

Store closing creates trading stamp panic: Gunn Bros mobbed

By JEFF LANGLEY
Staff Writer

What resembles a "bank panic" is underway in Pampa today. But this bank's reserves are backed by merchandise: toasters, bathinets, table cloths, sheets, dinnerware, vibrators and garden shovels, not gold. And the currency of exchange is not dollars; instead, it's trading stamps.

A throng of Pampan pushed and shoved during a run on available merchandise, both before and after it was officially announced Sunday that Gunn Bros Trading Stamps would fold effective this month.

'I just started grabbing whatever I could ...'

The crowd lined up with stamps in hand before doors opened at the redemption center today and Tuesday. As with Reichsmarks during the world-wide economic depression, a wheelbarrow full of Gunn Bros stamps probably won't buy a loaf of bread after July 31st. On that date, the last of five, Gunn Bros retail-redemption centers closes.

Lick 'em and stick 'em ...

The company, which was founded in Pampa, will close after nearly 40 years of operations. Area manager Ron Slover officially announced Sunday the stamps will be "worthless" after effective closing dates at the five Gunn Bros outlets. He said the cash value of the trading stamps, expressed in mils, is "practically negligible." The company has outlets in Pampa, Perryton, Hereford, Guymon, Okla. and Amarillo. The regional stores close July 17th, and the headquarters store in Amarillo closes July 31st, Slover said. When he announced the company's closing, Slover said,

'Those little old ladies will run over you ...'

"Any outstanding stamps must be redeemed before the closing dates." But before that official announcement, word had already leaked out about Gunn Bros' closing, and holders of stamps jammed the store Saturday. "I heard about it Wednesday from the secretary out at work," remarked one man, who was standing in one of five

Reagan looking for support for his troop pledge

By MAUREEN SANTINI
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The White House, seeking support for President Reagan's offer to send up to 1,000 American combat troops to Lebanon, says the action could be the "essential linchpin" in resolving the crisis between Israel and the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"The United States has pledged to do all it can do to bring peace and stability to the Middle East, and we must keep that pledge," Reagan said Tuesday during a meeting with state and local officials.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said congressional reaction to Reagan's offer was "generally good," despite reservations expressed by some members of Congress.

Because the troops would be armed, Speakes said the administration would comply with the War Powers Act and notify Congress in advance.

Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr. said he would withhold definitive judgment until he learned more about it.

Sen. John H. Glenn, D-Ohio, expressed strong reservations about the plan. "This may be a cut-and-shoot-combat peacekeeping force," he said in a speech in Oklahoma.

Senate Minority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., offered his conditional approval. Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, also said he backed Reagan.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Alan Cranston of California said it "could be an historic breakthrough for peace and stability."

Sen. Charles Percy, R. Ill., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said troops would be sent

"on a limited mission for a limited period of time and only under certain conditions."

However, Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the risks seemed too high and many questions remained to be answered before he could endorse it.

Speakes said Reagan had told him: "If a brief, limited involvement of U.S. personnel is what it takes, I believe we must do it."

Administration officials stressed no troops would be sent unless requested by the Lebanese government and negotiated as part of an overall resolution to the crisis.

But they said Reagan was willing to pledge such a force for special U.S. envoy Philip Habib to use as a bargaining chip in his 3-week-old negotiations in Lebanon.

While there never could be an absolute guarantee of safety for American troops, Speakes said, "We believe the safety will be preserved, protected because all parties will agree to U.S. participation before the commitment is made."

He said the specific mission of such a force would be "to assist the Lebanese armed forces in overseeing the orderly and safe departure from Beirut of the armed (PLO) personnel and to assist in the transition to the Lebanese authority in Beirut."

A White House official, who did not wish to be identified, said it was risky to estimate how long American forces would remain if they were sent; but he suggested it wouldn't be longer than 30 days.

"What we are talking about is tentative, short-term to insure the safe passage of the armed forces out of Lebanon," the official said. Speakes said U.S. ships could be used for the evacuation.

As to whether the Israelis and Syrians would be required to withdraw along with the PLO guerrillas, the official said: "That is part of the overall goal we are seeking. U.S. troops will not be involved until the whole package is put together."

He refused to disclose what strings were attached to the U.S. proposal, saying any conditions would be raised privately at the bargaining table.

It was understood that the United States believed its offer to send in American troops would reassure the PLO.

Descendants of Bounty mutineers going home

By BOB SANSEVERE
Associated Press Writer

NEWARK, N.J. — A seventh-generation descendant of a sailor who mutinied on the HMS Bounty is hitching a ride by ship back to the tiny island where time has made few inroads since eight rebellious Englishmen settled there.

There are no televisions, no doctors and only one working automobile on Pitcairn Island, where Brian Young, 28, and his family will be dropped by the tanker Stolt-Integrity in August.

As he sat in the Liberian tanker docked for a brief stop en route from Rotterdam, Young used a table top as a makeshift map to point out the tiny volcanic rock in the middle of the South Pacific where English sailors settled after the mutiny on the Bounty on April 28, 1789.

The New York City skyline was framed in a porthole behind Young as he moved an empty can of soda pop to represent New Zealand. An ashtray was Panama. In between was the South Pacific, and smack in the middle was Young's finger, pointing to Pitcairn Island.

Young said more than half of the 50 residents on the 2.5-square-mile British possession are descendants of Edward Young, the Bounty's midshipman, or Fletcher Christian, another of the mutineers who settled there in 1790.

Two movies have been made about the Bounty crew's revolt against the tyrannical Captain Bligh. Clark Gable played Christian in the 1935 film, and Marlon Brando took the role in a 1963 remake.

As he spoke about his island home, Young held an eighth-generation descendant of the midshipman — 5-month-old Anette.

"We're quite cut off from most places," said Young. "We have no drug problems and no vandalism," he said. "If you fell on the ground in civilization how many people would stop to help? On Pitcairn, everyone would help."

Young met his wife, Kari, 37, of Oslo, Norway, in 1973 while she was touring the island.

Mrs. Young also wanted to confer with her Norwegian publishers about "The Last Mutineer," a book she wrote on the history of the island and its inhabitants.

It was not easy for the Youngs, who earn about $40 a week on the island, to get back home. Air fare to New Zealand and passage on a ship from there to the island would cost $8,000, they said.

Young is an electrician and makes wood carvings, including models of the Bounty, for a mail-order company. Mrs. Young was a road maintenance worker but lost her job because she's been away so long.

The Youngs contacted two British shipping lines and the Norwegian company that took them off the island. Finally Stolt-Nielsen Inc., a chemical shipping line based in Greenwich, Conn., agreed to give them free passage on the Stolt-Integrity, which was scheduled to pass near Pitcairn Island.

... meanwhile, back in action in Beirut

By The Associated Press

Israeli tanks, warships and artillery pounded the besieged PLO stronghold in west Beirut without letup today and waves of fighter-bombers thundered in at dawn on mock air raids. The PLO denounced as "ridiculous" President Reagan's offer to send U.S. Marines to evacuate the trapped guerrillas.

Police said at least 22 people were killed and 38 wounded in west Beirut neighborhoods in heavy fighting that continued throughout the night after shattering the fifth Israeli-Palestinian cease-fire at sundown Tuesday.

Israeli gunners on land and at sea poured shell fire on Moslem-held west Beirut. Yasser Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization guerrillas responded with Katyusha rockets and mortar rounds aimed at the Israeli positions in the hills around the Lebanese capital and near the presidential palace in suburban Baabda.

A police spokesman said no damage was reported from Baabda, where U.S. presidential envoy Philip C. Habib has been trying for three weeks to strike a deal to end the Israeli siege that followed Israel's June 6 invasion of Lebanon.

In Beirut, clouds of smoke engulfed parts of the beleaguered Moslem sector and fire engines battled blazes in several buildings.

Israeli jets roared in on one mock dive-bombing attack after another, shattering the sound barrier and driving west Beirut residents into basements and bomb shelters. No actual bombing or strafing was observed or officially reported, however.

Supplies of electricity, water and food were choked off for a fourth straight day to the 8,000 guerrillas and nearly 500,000 civilians believed trapped in the western neighborhoods of the Lebanese capital. Israel has been tightening the blockade since Saturday on the "Green Line" that divides west Beirut from the Christian-controlled eastern sector.

Women and children carrying plastic cans on their heads were seen scurrying through garbage-filled streets searching for water. There was no meat, fruit or vegetables in the city and milk and egg supplies were dwindling rapidly, correspondents in Beirut reported.

Despite its angry rejection of Reagan's offer, the PLO leadership left the door open for some American presence in Lebanon, and the White House said the president's proposal could be the "essential linchpin" to end the bloody Israeli-PLO stalemate.

Reagan said in Los Angeles that he had agreed "in principle" last Friday to send as many as 1,000 combat troops to Lebanon, although the Lebanese government has made no official request for such aid.

The president gave few details and said without elaborating that there were "certain conditions" attached to his offer.

Campaign contributor list is released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intense lobbying has led to a rush by members of Congress to co-sponsor a bill that would require most individual debtors to repay their debts even after they file for bankruptcy, a consumer group says.

Calling the proposed legislation "unconscionable," the consumer group Congress Watch released on Tuesday the campaign contributions made to lawmakers by banks, finance companies and other similar groups.

The list includes $72,750 since the 1980 elections to 22 of the 24 Texas members of Congress.

"The difficulty of bankruptcy law, the intense lobbying for the bill, and the lack of political muscle of those who would be harmed by the bill — the working poor — have all played a role in the rush to co-sponsor the creditors' bill," said Jay Angoff, a lawyer for Congress Watch.

Nationally, the credit industry has given $704,295 in the past two years to 255 of the 269 congress who have co-sponsored the legislation, Congress Watch said.

An analysis of the contributions to Texans reveals, however, that 12 of the 13 co-sponsors of the legislation got only $29,700, while 10 of the 11 non-sponsors got $43,050.

Neither of the two Texas congressmen who got the most money from the creditor political action committees is a co-sponsor.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Beaumont, chairman of the Government Operations Committee, got $13,650 for his re-election bid against four Democratic opponents, and House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth got $9,700.

Nationwide, six creditor political action committees gave $987,154 — including $704,295 to 255 of the 269 co-sponsors of the legislation.

Texas congressmen who are co-sponsors have received these contributions from the creditor PAC groups in the past two years: Phil Gramm, D-College Station, $7,750; Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, $4,900; Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, $3,900; Tom Loeffler, D-Hunt, $3,350; Ralph Hall, D-Rockwall, $2,200; Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, $2,000; Jim Collins, R-Dallas, $1,400; Sam Hall, D-Marshall, $1,250; Charles Wilson, D-Lufkin, $1,000; Jack Hightower, D-Vernon, $950; Marvin Leath, D-Marlin, $900; and Richard White, D-El Paso, $100.

Bill Archer, R-Houston, another co-sponsor, does not accept contributions from political action groups.

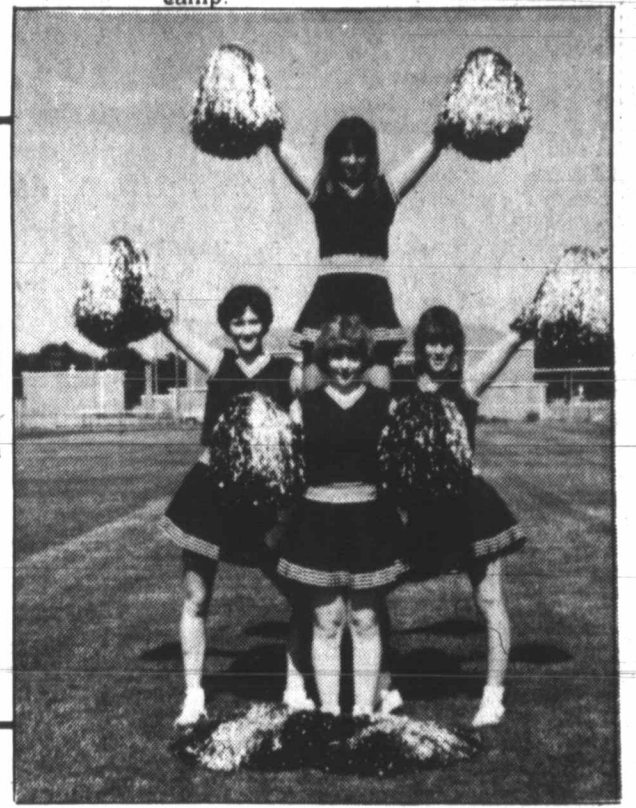

Besides Brooks and Wright, eight other non-sponsors got contributions from the credit PACs. They are Bill Patman, D-Ganado, $5,000; Jack Fields, R-Humble, $3,050; Jake Pickle, D-Austin, $2,700; Ron Paul, R-Lake Jackson, $2,650; Martin Frost, D-Dallas, $2,400; D-Dallas, $3,050; Abraham Kazen, D-Laredo, $1,750; Kika de la Garza, $1,400; and Mickey Leland, D-Houston, $750.

Government wants Sessions at Wood case trial

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — U.S. District Judge William Sessions' long friendship with slain federal Judge John H. Wood Jr. should not keep Sessions from presiding at the trial of the people who allegedly plotted Wood's death, prosecutors contend.

Assistant U.S. Attorneys Ray Jahn, LeRoy Jahn and John Emerson also opposed Tuesday defense attempts to bar government electronic eavesdropping from evidence on the basis of attorney-client privilege and husband-wife privilege.

The privileges do not extend to persons actively engaged in a crime, the prosecution team argued.

The three prosecutors brought to the courthouse Tuesday a tall stack of responses to more than 60 motions filed by a battery of lawyers representing six defendants.

The prosecutors worked during the long holiday weekend to finish the responses after getting a five-day extension from Sessions.

Charles Campion, court-appointed attorney for Jo Ann Harrelson, contended that Sessions should disqualify himself because of his friendship with the slain judge.

He noted that Sessions was an honorary pallbearer at Wood's funeral and presided at a ceremony naming the federal courthouse in Wood's honor.

"The mere fact that the deceased might have been a friend of this court, and that of many other judges throughout the United States, should not operate to disqualify any judge of this district, much less the presiding judge," the prosecution team said in a document filed Tuesday.

El Pasoan Jamie "Jimmy" Chagra, 39, had been scheduled for a narcotics trial before Wood when the judge was assassinated May 29, 1979.

Chagra is charged with murder along with convicted contract killer Charles V. Harrelson, 43, who is accused of firing the fatal shot.

After Wood was killed, Sessions presided at a trial in which Chagra was convicted and sentenced to 30 years without parole on the narcotics charge.

Joe Chagra, 35, and Elizabeth Chagra, 29, Jimmy's wife, are charged with conspiracy to kill Wood, obstruction of justice, and income tax evasion.

Nuclear sale discussed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — An Austin woman who is a close friend of outgoing Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo has met with Mexican officials to discuss selling power from the South Texas Nuclear Project to Mexico.

Cristina Weeks, who was born in Mexico City, and her husband, Curtis, public information officer for the Travis County sheriff's office, took a trip to Mexico City in June and were reimbursed by the city for $959 in expenses.

H.L. Peterson, acting electric utility director, said the idea started as a proposal from the couple to see whether Mexico was interested "and that's just about where it stands now."

Peterson said the Weekses indicated Mexican officials expressed interest during the trip and the couple wanted to pursue the idea.

Details of the sale of nuclear power would have to be worked out and approved by the City Council.

Hance says half of farmers in some areas facing bankruptcy

DIMMITT, Texas (AP) — Half of the farmers in many areas of Texas devastated by June hail and thunderstorms will be forced to declare bankruptcy unless they receive federal disaster aid, U.S. Rep. Kent Hance says.

Hance met Tuesday with farmers at a Dimmitt town meeting, near Lubbock.

He said "three out of every 10 farmers will go out of business" even if U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block implements a federal relief program for Texas farmers.

The Lubbock Democrat said he and other congressmen would be meeting with Block to seek the financial support.

"I am very optimistic that Block will approve the disaster designation. The money is already in the budget for it, so there will not have to be a new appropriation for it," he said.

Hance was the latest in a series of politicians and farm group leaders to call for federal assistance for cotton, wheat and sorghum grain farmers whose crops were ravaged last month by rain, hail and scattered tornadoes.

On Tuesday, the directors of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission asked Gov. Bill Clements to have a 25-county Panhandle area declared a disaster area because of the storm damage.

The chairman of the Panhandle commission said the group was concerned that attention would be focused on farmers in the South Plains region, which recently was toured by a federal task force surveying the damage.

C. Ralph Blodgett, mayor of Spearman, Texas, said the group approved the resolution in an emergency session because members "just wanted to let him (Clements) know we support his efforts."

Clements and several Texas congressmen have asked Block and President Reagan to enact a disaster relief payment program for Texas farmers.

"This is a sad plight that farmers have in this area. What the farmers need is not just money to replant. It is money to survive," Blodgett said.

Cotton farmers in many areas of the state say they face bankruptcy because their crops were destroyed and no time remains in the growing season to replant, he said.

State officials plan butter giveaway

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas officials are trying to spread free butter as far as it will go.

The Department of Human Resources plans to order

748,800 pounds of surplus butter offered by the federal government. However, the DHR board on Tuesday directed the agency to try to find a way to get more of the 50 million pounds of butter to be released from federal warehouses.

Randy Washington, assistant DHR commissioner, told the board

Crop cramping state's elevators

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — As the once-stilted wheat harvest begins to reap what may be the state's largest crop, farmers are hard put for a place to store their bountiful produce.

Heavy rains slowed the summer harvest at first but farmers such as those at Bessie in western Oklahoma had to leave their grain on the ground outside bulging storage buildings.

About 26,000 bushels of wheat was left outside the elevator Tuesday as farmers awaited a rail shipment to Enid.

At Enid, Unon Equity Co-Op wrote to its members: "The tremendous size of the wheat crop has simply overwhelmed the facilities available." Elevator officials said it is "impossible to operate in our normal manner and receive all the wheat during harvest that our members wish to ship to us..."

The regional terminal's capacity is 50 million bushels.

At Buffalo in northwestern Oklahoma, farmers waited in lines up to six blocks long Tuesday for a chance to load their wheat onto tractor-trailer trucks for shipment to Enid.

"We've been open all night all week long," said Gail Zook a bookkeeper at the Feauquy Elevator Co. in Buffalo.

That elevator reached its storage capacity of 225,000 bushels on Sunday, Zook said.

Steve Paris, a spokesman for the Oklahoma Farm Bureau, said farmers are "shuffling in spotted areas across the state trying to find storage."

"The rain held up the harvest and then all the wheat came off at once," Paris said. "A lot of the little elevators are all filled up."

Paris estimated 40 percent of the state's crop was harvested in the past seven to 10 days, while only 25 percent was reaped in the previous four weeks.

He said he expected the harvest to be in within five to eight days.

The state got into the food giveaway business in December 1981 when the federal government released surplus cheese. DHR started with an order for 1.9 million pounds of cheese. By May, the agency had given 4.4 million pounds to organizations that help the needy.

Washington said the butter giveaway would be handled the same way. Groups such as churches and the Salvation Army will be eligible to take the butter from state warehouses. The program will begin later this month or in August.

Dean defers officerholders decision to White

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Officerholders seeking seats in the Legislature are ineligible to run if their current terms of office overlap the legislative term, Secretary of State David Dean has ruled.

But Dean said Tuesday that Attorney General Mark White will have to decide whether a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision means other candidates also are ineligible, or have unintentionally resigned their current posts.

The Supreme Court, overturning lower court rulings, upheld two Texas constitutional provisions related to political candidates.

One provision says paid officeholders are not eligible for the Legislature during the term of their office. The other says certain officeholders who run for another office automatically resign when they do so.

Dean said the Supreme Court left unresolved whether overlapping terms make it illegal for a winning candidate to assume office, or whether "mere candidacy" makes the candidate ineligible even if the terms do not overlap.

He said it was "pretty clear" that the "resign-to-run" ruling "had the effect of vacating a number of offices around the state," but that only White could declare sitting officeholders disqualified.

House Constitutional Amendments Committee Chairman Bob McFarland, an Arlington Republican who requested Dean's opinion on the ruling, said last week that as many as 43 candidates could be affected.

"A number of candidates speculated at their own risk that the U.S. Supreme Court would find (those provisions of the law) unconstitutional," Dean said.

Congress has image problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, once again, is having an image problem — and it's sure not helping members back home on recess in this congressional election year.

Lawmakers were still reeling from the public outcry over the $75-a-day tax break Congress voted itself last year. Now, they've got to answer questions from constituents about a new sex scandal.

"That's the last thing Congress needs," lamented Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker as revelations first surfaced last week of the FBI probe into allegations of sex and drug dealing among some members and their teen-age pages.

But Baker said that, while details of the current allegations shocked him, he's been around Capitol Hill too long to expect members to always be on their best behavior.

"I'm too used to the setting to be surprised by the occasional transgression," Baker said.

And, after all, it had been more than a year since the last big scandal...

It seems that whenever members of Congress become involved publicly with matters of ethics or personal finances, they end up with a lot of explaining to do.

Some seem ready to explain more than they need to — as when former Sen. William Scott, a Virginia Republican, called a news conference several years ago to deny a magazine article's characterization of him as the "dumbest" member of the Senate.

The now-defunct magazine had a limited circulation, and few would have even been aware of the article if Scott hadn't called attention to it with his news conference.

More recently, Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., called a news conference to deny any romantic links with lobbyist Paula Parkinson, who claimed in 1981 that she had affairs with several congressmen — although she never named Railsback.

The present sex scandal also produced a few instant denials, even before any names of members had surfaced. Rep. Larry Craig, R-Idaho, for one, was the first to issue a statement denying any involvement.

Based on letters that flow into congressional offices, the public's perception of Congress seems to fall a notch each time someone tries to slip through a pay raise or a special benefit.

Even trying to undo the immensely unpopular $75-a-day tax break was fumbled several times — and the issue still hadn't been resolved when Congress broke for the Fourth of July recess.

"I think we make ourselves look ridiculous to keep bringing this question up again and again," said Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss.

Their blunders worse than Edsel

NEW YORK (AP) — It was even worse than the Edsel, says Robert Hartley, who writes on the great marketing mistakes of American businesses. He was speaking about the blunders that brought down W.T. Grant Co.

Grant, a retail store chain founded near the turn of the century, had flourished right beside F.W. Woolworth on the Main streets of America, even in the Great Depression. For seven decades it did so.

By the early 1970s it had grown to 1,200 outlets and $2 billion in sales, but a "policy of wild and really reckless expansion in the early 1970s drove it into bankruptcy." It was all over by 1975.

The Edsel, a highly promoted passenger car brought out by Ford Motor in the 1950s, became one of the most dismal and laughable failures in American marketing history. While it cost hundreds of millions of dollars, Hartley observes, the Ford company survived. Grant didn't.

Hartley, a professor at Cleveland State University, has found that people like to read about great failures. Or, more accurately perhaps, that business professors like to assign their students to read about failures. Hartley's book on failures is a big success.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ALL STARS. These eight players were named to the National League starting team for the 1982 All-Star game in Montreal. They are Tim Raines, Andrea Dawson and Gary Carter of the Montreal Expos, Dave Concepcion of the Cincinnati Reds, Pete Rose, Manny Trillo and Pete Rose of the Philadelphia Phillies, and Dale Murphy of the Atlanta Braves. ## Expos, Philly lead NL all-star list

NEW YORK (AP) — Catcher Gary Carter of the Montreal Expos, who hit two home runs and was named Most Valuable Player in last year's contest, led all players in the final balloting for the 1982 All-Star Game announced today.

Carter received 2,785,407 votes in the fan election and is one of three Expos selected for the National League team for next Tuesday night's game in Montreal. Also chosen for the NL starting team from Montreal were outfielders Andre Dawson and Tim Raines. Philadelphia also placed three starters on the team — third baseman Mike Schmidt, second baseman Manny Trillo and first baseman Pete Rose.

The other NL starters will be shortstop Dave Concepcion of Cincinnati and outfielder Dale Murphy of Atlanta. A total of 9,347,447 votes were cast in the computerized balloting sponsored by Gillette. Carter's total vote just outdistanced Schmidt, the two-time National League MVP, who finished with 2,748,210.

Darrell Porter of St. Louis finished second to Carter among catchers with 1,084,013 while Ron Cey of Los Angeles with 1,068,349, and Atlanta's Bob Horner with 1,065,480, followed Schmidt in the third base balloting.

Rose, who set a record when he was chosen to a fifth All-Star starting position last year, finished with 1,845,679 votes to 1,349,123 for Steve Garvey of Los Angeles. Montreal's Al Oliver finished third in the first base race with 1,172,466.

Trillo, runner-up in last year's balloting, won the closest race in All-Star history, totaling 1,506,402 to 1,504,777 for rookie Steve Sax of Los Angeles, a margin of just 1,625 votes. Phil Garner of Houston was third with 1,120,517.

Concepcion, selected as the starting NL shortstop for the fifth time, received 2,203,574 votes to 1,267,543 for Ozzie Smith of St. Louis and 1,051,947 for San Diego's Garry Templeton.

The American League starters, announced Tuesday, will be California teammates Rod Carew at first base and Bobby Grich at second, Robin Yount of Milwaukee at shortstop, George Brett of Kansas City at third,

Babe Ruth district tournament opens tonight at Optimist Park

The Babe Ruth 13-year-old district baseball tournament opens tonight at Optimist Park with four teams playing for the title.

Randall County meets Dumas at 6:30 p.m. tonight while Pampa goes against Top of Texas in the second game, starting at 9 p.m.

The winners meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday night while the losers meet at 7 p.m. Friday night.

The championship finals will be played at 6:30 p.m. Saturday night. A second game, if necessary, will start 30 minutes later.

The team is coached by Joe Davis, John Davis and Joe Jeffers.

Pampa's 14-15 year old all-stars participate in a district tournament next week in Canyon.

Named to the local all-star team were Garland Allen Trace Robbins, Jeff Gaines, Juan Soto and Jimmy Leos of Pampa Hardware, Todd Hardin of Cree Companies, Carey Green, Mike Killgo and Brent John of Grant Supply, Bill Fritz, Wes Stevens, Jimmy Bridges of First National Bank, Gary Clark of the Lions Club, Mike Cochran and Brent Cryer of J.T. Richardson, Ricky Cloud and Rubeen Ramirez were listed as alternates.

Pampa opens the tournament July 12 against Dumas, starting at 6:30 p.m. in Canyon.

The team will be coached by Gerrel Owen and Marvin Elam.

AL roundup Kingman snaps mound slump as Oakland downs Cleveland

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Brian Kingman was hurting — both physically and mentally.

"My knee was bothering me really bad," said the Oakland pitcher, referring to his time on the mound Tuesday against the Cleveland Indians.

Not only was Kingman suffering from tendinitis in his right knee, but a king-size complex after losing his first five decisions since being called up from the minors a month ago.

He desperately wanted a victory — and just as desperately, wanted to go the distance.

Manager Billy Martin and pitching coach Art Fowler gave him that chance Tuesday, and he wound up with a seven-hit, 7-3 victory over the Indians.

"Art and Billy told me to just hang in there," Kingman said. "That showed me they wanted me to win as badly as I did. It meant a lot to me."

Lopes hit a two-run homer in the second to give the A's a 3-0 lead at that point, then added a solo shot in the eighth for Oakland's final run. Henderson ran his major league-leading stolen base total to 79.

Cleveland starter Len Barker, 9-5, left in the sixth after the A's extended their lead to 6-2 on Fred Stanley's RBI single.

In other American League action, it was Detroit 11, Minnesota 6; Kansas City 6, Boston 2; Toronto 4, Texas 2; Baltimore 3, California 2 and New York 8, Seattle 7 in 12 innings. The Chicago-Milwaukee game was called by rain.

Tigers 11, Twins 6

Lance Parrish hit two home runs and Lou Whitaker, Rick Leach and Mike Ivie belted one each as Detroit whipped Minnesota.

The Tigers broke a 1-1 tie with a five-run third triggered by Whitaker's fifth homer. Pete Redfern, 4-9, was victimized by the Tigers' third-inning uprising. Jack Morris, 9-9, was the winner.

Royals 6, Red Sox 2

Hal McRae slugged a grand slam home run in the first inning and Vida Blue pitched seven innings of five-hit ball to lead Kansas City over Boston.

McRae, the league's RBI leader, boosted his total to 76 with the slam off John Tudor, 6-6, the third of his career, as the Royals took two of three games from the Red Sox. The homer was McRae's 13th this year.

Blue, 6-5, was the winner with relief help from Bill Castro, who pitched the last two innings for his first save.

Blue Jays 4, Rangers 3

Damaso Garcia drove in two runs and right-hander Dale Murray provided strong relief pitching as Toronto edged Texas.

Garcia drove in the winning run with a seventh-inning triple following Lloyd Moseby's single. He also produced the Blue Jays' first run of the game with a grounder in the third.

Murray, 5-3, gave up one hit and struck out six in 31-3 innings to win in relief of rookie Jim Gott. Tex starter Frank Tanana, 4-10, suffered his third loss against the Blue Jays without a win this year.

Orioles 3, Angels 2

Cal Ripken Jr. belted a tie-breaking, two-out homer in the eighth inning to lift Baltimore over California. Ripken hit his 11th homer of the season off reliever Doug Corbett, 1-7, to hand the Angels their seventh straight loss.

Winner Dennis Martinez, 9-5, gave up seven hits, struck out five and walked five before needing last-out relief help from Tippy Martinez, who gained his eighth save.

"I haven't had as many hits lately as I'd like to, but a home run in that situation makes it all worth it," said Ripken.

"He set me up with a slider and a sinker," Ripken said of the 0-2 slider he lined into the seats. "That pitch was perfectly in line with the speed of my bat. He could probably get me out a lot on that pitch, but tonight I won the game."

Yankees 8, Mariners 7

Bobby Murcer's leadoff home run in the 12th inning powered New York over Seattle. Murcer hit the first pitch from Seattle's fourth pitcher, Ed Vande Berg, 5-3, into the right field seats at the Seattle Kingdome for his fifth homer of the year. It was the only hit that Vande Berg gave up in 31-3 innings of relief.

New York left-hander Rudy May, who took over in the 10th, gained his second victory in five decisions.

Down 7-0 after 6½ innings, the Mariners scored seven times in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game. Al Cowens' two-run homer off Goose Gosage capped the outburst. Cowens' 12th homer of the year followed a two-run single by Bruce Bochte, off Tommy John, making his third relief appearance of the season.

Borger pair wins Huber tournament

Jody Richardson and Jackie Coffey of Borger shot a 126 to claim the Huber Golf Partnership Tournament last weekend.

Gerald Parks and Bob Montgomery, also of Borger, placed second with a 128.

Joe McMurry and Milton Kasch of Borger fired a 131 to win the first flight A crown. Elmer Wilson and Roy Millron of Pampa took second with a 132.

Miami cager transfers to South Plains

MIAMI — Former Miami High basketball standout Ray Young has announced his intent to enter South Plains College, Levelland, for the 1982-83 school year.

Young, who attended Tyler Junior College last year, was named Most Valuable Player for the Texas Hall of Fame All-Star game his senior year at Miami High School. He was a first-team, all-state choice by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches.

Young, who will be a sophomore at SPC next year, scored 1,409 points and collected 985 rebounds during his high school career. His career average was 24.3 points and 16.1 rebounds, with a game record of 42 points.

The 6-7 center was coached by his father, Roy Young, at Miami.

NL roundup Reds fall deeper into West cellar

By DENNIS D'AGOSTINO
Associated Press WRITER

The Cincinnati Reds spent much of the 1970s dominating the National League. They won six NL West titles, four pennants and two world championships. And they had baseball's best overall record last season.

Now, midway through season, the Reds are just another last-place team with a nine-game losing streak.

"It's almost incomprehensible that this kind of thing is taking place," said catcher Dave Van Gorder. "When you lose nine straight you feel like, 'Geez, what else can happen?'"

St. Louis' Steve Mura, 6-7, handed the Reds their ninth straight loss, beating them, 3-1, Tuesday on a four-hitter and pushing them deeper into the cellar in the West.

In other NL games, Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 3-2, San Diego defeated Montreal 5-1, Chicago topped Atlanta 7-2, Pittsburgh nipped Houston 1-0, and Los Angeles blasted New York 9-3.

The Reds' nine-game losing streak is their longest since they dropped 11 in a row in 1966. Tuesday's loss gave them a 31-49 record, and they trail first-place Atlanta by a whopping 18 1/2 games.

"It's embarrassing having the record we have," said loser Charlie Leibrandt, 1-4. "I'm sure every guy on this team looks at the morning newspaper and says, 'Why? Why is this happening?'"

The restructured Reds lost their 1981 starting outfield of George Foster, Dave Collins and Ken Griffey either to trades or free agency. Their 40-man spring training roster contained 18 players who had never seen action in a Cincinnati uniform.

The Cards, who lead the NL East by .002 over Philadelphia, batted around for three runs in the fourth off Leibrandt. The rally was highlighted by RBI hits by Gene Tenace and Mike Ramsey.

Phillies 3, Giants 2
Bo Diaz' bases-loaded single in the eighth inning gave the Phillies a 3-2 lead, then Tug McGraw came out of the bullpen to pick up the save by setting down the Giants in order in the ninth.

McGraw had spent the afternoon teaching some youngsters about pitching. That night, he came to Veterans Stadium and worked on some of the things he said.

"It helped," said McGraw. "Up until tonight my screwball hadn't reaved the way I wanted to. I threw it without any doubts."

Another Phillie reliever, Spunky Lyle, 3-2, got the victory. Diaz' single came off loser Fred Breining, 4-2.

Padres 5, Expos 1
Padre starter John Curtis, 6-4, singled home two runs while Gene Richards and Broderick Perkins each drove in a run as San Diego sent the slumping Expos to their 12th loss in 15 games.

Eric Show relieved Curtis in the sixth and Luis DeLeon pitched the final three innings.

The second-place Padres moved to within 3 1/2 games of pace-setting Atlanta in the NL West.

Ray Burris, 3-11, was the loser for Montreal.

Cubs 7, Braves 2
The Cubs snapped the Braves' six-game winning streak as Junior Kennedy capped a three-run Chicago seventh inning with a two-run bloop single.

Doug Bird, 5-8, and Willie Hernandez, who earned his seventh save, combined to hold the NL West leaders to six hits. Ken Dayley, 4-5, took the loss for Atlanta.

Pirates 1, Astros 0
Jim Morrison gave Larry McWilliams the only run he needed with a solo home run in the second inning as the Pirates nipped the Astros.

McWilliams, 4-3, acquired from Atlanta last week, ran his record to 3-0 against the Astros this season as he tossed a five-hitter. He struck out four and walked none in his first complete game of the season.

"His best pitch tonight was a white ball with red strings on it," Pirate Manager Chuck Tanner joked. "He threw a good fastball, good breaking ball and good forkball, and he had good control on all of them."

"All my pitches were working real good for me. I had them all tonight and that's kind of unusual," said McWilliams.

Loser Bob Knepper fell to 2-10 even though he allowed just three hits in seven innings.

Dodgers 9, Mets 3
The Dodgers, who lost their fourth straight game, got homers from Ron Hodges and George Foster.

Skellytown players on all-star teams

Five Skellytown players have been named to the all-star teams for upcoming Babe Ruth baseball district tournaments in Borger.

Will Brown and Johnny Furgason will play for the 14-15 year old team while Joe Brown, Brad Clay and Rabbit Rogers are on the 13-year old roster.

Others listed on the 14-15 roster are Neil Bentley, Kevin Powers, Justin Powell and Stacy Scheller of Panhandle One, Felipe Chevez of Panhandle Two, Martin Gately and Randall Hugg of Shamrock, Brett White and Rodney Keown of Clarendon and Preston West of Lefors.

The team will be coached by H.W. McLeod.

Also on the 13 roster are James Ariola, Donald Brogren and Marcus

Smith of Clarendon, Lloyd Morris of Lefors, Curtis Hinshaw of Panhandle One, Scott Hermesmeyer, Chris Koelling, Kip Mayo, Shannon Pipes, Jesse Rocha, Jason Roselious and Wayne Stamps of Panhandle Two.

The 13 year olds will be coached by Bill Hermesmeyer.

The opening round of the tournament begins July 19.

TL roundup Drillers win marathon contest

By The Associated Press

It took six hours and 39 minutes for the Tulsa Drillers and Jackson Mets to score 18 runs, rap out 38 hits, make five errors and leave 42 base runners stranded.

The Drillers came out on top of the 23-inning contest, 11-7, and even drew some light applause from the approximately 50 fans on hand at the end of the Texas League baseball marathon game. There had been 1,105 fans on hand when the game started Tuesday night.

In other Texas League action, San Antonio edged Midland, 7-6. Shreveport slipped past Arkansas, 5-4, and Amarillo nipped El Paso, 7-6, in 13 innings.

Mike Rubel and Tracy Cowgers each had homers for Tulsa in the 11-7 victory over Jackson.

Darryl Strawberry had a homer for Jackson.

The game was tied at 6-6 at the end of nine innings. It remained tied until the 18th when Mike Jirschele singled home

Donnie Scott to give Tulsa a 7-6 lead.

The Mets bounced back in the bottom of the 18th and knotted the game again at 7-7 when Jim Woodward singled home Al Pedrique.

The game remained tied at 7-7 until the top of the 23rd when the leadoff batter doubled and the next two batters walked. Two runs scored when what appeared to be a routine ground ball to second was thrown wild to home and went past the catcher. A line drive single then drove in two more runs and Tulsa held an 11-7 lead. Jackson failed to score in the bottom of the 23rd, bringing the marathon game to an end.

The Drillers pounded out 24 hits and made three errors. The Mets had 14 hits and made two errors. Tulsa stranded 26 base runners and the Mets left 16 men on base.

Dennis Long, 3-1, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Doug Sisk, 6-4.

A two-base error and a single by Luis Quinones drove home the winning run in the other extra-inning game as the Amarillo Gold Sox edged the El Paso

Diablos, 7-6, in 13 innings.

Quinones had three hits in six trips to the plate and drove in two runs for Amarillo.

The winning pitcher was Tom Biko, 2-2. The loser was Butch Wickensheimer, 1-6.

Kelvin Torve slugged a three-run homer in the fifth inning to drive home the winning runs as the Shreveport Captains edged the Arkansas Travelers, 5-4.

Torve also had a solo homer for the Captains, who had only four hits in the game.

Mike Wolters had a two-run homer and a double for Arkansas.

Mike Brecht, 8-5, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Tom Thurberg, 4-5.

Sid Bream singled home the winning run with a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth as the San Antonio Dodgers slipped past the Midland Cubs, 7-6.

The winning pitcher was Bret Wise, 4-0. Tim Milner, 0-1, was the loser.

Palmer defends seniors open title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Professional golf takes a step back in time Thursday when Arnold Palmer begins defense of his U.S. Senior Open golf championship.

The $150,000 tournament, the top senior golf event in the country, is in its third year. The first tournament, which had a minimum age limit of 55, was won by Argentine Roberto De Vicenzo.

The age limit was dropped to 50 for last year's tournament, which Palmer won in an 18-hole playoff with Billy Casper and Michigan club professional Bob Stone in Birmingham, Mich.

The field includes some of the great names of golf:

- The 52-year-old Palmer, who is perhaps the most popular golfer in the sport's history and has won 61 professional tour events, including four Masters titles.
- Casper, 51, winner of 51 Professional Golf Association tour events and one of the best putters the game has known.
- Gene Littler, 51, last year's leading money winner on the seniors' tour with $137,427.

- Bob Goalby, 53, the senior tour's top money winner this year at $35,550.

Other challengers are Doug Ford, Mike Souchak, George Bayer, Art Wall, Dan Sikes, Miller Barber, Gay Brewer and Dow Finsterwald.

The tournament lost one of its biggest names when 70-year-old Sam Snead had to withdraw at the last minute because of eye trouble.

The tournament will be played on the venerable Portland Golf Club course in the city's West Hills. The par-71, 6,439-yard layout, designed in 1914, was the site of the first major victory for Ben Hogan, who won the PGA championship there in 1946.

The 1947 Ryder Cup match was played at the Portland club.

Casper won the old Portland Open on the course three consecutive years.

"This course lends itself to the Senior Open," Casper said. "It is not long but it is very demanding. You have to drive well, and good iron shots are rewarded."

Palmer agreed.

"It's a very good course for the Senior Open," said Palmer, who was followed by an estimated 1,000 spectators as he completed a practice round. "It's not long, but it's challenging enough. The rough is tough, the way the USGA wants it, and the greens are fast. They could get faster if we don't have rain. A lot of what happens will depend on whether we get some rain."

The course may play tougher than Casper remembers it. The fairways have been narrowed 5 to 10 yards since the old Portland Open days.

The 72-hole tournament runs through Sunday with 150 golfers in the field, including some amateurs. Most of them had to survive qualifying rounds. But those with the most success in their golfing careers are exempt, including former U.S. Open, U.S. Amateur, PGA, British Open and Masters champions.

Public Notice Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivadado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

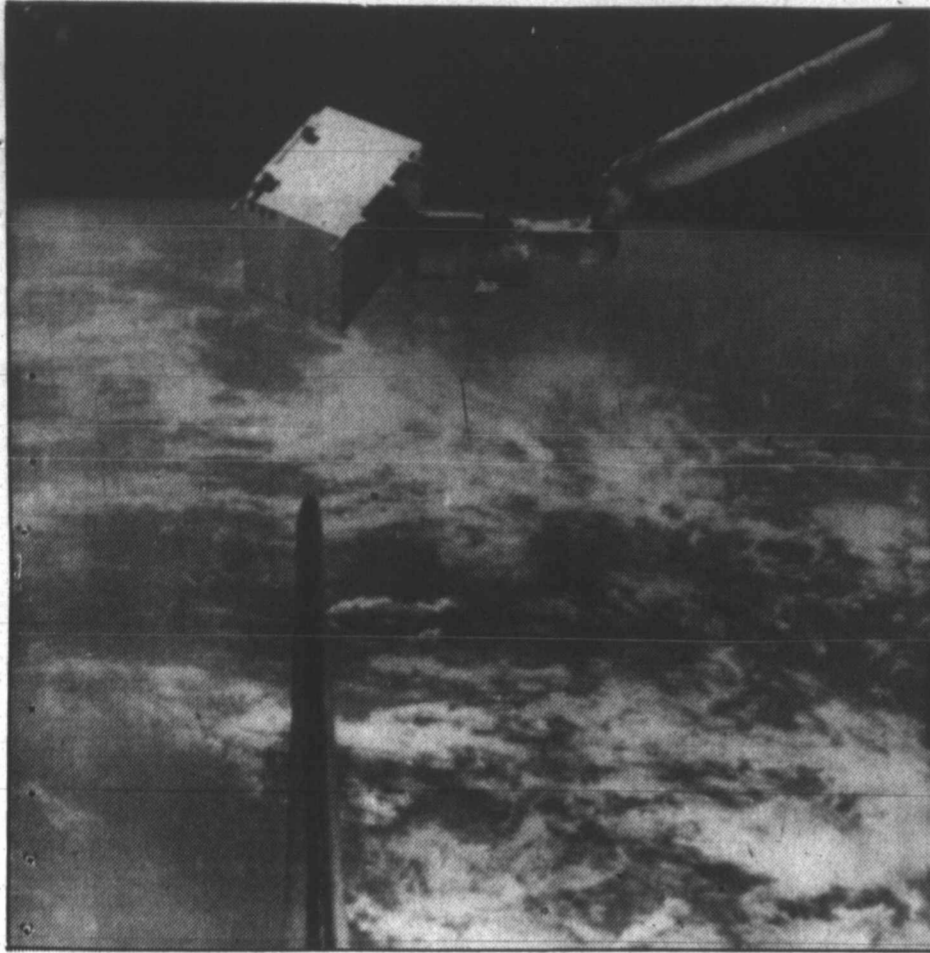

Con vigencia a partir del 10 de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de esta unión se ha archivadado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas también afectararía a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

Teachers united against tuition tax credits

By LEE MITGANG
AP Education Writer

The nation's two rival teacher unions left their annual conventions on opposite coasts united in the belief that President Reagan's plan to give tax breaks to parents of private school students is public education's No. 1 enemy.

Thousands of delegates to the National Education Association convention and their families spent their final session Tuesday marching through downtown Los Angeles carrying anti-Reagan signs and chanting, "Ronald Reagan, he's no good, send him back to Hollywood."

Reagan was elsewhere in Los Angeles meeting with legislators and local officials from 13 Western states.

The 564,000-member American Federation of Teachers, which was meeting in New York, and the 1.6 million-member NEA passed a joint resolution opposing Reagan's "tuition tax credit," which would provide up to $500 in tax credits to parents who send their children to private schools.

"Precisely because our unions are rivals, a move like this adds a bit of drama and impact to our fight against tuition tax credits," AFT President Albert Shanker told reporters.

The AFT ended its meeting a day ahead of schedule after a bitter, racially charged debate over a Boston court order forcing the layoff of white teachers with seniority to save the jobs of black teachers.

During debate on whether the AFT should continue to fight the Boston court order, Harold Fisher, a black teacher from Washington, D.C. Local 6, shouted that the union had deserted affirmative action.

"You are misleading all the people who have believed in this organization, and you will begin to destroy the AFT. We won't have it. We won't stand for it. And if you don't believe it, try it," he said.

After 40 minutes of debate, however, the 2,300 delegates passed an alternative resolution backed by Shanker supporting the court battle in defense of the seniority principle.

It was the only conflict at either meeting, both of which were notably more placid than in recent years. The lack of turmoil, some union leaders speculated, was due to Reagan's ability to unite teachers in opposition to Republican education policies.

The NEA said it had collected 114,000 signatures on anti-tax credit petitions, and the AFT claimed another 100,000 toward a goal of 1 million by the time school starts in the fall.

Lone Star state attracting filmmakers

By STEVE BREWER
Associated Press Writer

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Dale Lockett of the local tourist bureau was knocking on the doors of Hollywood movie studios when he met Yoram Ben-Ami, an Israeli producer with a film script set in El Paso.

"We didn't have a deal set with anybody," recalls Ben-Ami. "I liked the way they urged us to come here and offered all the help. That was the lead to bring us here for the locations. Then we started to fall in love with El Paso."

"If we needed something that wasn't here, we changed the script a bit to fit."

Ben-Ami now is shooting "Lone Wolf," a low-budget adventure film starring karate champ Chuck Norris, in El Paso — an activity that will pump more than $1 million into the local economy.

Lockett is the director of the El Paso Film Liaison, a branch of the city's Convention and Visitors Bureau, and his work to attract filmmakers to the city is being duplicated across the Lone Star State.

"A few years ago, the only city that had a local film commission was Los Angeles," Lockett said. "It's still pretty rare, but this year, there's been an increase in the number of cities that have them."

Texas is leading the trend toward local film offices. Lockett said offices now are open in Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Laredo, Abilene and Marshall.

"Texas consistently ranks third (in filmmaking) in the country behind Hollywood and New York," said Dana Shelton, assistant director of the Texas Film Commission. "The future of production in Texas, we feel, is very strong."

The reason for the growth is a trend that is taking moviemakers off the studio backlots and sending them tramping around the country in search of the proper location.

"There are a number of reasons for the move to location production," Shelton said. "One is the availability of lightweight, portable equipment. There's the desire to get away from the watchful eyes of the studio and get to a remote location. Third, with more sophisticated viewers, you have to have authentic locations."

That's where the local film offices become involved, Lockett said.

"We offer them a staff that can go out and do the legwork and look for an actual location and save the production company a lot of money," he said. "It takes a lot of the load off them. We can do in one day what it would take them a week to do."

Ben-Ami said shooting on location in El Paso actually saves him money because he doesn't have to invest in the construction of sets needed on the backlots.

"By using practical locations that are cheaper than Hollywood or anywhere else, you can allow yourself to pay most of the money to actors, stars," he said. "You can put your money on the screen."

Lockett also acts as liaison between the film company and the city, arranging police and fire department cooperation for certain scenes and making sure the company keeps its promises.

"The only way to compete is to make things very easy and uncomplicated," Ben-Ami said. "The local people — like the extras — are terrific. Everybody's anxious to work."

El Pasoans are adjusting to the city's new-found status as a location area. Since the film office opened five years ago, the city has hosted an average of two movies a year, plus a number of on-location television commercials, Lockett said. Titles include "The Border," "The Getaway," "Wrong is Right" and "Resurrection."

Lockett said the city has been rewarded by the economic benefits of hosting the production companies, with millions of dollars going to hotels, carpenters, extras and supply houses.

"There's also the intangible benefits of tourism and the way people look at the city," he said.

Lockett said there was a tremendous outcry from the community after "The Border" was released because the Jack Nicholson film showed only the seamy side of El Paso. But he says "Lone Wolf" may change all that.

"Lone Wolf" has the potential of really doing good for the city," he said. "The key ingredients for having a good movie for El Paso are there."

The movie features Norris as a maverick Texas Ranger who does battle with bad guy David Carradine. The locations range from desert scenes to a car chase in the downtown area.

Shelton said the promotional publicity from movies probably is as important as the direct economic benefit. The television show, "Dallas," for example, probably has helped tourism in that city as much as anything, he said.

But the direct influx of money is nothing to sneeze at, he said.

There have been 158 feature films shot in Texas since 1971 when the state commission went into business, he said. The best year was 1980, when all or part of 23 movies were shot in the state.

Shelton said the gross budgets of the films that year totaled $115 million. He said the commission usually figures that 40 percent of that across-the-board figure went straight into local economies.

The writer's strike hurt business in 1981, with the gross budgets for 18 movies totaling $99.5 million. This year, films shot in Texas have dropped even more, with only a handful of films being produced in the state.

But Shelton blames the decline not on the state's efforts, but on the industry itself.

"This has been a devastating year for the industry," he said. "The industry is going through a tremendous state of flux. The major studios and the investors are taking a long, hard look at the future this year."

Of most concern is the rapid growth of cable television and special movie channels that require hours upon hours of film to keep viewers happy.

Shelton said that trend may eventually result in more movies being produced, which would be good news for Texas.

Reagan's list a surprise to many

By GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's listing of his foreign policy successes has surprised a few people. But one nice thing is they set a standard that shouldn't be too hard for the incoming secretary of state, George P. Shultz, to beat.

"We've had great successes in a number of areas," Reagan said, and then listed them as follows: —The Sinai peninsula was

No betting on economy future

NEW YORK (AP) — Perhaps the best evidence of an impending economic recovery is when people are willing to bet their money on it. There isn't an awful lot of betting going on these days.

There's a lot of talk of recovery though, which costs only the breath to make a forecast and the possible embarrassment of explaining why it went wrong. But money in sizable amounts isn't backing up the talk.

And that suggests that if the income tax cut now in effect doesn't spur more economic activity, then the talked-about recovery might amount only to getting the patient out of bed and into a wheelchair.

The best supporting evidence to date has been the indications that consumers might be willing to spend more at retail outlets. But that evidence is hardly conclusive, as any automobile salesman can tell you. For four consecutive 10-day periods automobile sales were indeed stronger than in the same period a year ago. But then came a reversal of fortunes, a mid-June slump that dropped sales to the lowest level of the entire recession, just 4.1 million units on an annual basis.

Some merchandisers, such as Sears and Penney, say they have evidence of freer spending habits by their customers, but there has been no strong indication of any general, nationwide enthusiasm to buy. Many of the same retailers who viewed the tax cut as a potential spur to sales are now wondering if a real increase, inflation-adjusted, will come.

Big business offers little encouragement. Scores of big-name companies have cut or frozen salaries, dismissed white collar workers, lowered capital expenditure programs and in general taken to the trenches.

Some industries, such as steel, autos, farm equipment and housing haven't had it so bad in decades. And the suspicion is strong that the borrowing companies are doing in merely to get their bills paid.

Adjusted for inflation, capital spending intentions, which have been steadily lowered over recent months, show a decided hesitancy among cash-starved industrialists to spend much at all.

Just last fall, the McGraw-Hill survey of big spending plans suggested a 10 percent improvement for 1982 over 1981.

returned to Egypt by Israel as provided under the 1978 Camp David peace accords.

—Eleven months of cease-fire in Lebanon because of the "herculean efforts" of Philip C. Habib, Reagan's special Mideast peace envoy.

—The "superhuman job" by outgoing Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. to try to keep the peace between Argentina and Britain in the Falkland Islands.

—"Great progress" toward achieving independence for Namibia from South Africa.

—"The disarray with our European allies" which existed when he took office has been "largely eliminated," and, "They have confidence in us once again."

He also listed a rebuilding of the nation's defenses as a foreign policy achievement.

He didn't explain, and no one asked, how efforts in the Falklands and the Middle East that ended in war can be considered successes.

In fact, there are those who believe that U.S. inattention to the problems in the Mideast contributed to the conflict there. Sol Linowitz, who was president Carter's chief Mideast negotiator, has said the administration lost valuable time by not following up on the Camp David peace process promptly upon taking office.

Were the Argentines encouraged in their effort to capture the Falklands by the administration's moves to improve relations with a military regime that the Carter administration had found reprehensible because of its human rights practices? Did the presence of U.N.

Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick and High State Department officials at a reception at the Argentine Embassy on the very night of the invasion of the Falklands perhaps suggest to the Argentines that the administration didn't disapprove all that much?

Reagan's statement that relations are improved with Europe comes against the background of dismay in Western Europe over the administration's decision to threaten sanctions against U.S. allies if they try to use U.S.-licensed equipment to help build a Soviet natural gas pipeline to Europe.

A senior U.S. official who is an expert in U.S.-European relations thinks Reagan didn't realize the adverse impact of his decision on the Europeans, who feel the pipeline is important to them economically.

Check energy rating when selecting appliances

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Many consumers buy household appliances based on the color, cost or brand name, not the way they perform, say two Brigham Young University home economists, co-authors of "Modern Household Equipment."

But sometimes they may be getting features they don't need and in the process paying more than they can afford, Dr. Carolyn Garrison and Dr. Ruth Brasher point out.

"For the most part there is no best brand," said Miss Garrison, BYU professor of home economics. "Consumers need to shop features and understand what they are looking for."

Ranges are frequently purchased without an understanding of their features and flexibility, she says. For example, an oven timer device, though frequently included, is one of the most underused features on the appliance.

Modern refrigerators have automatic ice dispensers in the door which may appear to be an unnecessary luxury, but according to Miss Brasher, associate dean of the College of Family, Home and Social Sciences, it could save energy in the long run.

"If the kids are opening the refrigerator 49 times a day, they may be using more energy than if they just obtained the ice from the outside," he explains.

"Refrigerators consume 35 percent of all energy used by major appliances — and a lot of that is due to the opening and closing of the door."

According to both professors, appliances are a good buy for the dollar today and cost less proportionately than they did 20 or 30 years ago.

Because of the development of microwave and convection ovens, it may appear that the range has undergone radical changes over the past few decades. But both of these developments were merely either adaptations or an entirely new cooking method, they note.

"About all we've done in the last 100 years is take the fire out of the oven," said Miss Garrison.

The refrigerator, however, has undergone extensive changes. The insulation has been improved and increased, the food-storage area has doubled, and the temperature can be more selectively regulated for vegetables, meat or butter compartments.

Ice and water dispensers are available outside the refrigerator door and some models have fresh-food compartments that are accessible without opening the whole refrigerator door.

Microprocessor options that tell the homeowner that the refrigerator is too hot or cold, that the door is open or that it needs to be defrosted are also featured on some models.

Miss Garrison strongly recommends that consumers buy washers with a permanent-press cycle because clothes are made from so many new synthetic fibers.

"Don't buy a washer without it," she said. "In the washer you want the water hot enough to take the soil out but you don't want to spin it while it's hot; otherwise you'll have wrinkles. The permanent-press cycle dumps in the cool water prior to the first spin."

Manufacturers of eight household appliances — refrigerators and refrigerator-freezers, freezers, clothes washers, dishwashers, space heaters, water heaters, furnaces and room air conditioners — are now required by law to provide energy consumption labels on their products.

These labels tell the consumer how much energy the product will use in one year. The dollar cost is based on a national average for each type of energy (electricity, gas, oil).

According to Miss Garrison, energy consumption rates do vary between different brands, and labels can be an important factor in selecting an appliance. But some consumers don't read the labels carefully enough and often mistakenly compare the energy consumption of a large refrigerator with a smaller one.

"Another problem is that there are so many factors in usage that it may cost the consumer more or less than the label suggests," she said.

Miss Garrison acknowledges that these labeling requirements have added hidden costs to the product, but she believes that as energy becomes more expensive, more consumers will select appliances based in part on their energy consumption.

Black Bottom Pie makes a come-back

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
When I discovered many fine young cooks had never heard of Black Bottom Pie, I knew it was time to revive the recipe. Black Bottom Pie, at its heyday in the 1940s, comes in several versions. Here's a particularly delectable one.

- BLACK BOTTOM PIE
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
  - 1/4 cup cold water
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 3 tablespoons corn starch
  - 2 cups milk
  - 4 large eggs, separated
  - 3 tablespoons light rum
  - 1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
  - 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
  - 1 cup heavy cream

In a small bowl or cup sprinkle the gelatin over the water to soften; reserve.

In a 2-quart non-corrosive saucepan stir together 1/2 cup of the sugar and the cornstarch; gradually stir in the milk, keeping smooth. In a small bowl or cup lightly fork-beat the egg yolks; fork-stir into the cornstarch mixture. Over medium-low heat, stir constantly with a wooden spoon using a figure 8 motion, until the mixture shows it is boiling because it bubbles and sputters, is at least as thick as mayonnaise and mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Remove from heat.

Spoon one cup of the mixture into a small bowl — no need to cover; reserve.

Into the remaining hot mixture stir the softened gelatin until dissolved; stir in the rum. Very lightly place a sheet of saran over the mixture; refrigerate until the mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon — 30 to 45 minutes.

Into the reserved 1 cup mixture stir the chocolate and the vanilla until blended. Spoon into the bottom of the pastry shell; refrigerate.

With an electric mixer at high speed beat the egg whites and cream of tartar until soft peaks form; gradually beat in the remaining 1/2 cup sugar until stiff peaks form. Fold into the chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon over the chocolate mixture in pastry shell. Refrigerate until set — at least 3 hours.

At serving time beat the cream (sweetened and flavored with vanilla to taste) and spread over pie; garnish with extra chocolate, grated or "curled." Or use less whipped cream and decorate with a pastry tube.

To keep cheese from crumbling when cutting, heat the knife in boiling water.

Stale marshmallows can be revived by briefly dipping them in milk.

Hamburger patties cook faster if a small hole is poked in the center.

To keep sausages from curling in the frying pan, link them together with toothpicks.

Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others. Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble:

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness of pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals... call for in-Depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Dear Abby

Herpes victim takes it lightly

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter signed "Shook," whose girlfriend had given VD to several men, I had to write because there is one form of VD I wish more people knew the facts about. It's genital herpes. I am a 30-year-old unmarried man who has had genital herpes for 11 years, so I know something about it, but the horror stories I've read and heard about herpes — "incurable venereal disease" — could scare a person to death!

I've talked to several doctors, and they have all told me not to make love when I have open herpes sores because that is when I could infect my partner. I have followed that advice, and in all the years I've had herpes I have had many different partners and I have never given the disease to anyone.

Having genital herpes is just like having a cold or the flu; the virus is always present in my body, but I am contagious only when for some reason my immune system breaks down and the sores appear. This happens only three or four times a year, and each outbreak lasts about a week.

I just abstain from making love when the herpes sores appear; otherwise, I lead a normal sex life. You may use my letter to educate people about herpes, Abby, but please do not use my initials, name or city, because I live in a small town.

LIVING WITH HERPES

DEAR LIVING: When you say that having genital herpes is like having "a cold or the flu," you have much to learn.

How do you know that you have never infected any of your partners? Some women might not even know they have it — or they might be too frightened to tell anyone. For that matter, are you sure you have it? The symptoms of herpes are similar to eczema and syphilis. The only way to identify herpes is to have a virus culture, Pap smear or some other laboratory tests run by a qualified physician or dermatologist.

Your letter reflects a lack of knowledge on the subject. Dr. William H. Wickett Jr., a leading medical authority on herpes, has written an excellent new paperback on the subject in language that everyone can understand. It should be required reading for every high school and college student. It's titled: "Herpes, Cause and Control" (Pinnacle Books). Please read it.

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago, one of my roommates (a good friend) asked me to be in her wedding. Of course I said yes.

Since then, we had a falling out, but I thought by now all was forgiven and forgotten.

Well, the wedding invitations arrived yesterday — for everyone except me. I know no mistake was made. I'm stumped as to what to do now. Also, what do I do with the expensive gift I bought for her?

NO MISTAKE IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR NO MISTAKE: If there is, as you say, "no mistake," you can consider yourself excluded from the wedding. And if the gift is not returnable, it's yours to enjoy or save for another occasion.

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to: Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Dr. Lamb

Entire family untouched by cancer

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — In my family no one seems to have cancer. None of my grandparents, parents, brothers, sisters, aunts or uncles has ever had cancer or any diagnosis or suspicion of cancer. Fourteen of the 17 aunts and uncles who died were past 80 and the two who are living are both past 80.

Is it possible there is something in our blood that prevents us from having cancer? Suppose a person with cancer were given a pint of blood from one of us, would it reduce or kill the cancer?

DEAR READER — Remember that we really do not know what causes cancer. We do know that a number of factors are involved. A person may be highly resistant or highly susceptible to cancer and we think that factor may be inherited.

If none of your close relatives has had cancer your chances of having a cancer are greatly reduced. In one study of populations 8.9 percent of individuals with one close relative with cancer also developed cancer. When two close relatives had cancer, 16.2 percent developed cancer and if three had cancer, 27.4 percent developed cancer, too.

The individual's resistance to cancer may be related to his immune system. One theory is that we all form cancer cells but when our immune system is in good shape it will destroy these abnormal cells just like your immune system destroys harmful bacteria. Finding ways to increase a person's immunity to cancer cells is one of the promising areas of cancer research.

The immune mechanism or whatever mechanism is involved is not likely to be passed on as easily as taking a blood transfusion. Interferon, now being studied as a cancer treatment, is carried in your bloodstream, but in such minute amounts that obtaining enough to test is a problem. That is why new methods to make interferon have been developed, including producing it with bacteria and yeast through genetic engineering.

Everyone needs to understand the basics of cancer and to know about early signs. I am sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact of Life, for this purpose. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — We would like to know if there are any vitamins that we take: natural C, B complex, Multiple Vitamins plus iron, vitamin E and calcium with vitamin D? I am 56 and my husband is 61. We are both in good health but take these as a supplement.

DEAR READER — I get this question frequently. There are no calories in vitamins. They do not provide energy. Some of the vitamins are important in the enzyme system in your body. Here they aid in your cells' complex reaction of breaking down your energy containing foods, carbohydrates, fats and proteins. The energy (calories) comes from the food, not the vitamins. Of course, if you are vitamin deficient and the calories from the food are not released then you will be tired.

You don't need all those vitamins. The multiple vitamin is quite enough and contains all the RDA levels of the important vitamins you need. If your diet is adequate you shouldn't even need that. And your calcium supplement is far below your daily calcium requirements. You should try to get enough calcium by using fortified skim milk daily. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Tuna's a hero

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor.

Years ago we met up with a wonderful combination, a filling for hero sandwiches. Our local Italian deli made it for the sandwiches they sold, and we found it easy to duplicate at home.

To do so, we cooked onion and green pepper (both cut into thin strips) in a skillet in olive oil, then scrambled them with eggs and grated Parmesan cheese.

Now an American cook has come up with her own variation of this theme — she adds tuna to the onion and green-pepper combination for the filling.

Then she piles the mixture into scooped-out hero rolls, sprinkles them with mozzarella and puts them under the broiler.

OPEN-FACE TUNA HERO SANDWICHES
2 hero rolls, each about 8 inches long
¼ cup olive oil
1 small red onion, sliced

1 large green pepper, chopped
6½-ounce can chunk tuna or 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
6 large eggs
1½ tablepoons water
½ cup shredded mozzarella cheese

Cut the rolls in half lengthwise. Scoop out the excess dough and save for bread crumbs for some other dish. In a large skillet heat the oil; gently cook the onion and green pepper until wilted. Stir in the tuna — if you are using the solid-pack tuna, break it into chunks. In a small bowl beat the eggs and water until foamy; add to the skillet. Cook over medium heat, stirring often, until eggs set. Spoon mixture into rolls. Top with cheese. Broil (in a toaster-oven if you like) until cheese melts. Makes 4 servings.

Canning fresh fruit delicacies

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Summer is an ideal time to can special fruit jams, marmalades and preserves, and for eating peach, pear and pineapple treats now or putting them away for Christmas giving.

With most space at a premium, it is helpful to make smaller quantities of fresh fruit delicacies at a time. These are relatively quick versions for canning, making it easier for the home canner to prepare many batches for canning as the season progresses. This is less tiring and less time-consuming, too.

All the recipes for smaller quantities may be used throughout the year, as the fresh fruits are available.

QUICK STRAWBERRY PRESERVES

- 2 pints strawberries, stemmed and washed
- 7 cups sugar (3 pounds)
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 3 ounces liquid pectin (1/2 of a 6-ounce bottle)

Measure 5 cups whole-ripe berries (a packed measurement, but without crushing). Layer in broad, heavy pan with sugar. Let stand 10 minutes. Bring slowly to boil, stirring gently to keep fruit whole. Remove from heat. Cool at room temperature 4 hours. Add lemon juice. Bring mixture to full rolling boil over high heat; boil hard 2 minutes, stirring gently. Remove from heat; at once, stir in liquid pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon and stir for 10 minutes, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle into sterilized jars. Seal, or cover at once with hot paraffin. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 7 cups. (NOTE: All preserves need to be stored about two weeks before eating to reach perfect consistency.)

- QUICK STRAWBERRY MARMALADE
- 2 pints strawberries, washed and stemmed
- 1 cup orange marmalade
- 2 tablepoons lemon juice

In blender, whirl berries with orange marmalade until smooth. Pour into heavy pan. Add lemon juice. Bring to boil, stirring. Then cook over medium heat 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until mixture thickens slightly. Pour into sterilized jars and seal, or use at once. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 pint.

ORANGE LEMON MARMALADE

- 1 1/2 quarts water
- 3 cups thinly sliced orange peel (about 4 large oranges)
- 3 1/2 cups chopped orange pulp (about 4 large oranges)
- 3 1/2 cups thinly sliced lemon (about 4 large oranges)

Sugar, about 5 1/2 cups
Combine water, fruit and peel in a medium (4 to 6 quart) saucepot, simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Cover; let stand 12 to 18 hours in a cool place. Then, cook rapidly until peel is tender, about 45 minutes. Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Measure fruit and liquid. Add 1 cup sugar for each cup fruit mixture. Bring slowly to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Cook rapidly to jelling point (220 degrees F.), about 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour, hot, into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head-space.

Adjust caps. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about six 8-ounce jars.

SPICED PEACH JAM

- 4 pounds ripe peaches (about 8 cups chopped)
- 4 cups sugar
- 2/3 cup lemon juice
- 1 cinnamon stick
- 5 whole cloves
- 1 piece vanilla bean (about 4 inches)
- 1/4 cup Scotch

Peel peaches by immersing in boiling water for 30 seconds. Slip knife under skin and remove all skin. Remove core and coarsely chop. In large, heavy saucepan, combine peaches, sugar and lemon juice. Place cinnamon, cloves and vanilla bean in square of cheesecloth. Tie and add to peach mixture. Bring mixture to boil over medium heat, stirring often. Simmer 45 minutes, stirring frequently, or until syrup is as thick as honey. Remove from heat and stir in Scotch. Pack into 5 half-pint sterilized jars, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Seal and process by placing jars on wire rack in large, heavy saucepan. Cover with boiling water to cover jar by 2 inches. Boil for 10 minutes in steady rolling boil. Remove from water and let stand at room temperature for 12 hours. Tighten jars and store until ready to use. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 5 pints jam.

PEARS IN CREME DE MENTHE

- 7 pounds pears
- Soaking solution:
- 8 cups water
- 1 tablepoons salt
- 1 tablepoons vinegar or commercial ascorbic acid mixture
- 4 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup creme de menthe

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Peel pears, cut into halves and core. Place in soaking solution to prevent darkening. Rinse and drain. Cook the pears in water, a layer at a time, until just tender, about 5 minutes. Drain and pack pears into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Heat water and sugar to make syrup. Remove syrup from heat; stir in sugar creme de menthe. Carefully ladle over pears, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Remove air bubbles with a non-metallic spatula. Adjust caps.

Process 20 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 5 pint jars.

PEACHES IN AMARETTO

- 10 pounds peaches
- Soaking solution:
- 8 cups water
- 1 tablepoons salt
- 1 tablepoons vinegar or commercial ascorbic acid mixture
- 3 cups water
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup Amaretto

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Peel peaches; cut into halves and remove pits. Place halves in soaking solution to prevent darkening. Rinse and drain. Cook a few peaches at a time in water until heated through. Drain and pack into hot jars, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Cook water and sugar until sugar dissolves. Carefully ladle over peaches, leaving 3/4-inch head space. Add 2 tablepoons Amaretto to each quart jar, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Remove air bubbles with a non-metallic spatula. Adjust caps.

Process 25 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 4 quart jars.

PINEAPPLE IN CHABLIS

- 6 cups pineapple spears (about 2 medium pineapple)
- 2 cups Chablis
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup water

Prepare home canning jars and lids according to manufacturer's instructions. Simmer pineapple in water to cover until heated through. Combine Chablis, sugar and water, simmer over medium-low heat until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat. Drain and pack pineapple into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Carefully ladle syrup over pineapple, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Remove air bubbles with a non-metallic spatula. Adjust caps. Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath canner. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 4 pint jars. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Materials and money should be managed with extra care at work today. Oversights or bad judgment could turn out to be quite costly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is not a good day to take gambles on things which could adversely affect your career if they go awry. Let caution be your byword.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your luck has its limitations today, so don't press it too far. Counting on breaks which may not occur could leave you out on a limb.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In your business dealings today, probe everything in depth to be sure you have all the facts. Jumping to hasty conclusions may cause you regrets.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be very careful how you handle your one-to-one relationships today, especially if you must contend with someone with whom you've had problems.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be sensible regarding your goals and what you hope to accomplish today. There's a possibility you might go after something which won't be worth the effort.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is not a good day to become involved in things where the control is left to others. They may be concerned only about protecting their own interests.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Serious situations should not be swept under the rug today. Don't delude yourself into thinking everything will be okay if you ignore it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be doubly careful today not to antagonize associates whose support you may need at a later date. They won't be blessed with short memories.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Others might not be too willing to aid you today if they think you're not making the most of what you have at hand. Prove that you are.

Haig ends his term

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter J. Stoessel has taken over as secretary of state until George Shultz takes office.

Stoessel, a 62-year-old career diplomat who was deputy secretary of state, took over Monday when Alexander M. Haig Jr. officially ended his 18-month term as secretary, said State Department spokesman Dean Fischer.

Fischer said Tuesday that the decision for Haig to step down before Shultz took over was jointly made over the weekend by President Reagan, Haig and Shultz.

Stoessel took over Monday, and Haig ceased being involved in negotiations to settle the Lebanese crisis, Eisher said. Until then, the spokesman said, Haig was in contact with Reagan and others in the effort to end the fighting in Lebanon.

Total British rail shutdown threatened

LONDON (AP) — With thousands of weary commuters facing more traffic jams, Britain's strikebound rail network says it is quickly going broke and will probably shut down for weeks unless more engineers defy their union and work.

Large tie-ups began building up early today on London's roadways as commuters gave themselves extra hours of travel time in the fourth day of the engineers' walkout over new schedules.

Sir Peter Parker, chairman of British Rail, told reporters Tuesday night he was only "mildly encouraged" by the number of train engineers crossing picket lines since the strike started at midnight last Saturday, cutting service by more than 90 percent.

He said that despite the increasing numbers of train engineers returning to work, "we are expecting a long strike" of several weeks by the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

Asked about the possibility of a total shutdown of the 11,000-mile state-owned network until the strike ends, he said: "We may have, in due course, if we run out of funds, to do that."

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's Conservative government increased the possibility by announcing earlier Tuesday it had decided to suspend payment of the $2.6 billion grant it gives British Rail each week to subsidize services. Even with the grant, the network is losing $240 million a year. Suspension of the grant will last until the railroad returns to normal. The government decided that because of the strike, British Rail was not running a service as specified in its contract and therefore was not eligible to receive the payment.

"The management is drawing up plans to close the network completely unless there is a dramatic increase in the number of drivers reporting for work and trains being operated," The London Times reported.

Latest British Rail figures showed the network ran 1,401 passenger trains Tuesday out of the scheduled 15,967, plus about 100 freight trains. This compared with 1,250 trains that ran Monday.

The figures showed 8 percent of passenger services operated Tuesday and 800 engineers worked normally compared with 550 Monday. The union has 25,000 engineers.

Employment Secretary Norman Tebbit told the House of Commons that the union's leaders "are murdering the jobs of their members and their members will remember it."

The union struck to protest the introduction of new flexible work schedules British Rail claims will increase efficiency. The rail network says the issue is non-negotiable and no talks will be scheduled until the strike is called off.

The engineers have worked eight-hour shifts since 1919.

They say accepting seven-hour or nine-hour shifts as demanded by British Rail would cause layoffs. British Rail has linked a 5 percent pay raise to productivity improvements from the flexible work schedules.

Train services varied widely around the country Tuesday. Thousands of commuters were able to travel into London by train, but others were forced to jam together on seats and stand in aisles.

Multimillionaire fought for life

HOUSTON (AP) — A 73-year-old Houston multimillionaire apparently battled for his life before he was shot several times and killed by an intruder who broke into his office, a friend who viewed the murder scene says.

L. Keith Baldwin, the semi-retired founder of two petroleum firms, was shot several times in the head, chest and abdomen, investigators said.

"He was roughed up pretty coked up," said W. Cecil Sisson, an 84-year-old real estate and mortgage broker whose office was in the same building in the exclusive River Oaks neighborhood.

"They did the job. They murdered him. He had put up a fight, you see. He had tried to get out of the office and he fell three feet from the door," he said.

Officers said marks on the walls provided further evidence of a struggle. When a man delivering newspaper discovered the body Tuesday morning, Baldwin probably had been dead about 12 hours, police said.

No arrests had been made in connection with the slaying late Tuesday.

Baldwin apparently first was assaulted in the back room of his three-room office, police said. But officers said his wallet was not disturbed and his car remained parked in the building's lot.

News briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airlines may continue to exchange or trade airport landing rights — but not sell them — under action taken by the Federal Aviation Administration.

The FAA announced Tuesday that it is suspending for a year the practice of buying and selling airport "slots" — authority for a single flight into an airport at a certain time. The practice, which went into effect May 10, was aimed at providing landing rights at 22 airports where flights have been tightly controlled since last summer's strike by air traffic controllers.

Four industry groups complained that the practice allowed "financial speculation."

ELTON JOHN MALCOLM BALDRIGE LORD LAURENCE OLIVIER

Names in the News

LONDON (AP) — Lord Laurence Olivier will portray "King Lear" for the first time in 36 years, taking the part of the tragic hero who is betrayed by two of his daughters in a new British television production of the Shakespearean play.

The 75-year-old actor, who last played the part at London's Old Vic Theater in 1946, will produce the play on Britain's ITV network, rival to the publicly funded British Broadcasting Corp.

In "King Lear," actress Faye Dunaway will take the part of Regan. Also in the cast are John Hurt as the fool, Leo McKern as Gloucester, Colin Blakeley as Kent, Dorothy Tutin as General and Anna Calder-Marshall as Cordelia.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — As thousands of fans awaited his arrival, rock star Elton John was spirited onto the grounds of the annual Veiled Prophet Fair disguised as a policeman.

He came out of his hotel and walked through the crowd and nobody said world," said police Lt. Col. James Hackett, who dreamed up the plan for John's Monday appearance.

The British entertainer arrived in a police car while two limousines pulled onto the fairgrounds at the same time, apparently heralding his arrival.

By the time the two-hour concert started, the performer had shed his law-and-order garb for a black matador outfit with gold sequin trim, a gold belt and a pink sash.

Few of the 500,000 people who gathered on the St. Louis riverfront seemed to mind the deception.

NEW YORK (AP) — In the second such act of charity in less than a year, a big-hearted New York City policeman has opened his home to someone in need.

Last October, police officer William Fox talked a 17-year-old boy out of a suicide leap, then cared for him until Easter when the youth and his mother were reunited.

Over the weekend, Fox took in Victor Harper, 58-year-old British tourist who had lost his last $500 to a pickpocket.

"If it hadn't been for Mr. Fox, I would have spent Fourth of July at the Men's Shelter on the Bowery," Harper said.

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — Just because you live in Washington, D.C., it doesn't mean you have to hang up your boots. Just ask President Reagan — and U.S. Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige.

Everyone knows of the president's riding prowess, but fewer people are familiar with Baldrige's cowboy background.

The 12-year veteran of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys' Association has agreed to compete in the team roping event at Nampa's Snake River Stampede, July 13-17, a rodeo spokesman said Tuesday.

calling for official supervised housing for the approximately 100 pages in residence at any one time, as most of the 14- to 18-year-olds must find their own accommodations. The housing concerns come in light of allegations that former pages may have been involved in drug trafficking and illicit sex. (AP Laserphoto)

Congressmen want dorm for pages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disturbed by reports that former congressional pages may have engaged in drug trafficking and illicit sex, some lawmakers are renewing calls for construction of a dormitory where the teen-agers could be supervised.

The recent allegations have prompted several members of Congress to question whether pages on Capitol Hill are able to handle weeks or months of unsupervised residence in Washington.

At present, there is no official dormitory for the pages, who range in age from 14 to 18 years old.

Most of the approximately 100 pages who work in Congress as messengers and errand-runners at any one time must find their own accommodations. However, some of the young men live in housing provided by the U.S. Capitol Page Alumni Association and some of the girls stay in the Thompson-Markward Hall, a private facility.

"For several years I have been working for the establishment of an official dormitory where these young people could be quartered and supervised under tight control," said House Majority Leader James Wright, D-Texas, in a recent statement.

When youngsters are through with their school and page duties, he said, they "suddenly find themselves footloose and free of any real supervision in a city full of temptation."

The issue has come up before. Six years ago, congressmen in the House Education and Labor Committee discussed the lack of supervision for the pages in off-duty hours. The hearings were on the Capitol Page School, which is run by the District of Columbia.

House Doorkeeper James Molloy, whose office oversees the pages, said during those hearings that the supervision issue was "a potential time bomb." Molloy also asked for construction of a dormitory.

Wright said his previous efforts to establish such a facility "failed because many members of Congress felt they might be criticized for spending government money for such a purpose.... Maybe these new reports will help change that attitude."

Authorization for such a facility exists, according to Sen. James Abdnor, R-S.D., and land for it has been purchased near the Capitol.

But Abdnor said the House Office Building Commission, which killed the project in 1980, must approve the dorm, and the funds would have to be appropriated.

There was no immediate comment on a revival of the proposal from the office of House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., who chairs the commission.

Last week, the House ethics committee announced it was investigating allegations of drug trafficking among pages. The panel is also probing allegations that some members have sought sexual favors from the youngsters.

Northern plains battered by storms

Winds gusting to 100 mph flipped autos, trucks and small airplanes, blew down trees and towers, and injured scores of people as thunderstorms and tornadoes roared across the northern Plains.

The line of storms swept into Illinois early today, washing out roads with up to 5 inches of rain. Three youths nearly drowned when they were swept down a storm sewer.

One man in Sioux Falls, S.D., was in critical condition with a chest injury, and dozens more were treated for minor injuries, mostly cuts from flying glass on Tuesday, officials said. At least 18 people in Wisconsin were injured, none critically, including a woman and her 21-year-old son, whose house trailer was overturned near Watertown in the central part of the state.

"It was just straight winds," said meteorologist Mike Weiland of Sioux Falls. "It can produce damage like a tornado, but there's no turning of winds like a tornado."

Tornadoes touched down in Iowa and Minnesota, destroying a cattle shed and a silo and extensively damaging two barns and a farm shed in northern Iowa.

Winds gusting up to 100 mph blew down a transmission tower for radio station WIXX and damaged 60 trailers at the Wall Street Village trailer park in New Richmond, Wis., near the Minnesota state line. Some of the trailers were moved 100 feet or more off of their foundations.

At least a dozen funnel clouds were sighted over central Minnesota but there were no reports of injury or property damage. Thunderstorms were scattered over central and southern Minnesota into west-central Wisconsin and north-central Iowa following record high temperatures on Monday.

Galesburg police officers swallowed water and were reported in serious condition after rescuing three boys who were swept down a storm sewer around midnight.

Police officers Fred Foster, 40, and John Woolsey, 23, swallowed "a bunch of water down the wrong pipe," said a spokesman at Cottage Hospital. The three rescued youths were not identified.

Three roads and a bridge were washed out in Marshall County in northern Illinois, said sheriff's dispatcher John Otto. Several power outages also were reported in the Chicago area as lightning struck utility lines on the city's South Side and in northern and northwestern suburbs.

The storms dumped more than 1.5 inches of rain in the Des Moines, Burlington and Cedar Rapids areas of Iowa. Flash flood watches were in effect through the night for some areas.

In Sioux Falls, .72 inches of rain fell in 8 minutes and hail as dense covered the ground like snow in some parts of the city.

The winds pushed a street sweeper about 100 feet into a line of parked cars and knocked over two semi-trailer trucks in the middle of a busy avenue in eastern Sioux Falls.

Quake rocks California desert

LUCERNE VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A mild earthquake rocked the California desert early today, but caused no reported damage, officials said.

The tremor registered 3.2 on the Richter scale, according to Clyde Campbell, a warning controller for the state Office of Emergency Services in Sacramento. The quake, at 1:44 a.m., was centered about 20 miles east of Lucerne Valley, near Sugar Loaf Mountain in San Bernardino County.

"That's way out in the desert and there'd be very few people around who would feel it," Campbell said.

A dispatcher for the San Bernardino County Sheriff's Department in nearby Victorville said the sheriff's office had gotten no calls about the quake and no damage had been reported.

Lucerne Valley is about 80 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

In Palm Springs, to the south, police dispatcher Dave Johnson said, "We received a couple of calls, but nothing major."
