

Prober Attacks Truman, Charges Arrogant Refusal

Co-op Housing Battle Looms In November

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Thrown out of Congress in a defeat for President Truman, the $2,000,000 co-operative housing program bounced back today as a warm political issue.

Ignoring a personal plea from the president, the House rejected the co-op idea for middle-income housing last night 218 to 155. It then went on to approve $16 to $18 a $4,000,000-plus expansion of the existing program.

The Senate turned thumbs down on the co-op plan last week, 43 to 38. A House-Senate conference committee now will work out a compromise housing bill — without the co-op program.

But the president's lieutenants in Congress served notice that co-op housing forthwith is a political issue for the November congressional elections. And it may get high billing in Mr. Truman's re-election campaign when he makes a swing to the West Coast this spring.

Over jeers rising from the Republican side of the House, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts shouted: "You may fool the public today, but not next November. This is going to be a live issue — an issue which I hope will be used advantageously next fall."

He accused Republicans of "voting one way and talking the other."

The House showdown 81 Democrats joined 137 Republicans to strike down the co-op proposal. Supporting the plan were 141 Democrats, 13 Republicans and the one American Labor Party member.

The defeated co-op section proposed the creation of a $2,000,000 government corporation. It would have borrowed its money from the public, except for $100,000,000 contributed by the government.

They would have lent money at a 4 percent interest to co-ops and other non-profit organizations that undertook home building for families with incomes from $2,800 to $4,400. The mortgages could have run as long as 43 years.

The opposition argued that the plan was socialistic and that it discriminated against veterans and other home builders generally. They said the scheme would provide homes for only three percent of the 8,000,000 middle-income families, and that those who got co-op homes never would be able to pay for them.

The count, from 7:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., was taken for computation by the U. S. Census Bureau and the U. S. Department of Commerce. The count was taken on a clip board. The enumerators also noted which direction the cars went, straight ahead, turned right, or turned left.

City Engineer Ray Evans said the count showed a 20 percent increase in traffic volume at the intersection. The enumerators also noted which direction the cars went, straight ahead, turned right, or turned left.

his blunt attack on Mr. Truman in a telegram to the vacationing president at Key West, Fla.

"I feel," McCarthy told Mr. Truman, "that your delay of this investigation by your arrogant refusal to release all necessary files is inexcusable and is endangering the security of this nation."

McCarthy noted that the Senate, in voting to investigate charges of Red in the State Department, gave the inquiry committee power to subpoena the loyalty files of persons against whom he brought charges.

The Senate, McCarthy added in his telegram to the president, "was not requesting from you a favor which you have the right to withhold, but rather was demanding the information which the Congress is entitled to under the Constitution." He added:

"It should be significant to you that not even one Democrat voted against the resolution providing for the subpoena of the files."

McCarthy's wife appeared to give the impression that Mr. Truman has ignored a subpoena for the files. The committee has not issued one so far.

Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, one of the Republican members, has demanded that the subpoena power be used.

Tydings has said he prefers to try first to get the records on a voluntary basis. He has said he will resort to a subpoena if that fails, but he also has declared that all legal precedent is against forcing the president to yield the files.

In the past Mr. Truman has refused to give congressional committees access to confidential loyalty records. In this case he has been reported willing to work out some sort of arrangement for restricted examination of the documents by the members of the inquiry group.

Two days ago McCarthy, at a secret session, gave the committee the name of a man he said he considers the top Russian espionage agent in this country. He told reporters the man not yet identified publicly is connected with the State Department.

Democrats have pointed out that McCarthy has produced no proof to back up that accusation or any of the charges against 10 other persons whom he has called by name at public hearings. He has said repeatedly that proof will be found in the loyalty files which he has been demanding that the committee obtain.

The Russian agent case McCarthy is understood to have mentioned four Soviet spy contacts with the State Department.

due at a fairly rapid rate between 55 and 65 degrees.

Long periods of cool, wet weather permit the green bug to reproduce in enormous numbers.

The green bug is preyed on principally by a little wasp, scientifically known as the Lysiphletus testaceipes. This tiny wasp, nearly always present where green bugs are—sings the aphids and deposits its eggs in their bodies. When the temperature is below 65 degrees, however, the wasp reproduces very slowly, while the green bug produces by leaps and bounds.

Man's chief control measure is the destruction of volunteer grain, especially oats. The heavy masses of volunteer oats in the spring—with their thick growth—are particularly favorable to aphids.

It has been suggested that the green bug can be killed by covering the first brown spots in the field with straw and then burning the straw. This method has been proved impractical, however.

Discrimination Charge Denied In Big Spring

BIG SPRING — Alfred Collins, Big Spring drugstore operator, says no racial discrimination is exercised in serving customers at the store.

Two Latin-American high school girls from Corpus Christi, Lucy Zapata and Wlga Gutierrez, claim they were refused service at the store last Saturday. They were enroute home from a state-wide student leaders meeting at Amarillo.

Collins said the girls were offered service but left before the orders were filled.

He said the incident resulted from a part-time employee, a school girl on duty for her first day, asking a dishwasher: "do we serve Mexicans?"

The girls overheard the question and retorted "we're as good as you are," Collins said. He said this attracted the attention of Mrs. Grace Everett, fountain manager, who replied that "we don't argue that we are better than anybody."

Collins said Mrs. Everett asked the visitors if they wanted their ice cream and cake in paper cups and the girls repeated "We're as good as you are" and demanded to be served "right here."

"Why certainly, we'll serve you right here," Mrs. Everett was said to have replied. Collins said the orders were turned in but that the girls left "after waiting a minute."

Claude Monet's painting "Impressions" was exhibited in 1863 in a special exhibition of paintings turned down by the French official salon. It marked an open revolt against the Salon's hostility to all originality and experiments in art.

Assault to Murder Charges Are Filed

TEMPLE — Charges of assault with intent to murder have been filed against Mrs. Florence Harper, 38, accusing her of seriously wounding a young car salesman, then shooting herself.

Late last night Mrs. Harper, a Temple divorcee, was in a critical condition with a .38 caliber bullet wound in the head.

John Atkinson, 27, was in a serious condition, also shot through the head.

Alfred Hitchcock Believes Movie Stars Like Children

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The reason movie stars get into so many headlines scrapes, declares Director Alfred Hitchcock, is because "they are really children."

The pudgy director once before got himself into hot water by remarking "actors are calves." The statement brought at least one notable reply—from the late Carole Lombard. When she worked on one of his pictures, she had a corral constructed on the set, complete with three heifers.

Discussing Senator Johnson's proposals to curb allegedly immoral filmsters, Hitchcock offered his own idea of why actors do things that draw such criticism.

"Why, they are really children," he declared. "You could hardly expect them all to be adult when at least a third of their lives is spent in make-believe."

The director cited Ingrid Bergman as an example. He knows the Swede well, having directed her in three pictures. He believes she got into her present difficulties because "in many respects she is quite naive."

He added that over-publicizing of movie stars has greatly increased public concern when they get "out of line." Now that the public knows the lives of the stars so intimately, it is up in arms when film favorites are involved in scandal.

"In the old days," he recalled, "the real lives of the stars were separate from their screen personalities."

State AFL to Back Low-Rent Housing

DALLAS — (AP) — AFL officials say the union's recently-appointed statewide housing committee will work closely with local housing authorities in urging low rent public housing projects.

W. J. Harris, state AFL president, said last night that the AFL supported public housing in a recent vote in Waco. He said another such vote is scheduled in Beaumont.

Polio Strikes 246 Texans Since Jan. 1

AUSTIN — (AP) — Polio is apparently threatening another Texas rampage.

State Health Officer George W. Cox reported that 246 cases have been counted in Texas through March 18 this year—nearly three times last year's 88 cases in the comparable period.

Last year wound up an all-time record polio year.

Dr. Cox said 24 new cases were reported during the week ending March 18. That compared to 7 cases for 1949's comparable week.

Influenza simultaneously plagued the state last week.

There were 10,530 cases reported for the week ending March 18, bringing the year's total cases to 70,241. That compared with 22,346 cases for the period in 1949.

Kentucky Babes Heard Crying Prior to Birth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — Babies crying before they were born startled staff members of Kentucky Baptist Hospital here twice yesterday.

An infant girl was born at 1:45 a. m. (CST) to Mrs. Robert C. Halliwell, Louisville. But five minutes before the baby was delivered, there was a tiny cry, heard by those in the delivery room — doctors, nurses and Mrs. Halliwell.

In fact, Mrs. Halliwell said she thought her baby already had been born. She was conscious under a spinal anesthetic.

Then nine hours later another baby girl was born to Mrs. Phillip G. Zapp, Louisville. This little girl cried four minutes before birth, those in attendance reported.

The doctor who delivered the Halliwell baby said there were only about 150 cases of such pre-birth crying reported in medical literature.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

HIROSHIMA, Aug. 6, 1945. A spectacular, mushrooming atomic cloud billows 20,000 feet into the air, informing the world that man had harnessed a power so great, so dreadful as to overtax the imagination. Only one more atomic bomb was to fall on Japan—at Nagasaki two days later—before World War II ended. Those two bombs alone killed more than 100,000 and injured many thousands more. Since then, the awful A-bomb and its possible successor, the infinitely more powerful Hydrogen Bomb, have been objects of more speculation, more research, more fear, than any other phenomena achieved by man. How to control atomic energy's power to kill, while exploiting its marvelous peacetime potential, is the most vital problem of the Twentieth Century.

Hardened Corporate Arteries Softened by Reports' Humor

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK — (AP) — Businessmen who have climbed off the high horse of dignity since the war usually say they're pleased with the results of the decision to act like folks. Even if it means having some cartoon character come to be the company in the public's mind.

A decade or so ago they would have been shocked at the idea. They would have rejected as too flippant the idea to humanize their company's story by such devices as comic books or animated trademarks. Such things could be used in ads to represent a product, but the company itself? Never! However, a few hardy souls started doing it, and the fashion is spreading fast.

The decision of the business Mahomet to go to the mountain, many of the pioneers admit, came through the belief that business was being outstripped in selling its story to the public. The idea that a corporation should discuss its affairs only in terms which the financially-informed could understand had boomeranged.

The uninformed, and they were the great majority of people, lent an ear to the detractors of business. Dignity may be more admirable than flippancy, but also much more likely to lead to hardening of the corporate arteries.

The pendulum has swung far in the other direction in the last year. And some of the staidest of corporations are distributing comic books, issuing illustrated or cartooned reports to employees, stockholders and the public, and using the radio, phonographs records, and lately television, to din their annual re-

Utilities Firm Sells 400,000 Stock Shares

DALLAS — (AP) — The sale of 400,000 shares of its common stock has brought Texas Utilities Company of Dallas $9,708,000.

A 14-member syndicate bought the stock in competitive bidding. Its bid was $24.27 net per share.

The utilities company will use the proceeds to purchase common stock in its three subsidiaries: Dallas Power & Light Co., Texas Power & Light Co., and Texas Electric Service Co.

Houston Rejects Galveston Meat

HOUSTON — (AP) — Houston has banned meat butchered in Galveston.

Two recent shipments from Galveston were found to be diseased, without federal inspection from City Veterinarian R. S. Martin. Dallas, San Antonio and Tyler notified Galveston Health Officer John McGivney in declaring the ban.

Similar bans on shipments from Galveston have been in effect since last year.

Talented Girl Parleys Spunk, Sketches Into Europe Trip

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Stevenne O'Connell is a sort of Horatio Alger with skirts. Not that she's a big success in life — not yet, anyway — but she's a spunky girl who's parlayed a gift tongue, an idea and a large portion of spirit into a trip to Europe.

Stevie, as she likes to be called, was orphaned at two and reared by relatives in Boston, Denver, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Paul and Milwaukee. To go to high school and college, she ran elevators and waited on tables and even baby-sat for three pedigreed dogs.

After three years at Marquette University, Milwaukee, she then switched over to Quincy College, Quincy, Ill., where she majored in art and got a diploma last spring. But she couldn't find a job.

She decided she needed more art training. Where else but Paris? OK, to Paris she would go. But there was no money in Stevie's purse, no prospect of any angel financing her way — nothing but a silly idea that finally, eight months later, paid off.

The idea was a simple one. She'd ask people in Milwaukee, where she was living, to give her a dollar bill. In return, she'd agree to make a sketch for them in Europe — a sketch of anything, anywhere. And she'd deliver the sketch when she returned, a year after she left.

She planned to sail last October, but she hadn't made nearly enough sales by then. So she cancelled her reservation, and made another one for March. She contacted well over a thousand persons in Milwaukee, and she got more than 700 commissions for the "Travel Dollar Fund," as she named her idea. Her only samples were two sketches she copied of Europe out of the tiny illustrations in a dictionary.

More of her "clients" wanted scenes of Ireland, incidentally, then any other country. And the most often requested subject was either a street urchin or a sidewalk cafe. One lady asked for a sketch of a rolling surf in mid-ocean, so Stevie bought some seascapic pills and said OK. Another client, probably a man, asked for a sketch of the sweepstakes drawing in Ireland.

Stevie, during the eight months between the idea's birth and her sailing on the Queen Elizabeth, carefully planned her trip. She's going first to Paris, for Paris in the spring.

Then to Switzerland and then Easter in Rome; a month's bicycling trip through Holland; back to Paris for summer art school; to England, Wales, Scotland (Edinburgh is the best sketching place in Europe, she was told); Christmas in Brussels (the Milwaukee of Europe); New Year's in Vienna; winter sports in Sweden and Norway, and Dublin for St. Patrick's Day, 1951.

That, says Irish Miss O'Connell, will be the high spot of her trip.

She budgeted herself for her trip. She figures it'll take $125 a month to live in Europe. She was still about $700 short when she left, but Stevie's not worried. She plans to write some travel articles and "if worst comes to worst, I'll go to work as a public stenographer over there."

And she's a smart girl — she already has her return ticket.

California Salad

A McCall's Magazine Fail-Proof Recipe

2 cups dry bread cubes 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 3/4 cup salad oil 1/2 tsp salt and pepper
 3 heads romaine 1 egg
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce 1/2 cup lemon juice

Brown the bread cubes delicately by toasting them gently in about 2 tablespoons of the salad oil over a medium heat. Then set them aside so they will be cool and crisp when added to the salad.

Tear salad greens in bite-size pieces. Pour remaining salad oil and Worcestershire sauce over, then grated cheese, salt and pepper. Break the submarine egg right into the greens. Toss salad mixture thoroughly. Finally add the browned bread cubes and mix again. Makes a lot of salad for 6.

Deviled Haddock

A McCall's Magazine Fail-Proof Recipe

2 cups cooked haddock, salmon
 1/2 lb. melted butter
 2 tablespoons dry mustard
 2 tablespoons parsley
 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 1 teaspoon mayonnaise
 Salt
 Pepper, freshly ground
 3 slices bread

Start your oven at 350°F or moderate. Then break the cooked fish into small pieces in a bowl.

Put the mushrooms in butter just long enough to make them soft and brown and mix with the thick cream sauce (any standard cook book gives you the right proportions for thick white or cream sauce).

Then add the seasonings that change a plain cream sauce into a "deviled one": the dry mustard, parsley (dried parsley can be used), Worcestershire sauce, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. Pile fish into a medium size casserole, pour deviled sauce over it and give it a stir.

Crumble bread into tiny pieces and brown in melted butter or margarine and sprinkle over top of the casserole. Bake 1/2 hour. Serves 4 generously.

Stars Want Improvements In Academy Award System

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Oscar, who is Hollywood's biggest target, better start ducking again. The Academy Awards affair, which will be held Thursday night, is Hollywood's most criticized as well as its most publicized event. Everybody has his own idea on how the Oscarizing should be handled. So the AP Hollywood forum put this question to a number of film performers: "How do you think the Academy Awards can be improved?"
 Ida Lupino — "I think it's time the public was let in on the voting. After all, the audience are the final judges of motion pictures. Let the industry pick the technical awards, but leave the major selections to the movie goers."
 Bette Davis — "The only improvement I could suggest would be to return to the idea of having a dinner for movie people alone. After all, we are the ones most interested in the awards; they should be strictly an industry affair."
 Ronald Reagan — "How can we improve the Academy Awards? Improve pictures."
 Edmund Gwenn — "The only thing I can say is that I am alarmed at the growing amount of advertisements taken by the big studios in an attempt to influence the balloting."
 Elizabeth Scott — "Hollywood is full of sentimental and loyal people who are apt to vote for sentimental reasons rather than for real merit. The awards might be more accurate if film critics all over the world were included in the voting. However, that would make the academy more impersonal. I see nothing wrong in voting for sentimental reasons. I do it myself."

 June Haver — "I think there should be an award for the best musical actress and actor. After all, musicals make most of the profits."
 Lucille Ball — "Many great performances are overlooked because they are given in obscure pictures. We should get a chance to vote on all pictures and performances, whether it's a western from Republic on an epic from some other studio."

San Antonio Firms Cut Milk Two Cents

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Three major San Antonio creameries announced milk price reductions of two cents per quart yesterday. Several other creamery representatives said they expected to announce similar reductions shortly.

Dogwood Trails' Routing Changed

PALESTINE, Texas — (AP) — A new routing system has been devised for the Dogwood Trails to handle the rush of visitors. Thousands were unable to get through Davey Dogwood Park last Sunday because of a heavy traffic jam. "We believe we've gone a long way toward solving traffic difficulties for next Sunday," Ed Ligbee, trails association president, said. Visitors will be met on all highways leading into Palestine and directed to the park over several different routes. Ancient Romans believed owls foretold the coming of death when they alighted on rooftops.

Deep-Seated Split Between North, South Ireland Grows

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Sure and it's straight talk that Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York has aimed at Prime Minister Sir Basil Brooks of Northern Ireland because Sir Basil's government banned St. Patrick's day celebrations.

His honor, who originally hailed from Bohola, County Mayo, Ireland, and therefore is a real son of the old sod, has announced that Sir Basil won't be welcomed at New York City Hall on the latter's forthcoming visit to this country. And that's fighting language as tough as the blow of a shillelagh.

But what Mayor O'Dwyer had to say was mild compared with the tide of bitterness which ebbs and flows daily between Ireland and Northern Ireland. It is one of the world's most deep-seated quarrels. Prime Minister John M. Costello of Ireland reiterated his country's stand on St. Patrick's Day when he declared:

"With all our history behind us, and with an unshakable resolve, we shall never forget about the partition of our country until that partition is ended."

Certainly it's a tragedy that the Emerald Isle should be torn by dissension, for Heaven never created a lovelier spot. Someday the quarrel will be settled, but how or when is beyond the sight of any man this day.

I've spent much time in Ireland and Northern Ireland since I all but cashed in my checks while reporting the "bloody Easter Week rebellion" in Dublin just 34 years ago this coming Easter. I've studied the quarrel between the two states from all angles — political, economic, religious and racial. Nothing would make me happier than to be able to report something concrete to give hope of settlement, but there's nothing in sight.

I probably have told in some previous column of an interview I had with the late Lord Craigavon, for many years prime minister of Northern Ireland. We got on the subject of possible union. Craigavon was leaning against the mantle-piece over the fireplace in his office — a huge man, perhaps six-foot-five tall. He turned to me and, punctuating his exclamations by slamming one ham-like fist into the palm of his other hand, he boomed:

"Union with Southern Ireland? Never! Never! Never! And when I'm gone, there are others who will take up the leadership after me."

As already indicated, there are several angles to the quarrel between the two sections of the island. One is religion — based on the fact that Northern Ireland is largely Protestant, while the south is Catholic.

Economics enters in, because wealthy Ulster with its profitable industries maintains that she would bear an unfair proportion of taxation if there were a union.

Politically, Northern Ireland adheres to Britain and the crown, whereas Ireland (southern) is a dyed in the wool republic, and no nonsense.

Then of course, many Ulsterites have their ancestral roots in England and Scotland.

Mexican Tomato Imports Assailed By Texas Group

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas growers complained yesterday to the tariff commission against shipment of Mexican tomatoes into this country.

Speaking for them is Austin Anson of Harlingen, manager of the Texas Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Shippers and Growers Association.

Anson declined to comment on the situation to a reporter before going to the commission other than to acknowledge that the matter involved a tariff increase proposal.

There now is a 1-1/2 cent a pound duty on all tomatoes imported into this country.

Growers in the Rio Grande Valley have complained to Rep. Bentzen (D-Texas) that with their relatively high labor costs, as compared with expenses of Mexican producers, they are being hurt financially by imports of tomatoes.

Aides of Bentzen, who is attending a veterans hospitalization conference with Rep. Lyle (D-Texas) in Corpus Christi, said they also had taken the problem up with the tariff commission. Normally before the commission, will increase an import duty over the rate fixed in a trade agreement a formal protest must be lodged and hearings conducted to determine justification for such action.

A cow has been found to utilize up to 25 pounds of chopped white potatoes a day in milk production.

Wealthy California Valley Fears Setback To Migratory Farm Labor Problem of '30s

By HILL BECKER
 BAKERSFIELD, Calif. —(AP)—The fertile acres of Central Valley stretch for miles toward the mountains in either direction from Bakersfield. And strategically dotting the vast landscape are some 237 labor camps teeming with the stinky, weather-beaten men, women and children who pick the crops.

These are not good times for the people who follow the cotton, the potato, the plum, the grape and each other 'crop as it swings into season.

But are they, or will they be, as bad as the dramatized, rugged plight of migratory farm workers in the late 1930s?

The Kern County Growers Association—the afterday successor to the Associated Farmers of California—says no, and is trying to stave off a repetition by setting up as many camps as low rental rates as they say is feasible.

The camps, they admit, are far from fancy, but it is claimed they are adequate for the some 1,000 workers estimated to be in Kern County at the present time.

"When the hardship there? 1. The cotton season ended early this year, before January; the potato crop won't be ready for picking until mid-April. 2. The financial problem, already acute for many migrant workers, was intensified by the order this week cutting every body—and that meant nearly 2,000 workers—off the county relief rolls. 3. Some of the camps are below par in sanitary conditions. County Health Officer C. F. Baughman estimates about 9 percent have unsatisfactory sewerage.

"Unemployment between crops has always been a problem for the drifting farm worker in California, but farm experts say it got tougher this year when cotton growers shifted over to a faster-maturing strain, the 442 scale. Instead of harvest extending into January, it ended in early December.

Result: Loss of thousands of dollars to workers for some four or five extra weeks of picking. (Cotton is undisputed monarch in Kern County. A 247,000-acre planting last year produced a $54,000,000 crop).

Moreover, the potato crop (56,240 acres for $31,000,000 in 1949) is undergoing some curtailment this year. The spud surplus is still a touchy subject here.

Where does that leave pickers like Manuel Black who follow the potato crop exclusively? Black, a fiftyish ex-Oklahoman, has been at the Blackburn camp nearly seven years, and two years ago bought his four-room board shack and a 50 x 160 foot plot of land. He says that he and 11 other owners of structures just like his paid $2300 apiece. He, his wife and six of their nine children call it home. (This is not a farmer-sponsored camp.

The sanitation leaves a lot to be desired.)

Farmers in the Arvin and Lamont areas have leased former guayule and prisoner of war camps for use of their laborers. These ex-barracks facilities are rented from $3 for single units to $6 for doubles. Adequate as shelter, some of these have tin sheet roofing, hardly conducive to comfort in the hot California summer. There are community toilet facilities.

Forced by lack of funds to lop the relief roll, officials deny that some workers are near starvation. Workers at a Shafter relief center said food supplies, mostly from federal surplus stocks, had been insufficient to meet needs for two weeks.

County Welfare Chief A. G. Wilbur said that his $715,000 relief fund had dwindled to $74,000. Only at the 11,000-acre Di Giorgio farm is there any concerted agricultural activity. There much of the regular 3,000 employees roster is busy harvesting asparagus on an almost assembly-line basis.

Meanwhile the rest of Kern County—growers and workers alike—seems to be waiting for the potatoes to come in.

Texas Judge Has Proof of Animal Tale

ATHENS, Texas —(AP)—No one in the courthouse here doubts the story told by Justice of Peace S. A. Carroll. As Carroll admits, the evidence is too strong.

His wife had been complaining that a rat was swiping such valuables as eggs from her kitchen. Tosh, said the judge, rats don't eat eggs. This led to an exchange of words. The upshot was they set a steel trap to catch the intruder.

Sunday morning both were awakened by a great thrashing about. Judge Carroll rushed to the kitchen.

The judge was armed with a 16-gauge shotgun but a skunk beat him to the draw.

Four-fifths of U. S. farm houses were without modern bath rooms in April, 1947.

U.S. Perfects Linen-Like Cotton Cloth

COLUMBUS, Ohio —(AP)—Department of Agriculture chemists have developed a cotton fabric that wears and launders like linen, a department spokesman said here yesterday.

News of the fabric came from Frank L. Teuton, head of the information division of agricultural and industrial chemistry of the department.

He spoke at the annual meeting of the Ohio Farm and Home Week at Ohio State University. He said:

"This fabric looks, wears, and launders like linen. It is excellent material for children's play suits, beach wear, dresses, and hot weather garments. It is made from low grade short staple cotton, and treated to give an attractive product with a linen-like finish."

The fabric, he said, was developed at the division's laboratory in New Orleans. Cotton also has been woven into a material that can be used for raincoats, tents, tarpaulins, and other weather-tight fabrics, he added.

In April, 1947, two-thirds of U. S. farm houses still had no running water.

Spider Monkey's Owner Awarded $500 by Jurors

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. —(AP)—How much would you say an eight-inch Spanish spider monkey with 20 Air Force combat missions is worth?

A circuit court jury says $500. The jury awarded that amount to Jack Hardin, crewman on a B-24 bomber in the South Pacific. The judgment was against Ivan Bell, who Hardin said borrowed the monkey and failed to return it. Hardin said he bought the monkey from natives when his plane was shot down near the Philippines in 1945. It made 20 combat missions with him. Later, his plane was shot down again and Hardin said he parachuted to safety with the monkey clinging to his shoulder. All other crewmen were killed.

Gold-Seekers Need Patience With Burros and Frying Pan

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Going prospecting for gold? Don't forget your frying pan—and try to develop a patient attitude toward donkeys.

This is some of the advice in a new guide to prospecting for gold issued by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and available free of charge from its Pittsburgh office.

E. D. Gardner, the bureau's chief mining engineer, says it's true that gold is where you find it—but it still helps to know something about geology.

He also points out that while most metal mines in this country have been discovered by qualified prospectors, others have been found accidentally by men rounding up burros, hunting game, building roads—or even by burrowing animals and ants.

"Probably one prospector out of several thousand ever finds anything worth developing," Gardner says discouragingly.

"Moreover only one out of every three hundred or four hundred properties developed becomes a profitable mine.

"To prospect for lode gold, the miner should know first of all how to take care of himself in the hills or on the desert.

"Most prospectors work alone and are accustomed to solitude.

Many work in mines in the winter and prospect in the summer.

"In the old days, many prospectors were grubstaked by merchants, individuals or companies, usually on a fifty-fifty basis. The practice now is followed less than formerly, but a professional prospector of good repute usually can get a backer."

Gardner said most prospectors appear to prefer a small cheap frying pan for panning rock samples.

He described the equipment a prospector should carry and said burros generally are the best form of transportation in rough country.

"The principal objection to burros is that they must be rounded up each day to keep them from wandering off," he said. "A prospector will spend about a fourth of his working time chasing his burros."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Steam Power Plant Action Is Defended

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Claude R. Wickard, Rural Electrification administrator, maintains that arrangements for financing of steam power plants to be operated by super co-ops are legal and proper.

Wickard made his announcement at a Senate appropriations sub committee hearing. Douglas Wright, Southwestern Power administrator, backed Wickard.

Three loans totaling more than $50,000,000 have been made by the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) to big cooperatives. They plan to use the money to build steam operated power generating plants.

The power is to be bought by another government agency, the Southwestern Power Administration (SPA). SPA also will lease most of the power transmission lines to be built by the super co-ops.

Private power companies in the area involved—mostly Missouri, Oklahoma and Arkansas—have attacked the plan. They contend it is a subterfuge to get around Congress' rejection of SPA's request for money to build steam plants.

Wickard said REA has a continuing obligation to see that REA customers receive adequate service at low cost.

Doomed 'Mrs. Hearl' Lives Despite Doctors' Despair

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The doctors were wrong — Mrs. Hearl is alive today, and "living to the fullest."

The $10,000 unidentified Oklahoma City widow rationed herself last March for the year doctors said would be her last is almost gone.

"I was ready to give up before," says the woman who was told a heart condition would kill her in 12 months. "But it's different now. There are so many things I really want to do, and places I want to go."

Mrs. Hearl says her health is better, and she's convinced she has a future.

"I have learned to live for each day," she says. "It's a wonderful thing — a precious thing — that has happened to me."

Mrs. Hearl says she gave hundreds of dollars away. None of the money, though, went to persons who wrote her for financial aid.

"Those who really need help seldom ask for it," she says. "They are the ones I like to help — the people I come in contact with personally. I can see their needs, and it's wonderful to be able to do something for them, and to do it anonymously if you can."

The letters — some 30,000 of them — came to the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman after she appeared at the newspaper office, told her story, and frankly asked for help.

Mrs. Hearl said she had been so occupied with making money that she hadn't learned how to enjoy it. And she wanted the year which was to be her final one "completely enjoyable."

The newspaper, pledged to secrecy, agreed to ask its readers for advice.

"I have filled a book with notes I took from those letters," she says. "Especially the letters from doctors telling me I had no reason to give up hope and from people who had lived long past the time they were given to die."

Mrs. Hearl traveled. Later she sought additional medical advice. "Now I like to read, to study," she says. "I like to be alone. My friends can't understand the change that's come over me. They can't understand it when they ask me to play cards or visit and I tell them, 'I think I want to stay home tonight.'"

Mrs. Hearl, who last year said her only daughter — living in California — was provided for in a will, doesn't want her identity known.

"Because," she says, "I'm afraid that would tear down everything I've been able to build up."

The past year has given the woman, who first said hers was a reckless kind of feeling, a new philosophy.

"Each day I think this may be the last day I have," Mrs. Hearl says. "But it no longer frightens me. I want to get the most from each day. . . to live it to the fullest . . . to help people."

AQUILLA, Texas — (AP) — Aquilla's two-story brick school building and frame gymnasium burned to the ground yesterday.

Supt. John P. Cox estimated the loss at $75,000 and said only $22,000 was covered by insurance.

Some of the school's 211 students wept openly as the blaze, discovered about 5 a.m., razed the structure.

Aquilla is in the southwest corner of Hill County.

The loss included trophies at testing the school's 1944, 1945 and 1946 state girls' basketball championship. Also lost were two pianos, all the school's records, and 400 new basketball uniforms.

Catholics Say Evidence Supports Theory That St. Peter Is Buried Under Basilica

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ten years of digging in long-hidden grottoes below St. Peter's church has yielded archaeological evidence supporting the Roman Catholic belief that St. Peter was buried on that site, Life Magazine reports.

In connection with the publication of first pictures on the excavations, the magazine prints an article by Msgr. Ludwig Kaas, administrator of St. Peter's, telling how Vatican workmen plumbed the unexplored lower passages beneath the nave of the world's largest church.

They penetrated into a pagan cemetery buried for 16 centuries. Msgr. Kaas does not say the excavations launched in 1939 resulted in finding relics of the chief apostle, but he asserts a scientific analysis is analyzing discoveries which give archaeological support to Catholic tenets.

Pope Pius XII said more than a year ago, without going into detail, that archaeological discoveries demonstrated the apostle's burial place "is and was" the cupped Nero's Circus.

The pope may announce details of the findings in the course of this Catholic Holy Year.

Msgr. Kaas says in Life: "For the time being the discoveries which were made in the central area below the main altar of St. Peter's must remain undisclosed. The last word belongs to science and cannot be anticipated."

"At the present time a commission of reputable archaeologists is preparing the publication of its scientific conclusions on the discoveries to which some newspapers have already made inexact reference. In the meantime one may observe that the excavations have confirmed convincingly the Roman tradition which closely connected Nero's Circus and the Vatican burial ground — or, in other words, the place where St. Peter was executed and the place where he was buried. Nonbelievers may not view this affirmation in the same light as do devout Catholics, yet it is obvious that the archaeological evidence so far revealed gives the faithful a right to challenge nonbelievers for proof to the contrary of archaeology's affirmation.

"Those who believe in the Catholic tradition of St. Peter's burial place below the church will, in the light of these new discoveries, face any such discussion confidently."

Last September Archbishop Joseph F. Rummell of New Orleans said the remains of St. Peter had been found under the Basilica. There was no Vatican comment upon this, but earlier L'Osservatore Romano, Vatican newspaper, declared discoveries added archaeological proof to facts already "historically ascertained."

"These proofs include ancient coins — the offerings of the faithful at the venerated tombs, stones, graphites, monuments and inscriptions of all kinds."

The historical and traditional account that the saint was buried there about 66 A.D., it added, was "believed for 16 centuries until Protestant controversy cast doubt on Peter's death at Rome."

The story of St. Peter's death was that he was executed in Nero's Circus and buried in the nearby pagan burial ground on Vatican Hill, and that Constantine's church, which stood for 1,200 years, was built over the tomb. The burial ground had been covered with a mass of earth so the edifice would not disturb the graves. When Constantine's church was razed, St. Peter's was built over its foundations in the 16th Century.

Msgr. Kaas says the explorers were disappointed when they burrowed along the old Constantine wall below the basilica's nave and failed to find a trace of the walls of Nero's Circus. Medieval literature and old labors.

The college of architects of St. sketches had told them the southern lateral naves of Constantine's church rested on the foundation walls of the Circus.

However, in digging in the lower grottoes, 13 feet below the upper grottoes, a Second Century tomb was found with an inscription in which the dead man commanded his heirs to "make me a monument in the vatican near the circus." Msgr. Kaas says this could only have been Nero's Circus.

This is the story of the excavations as told by Msgr. Kaas: At the death of Pope Pius XI in February, 1939, orders were given to carry out his wishes for burial in the upper grottoes immediately below the basilica. These upper grottoes where early popes were buried had been rarely visited in four centuries because of their low vaulted ceilings.

Pope Pius XII gave orders for the floor to be lowered, and a mausoleum of the old pagan cemetery was uncovered.

The new pope decided upon a scientific investigation of St. Peter's underground, a project often discussed.

"Thus was launched a memorable decade of silent and determined work," says Msgr. Kaas. "Even the passions and varying fortunes of war scarcely disturbed Peter's and a committee of archaeologists, 10 men in all, had the delicate task of exploring the foundations. At every step important deliberations were held as to whether the excavations would weaken the foundations and threaten the safety of the 452-foot high cupola of St. Peter's. Many of the pillars had been sunk in loose earth and lacked a firm foundation. Some rested on unstable pagan tombs.

Old pillars had to be reinforced and new ones built. The exact age and functions of some of the foundations were difficult to ascertain. At various stages it was debated whether to discontinue the digging in view of the risk. Always it was decided to go ahead.

At one time water flooding from the Vatican's troublesome underground water system delayed the work.

The Sampietrini, the Vatican's hereditary workmen, were not permitted to use any mechanical equipment, only their hands, shovels and picks.

Digging hundreds of feet east and west they uncovered a series of tombs and crypts of pagans and early Christians, decorated with beautiful mosaics, frescoes and stucco on their walls and ceilings, as well as carved sarcophagi, urns and inscriptions.

School Girls Are Late for Good Reason

HOUSTON — (AP) — Ruth Culmer and Evelyn Robertson had a good excuse for being late to school yesterday.

They were saving a 73-year-old neighbor, Dr. L. W. Sackett, from a possible flaming death. Sackett is a retired University of Texas psychology professor.

Ruth, 16-year-old San Jacinto High School student, was enroute to school when she saw Sackett run from his burning garage, his clothing on fire.

Evelyn, 17, began beating out the flames with a school notebook. Ruth ran into the Sackett home twice for pans of water.

Evelyn meanwhile saw a bucket containing what she thought to be water. Just before she threw the bucket's contents on Sackett, she noticed a familiar smell. It was gasoline, not water.

She threw the gasoline on the ground, rinsed out the bucket and filled it with water.

Sackett was admitted to a hospital where attendants said he had received severe burns about the upper part of his body.

Rotarians Hear Explanation of Oil Engineering

A short discussion of petroleum engineering and its duties when connected with an individual firm was given yesterday by Walter Stein, petroleum engineer for the Cabot Co., before the Pampa Rotary Club.

Preceding Stein's talk a musical program was given by two high school musical groups. A sextette composed of Betty Boswell, Nina Spearman, Helen Blocker, Norma Manant, Mary Keough, Carmelita Dunaway, with Phoebe Osborne, accompanist, sang three numbers followed with several songs by a quartet composed of Ronald Beard, Lonnie Carlton, John Nolan, Billy Epps, and Robert Alford, with June Guill, accompanist. The high school students were under the direction of Kenneth Baumgardner.

After the introduction of guests and visiting Rotarians, club members went into the first round of voting for seven directors. Next week the club will vote again from the 15 receiving the highest number of votes. The high seven will then select the club president and secretary-treasurer.

CAMP SESSION SET BY EXPLORER SCOUTS

Fifty-nine Explorer Scouts of the Adobe Walls Area Council have a big day in store for them Saturday when they go to Camp Ki-O-Wah to participate in "Operation Jackass."

Fourteen leaders have agreed to accompany the Scouts and assist with the camp improvement program. The Scouts will arrive at 8:30 a.m. and work until 5 p.m., including lunch hour.

V. G. Fitzjarrald, Phillips, will have charge of surveying a line for a fence along the main road. Dick Rust, Phillips, will lead the group digging 200 post holes.

Roger Fitzjarrald, also of Phillips, will see that the posts are hauled to the camp, and Sheriff Hugh Anderson, Borger, will have charge of setting the posts.

Fred Jordan, Phillips, will arrange the light fixtures hanging. Five large wagon wheels have been cleaned and shellacked to hold the main lights in the dining lodge.

A group of the Explorers will drain a swamp near the lodge under the direction of Tom Cochran, Borger. Grass planting in the area adjoining the lodge will be under the supervision of a soil conservationist from Canadian.

John Pound, Pampa, will landscape around the lodge and James Armstrong, Guymon, will lead the group that cuts sagebrush.

Noble Trueblood, Canadian, will sponsor the tree-planting group. The Scouts will transplant 150 additional trees around the dining lodge, making a total of 350 trees there.

Scouts making the trip will be from Guymon, Borger, Phillips, Lefors and Pampa.

Scout Leader Course Opens

Twenty-three Pampa Girl Scout leaders met at the Scout House yesterday for the first in a series of outdoor training sessions.

Portraying the parts of their Scouts, the leaders brought signed permission blanks for the hike they planned to take. Mrs. Burl Lewter and Mrs. Buster Claunch assumed the responsibilities of leaders in the absence of Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., executive.

After singing hiking songs, playing both active and quiet games, the "Scouts" took their "nosebag" lunches and hiked to the airport where they were shown through one of Cabot's twin-engine airplanes. The group was divided into two patrols for the hike.

When they returned to the Scout House they formed a "friendship circle and sang 'Taps.'" The Scouters will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Scout House to plan the second session, which will be an "outside cook."

Fewer Texans Idled By Labor Disputes

AUSTIN — (AP) — Labor-management disputes had fewer workers off their jobs at the end of February than anytime in the past seven months, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

TEC said 1,139 workers were affected by disputes. Only 153 of them were reported actually off their jobs.

Five out of six disputes that started during the month were settled before the month ended. Five carry-over disputes from January were also settled during the month, TEC said.

At the end of the month, 26 disputes remained unsettled.

U.S. Gains Over 400 Miles After New Survey of Border

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Uncle Sam has gained roughly 408 miles in an actual measurement of the international border of the United States and Mexico, according to Dr. E. L. Peck, supervision inspector of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry for the Southwest.

The distance between the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific Ocean was considered around 1,900 miles, but a check of the mileage just completed by range riders of the foot-and-mouth border patrol show the distance to be 2,308.1 miles, said Dr. Peck. A tough little mule named "Maud" and a range rider of the patrol, Max R. Kimble, stationed at Sanderson, started to measure the border last June.

It all started early last summer when Kimble rigged up a measuring device, using a regulation speedometer attached to a bicycle wheel, and attached the same to a shaft and hitched to "Maud."

Kimble told Dr. Peck about the Pacific, with 61 riders. The rig, and after several tests, the attachment was approved by the government.

Then the long and tedious job of measuring the border got underway. The work started east of Brownsville and ended near San Diego, Calif.

While the mule was used first on the project, later an attachment was rigged up for a horse and jeep.

A total of 413 range riders participated in the work, which included 190 riders in the San Antonio area covering a distance of 214 miles from the Gulf to near Sanderson to Sasabe, Ariz., with 162 riders and 445 miles in the Yuma section from Sasabe to project was ever attempted by the government or anyone else in the opinion of Dr. Peck, who was quick to point out that the new mileage count does not in any way reflect upon the original international boundary survey made years ago.

"The Rio Grande has changed its course in recent years, and more than likely the United States has gained additional territory," Dr. Peck said.

The measurement was taken over some of the most forbidding terrain in the United States — through almost impassable cañons, through wide gulleys, and across the wide open spaces of the boundary beyond El Paso.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — A Southern Baptist Convention committee has selected Wake Forest, N.C., as the site for a new seminary.

A spokesman for the convention's committee on theological education said the new seminary will take over the facilities of Wake Forest College when that institution moves to Winston-Salem, N.C.

The committee's decision is subject to action of the North Carolina Baptist Convention and the Southern Baptist Convention in Chicago in May.

CAMP SESSION SET BY EXPLORER SCOUTS

Fifty-nine Explorer Scouts of the Adobe Walls Area Council have a big day in store for them Saturday when they go to Camp Ki-O-Wah to participate in "Operation Jackass."

Fourteen leaders have agreed to accompany the Scouts and assist with the camp improvement program. The Scouts will arrive at 8:30 a.m. and work until 5 p.m., including lunch hour.

V. G. Fitzjarrald, Phillips, will have charge of surveying a line for a fence along the main road. Dick Rust, Phillips, will lead the group digging 200 post holes.

Roger Fitzjarrald, also of Phillips, will see that the posts are hauled to the camp, and Sheriff Hugh Anderson, Borger, will have charge of setting the posts.

Fred Jordan, Phillips, will arrange the light fixtures hanging. Five large wagon wheels have been cleaned and shellacked to hold the main lights in the dining lodge.

A group of the Explorers will drain a swamp near the lodge under the direction of Tom Cochran, Borger. Grass planting in the area adjoining the lodge will be under the supervision of a soil conservationist from Canadian.

John Pound, Pampa, will landscape around the lodge and James Armstrong, Guymon, will lead the group that cuts sagebrush.

Noble Trueblood, Canadian, will sponsor the tree-planting group. The Scouts will transplant 150 additional trees around the dining lodge, making a total of 350 trees there.

Scouts making the trip will be from Guymon, Borger, Phillips, Lefors and Pampa.

Scout Leader Course Opens

Twenty-three Pampa Girl Scout leaders met at the Scout House yesterday for the first in a series of outdoor training sessions.

Portraying the parts of their Scouts, the leaders brought signed permission blanks for the hike they planned to take. Mrs. Burl Lewter and Mrs. Buster Claunch assumed the responsibilities of leaders in the absence of Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., executive.

After singing hiking songs, playing both active and quiet games, the "Scouts" took their "nosebag" lunches and hiked to the airport where they were shown through one of Cabot's twin-engine airplanes. The group was divided into two patrols for the hike.

When they returned to the Scout House they formed a "friendship circle and sang 'Taps.'" The Scouters will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Scout House to plan the second session, which will be an "outside cook."

Fewer Texans Idled By Labor Disputes

AUSTIN — (AP) — Labor-management disputes had fewer workers off their jobs at the end of February than anytime in the past seven months, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

TEC said 1,139 workers were affected by disputes. Only 153 of them were reported actually off their jobs.

Five out of six disputes that started during the month were settled before the month ended. Five carry-over disputes from January were also settled during the month, TEC said.

At the end of the month, 26 disputes remained unsettled.

Galveston Hits Army Engineer Offices Shift

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Galveston delegation has protested to Maj. Gen. Louis A. Pick, chief of Army Engineers, against an announced plan to transfer all flood control functions of the Galveston district engineer's office to Fort Worth.

A two-hour conference with the general ended only with his assurance that Galveston definitely would remain the headquarters for navigation improvements and that any transfer of personnel from that city to Fort Worth will be gradual.

This summary of the closed-door meeting was given by David C. Leavell, president of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce and an executive of the Galveston Daily News.

Speaking for the delegation, Leavell said:

"We never got a satisfactory explanation of the savings which General Pick says would be effected by the transfer. We want to check his data carefully and may come up later with some suggestions."

"We're all staunch supporters of economy, but we want to be sure that what they have in mind is not just taking the figures off of one ledger and adding them to another."

Mayor Herbert Cartwright, Jr., said Pick told the group the transfer would save taxpayers about $285,000 annually. This figure would not take into consideration an estimated cost of $108,000 for transfer of records and moving household furnishings of affected personnel.

Leavell said Pick would give no specific answer to a question as to how many people might be transferred, but did contend the change would permit the engineers to drop about 63 persons from the payroll who are now required because of the present maintenance of flood control operations in both Fort Worth and Galveston.

Leavell estimated approximately 100 of the 500 Galveston employees would be transferred under the plan.

Citrus Blackfly Outbreak Fought

The department did not identify orange trees in the leading orange producing district of Montemorelos were found infested on Jan. 22. The trees were closely grouped and within 24 hours after discovery spraying began over a large area.

One lemon tree in the backyard of a residence at Matamoros, in the rich lower Rio Grande Valley, was found infested Jan. 19. Spraying was ordered and will continue for several weeks.

Stockyard Dealers Suspended by U. S.

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Nineteen dealers at the Kansas City stockyards have been suspended from trading for periods of six months to a year, the Kansas City Star said.

The newspaper said the action was taken by the Department of Agriculture in Washington after the dealers admitted a conspiracy to falsify weights of livestock.

Famed Scientist Robert Millikan Not Certain That Man Can Yet Produce Hydrogen Bomb

By RALPH DIGHTON
Pasadena, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel Prize winning scientist, says he is not at all certain that man can make a hydrogen bomb.

“He is frankly skeptical that any man-made device will ever split the earth asunder.

“But it is true, he says, “that we and our possible adversary now possess the instruments to destroy each other.”

Millikan was 82 yesterday. In an interview commemorating the occasion, the man who first isolated and measured the electron and opened the way for present day atomic research observed:

“With all the talk about the hydrogen bomb, I’m not yet convinced that it’s at all certain we can build such a bomb. Of course, if it were possible to make the hydrogen in all the seas combine at once into helium, we probably could explode the whole earth and transform it into a nebula.

“However, I’m still skeptical. I think it would take a warmer body than Mother Earth to make such a horror possible.

Millikan, at 82, is known as the “billion volt sparkplug” of the California Institute of Technology. Although he “retired” as chairman of the school’s executive council in 1945, he still maintains a pace that would kill many a younger man.

For instance, only three years ago he traveled several thousand miles by truck on a cosmic ray expedition which started in Texas and wound up in Canada. His only complaint on this trip was that he couldn’t get the kids away early enough. The “kids” were professors half his age.

Even now Millikan maintains regular office hours and makes flying trips over the country to keep speaking engagements. Since retiring he has completed his soon to be published autobiography and kept up with his duties as vice president of the Caltech board of trustees.

With the wisdom of a man who has watched his country recover from civil war (he was born in 1868) and grow into the strongest nation in the world, Millikan observes:

“We may be lost if we fail to maintain the American way of life against socialist trends which threaten our personal freedom.

“We must make it very plain to Russia that we will go ahead without her if she won’t join with us in this ideal. Above all, we must be too strong to be attacked, pacifists to the contrary.”

Millikan’s great physical energy almost kept him from being a scientist.

Born in Morristown, Ill., the son of a Congregational minister, he excelled in athletics and planned to teach physical education. However, an instructor told him someone was needed as a teacher in physics. Up to that time, he hadn’t even cracked a physics book, but he went on to win a Nobel prize in that field in 1926.

Millikan joined Caltech in 1921. A former member of the then small technical school’s board of trustees, who begs anonymity, recalls: “We agreed to pay him a certain salary. At the end of the first year he told us that he could get along on less — that too much money would be bad for his children. This really inspired us. We were willing to tear our shirts to help the doctor broaden Caltech’s activities. After that, Caltech broke all growth records.”

Most of Millikan’s scientific achievements are too technical for the layman to comprehend. But it takes no special knowledge to understand that the multimillion dollar, world renowned institution that Caltech is largely a monument to the non-academic efforts of this atomic scientist.

In Millikan’s study, his desk is flanked by busts of Albert Einstein and Ben Franklin. They are symbolic of the two personalities that have merged in Millikan, a living superative of Twentieth-Century man.

Looking back on his four score and two years of rich experience, Millikan says:

“I attribute my own fortunate breaks for which I could take no credit to what I choose to call my ‘good fairy,’ who worked very hard for me.

“However, I take credit for a few wise decisions myself. For while the great architect had to direct, alone, the earlier stages, it is our sense of responsibility for playing our part to the best of our ability that makes us God-like.”

Atomic Plant Area's Guard Is Increased

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Air Force has ordered additional fighter units to the Pacific Northwest to guard the air approaches to the Hanford, Wash., atomic works and other vital defense plants.

It announced that headquarters of the 81st Fighter-Interceptor Wing and two of its fighter squadrons are being moved from Kirtland Base, Albuquerque, to the Moses Lake, Wash., base.

This wing is equipped with North American “Sabre” jet fighters. About 1,200 persons will be included in the transfer.

One squadron of the 81st Wing will remain at Kirtland, home of the U. S. Special Weapons Command.

In addition, the Air Force disclosed that squadrons of the 325th All-Weather Fighter Wing already stationed in the Pacific Northwest will be equipped late this summer with Lockheed F-94 radar-equipped jet fighters.

These squadrons now have North American F-82 “Twin Mustang” planes with piston engines.

Engineer Is Named For Belton Project

GALVESTON — (AP) — Appointment of C. J. Kocian as resident engineer for the Belton Dam and Reservoir Project at Miller Springs has been announced by Lt. Col. Ellsworth I. Davis, Galveston District Army Engineer.

Kocian succeeds E. F. Cirka, who has supervised work on the $22,500,000 project during the past nine months. Kocian previously supervised construction of the $14,000,000 Benbrook Dam being built in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Col. Davis said Cirka will continue to be associated with the Belton project.

The total number of telephones in the United States is given as 38,000,000, or three-fifths of the world’s total of 68,000,000.

Britain Receives Superfortresses

MARHAM, England — (AP) — The first four of 70 Superfortresses (B29s) landed in Britain yesterday to put an American punch into Britain’s air striking power.

The Superforts, which arrived over Marham two hours ahead of schedule, are a gift to Britain under the United States’ $1,000,000,000 military aid program.

“AVIATION’S FIVE-CENT CIGAR”—At Manhattan Beach, Calif., the American Helicopter Company’s experimental pulse-jet-powered ‘copter makes a test flight. The craft, called the “Top Sergeant,” is the first of its type designed for pulse-jet engines located on the tips of the rotors. The U. S. Air Force sponsored its development. Its designer refers to the model as “aviation’s five-cent cigar.”

Self-Winding Watch Victim of Gestures

WACO — (AP) — Prof. Andres Sendon likes to make lots of gestures while teaching Spanish wrist watch.

A batch of cookies baking in the oven (or a pungent coffee cake) fills the house with wonderful fragrance. Everyone feels happier. So how about a couple of good spicy recipes.

Oatmeal Spice Cookies

(About 6 dozen cookies)
One cup boiling water, 1 cup seedless raisins, 2-3 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2 cups sifted flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon baking soda, 1-2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves, 6 tablespoons raisin liquid, 2 cups quick-cooking oatmeal, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 1-2 cup chopped dates.
Four boiling water over raisins and let stand while mixing batter. Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Beat eggs into mixture. Sift together flour, salt, baking soda and spices; stir into batter.
Drain raisins and add 6 tablespoons of the liquid from raisins to batter. Stir in oatmeal, walnut meats and dates. Drop cookie batter by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased heat-resistant glass utility dish, 3-quart size. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes.

Nut-Spice Coffee Cake

(8 servings)
One and one-half cups sifted flour, 2-3 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-3 cup shortening, 1 egg, beaten, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2-3 cup milk, 1-2 cup chopped walnut meats.

Sift together into bowl the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and spices. Cut in shortening with fork or pastry blender until mixture is like coarse crumbs. Reserve 1-2 cup of this mixture for top of coffee cake. To rest of crumb mixture add beaten egg, molasses and milk; mix lightly. Pour into large yellow heat-resistant glass refrigerator dish which has been well greased. Sprinkle top of crumb mixture with remaining 1-2 cup of crumb mixture and the chopped walnut meats. Bake in moderate oven, 250 degrees F., for about 45 minutes.

Serve piping hot coffee cake from the oven-refrigerator dish in which it is baked; keep it fresh in the covered dish and reheat in the same dish.

Good Meal Needs

Good Coffee

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

To most Americans a good cup of coffee is the first requirement of a good meal. So let's review the know-how of coffee-making before we get on to our budget menus.

Here's the way experts of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau recommend:

1. Keep your coffee-maker sparkling clean and scald it before using.

2. Start with fresh, cold water.

3. For each serving, allow one standard coffee measure (or its equivalent, two level measuring tablespoonfuls) of fresh coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of freshly drawn water.

4. Be sure your coffee is the proper grind for your coffee-maker.

5. Your coffee-maker will give best results at full capacity. For small amounts, use a small coffee-maker if possible.

6. After you have found the best timing for your method of coffee-making, stick to it consistently.

7. Never boil coffee.

8. Serve coffee immediately after brewing—and serve it piping hot.

New Dramatic Treatment for Shirtwaist Standby

Sheer chiffon is backed by silk organza to give crispier look to two-piece dress (left). For shirtwaist sheer (right) tweed-printed chiffon is posed over slip covered with matching fabric.

KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The light, soft silhouette of the sheer shirtwaist dress takes on more interest when the fabric used is given crisp handling or printed in unusual patterned effects.

Gossamer silk chiffon, for example, is stiffened by a lining of silk organza to define the silhouette of one trend-setting dress designed by Christian Dior. This two-piece dress has a skirt that follows the straight and narrow line to point up the casual, bloused shirtwaist top with full sleeves which are tightly cuffed above the wrists. Rose chiffon printed with black squares is backed by rose organza. Narrow black piping outlines the pointed collar and front closing as well as breast pockets and the tight cuffs. Cinching in the fullness of the top is a black calfskin belt.

One of the most unusual patterns shown in chiffon is a tweedy print which pops up styling details for another afternoon shirtwaist sheer. Two layers of chiffon are used here. Beneath the floating, full-skirted dress is a gray silk slip covered with another layer of the chiffon. Raspberry chiffon printed in the same tweed

And Now the Sandman Comes In With a Bang

Radio people, as is their wont, currently are informing each other solemnly that mystery and detective programs are replacing the give-away programs in the hearts — or rather, ears — of listeners.

I wouldn't know about that, but I do know that the true mystery and detective story fan can glue himself to his radio around 7 p.m. each evening and, by adroit knob-twisting, can revel in one tale of violence after another until late evening. Indeed, sometimes there are two or three running concurrently which makes selection difficult.

If these 15 and 30 minute dramas of adventure and mayhem have indeed taken the nation by storm, it won't be long now before the experts — the psychologists, free-lance writers and others — start knocking them down as endangering the future of the nation, pandering to the savage instincts of man, and destructive of morale. The right-of-center thinkers will call them a part of the Communist scheme of domination; the left-of-center apologists will say it's capitalist war-mongering.

Before that occurs, I'd like to get my analysis in. I think the broadcast of detective, mystery, suspense and allied stories is the greatest boon to insomniacs since the inventions of the innerpring mattress, de-caffinated coffee and the sleeping pill.

Speaking as a veteran reader dedicated to escape literature, I find that the quality or quantity of these broadcast stories has nothing to do with their sleep-producing potentials. I drift off to sleep happily whether listening to a stinker or a right hander. Some production

Discovery of this manifestation was quite accidental. I was suffering from a head cold which made reading an impossibility. At that time I thought it was the cold. I tested upon recovery and found I was off to the land of nod even as a spray of machine gun bullets was cutting down the bankrobbers on the roof-tops and as the police siren wailed over the air. Then I thought this was some little peculiarity of mine own.

But a discreet poll among my friends and relatives has resulted in confirmation of my theory. One friend confessed she never heard the end of any air-borne whodunit and was perpetually torn with curiosity and thanks for such dreamless slumber they induced. Another said he tuned in with anticipation to a station with three scheduled in a row — and heard three violent beginnings and not a single denouement. He just drowned in and out of the stories.

How sponsors will like this situation, I don't know, but I think it would be a good idea if they put most of their hard selling into the first commercials on the program.

In the past week I have gone to sleep while a villain in a luminous sheet was trying to murder a rich old man by scaring him to death; while a hard-boiled detective was being kicked in the head repeatedly by an angry ex-convict; and when a corrupt politician was struggling with an upright law enforcement official on a roof ledge. I never will know whether right triumphed, but I presume that in each case it did.

The eyes of an owl are fixed immovably in its head so it must move its whole head to change the line of vision.

pattern is crushed into a sash. One end of the sash is left free to ripple down the skirt front. A black leather belt worn over the sash provides the sharp contrast needed to accent the misty layers of chiffon.

Dallas Expects to Draw New Minor League Record Crowd

Sugar KO's Costner in First Round

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Ray (Sugar) Robinson's world's welterweight crown rested more securely than ever on the veteran boxer's head today after his short-order knockout of George (also Sugar) Costner.

Costner, who transferred his activities from Cincinnati to Camden, N.J., a year ago, had been pointing toward a title bout with Robinson until last night's over-the-weight bout at Convention Hall.

Robinson, who weighed 154 pounds four months than Costner, caught the Camden contender with a hard right after 30 seconds of action.

The champion then switched to the body for a few blows, landed another right on Costner's jaw and finished him off with a left hook to the chin at 2:49 of the initial round of their scheduled 10-round go.

It marked Robinson's second first-round keying of Costner. A previous meeting in Chicago also ended in the first round.

For the champion it was his 107th win in 110 professional fights, 74 of them by knockouts. Two of his other bouts ended in draws while his lone defeat was at the hands of Jake LaMotta, present middleweight titleholder.

Besides the satisfaction of eliminating a contender to his crown at least temporarily, Robinson received $15,000 of the $35,762 ($39,000 net) paid by the crowd of 11,747.

Robinson gave the crowd a demonstration of his pleasure over the result. As Costner toppled to the canvas, Robinson did a little dance of victory and shouted with joy as he went to a neutral corner.

DALLAS — (AP) — Dallas will open the Texas League season in the Cotton Bowl, a stadium that can seat 75,000 — and indications are that not only will the league record be broken but that an all time attendance mark for the minor leagues will be set.

In fact, officials of the club now expect 65,000 to 70,000, with good weather, to be in the huge football field April 11 to see Dallas start the 1950 campaign against Tulsa. That would be within about 20,000 of the biggest crowd ever attracted in the majors — the 86,288 that saw Cleveland and Boston in the World Series in 1948.

Some 15,000 tickets already have been disposed of here. The Texas League opening day record is 16,918 set in 1930 by Fort Worth.

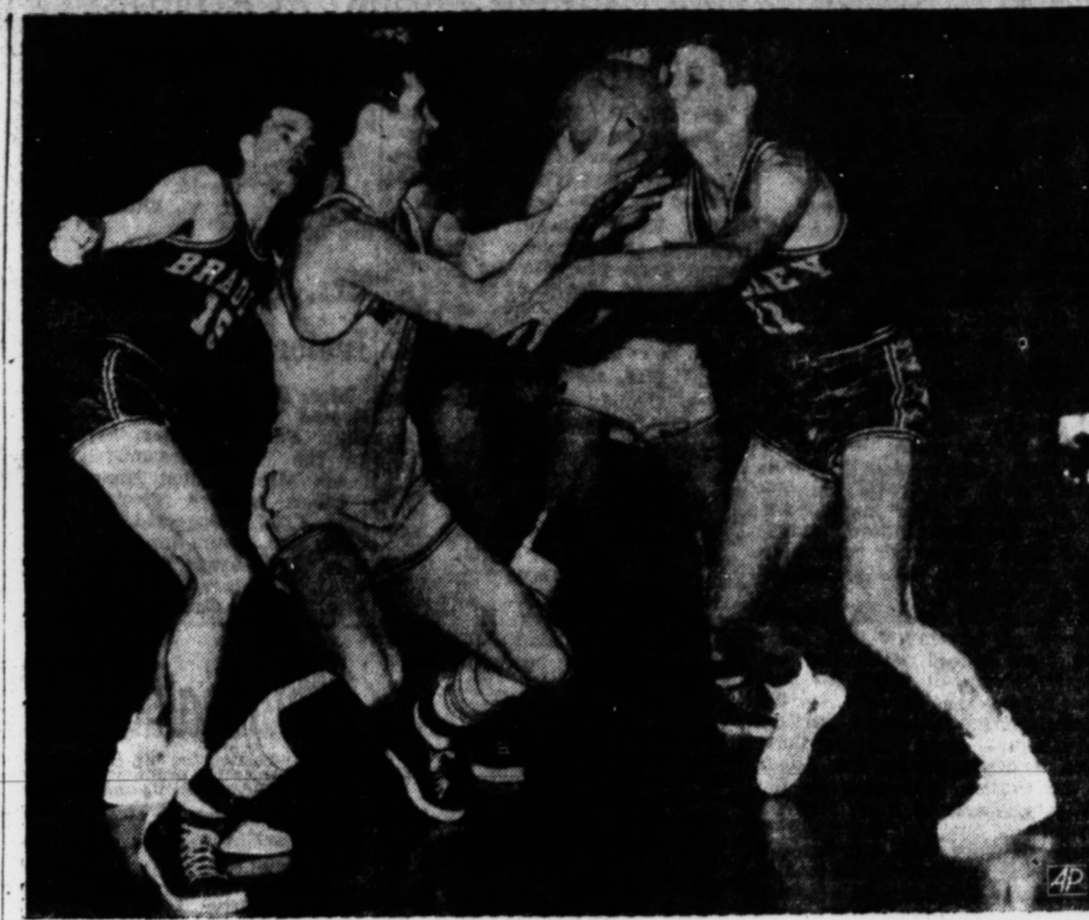

There are several things to lure the crowd. The first is being able to get a ticket. Last year, the regular ticket was jammed to the rafters but could handle only 14,376.

The second attraction is the appearance of nine former big leaguers.

Dick Burnett, wealthy owner of the Dallas club, obtained these men to play against the first Tulsa batter: Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Mickey Cochrane, Dizzy Dean, Charlie Grimm (the current Dallas manager), Charlie Gehringer, Home Run Baker, Travis Jackson and Duffie Lewis.

"We are attempting to show that Dallas is ready for major league baseball," said Garyvin (Red) Norwood, publicity man for the club. "We believe that if we can put 60,000 people into the stands for a game we can do that. You know we outdrew the St. Louis Browns last year any way. They had 270,000, Dallas had 404,000."

Home plate will be where the north goal posts are located at the Cotton Bowl. The foul lines will be short — about 180 feet — but ground rules will call for a two-base hit when the ball goes into the stands except for the longest distance in the park which will measure 325 feet.

REALLY ON THE KISSER—It was no love match but Bill Mann (11), Bradley University forward, appears to be kissing the ball held by Claude Housh, University of Kansas, in their fifth district playoff at Kansas City, Mo., for a berth in the NCAA western playoff. Also shown is Bradley's All-America Paul Uruah (15). Bradley won, 69-37, and will join four other teams in the western playoffs Friday and Saturday. (Associated Press Photo)

Seeded Fives In Close Calls

DENVER — (AP) — The top four seeded teams in the National AAU Basketball Tournament were all in the quarterfinals today, but three of them were badly frightened in last night's third round games.

Only Oakland's national champion Blue 'n Golds, among the big four, came through without trouble. The smooth California club swamped the Salt Lake City Murray Buicks 88-47.

Bartlesville's Phillips Oilers (No. 2), the Denver Chevrolets (No. 3) and the San Francisco Stewart Chevrolets (No. 4), all ran into serious trouble in a thrilling third round session.

Phillips needed a last ditch rally to subdue the veteran Los Angeles Police team 35-27. Denver was hard pressed all the way in defeating the Heaston, Kans., King Motors, 49-45. San Francisco was forced into an overtime before stopping the Sioux City, Iowa, Jamco's 73-62.

Tonight's quarterfinal round will be opened at 7 p.m. (CST) by Phillips and the Santa Monica, Calif., Golden Dukes. Denver and Milwaukee Allen Bradley are scheduled at 8:30. Oakland and the Seattle Alpine Dairy at 10 p.m., and San Francisco and the Peoria, Ill., Diesels at 11:30.

In other third round contests, Milwaukee defeated the Dayton, Ohio, All Stars 72-54; the Santa Maria, Calif., Golden Dukes eliminated the Houston, Texas, Ada Oilers 69-56, and Peoria defeated the Spokane, Wash., Inland Empire, 77-56.

Softballers to Meet Tomorrow At Police Station

Another organizational meeting for forming a city softball league will be held tomorrow night in the City Court Room in the Police Station. An earlier meeting was held last week and only three teams were represented, although several others were reported to be interested in playing.

The meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

All clubs or organizations that would like to enter the softball league are asked to have a representative present.

Homers Reigned Through Citrus Circuit Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)

Home runs rained out of the sky yesterday and it was a four-bagger by Ted Williams that dropped the Boston Braves for the ninth straight time in the major league exhibition baseball circuit.

The Red Sox slugger hit a tremendous 425-foot clout to spark the Boston Red Sox 5-4 victory over their intractable rival, the Cincinnati Reds.

Outfielder Hank Sauer hit one over the fence in the ninth to give the Chicago Cubs a 6-5 victory over San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League.

Cus Zernial of the Chicago White Sox blasted a 380-foot homer off Clyde Shoun as the Sox beat Oakland, of the Pacific Coast League, 6-3.

Then, the Philadelphia Phillies blasted four homers off Detroit pitcher but lost, 10-8. Gran Hamner, Dick Whitman, Eddie Waitkus and Dick Sisler hit four-baggers for the losers.

But pitching spelled the difference in the Philadelphia Athletics-Brooklyn game. Three Dodgers hurlers teamed up for a 4-0 shut-out. Rookie Bob Milliken, pinch-runner Roe and Willard Ramsdell allowed the Athletics only five hits.

Two Cincinnati rookies, Johnny Heft and Harry Perkowski, also had plenty of stuff. They allowed the St. Louis Cardinals only four hits in winning, 4-1. Petkowiak yielded a pinch homer to Bill Howerton. The defeat snapped a four-game winning streak and has been chosen "Manager of the Year."

But Billy apparently realized better than anyone else that he faced rough going in '49, and he steadfastly refused to talk penmanship. His athletes backed him up right to the hilt by coming apart and finishing a dismal sixth.

"We are bringing in the young ones, the very best we can find, and when they are ready we'll be right up there in the fight," he says today.

"Some club is bound to come up with some outstanding youngsters any time now. They're overdue. As I see it, our league is so closely balanced that a couple of real good rookies could send any one of a half-dozen clubs, including ours, right to the top."

Bill feels he has three boys who might answer the description — might jump into his lineup and surrounded by such veterans as Ralph Kiner, Wally Westlake, Stan Rojek, Clyde McCullough and others — propel the Pirates into the pennant battle.

Outstanding of the trio is Dale Coogan, a big 19-year-old first baseman. He played in first school against Paul Pettit, the Pirates' $100,000 bonus pitcher who presently is undergoing schooling with the New Orleans club.

"He's a real beauty," says the Pittsburgh manager. "Some think he might be a year away with the bat, but I'm not sure they're right."

Next on Bill's list, and not far behind, is Bill Donald, a 21-year-old coast product who won 13 while losing 11 for New Orleans last year and posted an earned run mark of 3.60.

There is Dan O'Connell, a 23-year-old infielder from Paterson, N. J., who slugged .314 for St. Paul in the American Association and drove in 102 runs — an amazing figure considering that he hit far down in the batting order. He is a Brooklyn farm hand who cost the Pirates a reported $50,000.

"He looks good to me," Meyer says cautiously. "I'm giving him every chance and certainly will carry him at least until the season opens — maybe a lot longer."

Gene Sarazen has played in more PGA championships than any other golfer — 28 through 1949.

The cornerstone was recently laid for the new University of Caen in France which was founded in 1432.

My Biggest Boner

By MAX CAREY

Former Pittsburgh outfielder and National League base-stealing champ.

Someone told me to stand in front of the plate and hit a spitball before it broke.

A spitball pitcher named McConnell had come from the Federal League to the Cubs, and the Pirates tackled him in Chicago in 1917.

I swung at his low spitball all afternoon, never got a quiet foul, but ground rules struck out four times.

I was worried, started trying to figure out how to hit the spitball.

The next time we faced McConnell the club went into the 11th inning scoreless. Having less standing in front of the plate, the only thing to do was to stand back of it.

I hit after the ball broke, and the result was a home run that broke up the game.

I got to be a good spitball hitter.

Major league batters now swing at the first ball pitched. They're playing bad baseball on the pitcher's side. As a defensive hitter in my last 10 years in the National League, I never swung at

Cardinals Seek Cooper Back Again; Priddy's Bat Hot

VERO BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Big Don Newcombe, who has had a bad arm, and Jackie Robinson, sidelined by an ailing knee, were expected to see action with the Brooklyn Dodgers today in a game with the Philadelphia Athletics.

SARASOTA, Fla. — (AP) — Boston Red Sox third baseman Johnny Pesky has discarded a special corset he has been wearing to protect a pulled side muscle and hopes to resume spring conditioning within a few days.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals still want catcher Walker Cooper of the Cincinnati Reds, but the deal apparently won't be in cash, if at all.

Luke Sewell of the Reds said he'll insist on a player deal — a pitcher or second baseman for Cooper would be preferred. Card Manager Eddie Dyer wants Cooper for several reasons — he's a veteran, knows how to handle pitchers, and is a right-handed slugger.

LAKELAND, Fla. — (AP) — Gerry Priddy, the Detroit Tigers' $100,000 buy from the St. Louis Browns, is hot in spring training. Both at bat and at second base Priddy has been slugging in fine style of one of the Tigers' major 1950 problems. His current hitting streak has run to six blows in seven times at bat.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — (AP) — Manager Eddie Sawyer has just about erased any question as to who's on first for the Philadelphia Phillies this year.

Sawyer's decision to use Dick Sisler in the outfield against the Detroit Tigers yesterday with Eddie Waitkus covering the initial sack indicated Waitkus has won his old job for keeps.

Eastern, Western NCAA 5s Ready for Opening Action

CCNY to Face Ohio State of Big 10 Tonight

NEW YORK — (AP) — City College of New York's fantastic Fuzz Kids will open their bid for college basketball's big "double" tonight, haunted by the specter of going "stale" from overwork.

Nat Hoiman's energetic Beavers, who came from nowhere to win the National Invitation title last week, will meet Ohio State's Western Conference champions in the first game of the Eastern NAAC Playoffs at Madison Square Garden.

The second game of a sellout program will send Holy Cross Crusaders against North Carolina State champion of the Southern Conference. The tossup is at 8:15 p. m. (EST).

CCNY has been installed a 3-1-2 point favorite, although some are beginning to wonder how long the Beavers can stand the pace. Holy Cross is picked by 1-2 points.

City's big pepped-up sophomores swept through the NIT without hardly stopping for second wind, blowing out defending champion San Francisco, Kentucky, Duquesne and Bradley in order.

Hoiman said he isn't worried about his athletes getting "chesty" over their success. He is concerned that they may be getting tired.

"They've had a lot of basketball for a bunch of unseasoned boys. Only one member of the starting lineup is a senior.

The same problem haunts Coach Forrest Anderson, whose Bradley Braves are favored to win the Western Division Playoffs, opening at Kansas City tomorrow night.

Bradley, the nation's top-ranked team, has had even more basketball — and on the run, too — than CCNY. After losing in the finals of the Invitation, Bradley had to rush out to Kansas City and lick Kansas for the fifth district berth. Otherwise, the Braves would have been outside looking in.

At Kansas City tomorrow night Baylor, the Southwest's co-champion, will play Brigham Young, the Skyline Six champ, and Bradley will take on UCLA, ruler of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Local Boxers Face Panthers Friday Night

Tomorrow night the Pampa Boys Club boxing team travels to Panhandle to face the Panther ringmen in the final round trip of the season for the local fighters. Last Tuesday night they trimmed the Clarendon Bronco boxers, 5 to 4, in a team match.

The Pampa team holds one victory over the Panther team already this season. It was the first win of the year for the Panthers. And this is also the first season that Panhandle High School has held boxing on the regular sports program.

The fights tomorrow night will be held in the Panhandle High School Gymnasium, starting at 7:30.

In the earlier meeting this season the Pampa team won by a 7-5 score. Since then the Panthers and Pampa have both been fighting regularly and both squads can be expected to show improvement.

Another home bout was scheduled for the Boys Club yesterday. The Pampa team will face Clarendon in the Junior High School Gymnasium here on April 10 at 8 o'clock. The bout was arranged after the fine fights the team had at Clarendon Tuesday night.

This added bout makes two home matches for the Pampans. They will face the Panhandle High School team in a return bout here on April 12 at 8 o'clock. These bouts will also be in the Junior High School Gymnasium.

Bradley Favored In Western Play Tomorrow Night

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Bradley's Braves and the Brigham Young University Cougars are favored to survive opening competition in the Western NCAA Basketball Playoffs here tomorrow night.

Bradley is favored by 5-1-2 points over UCLA, Pacific Coast champion, while the bookmakers like Brigham Young by 6.

The Brigham Young team arrived early today.

UCLA, Baylor and Bradley each were scheduled to arrive in time today for a workout.

The winner and runner up here will meet the East's No. 1 and 2 playoff teams in New York for the National Collegiate Athletic Association championship Tuesday.

Engaged in the Eastern Playoffs at New York tonight will be City College of New York against Ohio State and Holy Cross against North Carolina State.

Baylor, Western champion in 1948 but beaten by Kentucky in the finals will meet Brigham Young in the opening game.

Bradley, voted the nation's No. 1 team and winner over Kansas in a 5th District playoff here Monday, will clash with UCLA. Tomorrow night's winners will meet Saturday for the Western consolation honors. Both of the first round victors will qualify for the games in New York Tuesday.

Coalition finished out of the money for the first time in his career when he ran next to last in the Widener at Hines Park. What racing fans are wondering is whether Coalition was affected by that "No contract, no work" business.

Coalition ran at short odds, but every other coal town in the nation is short these days, too.

Doak Walker, the Southern Methodist football great, signed to play professional ball with the Detroit Lions.

With Detroit fans, that news is okay-doak.

Jack Kramer, who was waived to the New York Giants by the Red Sox, claims he was "railroaded" out of the American League by Red Sox Manager Joe McCarthy.

If you've got to be railroaded, it might as well happen when you're about to train.

Being railroaded to the Giants isn't so bad, unless they wind up in the cabbage.

The old timers always look spry during spring training. At that time of the year, a man is as old as he fields.

The invitations to basketball teams to compete in the National Invitation tournament are out. These invitations, of course, are RSVP — Required Shooting Very Precise.

There'll be a strong flavor of Brooklyn in Atlanta this season. Dixie Walker, the Peepul's Chere, will manage the Crackers. He's signed the old Dodger pitcher, Whitlow Wyatt, as coach, and another ex-Brooklyn twirler, Hugh Casey, for relief roles.

The Atlantics this season will say, "Hey, youse-all, who's playin' 'old base for de Crackers, honeychile!"

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Where is Comiskey Park? Shibe Park? Briggs Stadium?

THE RETURN OF Roy Parker to the Oilers by the Shreveport Sports was very pleasing news to most fans. Though everyone wanted to see the little left-hander make good in the higher class ball, everybody felt most unhappy about losing him. He is a very colorful little guy, and can always be counted upon for a good performance.

In addition, he gives the Oilers a dependable "stopper." When the team hits a losing streak Roy can be counted upon to set things right more so than probably any other hurler on the staff. His batting prowess and his constant desire to play make him one of the most liked ballplayers in the league.

There may be another former Oiler back soon. Joe Fortin, who played last season in the Piedmont League, is trying to make the Sports this season, too. And it is just possible that if he should fail in that attempt that he may be coming back to Pampa to again wield that heavy stick menacingly at opposing pitchers.

There is also a rumor in the wind that the Oilers are seeking a good second baseman. Since this Loran Chaffin, who was drafted to play second in an outfielder, and since he is also a bonus baby, it is reported that the Oilers are trying to peddle him because he can't fill the spots that need filling. If something is done it will probably be done soon before the club opens spring training so that he won't have to make the hop down here for nothing.

Some of the other players who went up from the WT-NM League last season aren't finding the going so easy either. A couple of Borger stars, Jack Venable and Hugh "Monty" King, have both been farmed out to Gainesville by the Dallas Eagles. The Eagles also sent Bob Upton, fine Lamesa curveballer, to Gainesville. Another lad going to Gainesville is Glenn Selbo, another Lobo player, who performed at shortstop most of last season.

"Going up" isn't easy, when you consider the large number of players in professional baseball all with big time aspirations. Failure is no disgrace. But if a player fails to make the big time and then gives up on himself

Infield OK, Rolfe Worries Pitching, Supposedly Best

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla. — (NEA) — Now that he has a right side of the infield, Robert Rolfe is concerned about the Tigers' starting pitching. Dick Bartell, his right hand man, goes farther than that. Coach Bartell is worried about Detroit pitching period.

This struck us as rather unusual, for wasn't pitching the place where the Battling Bengala, as Black Mike Cochran called them, were supposed to be strongest?

But Red Rolfe wonders what he'll use for handcuffing. The opposition after Newhouse, Trucks, Houtteman, Hutchinson and Gray.

Roddy Richard Bartell tells you flatly, that in his opinion, the Tigers' pitching is vastly overrated.

"Where are the 20-game winners?" he asks. "Trucks had his finest season last year, and headed the list with 19 wins. Newhouse is only 29, but he has pitched a lot, and could be headed in the other direction. Hutchinson, a slim right-handed 22-year-old who was in 34 games for Little Rock of the Southern Association, and bagged 17; Saul Rogovin, a right-hander who accounted for 29 games in Buffalo the past two campaigns, and Jim Parton, a lanky, left-handed Tennessean who participated in 29 games with Buffalo. Rogovin fanned 163 in 197 innings. Parton is rated by the Detroit front office as faster than Bob Hooper, the Elisons' 19-game winner acquired by the Athletics.

Dick Kryhoski is to be given his head against both types of pitching, but Don Kolloway will be ready to tackle the left-handers if they persist in fooling the Bergen Junior College lad. The Tigers started to move when Kolloway was shifted from second to first base in 1949.

Jerry Priddy gives the infield balance, and Eddie Lake had Shortstop Johnny Lipon in the dugout at the tag end of last season. The outfield is superb, the catching adequate, with Joe Ginsberg, the Toledo farm hand, coming on like a prairie fire.

And the other American League clubs undoubtedly are even more apprehensive about the Detroit pitching than Red Rolfe and his lieutenant, Dick Bartell.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — When Ohio State booked a tune-up game against DePaul before the CAA Basketball Tournament, Coach Tippy Dye asked for a couple of Eastern officials. Jocko Collins and Lou Eisenstein tooted the whistles . . . The idea, of course, was to get the Buckeyes used to the slightly different interpretations and "calls" . . . It may pay off, even under the CAA system of having one ref from each district and assigning them to teams from other areas . . . For tonight's opening tussle against CCMU, Ohio State drew Ed Boyle (New England) and Arnold Bennett (Washington), who was slightly criticized as a "fast whistle" man in the Invitation Tournament . . . Incidentally, the NIT used 18 different officials for 12 games and Asa Bushnell, who picked them, insists "Some of the best performers" were turned in by comparative strangers."

SAME OLD PITCH
When Manager Red Rolfe of the Tigers walked out of the clubhouse at Lakeland, Fla., the other day, he was amazed to observe John Carmichael, the Chicago scribe, playing catch with another member of the fourth estate . . . Red gasped: "Gosh, John, after all the baseball you've watched, your throwing form should be better than mine." Carmichael made another leisurely and awkward, peg and wisecracked: "Suppose it should, but don't forget that down through the years it's the Cubs I've been watching."

ONE-MINUTE SPOUTS PAGE
Seems strange to be reading rave notices from the Dodger camp over a pitcher who was given the heave-ho by the Athletics, but if Bill McCahan really has recovered from his sore arm, he could be tough . . . Although Ned Irish almost raves about Irwin Dambrot of City College, don't look for him in a Knickerbockers uniform next season . . . "He's going to enter dental school," Ned mourns. "We already have one medical student and that won't work." . . . Five Ivy League lacrosse teams this spring are captained by Exeter graduates . . . Roy Worters, who spent several days here revisiting his old hockey haunts, says he sees a lot of pro hockey these days, but he doesn't like it. "You never see a clean body check, but they knock your brains out along the boards," Roy maintains.

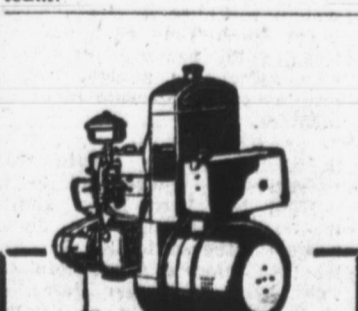

CLEANING THE CUFF
Bob Brawner, Princeton's speedy sophomore breast stroke swimmer, devoted his spare time at the recent Eastern college meet to taking movies of Joe Verdeur in action . . . We didn't know scouting had been carried that far . . . When Washington and Lee winds up spring football practice Saturday with the usual squad game, there'll be a 50 cent admission charge. It's called a "benefit" for the W&L track team, which would benefit more if a couple of fast backs were released for sprinting . . . Describing the difficulties of promoting college basketball in the San Francisco Cow Palace, Frank Walsh says: "These cowmen knew Notre Dame, but when I brought William and Mary out there they thought it was a dance team."

ANSWER: Comiskey Park is in Chicago; Shibe Park is in Philadelphia and Briggs Stadium is in Detroit.

COMMUNISTS START 'PEACE MOVEMENT'

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Communist party in America has launched a "peace movement."

The Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist party, reported the plan as enunciated by National Committee Chairman William Z. Foster and National Secretary Gus Hall.

Foster, who is ill with a heart ailment, said in a message to the party's national committee that "henceforth, more than ever before, the fight for peace must be in the center of all our party's work."

He added:

"Regardless of any agreements that may be made to soften the cold war — and such agreements are quite possible — nevertheless the war danger will continue to exist. That is because of the incurably warlike character of imperialism, especially American imperialism. The war danger will last as long as capitalism does, and we must orientate upon this realization."

Foster said capitalism would not "abandon this war program until it no longer has the power left with which to make war."

Hall told the national committee the basis now existed in this country for what the daily worker described as "a vast peace movement." He said it could

It is a 1922 slaying that brought him to the Fannin County jail.

Sheriff Corbett Aikin returned him from Phoenix, Ariz., Sunday night.

"I slept for the first time in 28 years with an easy conscience," King told a reporter.

He is charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Park Rayburn, 24, on Rayburn's farm near here. King was a tenant on the farm.

He escaped, although a mob chased him.

"I'm sorry I had to shoot him," King told reporters. He said the shooting grew out of trouble with Rayburn.

When Aikin took office eight years ago, one of his campaign promises was to bring back King. A tip sent him to Phoenix. He found King working as a janitor in a church.

U.S.-Bulgar Break Called 'Inevitable'

WICHITA, Kas. — (AP) — Former U.S. Minister Donald Heath says this nation's diplomatic break with Bulgaria was inevitable.

"Russia and her satellites have made it clear that they are not bound by the code of national ethics which all other nations are," he told a chamber of commerce luncheon here.

"We have shown the world that we are patient," he said "but we have shown the Communists that there is a point beyond which we won't be pushed."

"We have not abandoned our interest in the welfare of the Bulgarian people, neither have we abandoned the peace treaty which we signed."

Heath was recalled from Sofia Feb. 21 after Bulgaria charged he was a spy. He said severance of diplomatic relations came after two years of mistreatment of U.S. representatives in Bulgaria.

Heath called the Bulgarian charges against him fantastic.

Actor 'Considers' Senatorial Campaign

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Actor Edward Arnold says he's considering running for the Republican nomination as U. S. senator.

When asked to comment on the coincidence that his current role in the movies is that of a senatorial candidate, Arnold gave a veiled "heh, heh, heh."

Already in the race are Sheridan Downey, incumbent, and Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, both Democrats, and Rep. Richard Nixon, Republican.

Former Champ Ice Skater Teaches Sport to Tiny Girls

NEW YORK — (AP) — The two young daughters of Maribel Vinson have made an even earlier start in life than did their famous mother.

Both my girls took up ice skating at the age of 2, she laughed. "I was 3 myself when I began."

That was 35 years ago. Her father strapped a pair of double runners to her feet, she took a few tentative steps — and was off on a career that was to make her one of the best known figures in American sports.

Skating was pure joy and passion to her. Maribel won her first women's national figure skating championship at 16, and she captured it eight more times before she turned professional in 1938. Only one woman consistently beat her in world competition — Sonja Henie.

Today, at 38, she still spends eight to ten hours a day on the St. Moritz Club rink at Berkeley, Calif., teaching her skill to youthful enthusiasts.

"I'm rather at another crossroads in my life now," she said. "I never want to give up skating — after all my mother still skates at 70 and my father skated until he was 76 — but I don't want to spend my whole time at it."

Maribel feels that many skaters today spend entirely too much of their lives on the ice.

"We used to skate only in the winter months. Now they skate 11 months of the year. That makes the competition more dog-eat-dog, and takes the zest out of it."

"Most of this high-pressure is unnecessary. A great skater doesn't have to skate all year round to keep great — but if your competitor does it, you do it. It's just a merry-go-round."

Miss Vinson has no regrets over the big role skating has played in her own life.

"I don't know whether I want to take my own children through the same routine — it's a long road," she said. "But I got a tremendous amount of fun out of skating — more than I do now. I'm sure — and I saw a lot of the world I'd probably never have seen."

"But I do sometimes wonder what I might have done if I hadn't turned professional."
