MANY MEASURES ARE TABLED SUBJECT TO CALL

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—The house of representatives voted today to adjourn the regular session of the Texas legislature May 7 although predictions were freely made it would force a special session immediately to consider emergency administration legislation that will die on the calendar.

Representative W. E. Jones of Jourdanville asserted it was apparent the calendar had become so confused that most of the bills advocated by Governor James V. Allred would find themselves in the legislative graveyard regardless of the length of the regular session.

The adjournment date proposed by Jones would consume the 120 days set aside for regular sessions. Jones said he believed the senate would adopt the resolution.

Jones' resolution came after a morning of special motions in which members sought to place their bills in favored positions. Bills to regulate utilities, increase inheritance taxes, and double the state's share of taxes on horse race wagers, to prohibit interstate sales of cigars without state stamps under the guise of interstate commerce and nearly a score of others were tabled subject to call and may be brought up on a days' notice.

"You can determine from the house's action this morning that from now on we will witness a filibuster for position," Jones commented. "Most of the bills on the calendar have no chance to come up anyway."

Representative Vernon Lemens of Rainbow said he feared the action would be construed as forcing a special session.

"It appears this session will fall in major accomplishments anyway and it would be a saving to bring it to an early end," Jones countered.

Efforts were launched in the senate today to strip from a Centennial appropriation bill contradictory amendments added in a tumultuous session Friday.

The amendments limited the total

THE PANHANDLER in The Panhandle Herald—You may remember the Sandstrom article we printed last week. Bill says in the Special Reporter that he hasn't had time to read it yet, as he has had to clean up the office after three storms—and he probably had another one up there Sunday so that an office full of dirt greeted him Monday morning.

GROOM NEWS—Art Barnett says if Cecil Culver keeps making him mad he's liable to move his overdrat to another bank.

MIAMI CHIEF—The weather thermometer which has hung at the front of the W. E. Stocker Dry Goods store for more than a quarter of a century, was stolen one night last week. Mayor Stocker stated that the thermometer had been hanging in front of the store for about 27 years. It will be greatly missed by those who have been accustomed to stopping at the weather gauge to see how cold or hot the weather is.

WASHINGTON LEADER—An Oklahoma chairman confidently advertises: "Having installed city water, I can easily increase the number of my customers."

J. C. PHILLIPS in Berger Herald—For years the upper classes have been bearing heavier and heavier burdens of taxation. The jump from the present status of taxation to Huey Long's direct limit on wealth would not be far. The number of Americans who would feel a direct change from the jump would not be many. Hard times and taxation have worn the really wealthy to where not many are left.

NOSEY-GUY in Memphis Democrat—The old saying "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country," is true—though it should be reversed. Take any person with advantages and opportunities that any up-to-date community affords—he should be the equal of the person who has grown up in another like community.

ABILENE MORNING NEWS—The governor is acting with commendable vigor in cleaning up a situation that became a scandal under previous administrations. In Texas the sale of hard liquor, and even beer stronger than 3.2, is unlawful, but you would not realize it if you visited such oases as Galveston, San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and even the capital, Austin, where saloons have been running openly under the eyes and noses of legislators. Until or unless a majority of the Texas electorate decrees otherwise, it will remain unlawful to offer hard liquor for sale, and the governor proposes to do something drastic about it. More power to him.

U. S. Supreme Court Reverses Death Sentences of Two Alabama Negroes.

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—A new trial was ordered by the supreme court today in the case of death sentences imposed on Clarence Norris and Haywood Patterson, negroes convicted of assaulting a white woman near Scottsboro, Ala.

The opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Hughes. The negroes, center of litigation since 1931, contended they had been deprived of constitutional rights because they were indicted by a grand jury from which members of their race had been systematically excluded.

During arguments before the supreme court, counsel for the defendants asserted that names of negroes had been "forged" to the jury rolls of Jackson county after the indictments had been returned.

Once before, the supreme court ordered a new trial for these and five other negroes on the ground they had been unconstitutionally deprived of the aid of counsel in preparation for the first trial.

Gould Heiress And Her Texas Husband Part

SAN ANTONIO, April 1. (AP)—Frank Meador, actor son of a Texas rancher and now employed in a local bank, admitted today he had been separated from his wife, Anne Gould Meador, the Gould heiress, for a month.

Meador, questioned at the Gross National bank, where he is employed, said his heiress-bridal is now in Florida.

"It's old stuff," was his comment on the separation. "We've been separated for a month."

Except to verify the report that they had separated, Meador declined to comment.

The young banker, native of San Saba, Texas, refused to say whether the breach was caused by his refusal to work in accordance with his wife's wishes.

Mrs. Meador is said to have fallen in love with the young Texan when she saw him play a minor role on the New York stage. They eloped and came to San Antonio last Christmas.

Meador went to work at the bank and the pair lived in a modest home, refusing interviews and seeking quiet.

Mrs. Meador had started to New York when she changed her mind and went to Florida.

Today Is Last to Buy Car Licenses

Supplies of Gray county license plates diminished rapidly today as the deadline for payments neared.

Today is the last day to pay without penalty. Licenses will cost 50 per cent more beginning tomorrow. Persons who drive their cars without new licenses will be subject to a fine of $14 in addition to the penalty.

MEMBERSHIP IN CITYWIDE BODY IS APPROVED

ALL CITIZENS INTERESTED MAY BACK CIVIC PROJECTS

A permanent membership body working with the Board of City Development and having open forum meetings at regular—probably monthly—intervals was decided upon this noon by businessmen who met at the First Baptist church dining room.

Jim Collins, chairman of a committee appointed to study the problem of securing citywide interest and cooperation in outstanding projects, presided.

The vote for having some form of membership connected with the B. C. D. followed an open discussion in which Guy E. McTaggart, R. B. Fisher, R. G. Allen, F. M. Foster, Clyde Fathner, W. H. Curry, Tom Rose, C. P. Buckler, Fred Cullum, and others were heard.

Previously, the group had heard F. W. Rose tell of highway plans, including work for a north road, and for paving of the Pampa-Borger road, and Dick Hughes explain the purpose of a Pre-Centennial advisory gathering at the Schneider hotel tonight. George Briggs said lack of houses was costing the city many industries.

Mack Graham, president of the B. C. D., said that he had begun an administration he did not seek to be determined to do something and to ignore inevitable criticism. Mayor W. A. Bratton read from the city charter which sets up the B. C. D. and provides that as much as 20 cents on the $100 valuation may be collected for its support.

He said that during the depression the City had seen fit to reduce the levy to 7 cents.

Mr. McTaggart said that some central body was needed so that every interested citizen and every taxpayer could feel that he had a part and was a member of the Build-Pampa movement.

Mr. Foster said that such a membership body should add "that something" that he felt was needed in B. C. D. work. Mr. Allen declared that the B. C. D. had been "trying to do something with nothing" and urged better financial support. Mr. Fathner said that the tax levy was the proper and equitable way to raise funds and that with better times the levy could now be

Pre-Centennial Banquet Will Be At Hotel Tonight

Business men and women, long-time residents, civic leaders and others will meet tonight in the basement of the Schneider hotel to discuss plans for the second Panhandle Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup to be held here May 30 and 31. The occasion will be a banquet which will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Tentative plans made by the committees will be outlined, and suggestions received. The purpose of the meeting is to create enthusiasm for the celebration.

R. G. (Dick) Hughes is chairman of arrangements. A correction in the price of plates which will cost 75 cents each, instead of 50 cents, was announced.

Mayor Bratton Formally Opens Fishing Season

With the birds singing and the fish biting down in East Texas, Mayor W. A. Bratton of Pampa today untangled his fishing gear and proclaimed also the opening of the angling season on the plains. In showing his resourcefulness, as illustrated above in this exclusive Daily NEWS photo, Mayor Bratton predicted that he would bring home the "cream" of the catch. "April 1 is as good a time as any to fish," said his Honor, "for, anyhow, it's the fishing, not the fish, that is really important."

Lumber Case Abandoned

SIX BURNED IN THIRTEEN CALLS DURING MONTH

Total Fire Loss Was $11,000, Report Shows

Six persons were burned, none of them fatally, when the Pampa fire department answered 13 calls during March. Fire Chief Clyde Gold's report disclosed. The total estimated fire loss was $11,000, with the insured fire loss an estimated $400.

Fire loss for the month reached an amount almost equal to the total during 1934. Loss for the first three months exceeded the total for the past year.

An estimated loss of $600 was suffered by J. R. Brown, owner of a house in the 700 block on Denver street, Saturday night, when his three-room house was destroyed.

Chief Gold reported after investigation that the fire was caused when a rubber hose on a heater blew off the wall connection, causing an explosion and fire. No one was at home when the fire started and it had gained considerable headway before being discovered.

A neighbor ran four blocks to the nearest telephone to call the fire department and when the truck arrived, the house was enveloped in flames.

Firemen strung 1,050 feet of hose from the nearest fire plug. They succeeded in saving a house located only a few feet from the burning building. The second dwelling caught fire but it was discovered

Justice Department Wants High Court to Dismiss Case Against Belcher.

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The supreme court agreed today to permit the government to drop its NRA case against William E. Belcher of Alabama, which had been expected to determine the constitutionality of the recovery act.

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The justice department today formally asked the supreme court to dismiss the case against W. E. Belcher of Alabama which had been expected to test the constitutionality of the national recovery act.

A decision was deferred until later in the day.

No explanation was given at headquarters for the sudden abandonment of plans to oppose the justice department in its request that the high court dismiss the Alabama case in which Federal Judge W. I. Grubb ruled NRA unconstitutional.

There had been some question, however, of whether the court would recognize the code authority as having sufficient interest in the case to be granted a hearing.

One reason advanced for the reversal was a belief on the part of some lumber code officials that other interested parties will protest the dismissal.

Just as the dismissal motion was filed by Stanley Reed, solicitor general, the lumber code authority reversed itself a second time and announced it would protest the dismissal.

The authority will ask the court's permission to file a brief in opposition to dismissal of the Belcher case. Whether the court would grant this permission was considered doubtful by some.

The justices were expected to rule on the government's motion later today.

Hamlin Defense Claims Insanity By 2 Witnesses

AMARILLO, April 1. (AP)—In an effort to bolster the defendant's insanity plea, counsel for George S. Hamlin in his trial for the hammer killing of his wife presented testimony today concerning an insurance policy on Mrs. Hamlin's life.

Through James O. Guleke, Amarillo attorney, the defense brought out that the slain woman's family had returned a $1,000 insurance company, and had filed for double indemnity.

E. T. Miller, Hamlin's attorney, contended that the double indemnity claim was an admission that the beneficiaries of the policy believed the defendant of unsound mind.

Guleke testified that he had advised a client not to buy the Hamlin home, in which the slaying occurred January 4, as there was a question as to its title in view of the defendant's plea of insanity.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 1. (AP)—Billy Prescott, 19-year-old slayer, was saved from the electric chair today by a commutation of sentence signed by Governor Marland.

Prescott was to have been electrocuted April 5. Marland followed recommendations of his unofficial pardon and parole board in changing Prescott's sentence to life imprisonment. The youth was sentenced to death in Muskogee county for the murder of Joe Bell, McAlester traveling man.

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt said this afternoon that he had not heard of threatened "bloodshed" at Corpus Christi, allegedly as a result of investigation by Texas Rangers of absentee voting there. Nesbitt stated he had not yet received telegrams from city and county officials asking that Rangers be withdrawn to fight bloodshed.

PLAINVIEW, April 1. (AP)—The Tulsa grand jury in 64th district court today began an investigation of criminal assault charges against Alex Ethridge, Plainview negro accused of attacking a ten-year-old Plainview white girl. A preliminary hearing was held March 28 before Justice of the Peace J. P. Siler on a complaint filed by Sheriff J. K. Hooper of Hale county.

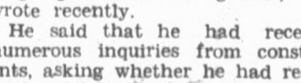

Worley Recovered Three Weeks Ago From Operation

An appendicitis operation put a dent in Rep. Eugene Worley's legislative activities for about 10 days, and then he was back in the lower house where he represents this 122nd district. Mr. Worley has been back on the job for about three weeks and has been operating in "high gear and feeling fine," he wrote recently.

He said that he had received numerous inquiries from constituents, asking whether he had recovered sufficiently from the operation to resume his duties. Mr. Worley said that he would give immediate attention to requests for information or service, and would be glad to hear from any of his constituents who need anything.

The oil and gas committee is one of the committees of which Mr. Worley is a member.

METHOD USED TO BAR VOTE IS SUSTAINED

PARTY IS COMPETENT TO DECIDE OWN MEMBERSHIP

WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—The method employed in Texas to bar negroes from voting at democratic primaries—by restricting membership in the party to whites—was sustained today by the supreme court.

The action of the Texas democratic convention on May, 1932, in limiting party members to white citizens qualified to vote under state laws was challenged by R. E. Grovery, a 44-year-old Harris county negro.

In 1932 the supreme court declared invalid a Texas statute which prohibited negroes from voting at democratic elections. Since then the same results have been sought by action of the democratic party organization.

Asserting he was qualified under state laws to vote as a member of the democratic party, Grovery said he was prevented from doing so in the July, 1934, democratic primary through refusal of Albert Townsend, county clerk, to give him a ballot.

He sued for $10 damages in a justice court and lost. Although this small amount gives no right of appeal, the supreme court agreed to review the case.

The high court held the negro was not deprived of any constitutional right.

Justice Roberts, delivering the opinion, said the state convention had the right to arrange for elections.

"We hold the party was a voluntary association and was competent to decide its membership," he asserted.

No dissent was announced.

Scout Projects To Be Discussed Tomorrow Night

Two big Scout projects will be discussed here Tuesday evening by scout troop and council representatives from a number of towns in this territory.

One will be the annual circus, or Scout fair, which will be held next month in Pampa for boys of the entire council. The date must be set and proposed stunts lifted to make the program attractive.

The national jamboree in Washington, D. C. next fall is currently of interest because of the necessity of depositing the initial $25 delegate fee by April 15 with the local council. It is not necessary, however, for a troop to designate its delegate at this time. Several deposits already have been received.

Troop 22, which meets alternately at Hoover and the red school building in northeast of Pampa, held its first birthday party at Hoover Saturday evening. Executive and Mrs. C. A. Clark and Fire Chief and Mrs. Clyde Gold of Pampa were special guests.

After a program by the boys, an excellent meal was served by the mothers. Four boys were initiated as members of the troop. They were Paul Bond, Archie Lee Chockster, Abraham Lewis, and Bill Still.

All of the boys have been re-registered and the troop as a whole has won the highest awards. The new charter was presented, E. W. Hogan is scoutmaster.

VALUE OF NEWSPAPER ILLUSTRATED

J. A. Owens, publisher of the Provo, Utah, Herald, in a recent issue undertook in an open letter to the legislature to point out the value of the newspaper to the individual. He made such a good job of it that we are reprinting the letter in full:

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the legislature: Much has been said by the newspapers about the legislature and some things have been said by the legislators about the newspapers.

"Some of you have been kind enough to point out the value of the newspapers to the communities where they are published. Some of you have unkindly tried to curtail the revenue, and incidentally, the value of the newspapers under the camouflage of economy. Today I want to tell you briefly what the newspapers have done for you personally.

"When you were born your proud father swaggered with unrestricted pride and with exaggerated stride to the newspaper and had it proclaimed to all and sundry that unto him a child was born. The humble editor, to save time, agreed with the unbiased statement of your father that of all the blessed events of history this was indeed the most blessed, and published the news to an eager world without recompense and without price. Here—without any effort on your part, you made the front page, and was your face red! It was your first taste of free publicity and you have had an unsatisfied craving for more of it ever since.

"When you graduated from the public schools, and again from high school, and finally from college, if any, the newspaper was each time honored with the privilege of proclaiming to all the country round, and again without compensation, each successive step you made toward greatness.

"When, by wile and guile, the sweetest girl in all the world led you to implore her to grant to you the privilege of paying for her upkeep for the balance of her life, and with sundry relatives as a side expense, in exchange for which she would gladly be the lesser light in your special sphere of existence, the newspaper, again without fee, proclaimed to rival swains that it was 'hands off' from here on and no trespassing allowed.

"Not satisfied with that, your newspaper announced the securing of the marriage license, and described in words that linger with you yet in that treasured scrapbook in the old cedar chest, the grandeur of the wedding, the beauty of the bride, and the gorgeousness of the wedding dress. Nor did the editor receive as recompense even the doubtful reward of the privilege of kissing the bride.

"When political ambition's bug had sunk its deadly fangs in your receptive soul you kindly permitted the newspaper, without pay, to tell the world that you were willing to yield to the demands of your friends and sacrifice yourself for your beloved public that the right of the people might be preserved, providing the salary justified the sacrifice.

"The paper ran your picture when you were elected, and paid homage to the local boy who had made good. They printed your speeches, good or bad, and suffered the consequence for their lack of judgment as to what constituted news.

"And finally, when you pass on to that reward which is only a guess at best, the newspaper does its final duty to you and yours with an obituary that would surprise you were you able to read it for yourself. All of this service from the cradle to the grave has been yours without price, freely given and freely taken.

"I call this to your attention only that you may know that you have never been the 'forgotten man.' What the newspaper has done for you it has done for millions of others—all without recompense.

"If you believe in the scriptures, which I am sure you do, I call to your attention that little passage which says: 'The laborer is worthy of his hire.'

"In the future when you are tempted to cut the revenue of the newspapers, remember my words to you and say to temptation: 'Get ye behind me Satan.'

"Seriously, there is nothing of public service from a drive for the Boy Scouts, the Red Cross, or whatnot to the raising of funds to build a courthouse to house successful office seekers, that the newspaper does not give freely of its valuable space without hope of material reward, all in the interest of the public good."

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Several members of Congress are feeling a bit silly since the NRA investigation began to warm up.

They are in that group which once was hollering about the oppression of the "small business man" by codes. Some of the "small business men" have been on exhibit and they looked neither small nor oppressed.

There must be some honest little fellows who have been hurt by NRA. Plenty of the monopolistic practices were legalized under the General Johnson regime. The complaint of most of them is that codes haven't been adequately enforced—which left those complying at a disadvantage.

But the "little fellows" whose cause such folks as Senator King of Utah, Senator Nye of North Dakota and the ineffable Congress-woman Virginia Jenckes of Indiana espoused turned out to be gents who objected to enforcement rather than non-enforcement, to minimum wages and collective bargaining.

Some of them, testimony brought out, had paid wages as low as three and five cents an hour before NRA boosted the minimum. Presumably they were pining for those good old days.

Their congressional supporters lapsed into silence as the facts began to come out.

With so much excitement around here nearly all of us have forgotten about the Indians and their troubles. But there's one little group that never forgets the Indians—meaning the fellows who are out to fleece them and the men who represent them in Congress. Presumably this lobby will be on the job until the last Indian is dead.

The present effort is to wreck the Wheeler-Howard act, under which Secretary Ickes and Indian Commissioner John Collier have sought to rehabilitate the Indian, making him self-reliant and preserving his remaining assets.

Lobbyists persuaded certain congressmen to cut in half the budgeted appropriations for land purchases, an Indian credit system, and tribal organization—all vital part of the Indian "New Deal" program.

The opposition even includes a missionary group which fights Collier and Ickes because they prohibit coercion of Indians into religious denominations and permit Indians to return to their old tribal religions if they like.

Other malcontents have tried to collect money from the Indians and find themselves balked by the Indian bureau.

Lumber interests are fighting Collier because of the new policy which encourages Indians to cut and mill their own timber instead of leasing the timber land on contract while remaining idle.

Organized cattle and sheep men are striking back because the Interior Department is closing out Indian grazing ranges and turning them back to Indians, whom it already has supplied with 30,000 head of foundation stock.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History

For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

Texas had not seen much of its ex-president, Mirabeau B. Lamar, after his term of office ended. The romantic and poetic gentleman was of a slightly different make-up from his fellow citizens. His whole being was absorbed with the idea of creating advantages for the people along cultural and educational lines. He worked, planned and strived for posterity.

November 15, 1843, the Telegraph reported that he had "been tendered a dinner at Galveston, but had refused because of illness. Several war-time friends of this gentleman had entertained hopes that he would consent to mingle again in the political strifes of this country and become a candidate for the high office of Chief Magistrate for the next ensuing election. These hopes, however, are all futile. Ill health will prevent his doing so. He has been basely persecuted and traduced by envious and malicious opponents but to use his own language 'the honest chronicler who shall hereafter examine and record the acts of his political life will do him justice.'

Lamar lost many friends in Texas because he was not in favor of annexation until 1844. For a long while he believed the Republic could profit more by remaining independent, and when sentiment was strongest for annexation, he was opposed to it. After his presidency, he did not again enter politics until 1847, when he became a candidate for the house from Nueces and San Patricio counties. He was elected without opposition.

Lamar had been stationed at Laredo during the Mexican war, and as commander there, had organized the people and supervised the election of local officers. During the first part of the Mexican war he was a division inspector at Laredo.

Cayuga Oil Field Is Extended Again

ATHENS, April 1 (AP)—Extension of the Cayuga oil field one and three-quarters miles northward was considered probable today after the Joe Worsham well came in under its own pressure.

The Worsham well was drilled to a depth of 4,091 feet in the B. Towles survey, 16 miles southwest of Athens. Worsham, Dallas oil man, obtained the acreage from the Roesser and Pendleton block. The well was flowing through an eight-inch choke, with potential estimated as high as 5,000 barrels daily. The railroad commission was gauging it. Operators considered the well as good as any in the Cayuga field. Its gas pressure, they said, possibly was less than in the Ware well.

Japan Ready to Talk to Russia On Disarmament

TOKYO, April 1 (AP)—A high government spokesman today gave assurance that Japan is ready to discuss with the Soviet government the question of demilitarization of the Far Eastern frontiers.

At the same time the spokesman, Eiji Amau, asserted the Far Eastern empire "cannot think of any allegiance with Germany."

Foreign diplomatic observers expressed the opinion such demilitarization would indirectly bolster the anti-German alignment of European powers.

It was pointed out the arrangement would afford the Soviet a security in the Orient which would enable her to transfer a portion of her Siberian garrisons westward.

Amau, however, emphasized that Japan's primary interest is the maintenance of "peace in Eastern Asia, which we will protect at any cost."

LOCALS WIN GOLF TOURNEY 51-46 IN TYPICAL PAMPA-AMARILLO BATTLE

PAMPANS WILL RETURN MATCH AT AMARILLO

TOURNEY ONE OF BIGGEST AND CLOSEST ON RECORD

Amarillo golfers—97 strong—came to Pampa yesterday in the first big inter-city golf tournament staged in this city. The Pampans defeated their visitors 51 matches to 46, which, considering the number of players, is considered one of the closest golf matches on file.

Play was ideal during the morning and until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Then a strong south wind started blowing dust across the course. The last foursome reported to the club house at dusk with the wind blowing a young gale.

Some excellent scores were registered and many close matches were recorded. Five pairs at the end of 18 holes of play were tied and extra play resulted, three going 19 holes and the other two 20 holes.

The purpose of the match was to create good will. This object was fulfilled as players of the two cities enjoyed the get-together to the extent that plans for a return match over the River Drive course, probably April 14, were made.

The Amarillo delegation was brought to Pampa by Walter Sikes, professional at the River Drive course, and was the outcome of a club challenge by Del Love, Pampa professional. Mr. Love and officials of the Country club wish to thank all players who participated in the match and also to invite them to go to Amarillo for the return engagement.

Walter Sikes was "hot" as he defeated the Pampa pro. Gene Howe (Col. Erasmus Tack) battled C. T. Hunkapiller in the last green before winning. The Amarillo columnist drove two balls on the highway before he finally got away from the first tee.

One of the best foursomes of the game saw four school boy champions in action. John Austin, captain of the Pampa high school team, defeated Jim Croom, Amarillo champion, 1 up. In the same foursome, Rex Brown, Amarillo captain, defeated Buck Talley, 1 up, despite the fact that Talley shot five consecutive birdies on the back nine.

Zade Watkins, Pampa, 13 years old, nosed out S. P. Smith Jr., 11 years, in a match that made a bunch of the older players take notice. Watkins carried a 93 and Smith a 95.

Grover Austin Jr., former caddy ace, lost one down to Johnny Munn, Amarillo city champion, in a bitterly fought contest. Dale Lott, Pampa city champion, went 1 down to G. W. Dodd.

Dutch Mantell and Cal Farley were to arrive yesterday afternoon but were a little afraid of their opponents and slipped in to the city early in the morning, played picked-up opponents, beat them, and then went back to Amarillo.

Sooner Student Body Is Divided On 'Biff' Jones
NORMAN, Okla., April 1 (AP)—Student leaders of the University of Oklahoma today prepared "we want you, Biff" messages to be sent directly to Captain Lawrence M. Jones of Louisiana State University, whom they seek for the Sooner football coaching job.

The messages to be sent also to the war department in Washington, were designed to counteract the effect of "protests" against Jones sent to Washington by other students.

Dr. W. E. Bizzell, president of the university, sided definitely yesterday with those seeking Jones, declaring he personally favored the transfer of the famed professor of the gridiron here to replace Coach Lewie Hardage.

Since yesterday's mishap, Wilson has been the target for many rumors. The Daily Express started the argument with an eight-column, front-page series of photographs showing Golden Miller making a perfect four-point landing at the jump where Wilson fell. The photographs showed Miss Page's landing without lurching, then dashing along the straightaway while his jockey rolled along the ground.

Wilson, the articulate half of the event known as the "Damon and Pythias," placed the blame squarely upon the horse, saying, "Golden Miller met the fence wrong. He was too clever to fall himself but wobbled on landing, causing me to be dislodged."

TEXAS LEAGUE FACES STIFF ROW OF FOES

The Texas league clubs faced a stiff exhibition program this week. Yesterday saw the clubs performing in various sections of the state, some of them playing league teams and others meeting independent outfits.

Houston ran up the highest score, walloping the Texas prison nine, 21 to 0. The Buffs counted 23 hits, including five home runs.

Galveston took a 2 to 1 victory from the Magnolia Oilers of Kilgore, and the Oklahoma City Indians took the measure of the Dallas Steers, 6 to 5.

The Fort Worth Cats clouted 10 hits, including three homers, to whip the Tulsa Oilers, 12 to 6, at Henderson.

San Antonio planned to go to Kenedy Wednesday for an exhibition game and to Nuevo Laredo Saturday for more contests.

Resurgent was slated play Abbeville today and oppose Evangeliste league teams later in the week.

Fort Worth planned practice tilts tomorrow and Wednesday in preparation for the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday, Chicago White Sox Saturday and Dallas Sunday.

Galveston scheduled seven-inning games with the Pirates and White Sox.

Dallas had the Tulsa Oilers on their hands today at Henderson.

Oklahoma City had the Sun Oilers of Arp, Texas, on their schedule for tomorrow and the House of David Thursday.

TEXAS LEAGUE FACES STIFF ROW OF FOES

The Coltexo baseball team of LeFors yesterday afternoon threw its hat in the ring as one of the strongest baseball teams in the Panhandle when the gasoline boys swamped Shamrock's Red River Valley league team, 29 to 2 in a six-inning affray at Shamrock.

Manager Jack Bellah took only part of his team to Shamrock and tried out three pitchers during the wild melee. The little pilot of the Coltexo nine was enthusiastic about his prospects. His pitchers, who have been putting gray hairs in his head, came through well.

Power at bat and great defensive strength was displayed by the Coltexo boys. Sehinski, stocky little centerfielder, hit safely four times and walked twice in six trips to the plate. Spencer, shortstop, and Hale, third baseman, each connected for the circuit with the bases drunk.

Golden Miller threw Gerry Wilson at the first fence whereas yesterday it was at a comparatively small obstacle less than a mile from the start.

John Hay Whitney's American-owned Double Crossed, a stablemate of Thousand 2nd and himself originally named for the Grand National, went on to win the race by one and one-half lengths from E. Platt's Star Shell.

Wilson, the articulate half of the event known as the "Damon and Pythias," placed the blame squarely upon the horse, saying, "Golden Miller met the fence wrong. He was too clever to fall himself but wobbled on landing, causing me to be dislodged."

TRACK AND FIELD TEAM WILL BE CHOSEN IN MEET TUESDAY

Track and field teams from Wheeler, Mobeetie, LeFors, White Deer, and Miami have been invited to Pampa tomorrow to compete in a six-way match with the Pampa Harvesters as the other team. The Pampa team to represent the high school in the district meet here Friday, will be selected.

Each of the invited teams have several good prospects, hence competition in dual meets.

Coach Odus Mitchell was scheduled to put his Harvesters through their stiffest workout of the season this afternoon in preparation for tomorrow's trials. The coach has been able to devote only a portion of his time to the thinclads in the past few weeks because of spring football training period.

The public is invited to attend the trials tomorrow. No admission will be charged.

At the start, disposed of Rock X in the final furlong but failed to withstand the winner's drive. Bold Lover lost ground in the final stretch.

The victory was worth $4,160 to Owner Ramage.

The title at stake is the one won in 1934 by Lester Stoenen, who turned professional.

Cardinals Are Picked To Win National Loop

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—The world champion St. Louis Cardinals stand out today as the choice of major league baseball experts to retain the National league pennant.

Of the 77 sports writers who participated in the ninth annual Associated Press pennant poll, 39 picked the Cardinals to repeat.

The general belief that the 1935 race will be strictly a two-team affair was adequately reflected in the poll for Bill Terry's New York Giants received 31 of the remaining 38 first-place ballots. The only other clubs likely to figure in the pennant race, as the experts see it, are the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates. Four writers cast their first-place ballots for the Cubs and three for the Pirates.

Not only did the Cardinals and Giants together receive 70 of the 77 first-place ballots but they likewise monopolized the second-place votes, with six and Pittsburgh with seven, were the only other clubs to figure in the balloting.

Despite the Cardinals' 1934 exploits, strong support for the Giants has developed mainly because of the addition of Dick Bartell, peppery shortstop, to Terry's infield.

It is not generally known but Mr. Mack wanted to shift Fox from first base to the catching department last year. Jimmie preferred first base and he declined to change jobs, to fill the big gap caused by Mickey Cochrane's departure, because the club was by mid-season going nowhere.

"It's a different proposition this spring," admits Fox. "It's a tougher job for me behind the plate but I'm satisfied now I can really help the club, also that we are going somewhere. Nobody in the league but I'm telling you we have a real club. We have power, speed and I'm sure we are going to get greatly improved pitching."

"Anything can happen in this year's race. There's no question Detroit has the edge now. Mickey's club has a lot of stuff but an accident or two might break it up and do the job quickly. It's a free-for-all otherwise, with no really outstanding team. That means we will have a chance to land somewhere in the first division and I'm anxious to help do it."

Cooper Leads Atlanta Open Golf Tourney ATLANTA, April 1 (AP)—Harry Cooper of Chicago, the best "mudder" in the bunch, held a two-stroke advantage over the field today in the $2,000 Metropolitan open golf tournament, with 18 holes left to play. Cooper's card showed a 36-hole total of 142, made up by a brilliant 69 Saturday and a 73 Sunday. That 73 was scored in spite of a virtual cloudburst. The remaining 18 holes of the 54-hole event were scheduled for this afternoon. After day's play the touring professionals move to Augusta, Ga., where the first round of the Augusta national tournament starts Thursday. Henry Picard of Herabey Pa., was second to Cooper after yesterday's play with a 144. Picard turned in a 74 yesterday. Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles scored a 73 also for a total of 145 and third place. One stroke behind came Byron Nelson of Texas, with a 75-71-145. Read the Want Ads—NOW.

CHURCHES PREPARE FOR DISTRICT MEETINGS AND REVIVALS

JOINT SERVICE HELD BY TWO CONGREGATIONS

ONE CONVENTION WILL BE HERE, ANOTHER IN BORGER

District church sessions, one to be entertained by First Baptist church here and another to be attended by a large delegation from the Presbyterian church, were announced for next week at services yesterday.

First Baptist church will be host to several hundred young people of the Panhandle at a Sunday school and training union convention Thursday and Friday.

The Amarillo Presbytery will convene at Borger Wednesday, Burney Shell, pastor here, and George Briggs expect to attend all sessions Wednesday and Thursday, while a large group of laymen will go over for a meeting of the Panhandle Presbyterian Men's Fellowship at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Men who plan to attend are asked to notify Mr. Shell, Mr. Briggs, or F. E. Leech the first of the week, and to meet at Mr. Leech's office in the courthouse at 5:45 Wednesday.

The Christian church will begin its revival April 14, with J. B. Holmes as speaker and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Walker in charge of music.

No Easter revival is planned by Presbyterian church, but that day will be devoted to reception of new members. A class of instruction for junior and intermediate children who contemplate membership is being conducted weekly at 4:15 Wednesdays at the church. A large group attended for the first meeting Wednesday.

Church Time Changed Regular ministers conducted services of all churches yesterday, the First Methodist, where the Rev. T. S. A change in time for evening services was announced by Christian, First Baptist and Presbyterian churches to be effective next Sunday. Through the spring and summer, the services will start at 8 p. m. in all three churches.

Here's a delightfully chic little jacket dress for casual wear.

It's navy blue sheer silk to be certain and its trim is navy and white taffeta. It's so fresh and young looking, you'll find yourself to live in it.

Note the tied scarf neckline of the dress. The jacket is nipped in at the back through pin tucks at the waistline.

It's so utterly simple to make it.

Perhaps you'd like it carried out in natural sportswear linen, so modish, with the bodice of the dress in nautical blue handkerchief linen.

RULE CHANGES MAY LIVE UP BRIDGE BATTLE

FREER BIDDING CAN MEAN ADVANTAGE FOR SIMSES

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—New bridge rules reducing penalties led kibitzers today to conclude that a burst of lively bidding was in prospect as the P. Hal Simses and the Ely Cubertsons resume their 150 rubber match with 110 rubbers to go.

Probably the new rules effective today will be most welcome to the portly P. Hal Simses and his wife-partner, Dorothy. They finished the first week of play trailing the Cubertson husband-wife combination by 9,830 points and must put on the pressure if they do not want to fall too far behind.

The decreased penalties in the new rules should offer an incentive to higher bidding.

A kibitzer with an eye to "bating averages" has produced figures which show that Cubertson and Simses are running fairly close in the matter of contracts fulfilled in the games played last week.

Of the 259 hands dealt last week, Cubertson played 74, fulfilling 51 and going down on 23 for a "bating average" of 689.

Sims also played 74 hands, making 46 and being set on 28 for an average of 689.

Mrs. Simses was in third place with 574, making 27 contracts, and losing 20.

Mrs. Cubertson won 30 and lost 24 for an average of 555.

Ten of the 259 hands were passed out.

This week's program calls for five afternoon and four night sessions, although this may be changed as the match is running behind schedule.

Crockford's club, where the match is being played, buzzed today over the announcement of Oswald Jacoby that he had declined reinstatement as a member of the club.

Jacoby, a member of the "four aces" bridge team, was dropped last week "characterizing the action as inspired," by "business rivalry."

Jacoby said the expulsion had been a reflection on his honesty.

The club's executive committee, however, in offering him reinstatement, said no charges or suggestions had been made reflecting on his character or ethical conduct.

Jacoby said he "thought it best to decline."

CAREFUL PLANNING ENABLES WOMAN WITH A JOB TO HAVE GOOD MEALS IN LITTLE TIME

Majority of Women Are Employed Today

Menus and Recipes Prepared by Department of Home Economics, Texas State College for Women.

CIA, DENTON, April 1.—A statement was made recently saying that a majority of the women worked out of the home today in offices, stores, schools, factories, house to house jobs, and countless other occupations. This means that the woman will have a duty she must fulfill outside of the home as well as in the home, and in order to make a success of both jobs, she must organize her work in a way that will be the most efficient, but require a minimum amount of time.

This will particularly apply to her household duties and her meal planning and preparation. Her morning and noon meals must be easy to prepare, and require little time. She will have more time for her evening meals and can often use part of this time to make preparation for her next day's breakfast and lunch.

These menus will, I believe, be suited to her food requirements and her time allotted for this phase of her work:

Breakfast: Strawberries, cream, plain muffins, bacon, milk. Lunch: Chipped beef on toast, spinach, Waldorf salad, cherries and cream, cookies. Dinner: Stuffed pork chops, escalloped potatoes, cucumber lettuce salad, orange charlotte.

Breakfast: Sliced pineapple, bran waffles, coffee. Lunch: Sandwich (cream cheese, olive, bacon, toast), potato chips, ginger ale, cookies, tea. Dinner: Broiled steak, baked potatoes, creamed onions, fresh pea-celeri salad, peach shortcake.

Stuffed Pork Chops: Slit thick pork chops and fill with bread dressing. Put edges together with toothpick. Place in baking dish, and bake in oven. Baste with water or seasoned meat juice.

Orange Charlotte: 1-3 T. gelatin, 1-3 cup cold water, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 T lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice, whites of 3 eggs, 1/2 pint cream.

Soak gelatin in cold water, dissolve in boiling water, strain, and add sugar, lemon juice, orange juice, chill in pan of ice water; when quite thick, beat with wire spoon until frothy, then add whites of eggs beaten stiff and fold in whipped cream. Line a mould with sections

BISHOP LUCEY IS CONFIRMED BY POPE PIUS

THOMAS MORE IS MADE CHURCH SAINT IN CONSISTORY

VATICAN CITY, April 1. (AP)—In the first secret consistory called by Pope Pius in 18 months the cardinal raised their hats today to approve the canonization of Blessed Thomas More, King Henry VIII's chancellor and Bishop John Fisher of England who lost their heads for opposing Henry's marriage to Anne Boleyn.

The consistory also approved the nomination of Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli as camerlengo. In this capacity he acts as pope during the period between the death of one pope and the election of his successor. Pacelli succeeds the late Cardinal Pietro Gasparri, veteran ex-secretary of state.

The consistory likewise is pronounced, or confirmed, the appointment of American and other archbishops the pope has made since the last consistory.

The ceremony over, the pope descended from the throne, extended his ring to be kissed by each cardinal, and then returned to his apartments.

Although the consistory this morning was exactly the same as that in which new cardinals are created, the pope did not increase the membership of the sacred college, lowered by death to the unusually small number of 51. Prelates said His Holiness would summon another consistory shortly for this purpose.

The American archbishops and bishops were:

Mgr. Moses Killey, bishop of Trenton, N. J.; Mgr. Robert E. Lucey, bishop of Amarillo, Tex.; Mgr. William O'Brien, auxiliary bishop to Cardinal Mundelein, Chicago; Mgr. Francis P. Keough, bishop of Providence, R. I.

Mgr. Stephen J. Donahue, auxiliary bishop to Cardinal Hayes, New York; Mgr. Elmer J. Ritter, bishop of Indianapolis; Mgr. Gerald T. Bergan, bishop of Des Moines, Ia.; Mgr. Maurice F. McAuliffe, bishop of Hartford, Conn.

Mgr. James E. Cassidy, Bishop of Fall River, Mass.; Mgr. Raymond A. Kearney, auxiliary bishop of Brooklyn; Mgr. Joseph Francis Bummel, archbishop of New Orleans; Mgr. William M. Griffin, auxiliary bishop of La Crosse, Wis.

The pontiff said the "enormous crime," which he regarded with such abhorrence, would result if "pop once more take up arms one against the other and if once more the blood of brothers is spilled and if destruction and ruin are spread on the earth and in the sea and the sky."

After his presentation of the canonization of the blessed Thomas More and Bishop John Fisher for approval of the cardinals the pope said that despite this reason for profound joy "wherever we turn our eyes to that frightful crisis—economic, political and especially moral—in which humanity is caught, when we consider the consequences still more tragic that one fears for the future, there is indeed reason to be deeply sad."

"However, it is true that while damage from the last European war has not yet been repaired," he continued, "here again the horizon is darkened with thick clouds, pierced by sinister rays—something which keeps mind in suspense and trembling."

"The words of Jesus Christ are recalled to our minds, you shall hear of wars and sedition."

"There will be . . . pestilences and famine and terror from heaven; and there shall be great signs . . . men withering away from fear and expectation of what shall come upon the whole world."

"We are not surprised, therefore," Pope Pius said, "if people in so much consternation and so much confusion of nations turn their eyes from every side to the common Father in order to ask for light, relief and hope."

It was for this reason, said his holiness, that he wished to speak today.

"The pope urged, therefore, 'that the anxiety of the mind repose in this virtue and change into ardent prayer to the Father of infinite mercies in order that better times might finally come to human kind.'"

Jury Disagrees On Methvin Fate

MIAMI, Okla., April 1. (AP)—A. Clark, Ottawa county attorney, pondered today whether to dismiss a murder charge against Henry Methvin, former Texas convict and companion of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, following a district court jury's failure to agree on a verdict last night.

Methvin was charged with killing Constable Cal Campbell of Commerce April 6, 1934.

Twenty-four hours after receiving the case the jurors were called for the third time by Judge Ad V. Coppedge, and the foreman said a 10-2 deadlock apparently was hopeless of being broken.

Whether the majority stood for acquittal or conviction was not reported officially, but a reliable source said it was for acquittal.

Officials were reported considering dropping the charge and surrendering Methvin to Texas or Louisiana to face other accusations.

Parents Held in Honor Slaying

Sound over to the grand jury in Pascagoula, Miss., in the slaying of a long-time friend, Adelbert Ewing, 52, Mrs. Vivian Lucile Payne of Fairfield, O., asserts that she shot him for the alleged betrayal of her daughter, Gladys Mae Kelly, 15, an offense the girl denies. Pictured with Gladys, center, and her mother is her stepfather, the "cowboy evangelist," Rev. J. J. Payne, who also was held.

TEXANS' DOINGS IN WASHINGTON WOULD ALMOST FILL NEWSPAPER

BY DONALD YOUNG.
WASHINGTON, April 1. (AP)—Texas matters and Texans in the house especially, have been before congress so frequently that there is some disposition by those representatives to keep more in the background.

What with oil and cotton, the Lone Star state has been discussed freely on the floor and one member from the southern half of the state prophesied that the Thomas oil bill would not get far in the lower branch of congress for that very reason. Hearings are scheduled in the senate for April 16.

Rep. Patman's leadership in the bonus fight has given him new prominence; Chairman Rayburn of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee had the Connally oil bill on his hands and now the utility holding company proposal, and the rivers and harbors committee headed by Rep. Mansfield recently reported out a bill codifying for the first time in five years improvement projects which seem to have merit.

River development, incidentally, has been before committees of both houses as much as any other subject in which Texans are interested. Senators Shepard and Connally and Reps. Cross and Johnson investigated hearings in their respective branches on a proposed $50,000,000 flood control program on the Brazos river and Rep. West had hearings on two bills affecting the Rio Grande and surrounding territory. Rayburn also has been heard on the proposal to construct a $36,000,000 reservoir on the Red river at Denison.

Almost half of the delegation concerned itself with railroad matters. As hearings began before the communications commission on 18 applications for small stations scattered over Texas, Senator Shepard and Reps. Blanton, Cross, West, Sanders, Thomason, South, and Mahon among others, appeared. An interesting situation arose in the appearance of Blanton. His son, Matthew Blanton, was counsel for interests opposing an application for a 100-watt station at Abilene. When the representative concluded, "Mat" asked only one question on cross-examination. A different situation existed with other witnesses.

Dan Cupid removed a second Texan from the ranks of workers in the capital this week. Bessie Lou Patton, daughter of Rep. Nat Patton of Crockett, was married over the week-end at Towson, Md., and soon started back to Texas with her husband, Joseph A. Legory.

Miss Ann Kopecky, assistant to Rep. Mansfield, was married several weeks ago to John McNamara of New York City.

"Judge" Mansfield has been named chairman of a sub-committee of the house merchant marine committee to revise and codify navigation laws.

Everything Harris of Lubbock surely must believe in the adage that "everything comes to him who waits." Four years ago she took a civil service examination but didn't obtain a position here. About two weeks ago the commission advised her that a place as senior typist had been found in the department of agriculture and she came to Washington without delay. She has been secretary to Durwood Bradley, Lubbock attorney, and Dan Blair, Lubbock district attorney.

Pershing Trumpets Fiery 'Humphs' At Nazi Demands

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1. (AP)—Threats of war and German's new aggressiveness have somewhat disturbed the tranquility of Gen. John Joseph Pershing's winter beneath the Arizona sun.

The commander-in-chief of America's fighting forces in the world war is keeping a wary eye on the present situation "over there" while resting and writing his memoirs.

Piled high on a table in the cottage where he lives at a resort hotel on the desert's edge are copies of newspapers dating back more than two weeks to Adolf Hitler's announcement of Germany's new policies—moves that have alarmed the world.

Morning and afternoon General Pershing eagerly scans the accounts of the fast changing European picture, trumpeting many a fiery "Humph!" as he takes note of new demands which would mean the scrapping of the Versailles treaty.

What does he think of this new threat? Will war result? Will the United States become involved again?

The whole world perhaps would like to know his answers to these questions and others, but he has steadfastly refused to discuss this new peril to world peace. That is, he refuses to "talk for publication."

For brief moments he forgot his restraint and talked freely. But immediately he warned with military sternness:

"Now, you can't publish that, and you must not give it to any one else who will publish it."

"I have very definite ideas about that matter," he explained. "But I can't afford to express them for publication—it would not be right for me to do it."

A moment later, the fire gone from his eyes, the sternness from his still vigorous voice, he added smilingly:

"Yes, I have some very strong ideas—and I'm pretty sure I am right."

In much better health than when he first came here two years ago, General Pershing rides horseback in the desert, motors into the mountains, and visits ghost mining towns, historic forts, archaeological ruins, Indian mounds, old Spanish missions, museums, and dude ranches.

Arthritis, however, still causes the 74-year-old military leader considerable trouble.

Pedley Defeats Texas Rangers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1. (AP)—The hard-riding and lusty wallop of Eric Pedley, eight-goal, internationalist, left his picked California polo quartet one up on the Texas Rangers today.

Pedley outshone the nine-goal Texan Cecil Smith and led his team-mates to an 8 to 7 victory here yesterday in the first contest of a three-game inter-sectional series. Pedley scored a penalty goal in the seventh chukker to knot the score and then rammed in the winner in the final period.

The teams, both of which rate at 27 goals, meet again Wednesday and Sunday.

HOUSE DELAYS ACTION ON TWO TAX MEASURES

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Postponement of house action on administration favored bills to levy a graduated tax on gross receipts of chain stores and to increase the sulphur production tax appeared likely today.

The chain store tax occupied first place on the suspension calendar while the sulphur tax increase was in third place. The departmental appropriation bill, however, was pending business and unless side-tracked no action may be taken on the tax measures.

Pending before the senate was a committee substitute for the badly battered bill to appropriate state funds to aid the Texas Centennial. The bill was widely amended during three days of debate last week.

The finance committee proposed an appropriation of $3,050,000 of which $1,250,000 would be allocated to Dallas, central Centennial site, $750,000 for administration and advertising, $250,000 to equip a memorial museum at the University of Texas, $50,000 for Texas histories and biographies and $750,000 for observances at historic places.

It was identical with a bill passed by the house except for the historical and biographical item.

Oil and gas conservationists indicated speedy action would be sought in the senate on a group of bills, passed last week by the house, to minimize the possibility of federal control.

The bills would re-enact the law permitting proration of oil production to market demand and otherwise strengthen the state's conservation power, to ratify a contract entered into by oil producing states and to end the gigantic wastage of gas in the Panhandle.

The bills would be used to support the argument to be made shortly before a congressional committee by Governor Allred and Ernest O. Thompson, Railroad commission chairman, that Texas can handle its own resources without aid from the federal government.

LINDY FRIEND IS KILLED IN CORPUS CRASH

ONE TIME HOLDER OF GLIDER RECORD IS DEAD

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 1 (AP)—Jack Barstow, former associate of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in glider experiments and one time holder of the national glider endurance record, was killed here yesterday in a spectacular plane collision.

Barstow and his passenger, Jack Cowgill, Corpus Christi newspaper reporter, plunged to their death after their plane looked wings with a ship piloted by Eddie Johnson, manager of the airport here, who was injured in the fall.

The ships collided at a low altitude, broke apart and crashed to the ground, having misled hundreds of spectators who had watched an afternoon of stunt flying.

Barstow, whose father lives in Midland, Mich., was widely known in glider flying and he worked on experiments in that field of aviation with Col. Lindbergh at San Diego, Calif., in 1930.

He formerly held the glider endurance record of 14 hours and 41 minutes and was associated with a glider club in San Diego named in his honor.

Department of commerce officials planned to investigate the spectacular collision, probably arriving here today.

Herbert Baker, assistant manager at the airport, said the planes came together as Barstow, flying a faster plane, came in to turn higher than the ship flown by Johnson.

He said he did not know which ship skidded on the turn but that they looked wings for a moment, damaging both planes so that pilots appeared to be unable to control them.

Baker said that if the planes were racing he did not know it.

Funeral services for the victims were pending. Barstow was married and the father of two children. Cowgill was a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cowgill of San Benito. His body was sent there last night.

Cowgill was a reporter on the Harlingen (Texas) Valley Morning Star before coming to the Call-Times here last November. He attended the University of Texas and the University of Colorado and was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Johnson suffered a broken shoulder and other injuries, and his plane was badly damaged. Barstow's plane was demolished.

LONG ATTACKS PRESIDENT IN RADIO SPEECH

SAYS FDR ONCE HAD PLOTTED TO FORM THIRD PARTY

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—The capital noted with interest today that both Huey P. Long and Father Charles E. Coughlin are now engaged in an intensified effort to build up their organizations. Political observers with eyes on 1936 did not overlook the fact that Senator Long, in a radio speech last night, devoted much of his time to an appeal for support for his share-the-wealth clubs—though he got in a few swipes at the Roosevelt administration.

Now was Father Coughlin's announcement of a new setup for his National Union for Social Justice lost upon them. He disclosed that the membership would be concentrated into state organizations, which would have nationwide radio broadcasts.

With speculation about a third party movement forming the theme of much political discussion, the Louisiana senator brought the subject up last night. He said President Roosevelt himself once had a third party in mind.

"When Roosevelt was making all his promises before his nomination in Chicago and it looked like we would not be able to hold the thing in line, he phones to us that he would run as a third party candidate if he failed to secure the nomination," Long said.

"Now the Roosevelt brigade," Long declared, "is sounding out the cry that they very much fear a third party in the United States."

Bouncing up and down in his chair before the microphone, the senator asserted that after the bank holiday, some good banks were closed and others were opened. "Low down politics," he said, "were used in opening the banks."

Combining an appeal for his share-the-wealth program with an attack on new deal measures, Long said:

"They have posted laws and rules, books and codes over us to make our misery worse; they have hounded us with inspectors, clerks, regulators and bureaucrats to tantalize us in our distress; they browbeat the sick while they go through the death rattle."

"Help us! Help us! I ask you."

ETCC To Stage Pre-Centennial At Henderson

HUNTSVILLE, March 30. (Special)—When the "Big Parade" takes place in Henderson, April 21-23-25, and the East Texas Chamber of Commerce stages its pre-Centennial celebration, Huntsville will be well represented.

A float, representing some scene of historical character is being planned by Prof. Joe L. Clark of Huntsville, who is chairman for Walker county for the Texas Centennial celebrations of 1936. Men and women of Huntsville have been asked to take part in the parade and will be garbed in the costumes of 1836 for the event.

The Sam Houston State Teachers college will send its 30-piece band, under its leader, Prof. N. J. Whitehurst. This band will head the parade and take part in the activities during the three-day session at Henderson.

Reporter Killed In Plane Crash; Five Fliers Die

By The Associated Press.

Six fliers plunged to their deaths in Sunday accidents witnessed by hundreds of spectators.

A plane piloted by Jack Barstow, veteran glider pilot, looked wings with another flown by Eddie Johnson, manager of the Corpus Christi, Texas, airport, and fell a hundred feet away from scores of spectators. Barstow and Jack Cowgill, reporter for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, who was a passenger, were killed. Johnson escaped with only minor injuries.

At De Leon, Texas, a student pilot, Cecil Cook, 20, was burned to death after his plane fell from a low altitude and burst into flames two miles south of the city.

L. W. Abbott, 35, and Claude Morin, 28, were killed when Abbott's monoplane plummeted near an airport at Elmhurst, a few miles west of Chicago. With Abbott at the controls, the ship crumpled 28 feet from a radio transmitting tower.

Experimenting with a glider wing, Floyd Davis, 22, parachute jumper, hurtled 600 feet to death near Flint, Mich., when one of his two parachutes failed in the glider wing attacked to his back. Davis had hoped to use the wing, a four-foot span of fabric, to guide his flight to earth.

GREAT RICHES

by Mateel Howe Farnham

SYNOPSIS: James Stimson, III, has been made head of the distinguished Stimson family in New Concord, Kas., through the death of his grandfather and grandmother. In many ways he is a very lucky boy—although the propensity of the entire town toward planning his career for him is something of a disadvantage. Now his Aunt Sarah has asked him to take some flowers to the cemetery for his grandmother's grave.

Chapter Six
DOUBT

James snatched the violets and fled from the house. Terry, his cocker spaniel, came bounding after him. But Terry had howled and howled the night his grandparents had died. He did not want Terry howling in the cemetery and tearing his heart. He sent him sternly back and took the longest way to the cemetery, walking slowly. Aunt Sarah had never dreamed, of course, how he had fought day and night, especially at night, to forget those two sod-covered mounds.

James had been brought up in a sincerely religious household. Until his grandmother's death he had accepted without question his grandfather's belief in an orthodox Christian heaven. Heaven had been real to his grandmother as California. She had not been there of course, but she knew all about it. But Grandmother, sweet and good as she was, had never been very clever. She just accepted whatever Grandfather said without a word of doubt. If Grandfather had told her the earth was flat and the moon an enormous lantern all the savants who had ever lived could not have convinced her otherwise.

And Grandfather had believed in Heaven, in immortality. Grandfather had been both clever and learned. If Grandfather believed in Heaven there must be a Heaven. Grandfather and Grandmother must be there together . . . happy and radiant and forever safe.

But James could not be certain. It was impossible some way to visit his grandmother as an angel. Grandfather, yes. Grandfather could take his place in any hierarchy. He would look like a Roman senator in a long white robe. Grandmother was different . . . so human. She had so loved the little things of life—her flowers, her pretty silk or dimity blue or lavender dresses, the dainty beaded slippers she bought in Kansas City, a cup of tea before a winter's fire.

James threw himself on the yellow sod of his grandmother's grave and sobbed like a child. He was stung by remembering his grandmother's foolish endearing jealousy of Aunt Sarah. She had never confessed, would have died rather than confess it, but James knew very well that she had been a little afraid that he had loved Aunt Sarah best. He used to tease her sometimes when he came from school by kissing Aunt Sarah first. Oh God, why had he ever teased her?

A little ashamed James finally dried his eyes and placed the violets carefully above where he believed his grandmother's breast to be. He waited for awhile on his knees for the comfort, the feeling of nearness his aunt had promised him. He could feel nothing but the six feet of earth pressing on that gentle breast. He turned and ran from the cemetery. But he could not run from the horror of that dreadful weight.

In the days that followed James was surly, snappish to everyone. And everyone remained incredibly patient and kind. James' eyes would fill with wondrous tears at the kindness even while he shrank from it.

He knew that people were being kind to him because they imagined he was grieving for his grandmother. What would they think if they knew that he was grieving more for himself? Grieving because he could not bear the fear that some day he

Bill of Mahon Asks New Court For Panhandle

WASHINGTON, April 1 (AP)—Creation of a new federal district court, to be known as the northwestern district of Texas, was proposed in a bill drawn today by Representative Mahon (D-Tex.).

"I am opposed to creation of a new judgeship in the present northern district without creation of a new district because the district is so large that it is impracticable to have a separate district and a separate judge," the West Texan said.

"At present, there are two active and one inactive federal judges in the northern district, two of whom live in Dallas and one in Fort Worth."

"I am opposed to selection of an active judge to replace Judge Edward R. Meek at Dallas because I believe the emergency could best be handled by creation of a new district."

Mahon's new district would include the present Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene and San Angelo divisions of the northern district. The area would be bounded by Crockett, Sutton, Monard, Concho, Reagan, Glasscock, Howard, Dawson, Gaines, Eastland, Throckmorton, Stonewall and Childress and the northern and western boundaries of the Texas Panhandle. Whereas 102 counties are in the present northern district, the new district would include 75 counties, with 42 per cent of the present district's population.

FARWEL, April 1 (AP)—Miss Ruby McMillan, only teacher in the State Line common school, is believed to be the "best bossed" person in Farmer county. Although she composes the entire "faculty," the school has the required seven trustees.

More than 80 per cent of all men's shirts, stockings, underwear, neckties and handkerchiefs are purchased by women. Why? Men prefer to have their wives and mothers do the shopping because they realize that women are better shoppers—that they have a sixth sense for qualities and values.

How do women keep themselves informed? They have formed the habit of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. And they read them regularly, whether they want to buy anything or not. ### Salesman Slain, Then Robbed on Edinburg Road

EDINBURG, April 1. (AP)—A bridegroom of a month, Percy A. Calkins, 38, was found shot to death on a lonely road 15 miles north of here Sunday. The Houston salesman had been robbed of his clothing, money and automobile.

"We believe," Sheriff E. E. Vickers said today, "that Calkins was shot by someone to whom he gave a ride. Whoever killed him apparently drove the automobile northward from the Rio Grande valley country."

Descriptions of Calkins' car, a 1933 sedan (Ford), was broadcast by Houston and San Antonio police.

Mrs. Calkins was notified at Houston and immediately left for Edinburg. Mrs. Calkins, the former Elva Cockrell, a Houston photographer, and Calkins were married March 1.

Calkins had left Corpus Christi Saturday for Harlingen. He had little money on his person when he left Corpus Christi, friends said.

His body was found about three miles from the main highway that leads from Palfurrias to Edinburg, a distance of 70 miles over barren country.

The sheriff expressed the opinion Calkins was slain about noon Sunday and his body dumped beside the little used side-road.

NEW YORK, April 1. (AP)—Rallying tendencies in the rails helped to bolster the stock market today, but speculative enthusiasm was dampened by the activity held around its recent low level. Most morning advances were shaded or halved in the final hour. The close was steady. Transfers approximated 460,000 shares.

Lovetts' Porch Yields 3 Pounds Of Kansas Dirt

Thinking he was pulling an April Fool joke on them, a number of Pampans refused to look in a bag carried by Henry Lovett, longtime Pampa resident, this morning but Mr. Lovett was not playing pranks in fact, he almost had a "Believe it or Not" in that harmless looking bag.

The bag in question contained three and one-quarter pounds of dust, grit, grime, or whatever has been blowing over the country in the last few weeks. The dirt was swept from the Lovett porch, which is 8 feet wide and 20 feet long.

Mr. Lovett said it was a new type of dirt. It was as fine as flour and much heavier than Panhandle blow dirt. It was sticky and somewhat darker than soil in this section.

Although Mr. Lovett came to this section of the country in May 1877, settling at Fort Elliott, he said these storms are a new experience for him. It is the first time he can remember dirt sticking where it fell.

raised. The funds would not be available for 18 months under the tax system. Tom Rose approved the levy system as contrasted with public solicitations.

Mr. Curry said that close contact with the citizenship was vital. His opinion was that a separate membership body would prove most popular. Mr. Cullum, announcing that a good will trip to a Skellytown school carnival Friday evening was on this week's program, urged that business men respond when such calls were made for trippers.

Children Starve, German Woman to Have Head Severed

BERLIN, April 1. (AP)—A slim, bobbed-haired 24-year-old mother, Frau Charlotte Juenemann, was sentenced to be beheaded today because she left her three children to starve to death in a cold basement while she squandered relief money in cafes and dancing halls.

Details of the suffering of three babies left unattended for eight days aroused deep indignation of the public which followed her murder trial closely.

Frau Juenemann received the death penalty, fourth of its kind meted out to a woman within six weeks, apathetically. Her husband is in an insane asylum.

"I did not want the children to die," were the young mother's last words during her examination. But police had previously quoted her as saying "I had no time to give the children food and water."

Relief officials found her four-month-old baby and 18-month-old son starved to death in her husband's basement. A third child, aged four, was taken to a hospital, where he died as a result of privation.

Entire Club Gains By Efforts of the Dress Demonstrator

The efforts of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, wardrobe demonstrator of the Pricilla Home Demonstration club, has made it possible for the club women and many others to use their foundation patterns to fit slips better.

Mrs. Shackleton cut the slip patterns in four sizes and carried to a club meeting and demonstrated how they could use one of the patterns and their own pattern and secure a perfect fit.

Mrs. Shackleton displayed a rayon slip she had made for the sum of forty cents.

WOMAN CLAIMS RECORD MOSCOV, April 1. (AP)—Vera Fedoroff, the wife of a red army officer, today claimed the woman's parachute jumping record after an asserted leap of 6,250 meters—20,835 feet—from an airplane near Leningrad yesterday. She made the jump without oxygen apparatus. Mme. Fedoroff was reported to have been in the air 22 minutes after she left the plane.

Miss Jean Murfee, student at the Miss Hockaday school at Dallas, is spending the spring holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murfee. Classes will not resume at the Dallas school until next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adkins of Panhandle visited friends here yesterday.

Pope Condemns 'Impossible War' As 'Foolish Fury'

VATICAN CITY, April 1. (AP)—Pope Pius told a secret consistory of 20 cardinals today that war is "impossible."

He said it was impossible because: "It would be so enormous a crime, such a foolish manifestation of fury."

"We cannot persuade ourselves that those who should have at heart the prosperity and well-being of the people wish to rush to suicide, ruin, and extermination not only their own nation but a great part of humanity."

"To us, as to many others, there is manifest the physical and material impossibility of war in the present most serious circumstance."

Prelates said the allocation was one of the strongest speeches His Holiness has ever made and that his red-hatted audience remained rigid throughout the solemn address.

His gestures, they said, were infrequent, and his delivery was marked by what they described as "terrible calm." They said his eyes, still bright despite the Pope's 76 years, seemed to flash as he spoke.

The pontiff, speaking with tremendous emphasis, said, "We cannot in fact persuade ourselves that those who should have at heart the prosperity and well-being of peoples should be willing to rush to suicide, to ruin and to extermination not only their own nation but a great part of humanity."

If, however, there is someone who wishes to commit "this nefarious crime," then, the holy father said, he could do nothing else than pray to God to "destroy these peoples who desire war."

At this moment, he continued, the "clamor of war is universally diffused and the cause of agitation to all and arouses in everyone the greatest fear."

It is for this reason, he said, he wished to speak today through his apostolic office.

SIX BURNED (Continued from page 1)

W. A. Gill, engine mechanic for the Santa Fe Railroad company here, reported burns on both legs when he attempted to extinguish a blazing carburetor on the motor car which operates between Pampa and Clinton, Okla. Backfire when he attempted to start the motor caused the blaze.

The fire truck was driven down the tracks west of the depot and the blaze was soon extinguished. The west bound Santa Fe passenger train was held up for a few minutes while the fire department was extinguishing the blaze.

Dr. W. Purviance returned yesterday from a business trip to El Paso.

RURAL REHABILITATION TAKING PLACE UNDER RELIEF ACTIVITIES

AUSTIN, April 1.—Rehabilitation of indigent rural families is gaining ground rapidly, according to a compilation of reports of rural home supervisors prepared last week by Mrs. Laura Neale Love, director of home rehabilitation in the rural department of the Texas Relief Commission.

"Reports of rural home supervisors show evidence of activity and progress in all phases of our program," said Mrs. Love in pointing out particular instances of the work being done in behalf of rehabilitation clients.

"The rural home supervisor in Williamson county says that her clients will grow enough pop corn for home use, and she is making her Mexican clients happy by arranging for them to have garlic in their gardens. Sage and chili also will be grown."

"The rural home supervisor in Hood and Somervell counties reports one client having put out grape cuttings, peach trees, plum trees, fig trees, and blackberry bushes. Other clients have baby chickens and setting hens. Quail piecing as a leisure time occupation indicates that her goal for bed covering will be attained."

A typical report of the aid being given clients comes from Mr. Paula Long, rural home supervisor in Comal and Guadalupe counties in describing his first visit to a family after they had been moved into their newly renovated home. "The family looked happier and cleaner, especially the wife, who even apologized for not having a clean house dress on," he said. She showed the housewife how to make a cheap paste with soap and lye for cleaning the walls, how to make a garden pest eradicator from kerosene and laundry soap, means of improvising household utensils, how to run the household on a sound economic budget.

Another supervisor, Mrs. Estelle Trew in Cooke county, found after her third visit to a family that the client had spent much of his time grading a long driveway as an approach to his yard. He built a fence around the yard, leveled it and planted the corners with shrubs. She found the walk lined with jonquils. More jonquils were in the kitchen window, and a bucket of wandering hugg on the porch. A crude desk had been transformed into a kitchen cabinet, and a cupboard built with apple boxes. As evidence of the resourcefulness of the housewife, Mrs. Trew said that "Mrs. C, whose whole wheat flour supply was exhausted, sifted cow feed because she was going to have company and wanted to serve whole wheat bread."

In Denton county feather beds and mattresses have been made from ticking furnished the county by the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation. In Cherokee county the rural home supervisor has shown clients how to make under-mattresses of grass.

The supervisor in Walker and Montgomery counties improved a

Six Millions Is Total of Relief During February

AUSTIN, April 1.—Obligations incurred for relief in Texas during February totaled $6,042,254.85, or less by $196,833.70 than January obligations. It was revealed this week in a summary of February operations released by Adam R. Johnson, state relief director.

Resident relief cases, 270,969 in number and representing 1,111,730 persons, received $3,927,424.63, an average of $14.49 per case. There were 105,184 cases who worked for all the aid they received, while 101,087 received aid entirely in direct orders for food and other necessities. There were 64,711 other cases who received both work relief and direct relief. Expenditures for direct relief amounted to $1,528,381.19; for work relief $2,399,043.44.

Special relief programs brought aid to 46,690 more persons in Texas as follows:

Emergency education, 2,183; expenditure, $108,180.03; per case, $49.55
College student aid, 4,613; expenditure, $62,868.96; per case, $13.62
Transient, 31,746; expenditure, $66,530.70; per case, $2.10
Rural rehabilitation, 7,548; expenditure, $935,702.76; per case, $123.97

These funds are specially earmarked and cannot be spent for resident relief purposes. These programs hiked total relief grants for the month to $5,100,697.08.

Administrative costs during February included all non-relief salaries and other obligations, amounting to $486,465.84, or 8.22 per cent of total obligations. This is exactly the same administrative cost as was reported for January. It amounts to $1.87 for each relief case.

Project supervision, including materials purchased, rental and service charges and non-relief salaries, amounted to $279,556.62.

Material for production of goods cost $101,485.20, and processing commodities in commercial plants cost $64,011.31.

Average number of persons per case in February was 4.1.
