TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Twinkles
We hear that all those El Paso gridders were twins—at least two of the little Mexicans seemed to have collaborated in making the tacks.

Maybe we're counting our conference games a little too fast. If Shawnee can improve enough to beat Capital Hill morally in a second game, Plainview and Borger might improve enough to give us several varieties of heart failure.

Strange it is how time is flying. Santa Claus will soon be demanding attention and we'll have to try to remember who sent us Christmas cards last year.

Now that we have NRA regulations for the benefit of the ducks, hunting and football are sadly overlapping.

Uncle Sam even expects us to know the pedigree of Mr. Duck and to refrain from shooting at the registered stock. We see a duck so seldom that we think regulation is a bit unreasonable.

Musing of the moment: E. W. Hogan has brought us a couple of excellent paper-shell pecans grown by B. F. Talley of Miami, president of the First State bank. There are several hundred pecans on the 4-year-old tree, a grafted tree from Mississippi. Central Gray county should do as well with pecans and we recommend that the rest of us experiment with them. Bicycling at night won't mix with one-eyed cars, or any other kind. It is a miracle that we have not had a fatality.

Brevitorials

'S O S—SAVE our Schools.
Sincerely, Section 3. This is the motto of the County School Board association of the Panhandle. School men all over Texas are passing resolutions against the third amendment of the eight to be offered November 6. They fear with good reason that the $1125 annual per capita tax limitation contained in the amendment would force local school districts to make up a big drop in the scholastic apportionment. It is certain that continued assurance of relief funds, and similar appropriations would drive down the school fund. The schools get what is left.

IN THIS connection, it may be of interest to some Gray county folks to know that Tom F. Hunter thinks of the amendment. Mr. Hunter received two very large votes in this county in the democratic primaries. He asks defeat of the amendment. He writes: "The amendment is a badly and cunningly drawn. The manner and form of its submission discusses its intent and purpose. It is submitted in a manner to appear wholly as an economy measure. I do not so construe it. The only word of explanation that the voter will find on the ballot is 'for' and will follow the wording and in another paragraph the word 'against' which wording is the amendment of section 3 of Article VII of the state constitution, providing for the levying and collection of taxes and fixing the maximum amount thereof which can be collected and expended each biennium which wording not understood will induce a voter, unless the faculty of reasoning is applied."

MR. HUNTER continues:
"One great, destructive burden of taxation is found to be our local tax. With this burden and with added burden placed on real estate by the state levy real estate is destroyed in value. It being our basic wealth, we find therefore that its destruction has destroyed credit. It is unthinkable that the local property tax could be increased with the amendment, unless it can be increased on schools cannot be financed. The safety of self-government is endangered because the education of the individual has been and always will mark the safety and progress of any self-governed people. We must maintain the safety of our schools. In this instance to do so, we must defeat this amendment."

"I supported the twenty million dollar issue only because that was the only means by which those in authority had permitted the raising of the funds."

"The amendment will retard progress, endanger the safety of our schools, and make almost certain that there cannot be made available state aid for the unfortunate."

WE HAVE been asked for the Socialist platform in Texas. A statement distributed here a few days ago by Socialist speakers said that the government seeks to stabilize capitalism by subsidizing a scarcity. It quoted the following from the sub-heading of "One Sole Purpose":

"The Socialist party, in this campaign commits itself and all candidates anew to the sole purpose of establishing the cooperative commonwealth, the economic foundation of which is social ownership and management for use and not for profit; use and occupancy the only title to land. Only as we establish this new order and abolish the predatory society can we

Denver's Police Fire Upon Crowd Of 400 Strikers

RETAIL PRICE OF GASOLINE IS INCREASED

23 MORE CARLOADS OF TENDERLESS OIL IS STOPPED

KILGORE, Oct. 30. (AP)—J. M. Deavenport, executive secretary of the Independent Refiners Association of East Texas, said today after conversations with the state stabilization committee in Dallas, that the retail gasoline price in east Texas would be posted at 14, 16, and 18 cents for the three grades.

Kilgore and surrounding towns were posting 16, 18, and 20 cents but Deavenport said independents would be instructed to drop two cents a grade in view of large stocks purchased by independent stations Sunday, preceding an increase in the refinery dock price from 7 1/2 cents to 10 cents. Deavenport said it was felt that such a large increase in the retail price might invite "chiseling" and declared that at least 500,000 gallons of gasoline were sold to trucks in east Texas Sunday.

He added that the price probably would go to 16 cents in a few days, as soon as present low-priced stocks were exhausted.

At Tyler, Norman Meyers, chairman of the federal tender board, announced that 23 more carloads of tenderless oil had been stopped yesterday, bringing the total for out-of-state points without permits to 116 since the government began its campaign against illegally-produced oil.

"We notified the state railroad commission as soon as we discovered the violation and were given immediate cooperation," Meyers said.

Work on Highway 33 Through City To End Thursday

Work on Highway 33 through the city as far as the Gray county relief board is concerned, will end Thursday at noon, it was announced this morning. The men on relief, working on the job, will have completed the placing of the caliche base and the laying of curb and gutter by that time.

Sheppard Will Speak 5 Times In New Mexico

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Senator Morris Sheppard, D., Texas, leader of congress in point of continuous service, will begin a speaking campaign for the democratic ticket in New Mexico tomorrow, rounding five speeches into four days.

The senator's office today announced his itinerary had been arranged finally as follows:

Tomorrow, Raton; November 1, Tucuman; November 2, Portales; afternoons and Roswell, night; November 3, Carlsbad.

We Heard—
G. C. Malone enthusiastically greeted Horace Carmichael of Austin. The two had not met since 1906 when they went to school at Wordbury, Hill county. Mr. Carmichael, with the state government, saw a G. C. Malone ambulance in LeFors and followed it to Pampa where he called on Mr. Malone.

AGITATORS TRY TO SCATTER WORKERS

Filling Station Is Burned; Agitator Is Shot

DENVER, Oct. 30. (AP)—Every available police reserve was called out to quell a riot which followed an attempt by about 400 strike agitators, both men and women, some communists, to halt federal employment relief work here by force.

They were driven back by riot squads after about 30 shots were fired.

Two patrolmen were injured, one of the agitators was shot through the hip, nine were arrested, a filling station was burned and a police car wrecked.

Police finally turned the motorized mob, riding in a long string of cars, out of the city and onto a main highway leading to the mountains. They were headed toward Morrison, a small hamlet 20 miles from Denver.

The crowd which started to picket a work project on South Platte river, on the outskirts of the city, turned into a howling mob when police attempted to arrest one man who appeared to be the leader.

Headed by a fifer and drummer and a huge American flag the agitators paraded among the workers, grabbing up picks and shovels and hurling them into the river. Police warned them to disperse. Leaders were arrested and officers started to arrest them.

Colorado River Bill Passed By House 107 to 6

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—After days debate the Texas house of representatives today finally passed, with amendments, a senate bill to establish the lower Colorado river authority to complete and operate a hydroelectric project in the Colorado river.

About 15 amendments were attached to the bill in the house. One of them was regarded by authors of the bill as a threat to consummation of a PWA loan of $4,500,000 to finish the dam. The amendment would make the rights of the CVA authority to the rights of cities and individuals to draw unlimited quantities of water from the river for municipal, domestic and irrigation purposes.

Cline Admits Ignorance
Cline frankly admitted he was not expert on taxation and that the bill probably would require the bill that could be worked out.

FRIONA MAN HURT IN SOONER PLANE CRASH

MEDFORD, Okla., Oct. 30. (AP)—Willard Ellis, 34, of Friona, Texas, son of Hugh Ellis, veteran Grant county courthouse watchman who was accidentally shot and killed Sunday night, was in serious condition here today as the result of an airplane crash at Anthony, Kan., last night. Ellis was en route to Medford to attend the funeral of his father. The pilot attempted a landing at Anthony and the plane crashed. At first it was not believed Ellis was badly hurt.

COURT JOINS IN LAUGHTER AT NAZI QUERY IN JEWRY TRIAL

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 30. (AP)—Several Jewish leaders testified today that the so-called "protocol" of the Elders of Zion, which alleged Jewry planned to dominate the world, were mere fabrications.

Members of the race have brought a criminal libel suit in an attempt to prove the documents false.

Those who testified today participated in the Basel congress of 1897 and said no such protocols were adopted either publicly or secretly by the congress, which concentrated on the creation of a Jewish national home in Palestine.

Dr. Markus Ehrenpreis, grand rabbi of Stockholm, submitted to the court an original record of the Basel proceedings which were found to

UTILITIES PROTEST AGAINST TAX TO FINANCE CENTENNIAL

Ferguson Tells Companies It Is a Shame to Fight Texas '36 Celebration.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Texas legislature had before it today a protest from gas and electric utilities against any increase in taxation at this time to raise funds for a Centennial of Texas independence.

Representatives of the utilities formally voiced opposition to a proposed tax of one per cent of their gross receipts for Centennial purposes at a meeting last night of the house revenue and taxation committee. Other industries planned to make a similar complaint tonight. The hearings are being conducted on the Centennial commissions omnibus tax bill.

One by one the utilities presented a determined attack on the bill, contending they were unable to bear any added burdens and that the tax was unfair and unjust and not in consonance with the commission's expressed desire to levy taxes on industries that would benefit mostly likely from the Centennial. They asserted none of the utilities with the exception of those located at Dallas, site of the main Centennial celebration, would reap any benefits commensurate with the amount of taxes they would be forced to pay.

W. D. Cline, chairman of the Centennial commission's executive committee, presented the bill. Cline estimated the suggested levies would yield the Centennial commission $6,648,000 after the one-fourth allotted to the schools by the constitution had been deducted.

Cline Admits Ignorance
Cline frankly admitted he was not expert on taxation and that the bill probably would require the bill that could be worked out.

Abandoned Car Is Not Linked With Desperado

The car found abandoned north of McLean yesterday by Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey was evidently not connected with the flight of Virgil Stalcup, hunted slayer and sentenced fugitive of numerous crimes.

The car belonged to Jeff Brown, Coltex employe at LeFors. It was stolen at LeFors Friday night during the football game.

No trace had been found today of the car stolen from a motor company at McLean.

Police Help In Gagging Radical UCLA Students

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (AP)—Police emergency squad cars were rushed to the University of California, at Los Angeles on a riot call today.

The riot call came some time after five students, who were suspended yesterday on charges of aiding a radical movement, went into conference with Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore, provost, to discuss his order suspending them for a year.

Five police radio cars rushed to the campus, but found the trouble had been halted.

Two thousand students of the university had gathered in an assembly to discuss what action they thought should be taken on the suspension of the five students by the faculty executive.

Some students demanded "immediate action."

One policeman, of the detail assigned to the university grounds on regular duty, was present. He assisted other students in pulling down the radical speakers, in order to prevent the meeting from getting out of hand.

EMPLOYEES RESIGNING
MEXICO D. F., Oct. 30. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa said today many federal employes who failed to attend a gigantic pro-government demonstration Sunday are presenting their resignations to avoid dismissal. Several federal workers said they were forced to pay fines for failing to join the parade, held to show support of the socialistic education and anti-Catholic policies of the government.

SENATE VOTES DOWN HOUSE'S TAX ACT PLAN

CONFERENCE REPORT IS NOT ADOPTED BY SENATORS

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Texas senate today refused to adopt a conference report previously accepted by the house on a bill to release penalties and interest on delinquent property taxes. The vote was 10 to 12 with four pairs.

Another vote on the question of accepting the report was made possible however, when Senator George Purl of Dallas moved to reconsider. Previously Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt prevented return of the bill to a conference committee for further study by breaking a tie vote in its favor.

Senator Walter Wood of Houston moved to reject the report and return it to a committee. Senator Frank Rowles of Fort Worth moved to table. On the latter motion, the vote was 11 to 11 with four pairs.

Chief objection raised to the report was provision making mandatory upon cities and school districts remission of penalties and interest on taxes delinquent last August 1 to last March 1. A graduated scale of penalties for deferred payments from March 1 through 1935 would be optional with cities, towns, and special and independent school districts.

The report was adopted 10 to 6 by the house of representatives last week. Sponsors urged adoption in the senate in view of the large majority accorded the report in the house.

The section optional with cities and school districts would permit payment of delinquent taxes from March 1 to September 30 with a penalty of two per cent, and from September 30 to December 31 with six per cent. Current penalty and interest rates are much higher.

It would deny benefits to corporations unless officers stated under oath they were unable to pay the accumulated penalties and interest. Payments of taxes delinquent for any one year would be permitted.

Hunters Pulled To Death In Lake Mud

FRANKFORT, Mich., Oct. 30. (AP)—The bodies of two Frankfort duck hunters, missing since Sunday night, were found yesterday in Little Platte lake where they had met death in one of the strangest mishaps of the hunting season.

The victims, identified as Elmer Erickson, 29, and Gale Robinson, 28, were caught in the heavy mud when the shore of the lake and paved down to their deaths by the terrific suction.

It is believed Erickson and Robinson accidentally ran their canoe aground, jumped out into the knee deep water, and sank into the mire.

BARROW BROTHER HELD

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Seven men and three women were in jail today as detectives sought to solve five robbery cases in and near Dallas the last month. L. C. Barrow, brother of Clyde Barrow, was one of those held. He was identified as a participant in the $23 holdup of an Oak Cliff pharmacy Saturday night.

ACTION CALLED 'LOUSY' BY JUDGE

Speeds Out Of Town For Unannounced Destination

CROWN POINT, Ind., Oct. 30. (AP)—State police working under the direction of J. Edward Barce, assistant attorney general, today detained seven persons presumably for questioning in connection with John Dillinger's escape from jail here last March 3.

The actions of Barce and the state police aroused the ire of Lake county officials who threatened retaliatory action against the assistant attorney general and the state policemen for the detention of the various persons.

Robert G. Estill, prosecuting attorney, said: "It seems that we have a very good case of kidnaping on our hands now."

CROWN POINT, Ind., Oct. 30. (AP)—J. Edward Barce, assistant attorney general who has spent several months investigating John Dillinger's escape from jail here, today seized two men and accompanied by three car loads of state policemen sped out of the county for an unannounced destination.

Governor Paul V. McNutt in recent political speeches has predicted developments were for coming concerning the escape of the notorious gangster who fled from jail here last March 3 after intimidating jail employes with a wooden gun.

Barce early today seized Lewis Baker, jail warden, and Ernest Blunk, jail fingerprint expert, and left the city hurriedly without explaining the reasons for detaining the two men.

Blunk was indicted last summer by a grand jury that investigated Dillinger's escape. He was subsequently acquitted by Judge Maurice E. Cies. Sam Catron, jail handyman, was indicted with Blunk but the charges against him were dismissed after Blunk's acquittal.

Oil Schedule To Be Issued Here By Commission

A new oil schedule for the Panhandle oilfield will be issued from the local office of the Texas railroad commission tomorrow. It is not known here whether the Panhandle output will be cut or left at 30,000 barrels.

The percentage of producible oil will be reduced from the figures of this month because of new production. If the allowable is cut, the percentage figure will be further reduced. It has already dropped below 10 per cent.

CITY CONSIDERING WHETHER TO INSTALL GARBAGE SYSTEM

Descriptive charts of all phases of city government are being prepared by City Manager C. L. Stine for the city commission. The charts will give a comparative picture of public affairs at a glance.

One chart shows the status, past and present, of delinquent taxes. The percentage of delinquency of 1933 taxes up to October 1 was 22.1. For 1932 it was 15.4; for 1931 it was 11 per cent; for 1930 it was 5.6 per cent; for 1929 it was 3.7 per cent, and in 1928 it was 2.4 per cent.

Per capita fire losses on a basis of 10,000 population was as follows annually: 1928, 39 cents; 1929, $1.73; 1930, $7.28; 1931, $2.08; 1932, 80 cents; 1933, 13 cents; 1934, 5.6 cents to date.

The city is studying whether it would be advantageous to the citizens generally to install a municipal garbage service. It is known that

LABOR BOARD SEEKS TO END STORE STRIKE

A. AND P. PRESIDENT SAYS HE'LL NEVER GO BACK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A strenuous effort to save President Roosevelt's industrial truce from going to smash started today.

The national labor relations board dropped everything to confer with both sides in the row involving the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company in Cleveland. Other agencies kept sharp watch on half a dozen industrial sore spots.

The controversy that led the A. & P. to close its 300 stores in Cleveland, throwing more than 2,000 persons out of work, apparently gave the labor board one of its hardest nuts to crack.

As company officials and labor leaders gathered here for today's conference, word went out that the giant grocery concern has no intention ever to return to Cleveland.

John A. Hartford, president, was quoted as saying in New York last night that the concern, with an investment of $2,500,000 in Cleveland, would never go back.

The company complaint is that the A. F. of L. demanded 100 per cent unionization and used coercion. Union leaders accuse the company of coercion and violating the collective bargaining provisions of the industrial recovery act.

Grandview Will Hold Carnival Thursday Night

Pampa will go to Grandview school Thursday evening to attend a school and community carnival. The trip will be managed by the good will committee of the B. C. D. and Junior chamber of commerce. Those who wish to go but have no transportation should call the B. C. D. office in advance.

The trippers will meet at the city hall at 7:15 p. m. Thursday for the start.

Pampans also have been invited to games of bridge which will be played at Phillips camp auditorium tomorrow night. A number of local residents are planning to attend.

Stalcup Believed Hiding In Mexico

CLOVIS, N. M., Oct. 30. (AP)—More than a dozen Texas officers and highway patrolmen passed through here at 3 o'clock this morning en route to the region into which it is believed Virgil Stalcup and Clarence Brown, Texas outlaws, fled last night after eating supper at San Jon, east of Tucuman.

The Texans were joined by New Mexico officers here for a quick dash to the place where they believed the men might have holed up for the night.

Stalcup and Brown escaped from the county jail at Dickens, Texas, Saturday after slaying the sheriff. They are said to be traveling in the slain officer's car.

KIMES' PLEA BLOCKED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Matt Kimes, who became a notorious bank robber before he reached his majority, met a stumbling block today in his efforts to win clemency from a life sentence. After a 2-hour conference with Kimes and his attorney, Sid White, Eugene P. Gunn, secretary of the Oklahoma Bankers association, declared: "I'm going to do all in my power to keep Matt Kimes in prison as long as I can."

We Saw—

EDITORIAL

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT

To a great many citizens, Americanism is just a word. They pay it lip service—but they have a very poor knowledge of its actual meaning.

Real Americanism is a spirit. It is that spirit which inspired the founders of the country—a spirit of unselfishness, self sacrifice, iron-clad character. It gave us liberty of church, of press, of political belief. It freed us from intolerable monarchic domination and established a nation where the government was to exist for the individual, not the individual for the government.

Today, the American spirit stands for these things precisely as it did in the past. They are as important today as ever, and perhaps more important. The public is beleaguered from many sides by those who would effect sudden and irrevocable change in the very foundation stones of our government. The advocates of facism, communism, dictatorship and other theories are always active—and there is danger that they may seem persuasive to a people struggling with great, yet temporary, problems.

The public cannot be too strongly warned against seeking temporary benefits at the expense of permanent principals. Even the worst of depressions pass—and we will be a sad nation indeed, if after this one passes, we find that we have lost those constitutional guarantees of corporate and individual freedom that have made us great.—Clarendon News.

Washington Daybook

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—This is an era of "coincidences" and if you didn't know that the arm of coincidence was a long one you might be tempted to think the gentleman in the White House was no more virtuously aloof from the tricks of politics than his predecessors.

Mr. Jim Farley, of course, can't help being pleased by these freaks of luck the Democrats are having. But he will stoutly insist on the haphazard nature of them.

Just a few examples "coincidences": Mr. Joe Guffey, the slick Pennsylvania boss who's the New Deal candidate against Senator Dave Reed, and Guffey's running-mate, George Earle, who would be governor, stepped out from a White House luncheon with a statement.

The president was ordering a survey of $57,000,000 electrical development centering in Pennsylvania, to be based largely on water power.

"Merely coincidental," said Earle when asked how it happened the statement came so near election day.

The big flow of AAA benefit payments to farmers this fall, especially on the corn-hog program, is just another pleasant accident.

Senator Joe Robinson's announcement from the White House steps that he would go to New Mexico to campaign against Roosevelt's dear friend, Senator Cutting, coincided with reports that Cutting was having a tough fight.

And of course the administration's original blessing on Sinclair in California has cooled off at almost break-neck speed.

There's a band down at Williamsburg, Va., where Roosevelt spoke recently, which doesn't know that "Hail to the Chief!" is supposed to be played only once at a time. Or maybe it gets the point now.

The president was about to enter his automobile when then band struck it up. He doffed his hat, held it across his breast and stood. Back went the hat as the piece was finished—and back went the proud band to "Hail to the Chief!"

Again Roosevelt stood hatless, though obviously a bit peeved. When the band started a third rendition, he passed into the car and gave orders to press on.

It is axiomatic that the New Deal is full of contradictions and one of them seems to be Mr. Forney Johnston, a public utilities lawyer and politician of Birmingham, Ala.

Forney Johnston is local agency counsel for the RFC down there and makes a nice little thing of it, drawing thousands of dollars from the government.

Forney Johnston is also the fellow who is bringing suits against the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority program, on behalf of half a dozen coal or power companies.

We used to go out and bring home the bacon. Nowadays we expect to have it delivered.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD—The dressing room wherein Adolphe Menjou achieves the condition which Jules Mendell, New York fashion authority, described recently as "almost invariably overdressed" is not large, as such things go in Hollywood, but it has its points and many of them. Mr. Mendell, arriving in Hollywood, selected Lewis Stone as the contrary, best dressed man, and "dismissed" Adolphe Menjou on the grounds already mentioned. But previously an "international committee of tailors" had included Menjou on its list of the 10 best dressed men in the world—so, Mendel to the contrary, a look into that that Menjou dressing room should be worth while.

It's one of the features in the honeymoon house Menjou built for his bride, Verree Teasdale, and one of its most unusual features. It is, in fact a workshop for the part that clothes played in inaugurating the successful career of Menjou as an actor is well known. Miss Teasdale,

Politics at Random

BY BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)

Washington's urgent problem just now is the recognized need for a real coordination of administration policy and effort.

The inconsistencies and confusions long have been apparent to all. Two or three times the President himself has designated lieutenants to find a solution. The net result is that today matters have reached a stage where drastic action is advocated by some of those nearest the White House.

What Woodrow Wilson used to call "a confusion of counsels" is not confined to such detailed matters as the tangle at NRA, and the mix-up over relief.

On a larger scale the same sort of trouble has arisen over the handling of public utterances regarding the basic principals of the "new deal."

One or two officials have been told quite bluntly on very high authority to stop speaking out of turn and to confine themselves to their own balliwicks.

Tugwell Also Spoke. But even this has not put an end to developments which have left many people in doubt and perplexity.

On the same day that Mr. Roosevelt addressed the bankers in Washington in a manner obviously designed to quiet some of their apprehensions and instill confidence, Dr. Rexford Tugwell delivered an address in Rome, Italy.

The chief brain-truster spoke before the International Institute of Agriculture but he talked of many things never heard of on the farm. In an address sprinkled with such erudite expressions as "optimum quantity" and "cullis inheritance," the doctor lambasted the old order, referred to the "blind recklessness" of those who say recovery should come before reform, and told the world there was "yet more to be invented and tried."

Everyone who read the president's speech seemed to agree he was promising restraint in "inventing and trying" further reforms just now. No one read Dr. Tugwell's speech without getting quite another impression.

Spankings In Order. It remains to be seen whether Dr. Tugwell, on his return to Washington, will be in for a spanking.

One indication that he may be absolved of ultimate responsibility lies in the fact that his speech was given out by the government in Washington, in advance of delivery.

and so presumably came as no surprise.

The point is that somehow, for some reason or lack of it, the Roosevelt speech and the Tugwell speech were run off at about the same time on mimeograph machines situated only a few blocks distant from one another.

The incident illustrated what has happened in many other cases.

During the same week a labor union presented a petition to the labor board. The board held it had no authority, and referred the request to one of the code authorities as the proper government agency.

Yet, it so happened that the NRA had ruled long since that this code authority had no jurisdiction in the premises.

Of course there are some subjects, such as currency readjustment on which the administration has fixed frankly it could lay down no fixed policy.

There are many others, however, about which high officials believe something to clear up popular confusion can be done with perfect safety.

The public should not be surprised if some more or less public spankings ensue.

Siam King Reads Book While His Throne Totters

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—King Pradjitpuk, a spokesman disclosed today, is calmly reading books while the government of Siam debates issues which may mean his abdication.

"Siamese people are philosophical," the spokesman said, "and the king is no less so than his subjects." The king, in Surrey, is awaiting a reply from Bangkok to his latest communication. He has threatened to give up the throne if the government does not withdraw a measure limiting the monarch's power of life and death over his subjects. Diplomatic circles here, however, discounted the possibility that Pradjitpuk would abdicate. A dispatch from Bangkok said government circles expressed confidence he would remain on the throne.

ADMISSION TO PLAINVIEW GAME FRIDAY NIGHT REDUCED TO FIFTY CENTS

BULLDOGS ARE SHOWING MID-SEASON FORM

ABSENCE OF REGULARS MAY MAKE GAME CLOSE

Pampa's first conference game with the Plainview Bulldogs has been changed to Friday night of this week and admission has been reduced to 50 cents. The change from Saturday afternoon and the decrease in the price of admission was agreed upon yesterday afternoon in a telephone conversation between officials of the two schools.

A much improved team will represent the Plainview Bulldogs here. The team started slowly with 10 green players in the lineup. Development was slow but sure until last week, when the Bulldogs showed near mid-season form to hold a much improved Quannah Indian team to a 6 to 0 score. The Harvesters defeated Quannah earlier in the season before the Indians hit their stride.

Another reason why the game should be hard fought and close will be the absence of two full complements of first string players. It is almost certain that Captain Monroe Owens, end, and Red Fanning, fullback, will not play in the game, and Fred Mumford, end, may be used only a portion of the game. The three players were injured in El Paso last Saturday. They were not in uniform yesterday afternoon.

Work on new plays featured the practice yesterday. The substitute ends who will have to be used the next game or two were made more familiar with regular plays as the team ran through the full complement. The substitutes proved themselves adept at pass receiving and it may be that a new aerial offense will be seen.

Coaches worked Nix and Stephenson on opposite ends and then switched to Scott and Walker and Barham. The end positions as far as good substitutes, but other positions in the line would be harder to fill. Backfield relief is also plentiful and strong. Line substitutes have been showing up better the last few weeks, however, and they should soon be ready to relieve the regulars without weakening the team.

Plainview will be at full strength when they invade Pampa Friday night. The three players injured in a bus accident two weeks ago will be ready to play. They were used only at intervals during the Plainview-Quannah game last week.

The passing and punting of Ray was missing and the line charging and end-running of Covington was also absent as the two backfield stars looked on from the sidelines. It was a blocked punt early in the game that gave Quannah its lone touchdown.

The Plainview line showed much improvement as it charged low and hard. The big Quannah players failed to make holes in the line, and had to resort to the air many times, which also proved costly as the Bulldog air defense worked perfectly.

Plainview is not being taken lightly by the Harvesters, who realize that even the weakest foe can turn some time. Shawnee played football while Capitol Hill played on their past reputation Friday night and as a result the game ended a scoreless tie. Amarillo defeated Borger only 12 to 0 and the Harvesters only won from Bowie of El Paso 21 to 6, maybe all goes to show that overconfidence should be unknown, even when the foe is considered weak.

FAMOUS ACTOR KILLS HIMSELF WITH SCISSORS

Former Leading Man Of Divine Sarah Bernhardt Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—Lou Tellegen, one-time stage and screen idol, is dead, the victim of repeated thrusts of a pair of scissors into his breast.

Police said he was found yesterday in a bathroom on the floor at the home of Mrs. John T. Cudaly, widow of the meat packer and benefactor of the actor. She had sent her butler to learn why Tellegen had not left his room since breakfast.

The death weapon was jabbed into the actor's breast seven times, but police surgeons said only one of the wounds was fatal.

Tellegen died only a few doors from the pretentious home he had built for his second wife, Geraldine Farrar, the grand opera star, when he was at the height of his career. At the time he built the home he had come from New York stage successes to enter the films. He made his screen debut as the leading man of the "Divine Sarah" Bernhardt, with whom he had played on the stage.

A marked contrast with his fame then, in recent months Tellegen wandered from studio to studio in search of bit parts. He even resorted to face lifting in a futile effort to recover a fraction of his former popularity.

A few months ago Tellegen was called to Hollywood for a role in "Caravan" but illness forced him to give up the part. Previously he appeared as a character actor in "A Call to Arms."

After undergoing four operations for cancer in a year, D. C. Cooper said Tellegen expressed fear he was losing his mind and would be unable to work any more. It was Dr. Cooper who attempted to save the actor's life yesterday.

Tellegen was a native of Holland, born in 1874 to Louis Bernard Van Dammer. He successfully married the Countess Jeanne de Bronchere, Miss Farrar, Isabel Craven Dilworth, who was known on the screen as Nina Romano and Eva Casanova. Miss Romano has a son, Rex, now 10, by Tellegen later married Count S. Dannefeldt Samsoe, of Denmark.

With Sarah Bernhardt in "Joan of Arc" Tellegen made his stage debut in New York in 1910 and a year later they appeared in a motion picture, "Queen Elizabeth." The actor returned to the stage, appearing in "The Great Lover" and "The Lady Refuses."

In 1929 he went through bankruptcy here, testifying he had debts of $20,000 and assets of only $2,200.

Mako Dominates College Tennis

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gene Mako, the curly-haired Californian, who won the 1934 intercollegiate title and is regarded by officials as a likely future international, dominates the American intercollegiate tennis world.

Morris Duane, chairman of the intercollegiate committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, announced that the No. 1 singles designation had been awarded to the Southern California star. Mako and P. A. Castlin, a college mate were named the ranking doubles team.

Ranked in order in the singles behind Mako are Gilbert Hunt, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Jack Tidball, University of California at Los Angeles; Wilber E. Hess, Rice Institute; William B. Reese, Georgia Tech; Martin Buxby, University of Texas; Kendall Cram, Tulane; Gene Smith, University of California; Edward Sutter, Tulane; S. Ellsworth Davenport, 3rd, Harvard; and E. Ramey Donovan, Fordham.

Tidball and Charles Church, University of California at Los Angeles, were rated the second doubles team, followed by Buxby and Bert Welkins, University of Texas; Gene Smith and Carl Holmes, University of California; and Sutter and Cram, Tulane.

WATKINS' FOE IS MASTER OF ROUGH TRICKS

BLOODIEST MATCH IN MANY MOONS IS FORESEEN

A grappler with as many tricks on the mat as a monkey on a vine, is the expression used in Western newspapers to talk about Art Perkins of Detroit, Mich., who will attempt to down the wildest wrestler in country, Tex Watkins, at the Pla-Mor auditorium tonight. The two will meet in the main event.

The going is expected to be so rough that the front row reserve seats will be set back for the occasion. Watkins is well known in Pampa from his past performances. He says he is the toughest grappler in the game today, and that if he meets anyone as tough as he is, he will make him his trainer and sparring partner.

Perkins has little to say about the match. He is a capable looking fellow, well built, and just a little ugly. He gave wonderful exhibitions in Amarillo and Lubbock last week and is believed to be the grappler who can give Watkins some of his own type of punishment.

A scientific struggle is in store in the semi-final when Sam George of Corpus Christi meets Pat Garrison, Pampa oil man. The Pampan says he is through with rough tactics and in the future will stick to scientific grappling. Fans are a little doubtful, however, and will believe when they see.

George made a hit with Pampa fans last week when he defeated Buddy Edwards by straight wrestling methods. He overcame Edwards' roughness with legal punishment that had the Kansas matman howling for mercy. George is one of the cleverest and best built grapplers to appear here in some time.

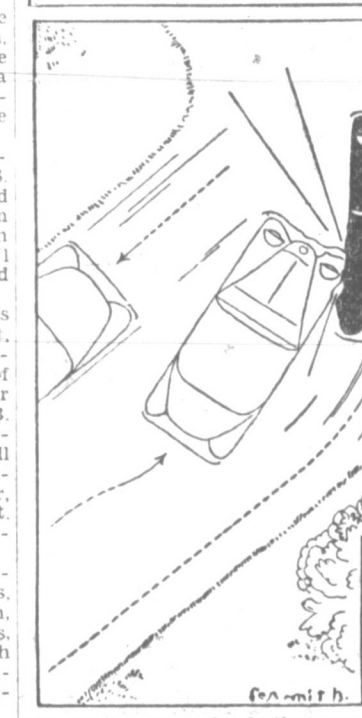

The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with Howard Belcher and Lobo Brown strutting their stuff. Brown will be out for a win under any circumstances because he wants to challenge Pat Garrison to a finish bout.

FIVE BURN TO DEATH
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 30 (AP)—A father, his four children and a housekeeper, were burned to death before daybreak today when fire destroyed a five room shack on the outskirts of the city. Diagrams of Danger—No. 5

No one is more active in the campaign to persuade the automobile driver to exercise the care, courtesy and common sense which will reduce the appalling number of accidents than Motor Vehicle Administrators. They know the facts. Ten of them, officers of National and Regional Associations, have described the most common driving and pedestrian faults.

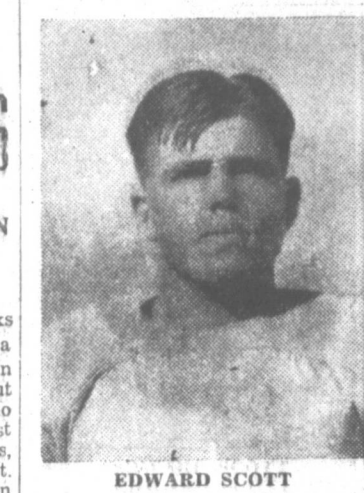

By HARRY C. HUSE
Director, Department of Licenses, Washington.
President, Region No. 4 of American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

accidents due to improper turns in 1933 was more than 40,000, with 75,000 or more persons hurt, according to figures supplied by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

The National Conference on Street and Highway Safety has put forth a left turn regulation as part of its Model Municipal Traffic Ordinance. It reads as follows: "Approach for a left turn shall be made in the lane for traffic to the right of and nearest to the center line of the highway, and the left turn shall be made by passing to the right of such center line where it enters the intersection and upon leaving the intersection by passing to the right of the center line of the highway then entered."

If this were observed under all circumstances it would do much to reduce the terrible toll this nation now pays for motor vehicle driving.

Kirby Suffers Injured Ankle In Scrimmage

Max Kirby, substitute end on the Gorillas football squad, received a fractured ankle on his right leg yesterday afternoon during practice session. The leg was set at the office of a local physician and the youth was later taken to his home.

Max is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kirby of Kingsmill where Mr. Kirby owns a grocery store. He is a half-brother of Gerald Maxey, a member of the Harvesters squad last year.

The accident happened when Fred Hartman, running interference in a dummy scrimmage, fell on Kirby's leg. The future Harvesters, although suffering terribly, never whimpered and talked with his fellow teammates until a G. C. Malcom ambulance arrived at the field. He will be out for the rest of the season.

HOTEL ROBBED
TYLER, Oct. 30 (AP)—Two men who had registered earlier in the night robbed the Blackstone hotel cash box of $50 early today after threatening J. K. Robertson, night manager, and other employees with pistols. The men covered Robertson and bell boys behind the desk, searched them and then took the cash box, apparently fleeing in an automobile.

TEXANS NAMED FOR MYTHICAL TEAM HONORS

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS OF NATION LISTED BY GOULD

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The all-American football team will play a strong hand in the mythical team signs of boiling again. The annual rush to stir it up is well under way. If Knute Rockne were alive he would suggest the boys are beginning to collect their breath and clippings for the final race for seats at the all-star table.

November, bringing on traditional and severe tests for the collegiate football talent, will give the experts their best chance to weigh the evidence accumulated so far. Whether it's eminently fair or not, the fact is that first impressions linger longest. It's difficult to dislodge from the list a halfback who runs wild in October, even though he may skid in the closing stages of the campaign and yield the November headlines to rival ball-carriers.

On the basis of reports at hand, the middle west again will play a strong hand in the mythical team popularity rolls, mainly because of the attention attracted by Minnesota's Juggernaut. The Gopher captain, Francis (Pug) Lund and his teammate, Frank (Butch) Larson, at end, were on the all-star rolls last year. Both are conspicuous again but the top-toms are also being beaten for two other stalwarts in the Minnesota cast, Stan Kostka at fullback and Bill Bevan at guard. Kostka's line-cracking exploits are such as to develop a following among the celebrated predecessors, Herb Joesting and Bronko Nagurski, both all-Americans in their day.

The Southwest, with an array of especially strong teams that have made a big intersectional impression this season, also has put forward a strong team. The Trojans have taken a nose dive. It's the old story of the spotlight being turned on the winner.

Meanwhile, victorious Stanford's fullback, Bobby Grayson, is beginning to justify the enthusiastic predictions made for him after last season and Army's triple-threat Texas Jack Buckler, has picked up where he left off as a member of the 1933 all-America cast.

Without attempting either to rate the individual performers so far or to make the list complete, here's a partial mid-season roster of college stars:

Ends: Larson, Minnesota; Goodwin, West Virginia; Moscrip, Stanford; Morse, Oregon; Redding, North Carolina State; Edwards, Army; Gray, Harvard; Borden Fordham; Rupert, Kentucky.

Tackles: Theodoratus, Washington State; Blazine, Illinois Wesleyan; Cutter, Navy; Paecetti, Wisconsin; Orr, Southern Methodist; Lee, Alabama; Bailey, Tennessee.

Guards: Revan, Minnesota; Barclay, North Carolina; Grybeck, Illinois; Stillman, Army; Gundlach, Harvard; Ormiston, Pittsburgh; John, Princeton; Davis, Yale.

Centers: Coates, Texas; Robinson, Tulane; Arthur, Rice; Kalbaugh, Princeton; Robinson, Notre Dame.

Quarterbacks: Munjas, Pittsburgh; Goddard, Washington State; Warburton, Southern California; Sedel, Minnesota; Brown, Florida; Benyon, Illinois; Flinn, Chicago; Sothorn, Maryland.

Halfbacks: Buckler, Army; Lund, Minnesota; Borries, Navy; Howell, Alabama; Shephard, Western Maryland; Purvis, Purdue; Berwanger, Chicago; Barabas, Columbia; Simmons, Tulane; Wilson, Southern Methodist; Wallace, Rice; Hillard, Drexel; Mickan, Louisiana State; Warmbel, Michigan State; Bulvid, Marquette; Leemans, George Washington; Levan, Princeton; Cornelius, Luke; Mattox, Washington and Lee; Kern, Colgate; Albanese, Syracuse; Heckin, Ohio State; Hobin, Holy Cross; Vaughan, Tennessee; Pliny, Notre Dame; Caldwell, Nebraska; Williams, California.

Fullbacks: Kostka, Minnesota; Grayson, Stanford; Crayne, Iowa; Weinstein, Pittsburgh; Clark, Navy; Elser, Notre Dame; Stancock, Army.

Fleet Back

RAYMOND ELKINS.
One of the fastest boys on the Harvesters squad. Playing his second year and last year at halfback. He came here from Miami and had one year with the Gorillas before joining the Harvesters. Injuries have kept him on the bench much of this year but he has been in three games and scored three touchdowns.

Historic Race To Be Run Tomorrow

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 30 (AP)—With the distribution of millions of dollars hanging on the results, the historic Cambridgeshire stakes will be run over one and one-eighth miles tomorrow with three American-owned horses, one of them bred in the United States, in the field of 37 eligibles.

Over-shadowing the race itself will be the awarding of upwards of ten million dollars to the lucky holders of tickets over 500 of them Americans, in the Irish Free State sweepstakes.

Carrying the hopes of American owners will be A. C. Bostwick's Mate, a rival of Twenty Grand and Equipoise in the United States as a 3-year-old. William Woodward's Bondsman and Victor Emanuel's Statesman. None of the trio, however, was rated high in the latest call-over of betting odds. Bondsman was held at 20 to 1 while Mate and Statesman were quoted at 33 to 1.

Mary Tudor II, a French-bred mare which will have Steve Donoghue in the saddle, ruled the choice at 10 to 1.

RANGER'S STAR PLAYER IS MARRIED, HAS 2 CHILDREN

He Weighs 190 Pounds and Is 6 Feet 2; Is Called Best Since B. Magness.

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Just because he is married and has two daughters doesn't prevent Aaron Anderson, Ranger high school back from being the best all-around football player in district two.

The range hot-shot looms as the best backfielder in the powerful Oil Belt section since Boone Magness of Breckenridge, who is now barking signals for Washington State and doing a smart job of it.

It is difficult to imagine a football star much busier than this Anderson fellow, who punts, passes, runs, place kicks, calls signals, and backs up the line.

Weighing 190 pounds and 6 feet 2, he is more than the average high school tackle can handle. Anderson is playing his third year. And does not know what it is to be beaten in district competition. Brownwood tied Ranger in 1932, but the Bulldogs have not lost an oil belt game since 1931.

The things that put the Ranger quarterback in a class by himself is his family. His second daughter was born three weeks ago, on the same day of the month that his first daughter was born in 1933.

Gorillas to Play Wheeler Friday

Coach Harry Kelley and his Gorillas, encouraged by their best showing of the season Friday afternoon, when they held the Tulla Hornes to a 6 to 0 score, are preparing for an invasion of Wheeler Friday.

The Gorillas showed much improvement in their 19 to 13 win over Wheeler here two weeks ago. Coach Kelley said his boys were more improved when they met Tulla, one of the strongest Class B teams in this section of the state.

Blocking and tackling will come in for much attention this week, the Gorilla mentor said yesterday as his boys took the field for the first of several long practice sessions. A number of new plays will also be studied this week to give the Gorillas a more varied attack.

Wheeler has a strong team and their defeat here was a surprise. The Mustangs will be battling to avenge the defeat and get more experience for future games.

WOMEN OF THREE BAPTIST CHURCHES ARE GUESTS OF W. M. U.

FIRST BAPTIST UNION HOSTESS TO 95 GUESTS

GAMES, SONGS FOLLOW THE DEVOTIONAL PERIOD

All women of the First Baptist, Central Baptist, and Calvary Baptist churches were invited to be guests at the social meeting of first Baptist Women's Missionary union yesterday afternoon. Ninety-five were present at the church.

Greetings to the visitors were extended by Mrs. E. L. Anderson, president of the union after a devotional by Mrs. R. W. Tucker and a prayer by Mrs. R. M. Mitchell of Central Baptist union. A brief business session followed.

Mrs. Raymond Culp and Mrs. John Sledge directed games, and Mrs. C. O. Huber led a sing-song in which the entire group joined. Delicious refreshments were served. The benediction was by Mrs. Hard of Calvary society.

Members and guests who registered were Mrs. L. H. Green, J. H. Ayres, John McKamy, Mary Binford, C. E. Cheatham, Eddie Gray, Will Brown, H. C. Wilkie, R. C. Wood, Edwin Pearce, H. T. Cox, E. L. Anderson, W. M. Moore.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster and O. C. Huber were guests for a part of the program.

New Members To Be Secured with Scout's Contest

The Tejas troop will present the program for Girl Scouts of the Cactus troop in their meeting tomorrow. It will consist of two reports on Girl Scouts of different countries, work on needlecraft, and work on tests.

Next week will be membership week. The troop has been divided, and the side that secures most members will be entertained on Thanksgiving by members of the losing group.

Girls will bring cigar boxes to the next meeting to make small looms. They will be used for weaving beaded designs and other articles.

The regular meeting last week was conducted in Miss Madge Rusk's room at Junior high school.

Texas Baptists To Convene Soon

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30.—The Baptist general convention of Texas will have its 86th annual session in San Antonio, November 6 to 9.

Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Baylor college at Belton, is the president of the convention and will head the opening session. Dr. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church at Corsicana, will preach the annual convention sermon.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, general secretary of the convention, will make his annual report, including the statement that the 3,153 Baptist churches in Texas have gained in membership during the last 12 months a total of 32,492 persons.

Dr. Williams' report will say that the 576,945 Texas Baptists have raised for all purposes, including local church expenses and missions, Christian education and beneficiaries, more than $4,000,000.

T. C. Gardner, director of the B. T. S. work in Texas, will report that Texas "leads the world in young people's work." There are more than 150,000 members of the B. T. S. organization in Texas, according to Gardner.

A spook party will entertain the young people's department of First Methodist church this evening at the home of George Lane, 709 N. Frost. Members have been notified that the "witching hour" is 7:45.

All are asked to wear masks, and those who wish are to come in costume.

Winning Smile

A friend maker for NRA with her pleasing smile and tact, is Mrs. Helen Elliott, who holds the top secretarial job in Washington since the passing of Frances Robinson, first aide to Gen. Hugh S. Johnson. Mrs. Elliott, shown here in a new picture, is secretary to Chairman Clay Williams, of NIRA.

Second Week of Church of Christ Revival Starts

Start of the second week of revival services at Francis Avenue Church of Christ was marked by large attendance last evening, and an addition to the church was reported.

Evangelist Roy E. Cogdill of Dallas is to continue preaching daily this week at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., ending his sermons Friday evening.

The subject announced for this evening is, God's Plan for Church Unity.

Visitors are invited for the sermon and the song hour preceding, directed by E. C. McKenzie, local minister. Many out-of-town hearers have been present with Pampa residents for services during the first week of services.

Mrs. R. Kretzmeier Is Hostess to the Happy Hour Club

A number of guests were included at a meeting of the Happy Hour bridge club last week, when a surprise shower was given Mrs. Stanley Kretzmeier. Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier was hostess.

Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to Mmes. John Fletcher, Harold Ulmer, W. Sharr, E. Gower, V. J. Castka, Verle Tinkler, Hattie Tinkler, Bill Beard, Louie Behrends, Emma Behrends, George Lawley, H. O. Roberts, Harry Hoare, Carl Baer, Chris Baer, Floyd Gher, Ernest Crane, T. A. Coats.

Meeting days of the club have been changed to Thursdays. Mrs. Beard will be hostess this week.

Straightline or Tunic Dress—Pattern

Provides Both Models—Raglan Sleeves Mold Shoulders Beautifully

By ELLEN WORTZ

Here's a pattern that will serve two purposes—straightline dress or tunic dress, as seen in the miniature view.

It's such an attractive model, carried out in green woolen mixture as shown in the main sketch. A contrasting bow of brown velvet finishes the becoming neck and is matched by a wide suede belt.

You'll find it so simple to make, because of the raglan sleeves that cut in one with the shoulders.

It's perfectly stunning in black soft lightweight woolen or in black velvet for the tunic dress, because of its simple elegance of line.

Canton crepe, gay plaided angora woolen, wool crepe, satin-back crepe, etc., are interesting fabrics for this model.

Style No. 624 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 49-inch material with 1/2 yard of 39-inch contrasting.

TERPS CLUB IS TO GIVE FIRST DANCE FRIDAY

Season Opens With After-Game Dance

The first Terpsichorean club dance of this season has been announced for Friday evening of this week at Schneider hotel, from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Music will be by Bob Dunning's 10-piece orchestra, which has been approved by dancers in Pampa and nearby towns since making its appearance here a few weeks ago. The dance will follow the Pampa-Plainview football game of Friday.

In past seasons Terpsichorean club dances have been outstanding social events. The club was organized to sponsor a number of dances each year.

No invitations are being mailed for the dance Friday, but tickets are being offered to those on the club's invitation list.

HALLOWE'EN IS PARTY TIME IN VARIOUS CLUBS

YOUNG AND OLD HAVE PARTIES DURING HOLIDAY WEEK

A Halloween party was given Saturday night by girls of the Atapochon Camp Fire group at the home of Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, assistant guardian.

Dressed in Halloween costumes, they were met at the door by a ghost with icy fingers and gruff voice, who ushered them into a candle-lighted room made spooky with black cats, witches, and skeletons.

Bobbing for apples, and playing other Halloween games entertained the girls until pumpkin pie and cocoa were served. Favors were marshmallow animals.

Not only did they spend a pleasant evening, but the girls earned honor beads in preparing for the party and entertaining.

Atapochon group will have its regular meeting Thursday at the American Legion hut, and Iyega group will meet at Horace Mann school Wednesday afternoon.

Laketon Club Party.

Color, mystery, and shivers characterized the Halloween masquerade party Friday night when Laketon Home Demonstration club women entertained their husbands and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Roberts.

Guests were met at the gate by a ghostly form who directed them to the "doctor's office" in the cellar. There lay a still white form, while moans sounded from the semi-darkness.

Entering the appropriately decorated house, the masqueraders were greeted by the icy hand of the host and invited to kiss the "hostess," a figure whose lips were made of raw liver.

A trip through a bumpy darkened room on "the road to Dublin" terminated when ghosts and a skull descended from a cubby hole, accompanied by unearthly noises.

In the living room the guests formed a circle until each had been identified and unmasked. There was a witch, a mysterious Indian who refused to even touch, a clown, a lovely gypsy who told fortunes, Little Red Riding Hood and the Big Bad Wolf, goblins, Little Orphan Annie, and a whole zoo of animals.

The clever fortune teller, who proved to be Mrs. L. E. Tackett, kept the group laughing with her readings of the future. The guests presided with Pampa paragraph had been read by Mrs. C. V. Talley, then she read the original version which ended with "blood running down the hero's face."

Games for the children were supervised by Mrs. Talley, who read Little Orphan Annie to them. Mrs. Harry Gillespie read The Selfish Giant, by Oscar Wilde.

Pumpkin pie and coffee were served to Messrs. and Mmes. R. L. Shelton, Ransom Carter, Wheeler Paris, Ray Jones, Jay Evans, Frank Welch, Miss Jennie Bell, Leo Paris, C. V. Talley, Clyde Gray, Chess Terry, L. E. Tackett, Edgar Gray, H. I. Gillespie, Lawton Hoffer, Ode Gatlin, Roberts.

Mrs. Clellis Tackett, Misses Elizabeth Chapman, Garret and Jewel Christopher, Misses Harrison Looper and Billy Breeding.

Cookies and cocoa were served to the children at refreshment time.

Miami Bride Is Shower Honoree

MIAMI, Oct. 30.—Mrs. James Talley, who before her recent marriage was Miss Johnnie Bell, Calvo of Farmersville, was given a lovely shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. B. F. Talley, with Mrs. Everett Hodges as hostess.

The home was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers carrying out Halloween colors. Mints, pecan pie, and coffee were served after the gifts were presented.

Guests were Mmes. Pedro Dial, Kent Phillipot, C. B. Locke, C. T. Locke, Bill Irvin Pursley, Joe Coffee, Cecil Shields, John Talley, Clarence Gates, Bill Laird, and from Pampa, Mmes. C. L. Thomas, E. W. Hogan, S. T. Montgomery, Earl Talley, Bill Crouson; Misses Juanita and Roberta Montgomery, Frances Talley, and Lorita Hogan.

Others who sent gifts were Misses Elnor and Ardenna Talley, Mmes. H. A. Talley, Dan Graham, Joe Cunningham Jr., and Naida Lane of Pampa.

Class of Young Women Enjoy a Halloween Party

A Halloween party entertained Fidelity class members of First Methodist church Friday evening at the home of Mrs. A. F. Smith, 1116 East Francis.

The holiday motif was stressed in room decorations and in the various games played. Pumpkin pie with whipped cream, and coffee, were served.

Members and friends present were Mmes. A. A. Kelly, Charles M. Ford and A. Johnson; Misses Irene Boller, Virginia Ewson, Cleo Penick, Mary Idelle Cox, Roma Downing, Juanita McAllister, Lillian Mullinax, Florence Jackson, Jewel Shaw, Verna Riffles, Amanda Smith, Emma Poteet, Bonnie Patton.

E. Berg of LePors transacted business in the city yesterday afternoon.

First Ladies Waste No Words

Although separated by only a few feet at the opening of the annual Girl Scouts convention in Boston, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, president and past first ladies of the land respectively, failed to show any

In Comedy Cast

John Ketter, pictured above, has one of the leading roles in the three-act comedy, Laff That Off, which will be presented at city hall auditorium Monday evening under auspices of the young people's department of First Methodist church. A group of young Pampans interested in producing drama organized recently to give this and other plays. Ketter has been prominent in Little Theater plays here, appearing last year in Gold in the Hills, and He, Who Gets Slapped.

'Laff That Off' To Be Presented Here on Monday

A rollicking story of three bachelors who adopt a beautiful but penniless actress is told in the three-act comedy, Laff That Off, which will be presented at the city auditorium Monday by the Plains Players, a group of young Pampa actors.

The cast includes John Ketter as Remorse, LaVerne Courson as Art, and Verlon Twaddell as Leo, the three bachelors; Dorothy Harris as "Mopopus," Clotilde McCallister as Peggy; and Mrs. Wade Thomason as Mrs. Connelly.

The play is clean entertainment, amusing both in lines and situations. It was a successful Broadway production, and has been popular with audiences over the nation since it was released for amateur production.

Local presentation will be by an organization recently formed here, limited in membership and having as its object the dramatic development of its members as well as entertainment for the public.

Mrs. George Phillips of White Deer spent yesterday afternoon shopping in the city.

PAYROLL TAX FOR UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE NOW PROPOSED

EXPANSION OF PUBLIC WORKS NOW PROBABLE

GOVERNOR SNEERS AT GROUP PROTESTING RELIEF ABUSES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The government, facing another winter of widespread unemployment, placed new emphasis today on work and loans—rather than a dole.

Beyond that—it looked into the future and worked on a plan for a direct tax on payrolls to support unemployment insurance designed to rob depressions of some of their terrors.

The PWA and the federal relief administration were known to be studying an expansion of public works and work-relief. As bitter winds heralded the coming of winter, officials hurried to let projectors know that the thousands of men could be put to work quickly.

Only the chief executive and—in the last analysis—the legislators can say just how much will be appropriated for PWA by the next congress. Some believe it may run into billions.

Though huge numbers will remain on direct relief, Secretary Ickes, PWA chief, and Harry L. Hopkins, FERA director, are believed to be working together even more closely in an effort to get many people off direct relief into made-jobs.

The president's economic security committee is considering several plans of unemployment insurance—all of which involve a tax on industrial payrolls. The amount of tax and other details are said to be still undetermined.

The plan will be completed in two weeks for submission to President Roosevelt and—in January—to congress. Suggested taxes on payrolls have ranged from one to five per cent.

Yesterday saw two relief demonstrations in western states. A group designated "the general strike committee" led 500 persons to Colorado's state house and asked Governor Johnson to curb what they called federal relief "abuses."

Calling the leaders "just another bunch of communists," he said he was not relief administrator. The demands included a 30-hour week at union pay and restoration of the Colorado relief budget, which has been cut.

A band of men, women, and children camped in front of the Texas capital in Austin and swore they would starve in public until they "got relief." They abandoned the hunger strike, however, leaving their leader alone. He later broke his fast by buying a cup of coffee.

COURT RECORD
AMARILLO, Oct. 30 (AP)—Proceedings of the seventh court of civil appeals:

Motion overruled: Federal Trust company vs. E. C. Brand et al, to dismiss. Affirmed: Federal Trust company vs. E. C. Brand et al, from Potter; C. E. Fletcher et al vs. L. L. King et al, from Childress; Commercial Stand Insurance company et al vs. W. J. Shudder et al, from Potter.

Reversed and remanded: C. M. Huddleston et al vs. Wheeler Lumber, Bridge and Supply company, from Crosby; and J. B. Gallaher vs. U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty company, from Carson.

Submitted: Panhandle Lumber company vs. B. Johnston, from Wheeler; First Texas Joint Stock Land bank vs. E. W. Holloway, from Lynn; Lockett & Arons company vs. R. Q. Pain et al, from Dallam; Art Schlofman et al vs. Bear Co Cannon Coal company, from Dallam; O. S. Shaw et al vs. Roy L. Main, from Dallam; and J. W. McLaughlin vs. Horn-Allen company, from Hartley.

An instructed verdict of acquittal was returned yesterday in 31st district court in the burglary trial of Tom Lyons.

Today Judge W. R. Ewing called the "nuisance" trial of Cal White, J. D. White, and Oscar Williams. A motion for continuance was made on the ground that material witnesses for the defense were absent.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Lon and Marian Casad have put all the turbulent past behind them, and have embarked on a life-long honeymoon. Lon has bought an old orchard on a mountain side, and is developing it as a section of small and tasteful homes. The hilltop they have saved for their own house, and it is at last complete and they have moved in.

Chapter 21
THIEF
And then the Lionel Casads took up the business of living. Life settled into a routine. On early morning shopping trips to Walnut Creek, with Hero as a chaperone, Marian felt very maternally as she inspected vegetables and discussed meat cuts. Lon was treated by any tradesmen with the respect due any man who could write a check for the price of the orchard land he had purchased.

While Lon was in the tract with surveyors, or in the little room he had built for an office adapting blue printed plans of future houses to the peculiarities of the land, Marian busied herself around the house experimenting with recipes, experimenting with new and attractive ways of arranging the dishes, the furniture, the many gifts.

Strawberries came in, were duly purchased, turned into jam and Marian, with pardonable pride reluctantly took them from the window sill where their ruby light shined through the white sill and closed them into the dark fruit closet.

Sometimes, especially when Anne and her doctor ran out for a day, Marian would think of the other life she had lived, of telephone calls which would send her rushing for a glimpse of life in the raw, of long tedious days of monotonous assignments, and of long nights when she lay too tired to sleep. Sometimes, also she thought of Silver Hodson, and once Anne mentioned her.

"Say, Ann, remember the nurse on the Hodson case. Norah Reilly? Well I think she and Cliff are going to be married," and when Marian said she was surprised disbeliever, "Silver only went back to the hospital once. Cliff had a temperature that night and Norah balked at letting her see him."

"She left for the Islands a couple of days later, without a word. Norah says Cliff thinks she just played the part of a good sport to pull him through. He'd never had a woman take care of him before and she says if Norah doesn't mind playing second fiddle to a dream he might have a chance at some future happiness."

And then into their paradise of perfect happiness, came the first suspicion of a cloud. Marian noticed a peculiar abstraction in Lon. Several times she surprised him checking and rechecking his bank statement.

Instead of the gaiety she had thought was part of Lon's nature, there came a quietness. He made several trips into town without asking her to go along, and on the last of these came in so worn, so white lipped, that she cried aloud.

"Lon, what is it? What's happened to you?"
He made a brave attempt to smile, then threw himself into a chair, crossed his arms on the table and buried his head in them.

"Lon, it can't be as bad as that. Tell me dear."
Instead of answering he drew a crumpled telegram from his pocket and handed it to her.

"Wondering she spread out the creases and read:
"Regret to inform you further investigation futile. Carrduth gave Lansing power of attorney stop he withdrew funds left to you declaring he was to meet you in west stop we have your signature coupled with his demand this take place stop had no reason to question it as you had previously made known your intention of carrying out Carrduth's plans there stop suggest you have local police communicate with us also have warrant drawn for Lansing's arrest stop will supply you with pictures stop withdrawal of this large amount his left us in embarrassing position unable to advance any loan to you stop accept our sincere regrets."

CARL EATON.
"What does it mean, Lon?" she asked after a moment's bewildered study.

"It means I'm sunk," he answered thickly. "Old Lansing, my guardian's secretary, has decamped with my money."

New Film Shows Crowds, World Fair Gaiety

All the exciting, unusual sights of that great show of shows—the 1934 World's Fair in Chicago, are seen in a new talking motion picture, "Ford and A Century of Progress," which will be shown here tomorrow morning. Above, one of the crowd scenes, showing thousands of fair visitors on Lief Erickson Drive, the central street in the fair grounds. Inset shows the huge Ford exposition building, the main attraction at A Century of Progress for 1934.

black barrier of hills to the west pouring into unseemly canyons in swirls of grey and black and foaming out again in white-billows.

It was unutterably dreary. She started back then saw the movement of a figure. Lon was standing on the edge of their land and sloping away from him lay the plot over which he had worked so faithfully these weeks.

Winding roads cut through the orchard, made so that each house might have an unobstructed view of the hills. The lots were grouped in circles with a round playground at the hub for the imaginary children who would slide down chutes provided by Lon, swing in his swings, build sand houses in painted sand boxes.

And that bald, flat place on the edge of the plot was to be a baseball diamond safely away from windows which might be broken by stray balls. This, Lon's dream; the dream of a boy who had played on hot pavements.

The percolator began to bubble and Marian turned to it, mechanically lowering the heat. Poor Lon, what should she do, what could she do? She felt inadequate, wished her mother were there, she'd know what to say and what to do.

A moment later she heard the crash of wood on the hearth, the rumpling of paper, and then the roar as the blaze caught. Picking up the tray, she went into the big room.

"Look, Lon," she begged for attention.

He turned from a studious contemplation of the fire, made a brave attempt to smile. But when she saw the misery in his eyes, the three tiers of glazed perfection slid to the floor with a crash, and she flew into his arms.

In the wordless communion of that moment all of her unspoken sympathy was given and received.

Tomorrow, Marian arranges a temporary solution for Lon.

Tulia Minister To Take Kiwanis Office January 1

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Joe O. Naylor, of San Antonio, Governor-elect of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district, will attend the annual council meeting of Kiwanis International here Nov. 1 to 3.

The meeting brings together all the leading Kiwanis officials from the United States and Canada.

General discussions of plans for furthering the organization's objectives, such as assistance to the underprivileged children, vocational guidance, bettering the relationship between the city and farm groups and the promotion of business standards, will be the major work of the council.

Mr. Naylor announced the following lieutenant governors for his district who will take office on January 1:

Dr. Roy G. Giles, Temple, Tex.; Roger F. Robinson, Raymondville, Tex.; Loyal L. Nelms, Houston.

SWISS CLAIMS HE ORIGINATED NAZIISM IDEA

DOMINATES TRIAL OF JEWRY AT BERNE, SWITZERLAND

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 30 (AP)—Theodore Fischer, burly leader of Switzerland's little band of nazis, said today that he, and not Adolf Hitler, is the father of nazism.

Fischer, a Swiss-German, asserted he started his union of national socialist confederates of Switzerland before Hitler began a similar drive in Germany.

He is a defense attorney and dominating personality in the Jewish protocol trial here, in which Jewry seeks to prove the falsity of documents alleging it planned to rule the world.

Swiss nazis do not say "Heil Fischer" when they meet their chief. Instead, they say "Heil Rutili." That salute, Fischer explained, symbolizes the union of Forest Cantons in 1291 Rutili.

"We Swiss nazis are few, but we sit in the seats of the mighty," Fischer continued.

"We are essentially anti-Jewish, not because of Jewish culture or Jewish religion, but because we object to the Jewish race. We are pro-Christian and pro-Aryan, and favor dividing property among the people who really work in proportion to their activities."

"We should not have only one fuhrer (leader) because Switzerland has three races, Germans, Italians, and French, but we might have three. We have a positive program and we shall grow stronger, creating daily a new and more vigorous Switzerland based on the doctrine of nazism."

CENTENNIAL NEWS ITEMS

Official Pledge Adopted by the Texas Centennial Commission:
"I will think-talk-write Texas Centennial in 1936. This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be."

ANGLETON, Oct. 27 (Special) - With the revival of interest in historical matters concerning Texas in connection with the planning for celebrations of the state's Centennial in 1936 in Texas cities, naturally among those early Texans, whose names are to be honored are Moses Austin, who dreamed a dream of empire, and his son, Stephen Fuller Austin, who made the dream a reality and is revered as "The Father of Texas."

It is well for Texans to recall that at this time there are few near relatives of Stephen F. Austin still living. The "Father of Texas" never married, but he took a paternal interest in the sons of his sister, Emily, by her marriage to James Bryan and James Terry. In 1831, he wrote her to hurry to Texas and build a home in the cane brakes. This home, originally consisting of two rooms, was called "Peach Point" because of the wild peach ridges back of the house. It is located about 12 miles north of the town of Freepert in Brazoria county. It was there that Emily established her family of boys and her brother made his home with her.

Henry Austin Perry of Angleton is the oldest living near relative of Stephen F. Austin, being his great-nephew and a grandson of Emily Austin by her second marriage. Henry Austin Perry was born in 1856 at "Peach Point" which then had grown into a spacious mansion, although today little of it remains save the original two rooms which had been weather-boarded with lumber hewn out by hand.

Lewis R. Bryan, of Houston another grandson of Emily Austin, also is a great nephew of Stephen F. Austin, from whose labors and ambition resulted the Texas of today.

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (Special) - Counties, communities and organizations throughout Texas, their pride in the glorious history of their state aroused by plans being formulated for the observance of Texas' Centennial of Independence in 1936 by celebrations in Texas cities, are rallying in support of adequate financial participation by the state in the Centennial program.

At Victoria, a meeting of Centennial advisory board members from Galad, Refugio, San Patricio and Victoria counties adopted resolutions urging the state legislature to carry out the expressed will of the people as signified by the adoption of a constitutional amendment providing for Centennial financing.

Pampa representatives of 16 of the 26 counties in the 31st senatorial district urged their representation in the state legislature to support plans for financing the proposed commemoration.

The DeWitt County Centennial Advisory Committee forwarded a similar resolution to its state senator and representative. The Men's and Women's Association, an organization of tax-paying Catholics in Dallas county, made a similar plea to Dallas county's legislative representation. The Texas division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at its Mineral Wells session, by unanimous vote urged the senate and house at Austin to make adequate appropriation for the Centennial.

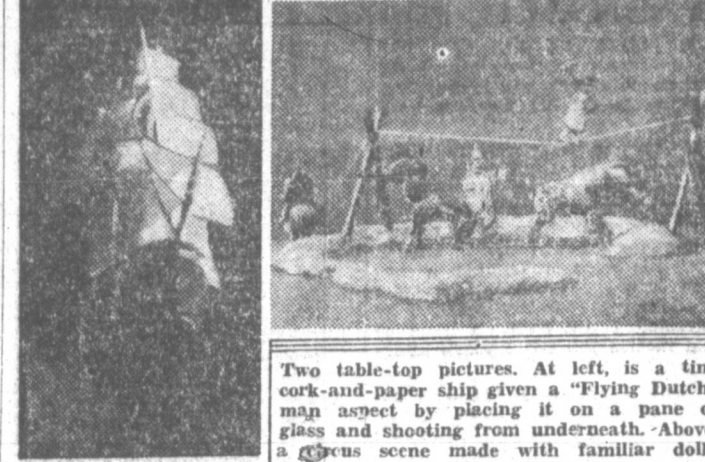

DECATUR, Oct. 28 (Special) - Wise county may stage a celebration of its own in 1936, when celebrations of Texas Centennial will be held in Texas cities, in view of the fact that in that year it will observe the eightieth anniversary of its organization.

Wise county was organized in 1856. Early the following year Decatur became the county seat. At the time, the town was known as Taylorville, being given that name by Absalom Bishop, who founded the town on a 60-acre tract donated for that purpose by Mr. and Mrs. James Proctor. Bishop had a profound admiration for President Zachary Taylor and named the town for him. Shortly after its selection as county seat the name was changed to Decatur.

Two table-top pictures. At left, is a tiny cork-and-paper ship given a "Flying Dutchman" aspect by placing it on a pane of glass and shooting from underneath. Above, a circus scene made with familiar dolls and toys.

One of the most interesting of camera stunts is the making of "table-top" pictures. As the term indicates, you assemble your picture material on some convenient table or bench, and shoot it from any desired angle.

"Table-top" pictures are, usually, very much like model stage settings. You may use dolls, toys, statuettes, model airplanes, miniature trains, boats—anything at all that appeals to you. The point of the whole thing is to arrange your subjects in an interesting, realistic, or fantastic fashion, and to light this arrangement so that it makes a good picture.

Usually, these pictures are taken at close range. If your camera cannot be focused for close-ups, use a portrait attachment—a simple, inexpensive, and highly useful little gadget.

There's no limit to the effects you can achieve. And there's nothing much more fascinating than working them out. Here are some pointers that may save you time and trouble:

Remember that the only point of view that matters is the point of view of your camera's lens. Your set-up may appear charming from above or from the side. But don't let it mislead you. The camera must be pleased.

Working at close range, the depth of focus of your lens is not likely to be great. So keep the elements within as short a distance, front to back, as possible. And the most important feature should be at the point of exact focus.

If you want to give an effect of deep distance, as in a miniature landscape set-up, place various figures (trees, houses, fences, etc.) in receding planes. The focus will become less exact as the distance from the camera increases. A piece of dark cardboard, cut with an irregular edge, laid across the back of the set, will become a range of distant hills. And a big piece of light cardboard, set up well back of the rest of the set-up, gives you a good "sky."

Remember that the camera's outlook is wedge-shaped—narrow close to the lens and widening out as it goes into the distance.

The greatest fun in this work is playing with light. Sometimes a single strong flood of light will give you what you want. Again, you may

Expel Students On Red Charges In UCLA Probe

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (P) - Five student leaders of the University of California at Los Angeles were under suspension for one year today as a result of what Provost E. C. Moore said was an attempt "to destroy the university by handing it over to an organized group of communist students."

Those who will be forced to leave the university for a year are John Burnside, president of the student want one figure to stand out brilliantly, with everything else subdued. To do this, you will have to block off most of the light with white cardboards, books, or whatever you need.

You'll get your best effects by working with the lens at its smallest opening. Allow plenty of time—anywhere from ten seconds to a minute or two, depending on the amount of light.

Too, don't forget that most films register blue as white, and red as black or dark gray. A white figure against a blue background will tend to be lost; similarly, a red figure will not stand out against a dark background.

It's fascinating business, all in all, and will repay you well for your patience and ingenuity.

Miniature oil derricks and wheat shocks would be typical of Pampa and Gray county.

body; Sidney Szargl, chairman of the forensic board; Thomas Lambert, chairman of the men's board; Mendel Lieberman, chairman of the scholarship committee; and Celeste Strack, former university debater.

The suspensions, Dr. Moore said, were an outgrowth of attempts by students to maintain, in the face of faculty objections, an open forum. In a formal statement suspending the students the provost said the drastic action was necessary because he believed the four men were using their offices to further the national student league, an alleged communist organization. Miss Strack was suspended "for persistent violations of university rules."

HONOLULU, Oct. 30 (P) - Adverse winds kept Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and Captain P. G. Taylor grounded today, awaiting a take-off on the third and last leg of their perilous over-water flight from Australia to California.

EACH YEAR TEXAS NATURAL GAS EQUAL TO 487,000 CARS OF COAL

487,000 carloads of coal would make a train 4800 miles long.

IT WOULD REQUIRE 487,000 carloads of coal, making a train 4,800 miles long, to replace the heat energy of the Natural Gas now being wasted each year in the Panhandle of Texas. This is but one example of gas wastage throughout the state. Similar waste is going on in other Texas fields. Each month sees an alarming increase in this destruction of what has been called "Texas' greatest natural gift."

Unless this waste is stopped, the great Natural Gas resources of Texas... sufficient to supply the normal needs of homes and industries for generations... will be forever destroyed in a few years or months.

Why this colossal waste? The floodgates of destruction were opened, unwittingly no doubt, by a law passed by the last regular session of the Texas Legislature. This law permits what is called "Stripping," or extracting the gasoline from Natural Gas, and then turning the gas loose into the air. The recovered product amounts to less than 3% of the energy of the gas... and over 97% is wasted!

This practice might be compared to killing cattle for their hoofs to make knife handles... and leaving the meat and hides to waste on the plains.

The effect of this wanton practice has alarmed thinking men and women in every part of Texas. They foresee that thousands of our industries which now depend upon Natural Gas for power may be crippled or utterly destroyed; that the industrial progress of Texas, now flowering into tremendous possibilities, may be stopped; that $60,000,000 worth of gas burning equipment now used in the homes of Texas may be rendered useless; that the matchless convenience and economy of Natural Gas as a fuel may be forever lost.

Full details of what is happening to the priceless Natural Gas resources of Texas should be known to every one who has the interest of his community and state at heart. The story can be told only in a booklet... and a free copy of this booklet will be sent on request. Get the full story... and then be guided by your judgment!

NEW POLITICAL WIND BLOWING IN FAR WEST

LEFTIST CAMPAIGNS BEING WAGED IN SEVEN STATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Swirling political currents from which may unfold a newer new deal representing a sharp thrust to the left move over the far west as 1934 campaigns near their climax.

Strongest in California, these political eddies converge about the effort of Upton Sinclair, democratic nominee and erstwhile socialist, to wrest the governorship from acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, republican, on a program to "end poverty in California."

In Oregon, too, the currents are felt. There Peter Zimmerman, leftist farmer and legislator, described by his opponents as an "ultra-radical," seeks to become governor. Contests of lesser importance in other states are fanned by this new political west wind.

A kaleidoscope of issues, with the administration policies painted in a variety of hues, has been thrust before the electorate. Higher tariffs for products of the farm and mine, old age pensions, balanced state budgets, cash payment of the soldiers bonus and development of natural resources are some of the subjects on which the various state campaigns are being waged.

Five United States senatorships are at stake in the seven far western states. Incumbents are asking another term except in Washington where Senator C. C. Dill, democrat, voluntarily stepped down.

Sinclair Carries On—Virtually re-elected last week by the national administration, short of the support of many state democratic leaders, encompassed by charges of opportunism and destruction on against requests that he withdraw. The most recent of these came from Milen Dempster, socialist candidate for governor.

Contending against Sinclair and Merriam in the most bitter gubernatorial contest in many years is Raymond L. Height, commonwealth and progressive nominee. He has appealed for support as a fusion candidate.

With the nominal sons of the two major parties and the two others tucked under his arm, U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson will be returned to the senate without so much as making a campaign speech. Twenty representatives to congress will be elected by the golden bear state. All but two incumbents seek re-election.

Washington voters have focused their interest on the fight of two comparatively young men for the senatorship held by Dill. Administration policies are championed by L. B. Schwellenbach, democratic nominee, and assailed by Reno Odlin, republican. Six national representatives will be elected, with all democratic incumbents asking another term.

Oregon In Turmoil—Oregon's turbulent campaign centers in the governor contest. Zimmerman, self-styled "fighting progressive," is opposed by Charles H. Martin, retired army officer, former congressman and democrat, and Joe E. Dunne, republican. Martin has backed up the administration. Dunne has urged a pay-as-you-go recovery, and Zimmerman has thrown down the challenge for a "workless" program with a state bank, a new old age pension and governmental economy. Three congressmen will be elected.

The governor contest also holds chief interest in Idaho, with Senator William E. Borah turning on the political heat in the effort of the republicans to elect Frank L. Stephan to the state executive chair. Stephan is opposed by C. Ben Ross, democratic incumbent who seeks a third term.

Silver Is Issue—Silver is the major issue in Nevada. A three-way fight finds acting Governor Morley Griswold, republican, opposed by Richard Kirman, democrat and a banker, and by State Senator L. C. Brannon, independent. Senator Key Pittman, democrat, stands on his record, opposed by George W. Malone, state engineer, who urges mandatory legislation for the white metal.

Asked to re-elect U. S. Senator Henry F. Ashurst, Governor B. B. McMur and Representative Isabella Greenway, all democrats, Arizona insist in a listless campaign. The distressed condition of the copper industry provides the only live issue.

Ashurst, a senator for 22 years, is opposed by Col. J. E. Thompson, republican, Arizona, who like Ashurst is entrenched with the copper interests, faces Thomas Maddock, republican. Mrs. Greenway's opponent is Hoyal A. Smith, veteran copper mine operator, who charges the incumbent with an effort on foreign copper which all republican candidates are urging.

Nazi Churchman Resigns Offices—BERLIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Dr. August Jaeger, under Nazi party pressure, today resigned all church offices.

When Dr. Jaeger resigned Oct. 26 as commissioner for protestant churches in Prussia he gave up his church-political functions but retained the office of legal counselor to the church cabinet.

Today's resignations completely eliminated him from the cabinet of Reichsbishop Ludwig Mueller. Bishops Hans Meiser and Theofil Wurm, of the opposition, have been invited to meet later today for a conference with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, but the churchmen regard their mission merely as an occasion for giving Hitler information and not one of negotiation.

Four Pardons Are Granted by 'Ma'—AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Three full pardons and one conditional pardon were issued yesterday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Full pardons were granted Bob Love, convicted of robbing a county in March, 1934, of violating the liquor law and sentenced to two years; B. G. Richards, Grimes county, February, 1931, assault to murder, three years and J. F. Lacy, Henderson county, June, 1933, robbery by assault, five years.

KIMES SEEKS PAROLE FROM ALFALFA BILL

BANDIT IS COMPLETELY REFORMED, SAYS HIS LAWYER

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30 (AP)—Matt Kimes, bandit and outlaw of several years ago, was free on parole in Oklahoma City today, the first time in seven years he enjoyed freedom outside state prison except once two years ago when he was permitted to attend his sister's funeral.

Kimes today, providing Governor William H. Murray will receive him, was scheduled to appear personally before the governor and make a plea for a parole.

Kimes' freedom is for three days only and he is accompanied on his travels by Prison Guard W. C. Turner.

Kimes was given two life sentences for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Perry Chuculate, of Sallisaw, and Marshal W. J. McAnally of Beggs. The recent declaration of his attorney, S. J. White, that he was applying for a parole for the bandit, brought a storm of protest from peace officers of the state.

White has maintained that Kimes was sentenced to prison while still a youth and that seven years, three in solitary confinement have resulted in his complete reformation.

A. N. Boatman of Okmulgee, who prosecuted Kimes in the McAnally slaying, declared that White was wrong. Kimes, released as he believed he could make a lot of money by putting the erstwhile bandit "on the stage and in motion pictures."

Jones Says 'Can,' Giannini 'Can't' In Loan Quarrel

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Chairman Jesse Jones, of the Reconstruction Corporation and A. P. Giannini, California banker, got into one of those "you can" and "you can't" arguments today.

Giannini, chairman of the board of the Bank of America, was a guest at Jones' press conference. He told the newspapermen that of 600 applications for industrial loans which his bank had forwarded to the Federal Reserve bank, only one had been accepted.

Jones turned to Giannini and asked if they were good loans.

"Yes," said the banker.

"Then," said the chairman, "why don't you make them?"

"They are capital loans," the banker explained, "and not suitable."

"Yes they are," the chairman insisted. "You can work them out on an installment basis just the way you have handled mortgages."

"No," the banker reiterated, "it can't be done and I'll send you the list so that you can pass on them yourself."

Jones who is chairman of the National Bank of Commerce at Houston, Texas, explained that the RFC is trying to get banks to take care of these industrial loans.

"But," Giannini said, "how about the National Bank of Commerce? Why don't you make some of these loans?"

Jones threw up his hands.

the purpose of protecting the workers in the exercise of their right to organize and bargain collectively.

Mayor Harry L. Davis of Cleveland denied Harford's charge that the company got protection.

Other pressing problems anxiously watched by the government were:

1. The code for the giant automobile industry expires Saturday. The A. F. of L. driving to organize the industry, seeks to have the code amended to provide higher pay a 30-hour week and representation on the code authority for auto workers.

2. Strike threats hung over the textile labor board as it drove to investigate 300 complaints that mills discriminate against workers who took part in the great strike recently.

3. The meat cutters union in Milwaukee said it would call butchers of five stores of the E. G. Shinnery company out on strike today. A. & P. stores in Milwaukee already are involved.

4. Produce grew scarce in Milwaukee as striking truck drivers threatened picket lines and halted almost all greens and fruits. The directors of the regional labor board sought peace.

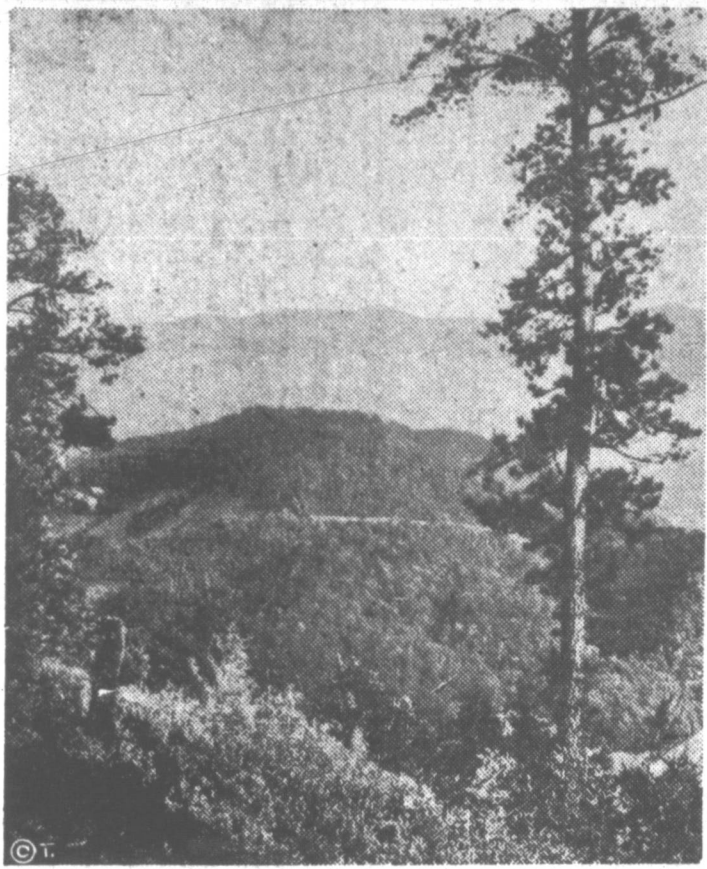

5. Owners of fishing vessels and spokesmen for 5,000 union fishermen agreed to meet today in Boston to discuss peace in a strike that has festered the price of seafood 100 per cent. A settlement appeared likely.

6. Leaders of a silk and rayon union in the east drafted modified proposals to employers in the hope 20,000 persons might go back to work.

North Carolina seasonal apple crop of 330,000 bushels is 37 per cent less than the production of 1933, a state agricultural department survey shows.

Scene From the Great Smoky Mt. Region to Grace Stamp

Where Daniel Boone killed a "bar" in 1760; where mountain folk live the same as they did three centuries ago in spite of the proximity to large cities—that's the tree-covered, misty Mt. Le Conte in the Great Smoky National Park dividing North Carolina and Tennessee. The above view of Mt. Le Conte, over a mile high, will adorn one of series of national park stamps to be issued by the Postoffice Department.

Steel Frame For Texas Observatory Already Completed

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 (AP)—Work on the McDonald observatory at Mount Locke is proceeding rapidly. W. M. Dornberger, acting supervising architect announces.

The steel frame for the dome and the first of several residences have been completed. Dr. Franklin Roach, formerly of the Perkins observatory Ohio Wesleyan college, will occupy the cottage temporarily.

When completed the dome will be sixty feet in diameter and will house an eighty inch telescope now being made. This telescope will be ready for use in December, 1935, it is estimated.

The observatory is being built with money bequeathed by the late W. J. McDonald, banker of Paris, to the University of Texas. There is a working agreement with the University of Chicago.

Woman Is Sheriff Of Dickens County

DICKENS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Directing the hunt for Virgil Stalcup and Clarence Brown, escaped killers of Sheriff W. B. Arthur today was the slain sheriff's widow, appointed by the commissioners court to fill the unexpired term of her husband.

Until January 1 Mrs. Arthur will head the sheriff's office, and is aiding scores of West Texas officers in scouring the plains for the killer pair, who escaped in Sheriff Arthur's automobile Saturday after he had been killed in the jail with his own gun.

Several write-in candidates have announced for the November 6 general election, including John Koonsman, who was defeated by Arthur, and George Sloan, a Spur winner. If Arthur's name, on the ballot, receives a plurality in the general election, the commissioners court will appoint a sheriff to serve the next two years. Alton B. Chapman, county attorney, said.

Immediately after funeral services for the sheriff had been held, with 5,000 persons, including all inmates of the jail, in attendance, the large posse swung back into the search for Stalcup and Brown. They searched the section near Plainview after reports had been made that an automobile, believed to have contained the two fugitives, was seen west of town.

SAYERS HEADS FHA

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30 (AP)—Sam R. Sayers, Fort Worth attorney, today prepared to assume his new duties as West Texas director of the federal housing administration. He succeeds Robert A. Stuart, named deputy to T. B. Yarbough, newly appointed state director. Both state and West Texas headquarters will be maintained at Fort Worth for the purpose of carrying out the second phase of the national housing act—that of borrowing money for construction of new homes and buildings.

Ninety-eight per cent of the cities of California have zoning ordinances.

in a beer tavern near here. The desperate Dillinger, according to the information given Barce, insisted that members of his mob should take him from the jail by force but this was vetoed by his attorney.

The assistant attorney general has indicated the conspirators then approached Baker and through him arranged for the delivery to Dillinger of blue prints of the jail so that the desperado might arrange his escape. Baker, according to Barce, received $1,800 for furnishing the blue prints although the sum of $3,000 had been guaranteed.

Three Prominent Methodists Hurt

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Three prominent Methodists, one a presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district and another a Dallas pastor, remained in serious conditions today after an automobile accident near here.

Dr. W. T. Whiteside, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district, received a fractured leg, his wife a fractured pelvis and other injuries and the Rev. O. S. Thomas, 84, of Dallas body injuries, when the machine in which they rode overturned on the Dallas-Wichita Falls highway.

Rev. Thomas was critically injured. They were returning from the north Texas conference of the church at Dallas.

TICKETS DRAWN

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 30 (AP)—The draw for the Irish Free State hospital sweepstakes was completed today when the last of the 100 pounds (about $500) cash consolation prizes was taken from the drum. Two thousand of these prizes were distributed. Of these, ticket holders in the United States received 587, in Great Britain 1,043, in the Irish Free State 112, and in the rest of the world 258.

A summary showed 17,292 predatory animals killed in Webb county, Texas, alone during the past three years.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The stock market today was a creeping affair. While scattered specialties were taken in hand for sizeable advances, the list, as a whole, was extremely narrow. Merchandising issues were in demand, but there were also a few soft spots. The close was fairly steady. Transfers approximated 410,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30 (AP)—The market was quiet but steady all morning. Some trade buying and covering by shorts caused price to improve gradually until 12:30 p.m. when it was 12.25, March to 12.33 and May to 12.39, or 5 to 6 points over the close of yesterday.

Near noon prices eased off 1 point, but the undertone of the market continued steady.

A bond election is being held in Dallas today to determine if $3,000,000 in bonds will be voted as a part of that city's cash contribution to the cause.

A protest against any state appropriation for the Centennial was filed with the committee by R. L. Young, Sr., of Abilene. The petition, signed by 511 citizens of Abilene, declared the cost of the Centennial should be borne by those who would benefit financially from it.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson dropped the role of official spokesman for the administration to appear before the committee as a private citizen to urge the Centennial appropriation.

Ferguson Shames Group

Ferguson told the utilities to "call off your dogs" and pleaded with them to "stop talking figures and get behind this Centennial."

"The purpose of the Centennial is not to honor ourselves but to honor those who freed Texas," Ferguson said. "It is unfair to talk about this tax as you would an ordinary policy of taxation. It is a temporary tax for a specific purpose."

Voters Awaiting Court Decision In California

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30 (AP)—The right of thousands of persons to vote next Tuesday in Los Angeles—stronghold of Upton Sinclair's "epic" fight for the governor—rested today with the California supreme court.

The decision which Chief Justice William H. Waste said would be made today, will determine whether the superior court may disfranchise nearly 25,000 persons alleged to have been illegally registered.

Sinclair supporters blame the so-called "purging" of the rolls on the camp of acting Governor Frank P. Merriam, his republican opponent. Attorney General U. S. Webb, whose office brought the proceedings, denied that Merriam supporters were responsible.

got to say whether you are for a Centennial or against it and must quit saying you are for it as long as you are not taxed. It is not going to cost much and it isn't going to hurt you.

"I'm for it because it will bring at least $50,000,000 into Texas at a time when we need it because of the drought and the depression; it will bring ten million people to Texas that never would come unless we extend them an invitation. Stop this foolishness about 'figures. I think it is a shame to fight the Centennial. Don't be niggardly with our patriotic obligations. Five million dollars isn't so much. For the six million people in Texas it is just six-bits each."
