35 Americans Aboard Plane Lost in Japan

TOYA, Japan — (AP)— Search was resumed at dawn today for a U. S. Air Force transport which crashed southeast of Toya about midnight Friday with 35 Americans aboard.

Fog and bad weather which forced an overnight halt in the hunt prevented aerial operations. American and Japanese search parties concentrated their search around Tanzawa mountain, seven miles southwest of this village and 35 miles from Tokyo.

All 27 passengers and eight crewmen were officially listed as missing. They included Frank E. Pickle, head of the Japanese Consulate's foreign trade division, and three other occupation officials returning from a trade conference in Manila.

Bynum was given a traffic ticket charging failure to grant right of way. Kentucky is a through street because of the hospital while "stop" signs have been placed on Mary Ellen.

"We are faced with a threat—in all sober truth I say this—we are faced with a threat not only to our country but to the civilization in which we live," he declared.

Declaring there is "no quick or easy way to subdue an evil force... no miracle that will make it disappear from the earth," Acheson laid down a program in which he said every citizen can join to check and defeat the global Communist drive.

Johnson Says Nation's Arms More Terrible

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Secretary of Defense Johnson said yesterday the United States had speeded up development of new weapons more terrific than any the world has ever seen.

Johnson said this country leads in fashioning a variety of new arms that "may mean the difference between victory and defeat in war."

In his semi-annual report, the secretary told America its atomic arsenal is "no longer" a small number of bombs of a single type and size.

At the end of 1949, armed services manpower totaled 3,851,000, a net decrease of 2,000 officers and 65,000 enlisted men in six months.

At year's end, the U. S. had 38,000 military airplanes, with 5,400 more being obtained. Johnson also reported 11,000 of the existing aircraft were fighters, 2,500 jet powered.

Air Force Secretary Symington, who leaves this post April 24, reported that the last six months of 1949 completed the "downward" adjustment to the 48 group force fixed by the president.

Secretary Matthews reported the Navy at the end of 1949 met its requirements "fairly well," but it could use more air carriers "to advantage."

Former Army Secretary Gray reported Army Manpower decreased 35,000 in the last six months of 1949, and would drop 12,000 additional by June 30 to meet the budget limit of 630,000.

Gray said the reduction was being accomplished by reducing the strength of units on the strength of 10 regular divisions and inactivating two of the six training divisions.

Full Inquiry In Amerasia Case Sought

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Hinting at new evidence, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) yesterday demanded a thorough investigation of the "very mysterious" 1945 Amerasia case involving secret government documents.

"I think there are some elements of evidence which heretofore have not been known publicly," Hickenlooper declared.

He made the statement after being told by reporters that Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) had predicted that the Amerasia case is about to break wide open and would disclose an important Soviet espionage ring.

The case first came to light five years ago with the arrest by the FBI of career diplomat John S. Service and five other persons. They were charged with illegal removal of government documents for use in the magazine Amerasia, a publication devoted to news of Far Eastern affairs.

Service later was exonerated and returned to duty in the State Department. A grand jury also refused to indict two others. Two of those arrested were fined, and there was no action against the sixth defendant.

Hickenlooper declined to discuss just what he has in mind in the way of possible new evidence. He is a member of the Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is looking into McCarthy's charges of communism in the State Department.

McCarthy has said his charges will stand or fall on the outcome of his accusations against Far Eastern expert Owen Lattimore. The Wisconsin Republican has called Lattimore Russia's top espionage agent in this country—a charge Lattimore has called a "contemptible lie."

Lattimore also has denied Louis Budenz' testimony before the Senate group that he once was a member of a Communist cell. Budenz is a former Communist.

Survivors are his wife, Myrtle Cowan, and nine children; Fay Glenn, Bill C. Hiram, Jim Beck, and Sally of Mobettie; Ora Pearl, Wheeler; Mrs. Alice Dollah, Sess graves; Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Plainview and six grandsons; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Milton, Mrs. Lena Lewis of White Wright, Texas, and Mrs. M. A. Cunningham of Arvin, Calif.

The Rev. Bryant and Rev. G. W. Simmons of Wheeler will officiate at the services and interment will be in Mobettie Cemetery under the direction of Kirk Mason Funeral Home.

The body will be in state at the family home until services.

Tension Increasing In Phone Dispute

NEW YORK—(AP)—An isolated dispute in the Midwest is threatening to spark a coast-to-coast tieup of telephone installation services on Monday.

The threat came from Ernest Weaver, president of Division 6, CIO Communication Workers of America, representing 10,000 installation workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia.

He said the strike would be called unless Western Electric Co., manufacturing and installation unit of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., adjusted a dispute in Indiana.

If it comes, the strike would be two days before the end of a 60-day truce obtained by President Truman in an overall wage fight between various divisions and A. T. & T., parent company of the nationwide Bell System.

Because of the truce, Weaver said his union would not do any picketing before Wednesday, thus precluding the likelihood that the rest of the CWA's 200,000 members would be kept off their jobs Monday.

The sudden strike threat, temporarily overshadowing overall telephone contract negotiations, stemmed from a relatively minor disagreement at South Bend, Ind. There, 104 telephone installation workers struck on March 27 when a crew according to the union, was denied pay after it refused to walk more than half a mile through a muddy field to work on a television tower.

Sympathy walkouts flared yesterday at scattered points across the country.

Weaver said that if talks Saturday with Western Electric representatives are "any real indication of the company's attitude, you can bet your bottom dollar that we will walk out Monday."

And, he added, "we will stay out until we win reasonable concessions or until Hell itself freezes over."

He said his union considered the Indiana dispute "part of our overall struggle" with the company, which he accused of "outright wenching" and of thinking it is "just too damned good to deal" with his union.

T. E. Shea, Western Electric personnel director, accused Weaver of using the South Bend dispute "as a pretext for calling an illegal strike in total disregard of the public interest."

If the strike occurs, Shea said, it will be "clearly in violation" of the union contract, which he said forbids strikes in such disputes, and calls for their settlement through "orderly grievance procedure."

Until Saturday, negotiators had expected to have at least until Wednesday to iron out issues in the overall telephone dispute, before any new strike crisis arose.

Chief of the union demands are for 15-cent hourly pay increase, pension improvements and other benefits.

Interest Rate on FHA Loans Is Reduced to 4 1/4 Percent

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government is setting out to make home mortgage credit cheaper, as well as more plentiful.

Effective with applications filed Monday, the top interest rate on new Federal Housing Administration (FHA) mortgages will be 4 1/4 percent, or 1/4 of one percent less than heretofore.

The rate reduction was announced after President Truman signed a bill providing for an expansion of nearly $4,000,000,000 in the federal housing program.

Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) of the Senate Banking Committee said the move (1) will save new home owners at least $5,000,000 a year and (2) "should reduce pressure for increased rents."

Moving the top rate on FHA-insured mortgages from 4 1/2 percent to a 4 1/4 cut out half the premium such mortgages get above the 4 percent rate on mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. But the VA said it will stand pat on its 4 percent figure.

Persons getting FHA insurance on mortgages will continue to be charged an additional 1/2 of one percent as an insurance premium, so the overall rate they pay will be 4 3/4 percent a year—against 5 in the past.

Nevertheless, they will be saving 25 cents a year on each $100 of their mortgages—equivalent to $12.50 a year in all on a $5,000 mortgage, for example.

FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards, in announcing the rate reduction showed confidence that lenders will continue putting up money for FHA mortgages, despite the cut in the interest return to them.

"After months of thoroughly studying the mortgage money market it was concluded that this lower rate would be effective in producing a high level of residential construction under the FHA program," he said.

Senator Maybank agreed. "I am confident that the lower rates will increase the demand for new housing and in no way will diminish the supply of mortgage funds," he said.

The FHA neither builds houses nor makes loans on them itself. In insuring housing loans made by banks and other private lenders, it sets a ceiling on mortgage

'Wonder Hormone' Useless Against Polio, Group Says

CHICAGO—(AP)—The wonder hormone ACTH is of no value against polio, a study by researchers at the Children's Medical Center in Boston reported.

The study, based on 25 polio patients, is the first to show that ACTH is of no value against polio. A control group of 25 other patients was given inactive dummy injections.

The investigators found no difference between the two groups in their response to polio in progression of paralysis.

The study was reported at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association by Dr. Lewis J. Connelley, head of the department of pediatrics at the Children's Medical Center in Boston.

A group of Detroit physicians reported in the journal that a preliminary study indicated ACTH was effective against various influenza viruses.

Multiple Charges Faced by Grant

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—John H. Grant, accused of trying to put a time bomb aboard an airplane, faces a possible life-term charge in addition to 16 counts of attempted murder.

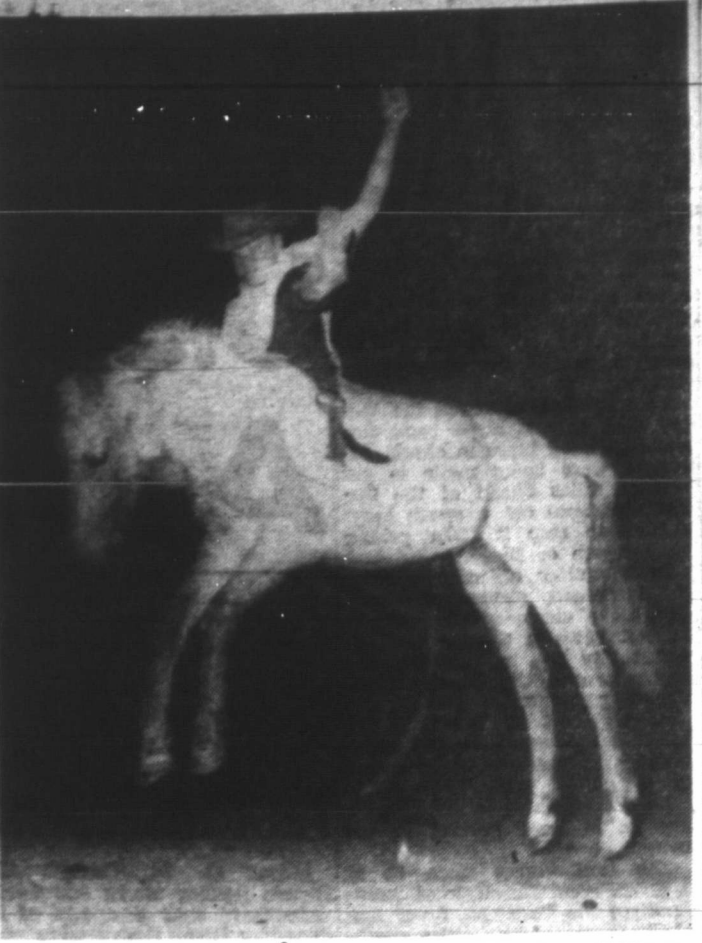

Dep. Dist. Atty. George Kemp said that the 34-year-old aircraft engineer "quite likely" will be charged Monday with the 16 counts, carrying from one to 20 years, plus a charge of violating the state health and safety code against taking explosives on a public conveyance which carries a penalty of one year to life.

Grant is held on suspicion of attempted murder of his heavily insured wife and two children. Thirteen others were aboard.

'TONSORIAL ARTISTS' PRACTICE AT RANCH

BOY'S RANCH—When it comes time for a mane-trimming session at Boy's Ranch near Amarillo, the boys usually fall to one of the boys in the tonsororial department of the ranch vocational school.

Several of the older boys are learning the barbering trade, and with over 120 victims to practice on, they are becoming quite proficient. Only the art of shaving is neglected at present because no staff member is willing to risk an ear or Adam's apple.

In addition to barbering, the boys at Boy's Ranch have the opportunity to learn carpentry, automobile mechanics and shoe repair. The list of trades being taught now is small, but it is hoped that a vocational school can be built in the very near future where 12 or 14 trades can be taught.

With a properly-equipped vocational school, each of the more than 100 boys can learn a valuable trade that will be able to use when he leaves the Ranch. This will give him the chance to step into a good job and make a real hand.

The boys also have their own grade and high school with seven teachers, a full sport program

water in a futile effort to stamp out the blaze.

Width of the swath burning last night ran for an unestimated number of miles. The flames were clearly visible from Canadian when they had reached the estimated 10 miles point. Long before 8 p. m. the fire was termed "out of control" and warnings were sent to Booker and Perryton. Both towns in turn sent out warnings and pleas for assistance to fight the fire.

Earlier three Gray County men were injured and a tank truck damaged near McLean when a prairie fire there broke out at 2:45 p. m. and burned off 2,000 acres of grassland in three hours before it was finally smothered out by fire fighters.

Jack Mercer suffered a possible jaw fracture when a hose nozzle whipped out of control, hitting him in the face. The blazing grass also slightly burned John Cooper, and John Anders was given medical treatment after inhaling a considerable amount of smoke.

A tank truck, belonging to Elmer Day who was fighting the fire, was damaged heavily, the damage estimated at $300.

Firemen from McLean and Lefors along with Pampa's Fire Chief Ernest Winborne helped fight the blaze while two county road maintainers were put into use by County Commissioner Ernest Beck.

None of the injured were believed to be hurt seriously.

Meanwhile three other prairie fires were reported southwest of Canadian but full confirmation of damage there was not available by press time last night.

Texan Claims Flying Saucer 'Burned' Him

LUFKIN — (AP) — Jack Robertson, 28-year-old Lufkin pharmacist, asserts that a flying saucer burned him. Robertson's face had a reddish cast resembling sunburn yesterday. Insisting he was not joking, he told a Lufkin Daily News reporter he acquired the burn this way: He observed a round, flying object about eight feet in diameter, while driving alone nine miles west of Lufkin Friday night. He got out of his car to see the object better and it hovered about 20 feet over his head, giving off a dull red glow. It took off with a "whooshing roar" and soon was out of sight. About five minutes later, he felt a burning sensation on his face. His clothing was not burned. Robertson described the bottom of the object as rounded like a globe. He said it appeared to be made of aluminum, but that darkness prevented close observation. "I'm not a drinking man and I hadn't been drinking," Robertson added. Robertson said he has had no flying experience except for one

COMMERCIAL FISHING IN TEXOMA CHARGED

AUSTIN — (AP) — Sportsmen are complaining of commercial fishing in Lake Texoma, the game commission's executive secretary said Friday. Reporting to the commission at its regular meeting, Howard Dodgen said it is hard to prove fish are being taken from the lake for sale but apparently it is happening. Dodgen said he has received reports of big loads of catfish being taken on trollines and hauled off by truck for commercial distribution over the state. He said heavy use is being made of trollines with hundreds of hooks and suggested that a limitation of one trolline per fisherman, 60 hooks to the trolline, might solve the problem. The commission said a hearing in the matter will be held soon. Commission Member Walter Lechner of Fort Worth, representing the North Texas area, was particularly concerned about the situation. A decision on what to do will be made at the commission's May 19 meeting in Pampa. A four-man delegation asked commission help in solving the gar problem in Caddo Lake in East Texas. Tommy Solomon, Jr., Paul Whaley and W. G. Summerlin, all of Marshall, and H. A. Ellis of Karnack, said they represented 2,000 members of the East Texas Wildlife Association. Solomon reported alligator gar

Annual Daylight Saving Time Confusion to Start April 30

NEW YORK — (AP) — Some 50,000,000 Americans will turn their timepieces ahead one hour April 30, ushering in another season of daylight saving time. But the advent of "fast time" will be ignored by some 90,000,000 other Americans, mostly in the rural regions of the South, Midwest and Far West. Clock-switching will be general in the heavily industrial areas of the East and in most of the nation's large cities. Detroit, however, will remain on standard time. Twenty-five of them. This afternoon the committee will meet to carry out its end of the bargain.

the exception of the night club area across the international bridge from Detroit, will observe daylight time. The night clubs will stay on standard to gain another hour of business under Canada's 2 a.m. curfew law. Big city workers as a rule like daylight time for it gives them an additional hour of sunlight after a day at the office or plant. In Nevada, gamblers vainly opposed its adoption on the ground that citizens would spend extra hours outdoors when they could be starting on night life rounds. Some confusion seems almost certain to arise out of railroad schedules. Most roads will cling to standard time but others will operate on the new time. Radio networks will use the same system adopted last year, switching their major shows in the East to daylight time. Network stations in the South and West will be permitted to rebroadcast them an hour later if they wish, so that listeners in the areas can hear them at the usual time. Those states using daylight time on a statewide basis or in some large cities are New York, Nevada, Delaware, Oregon, Illinois, Washington, California, Montana, New Hampshire, Maine, Missouri, Maryland, Indiana, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The Kentucky legislature recently authorized daylight time when approved by local city or county governments. The law

Italian Agency Says Reds Plan Europe Invasion

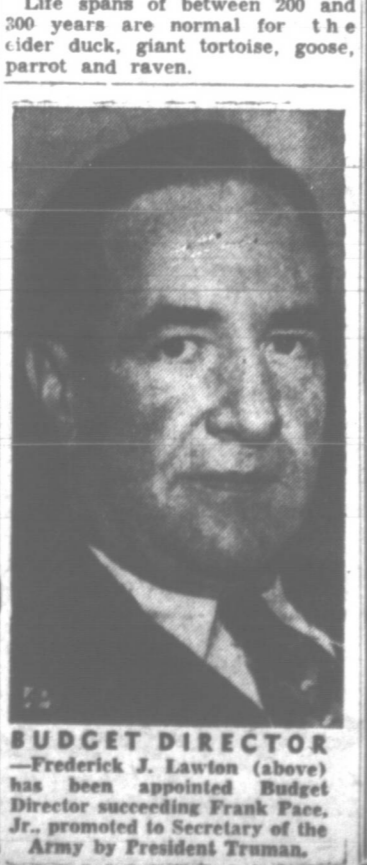

ROME — (AP) — The Italian news agency ARI, which specializes in Roman Catholic news, declares that Russia has mapped plans for invading Western Europe. A quote from "confidential" sources, the agency, quoting "confidential reports from clandestine resistance organizations in the U. S. S. R.," predicted that once the Soviet invasion was under way Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia would turn about and side with the Russians. Tito's Communist regime has been on the Moscow blacklist for nearly two years for demanding independence from Kremlin dictates.

Producer to Film Tiger Trainer Story

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The life story of tiger trainer Mabel Stark, who has survived many fearful clawings, the last only three months ago, is headed for the movies. Producer Boris Petroff said he has obtained screen rights to Miss Stark's autobiography, "Hold That Tiger." Miss Stark will play the feature role. Life spans of between 200 and 300 years are normal for the slider duck, giant tortoise, goose, parrot and raven.

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Extra seats were placed in the aisles to accommodate some 90 persons and after all the standing room was occupied, many persons were turned away.

The funds of the show will go toward another civic and community benefit. The profits from the show last year were used to build seating facilities in the wings of the community building.

Baby Rabbit Advice Asked

DETROIT — (AP) — How old and how big does a rabbit have to be before it stops being a baby?

"Only another rabbit would know," says Assistant City Council Arthur Barkey.

But he suggested that the humane society try to find out and pass the information along to the city council for purposes of clarifying Detroit's law against selling baby bunnies.

Barkey held that Glenn H. Moore was innocent of violating the law when he sold rabbits at Easter time. The humane society had brought charges against him.

If You've Earned It—Don't Hesitate!

There are countless people who have every right to be enjoying a Cadillac—but who, for one reason or another, are denying themselves the pleasure.

If this is happening to you—there must be a reason—and we think the following paragraphs may be of interest.

If you are hesitating to purchase a Cadillac because of cost—please remember that the lowest-priced Cadillac actually costs less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars!

If you are concerned about operating expense—remember that three 1950 Cadillacs recently averaged better than twenty-two miles to the gallon in an official-supervised economy test of 751 miles!

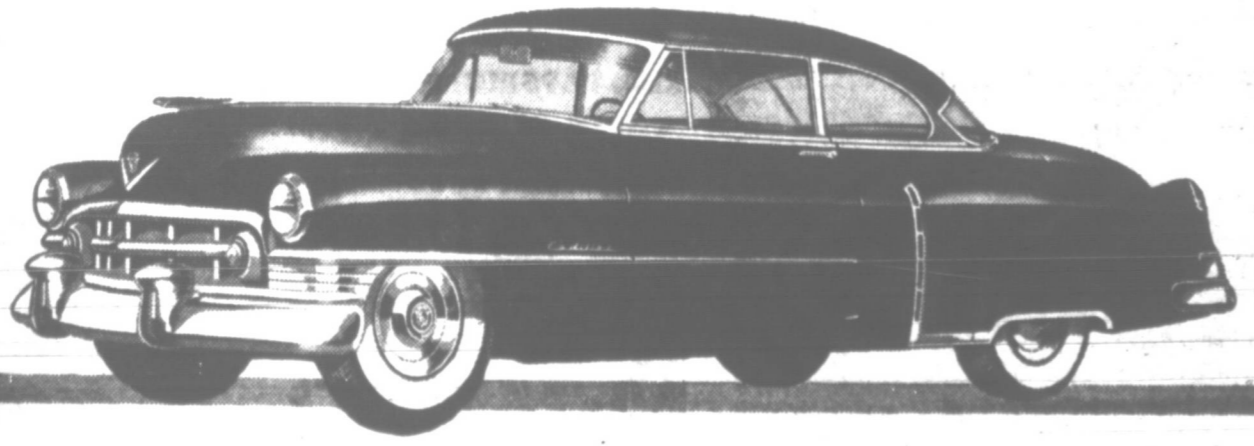

If you are wondering about the cost of upkeep—draw your own conclusions from the fact that the lifespan of a Cadillac has never been fully measured.

If you are afraid your friends might think you ostentatious—please be assured that our owners have not found this to be the case.

Yes, if you have earned it, there is every reason why you ought to be driving a Cadillac—every practical reason, as well as every personal one.

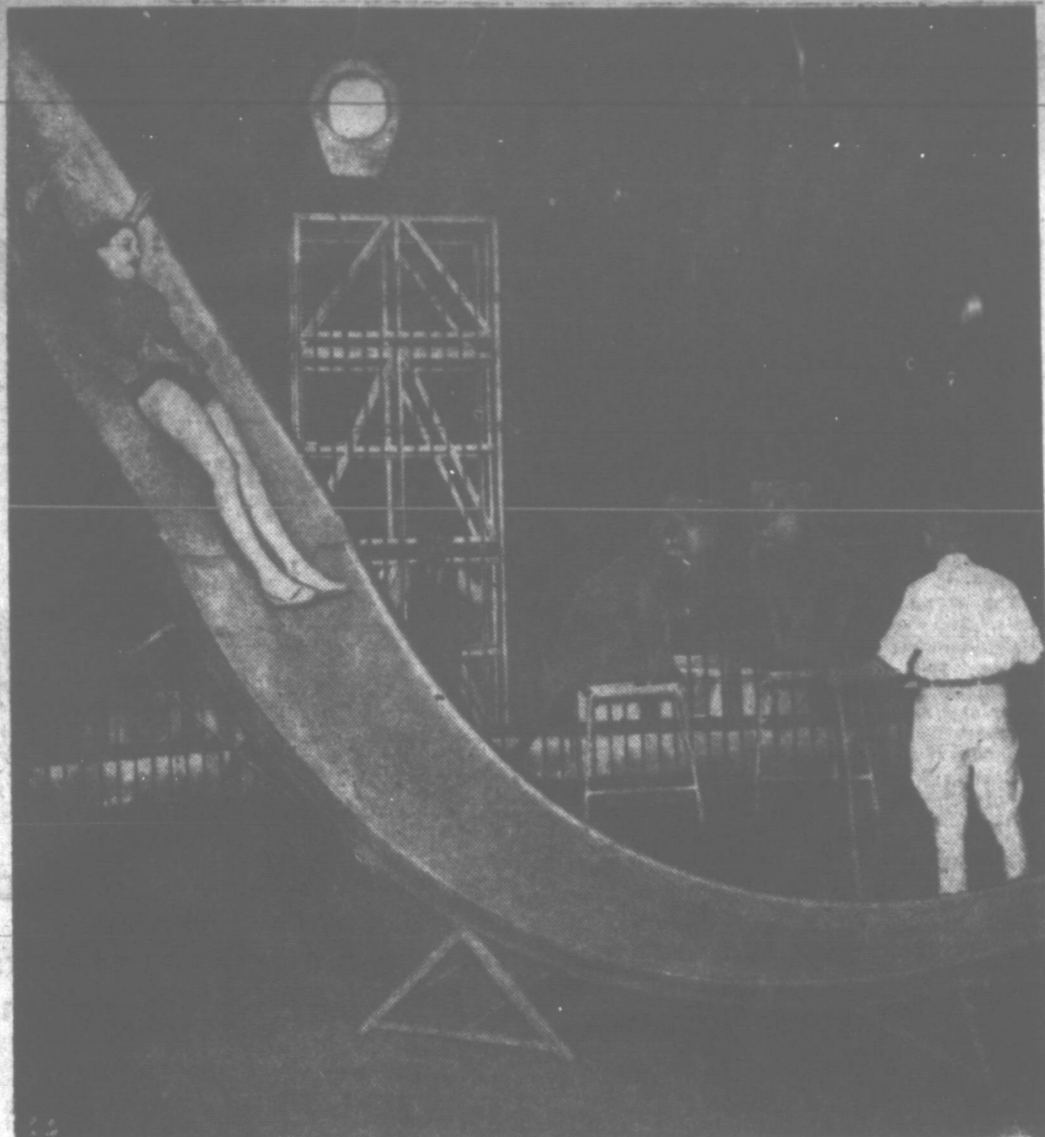

This would be a wonderful year to make the move—for never before was Cadillac so beautiful—so luxurious—so utterly thrilling to drive.

Better come in and see us. We think you'd be surprised at how easy it is to enjoy a Cadillac.

Chilean President to Visit Lubbock Friend This Month

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

The president of Chile is going to visit Lubbock this month because he knows a West Texas man who started from scratch and made a great fortune.

The Texan is George P. Livermore, a 260-pounder, six-foot-four inches tall. A serious friendly fellow of 48, he is an independent oil producer and a drilling contractor. He has already drilled 28 oil wells and 10 gas wells for Chile and more are coming in all the time.

On April 30 President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla of Chile will fly to Lubbock in President Truman's plane. He will visit the brand new 25 million-dollar plant at Leveland which will make gasoline out of natural gas. He also will inspect irrigation projects in the Lubbock area.

The Chilean president is interested because he may want to find uses for natural gas in his country some day and also because Chile has underground water supplies greatly similar to that in the High Plains of West Texas.

Livermore was born in Illinois, a town named Polo. He was reared in Oklahoma and started in the oil business 25 years ago as a roughneck and driller's helper.

"But I soon found I wanted to know more about oil," he told us. "So I went to the University of Oklahoma and got a degree in petroleum engineering."

"Were you pretty well fixed when you were graduated Mr. Livermore?"

"Oh sure. I was married and had a daughter and got a job at $105 a month as an oil field roustabout for the Texas Company near Breckenridge, Texas. That was in 1931."

By 1935, when he decided to go into business for himself, the Texas Company had made him a district superintendent in Crane

Texan Killed In Car Wreck

CLOVIS — (AP) — Clyde A. Montgomery, 35, Hereford, Texas, was killed Wednesday when an automobile left the road and overturned 6 miles north of Clovis.

A companion, Mrs. Alama Wallace of Hereford, suffered cuts, bruises and shock.

She was forced to wait nearly three hours on Highway 18 before another car arrived at the scene. Her condition was reported good at a Clovis hospital.

Corporation Irks Police

TOKYO — (AP) — "Robbers and Burglars Co., Ltd." has gone out of business.

Its president began as a junk dealer. But business was bad. So he organized the new company. He found plenty of clients who wanted a robbery or a burglary committed.

President Harumi Hirata assembled six employees, all skilled in robbing and burgling. The company collected a commission for its service. Business flourished. Hirata took to wearing a morning coat.

Police came and they weren't looking for dividends. Now if morning-coated Hirata and his staff want to declare dividends they'll have to do it from jail.

Union Sued By Members

HOUSTON — (AP) — Eighty six former Mathieson Chemical Corporation employees yesterday filed a $653,681 damage suit against their own union, the CIO International Oil Workers Union.

The suit alleges "mishandling" of a strike at the Mathieson plant last year.

The strike began August 2 and continued until mid-October.

The petition charges union officials suppressed an invitation by the plant management on August 6 for the employees to return to work.

Members of the union, it was charged, never heard of the offer.

The group is suing for loss of past and future wages resulting from the strike.

Tax Intake, Spending Fall Below Estimates

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Budget Bureau has informed Congress that tax revenues this fiscal year will drop $1,200,000,000 below President Truman's forecast three months ago.

But it also said government spending will fall below Mr. Truman's January estimate by an even greater amount — $1,300,000,000.

The net result is a cut in the estimated deficit from $5,500,000,000 to $5,400,000,000 for the year ending June 30.

Governor Designates Two Texas 'Weeks'

AUSTIN — (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday designated two special observances for Texas.

The week of April 24-30 was designated as American Camp Week. Parents were urged to consider seriously the benefits of camping for their children.

The governor also urged that May 1-6 be observed as National Cotton Week in recognition of "the importance of this textile in our daily lives."

Entry of Orientals Is Asked in Measure

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Japanese, Chinese and others now barred from this country would be allowed to come here and become citizens under a proposal of Senator McCarran (D-Nev.). He asked that regular immigration quotas be established for persons "from Asiatic-Pacific countries previously excluded because of race." He has long alternated between musicals and dramas, good guys and criminals. I asked which he preferred. "It's just a job to me," he answered. "The main thing I want is variety."

California Gulf Boasts Rare Fish

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The Gulf of California may some day be a great commercial fishing area, says Dr. Boyd Walker of the University of California at Los Angeles. Little is known about the fish in the Gulf, he says. On a recent trip he brought back a large catch. Among those first examined he found 38 species and said 11 had never before been identified. Both the known and unknown species might well become important food sources in the future, he says.

State Park Systems Expanding Rapidly

CHICAGO — (AP) — State Park systems are growing. The Council of State Governments reports there are now 1,650 state-owned parks and similar recreational areas, totaling more than 4,700,000 acres. Nearly all states plan to acquire more land for new or larger parks. The reason: Increases in leisure time of Americans.

In 1947 Americans ate an average of 79.9 pounds of beef and 70 pounds of pork, the first time in 25 years beef exceeded pork.

Indian Rights Being Sought By Thousands

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Tens of thousands of persons in states along the Atlantic seaboard are trying to get the federal government to recognize them as Indians. This is the estimate of W. H. Gilbert of the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, who has made a study of the subject.

The current census, he says, probably will produce the names of many tribes seldom heard of before. One new question to be asked in communities where there is mixed blood concerns what Indian tribe, if any, a person belongs to.

The Western Indian tribes are well known. Nearly all of them were investigated and cataloged many years ago when the government enlisted the Indian population. All Indians so enrolled, and their descendants, have been entitled to various forms of federal assistance — education, medical care, farm guidance and so forth. That's what the Eastern Indians now would like to get.

They have been largely ignored up to now because they had never had any formal dealings with the federal government. Most of the Western Indians gained certain rights through treaties. But the Eastern redmen had dealt with the colonial governments, and their status had been pretty well settled by the time the federal government was established.

One little lost tribe is soon to have its day in Congress. Companion bills have been introduced by Rep. Poulson (R-Calif.) and Rep. Bosone (D-Utah) to grant recognition, in effect, to the Waccamaw Indians of North Carolina. They have introduced their bills at the request of James Evan Alexander, a Los Angeles banker and scholar who has made a study of the tribe. The move is sponsored also by the Association on American Indian Affairs.

The Waccamaws comprise 70 families who have remained pretty well hidden throughout American history in the Green Swamp. This is a practically impenetrable wilderness about 37 miles from Wilmington, N. C. It is subtropical, filled with black bear, deer, alligators, rattlesnakes and water moccasins. Alexander says it's the only area in North America where you find a flesh-eating plant. This is the Venus-fly-trap, which is insectivorous.

The Waccamaws for decades have been stoically resisting the efforts of surrounding citizens to classify them as Negro. The fight has centered mainly on the question of school facilities. County officials have been trying to force them to accept Negro teachers and a Negro designation. At present, however, they do have a four-room school, giving instruction through the eighth grade, which is classified as Indian.

One scrap occurred during the war, when a Selective Service Board tried to induct six Waccamaw youths under the classification of Negroes. They refused to be inducted as anything but

Motorists in Britain Use Double-Talk

NEW YORK — (AP) — Got a cubby locker in your drophead? That's not double-talk. It's the King's English — automotive variety — and to an Englishman it would mean have you a glove compartment in your convertible. A Ford Motor Company representative at its exhibit of British-built Ford products in the British Automobile and Motor Cycle Show here came up with a glossary translating English automobile terms into their American counterparts. For example, when an Englishman talks about his car's mascot he's simply referring to his radiator ornament. A wing is fender, and a boot is a trunk. Don't think a tipper is a butter and egg man in nightclub mood; it's what an Englishman calls a dump truck. An over-rider is a bumper guard, and a damper is a shock absorber. An Englishman has the service station decode his car, but an American has the carbon removed. The Britisher's caravan is the American's trailer. And the Englishman with a strangler in his saloon isn't in danger of violent death. He really means there's a choke in his sedan.

Fran (Stub) Miller, captain of Syracuse's basketball team, also is a shortstop on the Orange nine.

Donovan Calls For Retaliation

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The United States should seize and hold 10 Russian soldiers and sailors now in this country as "hostages" for the 10 Americans in a Navy plane shot down by the Soviets in the Baltic Sea, says Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan.

Donovan, wartime head of the Office of Strategic Service (OSS), said the Americans may be alive and prisoners of the Russians. "The 10 Russians should be held until indemnity which the United States has asked is paid," Donovan said, "or until the Americans are returned safe and sound—and the possibility that they are prisoners of the Russians should not be excluded." Donovan made his remarks at a press conference preceding a cancer crusade luncheon. He is national chairman of the campaign.

Israel's Army Warns Of Concealed Mines

TEL AVIV, Israel — (AP) — The Israeli army is pushing a drive to make the people of Israel "mine conscious." Multi-colored posters are being affixed to public buildings throughout the country. More than 100,000 leaflets in a dozen languages are being distributed to school children. All warn that there are still thousands of unexploded mines, rounds of ammunition and hand grenades strewn about the Israeli countryside — left over from the days of the Arab-Jewish war. The death rate has run high at times, so the army is out to try to stop it.

Judge Passes Sentence in Slaying Case

Harold Ray Norton, convicted Wednesday morning of a murder without malice, was officially sentenced at 3:31 p.m. Friday to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court here.

The 28-year-old slayer of James Woodward stood quietly before the judge and, in a soft voice, answered, "No, sir" when asked by Goodrich if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him.

The court room was bare of spectators with only Judge Goodrich, District Atty. Tom Braly, Deputy Sheriff Louis Holmes, Court Reporter Dee Dodson and a newsman present besides the prisoner.

Dressed in an ordinary pair of blue pants and a loose-fitting shirt, Norton slouched back to the elevator and was taken upstairs to his County Jail cell where he'll stay until transferred to Huntsville Penitentiary.

Two divorces were granted during the week by Judge Goodrich.

Decrees were awarded to Mary Edna Sharp Marlin from Iva N. Spencer Marlin, Jr. on charges of cruelty. They were married on Nov. 6, 1949, and separated five days later.

Distant Star

BY HERMINA BLACK

FIRE STORM. Clemency Norton is curiously conversant to Baba, daughter of Syria, the one Amberley who lives with Jon's brother. She is a slender, white-skinned, the luxuriant garden. Clemency meets Piers and is seen with him by Syria, who shows obvious displeasure and tells Clemency to go to her quarters. Later Syria tells Clemency that Piers is a common thief and a scoundrel, and Clemency realizes she is being told to keep away from the master of the house.

IX

AS the door shut behind her employer, Clemency drew a deep breath. Well! So the sting was in the tail! She did not know whether to laugh or to frown.

Surely Mrs. Jon Amberley could not be under the impression that the new curatory governess was trying to attract the owner of Red Aloes. The idea brought a swift, a grey color into Clemency's cheeks. The memory of that conversation remained with her for the rest of the day, and she took good care to keep Baba to that side of the house—not even venturing beyond the courtyard, though she was dying to explore the oasis outside.

When she had put Baba to bed, she went back into the day nursery where the table was already laid for her dinner. She did not in the least mind the idea of that solitary meal.

But when, her dinner over, and cleared away, she sat finishing a vest which she was knitting for Baba, it was not Jon but his brother who occupied her thoughts. Of one thing Clemency was quite determined, come what might: no one at Red Aloes should have the chance of thinking that she was one of those young women who so unfortunately did not return Piers Amberley's antipathy.

Finding that she had run short of wool, she rose and went into the other room in search of some. She had put it into one of the dressing-table drawers, and as she pulled the drawer out she saw re-lected in the mirror a small, faded sprig of orange blossom—the one Piers had given her that morning.

With an abrupt little gesture she picked it up. The faint scent was wafted up to her. To have thrown those faded flowers away she would have had to carry them back into the nursery. Perhaps she meant to do that; but instead she opened a book of poems which was on the dressing table, and shut the flowers inside it.

CLEMENCY had been so sure about what she would do her days in her new job and if she were bored she could always turn to soiree with the books she had brought along with her. But those first weeks were not easy.

Then, at the end of her second week, in the way of the Algerian climate, the weather broke—gray skies took the place of blue, and the rain came down in a steady deluge.

Cooled up in the nursery wing, Baba soon became bored, and bored children are apt to be naughty ones.

There was something of her mother's selfishness in Baba, allied to a streak of the rather mulish obstinacy which Clemency had already discovered in Jon Amberley—one could not blame this child of discord for the doubtful birth-gifts her parents had bestowed on her.

Today Baba had made up her mind that no persuasion would induce her to like any food that was put in front of her. Since it was plain this was sheer cussedness and not impending illness, Clemency insisted that she should at least eat some custard pudding, which she knew the child adored.

Baba was glowering at the table when her father came in.

"The trouble is," explained Clemency in a low voice, "that we won't eat, and we must finish our pudding."

"Oh, perhaps we don't feel like it," said Jon easily. "She's not going to be ill, is she, Miss Norton?"

"Feel sick!" announced Baba. "Poor Baba," sympathized Jon. "Come and sit on Daddy's knee, and we'll read to you."

Which very successfully "did it." If she felt sick suggested Clemency quietly, bed was the best place.

A howl Baba, scrambling down, ran to her father. Clemency could have asserted her authority but she thought there was a time and place for everything. The reading did not last many minutes, soon she was romping madly with her father. But at this point Clemency felt that a re-imposing of discipline was really necessary, and announced:

"Time for your afternoon rest now, darling."

"No!" said Baba.

"Yes, it's really bad for her to get so excited after lunch, Mr. Amberley."

"No," reiterated Baba with Molotovian determination.

CLEMENCY's patience was at an end, and picking up her charge she was carrying her, screaming and kicking, into the night nursery, when the door behind her opened, and turning her head she saw that Syria had entered.

Baba, whose mouth was open to emit another ear-piercing howl, broke off on the first note, and burying her face against Clemency, burst into very real tears of frightened surprise.

"Put her to bed at once," ordered Syria.

"Want to go to bed," wailed Baba, for whom the situation had drastically changed.

Coming back a few minutes later she was aware of raised voices, and in time to hear Jon say:

"Naturally you would agree with someone who makes the kid miserable—"

He broke off, fuming as his eyes met the cold surprise of Clemency's.

Syria's brittle laugh broke the silence. "Are you ill-treating our daughter at my instigation, Miss Norton?"

"Hang on!" exclaimed Baba. "I didn't mean—"

Grauman Prints May Be Used In Estate Fight

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Ed Grauman's lettering in the famed forecourt of his Chinese theater may be used to cement claims of the many litigants seeking a share of the late showman's $750,000 estate. It may be necessary to bring into court some of the cement blocks bearing Grauman's printing for comparison with lettering on a will purported to have been made out by the Hollywood celebrity. Handwriting expert Clark Sellers was instructed by Superior Court to determine the validity of the document. The will, dated Oct. 4, 1949, was mailed to the court after Grauman died March 5. Mrs. Carrie J. Adair, 48, who claims the entire estate as his common-law wife, says the document left her only $22,000. No other will has been found and 30 first cousins are claiming the estate as next of kin.

'Art Appreciation' Is Discussed for White Deer Club

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Miss Virginia Alexander presented a discussion of "Appreciation of Art" at a meeting of the Venado Blanco Club Tuesday evening in the Skellytown teacage.

Miss Alexander commented on the principles of design, and said that art must change to keep alive. Art serves different purposes in different eras, she said. For example, it is no longer necessary to represent a thing exactly; photography has taken over that function, and art may now stress emotion or mood rather than fact.

Miss Alexander, Miss Elouise group some of her own pictures and some painted by friends whom she met while a student at Colorado Springs. They included such well-known artists as Arnold Branch, Doris Lee, and Boardman Robinson.

Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Alexander, Miss Elouise Knox, Miss Ruby Lee Hill, and Miss Doris Smalley.

Others present were Misses Fred Mullings, Hope Rusk, Ray Vineyard, Edward Frik, Leslie Talbert, B. J. Thompson, Bob Farley, D. V. Biggers, Alvin Smith, George Watson, and Kenneth Gibson; and Misses Mildred Cole, Mary Green, Helen Walker, and Gertrude Golladay.

The club's final meeting of the season will be in the form of a breakfast at the Schneider Hotel in Pampa on April 29. Miss Cole is in charge of arrangements.

Robertson-Turnbo Vows Exchanged in Tioga Church

LEFORS — (Special) — Miss Fae Robertson, daughter of Mrs. Verba Robertson of Tioga, and Harold Turnbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. Turnbo of Lefors, were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Tioga, at 7:30 p.m. on April 8. The Rev. A. W. Robertson, brother of the bride, from Gilmer, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore an ivory slipper satin gown with a net yoke, long pointed sleeves, and a sweeping train. Her veil was fingertip with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a small white Bible with a white bouquet attached.

The matrons of honor, Mrs. Delbert Patterson of Pampa, and Mrs. J. B. Branham of Sherman, were attired in floor-length, blue and yellow marquisette dresses. Flower girls, LaDonna Branham and Jane Robertson, were dressed in blue and yellow taffeta.

The ring-bearer was William Paul Pierce of Sherman. Nathan Turnbo, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

The bride was given away by her brother, J. M. Robertson. The groomsmen were Glen Turnbo and J. B. Branham.

Mrs. A. W. Robertson was the pianist. Miss Mary Beth Hammond of Lefors sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg, and "The Lord's Prayer," Miss Jackie Parks of Tioga sang "I Love You Truly." Both were accompanied by Mrs. Robertson.

The altar was banked with lilacs and palms. The candles on either side of the altar were lighted by the groomsmen. The aisle was centered with a white runner.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. Verba Robertson. Mrs. J. M. Robertson presided at the bride's table, which was covered with a handpainted, linen cloth. Punch, served from a crystal bowl, cake, minis, and puts provided refreshments for the guests. Mrs. J. B. Branham presided at the bride's book.

Palaver de Pampa

THAT NATIONAL PASTIME is back! Heard there was a good crowd at the Oiler game last night, but I've been even more interested in those side street and vacant lot baseball games. They always seem to result in torn jeans ripped while stealing third. Now I think baseball is a wholesome sport, and I don't mind patching jeans, but I've still been trying to convince youngsters that stealing bases is wrong. They certainly didn't learn "to steal at home!"

GRASS ALWAYS LOOKS GREENER in somebody else's yard. There are two "homesteads" up on Duncan that must have matched notes on grass-growing. Saw Guy Farrington watering his lawn and H. E. Carlson is spending his time mowing this way, too. Isn't that Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Webb's yard all plowed up? Thought I saw them on the porch viewing the result.

NOBODY WAS MORE SURPRISED than I when Mrs. "John" High's name appeared in Palaver last week. Mrs. Clifton High was on the tip of my pen, but John High was on my mind. John is the High's son and I never think of them without thinking of John. He's a popular high schooler (won the VFW essay contest this year, too) and I'm sure the Highs had more than a chuckle over this error. Wasn't it the eminent Ethel Barrymore who said, "You grow up the day you have your first real laugh at yourself"? Well, I'm full grown now.

"SWING YOUR PARTNER" echoed up and down Cuyler last night when all the local square dancers got together for the citywide jamboree. Spectators and dancers alike enjoyed the evening. The thing I've noticed about square dancing is that young and old are taking up the fad. Anybody have any idea who's the oldest and youngest married couple square dancing here?

BEFORE I KNEW IT I got mixed up in a caravan of cars the other morning and I half expected to see someone up ahead of me with "Just Married" tacked on the back of his automobile, but it turned out to be some McLean-ites over here boosting their rodeo this weekend. Later, I saw June Drive bull past with her horse in tow. Wonder why Pampa didn't send Mrs. Bob Anders or Mrs. Gene Cooper to the rodeo, or maybe they did and I just haven't heard.

A CATCH! I've found the most darlin' new handbag. Saw it in the store room the other day amid all the fishing tackle and rods and reels. I think my husband bought it last week and had its destiny planned, but honestly, a fishing creek makes the roughest purse — so nice for summer cottages, I also found the cutest little plastic box with divided sections (one half is like an egg carton). It was full of horrid looking little fly things so I took those out and piled them in a paper sack, and as for the box, I'm using it for pickles. Boiled eggs just fit in those other sections. Nice for picnics this summer — if friend husband doesn't get fishing fever.

THIS SOUNDS FISHY, too, but everybody's making such big catches out at Lake McClellan. And Possum Kingdom is drawing Pampa fishermen. H. J. Pickett was down there recently.

FANORAMICALLY: The Shriners did themselves proud at their Wednesday night entertainment... dinner and then dancing... Saw Tom Kitchens' new Buick for the first time... very nice... Hear Mrs. J. B. Austin is pondering over color schemes... Don and Sylvia Conley have carpenters busy adding onto their home... Saw Mrs. James Enloe looking very smart in a white top coat... Wonder if her husband has finished school in Oklahoma... maybe they were just here visiting their parents... Mrs. Lillian Jordan is worthy of her most recent honor... she's the new Council of Clubs prey... The A. Neels are always real friendly... genuinely so... The A. C. Horrigans are right busy... still getting their new home in order... That's the Ray Evans' home that has a pretty new paint job, isn't it?... aren't they vacationing?... Not long ago I saw Mrs. Jack Stroup here... don't think they live here anymore so she must have been visiting her parents... Mrs. B. S. Thomas... Mrs. Stroup... she was when she was a West Texas State beauty queen... Looked like Mrs. Mabelle Braly I espied with a friend Friday noon... headed for luncheon, no doubt... Speaking of Bralys... Clifford and his wife have one of the most charming homes... I especially like the draperies... they are just "right" for that type house... I'll believe summer is really here when I learn that the M. K. Browns are back from their winter home in San Antonio... Shouldn't be too long now until they return... Mrs. C. M. Carlock is a thoughtful person... bet she's a wonderful neighbor... and I sometimes wonder how Mrs. Lee Harrah lives up to all the nice things people say about her... wish I knew her better... Most of the men around town are busy organizing softball leagues... between golf and softball, we will be left withed woods most of the summer, I bet.

SOMETIMES I GET all in a huff, trying to think up a rhyme. Most times it's pretty corny stut, and it's no different this time. This may, may, or may not be in town, he's so busy helping Pampa grow. Lately, he's been on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, and probably has to take a rest at 10, two and four!

IT'S ALWAYS SEEMED to me that you could judge a personality by the colors used in decorating. Friendly Mrs. Bob Vail uses warm, inviting colors—mainly red. Her drapes are very dramatic and she has a quaint little book case for treasures. I like that room.

DID YOU NOTICE the carnival in town? Wasn't too large, but cotton candy, bright lights and pipe organ music always draw a crowd. We took turns holding the kids on the merry-go-round—and down, round, and round—then had to look a foot long hot dog in the face.

THE C. P. FURSEYS have moved into their new home (the "built-ins" are wonderful). They have been remembering the good old days in the Texas Panhandle when lots of folks, Furseys included, lived in "dog-outs." If living in a dog-out is a prerequisite to a brick home like theirs — well! I'm moving into our storm cellar in hope that eventually I'll wind up in a dream home! Anyhow—Move over all you spiders in the cellar. You gotta make room for FEG O' PAMPA.

June Wedding Plans Told for Miss Jackie Gross, D. R. McMinn

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Jackie Gross was made at a tea in the home of Mrs. Vester D. Well, 432 Hughes. Miss Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gross of McLean, and Donald Ray McMinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McMinn, will be married in the First Baptist Church sometime in June.

Hostesses were Mrs. Dowell and Mrs. Gross, the honoree's mother. Miss Bernalou McMinn registered the guests.

Punch, cake, nuts and minis were served from the long table, laid with hand crocheted lace. The centerpiece was a large pink basket filled with roses and lily of the valley, and flanked by blue tapers. Small baskets of nuts finished the center decoration. Napkins also carried out the color plan.

The cake squares were centered with small pink and blue candle holders holding small scrolls tied with pink and blue ribbons. When unrolled the scrolls bore the message "Don and Jackie, soon." Plate favors were small hand crocheted cups and saucers in white, pink and blue, holding small cups of minis.

The dining room was decorated with baskets of pink roses and other flowers, and pink and blue candle holders.

The honoree was presented with a silver bon bon dish by Mrs. Dowell.

Guests registering were Misses L. B. Studenaker, J. B. Caldwell, Albert Taylor, C. E. McMinn, George Fagleman, Jimmie Davis, Clyde Hallaway, Lavoy Stewart,

U.N. SECRETARY GENERAL PONDERES INTERVIEW WITH MARSHAL STALIN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Secretary General Trygve Lie of the United Nations is considering the idea of visiting Marshal Stalin in Moscow in an effort to resume normal relations with the now hamstrung peace organization.

This is a part of the Secretary General's save-the-U.N. campaign, and so may be viewed in a different light than previous proposals for peace-appeals to Moscow. Most of the former suggestions involved officials of various western governments, and immediately evoked cries of "appeasement."

However, Mr. Trygve Lie is in a unique position. As secretary general of the U. N. he is a servant of all nations. He is in effect a "citizen of the world" whose job is to act as moderator in the effort of welding all countries together.

If the secretary general does carry his plea to Moscow, it will tend to put the Soviet Union on a spot where it may have to declare itself either for or against peace. Previous approaches by western statesmen have failed because of the very fact that they were western statesmen and therefore could be viewed by the Kremlin as having axes to grind.

The secretary general is sailing for Europe next Saturday on what will be the most important mission he has undertaken since he became head of the U. N. four years ago. He expects to confer with British Secretary of State Bevin in London and with French Foreign Minister Schuman in Paris, and then may head for Moscow.

There have of course been innumerable issues over which Russia and the western powers have clashed in the U. N. One of the hottest revolves about the continued membership of Nationalist China. The Soviet representatives and their satellites have been demanding that the Nationalists be thrown out and that the Chinese Communist government be given the membership in view of its military victory over the Nationalists.

The fight has got so bitter that Russia now is boycotting 20 U. N. organizations. Lie himself has been campaigning for the seating of the Chinese Communists, contending that this is the "common sense" as well as the legalistic approach.

In this connection it's interesting to note that Republican Adviser John Foster Dulles also maintains in a new book that the Red Chinese government should be admitted to the U. N. if the regime "in fact proves its ability to govern China without serious domestic resistance." However, Dulles doesn't think the Reds can demonstrate this ability to rule China.

One would think that the neutral head of the peace organization would be able to win Moscow over if anyone could. So if the secretary general makes his trip to Moscow, his progress will be watched with intense interest the world over. But perhaps we shouldn't be heavily optimistic over the outcome.

Excited Canine Gums Up Works

MONTECITO, Calif. — (AP) — Excited by the prospect of getting out of the car, her dog jumped into the front seat with Mrs. Hazel West as she turned in to park. The beast tangled with her feet, causing her to: 1. Miss the brake pedal with her foot. 2. Carom off a nearby vehicle. 3. Smash into the door of a liquor store. Store employees were penned in until a tow car arrived.

Dialect Use Helps Flight Of Chinese

HONG KONG — (AP) — Clever use of China's varying dialects accomplished the escape from Red Shanghai of a Eurasian oil company worker.

He took a train south. At Changsha the Communists detained him and asked questions in Mandarin Chinese. "I replied in Cantonese," said the fugitive. "The Communist official couldn't understand it but did not want to admit it, so he let me get back on the train."

In Canton, he was questioned in Cantonese. "I replied in Mandarin. Guards wouldn't admit they couldn't understand me, so they let me get a train to the Hong Kong border."

At the border, a British policeman demanded his entry permit. "I answered in English that my father was English and my mother was Chinese, and he could shoot me if he wanted to, but I was not going back to China. He let me in."

Publication Has 50th Anniversary

NEW YORK — (AP) — One story tells you how a volcano is born. Another tells of the life and times of the African black rhinoceros. You go on a journey down a swift, wild river in New Guinea with Papuan natives, or watch Eskimos build their sleds. You get acquainted with New Zealand's strange flightless Kiwi bird, or puzzle whether there may be some form of life on the moon.

That's only a light sampling of the range of contents in a non-profit educational magazine, Natural History, now marking its 50th year. Published by the American Museum of Natural History, it now is approaching the 45,000 mark in circulation. It goes to readers in all 18 states and 43 foreign countries. In Abyssinia, Emperor Haile Selassie becomes impatient if the mails delivering his copy are slow.

Veterans Plan To Form Classes In Darrouzett

DARROUZETT — (Special) — Veterans of this area are planning to organize a distributive education class which will offer a course of 72 weeks in general bookkeeping. Any veteran who has educational time remaining is eligible for this school. If his income is too great, he can still be enrolled, but will receive no subsistence payments. This business course will be well worth the time and effort of any veteran who is engaged in any type of business, says Leon Tabor, coordinator of Lipscomb County Vocational activities. Tabor revealed that he has already received approval of his educational facilities, has secured a teacher, and is waiting for a sufficient number of veteran enrollees before beginning the class. Warren Kerns of Booker has made application for the position. The Lipscomb County Vocational School, organized Feb. 1, has a total enrollment of 22 veterans.

'Three-Leaf Clover' Surgery Is Performed on Blue Baby

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, BOSTON — (AP) — A new blue baby operation, which might be called three-leaf clover surgery, has been reported to the American College of Physicians.

The operation is an improvement over the original blue baby surgery of Dr. Alfred Blalock, Johns Hopkins. The new operation was invented by Dr. Blalock and Dr. Russell Brock, London, England. One of Dr. Blalock's colleagues, Dr. H. William Scott, Baltimore, reported it.

The blue baby's color is due to the failure of the right side of the heart to pump blood into the lungs.

The failure is for one of two reasons. Either the funnel at the top of the heart, through which the blood passes on its way to the lungs, is too narrow, or the valve at the top of the funnel does not work properly.

The first operation gets around the trouble by making a detour for the blood to pass around both the funnel and the valve. It is not a cure. Occasionally the bypass fails to grow as fast as the rest of a baby's heart.

The new operation is used when the valve is at fault. This valve is shaped like a three-leaf clover. It lies flat on top of the funnel. The leaves lift as blood passes upward through them. But they won't bend downward, and no blood can leak back into the heart below.

The trouble comes when the three leaves' edges grow together. The new operation uses a knife to cut the leaves apart. Usually two cuts are enough.

This is done by pushing a sharp, pencil-shaped probe into the heart. The probe has a sheathed knife in its end. The knife makes the separations in the clover leaf.

Studies are now under way to find means of enlarging the heart funnel when it is too narrow. If that succeeds it may be possible to make perfectly good hearts for blue babies.

Pie Supper Set Saturday By Bell Club

Congressional candidates will have an opportunity to speak at the Bell Home Demonstration Club pie supper, which will be open to the public at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Bell School. Free coffee will be served by the club members. Bell School is four and one-half miles south of Kingsmill.

Clarence Williams, sheriff of Panhandle, has been asked to be auctioneer.

The supper, given every other year by the club, is to raise funds for the operation of the club. Mrs. Ernest McKnight and Mrs. Lloyd Collis will serve as hostesses.

Women attending have been asked to bring a pie, while members of the club will donate two. Mrs. Lloyd Collis is invitation committee chairman and Mrs. David Collis heads the supplies committee.

Judge Is Sympathetic After Record Played

LEICESTER, England — (AP) — Judge Geoffrey Wrangham spent five minutes in county court listening to a phonograph record of barking dogs.

William Henry Dockerty said the dogs were kept by his neighbor, Harry Summers, and their noise harmed the health of himself and his wife. The judge ordered Summers to pay $25 damages and court costs.

HOUSE OF FINE DIAMONDS — WATCHES AND SILVERWARE

Worries Over Imports Rise In America

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — (AP) — Europeans are out to take a larger slice of the American market. Encouraged by Washington as much for political as for trade reasons, they are offering dresels and watches, autos and shoes, and a host of other products.
Some Americans who see their home markets invaded by Europeans — and by the Japanese — are protesting. They admit the need to keep Europe prosperous, but are not sure that Europe should be kept from competing against labor rates are nervous. At the House Foreign Affairs Committee hearing on whether the United States should ratify the Havana charter for an international trade organization, a Texas congressman asks if it would mean more petroleum imports, affecting jobs in Texas. A Connecticut congressman charges that Czechoslovakian "slave labor is putting Danbury and Norwalk hatters out of work." Here is the manufacturer's side of the story, in textiles, china-ware, apparel and a flock of sundries.
Some of the loudest cries of pain come from wool, cotton and silk industrialists. Tariffs on textiles, on the average, have been lowered 25 percent in the last 10 years. Under the reciprocal trade agreements act they could be reduced another 25 percent. Textile imports hit $86.5 million in February, a gain of $10 million over January and $20 million over February, 1949.
The cards are stacked against Julius G. Forstmann, president of Forstmann Woolen Co., and attempted by communism, says "No amount of management ingenuity can compete against labor rates in England which are one-third ours in Italy about one-fifth, and in Japan about one-twentieth." Deniers say that Japan sells

Presidential Plan to Reduce Denham's Powers Hits Snag

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman's Plan No. 12 is running into rough weather.
This is one of 21 plans Mr. Truman sent to Congress several weeks ago for reorganizing parts of the government.
No. 12 would wipe out the powers of Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board and give them to the board.
Denham and the four-man board haven't been getting along well. That's putting it gently.
Under the Taft-Hartley Act, if a union or employer wants to complain the other is unfair, Denham is the man to go to.
Under the powers given him by T-H Denham alone decides whether to listen to the complainant or throw it out.
If he decided to throw it out, the board can't do anything. If he thinks it's all right, he proposes materials exhibited in the travel and sport show at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit.

did Senator Taft, Ohio Republican and one of the authors of T-H. He's leading the fight against Plan No. 12.
But, just as strongly, the chairman of the board, Paul Herzog, was all for the plan.
He said the present divided responsibility has caused friction within the NLRB and confusion among management and labor.
(Taft said transferring Denham's powers to the board would make Herzog the "most powerful labor czar" in America.)
Labor unions also backed the plan, accusing Denham of being unfair to labor. This was a pretty kettle of fish or something.
Now the plan will become effective on May 24 unless a constitutional majority of the House or Senate — just one branch is enough — vote against it.
Ordinarily, a vote in House or Senate on any bill is by a simple majority of those present at voting time.
But a constitutional majority is something else in either House. For instance, a constitutional majority of the 96 senators would be 49.
So a constitutional majority — for or against anything — is always harder to get than a simple majority.
The Senate Expenditures Committee took Plan No. 12 under its full senate for action, it was advisory.

Yet, the full Senate pretty often follows the views of its committees.
So sensitive are radio beacons to external conditions that no vegetation is permitted to grow within 100 feet of the towers.

Bride Loser, Suit Charges
LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The honeymoon lasted two days. Then the bride lost her husband on a technical knockout.
Mrs. Gladys Price, 38, filed suit for separate maintenance, asserting that two days after their marriage, Charles Price, 43, walked out of a restaurant with "an old girl friend," leaving her flat on the floor.
Mrs. Price named Miss Marguerite Carey as co-respondent and said it was Miss Carey's fists that knocked her down.
Two days later Price phoned, said Miss Carey had dosed him with sleeping pills, slugged him and ordered him not to see his wife. Mrs. Price's complaint said. He is still missing, he added.

Burns Prove Fatal To Texas Woman, 33
SAN ANGELO — (AP) — A 33-year-old Menard, Texas, farm woman died in a hospital here yesterday of burns suffered in a truck fire 22 miles south of San Angelo Tuesday.
The woman, Mrs. A. C. Crisp, her husband, and a 17-month-old daughter, Glenda Beth, were burned when the truck, loaded with wool, ignited from defective wiring.
The husband and daughter are in fair condition in a hospital here. A son, 10, was not injured.

Heart Disease Cure Progress Reported
NEW YORK — (AP) — Sumner T. Pike, acting head of the Atomic Energy Commission, says atom research may have uncovered a promising treatment for advanced heart disease.
He told a meeting of life insurance underwriters that dietary research plus radio-active tracer studies of the blood supplied background for the new treatment.
He gave no details but said, "they have, in the last two months, been able to take some boys that were pretty far along the way and completely remove the symptoms."

Move in Making to Prohibit Federal Government From Undersea Drilling

Amendment to Appropriations Bill Would Limit Exploration

By TEK EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — A move is in the making in the House to block any possible effort by the federal government to drill and operate its own oil and gas wells on the continental shelf.

The matter was discussed informally among several congressmen after the House Judiciary Committee's action Thursday in approving a bill to give the states clear title to the so-called tidelands. The committee vote was 16 to 10.

The measure would give the states title to off-shore lands for three miles except in the case of Texas where the ownership would extend out 10 1-2 miles of 268,165,000 and a July 2, 1949, total of 274,313,000.

Gasoline is the only exception to the downward trend in refinery stocks as reported by API. A few weeks ago soaring gasoline storage caused some alarm within the industry but this has been minimized in recent weeks by indication of improved market demand.

Gasoline stocks fell last week to 135,458,000 barrels, compared to 125,922,000 a year ago.

API recently reported gasoline demand in 29 states in February ran 7.5 percent above the same month last year.

A Texas oil company official last week said statistics on January and February indicate the year may be 10 percent above state's gasoline consumption this 1949.

The Bureau of Mines said last week imports of foreign crude into the United States in February were 7 percent below both the previous month and February of last year.

Independent oilmen have placed most of the blame of the early 1949 slump in demand for domestic petroleum on mounting imports.

Last week they received a bit of support from another industry. The Chicago Journal of Commerce reported heavy oil imports are making their effects felt in the anthracite coal markets as well as to the bituminous coal industry.

The publication said the Pennsylvania Anthracite Committee last week ordered a fourth cutback in five weeks on the weekly quota for hard coal mines.

because of conditions under which that state entered the union.

It further provides that the states should get 27 1-2 percent of all revenues from mineral leases or production from this state limit to the edge of the continental shelf.

The continental shelf extends 80 to 120 miles in the Gulf of Mexico, where oil deposits are known to exist.

The bill provides procedure under which the general government would offer 5-year leases on submerged lands on the continental shelf beyond the state limits. The leases would be awarded in competitive bidding and at an annual fee of $1 an acre in lieu of rent, after discovery is made, with the government getting 12 1-2 percent royalty.

Some legislators noted the absence of language saying the government could, or could not, go into oil production itself.

A suggestion then was put forth that an amendment be offered to the general appropriations bill, now under debate in the House, setting up a prohibition against use of any of the money in the bill for drilling or operating oil or gas wells on the continental shelf.

The bill to give the states ownership of the tidelands faces an uphill fight. If anything, it is less favorable to the federal government than the measure vetoed by President Truman about four years ago. That, too, was a state ownership bill, but contained no provision for states to get a share of revenues from any production on the continental shelf out beyond the state limits.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) expressed hope the new bill would come up this session for a vote. He refused to make any predictions, saying with a smile "you know what happened to the gas bill." He referred to the Kerr Gas bill, vetoed by President Truman after Rayburn had helped squeeze it through the House.

Another congressional committee is going to look into the controversy over oil imports. It's a House labor subcommittee headed by Rep. Tom Stead (D-Okla.).

Steed wants to find out if any American oil field and kindred workers have lost jobs as a result of imports of foreign crude. The committee has set a hearing for May 2.

The Texas Railroad Commission, oil and gas regulatory body in the biggest petroleum-producing state, may not hear about it officially but some advice was offered it at a Federal Power Commission hearing here.

Paul Kayser of Houston and El Paso, president of the El Paso Natural Gas Co., was urging approval of an application by his company to transport natural gas from the San Juan Basin, underlying a big area in New Mexico, Colorado and Utah, to California.

In the course of his testimony, he said the Texas Railroad Commission would not allow oil operators to accumulate unused portions of their production quotas from month to month. Their natural inclination, therefore, is to operate full blast at the beginning of each month to use up all their allowable, he said.

Recovery of Oil Industry Is Seen

El Paso Seeks Quick Okay On Pipeline

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — Statistics show the oil industry has made rapid progress against its ailments the past year.

A year ago crude production was being curtailed sharply while stocks of all kinds soared.

Factors that drew the blame still are bothering the industry but there now is evidence of marked improvement.

Crude output is moving upward gradually and over-all stock totals are considerably below a year ago.

The American Petroleum Institute places April 15 stocks of gasoline, kerosene, and light and heavy oil at a total of 223,524,000 barrels.

A year earlier the figure was 252,718,000.

Crude production the week ending April 15 averaged 4,998,800 barrels daily. The comparative 1949 average was 4,969,450. Production still is some 500,000 to 600,000 barrels daily below December, 1948, but some 200,000 to 300,000 above mid-1949.

The Bureau of Mines last week reported a sixth consecutive decline in crude stocks. Crude held in above ground storage totaled 239,463,000 barrels. This compared to a year earlier figure of 270,000,000.

Gas Co., Standard Oil of Texas, Magnolia Petroleum Co. and Fullerton Oil Co. He had previously disclosed a contract with Delhi Oil Corp.

These agreements add up to a maximum daily gas acquisition of about 97,000,000 cubic feet from San Juan and West Texas fields.

El Paso is trying to show the Federal Commission that it will be able to acquire as much gas as it needs if the proposed pipeline is built.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Hearing on the El Paso Natural Gas Co.'s request on its proposed San Juan, N. M., pipeline will be resumed here May 22.

The hearing was recessed Friday at the request of the Federal Power Commission. The El Paso Natural Gas Co. completed its case Friday.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — El Paso Natural Gas Co. has signed several contracts with oil and gas companies for dry and residue gas in connection with its San Juan, N. M., pipeline application.

This was revealed at a Federal Power Commission hearing Thursday by El Paso President Paul Kayser, who said some of them will be voided unless his company gets a certificate by July 15.

Kayser also told examiner Marvin Farrington how his company would finance the $44,500,000 pipeline if it is authorized.

The proposed pipeline would run from San Juan to Topeka, Kan., 459 miles west on the California-Arizona border.

It would allow delivery of 150,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day to the San Francisco Bay area and 17,000,000 cubic feet to several northern Arizona communities.

Kayser said El Paso has negotiated contracts or letters of intent with Stanolind Oil and

Bureau of Mines First Aid Course Completed by Cabot

Approximately 2,250 accumulated hours of first aid training was completed last week by the Cabot companies in the area. The company offered 15 hours instruction in first aid to any employees of the companies in the area.

The classes, composed of 130 men and approximately 20 women from General Atlas, Texas Elf, Cabot Shops and Cabot Carbon Co., was conducted by the Bureau of Mines Safety Division. The men's classes were held all last week in the Palm Room while the women had instruction at the Cabot camp near Skellytown.

Al Munch, veteran of 30 years in Bureau of Mines Safety Division, instructed the classes.

At the completion of the course, each trainee is certified by the Bureau of Mines Safety Division and was presented a free first aid reference manual by Don Conely, director of safety and insurance for Cabot.

Munch, who believes in teaching practical application of first aid and who doesn't pass out any textbook until the final class session, says there is more to teaching first aid than having the men know what to do in the event of an accident.

"That's only a part of the program," he emphasized.

"When men have some knowledge of first aid they actually become more safety conscious," he said. "They realize what can happen so they naturally become more careful."

"That's what we are aiming for," he said.

Bert Arney, assistant safety director for the Cabot Companies, stated that the classes were offered the Cabot employees on a voluntary basis.

"We didn't expect to have a third of this number."

He said the classes had filled out to a great extent after the first night's work. Actually the classes are a little larger but Munch has experience in handling large groups.

"The men appreciate the practicality of the lessons," he said. Munch, who says he has made preliminary arrangements for at least one other series of classes for another company in the Panhandle, says the accident prevention virtues of the first aid training accomplishes a great deal in raising the morale and the ultimate increased production of a group of employees.

He said the men feel better knowing their companions are looking out for them. They also feel more secure in that if an accident does happen, there will be someone around who knows what to do.

"Many companies in the past have forced into this program," said Munch "and were glad. Tremendous injury rates, forced them into a critical competitive position."

"When first aid and safety programs instituted, injury rates dropped tremendously and increased production pushed the company over the hump."

One slower week is on record for the Panhandle in 1950. A low of 895 barrels from 8 wells was reported for the week ended March 19.

Number of new locations fell last week to 16 from the previous period's 19 intentions to drill. One well was plugged, this in Potter County. No gas wells were reported finalized.

Per-well averages were extremely high the past week, surpassing any reported the past two years. Operators averaged in excess of 107 barrels of oil for each well finalized.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By BUD ANDERSON

Rather momentous decisions have come out of Washington the past week concerning the oil and gas industry. Industry-wide, the oilmen are betting 500. However there is the possibility Panhandle gas men may take a beating.

The House Judiciary Committee Thursday approved a bill returning to the states full sovereignty over the tidelands. This is in direct contrast to a Supreme Court ruling last year giving the federal government the top hand over California's coastal waters.

As reported by the subcommittee, the bill provided for equal division of revenues between the states and the federal government.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn stated he hoped to see the tide-lands bill come to the House floor before the end of the current session.

There was at least one disgruntled gentleman present at the committee report session. Chairman of the Committee Cellular (D-NY) said the essence of the bill is simply that the United States agrees to become a part of Texas.

That's all right, too.

The gas industry lost in its legislative play last week when President Truman vetoed the Kerr Natural Gas Bill.

Ernest O. Thompson, in his address to the API last Tuesday, said this move by the president and his anti-gas advisors is going to push the price of gas to new heights. Not because there is no control over the industry but simply because there is control.

Thompson explained gas producers would not want to transport their gas across state lines lest the government bureau and their control move in. This would mean a decline of gas flowing to the East and Midwest and higher prices.

What do the kids think of the oil business?

Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas Railroad Commission, said last Tuesday, they are apparently pretty curious.

School children from Lubbock recently submitted a list of questions to the commissioner for answers.

Thompson said he was happy to see such an interest among the younger generation in one of the state's foremost industries.

Some of the questions indicated quite a bit of intelligence—for grade school kids, that is.

Here are a few examples:

"How is oil formed under the ground?"

"Where is the most oil drilled in the world?"

"What is the average amount of oil production in Texas every year?"

"Does an oil well have to be drilled straight down, or can it be drilled at an angle and at what most angle?"

"When you drill oil, do you still the same way that you would if you were drilling for water?"

"How do you drill for oil under water?"

"Do you drill under water with the same kind of drill that you drill in the ground with?"

"Do you always find limestone with oil?"

"What do you do with oil when it comes to the top of the hole?"

"Do you strike oil often?"

These plus two more pages full were answered by the commissioner. There isn't room here to give his answers, but all were answered and sent back to the students.

This may seem rather trivial to some, but the oil industry has a tremendous job ahead in public relations. Many of the misconceptions harbored by the public could be cleared up if the oil industry took more time and cognizance of such as these school children and their parents. Perhaps the next generation of oilmen wouldn't be considered nothing more than hotel-building millionaires.

Mississippi Demands Import Cut as State Revenue Drops

JACKSON, Miss. —(Special)— Independent oil producers, state officials, land owners and civic leaders will show a congressional committee here tomorrow that Mississippi's economy has been "considerably harmed" by excessive oil imports.

This observation came today from Rees R. Oliver, independent operator of Jackson and state vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Oliver said 17 witnesses including Gov. Fielding Wright would present testimony before a subcommittee of the House Small Business committee which will hold a hearing here to determine effects of excessive oil imports on Mississippi.

Declaring that the state tax structure and general economy has been "badly damaged" by a loss of market to foreign oil, Oliver said the search for and development of new Mississippi fields will be retarded for years if something isn't done about imports.

He said as a result of increasing imports the oil industry in Mississippi produced 7,745,000 less barrels of oil in 1949 than in 1948. "And as a result of this curtailment of production 21,460,000 was lost from the state's economy last year," he said.

"Mississippi producers were forced to shut in this much production which was displaced by imports into our market despite the fact that 161 new oil wells were completed during the year which greatly increased the state's productive capacity," Oliver said.

He also pointed out that the state collected $1,021,889 less a severance tax on oil production in 1949 than in 1948.

"Our state government has collected $19,745,658 from the Mississippi oil industry as of Jan. 1 this year, under the severance tax law passed in 1944," Oliver said. "This is a substantial contribution for a single industry."

He predicted that if reasonable limitations aren't placed on imported oil the state tax structure will be severely impaired. "And it follows that much of this tax burden will necessarily be shifted to other industries."

Similar hearings are to be held at New Orleans, La., April 25, Lake Charles and Shreveport, April 26, Little Rock, Ark., April 27, Oklahoma City, April 28, and Santa Fe, N.M., May 2.

PIPRO Meet Is Changed To May 24

Meeting date for the annual convention of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association has been changed according to association officials.

The association will meet May 24 at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. Original plans set the date at May 17, a week earlier.

First steps for the association convention have been completed. Executive Committee meeting earlier in the month, named Cecil O'Brien to head the general arrangements committee. A. D. Weatherly was appointed vice chairman of the committee and chairman of the entertainment committee.

Directors of the organization for the coming year are to be named May 11 when the association meets to make final arrangements for the annual affair.

Heavy furniture may be moved without marring the floor by placing a piece of waxed paper under the legs.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your grocery and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Baracstrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves, it's noticeable pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, thighs and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

"Before taking Baracstrate, my weight was 250 pounds. After taking seven bottles my weight is now 210 and I feel so much better, thanks to Baracstrate." Signed, Mrs. L. M. Robinson, Seabrook, Texas.

Pioneer Mammy and Pappy Of 1950 Have Worries Too

By HAL BOYLE
SEATTLE — (AP) — The Pioneer Mother of 1950 travels westward in a covered wagon, 15,000 feet above the detour signs. And she has a martini with her canasta game — if she wants one.
And 1950's Pioneering Pappy ain't worrying about whether the Indians crave his scalp or just want to sell him a gun—ooo—the 100 percent American blanket, homespun in a Portland factory. He's busy nipping on a highball, should boredom attack him.
No sir, Mammy and Pappy just can't be annoyed now with the trifles that disturbed great grandpa and great grandma on the old trek west — things like buffalo traffic jams, water shortages, and pained native real estate agents selling housing sites for beads.

Yep, it's all changed. There are real horrors now — for example, the airplane may run out of ice. That means the old folks will have to drink their "bourbon and ditch" which is Montana lingo for whiskey and plain ditch-water — at room temperature.
So it has always been in man's long voyage west — one hardship flying out for a first look at the great and growing Northwest, however, it is hard to escape a feeling of unreality. It sure has changed.
Maybe I just read too much about the troubles of Lewis and Clark, and the bouts the boys in buckskin used to have with the grizzly bears. But the only grisly thing left out here now is a 3 percent state sales tax.
My vehicle from New York was one of the new 75-passenger Stratocruisers.
They have been put into domestic service for the first time by Northwest Airlines, which also has pioneered in a new post-prohibition experiment — the introduction of a cocktail lounge in the air over American soil.
All airlines, I believe, now peddle alcoholic beverages on their overseas flights, but Northwest is the first to test the freedom of the American ozone in this manner. But at a buck per bolt of Scotch, anointed with soda, it is free only in a rarefied sense.

Defensive Leads Can Backfire

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The habits you form in defensive play are not necessarily helpful when you're declarer. One player found this out the hard way in a recent team match.
When this hand was played in a team match, the bidding was the same at both tables.
In both rooms, the West player opened the queen of hearts. The defenders rattled off three heart tricks and then shifted to clubs. Declarer was in, and it was up to him to take the rest of the tricks.
In the first room, South's first step was to lead the queen of spades. West covered with the king, and dummy won with the ace.

Canadian Roping Club Officers Named at Meet

CANADIAN (Special)
Earl Blackmore was elected president of the Canadian Roping Club at a meeting held at the E. R. Cloyd meat processing plant a mile west of the city.
Son - of - a - gun with special sauce, pickles, onions, apricots, bread, and coffee was the menu at the annual meeting of the club.
After the big kettle of son-of-a-gun was properly dealt with, the group proceeded with the election of officers. Blackmore succeeds Roy Sheets as president, Ike Kelley succeeds Row Wheeler as vice president, and Bruce Waterfield succeeds Elmo Wheeler as secretary-treasurer.
Matters pertaining to the Roping Club properties—pens, pastures, equipment—were discussed and plans were made for procuring calves for roping stock. It is the intention of the club to make some necessary repair at the arena and have it stock on hand so that practice may begin in about two weeks.
About 40 members and fans attended the meeting.

WHAT I REALLY NEED

is some good people with some good money to spend for some good houses—on account of this realty business and this politickin' and this livin' is costin' me—and a man can't live forever on the sale of one house... If business don't pick up, me and Earl Rice are gonna sell each other a house—won't make us much money, but at least we can say we made a sale—No, seriously, I've had dozens of calls every day since I got into this real estate business, and I sure thank you all for your interest and help—didn't know! I had so many friends who could read... and speaking of readin' cast your eyes on these listings... they're good:

The Mark Vantine home at 922 Mary Ellen, one of the best homes in this town.

The Bruce Walters home at 1019 N. Frost—a honey of a house in an ideal location.

The Deacon Jones home at 1601 N. Russell, a nice post-war house in the Fraser Addition.

A 3 bedroom house to be moved, price only $3750

Lots in Fraser Addition; a small liquor store; a good cafe in Lefors doing excellent business; The Pampa Hospital; and a Real Investment for the future in apartment houses now under construction.

MY FATHER

That man is gone again! He suddenly came down with a new ailment, and had to go to Graham, Texas to take a few mud baths. I believe he called it (FISHIN' FEVER). However I wasn't too surprised to see him leave cause the other day I saw him shine that dog-gone rod and reel. And Daddy (HAS) been lookin' a little pale lately.

He (my father) is always gettin' letters from his fans, and the other day he got one from Mr. ????, he thought you folks might be interested in. However please let it be known that the sentiment here-in expressed does not coincide with my personal feelings. Anyway I wanted all you good people to know that we have a (POET) in our midst. I just can't understand tho, why anyone with such a great (GIFT) would want to be anonymous. Nevertheless, here's how the poem goes:

Dear Mr. Duncan, you won't like, These lines that I am writin'. Of what the public thinks of you, You'll try to enlighten.

It looks to me, as if you think, You're cuttin' quite a caper, A writin' always some old stuff, Then put it in the paper.

I don't know why, that we folks read, Your column as we do. I guess we think, sometime perhaps, There'll be printed something new.

But as we read, we always find, That some old type of bunk, That Curly Boyd, charged you two bits, To move your office junk.

Of pinto beans, you have on hand, To sell them you are wishin'. That you might take, a trip somewhere, And do a little fishin'.

And then when e'er, you do return, We read some awful tales, Of your exploits, with rod and reel, At catchin' three inch whales.

Then on the line, below we read, Some office you will seek, But you I know, will not announce, Your mind can't be that weak.

But there's one spot, 'twould suit you fine, This may leave you agog, You'd get my vote, I'll swear you would, For catcher of the dog.

As we read on, you want to sell, A boat and fishin' poles, And too you have a bungalow, A big one, with three holes.

Now this last item you should sell, You've got just what 'twould take, And if you'd concentrate on such, A few cents you could make.

So look real close, between these lines, And if you'll only try, You'll see yourself, as you are seen, Straight from the public eye.

And when you've finished, readin' this, To church just wend YOUR way, And drop a nickel, in the plate, YOU'LL feel better thru the day.

Signed Mr. ???

Pretty good prose, isn't it?

Daddy will be back in the office Monday to tell you some awful tales about his trip and to sell real estate. Also He will write his same old type of bunk next Sunday.

A. D.

WHEN YOU READ THIS GO TO CHURCH—YOU'LL FEEL BETTER THE REST OF THE DAY.

Insect Damage to All Texas Crops May Be Worst in State's History, Survey Shows

By the Associated Press
Texas may have the worst crop damage from insects in its history this season, reports from throughout the state indicate. Already, many thousands of square miles of wheat and oats have fallen victim to insects and

That Announces For County Clerk
Charlie Thut, County Clerk of Gray County, today authorized The Pampa News to announce his candidacy for re-election to that office. Charlie, as he is known to most Gray County people, said that he would, if elected, make every effort to render the courteous and efficient service which has always been the goal of his office. He plans to personally solicit the support of as many voters as time and the duties of the office will permit. (Pol. adv.)

drouth. Boll weevils, fleahoppers and thrips are appearing in great numbers in fields of early cotton. Upcoming, fear observers, are severe infestation of fields of late cotton by several insects. And Texas Agricultural Extension Service authorities already are warning that grasshoppers and screw worm flies may be expected in great numbers. Mainly the insect threat can be blamed on the relatively mild winter which failed to kill off the usual number of hibernating bugs. The threat may overhang all the South and Southwest. For instance, Rudolph Strong, Entomologist of the Louisiana Extension Service, reported that only about one-third of the hibernating boll weevils had been killed by winter weather and that about 2,200 per acre survived. He called it the greatest number of survivors ever recorded in March in the state. And the Texas Extension Service said that screw worm flies, which infect cattle, survived the winter in a much larger area than ever was known. Flies were found in 134 Texas counties the service announced last week, compared to the usual 20 counties. And the flies, which rarely before had survived in any other state west of the Mississippi, were found as far west as the Pacific Ocean and as far north as the Texas-Oklahoma border. The extension service called the insects a real threat to the livestock industry. Damage from greenbugs was blamed as much as the spring and winter drouth by some farmers for reducing Texas' expected wheat production to the lowest point since 1936. Some farmers have had a 100 percent loss from both causes. Weather conditions during the next few weeks probably will determine just how serious the grasshopper infestation will be, the Texas Extension Service said. More moisture will bring them out in big numbers, the service predicts. But it's Texas' multi-million dollar cotton crop that has the farmers worried. On top of federal acreage allotments, a drop in production per acre would hit the farmers hard. The Waco News Tribune says that boll weevils are in Central Texas cotton fields right now in larger numbers than ever before recorded. In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, thrips damaged the early cotton to some extent. This was one factor causing an extension of the deadline for cotton planting 15 days to April 15. Deadlines are set as part of the pink bollworm control program. Wind and dust were other contributing factors in the late decline. The Valley Evening Monitor at McAllen and the Brownsville Herald report that thrips were fairly well controlled on cotton that came up early. However, thrips are attacking the younger cotton. Herman S. Mayeaux, associate Cameron County agent, said that cutworms are reducing cotton stands in localized areas. Aphids are increasing in most valley fields and fleahoppers are increasing rapidly on young squaring cotton, especially in Hidalgo County. Already a few pink bollworms have appeared in Hidalgo, Mayeaux reported. With Waco's report of heavy boll weevil infestation comes another from the Marshall News Messenger in East Texas, reporting that conditions have been just right in its county (Harrison) for quick multiplication of insects. Farm experts have several solutions, most depending on frequent inspection of fields and poisoning early in the season before the insects get out of control.

Radiation Danger Courses Taught
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal government is bringing state and local health officers up to date on the dangers of radiation. The public health service has held courses on the subject in New York and Atlanta, with others scheduled for Chicago, Cleveland, Boston, Washington, Denver, San Francisco, Dallas, and Kansas City. Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, surgeon general of the United States, said safety education is especially needed in (1) disposal of radioactive waste; (2) use of X-ray machines and other radioactive devices; (3) marketing of materials — like luminous marking tapes — which contain radium or polonium.

areas with less moisture. But in western Central and East Texas, the extension service recommends spraying with toxaphene, and chlordane.

Screw worm flies; cattle should be treated with Smear 62 immediately upon discovery of any skin breaks.

Cotton insects: educational campaigns are being carried on in almost all sections teaching farmers the value of early spraying and dusting. Mayeaux, for instance, tells farmers that toxaphene or DDT applied when squares first appear will control fleahoppers for the season, and kill many over-winter boll worms. But after squares are half grown, dusting sulphur must be used.
