SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The federal government moved today for immediate revocation of Harry Bridges' citizenship.

Such action, if successful, would open the way for a federal hearing to deport to Australia the CIO longshore boss, convicted of perjuring himself at his 1945 naturalization hearing by denying he ever was a Communist.

Reds Control Bridges Union, Panel Is Told

HONOLULU—(AP)—An avowed former Communist says Communist party members were the brains of Harry Bridges' CIO Longshore Union in Hawaii.

The House Un-American Activities Committee yesterday in Ichiro Inuka, who said he was a member of the party for 10 years until he quit in October, 1946.

The congressional group is investigating alleged Communist activity in this island territory which hopes for statehood soon. The House has approved but the Senate has yet to act.

Inuka named Jack Hall, regional director of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, as a dues-paying member of the Communist party through June, 1946. He said he himself collected dues from Hall, Bridges' lieutenant in Hawaii.

In compliance with the Taft-Hartley Act, Hall signed a non-Communist affidavit last Feb. 27. After asserting he knew that Communists formulated ILWU policy in 1946, Inuka said:

"And even today they are in the saddle. They are dictating the ILWU policies."

Inuka, who said he was treasurer of the party's Waikiki cell, testified that there were about 130 party members in Hawaii in 1946. Of these, 90 percent were ILWU members, he testified.

The witness said Communist party members heard this testimony in ILWU executive board meetings. He added:

Truman Plan May Be Halved By Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman gets a report from Senate Democratic leaders today indicating he may have to settle for a half-loaf of his "Fair Deal" program in the present Congress.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the majority leader, and Vice President Barkley were invited to a White House conference to bring the president up to date on Congress' mid-session schedule. He has just finished a four-week visit at Key West, Fla.

House leaders, still on Easter vacation, weren't expected to attend a meeting closing the president's fifth year of dealing with Congress since he took office April 12, 1945.

In advance of the session Lucas told a reporter the Senate probably will have time to handle only about eight major issues if Congress closes July 31, as he said he hopes it will.

The Illinois senator listed these: 1. Approval of the omnibus measure bill now ready for House action.

2. Passage of a foreign aid measure.

3. Approval of a House-passed social security bill.

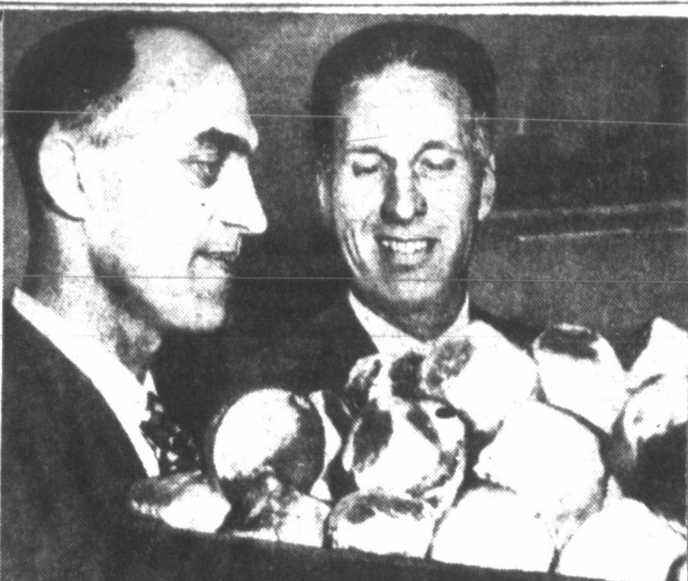

4. Action on an excise tax reduction measure.

Russian Planes Attacked By U.S. Ship, Tass Claims

LONDON—(AP)—Russia charged today that a U.S. military plane opened fire three days ago on a flight of Soviet fighters over Latvia, and said one of the Soviet planes fired back.

PAY-OFF IN TEXAS—At the convention of the American Prisoners of War in El Paso, a debt of 25 buns was paid off by Peter Karalunas, left, of Chicago. With no money available in POW camps, buns became the medium of exchange. Karalunas still owed 25 buns to Maj. Charles M. Brown of Deming N. M. (NEA Telephone)

Air Force Connects Charges With Absence of Navy Plane

A Soviet protest, lodged with the U.S. embassy in Moscow, identified the plane as a B-29 bomber, but U.S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden, Germany, said the plane in question may have been a missing Navy aircraft sought since Saturday in the Northern Baltic. Air Force officials said this plane, a Navy version of the B-24 bomber, was not armed.

This plane had 10 men aboard when it disappeared on a round-trip flight from Copenhagen, Denmark, to Wiesbaden, Germany. Called the Privateer, it had four engines like the B-29. U.S. planes have been searching for it since Saturday.

The Russians reported the shooting took place roughly 350 miles east of Copenhagen. They gave the site as Lepaya (Libani) on the Baltic Sea, and said the plane penetrated about 13 miles into Latvia, which is regarded by Moscow as Soviet territory.

Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, in his protest to U.S. Ambassador Alan Kirk, said the plane "bearing American identification marks" was sighted south of Lepaya last Saturday.

Owing to the fact that the American plane continued to penetrate into Soviet territory, a flight of Soviet planes took off from a nearby aerodrome and demanded that the American plane follow it and land at the aerodrome," the protest added.

"The American plane not only failed to comply with this demand but opened fire on the Soviet planes. Owing to this, an advanced Soviet fighter was forced to open fire in reply, after which the American plane turned toward the sea and disappeared."

Vishinsky denounced the incident as a gross violation of the "elementary rules of international law."

State Solon Due in Pampa

State Senator Fred R. Harris, Dallas, tomorrow is scheduled to address the Pampa Rotary Club at its regular meeting in the City Hall Room.

Sen. Harris, a former representative in the State Legislature is expected to center his talk on the communism problem in the state and nation.

A two-time winner of the Purple Heart, Sen. Harris saw active duty with the Navy in both Atlantic and Pacific Theaters. He was an officer of the U. S. S. Franklin that won national wide attention on its journey home after it had been dismantled and almost sunk in a naval engagement against the Japs.

Texas' Wheat Crop Poorest Since '36

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 1950 winter wheat crop will be so poor that the nation may have to dig into its 425,000,000-bushel reserve.

Texas' crop, the U. S. Department of Agriculture predicted, will amount to about 24,940,000 bushels — the poorest since the 18,927,000 bushel crop of 1936.

Drought and greenbugs were given principal blame for the poor Texas wheat prospect, which compares with a bumper crop of 102,848,000 bushels last year.

The government has accumulated the reserve of 425,000,000 bushels of wheat through its price-support program. Now some of it may be needed to meet the nation's domestic and export requirements during the coming marketing season.

An Agriculture Department survey cut 121,000,000 bushels off a winter wheat crop which last December 1 had been forecast at 85,000,000 bushels. This reduction reflected crop damage caused by dry weather and insects in the southern Great Plains.

While no forecast has been made yet on spring wheat production, it is possible for harvest below market needs, the government says, this year to drop below a prospective billion-bushel market. In that case, the surplus would be a help.

Much of the surplus is tied up under government price support programs. Should the crop drop below market needs, the government would be in a position to get back some of the money it has invested in the grain.

The crop damage slowed government plans to invoke rigid rationing of wheat.

Four Youths Found Dead On Life Raft

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The bodies of four boys who had drifted overnight on a little rubber raft were taken from the wind-chopped waters of Lake Erie today.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A Coast Guard picket boat today found four boys aboard a rubber life raft, drifting 16 hours in Lake Erie.

The picket boat asked the help of a fishing tug, the Albert S. to swing the small war surplus raft into the lee of the tug, so guardsmen could pull the boys into their boat.

Gusts up to 80 miles an hour were whipping the lake waters as the rescue effort proceeded.

A few minutes earlier a circling B-17 had reported there apparently were signs of life on the raft.

Commander Russell Waesche at Coast Guard district headquarters said the picket boat probably would pull into Fairport Harbor east of here, when it completed the rescue. Any survivors would be taken to Lake County Memorial Hospital in Painesville.

The four—Bill Boy Scout 4, and three other boys—were seen last night on a rubber life raft of the Army surplus type just before dark last night.

Of the four only three could swim. The boys were spotted still on the raft by a circling B-17 bomber, one of 12 planes employed in one of the most intensive air-sea rescue operations in Lake Erie history.

Coal Operator Kills Cafe Man, Commits Suicide

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(AP)—A coal operator, who grimly counted to ten and then fired two pistol shots, was blamed today for the killing of a cafe proprietor.

State Policeman Jerome McCavit said the man was Calvin Miller, 28, Finleyville, who later sent a fatal bullet crashing into his own brain. The victim was James Gilbert, 46, Pittsburgh.

The police officer told this story: Miller entered the tavern last night, brandishing a pistol. He forced a dozen patrons to line up against a wall. He threatened to kill Gilbert for causing him to lose a coal contract.

When Gilbert denied the charge and said he did not know who was responsible for Miller's business, Miller said:

"I'm going to count ten. If you don't tell me by then, I'll shoot you."

Miller counted to ten and then fired two pistol shots, which killed Gilbert. Miller then fired a third shot into his own head.

A verdict of first-degree murder was returned by a jury today in the case of Elwyn R. Shaw, a $1,000,000 laborer.

Poll Taxes in 1,133 Decline

There will be 1,133 fewer Gray County voters eligible to go to the polls this year than there were in 1948 for the presidential election.

The figure was disclosed this morning by a check of the county's voting potential for the coming special congressional election on May 6, and the Democratic primaries on July 22.

In 1948 poll taxes and exemption certificates were issued by Jan. 31 this year as compared to 7,447 by Jan. 31, 1948, a difference of 1,133. Poll taxes sold this year amounted to 5,555 and exemptions numbered 739.

In 1948 poll taxes amounted to 6,584 while 863 were granted exemptions.

Although the voter eligibility list declined, the county tax assessor-collector's office showed a slight increase in car and truck registrations for 1950 over last year for the same period. Until today the 1950 passenger car list amounted to 9,665 while 1949's list, for the same period, stood at 7,100. Trucks, too, showed a slight increase. Up to this time, for the current year, 1,650 truck licenses have been sold as compared to 1,300 trucks for the same period in 1949.

Louis Budenz Identified as Probe Figure

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz was subpoenaed today as a "mystery witness" Senator McCarthy wants Senate investigators to hear on his charges against Owen Lattimore.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate investigators promised to name publicly today the mystery witness who Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) says will swear he knew Owen Lattimore to be a Communist party member.

In advance of the expected announcement, practically all of the speculation at the Capitol centered on former Communist Louis Budenz, one-time managing editor of The Daily Worker, the man McCarthy is counting on.

Lattimore, Far Eastern affairs expert who has vehemently denied McCarthy's "Soviet agent" allegations, filed a request that the accuser—whenever he is—be called to testify at a public session.

Indications were that the Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating McCarthy's charge would go along on the idea of a public hearing. This would bring Lattimore and McCarthy's name face to face.

"A public meeting is okay with me," said Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), a member of the inquiry group. "I think that would be entirely proper."

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), another member of the committee, has said he is inclined to favor an out-in-the-open session.

There was some doubt, however, that the committee would grant Lattimore's additional request that his lawyers be permitted to cross-examine McCarthy's witness.

The committee has turned down other such requests, but has approved the submission of written questions which are asked by members of the inquiry panel.

Edward P. Morgan, counsel for the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges, told reporters he would make public the name of the McCarthy witness after formally presenting it to the committee at a meeting behind closed doors.

McCarthy has accused Lattimore of being Russia's No. 1 spy in the United States.

Lattimore flatly denied it under oath when he was before the committee last week. He also swore that he never has been a Communist and that he never knowingly promoted the cause of communism anywhere in the world.

McCarthy disclosed the identity of his mystery witness to Counsel Morgan yesterday, and he asked Morgan to issue a subpoena for the individual's appearance before the committee.

McCarthy said the witness, with whom he was in touch over the weekend, had agreed to testify under subpoena. Morgan said he would serve a subpoena.

Here they come over the finish line of the Chamber of Commerce $150,000 horse race. It's a photo finish. The winner could be "Shoofly," "Assault," "Ponder," "Man o' War," "Sesibacut" or "Whirlaway." Only time will tell.

Anyway the winning team is sure to get steaks at 7 p. m. today at the Country Club where the "work horses" gather to hear the results of the photo-finish race.

The chief jockey of the winning "hoss" will receive a new hat for his efforts and the "tail end" jockey will get the horse collar for his permanent property. While the winners munch on steaks, the losers will chew hay and corn.

Other teams, according to the way they finish, will eat roast beef, chili and beans, hamburgers and hot dogs.

The pair that has brought in the most money during the drive, whether they are on the first or sixth-place team, also will be awarded hats.

Rent Control Agency Fires Over 1,000

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The agency which runs the federal rent control program today began widespread firing of employees.

The office of Housing Expediter Tigue E. Woods announced that dismissal notices already have been sent to some 1,100 workers. This amounts to a one-fourth reduction in staff and will take effect within two weeks.

"Today's firings won't seriously affect the nationwide scope of rent control operations," a top housing official said.

He told a reporter that most of those given notices are in New York where the state takes over all controls on May 1.

Woods' lieutenants reported, however, that "the axe will swing again about May 1" when "another thousand or so" will be let go in rent control offices in many parts of the country.

Although the cutbacks and the announced plans for further reductions were strong indications that the agency may be planning to close up shop, there was no official statement to this effect.

The reason given by Woods' office for the "termination notices" was a shortage of payroll funds. However, key housing officials expressed belief that if Congress votes an extension on federal controls some of those fired will be re-hired.

The present national rent law dies June 30 unless renewed by legislative action.

President Truman has asked that federal ceilings be continued another year but congressional opponents of controls believe there are sufficient votes to kill the measure once and for all.

Proposals for extension of federal controls now are before committees in both the House and Senate. However, no action is expected in either chamber for at least two more weeks.

4-Point Housekeeping Plan Urged for Soda Fountains

The right equipment, personnel policy and careful choice of sanitation are "musts" for soda fountain operators, R. M. Mundine, Gray County health inspector, said.

"The health department suggests a four-point 'housekeeping' plan for soda fountain managers," he said. "They are:

"Order — Have a specific 'house' assigned for food, supplies and equipment arranged for quick service and handling.

"Supply — Keep adequate supplies on hand at the fountain.

"Schedule — Work out a definite plan and schedule for stocking, cleaning and maintaining equipment.

He said the law requires a three-vat sterilization unit. The first vat is for warm, soapy water. The middle basket is to rinse the utensils and the third vat is for sterilization, with water not under 170 degrees F.

"For daily counter cleaning," he said, "a putty knife should be used to scrape gum from the underneath side. The counter then should be washed with soapy water and dried with a towel."

From stools and seats to salt and pepper shakers, a thorough daily and weekly cleaning rouline should be laid down, he said. Refrigerators, light fixtures, display bowls, mirrors, cake stands and cake covers also should receive daily cleanings, he said.

Also included in daily cleaning should be salad display cases, malted milk mixers, dispensers and cans, coffee makers, French fryers' waffle irons and grills.

Mundine said every part of the soda fountain and adjoining room should receive "common sense" cleaning. He concluded by saying, "There is only one way to keep the required standard of maximum sanitation and that is to have a definite daily and weekly routine."

On With Square Dance Lessons -- Swing Your Partner

DIVE FOR THE OYSTER
LADY 'ROUND THE LADY
EIGHT HANDS OVER

By MARGOT MAYO
Leading Square Dance Authority

Written for NEA Service
The three simple figures in this chapter all start with two couples -- four persons -- in a circle. When the caller says, "Circle four hands around," the head couple and the couple to its right join hands.

With the dancers in this position, the caller may ask for a "dive for the oyster, dig for the oyster," like this:

"Pass right on through to a happy land."

The second couple raises its arms, and the head couple ducks underneath (sketch 1). They go through as far as they can, without letting go of the hands of the standing couple (sketch 2). Then they step back, and the two couples reverse positions. The active couple ducks underneath (sketch 3) and moves on to the next couple, performing the same figure with them (sketch 4).

Another step that starts out with two couples in a circle is the "Lady 'round the lady," which has many variations. Here's one call, which is diagrammed (center): "Lady 'round the lady and the gent around the gent; then the gent around the lady and the lady 'round the gent." You do exactly as the caller says -- first the lady circles around the opposite lady and back to position while the man circles around the man and back. Then the man circles around the opposite lady, with the lady going around the opposite man and back. Remember, ladies first -- in crossing over, the "gent" lets the lady pass in front of him.

Another step that starts from the same basic formation is "eight hands over," which is sometimes called, "ladies join your lily-white hands" (right). The two ladies join both hands across the circle. Then the men join both hands, too, but their arms are above the girls' arms (sketch 1). Next the men, still holding hands, raise their arms and lower them behind the girls' backs, as you see them doing in (sketch 2). Finally the girls put their arms around the men's backs, as in (sketch 3). With the dancers in this position, still holding hands tightly, they circle around as fast as they can to the left.

When the caller says, "break the ring," they all drop their hands. Usually, this is followed by swinging -- first the men swing their corner ladies and then their own partners.

Shower Is Given as Compliment to Mrs. E. M. Robison, a Recent Bride

A wedding shower in the home of Mrs. Otto Gross Friday evening honored Mrs. E. M. Robison. Miss Nora Murray, aunt of the bride, presided at the register, and Miss Billie Martin and Miss Jackie Gross served from the silver coffee service.

The bride's chosen colors, yellow and blue, were used in decorations. The lace covered table was centered with an arrangement of yellow roses in a crystal bowl which rested in a design of blue ruffles. Yellow candles were also set in blue ruffles. Napkins were trimmed with yellow roses and mint cups were in blue and yellow. Decorating the table were large roses and yellow ribbon streamers.

An Ancient Profession

PHARMACY is one of the oldest of all the learned professions. It had its beginning more than four thousand years ago and has been practiced in one form or another ever since. The modern drug store bears little resemblance to the apothecary shop of old, but today's pharmacist is inspired by the same honorable principles that governed the conduct of his forebears. The pharmacist's chief interests, now as then, are the relief of suffering and the prolongation of life. Prescriptions come first in our store. Your doctor may not like to recommend any particular pharmacy, but he will never complain if you bring his prescriptions to us.

Boys Club Fighters Defeat Clarendon Broncos, 5 to 4

The Pampa Boys Club boxing team turned in a 5-4 victory last night in its first bout of the season before the home crowd. It was a repeat victory for the Boys Club over the Clarendon High School Broncos who fell before the local fighters by a similar score at Clarendon earlier this year.

Tomorrow night the Boys Club will fight the Panhandle Panthers in a team match at the Junior High School, the first bout scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

Two bouts failed to go the full three rounds last night. Thomas Grantham, Pampa 160-pounder, scored a first round knockout over Elmer Clements of Clarendon when he hit the Bronco fighter with a hard right after thirty seconds of the first round. Clements, in addition to being KO'd, sustained an ankle injury to the canvas and had to be helped from the ring.

In the final bout of the evening, a 160-pound scrap, Rocky Risenhoover, veteran Clarendon fighter, KO'd John Young of Pampa in one minute of the first round in a fight that was fast and furious from the first bell. Both boys landed several good blows. Young walked into a hard right hand that did the job.

In the other team matches for the evening, Jack Moore, Clarendon, decisioned Gary Wilhelm in a bout that was fast all the way. The two little 68-pounders didn't ever stop throwing punches with the harder hitting Moore winning the close decision.

Ronnie James, fighting from his fancy lefthanded style, gained an easy victory over Don Moore in an 80-pound bout. He evened the team match. James' right hand was constantly manning the Clarendon youth and keeping him off balance.

Pampa took a momentary lead in the match when Wayne McPherson came back strong to take a close decision from Charles Stafford of Clarendon. McPherson did a good defensive job, blocking most of Stafford's blows and then countering well with his own lefts and rights.

In one of the closest matches of the night Billy Bob Adams of Clarendon outpointed Bobby Wilhelm, calm Pampa fighter. Wilhelm had Adams out on his feet at the end of the second round but became over-zealous for the knockout in the third and found himself being slowed by Adams' left hand. This bout evened the match at 2-2.

In the next bout of the night, Glen Sanders, Clarendon, look an easy win over Eugene Parks, Pampa fighter via Lefors. Sanders floored Parks twice in the second round and again in the third for the victory.

After Grantham had scored his first round KO, he again evened the bout. Delmar Cox, Pampa southpaw, won a narrow decision over Jack Trussell in a 147-pound bout. Both boys started slowly in the first round but for the next two rounds they couldn't be kept apart by the referee as they swung leather from all directions. Cox outpointed the visiting Bronco for the victory.

Dick Murray, Pampa 160-pounder, scored the team match for Pampa when he gained a split decision over Eugene Mullinax, Clarendon, a wild swinger, couldn't land against the well protected Murray and despite the fact that the final round was taken away from Murray because of a foul he won the decision.

The Young-Risenhoover fight made the team score 5-4 and ended the fighting for the night.

Texas League Swings Into Fifty-Fifth Campaign Tonight

DALLAS — (AP)—The Texas League swings into its fifty-fifth campaign tonight with a new opening day attendance record indicated.

Oklahoma City will be at Fort Worth, Houston at Shreveport, San Antonio at Beaumont and defending champion Tulsa at Dallas.

Dallas, luring the customers by playing in the giant Cotton Bowl with nine former major league greats in the starting line-up, expects to set a minor league record and possibly bite into the all-time opening day record for professional baseball, including the big leagues.

The Dallas-Tulsa game starts at 8 o'clock with Dizzy Dean, the former St. Louis Cardinal, ace on the mound for Dallas. He will pitch for the nine big league greats as they play to the first Tulsa batter. Others on the starting Dallas team will be Ty Cobb, Travis Speaker, Home Run Baker, Travis Jackson, Charley Gehring, Charlie Grimm, Mickey Cochrane and Duffy Lewis.

Here is the line-up for the opening games with starting pitchers and umpires:

Oklahoma City at Fort Worth, 8:15 p. m., 8:00 — Leroy Wheat, righthander (18-9 at Dayton, Ohio, last year) vs. Chris Van Cuyk, lefthander (14-8 at Fort Worth); umpires — Bill Wilson, J. P. Arceaus and Troy Baker.

Houston at Shreveport, 8:15 p. m., 10:00 — Joe Presko, righthander (14-9 at Omaha last year) vs. Andy Bush, righthander (8-5 at Buffalo and Nashville last year); umpires — Mike Williamson, Andy Andrews and Frank Capps.

San Antonio at Beaumont, 8 p. m., 7:00 — Bob Turley, righthander (23-5 at Aberdeen, S. D., last year) vs. Clarence Jott, lefthander (8-9 at Beaumont last year); umpires — Perry Hunter, Milt Steengrafe and Bob Smith.

Tulsa at Dallas, 8 p. m., 7:00 — Walker Cress, righthander (15-7 at Tulsa last year) vs. Tom Finger, lefthander (4-6 at Dallas last year); umpires — Chester Fowler, Fred Sigler and Frank Seery.

Sport Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS — (AP)—Ever hear of a fellow getting a trophy for failing in a sports contest? We never did until now.

The guy who fails might get a sympathetic pat on the back once in a while. But no one ever before granted an "E" for effort.

But there comes to this writer a gold football with a diamond. Engraved upon the ball is the following:

"1921. Waco 44, Hillsboro 0. For almost catching Boddy Johnson."

It carries us back 29 years—to a day when we played against the greatest football we ever saw. If it hadn't been for him we wouldn't have received the trophy.

Yes, it was on a cold November day in 1921, Waco's mighty Tigers—the team that was undefeated, untied and unscored upon and no team ever got inside its 35-yard line—were rolling methodically over Hillsboro.

There was a little to cheer about that day, however. Hillsboro was one of the few teams to hold that Waco team under 50 points.

It was late in the game and we had been sent into the Hillsboro line-up. We said to ourselves: "Here's your chance, show 'em Boddy Johnson can be stopped."

It wasn't long before Johnson started around end with the ball. We charged lustily toward the great Boddy and thought we had him angling out toward the sidelines. But he suddenly pivoted and came right at us. With a feeling of triumph we dove at the flying legs of the chunky little guy. Our arms encircled them—we thought—and we crashed to the ground. But there was nothing in the arms—we turned over. Down at the 10-yard line Boddy was running like the wind. We watched him as he sped across for a touchdown.

And that's how we "almost caught Boddy Johnson."

The gold football with the diamond came to us from Isie Fred, a man who makes a hobby of rewarding people for real or fancied accomplishments.

Isie is a Waco jeweler. For a decade now he has been handing out gold footballs, gold basketballs and gold watches and such things to athletes. It is estimated that he has given away $25,000 worth of trophies.

Fred once presented an award to a player on the opposing team because that boy had beaten Waco.

But a fellow doesn't have to be a champion nor does the team have to win a game to get an award from Isie. A good showing or a strong effort is just as commendable in the eyes of this generous man, one of the finest sportsmen of the time.

We wrote Isie our thanks for the gold football and we wrote Jinx Tucker, the Waco sports writer, a letter of thanks for contributing the chain from which it will hang. We told both of them that we hadn't done much that day 29 years ago but we had had the privilege of playing against the greatest gridders of the era or any other era. That was reward enough but still we certainly like that gold football with the diamond and the gold chain.

We're one fellow who got more than "E" for effort.

Most everybody is nominating a man for the job of executive secretary of the Southwest Conference to succeed Jimmie Stewart when the latter becomes vice president and general manager of the State Fair of Texas.

And there are some mighty good men advanced — Weldon Hart, assistant newspaperman; Homer Norton, former coach of Texas A&M; Abb Curtis, one of the finest athletic officials in the nation; Dana Z. Bible, athletic director of the University of Texas.

Certainly there's nothing wrong with any of those capable men. But we'll make a nomination, too. The more the merrier, et cetera.

How about Flem Hall, sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram? He's been at the pulse of Southwestern sports for many years and knows all the answers. He would be a capable and fearless secretary or commissioner or whatever the office will be called.

And of a certainty the sports writers would get all the news.

Ten Umpires Charge Seitz, Eject Two in Hot Battle

ABILENE—(Special)—Grover Seitz' Pampa Oilers demonstrated cool courage and no mean ability here Monday night to defeat their West Texas-New Mexico rivals, the Abilene Blue Sox, 5-4.

The quality of playing was up to that of mid-season form, and so was heated rivalry, as well as the rhabarbs. Manager Stubby Greer was chased and so was a Pampa player who did not enter the game—but who argued from the dugout.

There were enough umpires to do the chasing, too. Ten members of the Longhorn League staff worked the game. Four of them for the first three innings, three each in the last two sections. By pre-arrangement and for a gag, the whole crowd of ump's "charged" Manager Seitz when he criticized the second pitch of the ball game. The first two pitches were nullified.

Wally Dunkovich and Jim Martin led Pampa's seventh-inning attack against two Abilene pitchers with two bingles each. Roy Parker, ace lefthander of the Oilers, pitched six innings of one-hit shutout baseball while his team was taking a one-run lead on Joe Fortin's double in the fourth.

Fortin's double scored Virgil Richardson, who had walked, for the first run of the game.

The Oilers worked Abilene's starting pitcher, Lon Dunn, for two hits in the seventh to score two more runs. After Richardson was safe on an error and advanced on a wild pitch, Dunkovich sent him home with a single to center, the third hit off Dunn. Then Jim Martin doubled to left, scoring Dunkovich.

Bill Garland, another lefty, relieved peppert Parker and was lucked for three hits, a walk and two runs in the home half of the seventh. Pampa protected its lead with a run in the eighth off relief pitcher Efraim Valdes. The Oilers added another in the ninth for a 5-2 lead when Dunkovich singled, stole second, moved to third on Martin's single, and scored on Bob Rose's hot ground-er to first.

Abilene threatened in the ninth, scoring twice on a walk, a couple of errors and three singles, but good throwing from the outfield by Lutz and Fortin nipped two runners at the plate to keep the Blue Sox from tying the score.

The Oilers returned home last night immediately after the game and were scheduled for a workout this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Thursday night they open their home night game season with an exhibition contest against the Albuquerque Dukes in a game set to start at 8 o'clock. Friday they go to Berger and then return home.

Pitchers Trouble Bums ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—

Pitching troubles continue to plague Manager Burt Shotton of the Dodgers. With Ralph Branca's sore elbow still bothering him, and Rex Barney returned to Vero Beach for further training, the Brooks yesterday cut young Bob Milliken from the squad.

Milliken, who was on the Fort Worth, Texas League, roster, was promoted to Montreal in the International League. Shotton said he thought the youth was a corner, but needed seasoning.

Jack Banta, another ailing flinger, yielded but one unearned run last night in teaming with Phil Haugstad for a 10-1 Dodger triumph over Macon.

Yale won the eastern intercollegiate league swimming championship nine times in the last 12 years.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Mason—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Did any player ever play for two major league clubs on the same day?

FRED SAIGH, popular owner of the St. Louis Cardinals has unleashed an attack on the Brooklyn Dodgers management, namely Branch Rickey, accusing him and his strong chain of farm clubs of building lemons into watermelons and peddling them for fabulous prices. Saigh charges that the Rickey regime has taken medium calibre material and through strong press-agenting built it into glittering stars.

While I am inclined to agree with Saigh because Rickey has hooked my favorite club, the Chicago Cubs, time and time again I don't believe that he has any room to squawk because I can't recall him being victimized by Rickey any more than being beaten out of a National League pennant. Then there were the days before Saigh's taking over the Cardinals when Rickey was front man there and was operating in the same manner.

Baseball clubs have sufficient scouting systems to thoroughly look over any players that they are considering purchasing, so they don't have to go entirely on Rickey's baloney. Rickey sets fabulous prices on his rookies and these purchasing clubs aren't forced to meet them if they don't feel the player is worth the money.

If there is any squawk coming it should be out of Boston, where the Braves hooked pretty nearly everything but the peanut roster to get the contract of speedy Sam Jethroe, purportedly brilliant outfielder from the Dodger's International League farm club. So far Jethroe has been a complete "just," though the past week he has shown signs of possibly snapping out of the lethargy he has been in.

Baseball is a big business. If you don't believe it ask Doug Mills or R. L. Edmondson. Rickey is in it to make money, and if Saigh wants to donate to the cause I am sure that Rickey is more than willing to receive. It sounds as though Saigh is a bit unhappy over the fact that Brooklyn has taken over the spotlight that the Cardinals owned for so long that National League champions and also of having the most productive farm system. Saigh is just shouting "sour grapes."

Did you know that Oklahoma has surrendered its high school and collegiate wrestling supremacy to Iowa and it's going to take a lot of hard work to get it back. At least that's what Fort Robertson, Oklahoma wrestling coach, says.

"There are now 50 high schools wrestling in Iowa as compared to only about 20 in Oklahoma. The recent Iowa AAT meet drew a record total of 243 entries. This tends to build up a tremendous competition which improves quality," Robertson says.

The Sooner coach, home from a trip to the National Collegiate meet where Oklahoma A&M finished fifth and Oklahoma much lower, declared that "those Iowa

Buc Pitchers Vexed Over Balk Rule

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirate pitchers are irritated by baseball's new balk rule and Manager Billy Meyer suggests umpires use stopwatches if they want to enforce it properly.

Meyer and his hurlers figure the rule is taking some of the action away from baseball. And the Buc leader predicts fans will be irked frequently when balks are called during the upcoming season.

This is the situation which not only has Pirate pitchers watching themselves but has caused much discussion in spring training.

The old rule concerning the pitcher coming to a "set position" with runners on the bases stated: "Set position shall be indicated by the pitcher when he stands facing the batter with his entire pivot foot on, or in front of, and in contact with, and not off the end of the pitcher's plate, holding the ball in both hands in front of his body and coming to a complete stop."

In the 1950 rule book the new phrase now says "coming to a complete stop of at least one second."

Meyer says the umpires aren't consistent in calling that one-second stop, declaring: "Some will pass the pitcher's delivery as long as he stops before delivering the ball, regardless of how long he stays there."

"Others are making the pitcher pause for at least a full second. 'I'd like to, see them make the rule consistent.'"

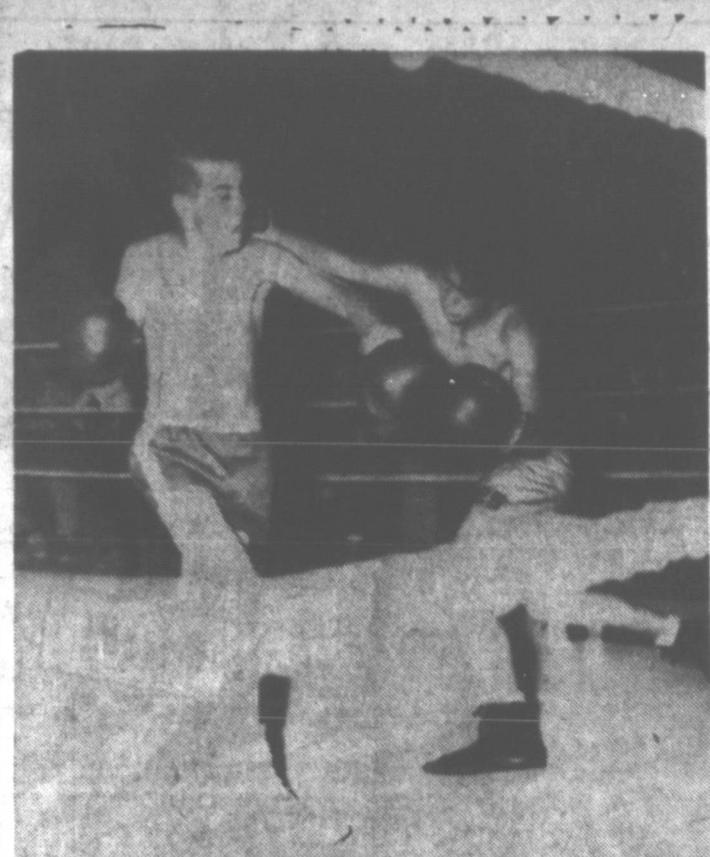

In the Bucs' first 27 exhibitions, 16 balks were called on Pirate pitchers and 20 on their opponents.

Meyer said that calling the rule will make it "tough on the umpires, especially in close games."

"Sometimes the game will be tied in the ninth with runners on first and third with two out and the umpire will call a balk, sending in the winning run. The 30,000 fans who might be sitting in will go home with a sour taste."

"They paid their money to see action and there is no action in calling balks."

Meats of the Brazil nut can be used as candles.

Club Owners Withhold Suits To Await Action on Proposal

EL PASO — (AP) — Two club owners today were holding up suits attacking the authority of baseball's minor league governing powers.

Jack Corbett and Julio Ramirez say they're awaiting answers to new proposals made to George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The two men — owners of clubs in the Class C Arizona-Texas League — are threatening court action to set aside Trautman's ruling nullifying contracts of some of their players. Trautman held the players still had contractual obligations to the Mexican League.

Trautman has made it clear that he does not intend to see another outburst in the now dormant "player war" between U.S. and Mexican baseball.

Corbett, owner of the El Paso club, said first he would file suit in federal court here yesterday. Yesterday he said the suit would be filed today. Last night he said the suit would not be filed until Trautman answers his latest proposal.

Ramirez, owner of the Juarez Club, has generally been following Corbett's lead in the planned action.

Corbett last night said he had proposed: A meeting in Mexico City to settle the dispute of the owners of the eight Mexican League clubs, the owners of the Juarez, El Paso, and Mexicali, Mex. clubs (all border points), and the Executive Committee of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

Ramirez has proposed to withhold his suit if the association will let him play Felipe Hernandez, the player affected by Trautman's ruling, until the matter is settled.

Charles Hurth, New Orleans, chairman of the association's Executive Committee, last night said he had wived Corbett and the general manager of Juarez that the committee planned a hearing on the case. He said he had asked Trautman for a complete file on both cases and that the committee would meet as soon as it could get together.

Trautman said he talked by telephone to Corbett yesterday and told him he would have to contact the Executive Committee.

"The matter of listening to the appeal is entirely in the hands of the Executive Committee," Trautman said.

Under baseball law, if a party would meet as soon as it could get together.

The contracts of three El Paso players were nullified, but Corbett is interested in keeping only one, outfielder Ventura Morales. One Juarez player, Hernandez, was affected, several other players on various clubs also were found still to have contractual obligations to the Mexican League.

Gloom Over Henrich
INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — All was gloom in the New York Yankees clubhouse today. Tommy Henrich's chronically ailing left knee was bothering him, and he was forced to detain and head for Baltimore and a consultation with Dr. George Bennett at Johns Hopkins.

Manager Casey Stengel said it was a "minor" condition, but speculation immediately arose that Tommy would not be available for the opener with the Boston Red Sox a week hence.

"When I try to dive," Henrich explained, "the knee gives. I have been taking it as easy as possible, but it won't come around."

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., ATHENS, Ga. — (AP) — The University of Georgia has finished spring football practice, but some of the boys were out "on their own" yesterday — and in a downtown restaurant Coach Wally Butts was discussing the situation in a way that resembled a country-boy version of his pal Frank Leahy's famous weeping act.

"I'd like to know how some of these coaches get the boys out ten or twelve weeks," drawled Wally. "I couldn't persuade them to do it. We had five weeks and now they're just running around in shorts. Last week we tried a split practice. They learned a lot the first three weeks but after examinations and the spring holiday they had to get in shape all over and didn't learn a thing. And do you know what Bobby Dodd (he's the Georgia Tech coach) said? He said with those cold strikes in Pennsylvania and Ohio my boys were too busy reading the labor news to pay any attention to football."

IT'S A ROUGH BUSINESS
Expounding on his team's prospects, Butts insists the schedule is too tough for the squad. The opposition ranges from Boston College in the East to St. Mary's in the West and every game is hard. "We got to make money to support our entire sports program," says Wally. "We don't get any money from the university. I don't know how much we'll make at St. Mary's. I started to schedule last night when Jimmy Phelan was here and now I find we're going to have some competition. And I hear talk of playing the Boston College game at night. Those boys up there are so big I think we ought to have daylight so we can see them and get out of the way."

The boys have to be strong and willing to play in this league, especially the T quarterback the way they treat him around here. They got to put their heads down and go into that line; we can't have them peeking around the corners."

Incidentally, after the crying towel is sopped, Wally admits his team may do fairly well if Mal Cook, a six-foot-four quarterback who looks more like a tackle, lives up to expectations.

DOING A SLOW AUBURN
Best chuckle around the Georgia campus comes from a baseball game against Auburn the other day. The visitors were leading 3-0 with two out and two on base in the ninth. . . . The next batsman hit a fly. The Auburn centerfielder grabbed it and tried to put the ball in his hip pocket in the same motion. . . . Instead he dropped the ball and two runs scored. A few minutes later the first baseman, making an equally fancy gesture, stretched out to take a throw and let the ball glance off the tip of his glove. . . . Another run came in and Georgia won in the tenth.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Bucky Harris (in a New Orleans newspaper): "Eros Stengel should be held up to every American boy as an ideal. His name should be in school textbooks along with this country's heroes. . . . He never quit. He never will. He won't ever let down. . . . He is the greatest competitor ever to put on a big league uniform."

Browns Claim Hurler
AUSTIN — (AP) — The St. Louis Browns claimed a home-town southpaw from the New York Giants yesterday on waivers.

Pitcher Louis Slesler, 22, was born in St. Louis, but now makes his home in Baltimore. He has been in organized baseball since 1944, but saw little action until 1947.

It's Either a Page or Platoon; Fewer Pitchers Go With Units;

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
SARASOTA, Fla. — (NEA) —

It was pointed out to Joseph Vincent McCarthy that the Red Sox bench again was bare.

As though the winningest manager of them all didn't know it, "Well, you either have to go without too much depth elsewhere or pitchers," says Joe McCarthy indicating that he still prefers the chuckers.

Could it be that the great McCarthy is outmoded?

Hardly. A more sensible explanation of the strange Sox set-up is that McCarthy has no Joe Page.

The Yankees of last season and other clubs of more recent campaigns definitely have established the fact that the unit system is here to stay in baseball as well as on football.

What made this possible was that the vast bulk of the pitching was done by Raschi, Reynolds, Byrne and Lopat, backed by the incomparable Page and his hose. Between them they accounted for 81 games, and the Bronx outfit took it all with 97.

That's why Joe Page gets $35,000, a record salary for a fireman which should be a lesson for pitchers objecting to going on relief.

Cubs Clip Cards
HOUSTON — (AP) — Gerald Staley is the St. Louis Cardinal pitching nomination to face the Chicago Cubs tonight.

He'll go to the distance if the Cubs cooperate.

And if they don't, he would be as fortunate as his teammate George Munger. Munger was charged with last night's 4-3 loss to the Cubs but his hometown Houston admirers presented him a new car.

MY BIGGEST BONER

Ward Hits Plate With Fancy Step, Finds Himself Doubled at Second

By CHUCK WARD
Former National League shortstop and Rutgers coach, now scouting for the Phillies.

I was on second, and the Dodger also had a man on third with one out in a game played before a big crowd at Ebbets Field in 1921.

A ball was well hit to the outfield, and I foolishly took it for granted that I would have a base hit, took off for the plate.

The runner on third must have tagged up, and started for the plate after the catch.

Anyway, I just kept going, and felt so good about the situation that I gave the old fancy Dan approaching the plate.

Duekel Sr. was on third, and I saw him hop, skip and jump you ever saw, hit the rubber with both feet and bounced into the air "scoring" behind the man who was on third. My, but I was gay.

Imagine my embarrassment when I saw half of the Brooks out of the dugout and pointing to second base, where I was a neatly being doubled.

You can imagine what those incredible Brooklyn fans did to me. I wished I could have buried my head in the ground.

I had my share of bad days in eight-and-a-half years as a National League shortstop and 19 seasons in organized baseball.

But I'll never forget kicking four balls in one game several weeks after replacing the great Honus Wagner at shortstop for the Pirates in 1916.

Another one I'd like to forget is going to bat 10 times for the Dodgers without a hit, or even getting on base, in the record 26-inning, 1-1 tie between Leon Cadore of our club and Joe Oeschger at Braves Field, May 1, 1920.

Making this marathon all the more unusual is the fact that the clubs played 19 innings in Flat-and afternoon games of a Memorial Day bill at Chicago, May 30, 1922, the Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals swapped outfielders, Max Flack for Cliff Heathcote. Both players went hitless in the morning game, both connected for their new owners in the afternoon, Flack making one single for the Cards and Heathcote two for the Cubs. The Chicagoans won both games, 4-1 and 8-1.

An expert card player can afford to indulge in optimistic bidding occasionally, and often makes a game that a less confident player would fail to bid. In today's hand South was undaunted by his partner's minimum response to his opening bid.

and proceeded to bid the hand to a slam. His play, however, was not based on optimism. By careful planning before playing to the first trick, he found the way to make the contract.

If he had used his low trump to ruff the opening lead of the king of hearts, he would have but he carefully ruffed with ten of spades. Now he led the ace of spades, winning the first two with the ace and king and the third with the seven in dummy. Next, dummy's last heart was led and trumped.

After cashing the final trump, South ran off four rounds of clubs. When West played low, he diamonds, then led the three of finessed dummy's ten-spot, and East won with the jack.

East could do nothing but return a club and give the optimistic bidder his contract.

Newspapers Are Commended by Health Officer

AUSTIN — A highly-placed state official has given Texas newspapers a pat on the back.

State Health Officer George W. Cox, veteran of more than 25 years as head of the State Department of Health, called the Texas press a "more potent force in mass public education" and said his department invariably turns in that direction as the first means of reaching the people with information on health subjects.

"Texas newspaper editors and reporters have consistently shown an awareness of public health problems and have given unstintingly of much valuable space to stories relating to public health," Cox said.

"I can define public health in three words — mass public education," the health officer said. "Without newspaper cooperation, such education is literally an unobtainable ideal."

Pointing out the custom of rural people to read their local weekly or semi-weekly thoroughly, Cox said he was especially happy that these papers used state and local health department releases.

"It's one of the most valuable services a paper can render its readership, but then maybe I'm a bit prejudiced," he observed.

Radio is an especially valuable outlet for information relating to venereal diseases, Cox indicated, because of the availability of professionally prepared recordings on the subject. More than 100 Texas stations have used the recordings during the past year.

On the same theme, Dr. Cox said well over 600,000 persons have seen the department-produced motion picture short subject "What's the Disease?" in which syphilis information is presented.

Nursing Program Is Given Bigger Spot

WACO — Education for nursing is given greater emphasis in strength in an enlarged program adopted by the Baylor University Board of Trustees at their annual meeting here.

Transfer of the School of Nursing from Dallas, where it was established with the College of Medicine in 1903, to the main Baylor campus at Waco is a major part of the enlargement program. Provision also is made for the student to receive a degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing on the successful completion of four years work.

President W. R. White announced that Dean Zora A. Fiedler of the School of Nursing will move to the Waco campus May 1 to set up the new program here. First classes will start with the beginning of the long term of school in September.

Spanish Students to Visit Texas Tech

LUBBOCK — "Se Habla Espanol" signs will dot the Texas Tech campus April 15 when some 1,000 high school and college foreign language students hold their annual Pan-American festival here.

Alfred B. Strehli, Tech assistant professor of Spanish, said the students from New Mexico and West Texas have been invited through the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. He said the purpose of the fiesta was to "foster and encourage Pan American studies in civilization, cultures and languages in high schools and colleges."

Hospital Fire Disasters Spur Checkup Plan

AP Newsfeatures
 A total of 1,359 hospitals throughout the country have been given careful checkups for fire and accident hazards since the start of a nationwide inspection program inspired by the disastrous hospital fires at Effingham, Ill., and at Davenport, Iowa. The death toll in the Effingham tragedy a year ago was 76. In the Davenport fire last winter 41 persons died. The Davenport hospital had been scheduled for inspection a few days after the date on which it burned. More than 1,700 engineers and field men from fire and casualty insurance companies are engaged in making the inspections. They draw up specific recommendations for improving each hospital's safety. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that more than 3,000 other hospitals are scheduled for checkups this year and that a total of 9,000 institutions will be surveyed before the program is completed. Col. Ferrin C. Cothran, vice-president of the Phoenix Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., who is chairman of the special committee on hospital inspections, says "the scope of these inspections goes beyond the correction and elimination of hazards to life." "We hope," he says, "that one of the most lasting results will be improvements in the training of hospital personnel and increased consciousness of fire dangers on the part of all who operate hospitals." "How important this can be was demonstrated only recently when fire destroyed part of the Sauk County Hospital, near Reedsburg, Wis. Employees of that hospital had been trained in fire safety. While three employees fought the fire with inside hose lines, other employees removed 100 mental patients from the building. Help was quickly summoned from nearby fire departments. This emergency was so well controlled that employees and some mental patients were able to re-enter the building to remove all mattresses, bedding, clothing and store-room supplies so that if the whole building had been destroyed these supplies would have been available for the patients in other quarters. "Fortunately not a patient lost his life or was injured and the building was saved."

RFC Decides to Bring Suit

RECONSTRUCTION FINANCE CORPORATION, the government agency which reaches out for political influence by making good-sized loans here and there, has finally decided to bring suit against Lustron Corp.

This is a home prefabricating company of Columbus, Ohio, which has borrowed a total of 37 and one-half million dollars from RFC over the past five years.

Lustron's prefab idea was sold apparently with not too much effort — to the New Deal bigwigs, notably Wilson Wyatt when he was the Federal Housing administrator.

Several times Lustron came back for more money, with the story about the same: "Just let us have a few more millions of taxpayers' money and we'll really be rolling."

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1950) Welburn Mayo, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of California, has accused Jimmy Roosevelt, his opponent, of having tried to interfere with the operation of a gambling ship which operated off Los Angeles.

Waiting the question whether he did or didn't, Jimmy's weakness for peculiar business is well authenticated through his venture as president of National Grain Yeast at the behest of Frank J. Hale, and his later filing at the state court with a corporate derivative of the old Mills Novelty Company, of Chicago, the original producers of the one-armed bandit. This latter was an ambiguous episode.

The Mills Company appears never to have operated the bandits but sold them to operators and distributors and therefore had an important motive to try to strike down official prejudice against them.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER Albert Tangora, for many years the world's champion speed typist, once revealed the secret of his amazing speed.

Practice typing slower, he said. If you can type 80 words a minute, deliberately practice for a week typing only 50 words a minute.

Flowers for banquets should be cut with a razor, states a horticulturist.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLLES "Charity, Pure and Political" I continue to quote from this great essay from Analysis magazine:

"One cannot exploit what does not already exist. It is the fact that Charity is inherent in the nature of man that commends it to cunning cupidity or arouses the arrogance of intellectual conceit; it is this fact that serves the self-seeking politician and the impatient fabricator of social orders.

"But how else can the planner plan? From Plato to Karl Marx, from the Poor Law of early England to the current National Health Act, the necessity of denying the individual and of creating a transcendent collectivity is apparent.

At the end of the long run, the social order seminate in the wreckage of the individuals who compose it, and nothing can be done in the way of an improvement program until these individuals are discounted.

National Whirligig

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — National Chairman Guy Gabrielson's inability to revitalize or reconstruct the Republican Party has become so evident that GOP leaders on and off Capitol Hill are scouting around for a new heirman, even on the eve of next November's congressional elections.

He should never have been chosen in the first instance, for he had no previous acquaintance with the national political scene.

STOPGAP — It is true that, besides his inexperience, Mr. Gabrielson was elected as a stopgap chairman. He was placed in office by an embittered group of politicians chiefly interested in preventing an out-and-out Dewey, Taft or Stassen man from climbing into the chairmanship.

Oil Output in 4th Straight Weekly Gain

TULSA — (AP) — The nation's crude oil production increased its daily average by 123,125 barrels during the week ended April 8, the fourth straight weekly gain, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

It raised the total daily average, the Journal said, to 4,932,425 barrels.

Increased state allowables helped to record large increases in the mid-continent section but the Rocky Mountain region's output dropped for the week.

Biggest gain was in the nation's biggest petroleum producer — Texas, up 123,776 barrels to 1,952,550, highest for the state since the week ended last Dec. 19. Oklahoma hit its highest since Feb. 5, up 18,550 barrels to 449,150.

Other sizeable increases were reported for Louisiana, up 3,800 barrels to 511,500; Illinois, up 3,100 to 183,900; the Eastern fields, 1,200 to 61,000, and Indiana, 1,200 to 29,200.

Major losses were in Kansas, down 9,450 barrels to 256,950; Wyoming, off 7,800 to 149,200; Mississippi, 5,000 to 93,500 and New Mexico, 3,075 to 125,800. California lost 1,600 to 859,100 and Colorado was off 1,800 to 48,400.

LUBBOCK — A cattle-fattening experiment at Texas Tech has demonstrated the wisdom of buying calves in the fall and having them ready when grazing is available.

The research project began in November, 1948, and has been concluded following three separate phases of feeding. Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel reported.

For 172 days the winter stocking phase was in progress, and at the end the estimated gross profit was $31.26 per head. The grazing of yearlings took 185 days, and an estimated gross profit

Strike Cuts Texas Company Refining Capacity One-Fifth

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Texas Co. says that a strike of CIO oil workers has cut its refining capacity about one-fifth.

The walkout, which began last week, closed down plants at Port Arthur, Texas, with a refining capacity of 190,000 barrels a day; Port Neches, Texas, 40,000 barrels; Casper, Wyo., 12,000 barrels; Lawrenceville, Wyo., 27,000 barrels and Lockport, Ill., 60,000 barrels.

Company spokesmen said last night that the strike by the Oil Workers' International Union involved proposed changes in Texas pension plan, and accident and sick benefit plan, determination of job duties and the 36-hour week. No demand was made for increased wages, they said.

The spokesmen said the company had offered to improve its benefit and pension plans and include these in the labor contracts. Company officials said the company believes the union is trying to force Texas to bargain on a national basis instead of plant by plant.

In Denver last night, O. A. Knight, OWIU president, said that "as of now" the union would sign on a plant-by-plant basis if the company offered a contract acceptable to the union. This position may change, he said.

"We've been trying to get some way to get collectively bargaining," Knight said, "and we can't do it under the present system. The company insists on negotiating everything — including pensions — on a local basis when the local management has no authority to negotiate."

Abandoned fields are estimated, on the average, to contain about 35 percent of their original reserves. Wells are shut down because their production has dropped to such a point as to make their operation uneconomical or because the flow has dwindled to nothing even with the best known methods of recovery.

The No. 1 long-range problem, on which studies have been going for a year at the bureau's Bartlesville, Okla., laboratories, is the finding of ways to recover all or most of that remaining 35 percent.

Methods already developed to get all oil possible out of a well, after the conventional pumping methods no longer produce a flow, fall roughly into three categories:

1. Pumping natural gas back into the well. This is the usual method where gas is available and no ready market for it exists.

2. Pumping air into the well. Two principal objections are countered: A damaging fire or explosion may result when oxygen in the air ignites gas. Air also increases damage to pipes through corrosion.

3. Pumping water into a well, forcing the oil to rise in the sand.

This method has become increasingly popular. At the beginning of last year there were 172 water-flooding projects in Oklahoma, controlled by 82 operators, as compared with 73 projects and 42 operators in 1942.

A method under study, but which laboratory tests so far indicate is not feasible, calls for thinning the remaining oil by heat to make it more recoverable.

Heat is applied to oil-bearing sands, the temperature being increased gradually to about 234 degrees. The difficulty arises in that the heat bakes the sands until they are no longer porous.

The Russians claim to have had some success with a method in which underground gas is ignited by an injection of air and an electric arc. As soon as the oil-bearing strata are sufficiently heated the air is cut off to extinguish the fire.

Another phase of the bureau's report treats with the "shooting" of wells to start production when they have been drilled to the vicinity of oil sands.

Using nitroglycerine as the principal explosive, the industry to date has set off charges largely on a hit or miss sort of basis, the bureau says.

If a nearby well has been brought in successfully with a shot, a similar size charge usually is expected to do the job again. But the industry soon may employ only "tailor-made" shots.

Studies now underway, the bureau reports, indicate the kind and intensity of explosive should be determined only after a careful analysis of the strata to be blasted. What might be just right in one well could ruin another; for instance, too much heat in some would glaze the formation like a pottery bowl and seal off the oil, or too violent an explosion could drive the drillers' mud into the sand and do the same damage. One method developed by the bureau, and found practicable in areas where certain limestone strata exist, calls for application of acid to penetrate to the oil sands.

At its Louisiana, Mo., plant the bureau has shown that liquid fuel can be produced efficiently from coal although more expensively than from natural petroleum.

And at Rifle, Colo., the bureau is successfully producing gasoline from oil shale. Cost of mining the shale has been reduced to a point where economic use of it is possible, the bureau reports.

Mines Bureau Report Cites Progress Since Agency Began Oil Research 30 Years Ago

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some 30 years ago the petroleum industry, then just a fledgling compared with its size today turned to the government for aid and advice.

The Bureau of Mines, established a decade earlier to deal with safety and production problems of the coal industry, was considered the logical agency to cope with the oil industry's troubles.

So it is that the mines bureau, a unit of the Interior Department, today has jurisdiction over research and experiments of importance to the petroleum and natural gas industries.

The extent of its activities are reviewed in the annual report of Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman and an accompanying report by the bureau of its work with liquid and gaseous fuels.

Both reports deal in detail with developments over a period of many years in ways of recovering more and more oil from known deposits.

Abandoned fields are estimated, on the average, to contain about 35 percent of their original reserves. Wells are shut down because their production has dropped to such a point as to make their operation uneconomical or because the flow has dwindled to nothing even with the best known methods of recovery.

The No. 1 long-range problem, on which studies have been going for a year at the bureau's Bartlesville, Okla., laboratories, is the finding of ways to recover all or most of that remaining 35 percent.

Methods already developed to get all oil possible out of a well, after the conventional pumping methods no longer produce a flow, fall roughly into three categories:

1. Pumping natural gas back into the well. This is the usual method where gas is available and no ready market for it exists.

2. Pumping air into the well. Two principal objections are countered: A damaging fire or explosion may result when oxygen in the air ignites gas. Air also increases damage to pipes through corrosion.

3. Pumping water into a well, forcing the oil to rise in the sand.

This method has become increasingly popular. At the beginning of last year there were 172 water-flooding projects in Oklahoma, controlled by 82 operators, as compared with 73 projects and 42 operators in 1942.

A method under study, but which laboratory tests so far indicate is not feasible, calls for thinning the remaining oil by heat to make it more recoverable.

Heat is applied to oil-bearing sands, the temperature being increased gradually to about 234 degrees. The difficulty arises in that the heat bakes the sands until they are no longer porous.

The Russians claim to have had some success with a method in which underground gas is ignited by an injection of air and an electric arc. As soon as the oil-bearing strata are sufficiently heated the air is cut off to extinguish the fire.

Another phase of the bureau's report treats with the "shooting" of wells to start production when they have been drilled to the vicinity of oil sands.

Using nitroglycerine as the principal explosive, the industry to date has set off charges largely on a hit or miss sort of basis, the bureau says.

If a nearby well has been brought in successfully with a shot, a similar size charge usually is expected to do the job again. But the industry soon may employ only "tailor-made" shots.

Studies now underway, the bureau reports, indicate the kind and intensity of explosive should be determined only after a careful analysis of the strata to be blasted. What might be just right in one well could ruin another; for instance, too much heat in some would glaze the formation like a pottery bowl and seal off the oil, or too violent an explosion could drive the drillers' mud into the sand and do the same damage. One method developed by the bureau, and found practicable in areas where certain limestone strata exist, calls for application of acid to penetrate to the oil sands.

At its Louisiana, Mo., plant the bureau has shown that liquid fuel can be produced efficiently from coal although more expensively than from natural petroleum.

And at Rifle, Colo., the bureau is successfully producing gasoline from oil shale. Cost of mining the shale has been reduced to a point where economic use of it is possible, the bureau reports.

Those were remarks included in a letter by TIPRO President R. L. Force of Dallas in calling the recently-elected Executive Committee to its first regular meeting in Austin on April 13. In the letter also was a "proposed plan of action" for 1950 to which he asked them to give thorough consideration before the meeting.

The four-point plan, Force said, would be made public following Committee action upon it.

"TIPRO is the logical organization to lead this fight," continued Force. "Texas and Texas are carrying the largest share of the load so far. Found, however, unless relief is found, the problem will grow to endanger the security and welfare of every American citizen."

Besides imports, issues to receive Executive Committee attention include attacks on the depletion allowance, divorcement of integrated companies, Natural Gas Act Amendment, state tax program, and local natural gas problems.

Import Battle Spokesman Need Is Cited

"The people of this nation are looking for a resolute spokesman to represent them in the critical fight against excessive oil imports. The ease for the importing companies is being well publicized by their own spokesmen and highly placed specialists in the administration. American citizens and government officials are entitled also to know the full danger to their economic welfare and security posed in the oil import issue."

Many Solons Get Over 1,500 Letters Weekly; All Answered

WASHINGTON — (AP) — "My cow has bad warts, so please tell me how to cure him," a recent letter to a U. S. senator said. Funny? Not to the senator. He's getting 1,500 letters every week and each one is answered. Other senators get more.

A survey of current senatorial mail trends, reveals that some members of the upper chamber spend from two to three hours a day, five days a week, just dictating and signing answers to letters from constituents, pressure groups and farmers with sick cows.

Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill) gets by all odds the largest amount. In February his staff of 12 full-time mail handlers dispatched 31,483 letters. His office says the March total was a good deal higher, but it hasn't been computed yet.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, and freshman Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) both get about 5,000 letters a week, far above the average of senators polled.

In Senator Taft's office are a dozen full-time staffers who do almost nothing but turn out answers to letters. About 50 percent of the total, his office said, are answered by form letters. Although modern form letters, produced by electrical "robot" typewriters, are the image of personally-typed replies, Senator Taft always apologizes for having to send them out.

"We'd like to answer every letter individually," his administrative assistant said, "but obviously it is impossible."

It takes Senator Taft an hour and a half and Senator Humphrey an hour to answer a letter.

The Pampa News has been authorized to present the names of the following citizens as candidates for offices subject to the action of the Democratic voters in their primary election on Saturday, July 22nd, 1950.

Oklahoma Pension Payment Is Reduced

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The 100,877 old age pensioners on Oklahoma's April rolls received $4,529,000, an average of $44.80 each.

The reduced welfare budget resulted in cancelling aid to 441 dependent children and 299 elderly clients, the welfare department said.

The rolls were reduced 181 from March and the average payment was $2.67 below last month.

The reduced budget for old age assistance clients resulted in a cash balance of about $1,000,000, the welfare department report

Gen. Eaker Says Nation to Fight Next War 'Own Way'

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Gen. Ira C. Eaker declared the United States must realize its danger, and "prepare to fight a war our way, not theirs; in Russia with bombs, not in Turkey or Iran on the ground."

The former deputy commander of the Army Air Forces and wartime commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Mediterranean told the Commonwealth Club the United States should:

1. Have a sound plan.
2. Have the best weapon first — scientific research and development.
3. Have a stock pile of atom bombs and the power to deliver them.
4. Convince the Russians we mean to fight.
5. Provide a trained manpower — universal military training.
6. Marshal our industrial capacity — solve labor problems, eliminate strikes.

"7. Fight the war our way, not theirs — in Russia with bombs, not in Turkey or Iran on the ground. Destroy Russia's industrial capacity — no occupation."

"8. Destroy the fifth column in this country."

"9. Teach a new brand of patriotism."

Eaker said Russia could attack the United States by organizing a successful fifth column, "by military assault — bombardment by guided missiles and atom bombs, followed by airborne invasion," and "by inducing us to react to her moves in Europe or Asia, as Hitler led England to declare war against Germany."

"We need accurately to estimate our foe," Eaker declared. "Russian leadership is able, well-trained. It is ruthless. It is not Communist — it is a dictatorship."

shoved. The cut was ordered when reserves became dangerously low.

Anti-Trust Law Charges Upheld

AUSTIN — (AP) — Charges of anti-trust law violations in Bexar County butane gas sales have been upheld in 126th District Court here.

District Judge Jack Roberts issued a permanent injunction and rendered judgment for $7,500 in favor of the state.

Attorney General Price Daniel had charged the defendants with violating the state's anti-trust laws in fixing a uniform retail price at which butane was sold in Bexar County.

People in some parts of Scotland believe that finding a four-leaf clover brings bad luck rather than good luck.
