Five-year-old Bucky Cummings believes in taking shortcuts that resemble traveling to Dallas by way of Chicago. The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Cummings, 631 N. Wells, was visiting an aunt on S. Sumner yesterday afternoon. Auntie sent Bucky down the street, about half a block away, to a little grocery store for a loaf of bread. The grocery looks more like a house than a store so Bucky kept on going until he reached the Old Mill at Hobart and Brown.

He was lost.

An unidentified man benevolently picked up the boy in his truck, offering to take him home. He asked Bucky where he lived. "On the highway," he answered.

So Bucky and his chauffeur drove down the Clarendon Highway—15 miles—and the truck broke down.

In the meantime police, relatives, neighbors and all were beating the bushes for Bucky.

Finally the wanderer came into town in another car where his aunt spotted him at a service station near the Old Mill—still clutching a loaf of bread in one hand and the change in another.

He got the bread at some other store than the one he was supposed to go to. He had been gone about four hours.

County's Laketon-Miami Road Injunction Granted by Judge

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 81st District Court yesterday afternoon granted the county's temporary injunction against Harry A. Nelson, T. C. Bates, and Johnnie Renner, enjoining them from interfering with any improvements along the Laketon-Miami farm-to-market road.

Although Bates and Renner were mentioned in the petition, they were not called to the stand and never did appear in person in the last episode along the road on Oct. 10 when Nelson told highway engineers they were not to come back the next day.

The court order came after four hours of testimony, about forty percent of the time being taken up by argument between counsel for both sides.

Called to the stand were Robert Burka, highway engineering assistant to Resident Highway Engineer G. K. Reading, Reading, Chief Deputy Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Harry Nelson, and County Commissioner Joe Clark.

A small crowd of farmers and property owners in and around the Laketon area as well as other members of the County Commissioners Court were present.

Testimony centered at first around Nelson's ordering engineers to stay away from Section 78, known as the Renner Section, and later turned toward the condemnation proceedings against the 40-foot-wide strip. The strip was originally owned by Renner but bought by Nelson for $1 on March 9, 1949, and later sold to Mrs. Elsie Pressing Cook for $2.

At the close of the hearing, Attorney Walter Rogers, representing Nelson, asked for a preliminary injunction from Judge Goodrich but the hearing for a permanent injunction for Dec. 6.

None of the witnesses could swear that Nelson had actually threatened anyone with personal harm.

It was brought out that Nelson did offer an apology to Reading when the crew went back to (See ROAD, Page 7)

Detroit Duster Awaits Sanity Test

DALLAS — (AP) — A 43-year-old man who came here from Detroit is in jail awaiting a sanity test.

Why?

Officers said yesterday he dusted downtown pedestrians with a large feather duster and then tried to hand each of them a dollar.

Compromise Farm Bill Now Law of Land

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The compromise farm bill of the 81st Congress became the law of the land today for at least one production season.

To the surprise of some political and farm circles, the President made no statement in connection with the signing.

Persons in these quarters had expected him to use the occasion to say in effect that the new law is better than the GOP measure, but that he still wanted the so-called Brannan plan.

Those close to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said they felt sure Mr. Truman is as much in favor of the Brannan proposal as ever.

The new law is not too far from price support recommendations of the Brannan proposal. It would permit price supports more nearly in line with the Brannan proposal than would the Aiken law.

The big point of difference is the way the various measures would handle surpluses of perishable products, chiefly meats, dairy (See COMPROMISE, Page 7)

Rural Mail Carrier Dies

Joseph A. (Joe) Thompson, rural carrier on Route 1, Mobeetie, for 31 years, died at a local hospital last night at 8:20. Fifty-three years of age, Thompson had been ill since he broke his back in a fall from a ladder on Sept. 16, 1948.

He had been a resident of Mobeetie since 1908.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Maggie Thompson; one son, Warren of Amarillo; two brothers, Willis of San Antonio, and Jessie of Muleshoe, Texas; one sister, Mrs. Vera Murrell of Clovis; and two grandsons.

He was a veteran of World War I.

Services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Mobeetie Methodist Church, and burial will be at Mobeetie. Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home will be in charge of the services.

New Bus to Be On Display Here

"The Continental," new deck-and-a-half bus, will be on display in front of the First National Bank between 2 and 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Katherine Morris, local bus station manager, said the new vehicle is on a test run to various points in the Southwest. Buses of this type may replace those on runs in this area in the future, she said.

The bus seats 22 persons on the upper deck and 10 on the lower. It has hostess compartment, snack bar, air conditioning, and lavatory.

The vehicle will go from here to Sayre, Okla., and thence to Oklahoma City.

Youngsters Plenty Tricky, But Do Little Real Damage

Plenty of petty tricks were pulled by the small fry last night as they breezed merrily over streets and through alleys helping (?) trash men and housewives by emptying barrels and being the little people who weren't there when door bells rang.

Generous, too, were they with their supplies of soap to windows that needed cleaning and some that didn't.

Some enterprising future voters decided to save the taxpayers money by protecting the window of at least one parking meter near the City Drug. They hooded it with an empty trash can.

Somebody evidently thought Tax Assessor-Collector A. U. Frey Jones should go back to school at home, and charitably placed a "school zone, slow" sign on his lawn.

A few door numbers from "The Hill" are missing. Jones, it was learned, could guide the owners to the numbers' new location.

Of all the pranking and tricking very little downright vandalism

Life and Death Governed by Oxygen Layer, Scientists Say

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Life and death on this planet may hang by so nebulous a thread as an invisible ray of light.

Two separate announcements yesterday, one by the California Institute of Technology, the other by the University of California at Los Angeles, brought this grim specter into the realm of scientific speculation.

Sixty miles above the earth exists a heretofore unknown layer of oxygen molecules which mysteriously change the wavelengths of the sun's deadly ultraviolet rays to infrared heat rays. This was announced by Dr. Joseph Kaplan, UCLA professor of physics.

If some sudden piercing of the earth's atmospheric shield — perhaps by a comet or an atomic explosion — should let that layer of oxygen molecules escape, life might vanish from the face of the globe under the bombardment of ultra-violet radiation from the sun.

The effect of certain types of ultra-violet rays on living organisms may be judged from an announcement by Caltech's Dr. Renato Dulbecco, who yesterday disclosed discovery of "life rays" and "death rays" in his studies with invisible light.

A certain kind of light, he said, can kill a little-known bacterial virus, and another kind of light can bring the same organism back to life.

The killing light is an ultraviolet shortwave. The "life ray" is a barely visible light wave.

The viruses affected by these rays, said Dr. Dulbecco, control the growth processes of cells in the human body. Destruction of these viruses, he believes, may allow the cells to grow wild, as in the case of cancer.

Thus, if an overdose of ultra-violet rays from the sun did nothing else, it might touch off a cancer epidemic of severe proportions. The likelihood of such an occurrence is fantastic, he pointed out, but within the realm of speculation.

CIO Union Drops Dues

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The United Electrical Workers, spearhead of the CIO's rebellious left wing, today announced it was withholding any further dues to the CIO — a certain first step toward its ouster.

In a defiant statement accusing CIO leadership of following a "program of raiding, union-busting and red-baiting hypocrisy," UE President Albert J. Fitzgerald said the next step "is up to the CIO."

There was little doubt that President Philip Murray of the CIO would accept the challenge quickly. The groundwork for removing the UE, with approximately 375,000 members, was laid by constitutional changes approved last night for action by the CIO convention today or tomorrow.

Texas Baptists Meet Today

EL PASO — (AP) — The Texas Baptist General Convention opened today.

It was preceded by meetings of the Woman's Missionary Union and of the Baptist Brotherhood.

Hundreds of delegates were here as the church's program for the coming year was mapped.

The WMU reported it had added 1,267 new units during the past year. It now has the highest number of standard organizations in its history, said Miss Eula Mae Henderson of Dallas.

More than 600 delegates and directors of the WMU heard Miss Alma Hunt of Birmingham, Ala., narrate goodness and usefulness, plus courage and direction of Christianity as the components necessary for future greatness.

Miss Anna Veneziano, an Italian attending southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth; Mae Wai Chew, El Paso, and L. M. Huff, Jr., Sinton, spoke at the final meeting of the WMU.

Bolivian P-38 Disintegrated In Air, Witnesses Assert

WASHINGTON — (AP) — At least 25 persons were killed today in the collision of an Eastern Airlines passenger plane and a Bolivian military plane.

Fourteen bodies were removed from the airliner within the first half hour of rescue efforts. The wrecked plane was resting partly in the Potomac River. Its under belly was ripped open.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the smaller plane was of the Bolivian air force.

The airliner was a DC-4. Planes of this type can carry 50 or more passengers.

Government officials said the Bolivian government bought two P-38 planes from the U. S. about three or four weeks ago for the Bolivian air force.

One was sent to Bolivia. The other has been kept here pending routing clearance.

The two planes struck while in the air. Those who saw the collision said there was an explosion on the active runway.

Eastern Airlines identified the flight as Number 837.

It left Boston at 9 a. m. and had stopped at New York.

It cleared LaGuardia Airport at about 10:30 and was due to land at Washington at 11:45.

The collision occurred about half a mile south of the Airport over Mount Vernon Boulevard which runs from the nation's capital through Alexandria, Va., to Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington.

Skies were overcast but visibility was unlimited and the ceiling was several thousand feet.

Two military airports are located across the Potomac River immediately adjacent to National Airport.

The military plane may have been operating from one of these, but there was no definite word immediately on that.

First reports said the smaller plane disintegrated immediately after the collision.

All available ambulances and doctors were called immediately to the scene.

Washington Guesses at Sherman's Job

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, who once before helped produce an accord in the military unification row, was due to arrive today on a flying trip from his Mediterranean Naval command.

The popular expectation was that he would be named chief of naval operations to succeed the ousted Admiral Louis Denfeld.

But as the time for Sherman's arrival neared there was disposition toward caution in such speculation.

For one thing, no official — not President Truman, Secretary of the Navy Mattewes, Secretary of Defense Johnson, nor Sherman himself — had said anything publicly to support what, in the past week, had developed into a widely accepted conclusion.

This suggests several possibilities:

1. That perhaps Sherman at be (See WASHINGTON, Page 7)

Barbershop Ticket Sale Readied

Tickets will go on sale tomorrow for the third annual "Top of the Navy" musical production of the Pampa Barbershop Quartet, which will be held at 8 p. m. Nov. 12 at the Junior High School Auditorium.

Proceeds from the show will go into the music escarpment fund, Pianist and humorist, Prof. Lou Freeman will also have part in the Parade of quartets. He will present several numbers during the intermission and between numbers.

Other quartets to be featured in the show include: Tune Twisters; Berger; Cavern City Four, Carlsbad; the Notables, Lubbock; the Four Minors, Amarillo; the Panhandlers, Pampa; the Squeaky Door Four, Pampa; and the Melody Menders, Pampa.

Cameron Marsh, member of the Panhandlers Quartet, has charge of the ticket sales. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the local chapter or from specified businesses downtown, which will be announced later.

The combined Pampa and Berger choruses will open the show.

Wrangling Threatens to Upset Italy

ROME — (AP) — Italian Socialist wrangling today threatened to upset Premier Alcide De Gasperi's coalition government.

Disension among the nation's small groups of moderate, anti-Communist Socialists brought the sudden resignation last night of three of their number from De Gasperi's Cabinet.

While the moderate Socialists count for little in the overwhelmingly Christian Democrat government, their action may automatically cause the entire Cabinet to fall. Should their resignations stand, traditional parliamentary procedure requires the Premier and his whole Cabinet to resign.

In that event, De Gasperi's reappointment to form a new government seems certain, since the Christian Democrat Party won a heavy majority in the 1948 general elections.

Those resigning were Vice Premier Giuseppe Saragat, leader of the Italian Socialist Labor Party (PSLI), and two other PSLI representatives, Minister of Industry and Commerce Iva Maria Mattei Lombardo and Minister of Reconstruction Roberto Tremoloni.

They stepped out of the Cabinet after the party decided that action might help to get a merger of all of Italy's anti-Communist Socialists. International Socialist leaders have been urging such a union for some time.

The action came during an eight-hour nationwide general strike called by the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor to protest the deaths of two (See WRANGLING, Page 7)

Armed Services' Public Quarrel Said Aid to Reds

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of a series of articles summing up and analyzing the armed services controversy.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — How much did Russia learn about American military power and planning from the public quarrel over strategy among the United States armed forces?

Some of the high-ranking witnesses who testified before the House Armed Services Committee indicated that she learned plenty — although they steered clear of details.

Secretary of Air W. Stuart Byrnington, after replying to Navy criticism of the Air Force's prize B-36 bomber, concluded his appearance on the stand with these words:

"To me the most disturbing feature of these attacks against the Air Force and the rest of the military establishment is what they have done and are doing to imperil the security of the United States."

"It was bad enough to have given a possible aggressor technical and operating details of our newest and latest equipment. In my opinion, it is far worse to have opened to him in such detail the military doctrines of how this country would be defended."

"We have now given the military leaders of any aggressor nation a further advantage in developing their strategic plan by telling them so much about our own."

Privately, officials have wondered how friendly nations aboard who count on United States armed force to aid them if attacked, feel about the schism in military thinking in Washington.

General Omar Bradley — chairman of the joint chiefs of staff who spoke both in sorrow and anger against the attitude of Navy admirals on unification and strategic planning — put himself on record this way:

"I believe that the public hearing on the grievances of a few officers who will not accept the decisions of the authorities established by law, and charges as to our poor state of preparedness have done infinite harm to our national defense, our position of leadership in world affairs, the position of our national policy, and

Two Post Office Men Promoted

Two promotions have been approved at the local Post Office, W. B. Weathered, postmaster, said this morning.

Robert H. Sanford, after serving at the Post Office for 20 years, has been named superintendent of mails, and Arthur J. Rohde, who has worked at the Pampa Post Office for 13 years, is the new clerk in charge.

Sanford was first a superintendent clerk here in 1929. He has served as clerk in charge for the past three years and was recently promoted because of the retirement of Wesley W. McDonald.

Sanford and his wife reside at 1016 N. Russell. Mrs. Sanford taught home economics at the Pampa High School for a number of years and still is a substitute teacher.

Rohde formerly was a clerk in the financial section. He lives with his wife and two children at 912 S. Sumner.

Navajo's Dr. 'Big' Nears End of 23-Year Service

DR. 'BIG'—With a Hopi Indian nurse attending, Dr. Clarence G. Salisbury treats a patient at the Ganado Indian Mission. When Dr. 'Big' retires next year, the Navajos and Hopis will lose one of their stoutest champions.

GANADO, Ariz. — (NEA) — Dr. "Big" for 23 years confidante, doctor, defender and policeman to 60,000 Navajo Indians, is drawing near the end of his notable service at Ganado Mission. This is his last year.

Only the Bureau of Indian Affairs will be pleased when Dr. "Big," who is 62-year-old Dr. Clarence G. Salisbury, hangs up his stethoscope next May. The doctor has long been an outspoken critic of the bureau's policies.

He came to Ganado on temporary assignment in 1927 and has never left. He built up the mission from an old assortment of shacks and dispensary cots to a 150-bed hospital community on a 250-acre desert oasis.

As head of the mission he has supervised the treatment of more than 25,000 Navajos and the training of some 100 Indian nurses. Ganado had accredited grade and high schools, a community center and a field health service. It has its own power plant, farm, dairy, commissary and food service, telephone exchange and other facilities.

Salisbury earned the deep friendship of the Navajos as he watched the mission grow through the years. He became a fighter for Indian rights. And more and more he convinced himself that the Indian Bureau was responsible for the usually sad plight of his adopted friends.

He bitterly accuses the Bureau of subjecting the Navajos to starvation without representation. He levels sweeping charges of "waste against the agency."

"Not less than $200,000 has been spent on the Navajo reservation in the last 17 years," he says, "and what is there to show for it? There is an elaborate administrative set-up. A dozen

Hoover-Type Commission Is Being Considered by Shivers

AUSTIN — (AP) — A "Hoover-type commission" to find out how to lop dollars off the cost of state government is being considered by Gov. Allan Shivers.

He told reporters he was toying with the idea. He asked their opinions. The general answer was: "A good idea if it would work—but will it?"

Shivers' attitude was: "Even if the idea didn't accomplish its goal, no harm would be done."

In recent speeches, he has emphasized the increasing cost of state government and dropped strong hints that steps should be taken to cut back or at least level off spending.

Shivers wondered out loud whether a private group of citizens — appointed by the Gov-error — might be the best type of organization to direct a survey of government operations.

He said such a study "should be an unbiased and independent as we could make it."

The Governor and reporters agreed that "politics" within the Legislature might nullify recommendations that various boards, commissions, agencies and departments be consolidated or eliminated. Shivers said a job of "educating the public to the importance of the survey" might prevent such an occurrence.

Guard Enlists Three New Men

Three new men were enlisted in the local National Guard unit at its regular meeting last night.

They are: Robert A. Smith, 708 N. Frost; Lloyd E. Zmotomy, Rte. 1, Pampa; and Harold F. Hooper, Phillips.

The addition to the unit's rolls were announced by Capt. Wm. J. Ragdale, commander of Battery A, 474th FA Battalion.

The unit, now in the midst of a recruiting drive that will end Nov. 19, meets at the Armory in Recreation Park each Monday evening.

Reports were that had Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York won the presidency last fall, he planned to offer Salisbury a high post if the Indian Bureau the doctor has always criticized so severely.

Now, however, there is nothing ahead for Dr. "Big" but quiet retirement. And when he leaves Ganado next spring the Navajos will lose one of the stoutest champions they have ever had in their long and troubled history.

IT'S odd how things happen to people, everything piling up at once sometimes. At the end of March everything seemed to go wrong for Tod. The office promotion he'd been promised at the end of three months went to someone else, and the only explanation they gave was that his work wasn't quite up to expectations.

Then the woman who'd rented Ma the rooms said they'd have to move. Her married daughter had been evicted and she had to move them into the place.

Ma got to worrying over what they'd do, and had a light stroke. Tod was frantic. He tried to get Harriet to look for rooms, since she didn't have anything particular to do, but she had other plans.

"Harriet," he remonstrated. "Ma's sick! I've tried to get her back into the nursing home, but they're full up. I can't find rooms. I've tried everyone in town. I haven't got the money to put her in a regular hospital even if they'd take her, but we've got to get a roof over her head no matter what becomes of us."

"Well, it's quite simple to do that," Harriet said. She was calmly packing her suitcase. "You're paying for that house out on Riverside Road, aren't you?"

"That's got nothing to do with this."

"Oh, hasn't it?" She shut the suitcase with a bang. "It's a roof, ain't it? And that's what you're yelling for. Me, I'm going back to Chicago. I've had enough of this town, and you and Ma sit around sipping at each other like a couple of zombies."

"Harriet!" He followed her to the door. "Look! Wait, won't you? I've got no one to turn to."

She flung him a broken look. "And who's fault is that?"

He was frantic. The landlady wouldn't reconsider. "I know it seems a hateful thing to do, and if I didn't already have my son and daughter-in-law and their kids in with me, I'd take your Ma in, but the way it is my daughter getting turned right out in the street. I don't see what else I can do. Surely you got friends that'll take her?"

Someone to Love

"I suppose I can find someone," Tod murmured. He tried to think. Maybe some of the people Ma had used to know on Catalpa Street, or the Welfare. His soul shrank from the latter, because Ma would hate it. She would never forgive him if he appealed to Welfare to find a place for her.

His mind whirled in dizzy circles and kept coming back again and again to Harriet's suggestion. Jenny. She was the only person in the whole world he would dare appeal to and be sure of not being turned away. She was the only one in the world whose generosity and warmth he was sure of. It was ironic.

ALL the next morning, from the time he shaved until the moment when he reached Jenny's shop, he rehearsed what he would say. Nothing sounded right.

Inside the shop he was asked to sit on one of the delicate gilt and mauve satin chairs. Half a dozen mirrors gave him back his own reflection: the wrinkled suit, the untidy shirt, and the worried expression on his face.

And then he looked up and saw Jenny. He got to his feet, his hands clammy, his throat full of dust.

She seemed like someone he didn't know; sleek and well-groomed like one of those fashion models. She was exquisite, and he found himself staring at her like a yokel, forgetting everything he had planned to say.

"Hello, Tod," she smiled at him coolly, as if he were someone she had met casually once.

She invited him back into her office, so that they could speak with privacy. He explained to her about Ma. Now he'd tried to get her into a nursing home, or rooms, or a hospital. He tried to make her understand that he wouldn't have come to her, if he hadn't been absolutely desperate.

Someone to Love

Jenny was nice about it, and efficient. She phoned right away to have Mrs. Drew get a bedroom ready, and said she'd go out to the house right after lunch so as to be there when they brought his mother. He apologized for all the trouble and said she'd only have to keep Ma for a few days, until he could make other arrangements.

He walked out of the shop in a cold sweat of nervousness, and walked a block before he took a cab.

WHEN he got back to the apartment, he found an ambulance in front, its red light blinking off and on, and the usual curious crowd standing around. He knew before he ran up the long narrow flight of stairs, that it was Ma. They were just bringing her out on a stretcher.

One of the white-coated attendants brushed him out of the way, saying something about an emergency case. He followed them down the stairway. There was odd way of getting into a hospital without having money, he thought miserably, just as he was an emergency case.

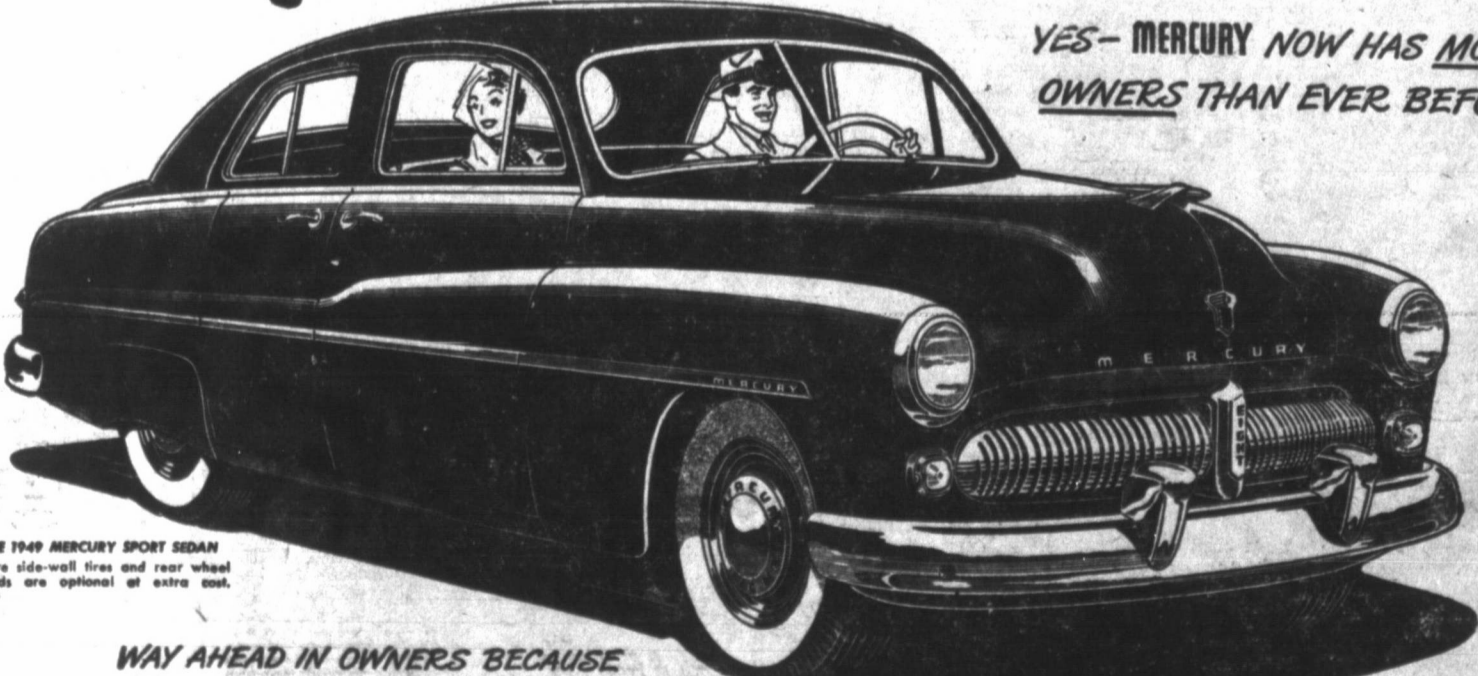

Someone explained that he was the old lady's son, and he was allowed to get into the ambulance with her. She lay quiet still, her eyes shut, the stiff gray hair matted back from her forehead. He began to rub her cold limbs, and the siren screamed as the ambulance bumped through the rough, dismal street.

There wouldn't be any need now of Ma's going to Jenny's. He had humiliated himself all for nothing, he thought, as he waited in the corridor while they got Ma into bed. He had better phone her.

Nina answered the shop's phone. "Jenny? She had a luncheon engagement with Rick, and I don't know whether she has left the shop yet or not."

"Please tell her, Nina," he said, "that I managed to get Ma into a hospital, so she won't have to worry around with her after all." (To Be Continued)

'Cinderella' to Be Given Tonight

One of the world's best loved fairy tales will be brought to the footlights of the Junior High Auditorium tonight when the professional adult actors of the Clara Tree Major Children's Theater of New York presents "Cinderella." The play will be presented under the auspices of the American Association of University Women.

Of all the plays that Clara Tree Major has produced during her 26 years in the entertainment world, none has proved more satisfying to children than this fascinating tale of the unhappy little kitchen drudge whose exciting and magical adventures led her to become a princess of the realm.

Mrs. Raymond Salmon, president of the local chapter of AAUW, said "In Mrs. Major's presentation of the tale so familiar to every child, the characters and situations of the story are enhanced by imaginative settings, colorful costumes and sparkling dances and music. And, of course, there is comedy, for Mrs. Major knows that no play can be thoroughly pleasing to children unless it offers an outlet for the love of joy and laughter.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Sometime ago I presented the Point-Count System of Bidding in Contract Bridge, as written by Fred. L. Karpin, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Karpin has just come out with a new book. In some later articles I am going to give you more of Karpin's Point-Count System, but in my articles this week I want to present to you Karpin's responses to an opening bid of two in a suit. Eastern players for some time have been using the ace and king showing responses to the two bid. Karpin has built a whole set of responses around this convention and I recommend that you thoroughly familiarize yourself with this convention.

There are seven different responses:

1. If you have an ace in any suit, bid that suit, regardless of whether the ace is a singleton or the top of a suit of any length.

2. If you have two kings, jump to three no trump.

(a) With three kings, jump to three no trump, then bid four no trump on your rebid.

3. If you have two aces, jump to four no trump (a force to slam).

4. If you have a ace and two kings, bid the ace first, then jump to four no trump on your rebid (a force to slam).

(a) If you have an ace-king of one suit, and the king of another, jump in the ace-king suit first, then rebid four no trump (a force to slam).

5. If you have an ace-king in the same suit, make a jump bid in that suit.

(a) With an ace of one suit, and the king of another suit, bid the ace suit first, then the king suit.

(b) With the ace of one suit, and the king of a suit bid by opener (the "trump" suit), bid the ace suit first, then jump in the king suit.

6. If you have one ace (and no other aces and no kings), and a rebidable suit headed by that ace, bid the ace first and then rebid that suit.

7. If you hold none of the above, respond TWO NO TRUMP. Opener will then know that you have, at most, one king.

(a) With one king, first respond two no trump, then bid the king suit on your rebid (if you have an opportunity to do so below the game level).

When East makes a three club response he shows the club ace, and no other aces. West now knows that a slam is in the hand and the only thing to be determined is the suit. That is found out in short order. If West did not know which ace East had he might figure on two club losers.

THE STORY OF TEN LITTLE FREE WORKERS

THESE ARE THE WORKERS

REDDY DOCTOR RAILROADER MINER STEELWORKER FARMER LAWYER GROCER SALESLERK REPORTER

Ten little free workers in this country fine and fair.

But if you cherish your freedom—worker have a care!

Ten little free workers—Reddy was doing fine

Until the socialist got him—then there were nine.

Nine little free workers laughed at Reddy's fate

Along came federal medicine—then there were eight.

Eight little free workers thought this country heaven

But the government took over the railroads, then there were seven.

Seven little free workers—'till the miners got in a fix.

Uncle said coal's essential and took over leaving six.

Six little free workers 'till the day did arrive

The steel mills too were federalized—then there were five.

Five little free workers—but the farmers are free no more

The farms have been collectivized—that leaves only four.

Four little free workers till the government did decree

All must have free legal advice—then there were three.

Three little free workers—the number is getting few,

But with government groceries selling food—then there were two.

Two little free workers—our story's almost done,

With clerks at work in federal stores—that leaves only one.

One little free worker—the reporter son-of-a-gun

Mustn't criticize government—so now there are none.

Ten little workers—but they are no longer free

They work when and where ordered, and at a fixed rate you see,

And it all could have been prevented if they'd only seen fit to agree

And work together instead of saying "it never can happen to me!"

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass...News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What was the score of the 1941 Pampa-Amarillo game?

WITH THIS WEEKEND FURNISHING THE BITTEREST and most exciting rivalry of the year in the Pampa-Amarillo contest I think it is a good time to broach a problem that has been growing worse and worse each year (and each year, they tell me). That is the problem of drinking at the football games.

Many people have apparently connected football games with a whiskey bottle; they can't go to a football game without their bottle of corked beer anymore than they can go without taking a blanket. Every Monday afternoon, after a home football game, the Harvesters have to run through and around empty liquor bottles that have been strewn over the practice field, many of them broken to pieces, causing further hazards for the athletes.

Where people have gotten the stupid notion that they have to drink to enjoy the game I don't know. The place for that type of fan is home beside the radio where they don't bother anyone who is out to enjoy the contest. The football game is a student affair, with the public invited to attend. The drinking of liquor by these adults certainly isn't a good example for the students to set for the students. Yet these same people will go home and admonish their children on the evils of "drink."

In a rivalry as heated as the Pampa-Amarillo one there are apt to be a few short tempers and hot words between the fans anyway. In such a situation there is no room for liquor.

What to do about it? The Southwest Conference prints a little note on the back of each ticket that says: "Drinking of intoxicating liquor at this contest is prohibited and violators will be ejected without refund. It is too late to have this notice printed on the back of the tickets for the game Saturday afternoon, but it isn't too late to post signs around all over the park with that information. And then back that up with some action by the police force. There will undoubtedly be a big contingent of the law enforcement officers on hand and they should be given the power to throw the drinkers out of the park.

Just a little restraint on the part of these drinking fans could provide a much nicer atmosphere at the game. Not only as well as all football games the entire season. Other places can successfully cut the drinking problem to a minimum, why not Pampa? I'm not stumping for the WCTU or for Alcoholics Anonymous, but it seems to me that this problem has grown pretty large when parents are forced to keep their children home and fans stay away from games because of the drunks.

The "Interscholastic League," the monthly publication of the Interscholastic League, lists eight ways to improve the sportsmanship and control the crowd at football games. The League says: "In most cases where trouble develops at athletic contests, it is fans, not players, who are at the root of the disturbance. The following suggestions are made for the specific purpose of preventing spectator disorder at athletic events:

(1) See that officers of the law are present at all home athletic contests, the number depending on the estimated size of the crowd and the rivalry involved. The law officers, in order to be effective, should be seen - hiding away in the crowd does not have the same effect as when officers are obviously present. Many cases of disorder can be prevented by removing obvious trouble makers before the individual has an opportunity to cause an incident. Arrests should be made of all trouble makers and warrants should be sworn out promptly in cases of disturbance of the peace, assault and battery, and disturbances of a similar nature. The State Executive Committee is of the opinion that unless the school insists on a warrant being issued against trouble makers, it is not fulfilling the obligation they accepted when they signed the football or basketball code.

(2) See that drinking and gambling are definitely not allowed at any high-school contest. Public address announcements to this effect, alert ticket sellers, ticket takers and ushers should be utilized to prevent "drunks" or "gamblers" from gaining admittance.

(3) See that the football field is fenced in so that it is impossible for fans to walk out on the playing field. Gymnasiums should have a barrier around the playing courts to keep crowds back. Police should be available to see that people stay behind the enclosures. Stands on the sidelines are more liable to cause trouble than people who are seated. One of the worst obstacles to officiating and crowd-control is to have the spectators crowd the sidelines.

(4) See that your coaches and players conduct themselves in such a fashion as not to incite the crowd.

(5) See that officials for all games are mutually agreed upon, and that their services are secured early in the season.

(6) See that the announcers at athletic contests are efficient and capable.

(7) School administrators should be alert and on the job at all athletic contests. It is a part of the school curriculum, a school event, and deserves their supervision the same as a study hall or the classroom. Many trouble incidents would never occur if the school authorities were mingling among the crowd and detecting possible trouble areas, rather than sitting comfortably in a reserved seat.

(8) See that peace officers meet the game officials on the field after each game and escort them to the dressing room. Prior to the game the officials should be notified to gather around the referee at the end of the game and accept this protection, not from fear, but as a courtesy offered them by the local school. This protection for officials should continue until the officials are safely away from the local community if spectator conduct warrants.

The State Executive Committee holds the superintendent of schools responsible for the proper conduct of football. After all precautions are taken that are humanly possible, if the trouble makers are arrested and the case actively prosecuted, then in my opinion the school administration has done everything that could be expected of them. However, where adequate preparation is not made before the game, where no arrests are made, and where DALLAS — (AP) — It's a trifle early to be talking about bowl games but right now there are pretty mighty fine prospects in the Southwest Conference.

Baylor is undefeated and untied. Rice has lost one game but it was outside the conference and the Owls are favored to win the conference title, which means, favored to beat Baylor. Rice already has gotten by Texas and Southern Methodist and Baylor is the only team left to worry too much about.

Rice, then, would go to the Cotton Bowl, which takes the conference title, which means, favored to beat Baylor. Rice already has gotten by Texas and Southern Methodist and Baylor is the only team left to worry too much about.

Of course, Baylor and Southern Methodist have yet to meet. SMU would really mess up the conference race by licking Baylor if the Bears, in turn, took down Rice. That would leave the title in a three-way tie. Then the Cotton Bowl would be a toss-up between the three and the other two would be prime bait for the Sugar and Orange Bowls.

Incidentally, the NCAA rules regarding bowl games, which would require 60 percent of the schools to accept the bowl for the competing schools and that NCAA representatives be on the boards governing the bowls, do not go into effect until after the next bowl games.

Thus, there will be a bowl game in every city town and hamlet again. Texas always goes in strong for such games. Look for at least eight bowl games in the state in December and January.

And while they're at it, some of the smaller bowls couldn't go wrong in seeking McMurry College. Here, folks, is quite a football team and with Brad Rowland, one of the greatest backs in the nation, including all the major colleges, would be a real attraction.

Ben Hogan, the great golfer who almost lost his life in an automobile accident near Van Horn last February, is making an amazing recovery.

Hogan was in Dallas Saturday for the Texas-Southern Methodist football game — and to appear on the radio — and reported he had gained 15 pounds.

Little Ben has just returned from England where he captained the American Ryder Cup team. He didn't play any golf, however, and says it may be some time yet before he does.

Ben commented that his family was doing a good job of supporting the hospital.

Hogan spent months in a hospital. His mother-in-law had to go to one for an operation. And now his wife has just undergone an operation.

The best crack of the football season: It was at the weekly luncheon of the sports writers Friday and H. N. (Rusty) Russell, assistant Southern Methodist University coach, was a guest.

Russell, in discussing the SMU football team, said the boys just couldn't win without Doak Walton, the all-America quarterback who was absolutely essential.

"But," broke in a writer, "SMU beat Kentucky last week and Walker wasn't even in the park — he was in a hospital. How about that?"

Before Russell could answer, James H. Stewart, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, said with a grin: "Why, didn't you read the papers? The officials won for SMU. They didn't need Walker."

Coach Bear Bryant of Kentucky had accused the officials of losing the game for him!

Ed Danowski, who guides the destinies of the intriguing Rams, is not satisfied with just separate offensive and defensive units. He has a special kickoff unit, a special one to receive kickoffs and another combination when place kicking. That's five in all.

Such finagling is carried on with 30 regulars and an occasional dip into the storehouse of some 15 reserves.

Injuries and Illness Slows Workouts As Harvesters and Sandstorm Prepare

Scheig Injury Weakens Pampa Defensive Wall

The Pampa Harvesters spent a long time on offense yesterday afternoon as they prepared their attack for the Amarillo defense at Harvester Park Saturday afternoon. Feeling that the best defense is a good offense, the Harvesters coaches prepared their running attack to cope with the expected Amarillo defenses in an attempt to outscore the boys from the Helium City.

A change was necessitated in the Harvester roster yesterday when it was found out that Gerald Matthews, reserve center and first string linebacker, would be unable to play Saturday. He was released from the hospital Friday after a week's stay to rest and cure a kidney bruise suffered in the game against the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes. In his place Saturday will be Tollef Hutchens, first string center on the Pampa Guerrillas, the "Big" squad. Hutchens tips the scales at 186 and is a Sophomore with two years experience on the Reapers at Junior High School.

Another very serious injury cropped up yesterday afternoon when Eddie Scheig, outstanding lineman, received a knee injury, which will place him on the doubtful list for this weekend. Scheig has been a brilliant performer all season long and his loss would leave an irreplaceable gap in the forward wall.

Two other Pampa hoppers, Jimmy Parker and Charley Smith, both of whom have been out for five weeks with ankle and knee injuries, were back in action yesterday and operating at near full speed. Parker was back at his end position, but will probably relinquish the punting chores to John Nolan or Carroll Smith. Whether he will be able to get into much action Saturday depends upon how his injured knee shows up this week in workouts. Charley Smith was running at the right halfback post, when Jimmy "Beaver" Hayes was getting a rest. Smith is still slowed by his ankle injury, but should be ready to go against Amarillo.

The rest of the squad appears ready for the bitter struggle for the favorite spot in District 1-AA Saturday. The team spirit is high and the boys are ready for the big game of the year. It will be the final home game of the season for the Green and Gold, but the team scoring the tying point, which is anticipated. Extra bleachers have been erected at both ends of the field to accommodate the crowd that should number in the area of 12,000 rabid, wild-eyed fans.

On Thursday afternoon the Junior High Reapers will start off the weekend's festivities with a game against the Amarillo Junior High Gridders from Horace Mann. Earlier this season the Guerrillas fought the Mann eleven to a 7-7 tie — at the all-America quarter-back after the game had ended.

The Pampa Guerrillas will also see action this weekend. They are scheduled to go to Berger on Friday night to engage the Bullpups in a return contest on Friday or Saturday. The game, Thursday night, The Guerrillas go into the game with a season's mark of 5 wins and 1 loss, the defeat, coming at the hands of Price College of Amarillo, was avenged last weekend when they downed the Cardinals 29-0 at Harvester Park.

Lefors Graders Play Tonight

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors sixth grade Robbers and the seventh grade Bandits travel to McLean, Tuesday night, Nov. 1, for two games. In the first, the Robbers defeated McLean 19 to 0, and the Bandits bowed 20 to 6. Ronnie Rice will pilot the Robbers from the tailback slot. Rounding out the box formation backfield will be J. D. Redus, Benny Rippy, and Joe Dan Watson. Johnny Rowe, who caught two touchdown passes in the last game is expected to be catching some more of them.

Dickie Redus, Carrol Welch, and McCarey, and Fred Blackwell will carry the ball for the seventh graders. Redus will do the piloting.

Dawson Signs For Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Freddy Dawson of Chicago who has failed to lick lightweight champion Ike Williams in three non-title efforts gets another opportunity Nov. 28 and this time the crown will be on the line.

Promoter Phil Glassman announced yesterday that Trenton Ike — undisputed boss of the 135 pounders since August 4, 1947 — has signed to defend his title for the fifth time.

The sharp punching Williams won the undisputed lightweight title by knocking out Bob Montgomery in six rounds at Municipal Stadium here more than two years ago.

DICK COOK, rugged Senior line-backer and reserve quarterback, will be called on to stop the line smashes of the Amarillo backs here Saturday afternoon. Dick is also an excellent passer and an all-district basebal player.

PAUL "FOOTS" BOSWELL, Senior tackle, will play plenty of action Saturday afternoon against the Amarillo eleven. An added load will fall on this 190-pounder if the injury to Eddie Scheig keeps the Junior line-man from action.

HAROLD SWINDELL, 190-pound Amarillo center, is alert on defense at all times. An expert line-backer, his specialty is intercepting opponent's passes that enter his zone.

Dalhart Loses Star Back; Upsets Mark Class A Week

(By The Associated Press)
Class A football is getting down to business and it's an upsetting business for quite a few of the touted little schools.

Kernit, Brenham and West were among those taking it on the chin last week.

New Braunfels and Mount Vernon rolled along in awesome fashion, while Hereford and Dalhart left District One just as jumbled as before. They battled to a 13-13 tie.

The rest of the schedule will have to settle this Panhandle district championship.

Dalhart may have suffered the most. It lost quarterback Billy Ritter for several weeks through an ankle injury. Perryton meets Dalhart this week, with Hereford playing Canyon.

Lefors, 35-12 victor over Clarion, still isn't sure of a clear lead in District Two. McLean tied Memphis, 19-19, but the district committee hasn't decided how to count the game.

Lockney dumped Floydada, 38-15, into a tie with Spur for the lead in District 3. Spur was idle last week.

Littlefield crushed Sundown, 66-0, and its game this week with Sudan may be the title tilt in the North zone of District Four.

Elston and Post are tied for the lead in the South zone. Post lost to Levelland, 21-12, while Elston beat O'Donnell, 31-0.

Kernit's 7-13 loss to Monahans left Wink in a good position to take the District 5-A crown. Monahans, the defending state champion, is out of the running as a district contender.

New Baby Bowl Game

EASTON, Pa. — (AP) — The newest football bowl game is the Piggy Bank Bowl.

It'll be played Nov. 26 at Easton with four midwest teams competing. The player requirements are less than 100 years of age and not over 13 pounds.

Sportsmen to Meet Tonight

The regular meeting of the Pampa Sportsman's Club will be held tonight in the Court House. Meeting time is 8 o'clock.

Tonight will be a family affair. All of the women and kids are invited to attend the meeting and see movies. An unusually large number of films have been secured for this meeting that are sure to interest the entire family.

Warden Slim Davis will present to help make plans for the crowd shoot to be held this month.

Grider Plays Whole Game With Bad Ribs

LAREDO — (AP) — The doctor just thought guard Bill Terry of the Laredo Junior College Palominos was "out for the rest of the season."

The Jacksonville youth played in a game at Brownsville Friday which he wouldn't have played had an x-ray of an injury been developed before the team left Laredo.

After the team's return, Coach Pappy Drennan dropped by the doctor's office. The doctor handed the coach the developed x-ray and said:

"Terry is out for the rest of the season."

"Well, he played most of the game Friday," Drennan replied. The x-ray showed two broken ribs.

Illness Keeps Sandie Regulars From Practice

By JERRY SHERIDAN
Amarillo Times Sports Staff

AMARILLO — (Special) — A limited workout occupied the Sandies Monday when Coach Howard Lynch found three regulars missing. Lynch kept Harold Swindell, center; Don Fitzgibbon, tackle and George Farrell, end, from opening the week's work against the Pampa Harvesters, Lynch was scowling.

Preparation for the game Saturday against Pampa opened with study of scout reports and outlining a few new plays and changes. Lynch put the Sandies through a rugged tackling workout, stressed defense all afternoon and kept trying to find another player to play on end.

Tommy Curtis and Jimmy Farmer on the limited service list, but both probably will be able to play by Saturday.

Then to cap the workout, Roy Byrd, Sandie defensive back, was injured against Pampa on end and the extent of his ankle injury was not immediately determined.

Lynch worked a defensive backfield which included Jack Newby, Sandie captain; Richard Stockton, Paul Bennett and Roy Byrd. Jimmy Moss, center, who worked a heavy stint last Friday, will handle the pivot until Swindell recovers.

The tackling workout was the only rough session of the afternoon and the Sandies shortened their regular practice time Monday.

Newby, who played only the last half of the game against Yale last Friday, was working full time this week. Tom Donnell, Sophomore back, still is laid up with a bad ankle and will probably be out for a chore against Pampa. Otherwise, the Sandies probably will be near full strength, since the three who missed Monday's session, probably will be back.

The Sandie offensive backfield will probably include E. C. (Atom) Sanders, the 221-pound wingback, Newby, Bobby Beverley and Moody Alexander, who calls the plays. Determined by the illness bulletins, Sandie ends will be Farrell Farmer, Clyde Israel, Jim Anthony or Warren Spaulding.

Injuries have heckled the Sandies almost every week since shortly after the start of the season and while few of them have finally turned out seriously, they have prevented forming a combination which could win a through more than one game.

The Golden Sandies are looking toward the Pampa game Saturday as the key to District 1-AA.

Looking back at a season which included three defeats, the Sandies consider Pampa as one of their hardest games. Little consolation comes to them from the fact that Pampa hasn't won from Amarillo since 1943, for they know the Harvesters have one of the strongest teams in recent years.

MIAMI — (AP) — Bull Lea and his clan are monopolizing the famed Widener horse races at Hialeah. Bull Lea won it in 1939. Son Armed took it in 1946 and 1947, and still another son — Coaltown — ran away with it last winter.

Baylor Gets Stiffest Test

WACO — (Special) — Coach Bob Woodruff's undefeated and untied Baylor Bears will face their most critical test of the season Saturday when they face the TCU Frogs before a Homecoming crowd of an estimated 20,000 fans in Waco.

The Bruins, who are one of the nine undefeated teams in the country, came out of the A&M game of last week in good physical condition and are expected to be in top form for the tilt. This game marks the second Homecoming in a row which Baylor has entered undefeated. Last year they barely edged A&M 20-14 before the alumni.

Baylor will pit its great All-American passer Adrian Burk against TCU's Lindy Berry. Burk has completed 58 passes out of 89 thrown for a net gain of 677 yards and eight touchdowns. The other half of the famed coaching trio, end J. D. Ison of the Bruins, has snagged 25 out of 27 thrown to him in Baylor's five games for a net gain of 260 yards and three touchdowns. Two of his misses were against the Aggies last week in the mud.

A heavy rain which fell in Waco Monday prevented the Bears from having an outside practice session, but Coach Bob Woodruff took the Bruins into the Rena Marrs McClennan gymnasium for their workout. As homecoming guests for the season, they will be the Baylor baseball team of 1923 and the football teams of 1922 and 1924, the last teams which won a title in those sports for the Bears.

Westerners Still Tops in State

DALLAS — (AP) — Lubbock's mighty Westerners were rated tops in Texas Schoolboy football again this week.

Sportswriters participating in the Dallas News poll kept Port Arthur right behind the Westerners.

Wichita Falls, Corsicana, Marshall, Baytown, Highland Park (Dallas), Grand Prairie, Abilene and Austin round out the first ten.

Marshall replaced Henderson in the top ten.

"We Wuz Robbed!" WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. — (AP) — "We wuz robbed," yelled Leo (Lippy) Durocher.

The New York Giants manager wasn't yelling at an umpire this time. He and his wife, actress Laraine Day reported to police last night that someone stole a purse containing $77 in cash and $75 worth of jewelry from a bedroom of their home.

Fido, a dog's name is taken from the Latin fides meaning faithful.

School Head Biggest Carnival Attraction

ENNIS, Texas — (AP) — Students poured their dimes into the till of one attraction at their school carnival.

For 10 cents they got three baseballs to throw at a target. When they hit the target it dumped a man into a big container of water.

The target: Superintendent of Schools J. F. Gardner.

Wedding Leads to Meat Loaders' Strike ROMFORD, England — (AP) — A wedding led to a strike here. Jack Murton, a meat loader, got married and went off on a three-day honeymoon.

His three fellow loaders at the wholesale meat supply depot asked for a substitute. Refused, they struck.

The area's meat ration is standing unloaded.

Khaki is a Hindustani word meaning "dust colored."
