Red Army Beaten, U. S. General Says

Prices Getting Out of Hand, Solon Claims

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Ives (R-NY) declared today the price situation is getting out of hand and he called on President Truman to set up control machinery speedily.

Ives told a reporter he figures it will take the government until at least Jan. 1 to organize a price control agency which could operate on a big scale.

A report from the Federal Reserve Board, meanwhile, made it plain that the nation's current standard of living is due for a lowering.

The report pointed to the heart of the growing economic problem with a showing that: 1. Although barely beginning to feel the impact of expanded defense orders the nation's industrial machine is pouring out goods and materials at a rate not far from that achieved at the height of the second world war.

2. Even so, it hasn't managed to keep up with soaring business and consumer demand, much less fill that demand with a left-over capacity for defense goods production.

3. Already, the excess of demand over supply has produced "additional sharp rises in prices," the board said.

Its report implied that satisfying defense needs still to come will mean reducing civilian supplies available, regardless of prices.

One hint of possible future effects of the mobilization of consumers came yesterday on consumers came yesterday (See PRICES, Page 2)

Texan Tells Story Of Questioning By Soviet Officers

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times today quoted a U. S. Army officer who said from capture as saying he had been questioned by Russian officers in North Korean uniforms.

All the Russians' questions were political, said the American officer.

The Times told how the officer and a fellow prisoner were taken on a 200-mile exhibition tour as proof that the Reds were winning the war.

The war correspondent Charles Gutzmer reported that Lt. Billy McGarver, an Ableman, Texas, and Platoon Sgt. Ollie Chapman, of Lawton, Okla., rejoined their unit yesterday after running manacled toward U. S. troops.

Gutzmer's dispatch was from a Yonagdong, Korea, where McGarver's wife told of receiving a wire from Gutzmer — relayed by the Times — who passed along the "good word" at the request of McGarver.

McGarver related that the North Korean soldiers treated Chapman and him "wonderfully" at the front, but mistreated them during the marching tour of many villages and camps.

The worst torture, McGarver said, was psychological — repeated questioning.

The prisoners were told by their captors that they would be treated properly under the Geneva convention but would be executed for "any impropriety or impoliteness."

Small Business Clinic Set Oct. 6

Final arrangements for the meeting of Panhandle businessmen with a group from the nation's capital, known as "The Small Business Clinic," have been completed.

The meeting, arranged by Rep. Ben Guill, will be held in the Herring Hotel, Friday, Oct. 6, at 10 a. m.

The meeting was organized by the Panhandle newspaper publishers, along with the various Chambers of Commerce and the Texas Manufacturers Association.

Members of the group from Washington will be Mr. Harold Blythe, Department of Defense; Commander P. F. Ashler, director of small businesses, Department of Defense; Mr. William A. Hollaway, regional director of the small business division of the Department of Commerce; Mr. Jesse Larson, administrator of the General Services Administration; and a representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The purpose of the Small Business Clinic is to outline to businessmen and manufacturers how they can obtain prime and sub-contracts through government agencies. It has been the feeling that the Panhandle has been neglected in this respect and these men are coming to this area to answer any questions regarding the matter.

The representative of the REC will explain about supplementary financing, if needed.

This is the first time that such a group has come to the Panhandle and a fine attendance is urged for the meeting to show them that the Panhandle is interested in obtaining war contracts. This meeting is open for all businessmen and manufacturers throughout the Texas Panhandle, the Oklahoma Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico.

Red China Charges U. S. Shelled Ship

LONDON (AP) — Communist China has charged a U. S. destroyer shelled one of her merchant fleet in Chinese waters and demanded a hearing before the United Nations general assembly.

Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, in a message broadcast over Radio Peiping, said the merchant vessel was "shelled on Sept. 21 off the Shantung peninsula."

McGarver related that the North Korean soldiers treated Chapman and him "wonderfully" at the front, but mistreated them during the marching tour of many villages and camps.

The worst torture, McGarver said, was psychological — repeated questioning.

Organized Resistance Gone Eighth Army Chief Claims

TOKYO (AP) — The Red invader army as a whole has been defeated, the allied command in Korea said today, and is reduced to cut-up pockets of dwindling resistance and head-long retreat.

This was the appraisal of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Eighth Army commander, as the allied armored vise tightened in and around Seoul, the capital.

American forces to the south recaptured three more cities — Taejon, Namwon and Hadong.

The North Korean army is in complete rout and no longer exists as an organized force," Walker told war correspondents at his headquarters in Korea.

He said all Red troops south of the Pusan-Taejon-Seoul highway, winding diagonally from the old beachhead in the southeast to the new one at Incheon, will be annihilated.

Of the once powerful Red force of an estimated 150,000 men, more than three-fourths have been or will be wiped out, Walker said.

Thus, in just over three months, the Reds had ruthlessly overrun most of the Asiatic peninsula, had raised the wrath of the non-Communist world and now are feeling the heavy consequences of stark defeat.

It was three months to the day, Thursday, since the tanked North Korean columns tumbled into Seoul, after plunging across the 38th parallel in 11 places June 25.

General Walker cautioned that fighting against scattered Red pockets may continue. But he said United Nations forces are wiping out many Communists before they can scamper over mountain trails to the 38th — which divides Russian-sponsored north and the U. N.-sponsored south.

The Reds were trapped by General MacArthur's counter-offensive strategy. It began unfolding Sept. 15 with the Inchon landings on the west coast and the coordinated dives from the old Pusan perimeter to the southeast to put the Reds in the middle and crush them.

To chase those who escape the giant trap, MacArthur is reported to have authority to send troops across the 38th parallel to retake the peninsula's northern tip.

In New York, the United Nations general assembly is to consider a British plan for the political future of Korea tomorrow.

Unity of the old Soviet-infiltrated Red north with the republic is the keynote.

In Moscow, the Literary Gazette said deadpan that the Korean Reds are holding "every foot of land" in Seoul. But a Red radio broadcast from Pyongyang, the Korean Communist capital, said their newscaster had to call up a Red general in Seoul to find out the score.

The actual score was that allied forces throughout South Korea were running the Reds ragged, with a few notable exceptions.

GI'S IN KOREA DUE MILLION CANS OF BEER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The armed forces in Korea are going to get 1,200,000 free cans of beer, a gift from brewing interests.

The Army yesterday accepted the offers of 600,000 cans each from the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co., Milwaukee, and Schenley Industries, Inc., New York.

The Army said the offer was made some time ago after a ration of one can a day to front line troops had been cut off. They were some complaints in Congress and elsewhere about issuance of beer to fighting men, but the Army said it had received no formal complaints from organizations.

North Korea Entry Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur reportedly has been given authority to send troops across the 38th parallel into North Korea if that action is necessary to destroy the Communist Army.

But responsible quarters who reported this yesterday said no final decision has been made as far as whether the United Nations shall occupy North Korea after the fighting stops.

President Truman presumably approved the essentially military decision that MacArthur should be authorized to send troops across the parallel, the border between North and South Korea, if that is necessary to the destruction of the North Korean army.

Presumably, also, it was reviewed by other members of the U. N., under whose flag (See ENTRY HINTED, Page 2)

New Communist Outbreaks Disturb Austrian Regime

VIENNA (AP) — Scattered Communist disturbances broke out for the third day in Vienna this morning as Russian-organized Red workers continued to harass the Austrian government.

Communists seized control of two Danube River bridges connecting suburbs in the Russian sector of the four-power city with the central part of the town.

One railroad station on the line from Vienna to Bratislava, in Czechoslovakia, also was occupied by Communist demonstrators — but the Austrian government diverted trains by another route.

The demonstrations were all restricted to Russian districts of Vienna.

Austrian Chancellor Dr. Leopold Figl's press officer said the situation was much calmer than in the last two days, during which the Communists staged strikes, demonstrations and traffic interruptions. They said they were protesting government wage and price increases.

Allied quarters said today the Communists have some justification for their protests, since the wage increases are not equal to those of prices, particularly food.

There was a back-to-work movement in many factories, although in some Russian-controlled factories workers remained on strike.

Korea Future Plans Speeded by British

NEW YORK (AP) — British delegates rushed work today on a four-point plan for post-war Korea which they hoped to present to the United Nations general assembly tomorrow.

They are holding almost continuous conferences with other delegations to work out details and especially with Asian countries. The Asians would be called on, under the British proposal, to make up the greater part of a U. N. commission to supervise post-war Korea.

A source close to the Indian delegation said his country viewed the plan sympathetically and might even become a co-sponsor.

The plan, which still is subject to modification, envisages an independent Korean state with a democratic government elected under U. N. supervision. The U. N. would continue to furnish assistance to prevent an armed attack and would set up the supervising commission.

American officials, reportedly in favor of the British recommendations, are expected to make positive contributions to the plan during talks today.

Another hot Asian problem comes up in the Security Council this afternoon when that body is expected to reach a vote on inviting Communist China to present in person her charges of American aggression on Formosa.

The council has two resolutions to this effect as the first order of business. They are a Soviet proposition for an immediate invitation and one from Ecuador which would invite Red China provided debate on the Formosa question is put off until Dec. 1.

Ecuador's plea for delay is based on presence of the Formosa problem. The general assembly agenda, Ecuador feels the council might benefit from the assembly's investigations.

Since Ecuador would make the seventh vote needed to invite the Peiping government, she is a strong contender to bargain for the delay. She already has announced that she will not vote in favor of the immediate invitation proposed by Russia.

Canada's minister for external affairs, Lester B. Pearson, proposed a post-war Korean plan to the assembly yesterday which contained many of the British ideas. The two proposals are expected to be combined before they reach the assembly as a formal resolution.

Pearson called for a free, united Korea, with U. N. assistance and military support for the united country. He urged U. N. assurance (See FUTURE PLANS, Page 2)

Total Dwellings Up In Pampa, County

The number of dwelling units in Pampa and Gray County has shown a marked increase since 1940 according to a report today by the census bureau.

Pampa, according to tentative figures, shows a total to date of 5,737 dwelling units compared to 3,998 for 1940. Gray county climbed to 8,384 from 1940's 7,155.

Increase is general over the state, Director Loy V. Peel of the census bureau said. In 1940 the state had 1,901,881 while the April 1, 1950 count was 2,398,125 units. There were increases in almost every city and county in the state.

Peace Feelers Still Denied

(By The Associated Press) Top diplomats at the U. N. and in several capitals continued today to deny any knowledge of rumored peace feelers by the North Koreans.

The report circulating in New York yesterday that the Korean Communists had offered, through Indian U. N. representatives, to stop fighting and accept a U. N. settlement was discounted by authoritative sources.

High foreign ministry officials in New Delhi said today "no such proposals have reached us," and they had no information to support the rumors.

A British foreign office spokesman in London also denied any knowledge of such reported peace feelers, either in the United Nations or through an intermediary power.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, India's chief delegate to the U. N., yesterday denied his delegation had been chosen as the "go-between" in any North Korean peace negotiations.

American officials both at the U. N. and at the State Department in Washington said they knew nothing about the rumors.

Pampan Awarded Bronze Star for Heroism in Korea

A Pampa man serving with the first cavalry division in Korea has been awarded the Bronze Star decoration for heroism in combat against the enemy.

He is Private First Class Keith Duree, son of Mrs. John B. Parks, 742 E. Campbell Ave., and a member of the division's 8th cavalry regiment.

The citation accompanying the decoration reads: "Private First Class Keith Duree, Infantry, United States Army, while serving as a member of Company A, 8th Cavalry Regiment, 1st Cavalry Division, displayed gallantry in combat against the enemy near Yonagdong, Korea, 24 July 1950. Private First Class Duree was serving as messenger for the first platoon when the enemy launched a strong attack on the platoon. He maintained his position and continued firing until seriously wounded and rendered incapable of further firing. By his protective fire, he enabled his platoon to regroup and reestablish its position. Private First Class Duree's heroic actions reflected great credit upon himself and are in keeping with the traditions of the military service."

He was transferred in January, 1948, from Charleston, W. Va. where he was attorney for the western division of the company.

Feather Merchants Bounce Rubber Situation Around

By ARTHUR L. EDSON WASHINGTON (AP) — The feather industry has its feathers ruffled, and it's all because of foam rubber.

This came out yesterday at a Federal Trade Commission (FTC) hearing.

The FTC is trying to work out fair trade rules for the feather and down people, who make everything from down comforts to Arctic jackets. And the hearing described the American feather industry as "non-allergic."

Licht said he'd like the fair trade code to forbid a feather merchant from advertising his product as "non-allergic."

"Non-allergic," it turns out, is a lighting term in the feather industry.

told him Gifford would get the job. Bruce and the president are reliably reported to have quit as friends but the politicians are wondering how enthusiastically Bruce will regard any future Truman political contests.

Persons familiar with the president's views say he picked Gifford for the London post because he considered him the best qualified man for the job. He wanted some one with a knowledge of government operation, sound judgment, administrative ability and personal wealth.

Gifford had done government work during both world wars and in the early days of the depression. He could afford the extra expenses of being envoy to London. These may amount to as much as $25,000 a year above the $25,000 salary and about $15,000 in allowances which the job carries.

Also the fact that he is a Republican is regarded at the White House as strengthening bipartisan foreign policy.

At the capitol, Democratic and Republican senators still in town predicted there will be little if any opposition to Senate confirmation of Gifford when Congress returns Nov. 27.

day when the Interior Department set up a Minerals and Energy Administration (M.E.A.) with power to parcel out supplies of coal, gas, oil, electric power and raw materials for defense.

With that action came word that curbs may shortly be placed on the octane ratings of automobile gasoline and even commercial aviation fuel.

The department has said there is plenty of auto gasoline and that rationing is definitely not in prospect. But officials said there may shortly be restrictions on the amount of alkylate so as to preserve supplies for high grade military aviation fuel.

Alkylate is the ingredient which boosts the octane rating and efficiency of gasoline. It is a cutback in auto gasoline might bring some reduction in engine performance.

A department spokesman said producers have already reduced the octane rating of automobile gasoline by one point since Aug. 1 in response to a government request. He said that even with further reductions, motorists would still get better gasoline than in recent years.

Mr. Truman has expressed concern over rising prices and has said the matter is under study. He has created agencies to handle wage and price stabilization, but so far has not named anyone to head them.

MacArthur is directing fighting forces in Korea.

Authorities here said the decision was based on the U. N. Security Council's resolution of June 27 which called on member nations to furnish aid to South Korea "to repel the armed attack and to restore international peace and security in the area."

These informants said the reasoning back of the decision is that it would not be possible to restore "international peace and security in the area" unless the North Korean Red army is totally defeated.

The speed with which MacArthur's forces have been pushing the invaders back was reported to have been a factor in splitting the 38th parallel into two parts — an immediate, military one and a long-range political one.

The question was clarified here after conflicting reports from London and New York, where the United Nations is meeting.

An official London source had said the U. S., Britain and France had agreed that U. N. forces should cross the 38th parallel only with specific approval from the general assembly. This source said permission for such a move would be asked.

But a U. S. delegation spokesman in New York said no U. N. action would be necessary—that MacArthur already had authority to do whatever he regards as essential to the destruction of the North Korean army.

The decision on whether to station an army of occupation in North Korea and to supervise the setting up of a government there still remains to be made by the U. N., authorities said.

Tipps Tells Aims Of Grid Program At Rotary Meeting

Coach Tom Tipps of the Pampa Harvesters, guest speaker Wednesday at the Rotary luncheon, explained the aims, purposes and benefits of football in Pampa High School.

Tipps told a large group of Rotarians and visitors that he tells the boys on the Harvester squad that education comes first and football second. He said that football takes time, practice, study and plenty of work. It was his belief, he continued, that any success enjoyed by the Harvesters this year or any other, will not be due to talent alone, but also to the moral fiber and character of each man on the team.

The boy who doesn't make the team, the coach explained, is the boy who refuses to abide by the training rules and regulations which the other boys follow.

Tipps stated that he does not allow fighting in practice or in a game and does not allow the use of any abusive or strong language at any time.

"When the boys are losing a ball game, it hurts them more than it does you," Tipps remarked, "so please refrain from aggravating that hurt by moans, groans and harsh remarks."

The coach concluded by saying that when the Harvesters win, the credit goes to the parents of each boy on the team and if they lose, fans should have no kick coming, for the players are doing their best.

All the presidents of the United States have hailed from eastern or middle western states.

Coach Tom Tipps of the Pampa Harvesters, guest speaker Wednesday at the Rotary luncheon, explained the aims, purposes and benefits of football in Pampa High School.

Tipps told a large group of Rotarians and visitors that he tells the boys on the Harvester squad that education comes first and football second. He said that football takes time, practice, study and plenty of work. It was his belief, he continued, that any success enjoyed by the Harvesters this year or any other, will not be due to talent alone, but also to the moral fiber and character of each man on the team.

The boy who doesn't make the team, the coach explained, is the boy who refuses to abide by the training rules and regulations which the other boys follow.

Tipps stated that he does not allow fighting in practice or in a game and does not allow the use of any abusive or strong language at any time.

"When the boys are losing a ball game, it hurts them more than it does you," Tipps remarked, "so please refrain from aggravating that hurt by moans, groans and harsh remarks."

The coach concluded by saying that when the Harvesters win, the credit goes to the parents of each boy on the team and if they lose, fans should have no kick coming, for the players are doing their best.

All the presidents of the United States have hailed from eastern or middle western states.

After working that over, the feather men got along okay until they came to a definition of "crushed feathers."

One fellow said crushed feathers could be either (a) crushed or (b) curled. Another fellow said, no, that isn't the whole story. His company, he said, twists its crushed feathers.

That's all I can tell you about feathers. I slipped uncertainly away, completely crushed, curled and twisted.

signed an order impounding all money, automobiles and other property of 11 persons allegedly involved in the case, including $10,000 now in the hands of the court.

The tieup of property included the eight named in the criminal action, together with Melba Orr, 21, husband of Rita; Cecilia Hay, 20, and William Matthew Albert, 21, who police said was engaged to marry Marie Orr.

In the oral confessions, later repudiated and never signed, police said some of the girls admitted taking rolls of quarters from the phone company counting room by stuffing the money in their brassieres.

The girls admitted, according to police, that some of the estimated $100,000 went for automobiles, payments on houses and bonds.

Five of the women appeared at the telephone company office yesterday, accompanied by their attorney, and asked for their jobs back. District Manager J. M. Phillips told them they had been fired.

to the people of Korea that no nation will try to put bases there for military domination of the country and said Korea's future should be planned in such a way that the peninsula's neighbors — Communist China and Russia — would find nothing to menace them.

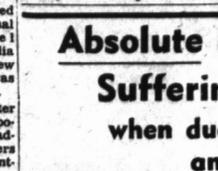

The Canadian also suggested that the free governments of Asia take the major responsibility for advising the Korean people in the future.

None of the proposals yet contain a definite statement that U. N. forces will cross the 38th parallel and occupy the entire country. Their substance, though, apparently takes such a country-wide occupation for granted.

ABSOLUTE PROOF HADACOL HELPS FOLKS SUFFERING STOMACH DISTURBANCES

when due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin in the system!

Mrs. John W. Geary, attractive and charming woman of 40 Uruilene St., New Orleans, Louisiana: "I'd been sick quite some time and the doctors told me it was a nervous stomach. I couldn't eat regularly and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want, and my nerves are fine." (I give HADACOL a chance to help you.)

Mrs. Alma Kincaid, 2125 E. Adelaide, St. Louis, Missouri: "I've been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before taking it, I had stomach distress for some time. Nothing seemed to help me. Then I took my husband's advice and took HADACOL. A good friend of his told him of the wonderful results he had from HADACOL. Now that I'm taking HADACOL I eat anything I want. I recommend HADACOL to all my friends. (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days.)"

WHY CONTINUE TO DOUBT

So if you are suffering from stomach disturbance of letters that constantly pour in telling of the wonderful results the great new HADACOL is giving. It's only a very foolish person who would continue to "doubt" HADACOL'S effectiveness and refuse to suffer in view of such overwhelming evidence.

Relieves the Cause of Stomach Distress Due to Such Deficiencies

So if you are suffering from stomach disturbance (gas pains, indigestion, heartburn), if the food you eat disagrees with you because your system is lacking Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron and Niacin—don't delay—start taking HADACOL today. HADACOL is not a quick-acting antacid which gives symptomatic relief—instead, HADACOL actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of such stomach misery due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps prevent such painful distress from coming back.

Hundreds of Doctors Recommend It

Hundreds upon hundreds of doctors recommend HADACOL. It not only supplies weak, deficient systems with extra quantities of important Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron and Niacin but also beneficial amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese — elements so vital to help maintain glorious health and guard against such deficiency ailments. And so inexpensive. Costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. (c) 1950, The LeBlanc Corporation.—Adv.

Square Dancing Set in Bunavista

PHILLIPS — A square dance jamboree, sponsored by the Phillips Garden Club, Lions Club, Men's Club and American Legion Post, will be held at the Bunavista Cafeteria, four miles west of Borger on Highway 136, at 9 p.m. Saturday.

The jamboree is being conducted to raise funds for improvements in Phillips Park. The improvements will include modern rest rooms.

One of the features of the dance will be the Amarillo Barn-dancers, prize winners in the recent contest at Fort Worth, who will demonstrate their ability during intermission.

One of the callers will be Ralph Gardner, Pampa.

Tired Al Jolson Back From Front; Praises Soldiers

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A tired Al Jolson returned by plane last night from entertaining combat troops in the Korean war zone and had this comment:

"Know what it feels like to be back? I'm going to look up my income tax and see if I paid enough."

"Those guys are wonderful," the singer told reporters in referring to the morale of combat troops. "This is a much tougher war than the last one, believe me."

Jolson said he and his pianist, Harry Akst, gave 42 shows in war zones and at base hospitals in Japan during their 16-day tour.

"I guess the North Koreans didn't like my singing," said Jolson. "They threw lots of stuff at us at Masan."

President Okays Reclamation Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has signed a bill authorizing construction of the Vermejo reclamation project in northeastern New Mexico at an estimated cost of $2,679,900.

The measure was the second of its kind to reach the president. He vetoed the first Vermejo project bill last year, largely on the ground that the cost of too many items in the project would not be repayable to the government.

The project will include rehabilitation of the old works of the Maxwell Irrigation Company on the Vermejo River in Colfax County which have been made nearly useless by floods. It will provide irrigation water for 7,300 acres of land.

Water users will be called upon to repay $2,000,000 of the project cost over a period "consistent" with their maximum repayment ability.

Actual construction cannot start until a project report is approved by the president and funds are appropriated by Congress.

Marine Letter Is 'Fine Art'

FROSTBURG, Md. — (AP) — For insurance purposes a President Truman's explosive letter about the Marines is "fine art." And for other purposes, says Rep. Beall (R-Md.), it will be auctioned off.

Beall said he has sold a $10,000 fine arts insurance policy on the letter.

American Soldier in Korea Regaining Sense of Humor

By HAL BOYLE
 ON THE ROAD TO SEOUL — (AP) — There is a lift of laughter along the front.
 For the first time the American soldier can look at the Korean campaign with a real sense of humor.
 He has lost his grudge against his country. For long weeks he was dazed by the realization that he was an outpost warrior of a land wealthy beyond belief—but a land too weak militarily to quickly settle a peace-threatening war in an obscure and backward Oriental nation.
 Men and machines now have appeared on the battlefield to end the days of sacrifices and to muscle through to victory.

Texans Speed Wheat Sowing

AUSTIN — (AP) — Wheat planting was rushed toward completion last week in the high plains, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported.
 Northern plains farmers had about three-fourths of their intended acreage planted. Those in the central and south Plains were about half through.

Showers in North Texas continued to restrict harvest and other field work, but cotton harvest made good progress in the central counties. Cotton was deteriorating in too-wet regions.
 Fall and early winter commercial vegetables were doing well, especially the Laredo and Eagle Pass areas. Valley plantings were delayed by hot, dry weather. (The report did not take into account late rains in that region.)
 Northern and northwestern counties were blessed with lush range and pasture feed growth. Heavy rains in the south were expected to give green feed a boost.

Driver's Faith in Humanity Is Kept Alive

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — City bus driver Kenneth Fahs should never have reason to question the honesty of his patrons.
 While making change for one, he dropped a roll containing 100 tokens. They rolled in every direction, some even out the door. There was a scramble of hands, as everyone tried to retrieve them.

Amarillo's Horse Wins in New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Wilson's Lady, owned by Glen L. Casey, Amarillo, was named champion mare yesterday in the palomino horse show at the New Mexico State Fair.
 The reserve champion mare was Monte's Bird, owned by Dixie Lee Roger, Woodward, Okla.
 The palomino judge was Dr. M. T. Ramsey of Abilene.

And that has restored the faith of Army men in the American homeland. Some of them have been overseas so long that subconsciously they had come to think of the United States chiefly as a supply base that had helped them occupy Japan in comfort.
 The middle and upper level Army brass, however, is less happy than the average rifle-carrying foot soldier.
 The casualty rate, as usual in warfare, has been particularly high among junior officers and non-coms. They are the ones who must generally tell the men to get up and go — and who must then personally lead the privates into battle.
 At the combat level the Army feels it has lost, in a small-scale war, too many trained soldiers who ought to be saved for a possible large scale action. These include the battle experienced sergeants from the second world war and the young graduates of West Point, in whom the country has invested thousands of dollars to learn the tactics and the strategy of warfare.
 A cynical officer of the National Guard would put it this way:
 "The war in Korea came up so fast that the Regular Army had to fight. They didn't have time to corral and train the civilian draftees."
 But a staff officer of the Regular Army said:
 "We had to fight with what we had. We have lost in combat men who ought to serve as a training corps for the future."
 "And we have killed off future leadership here during an emergency that we may need later in a bigger war. The West Point class of 1949 in particular has been hard hit. We have lost lieutenants we might want as generals 10 years from now. And they are gone."

"I'm going to put a little action into this picture if it slows up any time, Pop!"

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NKA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours:
 Dark-eyed Janis Paige, who bolted the Warner talent stable, is feeling a lot better about her career these days. She says: "I was lucky to be doing things at Warners. But after the war, I didn't have the experience to cope with what they gave me. I had to go out (a theater tour) and get the experience. Now I'm ready to be a real actress."
 Free-lancing doesn't scare her. "It's a feast or famine," she laughs.

Club. Jane stole the show, lighting up a briar pipe a la Bing.

An autograph hunter rushed up to Alice Faye and Vic Mature, conversing from adjoining tables at the Beverly Hills Tropics, and said: "Why don't you make another picture together? I saw every picture you co-starred in before the war." Alice and Vic did a double-take. They never even made a trailer together.

Even radio has title trouble. Sara Berner's new show started out as "Sara's Private Eye," then became "Sara's Private File," was changed to "Sara's Private Crime" and now is "Sara's Private Capers." Next week: "Sara's Private East Lynn."

"ROOTS" UNDER "TEXAS"
 Audie Murphy is getting beaming looks from UI officials. Ted Richmond, his producer on "Kansas Raiders," told me: "Audie in 'Kid From Texas' out-grossed 'Tap Roots.' Nobody can understand it, but there it is."

Alan Ladd has his shirt open only to the second button in "Branded" at Paramount. "This is Alan's first 'whoo there' opera since 'Whispering Smith' and if somebody scored the picture with what his studio bosses are thinking as he utters his 'Howdies,' you would hear a symphony of silver being plunked down at the box office.

Alan Ladd against a background of cactus, tumbleweed and campfire bacon is money in the bank.

Mercedes McCambridge and Herman Mankiewicz are huddling on a story about a famed woman evangelist. Aimee Semple McPherson?

The James Cain sizzler, "Serenade," is being packed in ice again at Warners. This time it's not for censorship reasons. The studio will wait until Ruth Roman does the sister role in "A Streetcar Named Desire" before casting her as the fiery Mexican doll in the Cain history.

Richard Carlson admits he changed two or three words in his three-part national magazine story of the African location trek of "King Solomon's Mines" at the request of MGM top brass. But he says: "This was Carlson the journalist and I actually didn't need approval. I told MGM that there would be no editorial supervision."

THE GREAT DOOR
 Joel McCrea and director Hugo Fregonese were talking about ranches on the set of "Saddle Tramp." "You ought to buy some ranch property around the Rogue River," said Joel. "That's great country up there."
 "It all depends on the housing," said Fregonese. "I like to get in out of the scenery."

Ronald Reagan uses this to illustrate why he loves America: One day on his way to Paramount he stopped to buy some cigars and a young fellow operating an automobile washing business on the adjoining lot came up to him with: "Brother, your car sure needs a wash job."
 "I know," said Reagan, "but I never seem to have time."
 "It'll only take a couple of hours," said the wash rack kid, "go ahead and take my car."
 Reagan had a quick mental flash of himself driving to Paramount in a hot rod, but said: "Okay, it's a deal. Where's your car?"
 He handed Reagan the keys and the star drove off—in the wash rack boy's cream Cadillac!

Jobless Pay Fund Soars 137 Million

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Unemployment insurance collections during July and August exceeded the amount paid out by $137,000,000, the Labor Department says.
 "Reports from the states show that benefits paid aggregated $389,000,000 while collections amounted to $526,000,000," the department's employment security bureau reported.
 It was the first time in 18 months that the bureau had reported the account running in the black. The improvement resulted from a sharp increase in job opportunities, the report said.

Solon Is Tired of Campaign Dogfights

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind) said yesterday the job of being a congressman "isn't worth it" if it means "a two-month dogfight every time to win reelection."
 The freshman Hoosier plans to remain working in his office here until mid-October, he told a reporter.
 "Three weeks is enough torture for any politician to inflict on the people," he said.

Television Station Hinted for Mexico

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Television sources said Wednesday the Ascaraga interests are negotiating for the operation of a new television station in Matamoros.

Associates of Emilio Ascaraga, owner of Mexico's two largest radio chains, said it was too early to discuss the deal. Other sources in the new television industry here said backers of the station had shown a government permit for the Matamoros transmitter. They said it would have the call letters XHSE. Promoters of the station have returned to Matamoros to begin construction of the tower. These sources said. Mexico assigned one television channel for the use of border stations. The Matamoros transmitter, operating on a Mexican channel, could cover a large area of the Texas side of the rich Rio Grande Valley.

Truman, Matthews Yacht Cruises Hit

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.) suggested yesterday that President Truman give up his yacht, the Williamsburg.

"The president could set an example of belt-tightening and economy by releasing his private yacht, the Williamsburg, to active naval duty," the Kansan said in his weekly letter to constituents.

"Secretary (of the Navy) Matthews could release his yacht too, for, according to reports, its main use is for week-end cruises by Democratic members of Congress."

Hollywood Is 'Fantastic' in Various Ways Visitor Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Katy Jurado, Mexican film star and bullfight commentator here for a peek at Hollywood, finds the place "fantastic."

"Fantastic" is the favorite American word of Katy Jurado (pronounced Kotty Hoorahdo). She only started to learn the language five months ago to play a leading role in "Torero," a bullfight film produced by John Wayne in Mexico.

Katy uses "fantastic" in an admiring sense when she describes her impressions of Hollywood. But when she terms U.S. films about Mexico the same way, she is not being complimentary. I asked her about one of the later ones, "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

"It was a fine picture," she began, "but the bandit characters did not show my people in a good light. I think that is wrong. And I think a Mexican actor is wrong to play a role which is bad for Mexico."

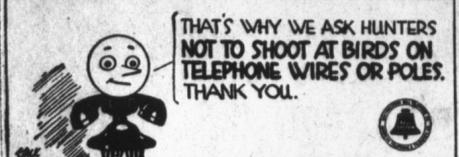

What about "Captain from Castile"?

"It was very beautiful in the photography," she replied. "But the players were not like Spaniards. Tyrone Power is very handsome, but he does not have the fire to play a Spaniard. He is not hot-blooded enough."

The trouble with most Hollywood films about Mexico is bad advice, the actress said.

"When the studios want to know about Mexico, they ask the Mexicans who live in Los Angeles," she said. "But many of the Mexicans here have never been to Mexico and do not know what the country is really like."

The best portrayal of a Mexican by a Hollywood actor was Paul Muni in "Juarez," she declared. "He was fantastic," she said.

Texas Employment Breaks All Marks

AUSTIN — (AP) — Non-farm employment in Texas broke all records in August, hiring of 30,000 more workers sending the total to 2,408,900.

It was the second consecutive month a new employment record had been set, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

A new high mark was anticipated in October as a result of the annual autumn upswing, plus further expansion of defense installations, TEC said.

Houston Worker Killed in Cavein

HOUSTON — (AP) — Rescue workers yesterday lost a frantic race to save Johnny Francis, buried by a cavein as he operated an air hammer in a 10-foot hole.

The 38-year-old construction worker was working on an expansion project for the Shamrock Hotel's Cork Club. His chest was crushed and neck broken.

Movie Writer Gets Sentence

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Adrian Scott, movie writer and producer, was ordered Wednesday to serve a year in jail and pay a $1,000 fine for contempt of Congress.

Scott was the last of the so-called "Hollywood 10" to be sentenced after being convicted of contempt for refusing to tell a congressional committee whether they were Communists.

Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran imposed the penalty after a physician testified that Scott, who has been ailing, would not suffer physically from imprisonment.

Scott was among the ten film writers, directors and producers who refused to answer questions in the House un-American activities committee's Red-in-Hollywood investigation in 1947.

The other nine received identical sentences and are now in jail.

Legion Claims Rowdiness Out At Convention

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Rowdiness is out for the American Legion national convention here Oct. 8-12, its officials promise. Staff members arriving to prepare for the invasion of perhaps 150,000 Legionnaires, families and guests said Los Angeles residents who recall the rough-and-tumble antics of the last national convention here in 1939 won't recognize the boys this time. "Today's Legionnaires have a lot more on their minds than horseplay and have proved it since World War II," said Ed McGinnis, the Legion's national public relations director. "The spread of communism throughout the world and the current crisis in Korea just aren't funny." Six hundred members of the Los Angeles police department and other law enforcement agencies are members of the Legion service committee. McGinnis said they and Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Police Chief William Parker and Sheriff Eugene Biscoff are co-operating to wipe out any sporadic hoodlumism at the convention. "Policemen and Legion MP's have instructions to put any Legionnaire in jail," he added, "if he attempts to make 'fun' with any electrical shock device, firecracker, siren, water pistol or live or imitation reptiles."

Texas Oil Output Gain Leads U.S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas showed a greater increase of crude oil production than any other state in July, with a daily average gain of 75,000 barrels. The bureau of mines reported that U.S. production averaged 5,484,000 barrels a day last month. The only other state showing an appreciable gain was Louisiana with an 18,500-barrel daily increase.

Acquiring Pile for Initial Meld

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
If your side has not melded previously you must meet two requirements if you wish to take the discard pile for your initial meld. The first requirement is a simple one. You must hold in your hand a natural pair that matches the top card and you must commence your play of taking the pile by placing this pair on the table. The second is a little more complicated. You must be able to produce a certain minimum count. This minimum depends on your score at the beginning of the hand. If your score is 3000 or more you must have 120 points, if it is less than 3000 but at least 1500 you must have 90 points, if it is less than 1500 at least 50, while if your score is minus you need no minimum. These figures are minimum and you may exceed them as much as you wish. In melding the minimum you are entitled to place as many different melds on the table as you wish and to count the top card of the discard pile if necessary. You are not entitled to count or use any other cards in the pile as part of your initial meld. Here is an example of taking the discard pile properly. Among the cards in your hand you have a joker, two aces and three eights. An eight is discarded to you. If you need 120 you must put down the joker and the two aces and either two or three of your eights. Only two are necessary since the joker and ace will count ninety and two eights from your hand plus one from the discard pile will count thirty more. If you need ninety only you can still meld everything or if you prefer you may put down the joker and three eights only. This will count eighty and adding the count of the eight on the discard pile will give ninety. Needing fifty you must use the joker but need use two eights from your hand only, while if your score is minus all you must do is put down a couple of eights. You are not allowed to make the following play: You need fifty and hold three aces, a seven and a deuce. A seven is discarded and you put down the three aces saying "There's my count. Now I am going to take the pile with the deuce and the seven." It's a good try but not allowed. You must have a natural pair irrespective of how much count you have, unless of course you made your meld at a previous turn. USE T-4-L FOR ATHLETES FOOT BECAUSE— It has greater PENETRATING power. ★ WE, THE WOMEN!

By RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

In a recent article on family living a practicing psychiatrist talks about the "rubbing off of" that's a phrase every wife and mother ought to remember. For the happiness of an entire family can be affected by one member's low mood rubbing off on other members. Before you start to complain that the children have been little demons all day it might be wise to look back and see how you started the morning yourself. If you started out feeling rushed and pushed, wondering how in the world you would ever be able to get all the things done you simply had to do, your mood probably rubbed off on the children. And if your husband comes home tired and grouchy from a hard day's work, watch out! Don't let his mood rub off on you, so that in a few minutes there are two grouchy parents, taking it out on each other or on the children. Instead, hang on to the cheerful mood you were in before he came home and see if your better mood won't rub off on your husband. Remember this "rubbing off of moods," too, when you and your husband are going to have an evening out. If you want it to be a gay, companionable, carefree

Evening, start out in that kind of mood, yourself, and there's a good chance it will be catching. If she keeps in mind the fact that moods do rub off on others, a woman can do a lot to keep her family living peaceful and cheerful.

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER. NEW YORK—Only a few strong minds, impervious to excitement and confusion deliberately fomented, were able to analyze the corruption by which the Roosevelt-Communist conspiracy wrecked our constitutional form of government by means of the Wagner Act and the Labor Relations Board. Incidentally, although a few of us then perceived that this board was loaded with Communist agents of the Kremlin, oath-bound to destroy our government, only recently has that fact been proven to the understanding of the public.

The vast majority could not believe that the present of the United States could seriously be suspected of salting his administration with traitors. Those few who, like a sharp football player, sized up the play as it developed, were set upon by Roosevelt's partisans, many of them innocent victims of their own emotions and idealism. Unquestionably, Roosevelt had "charm," but his is the principle talent of all confidence men. Even I still doubt that he knowingly intended to betray his country to Soviet Russia. Yet, if we accept the opinion that he was a great and wise man, how can we explain the established fact that he did set up an administration in which Communists were as thick as rats in a granary? If he was great and wise he should have known that they were Communists and that all Communists were traitors.

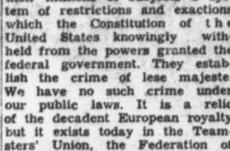

The Constitution carefully withheld from the federal government all powers not clearly granted. The purpose of the New Deal, from the very beginning, was not to uphold the Constitution, but to circumvent and weaken it and concentrate power in Washington. The Wagner Act was devised for this purpose. The first problem here was to nullify the government's right to deal personally with his employer. That right was ridiculed fiercely to soften up the people's resistance and make them unwary. The boss was depicted in all the symbolic beastliness of bloated capital and the worker as a gamine and shabby victim of corporate greed.

Indeed, there was something to that, but the "remedy" was to be even worse. The professional unionizers for years had been trying out against the yellow dog contract between worker and employer whereby the worker agreed not to join a union. But the "remedy" offered by the Wagner Act was simply another yellow dog contract with the brutal unionizer in the position of master. The federal government became the patron and defender of the union tyrant. The government forced millions of workers to join the unions under yellow dog contracts. They couldn't work. The unions robbed and taxed these millions of workers and sluiced their money into political campaigns to re-elect Roosevelt and later, Truman and congressional and state administrations. Ever-

EXPOSING COMMUNISTS

By DAVID BAXTER

PART II. Continuing our discussion of comrade Cartwright's very interesting letter to comrade Shoaf, the Modesto, California, man, who is much more discreet than the Costa Mesa one, tells his friend that the "capitalist system and free enterprise" are samples of "lying propaganda," as though Shoaf didn't already know it. I've noticed that leftists repeat their stock phraseology over and over, even to one another, as though constant repetition might make it more true. I've known people to actually come to believe, thing through the mere psychological process of repeating it.

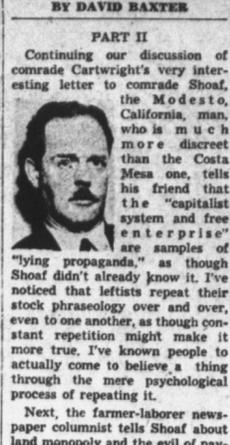

Next, the farmer-laborer newspaper columnist tells Shoaf about land monopoly and the evil of paying rent as though he half expected Shoaf might disagree with him. No communist would ever disagree with the idea of not paying rent. They don't expect to pay rent when they take over, but to move in and take possession of that someone else earned or built. In this connection I am informed that in Russia the citizens pay for the use of their dwellings in the reference being that the government is the landlord and a citizen cannot build and own his own house. Poor citizens live in poor quarters and the ruling communists live in palaces. However, I'm not discussing the economic phases of Cartwright's letter just now since he wrote it to Shoaf, not me. I do notice that he quoted Joseph as telling the Israelis, "today I have brought you and your land for Pharaoh." Genesis 47th chapter. Joseph never told the Israelis any such thing. He said that to the Egyptians, who had sold themselves out to him. They were like collective-minded Americans who continually run to the government for handouts and find that, since government has nothing to give anybody, it has to rob the people to get the money. In effect, they make the government their own body and soul. They mortgage themselves. The average American citizen has a mortgage on him today because of top-heavy government which he himself brought about, but even Pharaoh's capitalism was rather benevolent, for if you read in Genesis you find that he only took one-fifth of what each man produced and in return provided the citizens with governmental service. Pharaoh, like any intelligent capitalist, realized that the more wealth and productive power people have, the better it was for him as well as his share. Not too bad, considering that day and age.

Next, comrade Cartwright tells comrade Shoaf that people don't understand the difference between Socialism and Communism. Socialism, he says, is voluntary collectivism or cooperation in producing and distributing a thing. Communism is Socialism plus murder. That's about like drawing a distinction between a hand who comes into your store to rob you but doesn't kill you as long as you don't resist and another who kills you because you resist. People don't understand this. Shoaf was a little more blunt. He put it, "American workers are so ignorant, so stupid, and prejudiced to take the initiative for social and economic emancipation." In other words, educated well-informed master minds like Shoaf and Cartwright will have to do the understanding for everybody and see to it that these dumb American workers get what is good for them. They will have to emancipate these slaves, like the Russian communist emancipated the Russian people.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER. WASHINGTON—(P) — Although Harry S. Truman will not campaign actively in the forthcoming off-year elections, he has taken complete charge of reelecting a Democratic Congress with insistent instructions that the party's candidates make his foreign policy their major issue.

Democratic senators' action in recalling the party's domestic accomplishments under Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom they mentioned more frequently than his successor from Missouri, he angrily reminded a conference of congressional and headquarters strategists that "it is the Truman record in the Record and Representative Walter Norblad of Oregon. Mr. Norblad began the correspondence by asking whether the president favored the Interior Department's fantastic scheme to irrigate Southern California with water hauled from the Columbia River in the North Pacific region, almost 1,000 miles distant, and with the water which the White House had first ascertained economic and engineering feasibility of the project.

Mr. Norblad made several other acidic points. He noted that Democratic and Republican members from California opposed the idea. He estimated the cost at from five to ten billion dollars. He also pointed out that the proposed pipeline would have to surmount heights of 5,000 feet. SALT — Whoever wrote the reply for President Truman will probably be fired without any publicity.

For Mr. Truman explained that it was not proposed to take the water from far up the Columbia River, thus depriving Oregon and Washington of water they may need for their own power and irrigation purposes. The president pointed out that the water would be siphoned off "at the point where it flows into the Pacific Ocean, that there were 140,000,000 acre-feet available from this point, and that the drain would not deprive the two northern states of irrigation or power resources. Unfortunately, as Mr. Norblad pointed out, it would kill crops and ruin turbines. In fact the high tides carry salt as far as 300 miles up the Columbia River. So far Mr. Truman has not even acknowledged the second Norblad letter or apologized.

The Nation's Press

THOMAS FAITHFUL A SERVANT (The Chicago Daily Tribune). Thomas F. Murphy, the prosecutor who convicted Alger Hiss of lying to conceal treason, is quitting the federal service. He will enter private practice after the Hiss appeal is heard in October.

Secretary Acheson still has not turned his back on Alger Hiss and President Truman still stands with Acheson. That explains why Murphy has been denied any promotion for his brilliant prosecution. He is the general who won the battle he was supposed to lose. The Pendergast machine wants its prosecutors, and its judges, too, to be biddable.

Even though the president congratulated Murphy at the White House after the Hiss conviction, he made plain to the prosecutor that he could expect no favors from the administration. Truman's excuse was that Murphy did not have the recommendation of the New York state Democratic chairman, although he has been a party member all his life. Since then Murphy has been denied advancement in his own office, that of the federal district attorney in New York. A Tammany politician was made head of that office. Mr. Murphy was passed over when two federal district judges were named in New York. When Sen. Kefauver asked if he would accept appointment as counsel of the senate crime investigating committee, Murphy said that he would if tied by no political strings. The appointment went to someone else. The President himself certainly gave Murphy a broad enough hint of what was expected of him when

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 200 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed.

Bronxville, N. Y. The news services, under date of September 15, 1950, carried the story of the (Buchanan) Special House Committee Investigating Lobbying Activities' report charging that some Congressmen had permitted indiscriminate use of their franking privileges.

For example, I have been accused of mailing out 2,400,000 pieces of information at the taxpayers' expense during the last six years. That is an average of 400,000 pieces per year. Assuming these figures to be correct, yet for these speeches constitute the big expense and not the postage. It is obvious, therefore, that few speeches and inserts or editorials are sent to the public unless paid for by private persons. If the Congressman can pay the bill himself for printing and sending the material out, what's wrong if private organizations pay the bill and the Congressman sends it out under his frank? It must be assumed that the Congressman will not use his frank unless he endorses his own material, or what he inserts, as pertinent to legislation before the House.

And, since there are 300,000 people in my district, it costs me in my district, it costs per year (postage costs only), to hear directly from their Representative in Congress and/or to provide wider dissemination of his messages. While the taxpayer pays for the postage, I, or private organizations, met the cost of all the paper and all the printing of the 2,400,000 pieces; and I, personally, paid for each of the research entering into statements prepared, inserted in the Record, and distributed under frank, by me. Postmaster General Donaldson advised me in a letter dated June 22 that the cost of mailing out Administration mail is about $76,000,000. Subsidies for the cost up to around $150,000,000 a year. Add to that the salaries and expenses of 45,000 writers of the material and the printing at a cost of about $100,000,000 according to Senator Byrd. That is a total of $250,000,000 is overlooked when appraising the effort that Congressmen make to present the opposition viewpoint, at their own expense, and with the aid of private persons, at a pitifully small postage cost of $1,200,000.

Oddly enough, too, the Administration mail goes first class, at a 3 cent rate, whereas the Congressional frank generally carries a postage rate of 1 cent. The slowest and cheapest method of handling. But far more important than what I or any other individual Congressman has or has not done, with regard to dissemination of views he upholds, through the use of his frank, is the fundamental concept of and reason for the establishment of the franking privilege.

This privilege was given to Congressmen without limitation because our founding fathers, like the Members of the British Parliament, had fought for the right of representation and they knew he termed the investigation of Hiss a red herring. It took no particularly pithy salvo to see that the Truman administration couldn't afford to have Hiss proved guilty. Hiss was only one of the communist agents in its ranks. A single breach in the iron curtain that was raised to protect them opened too many embarrassing views of their influence on the Truman policies.

Prosecutor Murphy's error was that his oath of office was to the people of the United States, not to the Truman gang. He's paying for his loyalty, and will serve as a useful object lesson. The next time a member of the communist apparatus is detected, the Truman crowd can remind the prosecutor, whoever he may be, "Look what happened to Murphy."

So They Say

Because of their high cost and limited supply, they will be aimed to destroy by Communist industrial targets and areas with concentrated population. —Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of New York state civil defense commission.

This (Korean) war is the direct result of the pro-Communist policy that dominated the administration through the Yalta and Potsdam conferences and even up to the present time. —Robert A. Taft (R., O.), U. S. senator.

They needed the fullest, freest communication between their "representative" and themselves. With overwhelming New Deal majorities, President Roosevelt attempted to carry out his policy, the balance between the judicial, executive and legislative departments. It was by the use of 15 million pieces of franked mail, setting forth the constitutional issues, that members of the Senate were able to carry the issue to the country and save the independence of our courts — a small price to pay for safeguarding our Constitution in a time of crisis and peril.

This is the Congressman's most important, often his only means of communication with the people. By this method the people get the facts from Congress as opposed to the propaganda of the Administration. The taxpayers pay a little over $1,200,000 for this service from both parties in both the House and the Senate. On the other hand, they pay more than $149,000,000 for material put out by the Administration, to say nothing of other costs and salaries of those who prepare it.

But that is only part of the story. More than half the members of Congress belong to the party in power and they make far more use of Congressional committee reports and the Congressional Record and the franking privilege than the minority party has yet learned to do.

Without the right to communicate with their constituents, the members of Congress soon cease to be an independent legislative body, fulfilling its duty under the Constitution to act as a check against usurpation by administrative power, and to uphold minority views and rights. The material I have distributed referred to such matters as the dangers of federal housing, federal aid to and control of education, and the effect of centralized government controls (OPA), throughout history, in reducing wealth production.

The men who are working night and day to change our form of government are the members of the "Socialist" autocracy under a ruling clique know well that they must destroy the ability of Congressmen to communicate with the people. They have put a Congressional committee to work studying the matter, but that committee spends much time studying the communications of Congressmen with the citizens. It seems to find little time to investigate the vast propaganda network of the biggest lobby of all, the big business working in the direction of the party in power.

Senator Ingalls of Kansas, in June, 1878, in the course of a debate on the franking privilege, in which such Senators as Hannibal Hamlin, William Blair and Roscoe Conkling participated said: "The privilege of franking" is one that belongs to the people and not to the representatives. The people never demanded the abolition of franking. Its object is to furnish the people with information and to allow them to receive from their representatives statistics, data and information as to what is being done here by those who represent them in the different departments of the government.

I can understand why our collectivists are trying to break down the communication between Congressmen and their constituents. I think the people should understand it, too. RALPH W. GWINN, Member of Congress 27th District, New York

West Texas - New Mexico League club owners have thrown the axe on radio's neck. "No more live broadcasting of baseball games," say the boys who sign the checks. "Hurts gate receipts."

R. B. McAllister of Radio Station KGGM, Albuquerque, says there is absolutely no foundation for the belief that baseball broadcasts have ever hurt attendance.

"Lubbock is one team in the league that has had live broadcasts every year since its inception, and today Lubbock leads in attendance and shows a happy increase every year."

"Not only baseball but also wrestling, football, hockey, boxing and other sports have gained millions of fans through live description and the towns in the league who have failed to gain through radio broadcasts are those who have refused to use it consistently," he said.

McAllister is going to ask the 17 stations in the league area to agree not to broadcast any of the league's road games in 1951. He said he would also ask them to agree to treat publicity of their local baseball teams strictly on news basis as long as the present ban on live broadcasts of games continues.

However, Mr. McAllister is wrong for 1948 and 1949 showed a decrease in attendance, but they did have an increase in 1950 by 11,274. Pampa showed a 2,390 increase over 1949 and Lamesa gained 10,811 fans, but the other clubs showed a decline in gate receipts, and the clubs as a whole, lost $7,324. But is it actually the loss of live casting that causes fans to stay home?

The league had its biggest year in 1949, with 674,465 fans pouring through the gates, 1950 was the poorest of the five-year old league, only 577,141 paid to watch the Class C League perform.

Is radio keeping the fans home? Golf Shots. Club pros from Huber, Phillips, and Amarillo will visit the country club Friday to try out greens number 17 and 19. The Ladies Golf Association had approximately 80 guests for their dinner Saturday night. Everyone says the dinner will be an annual affair along with the Scotch foursome. Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Austin won low gross with 40 in the Scotch shoot. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGinnis tied Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Harris for second with 41. Low net was a tied up affair when Mr. and Mrs. Bert Howell tied Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson with 28. The Thompsons won the flip to win first prize. Mr. and Mrs. Del Beagle won high gross with 47. and Alice Howard and Charles ran off with high net honors with 42. The last golf tournament of the year will be held at the country club Sunday, Oct. 1. Tee-off time is 1 p.m., in what promises to be a knock-down, drag-out affair. It's the annual civic club tournament.

Bus Tickets for Sale

The Quarterback Club is selling round trip tickets to Wichita Falls for the Harvesters-Wichita Falls game Friday night, Oct. 6. Tickets are on sale at Frank Leder's Jewelry.

The Quarterbacks have one bus reserved and will reserve as many buses as they sell tickets. Deadline for purchasing a ticket is Monday, Oct. 2.

Harvesters' Line Will Have Hands Full With Patton

The Harvesters tapered off in Wednesday's practice session. Coach Tom Tipps had his gridsters running plays but body contact was shelled for the afternoon.

The Pampans have only one more practice session before Vernon invades Harvester Park at 8 o'clock Friday night. Coach Tipps sent the boys in early Wednesday. Dr. Wey Cudney and Carl Kennedy worked on their punting and place kicking.

Virgil Patton, Vernon fullback, is rated one of the best backs in Texas. They say he doesn't bother about running a round end, he just runs over 'em. It will be a tough assignment for the Pampa line to halt the Vernon Express.

Patton has rolled up yardage against Altus and Sweetwater eleven. Always a tough opponent, Vernon is expected to be even tougher than they were last year when the Harvesters squeaked out an 8 to 7 victory.

Don Burns is still on the injured list with a charley horse. It's doubtful if the youngster will be ready Friday night.

Austins to Enter Golf Tournament

Johnny Austin, country club pro, and Grover Austin, Jr., will enter the West Texas Open golf tournament at Hobbs, N. M., Oct. 4 through 8.

Professional and amateur shooters from West Texas and New Mexico will compete for cash and merchandise prizes. Any golfers who have played in four events in 1950 are eligible to compete.

West Texas Pro-Amateur Association sponsors the meet.

Rotarians won the plaque last year and Kiwanis, Lions, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be after Rotarians' scalps. Ed Ehrbridge is chairman of the tourney.

The citron is one of the oldest citrus fruits known to man, and is mentioned in the early part of the Bible.

Ezzard Rips Brown Bomber To Win 15 Round Decision

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Louis knows today that they never come back.

Ezzard Charles, a vastly underrated heavyweight champion buried the ghost of Louis last night at Yankee Stadium in 15 round rounds. It was the same old story that Jack Dempsey and Jim Jeffries learned years ago. You can't beat father time.

Puffed to 218 and shaky in his timing, Louis absorbed a bloody beating in his chariot with a bid to become the first heavyweight champion ever to recapture his battle. He missed by plenty.

The 29-year-old Charles did everything but knock out the bewildered Joe Louis of 1950, a 36-year-old man whose iron fists had rusted away. Joe groped blindly toward the top rope in the 14th to save himself. He probably wouldn't have lasted many more rounds.

"I just didn't have it," he said in his dressing room, swabbing his swollen-shut left eye with an ice pack.

"I just didn't have it in any department."

He didn't have to say so. It was obvious. Only in the 10th round when he hurt Charles with a flash of the Louis of old did he excite the crowd of 22,357 that paid a gross $205,370. Some 25,000,000 more watched on television.

Charles fought a brilliant fight to earn the unanimous vote of all three officials. Referee Max Baer gave him a 10-5 edge. Judge Joe Agnello 12-3 and Joe Frank Forbes 13-2. The AP card had it 12-2 with one even.

It is too bad that Louis' failure will take much of the overdue credit away from Charles. The Negro 184 1/2 pound Cincinnati native, previously recognized as National Boxing Association Champ. Now is also certified in Texas.

The British recognized Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., as their champ. He may be next on the list for Charles.

"I'd like to fight Savold or anybody," said Charles.

Pampa Gridsters Play Important Role at WTSC

CANYON — (Special) — Frank Kimbrough and his entire coaching staff have nothing but praise this week for the terrific West Texas State freshmen team that whacked Texas Tech freshmen last Friday night 26-12.

Twenty-seven members make up the squad and all are heroes in the eyes of the Panhandle products. Five of the top-notch yearling gridsters are from the Pampa area and they upheld the football-playing ability of the area by turning in spectacular play.

Two Pampans, Pete Cooper and Paul Boswell, were extremely instrumental in the hard fought victory which saw the WTSC frosh come from behind a 12-point first quarter deficit to chase them out of the park. Boswell was a standout in the line and his 185-pounds of spirit and determination mark him as a prospect well worth watching.

Cooper should become one of the greatest defensive men in the history of West Texas State. He tackled savagely and in a great pass-defense man as the Techs can't verify. Cooper picked a Tech pass out of the air near mid-field and returned it to the three yard line in the fourth quarter before tumbling into the arms of the enemy.

Gene Hubbard, powerful 180-pound Wheeler fullback, romped through, over and around the Tech defense to become the night's leading ground gainer. Hubbard will be a bright prospect when he moves up to the varsity next season.

Don Light, 180-pound aggressive speedster from Panhandle, turned in a whale of a game at his end post. Light saw action on both defense and offense and earned the genuine respect of the Lubbock team.

Little Ike Doom, fresh from the great 1949 Lefors Pirates, turned in his usual stellar line play at guard and warmed the heart of Coach Borden Price. Doom, weighing only 170, was more than a match for his heavier opposition.

To Coach Price the victory was a star in his athletic crown. He was the only one to tutor the WT frosh as compared to 4 mentors teaching the Tech crew. On top of that the Tech coaching staff had openly bragged that they had secured every freshman they went out after except one. Most of their players came from the downstate area.

All except one of the WTSC frosh are home-grown Panhandle talent and the victory reflects the prestige and playing ability of Panhandle athletes. Also, the victory reflects that down-state and out-of-state products can't stand-up to the calibre ball played by High Texans.

All the Panhandle can take hats-off to the WTSC frosh. The Blank Tries Hand at Writing Anecdotes--Guess Who?

By HENRY McEMORE
NEW YORK — If you are as constant a reader of magazines as I am, then you surely must have noticed that most editors have developed a mania.

The mania is a mania for publishing long and short true life anecdotes in which the name of the person — invariably a prominent person — is not mentioned until the final sentence.

The reader is supposed to all but fall dead with shock when the name of the person is revealed. But, unless the reader has spent most of his life in a hermit's cell, he has guessed the identity of the man or woman about whom the anecdote is spun in the first paragraph, and can't help but wonder why the author is spending so much time warming up in the bull pen and doesn't get in there and start pitching.

Being as I want some extra money to buy a swarm of bees I have had my eye on for a long time, I am going to write a few of these surprising anecdotes that don't surprise in the hope that editors will buy them from me.

Here goes:

Some eighty years ago I, a drummer in snuff, stepped off the train in a snow-bound New England village. A little girl in a pinafore was the only person on the platform, but with the poise of a Grandma she offered to show me the way to the only hotel.

Picking up the tiny canvas on which she had been painting the winter scene, the little girl led me to the hotel, stopping only now and then to ask me if I knew anything about pigments.

When we reached the snug hostel I could see the child was very cold, and I bought her a few rounds of hot buttered pabulum.

Grateful, the little girl I had now started calling "Grandma," gave me half a dozen or so of the pictures she had painted while knocking off the hot buttered pabulum.

I stuck the pictures in my brief case and forgot all about them.

Forgot about them, that is, until yesterday, when an art dealer bought them for $100,000. They were signed — Grandma Moses!!!!

Two years ago I was an immigrant.

Two years later I still am.

But something that happened a year ago made me want to be an American citizen so much that I'll forge my papers if necessary.

I was walking in the neighborhood of Morningside Heights, where Columbia University is situated, wondering where my next club sandwich would come from, when a handsome, balding man with a mid-western smile, stopped me.

"I'm Ike," he said. "Is there anything I can do for you?"

We went to the home of the president of Columbia University and the gentleman who had introduced himself simply as "Ike" told me all about the Normandy invasion and showed me his soldier's suit. It had five stars on the shoulders.

A month later I was looking at a newspaper in the Stork Club and a man's face leapt out at me.

It was my kindly benefactor. The man was General Ike Eisenhower!!!!

This is a confession. I am a burglar.

Two weeks ago I attempted to rob a great big White House on Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D. C.

Just as I was about to cut an authentic "old crony" out of its frame, I heard a voice boom from upstairs:

"If you're just a burglar, a register Democratic burglar, okay. But if you're a Marine — get out!!!"

I jumped through the window and got away.

It was not until I listened to a radio speech from Washington that I heard that selfsame voice. It was the voice of — Harry S. Truman!!!!

Any buyers among you editors?

Texas Restaurant Group Is Honored

BOSTON — (AP) — A distinguished service award for its 1950 restaurant sanitation program was presented the Texas Restaurant Association today.

The honor was accorded by the American Trade Association executives, and the presentation was made by William C. Babbitt of New York, chairman of the ATAE's awards committee.

Recognition was paid the TRA because of its program requiring restaurants to meet the rigid sanitation standards of the U. S. public health service code in order to become members of the association.

Full Force of Economic Controls Still Not Felt, Despite Better Korean War Outlook

(Editor's Note: Despite all it has been told, the general public shows evidence of having failed to grasp the full meaning of what the nation's rearmament program will bring to domestic life. Military successes in Korea will not ease the curbs which lie ahead for our civilian economy, Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news columnist, points out in the following article. It is the first of two analyzing the outlook.)

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — After final victory in Korea, it's going to be tougher than it is now — tougher for you as consumer and taxpayer, tougher for you to do business if you're a businessman.

Maybe you think you're going to relax when the shooting ends. You're on notice today that you aren't. Top officials tell you today: the cost of living is going up; taxes are going to be higher; controls are around the corner; there'll be fewer gadgets in the stores so that more guns can be made.

This won't stop with the fighting in Korea, Washington re-affirms. Korea was the straw that broke the back of the Democracies' patience. From now on they are re-arming.

For the United States this means that the present $14-billion-a-year defense bill will be hiked to $30 billion by next summer. Some think it will go to $40 billion the following year, perhaps to $50 billion.

The important thing is that the program hasn't really started yet. You've scarcely felt it yet, either as a consumer or as a merchant or manufacturer.

Let's leave the special problems of the businessman till tomorrow, and look at what economists, as well as Washington officials, say is in store for everyone, if the end of the Korean war doesn't reverse public support for the rearmament program to which we are committed.

1. Taxes. Less take-home-pay starting next week. Even less next year. The drive to "pay as we go" is going to be tougher on your pocketbook than you now realize, says Treasury Secretary Snyder.

2. Prices. Living costs are going up, the Commerce Department predicts today. Already near the 1948 peak, prices in general will go still higher — both for food and manufactured goods, the department says.

3. Controls. Government controls "are not too long away," says Commerce Secretary Sawyer. Some think price controls are due early next year, unless commodity prices break sharply with the collapse of the Reds in Korea — and stay down, which many think unlikely. Wage controls may follow, to halt the inflationary spiral.

4. Credit curbs. Present mild restrictions on installment buying are likely to be tightened further before the year is over to make it really tough to buy on the cuff. New restrictions on home mortgages may be clamped on even sooner.

5. Homes. It will grow harder and costlier to finance the building of a new home. Defense plants will take more copper, zinc, steel and lumber. Only one-third as many homes will be started next year as are being built this year, the Commerce Department thinks. The National Retail Lumber Dealers Association, however, believes the home building boom will deflate so rapidly that within two months there will be more lumber than the public will buy.

6. Goods in the stores. The rush to build up inventories of consumer goods has swamped some manufacturers with orders. But if the defense program really gets into high gear next year, production of civilian goods will be slowed.

For one thing, there will be short supplies of steel, copper, aluminum, rubber, nylon and so on, for purely civilian production. Defense production will have first call.

For another, factories making purely civilian goods will lose labor to factories making war goods.

Industry after industry has assured us that it can meet the demands of defense and fill all the essential needs of civilians — if the defense program doesn't go beyond announced plans.

But the frills will be trimmed off many persons' living standards, victory in Korea notwithstanding.

Ballot Tampering Charges Filed

MT. PLEASANT — (AP) — Two Titus County Democratic precinct chairmen were indicted Tuesday on charges of ballot tampering in the Aug. 28 runoff primary.

The indictments resulted from suit for commissioner of Precinct Four, in which Jim Ponder was first declared elected. Later John B. Kirby was declared elected.

The precinct chairman, E. C. Sims and Fred Witt, were ordered arrested on charges of unfolding and examining ballots and of altering returns and tally lists and making false statements on the results.

Bullet in Kidney Kills WW I Vet

LONDON — (AP) — When 59-year-old James Barrow — a laborer and one-time boxer — died last week, a bullet was found in one of his kidneys.

The coroner Tuesday ruled that death was caused by the bullet — a German rifle shell which wounded Barrow during WWI.

Alcoa Grants Ten Percent Increase

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — A 10 percent wage raise offered its employees by the Aluminum Co. of America has been accepted by the CIO United Steelworkers with a promise the union will ask for more.

In announcing acceptance of the Alcoa offer Tuesday, USW vice president James Timmes said the union had asked the company to advance the Nov. 1 date on which wage provisions of the current pact may be reopened.

No date was suggested by the union and there was no immediate reaction from Alcoa to the request.
