Hunt Goes on For Missing Navy Aircraft

WIESBADEN, Germany — The search for a missing U.S. Navy patrol plane concentrated today off the Danish island of Bornholm after a rescue pilot reported he had sighted what appeared to be either traces of survivors or wreckage from the plane.

But three hours after receipt of the first report there was no confirmation at U.S. Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden that this was a positive clue to the plane a four-engine Privateer which disappeared Saturday on a flight from Wiesbaden to Copenhagen.

Russia protested yesterday that an American plane of the B-29 type had fired on a Soviet fighter over Latvia on the Baltic coast Saturday and disappeared after the Red plane returned the fire.

A Danish pilot who circled the area off Bornholm said the American search plane might have mistaken a Russian buoy for a life raft.

Weather over the Baltic was favorable and all planes were ordered to concentrate their efforts on the area near the Baltic island, Danish naval craft also sped to the scene.

Capt. B. M. York, the pilot who spotted what appeared to be a raft, said it resembled "a yellow rubber dinghy." He dropped smoke flares to mark the spot.

Subsequently a B-17 over the search area said the floating object may have been an overturned life boat.

The B-17 which spotted what appeared to be a life raft continued to circle the area. But it radioed that it was running low on fuel and would have to return soon to Copenhagen.

That raised the danger that contact with the reported raft might be lost since no other plane had seen anything like it.

If the U.S. plane fell into the sea after being fired upon by the Russians the crew could possibly escape in rubber rafts which the plane carried. The rafts contain provisions to maintain survivors for nearly two weeks.

WINNING TEAM—"Ponder," the wonder horse of Paul Crouch's team in the Chamber of Commerce "Hoss Race" membership campaign, brought thick juicy steaks to the winning team. The total in chamber membership dues gathered by the 16-man "Ponder Team," was $2,337.75 or $92.75 more than the second-place team, "Whirlaway." Steak winners last night included Crouch, W. B. Weathered, Fred Thompson, Veri Hagaman, Frank Carter, Frank Lard, E. M. Samples, Jim Poole, Ray Kuhn, Harold Miller, D. V. Burton, J. C. Daniels, Robert Sims, John Pitts, Fred Neslage and Tom Rose. Fire Damages Tired C-C 'Hosses' Put on 'Feed Bags'

The season's grass fires have cost the city of Pampa $304.50 in damages this year, according to claims paid yesterday during the City Commission session.

Payments of $1.50 per acre to Oscar McCoy and G. W. Redman were approved. Redman was also paid for 18 acres of grassland burned off last year.

Both fires started at the city dump and spread. This year Redman lost 100 acres in March and McCoy lost 88 acres at the same time.

City Manager Dick Peplin said the fire, this year, started when a piece of paper blew from the dump and landed in the middle of a field owned by Redman. The fire occurred last month.

The commission also authorized Mayor C. A. Huff and City Secretary R. E. Anderson to sign the necessary Illinois primary election bids were authorized to be called for concrete work at the Municipal Swimming Pool where curb and gutter and additional sidewalks will be laid this summer along with new fencing and re-tipping of the pool. The project is part of the city's improvement program.

Will It Rain? Weatherman Is Cautious

Top of Texans should keep their fingers crossed today. The reason?

There is a faint—mind you, faint—hope (or inkling) that the top of Texas might—that's MIGHT—get a few widely scattered thundershowers late this afternoon or tonight.

Nothing definite, to be sure, but a check with the nearest U. S. Weather Bureau—that at Amarillo—this morning, disclosed that the bureau's experts were cautiously holding out for some possibility of rain.

Naturally, nobody who's lived in the Panhandle the last six months would come right out and say:

"Yes, we have rain today. How much do you want? Nothing like that. No, all the weather bureau boys can do is hold their breath. Just like us.

C-C Leaders Due at Meet

Pampa Chamber of Commerce President G. S. Vineyard and Manager E. O. Wedgewood will leave tomorrow for Big Spring to attend a two-day clinic of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Managers Association.

The association meeting is an annual affair. It is composed of all Texas Chamber of Commerce managers west of Ft. Worth. Clinic speakers will lead discussions during the two-day meeting and the group will discuss problems relative to Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development operations.

The Pampa representatives will return Saturday night. Their wives will accompany them on the trip.

Hotel Survey Chief Leaves

Fred Burris, representative of the Hockenbury System, left today for Harrisburg, Pa., to complete the report on the Pampa hotel survey.

He said more than 200 people have returned questionnaires which he sent out when he first arrived in Pampa. The survey will be completed and returned to Pampa in about 30 days.

The survey is being sponsored by the Public Improvements Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Burris said residents who have been sent questionnaires should return them to the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible.

Flying Bixbys Headed for U.S.

TOKYO — The Bixbys are flying again. The husband-and-wife team of Bob and Dianna — barked by engine trouble in their try to crack the late Bill Odom's 73-hour round-world record — left this morning for Midway Island in their twin engine Mosquito bomber.

They plan to stop at Midway two hours, then fly on to Hawaii and San Francisco.

The Bixbys left San Francisco April 1. They were ahead of Odom's mark when engine trouble forced them to turn back to California.

Plane Falls In Restricted Atomic Area

ALBUQUERQUE — Thirteen airmen died last night in the fiery crash of a B-29 bomber into a secret area of Sandia Special Weapons Base.

Deaths of all aboard were confirmed this morning with official announcement of their names. The dead included Sgt. Virgil W. Tennyson, Whon, Coleman County, Texas.

A B-29 bomber carried all airmen aboard — believed to be 13 — to fiery deaths in a crash last night into Sandia Secret Weapons Base.

Thirteen crew members were listed on the loading report. An Air Force official warned however the death toll cannot be determined with absolute accuracy until an actual count of bodies is made.

The Air Force drew a tight secrecy curtain on the tragedy in a remote area of the atomic bomb assembly installation.

Newspapers were barred from entering the area, a spot 7,000 feet high in the Manzano Mountains. The scene lay some five miles east of Sandia headquarters and 17 miles east of downtown Albuquerque.

A road block was thrown across the only trail leading into the area, just off transcontinental U. S. Highway 66.

The likelihood any escaped seemed remote. The giant Strategic Air Command plane from Walker Base at Roswell, N. M., plunged to the ground and burned three minutes after it took off from nearby Kirtland Field.

Emphasizing secrecy cloaking the locale, one officer observed: "Not even the president of the United States could get into the place."

Names of crewmen were not made public. The Strategic Air Command said no one above a junior officer was aboard.

The superfortress burned for more than two hours. Flames shooting high in the air were visible from a distance of 15 miles. The Air Force said no build-up. (See CRASH, Page 2)

Jaycees Hear Austrian Man

ERIC GEIGER, youthful Jaycee from Salzburg, Austria, spoke to the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday on his trip to America and on present conditions inside Austria.

Geiger is vice president of the Austrian Junior Chamber of Commerce and director of the international organization. He was brought to America by the Amarillo Junior Chamber of Commerce to promote relations between the Jaycee organizations of the two nations.

He said that before coming to America, he had to obtain a number of different papers which would get him out of Austria, and Europe and into America.

Friends in Salzburg told him he would have to get a visa to get into Texas. He related that he had much trouble getting one, simply because there was no such thing.

Upon arriving in Philadelphia, Geiger's first act was to go into what he thought was an American drug store to get an American Coke. It was only after he asked for a Coke that he overheard the drug store was a bar. He finally found a drug store after many such mistakes.

The Austrian was much impressed by American hospitality and generosity. On the plane coming to Amarillo, he sat by a traveling salesman who generously supplied him with about 300 feet of fishing line. Another one presented him with a smoking pipe with "all sorts of gadgets on it."

"I am greatly impressed by Texas hospitality, and it warms my heart to see people so friendly," he said. "Texans have accepted me as one of the boys."

Geiger, who works with the American Occupation Forces in Austria, said he learned a lot of American words, which he found to be usable only between very good friends. He was somewhat surprised, he said, when the Americans seemed pleased with his informality of language.

He said Austrians have little for little else but working and eating. "We have flying saucers in Austria, too, but people pay little attention."

In reply to a question as to what America should and could do to sell its government and way of life to the Austrians, Geiger said "as far as the democratic government is concerned, I believe more Europeans and Austrians should be allowed to see this country and see for themselves how the people live here. People in Austria hear a lot of propaganda, but they don't see it. They think it is propaganda, he continued, because Russia says the same thing about the USSR."

Eliminate Suspicion, Taft Tells Truman

WASHINGTON — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) demanded today that President Truman "eliminate any suspicion of treason" from the administration "if he can."

Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, also accused Mr. Truman of libeling Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and of pre-judging McCarthy's charges of communism in the State Department.

As Taft let fly at the president, the stage was set for former Communist Louis Budenz and Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern affairs specialist and Johns Hopkins professor, to confront each other at a public hearing April 20.

McCarthy has said that Budenz will swear that he knew Lattimore to be a member of the Communist party.

Lattimore testified under oath last week that he never has seen McCarthy.

A. W. Gill, Pioneer of Miami, Dies

MIAMI — A. W. Gill, 65, resident of Miami for 52 years, died about 10 a.m. today in a Pampa hospital, following a heart attack Sunday.

Mr. Gill came to Roberts County with his parents when he was 13. His father was a pioneer rancher in Hardeman County near Quanah where Mr. Gill and his brothers and sisters attended school. When the settlers crowded them out, they came to Roberts County and established another ranch.

Mr. Gill married Cordie Chisum in 1906, and four children were born to the couple. He took up the only trade he knew — ranching — and until the last few years when his health failed, ran the ranch himself. His son, Hershel, has been running the ranch since his father's health failed.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cordie Gill, Miami; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Karn, North Hollywood, Calif.; Mrs. Esther Hollenhead, El Paso; and Mrs. Gene Stroud, Barkdale Field, La. One son, Hershel, of Miami; and six grandchildren.

He was a member of the Miami Masonic Lodge.

OSWALD JACOBY: mathematics, memory and a best seller.

JACOBY

It was the toughest game of any sort I ever played," Jacoby says. "We won by 5600 points."

What makes canasta so popular, he feels, is that it's the first card game ever developed that has universal appeal. Children love the game. Players of different abilities can play together and all have fun. Stakes are unimportant. It too you can play canasta with old stakes and enjoy it.

There's only one weakness to canasta, Jacoby says, "and that's that people play too much of it."

His newest book "Complete Canasta" has sold 55,000 copies the first three months after publication this year.

Four new card games, Jacoby believes, the four traits that make a good player are the ability to: 1. Play constant attention.

2. Vary your game to fit your opponents.

3. Play objectively with common sense only for the hand in question.

4. Fit your game to your partner in a partnership game.

FIRE

Monthly bills were also okayed by the commission.

Prior to getting down to business the commission got a good insight into the workings of European municipal governments as compared to Texas city governments from Eric Geiger, Salzburg, Austria, now on tour of the United States through the Junior Chamber of Commerce. (See picture and story, Page 1.)

Geiger told the commission he was greatly surprised to see the complete informality with which the City Commission conducted its business as compared with the Town Council of his native city.

Looking at a reporter and sitting with one leg over a chair and turning his glance to City Commissioner W. E. Ballard whose foot rested comfortably on the table, Geiger said everyone at his Town Council meeting sat up straight in strict formality and would never put a foot on the table or a leg over the chair, especially in front of the mayor.

The mayor and councilmen of Austrian cities he added, get all municipal services free, free rides on buses and street cars, free telephone, free electricity, free gas, free water and free everything else.

Austria's students must vote a straight party ticket in Austria for city officials according to Geiger's statement on holding elections. He explained city officials are more or less appointed by a political party and then voters vote for the party.

Sometimes you don't even know who the mayor will be because the party hasn't selected one by voting time, he said.

Geiger, accompanied by several lawyers, left the meeting shortly after his informal chat with Mayor Huff and the commission.

He admitted freely he was not looking forward with much enthusiasm to returning home to all the formality.

TAFT

been a Communist and that he never knowingly has promoted the cause of communism. He also flatly denied McCarthy's contention that he is Russia's head spy in this country.

Lattimore said in a statement yesterday that he does not know Budenz, and "to the best of my recollection I have never met him and have never been associated directly or indirectly with him."

Lattimore added that he has no information as to what Budenz plans to tell the Senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's accusations.

The committee voted yesterday to subpoena Budenz next Monday, but later agreed to Budenz' request that his appearance be put off to April 20.

Budenz, former managing editor of the Daily Worker, renounced communism in 1945 after serving the party for 10 years. He then rejoined the Catholic church. He is now on the faculty at Fordham University in New York.

The committee agreed to let Lattimore reply to Budenz, also at a public hearing. Lattimore already has said that anyone who swears he is or has been a Communist is a perjurer and should be prosecuted.

Taft expressed his views on the investigation of McCarthy's charges in his weekly column, "Washington Report," to Ohio newspapers.

He sharply criticized Mr. Truman for declining to give the inquiry committee access to FBI files and other confidential government loyalty records. He also declared:

"The pro-Communist influence in the State Department has been reflected in a strongly pro-Communist policy in the Far Eastern division of the department, and a strongly pro-Communist policy in China which succeeded finally in delivering China and perhaps the entire East to communism."

Then Taft added: "Whether Senator McCarthy has legal evidence, whether his case is of lesser importance. The question is whether the Communist influence in the State Department still exists."

Every member of the administration ought to be eager to have that question determined finally and conclusively. The president above all, instead of libeling Senator McCarthy and pre-judging the entire case, should be anxious — if he can do so — to eliminate any suspicion of treason from his own departments."

Taft said the president "assumes the innocence" of all the persons accused by McCarthy, just as he called the attack on Alger Hiss a "red herring" when the House Committee first brought out the facts.

Hiss, former State Department official, was convicted on a charge that he lied when he said he had not turned secret government documents to a courier for Russia.

PHILADELPHIA — Here's one of those belated Easter message stories. It was told today by Henry Ridewood, manager of a Western Union office here.

It seems that an eight-year-old boy identified himself as Patricia Giano stopped off to send her mother an Easter card. It took her 10 minutes to compose the message: "Just want to tell you a happy Easter, your loving daughter."

The address didn't take so long: "Mrs. Sal Giano, home, Philadelphia."

Baby 'Gators Outgrow Crib

READING, Pa. — (AP) — They were only 28 inches long when they were eight years old, but now that they're 36, they're six-footers and simply too big for the water tank in Edward Weinhold's cellar.

The babies grown up are alligators. Weinhold, a Reading brewery worker, brought them home as pets from Jacksonville, Fla., 28 years ago.

He now admits that he must part with his pets. So, one of these bright spring days he plans to crate the 'gators and drive them to the zoo at Philadelphia, where they'll have larger quarters.

The 'gators, dubbed Joe and Josie are "as gentle as lambs," Weinhold said — except when they're hungry. They eat three to four pounds of steak-fish a day.

Jimmy Stout, veteran jockey, has had seven mounts in the Widener at Hialeah, and the best he has been able to finish is third.

Guill Quiines Platform Before Council of Clubs

Ben Guill, local candidate for Congress, outlined his platform and told some of the things he hoped to do if elected, when he spoke before the Council of Women's Clubs. Walter Rogers, another congressional aspirant, was also invited to speak to the club women, but was unable to do so because of illness. Mr. Guill was introduced by Mrs. Myles Morgan, Council president.

Council of Clubs officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. W. F. Jordan, president; Mrs. Grady Morrison, vice president; Mrs. J. W. Garman, III, secretary; Mrs. Robert Karr, treasurer; Mrs. Minnie M. Barnes, reporter; and Mrs. J. R. Holloway, parliamentarian.

During the business session the Newcomers Club was welcomed into the Council, and the Newcomer president, Mrs. A. I. Koenig, was introduced.

Council members discussed the desirability of building a club house separate from the proposed community center, and representatives were asked to present the suggestion to their clubs for discussion and vote.

Art, Civic Club Discusses Laws

The Junior Art and Civic Club of Lefors discussed "Amendments of the Constitution" at the last meeting.

"Interior Decorating" will be the topic of the next meeting of this group, which will be in the home of Mrs. Frankie Fuller, Thursday evening, April 20, at 8 o'clock.

Following the business discussion refreshments were served and secret pal gifts exchanged.

Members present were Mrs. Jean Sims, Mrs. Laverne Cates, Mrs. Betty Seals, Mrs. Juanita Shipman, Mrs. Gloria Casey, Mrs. Lena C., Mrs. Frankie Fuller, Mrs. Retha June Jordan, Mrs. Colleen Dunn, Mrs. Carolyn Hughes and Mrs. Ruth Crutcher.

DECEPTION UNDERMINES CHARACTERS

Dear Grace: As you have given good advice to many others, I wonder if you may be able to help me. I am 18 and I live at home with my devoted parents. The gang I go with smokes and I have started smoking too. I enjoy it very much and don't want to give it up. But my parents are very much opposed to my smoking even though my father smokes. They think that while it is all right for a man it is very wicked for a woman and simply means that I am wicked in other things too. When the subject comes up I tell them that I don't smoke rather than get involved in a scene. I can't bear to think of their finding out but I do feel that I have a right to smoke if I enjoy it. Don't you?

Sincerely, Mildred

Dear Mildred: I suppose that you do have a right to smoke at 18 in the sense that you are an adult, however, as long as you live at home and your parents support you, you should make an effort to conform to their standards.

If you feel that you cannot give up smoking, talk to your parents about it and try to explain that smoking is no longer considered wrong for women. It is no more immoral for women to smoke than men and it certainly is no more harmful to their health.

Perhaps it would be easier for you to get one of your parents' friends to discuss the matter with them and tell them it signifies nothing where morals are concerned for young women to smoke nowadays. If your parents realize that their friends' daughters smoke with their parents' consent it may make them more tolerant of your smoking.

I feel that if you are doing wrong it is in that you are deliberately deceiving your parents.

If they should ask you whether you smoke you harm yourself in not telling the truth as lying will surely undermine your character if you continue it.

WANTS RECIPES

Dear Mrs. Friend: I remember some delicious dishes we used to have in our eastern home and it seems to me that they came from Fannie Farmer's cook book. I wonder if you would ask your readers if any of them have that cook book as I would like to write them about several recipes.

Mrs. W.

If anyone has a Fannie Farmer cook book and would like to share some of the recipes with Mrs. W. I will be glad to forward any letters to her.

Mrs. Whittle Hosts Literary Club Meeting

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Mrs. Clyde Whittle was hostess to members of the Thursday Literary Club at the home of Mrs. L. S. Griffin on South Main.

Mrs. H. T. Fields was leader of the program on "Easter." Mrs. J. B. Christner's subject was "Christ Is Risen." "Christ Telling Leave of His Mother" was given by Mrs. L. S. Griffin. Mrs. H. C. Weatherby discussed "The Legend of the Dogwood Tree."

Refreshments were served at the close of the program to two guests, Mrs. Louis Devaney and Glenn LaDue, and to the following members: Misses Marshall Adams, J. R. Benson, W. Y. Burden, J. B. Christner, L. E. Davis, S. M. Dunnam, H. T. Fields, Charles Green, L. S. Griffin, H. B. Hill, R. C. Lewis, Ben A. Shidmore, H. C. Weatherby, and B. A. Zeigler.

Shower Compliments Mrs. Patterson

Mrs. Delbert Patterson of Pampa, the former Wanda Turnbo of Lefors, was honored with a post-nuptial shower at the Methodist Church Recreation Hall Thursday.

The hostesses were Misses Larry Rider, Chitwood, B. D. Vaughn, and Jake Hammond.

Mrs. Patterson was presented with a corsage of white carnations. Games, directed by Jacquelyn Chitwood, were played. For further entertainment, a trio, composed of Wanda Vaughn, Rebecca Breining, and Beth Hammond, sang "April Showers." Miss Hammond, accompanied by Miss Breining, sang "Through the Years."

The gifts were placed on a table decorated in green and white. Refreshments of punch, mints, sandwiches, and cookies were served to 38 guests.

Miss Vaughn presided at the guest book.

Breakfast Honors New Residents

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Klingler, who live west of town, entertained with a breakfast in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Klingler, who have moved here from Meadville, Pa.

Look how you save with Dynaflow

FIRST thing you notice, of course, is the bother and effort Dynaflow Drive saves. Next, that Dynaflow saves you physically—after long trips you're less tense and tired, more relaxed. But then, as the miles pile up—and this comes from cold, recorded fact after Dynaflow's two years of public operation—you spot savings you hadn't expected. You save on tires—because power application is steady, even. On clutch expense—the usual friction clutch is gone. You save on transmission maintenance, and the rear-axle expenses likely to go with it. And the way your engine is oil-cushioned against normal shocks and strains shows up in less engine upkeep. You may well discover another pleasant surprise, too. We are getting a steadily mounting number of well-satisfied letters about gasoline mileage with Dynaflow cars. The SPECIAL has shown some records little short of phenomenal. The SUPER is delivering mileage that compares most favorably with gear-shift cars. And the ROADMASTER more than holds its own with cars of its size and bulk. In short, there's a lot more to please your budget in the 1950 Dynaflow than its new lower price. Refinements over the past two years result in savings that are sizable over the life of the car. Knowing that, don't you want us to demonstrate the big side of Dynaflow—the utter smoothness of America's first oil-does-it-all drive?

U.S. to Spend More Enforcing Oleo Laws Than on Rest of Pure Food, Drug Program

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Uncle Sam plans to spend more money enforcing U. S. restaurant laws to identify colored margarine when they serve it than is now being spent for enforcement of the rest of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Food and Drug Administration officials estimate it will require more than double their present $5,000,000 budget when the federal tax comes off margarine on July 1.

A fleet of new-type trailer laboratories will have to roam the U. S. constantly to make one inspection a year of each of the nation's 525,000 eating places. It will mean adding 300 extra persons to the federal payroll.

All provisions of the new law will be difficult to enforce, officials say. If a restaurant doesn't want to serve margarine in triangles, the word "margarine" must be stamped on each individual serving, or it must be accompanied by a label or tag clearly identifying it as oleo.

But the toughest section of all to police, PF&D experts say, is the requirement that "a notice that colored oleomargarine is served (must be) displayed prominently and conspicuously in such manner as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual being served."

or otherwise set forth on the menu in type or lettering not smaller than that normally used to designate the serving of other food items.

Similar exacting rules will apply to sales in grocery stores. All colored oleo must be packaged in containers of one pound or less. The word "oleomargarine" or "margarine" on the label must be in type or lettering as large as any other type that is on the label. And "each part of the contents of the package (must be) contained in a wrapper which bears the word "oleomargarine" or "margarine" in type not smaller than 20-point type."

Service Award Dinner Slated

The 1950 Panhandle Service Award dinner to honor employees of the Texas Company and The Texas Pipeline Company with 25 years or more service to their credit will be held in the junior ballroom of the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, at 8 p.m. Saturday, it was announced by E. C. Hart, program chairman for the event.

Awards will be presented to 13 employees at the dinner by S. W. Johnson, refining department superintendent; E. L. Newman, pipeline dept. division manager, and C. B. Williams, division manager of the production dept. Following the presentation of awards, a program of entertainment will be presented by Bernie Howell of Amarillo.

Employees in the Panhandle area who will receive gold watches in recognition of 30 years service are:

R. E. Frierson, O. B. Grant and S. R. Lenning — production; Joe H. Davis, E. C. Hart and C. S. Williams — Texas Pipeline Co.

Gus Price — refining. Twenty-five-year emblems: F. N. Corbitt, H. P. Doster and J. B. Gallaher — production; Carl Buchanan, Guy W. Hastings and R. L. Kiese — refining.

Former Pampan Is Indicted by Hemphill Jury

CANADIAN — Billy Loucks former Pampan, has been indicted by the Hemphill County Grand Jury here on charges of auto theft.

Loucks, an ex-convict, was sent to Huntsville for two years from Gray County on a similar charge on Dec. 13, 1948.

He is accused of stealing the 1949 Kaiser, of W. O. Richards while it was parked in front of the Trueblood Service Station on Feb. 5. He was nabbed on Highway 83 a few days later by Sheriff Clyde Risely and was driving the car when caught. Unable to make $2,000 bond Loucks has been in the county jail here since then.

At the same time, the Grand Jury also indicted Eulan Andrews, Canadian, for the theft of B. D. Beaton's car on Feb. 7. Risely also nabbed Andrews between Glazier and Higgins after Andrews turned it over on Highway 60.

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

By Rupert Hughes
Copyright 1950 by Rupert Hughes
Dist. by NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXXI
AZALEA PALMER opened her eyes wide in Martin Queripel's office and sighed as if to herself. "That's the first time in my life I ever fainted. I like it! I think I'll make a habit of it. I've had a perfect rest. Old-fashioned things are the best. And now, I'm a poet!"

Azalea blinked her eyes, seeming suddenly to become aware of the three serious gentlemen, gazing at her knees. Her eyes traveled toward her feet, which Queripel had propped ridiculously on the edge of the office chair in order to cause the blood to flow to her head and bring her out of her fainting spell.

She emitted a shrill little scream as she covered her knees and dropped her legs to the floor. The three gallant gentlemen showed embarrassed expressions for a moment until Azalea, realizing the humor of the situation, awarded them a forgiving smile.

She refused the six outstretched hands from the three gentlemen surrounding her, gathered herself into a mystery of action and was in her feet and into her chair again, facing Martin Queripel, the private detective, his assistant, Timothy O'Hea, and the young lawyer, Harley Kenyon.

Her first words to Queripel were: "Does Paul know all this you've told me?"

Queripel shook his head. "Paul Moody doesn't know," he said.

Now she was ready for hysterics. She cried:

"Why not, in heaven's name? How cruel to keep him waiting! Run, run! Tell him!"

"Why don't you go and tell him yourself," Queripel proposed.

"Oh, how I'd love to! But he told me he wouldn't let me see him behind the bars. He forbade me to come to the jail. He said he couldn't bear it."

Queripel had an answer even for this.

"If you're going to be the wife of that square-jawed sculptor you'd better begin to assert your control over him before it is too late."

"That's true! Let's go!" Azalea paused, then asked: "Can I see him if I go to the jail?"

HARLEY KENYON reassured her that she could, and added, "You won't see him behind bars in a cell. I'll have one of the turnkeys drag him to your feet in the conference room."

"Come on!" she cried and dashed from the room, the men following after her like the tail of a comet.

Queripel was thinking that he would really have to let O'Hea drive his car, since he could not trust his own sleepy and shattered nerves, but Azalea led the way to her own limousine, with the uniformed chauffeur to open the door for them.

They piled in and reached the jail, whizzing past traffic policemen too busy making out tickets for minor speedsters to notice their outland velocity.

After brief delays that were sternities to Azalea, a guard brought Paul Moody to the conference room. The young sculptor came in sullenly, never dreaming that Azalea was to be there.

When his cell-wearied harrowed eyes met the rainbows and lightnings glowing and gleaming behind her tear-drenched eyelashes, his cry was a mingling of agony and rapture.

He rather groaned than laughed as he crushed her in his powerful arms. And she was so blissful and so glad to be so hurt by his too ferent embrace that she cried herself blind.

She tried to tell Paul all that had happened and to tell everything all at once. So he had not the faintest idea of what she was saying, and had to look over her shoulder to Queripel for information and interpretation.

When he learned all clearly, his knees buckled and Azalea had to hold him up. She said:

"Go on and faint! That's what I did! It's wonderful!"

But he disobeyed her—for perhaps the last time.

HE was ready to rush for his hat and make a dash for freedom. But Kenyon had to tell him that whole spools of legal red tape had to be reeled off before he could be released from custody.

This was almost a more crushing blow than his first miserable entry into jail. But brave Azalea was there with the build-up of cheer. She said:

"When I realize how the women will mob you and how all the beautiful models will pose for your beautiful sculptures and make me look like a mess in miniature, I think I'll just arrange to have you kept in here for life. Steel bars will be a comfort, provided I can move in and share your quarters with you. Can you arrange that, Mr. Queripel?"

"I'll try," lied the very private detective.

But Paul Moody was staring at her with a gaze of adoration that seemed fairly to devour her. He drew her into his arms more tightly and said:

"Steel bars? They can be broken. But your little round arms—oh, Azalea! Ouch!"

THAT was when she clenched him so tightly that his own ribs hurt. Then their lips met and—

The jailer, being a modest man, turned his eyes away.

And so did Timothy O'Hea, who had a wife.

And so did Harley Kenyon, who could not bear the sight.

And so did Martin Queripel.

And so, no doubt, will the gentle reader.

Gulf Honors Group for Long Service

Thirty-two Panhandle employees of Gulf Oil Corporation were honored at a dinner yesterday in the Girls Scout House, Borger, for completing ten or additional five-year periods of service.

Each employee received a gold emblem ornamented with a diamond for each ten years of service and a ruby for additional five years and an engraved certificate.

The ceremony was a part of a nation-wide tribute tendered 3,766 employees this month at similar services. With the presentation of awards this year, the total number of Gulf employees having 10 or more years of service was raised to 39,990, or 45 percent of its personnel.

E. A. Weichert, zone production superintendent at Borger, hailed this record as an unusual accomplishment in continuous employment and a dramatic proof of the oil industry's contribution to national economic stability.

Weichert stated: "This achievement in continuous employment affirms a vital source of America's strength—the fellowship of sound business. The emblems presented here are lasting proof of the job security and satisfaction that lie in a mutually beneficial, productive business effort."

All employees from Pampa to receive awards are employed in the production department.

Eli Ethridge received a 30-year award. Ed W. Ray was presented a 25-year award. Honored for 20 years of service were Perry S. Coberly and William A. Fugate. Palmer J. Boyd and Lester Lov-

WACO — Mrs. A. E. Hill believes in a college education, and pretty soon she'll be hanging up the tenth Baylor University diploma earned by members of her family.

Living within the shadow of the Baylor campus, Mrs. Hill recounts proudly that she has sent all eight of her children and her late preacher husband to Baylor. Two sons took two degrees each and the late Mr. Hill and four other children took one degree each. A daughter is in school now.

"It was quite a problem keeping all the children in school," Mrs. Hill said with pride in her eyes. "At one time six children all received awards in recognition of 15 years of service."

Bedouin Tribes Get Arms From Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel — The Israeli government is issuing arms to Bedouin tribes in the Negev wilderness area to strengthen their defense against attacks by marauders. A government census of the Bedouin tribes in southern Israel showed a population of 15,000. Identity cards are being given to them.

Acid Soil Infertility Explained by Scientist

BERKELEY, Calif. — Acid soil locks up phosphate chemically and therefore makes the soil infertile says John M. Healy, University of California graduate student. His studies also disproved two old theories as to why acid soil is infertile.

First, manganese toxicity, although present in acid soils does not slow plant growth. Second is no lack of calcium. Lime applications will neutralize acid and improve plant growth, but they will not improve plant growth by making more calcium available.

Edmondsons' Deal for Club At Standstill

The Edmondsons' deal for the El Paso Texas of the Arizona League apparently is at a standstill. That was the word yesterday after the Edmondsons, Sr. and Jr., returned from a weekend trip to El Paso during which they intended to complete the deal.

Last Friday they returned from El Paso after a week's visit during which time Jack Corbett, owner of the Texans, placed a $22,000 price tag on the club. Last Saturday morning Edmondson telephoned Corbett and agreed to the established price and said that he would be down the first of the week to close the deal.

Monday the Edmondsons were in El Paso to complete the transfer, and found that Corbett didn't want to sell. At the present time Corbett is locked in a duel with minor league baseball and is reportedly preparing to sue for $100,000 because several of his players were released by George Trautman, head of the minor leagues. This lawsuit may be what caused the change in Corbett's plans to sell.

Corbett told the Edmondsons that they could either drop the suit or carry it on if they bought the club, and they replied that they would drop it. So, apparently the Edmondsons are still out of baseball.

You don't know where there is a good baseball club for sale, do you?

Sooners Like Oil Capitol

NEW YORK (AP) — Out in Oklahoma these days the citizens are taking a liking to their oil well duties to have about a horse.

Oil Capitol is the name, a name that could be plastered in headlines black as petroleum on Kentucky Derby Day May 6. The colt is in delectable news, and may start in the Blue Grass Stakes April 27.

When Oil Capitol romped to an easy seven-lengths victory last fall in the Pimlico Futurity folks began to take notice. After the colt ran the fastest Pimlico in Stakes March 3 at Hialeah since Brevity in 1926, the colt-makers made him the No. 1 winter book Derby choice.

"Oil Capitol did exceptionally well this winter," was the reserved comment of Henry Tuttle of Chicago who trains the colt for owner Tom Gray of Tulsa. Gray intended to name his star Oil Capitol for Tulsa, which calls itself the hub of the world's petroleum industry. But the last "A" was made "O" through an error in registration by the Jackey Club.

This didn't affect Oil Capitol's performance on the race track. Gray bought Oil Capitol for $15,000 from the Edmondson Farm consignment at the two-weekly autumn sales in 1948. The son of Mahmoud is a registered gray, but is actually black with a few white hairs on his legs and a grayish blaze on his face.

As a two-year-old Oil Capitol was second, and then first in his first two times out. Then he was unplaced in six of his next seven starts, and Gray possibly regretted he had rejected Clifford Moore's $40,000 offer for the colt.

Then Trotsek put blinkers on the horse, and Oil Capitol was a different animal. He kept his eyes on the business of winning races, and copped four in a row, clinched by the Pimlico Futurity before the Futurity. Trotsek said Gray turned down another offer for Oil Capitol — $100,000 this time.

Oil Capitol started 13 times as a juvenile, won six and put $194,956 in Gray's bank account. Flann Ben Jones, who has won Kentucky Derbies more than any other trainer — put the son of Oil Capitol recently.

He said Gray's colt was the only "real Derby horse" he'd seen last year or this — so far.

Rio Grande Opens First 'C' Season

(By The Associated Press)

Robstown, Harlingen, Laredo, and McAllen got away to winning starts as the Rio Grande opened its first season as a Class C League.

Robstown last night squelched Corpus Christi uprisings in the fourth inning to take a 4-3 win at Robstown before some 2,000 fans.

McAllen, playing before a home crowd, came through with one big inning to score all its runs and down Donna-Westaco, 5-1.

Laredo, also before a home crowd, beat Del Rio 7-4 in a clinched game that was delayed an hour because of light failure.

Brownsville became the only home team in the league to drop its opener as Harlingen scored two runs in the sixth on Ted Squillante's home run to pull even and then went ahead in the eighth to win, 7-6.

New Faces Grace Oiler Park; Trade Bodine to Albuquerque

The Pampa Oilers returned to their home field yesterday noon after a two-game trip through the southern half of the league during which time they dropped a wild 8-3 contest to Lamesa and then defeated the Abilene Blue Sox the next night in a narrow 5-4 ball game.

Tomorrow night they open their home night game season with an exhibition game against the Albuquerque Dukes, league champions for the past two years and playoff winners last season. Game time will be eight o'clock.

Manager Grover Seitz has named Joe Prucha, fireball right-hander, to start tomorrow night's contest and go as far as he can without willing. Prucha, drafted from Class D last winter by Edmondson, has made several other appearances this spring, but this will be his biggest test against league competition.

Seitz also reported some other changes yesterday. Wally Dunkovich, class-man outfielder, was returned to Mattson of the Mississippi-Ohio Valley League. Dunkovich's play was most satisfactory but the fact that he is a class man and that the Oilers are so far over the limit on the veterans made it impossible for Seitz to carry him. Monday night at Abilene he played a rather great ball game, getting two hits and making several fine catches and also throwing out the tying run in the last of the ninth as the runner tried to score from third.

Leonard Ziebig, limited service catcher, was released outright to Mattson, also. Ziebig came to the Oilers from the Sooner State League.

Seitz also announced that

Charley Bodine, Righthander from New Jersey who has fallen in touch with the club, was traded to Albuquerque for Walter Peluso, a sidearm righthander.

Greens Gossip

Tomorrow afternoon you get to see some mighty fancy golf by a one-armed exhibitionist that really knows the game. Jimmy Nichols, representative of the Spaulding Bros. Sporting Goods Co., will be the host of the course in Amarillo to team with Pampa's Johnny Austin in battling George Aulbach and Dick Turner. Amarillo pros. Nichols plays a spectacular game for a handicapped golfer and it is well worth the time to watch him in action.

The match is free to all fans who want to see it, and I hope that a lot of you can make it. The match itself will start about 1:30 with Nichols putting on an exhibition before that time.

I guess old Sam Sloan showed the boys from what I hear around the clubhouse. The jibes of his old cronies brought him out of retirement in a hurry, and set for the kill. Anyway, last Saturday afternoon he turned on his old buddies, those he could find, and gave them a lesson. Shorty Heiskell was the main victim. Shorty claims that Sam shot the hottest golf he ever played while Shorty never shot worse. Shorty also said that Sam was jabbering at the time, talking him out of shots.

Sunday Sam was back out hunting the boys up for more, but some of them were among the missing. He did get started around with Shorty again, however, but a high wind called a halt to the feud.

A welcome visitor in our midst the past few days has been Jimmie Smoot, young brother of Glen, and just as tough on the course. He is currently the Oklahoma state Class A golf champion and he can really ride that ball. I hope he can get back this summer for some of our top tournaments.

Despite the high wind Monday afternoon there was hardly room on the course for another player. Johnny Austin had his Harvesters out there battling Borger's Bulldogs, and winning, too. In all, there were 42 youngsters playing around.

Top score of the afternoon for the juniors was turned in by Charley Austin, who clubbed out a fine 79, including an eagle on the par 5 ninth hole.

While the youngsters were playing around the pros and top amateurs were battling it out, too. Johnny and Grover Austin, John Forman, Joe Houck Bud Abbott, Vern Farquhar and Charley Douglass found the wind much to their disliking. All of them used a number one wood on the short third hole and only one could reach the green. On number 7, the lake hole, 185 yards, they all used their No. 8 irons and four balls were over the green.

But the real damage in that game came on the sixth green, going up hill with a cross wind. Three of the boys birdied the hole, but lost it. Johnny Austin drove the green and then ran down a 30-foot putt to take the hole with an eagle. It was just the start for the local pros. He putted for eagles several other holes, too, including the 18th and 18th, but had to settle for birds.

Billy Houck, Top of Texas Tournament champion, was home for the Easter holidays from Natchitoches, Texas but he returned Monday in order to play in a match against Baylor yesterday. North Texas has the top collegiate golf team in the country.

The greens at the local club were terrific yesterday. A plug of sod about an eighth of an inch in diameter was removed about every four inches across the greens so that they can receive some air to breathe. The heavy winter traffic has packed them down so solidly that they can't get the oxygen that they need to blossom forth.

Harvesters Start District Play at Plainview Tomorrow

The Mangum, Okla., High School baseball team jumped on Billy Epps, Pampa Harvester catcher, for four runs in the last inning yesterday afternoon to break a 12-12 tie and give the Sooners a 16-13 victory. The exhibition game, played at the High School, was the final tune-up for the Green and Gold, which will open its district 1-A baseball season tomorrow afternoon at Plainview.

Paul Boswell started on the mound for the Harvesters yesterday and had things well under control until the fourth inning when everything fell apart. Errors, walks and solid base hits gave the visitors eight runs and put them into a 10-4 lead.

The Harvesters fought back, and through a six-run fifth inning which featured doubles by Dick Cook and Jimmy Parker, the Harvesters managed to get back in the ball game with a 12-12 tie. Both clubs went scoreless in the sixth and then Mangum cut loose in the seventh for the winning four runs.

The Harvesters made a mild flurry in their half of the inning, scoring one run and having the bases loaded when the game ended.

Tomorrow afternoon at Plainview it will be Howard Wells, experienced righthander throwing for the Pampans. Wells has looked good so far this season in a couple of tests. In the first game of the year he held the Childress Bobcats to but one hit in winning 5-3.

The rest of the lineup tomorrow will see Dick Cook behind the bat, Jim Parker on first, Elmer Wilson at second, Thurman Weathered at shortstop, and Jim

Longhorns Take SWC Ball Lead

(By The Associated Press)

Bibb Falk's hard-hitting University of Texas baseball team is out in front in the race for the Southwest Conference baseball title.

The Longhorns yesterday whammed Texas A&M, 12-2, to knock the Aggies out of a share of the lead and hand them their first setback of the year in conference play.

In another conference game, Underdog Rice tripped Baylor 11-9, largely on the fine relief pitching of Walter Deakin.

Texas touched two Aggie pitchers for an even dozen hits while Murray Wall limited A&M to five hits.

John DeWitt's second-inning home run raised A&M hopes, but Texas chilled them again with a three-run outburst in the third and another of five runs in the fourth.

The Baylor-Rice game was mostly hit and run, with Rice managing the more important item of scoring more runs. Baylor out-hit the Owls, 14-11.

Beaumont, Houston, Tulsa, Oklahoma City Win Openers

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

The Texas League opened its 50th campaign on a profitable — and record — note.

The profits and record came last night when 73,055 fans paid to see opening games in four cities. That was a record. So was the crowd of more than 50,000 that watched Tulsa trim Dallas, 40-5, on a makeshift diamond cut in the gridiron of the huge Cotton Bowl stadium.

Scores in two of the other three games were a little closer: Beaumont 4, San Antonio 3; Oklahoma City 7, Fort Worth 6; But Houston whammed Shreveport, 9-1.

The old opening day attendance record was 70,424 set in 1928. But that was for first games in each of the eight cities in the league. So when the clubs switch playing sites tomorrow the new record is going to grow.

The 50,000 plus crowd in Dallas topped by a country mile the old best single game crowd of 46,424 at Fort Worth in 1930.

Winning stars of baseball and the high-stepping, good-looking girl drill squad from Kilgore Junior College helped draw the big crowd at Dallas.

Tulsa didn't let the home-town mob scare it at all, banging out 18 hits, including nine doubles. Ground rules help swell the doubles total. Dallas got one.

The ten doubles was no record, but for the record the four games last night saw 20 pitchers in action, 42 runs scored, 69 base hits and six errors.

Tulsa's catcher, Hobart Landring, fractured an ankle sliding into home base in the fourth inning and probably will be out three months.

Oklahoma City came from behind to whip Fort Worth, while doubles by Gene Herbert and Marty Hanson in the eighth inning won for Beaumont.

Houston hurler Joe Presko hit a grand-slam home run to highlight a six-run outburst by Houston in the seventh inning.

The same teams met again tonight at the same sites, Tulsa at Dallas; Houston at Shreveport; Oklahoma City at Fort Worth, and San Antonio at Beaumont.

Middleground Is 2nd at Jamaica

NEW YORK (AP) — Turf experts decided today it would be wise to await next Saturday's Experimental Handicap No. 2 before passing judgment on Middleground's Kentucky Derby prospects.

Robert J. Kleberg's Texas-bred-and-owned colt made his three-year-old bow yesterday at Jamaica in the Count Fleet Purse, an allowance dash of six furlongs. He had lost by a half length to head Andy Schuttlinger's Ferd, whose time of 1:10 4-5 equalled the fastest of the meeting for the distance.

Middleground was a 2 to 5 favorite. While his defeat was a big disappointment to his admirers, the son of Derby-winning Bold Venture was not disgraced.

Ferd won two stakes as a juvenile — the youthful and the juvenile — in addition to an over-the-hill dash in seven 1949 starts. Middleground, beaten once last year in five outings, had not raced since winning Saratoga's Hopeful Stakes last August.

After yesterday's race, trainer Max Hirsch said of Middleground: "He ran a good race. He had his speed, and he was right up with Ferd from the start. I can't fault his effort."

Ferd, a non-eligible for the Derby, led all the way under Eddie Arcaro. Ferd carried 118 pounds, Middleground 117.

Longhorn League Opens 3rd Season

(By The Associated Press)

The Class D Longhorn League opened its third season last night and the year is just like it was last year, wonderfully wacky.

San Angelo used five hits, two walks and an error to score four runs in the first inning and go on to beat Ballinger, 11-3.

Vernon nipped Sweetwater, 12-11, in three hours and 15 minutes and in a game that saw a total of 26 base hits.

Odesa outthrew Roswell 17 to 11, but the New Mexicans' made their hits count more and won, 5-7.

Midland didn't have any trouble with Big Spring, winning 14-6. The difference in hits was closer: Midland 14, Big Spring 12.

Detroit Takes 1-Game Lead In Stanley Cup Playoffs

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings were off to a flying start in the final Stanley Cup playoff series today and it looked as if the New York Rangers would have a hard time catching them.

The Red Wings, playing without their top star forwards, Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe, whipped the New Yorkers 4-1 last night in a game that became one-sided after the first 40 minutes of play.

The victory put the Wings one up in the best-of-seven championship series which shifts to Toronto for games No. 2 and 3 on Thursday and Saturday nights.

The pre-game 12-5 odds in favor of Detroit to win the series went up a couple of points.

The first New Yorkers grabbed a one goal lead in the first period during which they skated rings around the Detroiters.

But the National Hockey League Champion Red Wings surged back with a four-goal blitz in the second period to tuck the game away. After that, the Detroiters played strictly defensive hockey against the Rangers' futile efforts for a tally.

The game lacked the blood and thunder atmosphere that marked Detroit's bruising semifinal series against the Toronto Maple Leafs. In fact, a goodly number of the 13,415 fans filed out of the rink in boredom midway of the final period.

New York, which surprised by slipping down Montreal in the semifinals, had a lot of tough luck.

The Rangers picked up a first period goal on Buddy O'Connor's six-foot poke, and just missed connecting on two other shots that bounced off the Detroit goal posts behind goalie Harry Lumley.

Coaches Lynn Patrick of New York and Tommy Ivan of Detroit agreed in post-game discussions that those near misses cost the Rangers the game.

Lindsay and Howe, members of the Detroiters' powerful Lindsay-Howe-Sid Abel line, watched the action from seats behind the Detroit bench. Both were injured in the semifinal round.

Indians Give Keltner Release

TOPEKA, Kans. (AP) — Kenney Keltner, third baseman for the Cleveland Indians for the last 12 years, was given his unconditional release today.

Manager Lou Boudreau conferred with Keltner last night in his hotel room and broke the news. Keltner went to the Indians from the Milwaukee Brewers.

"It was the hardest job I ever had to do as manager," said Lou. "We'd been playing together for 11 years."

Keltner now may negotiate for himself with any team as a free agent.

Mize to Test Arm

CINCINNATI (AP) — Big Johnny Mize, New York Yankee's first baseman who has had a bad shoulder since last August, is due to try his arm in a game any day now.

Johnny has not been able to throw properly although he has appeared in pinch-hitting roles this spring.

Gus Narhos is the latest Yank to meet with a mishap. The catcher was hit in the face by a thrown ball during yesterday's pre-game practice. It left a cut on his right cheek.

The Yankees beat Indianapolis, 5-3, yesterday.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Mason—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who was the first Negro pitcher to see action in a world series game?

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: Coach Bud Wilkinson returned a short while ago from the Mayo Clinic where he underwent a complete checkup to make certain he was ready to go again. . . The sight of baseball pitchers dropping their glove near the foul lines after an inning and retrieving it when they return to the mound is familiar to all fans, but the all-time great never adopted the habit. . . Cy Young, the 511 major league games, always hooked his glove to his belt. . .

CHICO CARRASQUEL, new Sox shortstop, sent the $75,000 received for knocking a home run in the Sox-Browns exhibition in Alpine, Texas, to his 10-year-old sister in Caracas, Venezuela. . . Chico knew he had won $50 when the ball went over the fence, for the prize had been posted by Herbert Kokernot, multimillionaire rancher. . .

BRANCH RICKEY, lecturing the Dodgers, declared: "A new day in base running is about to dawn. If the new balk rule is enforced, the stolen base will come back into its proper place in the record book." . . . The Jack Kramer-Pancho Gonzalez tennis tour is scheduled to wind up in Chicago's Stadium on May 21. . . Ray Murray, Cleveland Indians' catcher, has determined to settle down to serious baseball and abandon the clowning that made him famous in the minors. . .

JACKIE ROBINSON, Dodger second baseman, drew $30,000 for motion picture he made prior to spring training, and estimates say that his make may reach $50,000 because of a profit sharing clause. . . Ted Matthews, the club's new head man in the talent department, believes enforcement of the new balk rule will prove of immeasurable help to the Dodgers in the coming season because, with their speed, they can taunt pitchers into infractions of the rules. . . Frank House, Detroit's 25,000 bonus catcher, was going after a high foul in an exhibition in Florida the other day. When he failed to reach it, a Braves' bench jockey shouted: "Take that grand out of your pocket and you'll be able to move faster." . .

Jansen May Open TOPEKA, Kan. —(AP)—Larry Jansen loomed today as Manager Leo Durocher's choice to hurl the New York Giants' opener next Tuesday, against the Boston Braves. Durocher indicated a week ago that Sheldon Jones would be given the honor of hurling the inaugural at the Polo Grounds. But Jones was whacked pretty solidly by the Cleveland Indians in a five-inning stint yesterday. Jones was charged with nine of Cleveland's 10 hits and gave up three runs. Jansen, on the other hand, has been foundering in to form after a slow start and has always pitched well against the Braves. Cleveland won the game, 6-1.

Tebbetts Injured ROANOKE, Va. —(AP)—Boston Red Sox catcher Birdie Tebbetts may be unable to open the season behind the bat. He suffered a split finger yesterday and will be out for some time. The six are scheduled to play the Roanoke Red Sox, a Boston farm, here today. Right-hander Jim Suckcheck, last season with Birmingham of the Southern Association, is listed to start.

AP Writer Picks Bosox in American 'Still Texan' Says Speaker

By JACK HAND ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox look like the class team of the American League with awesome power and enough pitching to win the pennant after two close misses. All they need is a swift boot out of the starting gate. Joe McCarthy, away from the world series since 1945, figures to get the Sox off fast and slide home Oct. 1 with a little to spare. Marjoe Joe knows he can't afford another logy start. Just as a warning, we handed out the same Red Sox pennant pick the last two years. Look what happened. Cleveland in '48 and the Yankees last summer didn't pay any attention. New York and Detroit probably will make the most trouble with their fine pitching staffs. The Yanks also have that "strong bench" to help in case of emergencies. Cleveland has too many infield "ifs" despite prospects of great seasons by pitchers Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia. Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon must come back to make the Tribe contenders all the way. Philadelphia's sore arm epidemic cooled off the A's as they hoped. If Joe Coleman and Dick Fowler are in serious trouble, they are in tough shape. The other clubs are just in there to

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. ATLANTA, Ga. —(AP)—The only thing I told Dick Jones this spring was to find me an extra-point kicker and a piano player. I chuckled Robert Lee Dodd, Georgia Tech's football coach, who says he'd like to have a piano player on my team. The boys have more fun out on the road. . . Dick Jones, Tech's No. 1 talent co-ordinator, chimed in: "I've got one, coach — for two years from now. He's down at a little high school in the hills now and he's good. When he gets through with football I'm going to sign him up for a radio show." . . . Dodd, besides being one of the South's best coaches, seems to get more fun out of fooling anyone else. . . He was fooling around in spring practice but gave them up just because of that. . . "I'll retain the basic play, the quarterback keep," Bobby says, "but when the split-T is working it's a running game and I like to throw the ball. . . The fans in Atlanta want to see that, too. . . You know, I think I'd stop coaching if I couldn't throw."

HIS ONLY WEAKNESS Dodd, who used to be quite a golf fan, got to talking about the Masters Tournament and the way Jim Ferrier's game fell apart at the finish. . . That's why Bobby quit the game. . . "There's enough strain in football. I'd rather go fishing so I can relax." . . But he added he had played in one match that showed him just how Ferrier must have felt. . . Seems the boys had been wagering a few pennies on their game and they piled up until everything depended on one two-foot putt. . . The player, unchallenged at it and the ball died six inches short of the cup. . . As it trickled to a stop, the suffering golfer turned to his partner and said: "Honest to gosh, I hit it with every ounce of strength in my body."

GEORGIA GLEANINGS East Mann, who operated the Atlanta Crackers as an independent ball club for years, isn't too happy about his new bookup with the Braves. They've only provided about one or two useful players. . . Pittsburgh's Dapper Dan Club is planning to show off home boy Ezzard Charles in a heavyweight title defense this summer. . . Frank (Muscles) Stranahan, the golfer, spent considerable time talking to George (Brains) Halas, the pro football maestro in Phoenix last winter. Frank reports enthusiastically: "He has some very interesting ideas about physical conditioning." . . The golf pros still are commiserating Herman Barron on his mistaken count of eleven at one hole in the Masters. Seems he charged him with a stroke penalty each time he hit into the water when under the new rules it should be distance only — so it should have been a seven. . . Glenna Collett Vare, recently elected to golf's feminine Hall of Fame, played the Augusta Country Club course the other day — and took a triumphing from her 11-year-old son, Ned.

Digger BONER

Krichell Learned To Step Aside To Tag Tyrus Cobb

By PAUL KRICHELL Former American League catcher now chief scout for the Yankees. Ty Cobb left me with something to remember him by in a game played in Detroit in 1911. I was catching for the Browns. There was no score after eight and a half innings. We needed this game to remain in the first division. The Tigers finished second that year, and Cobb also wanted this one. He wanted them all, as a matter of fact. The Georgia Peach opened the last half of the ninth with a screeching double left center. The next batter hit a hopper to the shortstop. Cobb hit the ball, rounded third, kept right on going for the plate. He didn't wait to be batted in like they do now. This was especially true with the opposing pitcher effective. I was aware of his base-running tactics, of course, stiffened for the inevitable collision. I grabbed the throw from the first baseman, who had taken one from the shortstop to retire the batter, just in time to meet Cobb. Talk about explosions, Cobb must have been loaded with TNT. I realized my mistake immediately. Any catcher with common sense knew it was poor and highly unwise strategy to stand in front of the plate when Cobb was trying to score. The proper way to tag him — and still come out of it with life and limb — was to stand to the left of the plate, and put the ball on him as he slid in. But I was standing directly in front of him as he tore in. I remember only one thing, Cobb knocking the ball out of my hand, and it hitting the grandstand on the fly. I was mad, stunned. He was mad, but unshaken. He was a tough man. I started cussing him. He had a few dirty words of his own. The next thing I knew we were fighting. One of those baseball fights, where more words than blows are exchanged. Umpire Billy Evans fined us both. Out of the mixup, and pulling my biggest boner in baseball, I learned a good lesson. It was never to stand directly in front of the plate when Cobb was racing in with the winning run. Or any run, for that matter. Any old-time catcher who saw Ty Cobb will tell you that.

Kleiner's Kotnet

By DICK KLEINER NEA Staff Correspondent A fighter in Wichita using the name Tuzo Portuguez was kayoed in the first round. But Portuguez, in New York, says the guy was an impostor. Apparently the folks in Kansas can't tell which is Wichita. Tuzo or not Tuzo, that is the question. The Portuguez who got stopped had the name Delores tattooed on his chest. The real Portuguez doesn't have any tattoo on his chest. The only tattoo he has is the one he sometimes gets on his chin. Gene Sarazen, oldest golfer to compete in the Masters tournament, captured a new kind of award when he was named winner of a trophy for designing the best sports jacket of the year. Gene's new jacket is planned to give you complete freedom of swing — but you'll still be able to hook and slice just the same. To celebrate Connie Mack's

Golden Jubilee in baseball, his Philadelphia A's will wear gold piping around the lettering on their uniforms this season. The A's are hoping that there will be some psychological advantage to being trimmed before the season starts. Johnny Keane of the Rochester club banned sun-bathing during training at Daytona Beach. He didn't care to expose the Red Wings to sunburn. The only rays Manager Keane wants his boys to get are those from the fans. Last holdout story of the year: A pitcher approached his boss, demanding $1000 extra for every game above 20 that he won. He began the conversation by saying, "I've got a bonus to pick with you." Disgusted with his performance, Bill Starcevic of Milwaukee dropped his bowling ball into the Menowine River. You could sum up his night's work like this: He stank. It stank.

Young Alabama Veterans Building Houses For Negroes—Nothing Down, $1 Per Day

By REX THOMAS
AP Newsmaster

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—If you'd lived in a back-alley shack all your life, how would you like to buy a new two-bedroom house for nothing down and $1 a day? That's the deal offered to 451 Negro families in this birthplace of the Confederacy. The builders say it's merely a symbol of the racial outlook of the "New South."

The all-Negro housing project, one of the biggest ever developed on this side of the Mason-Dixon line, is the work of two ex-GI contractors, 32-year-old Jimmy Polmar and Henry I. Flinn, Jr., 31.

Their $3,000,000 subdivision near the outskirts of Montgomery is the newest venture in an amazing business career that began three years ago when Polmar and Flinn borrowed $5,000 and started building homes.

The Negro project will enable the 451 buyers to live in comfort on a par with the white population of a proud city where orders were given to start the Civil War. It will partly erase the blight of the filthy, half-fallen-down shanties that have been the Negro's lot.

What's more, the new houses are financed so the Negroes who need them most can afford them. The gleaming white dwellings, on landscaped lots complete with shrubbery, sell for $5,200, and payments include everything—taxes, insurance, handling costs. Negroes in even the lowest income brackets can get in on the bargain, too, because it's strictly a nothing-down-dollar-a-day proposition. Payments can be made monthly, weekly, even daily if need be.

The low price is made possible by the mass-producing operations of the Polmar-Flinn team, which is completing the new homes at the rate of 15 a day.

Actually, the houses themselves cost only $3,500. The rest of the sale price—taken in $1,000 for a lot plus $400 for taxes, insurance and handling fees.

There's one restriction: The dwellings must be occupied by the buyers. Otherwise one man could gobble up several and make a fat profit.

Polmar and Flinn are proud of the new development, but "mainly because it shows to the world that the South is taking care of its own."

"Many outsiders have a funny idea about the way the South is handling what they call its Negro problem," the Alabama-born builders continued. "Actually, living conditions are being bettered at an almost incredible rate throughout the South."

They pointed across the street to a new $1,000,000 Negro high school and a Negro hospital nearby which will cost more than that when completed.

"The New South is not something in the future," they observed. "It is already a reality."

"Polmar and Flinn"—that's what they call themselves—were flat broke when they got out of the Air Force after World War II and decided to go into the building business.

They'd never even put up as much as a doll house before, but that didn't bother them. They went to an insurance company and asked to borrow $5,000,000. They got the money and paid it back in two years.

Since they started, the young contractors have built homes for themselves and 1,497 other families at a cost of $10,500,000. They hire 400 to 500 workmen and the payroll tops $50,000 a month.

Architect Seeks To 'Get Jump' On Presidents

WASHINGTON — (AP) — White House Architect Lorenzo Wainlow is trying to get the jump on future presidents who might go in for some private alterations of the executive mansion.

He said in a speech last night that one of the major factors responsible for the present reconstruction of the White House is that each occupant has installed his "own favorite devices" without technical advice.

And he added that he is trying to foresee alterations which might be needed in the future and make allowances for them.

He also disclosed that the work is "progressing faster than expected" and may be completed by Christmas of 1951.

Reserve Board Says Buying To Stay High

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Americans appear somewhat bothered by economic prospects but nevertheless bent on boom-level buying—something that should help business stay good.

The Federal Reserve Board upped its estimate. Furthermore, it said people have less hope of general price cuts this year than last, although more than half figure that prices of cars and major household items will come down.

A board survey of consumer buying plans pointed to continued record sales of homes and autos this year, more than doubled sales of television sets, and a strong market for furniture, refrigerators, etc.

As to housing, it found more than a million persons "definitely" plan to buy new homes this year, but a growing number are determined to pay less than $10,000. About as many more intend to buy in 1951.

On the auto front, there was "preliminary evidence that middle and low income consumers comprise a larger part of the prospective demand in 1950."

Since this referred to prospective buyers of new rather than used cars, it suggested that the auto industry's best sellers are likely to be the less costly models.

The board's survey sought to find how people felt about a good many things. Here are some of the results, as announced by the board:

More think their incomes will rise this year than think they will fall—which is much what people thought a year ago, although drops in income have occurred more frequently in the meanwhile.

There is greater uncertainty about the business future than there was a year ago. But while there is "less optimism," there also is "somewhat less outright pessimism."

This year, as last, a greater proportion of consumers think their financial situation has improved over the last 12 months than thought so during earlier years, when they were complaining about rising living costs.

Nearly half consider times are good now. But a still larger proportion was willing to say that a year ago. "High income groups" feel better about 1950 than the lower income groups.

So far as workers are concerned, more than half think it would be "difficult, if not impossible, to get another job paying about the same amount of money if, for any reason, they were to lose the job which they had at the beginning of the year."

After 50,000 miles of continuous driving, engines showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth of an inch on cylinders and crankshafts! Original factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings!
- New-Car Gasoline Mileage! Amazing result: gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles of the run was as good as for the first 5,000 miles . . . actually there was an average difference for the fleet of only 4/100 of a mile per gallon! This astounding test—equal to 5 years of normal mileage—showed that Conoco Super Motor Oil, with regular care and proper crankcase drain intervals, can keep your new car new!
- New-Car Power! Quicker Starts! Yes—Conoco Super Motor Oil's extra protection keeps that factory flash . . . that showroom smoothness . . . year after year! Only Conoco Super Motor Oil OIL-PLATES metal surfaces to make your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil! Conoco Super Motor Oil virtually stops wear before it starts . . . keeps your engine new and clean! Conoco Super Motor Oil is the great new modern wear-fighter!

Guarded Even in Death, Henry Ford Lies In Unobtrusive Cemetery in Auto Capital

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT — (AP) — Henry Ford, famed auto industry pioneer, still is as carefully guarded in death as he was in life.

It was three years ago that the industrialist died of a cerebral hemorrhage. Ever since a guard has been kept over his grave in the family cemetery.

The cemetery is a simple one, about 100 by 65 feet in size. It was merely a spot on the farm of one of Ford's uncles when it first claimed one of the family.

In the iron picket fence enclosure sleep Ford's parents, two uncles, a brother and sister and perhaps 40 other relatives. Missing in the body of Edsel Ford, the elder Henry Ford's only son. He preceded his father in death and is buried in the cemetery that holds members of his widow's family.

The grave of Henry Ford is in the center of the plot. It is completely covered with a marble slab at the head of which has been embossed a plain cross. Below the cross is the simple inscription:

"Henry Ford; July 30, 1863 — April 7, 1947."

Nearby is a 12-foot high obelisk marking the grave of Ford's mother, Mary Litegott Ford, who died in 1876.

The guard at the cemetery is unostentatious, but it is maintained 24 hours daily. It is designed mainly to keep out the curious.

Henry Ford once remarked: "I'm not particularly religious, but my mother brought me up as a Christian. I have tried to live according to her teaching."

Ford believed in God. He believed in reincarnation. And he read his Bible. In it he found two favorite passages. One, from Romans XII:19, reads:

"Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written, vengeance is mine; I will repay saith the Lord."

The other, from Hebrews XI:1, reads:

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen."

In a lighter moment I once asked Henry Ford:

"What physical form would you like to have if you could return to the earth after death?"

"That wouldn't matter," he replied, earnest, "as long as I could have the same wife."

Ashes of burned money can be analyzed and redeemed.

London Boys Bored By Robinson Crusoe
LONDON — (AP) — Teen-age London boys are bored by Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe" but are avid readers of Victor Kravchenko's "I Chose Freedom." Martin Parr told the London Council of Social Service he had established this in a study of reading habits of 150 boys between 14 and 18 who use a club in Shoreditch in the east end.

California Laws Termed Illegal

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Most if not all California statutes passed in the past 40 years are against the law, says Dr. J. A. C.

Grant of the University of California. The state Constitution lays down intricate rules for passing laws which the Legislature has not followed, he says.

The courts have ruled that bills signed by the proper officials are laws. But the fact remains that most of them have not been passed by the Legislature in the manner the Constitution provides, the professor insists.

U.S. Seeking To Collect Thomas Fine

NEWARK, N.J. — (AP) — While ex-Congressman J. Parnell Thomas tends chickens in a federal prison, government officials are figuring out how to collect a $10,000 fine from him.

Thomas, former Republican representative from New Jersey's seventh district, headed the House committee to investigate un-American activities during the 60th Congress. He was later convicted on a charge of padding his payroll and sentenced to prison for six and 18 months in prison and a $10,000 fine. He has served four months of the prison term, but the fine has not been paid.

Assistant U.S. Attorney John J. Corcoran said here that he is checking means of collecting it. He said he would look into such assets as bank accounts and real estate and take steps to enable the government to take over $10,000 worth.

He pointed out that Thomas cannot be paroled until the fine is collected, and added that the collection process "would be speeded up considerably if someone volunteered the money." So far there have been no volunteers, Corcoran said.

Historical Pageant Planning Being Speeded in Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Plans for a gigantic historical pageant of the Wheeler County and Shamrock area from the establishment of old Ft. Elliott to the present, are rapidly taking shape, it has been revealed by Elmer J. Moore, superintendent of Shamrock Schools.

For the past two years, the students and faculty of the Shamrock Schools have been compiling historical data on Wheeler County. Historical documents, books, personal interviews with "old timers," Mrs. Jim Porter's first book, "Memory Cups," and many other facilities were used in compiling a complete history of the area.

The data was then forwarded to Mrs. Jack Schull, the former Margaret Nicholson of Shamrock, of Little Rock, Ark., who wrote all the introductions and narrations of the entire pageant in poetic form.

Moore stated that over 850 students will participate in the production. Denver Field will be converted into a huge panoramic stage for the show.

The pageant will be dedicated to the "old timers" of the Pampa area, with the hopes that traditions and history will be preserved. The show is tentatively scheduled for May 5.

Denver Field will seat about 3,000 persons, with extra seats to bring the total to 3,500. Climaxing the pageant will be the crowning of the May Queen, who is yet to be selected.

Falcon Dam Bids Expected Soon. EL PASO - Bids on the $47,000,000 Falcon Dam on the Rio Grande probably will be asked in the next two months. L. M. Lawson, member of the International Boundary and Water Commission, said that the commission expects bids to be asked in 30 days on construction of Falcon Village. The village will provide permanent housing for 35 to 40 families at the dam. Lawson said the terrain is being explored below the river's "Big Bend" for the site of another dam, larger than Falcon, provided for by the Mexican-American water treaty.
