Steel Picture Is Still Unsettled

By the Associated Press
John L. Lewis put 102,000 of his striking United Mine Workers back in the pits today in the first break of the 12-day old coal walkout. But the steel picture was still unsettled.

A word from the UMW chieftain narrowed the nationwide strike to the industrially-vital bituminous fields of the Central Eastern region of the United States.

Lewis ordered 80,000 Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite miners and 22,000 bituminous diggers west of the Mississippi to resume work Monday.

A telegram to presidents of UMW districts announced the action, Lewis said:

"The suspension of mining in the Western and anthracite areas is not now vital to the pending wage negotiations."

Nearly 400,000 other UMW members in the bituminous fields apparently were set to continue their crippling "no day week" which began September 19.

Western bituminous diggers and the anthracite workers walked out in a sympathy move when diggers of soft coal to the fast-dwindling national stockpile.

The strike deadline by CIO United Steelworkers was midnight tonight and there were last-minute efforts to prevent a walkout. But already thousands of workers have jumped the gun in wildcat strikes and other thousands were made idle as steel mills banked furnaces.

Federal conciliators did not give up hope of averting crippling steel strikes which would make idle some 1,000,000 workers. They summoned union and management for further sessions in an attempt to settle the controversial pension-insurance plan.

But even as the negotiators met in last-minute bargaining sessions, pickets paraded at some steel mills. At Midland, Pa., 7,000 picketers picketed the steel mill. The strike deadline by CIO United Steelworkers was midnight tonight and there were last-minute efforts to prevent a walkout.

Tax Rate Is Set at $1.75 For Pampans

At a short meeting yesterday afternoon the City Commission set the tax rate at $1.75 and approved the budget for the fiscal year 1949-50.

Due to the absence of Mayor C. A. "Lefty" Huff the budget and tax rate were not approved at the meeting Tuesday afternoon and the meeting left open until yesterday.

Broken down the tax rate will be 96 cents for the general fund, 11 cents for the Board of City Development, three cents for the library fund, and 65 cents for the interest and sinking fund to retire the city's bonded indebtedness, and interest on bonds and coupons, due the ensuing year.

A resolution, approving the sale of 40 acres of the Kleister Addition in the southeastern part of town, along the Leffors Highway, for non-payment of taxes, was passed unanimously. A total of approximately $5,000 in back taxes is owed the city. The Pampa Independent School District and the county, on the property, Attorney Arthur Teed, representing the Board of School Trustees said the property had been sold to Enid Shepherd of Memphis, Tenn. for $5,000. The money will be divided pro rata among the three taxing agencies.

The train, on schedule, lost no time in Pampa. The impact tossed the car some 80 feet from the crossing, clearing the track. It landed on the east side of the street facing south, the opposite direction it had been traveling originally.

The rear end of the car was pinched together as if it had been struck from both sides at the same time. The front was less damaged. One wheel had

Train Hits Car, Occupants Escape

Five persons narrowly escaped serious injury or death last night when they leaped from their stalled automobile just before it was struck by the Santa Fe Number 24, east-bound passenger train.

The late model Studebaker driven by Elmer Poole, Walco Construction worker, was demolished.

Poole, his wife, and three children, were driving north on Hobart Street about 6:50 when their car stalled on the railroad tracks at the Hobart Street crossing.

Poole said he was crossing the tracks slowly and that when he got on the tracks the motor died and he couldn't get it started in time to move from the path of the fast train. He said he didn't know, until after the train had passed, whether or not all his family had escaped.

According to Poole, the family was on its way to the Pampa Club for a football game at Harvester Field when the accident occurred. Poole's son, Roy, is a member of the Guerilla team.

Second Bill Passes, Aimed At Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress sent to President Truman today the second of two bills designed to pump $7,124,000,000 into foreign recovery and military aid.

The President's signature was the only thing needed to start the dollars working in the giant effort to defeat Russia in the cold war.

The Senate completed action last night on a $5,809,000,000 program to bolster the economies of Western Europe and other friendly nations.

The big money bill was approved without a word of opposition. A short time earlier the House had passed the bill with critics taking only a brief final slap at the program.

Two days ago Congress authorized a $1,314,010,000 arms bill. The measure provides enough cash to start shipments of $480,000,000 worth of arms overseas. The rest of the money must be provided later by appropriation.

Government officials said yesterday the first arms cargoes will be moving to Atlantic Pact countries by mid-November. (See SECOND, Page 3)

Confidence Vote Given Parliament

LONDON (AP)—A group of left-wing laborites called today for a general election soon on the heels of yesterday's solid vote of confidence for the government's crisis policy in Parliament.

Even as the House of Commons registered a smashing 342-8 approval of the Attlee regime's action cutting the value of the pound sterling, a leading labor organ urged the government to call an election for November, instead of serving the full five-year term which expires next July.

It was the first open demand for an important segment of the labor party for "snap" election and set members of Parliament wondering whether their seats may be at stake within a matter of weeks.

The publication is The Tribune, a weekly journal edited by Michael Foot, a member of the Labor Party's Executive Committee, and Jennie Lee, wife of fiery Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, who also is a member of Parliament.

Political sources said Prime Minister Attlee, however, opposes an election before next spring.

Left-wingers within his party appeared to be pressing for an election now on the grounds that delay might cost them votes if a rise in living costs develops as a result of devaluation.

Shortly before yesterday's Commons vote, a motion of no confidence— which would have forced Britain into an immediate election— was proposed by Conservative Leader Winston Churchill. It was defeated 350 to 212.

Conservative Party sources said today their machine is ready for an election any time. The anti-labor press has been demanding a fall election.

Pension Plan Vote Slated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic leaders predicted today the House will pass overwhelmingly before adjournment a bill vastly broadening the government old-age pension program.

The bill sped toward a House showdown as some labor unions threatened strikes if employers do not pay the whole cost of pension plans operating outside the government Social Security. The Ford Motor Company agreed to such an independent plan yesterday. Under the government system the employer and employees equally share the cost.

The House Ways and Means Committee voiced fear that company-financed programs, if not discouraged by passage of an improved government Social Security, may undermine the federal program. It said:

"Without adequate and universally applicable basic social insurance system, the demands for security by segments of the population threaten to result in unbalanced, overlapping and competing programs. The financing of such plans may become chaotic, their economic effects dangerous."

Officers believed he might have been robbed, slugged and the bedding in the cabin set on fire.

Capt. Charley Nix of the Sheriff's Department said the fire could have been caused by a cigarette, but he wasn't satisfied with that explanation.

An employee at a nearby cafe told officers Mitchell bought two packages of cigarettes today and received change from a $20 bill. The change couldn't be found on the body or in the cabin.

Quarter Horse Race Feature at Fair

Quarter horse matched a d purse races will be the main attractions at the Top of Texas Fair this afternoon and tomorrow. Races today will include two-year-olds 220-yard purse and 400-yard purse and 440-yard purse race. The same races will be held tomorrow for three-year-olds and older.

Pampa Roping Club squeezed victory out of last night's match.

There's Lots To Be Seen At the Fair

Oh, what there is to see at a fair — the Top of Texas Fair anyway.

After passing through the main gate we bump into the automobile tent and are fascinated at the variety of new cars there.

Next we get into the men's and 4-H Club boys' agriculture division tent and see ribbons, colorful fruit and vegetables, miniature farms and educational exhibits.

Kiddies with helium-filled balloons — clumsy mamas spilling hot coffee on their young daughters — and even your next door neighbor — are sights you'll see there.

Riding many carnival attractions — eating cotton candy, peanuts and pie — and riding through the animal tent — all provide real entertainment for the family.

In the animal tent we are surprised to see the Canadian lynx. It is to be nothing more than an overgrown tom cat. Many other rare animals are there too — friendly raccoons, funny kinkajous, timid woodchucks and nosy armadillos.

The fair seems to be getting better by the minute. Up ahead we see the home demonstration clubs' bingo tent and a large crowd of "to-be bingers."

From there by the many concession stands, ball-throwing and other skill testing joints and the miniature train, we get into the exhibit buildings. The varied exhibits found there range from war relics to clothes hanging on the clothesline.

There are enough interesting objects here to keep us occupied for the remainder of the day. However, guess we'd better dash back to The News and write this up. After all, it's necessary to see the fair with your own eyes in order to realize just how magnificent it is.

Governor and Wife Split Up

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said today he and his wife have separated and that he will not contest a divorce.

In a statement issued by his office here, the Governor said: "I am deeply distressed that due to the incompatibility of our lives Mrs. Stevenson feels a separation is necessary."

Stevenson, 48-year-old Democrat, is serving his first four-year term, which ends in 1952. The Stevensons were married in Chicago on Dec. 1, 1928. Mrs. Stevenson is 40. They have three sons.

WE HEARD...

Pampa firemen averted a possible disaster last night when they were on the job at the fair. Someone tossed a lit cigarette on the agriculture division tent and burned a small hole. Firemen had the fire out before it had a chance to spread.

Texas Demos Gathered in Peace Session

LUFKIN (AP)—Democratic big wheels rolled into Lufkin today to help celebrate its forest festival, and perhaps even to make peace among themselves.

Little open politicking is expected until the committee holds its formal business session tomorrow morning.

Today, it was sightseeing and handshaking. Committee members will be honor guests tonight at an arboretum at which National Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston will be the chief speaker.

It will be the first session attended by Gov. Allan Shivers since he became titular head of the party. At Austin yesterday, Shivers said he hoped it would be a peaceful meeting.

The session has been widely advertised as a peace gathering. If no reference is made to the National Committee's Aug. 24 approval of Morrow as national committeeman, the meeting may run off as advertised.

But one faction of the committee will make a fight if any sort of Morrow resolution — either in praise or otherwise — is introduced. There have been reports a resolution patting Morrow on the back may be offered.

Morrow was okayed by the National Committee in August after a long fight that started with the September convention a year ago. The convention repudiated him. Byron Skelton of Temple was recommended to the National Committee by the State Committee.

Morrow had been accused of party disloyalty. He denied this, and worked for the Truman-Barkley ticket. This the national committee took as final evidence in its decision to seat him and reject the State Committee's candidate.

The Hungarian government renounced today its pact of friendship and mutual aid with Yugoslavia.

(The Communist press in Romania indicated that other Soviet satellites soon would follow suit. It seemed likely that the cue from Moscow, which scrapped her treaty of friendship with Yugoslavia yesterday.)

Like Moscow, Hungary said Tito's government had violated the pact and made it worthless.

The Hungarian government said Yugoslavia was proved a violator of the pact by the treason trial and mutual aid with Yugoslavia minister.

Rajk, former Communist police boss of Hungary, was condemned to the gallows after confession that he plotted with Yugoslav and American to overthrow the Hungarian government and assassinate its Communist leaders.

U.N. Assembly To Have Prayer

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations Assembly is on its way to having silent minutes for prayer or meditation at each session.

The Legal Committee yesterday approved and sent to the General Assembly a recommendation that every assembly meeting open and close with a minute of silence for prayer or meditation by delegates, who represent every faith and creed.

Achievement Medal Given Two Texans

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—Two Texans have received the distinguished achievement medal of the Colorado School of Mines.

The medals were awarded at last night's convocation to these Texas alumni: Lester Strickland Grant, Midland, and George Rufus Brown, Houston.

Ash Family Pleads Guilty

John Ash, his two daughters and one son were released yesterday from the County Jail after pleading guilty to intoxication and affray before Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry and fined $10 and costs each.

The Ashes were jailed late Saturday night after a fracas at the home of the family.

The elder Ash, his daughter, Elaine, and son, Carl, were arrested in connection with the affray. Gladys Ash Pugh Meyer, was taken to Pampa Hospital with head injuries. She suffered during the melee when Bowers attempted to oust them from the dance hall.

The Meyers woman was taken home by ambulance in lieu of bond. She was released yesterday by Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle in connection with the fracas.

Meanwhile Eugene "Smoky" Ash, also a son of John Ash, was being held in Potter County Jail charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of drugs. Smoky Ash was also indicted this week by the Gray County Grand Jury for burglary in connection with the theft of approximately $200 from the Long Service Station on S. Cuyler. Ash was picked up at that time by Amarillo police and turned over to the Gray County Sheriff's Office.

Both Smoky and his brother Carl are ex-convicts.

Men Sought After Fracas

One woman was hospitalized and search warrants are out for two Skidtown men as result of a fracas at the Killarney Drive Inn, 1503 Ripley, late yesterday.

Mrs. Edith West, owner of the drive-in, was taken to the Worthy Hospital at 11 p. m. yesterday with head injuries.

Warrants for disturbing the peace and affray are out for J. W. Weaver and Clyde Weaver, Skidtown, who allegedly ended the Killarney fracas started a brawl.

Sheriff G. H. Kyle said the establishment was pretty badly wrecked by the men. By press time neither of the Weaver brothers had been apprehended.

Man Dragged Dead From Burning Shack

BAYTOWN (AP)—Clifford M. Mitchell, 30, was dragged dead from a burning shack on the bank of Cedar Bayou late yesterday.

Officers believed he might have been robbed, slugged and the bedding in the cabin set on fire.

Capt. Charley Nix of the Sheriff's Department said the fire could have been caused by a cigarette, but he wasn't satisfied with that explanation.

An employee at a nearby cafe told officers Mitchell bought two packages of cigarettes today and received change from a $20 bill. The change couldn't be found on the body or in the cabin.

Boy Is Handed Back to Mother

SAN ANTONIO — A six-week-old boy was handed back to his mother here Wednesday. The child's guardian since birth wept as she gave the baby up.

An hour earlier Judge P. C. Sanders in 37th District Court ruled "material things don't count for too much to a youngster. It's better for him to live on a crust of bread and be with his mother and father. God Almighty ordained it that way."

Judge Sanders had listened to testimony that set out:

The 27-year-old mother, who had three other children, has a record of mental illness.

The 54-year-old father has served a term in an Arkansas State Prison.

The woman to whom the father gave the infant boy when he was born served a term in federal prison. She and her husband are financially able to support the child.

The father said he gave the child away because he couldn't support another on $30 a week. Both women said they loved the baby.

To the father of the child Judge Sanders said:

"You don't have to eat cake. Get some beans and keep that family together."

Odd Sentence Given in Case

MT. CARROLL, Ill. — Thomas Hoggatt, 29, must serve 123 years for raping a nine-year-old — and he must spend each anniversary of the crime in solitary confinement.

Hoggatt was sentenced to this penalty Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge George C. Dixon. He pleaded guilty.

Judge Dixon also ordered that Hoggatt, for the first year of his sentence, must spend the 123rd of each month in solitary. For the rest of his sentence, he will spend each Aug. 17 — the crime's anniversary — in solitary.

The length of the sentence makes Hoggatt ineligible for parole until he is 79 years old. He is the father of two children.

KRAUT QUEEN—Marguerite Kraut, 17, voted "Sauerkraut Queen" at annual Sauerkraut Day festivities in Fortston, Ill. Samples some of the stuff after receiving her title. Visitors ate more than two tons of sauerkraut, along with a ton of wieners, during the goings-on.

Questions 'Revelations'

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

During coming weeks many Sunday Schools will be studying lessons in the Prophets, particularly in Isaiah and Jeremiah. Many readers of this column are not in Sunday Schools, and the comment offered here will not be directed to particular lessons, but rather with the purpose of making the prophecies intelligible and helpful through presenting their setting and background, their significance for their own time, and their permanent value and teaching for us. Such background preparation is essential for intelligent study. This comment may therefore be helpful for teachers and scholars, as well as for general readers of the Bible.

No one can read much in the ancient prophecies of Israel without realizing that they present many difficulties in understanding and interpretation. This is not surprising, for many eminent scholars have spent lifetimes in the most meticulous examination of every word and reference, and the widely varied and conflicting conclusions to which they have come only emphasize the difficulties of the average reader.

It would be impossible to deal here to any extent with these controversial matters, many clear and outstanding things appear. It is these, after all, that are most important, and because of these that the prophecies have lived, and it is with these that we shall chiefly deal.

A prevalent view of the prophecies has been that they were foretellers, or predictors, of things to come. More widely today is the tendency to think of them as prophets, as preachers to their own age and time. It is my own view that they were foretellers, as well as forthtellers, but I disagree with those who see in the Hebrew prophecies a plan of all the ages a foretelling of what has been in history and of what is yet to be.

It is questionable whether the prophets had any such miraculous foreknowledge, or revelation, into the far distant future. What they possessed, rather, was an understanding of cause and effect in the moral and spiritual realm, and in the affairs of men and nations, akin to the scientist's appraisal of causes and forces in the physical world.

When they saw Israel neglecting God's call, turning to ways of idolatry, permitting and practicing social evils and injustices, they knew that disaster and judgment were sure to follow. And they were bold and courageous in raising their voices in warning and in exhortation, though their message was not popular, and too often brought upon them persecution, imprisonment and death.

No people at any time, including peoples of today, have ever been willing to face unpleasant facts. It is easier to gloss them over with easy and pretentious optimism. It is here that the great prophets have still for today their messages of warning and judgment. I hope to bring something of this to bear upon the issues and problems of our own time, and our modern democracies.

The prophets of Israel dealt with the situations, issues, and problems that in some form or other beset all nations and peoples of every time.

RED THREAT?—Residents of Piedmont, Calif., were startled to see floating lazily overhead a giant balloon bearing a bright red hammer-and-sickle insignia. Closer investigation by local police revealed the balloon was of a type that takes a limited ride on a liberal shot of hot air. Police also noted that the airborne mystery came from the direction of the University of California campus.

Local Lions Are Told Why Women Should Serve on Texas Juries

Harley Bulls, music director of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Lillian Jordan, Business and Professional Women's Club president, and Mrs. T. J. Wright presented a varied program at Lions Club yesterday.

Bulls sang "Without a Song," and "That Dear Little Girl," accompanied by Jack Andrews. Mrs. Jordan told the club the B & P organization is the largest women's organization in existence. More than 150,000 women have membership in the 2,348 clubs in the international organization, she said.

There are 129 clubs in Texas and eight clubs in this district, she added. "Oct. 9-15 has been set aside as national B&PW Week for the 30-year-old women's club," she said. "The 1949 theme will be 'Boost Your Home Town Because it Boosts you.'"

After explaining the activities of the local group, Mrs. Jordan introduced Mrs. Wright, who spoke on "Why You Should Vote for Women Being Allowed to Serve on Juries in Texas in the Nov. 8 Election." After refuting many of the prejudiced arguments against women serving, she said 37 of the 48 states now allow women to take part in jury trials.

Roy L. Reinart, district supervisor of the State Board for Vocational Education, announced W. G. Bohannon, display and advertising specialist of the University of Texas, will instruct two courses for Pampa business men beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Literally hundreds of state and county fairs have been held throughout the nation in the last couple of months. These fairs are the Great American institution that has its roots in the pioneer days. Everybody, spectators and contestants alike, has a great time at the fair.

Gray County is now having its second annual fair under the new title - Top of Texas Fair. It's much better than it was last year, when the committees were still on their "sea legs". You would be amazed if you went out to the fair today or tonight. Why, you'd see something about a fair string from one end of Recreation Park's fairgrounds to the other.

Lyestock is always a leading attraction. And then there are the commercial exhibits, the home work, such as the inter-rat and canning, there are such things as law auto - Always an eye-catcher - and new farming machinery.

On the midway you'll find a row of various amusements, and you can engage in a little game of chance, perhaps, if you choose. We aren't recommending this, understand, because the postal regulations don't permit it.

Nevertheless, you'll have a good time if you go out to the Top of Texas Fair. It's well worth your time - and the very little it will cost you.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Diphtheria is a vicious infection which has been called the "strangling disease". The child who advances stage gasps for breath because of the diphtheria "membrane" which forms in the throat. Sometimes tubes must be inserted into the windpipe through an incision below the membrane to keep the child breathing.

Practically all young children are susceptible to diphtheria unless properly immunized and one dies out of every 15 or 20 who actually contract it. Of all the communicable "kill" diseases, diphtheria ranks second only to meningitis in its fatality frequency, once the disease has been contracted.

Twenty-five years ago this disease led all other common contagious diseases as a cause of death and was four and one-half times as prevalent as now. It is disturbing, however, to read statistics that diphtheria is making a comeback. The increase is probably an aftermath of war, with several localized outbreaks in this country immediately after the war traced directly to military personnel returned from the war theaters.

Control of diphtheria is established principally through immunization, a process whereby a healthy person is injected usually twice with diphtheria toxoid. All children should have these injections during the first year. A single "booster" dose may be given later when the child enters school.

The Schick test is a very reliable indicator of susceptibility to diphtheria. A minute amount of diphtheria toxin is injected into the skin of the forearm. If there is an area of reddening and swelling at the site 48 hours later, it shows that the person is susceptible to the disease.

The Schick test is given after the immunization dosage to determine whether the process has been successful or whether more doses are required to produce immunity.

There is no way of knowing in advance just how long artificial active immunity against diphtheria will last, since it varies in different individuals, so to be on the safe side the Schick test should be repeated at about 2 and 6 years of age, and up to the age of 18 for even greater safety.

Diphtheria is spread principally by personal contact. It may be transmitted by milk, a fact which makes pasteurization of great importance in control. The disease can be wiped out. The science of medicine has discovered the cause and treatment. Toxoid has the power to set up an immunity; antitoxin is used principally for the treating cases of the active disease.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK - If you want to know what the N. S. Dealers, fellow-travelers and Communists are fixing to do to you so that you can take counter-action, you will simply have to bone up on your lessons.

I am dealing now with a thing called Americans for Democratic Action. It can't be called anything but a thing because it frankly says that it is not an adjunct of either party but will latch onto this or that one as expediency dictates. It has a lot of money and it maintains a secret headquarters in the Sherry-Netherland Hotel in New York under a misleading name.

By this stratagem, a small organization with money and with connections in the State Department and in the United Nations can enjoy a power far beyond its deserving on the numerical basis. A. D. A. is a balance-of-power group in a world composed of nations. Democratic of course, they talk up the rights of the good old common man, but let us see how they treat him when they get him into their power.

Follow carefully. David Dubinsky, a director of A. D. A. is president of the Gamment Workers' Union. He runs a private political party called the Liberal Party as a subsidiary of the union. It swings from 300,000 to 400,000 votes. Let us see how it handles the money it can call on the union treasury if he likes and spend the money under a pretext of "educating" his subjects. The Liberal Party can't win any major office but it can prevent candidates from winning who are displeasing to Dubinsky. This is a species of political blackmail. A noted public servant who was being talked up for nomination for a high public office, knowing that I have respect for him, implored me not to write anything complimentary just then because he was angling for Dubinsky's endorsement and the support of the Dubinsky would turn him down if I praised him because I have shown up certain Hitlerian political practices in his union.

A few years ago Dubinsky was in the so-called American Labor Party, which was infested with Communists as he well knew. He finally pulled away to form his Liberal Party because he couldn't control the Communists. It was a matter of rivalry.

Now let me illustrate the political independence which the American citizen enjoys in Dubinsky's union. In 1942, before Dubinsky took the American Labor Party, he ran for the office of governor of New York with a Greek background named Dean Alfange. Alfange is a political nonentity and couldn't win, of course, but that wasn't the object. The object was to beat Dewey.

On Oct. 24, 1942, the Executive Board of Local 32 of the Garment Workers held a political rally for Alfange, slightly disguised with routine union business, and sent out a lurid "special notice" commanding Dubinsky's subjects to attend Alfange's campaign with a fine of $1. That wasn't much of a fine and immunity.

There is no way of knowing in advance just how long artificial active immunity against diphtheria will last, since it varies in different individuals, so to be on the safe side the Schick test should be repeated at about 2 and 6 years of age, and up to the age of 18 for even greater safety.

No cash or gifts ever change hands for doing these petty favors. That's why there is no percentage in it for anyone concerned. It's just sort of a nuisance. But that's all over now, at least for the time being, thanks to the experiences of General Vaughn, Major Hunt and the others. Never has the turgid channel of government business flowed so peacefully.

The effect of the 5 percent probe was not expected by the committee. Neither was such a complete collapse of the more lucrative branches of government influence peddling anticipated.

Some of the senators on the committee were actually concerned lest the publicity which the 5 percenters got might bring their trade. They thought that when businessmen learned how easy it was to get federal government contracts by hiring the right representatives, those representatives would be getting the government BUSINESS IS FALLING OFF.

Instead, Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D., N. C.), chairman of the committee, reports: "The business of collecting money from businessmen in exchange for getting them government contracts has been stopped completely. We are most gratified with that result of this summer's investigation."

William P. Rogers, the committee's general counsel, has kept close to his special offices where business men can go for all the information they might need to the business with that agency. Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson reports that the one he opened at the Pentagon is working successfully. He believes that it has eliminated the need for businessmen to hire help for this purpose.

Another check on the activities of 5 percenters is a change which will soon be made in all government contract forms. Blanks will be included where the businessman must list all the names of persons other than full-time employees who helped in getting the contract. And he must include how much the person was paid for that service. Failure to do so accurately will be a crime.

With this device the government hopes to be able to keep close track of just who the 5 percenters are, if there are any. And it will tend to discourage businessmen from hiring such agents.

Good Money After Bad

By THURMAN SENSING Director of Research Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tennessee

The financial affairs of Great Britain are rapidly approaching a crisis. Officially Great Britain and the United States are conferring, economists are analyzing, editors are editorializing, and commentators are commenting. The recent conference in Washington produced nothing of actual value; it was simply face-saving for certain people.

Many remedies have been and are being proposed to cure Great Britain's serious illness—but very little attention is apparently being paid to the cause of the illness in the first place. The plan is to recover from her financial plight so long as she has a socialist government. The adoption of a socialist form of government has not been the sole cause of her illness, but there is one thing sure—she can't get well so long as she has it.

Great Britain has suffered and grown steadily worse under this serious form of government. Only relief has been the opiates provided by the four billion dollar loan from the United States and by Marshall Aid. There comes a time under this terrible illness when even opiates will not work, when an operation is the only possible hope, and when the chance for survival even then is not too good.

And so it is with Great Britain. Her only possible chance for sound financial recovery is to get rid of socialism. The illness may be too far gone, but that is her only hope. That is her only hope. That is her only hope. That is her only hope.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON - Eminent economic and military experts here regard a journalistic buried bit of recent news from West Central Colorado almost as important as the White House revelation that Russia had solved the secret of atomic fission. Nevertheless, eastern newspapers bannered the Moscow story, while they published the explosive American yarn on graveyard pages.

From the mountain state, only the word "shale" came to the attention of the Department of the Interior. A statement of its economic administration, such execution be a come a ruthless extortion and a violation of the fundamental principles of free government.

Who said that? No, it wasn't Senator Taft nor was it any conservative Republican. Grover Cleveland, Democratic President, said it in December, 1896, during the course of his Second Annual Message.

Were Cleveland alive today, undoubtedly he would demand that the Federal Government change its attitude toward business and industry and abandon its program of robbing the taxpayers to play Santa Claus to the American citizenry.

The political planners would do well to read what Jonathan Swift wrote in his "Voyage to Brobdingnag" early in the 18th Century: "Whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind and do more to substitute a blow to the seven great empires of the world than all the American, British and Dutch corporations which own foreign fields in the Middle East, South America and the Southwest Pacific."

Under arrangements with the Truman administration, they had expected to flood this country with oil from those sources, meaning cutting down on production of their wells here and gaining an advantage over independent, rival firms which own no properties overseas.

Wall Street and Washington law firms with intimate friends inside the State Department had sold this idea to President Truman and Secretary Acheson, but mainly to the latter because the Missouriian couldn't be expected to understand the intriguing diplomacies of the oil czars.

Schemes - Their theory is, and it was recently adopted by the administration, that the U. S. should import oil in peacetime so that domestic supplies and reserves would be available when Russia, reinforced with a store of atom bombs, might embark on World War III, overran King Ibn Saud's oil fields and shut off imports from South America and the Indies with their modern, long-ranged U-boats.

The West Colorado strike, especially as veins of shale streak many other sections of public land in the state, knicks the scheme into a cocked hat, provided the government does not deliberately block development of this new source.

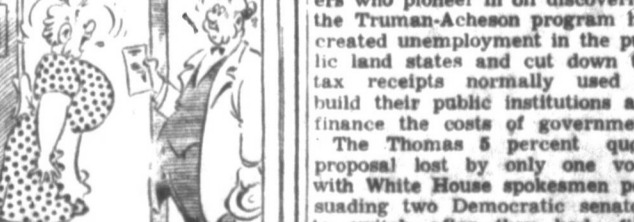

IMPORTS - The Krug announcement on shale prospects will undoubtedly lead Congress to frame a new policy on oil imports, regardless of Truman-Acheson opposition based on their program of helping the British and Dutch owners of petroleum properties around the globe.

It was White House spokesmen who defeated an amendment to the Reciprocal Trade Agreement extension proposal under which oil imports would be restricted to only 5 percent of consumption. They are now running from 12 to 16 percent, and are expected to go higher under Snyder-Cripps dollar crisis pacts, as the amendment author, Senator Thomas of Oklahoma, pointed out.

Besides stifling production from existing wells and dampening the spirit of wildcaters and promoters who pioneer in oil discoveries, the Truman-Acheson program has created unemployment in the public lands states and cut down the tax receipts normally used to build their public institutions and finance the costs of government.

The Thomas 5 percent quota proposal, lost by only one vote, with White House spokesmen persuading two Democratic senators to switch after he had first voted for it. In view of the shale strike, it will undoubtedly be passed as a separate bill at this session, even though it gives the heebie-jeebies to the State Department, the White House, Wall Street and 10 Downing Street.

QUICKIES By Sam Reynolds

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: After Ted Duncan's fiancée, Liz Conover, elopes with another man, Ted turns to his old friend Jenny. A quick courtship results in marriage. But the honeymoon is short-lived. Liz returns to her old life with Ted and tries to convince him that she is all over again. Ted has not told his family that he has married Jenny because, he explains, "they'd raise a row."

Jenny and Ted had planned to settle down in the house on Catalina street, at least until they were adjusted to each other. But they returned from Chicago to find the final eviction notice waiting in the mailbox.

"Well," Ted said lightly, "if worst comes to worst we can always live in Ma's apartment. I'm paying the rent for it anyhow till they can find something cheaper."

"But Ted, you know what they say about living with your in-laws."

Ted laughed and gathered her in his arms and kissed her. "Goose," he whispered, "what difference does it make where we live as long as we're together?"

"No difference," she whispered back, the words coming out muffled. "I'd live in a tent."

"Maybe it's a good thing," he pointed out. "I'd hate to live here anyway. It's an undesirable neighborhood."

Jenny stiffened ever so slightly. "Well," she admitted, "perhaps it is out of place and I lived here so long it seems like home to me."

"That's just it, darling. You're used to it and don't really see how awkward and shabby it really is. I'd hate for any of my old friends to find me living in a joint like this."

There was a short silence, and Jenny, realizing they could very easily quarrel, put her hands on either side of his face and said softly, "It's silly to discuss whether we should stay here when we can't anyway."

It was the first hint of a certain queer streak of snobbishness in Ted. She changed the subject. "I suppose we ought to go over and see your family right away."

"No!" The word came out sharply, but the surprise in her face seemed to embarrass him. "I didn't mean to sound so abrupt, Jenny, but I'll go around to see Ma first and sort of smooth over our feelings before I take you to see her."

"You mean she'll really be angry because you've married me?"

"Well," he parried, "it'll be quite a surprise. But I can wheedle Ma into almost anything. She'll come around. Only—well you can see how it is. She ought to be prepared."

THE girls at the snop welcomed her back gaily the next morning, and she fell back into the easy routine of her work. But all day long as they came in, Nina and snowball tried to get her to tell them about her new life.

Nina had kindly offered to store the furniture that Jenny wanted to keep from the house on Catalina street, a ladderback chair, a table with acorn handles, a cherry table and a wicker chair. Nina also offered some advice. "I'd go live in one room somewhere before I'd settle down with the Duncans. Jenny, I don't care how nice people are, that sort of thing just never works out."

But it's only temporary, Nina, and I'm sure they'll try as hard as I will to make the best of it."

As she and Ted drove toward the Duncan apartment that evening, she felt anything but calm. Joe, sprawled on the davenport reading the paper, did not other than to pick up the paper and look up and spoke, but it was obvious he was miffed at having been snubbed out of his room.

Ma had washed her hair and Harriet was winding it up in pin curls for her.

"Here's Jenny Ma," Ted said, as they stepped into the kitchen. Jenny started forward but the grim look on Ma's face stopped her.

"You might as well get it straight right now Jenny," she said. "Ted and Liz have just got married. Ted's got to go to the moon."

"Now Ma," Ted's face turned crimson. "You know it wasn't a thing else than that! Ma went on 'You just wait and see how Liz you could get married to. But I never thought a son of mine would be dumb enough to cut off his nose to spite his face."

Harriet paused in her work and there was a smug expression on her dark face as she cut up her nickel's worth. "Liz probably won't even see that little old notice stuck in with all the other marriage licenses, so I don't know what good it does you."

"Cut it out!" Ted said. "I didn't marry Jenny to spite Liz. This is certainly a fine way to welcome us."

THERE was a long chilly silence. Harriet began twisting strands of Ma's gray hair into pig curls again. After a moment or two Ma spoke again sullenly. "Put your stuff in the bedroom. Joe got his things moved out. There's no going to hang his clothes. I don't know less it's in the pantry."

"Ma apologize to Jenny."

"Ma apologize to Jenny?"

"I ain't got time to get any fancy breakfasts for anybody either. It's enough to get my own breakfast. Harriet's and Joe's fore I go to work."

"I expect to help around the apartment with the work," Jenny said, her first words.

Ma's plump face didn't soften in the least. "I don't want no help. I'm sure they'll try as hard as I will to make the best of it."

Q and A

Q—What would result from a too-close approach to the earth by the moon?
A—The moon would break into many pieces, starting world-wide tidal waves, volcanic eruptions and possibly wiping out human life.

Q—Where is the oldest Masonic Hall in the United States?
A—The oldest Masonic Hall built for the purpose and in continuous use is located in Richmond, Va. Edmund Randolph, then governor of Virginia, assisted in laying the cornerstone in 1785. It has been occupied continuously since 1787.

Q—How many children did Brigham Young have?
A—Brigham Young, Mormon pioneer, fathered 56 children. At the present time there are only two surviving daughters.

Q—Is the elephant the only animal whose tusks can be used for ivory?
A—No. The tusks of such animals as the hippopotamus, walrus and narwhal are also used for ivory.

Q—Is the skin of a giraffe useful?
A—The skin of a full-grown giraffe is extraordinarily tough and solid, attaining in the case of old males as much as an inch in thickness. From these animals most of the sjamboks, or colonial whips, in use all over South Africa, are now made.

Q—Why do we yawn?
A—Yawning, in humans, and higher animals, is a reflex action made up of many components. According to one theory slight deficiency of oxygen in the blood stream and in the brain is responsible for starting the yawn. Though it may be associated with sleepiness it does not necessarily indicate a need for sleep.

Q—What is the origin of the expression "red tape"?
A—The words "red tape," denoting official inaction or delay, originated in England in the 19th Century when official documents were tied in a pinkish tape.

Q—How far does the earth's atmosphere extend?
A—The earth's atmosphere extends to a distance of 10,000 to 15,000 miles out from the surface of the earth.

Q—Who designed the Seal of the United States?
A—Late in the afternoon of July 4, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee to bring in a device for a seal for the United States of America, but it required work by several committees before a design was finally adopted. The actual seal was designed by William Barton, a prisoner of war.

Q—Who said, "The more I see of men—the better I like dogs"?
A—This saying is generally attributed to Mme. de Sevigne.

Q—Where does the nation's supply of popcorn come from?
A—The nation's popcorn supply comes largely from Iowa, which produces about 50,000,000 bushels yearly.

Q—What nicknames were given to the baseball players Paul and Lloyd Waner?
A—The players, at one time outfielders of the Pittsburgh Pirates were known as "Big Poison" and "Little Poison." Paul, "Big Poison," also played with the Boston Braves.

Harvesters Seek Fourth Straight Win at Vernon Tonight

Guerillas Roll to 27 to 13 Win Over Berger Bullpups

The Pampa High Guerillas, the Wilson Both men consistently Harvester "B" team, kept Pampa's football record unblemished last night as they rolled to an impressive 27-13 victory over the Berger Bullpups at Harvester Park. It was the second straight win for the Guerillas, they have defeated the Plainview Bullpups there a week ago.

Horace Mann And Reapers Tie

The Junior High Reapers lost a victory in the Panhandle Junior High School Inter-School Football Conference yesterday afternoon after the game had ended. They lost the victory, but not the game, getting a 7-6 tie with Horace Mann Junior High School of Amarillo at Amarillo.

The Reapers had the ball game, holding a 7-0 lead with less than a minute to go. They were in possession of the ball on their own ten yard stripe as the result of a pass interception by Ed Dudley. On the very first play, Reapers threw a pass that was intercepted and run back to the ten. On the next first play, David Foster passed around the Reapers' left end and over the goal line as the final whistle sounded ending the game. Horace Mann then attempted the extra point and Foster converted it to knot the game at 7-7.

The Reapers outplayed Horace Mann all of the way. They pushed over the lead touchdown late in the first half, as the climax of a 90-yard drive down the field. They took over control of the ball on their own ten yard stripe on downs to start their march. Big gain of drive was a 50 yard touchdown dance down the sideline by Reggie Mayo. Ed Dudley finally went over on a quarterback sneak from the five. Dick Qualls converted the extra point that later meant the difference between a tie and defeat.

Starting on defense for the Reapers were Richard Qualls, Jim Gilmore and Buddy Corbett. In addition to being on most of the tackles, Gilmore recovered a Horace Mann fumble and Corbett intercepted a pass.

Dodgers Replace Cardinals in NL Scramble

Bums Bump Tribe Off Twice to Take Over Lead

BOSTON — (AP) — The dauntless Brooklyn Dodgers squeezed past the St. Louis Cardinals into first place in the home stretch of the fierce National League race yesterday by defeating the Boston Braves, 9-2 and 8-0.

Coupled with Pittsburgh's second successive defeat of the Cardinals, the Dodgers now lead by half a game, with two to play, both at Philadelphia. The Cards have three games left, all with the Chicago Cubs.

The second game of the damp-gray doubleheader was played in a drizzle and ended after five innings in semi-darkness amid much comic horse-play by the Braves.

Superlative pitching by Preacher Roe and Don Newcombe, plus a plenty of hot hitting, including three-run homers by Carl Furillo and Duke Snider, accomplished what looked last Sunday like the impossible. Then it was the Phillies beat the Dodgers 5-3 and sent them a game and half behind the Cardinals.

Although neither game was a real contest, no one can say the Braves didn't try. They started their two pitching acts, Warren Spahn and John Sam, and the Dodgers promptly knocked both out of the box.

So wet, dismal and gloomy were the proceedings that boos were frequent in the second game.

When the umpires conferred with Manager Brant Shotton of the Dodgers, a roar went up.

Obviously both the crowd and Shotton wanted to let the game go for five innings to make it official.

In the last of the fifth inning of the second game, when Connie Ryan of the Braves tried to come into the batters' circle wearing a big black raincoat, the umpires didn't think it was funny, and threw him out of the game.

Then the Braves lit a fire at the edge of their dugout presumably to guide their batters back. The crowd, that cheered the Braves to the pennant last year, was raucous and noisy.

The Dodgers jumped on Spahn with a vengeance in that big fourth inning of the first game. Hodges singled and advanced to second on Luis Olmo's sacrifice. Roy Campanella, who walks, didn't think it was funny, and then Snider hit his big home run. Preacher Roe flied out, but Pee Wee Reese doubled, Eddie Miksis was walked, and Carl Furillo brought Reese home with a single to left.

The Dodgers added three more in the fifth when Furillo smashed the ball over the 25-foot high centerfield fence, with Roe and Miksis on base. The Dodgers got a free run in the sixth.

Although Bob Elliott got four hits off Roe, including a double, the big lefthander kept the Braves subdued until the ninth when Connie Ryan, Elliott, and Ed Sauer all singled to eke out two runs.

Dickson Knocks Former Mates Out of First

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Little Murray Dickson, who helped pitch the St. Louis Cardinals into the World Series in 1946, may have knocked them out of it this year. Dickson pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-2 victory over his former mates Thursday and it knocked them out of first place in the National League. The Brooklyn Dodgers look over the top rung by sweeping a doubleheader from the Braves in Boston, 9-2 and 8-0.

A rousing four-run Pirate outburst against starter Gerald Staley and Howie Pollet in the sixth inning helped send St. Louis to doom, and paved the way for Dickson's fifth triumph of the year over the flighty Redbirds.

The big blow of the frame was delivered by Mont Basgall, a former Dodger farmhand. The Sophomore second baseman slammed relief pitcher Pollet's first pitch into the rightfield corner to send the second and third runs of the inning over the plate. When Red Schoendienst threw past the plate, Basgall raced home with the fourth run.

A walk to Ralph Kiner and singles by Wally Westlake and Pete Castiglione had routed Staley, put the Bucs in front, 2-1, and brought Pollet to the scene. St. Louis Ab R H C Pitts Ab R H C

Two Strong Weeks
On Sept. 25, 1949, the Highlanders led the Red Sox in percentages, .619 to .615. The next afternoon New York lost a doubleheader to Cleveland and Boston, with Bill Dinnen and Cy Young pitching took two games from Detroit to go ahead.

The Highlanders whittled that to one game on the 27th and regained the lead on the 29th by beating Detroit while Boston lost to Cleveland. On Oct. 2 they came out even with .610 averages, but the Red Sox had played more games and were ahead the next day by one point and stayed there until they met the Highlanders on Oct. 7.

Then Jack Chesbro outpitched Gibson 3 to 2, and the Highlanders took a half-game lead. The next afternoon the Red Sox whipped their rivals in a doubleheader, 13-2 and 1-0, with Dinnen and Young again pitching.

They didn't play Oct. 9, but on the tenth, the last game of the season, the Red Sox clinched the pennant by beating New York, 3-2, in the opener of a doubleheader with Dinnen again outpitching Chesbro. And if you think it wasn't pretty good baseball, out of 28 games played by the contending teams in that stretch, eleven were shutouts.

LIKE A TONEFF BRICK
Once during the Indiana-Notre Dame football game last week, an Indiana blocker managed to bring down Bob Tonneff, Notre Dame's 240-pound tackle, with a resounding crash. It was such an unusual happening that when the Hoosiers huddled again full-back Milan Sellers, a high school teammate of Tonneff, asked: "Who did that?" There was a pause.

Intersectional Contests Feature SWC Week's Tilts

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Southwest Conference football teams range over four states tomorrow in the biggest intersectional weekend of the campaign.

At the same time Texas Christian and Arkansas will be battling at Fayetteville in the opening conference game of the season.

The circuit will be favored to win four of the five games against outside opposition, but there's nothing certain about a couple of them.

Baylor and Rice journey into the South, both expected to notch victories. Baylor meets Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss., in an afternoon tussle. The Bears could run into trouble here.

Rice meets Louisiana State at Baton Rouge at night. The powerful, versatile Owls ought to have a lot of fun in this one. LSU doesn't appear close to stopping the Rice powerhouse.

Up at Norman, Okla., Texas A&M's green but fighting force will be trying to halt the surge of Oklahoma. In another day game Texas will march against Idaho at Austin.

The major battle of the week will be at Dallas tomorrow night when Southern Methodist's Mustangs will take the field light favorites.

But headman Matty Bell says his scout reports indicate Missouri is much stronger than last year when the Tigers licked the Mustangs in their only loss over a two-season stretch.

We're going down the line again this week and if they don't come out this way a lot of other guys will have bad records, too.

Saturday afternoon—
Baylor vs. Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss. — Baylor by two touchdowns.

Texas Christian vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville — Too much Lindy Berry and too much TCU; the Frogs will lick Arkansas by 13 points.

Texas vs. Idaho at Austin — Well, it was a nice trip for Idaho anyway. Texas by 40 points.

Texas A&M vs. Oklahoma at Norman, Okla. — Even we can't see a chance for one of our favorite football teams; Oklahoma by four touchdowns.

Rice vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge — The Owls will "souss" LSU by three touchdowns.

Southern Methodist vs. Missouri at Dallas — Look for plenty of scoring; we think Doak Walker and other Methodists will do most of it — Southern Methodist by a touchdown.

Although Washington has played four times in the Rose Bowl, a 14-14 tie with Navy in 1924 is the best result the Huskies have been able to gain.

then 185-pound, five-foot-nine Danny Thomas, Indiana's smallest spoke up: "I did, but I had to kinda leap at him."

List of Injuries To Hamper Play Of Both Elevens

The Pampa Harvesters left early this morning for Vernon and their fourth battle of the year. They enter the game with a fine record of 3 wins and no defeats, but are rated only even favorites to keep their string intact tonight against the once-victorious Lions.

The Harvesters hold wins over North Dallas, Graham and El Paso High. Vernon has downed Altus, Okla., lost to Sweetwater and battled Sherman to a deadlock. The Lions have been rated one of the strongest teams in District 2-AA and should give the Harvesters a lot of trouble tonight.

Both teams will enter the fray badly hampered by injuries. On the shelf for the Harvesters will be Charley Smith and Elmer Wilson. Both have leg injuries, Wilson a charley horse and Smith's sprained ankle that has caused his leg to become swollen between the ankle and the knee.

Vernon is reported to be minus the services of their two regular guards and a second string halfback. All three were banged up in the tie-game battle with Sherman last weekend.

The rest of the squad is okay, though. They possess one of the finest passers in the district in Bill James, the man under Coach Buster Dixon's T formation.

The rest of the backfield is well experienced. They will be led by big Johnny Crouch, 195-pound fullback, who has been the stand-out for the Lions thus far this season.

The Harvesters will probably start the same lineup as usual. Tommy Allison and Weidon Wither will probably be at the ends; Eddie Scheig and Paul Boswell at the tackles; James Holt and Marvin Harvel at the guards; Leon Taylor at center; Carroll Smith, Carl Kennedy, Pete Cooper and Jimmy Hayes will fill out the backfield.

This is the first out-of-town game for the Green and Gold and the game will be broadcast over Radio Station KPDN, starting at 8 o'clock, with Ken Palmer and Wees Carr at the microphones.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hanes—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Notre Dame has been playing football a long time, but can you tell, within three years, exactly how long the Irish have fielded a team?

TONIGHT THE HARVESTERS WILL AGAIN TAKE to the gridiron to defend their fine record of three wins and no losses thus far this season. Tonight's scrap pits them against the heavier and faster Vernon Lions, and on the Lions' home field. It will be the first road game of the season for the Green and Gold.

We know that the Harvesters are going to be handicapped by injuries and rumor has it that the Lions will be, too. But regardless of whether they are or aren't under the doctors care, we will place our confidence with the Harvesters tonight.

We feel that the Harvesters can make up in fight whatever they may lack in weight and ability. All season long they have shown more fight and spirit than most Harvesters teams of the past. The high spirit hasn't prevailed only in games, but has also been abounding during practice sessions. That is the main ingredient of a great team.

We don't feel that the Harvesters are championship material. But they are a fighting bunch, which has been the main reason that they are unbeaten at present. They have been outwitted, and outmaneuvered this season, but never outthought.

After tonight's game they will be sent to the well. They must tackle a couple of the roughest clubs in the state, Wichita Falls and Lubbock. In our book, the Westerners are the team to beat for the Class AA title. After Lubbock comes Lamesa, and then a weekend off before the first conference game, the annual encounter with the Golden Sandies. The following week they meet Plainview and then finish the season at Borger on Thanksgiving Day.

Big gun in the Harvester attack this season thus far has been Junior halfback Jimmy "Beaver" Hayes. In the three games to date he has averaged 56 yards per try. That is a remarkable average for a marked man in anybody's backfield. Elmer Wilson has carried a 10.3 yards-per-try average. Carl Kennedy, regular fullback, has a 5-yard average in eight tries, and Pete Cooper, in twenty-seven carries, has averaged 4.1 yards.

All three quarterbacks have done some pitching. Carroll Smith has connected on three of nine; Dick Cook on two of six; and DeWey Cudney, Sophomore signal caller, on three of three. On the receiving end, Tommy Allison has pulled in three, for a total gain of 75 yards, and one touchdown. Elmer Wilson hauled one pass down good for 46 yards and a TD. Jim Parker received one for 12 yards and Tommy Martin grabbed three for a total gain of 19 yards.

Jimmy Hayes is also the scoring leader, with a total of 24 points in the first three games. Pete Cooper has 18 and Elmer Wilson is third with 13. DeWey "The Toe" Cudney has converted nine extra points so far this season, the last seven of them in succession. In addition he has very capably handled all of the kicking off duties.

In other games concerning District I-AA teams, we like Amarillo over Paschal, Lubbock over Plainview, and Borger over Abilene.

Now for a quick look at the college games this weekend, and some limb-riding predictions.

Southern Methodist should have too much for a Missouri team that very nearly triumphed in an upset victory over Ohio State last week.

Texas Christian and Lindy Berry should sneak past the Arkansas Razorbacks for the first time in five years. Oklahoma shouldn't even know that the Texas Aggies are on the field. The Cadets better bring their guns.

The Texas Longhorns and their murderers row will slaughter the Idaho Vandals. Watch those Harvesters go!

Rice shouldn't be too troubled with Louisiana State. Retribution for last season's 26-13 loss. Stanford and Michigan should offer the game of the day. Stanford could snap the Wolverines winning streak, but we've got to stick with the winner, and the Big Ten team. We'll take the Wolverines.

And of course, our loyalty forces us to pick our old Alma Mater, the University of Wisconsin, over the Orange and Black of Illinois.

And our last choice is the 1949 Rose Bowl champions, Northwestern, to defeat Pittsburgh.

ANSWER: Notre Dame is starting out its first season of football this year.

Playoff Plans Ready if Needed

NEW YORK — (AP) — If the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers should end the National League baseball season in a tie, it will require a three-game playoff and a consequent postponement of the World Series.

If the Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees remain deadlocked for the American League championship, they'll settle it up a single game at Boston next Monday and the series can start on schedule.

National League rules call for a two-of-three set in case of a deadlock and a coin-tossing ceremony yesterday in the office of President Ford Frick determined that it will start in St. Louis on Tuesday, Oct. 4. A similar toss in the Chicago headquarters of President William Harridge decided the site of the possible American League playoff.

Since a full day is required for travel between Brooklyn and St. Louis, the National League dates were set as follows: first game at St. Louis, Oct. 4; second game and third, if necessary, at Brooklyn Thursday, Oct. 6 and Friday, Oct. 7.

The World Series is scheduled to start in the home park of the American League champion on Wednesday, Oct. 8. If three game playoff is required in the National League, it could not start before the following Saturday, Oct. 8, and the teams probably would be granted an extra day of rest with the start on Sunday.

Managerless Redlegs Ready to End Season

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds — with or without a manager — headed toward Pittsburgh today and the final series of a season that has found them confounding the predictions only to the extent that they may finish seventh instead of eighth.

But most of the uproar today concerned Bucky Walters. Bucky was relieved yesterday as manager of the Reds for the 1950 season. There still was no word as to whether he would direct the club in the final three games against the Pirates. He headed toward Philadelphia and said he'd think about it on the way.

Warren Giles, president of the Reds, said no decision had been made as to Walters' successor and that the new manager wouldn't be named until after the World Series.

Oilers Take First Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — The Tulsa Oilers, jubilant over their 13-2 rout of the Nashville Vols last night, try to make it two in a row in the Dixie Series tonight.

Since Jim Avrea had a little trouble with the Southern Association sluggers last night, Manager Al Vincent of the Texas League club indicated he'll send another lanky righthander, Dave Jolly, after the second game of the four-of-seven series.

He'll face Garman (Pistol Pete) Malloy, Nashville righthander who has a 22-5 record.

Army Will Be Tough Again in 1970

SUMTER, S.C. — (AP) — Watch out for that Army team — of 1970.

If Felix Anthony Blanchard, 3rd, lives up to expectations, he will become another invulnerable "Mr. Inside."

The heir to the Blanchard hospital greatness arrived at a grueling late Tuesday and is doing fine.

Blue-eyed and dark haired, he weighed in at 7 pounds and 3 ounces. His mother, the former Jodie King of San Antonio, Texas, daughter of a wealthy ranch owner, also is doing well.

As for the redoubtable "Doc," now a flying lieutenant stationed at Shaw Air Force Base, his first reactions were positively aesthetic.

"It's the most beautiful thing I have ever seen."

We've always been an umpire man. Sure, we know they make blunders. But they are honest blunders.

And most of them still are around long after the guys who make life tough for them are gone, and usually, forgotten.

Army Star to Wed

NEW YORK — (AP) — A former West Point grid star will take a Texas beauty as his bride here today.

She is hazel-eyed Louise Hyde of Fort Worth, television and modeling star (Miss Pepsi-Cola), and her mate-to-be is Lt. Sheldon Biles, star tackle on three of Army's postwar football teams.

Biles' man will be Lt. Glenn Davis, former all-American halfback for Army.

Umpires on Spot In Tight Races

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK — (AP) — We believe it was Hank O'Day who, on being asked why anyone would take up baseball umpiring as a profession, replied after due reflection:

"Well, you can't beat the hours."

Regardless of who said it, he might have added that you can't beat the umpires. Right or wrong, they're always right.

With the pennant races in both major leagues closer than your next breath it has been a tough season for the men of decision. Verdicts which under other circumstances might have brought only a tender little beef at best now bring vitriolic attacks with aspersions cast on the ability, integrity and ancestry of the men whose fatness and honesty largely are responsible for the esteem in which the sport is held today.

Stocky Bill Stewart is called a hot-head and a man of such poor judgment he couldn't be trusted to separate bananas from oranges in a crate of mixed fruit. And for why? Because he ousted Brooklyn second baseman Jackie Robinson for insinuating, by gesture, that Bill had choked up and didn't have the nerve to call balls and strikes the way he saw them.

Eddie Dyer, as mild-mannered a gentleman as you would hope to meet, terms Lon Warneke an inexperienced umpire who shouldn't have been allowed to work in the recent Dodger-Cardinal series. Eddie later clapped his hands to his cheeks in a horrified gesture, blurted "What have I said?" But the very fact he said it shows the tension under which the pennant contenders are laboring; a stress and strain which would warp a stout bridge.

We've always been an umpire man. Sure, we know they make blunders. But they are honest blunders.

And most of them still are around long after the guys who make life tough for them are gone, and usually, forgotten.

Army Star to Wed

NEW YORK — (AP) — A former West Point grid star will take a Texas beauty as his bride here today.

She is hazel-eyed Louise Hyde of Fort Worth, television and modeling star (Miss Pepsi-Cola), and her mate-to-be is Lt. Sheldon Biles, star tackle on three of Army's postwar football teams.

Biles' man will be Lt. Glenn Davis, former all-American halfback for Army.

Now Is Season For Rookies to Break in Majors

NEW YORK — (AP) — This is the time of year when major league managers let their gaze wander down the bench before a game, clasp some eager-eyed kid with straw sticking out from under his cap, and say:

"Hye, you, what's-your-name, you're playing left-field today."

That is, the farm boys have come to town, and these embryo big leaguers, brought up from the minor league clubs for a look-see toward the end of the campaign, are having more than a little to do with the pennant races.

The major league pilots sometimes have to brave criticism in using the kids, particularly if a club is out of the race and a boy is used against a team which still is very much a contender.

Last week Monday, for instance, Eddie Sawyer of the Phils was accused by some rabid Dodger supporters of giving the St. Louis Cardinals a break by starting a younger pitcher, Jocko Thompson, fresh from Toronto, against them.

It turned out that Thompson won his game, and another kid from Toronto, outfielder Ed Sanicki, hit a home run which aided in the victory.

Skipper Jack Onslow of the Chicago White Sox, possibly figuring that any man he sent to the mound during the hectic game with the Yankees last week could do no worse than his predecessors, finally called upon Jack Bruner, fresh from the Waterloo, Ia., club.

Bruner pitched one inning and was credited with the victory, and another White Sox rookie, Bob Erwinich, from Memphis, hit a two-run home run which kept his club in the ball game.

The silliness of the belief that a club is not trying to do its best when it uses untired rookies is shown by the fact that the Cardinals, Yankees and Red Sox all have called upon new guys in the heat of the flag races.

Linemen to Captain Longhorns This Week

AUSTIN — (AP) — Guard Danny Wolfe and end Ray Stone, two boys who do a lot of playing in opponents' backfields, will be captains of the Texas Longhorns against the Idaho Vandals tomorrow.

Wolfe, a Senior from Stephenville, has won acclaim throughout his four years in Texas for his brilliant defensive play.

Stone, a transfer from Kilgore Junior College last year, was going great guns when he broke his leg in the game with Arkansas. That kept him out until the New Year's Day Orange Bowl Game, in which he starred on defense against Georgia.

Eagles Sign Working Deal With Gainesville

DALLAS — (AP) — The Dallas Eagles of the Texas League will furnish the players next year for Gainesville of the Big State League and Jimmy Adair, former Dallas manager, will run the team.

The 100 percent player agreement with the Class B League team was announced yesterday.

R. E. (Dick) Burnett, owner of the Eagles, said similar agreements probably will be worked out soon with Gladewater of the Class C East Texas League and Chickasha of the Class D Sooner State League.

Burnett and Bobby Gott, who relieved Adair as manager of the Eagles toward the end of the 1949 race, will leave Sunday for the World Series. They'll talk over a player agreement with President Louis Perini, General Manager John O'Quinn and Field Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves.

Parking Problem Over At Chapel Hill, N. C.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — (AP) — The parking problem is becoming slightly terrific for University of North Carolina home football games.

So students and faculty members got together on a solution. They simply drive their cars out of town for the day.

Come Saturday morning when the Tar Heels are playing gridiron, students and university folk drive their cars out to the airport, two miles from Chapel Hill, and ride in on free buses.

After the game, it's back to the airport and pick up their cars at the airport.

Jack Goes Tonight

CHICAGO — (AP) — Beau Jack, former world lightweight champion, and Italy's Livio Minelli of Bergamo will meet in a 10 round bout tonight in the first of 10 winter boxing shows to be sponsored by the International Boxing Club.

IN THE MONEY—Pancho Gonzales signs a contract as a professional, and has some money for a change.

Kimbrough Seeks Workman's Insurance

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — John Kimbrough, the former Los Angeles Dons fullback who retired with a knee injury this year, has filed a novel claim. He wants workman's compensation from the California Industrial Insurance Commission.

In his claim goes through Jarrin Jawn would be paid $30 a week and medical expenses, deputy Commissioner Clell McCredie says.

Attorneys in the case disclosed last night that it may open a new income source for pro gridiron permanently benched with injuries. Hearing was set for Nov. 9.

Kimbrough, former Texas A&M all-American, played three years for the Dons before the injury put him on the shelf. He owns a 1900 acre cattle ranch at Haskell, Texas, and is a distributor for an oil company.

The only losing football season Notre Dame has had since 1888 was 1933, when the Irish won three, lost five and tied one.

Child Must Be Taught Art of Handling Money, Expert Says

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures
Sooner or later every child must learn to make his own decisions in handling money. But parents often fail to realize that the handling of money is a thing that has to be learned, says Professor Ralph H. Ojemann.
A noted authority on the influence of culture and community upon the school-age child, Dr. Ojemann is associate professor in the Iowa University Child Welfare Research Station. Writing in National Parent-Teacher in an article entitled "Allowance for Growth," he says:
"The ability to use money must be acquired. No child is born with it. Furthermore, the learning is not a simple matter. It does not take place by itself, and it is a long process.
"It isn't enough for the child to learn that five pennies make a nickel, two nickels a dime, ten dimes a dollar and so on.... It means that the child has to learn 'at choices will help him in the long run. Whether he will buy more hot dogs and popcorn than he needs to satisfy his hunger, or go without a new pair of socks or what we adults call 'decent' shoes, depends greatly upon what he himself feels will help him most."
Learning the use of money is much like other kinds of learning. You can read all about it, as an adult, but it takes actual doing to get the most out of anything. The child is equally dependent on experience. In other words, says Dr. Ojemann, all children need money of their own as an "allowance for growth."
"The child may get his money either by working for it, through an allowance, or both. The important point is that the money come in fairly regularly, especially at the start. Furthermore, the parent must decide how the money is to be spent. It will not help him to form judgments and make decisions if someone tells him that he is to use ten cents for candy, ten cents for Sunday school, fifteen cents for a movie, and so on. The deciding has to be done by junior himself, says Dr. Ojemann.
But suppose junior makes foolish purchases? What can we, as parents, do then? When a child continually spends his money in a way that doesn't help him, there are reasons, says Professor Ojemann. It is our business to know what those reasons are. Does the child feel inadequate, insecure, or deprived of a reasonable chance?
Another important point is that the child who manages his own money must suffer the logical consequences of unwise spending. If he should exhaust his funds before his next allowance, supplying him at random with additional funds may defeat the whole system of training.
Above all, it will help both the parents and the child if we realize that learning to handle money is not a simple matter for anyone.

McKinney on Bridge

The colorful bridge player, Tobias Stone, was in New York recently with his bride, the former Dale Baker, of Hollywood, Calif. They went there to spend their honeymoon, and where do you suppose Mr. Stone was spending most of it? — at the bridge club.
Stone tells everybody that he is the greatest player in the world. Then he sits down at the bridge table and most of the time his bidding and play convince everybody that he is.
I want to assure you that today's hand is not a cooked-up one, but was played at the Mayfair Bridge Club in New York City. Stone, sitting South, trumped the opening lead of the king of clubs with the three of diamonds. He next played the ace of diamonds on which the queen dropped. I am sure that now most players would lead the ace of spades, and down would go the contract, as East would trump and return a diamond.

Stone thought for a long time about the possibility of any combination of cards which would prevent him from making his contract. Believe it or not he reasoned correctly — if West held the six missing spades he could lose his contract by playing the ace of spades. So he led the three of spades. West won with the nine and returned a spade, but this was trumped in dummy with the jack of diamonds. The eight of diamonds was led and when East played low, Tobias played the nine spot. He then picked up East's last trump and the hand was made.
I asked Mr. Stone why his opponents did not bid six clubs, which could be made. His reply was, "They were afraid of my two bid."
Show this hand to your friends and see if they will make the right play, even though they can see all four hands.

Superstition Is Further Imbedded in Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — When Frank Morgan, Richard Dix and Sam Wood died last week, a superstition was further imbedded in this superstitious town.

The old witch's tale that "death comes by threes" has become virtually an accepted fact with omen-conscious film people. As a class they are perhaps a shade less superstitious than baseball players, who no doubt take honors in that field.

This culture of dame fortune is natural in an industry in which luck seems to play an important role. The studios themselves are superstitious: there is no stage 13 in town (they're called 12a).

Students of horoscopes and numerology abound in Hollywood. And many filmmakers avoid like the plague such show business omens of bad luck as whistling in the dressing room; hat or shoes on a bed; peacock feathers; opal jewelry.

Stars have their own superstitions, too. Bette Davis thinks that rainy days are lucky. It rained the day she was dropped from her Universal contract. Instead of packing up for New York, she waited out the day. Warners called her and she began her long and successful career there.

Early Guard Against Baby Ailment Urged

AUSTIN — Now is the time to have your baby protected from whooping cough, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

The Texas Department of Health recommends that vaccination against this disease be administered at three months of age with a booster dose of vaccine when the baby is two years old. There is many a child whose life could have been saved if he had been immunized in infancy, said Dr. Cox.

"Whooping cough," said Dr. Cox, "first masquerades as an ordinary cold, with running nose and eyes, followed by a slight cough. These symptoms develop about 1 to 14 days after exposure. Then in about another week the cough develops into a series of continued attacks in an effort to expel the troublesome mucus. An attempt to breathe during the choking spell produces the characteristic whooping sound. In mild cases it may be absent. The whooping stage lasts 4 to 6 weeks and may then take another two or three weeks to decline gradually.

"Here are some facts about whooping cough:

1. The disease starts like a common cold, 1 to 14 days after exposure. In about another week the cough develops and the whooping usually begins.

2. It is one of the communicable diseases children often catch at school. After a child has reached

Rita Hayworth is superstitious about the color blue. She wears something blue in every scene. Likewise Red Skelton insists on wearing maroon.

The Barrymores send each other red apples at the start of pictures and plays; it's an old family custom.

Alfred Hitchcock generally injects his face or figure into every film he directs. Robert Mitchum clings to an old trench coat he wore in "The Story of GI Joe." He has worn it in seven pictures. Al Jolson never throws a pair of shoes away (or anything else).

Maureen O'Hara and Rosalind Russell won't remove their wedding rings for movie scenes; they wear flesh-colored tape over the rings if necessary. Spencer Tracy won't say the last line of the last scene of a picture during rehearsal. He saves it until the scene is actually made.

Sabine River Program Started

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Lieut. Gov. William Dodd has under study today a proposal that Louisiana and Texas work together on a $400,000,000 long-range program for full utilization of Sabine River resources.

The plan, to be presented to Gov. Earl Long later, includes the age of five, fatalities occur less frequently. Children may carry this disease home to babies.

3. Most important of all is to see that infants are vaccinated against whooping cough, for most deaths occur among children less than one year of age.

4. Call your family physician at once if you suspect your child has whooping cough and follow his directions in detail.

Working Overtime

TOKYO — (AP) — Mount Asama's volcano is working overtime. The Central Meteorological Observatory said today the 8,243 foot peak is belching 92 times in the last 48 hours.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY BEGINS IN THE HOME

Juvenile Delinquents?

No, not Yours!

This is Joan and Johnny. They're two swell kids. No, maybe not yours, but typical good American youngsters of their ages.

Sure, everything has been done for them, everything for a future life given to them. But only in a material sense? If so, then look out Joan and Johnny! For, without the proper home-life background troublesome days may be ahead.

Let's all check ourselves.

How convenient it is to sit in an easy chair and say, "Somebody else's boy and girl may go delinquent but not mine."

For . . .

In some home tonight the telephone will ring with a message from headquarters -- not good news, but heartbreaking news of another juvenile delinquent and it may be YOUR Joan or Johnny whose name has made the police record.

To prevent such an experience in your family group, give your children the help they need, NOW. Continue to observe the Good Parents requirements at the right.

As Good Parents You Should:

- 1--Give the love and companionship so necessary to your child's welfare;
- 2--Attend church with your children;
- 3--Support personally the many fine organizations that provide recreation for boys and girls;
- 4--Devote some of your time to personal service to the children that minister to the young;
- 5--Help spread good cheer and human understanding to families not as fortunate as your own.

Wise parents know that duty to their children is more than food, clothing and shelter. They know that the home life needs to be more attractive to childhood; that wholesome recreation for their own boys and girls and their neighbor's children is the best way to prevent trouble and sorrow when the critical years are upon them.

First Baptist Training Union Entertained at Mexican Dinner

Members of the "Ever Ready" Training Union of the First Baptist Church were entertained in the home of their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Forsman, at a Mexican dinner last Saturday evening.

A Mexican scene centered the lace-covered table. The scene was made up of dolls and figurines from Old Mexico, and was lighted with red candles in silver holders. On the menu were enchiladas, tortillas, beans, potato chips, crackers and minis, served buffet style.

Mrs. Lester Brown poured coffee from a silver coffee service, and cakes were drawn from a well and opened by Mr. Forsman, who wore a Mexican sombrero. Pecan patties were served for dessert. Mrs. T. J. Worell assisted. Mrs. Forsman in preparing the food and serving. Singing and games furnished entertainment.

Unreality Subject at Baptist Hour
"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 2.

The Golden Text is: "Thoughts of the righteous are right; but the counsels of the wicked are deceit" (Proverbs 12:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon" (Isaiah 55:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If God, or good, is real, then evil, the unlikeness of God, is unreal. And evil can only seem to be real by giving reality to the unreal" (page 470).

Louisiana Purchase Exposition Said Cause for Scarcity of Deer

By HUI BOYLE
INLET, N. Y. — (AP) — Class that old Louisiana Purchase Exposition held out in St. Louis, Mo., way back in 1904!
Here—45 years later—it's causing a scarcity of wild deer in the central Adirondack Mountains.
So says Gerald Kenwell, 62, the best woodsman hereabouts. This is his reasoning:
"Some of our guides went out to the St. Louis fair. They saw some beavers on exhibition. Looked real cute, so they brought a pair back and turned them loose. Then somebody put out some more."
Protected for years by a closed hunting season and with few natural enemies to catch them, the beaver thrived like rabbits. And now, Kenwell says, they've got nature out of balance.
"The beaver killed the natural winter quarters for the deer, leaving the deer nothing to eat. And they're destroying the trout, too. The trout can't get past the dams to spawn, and the water in the ponds heat up in the sun, and the trout can't stand that either."
Kenwell holds that the otter, also increasing rapidly, is an equal threat to the fisherman's fun.
"An otter catches and eats about two pounds of fish a day, and fifty of them will get rid of a lot of fine trout."
"They say there's more deer now than there ever was. And that's true. But where are the deer? Down in some farmer's pas-

The Scouts will do their own cooking except for the Saturday night meal when they will be served a barbecue supper. Competitive events and completing Explorer Scout requirements will be on the agenda Saturday, Dick Rust, council Explorer chairman, said.
Following the barbecue an investiture ceremony will be held. Bungalow houses originated in India.

'Protect Your Baby From Whooping Cough'—Cox

AUSTIN — Now is the time to have your baby protected from whooping cough, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, says.
The Texas State Department of Health recommends that vaccination against this disease be administered at three months of age with a booster dose of vaccine when the baby is two years old. There is many a child whose life could have been saved if he had been immunized in infancy, Dr. Cox said.
"Whooping cough first masquerades as an ordinary cold, with running nose and eyes, followed by a slight cough," he said. "These symptoms develop about one to 14 days after exposure. Then in about another week the cough develops into a series of continued attacks, in an effort to expel the trouble some mucus. An attempt to breathe during the choking spell produces the characteristic whooping sound. In mild cases it may be absent. The whooping stage lasts four to six weeks and may then take another two or three weeks to decline gradually."
"Here are some facts about whooping cough:
The disease starts like a common cold, one to 14 days after exposure. In about another week the cough develops and the whooping usually begins.
It is one of the communicable diseases children often catch at school. After a child has reached the age of five, fatalities occur less frequently. Children may carry this disease home to babies.
Most important of all is to see that infants are vaccinated against whooping cough, for most deaths occur among children less than one year of age."

Aged Couple Given Air Trip Home

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — An aged Florida couple who say they walked here from Dallas roared out of Baton Rouge yesterday on a free airplane trip home.
The couple, George F. Hunter, 80, and his 78-year-old wife staggered into Baton Rouge three days ago.
D. B. Fontaine, Eastern Airlines station manager here and six other Eastern employees chipped in to pay the Hunters' fare home.
Hunter and his wife, who live at Big Towhead Island near Apalachicola, Fla., were poorly dressed when they arrived here. He said they had "walked every inch of the way" from Dallas, more than 400 miles away. They were taken in by Mrs. Carrie Mae King who fed and lodged them and called in the Salvation Army. The charitable agency offered to pay their bus fare home.
"We heard about it Wednesday night," Fontaine said, "and the seven of us decided to put up the money for their fare."
Hunter told a reporter Tuesday that he had gone to Dallas for treatment of an abdominal injury at the Veterans Administration hospital. When their money ran out, he said, they started hitchhiking, but drew "terrible, terrible jeering" instead of lifts from motorists.
"The old man said he had been in a spad (plane) during the first world war," Fontaine said, "but I don't believe Mrs. Hunter had ever been close to a plane before."
