Over 50% of eligible voters in Borden County went to the polls Saturday to cast their votes in the Democratic and Republican primaries.

In the two locally contested races, both incumbents were defeated. County Clerk Doris Rudd lost to Dorothy Browne by a narrow margin. The final tally was Rudd - 191, Browne - 206.

Mrs. Rudd has held the office of County Clerk in Borden Co. for 22 years, defeating five opponents in that time.

Ed Rinehart defeated County Commissioner Van York by an even narrower margin of 70 to 59. This vote was tied in the absentee box of precinct 4, 7 to 7. Rinehart carried the other two boxes, North Gail and Snellings by a small majority.

County Judge Jim Burkett ran unopposed. Other county races unopposed were Co. Commissioner Precinct 2, Larry Smith; Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2, Carolyn Stone; and County Treasurer, Don Cox.

The unofficial county returns by boxes for those mentioned above reads as follows:

County Follows State Lead

Borden County followed the state lead in the U. S. Senatorial race between Joe Christie and Bob Krueger by giving Krueger a large majority of 201 to Christie's 136. Krueger will be opposed by Republican Senator John Tower in the general election.

Dusty Rhodes carried the county handily in the U.S. Representative race in the 17th District with 178 votes. Following the district trend, the second contender in this 7 man race was Stenholm with 75, followed by Baum 67, Godfrey 24, Sharp 12, Snowden 6 and McCullough 4. Although Rhodes carried the district, he did not have a majority. This forces a run-off between Rhodes and

Opposes Referendum

Both referendums on the Democratic ballot failed to pass statewide as well as in Borden County.

Failing to pass by a large majority was the referendum proposed by some legislators to increase small loan interest rates. Not one in thirty-one West Texas counties voted FOR this referendum. Unofficially it failed to pass state-wide by approximately 10 to 1. Borden County vote was 20 for, 324 against.

In the non-binding referendum to permit pari-mutual betting in Texas, the county return was 169 for, 184 against. This is close to the margin held state wide.

Lack of an overwhelming defeat may imply prospects for a future victory, according to the Texas Horse Racing Assoc.

Gail FHA

The Executive Council of the Future Homemakers of America, Gail Chapter, met in final session April 27, 1978. The Council enjoyed a pizza luncheon. Officer pins were distributed and the past year was discussed and evaluated. The officers discussed the Bi-Centennial project, the Book, 1976 GREATEST THING SINCE 1776, which has been a four year project. They voted to spend the profit made on the project to put home carpeting in the living room of the Home Economics Dept. Mrs. Kountz, advisor, commended the officers for their outstanding work and leadership during the past year.

The last FHA meeting for 1978 was held April 27 at 1:30 p.m.

This group of sophomores have worked on this project for two school years. The purpose of this program was to alert other FHA chapters of the importance of wanting Healthy Babies. The group made tapes and are going to send them to other chapters throughout the country.

After the program, the members returned to the Homemaking Department to reveal Big and Little Sisters. Everyone was surprised to find that who they thought could be their little sister really wasn't.

In closing, Lesa Barnes stated that since this was our last meeting for the year, she thought it would be appropriate to commend Mrs. Kountz by a round of applause for her inspiration and leadership through another very successful year of FHA work.

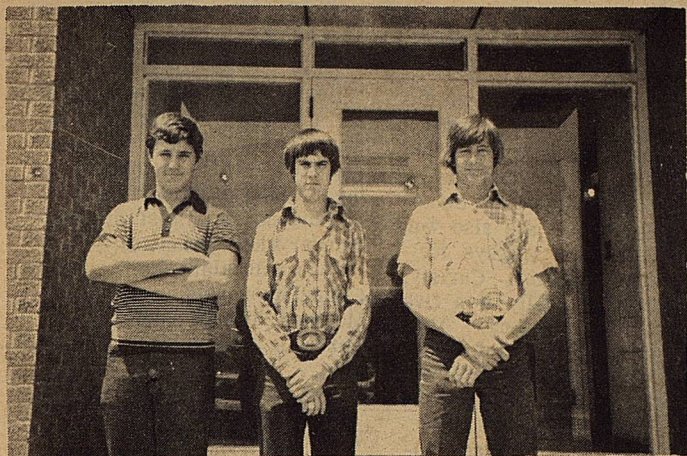

Mrs. Kountz presented a gold torch to Lesa Hensley, symbol for the Bobbie Briggs Encounter award. Lesa received this award in absenteeism at the State Meeting. Mayme McLaury and Suzanne Walker gave a summary of their trip to the State FHA Meeting in Dallas.

Wonder how much energy it took for the President to fly in Air Force I all the way to Colorado to take a sun bath? Imagine the embarrassment, though, when he stepped off the plane prepared to celebrate the first Sun Day and found a cold, bleak day in May. In fact, most of the so called Sun Belt was cloudy, rainy and even snowy on that supposed to be bright energy giving day. Maybe there is a lesson there that you can't legislate or buy the sun god.

Sun Day kinda peeves me. It seems James Earl is flying off in a westerly direction seeking his own place in the sun. The energy policy is not off the ground as yet. And even if it soars, the recently passed compromises are not what the media cracks them to be. Not anything the government has proposed or done in the field of energy has expanded production. The whole scheme is anti-production and I think the President may be realizing this. So he flies toward the sun in the hopes of harnessing it—thereby freeing his people from the strangle hold held over US by the OPEC nations. It seems I've read that the last time anyone attempted to harness the sun, his wings melted off.

The environmentalists are all jumping around doing sun dances. They think it is justifiable to spend $500 billion to launch huge satellites way up in the sky. These giant solar gatherers would hover around and around planet earth sending sun beams back to US. Look kids—that amount of money is the same as the whole rid-icious U.S. budget. The environmentalists never have been known for their common sense but they now must be convinced that money replaces itself just as solar energy does—when the sun shines, that is.

I'm all for research and development of energy sources. My complaint is that government (due to the environmentalists, in part) has all but dried up research, development and production of the cheapest and most readily available form of energy—oil and gas. Private money isn't available. And yet we have a government who thinks nothing of spending vast sums to develop a costly source of energy. Yes, we need alternatives. But let's free a goodly sum to produce what we know is there and producible. And in the meantime explore ways of harnessing the sun and providing nuclear power. The lead time for production of solar/nuclear energy is said to be seven years. It must again become economical for those in the oil, gas and coal industries to provide US with energy in those seven or more years. Knowing the government, it will take them a lot longer to gather the sun beams than it would a freed economy.

Proclamation Signed

The United States' annual loss of five million acres of rural land to non-agricultural use was a special concern during this year's celebration of Soil Stewardship Week April 30-May 7, W. L. Wilson, Jr., chairman of the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District announced today.

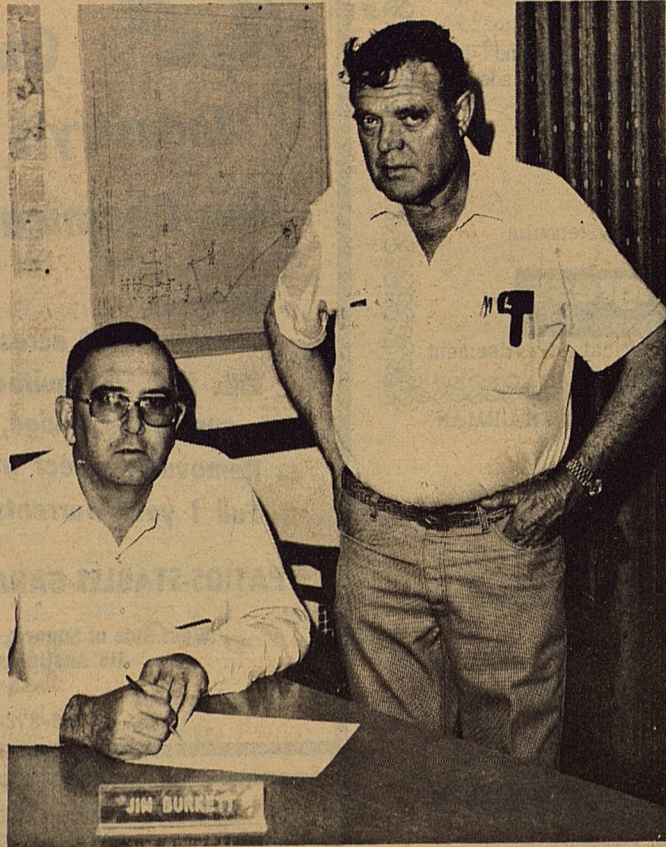

This year's Soil Stewardship Week theme, "Compelling Ventures," also stressed the importance of controlling water pollution caused by run-off from unprotected farms, ranches, roadsides, and construction sites Wilson added.

Soil Stewardship Week is a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources. Traditionally, churches and local citizen's groups participate.

"Nearly 3,000 conservation districts throughout the U.S. focussed their attention upon conserving and preserving America's best farmlands during this 24th annual observance of Soil Stewardship Week," Wilson said. "The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that of the five million acres annually lost to agriculture, nearly one million acres are classed as 'prime' land -- the best and most productive land we have. We are encouraging the preservation of these top-quality farmlands for farming rather than their indiscriminate use for housing developments, highways, shopping centers, and the like."

Members of the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation Districts Soil Stewardship Committee included Carl Williams and Leon Sterling, district directors and Rev. David Robertson, First United Methodist Church; Rev. Miller Robinson, Colonial Hill Baptist Church and Rev. Thomas Jordan, Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church.

County Judge JIM BURKETT signed a proclamation designating April 30 - May 7 as Soil Stewardship Week in Borden County. Looking on is W.L. Wilson, Jr., Chairman of the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation Districts Board of Directors.

Judges Proclamation

WHEREAS, the well-being of each individual depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil; and

WHEREAS, the quality and quantity of these producers depend upon the conservation, wise and proper management of the soil and water resources; and

WHEREAS, each individual has a mutual interest in the land and shares the responsibility of preserving its productivity; and

WHEREAS, the contributions being made by Soil and Water Conservation Districts throughout Texas continue to improve the soil resources and make this county a better place to live; and

WHEREAS, the Soil and Water Conservation Districts are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week in an effort to impress upon all individuals the importance of Caring for God's resources;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Jim M. Burkett, County Judge of Borden County, do hereby designate the week of April 30-May 7, 1978 as Soil Stewardship Week in Borden County, Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 17th day of April, 1978.

Museum Opens Saddle shop

Snyder -- There's a new saddle shop in the Scurry County Museum. It's right across the "street" from the blacksmith shop and just down from the bank, a ways north of the beginning of the oil patch.

The saddle shop is part of a larger exhibit which depicts the growth of communities in Scurry County. Both the revamped community section and the oil exhibit will be opened officially to the public for the first time on May 7, and area residents have a special invitation for the opening.

The Scurry County Historical Commission will join the Museum Association in welcoming visitors from 1 - 5 o'clock and refreshments will be served.

The Scurry County Museum, located on the campus of Western Texas College is open each week day and each Sunday afternoon and there is no admission charge.

The county was one of a minority to ally themselves with Governor Dolph Briscoe, defending the Governorship against Attorney General John Hill. Briscoe received 182 votes as opposed to Hill's 164. Former Governor Preston Smith ran a weak third with 33 votes. State wide, Hill defeated Briscoe by more than 150,000 votes.

In the state Senate race for the 28th District Don Workman carried Borden County by a large majority with 204 votes. Closest to Workman in the field of five was former Senator E.L. Short with 80 votes in the county. The margin was narrowed in this race throughout the district, necessitating a run-off in June.

State Representative Mike Ezell ran unopposed as did James Binion, member of State Board of Education.

Hi!

-Did the primary go to suit you? If you didn't vote, don't gripe.-

-Tip on saving money: Just forget from whom you borrowed it.-

-If we learn by doing things, a lot of people are going to keep on being ignorant.-

-Most people don't need to be led into temptation - they usually find their own way.-

-Why don't we jump at opportunities as quickly as we jump to conclusions?-

-Don't resent growing old - many are denied the privilege.-

-----just in case it ever comes up in a conversation

-----In 1700 it took 186 men to harvest and thresh sixty acres of wheat in one ten hour day. By 1900, seven men did the same job. Today, it takes one man. (Ed. Note) And two bankers, and a lawyer, and an accountant, and two friends in high places in Washington.

"There's nothing else like it."
"Fly control with IGR costs about a cent-and-a-half per day for a cow. Total cost, including minerals, is about 3¢ per head daily."
"With IGR Minerals, around-the-clock horn-fly control on 100 cows costs about $1.50 per day."
"Compare the cost of roundup, spray, weight loss and spraying time for 100 cows each 10 days to the $15 it'll cost to control flies with IGR."
"Even if you spray every 10 days, new horn flies keep hatching out of the untreated manure. It's a never-ending cycle."
"With IGR, you don't have to worry about when to spray or that a rain will wash off the spray."
"Spraying for horn flies temporarily removes the symptom. It isn't a 'cure'. Feeding IGR relieves the symptom by providing the 'cure'.
"It works."
"No need to worry about horn flies all season. That's peace of mind."
"IGR isn't a poison. It is a totally new concept in the control of horn flies without harming beneficial insects, wildlife or the environment."
"The active ingredient 'tricks' the horn-fly pupa into remaining a pupa until it dies without poison."
