Short Seeks Senate

Veteran legislator E. L. Short, Tahoka farmer-rancher-businessman, today entered the race for the Democratic nomination for the 28th Senatorial district.

Short, who served eight years in the Texas House of Representatives, said he was entering the race "because I believe the experience I have in Austin in the House will provide this area with an effective voice in the Senate."

He is seeking the seat being vacated by Senator Kent Hance who is running for Congress.

There are 13 counties in the 28th Senatorial District which stretches from Lubbock to Odessa and Short has represented seven of those thirteen counties.

Short said, "It was an honor to serve this area in the House and I look forward to continuing my assistance to this district with the many problems which will come before the next Legislature."

Short served as Vice-Chairman of the Agriculture Committee in the 63rd Legislature; and, was Chairman of the Committee on Intergovernmental Affairs during the 64th Legislature.

"I have always been very sensitive to the needs of the people and been very cautious about the fiscal matters of the state," Short said, "Problems in the field of agriculture, energy, public education and many others need a responsible and experienced individual to help solve these problems."

"Some of these are federal problems," Short comments, "but the states can encourage the National Congress to return government to the local level."

"I believe the best government is the one kept close to the people," Short said, adding "I have always voted for local control."

Short further stated, "The best part of seeking public office is getting the opportunity to meet and talk to the voters and people of West Texas ----- and I look forward to it."

Jere's Gottings

Now that I have reached the venerable age of 50, I feel inclined to comment on the status of the experienced citizen. Some use terms such as elder citizens-senior citizens-senile citizens-the elderly-old folks. I feel more comfortable with experienced. And, in fact, that is what folks beyond 50 are - experienced and in most cases, wiser.

It warms my chill blains that Congress has seen fit to raise the mandatory retirement age from 65 to 70 for the private sector of business. There will be no limit for federal folks. The sponsor of that legislation, by the way, was that young whipper-snapper, Claude Pepper (77). Course I don't see any need for Big Brother to tell the businessman when he has to retire or whom he has to retire. If a person is doing a good job and able to carry his weight, then he should remain in the work force. The decision should be made by the employer and the employee. But government being what it is today, it is fact that our working years are determined by said institution. Congressman Pepper's argument for raising the retirement age was that we had removed the discriminatory clauses of sex and race, why not age. He's right-by cracky. But the discrimination against experience is the real criteria.

You may be jogging your failing memory and recalling that I have been known to say a Congressman had been in Foggy Bottom too long. I have some have been up there too long-not Here in this earth too long. When a man remains in Washington most of his adult life, he loses touch with the folks back home and begins to think like a native D C an. It has nothing to do with his chronological age. In all seriousness, maybe a person should not be allowed to run for Congress until he is 50ish.

Just because I've had a birthday has not made me instantly protective nor defensive of the experineced. I have never felt there was an over the hill age. Peer through your bifocals and you'll see that the most successful people are older. They seem to hit their stride-get it all together-from 50 on. Course there are some rum dummies and some senile doties, but they were that a long time ago. Their habitual life style contributes more to their ineptness than does their age.

Futhermore, I'm disgusted with this mania for segregating the experineced from the rest of society. These Sr. Centers are degrading to the mature. Why would intelligent persons of 70 be herded together in a big play pen and taught how to weave baskets? Those 70 year olds could teach the young social workers a thing or two-yes-siree bob. When you encourage the older to isolate themselves in those Retirement Centers, you are denying younger generations the privilege of association with the experineced. And you are removing the responsibility of caring for infirm old from the younger and placing it with the government.

Of course there are some folks who have no one to care for them when they become unable to work. That's where the church comes in - not federally financed care. But most folks have progeny who should be willing to care for mom and pop come the time. After all, mom and pop spent twenty or more years providing for junior. But don't fret about me, sonny - I'd rather play tennis than weave baskets.

Mr. Baum has been in broadcasting for 20 years and is currently General Manager of KBYG in Big Spring.

In reporting the Monday meeting, Mr. Porter said the Gail Lions Club strives to have a guest speaker at each meeting whose subject might be of universal interest.

Overheard in Gail last week that May Stephens had been in the hospital at Lamesa with some kind of virus. Hope she is home and much better by now.

The Junior Class of Borden County High School visited with Brent Rhoton in the hospital in Big Spring last Thursday and took him a birthday cake. It is bad to be in the hospital on your birthday, but everyone is thinking about Brent and hoping to see him soon.

Dwayne Jones has his cast off after so long a time. Know that he is glad. Wonder if Gigi is still having to wait on him!

Heard one person say that they wondered if anyone stayed in Borden County last Saturday. They saw so many people in Lubbock shopping, visiting and attending the Tech-Rice game that they could not think of who was home.

Everyone in Gail is talking about the big barbecue and Homecoming this Friday night. Hope we have good weather, good food and good visiting with all the exes.

Seems that we had a miniature Homecoming last week at the game. Saw Mr. and Mrs. George Billeck, Janice Browne, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Smith and others, at the game and enjoying it.

Mrs. Herbert von Roeder of Abilene, was visiting relatives of the community Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gordon have returned from a vacation in New Mexico.

Soil Sampling

Any farming operation requires planning, and this is particularly true when it comes to applying fertilizer. Fertilizer applications should be based on a soil test, and fall is a good time to take soil samples for testing, points out Earnest Kiker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Containers and instructions for submitting soil samples are available at the county Extension office. Based on a soil test, a sound fertilization program can be developed for the coming crop year.

For additional information on fertilizer use in Borden County, Kiker invites producers to review the 1976 and 1977 handbook of result demonstrations.

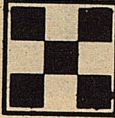

With current high production costs, uncertainty about farm prices, and other risks in crop production, farmers must study their fertilizer needs more closely than ever to make sound management decisions, believes Kiker.

JIM SNOWDEN

ing. When asked why he was entering the race, Snowden replied, "The prime motivation came from a letter written by Attorney General John Hill, which was placed in a capsule to be opened 100 years from now. In this letter John Hill warned that the people should start protecting themselves from the abuse of mass bureaucracy. I thought at the time that he was exactly right but 100 years too late. I think we must begin now!" A one-time stock farmer, Snowden is also deeply concerned over the fact that the "little man" is invariably ignored in this era of big time politics.

TYE - Jim Snowden, former Mayor of Tye, has officially announced his candidacy for the 17th Congressional District seat being vacated by Omar Burleson. Snowden, was elected to five two-year terms as Mayor of Tye, a small city near Abilene, and is presently serving on the City Council. Snowden currently is employed as the Base Documentation Manager at Dyess AFB in Abilene but will retire from that position November 1, to devote full time to campaign-

Snowden gained the spotlight in the Big Country area through his service on the 42nd District Court grand jury from late 1976 to early 1977. He initiated the grand jury investigation of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission (TABC) in Abilene for alleged abuse of power and violations of the Texas Liquor Control Act. His main objective was to see that the Liquor Control Act was enforced equally among the public as well as members of the TABC, and that no one's rights were abused.

The son of a former county judge of Garza County, Snowden was born September 23, 1921 and attended public schools in Tahoka (Lynn County). On November 1, 1942, he enlisted in the Army Air Corps, and was assigned to the pilot cadet program at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Upon graduation he served as a B-17 and B-25 pilot during World War II. He is married to the former Margie Etheridge of Post and has three children. Snowden plans a personal type campaign to include all 33 counties of the 17th Congressional District. His campaign slogan? "LET'S TRY COMMON SENSE"

Grandpaw Says

-Hi-

--An honest confession is good for the soul, but tough for the lawyer trying to defend the case.--

--I guess you heard that the baby was so ugly we had to tie a pork chop around its neck to get the dog to play with it!--

--Some people are like boats. They toot the loudest when they're in a fog.--

--We act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life, when all that we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about.--

--In these days of spiraling inflation, the person with a fixed income is really in a fix.--

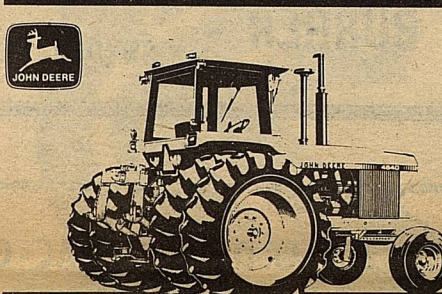

-----Would you believe?----- Texas is one state where the cattle outnumber the people. In 1975, an inventory showed there were 16,600,000 head of cattle, valued at $2.2 billion. Human population numbered over 12 million. (Value unknown!) Note: Like cattle, some more than others!

So far, So good, hope you are as well as I am.--
