Yanks Strafed by North Korea Reds

American Slightly Wounded; No Ground Clashes Reported

TOKYO — (AP) — American ground forces reached the warfront, dug advanced positions and got a baptism of fire from strafing planes today. But by nightfall they had not seen the North Korean ground enemy.

General MacArthur's advanced headquarters in South Korea said the invaders had made no serious progress during the day, marked only by sporadic fighting between Korean forces.

A spokesman indicated the break through the Han River line at Yongpungpo by two tank columns might have been less serious than first anticipated. The Americans were pushed forward from their staging base to head off this column.

American pilots reported that most Communist convoys apparently were lying low during daylight hours to avoid massive strafing. A renewed surge tonight might bring the invaders in contact with the Americans.

The strafing and rocket attack on the Americans' first 25-mile advance line today was reported as the first contact in an area expected to be held by them. There were five to seven planes in the attack.

Advanced headquarters in South Korea said the North Korean pentonics had failed to make any serious progress in a series of breaks through South Korean lines. The drive on Suwon, abandoned American forward base, appeared to have bogged down or collapsed. A spokesman said some of the tanks appeared to have pulled back.

General MacArthur's advanced headquarters said the invaders were using their tanks and troops in sporadic fighting in which no American ground troops have yet taken part.

But U. S. infantry may get into action tonight against a large North Korean column advancing south of Seoul under American air blows.

There were four hostile columns across the Han River and death of Seoul. The North Korean radio said a fifth column, running southward from the east, had seized Wouju, 50 miles east of Seoul.

Large numbers of U. S. bombers and fighters circled over the advancing Communists, dropping incendiary bombs and rockets. No ground clashes were reported, however.

American and the unconfirmed North Korean reports credited a steady Communist push southward on roadmarching front 50 miles west.

Associated Press Correspondent Tom Lambert in Seoul, advanced U. S. headquarters, 90 miles south of Seoul, said if the Reds, from their spearhead of about 100 miles, they may run up against the American line.

The latest report by U. S. reconnaissance columns was taken from the Yongpungpo area south of Seoul. A U. S. plane was shot down in the area.

Both columns were brought under attack by U. S. warplanes but before they could be destroyed. One plane was shot down and the other column had a number of tanks.

The tanks were on the west side of the road. Han River was reported to be in the hands of the Communists. A spokesman said the Han River and an important road had been cut off.

Most Business Slated to Halt

Pampa will be a closed city Tuesday, July 4, with all city, county, state and federal offices being closed. In addition, retail stores will be closed, along with the banks and other business houses.

The majority of the drug stores in Pampa will be open Tuesday morning, but most of them will close from noon until 6 p. m.

A gigantic fireworks display will be held at 9 p. m. Tuesday at recreation park in the flats. The fireworks are being purchased by several local merchants. The public is invited to attend the display.

All first class mail will be handled by the post office, but the windows will not be open. The Pampa News will not be published Tuesday, but the Radio Station KPNB will be on the air as usual with news, regular programs and special features.

To climax the day's activities, the Pampa Oilers will play a doubleheader with Albuquerque at other Park beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Ballots Are Mailed For Absentee Vote In July 22 Primary

Absentee voting for the July 22 primary has begun. Although no absentee ballots were mailed Sunday, the first day, county clerk Charles Thut was preparing 20 ballots for mailing upon request. Four of the 20 ballots will be going to England where Pampa men, working for the Great Carbon Co., are temporarily stationed.

This said this morning he will open the clerk's office on Tuesday, July 4, for those who want to cast absentee ballots at that time. He added he will also open the office at night for men working late who want to vote absentee.

The last day absentee ballots can be accepted in person is July 18, or postmarked not later than midnight, July 18, if sent through the mails.

American Action Favored in Europe

NEW YORK — (AP) — Miss Eleanor Roosevelt returned from Europe today and said there was a very strong reaction there to the American action in Korea.

"The feeling of the people and the press was that it was the only thing to do for peace," she said.

Rodeo Ticket Sales Panel Sets Meeting

The ticket sales and finance committee of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association will meet at 10 a. m. Wednesday in the chamber of commerce office with Floyd Ingh, chairman in charge. Purpose of the meeting will be to set up machinery for handling ticket sales, ticket takers and other necessary arrangements.

Members of the committee are John Pitt, Floyd Watson, Harvey Schuler, A. A. Scheneman, Jack Sullivan, Audrey Jones and Ed Cleveland.

Mother of Pampa Dies in Stephenville

Mrs. H. G. White, mother of Sherman White, Pampa attorney, died Sunday in Stephenville. Her home was at Huckaby, near that city.

Mrs. White left Pampa for Stephenville just after hearing news that Mrs. White had suffered a stroke.

Funeral services were to be held Monday in Huckaby.

Raging Wind Storm Causes Heavy Loss

FOOTBALL FIELD HIT—A large part of this grandstand at Harvester football field was damaged by Saturday night's raging winds. School officials have not yet estimated the damage but it will probably run into the thousands of dollars. (News Photos and Engravings)

Football Field Hardest Hit; None Injured

By HENRY S. GORDON

Snarling, cyclonic type winds, estimated at velocities whipped southwesterly over of 75 to 80 miles an hour the Pampa area late Saturday night leaving an unestimated amount of property damage in its path but taking no human lives.

Unofficial computations of the total damage may run into the six figure mark with heavy damage done to hangars and one plane at the municipal airport, the high school football stadium, municipal swimming pool, power lines, county bridges and large numbers of private homes, farm buildings and commercial establishments.

The high winds roared out of the northeast and headed generally toward the southwest in a wide circular motion, a motion common to cyclones.

Contrary to popular belief, a cyclone is entirely different from a tornado. Cyclones are high velocity winds that move in a circular path over a wide "front" but do not twist. Tornadoes are twisting winds that form the familiar funnel-shaped cloud and very seldom reach a mile in width.

Apparently hardest hit was the high school football stadium where damage could run in the thousands or reach the five-figure bracket. School officials this morning reported they had not received any estimates from contractors yet. All of the stands on the east side were either smashed or moved from the foundations. The wind had enough strength to push the stands southward. One light pole was snapped in three places, crumpling the lights and sharply bowed the one next to it. The north stands were also moved but the heavy posts of the structure are believed to have protected them.

Approximately 3500 damage was caused when the raging winds heaved about 100 yards of the swimming pool's north concrete wall toward the pool. City Engineer Ray Evans roughly estimated it would take about 3000 men to haul and about $100,000 to restore the wall.

A large $8,500 hangar owned by the Webb Aviation Service, Inc., was damaged when its roof was blown off and the roof dropped. Six planes inside were unscathed. About 200 feet to the northwest of the large hangar another, small, hangar owned by Bert Howell was picked up from its foundation and tossed a complete loss about 100 feet south.

A Cessna 110 belonging to Howell outwardly appeared to be damaged but later examination proved to be a total loss when officials found its fuselage to be being The plane however, can be salvaged for engine, trim and other parts.

Oklahomans Vote Tuesday

By the Associated Press

A slam-bang primary battle for a U. S. Senate seat will be put up to Oklahoma Democrats tomorrow in the nation's only Independence Day election.

On-the-scene political observers are looking for a close count between 73-year-old Senator Elmer Thomas and 48-year-old R. P. Mike Monroney for the Democratic senatorial nomination. There are five other entries and if no one gets a majority, there will be a runoff July 25.

Thomas and Monroney have sharply questioned each other's attitude on farm questions, and throughout the Texas Panhandle the issue of public vs. private power has been a warm one. Monroney forces have a case of government's rural electrification projects, whereas Thomas says he is one of the original REA backers.

There are some signs that the Truman administration would prefer Monroney over Thomas, but both are regarded as followers of President Truman on major issues.

Oklahoma Republicans also will be nominating tomorrow. The Rev. William H. Alexander, pastor of an Oklahoma City Christian church, and Raymond H. Fields of Guthrie appeared to be the main contenders for the senatorial nominations.

John M. Gores, 75, White Deer, Dies

John Morris Gores, 75, prominent White Deer rancher, died late yesterday in Highland General Hospital. Mr. Gores had been a resident of the White Deer area for 45 years.

Survivors include his wife, Emma O. of White Deer, five daughters, Mrs. Ida Coffey, Panhandle, Mrs. Cathryn Lewis, Phillips, Mrs. Pauline Goss, Panhandle, Mrs. Louise West, Skellytown, and Miss Carla Gores, White Deer, four sons, Charles, Panhandle, James, Okmulgee, Calif., Melvin, White Deer, and Rimer, Panhandle, three sisters, Mrs. Ella Baxter, Lamar, Colo., Mrs. Annie Phillips, Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Eva Riley, Boulder, Colo., two brothers, Charles of White Deer and Fred, Lamar, Colo., and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday from the First Baptist Church in White Deer. Burial will be in the White Deer cemetery. The body will lie in state at the family home from 7:30 p. m. today until the services.

Dam Bill Approved By Senate Group

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate interior committee today approved legislation to authorize an $85,000,000 project to supply Canadian River water to a dozen cities in West Texas.

Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told reporters the bill will not be sent to the Senate floor until it is redrafted to meet suggestions by the budget committee and committee members.

Already passed by the House, the bill proposes a $27,000,000 dam at Sanford, about 60 miles from Amarillo, and a $58,000,000 aqueduct to deliver water to towns and cities throughout the Texas Panhandle and High Plains area.

Four basic amendments are to be made in the bill, said O'Mahoney. Their purpose:

1. To provide that no contracts shall be let until Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma agree to a revision of the Canadian River flood control project.

2. The $142,000,000 dam and will be repaid in part or in total to the government. The House version provides that the government shall pay the full amount.

3. The ownership of all of the project except the dam itself shall pass to the cities which they have paid off their indebtedness. Title (See DAM BILL, Page 6)

Rail Union Refuses To Call Off Strike

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Switchmen's Union of North America refused yesterday a government plea to call off its strike against five western and midwestern railroads.

At the same time it served notice that the strike will end only if the nation becomes involved in war or President Truman should declare some other national emergency exists. It offered, however, to help in movement over the struck lines of any shipments the government should deem essential to the national economy.

The statement was in reply to the request made of the union Saturday by John Thad Scott, Jr., chairman of the National Railroad Mediation Board.

Britain Unlikely To Send Troops

LONDON — (AP) — Government officials said today Britain is unlikely to send other troops on a mission to Korea unless the United States calls for them.

They spoke after the British cabinet had met and discussed the overall Korean situation.

Fear of Dust Bowl Conditions Arising

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The possibility of a return to dust bowl conditions is greater than at any time since the 1930's, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service said today.

The service said June reports indicate continuing possibilities of trouble ahead for the drought-spotted southern and central Great Plains unless rainfall picks up during the rest of the summer and farmers put every possible acre under conservation cropping and other measures.

Drought conditions, said the announcement, have prevailed in some areas since last October and that wide damage already has occurred, adding:

"First was a series of dust storms in March and April that they may run up against the American line."

The latest report by U. S. reconnaissance columns was taken from the Yongpungpo area south of Seoul. A U. S. plane was shot down in the area.

Both columns were brought under attack by U. S. warplanes but before they could be destroyed. One plane was shot down and the other column had a number of tanks.

The tanks were on the west side of the road. Han River was reported to be in the hands of the Communists. A spokesman said the Han River and an important road had been cut off.

Schneider Hotel Reportedly Sold

A report Sunday that the Schneider Hotel has been sold was not officially confirmed here today.

But any change of hands would not affect the present operation of the hotel. Les Spear, manager of the hotel, said he will continue to hold his lease on the establishment, which is situated with the Southern Hotel.

WTSC Library Contract for $334,241 Let

CANYON — Contract for West Texas State's new $334,241 library building has been let to Neil Singleton Construction Company of Amarillo and work on the structure will start within a few days.

An equipment contract totaling $50,181 was let to Remington-Rand Company.

Designed to be a companion building to the present science building, the library will be located in the area immediately southwest of the administration building. When construction begins it will mark the third major building project underway in the rapidly expanding West Texas State campus.

All modern library conveniences and equipment have been planned for installation in the building. On the ground floor will be a large main reading room, a book delivery room, a conference room, a study room, a rest room, a lounge, a large area for book stacks, and a library.

On the second floor will be a typing room, a library science laboratory, a library periodical room, a rare book department, a library for the Texas Book, a chamber office, an exhibit room, a book repair room, a reading room, a conference office, a study room, and a library lobby.

Architect for the structure is Nelson A. Carter, Amarillo. Other buildings under construction on the campus are the Memorial Chapel located on the east side near Campus Hall and the West Texas State Field House situated on the west side near Stadium Hall. Memorial Chapel is slated for completion within 30 days with final work on the field house due in the fall.

Sinatra, Actress Still Deny Romance

LONDON — Frank Sinatra, who visited Ava Gardner off to a Thimble Race village last night for dinner and a quiet talk. They didn't have dinner.

Screenland gossip here had the two stars' romance in each other's eyes. Sinatra had had a talk with Gardner when the singer flew to Spain for a holiday while she was making a movie there.

As yet I am enjoying a quiet life in my home, Sinatra said when he left a fashionable Hollywood restaurant just after midnight. "We have had a delightful evening."

The actress has been here several weeks working on a film. Sinatra returned from America on Saturday. He begins a two-week music hall engagement next Monday at the London Palladium.

Low Flower Border Frames View of Modern House

Keep Plants Low in Front of the New One-Story Homes.

A new type of planting is required for modern homes, one-story, with low flower borders, with main floor only one or two steps above ground level.

Tall shrubs and evergreens used in "foundation" planting grow too high for these low borders, making them seem lower and eventually being seen from view and spoiling the sun-line and view out.

Landscape should frame the house and emphasize its good points. A low border should never be executed by tall plants before or behind it, and a small house should not be made to seem smaller. Only low plants should be used in front of low modern houses.

These effects can be well achieved by annual flowers, and the fashion for flowers in the front yard is spreading rapidly. An example of the effect which they produce is given in the illustration. On either side of the door a globe-shaped evergreen in a tub is used, taller than a pot plant, to give the line where house wall meets the ground is planted with a border of annual chrysanthemums, growing two feet tall, bearing single flowers of richly varied orange, brown, white and yellow flowers.

Edging this border is a row of ageratums, one of the best sources of blue tones for flower borders. There are many other combinations which could be used in a similar way to produce a pleasing effect in harmony with the colors of house wall and roof. In planting near modern houses simple color schemes, two, not over three, harmonious colors, are usually considered best. Any of the sun-loving annuals which grow to a suitable height may be used on the east, west and south sides of houses, but on the north varieties which are known to endure shade must be chosen. It is important that the colors used in borders around the house shall harmonize with the house colors, repeating them, or forming a harmonious contrast of complementary colors.

when I was a boy. What is your pattern?"

The fat boy promptly clapped his hands loudly. "Never mind the applause," said the fat man angrily.

"But that is the sign of my patrol the Beaver patrol sir," said the young Scout. "You clap your hands together. It is supposed to be like the sound of a beaver slapping his tail on the water as a signal of alarm to the other beavers."

The fat man asked him why he had joined the Beaver patrol. The fat boy felt a moment of embarrassment.

"Because I thought it was the easiest way to make any of the patrols listed in our hand book."

"Huh!" said the fat man. "What are some of them?"

"So the fat boy ran into this tent and came back with the Scout handbook. The fat man glanced at it and saw a few pages. "It's a good book," he said. "It's a good book," he said. "It's a good book," he said.

"What did you say, kid?"

"I never know," said the fat man. "I used to belong to the Eagle patrol. That is the name of the Eagle patrol. I never know," he said.

"No, sir, I don't."

"Well, I can't blame you for that," said the fat man. "I all ways thought it sounded funny. Eagles to go around saying 'Never know' that is the name of the Scout handbook, and they did."

The fat boy clapped his hands sharply once. The Eagle and the Beaver understood each other.

Japanese Pavilion Destroyed by Fire

TOKYO — The famous Golden Pavilion in Kyoto was destroyed yesterday by a fire of undetermined origin.

A national treasure, it was built by the third shogun, Yoshimichi Ashikaga, in 1699. It was called the Golden Pavilion because it was finished originally with gilt. It was worn off through the years. The pavilion contained at least eight Buddhist statues of priceless artistic value.

May Business In Texas Has Boom Aspects

AUSTIN — Business in Texas in May had some aspects of a boom, the Bureau of Business Research said today.

The University of Texas analytical agency reported that its composite index of business conditions shot up to 212.5, a new high, with activities still expanding at the end of May.

The report issued in May followed four months of relatively steady activity at about the level reached in 1948.

The striking increase in building permits was responsible for the big boost. Urban building was up 51.1 percent over April. Other increases (percent): retail sales, 2.1; industrial power consumption 2.6; crude oil runs to stills 3.1; electric power consumption 3.1; crude oil production 5.1.

Miscellaneous carloadings were down one half of one percent. Commenting on the boomlike increase, the bureau said: "The strong rise in Texas business during May is part of the general increase in business activity for the country as a whole. Industrial production has continued to increase accompanied by a gradual rise in prices. Unemployment in the United States has decreased, with the number reported by the bureau of the census down to approximately three million in May. This is below the level of May 1949, the first time for many months that the current month has been below the same month a year ago."

However, May unemployment was still substantially greater than the 1,642,660 reported for October 1948. The Texas Employment Commission reported that May unemployment in 17 labor markets was 6.4 percent below May 1949.

Build-It-Yourself Fold-away Sewing Cabinet

This young homemaker is obviously pleased as punch with her new sewing cabinet, (and with herself for persuading hubby to build it. Actually, it was so easy to make that she could have done the job. Sewing and mending is much faster and lots of fun now that all equipment is organized and centralized within arm's reach. There are pockets for patterns, elastic, measuring tape, rick rack, pin cushion, lace, scissors, zippers — everything needed for sewing, and everything in its place.

The cabinet is sturdy, yet is light in weight so it can be easily carried to any room, in the car, to the next door neighbor's wherever it's needed. It can be painted, stained, or varnished — in fact, finished in almost any decorative style desired. The closed view (inset) shows how compactly it folds for storage in a closet or behind a door.

Free "Handyman Plans" for building this cabinet were obtained from the community lumber dealer who distributes "The Business of Farming" magazine, published by United States Gypsum. These plans are just one of many services the magazine offers to homemakers.

The sewing cabinet above proved such an immediate success with the young lady, that she has asked the lumber dealer for free plans on how to build an extra clothes closet, quickly, inexpensively.

Southwestern Construction Activity Higher Than 1949

New construction activity in the southwestern states during the first quarter of 1950 ran well ahead of a year ago in all sections of the country with the notable exceptions of Florida, California, and Washington. New York led the advance with 84 percent more new construction put in place during the first quarter of this year than in the corresponding period of 1949. The volume in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Michigan, and Utah was at least one-third larger than a year ago.

Commerce Department estimates show that new construction with a total value of $533 million was put in place in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, during the first three months of this year. More than three fifths of the total was in Texas. Private construction amounted to $407 million and public construction was valued at $126 million in the four-state area, Miller said.

Construction activity has expanded more rapidly in this area than in most other parts of the country since the war. In 1939, these four states accounted for about 8.2 percent of total new construction in the United States. Last year and in the first three months of 1950, about 12 percent of all new construction was located in this area. Expansion has taken place in both private and public construction.

Expansion of private homebuilding was primarily responsible for the advance in construction activity during the first quarter of 1950 over the corresponding period of 1949 in the southwestern states as it was in the rest of the country. Public construction of schools and hospitals also contributed to the increase. Private industrial and commercial construction was generally below the levels of a year ago.

Estimates of the value of new construction throughout the United States published in the Commerce Department's monthly construction and construction materials industry report show that new construction activity during the first quarter of 1950 ran well ahead of a year ago in all sections of the country with the notable exceptions of Florida, California, and Washington. New York led the advance with 84 percent more new construction put in place during the first quarter of this year than in the corresponding period of 1949. The volume in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Michigan, and Utah was at least one-third larger than a year ago.

Commerce Department estimates show that new construction with a total value of $533 million was put in place in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, during the first three months of this year. More than three fifths of the total was in Texas. Private construction amounted to $407 million and public construction was valued at $126 million in the four-state area, Miller said.

Construction activity has expanded more rapidly in this area than in most other parts of the country since the war. In 1939, these four states accounted for about 8.2 percent of total new construction in the United States. Last year and in the first three months of 1950, about 12 percent of all new construction was located in this area. Expansion has taken place in both private and public construction.

Expansion of private homebuilding was primarily responsible for the advance in construction activity during the first quarter of 1950 over the corresponding period of 1949 in the southwestern states as it was in the rest of the country. Public construction of schools and hospitals also contributed to the increase. Private industrial and commercial construction was generally below the levels of a year ago.

Texas Yellow Pine Demand Is Strong; Production Drops

HOUSTON — Demand for Texas yellow pine continues strong but actual production for the week of June 24 is down 26.7 percent from the preceding week and 21.6 percent below production for the comparable period last year, according to a report based on a weekly comparison sampling of 34 identical Texas mills.

"The sharp dip in production at a time when demand for Texas yellow pine far exceeds the supply," said J. B. Edens, president, Texas Lumber Manufacturers Association, which released the information, "can be traced directly to an intensive and excessive period of rain which hampered mill operations and shut down logging camps."

Shipments of Texas yellow pine for the week ended June 2 were correspondingly down 25.3 percent from the preceding week and 30.3 percent below the same period in 1949.

Significantly, orders on hand the beginning of the week of June 24 were up 2.6 percent over the preceding week and 23.7 percent higher than the comparable period last year.

Texas and Pacific Will Drop 2 Trains

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Texas and Pacific Railroad says it will exercise its authority to drop two passenger trains between Fort Worth and Texarkana in "about two weeks."
 Railroad labor unions must be given proper notice before the railroad acts, a spokesman said. The Texas Railroad Commission in Austin gave T&P permission to drop the train. The railroad argued that it was losing money on the runs.
 There will be no interruptions in Fort Worth-Texarkana service on three other passenger trains which T&P operates daily via Longview.

Try to Meld Penalty Cards

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service
 "Please answer a question on penalty cards," requests a Georgia reader. "My partner melded 80 points instead of the required 90, and didn't see her mistake until the cards were already exposed. She put down one deuce, three eights, and three nines. After seeing her mistake and realizing that she was penalized, she discarded one of the eights that she had put down."
 "When my turn came, it happened that I had very similar cards. I put down three eights with a deuce and three nines with a deuce."
 "Please advise just what my partner should do when her next turn comes. I interpreted the rules to mean that she would not be compelled to discard any further from the table, and also..."

der discussion the player could add all of her penalty cards (two eights, three nines, and one deuce) to her partner's meld. If, for some obscure reason, she did not add all of those cards, the rest would still remain as penalty cards and would have to be discarded until they were all properly melded or discarded.

Q — When you are down to one card and the top card of the discard pile is one that matches one of your melds, is it permissible to take the pack?
 A — Yes — provided that the pack consists of more than one card. When you have only one card, you are not allowed to take a one-card discard pile; but you are allowed to take a pile of two or more cards. However, if the pack is frozen you can never pick it up with one card. You need a pair to take a frozen pack, and a single card can never be enough.

Q — I drew the last card of the stock, and it happened to be a red three. Was I allowed to meld out?
 A — Yes. In this situation you may meld just as many as you would at any other time. If you can meld out, you may do so and you will get the regular bonus of 100 points. If you do not meld all of your cards, you may meld whatever you like. However, in this situation (getting a red three as the last card of the stock), you do not discard; and the hand comes to an end when you have finished with your meld.

VA, Housing Administration Take Action To Eliminate Excessive Charges in GI Homes

The Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration have taken joint action to eliminate excessive fees and charges in connection with the construction of housing financed with the aid of government guarantees or insurance under the GI Bill and the National Housing Act, it has been announced.
 Acting under authority recently granted in the Housing Act of 1950, FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards and VA Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., have established limitations on such charges, effective July 17, 1950.
 In setting the schedule of maximum fees, both agencies worked closely with Administrator Raymond M. Foley, of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Gasoline Plant Builders Praised

The new regulations apply both to construction loans and the permanent financing of new homes with credit aid provided by GI loans guaranteed by VA, or FHA-insured loans. A certificate will be required from the builder or the lender, and in some cases from both, that no fees in excess of the maximum have been paid or imposed.
 The new regulations will apply only to applications for VA's reasonable value or for FHA commitments received in VA or FHA offices on or after July 17, 1950.
 According to C. M. Harvin, loan guaranty officer of the VA regional office serving West Texas, the maximum interest rate on construction money advanced to builders under the schedule is set at 5 percent. In addition, the lender making the construction loan will be permitted to charge up to 2 percent of the amount of the funds advanced as a service charge to cover costs of supervision, making periodic advances, clearance of liens, and other overhead.
 Where the lender financing the construction also finances the mortgage loan of the purchaser, Massachusetts law provides that a man may not wear a gaiter in the state unless he pays a fee or tax.

Demo Official Dies in Wreck

TEMPLE, Texas — (AP) — Mrs. Marian Storm, Texas Democratic official, died yesterday from injuries received in a three-car collision near here.
 Seven other persons were injured.
 The wreck occurred four miles north of here. A car driven by Edgar Talley of San Benito struck the rear of a car driven by Herman B. Graves, Waco Negro. The Talley car and Mrs. Storm's car then collided head-on.
 Mrs. Storm, about 35, was a member of the State Democratic executive committee. She was also executive secretary of the Texas Social and Legislative Conference, an organization of lobbying groups in the state capital. She had been secretary of the Texas Young Democrats in 1945.
 She was a native of Austin and graduate of the University of Texas. Her husband, Joe, was killed in World War II.
 She died about three and one-half hours after the wreck.

DiMaggio to Try 1st Base For Yankees

By BILL KING
BOSTON — (AP) — After setting center field standards for future generations of fly-chasers to shoot at, Joe DiMaggio, the famed New York Yankee Clipper, today was prepared to switch to first base to bolster his dropping world championship teammates.

"This is strictly my idea," manager Casey Stengel explained. "I've asked Joe to try first base to help the team. That position has been a sore spot for us all season. I expect to switch him in our next game in Washington."

A shrug was the 35-year-old DiMaggio's immediate answer when asked how he thought he would do in the late Lou Gehrig's position.

Then, as an after-thought, he modestly said: "I'll try anything if it will help the club."

He recalled that he had played only three professional games at first base, back in 1932, when at the tender age of 17, he was breaking in with San Francisco.

"Aogie Galin, our regular first baseman, went home three days before the season opened and I filled in for him," DiMaggio explained. "I don't remember how I did then and I don't know how I will do now."

"I know there are two ways of playing first base," he continued. "There is the old man's way and the right way. I'll try to play it the right way."

Joe refused to delve into the "old man's" technique but it was obvious he considers it ignoring hard hit drives beyond easy reaching range.

His admiring brother Dom, the Red Sox center-fielder, has no doubts or misgivings.

"Joe played first base when he was a kid," Dom said. "And he did it as pretty as you'd want to see. He sure knew how to use his feet and I'm sure he hasn't forgotten any of the tricks. He'll solve that Yankee first base problem for the next 10 years."

Stengel, whose willing title defenders have dropped nine of their last 13 games, has other drastic changes in mind. Since DiMaggio's hitting has been down around the .200 mark for the past four weeks, Stengel plans to drop him from the cleanup fourth spot to fifth in the batting order.

Stengel blames much of the Yankees' recent failures on the fact that southpaw pitchers have been passing the right-hand hitting DiMaggio to work on the lethargic Yogi Berra.

Special Attractions Set for Duke Series

The league-leading Pampa Oilers came home today. After a 12-day road trip that saw the circuit leaders win 11 and lose three, the Pampans are set for a three-game series with the Albuquerque Dukes that will be studied with special attractions.

Opening the series, the Oilers and Dukes will clash tonight beginning at 8:30 before the regularly scheduled Ladies Night crowd.

Then tomorrow night, the two teams lock horns in a doubleheader beginning at 7:30 on what has been designated as Homer Matney night. The action will be dedicated to the ex-Oiler outfielder who was ordered to retire from baseball by his physician.

George Payte is scheduled to pitch for the Oilers tonight, and tomorrow night, Manager Seitz is expected to start Roy Parker in wane tilt, and either Earl Doud or Ramon Salgado in the other.

After tomorrow night's games, the Oilers once again take to the road for an all-important three-game series with the Lubbock Hubbers.

Blue Sox Swat Oilers 13-9 For First Time This Year

ABILENE — (AP) — The Abilene Blue Sox finally broke the Pampa jinx, 13-9, here Sunday night to gain even break in the series and partial revenge for Saturday night's 20-7 defeat.

A seven-run outburst in the fifth inning featured by Ralph Rahmes' grand slam homer was the pay-off deal. The 17-hit attack by the Blue Sox included triples by pitcher Curt Prediger, winning his second start for Abilene; Al Duarte and Art Bowland, and doubles by Walt Sessi, Bowland and Duarte, the latter smashing two.

Virgil Richardson hit a homer for the Oilers in the fifth with one out, and Don Ricketson hit one in the eighth with two on.

The tremore, three-hour ball game was further punctuated by the three Blue Sox triples, four Abilene and three Pampa doubles.

Curt Prediger, in addition to winning his second pitching job for the Blue Sox, slammed his triple in the fourth and added two doubles in a row to drive in three runs and help his cause. He pitched steadily ball until the eighth when Pampa staged an uprising with Woldt's and Jeandron's singles and Ricketson's homer. Two were out, and Rudy Lorand went in to strike out four men and save the game for Prediger.

Rahmes' four-run homer in the fifth came with no one out. Ken Chiley had singled, Santa Cruz singled, and Walt Sessi walked to fill the bases before Rahmes' blast off over the left field wall. Art Bowland followed with a double, scored on Al Durate's first double. Rene Vega singled, stole second, and scored behind Duarte on Prediger's single.

A triple by Al Bowland, doubles by Sessi and Duarte and a single by Prediger brought in three more Blue Sox runs in the sixth.

All-Stars Selected by Fans For Annual Game on July 11

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO — (AP) — The major league's all-star fireworks don't explode until July 11, but the rival American and National Leagues today had their big guns lined up and ready to boom in baseball's midsummer classic.

The Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals, each with three positions, dominated the nationwide balloting for the 16 all-star starters — exclusive of pitchers — which ended last weekend.

A total of 3,167,326 fans participated in the poll for the 17th annual "dream game" at Comiskey Park. The 20-day balloting was conducted by 290 newspapers and radio stations.

Only three other clubs besides the fence-wrecking Red Sox figure in the lineup American loop manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees must start and play at least three innings.

They were the Detroit Tigers and Yankees with two players each and the Cleveland Indians with one.

National league pilot Burt Shotton of Brooklyn has two of his own Dodgers and one each from the Philadelphia Phils, Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs, along with the Cardinal trio.

The starting lineups and June 29 batting averages:
AMERICAN
1B — Walter Dropo, Boston.
2B — Bobby Doerr, Boston.
3B — George Kell, Detroit, .372.
SS — Phil Rizzuto, New York, .317.
OF — Ted Williams, Boston, .326.
OF — Walter Evers, Detroit, .301.
OF — Larry Doby, Cleveland, .371.
C — Larry Berra, New York, .291.

NATIONAL
1B — Stan Musial, St. Louis, .351.
2B — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .378.
3B — Willie Jones, Philadelphia, .302.
SS — Marty Marion, St. Louis, .261.
OF — Enos Slaughter, St. Louis, .332.
OF — Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, .278.
OF — Hank Sauer, Chicago, .307.
C — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn, .311.

Stengel and Shotton will pick their own pitchers, probably eight or nine per side. They also have the privilege of naming the rest of the players on the 25-man squad behind the eight-starters.

There's something about Texas that gives new life to a pitcher, Lynwood Schoobler says. Rowe was supposed to be washed up. He faded from the majors and wasn't doing any good in the minors until Shreveport picked him up recently in an effort to bring his flagging pitching staff in the Texas League race.

So Rowe made his start for Shreveport yesterday and what did he do? He shut out Beaumont 2-0 with a two-hitter. It was the first victory in four tries for the Sports, coming as the second game of a double-header. Beaumont won the first one 10-5.

It didn't do Shreveport much good to win the game since the Sports still are away down in seventh place but it must have been a great feeling for Rowe. Meanwhile Felt Worth's Cats showed they weren't going to let the race tighten up. The Cats hadn't been riding so high and was the first victory in four tries for the Sports, coming as the second game of a double-header. Beaumont won the first one 10-5.

Dukes Fight for 4th By Splitting Bill With Berger Gassers

BORGER — (AP) — A hectic Sunday afternoon doubleheader that could have been called fifth-place Albuquerque's battle for fourth place, the spot still held by Berger, ended in a split, the Dukes taking the opener 10-13 and the Gassers the nightcap, 9-7.

West Texas-New Mexico mound debut of Gasser hurler Henry Phippen was a rough one in the opener. The former major leaguer was hit for 22 singles including homers by Art Cullitt, Stan Surma, Frank Kerr, and Rufe Marshall, with Surma and first-sacker Marshall socking two each.

Ted Clawitter's grand slam homer in the first frame of the second game was Berger's big blow in a six-run first. It was the Gasser catcher's third of the day as he hit two in the first game. The Dukes never quite caught up after the big Gasser first.

Feller Believes Ball Livelier After 200 Wins

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

There's something about Texas that gives new life to a pitcher, Lynwood Schoobler says. Rowe was supposed to be washed up. He faded from the majors and wasn't doing any good in the minors until Shreveport picked him up recently in an effort to bring his flagging pitching staff in the Texas League race.

So Rowe made his start for Shreveport yesterday and what did he do? He shut out Beaumont 2-0 with a two-hitter. It was the first victory in four tries for the Sports, coming as the second game of a double-header. Beaumont won the first one 10-5.

It didn't do Shreveport much good to win the game since the Sports still are away down in seventh place but it must have been a great feeling for Rowe. Meanwhile Felt Worth's Cats showed they weren't going to let the race tighten up. The Cats hadn't been riding so high and was the first victory in four tries for the Sports, coming as the second game of a double-header. Beaumont won the first one 10-5.

Feller Wins 200 in Majors; Dodgers Fall to 4th in NL

RUSH HOUR—First base was a busy spot in the Polo Grounds when Cincinnati's Johnny Wyrostek grounded to Tookie Gilbert. Pitcher Jack Kramer, 33, took throw from the Giant's first baseman, shown rushing towards the bag, and Wyrostek, 22, across the base for the out. Second Baseman Eddie Stanky, rear, backed up Gilbert. Coach Gus Mancuso of the Reds, 52, watched the play.

(By The Associated Press)
Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians racked up his 200th major league pitching triumph yesterday, Philadelphia dropped the defending champion Brooklyn Dodgers into fourth place in the National League, and it was announced that Joe DiMaggio would become a first baseman.

On the won and lost side, almost incidental to all of the other activity.

The Phils retained first place in the National whipping the Dodgers, 6-4, in the first game of a doubleheader and getting a 10-inning tie, 8-8, in a game halted by curfew. Boston beat the Giants twice, 11-5 and 6-3. St. Louis took one from Pittsburgh, 2-1 and Chicago swamped Cincinnati, 16-0.

In the American, the Yankees outslugged Boston, 15-9, and Detroit split with Cleveland, Detroit won the first, 8-5, and lost the second, 3-5. Philadelphia won from Washington, 7-4, and Chicago and St. Louis split. Chicago won the first, 5-2, but lost the second, 3-4 in a game which went 11 innings.

AMARILLO — (AP) — Center-fielder Jim Bynon's clutch single with one out in the ninth scored pinch runner Ray Faust from third and enabled Amarillo's Gold Sox to sweep a two-game series from the Clovis Pioneers, 10-9, here Sunday afternoon.

Bynion slashed the winning blow off relief pitcher Hall Randall, a right hander who came in for starter Ed Garrett in the seventh. Randall walked Rocco Caradonna to open the ninth, then fanned Glen Carter, the winning pitcher who made his first appearance in an Amarillo uniform.

Then shortstop Pinky Higgins punched a single to right, sending Faust to third. Bynon then snatched a 10 pitch into left to break up the ball game.

By DICK KLEINER

Maybe the baseball has been souped up and maybe it hasn't. Whatever the reason, too many homers are being hit. What's needed are a few rule changes, such as:
Rule 1.01 to be amended as follows:
"Two teams of 12 players each, with three new players to be stationed in the stands or beyond the outfield fences, at the discretion of the managers."
"Each player, other than the first baseman and the catcher, is restricted to the use of a leather glove. They shall also be permitted to use a net suspended from a 12-foot pole, fashioned from slippery pine wood, to catch drives over their heads."
Rule 2.47 to be amended as follows:
"An outfielder is a defensive player who occupies a position in the outfield, in the stands beyond the outfield."
Rule 3.15 to be amended as follows:
"The Manager of the home team shall present to the Umpire-in-Chief any Ground Rules he thinks necessary, and any Air Rules which may impede the conversion of pop flies into home runs."
Rule 6.08 (3) to be amended as follows:
"A home run is a fair fly ball which passes over a fence or into the stands, it being understood that the batter uses only one hand in swinging at the ball and is standing on one leg at the time. Any other batting stance means the umpire shall declare the batter automatically out."

The SARAZLEN SWING

Approach Game Sensibly, Golfer Will Discover He Is Above Average
By GENE SARZEN
Winner of THEM ALL
It takes some intelligence to play golf.

An ambitious player must think clearly about his practice habits, his equipment.

He must know his limitations, not expect to hit 18 perfect tee shots. Hogan, Snead, Middlecoff and Mangrum don't.

A golfer mustn't destroy his concentration before a shot by wondering if 33 anatomical parts are going to perform their appointed functions.

If he falls into any error he does not understand, that's what qualified professionals are for.

He must remember that a good grip is the foundation of a good swing.

There is no reason why a golfer shouldn't be able to play acceptable golf almost indefinitely—until he is 65, let us say—if his health is good and his game has been built on sound principles.

Good golf is simply a matter of hitting good shots consistently, and a player can do this for many years after he has passed his physical peak, if his swing is fundamentally correct.

If your foundation is right, your house will stand firmly through the years. If the foundation is faulty, it doesn't matter how well you have decorated the rooms, the house will collapse, anyway.

Par Taking Beating in Golf Tourney

DETROIT — (AP) — Ninety-two survivors of the Motor City Open golf tournament went out to give one man par another beating today in the third round of the 72-hole affair at Red Run Country Club.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff was in the vanguard of par busters with a 133 total for the first two days. That put him one stroke up on the field in the chase after $2,500 first money in the $15,000 tournament.

Middlecoff's old rival, Lloyd Mangrum, of Chicago, held the runnerup spot with 134.

Both posted blistering 66's — six under par — in yesterday's round but they were far from alone in accomplishing that feat.

Four others did likewise and 30 more players in the 168-man field bettered par in their Sunday round.

The others who bagged 66's were Michigan State amateur champion Tom Drapper of the host Red Run Course, the only amateur to make the top 20, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, Pete Cooper of Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., and Jimmy Clark of Huntington Beach, Calif.

Bentham Ben Hogan, National Open champion and a big favorite with the crowd of 9,000 yesterday, had his troubles in sandtraps as he wound up with a 75. That combined with his 67 off opening day left him with 104, just seven strokes off the pace.

HOMER MATNEY NIGHT

CELEBRATION

7:30 P.M. Tuesday, July 4th.

OILER PARK

HOMER MATNEY, Oiler centerfielder, has provided local fans with more than his share of thrills these past two seasons with his sensational play, but is now being forced to retire, due to an injured back. He is currently hitting .348. After retiring, he plans to remain in Pampa and sell Atlas Life Insurance.

Nine years ago Homer Matney began breaking in as a rookie, with the pre-war Oilers. Now, nine years later, the amiable fellow is being forced to call it quits.

Homer is classed as one of the greatest outfielders in the league. Matney is now forced to the sidelines, due to injured spinal discs. Homer started as a third-sacker, then moved to Waterloo and the outfield. In 1942 he joined the Army for a three year stretch. After his release he went to St. Paul and in 1947 moved up to the Dodgers. He was then farmed out to Montreal until early '48, when he moved to Mobile. Mobile traded him to Fort Worth, where he had an almost legendary fielding record. He was selected on the Texas League All-Star Team in 1948.

DUST

Reports from the Conservation Service field offices to April showed 5,250,000 acres damaged by wind erosion this spring in the seven states of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming. Three quarters of a million acres of this was in the Panhandle, more than 2,000,000 acres of it was moderate erosion, and the rest less severe.

The spotty rains of May and June, said Bennett, were of the too-little and too-late variety to help the wheat crop.

As a result, he said, "the soil in such sections is left in the summer in a condition too dry in some instances even for planting summer grain sorghums, and the lack of sufficient rainfall to protect many sections against the wind and sun further to a critical situation reported in some sections.

Dennett said continued plowing of such areas will result in the start of the world war and had made worse the soil-dwelling situation. He emphasized it was a similar situation prevailing since the last world war, calling it an insidious more of the power up than was understood at that time.

He estimated that "around 4,000,000 acres of grassland in the southern Great Plains has been plowed out since 1942 and that something like 60 percent of this is unsuited for continuous cultivation."

Immediate need, he said, is to get vegetative cover for the land, soil conservation men, he said, are doing everything they can to get "all practicable soil and moisture conservation practices applied as quickly as possible."

There also is emphasis, he said, on the long-range problem, adding: "There are probably as high as 8,000,000 acres in these plains states that should be gotten out of cultivation and put back to grass—and kept in grass."

Work along these lines is being carried out in some sections, he said, and that "thus in the heart of the old dust bowl, where farmers had such unhappy experiences with wind erosion in the thirties, we find most of that area in sound condition."

One bright spot of the report: the major threat of wind-erosion damage is over for the time being.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., NEW YORK — (AP) — Have you noticed how many kids have been signing "non-bonus" baseball contracts lately? ... The announcements have been rather emphatic about it and we don't report whether the clubs or the athletes are getting smart.

For instance, Billy Hoelt, the Oshkosh, Wis., high school pitcher who took "just under $8,000" from the Tigers though he was reported to have offers above $30,000. ... Bob Wilson of Wisconsin, most valuable Big Ten footballer last fall, got the same amount from the White Sox after passing a $12,000 football offer from the Cleveland Browns.

Recent issues of the Sporting News list 46 college players and 27 high schoolers as turning pro and while no figures are mentioned, it may be noteworthy that most signatures are going on contracts to the higher class farms and then the kids are being shipped to Class C or D teams for seasoning.

PASSING THE BUCK — (News item) — Ray Robinson to defend welter title for $11. I never thought I'd see the day when welter champion Sugar Ray would risk his title without pay.

But still that one-bucks cash could be the way to buck the I.B.C.

Mrs. F. H. Rathjen, Panhandle Pioneer, Dies in Canadian

Mrs. F. H. Rathjen, 90-year-old pioneer of the Panhandle, died in her home here early Sunday afternoon.

MRS. F. H. RATHJEN

Mrs. Rathjen was born in the province of Hanover, Germany, May 15, 1860, and came to the United States as a small child. She lived in New York City until she married Fred H. Rathjen on August 7, 1884, coming direct to Wheeler County as a new bride, traveling most of the distance from Fort Worth to Wheeler County in a wagon.

They established their home on a ranch on Sweetwater Creek about 15 miles east of Wheeler. An interesting fact of those times is that her home was said to be first in the county to have a board floor, the lumber being brought from rails end near Wichita Falls.

Mr. Rathjen preceded her in death in March, 1921. Surviving are three sons and three daughters: Frank of California, Fred of Wheeler, and Harry, Canadian; Mrs. D. G. Sims, Mobeetie; Mrs. Kate Ford, and Mrs. Carl Zybach of Canadian; fifteen grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were to be conducted at 4 p. m. Monday in the First Christian Church, with the Rev. Taft Holloway, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was to be in Canadian Cemetery under the direction of Stuckley Funeral Home. Pallbearers are Maurice Hobdy, Oscar Forgy, Dr. Morris Bennett, R. R. Tipps, Frank Hutson, and Laurin Hardage.

other parts. The storm pulled a freak at the airport and left a plane owned by Wesley Lewis untouched where it stood on an open runway, unharmed to the ground. A nearly completed wall at the J. C. Daniels Motor Co. on W. Tynge was leveled by the wind and loss there was estimated at $3,000. The roof work on the new building had not been started.

The main transformer of the Southwestern Public Service Co. at Kingsmill was put out of action at 9:30 p. m., throwing most of the city into complete darkness. Power had to be sucked from the East Amarillo plant to light up the city. Light poles and telephone poles were blown down or snapped off at numerous places over the county.

Pampa's two hospitals reported slight inconvenience, but no serious damage. At Highland the winds crushed copper flashing on the roof at expansion point causing leakage in a third floor room. However there was no patient in it at the time. Flying gravel cracked one third floor room window and a window in the hospital's penthouse. But the power failure over town affected only the main hall lights of the hospital; the emergency generators clicked on to keep operating, delivery room, night lights and elevators going. Worley Hospital was without lights for a few minutes, officials there reported. Neither hospital had any births during the storm and no operations were scheduled at either during the same period.

In downtown Pampa, trees and branches were snapped off in a large number of places. The huge Coca Cola sign atop the Wilson Drug was split and windows of the store itself were smashed.

A large sheet metal sign was ripped from the front of the Radcliff Oil Well Supply Co. and fronts of Turpley's Music Store and Bentley's on Cuyler were demolished.

The storm didn't pass up farmers and ranchers to the north and east of Pampa either.

Considerable damage was done on the Dick Walker farm two miles east of Pampa, where winds, believed to be a small tornado, sent a two-by-four hurtling through the rear door of the house, smashed a garage, demolished a granary, killed five kittens and unroofed a brick home northeast of Walker.

A large hide-tanning barn, belonging to Arthur Reed, was blown about 30 yards from its foundation. The building, on the Lefors Highway, about 1 1/2 miles south of Pampa, was reported completely wrecked. The barn's corrugated tin side zipped about two city blocks, landing in the back yards of some homes along the highway.

Two county maintained bridges south of Hoover were washed out. County Commissioner Bill Graham reported this morning, with the cost of repair running close to, or over, $1,000. The washout makes it impossible to reach Hoover from the south, Graham said, and will take several days for repairs to be completed. A large culvert on Highway 157 was also washed out, but Graham said he would have it back in by tonight.

The large concrete bridge spanning the North Fork of Red River between Lefors and McLean has been seriously weakened and only high vehicles are being permitted to cross.

None of the damage reported yesterday and today was apparent in reports received by The News Saturday night, due to darkness. Sheriff G. H. Kyle said yesterday that he had made a check of the area Saturday night but darkness hid most of the damage.

10 Most Boring Books Still Required School Reading

NEW YORK — (AP) — What are the 10 most boring books in the world, that is, among the great classics? Anyone who's been through an English course has his own ideas about that.

But the staid and dignified Columbia University Press, tired of taking votes for "the 10 best books," decided to pin down the most boring.

Through its magazine, "The Pleasures of Publishing," it polled hundreds of editors, writers, booksellers, librarians, literary critics and amateurs.

The results were printed yesterday. They will bring fiendish joy to high school and college students — and little but pain to their teachers. Taken all in all, the "uninteresting ten" might be the required reading list of any well-conducted school.

A few votes went for the Old Testament. Some went for the Kinsey report. Shakespeare, as you might guess, was well represented — 17 of his plays got the Bronx cheer.

But none of these was the winner. That palm, if you can call it a palm, went to that sturdy old standby — John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress."

Then, in descending order, came the following literary monuments: Melville's "Moby Dick," Milton's "Paradise Lost," Spenser's operations were scheduled at either during the same period.

In downtown Pampa, trees and branches were snapped off in a large number of places. The huge Coca Cola sign atop the Wilson Drug was split and windows of the store itself were smashed.

A large sheet metal sign was ripped from the front of the Radcliff Oil Well Supply Co. and fronts of Turpley's Music Store and Bentley's on Cuyler were demolished.

Immediately following the wedding Miss Jay and a friend, visiting sister of the bride, left for Ardmore, Okla. They will go by train to Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Jay is a senior and occupational health major at TSCU. She will take clinical training at Buffalo Childrens Hospital during July and August.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

Three 17-year-olds enclosed in a recent letter to me a list of qualities which they believe make a good date. In the order in which they wrote them down, they are: Tall, good-looking, good dancer, self-assured, knows how to have a good time.

That is, perhaps, fairly typical of what a girl of 17 considers a "good date."

The only trouble is, a lot of girls—particularly those who marry young—continue these qualities as the important ones in a good husband.

But the best husbands often don't come from the list of boys who are considered the best dates.

The best husbands are just as likely, if not more likely, to come from the ranks of the "no good-looking but terribly smart," or "terribly shy but nice when you get to know him," or "kind of funny-looking and a terrible dancer—but a wonderful sense of humor," and many other such categories into which marriage-minded girls pigeon-hole the young men they meet.

QUALITIES AFTER MARRIAGE

Not that there's anything wrong with a young man's being tall, good-looking, a good dancer, and self-assured. But if those are his main assets, he is better date material than husband material.

Scientists estimate that two million million cosmic rays hit the earth's atmosphere each second.

Mrs. Hardin Hosts Meeting of Liberty HD Club Women

McLEAN—(Special)—Mrs. Archie A. Hardin was hostess to members of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club in their regular meeting.

The Wheeler County Home demonstration agent, Mrs. Emma Hastings, gave a demonstration with colored slides on outdoor grills, showing how they can be made at little expense.

Roll call, in the form of the topic, "what my family does for recreation," was answered by seven members, Mmes. Orphus Tate, Archie Hardin, Arthur Keyser, James Foster, Roy McCracken, W. E. Stokes, and Buster Stokes; and a visitor, Mrs. Luther Petty. The hostess served cake and coffee to those present.

The next meeting is to be held July 8 in the home of Mrs. Olen Davis.

Industrial Day was observed by the Elizabeth Pool circle of the First Baptist Women's Missionary Union at the church recently. The committee chairmen made out their quarterly reports.

Those present were Mmes. R. L. McDonald, Boyd Reeves, Buell Wells, R. L. Appling, E. L. Price, Homer Abbott, and Luther Petty.

The Nina Hankins Circle members met recently in an evening session.

The next meeting will be a joint gathering of both circles. The program from the Royal Service will be given by members of the Nina Hankins circle, and members of the Elizabeth Pool Circle will serve refreshments.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — If we recognize the fact that the Communist Party is a criminal conspiracy against the United States, all persons who are Communist traitors are obviously criminals, subject to penalties provided by Congress and by the several states. Congress already has held that the party is inimical, in forbidding immigration and naturalization to aliens who ever were Communists in other countries. Some of our courts have even held that knowing but limited association with Communists is abhorrent. This has been done in decisions holding that it is a crime to take a fellow-traveler without proof that the party believes the people of the United States at this period not only despise communism but also similarly despise persons who are mere associates of Communists. A fellow traveler is an associate. Thus, also, the principle of guilt by association, formerly expressed in the phrase "birds of a feather flock together," has been substantially established by the federal courts.

Congress passed no law to that effect, but the courts decided that a Communist was a loathsome creature. In 1940, they held that it is a crime to accuse a man of associating with Communists. This rule of guilt-by-association has been attacked as unconstitutional by all the known courts of the federal and American systems, as was to be expected because they work both sides of the street. That is, if an unsworn citizen angrily denounces an obvious traitor, as the party and its fellow-travelers do, he is liable to tatters with lawsuits. Inasmuch as the conspiracy is a secret oath-bound society of criminals, the problem of the unsworn individual citizen in proving the truth of his suspicions is almost impossible.

It cost the government about a million dollars to prove up on Harry Bridges. One contributing reason lies in the cunning propaganda put forth by vengeful despotic persons who follow with respect. This propaganda cries that "liberalism" is a noble philosophy often mistaken for communism by ignorant persons. Most of our newspapers like to think that they are intellectual so undoubtedly a great toleration of communism has been established in this way. Such papers include the influential Dallas Morning News, which maintains the principle of the Communist Party. Meanwhile, they have consistently sympathized with Communist causes and persons.

The reasons for this treachery can be surmised. Pure material doctrine is dull material. The friendship is a wonderful thing and that is what Homer's affairs were. Only Homer's play will find out tomorrow night at Otter Park. The baseball club has designated it as "Homer Matney Night" in honor of the boy who was forced out of the team because of a serious back injury. The Otter management has declared it a big party night for Matney because of how many requests by fans as to how they could give gifts to Matney. There are other management men who stated that anyone wanting to give something to Matney should wrap it with card enclosed and bring it to the park tomorrow night when the Otters play the Albuquerque Braves.

Baseball always tries to take care of its own. But sometimes the fans want to help. This is one occasion.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLLES

"Christianity Versus The Welfare State" I believe that most of our long periods of unemployment and socialistic troubles come from confused preachers and church leaders. Thus it becomes necessary for me to point out what I regard as errors in organized Christianity. Naturally, the professional religionists whose material well-being and power depend upon the size of their church, resent any criticism. Their desire however is usually a smear campaign, and never an attempt to show that what I am advocating is a violation of the Golden Rule or The Commandments.

Twenty-nine ministers in Colorado Springs, Colorado, passed a resolution against a newspaper because of its criticism of some of their leaders like E. Stanley Jones and the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Yet these ministers as individuals hide behind their pulpits and would not answer a single question or attempt to defend themselves in open discussion.

The trouble with these church leaders is that they are preaching the welfare state that is bound to result in the exact opposite—lower wages—from what they expect, in place of Christianity and do not even seem to know it. As an example, all laws regulating the sale of intoxicating beverages are a violation of Christian ethics and a form of planned economy and many preachers do not even know they are preaching a planned economy when they advocate such laws.

The difference between Christianity and the welfare state was well presented by Merwin K. Hart, president of the National Economic Council in their June Economic Council Letter. Since this article clearly shows the difference between Christianity and what many churches are preaching as Christianity, I want to quote the following from this article: "The one fact upon which we may rely for the eventual defeat of Socialism is that it is contradictory to Christianity. Examine any socialist proposal in the light of the teachings of Jesus, Christ and the conflict between the two becomes apparent."

But he has been angered by presidential endorsement of his opponent, States Senator Emory Ford. Many Democratic politicians not subservient to the White House and the Pendergast machine are also sore and worried.

For Mr. Allison, although his strength outside the cities may enable him to defeat Mr. Hennings, is expected to lose to Senator Forrest Donnell, Republican. Mr. Allison's weakness may also enable the GOP to pick up several seats in the House.

ALIGNMENT — Mr. Truman's support of Senator Allison puzles Missouri's Democratic leaders. For one thing, the senator leads the movement to block admission of Negro students to the state university, and it is difficult to reconcile his stand with the president's professions of friendship to minorities. Allison's candidacy should mean the loss of a fairly large colored vote, the loss of the twenty-eight ward organizations in St. Louis have dared to defy the White House by backing Mr. Hennings. He also has on his side the same civic forces, which were responsible for defeating the Pendergast machine ten years ago. In view of this alignment, Mr. Hennings has abandoned his treat-the-president-kindly attitude in recent addresses throughout the state.

Indeed, his references to Mr. Truman's early political upbringings and his continued connection with the Pendergast faction should provide Republicans with ammunition for use in campaigns outside Missouri.

PICKED — Mr. Hennings' attack on the president's interference emphasizes the fact that Allison was picked at a secret conference attended only by Mr. Truman, Governor Forrest Smith and James Pendergast, now head of the Democratic organization with White House blessing. He is a nephew of "Old Tom" Pendergast, who served a prison sentence for income tax violation.

C'mon, Let's Celebrate

"The Welfare State" I believe that most of our long periods of unemployment and socialistic troubles come from confused preachers and church leaders. Thus it becomes necessary for me to point out what I regard as errors in organized Christianity. Naturally, the professional religionists whose material well-being and power depend upon the size of their church, resent any criticism. Their desire however is usually a smear campaign, and never an attempt to show that what I am advocating is a violation of the Golden Rule or The Commandments.

Twenty-nine ministers in Colorado Springs, Colorado, passed a resolution against a newspaper because of its criticism of some of their leaders like E. July 3, 1950 The highway slaughter is on! This is another of those times that I wish that this country was still back in the horse and buggy age. But instead we've reached the point where every body brags about how their every foot craves Amarillo. She said and not even be down to the floorboard. The only trouble is that not too many of those who get to 110 in their buggies live to tell their friends about it. And the horrible part is that they take the innocents with them.

How many of you have played the game of shuffleboard on these long tables in the recreation parlors? It certainly has gone big league. Got a paper the other day called the Shuffleboard World. Sixteen pages of pictures and information from the shuffleboard leagues all over the country.

Looks like there may be hope for Lubbock yet. According to one Pampa lady shopper, things were better in Amarillo. She was there the other day in hopes of getting some good bargains. Instead she came home and called us up to tell us that there is no need of going to Amarillo to hunt bargains. Everything is higher there than here, and also, that it looks like Polk Street is going to thin out. She said that the merchants were complaining about raising rents and talking of "going out of business" sales. She added that Pampa is a staid and better town than Amarillo. She said that the self-styled capital of the Panhandle may be bigger but it doesn't have the heart of Pampa.

How many of you wives know how to make bubble gum breath? If you lived in California I imagine that you would be learning fast, because they have had a bread strike going on out there for a long time. Rather imagine that sodas and actual hallucinations selling rather good too, to settle Hubby's tummy.

Didja know — that the railroads now have 40,000 more freight cars than they had at the start of Pearl Harbor in 1941 and the average capacity per car has been increased by two tons? The salesman, unable to get past Mr. Smith's capable receptionist, finally tackled his prospect in the office corridor. "I like to see you," he began. "Well, well!" cried Smith. "I've seen you before — come into my office. You're Charley Armstrong. I met you at a Kansas dinner two years ago at the Mansfield Hotel. You told me you were working for a piano concern. Now, what can I do for you?"

"Nothing," replied the salesman sadly. "I sell memory courses now."

Summer takes a larger share of the annual toll from lightning than any other season. According to a big insurance company, the chances of avoiding a lethal bolt during an electrical storm the company's safety experts offer advice based on this insurance experience: Never seek shelter under a tree, particularly an isolated one. One-third of all the victims lose their lives this way. Don't remain in an open field, or broad plain, or small boat during the storm. Taking refuge in a small isolated shed, especially one in an exposed area, also is dangerous. Never stay in swimming through the storm — not only do you become a target for a direct hit, but you also can be electrocuted by a charge carried by the water from a bolt striking at some distance. About nine out of ten of the deaths each year occur in rural areas. City folk are safer because the steel frames of the tall buildings serve as lightning conductors.

CHIRPS

By ROBIN TIBBETS

When a city begins to grow in population and area, but not in facilities, it is time something is done. Pampa, though not as large as some had thought before the final census was completed, is much larger than it was ten years ago.

Along with that fact, life has become so mechanized, so commercialized, that the youth of our city have little to do except go to movies, dances, tent shows, and drive around town in their family cars.

After a while, the young fellows get tired of going to the movies and dances and decide to have a little fun. That's when the firecrackers start popping in the doors of houses in the residential area; when fast cars speed down the city streets with immature drivers at their wheels; and when hubcaps, caps to gas tanks, and other items start missing.

Perhaps it isn't perfect, but it is a start at least; and it has already been proven to be worthwhile in other cities throughout the nation.

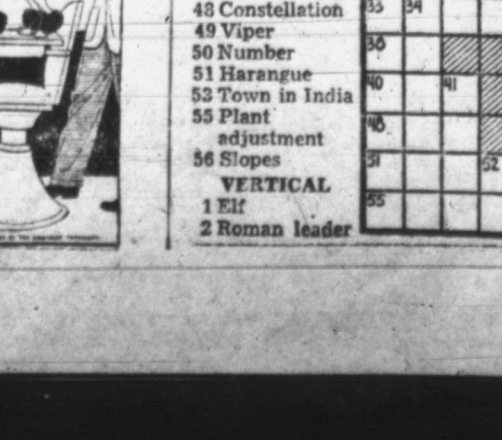

Boy's Clubs of America is an organization for the young men of our community. Not only would such an organization provide recreation for the young men of our city, but it would provide guidance, instruction in how to live with other boys, and many opportunities to become better citizens.

Some of the purposes of the Boy's Clubs are to provide a medical examination at least once a year; to give each boy opportunity for physical training, athletics, and the development of physical fitness; to teach each boy wholesome health habits; to give each boy an opportunity for educational interest; to develop vocational skills, and to discover vocational aptitudes; to give each boy an opportunity to develop interest and skills in hobbies and cultural activities which enrich life; to give each boy an opportunity to experience outdoor life away from the city.

Boy's Clubs of America is a community group either through the initiative of a civic organization or the leadership of an individual. They are non-profit organizations guided by an elected board of directors. An effective club would have fully equipped buildings with efficient operators to care for them.

In fact, such a club would be the thing for Pampa boys. Childhood is the most important time of the life, and if the child is guided into the right channels it is seldom that he will deviate from them excessively during later life. If he is taught the difference between right and wrong, and how to cope with many situations which will arise in his life, he will be prepared for practically any event.

The adults of Pampa and of America are responsible for the younger generation for the future of the world. Since the children of today will be the leaders of tomorrow, then it is for the leaders of today to use every facility available to prepare those future leaders for the job ahead. For information about the Boy's Clubs of America, see Gene Garrison at the Pampa News or Jack Vaughn. They'll be glad to help you do your best for the sons of freedom.

No Room for Parisan Politics

In the Korean struggle as in past years, most Americans are following admirably to the support of their government, without hint of partisanship. Only two Republican lawmakers, Senators Ken C. Casey and William H. Harrison, were sharply critical of President Truman's decision to throw U. S. armed forces against the invading North Koreans. And their opposition stemmed from a belief he should have consulted Congress before acting.

For more obvious reasons, the same lack was taken by Vito Marcantonio, the American Labor Party congressman who follows the Communist Party line with precision. The delay of debate is clearly to the advantage of his friends abroad.

On the "pro" side were Senators Taft of Ohio, Knowland of California, Bridges of New Hampshire and many other Republicans who often in the past had bitterly assailed U. S. policy in the Far East.

But Taft contained his support with a demand for the resignation of Secretary of State Acheson on the ground the president's action was a sweeping reversal of everything Acheson stood for in Asia. He blamed Acheson's policies for precipitating "the danger of war."

Last winter Taft called loudly for U. S. armed defense of Formosa, the island stronghold which represents Nationalist China's last footing. Undoubtedly he had Formosa much in mind when he spoke of "reversal" for Acheson. He stoutly fought heavy U. S. commitments there. Mr. Truman now has ordered the Navy to protect the island from Communist attack.

It needs to be pointed out that the former "hands off" policy respecting Formosa was not merely Acheson's. It was concurred in by most top U. S. military strategists, and the president made it his own.

There has been an about-face, yes. But the reversal stems from Mr. Truman himself and embraces all his leaders. To single out Acheson for special censure is unwarranted.

There's little doubt that Korean war has swept away most of the groundwork built up this spring by Senator McCarthy and other Republicans in an effort to prove the administration inept at foreign affairs. When real hostilities threaten, Americans close ranks and look ahead to meeting their future difficulties together.

Mathias Takes Title 3rd Straight Year In U. S. Decathlon

TULARE, Calif. —(AP)— Hand-some young Bob Mathias of Tulare won the National Decathlon Championship for the third straight year, broke the world record by doing it and today planned a year's holiday from this grueling all-around test of track and field prowess.

"Throwing back" as determined by the title challenge of William E. (Bill) Albans of North Carolina, 19-year-old Mathias rounded out his two-night performance Friday night just before midnight with these achievements: He captured the crown, the first man to do it three straight years.

He scored 8,042 points, shattering the record that had stood for 14 years since Glenn Morris established the world by registering 7,900 points for America in the Olympic games at Berlin.

It seems to be small production units in the smaller towns. When being considered by Congress, it was predicted by some witnesses that the jump from the former to cents an hour minimum wage would put many small business firms out of business. The first report has been received in this four-state area to indicate that the 75-cent minimum has put anyone out of business.

The net effect of the minimum wage increase in the area is estimated as having brought wage raises to about 100,000 workers—perhaps 25,000 in Indiana, 30,000 to 40,000 in Illinois, 20,000 to 25,000 in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

CHICAGO — (NEA) — The four-state area of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota has always been considered predominantly farm belt. It is a big producer of wheat, corn, soybeans, hays and soybeans thrown in for good measure.

As a result of the minimum wage increase, many small business firms out of business. The first report has been received in this four-state area to indicate that the 75-cent minimum has put anyone out of business.

The net effect of the minimum wage increase in the area is estimated as having brought wage raises to about 100,000 workers—perhaps 25,000 in Indiana, 30,000 to 40,000 in Illinois, 20,000 to 25,000 in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

These increases have mostly been reported in the canning, textile, garment and dairy industries. There have also been some unanticipated surprises. For instance, most small banks have had to increase their wage rates. These country banks have usually operated with a staff of four or five — cashier, assistant cashier and a couple of women bookkeepers and stenographers.

Auto Production Declines Slightly

DETROIT — (AP)— Motor-vehicle production in the United States last week totaled 185,789 units, according to Automotive Reports estimated.

The total includes 155,238 cars and 30,551 trucks and compares with the previous week's 196,348 vehicles. In the same week last year, the factories built 137,802 vehicles.

Last week's production decline was attributed to the elimination of usual Saturday overtime operations in many plants. Ward's estimated output so far this year at 3,759,000 vehicles including 3,008,000 passenger cars. This compares with 2,388,121 cars and 624,802 trucks in the like period of 1949.

Walkers Give New Life to Pampa Verdure

Dosier, Rinehart Advance in Pampa

The two gents responsible for saying, "there is nothing new under the sun" and "nothing ever happens in Pampa" are probably hiding their collective heads in shame, these days. At least the activity at Pampa Maytag would be so indicative. Evidently the boys of Pampa Maytag don't believe everything they hear. They've cut loose and done some "new-wrinkle" promoting during the past two weeks and have aroused the curiosity of young and old.

Messrs. Rinehart and Dosier haven't been in the appliance business for as many months as you have toes on your left foot, but they have succeeded in putting the name of Pampa Maytag before the public as the representative and vendor of a distinguished group of home appliances.

First item of interest, after the boys acquired the old Maytag Pampa, was the interesting cooking school promoted for the education of Pampa housewives. Next on the list was the announcement of the acquisition of Crosley Radios, Crosley Ranges, Crosley Refrigerators and Crosley Kitchen Cabinets. Here was a line of home appliances hard to beat at any price. But, few homes could operate without some item from the family of Newton, Iowa, named Maytag.

What do the boys from Pampa Maytag do but spring a complete line of the venerable Maytag products of the unsuspecting public. If it's Maytag you like, you can satisfy your appliance needs with Maytag Washers, Maytag Ironers and that triumph of industrial engineering, the Maytag Dutch Oven Range. This, as you may recall, is the range constructed on the Colonial principle of cooking in a brick-enclosed oven commonly referred to as a Dutch Oven. The Dutch Oven principle of cooking created some of the finest dishes our ancestors ever knew. Such a reputation was bound to gain ground. As the years rolled by many scientists attempted to recapture the subtle certones in taste created with Dutch Oven cookery. It seemed to be a losing battle, until Maytag engineers applied the knowledge of years of research to a gas range and came up with a superlative product in cookery. The Maytag Dutch Oven Range, according to Rinehart and Dosier, is the answer to successful Dutch Oven cookery.

Along with the respected names of Crosley and Maytag, the Pampa Maytag management has placed the name of Gibson. Gibson has fast been coming to the front with a reliable line of excellent food storage units. It may be worth your while to pay a call to Pampa Maytag and explore the conveniences offered by this newly added line of refrigerators.

Whether you intend to buy, or just browse around, the trip to Pampa Maytag will be worth your while. Harold Rinehart and Price Dosier are always available for a chat; Bishop Ricketts is a past master at the art of introducing you to an outstanding line of appliances and the atmosphere of the place is downright warm and friendly. No offense to the cooling system in that last statement. Physically, it's as comfortable a place as there is in town.

Don't take this commentary as gospel. Go in and see for yourself. You'll enjoy a welcome surprise.

The formidable array of men, machines and vehicular transportation is guaranteed not to be an assortment of weapons of atomic warfare or any other potential method of destruction of the human race. Closer examination will identify the group as D. S. Walker and his son, who are gaining a firm foothold in local tree surgery and insect eradication circles. Mr. Walker and his son, who are located at 842 W. Kingsmill, have developed a new chemical, contained in tree paint, which is painted on trees to eliminate termites and other damaging insects.

Treatment Aids in Local Tree Survival

It's always a pleasure to hear or read of the activities of men engaging in conservation of the flora and fauna of our country. It is especially warming to note that Pampa has, in its midst, a capable and reliable operator from the conservation field. Most people remember Mr. D. N. Walker as an oil man. However, Mr. Walker has reversed his field and has become a member of the gentry of tree surgeons and a general practitioner in the field of elongating the life of our tree growth.

Casual observation might tend to discount the importance of such activity to our community. Moreover, too many natives of every clime are inclined to take nature's providence for granted. It might be well to pause and reflect concerning the all-important part our trees and shrubbery play in the daily life of the community.

The common and unseen benefits of ample growths of trees are highly important to the residents of such an area as the Panhandle. Imagine Pampa without its outstanding trees to offer protection from erosion, moisture attraction, weather protection and other vital purposes. Pampa's lovely population of tree stock is precious to each of us.

With the aforementioned thought in mind, D. N. Walker and Dale Walker launched themselves on a long and tedious project designed to produce a product which would be practical in lengthening the life of trees by combatting termites and other damaging insects.

Contrary to commonly accepted belief, there is a considerable termite population in Pampa. Those termites are doing considerable damage. Such was the discovery of Mr. Walker and his son, Dale.

The Walkers, after much cogitation and labor, struck upon a formula of great value in reducing termite damage to a minimum. They have perfected a tree paint containing an insecticide. This paint will not wash off and require a new application everytime it rains. If you will take a little time to examine your trees and shrubs you may save yourself considerable expense at a later date. Trees don't grow in a day. D. N. and Dale Walker say, if the termites are discovered early, render first aid to your trees and contribute immeasurably toward saving them.

You wouldn't call in a blacksmith to operate on your baby. It's only natural to call a tree surgeon to administer to the needs of your trees.

As long as you're concerned about your trees, you'd be money ahead if you'd consult with Walker & Son concerning your entire landscaping service. The Walkers are qualified tree surgeons. In addition, they do complete landscaping from planning through the furnishing and planting of trees and shrubs of all kinds.

In addition to his development of a highly successful termite retardant and eradicator, Mr. Walker has developed a weed controlling chemical. According to information at hand, this solution will successfully eradicate all types of weeds without doing any harm to your lawn.

All in all it appears that Mr. Walker has organized a business unit which is in position to render a great service to the community. There are, obviously, many trees in need of attention throughout the city. Proper pruning, termite control, scientifically supervised planting all contribute to the life of a valuable tree and immeasurably add to civic beauty.

Don't wait until it's too late and you have to replace a tree or two. Mr. Walker is just as close as your telephone. He's located at 938 S. Barnes. Phone 4783, and is equipped with all of the necessary tools of his trade. This, coupled with scientific knowledge, beats home treatment in more ways than one.

Nirvana and Morpheus Are Close Friends of Anderson

How many times in your life have you wished that you could indulge in the luxury of designing your own sleeping facilities? Many times, it's safe to bet. Since the earliest days of the production-mattress, men have wished for heavier mattresses, thicker mattresses, springier mattresses, harder or softer mattresses. Admit it, now. You've "cussed" the old couch of Morpheus many times. Haven't you?

With the advent of the twentieth century custom sleep shops, your sleep problems are over. The modern mattress maker doesn't guarantee any miracle cures for insomnia. He does, however, guarantee to provide the nearest thing to comfort that can be obtained in sleep inducing products. He doesn't try to lull you to sleep with well couched phrases concerning his product; he offers no bromides designed to mislead you in your quest for Nirvana and her court. He's just an "honest-to-goodness" merchant who has made a scientific study of the problems of sleep and the practical things that can be done to make sleeping easier and more complete.

Such an establishment is the Anderson Mattress Company, located out on West Foster. According to the latest information, gleaned from reliable informed sources, the Anderson Mattress Company is outstanding in its field. They are considered to be ranking specialists in their field. One of the close-to-miracle jobs done at Anderson Mattress is the rebuilding and renovating of old mattresses. You've heard the old statement "we'll make it good as new." You've probably been fooled, by its makers. However, when Anderson Mattress Company tells you they'll make your old mattress "good as new," they aren't fooling. They'll take that lumpy looking old pad of yours, retie it, restuff it, and re-cover it in such manner that you'll not recognize it at all. You don't believe it? O. K. It won't cost you a dime to go out to Anderson Mattress Company and let them prove the point.

Probe of Railroad Service in Sabine Area Is Requested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has been asked to investigate whether there are monopolistic practices in operations of the Southern Pacific railroad line through East Texas between Beaumont and Dallas.

Combs (D-Tex). He said since 1934 the area's rail service has deteriorated because of the absorption of the Houston and Texas Central and Texas and New Orleans railroads by Southern Pacific.

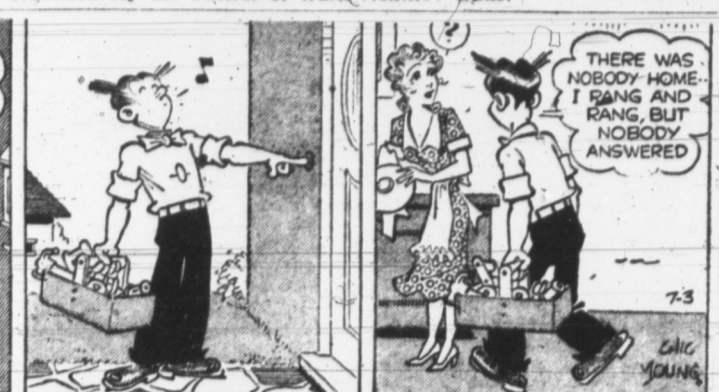

The only direct rail service between Dallas and the tri-city Sabine area of Beaumont, Orange and Port Arthur, he added, is one mixed passenger and freight train that requires 13 hours on a 229-mile overnight run.

The Southern Pacific has used the traffic between the Sabine area and points beyond as a pawn in its battle with its creditors for the control of transportation between the Sabine area and the Dallas area. "Combs wrote the commission. "I charge the Southern Pacific with exercising its monopolistic position in such a manner as to be highly prejudicial to the Sabine area, and highly preferential to the Houston area, in violation of its duty under the law as a carrier."

LANCASHIRE, because its humid climate keeps the threads from becoming too dry and snapping, is the center of England's cotton textile trade.

SMEAR CAMPAIGN

By Edwin Rutt
 Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

AS reassuringly as he could, Bill Jarvis said to Mr. Coulter, "Don't worry, sir. Williston's a good flyer, I hear. Bev will be okay."

Coulter looked at Bill levelly. "Did you know she was going to do this, Bill?"

"Well, Bill shifted his feet," he mentioned it once, but I thought I'd talked her out of it. I certainly didn't know she planned to go today."

"Caroline Marr told my wife about it when Bev didn't return," Coulter paced the path angrily. "Bev knows how her mother feels about flying since that accident. I'll have something to say to her, all right."

"One obvious fact struck Bill. Bev had done this because of their quarrel. Bev—to flaunt him in a spirit of bravado, perhaps—had gone up with Lloyd. He couldn't let Bev take all the blame."

"Mr. Coulter," he said slowly, "there's something I have to tell you. I should have done it before. But I— I just didn't have the nerve."

Bev's father wheeled on him. "If you've anything on your mind, let's have it!"

After that, Bill had to go on. Coulter listened, completely expressionless.

"And," Bill finished miserably, "I haven't anything to say for myself. It just happened, that's all. But I'm to blame as much as Bev, for this business today."

Coulter's face was still blank. Only his eyes seemed alive. "Anything more?"

"No," Bill bit his lip. "Except to— to resign from your company. That's rugged for me, sir. I've liked it there."

Then Joe Coulter stunned him.

"Your resignation won't be accepted. Your personal life has nothing to do with your work in my office. I want you in the organization. Bill—the older man hesitated—"I find myself in a strange position. Bev's my daughter and apparently, you've thrown her over. The natural thing would be for me to give you the devil and fire you. Well, I can't. But I can't tell you why either."

Thoroughly mystified, Bill stammered: "I—I'm very grateful, sir."

Coulter waved impatiently. "Never mind that. We'll talk all of us, when Bev comes home."

Bill remained on the terrace, dragging heavily at a cigaret. One of his hodgepodge thoughts was suddenly making sense. He had never known through what agency Bev had learned of his first meeting with Hildy on the golf course. Now his mind settled somehow on Lloyd Williston.

He had no proof, but Lloyd was not in the bridge game and was as much at loose ends as Bill himself. It seems probable that Lloyd had seen Bill and Hildy that night and Lloyd's heavy foot might have cracked that fallen branch. After that Hilda Sands had just—hit him so hard that even yet he hadn't come out of his spin.

Bill dropped his cigaret. Hildy was there, wearing something black and close fitting, making her look like a tall dark wraith.

"I had to see you once more, Bill," she said swiftly. "To—well, tell you goodby."

Involuntarily, his free arm went around her waist. "I know you're going. Heard it from Turner. But we're saying no—er—permanent goodby, Hildy. You see, I've told
