

KIDNAPER'S TRAIL IS PICKED UP IN OKLA AS ABANDONED AUTO IS FOUND

RANSOM BILL IS GIVEN TO HOUSE KEEPER

SPECIAL GRAND JURY TO INVESTIGATE KIDNAPING

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 18 (AP)—The claim that Mrs. Frances Robinson worked with department of justice agents in an effort to free Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll was made today by counsel for the wife of the discharged lunatic, named as the actual kidnaper, Clem W. Huggins, representing her, said she had befriended Mrs. Stoll and that he believed Mrs. Stoll would help her.

The woman was arraigned yesterday and held in default of $50,000 bond charged with kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap. Her fugitive husband and the latter's father, Thos. Henry Robinson Sr., of Nashville, Tenn., were named in the same warrant. Huggins said he would want to have her bond reduced to "about $5,000."

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 18 (AP)—The two-day-old trail of Thos. H. Robinson Jr., thought as the kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Stoll of Louisville, was picked up suddenly by Springfield police today.

An automobile bearing the license plates of the car in which Robinson is believed to have fled from Indianapolis, where Mrs. Stoll was released, was found in a garage at a rooming house on the west side of town.

A $5 bill that was given together with six $1 bills by the driver of the car to the rooming house keeper as payment in advance for one week was identified by its serial number as one of those paid to the kidnaper by Berry Stoll, husband of the kidnaped woman.

A federal agent from the Cincinnati division of the department of justice was dispatched to Springfield to aid in the investigation here.

Mrs. Edna Dearwester, operator of the rooming house, was quoted by Chief of Police George Abele as saying the man who drove the car came to her house either Monday or Tuesday afternoon and registered as Ben Doken of South Bend, Ind., paying for his room for a week in advance.

Police found a suitcase containing only an overcoat in the room Mrs. Dearwester had assigned to the stranger. Chief Abele immediately ordered fingerprint experts to check the car and use suitcase, hoping to determine definitely whether they belonged to Robinson.

Mrs. Dearwester said the man came to her home late in the afternoon. He put his car away, then went upstairs and shaved. When he came downstairs he went out to look at the car and then left, saying he was going downtown. Mrs. Dearwester said she had not seen him since.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 18 (AP)—A special grand jury to inquire into the kidnaping of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll today was ordered impaneled Saturday by Federal District Judge Charles I. Dawson.

The order was issued on motion of U. S. District Attorney Thomas J. Sparks who announced yesterday that he would demand the death penalty for Thomas H. Robinson Jr., 27, discharged lunatic, sought as the man who abducted the young society matron and held her six days for $50,000 ransom.

Sparks recounted how the young society matron was slugged and taken from her home the afternoon of October 10 and held six days in an Indianapolis apartment.

"The action of said parties constitutes a flagrant and defiant violation of the laws of the U. S.," Sparks said, and urged an immediate grand jury investigation.

Early J. Connelly of the Cincinnati bureau, department of justice, said the typewriter found in the Indianapolis apartment where Mrs. Stoll was held, had been shown by tests to be the one on which the long, rambling ransom note was written, threatening death to the victim and her family.

A possible clue to the whereabouts of Robinson was seen in a report from Hopkinsville, Ky., that one of the $10 bills had been found there. Federal agents were notified.

Mrs. Frances Robinson, 23, wife of the alleged kidnaper, is the daughter of Thos. Henry Robinson Sr., of Nashville, Tenn., and was charged jointly with Robinson, now the object of an intensive hunt with "kidnaping and conspiracy to kidnap."

SENATORS IN FIST FIGHT

'Master Mind' In Slayings Of King And Barthou Is Arrested In Italy

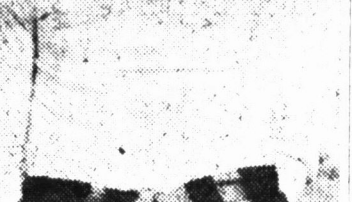

PAMPA
TOPICS OF OUR CITY
By O.E.H.

LUBBOCK—Down here in the hub city of the South Plains, they think their Westerners will "take Amariillo," but they fear the Harvesters, whom they meet a week later in Pampa.

And this is despite the fact that Lubbock has never lost to Pampa, at Pampa.

Frankly, this looks like Lubbock's war to Lubbock. Coaches and sportswriters who went from here to Amariillo last week were not impressed by the Sandies—much they think it will be a hard game when Amariillo comes here Armistice-day but Lubbock fans are expecting to combine a victory with their supper on that day.

Here's the Westerners' captain:

HOWELL YOUNG, above, is the Lubbock captain this year. He's a letterman, weighs 181 pounds, and plays at center. He is good and above all he is dependable for a full game anytime, anywhere, or so say the erstwhile coaches down here. Remember Mister Young.

These boys use the familiar double wingback formation and a form of the Warner shift. They're good at any kind of open field play, fair at line plunking, and have a pass attack which is being held in reserve.

WHEN WE SAY that Lubbock is good this year, we mean that Westerners have the experience, coaching, manpower, and spirit which it takes to make up a fine team. The example of the rampaging Tech Matadors is something more tangible than you might think.

Take this. Quarterback White, for instance. We'll run his picture next week. He was ineligible last year, so you won't know him. He's not so big, weighing 154 pounds, but he's very fast and very deceptive. Although he was in the Boston game here only 18 minutes, he made four touchdowns. Some other very good Westerners are Barnes, Dowell, Dixie White (no relation to Morris).

DEATH RIDES TANDEM WITH FLYING MARY

Aerialist Rides Unicycle to Platform, Misses Footing, And Falls to Stage.

BY DALE HARRISON
NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Death rode tandem with Mary de Phil on the tight wire at the Roxy theater yesterday evening.

It was the second show of the day for the "Flying Phillips"—Mary de Phil and her husband, Charles. Three thousand patrons of the theater had watched as the 26-year-old woman rode a unicycle expertly along the strand of steel 40 feet above the stage floor.

Her husband had just finished a series of breath-taking stunts with her. As she pedaled along the tight wire, the man, on a trapeze which was suspended from extensions of the axis of her unicycle, performed several feats. One of them was to whirl at high speed as he hung suspended from the trapeze, with Mrs. de Phil pedaling back and forth along the wire.

As that part of the turn grasped the platform at one end of the wire, and descended to the stage. Running forward to the footlights, he smiled acknowledgement of the applause that rose from the auditorium.

Mrs. de Phil rode the unicycle to the platform and alighted. Somehow she missed her footing. Even as the applause rolled up from beyond the footlights, she fell. The

ROAD BODY TO CONDUCT DRIVE IN THIS AREA

Association Seeks to Close Gaps By 1936

John Salwaechter, manager of the West Texas division of the Texas Good Roads association, has arrived in Pampa to renew membership of local citizens in the organization. Mr. Salwaechter conducted the drive here last year and the quota was easily exceeded.

Solicitations for renewal of memberships will be conducted by telephone by Miss Jeanette Price and Miss Alma Lorry, local women, both of whom will work under the direction of Mr. Salwaechter. The West Texas division manager will make Pampa his headquarters for about 10 days while he conducts campaigns here and in nearby towns.

Approval of the association's past record and of the campaign has been given by the local Business Men's Association and Chamber of Commerce, both of which are cooperating with Mr. Salwaechter in the membership campaign. Renewal costs $1 per year per person.

It was pointed out that the association has helped defeat five legislative proposals to divert gasoline tax revenue from the highway fund to non-road purposes; helped secure passage and promote enforcement of the anti-bootleg gasoline bill which recovered $3,000,000 in stolen tax money its first year; created a potent organization of auto-owner members, now nearing 20,000 and predominantly business men whose

ASSASSINATION CHARGE DENIED BY PAVELICH

GLASSMAKER AND 'GUN MOLL' STILL AT LARGE

TURIN, Italy, Oct. 18 (AP)—Dr. Ante Pavelich and Egon Kvaternik, alleged by French police to be the master motives behind the assassinations of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France, were arrested here today.

The arrest was made at the request of France.

Both men denied complicity in the assassinations but were held in jail awaiting the arrival of French police.

An official communique announcing the arrest did not state any suspected connection between the two prisoners in the murders at Marseille.

PARIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Surete Nationale was informed today that the Italian police had arrested Ante "Master Mind" Pavelich, head of the terrorist secret society Ustashi and his alleged chief of the assassination squad, Egon Kvaternik, known as "the delegate."

The police claims that the Pavelich organization was responsible for the assassinations of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Louis Barthou of France at Marseille Oct. 9.

Three men named in the killers' organization were said by the Surete to be still at large. They were described as the beautiful "gun moll," Marie Voudroch, a man called Mio Bzik alias "the glassmaker," and another still unidentified.

Police said "the glassmaker," whom they know as a dangerous terrorist, aided "the delegate" in instructing the gang in Pavelich's assassination plans.

The Surete said Bzik was implicated in the explosion made by Mio Krul, who has been under arrest since a few days after the shooting.

Treasury Stickup Totals $150,000

HAVANA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Four men armed with machine guns rifled the city hall treasury today of $150,000, then escaped in an automobile.

Soldiers and sailors were called out to assist the police in a search through the streets for the automobile in which the bandits fled.

The city treasurer was alone in his office at the time and offered no resistance.

LATE NEWS

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Prosecutors read to the Insull mail fraud jury today the story of Samuel Insull's surrender to Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland capitalist, in a $56,000,000 defeat after they had battled early in 1930 over stock in Insull's utility empire. The government would attempt to prove, said U. S. District Attorney Dwight H. Green, that Insull "shouldered his staggering loss on two of his companies and threw this on his stockholders."

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Contact has been established with the kidnapers of Lewis Esposito, 23-year-old son of a reputedly wealthy junk dealer, a brother of the victim disclosed today. The brother, Joseph, said that only an according as to terms of the ransom remains to assure the release of the young man who disappeared Monday.

Red Cross Field Worker to Speak In City Tonight

Citizens of Pampa and surrounding territory are invited and urged to attend a meeting in the city hall at 8 o'clock tonight when R. H. Ziehm of St. Louis field representative of the Red Cross, will be present to discuss the work of the Red Cross with local members.

The meeting will not be confined to members, but will be open to every interested citizen. The roll call will be discussed by Mr. Ziehm during the evening. Jim Collins has been named chairman of the local Roll Call committee.

President Alex Schneider of the Pampa chapter of the Red Cross has been called out of the city but before leaving he urged members and interested parties to attend the meeting which will be brief but interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Taylor Cole and son Jerry, of LeFors were Pampa visitors last night.

Walker Elected Church Official

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker returned yesterday from Texarkana where they attended a meeting of the Texas synod of the Presbyterian church as commissioners from the Amarillo presbytery.

Mr. Walker was elected a member of the general council of Texas, highest tribunal of the Presbyterian church in Texas. The Pampa man was named for a term of three years and is the only member of the body from the Panhandle.

The meeting lasted four days during which more than 250 delegates were present. It was said to be one of the most successful sessions in recent years.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker attended the meeting of the United States body in Cleveland last spring.

Clovis Green Is Injured In Game

'LIAR.' YELLS GULF SENATOR AT JOE MOORE

HOLBROOK LANDS ONE GLANCING BLOW ON CHEEK

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—A bill to appropriate $3,600 for two treasury department clerks today precipitated a near fist fight between two members of the Texas senate dur debate.

One blow was struck. Senator Joe Moore of Greenville charged the bill was "nothing more or less than a little piece of political pie," for Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, the author.

"Any man that says that is a liar," shouted the Galveston senator.

Why little Senator Moore, declared candidate for lieutenant governor, strode across the chamber. The towering Galveston senator advanced.

Senators-at-arms swarmed between the two as they approached each other.

Senator Holbrook, however, reached around Senator A. V. Holt and landed a glancing blow on Senator Moore's cheek. Then the assistants hurriedly escorted the senators to their respective seats, on opposite sides of the senate chamber.

After additional debate, the bill was killed, five yeas, 15 nays and one present not voting.

Senator Moore returned to his desk and repeated his remarks.

He charged Senator Holbrook, chairman of the finance committee, "took the bill back there and reported it out himself without a

Shipping Menaced, Claimed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Testimony was presented to post office department investigator today that the United Fruit company, which holds ocean mail subsidies that will amount to $20,000,000 over a 10-year period, operates 61 of its 95 vessels under foreign flags.

Karl A. Crowley, post office department solicitor, questioned the wisdom of the government subsidizing a company which operates a majority of its vessels under foreign registry, which would permit their use against the United States in time of war.

C. D. Doswell, vice president of the line, told of the number of ships operating under foreign flags. He said 35 of the 64 flew the British union jack.

I want to know," Crowley said, "if there is any reason why we should give subsidies to a company which has ships that can be used against this country in time of war?"

"You are not paying a subsidy to the British ships," Doswell countered.

"No," rejoined Crowley, "but we are paying a subsidy to the United Fruit company."

William K. Jackson, counsel for the company asked Crowley:

"Is it better for American companies not to engage in this foreign trade under a foreign flag or to engage in it and distribute the profits among American stockholders?"

Doswell told the postal officials that Japanese interests, financed by subsidies from their government, were taking shipping business away from American steamship lines operating on the west coast.

He testified that Japanese lines were buying vessels similar to the best American ships and were offering "serious and real competition."

Doswell said American lines were at a serious disadvantage in competing with Japanese on the west coast because of lower labor costs. He said Japanese captains were paid $67.50 a month as compared with $300 to $400 paid Americans. Japanese sailors got $12 while Americans got $45 to $55.

"And look at the difference in subsistence costs," he said. "You can feed the Japanese sailors on fish heads and rice. An American has to have beefsteak."

ELEMENTS DO GREAT DAMAGE IN CALIFORNIA

TORNADO, HAIL, SNOW, 'QUAKE, RAIN BESET SECTION

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18 (AP)—Two boys missing, 500 people homeless, highways blocked by landslides and property damage estimated at more than $100,000 was the result today of a Southern California weather pot pourri.

Starting with a mild earthquake, nature brought out about every trick in its bag yesterday, including a mild tornado, thunder, lightning, hail, snow, torrential rains—and a waterspout.

Donald Butterworth, 9, Los Angeles, was reported missing by his mother. Police said they had been informed a boy had fallen into a storm drain near the Butterworth home.

Lloyd Spindle, 11, also of Los Angeles, failed to return home from school and it was feared he had drowned in flooded streets.

The homeless were largely in the North State street area of Long Beach where nearly five inches of rain fell in 24 hours.

The transcontinental highway through Cajon Pass east of San Bernardino was blocked today by landslides which followed a cloudburst in the mountains.

Approximately 200 people were marooned in the Cajon Pass, including the passengers of five transcontinental buses.

The Santa Fe railroad tracks running through the pass also were buried by landslides. Traffic was delayed more than two hours.

During the intermittent down-pours, a miniature tornado whirled through Inglewood, suburb of Los Angeles; high tides pounded at Newport Beach sending a house into the ocean, and a waterspout appeared off the breakwater light at San Pedro.

Allred to Give Talk Tonight on Tax Amendment

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred in a statement today clarified his position and that of State Superintendent of Education L. A. Woods with reference to two proposed tax amendments to the constitution.

"Apparently some confusion has been created in the minds of some of the mutual friends of Mr. Woods and myself," Allred said. "Some of our citizens seem to think that the amendment which I favor is the one opposed by Supt. Woods and other friends of education."

"This is incorrect. I have talked with Supt. Woods and there is no difference between us," Allred said.

Allred said the amendment he favored would give the legislature "authority reasonably to classify property for taxation purposes," while Woods opposes the amendment "designed to limit the total amount of taxes collected by the state to $22.50 per capita each biennium."

"As a matter of fact," Allred said, "I am in accord with Supt. Woods and friends of education in opposing the adoption of this tax limitation amendment. Supt. Woods tells me he is in favor of the adoption of the constitutional amendment advocated by me to permit the legislature reasonably to classify property."

Allred will speak tonight over a southwestern radio hook-up on the subject of the amendments. His address will continue from 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock.

Forest Lanquist of LeFors was a Pampa visitor this morning.

SIGNS INDICATE C. OF C. HEAD AND FDR ARE IN AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Efforts to bury the hatchet that has gleamed in several exchanges between President Roosevelt and some leaders of business are becoming apparent.

Signs that the White House and some spokesmen for business are finding more common ground in their approach to certain recovery problems were underscored today when it became clear that President Roosevelt's intentions on rural housing bear marked resemblance to the views of Henry I. Harriman, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The president let it be known yesterday that he favors an expansion of rural building activities as well as slum clearance. The home building in rural communities, which fits into Mr. Roosevelt's oft-stressed ideas for decentralization of industry, was described as aimed to get people off relief rolls.

About the same time, in a speech at Memphis, Tenn., Harriman was tackling the problems of unemployment and economic insecurity in similar vein.

"The real cure of the situation," said his address as distributed here, "is a gradual decentralization of our workers from the center to the periphery of metropolitan areas and the establishment of our working people in homes with two or more acres of good land available for cultivation."

"I, therefore, hope that the future expenditures of the federal government for relief work will take the form of the construction of well-designed inexpensive homes within 10, 20 or 30 miles of our great centers, each home having not less than two acres of land. If one or two million families could thus be moved, the whole social and economic problem would be changed and the burden of relief would be lifted."

I SAW

A small hullobaloo being raised by a few persons over the fact that one of the star players on the Trinidad football team is a negro. Supt. R. B. Fisher said at noon today that it wasn't certain whether the negro would or would not play Friday night. Mr. Fisher and Coach Ouch Mitchell will have a conference with Coach Miller of the Trinidad Miners when he arrives with his team tonight. School authorities would want all players of any visiting team that plays here treated respectfully.

If the Harvesters were playing in Trinidad the negro would be in the lineup if he were able to play. Wichita, Kan., had several negroes when he arrives with his team several years ago but did not bring them to Pampa. Only a very few have raised any objection about the negro, and many feel that if the negro plays on the Trinidad team in Colorado he should play here. They also point out that a victory over a team that has been deprived of a star performer would be empty.

JONES LIKELY CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE SPEAKER

Marvin Jones of Amarillo, who has been our congressman a long time, is mentioned as a likely candidate for speaker of the house of representatives. In fact, affable Marvin, who has been in congress nigh onto a score of years, mentioned before leaving his Amarillo home for the North, a month ago, that he might make the race.

But the chances are Marvin won't run for speaker and The Plainsman hopes he doesn't.

Marvin is just where he belongs as the head of the powerful house committee on agriculture—a subject upon which he has done much study.

As the house expert on agriculture, Marvin has been one of the president's advisors along that line and can get the chief executive's ear almost any time he wants it.

And, to boot, although he won't be our congressman after January 1, he can do more for us in his present post than he can as speaker. And Marvin likely will always feel inclined to do what he can for his ex-constituents, just for old time's sake.

Note that The Plainsman didn't say that he hoped Marvin wouldn't be elected speaker.

He thinks enough of Marvin personally to want to see him get anything he wants to have.

But in the face of the situation in Washington, it would be next to impossible for Marvin to be elected this time and for that reason, together with those listed above, we hope he doesn't make the race.—The Lubbock Journal.

A Washington Daybook

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The more discerning fellows here, contemplating President Roosevelt's plan to persuade the industrial lion and the labor lamb to lie down together, insist the president seems to be overlooking an important item.

Some of the strongest industrialists are in revolt, actual or incipient, against the rulings of Roosevelt's own labor boards. Since F. D. is asking both industry and labor to stop fighting awhile and repose hope and faith in these boards and other similar groups which he plans to create, he must soon decide whether he is going to support the boards and their decisions.

Otherwise, the notion of a truce seems a bit silly—unless you assume that labor will willingly recede from the advanced ground on which its collective bargaining rights under Section 7-A have been placed by the National Labor Relations Board and the Steel Board.

Within 24 hours after the momentous Houde decision of the NLRB—ordering employers to recognize majority unions as sole collective bargaining representatives—had been defied by the Houde company, the National Association of Manufacturers was advising its members to disregard rulings of the board.

The automobile industry is backing up the Houde company now and the steel industry has no thought of ever accepting "majority rule" decisions from the Stacy steel labor board.

The Stacy board is also acting as the textile labor board. It has proceeded rapidly and vigorously in examination of worker complaints against 7-A violations in that industry.

Just as soon as it starts slapping "majority rule" orders on the cotton and rayon mills, textile industrialists will also be in revolt. Meanwhile, the coal labor board is also being challenged.

So Roosevelt isn't in much of a position to say "Don't strike—you've got boards!" until he decides whether to accept those challenges, expedite court tests, and promise to ask congress for legislation backing up the boards.

PER CAPITA TAX AMENDMENT IS DRAWING FIRE FROM EDUCATORS

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Sharp criticism is being directed at one of the constitutional amendments on which the electorate will express a final say-so at the November general election.

The amendment would limit the amount of taxes to be collected for state purposes during a biennium to $22.50 per capita. The fight against the amendment is being championed by the school interests who express strong fear its adoption would cut sharply into school revenues and materially reduce the state per capita apportionment.

Dr. B. F. Pittenger, dean of the department of education at the University of Texas, has made an analysis of the amendment and terms it "unfair both to the state and to the little taxpayer." He predicted the amendment, if adopted, would endanger the highway and school funds and force an added burden on local taxing subdivisions.

The adoption of the amendment he predicted, will rob the small taxpayers and homeowners of Texas of the benefits given them three years ago when the state exempted $3,000 of the value of homesteads from state taxation and will leave the state $17,000,000 short of enough money to keep up its activities. The small taxpayer, Dr. Pittenger said, would be required to make up the difference.

Predictions have been made by school authorities that adoption of the amendment might result in a reduction of the existing per capita scholastic apportionment of $16.50 to $9. If their assertions are accurate the operations of local school units, many of which vitally need all the state aid they can get, would be endangered.

Dr. Pittenger declared the amendment presented a definite menace to the state's financial security. He pointed out that the state is committed to aid in financing the Texas centennial, has agreed to assumed millions of county obligations issued for road construction and is starting now to establish a sinking fund with which to retire

Lefors Pirates Will Play Price Eleven Tonight

A crippled Lefors Pirate football team will be at home to the Price Memorial Cardinals at 8 o'clock tonight on Shaw field. Three members of Coach Bill Bronson's Pirates were unable to scrimmage this week and it is doubtful if they will be able to play much tonight.

Cumberland, big fullback who has been a tower of strength both on offense and defense, has a broken finger, physicians reported following x-ray pictures taken Tuesday. Morgan, midget quarterback, is suffering from a bruised elbow which is painful. Moore, veteran center, is hobbling about from an ankle injury.

Price Memorial has another strong team this season and a close battle is predicted. The Cardinals have five games behind them and are just about mid-season shape.

The game was changed to Thursday, tonight, so that it would not interfere with the Pampa-Trinidad game tomorrow night.

relief bonds. All are extraordinary demands on the state's treasury. Adoption of the amendment would cut $20,000,000 from the state's revenues while millions in additional obligations have been saddled on a treasury already bogged down in red ink, Dr. Pittenger asserted.

The soundness of a policy that limits taxation on a population basis was questioned by Dr. Pittenger. Wealth, he said, has been universally recognized as the basis of all taxation.

The school organizations are conducting a determined campaign to defeat the amendment. Local groups have been contacted and requested to take up the cudgels against the proposal. It will be interesting to watch the results on election day and the vote will at least afford an accurate estimation of the power the "school bloc" wields when it really goes into action.

Father and Two Sons Continue Banditry Acts

SHERMAN, Oct. 18. (AP)—The three men—members of one family—who have been taunting officers for ten days with their robberies and kidnappings, sent sheriff's deputies on the trail again last night as they stole two automobiles, bound a man and his woman companion, robbed a grocery store employe and had a short gun fight.

The trio—D. M. (Duff) Hood and his sons, Carl and Clifford—who last week kidnaped Jack Rapp, McLean deputy and later released him near Woodville, Okla., struck first at the Sherman airport. They jumped on the running board of an automobile occupied by Carroll Reagan, garage employe, and demanded the car. They bound him and his companion, Miss Dorothy Dyer, with wire.

The Hoods then came to Sherman; robbed a small grocery and took the car of the proprietor, Scott Hill, and left Reagan's car. Bob Graham, special deputy and son of W. V. Graham, jailer, entered them at the Bear and shots were fired but the men disappeared in the darkness.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our bodies. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 4% of our food decays in our 33 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

—YOU SEE, TEX, AT FIRST PEOPLE SCOFFED AT THE IDEA OF USING PLANES TO DUST FARMS AND FORESTS WITH A POISON POWDER TO KILL INSECTS—IT WAS THOUGHT THAT THE AIR CURRENTS CREATED BY THE SPEEDING PLANE WOULD TOSS THE POWDER TO THE FOUR WINDS—

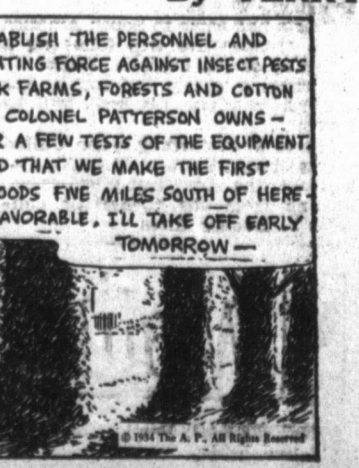

—AFTER THE FIRST TESTS—SOMEWHERE UP IN OHIO, I BELIEVE, IT WAS FOUND THE PLANES LAYED THE POWDER WITH REMARKABLE PRECISION. WHEN THE POWDER IS RELEASED FROM THE HOPPER ON THE SHIP'S SIDE, IT IS SEIZED BY THE VIOLENT CURRENT OF AIR FROM THE PROPELLOR, AND BECOMES A DENSE CLOUD OF DUST, WHICH FLOATS OUT BEHIND THE PLANE—

—THOSE FIRST TESTS REVEALED THE ASTONISHING FACT THAT NOT OVER ONE PERCENT OF THE INSECTS REMAINED ALIVE ON THE TREES OF THE SMALL GROVE THAT WAS DUSTED—

—MY JOB HAS BEEN ONLY TO ESTABLISH THE PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT OF A PERMANENT FIGHTING FORCE AGAINST INSECT PESTS IN THE BIG FRUIT ORCHARDS, TRUCK FARMS, FORESTS AND COTTON AND TOBACCO PLANTATIONS THAT COLONEL PATTERSON OWNS—

—THE JOB IS FINISHED, EXCEPT FOR A FEW TESTS OF THE EQUIPMENT. COLONEL PATTERSON HAS SUGGESTED THAT WE MAKE THE FIRST TRY-OUT ON A SMALL PATCH OF WOODS FIVE MILES SOUTH OF HERE—

196-POUND BACK, FASTEST MAN IN COLORADO, LEADS MINERS' ATTACK

NEGRO END IS ONE OF STARS ON BIG TEAM

TRINIDAD IS TOUGHEST TEAM PAMPA WILL PLAY

A 195-pound fullback, Paulino, said to be the fastest man in Colorado in a football uniform, will lead the attack of the Trinidad, Colo., Miners when they start digging turf at Harvester field Friday night against the Pampa Harvesters.

The other members of the Miners backfield are anything but mid-weights and they, also, are fast. Two of the ball toters weigh 169 pounds and the other 174 pounds.

According to Coach W. A. "Gus" Miller, his backfield is the biggest and fastest in his history as a coach, and Miller is a well known football mentor. He coached several years at Slaton after graduating from the ranks of the Canyon Buffaloes. His Slaton teams won bi-district honors four years.

The Miners line is not as large as the backfield, but is said to be one of the best charging lines ever coached by the former West Texas Buffaloes. Miller was enthusiastic about his prospects when at the Texas Tech coaching school, local coaches recall. He predicted that the 1934 Colorado championship would come to Trinidad at last.

Colorado does not have the one year transfer rule, or the eight semester rule, and boys can play football until they are 20 years of age. As a result, Colorado can produce more veteran teams than other states. The Miners are undefeated in four starts this season against some of their toughest opponents.

A grim determination to show the Colorado semi-finalists that Texas can produce a mighty football team under the handicap of rules, rules, rules, was in the air at Harvester field yesterday afternoon as the Harvesters practiced long and hard despite the weather.

The boys snapped into their plays with a vim and vigor not previously displayed this season.

Drilling on a pass offense and defense took up much of the time the Harvesters were in session yesterday afternoon. The Colorado team is said to have a regular aerial circus at its command, and if weather is favorable, Harvester field is due to be full of footballs.

The boys snapped into their plays with a vim and vigor not previously displayed this season.

FOUR UNDEFEATED AND UNTIED TEAMS TO FALL ON SATURDAY

Pitt and Minnesota Hailed As Leading Teams of East And Middle West Area.

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Those loud detonations you'll hear around dusk Saturday will be the exploding of at least four of football's undefeated and untied records at Pittsburgh, Birmingham, New York and Cambridge.

Barring ties which would cut both ways, either Pitt or Minnesota will walk the plank of defeat in Pitt Stadium. At Birmingham it will be either Alabama or Tennessee whose record is smeared. Columbia and Navy stake perfect records at New York and Harvard and Holy Cross at Cambridge.

Incidentally, it is a significant tip-off on a busy-turvy season that there are so few major games involving undefeated and untied teams on so early a date in the campaign. Ordinarily there would be a dozen or more but the string of upsets that started with the opening of the season has decimated the ranks of schools which ordinarily wait until late in November, if at all, before joining the list of the defeated.

If you don't believe it, take a look at the Big Ten where the race has barely begun, yet Michigan, Purdue, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio State and Northwestern all have been walloped at least once. Or the Pacific coast conference where Washington's huskies alone have escaped defeat or tie.

Minnesota, coached by Bernie Bierman, has been hailed by mid-western critics as the outstanding team of that section, the Big Ten's main contender for the national championship, mythical or otherwise. Pitt, already victorious over Washington and Jefferson, West Virginia and Southern California, should supply the answer to the question: "Just how good is Minnesota?" There's power in that Gopher running attack but Jack Sutherland's knack for developing tough-fibered forwards is too well known to need re-statement.

Columbia is the majority choice against Navy but the Lions' problems will be to stop Buzz Borries, sparkplug of the Midshipmen's attack. Lou Little's outfit, beset by injuries to the line squad where replacements are scarce, perhaps does not loom quite so formidable as last season's Rose Bowl victors, but it is a first-class team just the same with at least one outstanding back in Al Barabas. Navy has shown encouraging progress under Tom Hamilton's leadership and Saturday's encounter should be close.

Pampa unknown this year and it may be that the eleven is as tough as doped. Other known strong teams have fallen before the Harvester attack. Tomorrow night it will be different, the wise boys believe.

CORSICA 'DISCOVERS' COLUMBUS BIRTHPLACE

CALVINI, Corsica (AP)—The citizens of Calvi are convinced that Christopher Columbus was born here in a tumbledown hovel, historians to the contrary.

To be on the safe side the city council decided to buy the old house. The owner, an Englishwoman, Mrs. Baker, asked $466. The council thought it too much for a building that might fall down any minute and offered $46.

After some hesitation Mrs. Baker accepted the offer, realizing that should the house be declared a historical monument, she would be obliged by law to put it in repair at her own expense.

'DIZIS MAD,' SAYS PRETTY YOUNG WIFE AT GOTHAM TILT

Dean Sure Does Raise a Big Howl When He Gets Mad At the Ump, Says She.

By EDWARD J. NEIL Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Take a seat, please, beside Mrs. Jay Hanna Dean, pert, pretty young wife of big Dizzy, and hear something more of the dazzling Deans' pitching champions of the world.

Dexter Park in the far reaches of Brooklyn is packed, so Mrs. Dean must sit in the press box back of home plate, while her weary husband makes his metropolitan barnstorming appearance with the Bushwicks, versus the Black Yankees.

Dizzy is pitching his three inning stunt as though he were still facing the Tigers in the world series.

He's arguing with the umpire, a pompous little fellow in ice-cream pants who seems to take great delight in calling them against Ducky Medwick, who's playing a mild left field for a change, Paul Dean, whose arm is so sore he can't pitch but plays right field, and the Dizzy one.

"Diz is mad," she confides in her Texas. "I always know when he's mad. It's time I took him home to Bradenton to rest. He'll leave just as soon as he finishes his vaudeville act Tuesday, two weeks."

The umpire had just called a negro runner safe when he stole home after dropping a flyball to right that Paul Dean kicked into a triple. Diz was roaring.

"You know what Dizzy did once in St. Louis when he got mad at an umpire? It was Ernie Quigley or Charley Moran. He ran in from the box, grabbed him by the back of the neck, bent his head over the plate and yelled:

"Can you bend over, you old blankety blank? Can you see it, you blind so and so? Well, take a good look. I ain't pitchin' for your amusement!"

PIRATE STARS TO PLAY HERE ON SATURDAY

CARL HUBBELL MIGHT BE IN LINEUP OF VISITORS

Paul and Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh Pirate outfielders, will lead a group of professional baseball stars to Pampa Saturday and Sunday afternoons for games with the Pampa Road Runners. Game time Saturday will be 3:30 o'clock with 2 o'clock set for game time Sunday afternoon. Admission will be 75 cents.

Carl Hubbell, screwball artist of New York Giants, is also expected to be with the club. Hubbell wired Road Runner officials yesterday that unless something happened, he would be here to pitch one of the games. Cy Blanton, veteran Pirate hurler, will be on the mound for one game, it was definitely announced this morning. Winfred Cardinal hurler, will also be here to do mound duty.

Paul Waner will play first base for the All Stars. His brother, Lloyd Waner, will patrol his old position in the outfield. Johnnie McFarland, who finished last season with Minneapolis, will also be in the garden. Either Prather or Hall will be the other outfielder. Prather is a Texas league star while Hall converted in the Western league last season.

Hayes, an infielder in the New York-Penn league last season, who is scheduled to go "up" next season, will be at one infield position. Simms, former semi-pro star but now the property of Pittsburgh, will also be in the infield. Ucal Clanton, former Cleveland star but now a resident of Shawnee, Okla., will accompany the team. Other members of the infield have not been named, but they will be big league stars.

Fitzsimmons of the Missions in the Pacific Coast league will be one of the receivers. A catcher from one of the big league teams will be here but the player has not been selected.

Paul Waner was selected the second most valuable player in the National league this year. The Pirate outfielder received 50 votes out of a possible 80 votes. Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals took highest honors, receiving 78 votes out of the 80 possible. Carl Hubbell of the Giants won the honor last year.

The entire Road Runner team with the exception of Eddie Sain and Gordon Nell, will be available for the games. Sain has gone to his home in San Antonio and Nell is vacationing at Hollis. The five Road Runner pitchers, Hardin Stegman, Daney, Stewart and Tate will be ready for mound duty. They have been keeping in shape, hoping for a chance to display their arms again some big time.

The hurlers went through a cng practice session yesterday and were to repeat today regardless of weather.

Additional bleacher seats will be installed at Road Runner park to care for an expected overflow crowd.

RICE OWLS ON WAY TO PLAY IN NEBRASKA

KITTS WILL BE SATISFIED IF HE WINS BY ONE POINT

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Coach Jimmy Kitts and his undefeated Rice Institute Owls are roaring over rails today bound for Omaha, Neb., where Saturday night they play Creighton university.

Before leaving Houston, Kitts crooned a few blues to the tune of: "We have had four tough games and are undefeated. Creighton's season thus far has been disappointing. But the Blue Jays have a good team and can get into the limelight by licking Rice. Furthermore Saturday's game is the homecoming day contest for Creighton, and I understand Creighton players are in the best condition of the season thus far. Frankly, I'll be tickled if we can win by one point."

The Owls will arrive at Omaha in time to get out under the lights Friday night. Kitts reported his cohorts in excellent condition and ready for a stiff fight.

Coach Ray Morrison sent his Southern Methodist Mustangs thru a lengthy dummy scrimmage in preparation for the invasion of Oklahoma A. and M. Saturday at the Dallas Fair Park stadium. Bobby Startzel, halfback, and Clyde Carter, tackle, are injured and may not compete. Morrison is worried for fear his boys will not successfully break up Oklahoma's offensive weapons.

Texas Christian leaves Friday night for Saturday's game at College Station against the Texas A. and M. Aggies. Coach Dutch Meyer drilled his men on defense yesterday, especially pass defense. Clovis Green, husky reserve tackle, has a slight concussion of the brain and will not compete.

The Aggies went through a short but intensive drill yesterday. They planned a defense to halt the powerhouse drives of Jimmy Lawrence, Texas Christian halfback. Two Aggie regulars, Wilbert Randow, quarterback, and Jack Roach, center, injured in last week's Centenary game, will not play Saturday.

Leading the Southwest conference with two consecutive wins, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks turned in a gymnasium workout yesterday when rain forced them off the gridiron. Arkansas battles Louisiana State Saturday. Coaches Fred Thomsen and Glen Rose explained Louisiana formations and emphasized the fact that Arkansas linemen must stomp Mickal, Louisiana's triple threat star. Oliver Criswell, Arkansas fullback, reported with a bruised knee but is expected to play.

The Baylor and Hardin-Simmons game has been switched from Saturday to Friday night. The Bears leave tonight for Abilene. Coach Morley Jennings has his team primed for a killing.

With Bohn Hilliard nursing an injured hip, the University of Texas Longhorns are bearing down with extra effort in order to be ready for Saturday's combat against Centenary at Austin. Outside Hilliard, the Longhorns are ready for the gentlemen with the same lineup that conquered Oklahoma last week, 19 to 0.

COCHRANE'S SELECTED AS BEST PLAYER

IS 'MOST VALUABLE' IN AMERICAN LEAGUE, EIGHT DECIDE

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Mickey Cochrane, the "Iron Mike" who led Detroit out of the second division to the pennant in his first season as ringmaster of the Tigers, today was named the most valuable player in the American league for the second time since 1928.

The 31-year-old Detroit manager won the honorary award, voted annually by an 8-man committee representing the Baseball Writers' Association of America, after an unusually spirited duel of ballots with his star second baseman, Charley Gehringer. Cochrane polled 67 out of a possible maximum of 80 votes to 65 for Gehringer. Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, star Yankee southpaw, polled 60 votes. Schoolboy Rowe, ace Tiger pitcher, received 59, and Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, was given 54.

Of the eight ballots cast, Cochrane was named first on six, Gehringer on one and Rowe on another so that all eight firsts, counting 10 votes each, went to Detroit players. The fact that Cochrane's name did not appear on one ballot resulted in the close point total between himself and Gehringer.

Nineteen players, including stars on every club except the down-fallen Senators, received votes. Jimmie Foxx, home run slugger of the Athletics and winner of the award last year, was tenth with only 11 votes. For the first time since the award was made an annual honor in 1922, Babe Ruth's name was missing, even on the honorable mention list of 19 names.

The Baseball Writers' committee, which named the players, consisted of John Maloney, Boston Post; Wayne K. Otto, Chicago Herald-Examiner; Stuart Ball, Cleveland Press; Bud Shaver, Detroit Times; James Dawson, New York Times; Ivan Peterman, Philadelphia Bulletin; James Gould, St. Louis Dispatch; and John Keller, Washington Star. H. G. Salesinger, sports editor of the Detroit News, was the non-voting chairman.

The Detroit club, which purchased Cochrane from Philadelphia last December for a reported sum of $100,000, found him such a great investment that yesterday it awarded him a $10,000 bonus.

The result of the polling follows: Gordon S. Cochrane, Detroit, 67; Charles Gehringer, Detroit, 65; Vernon Gomez, New York, 60; Lynnwood Rowe, Detroit, 59; Lou Gehrig, New York, 54; Henry Greenberg, Detroit, 29; Hal Trosky, Cleveland, 18; Wesley Ferrell, Boston, 16; Marvin Owen, Detroit, 13; James E. Foxx, Philadelphia, 11; Al Simmons, Chicago, 9; William Werber, Boston, 8; Roy Johnson, Boston, 8; Leon Goslin, Detroit, 6; Sam West, St. Louis, 5; Mel Harder, Cleveland, 4; Frank Higgins, Philadelphia, 3; Earl Averill, Cleveland, 3; Bill Knickerbocker, Cleveland, 2.

LEDWIG CITES CHURCH STAND ON CONFESSION

Question Box Is a Part of Lecture Series

Rev. Francis J. Ledwig discussed auricular confessions in his sermon at Holy Souls Catholic church last evening. He clearly set forth the teachings of the Catholic church concerning confession of sins. He quoted the early fathers of the Christian church to show that confession is not a recent innovation in the Catholic church.

"The church did not, through the Lateran council," said Father Ledwig, "ordain that the faithful of Christ shall confess—a thing which it knew to be necessary and instituted of divine right—but that the precept of confession should be completed with at least once a year."

"No one denies that confession today is observed as a divine law everywhere in the Catholic church, and that it has been universally observed in both east and west since the twelfth century. If the pope of Rome or a general council of the church had instituted such a distasteful duty, there would have been a general protest at some period in church history. There is no such record."

Dr. Ledwig quoted the writings of St. Isidore of Seville (636), St. Gregory the Great (590-604), St. Caesarius of Arles (470-542), St. Leo the Great (440-461), St. Ambrose (340-397), St. Augustine (354-430), St. Pacian of Barcelona (390), St. Basil (331-379), Paulinus of Milan (355), the historian Sozomen (251), Origen (185-254), and St. Cyprian (200-258) to show that these early contemporaries of the Christian church were acquainted with the doctrine of forgiveness of sins and the sacrament of confession.

Father Ledwig is conducting a question box connected with his explanatory lectures concerning the doctrine and practices of the Catholic church in which he will answer any question concerning the teachings of the Catholic church or of the philosophy of life.

Father Ledwig will discuss the doctrine of transubstantiation this evening under the title, "The Doctrine of the Real Presence."

Williams-Weeks Case Blows Up

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—An unused marriage license, obtained last month, was all that remained today of the romance of Guinn (Big Boy) Williams, film actor, and one of the nation's leading polo players, and Barbara Weeks, screen and stage actress. They were to have been married October 15.

"Our engagement was terminated by mutual consent," Williams said, "for reasons best known to ourselves."

A number of Pampans plan to attend the silver jubilee of West Texas State Teachers college tomorrow and Saturday, either as homecoming ex-students or as visitors for an interesting program.

Helps Whole Families

Attention, MOTHERS, to what every doctor knows to be a fact, and what they say to avoid

If you have children who are occasionally constipated, you should know this.

If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age, but first try this treatment that safely relieves sluggishness in children or adults.

The Proper Treatment

You can't safely relieve the bowels with any medicine if you can't regulate the dose. To regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative.

When necessary to repeat, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition at any age.

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of such natural laxative elements as senna and cascara, it forms no habit—even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and cascara, and is the one widely used. You can always obtain it at any drug store. Why not make the "liquid test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps nearly everyone who tries it. It may make you feel better overnight. The children will like it, too; Syrup Pepsin has a delightful taste.

If you will risk sixty cents to discover the safe, pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, we believe bowel worries will be over for your household.

REVIVAL PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR THE FINAL DAY

Services to Continue Through Sunday Evening

Six responded to the appeal in the revival in the First Baptist church last evening. Despite the circus and bad weather the crowd was good, the interest intense and the response gratifying.

The meeting is to go on through Sunday with services at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. It is expected that Sunday will be the best day in the history of the First Baptist church.

Evangelist Appelman will preach at 11 a. m. There will be a special service at 3 p. m. when the evangelist, a Russian Jew, will speak on "Russia and Jesus." A joint young people's rally has been set for 6:30 and all of Pampa's young people are urged to attend.

"The Challenge of Christ to the Youth of Today." At 7:30 p. m. will be the concluding service of the meeting.

George Wilson is continuing to stir the congregations with his masterful music. The Sioux Indian, four years ago a star of the concert and vaudeville stage, leads the congregation and sings solos.

Tonight Appelman will preach on "A Conference With God," using as his text a passage out of his own people's part of the Bible, the Old Testament.

It is said that this is as great a revival as Pampa has ever experienced. It is the privilege of every Pampa citizen to attend these last services.

DEATH RIDES

Six women fainted. Men gasped and paled. Charles de Phil, horror lighting the eyes that but an instant before had smiled happiness, ran to where his wife had fallen, half hidden by the wings.

Up to 1912 an ordinance required that acrobats work above a life net. Acrobats complained of this law, saying the net took all the elements of danger from their acts, and that the public preferred that there be some risk.

The ordinance was rescinded, and there was not net to catch Mary de Phil.

They rang the curtain down. Even as an ambulance was racing to the woman, her skull fractured, to a hospital, the curtain lifted. There were many vacant seats now in the auditorium. Scores of persons, sickened by what they had seen, had left.

But the curtain went up; and the show, as it must always do, went on.

Marian Gordon by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: When Marian Gordon tells her old school friend, Silver Honon, that the husband Silver just has divorced has shot himself, Silver is angry. Cliff Honon only wanted, according to Silver, to make his former wife lose face with the world. Marian telephones her paper and learns that Cliff may live. At that moment, Lon Casad, whom Marian loves better than anyone, arrives. He has followed Marian all the way to Reno, but Silver catches sight of him as soon as he arrives. Silver asks Marian to tell Lon about the situation.

Chapter 11 CHARMING LON Lon looked at Marian expectantly, but she remained silent.

"Why not let her tell you what she learned when she called the hospital," suggested Hamlin with gentle sarcasm.

"Jan," Silver leaned forward, eyes dilated, one exquisitely formed hand over her heart—"he isn't, don't tell me he's—"

"No," replied Marian shortly, "he isn't. He has more than a fighting chance. He decided to fight after he'd received a telephone message."

"Jan—" the color was back in Silver's cheeks. "And 'Silver,' came the sharp reminder from Hamlin.

She leaned back again, was silent a full minute, then whispered—"the relief of me, too much to bear." Then she turned to Lon, "I guess I'll have to tell you, it doesn't seem fair to you, that you should be here with us and not understanding."

And she closed her eyes to veil the gleam of triumph which came as Lon cast an indignant look at Marian.

"I was married when I was just a youngster," Silver explained. "My parents insisted, and I... well I thought it would be a lark to be able to have some freedom. I learned bitter that freedom was the last thing I had won."

"My husband, considerably older than I was, was insanely jealous. I stood it four years and then I broke. I didn't want to go on living that way. It was easy enough to win a divorce under the circumstances."

"I was given my decree today... yesterday now, and then he did as he threatened. He said he couldn't live without me and he shot himself."

She made an effective pause, then continued, "Of course I feel terrible. I feel as if I had murdered the man. I don't love him. It's all over between us, but... I had to do something about it, so I sent word to him that I did."

"I think you've been wonderful," blurted Lon, sincerely. "Just one grand spite in it."

"I knew you'd understand," murmured Silver, gratefully, "and now I have to find some way of hurrying into Reno to catch the morning train. Mr. Casad, would you could you drive me in?"

"I should say I could," declared Lon heartily, and turned to Marian. "There's room for the three of us. I'll rig up a place for Hero in the luggage carrier."

"Oh, but Mr. Casad," protested Silver, "I don't feel that I could be crowded at a time like this... my nerves are simply shattered. I feel ready to break down. Ian can stay here and rest. She's worn out; she'll look after the dog, won't you, Ian?"

Lon and Silver turned to look at Marian, who seemed concerned chiefly with a blaze in the heart of the hearth fire.

Marian sat looking into the glowing embers as though stricken with sudden grief. Not by any rule of sportsmanship could she turn to Silver, or to Lon, and demand the other woman's true character be revealed.

"Marian, you won't mind, will you?" queried Lon in a voice that took her acceptance as a matter of fact. "I'll carry Mrs. Honon to Reno, then come back for you."

"But you don't need to, Mr. Casad," interposed Hamlin. "I've already arranged to take care of Miss Gordon, during the remainder of her stay in Nevada. I'm leaving for Reno this morning, and we'd planned that I should take her in, then after she'd had a good rest, take her out to see the sights."

"Oh, you had?" demanded Lon belligerently. "Well, I'd make different arrangements."

"Two bad," said Hamlin. "However, if you care to join us this evening we'll be glad to have you. Oh, and we can take care of Hero in my car. He seems to accept Miss Gordon as his mistress."

He nodded at the dog, who had remained with Marian, nearly paralyzing the foot across which he had stretched his bulk, but even the paralysis seemed comforting to Marian. She was silently blessing Hamlin for his "magnificent lie," a lie Silver couldn't question because she had hurried to her room immediately after Lon had assured her he would drive her into Reno.

Forcing gaiety into her voice, Marian looked at Lon and said in excellent imitation of his voice a few moments previous, "Lon, you won't mind, will you?"

"I think you ought to rest instead of running around," he retorted. "Oh, she'll have time to rest," Hamlin assured him. "We'll be in town in a couple of hours and she

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A demand for various specialties helped to keep the stock market on an even keel today. The metals, utilities and oils were still rather friendless, but packing issues drew followings at substantial advances.

The majority of old-line leaders were narrow. The close was somewhat irregular. Transfers approximated only 640,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP)—The market ruled quiet all morning. Some hedge selling in early trading caused prices to ease off to 12.33 for December, 12.44 for March and 12.49 for May, 5 to 6 points below yesterday's close.

Later the market rallied on shorts covering and some trade buying with an advance of 4 to 6 points from the lows, to 12.37 for December, 12.50 for March and 12.53 for May. This was net 1 to 2 points down compared with yesterday's close.

Near noon the market was steady and at the highs.

CHICAGO OGRAN CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Late rallies in wheat prices today virtually overcame earlier losses.

A bracing influence was the fact that the Argentine wheat crop is at the critical period of growth, and that there is very small difference between the price of wheat and of corn in the Buenos Aires market. In inference drawn in some quarters was that the quality of wheat at present on hand in Argentina may be somewhat inferior.

Wheat closed steady, unchanged to 1/2 lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.00 1/4-1/2, corn 1/2 % up, May 80 1/2-1/2, oats 1/4-1/2 off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

SECRET INSURANCE POOL FOR OCTOBER AIR RACE

LONDON (AP)—A secret pool for insuring entrants in the London-Melbourne air race has been formed by leading American and British insurance brokers.

The scheme was evolved by Farey Jones, well known in aviation circles, who found that competitors could not insure their lives and aircraft for the race except at prohibitive rates.

"Taking them individually," said Jones, "I also found it impossible to insure them, and therefore hit upon a scheme which involved forming an insurance pool on the whole race."

"To do this it was necessary to call upon the leading British and American insurance brokers to cooperate with me, and I also had to rely upon a great majority of the competitors themselves joining the pool. I received enthusiastic support from all concerned."

The premium rate is being kept secret and competitors will not know it until shortly before the start.

ROYAL SECRETS SAFE AS HOTEL PORTER DIES

BELGRADE (AP)—A monument has been proposed here to the "most honest and discreet man in the world"—Peter Spasich, head porter for 30 years at the largest hotel in Belgrade.

He was credited with knowing more secrets and saying less about them than any other man in the Balkans.

Kings, queens, dukes, princes, ladies-in-waiting, ministers, diplomats, business men and spies made him their confidant. He could have made a fortune as a spy on his own account, but he kept his lips sealed and was rewarded with handsome tips.

When he died recently many highly-placed officials sent flowers and condolences to his family. His friends opened a subscription list for a monument to his memory.

Few Women In Turkish Asylums

ISTANBUL (AP)—At the lunatic asylum in Bakirkup, a suburb of this city, there are only 460 women among the 1,800 patients. But officials say there are more insane women than men in Turkey, explaining that because for centuries Turkish women have been kept in seclusion, those afflicted mentally usually are looked after at home.

The association's platform is "to fight to the end for a completed Texas highway system—today is scarcely more than one-third finished; to campaign through 1934 and 1935 for closing of the gaps in Texas' main trunk system, improving the comfort and increasing the number of tourists to Mexico and to our Centennial."

Ford Extortion Plot Author Is Given Pen Term

DETROIT, Oct. 18. (AP)—A crestfallen youth of 29, who muttered to himself as he left the court room that "ten years is a long, long time," awaited transfer to Leavenworth prison today to begin his sentence for a childish plot to extort $5,000 from Edsel B. Ford.

Edward Lickwala's air of braggadocio was unshaken while the machinery of federal law was moving rapidly to indict, arraign and sentence him after his confession yesterday, but sharp words of Judge Edward J. Moines, the sentencing judge, finally broke through his bravado.

"Your letter was not a joke," spoke the judge to the youth who had claimed he "only meant to scare" the 41-year-old president of the Ford Motor Co.

"It seems to be in the air for upstarts in this country to commit acts to arouse the country; that apparently is what you had in mind."

The young extortionist was arrested Monday night when he volunteered the information to federal agents that he could help solve the

11-Foot Shark Caught on Hook At Texas Beach

GALVESTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The battle a huge tiger shark waged before 15 men finally landed it is a vivid memory today for those who saw the struggle from the fishing pier on the Galveston beach.

One of the largest sharks ever caught in Gulf waters, it measured 11 feet, 2 inches in length.

The shark was hooked from the pier by E. P. Williams and J. J. Nave. In attempting to land it, four lines with hooks were broken and it was finally necessary to resort to a block and tackle.

Hundreds watched as the huge fish churned the sea in its desperation.

When the shark's stomach was opened, it was found to contain a whole sea gull and a bolted board 17 inches in length. The board was a foot wide and two inches thick.

Fishermen here said it was unusual to find a shark of this size so close to shore, although they are mystery of who wrote a threatening letter to Ford.

frequently found some distance off shore.

The tiger shark is found in tropical waters and is easily recognized by its enormously-long, blade-like tail, which is half as long as the entire shark.

Its teeth are small, tri-lobed and serrated. The fourth and fifth gill openings are close together.

Sharks have infested Galveston water for more than a week, being especially numerous around the jetties. Anglers took advantage of the chance to hook them.

5 PARDONS GRANTED

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today granted one full and four conditional pardons to convicts and revoked a general parole granted in 1932.

The general parole granted by former Governor Ross Sterling, October 23, 1932, to Rollie Cansler, who was serving 11 years was revoked. Cansler was convicted in Walker and Grimes county in May 1929, of theft of hogs, theft of cattle and manslaughter.

D. E. Harris, convicted in Dawson county in December, 1933, of violation of the liquor law and sentenced to two years, received a full pardon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Gher have returned from a vacation and hunting trip to Eagle, Colo.

ALEXANDER IS BURIED BESIDE HIS ANCESTORS

FUNERAL IS PAGEANT OF SORROW FOR KING

By CHARLES M. MEISTER (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Oct. 18.—The body of the murdered King Alexander was placed today near those of his ancestors in the Royal Memorial Chapel in his native city of Topolo.

While 50 men bore the Sarcophagus up a hill through tree-lined lanes to the chapel all activities throughout Yugoslavia remained at a standstill for two minutes as the common people paid tribute to their fallen king.

Then, as Alexander was laid in the tomb which he had only recently completed, church bells were tolled throughout the country. They mingled strangely with heavy guns on land and sea which roared out "Mignon," as Alexander called his wife, the Dowager Queen Marie, took leave of her royal consort and the doors of the tomb were closed.

Alexander's body lies beside the headless body of his grandfather. Massed thousands of mourners were held back by troops standing shoulder to shoulder as the funeral train passed from Belgrade to Topolo. Only children were allowed on the right side of the route, engaging troops to supervise more efficiently the activities of adults on the left.

Spectators were not allowed to carry canes or umbrellas, despite a drizzling rain. An atmosphere of terror prevailed, lest anarchists attempt to disrupt the funeral. Little Peter II, son of Alexander, Carol of Rumania, his uncle, and Boris of Bulgaria.

Secret service agents made many arrests as they mingled among the crowd, seeking firearms and explosives. A mighty massed assemblage fell to their knees on the cold bare pavement as if by one impulse as the flag-draped Sarcophagus of the warrior king whose grandfather, Black George, was slain by Turks, passed through the main streets of the capital into President Wilson square.

U. S. Envoy Present
In one voice they murmured a benediction upon their slain ruler. Hosts of devout peasants, who regarded Alexander as a saint, came from their own humble blood, stood with bowed heads holding crucifixes and lighted candles. Others carried olive branches and corn in the form of crosses, symbolizing resurrection and life.

It was a great national, indeed an international, pageant of sorrow for the king who was assassinated while offering the hand of friendship to France.

There were present not alone Yugoslavia's grief-stricken legions but distinguished representatives of all the nations of the world. Among all the visiting kings and princes and hundreds of foreign delegates dressed in resplendent gold-braided uniforms laden with decorations, the figure of American Minister Charles S. Wilson in simple black civilian dress was a picture of quiet dignity and democracy.

As Alexander's body was carried from the National Cathedral to the gun carriage which conveyed it to the train for Topolo, the majestic strains of Chopin's general march followed the intonation of Yugoslavia's national anthem. A wave of emotion swept through the kneeling crowds in the streets.

Preceding the royal Sarcophagus a distinguished Serbian general carried the murdered sovereign's glittering crown which seemed to typify the tragic splendor of his death. The same crown will be worn by the child King Peter when he reaches the age of 18.

Another officer carried Alexander's sword, which the king had no chance to use when he was assassinated at Marseilles. Another held his sceptre, symbol of power. On a velvet cushion were carried the numerous foreign honors and golden decorations heaped upon the man who tried to make one great brotherhood of Yugoslavia's disunited racial groups.

Bodyguard Weeps
One of the most touching scenes of all was the tottering figure of

'King Kong Was No Good No How' Says His Slayer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Harlem's King Kong, the big negro who feared no man, is dead—at the hands of a woman.

"Sure I killed him," police said Mary Williams, 25-year-old negro, told them. "He was no good, no-how."

They called him King Kong because he was six feet, eight inches tall, weighed 250 pounds, and had hands like hams. Too, he was tough. When 15 men ganged up to challenge his prowess, he whipped them all single-handed. Another time he laid out a husky longshoreman with one mighty swat. The longshoreman, recovering, seized a two-by-four beam and brought it crashing down on King Kong's head. The king shook his head and walked home. There he collapsed, and lay for weeks in a hospital with a fractured skull.

Though he was King Kong to Harlem, he was plain Willie Smith in the police records. Whenever he was on a rampage, officers went for him by squad, and not singly. He was tough.

But he wasn't too tough for Mary Williams. She had been his favorite until last winter when she decided he was "no good no-how." King Kong's vanity was injured. He made overtures to patch their differences. Tuesday night she went to his apartment. Two hours later they found him there dead—stabbed by his own knife.

Alexander's personal servant and bodyguard, a wounded Serbian veteran from the Balkan wars, who walked behind the coffin with tears streaming down his lined face.

But the sight that moved all hearts was the 11-year-old King Peter, dressed with the simplicity of an American schoolboy. The earnest youngster seemed to embody all the future hopes of the Yugoslav nation. The crowds wept, mingled tears of grief and joy as he passed.

Walking between two queens, his mother, Marie of Yugoslavia, and his grandmother, Marie of Rumania, Peter was flanked on all sides by armed officers. There was little chance for a terrorist bomb or gunshot to reach him.

A crepe-covered locomotive with large white crosses painted on its sides waited at the Belgrade station to carry the body of the king to Topolo, Yugoslavia's Piedmont, 50 miles distant. There it was that Alexander's grandfather, Kara-George, won Serbia's partial independence from the Turks.

POLITICS WILL FACE TURNING POINT NOV 6

FUTURE OF PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT TO BE AT STAKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—On November 6 American politics may reach a crossroads, perhaps a historic turning point.

That is the forecast of many observers watching the congressional and gubernatorial campaigns. A record-breaking number of parties and tickets has entered the field to joust with the old-time organizations. New alignments are considered a possible result of the November balloting.

Some say the outcome of the elections will decide whether the progressive movement in the west has enough strength to put up a national ticket in 1936 and whether the republicans will revamp their organization for future contests. That the democrats will sweep a lot of congressional and state elections is conceded although republican leaders continue to say they will make gains in the house and in gubernatorial contests. The G. O. E. declines to concede senate losses despite democratic predictions of gains.

One of the advocates of a progressive third party ticket for 1936 said that if Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., is elected on the progressive slate in Wisconsin, that movement will gain nation-wide support. He predicted it would receive backing of a major portion of all liberals, unless the "new deal" leans farther to the left.

On the other hand, some old time republicans privately manifest concern over the future of their party. They say that if the "new deal" sweeps the country, November 6, it may mean the dismantling of the present old guard set-up and even a possible reorganization under a new label. Others, however, contend that they will only fight harder.

The suggestion has been made in some G. O. P. circles that a new party label might be adopted to appeal to the conservatives in the democratic party in the south, where the name republican always has been anathema. Should this materialize and the progressives gain ground they expect, three major parties would result—one extremely liberal, one conservative and the democratic "new deal" party composed of the mass of voters between the two.

There are candidates for congress and state offices on about thirty tickets including many with platforms farther "to the left" than the democratic. There is also a number of candidates running on tickets avowedly conservative. Old political observers say that sometimes in the past when a large number of tickets enters an election there has been a realignment of party principles if not of party labels.

Confederate Vets Hold Convention

MINERALS WELLS, Oct. 18. (AP)—The colorful convention of the United Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Confederate Veterans was in progress here today with approximately 450 delegates in attendance. Fifty arrived from the Confederate home in two large busses. Gen. A. L. Steele of Houston presided at the veterans' meeting. Mrs. W. W. Turner of Webster, president of the Daughters' assembly and C. E. Gilbert of Houston, commander, at the Sons' gathering.

MEEHAN IS SELECTED

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18. (AP)—With Roy Meehan now firmly seated in the saddle as business manager, the next job of the Fort Worth ball club is to find a field boss for the 1935 Cats. This major matter is likely to be decided within the next month, before the national baseball meeting in Louisville, Nov. 21-23. As business manager Meehan will have the last word in naming the manager.
