GOP Committee Dissension Erupts

Government Tells Firm to Remove Cotton From Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal dissension within the Republican national committee came to light today with the resignation of Arthur Summerfield of Michigan as chairman of the party's strategy committee. In a letter to national committee members and other party officials, Summerfield charged that National chairman Guy C. Garretson planned to let the strategy group "ride on the yoke." Garretson told a reporter that the party's executive committee had urged him to dissolve the strategy committee in view of regional party conferences being held at various cities. The strategy committee was formed during the regime of Gabriel's predecessor, Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., with the aim of taking over active direction of the drive to elect a GOP Congress in November. Its members include representatives of the national committee, governors, state chairmen, finance chairman and Senator Brewster C. Malone and Rep. Leonard Hall of New York, heads of the Senate and House campaign committees. Summerfield said in his letter that despite the fact that neither Scott nor Gabriel had given the group any funds it had worked out a very well conceived and constructive program for the campaign. But Summerfield said that Gabriel first wanted to abolish the committee altogether and then decided to let it die on the vine. "I believe if there ever was a time when we needed the services of Republican leaders everywhere working together in fullest cooperation with all units of our party, it is now," Summerfield wrote national committee members, adding: "This view apparently is not shared by our chairman, and (See COMMITTEE, Page 2)

Rodeo Parking Area Is Being Increased

City officials have announced that the fence separating American Legion Park from Recreation Park is in the process of being removed to provide additional parking space for rodeo spectators. It was stated that the arrangement will be permanent. An official stated that at present there are a number of loose horses in both parks and that a request is being made for all these animals to be removed by Aug. 1. From now on it was pointed out, no loose animals will be allowed in either park. This request is being made in the interest of the health and safety of both rodeo visitors and local people alike. Removal of the fence has been agreed upon by the city, American Legion, and Top of Texas Rodeo officials.

President Against Sweeping Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today he sees no necessity now for wage, price and manpower controls. He told a news conference that if they come they will come together as part of all-out mobilization. He hopes we will not have to have all-out mobilization, he added. Mr. Truman's comments came in response to questions about the proposal from Bernard M. Baruch for an immediate "ceiling on everything."

Third Answer Filed In Will Litigation

The third answer by defendants in a suit seeking declaratory judgment from the county court in disposing of the Lovett estate was filed this morning in the county clerk's office. The short answer was filed by the American National Red Cross and signed by H. J. Hughes, counselor and attested by Harold W. Sparr, secretary of the ARC. The answer said the defendants named by the administrators as a party in filing the suit, waived all issuance of service or process. The suit was filed by the administrators of the estate when rumors reached them that a temple would be made to break the will. Several organizations have been named as defendants in the suit as formalities.

Youths Questioned For Parts Thefts

Pampa police officers today morning were questioning five youths regarding thefts of auto accessories from the city. Chief John Wilkinson said his records show that since November 24 thefts have been reported for the city of Pampa. He estimates 90 percent of these were thefts of parts from automobiles. A good part of these thefts cases involve minor youths, the chief believes. THOSE first few weeks were busy ones for John Sand. It was as if the entire citizenry of Wolf Point and the 40 miles of surrounding country had been hoarding all kinds of ailments until a doctor got there.

Kit Carson sent her help over to clean out the log cabin and give it an inside and outside coat of whitewash.

Brown Derby Chef Knows Eating Habits of Famous

By HUBBARD KEAVY (For BOB THOMAS)
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — "There is a bar — naturally," said the chef, "and then hors d'oeuvres."
When the gourmets of Hollywood go out to entertain with food and want to do it properly and impressively, they leave the menu to Chef Robert Kreis. Tonight in the private dining room of one of the Brown Derbies, where Chef Robert is the head kitchen man, a visiting millionaire is entertaining for 20. There will be a bar, "naturally," and the same menu Chef Robert ran up for Clark Gable's party last week.
The appetizers will consist of some very appetizing stuff: Alaskan crab, smoked oysters, pate de foie gras, caviar and cherry tomatoes stuffed with ground anchovies. When cost is not a consideration, Chef Robert doesn't have to put cheese on crackers, tin-tin sardines and stuff celery with cheese for hors d'oeuvres.
Gable and many others and the unnamed millionaire have full confidence in Robert because they know he will prepare something very edible. The Gable meal started with dugeness crab meat en cocotte (baked in little dishes) and next was onion soup au sherry.
Then, the piece de resistance, coq au vin — a three pound rooster cooked in a sauce of burgundy and brandy. It is most unusual to fix white meat in red wine. Each guest gets half a rooster, along with carrots, onions, celery and potatoes parmentier, which have been cooked in the sauce. After that, fresh chilled asparagus vinaigrette. For dessert: strawberries Romanoff, which consists of berries, brandy, kirchwasser and curacao poured over vanilla ice cream.
Appropriate wines are part of the meal. When Carleton Morse, who writes radio's long-time serial, "One Man's Family," invites friends to one of Robert's meals he brings his own wines, being a collector of old and famous vintages. Without cocktails and no wine, the meal costs $12.50 per head.
Liquor and wine cost as much as the food.
Kreis, a very happy and well-fed Frenchman, has been catering to the eating habits of Hollywood for more than 30 years. He knows what everyone in town likes. When Jimmy Durante comes in, Robert knows he will ask for one of two dishes: center cut of finnan haddie served in a chafing dish with milk and butter, or English roast beef, four-slice cut, paper thin.

Most of the girls are finicky eaters because they have to watch their pounds. Esther Williams usually orders fish — filet of trout and string beans almondine. Doris Day likes gremolata of beef filet sauted in butter, with no sauce, and spinach or broccoli. Bob Hope eats anything from steak to enchilada.
When Gable orders, he asks for ground round steak, into which a raw egg and ground onion are mixed before it is charcoal broiled. With it, a one pound baked potato drowned in butter.
Chef Robert is sure the hardiest feminine appetite among the glamour gals belongs to Marlene Dietrich. She loves rich, heady sauces and her particular favorite is a boiled pompano.

Once-Doomed Officer Given Another Chance by Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A 30-year-old Navy officer who was retired three years ago after being told he would shortly die of cancer would be restored to active duty under a bill passed by the Senate.
The bill, approved yesterday, doesn't tell much of the story. It says only that its purpose is to restore Lt. Comdr. Edwin M. Rosenberg to the active rolls of the Navy. An accompanying committee report says that Rosenberg was retired in 1947 "due to a physical disability which was presumed to be permanent and fatal within a relatively short time."
Rosenberg, who watched from the Senate gallery while his bill was approved unanimously and sent on to the House, filled in the gaps.
After serving on baby aircraft carriers in the Pacific, he was sent to the Boston Naval Hospital for examination in 1946. Doctors told him he had cancer, might not live more than two weeks.

He was given radiation treatments and in a couple of months was out of the hospital and apparently all right. Retirement board doctors examined, found another cancerous spot. He was retired, over his protest.
The cancer licked, he got a job teaching seamanship at the naval academy at Annapolis. But he wanted sea duty again in the Navy.
He persuaded Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to introduce a bill. The only way he could be restored to active duty.
If the House goes along, he said, he has been promised shipboard duty, probably in the Far East.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice

Sitting around last Friday evening, the talk turned to the best way of getting to sleep when it seems you just can't. "The way I always do," says Sandy Johnson, "is to breathe deep and make believe I weigh a ton."
"Just throw away the pillow—it works every time," says Buzz Ellis. When counting sheep came up, right away was the question: What kind of sheep?
From where I sit, you could argue 'til Doomsday and never get complete agreement on a lot of things. Now, take me, I'm all for having a glass of beer or ale on occasion. Your "social beverage" may be a "Goke"—or buttermilk or maybe a cup of hot coffee.

But enjoying our preferences is a right in this country and each of us is entitled to his own. The important thing is to respect that right in the true democratic spirit of understanding! As a matter of fact, what a tiresome old world this would be if we all did have the same likes and dislikes!

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Freeze Poses Questions

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please clear up a misunderstanding for me," asks a Milwaukee correspondent. "While playing Canasta the other night one of the players wanted to take the discard before his side had melded."

"I claimed that the pack was frozen to them until their side had melded. For this reason, I said, the opponent could not take the discard pile to make his initial meld."

"Am I right? If I am, why cover a wild card or a red three when you turn up such a card as the dealer? Since the pack is already frozen, what is the point of causing an special fuss over a wild card or a red three?"

The pack is not ordinarily frozen at the beginning of the hand. You are allowed to take the discard pile when you make your initial meld. When you take the discard pile on the same turn in which you make your initial meld, you must put down a pair of natural cards that make the previous discard. For this reason, it is sometimes said that the pack is frozen to you until you have made your initial meld.

However, once your side has made the initial meld, it is possible for either player of your partnership to take the discard pile with one matching card and one wild card. This may be done at some turn of play following the turn on which the initial meld was made.

When the deck is really frozen (either by the dealer or by the discard of a wild card by some player) the deck stays frozen until it is picked up. It does not become unfrozen merely because your side makes an initial meld.

For example, suppose the dealer turns up a red three, thus freezing the pack. Then suppose you meld three aces from your hand. The deck is still frozen. Your partner is not allowed to take the discard pile with one matching card and one wild card. He must still have two matching cards that match the previous discard.

If the deck had not been frozen, the situation would be quite different. When you put down your three aces, your partner would be able to take the discard pile thereafter with one matching card and one wild card.

Q: If you pick up a discard pile that consists of more than one card, are you allowed to go out?

A: Yes. You are allowed to take the discard pile and meld out on the same play. As a matter of fact even if you take a discard pile that consists of only one card, you are allowed to meld out on that play. The only exception is that you are not allowed to take a discard pile that

Slight Earthquake Noticed in Mexico

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — A slight earthquake rocked Mexico City for a few seconds Wednesday.

The national observatory said its seismograph registered the shock at 11:42:28 a.m., CST. It consists of only one card when your hand also consists of only one card.

The distress signal SOS stands for no words. The letters were selected because of their easy detection when sent in code.

Q: Should the word Diesel be capitalized?

A: Nouns derived from names of persons usually start out by being capitalized, but in time they lose association with the person, and become simple lowercase nouns. Diesel is now being often written with the small "d" and in the course of time will lose the capital "D" altogether.

Q: Are there any states that still observe Fast Day?

A: New Hampshire is the only state to cling to the observance of Fast Day (usually the last Thursday in April), first proclaimed in 1881 when the governor of the province ordered a day of public fasting and prayer.

Q: When was photography discovered?

A: In 1839. The process was discovered almost simultaneously by Daguerre and Talbot, two men working independently of each other. However, theirs was the culmination of research carried out for centuries. The theory was known to Euclid in 300 B.C.

Q: Where was the first All-Star baseball game played?

A: This so-called Dream Game began at Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1933.

Q: What event is generally considered to mark the beginning of the French Revolution?

A: The seizing of the Bastille by the people of Paris.

CAB Authorizes South Texas Line

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has authorized additional service in South Texas by Trans-Texas Airways.

Trans-Texas, a feeder airline, was given a permit to operate between Mission, McAllen, Edinburg and San Antonio - Victoria, by way of Alice, Corpus Christi and Beeville, providing new service at these last three cities.

The same line was only recently authorized to add Pecos to its service points.

The board denied Trans-Texas' petition to set up another new route segment between Laredo and Corpus Christi via Alice. It also rejected an application of Val-Air Lines, Inc., to expand its service between the Rio Grande Valley, San Antonio and Houston.

"Mother Didn't Tell Me" ... is in the wonderful tradition of those pictures you remember and talk about for months after they have gone. It has been brilliantly produced in the tradition of "Belvedere Goes to College" and "Sitting Pretty." It brings back glamorous Dorothy McGuire, excelling her performance in "Claudia" and "Gentlemen's Agreement," and it brings her into the arms of William Lundigan, fresh from his triumph in "Pinky." It is one of those pictures prominently mentioned on the year's "most enjoyed" lists. "Mother Didn't Tell Me" brings you new joy, warmth and laughter ... DON'T SAY WE DIDN'T TELL YOU!

Atom Bomb, Cold War Take Back Seat in British Plans

LONDON — (AP) — The atom bomb and the cold war run a poor third to wage hikes and housing in planks proposed by local British labor party units for inclusion in the party's new platform.

The 300 suggested resolutions were drafted before the outbreak of the Korean war for consideration at the party's annual conference Oct. 24. They were released by labor chiefs yesterday.

Only 27 of the proposed planks come under the heading "foreign policy and war danger." Mostly they indicate a grass roots yearning for peace and run counter to earnings of party officials that defense spending must be hiked "however unpopular it may be."

Many of the rank and file domestic resolutions expressed doubt that the government's wage freeze policy could be continued in the face of inflationary pressures. Some 60 resolutions dealt with wages and living costs, 43 with housing and about 25 with nationalization of basic industries.

Some of the foreign policy proposals call for Britain to move closer to Russia, to get out of the cold war and to ban the atom bomb.

They were made public on the eve of today's meeting of the permanent council of the Atlantic Pact nations to speed rearmament of the West.

The local Norwood labor party criticized the presence of American airmen and B-29s in Britain "and the proposal for storage in Britain of American atom bombs."

The electrical trade unions suggested a Big Five conference including Communist China to draft a peace pact which would "provide the millions of common people throughout the world with a new hope that war can be prevented."

The Uxbridge labor party asked the government "not to take part in the cold war, but instead to pursue a policy based upon friendship towards the Soviet and its allies as well as towards the United States."

The Cirencester and Tewkesbury labor party urged the government to "end the present foreign policy, with its inherent subservience to the capitalist-imperialist United States of America and to seek closer relations with the socialist countries of the world."

Other resolutions proposed that the government lead a disarmament movement, lift East-West trade barriers, abolish conscription, slash arms spending, and ban the atom bomb, germ warfare and other means of mass slaughter.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Playwright Wins On Skillful Ruffing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the favorite diversions of George S. Kaufman, the playwright, is to drop in at New York's famous Regency Club and give the bridge experts a few pointers on their own game. His skill is well illustrated in the play of today's hand.

West opened the jack of diamonds, and Kaufman, playing the South hand, let it ride around to his queen. South's own losing cards included a spade, a diamond, one or two clubs, and one or two trumps. Some of the losers in diamonds and clubs might be ruffed in dummy, but even then South would have trouble returning to his own hand.

Kaufman decided that his best plan was to go after dummy's long spade suit. If the opponents led trumps, the spades could probably be set up. If the opponents failed to lead trumps,

South might manage to ruff out his losers in the minor suits. At the second trick, therefore, Kaufman led the six of spades from his hand. West played low, the jack was finessed from dummy, and East won with the queen of spades. East did not dare return a heart up to dummy's queen, and therefore returned the jack of clubs. South covered with the queen hopefully, but West played the king, and dummy won on the ace.

Kaufman now embarked on a program of setting up the spades and getting a ruff or two in dummy at the same time. He began by ruffing a spade in his own hand. His next step was to lead a diamond to dummy's ace, after which he ruffed the other spade in his own hand. Then he cashed the king of diamonds, discarding dummy's losing club.

South next ruffed a club in dummy and led one of the established spades. East discarded a club, and South ruffed with the eight of hearts.

West over-ruffed with the ten and quite properly returned a trump. The queen was played from dummy. East covered with the king, and South won with the ace. Now declarer led his last club, ruffing with dummy's last trump. Thereupon another spade was led from dummy.

At this point, East had left the jack and seven of hearts. Kaufman had the nine of hearts and a losing diamond. If East ruffed high, South could discard the losing diamond and win the last trick with the nine of trumps. If East ruffed low, Kaufman could win his tenth trick immediately by over-ruffing with the nine.

Dorothy McGuire and William Lundigan in a new romantic comedy, "Mother Didn't Tell Me," is the attraction coming to the LaSara Theatre Thursday. This film marks the return to light comedy of Miss McGuire, who achieved her first fame as Claudia, like "Claudia" of fond memory. "Mother Didn't Tell Me" is classified basically as a comedy about the gay adventures of a newly married young couple, but sensitive as well to the tender aspect of young marriage.—adv.

KING'S COMMENTS

By DR. WILLFORD I. KING

Nationally Recognized Economist, Economics Professor Emeritus, New York University

WHEN BUREAUCRATS PLAN The planned economy as portrayed by almost any enthusiastic or astute writer presents a most attractive picture. The various departments of government are directed by public-spirited experts of the highest caliber. Just the right amount of each article required by the economy is produced, and is delivered expeditiously to the place where it is most needed.

CHASE SCENES

More and more of Hollywood's action and chase scenes are being filmed from a helicopter. Ace pilot Vaughn Krug of Pacific Helicopter is the boy behind the controls. It was Krug who dropped thousands of red feathers over L. A.'s Pershing Square Park to signal opening of the last Community Chest drive. He still laughs about it. A drunk linked at the cascading red feathers, called the police department and bipped: "Shay, there's a guy up in a helicopter here murdering all the park's pigeons. Bloody feathers are dropping all over."

COMFORTABLE

The Bureau of convolvers do not believe that every family has this total of dress or working garments. They do not say that all the apparel is in A-1 condition. None of those questioned would qualify among the ten best-dressed. But the conclusion seems to be that we have sufficient covering to keep us warm, respectable and comfortable.

RESERVES

Forgetting the future, however, recent surveys of our factories, our pantries and granaries, our clothes closets and our homes—in fact, of all the recesses and corners where a nation's material power is hidden—reveal that the United States has unmatched reserves to expend in a struggle for life, liberty and the pursuit of individual happiness.

LOTS OF GREASE

The situation is analyzed by Department of Agriculture as no over-supply, no shortage, more than enough when it is remembered that this beginning of one season, the Export demand will be less than last year, leaving larger supplies for the domestic market. A bumper crop of soybeans will make up any deficiency in cottonseed oil. But since glycerine for ammunition manufacture requires a lot of grease, a big war effort could produce a tight situation on fats and oils supply.

EVERYONE CAN CLEAN UP SOAP FATS

There are more than enough. Tallow is in surplus and the price is low. There are also ample import supplies of coconut oil. Increased use of detergents has cut down demand for soap fats, and there is no occasion to worry about supply of chemicals for synthetics.

PAINT OILS

Lanseed oil supplies are tremendous. There are big surpluses left over from the last two years, and a big new crop is in prospect for this year. A COOL 2,987,000,000 POUNDS COLD STORAGE STOCKS. Much of the increase is due to heavy packs of fruits, vegetables and fruit juices. But meat storage of 632,000,000 pounds is higher than last year, and above the five-year average.

PEPPER

There is still a world shortage. OPA ceiling was nine cents a pound, but U.S. had accumulated a stockpile of several years supply. That is long since gone. Since the war, prices have gone as high as $2 for white pepper, $1.40 for black. Prices broke in June, apparently under

CHASE SCENES

More and more of Hollywood's action and chase scenes are being filmed from a helicopter. Ace pilot Vaughn Krug of Pacific Helicopter is the boy behind the controls. It was Krug who dropped thousands of red feathers over L. A.'s Pershing Square Park to signal opening of the last Community Chest drive. He still laughs about it. A drunk linked at the cascading red feathers, called the police department and bipped: "Shay, there's a guy up in a helicopter here murdering all the park's pigeons. Bloody feathers are dropping all over."

COMFORTABLE

The Bureau of convolvers do not believe that every family has this total of dress or working garments. They do not say that all the apparel is in A-1 condition. None of those questioned would qualify among the ten best-dressed. But the conclusion seems to be that we have sufficient covering to keep us warm, respectable and comfortable.

RESERVES

Forgetting the future, however, recent surveys of our factories, our pantries and granaries, our clothes closets and our homes—in fact, of all the recesses and corners where a nation's material power is hidden—reveal that the United States has unmatched reserves to expend in a struggle for life, liberty and the pursuit of individual happiness.

LOTS OF GREASE

The situation is analyzed by Department of Agriculture as no over-supply, no shortage, more than enough when it is remembered that this beginning of one season, the Export demand will be less than last year, leaving larger supplies for the domestic market. A bumper crop of soybeans will make up any deficiency in cottonseed oil. But since glycerine for ammunition manufacture requires a lot of grease, a big war effort could produce a tight situation on fats and oils supply.

EVERYONE CAN CLEAN UP SOAP FATS

There are more than enough. Tallow is in surplus and the price is low. There are also ample import supplies of coconut oil. Increased use of detergents has cut down demand for soap fats, and there is no occasion to worry about supply of chemicals for synthetics.

Labor Disputes Involve 6,500

AUSTIN — (AP) — Thirty-six Texas labor-management disputes remained unsettled at the end of last month, involving 6,500 workers, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

There were 8.7 percent more workers than were so involved a month previous. TEC said 11 new disputes began during June. Eight were settled, six of them being "carry-overs" from the month before.

Shaw Reluctantly Enters 94th Year

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, Eng. — (AP) — George Bernard Shaw, who says he has decayed into a dodderer, had a birthday yesterday—his 94th. He said no one was to remind him of it.

The old man did celebrate, though, by announcing that he has written a new play called "The Lady She Would Not."

Shaw passed the day quietly in his home here.

To his domestic staff he said: "No birthday is to be mentioned in this house."

To the mail man he snapped: "I want to see no birthday cards. They will all be thrown out on arrival."

To a reporter: "I thought something might be expected of me to mark my birthday, as usual, so I've written another play.

"I've labelled it 'a little comedy,' and called it 'The Lady She Would Not.' It is in five scenes. I wrote the whole thing days."

CITED FOR BRAVERY—Master Sgt. J. R. Glaze, 24, of Linden, Tex., above, became the first Korean war candidate for the Silver Star by destroying two Communist tanks with a bazooka. When the tank he commanded was shot out of action, Sergeant Glaze jumped out, grabbed an infantryman's bazooka and single-handedly knocked out the two Red tanks.

COMMENTS

(Continued from Page 6) Dana Adams Schmidt in The New York Times of June 18, 1950. It is a well-known fact that, under free competition the Czechs built up one of the most efficient manufacturing industries in Europe. Now their enterprises have been largely taken over by their government. Has waste been eliminated?

Far from it. For example, one government factory made in one year fifth sieves for every family in the nation, while neglecting to make enough pots and pans to supply current needs. Newly-built apartments near Prague were supplied with electric washing machines, but water got into the switches, so the machines would not operate. Slipshod workmanship is destroying the export market for Czechoslovakian factory products.

But are not Americans too competent to allow such weaknesses to develop in governmentally-controlled activities in our own nation? Let us see. Maurice J. Tobin is Secretary of Labor in President Truman's Cabinet. Presumably he has heard of the difficulties involved in balancing the Federal budget. He doubtless knows also that our Government is paying out for airplanes well over a billion dollars a year. But this knowledge has not deterred him from setting a minimum wage rate of $1.05 per hour for that industry, despite the fact that the minimum for concerns not taking Government orders is fixed by law at 75 cents per hour. His action will, of course, prevent plane makers from taking advantage of any weakness in the labor market, and hence will increase Uncle Sam's plane bill.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is usually thought of as being one of the best managed agencies of our Federal Government, yet it loaned $36,593,696 to the Lustron Corporation to manufacture houses which proved to be almost unmarketable. Recently, as an auction, the R. F. C. bid in the plant for $6,000,000—a figure reputed to be far above its actual market value. Undeterred by this experience, it has recently lent $665,000 to help Reliance Homes of Lester, Pennsylvania to reopen its factory which had been producing ribbed aluminum ready-built houses. A previous R. F. C. loan to this company is still unpaid.

According to The New York Times of June 10, R. F. C. loan examiner Charles B. Lewis, against the advice of the loan agency's Florida office, recommended a $400,000 loan to the Ribbonwriter Corporation of America, a Florida concern. The R. F. C. advanced $300,000 to the company in question, but the concern went bankrupt within six weeks after getting the loan.

However, these R. F. C. misadventures are mere bagatelles compared to the losses which the Government will probably suffer on its power ventures. In 1946, Federal expenditures on Water Resources Projects totaled around $200,000,000. By 1949, they had grown to $702,000,000, and the Budget figure for 1951 is around $1,100,000,000—an expansion of some 450 per cent in five years. And if the Tennessee Valley Authority is any criterion, the Government will never recover but a fraction of its investment. In addition, our Government is guaranteeing billions of dollars of loans on homes—many of such loans being made on almost a hundred per cent basis. If hard times come, great numbers of these loans will be defaulted, and Uncle Sam will "hold the sack."

All in all, the evidence indicates that our planning bureaucrats do not differ greatly from those of other nations—in all countries they use far less care in safeguarding the taxpayers' money than they employ when it is their own funds which are to be protected. This is one of the facts of life which socialist theorists conveniently overlook. This is one of the reasons why financial and business planning should be kept in the hands of those who put up the money.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A New York high school principal has come out in favor of "feminizing" the high school education of girls. She would give them a heavy dose of home economics courses rather than have them take the kind of curriculum which is all right for boys.

It seems to make sense until you stop to realize that the girls are going to live in a man's world, too. A great many of them are going to have to compete with men for the jobs they get and hold.

It's all very fine for Mary Jones to graduate from high school with a knowledge of how to cook, run a home and look after children.

That is, it's fine if Mary Jones happens to get a husband while she's still just a girl and manages to hang onto him — separated by neither death nor divorce — for the rest of her days. And if, of course, her husband is able to make a living for Mary and any children they may bring into the world.

But those are an awful lot of "ifs." Suppose Mary doesn't find a husband or that she finds one she can't hang onto? Or suppose her husband finds he can't support a family without her help? SOMETHING TO GO ON

Then what is Mary going to do with her "feminized" education — walk into an employer's office and tell him what good pies she can make and how much she knows about "family oriented cultural subjects?"

No, the woman who is prepared for nothing but home-making today faces a mighty insecure future. It was enough for Grandma but it isn't enough for Granddaughter.

Just as more and more women are coming to find it necessary to play two roles in life, paid worker and home-maker. So it becomes more and more necessary to educate girls both for a "man's world" and for a "woman's world."

If that sounds like too big an educational load for our girls to carry, just stop and think how many women have to carry a double load without the proper training for both.

Grace Friend

DON'T INTERFERE
My Dear Grace Friend:
I have a problem which I would like you to help me with. I know for a fact that the husband of my closest friend is unfaithful to her. I know who the girl in the case is. I resent very much the husband's action and feel that I should tell my friend about him. My husband says that I would be wrong to interfere. Have you any ideas on the subject?

Gratefully,
Mrs. W. K. F.
Dear Mrs. W.K.F.:
I feel that it is far wiser not to interfere in such cases.

INVITE FRIEND TO PARTY
Dear Miss Friend:
I have met a boy and I like him a lot.

I was introduced to him at a party at a friend's home and have seen him several other times. I want him to know that I like him but I don't want to do something I shouldn't. Is there anyway I could ask him to come to the house to visit without making him think I am chasing after him?

Yours Truly,
Belle

Dear Belle:
Why not give a little party and include your friend in the guest list?

This will give you a chance to know each other better. Your asking him will let him know that you like him and enjoy his company.

Mrs. Billy Jones invited the guests to the rooms where gifts were on display. Seventy-five guests registered and sent gifts.

Francis said about 100 men had applied in Sydney during the first few hours. He said most of them want to go into action immediately.

A high army officer said he thought the force the government required would be recruited within a few days.

Francis said the Australian force probably will comprise a division, but added that this would depend on Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, who arrives today in the United States to confer with President Truman.

Since New Zealand already has announced she will provide an artillery unit, Francis said Australia's contribution probably will consist mainly of infantrymen.

A dispatch from Canberra said most of the Australian force sent to Korea would be World War II veterans so that the force

TV Is Reason For Planning Ring Program

NEW YORK — Tele- vision, blamed for many of boxing's box office failures, is responsible for the most ambitious hour-long fight program in history.

To meet the demands of the TV audience, the International Boxing Club plans to run 70 or 75 "major" shows in the 1950-51 season. There will be action every Wednesday and Friday for at least 35 consecutive weeks.

The IBC and Managers Guild have reached an agreement. We have decided to separate it in the "major" program.

On Wednesday nights, each 10- to 15-minute fight will receive $100 as its share of the TV money. On Fridays, each 15- to 20-minute fight will receive $200 as its share of the TV money.

Wednesday programs will originate at St. Nicholas arena in New York, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis. There will be five shows in St. Louis and 10 each in the other three cities.

All 35 Friday night programs will originate in New York, 24 in Madison Square Garden and 11 at St. Nicholas arena. Two additional Garden shows may be added next June.

The IBC and Garden Corporation will collect about $20,000,000 for the TV and radio rights of the season. The fighters will receive about 1,000,000. This, of course, does not include their share of the actual gate receipts. All fights are confined to the radio and TV money.

CLEANED BY CHANGING
Most modern smokestacks changed their floors once or twice a year instead of cleaning them. Leads were spread on the floor. They were swept out when they became too dirty or worn out and a new covering provided.

Wright Paired With Goldwater In Links Meet

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Defending champion Claude Wright of Denver was paired against Bob Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., in today's second round of the annual Broadmoor invitational golf tourney.

Wright had a rugged time of it yesterday in squaring out 14-year-old Randy Carey of Denver. He had to go 21 holes.

Goldwater's first-round victory over Bud Holscher of Santa Monica, Calif., 3-2, was one of the better matches of the day.

Oklahoma City's steady-headed Doc Beggs ousted Charles Wallace of Midland, 7-6, in the most one-sided contest on the course.

Relief Hurling of Doud Halts Pioneer Assault

By GENE GARRISON
News Sports Editor

Things were back to normal again in Oiler Park last night—wild scoring, hitting spurges, and rhubarbs.

After surviving two nights of tight pitching duels, the Oilers and Clovis Pioneers finally broke loose in a combined attack that produced a total of 29 hits and 28 runs. The Oilers, however, hogged more than their share of hits and runs off three Clovis pitchers to gain a series sweep with a wild 17-11 victory.

They captured the other two by narrow 9-7 and 2-1 counts.

But even with the awesome display of hitting power, the mound antics of bespectacled Earl Doud weren't overlooked. The chunky right-hander came in to relieve starter Bill Garland in the third inning, and finished the game, allowing six hits and fanning eleven. It was his effective offerings that halted the Clovis attack after it had scored. The Oilers run-for-run and had the score knotted at 6-6 in the third inning.

Lefty Roy Parker will be in quest of his 21st pitching win of the season tonight when he faces the mound in the series opener against the Albuquerque Dukes in Albuquerque. The diminutive portlander will probably oppose Walt Stenberg, newly acquired Duke hurler. The Oilers will remain in Albuquerque for a two game stand, then move to Burger for a three game series with the Gassers. They return home on Aug. 1, against the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Pioneers evidently had no addition to the Oiler roster, and vainly sought to stop the onslaught with a trio of pitchers, although none succeeded.

Bill Ebsen drew the starting assignment, but was relieved by Tom Gallagher in the fourth, just long enough for the young defender to assume the loss, before Ernie Aiken came in to finish the game.

Jeannies of Charley Bushong and Pete Trabucco greeted Garland in the first inning, producing one run. But the Oilers bounced back to give the slight lefthander a five-run working margin with six runs in the second, but he couldn't hold it.

Don Ricketson started the fireworks when he reached first on Ray Bauer's error of his hopper. Os Engel singled and Jim Martin walked to load the sack.

Rosen added to his own downfall by walking Garland and Dick Dawson forcing in the first two Oiler runs. Woldt scored Martin with another on a long fly to left, and Jeandron drew another charity stroll to again fill the bases. Joe Fortin and Richardson both smacked singles for the other runs before Ricketson hit into a force play ending the Pampa efforts.

The Pioneers surged back in the third with five runs to shell Garland from the mound and tie the score in an attack featured by Ray Kozub's two-run homer. A walk, Garland's error on a double-play ball, Tranuco's single and Bushong's long double were the pay-off punches. Garland withdrew with the score knotted, and Doud was sent in to face Rosen. He put out the fire by firing three strikes past the Clovis pitcher, his first of eleven strikeouts.

Doud also had his troubles with the Pioneer batsmen in the fourth when the visitors again grabbed the lead on Pete Trabucco's circuit smash over the leftfield wall with two men on base. But the Clovis joy was short-lived as the Oilers came roaring back in the bottom of the same inning to regain the lead, this time for good.

Singles by Jeandron, Fortin, and Ricketson, followed by doubles by Os Engel and Jim Martin, combined with a walk to produce four markers and a 10-9 Pampa lead.

Then Doud settled down, and the Oilers began to lengthen their lead.

Gallagher gave up three runs on Virgil Richardson's homer with two on in the fifth, before being sent to the showers. Ernie Aiken, a big fellow, who unwinds like a ball of yarn, was waved in, but he, too, was met with a hail of fire.

Four hits, a walk, and Doud's sacrifice gave the Oilers three more runs in the sixth. Singles by Martin, Dawson, and Woldt and a double by Jeandron dove in the runs.

Doud cracked a single to open the eighth, but he was forced at second on Dick Dawson's ground ball to third. Dawson went to second on a passed ball, and then raced home when Dick Woldt drove a double to left, culminating the Pampa scoring.

After being blanked for the last four innings, Clovis salvaged two runs in the ninth on singles by Harry Bright and Ike Hobbins and a walk handed out to

Pitchers Shine In East Texas; Hurl Shutouts

(By The Associated Press)

Speaking or pitchers leagues, take a gander at the East Texas. The hitters certainly aren't dominating things.

Last night two of the mounds-men twirled masterpieces.

Leading Gladewater beat Marshall 4-0 on the four-hit work of Don Stoker, who hung up his twelfth victory of the season.

Eddie Jacome allowed Kilgore only six blows in elbowing Longview to a 4-0 decision. It also was Jacome's twelfth win. The victory pushed Longview into third place in the standings, a half-game ahead of Kilgore.

Henderson went twelve innings to nose Tyler 4-3, scoring the winning run on an error. Manager Bill Sinton kept Henderson in the game with a homer in the tenth.

No National League batting champion has repeated since Rogers Hornsby won his last of six straight hitting titles in 1926.

Lowered Empire City's mile and a sixteenth track record to 2:43 1/5 in winning the Yonkers handicap.

Russ Meyer Bothered Again by Umpires, in Line for Trouble

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The terrible tempered Russ Meyer, outstanding candidate for baseball's "bad man of the year" award, was in line again today for a fine or suspension, this time because a batter stepped out of the box.

The 26-year-old Meyer, a catcher, was in the showers minutes after the Philadelphia Phillies a year ago, has had more than his share of troubles this season. First of all, Russ lost six games in a row at the start of the season.

In one of those games, Russ lost more than the game. He took a throw from first baseman Eddie Waitkus and tagged first base, but the runner was adjudged safe. The enraged Meyer stormed at the umpire. Meyer ended up in the showers minutes after the suspended list for seven days. He threw the ball at the umpire's feet.

After his poor start this season, Russ stood at 5-10 when he went to the pitching rubber for the Phils last night against the Chicago Cubs, his old teammates.

While the Phillies were failing to score against Wally Dubiel, the Cubs were roughing up Mr. Meyer. Russ scored in the first and second inning and Meyer was down 0-2 when Chicago went to bat in the fifth.

Dubiel opened the inning with a double and Russ promptly walked. Wayne Terwilliger, Carmen Mauro fouled out but Bob Borowski smashed the ball off Meyer's glove and Dubiel scored.

Meyer was not a little angered as Hank Sauer stepped to the plate. As Russ began to pitch, Sauer stepped from the batter's box. Seeing Dauer leave the plate, Meyer stopped his motion.

Meyer wasted not a moment in storming at Warneke. He told the umpire what he thought of the decision and pushed Warneke in doing so.

Warneke told Meyer he was a finished pitcher for the night.

It was an odd kind of balk call, Meyer was in error in his argument, but he didn't know it at the time. Russ said later that he thought that when a batter steps from the box, time is out. That's right, providing the umpire calls time. In this case Warneke didn't and the ball was in play. If Meyer had completed his pitch and sent the ball over the plate it would have been a strike.

BROOKLYN — (AP) — "I just go along, day to day, relaxed. Trying to hit that ball."

Stan Musial of St. Louis talked about his 30-game batting streak through last night's game with Brooklyn. How he tried to keep it off his mind. Letting every game take care of itself.

"Lots of days I only get the one hit," he said. "I don't know how many times I've almost been stopped. Honestly I don't think much about it."

"I've been hitting the ball better since my leg has improved. I twisted it a week or 10 days ago. I was hitting to left more because of the leg. Didn't get a full swing. Now I think I'm all right again."

Castino, obtained on option from Little Rock of the Southern Association yesterday, will report in time for Friday night's game here against Lamesa.

He caught for Beaumont of the Texas League last year, was sold to Oakland during the winter and was purchased by Little Rock early this year. Castino recently left Little Rock after a disagreement with the manager and returned to his home in Chicago.

He caught for Lubbock in 1940 and 1941, making the south squad for the league All-Star game both years. He managed the Cubs in 1942 until the circuit closed during the wartime emergency.

With the Chicago White Sox of the American League in 1944, Castino made big news when his pinch-hit double drove in Mike Tremple with the winning run and the Chioz ended the St. Louis Browns' streak of nine consecutive victories.

Castino batted .258 in 84 games with Beaumont last year and fielded .984.

Louis Headed For Training To Pay Taxes

CHICAGO — (AP) — Joe Louis, retired heavyweight boxing champion, reportedly was headed today for an Indiana training camp to prepare for a title bout with champion Ezzard Charles.

The 36-year-old Brown Bomber, was reported getting ready to return to the ring to get some money to pay back taxes.

The report that Louis will return to the ring gained stature yesterday with his departure with advisor Fred Wilson for a West Baden, Ind. training site.

Truman Gibson, the Brown Bomber's manager, has said Louis will fight in September if he can reach an agreement with the government. Louis said he must "pay his income tax like everyone else and fighting Charles seems the best way to do it."

Gold Sox Sign Vince Castino As New Catcher

AMARILLO — (AP) — Vince Castino, former manager of the Lubbock Hubbers, has been signed by Amarillo's Gold Sox for catching duty.

Castino, obtained on option from Little Rock of the Southern Association yesterday, will report in time for Friday night's game here against Lamesa.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.

Stan Musial, Enos Slaughter and Bill Howerton sat on the Cardinals' bench during a recent visit of the Phillies at St. Louis. A tall, dark, thin-faced Whiz Kid walked out through the dugout and over to the Phillies bench.

Musial shook his head, Slaughter nodded. "There," said Musial, "goes the left-handed Ewell Blackwell."

If Curt Simmons, young southpaw pitcher of the Phillies, had heard the remark, he would have smiled wryly, shrugged his shoulders and said: "They're kidding."

But Musial, Slaughter and Howerton were not trying to kid anyone. In the game of the previous night, Musial had thrown his bat in an effort to hit Simmons' cross-fire pitch, Howie Pollet had fallen away from the plate almost to the Phil's bench and then watched a curve ball break over for a third strike, Enos Slaughter, tried to protect himself and punch the ball to left field, but only succeeded in hitting easy grounders to the infield.

"That guy ain't legal," said Howerton. "He throws the ball from first base, not from the pitcher's mound. And he has too much stuff. If he'd hit you, he'd kill you, same as Blackwell."

The Phil's southpaw has more natural "stuff" than any hurler in the league. He has two kinds of fast balls, a hook that breaks off like a jug handle and a fair change of pace, when he wants to throw it.

Simmons is a three-quarter, cross-fire pitcher. He throws with a three-quarter motion of his arm, half overhand, half sidearm, and strides diagonally between first base and the plate as he delivers the ball.

As a result, his high fast ball "takes off." It has a reverse revolution that sustains its height and gives it the appearance of rising a bit. His low fast ball sinks like a spitter with few reverses, making batters hit it ineffectually into the ground. He throws his curve ball directly at a left-handed hitter and it breaks over the plate. He tosses it into the hands of right-handed hitters, making them pop up if high, or beat it in the dirt if low.

However, Simmons' greatest asset this year is not his stuff, which he always has had, but his ability to get the ball over the plate. Simmons also has another extremely valuable asset which he only recently acquired. He now can pace himself and is able to portion out his strength so that he can go the full nine innings.

This conservation of energy is the result of a lesson which Manager Eddie Sawyer and his coaching aides, Bennie Bengough and Cy Perkins, impressed on the youngster over and over again this spring.

Get the first ball over the plate. Get the batter in a hole, then he will swing in self-protection and hit at many bad balls. But if you miss the plate on the first one, the hitter will take the next and the next, and if you have trouble finding the plate you will pass many men and get yourself in trouble."

Greater maturity — he is now 21 — often does more things than all the lessons combined. With maturity, Simmons has more poise, confidence, strength.

It has been a struggle for the Egyptian, F. L. Simmons started in baseball with two strikes on him. He was a bonus kid — the Phillies gave him $65,000 to sign when he graduated from high school at 16. His first job was at Wilmington and he burned up the Class B Inter-State League.

By the jump to the majors was a bit more than Curt could negotiate in the short space of three months. He got off to a flying start, won his initial test against the Giants in the fall of '47, then found the going rough in 1948 and 1949, losing 23 and winning 11.

The coaches attempted to change Simmons' strike, his manner of delivering the ball. The efforts only caused confusion, uncertainty. He went backwards. Finally, everyone decided to let him alone.

At Wilmington, Curt won 13 and lost five. He whiffed 197 to rank second to Andy Tomasic, who fanned 278 for Trenton. He helped set new attendance records wherever he went. Each time he pitched, fans in Egypt hired buses to attend the game. He promises to become the first pitcher on the Phillies to win 20 games since Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Curt is a modest, unspiculated youngster with both feet on the ground. He lives with Bob Miller at the Germantown Cricket Club, an exclusive club in North Philadelphia, is learning to play tennis, drives his own car and doesn't give the girls much of a tumble, despite his popularity in that sector.

He dresses well in sports clothes, likes the movies, doesn't drink. His sister operates a beauty shop in her home in Egypt, his father is a foreman in an electrical plant. When Curt is scheduled to pitch at Philadelphia, the family is always on hand at Shibe Park.

Curt cost the Phils $65,000. You couldn't buy him now for $250,000.

Some might regard Bob Carpenter as just a wealthy club owner with a lot of luck. But it takes more than luck and dough to assemble and develop a team like the Whiz Kids, now cutting such a figure in the Ford Frick loop's flag race.

Indians Continue Move Toward Lead, Win 6-2

Zoldak Earns Third Win In Week in Relief Role

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Editor

Sad Sam Zoldak, ticketed for San Diego in May, has pitched Cleveland to within 1½ games of the American League lead with three relief wins in a week.

They actually handed Zoldak carfare to the Pacific Coast League on cut-down day. At the last minute, Hank Greenberg, Tribe general manager, changed his mind.

Johnny Berardino, veteran infielder, went to San Diego instead of Sam. Hank never will be sorry.

Zoldak heaped manager Lou Boudreau's staff all season. But up to last Thursday he had only a 1-1 record. Five brilliant relief innings at Philadelphia, July 20, started him on the way. Saturday night at Washington he picked up another victory, rescuing Early Wynn.

When Mike Garcia was knocked out of the box in the third inning of last night's game with the A's, Zoldak came in. He held Philadelphia to two hits the rest of the way for a 6-2 decision.

Cleveland's surge is only one factor of a developing situation that has turned the American League race into a four-horse battle. With Detroit's lead sliced to a half game over the New York Yankees, Cleveland coming strong and the revived Boston Red Sox on the march, anything can happen.

The Red Sox made it two straight over Detroit yesterday, 1-0, on Bobby Doerr's home run and Mel Parnell's five-hit pitching. It was the fifth loss in the last six starts for the Tigers.

Parnell, a 25-game winner last year, went the route for the first time since July 1. The Red Sox leftfielder, troubled by a sore shoulder, took heat treatments at a hospital only four hours before game time. Art Houtteman was the losing pitcher.

Joe DiMaggio, making a late summer comeback, slugged a two-run homer to help the Yankees whip St. Louis, 6-3.

Rookie Ed Ford, knocked out in the sixth after five shutout innings, picked up his second win with Tom Ferrick's help.

Rain postponed the Washington at Chicago game in the third inning.

The Phillies scored six runs in the sixth inning against Chicago to increase their National League lead to 1½ games with a 4-0 win. Walt Dubiel took a 6-4 edge into the sixth but blew the game with six walks and two hits. Five of the walks were in succession, only one short of the National League record. Carmen Mauro's double and Hank Sauer's single off Russ Meyer broke a string of 27 scoreless innings for the Cubs in the first.

Brooklyn clinched the season series with St. Louis, with a 7-5 triumph that made it 12 out of 17 this year. Switch hitter Jim Russell hit two homers, one right-handed and one left-handed, to lead the Brooks — the first off-loser Harry Breechen, a scutpaw, and the second off Red Munger, a righthander.

Alexander.

Curt Simmons, Philadelphia Phillies star southpaw pitcher, cleans his rifle at a Philadelphia armory as he gets set for a two week National Guard encampment at Indiantown, Pa. Simmons' call to guard duty will put a sizable dent in the Phillies pitching staff as the team continues its fight for first place in the National League. (AP Wirephoto)

Roughnecks Move to Fort Worth For 1st Crucial Series in TL

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Beaumont's Roughnecks move into Fort Worth tonight for the first really crucial series of the Texas League campaign.

Lobos Win Nightcap To Earn Split in Gasser Bargain Bill

LAMESA — (AP) — Lamesa and Berger split a doubleheader here last night before 1,637 fans, the Gassers banging out a 10 to 4 triumph in the opener and the Lobos coming back to take the nightcap, 8 to 1.

Rene Vega and Len Ruyle combined talents to pitch a three-hitter in the first game, Vega getting credit for his ninth victory before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Glen Selbo suffered his second defeat while going the route and allowing 10 hits.

Ed Carnett and Earl Perry led the Gasser attack in the first game, Carnett singling home two runs in the initial inning and socking his 16th homer with one aboard in the third.

Allies Hold Respect for North Korea Supply Plan

TOKYO — (AP) — A spokesman for General MacArthur said today "we have the greatest respect" for the way North Koreans are supplying their troops at the front.

Allied air power has struck repeated blows at the long North Korean supply lines, but the oil and ammunition and other vital Red needs keep rolling along.

There is no indication, the spokesman said, that the North Koreans have been unable to maintain their supply lines, keep ammunition flowing to the front and keep tanks operating.

Concerted fighter sweeps show very little movement along roads during the day. However, the Communists are repeating German methods of the last war in Italy when convoys moved at night over secondary roads and Korean supply lines, but the oil paths.

The spokesman said North Koreans have been making replacements apparently within 10 days, permitting them to keep their forces up to strength. Conscriptation is largely filling the gap. He declined to estimate total North Korean losses, but said one guess is 18,000.

Nearly 1,500,000 Koreans formerly lived in Manchuria, the spokesman said adding:

"Large numbers have since been recognized in the Chinese Communist armies. Undoubtedly they were trained there as officers."

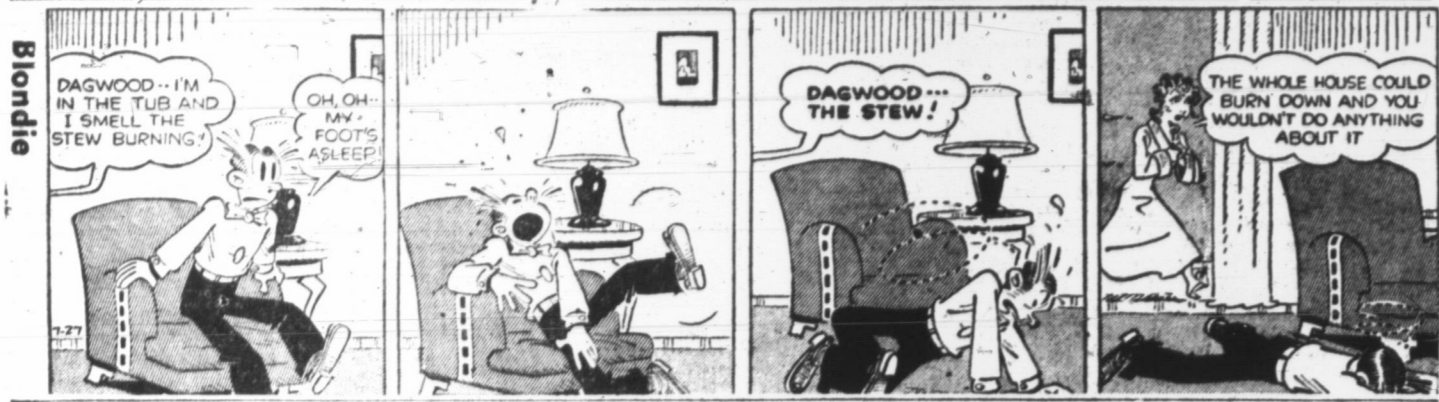

"This has supplied the tough backbone of trained men essential for a force on the offensive."

Koreans learned guerrilla tactics and fighting during the past 40 years while dependents of the Japanese. Despite a Japanese garrison in Korea of two full divisions and large numbers of military and ordinary police the Koreans maintained guerrilla activity.

"Nobody had to train them in doing this," the officer commented and added:

"Guerrillas picked up so far are mainly armed with Japanese weapons of World War II and some Russian automatic weapons."

No Russians have been captured or seen anywhere on the fighting fronts.

Aluminum Companies Fear Electrical Power Shortage

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — American aluminum plants are in shape to handle a big spurt in military orders — if need be — but they hope they won't run short on electrical power.

Leaders of the industry said today an all-out effort by aluminum plants is sure to bring government allocation plans. Another result will be fewer aluminum products on the counters of your favorite stores. Production of consumer goods will have to be curtailed.

A spokesman for the giant Aluminum Company of America, producer of about half the nation's aluminum, said:

"It's not a question of how much metal is available. The whole thing hangs on the supply of electrical power. But a heavy influx of military orders would find us ready."

Since an electrolytic process is used to convert ore into raw aluminum, production of the strong, light-weight metal is closely tied to electrical power.

Emphasizing it was taking precautionary action, Alcoa last week moved to prevent what it called "war scare buying."

The company said it was refusing orders for pig and ingot aluminum from new customers and was placing old customers on an allocation program. Sheet aluminum purchases were not affected.

"There is no acute situation in the supply of pig and ingot," a company statement said, adding: "There is a maximum output by Alcoa from which so much must be allocated for the company's sheet and fabricated products."

Lubbock Couple Killed in Wreck

SEYMOUR, Texas — (AP) — A Lubbock couple was killed and their small daughter hurt early yesterday in a car-truck collision during a heavy rain about a mile east of here.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kennedy. Their daughter, Betty, 5, suffered severe scalp cuts and was hospitalized in unconscious condition.

The truck driver, Robbie Joe Hudson of Wichita Falls, was not hurt.

The accident happened shortly after midnight. Mrs. Kennedy was thrown partly out of the old-model car in which the Kennedys were riding. She was dead when rescuers arrived. Her husband died about three hours later of internal injuries.

Dynamite Blast Is Fatal to Two

EL PASO — (AP) — Two men were killed yesterday when they were buried under rock after lightning exploded a dynamite charge at a stone quarry.

The two were W. A. Harrison, 41, of El Paso, and Teofilo Vera, 43, of Juarez, Mexico.

William E. Tucker, quarry superintendent, said 10 charges had been placed with 10 pounds of dynamite in each, to be exploded after workmen left the area. He said the lightning set off one or two of the charges and sent tons of rock down upon the pair.

Other workers in the area escaped the falling rock.

THE AMERICAN WAY

There Just Can't Be a Jackpot

Korea Is Cynical Land, Torn Now by Fresh Cruelty

By HAL BOYLE
U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEAD-QUARTERS, KOREA — (AP) — You judge a strange place by your eyes, your nose, your sense of taste — and how the people in it treat you.

Korea is an old and cynical country now torn by a fresh cruelty, but a cruelty it is used to. It is like Sicily in this respect. In the past 4,000 years it has been trampled often by foreign conquerors.

Like Sicily, too, it has a distinctive odor and it raises wondrous vegetables. Unlike Sicily, it has much rainfall and its chief crop is rice.

An Iowa farmer might sympathize with the Korean peasants' problems of climate, but he might be shocked that they use human night soil to fertilize their fields.

From the air at this season Korea looks fresh and fair — a country much like eastern Ohio, or perhaps the Ozarks. The valleys appear beautifully kept, and the mountains are green.

When you land, however, you find a region overpopulated and overtilled, bled by an ancient poverty and suffering from lack of sanitation.

There are railroads and power lines to show the stamp of the western world. Yet the children baths nude in muddy rivers filled with liver flukes.

Other children, and adults too, stoop in squalor beside village huts or at the roadside. What came from the land goes back to the land: That is the rugged economics of timeless destitution.

Something of this kind of life can be found in some remote parts of America, too, but it is not typical of America. It is typical of Korea, where people have been down-graded by centuries of oppression and ignorance.

What do they think of Americans? Well, in this town there is a big banner reading: "Welcome to United Nations and United States Troops in Korea."

But there is no cheering such as greeted American troops in France, Belgium and Holland when "they came" to drive an invader from those lands.

Perhaps this lack of enthusiasm is an Oriental trait; perhaps it is not. Perhaps it is a cynical attitude of doubt as to the motives of any foreigners; and again perhaps it is not.

I have not been here long enough to pretend to know, but I do know it kind of makes an American uneasy. I haven't seen this kind of indifference since Americans fought through Arab North Africa.

It is an American trait, I suppose, to expect people to be more glad to see us than we have a right to expect. No one enjoys having his home just a pinpoint in a battlefield.

There is, however, one difference between the Arabs and the Koreans: the South Koreans voluntarily raised an army that is fighting, stubbornly and well, beside Americans in defense of their homeland.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you buy Barcontrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for a printed diet. Barcontrate is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment, while reducing with Barcontrate. It contains no harmful drugs, but does contain ingredients to make you feel better.

Barcontrate when mixed with grapefruit juice does this: First, it takes down your desire for sweets and fatty foods, but you do not have to FORCE yourself. Barcontrate takes care of your DESIRE. Second, it dehydrates and eliminates, so that water is carried away — almost like pushing fat. At the same time you feel better, more peppy, more alive, but never starved or hungry.

NO STARVATION DIET
I have taken lots of medicine but none to compare with Barcontrate. It's tops. Have lost 10 pounds in 2 weeks and no starvation diet. Signed, Mrs. J. E. Blalock, Route 1, Box 81, Cleveland, Texas.

LOST 24 POUNDS
"I am writing you just to say I think Barcontrate is a wonderful medicine. I have tried so many other things and all failed. I weighed 182 pounds when I started to take Barcontrate. I now weigh 158." Signed, Maud Marrow, Archer City, Texas.

Meld Before Picking Up Pile

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"The other night," writes a Houston correspondent, "I had two jacks in my hand (among other cards). The player at my right discarded a jack. I put my two jacks on the table, and then — instead of adding the jack from the pile to the meld on the table — I put the card-pleat discard pile in my hand."

"The opponents said that all of the cards from the discard pile were considered penalty cards. I said that the cards were not really mixed in my hand. They were therefore not penalty cards."

"The opponents insisted that once the cards were in my hand, they were considered mixed with my hand. Were they right? Did they have a right to apply this very severe penalty?"

"The cards should be considered mixed as soon as they get into a player's hand, but the severe penalty should not be applied in a case of this kind. This law was meant to penalize a player who picked up the discard pile when it was not at all clear that he had a right to do so."

"However, when it is perfectly clear to everybody that you are entitled to the discard pile, no penalty should be applied. I should point out that it does no harm, and often saves a great deal of trouble, if you meld the top card of the discard pile before putting a single card of the pile into your hand."

"Some players, realizing that this procedure allows everybody to see the next-to-top card of the discard pile, have a special way of taking the pile. After setting down the cards necessary to take the pile, they remove the pile from the tray and turn it over on the table face down. They then extract the top card of the pile (which is now the bottom of the pile) and add it to the meld. When the meld has been seen by all players, they then put the rest of the discard pile in their hands."

"After the cards have all been dealt out, are you supposed to look at the bottom of the deck to see that there are no wild cards there?"

"You are never supposed to look at the bottom of the deck. If a wild card happens to be there, that is perfectly all right. It should be allowed to stay there, and nobody should know about it beforehand."

"If you touch the discard pile or the stock pile are you required to take whichever pile you touch? If you touch one pile, and then draw from the other pile, what is the penalty?"

"You are required to draw from the pile that you touch first. If you touch one pile and then draw from the other pile, you must replace the card or cards so drawn and make your proper draw from the pile that you touch first."

"However, if you have already made an improper draw in this way and mixed one or more cards with your hand, that draw stands. In either case (whether you go back and make the proper draw or whether the improper draw stands) your side pays a penalty of 50 points."

Talks Opened On River Plans

OKLAHOMA CITY — Engineers from several federal agencies are meeting here in closed sessions to study improvements of the Arkansas, White and Red river basins.

The experts are holding closed meetings today but an open session will be held Friday to be attended by governors and senators or their representatives from eight states.

Engineers attending represent the Army, Interior, Agriculture, and Commerce departments and the Federal Power Commission, and the Federal Security Agency. Col. Louis W. Prentiss of the U.S. Army Engineers in Dallas, is presiding.

The meeting opens a two-year study of the land and water resources in the three basins. The basins include the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Missouri.

Jap Sentenced for Poisoning, Robbery

TOKYO — A mild-mannered Japanese artist was sentenced to death yesterday for the poisoning and robbery of 12 persons in a $250 bank robbery.

The painter, Sadamichi Hirazawa, muttered "frameup." His attorney filed an appeal.

Witnesses testified: Hirazawa walked into the Teikoku bank in Tokyo Jan. 26, 1948, and told the bank workers he was a health official. He insisted they drink some "medicine" he put in their teacups. The "medicine" was potassium cyanide.

Sixteen workers drank it as they collapsed, drinking. Hirazawa made off with 164,000 yen (about $456).

Four of the stricken workers recovered.

Hirazawa had signed a confession but later repudiated it. He pleaded not guilty.

Pea Coal Vein Out Customer Is Told

PHILADELPHIA — A Philadelphian telephoned a coal dealer and asked that a ton of pea coal be delivered to his home.

The dealer said he was all out of pea-sized coal and would a ton of chestnut do just as well.

The customer asked how come the pea coal supply was exhausted.

"The pea coal vein ran out," said the dealer.

The customer — a former coal miner who knew all sizes of coal came from the same vein — hung up.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to coldness or dietary indiscretions.

Your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait. Get Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give rapid relief. Get the 12 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Speed Crackdown Is Credited With Saving 60 Lives

AUSTIN — (AP) — A crackdown on speeders saved 60 persons' lives last month, the state highway patrol claims.

The figure was the reduction in June highway deaths under the May toll. June deaths totaled 146.

State Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrigue attributed the decrease to the patrolmen's bearing down on speeders. June was the first month of this year to show a decrease.

Patrolmen filed 3,390 speeding charges during the month, Patrol Chief Walter J. Elliott said.

Leaders Repudiate Peron's Anti-Red Bill

BUENOS AIRES — (AP) — Presidential leaders have repudiated a proposed bill to outlaw Communism in Argentina.

The leaders said the bill would not be considered by any committee or debated in the Chamber of Deputies.

Four administration deputies introduced the bill July 19. Yesterday Chamber President Hector J. Campora and Peronista Leader Angel Miel Asquiza told newsmen the bill does not reflect the spirit or feeling of Peron's party.

Man Is Suffocated By Cottonseed Hulls

QUANAH — (AP) — Harry H. Duckworth, 61, suffocated last night when buried under eight feet of cottonseed hulls.

Rescuers shoveled 25 minutes before they could reach Duckworth, trapped by the cottonseed as it flowed into a mill seed house where he was working.

Nimitz States Reds Have to Be Pushed Past 38th Parallel

SEATTLE — (AP) — Invading North Korean forces must be pushed back to the 38th parallel and more, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said yesterday. Nimitz, who commanded the Pacific fleet during World War II and served as chief of naval operations after the war, is en route from his Berkeley, Calif., home to Lake Success to confer with U.N. officials on the Korean crisis.

From a military standpoint it is difficult to see how the Korean crisis can be settled by pushing the invaders back only to their home borders, he said.

"More must be done." The five-star admiral, who has been working for the United Nations for the past 14 months, also declared he did not think the Korean fighting would lead to a third world war, if U.N. forces are victorious.

"But if we are not successful it will be an invitation to similar aggression in other parts of the world," he said. "I consider Korea a test which has been four years in the making."

Factory Workers' Pay Sets Record

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Just before the Korean invasion the average weekly earnings of factory production workers in the U. S. reached a new record of $58.80.

Announcing this, the bureau of labor statistics said the average rose by about $1 a week between mid-May and mid-June. The main reason was that the average factory work-week rose from 40 hours to 40.5 hours. It was the first time since the end of 1948 that the work-week had been above 40 hours.

A good deal of overtime was being worked.

The Korean fighting started June 25. More overtime is expected.

Thief Gets 250 Watches, No Time

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — The guy who stole 250 gold watches from a room in a downtown Indianapolis hotel will have to depend on his own watch if he wants to know the time.

Irving Miller, 45, of Clayton, Mo., a jewelry salesman, told police the watches were for display purposes only and contained no clock works.

Miller said the watches were stolen from his hotel room when he went to the lobby for a few minutes. He estimated their value at $3,000.
