HOME DISCIPLINE COMES FIRST

The Pampa recreation problem is essentially no different from that of other cities of this size. This, however, does not minimize the seriousness of the problem.

There is one factor beyond public control on which the success of any movement with young folk depends—parental control. A recreation program must involve limits. No program is apt to extend after midnight, or even to 11 p. m. There must be a curfew somewhere, but the parents must set it and enforce it. No recreation program is likely to solve the problem of unaccompanied young ladies of 13 to 17 who are roaming the streets at 1 a. m.

Young folk differ little in impulses, ability for good or ill and in motives from the youngsters of two decades ago. But parents differ. The old-fashioned father who set a time for the child to be at home, and enforced it, is rather rare these days. His son, now the father of a modern family, may be totally lacking in disciplinary ability. Many modern children are the dictators in their families. They not only talk back to their parents, but they tell them what is going to happen, and what isn't.

This isn't a majority proposition, of course, but instances illustrative of the situation are plentiful. Children often delude their parents, either with logic or lies. Countless parents, when their children get into trouble, plead that "all the young folks are doing the same." But it isn't the truth. A majority of the youngsters of today are wholesome and seeking only to have the most fun their financial circumstances will permit.

If the parents were understanding, yet firm, there would be no recreation problem.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

Immigrant volunteers from New Orleans were indignant over the action of the Texas government. They would see that justice was done, and honor the dead of the Alamo and Goliad, regardless of whether they were native-born Texans. General disapproval turned into violent disregard of orders. Santa Anna, by the secret treaty of Velasco, was to be returned to Vera Cruz, June 1, but when the volunteers reached Texas, they demanded that he be punished severely.

Gen. Santa Anna likewise became indignant over the turn of events. He declared that he would appeal to President Jackson. Civil authorities had been forced to turn their prisoner over to the soldiers, in spite of protest on Santa Anna's part that he had been exposed to many hardships. His plea was rejected with sarcasm by those whose fathers and husbands had died at the Alamo or Goliad.

"You have caused us some privation also," President Burnet told Santa Anna, "and we shall not regret too deeply that you must also share some of them."

Pope Bitterly Attacks Nudity On Eve of Lent

VATICAN CITY, March 5 (AP)—Pope Pius today delivered a bitter attack against nudism in addressing Rome's Lenten preachers on the eve of Lent.

"The paganism of today," declared his holiness, "afflicts all open and attentive eyes, a life so specifically, so paganism dedicated to pleasure and to the search for pleasure."

"It is a life so specifically wanton. Its wantonness surpasses on many occasions that of the ancient pagan life."

"It is called—with a horrible word and with horrible blasphemy—the cult of nudity."

Speaking slowly and with emphasis, the pope went on: "In the olden times nudism was in art, but one could not say that it was in life, neither in Rome nor in Greece."

The pontiff then called attention to "another paganism tendency." He described it as "the unconsciousness of the offense that is rendered continuously to virtue by placing it in peril as one does through the mania of seeing everything, of enjoying everything."

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — When an administration bites a lobbyist, that's news.

This one sank its teeth into several lobbyists when it signed the new tariff treaty with Belgium. Their yelps of dismay coincide with astonished gasps from many cynics who had been saying that pressure had stymied Secretary of State Cordell Hull's dearly beloved program of reciprocal tariff treaties.

Tariff lobbyists who used to get their log-rolling done by Congress must now vary their technique.

They begin, when suspecting that duties on certain foreign products are likely to be reduced by treaty with another nation in return for similar concessions, by spreading propaganda indicating that the entire duty will be removed—though law limits Roosevelt to a 50 per cent change.

Then they attempt to contact individuals in the state and commerce departments who are preparing the treaty. If they can establish social relations, so much the better.

If they haven't any channel into the White House, as some have, they try to get congressmen to take them there—as a California congressman recently took lobbyists for the wine industry who were worried over possible treaties with Italy and Spain.

Last fall the AAA adopted a policy of suppressing forecasts by its economists as to forthcoming boosts in food prices as a result of drouth and AAA programs.

The idea was that such publicity would lead to price increases by middlemen and retailers before those increases would otherwise occur.

The policy was dropped when Secretary Wallace suddenly told correspondents that Louis Bean, his chief economist, had figured out that food prices would be 11 per cent higher in the first half of this year than the last half of last year, and 12 per cent in the following six months, with a 32 per cent boost for meat.

Abandonment of the old policy was haphazard. Bean's figures happened to be on Wallace's desk when the secretary didn't have much to tell a press conference. They had been prepared only for departmental circulation. It was as if Wallace had suddenly said to himself: "Oh, what the heck. Let 'em know the worst."

Somebody asked if he could suggest a cheap menu and Wallace suggested:

"Every Wednesday, eat whatever you like."

But if you write the Bureau of Home Economics in Wallace's department, it will send you some low-cost diets.

New Deal lawyers aren't especially worried by decisions of judges in Delaware and Kentucky that NIRA is unconstitutional because production is intrastate, rather than interstate, and hence can't be regulated by Congress.

It is fair to report now that Department of Justice attorneys had little hope of winning the Weirton case involving Section 7-a before Federal Judge Nields at Wilmington or the coal code case before Judge Dawson at Louisville.

They whispered all along that they were only building cases which would stand up on appeal, with the supreme court's ultimate attitude most in mind.

So many activities of the New Deal have been declared unconstitutional, we'll soon be afraid to eat a thing lest it, too, be called unconstitutional.

Perhaps it would be a good idea to let some federal judges know that Franklin D. Roosevelt is president of the United States.

"On this site was born the Republican Party," reads a sign in Wisconsin. Democrats are looking about the country for the tombstone.

Now the claim is made that Wiley Post's stratosphere plane was tampered with by a saboteur. Probably a man from Mars.

A man in Florida demonstrated an invention by which he flew about like a bird. He took an awful chance, with the game bird shooting season still on down there.

President Roosevelt has got the congressmen voting so often for relief funds, many will vote for the soldiers' bonus just out of habit.

By the way things look, some of our senators don't seem to realize that relief is not spelled P-O-R-K.

FULL SQUAD NOW IN UNIFORM AS MITCHELL TAKES CHARGE OF GRID WORK

STEADY DRILLS WILL BE HELD IN FEW DAYS

TRACK CANDIDATES TO BEGIN WORKING OUT SOON

Coach Odus Mitchell got his first real look at the Harvester prospects yesterday afternoon when he went out to the Sam Houston practice field and found himself in charge of practice. Line Coach Harry Phillips being detained at school on some special work.

The full squad was not on the field because of extra work, illness or rest after a hard basketball season. J. B. Green, mainstay of the Pampa line, was not in uniform but announced he would report in the next few days. "Brother Stokes" was on hand and ready to do battle with all who came his way.

After a few days, the entire squad will move to Harvester field where the balance of the training sessions will be held. The track and field men will also move to Harvester field, where they will get down to steady drills. Conditioning and starting have been getting all the attention to date.

Although it is altogether too early in the season to pick out boys who will probably remain with the Harvesters throughout the season, the work of Showers, Drake, Panning, Stewart, Brown, and Lively has been showing up like a sore thumb in backfield practices. In the line the playing of Hartman, Noblitt, Green, Feltner, Hamlet, Bowers, and a few others has been noticeable.

HARVESTERETTES CONTINUE PRACTICES—HAVE HAD 50-50 SEASON ON BASIS OF POINTS

The Pampa Harvesterettes basketball team had a "50-50" season, winning nine games and losing the same number. The Pampa ladies were on the short end of the scoring with 359 points for the opposition and 33 points for the locals.

The team has not disbanded for the season but will enter the A. A. U. tournament in Plainview March 20-23. Coach Kathleen Milam plans a hard series of practice sessions to prepare her team for the tournament.

Orange, N. J., off form, Grant raced through to a straight set triumph over the Jersey star in the final round yesterday. The southerner was the favorite but not expected to subdue Hall by any such one-sided margin as 6-0, 6-0, 6-4.

The women's title went by default to Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France when her final-round rival, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., reported she could not play because of a sprained ankle.

Mrs. Van Ryn shared in the mixed doubles championship decided yesterday, she and John McQuinn of Fort Worth, Texas, defeating Mme. Henrotin and Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers, N. Y.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. (AP) — Babe Ruth, here today to try on the uniform of the Boston Braves and workout for the first time as a National leaguer, thinks it will be like the good old days—the early stages of his own major league career.

Other members of the team are: Claudine Jeffries, Georgiana Grey, Harriett Funkhouser, Betty Blythe, Kathleen O'Hara, and Marie Perkins.

Coach Milam is already predicting that she will have a winning team next year. Girls who will return for basketball next season have been showing much improvement and instilling "fight" into the team.

Lamesa Defeats Harvesters for Chance at State

Lamesa, the team that eliminated the Harvesters of '32 from the state race, likewise eliminated the '35 squad Saturday night from going to Austin to fight for the state championship.

Entering the Canyon tournament Friday evening an under dog, the Harvesters scored a victory over the highly touted Crow Wildcats. Next the Panpans met Lamesa and dropped a game.

By trouncing the Harvesters, the Lamesas advanced to the state race for the second consecutive year. Last year they went to the finals and were beaten by the famous Athens Hornets for the title.

PATMAN BONUS PLAN GAINS IN STRENGTH IN HOUSE COMMITTEE WITH DEMOCRATS IN COMMAND

BILL ALMOST SURE TO BE VOTED OUT ON SOME BASIS

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—New arguments designed to break a near-deadlock over how the bonus should be paid were advanced today to the house ways and means committee.

An informed poll of committee members showed 22 preferring the Vinson-American Legion bill which does not specify where the $2,000,000,000 or more should come from; 11 looking with more favor on the Patman bill with its stipulation that new currency should be issued against present metallic reserves, and 2 non-committal.

This lineup represents the members' preference as between the two bills. Some members are against immediate cash payment of the bonus, but it is the general expectation that the committee will approve a bonus bill.

The Patman support in this committee was surprising even to some advocacy of that method. The explanation by Rep. Patman (D., Texas) that his bill contains breaks against unbecked inflation had swung at least three members, temporarily if not permanently, to his way of thinking.

Of the two members who declined to express themselves, one represents a large city; the other is from a country district.

Today some backers of the Vinson plan started a backfire against the reaction to Patman's explanation. They advanced an argument designed to appeal to those who thought some currency expansion advisable if not necessary.

Rep. Vinson today called Frank N. Beltrano Jr., national commander, and John Thomas Taylor, legislative committee chairman of the American Legion as witnesses.

The committee poll showed that unless minds were changed, two democrats held the balance of power. The seven republicans were divided six to one for the Vinson bill. The other democrats stood 10 to 6 for the Patman bill.

Merchant Ass'n. Growing Rapidly

The advisory board of the Retail Merchants' association, consisting of Travis Lively, Guy McGargart, Dr. W. C. Mitchell, H. L. Polley, Tom Ross, Fred Culham, T. P. Smalling, Clyde Fatherson, Helen Vicars, P. S. Brown, Charles Burton, Mack Graham, Earl O'Keefe, Clarence Kennedy, Grover Malone, Bob Thompson, and R. E. Johnson, met at the Schneider hotel yesterday for a luncheon with most of the board present.

A committee was appointed to work out a definite credit application blank to be used by all merchants belonging to the association.

Carson Loftus reported to the meeting that a large number of new members were signed up and that nearly the entire downtown district had been covered. In most instances, new contracts had been signed, both with old and new members. However, it was also reported that a few of the old members had not yet been contacted but that he was meeting with excellent success. The future of the Retail Merchants' association was said to be brighter than it has been in a number of years.

The new reporting forms adopted by the association are being used with success. Several of the merchants have already filled out their blanks and returned them to the office, where they have been carded and filed away for the next month's reports.

Marion turned out two baseballs, a squirt, a handful of beans, two steel balls, a package of chewing gum, a chunk of resin, six bits of kite string, some string, and assorted paper scraps.

Montana Rides Again

SYNOPSIS: General Estrada is torturing Mateo Rubriz in an effort to extract from him the whereabouts of the Montana Kid. Montana and Rubriz stole from the general the emerald crown of Our Lady, which the general had stolen in his turn from the church. Mateo escaped with his half of the crown; Mateo was captured. Now Rubriz seems to be dying under the torture—and he has said nothing at all.

Chapter 28.
MONTANA AGAIN.

One more dose of water to flow into the distorted body and there would be an end, but the general did not wish it to be so. He had stolen his cards on his immense surety, and his threats and his tortures had drawn only one speech from the outlaw. He had called Estrada a dog and a son of a dog. And now he was to die, triumphant. It was against this triumph in death that the soul of the general revolved.

And then he told himself, in an interval of impassioned cursing, that he had been a fool to think that he could wear down such a spirit as that of Rubriz in a single session.

No, little by little the steel of this spirit must be ground away until it was thin and brittle enough to snap under a finger's weight. And when the general considered how the grinding should be performed, he could think of only one safe and perfect place, because there was only one ultimate, man-made hell on earth.

That was the Valley of the Dead, from which fools whispered that Miguel Santos had escaped.

"They were fools because no man ever escaped from the Valley. And that was the perfection of its hell—its hopelessness. Out of its bounds no one was ever pardoned, because the tales which could have been told by the saved would have blackened the face of the entire world."

And when the general arrived at this conclusion, he looked suddenly up with an exhalation of his spirit. There was no absolute hate without fear intermingled, and during the long process of the torture, he had begun to hate his victim because he could not help being struck through with a cold apprehension now and again; suppose that the man should live—should contrive an escape from the fort—should be able at some time to come inside its boundaries once more—

Well, the Valley of the Dead could receive him and hold him forever. Should not such be the fate of those weaker creatures who venture to oppose men of destiny, like Ignacio Estrada?

For one whole day, Montana fled into the mountains as far as Duraya. Then, for two days, he lived a quiet, idyllic life in the wilderness. He had found a bit of a valley, above timber line, where the forage was good for Sally and where he himself could catch fat fish out of a fishly small creek.

He would be prone for hours under the shade of a rock during the day. He had that rare faculty of stopping all thought, almost all sensation, and permitting the river of time to pick up the soul and carry it slow or fast through strange countries.

At night he built two small fires of brush and lay between them, warm, comfortable on a bed of leaves and wiry little bushes. And since he did most of his sleeping during the day, he spent the night gazing at the stars and letting whatever thoughts might come roll peacefully into his mind—and out again.

Or else he would go with Sally for a careless cruise through the plateaus of that high country where the keen sweetness of the air gave to the body a sense of spiritual purity. The rider was always at ease, on those journeys because the wild mare was capable of being the guide, and the scout.

But at the end of the third day since the flight from Duraya, Montana turned back again towards the town.

A steady preoccupation made a dark undercurrent continually in his mind.

Where was Rubriz? What had happened to him?

The question would lift him from sleep to wakefulness in the middle of the night, and it rode behind him all day long.

That sense of duty unperformed was not a familiar thing to Montana. He had lived as free as the wind; but savage Mateo Rubriz had laid a grip on his mind and his heart. He had to return the treasure that was in his possession; but above all, he had to find out what had become of his companion in the robbery.

He took two days, coming down from his high place. And once a day, at high noon, he took the golden ornament with the emeralds in the palm of his hand. He turned it, so that the jewels flickered and glared at him like a five-eyed cat, and then he put the thing away again in its chamois wrapping.

He wondered how long it would take for the jewels to enter his blood and become a necessity to him? As to his strength to resist, he knew that there was a border and a boundary beyond which he could not pass. That was why he was glad to see Duraya, white as snow, with the sunset glow of its river looped around.

He let the mare in a hollow at the verge of the town and made her lie down. There she would remain, according to his teaching, like a young fawn left by its mother, until he came again.

And he went on into the town in the early night, forgetting all dangers, gladdening himself with the sounds of human beings again, and the scent of the pungent Mexican cookery.

It was a night of festival. The entire population had gathered in the street that ran past the fort, past the church, past the bishop's palace. So he made his coat and entered the strong current of noise which flowed along the street. At last he came to the bishop's palace and from the doorway looked back on the scene: the lanterns, the laughter, the faces whose joy could not be masked.

He forgot his danger still farther. It was a cold stream, but it was no higher than his ankles. He began to laugh, himself, and he was still laughing as he went up the stairs. (Copyright, 1934, Harper & Brothers.)

Montana asks a favor of the Bishop, tomorrow.

HUEY LONG LASHES BACK AT HUGH JOHNSON--FARLEY MAKES DENIAL OF SENATOR'S CHARGES

POSTAL COMMITTEE IS TO VOTE STAND ON MATTER

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Huey P. Long, hearing today that Hugh Johnson had denounced him and Father Charles E. Coughlin as demagogues appealing to "juncal fringes," promptly started gunning for the former Blue Eagle chief.

Wrathfully assailing Johnson and his close friend, Bernard M. Baruch, as men who have wrecked the administration of three presidents, the Louisiana dictator shouted:

"Those wreckers from Wall Street ruined Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover and President Roosevelt."

"I'll cover Johnson's case from hell to breakfast in a speech Thursday night," he told newsmen.

Johnson's onslaught, made in a speech in New York, occurred as the Louisiana senator awaited a decision on his campaign for a sweeping senatorial investigation of Postmaster General James A. Farley, whom Long wants to remove.

The senate post office committee gathered today, expecting to vote on the Long resolution for the inquiry. Replying to the senator's charges, Farley sent a letter to the committee yesterday answering what he called "the base insinuation of the senator from Louisiana that I have at any time used the power and prestige of my office for personal financial gain or private interest." He added that he had engaged in no private business since he entered the cabinet.

Senator Long who is engaged in a feud with the administration, turned aside from the anti-Farley drive long enough to shout his accusations against Johnson and Baruch.

"I've seen several people in the insane asylum down in Louisiana," he said, "but they all had better sense than to let Baruch and Johnson advise them. That's better than some of these presidents."

RIISING DUST CLOUDS REMIND NATION THAT DROUGHT STILL LINGERS IN OLD "DRY BELT"

BY F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The dust storms which have raged in the western plains states are sinister reminders that drought still is a very real danger in many regions where it struck last year.

The dust clouds, swept up by winds from parched fields, emphasize the fact that the drought of 1934 actually never has been broken in a region roughly embracing the eastern part of the mountain states and the western portion of the great plains, says the weather bureau.

The only hope of a large part of this area for successful crops and sufficient grazing during the coming season lies in the spring rains, according to J. B. Kincer, weather bureau climatologist.

Much Moisture Needed

Even if the spring rains are normal, he points out, much of the area will enter the growing season on a shoestring. If crops are given a good start by spring precipitation, they still will be in danger of disaster if rains later in the season should prove to be poorly distributed, because in the dry area the reserves of moisture in the ground are so seriously depleted.

While painting a none-too-optimistic picture of the immediate future for the "dry belt," Kincer emphasizes that this not a forecast, and that spring rains are normal in the northern part of this

Vaudeville Pair To Be Featured At Southern Club

Maldie and Ray, internationally famous vaudeville performers, will be featured at the Southern club tonight and tomorrow night in the floor show. Their company includes six of the nation's popular entertainers.

The Harlem girl's dance, the famous cowboy act, the world's fastest xylophone player and special novelty numbers are included in the floor show.

Doc Jones orchestra, formerly Chic Talcott's band, will play for the dances each night. Two floor shows will be given each night at 10:30 and 1:30.

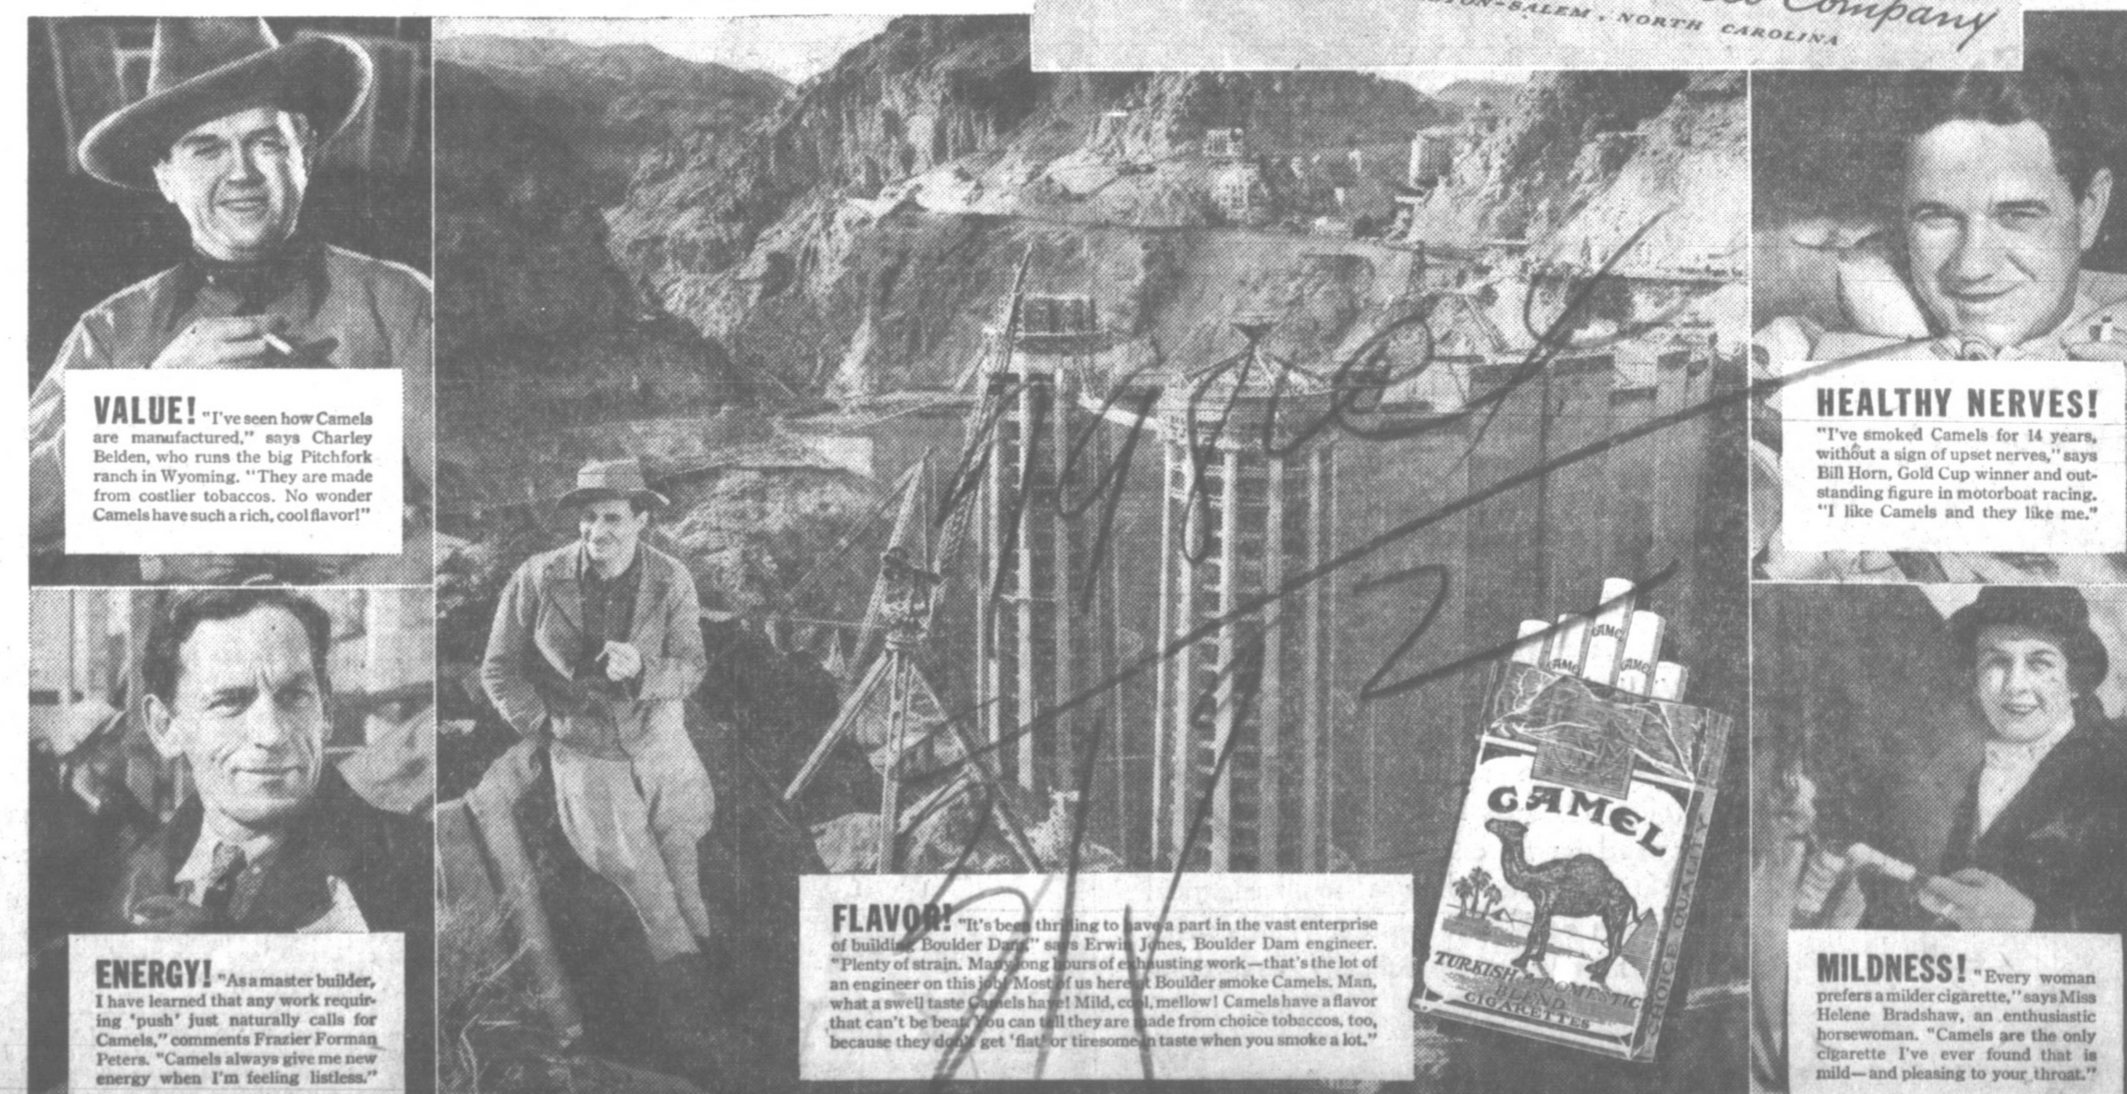

Most of the stars in the floor show originally lit in Dalhart where they staged a homecoming show last week. (Adv.)

WE ASKED OUTDOOR PEOPLE:

"Is this fact important to You?"

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos... Turkish and Domestic... than any other popular brand."

(SIGNED) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

VALUE! "I've seen how Camels are manufactured," says Charley Eelden, who runs the big Pitchfork ranch in Wyoming. "They are made from costlier tobaccos. No wonder Camels have such a rich, cool flavor!"

HEALTHY NERVES! "I've smoked Camels for 14 years, without a sign of upset nerves," says Bill Horn, Gold Cup winner and outstanding figure in motorboat racing. "I like Camels and they like me."

MILDNESS! "Every woman prefers a milder cigarette," says Miss Helene Brodshaw, an enthusiastic horsewoman. "Camels are the only cigarette I've ever found that is mild—and pleasing to your throat."

FLAVOR! "It's been thrilling to have a part in the vast enterprise of building Boulder Dam," says Erwin Jones, Boulder Dam engineer. "Plenty of strain. Many long hours of exhausting work—that's the lot of an engineer on this job. Most of us here at Boulder smoke Camels. Man, what a sweet taste Camels have! Mild, cool, mellow! Camels have a flavor that can't be beat! You can tell they are made from choice tobaccos, too, because they don't get flat or tiresome in taste when you smoke a lot."

ENERGY! "As a master builder, I have learned that any work requiring 'push' just naturally calls for Camels," comments Franz Forman Peters. "Camels always give me new energy when I'm feeling listless."

BORGER TO DON "LONG PANTS" FOR NINTH BIRTHDAY ON FRIDAY

CARNIVAL AND PARADE TO BE AMONG EVENTS

AMERICAN LEGION TO SPONSOR PROGRAM AS USUAL

BORGER, March 5.—Borger is ready to put on long pants—as is usual nowadays with the arrival of the ninth birthday—next Friday, March 8. And as usual the American Legion will sponsor the birthday celebration. A full day of activities has been arranged, and officials are expecting throngs of persons from 50 miles of Borger to come here on that day to help in the celebration of the founding of the city March 8, 1926.

Friday morning, the largest parade in the history of this oil city will start at the Black Hotel and march north on Main to Tenth street. The start will be at 11 o'clock. The parade will include floats, elaborately decorated, a drum and bugle corps from Amarillo, an imitation of the French trains used in the World war to carry soldiers, the chamber of commerce band, the high school band and numerous miscellaneous attractions.

Le J. Roberts, post commander of the American Legion, said today that 50 floats already have been entered in the parade by Borger merchants and businessmen, and will be even better decorated than last year. There will be $50 in prizes given for the best floats.

Gordon Burch, well known oil man, will be the drum major for the parade. The drum and bugle corps from Amarillo will be made up of the American Legion Auxiliary and will have 30 members.

Under the direction of J. R. Walker, the Borger high school band will turn out en masse for a concert in front of the Legion hall at 1:30 and will play an hour and a half.

Beginning at 1 o'clock and running to 7 o'clock, the American Legion-sponsored indoor carnival will be staged in the hall. There will be 14 concessions and games, including candy wheels, blanket wheels, shooting gallery, fortune telling booths and a refreshment stand. Gordon Burch will put on one of his famous juggling stunts.

The Junior chamber of commerce basketball team, city champs, will play some team, not yet decided, in the high school gymnasium at 7 o'clock. This will be one of the best games of the season.

Vern Crummins, in connection with the Legion, will stage a 30-round boxing card in the Borger B-w-l beginning at 8 o'clock. This card will include Babe Hunt and Maxie Brown, former sparring partner for Primo Carnera, in the main event for 10 rounds. Chief Parris and Micky Mack battle in the 10-round semi-final and Young Kid Granite and Danny Britt mix it in a scheduled 10-round affair as a preliminary bout.

A free fireworks display will be held back of the Legion hall at 9:30 and at the same time the chamber of commerce band will give a concert in front of the Rig theater.

J. Otis Sheffield and his Variety Boys will play for the Carnival dance at the Legion hall beginning at 9:30. There will be favors for all attending.

Patman Bill Is Hit by Legion

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The American Legion today leveled a vicious assault on the Patman bill for bonus payment, contending that the currency expansion features of the measure would "doom to defeat" cash payment of the adjusted compensation certificates.

The Legion representatives appeared before the House ways and means committee after the committee, in a heated discussion, rejected 14 to 6 a republican motion to call upon the treasury and veterans administration for an expression of their attitude toward bonus payment.

NEGRO IS HANGED
CLEVELAND, Miss., March 5. (AP)—Grinning broadly as the black hood and nose were pulled over his head, Alonzo Robinson, alias James H. Coyner, huge negro grave robber and confessed slayer, went to his death on the gallows early today. He died for the slaying and mutilation of Mrs. Aurelius B. Turner, who with her husband, was hacked to death in their home near here last December.

ACCORD IS REACHED
ROME, March 5. (AP)—The government announced today that an accord had been reached at Addis Ababa for creation of a neutral zone along the Italian Somaliand border, scene of hostilities which precipitated the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

BILLS TO HIKE GAS TAX SENT TO COMMITTEE

FOES SAY LEVY WOULD DESTROY GASOLINE, CARBON PLANTS

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Further debate on the character of liquor regulation to be proposed as a substitute for prohibition was set as the special order of business today in the Texas senate.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson had collected additional verbal ammunition in support of a constitutional amendment to establish a state monopoly system of liquor sales. Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, anti-prohibition leader, wanted the constitutional amendment to provide merely for repeal, with the legislature determining what to substitute for prohibition if the people discard it. Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur wanted the voters to express their views on the question of repeal and on whether they desired state or private liquor sales in event of repeal.

Conferees agreed on a relief bond bill which they believed would be accepted by both houses. The bill would budget the remaining relief money so it would last until next January 1. It would release $750,000 for immediate distribution. The conference committee hoped to complete drafting of the committee proposal in time for final legislative action today.

The house revenue and taxation committee recommended a bill to

Says Cardui Soon Helped
"My mother was such a helper in Cardui that she gave it to me," writes Mrs. Sam Ferris, of Hammond, La. "I was suffering with my back and side. I would feel so dizzy I could hardly stand and then have a weak feeling in my back. This made me very nervous and did not rest well at night. I felt better after my first bottle of Cardui. I took two bottles and felt a great deal better. It certainly is a fine medicine." Sincerely used over fifty years. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

tax marble machines and coin-operated vending machines. The state tax on each 5-cent machine would be $10 a year, with cities and counties levying another $10.

Bills to increase the tax on natural gas were sent to a sub-committee after a hearing. Representatives of the natural gas and allied industries contended that a large increase of the gas tax would destroy natural gasoline and carbon black plants and result in many gas wells being abandoned.

They recommended that the gas tax be kept on a basis of a certain percentage of value rather than changed to a basis of so much per thousand cubic feet. The present tax is 2 per cent of value, and James E. Allison of Breckenridge, representing the West Central Texas Oil & Gas association, said the average value last year was only 12 cents per thousand cubic feet. Bills to increase the levy to one-fifth of a cent and to one cent had been introduced.

Gash in Ear Is Mystery to Man

LUBBOCK, March 5 (AP)—What happened to the fellow's ear? J. W. Stewart of O'Donnell, the fellow, couldn't answer it. Stewart and a son were in a moving automobile when he felt something stinging his right ear, touched it, found blood on his fingers. A half-inch laceration through the top of the ear was sewed up at a local hospital. Neither man could explain how the wound was made.

RED CROSS IS ACTIVE

Stories in STAMPS

CONQUEROR DISEASE

THE Pampa Canal was made possible because an obscure physician in Cuba discovered that yellow fever, the disease which ravaged the tropics, was spread by a certain type of mosquito, the "stegomyia." The discoverer was Dr. Carlos J. Finlay, a Cuban.

By clearing up the swamps where this insect bred, Maj. William C. Gorgas, in 1913, reduced the death rate from yellow fever in the Canal Zone to six per thousand.

Today Dr. Finlay is honored by a Cuban issue of two commemorative stamps marking the centenary of his birth.

Also Low Round-trip Fares with liberal privileges. NO SURCHARGE IN PULLMANS.

These Low Fares apply anywhere on the Santa Fe and throughout the South and West.

Spring Chapeaux Hold Side Tilt With Feathers And Veils for Their Trimming—"Eyes to Front"

BY RITA FERRIS, Associated Press Fashion Editor.

PARIS (Special)—Spring hat "hats" joined the "forward" movement. Half the new ones are designed to sound the slogan "Eyes front!" Sometimes the brim scoops well out over the eyes in poke bonnet effect, sometimes the trim is in the front, again the brim which rolls upward is pulled well over the forehead. But the side tilt still holds.

Here are some other noteworthy trends in spring headgear:

The towering toques of winter have given place to flatter hats, with height often given by such effects as two quills raking skyward.

Feathers and flowers are much used as trims.

There are many novelty straws—soft and silky, shiny and reedlike or very rough.

Black, navy blue and hyacinth blue are outstanding colors.

Hate "Fellow" Clothes.

These are advance pointers, however, for the real chapeaux neiges must wait until dressmakers have done their writing on the fashion wall and the modistes know what spells "clothes" for the spring of 1935.

Suzie has launched her beloved sailors in new guises with a straight three-inch brim and a beret crown which is shallow, but wider at the top than near the brim. One black model has an eagle feather sticking straight out and up in front, another two tall black quills rearing up on the side, a third two wings of white ribbon poised squarely in front.

From Straw to Satin.

Wide brims appear, too, though these are naturally less in evidence early in the season. One of the smartest is made with a brim of shiny cream reed straw and a crush crown of black felt.

Rose Valois likes toques and turbans for advance season wear and has made of everything from a soft crushable silky straw to ribbed white satin. There are white Turkish turbans with a rolled effect about the face finished with an up-standing bunch of black feathers, stocking cap toques made of black silky straw and black straw toques with two red birds of paradise sweeping upward from each side.

A number follow the flower vogue by thrusting a cluster of gardenias in one side to nestle against the ear. Veils are seen, too. Sometimes on toques they film the eyes and nose, again on sailors they are worn extending three inches beyond the edge of the brim.

Rose Valois designs this new "stocking cap" toque for early spring wear. She fashions it of silky black novelty straw, so soft it collapses as soon as it comes off.

The trim is a curled black ostrich feather and the black veil woven with a shiny thread pattern.

Mrs. Franklin Is Given Shower

Mrs. E. N. Franklin was honored on her birthday recently when Mrs. Ray D'Orleans and Mrs. F. C. White were hostesses at a shower.

Contests were enjoyed and the gifts were presented to the honoree in a lovely bosonnet. Tiny pink baskets were used as favors, and refreshments of ginger bread with whipped cream and hot tea were served.

Guests were Mesdames Gilbert Romine, H. C. Boyd, Lucinda Walton, Boyd and Underwood, Dollard, Minor Langford, Dewey Wilson, Ed Carrigan, Carl Wicker, D. W. Moore, Beard, C. J. Carter, Sid Stone, Wade Thomasson, and E. N. Franklin.

Gifts were sent by Mesdames R. A. Randolph, Thomasson, A. J. M. Jack, Wilson, Hopkins, Morine Baecheil, McPherson, Miss Nadine Randolph, and Mr. H. A. McKenzie.

Knot Tying Tests Are To Be Taken By Girl Scouts

Troop 6, the Morning Glory troop, of the Girl Scouts will meet in the intermediate department of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Knot tying tests will be given, and all girls are asked to bring ropes. Mrs. Marshall Dial and Mrs. J. O. Gillham will assist Mrs. J. M. Turner, captain, in these tests.

At the troop meeting last week Frances Babione was the first girl to complete tenderfoot requirements since the troop was organized in January. A prize will be awarded to the patrol whose members all complete the tenderfoot requirements first.

Interesting pet stories were told by several girls.

Party Is Held on Third Birthday

Mrs. Jack Killams, 408 West Kingsmill, honored her little daughter, Jacqueline, on her fifth birthday Saturday. Many gifts were received.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, candy, and gum were served to the following guests:

Shirley June Riegal, Alice Marie McConnell, Billy Eider, Clyde Batsun Jr., Wayne Batsun, Peggy Murphy, Bobby and Patsy Walker, and Lucy Dean Stone.

After enjoying the refreshments, the group went to a theater with Mrs. Killams and Miss Ada Harp.

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our gratitude for the kindness shown to us at the time of the illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and grandmother.

Mrs. Boyles Is Club's Hostess

Mrs. V. L. Boyles was hostess at a revealing party Saturday evening at her home on Hazel street. The event was for the Blue Bonnet club with Mmes. H. M. Lomax, M. C. Bill Kimble, and Clarence Nelson as guests.

The house was beautifully decorated in green and white. In a clever stunt, Mrs. Ralph Chism was awarded a green and white box full of birthday gifts. After the gifts were inspected, other games and contests were played.

As members revealed their friends, each was presented a gift from that friend, and the hostess presented each guest a gift.

The dining table was centered by an elaborate birthday cake and carnations. Streamers from the chandler were fastened at each corner of the table in St. Patrick's colors. Potato salad on lettuce leaves and green and white ham sandwiches with stuffed olives and coffee were served, and a second course consisted of green ice cream molded as Shamrocks with angel food cake. Little green hats filled with mints were given as favors.

Club members present were Mmes. Floyd Coffin, Cunningham, Ayers, Kuehl, Guinn Killingsworth, D. M. Lourance, Fuller Barnett, Ralph Chism, Robert Burns, M. E. De Tar, and the hostess.

HITLER, IRED BY BRITISH "WHITE PAPER", DELAYS PARLEY

GERMANY HIT FOR ARMING IN ALL DEFIANCE

CONFERENCE WAS TO HAVE BEEN HELD WITH SIMON

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)
BERLIN, March 5.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today postponed his scheduled conference with Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, "on account of a cold" but Berlin diplomatic circles expressed the opinion that Hitler was offended by yesterday's British white paper.

These diplomatic circles characterized the side-stepping of the conference as "a cold" but the expected talk completely. (The British white paper, given to parliament in connection with the British government's plea for an increase in military expenditures, alluded to charges of "a cold" but was rearming and said: "This rearmament, if continued at the present rate, unabated and uncontrolled, will aggravate the existing anxiety of Germany's neighbors and may consequently produce a situation where peace will be in peril.")

The diplomat as soon as they had heard of Hitler's postponement immediately jumped to the conclusion that Hitler was angry. His newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, commented adversely on the British white paper. The article was believed inspired by Hitler himself or by Alfred Rosenberg, the chief of the newspaper and head of the Germanic pagan movement. Official circles declined to comment, but the officials appeared astonished at the sudden postponement of the visit of Sir John and Capt. Anthony Eden, scheduled for Thursday.

It was understood announcement of the postponement was received in London at 12:30 p. m. the British ambassador at Berlin apparently receiving it at about the same time the press was informed. The impression seemed to be that the government's white paper, to parliament, containing a plea for increased military expenditures, increased military expenditures, men, caught Hitler unprepared and he wants more time to consider the situation.

The British do not know yet whether the Berlin postponement will affect the plans of Sir John and Capt. Eden to go to Moscow and Warsaw. "It is too early to tell," an official said, "but the cabinet must consider the matter from all angles tomorrow anyway."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 5.—(AP)—The stock market suffered a repluse today, for no particular reason that could be cited by brokers, and quoted values receded 1 to 3 or more points. All sections of the list were included in the selling movement. The close was somewhat weak. Transfers approximated 970,000 shares.

GRAIN FUTURES LOWER
CHICAGO, March 5.—(AP)—Steady but not aggressive selling pushed grain futures prices lower in a bearish trade today.

Some liquidation which uncovered stop loss orders was believed to have been induced by weakness in securities. While bulls were discouraged by reports of rains in the spring wheat territory, they paid little attention to news of continued dust storms in southwestern drought sections.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 1 1/2 cent below Monday's finish. May 95 3/4, 96, corn 81 1/2 to 1 1/2 down, May 82 1/2-1 1/2. Oats and rye lost fractions to a cent and provisions closed about steady.

 ing it too hot for them, and therefore they must get rid of him.

Now, you are not responsible for the reputation of this town, but it is your duty as an officer to help clean up and make it a decent place in which to live. If what I hear is true, and it is on every wind that blows,—rumors and reports of open gambling dives, liquor sold over the bar by the drink, every day, I do not know whether these reports are true or not, but if they are we need some officers just like the man that they are putting the "heat" on you to get rid of,—that is the kind we need.

The time hasn't come yet, I hope, in this county when the underworld element is in the saddle. Yes, there will be "heat" applied,—yes, and lots of it, but it will be from an outraged citizenship,—that is what is going to happen,—people will just stand so much.

It is your duty as a peace officer to tell this grand jury who is applying the "heat" to you. They have reported to me that one of the reasons you gave them for discharging this officer was because the "heat" was being applied to you. They know, and we all know that the "heat" was not applied by the law-abiding element of Gray county, but that it was applied by the underworld world bunch. I am just going on what the grand jury has told me.

Mr. Shannon: Did they tell you the "heat" was the only thing I kicked about?

Judge Ewing: Well, there might have been other things; might have been a hundred other things, but if the "heat" was applied to you,—the question is, who applied that "heat"? That is what you ought to tell the grand jury, and if you do your duty as an officer and a citizen of this county you will go out and you will not only cooperate with this grand jury in answering these questions, but you will voluntarily give them information. We ought not to have to send after you when you know there is a violation of law—it is your duty to come in and report it to the grand jury, and do not have it dug out with a cork screw. If you are willing to do your duty as an officer and as a citizen, you go out and tell this grand jury what you know about law violations in Gray county, and who is applying the "heat" to you. That is your duty and it is my duty, when they report these things to me, to get action on them. We have no "star-chamber" proceedings—the district court is open and above-board. When these things are reported to me it is my duty to bring them into open court and see what should be done.

I hope you will go before the grand jury and do your duty as an officer and as a citizen. I am just governed by what these twelve men on the grand jury tell me—I hope you will do that.

Jaycees Told of Recent Session

Delegates to the regional Junior chamber of commerce convention in Fort Worth last Friday and Saturday made reports to the local organization at its noon luncheon in the Schneider hotel today. The meeting was declared the best ever attended by Pampa delegates.

Pampa was given recognition at all meetings and business men of other cities declared that the business trend was pointing to the Panhandle and Pampa.

Those attending from Pampa were H. L. Polley, Bill Fraser, Raymond H. Harnah, Jim Collins and Clarence Kennedy.

Philip Pond continued the discussion of the housing survey now being undertaken by the Jaycees and the Board of City Development.

February Building Here Satisfactory

February building permits issued by J. R. McKinley amounted to $13,200, which was considered a good showing, February usually being the quiet month in the building trade. There were 13 permits issued for new homes and remodeling.

Building permits in January reached a new high for several years with the amount reaching $25,700. The total for the two months far surpasses most cities of the size of Pampa, it is believed.

Mr. McKinley issued 15 moving permits during February. New gas connections and new plumbing inspections numbered 10 each with 14 electrical inspections.

March permits have started off briskly with work now in progress amounting to more than the total for the month of February.

FDR GAINS SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, March 5.—(AP)—Senate administration forces today picked up two votes—the republican senators from Vermont—in their fight to defeat the Roosevelt-opposed prevailing wage amendment. If there were no other switches from the previous 44 to 43 roll call, this would be sufficient to cap an administration victory.

ISSUES ULTIMATUM

MUNICIPAL OPERATION OF BIG LIGHT PLANT IN EL PASO MAY BE TRIED IF STRIKE IS BEGUN

SETTLEMENT NOT YET IN SIGHT—DEAD-LINE SET

EL PASO, March 5.—(AP)—Possible municipal operation of the El Paso Electric company's plant within the city limits appeared today after Mayor R. E. Sherman warned such action would be taken if another strike among employes is called.

"The city government is prepared to take drastic steps in the public interest, even to the extent of taking over the electric plant inside the city limits if service through the regular means should again be discontinued," said Mayor Sherman.

His statement came simultaneously with the announcement from a mass meeting of 45 El Paso labor organizations that acquisition of the electric company's plant by the city as a municipal ownership project and public support of striking electrical workers were favored.

A second strike among electrical workers, who walked out last week and plunged many homes in this territory into darkness, was considered almost inevitable if the electric company declines to accept from a special board of consideration a settlement proposal.

Members of the strike committee accepted the proposal and three hours later agreed to arbitrate. No word came from the company officials.

W. L. Ingram, international vice-president of the Brotherhood of Utility Workers, said offers of sympathy strikes had been made by other labor groups, and the threat of spreading labor trouble grew.

Labor leaders believed the situation at a standstill until March 15, deadline for a meeting of a proposed arbitration committee composed of three company representatives, three union representatives and three outsiders.

M. C. Smith, president of the company, said he would not give his answer to the proposed arbitration body for several days. He was given until March 15.

 tor who suggested the observance to appease her injured feelings, feels that accounts have been more than squared.

"Since I was the inspiration I am happy," she said, "but all of the credit should go to my worthy son-in-law."

Will Rogers wired greetings, interjecting "but has it rained out there yet?" It hasn't.

AMARILLO, March 5.—(AP)—Expressing pleasure that the cattle industry "had emerged from the doldrums," Gov. James V. Allred talked informally to members of the Panhandle Livestock association in 19th annual convention here today.

"I wish to pay a tribute to the Panhandle cattlemen and to other private 'brain trust' which originated the plan that helped save the day," Governor Allred said.

The Panhandle association is credited with being one of the first groups to advocate a cattle reduction program. Governor Allred discussed the Texas Livestock Sanitary commission.

He said the state had obtained the cooperation of the federal government, and predicted more federal aid for tick eradication work. The talk was one of seven scheduled for the governor here today.

G. B. Thorne, chief assistant to Chester Davis, head of AAA also addressed the cattlemen.

More than 500 persons had registered for the convention. Business sessions were to end today, but entertainment features will continue through Thursday.
