Apple Knocking in Ninth Tells Tale

By JACK HAND

EBBETS FIELD (AP)—Big John Mize's two-run single topped a New York Yankee ninth-inning explosion that barely survived a dying-gasp double-bomber blast by Brooklyn today for a 4-3 victory in the third World Series game.

Admiral Heard on Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admiral Arthur W. Radford told Congress today that concentrating American military strength in the Air Force's big B-36 bomber is "a bad gamble with national security."

The theory of "a cheap and easy victory" through strategic bombing is unsound, Radford declared. Radford was before an open session of the House Armed Services Committee. The committee gave Naval officers an opportunity for the first time to air at the Capitol their differences with other armed services over high military policy.

Radford's statement was first given the House group at a closed session yesterday. Over the protest of Secretary of the Navy Matthews, the committee decided he should make it again publicly. Matthews took the position that national security might be damaged if Radford's views were made public. But the committee voted him down, 9 to 6.

The committee wants to find out why some Navy men—like the suspended Capt. John G. Crommelin—think morale and fighting efficiency of the sea service are being worn away by present defense policies.

At the outset Radford told the committee that defense planning may determine whether or not there is a war. He then set forth the following conclusions:

1. The B-36 would be "useless defensively and inadequate offensively" in an atomic war.
2. The atomic blitz theory of war, symbolized by the B-36, cannot be an effective deterrent to war nor can it win a war by the mere threat of its existence.
3. Air Force "over emphasis" on the heavy bomber has caused Air Force development and fighter air power to suffer. A lack of adequate fighters "may have grave consequences for future security of our bases and our homeland."
4. The Air Force adopted "unwise" policies.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Five half-starved abandoned children had clean beds here last night for the first time in many months. They were placed in a children's shelter by police.

Police Lieut. Ferdinand Fiest said the three boys and two girls, ranging in age from 16 months to 13 years, clothed in dirty rags and living in filth, were found after they had been left to hustle for themselves for more than a year. Their parents, he said, returned only occasionally to see them.

The oldest, a 13-year-old girl, told officers she and her brothers and sister had eaten only a box of crackers and a small package of cookies yesterday. She said she could not attend school because she had to care for the others and that two boys, 6 and 9, could not go because they had no clothes.

Marriage Business Kinda Bum

Business is kinda bum in the marriage license department of the county clerk's office. It not only slacked off under the new law—it stopped altogether.

Pampa wasn't the only metropolitan to feel the sting of the double examination, blood test and certificate obtaining. Houston, Fort Worth, Beaumont, San Antonio, San Antonio, and Corpus Christi tied with us according to the AP. El Paso and Dallas each scored one. Nothing was said about Amarillo.

Under the new law both the man and woman must have a physical examination, have blood tests run and certificates showing a clean bill of health before the county clerk may issue a hitchin' permit.

The Associated Press estimated that finding one of the 105 state approved laboratories might be one cause for the sharp decrease in marriage licenses. Quipped County Clerk Charlie Thut:

"This'll kinda slow down the divorce business about two or three years from now—ya' got?" (See MARRIAGE, Page 6)

Nitro Blast No Accident Says Sheriff

ODESSA (AP)—Sheriff Ernest Broughton said a shattering explosion of the nitroglycerine dump yesterday was no accident. He said tire tracks indicated someone had stolen some of the explosives and then deliberately set off the remainder.

The building, containing 2,000 quarts of the explosive, belonged to the Larkin Torpedo Company of Odessa. It is one of several Odessa firms supplying oil operators. The blast dug two craters five feet deep, destroyed the building and ripped up the surrounding area.

Broughton said tire tracks leading away from the scene indicated someone had backed a truck up to the magazine, stolen some of the explosives and then set a time bomb.

School Bond Assumption and Tax Election Set Tomorrow

Tomorrow is special tax election day. Every qualified voter in the Pampa Independent School District has been urged to cast his ballot in the bond assumption and maintenance tax election. Another cannot be held until next year, according to law.

All voters, both Roberts and Gray County, will cast their ballots at the Junior High School from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. The election was brought about as a result of the Gilmer-Aikin (recently dubbed the A. C. H. Gilmer Bill) School Reorganization Bill. Under it dormant common school districts had to be consolidated with adjoining, active districts—common or independent.

The Gray County School Board consolidated parts of Farrington, Keplinger and Laketon with Pampa Independent School District—83 square miles to Pampa's 183 square miles of school territory. The Roberts County School Board merged all of the Wayside and Green Lake Common School Districts with Pampa, adding 188 square miles of territory.

This action more than doubled Pampa's territory for an overall total of 84 square miles. It created a new district. Under existing statutes—not connected with the Gilmer-Aikin Bill—when a new district is formed, a bond assumption election and maintenance tax election must be held. Only one such election may be held each 12 months.

So Saturday all of the qualified voters in the incoming districts and all of the qualified voters in the receiving district (Pampa) will be able to vote. The bonds to be assumed by the new district are not new bonds, but current bonded indebtedness of the Pampa Independent School District. The maintenance tax has been set at a $1 maximum although the present rate is only 8 cents of the one dollar allowable.

If the election is carried, everything will be "rosy," but if it fails, the Pampa Independent School District will continue to carry the burden alone until next year at least when another election may be called.

Although none of the incoming districts has any bonded indebtedness they have current tax rates that are higher than Pampa's, but their lands carry a lower valuation. Now their lands will carry an increased valuation, but their rates will go down to the Pampa level. The action will give the Pampa Independent School District more money, and cost the taxpayer less per hundred dollar valuation.

School officials, when asked what happens if the bond and tax issue fail to carry, said: "I don't know." They added, however, that such issues have been carried before in the past. They believe this one will pass too.

EAST GERMAN REPUBLIC IS PROCLAIMED

BERLIN (AP)—The East German republic—Russia's newest satellite—was proclaimed today under the leadership of German Communists.

The German Peoples Council, heretofore a pro-Soviet public forum without any legal powers, voted unanimously to become immediately the lower house of the "German democratic republic."

The Germans now have two separate regimes—the one for the Eastern part of the country established today and the recently proclaimed West German government which has authority in the American, British and French occupation zones.

A president, premier and full cabinet for the East German republic will be named next week. The new East German regime was built up without the formality of elections in a week of intensive Soviet-fostered propaganda.

2nd Drive-In Theatre Will Be Put Here

Pampa is going to have another drive-in theatre. Paul West, manager of the Griffith Theatres here, said this morning he had been authorized to make the statement to The News.

The new outdoor movie will be located in a different part of town from the site of the present one, but he said he could not say where because the site had not been selected.

The Pampa Drive-In Theatre Highway was built during last winter and went into operation in April this year. There are about 500 individual speaker units at the drive-in. He said the new drive-in would have about that many.

Government Attempts to Halt Strike

The government stepped in today in an attempt to settle the coal strike but no move was made to bring peace in the steel district.

John L. Lewis, whose 380,000 United Mine Workers have been away from their jobs for three weeks in a dispute over pensions and insurance, said he will attend the session called in Washington by Cyrus Ching, chief government mediator. The operators earlier said they will be at the meeting.

In the week-old strike of 50,000 United Mineworkers, no union-management sessions were scheduled. But Ching was expected to try to talk next week with union and steel industry representatives. Pensions and insurance are the main issues of the dispute.

There was one bright note on the labor front. The CIO International (See GOVERNMENT, Page 6)

Chief Killed As He Makes Investigation

HEARNE (AP)—Police Chief N. L. Miller yesterday was killed by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun when he went to investigate a disturbance at a home in East Hearne.

Sheriff Bob Reeves said officers arrested Mrs. Lucille Kinck, 21, and took her to the County Jail in Franklin.

Knox Tidwell, an officer who had accompanied Miller, said the shot came through a glass window in front of the house about 20 feet from the officer.

Tidwell went for help and was joined by Reeves and deputies from Franklin. The house was surrounded and the officers fired several shots before Mrs. Kinck walked out the back door.

Auto Surgery Is Required

FADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Surgery—automobile, not medical—will be required to treat an outbreak of blisters here.

The puzzling rash greeted auto owners after yesterday's rain. Hoods, tops, fenders and doors of the cars were peppered with the bubbles. They varied from the size of a pencil dot to that of a dime.

The same tale of woe came from motorists at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Shreveport, La., and Tyler, Texas. The blisters, reacting like those on the human skin, oozed water when broken. The quantity, however, was so slight that Dr. John B. Entrikin, head of the Chemistry Department at Shreveport's Centenary College, said "it seems doubtful we will be able to analyze it."

Others have suggested that humidity and possibly chemicals in the air may have caused the swelling.

Used car lots and insurance companies here seemed to be facing the greatest loss. Policy holders, according to the companies, have said they intend to file claims. In many cases, this will mean a new paint job for the mechanical patient.

Carrier Looking to College Education

LOOKING AHEAD—This young Lefors boy, Dick Maples, 15, is "making money while a lot of other guys are just hanging around spending it." Carrier boy for The News, Dick is a fine example of the best in one of the divisions of newspaper work necessary to the industry. All America is observing National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8. (See editorial, Page 4.)

"I'm making money while a lot of other guys are just hanging around spending it." That is Dick Maples' idea of his business as carrier boy for The Pampa Daily News in Lefors. And Dick has a healthy bank account to back this up. In only nine months he has been able to buy many of his own clothes, including a pair of boots, some school supplies and "extras" and sent away about $175 in government bonds. He has $22 saved for another bond.

That's pretty good for a 15-year-old. But there has been a little involvement. Dick took over the job of carrier boy last year. At that time there were approximately 135 News subscribers in Lefors. But, through a little work and a lot of good service, he has built his route up to around 160 subscribers. Mail subscriptions and newsstand sales bring the total News circulation in Lefors to about 180.

Dick starts his route about 4 p. m. just after he gets out of school. By 7 p. m. he has covered almost 10 miles and delivered 160 papers. His younger brother, Jack, helps out on the remainder. In the nine months he has had the route, Dick has battled almost 1000 percent in delivering his papers. He was sick for two days just after school started this year and didn't get to cover the route. But his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Maples, got the papers delivered for him.

Even though his work takes several hours a week, Dick's school work doesn't suffer a bit. Now in the tenth grade, Dick has worked up one of the top grade averages in the Lefors High School. He kept up a straight "A" average all last year and now is working on another straight "A" for this year. He might do it, too. Dick wants to be valedictorian in his graduation. (See CARRIER, Page 4.)

Brief Twister Hits Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—A brief twister skipped through Houston's east side today, toppling homes and damaging an automobile on Telephone Road was picked up and hurled 15 feet. Witnesses said the twister moved across the area in a black cone. The automobile, owned by Mrs. Paul James, laundry employe, was turned for an end-over-end flip and deposited upright on a street curb about 15 feet from where it was parked. Clifford W. Pfifer, cafe owner, said he saw the twister moving in from the south. "I stood at the door of the cafe and saw it lift the car in the air, flip it over one time and drop it," he said. "At the same time the plateglass in front of my cafe crashed in." He said the twister lasted only a few seconds.

Vigilantes to Stop Burglaries

DALLAS (AP)—A group of citizens living in one of Dallas' better residential sections have organized a vigilante committee to put a stop to house burglaries. The vigilantes, who live at the home of Harold Volk, president of a large downtown department store, was ransacked. Freeman Burford, wealthy oilman, is leader of the group. Burford's home was robbed in June of almost $40,000 in jewelry. He said that 17 residents had joined the group. "One oilman told me he would give $50,000 alone to help protect residents of Park Cities and Dallas," Burford said.

Fire Prevention Parade Scheduled

Fire trucks and the Pampa High School Harvester Band will highlight the first stages of Fire Prevention Week, which will start Sunday, Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said. The trucks and band will lead a special Fire Prevention Week parade at 9 a. m. Monday, beginning at Junior High school, Winborne heads the Pampa Fire Committee. Others on the committee are Frank Wilson, Oris Butler and R. M. Mundine. Meanwhile, the Pampa Fire Prevention Week Committee, headed by E. O. Wedgeworth, is just about completed plans for the week.

Rodeo Directors Will Meet Tonight

W. D. Price, president of the Top-o-Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association has called a Board of Directors meeting for 7 p. m. today at the Chamber of Commerce office. The primary purpose of the meeting will be to plan the annual membership meeting, which will be held during the latter part of October. At that time 11 directors will be elected.

Oh, Deer, Another Shakedown Racket

ECHO LAKE, Colo., (AP) — A deer is "shaking down" motorists in the Echo Lake area. Everett Davidson of Denver reported the deer blocked the road in front of his car and wouldn't clear the highway until Davidson bribed him. Marshmallows did the trick, Davidson said.

"CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK"—Dickie Reidel, 10-year-old son of the famous endurance flier, is a champ in his own right. When Dickie was flown to Hot Springs, Ark., he was unable to move any part of his body except his head. After four months treatment at the famed spa, the youngster is now able to walk under his own power. Dickie's mother, at right, thinks that's quite a record, too.

Lions International City Planned by Organization

O. E. McDowell, president of Lions Club, and Brownie Scout Troop 814 presented the luncheon program at Lions Club yesterday. McDowell told of the plans for the Lions International City, which will be located about 25 miles out of Chicago. He said International President Briggs explained the reasons for the city at the opening day of the recent Lions Club International convention at New York City.

"Because of the enlarged enrollment of the international personnel and continued expansion of the organization, a separate city is needed," McDowell said. The prospective city will provide a permanent headquarters for Lions International personnel, will provide a central place for the printing of Lions literature and will provide various other advantages to the organization, he said.

Melvin Jones, who started Lions Clubs, first had the idea of an international city, McDowell said. The local president also spoke on the famed flag ceremony which opens Lions International conventions. He said flags and queens from the 26 member-nations were displayed at the recent convention portraying the "oneness of purpose of those 26 nations."

Fourth-grade Brownie Scouts of Troop 14 sang seven songs as their part of the program. Included were: "Hello," "Brownie Song," "Brownie Smile Song," "We're Going to Leave Old Texas," "Deaf Woman's Courtship," "Shoemaker's Dance" and "Golden Sun." Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., and Mrs. B. Edgar Allan Poe Stamp on Sale

A three-cent Edgar Allan Poe commemorative stamp went on sale this morning at the Richmond, Va., Post Office. W. B. Westherring, postmaster here, said the stamp should be received at the local Post Office in the near future. The Poe stamp commemorates the 100th anniversary of the death of the famed American poet and critic. Poe's portrait appears on this latest Postal Group issue. It was first sold from Richmond because it was the home of the poet for many years.

Ians Made for Nativity Scene

Charles Thomas, who had charge of the Christmas nativity scene which was constructed on Courthouse lawn last year, agreed to head the Nativity scene Committee again this year. Thomas has just returned from Hartford, Conn., where he had charge of a stock company during the past summer. He said a year's nativity scene will be arranged upon and placed in the City Park.

Two or three additional scenes will be added, he said. "We want to make the display one of the most outstanding nativity scenes in Texas."

Sponsors of last year's scene are Chamber of Commerce, Arts Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and Junior Chamber.

COUNTY FOLKS SEEK CITY FIRE PROTECTION

(EDITORS NOTE: Ten proposed changes in the Texas Constitution are to be voted on at the polls Nov. 8. Three of them are discussed in the following article, the fourth in a series.)

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN, (AP) — Fire protection for the folks outside the city limits.

District hospitals to serve one or more counties.

City-county health units to educate Texans in the ways of better health.

You, the Texas voter, will get a chance to say whether you are for or against these three proposals at a statewide election on Constitutional amendments Nov. 8.

Amendments authorizing the Legislature to create rural fire prevention districts and city-county health units would put the question of property-tax support on a local option basis.

The amendment empowering the Legislature to create hospital districts in the counties of the state leaves the taxing power in the legislators' hands. But no district could be created until approved by a vote of the people in the district.

The fire district amendment, No. 8 on the ballot, will read as follows:

"For (against) the Constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for the creation and establishment of rural fire prevention districts."

A maximum property tax of three cents on the $100 valuation could be voted by residents of a proposed fire prevention district.

The idea of providing fire protection for families in rural Texas areas originated in Smith County, East Texas. It was the result, at least indirectly, of long-time refusal by the city of Tyler to send fire trucks outside its city limits.

A number of fine homes are located outside Tyler's city limits. Owners became unhappy when they had fires and the Tyler Fire Department declined to answer their pleas for help.

Learning that several states had rural fire districts, a group of Smith County residents asked Senator Warren McDonald to introduce similar legislation this year.

The proposed Constitutional amendment does not outline any details of how such districts would operate. George C. Hawley, chief engineer of the staff fire insurance commission, says cities probably would be willing to provide service if revenue raised by the 3-cent tax were enough to cover expenses.

Or districts might buy their own equipment and develop their own fire fighting force.

Creation of hospital districts was proposed by Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio, No. 9 on the ballot, the proposal reads as follows:

"For (against) the amendment to the Constitution of the state of Texas authorizing the Legislature to provide for the establishment and creation of hospital districts."

This was another instance of statewide action being suggested in order to solve a local problem.

Robert B. Green Memorial Hospital, a city-county hospital in San Antonio is supported by a 10-cent property tax. That is the maximum the commissioners court is authorized to levy. The Legislature had no power to pass a law increasing the rate. A Constitutional amendment was the only route by which taxes could be authorized.

There was little legislative argument over the measure. Backers said the amendment would not only help San Antonio and Bexar County, but also would permit counties in sparsely populated areas of the state to set up centrally located hospitals to meet their needs.

A few opponents contended that the idea of creating districts containing several counties would not work. Taxpayers would not want to support a hospital located outside their county, they argued.

There was also some opposition because the amendment would not limit the tax rate which the Legislature could set. This argument was offset somewhat

Powwow Tomorrow For Cub Leaders

About 150 Cub Scout leaders and parents are expected to attend the Adobe Walls Area Councils Powwow from 2 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Frank Phillips Junior College, Borger.

Erwin F. Glasgow, Phillips, will serve as general chairman. Myles Morgan and H. D. McWaters, Pampa, will have charge of handicrafts.

Any den mother who has handicrafts made by Cub Scouts is asked to take them with her so they may be displayed at the Powwow.

The last Cub Scout Powwow of the council was held about this same time last year at the Pampa High School.

Round, Round They Go; Now It's Bass

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — One more item has been added to California-Florida rivalry. Dr. Carl L. Hubbs, professor of biology at the University of California, says Florida's smallmouth bass are really largemouth bass.

The statement is made in a paper published with Dr. Reeve M. Bailey of the University of Michigan. The paper says that smallmouth bass have been planted in Florida, but they do not do well. And it suggests that claims of record smallmouths caught in Florida be disallowed because these fish really are largemouths.

Mize Starts Spree By Driving in Two

JOHNNY MIZE
MIZE'S ninth inning single, that drove in two Yankee runs, started a final scoring spree that the Dodgers, playing on their home field, could not quite surmount.

get to the mound to consult with his battery.
Hodges walked on five pitches to load the bases.
That was all for Byrne and he was replaced by Page.
Page fouled to Henrich who reached into the field boxes behind first to make a fine glove-hand catch.
Snider whacked Page's first pitch on the ground to Coleman who flipped him out.
One run, two hits, no errors, three left.

FIFTH INNING YANKEES
Snider gathered in Coleman's hit in straightaway center.
Page fanned on three pitches.
Reese gobbled up Rizzuto's hot grounder and threw him out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING DODGERS
Cappanella rolled out to Coleman.
Branca was called out on strikes.
Reese hit right back to Page who threw him out.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING YANKEES
Henrich flied to Furillo.
Berra rapped to Hodges who booted him in the race to first.
DiMaggio popped to Hodges.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING DODGERS
Mapes galloped into right-center field to get under Miksis' fly.
Furillo bounced out, Coleman to Henrich.
Robinson walked on four pitches.
Hodges flied to DiMaggio.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING YANKEES
Brown hit sharply to Robinson and was an easy out, Jackie to Hodges.
Woodling was out on an easy straightaway fly to Snider.
Mapes skied to Snider, who nearly misjudged the high fly but recovered in time to make the catch.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING DODGERS
Olmo raised an easy pop foul to Berra directly behind the plate.
Snider slapped Page's second pitch on the ground to Henrich who beat him to the bag.
Cappanella flied deep to Woodling.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING YANKEES
Coleman was called out on strikes.
Reese bobbled Page's half-topped roller near second base but recovered in time to throw the runner out by an eyelash.
Reese backed into short left field to get under Rizzuto's high pop.
No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING DODGERS
Branca was called out on strikes.
Reese walked on five pitches.
Miksis shot a single into the hole between third and short. Reese stopped at second.
Furillo flied to Mapes. The runners stayed at their bases.
Robinson backed up DiMaggio for his live drive in dead center.
No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING YANKEES
Robinson caught Henrich's smash and threw him out.
Berra walked.
DiMaggio went out on a foul to Miksis.
Brown singled past Hodges, sending Berra to second.
Joe Hatten, a lefthander, started warming up in the Dodger bullpen.

Woodling walked to fill the bases.
The fourth ball to him was very low and hit the dirt, but Campanella made a fine stop to prevent an advance.

Johnny Mize, former New York Giant slugger, went in to hit for Mapes.
Jack Banta, a righthander, joined Hatten in the Dodger bullpen.

Mize slammed a 2-1 pitch against the screen in right field close to the foul line scoring Berra and Brown and sending Woodling to third. It was a long single for Mize.

Jack Banta replaced Branca on the mound for the Dodgers.
Hank Bauer was sent in to run for Mize.

Coleman slapped a single into center scoring Woodling and sending Bauer to third.
Page went down swinging.
Three runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

NINTH INNING DODGERS
Hank Bauer went in to play right field for the Yankees.
Hodges was an easy out, Coleman to Henrich.

Olmo hammered a home run into the lower left field stands, 350 feet away.
Snider struck out, swinging.
It began to rain as Campanella came to bat.

He fouled off Page's first two pitches, then hit a 1-2 pitch into the left field stands for a home run. The ball barely cleared the railing above the wall.
Bruce Edwards came in to bat for Banta.

Page's first pitch to Edwards was a called strike. Edwards swung and missed the second pitch for strike two. The third pitch was low for a ball. Edwards was called out on strikes.
Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

Five Cornell football teams have been undefeated and untied since the school began football in 1887.

Harvesters Tangle With Coyotes Tonight

Pampa Rated Underdogs in Class AA Spotlight Game

The Pampa Harvesters left early this morning for Wichita Falls where tonight they will climb into the state schoolboy football spotlight when they encounter the second-rated Coyotes at Coyote Stadium. The Harvesters, ranked about 20th in the state, are given little chance against the speedy Coyote eleven.

Both teams are undefeated so far in the 1949 race. The Harvesters have rolled through four opponents, the Coyotes past three. Last weekend the Green and Gold just managed to sneak past Vernon, rated as powerful as the Coyotes by many observers in District 2-AA. But the victory was a costly one when Jimmy Parker, stellar defensive end and punter, and carried off the field with a twisted knee, lost to the team for an indefinite period of time. Also sidelined tonight will be Charley Smith, hard running half-back.

The main problem confronting the Pampans tonight will be to bottle up the running attack of the Pack. Leading that attack will be Bill Waggoner, 156-pound tailback on the box formation employed by the 2-AA club. He has been their leading ground gainer this season, though he sat out the game last week against Abilene with an injury. He is a speedy boy who couples with another speedster in the backfield, Billy Bookout. Doing the power running for the Coyotes will be Tommy Fields. He will be hitting a line bolstered by Harris, a little brother of the all-American of yesterday, Dick Harris.

The Pampa starting lineup will be the same as usual, with a few changes at the opening kickoff, depending upon whether the Harvesters kick off or receive. The ends will be Tommy Allison and Weldon Witcher. At the tackles will be Eddie Scheig and Paul Boswell. The guards will be manned by Marvin Harvel and James Holt. Leon Taylor will start at center.

The backfield will be the same as always. Carroll Smith will call the signals, Jimmy Hayes and Pete Cooper at the halfbacks and Ken Kennedy at full.

Elmer Wilson and Dick Cook will probably see a lot of action. Wilson is fully recovered from the charley horse suffered against El Paso and will be ready to go tonight. Cook will get the call for a lot of passing. He fires the ball like a bullet and is exceptionally sharp on spot passes, and several plays have been set up for him.

Game time tonight will be 8 o'clock. For those who are unable to attend the big contest it will be broadcast by radio station KPND, starting at 8 o'clock, with Ken Palmer and Denny Sullivan at the microphones.

Sympathy for Roe!
Brooklyn (AP) - Phil (The Scooter) Rizzuto, smallest Yankee of them all, was holding court in the Yankee dressing room after their epic 1-0 defeat at the hands of Brooklyn's Preacher Roe.
"The first time you face Roe, you actually feel sorry for him," he said. "He looks so sad and skinny."
"The second time you bat against him, you still feel certain you can hit him with your eyes closed, even though he struck you out the first time. The ball comes to you as big as a balloon."
"When you get up there to hit against him the third time, you're cursing him all over the park, and hope you never see him again. He's a cutey. That's what he is. He never gives you the sat, fact one, he always throwing that trick stuff at you."
That probably is the best way to describe the 31-year-old lefthander. Six-foot one, and weighing 155, the pipe-smoking native of Hardy, Ark., who once taught high school mathematics, looks like he'd fall apart if caught in a cross-wind.
He's supposed to be unable to work more than once a week yet,

Guerillas Battle Childress Here Tomorrow Night at 8

The Guerillas, the Pampa "B" squad, will meet the Childress "B" team at Harvester Park tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in their third game of the season. The Guerillas already hold wins over the "B" squads from Plainview and Borger. The game was originally scheduled for last night but Childress requested a change of date due to an "A" team game tonight between Childress and Phillips at Phillips.

The probable starting lineup for the Guerillas tomorrow night will have Roy Pool, 158 pounds, and Jimmy Cook, 152, at the ends. The tackles will be manned by James Shelton, 194 pounds, and Gene Bynum, 165. At the guard slots will be Ed Langford, 125, and co-captain Bill McFerguson, 125. Tolle Hutchens, weighing 157, will man the center post.

The backfield will be quartered by Sid Mills, 134 pounds. At the halfback posts the starters will be Harold Smith, 125, and co-captain Darrell Wilson, 145 pounds. Charles Ely, crushing fullback will round out the backfield foursome. Ely weighs in at 175 pounds.

Wilson and Smith are the scabbacks in the backfield. Both are small, but their speed and faking ability make them dangerous runners. Ely is a power boy that smashes through the line for yardage.

Little is known about the Childress team, but they will Dallas in all probability, be using all of the boys that don't see action at Phillips, plus quite a few that play against Chesty Walker's powerhouse.

White Deer and Vega Meet at Vega Tonight

WHITE DEER - (Special) - The White Deer Bucks will be trying for their third conference win of the season when they journey to Vega to take on the Longhorns, newcomers to District 1-B, at 8 o'clock Friday night.

The Longhorns have a season's record of three wins and one defeat. They started the season off well by downing the Spearman Lynx, 7-0. Then they beat Quittaque, 27-7, and mauling Stinnett, 33-0. Their only setback came at the hands of the Panhandle Panthers, 18-0.

The Bucks also have a good record. They got by Dumas, 28-14, were mauled by the Lefors team, 33-7, battered the Stinnett Raiders, 68-0, and last weekend, pasted the Wheeler Mustangs, 40-0.

Ronnie Buchanan, White Deer back, will see very little action, if any, in this game because of an injury received in the Wheeler tussle, but he will probably be ready to go next week.

The Bucks, one of the smaller teams in the district, will be outweighed this week by a large margin. The Vega line averages 183 pounds, while the White Deer line averages a mere 151. The Longhorn backs will hold a 10-pound weight advantage over the backs from White Deer, with the Vega foursome weighing in for an average of 153, and the backs from Backlund tipping the scales for an average of 143.

Probable starting line-up for the Bucks will be: Scott, LE; Smith, LT; Thornburg, LG; Horn, C; Staats, RG; Eller, RT; Imel, RE; Talley, Harvey, Jordan, and Noble, backs.

on a lot of tackles, breaking up the Ranger plays the first half. Offensively the running of Harold Lewis, David Enloe and Ed Dudley was the feature.

Next Thursday the Reapers play the Borger Junior High gridders at Harvester Park.

SPORTS

Texas-Oklahoma Game Will Feature on SWC's Weekend

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Four Southwest Conference teams will travel the inter-sectional football trail tomorrow with only two of them favored to win. A family squabble at Waco between Baylor and Arkansas fills out the week's schedule. This is the most important game but the one with the major interest will be the battle of Texas and Oklahoma at Dallas.

Oklahoma, accorded a touch-down edge, sends its tried and tested forces against a Longhorn team that doesn't know its own strength. Texas has spent its time mopping up on weak opposition. Oklahoma hasn't met too much strength in its foes this season, either, but the Sooner veterans, it is already conceded, can go against anybody.

Baylor always has been the team for Arkansas and is favored to keep right on that way. On the face of last week's three-touchdown triumph over Texas Christian, however, it would appear the Baylor boys have their work cut out for them.

The Bears have played a couple of tough ones and should be at just the right peak for the Razorbacks. Arkansas undoubtedly will be below last week's standard; a let-down from the heights reached in upsetting Texas Christian is inevitable.

Anyway, one undefeated, untied team will fall in this battle. Texas Christian journeys to Bloomington, Ind., for a crack at lowly Indiana. The Horned Frogs would have to be as flat as a pancake to lose to the Hoosiers.

In night games, Rice will take on New Mexico of the Border Conference at Houston, while Texas A&M attempts to tame the Louisiana State Tigers at Baton Rouge. It appears a forlorn hope but the Aggies ought to make a ball game of it.

Rice should win over New Mexico with comparative ease. Like everybody else we missed two out of six last week. The percentage probably will be lower this week since there are not as many games but here goes:

Texas vs. Oklahoma at Dallas - Texas A&M's Freshman gridders ground out a 28-13 victory over Weatherford Junior College last night.

The Fish scored in every period. Duncan McCauley counted both of Weatherford's touchdowns.

Bloomington-The Horned Frogs won't be very far 'tup' but they ought to be high enough to beat one of Indiana's weakest teams.

Texas A&M vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge-LSU isn't a world-beater but it ought to have enough to trim the Aggies by a touchdown.

Rice vs. New Mexico at Houston-If Rice doesn't win this one they better start basketball season.

MAD AT ARKANSAS - L. E. Meyer (above), coach of the Texas Christian University football team, has protested what he termed Arkansas "rough" tactics and "flagrant" violation of rules. Arkansas beat Meyer's team, 27-7, last Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What are the nicknames of the following schools: University of Alabama; University of California; and Oklahoma City University?

YOU CAN BET THAT THE BROOKLYN DODGERS will never forget the "Old Pro," Tommy Henrich. After his game-winning home run in the opening game of the World Series his name will always be mentioned with reverence by the Bums. But there was another time he figured prominently in a Yankee World Series victory over the lads from Flatbush.

That was way back in the World Series of 1941. Remember when Hugh Casey breezed the third strike past the batter to apparently end a winning ball game for the Dodgers? Remember what happened? Mickey Owen, who later jumped to the Mexican League, took his now famous sleep, allowing a couple of Yankee runners to score and the batter to get on base safely. By the time the side was finally retired four Yankees had scored and won the game for the Bronx Bombers. The fellow who should have been the third out on the ball that Owen slept atop was Tommy Henrich.

Then in the 1947 series with the boys from Flatbush he again had considerable to say about the final outcome. He did his talking with his bat, which also produced another home run.

Friday afternoon, and time for weekend's predictions.

As you should never give up on a winner. This week there are two of them in the Pampa-Wichita Falls game. But I'm going to stick with the Harvesters, not so much out of loyalty to the home team, but as a testimonial to a fine young, fighting ball team. The Coyotes have been rated second in the state. But by downstate writers. They once rated the Harvesters high atop the list, too. The play of the Coyotes has surprised the Pampa fans and followers. They are due to be beaten, and I think the Green and Gold can do it.

In other district games, I'll take Paschal over Berger Saturday night, and I look for Odessa to knock Amarillo from the list of undefeated, while Plainview is being edged out by Midland.

Locally, look for Shamrock to top Memphis, McLean to beat Perryton, Lefors to drop Dumas, White Deer to beat Vega, Phillips to upset Childress and Canadian to down Claude. Plainview is being edged out by Midland.

Around the collegiate ranks this weekend, I like—Texas to defeat Oklahoma. The Steers power has yet to be tested.

Robinson Gets Sharp Rebuke From Happy
NEW YORK — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's explosive second baseman, has been given a sharp warning by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler to "behave himself."

On the carpet as the result of an outburst in the spring and banished for a run-in with an umpire in one of the late season games, the Negro infielder drew another rebuke for criticizing the umpiring in the first World Series game.

After the opening Series game, won by the New York Yankees 1-0, Robinson beefed about the

Hey! Baseball Fans! There's a Full Schedule of Football Ahead

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK — (AP) — This may surprise the more rabid baseball followers but there is a full schedule of college football games carded for Saturday, too.

This is how the games should come out if they follow form: Michigan over Army; The Cadets have the miseries in the fullbacking department and they are likely to have them even worse at the final score.

Notre Dame over Purdue: The Irish, also owners of an unbeaten string, appear to be about four touchdowns better than the Big Ten Bollweaver.

Kentucky over Georgia: It is Kentucky's homecoming and Coach Bear Bryant will have his Wildcats fired up to protect their unbeaten status.

Ohio State over Southern California: This could be a preview of the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl encounter. No Coast team has defeated a top flight Midwest eleven since the war and there is no indication that the Buckeyes will lose. Could be very close.

Oklahoma over Texas: Darrell Royal is Oklahoma's passing quarterback and the Texans will suffer a Royal flush trying to keep up with him.

Duke over Navy: A year ago the Duke Freshmen were crushed by the Navy Fleets. Those players are Sophomores now and the Dixie lands will get their revenge.

Stanford over UCLA: The first of the West Coast's crucial games. Stanford is favored to win, but UCLA appears too green for Stanford.

Minnesota over Northwestern: Minnesota fans will be singing "Billy Boy," in honor of Billy Bye, after this one.

Yale over Columbia: Columbia appears too green for the likes of Levi Jackson and Ferd Nader.

North Carolina over South Carolina: Just what was it the two governors of those two states said to each other?

Friday over New Mexico A&M over Mexico Military.
Saturday — Missouri over Oklahoma A&M, Texas Christian over Indiana, Texas Tech over Tulsa, Arkansas over Baylor, Texas A&M over West Texas State, Hardin-Simmons over Arizona, Rice over New Mexico, Tulane over Southeast Louisiana, Louisiana State over Texas A&M.

Little World Series In 1-1 Deadlock
INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — Dan Bankhead of Montreal and Mel Queen of Indianapolis got the nod today to try to pitch their respective teams out in front in the Little World Series tonight.

Clarence Podhenski of the Royals even with Indianapolis last night with a light two-hit 7-1 victory. It was Bankhead who got the International League off the mat with a triumph Monday night after the Indians had won the first two games at Montreal.

World Series News Notes

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers are fooling the experts. The Brocks were expected to steal the pants off the New York Yankees but so far they have managed to swipe only one base while the Yanks have purloined two.

Fee Wee Reese stole second in the opening game for the Dodgers while Phil Rizzuto and Billy Johnson turned the trick for the Yankees yesterday. Johnson's act of larceny was only his second of the season.

Preacher Roe's brilliant 1-0 shutout over the Yanks yesterday was only the sixth white washing suffered by the Yanks in 84 World Series games.

Lefty Arne Nelson shut out the Yanks 1-0 in 1921 and 1934 for the New York Giants. Jack Scott of the Giants blanked the Yanks, 8-0 in 1922. Jess Haines of the St. Louis Cardinals authored a 4-0 victory in 1928 and Lefty Ernie White of the Cards turned in a 2-0 classic in 1942.

Five Tulsa pitchers tried to silence the Vols' big bats as Nashville slugged its way back into the series with a 10-5 victory in the sixth game of the series last night.

One of the reasons advanced by some for the light hitting in the first two games was the removal of the green canvas screen in the centerfield bleachers. The screen, up all season, was pulled down in order that 500 more bleacher fans could be accommodated. Some observers believe that although $500 more dollars was raked in, the hitting suffers.

When the Dodgers scored in the second inning yesterday, it ended a string of 17 consecutive scoreless innings in World Series history in the centerfield bleachers. The screen, up all season, was pulled down in order that 500 more bleacher fans could be accommodated. Some observers believe that although $500 more dollars was raked in, the hitting suffers.

Tommy Byrne, wild young left-hander of the Yanks selected to start today's third game, has never pitched in a Series before. Byrne's expected opponent either Rex Barney or Ralph Branca, each appeared in three games in the 1947 set. Branca won and lost a game and Barney dropped one.

Henry Traška scored the winning touchdown for Kilgore in the final quarter, crossing the goal line from the six-yard line.

Dan Page passed to Charley McGinty for two Tyler tallies and to Kenneth Bahnsen for another. Bahnsen also scored two other touchdowns.

Stengel Never Out of Job Since 1910; Was Paid for Not Managing Dodgers

First of three dispatches on Casey Stengel.

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When Dan Topping and George Weiss gave up on Bucky Harris last fall, they found that Co-Owner Del E. Webb, the real boss, had picked the new manager of the Yankees for them.

Charles Dillon Stengel had just led the Oakland club to the Pacific Coast League pennant, his second in the minors in five years.

But the choice of Casey Stengel to guide the proud Yankees was a surprising one. While no one could fault him as an outfielder during his playing days, Stengel, by this time 37, was labeled a bust as a major league manager when he failed to get the Dodgers and Braves out of the second division in nine years.

In 1937 Casey was even paid for not managing the Brooklyn club.

He was remembered chiefly for beating the Yankees on successive days in the 1923 World Series by hitting home runs, and as a funny man who spun a yarn better than he knew.

Contractor Webb happened to have a job in Oakland a year ago, saw a great deal of Stengel and the Oaks.

"One night after a game, I sat around talking baseball with Stengel until one o'clock in the morning," he said, explaining the choice. "Driving by the park the next morning at eight, I heard a ball being batted around, and players shouting. Curious to know what was going on at that time of the morning, and especially after a night game, I looked in. "There was Stengel hitting in field practice for four or five kids."

BOTH SIDES—Casey Stengel gave you a wink in the spring, but there was nothing funny about the finish. That took a lot of doing, was hard work.

"I made up my mind then that a fellow with Casey's enthusiasm for baseball, after being in it for 39 years, belonged in the Yankee organization. So when the opening came, he got the job."

When Webb, Topping and the departed Larry MacPhail pursued the New York American League chain in 1945, Webb's building business kept him in Kansas City much of the time, so he served as president of that Yankee subsidiary. Stengel was the manager, and while the club finished seventh, he made a hit with Webb. As related in the foregoing, the man who started out to be a left-handed dentist tells a whole of a story.

Stengel's trouble as a major league manager until '39 year was that he had no money and no ballplayers.

He had to laugh off bad clubs. The tip-off on his value, however, is shown by the fact that he hasn't been out of a baseball job since as a kid of 18 he first signed with Kankakee of the Northern Association in 1910.

Casey Stengel always told funny stories and clowned, but he is a serious baseball man whose opinions are respected.

NEXT: Stengel stories.

Justice-to-Weiner Combo In Howell-to-Hutson Class

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — North Carolina lost most of its line, but a report filed by Scout Sug Jordan of Georgia makes it clear that Carl Snively isn't exactly suffering from the shorts.

"Justice and Weiner are as good as over," it reads, and Jordan ranks them as a passing combination with Dixie Howell and Don Hutson, Alabama's matchless pair of 1944. Ken Powell, the other end, is Art Weiner's equal as a pass-slayer, according to the Athens bird dog, and Fullback Bill Hayes is a good enough runner and passer to take over Choo Justice's tailback spot.

Bill Kuhn is considered one of the finest sophomore tackles in the final quarter, crossing the goal line from the six-yard line.

Dan Page passed to Charley McGinty for two Tyler tallies and to Kenneth Bahnsen for another. Bahnsen also scored two other touchdowns.

Coach Snively will need all this and them some when Chapel Hill tackles Notre Dame in New York's big one at Yankee Stadium, Nov. 12.

Seven-Yard Sitko and the Frank Leahy-perfected Irish even have television fans standing up and cheering.

Oklahoma A. and M. played Texas Christian to a 33-33 tie as Missouri was shaded by Ohio State, 35-3.

Perhaps both sides will mend their defenses somewhat by the time A. and M. invades Columbia, Oct. 8, but statisticians in the press box may still require adding machines. The Cowpokes ran well against an admittedly strong TCU, and Missouri moved against a Buckeye brigade some people rank at the top of the Big Nine.

Lindy Berry of Texas Christian is showing considerable early foot in the race for All-America recognition, by the way, with a total offensive average of 233.5 yards in the first two games, the other one with Kansas. Dutch Meyer's tailback has the phenomenal passing average of .615.

Nine of Florida's starting team began as freshmen when Bear Wolf took over in 1946. So this really ought to be the year, with Chuck Hunsinger, a wondrous back, leading the way.

Fritz Crisler draws deeply upon 30 years-of experience placing a new book, Modern Football, in the hands of gridiron students, players and fans.

The famous coach who is now Michigan's athletic director places the parts of football on the laboratory table, and lectures learnedly, but pleasingly, on a game he loves and treats reverently.

Crisler points out that the modern T has some of the greatest strength and richest potentialities of the game. And some inherent weaknesses, which, if pressed, will defeat it. The single wing and the double wing, a sledgehammer inside of tackles, are analyzed so that the sophomore of today and the Old Blue of '14 can know what develops on the field.

The razzle dazzle of the day and time, the hoopla of rayon-clad cheerleaders and dainty majorettes all have their place, but you know when you've read Fritz Crisler's charmingly simple, yet deeply authoritative tome, what you knew in the first place.

This is that essence of the attack is blocking, and the secret of the defense is tackling.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON WHOSE OX IS GORED—That cat-and-canary grin on Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's face, left, appeared when he learned President Truman had announced a Russian atomic explosion. A few days later the grin came off—replaced by the darkly serious expression at right. The cause: Vishinsky had to sit and "take it" while British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin castigated Russia's obstruction of true peace progress.

Nine Men Are Found Dead In Airplane

ASHEVILLE, N.C. — (AP) — Ranger Tom Huffman, reported today that all nine men aboard an Air Force C-47 transport that crashed in the mountains near here were dead.

The wreckage of the plane was found six miles from the Blue Ridge Parkway, three-quarters of a mile down on the east side of Mount Mitchell, highest mountain east of the Mississippi.

Huffman said Game Warden W. C. Hall reported to him that he had seen the wreckage and that all nine men were dead and the plane burned. He said that Hall told him one of the victims apparently had crawled from the wreckage and was burned.

The plane was found as ground and air groups began their second day of searching.

The plane, enroute from Washington to Brookley Air Base at Mobile, Ala., had been missing for 42 hours at 7 a. m., EST.

Tough-Acting Mood

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In a new tough-acting, tough-acting mood, the Western powers may make Berlin the scene of their next move in the heated dispute with Russia over Germany.

Diplomatic officials said the United States, Britain and France are considering adding their zones of Berlin to the West German Republic to counter the creation of a Communist-run government in Eastern Germany.

The three nations earlier had turned down an appeal for such a move from German officials in Western Berlin, on grounds it might anger Russia and further complicate four-power relations.

Too Many Demands

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — The national commander of the American Legion warned today there are too many demands for increased government services—demands which may lead to a "welfare state."

His warning came in a speech prepared for delivery at the national AFL convention, which only yesterday went down the line again for a broadened federal Social Security Law, federal aid for housing, and President

Even without the scholarship, Dick plans to go to college. That is the main purpose behind his ever-increasing bank account. He figures that by 1952 he will have saved enough to pay his way through the first year at either Hardin-Simmons University or Texas Tech., where he wants to study petroleum engineering.

"After that, I can finish school somehow or other," Dick believes anyone can get a college education if he wants to work for it. Dick wants to get through school and he has already shown he doesn't mind working.

That said that only two of the 100 state approved laboratories are in the Panhandle. Both are in Amarillo — The Amarillo City Health Dept. Laboratory and the First Clinical Laboratory.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said that while lots of places didn't have an approved laboratory, this wouldn't work a too serious hardship. Blood samples may be sent to Austin for testing or to the nearest approved laboratory.

But what to do with the license that was bought before the law went into effect? In the opinion of S. L. Davis, chief deputy clerk at Corpus Christi, they would be valid indefinitely. He issued 22 licenses the day before the law became effective. Dallas issued 46 the day before the deadline. Pampa issued only one.

Here's what to do if you find a prospective husband — or ball and chain:

Miami Club Holds First Fall Meeting

MIAMI — (Special) — The Men's Service Club held its first fall meeting Tuesday night in the basement of the Methodist Church. Forty-eight members and guests were present.

The program was directed by the Speech Department of Miami High School. Miss Virginia Hunter, English and speech instructor, introduced Bill Philpott, who served as master of ceremonies. Misses Jean Carol Low, Barbara Keelin and Pauline Allen, gave three vocal numbers, accompanied by Miss Juanita Haynes at the piano.

Miss Hunter's imitation of the radio star, "Minnie Pearl," was the highlight of the evening's entertainment. She was encored again and again.

During the business session, presided over by President Earl Breeding, Mayor R. J. Bean gave a report on the paving project and also stated that 27 street lights will be installed soon, most of them, this month.

Two guests, F. A. Donnell, traveling freight and passenger agent, of the Santa Fe, were introduced by Judge Woody Fond, and were asked to discuss means of easing the situation with regard to having the Miami depot closed on Saturdays and Sundays. They promised to give the matter every consideration.

Judge Fond also reported that the State Highway Department has approved the Miami-Laketon road and will let the contract either the last of October or early in November.

Other club guests were J. S. McBride, Attorney Frank Potter and Carroll Wilson.

Dinner was served to the club and guests by members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Both the East and West governments hope ultimately to be the government for all Germany.

Described by the Communists as a "great hour of German history" the formation of the Peoples Chamber of the East republic followed seven approving speeches by Communist sympathizers in the council. No one spoke against the resolution.

The council agreed to meet for the first time as a Peoples Chamber later today.

Each of the services should be permitted to bring experimental weapons through the development, test and evaluation stages.

But no service should be permitted to go overboard on any single weapon in quantity until it has passed these stages.

The defense budget should not be used for unproven weapons. "The American taxpayers cannot afford billion dollar blunders."

Strategic bombing should be a primary role of the Air Force, but the defense of the U. S. should not be bound to the so-called strategic bombing concept to its present extent.

Saturday Oct. 8th Is The Day

No Increase in Bonded Indebtedness No Increase in Tax Rate

HERE ARE THE FACTS

1. Complying with the Requirements of Article VIII of Senate Bill No. 116: An area of 188 sq. miles from Roberts County and 83 sq. miles of Gray County have been added to Pampa Independent School District.
2. The New School Law further provides that an Election must be held in the consolidated area for the assumption of the bonded indebtedness of the entire area and also for levying a maintenance tax for the whole area.
3. The only bonded indebtedness for the new area is the bonded indebtedness of the old Pampa Independent School District; the added area having no indebtedness.
4. The tax levy of $1.00 which is asked is the same amount as the present Pampa Independent School District tax rate.
5. The $1.00 maximum tax rate asked for in the election is not an increase in taxes, but asking that the present Pampa Independent School District tax rate be applied to the whole area making up the new district. The present Pampa maximum tax rate would be maintained, and the maximum tax rate of the annexed area would be decreased anywhere from 25c to 50c.
6. There are two propositions to vote on:
 1. For or against bond assumption.
 2. For or against levying a maximum-tax rate of $1.00.
7. Who can vote? Qualified voters who are property taxpayers of the new consolidated area.

MISSSES HOWARTH AND SNYDER, plus water chestnuts, pumpkin seeds and 60 kinds of cheeses, make a successful business.

MADISON, Wis. — (NEA) — Switzerland and rouge de noir from France. Although the women admittedly were inexperienced in selling, they have done well. Mail orders come from as far away as Europe, Alaska and South America.

Miss Margaret Snyder, a former music supervisor in local schools, and Miss Norma Howarth, who used to work in a real estate office, lived together on a century-old farm and dreamed of running their own business some day.

They moved in 30 days later, and immediately set to work on a 5 a. m. to 9 p. m. workday, transforming the shop into a picturesque show place. Tiny shelves set around the tiny shop are framed by gaily wallpaper. But it is what the Misses Snyder and Howarth have set on the shelves that excites the food-lovers who visit or write in.

• Miami

MIAMI — (Special) — The First Methodist church of Miami will hold its annual Fall revival Oct. 16 through 23. The Rev. Hugh Blaylock will do the preaching and Mrs. Blaylock will lead the song services.

W. L. Russell, former mayor of Miami, and owner of The Toggery has been named manager of the Coffee-Davis Grain Company.

Mr. and Mrs. David Basham and children are visiting her father, Ollie Lyons, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mead, who have been visiting his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. A. Mead, left Wednesday for their home in Hollywood, Calif.

Among the weekend guests visiting in Miami were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bruce and son, Jerry, of Amarillo, who visited in the W. L. Riddle home; Mr. and Mrs. Dare Locke who visited the parental W. F. Locke home; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elkins and Mr. and Mrs. Enterline and son, of Pampa, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gill; and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bengt and Muri Bengt of Dalhart, who were visitors in the Frank Welch home.

Supr. A. H. Gordon, of the Miami Public Schools left Friday for Austin, where he will attend a weekend meeting of school superintendents. Mrs. Gordon accompanied him and they will visit relatives in Gainesville and Fort Worth.

Robert Howard is again employed as assistant custodian at the Courthouse, a position he held before he left Miami for some months in Pasadena, Texas. Mr. Howard has accepted a position at Ferg's Cafe.

Raymond Maddox, who recently underwent surgery in a Pampa hospital, returned to his home near Miami this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Byrum and children are visiting in Tennessee.

Picketing Case Is Before Court

AUSTIN — (AP) — Question of whether picketing is unlawful where no labor dispute exists went before the Supreme Court. The court agreed to review a Potter County case in which a labor union was enjoined from picketing a construction project involving dismantling, moving and re-election of two airplane hangars with non-union workers.

The injunction was granted H. I. Stephenson against Amarillo Construction and General Labor Union Local No. 688.

Stephenson, a house mover, contracted with the Potter County Commissioners Court to move the hangars from Dalhart to the Tri-State Fair Grounds at Amarillo.

LIGHTNING STRUCK ONCE—Jeweler B. E. Walzel of Houston, Tex., sincerely hopes the old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place is true. Because, the place where lightning struck once was Walzel's head. The bolt passed through his body, stripped a watch from his wrist—the shattered parts of which Walzel examines above—and came out his heel. His only injury was a slight burn on the heel.

A Little Help Needed Here

LONDON — (AP) — The British Air Ministry was intrigued. Midway in the war, an inventor wrote in to say he needed minor technical assistance on an invention that would keep airplanes from exploding when they crashed.

John Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the Board of Trade, told a conference of scientists the ministry quickly offered help.

"He then wrote back to say his idea was that there should be in each petrol tank a capsule containing a substance which would render petrol non-inflammable, the capsule to be made so it would melt when the petrol reached a certain temperature, thus releasing the contents."

"The two details on which he needed official assistance: What the capsule should be made of and what it should contain."

Bargain Night Is Real Bargain

RATON, N. M. — (AP) — It was bargain night at the Raton 85 Drive-In Theater. You could get in for $1 per car, jammed full if you wanted.

Things backfired when one enterprising man drove up in a school bus.

"It was loaded to the roof," the theater owners ruefully admitted, as they rang up his dollar.

Oklahoma Flier Turns to Horse

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — An Oklahoma City flier left here Thursday in a plane — and wound up riding a horse.

Lieut. James R. Risner left Oklahoma City on a routine navigational flight from Will Rogers Field to Corpus Christi. He called his National Guard commander, Col. Maurice Marrs, Oklahoma City, Sunday, from Tampico, Mexico.

The 34-year-old pilot had been the subject of a two-day search by Army planes from El Paso, San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

Risner told Marrs he ran out of gas after passing Corpus Christi Thursday afternoon and landed on a sandy beach near the Gulf of Mexico. He learned from a group of Mexicans that Tampico was the nearest town—some 150 miles away.

Risner talked the Mexicans out of a horse and jogged all day Friday and Saturday and part of Sunday — 150 miles to Tampico.

Risner told Marrs he would take a commercial plane to Brownsville and then make plans to pick up his own plane.

Collins helped put his finger on one of the first bugs of unification as it affected the Army.

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Gen. Lightning Joe Collins, the Army's new boss, is one of the first important human products of unification.

Most observers agreed that it was in the career of Collins to become chief of staff of the Army some day. It's just that the troubles at the Pentagon have gotten him there faster.

These men, like Collins, who seem to have found the unique environment of unification particularly to their liking, share some special talents in common.

Collins is described by his close friends as a curious combination of aggressive fighter and dreamy intellectual.

Collins helped put his finger on one of the first bugs of unification as it affected the Army.

Working with General Bradley he quickly realized that under the new setup the job of Army chief of staff could never be the same as it had been before.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK — These days I find my heart turning back to sport, to the baseball industry as I used to call it with smart cynicism, and the fighters and football and the great people, men and women, who were and are the champions.

He still has a long way to go and you don't want to get him mad and affect his judgment. Sometimes I might walk out and say, 'Mister Umpire, I think you missed that one.'

Tunney was discussing the wrestling shows. I said I thought those blows on the head and those body-slams must hurt.

For a strange fact I had to be introduced to Maxie Rosenberg not only because he has fattened up some and was wearing garbs, but because for a few years he covered back in the golden years.

Ray Bolger, the dancer and a champion, too, called Maxie the greatest ad lib fighter of them all, a better description, done ad lib, than any I ever wrote or read of him, back when.

They were going to make a picture of Bugs Bar, the greatest ad lib ad libber of them all. Graziano, a surprisingly good looking kid, all things considered.

Jack La Motta, Tunney and a woman named Her back was turned.

Trudy, said Bradley Kelly. "Stand beside Gene."

Trudy Ederle, that wonderful girl, was heroic in the true sense of the word. She not only swam the channel but did it in a wild storm.

Unquestionably, the champions are special. There is a style and a look to them. They wear greatness as a habit.

Were you to see the Jack Kellys, of Philadelphia, father and son, the Scullers, you could not more mistake them for ordinary men than a cart-horse for a thoroughbred.

Oh, that is a very high bright sky you have here," Ty said, "without a cloud or overcast to make a background. It must be hard judging how far the ball is coming to you or when it quits rising and starts down."

Well, I guess so. They are marvellously expert. They figure things out as no layman ever would.

Before the Dishes Are Done

LAST week, Herbert Morrison, leader of the British House of Commons, sent a message to the Trade Union Congress.

What now? Morrison, it was a British cabinet decision that would weaken industrialists for a two year period.

plans with the nationalized boards running their industries?

This, in a nutshell, reveals the tragedy of working men in Britain. The T. U. C. represents 8,000,000 organized workers.

For years, it has fought with blood and anger for a Socialist Labor government. Now its friends are for the same line, and are dreaming the same hopeless dream.

The powerful T. U. C., like trade union everywhere, was built on "class warfare" against the "greedy capitalists" of private industry.

For a lifetime, they have believed with all their hearts that Norman Thomas' Socialist "profit system," and establish "democratic Socialism," there would be abundance and prosperity for all.

It's easy to feel smug, and to call it "Britain's problem," but it's more than that. Millions of our own organizers workers have in Norman Thomas' Socialist "profit system," and establish "democratic Socialism," there would be abundance and prosperity for all.

Thus, it set a pattern which Henry Ford II has followed to settle his differences with Walter P. Reuther's CIO followers.

John L. Lewis has shifted the pension costs to the consumers through a tax of 20 cents on each ton of coal, and Mr. Ford's benefits must come out of the selling price of his cars.

STRIKES — Although it is not generally known, Mr. Truman was not as satisfied with his fact-finding committee's report as he is supposed to be.

Any settlement in steel and other industries based on the Daugherty-Cole-Rosenman verdict will jeopardize the White House demand for larger Social Security benefits.

ARMED AND THE ATOM (Wall Street Journal) — Senator Connally thinks the Russian atom explosion will be "very persuasive" in convincing the House to speed up the $1,300 million instead of $819 million for foreign military spending.

It may be. Certainly it is the congressmen who are doing the most charging about, scorching, and other things, a conspicuously calm public to keep calm.

But the most evolved legislators may be expected to realize, on calm reflection that even the largest of military aid figures translated into military equipment, constitutes the merest parody of an answer to the threat of the Russian bomb.

When the law-makers cool off, this may suggest to them the "pointlessness of rearming western Europe. If they do not cool off, of course, it will probably suggest that rearmament should proceed apace, on the theory that while pea-shooters are useless against cannon it is still nice to have a lot of pea-shooters.

If the view were to prevail, it would mean a great and rapid expansion of a rearmament program doomed to pointlessness from the beginning. It would be absurdity compounded.

For such an expansion would impose an economic strain which neither the tenuous recovery of western Europe nor the American economy could support. Even the planners of the present rearmament scheme know it will wreck the economy of western Europe if military aid is not gradually and evenly injected into that economy in accordance with its developing strength.

How then could economic disaster be averted if our present efforts were redoubled or tripled? A nation or a group of nations on the economic rocks or fast approaching them is an easy prey to conquest. And of all kinds of war, atomic war most particularly necessitates a powerful economy.

This economic danger is not the least of the dangers. But it is not the only one either. If the present rearmament plans are not a provocation to Russia, a "redoubled" rearmament would be. And a Russia with an atom bomb is more easily provokable than a Russia without an atom bomb.

For America to underwrite European rearmament at insupportable cost is not only futile in the light of Russia's possession of the bomb. It becomes more dangerous that ever.

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. President to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

The Washington Monument is 555 feet high.

DISCRIMINATION — The steel strike, the coal walkout and other labor disputes may kill any chance of passing the White House proposal for an improved Social Security program at this session of Congress.

When the Paper Goes to Press

By GORDON MARTIN

There's an air of expectation when the presses start to roar, so the hottest news can be delivered quickly to your door.

You can read about the weather, find a recipe for cake, see what gives with Priscilla's Pop; if there's skating on the lake.

What's the latest dope from Europe? How's a man to plant a rose? Are the Washington reporters keeping Harry on his toes?

Where to find a certain movie, crossword puzzles, I. Q. tests, and just who sued who and why, and who's got relatives for guests.

It's all there to read before you, full of fact and earthiness, for there's history in the making when the paper goes to press.

Today's irony: Sam Goldwyn will star Joan Evans in Richard Sherman's "Folly and Farnsworth."

Sherman was best man at the wedding of Joan's parents, the Dale Eunsons, in 1931.

"The White Tower" company is back from Europe, where Glenn Ford and Valli played scenes at the 14,500 level on famous Mt. Blanc.

Glenn Ford and Valli played scenes at the 14,500 level on famous Mt. Blanc. Valli tells me she asked for her release from her Selznick contract five months ago, but was turned down. She's still asking.

GOR WEST, YOUNG WOMAN Doris Day wants to do a western and Jack Warner has writers working on an idea.

A trade paper ran a photograph of Howard Dimsdale, who wrote "Kiss for Corliss." But the caption and the story that followed was all about Richard Wallace, who directed the film. Dimsdale wired Wallace:

"See your plastic surgeon. You now look just like me."

George Montgomery's furniture building hobby has become big business. Next thing he builds will be a factory in San Fernando Valley.

Martin Ragaway says there are so many Hollywoodites in Italy that the wartime question, "Have you got a cigarette, Joe?" has been switched to, "Have you got a script, Joe?"

Hollywood admits now that it's worried about television. Video deeded into the No. 1 subject at the national convention here of the Theater Owners of America. Television with color slots is the biggest story. Attorney Marcus Cohn asked the exhibitors:

"How can you reduce your admission price to permit an entire family to attend a movie for a quarter and then after two years give the family the chairs that they had sat in?"

Now it's the "m-mm boy" Dale Robertson will get the m-mm treatment to ballyhoo his film debut in "Fighting Man of the Plains." His press agent, Paramount for the film version of "Detective Story." Spence is so hot about it he may take a suspension.

Reminds me of his famous crack about M-G-M's tight contracts. He passed the studio prop shop, noticed a mounted monkey and quipped: "That's M-G-M for you. When you die, they stuff you."

BOTTOM OF THE BARREL Maybe it's the heat, or the approach of autumn or just Hollywood's current attitude, but "Snoops 'n' Scoops," a column in the Universal Studio Club News, reports this as gospel: "Just to show how hard it is to get publicity when you can use it, actor Charlie Bancroft was called upon by his agent to undergo a lulu of a stunt.

"When a man bites a dog it's news. So when a big dog like Bancroft bites a little dog it would be sensational news. So what happened? Charlie bit a tiny chihuahua in the dog at Hollywood and Vine. The mutt yipped bloody murder. But the gal who owned the pup, instead of calling the police so it would get play in the papers, felt sorry for Charlie. She figured he was one of those hungry movie bit players so she invited him to dinner. Charlie went."

Today's irony: Sam Goldwyn will star Joan Evans in Richard Sherman's "Folly and Farnsworth."

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although no high administration official will admit it, President Truman's less politically minded aides have warned him that the collision of his demands for expansion of Social Security contributions in the steel dispute with the labor allies' insistence on pension and welfare benefits from industry troublemakers have been generally praised for its seeming restraint. It barred any wage increase, but it recommended industry's establishment of pensions and welfare benefits without any contribution by Philip Murray's union members.

Thus, it set a pattern which Henry Ford II has followed to settle his differences with Walter P. Reuther's CIO followers.

John L. Lewis has shifted the pension costs to the consumers through a tax of 20 cents on each ton of coal, and Mr. Ford's benefits must come out of the selling price of his cars.

STRIKES — Although it is not generally known, Mr. Truman was not as satisfied with his fact-finding committee's report as he is supposed to be.

Any settlement in steel and other industries based on the Daugherty-Cole-Rosenman verdict will jeopardize the White House demand for larger Social Security benefits.

ARMED AND THE ATOM (Wall Street Journal) — Senator Connally thinks the Russian atom explosion will be "very persuasive" in convincing the House to speed up the $1,300 million instead of $819 million for foreign military spending.

It may be. Certainly it is the congressmen who are doing the most charging about, scorching, and other things, a conspicuously calm public to keep calm.

But the most evolved legislators may be expected to realize, on calm reflection that even the largest of military aid figures translated into military equipment, constitutes the merest parody of an answer to the threat of the Russian bomb.

When the law-makers cool off, this may suggest to them the "pointlessness of rearming western Europe. If they do not cool off, of course, it will probably suggest that rearmament should proceed apace, on the theory that while pea-shooters are useless against cannon it is still nice to have a lot of pea-shooters.

If the view were to prevail, it would mean a great and rapid expansion of a rearmament program doomed to pointlessness from the beginning. It would be absurdity compounded.

For such an expansion would impose an economic strain which neither the tenuous recovery of western Europe nor the American economy could support. Even the planners of the present rearmament scheme know it will wreck the economy of western Europe if military aid is not gradually and evenly injected into that economy in accordance with its developing strength.

How then could economic disaster be averted if our present efforts were redoubled or tripled? A nation or a group of nations on the economic rocks or fast approaching them is an easy prey to conquest. And of all kinds of war, atomic war most particularly necessitates a powerful economy.

This economic danger is not the least of the dangers. But it is not the only one either. If the present rearmament plans are not a provocation to Russia, a "redoubled" rearmament would be. And a Russia with an atom bomb is more easily provokable than a Russia without an atom bomb.

For America to underwrite European rearmament at insupportable cost is not only futile in the light of Russia's possession of the bomb. It becomes more dangerous that ever.

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. President to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

The Washington Monument is 555 feet high.

DISCRIMINATION — The steel strike, the coal walkout and other labor disputes may kill any chance of passing the White House proposal for an improved Social Security program at this session of Congress.

THE PANAMA CANAL IS 300 FEET wide and 45 feet deep.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — I finally pulled a switch on Hollywood premieres.

I introduced a plumber, a printer, two housewives and a character in the glare of searchlights and amid cheers from grandstands at a Hollywood Blvd. "premiere," broadcast coast to coast.

It was Ralph Edwards' idea. So who cares if everyone got stung at 8:30?

"Stung at 8:30" was the name of the movie that Ralph, on his Truth or Consequences show, announced was being premiered at a Hollywood Blvd. theater.

There were lights, bladders, a red carpet, police guards, limousines and even a big poster reading: "Big Premiere Tonight. Stars, lights, celebrities!"

Ralph didn't miss anything except the stars.

Then Ralph came in, confessed the hoax and invited everyone in to see a revival of "The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer."

"Stung at 8:30." Or "No Popcorn."

WANTS A CAREER Jack Briggs will renew his movie career now that he's no longer the husband of Ginger Rogers. RKO discovered him for the movies during the war.

Ginger discovered him about the same time Uncle Sam's Marines were in Italy, and he's been given up my career in the first place.

I asked him if it was true that he went to sleep on the living room couch and snored in his movie career now that he's no longer the husband of Ginger Rogers. RKO discovered him for the movies during the war.

Helpers Help Tourists Find Santa's Workshop

SANTA CLAUS—Bill McDonald and his visitors at North Pole, N. Y. Even Santa takes off his coat in the summertime.

NORTH POLE, N. Y. —(NEA) —A little way up the road that climbs Whiteface Mountain, Santa Claus is sitting in a pine log house with children on his knee, making plans for next December. Because it is summer, the red coat hangs in the closet most of the time and Santa wears a tee-shirt, but the white beard is there and nobody, except maybe a youngster who had never seen his picture, would have any trouble recognizing him.

The little village just off the highway is Santa's Workshop, which suddenly appeared in the middle of the pines last year because six-year-old Patricia Reiss began asking some questions a couple of winters ago. That was when Patricia was driving home from New York with her father, Julian Reiss, a Lake Placid businessman. The snow reminded her of Santa, and she wanted to know what he did when it wasn't Christmas.

Reiss' answer was a little slow in coming, but he figured Santa must have a place where he worked all year round. Then he got the idea that a lot of other children besides Patricia would like to see where Santa worked. He talked it over with Harold Fortune, a construction man who is as bombastic as Reiss is quiet. Fortune owned 15 acres in the midst of the state-owned Whiteface Mountain area, and together they drew up plans for Santa's Workshop, a tourist attraction they feel confident nobody will be able to pass by as long as they have a child in the car with them.

To help, they called in 34-year-old Arto Monaco, a sensitive fugitive from Hollywood's cartoon studios who had retired to the village of Upper Jay, just down the valley from Whiteface, and gone into business building toys. Because Monaco was likely to give away his hand-carved wooden toys that are caricatures of such things as trains, steamboats and cruises, he was almost ready to go out of business when Reiss and Fortune came along. He helped design the new village, and since he'll keep on making toys, Monaco probably rates as No. 1 man to Santa.

Children get the favored treatment at the village. Parents just pay the freight and tag along. A pony cart takes the youngsters from the entrance gate and through the woods where white deer, goats, sheep, ducks and rabbits wander around. In the winter they'll ride in sleighs. There's a chute for the children to slide down into the village after the ride.

The nine little houses are huddled around a little lake like something out of a Swiss village, and in one of them sits Santa. Natives know him as Bill McDonald, a 68-year-old carpenter from Lake Placid. He rocks contentedly in his chair while his helpers — teen-age boys and girls in Tyrolean costume — guide the children to him. A girl dressed as Bo-Peep is one of the helpers, although nobody knows what Bo-Peep actually has to do with Santa. But Patricia Reiss is a sort of helper ex-officio this summer, too, and she wears a flamboyant blouse and shorts.

Bill (Santa) McDonald claims he could grow his own beard for the job if his neighbors wouldn't kid him about it. And maybe next year he will.

Driving More Dangerous in Rural Areas

CHICAGO — Choose up sides, for here's some ammunition in the age-old country-versus-city controversy:

Driving a car is more than twice as dangerous in rural areas as in city areas, according to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

Of the 32,000 motor vehicle deaths in 1948, 21,500 occurred in rural areas and 10,500 in urban areas. The mileage death rate was 10.8 deaths per 100,000,000 vehicle miles in rural areas, and only 5.3 in urban areas.

There were about twice as many urban pedestrian deaths as rural — 6,200 compared with 3,650 — but there were more than four times as many rural non-pedestrian motor vehicle deaths as urban — 17,850 compared with 4,300.

U.S. Is Taking Old-Fashioned Cleaning—Dies

MIDLAND — (AP) — Martin Dies says "the American people have been taken to a good old-fashioned cleaning by Joseph Stalin and his Communist stooges in the United States."

The Lufkin ex-congressman, former chairman of the House un-American Activities Committee, addressed the new Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Manufacturers Association Tuesday night. The group's inaugural dinner was held in the VFW Hall at the Midland Air Terminal halfway between here and Odessa.

"In the short space of three years," Dies declared, "Russia has become the greatest industrial and military threat the world has ever seen."

Russia's strength grew out of "billions of dollars in aid from the United States and concessions in the Baltic," he said. Dies was introduced by Robert E. Stripling of Midland, former chief investigator for the Dies committee.

Nursing School Rated Near Top

GALVESTON — The University of Texas School of Nursing is rated among the nation's best by the National Committee on Schools of Nursing, Dean Marjorie Barthol has been informed.

The School of Nursing is a part of the University of Texas Medical Branch here. The National Committee on Schools of Nursing is composed of representatives of several national nursing associations and evaluates schools of nursing with regard to standards and excellence of teaching, teaching facilities, housing accommodations and hospital affiliations.

Two Methods For Use of Trust Power

AUSTIN — (AP) — There are two legal methods — not just one — of organizing a corporation with trust powers, the Supreme Court held.

The court granted Maco Stewart an order forcing Secretary of State Ben Ramsey to file a charter for the Stewart Trust Co.

Ramsey contended the Banking Commission was the only agent authorized to issue a charter to a firm seeking to engage in the trust business. Stewart contended he did not have to go through the Banking Commission.

The court ruled that a corporation with trust powers can be organized on application to the secretary of state for purposes stated in its charter, but not as a bank. Or, the court ruled, it may apply for a charter through the Banking Commission.

Associate Justice Few Brewster's opinion in the case said: "We are not unmindful of respondent's (Ramsey's) argument that by using the name Stewart Trust Company, realtors (Stewart) will be advertising that they are in the trust business without being under supervision of the Banking Commission or subject to visitation by any state agency. But that is a matter solely for the Legislature's consideration."

Countries Agree On Trade Plan

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman reported that Great Britain, France and Italy have agreed to a sweeping removal of trade barriers between themselves and other Marshall Plan nations.

The Economic Cooperation Administrator said the three countries have lifted import restrictions on as much as 85 percent of their total purchases from the 13 other countries participating in the European Recovery Program.

"This is a practical move towards creating within Western Europe the same sort of free intercourse that has proven so fruitful among the 48 states in our own country," the foreign aid chief said.

Hoffman's statements were made in a speech prepared for de-

War Hero, Actress Wife to Separate

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Audie Murphy, Farmersville, Texas, war hero and actor, and his wife, Actress Wanda Hendrix, disclosed that they will have a "trial separation."

After the movie they're working on together is finished, Murphy said he is going to Texas on business and to visit relatives. Miss Hendrix will stay here. The couple, she is 29 and he is 25, have had domestic difficulties for some time.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY BEGINS IN THE HOME

His Beacon

Which is your Youngster?

The home beacon light beckons the youth of our land to safety. Keep yours lighted with the fire of a happy family life . . . your son and daughter are counting on you for guidance.

Reg Manning, nationally famous news cartoonist, has forcefully dramatized in this picture the two types of today's youth. Fortunately the great majority of our youngsters can rely upon a lighted home wherein lies security and companionship. Here and there are growing children with a shadow already masking the light of safety . . . a shadow created by unpleasant family life and carelessness of parents.

As Good Parents You Should:

- 1--Give the love and companionship so necessary to your child's welfare;
- 2--Attend church with your children;
- 3--Support personally the many fine organizations that provide recreation for boys and girls;
- 4--Devote some of your time to personal service in the activities that minister to the young;
- 5--Help spread good cheer and human understanding to families not as fortunate as your own.

Wise parents know that duty to their children is more than food, clothing and shelter.

They know that the home life needs to be more attractive to childhood: that wholesome recreation for their own boys and girls and their neighbor's children is the best way to prevent trouble and sorrow when the critical years are upon them.

This page will have served its purpose if even only one family group now in the shadow will rekindle the fire of contentment and give needed protection to their youthful members.
