and a double checking of all scores made in every registered shoot in which the organization's more than 6,000 members participated during the year.

Most versatile shooter of the year was the colorful Houston veteran, Grant Hising. He topped the field firing at 800 or more targets in the small gauge division with .900 and was first among those who shot at 850 or more targets in sub-m 11 gauge with a .960 average. His .987 placed him in a tie for third high mark among shooters firing at 1500 or more 12-gauge targets and his .985 was good for a third place tie in the 400 or more targets in the 20 gauge division. Hising's over-all average of .985 compiled by 3065 "hills" firing at 8100 targets in all gauge divisions was the highest of the year.

Shooting at more targets than any other member of the association except George Glass, Sr., of Midland, Texas, whom he trailed by only 25 trigger pulls, a Joplin, Mo., theater magnate, C. W. Shillett, had one of the most amazing records of the year. His over-all average was .988 for a record of 6549 x 6800. Mrs. Fred Alford of Dallas was the most active woman member of the association. She fired at 5675 targets in registered competition.

The Pittsburgh Pirate spring roster includes five infielders formerly connected with Brooklyn—Romanus Bassall, Johnny Hopp, Stan Rojek, Henry Schenz and Ed Stevens.

Banker Faces Theft Charge

BRANSON, Mo. — (AP) — Banker, churchman and civic worker Bethel W. Elserman, 52, faces a charge of embezzling funds from this little Ozark resort community's only bank.

FBI Agent L. V. Boardman of Kansas City said Elserman, president of the Security Bank of Branson, has admitted irregularities totalling $82,000 in the bank's accounts over a six year period.

The banker was arrested Friday on a federal charge that he specified only one transaction involving $2,750 last Jan. 30.

He was arraigned at Springfield and returned home under TRUES, E. — (AP) — Pro-Communist dockworkers struck for an hour here Friday. Someone had made off with their lifelike picture of Marshal Stalin down by the waterfront.

Cultist Claims Followers Will Survive Bomb

ROCKFORD, Mass. — (AP) — The house of the "Zoom" was closed Saturday.

Newsmen trying to interview him about his plans for a soya-bean civilization which he says will survive the H-bombing end of the world didn't find him.

Nobody in this famed summer art colony seemed to know where he or his followers were.

The "Zoom" called himself by that name in telling newsmen that he heads a band of 16 men and women who will "design the new civilization."

He identified himself further as Jack Goldie, formerly of Newark, N. J., and said he's 58 years old.

The world, he said, will end April 7, 1964 in an H-bomb blast. His cult will escape because they will be hiding in a secret cave.

The "zoom" would not say where the cave will be or what could guard it from the predicted blast.

But once out of the cave, he said, the world picture will be this:

"From these men and women will spring the new brave breed of men. All but we shall perish. We want no weapons, no slaughter. We shall live mostly on soya beans."

The "Zoom" added: "We ask no one to believe our teachings. We ask only to be left alone."

Siberia Close But Couple Not Worrying

SEATTLE — (AP) — A missionary couple who can see Russia from their Bering Sea home on a clear day say their island is "a wonderful place to live."

The Rev. E. E. Parker and his wife say they have seen an occasional Russian airplane but they have no A-bomb or H-bomb worries.

"We know" commented Mrs. Parker philosophically Saturday on a visit "outside," "the Russians aren't going to waste a bomb on us."

The Parkers live on St. Lawrence Island. Their home community is Gambell, on the west tip of the island, 42 miles from Siberia.

"We may worry about New York or Chicago," Mrs. Parker added in an interview, "but not Alaska. If war ever comes, we'll find out about it on the radio. We don't think Russia will give any warning by bothering Alaska."

The Parkers figure Russia is well-informed on what goes on on their island outpost.

"About 18 months ago," the missionary said, "the Civil Aeronautics Administration had a bunch of red lanterns out for a job."

"They could be seen, of course, from Siberia, and pretty soon here comes a plane flying so low it shook the house. That's the last time, though, that I've seen a Russian plane right over the island."

Esquimos used to visit back and forth with kinkof in Siberia, said the Parkers, but no more. They said the last known Siberian Eskimo visit to the island was in 1947.

Filing Details in Claiming Prisoner Pay Simplified

AUSTIN — Proper procedure for filing Prisoner of War compensation claims, recently outlined by the War Claims Commission, Washington, D. C., is expected to increase the number of applications. Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military District, announced.

While thousands already have made their claims, it is felt that many more are entitled to compensation. Military personnel may seek compensation at the rate of $1 per day for each day confined as Prisoners of War during which time the enemy government failed to furnish the quantity and quality of food required under terms of the Geneva Convention.

Applications from living members of the Armed Forces will be executed on Form WWC-201. Applications from dependents of deceased Prisoners of War must be accomplished on Form WCC 850. Both types of application are available by writing the Office of the War Claims Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Tragic Argument Divides Belgians Over King Leopold

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Belgians will decide by referendum Sunday whether King Leopold III shall return from exile to his throne.

In the minds of the voters will be the tragic argument which has divided Leopold's subjects since he surrendered to the Belgian army to the Germans in 1940. Was he right or was he wrong?

The king was made prisoner by the Germans and was liberated by the Americans in 1945. Since then he has lived abroad. His younger brother Charles has been regent.

Leopold — now 48 — has indicated that he will abdicate unless 55 percent of the votes are in his favor. His abdication would bring his 19-year-old son, Prince Baudouin, to the throne under normal circumstances.

This being remembrance Sunday for our column, I want to take you back some 32 years to another memorable day in Belgian history. That was a time of national rejoicing in which Leopold also figured — the return of the royal family to their capital at the end of World War I after four long years of absence during German occupation.

That day must be burned into Leopold's memory. Surely as he awaits the verdict of the referendum he will hear the mighty voice of the worshipping multitude cheering the homecoming of beloved King Albert and Queen Elizabeth with their three children, of whom Leopold was one.

When the Germans swept into Belgium in 1914, the royal family retreated with the army to a tiny corner of their kingdom on the coast near the French border.

I often visited that sector, and one always could see Albert working with his soldiers, and Elizabeth busy with her missions of mercy among the many wounded.

There never was a moment when the nearby Germans couldn't have tossed a shell onto the humble abode of the royal family. But only once were shells dropped near the farm house. That was on April 8, 1918—his

Improvements Seen for Junior Livestock Show

Plans for improving next year's Top o' Texas Junior Livestock Show were made at the Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee meeting yesterday.

After a report on the recent show was presented, it was pointed out the committee hopes some improvements can be made in facilities at Recreation Park before next year's show.

Quentin Williams, committee chairman, suggested ways of getting a building at the park so the stock at the show can be judged indoors in bad weather. However, the committee has no intent of submitting a bond issue to get the needed building, it was said.

Members of the Agriculture Committee are A. B. Carruth, A. L. Mills, O. W. Hampton, Houston Allen, Clyde Carruth, Irvin Cole, John Rankin, Frank Carter, Ralph Thomas and H. B. Taylor, Jr.

Worker Exchange Plan Is Approved

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — A labor exchange agreement reached by U. S. employment officials here will involve movement of 188,000 workers in 20 central states this year.

The new plan was devised at a three-day farm placement conference which ended Friday. Ed McDonald, regional director of the employment security office at Dallas, said the workers will be moved to temporary jobs in other states during peak labor needs.

'Silvery' Object Sighted in Sky

ANDREWS — (AP) — A bright, silvery object was sighted high in the air over this West Texas town Saturday.

Jimmy Burleson, one of hundreds who craned their necks upward, said the object appeared globular, was fairly stationary, and had a shiny appearance with a bluish border around it.

(A similar object seen in the sky over Brownwood recently was identified by amateur astronomers as the planet Venus.)

Burleson said it was difficult to estimate the size or height of the object. He said "the whole town" turned out to see the object, first noticed about 9 a.m.

Verbal Blasts Expected on State's New Method for Figuring Allowables

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON — (AP) — Texas' new oil production formula can expect quite a few verbal blasts Thursday.

Oilmen will tell the state's Railroad Commission just what they think about the new set-up for determining crude production allowables. The complicated formula became effective March 1 and the commission meets in Fort Worth Thursday to set the rate of flow for April.

The manner in which it has affected various areas had determined its opposition and support. It took a big whack out of production in West Texas and along the Texas Gulf Coast. An increased production in the vast East Texas field but made a sharp cut in output in West Texas' booming Scurry County.

Since the formula became effective Mar. 1 its supporters have been rather quiet. The opposition has done quite a bit of talking but admits it sees little chance for the commission to toss its new plan aside Thursday when meeting in Fort Worth to determine April's allowables.

A spokesman for one major company listed among the opposition discounts a report a proposed substitute plan will be placed before the commission. He admitted the opposition would have a lot to say at Fort Worth but probably would have to see the April allowable based 1,944,000 barrels daily, a drop of 100,000.

Texas' oil industry has been the commission, however, had falling since market demand be found itself facing a critical situation to slip in Dec., 1945, taking away the state's production along with the string of cutback orders had forced many wells to approach the minimum rates at the March allowable based on the new formula was a bitter pill to waste or injury.

After 12 cutbacks in 15 months, these low producing wells went up or down.

It placed the daily allowable at when the commission announced last month at San Antonio it had decided to change the formula, oil operators were advised the state needed a formula that could adjust itself to market demand, regardless how low that might be.

The plan adopted had been used temporarily in 1947 and is popularly known as the "1947 yardstick."

It is based on well depth, acreage and market demand. The MER rate that governed the abandoned plan still stands as a ceiling for allowables.

Under the 1947 yardstick a well producing from a depth of from 1,000 to 1,500 feet can produce 27 barrels daily if it is on a 10-acre tract.

If on a 20-acre tract it can produce 37 barrels daily, 87 barrels if on 40 acres.

The scale ranged up to wells of from 13,500 to 14,500 feet in depth, with production set at 300 barrels daily for 40-acre wells.

Under the abandoned MER set-up, allowables were determined by maximum efficient rates of flow and market demand.

The MER's were based by engineering data. The commission determined what it considered market requirements for a particular month.

Each well got its share of the MER, prorated against its MER.

The 1947 yardstick dropped booming Scurry County from an allowable of 49,860 barrels daily to 28,887. It jumped the East Texas field by 36,498 to 251,394 barrels daily.

West Texas by 60,699 and the Gulf Coast by 62,238.

Under the new formula, proposals for increased allowables in Texas and a method to curtail oil imports occupied delegates to the annual convention of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association meeting Wednesday and Thursday in Dallas.

R. L. Foree of Dallas was named president of the association. Other officials are Vernon Frost, Houston, secretary, and E. I. Thompson, Austin, executive vice president.

Take the wraps off oil production in Texas and let us recapture lost markets, said independent producers.

Delegates at the TIPO convention adopted a resolution calling for this action. They asked the Texas Railroad Commission to increase crude oil allowables at a rate that will "recapture markets surrendered" to other oil producing states and foreign importers.

Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi, cited figures to show Texas oil production in the last year has been cut approximately 600,000 barrels daily.

His figures showed by contrast that Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Kansas production has been increased.

The association also hit oil imports and supported proposed legislation to free independent gas producers from federal power commission control.

Unless something is done to curtail oil imports the nation's independent oil industry is doomed, Guy L. Warren, outgoing president, contended.

"The oil business was plagued," he said, "with studied propaganda that the country was running out of oil, and in high places in our government the contention was being made that government control was essential in order to furnish the American consumer with sufficient oil for the country's domestic welfare."

Ira Cram appointed Conoco vice president.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Power Commission was told last week a proposed 1,300-mile natural gas pipeline from the Corpus Christi area south to Texas to Joliet, Ill., would cost $117,000,000.

Construction costs were outlined by Robert G. Strong, chief engineer for the Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Co., Chicago, which seeks authority to build and operate the line.

The gas would be collected from the Chocolate Bayou, Old Ocean and La Gloria fields, he said, and would converge into a 30-inch pipeline south of Houston.

The company contends the gas is needed to supplement fuel brought to the Chicago area by the Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America from Texas Panhandle fields. Both the applicant and the latter company are subsidiaries of Peoples Gas Light and Coke Distributing Co., Chicago.

In war or peace, the import problem must be resolved at once," Warren, a Corpus Christi oilman, delivered his report as the association began final meetings of its annual two-day membership session.

Venezuela Threatens Buying Cut If U.S. Decreases Oil Imports

NEW YORK — (AP) — An unofficial Venezuela trade mission said Friday that if the United States cuts oil imports, Venezuela is sure to be forced to reduce purchases here.

The 12-man mission of business and commercial leaders headed by Eugenio Mendoza said it was here on a goodwill mission to promote trade between the two countries. They will visit 11 American cities during a visit of about a month or six weeks.

Asked whether they would seek to impress U. S. business with the necessity of continuing purchases of Venezuelan oil, Albert T. Phelps, a member of the mission, said: "Certainly we will discuss the oil question."

"If the U. S. curtails purchases of oil, we must curtail purchases of American goods as we would not have the dollars to pay for them."

Denton New Head Of Southwest API

DALLAS — (AP) — Harold Denton, assistant general superintendent of the Sun Oil Co., Beaumont, was named chairman of the Southwest District, Division of Production, American Petroleum Institute, at the close of a three-day meeting Friday.

District vice chairman elected included: Frank Wood, Wichita Falls; Phil Lehnhard, Kilgore; William D. Lane, Midland.

Misunderstanding of the word "reserves" has had many people to believe North America has a much less oil and gas underground than actually is there, the oil meeting was told last week.

There are many billions of barrels of oil and trillions of cubic feet of gas underground in North America still not "proved," Dr. Frederick H. Lahee, geological and research counselor of the Sun Oil Co., said.

Failure to understand that "the estimated proved reserves of these hydrocarbons are always only a part of the supply" causes widespread misunderstanding of the ultimate supply of reserves, he said.

"The habit of dividing the year-end reserves by the production of that year to obtain an idea of the number of years of remaining supply is fallacious and leads to erroneous conclusions," he said.

He cited a climb in estimated proved reserves from five billion barrels in 1921 to 23 billion barrels in 1948 despite actual oil production during the period of over 17 billion barrels.

Oil drillers along the hurricane-belt Gulf Coast have their own private weather forecasting service.

Joe E. Graham and Ricard A. Geyer, meteorologists for Humble Oil & Refining Co., described the weather service Friday at closing sessions of the production meeting.

"Severe damage to offshore installations and floating marine equipment undoubtedly has been averaged by accurate, up-to-the-minute forecasts of squalls and other local storms," they said. The private forecasters emphasize such things as wave heights and wind velocity while government forecasts emphasize rain and temperature.

Continental Reports Successful Period

PONCA CITY — (AP) — Continental Oil Co. terms 1949 the most successful year in its history—except for 1948.

Its annual statement showed net earnings of $36,096,880, equivalent to $7.48 a share.

The report said earnings were 33 percent below 1948 but were 15 percent above the 1947 level.

Leonard White, newly-named engineer to the West Pampa and Watkins Repressing Associations, examines a map of the area with Fred Neslage, right, pool engineer for the associations and Martin Ludeman, center, engineer. White joined the staff March 1.

Plans for redesigning the Skelly Crawford and Watkins gasoline plants now are being formulated for secondary recovery in the Watkins area of Hutchinson and Carson Counties. Treaters and dehydrators and additional compression equipment are to be installed at the plants.

Engineers have surveyed tentative routes for the field gas distribution systems and gas injection wells are being selected. The project, covering a total of 30 square miles in the two counties, will affect approximately 1,933 wells with a current daily oil production of 9,440 barrels.

Seventy-five individuals, independent operators and major companies are participating in the program. Skelly is service agent.

There appears on today's oil sheet a letter written to Jim McClintock, deputy supervisor, Railroad Commission, from Bill Putnam, Pampa man now in Ethiopia.

Putnam tells of many phases of that part of the world where Sinclair is drilling a wildcat in the central portion of the country. Putnam, who was warehouseman for Sinclair in Pampa from 1935 to Dec. 1949, is in charge of all stocks and materials for the outfit in Africa.

His wife and seven-year-old son Tommy are still in Pampa, but plan to move to St. Paul, Minn., sometime after Easter.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Mann, live at 931 E. Francis. Mrs. Putnam says she has no idea how her husband decided to take a tour overseas. She added she and Tommy couldn't move to Africa until April if they decided to go.

At any rate, this is one of the most interesting letters I have had privilege to read in a long time. Others who have read it agree.

An oil company was one of three Panhandle organizations receiving awards from the Texas Safety Association.

The citation was presented Phillips Petroleum Co. of Borger at a banquet highlighting the eleventh annual Texas Safety Conference in Dallas Monday. Keynote address was by Texas Governor Allan Shivers.

During this meeting two representatives from the oil industry were named regional vice presidents of the association. Don Conley, Cabot, was named from Pampa and Harry Wheelon, Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp., represented Amarillo oilmen. Nominations were announced by M. E. Brock, Gulf Oil Corp., chairman of the nominating committee.

Browning Hudson, geologist with Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. at Oklahoma City, will discuss lower Pennsylvanian and Mississippian formations of Western Oklahoma at a meeting of the Panhandle Geological Society Wednesday.

The meeting is to be held at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo with a dinner to get underway at 7 p. m.

Reservations can be made with Louise Jordan, secretary of the society at Sun Oil Co. Geological Department in Amarillo.

Phillips was high bidder for a lease on 1,500 acres of federal oil and gas lands in Moore County.

The company offered a bonus of $106.66 an acre for a five-year lease on all six parcels of the former Cactus Ordnance Works at Etter.

H. D. Lewis, Dumas, was second high bidder for three parcels with an offer of $46.25. Kerr-McGee was second on two parts with a bid of $40 an acre. K. J. Fowlston, Amarillo, was second on the remaining parcel with an offer of $56.62 an acre.

The administration, according to high government official testifying before a House subcommittee, opposes a high tariff on oil imports. The administration considers this contrary to the government's policy of encouraging international trade.

The government official, Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce, says that a "leveling off in domestic" (See DRILLER'S LOG, Page 11) day asked for more time to file its tidelands suit brief in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Attorney General Price Daniel also announced that some of the nation's top legal talent had been retained to help in the state's fight for title to its oil-rich offshore lands.

Koscoe Pound, former dean of the Harvard Law School, Joseph W. Bingham, Manhattan lawyer, and James William Moore will be special counsel for Texas.

Daniel said a motion asking the Supreme Court to set the Texas case for some time after May 1 rather than Mar. 27 had been filed in Washington.

Hudson is a former judge of the World Court and is chairman of the United Nations International Law Commission.

Bingham is professor emeritus of International Law at Stanford University. Moore served on the U.S. Supreme Court's advisory committee which drafted the federal rules of procedure.

Allowable Cuts Drop Nation's Crude Average

TULSA — (AP) — Allowable cuts in two states — Texas and Louisiana — were major factors in lowering the nation's daily average crude oil production by 70,375 barrels during the week ended Mar. 4. The Oil and Gas Journal reported last week.

Total daily average production for the week, the Journal said, was 4,848,975 barrels.

The Texas curtailment dropped that state's production 44,600 barrels to 1,519,000 barrels a day. Louisiana's fell 21,100 to 524,800.

The daily averages: Arkansas, 80,900, up 600; Louisiana, 524,800, down 21,100; New Mexico, 130,000, down 800; Oklahoma, 424,700, down 300; Texas, 1,519,000, down 44,600; Dist. 10 (Panhandle), 89,150, up 150.

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — San Antonio independent oil operators want the Railroad Commission to agree not to cut production allowables below present levels. They passed a resolution to this effect at a meeting last week.

MER Hearing Set On Chambers Field

AUSTIN — (AP) — Hearing on reduction of the maximum efficiency of production of the Chambers Hill field, Chambers County, has been set for March 20.

Operators in the field were directed to appear on that date to show cause why the MER figure, now based on a top allowable of 200 barrels per well per day plus 200 barrels per day for additional wells, should not be reduced to 50 barrels per well per day plus 50 barrels per day for additional wells.

Such is life in Ethiopia. Our base of supplies here, that is our general warehouse and transportation center, is here at Dire Dawa. The operations are 480 miles by roads, that is if you can dignify them by calling them roads, and 340 miles by air. We use the roads only for our truck convoys and the balance of the transportation is by air. The company owns a four place plane and the Ethiopian Airlines, subsidiary of TWA, use and operate DC-3's with them whereby they send a plane to camp every Saturday morning and return the same afternoon. Pampa Man Describes Life on an Ethiopian Wildcat Well

(ED. NOTE: The following is a letter written by Bill Putnam, former Pampa employe of Sinclair, Putnam now in charge of all supplies for a Sinclair wildcat near Dire Dawa, Ethiopia, left the States last December for a two-year tour in Africa.)

Such is life in Ethiopia. Our base of supplies here, that is our general warehouse and transportation center, is here at Dire Dawa. The operations are 480 miles by roads, that is if you can dignify them by calling them roads, and 340 miles by air. We use the roads only for our truck convoys and the balance of the transportation is by air. The company owns a four place plane and the Ethiopian Airlines, subsidiary of TWA, use and operate DC-3's with them whereby they send a plane to camp every Saturday morning and return the same afternoon. The plane comes into Dire Dawa from Aden Friday evening. The crews lay over here and go down the next morning. They haul such cargo as perishable food supplies for the camp, operating supplies that cannot wait for the truck convoy and company personnel returning to the camp.

The men at the camp work straight through seven days a week for six weeks, then they have a week's vacation. Some stay at the camp and hunt — this place is a hunter's paradise

The hunting here is something out of this world. There are several different kinds of deer with purely local names, antelope, ostrich, wild wart hogs, crocodiles, alligators, rhinos, all the birds in the world, and in the lower part of the country there are elephants. So far no one here has gotten an elephant. Other than these there are several types of leopards and cats in general.

The well here is one of those problem children, being drilled, of course, for information. Geological information is the prime thing lacking in this country. All the geology that has been worked here is Italian and that is proving to be very unreliable. Also we have run into things that were unexpected and that have caused trouble and slow-down in the work.

The town of Dire Dawa isn't much to write about, but it is a town of approximately 6,000 to 10,000 people. No one has the remotest idea of what the population amounts to, excluding the native quarters. The government is trying, and trying hard, to improve the entire country, but when you consider that Ethiopia was first conquered by the Italians, then was under British mandate after that until 1943, and has only had their own king and government since then, they are doing wonders. The country is naturally poor with very few natural resources. The principal industry around the town proper is a cement factory, a cotton gin and cloth weaving factory. Up around Harrah, pronounced as though it were spelled Harrah, they grow some of the world's best coffee. Apparently, though, from the stuff we drink, it never gets here, but is exported to the States. Up there they also have some wonderful truck gardens and grow the fruit for this part of Ethiopia. Those people have worked that part of the country for centuries, and have even irrigated and terraced it, just like we started doing about ten years ago at home. (See PAMPAN, Page 11)

The rig is on a sub-structure and we have two Cameron Blow-out preventers on the pipe constantly. We have any number of varieties of mud and chemicals and have lost-circulation materials brought in from the States.

We communicate with the rig at least three times a day by radio, having one in a radio house at the field and one here in the warehouse office. Receivers are kept on all the time and transmitters are cut in when ever either station calls the other. This is so that we may get drilling reports all the time and also in case there is trouble or an accident on the rig.

Pampan Describes Ethiopia

(Continued from Page 10) that respect, they are so far ahead of us that there is no comparison. The big thing this country is lacking is money for operation and for water. If they could get water here they could raise anything they need, and plenty of it, as the soil is practically virgin ground and is as fertile as our own Iowa and Illinois country. I have certainly gained a lot in experience in the two months I have been here. The principle is the same, but the operations are entirely different from anything that I have ever run into before. The problems that arise here are peculiar to themselves, and some of the solutions that are arrived at would never be thought of in domestic operations. These people are the world's best at improvising for themselves, and the trait has naturally been picked up by the Americans, but to a lesser degree. When you must anticipate your needs for from six to nine months ahead, and then something goes out that you don't expect, then you have to do something. For instance, we ripped out two rotary hoses here within 24 hours, and that is something you would never expect to happen. Well, they got around that by using flexible swings, and went right on drilling and never lost a tour. We fortunately had two more ordered, which arrived by themselves on a separate land of the Fribilof group in the Aleutians.

keeping the mud in proper condition, and the way these formations change makes you want to cuss. I suppose that is all part of wildcatting. I will certainly know more when I return than I did when I left. The mail situation here is very irregular. To keep things going at all, we have to use air mail entirely. Parcel post is more or less out of the question, and surface first class mail takes at least six weeks to two months to get here. Parcel post averages three months to get here, and one of the men had a parcel that was nine months getting to him from the States. After being received, the Post Office wanted to charge him eight months storage. The trouble as far as we can find out, is up at Addis Ababa. There, they are understaffed and overworked, and when parcels or surface mail come in, the bags are taken to the back of a large room, emptied, and the stuff that was there previously is pushed ahead. That way, yours gets to the front sometime, but the Lord only knows when it is liable to happen. It is for that reason that the company and all of the company personnel use air mail entirely. Take a look at the stamps on this and you can figure out why all the letters are few and far between, and why they are so long. It costs just as much to mail a letter with three sheets of this kind of paper as it does one sheet, so everyone here waits until he can write either one long letter or a series of them, but on different dates. That way, you get your money's worth. We suspect that there is a certain amount of mail being opened some place between here and New York, but we can't prove it. One thing we do know: you can't send any money through the mails and expect it to reach its destination. I sent Tommy some Italian money that I had picked up in Rome, and one Ethiopian dollar, and from what Pat said in the last letter, they didn't arrive. Some place along the line, the money was removed and the letter forwarded. In a way, you can't blame these people, as wages are desperately low and the standard of living is like the wages. As you might expect, all Americans are known as "Rich Americans" and that is the truth. If one of the people is trying to beg from you, he will call you a "Rich American" to your face, and if you don't donate to him, boy will he cuss you out in his own language. Besides the Ethiopians, there are worlds and worlds of Arabians here. As they are all Moslems, and a part of their religion is to steal, they do their best to take you for a cleaning. You can always tell a Moslem or an Arab, as they all wear sarongs, reminding you of Hedy Lamar. Looks strange to see a man going around with a skirt on; mind you I said a skirt, not a shirt. Also, you see lots of Indians from India, and these you can tell at a glance. One of their peculiar traits is wearing a fur hat summer and winter.

Drilling Contractors Reschedule Meeting

DALLAS — (Special) — The second quarterly meeting for 1950 of directors of American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors, originally scheduled to be held in Corpus Christi, on Apr. 7, has been moved forward to Friday, Apr. 25. Of course there isn't any winter here, but what they call winter is to me just plenty hot. This is the winter season and I am down to pants and shirt now. What it will be by the time summer gets here, I am afraid to even try to guess. This has almost run its course as a letter, or should I say a chapter of a book? I can't get around to writing everyone because of the time element, but ask that you pass the news around to everyone you think might be interested. More later. Yours as ever, Bill Putman

(Continued from Page 10) demand," not increasing imports, is responsible for curtailed American production. Mr. Blaisdell preferred import restriction through increased tariffs, however, to other proposals sought by independent oilmen. Yet, he said the administration wants to cut all tariffs rather than increase them. This indicates the administration sees but one pleasant way of cutting imports, but doesn't particularly want to invoke this particular method. In other words, the administration doesn't see much need in cutting imports at all. Even though the rate does reach one million barrels daily, Utah will vote in the 1950 general election on a constitutional amendment to make the office of state superintendent of public instruction appointive instead of elective.

Operations in U.S., Canadian Fields Pick Up

DALLAS — (Special) — Drilling operations continue to pick up with a total of 2042 active rigs in United States and Canadian oilfields for the week of Mar. 6—the highest number since the total of 2069 Jan. 9. It was reported to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Co. Due mainly to an increase of 25 rigs in West Texas and New Mexico, the new total is 32 units above that of 2010 a week ago; 94 higher than 1948 a month ago; and 17 above the total of 2025 for the comparable week in 1949. By areas, rig operations were as follows: West Texas and New Mexico 707, up 35; Illinois 70, up 13; Oklahoma-Kansas 365, up 9; Arkansas-Louisiana-Texas 147, up 7; Rocky Mountain and Canada 144, up 1; Gulf Coast 475, down 28; Pacific Coast 134, down 7.

Dispute Due On Well Site

ORANGE — (AP) — The Ohio Oil Co. prepared Friday to bring in the wildcat oil well which may send Louisiana and Texas to court to settle an historic boundary dispute. A spokesman said the well, the No. 1 E. W. Brown, Jr., had been bottomed at 9,912 feet, 88 feet above project depth, but would be completed in an oil sand at 8,130 feet. Seven-inch "production" casing is being set to the latter depth, inside a 5-8-inch protective casing already set to 7,820 feet. Completion of the well is scheduled for early this week. The company spokesman said several potential producing sands were encountered, all below 7,500 feet, but the one at 8,130 feet was chosen for present production. The oil test is located in the Louisiana coastal marshes about one mile east of the Sabine River at a point opposite the city of Orange. Its completion is expected to touch off a drilling campaign which may extend the field to the river itself. In that event, oil men here have said, the old argument over whether the Texas-Louisiana boundary is in the middle of the river or at its west bank will have to be settled so that oil companies can pay royalties on the state-owned river bed. 70 oilers, two gasers and 35 dry holes. Other data: average daily output of oil 5,485 barrels; of gas 29,538,000 cubic feet, 346,995 feet drilled.

Sooner Activity Shows Increase

TULSA — (AP) — Oklahoma oil producers were more than seasonally active last week, early field reports disclosed. A Tulsa World survey to mid-March showed 107 completions, compared to the previous week's 92. Included were

Conspiracy Trial For Louisiana Solon Scheduled

SEREVEPORT — (AP) — Federal District Judge Ben C. Dawkins has set Sen. Alva Brumfield's trial on government conspiracy charges for May 1 in Alexandria.

Brumfield is indicted in April on charges of conspiracy to influence witnesses during a federal petroleum board hearing of a Connally Oil Act case in Lafayette in 1948, is recovering in Baton Rouge from a gall bladder operation Feb. 23.

His attorneys pressed for a delay pending Brumfield's recovery. Dawkins ruled that "if we don't hear the case this spring we'll have to wait until fall."

The court took note of the regular May session of the Legislature in setting the trial date so Brumfield would not be on trial during the session. It also pointed out that two and a half months should be ample time for his recovery.

The court granted a defense counsel preliminary hearing April 24 to hear testimony by doctors as to whether he will be able to be tried May 1.

Fishing Vessel Used In Israel Research

HAIFA — (AP) — A new fishing vessel built in Denmark is being used for research and experimental purposes here.

Only 17 percent of Israel's fish food needs presently are supplied by local fishing units. More than $5,000,000 are spent annually for imported fish. Israel presently has 18 fishing vessels compared with one at the end of World War II. It is planned to boost the fishing fleet operating from Israeli ports to 75 within the next four years.

A&M Graduate Leads Research

COLLEGE STATION — (Special) — Dr. James R. Watson, Jr., the first Texas A&M College graduate to obtain an advanced degree in turf, will return March 15 to the Department of Agronomy to lead turf investigations and instruction, according to Dr. J. E. Adams, department head.

Since graduation here in 1947, Watson has been doing advanced studies in turf at Penn State College under the sponsorship of the U. S. Golf Association. A degree of doctor of philosophy was recently conferred upon him by that institution.

While completing his last year at A&M Watson was a graduate assistant in the Department of Agronomy.

Dr. Watson will be employed jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M College System, to conduct research in turf problems, and by A&M College as a teacher in pasture production. As basic information becomes available, a course in turf management will be made available to A&M students, Adams said.

Georgia Officers Found Guilty in Civil Rights Case

ROME, Ga. — (AP) — A Georgia jury has convicted a sheriff and his deputy of depriving seven Negroes of their civil rights by turning them over to a Ku Klux Klan mob for flogging.

Eight other white defendants were freed.

Dade County Sheriff John W. Lynch and Deputy William Hartline were acquitted on two charges of a three point indictment—general conspiracy and intimidation of Mrs. Mamie Clay.

It was at the Clay home at Hooker, Ga., that the seven Negroes were seized by Ku Kluxers last April 2.

The maximum sentence that can be given Lynch and Hartline on the civil rights conviction is one year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Federal Judge Frank Hooper withheld sentence pending a motion for a new trial.

The Negroes—four of them former servicemen—were forced into cars at the Clay home and carried a short distance to a church yard where they were lashed severely.

Age of Disbelief Fades Away Along With Word 'Impossible'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Slip the rumor to me, Junior. Did you see a bird flying backward? You say a lion stopped you in the street and wanted to know what subway to take to the Bronx Zoo?

How's that? You just trapped three men from Mars in the basement and winged 'em with your atom gun?

Do I believe you, son? Well, let me put it to you this way—I don't disbelieve you. I no longer disbelieve anybody or anything.

The age of smug certainty is gone. Wonder has piled upon wonder so fast in our lifetime that few of us have any disbelief left. It takes a brave or foolhardy man indeed to say "that's impossible." Tomorrow he may be proved wrong and a dolittle oaf.

Mankind seems to have lost its anchors and is drifting helter-skelter before capricious winds of chance and uncertainty. Faith has lost its feathers, and authority is a broken reed. About all a man can be sure of is that if he steps aboard a certain bus he'll end up home. But how about that bus driver a few years back who started out on his regular route here and ended up in Florida?

Nope, you just can't know nothing for certain.

Take that story by the dynamite salesman about the wreckage of a space ship being found in Mexico piloted by a gent only 23 inches tall. The Air Force says, "there is no evidence to support the existence of any interplanetary machines."

But you will note that the Air Force doesn't rule out the possibility. It can't—it may have to fight space ships some day.

As a matter of fact, the rumor of an interplanetary space ship having crashed on the North American continent has been floating around Manhattan for months. According to the version I heard, it hit in the Southwest and the bodies of 34 "things" about three-feet high were found. The "things" were supposed to have been living beings, but without skin, flesh, scales or feathers.

A reporter asked a well-known atomic scientist if he believed the rumor, and he replied: "I wouldn't say I disbelieved it. Anything is possible."

And so it is. If two pollywog-eyed creatures in green armor knocked on my door and said, "We just landed from the planet Venus." I wouldn't call them liars. I'd just hand them the keys to the apartment and say, "Let me know when you get out of here."

FLOWERS IN MARCH, and they certainly make a pretty sight. At the I. E. Byars home I saw blue, yellow and it looked like some pink in the front flower bed... Saw these same little yellow flowers at the H. T. Hampton's and also at 602 West (I don't know who lives there)... These yellow star-shaped flowers might be jonquils, but I honestly don't know a petunium from a daisy. Should have called Mrs. George LILLY, Mrs. Rex ROSE, or maybe Mrs. J. C. Noticed Mrs. Jeanne Elsett the other afternoon in a pretty outfit... a shade of burgundy... Mrs. Frank Stallings has a chest in her entrance hall that's the first thing you see upon entering her home... it's a lovely piece of furniture... Ervin and Madeline Pursley were due to start on their new home this week... they're going to be the Bill Frasers' next-door neighbors... Spied Mrs. Sherman White and Mrs. Raymond Harrah buying theater tickets to "All the King's Men"... sorry I passed that picture up now because all comment was favorable... Mrs. D. Glaxner has a red ensemble that's extra pretty... Mrs. John Schwind is a nice person... she has a cute way of tilting her head and smiling "hello"... Mrs. C. D. Herring is the most energetic person... about anything she does she does in a big way... she's good at planning parties... large or small... Saw Mrs. W. H. Burden driving along Browning the other day... While on that street I saw a fine display of trophies in the window at 906 East... I don't know who lives there, but there's bound to be a champion in the family... Didn't see too large a crowd at the concert Friday evening at the Jr. High auditorium... Understand that James "Chief" Carlisle will be in Pampa shortly... His wife and little daughter have been visiting here... Member he was a Harvester footballer in '38 and '39, I believe it was... the Carlises live in Dallas now... Noticed that Wayne Roby is in town this weekend... he's living on the Osborne ranch through the week, but I think Pampa is his weekend home... Mrs. Ham Luna looks nice in red... the Rev. and Mrs. West are the nicest two people... Their home looks like they really "live" there... even with their children grow... With dust in my eyes, visibility was poor, but that looked like Harry Solnick rushing across the street the other afternoon... he seems awfully friendly.

HEAR MRS. GENE FATHEREE is going over one of her rooms... what's the color scheme? On color... did you ever see used so boldly? Remember when painters went wild trying to match paint to a swatch of drapery material? Well, more headaches are in the offing because decorators are urging us to use natural colors... no painters have to match a purple-red cabbage, green sprig of parsley or the beige of a potato. If you want the latest in color, go dig in your garden and get some "down-to-earth" mixtures!

There's a sign up at one of the local floral shops that I'd like to "snitch" to hang in my kitchen... look around for it.

Wish I could have made it down to the Court House cafeteria grand opening... And say, I'll see you at the Schneider some evening soon... they're serving smorgasbord there once again... do try it. The Country Club is nice for dining out, too... The W. R. Wanners usually go there for weekends (Sunday). Also see Marvin and Nell Harris at the club real often.

BEGORRA! 'Tis about time for St. Pat's Day... Top o' the mornin' to ye Irish laddies... specially all you Chisums (Ralph on Warren Street, Roy on Russell, and the Chisums on Wynne Street, I believe). Then I mustn't forget the Chisholms... Russ Chisholm on Gray, John on Twiford, and Jack on Hamilton Street. (If any of you mentioned above are not Irish, well, just pass it off as a compliment... these Irish are a nice bunch... say! you can tell Peg has kissed the Blarney stone!)

THAT WAS A NICE banquet last night for the Harvester basketballers. Eulaine Ellis made a pretty queen... I'm not sure, but isn't she Henry and Bernice Ellis's daughter?... You know every time I go to a banquet, play or something up at high school I wish they'd pass a law... against anyone ever getting out of high school... but then I guess it's like the quote goes: "Youth is got a time of life—it's a state of mind."

WHOT! From her first name you can find three men. Her husband really states and leases, that their phone number starts with ten. Now start putting together the pieces. For her last name Webster gives, "Careworn, drawn and emaciated." She lives near where L. E. Johnson lives, and she's admirable else this would not have been related.

EVER PLAY "SEARCH ME"? (Everybody's Digest, March) The host camouflages articles on the guests... cotton in ears, silver foil on ring or watch, or adhesive tape on a man's starched collar. The point is for the guests to mingle and search one another for the hidden articles, listing the hiding places. It's a game to use your ingenuity in camouflage... that's what I'm always doing, but if you see me with a postage stamp hiding on my new print dress, you'll realize I've been playing "Search Me" and camouflage or not, you'll know I'm...

What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

By MARY ANNE DUKE

Much could be said here, about a certain childhood disease which this writer has had occasion to discuss in a good deal about lately. Perhaps it will be just as well to make a long story short by saying it's good to know the younger member in this family will be spared the inconvenience of the ordeal in her later years. (Note - to all over 10 years of age: Avoid Mumps!)

Thanks and thanks again to all those who so kindly remembered us with cards, flowers, food, calls, etc., during this illness. The etc., etc., includes the agent's secretary, Miss Patty Willett, who is not only a most efficient secretary but is also a lot of fun to have around, and Mr. Foster Whitley, assistant county agricultural agent, who courageously keeps the Extension Service Radio program on the air. It also includes Soil Conservation staff members, Mr. Quentin Williams and Mr. Tony Welker who have talked to Bell, Worthwhile, Merfien, and Wayside Home Demonstration Clubs on Soil Conservation, and specifically, garden soils here in Gray County.

Due to the dry weather the outlook for good gardens is not too promising at this date. However, let's continue to make garden preparations and be ready when that good ole' rain does start falling. Hope the following suggestions on vegetable seed varieties will help:

Lanterns Amid Cherry Blossoms Form Setting for Japanese Tea in First Methodist Fellowship Hall

MRS. W. L. BOOSA, far right, in black dress and hat, reviewed "The Seven Stars" at the WSCS Japanese tea in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church, Wednesday afternoon. In the background are hostesses, against a setting of trellises and realistic cherry blossoms that transformed the hall into a Japanese garden.

A Japanese silver tea in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church on Wednesday afternoon climaxed the study, "Japan Begins Again," by the Women's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. W. L. Boosa reviewed the book, "The Seven Stars."

"The Seven Stars," written by a Japanese author, is the story of seven boys, with Japan as the setting. It begins in 1927, and is told in the first person by one of the seven characters in the story. The book leads the reader through the years and events leading up to the war, and takes him through the war years, from the viewpoint of a young Japanese. It tells of the changing attitude of the Japanese to many things, including their women, who suddenly began to demand more freedom, and to Americans, whom they had been taught to regard as monsters.

McMurry No Longer Black Sheep of Texas Colleges, Thanks to Tireless Dr. Cooke

A man and his wife drove up to the corner of the McMurry College campus in Abilene, one day in September, 1942, and sized it up for the first time. They looked across its barren acres and surveyed its inadequate half dozen buildings — one incomplete, one temporary, and one — the gymnasium — somewhat disreputable and worn. Only the administration building was a college edifice worthy of the name. It was a memorable moment, for a decision was in the offing that was to change the course of both the man and the college. "It doesn't look like a college to me," said the wife. "It doesn't to me, either," the man agreed. That was how McMurry and its next president — Dr. Harold G. Cooke met. A short span later they were permanently wedded, and they've been sprinting like a wild rabbit ever since. The school had been a child of misfortune through most of its days. Opened as a junior college in 1923, it had just begun to blossom in the late twenties when the crash hit. It left the college, among other things, with an unfinished women's dormitory, just one wing of the intended building sitting on a sizeable chunk of acreage. So, on Jan. 1, 1943, Dr. Cooke became president of a college that for more than a decade — and did at that moment — faced the threat of closing. It had in reality been something of a stepchild of the Northwest Texas Conference which founded it. He boasted 17 teachers on the faculty and a student body of 160. Its entire physical worth was $875,000, and that included a token $60,000 endowment. President Cooke lost no time in diagnosing the patient's ailments and deciding what was necessary to make it well. He conceived a daring program which called for a minimum of $1,000,000 in endowment and $750,000 in buildings and equipment. He prepared this recommendation for the board of trustees at its meeting in the spring. When he told the trustees about his $1,750,000 plan, mouths fell open and eyes bugged out all over the room. After lengthy discussion, however, the campaign was approved. Dr. Cooke prosecuted the drive vigorously during the crucial late years of the war, and with good results. A lot of money went into war bonds. Excess from battle-fronts all over the world sent in their share. Ground was broken in November, 1945, on the first project, completion of the girls' dormitory. A month later, at Christmas, Iris Graham, the registrar, was killed in an automobile accident. It was decided to build a dining hall as a memorial to her, and that project was taken on by the execs. It and the dormitory were building at the same time. The college, the campaign, and Dr. Cooke almost met disaster on Feb. 11, 1947. In the pre-dawn hours of that rainy day, Dr. Cooke left Abilene enroute to a meeting downstate and his car overturned on slick pavement. He suffered a broken neck and other critical injuries. Instead of letting it get him down, however, Dr. Cooke turned his injury into an asset. Three days after the accident, a telephone was hooked up to his bedside, his secretary took her post in the sickroom and business was going on as usual. While he was in bed, Mrs. J. M. Radford, Abilene businesswoman, decided to build and equip the Radford Student Life Center on the campus. She marked $300,000 for the project, which is expected to be completed this summer. Nine weeks after his injury, Dr. Cooke left the hospital with his neck in a brace and launched a campaign that carried him all over Texas and New Mexico. His efforts paid off in dollars—much of which went into the Gold Star Memorial Men's Dormitory. When the Radford Student Life Center is finished this summer, the new property values created under Dr. Cooke's leadership will be in excess of $2,000,000 and the capital endowment $1,120,000. The school's total worth will exceed $3,600,000. Academic improvement has kept pace with the physical growth. Last year McMurry was fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, by the Methodist Senate, and the Methodist Church. What's ahead? "All of this," answers the president, "is just a demonstration of the readiness of the people to respond to a challenging program. "You might say that I look upon what has been done merely as clearing the ground for future development. This is just the beginning. This is just what was necessary to get ready."

Classification of the fish was given as "great white shark or man-eater." It is the first of its kind reported taken in the gulf area. Capture of the shark is an "oddy" in the coastal waters and indicates no danger to swimmers and fishermen, the article said.

Wrecker's Hook Slashes Motorist In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The hook of an automobile wrecker's winch cable slashed into a motorist's face and remained imbedded under his left eye for nearly half an hour in a freak accident Friday.

The victim, who is expected to lose the eye, is Cary Eugene Williams, 25, packing house sales clerk.

Williams had fixed the winch cable of a service station wrecker to the axle of his car, bogged down in mud, while a service station attendant sat at the wheel of the wrecker.

The cable slipped and the hook struck Williams. The wrecker's battery died. E. S. Jenkins, 64, the attendant, held Williams upright for half an hour while he shouted for help. Jenkins was unable to remove the hook from Williams' face.

A neighbor finally heard the call and summoned help.

SOLON IS FRIEND OF HOUSEWIFE, HE SAYS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Kerr (D-Okla.), one of the wealthiest men in the senate, describes himself as "the American housewife's best friend" and denied that legislation he has introduced would boost her gas bills.

"They (opponents of the bill) are trying to prejudice her against me, saying I want to 'jack' up her monthly gas bill," the senator told a reporter.

"Actually, I am the real friend of the housewife. I am fighting to keep the gas industry stable and healthy so that it can continue to bring the American consumer the cheapest, cleanest and best fuel."

The cause of the argument is a proposed amendment to the Natural Gas Act, now on the senate calendar. The bill would exclude the Federal Power Commission from jurisdiction over the production of independent gas wells.

Opponents of the bill contend it would increase the price of gas to consumers.

Kerr, an oil man, said that chief opposition to the measure comes from "some city groups trying to extend the authority of the Federal Power Commission to gas sales at the well head."

"Otherwise they say they fear a price increase to the gas consumer," he said.

"Some people are trying to scare the gas consumer into believing a big price increase is in store unless the FPC takes over. Actually, all the present consuming markets are served by gas reserves which are committed under long term contracts.

"My bill won't affect the prices under these contracts one way or another."

Village Cat Survives Stay In Fiery Kiln

MINERVA, O. — (AP) — An ordinary calico cat which emerged singed, thirsty but alive after 98 hours in a fiery kiln is an object of scientific interest.

Dr. William Orr, the veterinarian in this village, exclaimed, "it's a strange case that wouldn't happen again in 100 years. The animal's (foot) pads were burned off. The top of its skull was scorched, the end of its nose was charred and its body was burned as dry as a cracker when it was brought to me."

Dr. Orr pumped food into the baked puss's veins after putting the cat under sedatives. Yesterday it was jumping into his lap to be fed.

The cat was sealed accidentally in a kiln at the Metropolitan Brick Co. plant here Friday night. Temperature in the oven reached up 900 degrees Fahrenheit.

The veterinarian said he investigated the case carefully with plant superintendent Joe Bucola and both agreed that any other explanation was out of the question — the animal had stood the heat for a day and a half and had survived.

H-Bomb Plans Meeting With Hard Problems

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Lining up the needed scientists, particularly foreigners, apparently is one of the big worries in the new hydrogen bomb program.

The program may involve such issues as:

1. Setting up safeguards against another Fuchs spy case.
2. Deciding whether H-bomb effort shall be partial or full-scale.
3. Draining scientists from universities and industry to an extent that might cripple the training of the physicists of the future.
4. Making another deal with Britain.
5. Amending the atomic energy law.
6. Opposition of some scientists to going ahead with the super H-bomb now.

Word is getting around that there is deep concern in the Senate-House atomic committee and the Atomic Energy Commission because of conditions shaping up something like this:

In developing the atomic bomb, the United States had to draw heavily on men who came from overseas, men like Budapest-born Dr. Edward Teller and Rome-born Dr. Enrico Fermi, both of the University of Chicago.

While the theory of the hydrogen bomb has been known for years, getting this proposed super weapon into production again would be likely to require many such scientists in key places.

One authority is reported to have drawn up a list of the necessary talent which includes only two native Americans, Dr. Charles L. Critchfield of the University of Minnesota and Dr. J. A. Wheeler of Princeton.

Many of the foreign born on the list are on the faculties of American universities or employed by American industries. Like Teller and Fermi, some now are naturalized citizens.

But at least four Britishers are named.

Getting British scientists opens up several questions.

Some authorities say it would require an agreement with Britain, and loosening atomic energy law controls over atomic information and materials.

Some doubt that any scientists who are not American citizens could be employed on the H-bomb project unless the law is changed.

Texas January Farm Income 40 Percent Above '49 Mark

AUSTIN — Farm cash income in Texas totaled $84,441,000 in January, rising 40 percent above January 1949, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

January income of Texas farmers was down 49 percent from December as a result of reduced marketings of cotton, rice, grain sorghum, wool, poultry, eggs, and calves, however.

Cotton, bringing $27,666,000, was the greatest source of January farm income. Cattle brought $14,835,000 and milk products, $9,924,000.

Marketing of cotton, wheat, rice, cattle, sheep, wool, mohair, and fruits and vegetables were substantially above year-earlier levels, while other farm products were lower in January.

Farm income for January 1950 surpassed a year earlier in only four crop-reporting districts. Farmers in the Southern High Plains received 209 percent more in January than in January 1949. Income rose 151 percent in the Red Bed Plains, 68 percent in the Northern High Plains, and 27 percent in Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Farm income declined from 5 percent in Coastal Prairies to 26 percent for East Texas Timbered Plains.

Increased marketings of fruits and vegetables resulted in an 18 percent increase from December for farmers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. All other districts recorded December and January decreases in farm cash income.

After adjustment for seasonal variation, the bureau's index of farm cash income decreased from 988 percent of the 1935-39 base period in December to 288 in January 1950. A year ago the index was 211.

Judge Grants Restraint in Highway Fight

AUSTIN — (AP) — The State Highway Commission has been ordered by the 53rd District Court not to let contracts on two upcoming projects in El Paso County.

Issuance of the temporary restraining order was requested by the El Paso building and construction trades council (AFL). The council contends the commission has set a grossly substandard wage scale for highway contractors to pay in the El Paso locality.

District Judge J. Harris Gardner scheduled hearing on the union labor's group for a temporary injunction March 20.

Delayed by the court action was award of contracts for two projects on which bids were to be opened next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Judge Gardner said his action was based on the belief there was too great a difference between the scale set by the commission and that which organized labor claims is the actual prevailing wage schedule.

One of the two projects involved in the Main Street overpass job in El Paso. It has been delayed the past two months on the commission's own motion as a result of the trades council's protest.

The other project is a 10-mile paving job on U.S. Highway 80 from White Spur to within 0.26 mile of the New Mexico state line.

Child Custody, Support Case Still Unsettled

A judgment on custody and support of a minor child was up in the air yesterday in the divorce suit of Patsy Broyles versus W. F. Broyles, Jr., heard before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court here.

The judge granted Mrs. Broyles a divorce after he overruled a plea of abatement submitted by Atty. Bruce Parker in behalf of the defendant. Parker based his argument on the fact the Broyles were living in Dumas for the major part of six months preceding the filing for divorce by Mrs. Broyles. Atty. Walter Rogers, a counsel for Mrs. Broyles, argued the couple were merely on a temporary job in Dumas and that they returned home to Pampa every weekend. The court found, after almost two hours of testimony and debate on technicalities surrounding residence, against the defendant and allowed the divorce suit to be heard.

The defendant, however, was not in court, his present whereabouts allegedly being unknown.

According to Mrs. Broyles and the defendant's parents, Broyles

Auto Industry Could Set New Production Records in '50 if Assured of Labor Peace

By DAVID J. WILKIE and GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT — (AP) — The auto industry could set new production records again this year if it could be assured of labor peace.

But the industry right now is experiencing its second costliest strike since before the war—the 46-day-old Chrysler strike. That strike has cost probably $500,000,000 in lost production, sales, dealer commissions and worker wages. And the biggest car manufacturer of them all—General Motors—still has to face higher union demands than any competitor has met so far.

The CIO United Auto Workers' Union obviously is counting on settling the Chrysler strike before a showdown with General Motors three months from now.

Even a brief shutdown of the far-flung GM empire could knock out any hope of a new production mark this year, however. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler produce, roughly, 85 percent of all automobiles. Of these "big three," only Ford has met the UAW's fourth-round demands.

To top last year's production and profits marks presents a sizeable job for the auto industry, although it appears well on its way. The car makers built 6,238,088 cars and trucks last year and sold 5,800,003 of them.

Final figures on net earnings have not been given out by all auto makers, but those reported indicated the total will come close to $1,000,000,000. Biggest slice of this, of course, is GM's $600,000,000 plus.

Chrysler reported $132,170,000. The family-owned Ford Motor Co. makes no formal earnings statement, but its net should equal Chrysler on the basis of production volume. Studebaker has reported a net of $27,563,000.

So far in 1950 the auto industry has built approximately 1,250,000 cars and trucks. It took two weeks longer to reach that mark last year. Estimates of retail deliveries during the same period total close to 800,000. That's the heaviest first 10 weeks of the year sales volume in auto industry history.

Of the production volume to date General Motors has built about 500,000 passenger cars and more than 100,000 trucks; Ford nearly 380,000 cars and 65,000 trucks, and Chrysler 95,000 cars and about 8,700 trucks up until the time it was closed Jan. 25 in the pension dispute with the UAW-CIO. Last year these three major motor companies accounted for 85.6 percent of all passenger car sales. General Motors' share, according to final tabulations, was 42.89 percent; Ford 21.31 and Chrysler 21.40.

The three leading companies together gained nearly five percent over their 1948 sales distribution. Actually the gain was achieved by GM and Ford, since Chrysler's share dropped from 21.45 percent in 1948 to 21.40 last year.

For all practical purposes the "big three" are the auto industry. Anything affecting any or all of them affects the remainder of the car makers. This was demonstrated in the 113-day GM strike four years ago—costliest of the industry's postwar labor disputes.

At that time several car makers, dependent upon GM as a supplier of some of their essential parts, were forced to curtail or halt production.

So it is with the labor policies of GM, Ford or Chrysler. They usually set the pattern for the remainder of the industry.

Ford settled with the UAW last September for $100-a-month pensions—including federal social security benefits—and no wage boost.

Chrysler has offered $100 pensions, also including federal social security benefits. However, it has refused to "fund" the money required for pension payments or give the union a voice in distributing it. No pay raise is being sought there either.

But the UAW recently announced it will demand a 31-cent-an-hour "package" from GM. This compares with 10-cent-one at Ford and Chrysler. The GM "package" includes $125 pensions and nine cents an hour in cash for GM's 235,000 production workers.

The GM pension also would include federal social security benefits. Bargaining between GM and the UAW is slated to start about April 1. The present contract, containing the historic cost-of-living pay scale, expires May 29.

Hemphill's Wheat in Better Shape Than Report Stated

CANADIAN — (Special) — Hemphill County wheat is in better condition than indicated by a recent news release from the Fort Worth office of the Soil Conservation Service, according to farmers and others in touch with the situation.

County Agent Walter Grist stated that wheat in this county weathered the high winds of last week much better than might be expected in view of the fact that no appreciable amount of moisture has fallen since early fall.

Early sowed wheat, which had the advantage of what early fall moisture there was, developed stronger root systems and is in better condition than that sowed late.

Some spring-sowed barley and late-sowed wheat has begun to blow. However, it was estimated that not more than 300 acres in this county are in that category.

One area in the county where wind erosion threatens to become serious is several sections of sandy range land southeast of Glazier that was in the path of the disastrous prairie fire of last November. Much of that land is said to be blowing rather badly. Part of the land is in the Humphreys IV Ranch.

Ed Little, who has wheat in widely separated areas, has not yet abandoned any of it as lost. "It isn't growing any," Little stated, "but the roots are alive and it is doing a good job of waiting for rain." Asked about green bugs, Little said that a green bug would soon starve to death if he landed in a wheat field now.

There have been no reports of green bug infestation in the county.

Other wheat growers contacted were of the same opinion. The consensus, at this time, is that anything like a normal crop is not to be expected, yet, knowing the ability of the wheat plant to revive when rain comes, they are by no means ready to write off the 1950 wheat crop as a total loss.

First Baptist Revival Will Start Sunday

Dr. Guy Newman, assistant to the president of Baylor University, is evangelist for an eight-day revival beginning today at the First Baptist Church in Pampa.

This revival is in cooperation with the south-wide, simultaneous evangelistic crusade sponsored by all the Baptist churches of the Southern Baptist convention west of the Mississippi River.

"Dr. Newman is an attractive and fearless speaker who is in constant demand," explained the Rev. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Virgil Mott, educational director of the church, will direct the music supported by the five choirs of the church.

Church services will be held each day during the week at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Carver extended an invitation to the citizenry of Pampa to hear this "dynamic speaker."

Mantz Claims Two Records

BURBANK, Calif. — (AP) — Speed Flier Paul Mantz is back in town with a couple of new records claimed in his log.

They're unofficial until approved by the National Aeronautical Association, but—

Mantz flew his P-51 Mustang from Mexico City to Burbank Friday in four hours, 15 minutes, 45 seconds, shading the 4-hour 24-minute record established in 1948 by Abelardo Luis Rodriguez.

Mantz had flown down to Mexico Wednesday in 3 hours and 41 minutes, clipping 2 1/2 hours off the old mark.

Hoover Against National Police

WASHINGTON — (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Saturday he is "unequivocally opposed" to any national police force in this country.

Groups Owned by Charitable Face Tax Increases

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has tackled an increasingly great revenue loss problem in proposing to Congress that tax exemptions on certain operations of schools and charities be narrowed. The president was specific—although not detailed—about only two cases where he wants to remove the tax exemptions such organizations usually enjoy:

1. Where business and industrial operations "entirely unrelated to educational activities" have been operated under a school's tax-exempt wing and thus given "competitive advantage" over fully taxable enterprises in the same line of business.
2. "Where the exemption accorded charitable trust funds has been used as a cloak for speculative business ventures, and funds intended for charitable purposes, buttressed by tax exemption, have been used to acquire or retain control over a wide variety of industrial enterprises."

Texas Farmers To Try Long Staple Cotton

CROCKETT, Texas — (AP) — Houston County farmers believe they may have found a way to grow more cotton than they were allotted under federal acreage limitations. But it won't be easy.

They're going to try to grow long staple cotton, which is exempt from the restrictions.

Long staple cotton brings a much higher market price than short staple. Much of it comes from Egypt but it also is grown in Arizona and Southern California. It is more often grown under irrigation than is short staple. Little of it is produced in this part of Texas.

A mass meeting of Houston County cotton farmers has been called here to obtain pledges for planting long staple. L. H. Arnold, owner of three gins in the county, has said he will obtain facilities to process the fiber if 1,000 acres will be planted.

George Potter, Indiana financier who owns 8,000 acres of Trinity River bottomland, has put 250 acres into the pool. An additional 750 acres is expected to be pledged by two or three of the larger landowners.

H. L. Ellis, cotton buyer, said several small patches of long staple have been grown in this vicinity in the past and that the land here will produce it. Long staple is more trouble to pick and requires different ginning facilities.

Scouters Committee Named To Promote Attendance

Farris C. Oden, vice president of the Adobe Walls Area Council, has been named chairman of a committee to promote Scouters' attendance at Region 9's annual meeting.

About 800 volunteer Scouters from the 36 councils of Region 9 are expected to attend the meeting, which will be held April 17-18 at Oklahoma City. The region serves approximately 150,000 Boy Scouts in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Assisting Oden on the committee are E. F. Glasgow and R. J. Rust, Phillips; Louis Fischer, Hooker, Okla.; M. M. Craig, Miami; L. N. Atchison, Pampa; and C. B. Morris Clarendon.

The committee will hold its first meeting March 21. Between 20 and 30 Scouters from the Adobe Walls Area Council are expected to attend the Oklahoma City meeting.

Sweeping New Laws Due for Louisiana

BATON ROUGE — (AP) — Gov. Earl Long is expected to sign into law today his entire legislative program passed with scant opposition at a special session.

The appropriations measures, totaling $5,000,000 were designated as emergency legislation to become effective immediately upon signature.

A complete revision of the state's general laws, drafted by the state law institute, will go into effect on May 1.

HERE ARE THE FACTS CONCERNING THE SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

AN EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO CONFUSE THE ISSUE

1. This program is designed to serve the needs of ALL THE CHILDREN of the Pampa Independent School District — EQUALLY AND IMPARTIALLY.
2. It is intended to bring ALL OF OUR SCHOOLS UP TO REQUIRED STANDARDS. It is not a new school building project.
3. It is the only program now being offered. OPPONENTS HAVE NO PLANS—nothing to offer. They admit this proposal to be sound, carefully planned and definite, and within our means without raising our tax limit.
4. The opposition to this issue claims to base its stand on a demand for a new elementary school in the Finley-Banks Addition, EVEN THOUGH IT WOULD HAVE TO OPERATE ON A CURTAILED PROGRAM compared with the other schools of the city. Some have said they would oppose any kind of program which does not place a new school in this part of town. EVEN THOUGH IT JEOPARDIZED THE WELFARE OF MORE THAN 4,000 children of the district.
5. WE DO NOT BELIEVE THIS IS THE SENTIMENT of the parents of the children involved, and especially the parents of bus-riding children from outside.
6. The proposal before us, today, offers the 112 children of this area exactly the same benefits it offers to the rest of the 4,000 children of our community. There is NO DISCRIMINATION AGAINST THE CHILDREN OF ANY AREA.
7. WE HAVE NO QUARREL with the good people of the Finley-Banks-Lavender Additions. We understand and sympathize with their requests and desires.
8. The fact remains, however, that there ARE NOT NEARLY ENOUGH elementary school children in that area to warrant the construction and operation of a new school. (See table.) We sincerely hope that section grows to the extent it will merit a school, SOON.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE FINLEY-BANKS-LAVENDER- SEARS SITUATION

1. Number of elementary school children in area	112
2. Number of elementary school bus-riding children south of Santa Fe Railway	114
TOTAL	226
3. Minimum number necessary for most practical and economical operation of the school	500
4. This means that, to operate a new school on an efficient and economical basis 274 students would have to be moved in from other areas.

DON'T FORGET! YOUR FAVORABLE CONSIDERATION OF THE SCHOOL BOND ELECTION, MARCH 18th

VA Requested To Retain Land Near El Paso

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration has been urged to retain control of a hospital site at Yaleta in the El Paso area even though construction plans have been dropped.

Rep. Regan (D-Texas) in a letter to Maj. Gen. Carl R. Gray, Jr., veterans administrator, said he had received reports that the agency recently had worked out arrangements whereby the land would be leased to its former owners.

"I very much hope this information is not authentic," he said, "as it would seem ill-advised and hasty action in view of the desperate need of hospital facilities in our section."

"Our veterans number around 23,000 and to obtain necessary treatment must travel from 200 to 400 miles at this time, since all but emergency cases have been barred from William Beaumont Hospital."

The Army's Beaumont General Hospital is at El Paso.

The North Texans will join in the celebration through a 15-minute recorded broadcast over 14 radio stations. Many groups are planning meetings and parties in conjunction with the broadcast.

Students will observe the day with an all-college assembly on the campus. The first annual North Texas Day was held last year with dedication of a new student union building and the unveiling of a plaque honoring NT war dead.

Many Parisians Aren't Cooking With Gas Today

PARIS (AP) — The coffee couldn't boil and the toast stayed white in many a Paris home this morning.

On the second day of France's utilities strike gas supplies again were so low cooking was impossible in some sections. Electricity, however, was maintained at almost normal level. The strike is for more pay.

A government spokesman said draft orders, used effectively since Wednesday midnight to keep key electricity personnel at work, had been served also on gas workers.

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

By Rupert Hughes Copyright 1950 by Rupert Hughes Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Police are investigating the murder of the wealthy Wendell Palmer, whose skull was battered with the base of a telephone at his home. The body was discovered by Annie Palmer, the murdered man's daughter, who had been driven home by Nadine Fennell, a friend. Among the police officers investigating the crime is James Stivers, of the Scientific Investigating Division, who reveals his suspicion there may be fingerprints on the phone by warning detective Pete Kelo to stay away from it.

THE dark library was fitfully dazed by the lightnings of the photographer's flash bulbs as he made records of the body, the furniture, the room. One of the police detectives took and recorded measurements and distances and made a detailed floor map with a notation of every article of furniture.

Before long, newspaper photographers and reporters would be moving about, making notes and taking pictures of their own.

By the shattered form that had gathered all this through the Medical Examiner, kneel and busied himself about his grisly chores, unrestrained by any of the warnings not to touch or move anything.

With delicate caution the Scientific Investigating Division man, James Stivers, groped and peered and photographed with his self-lighting camera the surfaces where fingerprints could be seen. Some of these would undoubtedly be those of the dead man, others would probably be those of Annie Palmer or Nadine Fennell or some of the servants now off duty.

By eliminating these, Stivers hoped to find tattletale records left by the murderer. It occurred to him that it would be well, while he was there, to take the prints of the dead man's daughter, Azalea, and her friend Nadine for reference, while he was studying the other prints in the Crime Laboratory.

One of the two detectives from Headquarters, Dick Fleming, was merciful enough to remove the two girls from the ghastly scene of commotion.

Stivers decided to take their prints at once. He followed the girls into the adjoining living room, and set up shop. They listlessly obeyed his instructions as he spread a smear of special ink over the glass slide on the outside of his kit case.

He ran an inkroller over this, then lightly brushed the fingertips of the girls with the roller, and pressed them successively on little compartments of fingerprint cards. At the bottom of the cards he pressed all their fingers at once. And on each card, of course, he wrote name, and date.

WHEN he left them to return to the scene of the crime they saw him stop short at the door, and heard him exclaim angrily:

In her excitement, Azalea flung out many references to her fiancé Paul Moody, and her father's interference with their plans.

"Damn it, Kelo, I told you to keep away from that telephone!"

The girls did not hear the colloquy that followed in the other room, and they forgot the incident for the time being as they began to answer the questions asked them by Police Detective Fleming.

Nadine tried to defend Azalea from the inquisition as best she could, until Azalea's benumbed soul came back to itself, and she grew fiery with a demand for revenge upon the murderer.

In her excitement Azalea flung out many references to her fiancé Paul Moody, and her father's interference with their plans. Unwittingly she put ideas into Fleming's head that made him think of Paul as the nearest and most likely suspect.

IN the meanwhile, Stivers had gone straight to Pete Kelo and showed him back from the telephone, as he growled:

"It was saving this for special attention. If you've touched it, I'll murder you!"

He did not note that Kelo was pushing back into his pocket the handkerchief he had cautiously drawn out. He did not note how anxiously Kelo watched as Stivers, with exquisite caution, pushed his camera close against the curved sides of the telephone and its base, then pressed the little lever that made the bulbs inside the camera flare and illuminate the surface where Stivers' keen eyes could see the patterns of fingerprints. He gave each about eight seconds' exposure. To the growling Kelo he said:

"This is the way it was, I guess. The old man tried to telephone for help. He had the handset off the cradle when the killer lifted the big heavy base in both hands and smashed the edges down on the old man's skull!"

Stivers laid the handset on the table and studied the base, turned it over and stared, gasped with professional rapture.

"Beautiful! The guy who did the killing left prints on the bottom of the base here! All four fingers of both hands! See? His thumbs were on the curved sides. But look at those eight fingers! Perfect! A ticket to the gas chamber for the guy."

"Let me see," said Kelo, reaching eagerly, but Stivers' knocked his hand aside, snarling:

"How many times have I got to tell you to keep your dirty paws in your pockets? He gloated over the lethal prints and found in them a beauty that only a technician can see in something perfect for his needs. He mumbled:

"I think I'll just lift these prints. They might get scrambled—especially around meddlers like you."

FROM two initials, he selected the powder whose color made the best contrast with the under surface he would photograph. Taking up a delicate brush, he dipped it in the powder, and tapped it lightly so that the powder would snow on the surface.

Then he took a still softer brush, a turkey feather, to clear off the excess powder. He worked this daintily round the fingerprints now coming almost alive. He swerved the brush so as to follow the general lines of the whorls and labyrinthine curves of each point.

Over his shoulders Kelo's eyes almost bulged out of their sockets as he saw the eight little maps of the murderer's finger tips. They seemed to sit there in a mystic complectancy, boasting:

"There's nothing on all the earth just like us. And never was. And never will be. But we'll never change."

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

MOST VITAL WATERWAY, the Panama Canal, was born of necessity coupled with American engineering genius in the twentieth century. This passageway between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans has saved countless millions of dollars worth of time to commercial shippers and naval vessels. Its value to our defense during wartime can hardly be overestimated. Here, the battleship Missouri has just passed through Miraflores locks on its way to the Atlantic. The Canal's builders overcame almost insuperable obstacles to push it through to completion got to do to get this paper aroused up enough to print a local news item on their front page, that had got such magnitude connected with it, that it will probably effect the living standards of more people in the surrounding 30 counties here in the Panhandle than the dropping of the atomic bomb on Herberona—if you do let me no—Last Sunday I just casually made the announcement that I would probably be a candidate for Gene Worley's vacant seat in the Congress—what happened—nothing—in Monday's paper they didn't even show me the courtesy of running my picture—now I didn't expect them to get excited enough to put out a special edition, or to even run a extra like some City papers do—but I did expect them to show me some consideration—live talked to lots of people on this matter, and it seems to be the consensus of opinion that maybe this paper don't aim to support me—they say that if and when I do make up my mind to run, that if I run as a under-dog candidate, I'll probably get more votes than W. Lee O'Daniel get when he ran for Governor—maybe you voters has got something there—anyway I've been put in an awful embarrassing position.

PAY YOUR POLE TAX SOMEHOW

—JUST WHAT HAS A PERSON —

—I'VE GOT 640 ACRES — of good land to sell that is priced within reason—his 640 wouldn't be for sale if the owner want buying some that joined him—but he got to sell this to buy the other—I no this section of land, and at 40.00 an acre it's a good buy—it lays about 23 miles north east of Pampa—its released for oil—(some of the neighbors got 10.00 for their leases)—one half of the mineral rights would go to the buyer, along with one third of the well proceeds—its got the best grammar and mesquite grass in this country—its unimproved except for a good windmill, corrals and loading chute—its well fenced—if you looking for a good section of land would be glad to show you this—it can be bought on terms.

—I SHOOK HANDS —

with Homer Kees on the street today and he called me Judge—also shook hands with Joe Tooley, Roscoe Pirie, Fred Cary, Tom Perkins, and Curley Boyd—there some doubt in my mind whether Mr. Boyd has a pole tax—I'll do some checking on this.

—HERE'S A GOOD BUY —

If you want a small farm—its located about 25 miles from Pampa just off the pavement—its pretty well improved with a 3 room house—its got 15 acres broke out—its leased for oil and owner will give all the mineral rights—we'll sell it for 40.00 an acre, or we will do some trading for a small grocery here in Pampa.

—HERE'S ANOTHER GOOD BUY — in a 640 acre place—this place is really improved with a large modern house—its located about 25 miles from Pampa, and we will sell this for 25.00 per acre with 1/2 mineral.

—I'VE GOT A NICE — big 3 bedroom brick for sale worth the money—its solid masonry—entire ground floor carpeted—big double garage—nice location—there are 2500 sq ft of floor space in this home—take 15,750.00 for this place, and that a very low price for a home with its kind of construction.

—THE PAMPA REAL ESTATE BOARD — will meet tomorrow in the Schneider Hotel dining room at noon—lets everybody be at this meeting.

—I'M CONDUCTING A POLL — on the School Bond election—we'll probably turn it loose in next Sunday—its probably be conducted something like the Gallup Pole with a lot of computing.

Human Development Study Program Launched in State

AUSTIN — The University of Texas is trail-blazing an entirely new human development program that extends beyond the classroom to Texas teachers and professional workers.

For upperclassmen and graduate students the new approach to human development study cuts through specialized departmental lines. Anthropology, education, home economics, psychology, sociology, biology and the social sciences are the fields from which the study stems. Dr. Carson McGuire, leader in a similar University of Chicago program, has joined the University of Texas College of Education faculty to begin the new program here as the University of Texas further expands its service to the people of Texas.

University of Texas students who earn the Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Education degree under the new program have a wide vocational choice, Dr. McGuire said. With the broad human development background, they may specialize, for example, in clinical psychology, social service work, or personnel management. Many will stay in the academic field to introduce the program at other Texas colleges and universities.

Texas public school teachers in more than 28 school systems have had child development training through the University's Extension Teaching Bureau as one phase of the human development program. The child study program for teachers' in-service education was set up by Bureau Director James Knight.

In San Angelo, Marshall, Midland, Kerrville, the Clear Creek district near Houston, the Lower Rio Grande Valley and other Texas communities, University-sponsored consultants have held workshops for teachers.

More than 100 teachers are expected to attend the third annual statewide human development workshop to be held in Austin in June and July.

Retirement Plan Needed In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Like most of the nation's major industries, the movies are faced with the problem of retirement of workers.

Only one studio, MGM, has a full scale plan for taking care of its stars in their old age. However, only a favored few of its stars come under the retirement program.

Most other stars are not so fortunate. Rarely do actors stay at one studio more than 10 years and thus come into a position where the studio might possibly feel responsible for their future.

Stars are largely responsible for their own destinies. They earn huge salaries for a peak of five years on the average. They have to save what they can from income taxes and expenses. After they have reached their prime, there is only one direction they can go—down.

It is not easy for anyone to shed tears over the financial plight of movie stars. But to the stars themselves, decline from fame is a real problem, not only money-wise, but psychologically as well. Imagine if you were universally acclaimed and then suddenly not wanted.

Let me cite some examples in our time:

Star A was a wartime sensation. Due to bad parts and the fragile nature of his talents, he fell from favor as fast as he climbed. His boxoffice value was nil and he was dropped by his studio. He has done a few quickies and some vaudeville. But what does he do now?

Star B was a beauty queen for over a decade. Her well exposed body made up for her lack of acting ability. But now she's in her late thirties and younger lovelies have taken her place. What does she do now?

Star C was the symbol of the romantic hero. He's still a good actor but he's old enough to be the grandfather of the new romantic stars he was playing opposite. What does he do now?

So far Hollywood has not found the answers.

Alvin Crowder went 227 innings in 1932 without throwing a wild pitch or hitting a batter.
