other diseases in cases given up as incurable by ordinary methods just have been and are being cured by the grace of God through Koch theraphy, in spite of all the attacks made on it by some men in the American Medical Association particularly Dr. Fishbein. As in the case of the hated and abused Dr. Pasteur and Sister Kenny, I believe that God can and does raise up the right men at the right times and right places to serve a right purpose. Statements by such outstanding authorities as Dr. Hale, of the Dow Chemicals Co. that Dr. Koch is "a modern Pasteur" weigh heavily with me. Likewise the testimonials of people who can produce positive proof that they had "incurable' es, but which were cured by administration of Koch Glyoxylide and the diet which goes with it. In order not to appear too enthusiastic. I must warn that there is little doubt but what some patients have died even after administration of the Glyoxylide anyway. The point is that a very high percentage of "incurable" patients have not died but have recovered and are alive right now to tell about it. Why, if only five out of 100 such cases were cured the thing would be remarkable, let Everyone hates to become bald, particularly when the hair starts falling out early in life. But it is lucky that baldness is so much more common in men than in women, Just imagine the excitement if it were the other way around! There is a strong family tendency to early baldness. In the most common variety the hair line over the temples gradually recedes and the hair becomes thin at the crown. As time goes on the hairless area becomes larger and larger until the whole top of the head is completely bald. Although claims are made for many "hair restorers," there are too many failures from any form of treatment to justify the belief that there is a good prevention or cure.

The "cures" range all the way from "singeing the hair to keep the juice from running out" (and, incidentally, the hair is not hollow), to costly instruments for "massaging" the scalp or producing some other marvelous effect on hair growth. These probably do not help much though it is true that dandruff or poor circulation in the scalp will speed the loss of hair. Consequently, if there is any such condition present, treatment of the dandruff and massage of

There are other conditions which cause loss of hair. The hair frequently falls out after infectious diseases such as typhoid, scarlet fever, influenza or some toxic condition. After a while, however, the hair usually grows back in and may be heavier or even a slightly different shade. Treatment of this type of loss of hair is usualy not necessary as nature takes care of the situation.

HAIR SOMETIMES RETURNS There is a condition called alopecia areata in which the hair falls out completely in roundish spots, ranging in size from that of a small coin all the way up to total loss of hair of the scalp, eyebrows and eyelashes. This is probably a true disease of some kind, though just what causes it no one has yet discovered. The hair may be gone for ... veral months and then grow back just as before. Treatr ts probably hasten the regrowth in such cases.

The hair can fall out also as a result of certain diseases of the scalp, such as ringworm. In such cases, it is the ringworm which has to be attacked. If it has not lasted too long, the hair generally comes back satisfactorily. with some notable exceptions, it

It was Judy's reluctance to sign a long-term contract with Columbia which held up casting her in the role she created on Broadway in "Born Yesterday." They finally settled on seven movies in seven years, but she can always take two years off if she lands in a New York hit.

Judy is one who doesn't worry about a few extra curves. She says: "Men like 'em."

dereliction - which is about their situation. They seem to be attempting to cover up by doing something spectacular. And as is usual in such situations, the more they seek the spectacular the more they fumble.

Certainly the bulk of Congress must know that full scale mobilization is not an immediate need. It is doubtful that it will be needed at all. But if it should be, the legislation setting it up should have the most careful study.

Yet the House attempted to write such legislation in some hastily drawn amendments. During the procedure it became so confused that it is doubtful if most of the members knew what was going on. At this writing the House appears to have just thrown up its hands and decided to pass some kind of a bill.

One of the bright thoughts was a fantastically conceived automatic scheme for making price and wage controls effective if there was a 5% rise above June 15 on the cost-of-living index. At one stage the House approved this. The Senate Banking Committee considered the same idea and members disagree on whether or not they approved it. President Truman quite correctly dubbed the idea an invitation to a 5% price rise.

Well, the members of Congress certainly have reason for panic.

Congress was appropriating money at a record peacetime rate, knowing full well the danger of an outbreak of war. It now develops that Congress had practically ne information as to how that money was being used by the military.
