U.S. Calls on Pact Nations To Hike Arms

LONDON — (AP) — The United States called on her Atlantic Pact partners today to rearm quickly for the sake of world peace, warning that the West must not again be caught napping by Communist aggression.

It was learned that Charles M. Spofford, U. S. member, told the Atlantic alliance council that Korea has shown communism would not hesitate to pass from subversion to armed aggression. He called for western vigilance and quick increase in military strength.

The meeting was secret and only a noncommittal communique was issued at the end of the session. It reported merely that, for reasons of military security, the committee's work would be conducted behind closed doors.

Spofford, a New York lawyer, was named chairman of the 12-nation permanent civilian high command. The council was created in May by the foreign ministers of the 12 countries, who had talked for "tangible results" by fall.

Propelled by events in Korea, the delegates mapped a program to cut a four-year rearmament schedule to two years.

The session is expected to last four or five days, but the council is subject to recall at any time. The membership also includes representatives of Britain, France, Italy, Portugal, Iceland, Denmark, Norway, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Canada.

A major question before the Atlantic Pact council is whether military security, involving a big-scale arms program, can be bought without cutting in to Europe's economic recovery.

The original 1954 target date was built on the theory that Western Europe could rearm by then without cutting into its peacetime level by working (See U. S. CALLS, Page 2)

Rogers Holds Lead Over Perryton Man

Pampa's Walter E. Rogers is in the Aug. 26 runoff for Democratic nomination for Congress. At least that was the picture at noon on the basis of unofficial, and slightly incomplete, returns from the Texas Election Bureau.

The bureau's figures narrowed the previously reported 2,541 lead of Mrs. Altavere Clark, Washington and Amarillo, over Rogers to lead of 2,447.

The same report narrowed the gap between Rogers and Lefoy LaMaster, Perryton, from a previously reported 817 to 816.

At the same time LaMaster's earlier reported lead of 2,226 over J. Blake Timmons, Amarillo, was widened to 2,334 votes.

The latest figures, as reported by the Texas Election Bureau early this morning, gave the following totals:

Clark — 16,503
Rogers — 11,156
LaMaster — 13,310
Timmons — 10,976

This was the report that also said 600 votes were still out. Earlier reports, quoted as complete for all 28 counties, gave this picture:

Clark — 166,669
Rogers — 11,128
LaMaster — 13,281
Timmons — 10,918

Regardless of which set of figures is correct Rogers is definitely assured of a place in the runoff against Mrs. Clark.

If the totals of the Texas Election Bureau are correct, then it means that 55,045 ballots for all four candidates were cast. If the other report is correct, then 54,966 ballots were cast in the congressional battle. There was a no report made on the number of mutilated or discarded ballots, and write-in votes.

Mrs. Clark and Rogers are expected to hit the campaign trails again within the next few days in the semi-finals of the four-round congressional hunt to fill Judge Eugene Worley's seat in Washington that Republican Ben H. Guill of Pampa holds now. Guill won the first heat in a high-man-wins special election on May 6 to fill the remainder of Worley's unexpired term. The winner of the August runoff faces Guill on Nov. 7, general election day.

Biggest surprise to most political observers was the unexpected vote getting ability of LaMaster, heretofore a political unknown.

Neither LaMaster nor Timmons have come out with any statements as to which of the runoff candidates will get their support. Action along this line could take one of several different routes. Either, or both, could publicly ask their backers to support Rogers or Clark.

They could come out with a statement and tell their former (See ROGERS, Page 2)

Hoover Man, Husband of Victim, Dies

The toll in Sunday's Lefors highway auto collision rose to four with the death early today of Val Lavern Harris of Hoover, driver of one of the cars in the head-on crash.

Harris sustained a severe spinal injury and had been on the critical list since he entered the hospital.

His wife, 19-year old Mrs. Mary Jo Harris, also involved in the wreck, died shortly after entering the hospital.

Hospital authorities still carried three of the victims on the critical list this morning.

J. W. Clark, 29, Skellytown, was suffering from a dislocated right hip and a possible skull fracture. Melva Jo Harris was listed as having a skull fracture.

El Dean Beget, 16, was said to be critical, but extent of his injuries has not been determined. The other victims have shown some improvement, hospital authorities said.

Fourteen-year-old Charles McCray, of Pampa, was described as considerably improved today. The crash, said to be one of the worst in this area, occurred just after 3 p.m. Sunday on the Lefors highway near Pampa.

Two autos crashed head-on, causing 18 persons to be hospitalized. Three of the victims died shortly after the accident.

The victims, besides Mrs. Harris, included two Pampa girls, Mildred Jones, 16, and Janice Isbell, 17.

John T. Dawes, driver of the Pampa car, told police men that he was not certain how the accident occurred. But he said he remembered that just before the crash he had been attempting to pass a car, which speeded up each time he tried to go around.

Highway patrolmen arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred, and notified hospitals of an emergency, through the Pampa police department.

A Blackburn-Shaw-Sims ambulance left for Amarillo just after arrival of victims in town, to get drugs needed in treatment.

C. V. Timmons, with the Civil Aeronautics Authority, flew in a supply of blood plasma from Amarillo for the disposal of hospital authorities.

Bodies of Harris and his wife, residents of Hoover, were to be transferred to Brinkman, Okla., to (See CRASH, Page 2)

McCarthy Says Man Now Working for U.S. Is Communist

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Joseph P. McCarthy declared today he has an airtight proof that an important State Department official — a Moscow-born "Mr. X" — is a Communist.

The proof, McCarthy said in a Senate speech, is contained in the department's own loyalty file on the man.

He said his evidence was furnished by an FBI agent, an undercover agent, who joined the Communist party in 1937 at the suggestion of the FBI.

McCarthy described the case as one of the 81 covered by the State Department loyalty files which were examined by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which investigated McCarthy's Communist in government charges.

A report last week by the Democratic majority of that inquiry group labeled McCarthy's accusations "a fraud and a hoax."

The three Democrats on the committee said there was no proof whatever in the 81 files to back up McCarthy's contentions that those the records deal with were — variously — Communists, fellow travelers, or security risks for other reasons.

In his speech today, McCarthy said he was submitting to the Senate a photographed copy of "Mr. X's" State Department file. He did not hand out the copy in advance.

McCarthy said he had deleted the name of "Mr. X" from the copies he would make public.

Allies Destroy 58 Red Bridges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Allied armies have destroyed 58 main bridges and have damaged or knocked out temporarily 31 others in Korea, the Air Force reported today.

Briefing officers conceded, however, that one big bridge across the Han River near Seoul was proving "a real headache." Reported from Far East Air Force headquarters last night said all three of the main rail and highway spans across the Han were out, but one pontoon bridge was still intact.

The officers here told news men that one of the big bridges built them up with an additional concrete span, has been hit a number of times but the Red Koreans have patched it up each time.

Commission Will Decide on Topping

The city commission had only three definite items on the weekly agenda late this morning for approval or discussion. City Manager Dick Pepin reported. The commission convened this afternoon.

In the discussion field, that will have to eventually lead to a decision, will be the topping of stabilized streets in the 1949 and 1950 paving programs. The commission has two ways to go on the topping — advertise for bids, or continue through with last year's contract.

The three-quarter audit, or the first nine months report of city finances, has been laid on Pepin's desk and was to be presented to the commission this afternoon for review.

Approval of a small plot of the Schneider & Heilbrink Addition is also on the agenda.

AUSTIN — (AP) — Digging a deep grave for political animosities in the first post-election poll Gov. Allan Shivers recommends for Texas.

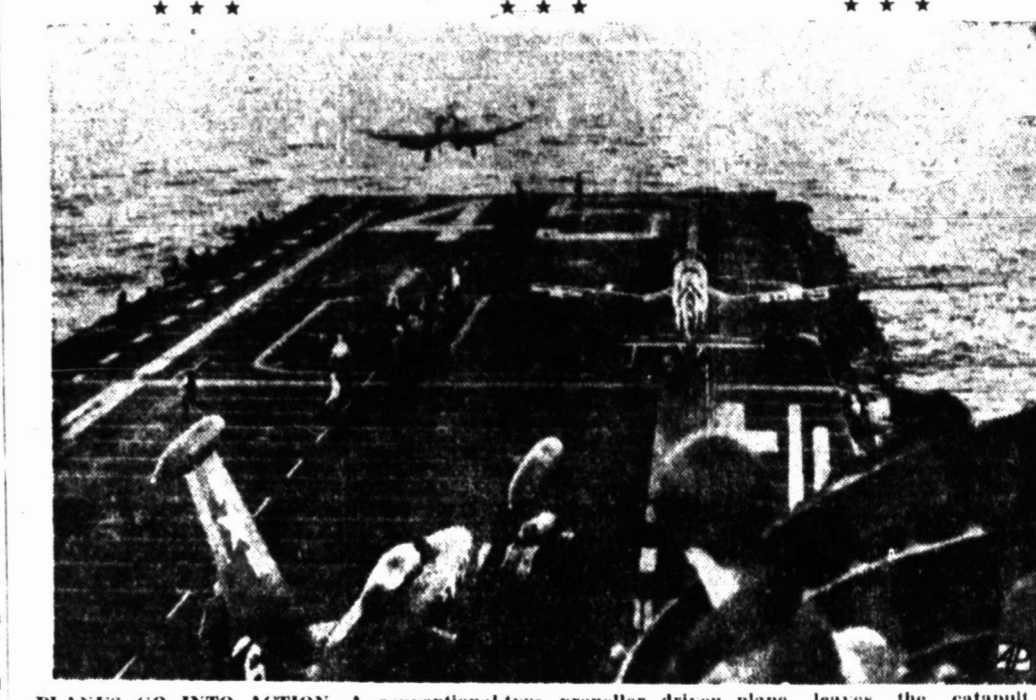

"Pulling at cross purposes we can accomplish nothing," he said in a statewide broadcast last night.

Shivers said he plans to continue talking serious problems of the state government to the people through his weekly statewide broadcasts.

AFL Hotel Workers Are Granted Raise

NEW YORK — (AP) — Thirty-three thousand AFL employees of New York city's major hotels will get immediate wage boost of from $1.80 to $1 a week under an award from an arbitration commission.

Edward P. Mulroney, impartial chairman of the city's hotel industry, announced the award yesterday.

U.S. Position Tightened by Withdrawal

TOKYO, Wednesday — (AP) — American ground forces abandoned Yongdong Tuesday, withdrawing under frenzied Communist attacks on that center position of the narrowing American defense perimeter in Southeast Korea.

Elements of the First Cavalry division, which had stood up throughout the day against wave after wave of enemy assaults along the Taejon-Yongdong highway, finally quit Yongdong for new, undisclosed positions.

General MacArthur's early morning operational release today conceded that the North Korean invaders were continuing their pressure despite heavy losses and severed communications.

This release said "further withdrawals may be necessary," but did not include the withdrawal from Hongdong late Tuesday, which field dispatches already had reported.

Far to the southwest, American and British carrier planes made a surprise attack on the Red troops who had swept virtually unopposed to the south coast of the Korean peninsula.

The air strike was mounted in 24 hours by U. S. and British carriers just returned to an unannounced port after operations on the east coast against North Korea.

MacArthur's early morning release listed eight Communist divisions on the offensive, starting at the far southwest corner with the enemy fourth division.

The others, ranged from west to east, were listed in this order: the third, second, fifteenth, first, eighth, seventh and fifth. If at full strength, the enemy force would total close to 50,000 men, since Red divisions previously have been officially estimated to contain about 6,000 each.

The release said the fourth division had advanced off the west and southwest side of the Korean peninsula. (See U. S. POSITION, Page 2)

Anti-Leopold Primaries Feature Violence Rises Monroney, Thomas

BRUSSELS — (AP) — The main highway line between Namur and Brussels was dynamited in two places today.

The explosions occurred near the foyers of Genval and Lesmeux in French-speaking Wallonia, the colony of Belgium where opposition to the reign of King Leopold III to the throne has been strongest.

Telephone lines in the district also were cut during the night.

Since Leopold came back last Saturday there have been a series of minor bombings.

Today's dynamiting, which put the rail line out of commission for several hours, happened shortly before Parliament was to convene to hear a message from the monarch.

Instead of following the customary procedure of delivering the message personally from the throne, Leopold last Saturday gave it to the presidents of the chamber of deputies and the senate. Made public then, it pledged the monarch to forget past disagreements and maintain close relations with the legislators.

Leaders of the anti-Leopold forces meanwhile went a head and plan for "total non-cooperation and active resistance" toward the king and his adherents.

A nine-man national action committee of Socialist, trade union and cooperative leaders announced they were setting in motion measures prepared "for the days and weeks to come."

Socialist leaders already have announced plans for a spreading wave of strikes but have indicated they do not plan yet to call a general strike.

Leopold's statement said he would "keep in contact with all those leading elements of the country in such a way as to at least have confidence to be re-born and reconciliation to be realized."

Inspection Slated 1 P. M. Wednesday For Derby Racers

Tonight is the final night for boys to work on Soap Box Derby racers. Tomorrow is inspection day here in Pampa. The inspection will be held at the senior high school gymnasium at 1 o'clock. This afternoon the members of the Pampa Lions Club, who do the inspecting, checked Burger entries.

Any boy who hasn't made arrangements for the transportation of his racer to the senior high school should call 386, Culbertson Chevrolet, and the racer will be picked up tomorrow.

Several of the contestants have dropped out and at the present time 45 boys are entered. The derby will be held on the old Miami highway next Sunday afternoon. The winner of the local race will receive an all-expense paid trip to the national Soap Box Derby in Akron, Ohio, on Aug. 17. There he will compete against the winners from all over the nation.

Friday night of this week a large party will be thrown for the contestants. The ice cream and movie affair will be held in the Palm Room of the city hall, starting at 7:30.

Trial runs for the racers will be held Saturday afternoon over the race course at which time the pairings will be made and announced in the Sunday edition of The Pampa News.

Security Council To Hear Report Of MacArthur

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United Nations Security Council met today to hear the first report from its military commander in chief, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, on the fighting in Korea.

Informed sources said the report contains no recommendations for further U.N. action, but merely gives an accounting of the war so far.

Those who have seen the report say MacArthur speaks with high praise of the world body's collective effort. There had been complaints here that the general whose men are fighting under the U.N.'s flag and white banner, previously had not stressed the combined effort strongly enough.

Bigger 'Bite' From Pay Envelope Due Soon, Snyder Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today said higher taxes probably will take a bigger bite out of wage earners' pay envelopes before the end of the year.

Snyder told a news conference he is "sure" President Truman will ask Congress this week to raise individual and corporation taxes. The move would meet Communist aggression in Korea and elsewhere.

Congressional approval would mean higher withholding taxes from employes' paychecks.

Snyder said Mr. Truman's proposal would be for an "interim" tax increase to go into effect as soon as possible.

The secretary said he is in accord with congressional leaders that no excess profits tax on corporations should be included in the interim bill because the measure should be passed quickly. He said excess profits tax proposals are so complicated they would require extended and delaying debates.

Snyder also endorsed proposals to hold excise (sales) taxes at their present levels, close "loopholes" to garner more taxes, and speed up payment of corporation income taxes.

Second Giant Rocket Slated To Roar Into Skies Saturday

LONG RANGE PROVING GROUND, Cocoa, Fla. — (AP) — Another giant two-stage rocket will be fired here Saturday in a second horizontal test flight of guided missiles.

The first such successful flight was made yesterday when a 14-ton German V-2 rocket with a 700-pound missile on its nose made a climbing turn miles over the Atlantic and landed in the V-2 reached to miles into the air, then curved downward and was expended by remote control. It fell into the sea 48 miles from the launching point. It rose to a height of 270 miles an hour.

The smaller missile, known as A-Wac, is being fired by a speed of perhaps 5,000 miles an hour. Its performance is a military secret.

Col. Harold R. Turner, safety officer and former commandant of the proving ground at White Sands, N. M., said the intended range of the Wac corporal was in excess of 175 miles.

The two rockets measured 60 feet high and rose in a burst of flame and the sound of a sharp thunderclap. Power was on the V-2 only a minute and it burned up its base of liquid oxygen and kerosene in that time.

Gyroscopic controls took charge as it tumbled upward and bent its path toward the open sea. It was 2,000 feet after only a minute and 20 seconds of flight.

Then the Wac corporal separated from the mother rocket and sped on at a rate described as "the sum of the two rockets," made officially, but private estimates ran as high as 3,000 miles an hour.

Official Cowboy Painter Is Dead

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — John MacArthur (Tex.) Moore, 84, one-time trail driver and Indian scout and the official cowboy artist of Texas, died here today.

Moore was well known for his vivid landscapes and his colorful past. He was a cowboy, Indian fighter, gold miner, stagecoach driver. He lost a fortune in the great blizzard of 1887 in Montana. He even ran a dude ranch once in Colorado. And over the years he painted hundreds of pictures that carried his signature to all sections of the United States.

By resolution, in 1925, the Texas Legislature made him the state official cowboy artist.

He had continued painting in his later years the great scenery of his former days — the wild lakes and mountains of Montana and Wyoming. But he always called Texas his home.

He had been ill for months.

Reds Claimed Filling Lines With Children

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA — (AP) — A South Korean army officer said today he North invaders were "draining practically all available manpower — including school children — to throw into the war."

"They are putting everyone they can into the army and they've about exhausted their manpower," said Col. Lee Sun Goun, former dean of the Seoul University Law School.

His report to a news conference was supported by Capt. Kenneth L. Cornell of Brewster, N. Y., American adviser to the Republic of Korea.

Lee said children as young as 3 years were summoned in Seoul and then impressed into "student volunteer corps" and used in combat zones.

Lee also said: "North Koreans are unaware they are fighting American troops. They believe the U. N. force is a guerrilla force . . . and they have only a week or two to fight and it will be all over."

The invaders force their soldiers literally "to fight for their god." Unless they advance they are denied rations.

Lee said the Korean Communist's morale is shaky but the fighting spirit of the South Korean is mounting.

Reports of Communist atrocities in Seoul have stiffened southern resistance. Lee said refugees report families of South Korean soldiers officials, army officers and political leaders are being rounded up and shot.

Brownsville had a sharp 23 percent monthly gain. Sherman had a 5 percent increase. All other stores reported decreases.

The June-to-June comparison ranged from Brownsville's 46 percent increase to Fort Arthur's 8 percent decrease. Increases also included Odessa, 30 percent; Lubbock, 20 percent; San Angelo, 20 percent; and Dallas, 14 percent.

Korea Red Soldiers Gripping About Pay

AN ADVANCED COMMAND POST IN KOREA — (AP) — South Korean troops yesterday captured two barefoot North Korean soldiers in filthy mustard colored uniforms. One captive is 19, the other 21. This is what the Reds said.

They were foraging for food. The North Korean army is living off the country — but not well. American air strikes have undercut northern morale — except for the Korean Labor party (Communist) members who still are riding a high emotional jag.

The soldiers' big gripe: the pay is 15 won monthly (almost one cent).

Wac Detachments Will Be Activated

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Two new Wac detachments soon will be activated in the Fourth Army area. Maj. Robin Elliott, Fourth Army Wac staff adviser, reported yesterday.

They will be located at Fort Hood, Texas, and Sandia Base, N. M.

More than 100 enlisted women will be assigned to Fort Hood as soon as officers are available for the detachment — possibly within a month or six weeks, Major Elliott said.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tough Hand Proves Expert Is an Expert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There are some hands that the average player can play every bit as well as the master, but today's hand is not of that type. The delicate handling given to it by John R. Crawford in a rubber bridge game recently will make it very clear why John is one of my favorite bridge partners.

North should have passed at three notrump. His partner's bidding showed a balanced hand, and North should have realized that his long spades would be just as good at notrump as at spades. Three notrump would have been a cinch, with six spades and three side aces.

When the hand was played, at four spades, West opened the dummy, and then a trump to dummy's ace, exhausting the trumps of the opponents. Next he led dummy's remaining heart. When East played low, Crawford finessed his nine of hearts, and West played the queen. Instead of ruffing in the dummy, Crawford discarded dummy's remaining club!

Now there was no way for West to give his partner the lead. When he led a second round of clubs, dummy could ruff. Crawford got back to his hand with a trump to ruff out his last club in the dummy. He was then in position to finesse the diamonds.

West won the first round of diamonds with the queen. If he then returned a diamond, it would ride up to South's ace-jack. If West returned anything else, dummy could ruff while South discarded the jack of diamonds. It is interesting to see that the contract would have been defeated if East had been able to gain the lead once in clubs. East would have returned a diamond, allowing his partner to win a diamond finesse. At this point, West could still get out safely with a club. He could then wait for his second diamond trick to come to him.

Like every true expert, Crawford does not depend on finesses when he can avoid doing so. His method was to lead the king of spades and then a trump to dummy's ace, exhausting the trumps of the opponents. Next he led dummy's remaining heart. Oilers Edge Clovis Pioneers, 8-7

The Clovis Pioneers were one game deeper in the West Texas-New Mexico League cellar today, and the Pampa Oilers were still in their circuit command—thanks to six Pioneer errors and some tight clutch pitching by George Payte.

Payte scattered 14 Clovis hits while his mates got only nine off lefty Tom Gallagher last night in Oiler Park, but a half-dozen Pioneer bobbles enabled the Oilers to capture the first of a three-game series, 8-7. The miscues, coupled with a three-run homer by Os Engel in the fourth, provided the scant victory margin.

Mack Hyde has been nominated to toe the mound for the Oilers tonight in the middle game of the home stand, opposing lefty Joe Borrego for the Pioneers.

The troublesome Pioneers were not alone, however, in their fumbling performance, with the Oilers coming in for their share of the blunders, erring four times. Three of the Pampa mistakes were committed in the final two frames as a desperate Clovis attempt fell short.

Gallagher, a young southpaw with plenty of stuff, possibly didn't deserve the fate he received last night, although neither did George Payte. Both twirled pitched creditable ball, but had their work dampened by the sloppy fielding. Payte worked himself out of several tight spots and once, after having men on second and third and none out, he struck out two men in a row and got a third to fly out.

The Pioneers got a temporary lead in the fourth on two hits, and two walks, Payte squeezing through with a minimum of tangles after seeing five of the six men faced during the inning reach base. Two were forced out, one at home plate, and another struck out.

But the Oilers retaliated and grabbed an advantage they never lost in the bottom of the same inning. Jeandron started it by singling, stealing second, and advancing to third on an overthrown by Clovis catcher Ray Kozub. Jeandron missed three strikes, but Richardson singled Jeandron home, and Don Ricketson walked. Os Engel then drove a Gallagher fast ball over the left field boards to give the Oilers a 4-1 lead.

The count was narrowed to 4-2 in the top of the seventh when Payte apparently began to weaken, relinquishing singles to Jess Jacinto, Ray Bauer, and Pete Trabucco, and walking George Mendoza. The combined efforts produced the three runs.

But the heat was on, and the Oilers again responded, thanks to the Clovis generosity. Three errors and a passed ball, mingled with a lone single by Joe Fortin, gave Pampa three more runs in the "home stretch" seventh inning. Dawson reached first on Bright's error and went to second on a passed ball. Wolf and Jeandron grounded out, but in the process, Dawson went to third and then pulled a scintillating pillar of home plate that bewildered the Clovis infield. He stole the run as Gallagher stretched to pitch sliding in to score as Fortin purposely swung at a low, outside offering. Joltin Joe cracked a single to left and Richardson and Ricketson took advantage of bobbles on the part of Bushong and Kozub to score two more. Fortin and Richardson talking, Ricketson was stranded or second when Engel fled out to right.

Consecutive Pioneer hits—two doubles by Kozub and Gallagher and singles by Jacinto and Bushong—and a walk to Ray Bauer before Payte could retire anyone in the eighth, once again brought the visitors to within only one run of the Oilers. The side was finally retired after three runs had scored and the register read, Pampa 7, Clovis 8.

The clincher was added after Jeandron dropped Payte's fly ball in the eighth with two men out. The Oiler hurler went to second on the two-base error and then scored a few seconds later on Dick Dawson's line drive single to center.

Gallagher made a heroic effort to salvage the game in the ninth with a double off the centerfield boards with two down. He scored when Jeandron made two consecutive errors on grounders by Jacinto and Bushong, but his final drive wasn't enough. Manager Bauer fled out to end the game.

Softball Loop Has High Scoring Tilts

The Kiwanis Sunday School Softball League broke away from their usual close ball games last night, as six high-scoring tilts featured action in all four divisions.

The First Christian Senior Boys had very little trouble disposing of the Calvary Baptists, 19-1. After both clubs had scored one run in the initial inning, the Christians broke loose for a terrific barrage in the remaining four innings. The contest was halted in the fifth. Smith was the winning pitcher, Roy King was the loser.

Jumping to a 9-0 lead in the first five innings, the McCullough Methodist Senior Boys coasted to a 13-2 triumph over the Nazarene Seniors. Jim Cook hit a home run to lead off the sixth inning for the winners, spicing a 12-hit attack off Nazarene hurler, Sam Bond. Hulsey was the winning pitcher.

In the Senior Girls league, Almada Forrest allowed only nine Calvary Baptist girls to reach base as she tossed her Central Baptist club to an 18-5 victory. A big seven-run fourth inning featured the sinners hard-hitting apes. Lorene Tice was charged with the loss.

In a relatively low scoring fracas, Dicky Mauldin stifled the Calvary Baptist Junior Boys as the First Christian Juniors took a well-played 9-3 verdict. Trailing 2-0, the winning Christians scored all nine of their runs in the fourth and fifth innings.

More high scoring by the Junior Girls occurred in two games last night when the First Baptist girls outslug the Central Baptist team, 26-22. The First Baptist team was trailing 15-7 before going on two ten-run spurges in the fifth and sixth innings to wrap up the game.

It took the First Methodist Junior Girls just four innings to run up a 25-9 score against the Calvary Baptist girls before the game was halted. An eleven-run second inning was the power frame for the Methodists.

The McCullough Methodist Junior Boys forfeited to the Nazarenes.

Clodfelter Pitches Hubbers to Victory For Fourteenth Win

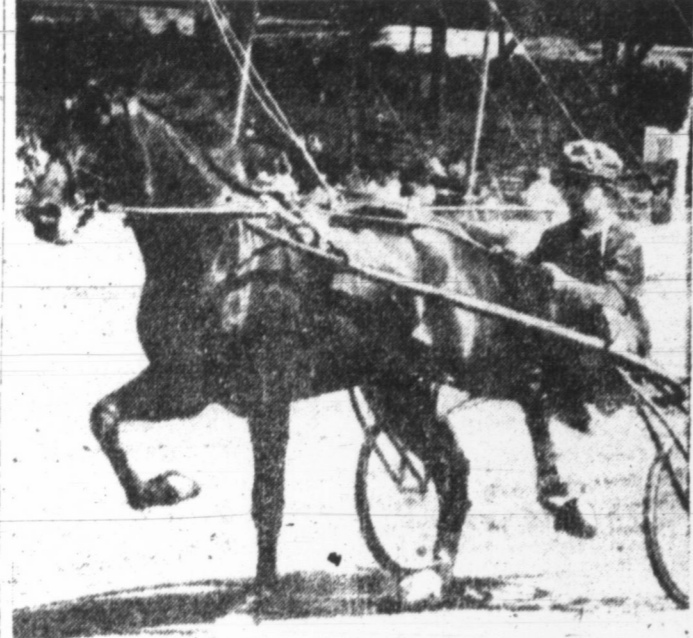

LUBBOCK (AP)—Bob Clodfelter hurled the Lubbock Hubbers to a 7-5 victory over the Albuquerque Dukes here last night in the opener of a three-game series.

Clodfelter scattered eight hits effectively to chalk up his 14th mound victory of the year. Fred Besana and Jordan Pitta were the only Dukes to get more than one hit. Cutti driving in two of the Dukes' runs.

Lubbock took advantage of the wildness of Albuquerque pitcher Fred Besana and Jordan Pitta to score a brace of runs in each of the first three innings. Besana, who gave up two singles, was removed in favor of Pitta after walking four men in succession in the second frame.

Pitta was somewhat erratic for a while, allowing the Hubbs two quick runs—one of them coming on Nelson Davis' 21st homer of the season.

But until the eighth frame, Besana and Pitta gave up a combined total of only three hits. In that stanza, Lubbock used two singles and Buddy Morrow's double for its final tally.

Cats Now Concerned With Roughnecks in Tight Race

By HAROLD VI RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Fort Worth's immediate concern in a hectic Texas League race is the roughnecks, not the brawling, slugging kind but Beaumont's ambitious, driving Roughnecks who have begun to breathe on the Cats' furry necks.

The Cats are losing and Beaumont isn't—and the demotement is going to take new leader unless the situation changes radically.

Last night Beaumont won its thirteenth game in the last fourteen starts to move within one-half of the league-leading Cats, who took another drubbing. It's the closest a rivalry club has been to Fort Worth in quite a spell.

Beaumont trimmed Tulsa 3-1 to sweep the four-game series. Other hits just right. The Roughnecks took two runs in the second inning to sew up the decision early.

Third-place San Antonio batted down Fort Worth again with a 5-3 decision. Fort Worth's Della limiting the Cats to four hits. Clarence Podbielniak hurled seven-hit ball for Fort Worth but was the victim of two unearned runs.

Oklahoma City took over untroubled fourth by trimming Shreveport 4-3 while Dallas fell into fifth by splitting a double-header with Houston.

Fred Marsh's two-run double in the ninth gave Oklahoma City its victory and a sweep of the three-game series. Witness of Andy Bush and Leroy McLean loaded the bases and set up the game-winning two-bagger.

Dallas and Houston wound up a series in which they played 47 innings to get in three games. Houston went 10 innings to win the first game 4-3 as Joe Pease fashioned a five-hitter. Dallas took the nightcap 3-1 with Walt Luntranconi giving up only seven hits and giving a shut-out going into the ninth.

Tonight the clubs change stands with San Antonio at Dallas, Houston at Fort Worth, Beaumont at Oklahoma City and Shreveport at Tulsa.

Gold Sox Win First From Abilene, 14-13 With 8-Run Splurge

By HAROLD VI RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

ABILENE (AP)—Amarillo's Gold Sox capitalized on pitching wildness, a couple of errors and two base hits to score eight times in the eighth inning and go on from there to defeat the hapless Abilene Blue Sox 14-13 in their series opener here last night.

Freddie Rodriguez and the Blue Sox pitched a 10-2 lead going into the eighth. A hit, an error and a walk loaded the bases for Amarillo with none out. Freddie walked the next two men to force in as many runs, then turned the job over to young pitcher Marshall. A second error at third base, another walk forced in two more runs, and a high fly to center brought in Jim Bynon with the tying run on the first out of the inning.

Another fly to deep right scored another. The tenth man up in the inning walked to load the bases again, and Jay Difani doubled to left, scoring 18th seventh and eighth runs of the inning.

Snead Misses Puff, Giving Ferrier Win

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Big Jim Ferrier today had the $2,600 prize money in the St. Paul open and the No. 2 money as a money winner among golf professionals thanks to a six-foot putt that Sam Snead missed.

Snead missed the putt on the 21st hole of the playoff, forced when the two of them finished Sunday's round of the 72-hole event tied up at 276-12 strokes under par.

They finished the scheduled 18-hole playoff yesterday, still even after Snead put up a stiff battle, and were forced into a "sudden death" affair. They remained even for two more holes.

Ferrier's $2,600 prize money boosted his winnings for the summer Professional Golf Association tour to $16,316.66 and pushed into the No. 2 money-winning spot behind Snead.

Snead's $1,900 second place money gave him a total of $25,111.34.

GOON PROBLEM
—EMPORIA, Kans.—(NEA)—When a six-foot eight-inch Ed Hitch replaced Clancy Brannum in the Kansas State line-up against Emporia State, Max Smiley, the Hornet's center fielder, made a few well-chosen words of advice for Dennis Shogren, who was to cover Hitch. Taking a glance at the six-inch height advantage of the towering Wilcat, Smiley howled: "Don't let him bluff you, Denny, jump up and pull his socks down."

Increase in Duck Killing Noted During Last Season

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff

Did you bag a duck last hunting season?

Well, most hunters did. They killed 18,500,000 ducks in the 1949-50 season, a million and a half more than the previous year.

Albert M. Day, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, says the liberalized hunting regulations accounted for the increase. He also noted there was decrease of about ten percent in the number of migrants, down to 1,647,000.

Day's office has just released some interesting statistics on the last hunting season.

The office checked 87,127 kills and 25,600 hunters contacted after the season closed.

The Service found:

- States in the Pacific flyway had 21 percent of the hunters and 12 percent of the kill in 1948. This flyway had 19 percent of the hunters and 27 percent of the kill.
- The central flyway states had 24 percent of the hunters and 18 percent of the kill, a reduction

Let's Talk Things Over With Gabby Garrison

Once again, talk of the annual West Texas-New Mexico League All-Star game has returned to the fore of Panhandle baseball conversation. Speculation has reached its usual peak, and numerous scribes and sports notables have busied themselves with the selection of potential All-Star line-ups. In our case, all nominations now are done merely by prognostication, since the official squads are yet to be named.

All too often, sports writers place their necks on the chopping block with such selections, but this year, I have decided to not be alone in my precarious situation. Some local fans have been practicing every home ball game for the past two or three seasons, and have followed the other road progress with the greatest interest. Some of these partisans are better qualified to choose an All-Star team than any writer, so, with some arm-twisting and other less painful methods of persuasion, I have talked several local followers into aiding my plight by choosing such star squads. These, of course, will have no official bearing in the actual naming of an official team, but should prove interesting in comparison with the real McCoy. The final tabulation, conducted among sports writers and managers of each league city, has not yet been made.

One of the more avid fans in the country, whether it be baseball, football, or any other such event, is Warren Hesse, my boss, and ex-Sports Editor of The News. Warren has seen probably more games than any other person in the circuit, except the players, since he broadcasts every home contest, and handles the away from home hits by wire. If he doesn't know the top talent, then no one does. There was only one thing hampering my asking him for his selections . . . if, by some odd chance, he should mis-calculate and get crossed up by the actual poll and mis-choose very badly my occupational position might be in danger. But, since I hardly believe that he will be very far wrong, with his extensive knowledge of the local and regional sports scene, I have persuaded him to name both All-Star teams.

So here, from a fellow who knows, are two All-Star teams:

Phils Drop Lead in Fluke Game

Pittsburgh Gets Win 2-1 Although Behind at End

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fuzzy cheeked Philadelphia Phillies may have cause to remember Monday, July 24, 1950, to their rocking-chair days.

It was on that day that the flashy Whiz Kids of Philadelphia lost a heart-breaking game—and perhaps a pennant win—to the victims of a one-in-a-thousand episode.

The box score of last night's Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game shows only the cold figures that the Pirates defeated the Phils, 2-1, in a six-inning game terminated by rain.

What it fails to show is that the Phils actually were leading the Bucs, 3-2, when the rains came down.

How come they lost? Because Pittsburgh, the home club, was deprived of a chance to bat in its half of the seventh inning. Under the league rules, the game reverts to the previous inning if the trailing home club does not get a chance to bat.

The Bucs, behind rookie Bill MacDonal, had a 2-1 lead when the Phils came up to bat in the top of the seventh. With two out and pitcher Bob Miller on base, Eddie Waitkus smashed a home run to put his team in front. Then came the showers. When at the end of an hour and 10 minutes the rain showed no signs of diminishing, the game was called, thus wiping out Waitkus' homer. Previously the game was halted for 34 minutes at the end of the second inning.

The defeat knocked the Phils out of first place. Although they are even in games won and lost, the Phils trail the St. Louis Cardinals by two percentage points. Brooklyn, in third place, is a game and a half behind. Boston's fourth place Braves trail by two games.

Judging by the tight pennant races in recent years, the Phils Pirates game could turn out to be the pivotal one in the National League. Stranger things have happened in baseball.

The triumph was MacDonal's first, four of which he has won over the Phils. Pittsburgh got off to an early lead when Bob Dillinger tripled to open the first inning. He scored on a long fly by Ralph Kiner. Another Pittsburgh run crossed the plate in the second when Wally Westlake singled, Danny Murtagh walked and Ray Mueller hit a single.

The Phils' lone official run came in the third when Richie Ashburn slammed his 11th triple of the season to score Mike Goliat. The defeat was Miller's second against eight victories.

Flam Trounces Schroeder in Court Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — It might be well for the Davis Cup committee to note that 21-year-old Herb Flam has come of tennis age and the 29-year-old Ted Schroeder may be over the hill.

Flam, a crew-cut wearing senior at UCLA and the National Intercollegiate champion, yesterday handed Schroeder one of the worst trimmings of his career in the finals of the national clay courts tourney. Flam also shared in the doubles championship.

In just 50 minutes, Flam virtually cut Schroeder's heralded game to ribbons, polishing off the nation's top amateur—as of late 1949, that is—in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Schroeder wasn't much of an improvement in yesterday's clay court doubles finals as he and Trabert faltered and lost to Flam and clowning Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 2-6, 4-6.

The women's phase of the tourney ended Sunday with Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., winning the singles crown and teaming with Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, to win the doubles.

Workhorse Duke Is Money Swimmer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (NEA) — A Money Swimmer is the way Michigan State swimming coach Charles McCaffree describes his ace free styler, Jim Duke.

The Erie, Pa., senior is the workhorse of the Spartans, swimming the anchor leg of the 300-yard medley and 400-yard free style relays, competing in the 100-yard free style.

Duke helped the Spartans set a Jensen Pool varsity free style record in a sizzling 3:8.7 in 1948, the year they captured the national crown. In dual meets with Purdue and Iowa, Duke helped set varsity and pool marks in the medley relay, the latter a 2:52.2 effort, which bids well for Michigan State's chances in the NCAA championships the end of March.

Revolutionary Softball May Finish Warring, Attract Fancy of Baseball

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Softball has been given a shot in the arm and some of these days baseball may even like it.

It all came about because the pitcher in softball had so much advantage over the batters that the players were quitting. At least, that's how it was in Texas.

Hugh Welch, president of the Texas Softball League, found a simple solution — he moved the pitcher back and created a smaller ball that reacted like a baseball.

He expects it to spread nationally and thinks it may bring the warring National Softball Congress and the Amateur Softball Association together.

Welch explains that as the game progressed the pitchers literally took over. No-hit games became so common many players dropped out. They never touched the ball at bat or fielded. Fifteen to twenty-inning games were not rare and 15 and above strike-outs not unusual.

Fearing the game would go stale, Welch had a ball made 11 inches in circumference instead of the conventional 12 for softball and nine for baseball. It also made more "rabbit" and was more durable. Exhibition games produced 11 strike-outs on both sides. Men who couldn't foul the ball delivered from 45 feet (1949 softball rules) were hit. The ball reacted more like a baseball — hard, straight flight, more line drives over the infield, more home runs. The ball was fielded and thrown better, was faster. With the bases back to 65 feet (instead of 60) runners had to hustle or be thrown out from the outfield.

The fastball was used in San Angelo's summer leagues and now some 50 cities are using it.

The NSC and ASA have been fighting for several years. One claims the other is a pro group, etc. Welch has offered the ball to both and thinks if it is adopted, the war will end. It would then be fastball instead of softball and a new game. Some fastball advocates will attend the winter meeting of the NSC. Welch thinks there is a chance fastball might catch the fancy of baseballers "who have so rabidly fought softball all these years."

The difference in size of the ball, its reaction like a baseball, the larger diamond, etc. brings the game nearer baseball, he argues.

Baseball Pledged to Help In International Problem

By TED SMITS
COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Commissioner A. B. Chandler today pledged baseball's full support to the armed services in the Korean crisis.

"Baseball in this emergency is prepared to offer to the president the services of all its players and workers," said Chandler.

"The needs of the country come first. Baseball has traditionally always given its loyal support in time of stress."

Chandler made this statement to the Associated Press. He said he intended to make it publicly at the dedication of the new $175,000 west wing of the baseball Hall of Fame. However, his train was delayed and he arrived too late for the ceremonies.

Instead, Ford Frick, president of the National League, acted in

Lobos Keep Pace on Selbo's Homer in Bottom of Eleventh

LAMESA (AP) — Glen Selbo's three-run homer in the last of the 11th inning last night gave the Lamesa Lobos a 5-3 triumph over Borger's Gassers.

Selbo's game-winning blow came with one out, after Borger had shoved across a run in the top of the 11th.

Ed Arthur went all the way on the mound for Lamesa to notch the victory.

The roundtripper, Selbo's 12th of the campaign, decided a pitching duel between Lamesa's Arthur and Len Ruyle and lefty Bob Cluley of the Gassers.

Arthur tossed a neat nine-inning shutout to put Borger behind in the 10th triumph, fanning 10 and walking 4.

Borger broke the scoring ice in the first frame on Nim Free's single, walks to Ernie Catione and Mickey Burnett, and Eddie Carnett's infield out.

The Lobos tied the score at 1-1 in the second with a run on booming doubles by Bill Ashley and Selbo.

Each club counted once in the fourth.

Borger's tally came on Ted Clawitter's 10th homer of the year. The Lobos retaliated with a marker when Ruyle threw wildy past first after fielding Billy Capps' bunt. Capps sped around to third, then scored after Ashley lofted a fly to left field.

In the top of the 11th, Carnett slammed a homer to put Borger out front by 3-2. It was his 19th circuit smash of the year.

In the home half of the 11th, manager Jodie Beeler opened with a walk. Bo Dempsey also drew a pass, then Selbo tagged one of Cluley's tosses and sent it over the center field wall.

IT'S ALMOST HERE THE HIGHLIGHT OF THE YEAR THE TOP O' TEXAS RODEO EDITION AUG. 8-12

Don't be surprised if Boo Ferris gets back into the big leagues. He's chucking great ball for Birmingham and tells friends his arm feels better than it has in three years. Wisconsin is claiming to be the "Flint" of pro football. It has four teams training there; California has three and no other state more than one. McMurry College's Wilford Moore, whose name has been mentioned in connection with football coaching vacancies at bigger schools, is claiming the alumni by building a house in Abilene. Maybe he'd better not move in before McMurry (pop. 650) plays Tulsa, Midwestern, West Texas A & M, and Mississippi (Split T) Faurot is taking his family to Yellowstone Park after he tutors a South Dakota grid clinic. Now if he could only sign up Old Faithful to play safety!

Reserve of Over 400 Plants Ready to Produce for Battle

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $7,600,000 "industrial reserve" of nearly 400 war plants and potential munitions factories stand ready to produce for all-out war on short notice.

The munitions board, manager of the reserve for the military establishment, has received a call for added armament capacity to support the fight against Communist aggression in Korea.

But officials said the reserve most "war baby" plants built for World War II — provides a nucleus for armament expansion which, in a case of war necessity, could ease any demands on civilian goods producers like the automobile industry.

Some of the plants already are in production; many are government-owned but inactive; a great number have been leased to private companies or sold, but with this string attached: they must be kept ready for a switch to war goods within 120 days.

By Sept. 1 the munitions board, in addition, will have ready-to-go military production schedules worked out with thousands of civilian companies for a prompt conversion, when and if necessary, for making 700 military items ranging from planes to mess-kits.

Hubert E. Howard, munitions board chairman, has estimated he could place orders for $16,400,000 worth of items at once under this program. The products would include about half the list of items procured for the last war.

These plans, under which a typewriter company might become a machine gun factory, are intended for total mobilization however — not for a limited program such as President Truman outlined in his $10,000,000,000 armament request to Congress on Wednesday.

For the job of retooling civilian plants, the National Security Resources Board has placed "phantom" orders for $900,000,000 worth of machine tools, cutting tools and gauges which would be needed for the conversion. Telegrams from Washington could change the phantom orders overnight into real ones.

Another backstop is the stockpile of strategic materials. On hand or on order, it is understood, are about half the $1,000,000,000 worth of materials which the munitions board believes would provide a safe margin of supply for war.

A clearer picture of the stockpile is due this week, when the board makes a regular request to Congress. A request for additional stockpiling funds of $605,000,000 in cash and $125,000,000 in authority to let contracts is pending. Mr. Truman has indicated a bigger program will be sought.

In some cases, probably a small minority, the stockpile is complete. Lead is one example; no more is being purchased. But the list is long, running through the alphabet from aluminum, antimony and asbestos to tin, tungsten and zinc.

In total, officials believe, the prospect is encouraging for a vast start on war production if a full-scale war breaks out. The board says the unification of the armed forces has helped to clear away confusion and competition among the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Most of the "private" plants which are capable of large war production have been "allocated" to one or the other of the military services. The Army, presumably, would have first call on a plant capable of making small arms. If the Navy wishes to use that plant, it would have to work through the Army; the company would not be bombarded with a series of conflicting high-priority orders such as caused many breaks and delays in production during the last war when the services quarreled over the output of favored producers.

The industrial plant reserve is really two groups of plants. They are:

First, the "departmental reserve," built at a cost of around $4,000,000,000, and owned and controlled by the military. This group includes nearly 280 Ordnance and explosives plants, arsenals, shell loading units and other facilities. Some, like the Detroit tank arsenal, are in production. Others have not been activated since the war but are in stand-by condition and could be activated quickly.

Second, the "national industrial reserve," consisting of 200 plants originally valued at $2,000,000,000. These war-built plants have been sold or leased to industry under contracts containing the so-called "national security clause." This requires the private operator to keep plant and machinery ready to conversion to war use within 120 days.

Father Teaches Son To Shoot Mother, Charges Declare

JONESBORO, Ark. — (AP) — A 72-year-old father was in jail here today because, said police, he taught his small son to shoot and then had the boy shoot his mother.

As a result, said State Police Sgt. Wyatt Patrick, Mrs. Jewel White, 42, of Hardy, was hospitalized with a bullet wound in her right lung.

The husband, the sergeant continued, would be charged with assault to kill even though the shot was fired by the couple's eight-year-old son, Billy, Saturday night.

Patrick quoted Mrs. White as giving him this account: After a quarrel with her aged husband, the letter handed Billy a .22 caliber rifle, led him out in the back yard and delivered a quick lesson in marksmanship. Afterwards, the boy and his father returned to the house where he told the boy: "If she don't do right, shoot her."

Mrs. White and her husband became involved in a fight, he swinging at her with a walking cane and she at him with a stick of wood.

In the midst of the battle, Mrs. White heard her husband order, "shoot her, son," and the boy

Rose Bowl Believed To Overlay Uranium

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — The Arroyo Seco, in which stands Pasadena's famous Rose Bowl, may be loaded with uranium, the stuff used in atom bombs.

You can drive up the big gulch with a Geiger counter and listen to incessant bombardment by beta and gamma rays, says research engineer Henry Kinslow. Kinslow disclosed yesterday that he, his wife and several friends filed mining claims on 1700 acres of Arroyo Seco land in February, 1949. They sent 28 pounds of ore to the Atomic Energy Commission for study.

The AEC replied that preliminary test indicated further examination was warranted. A final report was promised, but Kinslow says he hasn't heard since from the AEC.

"We believe there are sub-surface veins of good stuff here," he declared. However, the Rose Bowl is in no immediate danger. The richest ore is back up in the surrounding hills.

The Whites have been married 10 years. Mrs. White has four children by the earlier marriage.

Allow at least one acre of pasture for each cow. In some areas this might be more than necessary.

New Styles Disguise Figure Faults

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Swim suits which slenderize, supply light figure control and yet are in the fashion swim are a boon to any woman with figure problems. Such suits help to eliminate a reluctance to go near a beach.

One suit (left) is designed to make its wearer look pencil slim through use of a "V" panel which creates this illusion. Side boning provides the support to the center-shoulder bra in this deep sea blue satin lacesuit. For those who prefer not to wear a topless suit, there is an optional halter tie.

Another suit (right), whose purpose also is to conceal figure faults, is cut with a plunging neckline which will stay put and provide the necessary uplift at the same time. The sunburst shirring radiates from a slenderizing front panel. This suit is in emerald acetate. Failure lastex.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures
Many kids who have been unable to find summer jobs probably will want to get away at least for a week's vacation before summer comes to an end and school resumes.

If you are like most young people, you probably have toyed with the idea of going to Europe. Well, if you planned to work to pay your expenses, don't try it. There just aren't any jobs. Unless you have a rich aunt or can slow away in a friend's B-29 for the trip across, it would be better to skip the whole idea.

Four or five girls could go on an inexpensive vacation, if one of them could borrow a car and the rest of the girls share the cost of the gas. They would have to observe certain rules for their own safety, such as wisely selecting tourist cabins or hotels approved by recognized authorities, not driving after dark or picking up hitch-hikers.

A bicycle vacation is a wonderful idea and in a new book, "Bike Ways," by Godfrey Frankel (Sterling Publishing Co.), advice is given on planning trips, clothing and routes. The history of the American Youth Hostels is reviewed, bike camping is discussed as well as tours and routes, organizing bike clubs, etc.

If you are not an experienced bicyclist, it is best to stick close to civilization, advise this book. Don't go too deep into forests or mountainous territory unless you know what you are doing. If you decide to camp in state parks, you will have to get a permit, probably. You should make sure about this before you start out. If you wish to camp on property belonging either to a company or individual, you will have to get permission to do that also.

What you take along depends on the duration, distance, location and number of persons going on the trip. If you camp high in the mountains, you will need lots of blankets, a sleeping bag and warm clothes. If you camp near a lake, take along mosquito netting.

Standard equipment for camping listed by the book includes: sleeping bag (for cycling trip get one that weighs about six pounds), compass, canteen, first aid kit, flashlight (extra batteries), field glasses and camera (help make trip more enjoyable), maps (road and topographical), soap (face soap and yellow laundry soap for washing and poison by precautions), towels, bicycle tool kit and pump, knapsack and bicycle saddle bag.

Staple foods such as dehydrated soups, dried fruits, bacon, ham and other smoked meats that keep well, oatmeal, pancake flour, chocolate and coffee are light in weight and easy to prepare, making them ideal for bike camping.

Such foods as meats, fresh milk, fruits and vegetables should be purchased at the nearest store to the camp.

Banquet for IOOF, Rebekahs, Jr. IOOF, Theta Rho Girls

A banquet in IOOF Hall Thursday evening honored the new officers of the IOOF, Rebekahs, Theta Rho Girls and Junior IOOF Lodges.

The hall was decorated with pink and green garlands and long tables, forming the letter "N," held vases of flowers. Guest received as a favor a miniature picture of noble grand, Lola Nicholson, set in a small mirror with a pink ruffic frame.

The supper was served buffet style, with Roy King, junior grand chief ruler of Texas, acting as master of ceremonies.

About 100 persons attended the dinner.

Carmelita Hogan and Jan Dyer presented several tap dance numbers on the program. They were accompanied by Miss Ann Jordan at the piano.

Albert Nolan and his orchestra furnished music for the dance that followed.

It's a good idea to par-boil green peppers before stuffing them so as to cut down on the baking time.

Learn to keep bottles and cans cool in a stream or brook. Food should be placed in a sturdy bag and hung from the limb of a tree, away from insects, and from all hungry animals.

Good clothes should be left home — and so should shabby, torn clothes. Strike the happy medium of sturdy, comfortable and good looking clothes. You'll need long slacks for cycling through weeds to avoid scratches and infections from poisonous weeds. Two layers of woolen shirts are better than one extra-heavy shirt. T-shirts always are in order. Sweaters get snagged and aren't too practical. Moccasins and other light shoes can be worn for cycling and around the camp. But woolen socks and water-proof shoes are practical for hiking.

who also get tired, run-down because of deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in Their Systems.

Orris Lee Story is a very popular figure in Wichita fight circles. His gameness and hard punching ability have won him the accolades of sports writers and fight fans throughout Kansas. And it's most interesting indeed to hear this young boxer's comments about the great HADACOL everyone is talking about.

Here is Orris Lee Story's witnessed statement:

"Last year I was just another run-of-the-mill flyweight fighter. My coach couldn't put his finger on just what my trouble was. My best punch was a hard right cross, but try as I would it was falling inches short of my opponent.

"Also the last rounds of a fight usually found me completely washed out, my arms feeling like lead. Then last October I had a talk with an Arkansas fighter to whom I had dropped a decision. I told him I couldn't tag him with my right because of a painful stiffness across my shoulders that caused me to pull up short of my full reach. He said it was probably an aching due to neuritis and he recommended HADACOL. I tried it with a lot of doubt in my mind. But there is no doubt today. Today I hold a state boxing title. I exchanged that neuritis pain and 'all-gone' feeling for pep, stamina and a whole of a swat—thanks to HADACOL!"

Take HADACOL Everywhere

Orris Story continues, "If I leave town even for 24 hours I take part in a tournament, I pack my bottle of HADACOL along with my trunks, shoes, hand wraps and mouthpiece. I can't recommend HADACOL too strongly to athletes—or anyone else suffering from neuritis pains or that listless, tired feeling that prevents a person from

Grace Friend

HOW OFTEN IS SEMI-MONTHLY?
Dear Grace:
What is the difference in semi-monthly and every two weeks?
Fuddled?

Semi-monthly means only twice a month. Every two weeks could mean three meetings in some months.

Semi-monthly dates usually are set to fall on the first and third Wednesdays, for example, or the second and fourth Thursdays. Thus there are never more than 24 meetings in a year.

Meetings held every two weeks total 26 meetings a year, with three falling in the semi-monthly during the year.

Summer Wedding

Dear Miss Friend:
When planning a summer wedding is it necessary for the bridesmaids to wear hats?
I am going to be married this summer and I would like to skip them in planning my bridesmaids, could you advise me?
Will you please answer soon so I will know what to do about it. One of my friends thinks hats or headcoverings of some kind are correct.
Thank you for helping.
Mary.

A few churches expect women to wear some kind of headcovering whenever they are in the church. It can be pretty scant—a flower piece for example.

In other churches it doesn't matter at all. Check with your minister if you are not sure.

In home or garden weddings, do as you wish.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The father of a sixteen-year-old girl writes me that the popular attitude among most of the parents he knows is: "You have let a teen-ager have a situation of the sort which is a privilege the others in his crowd are permitted."

But letting a teen-ager do "what the crowd does"—if that means that a parent constantly has to make concessions he doesn't think are right—is just as easy way out of a situation that is important enough to be handled with foresight and cooperation among all the parents of a teen-ager crowd.

He was speaking of such matters as how many dates a week are allowed, how late a son or daughter can stay out, what places they can go to, etc.

"But," wrote this father, "there seems to be a catch to that way of handling the problem. That is that the most easy-going parents are the most lenient ones and the strictest ones consider sensible rules and regulations, then teen-agers are usually a lot calmer than their parents about hanging

Some friends of your family who live in a distant city have written to you: "We would like to have you for our sometime."

WRONG: Decide that you'll write them that you are coming for a week's visit on a certain date.

RIGHT: Realize that an invitation should be much more definite before it is wise to start making plans to descend on friends for a week's visit.

The reason custard cups are put in a pan of hot water during baking is to keep the temperature around them even.

If Mary's mother is the most lenient in the group, pretty soon all Mary's friends are using Mary to prove that "all the rest of the kids" can do such and such.

TELL HALF THE STORY

Teen-agers never report on what the stricter parents are allowing.

WRONG: Be little by little. The stricter parents have to give in to keep their children from being "different" from the rest of their crowd.

If parents of any group of teen-agers would get together and decide on a happy medium between what the most lenient ones and the strictest ones consider sensible rules and regulations, then the teen-agers could be more easily managed.

What's RIGHT?

A girl doesn't want a date with a young man who telephones to ask her for one.

WRONG: She is abrupt in her refusal, thinking that he might as well know she doesn't intend to date him.

RIGHT: She turns down the invitation graciously, rather than hurt his feelings.

An acquaintance comes to call on you and stays so long that you are beginning to get restless and bored with the visit.

WRONG: Don't try to cover up your feelings, hoping that the visitor will take the hint and leave.

RIGHT: Realize that you cannot no matter a guest in your home, no rude how bored you may be. So put yourself out to be pleasant and entertaining.

A young man is calling a girl for a date.

WRONG: He starts the conversation by saying: "What are you doing Saturday night?"

RIGHT: He asks her for a date without trying to find out first if she already has one.

You are a teen-ager and a friend of your mother's comes to call.

WRONG: Stay sprawled out in a chair in the living room when she enters.

RIGHT: Stand up to greet her and see that she is seated before sitting down again yourself.

You are with your husband and two small children when you meet an acquaintance that only you know.

WRONG: Introduce your husband but don't include the children in the introduction.

RIGHT: Always introduce your children to strangers so that they will feel part of the group and learn early to meet people easily.

Your child does some damage to a neighbor's house or yard while the neighbor is away from home.

WRONG: Decide that you'll ignore about the matter, if the neighbor doesn't.

RIGHT: Take the child with you to explain to the neighbor what happened and to offer to do what you can to make amends.

Bath Renews Sparkle of Jewelry

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If your white costume jewelry no longer adds a frosty sparkle to your summer pastels and dark sheers, you've probably run afoul of those twin culprits, soil and perspiration.

Necklaces and bracelets in this condition are due for a dunking — to restore them to their original freshness. Warm soapy water is effective both for removing dirt and for dissolving body oils and acids.

For a really thorough cleansing, a soft brush should be used, to work the suds around each individual bead. In this way the cord is cleaned as well, and perspiration rot is forestalled.

A thorough rinsing is next in order, to make certain that the jewelry will not be dimmed by soap film left as residue. Drying with a rough terry towel completes the job.

If you discover, in the course of this clean-up treatment, that the jewelry is becoming frayed and worn it's prudent to restring before the beads are lost through breakage. Dental floss is excellent for this purpose because of its strength and long lastingness.

Soil-dimmed white jewelry is restored to gleaming freshness by cleaning with sudsy brush.

New York Highly Vulnerable But 'Refugees' Stay There

By GEORGE CORNELL
 NEW YORK — (AP) — The time has come, it said, for you to do what you would do.

That is: get out of New York City.

New York is not home to a lot of people that live here, and the kinfolk back home these days are remembering old conversations that went something like this:

Big-city career kid — "You're absolutely right. Pop, New York City would be the first place they'd hit, if the world ever started throwing these 'a to m bombs' around."

Pop — "Seems to me it's not a very safe place to be."

Career kid — "Well, it's nothing to worry about now. But if things ever begin to get hot, I wouldn't stay there on a bet."

Now it looks to Pop as if things were beginning to get hot, and his letters were saying so, although sometimes in just a semi-serious manner:

"You know," he writes, "this small-town life has got some compensations. The Russians don't even know we're on the map."

The words stemmed from the fact that the atomic era had made the big, crowded cities the soft spots in the nation's defenses. As the biggest city, New York is the softest spot.

The giant metropolitan area contains about 14,000,000 people; the city itself, 8,000,000. Internal

But there haven't been any indications around here of any abrupt, mass departures — yet.

Joseph A. Sinclair, secretary of the New York Commerce and Industry Association, says he hasn't heard of any industry pulling out and heading for the back country.

"A lot of people say they're going to find a good hideout in the mountains," he said. "But I don't know of any that have done it."

Legion Seeks Imprisonment For Reds, Military Training

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Department commanders of the American Legion have adopted unanimously a resolution calling for imprisonment of any person who supports or sponsors subversive acts against the government.

The resolution was adopted at a conference summoned by National Commander George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind., who called on the legion's three million members to campaign for "immediate enactment of universal military training legislation."

Lewis K. Gough of Pasadena, Calif., head of the California department, presented the imprisonment resolution. When asked by Craig if it applied to the Communist element, Gough replied that was the target of the measure.

The resolution's text was: "Resolved, that any person who knowingly aids, abets or assists in any way practices implementation of a subversive policy of our government by violence or other means be subject to imprisonment as a criminal."

Announcement of a campaign for universal military training, broadcast over CBS, said: "Universal military training is the least expensive and most effective national security measure we can adopt. The cost of universal military training can never break us. Its adoption will make us invulnerable."

The legion commander called for reduction of all government expenditures not concerned with national security. He said the legion would set an example by dropping the present support of new pension and bonus laws.

"The American Legion as of now throws overboard for the duration of the present crisis its advocacy of any new veterans pension legislation," said Craig. "Also, for the duration we shall support no bonus bills."

Craig also said the legion would ask for no additional benefits or extensions under the G.I. bill of rights except to make the bill applicable to those now fighting in Korea.

State legion commanders adopted unanimously a resolution calling for congressional action to assure veterans of Korean fighting full benefits for themselves and dependents in event of injury or death in the fighting.

The legion's plan for universal military training is based on recommendations of President Truman's advisory commission on universal training.

It calls for registration of "every male residing in the United States" upon reaching 17 years of age. Registrants would be inducted for training when they reached the age of 18, or upon graduation from high school. Whichever occurs later, but in all cases before the age of 20. Training would be made up of four months in summer camps followed by eight months advanced training in optional courses.

Poll-Taking Easy; if You're Ready to Fight Mean Voters

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 Associated Press Staff

Poll takers have such a happy life it is a wonder the occupation is not more crowded. Poll taking is as easy as stealing candy from a strange baby while his 250-pound father stands guard.

We interviewed 100 Texans yesterday—citizens who had paid poll taxes but who did not vote in the Democratic primary election Saturday.

The results are all right here, a bit confused to be sure, but we will attempt to set them down in the accepted professional manner. Please excuse any errors in arithmetic.

The question was: "Why didn't you vote in the election Saturday?"

The answers:

Thirty five persons or 35 percent replied: "It is none of your blank business." (Note: the word "blank" is substituted here for other words used. The other words varied so the all-inclusive term "blank" is substituted as a convenience. This will not detract from the accuracy of the poll.)

Forty two persons or 42 percent replied with the expression "go peddle your papers," or a rough equivalent. In some cases we found the equivalent extremely rough.

Four persons (four percent) said: "what election?"

That takes care of a neat 90 percent of the replies to the question, "why didn't you vote in the election Saturday?"

Now for an analysis of the remaining 10 percent.

Three persons said they were "Republicans" and did not want to vote in a Democratic election. (Note: by this they meant they were members of a political party, called the "Republican" party.)

One person said: "I didn't vote because I was a candidate and didn't feel it would be honest to vote for myself." (Frankly, we are inclined to doubt this reply as the person was a young mother who had two infants in her arms (twins). Further, she said she was running for the office of "wolf trapper" and we found no such office on the ballot.)

Another said: "I can't read." (He was holding a newspaper at the time but may have been just looking at the pictures.)

Still another reply was: "the road was so muddy I couldn't

THE STORY: Just as John Sand, M. D., makes his first appearance in Wolf Point, Mont., there's a shooting at a saloon and a cowboy named Dusty kills a gambler. The cowboy takes Sand to a white-washed log cabin, which he says is the doctor's office. Sand, dressed in a doctor's coat, goes to a knock on the door. Dusty, dressed in a cowboy's outfit, comes to the door. "Don't shoot!" comes a voice and a small, slim woman in a yellow saddle slicker enters the cabin.

III
 DUSTY, the cowpuncher, closed the door and slid the wooden bar into place after the small woman entered. She walked over to the table and turned up the lamp wick.

Freckles sprinkled her short nose and cheeks. When she pulled off the man's hat she was wearing, her hair was the color of burnished copper. She shed the yellow slicker and she had on a gingham-checked dress. Her gray eyes were dark-shadowed as she stared at the cowpuncher's bandaged arm.

The woman and the cowpuncher stood facing each other. "Why?" Her voice was tense. "Why?" she asked again.

"He was cold-deckin' me." The woman's voice went back to its soft drawl. "That's reason enough, Kit." Before she could say anything else, he motioned with his ring toward Doc under the bunk. "You can come out now, Doc," he said, and then added to Kit: "We ain't alone."

John Sand felt foolish as he crawled out from under the bunk and brushed the dust off his clothing.

"This is Kit Carson, Doc," the woman was explaining. "She's named after the famous trapper. Then he turned to Kit. "Doc's just starting business here."

 ENROUTE TO KOREA — (AP)

The bucket seat still is the most torture rack devised since the Middle Ages and is being used again to punish those who avel to war by plane.

It seems that after all these years the American Air Force would have found some way to make a journey to war more comfortable. For the last mile, at least, there should be soft cushions and cocktails.

But no! The Air Force has the same old bucket seats left over from World War Two. Those bucket seats that gave a square bottom look to so many warriors in the last fracas.

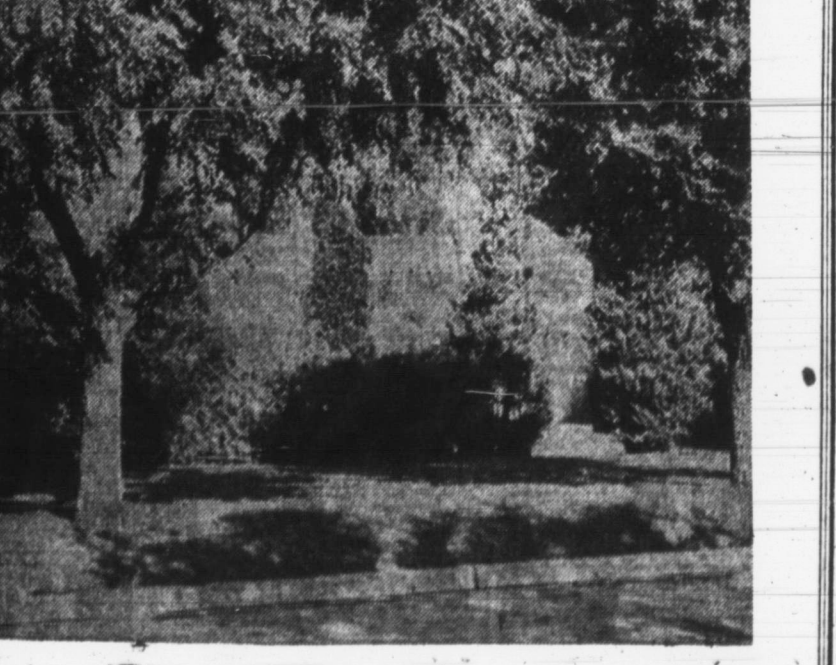

The luxuries end at Tokyo and the bucket seats begin — those squares of aluminum set against the side of the plane cabin to save space.

The unpleasant memory of the bucket seat had faded with the years since the last war. But I should have suspected what was coming when they strapped us into Mae West life jackets and

Barney Google Late Arriving in Pampa

Sorry readers, but Barney Google and his friends are late arriving this week. When they do get here you will be brought up to date on all of the happenings.

WEARS EGGS AS HAT

The male kurtus fish fastens the eggs laid by the female to a bony hook on its forehead, where they remain until hatched. This fish is found in the Pacific and Indian oceans.

Q: In what way are humps important to the camel?
A: They are used to store fat. After a camel is fed well for a long period, its hump or humps will be of full size. After a long journey across the desert, with little food, day by day, the hump becomes smaller, and at the end it may be hardly there at all.

If the animal eats well after such a trip, the hump will back to full size in a few weeks.

Q: What do airmen mean by "ceiling unlimited?"
A: Ceiling is the height above the ground at which a solid cloud layer occurs, cutting off view of the earth from any higher altitude. If you can see from the ground all the way up to clear blue sky, it is "ceiling unlimited."

Q: How old is the country of Korea?
A: Korea was an ancient kingdom with a history extending back to the 12th century B. C., long known as the "Hermit Kingdom."

Q: What is the weight of the Liberty Bell?
A: Its weight has been recorded at 2080 pounds.

Q: Why did the Methodists adopt this name?
A: The name Methodist was first applied to a religious club formed at Oxford University by John and Charles Wesley. The name was later adopted by John Wesley himself.

Pigs that farrowed early — in February — are usually preferred for home butchering.

AFL, CIO Chiefs Open Unity Talks; Merger Not Seen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — For the first time in more than three years, AFL and CIO leaders begin today a series of meetings to discuss the unification of labor. No merger of the big rival organizations is expected in the immediate future. But since their last unity talks in May 1947 they have steadily increased their cooperation in the international field, and to some extent in domestic matters. The new talks — in the opinion of men on both sides — could lead to a great increase in that cooperation. Today's session was expected to be "preliminary and exploratory." Other meetings were expected later. A nine-man union labor committee formed to consult from time to time with the National Security Resources Board on war mobilization plans also is due to meet today with NSRB Chairman W. Stuart Symington.

Money-Counting Causes Divorce

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — His income ran well into figures and he insisted on staying up nights setting it up on his adding machine. Mrs. Lotta M. Briggs testified yesterday that her husband, Walter M. Briggs, 42, wealthy operator of downtown parking lots, paid no attention to her when he stayed home, and "the noise from his adding machine kept me and the children awake most of the night." She won the divorce — and $1,000,000 in community property.

Troops in Korea Get 'Well Done'

TOKYO — (AP) — General MacArthur today passed on to United Nations troops in the Korean campaign the "well done" of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. The commendation was issued in the first communique from the U. N. command. The command was formally set up today with MacArthur as commander in chief.

Douglas Remodeling 100 Navy Transports

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (AP) — The U. S. Navy said today its contract to Douglas Aircraft Co. for the remodeling of 100 E4D transport planes was negotiated weeks before the war in Korea broke out. Under the contract awarded yesterday, Douglas will double the range of the service-warehouse ships, increase their load by 50 percent and step up their speed by 50 m.p.h. The E4D is the Navy's replacement for the C-47, the Army's workhorse transport in the last war.

Granting of Broad Powers To Truman Considered Near

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — If Congress gives the president the kind of power he asked for, and it probably will, then he can: 1. Control the amount of credit you get when you want to buy things on time, like autos, refrigerators, household appliances. 2. Control the amount of time you'll get for paying off those things you buy on time. 3. Even control real estate deals — like buying a home — by saying how big a down payment you must make. Except for control over real estate, the controls listed above would not be new. Congress gave the president the same kind of power in World War II and after. That wartime-and-after power was contained in a regulation laid down by the government, called "Regulation W." Its purpose was to control credit or buying on time. For example: under Regulation W, the government could compel people to pay up in full within 24 months or less on all kinds of credit, to make a one-third down payment on automobiles, to make a 10 percent down payment, at least, on all types of home appliances bought on time. The power of the government to set such regulations on credit buying ended in June, 1949, when Congress, instead of renewing the president's power to use Regulation W, let it die. So, in effect, he is asking Congress to give him back that power now. To speed up congressional action on this, a couple of top Democrats in Congress offered bills last week. This was after the president sent his message to Congress, explaining the crisis in Korea and the immediate need for — this country to re-arm. It's up to Congress to decide. The purpose behind all this can be simply stated: to make it tougher for people to buy things. And this is why: As the government buys up more stuff for defense — like steel for tanks — there's less left for civilian goods, for example: less steel for autos and refrigerators. But so long as people have a good amount of money in their pockets, as they have now, they'll scramble around to buy what they can. This means, of course, that they'll compete against one another for scarce, or relatively scarce, goods. The more they compete for the scarce stuff, the higher the prices go. Meaning: inflation. The worse the inflation, the more the damage to the whole economy and the less your dollar will buy. Some people with cash on hand, buy outright. Others, with less cash, buy on time. But — the less time you have for paying up in full and the larger the down payment you must make, the less apt you are to go out helter-skelter and buy anything you want. So this control on credit buying would be a brake on inflation. There'll be another brake. That's increased taxes. Congress hasn't reached the point of boosting taxes yet. It seems sure to do so. That will drain away a lot of money people might have spent for scarce goods. Taxes, though, would serve a double purpose: to help pay for military expenses and to help pay for inflation. Price control and rationing would be still another brake but, the president doesn't think it's necessary to put those controls in yet. As for the president's request to control real estate deals: The government where it helps out home-buyers now through insuring or guaranteeing a loan they get from banks — already had some controls over real estate deals, but only where government money is involved. But the bill now in Congress would give the government control over all kinds of real estate deals: private and governmental. For example: the government, if the bill becomes law, can say you must make a 30 or 40 percent down payment on a home before you can get a loan from a bank to cover the rest of the price.
