TIME IS SHORT

Only 6 more shopping days remain for the weary shopper to complete Christmas shopping. Check the values listed throughout today's Pampa News. You can help the postman, too, by getting Christmas cards in the mail early.

MAIL STRIKE CAUSES MAIL PILE UP—A typical scene throughout city postoffices show thousands of parcels held up as a result of the railroad switchmen's strike. Postmaster General Donahoe ordered severe restrictions particularly in Chicago, St. Louis and Washington.

Circle Tightens on Point of Evacuation

TOKYO — (P) — American forces in northeastern Korea methodically withdrew from their dissolving beachhead around the escape port of Hungnam Saturday, abandoning demolished Hamhung to an onrushing tide of Chinese Communists. Chinese patrols occupied Hamhung, onetime industrial and railway center six miles inland from Hungnam, shortly after U.S. Army engineers blew the last three bridges leading from the city late Saturday afternoon. Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert reported that the estimated 100,000 or more Chinese perched on snow-clad hills overlooking the shrinking beachhead from three sides were exerting "no great pressure."

Wu Crushes Hopes Of Peace in Korea

LAKE SUCCESS — (P) — Red China's Gen. Wu Hsiu-chuan today rejected United Nations efforts for a cease-fire in Korea except on Soviet terms. But he promised his government would "try to advise" Chinese Communist "volunteers" in Korea to bring the fighting to an early end. Wu said in a prepared statement the cease-fire measures overwhelmingly adopted by the general assembly two days ago were a "trap of the United States ruling circles."

Fire Causes $700 Damage

Between $700 and $800 damage was caused Saturday afternoon when fire from a short circuited radio broke out in the living room of Mrs. Geneva Parker, 909 E. Francis. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne reported the alarm was turned in by S. E. Shryock who spotted the flames as he was walking by the Parker home. The family was away when the blaze started and had not returned by the time firemen got back to the station. Wires in the radio apparently shorted out, Winborne said, ruining the radio, a divan, heavily damaging other living room furniture, destroying window shades, venetian blinds and causing plaster to become overheated and fall from the walls and ceiling. Firemen extinguished the blaze that had gotten a good start before Shryock spotted it, in less than 30 minutes. They were successful in confining the flames to the living room. There were no injuries.

Dear Santa:

Dear Santa, I am 4 years old and would like to have a tractor and a boy doll and transport truck for Christmas. My sister Gayle, 3, would like to have a big doll with hair and a doll buggy. Also don't forget my baby sister Diane. Bring her a doll and a ball. Love, Dale Gallimore, 700 N. Wells.

Dear Santa, I am a little girl 7 years old in the second grade. Please bring me some dishes and cap and purse. Bring me some doll clothes. I live at 603 Jordan. Love, Charlene Mitchell.

Dear Santa, I am a little boy 5 years old. Please bring me a dump truck and some tinker toys. I live at 603 Jordan. Love, Lee Mitchell. P. S. Bring me some candy and nuts.

Dear Santa, I am a little boy 5 years old. I live at 601 N. Zimmer. Please bring me a cork gun, and a fire truck and a football. I have a little brother a month old and please bring him something. Ralph Lee King.

Dear Santa, I want an electric train that smokes and whistles. I am going to be good because I love you. Michael Gilmore, 517 N. Carr.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl 8 years old. I want you to bring me a record player, a doll, a doll house with furniture and a pair of rippon moccasins. Please bring Larry a tricycle. Also remember all the other little children.

Dear Santa, I have been a good little boy all year long. Please bring me a set of Roy Rogers guns and a little red fire engine and eandy and nuts. If you can't bring me what I want just forget me. How are your reindeer and the little elves? Love, Harold Hink.

Dear Santa, I am seven years old and have been a very good girl this year. I would like for you to bring me a big doll, a month old and please bring him something. Ralph Lee King.

Truman Takes First Steps As U.S. Enters Emergency

Wilson Named to Mobilization Post

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman proclaimed a national emergency yesterday and the government quickly sued its first price control order—a rollback wiping out increases on 1951 cars.

The President established a new office with unprecedented power to mobilize the nation at a fast pace against "world conquest by Communist imperialism."

In proclaiming the emergency, Mr. Truman summoned every citizen to put the country's defense ahead of everything else.

A few hours later, the Economic Stabilization Agency, issued its first price control order—a rollback wiping out increases on 1951 cars.

The order will be effective until March 1 pending a study leading to price and wage stabilization in the industry.

Senate Votes Tax Increase To 47 Percent

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Senate Finance Committee voted Saturday to boost existing corporate income taxes from 46 to 47 percent under the House-approved excess profits tax bill.

This was estimated to produce the net effect of increasing its first year revenues by $150,000,000.

Estimates of income from the measure as it left the House varied from $2,900,000,000 to $3,400,000,000.

Senate committee action left still far short of the $4,000,000,000 President Truman asked Congress to levy on "abnormal" earnings of corporations since the Korean outbreak to help finance defense costs.

The committee left the normal income tax at the present 28 percent, but it boosted the surtax from 2 to 22 percent.

The new tax on excess profits was left at the House-approved 75 percent of earnings in excess of 85 percent of the average income for a corporation's three best years from 1946 through 1949.

Acheson Leaves For Pact Meet

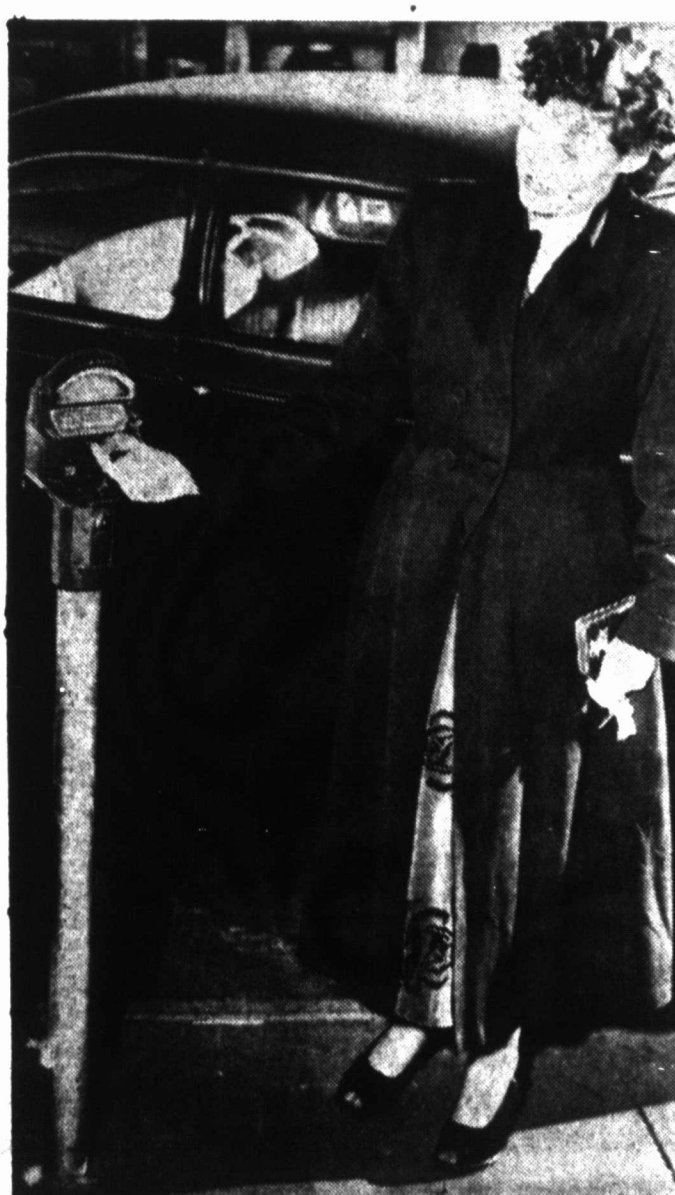

WASHINGTON — (P) — Secretary of State Acheson leaves for Brussels today to meet with the European Republicans on a new pact.

One official in position to know said Mr. Truman is "absolutely determined" to stand by Acheson because Acheson is "serving him exceptionally well."

He said the President considers the attack on Acheson an attack on his own foreign policy.

Work on the pact began Friday afternoon by Street Department employees, the meters going into operation immediately.

Sometime this week a service man from the Park-O-Meter Co. will check installation of the meters and conduct a private

NO MORE OF THIS—The next time out-of-town shoppers come to Pampa they'll have no handles to turn on the parking meters. The city is replacing all manually operated parking meters with automatic ones. Work began Friday afternoon and may be completed late tonight. Turning the handle is Mrs. C. E. McFarther, Christmas shopper from Canadian. (News Photo and Engraving)

Pampa's Old-Style Meters Going Out

Pampa's tired, worn out manual parking meters were being replaced by automatic ones along mid-town curbs over the weekend as workmen began installing the new automatic ones along mid-town curbs.

City Engineer Ray Evans said it would be possible all of the meters would be installed by Sunday night, if the men wanted to work over time. If they didn't, work would be resumed and probably completed Monday.

Prices Frozen On New Autos From Dec. 1

WASHINGTON — (P) — The government froze the prices of new automobiles today at the level of Dec. 1, 1950. The action rolls back price increases announced by Ford, General Motors, Chrysler and Nash on their 1951 models.

The order was issued by the Economic Stabilization Agency, which said the freeze on manufacturers' prices will last until March 1.

Wage and salary stabilization within the industry is being studied. ESA's announcement added, "and action on it will be taken at the earliest possible moment."

The order is the first price ceiling established since the death of OPA in 1946. The ESA explained that it is suspending all price advances for the temporary period, pending a study on whether labor and other costs

God Got Me Out: Parents Learn Son Is Safe

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Taylor, 111 S. Nelson, received welcome word from their son, Cpl. Lloyd Taylor, this weekend. Cpl. Taylor had been with the American forces that were trapped and cut off from the rest of the U. S. forces in North Korea.

Cpl. Taylor, in his letter home: "... I got to walk through the mountains for 35 miles but I got okay. I had my buddy and my buddy ran and walked for 28 hours straight. I had to get back before they sent in a missing in action telegram to you. I know you would worry."

Taylor continues, "Mom, I lost a lot of buddies and friends. I just got me out of that. Just as we were walking into Samchon some tanks picked us up. There were about 150 of us together by then and flash bulbs were clicking like mortars when we rode in. If one of those pictures gets in the paper look for me."

"The replacements are really coming in. I just wish they would get in plenty more. I probably didn't get a lot of your letters because they had to burn all the mail before we could get it. Well, tell everybody hello and don't worry about me 'cause I'm okay."

Atomic Bomb Said Not Used Lightly

LONDON — (P) — Prime Minister Aneurin Bevan promised Britain last night the atom bomb would not be used lightly or wantonly, but would be used only in the most dire circumstances.

Bevan said there was a firm and unshakable agreement when the atomic bomb was first used in Japan. At the same time, he called for a negotiated settlement.

Officers Meeting In Pampa Monday

Chief of Police John B. Wilkinson and Sheriff-elect Rufe Jordan will be hosts to a Panhandle-wide meeting of city police and sheriffs all day Monday, according to a recent announcement.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the large number of recent burglaries throughout the Panhandle area. Officers from Borger, Amarillo

Chapman Supports Canadian Project

WASHINGTON — (P) — A letter written by Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman was cited today in support of belief that President Truman will approve Texas' $85,000,000 Canadian River project bill.

Senator Chavez (D-NM), who once blocked passage of the bill, said he would work as a member of the appropriations committee to secure funds for the project.

The measure, to authorize a project which would furnish water for a dozen Texas towns, was passed by the Senate Friday. The House, which previously had agreed to it, quickly adopted Senate amendments.

Arthur C. Perry, administrative assistant to Senator Connally (D-Texas), made public the letter from Chapman favoring the bill.

Chapman noted that commissioners of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma have agreed upon a compact to divide waters of the Canadian River among the three states.

"Since I understand that the only substantial objection that was raised to immediate authorization of the Canadian River project was the absence of an interstate agreement, I hope that the pending legislation can now go forward," Chapman wrote.

Perry said bills passed by Congress are customarily referred by the President to the appropriate

COON CATCHERS—Carl "Babe" Hall, left, holds his coon dog, Spike, and Arthur Tennant holds Rowdy while the two dogs pose below the skin of the big 52-pound coon they and their masters they and their masters killed on the Canadian River a short time ago. The coon weighed four pounds more than the biggest coon ever caught in the United States, Hall said. The skin is 27 inches long and 30 inches wide. (News Photo and Engraving)

Gray Coon Hunters Run Down Big One

Whitney Tennant and Carl "Babe" Hall were probably the two proudest coon hunters in the State of Texas when they latched on to and killed a big 52-pound "granddaddy of them all" coon up on the Canadian River not long ago.

With their two coon dogs Tennant and Hall surrounded the big coon and went after him. The dogs took him off first, but the coon fought them off with great swipes of his huge paws. Each time his paw would make contact, a dog would be knocked spinning. Finally, after a long battle, the two men had to take over and the animal was killed.

After the animal was skinned, Tennant measured him and reported that the skin was about 27 inches long and 30 inches

Woman Is Veteran Of Three Services

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. —(AP)—Marine Private Lillian Benson, 31, going through "boot camp" here, has now seen service in the Army, Navy and Marines. With the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in World War II, Pvt. Benson was one of the first 200 women to volunteer for overseas duty in 1942. She landed in North Africa only seven days after the initial invasion. From there she went to the European Theater of Operations with General Dwight Eisenhower's command. Malaria forced her to return to the states. She was discharged soon afterwards.

In 1948, she enlisted as a hospital aid in the Waves and served for six months.

"I felt it my duty to enlist when the Korean war broke out," she said, adding that this time her mother advised her to join the United States Marines.

Locusts Invading Southern Iran

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP)— Huge swarms of crop-destroying desert locusts are invading Southern Iran from Baluchistan, Pakistan and the Arabian peninsula. Flying in groups so thick that they sometimes blot out the sun for hours, the locusts are part of the great winter migration that is threatening many middle eastern countries.

The Iranian ministry of agriculture has dispatched experts to the infested areas in the south to lead the fight against the insect onslaught. Little can be done to combat the locusts while they are migrating. So far little damage has been done to crops because most of the grain has been harvested.

Iranian officials say most of the damage will come next spring when the red and yellow locust hatch from millions of eggs and attack young, budding crops. In some years damage has been so great that local famines have developed.

Sparrows Set Out On Long Journeys

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. —(AP)—Dr. Barbara Blanchard Oakeson, of the University of California has spent a lot of time following Gambel white-crowned sparrows around. She has traced them through all the western states. Last summer she went to a little village near the mouth of the Yukon River to check their migrations.

Her studies in the United States showed how they put on fat and how the gonad volume in the males increased 130 times in preparation for migration. In Alaska she found how they arrived just as the last snows were melting. Then they had to hurry to raise a brood before the short summer was over.

Shortage of Police Cuts Sport Project

SINGAPORE — (AP) — The police in Singapore are opposed to increasing the capacity of the biggest indoor sports stadium here because of a shortage of policemen. An application to increase the Happy World Stadium from its present capacity of 7,128 to 12,000 people was sent to the Singapore Municipality. City officials specified a limit of 9,200 people if certain alterations were done, and sent it to the police. The police turned it down saying they may not be able to supply enough policemen to handle crowds and because of the possibility of a great number of casualties in the event of a panic or fire.

NEW ORLEANS — The Navy is now offering bright, new metal pendants to its Letter of Commendation holders. Eighth Naval District headquarters here announced today.

The new commendation pendant is the first medal manufactured for general distribution. It is made of metal and is used to honor men for meritorious service in war theaters and during World War II Victory medal, the Navy said.

Holders of individual Navy Commendation Ribbons issued since Dec. 6, 1941 should apply to the chief of Naval Personnel for their pendant. Marines are asked to apply direct to the commandant of the Marine Corps.

Applications, most of which are expected from discharged veterans, must show full name and file, service or serial number, the Navy personnel bureau pointed out.

One pendant will be issued each eligible person, with second and succeeding awards represented by bronze stars placed on the suspension ribbon, it was disclosed.

Archie T. Berg, seaman, USN, of Conway, is serving as a staff member of the United Nations Blockading and Escort Force commanded by Rear Admiral Allan E. Smith, USN, in Far Eastern waters.

Seaman recruits and seaman apprentices who were members of the Naval Reserve prior to September 1, 1950 can now volunteer for active duty in the Navy after they have received draft induction notices, Eighth Naval District headquarters announced.

The commandant of the Eighth Naval District said the new ruling will affect approximately 14,000 men in the district who are in the above category.

The procedure is as follows: The reservist wishing to volunteer should contact his nearest Naval recruiting station or substation. He must meet the same mental, physical and other standards as the regular Navy recruit.

He will be required to sign an agreement to serve 24 months on active duty.

He will then be sent into recruit training with regular Navy recruits, but will maintain his identity as a reservist in Class V-13 of the Naval Reserve.

Reservists in the rates of seaman and fireman, and petty officer in certain ratings, still are being accepted as volunteers, the commandant pointed out.

Massengale Tells Kiwanis Methods Used by Commies

Lt. Col. Bob Massengale, administrative assistant to the director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, spoke to the Pampa Kiwanis Club, Friday, on communism. He spoke to the group as a guest of John Wilkinson, chairman of the Kiwanis youth committee.

The speaker pointed out that communism is not a Russian movement, but one of worldwide significance. Neither, he stated, is it a party, but rather is a revolutionary movement. He revealed that there are now 18 million Communists in the world.

In giving the history of communism, Massengale stated that the movement is about 102 years old, having originated in Germany in 1848 as a project of Karl Marx and his associates. The group received its first great impetus in 1905 following the Russo-Japanese war in which Russia was defeated. The man that finally put communism on its feet in Europe and really got it started was Lenin.

"The aim of communism is to establish a dictatorship in every country on earth and that aim is unchanging even though the Reds may change their tactics at various times," Massengale said.

Concerning war, the speaker, who directs investigations of subversive activities in Texas, said that the communistic idea is to stay out of an imperialistic war and let those engaged in it tear each other apart and then when both are practically defenseless the Communists would step in and take over. If a civil war is in progress, the Communists make it a point to help the rebels, who are usually the weaker, and when the war is ended, and the rebels have won, the Reds add another country to their list. Only in total war would the Reds actually take part, Massengale said.

Besides actual war, the law officer said, the Communists have other means of conquering a country and that is through undercover work by members of the Communist Party. They concentrate members in the central industries to commit sabotage when the time is right; combat universal military training; cause race riots, arguments between economic groups and churches; promote general strikes and hold mass demonstrations in protest against police and military intervention and even cause strikes within the armed forces. All this is done to cause such great unrest that citizens will be vulnerable to invading forces.

"The Soviet Union has an active fifth column in the United States disguised as the Communist Party which uses all our freedoms — speech, press, liberty — to defeat our democratic principles," the speaker revealed.

"The Communists yell louder than anyone for the privilege to exercise their freedoms."

He told the Kiwanians and their guests that the Reds work behind front organizations which seem to be carrying on legitimate promotion of the democratic way of life, but are actually controlled by the Communist Party.

These front organizations raise money for their "work" which is actually used to finance the party activities, provide contacts for persons not quite ready to join the Communist Party, provide jobs for party members and serves as a recruiting depot for Kremlin spies.

Some of the front organizations which have been active in the United States include the World Federation of Democratic Youth, The American Peace Mobilization, American Youth for Democracy, Civil Rights Congress for Texas, Farmers Educational Cooperative Union of America, the Peoples' Institute of Applied Religion and many others.

In conclusion, Massengale dramatically stated: "It is up to us now to decide if we want to be ruled by the Communists. We have two roads to take; either we can live high for the next few years while communism overruns the rest of the world and then takes us over or we can live hard for a few years and remain a free people that pays allegiance to only one master, the Almighty God."

Special guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Ben Cockrell, Mrs. Aubrey Steele, Mrs. Bill Fannon, Mrs. Clyde Carruth, Mrs. Joe Gordon and Mrs. Allan Looper.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Address your letter to: The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2348, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, but be sure to write today.

SPEAKING OF Furniture

ALL THRU THE HOUSE . . .

There's a sense of the hazy excitement as you hang the holly wreaths, tie the sprigs of mistletoe in unexpected places, and set the stage for that magical hour when the family will gather around the lighted, gift-laden tree.

Christmas festivities center around the home . . . and there is no more appropriate and appreciated gift than a gift FOR the home.

For the children—furniture for their own rooms is sure to bring squeals of delight: tables and chairs, desks, toy chests, record and doll cabinets.

And what teenage girl wouldn't be charmed by one of the new cabinet-type cedar chests . . . the perfect storage place for treasured treasures?

The list of home gifts runs the gamut from bonnet boxes to breakfasts. For a gift that is certain to heighten the Christmas spirits of every member of your family, consider the sofa shown in the sketch above. Its fluid curves and simple lines make it a singularly pleasing piece that would fit pleasantly into a room furnished in either Contemporary or Traditional style. Sturdy construction and closely woven upholstery fabric insure long wear.

Whatever your choice of home gift may be—a large basic or a small incidental piece, we'd enjoy helping you select it. Remember, a gift for the home is Christmas giving that enriches all-year living.

You bet there's a Santa Claus!

YOU may not see any fluffy white beards or gay red jackets in our showrooms—but we're playing Santa nevertheless.

We're playing Santa when we offer these gay and gorgeous Buicks at the prices offered today.

Where else can you find so much power and comfort and style and size and fun at comparable figures?

Where else can you find high-compression Fireball power—Dynaflow Drive—and the ever-level ride that you get in a Buick?

What you pay for a SPECIAL buys an eight—not a six—but the price tags are less than many a six will cost.

What you pay for a ROADMASTER buys the stand-out performer in the fine-car field—at the lowest price per pound of any car near its size—and at hundreds of dollars less than you'll pay for others which match ROADMASTER's reputation.

These are facts you can check in any Buick dealer's showroom—but the thrill of getting a bargain is nothing compared to the thrill you'll get out on the road.

You have to feel for yourself the eager take-off—the willing rush of power on the straightaway.

You have to feel the supreme command that is yours with Dynaflow Drive—and the level-gaited stride of this bonnie beauty.

So come in—and take out one of these star performers.

Just a few miles with a Buick and we know what you'll say: "Christmas! What a marvel!"

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

Not long ago a pathetic letter came from a woman who said that for 20 years she had been deathly afraid of being alone and that she had done everything to keep company around her. Now everyone, including this woman, knows that just being alone for a while brings no harm. This distressing state of mind, therefore, is a phobia or an obsession...

One of the most common phobias is fear of heights. This carries the impressive name of acrophobia. Many people shudder and turn away rather than look down from some tall building or over a cliff. Although this is called a phobia there is actually some doubt as to whether it really is because great heights are associated with some danger, and perhaps fear is normal where there is danger...

There are, however, other objections which certainly are not normal. Among these are auto-misophobia or the fear of being dirty; therophobia or fear of gales; and bibliophobia or dislike of books. Bathophobia would certainly be common among children if it meant what it sounds like—but it doesn't. It means fear of great depths and is therefore much like acrophobia...

What to do about a severe phobia is quite a problem. The victim often realizes that the fear is not justified by the facts but remains unable to do anything about it unless aided. Medical advice is often equally ineffective...

For the past two years while traveling in the country lecturing and conducting our Harding College Freedom Forums, I've observed the mounting reaction as the truth began to reach the American people—farm people at grass roots, home owners in small town America, the men and women working in industries and businesses, and the people of a thousand and one callings in our great metropolitan centers...

WILSON

(Continued from Page 1) Mr. Truman already had been given under other legislation. The proclamation itself was a call to American loyalty in time of a grave threat to the peace of the world and danger to this country.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said the President did not exaggerate the perils confronting America. Byrd added that the President has had for months the authority to do the things he now suggests.

"I was particularly gratified," the Virginian said, "that for the first time the President recognized that a drastic reduction in the present non-defense spending is an essential part of our security program."

"We should reduce, by not less than $5,000,000,000, non-defense spending."

"I trust the budget to be submitted to Congress in January will prove the sincerity of his statement last night."

Friday night Mr. Truman pictured the beginning of a new life of austerity ahead of Americans — longer work hours, partial wage and price controls, cutbacks in civilian production, much higher taxes.

Saturday he called them to action. "I summon all citizens to make a united effort for the security and well-being of our beloved country."

"To place its needs foremost in thought and action. . . . Our farmers, our workers in industry, and our businessmen to make a mighty production effort to subordinate all lesser interests to the common good. . . ."

"Every person and every community to make, with a spirit of neighborliness, whatever sacrifices are necessary for the welfare of the nation. . . ."

"All citizens be loyal to the principles upon which our nation is founded. . . . firm in our devotion to the peaceful purposes for which the United Nations was founded."

He reminded them of "the full and rich life" they would forfeit if the Communists won out. He cited freedom of worship, of reading and listening, of free speech and "the right to criticize the government," of collective bargaining and "the right to run business enterprises."

The proclamation was signed at 9:20 a.m. CST. A short time later Mr. Truman issued the executive order setting up Wilson's post. Wilson had not yet arrived at the White House to take his new duties. Officials said he had no appointment Saturday but was expected soon.

Wilson's authority will extend to abolishing, setting up and re-shaping defense agencies as he sees fit.

Officials, however, expected him to defer such changes, if any, until he has tackled the job of fighting inflation.

The presidential speech announced mandatory ceilings very soon in a number of defense production and cost of living items. The law requires that wage stabilization accompany such action. It was expected that besides autos, steel and copper industries would be among the first controlled. The possibility of food price controls has been mentioned.

"These ceilings will be supplemented by suggested price-wage schedules in industries where mandatory controls are not imposed. However, the President said that violations of these non-compulsory ceilings would bring on mandatory orders, and possibly rollbacks."

The White House said yesterday's proclamation revived a number of emergency powers concerning which Congress declared on July 15, 1947, the end of national emergencies then existing.

FRIGHTENED REFUGEES FLEE NORTH KOREA—Wading with bare feet in the freezing-cold Taedong River, tens of thousands of frightened Koreans made their way south before advancing Chinese Communist forces. Cries of children with frozen feet, lost from their parents filled the air as NEA-Acme Staff Photographer Ed Hoffman took this dramatic picture south of Pyongyang. Refugees were forced to wade across when military bridges were closed to them during the great UN withdrawal.

Cattlemen to Meet Monday

The Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Assn. will meet Monday, in the basement dining room of the Schneider Hotel, to make final plans for its annual show and sale Feb. 5 and 6, 1951. Included on the agenda will be a discussion of the new show barn at Recreation Park which is expected to be completed in time for the show.

Members of the board of directors of the HBA include Cliff Vincent, president, and A. B. Carruth, Clyde Gilbert, H. H. Reeves, Farris Hess, Wayne Madrox, R. M. Juillard, Ted Alexander, Alex Gray, Gordon Whitener, R. M. Thomas, Clyde Caruth, Dr. M. C. Overton and Frank Carter.

PRICES

In Detroit, reaction was varied. Ernest R. Breach, executive vice president of Ford, said Ford "will, of course, conform promptly to this and any other government order issued in this national emergency."

General Motors described the rollback as "patently discriminatory" and charged that the action "does not attack at the source the basic problem of inflation."

The world's biggest auto producer again attacked the recent steel price boost and said this had been "ignored" by the government.

There was no comment immediately from Chrysler. George Romney, vice president of Nash-Kelvinator, said the order "rolls prices back below their 1948 levels despite greatly swollen costs."

The decision to clamp a ceiling on passenger cars follows a request for a voluntary maintenance of price levels. This was re-

ten major motor companies last week. ESA Administrator Alan Valentine and his price stabilization director Michael V. DiSalle, said: "We regret that voluntary agreement could not have been reached within the automobile industry which would have made this order unnecessary."

"We sincerely hope that self-restraint by various other industries will make it possible to avoid similar steps in their cases."

WU

Despite Wu's strong statement, one of the mediators indicated there still was hope for the negotiations. He said the committee is only beginning its work.

Wu declared that the "peace-loving people of the whole world are demanding that the Korean problem be solved peacefully."

"Yet," he continued, "the Anglo-American bloc insists to maintain its aggressive forces and its aggressive actions in Korea, to continue its invasion and occupation of China's Taiwan (Formosa) and to carry out even more persistently its aggressive and war policy against the whole world."

"We have only to look for proof in the statement of President Truman which threatened to use the atomic bomb, in the joint communique of President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee (in their recent Washington conference) and in the proclamation of a state of emergency by the United States government."

He asserted that the "real intention" of the UN's cease-fire proposal "is to demand that the Korean People's Army and the Chinese volunteers tie their own hands so that the United States armed forces of aggression may continue their aggression in Korea."

Building Air Arm Next Big Move

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman's expanded rearmament program, now focused primarily on building Army strength, will shift emphasis next to making the air arm more powerful.

This became apparent today on the basis of official expressions, including those by the President. Mr. Truman said the Army and Navy would be able to attain their new manpower goals within a few months but the Air Force would take somewhat longer.

First metals used by early man were those that exist in uncombined form, such as gold, silver, and copper.

Park Program Attracts 3000 County 4-H Has 200 for First Party

An estimated crowd of 3,000 persons thronged Central Park Friday night as scenes from the Nativity were unveiled for the first time this year. Rev. Henry Tyler, minister of the First Christian Church, read appropriate verses from the Scriptures as each scene was illuminated by artistically arranged lights. A 600-voice choir composed of representatives from the city's churches sang familiar hymns under the direction of Harley Bulls, music director of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. May Foreman Carr accompanied the group at the electric organ.

The display, which will be lighted each night through Jan. 1, is composed of seven sets illustrating "The Annunciation," "No Room at the Inn," "Angels Appear to the Shepherds," "The Wise Men," "The Flight into Egypt," and "The Nativity." The Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," sung by the combined chorus and audience, made an impressive ending to the program.

The entire program was broadcast over Radio Station KFDX for the benefit of those who were unable to attend.

Entertainment was furnished by each of the clubs present in the form of a short skit. Included in the skits was a special folk dance by six small fry from the Grandview Club. The Blue Bell girls club presented a short enactment of the birth of Christ, while the Hopkins boys and girls gave a reading "A Letter to Santa." Also featured on the program was a male quartet from the Pampa High School boys club. The PHS girls club gave a "pet peeve" quiz show with Nancy Harris as moderator. Guest artist was Miss Doris Davis, extension secretary, and her accompanist.

A highlight of the show was the presentation of dress review pins to the five girls who won the contest last May. Receiving pins were Barbara Edwards, Billie Mae Osborne, Shirley Keel, Carolyn Anderwald and Margaret Saggerman.

Gifts were presented to all club members and guests who had tickets, which were presented only to those bringing gifts. At the close of the party, the gifts were placed in a big red box for presentation to the Salvation Army and other organizations. Miss Jo Williams expressed her appreciation, Saturday, to all the 4-H members who decorated the hall, the Christmas tree, and the serving table and to those who made cookies and punch. She and Foster Whaley, club directors, were in charge of the entire party with Amos Harris as master of ceremonies.

Curtain Closes On Red Germany

BERLIN — (AP) — East Berlin joined the Russian Zone of Germany last night in proclaiming itself ready to imprison or even behead any German who classifies as a western warmonger. The action virtually clangs down a new iron curtain on the Russian sector border of the conquered city.

Butler reported in kind that Tydings used "false, fraudulent and misleading statements" in his campaign literature. He said Tydings' complaint "appears to be the cry of a poor loser."

Tydings set forth his charge in a letter to Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of the Senate Campaign Investigating Committee, and suggested that Butler be barred from office if the circumstances warrant such action.

Come in and see the New Silver Anniversary Pontiac

Double Proof that Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

- 1 A look at the Car proves its Quality
2 A look at the Price proves its Value!

In the short time since it was presented, thousands of people have flocked to see the great new Silver Anniversary Pontiac—few cars have ever had a reception to equal this. Most people came to admire, which is natural enough. But a great many people do more than admire, they start figuring—they begin to compare this wonderfully beautiful and desirable car with the modest price tag it bears. The conclusion is obvious—no car, at any price, offers more for every new car dollar you invest than a great new Pontiac! Drop in, and look at the car—then look at the price—you'll be doubly sure that dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Westerners Edge Past Harvesters, 41-29

The Lubbock Westerners edged the Pampa Harvesters, 41-29, at Lubbock Saturday night in the last second of play. Fullerton canned a field goal from the center of the court in the last second of the game for Lubbock's victory.

Pampa trailed at halftime, 21-14, but came back the second half and battled the Westerners right down to the wire. The lead changed hands several times in the last five minutes of the game. James Claunch of Pampa knotted the game at 29-29, and then Fullerton hit his pay-off goal.

Claunch meshed 16 points for the Harvesters, and Adams led Lubbock with 12. It was the Harvesters' first loss this season. They scored four straight victories before running into the Westerners.

Blue-Gray Plan For Grid Tilt

MONTGOMERY — (AP) — With the kickoff two weeks away, Montgomery's annual Blue-Gray gridiron is fast shaping up as potentially the most colorful, pass-happy of the series.

Both all-star squads are loaded with aerial experts, receivers as well as passers. And they are expected to have fancy stepping, break-away runners who can go all the way at the slightest provocation.

Yankee Coach Ray Elliot of Illinois will arrive next Thursday to make arrangements for the 24-players Northern squad which is to begin reporting the next day.

The other coaches, Rip Engel of Penn State and George Munger of Penn, expect to show up Friday with all three Gray mentors — Virginia Art Guepe, Wally Butts of Georgia and Dutch Meyer of TCU.

Hoping to add another to their list, the South has signed an All-America passing combination, Alabama's Eddie Smith to Dray Foidberg, captain of the mighty 1950 Army eleven.

Some of the backs are pass snappers, too. They include SMU's John Champion, Ken Konz of LSU and Bob Cook of Oklahoma A&M.

The Yankees have season-long men in Dick Flowers, No. 1 aerialist of the Big Ten Conference, T-quarterback Bob Petrakos of Wisconsin and Vic O'Bara, Penn State's highly regarded halfback.

Gridders Train For N-S Game

MIAMI — (AP) — Fifty-nine hand-picked young giants, representing a cross section of the nation's finest collegiate football talent, begin work Monday for the annual Christmas night North-South all-star game dedicated to the less fortunate.

"Strong legs run that weak legs may walk," is the theme of the charity football game sponsored by the Mahl Shrine Temple of Miami that will lure upwards of 50,000 fans to the Orange Bowl.

It will mark the beginning of a busy week for University of Miami Coach and Guestmaster of the Southern "Rebel" all stars. He will have to keep at his drills with the Orange Bowl bound university of Miami Hurricanes, who meet Clemson on New Year's Day.

Yale Coach Herman Hickman, with a new 10-year contract in his back pocket, arrives Monday and will drill his Northern "Yankee" squad at Miami Beach.

Teams to Play In NCAA Meet

NEW YORK — (AP) — Champions of ten major conferences automatically will qualify for the 16-team NCAA basketball championship tournament March 21-24.

This was disclosed Saturday with the official release of the NCAA's 1951 Basketball Guide.

Under the new set-up, whereby the field was doubled from eight to 16 teams, six of the eight, independents or contenders from the various conferences, will be picked to play with the league kings.

The ten conferences whose champions qualify are: Western Regional tournament — Border, Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Pacific Coast, Skyline Six and Southwest.

With ten places known, the NCAA west ahead and made its first draw. The Pacific Coast Conference will play the Southwest Conference in the opener.

FUNE RETURNERS
NEW YORK — (AP) — The Texas Aggies averaged 17.8 yards on back of their 24 punt returns to lead every college team in the lead in that department. The Aggies' punt returns were the only ones to be returned Saturday by the NCAA. The Aggies showed.

Harvesters Drive Past Cyclones in Cage Tilt, 59-34

The Memphis Cyclones became the fourth basketball victim of the Harvesters Friday night at Memphis. Coach Cliff McNeely's defense-minded quintet slowed the Cyclones to a slow walk and melted a zone defense to triumph 59-34.

The Guerrillas downed Memphis' "B" team, 50-36, in the opening game. Buddy "Dude" Cockrell meshed 15 points to take high scoring honors.

Pampa got off to a slow start, and Memphis jumped into an 8-4 lead before the Harvesters caught fire.

James Claunch scored two fast buckets to knot the game, 8-8. Marvin Bond drove in for a set-up, but Memphis cashed in on two charity throws to tie the game, 10-10, at the close of the first period.

The Harvesters held the Cyclones to five points in the second period, while Claunch, Bond, and Jones collected 13 tallies to make the score 23-15 at halftime.

Claunch and Jones sparked the Pampa offensive attack. Claunch collected 16 points and Jones 15.

Memphis' three held Duane Jeter to three field goals, but the 6-foot 5-inch center picked rebounds off both backboards, with Bond and Jones also doing a good job of rebounding.

The Harvesters closed the key-hole slot to the Cyclones' Scotty Grundy and Lee Bloxom, and Memphis collected most of its points via the long shot route. Grundy, 6 feet 5 inches, was high man for Memphis with 13 points. Bloxom, another 6-foot 5-inch Cyclone, was blanked from the field but scored five points at the free throw line.

Pampa's stout defensive game was still working the second semester. Memphis collected only five points in the third quarter, but the Cyclone came through with 14 in the fourth period. Coach McNeely's Green and Gold crew ran its lead to 35-22 at the start of the fourth quarter.

The Harvesters zone completely collapsed in the final stanza, as the Harvesters poured in 24 points.

Shamrock Rocks Guerrillas, 38-32

Shamrock overcame an early eight point deficit to roll past the Pampa Guerrillas in the invitational basketball tournament here Saturday and went on to win, 38-32, to enter the finals.

The Guerrillas stepped out into an eight point lead in the first five minutes of the game, but the Irish whittled the Guerrilla defense to pieces the rest of the game. The Green clad cagers left the floor at halftime with an 18-17 lead; and came back the second half to control the contest the rest of the way.

Vaughn Terry led the Irish scoring attack with 14 points. Bond and Oden tied for high honors with the Guerrillas, each scoring eight points.

The Guerrillas defeated Allison, 47-32, Friday afternoon to reach the semifinals. Freddie Woods was high man for the Pampa crew with 15 points.

Robinson Wins Bout
GENEVA — (AP) — Welterweight champion Ray Robinson defeated Jean Walzack of France on points in a 10-round match here Saturday.

Walzack, who also lasted 10 rounds with Robinson in St. Louis last February, took fearful punishment from the Harlem boxer.

Walzack went down for a nine count in the ninth round, then hit the floor for five in the 10th round.

San Angelo Picked To Play in Bowl
DALLAS — (AP) — The Pioneer Conference authorized San Angelo Junior College, the conference champions, to play in the Oleander Football Bowl at Galveston Jan. 1.

The conference awarded the championship formally to San Angelo, set the conference track and field meet for May 11-12 at Tarleton State, Stephenville, and postponed until spring any action on admitting new clubs.

Other conference members are Arlington State and Schreiner.

Coyotes Stop Westerners, 31-20; Baytown Knocks off Conroe, 27-6

Self Scores Two Long Touchdowns

LUBBOCK — (AP) — The Wichita Falls Coyotes roared into the semi-finals of Class AA schoolboy football Saturday, whipping Lubbock 31-20 on the long runs on Jim Self, who skipped 67 and 66 yards for touchdowns. Ed Beach made the other three.

Lubbock punted twice. The first time Beach ran it back 67 yards for a score. The next time Kermit Cummings blocked the kick and Bill Land recovered on the Lubbock 20 to set up another touchdown.

Lubbock was in the game until the final period when the score was 25-20. But the enraged Coyotes stormed 68 yards in 11 plays for the touchdown that broke the Westerners' backs.

Beach made the first Wichita Falls touchdown in the first period on a five-yard run around right end. Then came Self's long spring with a punt in the second quarter. In the third period Beach spun around left end six yards for the third touchdown and Self dashed 66 yards over right tackle for the fourth while Beach got the final counter on a four-yard run around right end.

Mack Taylor made two of the Lubbock touchdowns, one on a one-yard blast at center and the other on a 19-yard run over right tackle. Buddy Hill got the third Westerner score on a four-yard plunge.

Wichita Falls led in first downs with 19 to 17 for Lubbock and romped to 315 yards on the ground compared to 244. The Coyotes tried only three passes, completing one for three yards. Lubbock completed four of 11 passes for 51 yards. Wichita Falls didn't have to punt a single time.

Highland Park Nips Bucs, 13-0
BRECKENRIDGE — (AP) — Highland Park (Dallas) smashed out defeated, untied Breckenridge, 13-0, Saturday to roll into the semi-finals of the Class AA high school grid race.

The Scots next week will play Wichita Falls, a team they have already beaten once this season. Wichita Falls defeated Lubbock to advance.

Highland Park's first touchdown came on a pass, Malcolm Bowers to Ray Redmah Bowers passed from the 20-yard line to Redman on the five. Redman dropped the ball as he grasped it, chased it into the end zone and recovered. The officials ruled a touchdown.

The drive had started after eight minutes of the first quarter from the Scots' 31-yard line. A recovered Breckenridge fumble started the march.

The Scots' last touchdown came in the final period, on a one-yard pass from Bowers to Benet. Highland Park had taken the ball on downs on Breckenridge's 14-yard line.

Breckenridge moved to Highland Park's 22-yard line in the third period, but a clipping penalty set the Bucs back to the 37-yard line and four running plays gained only to the 29 yard line.

Again in the same period, a recovered Scot fumble helped Breckenridge reach the Scots' 11-yard line. But Ronald Robbins was smothered attempting to pass on fourth down and the drive fizzled.

Kimbrough Speaks At Grid Banquet
PANHANDLE — (Special) — Frank Kimbrough, coach of the West Texas Buffaloes, was the main speaker at Saturday's annual football banquet in the high school cafeteria.

Jim Howard, senior co-captain of the 1950 Panhandle Panthers, was master of ceremonies.

Those on the program included the Rev. W. E. Thorn, of the First Baptist Church, invocation; R. E. Byrom, superintendent of schools, the welcome; Jim Bonner, senior co-captain of the team, the response; saxophone quartet, Elaine Bell, Charles Bell, Dean Lewellen, and Glenn Downs; and Boyd Williams, Panther coach, introduced the members of the team and the main speaker.

Southwest Loop Tightens Rules

DALLAS — (AP) — Time eligibility rules for athletes returned to the Southwest Conference today.

The Conference Faculty Committee tightened the rules allowing financial aid to athletes and sent a mysterious recommendation to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, declining to say what it contained but leaving these conjectures:

1. The conference suggested to the NCAA that it refrain from being a regulatory agency for its "Sanity" Code but to leave that up to the individual conferences.

2. The conference wants a rule put into the code allowing an athlete to receive aid from the retention of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The rule allowing freshmen to participate in varsity sports was not returned.

The financial aid rule was changed. Tuition and fees are allowed athletes now along with a job for which they work for their board and room while outside aid is prohibited and jobs except during the summer and school vacations must not pay more than the prevailing wage for such work in the community.

Gifts of money and other valuables are prohibited. The committee said excessive loans and excessive sureties for loans would not be countenanced.

Under the rule prohibiting professional sports, a change was made in reading to make it "professional activities." Eliminated entirely was the use of an athlete's name in commercial advertising.

The conference voted to hold a pre-season baseball tournament between Christmas and New Year's next year with the seven members and one outside team participating.

The annual track meet will be at Texas A&M College May 11-12; the cross-country meet at Arkansas Nov. 19, the golf tournament to Texas A&M May 11-12 and the tennis tournament to Texas A&M May 11-12.

It was decided to provide for a playoff of a tie for the conference championship in basketball to select a representative for the NCAA regional tournament.

Spring training for football will be 26 days over a period of 35 days in the future.

Lamar Triumphs In Silver Bowl

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Lamar College of Beaumont overcame Mexico City College, 19-13 Saturday in the annual Silver Bowl classic.

The Texans trailed by one touchdown in the opening quarter, tied it up before the half, then dropped behind and went ahead again in the final period.

MCC's quarterback, Alejandro Esquivel, drove seven yards off tackle for the opening score. B. Lierman, Lamar halfback, evaded the count in the second quarter with a five-yard run around end. His placement failed.

After a mild third quarter, Lamar's reserves paid off. The Texans brought three teams while the local squad had only two.

Mexico City's end, Mullins, opened the fourth quarter by running a pass 20 yards for a score. Lamar attached, and Pace took the tying touchdown drive the goal on a five-yard drive off tackle. Hoiler scored the winner with a 12-yard dash around right end.

Mother Comiskey Is for Chandler
CHICAGO — (AP) — Mrs. Grace Comiskey said Saturday night the Chicago White Sox will back up the retention of Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

She indicated she would take to task her son, youthful Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the club, and General Manager Frank Lane for reportedly aligning the White Sox against Chandler in the ouster vote at St. Petersburg.

Mrs. Comiskey termed the procedure against Chandler "crudely handled" and indicated when there is a new vote, as is probable, the Comiskey organization would line up with the nine that wanted to extend Chandler's term. His present contract expires May 1, 1952.

Stiteler, from his home in College Station, indicated unwillingness to talk.

"Someone, possibly mistaking me for somebody else, took a poke at me as I was getting out of a cab near the Shamrock and there's nothing serious about it," he said.

Stiteler added he did not recognize the man who beat him so badly his face was cut, bruised and swollen. Then he said no more.

Assistant Police Chief A. C. Thornton apparently wasn't satisfied. He ordered an investigation.

"If Stiteler was actually beaten," said Thornton, "the police should know something about it. I want Stiteler to give us all the facts, including a description of his assailant, and perhaps some more information which has not been revealed."

The coach apparently wasn't badly hurt. He cancelled an engagement to speak Monday night at a Brownwood football banquet. He telephoned Tom Penn, sports editor of the Brownwood Bulletin, but preferred not to be in public for a while.

Stiteler's version differed from that of Frank S. Gettle, Jr., a garage attendant at the Shamrock Hotel. Gettle said he saw Stiteler get out of a station wagon at the garage.

"He picked up a suitcase and started to walk toward Main Street," Gettle continued. "A man dressed in a tuxedo got out of the station wagon and whistled."

Stiteler returned and the pair seemed to exchange some words. I couldn't hear what they were talking, but I know they were talking. There was no fight."

Gettle said Stiteler then asked him directions to the men's room. Another attendant said Stiteler washed his face in the men's room.

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

A committee of school administrators met in Dallas Wednesday, and this is what came out of the educational clamor.

The committee on military service and training said athletes should not be rejected for military service for physical reasons.

Right off I question the intelligence of this group of educators. I know of no greater reason for a man to be turned down for the service than a physical reason.

Athletes from every sport served their country well in WW2, and when the showdown comes, the athlete will be in number 3.

I would like to remind this astute group who met in Dallas that we have draft boards keeping an "eagle-eye" on potential draftees.

What burned me up was because the committee pointed a finger at the athletic. My advice to them is keep track of their own draft card, because I'm sure the athlete is taking care of his.

Eugene Cooper, stationed at Sheppard Field in Wichita Falls, has scored 11 consecutive knockouts with the Sheppard club.

Three Pampans will be in the stamnis this afternoon when the New York Giants and Browns clash at 2 p. m. in Cleveland.

However, Mrs. Clay will be glued to the radio about 1:45 this afternoon. It was Clay's field goal that stopped the Philadelphia Eagles, 9-17, last Sunday.

Football, basketball and track were made mandatory sports. The schools are to pick one other. Tennis and golf were dropped.

There can be no championship unless three of the five schools participate.

Joe's Failure in Comeback Against Ezzard Highlighted Humdrum 1950 Boxing Season

By JIM HART

NEA Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (NEA)—Professional boxing spent a humdrum 1950, highlighted by the disintegration of a fighter rather than by anything constructive.

Unquestionably, the most widely discussed development was Joe Louis' failure in his attempted comeback in which Ezzard Charles became undisputed heavyweight champion.

Missing the year saddle was the long-time, ruthless Louis' persistence in going on against the advice of his best friends.

Television hit harder than ever. Still when a good show was ended, few stayed away.

Lee Savold won the British version of the heavyweight leadership by knocking out Bruce Woodcock.

Joe's comeback was a flop when he returned from London after flattening Freddie Mills and acquiring the light heavyweight title, created little more when he knocked out Dave White in San Francisco 11 months later.

While he closed rapidly to win decisively from old Jersey Joe Walcott after a magnificent build-up, Felix Layne, the young man from Utah, failed to impress New Yorkers.

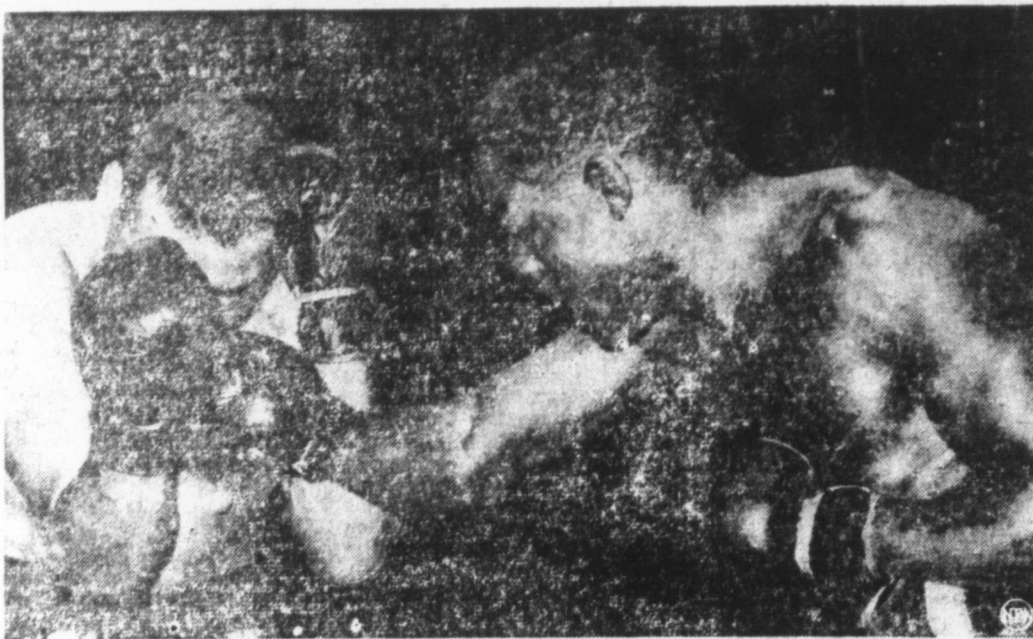

A 25-year-old southpaw from San Diego early in the year started his "Broadway" career in some time. Irish Bob Stuppy and his opponent, York Wagner in a round, Pampans down to 170, the red-headed light-heavyweight, who wants to fight anybody at any time, stopped tough Jimmy Beas in seven rounds in one of the most exciting scraps seen at Madison Square Garden in years.

Most muddled of all as a result of 1950 is the middleweight scene. Ray Robinson won Pennsylvania recognition as middleweight champion by outmouling Robert Vilas in the Frenchman in Philadelphia.

But Jake LaMotta steadfastly refused to have anything to do with Super Ray, whom many consider the finest fighter pound-for-pound since. After doing a workman-like job on Tibério Mitri, the blond Italian, at Madison Square Garden, LaMotta next dodged Robinson by tackling France's Laurent Dauthuille in Detroit. Dauthuille had the crown all wrapped up with only 13 seconds left, when he was flattened by the Bronx Bull. Robinson defended the welterweight wreath free, gratis and for nothing against Charley Fusari for the Cancer Fund at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium, knocked out the Hawaiian middleweight, Bobo Olson, in Philadelphia, among other things, then invaded Europe in grand style. He was awarded the Edgard Ward J. Neil trophy by the New York boxing writers for having done most for the game in 1950.

Another startling development, indicating the depths to which boxing has driven the beak-busting business, was the complete dearth of title bouts among the long-busy lightweights. Ike Williams hasn't put the title on the line since last December.

COVER MAN—Ezzard Charles made Joe Louis cover winning a clear claim to the heavyweight title, but the aging ex-champion persisted in further demonstrating that he was the Hollow Shell of 1950.

Williams hasn't put the title on the line since last December. After again outboxing and outfoxing Sandy Saddler for seven rounds, Willie Pep decided his shoulder was fatigued, and once more slipped the featherweight frock to the Harlem Negro.

Vic Toweel made something of a hit lifting Manuel Ortiz' banterweight bauble in Johannesburg. Dado Marino took the flyweight presidency from London's Terry Allen in Honolulu.

Ezzard Charles is beginning to catch on, but the year ends with promoters still looking for a heavyweight to lead them into the soft light of reflected green from important money.

his home town, Hubbard, in Central Texas. Speaker already is a member of baseball's big Hall of Fame.

Tris got his start in baseball as a southpaw pitcher at Cleveland when that town was in the Texas League in 1906. Speaker couldn't get the batters out and the owners planned to release him. Ben Shelton, manager of the club, persuaded the club owners to keep Tris and put him in the outfield.

The rest is history. He went to the big leagues where he played for 22 years and set records that stand today.

In 1912, while with Boston, he was voted the American League's most valuable player.

His lifetime major league batting average is .344. He hit over 300 in 18 seasons. He led the American League in 1916 with 386.

ANSIN—(P)—The Texas Longhorns put the damper on the old saying that "the best defense is a good offense."

Offensive minded teams like the Texas Aggies and SMU suffered severe blows when they tried to run through the Texas line.

Texas defeats the Tennessee Volunteers in their New Year's Day Cotton Bowl game at Dallas. It is likely to be more a story of rugged defense than of spectacular offense.

This is not to belittle the scoring ability of the Longhorns, but Texas has relied more on stopping its opponents than on simply out-scoring them.

Playing a rugged schedule that included such offensive powers as Oklahoma, Purdue, Texas A&M and SMU, the Longhorns yielded an average of 240 yards and 12.8 points per game to 10 foes.

Bucks Capture Cage Tilt From Lefors, 30-20

LEFORS—(Special)—The White Deer Bucks defeated the Lefors Pirates, 30-20, in a basketball game Friday night. White Deer's girls cagers scored a 34-8 win over the Lefors lassies.

Imel was high point man with 10 points, and Burchfield was high for Lefors with 9.

Bowling Tourney Leader Drops to Sixth Position

CHICAGO—(P)—Dick Hoover, 190-pounder from Akron blasted Buzz Fazio of Detroit out of first place in the national individual match game bowling championship contest today.

Fazio won all four of his games with the Detroit ace. It was Hoover's first start of the meet.

Hoover's win enabled Harry Lippe, Chicago, who took two from Thurman Olson, Detroit, to move into first place. Lippe is trailed by defending champion Junie McMahon, Chicago, and Lee Jouglaard, Detroit, in that order.

In beating Fazio, Hoover took over fourth place and dumped Fazio into the sixth slot.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig, defending women's champion, picked up valuable ground on Sylvia Wene.

Rod & Gun by ED FOSS. Illustration of a duck and a fish.

Today marks the end of duck season for another year. All things considered, it hasn't been too good. The most ducks were killed early in the season while there were still plenty of the small ducks such as teal in the area.

The hunters who had plenty of decoys and other necessary equipment killed quite a few mallards along about the middle of the season, but the last two weeks have been rather slow.

The main reason for this is the fact that the big flight of Northern ducks hasn't started in this area yet. Most of the mallards are still sitting to the north of us in the Dakotas, Missouri, Kansas, and the other northern states.

The seasons fall too early all the way down the central flyway. By setting these seasons early, there is always a good crop of waterfowl left for breeding the next spring.

The quail season is still furnishing plenty of sport for hunters over the state. According to all reports, there are plenty of birds to go around. There are a few areas which have been hunted out. In some of these places there isn't even enough stock left for breeding purposes.

I saw a duck's wing this week from a duck which someone had nearly have caught with a fishing rig. It had three hooks, a dumbbell sinker, about six inches of line, and a foot of leader in a material wrapped around it.

I was informed Saturday that Gene Sidwell, of Pampa, has purchased the White House Country Club near Canadian. The property has three lakes and a clubhouse on it. Many fishermen from this area are familiar with these lakes through fishing them.

That covers the hunting and fishing scene for another week. Don't forget to let me in on any news you get. Just call me, or drop me a card at the News. See you all next week.

MIAMI—(P)—Jockey Joe Culmone racing against time in an effort to crack a 44-year record, was injured Saturday in a bad spill during the fifth race at Tropical Park. His condition was not believed to be serious.

The 19-year-old Sicilian jockey, now only 18 winners short of the world mark, and apprentice jockey Larry Wilson tumbled from their mounts at the three furlongs post as Culmone's horse, New Wonder, fell. The Gink, with Wilson riding, also went down attempting to sidestep them.

A physician said he found a contusion on Culmone's head, a bad bruise on his left hip and the jockey was suffering from mild shock.

Earlier, Culmone had ridden his 370th winner of the year as he piloted the longshot, Dubious, to victory in the third race. The win left him 18 short of the 388 winners ridden by Walter Miller in 1906—a record yet unequalled.

There are 12 racing days left in the year. In Inglewood, Calif., jockey Willy Shoemaker, who has been Culmone's main rival, commented when he heard of the spill: "Gee, I'm sorry, I hope it isn't serious."

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK—(P)—Returning travelers from St. Petersburg say there were definite indications of coolness between Commissioner Happy Chandler and Baseball Secretary Walter Murphy before the great ouster move went through.

But the reason remains a mystery. Paul O'Leary, the young Bismarck, N.D., golfer who was rapidly becoming one of the most prominent tournament competitors, is scheduled to be inducted into the Army Jan. 8.

In two years on the trail, Paul has won approximately $5,800. Barney Ross is returning to the restaurant business in a New York spot which opens Monday.

Lake Easter, the Indiana big first baseman, has signed on as traveling secretary of the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Trotters, incidentally, have been playing to sellout crowds every night since they started their tour and owner Abe Saperstein is at a loss to explain such interest when the amusement business in general is in a decline.

The Chief, it seems, kept warning his players not to let up a minute or there'd be a sub hopping off the bench.

In a game against Connecticut, someone stepped on Douglas' hand and in the huddle he showed the injured member to tackle Art Post, remarking: "Take a look at my hand. I think it's broken."

Art looked, furtively and yelped: "Shut up. If the coach hears you, he'll take you out of the game."

Sonny Boy West, the Washington, D.C., lightweight, is a great nephew of former heavyweight champ Jack Johnson.

Jack Martin, the Hardin, Simmons U. basketball coach, isn't a bit superstitious about having a 13-man squad.

He wouldn't even mind if each would score 13 points a game.

Bill Tomaras, Washington State College wrestling coach, is only five feet, one inch tall. Naturally he doesn't trifle with the bigger members of his squad, which has finished 1-2 in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Sweetwater Clifton, who led the Wilkes-Barre baseball club in hitting and runs batted in last season, says he'll quit baseball for basketball if he has a good season with the Knickerbockers.

"It takes too much out of a fellow and I think I've got a better future in basketball," he explains.

George Barclay, Washington and Lee grid coach, after looking at movies of the Wyoming team, "Comparing their program weights with what I saw in their movies, I'd assume they weighed those Cowboys when they were freshmen and haven't revised their since."

Bradley U. is beating the drums for not just one but two All-America basketballers. Besides Squeaky Malchiorre, whose claim is pretty well recognized, Bradley fans say sharpshooting Bill Menn deserves top honors.

Betty Knock, who gets plenty of bumps and knocks in the roll-over derby, was a sixth-grade schoolteacher for five months.

Any parent of a six-grader can tell you she took the easy way out.

Connie Wonders Why Chandler Was Fired

PHILADELPHIA—(P)—Connie Mack, the retired baseball manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, said today he can't understand why A. B. "Happy" Chandler was fired as Major League Commissioner.

The president of the A's, 88 next Saturday, said: "Mr. Chandler has done a great job as commissioner of baseball. His accomplishments have been many. Frankly, I feel sorry for Mr. Chandler."

Major league owners notified Chandler early this week they were not renewing his contract when it expires May 1, 1952.

Chandler Didn't Get Along With Sports Writers

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
 Albert Benjamin Chandler was dismissed as commissioner of baseball as suddenly and unexpectedly as he was named. All sorts of reasons have been advanced for the major league owners' refusal to grant Happy Chandler a seven-year extension of his agreement. They range from the state of his present popularity in Washington to the swimming pool he once fell into in his backyard, with a wide accumulation of in-between. But the biggest rap against Chandler was the fact that he divided baseball into two camps, where the practical purpose of his office was to bring rival factions together.

Chandler not only split out the magnates who ultimately repudiated him, but also the country's newspapermen who write about the game. The latter was by far the more difficult job but Chandler in his total inability to attune himself to a nation-wide and big-league press, succeeded in doing it. Chandler's ill-advised statement regarding total mobilization spelling the end of organized baseball might have been the last log on the fire, but the resentment was much deeper and went back much farther.

West Texas State Buffs Drill for Sun Bowl Date

CANYON — (Special) — The West Texas State Buffaloes, 1950 Champions of the Tough Border Conference, returned to the drill fields this week with plenty of work staring them in the face, as they prepare for the date with Cincinnati University in the 1951 Sun Bowl Classic. The Kimbrough-coached eleven, fresh from placing eight men on the All-Border Conference teams, rushed into limbering up exercises following their two-week vacation, granted them at the conclusion of their 9-1 season. Leading the preparatory drills is Bill Cross, Canadian senior, and Charles "Wire" Wright, Canyon senior, the Buffaloes' devastating one-two punch. Both gained over 1000 yards this year and were named to Conference first team. Backing them will be Gene Mayfield, Quilake senior quarterback, who will do plenty of passing to bring his hurling to mid-season sharpness. Gene made the second All-Conference team.

Mustangs Clip Allison Twice

WHEELER — (Special) — The Wheeler Mustangs defeated Allison in a doubleheader cage tilt here this week; the boys won 30-20, and the girls squeaked out a 27-26 victory over the girls. Monday night the Wheeler Mustangs play host to Lefors for two games. Tuesday the Mustangs travel to Briscoe, and Thursday night they go to Canadian. All Buffaloes have recovered from injuries to the degree that all the team is suited out for practice the first time since the second week of the season. Pope Julius accepted the date of Dec. 25 as that of the birth of Christ.

Golden Gloves Meet Feb. 14-19

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Four of the eight 1950 Golden Gloves champions will not be back to defend their titles in the state tournament in February. A fifth may not compete. Two winners are professionals. They are light-heavyweight Michael Woolsey from Fort Worth and welter Adolfo Martinez of El Paso. Fly-weight Pat McCarthy of Amarillo, a finalist at Chicago last year, is in the Marines at San Diego. Fred Flores, who won the feather title while representing Allen Academy last February, had enrolled at LSU. Wallace Willard, middleweight titlist from Houston, is eligible but probably will not defend. That leaves Tom Adams, heavyweight from Hardin-Simmons; Johnny O'Gea, lightweight from North Texas State; and Felix Baker, bantam from Houston as the only champs likely to be back. The state tournament will be held here Feb. 14-19. The Texas winners will compete at the Chicago Tournament of Champions Feb. 26-28.

Meeting Scheduled

The Pampa Quarterback Club will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night in the district courtroom in the county courthouse. The Pampa-Wichita Falls game will be shown following the meeting.

Wharton, Kermit Advance To Class A Football Finals

(By The Associated Press)
 Kermit and Wharton advanced to the state Class A football championship by scoring wins Friday.

Del Mar Captures Second Bowl Game

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — Texas college teams have yet to lose a bowl game this year. Del Mar of Corpus Christi made it six straight Friday night as the Vikings whipped Holmes County Junior College of Goodman, Miss., 35-12 in the first annual Gulf Bowl here. It was Del Mar's second bowl victory in a week. Last week the Vikings whammed Garden City, Kans., 43-0 in the Junior Sugar Bowl at Monroe, La. Murphy Webster led Del Mar to its win over Holmes County as he scored three touchdowns, one on a 65-yard dash. The game was delayed an hour by repeated light failures. The Goodman, Miss., team, last week lost to Kilgore College 32-12 in the Memorial Bowl at Jackson, Miss.

The Colts 21-12 and Wharton downed the team that had tied it early in the season — New Braunfels — by a 28-12 count. And the Class B division wound up play for the year with three regional championships being determined. Columbia beat Pearland 21-13 for the Region 9 title. Palacios edged Dilley 6-0 for the Region 11 crown and Taft whipped Lyford 25-0 for the Region 12 championship. Happy, Rochester, El Dorado, Lewisville, Seagoville, Valley Mills, Granger, Leverett's Chapel and Tomball previously had won regional flags.

Great backs stood out in the Class A semi-finals. At Abilene Friday afternoon Rick Spinks scored one touchdown, kicked three extra points and rolled up 163 yards rushing in the Kermit conquest of Arlington. Vying for honors with the great Spinks was Don K. Brown, offensive center and defensive left end for Kermit, who scored two touchdowns — one on an intercepted pass and the other on a blocked punt. Rusty Gunn made one Arlington touchdown on an eight-yard blast and Raymond Glasgow got the other with a nine-yard run.

Marvin Felder was the big noise in Wharton's victory over New Braunfels at El Campo. He passed for two touchdowns and ran a punt back 80 yards for another. Sam Howard pitched for both of the Unicorn touchdowns. In fact, Howard turned in one of the greatest passing performances in schoolboy history. He completed 21 out of 46 for 362 yards.

Six More Texans Added to Special All-Star Games

(By The Associated Press)
 Six more Texans have been added to squads for special all-star football tilts. The latest announcements say back Frank Boydston and end George Cook of Baylor will play on the North squad in the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 6. Carl Moberg and Max Greiner, senior guards for the Texas Aggies, are on the South team for the Shrine's charity game at Miami Christmas night against a team from the North. The complete South squad also lists backs John Ford of Hardin-Simmons and Darrell Melsenheimer of Oklahoma A&M. Andy Hillhouse, junior offensive end at Texas A&M, who used his last year of eligibility, has accepted an invitation to play in the Shrine East-West game in San Francisco.

Rash Bid Is Crux Of Canadian Quiz

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You seem to have a sympathetic ear and a broad shoulder," begins on Ottawa reader, "so I am writing to you about my little tragedy. My partner was set 4400 points the other day, and I'm still trying to decide whether he is a dangerous lunatic, whether I am a bigger fool than he is, or whether it was just tough luck all around."

"I held the North cards and decided that my partner must be void in spades and must have something like seven solid hearts for his bid. If so, five hearts could not be badly hurt, and might even be made. I didn't think I had a defense against four spades, but was willing to defend against five. As you can see, my impressions could hardly have been more mistaken.

"My partner played the hand just as optimistically as he had bid it. He ruffed the second round of spades, led a diamond to the ace, led the nine of hearts (which East covered with the jack), finessed the queen of hearts, and then led out the ace of trumps! He had been hoping to drop the doubleton king-jack of hearts.

"The rest of the play was a nightmare. I think my partner could have lost more tricks if he would have been difficult. Careful play would have held the loss to 500 points, which would have been bad enough.

"Do I get sympathy, or just a good horse laugh?"

That depends. My Canadian friend left out the most important part of the story. Was his partner a complete stranger, or had they played together before?

Small Rodents Can Starve Fast if Cold

DAVIS, Calif. — (P) Small rodents, such as mice, can starve to death quickly in cold weather, says Walter E. Howard of the University of California. When it is cold and little animals must eat several times as much food as when it is warm.

They do not seem to be able to break down stored fat in their bodies fast enough to prevent starvation when it is cold. However, through use of warm nests and huddling they can keep warm enough to prevent the quick starvation, Howard says.

The Boom-da-Boom Thing Brings Cop

ENDICOTT, N. Y. — (P) — The "thing" in Mrs. James J. Daly's garage brought a policeman on the double.

Meanwhile, this report was written in the police book: "Mrs. Daly requests officer to come and shoot, or remove the thing from her garage. She is afraid to get in her car. Sands (Patrolman Lee Sands) got out of here with the boom-da-boom."

Q. and A. You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Q. My child was in the naval reserve. Without telling them anything about it he joined the Army. What will they do to him when they find out?

A. Take him off the rolls of the naval reservists. He hasn't done anything wrong.

Q. Would a man who has a dishonorable discharge from the Navy be drafted in the Army?

A. No, not if he tells the Army about his dishonorable discharge.

Q. If a person received a discharge from the Army for a disability not suffered in combat, is that person subject to recall?

A. Not unless he meets draft qualifications.

Q. You recently stated that a wife of a serviceman in Japan could go out there if she paid her own way. I can afford this and plan to fly out there. What steps should I take to make the trip?

A. Go to the nearest airline ticket office and lay your cash on the counter. The airline will give you any necessary instructions from there.

Q. My father received dependency checks from my brother in service while he was sick. He has recently gotten better and is thinking of taking a job. Does this mean the dependency checks will stop?

A. If a parent is more than 50 per cent dependent for support he qualifies for a dependency allotment. If the new job makes him less than half-dependent on his son he should inform the service of the situation and let the finance officer decide what is to be done.

A. Are only sons being kept out of combat?

A. Absolutely not. Only sole surviving sons are kept out of front-line fighting. That refers to men who have had brothers killed in service and are the only sons left in a family.

Group Carols Tuesday Night

The time for Christmas caroling of the Top of Texas chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., is going to do its part.

Bunny Schultz, president of the local organization, announced Thursday that next Tuesday night the chorus plans to tour the city singing Christmas carols. The chorus will visit both hospitals and would also like to make itself available to any shut-ins who would otherwise be unable to join in the Christmas season.

Schultz has asked anyone who is unable to get out, or who knows of someone who cannot leave their home, to send the address to Charley Stowell, secretary of the Top of Texas chapter, in care of the local postoffice. The chorus can then map out a schedule in order not to miss anyone on Tuesday night.

The practice of giving puppies as Christmas gifts has grown by leaps and bounds the last few years. Many a breeder plans his puppy crop to take advantage of this Yuletide trade. Perhaps this will give you an idea for that minute gift that has been do-

MEDAL FOR JOLSON—In Washington, Gen. George C. Marshall, secretary of Defense, pins a Medal of Merit on three-year-old Asa Jolson, adopted son of the late Al Jolson, as Mrs. Jolson looks on. The medal was awarded posthumously to the beloved entertainer "for his tremendous contribution to the welfare and morale of troops fighting in United Nations action in Korea."

Educators Disagree on Draft Of Nation's College Students

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Whether or not war comes soon, it seems certain this country will have to have a fairly large armed force for some years to come. Plans are being made now for larger forces.
The backbone of these forces, of course, will be young men. But the question, upon which educators themselves disagree, is this: What young men shall be forced to serve? All young men? Or should the brainiest youths be allowed to defer compulsory military service and go to college so that the country will be assured of a flow of educated men for the future?
Only last week in Look Magazine James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, stated his views of this. He suggested that every youth in America with out exception — be called into military service for two years.
And by every youth, he meant just that, with the physically able compelled to serve in the armed forces, and the physically unfit to serve in other jobs for the government at the pay the armed forces get.
What about college students? Should they be exempt? Conant says no. What about college education for those who want it? Conant says they can go to college after serving in the Army, Navy, or Air Force.
Conant suggests that every youth, upon reaching 18 or upon graduation from high school, be enrolled in military service. But what of deferring military service for a youth who wants to go to, or finish, college?
Conant says: "To defer military service until a young man's education is complete may mean deferring it four to eight years." Opposing that, he thinks they'd be better off, and so would the country, if they put in their military service first and then went to college.
Shortly after President Conant's views appeared, the Association of American Universities adopted a resolution saying more or less what Conant had said.
This association of educators is made up of 37 major colleges and universities out of the 1,800 in this country. Briefly, the AAU plan goes like this:
Military service of 27 months for all males, starting at 18, not later than 19. Seventeen-year olds could volunteer. There'd be no deferments except for extreme dog alone at home. While they were out a neighbor noticed a whisp of smoke coming from an upstairs window and called the fire department. The firemen arrived and broke open the front door. As they did so the terrier ran outside and began to do the one thing his master had so patiently taught him — guarding the premises.

The firemen were strangers and when they didn't heed his warning barks and growls the dog began to nip at their legs. Each time a fireman stepped toward the burning house the dog drove him back. For fully ten minutes the dog delayed the firemen in their efforts to combat the blaze. It was only after someone threw a coat over him and on a run he got to a garage, that the firemen were able to go about their business and extinguish the fire.
A FEW FEEDING HINTS
If you have followed this column in the past you will remember that I have recommended the feeding of fish to a dog once each week. Now there is another item that should be included in your dog's diet occasionally, namely liver. But before dwelling on the reasons why liver should be fed your pet a word like to return to the fish item for a moment. Canned salmon and other canned cat food, made from fish will answer your problem as to where and what type of fish you can secure for your dog.

Now back to liver: this type of meat is exceptionally high in vitamin B1 (aneurin) and vitamin G (riboflavin), and is considered the richest of all in vitamin A, all of which are essential in any dog's diet. In spite of the fact that liver is good for them many dogs will not eat it raw, so for this and other reasons, I advise that you boil the liver and cut it up before giving it to your pet.
Remember it is a good idea to vary your dog's diet from time to time. No one likes to eat the same thing day in and day out. While on the subject of feeding here's another hint worth remembering — add a pinch of salt to your dog's food once or twice each week.
DOG DEATH NOTICES
If you ever visit Los Angeles or see one of their local Sunday newspapers you will find such notices in them as: "Pal — no truer dog ever lived." or "Fritz — I could not have loved you more," and many other like expressions since you are the owner of a departed dog. As a part of the funeral service by a local pet cemetery these notices are published each week in memory of the dogs, cats and other pets that have been buried or cremated during the preceding week.

ENGAGED—Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Bowers announce the approaching marriage of Mr. Bowers' niece, Miss Theda Reed, to J. E. Walling, Jr., of the United States Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walling, Sr., Pampa.

SURELY THIS MUST be the best season of all! It's a time when we're all in a good mood—smiling even when we can't find parking space, can't get "waited on" quickly, or have to stand and stand in line at the postoffice. All that goes with the Yuletide, and any time something goes wrong we can blame it on the rush. There's time to manage the tree, wrapping packages, shopping, storing the pantry with goodies. It's especially fun to see big grown men up squeezing dolls and listening for the "Mama" or watching others enthralled in the intricacies of an electric train with speaking systems in the miniature depots, etc. Yes, it's a good time and I love it, love it!

OF COURSE, the Christmas cards have started rolling in. That's such a fine, old tradition. Our friend, M. K. Brown, could probably tell you the story of the first Christmas card, for the custom originated in England. It was over a hundred years ago that Sir Henry Cole was too rushed to write the customary Christmas letter so he had an artist sketch Christmas cards ... and we've been sending our greetings that way ever since.

ONLY THING ABOUT this Christmas shopping, when I want to get something accomplished, I will never, understand me, never attempt to take any of the children with me again. By the time we pushed our way to the toy counters, I was all disheveled and suffering a deep and painful regret for wearing high heels. When we got to the toys the kiddies scattered like quail with Frank Fata after them. I didn't have enough hands to hold on to all them at once ... and one time I looked down to see I was clutching the hand of some body else's child. Nope, it just doesn't pay to take children on shopping expeditions—even though they help pack the parcels home.

PAMPA PANORAMA: Wasn't that a fine luncheon at the Methodist fellowship hall Tuesday ... working people were especially pleased that they could just go in, sit down, and the turkey or ham was immediately placed before them ... quick service, that is ... This has been a busy week ... a whirl of parties has begun and will last right up to Christmas Day ... clubs are drawing names, etc., and various church groups plan socials ... the women bowlers had a good party, I heard ... On top of all the Christmas rush, people still have time for "wagging" ... On a wedding that jumped up on us, though, was the Bill Dixon daughter, Dorothy ... I think it was yesterday ... The Henry Speers' football-playing son, Bill, marries next Tuesday (believe 'tis) just as the Christmas holidays begin at New Mexico U. ... his bride-to-be is the roommate of the Russ Chisholms' daughter, Colleen, and incidentally, I think the wedding will take place at the Kapp's Kapp's house on the NMU campus ... a pretty girl in like a melody ... and there's none pricier than Mrs. McNeil, remembered by us as Virginia McNaughton, the C. J. McNaughtons' pride ... doesn't seem any time that she was a little bit thing, tap-dancing and doing acrobatics all over town ... then later "twirling" her way into our affections with the high school band ... Do declare I must be getting old ... Spotted Mrs. Chester Thompson, she had one of those clever little silk squares knotted at her neck ... incidentally, have you seen the variation of that scarf? ... designers are attaching small clumps of flowers to them and we had hardly seen those nationally advertised until I noticed some in our stores ... we do a good job of keeping up even if we are a little way from the nearest fashion center. Mrs. Walter Rogers looks beautiful in the corsage of holly and red carnations presented her at the Texas State Association banquet Monday night ... They had a lot of "wheels" from the state there.

THE BEST THING about the Elks' show the other night was we had all the fun and contributed to the charity drive to boot. Last Saturday night there was a review of things to come—the Elks dance, but still that wasn't like seeing the whole show—deep-voiced Bunny Shultz, wisecracking Toni Beard, the chorus lines, the sweater girl parade (OOOHHH! Mr. Mayor) and the kindergarten review. Wonderful evening.

ANOTHER EVENING well spent was at the high school Thursday evening when the FHA classes showed their projects. Pretty little Jane Wilson (the Frank Wilsons' daughter) acted as commentator and Joan Lunford furnished background music. Jane is a personable young lady, in a lot of the school plays, etc. Joan, who's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lunford, is one of the most talented of young pianists we know. Especially popular with the mothers in the audience was the showing of the little girl dresses. Made a lot of us long to pick up needle and thread, and start turning out the ruffles and lace that give flair to even the tiniest little dress.

THE SCHOOLS have gone all out in decorating. Saw a busy group of students hanging the paper over windows at the high school that make it look like stained glass. They have the same thing done at Junior High. All through the grades there are plans for Christmas plays and parties. Some were last week, but many will be coming up this next week because, you know, the kiddoes will be in school until next Thursday. Some of the classes are just as clever as can be, and a few are making the outside decorations for their parents. By the way, thanks again to the B&PW for bringing Jim Jacquet over from Amarillo to show his film on decorating. I enjoyed a lot of it.

EARLY THIS WEEK most people were still in the process of getting the outside of their houses decorated, but by Friday night there was an awfully lot of Christmas glitter showing. We went down to the park for the unveiling of the Christmas scenes and the assistance was evidenced throughout the crowd of local people and visitors. A fine program and splendid cooperation by all concerned contributed to the joy of the evening. Really, I'm feeling so happy and full of good will with all these Christmas festivities that I'd like to give both my readers a Christmas present. Think I'll wrap them up a great-big box just full of hints about

Christmas Cantata to Be Given Tonight

THE CHRISTMAS cantata, "Music of Bethlehem," will be presented by a community choir under the direction of the Rev. Winfred Walker, this evening, 7:30 o'clock, in the First Baptist Church. Soloists will be Mrs. David Collis, Ernestine Thornburg, and Winfred Walker. Accompanists will be Mrs. Hope Rusk at the organ and Mrs. Nest Edwards at the piano. The public has been invited.

Skellytown Rebekahs Plan Holiday Party

THE SKELLYTOWN Rebekah Lodge will hold the annual Christmas party Monday night. Each Rebekah has been asked to take a gift, not exceeding a dollar in cost, for a gift exchange. Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families and friends will have their Christmas tree Tuesday night when Santa Claus will be here to distribute the gifts. It will be open to the public.

What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

By MARY ANNE DUKE THAWING TURKEY

Many Home Demonstration Club women have frozen turkey in the home locker waiting for the Christmas Day feast. Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Sr., Wayside Club, will cook a large turkey—more than 20 lbs. dressed. Mrs. H. C. Graham of the Wayside Club and Mrs. Emmett Osborne of the Bell Club have small turkeys to bake—about 12 lbs. dressed.

These and others are asking, "Must frozen turkey be thawed before cooking?" The answer to this question: Large turkeys certainly should be thawed to make sure the thickest part of the meat cooks thoroughly. Also, it is easier to stuff thawed birds, and the stuffing is more certain to be thoroughly cooked when the bird is done. If not thawed first, the turkey takes one and a half times as long to cook, and the outside may be overdone and dry before the inside meat is done. Thawed turkeys are cooked just like freshly drawn birds.

The next question asked is: What is the best way to thaw a frozen turkey? The answer to this question: In the refrigerator and loosely covered—but with freezer wrappers off. A large whole bird takes about two days to thaw in the refrigerator; a small bird—or a half, quarter, or halfbreast, takes at least overnight. Do not hold a thawed turkey longer than 24 hours in the refrigerator, preferably not that long.

ROASTED IN FOIL

Not owning a roasting pan or an adequate roaster is no drawback to roasting the "juiciest" turkey you've ever eaten. Just use heavy duty foil. The procedure for roasting in foil is simple and easy. Just dress, stuff and truss the turkey in the usual manner. Use a sheet of heavy foil that is twice as long as the bird for the wrapping job. Place the bird lengthwise on one end of the foil sheet and then bring the foil up and over the bird and close all-foiled edges together.

Weigh the bird and be sure it is well greased and seasoned with salt and pepper before it is wrapped. Place the turkey in an uncovered roasting pan breast side up and it doesn't matter if the legs protrude over the edge of the pan. The oven should be preheated to 375 F. before the turkey is placed in the oven for roasting, and this same temperature should be maintained until the bird is done.

The eight to 10 pound stuffed bird should be cooked for two and one-half to three hours; an 11 to 14 pound bird from three and a quarter to four hours; a 15 to 18 pound bird from four to four and three-quarters hours and a 19 to 24 pound stuffed bird from five to six hours.

About 15 minutes before the roasting time is up, the foil should be slipped from around the turkey. Let the juice run down into the roasting pan so they will brown to just the right color for a glib gravy. The turkey should be brushed with melted fat or drippings.

There are two tests for determining when the turkey is done. Move the leg and thigh joint. If they give readily, the turkey is done. The second is to (See WHAT'S COOKIN', Page 18)

Double-Ring Rites Unite in Wedlock Miss Mary Jo Cockerill, Robert Meyer

Miss Mary Jo Cockerill became the bride of Robert Meyer in a double-ring ceremony read in the Methodist Church at Mooreland, Okla. The Rev. George Parkhurst, Blackwell, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, presided and the Rev. D. Allen Polen, pastor of the First Methodist Church, assisted.

Miss Cockerill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cockerill, Mooreland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyer.

Miss Barbara Casad, organist, presented a program of nuptial music, and Miss Maybeth Morris sang "O Promise Me" and "Through the Years."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue and pink slipper satin dress fashioned with a basque waist. The full skirt was worn over hoops and extended into a train. Her chrysanthemums and carnations with white satin streamers. Her "something old" was a white lace handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's grandmother, and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Colleen Cockerill, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore an ankle-length dress of blue satin with a lace yoke and matching blue lace mitts. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations.

Charles Meyer, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Rollin Shaul, Gordon Morrison and Bill Campbell.

Beverly Kay McPeeters, Stillwater, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her floor-length dress was of pink taffeta with velvet trim, being a bearer. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Ashland, Kans.

Jim Jacquet Tells B & PW Club of Holiday Trimming

Jim Jacquet of the Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo, showed pictures of Christmas decorations in previous years at a meeting of Business and Professional Women Tuesday night in the City Club Room. Mr. Jacquet, who was introduced by Murry Sealy, local SWPC manager, showed the pictures to give Pampan ideas for decorating their homes during the present holiday season for the Home Decorating Contest.

The speaker also showed pictures taken last year of the park decorations in Pampa.

Mrs. Gladys Howard, president, conducted a short business session when a letter from the national headquarters was read asking that each city appoint a representative to serve on the City-County Civil Defense Council, and Mrs. Howard announced that Mrs. Lillian McNutt will be chairman of that committee. The committee, she said, will work with a pending civil defense group which will be active in Pampa.

Mrs. Howard also announced that B & PW Club members have been urged to attend the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth this year and that Fat 1 has been named as B&PW Day there. On that day Judge Sarah T. Hughes, national B & PW president, will lead the grand parade and will be a special guest. All members will sit in a group on that day.

Club members were invited to call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beverly, 801 N. Cuyler, in their afternoon in honor of their wedding. Mrs. Beverly is B & PW club mother.

The club Christmas party will be held in the City Club Room at 7:30 Wednesday evening. There will be a special program and exchange of gifts with Santa Claus officiating. Miss Vivian Lafferty is in charge of arrangements.

Meeting Held by Council of Clubs

At a meeting of the Council of Women's Clubs, in the City Club Room letters were distributed to each club concerning the Christmas lighting project here. Representatives were asked to urge all club members to decorate their homes, and were told that manual training classes will help with the cut-outs if they can be completed before the holidays.

Laura Nell Berry Is Honoree at Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Laura Nell Berry was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower in a setting of blue and silver, her chosen colors, in the parlor of the First Methodist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. J. Epps, Mrs. C. McNaughton, Mrs. J. W. Brumley, Mrs. W. B. Kelly, Mrs. B. H. Riley and Mrs. Jesse Stroup.

Mrs. Brumley registered guests. Mrs. McNaughton presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Stroup served cake from a table covered with a white cutwork linen cloth.

The centerpiece was of blue carnations set in a wreath of silver leaves, and a crystal candelabra held tall blue candles.

A corsage of blue carnations was presented to the honoree and gardenia corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. C. W. Berry and to Mrs. Holt, mother of the bridegroom-to-be.

Miss Vivian Burke, at the piano, furnished background music, and Miss Olive Spencer sang "Through the Years," accompanied by Mrs. Virgil Mott.

Miss Berry was assisted in opening her gifts by Meses, Epps, Kelly and Nellis.

Miss Berry and James Holt will be married Dec. 24. The guest list includes: Meses, Mmes. C. W. Berry, J. W. Holt, Kenneth and Jo Ann, J. Baumann, Arthur Hefflin, G. K. Reading, R. M. John Beverlys Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. John Beverly, a law abiding, conscientious worker who has nevertheless known many of the bad men of the past century, and who, himself, made history by changing his political views enough to vote for a Republican congressman at the age of 93, and his lovely wife, Katie, will observe their golden wedding anniversary today.

Although they were married on Dec. 18, the Beverlys have chosen today for their celebration so that more of their friends will be able to call at their home at 501 N. Cuyler this afternoon.

Assisting at the reception will be Mrs. Beverly's niece, Mrs. Len Gordon, Mrs. Stanley Weidman and Miss Meilus Healy of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Jimmy Duke of Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly are both native Texans. He was born three miles south of Weatherford March 20, 1857 and she was born in Ellis County several years later. Mrs. Beverly tells his story this way: "I have lived in the western country most of my life. Farming and stock raising was my choice, especially cattle and horses. I have had some thrilling and I'm mighty proud to vote for him."

His experiences on the frontier. "In 1878 I went to Menard County, then an open range. The Indians had made a raid there and I notified the Rangers and helped to chase them away."

He tells also of driving herds of cattle to Dodge City, Kans., and other places before Kansas City was a cattle center. He was his story relates, the first cowboy to put the Mill Iron brand on a cow.

Continuing his story, Mr. Beverly said "I had many good and faithful friends during my range life, united with the First Christian Church in Clarendon in 1899. Then, on Dec. 18, 1900 at the First Christian Church I was married to Miss Katie Jordan, a beautiful and talented woman—my good wife and helper ever since."

Mrs. Beverly is indeed a talented woman. She makes beautiful ceramics and has been a business woman most of her adult life. She was with a dry goods store in dresses, and even done modeling. She was with one dry goods in Clarendon for 15 years. I was one of the original staff of workers when the local Penney Store opened its doors.

She recalls that her wedding dress was made of white French organdy trimmed with white satin in ribbon. It had a semi-train and basque waist with a high collar. She designed and made it herself. This afternoon she will wear a frock of black net with a velvet jacket.

During his long and colorful life on the frontier Mr. Beverly has met and known many kinds of people. He said he had met such well known characters as Belle Starr, Sam Bass, Cole Younger and Frank James.

He recalled that when his father, James Beverly, lost an arm during the Civil War, it was Belle Starr who washed and dressed the wound and "shoed the flies off of him." He said "I know she was rough but as long as my father lived he rose on her grave because she was so good to him." He said he also knew the woman's daughter, and that she was a "fine lady."

Mr. Beverly is a little worried about a story that was printed recently, stating that he had voted the Republican ticket. He said "I wouldn't want people to think I'm crazy. I did vote for a Republican, but I split the ticket. After all, we've got about the best governor we've ever had."

WILL MARRY SOON—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walker, 613 N. Dwight, are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret, and James R. Nichols, son of Mrs. Mabel Beamer of San Mateo, Calif. The ceremony will be read Friday evening, Dec. 29. The place has not yet been chosen.

Christmas Party Is Given for Parish Council and Altar Society

The Parish Council and Altar Society of Holy Souls Church were entertained with a Christmas program Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. F. Schwind.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. F. Schwind, Mrs. W. J. Haley, Mrs. George Dillman, Mrs. H. G. Provitt, Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Mrs. L. J. Yanda, Mrs. E. Urbanczyk, Mrs. C. W. Wheeler, and Mrs. William Finkbeiner. In their short business meeting the Altar Society voted to reserve a fund for the main altar in the proposed new church.

The trophy won as first prize for the float in the Santa parade was displayed. Miss Betty Schwind and exchange of gifts with Santa Claus officiating. Miss Vivian Lafferty is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Miss Jean Chisholm were in charge of the program, "Christmas Customs in Other Lands." Mrs. Boyd introduced Mrs. M. F. Richey who gave this introduction: "Christmas in the United States is not like Christmas in any other land for it is like Christmas in many lands. As children of other lands became children of the U. S. they brought with them rich treasures of custom and tradition. And into the pattern that is now America's Christmas have been woven colorful threads of bits of Christmas from everywhere. Carols from England, St. Lucia celebrations from Sweden, the Yule log from France, the Christmas Crib from Poland, the Bird's Christmas Tree from Norway and many more delightful traditions are now a part of Christmas in America."

The following women told of Christmas customs in the respective countries: Mrs. Tom Wade, Sweden; Mrs. L. J. Flaherty, Poland; Mrs. Harold Allen, Italy; Mrs. John Taylor, England; Mrs. Albert Donette, Mexico; and Mrs. Walter Pung, Germany. Carols were sung between each description by the choir of Holy Souls Parochial School. Concluding the program, Mrs. Roche said, "We have seen that at the Christmas season, the entire Christian world re-lives the miracle birth of Christ. We see all Christians bow in adoration as Mary holds in her arms the Holy Child. And while people of many lands bow in adoration to the King of Kings, not always are the melodies of their songs the same, nor their customs and traditions alike, but they all seek the star that shone over the stable where Christ was born in Bethlehem. They all bring gifts of gold and frankincense and myrrh. And the message of their songs, whatever the language is, glory to God, and on earth, peace."

After the program Rev. Otto Meyer gave a summary of the speech made by Cardinal Spellman at the Price College dedication ceremony in Amarillo Tuesday.

Concluding the meeting Mrs. Dick Sullivan installed the following new officers for the Altar Society: Mrs. A. D. McNamara, president; Mrs. Russell Chisholm, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Walker, secretary, and Mrs. W. S. Brake, parliamentarian.

Those present were: Rev. Otto Meyer, Rev. Anthony Sokille, Mrs. F. A. D. McNamara, Mrs. Frank Walker, Mrs. Russell Chisholm, Mrs. W. S. Brake, Mrs. George Dillman, Mrs. J. F. Schwind, Mrs. W. J. Haley, Mrs. A. B. Zahn, Mrs. George Bunch, Mrs. H. W. Waddell, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, Mrs. Harry Carlson, Mrs. John Icard, Mrs. Walter Rogers, Mrs. Joe Hayden, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., Mrs. W. B. Herr, Mrs. Roy McKernan, Mrs. Battreal, Mrs. Rhymiller, Mrs. Ralph Kiser, Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Jr., Mrs. Dick Sullivan, Mrs. Walter Pung, Mrs. H. G. Provitt, Mrs. L. J. Yanda, Mrs. J. F. Schwind, Mrs. Farwell, Mrs. Francis Schwind, and Miss Betty Schwind.

'All This is Christmas' Is Topic Of Twentieth Century Club Program

"All This is Christmas" was the subject of the Twentieth Century Club meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Frank Culbertson, with Mrs. V. J. Jamieson as co-hostess.

The program, which was a review of what Christmas means to America, was led by Mrs. Lloyd Hicks. Said Mrs. Hicks: "Because of the alarming condition in our world today, we realize more than ever before how very special and precious our Christmas in America is, for Christmas means so many lovely and wonderful things to us."

Mrs. Raymond Harrah sang "The Snow Bird." Mrs. Fred Neslage gave "Christmas Remembrance" and "God's Gift on Christmas Day." Mrs. George Vineyard formed the program, "Frosty, There a Santa Claus?" written by the editor of the New York Sun.

A star shone on a miniature manger scene beside the gold Christmas tree. The leader said, "The magic of the season joins hands with holiness, for Christmas is so many things to us—all of them blessed—because a star shone one night long ago over a stable in Bethlehem, where lay a new born Babe in a manger, the greatest gift of all, the gift of God to man."

"Away in a Manger," sung softly by Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., closed the program. "Frosty, the Snowman" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" formed background music.

At the close of the program the doors were opened into the dining room where tea was served from a long table which was covered with a green cloth and centered with a miniature gold tree and lighted with Christmas candles. Mrs. George Scott, club president, poured the tea.

Those present were Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. E. L. Campbell, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., Mrs. F. W. Gordon, Mrs. Ray Hagan, Mrs. P. W. Shotwell, Edna Purvis and Dorothy M. E. Cox, L. K. Michael, E. E. Seitz, Joseph Carlisle, Sr., R. Virgil Mott, Wesley Matlock, Henry English and R. H. Woodfill and Pat.

Social Meeting Monday

The Ester Club will meet with Mrs. J. W. Crisler, 422 N. Cuyler, at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Each member will take something for a basket for the needy. A gift exchange will also be held.

Those present were: Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. E. L. Campbell, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., Mrs. F. W. Gordon, Mrs. Ray Hagan, Mrs. P. W. Shotwell, Edna Purvis and Dorothy M. E. Cox, L. K. Michael, E. E. Seitz, Joseph Carlisle, Sr., R. Virgil Mott, Wesley Matlock, Henry English and R. H. Woodfill and Pat.

Emmaline Rohde, Alfred Osley Wed

A ceremony in Guymon, Okla., Monday evening, Nov. 6, united in marriage Miss Emmaline Rohde and Alfred Osley. Officiating was the Rev. K. Faulkner of the Four Square Church.

Mrs. Faulkner, at the piano, played "Always," "I Love You Truly" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

For the wedding the bride wore a winter-white wool dress trimmed in gold sequins, and a small winter white hat. Her gloves were white and she wore black suede shoes trimmed in black patent. Her corsage was of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a gray suit with a corsage of pink carnations, and the bridegroom's mother was in brown and she also had a corsage of pink carnations.

For the wedding trip to points in Texas the bride wore a navy blue suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Osley are now at home in Guymon.

White Deer Doe Club Entertained at Party

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Members of the Doe Club, the high school girls' letter club, were entertained at a Christmas party, Tuesday evening, in the home of the president, Clara Meaker.

Mrs. J. R. Meaker, the club mother, led the girls in games and then they sang Christmas carols. Gifts were exchanged by the girls; Mrs. Meaker was presented with a Christmas corsage and Mrs. Lloyd Wells corsage was presented with a bottle of perfume.

Refreshments were served.

Club members present were Beth Smith, Wanda Richardson, Joyce McCoy, Bette Webster, Betty Lou Coker, Barbara Lewis, Nancy Ford, Ernestine Thornburg, LaVerne McAdams, Givya Bates, Barbara Bentley, Betty Jane Powers, Carolyn Evans, Madeline Dowd, Jean Tiffany, the hostess, and the sponsors.

Social, Gift Exchange For Sunday School Of White Deer Church

WHITE DEER — (Special) — The TEL Class of the White Deer Baptist Sunday School held its annual Christmas party and exchange of gifts Tuesday afternoon in Sunbeam Hall.

After the group has sung "Silent Night," Mrs. C. P. Hussey, president of the class, welcomed the members and guests. Mrs. M. E. Wells, teacher, read Luke 2:1-20, and Mrs. F. E. Evans led in prayer. Mrs. Neal Edwards then told "The Story of the Other Wise Man."

The hall was decorated with a manger scene in the alcove, an arrangement of wise men and camels on the mantel, and evergreens and red flock covered tumbler seats about the room. Mrs. Charles Milligan was chairman of the decoration committee.

A salad plate with angel food cake and coffee was served to Misses Hussey, Wells, Edwards, Evans, Milligan, Brooks, J. W. Wells, M. C. Doss, Eva Inman, Joe Harvey, Alta Boyd, T. G. Brewton, J. D. Edgar, G. A. Bell, J. W. Ward, F. J. Smoot, Sarah McKiel, W. E. Moore, Alma Thornburg, E. L. Colgrove, Rilla Enoch, Jessie Pearson, W. B. Carey, and J. W. Evely.

1. If you do not have a roaster large enough for a turkey, it may be roasted in the foil without a pan. Heavy duty foil must be used. Drain the juice off carefully when unwrapping to brown, so it does not spill in oven.

2. If your family is small bake a half turkey for Christmas and freeze the other half.

3. When roasting turkey not wrapped in aluminum foil place breast down on a rack in an open pan, cover with an open textured fat moistened cloth. Bake at 300-325 degrees F. After one hour turn the breast up to complete roasting. Cover well with greased cloth.

Varietas Club Has Holiday Party

Mrs. S. C. Evans, 1800 Charles, was hostess to the Varietas Study Club for the annual Christmas party.

The house was decorated throughout in the Christmas theme.

Tea was served from a table covered with a linen cutwork cloth and centered with holly and cardies.

Mrs. W. R. Lane presented the program on "Famous Women of the Bible," giving a short history of them all. Mrs. Sherman White gave "Unknown Women of the Bible," telling a story of Anna of Nazareth, the mother of Mary.

At the business meeting Mrs. H. H. Butler made a report on the convention which she attended in Fort Worth Nov. 14 to 16. Mrs. W. L. McKinney presided at the business session.

Gifts were exchanged from a lighted Christmas tree.

Attending were Mrs. J. G. Cargile, Mrs. J. G. Doggett, Mrs. H. P. Dozier, Mrs. H. H. Butler, Mrs. H. T. Hampton, Mrs. Lee Harris, Mrs. F. E. Imel, Mrs. Dow King, Mrs. R. W. Musical Soiree To Be Given Monday

The first part of the program to be presented by pupils of Mrs. May Foreman Carr in the City Club Rooms at 7:30 Monday evening, will be given by pupils of the grade schools and junior high. The opening number will be a boys' Quartet, "Patriot's Parade" by Chenoweth, which will be played by Bill Atkinson, Courtney Cambren, Jay Baker and Grant Cambren. A feature of this part of the program will be the "Rhapsody in D Minor" by Federer, a piano solo with orchestral accompaniment, which will be played by Pat Reynolds with Mrs. Carr playing the orchestral parts on a second piano. Rochelle Smith will sing a Christmas solo, "Oh Holy Night," accompanied by Mrs. Carr.

Pop looks longingly at a comfortable chair in a department store and we tell him it would look horrible in the living room. He meekly accepts the verdict.

He announces that he is going to buy a new suit and Mama either tags along to make sure he gets what he thinks is right or gives him explicit directions about the kind of suit to buy.

Even when he goes down and selects a gift for Mama to surprise her on her birthday or wedding anniversary, Mama may sneak back to the store and exchange it for something she likes better.

No wonder the poor men don't trust their own ability to pick out anything without first consulting Mama. She is so sure that her taste is better than any man's could possibly be, she has finally succeeded in persuading her husband that she's right.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET

The woman was sitting at the glove counter of a department store trying on gloves when her husband came clear across the store to get her okay on a necktie he was buying for himself. "You're sure it's all right?" he asked anxiously.

Like a lot of other husbands that one has evidently been made so aware of his wife's superior taste he has reached the point where he doesn't trust himself to pick out even a necktie without help.

It's amazing, and kind of pitiful, too, the way we women have managed to set ourselves up as the final authority in the family on all matters of taste.

Just Look What Santa Started

Well, I think I've got all the presents wrapped now. Did I tell you, dear, that I'm sending you Aunt Nell that funny little traveling sewing kit that Aunt Maria sent to us last year? After all I never used it — when do I get a chance to travel? — and I'm sure Aunt Nell can sew.

No, not much left to do except some odds and ends. By the way, what are we doing about "remembering" people this year. Let's see, there's the mailman, the garbage man, the milkman. Do you suppose there's some law about remembering the policeman, I hope so. And the deliveryboy from the grocer — he was so nice during that snow-storm, remember? And the little Davis boy that delivers papers, I think we'll have to give $5 this year. I was so embarrassed last Christmas when I found out all the families on the block had done more than we had. Honestly, it seems to me I could get a deep freeze with the money we give around at Christmas. But I suppose it's the spirit of the thing. And it does seem to me that everything I buy for gifts is something I never figure I can afford for myself.

The most awful thing happened yesterday. I got four Christmas cards from people I haven't sent them to. I suppose I should rush out this minute and mail cards to them so they won't know I forgot them. No, I always think New Year's cards are a dead give-away that you overlooked them.

Do we know anyone named Fred in Florida? Here's this box of glazed fruit. Obviously it's a Christmas present, but it doesn't say anything except season's greetings from Fred. I used to know a Fred in high school . . .

Oh, I'll be home until late tonight. Office party again? But you promised to come home early and trim the tree. That's what you said last year, but you certainly couldn't trim a tree when you got home. Try to act your age this year — and don't come home all smeared with lipstick.

And before you catch your bus, I'd like to talk to you a minute about the holidays. We've served cocktail invitations — and one from the Smathers. I'm embarrassed to go there again until we do something in return. Do you realize that we've been to at least four parties at their house and it's been two years since we've had anyone but your mother come here?

I think the least we can do this year is to have some sort of a party. We owe everyone in town, particularly in this block. What would you say to our inviting a few friends over for egg-nogs around noon on Christmas? That's such a dull time for everyone . . . oh, I think maybe 15 couples. And certainly we'll ask the Joneses — we're going to their house New Year's Eve. Of course you knew we were going to the Joneses. I know you don't like Charlie Jones, but when I told you about it you didn't say anything — remember, you were watching that prizefight on TV — so I went ahead and accepted. I hope this year you won't start any fights like you did last year. Poor Charlie had a black eye for a month. I never was so embarrassed. Well, you wouldn't want us to just sit home New Year's Eve, would you?

And one more thing. I haven't got a thing to wear. I thought I'd get some little inexpensive thing if we're having some people in Christmas day. I can't wear that old rag of a taffeta I've had for years. And you promised me last year I could have a new evening gown. I've picked out just the very thing — it's a simple, black, stretch lines and I could wear it for years, so I'll pick them up today. Oh, stop fussing, we've charge accounts . . .

I can't figure out why you say you hate the holidays. Everyone I know loves them. And I think very few New Year's resolutions had better be to treat your wife better. I'd like to see how far you'd get without me.

Shower Is Favor For Miss Anderson

Miss Elva Jean Anderson, bride-elect of Mike Shepis, was honored recently with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Lester Brown, 853 E. Kingsmill.

Hostesses were Mrs. H. M. Stokes, Mrs. Lester Brown, Mrs. Tom Perkins, Mrs. A. L. Prigmore, Mrs. Ruth Mosely, Mrs. Claude Wilson, Mrs. Rufe Jordan, Mrs. Orval Batson, Mrs. Clyde Batson, Mrs. J. H. Tucker, Mrs. Hugh Ellis, Mrs. Rupert Orr, Mrs. Ernest Edwards, Mrs. M. D. Dwight, Mrs. Hattie Holt, Mrs. Cecil Lunsford, Mrs. D. E. Jameson and Mrs. Bill Greene.

Punch and cake were served from a lace covered table. The honoree's chosen colors, burgundy and gold, were carried out in table decorations. The centerpiece was a large arrangement of asters flanked by candles. Corsages of gold and burgundy asters were presented to Miss Anderson and her mother, Mrs. L. H. Anderson.

Rich Pumpkin Pie With Spicy Pie Crust

Mix together in large mixing bowl, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon ginger and 1-2 teaspoon salt. Stir in 1-3 cup molasses and 1-2 cups strained cooked or canned pumpkin. Add 1 cup milk. Beat together 2 eggs and 1 egg yolk, saving egg white. Add to pumpkin mixture. Beat egg white until stiff and fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into 9-inch spicy pastry shell and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cut a large Christmas tree shape from leftover pastry and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) until brown. Place in center of baked pie.

Spicy Pastry for Pumpkin Pie

Sift together in large mixing bowl 2 cups sifted flour, 1-4 teaspoon baking soda, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon ginger, and 1-4 teaspoon cloves. Cut in 2-3 cup shortening. Mix together 1 tablespoon vinegar and 3 tablespoons orange juice, or any fruit juice you may have on hand. Add to pastry and mix lightly with a fork. Roll dough 1-8 inch thick and line 9-inch pie pan with the pastry. Cut off the pastry one inch beyond the edge of the pan. Turn the border under to make a rim around the pan. Press rim between thumbs and forefinger to make scalloped edge.

Pecan pie is another good dessert idea. Here's the recipe which Mrs. Noble J. Johnson, wife of the representative from Indiana, gave to the Congressional Club Cook Book.

Pecan Pie (Served 6)

Three eggs (well beaten), 1-4 cup dark brown sugar, 1-2 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup light corn syrup, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup pecans.

Combine eggs, sugar, syrup, salt and melted butter. Mix well. Add vanilla and pecans. Bake in unbaked pastry shell about 40 minutes in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

As the last strokes of midnight faded upon the air, the Ghost of Christmas Present vanished, leaving Scrooge quite alone.

But he was alone only for a moment. Then he saw that by his side stood a third ghostly visitor. "Am I in the presence of the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come?" asked Scrooge.

The Ghost nodded and took Scrooge to where a group of businessmen were gossiping. "Whom did he die?" asked one. "Last night, I believe," replied another. "Old Scrooge has got his own at last," chuckled a third.

Auto Makers Catching Up With Showing

By DAVID J. WILKIE, AP Automotive Editor
 DETROIT — (AP) — The auto industry is slowly catching up with its new model program. As of today all the 1951 models have been introduced or previewed by dealers and industry writers excepting Oldsmobile and Chrysler's four makes. Over last week-end General Motors 1951 Chevrolet and Pontiac models were shown by dealers. Chrysler corporation's new cars will not reach the retail market until some time in January. Engineering and styling details of the new Cadillacs will be announced on Dec. 18 but the cars will not be shown by the dealers until Jan. 3. Major changes in the new models are few. They bear out earlier speculation that most styling changes would be confined to new radiator grilles and the raising of rear fender crowns. The latter change, noted in some of the most popular makes, give the new models a lower and longer appearance. Packard and Kaiser-Frazer redesigned their bodies. Chrysler, reportedly, will show some distinctive appearance changes. Speculation increases regarding what plans the corporation may have for automatic transmissions in its Plymouth cars. Exception for Plymouth, just about every make of car now has some type of automatic transmission.

Model T to Play
 ABILENE — (Special) — John (Model T) Ford, who passed for 58 touchdowns and accounted for 366 points, gaining national recognition, while quarterbacking for the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys, will play in the annual Mah Shrine Temple North-South football game in Miami, Dec. 25.

Henry Cleans Up Odds And Ends of His Thoughts

By HENRY McLEMORE
 Odds and Ends of a Bargain Basement Mind: Will some reader, kind or unkind, please tell me why a man's age is measured by the kind of job he has? It's a fact, but why? . . . Let a man become the president of a bank or of a university, or a three-star general, at the age of 45 or thereabouts, and he'll invariably be referred to in print as young. On the other hand, have you ever heard of a 45-year-old Western Union messenger being thought of or referred to as young? . . . The same goes for baseball players, truck drivers, newspaper columnists, and fireman. . . . Yet, in my book, 45 is 46. . . . The years are there, brother, whether you're sitting behind a mahogany desk or tooling a truck and trailer down No. 1 highway. I am quite sure that the entire reading public of the U. S. is heartbroken over the rift between Liz and Nicky, meaning the beautiful gal who jilted Glenn Davis in favor of a boy whose papa owns a mess of hotels. . . . Most of us Americans had become so accustomed to stories and pictures of Liz and Nicky's wedded bliss as we were to our morning coffee. . . . To think that this marriage, which gave every promise of lasting a full 70 years, has gone on the rocks in such a short time! But on the brighter side, hasn't your heart lifted to the very clouds by the pictures of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor a-necking on the deck of the Queen Elizabeth when she docked in New York recently, thereby putting an end to the rumor that they had grown tired of traveling half a million miles a year together.

I must say, though, that the Duke, judging by the pictures of the royal amuck, is a second-rate kisser. . . . The average 18-year-old soda jerk or high school football can outkiss his Royal Highness from here to yonder. . . . What the Duke lacks is early training in the now long forgotten rumble seat. . . . Speaking of rumble seats, do any of you unfortunates remember double dates and how the other fellow tried to get you to drive so he could have the dear, wind-swept privacy of the rumble seat. . . . I have had boys trust me at the wheels of their fathers' cars when it was even funnier that I would plunge over the first cliff or steer into the nearest tree.

Why are people who have a hard time going to sleep proud of it? . . . You never hear men who go to sleep as soon as their heads hit the pillow talking about this knack. . . . It is those of us who lux and roll and smoke another cigarette and turn on the light to read another chapter, who talk about it all the time. . . . We chatter up interesting conversation by describing to one another a blow-by-blow description of what happens to us when we go to bed and can't go to sleep. . . . How many people are there who go to a fellow tell about how he can't go to sleep? . . . My guess is none.

Among the people who annoy me to death are owners of foreign make cars. . . . Just because they own a car that is uncomfortable, has the drive on the wrong side as far as this country is concerned, and have a devil of a time getting spare parts, they can hardly drive the thing for acting superior. . . . It would serve these snoots right if all they could ever ride in was a foreign car. . . . They'd be walking half the time, or bumping rides from owners of American cars. Let 'em go to Europe and see

Convicts Battle Over Tree Tilt

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Some convicts are particular about their Christmas tree. Warden Clinton Duffy sent a tree into San Quentin's death row yesterday. Lewis Franklin Smith started to decorate it. But Caryl Chessman, 29, declared the tree was crooked and unfit. John Allen slugged Chessman. Smith and Allen went to the prison hospital for repairs. Chessman to solitary confinement. Chessman was sentenced to die for armed kidnap-rape; Smith and Allen for killing a fellow convict at Folsom Prison.

2 Years Needed To Match Arms

LOW ANGELES — (AP) — It will take us two to three years to match Russia's military strength, says Paul G. Hoffman, former ECA administrator. In a speech yesterday, Hoffman said Russia has 70 divisions, compared to our 45, but that "Stalin is afraid to send the bulk of his armies out of Europe because he fears a revolution at home." Hoffman warned "we must not walk out of Korea." "We have made our commitment and the United Nations commitment in Korea," he said. "We cannot walk away from it and retain any standing in the world." To be driven out does not

Conductor Max Reiter, Who Started on Shoestring, Dies

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Max Reiter, who played a shoestring into one of the nation's foremost symphony orchestras, is dead.

The little man who came to the United States in 1888 with $40, a letter from Arturo Toscanini and a burning desire to have his own orchestra left as a monument to — the one here and one at Waco.

He died late yesterday in the hospital where he had been under treatment since a heart attack last Wednesday.

Born in Trieste in 1865, Reiter chucked a successful career as a conductor in various European countries to come to New York City. From there he picked Texas as a spot that might use his talents. He started for the Lone Star State with a list of 18 towns and $217 he had saved while working in New York in his pocket.

How he got his orchestra — not one but two — was a heartwarming story.

Reiter stopped off in Waco, a central Texas town of less than 100,000 in 1888, while enroute to San Antonio. He talked to various people and was encouraged to try and start a symphony.

In San Antonio he received additional encouragement. So he started two orchestras, and built the one here into national renown. It was the first big budget symphony in Texas.

"He started with a scratch orchestra," said John Rosenfield, amusements editor of the Dallas Morning News and a close personal friend. "He brought in musicians from Dallas and Houston to play his concerts."

It was tough going for Reiter for a while, but he played the music that would appeal to the people and he took his orchestra into the little cities of Texas, playing in whatever facilities the town could offer. Once he conducted a concert in the middle of the high school football field at Cuero, Texas, in weather so cold that the musicians that could wear gloves.

As his orchestra grew, so did Reiter's reputation. He was a frequent guest conductor of other symphonies, including that of the National Broadcasting Co.

He started an opera season for

San Antonio that has grown into one of the city's leading events and he delighted in introducing new musical compositions.

Reiter studied music and law in Munich and began his musical career with the Berlin Opera. He later was conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra of Munich and conducted the symphony of the Royal Conservatory of Milan.

He is survived by his wife, the former Mrs. Pauline Goldsmith — one of those who encouraged him to found the symphony here — and a sister, Mrs. Elsa Caminer of New York City.

Wilson Says Auto Curbs Confiscatory

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Walter Wilson of Dallas told the Senate-House committee studying anti-inflation moves yesterday government curbs on auto installment buying "is confiscatory."

"The average used car dealer is just about out of business," he said. Wilson is president of the National Used Car Dealers Assn.

The Federal Reserve Board has ordered car buyers to pay a third down and the balance in 18 months. Wilson's group wants 24 months for installments.

Reformatory Due Change in Texas

The Gatesville State Training School for Boys will soon be no more if the newly created Youth Development Council has its way.

Instead there will be four schools for wayward boys at different points of the Lone Star state, each serving a like but somewhat different purpose.

Reforming the state's reform system had its beginning when the 51st Legislature created the Youth Development Council and abolished the reformatory method in Texas. While the reformatory no longer exists as such, the Gatesville School still does, and under some of the worst conditions imaginable.

All of this was brought out at a meeting Friday afternoon in 31st District Court Room where juvenile officers, county judges and representative citizens from all parts of the Panhandle were addressed by James Atlee, superintendent of Gatesville, who painted a dreary picture of the institution's facilities for rehabilitating delinquent boys.

Atlee made no bones about Gatesville being the last resort when a boy gets out of hand, even for local authorities.

He attributed this to lack of proper facilities in handling the 400 to 500 students at Gatesville.

The facilities lacking at the school, he explained, are proper living quarters, the boys being in mass custody have to sleep in large dormitories where the lights are never allowed to be turned off, buildings in had repair, plumbing installations as bad or worse, the entire population at the school having to live under restrictions laid down only because a few have to be held strictly in line — i.e., only a few boys should not be allowed to use knives and forks at meal time; so the whole student body is permitted to eat only with a spoon. Feeble minded boys and boys declared "dependent children are also sent to Gatesville, the majority of them having no business with delinquents. Boys of all age groups and all types are kept at the school with segregation being next to impossible. These, he added, are the results of "mass custody."

Atlee added that the state has been adding to the institution during the 62 years it has been in existence, but with all this the lack of proper facilities inside the school were the main problem.

Prior to Atlee's talk, William McKay, regional director of the Youth Development Council, Lubbock, described how a delinquent gets his start. He traced the spread of wrong doings by the child from infancy where a baby is mistreated by its parents by neglect, over punishment or indifference. He pointed out that school teachers, because of their training, are in a better position than anyone to detect a potential delinquent by observing their students during school hours, how they react to discipline, cooperate with their fellow classmates, whom they associate with, the attention they pay to their studies, attendance at school and general behavior.

All of this led up to the last talk, given by Lewis Nordyck, a member of the council from Amarillo, who explained the future plans of the Youth Development Council. The council, he said, will attempt to persuade the State Legislature to provide funds for creation of four training schools, abolish Gatesville, sell the property and dispose of the buildings. Place the schools in large cities where they will not be the "main attraction" to visitors. The main idea, being to better segregate the types of boys sent to the council for rehabilitation, separate the first offenders and dependent children from the repeaters or those who are downright incorrigible, provide better facilities for the students in specially trained personnel, equipment, buildings and to provide for smaller groups under a system of maximum custody rather than mass custody, cutting the population of the schools and providing for more individual attention.

The present system provides for counsellors for boys when they get to Gatesville, but there are not enough counsellors to provide adequate individual attention.

Portuguese India Stirs Propaganda

BOMBAY — (AP) — A propaganda war is being waged along the west coast of India over the future of three small colonies making up Portuguese India.

India has made it clear it wants Portugal to give up the colonies of Goa, Damaun and Diu. Portugal intends to hold on. And while the issue remains deadlocked, the propaganda war grows increasingly bitter. Bombay, home of tens of thousands of Hindus and Catholics of Goan origin, is a center for nationalist, anti-Portuguese agitation.

HIGHEST AWARD—C. A. Huff, mayor of Pampa, proudly displays the certificate vouching him to receive the coveted Silver Beaver Award, the highest that can be bestowed on a Scout. Mayor Huff Given Boy Scout Award

C. A. Huff and R. J. Rust received Silver Beaver Awards at the 22nd annual banquet and meeting of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council Friday night.

The banquet was held in the Borger High School cafeteria and the meeting in the auditorium. Huff, mayor of Pampa, and Rust, council explorer chairman, were honored at the banquet as a surprise to them. Their awards were presented to them by H. H. Beavers of Borger.

The citation for Huff read that he has been a scouter of nine years experience, and has served as a member of a troop committee and as a member of the executive board.

He has served in his community as president of its Chamber of Commerce and mayor of the city. He has served as a deacon of his church and a member of its finance committee.

In the Council, he has served as a member of the finance committee and is at present, a member of the Council Explorer Committee.

Rust has been active for several years as a troop committee member, district committee member and member of the executive board. He has been particularly interested in the Explorer program during the past year.

Principal speaker for the banquet was Robert W. Perin, assistant national director of scouting services from Kansas City. A. W. Paris, council president, was in charge of the meeting.

Robot Brain Developed by Northrop, Inc.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Northrop Aircraft, Inc., has come up with the latest in those robot brain machines.

This one looks like a kitchen stove, has a ladylike name, and can do the same work as the warehouse-sized models used by a few large universities.

Northrop engineers call it "Maddida," pronounced "Mad Ida."

They say it can predict the best design for an airplane or ship, navigate and guide a rocket to the moon, operate a factory production line, or solve in a few seconds mathematical problems so complex it would take months or years to work them out on ordinary calculating equipment.

The full name for the little gem is "Magnetic Drum Digital Differential Analyzer."

You could pick it up for about $30,000. With optional accessories, the cost runs close to $150,000.

Earlier jumbo affairs sometimes occupy entire buildings and cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. Some whoppers have 18,000 vacuum tubes or require hundreds of motors to drive moving parts.

Maddida computes with fewer than 100 tubes and has only one moving part. The works are packed into a cabinet of about the same dimensions as a pinball machine.

The first model was built for the experimental towing tank of the Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J. It will be used to predict the best design for ship hulls and waterborne projectiles.

FRANK R. ADAMS
COPY, 1950 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Twelve called men and a medical officer, all war casualties, and themselves in Westwaygo, where all but one had lived before they were killed. One of the squad, Carl Petersen, goes to his wife, Kirsten, and finds her taking her own life by gas. For a moment Carl holds her in his arms, then a window is broken by boys playing baseball nearby. Carl's arms are empty.

XIII

KIRSTEN was still speaking. Carl's name but the voice came from the sprawled body on the table. When she moaned pitifully and gasped for air Carl bent over her but she no longer knew that he was trying to comfort her.

Through the broken window Carl could see the three little boys in a frightened huddle. They had started to run but the policeman had called them back. Carl could hear him telling them that they would have to pay for the window and never play baseball in that lot again.

"I'll get your ball for you," he promised, "but I'll not be havin' you knockin' home runs through the neighbor's plate glass."

A moment or so later he rang the doorbell, just as Max had done. When no one answered he came around to the side of the house and peered in.

He gasped but wasted no more time.

For a man of his age and weight the policeman managed to climb into the room with considerable agility although he did tear his uniform trousers a little on a piece of window-pane.

It seemed as if he knew just what to do. In a matter of seconds he had the front and back doors and every window in the tiny house open and had turned off the gas. By that time Kirsten was beginning to regain consciousness. She was trying to struggle to a sitting position.

"Stay where you are, girlie," counseled the policeman. "Be quiet and you'll be all right in maybe a half hour."

"You'd better call a doctor," suggested Carl. "She ought to have medical attention."

"The cop knows his stuff. He'll take care of her okay, soldier."

CARL turned to look at the Medical Corps captain who hadn't been there a moment before. The officer smiled at him. "You asked for a doctor—so I showed up. But I came principally to take care of you. I've never lost a husband yet, if I may be permitted to repeat one of the corniest cracks of my profession."

"Why didn't you let me go?" Kirsten moaned, her face still sideways on the table top. She didn't know yet what had happened or to whom she was talking.

"You can't do whatever it was you were tryin' to do," the policeman explained. "It's against the law. And furthermore I had nothing to do with this, you anyway. It was a baseball."

That made very little sense to a mind which was still muffled in the cotton wool of oblivion. Kirsten didn't try to understand. She merely whispered, "Carl, darling, I've lost you again."

The old policeman was looking at her with more compassion than officers of the law are supposed to express and he talked to her soothingly.

"I've seen hundreds of people who felt like you do and they always change their minds when God gives 'em a chance. I'm tellin' you what Father Mahoney once said to me on this very subject when I had put a bullet through my hat mistakin' it for my head, an error I can't account for to this day."

The Army doctor chuckled. "This cop knows his psychology better than they teach it in the medical schools."

The policeman continued: "What happened to me, missin' my brains that way, was probably a miracle just like the baseball which busted your window. I've never taken a drink since. And I've lived a very useful life, if I do say it myself, just like you're goin' to. You have to go right on doin' your job whatever it is. When a miracle happens to anybody it's a sign there is something they still have to do, something important that the Almighty needs 'em for. Father Mahoney says that folks who are livin' on borrowed time like you and me are especially useful to God because He can ask 'em to do things that are too dangerous for regular people."

WHILE he was talking the officer had found the baseball. With it in his hand he went to the window. "Hey, kids, come and get your ball—all but you, Willie. You run over to our house and bring back mother. Tell her I need a strong woman who is a good cook, a marvelous nurse and is as beautiful as a movie star. That ought to fetch her."

"Everything," declared the Army officer, "seems to be under control, soldier. We can leave now."

"I think I'll stay, sir. She's my wife and I'd like to be with her."

"Okay, son, but don't you worry. She's going to be all right. She won't do anything like that again; not if she believes what the cop told her and she will. He convinced me."

Automat Patrons Are Boiling At the Unkindest Cup of All

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The short, bespectacled man finally reached the head of the coffee line in one of Horn & Hardart's world-famed Automats. He dropped his nickel in the slot, pulled the handle all the way to the right and waited for the nice coffee to pur into his cup. Nothing happened.

The man pulled the handle again. Still no coffee.

He banged the heel of his hand against the slot. No coffee. Someone in line behind him hollered, "What's the matter? Let's get this show on the road!"

The little man banged the slot again and pulled the handle. Then he saw the sign. It said the world's best cup of coffee for a nickel now costs two nickels.

Fruitletly, he searched his pockets for another nickel. Finally, he left the line and went to the change booth to get two for a dime. When he got back, he had lost his original five cents, his place in line and his pleasant disposition.

"Why don't they make a bigger sign? How's a guy supposed to know coffee's a dime if he don't tell him?" he wailed.

Similar episodes were recorded in nearly all of the Horn and Hardart's in New York's teeming West 30's, the most Automat-saturated neighborhood in the world.

In one, an elderly lady pounded the door of the kitchen screaming:

"Whatsa matta with the machine? I put in the nickel—no coffee! Where'sa coffee?"

A bus boy patiently explained that coffee is now 10 cents and whatsa matter, you can't read or something?

"Well, then gimme Postum!" she shouted.

Most of the confusion related with the first coffee price increase since Mr. Horn and Mr. Hardart opened their first automatic bistro in Philadelphia in 1888 was caused by the fact that it was done without fanfare.

Early shoppers and second-breakfasting office personnel, nickels in hand, first became aware of the boost when they dropped their buffalo-backed coin in the slot without the immediate result they had always known.

A high company official says the advance has been under consideration for more than a year.

"We tried to hold the line against rising prices and costs of operation in the hope that coffee would come down. The other day, there was another three-cent jump. We had to make the move."

Perhaps hardest-hit by the retreat of the nickel from its last stronghold are the thousands of persons who gather daily in the coin-snatching restaurants to while away a few hours in conversation with fellow time-killers.

One looked at his table companions and said: "Yesterday it was bear went up to 15 cents. Now this. Ahhh, me."

A quick check proved the group easily could have moved their headquarters to the swank Waldorf-Astoria. Coffee there sells for a dime, too.

Machines took a beating from impatient persons who thought they were out of order, the restaurant chain was roundly criticized for employing the element of surprise, tempers and nickelawere lost.

But the worst thing of all, to most minds, was the fact that the nickel just won't do anything anymore. Unless you have two of them.

Buddy System Is Shelved in Korea Fighting

WITH U. S. EIGHTH ARMY, Korea — (AP) — The "Buddy System" has been a failure in the opinion of most front-line commanders in Korea.

This attempt to integrate South Korean soldiers with American front line outfits was begun in August. It was an emergency military measure.

In those desperate days of defense along the Nakdong River line American soldiers were not arriving in enough numbers to replace the men lost or wounded in battle. So it was decided to fill the gaps in the line with selected South Koreans.

This emergency program became known as the buddy system.

To get the needed volunteers, some enterprising commanders and invited picked young native policemen to come out and spend a day with their outfit.

The program started off in an atmosphere of one big happy military family. Each recruit was assigned to an American buddy, whose job was to act as his friend and teacher in learning how to be a soldier.

Everything was palsy walsy as long as the outfits were resting in rest areas.

When the mixed Korean and American outfit went into combat the buddy system began to fall apart. Under the stress of battle the differences of language and loyalty between the two nationalities became more vitally important than their desire to understand and work with one another.

The Koreans haven't had time to learn our army technique. An American doughboy hated to have his life dependent on whether his oriental buddy knew enough to give him covering at the right moment.

There were numerous cases of outstanding stubborn and heroic fighting by these Korean volunteers. But there were other cases where they broke and ran—and these created bitterness.

"It is all right to say we should educate them up to our level. That's fine. But you can't do it in war time," one commander said.

That is a fair summary of how most troop leaders feel about the integration program. And as fast as they could get fresh American replacements they got rid of their Korean volunteers.

The result today is that the Buddy System has been quietly shelved.

Price of Eggs Makes a Spill

(By The Associated Press) Egg prices took a humpty-tumble spill in many cities last week, but changes in other foods were mostly upward. Beef items, some cuts of pork, ground coffee and several fresh vegetables were higher. Egg prices were higher in retail egg prices were very irregular across the country. In some cities, like New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, the reduction ranged as much as 16 cents a dozen. But in others the declines were much smaller, and in some, top grade eggs at mid-week were still being quoted a few cents above last Friday's levels. At Los Angeles, a spokesman for a large store chain said "eggs are still in very tight a supply here, but prices may go down 5 to 8 cents a dozen by the end of the week." One veteran dealer said prices in the area reached an all-time high this week. Several factors confused the price and supply situation. Sharp price gains last week were blamed on storms which delayed shipments of eggs to terminal markets, heavy military buying in the midwest, depletion of cold storage stocks, and most of all, lack of consumer demand. Several beef items advanced 10 to 16 cents a pound in many stores, while pork was generally unchanged to four cents a pound higher. Lamb, veal and poultry held about steady. Several leading roasters of nationally-advertised brands of vacuum-packed coffee marked up wholesale prices two cents a pound to reflect higher replacement costs of green coffee. Unfavorably cold weather which reduced receipts of fresh vegetables was blamed for most of the price boosts this week in the produce departments. Higher in most stores were snap beans, good quality broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplant, peas, peppers and squash.

British Colony's Said Prospering

KUCHING, Sarawak, Dec. 16.—This British crown colony is prospering. It expects to end the 1950 financial year with a big surplus. Governor Anthony Abell told the Council of Ministers in Kuching recently that Sarawak's revenue had been much greater than what was expected a year ago. The governor said the increase was to a large extent due to the rise in the price of rubber. He added this year's revenue, therefore, could not be regarded as a normal one.

Swig From Mouse-Filled Bottle Convinces Judge

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) A University of Oklahoma professor proved his point — but he had to drink from a pop bottle occupied by a dead mouse to do it. Dr. Homer F. Marsh, professor of bacteriology at the Oklahoma Medical School, started a district court here yesterday with his drinking feat. He was an expert witness for a bottling company in an $8,000 damage suit. The swig shocked Judge Glen O. Morris and the jury. But the lawyer who dared the professor, claiming to drink from the bottle, was even more shocked — the judge prompted the judge to order the jury to return a verdict for the bottling firm. Thomas M. Owen, a utility company employee, charged in his suit he drank from the mouse-filled bottle last March 15. He said it caused him to suffer stomach spasms and he has been unable to digest his food, losing weight. Dr. Marsh testified for the defense. He related some experiments he made. He placed bacteria harmful to the human body into soft drinks and found the acid in them killed the germs within 72 hours. But attorney Bob Bates clutched the mouse-filled soft drink bottle and cross examined the professor, climaxing his inquisition by asking: "Would you drink this?" "Why yes," the doctor shot back. Judge Morris quickly ruled any connection between Owens' illness and the mousey drink had not been proved. Later the judge commented: "I've seen a lot of things happen in a courtroom, but this beats all."

Safety First Not Always the Case

"Safety First" say the posters — but in some cases, things just happen too fast. The National Safety Council has found some fast ones this year in its annual search for odd accidents. Boats and automobiles seldom have collisions, but in Maysville, Ind., it happened. Emmet Holapple's motor boat, with the throttle open as it neared shore, leaped out of the White River and, crashed into a car parked 20 feet in on dry land. But the safety council was even more astonished when a fish ran over an automobile while swimming placidly along. J. V. Short was driving along the flooded street in front of his home in Toledo, O., when he struck and killed two fish that had migrated from a pond in his yard when high water caused it to overflow. What might be dubbed as the silliest accident of the year, the council found that State Budget Director John H. Bradford of Richmond, Va., tried one night to button a tight collar and fought the darn thing so fiercely that he had to go to the hospital for emergency treatment of severe finger bruises inflicted by the collar button. The last thing in the world nine-year-old Theron Longley of Bow, N. H., expected as he wound up for a hot cadenza on his trumpet was that he would blow out four teeth. But that's what he did! Inhaling prodigiously for a final triumphant blast to a stirring march, the trumpeter swallowed a denture he had been wearing since an

Oil Activity Is Still Plunging Downward

PAMPA NEWS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1950 PAGE 25

Reserves Sighted As U.S. Target

Petroleum reserves adequate to meet all peace-time and emergency needs should be a "basic objective" of the United States.

To attain such an objective means the oil industry must discover and make available not only normal needs, but enough in excess to meet any emergency, H. B. Fell, executive vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said.

Fell told members of the Kansas Independent Oil & Gas Association that adequate petroleum reserves and productive capacity must be developed and "ready for use" within the United States.

He said the oil industry can accomplish this "only if it has the capital, materials, manpower and freedom from unnecessary government controls."

"We in the oil industry are willing to sacrifice whatever is necessary for the defense of our country," he said, "but I feel there should be no rush to establish controls. Past history has indicated that a free, dynamic oil producing industry can accomplish far better results than a government controlled oil industry."

He cited the oil industry's loss of efficiency under government regulations during World War II when productive capacity dropped off 177,000 barrels daily in the four-year period, 1941-45.

"Among the reasons for this unsound trend was the freezing of crude oil prices at unrealistic levels, inadequate materials and manpower and the creeping paralysis that comes with centralized controls," Fell declared.

Comparatively, he pointed out, the oil industry has carried out a great expansion in exploration, development and producing activities in the five years since wartime restrictions were lifted.

"Today we have a domestic crude oil producing capacity in excess of 6,000,000 barrels daily, about 1,500,000 barrels a day above the 1945 level," he said.

"This required expenditures of billions of dollars from sale of current production and use of millions of tons of steel to drill the necessary wells."

He said a great factor in the industry's post-war progress has been maintenance of "the established tax provisions pertaining to percentage depletion and the expense of intangible drilling costs which were so essential in providing necessary funds and incentive to risk these funds in the hazardous business of searching for petroleum."

Fell warned the oil men that "we are apparently again being faced by attacks on statutory depletion and the option to expense intangible drilling costs."

"These attacks will come from those who are either misinformed or who seek to destroy a sound, active, aggressive, domestic oil industry, with the thought in mind that by doing so they might be able to successfully advocate the need for government controls," he declared.

"We can no doubt anticipate these attacks will be in the form of vicious propaganda appealing to the emotions and not based on the actual facts as they exist," he said.

He described statutory depletion as an "absolute essential" to maintenance of an adequate oil supply, adding that it provides a return of invested capital and encourages investment in development of additional reserves.

"Each of us must realize that business freedom is threatened as never before," Fell said. "There are some who claim these freedoms, which were regained with considerable difficulty after World War II, are only the selfish concern of individual interests."

"That type of destructive thinking has inspired vicious propaganda against the petroleum industry. These appeals find more fertile ground when our nation is endeavoring to mobilize its resources and its strength for security."

"We must keep in mind that we are not selfish when we oppose these forces for they must be opposed with every resource at our command if we are to maintain the conditions that have been proved to be essential to a vigorous, active, expanding oil producing industry in this country."

Promotions Are Announced

Two executive of Cities Service have been promoted, according to company records.

They are P. B. Plank and M. A. Wilson, both of Bartlesville.

Plank has been elected a director, vice president and secretary of Cities Service Oil Co. (Del.) and Cities Service Pipe Line Co. effective Jan. 1, 1951.

He will succeed C. E. Murray, who will retire on Dec. 31, 1950, after nearly half a century of employment with the Cities Service organization.

He is a graduate of Purdue University. Following graduation he was employed as industrial engineer before joining the Cities Service organization in 1918 at Bartlesville. At the end of 1920, he was placed in charge of federal income taxes and, two years later, became manager of both the tax and budget departments. From 1925 to date, Plank has devoted most of his time to tax matters and has served as tax adviser to Cities Service Gas Co. and Arkansas Natural Gas Corp. He served several years as general chairman of the Standing Committee on Federal and State Income Taxes of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn., and is now chairman of the Special Depletion Committee of that association. Plank is a member of the National Tax Assn., the Tax Institute, New Mexico Oil & Gas Assn., and is a trustee of the Oklahoma Public Expenditures Council. He is a past president of the Hillcrest Country Club and a member of the Chamber of Commerce and Masonic lodge.

Wilson has been elected controller of Cities Service Oil Co. (Del.). Cities Service Pipe Line Co. and other entities, effective Jan. 1, 1951.

Wilson was reared in the Texas Panhandle, where he received his high school and business education. He was employed by the City Light and Water Co., a Cities Service subsidiary, at Amarillo, Texas, from Jan. 1913 to Dec. 1916, at which time he was transferred to Bartlesville. From 1916 to date, he has served as bookkeeper, auditor, assistant general auditor, general auditor and assistant secretary of Cities Service Oil Co. and its affiliated companies.

He is a member of the Petroleum Accountants Society of Oklahoma, Hillcrest Country Club and the American Legion. He has been very active in the various Masonic activities and is a member of the "York" Lodge, Masonic bodies, Shrine and Grotto. He served as grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Oklahoma, and was recently elected to the Honorary Degree of K. C. C. H. of the Scottish Rite.

Need Action In Shortages

HOUSTON — (AP) — Oilmen were warned that they must take immediate action to prevent manpower and steel equipment shortages in event of another war.

The Regulatory Practices Committee of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission voted to propose a resolution calling for allocation of steel and the oil industry being in a manpower critical category as to manpower.

Acting committee chairman Olin Culbertson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, was directed to ask the commission's resolution committee to draft and approve such a resolution.

The resolution would:

1. Ask that the oil industry be classified as a critical industry such as shipyards.
2. Seek an equitable allocation of steel pipe based on the actual number of wells to be drilled, with no pipe permitted to go into inventory for future use.

A. W. Thompson, president of the American Association of Oil Drilling Contractors, recommended that more attention be given to depth of wells instead of to the number of wells to be drilled.

He said Washington officials are taking the wrong approach by asking the industry "how much pipe will you need to drill so many wells?"

He presented statistics indicating the average depth of new wells increased 406 feet from 1947 through 1949 to a current 9.4 billion.

Twenty producing states are members of the commission which studies conservation practices and problems.

Texas Oilers Still Boom

AUSTIN, Texas — (AP) — Texas' oil well completions for this year passed the 10,000 mark this week.

The Railroad Commission reported 214 completions for the week boosted the year's total to 1,658. It was 1,658 more wells than were completed during the comparable period of last year.

Fifteen gas well completions this week brought the year's total to 708, leading last year's at this date by 34.

Thirteen of the week's oil wells and two of the gas wells were wildcats. There were 54 wildcats reported as dry holes for the week.

Total average calendar day crude oil allowable today was 2,528,946 barrels, up 12,149 barrels from a week ago, the commission said.

Permanent Compact Seen

HOUSTON — (AP) — Congress soon may be asked to give a permanent status to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

There was indication delegates from 20 oil producing states may take action on the request today at the concluding session of the 18th annual meeting of the commission.

Congress has renewed its ratification of the compact five times for from two to four years each but never has taken permanent action. The latest renewal expires Sept. 1.

The compact was organized in 1935 as an advisory and research organization for oil and gas conservation. It does not have regulatory powers.

Bruce K. Brown, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, was to be the principal speaker at the business session.

The delegates also were to select a successor to the outgoing commission chairman, Governor Roy Taylor of Oklahoma.

Wimberly, an Oklahoma newspaper publisher, said the capacity of interstate natural gas pipelines out of the Southwest has jumped from 2.7 billion cubic feet a day in January 1946 to a current 9.4 billion.

A member of the federal power commission told the meeting yesterday the time for the Southwest to reserve much of its natural gas for its own use may not be far away.

Harrington Wimberly warned that continued rapid expansion of interstate natural gas pipelines may threaten the Southwest's independent growth.

Wimberly, an Oklahoma newspaper publisher, said the capacity of interstate natural gas pipelines out of the Southwest has jumped from 2.7 billion cubic feet a day in January 1946 to a current 9.4 billion.

Satisfaction Is Indicated

AUSTIN, Texas — (AP) — Oil purchasers indicated today they generally would be satisfied in January with the same number of producing days that Texas has had this month.

The resolution hearing was convened by Railroad Commission member Olin Culbertson's charge that an Austin attorney's statements cast a reflection on the commission.

His rebuke was prompted by J. E. Foubt's request for cancellation of a commission order granting an exception to the Bacon Lime, Winnsboro Field for the B. G. Byars gas well. Rauhut, representing Amerada Petroleum Corporation, said the Byars well was receiving more than its share of the gas and draining the ground under other wells.

He said he understood the reason for the exception was that one customer had a particular need for gas. Rauhut observed there were two other companies in the field.

Interrupting Rauhut, Culbertson snapped: "I suggest sir, that when you get up and make a statement that reflects on the commission that you tell the whole story."

"I don't know the whole story. I'd be glad for you to tell it," Rauhut replied.

Culbertson said Byars had a war contract to sell gas for jet fuel. He indicated they had been unwilling to do so at the time Byars secured the exception to the proration order.

"You don't require him to make up his over-production?" Rauhut inquired.

"That's right. I wouldn't require you or anybody else to make up over-production on a war contract," Culbertson replied.

"You mean you would grant a special allowance that would drain other operators in the field?" Rauhut persisted.

"Yes, sir, I would drain you down to the last drop to supply jet oil. We're in a war now, in case you didn't know it," Culbertson said.

Rauhut said he had not intended anything he said to reflect on the commission.

Culbertson was elected chairman of the commission for the next two years, succeeding William J. Murray, Jr. He was nominated by the commission's members and his chairmanship is rotated.

Dumas Strike Offers Threat

DALLAS — (AP) — A threatened strike at an oil refinery at Dumas, Texas, could possibly affect operations in the Great Texas Panhandle natural gas gathering system, a union official predicted here.

The gathering system funnels crude oil to many eastern and northern points.

The refinery is the McKee plant of the Shamrock Oil Company. The union has approved a strike but negotiations continued today at Amarillo.

The union official, E. Carl Mattern, Oil Workers International Union (CIO) district director, said the company's wage offer of a 75-cent an hour boost probably would be satisfactory. He said it was a matter of over job security and working rules. Negotiations began early this fall.

About 300 workers are employed. They make from $1.67 to $2.10 an hour.

He said the company possibly has other facilities being stripped the gas company comment was not available immediately.

Oil Field Supplies Still to Be Scarce

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — Oil and gas steel supplies will be very tight even if the government allocates the 11,000,000 tons the industry says it needs for 1951.

Drilling operations have zoomed to record levels since the estimate of next year's requirements were prepared.

Production phases of the estimate, prepared by a National Petroleum Council committee, were based on 43,400 new wells for 1951. Industry sources figure the current drilling rate projected on a 12-month basis would approximate between 45,000 and 46,000 wells.

There is confidence within the industry, however, the oil industry requirements will receive early action from Washington officials. There is even optimism over chance of practically all of NPC's report being approved.

Independent operators, however, are asking that top consideration be given to the 3,240,000 ton estimate for the 1951 production operations.

Bryan W. Payne, Tyler, Texas, this week told a group of Southeast Texas independent operators black marketing of steel tubular goods "is getting worse and worse."

Payne, president of the Iowa-Payne Oil Company, is chairman of the Independent Petroleum Association of America's Oil and Gas Field Materials Committee.

He said a survey just completed by the committee indicates the small operator is having a tubular goods he needs. Some 250 independents took part in the survey.

Those with requirements exceeding 500 tons of steel goods a year, Payne said, reported they are obtaining an average 83 percent of their needs through normal supply channels and 3 percent off the black market.

In comparison, he said, the operators needing only 200 tons a year reported a normal supply channels average of only 42 percent but a 24 percent black market average.

Both groups received the balance of their supplies from converted or second-hand equipment.

Millions Seen In Tidelands

AUSTIN, Texas — (AP) — Texas will gain more than eight million dollars as a result of the U. S. Supreme Court tidelands decision, Attorney General Price Daniel said.

The court ruled that Texas and Louisiana must give an accounting of royalties obtained from the submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico from June 5, 1950. The Justice Department asked that the date be June 23, 1947.

Daniel was attending a meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General in Miami, Fla., when the court decision was announced. He telephoned his office here, authorizing this statement.

"The court's action in setting the accounting date as June 5, 1950 instead of June 23, 1947 means a victory of more than eight million dollars for the state of Texas."

"While I still believe the Supreme Court was wrong in its favor to three opinion against Texas, when the court decision was on ownership, I am thankful that it went against the federal government on its demand that Texas account for over eight million dollars collected for our public school fund between the dates of June 23, 1947 and June 5, 1950."

"As to the ownership fight, I will tomorrow urge the National Association of Attorneys General to continue its campaign for congressional action confirming state ownership."

Merger Seen In Amarillo

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A proposed merger of the Canadian River Company of Amarillo and the Colorado Interstate Gas Company of Colorado Springs was before the power commission again this week.

The merger had been approved conditionally. The companies had proposed to build a gas pipeline from the Texas Panhandle to Colorado. Canadian now operates a line from the Panhandle to Clayton, N. M., where it joins with a Colorado line extending to Denver.

Power commission attorneys blocked construction of the new line pending a study of the payments by Colorado Interstate to Southwestern Development Company, of Amarillo and New York, for properties of the Canadian River Gas Company, Southwest firm owns Canadian and also stock in Colorado Interstate.

SLURP, SLURP, SLURP as kisses go in the doggie world. The lensman finally got what he waited for as Juni shed her first signs of affection for her new master, Richard Foulter, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Foulter, 221 Sunset Drive, Pampa. Shown, watching the new friendship forming into a future iron link, is Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of West Texas State College, who gave the dog to Richard as winner of the best letter on "Why I Want a Dog for Christmas." (News Photo and Engraving)

Spaniel Puppy Is an Early Present to Local Youngster

By HENRY S. GORDON

A new resident moved to Pampa shortly before noon Saturday and promptly proceeded stealing every heart in sight, especially one.

Miss "Juni," seven weeks old today, a member of the blonde set of the cocker spaniel nation, is a Christmas present to an eight-year-old Pampa boy, Richard Foulter, 221 Sunset Drive, from no less a person than Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of West Texas State College.

Richard, a third grade student at Woodrow Wilson School, immediately tagged his four-legged Christmas present "Juni"—the name having double significance.

"Juni," you see, is a little girl doggie and some girls named June are often called "Juni."

So, Richard cut off the "ee" and had the first four letters of Dr. Juniper's surname.

But, how did Richard come to be the recipient of something real and alive as a Christmas present?

He simply asked for it in a letter to the dean, the same as many other boys and girls over the Panhandle, and as far south as San Angelo, did.

Dr. Juniper's cocker spaniel gave birth to five puppies, all girl puppies, on Oct. 29. That, thought the former Latin professor, was just a little too much canine influence around the house. He decided to give three of them to friends at Canyon and the fourth he would give to the man, woman or child, who could write the best letter on "Why I Want a Dog for Christmas."

This contest the dean announced over his weekly radio program, "Jukebox of Yesterday," pouring over the flood of anference.

swara, he picked Richard's as the best. Richard had no dog, he had no sisters or brothers to play with, is unable to get around as agilely as other boys schools and Louisiana Polytechnic age, being a victim of polio.

Richard was happy Saturday, giving "Juni" with his eyes and not too elated to say much when faced by the cruel light of a flash bulb and camera in the Pampa News' offices.

Reporters tried to draw Richard out with a statement, but he just looked tickled pink and said he was "very happy." He was, too.

As photographers and reporters worked with Richard and Juni, Juni occasionally stole every no less a person than Richard's, H. Juniper, dean of West Texas State College.

The feeling is growing mutual by the minute.

Mild-mannered and pleasant Dr. Juniper, upon request, came into the News' offices with his family, Richard and Mrs. W. D. Foulter, Richard's parents, and Juni, where the story unfolded.

So, Santa Claus, in the person of a college professor, came to Richard Foulter's house a week ahead of time with a gift the eight-year-old will long remember. More than that, a gift that will grow along with her new master.

Pampan Wins Engineering Paper Award

LUBBOCK — (Special) — A. J. Stepp, Pampa senior engineering student at Texas Technological College, has submitted the winning paper to the Southwestern Air Conditioning Conference.

Experts on the subject, "The Value of Research Scholarships to the Student and Industry," received from all Texas around as agilely as other boys schools and Louisiana Polytechnic age, being a victim of polio.

Stepp will attend the conference meeting in Austin to present the paper and receive the $50 prize.

Wicks Outlines Rotary Works

Speaking generally on the international picture of Rotary, District Governor L. A. Wicks Wednesday told Pampa Rotarians that Rotary International has never yet been charged with anything of evil in the world, regardless of where a club may be located.

He cited one example of a Rotary Club being formed in Jerusalem among three religious groups that had been warring for over a thousand years, "yet one man was able to organize a Rotary Club there of 32 members, bring all three religions together, to meet, eat together and talk with each other — Jew, Mohammedan and Arab."

The district governor emphasized, too, the feeling of satisfaction Rotarians received while attending international conventions where they got to meet fellow Rotarians from every known part of the globe — Asia, Africa, Europe, Central, South and North America.

Wicks, head of the 183rd Rotary district, conferred Tuesday night with club officers and chairmen of the various committees. Yesterday, before the open club, he complimented them on the work they had done so far this year, adding that Pampa cannot be surpassed as a Rotary club by any other club he has visited so far.

The club, this year, will look after two needy families for Christmas, one of the members taking one family himself in the name of Pampa Rotary.

Cabot Acquires Site for New Coastal Carbon Black Plant

A site has been acquired for a new carbon black plant at capacity at the new location.

Negotiations for a natural gas supply, raw material for the thermal black, have been satisfactorily completed. The oil furnace units will operate on liquid hydrocarbons, residue oils and tars as raw material. The new location is on the Southern Pacific Railroad and the Intercoastal Canal.

Thermal blacks will be produced for the rubber manufacturing industry. Some part of the total thermal black production is to be further processed into a high purity, metallurgical carbon of proved performance in increasing the production rate of steel. This new Cabot development is also a preferred raw material for the manufacture of specialty electrodes.

The oil furnace black unit will represent an important addition to the supply of BAF and FEF furnace carbon blacks made necessary by increasing volume of "cold" synthetic rubber required by the government's recently expanded synthetic rubber program. If the anticipated rapid construction schedule for the new plant can be met, it will help avert the possibility of shortage of tires, tubes and other manufactured rubber products dependent on synthetic rubber-oil furnace black combinations.

The new project will represent an investment in excess of 4 million dollars when completed.

Shrine to Gandhi Planned in India

NEW DELHI — Indian leaders are studying models of the Lincoln and Washington monuments in Washington and Moscow's Red Square tribute to Lenin in their search for a suitable shrine for Mahatma Gandhi.

Preliminary plans call for a shrine of 100 acres covering the area of the Pajhat burning zone — where nearly 100,000 Indians watched their idol's body turned to ashes.

'I'm Just Another Officer' Says Former Texas Ranger

"I am just another peace officer," said Massengale. What he didn't say could easily fill 12 volumes of an encyclopedia. Completely ignoring the hair-raising experiences he found in the Texas Rangers, the father of Texas peace officers drawled in his likable way, "It was just my job."

One of the favorite stories told about "Bob," as he still likes to be called, was one instance in Austin when a bright and energetic burglar decided to see what he could find by prowling around in the colonel's house.

What the burglar didn't expect was the sudden, unleashed fury of an old-time Texas Ranger. As you might have guessed, the "bright and energetic" burglar decided to find another occupation "right quick."

Massengale joined the Ranger force some 18 years ago while it was still a part of the Adjutant General's Dept. When the Texas Dept. of Public Safety was organized in August, 1935, the Ranger force was transferred to the new agency.

"Bob" was active in the organization of the present agency, and has since become legal advisor for the department.

Serving with Army Intelligence for five years during the war, he again went back to the force he loved so well.

Since leaving the Rangers, one of the oldest law enforcement agencies in the world, he has seen the present Dept. of Public Safety grow from just an organization to one of the best law enforcement agencies known to man.

Thinking of his early days as a Ranger, "Bob" cited two men whom he regarded as some of the better peace officers of Texas.

"Captain Will Wright and Albert Mays will always hold a place in my heart as real peace officers," he said.

Wright and Mays were members of the Ranger force when they moved into Borger to create martial law. After convincing the citizens of Borger that "it just wasn't right to go around raising thunder all the time," Mays remained as chief of police.

Assistant Chief J. O. Dumas of the Pampa Police Dept. held his first commission under Mays. Law enforcement has changed a great deal, according to "Bob." He commented, "when I went to work as a law officer we didn't have radios or any of the scientific methods now available to an officer."

"You can say what you want about the old-time peace officer, but we have our better officers

Army Drive Nears Finish

The Salvation Army drive for operating funds for the coming fiscal year is nearly ended, according to Lt. Fred McClure, commander of the local organization. The drive, which was supposed to be wrapped up in early December, was extended until the goal of $7,000 had been reached. Lt. McClure said that they were still about $700 short of that goal but some of the workers had still failed to turn in their cards.

The Salvation Army is also sponsoring several good Christmas programs over radio station KPDR this week. On Dec. 22, from 7:30 to 7:45 p. m., "Swing Shift Santa Claus" will be heard. On Dec. 23, from 6:45 until 7 p. m., "Army of Stars," featuring many grand opera stars will be heard, and then the following night, Christmas Eve, from 9 to 9:30, "Army of Stars" will again be presented with Miss Lily Pons as the leading voice in special Christmas music.

Work for Pampa Shows 1950 Increase

A comparison of 1949 figures with those of 1950 shows that there is a vast difference in the labor market, according to L. P. Fort, manager of the Texas Employment Commission of Pampa. During the month of November, 1949, there were 457 claims filed for unemployment pay. In November, 1950, there were only 188 claims filed in the four county area of Gray, Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts.

In 1949 during December there were 332 claims filed while during the December period, with only eight more days to go, there have been only 148 claims filed. Jobs which are now open and unfilled are — general machinist; salespeople and routeman; wholesale grocery. Aluminum is protected from burning in the air like magnesium by an oxide coat that forms on it when burning is tried.

Malaya Has Shooting Without Casualties

KUALA LUMPUR — (AP) — There's a lot of shooting going on in Malaya but many times nobody gets hurt. In the various states of the Federation of Malaya, there are gun fights daily between British Army units and security forces with bands of Communist terrorists. But days on end, one reads of firing that goes on for half an hour or more, without a single casualty. Some foreigners have suggested that the British campaign against terrorists would progress much more rapidly if there was an improvement in their marksmanship. On the other hand, the terrorists don't seem to be crack shots, either.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Card of Thanks

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He leadeth me to green pastures, he leadeth me beside the still waters. He refresheth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thou art my rod and my staff; thou art my shepherd; I shall not want.

WILSON HATCHER
 We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many kind friends and neighbors who did so much for us in the dark hours of our loss, in the untimely death of our loved one Wilson Hatcher. To those who sent messages and condolences and floral offerings, to those who prepared and served food in our home and to the membership of the First Baptist Church for their thoughtful deeds, we are indeed grateful.

ALL IN A LIFETIME

By FRANK BECK

FUNNY BUSINESS

By HERSCHBERGER

"Now I know why the guy upstairs drilled that hole—he's practicing putting again!"

SKATERS' WALTZ—When Rangers and Red Wings started whirling around on Madison Square Garden ice, even New York goalie Chuck Rayner got into the act—with the result a score for Detroit. Clockwise from lower left, the players Allen Staley and Jack Evans of New York, Marty Pavelich of Detroit, Rayner and the Wings Jimmy Peters. The Wings had something to dance about, humiliating the home club, 9-0.

Pampa Youths Attend Hi-Y State Session

Carter Burdette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Burdette, and Gregory Keys, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Keys, are attending the Fourth Annual Hi-Y Model Legislature in Austin this week-end.

They will be among more than 200 high school students convening under the guidance of state officials and representatives of

Mice Use Money For Their Nests

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. —(AP)—A store owner in northwestern Ontario found money missing from the cash register. When it was taken apart, mice were found using paper money for beds in the back of the machine.

Marine Repairmen Aided by Airlift

WITH THE FIRST MARINE AIR WING IN KOREA — (AP)—Capt. Frank Presley and Lt. Don Hough were assigned the task of fixing a shrapnel hole in the roof of the headquarters building.

They clambered to the roof of the three story building through the ragged hole. Then, when the job was done, it was discovered that there wasn't a ladder in the area tall enough to reach their perch. They were targets for enemy snipers.

Lt. Col. J. Frank Cleo, squadron commander, ordered a Marine helicopter to "air lift" the pair from the patched roof.

Goal Reached for Girl Scout Funds

The goal of the 1950 Girl Scout drive, $6,000, has been reached, according to Ed Cleveland, drive chairman. He said the success of the drive is derived from the fact that the volunteer workers realized their responsibility in the support and extension of Girl Scouting and expressed that realization through hard work.

The Girl Scout Assn. expressed its appreciation to Joe Wells, finance chairman for the executive board; Cleveland; Harold Miller, advance gift drive chairman; Dr. Julian Key, general drive chairman; J. G. McClintock, industrial drive chairman; Oscar Reed, Negro chairman; Bill Owen, chairman for Wheeler; B. O. Bentley, chairman for White Deer; Mrs. Siler Hopkins, chairman for Hopkins Community and R. C. Wilson, chairman for Lefors. These chairmen report that only through the full cooperation of the communities involved was this goal reached and wish to say thanks to each contributor.

Miller, advance gift drive chairman, thanked the following citizens for their part in this drive: R. H. Nenstiel, J. A. McCune, Shelby Gant, Bob Quick, Fred Meyers, Benny Waller, Billy Clements, Russell Kennedy, Verl Hagaman, Bruce Parker, Bill Waters, James O. Evans, Price Dosier, Jr., Ray Salmon, Pinky Sims, O. E. McDowell, Don Foster, and Frank Dial.

Dr. Julian Key, general drive chairman, expressed his thanks to the following citizens for their work: Ray Duncan, Joe Cress, Dr. Weldon Adair, Tom Rose, Jr., J. C. McWilliams, George Scott, Frank Rapstine, Joe Miller, W. M. McWright, A. B. Whitten, Robert O. Buzbee.

Also, Dr. Joe Donaldson, M. M. Moyer, Paul West, Joe Schroedel, Gale Childress, Dr. W. R. Ballard, Dean Redus, E. L. Henderson, Arthur Aftergut, Ken Meaders, Dee Dodson, Joe Fischer, Glenn Radcliff, Perry Gaut, Dr. George Snell, Dr. Orion W. Carter, R. C. Wilson, R. E. Reid, Ivan Noblitt, Henry Ellis, Waldon E. Moore and Bob Clements.

Mr. B. O. Bentley said thanks to Alvin Williams, Dalton Ford, H. T. Dickens, and C. C. Kelly.

Mrs. Siler Hopkins, chairman for the Hopkins Community, extended thanks to Mrs. L. C. Martin, Dorothy Myers, Mrs.

essary. Mrs. R. H. Nenstiel and Mrs. O. L. Statton took the responsibility for improving the Little Scout House at 736 E. Kingsmill.

Canada's first steam railway began operation in 1836 from LaPrairie to St. Johns, Que.

Soviets Bring Change In Saxony's China

BERLIN — (AP)— Saxony's famed Meissen china is too fancy for the common people so the style will have to be changed, East Germany's Communist regime has ruled.

The state-owned plant has been ordered to develop Meissen in forms that are "healthy, lively and close to the people" and to discard the old "grotesque" style.

Norway produces 46,000,000 matches daily, about 75 percent of which are used for domestic consumption.
