

Mercy Death Admitted by Doctor, Prosecutor Tells Jury at Trial

BORROTO FAMILY—Pretty Elise Borroto, 19, and her father, Reginald, go about housework while Dr. Hermann Sander is on trial on charges he killed Mrs. Borroto, a cancer patient, by injecting air in her veins at the Manchester, N. H., hospital. The Borroto defend Dr. Sander's action.

MANCHESTER, N. H. — (AP) — The state said today that Dr. Hermann N. Sander admitted killing a 39-year-old cancer patient with air injections and claimed he did it at the pleading of her husband to relieve her suffering. Attorney General William L. Phinney made the assertion as he outlined the state's case against the 41-year-old doctor to a 12-man jury trying him for murder.

Speaking softly and slowly, Phinney quoted Dr. Sander as saying that he knew he "might have broken a law but that the law was not right... and should be changed."

Weak FEPC Bill Faces House Vote

Phone Strike Is Postponed For 60 Days

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A fair employment practices (FEPC) bill with few friends and no enforcement provisions faced a final vote today by weary House members who toiled 15 straight hours to produce it.

The measure was in imminent danger of being sent back to the labor committee for pigeonholing.

The bill was tentatively approved after Southern civil rights opponents had filibustered relentlessly against an anti-job discrimination measure with enforcement teeth, backed by President Truman's forces.

The House was ready for the final vote at 3:20 a.m. (EST) (2:20 a.m. CBT), when a technicality forced it to quit, putting off the showdown until sometime after noon.

Supporters of the administration bill found little to their liking in the substitute measure bearing the name of Rep. McConnell (R-Pa.).

The bill would create a five-member federal commission to cooperate with state and local agencies in voluntarily curbing job discrimination against Negroes or other minorities.

The commission would have power to investigate and recommend—but it couldn't issue cease and desist orders and get them enforced, as under the administration bill.

The Dixie members had tried since noon Tuesday to block House action on any kind of bill. They forced repeated time-consuming roll-call votes and tried several times to force adjournment.

But administration Democrats and a sizeable group of Republicans made clear they were willing to sit it out all night and again today if necessary.

The administration's floor managers held the upper hand until about midnight, when the Southern bloc almost forced adjournment.

Then, on the big vote some three hours later, administration strategy backfired.

The Truman forces had planned to approve tentatively the McConnell substitute, then defeat it on a roll-call and revert to the original administration bill as the finished product that would go to the Senate.

But the roll-call showed 221 for the substitute and 178 against it, with 104 Republicans joining 117 Democrats, mostly Southerners, in support of the bill. Against the bill were 128 Democrats, 49 Republicans and the lone American Laborer.

That's when the administration decided to call it quits and come back for another fight in the afternoon. Nobody resisted the adjournment, as one of the longest continuous sessions in House history came to an end.

Weak FEPC Bill Faces House Vote

Phone Strike Is Postponed For 60 Days

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The threat of a nationwide breakdown in telephone service, scheduled for tomorrow, has been lifted by union acceptance of a 60-day bargaining truce.

We will bargain every day, 24 hours a day during that period in seeking a peaceful settlement," said President Joseph A. Beirne of the CIO Communications Workers of America.

President Truman asked that service remain uninterrupted while work goes on under present wage, hour and other conditions. Some Bell System companies accepted promptly; others were expected to do so.

Beirne quickly polled his executive board on yesterday's White House proposal. He announced the decision last night, notifying Mr. Truman by wire that the union recognizes its obligation to the "public interest and welfare."

The long lines division of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. wired the president it would be glad to continue bargaining "in a sincere effort to settle the dispute." The added time, it said, should be "useful in reaching an agreement."

Similar word came from the Western Electric Co. of one of the key companies in the dispute, and others in Atlanta, the Southern Bell Telephone Company went a bit further, suggesting the truce run until June 5.

The strike of 100,000 telephone workers had been set for 6 a. m. local time, tomorrow. Another 120,000 phone workers were due to join the walkout on March 1, when their contracts expire. These, too, are covered by the truce.

But the bargaining was off to a bad start. A stalemate involving Western Electric was still unbroken after 48 hours of effort by Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching.

Ching arranged for negotiations here, starting Tuesday, to cover the manufacturing workers in Western Electric, which is A. T. & T.'s manufacturing subsidiary.

The company balked, saying it would talk only in New York, where earlier unsuccessful talks had been held. The union refused to return its negotiators to New York.

Ching had found no solution to this stalemate today. Western Electric is important in the strike maneuvers, because its far-flung installation and sales forces can set picket lines at every major exchange. Telephone operators, under CWA's charter, would be bound to respect them.

Baylor To Dedicate $800,000 Structure

WACO — (AP) — Baylor University will lay the cornerstone of its new $800,000 library building Saturday.

The building will be dedicated to the English poet, Robert Browning, and to Dr. A. Armstrong, chairman of Baylor's English department. It will house the Baylor Browning collection of more than 15,000 items, assembled by Dr. Armstrong, and offices and classrooms of the English department.

Britons Throng to Polling Places As Close Election Is Predicted

Lewis Action Necessary by Early Friday

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Today brought John L. Lewis just about his last chance to head off the danger of a multi-million dollar fine against his striking coal miners.

The chance — a quick agreement during the day or night on a strike-ending contract — looked slim to government observers.

Meanwhile, the growing scarcity of coal clamped an ever tightening grip on industries and homes.

There continued to be talk that Congress might vote power for the president to seize the mines and tell the miners to work as government employees. The White House said nothing.

This is Lewis' last chance because tomorrow at 9 a. m. (CST), the United Mine Workers are under orders from Judge Richmond B. Keesh to "show cause" why the union shouldn't be found in contempt of court.

If the union explanations don't satisfy the judge, there will be a formal hearing Monday on a contempt order.

It was Judge Keesh who issued a back-to-work order on February 11 that has been flatly ignored by the miners. They have stayed away from the pits, crying "no contract, no work."

Although Lewis instructed them to go back, he, too, may come in for Judge Keesh's attentions.

Lewis and the operators were deadlocked over new contract terms.

Whether Lewis and the operators were close to agreement on a new pact after more than ten months of negotiations remained to be seen. Neither side would say there had been any progress.

The mounting effect of the coal shortage was another incentive toward agreement.

A state of emergency was declared in Erie, Pa., a city of 100,000. Under it, all industries will close down Sunday and Monday, and maybe still another day next week.

Roving bands of pickets swept down on non-union mines in Pennsylvania. Three men were beaten near Clearfield. State police estimated that $4,000 damage had been done to two mines in the Ligonier area.

The estimated number of non-miners being made idle by the strike was expected to pass 75,000 when the full effect of a 23,000-man layoff at Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation is felt.

In the meantime, some additional information became available on how far apart Lewis and the operators are on the matter of a new contract.

Wayland College Head Says Peace Job for All

By MARY FORRESTER News Staff

"Are we a chosen people of God?" asked Dr. J. W. Marshall, Wayland College president, last night at a group of Pampans at the Country Club. "Why," he asked, "are we favored? Why do we have so much more than the other peoples of the earth? Why do we live in the country considered the land of opportunity—are we a chosen people of God?"

Dr. Marshall, honor guest and principal speaker at the Business and Professional Women's Club International Relations banquet, discussed the topic "International Relations." The banquet climaxed a week's program on the subject of relations between the nations of the world by the B & PW Club.

Dr. Marshall is a brilliant speaker who can discuss with authority the matter of other people, since he is widely traveled and knows from experience how Americans "raja" abroad. As a lecturer in the Orient at the onset of the war, his contact with the people there was real and unvarnished.

Profiting from his experience, Dr. Marshall has instilled in Wayland College a spirit of understanding unknown in most American colleges and universities. He said this is possible because of the size of the college — its enrollment is only 500 — thus allowing a close relationship between students and faculty. He said Wayland College has a higher percentage of foreign students than any other college in the South.

One of Dr. Marshall's prized accomplishments is the International A Cappella Choir, made up of students from other lands. The singers, dressed in native costume, present the songs of their own nations. The educator believes that this is one of the best possible ways to interpret the spirit and emotions of those nations. He said the choir is rapidly becoming the most popular musical organization in Texas.

The college offers a scholarship for the choir as other colleges and universities do for football, he said.

Speaking of peace, which Dr. Marshall said should be the goal of everyone, he stated "World peace depends not on the solutions of the United Nations and of government officials alone—we will not have peace by accident nor by wishful thinking. If we are to have peace we must educate for it, we must train for it, and we must vote for it. Peace is a job for all of us. Dr. Marshall believes that an understanding between nations must be brought about before there is hope of world peace, and that understanding can best be effected through the youth of the world.

He mentioned, also, the importance of careful selection of overseas personnel. He said they serve as our representatives—it is through them that the people of other nations see our country. He said missionaries are usually (See WAYLAND, Page 2)

Great Britain Is Due Wheat

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Britain today received authority to buy $45,000,000 worth of American and Canadian wheat under the Marshall Plan.

The Economic Cooperation Administration announced the recovery spending approval in seven foreign aid allotments to new European countries.

ECA said the British funds will be used to buy $30,000,000 of Canadian wheat. The remaining $15,000,000 is earmarked for wheat and wheat flour from the United States.

The agency set a May 31 deadline for completion of contracts for the wheat shipments. It said deliveries of the Canadian grain must be made by July 31 and the American deliveries by June 30.

34 Million Eligible to Cast Ballots; Record Total Seen

LONDON — (AP) — Britons formed the most important queue of the past five years as they lined up today to mark their "X's" for or against re-electing their Socialist government.

A record vote in the national elections was expected as lines formed early and steady streams began moving through polling stations all over this island kingdom.

The choice before more than 34,000,000 voters: Re-election of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Laborites, pledged to pull still more industries under state control; or a return to the Conservative rule of wartime premier Winston Churchill, who promised to halt nationalization but keep most of Britain's welfare state security measures.

Few women, long accustomed to queuing in shops, turned out for the early voting. One of them, however, was Mrs. Winston Churchill.

Mrs. Churchill was smiling as she arrived at the polling station. Attlee and his wife already had voted by mail.

The Prime Minister and Mrs. Attlee were cheered by a large crowd when they arrived at a Labor party headquarters in Walthamstow West, the working class section of London where Attlee is a candidate.

Attlee shook hands with workers repairing the street, and joked: "I feel fine and I'm glad the weather's fine. Otherwise my opponent would blame me for the weather."

No incidents had been reported. But London's famous "Bobbies" were primed for huge crowds which are expected to jam Trafalgar Square and Piccadilly Circus tonight to watch election results.

Churchill himself arrived to vote at St. Stephen's a couple of hours later. He was cheered as he waved his familiar "V" sign and stopped to pat the cheek of a little girl who handed him some flowers.

The voting was expected to be close. Victory, or defeat for the Laborites, in power since July 1945 — hangs chiefly on domestic issues.

For these people of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland neither party promises any relaxation of the bleak austerity under which Britons have lived since wartime. And no party has suggested dropping the ambitious social services established after the Laborites came to power in 1945.

So the choice for Mr. and Mrs. John Bull is based on which kind of government they think will keep the breadwinner employed, lower their heavy taxes, boost their salaries and cut their living costs.

In London and many parts of Eastern England the voters had dry weather. But in Western England and in Scotland many of them had to trudge through cold (See ELECTION, Page 2)

Senate Gets Probe Power

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democratic Senate leaders wound up today with even more authority than they had asked to investigate charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that a Communist spy ring has been operating in the State Department.

Republicans succeeded in getting the Democrats to accept several strengthening additions to the original inquiry resolution.

After hours of angry debate, Republicans got these additions to the inquiry measure:

1. A directive to the investigating group "to procure by subpoena" secret government loyalty and employment files of government employees facing charges.
2. A requirement for open public hearings on any formal charges of disloyalty.
3. An amendment which would extend the inquiry to past as well as present State Department employees.

Ruling Freezes Alien Hearings

DALLAS — (AP) — The Supreme Court ruling which prevents immigration inspectors from sitting as examiners in deportation hearings has frozen hearings for about 15 aliens in North Texas.

W. C. Young, agent in charge of the immigration service office here, said last night that the case of Jose Estrada, 55, a Mexican hod carrier, is among those. His hearing had been set for today.

The immigration service wants to deport Estrada because, it says, he is a member of an organization advocating the overthrow of the American government by force.

Top o' Texas Annual Fair Discontinued

The Board of Directors of the Top o' Texas Fair Association last night voted to discontinue the annual fair under the present setup.

The decision was reached, it was announced, after the group had discussed every angle of the problem confronting continuance.

The board voted in the Chamber of Commerce Office to refer the matter of future fair operations back to the Gray County Home Demonstration Council and let it decide the fate of the fairs.

The Top o' Texas Fairs were an outgrowth of Gray County Home Demonstration exhibits, which were started about four years ago. Two years ago the fair was enlarged to include exhibits of the entire Top o' Texas area.

If the Home Demonstration Club Council decides to continue a fair, the matter will be left up to it to reorganize a new board and then proceed along any lines it deems.

The present Top o' Texas Fair Association Board of Directors agreed to be responsible for the deficit incurred at the past fair, and hand the operations to the Home Demonstration Council free of debt.

All members of the board present asked to be relieved of their duties.

The fair board's decision was based on several factors. One of the main reasons the fair was discontinued was the outcome of the recent bond election that called for improvement of facilities at Recreation Park. The bond issue was defeated by about three to one.

Also, the board believes the facilities available at the park will not justify holding a fair since it could not be made into an exhibition Pampa and neighboring towns would be proud of.

Tents used at the past fair proved to be both unsatisfactory and expensive, so the board deemed it inadvisable to go into another tent fair.

It was pointed out that proper interest was not manifested at some of the exhibitions — particularly agriculture — in the past fair.

In a story in The News yesterday, the Home Demonstration Council was said to favor the continuance of the fairs. A letter from the council's secretary said: "... We have worked hard to get a little fair started in order that we might have other women over the county with whom to compete our products and work we do throughout the year..."

Six Escape Texas Jail

TEXARKANA — (AP) — Six prisoners sawed their way out of the Bowie County jail at Boston, Texas, last night and escaped after seriously wounding a Negro trustee.

Boston is 28 miles west of here. Officers said the trusty apparently was beaten about the head during their escape.

Sam Raney, jailer, said he did not know any automobile and believed the man left on foot.

Five of the fugitives were awaiting trial Monday. They were Chris Conroy, 39, charged with burglary; Emmett Thompson, about 26, from Cass County, charged with two counts of auto theft; W. E. Palmer, 80, Miller County, Ark., charged with check swindling; Fred Langhorn, about 26, Nash, Texas, charged with second offense of driving while intoxicated; and Donald Reed, 32, charged with burglary.

The sixth prisoner, Tommy Randolph, about 30, had been convicted of robbery and sentenced to 15 years in prison. He was awaiting transportation to the state prison.

Senators Seek Cotton Acreage Measure Action

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate leaders tried again today to get action on a cotton acreage bill which also would halt price supports for potatoes.

The bill originally was scheduled for a vote early this week but with the exception of a brief flurry of debate Monday, it has received scant attention.

The House has approved a bill revising cotton and peanut acreage set up by a 1949 act. The Senate Agriculture Committee discarded the peanut acreage floor, cut the amount of the House cotton increase and added a controversial rider intended to prevent future potato surpluses.

This amendment would eliminate all federal price supports for potatoes not planted at the time of the bill's enactment unless the crop was brought under strict marketing quotas to discourage overproduction.

Gun Duel Fatal To Cafe Owner

NOVA CITY, Texas — (AP) — Two officers described as a duel with automatics ended with the death today of a Knox City cafe owner, Guy Milford.

City Marshal George Hardberg and Milford and Nightwatchman Lee A. Wampler emptied pistols at each other about 1:30 p.m. in the alley behind Milford's cafe.

Milford was charged with murder in the court of Justice of the Peace today.

Milford, about 35, was shot twice in the face, once in each hand, and twice in the stomach, Sheriff H. T. Melton said. A .38-caliber pistol, empty, was found near his body.

ELECTION

winter drizzles and nasty mist to cast their ballots.

The Air Ministry's special election morning forecast was for occasional rain everywhere in Britain at some time during the day.

The pro-Socialist weekly New Statesman and Nation had predicted that rain would hurt the Laborites and help the Conservatives.

The magazine argued the workers usually wait till nightfall to walk to the polls and might stay at home if the weather is bad. Polls close at 9 p.m. (3 p.m. CST) and final results are expected sometime Friday afternoon.

Both major parties had urged a record vote to insure themselves a winning majority. Both of them had expressed confidence of victory.

Political observers predicted that 75 to 80 percent of the qualified voters — everyone over 21 except peers, convicts and electors — would cast ballots.

In the last election in 1945 more than 25,000,000 people, or 73 percent of the electorate, voted. Actually, they were not being called upon to choose between Atlee or Churchill or any of the leaders of the minor parties.

They were being asked to elect their own representatives in Britain's House of Commons.

The party getting the most seats in that parliamentary body will control the government, and the leader of the party will be elected almost immediately, rather than give up cherished plans for further nationalization of industry.

Although their policy was clearly anti-socialist, they made it clear they were not supporting the Conservatives.

A last-minute statement by the Liberal party — which won only 12 seats in 1945 — last night declared it would support the Labor party in Parliament if the Laborites failed to get a big enough majority. But the Liberals attached one big condition — that the Laborites drop plans for further nationalization of industry.

The offer was not taken very seriously by Labor leaders, who would probably prefer another election immediately, rather than give up cherished plans for public ownership.

Atlee's government called for elections in the face of two major defeats on pro-socialist commonwealth.

New Zealand electors ousted the Labor government they had had for 14 years in national elections Nov. 30, replacing it with a conservative government. Australia veered away from an eight-year-old Labor government on Nov. 10 to bring in a coalition government of Liberals and Country party members.

was known to be holding out for more than that.

His basic demands, granted by nearly 2,000 smaller companies mining 45,000,000 tons of coal, are for a 95-cent daily pay increase above the present scale of $14.05 and a 15-cent boost in the welfare fund royalty on each ton of coal, now 20 cents a ton.

DEATH

Ducharme, assistant to Miss Conroy Phinney said.

"About this time the sheriff called by Dr. Biron arrived. Told by Dr. Biron as to the notation (of the air injections) on Mrs. Borroto's hospital records, Dr. Sander again freely told the sheriff the facts substantially as he told them to Dr. Biron.

"He said in addition he did know it was breaking the law; that every doctor knew that, but that his conscience was clear and that morally he had not done anything wrong."

Phinney told the jurors that Mrs. Borroto's pulse was very weak early on the morning of Dec. 4 — the day she died.

He continued:

A day nurse — Mrs. Rose — came on duty and found her unconscious.

Dr. Sander telephoned a bout 10:15 a.m. to ask about Mrs. Borroto's condition and was told she was about the same.

Dr. Sander went in later to visit Mrs. Borroto, took her left wrist to take her pulse, and then asked the nurse whether there was a 20-cc syringe available.

The nurse said she did not think so and the doctor then asked her to get a 10 or 20-cc syringe, and a sterilized needle.

The nurse noted Mrs. Borroto's left arm and injected the needle into the vein.

The doctor remarked as he did so that air in the vein would act like an embolism (stoppage of the blood stream).

The nurse noted Mrs. Borroto's face then and there appeared no change.

Within two or three minutes the doctor turned and handed her the syringe and indicated Mrs. Borroto was dead.

U.S. Considering Yugoslavia Loan
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States is reported about ready to grant an emergency loan to Yugoslavia. The idea is to keep the Yugoslav economy from being strangled by a trade boycott led by Russia.

American officials said the loan — which would be this country's second to Marshal Tito since he broke with Moscow — would be relatively small. It might be $10,000,000 or $15,000,000, to be used for the purchase of U. S. cotton, petroleum and other urgently needed raw materials.

Confidential reports to the State Department indicate there is a danger of unemployment in Yugoslav textile mills and other industries.

The Russian-led trade boycott has cut off more than 50 percent of Yugoslavia's trade with outside countries.

 I have often said that some of the best hands in bridge are played in a restaurant after a tournament is over. Today's hand is one that came up during the duplicate game I watched at the Kentucky Hotel in Atlantic City, N. J. players got into a six heart contract and it was made at all but two tables. The jack of spades was opened and declarer finessed the queen, which held the trick. He led a small diamond and South hopped up with ace. Now declarer had no problem. He could pick up the trumps, lead the king of diamonds and dummy's jack of diamonds was established, on which he discarded his losing club.

One East and West pair played to make the contract by cashing the ace of spades immediately after winning the first trick with the queen. South trumped and cashed the ace of diamonds.

However, it takes almost double dummy defense to defeat this contract. Suppose that when East wins the opening lead with the queen of spades and returns a diamond, South plays low. West will win with the king.

Now let him take three rounds of trump, ending up in dummy. Dummy leads another diamond. South must duck this trick again and North will win with the queen. Now declarer will have no place to put his losing club.

A rather odd hold-up play, but one which, as I said before, was figured out over a cup of coffee after the tournament was over.

The satin housebird of Australia first constructs an elaborate nest and then paints the inside of it. It curdles fruit with its bill, and uses its bill to smear the juice on sticks lining the inside of the bower.

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no,'" Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."

Increasing Pension Funds Causing Investors Worry

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—If you're worrying about what happens to that dollar in your pension fund before time for you to cash in on it, you aren't the only one. Now even some bankers worry.

The rush to set up more pension funds for more and more people already has company bookkeepers chewing pencils. They must find the money. Whether it's a private or government special security pension, the company puts up at least part.

Trustees of the funds also worry about safe but profitable places to put the money to work. And now, at the top theoretical level, investment bankers are worrying lest these funds swell to a total so great there won't be enough investment opportunities of the required sort to take care of them.

Others, and they may be in a majority, scoff at the idea. But if funds seeking employment should find too few gilt edge securities, available, some think that might perk up the market for preferred stock, and even for common stock. Others think it more likely to put pressure on the U. S. Treasury to issue long-term bonds attractive to institutional investors.

Estimates on the additional amount of money in pension funds which will hit the capital market this year range from $500 million more than last year to $1 1/2 billion more. There is an equally wide variance in guesses as to how this new money will fare. Some think business needs and available capital will about balance this year. But at least one investment house (Salomon Bros. & Hutzler) predicts $1.6 billion in excess funds will be looking for investment chances that aren't there.

However, the Bankers Trust Co. thinks investment markets can take care of the new pension fund money. In an analysis of the capital markets for this year and next, the trust company says that in 1949 there was about $1.2 billion in new money added to the market through growth of trustees and insured pension funds. The Bankers Trust believes that by the end of this year, or early in 1951, the rate of annual additions to pension funds may rise to about $1.7 billion.

Police, Coal Dealers Inspect Muncie Bins
 MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—If and when the coal man comes in Muncie, the cops will come along.

Coal dealers at a meeting last night with Mayor Lester E. Hollaway agreed to process householders' orders through the city hall. Police prowls cars will go with trucks to inspect coal bins in this city of 50,000 population.

Anybody with as much as two days' supply of fuel won't get any more. Others will get a half ton.

Directory Shows Two Out of Three Persons Are Newspaper Readers
 PHILADELPHIA (AP)—More than two out of every three persons in the United States spend some time daily reading a newspaper, according to N. W. Ayer & Sons Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals.

The agency drew its conclusion after announcing that daily newspaper circulation has reached an all-time high. The directory reported a combined circulation of 32,271,000 and figures that the average copy of a newspaper is read by more than one person.

Other statistics listed by the directory included:
 The nation's 392 morning papers have a combined circulation of 20,151,000, an increase of more than six percent since the end of the war.
 The 1,488 evening papers have a circulation of 30,911,000, a gain of slightly less than six percent.
 Circulation of Sunday papers has fallen off slightly to 44,730,000 but still is 12 percent above the distribution four years ago.

A total of 20,886 newspapers and periodicals are published in the United States. During 1949, 307 new publications were started and 402 suspended.

In the weekly field there were 100 new papers added in 1949, bringing the total to 9,774.

Blustering Massachusetts Sheriff Defies All Foes

NEWBURYPORT, Mass.—(NEA) — If you're not a friend of Mayor Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, you'd better stay out of Newburyport City Hall, otherwise his honor may toss you out on the seat of your pants and then have you pinched for trespassing on public property.

Crazier things than that have happened in this small New England seaport without fazing Gillis or his 14,000 constituents. The 53-year-old mayor have brought widespread notoriety to both Gillis and Newburyport for nearly a quarter-century.

"I got no use for cut-throat political enemies. Only my friends can work for me," declared Gillis on his return to city hall this year after an absence of 12 years.

He insists he has "slowed down," but Newburyport is inclined to disagree.

The blustering politician has served as mayor off and on for 20 years, with his political power and enthusiasm just as strong as ever. Recently he removed from the city payroll the names of four men who reside at the municipal infirmary, claiming, "We're feeding and housing them. I think the city is doing enough without giving them a salary."

It reminded Newburyporters of 1937, when Gillis forced welfare recipients to collect garbage or lose their city assistance on the grounds, "If they are able to work that's just what I'll make them do. I don't want any deadheads around here."

"Bossy's" stormy career began in 1925 when he punched the then mayor of Newburyport, was fined $50 and sentenced to two months in jail.

Two years later, while serving his first term as mayor, Gillis was given a two-month term in county jail for cutting down elm trees to make an entrance for his gasoline station. He carried out the city's affairs from his cell and worked in the prison laundry.

Gillis returned to jail for nine months in 1941 for criminally libelling an Ipswich, Mass., judge in a weekly newspaper which Gillis published. This time he worked on the prison coal pile.

Once he climbed through a second story window in the city's new school to make an inspection after the school board refused to give him a key for a more orthodox entrance.

In 1944, he was charged by the OPA with purchasing gasoline coupons. He denied the allegation but admitted he sold gasoline to "trusted friends" on a coupon credit basis.

After the OPA episode, "Bossy" purchased an old horse and wagon and started a 25-cent taxi service. He advertised "NO OPA REGULATIONS" and "INEBRIATES RIDE FREE" (he's a teetotaler himself) and drove the old plug through town soliciting business.

Franks' Successor Is Named at Sherman

SHERMAN — (AP) — Charles Rodman Porter, Fort Worth city budget officer, has accepted the city managership of Sherman.

He expects to begin his new duties within 30 days. He takes the place left vacant by the resignation of Garland Franks, now city manager of San Angelo and former Pampa city manager.

Plan Which Would Assure Farmers Parity, But Cut-Rate Surpluses Is Recommended

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Lovre (R-SD) has proposed a farm program which would assure farmers full parity prices on their allotted shares of the market; but would require them to take cut-rate prices on surpluses.

It would cost the government less, he said, than the present program or the Brannan Plan advocated by the Truman administration.

The Lovre plan was described by its sponsor as a "self-financing, full parity, two-price level" proposal. He said it was backed by a vast majority of the farmers of his state. He expects to introduce soon a bill covering the plan.

A major premise of the Lovre plan is the contention that farmers are entitled to full parity on domestically-consumed farm products. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to producers and those who buy their products.

By comparison, present legislation supports farm products all the way from zero to 90 percent of parity.

The new plan would set up marketing quotas for various crops and products to cover estimates of domestic requirements. Such quotas would require — as at present — approval of two-thirds of producers voting in a referendum. They could not be set up unless there was an adequate reserve for emergencies.

If a farmer produced more than his individual quotas for domestic needs, he could purchase an additional marketing quota which, in effect, would give him a less-than-parity return on the excess supply.

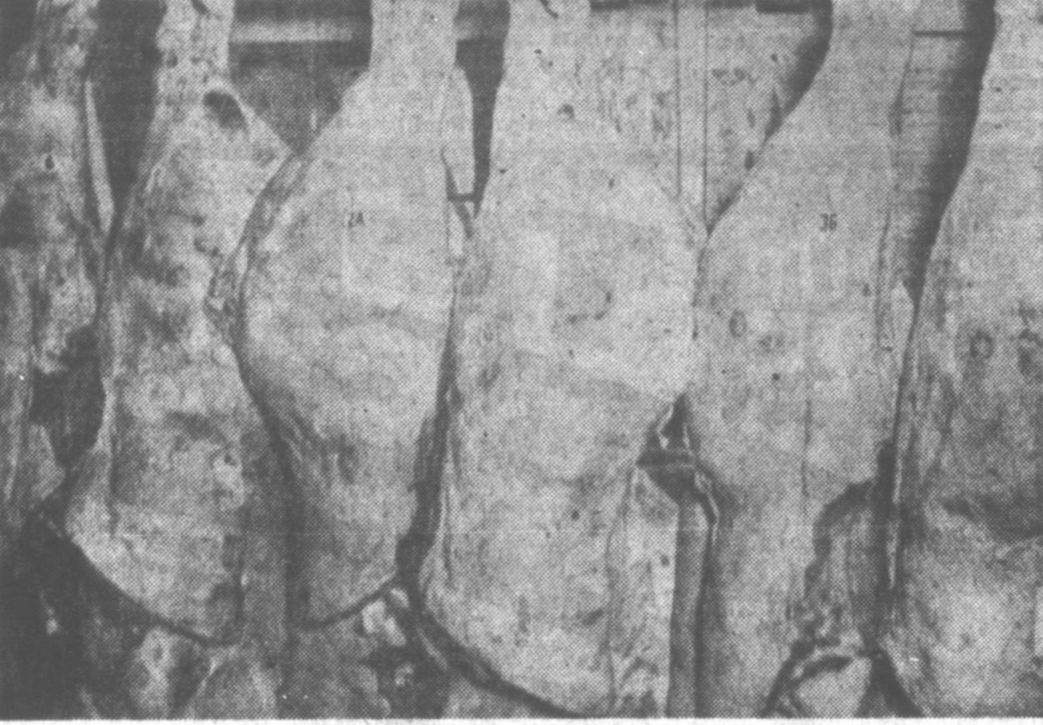

Rep. Lovre gave this illustration on how the surplus sale would be operated:

Assuming a farmer with a 5,000-bushel wheat quota produced 6,000 bushels. Assuming the parity price were $2 a bushel, he would be entitled to sell 5,000 bushels at that price or to get a government loan on it at the parity rate.

He could get a marketing quota to cover the 1,000-bushel surplus by paying the farm program administrators a bushelage fee which would be determined by the size of the total crop surplus. Assuming the fee were $1 a bushel, he would pay $1,000 for the surplus, and turn around and sell it at the government-supported price of $2 or put it under a $2 price support loan. Thus he would net $1 a bushel on the surplus.

The fees collected on sale of marketing quotas for surplus products would be turned over to the program administrators — possibly the Agriculture Department's Commodity Credit Corporation. The administrators would use this money to finance the needy at home, divert it to new uses, and export it abroad at subsidized prices.

Elizabeth Taylor's Fiance Just Now Seeing Her Pics

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Nick Hilton, who will marry Elizabeth Taylor May 6, is not much of a movie fan. In fact, he had never seen his bride-to-be on the screen before meeting her. The son of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton told me he had been catching up on Elizabeth Taylor movies.

"I saw 'National Velvet' over at the studio," he remarked. "Also 'A Date with Judy,' or maybe it was 'Julia Misbehaves.'"

The 23-year-old Texan said he had seen photographs of Miss Taylor and naturally wanted to meet her.

The meeting happened by chance last October when Nick was visiting his pal, Pete Freeman, at Paramount Studios. The romance began immediately.

"There has hardly been a day since then that we haven't been together," Nick related. He popped the question at Lake Arrowhead in early January. Elizabeth had to think it over and later answered yes.

What kind of a guy is Nick? Well, he is just under a foot, weighs 170 pounds, has short brown hair and a ruggedly handsome face. He has inherited some of his father's charm and drive, plus a slight accent from his early Dallas days.

He began learning the hotel business as an 8-year-old bellboy in one of his father's hotels. He has studied the business from every angle and attended Loyola (Los Angeles), Chicago, and DePaul Universities. He did an 18-month stretch in the Navy and was a radar man aboard the North Carolina during bombardments of Japan.

"I plan to go into enterprises for myself, rather than stay with the Hilton organization," he said. "In these times, there's not too much to be gained in salaries, which can be 80 or 90 percent taxable."

Cruel Treatment Fatal to Animals

BARCELONA — (AP) — Cruelty is emptying this city's zoo. Latest victims of the public are a leopard, an eagle and Pip, the 20-year-old, two and a half ton hippopotamus. Autopsies after death in all three cases showed they were due to unnatural causes.

Pip died from stomach perforations caused by large quantities of tacks, nails, lead weights and even metal toys. The eagle and the leopard were found to have died from severe blows from heavy stones and air rifles.

Now zoo officials have warned visitors of heavy fines and prison sentences awaiting anyone found molesting the animals.

Tax Refund Racketeers Due Trouble From New Machine

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The federal government is counting on its "mechanical detectives" to put most of the tax-refund racketeers out of business this year. The refund racketeer works his game this way:

Instead of filing just one income tax return, on which a refund is coming to him, he files several duplicate returns with the idea of getting a refund on each of them. Last year a "mechanical detective" — card sorting machine — in the Cleveland revenue district discovered 3,378 cases of persons filing more than one return. They had taken all of their exemptions on each return.

One taxpayer, who was living in California, had filed 23 returns, most of them with the Cleveland office. He would have collected $16,000 from the government if he had gotten all the duplicate refunds he was claiming.

The mechanical detective is properly called a collator. It quickly brings together cards having the same taxpayers' names on them. Bureau of Internal Revenue officials point out that some of the duplicate filing of income tax returns is the result of the ignorance of honest taxpayers. This has been the case with some wage earners who worked for more than one employer during the year and received more than one tax-withholding receipt.

The bureau uses other machines of the so-called "electric brain" type to process returns. A machine which processes the "Simplified Tax Form 1040-A" automatically comes up with the amount of the refund or tax owed by the individual taxpayer. A machine also does a checkup job on tax computations made by taxpayers on Form 1040. Its operation is known as "a 100 percent mathematical verification."

These machine checkups showed tax-computing errors on 4.9 percent of the returns filed last year in the Cleveland district and on 10 percent of the returns in the Los Angeles district.

The average amount of the tax-computing mistake was $51.52. Most of the mistakes, incidentally, were in the taxpayers' favor, although quite a few persons had cheated themselves. Revenue officials say that about 11 percent — some 2,200,000 persons — of the taxpayers who use the simplified Form 1040-A make mistakes on their returns. Most of the mistakes are in listing their exemptions — their dependents, or sometimes themselves.

A large number of taxpayers also make mistakes in reporting their income. Mostly they put in too little income although some

New Records Claimed in Stock Sale

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Three new world records for livestock auctions were claimed here yesterday after the close of the first annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition and Auction.

The record-breaking sales were: A total of $1,800, at $8 a pound, for the grand champion Duroc pig shown by Milroy Schneider of Seguin. The 225 pound animal was purchased by Joske's. The previous record was $1,800 established about 20 years ago.

A total of $3,379, at $31 a pound, for the grand champion fat lamb, a blocky 109-pound southdown, shown by Robert and Thomas Page of Fredericksburg. It was bought by Richard Friedrich of San Antonio. The previous record was $2,600 paid at the recent Houston show.

A total of $988, at $9.50 a pound, for the reserve grand champion lamb, shown by J. L. Stewardson of San Saba and bought by J. W. Kothman & Sons Livestock Commission Co. of San Antonio. The animal weighed 104 pounds. Other purchases were high. The grand champion steer, a 950-pound Hereford shown by Miss Floy Woodard of Mills County, sold for $9,800 at $9 a pound.

The grand champion pen of three barrows, Poland Chinas, sold by the exhibitors, L. A. Will of San Antonio and Son of Kingsbury, to Swift & Co. for $1.75 a pound. The trio weighed 610 pounds.

Mancuso Called for Wrong Pitcher in World Series and Got Long Inning

By GUS MANCUSO
(Former Cardinal and Giant catcher now a coach with Reds)
It's funny now, but it wasn't then.

I called for the wrong relief pitcher in a World Series.

It was in the first game of the 1937 series. Carl Hubbell and Lefty Gomez of the Yankees were locked in a pretty tight duel up to the sixth inning. The Giants led, 1-0, going into the sixth.

Hubbell walked Gomez. We should have known what was coming, because, Lerty couldn't hit me if I ran through the strike zone, half speed.

We had Gomez picked off first base, but Whitehead dropped the ball. Soستي singled, Gomez going to second. I called for another pitchout, threw to Dick Bartlett to catch Gomez off base.

Gus Mancuso

but the shortstop dropped the ball. Rolfe hit a pop single, filling the bases.

DiMaggio singled, scoring Gomez and Cosselli. We walked Gehrig, and Dickey singled off Whitehead's glove, scoring Rolfe. Hoag hit to the infield, and DiMaggio was out at the plate.

Selkirk singled, scoring Gehrig and Dickey, and Bill Terry signaled to me to call time for a change of pitchers.

Instead of coming out and telling me who the pitcher was going to be, Manager Terry yelled at me. You can't see the bullpen at Yankee Stadium.

I thought Terry was yelling, "Gumbert," so I told the umpire the name was Gumbert.

The umpire signaled to the announcer, and the loudspeaker blared: "Gumbert now pitching for the Giants."

Just as the announcement was made, Dick Coffman, who had been our bullpen pitcher all year, climbed over that little fence in right-center field.

By that time, Terry was waving his hands and hollering. So was everybody else in the park.

When Coffman started to warm up, the Yankees protested that Gumbert had been announced as the pitcher, and had to pitch. I knew then, but only then, that Terry had been yelling Coffman, not Gumbert.

Harry Gumbert was sitting in a corner of the dugout, hadn't taken a warm-up pitch.

The umpires ruled that he would have to dispose of one hitter.

Harry threw five warm-up pitches, a couple more to first base like he was trying to catch the runner — Selkirk.

Tony Lazzeri finally hit a perfect double-play grounder to Whitehead.

That would have got us out of the inning, got the "curse" off me, but Whitehead booted the ball. Hoag scoring and Selkirk taking third.

Coffman took over the pitching, and walked Gomez. That was probably a World Series record in an inning. Cosselli hit a short fly to Joe Moore in left, and there was no advance. Rolfe walked, forcing in Selkirk. DiMaggio lined deep to Lieber in center, and we were finally out of a long inning. The Yankees had scored seven runs.

Bill Terry never did say anything to me about it.

If he had got up off the bench, and come out and told me, it would not have happened.

That's my all-time boner.

NEXT: Marv Rickert, now of the Pirates, tells how he "tripped" only to find teammate Phil Cavaretta on third base.

Pampa Boxers Meet Rockets Friday Night

Tomorrow night, the Pampa Boys Club Boxing team goes after its second victory of the season as the fighters travel to Wellington to engage the Skyrockets. The local boxers have defeated Panhandle, lost to Lefors and fought to a tie with Shamrock.

The Pampa fighters, coached by T. J. Watt, have come along fast in the past two weeks. Their feat of holding the powerful Shamrock team to a draw shows that the boys are getting in better condition and are learning fast how to take care of themselves in the ring.

Tomorrow night's fights will start at 7:30 in the Wellington High School Gymnasium.

Any local fans who can attend the fights and take a carload of the boys down are asked to contact Mr. Oren James, 1677.

After the Wellington fights this weekend the boxers have a week of rest and then they return to face Clarendon on March 10, Shamrock again on March 17, Clarendon again on March 21 and Panhandle on March 24. Another match is trying to be arranged with Lefors. All fights will be out of town.

Coach John Bray at Wellington has a fine list of fighters, 35 in all, covering all weights so there should be a good lineup of fights for the fans at Wellington tomorrow night.

Vehicles of the urban transit systems of the United States travel more than 8,000,000 miles every day.

Demaret Is Man to Beat As Houston Meet Begins

HOUSTON — (AP) — Colorful Jimmy Demaret, who has had enough luck in most previous stoppage in his native city, went after the Houston Open golf jackpot today.

Demaret, born here 40 years ago, paced a field of 185 that was to tee off in the first round of the $10,000 tournament at the Brae Burn Country Club. He appeared determined to better a record that has seen him finish no higher than fourth in previous Houston Opens.

This year's tournament is dedicated to the former Brae Burn club pro who became the first Houstonian to rank among golf's all-time greats.

Demaret clipped off a few par score holes late yesterday afternoon while tuning up on the layout he knows so well.

A heavy Tuesday rain had closed the course but it was reopened late yesterday after a reluctant sun broke through.

Club pro Milton Demaret, Jimmy's brother, said the 6725-yard, par-72 layout would be in pretty good shape for today's first round.

Jimmy took a brief tour with two of the three men who figure to give him the most trouble for the meet's $2000 first prize.

All three — Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., and Jackie Burke, Jr., a young Houston player who set a 72-hole course record at Harlingen last week — stuck close to par.

Twenty-eight amateurs were among those in today's pairings.

The field of 185 will be cut to the low 60, plus ties after tomorrow's second round.

Texas Champ Wins Field Trials This Weekend

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — Drawings for the 1950 spring trials of the Northwest Texas Field Trial Association will be held here tomorrow night.

The amateur all-age stakes begin at 8 a. m. Saturday on the 57 Ranch, three miles east of here.

The shooting dog stakes will be run Sunday with the possibility of some braces getting in to action late Saturday.

Six courses will be used, allowing six braces of two dogs each to run at the same time. The three top dogs in each division will receive trophies.

One Pampa Club Wins in Running for the Championship of the First Annual Top o' Texas Independent Basketball Tournament

Tonight the four teams fighting for spots in the finals of the consolation bracket will meet. In the first game, at 8 o'clock, Culberson Chevrolet meets the Tri-State Motor Company team of Canadian.

The Mercurys will be opposed by the Miami Magnolia team in the finals Friday night. Miami defeated Richards Drug, 43-28, in the opener last night.

On Friday night the two winners of tonight's games meet for the consolation title in the opening game at 8 o'clock.

Richard's Drug was a different team last night than the one that knocked off the Canadian crew the night before. Several of the players were missing or injured and they were never in the game against the sharpshooters from Miami. Merle Benge led the Miami scoring with 13, closely followed by long-armed Wayne Greenhouse. Walt Roberts was high for the local club with 8.

The winners led at halftime, 26-9.

In the nightcap two Pampa teams met and fought through a close first half before the Mercurys started to go in overdrive and pull away.

The score at halftime was 23-19 in favor of the auto men.

McNeely was high man for the winners with 24 followed by Bob Andis with 19. Junior Davenport paced the losers with 14, followed by Miller with 9.

Plainview's Laverne Roach in Critical Condition After KO

NEW YORK — (AP) — Laverne Roach, free-swinging young Texan who three years ago was acclaimed boxing's brightest prospect, battled death today, after being knocked out in a comeback try at the ring big time.

The Plainview, Texas, middleweight was in "critical" condition at St. Clare's Hospital, unconscious and in an oxygen tent.

A hospital attaché said at 7 a. m. (CST) that Roach had shown no improvement during the early morning hours and that his condition was very poor.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, physician for the State Athletic Commission, said it would be 48 hours before he could give a decision on the fighter's chances of survival.

Roach, who just turned 25 yesterday, was smashed to the canvas twice in rapid succession by George Small of Brooklyn in the last round of a bloody ten-round melee last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Then early in the tenth small cut loose a fusillade and banged Roach to the floor with a right to the jaw. Roach rose weakly at the count of nine, only to be felled again. The referee stepped in to halt hostilities without counting.

Laverne appeared all right at first. But suddenly he slumped over on his stool. He was removed to a dressing room on a stretcher.

Roach, who began his professional career in the fall of 1945, was honored by Ring Magazine as the 1947 "rookie" fighter of the year. He also received a plaque from Gene Tunney as the best boxer developed in the Marine Corps during World War II.

Referee Frank Fullam stopped the fight at 1:57 of the round. Roach, hauled to his corner, talked with his handlers and several times attempted to leave the ring under his own power.

Soon, however, he passed out and, after an on-the-spot examination by Dr. Nardiello, was taken to St. Clare's.

Nardiello said Roach has "a contusion of the brain and probability of a subdural hemorrhage."

Schoolboy Cagers Battle for State Tourney Berths Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Two of the eight Class AA teams to go to Austin next week for the Texas Interscholastic League Basketball Tournament have been determined and the other six will be known by Saturday night.

Highland Park of Dallas last night beat Austin 39-32 to advance to the state tourney. Highland Park had won the first game of the bi-district playoff series 41-31.

Previously Texarkana won its way to the big meet by licking Lufkin in two straight games, 41-30, 35-30.

Two series were started last night. Sweetwater beat Sikestonville 34-24. The teams meet at Sweetwater Friday night in the second game. Corpus Christi

Bulldogs Seek Victory Tonight

Borger's District 1-AA Champion Bulldogs return to their home floor tonight at the Frank Phillips College Gymnasium, to try and sew up a spot for themselves in the state tournament.

They already hold a 1-game edge on the District 2-AA champion Vernon Lions as a result of the 47-45 victory at Vernon Tuesday night.

A victory tonight would give the Bulldogs the bi-district title and the right to enter the State Class AA state tournament.

Tonight's game will start at 8 o'clock.

In the event that the Lions should win this game, a third and deciding game will be played Saturday night on a neutral floor, as yet unselected.

whammed Temple 39-25. The teams play at Temple Friday night.

Borger, which already holds a 47-45 victory over Vernon, meets Vernon at Borger tonight in the second game of the playoff.

Lamesa and Austin (El Paso) open a three-game series at Lamesa tonight.

Beaumont and Texas City, all square at one victory apiece, settle the issue at Texas City tonight.

Laredo, which beat Harlingen 52-48 in their first game, entertains Harlingen tomorrow night in Laredo.

Regional tournaments start tonight in Class A and Class B. There are eight regions in each class with the winner to advance to the state tournament.

In Class A regional tournaments will be as follows:

Region 1 — At Canyon: Canyon, Dumas, Shamrock, Memphis, Abernathy, Floydada, Sudan, Levelland.

Region 2 — At Coleman: Crane, Merkel, Ballinger, Hamilton.

Region 3 — At Denton: Burkhardt, Bowie, Birdville (Fort Worth), Pleasant Grove (Dallas).

Region 4 — At Commerce: Commerce, Hooks, Mt. Vernon, Gaston (Joinerville).

Region 5 — At Athens: Plano, Willis Point, McGregor, Teague.

Region 6 — At Lockhart: Cameron, Lampasas, Brenham, Lockhart.

Region 7 — At Rosenberg: Alvin, French (Beaumont), West Columbia, Beville.

Region 8 — At Corpus Christi: Sinton, Mercedes, South San Antonio, Eagle Pass.

Class B tournaments will be as follows:

IT'S THAT LITTLE round thing fellows! Action in the closing minutes of the Richards Drug-Miami Magnolia game got fast and rough last night as the Drugists sought to overcome a big Miami lead, but all in vain. The Miami boys won, 43-28, and moved into the finals of the Top o' Texas Tournament. No. 21 is Red Witten and No. 32 is Johnny Campbell, both of the Drugists. Miami players in the picture include No. 11, Merle Benge; No. 14, Gall Jackson; No. 5 (on his knees) Burl Benge; No. 14, Gall Jackson. (News Photo and Engraving)

Arizona Tops New Mexico

NEW YORK — (AP) — Princeton, unheralded and unsung at the start of the season, is sweeping all before it in the Eastern "Ivy" Basketball League.

The Tigers nosed out Yale, 51-49, for their seventh straight league victory last night. Beaten only in their first league tilt by Columbia, Princeton now has a 7-1 league mark against Yale's 6-3 and Columbia's 5-3. They can virtually sew up the title by beating Yale again in a return game on Saturday.

Villanova, sparked by Paul Arizin's 37 points, trampled Hawaii, 80-56. The Hoyas of Georgetown (DC) trimmed Penn. PP 7P town (DC) trimmed Penn, 75-72.

Army niched Colgate, 50-45, while Penn State rallied from 20-33 deficit to upset Temple, 66-61.

Mississippi surprised Alabama, 61-52, and Georgia Tech beat Auburn, 61-53, in the Southern Conference. Johns Hopkins surprised Baltimore Loyola, 79-78, in the Mason-Dixon Conference. In the Southern Conference Washington and Lee nosed out Richmond, 72-70, and Davidson took Furman, 68-58.

Arizona kept its Border Conference slate clean by whipping New Mexico, 71-62.

In other games Navy defeated Rutgers 57-48; Muhlenberg beat Seton Hall, 64-50; Niagara humbled St. Bonaventure, 58-45; Detroit took its city rival, Wayne, 60-45; and Toledo downed Bowling Green, 58-35.

In the 1949-50 basketball season, the University of Houston team has already played schools from Texas, Louisiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kansas.

NEW YORK — (AP) — With a year of successful operation behind it, Cincinnati's new 11,000 capacity garden has taken its place among the nation's leading sports arenas. In its first 12 months the City Garden drew 707,362 paying customers, 324,392 of them to sports events.

Tommy Henrich of the Yanks estimates he has averaged four nights a week this winter telling rubber chicken gatherings when he smacked that home run off Don Newcombe in the first game of the World Series.

Joe Page, the ace reliever, doesn't want opposing batters to raise any false hopes just because he's reached the ripe age of 32. He intends to be around for some time.

"I read something the other day," he said portentously during his contract-signing here. "We Irish mature late."

Boston Braves fans might like to know what Eddie Brannick, veteran secretary of the New York Giants, said at a farewell party thrown for Sid Gordon. "In all my years with the club," Eddie remarked, "I never saw a finer gentleman. Sid is in the same class with the Mathewsons, the Hubbells and the Otts."

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Haste—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What two major league baseball clubs train annually at St. Petersburg, Florida.

THE PAMPA BOYS CLUB BOXING TEAM MADE a fine showing for itself Tuesday night by battling the powerful Shamrock Irish team to a 5-5 draw in a team match. It was the third bout of the season for the Pampa fighters and left them with a record of 1 win, 1 loss and 1 tie. Friday night they go to Wellington to fight the Skyrockets of Wellington High School.

The boys have come along rapidly. They dropped their opening team match to Letors. The following week they trimmed Panhandle while Shamrock was beating Letors soundly. Then in their third fight they showed their rapid improvement by holding Shamrock even.

Twenty-two boys were taken to Shamrock Tuesday night. And it is quite possible that there will be at least that many to go to Wellington tomorrow night. If anyone contemplates going down and can take some boys along, their help would be appreciated by the Boys Club. Mr. Oren James, phone 1677, will answer any questions.

Another thing the boys appreciate is a representation of local fans. They were well represented at Letors and Panhandle, but few went to see them at Shamrock. If you like the best amateur fighting you can find, go on down to Wellington tomorrow night and see these kids scrap.

Today, The Pampa News sports pages carry the first of another fine series of articles designed for you readers. This series is entitled "My Biggest Boner."

Ebbets Field isn't the only place where a player has stolen a base with a man already there. Every great star who's played ball from Fenway to Sportsman's Park has a red-faced memory of a big boner. Like the time Larry Doby tried to steal home with the bases loaded and nobody out; or the time Eddie Dyer sent a pitcher he needed to the showers. Sure, they were embarrassed at the time, but now they can smile, and so can you readers as a host of top players, managers and ump's tell the first-person stories of their faux-pas through the sports pages of The Pampa Daily News.

The first story, Gus Mancuso tells about how he called for the wrong relief pitcher in a world series and got a long inning, starts on these pages.

Don't miss it!

And to continue with the humor, Futt Powell apparently can't think of anything to write about so he has started his tirades against the sportswriters of the area, and of course yours truly is always on his list.

Now he accuses me of swiping a headline from his paper. He appears to disapprove of the head "Ho-Hum! Harvesters Top Sandies." If this was a direct quote from his paper, I am not sorry, and I also don't believe he had a copyright on it.

And furthermore, I suggest he get used to the Harvesters defeating the Sandies. Now that the Green and Gold has gotten a good away from beating the Sandstorm.

Panhandle Cattleman Buys Amarillo Gold Sox Ball Club

AMARILLO — (AP) — Pete Knapp, Panhandle cattleman, has bought the Amarillo Baseball Club of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The 34-year-old owner took possession yesterday and announced that Bob Seeds, former president and co-owner of the Gold Sox with Buck Fausett, will remain as general manager. He said Seeds will have full control of the club's administration.

Fausett, who managed the team to the league championship in 1948, said he has no immediate plans for the future.

The purchase price was not disclosed. Knapp has not been previously associated with professional baseball.

Alice Ousted From Orlando Partner Meet

ORLANDO, Fla. — (AP) — The Bolesta brothers, who stole the spotlight from the Bauer sisters, met today in a featured match of the International Mixed Two-Ball Golf Tournament.

Burt Bolesta and his partner, Kathryn Hemphill, both of Tampa, spilled Alice Bauer, older of the Midland, Texas, sisters, and Al Besselink of Detroit, one up in 19 holes yesterday.

George Bolesta of Tampa and Babe Zaharias of Prairie View, Ill., made up the hottest pair of the first round. They whizzed through a 4 and 5 decision over Mr. and Mrs. Lee Costen of St. Clair, Mich., and were six under par.

Another surprise yesterday came in the victory of Patty Berg of Chicago and Earl Stewart of Dallas over co-medalists Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kans., and Herb Minert of Gary, Ind., one up.

The favored team of Louise Suggs of Little Springs, Ga., and Tony Penne of Cincinnati won 5 and 4 over Claire Doran of Cleveland and Ed Williams of Louisville.

Mariens Bauer and home pro Donny Champagne got by Bea McWane of Birmingham and Clay Gaddie of Cincinnati, 3 and 2.

Match play over the 18-hole route continues tomorrow. Sunday's final will go 36 holes.

Horses Don't Rely on Just Hay and Grain

HALLEAH, Fla. — (NEA) — Eating like a horse means other things than hay and grain.

Oil Capitol, the Kentucky Derby winter book favorite, likes a boiled dandelion greens. Roy a Governor eats scrambled eggs and drinks milk. Buzfuz is partial to citrus fruit. A number of horses have chewed tobacco. In recent years there have been horses which were crazy about soft drinks. Also went for doughnuts. South American trainers feed horses pineapples. Forward, which raced some years back, drank four bottles of beer daily.

Nelson at McAllen

MCALLEN — (AP) — The McAllen Sports and Hobby Festival will open Monday with a best ball golf match starring Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas.

Nelson will team with Tony Butler, Harlingen pro, against Sam Speer and J. C. Hall, golf pros at McAllen and Mission.

Deer roam wild in every state of the United States.

ON THE LEVEL—Detroit pitcher Freddy Hutchinson isn't kidding while giving mermaid Lynn Weston a few tips on the proper placement of home plate in the Braves' Bradenton, Fla., park. Wintering at the Boston training site, the Tigers' leading hurler in 1949 with a 15-7 record will move north to Lakeland, Mar. 1, to report to Manager Red Rolfe.

Scribes Favor Oil Capitol In Derby—for Easy Writing

MIAMI — (AP) — If Oil Capitol wins the Kentucky Derby the sports writers will not want for material. The Oklahoma Gusher is a grey turned black, has a mis-spelled name, forms a one-horse stable and eats, of all things, boiled dandelion greens.

The unusual diet helped the colt named for the city of Tulsa to finish 1949 with four straight wins, three of them in major stake races, explains Trainer Harry Trotsek.

"I decided to try boiled dandelion greens last summer after Oil Capitol went off his feed and began to lose weight," says Trotsek. "He began to pick up immediately, and has been going good ever since."

Oil Capitol also has a sweet tooth. He is partial to sugared doughnuts.

After the son of Mahmoud, a grey sire, was selected as the best 2-year-old colt, the boys who write racing began digging. They learned that his name should have been spelled Oil Capital and that The Jockey Club registration clerks made the error. Also, on the books 1949 is a registered grey but he actually is black in color with only a few grey hairs on his legs.

He is the only horse owned by Tom Gray, Tulsa automobile dealer. Gray thought of buying a horse two summers ago and phoned his friend Trotsek in Detroit. They met a few days later in Lexington, Ky., at the yearling sales, and got the colt for $15,000. The investment has been returned many times over as Oil Capitol won $106,000 as a juvenile. Recently, Gray turned down a $40,000 offer for the colt.

The horse is being pointed for the $50,000 Flamingo on March 3 at Hialeah. His main rival probably will be Calumet Farm's Theory, who is being counted on to give Trainer Ben Jones his sixth Derby winner.

Jones, incidentally, points out that Oil Capitol "is the only one that has proved he can go the Derby distance of a mile and a quarter." The reference is the longest big race for juveniles, the Pimlico Futurity, which Oil Capitol won by six lengths last fall.

One of University of Houston's first football games of the 1950 season will be with Baylor University of the Southwest conference. The game will dedicate Baylor's new stadium in Waco.

Television Moves Misguided Fight Experts And Their Rhubarbs Into Parlor and Pub

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — No business or sport spawns "experts" so prolifically and with such slight provocation as boxing.

A man can cash a check without trying to tell the president how to run his bank.

But, let the average guy see just one prize fight and he immediately becomes, in his own mind, a better promoter than Tex Rickard, a better referee than Rully Goldstein, and more thoroughly versed than Ray Arzel in conditioning a boxer.

In the old days B.T. (before television) these self-ordained authorities formed a noisy minority, but today TV has moved the misguided "experts" and their rhubarbs into the parlor and pub.

Now the dissident, who a few times a year viewed proceedings from a bleacher seat and took exception to the decisions reached by officials working practically in the fighters' laps, now finds it possible through video to disagree more often and more emphatically.

And with just as little justification.

Because a television camera moves right up into the ring is no reason to believe the TV viewer can see more of what goes on than the referee or judges. Or even as much.

Video doesn't always correctly show the effect of punches and frequently the television spectator cannot even see whether or not a punch landed.

A fighter often wins a "television decision" by keeping his fists in a state of perpetual motion, with no regard to the impact of his punches. Television doesn't even show blood and severe cuts.

The weighing of a light decision is, or should be, a precise operation, taking into proper account science displayed, punishment inflicted and clean hitting among other factors. These cannot be properly evaluated from a bleacher seat or in front of a television camera.

All of which will not, of course, affect the self-appointed experts one bit.

A knockout can save a lot of arguments.

Or, if you like your evenings peaceful, you can always blow out a tube.

Hollywood Favorites Name Own Most Popular Stars

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Want to know the 10 most popular stars among Hollywood stars themselves?

While pondering the Hollywood beat, a reporter hears lots of things about movie stars. The stars themselves can make some pointed remarks about their colleagues, as long as the speakers know they aren't being quoted.

I have summed up these years of listening. The result is a list of the 10 stars most respected by their colleagues. Here they are, with the reasons:

1. Cary Grant. He is the actor's actor. Performers realize that comedy is the toughest of mediums and they hail Grant as the king of film comedy.
2. Jimmy Durante. I have never heard anything but the highest praise for Schnozzle. Everyone agrees that Jimmy's heart is as big as his nose.
3. Ebel Barrymore. Most stars hold her in awe, as one of the last links with a great era of the American theater. She is admired as an actress and as a woman who can talk in a salty manner about baseball and other topics.
4. Walter Huston. A majority of the stars would agree that he is the best actor of the current era.
5. Barbara Stanwyck. Affectionately called "Missy," she is the best liked actress among set workers. She is generally admired for her lack of pretense and her cunning ability.
6. Claudette Colbert. Her charm and wise handling of her career have made her a favorite in the movie colony.

7. Loretta Young. Her surprise Academy Award for "The Farmer's Daughter" demonstrated her popularity with her fellow workers. Her Christian approach to her life and work is respected in Hollywood.

8. Gregory Peck. He has shown that it's possible to be a "regular guy" as well as a movie star.

9. Irene Dunne. Her good works for charity and tolerance have brought great respect.

10. James Cagney. Stars admire his highly styled acting and his ability to keep his private and public lives separate.

An added note to any stars I haven't named: you were No. 11 on the list. Honest.

Acheson Removal Asked by Texans

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Senate has joined the House in suggesting that U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson pay with his job for "giving personal comfort" to Alger Hiss.

Senators approved the House-passed resolution, 29-3.

The measure suggests to President Truman that he request Acheson's resignation for his attitude toward Hiss, recently convicted of perjury. Acheson said recently that, as a friend, he would not turn his back on Hiss.

PAINTER TURNS TO CERAMICS — Guy Resse, one-time painter, one of the 450 new ceramic artists in Paris, works on a vase using his wife as a model in their studio apartment.

Banquet Set Friday By Cub Scout Pack

The banquet, a covered dish supper, is for the Scouts and their families.

Methodist Literature Is Banned In Florida Congregation Protest

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — Critical South and the Methodist Protestant Church, brought 340,000 Negro members into the Methodist Church in the United States. Of the 35 Methodist bishops in the United States, he said, four are Negroes.

"They are members of the church, quite as much as anybody else, with every right and privilege," Stoddy said. "It would be utterly un-Christian to ignore them."

Two Texas Couples Are Reported Safe

SEMINOLE — (AP) — Two couples reported missing on a fishing trip to Mexico are safe and sound. Sheriff Bob McReynolds said that Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Adamson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crockett, all of Seminole, had been contacted near Carlsbad, N.M.

The party told New Mexico officers that they just decided to stay away a few extra days and neglected to notify relatives here.

Congregational Christians' Merger Plans Are Blocked

NEW YORK — (AP) — The General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches has been restrained permanently by a New York state supreme court justice from seeking to consolidate the church with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Justice Meier Steinbrink signed the final judgment.

He ruled in favor of the Cadman Memorial Congregational Society and the Cadman Memorial Church of Brooklyn.

The two plaintiffs had filed suit to prevent the consolidation, as ordered by the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches.

The Cadman church contended the proposed merger would deprive individual Congregational churches of their "traditional autonomy."

Spokesmen for the general council said the judgment definitely would stop the union of Congregational Christian Church with the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Attorneys for the general council and for other Protestant bodies are studying the ruling to determine what effect it may have

University Will Use New Speech Corrector

AUSTIN — (AP) — A machine that can be used for speech correction, speech training for the deaf, foreign language training and technical research, soon will be in use at the University of Texas.

Speech sounds will be made visible by the device, a "sound on the whole movement for union among Protestant churches. The court judgment declared the general council had "no power or authority" to proceed with the unification program.

Further, the judgment recognized the "independence and autonomy of the local church in all matters temporal and spiritual," and the association of churches through voluntary organizations "but without ecclesiastical authority."

Steinbrink's decision was that the council — except for certain functions — was an advisory body and had no authority to act for individual churches.

Race Entered By Constable

Constable J. W. "Jim" Sullivan, McLean, yesterday filed as a candidate to succeed himself as constable of Precinct 5. Sullivan is the first to officially enter the race for that office in McLean. The constable has two publicly announced opponents, but until they file with the County Democratic Committee Sullivan has the field to himself. Publicly announced as candidates for constable through The McLean News are Luther "Luke" Henley and J. A. "Jim" Wheeler. Sullivan's filing yesterday put four McLean and vicinity men, officially, on the 1950 political scene, most of them seeking the Precinct 4 county commissioner post. In the race for county commissioner are: Commissioner William Earnest Beck, seeking reelection, Clyde Brown and Jesse Roberts. A fourth man, Leon G. Waldrop, has announced but has not filed. Only one name has come up in that area's minor judiciary race, C. S. Rice, seeking reelection as justice of the peace, Precinct 5. Rice is seeking his second term while Sullivan is seeking a third term. Beck is also seeking his third term.

New Windshield Glass Cuts Glare From Oncoming Cars

By BRUCE BROSSAT
NEW YORK — (NEA) — A glass-maker has come up with a new automobile windshield glass that will take some of the sting out of the glaring headlights of oncoming cars. Since "sealed beam" headlights were developed some years back, the average car's main lights have been so dazzling they are nearly always a great annoyance to motorists and often a serious danger on the roads. To meet this problem at least part way, the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. has produced a new glare-reducing safety plate glass for windshields. It has a slight bluish-green tint. Iron added to the raw material mixture largely does the trick. The new glass has been road-tested and has been found to cut glare materially, whether from headlights or the sun. No claim is made, however, that the product will do too much toward protecting a driver's eyes from the direct rays of a rising or setting sun. Drivers who have used the glass say they don't particularly care any more whether oncoming cars at night dim their headlights or not. They say the tinted windshield softens the glare considerably. Regular windshield glass allows 88 percent of available light to pass through. Libbey's new product lowers this figure to 82 percent. That is just four percent above the minimum demanded by state laws for safety's sake. The new glass has a second feature — it blocks about 15 percent of the sun's heat-producing infrared rays. Not too many may realize that doctors believe actual physical damage is done to the eyes by the direct rays of bright headlights. And according to the Automobile Club of New York, such glare can cause temporary blindness for as long as three seconds. The National Safety Council says the high beams most drivers use on the roads constitute a major difficulty in night driving safety. "Annoyance due to glare is frequent in many accidents," it adds. Connecticut found that in one year 3.5 percent of its highway mishaps could be ascribed directly to blinding headlights. Illinois recorded a figure of around three percent, and Minnesota and New Jersey of about two percent. Most other states lumped these accidents with others caused by different kinds of obstructed vision. Educating drivers to depress their high beams when approaching other cars on the road is a slow business, and police enforcement of state and city laws to that effect is almost impossible. There are too many violators.

Kiwanis Club Aims Cited By Speaker

Edd Hiel, international trustee of Kiwanis International and resident of Oklahoma City, told the Pampa Kiwanis Club members yesterday that the "main thing we join Kiwanis for is to help the other fellow." In his "chatty" speech, he said a businessman is successful if he "keeps his cards on the table and does right." He said there would be less corruption in public offices if salaries were set at a "more reasonable" level. "For better government," he said, "start at home." He rapped at those citizens who harp at their U.S. representatives, and yet exhort those representatives to get federal money for local use. He said he thought there were too many public officials everywhere than are needed. The local club meets regularly at noon each Friday at the First Methodist Church, but the meeting this week was held on Wednesday so that Hiel could be with the members on his trip through this area.

Influenza in Texas Far Above Average

AUSTIN — (AP) — Cases of influenza in Texas last week were average for that week is 2,885 cases. "Cases are up, but so far it seems to be only local epidemics," Dr. George Cox, state health officer, said today. "Abilene and Wichita Falls appear to be the cities hardest hit." A total of 19,980 cases of flu were reported for last week. The average for that week is 2,885 cases. The United States has more than 2,000,000 acres of irrigated pastures.

Court Gives 90 Chennault Planes To China Reds

HONG KONG — (AP) — The Hong Kong Supreme Court tonight lifted an injunction against 90 impounded planes claimed by retired U.S. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault. The surprise action means that the planes pass into Chinese Communist hands. The planes, formerly owned by the Nationalist-controlled CNAC and CATC air lines are valued at $20,000,000. Chennault and associates said they purchased the planes from the Nationalist government. Pro-Red employees of the two firms claimed them for Communist China. The court earlier today ruled against Chennault's claim of ownership. With lifting of the injunction, imposed by the Supreme Court until it decided who owned the assets of the two air lines, the planes revert to the firms here. The CNAC spokesman said the planes will be flown to Peiping, seat of the Chinese Communist government, probably within a week.

'Spudlegging' From Canada Add to U.S. Potato Woes

POTATO DUMP—This pile of potatoes at Caribou, Maine, is just a part of the thousands of bushels of potatoes the U. S. government is buying and destroying to keep potato prices high. But from across the border in Canada, Canadian farmers are taking advantage of high U. S. support prices to add their spuds to the pile.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The unique crime of "spudlegging" has been added to the Department of Agriculture's woes of this year's potato surplus fiasco.

Untold thousands of bushels of potatoes are being smuggled across lonely stretches of the Maine border. By avoiding the duty and taking advantage of the high support price in this country, illegal operators are making from 30 to 45 cents a bushel.

If this traffic isn't controlled, Agriculture officials admit it might mean that the net cost of the spud surplus will be higher than the $100 million top estimate made by Secretary Charles F. Brannan.

In some cases, it is said, U. S. farmers are buying Canadian potatoes, sneaking them over the border past customs officials, and selling them to the government at the support price. This operation nets about 45 cents a bushel.

In other cases, Canadian U. S. operators are buying up Canadian potatoes and selling them on the open market in Maine. This brings less than 45 cents a bushel because the market price is below the support price. But the difference still makes the transaction profitable and apparently worth the risk.

Customs officials here admit that they have sent as many additional inspectors and agents to Maine as their "dreadful shortage of personnel will permit," to try to halt this traffic. But they say that it is increasing and that they are "considerably disturbed" about the situation.

seized late in October. Seizures have increased, but not in proportion to the illegal traffic, customs men admit. There are thousands of small roads crossing the border which are difficult to patrol. The individual illegal shipments are relatively small, usually less than 500 bushels. Because of this the experts are unable to estimate the total size of the spudlegging operation. But it's considerable, they say.

Under the law, Canadian potato growers are allowed to ship into the U. S. 4,000,000 bushels at half the normal duty, which is 75 cents per hundred pounds. This quota was quickly filled this year. But even at the full 75-cent duty Canadian potatoes have been underselling American potatoes by from 13 to 15 cents a bushel.

Last year total Canadian potato about 10,000,000 bushels. This year it is expected to be close to that figure, adding that much more to the estimated 70,000,000 bushel U. S. surplus.

In effect, this arrangement with Canada means that Uncle Sam is supporting the price of Canadian potatoes. Canadian farmers are working just as hard to grow more potatoes to take advantage of it as are American farmers, according to USDA experts.

Last year some Canadian farmers were stuck with surplus spuds. To keep them from going broke, the Canadian government bought up their surplus at a low price.

Air Force Teaches in Navy Academy—And Vice Versa

SEAGOING CADETS from West Point step ashore from a Naval Academy harbor patrol craft after a weekend exchange visit. The idea's now being extended for future unification.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (NEA) — Future admirals at the U. S. Naval Academy are learning about sea navigation from a U. S. Air Force officer.

And at West Point, future generals are discovering that detailed studies of naval engagements have been added to their military history courses. These are two plays Defense Secretary Louis Johnson is calling in a new Army-Navy (and Air Force) game with a long-range goal of unification for the future. He wants to instill in the minds of the student officers more loyalty to the unified services, rather than undivided loyalty to a single service.

Changes at both schools are taking place rapidly. At Annapolis, 27 Air Force officers have been given key teaching positions recently. More are expected. Several Army ground force officers also have been put on the Naval Academy's teaching staff, with many more to follow. They are teaching newly-added courses in ground force strategy, as well as some of the Navy's regular courses.

Rear Adm. James L. Holloway, director of the Academy, says a complete change of emphasis is being made in all of the history courses. Instead of complete emphasis on famous and significant sea battles, considerable time now is being spent on details of important ground and air engagements. Visiting lecturers from the Air Force and Army are being brought in to help explain them.

The school's leadership courses have also been altered. Officers from the other services as well as civilian experts now give practically all of the lectures on this subject.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait for Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters break out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Q—When and why was the name "national forests" adopted?
A—On March 4, 1907, the name "forest reserves" was changed to "national forests" to indicate that the forests and their resources were not reserved or locked up but were for immediate, as well as future use.

Q—Where was the Declaration of Independence first published?
A—It was published first on July 6, 1776, in the Pennsylvania

Evening Post.
Q—Why don't beavers wear out their teeth by chewing so much on logs?
A—The gnawing teeth of beavers keep growing year after year and this persistent growth takes care of the wear on the teeth.
Q—What does a woodsman mean by the term "barber chair"?
A—In loggers' slang, a barber chair is a stump on which is left standing a slab that splinters off the tree as it fell. Generally it indicates careless felling.
Q—Was branding ever used as a form of punishment in England?
A—Branding was prevalent for a time in England, and criminals were branded with a red hot iron on the cheek, the hand, or some other part of the body, but the practice was abolished in 1823, except as a punishment for army deserters up to 1879.

Q—When did the United States adopt the budget system?
A—The U. S. adopted the budget system under President Harding's administration, June 10, 1921, and Big-Gen. Charles G. Dawes was appointed first director of the Bureau of the Budget.
Q—Can one tell the age of a buck deer by the number of points on its antlers?
A—The points are not a reliable guide. A fully developed set of antlers usually indicates a good health and maturity. Old deer often carry fewer points than young, growing bucks.

Q—Did one president decline to witness the inauguration of his successor?
A—When Thomas Jefferson was inaugurated in 1801, John Adams made himself conspicuous by leaving Washington.
Q—Where were underground trolleys first successful?
A—Budapest, Hungary, was the first city to have successful underground trolleys.
Q—What church had the earliest pipe organ in America?
A—Hungary Church, Birdnest, Virginia, built in 1781, is said to have had the first pipe organ in America. Its pipes were melted into sinkers for fishermen during the Revolution.

Q—Why is block walnut the outstanding wood for gun stocks?
A—It is one of our best shock-resistant woods, it keeps its shape, attaches well to metal, and is durable. Block walnut also makes excellent furniture wood—it has a beautiful grain, is easy to work into any desired shape, and takes a good finish.
Q—What is meant by a poltergeist?
A—A poltergeist is a noisy ghost—one that is always going about knocking and tapping.

Output, Farm Income Drop, Government Agencies Say

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Declining farm income and a drop in the nation's output of goods and services have been reported by government agencies.

The Commerce Department said that the total national output dipped nearly two percent in 1949 to a $227,400,000,000 total. And the Agriculture Department pictured a worsening farm financial situation marked by declining income, lowered value of assets, and increased debts.

The Commerce Department report also showed an overall national income decline of two percent from booming 1948. The 1949 total was $221,500,000,000.

The Agriculture Department's 1949 summary said the average income of persons on farms was reported at $783 compared with the town-urban average of $1,555. The 1948 figures for the two groups was $905 and $1,572. Total net farm income was shown at $21,182,000,000 com-

Mexico Has New Coal Bed

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — The Bank of Mexico said today a new bed of coal has been discovered on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande north and south of Laredo, Texas.

The bed also was said to contain oil and gas. The bank said the new find stretches from Hidalgo, Coahuila State, to Guerrero, Tamaulipas. This is roughly an 80 mile stretch from a point opposite Zapata, Texas, upstream to about 30 miles northwest of Laredo.

The bank notified the government of the discovery and said the bed ranges from 12 to 30 miles wide. The bank's industrial investigations department was said to have made the discovery. The report suggested the government could use the coal to increase the country's production of coke, needed for the industrialization program.

Man Shoots Wife, Then Kills Self

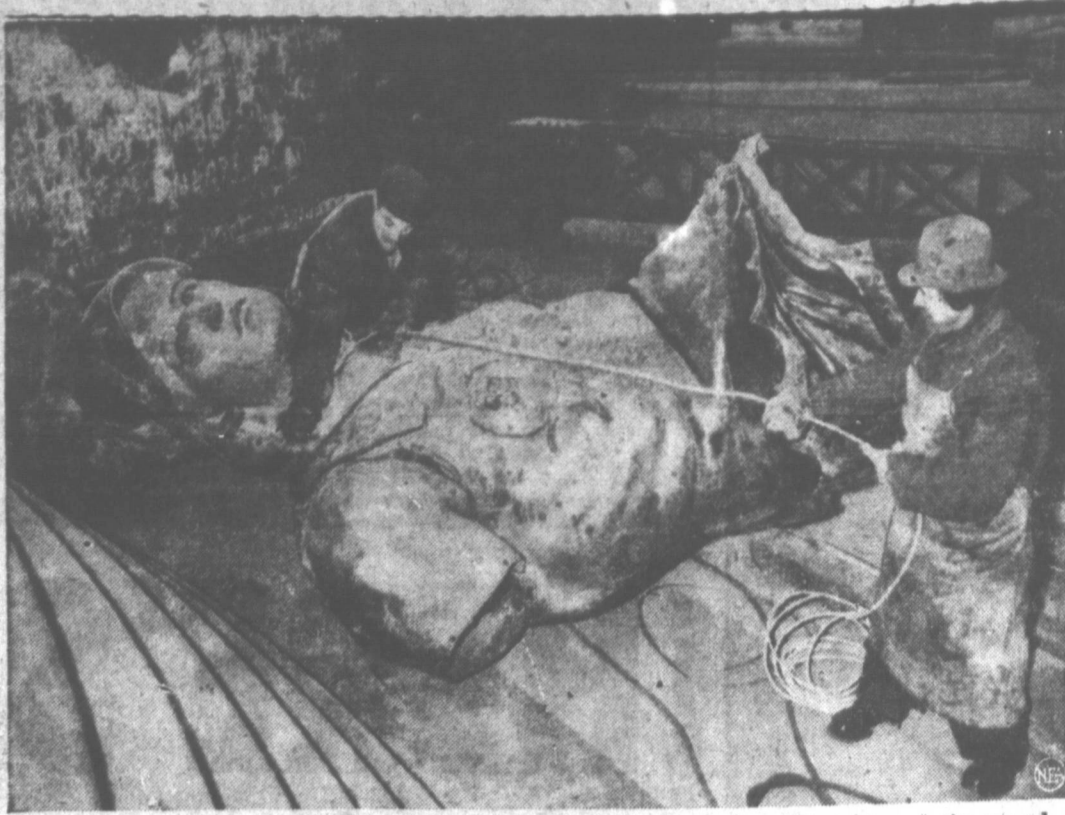

SPOFFORD — (AP) — While several surprised patrons watched, a man and his wife were shot to death Tuesday night in a Spofford cafe where the woman worked as a waitress.

Justice of Peace O. F. Seargeant ruled yesterday that D. O. Chaney, about 40, shot and killed his wife, Orlis M., 49, and then killed himself.

Witnesses said Chaney walked up to his wife behind the cafe counter, she screamed, he shot her with a .22 caliber pistol, and then shot himself.

The bodies were taken to Del Rio, about 30 miles west of here. Survivors include a son, J. D. Chaney, stationed here with the U. S. Border Patrol.

In the early centuries of the Christian era it was estimated that the Spanish peninsula had a population of about 40,000,000 people which declined to 20,000,000 at the time of the discovery of America.

Cooperatives Sign Agreement

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An agreement between the Brazos River Transmission and Electric Cooperative and the Texas Power and Light Co. to interchange electric power has been approved by Claude R. Wickard, Rural Electrification administrator.

The new 16-year contract takes the place of a war-time contract which has been continued on a day-to-day basis.

Details of the agreement were announced by Rep. Poage (D-Texas), who said he hoped it would make unnecessary the construction of hundreds of miles of transmission lines which otherwise would have to be built and will enable both the cooperative and company to "save substantial" generating costs.

He said the cooperative now is interconnected with the Lower Colorado River Authority and soon will complete a new generating station between Temple and Belton which also will have an interconnection with T.P. and L.

Valley to Get Feeder Channel

GALVESTON — (AP) — Plans to extend the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway feeder channel to land-locked Harlingen, Rio Hondo and San Benito in South Texas have reached the bid stage.

The Galveston District Army Engineer office said bids on a contract for the extension will be opened here Feb. 28.

Under this contract a large canal six miles long will be dredged, completing a 28-mile channel from the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway to the Rio Grande Valley communities.

The contract also calls for a turning basin, 400 by 500 feet, at a site about equidistant from Harlingen, Rio Hondo and San Benito.

The feeder channel will have the same dimensions as the Gulf intracoastal waterway it will serve.

The engineers said the contractor will have 285 days to complete the job.

Kellerville Club Has Business and Social Meeting

KELLERVILLE — (Special) — Mrs. Paul Macina, southeast of here was hostess to a recent meeting of the Pampa Home Demonstration Club, held in the Pampa Club House.

Mrs. W. E. Bertram presided during the business session, when the council report was heard from Mrs. Clyde Roberts, and Mrs. Bertram and Mrs. Elmo Harlow reported on attending the Work Simplicity School that was conducted in the home of Mrs. Emma Hastings, Wheeler County demonstration agent, under the direction of Mrs. Florence Lowe of Austin.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows: Mrs. Bertram, president; Mrs. Elmo Harlow, vice president; Mrs. W. A. Allen, secretary; Mrs. Paul Macina, reporter; Mrs. Clyde Roberts, treasurer and council delegate, with Mrs. Dusan Pakan, alternate council delegate.

Mrs. Hastings gave a talk on "Family Harmony." The following new members were received into the club: Mmes J. C. Williams, Edward Pakan, John Callers, Glenn Clifton, John Erniear, Jr., J. B. Finley, Harold Willingham, and Paul Flak.

A social hour followed when refreshments were served to two guests, Mrs. J. W. Stauffer and daughter, Miss May Stauffer, of Amarillo former residents of the community, and Mmes. Jerry Campbell, Ocie Parrish, John Erniear, Sr., Dusan and Edward Pakan, Willingham, Finley, Roberts, Harlow, Williams, Clifton, Bertram, and Callers.

WHAT TO DO WITH FRIENDS WHO ALWAYS ARRIVE LATE

Dear Mrs. Friend: We have some friends who are perfectly charming people to be with but who are always late. If we invite them for seven o'clock dinner they come at eight. If we are going to meet them to go to a show we are bound to miss the first part.

Dear D. R.: It is extremely rude of your friends to be late and they deserve very little consideration. There are times, I know, when an unavoidable accident makes it necessary to arrive late for an appointment but those occasions are rare. But it sounds to me as if your friends are making a habit of late arriving.

It is considered courteous in a hostess to wait dinner or luncheon at least 15 minutes for late guests but there is no reason for delaying any longer than that as it almost always means that some of the food is too well cooked. If I were going to meet such people to go to a show I would divide the tickets so that I could go to the theater and they could join me there.

If you do want to invite your late arriving friends to dinner and don't want to start without them and you are sure that they will be late why not invite them for a time 15 minutes earlier than the hour for which you invite your other guests.

WHEN WOMAN INVITES MAN OUT TO DINNER SHE PAYS THE CHECK

Dear Mrs. Friend: I have been invited out to dinner a number of times by men friends and by married couples and now I want to take them out to dinner. As I can't take them all at once and as I am unable to entertain in my home, I have thought about asking one or two of my friends each week to be my guests at dinner in a restaurant.

I feel that my men guests might be embarrassed by my paying the check. Do you think that I am justified and would you suggest that I make arrangements to pay in advance so that the men won't be embarrassed?

Dear Jane: Time has changed the once universal feeling that a woman should not pay the check and today few people think anything about it. Even when a man dines along with a woman.

There is no reason why a man should feel embarrassed to have a woman friend, whom he has entertained several times, take the check and pay it.

If a woman wants to return a man's invitations to her by asking him to dine with her and he accepts, then he must let her pay the bill and he can do much to help the situation by behaving in a perfectly matter-of-fact way.

Spray For Efficiency

These are household sprays which work wonders at the touch of a finger. The housewife (above) uses a plastic spray to protect painted window sills from dust and dirt. She banishes onion odors from her hands and the kitchen while another housewife press-button releases insecticide spray (right) to make short work of pests under sink. All three sprays are effective in a matter of seconds.

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Staff Writer

Push-buttons which help to run a house are now heading for the home in spray-type containers.

The super-charged mist which one container releases gives insects the permanent knockout treatment in a few seconds and kills them from a distance of 20 feet. Used either for space spraying to kill flying pests or to control roaches and other crawling insects, this insecticide is bad medicine for flies, ants, fleas, moths, gnats, silverfish, waterbugs, and spiders.

The plastic spray, another handy helper, is almost as useful to have around as a maid-of-all-work. It can be used to prolong the life of painted surfaces and to protect brass, silver, and copper. Plastic spraying from a handy can dust-proofs a steel shines painted wood, iron, steel and chrome. The coating makes it possible just to wipe off painted window sills, instead of laboriously scrubbing at surfaces.

The spraying will also keep fire-place accessories bright and shiny and do as much in preserving the shine on fishing tackle or metal toys. The plastic finish is fast-drying and long-lasting.

Effective for a 12-month period unless it's removed by dry cleaning or washing, a moth-proofer in a spray-type can will protect woollen garments, drapes, blankets, carpets and upholstered furniture from the ravages of moths. This spray, which mothproofs a woman's suit in a couple of minutes, is guaranteed not to stain or discolor woollen fabrics. Clothes on which it is used need not be cleaned before spraying but should be thoroughly brushed before treatment.

A deodorizer, sprayed from a can onto the cook's hands takes onion-peeling off the list of unpleasant K.P. duties. In addition, it clears cooking and smoking scents quickly from any apartment or house.

WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

You hear a lot about the extravagant wife — but a husband can be the extravagant one and then it's an even tougher problem, for the wife can't "lay down the law" when it's his own money he's throwing around.

One wife writes me: "I come from thrifty people — and the security of money in the bank means a lot to me. But my husband believes in living for today and letting tomorrow take care of itself.

"I pinch pennies when I market, do without clothes, etc., in the hope that we can save some money — and then my husband goes out and buys some expensive gadget or a suit he doesn't need — and all my penny-pinching savings are gone in one reckless purchase. What in the world can I do about it?"

Not much, I'm afraid. Some men don't want their money saved — and if they can't be sold on the idea, a woman's penny-pinching is so much wasted effort.

STOP PINCHING PENNIES

Why don't you stop penny pinching for awhile — particularly when it means doing without clothes for yourself, etc. After all, if the money is going to be spent anyway, you might as well get some of the benefits from it. If you have no children or if they are at an age where you don't have to be at home all the time you might try getting a Lord's Prayer."

A special program was given by Mr. Mott. His subject was "The Technique of Freedom." There were 100 present, at the banquet.

Mrs. Baker Hosts Child Study Club

MIAMI — (Special) — Mrs. Dwight L. Baker was hostess to the Child Study Club Friday afternoon, when Mrs. J. D. Paris was leader of the program on "The Home." Mrs. Paris said it is important to understand the child's psychology and to train him to assume his share of the responsibility in the home life.

The special feature was given by Mrs. Wallace Locke, who presented Mrs. Theo Jenkins and Mrs. Willis Clark in a piano duet, and also gave an arithmetic quiz.

During a short business session Mrs. Jenkins presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ralph Eyrum.

The hostess served a luncheon plate, accented with the George Washington motif, to guests, Mmes. Carroll Wilson and Hugh Blaylock, and members Mmes. Clyde Hodges, John Pennington, Theo Jenkins, W. R. Holland, Willis Clark, John Harby, Ed Daugherty, James Flowers, Wallace Locke, Barrett Moore, Matt Day, J. D. Paris, and Clyde Loper.

full-time or part-time job — and banking your paycheck every week. Tell your husband you intend to put the money you earn aside for the future — and stick by it.

If you can't hold down a job yourself and you can't get your husband to see the importance of a family's saving for the future — there actually isn't much you can do.

But whatever you do, don't nag your husband about money. That won't make him less extravagant.

And remember this: you won't be nearly so resentful when he buys something he wants for himself if you occasionally let yourself go and get something you want for the house or for your own use.

The Tiger With Very Big Teeth

MORLEY CASSIDY, a staff member of the Philadelphia Bulletin, and a foreign correspondent of high reputation, has written a series of articles on Australia and New Zealand, where the voters recently turned the established socialist governments out of office, replacing them with relatively conservative governments.

In one of them he said, "Australians, in these days of full employment and mass prosperity, find every reason, it would seem, to vote in droves to 'play it safe'; to vote for 'more of the same'; they didn't. They voted, instead, for a return to the old path of free enterprise and competition, a firmer hand with strikes, an end to government monopolies."

An interesting commentary has also been made by J. F. Williams, editor-in-chief of The Melbourne Herald. The voters, he said in effect, were frightened by the growing aggressiveness of the socialists in their attempts to nationalize all the means of production, distribution and exchange.

In OTHER WORDS, the "tiger with big teeth" was at last getting close to the people as a whole. Socialism always starts out by taking over a few big industries — electric power, transportation, communication, finance.

These enterprises may seem remote to the majority of men and women. But, once basic industry is in the hands of the government, socialism marches triumphantly on, crushing free enterprise and the individual basis. Britain's Labor Party provides an excellent current example of that fact.

After World War II, on May 17, 1946, the President ordered the head of the Office of Defense Transportation to seize the railroads, which he did, holding them until May 26th, when the strike was settled. And again in 1948 the President ordered the Secretary of the Army to take the roads. He held them for several months.

This has happened, and in the event of a strike in a serious depression it could happen again. And the government might never give them back, a course which would not only ruin the roads and their stockholders, as well might be, were threatened with bankruptcy and did not want them back.

However, our over-eager Planners are not trusting wholly to time. Already an assault upon the railroads has begun. The Department of the Interior has charged that the roads collected unreasonable freight rates from the government during the war. The Department wants to recover these for the government. The roads have estimated that it will be not less than $2,000,000,000, three times the working capital of the railroads. The road officials insist that the minimum freight to the government will never more than to private shippers and on great quantities of freight it was substantially less.

Of course if the government obtained such a judgment against the railroads it would never be able to pay it. If the government

INSTALLMENT TWENTY-NINE

Another project now under heavy pressure by the Socialist Planners is socialized medicine. It is, of course, not called socialized medicine, but health insurance, or "free medical care." Of course, it is health insurance, ostensibly, out of the Federal Security Agency under Mr. Oscar R. Winge, its head. It calls for an increase, with federal aid, of the number of hospitals, doctors and nurses and dentists, along with what he calls compulsory health insurance. This is a plan similar to the one now operating in Britain under its Socialist government. Under it all employers and their employees would be taxed the payroll window, as in the case of old-age pensions and unemployment insurance, for medical care. The proponents of this scheme had the effrontery to call it "free medical care." Of course it is not. It will be paid for by taxes which will come out of everyone's pocket. This would mean, of course, that as in England, the government would be taxing the doctors, but the doctors would be paid by the government and would be under its general management. The system is now on trial in England. It is by every standard of judgment a ghastly failure.

What the American must understand, however, is that while each of these proposals — federal invasion of banking, federal invasion of power and socialized medicine — is promoted as if it were just a single reform unrelated to all the others, the simple fact is that each is intended to liquidate some sector of the private enterprise system and expand the area of government control. The program is well advanced, we will be socialized people upon the British model.

What about the railroads and the mines? The Planners plan to take them over. There is no point in agitating for it now. The country is not ready. They know, despite what they say publicly, that sooner or later the country must face a critical economic condition. This is the moment for which they wait. It must be remembered that at least three times in the last 30 years the government has taken over the railroads. It operated them for 18 months during the first World War at a cost to the taxpayers of $1,123,500,000. It took over several large canals and their equipment and the time when it returned them to private owners until 1924.

After World War II, on May 17, 1946, the President ordered the head of the Office of Defense Transportation to seize the railroads, which he did, holding them until May 26th, when the strike was settled. And again in 1948 the President ordered the Secretary of the Army to take the roads. He held them for several months.

This has happened, and in the event of a strike in a serious depression it could happen again. And the government might never give them back, a course which would not only ruin the roads and their stockholders, as well might be, were threatened with bankruptcy and did not want them back.

However, our over-eager Planners are not trusting wholly to time. Already an assault upon the railroads has begun. The Department of the Interior has charged that the roads collected unreasonable freight rates from the government during the war.

The Doctor Says

BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, MD. WRITTEN FOR NEA

Most people are bothered from time to time with cold sores, particularly on their lips. Cold sores are particularly likely to develop when one is run down or has some infection. A few people have almost constant trouble with them without any apparent reason.

The correct medical name for cold sores is herpes simplex. Herpes is caused by a virus which produces watery blisters on the skin, particularly on or near mucous membranes, like the lips. The virus which causes herpes is a living organism and can produce a reaction in susceptible animals, especially rabbits. It is difficult to know why herpes behaves as it does. One would expect that it would be contracted only from another person who harbors the virus. Actually it does not seem to be highly contagious but comes mostly when the resistance is weakened by any one of several causes, including infectious diseases, artificial fever treatments, certain vaccinations and overexposure to the sun. One theory for this is that the virus remains in the tissues and becomes active whenever the resistance to it is lowered.

Recovery usually occurs without any particular treatment in a few days. Susceptible people who have cold sores on their lips should be much annoyed by the minor symptoms and by the slight disfigurement. One attack predisposes to the recurrence of a cold sore in the same spot or nearby.

Some people who are susceptible to repeated attacks of herpes improve after being vaccinated for smallpox. Evidently there are some relationships between different viruses which are not yet thoroughly understood. Recently a reomyxian has been favorably considered.

Exposure to cold air, and especially to the sun during the time when a cold sore is had, should be avoided.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Gracie Says

In honoring the birthday of one of our best-loved presidents, let's not forget that he must have had enemies, too. The real friend of Washington's would start that rumor about him throwing a dollar across the Potomac — that was done to make him seem careless with his money. And it wasn't true, because my uncle hunted for it.

And that painting of him standing up in a rowboat and missing the Delaware is just a nother silly attempt to make us think he was a playboy.

A president is entitled to a vacation — look at Truman. I'll admit he would be better off showing him standing on a surfboard and the Delaware would be more believable and might also help Hawaii to become a state.

Success Secrets

There is a secret essay on the art of success. The secret is not to get your goals mixed up. People can be managed and manipulated. There is an art in getting people to do things you want done — or to stop doing things you don't want done.

But where most folks go wrong is: they try to do two things at once. They try to get the particular thing done they want done — and make the other fellow give in. There is a desire to overcome the other fellow's ego, as well as get a particular job done. And this is the reason that so many people fail in all kinds of trouble when they try to manage people.

It's possible to manage people without injuring their ego or over-coming their will. The Spania Hotel in Michigan City, Indiana, had trouble with guests rubbing off their shoes on the hotel's towels. Then linen cost was terrific. Yet the hotel succeeded in getting the guests to stop using towels on their shoes. They simply installed a patented shoe-shine paper, in a rack next to the towel racks. The shoe-shine papers are cheap — and give much better shines than hotel towels. The hotel got the guest to do what they wanted — yet no one had the feeling he was being "managed."

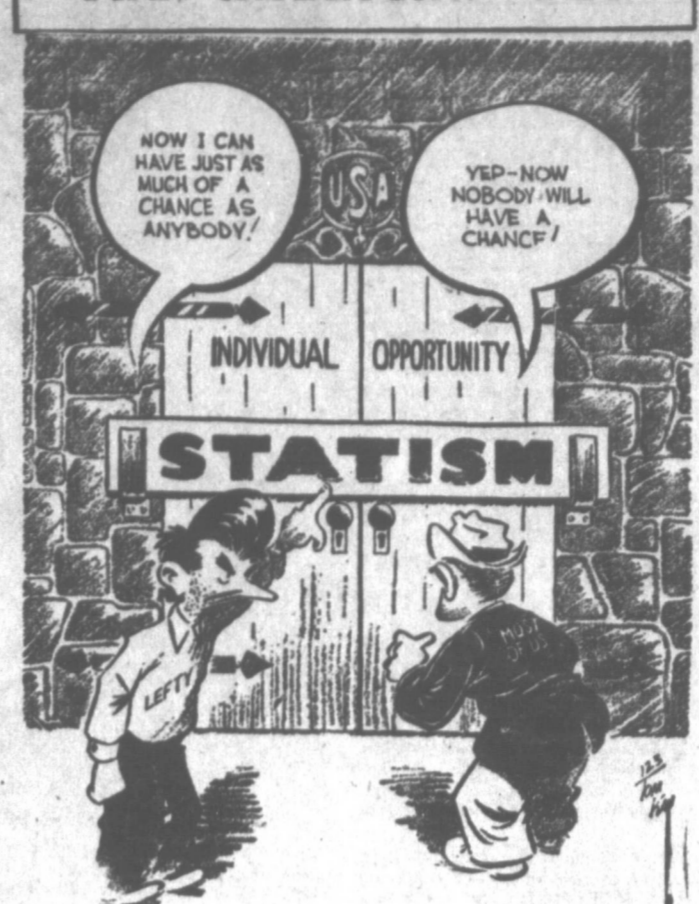

Give up the egotistic desire to overcome people's will — and use that creative brain of yours to think up a good reason for others to do what you want done — and managing people is easy as pie.

ALLIGATOR'S AGE Many authorities say that an alligator does not reach its full growth until it is between 40 and 60 years old. Their normal life span is said to be between 100 and 200 years.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBOOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1950)

During a visit to the University of Arizona, Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer admonished the members of the Reserve Officer Training Corps to do their own thinking, learn all they could and take nobody's word for anything.

That would be a good plan. It would throw into controversy ideas that do not seem to be highly contagious but come mostly when the resistance is weakened by any one of several causes, including infectious diseases, artificial fever treatments, certain vaccinations and overexposure to the sun.

Collective bargaining is an evil political cliché which has done more damage to these states than booze, prohibition and the New Morgenthau. The material cost of destruction of property by organized and subsidized mobs equivalent to Hitler's Brown Shirts, but in the inflationary costs of war industry labor, the political and moral costs also have been staggering.

Even today, with all the advantages of a ruthless taxing and terrorizing power, partial courts and cowardly cops the unions have managed to retain their hold on only some twelve or fourteen millions, including the discredited railroad brotherhoods. The majority of the working people are non-union and anti-union. They have learned to hate unions and the rascals who run them, and President Truman has no mandate from anyone beyond this gang of rogues to back his demand for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

So They Say

One of the very important lessons that came out of the war experience is that most so-called normal persons will tend to break down under sufficiently severe and prolonged stress and strain.

I believe that preponderant members in all services appreciate the need for unification; and, in actuality, unification is an accomplished fact today in many areas of activity.

The present price support law is pricing us out of the market place.

Never before was the need for effective political action by labor more urgent and pressing than it is this year.

The Seed Catalog

By GORDON MARTIN

When the spring is not too far away, the postman rings your bell, and he leaves a fancy catalog which has a magic spell. It's a booklet very colorful and shows your garden needs, and it tells you of the wonders of the bushes, shrubs and trees. As you turn the brilliant pages, your enthusiasm soars, and you're eager for the springtime when a man can work outdoors.

So you spend an evening drawing up a super garden plan, which is certainly ambitious for an ordinary man. And you tell your loving wife about improvements you will make, but your bragging quickly proves to be a terrible mistake. For she thinks your choice of plants and seeds a most obnoxious scheme, and she substitutes the things she wants and wrecks your landscape dream.

Then the more you think about the spring, the more you realize that a lot of planting also means a lot of exercise, that you'll have to shovel tons of dirt, and fertilizer too. And because you had the awful thought of working like a dog, you forget about your garden and you hide the catalog.

National Whirligig

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — No losing baseball team ever stalled play more effectively or deliberately than the Democratic leadership of the present Congress has blocked action on the major measures which comprise President Truman's "Fair Deal" legislative program.

Although the 1950 session is almost one-third through its stay here, assuming that it adjourns on July 1, the only important bill that has been acted on concerns repeal of the federal taxes on colored oleo.

Even that measure is hung up in conference to iron out disagreements between the House and Senate versions. It will probably emerge in a form satisfactory to nobody.

Inasmuch as the Rayburn-Barkley leadership has not lifted a finger to break the blockade, the general conclusion on Capitol Hill is that Mr. Truman is not displeased by this "do-nothing record," which threatens to equal that of the 80th Congress he denounced so viciously.

FUTILE — Regardless of the White House reaction toward this appalling record, the fact is that it results principally from the administration's insistence on immediate passage of the FEPC legislation. For the second time in this question, that body has not sent to the Senate any matters for it to pass on.

As a result, both branches sit only a few days a week, and when they do assemble, they squander their time in futile and meaningless debate.

The Republicans are not wholly blameless. They realize that, in next fall's congressional campaign, Mr. Truman will again hold them responsible for the failure to enact labor, farm and anti-discrimination measures, as he did in the 1948 presidential battle.

But the GOP strategists believe that even Mr. Truman's "liberal" supporters will become disgusted with the record of the second straight session, a Congress controlled by his party will not do his bidding. They plan to brand him as a "do-nothing president."

SCORE — Mr. Truman squeaked through over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey by the second tie-up of the Taft-Hartley Act, statutory grant of civil rights, a more generous farm program, national health insurance, federal aid to education, a new housing plan for middle-income people, and expansion of the present Social Security system.

Here is the current and prospective score on these extravagant pledges:

Senator Elbert D. Thomas, chairman of the Senate Labor and Welfare Committee, informs the writer that the Taft-Hartley repeal is "dead for this session," but he hopes to revive and modify the statute in the 82nd Congress to be elected next November.

SECURITY — The expanded Social Security measure, which has been approved by the House, is now in Senate committee. It increases coverage by about 11 million, and boasts benefits by about 70 percent. It will become law in slightly abbreviated shape, again with a GOP assist.

The program for government financing of homes for the middle-income groups may not become law at this session. Democrats as well as Republicans think that building is beginning to catch up with demand, even in the field of less expensive homes. The excise taxes will be reduced or eliminated, even over a Truman veto. His mere proposal has killed retail business in many lines, and action has become urgent. A few minor "loopholes" may be closed to obtain more revenue, but there will be no big boost in corporate, estate or gift levies.

All in all, the "Fair Deal" will emerge in bipartisan shreds when the gavel falls.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Bitter oral arguments on re-jiggering of U. S. trans-Atlantic air routes will be heard by the Civil Aeronautics Board on March 1. Some time after CAB will make its recommendations to the White House. It will then be up to the president to issue an order on what should be done.

There will be no appeal from this order. For that reason, the Supreme Court decided two years ago in the Chicago and Southern Airlines — Waterman Steamship case that presidential orders through CAB are final.

This will be the first big test on U. S. international aviation policy adopted in 1945. This policy has been to foster competition between a number of U. S. commercial airlines, as opposed to having one American — flag, "chosen-instrument" monopolistic carrier.

The specific case which brings reconsideration of this policy to a head at this time is Pan-American World Airways' petition for CAB approval to purchase American Overseas Airlines' New York-to-Europe routes for $17,450,000 cash. If CAB and the president approve this merger, it will still leave in business one other trans-Atlantic carrier, Trans-World Airline. The real question therefore boils down to whether two's competition, or three's too crowded.

TWA is backing Pan-Am's application to buy American Export Lines, which owns 20 percent of AOA's stock is opposed. CAB public counsel Brian

O. Sparks has opposed the merger. CAB examiner Thomas L. Wrenn has recommended it after months of hearings and millions of words. Assistant Attorney-General Herbert A. Bergson has intervened with an exception to the examiner's report. Originally the Anti-Trust Division filed 41 objections to the report, but Bergson later withdrew 40 of them, for reasons unexplained.

ARGUMENT FIVE YEARS OLD The beginnings of this argument go back to July, 1945, when CAB certified three U. S. airlines for trans-Atlantic routes. Roughly, all three main routes went first from New York to Shannon, Ireland.

AOA was then routed to London, Amsterdam, Scandinavia, Berlin, Warsaw and Moscow, if and when these last terminals were open.

Pan-Am was routed to London, Brussels, Vienna, the Balkans, Istanbul, Damascus and east. TWA got Paris, Rome, Athens, Cairo, Tel Aviv and east. Alternate routes gave AOA Iceland, Pan-Am Lisbon and Marselles, TWA Madrid and North Africa.

All routes were certificated for seven years. So the whole question would naturally come up in 1952. The Pan-Am offer to buy AOA advances by two years a possible rerouting of the carriers, in the light of experience and the way postwar business has developed.

Pan-Am claims that in buying AOA what it will get is London exclusive plus the Scandinavian and Low Countries' business. Pan-Am also claims that its north Europe routes face more competition from British, Dutch, German, Scandinavian and Belgian airlines than TWA faces from Air France.

Texas Cotton Quota Suit Is Dismissed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The suit of ten South Texas farmers against the government's 1950 program of administering the cotton quota law was dismissed yesterday in U. S. district court.

Judge Matthew F. McGuire, who heard the case, said he dismissed it on two grounds:

1. That the secretary of agriculture allocated to all states, including Texas, their proper share of acreage under the 1950 cotton crop control act as amended.

2. That the distribution of acreage quotas among counties in Texas was carried on in the same manner and therefore was in accordance with the law.

The suit was filed by Corpus Christi lawyers on behalf of the growers, who operate farms in 11 Gulf coastal counties.

The Texas cotton growers had asked an injunction against Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan to keep the 1950 allotment from going into effect.

They charged the methods of distributing the 1950 acreage would cause great inequalities among cotton farmers and fail to give credit for lands planted in grain sorghums and flax as war crops during the base years. They did not attack the state-wide total allotment.

The judge's ruling left congressional action the recourse of cotton farmers who feel they were not given proper credit for war crops in the allotments.

Tyler Back in Good Graces of East Texas

TYLER — (AP) — Tyler is again a member of the East Texas Class "C" Baseball League.

The club was approved by the league's directors yesterday after representatives of the Trojans showed they would be able to finance the club's operations this year.

At the same time, the directors gave Longview until Thursday midnight to show that it will be financially able to operate this year. If not, President J. Walter Morris has been authorized to offer the franchise to Cleburne.

Future Homemakers To Honor Sweetheart

LEFORS — (Special) — Miss Barbara Chastain has been chosen 1950 Sweetheart of the Future Homemakers of America. She will be presented at an all-high school party on Feb. 25 in the high school gymnasium. The party will begin at 7 p.m.

Attendants to the sweetheart are Peggy Starr, Rebecca Branning, Neil Guthrie and Lou Dean Cotten.

Miss Chastain will be presented by the club secretary, Sheila Ross and will be given a special gift by the club.

Flexible Bracero Contract Sought by U.S. and Mexico

MALLEN — (AP) — U.S. and Mexican representatives agreed here yesterday that a more flexible contract is needed in the employment of Mexican nationals as farm laborers.

But Mexican Consul General Miguel Calderon objected to several other changes proposed. He described the situation of Mexican workers in the U.S. as a "cold war" between the two nations.

"Mexico needs these workers in Mexico and we naturally have to look to our own interests first," Calderon said.

Calderon was one of a number of U.S. and Mexican officials and Valley farmers at a meeting called by Tom Sutherland, secretary of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

C. B. Ray, president of the Rio Grande Valley Farm Bureau Federation, said that one of the main things the farmers want is a more flexible pact which would meet the special needs of each area.

Ray also said that the farmers wanted the agreement to give the same treatment to Mexican labor as to domestic labor in regard to wages and working conditions. He said growers want permission to recruit labor in Mexico.

Ray said wages should be established by "supply and demand" and not by governmental decree.

"Mexico agrees 100 percent in wanting the flexible contract," Calderon said. "and Mexico wants the braceros to receive the same treatment as domestic labor."

"The wage is fixed by free competition," Calderon said in answering objections to the 40-cent-an-hour bracero pay. "However, the Mexican Constitution is so worded that no Mexican can leave the country and work without a contract."

He said his country might be agreeable to changing some parts of the present bracero agreement if the only thing we ask is that workers be guaranteed full employment with pay at least three-fourths of their contract time."

The Mexican consul general said it is "out of the question" to permit recruitment of workers in Mexico by U.S. farmers.

Groom Meeting Is Set by Scouts

Green Bar members of Boy Scout troops in the Santa Fe District will attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Groom Scout Hut. A training film, "Patrol and Troop Hikes," will be shown.

Local Green Bar members who do not have transportation to Groom have been invited to go in Troop 4's bus. They have been asked to meet at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the First Christian Church.

Green Bar is composed of patrol leaders, assistant patrol leaders, senior patrol leaders, scribes and quartermasters of all Scout troops.

Legislature Boosts Tideland Discussion

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Texas Legislature has approved a message to Congress urging passage of pending legislation establishing full state ownership of the tidelands.

Both the House and the Senate unanimously adopted a resolution asking Texas members of Congress to give personal leadership to working for passage of the legislation.

Not counting Australia, which is regarded as a continent, Greenland is the largest island in the world.

Law Tightening On Realtor, Says Texas Leader

The time is near when every real estate license applicant will be required to take a state examination, Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo, state president of the Real Estate Association, told local realtors Monday night.

He said the matter will be discussed at the state convention later this year at San Antonio.

In illustrating the need for the state examination, Loewenstern cited an instance where an applicant tried to apply for membership by writing his name on a paper sack.

"Realtors really are professional men as well as consultants and specialists in their field," Loewenstern said.

Steve Oakes, Wichita Falls, state secretary of the state association, accompanied Loewenstern and presented a brief talk. G. W. Maguire, Amarillo real estate, also was a guest.

Election of officers of the local Real Estate Association will be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the County Court Room. John L. Bradford, president, said all dealers in real estate are urged to attend.

Damage Case Taken By Supreme Court

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to hear arguments in a damage suit brought on by an explosion at a Raymondville filling station July 26, 1948.

Tom E. Fisher and Olin E. Fisher and his family claimed they were sleeping in an apartment house near the station when gasoline exploded while a worker was pumping it from a Coastal Transport Co. truck. They asked damages from the transport firm and were awarded $10,000 by a trial court.

The San Antonio civil appeals court reversed the decision in two instances amounting to $8,800 because the judge had failed to instruct the jury on the "reasonable probability" of future pain. Both sides appealed to the Supreme Court.

ATTORNEY RESIGNS

ACROBATIC FIREMEN — Japanese fire-fighters perform acrobatic feats of balance and agility during a fire-fighting exhibition held on the Imperial Palace Plaza, Tokyo.

Pampa's Fire Department Boasts Modern Equipment

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of articles, "Know Your Fire Department," prepared by personnel of the Pampa Fire Department.)

The Pampa Fire Department is better equipped than many departments in the Panhandle.

The department has one booster and three pumper trucks.

Triple combination trucks carry a supply of hose, pumps and moderate supply of water in a booster tank. Enough water is carried on each truck to extinguish a minor fire.

A triple combination truck also has about 20 other pieces of equipment, such as extra nozzles, ladders, spanner wrenches, suction hose and connections.

Pampa has two American LaFrance pumps, which under draft will deliver 750 gallons of water per minute. One pumper was purchased in 1926, another in 1936 and another in 1940. A No. 5 type pumper will give out 500 gallons of water per minute. A No. 6 pumper has only one inlet from which to take water. It is called a booster-type pumper.

A booster truck, as was purchased in 1946, carries 470 gallons of water. Normally this is enough to extinguish about 90 percent of the fires. However, it is of little value in a major fire.

The size of the truck determines how much hose is carried, which is usually between 700 and 1,650 feet. Both 1 1/2- and 2 1/2-inch hose is carried on a truck. Pampa has about 6,000 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose and about 1,000 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose.

The Pampa Fire Department still uses some of its hose that was purchased more than 20 years ago. If the hose had not been well cared for during the years, it would not be useable now.

Part of the station's hose has had to be replaced. Several sections have been damaged or ruined when cars or trucks drove over them while they were in use.

Other accessories at the local station include four 24-foot extension ladders, five roof ladders, one attic ladder, one 38-foot extension ladder and one 40-foot extension ladder.

O'Daniel Is Hinted As Austin Aspirant

WICHITA FALLS — (P) — Caso March, a candidate for governor, says he has heard that W. Lee O'Daniel will get in the governor's race "about June 1."

O'Daniel is a former Texas governor and former U. S. senator.

The Wichita Falls Record News reported last night that March told the newspaper that he received his information about O'Daniel "from Fort Worth" from a person of wealth "who might spend some of it" on O'Daniel.

Successful Flop, Mel Allen, Still Yearns to Play Ball

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (P) — America is full of people who want to do something big — but just sit around and talk about it.

Such is the sad life story of Mel Allen, one of the most successful failures in the history of sports.

Mel always yearned to be an athlete, particularly a star baseball player. Today he lets Joe DiMaggio play the game, while he just sits and talks about it.

But there is a golden lining to his cloud. Allen gets between $100,000 and $200,000 a year for his oral exercise. And when he thinks of his career irony, he well might employ a phrase familiar to millions of his fans: "How about that?"

For at 37 this frustrated outfielder who couldn't even make his college team is one of the highest-paid figures in a new industry — sportscasting. The tools are a voice, a microphone and a knowledge of sports.

"As a kid I woke up every day for sports," said Mel, recalling his hole-in-the-shoe youth down South.

"I wasn't good enough to win a baseball letter in the field at the University of Alabama, so I got one by being student manager of the team."

He earned a law degree, too, and passed the bar. But he didn't hang out his shingle. He preferred a job in Birmingham broadcasting football games. The salary: $5 a Saturday—in season.

Allen came to New York as a CBS announcer and soon switched to sports. Now he broadcasts the New York Yankee baseball games, has a weekly network program of his own, does two newscast sportscasts a week, the World Series, the All-Star games, and special boxing and basketball events.

The secret of his success? "To me sports are still glamorous—and always will be. I'm still country boy enough to be thrilled by the personalities, and I get as excited as any other fan."

Washington Note Subject of Talk

Rotarian Travis Lively yesterday spoke to the Pampa Rotary Club in the City Palm Room on the life of George Washington.

Lively centered his talk around Washington's farewell letter at the close of his second term as president of the infant United States.

It was announced that next week's program would be in the charge of Irvin Cole when ranchers and farmers from Gray County would be guests.

Lightning Sets Off Oil Fire on Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI — (P) — Lightning set off a brief oil fire here yesterday which caused about $5,000 damage.

The bolt ripped the top off a 500-barrel tank owned by the Humble Oil Co. and tossed it about 250 feet into the air. It landed about 50 yards away.

It also found that 40 percent of all local roads don't carry any more than 10 vehicles a day, and that many of the roads are "wholly nonessential." It recommended abandonment of 400,000 miles of such roads.

Texas, the report said, has 173,894 miles of local rural highway that gets no federal aid—more than any other state.

The United States Library of Congress contains more than eight million volumes and pamphlets.

DP AND DOLLY — Vera Chreptowsky, 30 months old, carries her doll in her knapsack as she arrives at a New York pier with her parents, displaced persons from the Ukraine.

Prices Drop During 1949

WASHINGTON — (P) — Consumer prices declined 2.3 percent during 1949 and at the start of this year were four percent under their postwar peak, the Commerce Department has reported.

While food prices had fallen farthest from their crest, they continued to be "high in relation to those for other commodities when compared with the prewar situation in either 1929 or 1926," the department said.

Clothing prices to the consumer took the biggest proportional decline, 7.3 percent, in 1949, but were off only 7.8 percent from their postwar highs.

House furnishings concentrated practically all of their postwar price decline—6.7 percent—in 1949.

The department noted that consumer prices rose to new highs in other respects — rent moving up 2.3 percent; fuel, electricity and refrigeration 1.4 percent, and other costs, classed as "miscellaneous," up 1 percent.
