Baker Changes Hands
GALVESTON—(P)—The 640-room Baker Hotel in Dallas is now an affiliate of the National Hotel Co. of Galveston. Signing of a 15-year management contract which gives the Galveston company operating control of the Dallas hotel was announced here yesterday. The announcement was made jointly by W. L. Moody, Jr., of Galveston, owner of the National Hotel Co., and D. Gordon Rupe, Jr., head of a Dallas investment firm which acquired most of the Baker Hotel capital stock in July. In 1948 the National Hotel Co. assumed operation of the Sanger Hotel in Dallas, renaming it the Travis Hotel. The Baker swells the list of hotels owned or operated by the Galveston company to 32, located in 25 cities in 11 states and the District of Columbia. It is one of the largest hotel chains in the nation.

Democratic Harmony
LUFKIN—(P)—Outward harmony ruled the state Democratic Executive Committee again yesterday after months of bitter feuding over who rightfully should be national committeeman from Texas.

The Hereford cattle division judging Friday night brought the Combs-Worley Ranch and Ralph Hale, Perrytown, honors. The ranch's "Plus Blanchard 128" was named grand champion bull, and Hale's "RH Plus Domino 2," reserve champion bull.

Other winners in the cattle division were: Class 1, Hale, yearling bulls, "RH Plus Domino 2," first; Hess and son, McLean, "Dr. H. H. Domino 10," second.

Class 2, bull calves, Combs-Worley, "Plus Blanchard 128," first; Hess and son, "Dr. H. H. Domino 10," second; Combs-Worley, "Plus Blanchard 134," third.

Class 4, two bulls, Combs-Worley and Hess and son, "Dr. Grace 4" and "Dr. Mytilene 2," first and second.

Class 5, heifer calves, Combs-Worley, "Cottonwood Queen 167" and "Cottonwood Queen 187," first and second.

Class 7, Hess and son, "Dr. Grace 4," grand champion female; Combs-Worley, "Cottonwood 167," reserve champion.

Class 8, two females bred and owned by exhibitor, Hess and son, first; Combs-Worley, second.

Class 9, pair of calves, Combs-Worley, first and second.

Class 10, get of sire consisting of four animals by same sire, Combs-Worley, "Plus Domino 106," first; Hess and son, "Dr. Domino," second.

Winners in Thursday's quarter-horse performance contest were as follows: "Flaxie," owned and ridden by Bill Stockstill, Pampa, grand champion and first in the gelding class. Others were "Tex Spiller," shown by Rex Barrett, and "Cotton Eye," also shown by Barrett.

Four-year-old mare class was won by "Sum-B," shown by Chester Thompson. Second-place winner in the performance class was "Chubby III," owned and shown by Dr. R. M. Brown.

The law also carries a stiff penalty for violations, calling for a fine of not less than $200 and not more than $500.

Tuesday will be the last day marriage licenses in Texas will be granted on the "easy-to-get" basis. After that it will require time, some added expense, and the examination.

The law, however, forbids any laboratory from charging an examining doctor a fee for running the test.

All of the reports are closed to public inspection and cannot be used unless in a trial where their use as evidence is relevant to the case before the court.

Amarillo Benefit Show Scheduled

The Amarillo Junior League will stage and present the Junior League Follies at the City Auditorium, Amarillo, on Saturday, Oct. 15 at 8:15 p. m. It has been announced.

The presentation will be under the direction of Bill Latta of the Jerome H. Cargill Co., New York City. Mrs. Stuart Browning, chairman of publicity, said "A part of the proceeds of this show will benefit the Amarillo Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center."

The league helped in organizing the clinic, which serves this area. Seats for the show can be reserved by writing to Mrs. William J. Bynum, 1709 Washington, Amarillo.

Man Fined for DWI and Wreck

Frank J. Hudgel, S. Barnes, was fined $50 and costs Saturday morning by Judge Bruce Parker in County Court for driving while intoxicated.

Hudgel was picked up early Friday evening by City Police following a head-on collision with another car driven by James Tillman of N. Starkweather. Tillman was traveling south on Barnes in a 1947 Chevrolet and Hudgel was traveling north in a 1938 Chevrolet when the two crashed at the S. Barnes underpass.

Police estimated damage to Tillman's car at approximately $175 and $75 to Hudgel's car. There were no serious injuries.

The six-months mandatory suspension of drivers license went along with the sentence following Hudgel's plea of guilty.

Gordon Browning to bring Grandstaff here for their six-day centennial celebration.

Grandstaff wrote the cantata in 1947. Phillips learned of it and had it published. The Texas & Pacific male chorus of Dallas performed the work that year, but efforts to free Grandstaff long enough to hear it then failed.

The T&P chorus will sing the cantata again today. Grandstaff said he tried to say in the cantata "that a man must have hope he could think of no better way to express this than in the story of Big Spring's struggle to grow from a pioneer village to a modern cattle, farming and oil city of 20,000 people. That is the story told by Phillips in his book, 'Big Spring.'"

Grandstaff said his music is "semi-modern."

"A man enclosed in four walls doesn't have much opportunity to keep up with all the trends," he said.

He said he has studied musical theory and composition off and on and used to play the piano, accordion and organ before he got out of practice in prison.

Grandstaff said all his convictions have been for burglary, larceny or receiving stolen property. He said he had done time in the Michigan State Prison, the Wisconsin Prison, a workhouse in Buffalo, N. Y., and the Texas State Prison.

He was sent to the Tennessee prison in 1939 as an habitual criminal.

Grandstaff said there is no such thing as an habitual criminal. "Most any man can change," he said.

He did not say he had changed, and he said there was no chance for him to receive a full pardon.

Mayor G. W. Dabney and about 150 other officials and citizens met him at the airport here.

from its Aviation Committee, the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors went on record as unanimously favoring the northwest site as a permanent airport.

A number of Pampa people, contacted by The News, have said they would prefer the northwest site in view of the fact it is owned by the county, runways are already there, and because it is safer.

The present site is not owned by the county, is not paved, and is dangerously situated adjacent to an expanding dwelling addition.

Sentences Handed Out In Six Cases

Four men were given five-year suspended sentences, one two years and another five years at Huntsville in the 31st District Court Friday by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Suspended sentences were granted to Robert L. Luster, Cecil Leroy Jones, Fred Wilbur Paronto and Marvin S. Walker. Jesse Boyles was sent to prison at Huntsville for two years; and Jack Crain for five years.

Luster, Jones, and Paronto pleaded guilty to theft of copper wire from the Southwestern Public Service Co. on two different occasions.

The men testified Luster and Jones broke into the company June 18; and Jones and Paronto, July 28. Nine spools of wire were stolen by the men and sold for scrap copper in Berger after they had burned off the insulation.

Luster and Jones are married and have families. Paronto testified he is in the process of being divorced.

Walker, involved with his brother-in-law, Jesse Boyles, in a car theft, also pleaded guilty to the charges. He said he works at a filling station in Perrytown. On the night of Sept. 11, the two men were in Pampa and wanted to go to Sayre, Okla., to see Walker's sister.

"Needing a car, they flipped a coin, said Walker, to see who would steal an auto for the trip. Boyles took a 1949 Buick, which was parked in front of Levine's, and the two went to Sayre. The car, a four-door black Buick, belongs to Mrs. Georgia Crutchfield, Pampa.

The other sentence completed Friday's docket in District Court. Crain, who has been in the County Jail for the past 89 days, pleaded guilty to charges of assault to rob.

The proposed report made it clear, however, that a tremendous gamble is involved. Discussion the reactor program, it said:

"The results may conceivably range anywhere from startling progress to expensive radiation accidents, or even both."

Lefors, caught Crain Aug. 1, in the act of robbing the Ida Rae Cafe in Lefors. Clendennen first heard the man firing a shotgun in the eastern part of town and drove around looking for him. Crain, who lives in Lefors, was seen walking down an alley with the shotgun in his hand. Clendennen followed him until reaching the John Ogen Service Station. There, Crain stood for several minutes facing west. The constable turned his car to approach him, but during the short interval, Crain went into the cafe and held the shotgun to the proprietress. Clendennen nabbed him as the proprietress was handing money to Crain.

Local Man Wins Contest

B. A. Ricketts, above, employee of Pampa Maytag Company, left Friday for a week's all-expense-paid trip for being top man in the Maytag Southwestern contest which started March 26.

Twenty-six counties comprise District 1, in which the local company is included. About 50 salesmen vied for the honor. Ricketts received 18,000 points for selling Maytag appliances.

He went to Dallas Friday. En route he stopped to see the Harvester vs. Vernon football game at Vernon, and while in Dallas he saw the SMU-Missouri game.

He will spend part of his week's vacation at Newton, Iowa, where he will be shown through the Maytag factory. Ricketts has been with the local company for about a year. He formerly was in the grocery business.

Free Courses To Aid Local Merchants

Pampa merchants who want to be in the "know" in merchandise display and lettering for successful Christmas seasons should take courses at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow. Roy L. Reinartz said.

Reinartz, district supervisor of the State Board of Vocational Education, has completed arrangements for W. G. Bohannon of the University of Texas to instruct the courses.

Sponsored by the Retail Trade Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, the courses will be held five nights a week from tomorrow through Oct. 14.

The merchandise display course will begin at 7:30 p. m. and the showcard lettering course at 8:30 p. m.

Bohannon has had experience in commercial art and display field. He spends two weeks at a time presenting the courses and offers many suggestions to the merchants to improve the appearance of their window displays.

Any merchant in town is eligible to attend the instructional course, Reinartz said. Supplies will be furnished.

The only requirement for the courses' enrollment is notification at the Chamber of Commerce of each employer or employer who plans to attend.

The courses are jointly sponsored by the University of Texas Division of Extension, Industrial and Business Extension Training and State Board for Vocational Education.

The 10-hour merchandise course will cover principles of arrangement, balance and proportion, display illumination, window background design and construction, drug-store displays, interior displays and modernization.

Bohannon will use actual demonstrations, miniature merchandise and actual practice in instructing both the display course and 20-hour showcard lettering course.

Suspicious Men Plentiful

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (P) — Two detectives were sent out to investigate a suspicious-looking man standing in an alley.

"They found the man was the watchman at an industrial plant. He told them that for half an hour he had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

"Fine," said the detectives. "Keep it up. We'll circle and get him from behind."

They did.

Suspicious-looking man No. 2 explained: He is a watchman for another plant and for half an hour had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

Limousine Service Drivers on Strike

HOUSTON — (P) — Some 30 drivers for the Airways Limousine Service went on strike here Saturday.

Bill Magruder, consultant for the company, said the drivers are demanding a one-third reduction in their work day schedule and an increase in minimum pay from the current $225 monthly to $330 monthly.

He said the old contract calls for a 12-hour day and six-day week. The contract expired at midnight Friday.

The drivers are members of Taxi Drivers Union, AFL, Local 349.

Magruder said the company has offered to cut the work day to 10 hours, two more than the union demand, and give a minimum guarantee of $25.30 weekly.

CANADIAN — (Special) — Dr. Morris Bennett has purchased the J. C. Lee building at 304 Main and is moving his dental office and laboratory to the new location.

Dr. Bennett has had his offices on the second floor of the Clay Allen building (formerly the First National Bank) since he began his practice in Canadian in 1930.

Dr. J. L. Chase, Jr., optometrist of Pampa, will occupy the rooms formerly occupied by J. C. Lee real estate office. The optometry office will be open only on certain days for the present.

Kaiser-Frazer Is Said Seeking Loan

WASHINGTON — (P) — Reports circulated in Washington that Kaiser-Frazer Corporation is seeking a multi-million dollar loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Officials of the RFC said they had no statement to make except that "there is no application pending before the board and no loan has been granted" to the motor manufacturer.

There was no direct denial, however, that discussions are going on. Edgar Kaiser, president of the automobile concern, was reported to have been in Washington earlier in the week in connection with the deal.

Five More Leaders Are Needed by Girl Scouts

Five more women are needed as Girl Scout leaders. Mrs. K. E. Thornton, executive of the Pampa Girl Scout Association, said yesterday.

Leaders especially are needed for the older Scouts, she continued. Anyone interested in serving in this capacity is urged to call Mrs. Thornton at the Scout Office or Mrs. I. T. Goodnight, Organizational Committee chairman.

"Mrs. R. H. Nienstiel probably has the longest Girl Scout Service record in Pampa," Mrs. Thornton continued. "She started a troop of Brownies years ago and still leads the Scout troop. Scouts in the troop are now beginning their Freshman year in Pampa High School."

The Scout executive said Mrs. Noel Dalton started a second-grade troop six years ago and still serves as leader for the troop. Both Mrs. Nienstiel and Mrs. Dalton have daughters in their respective troops.

The latest leaders to register with the Scout association are Mrs. Ray McVay and Mrs. Kurt Billings. Mrs. McVay formerly helped with a troop and will now serve as leader of one of the newly organized troops.

Petersen Will Plead Insanity

DALLAS — (P) — Kenneth Lewis Petersen, 21, charged with slaying a girl who spurned him, will plead insanity, his lawyer says.

Defense Attorney Maury Hughes says he will file insanity papers before Petersen comes to trial Oct. 24.

Petersen, a Southern Methodist University student, said he shot Carolyn Schofield, 20, to death after she told him she would marry another man.

Since his shooting Sept. 2, Petersen has been in County Jail.

City Honors Fire Groups

CANADIAN — (Special) — The City Commission — Mayor Jess Lindley and Commissioners Claude Jones and S. E. Arnold — were hosts to the volunteer firemen and their wives, the telephone operators, the city employees of the water and power departments, and the insurance men at a steak fry at the football stadium Wednesday evening.

The picnic — with some variations — has been an annual affair for many years. It makes for better understanding and co-operation among the several groups, all of whom are essential in providing fire protection.

While no group can be called the most important, the firemen themselves give much credit to their wives and to the telephone operators for the important part they play. The telephone operators receive the alarm, then

Sportsman's Corner

By THE WOODSMAN

The key to good hunting can be found in the pocket of the farmer.

The sooner the individual sportsman realizes that fact and starts doing something about it, the sooner he'll enjoy better hunting," says Henry F. Davis, manager, public relations, Remington Arms Company, Inc. "The farmer is the keeper of the key to good hunting. In fact he holds the key to any hunting at all. True, all wild game belongs to the state but the control of most of its habitat is vested in the owner or tenant of the land. The farmer can lock the door to all hunting on his land, or he can, as he usually does, be exceedingly generous with his hospitality.

"There is an easy approach to the tree use of the farmer's magic key. This is simply through the use of common courtesy. The farmer is a busy and peace-loving man. It is no pleasure for him to have his land invaded by hunters. He doesn't forget that his work and force a trespassing hunting party to retire from his land. More often than not he suffers the insult—for that is what trespass really is—in silence rather than have any pleasure for him usually does, he is exceedingly generous with his hospitality.

"These are simple little rules of common courtesy that any sportsman can practice to the benefit and pleasure of all concerned. They are really keys to the key to better hunting."

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren, Mass.—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Don't let this one stump you. Who was the first official track coach to serve at Notre Dame? You know him well.

OUR HAT IS OFF THIS SUNDAY MORNING to the Pampa Harvesters and their coaching staff for the thrilling but decisive victory over the Vernon Lions Friday night. The boys proved that they have the necessary fight and spirit to make every game this season a battle.

Everybody asked us yesterday what was the matter with the Harvesters the first half Friday. Remember how scared you were the first time you went out on a date, or the first time you were under fire on the battlefield? Those Harvesters were just that frightened in this first game away from home. They had heard about the Lions rambing power and the passing ability of Billy James. They had skeletons in the closet from the game at Vernon in 1947. They knew that they were going into the game with a weakness at left halfback, where Charley Smith was out of uniform because of an ankle injury. Elmer Wilson was handicapped by a charley horse, and co-captain Pete Cooper was half-sick with a bad cold.

Add to this the fact that the home club took the ball on the middle stripe and marched to a touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball, and you see why the Harvesters were frightened.

They gained heart after the two-point safety in the second period, enough to hold them to the rest of the game.

A heart-to-heart talk with them and they came back the second half to roll over the Lions rather easily.

ANSWER: The first track coach of Notre Dame was Knute Rockne later to become famed as a grid coach.

Westerners Keep Rolling Against Plainview, 42-6

PLAINVIEW — (Special) — The Lubbock Westerners threw their weight around with abandon both on the ground and in the air while sacking up a 42 to 6 win over the Plainview Bulldogs here Friday night.

Lubbock scored three touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the second and two in the final period and added every point after a touchdown.

Plainview's marker, the only score against the powerful Westerner eleven in three starts this season, came late in the second quarter after Lubbock had scored four of their touchdowns. Dale Scott, Plainview quarterback, passed to end Weldon Hayes who scored after a neat broken field run. The scoring play picked up 85 yards and ended a drive which started on Plainview's 35 where Bob Findley for Plainview recovered Lubbock back Bill Presley's fumble.

Lubbock scored on the first play after the opening kickoff. Ayrne Stroud, left half, going 45 yards, a couple of minutes later Garnett Reeves, Lubbock left end, recovered a fumble by Malcolm Young, Lubbock fullback, over the Plainview goal for a touchdown. Lubbock had driven from the Plainview 48.

About the middle of the first quarter Stroud cut off tackle for 20 yards and a touchdown after Lubbock took a short Plainview punt on the Bulldog 27.

Lubbock's fourth touchdown came midway of the second quarter when the Turner, back, passed to Mac Taylor, end, from the Plainview six over the double stripe.

The third quarter went scoreless while the Bulldogs gave the Lubbock eleven which carried a sprinkling of reserves plenty of trouble. Early in the fourth Young went 17 yards for a touchdown on a pitchout from Bob Brown, quarterback. Charles Williams, Lubbock back, ran 14 yards for the final Westerner counter midway of the fourth after they took a short Plainview punt on the Bulldog 38. Presley added the extra point after four of the Lubbock touchdowns and Young accounted for the other two.

Alley Agates

By The TIMBER TIPPER

Red-hot Russell Fugh! Friday night he rolled a torrid 278 in his first game. His lone miss was the fifth frame when he had to pick up a spill for a spare, and did so successfully. Not a bad score for a boy carrying a 140 average.

The Ragtime Polo Fund Doubles is now underway. Ten percent of the gross from the tourney goes to the Polo Fund. Last season the local bowlers contributed $100 through this event.

Russell Fugh's past week: Raymond Harrah rolled a 297; Lee May a 254; and Mrs. Hap Baxter a 218. John Hutchens says the wood on the alleys is singed.

The Physical Educational Department of the High School under the direction of Mrs. Clifton McNeely and Miss Eva Jo Reid, is going to have some very good bowlers. Watch them work out on Monday afternoons after school.

The Tom Rose Fords and the Pampa Bowl teams are host to the Berger men and women bowlers this afternoon at 2:30. Both Pampa clubs got cooled off last week by Amarillo, but will be back to gain some ground today. Come out and see them.

Several new bowlers have joined the men's leagues. Mr. Baruch is this afternoon's Natural Gas is with the City Drug five; H. F. Fuller and R. H. Dilley of the Phillips Pipe Line have joined the Hughes Insurance team; Bill Waggoner is with McWilliams Motor; and Oscar Shearer, Lloyd Jones, and Don Humphreys are with the Parsley Sheet Metal Works. Welcome, gentlemen!

John Hutchens is offering some lessons to some women who want to bowl. The women can get the first six games without the cost of a penny by just seeing John at the Pampa Bowl or calling 3799 for more information.

Mrs. Pat Putnam and Miss Billie Stephens are on the sick list. Both are missed, so hurry and get well.

Here is another problem for you leggers. How would you make the 7 pin on one alley and the 10 pin on the adjoining alley with one ball. Sure it can be done. Just ask John to show you how. See you next week. Until then, gutter ball to you.

Greens Gossip

By Hogan O'Snead

I've been spending the last couple of days over in Amarillo watching some mighty fine golf. It surely was a terrific tournament. Lots of good golfers, including our own Johnny Austin among the pros. John was telling me that he couldn't get to hitting his shots the way he would like to pound them. He worked for the past two weeks on it, too.

Well, the first annual All-Civic Club Golf Tournament is now history and the "Old Men's Club," the Rotarians, walked off with all the honors. Guess golf is an old man's game. I surely had a flock of fun out there watching the going-on, between the usual inter-club feuds and the exceptionally fine caddies that were on hand.

I heard several votes cast for Bunny Shults was the caddy of the day. He always seemed to have refreshments handy for the players whenever he opened the golf bag. The fellow who played for L. L. Speer, spent plenty of time in the roughs, but each time he got to his ball it had stopped right about a bright red or yellow tee. That's their control shooting or wonderful caddyng. And Speer shot an 81!

And speaking of Speer, his jet-propelled ball was ruled out at the first tee. He hit a ball off of there that took off with a shot of flame and a sharp crack. It was done, of course, with a match behind the ball. But he got such a nice drive that his trick shot was outlawed.

We heard about one member of the Lions who found himself in trouble. He was tight against the shelter shed on number eight fairway, on the green's side. It was a virtual impossibility for the ball to roll to that position but the fact that the four women were split up with members of each club in each group might account for it. Anyway, this Lion had to take a righthanded club and hit it left-handed in order to get away from the building.

The strong wind that blew created some fine shots. The best was a 400-yard smudge drive by Fred Neagle. He finished second in the tournament with an 84. Medalist was Joe Key, who fired an 82.

The water-level on the lake on No. 7 was raised considerably by the constant flow of falls into the water. And Johnny didn't help matters any by moving the tee box to the widest part of the lake.

We saw one Jaycee who had a 9-to-1 chance of holing out on his second shot on number 12 hole. Jim Leaverich pulled his shot onto and over the putting green. He missed all the cups, however. Nice try, Jimmy!

But before the final averages were tabulated the Lions were joyously celebrating over what they figured was sure victory. The vociferous and unmelodious strains of "Don't You Hear Those Lions Roar?" rang throughout the clubhouse. When the final results awarded the decision to the Rotarians the cries changed to "Challenge!"

All in all, it was a great tourney. It was almost too busy for one day. Next year it would be nice to see it turned into a two-day event.

The cross-country tour among the four club presidents failed to materialize. A couple of them sat at the airport waiting, and the others waited at the Country Club. Both groups figured the others weren't going to show up, and consequently the idea was dropped, though all were present and champing at the bit to go.

If you've tried all of Johnny Austin's formulas and your game still isn't up to par, try this remedy. "Here's How in Golf" is a new publication, fully illustrated, on how to improve your game. It is 128 pages of information written by Morris Morrison and published by Doubleday and Company, Inc. The book was published in August and should be available now at your favorite bookstore.

Irish Stock Gets Boost Despite Loss to Phillips

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Chesty Walker's Phillips Blackhawks downed the fighting Shamrock Irishmen 41-18 Friday night at Blackhawk Field in a thrilling minute inter-district classic that raised the lowly Irish stock to a new high in District 2A circles. The highly favored Hawks were staggered shortly after the opening kickoff when a quarterback Gilbert Stribling faded back from the Phillips 20 and rifled a touch-down pass to Irish end Earl Tarbet in the end zone.

Phillips' first score came early in the second quarter when right halfback Tommy Moore found a hole over the left side of the Irish line and galloped 37 yards for the score. The second Blackhawk score was set up when Jim Riley, Hawk center, blocked and recovered Don Lee's punt on the Irish 32. Several plays later, Moore went off left tackle from the 10 for a touchdown.

Moments later, Eldridge broke loose on the Irish 39 and picked up 18 yards and a first down. On the next play Moore covered the Irish 32. The following play, for L. L. Speer, spent plenty of time in the roughs, but each time he got to his ball it had stopped right about a bright red or yellow tee. That's their control shooting or wonderful caddyng. And Speer shot an 81!

Watson Leads Tigers to Win

McLEAN — (Special) — L. M. Watson, McLean quarterback, again led the Tigers to victory Friday night as he scored two touchdowns and kicked one extra point to give the Tigers a 13-0 victory over Clarendon.

Watson went over the first time in the second quarter and converted to give the Tigers a 7-0 half-time lead. In the third quarter Watson tore up the turf and a punted cover for the final score of the game.

Clarendon took to the air in the final period, but had little success. They completed one and had three intercepted.

Watson now has scored 44 of 80 points scored by the Tigers so far this year. Fullback Benny Cooper scored the other six points.

Golden Bears Look Toward Rose Bowl

PORTLAND, Ore. — (AP) — California's Bears boomed prominently into the Rose Bowl running by crushing Oregon State in convincing manner here Saturday, 41-0.

Coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf, California's co-champion of the Coast Conference, came up with the strongest ground attack they have displayed this year. They ran up six touchdowns with regulars playing only half the time.

When an attempted kick pass by the Irish was blocked and recovered for Phillips by substitute guard Robert Conklin on the Shamrock 17. Two plays later, substitute back James Reddick hit end Theo Cox on the 4-yard line with a pass over center and Cox went over for the score.

Oilers Take 2-Game Lead

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — The red-hot Tulsa Oilers headed homeward Saturday, hoping to win the 1949 Dixie Series from the Nashville Vols in four straight games.

The Texas League champs took the second game in the four-of-seven series from the Southern Association representatives by a 16-7 score Friday night.

The Oilers won the opening game 13-2.

The teams will renew the series with the first tilt of a three-game round at Tulsa Sunday afternoon.

Skellytown JH Downs Canadian

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Skellytown Junior High School football team defeated Canadian Junior High there Thursday afternoon 28 to 13. It was the first game of the year for the squad coached by Bert Isbell.

The game was sparked by two long runs by Co-captain Ronald Mills, once going 95 yards to score and another time running a punt back 80 yards. Co-captain Donald Denham went 35 yards on a pitchout for the third Skellytown tally and guard Lloyd Cook fell on a Canadian fumble in the end zone for the fourth. TD. Gerald Hunt, fullback, converted twice.

Outstanding on defense for Skellytown were James Blue, tackle; Gene Hoskins, center and Lloyd Cook, guard.

The next game for the Junior High team is Thursday afternoon against Wheeler at Skellytown. The team is composed of seventh and eighth graders.

Other members of the team are Bill Wells, Ed Vaughn, Lou Wayne McEac, Jack McCabe, James Huffines, Don Galleher, Larry Cannon, Gene Clark, Gerald Thompson, James Hoskins, James Oates, Don Broome, Roger Barrett, Wendell Powell, Donald Cofer and Bill Motteler and the two managers, Dale Hunt and Teddy Williams.

Miami Warriors Continue to Win

MIAMI — (Special) — The Miami Warriors rolled up their second consecutive victory in three starts here Friday afternoon by defeating the Booker six, 41 to 36.

A very large crowd saw the team play its first season game on the home field. Last week the Warriors beat Morse, but two weeks ago dropped a game to Gruber.

The Booker Klows jumped into the lead in the first part of the final quarter, 36 to 33, but Charles Gill put the home team out front when he ran the skin 45 yards, and Frank Parker served on the extra points.

Ray Lee led scoring for the visitors, with four touchdowns. Max Comber accounted for one, and Richard Sells for one. Gill ran four over for the Warriors, Lawton Hoffer one, and Parker one.

For the first time since the war, the University of Delaware will start a football lineup with non-war veterans in it.

"Buick's the Buy"

It's part of every street scene—something you see every day.

Car owners in three different price classes—all happy about the same thing.

One of them drives a new Buick SPECIAL, which you see poking forth its new, bold-look forefront at the left of our picture.

Another will tell you there's nothing like the SUPER's "happy medium" of size and comfort, power and easy handling, style and standing.

And if you're looking for prestige, where is your money going to buy so much as in that handsome 18-footer, the ROADMASTER, with its 150-hp performance and really royal bearing?

But all these good folks get together on this:

There's no ride quite so soft and cushiony as the Buick ride, whatever the size and series. There's no power quite so satisfyingly lively as Buick's high-compression, high-pressure Fireball power.

Above all, there's no "buy" like a Buick—no car that gives you such a rich dollar's worth of smartness, handling, comfort and liveliness for every dollar you pay.

So why not look the whole line over? Your Buick dealer has these grand travel-mates in a baker's dozen of different body types and sizes. Start your shopping in his showroom—and you'll find that even on delivery he has exactly what you want.

BUICK alone has all these features

5th smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Cradle cushions • Buoyant-riding QUADRIFLEX COIL SPRINGING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS (Dynaflow Model) plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Double-Duty VENTILATORS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER

They're Gunning For Success

THIS IS Newspaper Week!
It's just one of countless special "weeks" that crowd America's calendar to overflowing. Why single this one out for particular attention?

Perhaps because newsmen have always played a unique role in the American story of accomplishment. Everyone has read tales of political figures, businessmen, leaders in many fields who started their breadwinning careers by hawking from corner newsstands.
As a legend they rank with the "log cabin to White House" tradition.

Lots of Americans today would probably like to dismiss this sort of thing as "corny" and outworn.
We think that would be a mistake.
Strip the newspaperboy legend of any sentimental heroics that may have become attached to it and you still have something of solid merit for Americans to ponder.

THE YOUNGSTER taking in pennies and miles, doing business almost the simplest and imaginable, admirably represents the will to succeed, to fight odds for small gains, to exert energy and wit to the limit of individual resourcefulness.

In many quarters of the world and indeed here at home—the big cry for almost 20 years has been "security." The general aim of the government, both state and national, is tending more and more toward taking care of the individual from the cradle to the grave.

But if the individual is to maintain his status as the key figure, and not vice versa—then he must be given free rein to shape his own future. In such a shape, the free enterprise system has the best chance to fill a description shaped for it by someone years ago: "the revolution of the individual."

Gracie Says

By GRACIE ALLEN
I just read about a cowboy being hurt while caring in an exhibition. Goodness knows, I like cowpoke movies, but I don't think I'd care for this modern approach, with the good cowboys and the bad ones pelting each other with air bombs and rockets.

This isn't the case where the machine age has put the banana peel under romantic drama. Not so long ago, the poor hardworking youth in the Horatio Alger stories always saved his rich employer's daughter by stopping a runaway horse, taking over the girl, and later the business. What the automobile did to that plot is too sad to mention.

Even comedies are affected by progress. Remember those old movies of a man in a tuxedo up to greet her tardy husband with a rolling pin? The only rolling pin you'll find around the house these days is one of

THE SOUL OF BUSINESS

Somebody once invented the term "soulless corporation" and somehow it stuck. How was it presumed that any kind of organization should be possessed of a soul is beyond me. But this was no doubt back in the dreary days of the Thirties or earlier, when it was more in the fashion to "make business the goat" and when folks were so confused that no amount of explaining could make them understand the economic facts of life.

It was easy for socialist soap-boxers to shout such slogans.
When the boss was a nobody, with nothing more than "inc." as a last name, folks could well believe they worked for the devil himself.
(Praises be to most of the enlightened businessmen now know the importance of educating employees about their companies.) Today, more people than ever know that corporations are mighty helpful in our everyday economic life.

BUSINESS MEANS JOBS
A corporation is simply a group
of people doing together what it would be impossible for them to do singly. These people have been brought together in hopes of making a profit on money they invest together. The managers they select build factories, buy the tools, and hire the men. All together, if they are wise and efficient, they achieve production, lots of jobs, and higher
living standards.

The corporation method, then,
is one way of achieving these very desirable goals. The corporation is not a "soulless" entity, but
a group of individuals who have brought together in hopes of making a profit on money they invest together. The managers they select
build factories, buy the tools, and hire the men. All together, if they are wise and efficient, they achieve
production, lots of jobs, and higher
living standards.

How do you like that?
Organized rackets, especially gambling, are developing a
most potent political action movement. They can do so because they are ruthless in their methods.
—Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Los Angeles.

Progressive ideas were never correctly disseminated, nor was
a social transformation ever brought about by bayonets—which
can only enslave.
—Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

He was an earnest, conscientious and eminently able jurist. He was true to his ideals, and, in all,
a great American.
—Chief Justice Fred Vinson, on
death of Justice Rutledge.

The Allies must give this government a "psychological chance"
if they want to hold this part of Europe against the Communists.
—Mr. Theodore Hoess, new West
German president.

Today the Communists are being
purged out of the CIO ranks.
Their power and influence in the
organized labor movement in America are now negligible and
will soon be nil.
—AFL president William Green.

We (Germans) must break our ties with the day before yesterday
(the Weimar Republic), for it contained the seed that became the Nazi curse of yesterday (the Nazi government).
—Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin
and Brandenburg.

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — It has been a tough summer at the Capitol in more ways than law-making.

Putting new roofs on the Senate and House chambers and remodeling the inside has turned into a construction job the likes of which no contractor has ever faced before.

First off, nobody thought that the congressmen would be around all summer to get in the hair of the laborers, carpenters and a dozen finishers. As it is the lawmakers have become the most obnoxious collection of sidewalk superintendents ever to ogre a building project. As one laborer puts it, "You'd find a claw hammer in his mouth, with the way they throw advice around."

During the really hot weeks it was impossible to tell just who were congressmen and who were construction workers. They all looked equally hot, sweaty, dirty and bored with their jobs, as they rubbed shoulders among the scaf-olding and lumber piles.

One of the construction superintendents blames the debate on the minimum wage law as the cause of all the labor trouble on the job. He claims the workers overheard some of their rights being espoused so eloquently, they believed what they heard and struck. The carpenters were out more than three weeks demanding more money.

When the job started the carpenters were getting $2.25 an hour. They negotiated for a boost to $2.40 and then quit work to win their usual rate of $2.25 an hour. Laborers started at $1.25 an hour, rose to $1.35 and now get $1.45 an hour.

When the Capitol was rebuilt back in 1859, the records show that carpenters on that job received $2.00 a day and laborers $1.16 a day.

Fortunately for Uncle Sam most of these wage increases will come out of the contractor's pocket.
More than 75 percent of the $5,000,000 worth of work is being handled by a straight contract instead of the usual government cost-plus arrangement.

Labor difficulties have only been part of the trouble. Capitol architect David Lynn spent years trying to get a compromise between the liberals and conservatives who had a say on the question of how the chambers should be finished inside. This spring when the work started he figured he had everybody satisfied and the details all set. Then when the congressmen saw the work actually begun they suddenly started offering advice on how they thought the job should be done.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.
(R., Mass.), for instance, took one look at the sketches of the proposed new interior and blew up.
He made a speech on the floor

BUSINESS MEANS JOBS
A corporation is simply a group
of people doing together what it
would be impossible for them to do singly. These people have been brought together in hopes of making a profit on money they invest together. The managers they select build factories, buy the tools, and hire the men. All together, if they are wise and efficient, they achieve
production, lots of jobs, and higher
living standards.

The corporation method, then,
is one way of achieving these very desirable goals. The corporation is not a "soulless" entity, but
a group of individuals who have brought together in hopes of making a profit on money they invest together. The managers they select build factories, buy the tools, and hire the men. All together, if they are wise and efficient, they achieve
production, lots of jobs, and higher
living standards.

How do you like that?
Organized rackets, especially gambling, are developing a
most potent political action movement. They can do so because they are ruthless in their
methods.
—Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Los Angeles.

Progressive ideas were never correctly disseminated, nor was
a social transformation ever
brought about by bayonets—which
can only enslave.
—Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia.

He was an earnest, conscientious
and eminently able jurist. He
was true to his ideals, and, in all,
a great American.
—Chief Justice Fred Vinson, on
death of Justice Rutledge.

The Allies must give this government a "psychological chance"
if they want to hold this part of Europe against the Communists.
—Mr. Theodore Hoess, new West
German president.

Today the Communists are being
purged out of the CIO ranks.
Their power and influence in the
organized labor movement in America are now negligible and
will soon be nil.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Widespread violations of agricultural quota laws and agreements by farmers have been winked at by the Departments of Justice and Agriculture at a cost of millions of dollars annually to the taxpayers and consumers.

This economic lawlessness matches urban dwellers' defiance of the prohibition statutes during the fifteen years when the Anti-Saloon League dominated Congress and the White House.
Like the law-breaking guzzlers, too, the offenders do not feel that they are actually acting illegally. The maze of regulations and
the flood of easy money, together with the high wages received by labor
under administration-sponsored policies, incline them to believe that they ought to get theirs while the getting is good.

Although legal and farm experts here will not discuss this problem, they do think it serious, but they throw up their hands when asked why they do not prosecute. Several judgments against violators were handed down and approved even by the Supreme Court in early New Deal days, but there is now no attempt at enforcement.
It is the least publicized story
at Washington.

DIFFICULT — The offenses, which consist of collecting federal checks without fulfilling pledges to limit production to amounts stated in the contract, are as difficult to prosecute successfully as private purchases of "hooch"
were from 1918 to 1933.
County agents and other federal supervisors supposed to police these agreements prefer to on delinquencies prefer to look the other way. It is improbable that juries of neighboring farmers would convict, as they refused to do in the infamous dry era.
Moreover, enforcement would require a system of statistics leaving nobody to grow the nation's food.

CONSEQUENCE — "As-
tically, however, past and present attorney generals and secretaries of agriculture have made it impossible to attempt to enforce the laws. The Commodity Credit Corporation pays government money to the farmer at the support price for the amount he has raised under his contract.
The CCC is virtually bankrupt, although there will be no admission of this fact until after January 1, 1950, as originally planned; (2) that the CCC may benefit from any subsequent drop
in retail prices; and (3) that the cleverly devised program for winning over the agricultural areas to the Democrats in 1930
and 1932 will fall.

The don't seem to be any more rabbits in the hold-the-farm-vote hat!
The likely outcome seems to be
(1) that the Hope-Allen scheme will go into effect on January 1, 1950, as originally planned; (2) that the CCC may
benefit from any subsequent drop
in retail prices; and (3) that
the cleverly devised program for winning over the agricultural
areas to the Democrats in 1930
and 1932 will fall.

"GIMMICK" — It is no accident that the Farmers' Union is virtually the only agricultural organization that supports the Brannan plan to subsidize both producers and consumers under a
two-price system estimated to entail annual costs ranging from
five to fifteen billion dollars.
The real objective of this program is to guarantee a government-financed wage. But it cannot be a wage, for both the farmer and the industrial workers.
The really novel feature of the Brannan plan is that it assures a fixed income to producers without a subsidy to consumers.
The plan is to subsidize both producers and consumers under a
two-price system estimated to entail annual costs ranging from
five to fifteen billion dollars.

October Parade

By GORDON MARTIN
When your calendar is changed to show October's here at last, it's a time when outdoor glory is a sight that's unsurpassed. And you've got a feast for living in the snappy autumn air, when the morning sun is rising on another day so fair. Then you hail the beauty of the month that glorifies the fall, while you bend an ear and lend an eye to Indian summer's call.

There's a silver-plated cover laid by early morning frost, with its wealth of sparkling diamonds on the browning turf unhoisted. And a golden glow then follows as the sun ascends the sky, bringing out the shades of rippling leaves, which soon will say goodbye. First you see a dash of yellow, then a streak of brown or red, and they flutter down to help the ground prepare its winter bed.
In the evening, rippling breezes carry bonfire smoke afar, and it seems like heaven's close enough to touch a twinkling little star.
Then you reach for heavy blankets and a prayer you humbly accept, you're stung by the glory of a new October day. You can find a lot of beauty that the hand of man has made, but it can't compete with nature when October's on parade.

Socialist Government Wins Victory of Doubtful Value

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A Foreign Analyst

Britain's Socialist government has won a technical victory of doubtful value in its battle in the House of Commons to justify the recent devaluation of the pound sterling as a solution of the country's fierce economic crisis.

Actually the three-day, full-dress debate degenerated into political tub-thumping by both Socialists and Conservatives in preparation for the next general election. It was neither illuminating nor edifying.

When the duel of words was over, Prime Minister Attlee, with his big Socialist majority behind him, first defeated a Conservative motion of no confidence in the government. He then proceeded to drive through a vote of confidence, in which the Conservatives, headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, sat silent. Thus the vote was on party lines.

So about all that this eagerly awaited debate achieved was to demonstrate again Attlee's ability to hold his following in Parliament fairly well in line, although there was some disaffection. What the general public eagerly wanted was an indication of government plans for handling the crisis and how the conservatives themselves would deal with the situation if they were in power. But all the public got was a display of electioneering pyrotechnics.

Whither now? The fate of Socialist rule in Britain is at stake. The Socialist leaders are divided over the question of whether the government should force a general election in the near future or should wait until, say, spring. Under normal circumstances an election would be due in the middle of next year.

The Socialist decision will, of course, in effect be a gamble. That is, if they hold a quick election it will be on the basis that economic conditions may be better now than they will be later on. If they wait until next year it will be because they figure that devaluation will help matters, and because it will give time to complete nationalization of the steel industry and reform of the House of Lords — two planks of their platform.

Prime Minister Attlee wants to wait until next year for the election. He appears to have confidence in the effects of the devaluation which he himself is credited with putting through.

Man Gets Wish — To Be Arrested

HOUSTON — (AP) — A man who said he wanted to be arrested "in order to test the law about shooting a pistol" got his wish.

Officers took him from a barricaded room after neighbors complained he had fired 20 pistol shots from his rooming house over a nine-hour period.

He surrendered only after police permitted him to comb his hair and put on a tie.

Capt. George Seiter called in the county psychiatrist after the man had been jailed.

Pickpocket Objects To Lady Detective

TOKYO — (AP) — Ten times pickpocket Yasutarō Sasaki, 39, went to jail for fidgeting purses without complaint.

Each time he was arrested by male policemen.

Caught for the eleventh time, Sasaki felt he had lost face—a woman detective arrested him in a department store.

"I didn't know they had women detectives," Sasaki whined to the magistrate.

THE CORN IS GREEN—Indianapolis may not have grass growing in its streets, but the corn is green on the sidewalk—at least one lone stalk pushing up through a crack in the concrete is. Gas station attendant Joe Ticon doesn't know how it happened to spring up there, but he faithfully cares for the plant in hopes of a "bumper crop" later in the season.

Firemen Meet Train On Fire at Station

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — (AP) — The Alexandria Fire Department met a fire at the railroad station Friday night.

A telegraph operator at Fairhaven, three miles south of the city, noticed a burning flat car as a train passed by. He sent word to stop the train at Alexandria.

The Fire Department arrived at Union Station as the freight train pulled in and had the blaze out in 20 minutes. Assistant Fire Chief William Barber said it was caused by a hot box.

'Scientist X' Is Identified By Committee

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee named Joseph W. Weinberg, University of Minnesota professor, as the "Scientist X" accused of slipping wartime atomic secrets to a Communist spy.

In Minneapolis, Weinberg got out a statement saying "I am not the person" referred to in previous committee reports as "Scientist X." He also said he had never given secret information to any unauthorized person.

The committee recommended in a report that the Justice Department prosecute Weinberg on charges he lied under oath in:

1. Denying Communist Party membership and attending Young Communist League meetings.
2. Knowing Communist leader Steve Nelson, J. Knowing Nelson's secretary, Bernadette Doyle.

Committee members said these denials were made at closed door sessions it held late in 1948. At that time the witness before the committee was identified publicly as "Scientist X."

Nelson, the committee says, "was engaged in securing information regarding the development of the atomic bomb from Scientist X."

That was back in 1943, the committee adds, when Weinberg was employed at the Radiation Laboratory at the University of California. The laboratory helped perfect the A-bomb.

The story of the Nelson-Scientist X case is an old one the committee first unfolded a year ago. But while the identity of Scientist X was widely known around Washington, the committee waited until Friday to put the finger on him by name.

As to the accusation of the lying under oath, Weinberg said: "I have always told the truth. I affirm my position."

Weinberg declared also that he was not working on a secret project and had no access to secret information at the time a committee report said "Scientist X" gave a secret formula to Nelson.

Gideons in Convention

DALLAS — (AP) — A stocky, 48-year-old man put a silver-plated cornet to his lips at a busy downtown street corner and blew a howl.

Then Otto Drachenberg, ex-Army bugler who now owns an Amarillo building materials firm, put his instrument aside. A companion loosened his coat and spoke.

"It's show call — for the food that gives the bread of life," said Robert Ferguson, a Dallas food broker.

Ferguson explained that he, Drachenberg and about 17 others on the corner were Gideons, here for their annual state convention.

Gideons are best known for their distribution of Bibles to hotels, schools, jails and service-men.

For about an hour, the Gideons took turns speaking, singing and passing out gospel tracts to passersby.

R. L. Saunders, 36, owner of an Amarillo auto parts firm and state Gideon president, was one of those handing out tracts.

J. F. Dellis of Abilene, a civil engineer, was asked if preaching on the street and passing out tracts didn't embarrass the Gideons.

... early in the morning ... first day of the week. — Mk. 16:2

FRANCIS AVENUE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Christian Science Church Wins Fight

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Christian Science churchmen won a 34-year struggle as Ohio became the 48th state to let their practitioners charge fees.

The 88th Ohio General Legislative Assembly gave assent. Christian Science practitioners heretofore could only accept gifts for their ministrations in Ohio.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche signed the new law now in effect.

Last Will and Testament of Uncle Honeysuckle Yokum
 On the eve of being hanged for murder, he bequeaths to the Yokums mah Sure-Fire, It-never-Fails plan for Peace.

The reason all other plans has flopped is becuz they is based on a lovable mistake—namely—that people WANTS to be nice to each other.

Nothin' could be wronger.

People wants to kick other people around. They loves it. It gives 'em a feelin' of superiority. The one ketch is that them which gets kicked, gets mad, and kicks back.

And there yo' has the cause of all trouble, and War.

Now the Uncle Honeysuckle Yokum, Sure-Fire, Never-Fail, Peace Plan is BASED on the indisputable fact that people ENJOYS bein mean to each other—if they thinks they kin git away wif it.

People just-han't hoomin.
 And so, ah bequeaths to yo' the KIGMIES, in recognisun o' the fact.

Bogart Cleared of Bruising Model

NEW YORK (AP)—Humphrey Bogart, the movie tough guy, was cleared of bruising a pretty model because she tried to take his panda doll away from him.

Magistrate John R. Starkey dismissed an assault complaint brought by brunette Robin Roberts, 25, thus ringing down the curtain on the pre-dawn battle of El Morocco.

Starkey said there wasn't enough evidence to warrant a formal charge being placed against Bogart.

The rough-em-up movie star, specialist in tough-talking, hard-fighting roles, played to standing room only when he appeared to answer the curvaceous model's complaint.

Her story was that Bogart shoved her, causing her to fall down and bruise herself on the hip and elsewhere, when she playfully borrowed a 20-pound toy panda that Bogart had brought to the midtown night club.

Bourbon Prices Slated for Drop

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A distillery sales manager said four-year-old bourbon will be available at pre-war prices by Thanksgiving.

T. A. Dubois of Philadelphia, general sales manager for the Kinsey Distilling Corporation, said straight and blends of straight bourbon will be sold for $4 a fifth and bonded bourbon for about $4.75.

Dubois spoke at the 18th annual convention of the National Retail Liquor Package Stores Association.

Living Costs Shoved Up by Food Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—High food prices shoved the cost of living up a little between July 15 and Aug. 15.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) said that in mid-August its consumers' price index stood at 183.3 percent of the 1935-39 average, up 0.2 percent from a month earlier.

That was 2.3 percent below a year ago and 26.5 percent higher than in June, 1948, just before most price controls were abandoned. It was 71.2 percent above the August, 1939, or prewar, level.

The BLS said a 0.4 percent increase in food prices, was mainly responsible for the August boost.

Miscellaneous goods and services, fuel, electricity and refrigeration, and residential rents also were fractionally higher than a month earlier.

Prices of house furnishings dropped 1.1 percent and clothing prices declined 0.6 percent.

Settlement Made In Injuries Case

The case of Jimmy Crouch vs. Joe Glaxner was settled in 31st District Court Friday afternoon before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Crouch, 19, through his father, J. T. Crouch, sued Glaxner, also 19, for $500 for injuries and expenses sustained as a result of an automobile accident which took place near Lake McClellan near the end of the last school year.

A $300 settlement was the result of the case. Arthur Teed was the attorney for Crouch while J. B. Maguire and Curtis Douglas were attorneys for the defendant.

THE SCIENTISTS also invented the Atom Bomb which could wipe out a whole City with just one blow ... But this was not the reason for the downfall of those strange creatures ... It got so that whenever a Person acted out of character and was Kind or Honest or Practiced Brotherly Love or Drove his Car carefully, he was placed in a Mental Institution ... And that is why, my children, there is nobody left today but us Insects ... (The end of "Sage of the Olden Time.")

YOU ARE BEST at being yourself ... For instance, a tenor was pouring his lamentations into the microphone, and my first thought was that: "That radio singer is strictly an amateur." ... Why? I thought: After all I'm certainly no expert ... But before the announcer confirmed my belief, I knew the answer. The singer was trying to be an imitation of famous singers ... for one moment he sounded like Crosby; then the next, like Sinatra ... He was singing like everyone—except himself.

STRICTLY SPEAKING, I don't know who most enjoyed the midway at the fair—the stream of spectators, or the harkers ... Don Foster at his concession stand could hardly give up the basketball long enough to earn a dime or two ... Harry Solnick was hawking his wares, but I didn't get over there to see what it was ... among the sightseers were Lib Atchison, Maudie Laycock, Senie Coley and D. L. Parker ... thought the ceramics display was extraordinary ... I didn't realize how far local women had gone in perfecting this art ... Mrs. T. V. Sparks, Mrs. T. C. Carter and Mrs. C. P. Pursley were among the winners in the hand-modeled division ... and Mrs. Pursley won first in china painting ... I believe Mrs. Harry Fugua placed first in the hand-decorated ceramics ... the models were all so perfect I don't see how the judges could choose among them ... After Ann and Bill Hankew had taken in the fair, they returned to the spot where they had parked their car—and it wasn't there! ... Ann rushed one way, Bill the other ... they hunted high and wide, and found to their simultaneous pleasure that it had been moved by a loading truck to the back of one of the tents ... Ann said she hardly slept all night.

PANORAMA—An added attraction to the City Tax Office are Lucille Foster and Lois Cameron who are helping on the tax rolls during the busy season ... Lois Marguire returned from vacation just in time to help move into the new offices of the Panhandle Insurance Agency, Southwestern Investment Company and Federal Savings & Loan ... they will be in their new location at the corner of Frost and Kingsmill tomorrow ... saw Joe Mitchell showing a group around the new offices the other day—pointing with pride to all the new features.

ESPECIALLY ESPIED—Norma Fatheree, no gaily attired in a bright red gabardine suit ... Mrs. John Ketter looked extremely smart in a tailored, pin-checked wool dress ... Meda Fraser looked pert in a soft, close-fitting velvet hat which was very, very reminiscent of the 1920's ... Deulah Merchant combined a rich milberry suit and hat with the darkest of green suede shoes and bag to make a striking ensemble ... Jean Chisholm added a delightful splash of color with a bright orange waist ... she was wearing it with a soft grey jersey skirt.

"SCUSE it please: The D. A. Finkelsteins will be receiving guests at 322 N. Frost instead of the William Finkelsteins, as Peg previous (and carelessly) stated ... did you ever notice how cheerful Ann Henry always is ... My goodness, how the list increases—but we are happy to announce that the Dan Williams, Jr., the Jack Andrews, the J. G. McConnells (former Pampans) and the Buddy Francises are all expecting that long-legged girl ... If I were selecting one of the best-dressed women in Pampa, my vote would go for Mrs. E. J. Haslam ... and speaking of attractive women, noticed Mrs. Ed Weiss with her most becoming short hair-bob ... her young daughter was the chauffeur of the new Buick ... and congratulations to the Har- old Millers ... they have a new baby boy who arrived last week ... the Earl Rice, Jr., are proud parents of a son, born a week ago yesterday ... Rusty Ward of family have a new residence at 1900 Coffee. They are two of the many who have moved to the Fraser Addition—and looking forward to an elementary school in that vicinity before too long ... saw Ruth and Dale Strickland driving around in a new Plymouth ... Vicki Williams is remodeling her house these days ... heard Elmer Francis is really making an up-to-date, modern and sane sawyer is really enjoying her new home; drive by anytime ... Emma will probably be working in the yard, and I'll wager she'll show you the new domicile ... If I were an artist I would paint what I saw at the breakfast at the Country Club last Tuesday morning ... as far as feminine attire goes, it was a gay panorama of fall colors: Mrs. Art Teed, sporting the basic fall shade of brown from head to toe ... setting off her dark hair and eyes, Mrs. Ray McKernan was especially pretty in an apple-green suit of soft wool, with matching hat ... she complemented the suit with alligator shoes and bag—and she looked positively "yum."

MR. AND MRS. Jake Hailer are the parents of a new baby, born Wednesday nit ... Jake is the new coach at Claude ... A couple of spry ladies that make this "youngster" generation look very slow and lazy are Mrs. Herb Walker and Mrs. E. H. Elkins ... spied them in Murfee's the other day, and stopped long enough to envy their vim and vigor ... Yes, it's fall, and it's the clothes, clothes ... noticed Isabel Priest, Doris Taylor and Tommie Handley—all sporting brilliant new finery.

HERE'S a note, and then I must run: get Mrs. George Gray's recipe on chocolate pie ... I hear it's oh—delicious. Gourmatically, (But I can't cook) PEG O' PAMPA.

Book Review for Pioneer Study Club

McLEAN (Special) — The Pioneer Study Club members were entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Carl Jones. A book review was given by Mrs. Albert Bailey of Estelline. She reviewed "The Chain" by Paul Wellman. Lime sherbet and cake squares were served to 21 members and guests by Mrs. Bob Thomas and Mrs. Roger Powers from a table laid with an ecru cloth and centered with an arrangement of bronze dahlias.

Marjorie Lee Goble To Marry Next Month

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Goble of Pittsburgh, Pa., formerly of Pampa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Lee, to Reiford G. Phillips of Pittsburgh. The ceremony will be performed Nov. 23 in the North End Methodist Church in Pittsburgh.

MISS HILDA RUTH BURDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burden, of 1661 Charles, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Hilda Ruth, to Ewert Ray Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan of 1207 Christine. The wedding will be solemnized Sunday, Nov. 6, at the First Christian Church of Pampa.

Acceptance Tea Honors Fall La Rosa Pledges

An acceptance tea honoring 1949-50 pledges of La Rosa Sorority was given in the home of Miss Barbara Crouch, 1700 North Charles, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 25, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Pledges took the pledge oath in the den. After the oath, pledge ribbons were pinned on, and are to be worn throughout their pledging. The oath was taken by Doris Ann King, LaTasha Holman, Rosemary Shehann, Elsie Houston, Karol Rankin, Malerna Miller and Gail Herr.

The club colors, red and white, were featured in decorations. The lace laid table was centered with an arrangement of red roses and white carnations flanked with white candles. Cake decorated with red roses was served with lemon-lime punch, and red and white mints were served. Nut cups were given as favors.

New officers of the La Rosa Club are Miss Mary Lou Gantz, president; Miss Glenda Husted, secretary; Miss Joan Ryan, treasurer, and Miss Cornelia Cornelius, vice president.

Members attending were Misses Barbara Crouch, Barbara Radcliff, Alma Alverson, Neva Lynn Cox, Lena Jean Smith, Donna and Clara May Washington, Cornelia Cornelius, Nell Brummett, Zelma Gattin, Wanda Forducey, Glenda Husted, Mildred Jones, LaJuana Garner, Mrs. Bill Smith, sponsor, and Verda Elkins, junior sponsor.

Birthday of Austin College Brings Three Groups Together

SHERMAN — (AP) — Because of a birthday three Presbyterian groups for the first time in history will meet at the same time in the same city.

The birthday is that of Austin College, observing its one-hundredth anniversary.

The school began at Huntsville and Sam Houston, Anson Jones and Daniel Baker were on its first board.

The college is operated jointly by the Texas and Oklahoma Synods of the P-Resbyterian Church, U. S. These groups will meet here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. In addition, the Texas synod of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., will meet the same day, and in the same city because of the birthday.

The Presbyterian Church, U. S., called commonly the Southern Presbyterian Church and the Northern Presbyterian Church, were once in the same fold. But because of Civil War differences, the church split in 1861. The rupture never has been healed on a national basis although efforts are being made to bring about a reunion.

Dr. Jasper Mantou of Dallas, state clerk of the Texas Synod, U. S. A., emphasizes that separate business sessions will be held by each group in Sherman. He described his group's decision to meet at the same time and same place as a good-will gesture inspired by the anniversary of the college.

Ben Jonson, English poet laureate, is buried in an upright position in Westminster Abbey.

Someone to Love By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, MEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Joe Deussen has married Jenny Felsch "the rebound" after his romance, she weathers. Liz Conover, slipped with another man. He has old Jenny and once in awhile himself that it is all over with Liz. On the return from a short honeymoon trip Jenny finds an evasive letter at their home where they had planned to live. Joe suggests that they live with his mother, states Harriet and brother Joe, Jenny's friends—advice against it. Joe's friends—advice against it. Joe's friends—advice against it. Joe's friends—advice against it.

lently looking into the darkened street. His broad shoulders sagged a little and his hair was rumpled.

THE sound of traffic floated up from the street below. The muted blast of Joe's radio came out of the living room, and water was running in the bathroom adjoining, where Harriet was washing out some things.

"If we live here this winter I don't know how you'll be able to study," Jenny said, "and besides—I just hate it!" She really hadn't meant to tell him that, but it had burst out before she thought.

"For heaven's sake," Joe cried in exasperation, as he turned about. "This heat is bad enough without your needing me all the time! Don't you suppose I hate it too?" he shouted. "I despise the cheapness of it all, the whole tawdry commonplace way we live! There's no fun in it anywhere. This wasn't the kind of life I planned to have. I hate my job, this apartment, having nothing to look forward to!"

Jenny stared at him in shocked disbelief, and then she whispered hoarsely, "Go on—say it." She clung with one hand to the foot of the bedside waterfall bed. "You're sorry—"

Jenny's brown eyes swam with quick tears.

Joe's eyes softened and he came toward her and held her close. "Never, never," he whispered, rubbing his chin in her hair. "I'm sorry we got married, Jenny. You'll have to forgive my temper. I didn't mean half the things I said, it's the heat."

Jenny fell into the habit of staying in town quite often with Nina on those nights when Joe was out of town. They would cook a quick supper at Nina's apartment and then they'd go to a show, or spend the evening together. If she didn't stay all night at Nina's it would be late when she got home. And one

Sunday morning she heard Ma talking about it to Tod.

"Sometimes it's 11 o'clock, who she, don't say a word about where she's been or nothing! And I sometimes wonder when she says she's staying all night with that Nina." "Ma, cut it out. Jenny's not that sort."

"Little you know about what sort she is!"

"Cut it out, I said! If Jenny wants to go some place in the evening—"

"Ma! My words, you'll find out what kind she is!"

Jenny had slept late, but she threw on her robe and came into the kitchen where they were eating breakfast.

TOD shoved back his chair and came around to Jenny, put his arm across her shoulders and said grinning, "Hello, sleepyhead!" He got up a chair for her, got the coffee pot and poured her coffee. Jenny felt her anger melting. She had intended having it out with Ma and Tod then and there, but the way Tod bustled around looking after her comfort and the way Ma got up and bounced into the other room, made it impossible.

Then came a Thursday evening in August, and Tod was out due home until Friday. Nina had suggested that she and Jenny really splurge—be the dinner at a nice place and then take in a new show Jenny even had a new dress, a sheer black crepe she bought cheaply from Max because the summer was almost over. And she had found a hat to go with it, a Dutch bonnet with a lace brim.

They were to dine at Greenbriar, the swankiest place in town, soft lights, dreamy music and wonderful cocktails. They had just been seated when Jenny, happening to glance toward the door, saw Tod.

"She thought she must be mistaken, because Tod wasn't due home until the following day. But it was Tod all right, and he went directly to a table in the far corner. Liz was at the table."

Nina saw Jenny's face. "Jenny!" Jenny didn't answer. All she could think of was to get out before Tod saw her.

Clearing Agency For Rescue Work Being Studied

AUSTIN — (AP) — Need for a clearing agency to control and direct expedient search for wreckage following Texas air crashes will be studied by the State Aeronautics Commission.

The study was approved here at the regular quarterly meeting of the board.

Commission Director A. W. Meadows said the Army, the Civil Aeronautics Administration and other organizations are vitally interested in the development of faster, more efficient handling of such work.

"As much as two or three days are sometimes spent trying to find out just who is going to handle a search," Meadows said. "Better and more complete weather reports for the entire state are also being sought by the board through an experimental project in cooperation with weather bureaus.

Meadows said volunteer weather observers are to be appointed in sections of the state where weather reports are presently lacking. Results are to be studied for possible continuance of the project on a permanent basis, he said.

The board took note of development of an estimated 1,200 ranch flying strips built throughout the state during the past two years by flying ranchers.

The strips, which also serve emergency landings, are doing much to further private flying, Meadows reported.

Winter and Striking Miners Prove Good Salesmen for Oil

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — Striking coal miners and approaching winter are aiding the oil industry in recovering from early year production slumps. Crude output last week jumped and refineries increased operations by 1.2 percent over the previous week.

Three states — Oklahoma, Louisiana and Kansas — boosted October crude production allowances by a total of 112,972 barrels daily. Texas already had upped its October allowances.

There are indications an even larger Texas increase will be set when November's allowances are determined October 12.

Crude purchasers have been asked to make careful estimates of their November needs and advise the Texas Railroad Commission of their findings.

Said Lieut. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the commission: "It is entirely possible there will be increasing demand for Texas crude in the months of November and December. . . the coal miners are turning out to be oil's best salesmen. It would seem wise to get ready for a big demand for oil."

He said the oil industry must be ready in that "the public will tolerate no shortages of heating oil this winter."

Daily domestic crude output still is some 470,000 barrels below a year ago. Oilmen still are clamoring for government action toward limitation of foreign crude imports. The Bureau of Mines on Wednesday reported that these imports the first seven months of the year approximated 87,580,000 barrels, about 31.2 percent above the same 1948 period.

Rep. Ed Gossett (D-Tex) last week proposed legislation limiting imports to 5 percent of domestic production. Such a plan, in the form of a proposed amendment to the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, was defeated two weeks ago in the Senate, 40-41.

Foreign oil operations received a boost last week as the Economic Cooperation Administration granted $21,420,500 in Marshall Plan money for expansion of three French and two British refineries.

ECA also released a preliminary report on the findings of a survey of future production plans of all oil companies outside North America and Soviet dominated nations.

The report indicates there is to be a strong upward trend continuing through 1953.

An ECA petroleum branch official emphasized that the survey has not been analyzed, but he added: "It appears there will be a world surplus in 1952 and 1953."

SPECTACULAR GASOLINE FIRE — Flames and smoke leap hundreds of feet into the air at a spectacular fire at the Nall Oil Co., Perryton, Texas. Three storage tanks containing 18,000 gallons of gasoline burned and the intense heat from the fire threatened 70,000 bushels of wheat in the nearby Ellis Grain Co. elevator. Much of the wheat was damaged by the heat. Damage to was estimated at $25,000. (AP Photo)

Backlogged Gas Finals Boost Output 221,505 MCF

As far as actual drilling, Panhandle operators moved at slow pace last week in completing only six wells for a total increased potential of 203 barrels of crude.

By looking at the number of gas completions filed, however, it would appear last week had been one of the busiest. Some 59 gas wells were reported completed by the Railroad Commission for an increased potential of 221,505 MCF. Some of these wells, however, have been completed for more than a year but have been shut in awaiting

Independents Hear Eccles At Meeting

FORT WORTH — Marriner S. Eccles, widely known banking and finance figure, will address domestic oil industry leaders here tomorrow at the annual banquet of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

The 20th anniversary IPAA session, expected to attract independent oil men from more than 40 states, is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday. The Association standing committees will meet Sunday.

Eccles, a member of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, has been closely identified with national affairs since 1933 when he first appeared in Washington to discuss economic problems with Administration officials and to appear before the Senate finance committee.

He was named assistant secretary of the treasury in January, 1934, and governor of the Federal Reserve Board in November of that year.

Eccles was instrumental in bringing about a broad revision of the Federal Reserve act in 1935, at which time the authority and responsibility of the Federal Reserve Board — now known as "Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System" — were greatly increased.

He was appointed chairman of the board on Feb. 1, 1936, and served three successive four-year terms in that position. His present term expires in Feb., 1956.

In business life, Eccles is chairman of the board of directors of the First Security Corp., which operates 28 banks in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming, and of Amalgamated Sugar Co. He also is president of Eccles Hotel Co., Sego Milk Products Co., and Stoddard Lumber Co., all in Oregon.

J. W. SWYGART

Retirement Is Announced for J. W. Swygart

Retirement became effective yesterday for J. W. Swygart, production superintendent for Shell's Panhandle district.

Retirement ended 41 years of active duty in the oil industry for the 60-year-old oilman. Slightly more than 22 years had been spent with Shell Oil Co.

Sygart, born June 6, 1889, had amassed some 19 years experience in the oil industry in his home state of Indiana and in Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana and Kansas before starting with Shell at Oxford, Kans., Sept. 15, 1927.

His first job with Shell was gang-pusher at Oxford.

In 1938 he was transferred to Greenwich, Kans., as production foreman and in 1941 was appointed assistant superintendent and moved to Great Bend, Kans.

After staying at Great Bend for four years, he was transferred again; this time to Centralia, Ill., as district superintendent.

He was placed in the Panhandle area as district superintendent at the offices here, in May, 1946.

Swygart has been on sick leave from Shell since March, of this year, and it is on the doctor's advice that he remain in Pampa. Since the Shell production department is being moved, his retirement was made official at this time, rather than next June.

New Gas Measurement Law To Become Effective Oct. 5

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission Friday ordered compliance with the state's new standard gas measurement law beginning with the monthly business for October.

The law becomes effective Oct. 5. Hearings were also ordered held in all oil and gas fields in Texas to determine the average temperature of gas and to determine other variable factors necessary to calculate the metered volumes of gas in compliance with the law.

Pending the hearings, average values of 60 degrees Fahrenheit for temperatures and .60 for gas specific gravity are to be used in calculating volumes, the commission said.

No correction for deviation from the ideal gas laws will be required for gas volumes measured at pressure of 100 pounds or less, the order said. Where deviation corrections are necessary, the procedure set out in the bulletin entitled "NGAA Tentative Standard Method for Calculation of High Pressure Gas Measurement" or as set out in the California Natural Gasoline Association bulletins TS-353, TS-354, TS-402 and TS-461 are to be used.

The commission ordered that it be notified by Oct. 31 of the method to be used by each person or corporation required to report volumes of gas under the new law.

The law sets up the standards by which gas is measured to assure statewide uniformity. It was passed by the last Legislature.

Phillips Holds Open House at Borger Units

Coinciding with the national celebration of "Oil Progress Week," Phillips Petroleum Co. and its subsidiaries will hold an open house at many of its operating units in the Borger area, on Oct. 21, K. S. Adams, president of Phillips, has announced.

Oil men and oil companies throughout the nation are observing "Oil Progress Week" from Oct. 16 to 22, celebrating 90 years of progress since Col. E. S. Drake drilled his well at Titusville, Pa. in 1859. At the Phillips open house, visitors will see many diversified operations connected with the oil industry.

The plant tours will include the Borger refinery, the research and development area where much of the research for cold rubber has been conducted, the Borger fractionator, the Rice gasoline plant, the Rock Creek plant, the Panhandle district warehouse, the Plains Plant, a government-owned plant operated by Phillips for the production of butadiene used in manufacture of synthetic rubber, and the modern medical center.

"This occasion presents us an opportunity to show the people in the Panhandle the progress that our company is making in the area," Adams said in announcing the open house. "Plans are now being formulated to make the tour of our properties very interesting and educational for all visitors." Phillips is holding open house Oct. 21.

Commission Sets October Hearings

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission Friday gave notice of the following public hearings:

Oct. 14 — Application of the Arrow Drilling Co. for exemption from shut-down days to apply to its Allen well No. 1, Longwood field, Harrison County.

Oct. 20 — Application of the Ryan Consolidated Petroleum Corp. for exemption from shut-down days for its Wagner well No. 4, Green Lake field, Calhoun County.

Oct. 20 — Application of the J&C Drilling Co. for adoption of amendment to spacing rules now in effect for the Pinedale field, Victoria County.

Oct. 20 — Application of the Signal Oil and Gas Co. and T. W. and J. M. Loffland, Jr., for adoption of special rules for the Daly (Caddo) field, Wise County.

Although more than 37 billion barrels of crude oil have been produced in the United States in the ninety years since their first well was drilled for oil in 1859, the total proved reserves of crude oil in underground fields on January 1, 1949 are 27 billion barrels.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By RUD ANDERSON

Low pressure and high porosity would make newly developed hydraulic fracturing process pretty questionable in the Panhandle according to W. E. Hasselbroek, engineer in the mechanical and research department of Halliburton. He spoke at the API meeting, Wednesday.

Hasselbroek discussed the new well conditioning process developed by Stanolind and now licensed to Halliburton. He explained the process utilizes a fracturing agent which is pumped into the selected formation. This agent, which is a propping agent, is carried in suspension in the well and holds the fracture open after it is opened by the well. A well-bore is introduced into the fracture immediately after the sand and well has entered the formation. The well-bore reduces the viscosity of the well and enables operators to wash out the formation.

Hasselbroek had a number of statistics ready, and some of the results cited spoke greatly in favor of the new process. Some wells, he figured, showed increased production as much as several hundred times their original. Others increased only a few barrels after conditioning.

One of the main features brought out was the hydraulic fracture process produces a sustained increase. It takes no longer and but a bit more expensive than an acidizing or shooting job.

He did tell API members, however, the low pressure and the porous formation this process would make hydraulic fracturing a costly and not very helpful treatment. There have been good results in dolomite in the Hugoton gas fields, however, and he thought there might be a chance for satisfactory work here.

S. U. Young, formerly of Lucien, Okla., has been transferred to Pampa from Lucien as superintendent of the Shell Gasoline plants. He replaces C. Nichols who will be superintendent of gasoline plants for Shell at Lucien.

John Gilbert, member of the Shell purchasing department in Tulsa has been in Pampa for the past two weeks, disposing of surplus property for Shell. Gilbert has a brother, J. E. who lives at 820 Hazel in Pampa.

An Humble habit had to give way to repair and progress this year. Once each year the Humble Pipe Line Co. invites a number of Panhandle operators, royalty owners and company representatives on an Humble-paid fishing and duck hunting trip to Harbor Island down on the Texas coast.

But, it seems it became imperative the company rebuild its crude loading docks and in doing so, guest houses had to be used to accommodate contractors and engineers.

However, E. C. Low of Humble's crude oil department said that another trip was being planned for July next year. Here's to next year.

From all reports that have managed to get out, this year's meeting of the independents at Fort Worth, promises to be a humdrum. All the year the independents have been fighting increasing imports from foreign oil fields and have just lost a round to the importers through the one-vote defeat of the Thomas Amendment to the trade agreements act. This would limit imports to five percent of demand.

Now the entire association will have a chance to get its collective head together and thrash out some way of taking a round themselves.

Another incentive for a serious business meeting is a release by the State Department indicating imports would take still another rise above the 600,000 barrels daily of crude and refined petroleum — this time to 750,000 daily. Importers are promising a 1,000,000 barrels within a short time.

So, there will be plenty to do in two days. Actually committee sessions will begin a day or so in advance of the Oct. 2 opening session.

There is no telling just how many independents are going to the meeting from the Panhandle. E. J. Dunigan has indicated he would probably go, as did I. J. Huval. Both are Pampa men.

Some people have been asking if, when and where the remaining Shell personnel are going to be transferred. The only ones left now are five in the office force. These are F. D. Harvey, acting superintendent and Johnny Lines, H. L. Dulaney, Larry Snyder and Miss Dora Owen.

These will leave as soon as all Shell property not included in the trade-out has been disposed of. It may be as long as two weeks before this is completed. It hasn't been made official, yet, where they are being transferred. This information will be printed as soon as it becomes official.

Sooner Allowables Hiked for October

TULSA — (AP) — The Oklahoma oil allowance for October was hiked 50,000 barrels daily last week, but there was no optimism evidenced in early drilling reports. Completions amble along at a mediocre pace of 75, including 36 producers, two gas wells and 37 dry holes. The Tulsa World reported. New crude production average 4,682 barrels per day with 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The week's totals totaled 268,220.

BLACKMER MAKES BOND—Henry M. Blackmer (left), Denver oil man who fled the country 25 years ago to avoid testifying in the Teapot Dome investigation, posts a $5,000 bond in Denver, Colo. Blackmer returned to Denver to plead guilty to evasion of $1,137,000 in federal income taxes. With him are his son, Myron (center) and Deputy Clerk William Graf. The court took under advisement a government motion to dismiss four perjury indictments against Blackmer. (AP Wirephoto)

Sherman Leads in Gas Completions

Sherman County led in the number of new gas wells filed with the District 10 Railroad Commission. Sherman filed a whopping 52 gas completions.

Carson and Gray Counties sneaked in one each and Moore County added five, pushing the total to 59 new gas wells.

These wells have been shut in awaiting some means of transmission. The newly completed Michigan-Wisconsin pipeline will now service the wells.

Oilman Found Dead in Oklahoma Hotel
OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — An Oklahoma and New Mexico oil man was found dead in his room at an Oklahoma City hotel Friday.

Ray T. Moore, 55, was found by his widow, Mrs. Katherine Moore, who had driven here from their ranch near Miami, Okla. He died of a heart attack.

Moore was an independent oil producer and was a member of a New Mexico oil development firm, Ramco Corp., at the time of his death.

Activity Up For Panhandle In September

On paper, Panhandle operators did a landslide business last month in completing 53 new oil wells and 76 gas wells for a total of 129 completions. This more than doubles the 53 new completions reported to the District 10 Railroad Commission for August, with only 38 new oil completions reported and 14 new gas completions.

Actual production was down slightly for September with 2,369 barrels being reported for September compared to the 2,510 barrels reported for August, a net 2,951 reported for July.

Gas potential gained during September more than doubled the increased potential for August. September gas increased to a total of 405,585 MCF compared to the 113,982 MCF reported for August and 228,855 reported for July.

The story was the same for new locations staked during the past month. Operators staked 103 new locations compared to 64 for August and 53 reported for July. During the month, Carson County reported 16; Gray, 30; Hansford, 1; Hutchinson, 32; Moore, 2; Roberts, 1; Sherman 33 and Wheeler, 2.

Carson had 19 oil completions and 2 gas completions; Gray had 11 and 5; Hutchinson, 32 and 3; Sherman reported 53 gas completions; Moore reported 10; Wheeler, 3 and Potter, 1.

Seven wells were plugged during September.

BASIN REPORTS

There was little activity in the Anadarko Basin last week. Gulf was still fighting hard luck but finally got two out of their three wells underway.

Gulf Porter in Lipscomb is reaching for the bottom at 13,788 feet while the Harbaugh in Ochiltree County is turning to the right at 10,735 feet.

Operators on Gulf's Wambles, also in Ochiltree, are fishing for drillstem twisted off about ten days ago. Total depth on this well is 10,695 feet.

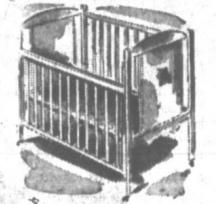

The Railroad Commission say they want to retest the Sinclair Lips No. 2 in Roberts County, but are awaiting word from the operators and also a letter from Tulsa. Sinclair's No. 3-C Lips, also in Roberts is drilling at 4,175 feet.

Crews are rigging up derrick and digging pits on the Sinclair Lips No. 4. No work this week on the Bay Parks No. 2 in Cimarron County, Okla. Operators a week ago drilled a cement plug and it is reported, got about five million feet of gas. So far, there has been no official report.

STATISTICS
Bureau of Mines: aviation gasoline demand totaled 25,539,000 barrels the first seven months of the year, an increase of 9.3 percent from the same period last year; refined petroleum products pipeline-deliveries over the seven months totaled 193,537,000 barrels, 11.5 percent above the 1948 period. American Petroleum Institute: Oil and gas leases at the end of 1948 totaled 206,967,000 acres, with landowners and royalty interest holders receiving bonus payments and royalties of more than $1,200,000,000 during the year.

TWO BILLION DOLLARS
American oil companies will expend more than two billion dollars in 1949 to expand and develop new facilities for the production, refining and distribution of oil products to meet ever-increasing demands of the American public. Like amounts were spent in 1947 and in 1948.

Suit Against Railroads Is Called Breach of Agreement

WASHINGTON — The Interstate Commerce Commission is seeking to collect charges on railroads for wartime shipments.

"We are not dealing with a war profiteer," declared Com. "We are concerned with the destiny of a highly regulated public service which has made an outstanding contribution in World War II—public is dependent to meet the needs of its commerce, its conveniences, and for the national defense.

"The suits at issue result from charges based upon rates rechecked through conferences between railroads and government departments, and the combined earnings during the wartime period resulted in an inadequate return of 4.62 percent on investment. The Department of Justice now proposes to scrap these agreements.

"The United States is not asking reparations from Japan and Germany of its losses due to war. Nevertheless it proposes to shackle the arteries of its own commerce by just such procedures.

"If the government is upheld where will the railroads get the money to pay such claims? They do not have it in their own treasuries. There is no hidden reservoir of private capital from which to borrow such funds. They can not forego interest on funded debt or a few meager dividends."

He also said:

"There are only three alternative courses available.

"First: The railroads can ask for another nation-wide advance in rates, which will only further distort the economic dislocations of this country. But, by such a method, government simply imposes another 'excise' tax upon the farmer and shipper who are dependent upon rail transportation.

"Second: They can appeal to the benevolence of railroad labor. They can ask that body of men to be patriotic, on a retroactive basis. They can seek drastic reductions in wage scales for a sufficient period of time to defray the cost of these claims. Certainly the government has considered just how this bill will be paid and is fully aware that 50 cents out of every gross dollar of railroad revenue goes to labor. This alternative is unthinkable and would be opposed by this association with all the power at its command.

"Third: The United States Congress can be asked for special outright grants to railroads in the amounts necessary to pay these claims. There is no gain—swapping tax dollars.

"Any or all of these acts would defeat the mandate of the national policy and would destroy sound economic conditions rather than foster them.

"If water, highway, air, or pipeline carriers were subjected to similar attacks," Conn said, "the association's position for the public interest would be identical to that which it takes in this proceeding."

Seven divorces were granted Friday in the 1st District Court by Lewis M. Goodrich, district judge. Grounds in all of the cases was cruelty.

Opal McNutt was awarded a divorce from S. A. McNutt and the custody of their son, Duane Walter, 15. The McNutts were married in 1928, and separated March 23, 1947.

Madeline Gwynne Merchant Tilery was divorced from Sherman L. Tilery. They were married and separated on Aug. 9, 1949. Mrs. Tilery's maiden name, Miss Madeline Gwynne Merchant, was restored.

Jimmie H. Rush received a divorce from his wife, Lorraine. They were married Nov. 9, 1946, and separated in February, 1949.

Opal Hazel Cropp was freed from her husband, James Lawrence Cropp. They were married Oct. 18, 1947, and separated June 1, 1949. Her maiden name, Miss Opal Pfeil, was restored.

Johannie Bowen was divorced from Richard Bowen and her maiden name, Miss Johannie Hartman, restored. They were married Nov. 19, 1942 and separated June 21, 1949.

Judgment was granted on Ima Jean Jennings from Bobbie L. Jennings. They were married March 13, 1947, and separated May 1, 1949.

The last divorce granted was Irene Shofft from Henry Shofft.

7 Divorces Granted in Court Here

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Susan Peters always swore she'd never drink liquor or go on the stage. Money matters have forced her to break the latter resolution. She spent the summer touring all over the East in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." In Hershey, Pa., next month, she starts another tour which will last 30 weeks, perhaps a year.

This is pretty rugged for a girl who never faced a footlight before. And for one whose legs are useless.

"I cherish my independence," says Susan, whose promising film career was nipped by a hunting accident that paralyzed the lower part of her body. "So I had to find a way to make a living and keep my little family together." (She has a three-year-old son.)

At present, there was nothing for her in the movies, the field she knew best. She tried one since the accident — "Sign of the Ram."

The psychological thriller hit the market at the tag end of the war boom and didn't fare too well. Besides, her fans objected to her role as the killer, Stay sweet, they pleaded.

There was radio, the easiest work in her situation. But radio has weekly deadlines and Susan doesn't like to be confined. "I like to be able to get out of town if I feel like it," she remarked. "Nothing makes me feel better than being out of doors."

The stage seemed her only chance. Such plays as "Barretts" and "The Glass Menagerie" could be adapted to her immobility. So, with great trepidation, she set out on the summer tour.

Susan's movement is limited to a wheelchair, but she is by no means confined. She keeps a pace which would weary anyone with less enthusiasm. She drives her own car, visits veteran hospitals, has taken flying lessons and does some horseback riding.

She lives in a modest Beverly Hills apartment with her son and a nurse. If all goes well, she plans to adopt a daughter next year. She was recently divorced from Richard Quine.

Susan has no hope of walking again. "How can I — I have no cord," she said frankly. "It will take longer than I'll live for the doctors to discover how to fix that."

Susan Peters Breaks Over — Tours With Stage Plays

Enrollment Record Is Set at Baylor

WACO — Baylor University set an all-time enrollment record as 5,143 students matriculated for classes at the 105-year-old Baptist school.

The record registration came in the face of national predictions that college attendance the country over would nose-dive this year as the large post-war crowd of war veterans in student bodies trailed back to normalcy.

Registrar Truett K. Grant said that the 5,143 figure compares with the 1948 fall term figure of 5,322. He said that a few more students are expected to register to raise the 1949 total even higher.

The enrollment reported by Grant includes only the Baylor schools in Waco. Medical, dental and nursing branches of the university at Houston and Dallas are not included in the new record total.

Bump Elliott, Oregon State's new backfield coach, demonstrated that football isn't his only game when he made a hole-in-one.

Oil Man Named To Commission

AUSTIN — (AP) — Tom Slick, San Antonio "wildcat" oil operator, rancher and inventor, was the fifth member appointed to the Good Neighbor Commission in recent weeks.

Gov. Allan Shivers named Slick to fill the unexpired term of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright who has resigned. The term runs to June 19, 1953.

Slick is president of the Slick Oil Company and founder of the Southwest Research Institute located on his S-4 Ranch near San Antonio. He speaks Spanish fluently and is actively interested in Latin-American affairs, the Governor said.

Gen. Wainwright told the Governor he was resigning because he was unable to participate actively in commission meetings. He referred to wartime injuries in the defense of Corregidor having left him "quite deaf."

Other recent appointees to the commission by Gov. Shivers are Neville Penrose of Fort Worth, Ramon Guerra of McAllen, Dr. Julian Salvidar of Dallas and C. W. Meadows, Sr., of San Angelo.

When a star precedes the number on some U. S. currency, it indicates that the bill is a substitute, issued to replace one that was worn or defective.
