

Ulcer Victim List Is Less In Four Years

NEW YORK - Ulcers are popularly supposed to reflect the increasing tempo of modern life, but actually the mortality from these conditions has been on the down trend for many years, according to the statisticians of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Among the company's millions of industrial policyholders, the death rate from peptic ulcer in 1948 was nearly 30 percent below the peak reached in 1935.

The recorded improvement has been greater for the mortality from ulcers of the stomach than of the duodenum (the part of the small intestine nearest the stomach). Among males, the chief victims of these conditions, the death rate from stomach ulcer in 1941-1948 was nearly one-fourth less than that a decade earlier. The decline extended to all age groups under 65 years and was greatest at the younger ages. On the other hand, the death rate from duodenal ulcers has changed little for many years.

Among women, who have always had a lower death rate from these conditions, the mortality trends have been more favorable. As a result, the death rates among has greatly improved in recent years, and their length of life has increased. This has been brought about by advances in diagnosis and in the medical and surgical treatment of the disease. Increased understanding of the role which personal and emotional factors play in the disease is reflected in its modern management.

"Nevertheless, ulcers of the stomach and duodenum still constitute a serious medical and surgical problem," the statisticians comment. The number of persons with these conditions is unknown, but a conservative estimate would be at least 400,000. There can be no letup in efforts to prevent and alleviate these conditions.

Two-thirds of the persons killed in city motor vehicle accidents and about one-sixth of those killed in rural traffic accidents are pedestrians. Over half the injuries to children pedestrians are caused by playing in roadways and by their emerging from behind parked cars.

 Murray gave no sign of giving up his fight to force the steel industry to pay the entire cost of a pension-insurance program.
 Murray had nothing but scorn for a big steel offer of 10 cents an hour per employee to help finance pensions and insurance for the men who make steel. After the offer yesterday, the veteran labor leader declared:
 "It must be plain to all that the corporation is deliberately seeking to force a steel strike."

Mid-Continent Responsible For Crude Production Rise

TULSA — (AP) — Daily average crude oil production in the United States picked up 44,900 barrels during the week ended Sept. 24, the Oil and Gas Journal reported this week.

The Journal totaled the overall daily average at 4,881,128 barrels.

The mid-continent area was responsible for more than 60 per cent of the gain, with Oklahoma and Kansas reporting their highest averages since the last week in June. Kansas' output increased 25,280 barrels to 276,250, and Oklahoma gained 3,680 to 391,000.

Michigan's production advanced 4,200 barrels to 46,400 after having declined in the previous three weeks. Mississippi gained 5,550 barrels to 101,100, slightly above its average for the past four months.

Other increases included the Eastern area, up 4,200 barrels to 81,400; Colorado, 1,800 to 45,000; Wyoming, 600 to 127,100; Louisiana, 450 to 486,400, and California and Kentucky, each up 400 barrels to 149,400 and 23,500 barrels, respectively.

Production in Texas was unchanged at 1,979,100 barrels.

Only sizeable decline for the week was in Illinois down 1,600 barrels to 178,100.

Alabama dropped 150 barrels to 7,500, Arkansas was off 100 to 70,500, Florida fell 100 to 975, Indiana declined 100 to 27,300, Nebraska was down 80 to 500, and Utah dropped 50 to 2,050.

Canada's production, the Journal said, was up 2,138 barrels to 70,920.

Independents to Plan Defense At Upcoming Fort Worth Meet

FORT WORTH — Leaders of the domestic petroleum industry will meet here next week to "plan a course for defense against destruction of the domestic oil producing industry."

This note was carried in a statement issued today by Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America which starts its 20th anniversary meeting here Monday.

"This meeting offers an opportunity to plan our course for defense against destruction of the domestic oil industry," Brown said. "We were encouraged by the

Increase Granted In Oklahoma Allowable

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — The October oil production allowable for Oklahoma was increased 80,000 barrels to 410,000 barrels daily by the Corporation Commission yesterday.

This figure met the Bureau of Mines' estimate for demand for the month.

Increasing the allowable, there was 10-percent hike in quotas for all allocated fields, while a 50-barrel maximum was established for unprorated areas.

Court Refuses To Stop Project In Mexican Gas

HOUSTON — (AP) — District Judge Phil Woodruff has refused a temporary injunction that would prevent Carr W. Smith of Houston from carrying out a huge development of natural gas reserves in Mexico.

The judge said, in effect, that the plaintiffs were claiming rights in something which, although it may exist in the future, does not yet exist.

O. M. Berg, Kenneth Krahl and Mrs. Julia Mae Anderson, had petitioned the court to restrain Smith from continuing the Mexican development. They contended they stand to lose $10,000,000.

The court held the plaintiffs have only potential rights in possible profits.

Testimony showed the Mexican presidential decree which would permit a proposed Mexican corporation to develop the country's gas resources, has not been signed and the corporation itself has not been formed.

Palmer Hutcherson, attorney for the plaintiffs, gave notice of appeal.

Expert Predicts Philippine Oil

MANILA — (AP) — Earl Irving, United States geological survey expert on loan to the Philippine Bureau of Mines, predicted this week the Philippines soon may join other Far East oil producing countries.

Irving's prediction was made at a dinner for the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

He said that four requirements for the accumulation of commercial quantities exist in the Philippines archipelago. These are source beds, reservoir rocks, cap rocks and geological structures providing adequate traps for oil accumulation.

Unitization Gets Hearing

AUSTIN — (AP) — The first Railroad Commission hearing on an application for cooperative development of an oil field under the new unitization law has been set for Oct. 18.

Continental Oil Co. filed the application for the hearing for the Todd Deep Corral, Crockett County.

The last legislature passed the new law after prolonged discussions and filibuster. Several earlier legislatures which had the proposition before them had failed to act on it. The law permits land owners to pool their interests in secondary recovery programs when the Railroad Commission finds it in the interests of conservation.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas drugist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

Worldwide Oil Drops 2 Percent During August

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Following United States cutbacks, worldwide crude oil production during July dropped two percent to 8,890,800 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal reported.

The domestic trend plus a decline in Saudi Arabia more than offset slight production gains in Venezuela, Iran, Iraq and some other countries.

According to the Journal, United States output of crude oil in July at 4,738,000 barrels per day was approximately 170,000 barrels under June's daily average.

An upturn, however, is expected in the wake of demand for heating oils.

Rotary Is Working for World Peace Says Area Governor

"Rotary clubs in 81 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace."

That was the message brought by Elmo Wasson, Big Spring, governor of District 183 of Rotary International, in addressing the Pampa Rotary yesterday, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen Tuesday.

"In addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,000 clubs in their own communities to promote this objective," Governor Wasson said, "during the next three years Rotary International will spend $700,000, principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations. One of the principal ways in which this money will be spent will be on Rotary Foundation Fellowships which enable outstanding graduate students to study abroad for one year as ambassadors of good will."

Since this program was established in 1947, 111 fellowships have been awarded to students in 27 countries, with grants totaling more than $250,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 330,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationalities, political or religious beliefs," he said.

He added there is a striking parallel between the program of Rotary and the United Nations Charter, and that, since the organization of the United Nations in 1945, Rotary Clubs throughout the world have been active in the development of an informed public opinion on the objectives of the United Nations in an endeavor to make it an effective instrument for free people everywhere.

Prior to the district governor's talk, Travis Lively introduced several former Rotarians who attended the meeting yesterday to hear Wasson.

The 183rd district governor has served as secretary and president of his own club and is an immediate past president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. He operates a men's furnishings store in Big Spring.

Jobless Job-Hunter Gets Job Looking for Job

By JACK HARR

CHICAGO (NEA)—There's one thing I have learned in the past few months — jobs are mighty tough to find. So says Howard Hagemann, 23, who calls himself "the most professional-looking unemployed man on Michigan Boulevard."

Hagemann graduated from Beloit (Wis.) college early in June. He started to hunt for a job, but he did it in an especially businesslike manner. First he commanded a desk and a secretary in his father's office. Then he began a rigorous schedule of making contacts, writing letters, seeing people, filling out forms.

Hagemann's "working day" would rival that of a working-for-pay businessman, and his nattily-dressed form, hurrying along Michigan Boulevard.

But, after two months without missing a day on the job, Hagemann has no prospects of employment.

"Yep," he sighed, "I work as hard as anybody. There's only one difference — no pay. This routine is really getting me. Sometimes when I'm tired at night I find myself saying to my wife, 'Gosh, honey, I don't feel like going to work tomorrow.'"

Hagemann attributes his lack of success so far to the fact that he's trying to connect in a tough business advertising.

"I know what I'm up against when I see men with two or ten years of experience in advertising pounding the pavement just like me. And all sorts of people want to get into the advertising business because they think it's glamorous, which makes it tough about it. This has been one of the main concerns of advertising executives I've talked to."

An Army Air Force veteran, Hagemann continued: "We knew it would be tough before we even got out of school. Only about 20 out of a graduating class of 209 had jobs lined up before graduation. And a much higher percentage than usual — about 30 percent — went on to graduate school which indicates a desire to avoid getting out in the 'cold world' right now."

Though he hasn't actually landed a job, Hagemann is not discouraged and considers his eight-hourly efforts well worth while.

"This has been better than any course I could have taken in school," he said. "I've been able to meet and talk to important people with advertising agencies and trade journals, radio and television stations all across the city. When I couldn't get anywhere talking about jobs, I was always able to get some good advice. I feel now that I have a clearer picture of the field."

"Something has to break pretty soon, though. My wife and baby daughter have to eat!" Hagemann is confident that he will get a job soon. "If nothing else, I will try to get a laboring job in a television or radio studio. That way I can learn the practical end of the business with an eye to future advertising possibilities."

"But," he added with a rueful smile, "I hope I don't end up laboring over on the railroad docks as a stevedore!"

Europe Will Have Large Wheat Crop

PARIS (AP)—Europe looks forward to a bumper 1949 wheat crop, approaching the yield of prewar years.

An Associated Press survey of 14 countries disclosed that experts estimate the current harvest will top even last year's crop, despite long summer droughts.

Only two Eastern European countries were included in the survey, because most Iron Curtain countries have made it a crime to disclose crop estimates. Europe's wheat production in 1948 was 36,800,000 tons. This was 86.5 percent of the 1934-38 average total. Both totals exclude Russia which refuses to furnish figures.

Others Saw 'More' of Wife; Gets Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Almost everybody saw more of his wife than he did, actor Paul Valentine complained, winning a divorce from stripteaseer Irah St. Cyr.

Valentine said he made a home for his silver-blond wife, but she refused to give up her career. As a result, the only time he got to see her was when he could get her billing in Hollywood. He charged that this constituted mental cruelty.

Valentine, who also is the dancer's manager, said he will continue to create and stage her routines. She is filling an engagement in Montreal, and was not in court.

Sister Found; Lost 27 Years

BROWNWOOD (AP)—After 27 years, Mrs. Allie Scott, Fort Worth, was reunited with her brothers and sisters.

A reunion was effected here for H. W. Faulkner, Brownwood, and Mrs. James A. Ellison, Dallas, with their sister Allie. Faulkner last saw his sister in Hutchinson, Kans., in 1922. For the last 17 years Mrs. Scott intermittently inserted "personal" items in Fort Worth newspapers seeking her family.

Contacts developed from the last personal 10 days ago and were completed through news stories in Brownwood and Fort Worth.

Faulkner said he traveled thousands of miles and spent hundreds of dollars trying to locate his sister.

They are planning a family reunion here with others including brothers Dee Faulkner, San Angelo, and Arthur Faulkner, Ardmore, Okla.

'Better' Mousetrap Offered Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain, trying to capture more U.S. dollars, is now offering Americans a "better" mousetrap.

The Commerce Department announced a newly-designed mousetrap was among specialty items from Britain recently listed—along with herring, stethoscopes, sea moss, silver plate, etc.—as "American import opportunities."

The trap is described as "all metal, rust-proof, self-setting, and hygienic, and guaranteed to put an end to trapped fingers."

Boyle Advises: Don't Buy Atom Bombs for Home Use

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—Naturally everyone today is wondering what he should do about the atom bomb.

The best possible advice to follow is—Don't buy one now on a rising market.

Why have one around the house at all?

You might as well turn the whole matter over to the international diplomats of the United Nations, whose theme song is: "You show me your stockpile, and I'll show you mine."

I think the average man will be glad to let it go at that. For he has become bored to death with the atom bomb. He is annoyed at seeing what was to be the century of the common man turned into the century of the big firecracker. And he isn't happy to know that the $64 question of his generation will be, "where do we go from here?"

Latin America Markets May Show Problem

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—American businessmen may have quite a fight on their hands to hold their rich but already shrinking Latin American markets.

If European competition gets too hot, Americans might have to slash prices, and some see that leading to pressure for cuts in labor and raw material costs here at home.

United States exports to Latin America dropped 17 percent last year from 1947, and have fallen an equal amount so far this year. Exporters feel that the down trend will speed up, since European manufacturers, aided by currency juggling, now can have slashed price tags under the noses of South American buyers. We exported around $4 billion to Latin America in 1947, only $3.13 billion last year, and this year we probably won't reach $3 billion.

At the moment our trade with South America is at a walk. Exporters and importers alike are awaiting currency moves in some Latin American republics. Argentina is believed ready to cut the peso. Peru and Uruguay may devalue, too.

When the world's exchange rates shake down into a fairly stable pattern again—perhaps before the first of the year—the fight for world trade can really get rough.

Then American businessmen will see by just how much the British, French, Belgians and Dutch can undersell us—and equally important, just how their products and services compare with ours. Some contend that even currency juggling can't give Europeans an edge over Americans in making, delivering and selling goods.

However, there seems little doubt that European price cutting, through devaluation, was aimed quite as much at a fight for world markets as at the more immediate object of easing the dollar shortage by selling more foreign goods in the United States.

The prehistoric woolly elephant didn't develop its woolly coat until the coming of an ice Age gave him a need for it.

This washable broom rides an equally washable plastic dust-pan right to the dust pile for easier clean-up.

Scientists' Efforts Make Life More Pleasant for Homemakers

By MARJORIE SKILKEN
NEA Staff Writer

The broom and brush brigade will applaud new household gadgets aimed at making the housewife's lot easier, homekeeping more efficient.

Even the head of the house can breathe easier, thanks to a new and improved rolling pin that holds no threats for men. The new plastic gadget has eight small rollers set in a circular frame. Grasping the roller's plastic handle, a housewife can flatten a lump of dough into the thinnest pie crust by a light back and forth motion. This sets the eight rollers going around. The baking gadget comes in bright colors, can be rinsed under the faucet, is compact enough for storing in a kitchen drawer.

The back-bending chores of reaching into a laundry hamper and pulling out clothes have been eliminated by a self-emptying hamper. The disgorging trick is actually in the hamper construction: The woven steel body has but three sides and is attached by hinges to the bathroom door, which forms the back. Now, the housewife can touch her hand to the hamper bottom, and presto, the entire case lifts on its hinges and releases its contents.

A broom not only sweeps clean now but can give a ride all the way to the dust heap in a bright plastic dustpan. The pan fits snugly over practically any broom head and sweeps along with the broom to its destination. This washable dustpan comes in a combination of bright colors.

Two other plastic gadgets offer strategic services around the house: A molded lustrous plastic bread box with no crevices to store dirt and dust, is washable and handsome. A mechanical crank turned cherry pitter, made in as bright red plastic as the cherries it pits, can be clamped to a table. In it pits and cherries are discharged at the rate of a quart a minute.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

At the Regency Club in New York the other night, I pulled up a chair in back of Leo Leventritt. His family has been active in raising funds for The Children's Cancer Fund.

Anything can happen at the bridge table, but to watch a person play a contract without a trump in his own hand is rather unusual. Leventritt's bid of two spades was a cue bid, asking his partner to bid his best suit. The reason he did not double was because he was afraid his partner might pass. Had he known that his partner held seven spades he would have been quite happy to play the hand at one spade doubled. However, when the cue bid was made, I do not think West can be blamed for passing.

Leventritt won the opening lead of the queen of hearts in his own hand with the king. He immediately cashed the ace and king of diamonds, discarding a small heart from dummy. He ruffed the deuce of diamonds with the deuce of spades, then led the jack of spades. South won this trick and returned a heart, which Leventritt won with the ace. He ruffed a diamond with the three of spades in dummy.

Leventritt had noticed the drop of the eight of spades on his first spade play. He carefully led the ten of spades from dummy. North played the nine and South won the trick with the king. He returned a club which was won in dummy with the ace.

A spade and a club trick were now conceded, and declarer made three spades on a hand in which he did not hold a trump.

the first fall meeting of the Mobeitie P-T-A, Friday, Sept. 23. Following the discussion, a reception was held for the teachers in the school study hall with refreshments being served.

Bad Grooming Will Tell Tales

By ALICIA HART
NEA STAFF WRITER

Some teenagers forget when they fuss before a mirror that people will see them from the back as well as from the front.

Though the front view may be perfect, a tell-tale back view of careless grooming can speak volumes for slipshod methods of dressing.

Ever watch a girl work hours over a bang and then neglect to run a comb through the back of her hair? The same girl is apt to be seen with run-down heels, a peeping slip, crooked stocking seams, an unbuttoned blouse.

The kind of conclusion anyone will draw from a girl's appearance that's all shine and neatness in front, but all hit-or-miss in back, won't be flattering.

Twist and turn before your mirror, if you must, or better still install a three-way mirror. But make sure that the picture of you retreating is at least as pretty as the advancing one you present.

See that the back of your collar is spotless and unrumpled. Check your heels to see if your lifts are level. Polish the back of your shoes as well as the front.

A wide belt will tie your blouse and skirt permanently together. A tuck or a new hem in your slip will keep your hemline neat. Elbows that are soiled or discolored can be cleansed with soap and emery stone. A little cream applied nightly will soften hardened skin at the elbows and the little bumps at the back of the heels.

New short haircuts require combing back and front to look neat. Check the tendrils that form at the neckline. A brush-up from bottom might pull them in line.

Stocking seams must be straightened more than once a day. Cuffs of socks should be refolded more often for neatness.

Future Homemakers of America Hold Initiation Services in Lefors

LEFORS (Special)—The Lefors Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held the annual initiation service for new members at 7:30 Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, in the Homemaking Department.

At the beginning of the service new members were led into the Homemaking Parlor by the guides, Melba Joyce Hill, Wanda Roberts, Rebecca Breining, Wanda Williams, Sherry Newsum, Wanda Vaughn, Melba Bigham and Betty Roberts, who carried candles. After the initiates were seated, the guides took their places behind club officers, who were seated behind a table covered with a white cloth and centered with red roses, the club flower, flanked by red and white candles.

The guides then repeated the club purposes, which were followed by members repeating the club creed. Initiates then took the club vows and were declared eligible by the secretary and treasurer to enter the club. President Barbara Chastain, assisted by Lou Dean Cotten, gave the new members their badges of membership. All members sang the FHA song, accompanied by Geraldine Dunn, chapter pianist.

Refreshments of cherry punch and cake topped with red roses were served to the members and their sponsor, Miss Norma Lee Lantz, by the second and third year homemaking girls. The guest book was signed by all attending. Miss Dunn played soft music during the social period.

New members are Imogene McAninch, Willow Dean McAninch, Eva Jo Tillman, Dolores Naz-

Gifts from the class were presented to Mrs. W. P. Wehrung, president; Mrs. H. A. Gilliland, vice president; Mrs. Tom Duvall, teacher, and Mrs. L. V. Hollar, secretary.

There were about 80 members and guests present.

Q—Is the Gordon setter a good hunting dog?
A—The Gordon is an excellent hunting dog but not quite so popular in this country as the other setters. Originally he was developed for hunting work in hilly country so he is a slower, more persistent worker than the English or Irish setter.

Q—How can a rocket operate in a perfect vacuum where there is no air for it to push against?
A—A rocket provides its own material to push against, in the form of the gases that it ejects. It is the reaction or "kick," as these gases are shot out, that drives the rocket head, so it would work better in a vacuum, like that in interplanetary space, than in the air, where there is some friction.

Q—How did the Duke of Wellington come to be called "the Iron Duke"?

Chinese Chief of Police Hires Eskimo Patrolman

By HAL BOYLE.
NEW YORK (AP)—There is an Eskimo patrolman among the pineapples of the paradise of the Pacific.
And that doesn't seem at all unusual to the top cop of Honolulu—big Dan Liu, 40, a six-foot-one-inch Chinese.
"We have at least a dozen nationalities on our police force," he laughed. "And don't think we're without Irish cops. I don't know where the Eskimo came from—just drifted in from somewhere I suppose. Now he's walking a beat for us."
Liu is proud of the fact he himself worked up through every rank to become the first Chinese chief of police of an American city. His force reflects the polyglot population of the island melting pot.
"One third are Hawaiians—they really love to be policemen," said Dan.
The other two thirds are

Caucasians, Japanese, Chinese, Samoans and Filipinos.
Liu came to the mainland to attend an international cop caucus at which he reported on Honolulu's measure to avoid "another Pearl Harbor."
"We were the first police force to organize for atomic defense," he said. "If an atom bomb falls on our city we'll be ready to discharge our responsibility to the community."
Then he smiled as he added, "Of course if our police are within a two-mile range of the explosion—we'll be out."
His force has a full program of sports, hobby training and recreational activities for Honolulu youngsters, and it mixes the kids of all races together at an early age.
"Youth holds the key to our future democracy," said Dan. "It is for that reason we try to work among the young so much—to teach them the American tradition of good will and tolerance."
Liu sets his police officers a good example by his own off duty civic work. He is a leader in the local council of churches, the YMCA and Boy Scout activities.

"That vaudeville balancing team always keeps the conductor guessing!"

IT WAS ALL GREEK —(AP)— DOBTMUND, Germany —(AP)— Anti-communist construction workers were asked to make a Greek inscription on a new building here. But they refused. They mistook the Greek letters for Russian.
ARTIST AND AUTHOR —(AP)— PLATTSBURG, N. Y. —(AP)— Rockwell Kent, artist and author, was reported in good condition today following an emergency appendectomy at Physicians' Hospital. Kent, 67, underwent the operation last night. His home is at Ausable Forks, near here.
