POST BEGINS 'STRAT' FLIGHT OVER NATION

PAMPA TOPIC OF OUR CITY

Twinkles

Our Scotch strain has been discovered. Editor David M. Warren of the Panhandle Herald says we're so Scotch that we foolishly freeze our feet rather than wear out a tire. (Nature repairs our feet, but not our tire, Mr. Warren.)

And as for the pain, who ever heard of a Scotchman worrying over pain if it saved him money?

Just to carry the idea further, Carl Benefield brought us a peculiar, twisted Scotch walking cane. He was a little talky, but we appreciate his intentions.

Huey and "Hughie" give us a pain. If two fellows have to fight all the time, they should be more ornamental than the pictures of that pair.

It makes half the nation downright mad for a crazy fellow like Huey to talk so much common sense on occasion.

Musing of the moment: The Consumers' Guide, a federal publication, says that "consumption is the end and purpose of production." Some other branches of the same department work on the theory that price is the end and purpose of production. Money is of little intrinsic value. If it can't be exchanged for enough of the necessities of life to make life liveable, price means nothing and consumption declines. We can't get it through our head that the way to have more in a country—more distributed among the people—is to produce less. We can see how a few could have more, all right.

Brevitorials

THIS IS hodge-podge day. Many things arrive in the mails. Some of the letters, cards, and even books are instruments of propaganda. Concealed publicity is noted. But in this column everything goes, if it is advertising. We call from an advance proof of American Magazine the statement that millions of folks—one in every nine—suffer from read-always allergy. It is defined as a super-sensitivity to certain foods, conditions, or chemicals. Usually, allergy is inherited, although an asthmatic father may have a son who is troubled by hay fever. Sometimes over-zealous life insurance salesmen even use the word "allergy." Some folks suffer during a dust storm. Others cannot eat certain uncooked vegetables. Some girls become sentimental over chrysanthemums, others suffer swollen eyes and face. . . . But if you have allergy, don't let the Associated Study of Allergy in on the job. Perhaps you'd like to donate!

ACTUALLY, there seems to be no way to offset the bad results of progress. The girls and women in the offices lead strenuous lives and often break down under the strain. When they play, they play too hard. But don't imagine that their married sisters are in no danger. Housewives who are surrounded by too many luxuries and too many step-sisters get sufficient life insurance, eat too much. . . . The kids, too, have their menaces. The Texas department of health warns that whooping cough is a spring disease and one that is especially fatal to females. Babies should be kept away from youngsters who have been exposed to the disease. In its early stages, it resembles an ordinary cold. Remember, there is no communicable disease which exacts a higher toll among very young children than whooping cough.

HERE'S a bulletin from the U. S. department of agriculture saying that this year's production of tax-exempt cotton is limited under the Bankhead act to 10,500,000 bales of 500 pounds net weight. On a ginning of cotton that is not tax-exempt, the act levies a tax of 50 per cent of the average central market price on 3/4-inch middling spot cotton. The national allotment of 10,500,000 bales indicates that producers may expect to receive a tax-free allotment equal to about 65 per cent of the average production in the past period. Community and county committees receive individual applications for allotments of tax-exempt cotton and tax-exemption certificates. . . . If the farmers do not turn economists, it will be through no fault of the government.

THE DALLAS regional NRA office announces that in its district since last summer, back pay of $123,237.36 has been obtained for 2,500 employees in Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas. . . . The Northwest Texas Conference for Education will be held in Canyon March 22 and 23. This conference is for laymen as well as educators, and in our opinion is one of the most important meetings of the year. . . . And here's an

Rangers Raid Austin Night Club As Drive Starts To Enforce Laws

RAIDERS SEIZE PARAPHERNALIA FOR GAMBLING

POSSESSION OF LIQUOR CHARGES WILL BE FILED

AUSTIN, March 15 (AP)—Texas Rangers acting in line with Governor James V. Allred's frequent pronouncements for law enforcement, early today raided a downtown night club.

Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt said the raid was conducted, not on a specific order from the governor, but to carry out his general program of enforcing the law.

Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt said he said the first instituted by a ranger since "we served notice on all local officers if they didn't enforce laws we would." Travis county Sheriff Lee O. Allen cooperated in the raid.

He said about five cases of assorted liquors, and some gambling paraphernalia were seized. How many were arrested was not announced, but Allen said charges of possessing liquor for sale would be filed today.

While Rangers and deputy sheriffs raided the night club's bar and gambling room, in different parts of the building, celebrants overlooking the dance floor were uninterrupted.

The resort, one of the most popular in the city, often has been frequented by some legislators. Officials declined to say whether or not they were present during the raid.

Nesbitt said his department had not specified any places to be raided, but his men had been instructed to "enforce the laws in line with the governor's pronouncements." Others will follow, he indicated.

Allen said about a dozen men were in the gambling room in the basement, and "a few" in the bar across the hall from the dance floor upstairs.

Rangers directing the raid were Edgar T. Neal and Fred Holland.

Caliche To Be Placed On Four Miles Of No. 88

By tomorrow night, four miles of highway 88 south from the west city limits will have been given the required two layers of caliche. Details regarding the state of this work done by relief labor is not yet known.

The project has reached the first big curve south of the city. So far as is known, the work will continue, although action of Congress is expected to have a bearing on the future of PERA.

Legal work is being done in the McLean road precinct. A number of schools in the county will be assigned one or more men for beautification work. Gardening is expected to be gone McLean, pipe-line for waterworks may be laid at LePors, a sewer line laid at the Hopkins school, and playgrounds improved at other county schools. Some of the projects have been approved and some applications have not been perfected.

Grass seed will probably have a carrying plant next summer. The local garden, however, probably will not be planted this year. Last season's experience was not satisfactory.

INJURED IN WRECK

Cecil Pasley was taken to Worley hospital for treatment after an accident on South Cuyler street this morning. He was able to be taken to his home later. Three other occupants of his car escaped injury.

The accident happened when a truck driven by W. L. Slater of the G. H. Kyle company crashed with the car driven by Pasley. The car was overturned and badly damaged.

I Heard . . .

A local gagster remarking that a man fainted here early this afternoon and it took nearly three pails of sand to bring him around.

Boy Bound And Gagged In Fake Kidnaping Tale

Youth Wanted Money From Step-Father; Quarreled Recently With Girl.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 15. (AP)—Public safety Superintendent George Black today said that Chester Hyde, bound and gagged here after being reported kidnaped, has admitted the abduction story he told was a "fake."

"The boy has admitted it was a fake," Black stated, "he said he had been writing letters to his stepfather asking for money."

Hyde, 19, was reported kidnaped after being missing from his Woodbridge, N. J., home since last Monday. Police reported his stepfather, William Lella, horticulturist, had received a note demanding $10,000 ransom and threatening the youth with harm.

The youth was found bound hand and foot with electric wire early today alongside the road in a residential suburb by two policemen making their rounds.

At first, police said, he told of having been held captive by three men and a woman.

Taken to Wilmington police station, the boy first said he was dragged into an automobile at Woodbridge after a man "showed a handkerchief" into his face.

"I don't know what happened after that until I woke up in a room, I think it was Tuesday morning," he said in an interview.

After questioning him for several hours, Police Captain Edward G. Lewis said he doubted the youth's story. A short time later Superintendent Black said the boy admitted it was false.

R. George Harvey of the division of investigation, department of justice, said he understands Hyde quarreled recently with a girl friend, who is Woodbridge, N. J., high school student, and told her "you'll see what happens to me."

TWO AMERICANS INDICTED IN SPY RING IN FRANCE

PARIS, March 15 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Switz, of East Orange, N. J., and New York, were indicted with 30 other persons today as members of an alleged Soviet spy ring.

Magistrate Michel Benon, the examiner, sent the cases to the correctional court for trial, expected to begin early in April.

Included in the indictments were those of ten persons who are fugitives.

The prosecution is expected to order a secret trial for Mr. and Mrs. Switz who have been held in prison for fifteen months of questioning.

They and their alleged accomplices will probably take the case before the thirteenth tribunal of the criminal court.

Of the 34 espionage suspects originally named.

Garza Described As Refuge For Drug Addicts, Thieves

DALLAS, March 15. (AP)—Deep into operations of a purported West Texas crime and narcotic ring delved government investigators today, with promises of more action to follow promptly upon numerous indictments returned for slaying and dope and liquor traffic.

Three men already charged in the machine gun killing of Spencer Stafford, federal narcotic agent, at Post, Texas, were named in new indictments alleging violation of federal narcotic laws returned late yesterday.

Government authorities hinted at even more grand jury action, but declined to reveal its nature.

Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county, and Dr. V. A. Hartman and Dr. L. W. Kitchen, Post physician and veterinarian, accused in the Stafford slaying, were indicted with two others on the narcotic charges. Indicted with them were Miss Lena Roberts, Dr. Hartman's nurse, and Ed Brazier, employe of Dr. Kitchen.

Woodring Will Be API Speaker

The Hon. Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war, will be an outstanding speaker at the A. P. I. convention in Amarillo April 11, it was announced this morning by the program committee.

Mr. Woodring will speak at 1:30 o'clock. His address will be one of the high points of the A. P. I. meeting. His subject will be the national defense.

Members of the Panhandle chapter of A. P. I. were delighted to have Mr. Woodring's acceptance, believing that his address will be of wide interest and importance.

San Diego Sets Stage For 1935's Biggest Fair

A more natural and romantic setting for a great exposition would be hard to imagine. This air view of the buildings and exposition grounds, half hidden in the natural reaches of Balboa Park in San Diego, gives some hint of the natural beauty available for landscaping. The city of San Diego may be seen in the background.

HOUSE AGAIN SPURNS REPORT AND VOTES TO PRINT A BILL

Ballot Hints Chain Store Tax Is Highly Favored By Legislative Body.

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP)—The Texas house today again overturned a recommendation of its revenue and taxation committee and voted, 81 to 33, to print on minority report a bill to levy a tax on gross receipts of retail chain stores.

The tax would be graduated according to the number of units in a chain. Gross receipts of chains of five stores or less would be taxed one-twentieth with a maximum of two per cent on receipts of chains of more than 206 stores and receipts of $2,500,000.

Rep. John Atchison of Gainesville, its author, asserted the bill was favored by Governor James V. Allred. The house last week voted to print on minority report a bill to increase the sulphur tax, rejected by the revenue and taxation committee by a substantial margin.

The house also voted to print on minority report a bill to regulate placement of outdoor advertising signs along state highways and to tax outdoor signs according to size.

A bill to prohibit foreign companies barred from Texas for violation of the anti-trust laws from re-entering the state through a controlled subsidiary was introduced by Rep. Morris Roberts of Beville.

Rep. R. L. Reader of San Antonio offered a bill to give whole-

MECCA, Kingdom of Saudi-Arabia, March 15 (AP)—Three assassins were killed by a royal bodyguard as they attempted to cut down Ibn Saud, the "warrior king" of Saudi-Arabia close to the sacred black stone which the Mohammedans believe was given by the angel Gabriel to Abraham. The 55-year old king, who stands 6 feet 4 inches tall, was saved from the assassins' knives by his son and heir, the Emir Saud.

Road Proposals To Be Laid Soon Before Officials

Proposals for the highway north across the Canadian river will soon be laid, with engineering data, before the state highway commission.

It has been learned that W. J. Van London, district state engineer, will not recommend any certain route, but will let the highway commission decide.

A tentative designation is expected, permanency to be given the route when the right-of-way is obtained. George Briggs, local B. C. D. manager, was north of the river today working on the project.

DIONNES TO BE KING'S WARDS IN BILL PASSED AT TORONTO

TORONTO, March 15. (AP)—Five famous little girls, indifferent to the serious deliberations their existence has evoked, were well on their way today to becoming "special wards of his majesty the king."

A measure to place the babes, the celebrated Dionne quintuplets, under the guardianship of David A. Croll, Ontario minister of welfare, was up for its third reading today in the provincial legislature.

For two hours yesterday the legislators debated the bill — "The Dionne quintuplet guardianship act of 1935." The liberal government of Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn jammed it through committee

FLIER SEEKS TO ARRIVE IN EIGHT HOURS

SOARING AT ALTITUDE OF AROUND FORTY THOUSAND FEET

LOS ANGELES, March 15. (AP)—Wiley Post, noted "round the world flier, took off from Union Air Terminal at Burbank today on his second attempt to span the continent in eight hours or less in a 2,447 mile flight through the stratosphere to New York City.

In his usual quiet manner, the Oklahoma pilot waved "so long" to a group of sleepy-eyed well-wishers at the field and roared away in his globe girdling plane, the "Winnie Mae."

Post's first cross-country stratosphere dash several weeks ago ended abruptly when he set his motor troubled ship down on the Mojave desert less than an hour away from Los Angeles.

He expected today to travel through the less restricted regions of the upper air at a speed of around 250 miles an hour "or more"—something like six miles a minute.

Post dropped the "Winnie Mae's" retractable landing gear as the ship left the ground, and will land on the plane's belly when he reaches Floyd Bennett field in New York City.

Post's takeoff today had previously been canceled because, he said, of unfavorable local weather conditions.

Toward dawn, however, fog from the Pacific ocean rolled off the terminal and reports from other points along the route were be-

More Donations Are Received In BCD Fund Drive

The B. C. D.'s drive for a special fund for highways and industries continued today, although no reports are expected before tomorrow, when the drive proper is expected to end.

President M. A. Graham has urged that all workers finish the territory by tomorrow night. Although scattering calls may be necessary later, he wishes reports by then.

He said the drive had already lasted too long, but that in this busy season it had seemed impossible for all committees to give as much time as expected.

Voluntary contributions continue to be made as a result of publicity given the drive. Anyone not seen is urged to telephone the B. C. D. or leave a check at the office. New contributions include: Al Lawson $5, J. L. Noel $5, F. E. Leach $10, Roy McMillen $10, Earl Talley $10.

Gray Contract To Be Let March 29

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP)—The Texas highway commission said today that it would tabulate bids March 29 on ten national recovery projects announced Wednesday and on two additional projects.

The additional projects approved by the bureau of public roads were for 7 mile of concrete pavement on highway 1 in Mt. Pleasant and an underpass under the Texas & Pacific railway on highway 1 near Duro, approximately 14 miles west of Odessa.

Projects previously announced were in Angeline and Trinity, Tom Green, Kerr, El Paso, Randall, Cameron, Deaf Smith, Gray, Armstrong and Nolan counties.

LIQUOR ISSUE WILL BE NEXT BEFORE HOUSE

CENTENNIAL BILL IS PASSED; WILL GO TO SENATE

AUSTIN, March 15 (AP)—The question of submitting prohibition repeal was the next important business facing the house of representatives today after it had approved a $300,000 appropriation for the Texas Centennial.

When consideration of submission was stopped temporarily a few days ago, the house was debating a compromise suggestion of representative Alfred Fetsch of Fredericksburg, and the senate had approved submission next August 24 at a special election.

Under Fetsch's resolution, the question of repealing the present bone-dry constitutional amendment would be submitted and a system of state sales of hard liquor would be substituted. The senate resolution submitting repeal merely authorized the legislature to set up a state monopoly over hard liquor.

The house passed the Centennial appropriation bill yesterday, 102 to 32, the heavy majority making it effective immediately if it received 21 votes in the senate, where sponsors said it would be brought up soon.

The long-pending subject of a planning board to correlate state and federal relief programs, advocated by Governor James V. Allred, was finally cleared as both house and senate adopted a conference report adjusting differences.

School Bill Passes

The house also passed a bill appropriating $227,538 for summer schools at state colleges, but because the senate had approved an appropriation of $380,000 a conference committee was in order.

Despite charges that the issue was being avoided, a senate committee reported favorably, 9 to 4, a bill by Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth prescribing county local option elections as a pre-requisite to holding horse racing meets at which wagering was permitted. Rawlings' resolution was a substitute for one introduced by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson to repeal the law legalizing wagering on horse races. On the substitution, the committee vote was 7 to 6.

A similar local option bill by Rep. Taylor Russell and a bill by Rep. Harry Graves of Galveston providing outright repeal have been reported favorably by a house committee.

The house appropriations committee voted, 11 to 5, to grant the request of heads of the state's higher educational institutions and recommend lump appropriations for those schools for the next biennium. The appropriations have been itemized for many years.

Christian Scientists Lose

The committee also voted, 12 to 1, to recommend an appropriation of $30 per student to municipal junior colleges. These colleges heretofore have received no state aid.

Exemption of Christian Science practitioners from the medical practice act, opposed by the state medical association, was rejected by the senate health committee, 4 to 3, 5 to 1, a bill by Senator Claud West-erfield of Dallas.

Christian Science practitioners contended the prohibition against charging for services denied them means of a livelihood, as the section restricted their business endeavors, and that strict obedience to the law would force all of their churches in Texas to close.

Dr. Holman Taylor of Fort Worth said medical doctors would agree to removal of the entire sub-section of the act referring to churches, which he contended would permit Christian scientists to operate in their proper sphere.

"We can't agree to eliminating the no-pay feature," he said, for with that removed, "they would have the right to practice medicine."

FDR Secretary Seriously Ill

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Louis M. Howe, secretary to President Roosevelt, is seriously ill at the White House.

Howe, who is 64, was taken sick following his trip with the president on February 23 to Boston.

His condition, it was learned, was regarded as critical earlier this week but the White House reported today that he was improved.

Dr. Ross T. McIntire, White House physician, had diagnosed the illness as a recurrence of the old bronchial trouble complicated by cardiac weakness.

Mrs. Howe is with her husband at the White House.

Howe has lived in the White House since Mr. Roosevelt took over the presidency.

Will Rogers Signs New Film Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Will Rogers, reported to be the most popular actor in motion pictures, signed a new three-year contract with Fox Film corporation today.

When the contract is fulfilled, he will have equaled the Hollywood record of tenure of any actor at one studio—ten years. Rogers went on the Fox contract list in 1928. The only other player who remained under contract to a studio, without absence, for the same period of time was Ramon Novarro, at M-G-M.

No details of Rogers' salary were divulged. He was said to be receiving $125,000 per picture under

Scanning New Books

Thomas Wolfe wrote, it will be remembered, "Look Homeward, Angel." Now he has written "Of Time and the River" (Scribners). This is not only a novel almost as long as "Anthony Adverse." It also is the general title of six novels.

Of the six related volumes four have been written, and two published. They are all large, thick books. When Mr. Wolfe writes a "short" story, his unusual length is around 30,000 words. It is therefore no surprise to find that there are more than 350,000 words in "Of Time and the River."

The foregoing is part of a delirious effort to show a certain amount of curiosity about Mr. Wolfe's book without saying much about the book itself. Although the temper of the novel may be expressed briefly, giving the flavor and flavor of it demands more space than is available.

The novel is a panorama of a few years in the early twenties. It is strung upon the life of a young man, who is seen reflected against those with whom he comes in contact, his family, and life itself. It is the kind of book you can open at random and lose yourself in utterly. In spite of some terrific clichés and some Stinesque antics, it may be great.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS

By May Stevens Isaacs

Edna Ferber's new book, the eighth novel, besides numerous short stories and three plays which this author has to her credit, has recently been published. The title, "COME AND GET IT," is taken from the cheery call of the camp cook. "Come and get it, or I'll throw it out," when he has a meal ready to serve.

This is the entertaining story of Barney Glasgow who, beginning as a chore boy in a lumber camp under Jed Hewitt, worked his way up to a partnership and, finally, became a multi-millionaire. But it is more than that. It is the story of lumber, of the immense acreage of timber lands, their depletion without re-planting; of the paper mills and the perfecting of machinery for making the best of paper and the making of a fortune, most of which was swept away in the Wall Street crash of '29.

Swon Bostrom came on a cattle boat from Sweden when a small boy and had spent practically all his life since as a lumberjack in the Pine Ridge section. He was through all the years a devoted friend and admirer of Barney Glasgow, "Gusto" as he was familiarly called by men at the camp and, later, the men who worked in his own paper mill. Priding himself on his ability to go out and do a day's cutting with the best of them, Swon celebrated his ninety-fourth birthday by felling a tree, his great grandson, "Bard" Glasgow, cutting opposite him.

Karie, Swon's only child, motherless since a small girl, was much like her father in tastes and disposition, never losing her love for the timber lands and the pine ridge. Years she lived in the Glasgow mansion and these spent abroad with her daughter and the twins, with an unlimited amount of money to spend, did not spoil Karie. Emma, Swon's daughter, married Hewitt, married Barney Glasgow and, while they differed in many things, she adored him as long as they lived. She belonged to the select society circle of Butte des Morts, a small town where they resided in an expensive and elegant establishment. Her son was handsome like his father but turned like his mother while Evelyn the daughter looked like the Hewitts but had her father's disposition.

As his mother before him had chosen her mate from among the men who worked for her father, so Bernie married the grand daughter of his father's boyhood pal, Swon Bostrom. While the society of Butte des Morts excised Lotta, her husband's affection lasted through the years.

Lotta was an unusually lovely girl, a beauty which remained, and she was also ambitious. She secured private tutor and with her mother studied French, thinking they might sometime go to Europe. A year or so later this hope was realized, Bernie taking them abroad for several months.

With the coming of the world war, Bernie's work became heavier and he went often to New York so Lotta, taking her mother and the twins who were now two years old, went to this eastern city. Here, through her beauty, tact, studied French and her father's money, she entered New York society, as she had long desired. After the war, she took a house in London where she lived luxuriously, and entertained lavishly. Her husband ran over occasionally at the four times for brief stay. The children had tutors. They traveled about the various countries of Europe, vacationed in the Alps, visited the spas and lead a gay life generally.

Bard and Danny never really wanted to live in Europe and frequently expressed a wish to come back to America to live, but their mother thought she was giving them the best of opportunities, intended Bard to attend Oxford and here, under vigorous protest, he was entered the years of the Wall Street crash. It was a year later that Lotta gave up to come back to Butte des Morts.

Bernie's love of Bernie's money had always made life easy for her and she had not sensed at all the terrific strain under which he was laboring at home. When at last his family arrived, they were shocked to find that his health was completely broken.

The children, now almost out of their teens, were thrilled to be home again and were intensely interested in everything connected with the mill and paper-making. They wanted to take a trip by motor across country to get first hand information about conditions, the labor situation, economic problems. Their ideas did not altogether coincide with their parents' viewpoints, but that was only a repetition of what had occurred for a little more than a score of years before when Bernie fell that he could suggest improvements in the business management to his father.

This book covers a distinct epoch in the history of our country and, aside from being a good novel, is worth reading for the information it contains relative to forestry, the lumber industry, and the making of paper.

MESA CANYON AND PUEBLO,

by Charles F. Lummis, The Century Co., New York, 1925.

If you are tired of the grinding routine of your work-a-day world, if you like to sit and meditate pleasantly on what you will do on your next vacation, then read MESA CANYON AND PUEBLO. Lummis will take you to an enchanted land. He will show you the Grand Canyon of Arizona, "a chasm into which all the famous gorges of the world could be tossed and lost." Go with him over the giant Rockies and travel some two thousand miles across the Great American Desert. In southern California you will see Death's Valley, four hundred and eighty feet below sea level, where the thermometer often reaches 140 degrees in the shade. It was across this desolate waste that thirteen men from the snow-bound "Dinner" party trudged to California for aid, and were forced to eat their own dead in order to survive.

Within the city limits of Los Angeles Lummis will show you the Brea pond, crude oil bog where the saber-tooth tiger, the Pleistocene camel, the imperial elephant, the giant ground sloth and many other pre-historic animals were caught. Their skeletons preserved for countless centuries.

In Arizona you will find the oldest trees in the world, the Petrified Forest. Lummis says that millions of years ago an earth quake lowered there great giants, and that boiling mineral springs and slow building sediments have worked on them a transmutation. In this same country you may see the Rainbow Natural Bridge located near Navajo Mountain by the Arizona and Utah boundary line. The span of this bridge is more than two hundred seventy-nine feet, and it is more than three-hundred feet high. On the western edge of the Tonto basin in Arizona, you will find another natural bridge known as the Pine Creek bridge. On the top of this bridge grows a hundred and sixty acre orchard. Its slant span of five hundred feet shelters a reputedly bottomless pool. In this same territory where Beaver Creek flows into the Green river, you will find Montezuma's well and Castle Montezuma never lived here as legend would have us believe, but some time ago in the dim past Indians did live here. They carried their water from the dark circling pool, some two hundred feet in diameter, up the steep cliff to their fort house.

In a remote corner of western New Mexico, you will find a stone autograph album or the Inscription Rock. This great jutting mass of rock bears a striking resemblance to a castle. It is called El Morrow, and may be found beside the historic trail from the Rio Grande to the city of Lordsburg. The remains of the famous seven cities of Cibola for which Coronado searched. The signatures of many of the earliest Spanish explorers, soldiers, and missionaries are carved on this rock. One of these is that of Don Juan de Onate who passed by there on his return from the discovery of the Pacific ocean in 1605. Onate brought the first colonists to New Mexico. Another interesting signature is that of Don Diego de Vargas who re-took Santa Fe from the Indians.

In New Mexico you will find also interesting Acocoma, city of the sky. The cliffs of this great mesa are perpendicular, a mile long and over three hundred feet high. Acocoma and nearby Tazeta are the oldest of the Pueblo towns. For the most part the Pueblo Indians are a peaceful semi-civilized people who chose these high retreats for their homes because of the protection afforded against enemies. Pueblo look upon children as belonging to the mother instead of the father, and children take the name of their mothers. Both the Pueblo and Navajo youths undergo rigid training in the live rattlers and their teeth while dancing. A peculiar vestige of early religious fervor is the new taboo self-cruelty. Before intervention of the government this strange cult re-enacted the sacrifice of the Christ. The first self-flagellators were organized by the Penitent brothers during Onate's colonization when the settlers were not doing well.

You have taken a hop-skip and jump vacation on paper. But, if you read this book, you certainly will be better prepared for that trip next summer. All these interesting places and people are not in Africa, or Europe, but right here close-by.—An A. A. U. W. Book Review.

MRS BURGE TO FILL POSITION SECOND TIME

APPEAL IS MADE FOR THRIFT ROOM SUPPLIES

Re-election of Mrs. A. L. Burge as president, and choice of other officers for next term, featured the business session of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association yesterday.

Mrs. J. A. Vance was named vice president, Mrs. J. L. Lester recording secretary, Mrs. George Nix treasurer, Mrs. C. D. Hunter corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bob Sees historian, Mmes. J. M. Turner and E. C. Burba council delegates.

Mrs. A. C. Green appealed for donations of clothing to be given needy children through the thrift room. Spring dresses and underwear are badly needed. The shoe club is also in need of funds.

Recreation Through Fine Arts was the program topic, discussed by Mrs. John Andrews, People of the United States have a greater opportunity to read good literature and enjoy fine arts than those of other nations, she said.

Miss Elizabeth Jameson played a piano solo. The school band played, directed by Mrs. C. O. Huber, and Miss Loma Groom led songs, accompanied by Miss Frances McCue. The invocation was by H. D. Tucker. Mrs. Bruce Pratt was program leader.

More than 100 adults were present for the meeting.—J. L. Lester's room was awarded a picture for having the largest representation of mothers.

Relief Workers Won't Work But Will Eat Oxen

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 15. (AP)—Because Oklahoma farmers did not care to have any part in reviving the ancient custom of plowing with oxen, a relief project has been assigned, literally, to the hamburger grinder.

Three months ago E. G. Jeffrey, managing director of the Oklahoma rural rehabilitation corp., acquired 50 head of oxen and had them trained to the plow, with high hope of placing them with his farmer clients.

When the oxen had finished their short course in farming, they were offered to the clients. There were no takers. Relief officials went into a huddle and decided to offer the plow-oxen on credit. Still, no takers, and the feed bill was mounting.

Now, it has been decided, the oxen will be slaughtered and reoffered as ground beef. The clients will take that.

Book Review and French Clubs of A. A. U. W. Meet

The Texas and Southwestern Book Review club and the French club, both sponsored by the A. A. U. W. chapter here, held meetings this week, the former Tuesday at the Boy Scout office in city hall, and the latter with Mrs. Earl O'Keefe yesterday.

Those present for the book review program, one of a series on books and authors of this area, were Miss Josephine Thomas, Miss Charlotte Embry, Doyle F. Osborne, Jerome Tarble, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. C. C. Wilson.

Mrs. Blanche Cattin was the guest instructor for the French class, attended by Mmes. R. E. Kolner, H. H. Hicks, Harry McEwing, Dudley Steele, Wilson, and O'Keefe.

anti-sales tax blast showing that of every earned dollar, about 40 cents is required for taxes of various kinds. Ninety per cent of the people spend all they earn. Another tract says that one-fourth of the $12,000,000,000 oil industry is owned by independents, and it charges that the oil code is putting the independent group out of business.

Mr. Fish reaches the astonishing conclusion that present-day republicans and Jeffersonian democrats are the same in doctrines.

IF YOU'RE in the oil business, who is your biggest competitor? A tract just received says it is the tax collector. Taxes on a barrel of crude oil cost more than the oil itself. Taxes amount to $1.11 per barrel on the average. In the 13 years from 1921 through 1932, the petroleum industry earned $2,198,939,914. During the same period it paid $5,867,115,897 in taxes! There are 118 types of taxes imposed on petroleum products and property operations and services. The petroleum tax bill is more than a billion dollars annually. . . . etc, etc.

Relieves Sluggish Feeling

Night or day, when you first begin to feel sluggish and need something to strengthen out your bowels (to relieve constipation)—take a dose of reliable Theodore's Black-Draught.

"We take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and any bad feeling that comes from these conditions," writes Mrs. Luvena Owens, of Springer, Okla. "Black-Draught cleans the system and make me feel much better after taking it."

Freshen up by taking this purely vegetable laxative, if you have a tendency to constipation or sluggishness.

HEAD IS MRS CULBERSON AT SAM HOUSTON

CHAIRMAN OF CARSON COUNTY COUNCIL IS GUEST

Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association yesterday elected Mrs. Frank Culbertson president for next year, to succeed Mrs. L. L. McCollin. Mrs. J. A. Arwood was named vice president, Mrs. Luther Herson secretary, and Mrs. Joe Shelton treasurer.

Mrs. W. J. Wright of Conway, president of Carson County Parent-Teacher council, was a guest and contributed a humorous reading, Ma at the P-TA, to the program.

Supt. R. B. Fisher was the speaker. He presented interesting glimpses of his trip to the recent convention of the superintendents' division of National Education association.

Curriculum revision, a major convention topic, he defined as addition to the curriculum rather than curtailment. He discussed the perpetual conflict between individual liberty and social justice, which he said must end in compromises for fairness to all.

Teachers presented stunts to advertise the carnival which the Parent-Teacher association will sponsor this evening. The glee club sang three numbers, directed by a member, Irene Frawner.

Principal A. L. Patrick directed the program. In the business session, members voted to give $5 to the thrift room shoe fund. The attendance award went to Miss Wilma Chapman's room.

SPECIAL O. E. S. MEETING

WOMAN SENTENCED

AIRD, March 15 (AP)—Mary Lou Howell today faced a 20-year penitentiary sentence for robbery with firearms of L. F. Threet, elderly ranchman, Aug. 14 last. A district court jury convicted her yesterday after the prosecution had charged that she lured Threet to the place of the robbery where the ranchman was fatally wounded.

DIE IN EXPLOSION

TYLER, March 15 (AP)—Burned in an explosion, two men were dead today at Tolleson's pumping plant near London, Texas. The bodies of Ed Dornan, 23, and Harvey Bird, 40, were found about 20 feet from the pump house. They apparently had run that far and collapsed.

COLUMBUS

Before the Wise Men of Spain

HAD it not been for his persistence, Columbus would never have entered on his voyage that led to the discovery of America. For five years he appeared at intervals before a court of Spain's picked wise men—clergymen, scientists, mariners—pleading his case, yet the court advised Queen Isabella that Columbus' plans were impractical. Later, as he left for France, Isabella recalled him and gave him funds for his voyage.

This five-year inquiry, held often at Salamanca, is pictured on the one peso of 1895, issued by the Dominican Republic in its drive for funds to build a mausoleum for Columbus' remains.

Montana Rides Again

A RAPID-FIRE ROMANCE BY EVAN EVANS

SYNOPSIS: The Montana Kid and Brother Pascual have entered the Valley of the Dead and confronted Juan-Silva, his withered and terrible master. They ask to be made guards, hoping secretly they can rescue Mateo Rubric, condemned to work himself to death in the awful heat of the place by General Estrada. Pascual has been taken away to a room; Montana has confessed there is a price on his head, and Juan-Silva has agreed with Montana that he wishes all Rurales dead.

of joining those rows, of chained laborers in the field.

"Set him free, foot and hand," commanded Juan-Silva.

This was done instantly. Juan-Silva dipped his hand and his withered arm into the water that he before him and picked out one of the big, shining white pebbles. As such as it was taken from the water the silver brilliance began to leave it.

"This is a bird. It takes wing. Shoot it, friend!" said Juan-Silva, and tossed the stone into the air.

The sun flashed into the hand of the Kid, but he missed that best moment when the stone hangs a trifle at the top of the throw. He missed it there; he missed it as it gathered speed in the descent; but his third bullet struck the rock into a puff of white dust when it was just above the ground.

"Well," said Juan-Silva, canting his head critically to one side, "that is very good, but that is not El Keed. Try again."

He picked up two stones and threw them very high and to a distance. The Kid, turning, found the terrible sun in his eyes. The stones were little black specks.

One of them he knocked into nothingness at the top of its rise. The other he missed twice as it fell. He was half blind with the dazzle; he heard the stone fall on the gravel of that naked patio.

The sound was a voice to him. He heard a slight murmur among the guards, and saw the flash of their malice.

"And that," said Juan-Silva, "was still worse. But all good things come in threes. So here you are again."

Three flashing pebbles he threw this time. The second gun was already in the hand of the Kid. With his scowling brows he made a shadow that enabled him to look close to the sun. He dared not miss, and therefore he held his fire a heart-taking instant before each shot.

The first stone disappeared at the top of its rise. The second as it began to fall, and the third when it was a foot from the ground.

The guards drew in a gasping breath in unison. Juan-Silva said: "That is very good. You are El Keed. El Keed, walking together! But El Keed," he went on, carries with him a magic pair of guns that never miss."

"Mine miss plenty of times," said Montana frankly.

It was not heat that was making him sweat, now; it was the thought

DARROW WILL TELL SENATE VIEWS ON NRA

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Clarence Darrow, old courtroom duelist who conducted perhaps the most noted of all onslaughts on NRA, accepted an invitation today to tell a senate inquiry what to do about the blue eagle.

The Chicago lawyer, now 77, informed the senate finance committee that he would appear Monday. Fees who want to scrap NRA forthwith were looking forward to his testimony hopefully. Ten months ago in a report which brought a furious scrap with Hugh S. Johnson, Darrow told the president that some NRA codes tended to foster monopoly and crush the "little fellow." Johnson replied that Darrow's report was "superficial, intemperate, and inaccurate."

Long-standing differences between NRA and the federal trade commission had burst into the open today after the two agencies placed clashing reports about the steel industry's price system on President Roosevelt's desk. The president had asked a joint report.

The trade commission report strongly recommended that "price-fixing" be dropped from the steel code and left "open to legal attack on the ground it violates the anti-trust laws."

The commission said that continuing a battle in the thick dark begins.

Only Ten Jurors Are Selected In Trial Of Hamlin

AMARILLO, March 15 (AP)—One juror was added this morning to nine previously accepted to try George S. Hamlin for the hammer slaying of his 33-year-old bride here last January 4.

Court attaches said the jury selection, which already has consumed four and a half days, was the longest in history of Potter county.

About 35 men of an original special venire of 400 remained to be questioned. The state has exercised 14 challenges and the defense 13. Each side was allowed 15.

Debate over remarks alleged to have been made about the case by a ventriloquist delayed proceedings nearly an hour this morning. Another prospective juror was placed on the stand as a witness before the first ventriloquist was disqualified.

GRAY COUNTY TRACK AND FIELD MEET TO BE HELD AT LEFORS TOMORROW

PAMPA NOT TO COMPETE TILL DISTRICT MEET

LITERARY EVENTS TO BE HELD TODAY AND SATURDAY

The Gray county track and field meet will be held tomorrow in Lefors with preliminaries scheduled to start at 9 o'clock and the finals at 1 o'clock. Winners of the first three places in each event will be eligible to compete in the district meet in Pampa, April 5 and 6.

Thincials from LeFors, McLean, Alanoed, Hopkins and perhaps some of the rural schools will compete. Pampa, being classed as a city school, does not have to compete in the county meet, but will have an elimination with the winners entering the district event.

The events are expected to be closely contested. LeFors is the defending champion, but the Pirate Thincials are hoped to have strong competition from the other teams. Officials have the track in excellent condition. Only the weather can keep the meet from being a success.

The LeFors girls volley ball team will represent the county at the Pampa meet. The Pirate Lassies won the title in a play-off series last week. Hopkins took second place and McLean third place.

Literary events were being staged today with the finals set for late this afternoon.

Stratford And Channing Play Saturday Night

CHANNING, March 15.—For the sixth time this season the girls' basketball teams of Channing and Stratford will meet Saturday night on the floor of the Stratford gym. Stratford is leading in games won by the closest of margins, but the Eagles hope to tie the count in the next meeting.

Both teams have displayed wonderful sportsmanship this season and although ancient rivals, the teams enjoy nothing more than a meeting on the hardwood. The sextets will enter the A. U. basketball tournament in Plainview next week. Proceeds from tomorrow night's tussle will go into the fund for the trip.

Steve Hamas Hurt In Schmeling Bout

LONDON, March 15.—Steve Hamas, N. J. heavyweight not only lost his chance to fight Max Baer for the championship when he was stopped by Max Schmeling in Hamburg last Sunday, but he may suffer even more serious consequences, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Express by Tervor Wignall, boxing critic.

Hamas is showing serious after-effects of the gruelling battle, and it is feared he suffered a spinal injury. His condition has become so serious that he was unable to accept an invitation to visit Chancellor Hitler at Munich, Wignall reported.

Ray Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raeburn Thompson, underwent an emergency operation at Pampa hospital last night.

A'S BIG BOMBER BEHIND THE BAT

CLEVELAND LOOKS FOR YOUNG BLOOD TO FULFILL PROMISES

BY ARTHUR S. BOSTWICK.

CLEVELAND, March 15.—The Indians, rated by many critics as holders of a first mortgage on the American league 1935 pennant, will depend heavily on rookies to fulfill that trust.

General Manager Billy Evans and Field Boss Walter Johnson place their pennant hopes in the hands of youth to the extent that the prospective Indian lineup would be the youngest big league aggregation in the game's history, according to Evans.

Of 11 rookies scheduled to go through the training camp clinic at New Orleans, Johnson will study with a particularly critical eye the performance of Louis "Boze" Berger, infielder, and Charlie George, catcher.

Present plans place Berger at second base. When—and if—he qualifies, Odel "Bad News" Hale will be shifted from second to third to replace the veteran Willie Kamm.

Infielder Woodley, Average 23½. The average age of the Indians' infield would then be only 23½ years. Hale, at 26, would be the dean of the quartet. Berger and Bill Knickerbocker, shortstop, are 23, and Harold (Hal) Trasky, slugging first baseman, is 22.

Whether George, another youngster of 23, will be a regular backstop depends on the resiliency of Frank Pytlak, brilliant corner-upper in '34, and the veteran Glenn Myatt.

Pytlak was a competent understudy for Myatt last year. Then ill luck struck the duo. Pytlak fell victim to a stomach disorder. Myatt received a leg fracture in action.

The 205-pound, 6 foot-1, George, who was born in Waycross, Ga., comes to Cleveland from New Orleans. He played the outfield at Calhoun college and batted .490. Throws and bats right-handed.

A U. of Maryland Hero.

Berger, a Baltimore native and all-around athletic hero at the University of Maryland, batted .313 for New Orleans last season, ranking second among Southern league sluggers. Six feet two, he weighs 190 lbs., bats and throws right-handed.

Joe Vesmik, left field, and Earl Averill, center field, are conceded their posts without "rookie threats." In right field the Indians expect to be strengthened by a newcomer to the fold but an experienced major leaguer, Bruce Campbell, 25, acquired from the St. Louis Browns.

Catcher Bill Brenzel is another backstop to be introduced to the big top by the Indians. His experience includes service with the San Francisco Missions and Kansas City.

"Best Since Joe Sewell."

Roy Hughes, 23, a ranking shortstop for New Orleans last year, may be groomed for a job as utility infielder. He batted .289 in '34, and is touted as "the best shortstop prospect from the Southern league since Joe Sewell graduated in 1920."

Two rookies hurlers the Indians expect to develop are Albert Milnar, 21, southpaw, and Dennis Galehouse, 23, right-hander. Milnar, an alumnaus of the University of Michigan, was named pitcher of the year in 1934.

Mr. Hoover Knew all the Answers

PALO ALTO, Cal., March 15.—Little Ruth Slenczynski, the piano prodigy, and Herbert Hoover fought a duel of wits at the Hoover home here the other day. It was a draw.

"Mr. Hoover," said Ruth at dinner, "I've got a conundrum for you."

"So?" said Mr. Hoover.

"What's a president?" asked Ruth.

"Anybody that'd be one is a fool, I expect," suggested the former president. But Ruth was not satisfied and her host gave up.

"He's a cabinet maker," said Ruth.

"He'd better be a plumber nowadays," returned Mr. Hoover.

BRIEFS FROM TRAINING CAMPS

(By The Associated Press.)

ORLANDO, Fla.—William Watson Clark, once one of the National League's finest southpaws, has maintained for several weeks that his arm, lame for a couple of years, is sound again. Maybe they'll believe him now.

Lefty pitched four innings for the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday, gave the yanigans four hits, and one of them scratches, struck out three and walked none.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants has been looking for two years for an acceptable understudy at first base. Perhaps Joe Malay is the answer.

Joe played the whole game against the Red Sox yesterday and kicked in with a pair of hits. That is more than Terry has been able to do.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The New York Yankees still are chucking today over the performances of Russ Van Atta and Dick Walker, a couple of 1934 lame arms who received those famous dollar-a-year contracts.

Van Atta took a 4-inning pitching stretch yesterday and allowed only one run. Walker, who couldn't throw all last year, was tossing strikes from the outfield all day, one ending in a double play.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Manager Bill McKechnie of the Braves says there's no use "foolin' around with these Yankees" tomorrow—"Babe Ruth and Wally Berger will play without doubt."

"Berger is in fair shape," Bill says, "and the Babe says his legs are strong enough to take four or five innings in the outfield."

SCOUT NEWS

Troop 20, Rotary club

Eighteen members of the troop were present at the meeting last night in the basement of the Methodist church. The meeting was in charge of Ell Forville, assistant scoutmaster. Leonard Cockrell was given his tenderfoot badge. Future programs were discussed and assignments for a 100 per cent attendance program made. The troop will be brought up to its full strength of 20 members next week when a new tenderfoot will be admitted.

Some of the best players on the Plains have already said they'd be here.

GALVESTON IS WITHOUT ANY OF 1934 CLUB

MAJOR LEAGUES MAY RETURN SOME OF STARS

BY BILL VAN FLEET.

Special Editor, Galveston News.

(Written for Associated Press.)

GALVESTON, March 15.—Chances of the Galveston Buccaneers to repeat as champions of the Texas league depend almost wholly on what players, if any, are returned to the club from the major leagues. Former major leaguers Billy Wobb, earned major league trials at the conclusion of last season and their loss, to Galveston meant the wrecking of the 1934 champions.

If Charlie English, second baseman; Buck Fausett, third baseman; Wallace Moses, outfielder, are not retained after April by the Philadelphia Athletics they will be returned to Galveston. Their return would plug the three outstanding weak spots on the club. In addition to the three above players, Fitchie Jim Eavin and Orville Jennings went to Philadelphia on a make-good basis and may be returned before the start of the season.

Jack Mealey, who succeeded Wobb as manager, is proud of the pitching alignment. Joe Gibbs, six-foot-five youngster who was a sensation last year until he suffered a broken collar bone in mid-season, is counted on as one of the staff. He won 15 games against 9 defeats last season.

With Charlie English, Fausett, and Gibbs, the club has a pitching staff that broke in with a string of shutouts in mid-season of 1934; Eddie Cole, young right-hander from the New York-Penn league, who won 18 games with the seventh-place Hamilton club last season; Tom Davis, right-hander, who won 13 games for Tulsa last year; Max Butcher, right-hander, who formerly pitched in the Southern association and New York-Penn; Tim McKechnie, right-hander, purchased from the Athletics; Hokie Gonia, right-hander, who joined the club last season when Gibbs was injured and won a couple of important games during the pennant drive; and two rookies, Cub Moore and Lefty Southpaw, is the reserve.

But Eavin has expressed a desire to be released on the voluntary retired list. Behind the plate the Bucs will be left fortified. Bob Linton, giant left-hand hitter, is the No. 1 backstop. Don Maynard and Monte Keith are candidates for the second string job. Manager Mealey will hold himself in readiness for emergency duty behind the plate.

Sci Mishkin, a .335 hitter from the New York league, was counted on as the regular first baseman but he is seeking to go on the voluntary retired list. Galveston officials hope to dissuade him, but have started hunting for another first baseman.

The New York league, Jimmy McClell, last year's shortstop, is a fielding star but a light hitter. Third base is wide open. Rookie infielders include Bob Yarter, who divided time between the outfield and infield with Oklahoma City last season; Art Freeman, Hockett, Carl Hardin and Albright Hunt, all from the sandlots. Yarter is considered an excellent utility man and may make the third base grade.

Tommy Governor in center and Joe Press in left are considered outfield fixtures. The rightfield job is open with Gerald McQuate obtained from the Athletics on option, the leading candidate. He will find competition from Fred Brink from Hamilton, Warren Bantz from the Chicago sandlots, and Zeke Mori from the Rio Grande valley.

Summed up, the Galveston prospects are for strong pitching, strong catching, powerful defensive strength at shortstop and centerfield; fair performers at first base and left field from both the offensive and defensive standpoint, and good all-around play at second, third, and rightfield if English, Fausett, and Moses are returned.

Farley's 'Gift Stamps' Sold To Mobs Of People

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Eager mobs of stamp collectors packed the corridors of the Philatelic agency, the postal station in the new post office department building and the city postoffice this morning to pour thousands of dollars across the counters to buy imperforated stamps.

Twenty issues of unguessed, unperforated stamps, identical to those given previously to a few friends by Postmaster General James A. Farley, went on sale. The public sale was ordered after Farley had been severely criticized for his stamp gifts.

After the hall from the Philatelic agency on the sixth floor of the post office department building on Pennsylvania avenue, long tables dotted with glue pots were crowded with dealers or collectors pasting newly bought stamps into various "albums," and preparing them for mailing.

Meanwhile, dealers had rented simple rooms in nearby hotels where their employees worked frenziedly cutting and mailing stamps to fill collector orders.

Postal officials estimated a first day business of from $250,000 to $500,000. A total of $1,700,000 in stamps have been printed for the sale, which will continue as long as they last.

Bell And Mangin Set For Finals In Tennis Play

NEW YORK, March 15.—The expected match between Berkeley Bell and Gregory S. Mangin for the men's national indoor tennis championship became a debatable topic today as the thirty-sixth annual tournament on the boards of the Seventh Regiment armory entered the semi-final stage.

At the outset it was generally regarded as a two-man tournament with Bell, the erstwhile tumbler Texan, and Mangin, twice former inc-o-or titlist, popularly favored to match shots tomorrow for the crown relinquished by Lester R. Stoenfen when he turned professional.

The preliminary rounds produced a steady progression of seeded favorites. Mangin, No. 1, Bell, No. 2, and J. Gilbert Hall, No. 3, made the grade to the semi-final, but with the Dalhart Texan looking for a former national intercollegiate champion, whose chances of getting past even the quarter-final round had been lightly regarded because of his four-year absence from competition.

Sullivan meets Bell today and, if the former Lehigh star maintains his form that has made his triumphal march thus far, he should put Bell to a severe test.

Mangin is expected to have a comparatively easy time of it with Hall.

Dalhart Checker Tourney To Begin Tomorrow Morning

DALHART, March 15.—Checker players, here's your alley and the Dalhart Texan is looking for you down it Saturday, March 16.

The Texan will stage its second annual All-Panhandle Checker Tournament in Dalhart that day, opening at 10 a. m. Players from the Panhandle areas of Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Colorado are invited. There are no entry fees but beautifully engraved certificates will be given the victors.

Play will be faster this year than last since the double elimination form that has made this an all-around-robust style was used. Dalhart is holding a city double elimination tournament this week to save its entries down to ten.

Some of the best players on the Plains have already said they'd be here.

Primo Carnera Is Favored To Conquer 'Imp' GASSAWAY JABS AT HUEY LONG WITH SARCASM

Calls Senator Tool Of International Bankers

NEW YORK, March 15.—The superdreadnoughts of fistiana, Primo Carnera and Ray Impellittere, will come together in Madison Square Garden tonight for a 10-round bout that sets a new high in total tonnage.

Carnera at 260 pounds, Impellittere at 258, and Jack Dempsey, slated to referee, at 200, will try the staying powers of the ring to the utmost.

Stretched end to end, Carnera and Impellittere would reach almost as high as Keith Brown pole vaults. Impellittere, approximately six and a half feet tall, has a fractional edge over Primo in height.

The question of who will win is entirely secondary to the circus aspects of the bout. From a spectator viewpoint, it should be one of the most entertaining shows of this or any other indoor season.

Carnera, former world's champion, has such a wide advantage in experience that he has been made a 3 to 1 favorite. "Da Preem" expects to end matters in a few rounds.

Impellittere, although he has been around for several years, still is a question mark. Brought along slowly and carefully by Harry Lenny, the Peckskill (N. Y.) big boy has fought only a scattering few bouts, with no particular success. He has been beaten by Tommy Loughran, Walter Neusen and Marty Gallagher.

Whatever the outcome, the Garden is preparing to handle the biggest crowd it has seen at a boxing show all season.

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—A challenge to "stop being a piker and a tool of international bankers" and instead "get behind a real share-re-wealth program" was flung at Senator Huey Long today by Rep. Gassaway (D-Okl.).

The man from the southwest had a twinkle in his eyes and a smile on his face which hinted that maybe he wasn't completely serious after all. But he envisioned a nationwide chain of "Gassaway plan clubs" that would "back reactionary Huey into his rightful hole" and expound the Gassaway philosophy.

"If Huey is right that the government should just go ahead and print enough money for everybody, why stop at a lousy $5,000?" he asked.

"I don't have any use for that kind of cattle. Why, Huey would hammer the common folks down to $5,000 a year and let the Wall Street folks have an income of $1,000,000."

Shifting his booted feet so that the high heels clicked on the tiled floor, Gassaway remarked:

"Long's theory is rotten. If he won't accept my plan to give the head of every family a $10,000-a-year income and limit any man's income to $100,000, then it just shows that he is a tool of Rockefeller, Morgan, Mellon and the rest of them."

"Where's his money coming from, anyhow? Why does he want to let some folks make as much as $6,000,000? Because he thinks he'll be in that income class some day?"

"He's got more than this lousy $5,000 he proposes to let the common folks make. If he didn't have, he couldn't have a standing army following him around all the time."

"Just between us fellows, I haven't got a bodyguard, and I'd like to get a chance to whip hell out of Huey. But I haven't had a challenge from him yet."

He added that as soon as he could arrange for radio time, he would outline in detail the "Gassaway plan" and suggest the organization of clubs "that will do some real good for the sweated worker."

Loses Heart Balm Suit

ERIC, Kas., March 15.—It took a district court jury only two ballots to decide against W. J. Swalley, Jr., Baxter Springs oil driller, in his $100,000 alienation of affections suit against E. A. Johnson, wealthy 57-year-old Eric business man. The jury last night returned a verdict in favor of Johnson who had been accused of stealing the love of attractive 26-year-old Bette Louise Swalley, estranged wife of the oil driller.

The best freshman prospect is Charles Lieber, right-hander drafted from the San Francisco Missions. The main catch in the A's lineup leaves a big hole at first base which Alex Hooks, obtained from Tulsa, can only partially fill. Hooks, left-hander, is good defensively but no fence-tracker at bat. If he doesn't come through, Lou Finney, an outfield substitute for several years is available. The infield otherwise is first-class with Bill Williams back in form at second base, Eric McNair at short and Frank (Pinky) Higgins at third.

Wallace Moses, Georgia boy who came up from Galveston in the Texas league, has shown so much speed and all-around ability that he may displace big Ed Coleman in right field. Moses looks like the logical leadoff man and is better defensively than Coleman, who has yet to fulfill his promise as a slugger. Roger Cramer, in center, and B. B. Johnson, in left, are fixtures.

The A's may have seven 300 hitters in their batting order, with such power and if the great Fox experiment works, the club looms as the dark-horse of the pennant race.

FORD V-8 TRUCK

improvements for 1935

STUDY the list of 1935 Ford V-8 Truck improvements at the right. Then remember that Ford—and only Ford—gives you the 80-horsepower V-8 engine, with its 4-cylinder economy. Remember that Ford gives you the reliable full-floating rear axle. Remember that the copper-lead connecting rod bearings that resist burning out are a Ford development.

Obtained by mounting front springs ahead of axle and moving V-8 engine forward. This places more load ahead of rear axle, more weight on front end.

FORWARD LOAD DISTRIBUTION... More uniform fire action. Tends to improve operation throughout. With more room between cab and rear axle, you can make acute angle turns with full wheel steering.

NEW QUICK-STOPPING, RIB-COOLED BRAKES... Drum alloys of alloy iron, with integrally cast cooling ribs. Will not "fade" when making a series of fast stops. Less frequent adjustments.

NEW HEAVY-DUTY TRUCK CLUTCH... Centrifugal force increases plate pressure as engine speed increases. Resists slippage. Lower pedal pressure required at idling speeds. Longer life.

NEW HIGH-EFFICIENCY COOLING SYSTEM... Larger water pump impellers. Radiator cooling area increased 15%. Full length water jackets. Efficient engine and oil temperatures under severe operation.

NEW COUPE-TYPE CAB... Safety glass all around. Clear-visibility ventilation. Easy-opening windshield. Large, screened cowl ventilator. Seat wider. Has mattress-type cushions. Is adjustable with tilting back. Speedometer, ammeter and fuel gauge in front of driver; dispatch box at right.

Examine this new 1935 Ford V-8 Truck today. Test it on your own job... 131½ or 157 inch wheelbase; bodies for almost every use.

Carnival To Be Held Tonight At Houston School

One of the feature attractions at the Sam Houston Parent-Teachers' carnival at the school tonight will be an historical exhibit presented by the high fifth grade, taught by Mrs. L. K. Stout. The carnival will begin at 7:30 o'clock with admission to the building 10 cents. Many booths and exhibits will be available.

The articles on exhibit were collected by pupils of the room and other children of the school. Most of the relics are owned by parents or grandparents of children in the Sam Houston school. Many of them would be given places of prominence in museums.

Among the most interesting articles in the exhibit are an invitation to the inauguration of President William Howard Taft to Mrs. Harry Nelson and the portrait of a sickly 12 year old, also the property of Mrs. Nelson. Three Bibles are on exhibit, 75, 83, and 100 years old, respectively.

Lucille Alexander is exhibiting a platter given to her great-grandfather 100 years ago. J. R. McKinley is showing a razor and brush 100 years old.

Precbly one of the most beautiful exhibits is a hand-made sword owned by Louis Duval's grandfather, who carried it in the civil war. It has the name of his grandfather in gold letters. A gun carried by the grandfather is also on display.

Mrs. N. L. Welton has given a bed spread that has been in the family more than 100 years. A pitcher in the Mrs. W. W. Harrah family for 125 years will also be seen. One of the first spinning wheels made is shown by Mrs. Ray Wilson.

The "Leo Johnson" skeleton, 1,500 years old, has been loaned by L. O. Johnson. It was dug from a burial ground in Berks county.

A radio broadcast, carnival, fish pond, and many other forms of amusement will be available for visitors.

Mock Trial Is Fun Feature Of Kiwanians Today

Fred Thompson was found guilty and given a two year suspended sentence in a mock trial held at the Kiwanis club today. He was charged with...

Tom Aldridge acted as judge. Dan McGraw as prosecutor and Dr. V. E. von Brunow as defense attorney. Members of the club served as jurors. Witnesses called included E. W. V. M. P. Downs, Fred Cullum and Bill Jarratt.

John Meek gave a report on the cafeteria fund of the Baker school and John Roby read a similar report on the Sam Houston school cafeteria.

W. H. Lang reported that the new home for the Girl Scouts will soon be completed and ready for the girls. The building is located at the east end of Kingsmill Ave.

E. J. McCouldrick was introduced as a new member of the club. Visitors today included Aaron Meek, H. B. Reynolds, E. J. Griffith, Dr. Schulkey, J. C. Johnson of Borger, and C. E. Kennedy.

semi-tropical surroundings of the park.

Revive Days of '49

One of the unique displays will be the Golden Gulch, an exact reproduction of a California mining town of the days of '49. It will be hidden away in one of the canyons that thread the park and visitors will reach it by stage coach or on muleback.

Most spectacular, perhaps, of all exhibits will be a review of the U. S. navy in San Diego harbor. Many foreign warships are also expected to put in during the exposition, which is expected to continue until mid-November.

Guy Andis of the Jericho community was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

Leonard Records of Canadian was visitors in the city today.

COURT RECORD

A new trial was granted yesterday in the damage suit of Harris King of McLean against the American Railway Express company. Among other things, it was shown that some members of the jury talked of their own experiences, similar to those of the plaintiff, and otherwise made improper comment on the case.

Marriage licenses have been issued here to Harry D. Rockwell Jr. and Doris Alyene Ballard and to W. F. Slaten and Winnie Dee Loter here.

Filed: A. H. Gibson vs. Traders & General Insurance company, to set aside award.

An indictment has been returned against Jim Knott, who on March 5 allegedly "did seriously threaten to take the life of a human being, to-wit Mrs. Audrey McHenry."

The grand jury went back into session today to complete its work for this term.

The current term of 31st district court will end tomorrow. From here, Judge W. R. Ewing, District Attorney Lewis Goddich, and W. R. Frazee, court reporter, will go to Miami for a 2-week term in Roberts county. That will be followed by a 2-week term in Lipcomb, and a 2-week term in Wheeler county. The next local court will begin June 3.

TAX BILL

sale and retail druggists exclusive control over the sale of liquor. Licenses would be denied any person who had not been in the drug business for at least one year. A limit of one quart a day would be placed on each customer.

Bills to provide for forfeiture of oil and gas royalties unless the state tax was paid and to limit duration of oil and gas leases to five years were introduced by Rep. George A. Davisson Jr., of Eastland.

The senate passed a house bill requiring petitions in divorce suits to give full information concerning children under 16 years old, and for decrees of separation to make provision for care of such minors.

The senate eliminated a provision by which courts could have placed liens on property of parents to enforce provisions of judgments.

Eighteen bills prepared by the senate crime committee to correct malpractices and close loopholes in criminal laws were set for special order Monday.

The senate passed a house bill to extend the boundaries of Texas City.

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP)—Both houses of the Texas legislature adjourned at noon today until Monday despite last week's suggestion by Governor James V. Allred that the lawmakers spend more time in the capital to work on pressing problems.

An effort to begin consideration in the house of a bill ratifying a compact between oil states to prevent waste of natural resources met objection and was put over until next week.

The house killed a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the ad valorem tax on real estate, voting 106 to 11 against printing it on minority report after opponents charged it would open the way for a general sales tax.

The senate approved, 24 to 1, submission of amendment proposing abolition of the fee system for compensating local officials. Notice was given in the house that the departmental appropriation bill would be brought up Tuesday.

The administration bill to establish a Texas planning board to coordinate state and federal recovery programs was sent to the governor upon formal signing by presiding officers of the two houses.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 15. (P)—The market ruled around the lower opening levels for the most of the morning. Pressure by both new and old crop months checked any attempt to raise prices while on the other hand the decline also met support on a point to point basis. The volume of dealings fell off around mid-day as May sold at 11.05, July at 11.10, Oct. at 10.70 and Dec. at 10.80.

Houston Tanker Pays Tribute To Smiling Alyce

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 15. (P)—Alyce Jane McHenry, whose courage has stirred the heart of a nation, was still atop today over the tribute accorded her by the crew of the tanker Chibbar.

Smiling Alyce, whose stomach and other organs were moved from her left chest to her abdominal cavity in a delicate operation last week, watched the Chibbar move slowly up the Taunton river yesterday as she gazed from a sunporch of the Truesdale hospital.

The blunt-nosed tanker was dressed in her best. Bunting flew from her rigging and her whistle wailed a salute as she ran past the hospital without a tribute accorded ordinarily to none but international dignitaries—a tribute that thrilled Alyce Jane until she tingled all over.

The Chibbar, carrying a cargo of gasoline from Houston, Texas, to Fall River, was dressed in more than 100 pieces of bunting.

It was a sight Alyce Jane said she's remember often through the long days of her convalescence.

The Omaha girl continued to suffer severe pain at intervals, but she was able to take substantial nourishment without distress and her convalescence has been so satisfactory, the hospital announced formal bulletins on her condition would be discontinued.

'STRAT' HOP

lieved satisfactory. A tail wind—something the pilot has been waiting for—will speed his trip.

Post leisurely donned his 16 pound "stratosphere suit," specially designed for the trip, and climbed into the "Winnie Mae."

The official time of his takeoff was 6:16 a. m. (P. S. T.)

His takeoff was without mishap and the landing gear was dropped midway down the runway. The plane will have less air resistance with the gear off.

The flier headed due east, pointing the blue nose of his ship abruptly upward to gain as quickly as possible the altitude he expects to keep throughout his trip. He will fly between 32,000 feet and 40,000 feet.

He repeatedly stressed the point that his flight is not primarily a speed dash. Rather, he said, it was planned to demonstrate the feasibility of passenger air travel at faster speed through the upper regions of the sky.

Col. Roscoe Turner holds the transcontinental speed record at 10 hours 2 minutes, set in September, 1934.

The "Winnie Mae," sturdy plane in which the one-eyed Oklahoman has twice flown around the world in record breaking time, has also had previous experience in altitude flights before today's takeoff.

Post, after his disappointing set down on the desert of his first cross country stratosphere attempt, charged that "someone" had placed a foreign substance—steel filings or emery dust—in the engine of his plane. While he never elaborated on this assertion, United States aeronautical officials here were said to have started an investigation.

Post's radio equipment permits him to ascertain weather conditions 900 miles ahead. He has no sending equipment but can tune in on broadcast stations and determine directions in that manner through a combination radio compass and weather report receiver.

Because of the extreme height at which he is flying there was little likelihood anything would be known of the progress of his flight, barring mishap or forced landing, until his arrival in New York, which should be between 4 and 5 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

Business Upturn Best Since 1932

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Dun & Bradstreet in its weekly trade review declared today the present business upturn represents the soundest revival since the depression low of 1932.

"Neither the vagaries of March weather in all of its perverse manifestations nor the continued uncertainty of the course of national legislation have been sufficiently potent to swerve the movement of general business, by any wide degree, from its definitely-charted course," declared the review.

"The recession which appeared in some divisions during the last three weeks seems to have been checked, as a fuller realization has been reached that the present upturn represents the soundest revival that has occurred since the nadir was touched in 1932.

"With natural forces vigilantly directed by men whose experience has weathered stress and storm periods of many economic readjustments, the spread between buoyant sentiment and tangible results is being narrowed constantly, and proofs are multiplying that the gloomy views held in some quarters have not been wholly warranted in the light of current reassuring developments.

"After a slow start, a less interrupted expansion during the next six months appears in prospect for the distributive branches."

Spring buying has started, the review said, with the public going ahead with purchases despite the weather.

BILL SIGNED
AUSTIN, March 15. (P)—A bill authorizing building and loan associations to exchange their stock for home owners loan corporation bonds was signed today by Governor James V. Allred.

Mrs. J. F. Arrington of Miami was a shopper in the city Wednesday.

FLOOD SURGES TO CREST IN RIVER BASIN

13,000 Homeless; Levees in Missouri Threatened, Area Inhabited By 9,000.

(By The Associated Press.)
Flood waters of Mississippi tributaries apparently were surging to a crest today as thousands of refugees fled rising water in Missouri, southern Illinois and Arkansas.

Battered levees, strained by flood water of the past week, were eyed anxiously in the stricken areas, while army engineers said the flood was near its crest in the upper Mississippi basin, and barring further rains, the river should start falling next week.

The situation was still critical in southeastern Missouri and Arkansas where the Red Cross estimated 13,000 would be counted homeless. Three negroes were drowned when their rowboat capsized in the Tittle river near Sikeston, Mo.

Engineers warned that levees could withstand no further buffeting near Kennett, Mo., and an area, inhabited by 9,000 persons, was gravely threatened. Poplar Bluff was a sanctuary for 3,000 refugees as the St. Francis and Black rivers swept livestock and property in their murky tide.

A levee crumbled at Moark, Ark., forcing 650 to evacuate the area, and officials warned the New Port levee would probably go out. Scores of marooned victims were rescued in the Northern Arkansas flood district.

The Wabash river at Mt. Carmel, Ill., rose at a decreasing rate, and flood danger diminished in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Ohio river points.

RELIEF WORKS BILL CERTAIN FOR PASSAGE

HUEY LONG STRIVING VAINLY TO WRECK FDR'S PLANS

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Jubilantly, the Roosevelt forces in the senate got set today to jam the $4,880,000,000 work and relief bill straight through a yawning gap in the defenses of the McCarran prevailing wage men.

Tearing back here from Philadelphia, where he again denounced President Roosevelt as a man who says "lovely words and lets us go on with our sorrow," Senator Huey P. Long sought to do what he could to stave off defeat.

But the demerol leaders believed the struggle, now nearly two months old, was all over but the shouting. Even should Senator Hattie Caraway—"the little lady from Arkansas"—be carried from her hospital bed to cast her vote from a stretcher, the McCarran amendment's foes were confident of victory.

Five or six senators, including New York's advocate of new labor legislation, Robert F. Wagner, were expected to leave the camp of Senator Pat McCarran, the former jurist from Nevada's wide spaces who has been a leader of one of the hottest fights in years.

The magnet that drew them was an administration compromise put forward yesterday by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., former governor of Georgia. It lays down the mandate that wages prevailing in private industry must be paid on permanent federal buildings. On all other work (which comprises the huge bulk of the giant program as now outlined) the president may pay his "security wages" estimated at $50 a month if they do not tear down the rates in private industry.

President William Green of the A. F. of L. was adamant to the last in his stand for the McCarran mandate for prevailing wages on all projects. "No compromise on the McCarran amendment or upon the very vital principle embodied therein has been accepted or will be accepted" by the labor representatives, he said.

This was the way the leaders planned to administer the coup de grace to the drive that has given them their trouble aplenty: First the McCarran amendment was to be called for a vote. With that beaten, the Russell amendment, was to be balanced upon. Since debate was being strictly limited, the leaders thought both moves would certainly be accomplished today.

After that, the leaders hoped, the big bill would speed to passage in a form acceptable to President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile a tiny decrease in the number of people on the federal government's urban relief rolls was drawing expressions of satisfaction from Administrator Harry L. Hopkins—not because of the figures themselves but because, he indicated, they represented a reversal of trend.

Reports from 142 cities, he said, indicated a decline from 2,197,380 families and single persons in January to 2,193,073 in February. The cost dropped too, from $75,875,003 to $68,612,732, Hopkins said this was due in part to the fact that February has fewer days.

Fio-Rito Band Coming Back To Amarillo Again

AMARILLO, March 15.—Ted Fio-Rito and his world-famous dance, film and radio band, are coming back to Amarillo, direct from the Ambassador's Coconut Grove in Hollywood.

The band has been booked for a concert and dance engagement on April 10.

Since his appearance here two years ago, Fio-Rito has added new members to his orchestra and has become immensely popular through a new series of radio programs and a series of motion picture appearances.

He will bring to Amarillo a show with a cast of 22, including his popular band, the Three Debutantes, a trio of girls who have proved immensely popular on the air and in the films; the Florettes, a surprise ensemble of singers; Muzzy Marcellino, his ace soloist, and Candy, the comic. Thus Fio-Rito will be ready to give a complete musical show at the Municipal auditorium, as well as provide music and entertainment for a dance at the Nat.

Fio-Rito, one of the handsomest band directors in the business, is being brought here by Wilbur C. Hawk for the Tri-State Fair and will appear in a concert at the Municipal Auditorium, and will play a dance at the Nat.

The Fio-Rito band now is playing the Campbell Soup hour over the Columbia network every Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Stations over which they may be heard in the Panhandle are KRLD, Dallas; KTTA, San Antonio; KERA, Little Rock, and KMOX, St. Louis.

The orchestra appears under the direction of the Music Corporation of America.

OAKLAND, Cal. March 15. (P)—
Perfect weather was awaited today for a Pacific flight of the government's new radio compass-robot plane, regarded as the latest development in safety for transoceanic flights.

A contemplated flight for this morning which would have carried the plane, and the new radio compass is testing anywhere from 800 miles out over the Pacific to Honolulu, 2,400 miles away, was indefinitely postponed.

The delay was announced by Capt. Clayton Bissell, army pilot called from Honolulu to handle the controls, after the United States weather bureau reported conditions at sea were not as favorable as desired for testing the radio compass.
The airman called a press conference for noon, indicating the fliers were anxious to make the crucial test as soon as possible—this afternoon if conditions are ideal.

"But this is purely a scientific flight," Captain Bissell emphasized.
"We won't make the flight until everything is absolutely just right.
If necessary we will wait six months."

In announcing the postponement, the army officer officially closed for the first time the objective of the flight. He said Maj. Chester Snow, federal aeronautics expert in charge of the tests, was authorized today to fly to the Army transport repub. 800 miles out a scientific flight, and thereafter "proceed as his judgment, based on the operation of the plane and its equipment, indicated to be sound and logical."

Earlier an official source had said the airman planned to take off at 2 a. m. (8 a. m. Eastern Standard time) for Honolulu, and it had been announced such a flight was the ultimate objective in testing the robot and triangulation radio compass, designed to make the forthcoming trans-Pacific flight "foolproof."

FORT DAVIS, March 15 (P)—
A tiny species of the ruffle plant, known nowhere in the world but in the Davis mountains, was described recently by Dr. R. A. Stud-halter of Texas Technological college at Lubbock. Dr. Studhalter formerly was an instructor at Sul
Ross at Alpine.

The ruffle plant is represented by the unique species in half a dozen spots in the Davis mountains, Dr. Studhalter said. The species has been found in Limpia creek, in pools of Aguja and Madera canyons and two other places.

"They look like tiny blobs of green moss in the water but under the microscope show delicate ridges on portions of their periferes," he said.

APRIL 21 WILL FALL ON SUNDAY THIS YEAR; CHURCHES ASKED TO PLAN A PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION

DALLAS, March 15. (Sp)—The fact that the ninety-ninth anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto, April 21, this year falls upon a Sunday, leads Will H. Mayes, Secretary of the Texas Centennial commission, to suggest that date as a fitting time for proper presentation of Texas of the relation of the religious educational and cultural history and development of the State through the churches and schools to the coming observance of the Texas Centennial in 1936.

public thought should be directed through these channels to these aspects of our approaching celebration. "There will be no more fitting time for this than Sunday, April 21, the ninety-ninth anniversary of the achievement of Texas independence at San Jacinto. "The suggestion, therefore, is made that ministers in all the churches in their sermons on that day emphasize the religious and educational progress of Texas during the past hundred years, and that in Sunday school and other church meetings special Centennial programs be rendered and concerted efforts be made to quicken religious and educational interest in the Texas Centennial. "San Jacinto programs should also be given in the schools on the most convenient dates immediately preceding or following April 21, all of which should stress the educational background for Texas Independence and the important part education has had in that progress of which all Texans are justly proud. "The Texas Centennial should result in a great revival of religious and educational interest that will be felt in every community in the state—a Texas renaissance of the highest ideals of life made possible through co-operation of the churches and schools."

VERNON TO PRODUCE CENTENNIAL-TRAIL DRIVERS EVENT IN 1936

VERNON, March 15. (Sp)—Committee already are functioning in preparation for a local Texas Centennial celebration in 1936 which not only will commemorate the anniversary of Texas independence, but also will honor early-day cattle trail drivers of the famous old western trail who drove their herds through what is now the city of Vernon, as well as the memory of their heroic pioneers, whose hardships and sacrifices are given credit for much of the vast economic development in this Northwest Texas county of Wilbarger. Historic interest in this county centers mainly around Doans Crossing, 18 miles north of Vernon on the south bank of the Red river, where C. F. Doan erected a trading post in 1878 and for many years did a thriving business with Indians and buffalo hunters, who traded there from a territory of 100 miles in radius. In those days, Doans Store, as it was known, was the last point where supplies could be bought by the trail drivers as they guided their herds overland toward more southerly points in Texas toward the nearest market, Dodge City, in Kansas. Mr. Doan operated his store almost continuously until 1913.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD.—The near-sightedness of Hollywood talent scouts is made the subject of many quips, but there is usually a reason for their failure to discover local sparklers until after the sparkling has been done in New York. The notion that the legitimate stage or the "little theater" of Hollywood makes a good showplace for talent can be proved and disproved, like most other propositions in this town on the other side of the looking-glass. More often than otherwise, however, the local stage production does not yield talent to the films. This is not because the scouts are not on the alert in Hollywood for the same acting qualities which, seen in a New York production later, will send them scrambling forward with contracts. Scouts "cover" all the new shows offered in Hollywood's multitude of playshops, and they see the acts of the better night clubs. MacMurray, For Example For those who would prove that Hollywood is myopic Fred MacMurray is good proof. After he made a hit with Claudette Colbert in "The Glided Lily," it was remembered that for almost a year he had played the saxophone, occasionally as soloist, in a Hollywood theater orchestra. It was not until he had clicked with the California colleges in "Roberta" that Hollywood took notice of him. But on the other hand, how was any talent scout to suspect that a saxophone player, however handsome, would make movie material? It is the scout saw MacMurray at all was it not a young man half hidden behind a saxophone whom they viewed? Everybody in Hollywood must have seen the "Nine O'Clock Reveal" staged here five years ago. In the cast was a youngster named Joe Morrison, whose singing was liked, true enough. But a picture type? Nobody thought of that. When Joe went to New York, it was as the singer of a song that he clicked. "The Last Round-up" put him into pictures in the local show he had no song like that. They Spotted Pinky The phenomenal Pinky Tomlin did in Hollywood what Joe Morrison did in New York—but Pinky had a song, his own, to help. Donella Donaldson had leading roles in local plays, and did a few minor parts in pictures, but New York success did more to establish Julie Hayden, erstwhile Donella, than any previous work. She was the lead opposite Noel Coward now in his first film-acting venture, "Miracle on 49th Street." Hollywood passed up Dorothy Lee, Margo, Polly Waters and, in a measure, Bing Crosby, until Broadway applauded them. But Broadway, at the time Hollywood had them first, might have done the same.

Mystery in Birth and Death

Like her death, the birth of the former Elva Statler, bride of H. Bradley Davidson, Jr., is veiled in mystery. Search of adoption records at Buffalo, N. Y., reveals that her parentage was cunningly concealed by Ellsworth Statler, her hotel magnate foster-father. This sketch was made from a recent photo.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Peter Delivered From Prison. Scripture Lesson: Acts 12:5-17. 5. Peter therefore was kept in the prison; but prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him. 6. And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and guards before the door kept the prison. 7. And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell; and he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands. 8. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. 9. And he went out, and followed; and he knew not that it was true which was done by the angel, but thought he saw a vision. 10. And when they were past the first and the second guard, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; which opened to them of its own accord; and they went out, passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. 11. And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth that the Lord hath sent forth his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. 12. And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and were praying. 13. And when he knocked at the door of the gate, a maid came to the answer, named Rhoda. 14. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. 15. And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is his angel. 16. But Peter continued knocking; and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. 17. But he beckoning unto them with hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. Golden Text: Prayer was made earnestly of the church unto God for him.—Acts 12:5. Time: The spring of A. D. 44. Place: A prison within the city of Jerusalem, perhaps in the tower of Antonia; the house of John Mark. Introduction The narrative expresses the implicit faith of the church in the providence and the power of God exercised in the interest of the growing community of believers. Through this miracle one gets a glimpse of the strenuous prayer life of the early Christians (ver. 5), of the tenacity with which the members of the church clung together built prisons stout in those days! Iron gates, thick walls of masonry, weighty manacles, sixteen Roman soldiers! Prayer, Jesus had said, can remove mountains; and the other James writes in his epistle, "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." An Angel Helps, v. 7 "Who says there are no angels nowadays? We never see them? But what of that? We do not see many things that we know are. Peter at first likewise thought that what happened to him was unreal. The deliverance and help that the angels of God bring us are very evident. And that is the pragmatic test. By their fruits ye shall know them. Perhaps God thinks that we have so many angels in human form with us now that he doesn't need to send the other kind. Are they not all ministering spirits for God's angels open locks as easily as his submissives open rosebuds."—Bishop Warren. Peter Obeys the Angel, v. 8 "And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And he did so." "It was no pride that kept the angel from that service. Things we would scorn to do are done by angels gladly. If it was not beneath Christ to wash the feet of Peter, it was not beneath an angel to tie his shoe-latchet. But the angel refrained from doing for Peter in his hour of need what it was in his power to do himself. Let Peter strive all night, he cannot loose his chains, and therefore it is the angel who does that. No beating of Peter's hands will burst the gate, and therefore it is the angel who unbars it. But 'gird thyself, and bind thy sandals'—even when God is at work there is something thou canst do; and that something, which is within thy compass, will never be performed by heavenly visitant. . . . All that you cannot do, God will do. All that you can do, God will never do."—G. H. Morrison. Why Was James Slain and Peter Delivered? "It is impossible to read the story and declare that God's government can be finally explained. Why did God permit James to be slain, and deliver Peter? Why did He allow Herod to arrest James and slay him; and then miraculously deliver Peter? There is no answer to these questions, but immediately afterwards He delivered Peter. That reveals the fact that if He can deliver Peter, He could have delivered James. There is infinite comfort in that; the comfort of the revelation of the fact that One who could deliver Peter, and in wisdom did so, was equally wise when He did not deliver James. Life can never be perfectly understood in the process of its living; we must wait. Just beyond the gleam and flash of the sword, and the over-whelming agony of the moment James came to the explanation. God doeth all things well; and the release of Peter illuminates the death of James, as we come to rest in the infinite wisdom of the divine government."—G. Campbell Morgan.

REBUILDING OF ONE OF FIRST CHURCHES IN TEXAS PROPOSED

SAN AUGUSTINE, March 15. (SP)—Closely allied with the plans for the observance of Texas Centennial in 1936 in this section of the State is the proposal to rebuild the old McMahan's Chapel, located in this vicinity and one of the earliest places of Protestant worship in Texas. This historic spot lies midway between Hemphill and San Augustine and just off Highway No. 21, the old Camino Real. The land where the old chapel stands is owned by a pioneer Methodist family, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Nobles, who have deeded eighteen acres to the State Park Board for park purposes. CWA labor will repair the dam below a running spring and will make other improvements on the site. The Highway Department has promised to build a road from the highway to the chapel, a distance of two miles and have it ready for Centennial visitors. The McMahan Chapel is said to have been the first Protestant church organized in East Texas and from the date of its organization services have continued to be held in it until the present. Much has been written of the history of this venerable edifice, but it remains for Mrs. Nobles to recount the story of its construction. "I will try to give you some of its history it was given to me thirty-eight years ago by an old lady, then about 75 or 80 years of age," says Mrs. Nobles. "Her mind was as clear as could be, and nothing pleased her more than to tell of her early life. "She often told me of traveling ministers passing through, riding horseback, their saddle bags containing a change of clothing, a Bible and a hymn book. Often they would be attacked, or mistreated, by Mexicans, Indians or outlaws. They swam their mounts across the streams in wet weather, as the roads for the most part were mere trails with no bridges. "The settlers, who were religiously inclined, received them warmly. In each home, they held religious services, and sometimes several, if they could prevent the Mexican authorities from, knowing it. "In 1828, she related that her father aided in helping to cut black jack logs and in building a small house as a place of worship. This was lighted at night with tallow candles. A little way apart, they put four small posts in a square, on which they placed small poles to form a scaffold. Upon this they placed dirt and using small pine branches made fires to light the outside of the church. Off some distance, men were stationed on guard with guns to protect those upon the inside of the church. "Thus Texans' forebears worshipped in what but a few years before had been an unclaimed wilderness.

George W. Saunders, former president of the Texas Old Trail Drivers association, who died in San Antonio, said in 1931: "About 6,000,000 cattle and 1,000,000 horses crossed Red River at Doans Crossing on their way to northern markets. These, together with about 4,000,000 that crossed at Red River Station, resulted in $250,000,000 being brought back to Texas through their sale, which started Texas' development, induced capital and immigration, saved Texas from bankruptcy and brought about the development of a great empire. Old-timers in Vernon recall that the western Trail passed within three blocks of the present courthouse in this city, a new and imposing structure costing $375,000. Mrs. Bertha Ross of Vernon, a daughter of C. F. Doan, was the first white child to live in Wilbarger county, coming here with her parents from Ohio in 1878 when she was but one year old. She describes the immensity of the herds driven over the trail through Vernon by saying: "I have heard pioneer citizens tell of seeing the trail passing by here early in the morning, and the last animals would not pass before 4 p. m. In those days, Vernon was known as Eagle Flat, owing to cowboys having killed an unusually large eagle in this vicinity. However, when the first post office was established, the name was changed to Vernon, in honor of some postal department official in Washington at that time and to avoid similarity to names of other Texas towns.

Now Just What Does This Make Friend Pollack

CAMPBELL, Mo., March 15 (AP)—A. T. Pollack has worked hard, he says, as permanent chairman of the NRA in this district. He received and filed over 400 codes. He traveled much, paying his own expenses. The other day Pollack decided to return to his job in an automobile factory, but the company informed him he would have to get permission from Washington because of his position with the NRA. Pollack wrote to Donald Richberg. Today Pollack received a reply from Washington. There was no record of his appointment it said—or any of his work.

RICH TRAP DRUMMER

NEW YORK—To hear the passengers on the liner Conte de Savoia tell it, the ship's captain lost a swell trap drummer because Felix M. Warburg had to return to banking. The regular trap drummer became ill in mid-Atlantic and Warburg took his place. In gleaming shirt and dinner jacket, a flower in his buttonhole, the financier sat with the orchestra for two nights, thumping the drum and banging the cymbal with grace and gusto. Returning last night, Warburg said "it is a terrible thing to make people think that bankers are fiends"—but he said he was referring to the addresses of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, not to the passengers who told of his drumming.
