Negotiations Opened; Problem Tabled

HERE IT GOES — Peggy Lewis firing a long one for the Mulettes. The girls dropped the game to Friona 46-61.

REACHING — Steve Young (30) reaching for the ball as it goes in for two against Muleshoe. The two points were of little help however. The Mules Scalped the chiefs 62-37.

Mules Scalp Chiefs; Squaws Get Them Back

By DAVID JONES
Mules scalp Chiefs 62-37 to raise their District record to 3-2. Robert Seagroves led the Mules to victory with 24 points and aggressive rebounding. Jimmy Sneed got 11 points for Friona.

From the 1st quarter the Mules set the pace by getting an easy 12-5 lead. After that the game was never in doubt as the Mule's offense pumped the buckets for 27 points as their stingy defense held Friona to an hard-earned 19 during the second half.

C. J. Spence and Don Murray tossed in several key buckets from the outside during the 1st half and Steve Young was aggressive on the rebounds. Robert Seagroves crammed the ball late in the 3rd quarter for the enjoyment of the fans.

The Mulettes fell behind in the 3rd quarter to lose to Friona 46-41. Dianne Chappell led the Mulettes with 21 points while Charlotte Nettles got 24 for Friona.

Vehicle Tags Now On Sale Locally

Automobile registration plates went on sale Saturday. County Tax Assessor-Collector Dess Stafford announced this week.

Bailey County car license for this year begin at 6700 and go through 9999. Prefix letters are BK and BL from 10 through 625.

Stafford said her office also had on hand a supply of pamphlets issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety that explain in brief recent changes in the Safety Responsibility Law that went into effect the first of the year.

Each motorist will be given one of the pamphlets when he purchases his car plates, she said. Numerous changes have been made in the law, and to help the motoring public become familiar with the new provisions, the tax office is making the pamphlet available to the drivers of the county.

Medical Meet

The Four County Medical Society held its meeting in Muleshoe this week.

The buffet dinner affair featured a technical speech by Dr. R. D. Smith, Lubbock bone surgeon and was hosted by Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Dean.

Approximately 28 persons attended the four county affair. Bailey, Lamb, Hockley and Cochran Counties were represented, according to Dr. Dean.

Licenses plates for 1964 are black with white numerals and letters in contrast to those for 1963 which were the reverse.

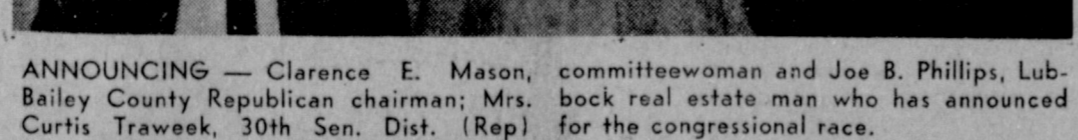

Joe Phillips Mounts Muleshoe Bandwagon

Joe B. Phillips, longtime Lubbock real estate man, has announced that he would be a Republican candidate, subject to the May 2 primary, against U. S. Rep. George H. Mahon of the 19th Congressional District. He made the announcement in Muleshoe and Lubbock on the same day.

Mahon, also of Lubbock, has no announced opposition in the Democratic primary. He said earlier he would seek his 16th consecutive term in Washington.

Phillips is the son and grandson of a pioneer South Plains family. His grandparents moved to Floyd County in 1901.

Poll Tax Receipts Sale To Surpass Last Total

Although the poll tax deadline was too late for the Journal to obtain a complete count, it is expected that the number of receipts issued in Bailey County will be the largest in history.

At deadline County Tax Assessor-Collector Dess Stafford's office had sold a total of 2,125 receipts. The Muleshoe Jaycees have sold 160, and expected to sell 25 or 30 more. Harvey Bass has sold over 60 and expects five or six more before the deadline. Mrs. W. B. Kittrell has sold 14.

These amounts give Bailey County a total of 2,355 receipts sold. However, there were seven or eight other persons and organizations selling receipts which we were unable to contact.

Dess Stafford stated she felt sure the county would better the last total of 2,512. She bases her statement on the amount of poll tax already sold this time as compared with the number sold last time.

D.W.I.

Sam Quentin Jones was sentenced to three days in jail and fined $100 in county court last week on charges of D.W.I. His drivers license will be suspended for six months. Jones' name was inadvertently left out of last week's court action list.

The lead item on the agenda of the county commissioners court meeting Friday never got to the floor.

The highway department will plan its work so that wells and crops in the area will not be affected until well after harvest time. The message was delivered to the commissioners by Lawrence McGee, area engineer for the state department.

The commissioners were to discuss and possibly work out a plan which might possibly cure the triangle like farm labor contract problem.

The commissioners also met with Jim Sharp, Plainview attorney who will represent the county in the $196,000 land damage suit brought against it as a co-defendant.

The matter was tabled until Feb. 10th when Commissioner Eubanks failed to show up for the meeting. There was a quorum present. Under Texas state law a quorum present makes any majority vote legal and binding.

In tabling the discussion, County Judge Glen Williams stated he felt it the proper thing to do "Since this is a county-wide matter". It is possible Eubanks failed to attend the meeting because of the death of a friend.

The commission then went on to other county business, which was the opening of negotiations for the purchase of 11 tracts of land as right-of-way for Highway 84.

Three of the eleven tracts owners had been contacted previously. Eight were involved in opening negotiations Friday.

One of the many problems facing the commissioners in attempting to purchase the necessary land was ironed out during the meeting when the highway department stated it would give full

White's Cashway Grocery announced Friday it has in prospect a major remodeling and enlargement made possible by the acquisition this week of adjoining property.

Thurman White, owner, stated that an additional 100 ft. of Main street frontage was purchased in two tracts from Jess Osborn and Myron Pool, II. This will give the downtown grocery well over a quarter of a block of land, measuring 175 Ft. wide and 146 ft. deep.

The firm, established in Muleshoe over 20 years ago, has moved twice in past years to acquire more space. In its present location the last 12 years, Cashway had sought for some time to acquire land for expansion.

More shopping space and convenience are emphasized in the plans, including a large black-topped parking area.

Further details will be announced later.

Eddie Lane was re-elected president of the Credit Union when the new board of directors met to organize. Frank H. Ellis was elected vice-president; J. M. Forbes was re-elected secretary and treasurer. Eugene English was re-elected membership officer.

Dallas Consultant Speaks For Teachers On Bulletin Board Use

Marie Sybert, Dallas consultant for Practical Drawing, spoke to more than 45 teachers in local schools and guests Thursday from 4 to 6 p.m. in Muleshoe Junior High School study hall.

Although she calls herself "just plain Jane" she is a very colorful person and delivers her ideas and useful hints on what to do with materials and bulletin boards with much enthusiasm, spiced with clever comments.

Mrs. Sybert has traveled extensively, speaking for Garden Clubs, Home Demonstration Clubs, Church Bible schools, hospitals, public schools, and many other places where the art of handwork is used constructively, for entertainment, or for teaching. She has appeared on Woman's World T. V. show and others, and has conducted a Christmas show for the Dallas Garden Club for many years.

In her bulletin board demonstrations, the consultant pointed out such facts and making the bulletin board attractive, well balanced and how to utilize all the space. Dimensional items placed properly on the board held the attention of the guests, therefore proved to be an effective way to hold the attention of pupils while teaching a bulletin board class.

Many new materials for school the art of making use of seemingly useless items.

Mrs. Sybert brought with her a tremendous amount of articles which could be made or used in teaching.

In relating her most recent experience, which she said would be added to her collection of "unforgettables" was the experience of trying to get across "the border" back into Texas from Clovis where she conducted a two-day workshop.

At the conclusion of her engagement there, she called the same truck line that had transported her material from Dallas to Clovis and was told they could not bring the material back into Texas "due to a long series of reasons which I never did understand." After the initial shock, I called other trucking concerns and met with the same story." Deciding I was really stranded, I called Mrs. John Watson, who was responsible for arranging my long-awaited trip to Muleshoe to tell her that I could not get back into Texas. She quickly got Mr. Neal Dillman on the phone and he very calmly told me that he would come for me. So, as simple as all that I'm here with my deepest gratitude to your Superintendent of Schools.

Muleshoe teachers plan a Fall workshop to be conducted by Mrs. Sybert.

A. J. Gardner's Condition Serious

A. J. Gardner, Muleshoe assistant postmaster, is in Lubbock Memorial Hospital where he underwent exploratory surgery Wednesday afternoon.

The operation had been scheduled earlier, however was postponed pending the arrival of a brother, Dr. Aylesworth Gardner, Eugene, Oregon, who was enroute to Lubbock.

Gardner, a long-time Muleshoe resident, is reported to be in serious condition.

The Gardner family is staying at The Country Inn, Room 5, Lubbock.

WICHITA FALLS

Mrs. T. R. White returned Thursday from Wichita Falls where she visited with her brother, E. A. Platt.

Platt recently underwent surgery and is recuperating at his home there.

Banquet Attended By Large Crowd

A large crowd attended the Lion's Club Ladies Night Banquet held in American Legion Hall Thursday.

Lion Cecil Tate gave the invocation and Tye Young lead the group as they sang "America". Susan Birdsong was pianist.

L. E. Lefty) Ross was the featured speaker.

Ross, president of the Quannah Lion's Club, spoke on the benefits of Lionism.

Guests were Mrs. L. E. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gustin, Mrs. Joe Bates Jennings, Mrs. Charles Alsop, Mr. and Mrs. Don Kemp and Miss Magann Lamb.

Pins were presented to Lions who had a perfect attendance record for a year or more to a number of members.

She introduced many new items to be available this year.

Muleshoe Woman's Father Is Hilton Hotel's Super Salesman

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a story written by Dorothy Sandler and published in the Daily American Weekly. Richard Mazzarini is the father of Mrs. Karl Freyer and he and Mrs. Mazzarini are visiting here in the Freyer home at this time. The publication was sent to Mrs. Sam Damron by her brother who is in Europe.

By DOROTHY L. SANDLER

Richard Mazzarini can sell airlines and huge hotel chains with the greatest of ease. As Hilton director of sales for Europe and the Middle East, based in Rome's Cavalieri Hilton, Mazzarini — an American who was born in this city of an English mother and an Italian father — coordinates the sales activities of the presently operating ten Hilton hotels in the area.

With 32 years of airline experience behind him — equally divided between Pan American and TWA — he joined Hilton in March 1962 after resigning as vice president of TWA International sales development in New York.

"Except for the product," he says, "the airline and hotel business are exactly the same. One flies and the other stays still. Planes have seats; hotels have beds."

Working with the same market, Mazzarini's needs are simple: "All I want is a good hotel, so I can sell it." All he used to want was a good plane so he could sell it.

And he does, and he did. Dick Mazzarini's flair for high-level super-salesmanship has much to do with his organizational and executive ability which, combined with his all-round personal like-ability, have been proven through his long career.

At the end of World War II and three years with OSS, he received that very unique award, the Medal of Freedom, from President Truman.

In part, the citation read: "Disability in coordinating the efforts of more than 500 agents in liberated and enemy-occupied Italy. Directed the work of intelligence agents behind the lines. . . Profound sense of duty, keen intelligence, capacity to enlist an unusually loyal support from his staff. . ."

Last summer, Mazzarini organized a Hilton sales blitz which covered all of Europe. His program involved all of the ten individual hotel sales managers, who met with him in London. They then spread out and made calls on the principal travel agents and airlines in the United Kingdom, France, the Benelux countries, Western Germany, Switzerland, Austria and Italy. His promotion succeeded in its attempt to saturate Europe with a knowledge of the existence of the hotels, spread the corporate image of Hilton, and obtained immediate business from the 2,000 accounts covered.

The mileage consumed by some of the sales managers ("I've come from Tenra to see you. . .") was an impressive psychological factor.

In addition to coordinating and stimulating sales activities to ward greater production (i.e., customers), Mazzarini heads Hilton "off line offices" in Geneva, Zurich, Bayreuth and Frankfurt, places in which there is no hotel, but where the market is important.

On the road himself some 20 days out of each month, Mazzarini is a busy man.

ini, in addition to normal hotel accommodations, sell four programs, banquets, and facilities for international conventions, with which all Hilton hotels are equipped (simultaneous translation facilities, audio-visual equipment, etc.).

And he is busily engaged in selling Hilton hotels around the world with emphasis on the "Visit USA" program, working closely with the United States Travel Service.

As for conventions, last September saw some 3,400 medics from all over the world descending on Rome in a gathering of the Society of Surgery combined with the International Cardio-Vascular Society.

An average of 1,800 attended daily meetings at the Cavalieri Hilton. Its 400 hotel rooms overflowing, other Roman hotels had a busy and profitable time.

Mazzarini has been decorated many times by the Italian government, is a member of the Order of the Knights of Malta, and is on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce for Italy.

He joined Pan American when he first arrived in New York in 1929, and became an American citizen four years later. He had grown up and was schooled in Rome, where most of his mother's friends were American.

A stint in the visa department of the U. S. Consulate, in addition to the political situation, convinced him he would "do better" in the U. S.

His work with Pan Am was in the development of air cargo, with successive promotions in position in that pioneer endeavor. On leave of absence during the war, he joined TWA in 1945, and came to Rome as district sales manager and assistant to the chairman of the board. He not only organized TWA's first operation here, but also helped to organize LAL, in which TWA had a 40 per cent interest, and which ultimately merged with Alitalia.

In 1953, Mazzarini was transferred to Paris as vice president of sales for Europe until 1959, when he went to New York.

Mazzarini is married to the former Beryl Mennell of New York.

$200,000 Statue Found In Back Yard

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP) — While that famous outdoor girl the Statue of Liberty, stands out in freedom's air at the entrance of New York Harbor, her smaller sister remains a shut-in.

The 3-foot-high bronze sister statue, one of two smaller ones, served as original model for the work of sculpto Augustus F. Bartholdi.

Now reposing in a Buena Park bank vault, the statuette is nestled in a carpet-lined box and visited occasionally by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lakatos.

The Lakatoses didn't know just who they had in the family until early this year when they removed a coat of battleship gray paint from a "replica" that had been kicking around their back yard for years.

Finding Bartholdi's name engraved on the statue's base, they took it to an art appraiser who told them what they had — a piece now valued for insurance purposes at $200,000.

"It isn't right for a girl that pretty to be shut up away from people," Lakatos lamented. "But I just haven't decided what to do with her."

Representatives of the Smithsonian institution have asked several times recently about placing the statue on display in Washington, D. C., Lakatos said.

"But all my friends are trying to persuade me to keep her here on the West Coast. The East has its statue on Liberty Island and the West should have one out here, they feel."

Just how the statuette got from the U. S. Patent Office in 1876 to the Lakatos back yard in 1948 remains a mystery.

"Perhaps the Patent Office got cluttered and officials auctioned the statue off sometime after Bartholdi gave it to them," the owner theorized.

A similar statue, made later, is in safekeeping in New York, Lakatos added.

Yarborough In Washington

Dear Fellow Texans:

President Lyndon Johnson has submitted both his economic report and the proposed national budget for fiscal 1966 to Congress.

The economic report showed that in three years of growth the nation has gained $100 Billion in its gross national product with the total going from $300 Billion to $600 Billion in that three years.

In these three years we have had economic stability. Unemployment is still the number one economic problem in this country, despite the general high prosperity.

The economic report is a dramatic reminder, with its proof of unemployment, that a tax reduction is badly needed to continue expansion, and, if possible, to speed it up.

Otherwise, where is the hope for the 36 Million Americans who live in a relative state of poverty? When one out of every five Americans fights a grim battle for physical existence, action is demanded.

In his call for a federal government budget expenditure of $97.9 Billion for the fiscal year 1965, the President has reduced the 1965 budget by $900 Million under the 1964 budget.

Much of this reduction is in defense spending, or fields closely related to national security.

Most of the reductions were in this field because 61 cents of every tax dollar goes for national security. Of this 61 cents, 44 cents is spent for national defense; four cents out of every dollar for the space program; two cents for international affairs; and seven cents out of every dollar for fixed interest charges on the public debt, mostly from old defense spending.

This leaves 39 cents of your tax dollar which is divided: four cents for agriculture; 24 cents for Social Security and other trust funds; and 11 cents for all other government costs such as the courts, the executive, the Congress and the various departments and agencies.

Despite defense cost-cutting, in the past three years we have achieved a 100 percent increase in nuclear weapons; a 60 percent increase in nuclear forces in Western Europe; a 45 percent increase in combat-ready army divisions; a 35 percent increase in Air Force fighter squadrons; a 75 percent increase in air lift capability.

This, in brief, Fellow Texan, is what your tax dollars will be spent for under the new budget.

Interplanting Cotton; Sorghum Increases Yields Up To 50%

LUBBOCK — Increased cotton production, improved quality, and a big boost to profits is the enthusiastic story told by Frank Moore of Plainview in describing the results from three years of interplanting grain sorghum with cotton in Hale county.

The six-row interplanting pattern runs two cotton — one blank, across the field. In comparison with yields from solid plantings the system has increased cotton production by 50 percent and grain sorghum production by 40 percent, with a cotton micronaire average a full point above the either solid or simple skip-row system.

"This yield increase for cotton came under conditions where wind and sand damage were not a factor" Moore explains, adding that "when wind and sand damage enters the picture production figures can be doubled by interplantings." This is assuming that the two crops are planted at the same time in order to allow cotton to get maximum protection from the faster-growing sorghum.

To emphasize the importance of this protection, Moore related that the only April cotton he was able to save under the extreme weather conditions of 1963 was cotton planted in this manner.

Micronaire average on interplanted cotton in 1963 averaged 4.3 as compared to a 3.3 average for cotton from a simple skip-row pattern. The secret to the higher micronaire is in the overall maturity of the crop induced by higher growing season temperatures and the early season aid to growth furnished by wind and sand protection. To get maximum benefits from the temperature factor, Moore irrigates only between planted rows, leaving blank rows dry. By not applying 58 degree irrigation water to the blank rows they are allowed to absorb and retain more of the heat from full sunlight. This heat is then radiated around plants at night, helping to keep ground level temperature up to the desirable 70 degrees or above. Also, the protection of the grain sorghum helps to keep the wind from dissipating the available heat.

With only one post-planting irrigation, interplanting helped Moore to produce 74.8 bales from 35 acres with only 12 light spot and one full spot bales in the lot. Only two days were required to water the plot with one eight inch well, constituting a big saving in water expense.

The High Plains Research with developing the interplanting system under the direction of Delbert Langford, is continuing crop climate studies to determine the effects of temperature on growing cotton with the aid of a $5,000 grant from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. These studies are under the direction of Dr. Arthur Gohlke.

Moore began using the Research Foundation's findings on interplanting in 1961, with only 100 acres involved, and has interplanted 500 acres both in 1962 and 1963 with good results. He plans to plant over 1200 acres to this system in 1964, and believes that widespread use of the system could substantially increase the total High Plains cotton production, perhaps as much as 50 percent.

During spring training the Yankees will play two night games at their Fort Lauderdale base. They meet the Dodgers under lights on April 6 and the Senators on April 10.

ment has effected the sales adversely. They mentioned the prevalence of such comments as, "Well, all I care about is the national election."

At the present time there is no accurate estimate of how many non-paid tax receipts will be issued here.

County Democratic Chairman Harvey Bass has worked out a plan to handle both paid and non-paid voters in the election. Unless he receives other instructions, the system will use the two separate ballot method. One ballot will be marked "local and State Elections" and the other National Election.

The plan will necessitate an extra set of ballot counters, but will probably need only one judge, according to Bass.

Misfit Drop Outs

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has come in for criticism from time to time, and frequently with more than a modicum of justification, for the cavalier way in which it dispense Uncle Sam's money on seemingly frivolous or needless projects and programs.

We cannot quarrel, however, with a number of modest grants it recently announced to finance research in the problem of school drop-outs.

There is ample evidence in the files of employment agencies, welfare institutions and police departments to suggest that delinquency, social maladjustment and poverty are linked intimately with lack of education.

Dark Horse

Some Republicans leaders, believing President Johnson invincible in the South, are said to be abandoning Sen. Barry Goldwater for 1964 and looking for a Kennedy-type liberal to appeal to the big states — an area where the GOP believes Johnson vulnerable.

(According to the latest Gallup Poll, Johnson holds a 4-to-1 lead over Goldwater in the South. Johnson is the choice of 78 per cent of the Southern voters to 19 per cent for the Arizona senator.)

There is word from communications sources in New York that maximum exposure of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania has been firmly scheduled in news and pictures magazine and on radio and television.

When asked about this, some Republican Party spokesman responded with "no comment".

Someone has said that life, for the average boy of today, is a high-stakes poker game requiring a college degree for operators. That may be stretching things a little, for there are those not qualified for collage who can still make a success for themselves in manual arts.

But anything less than a high school education poses an almost insurmountable handicap in these days and times and it's not strange the misfit ratio is high among those without it. Thus any study aimed at trying to prevent elementary and high school drop-outs is very worthwhile undertaking.

The word from New York suggests Eastern GOP leaders believe Johnson can be beaten in the big states by a Kennedy-type from the Kennedy generation.

Prior to Dallas, this group entertained little hope of defeating Kennedy; many had been willing to give the right wing its filing with Goldwater.

Believed to be favorable to Scranton for the nomination (among others) is former President Eisenhower, a great admirer of the Pennsylvania governor.

Just before the former chief executive left for a California vacation, he held a long, private discussion with Scranton.

Like Goldwater, he is indeed more modest about his chances than his supporters and rather inclined to wait and see.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Many boaters, particularly motors from the water at the first real cold snap of fall and don't put them back again until the warming weather of early spring. For several months the motors are inactive. Usually they are put away with no thought as to maintenance.

And then the boaters wonder why the motors don't run as smoothly as they did when they were retired for the winter.

Probably the most common mistake is to store a gas tank half full of fuel. Over the inactive time, this fuel goes bad. It still will run, mind you, but the old fuel causes a varnish-like substance to form inside the tank, and the old fuel will clog fuel pumps and carburetors.

With a little pre-storage care, the motor will run as good as new come spring. This maintenance doesn't take long, but it might save you many dollars in unnecessary repairs.

When you get ready to take your motor out for the winter, first warm it up in the water, while still on the boat, and remove the cooling. Put the motor in neutral and disconnect the line. Then, while the engine is idling, inject storage seal (available at your outdoor motor dealer) into the carburetor air intake. As the carburetor starts to run dry, apply an extra liberal dose. This method will effectively distribute the seal throughout the crankcase.

Now remove the motor from the transom, being careful to keep it upright until all water has drained from the driveshaft gasoline around in the tank, to remove all oil deposits. Leave the tank open until all excess fuel evaporates.

If you don't want to go to this much work, take your motor to your outdoor dealer and let him make the necessary maintenance. In the long run it will be much cheaper than if you have to take it back to him in the spring, after nature has had a chance to take its toll.

The North American Look

Once upon a time every Cinderella from Spokane to Tokyo wanted to look like a Parisian. Today the picture is changing. The North American Look is gaining ground—even in Paris!

The Look, strongly supported by American women who like casual, easy-to-live-with clothes, recently received a boost from the North, where the Ontario, Canada, Department of Economics and Development sponsored a "Trade Crusade" showing of the Look, interpreted by Toronto, Ontario, fashion houses.

Using light-weight wools, furs and tartans as their basic tools, the Canadian designers showed off office clothes to neglectees—and adopted the slash-sided tunic as their own.

A group of below-12 models appeared in midday-tunics, slash-sided, worn over full skirted dresses—party dresses with foot-deep inset embroidery, and pleated easy-waisted skirts with demure full-sleeve blouses.

For Madame on a chill spring day there were soft fur vests, straight-sided North American ponchos worn over slacks, short Rob Roy kilts worn with long fringed stoles. For dress-up, the tunic appeared beaded and fringed over a short dinner dress.

A group of bedtime fashions included a brushed Arnel nightgown with its own Little Red Ridinghood hood, designed by Claire Haddad, of Toronto.

The group, along with the other Canadian offerings for Spring '64, was applauded by such International fashion experts as the editors for MADAMOISELLE, SEVENTEEN and GLAMOUR.

A spokesman for the Canadians said that the showing, which included 150 outfits from 15 Toronto manufacturers, is the Canadian bid to help supply the North American Look to Europe, where it is increasingly in demand.

Texas Cotton Ginners Against Cotton Plan

DALLAS — A campaign to preserve the state's cotton acreage history and strong opposition to a proposed voluntary diversion of cotton acreage came from the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association board of directors Tuesday in Corpus Christi.

At the organization's closing session of the annual Directors and Allied Industry meeting, the group adopted a 12-point legislative position which favored any legislative program providing for a reasonable income to the grower but which would not force the market to pay any supplemental income.

Association president C. L. Walker, Jr., Temple, and legislative committee chairman Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro said the resolution particularly opposed any program which would attract cotton into government stocks.

Directors voiced immediate concern over the state's release and reapportionment program for cotton acreage. The ginners' organization favored the present law and opposed the recently proposed voluntary diversion plan which would pay growers for not planting cotton. Jackson told directors the diversion plan had no chance of passage in time for the 1964 crop. But, many growers—believing such legislation might affect their 1964 crop—are not releasing unwanted acreage. In some instances, cotton farmers who have already released acreage are asking for the acreage back from their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees.

This development threatens to hurt the economy of every community, county and region of the state, Jackson said.

The ginners' organization resolution also opposed any cotton program without a minimum acreage of 16,310,000 acres—the present minimum.

The directors reaffirmed their earlier stand favoring a one price system for domestic and foreign mills and asked that no limitations be placed on government payments to cotton growers. The resolution also asked for quotas to remain in acres and not in pounds or bales.

Another section favored the handling of cotton through normal trade channels since "we believe in the principles of less government control instead of more government control; and a free marketing system."

Basically, the ginners' document pledged support to any cotton program which will permit cotton to move to consumers at a free market price and thus reduce the stocks on hand. This should replace the attempts to solve surplus cotton problems by forcing reduced production.

Walker said the deadline for release and request of acreage is February 4 in the southern half of the state and the reapportionment deadline is February 25. Releases and requests must be made by March 4 in the northern zone of Texas with final reapportionment set on March 25. Planting of cotton will start in the Rio Grande Valley around February 10, Walker said. He urged ginners to contact farmers and encourage them to go ahead with release of unwanted cotton acreage.

Should acreage be held, 75 percent must be planted to retain full history credit. Should farmers hold acreage and not plant it, they will lose their cotton history for future allotment purposes, Walker said. This will bring about a similar loss in county and state allotments.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By J. Frank Peery

Controversy Is A Part of Life

Controversy is not to be evaded or regretted but faced and dealt with in Christian love. It is of the essence of the normality of life lived. Whether as an individual or a part of a group and community, it must be faced. Sometimes the area or word controversy is regarded as a strange, abnormal phenomenon. Conflicts stem from the universality of difference and from our finiteness and partial understandings. It is not, therefore, a question of whether or not we differ-but of how we deal with our differences among each other. It is seldom, if ever, that people work together at a common task without some differences of opinion, conflicts, jealousy, and bitterness.

The non-Christian or non-active layman oftentimes feels that the Christian has no place in controversy because of his so-called self-righteousness. On the other hand, the Christian oftentimes when he should speak holds back and in doing so hopes to show a spirit of forgiveness, charity, and mutual support. Both should know that the free encounter of ideas is the major way to growth and learning, essential to avoiding complacency and lethargy.

Controversy can be either creative or destructive. I know of a case (in Kansas) where a congregation got upset over a decision their minister made. Really, the decision had to be made and it was not far off the mark. "Cut his salary," they said, rather than "Let's pray for him." We are calendar. Others present were Diana Clark and Mrs. Willie Hazel.

Among those from Sudan attending the Regional Baptist Evangelism Conference held Thursday and Friday at the First Baptist Church in Lubbock were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mrs. Albert McClellan, Austin, has been visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Macky Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Reid, Clovis, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dail Burnett, last weekend.

Called, therefore, to develop understanding of the skills for dealing with controversy so it can promote growth and progress—not dissension and brokenness. We need to participate in encounter with one another not for the sake of winning over others but to build our egos but in humility as seekers after truth.

Growth is promoted by involvement in significant encounters in which each makes his contribution to the directions of change. Of equal importance, each is changed himself because of such participation. A non-controversial person or community is a dead one. A graveyard is the only known place where there is no controversy.

Frankly Speaking — The individual or group without controversy is in the state of conforming. If, in this day, we are to be worth our salt and be worthy of our responsibilities laid upon us by family, church, and community, there can be no place for conformity, provincialism, or other hiding devices. If that to which we are committed will not stand up in this modern world, we had better know now what is wrong. If it will stand up, this is no time to hide our witness to it. One cannot have freedom without differences. Meet yours — with the spirit of Christ.

THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST

Salute you with...

CONDUCTED BY THE VANDELIA VILLAGE CHURCH OF CHRIST LUBBOCK, TEXAS

CAMPAIGNS FOR CHRIST ARE SCRIPTURAL

Campaigns for Christ began with the journeys of the apostle Paul and his company of personal workers. (Acts 13:13 and 21:8). It was primarily through this means that the church expanded throughout the world in the first century. In recent years the idea of combining pulpit evangelism and personal work in a concentrated campaign has been effective in saving souls. It is our hope that Campaigns for Christ may be conducted regularly and in this way a lasting impact for Christ will be made in souls of men throughout the world.

The elders of the Vandelia Village Church of Christ wish to conduct these campaigns on a permanent basis, guaranteeing all expenses incurred and simply extending an invitation to all congregations and interested individuals to have say fellowship they want to have in the campaign, financially and otherwise, in order that the Gospel of Christ might be carried to 20th Century man. It is realized that any kind of organization set up to do the work that God gave the church to do is wrong. Surely to evangelize the world is the work of the church, therefore the elders are most anxious not to have some separate independent organization but rather they have planned this work as the work of the Vandelia Village Church assisted by sister congregations and interested individuals. We seek to sustain the same relationship to permanent campaigns that the Fifth and Highland Church in Abilene, Texas does to the permanent national radio-television program, The Herald of Truth, which has been so well received and powerfully effective in proclaiming the gospel publicly. Campaigns for Christ will complement this and other works in many places with concentrated house to house evangelism.

CAMPAIGNS FOR CHRIST ARE ECONOMICAL

Campaigns for Christ cost money. They are worth every penny of it, but this amount of money could not be provided by one congregation of God's people. However, the church of Christ can provide the money for such an effort. Campaigns in the past have cost some thirty to sixty thousand dollars depending upon the distance and area. The fact that five to ten years of work will be accomplished in each campaign covering a thirty day period and using thirty to forty workers, means that these campaigns are economical and that the cause of Christ receives renewed impetus. The program is not small, neither can the fundraising be small.

YOU CAN MAKE CAMPAIGNS FOR CHRIST SUCCESSFUL

We know there are 5,000 Christian families interested in the spread of the gospel and salvation of souls of men, who are willing, able, and ready to contribute at least $2.00 per week for the next three years in order that souls may be saved and the Kingdom of Christ may be spread to every nation. Large and small gifts are invited. Congregations are encouraged to budget a definite amount monthly or annually. Individuals are also encouraged to give a definite amount in lump sum, or consider this effort through endowment, insurance beneficiaries, estates, commodities and wills. Congregations or individuals may also consider supplying the cost of one campaign or some item in a campaign, such as advertising, etc.

WHAT OUTSTANDING CHRISTIANS ARE SAYING

● GUY N. WOODS, Nashville, Tenn. CAMPAIGNS FOR CHRIST, as planned by the elders of the Vandelia Village Church of Christ in Lubbock, Texas, provide the most soul stirring and ambitious program for world evangelism this writer has ever seen. We commend it unreservedly and urge churches of Christ everywhere to support it regularly and generously.

● WILLARD COLLINS, Nashville, Tenn. Experiences have proven to me that the city-wide or area-wide CAMPAIGN FOR CHRIST is one of the most effective means of evangelism which is now being used. With a great team it may be possible to do as much good in from three to five weeks as we have been doing in years with just one or two people on the scene.

● OTIS GATEWOOD, Rochester, Mich. I can fully say that the campaign idea of preaching the Gospel of Christ to the mission fields is one of the best things that we have experienced in this modern generation. I would very much like to be a part of the organization that you are setting up there and to participate in it.

● REUEL LEMMONS, Austin, Texas There isn't any reason why Churches of Christ could not carry on campaigns in the major centers of the world on a scale that would attract the attention of the masses. I certainly hope that you succeed in a way that will please the Lord and gain the support of the brethren.

● M. NORVEL YOUNG, Los Angeles, Cal. There is no doubt that a series of well-planned and efficiently operated evangelistic efforts hold tremendous possibilities of good. May your efforts be used of God to win thousands to Christ. Give much time to prayer for a great effort such as this can succeed without God's blessing.

Everybody who wants a Skylark, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Riviera, please stand up.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida. AUSTIN, Tex. — Capitol talk is centering around Texas' new double-standard for voter qualification.

There's a lot of speculation and some concern in political circles.

Ratification by South Dakota will place into effect a Federal constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a requirement for voting in future federal elections.

1. Texans who want to vote for state and local, as well as federal officials, still must have poll tax receipts or appropriate exemptions.

2. Those who are content to vote for president, vice president, U. S. senator and congressman only, won't have to pay. But still they must get a free poll tax receipt from their tax collector.

The new "registration" requirement for federal elections takes effect after the U. S. General Services Administrator certifies that the amendment is official by part of the federal constitution.

For tax collectors and election officials these additional headaches will be presented:

Separate poll lists must be compiled for those who have paid the poll tax and those who have not; non-paying voters must get a ballot containing only the offices and propositions which they are eligible to vote on; all propositions except federal offices must be "locked out" on voting machines; and election returns must show separately those voting on free receipts.

Legal experts think the state law passed in anticipation of the federal amendments ratification takes care of most emergencies and will prevent chaos, if not confusion. Detailed instructions soon will be sent to county tax collectors by Secretary of State Crawford Martin.

Gov. John Connally, meanwhile, warned Texans that failure to pay the poll tax commits them to "only half a vote in the 1964 elections." Connally joined forces on all sides of the political fences in the final week's campaign to pump up lagging payments.

CONGRESSIONAL RACES UNDISTURBED — Governor Connally anticipates no disruption in congressional district races this year, since the U. S. Supreme Court recessed until February 17 without taking action on pending redistricting cases.

aries is February 3. Connally and other state officials do not think the high court will interfere with election machinery already in progress.

Last October a Houston federal court held Texas congressional district boundaries unconstitutional since they are not based on equal population.

Republicans brought the suit seeking to recarve the districts in the interest of metropolitan areas. The Houston decision, which has since been stayed pending the state's appeal, ordered all 23 congressmen to run statewide unless the districts are equalized on the basis of population.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED — Former Secretary of State Tom Reavley of Austin was named by Governor Connally as judge of the newly-created 167th district court of Travis County which goes into operation on June 1.

Among other recent appointments by the governor are: Dr. John J. McKetta Jr., dean of the University of Texas College of Engineering, to serve on the Southern Interstate Nuclear Board.

Judge Victor H. Lindsey, 72nd District Court, Lubbock, as presiding judge for the Ninth Administrative District, to succeed the late Judge Luther Gribble of Childress.

C. E. Knolle, Jim Wells County dairyman, as chairman of the Texas Animal Health Commission, succeeding Clayton Puckett of Fort Stockton who remains on the commission.

John M. Stemmmons of Dallas, re-appointed as director of the Dallas County Flood Control District.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUING — A half dozen state investigators are looking into activities of Corpus Christi promoter Paul Amos Sandblom, who is charged with dealing in unregistered securities. Additional charges may be filed against the South Texas financier, according to State Securities Commissioner William King. He has four agents combing the tangled financial affairs of Sandblom, 39. And the state auditor has assigned two more investigators.

A court-appointed receiver of the bankrupt promoter's estate estimates he took in over $25,000,000 but now has assets of only $27,000.

CANDIDATES FILING — With the filing deadline closing in, most statewide incumbents (and some of their opponents) have announced their election plans.

Among those whose hats are in the ring are: Governor Connally (and his GO Poppoony C. G. Weakley Jr. of Dallas), Lt. Gov. Preston Smith (opposed by Albert Fuentes Jr. of San Antonio and Republican Horace Houston of Dallas); Agriculture Commissioner John C. White (opposed by Millard Shivers of Waco); State Treasurer Jesse James; Comptroller Robert Calvert; Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon; Supreme Court Associate Justice Ruel C. Walker; Supreme Court Associate Justice Robert W. Hamilton; and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge K. K. Woodley.

Also: Democrat John Van Cronkrite and Republicans George Bush, Dr. Milton Davis and Dr. Robert Morris, all of whom want to dethrone U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough who preferred to file late for re-election.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr is another who chose to put off announcing his re-election plans until near deadline.

SHORT SNORTS — Benton Muslewite of Lufkin announced his candidacy for congress, opposing Congressman John Dowdy of Athens in the Democratic primary.

Thomas Rote of San Antonio will run for the Republican congressional nomination against John O'Connell both to take on Congressman Henry B. Gonzales in November.

State Reps. Malcolm McGregor of El Paso and George Cook of Odessa will contest for the Democratic nomination against GOP Congressman Ed Foreman, Odessa.

A new Laredo school United High School, is being praised by civil defense officials — It is one of the first underground schools in the nation constructed solely with local funds — and was constructed at lower cost than standard structures.

Governor Connally may visit Washington after making a speech to North American paper industry representatives in New York on February 25.

State Board of Education set a February 8 hearing on the American Civil Liberties Union's appeal from a Houston school board loyalty oath requirement for users of school buildings after Education Commissioner Dr. J. W. Edgar held the board had authority to exact the oath.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports his office handled a record number of cases in 1963 — disposed of 3,389 law suits (won 2,638) and filed 3,288 more.

MORE ON RAIL DISPUTE — After the six-month cooling off period and forced settlement of two issues, the railroad work rules dispute seems to be headed for another crisis.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said the Federal Government is again stepping in to try to mediate the dispute, nearly five years old. If the issues are not settled by February 25, a national wide real strike could begin.

News Report From Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Agriculture legislation having the dual goal of forestalling a drop in farm income while at the same time attacking the problem of rural area poverty will be a significant part of the President's legislative program this year.

And the extent of his success in persuading Congress to adopt all or a major share of those proposals could provide an election year barometer of the Administration's November support in vital areas of the South and Midwest in particular.

The two major issues — and the most controversial — involve cotton and wheat which, together, represent the lion's share of investment in surplus farm commodities.

In both instances the primary problem resolves itself into how best to reduce the surplus or keep it from getting bigger without at the same time hitting the politically sensitive farm bloc where it hurts the worst — in the pocketbook.

On the wheat front legislation is being drafted, with Administration blessing, which calls for a voluntary acreage reduction with some sort of inducement for growers who comply.

That's a departure from a system of rigid production and marketing controls proposed by the late President Kennedy but soundly renounced by wheat farmers in a referendum last May. Needing for adoption, it failed to muster even a simple majority.

Cotton presents an even more complicated dilemma even in the face of an acknowledged consensus that a legislative remedy is needed for its current ills.

The House late last year approved a bill by Agriculture Chairman Harold Cooley providing use of surplus cotton as a domestic subsidy to equal the cost between domestic and foreign textile mills while at the same time providing a gradual reduction in cotton price supports. Theory behind that measure is that it would lower cotton costs both to the manufacturer and the consumer sufficiently to guarantee an expanded market for the product and a surplus reduction.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and some other Administration figures on the other hand, are understood to prefer a plan endorsed by Georgia's Sen. Herman Talmadge which would provide a guaranteed minimum income to cotton growers through compensatory payments — in effect a revival of the old Brannan Plan.

Beyond that, the department is proposing independently that cotton farmers voluntarily cutting acreage below their allotment be compensated for the reduction.

A voluntary dairy production program, extension of the Food for Peace program and foreign sugar quotas and expansion of the Food Stamp plan are also due for consideration.

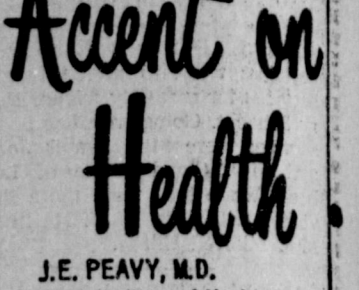

There's reportedly some disposition on the part of key farm-state Senators to try to lump most of those proposals together into a single omnibus bill in an effort to consolidate support from various elements.

Even the hint of such a maneuver, however, has House Agriculture Chairman Cooley up in arms. The net result of any such tactic, he insists, will be a complete tangle which will mean no farm bill at all.

It would appear then, that Johnson forces will have to plow a careful furrow through some rocky soil to get what they want.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D. Commissioner of Health

AUSTIN — "A lone man's companion . . . a sad man's cordial . . . and a chilly man's fire . . . there's no herb like unto it under the canopy of heaven."

That's James Russell Lowell's personal reflections toward tobacco or cigarettes.

But medical science points out some disconcerting parallels of smoking to health.

With this in mind, the Division of Cancer and Heart of the Texas State Department of Health is determined that today's generation should have the facts when confronted with the decision of smoke or not to smoke.

A first and basic point is the smoking is a habit — similar to an addiction. "The habitual use of tobacco," according to the recent report to the Surgeon General by the Advisory Committee, is related primarily to psychological and social drives, reinforced and perpetuated by the pharmacological actions of nicotine on the central nervous system.

Secondly, teenagers should be aware of the relationship between smoking and health.

Lung cancer, heart and circulatory diseases are linked to the smoking habit. And statistics show that these diseases increase in proportion to the number of cigarettes smoked per day.

Teenagers are challenged to add it all up. A smoke lasts about six minutes, but cuts ten minutes off your lifetime.

Teenagers are further advised that the habit decreases physical endurance and ability, slows thinking processes and discolors fingers and teeth.

Inevitably, the question arises . . . why do teenagers start smoking anyway?

Teenagers say, according to recent studies, they are lured by the persuasive voice of advertisers. They also start because the gang does it, in search of security and stability and in imitation of people they admire.

Parental example appears to be an important contributing example. When both parents smoke, a teenager stands a 40 percent chance of taking up the habit. But when neither parent smokes, the teenager stands only a 22 percent chance of starting.

Jim Carroll, a guard from Atlanta, Ga., will captain the Notre Dame football team next fall.

(This newswriter, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined by an attorney for the mortgage lenders, or because a "mortgage" title insurance policy is being furnished. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory. The "mortgage policy" protects only the lender, and mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. However, it is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase. And, even an "owners" title insurance policy may not cover every possible defect, or the value of improvements added after purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met, if any, to make good record title. Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of many sources of information. Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a lawsuit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

AVOID LEGAL TROUBLES IN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Thinking of buying or building a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made — that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

GOD'S ETERNAL WORD

The Bible is God's written revelation of Himself and His will and purpose to man. God is eternal, and we find His eternity stamped upon His word. Paul tells us that "all scripture is given by inspiration of God." (1 Timothy 3:16) This divinely inspired Word of God rightly related to your life will make it richer and more meaningful. It is not a book of poetry, but it contains some of the world's greatest poems. The Bible is not a book of philosophy, but its pages are interwoven with the only true philosophy of life. It is not a book of psychology, yet no psychology worthy of the name can ignore its teachings. The Bible is not a text book of science, still there is no proven fact or tenable theory in science which does not find a compatible atmosphere within its pages.

The Bible is not a book of romance, but some of literature's greatest love stories are contained therein. The Bible is not a text book in history. Yet it has stood the test of every criterion of authentic history. It contains trustworthy history not found elsewhere. On occasion it even corrects the mistakes of secular historian, a fact that has been attested by the discoveries of archaeology.

The Bible has lived under every type of government and in every form of society. It has survived bad government, and produced good rule. It has stood in judgement upon moral and social evil, and has guided man's feet into the way of righteousness. May I challenge you to make a complete study of it.
