GOTHAM VETS VOTE AGAINST FAVORED PLAN

NEW YORK'S VOTE OF 81 DRAWS BOOS AT CONVENTION

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 25 (AP)—Frank Beigrano, San Francisco banker, today was unanimously elected national commander of the American Legion to succeed Edward A. Hayes of Decatur, Illinois.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 25 (AP)—Raising its voice in a monstrous "aye," the American Legion today demanded the immediate cash payment of the veterans bonus certificates by the government. The vote was 887 to 183.

Payment, Legion officials have estimated, would require an outlay of about two billions of dollars by the government.

There were some boos in this 16th annual convention of the Legion as some states demanded frequent calls of "question" as the speakers finished. There were boos and applause at times when speakers against the bonus resolution concluded.

Immediately the vote was announced, the big theater began to empty, jangling the remark of Ray Kelly, legislative chairman, "This is what we're all waiting for" as he presented the bonus resolution. There was a minority report, and although Commander Hayes and others had forecast controversy over the bonus, the resolution went through to adoption in an hour.

Chairman Kelly moved the adoption of the resolution. There was a roar of "I second" but Commander Hayes gave the credit for seconding it to Max Bloomberg of Johnstown, Pa.

Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, a Legionnaire and militant advocate of bonus payment, was the first to be recognized to speak on the resolution, but a smashing call of "question" showed the veterans impatient to vote on the motion to adopt.

The common motion, and Patman proceeded. Patman endorsed both suggestions of the resolution, saying veterans who have borrowed as much as 50 per cent of their certificates will receive no more unless interest charges are waived and cancelled.

The interest would consume the remaining 50 per cent by the time the certificates mature in 1945, he said. "These certificates may be paid without the expansion of currency or they may be paid with expansion of the currency," he said. "Payment will require the recovery program. It will be a God-send to the people of this entire country of ours."

The Texas department with 31 votes voted unanimously for the bonus measure.

CONSOLIDATION PLANNED SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 25 (AP)—Delegates to the West Texas Methodist conference today entered business sessions, taking up first the matter of approval of consolidation of the West Texas Methodist brotherhood, a minister's benefit, with the other four brotherhoods of Texas and one in New Mexico. Overhead in maintenance and distribution of benefit funds would be decreased under the plan. Bishop H. A. Boaz presided.

Russian Jay Walkers Don't Like to Pay MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow traffic policemen are having a merry time with fawkers.

The Russian habit of crossing streets indiscriminately slowed up motor vehicles and resulted in so many accidents that strict rules for control of pedestrians were adopted. But enforcing the regulations is something else.

On main thoroughfares officers are empowered to fine trespassers on the spot. The fine is one ruble (50 cents) if paid immediately.

But if the culprit argues and forces the officer to escort him to a police station, the fine is two rubles at the end of the first block and it goes up to 10 rubles by the time the station is reached.

Women, especially shawled peasants hurrying to market with bags and boxes of produce and cans of milk, resent the new system and argue bitterly against paying fines, urged on by crowds of gleeful bystanders. The police officers calmly start their victims toward the station house and usually collect before the fine has mounted very high.

The traffic policemen blow whistles when they see a jaywalker angling across a thoroughfare, but many of the latter make a run for it and are cheered by onlookers if they outprint the officers.

THE NEW PAMPA Fastest Growing City in Texas—Panhandle Oil and Wheat Center

Twinkles This column threatens to get back to normal in a day or so—and normalcy is a rare product in these times.

The legislator threatens to create new political districts at will to overturn elections. Next thing we know is that Dallas may be trying to elect Fort Worth's representatives, or vice versa.

Skippy, the family pup, continues to be amazing. After being given, with much struggling, a dose of castor oil, he concluded the session by licking the spoon.

Lacking, this year, our former ability to hand the Harvesters victories by traveling with them we've changed our tactics and are watching the rival elevens instead.

If criminals ever take up the practice of traveling in these 400-mile-an-hour speed planes, those who give pursuit might meet the villains "coming back."

Musings of the moment: It wouldn't be Texas if the Centennial did not get muddled by politics. The question is whether we're trying to sell Texas to Texans or the nation generally or competing for monuments. Pampa demonstrated last year that a celebration can pay its own way.

THIS AGE BUSINESS

You've heard that the intelligence of the average American was about 12 years. But, it seems, somebody started this as a false rumor and until recently no one took the trouble to correct it. At any rate, the average mental age is now said to be 17.7 years. Tests made during the war have not stood the test of time. The ability to learn reaches its peak between 22 and 23 years, then slides off. However, ability to learn new tricks does not seem to be a fair criterion. An old dog who remembers his old tricks and learns new applications of them is apt to appear smarter than a clever young dog. But an old dog is likely to think himself smarter than he really is—From this column.

Bank Night Will Be Tested Under Lottery Measure

Mr. Blair was indicted by the grand jury but the charge was ruled a misdemeanor and transferred to county court. Mr. Blair's company has the belief that the plan used is not a lottery in the legal sense, and the case will be fought on that basis.

Bankers Pledge To Loosen Coin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—American bankers replied today to President Roosevelt's request for a loosening of private credit by unannouncedly adopting resolutions promising to cooperate with the government but demanding a balanced budget.

There was no discussion on the resolutions. The cooperative resolution said reports indicated encouraging signs "that business is now beginning to seek a greater volume of bank credit which has been and is available for its use."

It is to be hoped that to a steadily increasing degree industry and trade will avail themselves of the comprehensive banking facilities which both government authorities and bankers are recommending that they utilize," it added.

The demand for a balanced budget said the association recognized that emergency expenditures were at times called for in the interests of human welfare.

JERSEY SILK DYERS CLOSE JERSEY MILLS

30,000 EMPLOYEES ARE AFFECTED IN NEW STRIKE

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—Practically every dyer in the Paterson area was unable to start operations today, as silk and rayon dyers started a strike which is expected to involve 30,000 dyeing employees in the Paterson valley and the New York metropolitan area.

In Paterson, Haledon Hawthorne, and East Paterson enthusiastic picket lines began their march up and down before the plants well before the 7 and 7:30 a. m. (EST) opening hours, shouting, cheering and singing.

The strike, the first major industrial dispute since President Roosevelt made his plea for a truce between capital and labor, was called in an effort to enforce the demands of the dyers for better wages, shorter hours, a guaranteed minimum wage, and a closed shop.

Outside the immediate Paterson area no shops were reported operating. Picketing had not started but the striking employees were gathered about the shop entrances.

Elaborate police precautions had been taken, but no disorder or trouble of any sort occurred in the strike's opening hours. All police vacations and days off were cancelled so that any emergency could be met.

Police Chief John Murphy, of Paterson, announced last night his intention is prepared to give protection to any one who cares to work. He has cancelled all time off for his men.

Emanuel Shavick, counsel for the Institute of Silk Dyers and Finishers, the employers' group said the mills would be closed as usual today for "legal workers."

When negotiations for a new contract began two months ago the union asked for a 30-hour week at $1 an hour and a closed shop. The closed shop was the sore point of the strike. Neither side would change its attitude.

STREAM-LINED TRAIN SMASHES MARK OF 1906

Cross-Country Run Is Made in 56 Hours, 56 Minutes

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (AP)—The record-breaking streamlined train of the Union Pacific, the M-1001, rolled into Grand Central Station at 9:56 a. m. (EST), today, completing its cross-country run from Los Angeles to New York City in 56 hours and 56 minutes.

The running time for the coast to coast trip set a new record by the previous record set in 1906 when the late E. H. Harriman, then chairman of the Union Pacific, traveled from San Francisco to New York City in 71 hours and 27 minutes.

Aboard the new record setter today was W. A. Harriman, present chairman of the Union Pacific and son of E. H. Harriman.

As the M-1001 pulled into the station crowds surged forward to get a first glimpse. The red cap and blue overalls of the crew, ordinarily reserved for use of distinguished passengers, aboard the Twentieth Century Limited was spread.

The party aboard the train was welcomed by John McKenzie, New York City commission of docks in the absence of Mayor L. Guardia.

The train was held to the 18-hour running time of the Century Limited. Crowded conditions on the train were around New York forced it to stop up as it neared its destination.

The sub-shaped flyer set a world's speed record of 124 miles an hour, but over the final lap of the journey its speed diminished to less than 60 miles an hour.

The 476-foot train, powered by a 906-horsepower Diesel engine, left Los Angeles at 10 p. m. Pacific standard time Monday.

UNITED STATES PROTESTS OIL PLAN OF JAPS

JAPANESE PROPOSE TO MONOPOLIZE CRUDE IN MANCHUKUO

LONDON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The British and American delegates to the preliminary naval conversations were reported authoritatively today, following a meeting at the prime minister's residence, to have decided that the general proposals of Japan were unacceptable. The representatives of the two Anglo-Saxon nations were said to have agreed to ask for a full outline of the complete technical plan which Japan wants to use as a basis for a new naval treaty.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The United States has made representations to Japan against the proposed Manchukuo state oil monopoly on the grounds that the monopoly would be detrimental to American oil companies and in violation of the open door policy and the nine-power treaty.

Great Britain and the Netherlands whose nationalities are likewise affected, were understood to have made similar separate representations, but there has been no joint action by the three nations.

The American representatives were made because the proposed state oil monopoly would cause a great loss in investment and business to the Standard Oil company, an American concern.

The British and Dutch representations were made because of a similar detrimental effect on the Asiatic Petroleum company jointly owned by British and Dutch.

American Ambassador Grew has also held a number of conferences with Japanese foreign office officials concerning recent legislation affecting foreign oil companies now doing business in Japan.

The new laws were said to require all foreign oil companies to store a six-month supply of oil in tanks in Japan, and give the Japanese government the right to set the price at which the oil should be sold and the right to take over the stored oil at any time.

The American oil companies doing business in Japan have sought state department assistance in an attempt to secure modifications of the new laws because of the greatly increased cost of doing business under them and the insecurity of their property.

To comply with the new laws, it was said, would mean that the oil concerns would be forced to build considerably larger tankage facilities, at which the oil should be stored over an extended period.

Observers here said they assumed the laws were passed to insure Japan an adequate oil supply for its naval and merchant ships for any emergency.

Japan is forced to import virtually all oil used by that nation. The new laws were said here to be the only such laws enforced by any nation against foreign companies.

Oil, Railroads Will Pay Most Of County Taxes

With the tax roll completed this week, Tax Collector Jack Back is sending out notices to taxpayers.

However, interest and penalty provisions on delinquent taxes, past and future, are in the hands of a legislative free conference committee, whose report may or may not be accepted. Something apparently will be done to afford tax relief.

Mr. Sprague also invented the multiple-unit system of train control, which is now in general use, and a system of regeneration used on mountain electric railways and on high speed electric elevators.

LONG SENATOR BATTERED IN HOTEL FIGHT

OVERTON CARRIED TO ROOM BLEEDING AND BRUISED

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 25 (AP)—United States Senator John H. Overton, colleague of Senator Huey P. Long, and Burt W. Henry, attorney and president of the Honored Election League of New Orleans, engaged in a furious fist fight today in the lobby of the Roosevelt hotel.

The fight lasted for a minute or two and fast blows were swung and hard locks landed. Overton was carried to his hotel room badly battered. The senator stated that the fight was caused by his refusal to apologize to Henry for remarks he made on the floor of the United States senate.

Overton was suffering from a cut over the right eye, a badly lacerated mouth and a bruise on the cheek. He was bleeding profusely when carried to his hotel room and given medical attention.

The fight was provoked when the two men met in the lobby of the hotel and it was stopped by bell boys.

BRAZOS RIVER BILL IS SENT TO GOVERNOR

Method of Relieving Tax Burden Is Devised

AUSTIN, Oct. 25 (AP)—Legislative action was completed today on the first phase of the governor's five-point program for which the senate voted 19 to 6 on the Brazos river bill, thus sending it to the governor for his approval.

Senate sponsors of the bill discredited questions raised by both senate and house members as to its constitutionality. On the ground it was a remission of taxes for which a two-thirds majority was necessary. They announced they were convinced of validity of the act.

Two points of order, based on the same contention, were overruled by Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt immediately preceding the final legislative action on the bill.

Consummation of permanent legislation on another phase of the program was speeded also by the senate, with passage of a bill carrying a house number, to alter tax collection statutes to ease the burden on property tax payers.

The senate today quickly passed finally a house bill to provide a permanent method of easing the burden on payers of property taxes.

Text of a senate bill on the subject was substituted for that of the house measure, requiring additional house action. The vote was 27 to 2.

Negative votes on the bill were cast by Senators T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and Will D. Page of Tyler.

The senate's proposal as written into the house bill agreed generally with the latter but differed in several specific instances.

As passed by the senate, the bill would encourage early tax payments by permitting payment of 97 per cent in October, 98 per cent in November and 99 per cent in December to be considered as full payment of assessments.

Penalties and interest on delinquent taxes would be reduced as follows: One per cent penalty if paid in February; two per cent in March; four per cent in April; six per cent in May, and eight per cent in June. After June 30, the statutory penalty of 10 per cent and interest of six per cent would accrue.

Semi-annual payment of taxes would be permitted. Provisions of the bill would be optional with cities, towns, and school districts.

CLAIMS GERMAN AND 'JOHN' ARE SAME

Talked With Man an Hour Yesterday in Jail

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—The Jersey Journal in a new story today said the state of New Jersey will contend at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann that the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was deliberately slain in his crib the night of the kidnapping, March 1, 1932, and his dead body then carried away by the kidnapers. This, the paper says, is why no indictment for kidnaping Hauptmann, who pleaded not guilty yesterday, will be returned charging him with the murder of the child.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP)—Dr. John F. Condon, yesterday identified Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the man "John" to whom he paid $50,000 ransom money for the promised return of the Lindbergh baby, it was learned today from an authoritative source.

Dr. Condon, known as "Jafsie," made the positive identification after an hour and a half's conversation with the German alien, immediately after Hauptmann had pleaded "not guilty" to the charge of murder in the court house at Flemington.

Details of the conversation between the two were not revealed but it was understood that "Jafsie" talked about many of the things that he and the intermediary discussed that dark night as they sat on a bench in a Bronx cemetery.

Dr. Condon had talked with Hauptmann in the Bronx county jail soon after the carpenter's arrest at that time said he was not certain of the identification.

He went to Flemington yesterday after his talk with Hauptmann, pledged Attorney General David T. Wilentz to secrecy as to the outcome of the conversation.

Wilentz today continued to decline to discuss the results, saying "I cannot talk until Dr. Condon releases me from the promise of secrecy."

Ellen McAdoo's Marriage Plans Are Postponed

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25 (AP)—Marriage plans of Ellen McAdoo have been postponed for the present, the 12-year-old daughter of Senator William C. McAdoo said today after a spokesman for her father announced she would be disinherited if she married Rafael Lopez de Onate actor.

"We are not going to get married right away," said Miss McAdoo. "But that does not mean we have given up hope and that either of us is backing out."

County Clerk D. G. Clayton of Riverside county reiterated he would not grant a license to Miss McAdoo and De Onate until the 38-year-old actor proves conclusively he is Spanish and not a Filipino.

Mrs. McAdoo said only "the wedding plans have been postponed."

De Onate, who was born in the Philippine Islands, indignantly denied there is Filipino blood in his veins. Both his parents, he said, were Basques. California law forbids marriage between caucasians and orientals.

AIR ATTACKS NOT YET LIKELY
PAMPA IS FAR INLAND, measured by any sort of land transportation. With airplanes, it is a different story. San Antonio is the nation's air capital. Planes stationed there could damage Pampa buildings as an easy day's assignment, and terrorize many points en route as a chore.

But the advantage of so doing would be small, even if the planes belonged to an enemy. Aside from the horrors involved, Pampa transportation facilities would be the main objective.

Yet when the next war comes, we are assured, great fleets of bombing planes will swoop on us out of the ocean somewhere and reduce our chief cities to ashes in something less than the time it takes to say "Jack Robinson." Alarmists have harped on this theme for years, assuring us that we are defenseless against aerial invasion and that we shall have a pretty sorry time of it the next time we go to war.

But Maj.-Gen. James G. Harbord, who was something of a soldier in the last war, thinks we are getting worried for no good reason. In a recent speech General Harbord bluntly scoffed at this picture of wholesale destruction.

Reviewing the dreadful prediction of American cities destroyed by hostile bombers, the general remarked that the prediction has only one fault—it has no foundation in fact.

Before we grow frightened at the thought of an invading air fleet, he begs us to figure out where such a fleet would come from.

"It is still a seven-day wonder," he says, "when a plane, stripped of all excess weight, makes a trans-ocean flight, while in the time taken by the Italian armada under Gen. Italo Balbo to cross the Atlantic, aided all the way by friendly nations, the trip could have been made in a tramp steamer."

An air squadron must have a base, continues the general. No neutral country would permit its soil to be used for such purposes; and if a floating base were used—well, we have a pretty fair sort of navy, which could be relied on to take care of that.

And those bombs? No bomb yet made, says the general, could destroy a modern steel skyscraper. Those gas bombs which are to exterminate a city's populace would have to be brought in by the million-pound lot—and even then people would be safe if they kept their doors and windows closed.

There are not, continues General Harbord, enough bombing planes in all the world to destroy a city in a few hours. Furthermore, planes must land, sooner or later; and no air armada has yet flown whose personnel could not be run in by the municipal police if it landed in hostile territory.

All this sounds very much like excellent common sense. This borey-man may not be quite as dreadful a specter as we had supposed.

TEXAS HISTORY

Brushing Up on Facts You Ought to Recall

STUDIED INDIANS
 Cabeza de Vaca was interested in the customs of the Indians with whom he came in contact. For the red-skinned men were quite different from the brown, black-headed travelers from the far-away Spain. Perhaps he jotted down some of the unusual characteristics in his journal in order that he might remember to tell his kinspeople.

De Vaca discovered that the dead in one certain tribe were never mourned. Even though they might have been loved very much, they were not mourned; and when a child cried over the loss of a parent or friend, he was punished by being severely scraped from shoulders to legs by sharp mice teeth.

Another tribe had entirely different customs about the dead, however. When a person died, (unless it happened to be the all-powerful medicine man), his bones were cremated while the tribe danced around and around the fire. Then the bones were ground to a powder, and at the end of a year, the anniversary of the death was celebrated by giving the relatives of the deceased member the pulverized bones to drink in water!

Baby daughters were killed at birth in one tribe. The fathers did not want their daughters to grow up, for fear that when grown they would fall in love with a warrior of an enemy tribe. Therefore, the babies were killed. However, when the sons grew up, since there were no girls in the tribe to marry, they went to an enemy tribe and bought a wife for one bow and two arrows, or for one net. Silly to us, perhaps, but important to them.

De Vaca had many more interesting things to write of the Indians. It was because of his friendliness toward them that the Spanish were treated kindly when they came to the land of the Indian later. The first explorer of Texas brought a story of unusual interest, and it is through him that Texans have found out about the people who first inhabited the hills and plains of the state.

fer were benched for the Central game and placed on probation by Coach Baggett, because he was not positive of the facts in their case. Both turned in their suits because of squad pressure and criticism.

Carriers Delay Fleet's Transit Through Canal

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Oct. 25. (AP)—The transit of the United States fleet through the Panama Canal is expected to require 44 hours for the 88 vessels.

The movement was seriously delayed when aircraft carrier Lexington and Saratoga sidswiped concrete lampposts during lockage yesterday. It took the Lexington near 12 hours to make the usual six-hour transit and the Saratoga longer.

Last April 110 vessels were moved from the Atlantic to the Pacific in 47 hours. Fog and rain also hampered operations of the surprise maneuver last night.

Poe Among Five Buffaloes Ousted From Grid Squad

CANYON, Oct. 25.—Five regular starters on the West Texas State Teachers College Buffaloes have been dropped from the squad by Coach Al Baggett for infraction of training rules.

Ralph Poe, center; Gene Lovelace, guard; and Pug Weaver, Coye Sander, and Costello Taylor, backs, were the men dismissed from the squad.

Immediately after the stunning defeat of the Buffaloes Saturday by the McMurry Indians, Coach Baggett called a meeting of the entire team.

In the meeting, Baggett called the boys together and told them that although they had made a miserable showing against McMurry, he was still confident that they were capable of some great football.

Baggett asked the boys to prevent any let-down in their attitude because of the disappointing defeat. Each boy pledged himself to cooperate with the team and the coach in building a great morale and fighting spirit.

Following the meeting some of the boys went to the homecoming dance, and were found breaking training rules. Poe, Weaver, and Lovelace were dismissed outright from the squad. Taylor and Sande-

PHANTOM SLUGGER IS SOUGHT BY GRIDSTERS

Men Dressed in Women's Clothes Lie in Wait

BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 25. (AP)—Husky football players dressed in women's clothes waited in vain throughout the night in an effort to trap the phantom slugger who has beaten nine universities of Colorado recently.

Accused by the vicious attacks of an apparently demented man, gridmen joined several scores of other student volunteers in patrolling the campus.

Chief of Police R. C. Prater said today he believed the slugger had left the city.

WASHINGTON—Some time before the inauguration in 1933, quite a few of us began to write profound and powerful dispatches which speculated as to the future gyrations of Mr. Roosevelt and his administration between the liberal and conservative sides of the fence.

You might think some common conclusion would have been reached by now. But at no other time has the discussion been more prolific of more journalistic arguments that Roosevelt is "going right" or "going left."

Lately the "right" have been louder than the "lefts", through most big New Dealers are still convinced they're zigzagging toward the left—which means more equitable distribution of wealth, curbing industrial or financial profiteers and racketeers and things like that—in the face of huge odds.

Personally, your correspondent is a bit tired of all this and promises to write no more about it—oh, well, not before Thanksgiving, anyway!

Now for some really hot news: The social season may be robbed of some of its traditional silliness here this winter. Waves of cabinet members are threatening to contribute their part to the "Roosevelt Revolution" by cutting down "at homes" to one a year instead of one each month.

These "at homes" attract hundreds of people, many of whom seem to come chiefly for the tea, sandwiches, and cookies—which are expensive.

The diplomatic and congressional hostesses have them, too. Once an ambassador's wife found that the guide of a sightseeing bus had steered his flock into her party.

A deep-sea diver has gone to Lock Ness, Scotland, to hunt the monster reported there. But why should he? With prohibition repealed, he could get just as good liquor here.

Naval officers are suggested to go on American liners, for their safety. Better yet, high company officials should be forced to go as passengers.

A German scientist has invented a device that measures the density of a fog. The next step is an instrument that measures the density of a man in a fog.

HILLIARD IS STILL OUT OF TEXAS LINEUP

CHEVIGNY IS SINGING BOHN HILLIARD BLUES

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Bohn Hilliard blues are being crooned in a chorus of melancholy voices as the University of Texas Longhorns prepare for their big football melodrama Saturday against the Rice Institute Owls.

Hilliard, the hope of the Longhorns in their crucial Southwest conference test, is out with an injured hip and with game time drawing near hope for victory on the Texas campus is fading. Bohn failed to participate in yesterday's practice, making 10 days he has been out of uniform. Coaches Jack Chevigny, Tim Moynihan and Marty Karow have assumed doleful attitudes toward Saturday's battle.

"We will give them the best we've got," Chevigny said, "but the odds are against us. On paper the Owls should be four to one favorites."

If Hilliard is unable to play, Hubert Jurecka, star passer, will start at left halfback. In yesterday's practice, Tim Moynihan, line coach, worked hard to improve the Steers' forward wall which did not click well against Centenary last Saturday when Texas was whipped, 9 to 6.

At Houston, where the game will be played, the Rice huskies snapped into a strenuous practice session. Coach Jimmy Kitts planned to show the Longhorns a versatile attack, and he worked the Owls long and hard on their overhead game. The Owls have plenty of running power.

After sending his men through some stiff work, Kitts let-up and started exchanging wisecracks with his boys. He told them he wanted to see them grinning instead of frowning. Because of his small squad, Kitts has barred scrimmages for this week. He wants every man in perfect physical and mental con-

DETROIT MAN WILL GRAPPLE TEX WATKINS

Challenger Reputed To Be Worthy Foe of Tough Former Sailorman.

Art Perkins, wild and woolly grappler from Detroit, Mich., has been selected as the opponent for Sailor Tex Watkins at the Pla-Mor auditorium Tuesday night. Perkins will be making his first appearance here and the roll-taking sailor will also be appearing for the first time in several years.

Watkins will be remembered as one of the roughest grapplers ever to climb in a Pampa ring. His battles with Sailor Otis Clingman were the talk of the plains a few years ago, and according to late reports, Watkins has changed little. He is getting a little more ring crafty but has lost none of his ability to give and absorb punishment.

The challenger has a long record of wins in the north and east. He has been in these parts long enough to become acclimated and declares he is ready to go the limit with the wild sailor man.

Sam George, the boy who made such a hit with fans Tuesday night when he threw Buddy Edwards, will tangle with Pat Garrison in the semi-final. George is clever, scientific, and wonderfully built. He was acclaimed the most perfectly developed middleweight in the nation in 1931. Garrison has decided that he is through with rough grappling methods hence fans are sure to see a great match.

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with Lobo Brown, Amarillo bad boy, meeting Howard Belcher, Amarillo sheik.

dition for the big clash. "I join my players in their hope that Hilliard will be able to play for Texas. It will be a better game if both teams meet at full playing strength."

While most of Saturday's football thunder will echo from the Rice stadium, other Southwest conference teams are preparing for their melees. Headed by Coaches Ray Morrison and Marty Bell, the Southern Methodist Mustangs left Dallas yesterday for New York, where Saturday they will meet Fordham university at the Polo field. The Mustangs, in high spirit and confident of victory, will arrive at New York in time for a workout Friday.

Coach Dutch Meyer stressed defense yesterday when he fired his Texas Christian Frogs through a long workout in preparation for Saturday's game at Shreveport against Centenary. The Frogs also worked on their blocking and tackling. It is still doubtful if Lester Darrell, 215-pound Texas Christian center, will be able to play because of an injured chest received last week.

The Texas A. & M. Aggies got a long fundamental drill and then topped their practice with a stiff scrimmage which was featured by the play of Selmar Kirby, sophomore reserve tackle, who may find himself in the starting lineup Saturday when the Aggies battle Baylor at Waco.

With Lloyd Russell, star triple-threatener on the sideline with injuries, Coach Morley Jennings worked the Baylor Bears on their pass offense in hope of completing enough passes against the Aggies to make up for the absence of ground-gaining Russell.

At Fayetteville, Coach Fred Thomson made a move to add weight to the university of Arkansas' light offensive attack when he shifted Crivwell, 200-pound fullback to halfback, replacing Chelton Rucker, the injured star and placed Holt, sophomore end, in the fullback position. The Porkers tangle with the Missouri School of Mines Saturday at Fayetteville.

GOAT GETS FARMER
GREENVILLE, Miss.—Here's a problem for the AAA to adjust. P. Lammer, farmer, alighted from his car with his cotton tax exemption certificates in a back pocket. A goat spotted the paper and in no time certificates calling for six bales of cotton were destroyed. The county agricultural agent will be asked to take the matter up with the AAA.

LOTT AND AUSTIN TO MEET BEST AMARILLO GOLFERS

Pampa golfers will provide a gallery for one of the outstanding matches ever played over the Country club golf course Sunday afternoon when they see Grover Austin and Dale Lett, Pampa's two best golfers, meet Johnny Munn and Paul Gore, two of Amarillo's most sensational golfers, in a low-ball match. The players will tee off at 2 o'clock.

No admission will be charged for the 18-hole match. The player's will meet for the sake of competition and not for profit.

Munn is municipal Amarillo city and Panhandle open champion in 1934, while his partner is one of the best shot makers of the Panhandle and holder of the Amarillo Country club record on grass greens. Austin holds the course record over the Pampa Country club with a round of 64 strokes. He broke the record previously held by Lott.

SCRIMMAGE TO BE HELD FOR EL PASO TILT

PAMPANS TO OUTWEIGH BOWIE TEAM, SAYS NEWSPAPER

Blocking, tackling, and work on defense featured the Harvesters workout yesterday in preparation for the invasion of El Paso, where the Harvesters are to play the Bowie high Bears at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Another cripple appeared on the field in the person of Tom Rose, who received a bad knee injury in blocking practice Tuesday afternoon. He will be out of the El Paso encounter.

A steel cast is being made for Raymond Elkins, who broke a bone in his hand last Friday in the game with Trinidad, Colo., and it may be that the fleet little halfback will be able to play some of the game Saturday. Coach Odus Mitchell said this morning, however, that he doubted whether he would take a chance on having Elkins hurt again.

A scrimmage was ordered for this afternoon, the first of the week. It will not be long or strenuous, but for the purposes of timing plays and getting accustomed to the defense to be placed against Mr. Salcedo and his passing and running attack. Salcedo is the Bowie fullback, who passes to any point on the field or carries the ball through the line around end.

He is not the only versatile player in the Bowie backfield. Perez, little quarterback, is a powerhouse for his size and Montoya and Kuehn do some mighty effective ball carrying. Montoya specializes in pass receiving and Kuehn in blocking.

Bowie was defeated 13 to 7 last Saturday by El Paso high school which Amarillo defeated the first of the season. An El Paso newspaper stated that the Harvesters will outweigh the Bears over six pounds per man.

The Harvesters will leave at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning from the high school gymnasium. Persons taking players are urged to be on time. The suits and equipment are being sent to El Paso by truck. A few more cars may be needed to take the entire squad and fans with room for players may call 70 and leave their names.

The probable starting lineups:

Pampa	LT	El Paso
Owen	LE	Caro
Noblett	LT	Lopez
Smith	LG	Saenz
Haner	C	Lester
Parks	RG	Arroya
Green	RT	Leyca
Mumford	RE	Hernandez

Florida Battle In February Is Plan of Garden

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (P)—Once more Madison Square Garden is toying with the idea of a big outdoor fight in Florida in February, when the north is snowbound, and people with the time and money to play, head for the south.

The winter custom Tex Rickard inaugurated in 1925 with a $400,000 match he never lived to see, between Bill Stribling and Jack Sharkey at Miami Beach, didn't turn out at all well last February. Primo Carnera and Tommy Loughran drew barely one-tenth of that for a heavyweight championship match in Miami.

But just the same, Barney Ross and Tony Canzoneri, from whom he won his lightweight title, may try to swing the tide back into the property channel with their third match, or Max Schmeling may bid for another title chance by tackling Art Lasky, the lanky Jewish boy from Minneapolis, in the climax of the winter eliminations.

Both propositions are still wide open and filled with life and butts.

"They tell me down there this will be the most prosperous winter in Florida since the depression hit us," says Jimmy Johnston, the Garden's boxing head. "We've got an arena lying idle in Miami, renovated last winter. There's a very good chance that we'll put on another show there this February."

MAYSE NASH.
The stocky little fellow started the season at quarterback but when Fanning was out for a week, he went to fullback and made such an excellent showing that he is giving the regular plunger lots of competition. Mayse plays at both positions. He hits low and hard and is a good blocker. Mayse is playing his last year for the Harvesters.

ARLINGTON DOWNS WILL OPEN TODAY WITH $1500 HANDICAP

$10,000 Waggoner Handicap To Be Run Nov. 10; Meet to Last 21 Days.

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Oct. 25. (P)—Texas' one and only million dollar horse racing plant, Arlington Downs, groomed to a perfection, opened its 21-day fall meeting today with an attractive program of seven races which featured the $1,500 added inaugural handicap with an entry of 13 thoroughbreds.

Second in importance on today's card was the $1,000 Lone Star handicap with an entry of 10 horses. The weather was clear and the track fast. The open claiming rule will be in effect at this meeting.

It is the third meeting to be held at the Downs since the legalization of the pari-mutuels in 1933. The outstanding feature will be held November 10 with the running of the $10,000 Waggoner handicap, which will be the greatest race yet staged at the beautiful plant located between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Many of the country's finest thoroughbreds are among the more than 600 quartered at the Downs. Along with the consistent thoroughbreds are many of the turf's best jockeys.

Some of the outstanding horses taking post positions today in the rich inaugural handicap included Money Getter, Captain Joy, My Dandy, Mr. James, Leroy, Gift of Roses, Desert Call, Crout Au Pot, Clarify and Chance Line. Clarify was assigned top weight of 120 pounds. The race will be over the Waggoner course which is 160 feet short of six furlongs. Clarify and Crout Au Pot will run as an entry of the Corsicana stable and W. C. Stroube. The inaugural handicap, fifth race on the program, supported the Corsicana entry as favorite.

Today's Arlington Downs meet opened in direct competition with races being run at the Texas State Fair Park track located 18 miles from Arlington Downs. The two meets will overlap each other thru next Tuesday when the Fair Park plant closes.

Minnesota Due To Whip Iowa Next Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (P)—The inevitable reaction that follows crucial game victories may take a heavy toll among championship foot aspirants this week.

In the face of Minnesota's stirring triumph over Pittsburgh last week, there will be few if any foolhardy enough to bet against the Gophers in their battle with Iowa on Saturday, even though old man psychology may unlimber his heavy guns on the Hawkeyes' side.

Fickle fortune might be brewing some such ironic fate for the Gophers, perhaps with Iowa as the party of the second part. The Hawkeyes, as highly touted at the start of the Big Ten season as any outfit but Minnesota, have been disappointments.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages, with aching pains, burning, itching and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. If kidneys don't empty 3 times every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up the extra and suffer serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS. . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes for the most serious injury and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS. . . the old reliable relief that contains no "dose" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

"RELIGION IS SOMETHING TO DO"—COGDILL

LARGEST AUDIENCE OF REVIVAL PRESENT LAST NIGHT

"True religion is not something that people get; it is something that they do, by the authority of Christ," said Evangelist Roy E. Cogdill in his revival sermon at Francis Street Church of Christ last evening.

His subject, The Religion of Christ, was presented to the largest crowd yet to attend the revival, including visitors from other towns. "One can be religious and not be a Christian, but it is impossible to be a Christian and not be religious," he said. "In the New Testament are recorded several conversions in which the subjects were converted from one religion to another. This shows that all religions are not alike and that one may not be as good as another. Many of the subjects were deeply religious before they espoused the religion of Christ.

"The religion of Christ is distinctive, a New Testament religion, established and perpetuated by authority of Christ himself. Paul spoke of the glorious gospel of Christ; it was glorious because it was a divine revelation from God the father.

"It consists of three glorious facts to be believed: The death, burial, and the resurrection of Christ. It is not sufficient that the Lord merely died, but he died for our sins according to the scriptures.

"Life and immortality were brought to light through these three facts of the gospel, therefore the religion of Christ is revealed in his gospel, the only medium through which it is revealed.

"The word religion means to bind again. There was a happy time when man was bound to God. Man became separated from his maker by sin, the only thing that today can and does separate us from God and his love and mercy. He cannot use men who love and practice sin.

"The great question confronting us today is, how can the human family be bound back to God? This can be accomplished only through the religion of Christ. God is not going to come to man; the movement must be of man toward God. We must persuade men and not God.

The sermon was preceded by a 20-minute congregational song service directed by H. W. Waters. The evangelist announced that his subject for this evening at 7:30 will be, Essentials in Conversion. Everyone is invited to hear him.

ROOSEVELT HOPES FOR INTERNATIONAL PRICE STABILIZATION

DOLLAR ISSUE AGAIN RAISED BY PRESIDENT

BANKERS CHALLENGED TO SPEED FLOW OF CREDIT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25. (AP)—Out of President Roosevelt's address to the American Bankers association there arose today clear indications that the administration hopes for international harmony on a policy of arriving at price stabilization "as quickly as possible."

In a speech in which he challenged the banking fraternity last night to speed the flow of credit, the president included this paragraph: "With respect to international relationships, I have been glad to note the growing appreciation in other nations of the desirability of arriving, as quickly as possible, at a point where the dollar is on a par with the value of other currencies. This objective of a greater steadiness we have constantly kept before us as our national policy."

Special significance was attached to this because sources close to the administration expressed the belief it was one of the three salient points in the speech. They did not elaborate on it, however.

The remarks on price stabilization are not a pledge for currency stabilization which many bankers desire. Many of the 4,000 delegates who crowded constitutional hall to listen to the speech are leaving the door open to whatever monetary strategy may be deemed feasible to attain the desired price level and then keep it stable.

It was recalled that the president has expressed a wish for a dollar that would remain steady in purchasing power over a long period—in other words, a managed dollar.

Another point stressed in administration quarters today was the president's remark that bankers are not equal to nor independent of the government.

He said the old fallacious notion of the bankers on the one side and the government on the other as more or less equal and independent units has passed away.

"Government," he said, "by the necessity of things must be the leader, must be the judge of the conflicting interests of all groups in the community, including bankers. The government is the outward expression of the common life of all citizens."

The other point stressed as salient was his challenge to the banks to "resume their responsibility" and expand the flow of credit.

"Just as it is to be expected," he said, "that the banks will resume their responsibility and take up the burden that the government has assumed through its credit agencies, so I assume and expect that private business generally will be financed by the great credit resources which the present liquidity of banks makes possible."

"Tonight I ask the bankers of the country to renew their confidence in the people of this country," he said, "I hope you will take me at my word."

The bankers' contention is that they have been eager to lend but that borrowers have been reluctant. The president promised that government lending and spending would be off just as soon as banks and business took over the job. He looked forward to reviving business activity and a future lightening of the relief load.

It is now time, he declared, "for an alliance of all forces intent upon business recovery including business and banking, agriculture and industry and labor and capital."

"What an American team that is!" he exclaimed.

Francis Marion Law, retiring president of the bankers association, which concludes its 60th convention today, said of the president's speech: "Out of the suggestions made by the president and Mr. Jackson Reynolds, (who also spoke) there can and should be worked out a sound program of far-reaching cooperation between the government, the banks and the other groups named by the president, the kind of program that would be a real contribution to the cause of recovery."

Other bankers received the speech with comments that ranged from "excellent" to "disappointing."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—The stock market turned downward today under a profit-taking despite the general favorable impression created by President Roosevelt's address to the American Bankers' association. The falls were leaders in the decline, yielding most of their yesterday's gains. The close was heavy. Transfers approximated 950,000 shares.

George B. Terrell Wants Centennial Worthy of Texas

AUSTIN, O. I. 25 (AP)—George B. Terrell—the Texas democrat, who retired from congress because he could not reconcile his conservative views with "new deal theories"—waived some of his longtime rules to urge Texas to forget its depleted treasury and stage a real Centennial in 1936.

The congressman-at-large from Cherokee county, who was the lone democrat to oppose President Roosevelt's $950,000,000 CWA appropriation, proposed a "celebration that will sell Texas to the world."

"I know many patriotic people oppose the Centennial celebration at this time because of the financial depression," Terrell stated. "No one is more economical with public funds than I am, and I realize the present financial stringency, and know how difficult it is to raise money."

"But a great Centennial celebration will bring millions of people to the state and hundreds of millions of dollars will be spent in Texas, and the advertising Texas will get is more than worth the money cost of the exposition."

"I have always opposed diverting the gasoline tax from the highway fund, and the present tax is high enough, but I see no other safe and sure means of raising the necessary funds to put on a creditable exposition. "Therefore, I waive my opposition to increasing the gasoline tax, in order to secure the necessary funds to secure the greatest undertaking in the history of Texas—a celebration that will sell Texas to the world."

He proposed as "the quickest, easiest and surest way" of providing funds an increase of one cent a gallon on gasoline. He estimated the boost would yield $8,000,000 a year. One provision included in his plan was repeal of the extra levy by April, 1936, when the exposition would be opened.

The former president and "supreme chief" of the revolution told deputies and senators who visited him at Cuernavaca that Mexican Catholics were planning a subversive movement but the government "will know how to meet it."

"I am in accord with the majority of points in the plan of action formulated by the chamber of deputies against reactionaries and the clergy," he said.

"I regard the expulsion of archbishops and bishops as necessary because they are the direct cause of the present agitation and especially because they are organizing in preparation for a movement."

A proposal by the chamber of deputies for expulsion of archbishops and bishops is still before the directors of the national revolutionary (government) party. Meanwhile, churches have been closed in six states and priests expelled from several of them.

Calles to Aid Government in War on Bishops

MEXICO, D. F., Oct. 25. (AP)—The influence of General Plutarco Elias Calles, Mexico's "iron man," was thrown today behind the movement to expel archbishops and bishops of the Catholic church from the country.

The former president and "supreme chief" of the revolution told deputies and senators who visited him at Cuernavaca that Mexican Catholics were planning a subversive movement but the government "will know how to meet it."

District Rotary Governor Speaks To City Clubmen

"Nothing in the last four hundred years has crippled the hearts of men like the Rotary movement," said Dr. Tom H. Taylor, district governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, in a talk before the local club yesterday. This was the governor's regular annual visit but he promised he would return for another visit later in the year. Dr. Taylor is president of Howard Payne College of Brownwood.

He told of the efficient organization of the Secretariat at Chicago which records the activities of some four thousand clubs all over the world. "It is the most efficient social organization in the world," he said.

He cited the numerous civic activities of Rotary Club members and gave as the motivating force the training in their own clubs. He praised the local club and expressed satisfaction at its accomplishments.

In the morning Dr. Taylor talked to the high school students at the regular chapel exercises, pointing out the vast territory, resources and peoples of the State of Texas. His humorous methods of presenting facts were highly entertaining to the students.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN PLAN TO ABANDON CENTENNIAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 25 (P)—Proposed abandonment of a central celebration of the centennial of Texas independence in favor of a series of pageants at historic places had been turned down today by the state affairs committee of the Texas house.

The committee rejected, 5 to 2, a resolution that would have called upon the Texas centennial commission to discard present plans for a central observance, with incidental ceremonies at points that played a prominent part in the state's history, and to draft pageants commemorating the valorous deeds of 1836.

The resolution was rejected after Walter D. Cline, chairman of the executive committee of the centennial commission, asserted no celebration would be complete that did not adequately portray the state's advancement along economic, social and cultural lines.

Meanwhile, committee action on bills to raise revenue to provide for state aid to the centennial was delayed until next Monday. A meeting of the house revenue and taxation committee was called last night but members showed no disposition to speed consideration of the several proposals that have been presented, despite pleas that postponement jeopardized the chances for final action on revenue bills at this session.

The resolution to scrap the observance outlined by the centennial commission was sponsored by Rep. Harold Kayton of San Antonio. Kayton said it was "mausing" the way his city and other cities were "trying to get their hands on some of this money," and asserted he was opposed to "passing around the pie and let those who grab the deepest get the most."

Cline said the centennial commission "took the legislature at its word" when it enacted a statute directing formulation of plans for a celebration that would adequately present to the world Texas' glamorous history and its 100 years of progress.

"It should be a centennial of progress that would challenge the attention of the world if it is to be a success," he commented.

Cline said the centennial commission of pageants would be insufficient to interest an appreciable number of outsiders.

Considerable sentiment was manifested by members of the revenue and taxation committee to raise only the amount of revenue needed for observance. The committee has been presented with bills which, it is estimated, would raise upward of $40,000,000. The centennial commission yesterday presented an omnibus tax bill which its sponsors predicted would provide between six and ten millions.

The omnibus bill would tax gross receipts of power and telephone and telegraph companies, increase certain franchise taxes and the levies on money wagered on horse races, coin operated machines, oil, beer, miscellaneous soft drinks, and amusements.

Vanderbilt Child Does Not Want to Live With Mother

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 (P)—The Times says 10-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt doesn't want to live with her mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, but wants to remain with her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

That, the paper says, is what she told Justice John F. Carew of the supreme court yesterday when the jurist questioned her. Justice Carew has been presiding in the habeas proceedings brought by Mrs. Vanderbilt to regain custody of Gloria. Justice Carew she has been having a good time since she went to live with her aunt at Westbury, L. I., two years ago. Before that time she lived with her mother, mostly in London and Paris. She told the judge she doesn't remember much of those years, except that she moved about a great deal and had no one to play with regularly except her nurse.

The Times says the child made it plain she does not dislike her mother, but had not seen very much of her.

Mrs. Vanderbilt testified yesterday in the habeas corpus proceedings but was too overcome to continue. Sessions will be resumed today.

Senator Long in Lending Spree as Students Borrow

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 24 (AP)—"Kingfish" Huey P. Long "gave away" thousands of dollars to Louisiana state university students here yesterday and started a mad "gold rush" which continued today.

The senator, turned Santa Claus, made the fabulous gesture after he said that no student should miss the L. S. U.-Vanderbilt football game in Nashville, Tenn., Saturday because of lack of funds.

He had already made provisions to take the student band of 125 pieces and the entire reserve officers training corps of the school, 1,500 strong, to Nashville "without it costing 'em a dime."

That left out between 2,000 and 3,000 other students, so the "Kingfish" went out to the campus yesterday and said that if any of them didn't have the $6 for a round trip railroad ticket and $1 for meals, he would "loan" it to them if they would see him in private.

The gold rush started, the students almost mobbed him then and there as Huey hauled out wads of money and began passing it out to students who signed any name they pleased on the back of laundry slips.

Satisfying all students there, Long went back to his hotel suite in Baton Rouge only to find that the word had gone around that he was "giving away money."

Matadors Arrive At Loyola Today

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25. (AP)—The Red Raiders from Texas Tech at Lubbock may expect a varied assortment of forward and lateral passes from the Loyola Lions when the two football teams meet tomorrow night in the Gilmore stadium.

Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola, who has heard that the Red Raiders are proficient in passing, says he is willing to meet them at their own game. Lieb has been concentrating almost wholly during the past week on offensive tactics, and plans to play an open as a game as possible.

Texas Tech's players, thirty-seven in number, accompanied by the school's band and more than 100 rooters, are due to arrive in Los Angeles today.

Marian Gordon by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Marian Gordon, reporter for the Morning Dispatch, has sent the would-be suicide, Cliff Gordon, word that Silver, his wife, is reconciled. It saves Cliff's life, but the message is not true. Now Silver is trying to take Lon Casad, Marian's fiance, away from her. Marian has returned to Oakland from Reno, and is looking over the papers which contain the Gordon stories.

Chapter 17 SILVER'S RETURN Marian turned back to the first paper and found a second story on the Gordon case. In surprise she read the contents, then sat back overwhelmed at what she had done to Cliff Gordon, in tricking him into a fight for life.

After reading his letter to Silver, she had realized he was on the verge of bankruptcy, but she had not realized how deeply he was involved. The newspaper account gave this in detail, and the inference was that his suicide had been an attempt to evade his creditors, rather than any thwarted love for his former wife. Criminal conspiracy to cheat these creditors was indicated, as it was proved large sums of cash had been withdrawn and had vanished.

While he was lying at the hospital fighting for life, the sheriff was conducting a sale of the remains of his once valuable estate. Everything save the property he had given Silver as settlement was being liquidated.

Cliff Gordon would live. He would come back to the border of death, weak, broken, to face destitution or worse, a criminal charge with its accompanying penitentiary sentence. This was what he had done by interfering in someone's else business.

Eyes wide with apprehension, she sat staring at a bowl of tulips. Five tulips, yellow and purple, rose and red, and one a mottled cup of red and yellow. She didn't see them.

When Cliff Gordon had chosen his way out, preferring suicide to an expose of his father-in-law's crooked method of conducting his business and the subsequent crushing of Silver's life, she, a total stranger had made him believe Silver was really the woman he had idealized, made him believe he might come back, face the odds and win.

"Marian Gordon, what in the name of goodness is wrong with you?" Anne, pushing a tea cart before her, had stopped to look down at the girl in the chair.

"Nothing," Marian answered. "Nothing . . . and you look like that." She stepped close, shook the other girl. "Snap out of it; tell me what's wrong."

"I don't dare tell anyone," murmured Marian, then "but I've got to tell someone. Anne, promise me if I tell you this you'll never breathe it to a living soul!"

"That's an insult," snapped Anne. "You know I don't talk, Ian. What is the matter?"

"There are only four persons in the world who know this now. Silver Gordon, a man named Max Hamlin, Bowen and myself. Anne, Silver didn't send that message to Cliff. I did. I made it up and got it across the wire to Bowen before she could tear loose from Hamlin's hold and grab the telephone."

"Whew!" breathed Anne and sat down in the nearest chair. Then she started, having recovered her breath. "You saved his life. What are you getting all het up about now?"

"But, Anne, what good is that life to him? He'll learn Silver doesn't care for him. He'll face the charges the newspapers mention and I know he won't feel the truth and clear himself. He'll come back broken in spirit, in hope, in belief in anything, and . . . for what?"

Anne didn't answer. She beat her sleek head over the silver urn, poured a cup of coffee and thrust it at Marian. "Drink that and see if you can swallow what I'm going to tell you at the same time."

"Ian, I've spent six years holding the hands of impulsive men who thought they wanted to die, while they tried their darnedest not to do it. I'm willing to bet anything I own that if you were to tell Cliff everything right now, he'd still fight to live."

"As far as Silver's concerned he's lived with her long enough to know her. As soon as he gets over the maudlin stage he'll admit she's a natural born wash-out."

"About his financial condition. Your friend Cliff is an ostrich. He stuck his head in a hole and didn't know the desert was full of friends. By the time yesterday's paper was on the street we had a run of visitors at the hospital that nearly put us out of business. Fraternity brothers, crew brothers, yacht club brothers. And they came bearing gifts. Blank checks with signatures signed, business offers. One brought a note that the yacht club had bid in on the island home and if it got it, Cliff had a permanent honorary residence at the club."

"We got all of these messages through to Cliff. So don't you worry about Cliff and his future. You've given him a chance to live, clean up the mess he left and when he does check out, he'll have left his life in order."

She refilled the cup. "When you get through drinking that, to bed with you."

Believed, Marian took Anne's advice and when she again opened her eyes she lay staring at the twilight outside her window. "Should I call the office," she thought, then heard the whirr of the telephone and Anne calling that Bowen was on the phone.

"Well, where in Hades have you been?" was Bowen's reception. "Listen, grab a cab and beat it to the airport."

"I won't go to Reno again," protested Marian sleepily.

"Wait 'til you're asked. Your friend Silver is due in from there, en route to Meredith. Get in on the reunion and give us a yarn for the early edition. And say, Ian, good work on your Reno story; you've got a raise coming."

"Don't want it," said Marian feebly.

And "What?" came the incredulous reply.

From the mirrored cubicle where she was dressing, Marian heard the sound of the hall door buzzer, heard Anne answer and a moment later heard a voice that sent her heart beating double time.

"Lon's here," said Anne, unnecessarily, as she entered. "He apologized for waking you, and when I told him you were already awake, dressing to go on an assignment, he nearly threw a fit, began waving a telegram . . . wait, I'll hook that, now you're all fixed; go see what he wants."

Marian, wondering at the telegram, went into the other room to find Lon, half laughing, half perplexed, a yellow slip in his hand.

"Little Cheerio," he explained, "look, she's wired that she expects me to meet her at the airport. D'you suppose she thinks I'm in the taxi business?"

Marian looked at the length of the missive and said: "At least she's helping the telegraph company." She took the slip and read: "Lon, my dear, so sorry I missed you. Am flying to city to visit the ex at the hospital stop. Dread ordeal terribly stop must have some one I can depend upon to go with me stop feel you are that person stop cried all morning so disappointed didn't see you nerves wrecked don't fail me need you stop don't bring dog stop must see you alone stop will expect you at airport eight twenty this evening stop your Silver."

Marian had a desire to tear the slip from the cabin that made her breathe you belonged to her?"

"Do?" he asked perplexed, "I don't know. I never ran into a woman like this before. What does one do with them?"

"I could mention several things," returned Marian, "cyanide, for one. What on earth did you do on your trip from the cabin that made her breathe you belonged to her?"

"I don't know," he answered honestly, "unless listening to her rant—" "Lon, what did you talk about. Think hard, did she talk about love or marriage or anything like that?"

"She asked me if I had ever been married and I said that I hadn't, I'd never considered it until very, very recently. Then she wanted to know if the girl was in the East, and I said that she was in Nevada at that moment. She wanted to know what she looked like and I told her she had golden hair and that she was the most beautiful girl I'd ever seen and if I had my way about it I'd have proposed to her the moment I saw her but I felt I should let a few days go by without showing how I'd crashed."

Marian slid into the nearest chair and started to laugh. "That's what you get for calling my hair gold instead of red. She thought you meant her."

U. S. Envoy Seeks Money Stabilizing

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Oct. 24 (AP)—Financial circles weighed today the possible effects of a plea by Robert W. Bingham, ambassador from the United States, for stabilization of the dollar and pound.

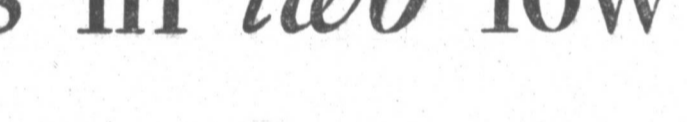

In an address before the Edinburgh Philosophical institution yesterday the ambassador said: "I believe it would be desirable if other nations were included, but if that is impracticable, I believe it should be done between ourselves."

Hope for such a step has long been prevalent in most London financial circles.

Tomorrow, Marian gets a present.

THE SECOND QUESTION A DOCTOR ASKS . . .

Here is some information that has relieved whole families from Constipation

When anyone is "out of sorts" the doctor's first question is about the bowels. And the second, what is being taken to help them. Doctors use laxatives, and expect you to use them. But they prefer a liquid laxative. Do you know why?

Doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives because they've seen the damage sometimes done by highly concentrated drugs in the form of pills or tablets! They know that a properly made liquid laxative containing senna (a natural laxative) does not do this harm. And they use liquid laxatives to relieve the bowels, because the dose can be easily regulated.

There is a preparation of fine herbs, pure pepsin, cascara, and senna which does away with all need of harsh cathartics. The active senna in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is laxative enough for any adult, mild enough for any child. And there are other valuable ingredients in this delightful syrup.

Syrup Pepsin will usually relieve a case of constipation overnight. If a further dose is necessary, you give a smaller dose, each time less, until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all!

If you have a youngster who doesn't eat, doesn't gain, gets upset and bilious no matter how careful you are about the diet—don't resort to strong cathartics which may only make matters worse.

Make this Test! If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age. Try the help of Syrup Pepsin until you are relieved and nature restores your regularity.

When your bowels continue then to move regularly, comfortably, and completely every day—you'll know why most doctors favor a liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
