Chinese Spurn Cease-Fire Efforts of United Nations

TOKYO —(P)— Red China today spurned a United Nations cease-fire committee's efforts to stop the shooting in Korea. Chou En-lai, premier and foreign minister, broadcast a six-point statement over the Peiping radio, rejecting the three-man committee's proposal as "unlawful" because the Red Chinese did not participate in its formation at the UN.

Pampa Gets Dial As Rates Boosted

Pampa will have dial telephone service, and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. will get a rate increase of 80 percent across the board now — and an additional increase when the dials start operating.

Dear Santa:

Dear Santa, I am a little boy three years old. Will you please bring me a tricycle, a robe and a telephone. Please do not forget my little cousins. We will be at my grandmother's house at Mayfield. Donald Hicks.

Dear Santa Claus, I am a little boy almost 6 years old and for Christmas I would like to have an electric train and a set of tinker toys. Please bring my mommy and daddy something nice, too. Thank you, Kayo Fulgham.

Dear Santa Claus, I am a little girl 4 years old and for Christmas I would like to have a doll and doll buggy, also some clothes for my dolly. We are visiting our grandparents in Pampa and hope you will not miss us. I would also like some candy and fruit in my stockings. Thank you, Myra Sue Fulgham.

New Offensive Feared as Chou Rejects Withdrawal

Officials Confirm PAAF Reactivation

"Pampans can make their plans for next year to include the reactivation of Pampa Army Air Field," said Rep. Ben Guill yesterday. Guill arrived home Tuesday for the Christmas holidays.

"I talked with high officials in Washington Saturday," said Guill, "and they informed me Pampa Army Air Field would, in all probability, be reactivated within the next six months to a year. With the Air Force due to expand in an all-out effort after the first of the year, all the facilities available will be needed, and this includes PAAF."

Early this year a committee from the chamber of commerce visited Washington to present the request of Pampa to reactivate PAAF to the proper officials in person. The group took with it an excellent brochure of PAAF and its present condition. They returned home with assurances from high authorities that PAAF would be kept at the top of the list when reactivation of Air Force facilities began.

Guill said that the statement concerning the appropriation of $37,035,000 for the Amrillo Air Base was completely without authorization, a check with officials in Washington showed yesterday, although, he said it is probably the truth.

Home-for-Christmas Rush May Strand Mobilization

WASHINGTON —(P)— Caught in a home-for-Christmas exodus, a major portion of President Truman's emergency mobilization legislation appeared stranded today until at least Jan. 1.

The holiday jam of absenteeism caused House leaders to sidetrack action on bills to (1) give the President wider powers to speed the mobilization effort and (2) to authorize union shop agreements by railway labor.

Defense Bill Okay Readied

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Senate apparently was ready to give swift approval to a bill setting up a civil defense administration with potentially vast power over the lives of millions of Americans.

The program envisages an outlay of $3,100,000,000 for civil defense over a three-year period, with 50 percent financed by the federal government and the remainder by state and local governments.

Post Office to Stay Open Sunday

The parcel post window at the post office will remain open Saturday until 8 p. m. Packages may be mailed or received.

The window will be open for one hour Sunday from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. for persons to call for packages for which they have received notices either in their post office boxes or at their homes.

Pampa Gets Dial As Rates Boosted

Pampa will have dial telephone service, and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. will get a rate increase of 80 percent across the board now — and an additional increase when the dials start operating.

Thus, peace came to the telephone war that raged for more than 18 months at 4:15 p. m. Thursday in the City Commission room when the citizens committee unanimously recommended the city meet a telephone company counter proposal put to Mayor C. A. Huff Thursday morning.

Attacks May Come On Christmas Eve

Officials Confirm PAAF Reactivation

TOKYO —(P)— Red China rejected today the United Nations' repeated appeals to negotiate for a cease-fire in Korea.

It could mean war to the bitter end unless other means for peace can be found.

The Peiping radio broadcast the statement of rejection by Premier Chou En-lai.

Navy Plans Jumbo-Sized Air Carrier

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Navy is planning another jumbo size aircraft carrier.

But it will not be quite as large as the huge flush-deck carrier "United States" which was abandoned in the keel-laying stage by order of former Secretary of Defense Johnson.

OFFENSIVE

MacArthur's summary said enemy units in the Ichon-Kunhwachon and Yonchon area, almost in the dead center of the peninsula, have been probing United Nations lines there for eight days.

The general said signs of an offensive were seen in the increasing activity in the vicinity of Whachon, north of Chunchon, and the positions of enemy forces totalling possibly three corps as a forward echelon.

One or possibly two rebuilt North Korean corps are in the immediate area, plus one Chinese Communist Army corps that appears to have been concentrating there.

The Chinese forces, General MacArthur said, have made a slow but definitive deployment south to a general East-West line through Sariwon.

A series of skirmishes between UN and Communist forces southwest of Yonchon continued after midnight Thursday. All were broken off after brief fighting.

The Communist radio in P'yongyang resumed operations for the first time since allied forces chased the Reds out of the ancient city Nov. 20.

SINGAPORE — (AP) — The present trade boom sweeping Malaysia together with the shortage of new cars coming into this country is bringing higher prices for second-hand cars.

PAMPA GETS

Ernest added that "rough engineering" on the system has been on the drawing board but that the detailed blueprint will soon be under way.

The company will start immediately to take care of the 400 delayed telephone applications.

Some of those 400, however, will not be installed before late spring — this because phones are in sections of the city where new cable will have to be strung.

Commenting on the decision, Ernest said, "We are very happy that an agreement is being reached on a problem that has been before us for over 18 months.

In figures this is what will happen to the telephone rates: PRESENT RATES: business, $5; one-party residence, $2.50; two-party residence, $3; business extension, $1; residence extension, $1.

NEW RATE: the 50 percent hike: business $7.50; one-party residence, $3.75; two-party residence, $4.50; business extension (a new service) $2.50; residence extension, $1.50.

DIAL RATE: business, $9; one-party residence, $4.25; two-party residence, $5.00; four-party residence, $3; business extension, $1.50; residence extension, $1.

The commission will meet next week to frame the ordinance with City Attorney Bob Gordon and then pass it, probably effective with the January, 1951 billings.

CHINESE

The gist of Chou's six points, as translated in Tokyo: 1. The three-man cease-fire committee is unlawful because the Chinese Communist government did not consent to participate in the United Nations vote calling for its formation.

2. The Communist Chinese government refused our peace suggestions and in early October U.S. troops crossed the 38th Parallel thus erasing this political boundary.

Again at the end of November the Chinese Reds suggested to the UN Security Council that foreign troops leave Korea, but that body, dominated by the U.S., refused to accept the suggestion.

3. The U.S. immediately approved the UN cease-fire proposal because the Americans want time to set up their troops and supplies so they can hold their battle lines of aggression.

MOBILIZATION

And Congress members found some Christmas cheer in defense mobilization Charles E. Wilson's prediction that munitions production will roll at a swift pace in 1951.

Wilson made the forecast late yesterday to a Senate-House "watchdog" committee on defense production. He did not specify just which World War II munitions figures he had in mind, nor did he estimate in any detail how much production he expects next year.

His forecast, however, was termed by Senator Caphart (R-Ind.) "the most cheering news I've heard in a long while."

In other mobilization-connected developments: 1. The Wage Stabilization Board announced last night that it had reached a unanimous agreement on the question of wage controls over 1,000,000 auto workers.

2. Alan Valentine, chief of the Economic Stabilization Administration, (ESA) said his organization is working on a program to stabilize meat prices.

Wilson, the mobilization chief, went before the "watchdog" committee a few hours after being sworn into office at a White House ceremony. He was accompanied by the capitol by Valentine and Michael V. DiSalle, price administrator.

The committee expressed its thanks also to the various civic clubs, merchants and business people who contributed money toward the Christmas activity fund and to all others who assisted in any way in making the program possible.

Residents of the Pampa area have shown their appreciation by keeping the area around the park crowded nightly with their visits to the Nativity scenes.

The scenes will remain lighted each day until 10:30 p. m. throughout the Christmas season.

DEFENSE BILL

(Continued from Page 1) Wednesday. Kefauver said the two houses would be in "substantial agreement" and a conference would start out the first differences quickly.

Kefauver and others want the legislation enacted into law this month so the state legislature meeting next month can say their programs to the federal plan.

The bill provides that the administrator may designate critical target areas in such states. Then, in turn, form the basis for the size of the federal dollar-for-dollar contribution to states for bomb shelters.

Kefauver said he understood an amendment would be offered to say more definitely when the emergency powers of the administrator could be put into effect.

These powers allow the civil defense head to seize property and take a number of other extraordinary steps in time of emergency such as an atomic attack.

Millard Caldwell, Jr., present civil defense administrator in the temporary agency which President Truman set up by executive order, is expected to head the new administration. His appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Kirk Claims Stalin Well

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Alan G. Kirk, ambassador to Russia, says that as far as he knows Premier Stalin is "strong, active and alert."

But Kirk hastens to add, he hasn't seen Stalin since last June and then only at a distance during a Soviet ceremony.

The Russian leader looked as well then, Kirk says; as he did about a year earlier during a face-to-face meeting at the Kremlin. That's the only audience Kirk has had with Stalin since he went to Moscow 18 months ago.

As a matter of fact, except for four Soviet guards, Kirk told reporters after a White House call, he sees little of the Russian people.

"Russians are not allowed to come to the embassy, so there's no contact," he said.

But those four Russian guards? Whether Kirk goes to a hotel or to a soccer game, they pick him up at the embassy gate and tag along.

Sometimes, Kirk said, he shares cigarettes with them.

But, "don't get the idea I'm buddies with those guys."

Aside from the guards, who are supposed to be on the job same proportions. Then we concentrated on the isotopes that were known to slip through other for "protection," Kirk encounters other restrictions living in Moscow. For example he can only go about 30 miles outside the city without special permit and then only on a route arranged by the Soviets.

Kirk is in Washington for talks with President Truman and the State Department. It's his first trip home since he went to Moscow in 1949. He said he expects to return in January but will see Mr. Truman again before leaving.

Norma Parrish Is Editorial Winner

PANHANDLE — (Special) — Norma Parrish, sports editor of the Panther Scream and editor of the Lair, placed fourth in the statewide contest sponsored by the Texas High School Press Association in Denton.

There were 100 or more contestants in various events. Norma won in editorial writing.

Five students, Billie Harbison, Nellie Osborne, Gloria Young, LeRoy Beiderwell, and Leonard Mosley, and their sponsor, Miss Hare, attended the annual journalism convention.

NAMED FOR ADMIRAL
MIAMI — (AP) — A War Admiral colt, now at Hialeah, has been named "Bull Halsey," after the hard-bitten Naval officer. The horse which will make its first start early in 1951, is out of the mare Gallawood and was purchased for $22,000 by Lawrence Lewis at the Keeneland Sales last summer. The name was selected following correspondence with the fighting admiral.

The valley of the Red River of the North slopes only one foot per mile from sides to center and south to north.

I want you to know I'm here. I just got in and I'm going out for coffee... but I'll return in time for lunch.

Henry's Christmas Tree Gives Him That Yuletide Spirit

By HENRY McEMORE
I wish you could see my Christmas tree.

I'll go further than that — I wish I could see it myself.

Its lights have gone out, which hardly constitutes news, being as its light has been on and off, on and off, ever since I risked my neck to drape it with bulbs from its tree scalp to its tree instep.

When I want to see it now I have to go to the kitchen, open the door of the cabinet under the sink, root through furniture polish, floor wax, dust cloths, and all the other items one needs in case of a disaster, until I reach the family flashlight.

You see, the flashlight is the only bit of electrical equipment that is working since we put up the Christmas tree.

The first thing to go was the waffle iron. That was when I put a lighted star on top of the tree.

Then the dishwasher went out in protest when I draped an angel over a bough.

I'll go further than that — I'll say one thing — that tree really gave us the Christmas spirit, because once we were outside of its glow we were blind as moles, and had to grope our way.

So we spent all of our time under the tree. I suppose Jean holds the distinction of being the first woman ever to get a tan from a Christmas tree. And I am quite sure that I am the only man ever to get freckled from the red, green, white and blue lights of a Santa Claus bush.

You understand, of course, that when I speak of the lighted tree I was speaking of the tree of a few days ago.

As I said earlier, it is now dark and dismal.

Not a light on it works. I don't know why the bulbs quit. Maybe out of sympathy for the other lights in the house. Or maybe because we have worked them for eight years in a row and they are tired and want to get bulb old age security.

Don't think that I haven't tried to get the Christmas tree bulbs to work. One thing I have used every bit of knowledge that I have of electricity.

I have shaken them until their teeth rattled. I have wrapped the wires with enough bicycle tape to take care of the Tour de France. I have even punched the bulbs on their noses, hoping to make them show one spark of manhood.

No dice.

One thing is that the Christmas tree is sulking because they are draped around the shoulders of a bought tree, and not a tree that was stolen from the woods.

All the trees they have known in the past were chopped down by me, on the quiet, on another man's land, when no one was looking. They came into the house still smelling of the woods.

The one I have now was bought in a store, paid for at a cash register, and probably smells of high octane from taxis and buses.

Whatever the reason, we have no lights, and the waffle iron has gone back to mama.

Guy Hardin Is Jaycee Head At Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Guy Hardin is the new president of the Shamrock Junior Chamber of Commerce. Hardin, chosen last Tuesday at the regular meeting, succeeds Jack Stroup.

Jimmy Tallant supplants Harry Clay as first vice president; Robert Laycock becomes second vice president, replacing LeRoy Wall; Darce Foshee is new secretary, succeeding Bill Howe; while Dale Gunnells succeeds Thurman Rives, treasurer.

Members elected to the board of directors for 1951 are Bill Fowler, Baxter Purcell, Jack Sims, Paul Dodgen, Earl Wood, and Bob Purcell. J. W. Blake was chosen to serve another term on the board.

Jaycees will journey to Perryton Tuesday to present the Gallop Gallop to the Jaycees there. For the services, they have secured the assistance of David Rasco of Amarillo, war reporter.

NEW GE HEAD — Ralph J. Cordner of New York, above, is the new president of the General Electric Co., succeeding Charles E. Wilson, who resigned to head the government's new Defense Mobilization Board. Cordner has been with GE for 24 years and has been executive vice president since 1949.

Atomic Cocktail Is 'Undeveloped' By Two Scientists

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. — (AP) — Two young scientists concocted an "Atomic Cocktail" here a month or so ago and then set about trying to take the fire out of it.

From that start they have developed a simple device, costing $2.50, which offers hope of making water supplies fit for use after an atomic bomb attack.

The development was announced by Dr. K. Z. Morgan, director of the Health Physics Division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The laboratory is the Atomic Energy Commission's chief research center here.

Credited with the development were A. H. Emmons and Robert A. Lauderdale.

Emmons described their procedure this way:

"We studied isotopes present after an atomic explosion and made an atomic cocktail of the types of decontamination units."

The result of their labor is a unit of two cylinders containing six layers of absorbents through which radio-active liquids pass.

Dr. Morgan said the device will "make fit for use water which is thousands of times more radioactive than the maximum tolerance" considered safe for human consumption.

Loss from death or injury of livestock in transit comes to nearly $25,000,000 a year in the U.S.

Rotary Hears Dr. Carter

Dr. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Wednesday presented the annual Christmas program for Pampa Rotary during the club's weekly noon luncheon.

"Will Christmas Ever Come?" was the title used for his address. He described Christmas as "a spirit to us and in this world of today we need a little of hope. He (Christ) is the only one who can provide that Star."

Prior to Dr. Carter's talk Mrs. Mary Hyatt, accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane at the piano sang three Christmas songs.

Club President Fred Neisager presented Christmas gifts to Mrs. Irvin Cole for providing the club's piano music each week and to Mrs. Sandy for preparing the weekly meals.

Thailand Expects Heavy Rice Crop

BANGKOK — (AP) — Thailand expects a good rice crop in 1951. The government is basing national income next year upon an estimated rice export of 800,000 tons.

But Phra Chuang Kasetsilpakarn, minister of agriculture, says there is every indication the 1951 crop would equal that of 1950 and should produce 1,200,000 tons for export.

There were earlier forecasts of a big crop. Phra Chuang said floods in northeastern provinces had damaged only lowland rice while the yield in hill rice is expected to be high.

The minister predicted harvests in the central plain and northern provinces will be "very good."

Aid to Yugoslavia Getting Publicity

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — American food relief shipments to hungry Yugoslavia are receiving full publicity in the Communist government's controlled press. In this winter of hardship following the country's worst drought in many years, the man-in-the-street knows from where his help comes.

The first food ship to arrive from the U.S. was greeted at the port of Rijeka (Plume) by Luba Babic, deputy chairman of the Yugoslav economic council, and U.S. Ambassador George Allen. Speeches of both remarking on America's prompt response to Yugoslavia's plea for aid were front-paged in the Belgrade press.

Brave Male Finds Perfume Isn't So Alluring After All

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) —

Now I can tell you that I wear perfume. Or at least I wore it one afternoon I haven't yet acquired the habit permanently, but I wanted to test out some claims war veterans and possess a wife put forth by the perfume people. No one has ever had the slightest doubts about my masculinity.

through a tunnel at the time and the light was bad.

When we got out of the tunnel, she had returned to reading the racing form. She didn't look my way again the whole trip. I can offer three explanations for that: (1) the wind was off; (2) the gas fumes killed my smell; or (3) she had found a winner.

But it is possible, of course, that she had turned around because my smell excited her. I'll give the perfume that much. It isn't often that strange hazel-eyed ladies in plaid dresses turn around in the bus to look at me. Even if she did turn back again, it was a thrilling moment, and I'll cherish it.

But other than that one brief encounter, nothing happened that made me think my allure had increased any.

At one point I went into a soda fountain for a cherry smash. A very attractive brunette was parked on the next stool. I acted nonchalant, devoting all my attention to making designs on the counter with a wet straw. So I was quite surprised when she suddenly sniffed at me. Then she spoke.

"Look, bud," she said, "you have a kind face. Maybe your best friends ain't told you, so I will. Look, you should oughta take a hot shower every day. Here, kid, here's a dime. Go buy a cake of soap."

I took the dime, of course. And I remembered that I'd been told the stuff works best on blondes. I went on a blonde-hunting safari. Outside a model agency, I found plenty of them. But they didn't even give me a smell, until finally a cute little thing pointed her nostrils my way.

"Hey, you," she said, with a friendly grin. "I think something's leaking."

I assured her nothing was leaking. All she smelled was pure, unadulterated, masculine me. She mumbled some nonsense about the strange people one meets in New York and went her way.

But I don't feel discouraged. I kind of like the stuff. It has a nice, masculine smell. It's hard to put it in words, but the way I'd describe it is to say it's like a combination of one perfect rose and two used cigars.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

Scrooge wished everyone he saw a "merry Christmas," and topped things off by going to church.

Then he went to his nephew Fred's house. "It's I, Your Uncle Scrooge. I have come to dinner. Will you let me in, Fred?"

It was a wonderful party, wonderful games, wonderful music, wonderful happiness!

By CHARLES DICKENS

THE STORY: Sgt. Eddie Stinson's world is wiped out in action and the man realizes they are dead. When they find themselves in Westvillage, home town of Eddie's dog Duke can see them. But Eddie sees the swollen girl he'd overheard there. Margie Lou, who drives a bus. He goes to the bus terminal to find the lucky coin he had hidden when he drove the bus, and presently finds himself an unusual passenger of Margie Lou, who discovers the coin under the instrument panel.

XVIII
MARGIE LOU took her eyes off the road and gazed in sheer amazement at what she had in her hand. "I wonder how I ever happened to do that!"

"Look out!" warned Eddie. "You'll wrap this piece of junk around a telegraph pole."

"Thanks, mister," said Margie Lou, resuming her driving. "I was surprised by this thing I found under the panel there."

"It's a lucky coin." All at once it occurred to him that they were talking, just as if he were really there. "Gee, just as if he were really there. 'Gee, just as if he were really there.'"

"Sure. Why not?" Eddie couldn't explain why not. He was dumfounded by the suddenly bestowed gift of communication between himself and the object of his affections. "I guess it's because you got that lucky coin of mine in your hand," he decided.

"What do you mean, soldier, your lucky coin? How'd it get here?"

"Why I put it there. But that was a long time ago when I used to drive this same bus before I went into the Army."

Margie Lou laughed, a very nice laugh, too. "That's a funny idea but I kind of believe you at that. Here, you can have it back."

Eddie almost reached for it but he remembered in time. "No, thanks. I couldn't take it. That was truer than she could know. 'You keep it. Wear it on you ribbons, you don't on active service, but now there was a very respectable collection of bars. For a moment he admired them himself.

"Those tell where I've been," he explained. "I was in the South Seas quite a while."

Margie Lou started the bus. "Were you hurt?" she asked. "Uh-huh. That's why I'm home for a while."

"You look as if you were getting well all right. Anyway you weren't killed. That's something."

"Yeah, it's something else again. The ones who get killed are the lucky ones in some ways."

"That's a funny way to talk. Why would you say a thing like that?"

"Why—because—because it's true. I guess. You sort of know where you're at after you're dead. And you don't have to kill anybody any more, either."

MARGIE LOU laughed a little. "You talk as if you knew something about it. But you can't. Nobody does, unless they're dead themselves."

"That's right," Eddie laughed, too. "Nobody does, until then."

Margie Lou still had the lucky coin in her hand. "Sure you don't want this back, soldier?"

"No, I want you to wear it on you someplace, mobble on a string around your neck like us G.I.'s do with our dog-tags."

"I oughtn't to take it. I don't know you really at all."

"But you're going to," Eddie insisted eagerly. "Gee, I think you're—you're—well, you're nice. Maybe I could see you when you're off duty, Margie Lou."

"How did you know my name?" she asked, startled.

"Why—I guess maybe the starter called you that."

"No, he didn't."

"Somebody did," Eddie hurried over that one. "My name's Eddie—Eddie Engstrom."

"Oh. You're at the top of that list of service men in the bus station."

"Yeah. Now that we've been introduced, how about that date?" (To Be Continued)

Christmas Party Ended by Illness

EAGLE PASS, Tex. — (P) — The Christmas party at little Quemado Valley school ended in an unhappy dash for hospitals when 58 small children were apparently stricken with food poisoning.

None of the children were believed seriously ill, although all were held for observation.

Extra doctors sped here from as far as Del Rio, 56 miles away.

Quemado Valley is about 20 miles northwest of here near the Mexican border. It has no telephones.

M. J. Potts of Del Rio brought the first word of the children's illness when he passed through Quemado Valley enroute from Eagle Pass to his home.

He said the students began feeling ill shortly after refreshments were served to the group of children in the first three grades of the two-teacher school.

He said the refreshments included a drink made of a synthetic fruit extract to which fruit juices had been added. Potts said he understood the drink had been mixed in a tin bucket.

Potts said one small boy who had started walking home collapsed and was later found by the side of the road.

Mrs. L. D. Barker of Del Rio, one of the teachers at the school, was among those stricken.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Rush to Get Rid of Top Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The "bang-bang" technique is a great favorite with Hard Luck Joe. He bangs down all his top cards in the hope that something will become established. Somehow Joe uses this technique, spades, and Joe, playing the South hand, won with the queen. Joe could count eight tricks in top cards and decided that he could make the ninth trick if either clubs or diamonds broke.

He therefore took the ace and king of clubs and gave up a club trick.

West took the third round of clubs and quite properly refused to take his other established club. Instead he returned the ten of spades.

Joe won with the ace of spades and saw that he could no longer establish dummy's clubs. Therefore he went after the diamonds, banging down the ace and king and then leading a third round of the suit.

East gratefully took two diamond tricks and returned a heart. That was the end of poor Joe, since he had already lost three tricks and was bound to lose a heart and a club to West.

Joe could have made his contract if he had given up the first round of clubs. Later on he could take the ace and king of clubs and give up a second club trick to West. The king of spades would remain in dummy to cash the last club.

It could do no harm to lose the first club trick, since one club had to be given up in any case. The advantage of doing so was that South could then bring in a low card club trick even if the suit broke 4-2.

The Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico are estimated to be 200,000 years old and have not yet been completely explored. The deepest passage uncovered at present is 1150 feet under ground.

Harvester Basketeers Meet Westerners Here Tonight

Sports Round-Up

Lubbock Measured Pampa in Last Cage Outing, 41-39

Pampa's Harvester cage quintet meets the powerful Lubbock Westerners at 8 o'clock tonight in the junior high gym. The Westerners club is the only one to put a blemish mark on Pampa's cage season this year.

The Harvesters dropped a two-point decision to the visiting cagers last Saturday night when Fullerton hit a long field goal in the last few seconds of the game. The score was knotted 39-39 before Fullerton meshed his long field shot.

Pampa had won four straight games before running into Lubbock. They defeated Stratford twice, Spearman and Memphis. The Harvesters got back on the victory trail Tuesday night by dumping Spearman's Lynx, 48-35.

A bright spot in the Harvester camp is Busy Tarpley. The hustling cager has three games under his belt and two weeks of SEASON RECORD

Buck Football Team Honored

WHITE DEER (Special) — Members of the Bucks' football squad were honored at a banquet in the Skellytown cafeteria, under the sponsorship of the Dads Club. The boys, their dates, their mothers and fathers, and a number of fans were present.

D. V. Biggers, principal of the Skellytown school, was master of ceremonies. R. Y. Corder gave the invocation. Supt. Ray Vinsyard and Fred Mullings, principal of the high school, made short speeches.

Four members of the squad, Jerard Hunt, Ronald Mills, and Gene Hoskins, freshmen; and Donald Mills, a junior, were not present at the banquet.

After the introductions, Franklin Hussey presented Coaches Watson and Gibson with gift certificates from a Pampa clothing store.

Cage Tournament Opens in SA

(By The Associated Press)

Southwest Conference basketball teams get their first taste of tournament play this season tonight when Texas takes on Louisiana State and Southern Methodist meets Alabama at San Antonio.

The winners of tonight's games will tangle tomorrow night for the championship of the Express-News tournament, with the losers meeting for consolation honors.

Last night Arkansas' Razorbacks dropped a 46-41 decision to Mississippi in the only game scheduled.

Tonight, Texas Christian and Oklahoma City University play at Oklahoma City; Columbia and Rice meet at Houston and A&M plays Sam Houston State at Huntsville.

Mississippi came from behind a 12-point deficit in the last 13 minutes to lick Arkansas, which had rallied the night before to knock off the Rebels.

Arkansas' balanced play became erratic when D. L. Miller fouled out with 13 minutes to play and the Rebels started picking up. Miller's 15 points was high for Arkansas. Don Smith was a high for Mississippi with 15 points.

Alabama is favored to cop the tournament at San Antonio. The Southeastern Conference five and Southern Methodist play the second game of the doubleheader in the City School field house at Alamo Stadium.

Panhandle Glove Team Trains for Tourney Jan. 6

PANHANDLE (Special) — Thirty-two Panhandle High School candidates reported for glove workouts in the high school gym, preparing for the Shamrock tournament Jan. 6.

Panhandle's best prospect this year is Durward Lynch. The smooth-swinging clobber went to the finals in Amarillo and was Berger tournament champion last year.

Another strong contender is Jimmy Don Mitchell; the Panhandle puncher won his weight at the district level last year, and is expected to make another good showing this year.

Boyd Williams is boxing coach at Panhandle.

East, West Grid Stars Buckle Down to Training

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Grid stars from the East and the West buckle down to rigorous training today — just eight days from their clash in the 26th annual Shrine charity game here Dec. 30.

The two squads exchanged their final pre-game social pleasantries yesterday at a luncheon sponsored by the Shriners. Then they moved into their training camps — the East at Santa Clara and West at Stanford University — for twice-a-day workouts.

West Coaches Marchie Schwartz of Stanford, Howie Odell of Washington and Jess Neely of Rice put their charges through an afternoon drill at Stanford yesterday. Three gridstars attended to punting—Kyle Rote, Brad Umlauf of USC and SMU, Little All-America back from McMurry teachers.

The West is expected to rely heavily on the running of Wilford "Whizzer" White, scabback from Arizona State of Tempe, and fullback Rote.

Rote drew praise from Coach Schwartz, although the gridstar's mind may not have been exclusively on football — Mrs. Rote, in Dallas, is expecting their first offspring.

Highland Park Is Favored To Take Coyotes Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

Wichita Falls meets Highland Park at Dallas and Austin plays Baytown at Houston tomorrow in a Class AA schoolboy football semi-final round different in many ways from others of the 31 that have gone before.

For the first time in years there's not an undefeated, united team in the group. In fact Wichita Falls has four defeats on its record while Highland Park, Austin and Baytown each has lost one game and Baytown also has been tied.

Three teams that depend on running and one — Highland Park — that has to do its scoring by air fill the penultimate round.

Wichita Falls and Highland Park have met before this season. Highland Park won that game — a nonconference affair — 20-12. But there have been some changes made since that time.

Nevertheless, Highland Park is rated an even chance of again knocking over the Coyotes, who last year surged undefeated and united to the championship.

Baytown is a one-touchdown favorite over Austin although the team's records would indicate they are about even.

Individual stars shine like cold teeth for each game. Wichita Falls offers two climax runners — Ed Beach and Jim Seif. Highland Park has Malcolm Bowers, one of the finest passers in schoolboy history.

Baytown depends largely on the glittering runs of Tommy Brummett. Austin's leading ground-gainer is the brilliant Rodney Williams, who has rolled up 1,120 yards this season.

Each game starts at 2 o'clock and each is expected to attract a crowd of 15,000.

Here's how they look:
Highland Park 19, Wichita Falls 14.
Baytown 26, Austin 20.

Card Outfielder Walks off With Slugging Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals failed to finish in the first division for the first time in 12 years last season, but through no fault of Stanley Musial.

The great Redbird outfielder, generally rated the National League's No. 1 performer, not only paced all players in slugging statistics last season, but set a new league record with his performance.

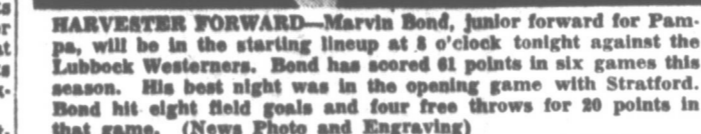

The four-time batting champion pulverized opposing pitchers for a .306 slugging mark to boost his nine-year major league figure to a mighty .500. This bettered the previous lifetime record of .477 held jointly by Rogers Hornsby and Johnny Mize.

Musial pounded out 337 total bases in 146 games, including 41 doubles, seven triples and 29 home runs. He scored 106 runs and batted in 109. Stan also drew 87 bases on balls and struck out only 36 times.

The official statistical figure, released yesterday, also showed why Eddie Stanky of the New York Giants ranked second in the most valuable player poll last month.

The fiery little second baseman reached base more often than any other National Leaguer last season. In addition to his 156 hits, Stanky coaxed 144 walks, was hit by a pitched ball 25 times and was safe on errors 44 times. That put him on base 318 in 123 games. Stanky wound up with a batting average of .300. It is the first time Stanky reached that figure in the majors, playing in 100 or more games. Stanky's walks and hit by pitched balls were high marks.

HARVESTER FORWARD—Marvin Bond, junior forward for Pampa, will be in the starting lineup at 8 o'clock tonight against the Lubbock Westerners. Bond has scored 91 points in six games this season. Sonny Boy West Dies From Injury Received in Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Little two-year-old Sharon West won't get the toy piano her daddy intended to buy her for Christmas.

Her daddy, Al (Sonny Boy) West, died last night in St. Clare's hospital, some 22 hours after he had been knocked out by Percy Bassett of Philadelphia, in a boxing bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

The 21-year-old West, a Negro lightweight from Washington, D. C., underwent two delicate brain operations and received three blood transfusions, but failed to regain consciousness and died at 7:59 p. m. (EST). He had been kept alive for several hours by artificial respiration.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, state's athletic commission physician, said West died of an intra-cerebral hemorrhage and a cerebral concussion. When he was knocked out West fell flat on his back and his head hit the canvas with a thud.

He did not respond to Nardiello's treatment and was carried from the ring on a stretcher and rushed to the hospital. He rallied after the first operation, but suffered a relapse and a second operation was ordered in the afternoon. Thereafter he was reported "stinking fast" and was not moved from the operating room.

Only a few hours before he entered the ring trainer Johnny Sullivan said West had talked of the Christmas gifts he had in mind to buy his family with his purse money, estimated at $1,000. He had his heart set on the toy piano for little Sharon who was sent to bed in the West Washington home last night without being told of her daddy's death.

The death was the third boxing fatality in the United States and the ninth in the world this year compared to 18 in 1949.

There will be an autopsy after which funeral services will be held in Washington.

Eight Shamrock Gridders Make All-Star Team

SHAMROCK (Special) — Eight Shamrock main-stringers were placed on the All District 2-A team, selected this week by coaches and players of the six schools in the loop.

They are: Vaughn Terry, senior end, whose defensive line-backing was a big factor in the Irish victories.

Van Pennington, sensational pass-catching end, who was as hot as the night was cold in snaring three TD passes against the McLean Tigers No. 2.

Dwayne Hager, big, 190 lb. tackle, of whom it was said by Levelland opponents in the Regional playoffs Dec. 1 at Amarillo: "You couldn't go around him or over him." He was a kickoff specialist.

Eugene Collinsworth, guard, who intercepted two passes for TD's and who was once this year named Player of the Week.

Mack Terry, guard, who was a defensive titan.

Billy York, center, who received more votes in the balloting than anyone except McLean's legendary ace, L. M. Watson, triple-threat titan.

Vernon Tarpley, ace running back and pass receiver, star punt and kick-off returner.

Donald Lea, fullback, repeater from the 1949 squad, whose ability to parlay pitch outs into sizable gains was a potent factor in the Irish rise to the conference crown.

The Irish were District 2-A champions in 1950, and went on to win the bi-district playoff with Healdorf of 1-A at Pampa, 20-6, but lost the Regional to Levelland, 34-14.

GRIDER MARRIED

CAMERON (AP) — Harold Riley, All-Southwest Conference end at Baylor University, and Miss Marjorie Denison of Cameron were married here yesterday.

Vineyard Elected Chairman of 2-A

PANHANDLE (Special) — District 2-A coaches and superintendents met in White Deer recently to plan the 1951 football schedule. Ray Vineyard, superintendent of school of White Deer, was elected district chairman.

Seven schools in this district are Clarendon, Panhandle, White Deer, McLean, Lefors, Wheeler, and Canadian. Before the recent change in ILPC classifications Panhandle, White Deer, Wheeler, and Canadian were Class B schools.

A conference schedule was arranged with each team having three games at home and three away. Conference play will begin Oct. 8 and end Nov. 18, 1951. Tentatively (the schedule does not include non-conference games which have not been arranged) the schedule for Panhandle reads: Oct. 15 — Clarendon, there; Oct. 22 — Lefors, there; Oct. 29 — Canadian, here; Oct. 29 — McLean, here; Nov. 2 — Wheeler, there; Nov. 9 — open; Nov. 16, White Deer.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and imbue for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Stewards today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Those who wish our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

CHRISTMAS IS PREMINENTLY A SEASON OF HAPPINESS. It is then we celebrate the birth of Jesus the Christ who is the supreme joy-giver. He declared: "I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly." We are all beneficiaries of His generosity. We can best honor Him by accepting His proffer, and following His example.

One big reason for the happiness which prevails at this glad some time of the year is the fact that people generally spend time and thought and treasure for the comfort, happiness, and welfare of others. Each seeks, not his own, but others' good. Thus we confirm His words: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Such Christlike attitude, in the exchange of gifts at this time of year, brings much happiness. Long ago a wise man wrote: "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty." Be sure to attend your church during this Glad some Season. A very Merry Christmas to all.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

It was a custom in Austria for singing groups of amateur actors to give plays in the mountain villages. As the organ in the little church at Oberndorf was broken and the mechanic from nearby Salzburg had parts all over the floor, a local shipowner consented for the annual Christmas play to be given at his home. And, of course, Father Joseph Mohr was invited to see the show.

The sincerity of the young actors touched the priest. After the play he went to the top of a hill that overlooked the tiny village. Alone, he pondered the wonders of the universe. It was a still, clear night. . . a silent night.

The next morning Mohr called at the home of Franz Gruber. Besides being schoolmaster, Gruber played the church organ. . . when it was in playing condition. Mohr handed Gruber a carol he had written. He might have it as a Christmas present. . . and shyly suggested that he try his hand at setting it to music.

That night, December 24, 1818, Father Mohr went to his little church for Christmas Eve services. The organ fixer was there with apologies for not having completed his job. Franz Gruber was there. . . with his guitar and a melody he had written for Mohr's carol. They were young men, the priest and the musician. . . 28 and 31 respectively. Neither had written a song before and, so far as is known, neither wrote another. Gruber called Mohr to his side. He plucked the strings of his guitar and the two men sang a new Christmas carol. The organ fixer memorized it. Back in Salzburg he sang it to the Strasser sisters. The famous concert singers added it to their collection of native mountain songs. . . and started it around the world.

Translated, English speaking countries know it as: Silent night, holy night. All is calm, all is bright. Round yon Virgin Mother and Child, Holy Infant so tender and mild, Sleep in heavenly peace.

Silent night, holy night, Darkness flies, all is light, Shepherds hear the angels sing, "Alleluia! hail the King! Christ the Savior is born."

Silent night, holy night, Guiding star, lend thy light; See the eastern wise men bring Gifts and homage to our King; Christ the Savior is born.

Silent night, holy night, Wondrous star, lend thy light; With the angels let us sing "Alleluia to our King! Christ the Savior is born."

WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLET

NEA Staff Writer

Five women were standing at a bus stop in broad daylight when a motorist, looking for a certain street, pulled up to the curb, rolled down the car window and leaned his head out to ask directions.

All five women haughtily turned their backs on him before he could open his mouth. The man who was telling the story said: "What's the matter with women, anyway, that they're so sure every man is a masher?"

And other men in the group went on to say that it's getting so a man hesitates to hold open a heavy door for a strange woman, or pick up a dropped parcel for one, or do any other little courtesies because the reward is more likely to be a glare than a gracious "Thank you."

If we don't look out, the men are going to give up trying to be gentlemanly and courteous. And you can't blame them if

HOSTILE GLANCE IS REWARD FOR COURTESY

To have a woman glare at you with hostile or suspicious eyes just because you've done her a small courtesy or asked for a bit of information as one human being asking help of another must be pretty discouraging.

Let that happen to a man a few times, and he's sure to think women as a group are an unfriendly, suspicious, ungrateful lot.

It's all so silly, too. Any grown woman ought to know how to take care of herself well enough so that she doesn't have to treat every strange man with obvious suspicion and distrust.

Maybe she thinks she is being a "lady" when she acts like that. But a real lady is gracious in even her slightest encounters with others, whether they are strangers or not.

The Old Story That Is Ever New; Of A Babe Born in a Manger

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

In thousands of churches, and in millions of homes, upon this Christmas Sunday, the story of the birth of Jesus will be read and heard by many who know it so well that they could probably repeat it by heart.

It will be read in the gospels by St. Matthew and Luke and listened to as if it had never been told before. That old, old story has lost nothing of its interest and meaning through the centuries. It is ever new.

Why does that story of the birth of Jesus so persist in its newness and interest? Partly because it is the story of a mother and a babe; and mothers and babes, in all the mystery, love, and devotion that surrounds them, continue in generation after generation, each successive generation of motherhood and babyhood being a glorification of the story of Mary of Nazareth and the Babe of Bethlehem.

Then, too, the story symbolizes the faith and the hope that each successive generation has cherished. The central figures, the Mother, the Babe, and Joseph, were at Bethlehem, but there were others.

There is something rich and beautiful in the portrayal of Simeon, of Anna the Prophetess, and of Zacharias and Elizabeth, devout souls "waiting for the consolation of Israel," even as devout souls are waiting in faith and hope today for new revelations of the power and triumph of the Christ.

So, the story of Christ and Christmas lives on with all its newness and charm. Would God that we might all find the joy and gladness of revisiting Bethlehem, and of following the Babe born there, until the abundant life that He came to bring is our great possession for Christmas Day and for every day.

For many years it was my cus-

Grooming Gifts For That Man

By BETTY CLARKE

Just because Dad plays Santa Claus at Christmas young members of the family shouldn't overlook him when planning their gifts. Mother and older members of the family should see to it that small fry do right by the man of the family.

Even bottom-of-the-bank pennies can produce unusual little stocking stuffers. Soap in the shape and color of a pigskin football or shaving soap in a little metal bucket are fun presents for Dad. After-shave lotions.

tom to greet friends at Christmas with a few appropriate lines. Perhaps I may offer to the many, in various places, who read this column, my best wishes for a joyous Christmas, and this word of greeting:

TO ABSENT FRIENDS AT CHRISTMAS

We shall not meet around a common board, Nor share the gladness of a common roof, No festive hour shall bring us face to face In Christmas feast or song. Yet not aloof From love or life, along the mystic way Our spirits shall outrun earth's trammelled feet To Bethlehem; and in hearts' reunion there By friendship's highest altar we shall meet. An ampler feast the gift of God shall sperd; The Christmas song shall richer, fuller be As there, where Heaven met earth we join to share The love of Christ with all humanity.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Party Held in Gus Green Home

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 24.

The Golden Text is: "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder" (Isaiah 9:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him" (Luke 2:40).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony?" (page 494).

Friends of Mrs. Gus Green met in her home Friday evening for a Christmas party.

The group sang songs and Mrs. Green told a Christmas story. Gifts were exchanged from a lighted tree and handkerchief showers were given Mrs. E. C. Cappers and Mrs. I. D. Burton.

A refreshment plate was served. Present were Mrs. A. L. Patton, Mrs. R. L. Ratliff, Mrs. Pete White and Ramona, Mrs. Carl Ammons and Dianne, Mrs. O. T. Gist, Mrs. Violet Brown, Mrs. Earl Ammons, Mrs. P. D. Boddy, Mrs. Herbert Crump, Mrs. Harold Myers and Lydia Ann, Mrs. E. C. Cappers of Haskell and Mrs. I. D. Burton of McKinney.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord. —St. Luke

Every neighborhood should have a "Society for the Advancement of the Unusual Christmas Gift." It is tough on the girl who finds nothing but mittens in her stocking all because everybody had the same idea. —"It's just what she needs."

The Christmas gift should be a bit of a surprise — it is all the more welcome when it is distinctly unusual, but useful. Usually, if you take into consideration the hobbies and general interests of the recipient, something different can be found to put under her tree. Don't be the kind of a gift giver who "gets the gift over with" by buying the first thing she sees, so there is one less name on her list.

Use your imagination. What does a young girl like? Well what would you like? Your friend would probably like some of the things you have been yearning for. How about: Lessons in figure skating or swimming? A dressing table skirt for her vanity table? A diary or fountain pen? A subscription to a magazine she particularly adores? Theater or concert tickets? A gift certificate for a few horseback rides? A portable iron for vacations?

If she's the career girl type she'd probably like a collection of herbs, party snack spreads, a copper pot, a salad bowl, attractive laundry racks for the bathroom, ready-to-mix pie crust and cake mix, a current best-selling book, book ends, an "initialed" engagement calendar, leather-bound telephone address book, window boxes with herb seeds.

The young boy depending on his particular enthusiasms will gasp over a chemistry set, book on magic tricks, subscription to adventure or scientific magazines, or pine branches. Green, red or blue vegetable dye tablets can color water. Put it in a clear vase for a pretty receptacle for holly, pine needles or other Christmas floral decorations. This centerpiece can be used on a buffet or dining room table.

If you give important gifts to one or two special friends, do not present them while the crowd is at your house. However, you could have a grab bag into which each of your visitors might put a small gift — the girls bringing one for the boys and the boys for the girls.

Harmony Is Keynote in Korean Town

A KOREAN TOWN ON THE ROAD TO THE FRONT — (P) — This is an international town where fighting men of many nations live in harmony. It is a center of United Nations forces. Walk down a winding, ice-coated street and you're likely to find two or three nationalities to the block. The French are here, the Dutch, the British. Here are Siamese; Greeks skilled in guerrilla warfare, Americans, and quite a few Turks. Capt. Cornelius Marion of the Netherlands forces, a 505-pounder, 6 feet 2 inches tall, a blue-eyed man of 37, said: "These men of the Netherlands unit are all volunteers and they are Holland? I want to see the world. But most are here because they are bitterly against communism. "I have three children and another is on the way. I remember 1935 and Hitler and how we waited until he came. I do not intend to wait for Joseph Stalin. It is better to die on the field than in the doorway of your home. Capt. Alfred Van Meurs, a physician with the Netherlands forces and formerly of Jakarta (Batavia), Java, said: "It is splendid how well men of so many varied nationalities get along in this crowded place. "Our men play soccer with the British, the American dentists pull teeth and the British dentist fills them, and our men are delighted with American rations. "Our own soldiers don't eat half as well at home. The amount of meat and canned fruit is amazing. The C rations would be a luxury in Holland. "Visit the French contingent and you find plenty of hospitality from Lt. Col. Ralph Monclair, commanding. He apologizes that he has no special food to offer his guests but C rations served with ceremony and guests. He often peers around the sputtering lamp, urging further helpings of luncheon meat and coffee and corned beef. His officers call him general, for the 53-year-old Monclair is a lieutenant general of the French Army who took a temporary demotion to serve in Korea. "Why did I volunteer?" he asks. "The United Nations is the hope of all humanity. When I die my son will be able to say his father was a member of the first United Nations Army."

Taxpayers Can Save Money But Only Dozen Days Remain

WASHINGTON — (P) — Tip to taxpayers: some of you can still save money on federal income taxes, but you have only a dozen days left to do it. Here's how: crowd all the income possible into this year — when tax rates are lower than they'll be next year — and shift deductions to next year where possible. The September act raised individual income taxes by 12 to more than 20 percent a year. Only one-fourth of the increase applied to 1950 income, however, because 1950 already was three-fourths gone. The full increase will apply in 1951. Taxpayers whose entire income is derived from wages or salaries — and that means most taxpayers — can do little to save money on taxes. Those with big medical and dental expenses, however, might save by shifting payment to 1951, when the deduction would cut down net income that otherwise would be subject to 1951's higher rates. These expenses can be deducted if they amount to more than five percent of all income received in the year when the payment is made. Taxpayers who have some control over the flow of their income, and who can deduct office and business expenses, can do better. Farmers, for instance, can sell their crops or livestock this year in order to crowd in income. They can delay until next year deductible outlays for such things as barn and fence repairs. Businessmen, lawyers and doctors can try to speed up collections to this year, postpone deductible outlays for supplies, organization dues and the like until 1951. Some caution is required, however, lest a taxpayer crowd in so much income that he'll push himself into a higher tax-rate bracket this year.

MOUNTAIN ON THE MOVE: Seven-mile belt conveyor winds through the Ozarks to carry four million tons of Lee Mountain across two valleys to the site of the Bull Shoals Dam.

Mountain Is Moved to Make World's Fifth Largest Dam

By NEA Service
BULL SHOALS, Ark.—(NEA)—Seven men in the Ozark Mountains of Arkansas will finish a gargantuan two-year job next month—moving a four-million-ton mountain across two valleys. Seven miles away, the mountain is being put together again to build the $78,000,000 hydro-electric and flood control Bull Shoals Dam on the White River, fifth largest dam in the world. The mountain-moving project was performed on a seven-mile-long belt conveyor, longest in the world at the present time, which carries 650 tons of crushed rock an hour and moves it along at 325 feet a minute. "The mountain is coming to Mo-hammed on a roller coaster," observed a grizzled construction worker, who has helped build other big dams. The seven men are the maintenance men on each of the shifts who keep the belt running, traveling along the conveyor line to lubricate the "rollers," or rollers, on which the belt runs. The big man behind them, however, is M. H. "Harvey" Slocum, project manager for the dam. A specialist in the moving of mountains, he displayed two others to construct the Grand Coulee and Flat Dams. Rather than build a temporary railroad, an aerial tramway, or build a highway, he went to Thomas Robins, Jr., conveyor manufacturer, and had the "belt road" put together in the Ozarks. The rock blasted from the top and sides of Lee's Mountain rides the belt across rugged terrain to a processing yard on the dam site. There it gets another unique treatment—refrigeration. The Army Engineers specify the rock must be cooled to 54 degrees before it is mixed with cement and Slocum built huge vats which hold the rock while ice water circulates through it. The project, which will provide flood control for a million acres of land and supply power to Tulsa, Okla., Springfield, Mo., and Little Rock, Ark., set a construction record for speed. The dam site was cleared in June, 1947; first concrete was poured in September, 1948, and the completed project will be turned over to the Army Engineers next fall. Actually, however, it has been 40 years in the making. A bill approving a dam 10 miles below Bull Shoals was vetoed by the President in 1910. In 1919 a similar bill was approved, but the contractors went broke.

Postmaster Designs Own Yule Stamp

VICTORIA — (P) — Postmaster Leopold Morris of Victoria, who has been trying for years to get the Post Office Department to issue a special Christmas stamp, has become weary of the effort and has issued his own. He doesn't think the Post Office Department will mind much because he will stick the stamp on the back of his Christmas card envelopes. Besides, they are three times the size of regular stamps and have printed across the bottom in big letters "Proposed Christmas Stamp." The design is a reproduction of the famous painting of Washington crossing the Delaware, printed in red on green paper with a border of holly and poinsettias on the corners. On a scroll at the top is the wording "Father of Our Country—Christmas Day 1776." Morris submitted his suggestion for a Christmas stamp to the Post Office Department years ago but it was rejected on grounds there would be a surplus of unsold stamps. He resubmitted his idea again this year, arguing that the stamps, as with others, need not be dated and could be carried over from year to year. "A special three-cent Christmas stamp would cause most greeting cards to be sent as first-class mail, since practically every one would use a special stamp and thus greatly increase postal receipts," Morris said. He contends that about 75 percent of Christmas cards are sent unsealed for two cents as third class mail and are thus not entitled to directory service when incompletely addressed and can neither be forwarded nor returned to the senders. Thousands are destroyed each season for this reason. Morris estimated that such local mailings this year have meant $50,000 more revenue for the Victoria post office alone if they had been mailed first-class. Morris has never been known to give up, the Post Office Department can expect to hear from him quite often. He is full of ideas for improving the postal service. One that he put into effect here was a no parking sign in five languages at the curb box in front of the post office.

Legion Sets Date For Toy Drive

WASHINGTON — (P) — The American Legion announced today that its second annual drive to collect Christmas toys for children overseas will begin Dec. 28 throughout the nation. The drive brought in 30,000 toys last year for European children. This year it will be enlarged to include the Philippine Islands and the children of veterans fighting in Korea.

Students Present Christmas Play

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Speech students of Mrs. Everett Smith were presented at the Clark Auditorium Thursday night. They will make their second appearance tonight. The Thursday program featured high school students in a Christmas play, "The Empty Room," a drama of the first Christmas, depicting the true Christmas spirit. Twenty-seven grade students will be presented tonight in a series of skits, including the playlet, "The Doll Shop."

Elementary School Presents Program

SHAMROCK — (Special) — "Christmas and the Four Freedoms," an operetta, was presented at Clark auditorium under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Simmons. All students of the North Ward elementary school appeared in various roles. Mrs. Simmons reports. The story dealt with bad eyes who tried to do away with Christmas by kidnapping Santa Claus. How the Four Freedoms saved the day constituted the story. The program closed with a tableau of the Madonna, the Christ Child, the Wise Men and the shepherds.

Commuters Hold Party

DALLAS — (AP) — For the third year commuters on a Dallas-Denton bus held their Christmas party.

Mrs. Johnnie Miles of Denton was unofficial chairman of the party.

"All the commuters are very fond of all the drivers. They put up with a lot from us," Mrs. Miles said.

A well-acquainted group of 50 riders on the Denton-Dallas run showed their appreciation of the drivers with the party, and they're counting on making it a tradition.

Driver B. T. Barnes' bus leaves Dallas at 6:05 p.m. every day, filled with passengers for Farmers' Branch, Lewisville, Carrollton, and other points between here and Denton.

A dozen of the riders showed up an hour early to give the bus a splash of Christmas color. Mrs. Miles directed a haasty stringing of red and green rope, bells and mistletoe from the luggage racks.

A pair of seats in the middle were reserved for presents and a tiny tree. There was a shirt and tie for Barnes and for three other drivers. Two of them, T. G. Bohannon and Jim Kline, take the same group into Dallas each morning.

Another busman, Vertie Woods, was on hand to watch Miss Anna Perry of Carrollton receive a miniature bus. She has been commuting for 35 years, and Woods drove the jitney which first brought her from Lewisville to the city.

The youngest commuter, 5-year-old Shirley Tracy of Farmer's Branch, grew wide-eyed over the doll that was her present from all the riders. She rides the Pilot Institute for the Deaf, where she has learned to say her first words.

Santa Claus Bill Lowe of Denton distributed presents to the others, who had drawn names a month ago. He wore a suit made by another rider, Miss Inez Jones of Corinth, who also baked a three-foot-long cake for the party.
