United States Quietly Urges Help in Korea

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States is quietly informing interested United Nations members that it would welcome participation by their ground forces in the fighting in Korea.

There is no expectation among top officials here, however, that the main burden of battle can or will be borne by other than American troops. Several reasons are advanced for this, the chief one being that the United States is the nation in the best possible position to do the job.

President Truman was asked at his news conference yesterday what he thought about ground forces from other countries joining the fight. He simply referred to a news conference statement which Secretary of State Acheson had made on Wednesday.

Acheson said the State Department was discussing the problem with the United Nations and the Army. Obviously, he added, any offer of troops would be most helpful.

The problem has been dramatized by demands in Congress for a greater effort by other United Nations members in the Korean war, and it is reported to have been a source of concern to top authorities in both the State and Defense Departments.

Meanwhile there have been reports that the government of Pakistan was considering offering troops to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the U. N. commander for Korea, and that some other governments, so far undisclosed, were also thinking about making offers.

The only foreign proposal to date came from the Chinese Nationalist regime in Formosa and (See UNITED STATES, Page 2)

British MD's Seek Pay Rise

SOUTHPORT, Eng. — (AP) — Britain's doctors threatened yesterday to quit working for the National Health Service unless the take-home pay of general practitioners is boosted.

Under the National Health Service all Britons are guaranteed free medical care.

A resolution approved by 400 delegates at the British Medical Association's annual meeting called for a general withdrawal from the government-run health scheme because of delays in negotiations to raise the pay of general practitioners.

The delegates represent most of Britain's 80,000 doctors, of whom about 19,000 work for the National Health Service.

Local medical committees are scheduled to confer in December to reach a final decision on the threat to leave a service.

One doctor complained at a meeting last month that some general practitioners cleared less than the equivalent of $2,800 a year after paying for an automobile, gasoline and telephone.

Explosion Kills One Leaves Others Hurt

SEATTLE — (AP) — A violent underground gas explosion killed at least one person, injured more than a dozen others and damaged several buildings in a south side business area today.

The blast occurred at 5:35 a. m. (5:38 CST) in the basement under the Seaport Tavern and the new Washington Cafe.

It ripped through the first floor of the three-story building, and one wall section fell into the street.

Windows were shattered in buildings several blocks away. Sixty feet of sidewalk was ripped out, and glass and debris littered the street.

The known victim was Neil J. Boles, 33, of Kent. Wash. His body was found lying in a second-story window of the Del Mar Hotel, across the street from the Seaport Tavern.

Fire department investigators said illuminating gas apparently exploded from an unexplained cause.

Several of the injured were asleep in their rooms in the Del Mar Hotel. Others walking on the street, were cut by flying glass.

Investigators said there could have been hundreds of causalities had the explosion occurred two hours later when streets were crowded.

The explosion started a fire in the Buttnick Manufacturing Company, work-clothing manufacturer, a fifth second and third stories of the building.

Firemen kept the blaze from spreading.

A 12-foot beam was hurled across the street and through the window of a drugstore.

City Business Issues Plea Against Property Tax Rise

The combined school and city business properties renting on a tax equalization board Thursday afternoon heard three local businessmen present a strong verbal appeal to leave property evaluations the same this year as they were last year.

A few minutes later the board learned through examination of invoices that a radio station isn't worth as much as they figured it to be.

Ivy Duncan, spearheading the three-man group, told the board he believed Pampa had seen the apex of its population during 1948-49 and that approximately 2,000 people had moved out of town during the past six months.

On this basis, he contended business couldn't increase.

Although Duncan did not ask for a decrease in valuations, he declared. Local businessmen wouldn't be able to stand a continual increase in valuations each year. As an illustration he pointed out the property where the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. is located.

The property, he said, has been raised from $4,750 to $8,000 during 1929-29 steadily until this year when the value has again been boosted to $23,800.

In all this time, he added, the net income from the property has been the same as it was in 1929.

Duncan also declared that local business properties renting on a tax equalization board Thursday afternoon heard three local businessmen present a strong verbal appeal to leave property evaluations the same this year as they were last year.

Leaders Believe Russia May Be Testing U.S. Will, Might

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Russia may be trying to lure the United States into so great a military effort in Korea that it could be helpless to challenge large-scale aggression elsewhere.

Illustrating this is a question posed for President Truman at a news conference yesterday and his cautious reply. He was asked, "Are we prepared to resist aggression everywhere in the world?"

His reply was that the situation would have to be met as it developed.

Atom Powered Sub Revealed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) announced today that construction work will be started at Arco, Idaho, next month on a land-based model for an atomic powered submarine engine.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Committee, predicted that a "tremendous improvement in submarine performance is in the offing."

The Arco project, or original Atom Powered Submarine Engine, is being carried out jointly by the AEC with the Argonne Atomic Laboratories in Chicago, and the Westinghouse Corp.

The AEC earlier had set a September target date for start of construction on the Arco engine which it estimated would cost at least $25,000,000. Arco is the site of the AEC's Reactor Atomic engine test station.

The other, higher powered, prototype is to be built at West Milton, N. Y. It is being developed by the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory of the General Electric Co.

McMahon said in a statement that both prototypes will produce steam which will be used in conventional steam turbines to drive submarine propellers. He added:

"With equal ease this steam could be used to drive electric generators for the generation of commercial power."

The statement disclosed that he members of the AEC and high ranking Navy officers will go to the New London, Conn., Submarine Base next Tuesday to discuss the progress being made on atomic power for submarines.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of Naval operations, told the House Armed Services Committee earlier this year that the Navy would be able to start a conventional submarine in 1950.

Contract Let On News Plant

Contract for construction of the new building to house The Pampa Daily News has been let, Publisher Ralph M. Juillard announced today.

M. B. Allen of Amarillo is the general contractor for the work. Mr. Juillard said.

Groundbreaking for the new structure will begin shortly, said the publisher, and construction will proceed rapidly.

The building contractor will employ the new tilt-up method in the building's construction. In this system, the concrete floor is poured first. Then the walls are added by being molded into a form lying in a horizontal position in the immediate area where they will later be raised into position without having to be moved.

This will be the first building of this kind to go into construction in Gray County, Mr. Juillard stated.

Contractor Allen has completed three of these tilt-up slab types in Amarillo.

Mead's Bakery, Reid's Shopping Center and a wholesale concern.

This type building, planned only for one-story heights, is at present popular in other parts of West Texas and the West Coast, said Mr. Juillard.

"All sub-contractors, where possible, have been let to Pampa contractors," The News publisher pointed out.

The new home of The Pampa Daily News, to be located on West Atchison at the dead end of Somerville, will be 89 feet by 143 feet.

Rogers Urges Full Mobilization; Hike In Wheat Backing

AMARILLO — Walter Rogers of Pampa, candidate for Congress, called for immediate action and all-out mobilization to meet the war crisis in Korea in an early morning radio address here today.

"If men are being drafted, our industries and resources should be immediately mobilized. We must get the necessary artillery and tanks and other supplies to our boys who should have never been sent there without being adequately prepared," Rogers declared.

Use of the "Sunday Punch" by the United States was advocated if necessary to prevent a long and costly war by the congressional candidate.

"Let Russia spend the next 20 years digging herself out rather than wage a long and costly war. The sooner we deliver that punch, the sooner we can have peace," Rogers stated.

Policy of the government in refusing to credit wheat farmers with summer fallow in the near future, he said.

Solve Traffic With Education, Says Wilkinson

Much of our local juvenile delinquency could be eliminated through teaching children proper training beginning at the age of ten. Lions Club members were told Thursday by Police Chief John Wilkinson.

There are, said Chief Wilkinson, two main approaches to the juvenile traffic violator: enforcement and education.

"Most of the young traffic offenders are not vicious persons," he continued, "but they just don't stop to think how fast they are moving."

Contrary to popular belief, the worst offenders come from the higher income homes, where they have newer, faster-moving automobiles available to the officer pointed out.

Police thefts among youngsters are another problem. Chief Wilkinson said. Up through June of this year, he revealed, 245 thefts have been committed here. Out of this number, he estimated a possible 50 percent were committed by minors.

Further business before the group included making J. C. Daniels an honorary Tenderfoot Scout for his recent aid to that organization.

It was announced that Chief Leo H. M. Loma and party will leave Friday for the Lions International Convention meeting in Chicago Sunday through Friday.

Reds Preparing Force For Kum River Drive

U. N. Head Appeals For Ground Forces

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie urgently appealed today to 82 U. N. members for ground forces and other assistance for the U. N. Korean war effort.

Acheson Lays 'Only' Grounds For Mediation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The State Department said today the minimum condition for a solution of the Korean crisis is for the Northern Communists to stop fighting and withdraw to their own territory.

A department spokesman also declared that the "proper form" for trying to settle the crisis is the United Nations; that this is no matter for direct negotiation between Moscow and Washington.

These basic points of American policy were brought out at a news conference while Secretary Acheson was still considering a personal message from Prime Minister Nehru of India on the Korean crisis.

The spokesman, press officer Lincoln White, said he presumed Acheson would send Nehru an answer but none has gone out yet.

There are indications that Nehru appealed to Acheson as he also reportedly appealed to Premier Stalin of Russia yesterday, for a peaceful settlement of the Korean crisis.

North Koreans 'Probe' Lines All Along River Battlefront

TOKYO — (AP) — Field dispatches early today reported intense artillery dueling across the Kum River and strong guerrilla raids behind the American lines, indicating that the big North Korean push to crack the river front might be at hand.

One small North Korean Red force, estimated at about 100 men, was credited by the field dispatches with having crossed to the south bank of the Kum late Friday on the American left (West) flank. This force was brought under American artillery fire.

General MacArthur's headquarters communique, issued at 3:10 a. m. (11:10 a. m., Friday, CST), said "unofficial reports that the Communist aggressors had achieved a bridgehead over the Kum River, were not confirmed."

It said, however, that the Red forces "probed" the American lines in a number of places along the river.

"This would indicate that if a few Reds had crossed, they had been wiped out or repulsed by the American gunners."

Associated Press correspondent Left Erickson reported from an advanced American position in South Korea at 12:25 a. m. Saturday (8:25 Friday CST) that the Reds had stepped up their night artillery bombardment and were using green-clad guerrillas in strength against American batteries on the Kum's south side.

He quoted a field headquarters spokesman as saying the Reds had managed to get about 100 men across the river west of Kongju. He minimized this threat at the moment, however.

Kongju is about 20 miles northwest of Taegon on the western flank of the American line. The enemy's action could mean an attempt to outflank American positions on the West.

The small band of North Koreans waded the low gravel-bottomed river.

Earlier General MacArthur's communique said the 34th Infantry Regiment was in position near Kongju.

Artillery fire from both sides of the Kum was active but a heavy American counter battery barrage silenced the Red guns in late afternoon.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker assumed command of ground forces in Korea and established advance headquarters in a South Korean city.

The previous advance headquarters of American forces will revert to a field headquarters near the front.

Military quarters indicated unofficially that Walker has at least one division of GIs in Korea and reinforcements are being sent.

Withdrawal of the South Korean government from Taejeon had been planned as the enemy drove southward from Seoul, Red-captured former capital of South Korea.

The Taejeon air trip no longer is usable for heavy planes, said pilots returning to Taegu. They said this was due to deterioration of the runway (presumably from weather and heavy traffic) rather than enemy action. The field had been used by C-54's and other supply craft.

Reserve Call Awaits Leaders

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A decision on whether to call the National Guard and armed forces reserves to active duty may be reached soon after the return to tomorrow of two members of the Joint Chiefs from the Far East.

An informed official said today the Defense Department is awaiting their return before deciding finally on whether to recommend those steps to the White House.

The department apparently has advised the White House that such action may be necessary, but has not forwarded a definite recommendation.

General J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and General Hoyt Vandenberg, the Air Force chief, are due in Washington tomorrow. They have been in Tokyo conferring with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on his needs.

With them they presumably will bring the latest picture of the Korean war, including whatever fresh requests MacArthur may have made.

While Collins and Vandenberg have been away, the strategy-making joint chiefs of staff have been operating with only two members, Gen. Omar Bradley, the chairman, and Admiral Forrest Sherman, the chief of Naval operations.

The question of calling at least some guard units and reservists to active duty becomes increasingly urgent as the Korean war begins to compel the United States to send over units from its mobile reserve at home.

One Army division and elements of other divisions already have been earmarked for assignment to the Far East in the near future.

The problem now is to replace the strength at home through tapping the civilian reserves.

Bill Ready to Drop Spending

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An economy plan calling for a flat 2 percent cut in all non-essential government spending was polished up for presentation in the Senate today.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said the proposal, sponsored by members of both parties, would chop some $600,000,000 off the $34,688,000,000 one-package appropriation bill now being debated by the lawmakers.

The big bill would finance the activities of most government agencies for the 12-month period which started July 1.

The economy amendment would order the heads of most of these agencies to spend no more than 99 percent of the funds allotted by the bill. Among the items exempted from the cut would be defense funds, atomic spending and certain fixed expenditures, such as the interest on the national debt.

President Truman originally asked Congress for $36,645,000 to finance overseas information activities for the 1951 fiscal year. The House whacked $3,645,000 from this total and the Senate Appropriations Committee cut it back another $1,300,000.

The big bill would finance the activities of most government agencies for the 12-month period which started July 1.

The economy amendment would order the heads of most of these agencies to spend no more than 99 percent of the funds allotted by the bill. Among the items exempted from the cut would be defense funds, atomic spending and certain fixed expenditures, such as the interest on the national debt.

President Truman originally asked Congress for $36,645,000 to finance overseas information activities for the 1951 fiscal year. The House whacked $3,645,000 from this total and the Senate Appropriations Committee cut it back another $1,300,000.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An economy plan calling for a flat 2 percent cut in all non-essential government spending was polished up for presentation in the Senate today.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) said the proposal, sponsored by members of both parties, would chop some $600,000,000 off the $34,688,000,000 one-package appropriation bill now being debated by the lawmakers.

reportedly has been discouraged by MacArthur on two grounds: (1) that the Nationalist troops are needed for the defense of Formosa against the Communists; and (2) that the use in Korea might bring the Chinese troops in on the side of the Communists.

Britain and France are the countries generally considered most able to take over a share of the fighting and to operate along with American forces. Both authorities here say both are already deeply committed to the anti-Communist fight in other sectors of Asia.

British forces are battling Communists in Malaya and have been for several years. They also are standing guard over the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong on the border of Communist China. France has the equivalent of about 10 divisions in action or on guard against the Communists in Indochina.

Britain and several other countries have already placed naval forces under MacArthur's command. France is expected to send a naval unit in the immediate future.

From a strictly military point of view, officials said, the transportation and supply difficulties involved in putting international forces in the field and maintaining them there are far greater than the difficulties involved in joint naval and air operations. Friendly foreign armies use weapons, tactics and in most cases languages different from those of the United States. In some instances they would probably have to be equipped and even partially trained in order to fight effectively in Korea.

An exception to this general problem would be the assignment of an entire division or corps by another government to MacArthur's command. A large unit, fighting in a sector of its own might not need close coordination with American forces and could employ fully its own weapons and tactics. It would require special transport and supply arrangements.

question that must be faced when an American effort is contemplated, the role of the Nationalist Government of the Republic of China is a problem. Does the "policy action" which Mr. Truman still uses to designate the Korean situation, contemplate pushing on northward past the 38th parallel which divides the peninsula into two halves, to allow a Korean-wide election?

As Mr. Truman said that decision will be made when it becomes necessary.

If an election proves to be for continuing on the national military expenditures must be made.

Therefore, from all these considerations, the present situation, the present position of the Nationalist Government, and the Nationalist Government's attitude toward the United States are factors that must be considered.

How much more military strength can they afford to commit to Korea?

Scouts Prepare For Excursion

Leaving for Canada early Sunday morning are 32 Boy Scouts from the Adobe Walls Council. Sixteen of these Explorers are from Pampa.

The Pampa boys will meet at the City Hall at 6 a. m. Sunday, leaving for Berger immediately, where they will join the other members of the council on a chartered bus, which will leave from Frank Phillips Junior College.

Their first destination is Elm, Minn. Enroute, they will go through Liberal, Wichita, Kan., Kansas City, Mo., Des Moines, Omaha, Minneapolis, Duluth and will follow the shore line of Lake Superior to Twin Harbors, Minn., and on north to Ely, Minn.

From Ely, the group will go to the canoe base on Moose Lake, arriving there early Wednesday afternoon. At the canoe base, camping and exploring equipment will be issued and the boys will receive their canoeing instructions.

Leaving Moose Lake in canoes, the boys will cross the Canadian border shortly afterwards, where they will purchase their fishing licenses. For 10 days the Explorers will be in Quebec National Forest, Canada. They will carry on their backs all their camping and exploring equipment. Under the direction of trained guides, the group will split into eight teams.

The boys will return to Berger on Aug. 2, going with them as leaders Jim Gump and Farris C. Oden and W. B. Weathered and from Berger, Howard Culp and Tom Cochran. The Canadian canoe base is operated by the Boy Scouts of America and each summer accommodates several hundred Explorers from all over the nation.

Derby Inspection Day Announced

Inspection day for the local Soap Box Derby will be on Wednesday, July 26. The inspection, under the guidance of the members of the Pampa Lions' Club, will be held in the Senior High School Gymnasium, starting at 1 p. m.

Inspection day for the cars belonging to entrants from Berger will be held on July 25, in Berger.

The 1950 Soap Box Derby will be run off on July 30, only two weeks away, so all entrants are urged to hasten the completion of their cars.

A display of the prizes to be awarded to the winners is in the Cuberson Chevrolet showroom windows.

Korean fighting and offered to mediate if asked by both sides to do so.

While a comment on reporters did not rule out some favorable reaction to Nehru from Acheson on the principle of striving for peaceful settlement, provided basic conditions are met by the Communists, the comments did appear to close the door on any mediation Nehru might have in mind in so far as the United States is concerned.

Meanwhile in Stockholm, Sweden, Premier Einar Gerhardsen of Norway last night called on the Soviet Union to help stop the Korean fighting and induce the North Korean forces to withdraw behind the 38th parallel.

Gerhardsen addressing an International Socialist Youth conference, ridiculed the Communist sponsored "Stockholm appeal" to ban the atom bomb. He urged the 20,000 attending the meeting to issue another sort of "Stockholm appeal" for peace, he added.

It should be sent to every single nation but first of all to the Soviet Union.

The Nehru note to Moscow came soon after some foreign diplomats there had expressed the opinion that Russia's refusal to permit settlement of the Korean war.

There was no information available here as to whether the note handed the State Department by Mmes. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, the Indian ambassador to the U. S., duplicated the one sent to Premier Stalin.

Neither State Department officials nor Madame Pandit would discuss contents of the note.

However, another Indian official said: "It's certainly about the present situation."

General MacArthur's command will have to attempt it without their First Division, which spearheaded the long drive of more than 150 miles from the border to the Kum.

General MacArthur's command, he said, the First Division described as North Korea's finest was so badly mauled by U. S. ground troops and air blows that it has been replaced in the line by the Sixth Division.

The communists still showed concern over the sweeping eastward movement of two Red divisions. They threaten to cut off the Kum and Tadjon from its supplies coming up from Pusan southeast coast.

It said the Reds still were driving toward Hanchong and Andong. These cities are 44 and 75 miles east of Tadjon and about 60 miles north of Pusan to the front. Hanchong is only 35 miles north of Kimchon, another important point.

A spokesman at advanced headquarters said, however, that the South Korean army had generally stabilized the eastern sector of the front. It apparently was based on information later than that in the communique.

Allied warplanes kept up their ceaseless hammering of invader ground forces back of the front Thursday. A Far East Air Force communique listed nine enemy tanks destroyed, 12 damaged, 45 trucks destroyed and 58 damaged.

The U. S. air communique said Thursday's mass B-29 strike hit Wonson, eastern seaport 50 miles north of the 38th parallel. Nearly

It is another example of what can happen under too much centralized government. Congress has been in session so long and so long as the congressmen and the people have forgotten the purpose laws were enacted even must be solved." Rogers said.

McMahon has authorized a draft call of 20,000 men. A draft call of this size is considered a definite possibility.

But the trouble is it takes time to train men and get the so-called "civilian components" which means the reserves and the National Guard trained in war.

If new divisions are to be created a year is required from the time the first recruits for a division come into service to the time when the division is trained to fight as a unit and equipped to do so.

For this reason, an early decision on the question of calling on federal reserve units of the National Guard is generally expected. Almost all guard divisions are organized into the components required for combat. They need only filling up with manpower from peacetime to wartime strength.

MURDER LIQUIDATED

THE STORY: Sent to arrest W. G. McGregor, head of a bank-...
Special investigator of the attorney...
General Keever, who expects to... run for governor. Corbett goes to... see Colonel Winton, insurance... liquidator, and Bado Sweeney, her...
counsel, a shy lawyer, in Winton's...
office.

COLONEL WINTON explained that Sammy Berend represented a large block of claims, $300,000 worth, to be exact, against McGregor's company.

Now, when a damage suit claim is filed in our state with the liquidator of an insurance company, a commission is appointed to investigate its merits. This is a formal, because the commission invariably accepts recommendations of the liquidator. I asked Winton if the commission had acted.

"Yes," answered Colonel Winton. "Mr. Berend's claims—I should say the claims of his clients were allowed in full!"

Sammy Berend had never in his life filed a damage suit for anything but its nuisance value. If Sammy sued for 10 grand, that meant he would take $500 in settlement. And he always sued for at least 10 grand. To allow his claims in full was preposterous. When I got my breath, I said:

"Well, at that rate, the claims against McGregor's company won't be paid off at more than 10 cents on the dollar, will they?"

Colonel Winton made a long face. "Young man, thanks to my efforts in collecting deficiency assessments from the policy holders, all claims will be paid off at the rate of 90 cents on the dollar!"

Again I was floored. Sammy's clients would collect $297,000 from the assets of McGregor's company. Rather, the clients would collect half of that, and Sammy would "Say, what's the idea? What are you doing?"

"I forgot, Sammy's to meet us at a spot down the street."
Her voice had become so loud that passers-by stared. I drowned out her voice as I started the motor and made it roar. I shot the car away from the curb. The redhead was eying me as if I were a maniac. I grinned as I gunned the convertible through traffic.

"Take it easy, sister. I'm the guy you tried to frame when you called Keever this morning, the guy who got four grand through the mail from the anonymous donor! Remember?"

SHE remembered. She paled slightly beneath her sun tan. She looked at me as if I were a member of the old Five Points Gang. But she didn't utter a peep. That suited me. I wanted her to think I was a very tough guy. I was an auto thief and a kidnaper—that ought to hold her!

"Where are you taking me?" Her voice sounded shaky.
"Where you're going to talk! Where you can explain why you phoned Keever and who put you up to it!"

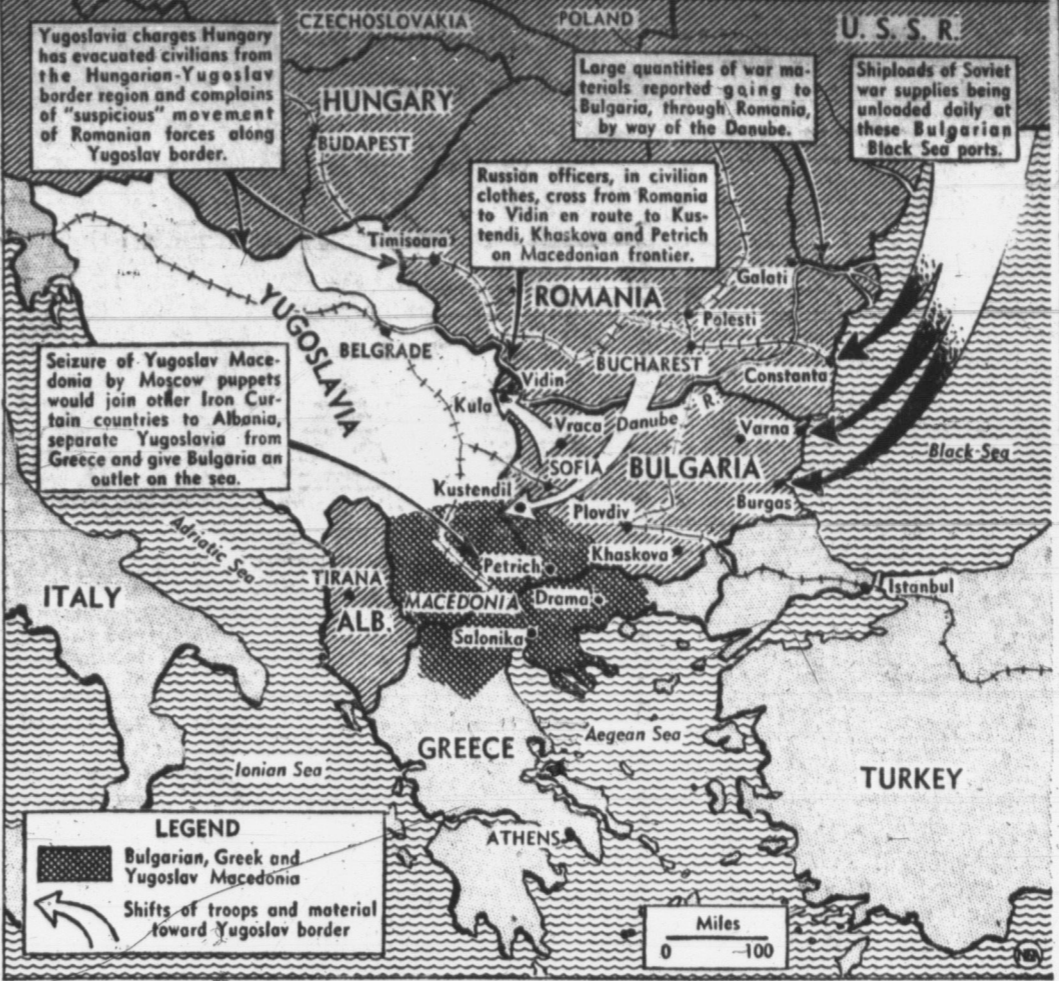

I reached my apartment house in about 10 minutes. Just for effect I got out the automatic from its shoulder holster.

She got out and made no sound. She was evidently too badly frightened to remember her handbag, and I caught it up and carried it. I would be interested in the identification that handbag would contain.

I let her into my apartment. Miss Croft, sitting demurely at her desk out front and listening to a soap opera, would not have approved. Keever would not have approved. The police would not have approved.

"Sit down and take it easy," I told her. I dumped the handbag on a stand. I won't add to the cracks already made about contents of ladies' handbags, but I found what I was looking for: An Ohio driver's license. The girl was Wendy Hillier, from Cleveland, and I knew enough about the town to know that she had a good address.

TITO—TARGET FOR TOMORROW?—Many western military men feel that the Korean invasion may be a diversion to involve the U. S. in Asia while Russia makes a major move in Europe. Moscow's No. 1 target is Yugoslavia's mutinous Marshal Josip Tito. Map shows current military moves in adjoining satellite nations that observers think may presage a Russian-planned invasion of Yugoslavia. Tito has some 250,000 troops at his command. Albania has 50,000; Bulgaria, 90,000; Romania, 200,000, and Hungary 70,000. In addition there are 90,000 Russian troops in Austria, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, giving Stalin a total of 450,000 men to throw at his arch-foe.

Freedom Is Given Last Man Involved In Old Rape Case

DETROIT — (AP) — The last of the nine Negro defendants in the Scottsboro (Ala.) rape case of two decades ago will be given his freedom.
The government decided to ask dismissal of a fugitive charge against Haywood Patterson, 38. A hearing on the charge was scheduled before U. S. District Judge Arthur F. Ledeple.
Assistant U. S. District Attorney James S. Solteaz said Alabama authorities told him they would drop proceedings against Patterson in view of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' refusal to allow extradition.
The FBI had picked up Patterson in view of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' refusal to allow extradition. Gov. Williams, in refusing extradition said "all of the others involved in the Scottsboro case were released from prison some years ago." He added "I can see no justifiable reason for returning Patterson to prison."
Patterson and eight other Negroes were arrested on a freight train at Paint Rock, Ala., in 1931 on charges of raping two white women. One woman later repudiated her story. The United States Supreme Court twice reversed the death sentence given Patterson and affirmed a 7½-year term.

AFL Union Officers Must Explain Action

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Sixteen officers of 12 Southern California AFL Carpenters' Union locals must show cause on July 24 why they should not be held in contempt of court as a result of a work stoppage by 30,000 carpenters.
The carpenters failed to report for work Monday in spite of a temporary restraining order against a strike. It had been granted on the grounds that they are bound by a master contract for six basic construction trades. The contempt citations were issued Tuesday.

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Jean A. Ricker, 3, daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Merton T. Ricker, Randolph Air Force Base, died from polio Wednesday at Brooke General Hospital.
The child was admitted to the hospital yesterday and her death was the eleventh from polio in the city this year.

Army Exam Limits Most of Enlistees

NEW YORK — (AP) — The relatively high intelligence now required of an Army recruit has eliminated 51 percent of those who have tried to enlist in this area since the outbreak of fighting in Korea.
Officials at Army and Air Force recruiting headquarters here say that in the period from July 3 to 10 only 49 percent of the 591 men given mental examinations were able to make a passing score of 90.
The average age group of the applicants was 19-20.
The current mental test was described as "difficult" by an Army public relations officer. He predicted it would become easier if the fighting gets tougher.

Sexology Films Cover Singapore

SINGAPORE — (AP) — The mysterious ways of the Singapore film censor yield strange fruit. The most recent was an orgy of sexology films in every major movie house in this British colony and all at the same time.
Storm center for several years over his sometimes unexpected decisions, Censor Jack Evans banned a series of sex films. The colony appeal board, which has final say in what films can be shown, overruled him as it has many times in the past. There was such attendant publicity, however, that all the big houses decided to cash in.
As a result, for a week it was impossible to see any film that wasn't carrying such advertisements as "Don't Keep the Facts of Life a Secret," "Sincere and Frank Attempt at Sex Education," and, of course, "Children under 14 not admitted."

Construction Hits Peak During June

AUSTIN — (AP) — June was the third $100,000,000 construction month in Texas history.
The Texas Contractor trade publication, reported that last month's total construction awards totaled $100,619,442. June and August of 1949 were the only two previous months ever to have gone into nine figures.
The total awards included $69,637,883 for non-residential work, $24,932,557 for residential jobs and $15,929,002 for engineering projects.
The residential work included $8,849,600 for small homes, off about one-half from May; $7,950,500 for larger homes, off several million dollars; $29,290,500 for eight federal-aided housing projects providing 1,061 one-family units; and $851,957 for duplexes.
Largest job of the month was the $30,000,000 Dow Chemical Co. plant improvements at Freeport.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Randall Park is going to throw a banquet for some of its race horses July 23 at a preview of the remodeled track.
The horses will eat at tables in front of the grand stand. The menu: carrots, apples, a lump of sugar, washed down with water. Randall's regular 44-day meeting opens July 28.

Israelis Accuse Arabs of Looting

BEERSHEBA, Israel — (AP) — Arab infiltrators from the Egyptian-held Gaza strip are continuing to cross into Israeli territory despite a strengthening of frontier forces. In a single week-end, Israeli patrols captured 68 Arabs in a series of clashes between here and the Gaza strip. Two Arabs were wounded. One donkey was killed.
Israel authorities claim most of the Arabs seek to enter Israel for "murder and looting." Many Jewish farms are raided almost nightly. Marauders make off with cattle and farm supplies and kill or wound Jewish defenders. Arabs also often try to run convoys from Gaza through Israel to Jordan territory.

Boys See Salt Lake City First Hand, as Izzy Rebels at Receiving a Good Bath

(Editor's Note) Another in a series of articles about two boys and their 1930 Model A and their vacation trip to Yellowstone Park.)

By KENNETH WILLIAMS and ROBERT DIXON

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah — After our last story we drove up town to see this city of over 425,000 people. The first thing we noticed were the wide streets which are really wide! They measure 132 feet in width. That allows for six lanes of traffic. The two outside lanes are wide enough to accommodate a parked diagonally and allow enough room for a car to pass on. The other four lanes were regular size. These wide streets give the city an appearance of being smaller than it really is. They also are a dream for a small town boy in the big city. These streets were first laid out by Brigham Young when he brought the first settlers here.

Another nice thing about this town are the pedestrian lanes. In the middle of every block is a place about six feet wide going from one side of the block to the other for pedestrians and when a pedestrian is walking across THE TRAFFIC HAS to stop. This beats joy walking. The first stop for us was Temple Square. The Square is the main spot in the city for tourists to hear the daily organ recital in the Tabernacle. On this particular day Dr. Frank Asper was the man at the keyboard. We got there just a little before 12 noon and were in time to hear the daily organ recital in the Tabernacle. On this particular day Dr. Frank Asper was the man at the keyboard. Dr. Asper is a nationally known organist, appearing as organist with the Mormon choir at the weekly nationwide radio program on Sundays over the Columbia Broadcasting System. Dr. Asper is good too. The songs that he played were magnificent. After the recital we joined a tour that was taking in the Square. Conducting the tour was Mr. Wayne Richards, of the local television station Mr. Richards said that different men of the city come to the Square every day to conduct these tours. This fact was appreciated by us after the tour was over because we knew a heck of a lot more about the Square and Mormonism after we went on this tour due to Mr. Richards' informal manner of telling of the history of the Latter Day Saints Church and when a pedestrian is walking across THE TRAFFIC HAS to stop. This beats joy walking. The first stop for us was Temple Square. The Square is the Even before thinking about building their homes they planned on building a temple. The Temple was begun in 1852 and finished 40 years later. As we looked at it it looked like a mighty fine job of building. No one except Mormons are allowed in the Temple. The next spot on the tour was the famous Seagull monument. This monument was erected to show the gratitude of the early settlers of Utah to the seagulls for saving their crops during a severe drought. It seems the crops were just coming up when a great cloud of crickets settled on the fields and began devouring the young plants. After it seemed like there was no hope for the crops, the seagulls came from the Salt Lake and ate the crickets. By the way, after this fine bit of work by this winged creature it was made, in later years, the state bird of Utah.

From the monument we went to the Stake House. This looked like a church, but it is used as a meeting place for an organization of the Mormon church called Stake. While we were standing there at the station we got to talking to a young guy who seemed to be hearing awfully big. After we had talked to him a while we learned he had just been married a few days. His name was Vincent J. DiCorti. His wife was Vincent's mother-in-law. She was Mrs. Goldie Bowling and her husband is in the hood business at Spearman. Mr. and Mrs. DiCorti reside at 5628 California Street, San Francisco, Calif. After we got Izzy out of the wash room it started sprinkling but our knowing that it never rains in Salt Lake we KNEW it would stop as soon as it started. Izzy were we fooled! It hasn't stopped raining yet at the time of this writing. From the station we parked Izzy down town. When we got back, soaking wet, we found a note on the dash. It said "Hello Pampa. See you back in God's country." It wasn't signed so if anybody ever hears of who did it we sure would like to know so we can thank them. Also parked next to Izzy was a car with the license plate Texas AL 8065. It also had a Shamrock Fire Department tag on its license. This is someone else we would like to know as we left a note on their dash. Although it's raining like cats and dogs we plan to head for Bryce Canyon National Park so weren't very mad. We kept

An Ill Wind Blows New Life Into Slowing United Nations

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, AF Foreign Affairs Analyst

It's too bad that it has taken another war to put the United Nations on its feet, but it's a grand thing that the peace organization had the courage to stand up to its obligations when the crisis came. The forthright and fearless manner in which the U.N. has met Moscow-sponsored Northern Korea's aggression against her sister state likely saved the organization from the fate of the League of Nations. The league, which started out with such great hope and promise, died because it lacked the nerve to deal with similar cases of aggression.

And it did take two-fisted courage for the Security Council to pursue its rightful course in the face of fierce opposition from the powerful Communist bloc headed by Russia. Failure to stand squarely up to the Korean issue would have been a wide open invitation to more aggression. But, says somebody, this action has further emphasized the division of the peace organization into two blocks — the Reds and the Democrats. The Russian bloc might withdraw from the U.N. altogether. Well, that certainly is a contingency which must be faced. Should it happen the Democrats probably would label it as "regrettable" — but a lot of 'em would smile when they said it and they would carry on. You will recall that last April 27 former President Herbert Hoover made a speech in New York calling for the scrapping of the U.N. organization and the setting up of a new one with the Communist countries shut out. He declared the need was great for a dynamic "new-union front" against "creeping Red imperialism."

This proposal by Mr. Hoover has come to be known as "Hooverizing the U.N." Should the Soviet bloc now walk out in anger, it would achieve the same result. Whether Moscow will pursue such a drastic course is a matter of much speculation. There are indications now that the Russians may refuse to sit in the U.N. Assembly when it meets on September 19. This abstention would be due to the presence of Nationalist China who, the Soviet claims, no longer has a right to membership, which should go to the Chinese Communist government. However, the ways of the Kremlin are inscrutable. We'd better not jump to conclusions. In any event, close observers hold that even if Russia continues in the United Nations the Reds will pursue their program of studied obstruction. There isn't

Gulf Group to Hear Data On Discoveries

MOBILE, Ala. — (AP) — Representatives of Texas and other states on the Gulf of Mexico meet July 20-21 to hear reports on new fishery discoveries in the teeming waters.

The occasion will be a meeting of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission. A U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service vessel has made extended explorations since the last commission meeting. Another large boat, the Alaska, is being converted into a floating laboratory and will join the Oregon, presently on duty, later this year. The Oregon found a small-sized tuna on extended trips into the East and West Gulf, mostly following the continental shelf.

Duchess Is Excluded From Ex's Estate

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The first husband of the Duchess of Windsor, Earl Winfield, Jr., left his entire estate to his widow, Lillian.
Filed for probate this week his will made no mention of the former Wallis Warfield, whom he married in 1927. They were divorced in 1927.
Spencer, who died at age 61 in Coronado, Calif., May 29, left an estate worth "in excess of $25,000," his attorney said.

General Expects Victory in Korea

REDLANDS, Calif. — (AP) — Brig. Gen. William L. Roberts, former commanding general of the U.S. Army Forces in Korea, predicts that the United Nations forces will chase North Korean aggressors back over the 38th Parallel.
Gen. Roberts — who was ordered home for retirement a week before the North Korean invasion — has said that he thinks rice paddies and U.S. Air Power will slow up the invaders soon.

Mexican Cotton Believed Diverting Harvest Workers

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Government sources estimated 20,000 Mexican harvest workers have been diverted to the Matamoros cotton zone opposite Brownsville by frontier control measures.
These are men who would ordinarily smuggle themselves into the U.S.
For the cotton harvest, a bumper crop in the Matamoros area increased the need for pickers this year — growers said they would need about 30,000. The Growers arranged for Mexican Army patrols along the Rio Grande to halt the flow of illegal emigrants and the men have been going to Matamoros instead.
The newspaper Novedades said today it had learned "from sources close to the foreign ministry" that illegal workers who remained in the U.S. for more than six months were liable to drafting into the U.S. Army. It said that after six months Mexicans without work contracts were considered residents of the U.S. and therefore subject to conscription. The paper added the foreign office was investigating the situation.

WENDY HILLYER, the driver's license said, was 24, five feet five, 114 pounds. Her eyes were green and the data understated that her hair was red. The space reserved for occupation was blank. Confirming her identity were $450 worth of travelers' checks.
"What are you doing so far from Cleveland, Miss Hillyer?"
The green eyes stared at me in sullen resentment. This baby was going to be hard to handle.
"Did you ever think of offering a lady a drink?"
"O. K. Name it—maybe I've got it."

containing a car and walked to it. I headed for McGregor's place. My car is equipped with a short-wave radio, and I turned it on. It was just possible that my failure to show out at McGregor's and arrest the old man would irritate Kever enough that he would put out a pick-up for me.
There was a pick-up for me, all right, but it wasn't the kind I'd thought. It was a pick-up for murder. McGregor was dead, and I gathered from the headquarters syntax that I was wanted for the job.

roll, for Kever had announced my suspension.
I could hardly blame him. Shelton had had to level, and the story of the four grand was enough to cook my goose. But when the four grand added up to the murder of poor old McGregor, Kever had a plain right to lose his temper.

"The juke box at the Wee Spot kept running full blast, for I kept feeding nickels into it. The proprietor and his wife weren't liking it, for they wanted to listen to the radio on the bar. I didn't want them to listen to it, and that's why I kept playing all the loud pieces on the juke box.
I was also eating sandwiches that tasted like paper sacks and drinking beer that was giving me a slightly groggy feeling. But it was the only way that I could keep on using this back-road beer joint as a hideout without stirring up the suspicion of the proprietor and his wife.
Maybe they were suspicious anyway, but a customer is a customer and business is business.
While I'd been driving down the back alleys and country lanes trying to avoid the patrol cars I had picked up some more stuff about The State vs. Ben Corbett. I was in a jam this time, and it looked as if only the passing of a miracle would get me out of it.
The whole story about the four $1000 bills was on the regular wave bands by now, with spot newscasts keeping the public alive down. That's why I phoned him, telling him to meet me here at the Wee Spot.
(To Be Continued)

I wondered if Shelton really thought that. He had been mentioned on the radio because of his statement that McGregor had threatened me with exposure. He had been described as "a friend of the fugitive." I thought that explained to Kever why I would pull anything so crude as sneaking in and killing McGregor while Shelton was a witness to McGregor's threat. Kever would think I had come on Shelton's friendship to keep him silent about that threat.
Well, I wouldn't have been that stupid. Shelton is a clean-cut kid that, no matter how much he would hate putting me in a crack, I still did count on Shelton to come through with all the chips down. That's why I phoned him, telling him to meet me here at the Wee Spot.

Shirley May Takes Practice Workout
DOVER, Eng. — (AP) — Shirley May France slipped into the English Channel today for her first big workout of the season. The 17-year-old Somerset

Mass. High School girl had fine weather and a calm sea for her 18-mile training swim. She is here to train for another try at swimming the Channel from France to England — 19 miles as the crow flies — sometime next month.
She tried and failed last September.
"Today's will be quite a good swim, considering she hasn't had much training," her coach, Harry Boudakian, said before Shirley, lightly greased, plunged into the sea from a rowboat about four miles off the Dover cliffs.
Boudakian manned a rowboat while Capt. John Burwell, Dover pilot and Channel swim expert, and Shirley's manager, Ted Werner, chugged along in a motorboat.
Shirley planned to leave the water at Ramsgate, a resort town down the coast, after swimming part of the time with the tide and part against it.
She will not eat enroute.

Gassers Big First Inning Too Much For Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — The Borger Gassers took a three-run lead in the first inning and went on to take an 8-6 West Texas-New Mexico League victory over Albuquerque's Dukes last night.

Ed Carnett, third baseman, hit a home run in the seventh to quell a Duke rally, was the winning pitcher.

Bert Perry, Borger shortstop, led the visitors' attack with four hits, followed by Pappy Williams and Leonard with three safeties each.

The Gassers pounded two Duke pitchers for 17 hits before an Albuquerque night crowd of 2257 people.

Singles by Burnett, Perry and Williams plus Leonard's double and an error were good for four hits and three runs in the first inning for Borger.

The Gassers added two hits each in the second and third innings.

A pair of singles and Pappy Williams' double accounted for two more scores for Borger in the fourth. Perry's single and Williams' double sparked the last Borger rally in the eighth inning, when one run crossed the plate.

The Dukes started their scoring in the fourth inning with four runs on singles by Folkman and Harrison, doubles by Cullite and Martin and two walks. Ott Cotton Pippin, first baseman, hit a home run in the fourth to put out the fire in the fourth for Borger.

In the seventh the Dukes threatened again. Folkman's single, Palmer's triple and two costly errors gave Albuquerque its final two runs and brought in Ed Carnett from left field to take the mound for Borger.

Carnett quenched the rally with the potential tying run on base and held the Dukes to a goose egg the rest of the way.

The game, nearly three hours long, was delayed for about 45 minutes by special Albuquerque Night ceremonies at the beginning of the evening.

Gold Sox Win Doubleheader

TOLEDO, O. — (AP) — Two of gold's most popular and colorful characters were far out in front today as the $15,000 Inverness four-ball matches wheeled into the second of seven match play rounds.

Pacing the "sweet 16" professionals were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the drawing Arkansas traveler from Little Rock, and his pudgy partner, Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle, Wash.

They roared into a three-point lead with a best ball 63 over the field in yesterday's opening round by winning four up over former National Open champions Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Orem on Beach, Fla.

Three points back were the Clayton Heatter-Johnny Palmer and Chick Herbert-Bob Hamilton combinations. Heatter and Palmer, both from North Carolina, were victorious over Henry Ransom and Skip Alexander — the losers skidding over par on two of the last three holes. Herbert and Hamilton, the 1949 victors, were one-up winners over Texans Jr. Jimmy missing an 18-inch putt on the tenth hole to give the ex-champs their margin.

In the other match Sam Sneed and Jim Ferrier, a pair of former PGA champions, had a tough time finishing even with Freddie Haas and Fred Hawkins, each duo sniping six strokes off par for the number of holes it finishes "up," and the loser gets a 6558-yard layout.

Under the unique scoring system a team gets a plus-equal-to responding minus.

Dan Holland is back with us this week with some tips on stream fishing. The ability to read a stream to determine by its surface the likely position of the fish beneath, is a most important asset. Locating the fish is the first step; catching them is the last. Holland says these few simple rules will help you.

First, keep in mind that it is the current which brings stream fish food. It does the work, and the feeding fish is relatively stationary. Second, although the current is the food-bearer, no fish has the endurance to beat his head against a strong flow continuously.

So look for stream fish alongside the tongues of current that empty into a pool, in the heavy backwaters below shore projections, in the pockets behind rocks, in the holes under cutbanks, in slicks anywhere amid the broken water.

Of course the location a fish assumes in a stream varies some with the species. Trout will be found nearer the head of a current and deeper into its side. This is especially true of smaller trout. Stream smallmouths live much as do trout, although they are more inclined to stick to the pockets and holes alongside the current.

Pickering and pike usually lie on the weeds on a mud flat, if there are any such, but along with muskies they are often found in backwaters and deep holes beside the main current. These are fish of prey and they generally lie deeper than insect feeders, taking advantage of cover from which to ambush smaller fish. Walleyes in a stream are found only in deep pools and usually in the deeper parts of such pools. It's quite a trick to get a fly down to them.

One other rule in stream fishing: no matter what the species, fish living in a stream are far more inclined to be shy than those in a large body of water. In confined waters a fish senses that he is obvious prey. One shadow, one false move, can put an end to fishing.

Migratory fish—steelhead and salmon—are the exceptions to the rule. Neither food nor survival, the governing forces of other fish, are of immediate concern to them. Impelled by the urge to reach the river's headwaters, they stick to the main

Junior Golfers Go Into Semifinal Matches Today

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Medalist Billy Maxwell of Odessa plays Frank Wear, Jr., of Paris today in the semifinals of the State Junior Golf Tournament here.

In the other bracket Wesley Ellis, Jr., of San Antonio meets Ely Stobaugh of New Braunfels. The winners play 36 holes Saturday for the title.

Yesterday Maxwell trimmed Sammy Reynolds of Wichita Falls 4 and 3. He matched par in a 3 and 2 win over Floyd Addington of Dallas.

Stobaugh won 2-up over J. C. Gosioo of San Antonio and 1 over Ray Moore of Beaumont.

July 4 Standings Mean Little in Present Day Ball

By WILBUR MARTIN

Associated Press Staff

Once a team leading a baseball league on July 4 was the team most likely to win the pennant. But that was back when the 3-2 score was commonplace, not an oddity as now.

Of Texas' seven professional baseball leagues, there's only a couple that you could be safe in figuring that the July 4 leader would end up with the pennant — regular season that is, not the championship as determined by the Shaughnessy playoff.

Fort Worth should finish first in the Texas League, senior circuit in Texas. The Cats held a seven and one-half game lead over Tulsa after games of July 4. And they have to stuff to keep — and increase — this margin.

Gladewater is another team that might be a safe bet to retain its pace-setting position. The Bears after July 4 held a four and one-half game edge in the East Texas league. A club loaded with talent sent down from Dallas of the Texas league, it should hold its position.

But it is a different tale in Texas' other leagues.

Odesa had the top spot in the Longhorn league on July 4. The Oilers have Roswell and Big Spring as chief contenders. Either could beat them out.

Crowley topped the Gulf Coast league, but Jacksonville might be a better guess as to this class C loop's pennant winner.

Lubbock was ahead after games of July 4 in the West Texas-New Mexico league. But the standings in this circuit change almost nightly.

Harlingen and Corpus Christi dominate the Rio Grande league. It just happened that Harlingen led by a game after July 4.

current. What rest they get is from the slower-moving water close to the bottom. Look for them near the main current, and water, they stick to the main

Roughies Bowl Fort Worth Cats Over Once Again, 6-0

Not so long ago they were talking about a "save baseball for Beaumont" drive. The club was doing poorly at the gate.

The Exporters drew just 1888 fans last night, but the hard-driving Roughnecks kept a lot better if they keep the current pace. And also squeak that "save Beaumont" talk.

A 6-0 victory over Texas League leading Fort Worth made it five straight victories for Roger Hornsby's crew. It also pulled it within one game of second place Tulsa and only eight games back of Fort Worth.

While Beaumont was knocking off Fort Worth again, Houston beat Oklahoma City, 9-5, and Tulsa playing a doubleheader.

Dallas brushed off Shreveport, 6-4. Rain postponed the San Antonio-Tulsa game.

Rex Jones set Fort Worth down on five hits and Gil McDougald chipped in a two-run homer for the Roughnecks.

Houston's victory was its third in a row. That's only the second time this season that the Buffs have won three in a row.

Dallas continued its heavy hitting by pounding out 16 hits off three Shreveport pitchers. Just 608 persons watched Shreveport lose its second straight to Dallas. That was the smallest crowd of the year at the Louisiana city.

The same teams meet again tonight with San Antonio and Tulsa playing a doubleheader.

BACK IN CHIPS — Moose Peters, ruled off for life as a trainer in 1947, is back as a jockey. At 35, he displayed all his old skill scoring a consecutive triple at Laurel. He won the riding championship in 1934 at 16.

Big Spring Gains in Longhorn League

(By The Associated Press)

Big Spring picked up a little ground in the Longhorn League last night, but you could hardly notice it.

The Broncs knocked off Midland twice, 3-0, 7-3. And left them just seven and one-half games back of pace-setting Odesa and four games back of second place Roswell.

With the league's standings apparently in a rut, it's now a question of staying power.

Odesa clipped Roswell, 3-1, with a bases-loaded double by Bill Howarter driving the winning runs in the eighth.

Sweetwater downed Vernon, 10-8, in a three hour game and San Angelo beat Ballinger, 9-1.

Intercollegiate Boxing Is Given Clean Bill of Health

MADISON, Wis. — (AP) — The University of Wisconsin athletic board yesterday gave intercollegiate boxing a clean bill of health and declared it has a rightful place in the school's program.

A 53-page progress report, made after two years of study and observation, found the sport is being conducted in an exemplary manner, in keeping with the principles of the university.

A study group began the survey in April, 1948, at the request of the faculty.

The teachers wanted to know the "probability of mental and physical injury, spectator behavior, function of boxing in maintaining or advancing cultural standards of institutions of higher learning, and any other matters that may be of value to the faculty in performance of its duties with respect to control of athletics."

The committee watched 188 bouts. It questioned former Badger boxers and probed into scholastic aspects. It gave medical, neurological, psychiatric and electric-encephalographic tests to all boxing candidates in 1949 and 1950.

Then it reported: "Facts obtained in the survey suggest that acute injuries of serious nature do not occur frequently in intercollegiate boxing under supervision of the NCAA."

There was no evidence that participation in boxing caused either a decrease or increase in grade point averages of student athletes.

Buttering Bread On Both Sides

Slipping around in butter, the agriculture department seems to be getting more and more dizzy. It's working up a plan now whereby butter will be given away, or practically so.

Here's how this gigantic idea would work: you buy one pound of butter at the retail price, for example, 40 cents. The government will throw in an extra pound for which you will pay 1 cent.

There's a lot of hush-hush about this scheme thus far. It hasn't been made clear, for example, whether the extra pound is to come from retailers getting their butter through regular channels, paying the government-backed price.

And there's this important angle: What will this government give-away program do to the manufacturers of oleomargarine, who have a long and bitter history of many years' standing against government discrimination against them?

There's a pretty strong smell in this whole give-away program regarding butter. To keep the price of butter far above the supply-and-demand figure, the government buys butter at 40 and 60 cents per pound. It now has stored about 160,000,000 pounds and has agreed to buy more than an additional 20,000,000 pounds before the end of this summer.

INSIDE-OUTSIDE INFO—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, unlighted cigar in hand and trousers high over shoetops, talks with reporters from auto after conference on Korea.

Appliance Stocks Not Yet Changed

NEW YORK — (AP)—Manufacturers agree, the Korean war has not affected their stocks of appliances.

If the war has resulted in heavier-than-usual buying a plus, this has not been reflected at the manufacturers' level.

T. J. Newcomb, sales manager of the Electric Appliance division of Westinghouse Electric Corp., said his company "is not anticipating a shortage at present, and therefore is continuing present plans as though nothing had happened in the world situation."

He reported all appliances in good supply except refrigerators and electric ranges, and that such shortages that do exist are not attributable to the war. Items now in short supply soon will be generally available, he added.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says the farmer got about 49 cents of each dollar spent for food in Sept. 1949 and 32 cents in 1933.

Pakistan Not to Offer Land Troops

KARACHI, Pakistan — (AP)—Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan said today he had "no information regarding the sending of Pakistani land troops to Korea."

Returning from a tour of the United States and Canada, he said, however, that Pakistan would help South Korea in all ways within its means. He said the shape of this aid would be determined as time shows what is needed.

Sen. Benton (D.-Conn.) suggested in Washington this week that the Philippines and Pakistan send detachments to the Korean front to demonstrate that the fight there is not a white man's imperialist war.

Liaquat Ali said about the Korean crisis: "Any nation which loves its freedom would condemn the North Korean government's action in marching troops into South Korea."

"This is brute aggression in the clearest terms." The Prime Minister said he was glad to find that the United Nations Security Council, which, he asserted, had become more or less a debating society, had taken a positive step.

Low Cost Funeral Preferred by Most

LUBBOCK — (AP)—Most people are indifferent to the business of dying and would prefer a low-cost funeral.

A survey made by W. J. Neal, student at the Texas Technological College, indicates that 67 percent of all persons interviewed were either against elaborate funerals, or didn't care one way or the other. Only 33 percent said they thought they deserved an expensive burial rite. Divorcees and single men were the most indifferent — 78 percent of the divorcees preferring inexpensive funerals, including wooden caskets, and 81 percent of the single men said they'd like to be buried in an old suit.

Grace Friend...

ANNIVERSARY GIFTS
Grace Friend:
Several of our friends are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversaries this summer. Would you please list some gifts less expensive than the traditional silver that would be right for the occasion.

Mrs. C. L.
I would think that any gift suitable for their homes would be appropriate. These could vary from an ash tray through any number of articles for their dinner table such as cake plates or bowls, pieces of pottery, vases, planters, or candle sticks.
Book ends—also make nice gifts. Linens are always acceptable as are mirrors from small ones to use beneath a vase to large ones for the wall.
If your friends like to eat out of doors during the summer think of something that would be suitable for garden meals in bright pottery, wooden bowls or colorful napkins or table cloths.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

"Pessimistic Pete"

Skips Finesse, Wins

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
This is going to take me a couple of seconds," warned Pessimistic Pete.
"Take your time," said West. "I don't have to get to work until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning."

It was a difficult hand to make since all of the cards in the red suits were badly placed for declarer. However, Pessimistic Pete saw a way to make his contract in spite of such bad breaks.
The opening lead had been the king of clubs, and dummy had won with the ace. Pete, playing the South hand, then drew two rounds of trumps.

The danger lay in the fact that South might lose three diamonds and one heart. This loss could be avoided if the ace of diamonds happened to be in the East hand, or if an extra heart trick could be set up in the dummy. Pete pessimistically suspected that he would find everything wrong. He therefore set about to find a way to make the contract even though luck was against him.

After some thought he cashed the ace and king of hearts, and then returned the jack of clubs from dummy. On this card he discarded his remaining low heart.

West was obliged to win the trick with the queen of clubs—precisely as Pete had planned.

And there was now no way for West to defeat the contract. If West returned another club, dummy could ruff while South discarded a diamond.

West actually returned a diamond, hoping to collect three tricks in the suit. This lead, however, permitted South to win a trick with the king of diamonds.

The point of discarding—the heart—was that Pete was safe even if West had held more hearts. When West took the queen of clubs, only the queen and ten of hearts were out, and South was safe no matter who held these cards.

If West could lead the queen of hearts, South could ruff at once. Later on he would discard a diamond on the jack of hearts.

If West could lead the ten of hearts, South would play dummy's jack. That would either win at once or would bring out the queen. In the latter case South would ruff and would later get a discard on dummy's established seven of hearts.

It is important to note that Pete would have lost his contract by taking the "normal" finesse in hearts. East would win and return the queen of diamonds. This would yield four defensive tricks in all.

Other future plans of the church include the construction of a new building that will cost approximately $100,000.

The Rev. Collins Webb, present pastor, is a native of Comanche County. He received his education at Howard-Payne College. He is married and the father of one son.

Everything Will Thornberg Ate Disagreed With Him Until He Took Hadacol

Found his trouble was due to lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in his system!

In case after case where people had given up all hope of obtaining relief from such stomach distress, simply wonderful experiences are being reported after taking this great new HADACOL for deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in the system.

Everyone is talking about HADACOL and the wonderful good it is doing for weak, run-down men, women and children who have such deficiencies.

For instance, here's an interesting experience which Mr. and Mrs. Will Thornberg jointly write about. They live in Garner, North Carolina.

"My husband, 60 years old, had suffered with stomach distress for quite some time. Everything he ate seemed to disagree with him. A friend told me about HADACOL and how much it had helped her. I insisted that my husband give it a fair trial. He had tried so many medicines without any result that he had begun to think nothing would help him.

"He is on his fourth bottle now. He can eat anything he wants, and it doesn't hurt him. He says he can recommend HADACOL gladly to anyone suffering as he did. Thanks so much for HADACOL."

Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL

Ask your own doctor if this isn't so. A lack of only a small amount of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin can cause much stomach distress—indigestion, heartburn, gas, bloating, a "nervous" stomach which can't digest, and refuses to digest your food properly.

So why punish yourself and keep on taking quick-acting antacids which give symptomatic relief. Be fair to yourself—relieve the REAL cause of your trouble due to such deficiencies.

And thanks to HADACOL—it's now possible to do so.

Feeling HADACOL not only supplies deficient systems with more than their daily needs of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—so vital to maintain good health.

Know the joy of being able to eat a square meal. Be able to eat the foods you like and enjoy them without suffering gas, heartburn and painful indigestion afterwards.

And the best news, yet! Continued use of this great HADACOL helps keep such stomach disturbances from coming back! Truly one of the greatest blessings of the times! So start this very day—get that wonderful feeling!

Everyone is talking about HADACOL. Everyone is talking about HADACOL. Everyone is talking about HADACOL.

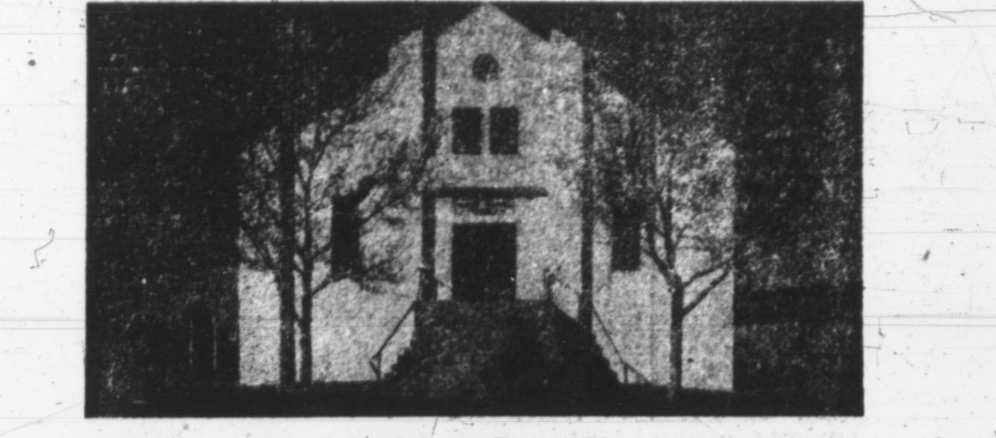

Everyone is talking about HADACOL. Everyone is talking about HADACOL. Everyone is talking about HADACOL.

K. F. Gilchrist's Celebrate 55th Wedding Anniversary on July Fourth

Twenty-nine year Pampa residents, Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Gilchrist of 809 W. Foster, celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary July 4.

Born and reared in the same Ohio town, Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist attended the same schools throughout their school days. They were married in their hometown, Macksburg, Ohio, in 1895 and lived there till 1914 when they moved to Oklahoma.

Mr. Gilchrist, following the oil fields, was employed in the Bristow oil fields for seven years and then transferred to Pampa, where they have since resided. Due to ill health, he retired two years ago.

The Gilchrist's reared two children, Mrs. Catherine Fitzsimmons of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Bob Gilchrist of this city. Mrs. Fitzsimmons has two daughters, Mrs. Robert Hefner of Buna, vista, and Mrs. Robert O. Doring, Lt. and Mrs. Doring have two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Hefner have three. The Bob Gilchrist's have two boys.

Due to Mr. Gilchrist's ill health there was no celebration on their anniversary.

Significance of Ruth Not Always Apparent Until Careful Reading

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The significance of Ruth in the records of the Bible is not always grasped by those who read and admire the story of that Moabitish woman's loyalty and devotion to her Israelitish mother-in-law, in the book of the Bible that bears her name.

The significance is brought out in a passage in the New Testament far removed from the ancient story. There in the genealogy of Jesus (Matthew 1), is the record that Ruth was the mother of Obed, the grandfather of King David.

It is like to think that in the ancestry of Jesus who belongs to the whole world, was this gentle Moabitish woman, worthy in every respect of the Christ who was to come, centuries later.

For Ruth was worthy of the Christ, who gave His commandments of love and who glorified loyalty in human relationships. The story is a simple one, even if involved in elements of deep tragedy, and it is the triumph emerging out of tragedy that makes it a story of such beauty.

Naomi, the Israelitish woman, had gone with her husband and two sons to the land of Moab, the land across the Jordan from Palestine, where Moses had died in sight of the Promised Land. Here the family, fleeing famine, evidently found the food and prosperity they had come seeking, for the two sons took wives there. Then tragedy came in the death of the husband and father, followed by the death of the two sons.

Left with only her two daughters-in-law, Naomi turned longingly to her native land, where report said bread now was plentiful. Her two daughters-in-law accompanied her, despite Naomi's protests that they remain in their native land. When one daughter, Orpah, finally agreed to return home, Ruth embraced Naomi, uttering the famous words, "Entreat me not to leave thee—for whither thou goest I will go. Whom thou shalt be my people, and thy God, my God."

Ruth married a just man, Boaz, and foraged in their fields for grain left in the wake of the reapers, that she might feed her mother-in-law.

Apert from all other details, and Ruth's place in the genealogy of Jesus, it is a noble story of two women in a relationship that is not always so happy, even among intelligent and educated women from whom better things might be expected.

The example of Ruth and Naomi, and the teaching of the great Teacher descended from Ruth, ought to make it possible for women to live in love and loyalty with each other, even in circumstances where the situation may be trying.

LET US BE GLAD

It is a beautiful sight to see a profusion of flowers brightening the landscape with brilliant colors. In a well-kept garden or in some remote meadow or woodland an array of blossoms will not fail to win our admiration.

So great is the love of flowers in the human heart that since the beginning of time men have written of their beauty and sung their praises. Gardens grace most of our homes, and where room or climate does not permit, we cultivate blossoms in small containers in our houses.

And what are these fragile things of beauty that gladden our hearts? We can seek the advice of a botanist or an organic chemist, but even then we know that a flower is just one more of God's creations—just one more of the millions and millions of pleasures that He has given us.

For these and all our blessings, let us be glad. Let us go to Church this Sunday and next, and sing His praises.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Expert Rules on Initial Meld

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"May I have your ruling," asks a New York reader, "on the following situation. I held three aces, three queens, three sixes, and two fives. The discard pile was quite large, and finally a five was discarded by the player at my right.

"This gave me the required count of 120 points for my first meld. However, it was necessary for me to use up my entire hand to make that meld. The opponents claimed that I could not take the pile since the meld left me with no cards in my hand. My partner and I claimed that taking the pack and melding were one and the same transaction; and that since I would have the pile left, I would have plenty of cards after my discard.

"Who is right?"

The meld is perfectly legal. It is quite all right to use every card in your hand for your initial meld when you take the discard pile. The only requirement is that you have at least one card in your hand after you have made your discard.

In this case, the player had the right to put down his entire hand, add the five from the top of the discard pile, and then pick up the rest of the pile. With the pile in his hand, he would then have the right to consider further melds, and so on, just as in the case of any legal meld.

other words, is there any minimum length of time that a freeze must last before anybody can pick up the pile?

A—Your partner is entitled to take the pile in this situation. This is the minimum length of time that a freeze can last. The player who follows the freeze is not permitted to pick up the wild card; so he must draw from the stock. However, the freezer's partner may pick up the discard pile if she has a pair of natural cards that match the card that is discarded to her.

Q—The other night I held seven aces, three nines and one deuce. I wanted to meld out, but the count of the hand was only 85, and I needed 120 points. Could I count the canasta bonus of 500 points towards my initial meld?

A—You were entitled to meld out, but not because of the canasta bonus. You can meld your entire hand at one play, including a canasta, and provided that you have not melded before and that you do not use any of your partner's melds—you are allowed to do so even if you have less than the minimum count. This is known as melding out "concealed."

You are never entitled to count your canasta bonus as part of your initial meld. A canasta bonus is counted only after the hand has ended.

Q—Suppose I freeze the pack with a wild card. The next player discards a king. Can my partner then pick up the pile if she has a pair of aces in her hand? In

U. S. Has About 6,000 Planes In Readiness for War Duty

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of five articles on America's preparedness for war.)

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — An accurate estimate of the strength of the U. S. Air Force must be based on the answer to the question: How strong is the Russian Air force?

In answer to questions from Associated Press Pentagon officials said they have put out no official estimate of Russian air strength. A public relations officer said military officials have an estimate but are not publishing it.

He said the most widely used unofficial estimate is that Russia has between 9,000 and 10,000 active combat planes. Pentagon officials will neither vouch for this estimate nor deny it.

Other estimates have ranged from 6,000 active Russian planes up to a total of around 30,000 planes of all types.

U. S. Air Force and Navy estimate they have 6,000 combat planes ready to go. About 12,800 other combat type planes are assigned to reserve organizations or are in storage. In addition, military services have around 17,000 utility planes — transport, cargo and other types — in service and in storage.

Defense Secretary Johnson said in his semi-annual report on April 22 that the United States had 26,000 military airplanes and that 5,400 more were being acquired. But he said many are in storage and otherwise inactive. Many are obsolete.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air chief of staff, said recently that if war came suddenly the United States would have to fight for 18 months with the planes it has on hand.

Military officials estimate it would take that long to build up production to equal to the point where it would equal combat losses.

The United States has a larger Air Force today than at the time of Pearl Harbor, although the Navy and the Army are smaller. On July 7, 1945, we had about 3,000 combat planes of all types. About 1,100 were fit for service. Officials estimate the U. S. production rate for combat planes today at about 150 a month, compared with about 1,350 per month at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Four major reports since 1945 have stressed the need for increased production of military airplanes. General Vandenberg told a congressional committee if war comes it might start with an intensive atomic attack by our enemies.

He said U. S. combat planes probably would be used up in a short period of intensive war and that industry isn't in a position to build more planes quickly to take care of combat losses.

Vandenberg emphasized that it is easier to deliver an atomic bomb than it is to prevent atomic attack by our enemies.

He said we do not have the interceptor planes to cover all approaches to the U. S. today and if we did our principal defense still would be the long-range bomber.

Most aviation experts agree the U. S. has the greatest bombers in the world today. Vandenberg says we haven't enough of them, however, or of other planes, either.
