Czech Envoys To Be Evicted

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States yesterday ordered a wholesale ouster of Czech diplomats from this country and charged Czechoslovakia's Soviet satellite government is unable to control its own foreign policy. The American counterstroke, following a Czech ejection of 40 U. S. diplomats last week, will send an estimated 22 out of the 33 Czech representatives homeward "within a reasonable time." The Prague government was ordered to close its consulates in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, leaving only the Washington embassy and the New York consulates to operate at a reduced level. Furthermore, the State Department declared in a coldly angry statement "this government is examining the situation not only with respect to the present, but also for the future," a clear hint of possible further moves against the Czechs. The action was announced by the State Department as the latest in a series of clashes with the Eastern European state which in its pro-Communist days, was (See ENVOYS, Page 2)

Evald Johnson Tells Of Hitting Thornton In Cabin's Bedroom

AMARILLO — (AP) — Red-haired Evald Johnson testified today he found his wife in bed with the famed oil field fighter he is accused of murdering. The 30-year-old Air Force veteran spoke slowly, but nervously, as he described events in the Amarillo tourist cabin where W. A. (Tex) Thornton was bludgeoned to death the morning of June 23, 1949.

Thornton had picked up the hitch-hiking pair — Johnson and his wife, Diana — at Tucuman, N.M. Johnson said they stopped at San Jon, N.M., for drinks before the three checked into a two-bedroom tourist cabin here. Johnson said he dozed on a bed, awoke to see his wife standing nude in an arched doorway between the two bedrooms, and then he entered the room a few minutes later and found them on the bed.

"I started in after him. I don't know why. I was running toward him when he rolled over on his back and started meeping with the pillow. He hollered at me, 'I'll kill you.' "I noticed he had his gun in his hand. I remember taking the gun from him. I do not remember exactly hitting him, but I imagine I did because I got the gun. "I don't remember how many times I hit him. But I know I was hitting him on the head." State witnesses have testified the famed oil field troubleshooter died of skull fractures and a brain hemorrhage. They also said a blood-soaked shirt was knotted tightly around the neck when Thornton's body was found. Section 1229 of the Texas Penal Code (See JOHNSON, Page 2)

Filing Deadline Near For Most Positions

The first leg of the congressional race is over and the second is about to begin. Midnight tomorrow is the deadline for filing for a place on the ballot in the July 22 primaries for all district offices and that includes candidates for Congress.

The special election last week that sent Ben Guill to Congress to serve out the remainder of Judge Eugene Worley's term trimmed the field of 11 candidates down to the original four who entered the race — Walter E. Rogers, Mrs. Altavene Clark, J. Blake Timmons and LeRoy "Pet" LaMaster. Meanwhile, E. T. Burk, Amarillo, who had filed for the July primaries, sent notices to each county chairman to withdraw his name from the ballot.

All other candidates have indicated by their actions they will not be candidates in the primary — Ronald Davis, W. T. Pickel, H. J. Bice, and Woodrow Montgomery. None have filed for a place on the ballot. In the meantime a bit of irony crept into the "triumphal march" of Ben Guill on his way to Washington Friday. Among the Republican leaders who met in the congressman-elect at Love Field in Dallas was a Walter Rogers, Dallas County Republican, chairman.

Other Republicans from Dallas who met Guill's plane were Alvin Lane, defeated for governor in 1948 by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester; W. P. Luce, Republican State Executive Committee; Mrs. Alice Roberts, state committee-woman, and John R. Black, former state committee-man. On Monday Guill will get his first taste of official hospitality at a luncheon given in his honor by Republican leader Rep. Joseph Martin Jr. (R-Mass.), in the speaker's dining room in the House wing of the Capitol. Other Republican leaders in Congress will be present. On the local side of the political picture, District Attorney Tom Bratt appears virtually assured of another two-year term as prosecutor for the 31st Judicial District. Bratt Friday mailed his filing fees to the county Democratic chairman of Wheeler, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb and Gray Counties. So far, he has no opponents. Midnight Monday is the deadline for filing for that office too. Other races whose filing deadlines are Monday are district judge, representative in the State Legislature and appellate judge.

Granger McIlhenny, Wheeler, has the field to himself for reelection in the 122nd Legislative District. Judge Lewis M. Goodrich has drawn only one opponent for the district court bench, H. B. Hill. Both are from Shamrock. County and precinct candidates have until June 15 to file for any office from county judge on down to constable. J. A. Wheeler, McLean, was (See FILING, Page 2)

Top o' Texas Rodeo Publicity Is Mailed

Some of the first publicity in connection with the Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Aug. 8-12, was sent out yesterday by E. O. Wedgworth, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The program for the show includes a Kid Pony Show Tuesday, Aug. 8, and a Quarter Horse Show on the 9th and 10th. Nightly rodeo performances will be held from the 9th through the 12th. Goat Mayo of Petrolia, will furnish the stock as he has done since the first performance of the Top o' Texas Show in 1945. The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band has been secured to furnish music for the rodeo and other performances. Other special added attractions are being booked, Wedgworth said.

Wounded Veteran To Swim Texoma

DENISON — (AP) — Roy Sutter, wounded war veteran from Fort Worth, will don a 10-pound coat of grease when he takes off today on his 15-mile swim at Lake Texoma. The distance swimmer moved up his starting time one hour and cut his stroke speed at the suggestion of Walter R. France, coach and father of English Channel swimmer Shirley May France. Shirley May, who is training at Texoma for her second attempt to swim the channel this summer, will be on hand to wish Sutter luck when he takes off and will then follow his swim throughout the day.

Big 3 Reaffirm Confidence

Ben Guill Welcomed by GOP Leaders

Pampan Says Panhandle Is Sour on HST

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Anti-administration forces in the House gained a recruit from the Democratic ranks Saturday with the arrival of Ben H. Guill, the first Republican representative from Texas in 19 years. The 40-year-old Navy veteran from Pampa, who said he was "born 'n bred" a Democrat and voted twice for President Roosevelt, reported that people in his section of the Lone Star State are "fed up" with the administration. "They can't understand why with incomes and taxes so high we can't stay within the national budget," Guill told his first news conference here. "If President Truman ran today in the Panhandle he would be soundly defeated," Guill said. "That is, if the Republicans had a good leader."

The new congressman went on to say he thinks Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower fitted that specification, that Harold Stassen also is "very popular" in Texas. Guill, who is due to be sworn in this week — probably Monday — defeated ten Democratic opponents in a special election to fill out the unexpired term of Rep. Eugene Worley who recently was named a federal judge. However, he polled only 22 percent of the vote — a victory margin he'll have to better if he expects to cop the regular congressional election in November.

The ex-Democrat met newsmen in the office of House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts who offered him use of a chair that once belonged to a fellow Texan, former Vice President Garner. "Be Guill declined, saying 'I'd rather take this on my feet.' He then took the rapid-fire questions in stride and in good humor. Asked why he had switched parties, Guill replied that "when you don't like things, you have to get on the other side, you can't reform the other fellow."

As to whether he considered himself a "permanent Republican," the Pampa real estate broker said: "I consider myself an American citizen and vote as I please." (See PAMPAN, Page 2)

Tornadoes, Winds in Texas, Louisiana Kill Two Persons

(By The Associated Press) Small tornadoes, violent winds, heavy hail and rain whipped scattered parts of Texas and Louisiana Saturday. The only known Texas casualty was a seaman who drowned during a squall in the Gulf of Mexico. Lightning killed a man in Louisiana. A twister smacked the edge of Abilene, in West Texas late Saturday. Earlier, a 30-mile tornado dived over farms about 50 miles southeast of Alexandria, La., injuring an unidentified woman. Windstorms buffeted Alto and Lufkin in East Texas, damaging buildings and telephone lines and tearing up crops and timber. Heavy, damaging hail fell at Abilene, near Sweetwater, near Lubbock, and at Alto. North Texas downpours sent the Trinity River just above flood stage, but the situation didn't appear serious. The Gulf squall — a light one with winds registering 25 miles an hour — swept Robert Matthew Gray, about 30, off the shrimp boat Frances G. of Galveston. Gray, mate of the boat, went down. The coast guard dispatched a boat to hunt his body.

Import Plans to Be Given Texas Railroad Commission

AUSTIN — (AP) — Top oil executives of the nation will be on hand at Wednesday's statewide hearing to tell the Texas Railroad Commission their import plans for the next six months. "Plagued the past two years by continuing complaints that imports of foreign crude have depressed the market for Texas oil, the commission wants an up-to-the-minute picture. "At this late date we are only now just getting data on March imports," Chairman William J. Murray said Saturday in announcing that 14 presidents or chairmen of boards of major oil importing companies will be here Wednesday. "Since imports have such an effect on our domestic demand, it is most difficult for the Railroad Commission to judge the proper level for Texas production without some advance knowledge of what the importing companies plan," Murray continued. Testimony at the statewide hearing will help the three-man oil regulatory agency decide how much oil production should be allowed in June. The commission will call also for statements from principal purchasers of crude oil as to desired stock levels for the nation of crude and products. "The commission is anxious to receive testimony as to whether it is desirable to build stocks to a higher level than 245 million barrels of whether this is approximately the desired level for the nation," Murray said in a prepared statement to the press. He reported that crude stocks declined gradually from 251 million barrels on Jan. 7 to 239 million on April 8, and then rose to 244,744,000 on April 29.

Ward 4 First Clean-Up Site

Kick-off time for the annual clean-up campaign is 8 a. m. tomorrow, when volunteer workers, trucks, and campaign officials will meet at the city warehouse to start the ball rolling. Preparations have been made for the drive to clean up Ward Four, covering the southwestern part of Pampa, tomorrow, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Handbills were passed out by Boy Scouts to residents of that ward last Thursday. Yesterday, a sound truck toured that section of the city and gave its residents a final reminder to have their trash ready to be hauled off tomorrow. The entire drive is sponsored by the City of Pampa, the Chamber of Commerce, and the four civic clubs, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions and Jaycees. The Kiwanis Club will direct operations in Ward Four. The Lions will sponsor the drive in Ward Three, Rotary, Ward Two, and Jaycees, Ward One.

Residents of Ward Four are urged by Joe Fischer, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, to remember that all trash that is to be ready for hauling away tomorrow. As no definite schedule has been made for the collecting of trash, it will be necessary for residents to be ready on time in order that there will be no delay and the campaign can be carried on at the scheduled time.

Dr. J. Thomas Davis, 70, Texas Educator, To Be Buried Today

STEPHENVILLE, Texas — (AP) — Dr. J. Thomas Davis, 70, will be buried today in West End cemetery here at about the same time he had been scheduled to make a dedicatory speech for new cemetery chimes. The 70-year-old educator, a guiding force at Tarleton State College here more than 30 years, died Friday night. There's a grove of trees on the cemetery plot, which the college dean himself picked out. He had been promised the trees never will be cut. Dr. Davis was dean of Tarleton from 1919 until 1945, when he became dean emeritus. He continued teaching social science. Sandy-haired and clean shaven, Dean Davis had been president of the American Association of Junior Colleges and of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. His first school was at Honey Grove. He then became Navasota principal, Grimes County superintendent, and Navasota County superintendent.

Dr. Davis had to cut weeds to reach his office when he came here in 1919. Tarleton had only 320 students. Little more than 30 years later Tarleton became the world's largest junior college. This was in the 1930's. Enrollment has dropped somewhat since then. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Thomas Willson Davis of San Antonio and Dr. James William Davis, head of the government department at Texas Tech, Lubbock, and one daughter, Mrs. M. J. Green of Eden, Texas.

CAA to Abandon Lighting at Field

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has reported that effective June 30, it will no longer maintain a continuously lighted airport in Pampa. This report came following a national survey of the CAA's necessities in the way of airports and facilities necessary to safely service the flying public and methods of economizing on government expenditures. Title to all government-owned lighting equipment now installed on the field will be transferred to Gray County, it was reported. The county was urged by the CAA to arrange for power to light the field and other needs between now and the deadline.

Drowning Victims' Bodies Are Recovered

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — The bodies of Lee Weber and Lonnie Coyne, who drowned in Lake Corpus Christi while fishing yesterday morning, were recovered late last night. Weber, about 40, was the operator of a small fishing camp on the lake. Coyne, 29, was an Alice oil pipeline company employee vacationing at the lake, near Mathis, Texas. Progress Indicated In Rail Pact Talks

J. THOMAS DAVIS

CHICAGO — (AP) — Federal mediators brought both sides together in a joint conference yesterday as the locomotive firemen's strike spread in the East and West. The meeting broke up without a settlement, but Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, said: "We said there was a deadlock Friday. Now all we can say is that this case is not settled."

O'Neill said there was a full and frank discussion of all issues and the conferees have returned to their own groups for further discussion. He declined to say whether there were any new proposals advanced, but said there will be additional conferences held later. But even as the union representatives were attending the conference, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen extended its strike to the southwestern district of the Union Pacific Railroad and sought to cut the Pennsylvania Railroad's operations in the East and South. The move had the effect of stretching the strike operations from coast to coast. A few ad (See PROGRESS, Page 2)

Fight Against Communism in Asia Pledged

LONDON — (AP) — The Big Three foreign ministers ended a three-day cold war council last night confident the West can build freedom into a dynamic force that will secure defenses against communism and win prosperity at the same time. The whole sickle-shaped realm of struggle ringing the Russian-led Communist world was the field of their discussions. "The ministers agreed upon the main lines of their policy in all parts of the world," said a communiqué, the fifth and longest since Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman began their deliberations. They expressed determination to fight "Communist imperialism" in Southeast Asia with firm encouragement and support for new independent states there. The three ministers decided to set up a committee of experts to consult with other interested governments, particularly Germany and Italy, on increasing migration from overcrowded Europe. They declared themselves basically in agreement on the importance of the "political development of the peoples of Africa and the improvement of their economic and social conditions."

The desire for an early treaty of peace and independence for Austria was reaffirmed. And finally, three diplomatic chiefs agreed to meet again in New York before the next meeting of the United Nations in September. No spectacular changes in policy were disclosed. None had been expected. To contend with the threat of communism to states in Southeast Asia, the ministers decided on three policies: 1. Coordination of efforts to halt arms smuggling to such guerrilla leaders as Ho Chi Minh in Indochina, the Chinese band leaders in Malaya, and the rebel groups in Burma. 2. Take every opportunity to (See FIGHT, Page 2)

Senate Due to Test Power of Southern Anti-FEPC Group

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two explosive possibilities confront Congress this week — a test of the power of southern Democrats to kill civil rights legislation in the Senate, and grilling of John L. Lewis in the House. Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois has promised the Senate Friday, on a limited debate, his motion to take up Fair Employment practices legislation. He needs 64 votes. He probably can't get them. That would mean the southerners could filibuster to their hearts' content. In the House, Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind.), head of a labor subcommittee studying a union practices bill, invited Lewis to appear as a witness. The group also plans to question Lloyd Sidener, former United Mine Workers local official who has accused Lewis of using secret signals to keep his miners on strike last February while publicly calling on them to obey a court's back to work order.

The Senate probably will spend the week talking about FEPC, although consideration of resolutions rejecting some of the president's reorganization plans could sidetrack the FEPC bill temporarily. A vote on four of them is slated in the House late in the week. The plans awaiting House action deal with administrative operation of federal agencies and are less controversial than those reject by the SENATE LAST WEEK. Under terms of the reorganization law, rejection by either branch of Congress kills a proposed shuffling of executive agencies.

Constrictor Gets Ready for Cleaning

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — If you ever find a box constrictor in your automatic washing machine you'll know the problem that Mrs. Alberta Lehman faced. Her son John is 16. He collects snakes. The latest addition to his collection arrived in a box from Texas on Tuesday. When the box was opened a 4-foot-long box constrictor slithered out and proceeded into the washing machine in the back porch.

Varied One-Man Art Exhibit To Open at Library Monday

Art forms in oils, water colors and ceramics by a 24-year-old West Texas State College senior will go on display tomorrow in the City Library.

The artist, Bill Lockhart, has exhibited his works previously in Borger and Amarillo.

Lockhart, who at one time had planned a career in physical education, has received a great deal of attention among art lovers in the Panhandle. Emilio Caballero, one of Lockhart's instructors at Canyon, has described the young artist as "one of the most promising in the Southwest."

"He is going to go on painting and I think we'll hear from him as one of our contemporary artists," Caballero has predicted.

"He's a young fellow just starting out, just searching his way along, trying to find a means of expression whereby he can outline truth as he sees it," Caballero says.

The artist received his first art training under Octavio Medellin at Southern Methodist University. His next instruction came under Jon Rodkin and Ina Pendergrass at Hardin College in Wichita Falls.

Code provides that it is justifiable homicide for a husband to kill a man he finds in the act of adultery with his wife if there is no collusion between the husband and wife.

The jury learned yesterday for the first time that murder charges against Diana have been dismissed, on grounds of insufficient evidence. This makes Diana available as a defense witness.

Asked by Defense Attorney E. T. (Dusty) Miller why he took Thornton's big black Chrysler, Johnson replied:

"I didn't know my rights then. I just wanted to get away from there."

The car and Thornton's shiny, nickel-plated .45 Colt automatic pistol were found a few days later at Dodge City. Yesterday Special Prosecutor George McCarthy handed Johnson the pistol and asked him to "show us how you held the gun."

Johnson testified he "found himself" standing over Thornton with the bloody gun clubbed in his hand, gripped the pistol by the barrel.

2. Encourage the governments in the area to collaborate on new measures of economic development to raise the general standard of living.

The ministers, who yesterday announced their determination to hold tightly to Berlin and try to weld West Germany firmly into the western family of nations, promised a new declaration on the general subject of Germany. It will be published Sunday, and is believed to involve several decisions.

The biggest sensation of the meeting was the dramatic introduction of French Foreign Minister Schuman's proposal to integrate the coal and steel industries of France and Germany under an international authority as a basis for Europe's economic advancement.

Bevin and Acheson expressed sympathy for its purposes but wanted more time to examine the details. Bevin was understood to have posed several sharp questions.

Sources close to the ministers said the general idea of keeping up economic associations after Marshall aid ends in 1952 were agreed on, but no specific ideas for new organizations to carry on were discussed.

It was understood the ministers had before them an estimate that western technical and industrial strength is five to seven times as great as that of Russia and her satellites.

Some Mental Patients Cured By Sex Hormone Treatments

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sex hormone treatments made one-third of a group of mental patients well enough to go home, five Creedmoor (N. Y.) State Hospital scientists here reported.

The hormones helped some patients who had not benefited from shock treatments, they told a New York State Medical Society meeting.

Both male and female sex hormones were used, in large doses. The combination is something new in treating severe mental illnesses.

Their use is based on a theory that mental illnesses result from an imbalance of various body hormones.

The studies were reported by Drs. Mortimer Raymond and Arthur Sackler, three brothers; Dr. Co Tui, and Dr. Johan H. W. Van Ophuijsen, of the Creedmoor Institute for Psychological Studies.

The sex hormones were tried on 40 patients. They were suffering from schizophrenia, in which a person withdraws from reality; manic depression, marked by severe depression or extreme excitement, and involuntarily psychoses, or melancholia.

Fifty-eight percent of the 40 improved, and one-third recovered.

and Defense Department estimates recently said Russia might be in a position in four years to overwhelm the United States militarily.

Counties Plan Coastal Highway

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP)

Five South Texas counties are planning a highway across Mustang and Padre islands from Port Aransas to Port Isabel.

The project is in line with plans to make a recreation area of the two islands off the Gulf Coast.

County judges from Nueces, Cameron, Kleberg, Kenedy and Willacy counties voted to obtain preliminary plans and surveys for construction of the highway. If the project is not adopted by the State Highway Department, the counties plan to construct a toll highway.

A Nueces County causeway at the north end of Padre Island is nearing completion and the Cameron County commissioners court is expected to let contracts for a causeway at the south end of the island in the next 60 days. Both projects will be financed by revenue bonds to be paid off by causeway tolls.

I think I have a right to switch forces.

Gull declined to comment on whether he thinks his election constitutes a "trend," but he said he was hopeful it indicates the growth of the two-party system in Texas.

"Will Rogers once said that the reason we have the two-party system is because they can't get all the crooks in one party," he said. "But maybe one party has been in so long it has got most of them — maybe it is time to change."

When asked his own stand on current problems, Gull declared he is against the administration's proposal to set up a Fair Employment Practices Commission and is "unalterably opposed" to the Brannan farm plan.

Martin said he hopes to get Gull's report on the House agriculture Committee where Worley served.

When seated, Gull will become the first Texas Republican in Congress since Harry Wurzbach of San Antonio died in office in 1931.

ditional trains are involved in the new strike developments.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen directed its members to refuse to man Union Pacific trains on the Southwest district between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.

At Los Angeles, K. B. Walton, acting vice president of the firemen's brotherhood said the men were being pulled out at 6 p.m. Pacific Daylight Time, "because the Union Pacific has been helping the Santa Fe operate by allowing the trains to use their yards."

In Chicago, a union spokesman said he understood those trains must pass over 100 miles of tracks owned by the strike-hampered Santa Fe.

The union also set up picket lines at its important division point of Harrisburg, Pa., in an effort to halt eastbound traffic to Philadelphia and New York and southbound traffic to Baltimore and Washington. The union charged the PRR violated a "neutrality agreement" by operating freight trains in strike territory with supervisory personnel.

The strike of 18,000 firemen was called Wednesday against parts of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Santa Fe and Southern rail systems. The union is demanding a second fireman on big diesel locomotives and a fireman on little switch diesels.

The four-day strike already has forced some 200,000 persons into idleness and no new peace moves were announced. However, the mediation board remained in Chicago, keeping its services available.

The strike has cut off one fourth of Western Pennsylvania's soft coal production and several industries reported they expected to run into trouble this week if the work stoppage continues.

Plan to Halt Automatic Retirement at 65 Reported to Be Gaining Favor in Capital

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A plan to give employers a government bonus for keeping workers employed beyond the 65-year social security retirement age is gaining favor.

Secretary of Labor Tobin has endorsed the idea. It was proposed to Congress two months ago by Harvard Economist Sumner Slichter.

The problem is to keep men 65 or over at work when they want to keep their jobs, even though they could retire on government and private pension plans at age 65.

Tobin agrees with Slichter that making these men retire is bad for the individuals and is bad from the standpoint of increasing unemployment and losing worker usefulness. They said that many major employers are adopting a rule of compulsory retirement at 65.

Slichter proposed that employers be given an incentive to keep workers 65 or older at their jobs. He suggested that the employer be given one third of the amount the worker would have received in social security retirement payments.

The plan would work like this: assuming a man was entitled to a $75 monthly pension from the government, or $900 a year, his employer would get $300 a year from the government for keeping the man employed.

Under the plan the individual could still retire at 65 if he desired. But he also could keep on working. The money the government paid the employer would encourage the boss to keep the man working, and also recompense the employer for the reduced productive value of the elderly man.

Commenting on this in remarks before the CIO Steelworkers convention at Atlantic City, Tobin said:

"Management would find it worthwhile to organize operations differently in order to provide more jobs for older workers."

"Management would have an incentive to invest such opportunities instead of summarily cutting off capable workers."

"It has been estimated that involuntary retirement of workers at 65 deprives our economy of an increase in the national product of almost $4,000,000,000 a year."

"We would be just that much better off if the roughly 3,800,000 persons who face the harsh rule of '65 and out' were permitted to stay at work."

Tobin said a widespread notion that "at a fixed time older workers should give up their places to younger ones, without reference to productive capacity" is harmful economically and harmful to the national morale.

One objective in enacting the Social Security Act in 1935, and a reason for fixing the retirement age at 65, was to encourage workers beyond that age to leave the labor market. Now Tobin and Slichter feel such men should be encouraged to remain at their jobs.

Slichter pointed out that his plan is one way to keep social security costs down in the future. The increasing life span of the American people means an increasingly long retirement period after age 65.

Oilers Top Berger, 8-5; Buy, Sell Players

Garland to Face Amarillo Here Today

The Pampa Oilers swept the two-game series with the Berger Gassers at Oiler Park last night, defeating the Gassers, 8-5. The game was played on a muddy field, but none the less, some very fine baseball was played.

This afternoon the Oilers will face the Amarillo Gold Sox in the first of a two-game series, starting at 2:30. Lefty Bill Garland will start for the Oilers. For the Gold Sox it will be Hearstall Zolicofer.

The Oiler front office also announced several player deals. Yesterday afternoon the Oilers purchased a righthander, Mack Hyde, from the Albuquerque Dukes. The deal was a straight cash transaction. Hyde was one of the better hurlers on the Dukes roster. Manager Hershel Martin assigned the opening game to him. Friday night Hyde defeated Abilene.

The other deal saw the Oilers selling righthander Joe Prucha and Merlin Hubbard to the Berger Gassers in another straight cash deal. For the Oilers it was a case of cutting down to a class man and it was either Prucha or Homer Matney. Setz decided to let the hurler go, despite the fact Prucha had looked good this season. His 0-3 record.

Homer Matney, veteran Oiler outfielder and one of the most popular of players, not only in Pampa but throughout the league, is confined in a local hospital where he is undergoing treatment to correct a back ailment that has had him in pain through most of the season.

Matney is suffering from a pinched nerve in his back. Doctors are trying to correct the ailment by use of weights to pull the muscles in his back. Friday night he was feeling relief for the first time in several days.

All Pampa fans are hoping for his complete and quick recovery.

did not indicate the calibre of ball he has been pitching. Hubbard had been of little help this season, not coming up to the heights that had been set for him back in his rookie season.

The Oilers came behind last night several times to finally take the lead with a big five-run fifth. The victory gave righthander Earl Doud his third win of the season against no defeats.

Batting stars for the Oilers last night were Don Ricketson with three for four and Jim Martin and Deck Woldt with two for four. Pappy Williams slapped a homer for the losers, his tenth of the year.

The new righthander, Hyde, will join the Oilers this afternoon. He has a 7-4 record last season with Rutherford. He is a big boy that comes well recommended and may be the other limited service winning pitcher that Setz has been hunting.

Yanks Clip Athletics, Braves Blast Dodgers, Tigers Win

NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York Yankees celebrated Ed Barrow Day at Yankee Stadium yesterday by lambasting the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-3, behind the six-hit pitching of Vic Raschi and Bob Porterfield. Barrow, former chief executive of the Yanks during the 1920 to 1945 Era, received a plaque and bats autographed by all participants in an old timers game that preceded the regular game. Barrow, who was in command when the Yanks won 14 of their 16 pennants, was to be feted again at a banquet last night.

The American League "Old Timers," composed of former Yanks, beat a group of former National League stars, 3-1, in two innings. The National Leagueers were made up of players who faced the Yanks in the world series from 1921 to 1943.

Once the regular game began, the Yanks wasted little time in sewing it up.

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago Cubs made it two straight over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 4 to 3, despite the fact they were outth 12-6.

Frank Hiller, making his starting debut, although relieved in the eighth by Walt Dubiel, Cliff Chambers went the route for the Cubs and was tagged for the decisive tallies on a two-run double by Hal Jeffcoat in the seventh.

DETROIT — (AP) — A single by Vic Wertz with the bases loaded in the eleventh inning scored Johnny Ligon and gave the Detroit Tigers a 1 to 0 victory Saturday over the St. Louis Browns.

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Walker Cooper, Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall and Buddy Kerr, all former New York Giants, drove in eleven

Morales Is Winner

HOUSTON — (AP) — Freddie Morales, 118-pound Abilene boxer, last night won the Texas AAU bantamweight boxing crown.

Morales knocked out Glenn Erwin, 118, Dallas in one minute and 35 seconds of the second round in the state AAU tournament.

Paul Jorgeson, 112, Port Arthur, won a split decision over Pedro Melendez, 112, El Paso, for the flyweight championship.

Maxim Scores KO

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — World's light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim savagely jolted Bill Peterson into dreamland last Friday night in the sixth round of a non-title fight. Peterson is a heavyweight from Portland, Ore. Maxim weighed in at 187 pounds, Peterson 209 1-2 pounds.

Roberts Likes Extras

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Pinch hitters are just like sitting ducks to young Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The 23-year-old righthanded hurler has faced 12 of them in compiling a season's record of ten victories and one defeat. Five of them went down on strikes. And the other two failed to get the ball out of the infield.

Fort Hood Soldier Killed in Accident

MARLIN, Tex. — (AP) — One Fort Hood soldier was killed and another injured when their car left the road and plunged 75 feet down a steep creek embankment near here late last night.

Military credentials on the body of the victim were for Private George Greene, 21, of Rogersville, Tenn.

The injured soldier, Corp. Benjamin F. Rosamond of Grossman, Miss., said all he knew was that his buddy's name was Greene. The two were en route to Marlin from Fort Hood.

The rare Ross's snow goose is believed to have increased to nearly 5,000 in recent years according to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Roy Parker, the little lefthander who hurled the Thursday night win over the Gassers, is currently suffering from a badly swollen toe on his right foot, a result of being hit by a foul tip during his own bat Thursday night. Whether he will be able to take his regular pitching turn Monday night in the home finale against the Gold Sox remains to be seen.

Friday night, after the postponement, the entire Oiler aggregation, including the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Mills, Manager Setz, the players and the business office, enjoyed a big six steak supper presented by the former Oiler owners, R. L. Edmondson, Jr. and Jr.

Longhorns Win Southwest Conference Track

Five Records Go By Boards as Austin Field Runs

AUSTIN — (AP) — The University of Texas returned to glory in Southwest Conference track and field Saturday, winning the championship by a margin of 17 points over Texas A&M, which had held the title for three straight years.

Five records fell before the onslaught of the finest field in the southwest with chunky Tom Cox of Rice and Flynn Charley Parker of Texas the standouts of a meet that did not go according to form.

BOSTON — (AP) — Catcher Birdie Tebbetts celebrated his 1,000th major league game Saturday by driving in the run that gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-1 win over the Washington Senators.

Tebetts banged out two singles as he extended his consecutive hitting streak to 14 games. Among the Sox's nine hits off Sid Hudson were homers by Ted Williams and Walter Dropo.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Curt Simmons, $85,000 bonus pitcher, looked like a million dollars Saturday as he allowed only three singles in losing the Philadelphia Phillies to a 7-1 triumph over the New York Giants.

Home runs by Dick Sisler and Del Ennis were the big blows for the Phils who won their sixth straight victory.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Cleveland's Indians scored their fourth straight victory yesterday by pushing over four runs in the eighth inning to humble the Chicago White Sox 6 to 2. Bob Feller, Bob Kennedy and Al Clark hit homers for the Tribe.

SPEEDBALL — Carl "Red" Mayes, former Pampa High School athletic great, and member of the University of Texas 440-yard relay team that established a new record in yesterday's Southwest Conference Track and Field meet.

It was supposed to be a gripping battle between A&M and Texas, but the latter jumped in front from the start with a record breaking 440-yard relay and went on to produce two of the marks hung up.

Parker, running his last time for Texas, won the 100-yard dash for the first time and also took the 220 for the fourth, straight time, and topped off his performance with a great anchor lap on the record-running sprint relay team. He was high point man with 11-4.

Cox, the tremendous rice quarter-miler, set a new record of 46.4 in the event and ran a 47.4 anchor on the mile relay team that set a new mark of 3:14.3.

Bob Walters of Texas vied for top honors by winning the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 8-8 inches which not only was a new conference record but was the highest anybody has jumped in the nation this year. Walters also tied for first in the pole vault.

A tragic figure of the meet was J. D. Hampton, the Texas A&M distance star, who holds the conference records in the mile and two-mile. He was beaten in the mile by teammate Julian Herring by a yard and lost the two-mile by more than 100 yards to Jim Brown of Arkansas. In fact, Hampton was third in the two-mile. Brown's teammate, Jim West, was second 50 yards behind. Brown ran the event in 9:34.6, almost four seconds off the conference record of 9:30.7.

Texas scored 60 points, Texas A&M 43, Rice 32, Arkansas 20, Baylor nine, Southern Methodist seven and Texas Christian five.

The Texas 440-yard relay team of Floyd Rogers, Carl Mayes, Perry Samuels and Parker turned in 41.1, a tenth of a second under the record set by Texas in 1947.

Cox's time in the 440-yard dash bettered the conference record of 47.3 by Ray Holbrook of Texas A&M last year.

Walters' jump bested the record of 6 feet 7-8 inches set in 1943 by Pete Watkins of Texas A&M.

Otha Byrd, little red-head from Rice, sped the half-mile in 1:33.8, to smash the conference record of 1:33.8 set by Mac Umstadt of Texas in 1941.

The Rice mile relay team that broke the record of 3:14.9 set last year by A&M was made up of Jack Hudgins, Jim Hoff, Arthur Brown and Cox. Brown did a 47.8, Hoff 49.3 and Hudgins 49.9.

Parker ran the 100 in 9.6 and time 22.0 in 21.6. He had a stiff breeze in his face in the 220. George Kadera, of Texas A&M, won the discus throw for the fourth straight year with a pitch of 162 feet 7 inches — 7-14 inches away from the conference record.

Walters' jump was the best he ever did and bettered his leap at the Kansas Relays last year. That also was the best jump in the nation for the year.

Canadian Wins Baseball Title

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Canadian Wildcats defeated the strong Boboette Elephants here Friday afternoon to capture the District 2-B baseball crown. The Wildcats, who won 7-5, will meet Strafford's Elks in the bi-district playoff sometime next week.

Leading the Canadian batting attack were Bob Fry, Jack Nix, Bob Hernandez, W. H. Bryant and John Farnsworth.

Hill Prince Is Victor Over Middleground in Withers Mile

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hill Prince, the flying gentleman from Virginia, hung it on the Kentucky Derby winner — Middleground — Saturday in the $29,750 Withers Mile at Belmont Park, and proved he'll be a tough number in the Frenckness next week.

A crowd of 40,068 customers, who made Hill Prince and Eddie Arcaro the favorite, gave Chris Chenery's powerful bay colt a mighty cheer as he took command near the top of the stretch and romped home with something to spare.

Hill Prince, second choice in the Derby at Louisville last week, blazed under the finish line in a sparkling 1:35 4-5, which tied the record for the stake first run in 1974.

Hill Prince bounced under the wire, his stubby tail flying, a length and one-half ahead of Middleground, while the King Ranch colt from Texas was four lengths on top of the third horse, Mr. Andy Schuttlinger's Ferd. That's the way the crowd had bet 'em, with Middleground at 3-2 on the board, and Ferd 3-1. Hill Prince paid $4.20, $2.30 and $2.10; Middleground $2.30 and $2.10, and Ferd, $2.10.

Your Host, a California Derby favorite, had been entered but was scratched. It was reported trainer Harry Daniels couldn't find a suitable jockey.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Messer—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: How many times did Bobby Jones win the U.S. Amateur golf crown?

THE PAMPA OILERS, while rolling along in the second division, are running a close second in the latest official team batting averages released by the league office. As a team the Oilers are hitting at a .340 clip, six points behind the Berger Gassers and eight ahead of the Albuquerque Dukes. Only one team, Abilene, is currently hitting under .300, an indication that the pitching in the league hasn't rounded into shape as yet.

The Oilers are pacing the league in doubles, and they have had the fewest strikeouts registered against them. They also are second in leaving the fewest runners stranded on the bases. Leading the league in home run production are Berger and Amarillo, who have played most of their games so far in their own short-fielded home parks. The present individual home run leader is Fred "Pappy" Williams, who has eight, plus the one Thursday night.

During last week's play around the league the Amarillo-Abilene game of May 8 lacked one home run of tying the league record for home run production in a ball game—18. Both clubs clouded six that day. The following day Lubbock and Albuquerque played nine innings of a game that lasted 2 hours and 3 minutes, ten pitchers were used and a total of 88 men went to bat, officially 64 for Lubbock, 44 for Albuquerque. The league record is 64 for one club.

Three shutouts were hurled up to last night. Chris Hankins shut out Lamesa. Ray Faust whitewashed Abilene and Joe Borrego hung one on the Oilers.

Following are the unofficial Oiler batting and pitching records for all Oiler games through Friday night, May 12.

LAMESA — (AP) — Jack Gutierrez hurled a seven hitter for his second win in as many nights as the Lamesa Lobos crushed the Clovis Pioneers 16 to 3 before a crowd of 1,928 fans here Friday night.

The Lobos, paced by Glenn Selbo, hammered out 33 hits and scored 11 runs in a wild seventh frame. Selbo slammed two home runs and a single, driving in seven runs. His third and fourth roundtrippers both came in the big seventh, the first with one mate on and the second with the bases loaded.

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Big Walt Stenborg stifled the Amarillo Gold Sox here Friday night while his Lubbock Hubber mates pounded out a 9 to 3 victory in the second game of a three-game series before 1,500 fans.

Stenborg had allowed only four hits going into the ninth, when three scratch singles and an outfield fly chased him to a three tallies. But Stenborg had enough left to fan pinchhitter Charley Nease on four pitches.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Who says an "independent minor league club" can't be operated profitably these days? How about the Browns? ... That "minor" is kidding, of course but its kidding on the square since for the past few years the Browns have been a "farm" for most of the other American League clubs. ... And with more than a million bucks in the till from player sales, they can afford to be independent as well as profitable. ... And there'll be more. The Browns recently indicated their willingness to do business with the Yankees (though emphatically not for Dick Wakefield) and in spite of their low position in the standings, they always have something to sell. ... One of the best things about an operation like theirs is that a rookie or a major league castoff has a chance to become a star quickly. There aren't any established stars to displace.

Wakefield and Chandler Wait

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — The battle of Wakefield slowed to a sit down with Dick and baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler each waiting for the other to act today.

Wakefield, who in his major league career has gone from prize bonus player to the game's No. 1 problem child, says he is appealing an indefinite suspension the New York Yankees slapped on him Thursday.

Chandler says he's heard nothing about such an appeal "so right now I don't consider that I have a case on my hands."

New York general manager George Weiss took action against the lanky, temperamental outfielder effective as of April 29, the date Wakefield refused to report to the Chicago White Sox in a trade.

Later Chandler ruled that Wakefield was still Yankee property. Dick's suspension by the Yanks followed quickly.

Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Virginia and Alabama are leading coal producing states.

The odor of truffles has been described as a "fruity fragrance," says the National Geographic Society.

DIFFERENCE IS MATERIAL

In addition to the cash, the Browns acquired two dozen players in these assorted trades and eleven of them were on the St. Louis roster this spring. ... Dick Kokos, tossed in by Cleveland, ... On the Cleveland last year to attract another $100,000 offer, though he's riding the bench now; Al Widmar, Joe Ostrowski, Tom Ferrick, and Ray Starr are pitching regularly for St. Louis and Coleman and Bill De Mars are in the lineup every day and Frank Gustine is the No. 1 utility man. You might say that's a good deal of playing talent.

CURRENT COMMENT

In the course of the nullified Dick Wakefield deal, the Yanks' George Weiss said: "I have done everything possible to deliver Wakefield but get him in a strait jacket." ... The batting averages look as if the pitchers had attended to that. ... And when Jake (The Bull) LaMotta debates with John (Ox) Da Grossa over the middleweight championship, is it surprising that there's a lot of beefing?

DOTS ALL BROTHERS

Johnny Vergez, St. Mary's baseball coach who used to be a Giant scout, proposes a four-point code for scouting. ... They might not have much trouble with the first three—consulting the coaches and academic authorities and refusing to offer "undercover lures," but no. 4 might be tough. It is "better judgment will be used in appraising prospects." ... Julius Broz, who took his first pro golf job at mid-pines this winter, soon will marry the boss' daughter, Ann (Buttons) Cosgrove. ... Kansas City paper reports: "Spec Shea is an asset on the bench during a ball game. ... Well, where else would you find him?"

Approximately 10,000 American Indians served in World War I; 8,000 of these were in the Army and the balance in the Navy.

HEADS DOWN, HE'S SAFE!—Vic Wertz, Detroit Tigers right fielder, slides in safe at home as Umpire Bill Greive, his chest protector flying, ducks a wild throw from Red Sox Pitcher Jim Doherty to Catcher Birdie Tebbets, who was unable to snare the ball. The action took place in a Detroit-Boston game, played in Boston. Wertz ran from third when Dick Kryhoski bunted down the first base line. (AP Wirephoto)

Rice Golfer Is SWC Champion

AUSTIN — (AP) — Buddy Weaver of Rice holds the Southwest Conference golf championship. He shot two great rounds Friday to beat out Morris Williams, Jr., of Texas by a stroke. Weaver had a six-under-par 65 in the third 18-hole round then blazed in with a 69 to finish the 72-hole grind with 260. Williams shot rounds of 69 and 65 to wind up with a total of 281. Wesley Ellis of Texas was third with 285 and Reece Alexander of Texas had won the 28th championship in round-robin play.

Howard Grubbs, TCU, Named As New Secretary of SWC

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Southwest Conference Saturday banned television unless there is a sell-out crowd in advance for a football game.

Among other matters it reaffirmed censure of the University of Arkansas for rough football play and appointed Howard Grubbs new executive secretary. Grubbs, athletic director of Texas Christian University, succeeds James H. Stewart, who resigned.

Recognizing the effect on attendance of television, the Faculty Committee, governing body of the conference, decided that if a football game is shown a week in advance to be a sell-out or strong indications are that it will be, then it may be televised. This, however, is up to the home school.

The committee, acting on an appeal from Arkansas officials for a new hearing in the censure case involving the Texas Christian-Arkansas game of last fall, decided not to reopen the case. It did however, appoint a committee of D. W. Williams of Texas A&M, president of the conference, and Dr. H. E. Bray of Rice to confer with Arkansas officials relative to clarifying the meaning of the censure issued.

Grubbs was named executive secretary at a salary of $9,000 a year, less than Stewart was paid. The letter has become vice-president and general manager of the State Fair of Texas. He will continue as secretary of the conference until Grubbs winds up his affairs at TCU.

Movies for television and news reels will be allowed but cannot be shown until Sunday at 6 p.m., following a football game. If either is not more than three minutes long they can be made without charge. If they run more than that they will be $150 apiece.

Wildlife Director Asks No Adoption of Wild Animals

AUSTIN — An appeal to well-meaning Texans NOT to "adopt" wild animals, particularly fawn deer, was made Saturday by the Director of Wildlife Restoration of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. He said sympathetic folks mistake fawns as being "deserted" and explains that these "pets" generally become nuisances, if not the easy target of poachers and that the people when grown sometimes become dangerous. "Public interest and personal fancy with regard to wild birds and animals take curious turns now and then," said the Director. "Some people derive pleasure from the 'wildness' of nature and are content to let wild things remain so. With others 'wildness' of native species apparently is an urgent challenge to tame and to domesticate, with little regard for the effects on the objects of their attention. In Texas this tendency has widespread and particular application to deer. "Each spring and summer, letters, telegrams, telephone calls and personal visitors arrive at the Game and Fish office, requesting permits for keeping fawn deer in captivity. As a rule, it is reported that the fawn in question was deserted by its mother and left alone to starve in the woods. Each winter there are many requests for the Commission to come out and pick up pets that have become nuisances or to furnish a mate for a 'lonesome' buck or doe. Most pet deer develop tastes for expensive ornamental shrubs and yard flowers, including those on neighboring premises. This nuisance frequently leads to broken friendships, some of long stand-receipts of $27,300, prorated among the seven schools.

Athletic directors of colleges with a chance at the football championship on Nov. 11 will submit to the Cotton Bowl executive secretary (Grubbs) a list of three schools it will be willing to play in the Cotton Bowl if it should be the host team in the classic. The conference champion automatically gets this spot.

Most pet deer develop tastes for expensive ornamental shrubs and yard flowers, including those on neighboring premises. This nuisance frequently leads to broken friendships, some of long standing, and to prolonged dissatisfaction thereafter. As winter comes on, pet bucks show unexpected belligerent tendencies. They may decide to attack anyone at any time and are particularly injurious to women and children. Serious injuries and narrow escapes are not uncommon.

"As a matter of law and administrative policy, the Game Commission tries to discourage people from picking up fawns. Very few fawns found in the woods have been deserted. Do deer leave their fawns in hiding for the first two or three weeks, returning to them at frequent intervals so that they may suckle. After fawns are a few days old, they may move around some between these suckling periods. Even so, a doe seldom fails to find her young, so keen are her senses of smell and hearing. ... It is probable that more fawns are lost through human 'rescue' than through parental 'desertion.' Once a deer is fondled and fed with no injury or undue disturbance, it tends to be increasingly trusting of adopted parents—even of humans. Consequently deer that grow up in captivity or in human company lose most of all of sense of fear. Pet deer often range along and across public roads, easy prey of illegal hunters."

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Pallas in love and been far from Clemency. Her thoughts when she took her post as nurse in a hospital in Louisiana North African desert home. But when she knew she had lost her heart to Piers Amberley, owner of the home and brother-in-law of Syrie Amberley, who had engaged Clemency for her daughter Babs. Syrie, doubting her husband Jon and to love with Piers Amberley, in a way she she heard the news that Clemency and Piers are engaged. Later Clemency had a sorrowful window open and Babs sleeping without bed clothes in the cool night air. She learned that Jon had been watching the child and the next evening, when Jon came to the nursery to see his child, she tells him about it. Jon, who had been drinking heavily, admits, he opened the window.

XXVII

"Do you think I'd do anything to hurt the child?" Jon demanded, still reeling of liquor. "I'm the only one who cares about her. What'll happen to her, now that Piers is going to give up playing godfather to us all?"

"You have no right to talk about Piers like that," said Clemency. "I've a right to talk about him any way I like." Jon retorted. "And he's got no right to ask a nice, decent girl like you to marry him."

Some undertone in Jon Amberley's words which were unpleasant enough by themselves, stung Clemency to anger. It was no use arguing with him when he was like this. Although her indignation was mounting she was able to realize this much. "Will you please go away?" she said. "And we will not discuss Piers."

"Won't we?" He rose, looking down at her. "I don't know. I like you, Clemency, and I think you ought to know. Do you know the only man my wife ever loved — if she's capable of loving? Too funny — it's Piers."

"Are you mad?" she demanded. "No, dear. Only a little drunk. And drunk men tell the truth. You'd better know. Did no one ever tell you that Syrie and Piers were once engaged?"

Clemency stared at him, wide-eyed. Syrie and Piers! Her lips formed the names but no sound came.

He nodded. "Sure. He was crazy about her."

"Well — what of it? That must have been a long time ago."

"Yes, it was. She married me. And then," a vicious note like the upward stab of a knife came into his voice. "Poor fool — me! I didn't know. And then he took her back. What do you think he brought us here for? Because he loved my wife — because he meant to have her back and he got her back."

"It's a lie!" She faced him, white and shaken. "You know why he brought you here — to help you — to fight for you."

"To —" he laughed. "No, I won't use ugly words to you. I believed that. And then I found out. I asked her and she told me. It had always been Piers. Drink, do it! Any reason why I shouldn't? Think it over, little sister!"

"Get out!" commanded Clemency breathlessly. "You drunken beast — after all he has done for you —"

SOMETHING in her face sobered him. Somewhere in him there was a spot which was not quite dead to all decency, and even while he told himself it was time he got back to Piers, that something in him, seeing the stark horror and misery in Clemency's face, felt like a murderer.

"Forget it," he said. "Maybe it's all over."

"Get out." She turned and left him, feeling she could not breathe the same air. Going through the night nursery swiftly she stood in the darkness of her own room, her hands clenched at her sides.

She felt numb — as if someone had struck her a stunning blow. And then suddenly sanity seemed to flow back to her. Maybe it was true that Syrie and Piers had once been engaged. Even that Syrie still cared. Was that why she had tried to keep her — Clemency — away from him?

She could not have him, but she did not mean anyone else to. That would be like Syrie.

But Piers — his brother's wife? Never! Never!

All her fierce love and loyalty rose up in her. And then a wave of fury against Jon. Piers must be told of what he was accused. Jon should not stay under this roof another moment.

She called Justine to watch Babs and then Clemency forced herself to walk steadily downstairs. She met Ahmed in the hall.

"Is Colonel Amberley in his study?"

"Yes," the man told her.

She tapped on Piers' door. Receiving no answer, she opened the door and went into the room. The desk lamp was burning, his fountain pen lay on the blotter. There was a half-finished cup of coffee — all the signs that he would be back any moment.

She drew a deep breath. Naturally she was upset, but as for believing a word Jon had said — Piers must be told, though; this kind of calumny could not stay just here.

A LOG fire had been lighted in the fireplace and as she moved across to it she saw his silver cigarette case on a low table. That case which he had cared for enough always to carry, seemed part of him. She picked it up instinctively, holding it in the curve of her hand.

She would smoke while she waited, she decided. It would soothe her and she would be able to tell Piers more calmly what she had come to say.

First she must get one thing clear. If he had been engaged to Syrie, that was over long ago. Why Piers obviously didn't like Syrie!

Clemency opened the cigarette case. It was empty and the engraved inscription which she had noticed that night in the car and had been unable to decipher seemed to leap up at her in the strong light of the desk lamp:

"PIERS FROM SYRIE, TOUJOURS"

Action Asked In Bombing of Negro Homes

DALLAS — (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People wants Dallas to put a stop to the bombing of Negro homes.

Within the past 90 days three homes of Negroes who moved into predominantly white neighborhoods of South Dallas have been bombed.

Monday night the home of Robert Shelton was bombed. He had moved in earlier in the day.

A group of officers and members of the NAACP's legal committee presented a petition to Dallas City Manager Charles C. Ford yesterday.

"It has been publicly attributed to the mayor and city officials that they are afraid to give protection to Negro residents of South Dallas lest the very act of protecting them be understood as encouragement to them to purchase homes in the area," the petition said. "If this is true, and it has not been denied or refuted, it is indicative of an attitude which the petitioners believe to be wholly unworthy of men in public office."

Ford told the delegation that there had been no lack of interest in the bombings and lack of efforts to find the guilty ones.

SILSBEE, Tex. — (AP) — The Bessey lumber mill, largest in East Texas, burned last night. The mill, fuel houses and engine room were a total loss.

Officials of the Kirby Lumber Company, owner of the mill, said the flames did not reach the dry kilns, the planer shed or stored lumber in the mill yard.

The mill had a capacity of 100,000 board feet every eight hour shift. Lately it had been running about half capacity.

At least 380 employees were temporarily put out of work by the fire.

COURAGEOUS NEW YORK MAN DIES AFTER RESCUE FROM WELL SHAFT

NEW YORK — (AP) — A guy hours as rescue workers feverishly dug a trench to reach him for more than 27 hours at the bottom of a well shaft — died in agony late Wednesday shortly after rescuers finally reached him.

Well-digger Dominick Atteo was game to the end.

But burns, pain, exhaustion and the pressure of rocks and earth were more than his strong frame could stand.

Atteo, 49-year-old father of six children, died five minutes before he was lifted out of his tomb 20 feet beneath a Brooklyn garage.

Only a few lines during his agonizing imprisonment did he falter in faith, hope or courage. A hospital interne and Roman Catholic priests administered to the body and soul through the long hours as rescue workers feverishly dug a trench to reach him. Doctors said Atteo — put up an almost superhuman show of courage.

Five hundred persons, many of them with roses, prayed outside during the ordeal.

Atteo's attractive, 32-year-old second wife, Marie, became hysterical when her long vigil of prayers and tears ended in despair.

"What am I going to do without him?" she cried. "He was the most wonderful man in the world, and so brave."

A friend told her that her husband might have been blind and crippled if he had lived. "He couldn't have stood that," the widow said.

Dr. Harold Berson, 25, worn out by perilous trips down the well shaft during 26 hours to administer to the tortured victim, said "I thought he was going to make it. His courage and endurance were beyond belief."

The doctor said Atteo apparently died of exhaustion and shock.

The tunneling rescue workers had reached Atteo's side at 1:30 p.m. (EST) and started to extricate him. He died at approximately 2:40 p.m.

Atteo, a contractor, had been digging the well under the garage seeking water for washing automobiles. Use of city water for that purpose is banned during the current shortage.

Bill Holden and Glenn Ford Switching Film Roles Again

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Hollywood's two interchangeable actors — William Holden and Glenn Ford — are at it again. For some time, the two stars have been mentioned for the same roles and it's always anybody's guess which one will play it. Now they're doing a complete switch. Glenn is playing a western role in "Beyond the Sunset," which was written for Bill. And Bill is going to Columbia to play the reporter in "Born Yesterday," the role Glenn was supposed to do. Ford bowed out of the role when he couldn't come to agreement with the studio.

"My contract called for top billing," he told me. "My role was a good one, but it would still be subordinate to the ones played by Brod Crawford and Judy Holiday. It would have been silly for me to get top billing over them."

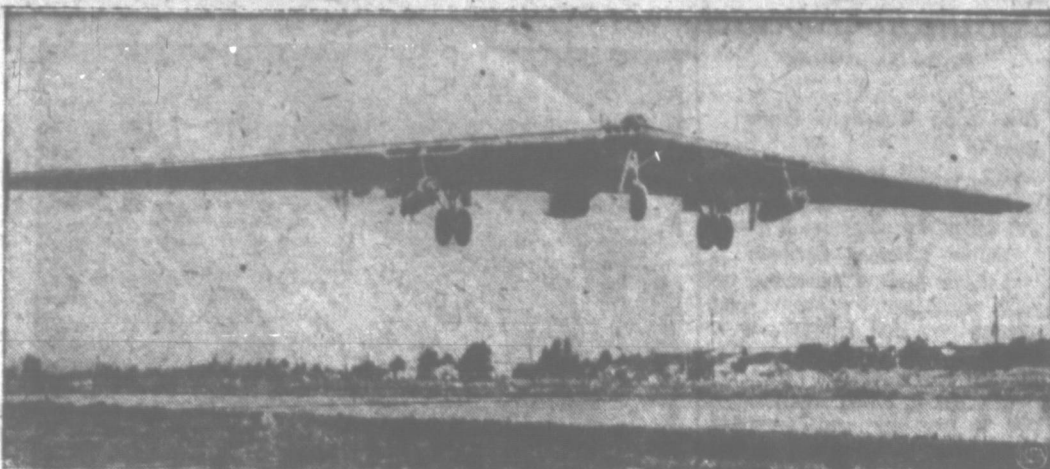

Jimmy Durante is kiddingly mad because Jose Ferrer is playing "Cyrano de Bergerac," the film story of the big-nosed lover. "How da ya like dat?" says The Schnoz. "I'm the only guy in pictures who could play the role without a putty nose and dey overlooked me."

Al Jolson is still suffering with laryngitis, and he really suffers when he can't talk. He'd better have his voice back by May 22, because that's when he plays "Jolson Sings Again" on the radio theater. No, Larry Parks won't be needed.

The story of Man o' War is nearing the cameras. Producer Sid Luft says the film will concentrate on the racing champion and eliminate the usual boy-girl romance of such epics.

Abbott and Costello will do another picture after "In The Foreign Legion," then take their long delayed European jaunt. They'll play the London Palladium, Scotland and entertain troops in Germany.

Donald O'Connor says there may be another "Francis" picture, but count him out. When I reminded him Larry Parks said the same about a Jolson sequel he replied; "Yes, but there was a wealth of material there. The first Jolson picture left you wanting more."

Record Set By State's Cotton Crop

AUSTIN — (AP) — The 1949 Texas cotton crop of 6,040,000 bales was the largest and most valuable ever produced in this state, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Figures reported by the USDA were based on final ginnings reported by the Bureau of the Census with allowance for interstate movement of seed cotton to gins.

Total value of cotton and cottonseed was computed at $923,450,000. Though unit value were smaller, the total value was 65 percent above the $560,860,000 valuation placed on the 1948 crop. Lint brought an average of 27 cents a pound in 1949 compared with 29.6 cents in 1948, and cottonseed averaged only $43.80 per ton compared with $72.10 in 1948.

Harvesting yield per acre average 266 pounds, a record for the 20th Century in Texas. It has been exceeded in only two years of record since 1866, in 1894 when 277 pounds per acre were harvested from 5,800,000 acres and in 1888 when 325 pounds were produced on less than one-half million acres.

Last year's harvest came from 10,900,000 acres, with unusually good yields in practically all parts of the state, the USDA said.

SMOOTH NEW POWER IN JUST 10 MILES

-RISLONE IN YOUR OIL GUARANTEES IT!

Absorbs Gum and Sludge for Feelable Improvement ... or your money back!

Rislone eliminates new-car break-in, keeps older cars in tip-top condition as you drive

By preventing gum and sludge deposits, and by assuring full lubrication, Rislone maintains the factory-fresh zip you value so much in a new car.

Rislone helps you avoid slow-speed break-in periods, too. By guaranteeing full, instant lubrication, it permits driving at normal speeds at once—with a re-conditioned engine or with a brand-new car.

Rislone also puts new life in cars that have been on the road for any length of time. Your engine runs quieter, begins to deliver the smooth power of full compression, gives you new-car "get-up-and-go."

Ends sluggish pick-up, low-gear buck, power sputter, slow starting

Rislone in your oil makes a world of difference in the way your car runs. You can actually feel the improvement in the first 10 miles, as it absorbs gummy deposits which cause sluggish motor action. Full compression and power are restored. You enjoy power-surge pick-up, smooth driving at all speeds in all gears—and quick, easy starting in all weather!

Best of all, you can keep your car running that way—as thousands of motorists do—with Rislone in your oil. Rislone keeps your car at peak performance as you drive.

Use Rislone in your oil all the time, all year 'round—absolutely no harmful ingredients

Rislone can be used in your car as a full-time lubricant, a "right-hand man" for your regular oil. Its job is to keep your oil doing its best in the motor of your car. Modern motor oils have gum-forming properties. Those very properties make them good lubricants. The problem is to keep gum, sludge, and varnish from forming in the crank-case, on valve stems, piston rings and grooves, or other moving parts. When it does, your car loses pep and power — grows sluggish. But that can't happen with Rislone on the job.

Rislone absorbs gum and sludge instantly, prevents more deposits. It keeps oil free-flowing and at peak efficiency. Your car is better protected, gives you better, smoother performance.

And the way your car responds to the throttle makes driving much more pleasant.

Truck-Fleet Operators Use Rislone, Reduce Maintenance Costs

Rislone's "constant tune-up" action is low-cost preventive maintenance

Experienced operators know how to keep their trucks out of the shop and on the road. They know that Rislone dissolves sludge instantly, prevents gummy deposits that interfere with lubrication and cause excessive wear of vital parts. They also know that Rislone maintains the full compression necessary for smooth performance, top gas mileage, low oil consumption, and all round economical operation.

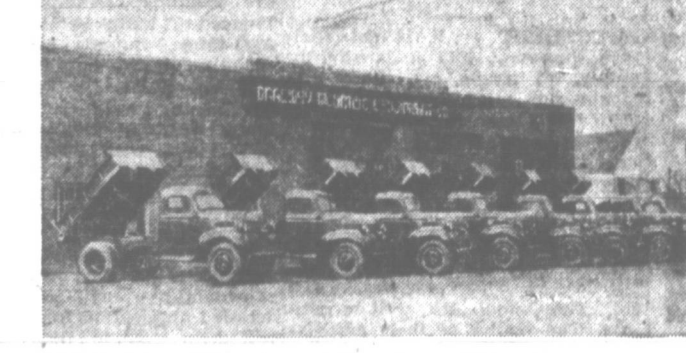

In short, they know that a Rislone-clean engine is a money-making engine.

Keeps Farm Machinery Fit All The Time

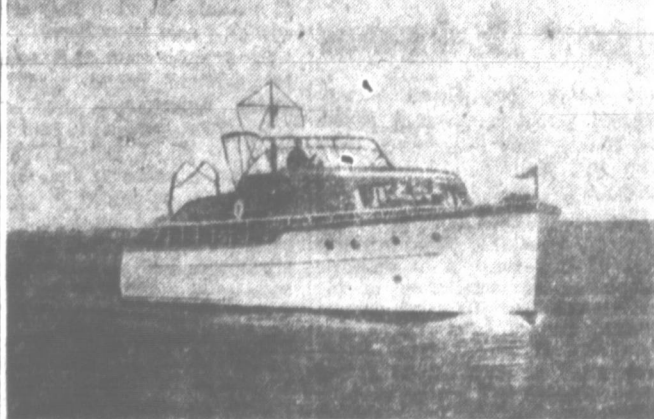

motors stay clean of gum and sludge with Rislone

Farmers from coast to coast say that Rislone makes every stationary or mobile internal-combustion engine on the farm run better, last longer, and require less service attention. Rislone keeps engines free of power-wasting gum and sludge deposits. You enjoy smooth, full power, and you cut maintenance costs. Rislone maintains this efficiency even during winter storage. Spring-starting is quick and easy, operation is perfect.

Rislone Keeps Marine Engines Humming at Peak Efficiency

Rislone keeps boat engines free of gum and sludge. Breakdowns caused by clogged oil-lines, inadequate lubrication, and sticking valves are virtually eliminated. Rislone stays right on the job while boats are idle, or hauled out for the winter. Gum and sludge deposits are again prevented. Spring starting is easy. Outboard owners find that Rislone increases the r.p.m. of their motors and facilitates quick starting.

Rislone Insures Against Costly Delays on Big Construction Jobs

Maintains full power and dependability of huge equipment

Contractors the world over find that the regular use of Rislone reduces maintenance costs. They report that Rislone maintains full power and dependability by keeping oil free-flowing, by dissolving gum and sludge to prevent sticking valves and clogged piston rings. Moreover, Rislone makes starting of powerful diesel and gasoline engines quick and easy — even in the coldest weather.

That's why so many construction men use Rislone in their mobile and stationary equipment. It's the best — and cheapest — insurance against costly delays caused by motor failure.

Retail Trade, A Big Difference

There are many concrete examples of the difference between a controlled, government-dominated economy and a free, competitive economy.

The typical retail store in the totalitarian countries would seem incredibly high to Americans.

Practically everything, except for luxuries which can be afforded only by the ruling class, calls for ration tickets.

Practically everything, save for a few basic necessities, is always in short supply. Prices are frequently very high.

After all, when government makes all the decisions and establishes all the rules, and real competition simply doesn't exist, why should any merchant or clerk try to do a better job?

The contrast with American stores is glaring. Here we have a vast abundance of goods of all kinds — both production and distribution are geared to the needs, desires and fancies of the consumer.

And those goods are sold at the lowest possible price. Competition takes care of the rest. The profit earned by typical stores runs to only a few cents on each sales dollar.

Retail stores in truly America's show window.

Here's an interesting story: "A recent survey shows that 30 percent of the housewives in Chicago finish their daily housework in from 4 to 6 hours."

For example: Instead of having rugs, plant grass — and there's no sweeping to do. You just mow the floors once a week!

My Aunt Clara used to say, "A woman's work is never done. And she could prove it was true — her work was never done because she'd simply never do it."

Washington.....by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Harry S. Truman has taken to the western road and got somewhat confused politically.

It is scheduled as a non-political junket. But the President of the United States can't do anything without its significance.

After six years in office, the President and his Fair Deal program have gotten nowhere. The record of the 81st Congress is not good. Though it still has 60 or 90 days to go, the Senate is headed for another FEPC filibuster in which little will be accomplished.

Sen. Claude Pepper has been defeated in the Florida primary. Sen. Lister Hill won re-nomination easily in Alabama, but the Dixiecrats are still a major administration annoyance.

Finally, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen has characterized Truman as "a clever politician, but the worst President" — a phrase that may stick and may hurt.

To all these bad political omens there is a Democratic answer. Blame for lack of progress on the President's program in Congress is put upon the Southern Democrats who have teamed up with the Republicans to defeat or stymie many administration measures.

Some of the President's political advisers are coaching him to come out swinging against the Dixiecrats on his present tour. The Northern Democrats licked the Dixiecrats at Philadelphia in 1948, but they haven't stayed linked. It may take another Philadelphia showdown, say the regulars, to give them the party

Can Germany Be Member Of Western Europe's Family?

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The sensational French proposal for pooling Western Europe's steel and coal industries under a central authority — beginning with a union of the great German and French works — grows in magnitude with analysis.

Thus far, too, it has grown in general approval among the Western powers, though Russia treats it as a further move hostile to her.

Western Germany's quick acceptance of this project advanced by her old enemy has given the idea a decided fillip, strengthening as it does the hopes of a really United States of Western Europe.

However, the reaction continues guarded because of the sweeping implications of the plan. The idea does involve the surrender of some degree of sovereignty and this is causing a cautious survey of the position.

Some aspects of the proposal are so patently for the general good that there is no question about them. For instance, the burying of the hatchet by France and Germany would be a wholly unexpected boon.

The integration of Western Germany into the politico-economic union of western Europe is essential to general rehabilitation and the creation of defensive strength.

But there is another side to the picture. At first blush Britain showed anxiety because she feared that the Franco-German iron and steel combination would be harmful to her own vast steel business.

Further consideration seems to have eased her doubts somewhat, but she is moving cautiously in appraising the proposal.

This is an important point, because British approval would be necessary before the project became effective.

America's position has been indicated by Secretary of State Acheson, who is attending the Big Three (America, Britain and France) Foreign Ministers' Conference in London.

He has given his sympathy and approval to the significance and far-reaching intent of the proposal, but has withheld judgment on the plan itself until details have been studied.

Acheson also made a highly important speech before the Pilgrims' Society, calling for a return of respect to the family of Western civilization.

He asserted American and Western Europe must sacrifice some "purely national interests" to avoid another war. He further declared that "the Germans themselves have accepted responsibility for the full measure of their responsibilities and the full measure of what may appear to them as risks" in returning to the Western community.

Well now, that's laying it on the line pretty bluntly. If it fits with the Paris coal and steel proposal, which amounts to a proposal of peace. This new-born attitude towards Germany is likely to cause heart-burnings in a good many quarters which refuse to forgive her for initiating two world wars.

Probably most of us have felt this bitterness towards the aggression which has cost so dearly. However, bitterness shouldn't be allowed to blind us to facts. No one has suffered more at the hands of Germany than France, yet we see the latter holding out the hand of friendship. Two world wars have exacted a frightful cost from America, yet we hear Secretary Acheson calling for the return of Germany to the Western family.

How do we interpret this development. Surely it means that at least some of Germany's former opponents believe she has the makings of a good member of the Western community of nations.

I think we are entitled to believe that we also are entitled to believe that control they want.

DEFEAT ANALYZED Democratic spokesmen claim that Sen. Pepper's defeat in the Florida primary was no great setback for President Truman. They recall that though mention was made of it during the campaign — that Pepper was against Truman at Philadelphia. First Pepper made a number of pro-Eisenhower statements. Then for about 24 hours, Pepper was himself a candidate against Truman.

Senator Pepper was never entirely forgiven for this rebellion, even though he did later endorse the Fair Deal. But if Rep. Smathers, who defeated Pepper, continues his anti-Truman primary campaign line, it is fairly obvious that the administration would have preferred to see Pepper win.

What hurts the Truman administration worse than the Pepper defeat, however, is the strong showing made by the Dixiecrats in their committee. The Truman administration is powerless as long as such opposition exists.

Governor Stassen's crack at the President is taken by Democrats in Washington as merely an indication that Stassen, who now heads University of Pennsylvania, is himself again a GOP candidate.

As for Stassen's statement that "the plans for Grand Coulee dam were prepared under President Hoover," there seems to be some difference of opinion. The record seems to indicate that the plans were prepared by Bureau of Reclamation under Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who authorized construction as a PWA project.

Grand Coulee construction was begun in December 1933. It got most of its congressional support from Republican Sen. Charles McNary. On that schedule, Hoover may never even have seen the plans.

"EXCUSE" FOR TRIP The non-political reason, or excuse, for President Truman's trip west at this time is to dedicate completion of installation of the last generating unit at Grand Coulee, and to dedicate Kortes Dam, in Wyoming. The President won't actually go to Grand Coulee, which won't really be completed for another few months. The road to the dam site isn't good, and bad-weather might throw off the whole trip schedule. So the President will do his dedicating at Casper, Wyo., 80 miles away. He can of course draw a bigger crowd there.

The President makes this dam trip at the invitation of Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman. At Casper, the President will be able to get in a plug for the Missouri Valley development. At Grand Coulee he can get in a plug for Columbia Valley Authority.

Any political talks the President makes at whistle stops in between and on the way back are so much additional gravy. Add the fact that the tour winds up at Chicago with a big speech climaxing a three-day Democratic National Committee and Cabinet rally makes the whole enterprise a political undertaking. Or at least it opens the 1950 season by tossing out the first hats. The President won't get really politically hot, however, until, along about September. In the two months before the November elections, he is expected to hit many close contest states. The purpose, of course, is to try to influence election of a Grand Congress which will be more to his liking than the Eighty-Worst.

White House Bricks Reveal Footprints WASHINGTON — (AP) — Bricks bearing the prints of pig and chicken feet have been dug out from the White House walls by men rebuilding the historic mansion's interior.

Army engineers attached to the Renovation Commission expressed the belief the bricks were made on the site around 1776 and that pigs and chickens roamed the area stepped on them before they were baked.

The end came as probably he would have wanted it to — a fast "30" at the close of the day.

It is tragic also through the fact that he left a widow with two babies. It throws the entire weight of rearing the children on the mother, but this fine young woman, who has made Swindle a real companion, has the qualifications needed for the double duty which she faces in the future.

Truly it is a very sad occasion when we send our former associates to the grave. It makes us all realize more vividly that we never know the day nor the hour. However, there is an encouragement in the fact that we all have enjoyed association with this young man and that such association has enriched the lives of all of us.

Paul M. Snyder, 332 1/2 E. Pine St., Santa Ana, California

Answer I believe my daughter went to college to have a good time and to satisfy the vanity of her parents and not to get an education or training. I know of no college, public or private, where a person can get an education. So it made little difference whether she went to a state or private college. She undoubtedly would have a better time if she selected the college she wanted to attend. I did, however, pay her way across the continent to talk to a professor in a private school that I thought could help her if she went to that college, but she still preferred to go to the University of California. It is too much of a responsibility for a father to direct the lives of his children when they are old enough to go to college.

2. I never said that taxation to maintain public roads and police departments and other government agencies are beneficial to all. I believe that all taxation is robbery, and that no one should be forced to pay for a police department who doesn't want police protection. The roads are not as bad as public schools because they attempt to charge in proportion to the cost of the service rendered to the user. The police department also attempts to charge in proportion to the cost of the service rendered. Public schools do not even attempt to do this. They are completely socialist and therefore complete robbery.

3. I would object to the zoning board stopping you building anything you wanted to on your own land. If you produced a health menace I would of course request that you cease and desist and use the courts to determine the injury and try to collect any injury. We do not need zoning boards and laws to stop menaces. Only a crazy man would buy property in a residential district to build a fertilizer plant. That risk is much less than government mismanagement by bureaucrats.

4. The answer to no. 4 is practically the same as number two. I would define socialism as using force to take from one to give to another. Public schools are based on that very practice. No effort is made to charge in proportion to the cost of the service rendered.

5. No. Nor does he have ability to vote for people who have judgment enough to hire people with these talents.

Answering Questions From Reader I am reproducing below a letter from a reader. The answers will follow by numbers: I quote: "Editor 'Common Ground':

"I have been a subscriber to your newspaper for about eight months now and I must say it has given me many laughs. Especially the editorials.

"Mr. Holles, I would like to ask you a few pertinent questions about your policy and why you have taken such a stand.

"1. One of your children attended the University of California. Why? Were you too lazy to teach that child yourself or is it as you have stated to an acquaintance of mine who put the question to you? 'The child has a mind of his own'.

"2. Why do you believe that taxation to support the public schools is robbery while that taxation to maintain the public roads, police departments, and other government agencies is beneficial to all?

"3. If I were wealthy enough to purchase all real estate about your home and wish to install a fertilizer plant there, would you object to the zoning board?

"4. Please state, in an editorial, what basis you have to state that the public schools are giving children an education in socialism. An educated person does not make statements without reason for believing such.

"5. Do you honestly believe that the average parent has the ability to instruct his children in astro-physics, nuclear-physics, chemistry, astronomy, higher mathematics, statistical computations, musical accomplishments, history, biology, botany and all other important subjects taught in the public schools today?

"6. Do you have any proof that the children who have attended private institutions are more learned and are better citizens in our country and in the world as a whole?

"Mr. Holles, I request answers to all of my questions. I would prefer that you answer them publicly in the columns of your papers, but if you feel that they are not important enough to publish, please answer them by means of the tax supported mail system.

"For your information as to who I am, I will give the following information. I am a mathematics major at Whittier College and will graduate in June. I attended Santa Ana College for two years. My ultimate goal is to be a mathematics teacher in the tax supported school system in California.

"This letter is written as a challenge to you, Mr. Holles. I expect a rapid and complete reply from you. I believe a good newsman accepts such challenges.

EXPLANATION — Answer: The conventional explanation for the neglect of the so-called "white collar class" is that they are not organized because of their many diverse and conflicting interests, whereas all other groups obtaining funds and favors from the government are cohesive and common-minded organizations.

In that class fall such elements as organized labor, organized farmers, organized veterans and government agencies established to direct the flow of benefits to these groups. They can exert pressure on both the executive and legislative branches because of their power at the polls.

PRECEDENT — It is not realistic, however, and it is slightly unfair, to single out these elements for criticism. The very critics of these pressure units also seek and obtain special privileges from the government, and they have done so for years. In fact, they set the precedent long ago.

These include manufacturers, bankers, shippers, contractors, retail dealers, educators, physicians, etc. They, too, are organized. The listing of their associations (lobbies) at Washington fills many pages of the telephone directory, and it lengthens every year.

The very state and municipal officials who win local office by their fulminations against high federal taxes are often the principal offenders in asking Congress for appropriations for projects in their states and cities. I am afraid that all of these organized groups have become members of some "gimble gang."

DRIBBLE — In view of the fact that the benefits and grants which all these lobbies obtain are eventually diffused in the form of wages, purchases and payments of some kind, it is question whether there is such a separate and distinct group as the "white-collar class."

Whether a man or woman be a clerk, farm hand, industrial worker, teacher or housewife, he or she derives employment, income or sustenance of some sort from the government bounty paid to these groups at the top or bottom. It may be a dribbling down process, but the money principles got their education from coming in contact with wise persons and not from public educators. Example—Lincoln, Jefferson, Washington, and in modern times, Rose Wilder Lane and Isabel Paterson.

If I have not made myself clear, I would be glad to know wherein I have evaded or contradicted the principle that I believe is a guide of individual and collective action—that no person, group or government or subdivision of government has a moral right to initiate force against another person or group to get something from him against his will. Please do not overlook the word "WILL." ATZ.

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — The growing revolt of the so-called "white collar" class, as evidenced in Administration setbacks in recent election tests, has prompted numerous questions asking why this populous group has become "not only the forgotten but the despised people of the politicians."

"There are many of us," continues C. E. D. of Houston, "and we are being ground out of existence. Our income has not increased much, but we must pay a great deal more for food, and for everything else we need. We are not eating as well as we were ten years ago, but we are taxed so the government can buy food from the farmers that is destroyed to keep prices up."

"The unions and the farmers seem to be the fair-haired boys of the politicians. Many white collar workers, Democrats and Republicans, wonder if the policy of holding up the high cost of living is the permanent policy is to be a mathematics teacher in the tax supported school system in California.

OUR DEFEAT IN CHINA (The McCarthy investigation) The United States has suffered a military defeat in China, more serious than its defeat at Pearl Harbor. The voters did not know for years how great our losses were in Pearl Harbor. So it will be in the case of China. How vulnerable has it made our own coast? Who is responsible for this terrible defeat? McCarthy is trying desperately to find out. The administration is covering up. It hides behind National Security crisis talks.

The defeat of China was accomplished in our State Department. People believe that there was something rotten in that Department long before the McCarthy charges. Since then Feurloy admits nearly 100 sex perverts have been fired. Obviously that is only part of what has caused the fantastic defeat of the once most powerful military nation on earth.

For ten years, we have had a Communist in charge of our foreign policy-making. These men are not deluded young students. Their business is to confuse our top officials so that they will adopt policies advantageous to the USSR and fatal to our military security.

Ten years ago, there began a curious series of resignations and transfers of officials, like Ambassador Grew. He had long and honorable experience in our Far Eastern policy. Such men were replaced by newcomers who consistently favored Soviet Russia in their decisions. We had a succession of men as Secretary of State who were either blind, or were suddenly relieved from office, when they began to see.

When Marshall was made Secretary (after the very sudden resignation of Byrnes), he went to China and insisted on a truce. He demanded that the Chinese Nationalist armies be disbanded and sent home. But he got no reciprocal action from the Communists. He imposed an embargo on our shipment of war material to free China, but he got no embargo on shipments of arms from Soviet Russia to Communist China. Why? Was it because he was surrounded by advisers who favored the Communist side?

The "publican 80th Congress opposed President Truman's abandonment of China, and insisted that aid be given the Nationalist Government. The Chinese brought arms of us, but because of the State Department red tape, they could not get ammunition. Nor, oddly enough, could they get permits for shipment. These permits had to come from a Bureau in the Commerce Department. The chief of this Bureau was born in Manchuria. He had been appointed by Henry Wallace, although twice rejected for American citizenship for his un-American opinions. The paper work on these arms shipments was for some strange reason not finished until Harry Bridges had called a strike on the West Coast. Then, not a vessel could move from our Pacific ports to China or Alaska. That was, curiously enough, the moment when the Communist armies began their final push in China.

McCarthy wants more light on this. The Fair Deal Party has chosen to laugh at his charges. Great names are used to inspire feelings of danger to our Foreign Policy. What Foreign Policy? When China fell, we lost the air bases from which bombers could fly to inner Siberia, bases which were our best insurance against war. Some morning we may wake up and learn that the Philippines have been captured, as China was captured, by the USSR. Then Formosa, Japan, and Korea will be outlooked. Alaska and California will be our front line. Such mistakes are paid for in the lives of our young men. They may have to retake, under withering fire, what our State Department so lightly gave up.

We must clean the Communists and all their dupes out of our foreign policy-making. Then the United States can resume its obligations to its ally, Free China, and help train the Chinese soldiers who are bravely trying to recapture the air bases on the Chinese mainland. Such air bases might not only serve China but also constitute our first line of defense.

That's not because the English people are not intelligent or well-intentioned. They have become enamored of a vision and fail to recognize the real factors and the truth. They have become obsessed with a conviction to such an extent that they do not see the things that are actually happening and the danger in their present course.

As in England, there are many here in America who are putting their trust in economic doctors who know little or nothing about economic anatomy. These same people would not think of permitting a surgeon who does not have a thorough knowledge of physical anatomy, to operate upon their bodies. Why then do they permit these economic quacks, who know so little of the anatomy of society, relationships of human beings and the laws that govern life, to prescribe an operation and proceed to operate upon the body economic?

These pseudo-economic doctors, who are sublimely ignorant of the anatomy of our economic system, are overly zealous to operate upon it. It hurts me to have to say this of some of my fellow-craftsmen in economics, but they are very much like the mathematician who attempts to deal in geometry, trigonometry, algebra or calculus, without first having bothered to study and master plain arithmetic.

That is one reason why our American colleges today are grinding out so many graduates who have no understanding whatsoever of the fundamentals of economics.

You and I must beware of these Do-Gooder socialist planners, who bear false witness. We must not let them prescribe for us, much less operate.

Science Has Hope for Cure Of Problem Drinkers in U.S.

By SAM HAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP) — The man or woman who drinks too much costs employers plenty — in lost labor, in sloppy work, in accidents in the shop, many of them fatal. Medical researchers this week offer the hope that the excessive drinker can be cured by treating a still somewhat mysterious pituitary gland at the base of the skull, which is now believed to regulate various bodily functions and may be the seat of the alcoholic's troubles.

But already a number of companies have tackled the problem in their own shops by recognizing alcoholism as a disease and setting up departments to treat it among their employes. Some have tried this out long enough now to report results.

Du Pont's medical division, working with Alcoholics Anonymous for six and a half years, has 60 groups in various company locations treating the disease. The company reports to the National Industrial Conference Board that 48 percent of the Du Pont problem drinkers have been rehabilitated.

The Consolidated Edison Co. of New York, formally recognizing alcoholism as a disease, considers it a justifiable cause for separation allowances or retirement annuities.

The utility company tells the conference board that in two years now it has treated 46 cases. Eight arrested cases are claimed. Six employes were given annuities, 22 separation allowances, and only nine discharged outright. But the utility thinks the program has done even more in prevention than it has in cure. Since the program went into effect, the company reports less absenteeism and inefficiency traceable to drinking.

The medical profession constantly works on the problem. The Medical Society of the State of New York heard Tuesday of studies made at the New York University Bellevue Medical Center which indicate that alcoholism is due to a disturbance in the functioning of the pituitary gland. Treatment includes use of hormones of the pituitary and adrenal glands, and in some cases male and female sex hormones. The craving for alcohol is killed by the treatment, the doctors believe, but not permanently — any backsliding sets the victim off again on the old path.

Business has a definite stake in treating the disease. The excessive drinker may be at the lathe in the mill, or he may be present, if in body only, at a highly-polished top-executive desk in the front office. Either place he costs money. And the drinking executive can be more expensive than the butter-fingered workman.

Alcoholism affects all groups of employes, in all kinds of business, skilled, unskilled, white-collar, right up to the president. It hits both sexes, and all ages, although the largest number and the most serious cases are found among those in the early forties.

Three and a half million Americans are excessive drinkers, says the Yale School of Alcohol Studies. Of these 850,000 are chronic — men, and women, who cannot stop after the first drink. The others are: 1. The occasional problem drinkers (they can't work for a day or two after their wives have babies, or after their mother-in-law goes home); and 2. The periodic drinkers (they find it hard to get to work any Monday, or after any holiday).

"The Yale Plan on Alcoholism," which offers a consultant service to industry on the alcohol problem, reports that 2,000,000 men, and women, who drink to excess are regularly employed in the United States. Of these, 1,370,000 are in the manufacturing, construction and utility industries. On an average they lose 22 working days a year. Their accident rate is twice that of the non-alcoholic, and they are held responsible for 1,500 fatal accidents a year at work, and 2,850 at home, in public places, or in the liquor industry's public traffic.

lators organization, the Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc., says it will push a study this year delving into the causes and cure of alcoholism, working through the National Research Council's division of medical sciences.

LBI also says that the liquor industry is plenty worried about

21 U.S. Ships Headed for Asiatic Area

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — A task force of 21 American warships is headed west for the Orient.

It will relieve ships of the Seventh Fleet. But the main purpose of the task group will be to show the American flag along the shores of Asia.

The carrier Valley Forge heads the force. It has aboard 33 jet planes, first of the speedy American warplanes to be shown in the Orient. There are 47 other planes aboard.

Read Adm. John M. Hoskins commands the task force, which also includes two snorkel-type submarines — the kind that can stay underwater indefinitely. Besides the Valley Forge, other ships in the task force are the cruisers Juneau and Rochester, the aircraft tenders Curtiss and Suisan, the transport Wantuck, the destroyers De Haven, Brush, Taussig, Mansfield, Maddox, Moore, Eversole and Shelton, the destroyer escorts Fletcher, a 14 Radford, the submarines Bandra, Calfish and Segundo and the oilers Navasota and Passumpsic.

The Valley Forge will relieve the carrier Boxer in the Orient. The Boxer and other ships of the Seventh Fleet will return to the West Coast in June.

DISTRICT JUDGE GOODRICH MAKES FORMAL STATEMENT

In announcing for my second term, I want to thank the people of this district for the support they have given me in the performance of my duties as district judge. I have devoted my time and my very best efforts in performing the duties of the office, and want to refer all the voters to the bar of this area and others who have been in attendance upon the court throughout the district as jurors, and in other capacities, to ascertain the manner in which your district court has been conducted during the last three and a half years. The condition of the dockets throughout the district will reflect the record of your district judge and the minutes of the respective clerks' offices will reveal and verify what has been done. I respectfully submit them for your inspection, and further refer you to the record of cases appealed from this court during my tenure of office. The records of 16 cases have been transmitted from this court to the Courts of Civil Appeals, the Supreme Court, and the Court of Criminal Appeals. All but three of these cases have been passed upon, one of which was reversed and rendered, and the other twelve were affirmed. I pass this on to you for your consideration and as a yardstick to measure the standing this court has had with the higher courts since I have served as your judge.

Upon the basis of my service and record I respectfully submit to you my candidacy for a second term as Judge of the 31st Judicial District.—Paid Pol. Adv.

Manford Will Quit Politics

AUSTIN — (AP) — House Speaker Durwood Manford of Smiley has announced he will leave politics at the end of this year to return to private business and management of his late father's estate.

He said he would not be a candidate for re-election to the legislature or any other political office.

The announcement ended considerable speculation that the 33-year-old speaker would be a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Manford has represented Gonzales County in the House for 10 years.

His Mantford Labor Act of 1943 was one of the most controversial measures passed in Texas in recent years. It remains substantially on the books despite repeated court assaults. It was considered the first labor law in the nation that established the principle of the state's right to regulate labor unions.

It requires that unions must be financially responsible both to their employers and the members of the union.

Manford was elected speaker in January 1949 at the age of 31, the second youngest speaker ever to hold the office. Sam Rayburn of Bonham was the youngest when he served in 1911 at the age of 29.

Gov. Allan Shivers followed Manford's announcement with a statement commending his legislative work.

"He was widely recognized as a most able speaker... I found him a most helpful co-worker. He deserved high praise for his record of public service," Shivers said.

Elephant, 2 Men Given Free Ride

TRENTON, N. J. — (AP) — Jack Walsh lifted two men and an elephant four inches last night.

He did it with his back. The two men and the elephant were standing on a specially constructed platform, and the estimated gross weight was more than 3,000 pounds.

Walsh got under the platform, and had to balance it as well as lift it.

There were plenty of witnesses about, and newsmen from Radio Station WBUD, Morrisville, Pa., said they detected no signs of trickery.

The stunt was staged by the Hunt Brothers circus at a benefit for a nearby Lions Club. Walsh weighs 178 pounds, stands five feet eight inches tall, and says he has lifted 4,400 pounds in pig iron.

Jordan Announces For Sheriff

R. H. (Rufe) Jordan today authorized The Pampa Daily News to announce his candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Gray County, Texas, subject to the Democratic Primary of July twenty-two.

R. H. (Rufe) Jordan sincerely solicits the support and influence of the people of Gray County, Texas, on the following declaration:

"I have resided in Gray County, Texas, all of my life. I attended Gray County schools and finished high school in Pampa in 1930. In 1934 I married Miss Viola McAnally. We have one daughter, Ann, who is now attending Pampa High School. I am a home owner and taxpayer in Gray County, Texas, and would like to say should I be honored with the office of Sheriff of Gray County, Texas, I will, to the utmost of my ability, give to the people of this county an administration based on economy and sound business methods, fair and courteous law enforcement, governed and enforced by Gray County men serving as Deputy Sheriffs in our county.

"I invite you people of Gray County to inspect my record as a man, a law enforcement officer, and a long-time resident of Gray County. To this I will add: If chosen to serve you in the capacity of Sheriff, I will keep the Sheriff's office open to the people of Gray County at all times in order that I may assist them in any manner that I may. I warn the criminal element that there will be no place in Gray County for them. I expect to enforce the laws in such manner that they will stay clear of our county.

"If elected to the office of Sheriff of our county, I will endeavor to serve the people in a safe and sane manner. I have no other income so, if elected to the office, I will spend all my time at my office serving the people of Gray County, alike, fairly and impartially.

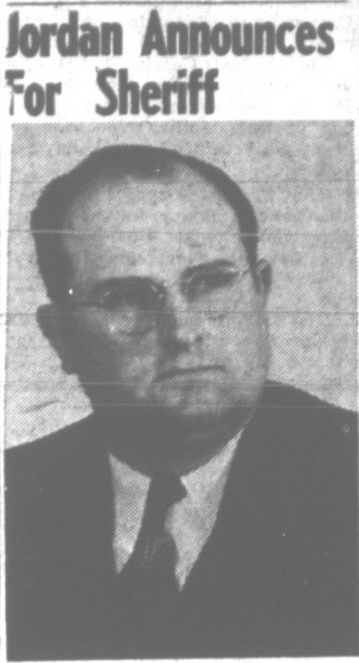

"It is my desire to contact, personally, every voter in the county before election. But, should I overlook some one, let me say at this time THANK YOU in advance for your support and influence in the Democratic Primary Election, the 22nd day of July."

(Signed)
R. H. (Rufe) JORDAN.

After the business session Mrs. E. J. Dunigan, Jr., the president, conducted the installation of officers. What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

BY MARY ANNE DUKE 4-H ADULT LEADERS: Much credit for the success of the County 4-H Clothing Revue is due the 4-H adult leaders.

These leaders and the club they represent are as follows: Miss Mildred Baggerman, Grandview 4-H Club; Mrs. G. O. Baten, Hopkins 4-H Club; Mmes. T. D. Anderson and D. W. Swain, Blue Bell 4-H Club; Mmes. Roy Tinsley and Laverty, Jr. High 4-H Club; Mrs. Orphus Tate, McLean Jr. High 4-H Club; and Mmes. O. W. Stapp, John Ashworth, Roy Sherrod and Marvin Hall, Alanoed 4-H Club. Lefors 4-H Club needs adult leaders.

The 4-H Clothing Revue committee, composed of Mmes. Ernest Edwards, Roy Tinsley, C. A. Jones, and Joe M. Keel, secured prizes from local merchants and helped the 4-H Club presidents plan and carry through on every detail of the revue.

MOTHERS: The mothers of the 4-H Club girls deserve the most credit for seeing the garments through to completion. How would you mothers like for the agent to hold a Clothing Construction School for you before the girls start making their next garments?

HINT FROM HIGH FASHION: Just as the mothers of 4-H Club girls are recovering from supervising the putting in of that first zipper, using machine stitching, the idea of sewing in zippers by hand comes forth. Margaret Smith, clothing specialist for the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, recommends hand sewing zippers for any kind of fabric where there won't be too much strain.

The attractive results of this hand-sewn method will please the most particular women, for the stitches are hardly visible on the outside. Not only good looks but a more pleasing opening is achieved by hand stitching zippers. That is why the finest gowns produced in Paris and New York custom houses are made with zippers sewn in by hand, Miss Smith points out.

Never that the small zippers introduced fairly recently are even tinier zippers. Miss Smith suggests using the new small ones for a really delicate effect. (Continued on Page 12)

WELL, THIS IS MOTHER'S DAY. You know that's the day Mom does absolutely nothing but enjoy the peaceful, restful atmosphere of family life. Junior prepares breakfast (and Mom spends two hours cleaning up after him). Dad takes her out to lunch then challenges her to 18 holes of golf and two sets of tennis (there's nothing more restful). Then too, there's always a little remembrance from the family. Last year I received a baseball bat and today I unwrapped a catcher's mitt. (How did they ever guess—just what I wanted!) Anyhow, next year I suspect they'll tie a ribbon around a couple of the Mills' Oilers—we've got the equipment for a game, but don't have quite enough in the family to fill the bases.

THERE WERE SEVERAL who earned their MOM degrees just in time for this year's celebration. Congratulations to Mrs. C. R. Richardson and Mrs. Ken Lloyd!

I SIMPLY FORGOT that last week was National Baby Week and with so many cute little ones around town, too! The young Harold Andersons have an appealing baby with the cutest little top-knot of hair. The W. T. Wilborns' little girl is deserving of the beauty prize she won. And I don't know the diminutive red head who lives on the corner of Christie and Harvester, but she's a friendly little one. Saw her standing in the doorway waving to all who passed.

HERE'S A GET WELL WISH to the Drs. Sawyer and Hampton. Peg's proud to hear that "you all" are improving. Who is the nurse over at the Worley who's had to become a patient? And speaking of ailments like lotsa other folks have.

WONDER IF Jean Haw is in sunny California? Believe her itinerary included that state. Speaking of California, I noticed somebody advertising for riders to San Francisco. Started to call and offer two of my brood as passengers, but then I suppose those people would have expected references.

THERE'S "KNOCKS" on his office door, "cause there's lots of children around. They come to him with problems galore, and receive advice that's good and sound. There are bells ringing that he can't see, and they sound all day long. His wife's name is "plain as can be," quoting from, that good old song!

CANT REMEMBER WHEN—Helen Blocker wasn't singing "I'm a little teardrop" when she was built... Zafis had the corner lot now occupied by Bentley's shop... Dr. Douglas Nelson was without his two little brunette daughters... and I certainly can't remember when Peg wasn't prowling around Pampa.

MY SPOUSE DOES the most beautiful job of polishing his rod and reel. I do wish sometimes that he would exert that polishing ability on the family sterling!

PANORAMICALLY: Mrs. Bob Curry and Mrs. Eben Warner were the charming hostesses at the Friday luncheon at the Country Club. And isn't Mrs. J. S. Fugua a good hostess? Dr. Orion Carter was in Plainview Monday in a conference... Ola Gregory has a pleasant telephone personality... He doesn't look any older, but somebody told me that L. L. Some was celebrating a birthday last week... Thanks be! I'm glad a woman has the privilege of changing her mind... it was just too wet for golf Wednesday morning... understood some showed up despite the damp weather... out like a fly I took one peep out of the door and changed by mind... Some men we know won't have anyone but Mistah Cash shine their shoes in the Combs-Worley Barber shop... he shines with a smile... That looked like a party going on at the IOOF hall Tuesday night... Had to rush this morning in order to make the "crack o' dawn" B&PW breakfast... wanted to get to Sunday school on time.

I don't really feel like small talk this week and since J. L. Swindle's tragic death, I've been off my beat. He was the "father" of Peg o' Pampa and he kept her on the straight and narrow. It won't be the same for a lot of us... including PEG O' PAMPA.

If your children eat at their own small table let them make place-mats for themselves sometimes. A scalloped sheet of paper and plenty of bright-colored crayons will do the trick.

HE'LL CELEBRATE WITH TRUMAN—Bobby Cowell, polo victim of Queen City, Mo., will celebrate his ninth birthday in Ottumwa, Ia., on Monday, along with President Truman, who will be 66. Bobby wrote Ottumwa city officials saying he would "so like" to exchange birthday greetings with the President. As a result, President Truman asked to "shake hands personally" with Bobby when he gets to the city.

'MAGIC MINERAL' USED FOR ATOMIC CITIES

Asbestos, often known as the "magic mineral" of antiquity, is lending a helping hand in the development of today's scientific marvel — atomic energy. In the form of asbestos cement building materials, it is providing housing for the "wonder cities" built by the Atomic Energy Commission in Tennessee and New Mexico. In the days of the earlier Romans, more than two thousand years ago, asbestos was as much of a mystery as uranium is to the average person today. The Romans called it magic, because its fibers could be woven into "rare and costly" cloth which could not be destroyed by fire. Asbestos remained a curiosity until comparatively recent times. Discovery of huge deposits in Quebec Province, Canada, in the latter part of the Nineteenth Century paved the way to development of a great modern industry.

Asbestos now is used for thousands of purposes, including the manufacture of building materials. Many of the homes being constructed for the AEC at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Los Alamos, New Mexico, will be sided and roofed with asbestos-cement products. These materials, in keeping with the history of asbestos, are distinguished by their fire-safety. At Oak Ridge, the home of the atomic bomb, roofing on a 345-unit single and duplex homes project will be asbestos cement shingles. Many of the exteriors will be finished with asbestos cement siding. This is part of a

State Insurance Integration Urged

AUSTIN — (AP) — Closer integration of state insurance department activities has been suggested as a possible means of greater efficiency and economy. State Auditor C. H. Cavness made the recommendation in an audit report of the department. "The operations of the board are divided as though it were three separate departments of the state government having little relation to each other," the auditor said.

Poet's Death In Arkansas Ruled Suicide

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — Pulitzer Prize winning poet John Gould Fletcher drowned in a shallow pond near his country home here. Coroner Howard A. Dishongh said the death was suicide. Dr. Dishongh said Fletcher, who was 64 years old, had been in ill health about five months. Mrs. Fletcher, who writes children's books under the name of Charlie May Simon, said her husband had gone when she awoke. When he did not return, a search was started. The body was found in a few feet of water that afternoon after Fletcher's hat, coat and watch had been found nearby. Fletcher won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1909 for his "Selected Poems." He was the first Southern poet to be so honored.

He wrote many other works of poetry, biography, history and art criticism, beginning with "Fire and Wine" published in 1913. A native of Little Rock and a member of a prominent Arkansas family, Fletcher studied at Harvard University and lived abroad, mostly in England, for many years. He returned to Arkansas in 1932. Twice married, Fletcher is survived by his second wife and by two sisters, Mrs. David D. Terry of Little Rock, wife of a former Arkansas congressman, and Mrs. Mary F. Drennan of Monkton, Md.

Man and His Dog Are Inseparable

KEARNY, N. J. — (AP) — Roy M. Canfield, 42, told police that his wife fed a neighboring-estate man's dog for a couple of years, and then went along when the man and the dog moved out of town. "My wife said she couldn't bear to be separated from the dog," he said, "so they went off — he, she, and the dog."

Field Totals Drop Slightly With 16 Intents, 15 Finals

A refreshing description of the significance of business profits is found in a talk made by Dr. Courtney C. Brown, of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, before the Columbia College Forum on Democracy. In one part of his address, he said: "If profits could be understood for what they really are, namely a segment of the total flow of business funds which is used, for the most part, directly or indirectly to increase production facilities and thus increase the productivity of the joint effort, including that of labor, a very different public reaction and attitude toward profits would result."

The oil industry itself, in its postwar experience, is a fine illustration of this idea. Much criticism was heard of what some people considered the exorbitant profits the industry was earning. But the point that wasn't publicized was that only a part, and the smaller part, of these profits was paid to the thousands of stockholders — owners of the industry. The bulk of them went back into the business to buy refineries, pipelines, tankers, research laboratories and all the rest of the things the industry has to have.

If it hadn't been for profits and the facilities they bought, the industry would not have been able to satisfy our enormous postwar demand for oil. A national crisis might very well have occurred. And, for a certainty, the industry would have employed much less labor than it does. Dr. Brown also said, "There is a good deal of nonsense written and said about whether profits are too high or too low. They are too high if they provide more funds than are needed for investment, and they are too low if they do not provide enough."

To arbitrarily argue that profits are excessive simply because the money total is large is to ignore the fundamentals of the whole profit question.

The government, seemingly unable to keep its mind off the oil industry, last week sent its anti-

Oil Potentials Dip to 538 Barrels; Two Wells Plugged

Mid-May reports from the Panhandle oil and gas field show activity during the past week slipped. Operators staked 16 new locations and filed completion reports on 15 wells. Of the 15 completed, eight were oilers, five gasers and two wells were plugged. This compares to 28 new locations and 13 completions reported the previous week.

Potentials last week totaled only 538 barrels of oil, but 16,983 MCF gas. Potentials for the preceding period totaled 1,106 barrels of oil with no gas reported.

Foree Sees Import Cuts as Voluntary

AUSTIN — "We may have reason to expect early relief from the excessive oil imports that are undermining independent producers and creating deficits in state finances," declared TIPRO President R. L. Foree of Dallas upon his return from New York and Washington where he visited with heads of three major importing companies.

In calling for a May 16 meeting of TIPRO's thirty-five executive committee members from every part of Texas, Foree pointed out that the statewide hearing of the Railroad Commission on the following day could prove the instrument for a voluntary import reduction.

Simultaneous with Foree's visit with heads of Standard (New Jersey), The Texas Co., and Socony-Vacuum in New York was a Railroad Commission order calling for their import intentions by the May 17 hearing. The import plans of these companies is a factor needed by the commission in setting Texas production allowances.

"If, at this hearing," continued Foree, "those companies accept their responsibility, acknowledge but yet unassuming, of having imports supplement but not supplant domestic production, we can expect a sizable reduction in imports during the remainder of 1950. On the other hand, if they should not do so, we as independents will have no choice but to fight back with every weapon at hand."

Among the actions the executive committee might take action upon are proposed campaigns to have products of importing companies boycotted and pipeline facilities divorced.

Foree told the TIPRO executive committee in his letter that the importers were more than a little concerned over the entrance of coal and railroad industry labor groups into the fight against excessive oil imports.

Devonian Discovery Seen in New Mexico

Opinions Differ on Solution To Foreign Import Problem

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — Two independent oil associations seem to have sharp differences of opinion on how their foreign import problem is to be solved.

Week before last the president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association predicted early relief. He left little doubt he expects such relief will come from the major importers themselves.

Last week the directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of America abandoned hope of aid from the importers of the Washington administration. They said any relief will have to come from Congress.

The Texas Railroad Commission is to give serious study to the imports problem Wednesday when it meets in Austin to set the state's crude production allowable for June.

Presidents of major importing firms have been asked to appear and give testimony on how much foreign oil they plan to bring into the United States during the second half of 1950.

Chances are the testimony will be repetition of what happened at last week's IPAA convention in Los Angeles.

IPAA President J. E. Warren, contending imports have injured the domestic industry, asked 11 importers to submit their views to the convention.

Consensus of eight importers telegraphing replies says imports have not injured the national welfare and security.

After studying these replies, the IPAA board released statistics which they say prove imports have invaded the home market.

They stressed these points:

1. Oil imports into the United States have more than doubled since 1946, while exports have declined by about 35 percent. In 1950's first quarter, the nation was not importer by 550,000 barrels daily in contrast with having been a net exporter by 42,000 barrels daily in 1946.
 2. Imports now are supplying 13.1 percent of the domestic market, compared to 6.9 percent in 1946.
 3. Domestic production is 8 percent below the 1948 average and more than 1,000,000 barrels daily below efficient capacity.
 4. The current import rate was placed at 800,000 barrels daily, 30 percent over 1949 and 60 percent over 1948.
- Such trends, the directors said, have caused "serious" injury to the domestic industry.
- Several of the importers reply to IPAA's request said a 1950 well completion rate increase over early 1948 is proof the domestic industry has not been injured.

The IPAA charges of lack of cooperation from the importers and administration came only a few days after several Washington reports had President Truman about ready to step into the controversy.

Washington sources said the president, faced with pressure both from independent oilmen and coal industry spokesmen, soon might call for some sort of curtailment of foreign oil imports.

The optimistic statement made by R. L. Foree, president of the Texas Producers and Royalty Owners group, came after he had talked with several major importers.

He said these companies fear the effects of an industry split over the problem. He added:

"With that possibility, plus their admitted error in overstepping reasonable import levels, we may expect to see some industry statesmanship."

Crude oil purchases Wednesday probably will ask the Texas Commission to boost May production. Last week Texas allowances totaled 2,216,290 barrels daily, with actual production approximating 2,107,000. In late 1948 Texas past production over 2,500,000 daily.

A general tightening of the market, plus continued declines in stocks give weight to predicted requests for May output hikes in Texas.

Gasoline stocks have declined a fifth consecutive week and now are only 3,700,000 barrels above a year ago.

Baker Sees Increase in Humble Business

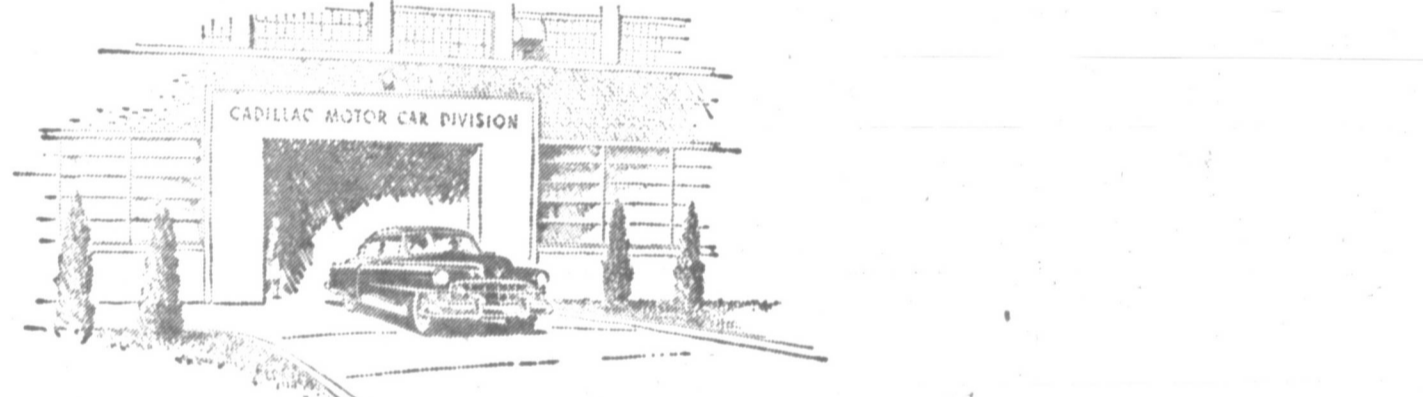

The volume of Humble Oil & Refining Co. business is currently lower than it was a year ago. Hines H. Baker, president, told stockholders at their annual meeting last week; but demand in recent months has shown a substantial gain, and indications are that Humble's operations and production during the year as a whole will be about the level of those in 1949. In the first four months of 1950, Humble produced about 239,000 bbls. of crude oil, refined 192,000 bbls., and transported by pipe line 630,000 bbls. Present plans call for capital expenditures in 1950 of about $129,000,000, slightly in excess of the amount invested in capital facilities in 1949.

Sooner Drilling Climbs Sharply

TULSA — (AP) — Oklahoma oil operators made a remarkable recovery last week despite heavy rains to post gains in both completions and exploration.

Finals jumped from 120 last week to 137, the Tulsa World found, including 80 producers, seven gas wells and 50 dry holes. Other data: Average daily output of crude, 8,288 barrels; of gas, 44,170,500 cubic feet; with a total of 461,424 feet drilled.

There were 204 first reports from 36 counties, compared to the previous 180 new tests in 37 counties. Stephens County, even though many of its fields were bogged down in gumbo, led with 23 starts.

Just Imagine It's Yours!

You say you have never driven a Cadillac?

Well, it's a lovely day—and there are beautiful roads to travel down and interesting places to visit—and a little dreaming never hurt a soul... so just slide over behind the wheel. It's yours!

First, you'll just want to sit for awhile, with your hand on the slender, obedient wheel—and get a close-up view of the ingrained goodness that makes this car so unmistakably... the Standard of the World.

And then you turn the key, touch the soft-throated engine into action—and you're away.

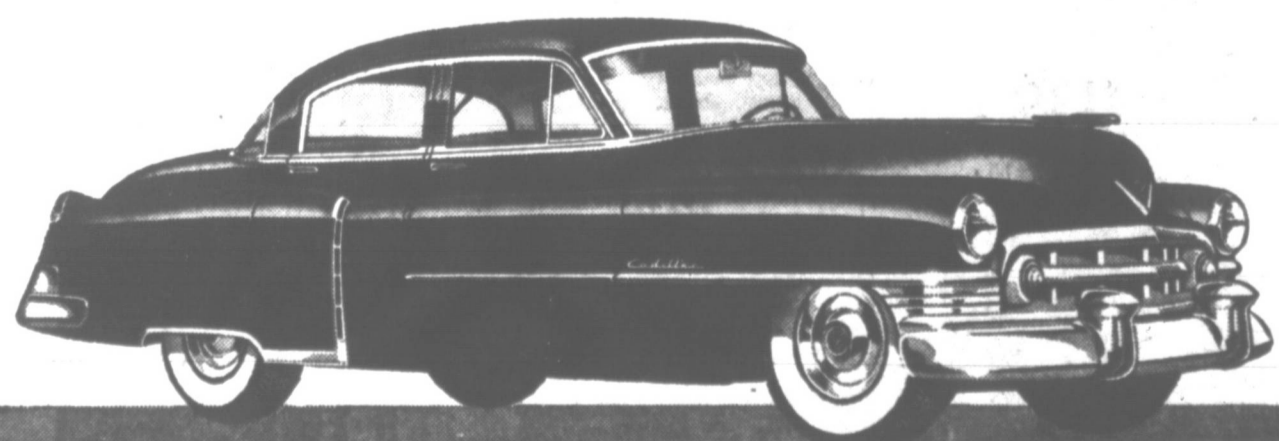

The steering wheel all but reads your mind! The brakes are as soft as velvet, and immediate in their response! The road has become a boulevard—and the turns and lights seem so very close together!

And the soft, easy quietness of it all! You just sit and relax—in complete contentment—and the miles go by—and the miles go by... "Oh, how I wish this car were mine!"

Well, it's time, we think, to stop dreaming—and lend an ear to this: the lowest-priced Cadillac costs less to buy than certain models of numerous other makes of cars; it is so enduring that it will give a lifetime of service; and it is so economical that it actually approaches the low-priced popular cars in gasoline mileage.

Yes, it's time to go into action—and to make this car your own!

An Old Nuisance Tamed:

Research Engineers See Possibilities in Commercial Extraction of Hydrogen Sulfide

AUSTIN — West Texas oil men someday may be turning an old nuisance, hydrogen sulfide, into hard cash.

Dr. W. A. Cunningham, chemical engineering professor, has completed a study of the two-state area's hydrogen sulfide reserves and current output of the substance as a petroleum by-product.

Most of the 40 natural gasoline plants now operating in the huge basin are stripping hydrogen sulfide from their commercial fuel gas and burning the surplus compound in scrubbing plant flares, Dr. Cunningham explained.

"Assuming an operation at 60 percent of capacity, 28 of those plants are processing 1.25 billion cubic feet of gas per day. The gas contains hydrogen sulfide equivalent to more than 800 long tons of sulfur. Gasoline plants, proposed or now under construction, will increase that estimate 25 percent," he said, adding: "Sulfur can be produced economically from hydrogen sulfide by adding facilities at the gasoline plants. Only transportation costs for shipping, Permian sulfur to areas where it is used will keep it from competing with other supply sources."

"There is a possibility that the Basin's hydrogen sulfide may be converted into something of higher value than sulfur. If that happens, it will compensate for the higher transportation costs," he said.

Seven New Mexico plants — all in Lea County — have similar prospects.

Speaking of hydrogen sulfide "Although reserves are known to be large, they will vary so widely from one basin area to the other that they can be estimated only from as low as 10 years to as high as 25 or more at current production rates.

"Potentially available hydrogen sulfide is, of course, a direct function of oil and gas reserves. Estimates of the latter vary, not only with the individual making the estimate, but with the information available. Estimates on potential production from a particular field should be labeled 'intelligent guesses.'

"It must be assumed that, since hydrogen sulfide removal costs money, the sweet gas fields will be drawn from in maximum amount permitted by existing state laws and Railroad Commission rules.

"Hence, if gas reserves of fields connected to the respective plants are estimated at 20 years at current production rates, hydrogen sulfide content of the intake gas may increase in the future and hydrogen sulfide reserves may be greater than indicated by the present analytical data.

"Investigation shows Permian Age fields are of primary importance so far as hydrogen sulfide reserves are concerned. However, though the substance's content in Simpson and Ellenburger formations is low, the estimated gas reserves are quite high. Any plant processing such gas in large quantities will produce a considerable hydrogen sulfide tonnage."

Nominations For June Show Slight Gain

AUSTIN — (AP) — Major purchases nominations for Texas oil for June show a slight increase to 2,374,311 barrels daily, the railroad commission reported last week.

Nominations for May had totaled 2,366,690 barrels daily.

Despite the slight 7,551 barrel overall change, requested changes in individual districts ranged from a 19,991-barrel increase in West Texas district 8 to a 9,608-barrel decrease in Gulf Coast district 2.

Other districts showed nominations up 134 barrels in Southwest Texas district 1; 4,093 in Southwest Texas district 4; 1,541 in West Central Texas district 7-B; 475 in North Texas district 9 and 1,677 in Panhandle district 10. Nominations were down 3,701 in Southwest Texas district 2; 2,236 in East Central Texas district 5; 3,009 in East Texas outside the big East Texas pool; 787 in the East Texas field; and 598 in West Central Texas district 7-C.

The nominations are submitted to the commission in advance of the regular monthly statewide proration hearings at which evidence is heard on which to base the following month's permissive flow of crude oil. The hearing on June allowances is set for May 17 at Austin.

Job Placements Gain in Month

AUSTIN — (AP) — A 21.7 percent April increase in job placements over March has been reported by the Texas Employment Commission.

The commission said 39,005 workers were placed on jobs during the month. That was the largest figure for any month since October 1949 and 27 percent higher than in April of last year.

New applications for work during April totaled 36,245, compared to 35,723 during March, TEC said.

trust department to California to demand that major oil companies stop voluntary conservation and make their products available to independents on the same basis as to other majors.

A suit filed in federal court demands:

1. Dissolution of California's conservation committee and an injunction preventing establishment of other voluntary conservation practices not authorized by state law. (California is the only big oil producing state where conservation is practiced voluntarily by the companies; in other states it is under state government regulation).
2. Divorcement of retail service stations and wholesale outlets of the refined petroleum products, except at refineries and marine terminals.
3. Requirement that oil trunk pipelines and feeding pipelines, owned or operated by any defendant company, be made available for use by any independent producer or refiner, on the same conditions as made available to any co-defendant.
4. Outlawing stabilization of prices through one company posting a price list as an alleged guide to other companies.
5. That any agreement between the defendants for exchanging crude oil or refined petroleum products available to any other producer or refiner upon the same terms and conditions.
6. Outlawing exclusive dealing contracts with independent service stations for petroleum products, as well as accessories sponsored by the contracting company.

Named in the action are Standard Oil of California, The Texas Co., Shell Oil of New York, Tidewater Associated, Richfield Oil, General Petroleum and Union Oil.

The oil industry is the second against which the Department of Justice has moved seeking divorcement of production and company-owned retail outlets.

A suit filed some years ago against the American Petroleum Institute naming the entire oil industry may now be dismissed, government sources indicated. Since that time, they said, it has been decided to move regionally.

The Western region named includes the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Nevada. Principal production is centered, however, in the San Joaquin valley and the Los Angeles Basin, with 28,000 producing wells.

Stanolind Opens New Saving Plan

TULSA Oklahoma — A new savings and stock bonus plan for employees of Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. was announced last week by E. F. Bullard, Stanolind president.

At the end of the first plan year, employees participating in the program will receive a bonus of one share of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) stock for each $100 which they have invested in United States Savings Bonds. Enrollment in the plan will begin during the annual Treasury Department national savings bonds campaign which opens May 14.

The Stanolind plan provides that an employee enrolled in the company's retirement plan may authorize pay deductions of from two to four percent of his yearly earnings for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds. The employee receives his bonds when they are paid for. At the end of the plan year, he will receive free a share of Standard stock (the market value was $47.12 on May 10) for each "bonus unit" that he has invested in bonds during the year. A bonus unit is equal to 1 1/2 times the book value of a share of stock at the end of the preceding calendar year. The current bonus unit is $108, but this amount will vary from year to year.

Rotary Units Set New Peak During Week

DALLAS — (Special) — With nearly all principal areas participating, rotary rig activity in oil-fields of the United States and Canada reached a new peak for the year during the week of May 8, it was reported to American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Co.

A net gain of 31 active rigs boosted the total for all areas to 2,129, which compares with 2,096 a week ago, 2,101 a month ago, and with 2,154 for the comparable week in 1949.

Following is a comparison by areas for the past two weeks:

Pacific Coast, 123, up 8; Oklahoma, 267, up 12; Kansas, 150, up 8; Rocky Mountain, 71, down 1; Canada, 57, up 8; Ark-La-Tex, 135, up 4; West Texas and New Mexico, 729, up 7; Gulf Coast, 491, down 21; Illinois, 128, up 6.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines says the nation's most important deposits of chromite are in Still water and Sweetgrass counties, Montana.

Pope New Member Of Chicago Police
 VATICAN CITY — Chicago Catholics have named Pope Pius XII an honorary member of their city's police force and given him a gold badge.
 The pontiff also was named an honorary member of three organizations of Chicago police — the associations of patrolmen, sergeants and lieutenants.
 Presentation of the badge and accompanying certificates was made by members of the Chicago police branch of St. Jude's League, a Claretian order. They came here for the Holy Year canonization May 7 of Anthony Maria Claret, a Spanish weaver who became archbishop of Cuba 100 years ago.

RFC Buying Mortgages
 WASHINGTON — After a two-month halt, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is ready to resume buying home mortgages — but with certain restrictions.
 Chairman Harley Hise said the RFC's mortgage buying subsidiary, the Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA), will buy only mortgages which:
 (1) Have been guaranteed by the Veteran's Administration or insured by the Federal Housing Administration since March 1, and (2) Have been held by the mortgage lender "at least two months" before being offered for purchase.
 Other officials said there will be further restrictions aimed at stretching out the $250,000,000 of new buying power Congress voted FNMA last month.

Writer Says Big City Age Over in U.S.

WASHINGTON — "The age of the big city is over" and the day of the small community is ahead, Lewis Mumford told the American Institute of Architects yesterday.

The writer, architect and town planner appealed to AIA's 82nd annual convention to support the creation of "regional authorities" over the country.

These super-municipal planning bodies, each embracing a city and its surrounding towns and suburbs, can develop in metropolitan areas a rich and varied life far surpassing that of today's big city, Mumford said. He went on:

"A balanced community, limited in size and area, limited in density, in close contact with the open country, is actually the new urban form for our civilization."

The session closed the meeting of some 2,000 architects. Next year's convention will be held in Chicago. Ralph Walker, New York, who has headed AIA for the past year, was the unopposed choice for reelection.

At Friday night's annual dinner the society's highest honor, the AIA gold medal, was awarded to Sir Patrick Abercrombie, Sixth foreigner to receive the 44-year old award. Sir Patrick won world-wide distinction by his plans for the rebuilding of blitzed British cities and towns.

Commodity Prices Rise During Week

WASHINGTON — The government's daily index of prices hit a high for the year in the week ending May 9.
 The agency said there has been a steady rise in prices over a fairly long period, adding that it is studying the picture to determine what significance the trend may have.

Mr. Guill Goes to Washington

And Thank De Lawd For That

... maybe now I can settle down and sell some real estate . . . heard some man say the other day that since Ben was now the Honorable Ben H. Guill I ought to at least have the title of Half-Honorable Mickey Ledrick . . . okay, that's close enough for me . . . I've heard so much about how they work it in Washington that I've been kinda expectin' a deep freeze since Ben left . . . reckon I'll settle for a good thermos though . . . one thing I do know, in spite of a lot of talk about Big Money Interests, here's one boy that's got to get out and make back some money spent for the good of the cause . . . I'd just as soon start today with a sale on the Vantine home at 922 Mary Ellen . . . Mark & Pearl told me yesterday I could ask $2000 less for it, and it was already a bargain . . . let me show you that house; its size and livability will amaze you.

draws County News, and went on: "three good human-interest pictures and lots of local news. That's the work of the new editor."

There's a story behind the new editor. Here it is. Roberts had four sons. As they grew up, all had a taste of work on their father's paper. Three didn't like it. Charles, Jr., with a trick football knee, served as a civilian in a Navy plant during the war, and now is an insurance man at Andrews.

Harold S. Roberts was a machine gunner three years in the Pacific and now owns and operates seismograph drilling rigs in West Texas. Wesley, radio operator on a destroyer cruising the Pacific in the war, is going into the insurance business.

And then there was Jim, a tall, husky, black-haired boy, who always wanted to be a newspaperman.

Jim enlisted in the Army in 1942. He was 19. He fought in Sicily, landed at Salerno, and survived three days without food or water, marooned on an Italian hilltop. He survived the Rapido River battle, too. At Cassino, he and 16 comrades ran out of ammunition and used their bayonets and fists to subdue and capture as many Germans.

But Jim really got it at Anzio. He and three companions entered a farmhouse. Shellfire killed one and injured Jim and the other two. Jim crawled, bleeding and very seriously wounded in the thigh, to a ditch. A German came up, preparing to bayonet one of the Americans. He didn't see Jim. Jim lifted his rifle straight up and fired and the German toppled into the ditch on top of him.

"We stared at each other and I prayed he would die before other Germans came along," said Jim. "He did."

The Germans did come, all right. They finally took Jim to a hospital in Florence. Americans less seriously wounded than he were dying of infection, due to lack of care. Jim clenched his teeth and for 25 days changed his own dressings daily.

Still in bad shape, he was taken to a prison camp in Germany. But he escaped, anyway. They caught him after 11 days. But in 1946 he was repatriated and brought to McCloskey General Hospital in Temple. The elder Roberts went there and found his son in very poor condition. "I want my boy to have the best attention possible," Roberts told the commanding officer. "He'll get it," the commanding officer said. "We're shipping him out to Beaumont General Hospital, El Paso, for surgery."

Five surgeons conferred. They went ahead and did the operation — all nine of them.

In 1946, Jim was well enough to enter Baylor University. He studied photography and journalism. Was graduated last December.

"Jim took those pictures and dressed up that front page," said Charles Roberts, Sr., proudly. "Jim's my new editor — and a darn good one."

Texas Warm Springs Co-Chairman Named

AUSTIN — (AP) — Appointment of Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland as co-chairman of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation was announced yesterday by Gov. Allan Shivers. Shivers is general chairman.

Mrs. Hodge, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, said she welcomes the opportunity to work for a program of expansion for Texas' own Warm Springs treatment center for polio victims and children stricken by other diseases.

Seven citizens of Mrs. Hodge's home city recently contributed $50,000 for the addition of another building at the Gonzales foundation, the governor reported.
