Alberta Joyce Bernson

Miss Top o' Texas To Be a Designer

Like most young winners who are personally complimented, Joyce Bernson shed a few tears last night. But she was quick to recover after pictures were taken and after she had received the compliments of the other girls. She is Miss Top o' Texas.

Joyce, who doesn't like to be called by her first name, Alberta, is a clerk in the AAA office at the Hemphill County Court House in her hometown of Canadian.

Her father, Albert Bernson, a rather composed man last night under the circumstances, said on the side that he thought she was working this year to "tide her over" for a third year at Phillips University, Enid, Okla.

Joyce designed and made the dress she wore last night—a flowing gray gown. (Miss Hukill, the Pampa girl who won the Princess Contest, wore a blue organdy, with white embroidery in it. She received much comment on her attire.)

The Canadian girl, 19, who was salutatorian in her high school class of 1947, plans to continue to study dress designing when she goes back to school next year.

She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 132 pounds "when I last weighed." She has blond hair, blue eyes.

This was her first victory in a beauty or personality contest, and, her mother said, she had entered this year because "they" asked her to. Her sponsor was the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Peggy Hukill

She has studied art, piano, and has done some ballroom dancing. She has had a scholarship—belonged to the National Honor Society in high school, the Quill and Scroll, and was on the annual staff. She is a past worthy advisor of the Rainbow Girls.

When she was asked last night who would attend her at Kansas City Oct. 13 at the American Royal, where she will be a contestant, she said, "Why, mother here." Her mother said no, but she had the last word: "What would I do without you!"

Brother Maurice was along last night. He gave a little of the information which she was reluctant to give. She has two other brothers, no sisters.

Gates Swing Open for 2nd Annual Top o' Texas Fair

The time has arrived. The long-awaited Top o' Texas Fair swung open its gates at 1 p. m. today and entertained the crowd that flocked through.

Highlights for today will include the model airplane stunt exhibition at 3:30, the Harvester Band concert at 6:30 p. m., and the Lefors High School variety program at 8:15 p. m.

Judges of the various departments went to work this morning. By press time the ceramics judges were the only ones who had any results to report.

In the figurine division Mrs. Kenneth Boehm, Pampa, won first place with her dancing model. Mrs. A. D. Hills and Mrs. J. C. McKaughan, both of Pampa, tied for second-place honors, and Mrs. Hills and Mrs. Ervin Fursley tied for third.

The two main exhibit buildings are showing displays—from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. each day—by most of the county home demonstration clubs, art exhibits, photographs, flowers and potted plants, antiques, needle work, and commercial exhibits.

An added phase of the show is the animal display which houses baby lynx, Amherst pheasants, owls, red foxes, Canadian lynx, Arctic snow foxes, albino raccoons, birds, armadillos, porcupines, woodchucks, groundhogs, kinkajous and other animals rarely seen.

Girl and Boy Scouts have concession booths along the midway and the Lone Star Amusement Company's carnival adds to the fair.

One of tomorrow's attractions will be the Pampa Roping Club rodeo, held at 8 p. m. in the main arena. Miami, Canadian and McLean will send bronc riders, bull riders and ropers, who will compete as a team against the Pampa club.

The teams will put up entry fees totaling $200 and the money will be presented to the winning team. Each winner in the matched rodeo will receive points with the first place winners getting a total of 12 points.

When the rodeo has been completed the net total points will decide the winning team.

All members of the Pampa Roping Club have been asked to be at Recreation Park at 7 p. m. tomorrow. The group will further plans to attend the Amarillo rodeo Monday and will discuss their next meeting, held one week from tonight.

Petition Seeks Change in Case

The suit of the McLean Independent School District against the Donley County School Board, the Alameda Independent School District and others, may not be tried in Gray County or even in the 31st District Court.

Attorneys for the Donley County School Board this week filed a petition seeking a plea of privilege to have the case moved to Clarendon, county seat of Donley County.

No date has been set by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich for the hearing on the plea.

Being a civil suit, the defendant has the right to file a plea of privilege and the Court has the authority to grant it, on justifiable grounds, before a jury is impaneled or examined.

The McLean Independent School District filed the suit, in August, following the Donley County School Board's decision to consolidate two dormant community school districts in Donley County with the Alameda Independent School District. The board had originally elected on consolidation with the McLean Independent School District then changed, after the deadline stated in the Gilmer-Alkin Bill and elected to consolidate with the Alameda district.

Roberts Tax Rate Is Set at $1.35

MIAMI (Special)—The Roberts County tax rate was set at $1.35 on the $100 valuation for the coming tax year, at a meeting of the County Commissioners' Court last week. The budget for the ensuing year was also worked out.

This tax rate is the same as for 1948, but the rise in oil and gas lease valuations will raise the total county valuation about $234,000 over last year.

Arwine Is Found Insane

DECATUR (AP)—W. I. (Ike) Arwine, accused of a double slaying, will be committed to a hospital for the insane.

A jury yesterday found the former Bridgeport constable insane on Sept. 26, the day the lunacy trial opened, but sane on Aug. 23, when Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mash were shot to death.

The jury deliberated three hours and three minutes.

Herbert V. Foreman, the jury foreman, said the jurors agreed from the start that Arwine was not now of sound mind.

"We wrangled a little," over whether Arwine was sane at the time of the slaying, he said.

Arwine was charged with murder. Before he was tried on the first count, the lunacy trial was ordered.

Judge J. E. Carter signed a judgment ordering Arwine "to be committed to the custody of the sheriff of Wise County to be kept by him subject to the further orders of the county judge of Wise County."

County Judge Jennings C. E. said "we'll send him to the hospital. To me, he's just another crazy man."

Brown said his disposition may take some time because mental hospitals "aren't anxious to get the criminally insane."

Good Idea but It Didn't Work

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Go out the same door," advised Judge J. Howard Murray as he gave another chance to a young couple in his court yesterday with marital troubles.

They did. They left the courtroom together.

Outside, the husband left his wife and walked away with another girl.

Insult to Russia Sway Czechoslovaks

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovak government confiscated the U. S. Information Service's daily bulletin distributed here today, claiming that it contained an "insult" to Russia.

The alleged insult, the Czechs said, was contained in the bulletin's reprint of a New York Times editorial which suggested that German scientists had helped the Russians in discovering the secret of the atomic bomb.

Probe Was to Be Kept Secret

HOUSTON (AP)—Washington headquarters of the FBI didn't like it when it was disclosed recently that the Harris County Medical Society are being probed.

An FBI spokesman who declined to be quoted by name said, "we caught a lot of hell for the disclosure."

Galen N. Willis, local agent in charge, confirmed reports that agents have been checking the records.

He said it is part of a nationwide checkup to see if there have been violations of anti-trust laws.

The FBI spokesman said Washington headquarters had intended the investigation to remain secret.

Pay-Raise Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—House approval of two big pay-raise bills carried forward today a drive in Congress for adjournment by mid-October.

The pay raise bills would benefit those in the armed services and in the Post Office Department. Besides getting these bills out of the way yesterday, the House sought action today on two more.

Late today to the White House is slated is the $1,314,010,000 overseas arms program which passed the Senate and the House in different form.

Ten Indictments Returned by Grand Jury; One No Billed

The 31st District Court Grand Jury yesterday no billed O. J. "Waco" Woodley charged with the July slaying of Pat Fisher in the Fiass.

Woodley was held in connection with the shooting, but released on bond in less than 24 hours after four bullets from a .32 revolver ripped into Fisher.

Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry issued a verdict of justifiable homicide in Fisher's death. At the same time the jurors returned ten indictments, six of which had been processed this morning.

Two counts of robbery, robbery by assault and robbery by firearms were returned by the jury against Jack Crain for the shotgun holdup on Aug. 1 of Iva Harrod at Lefors.

Crain was captured in the act of holding up Mrs. Harrod by Constable Charles Clendennen who wrested a loaded 12-gauge shotgun from him. Unable to make bond he has remained in the County Jail since then.

Indictments charging car theft were returned against Marvin S. Walker and Jesse Boyles for the theft of a 1949 Buick on Sept. 11 from Mrs. Mattie Crutchfield. The two were apprehended in the car at Sayre, Okla., by Oklahoma officers. Both are in jail.

Cecil Jones was indicted by the jury for the burglary of the Southwestern Public Service Company yard and forgery of a check on O. C. Vance. He had been free on bond on the burglary charge but was apprehended a few weeks later on the forgery charge. Jones is now in jail.

Other indictments returned by the jury were still being processed this morning by the Sheriff's Department.

Several other cases before the Grand Jury were left hanging fire for further consideration. The jury was dismissed to report back on call.

CITY AND COUNTY DISCUSS HOBERT ST. RIGHT-OF-WAY

County Commissioners, in meeting yesterday, went into joint conference with City Commissioners to discuss plans for acquiring remaining rights-of-way on Hobart Street for Pampa's portion of Highway 70, the new highway from Pampa to Perryton.

Before going into the joint session, County Commissioners discussed retirement of lease on a 100-acre tract of the old PAAP auxiliary landing field five miles north of town. Also under discussion was disposition of tax collection duties for three school districts not included on county tax collector's rolls.

Commissioners were told yesterday, 11 property-owners had granted right-of-way for prices ranging from $200 to $400 to county representative John Bradley, before his retirement as chief of police on a temporary basis, but upped his salary to $350—the regular salary for the chief's post.

The advertised budget hearing was brief. However, the commission voted to continue the meeting until Thursday to ordinance the budget and set the tax rate due to the absence of Mayor C. A. "Lefty" Huff.

City Engineer Ray Evans reported that the paving program for Hobart Street would be completed by Saturday night, adding 60 blocks of paved streets to the city. The old chug-hole-filled street of N. Ballard from Browning north is included.

Following the engineer's report the commission informally discussed past, present and future paving problems.

They recessed then until Thursday and went into another meeting with the County Commissioners' Court in the Court House on the Hobart Street right-of-way problem.

Resignation Police Chief Is Accepted

The City Commission yesterday formally accepted the resignation of Louis Allen as chief of police and approved his continuance on the city payroll until Oct. 1 in lieu of his annual vacation.

In another motion the commission also approved the appointment of J. O. Dumas as chief of police on a temporary basis, but upped his salary to $350—the regular salary for the chief's post.

The advertised budget hearing was brief. However, the commission voted to continue the meeting until Thursday to ordinance the budget and set the tax rate due to the absence of Mayor C. A. "Lefty" Huff.

Miami Gets New Paving

MIAMI (Special)—With favorable weather the paving project for Miami, now in construction by the Stuckey Construction Company of Canadian, is progressing rapidly.

The construction of curbs and gutters on four blocks on Mobile Street has been completed and the laying of a caliche base is about to begin. The paving of this street should be completed by October 15.

Last week, the construction of curbs and gutters was underway on Birge Street and Custer Street (in part) of the high school building will be next.

Mayor R. J. Bean states that the paving project will probably include 19 streets instead of 15, as originally planned.

Churchill Speaks

LONDON (AP)—Winston Churchill called on Parliament today to kick out Prime Minister Attlee's Labor Government and make way for another which he said could set the British pound free to find its own level in world markets.

The conservative leader, in a slashing attack, denounced the labor government as having brought Britain "to the verge of national and international bankruptcy."

His address opened the conservative attack in the three-day debate in Parliament on Britain's devaluation policy.

Tidlands Issue Given New Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has asked the Supreme Court to set the Justice Department's suit for Texas Tidlands for early argument.

It asked the court to give judgment immediately in its case against Louisiana.

The requests were in motions filed with the clerk of the Supreme Court yesterday. In them the Justice Department charged that Texas and Louisiana were trying to delay disposition of its suits to fix ownership of the oil rich lands off their coasts.

Attorney General McGrath and Solicitor General Philip F. Perlman cited documents presented to the court recently by the two states.

The court convenes next Monday after its summer vacation.

The department's new motion says Louisiana has again by a motion challenged jurisdiction of the court and attempted to raise other objections of an insubstantial character, calculated to delay the adjudication of this case on the merits.

McGrath's motion cited Texas' recent request for an extension of time in which to answer the government suit.

"We submit that such delaying tactics should not prevail," McGrath said. "While Texas may not be technically in default (in filing its answer), we think there can be no doubt that it has in substance again endeavored to prevent or unduly postpone an adjudication on the merits."

Bond Assumption Election Called by Pampa Schools

The Board of Education of the Pampa Independent School District has called a bond assumption election for Oct. 8, Kinard, superintendent of schools, said.

Article VIII of Senate Bill No. 316 of the Fifty-first Legislature and a part of the Gilmer-Alkin school reform bills required consolidation of two dormant school districts within the county to some adjoining school district or districts. Complying with that requirement, the county school board of Roberts County consolidated two dormant districts of Roberts County with the Pampa Independent School District. Likewise, the county board of Gray County consolidated two districts and parts of two other districts with the Pampa Independent School District.

Qualified voters who are property taxpayers of the new consolidated area are eligible to vote in these elections. To be more specific, all qualified property taxpayers of the districts consolidated, as well as the qualified property taxpayers of the original Pampa Independent District, are eligible to vote. These elections are necessary to complete the requirements of the recent school legislation as enacted by the Fifty-first Legislature.

The elections are to be held on Saturday, Oct. 8, at the Junior High School. When these elections have been held, it will complete our compliance with the new school legislation. The school tax election calls for a maximum tax rate of $1 in the whole area; the bond assumption election calls for the whole area to assume the bonded debt of the whole area. The bonded debt of the whole consolidated area is the present outstanding debt of the Pampa Independent School District.

Entire Crew of Plane Is Lost

TALIHNA, Okla. (AP)—A 15-man crew of a plane was confirmed last night when the charred remains of a 13th body were sifted from ashes of a B-29 Air Force bomber which crashed near here Monday night.

The Superfortress was on a non-stop navigational training flight from Smoky Hill Base at Sclina, Kans., when it plummeted into an oak-dotted hill near this South-eastern Oklahoma town.

It was unlikely the cause of the crash could ever be determined. Fragments of the bomber, a shapeless mass of metal and half a tail assembly, were to be carted to Tinker Air Force Base at Oklahoma City today.

Flames enveloped the wreckage for eight hours, pushing rescue teams back 100 yards, and reduced the giant plane to a near-molten crematory.

None of the victims was from Texas.

Oklahoma Legally Dry

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahoma is still legally dry, and victory-flashed prohibitionists proclaimed they intend to make it literally dry too.

The fifth attempt in 42 years of statehood to repeal the state's Constitutional ban on intoxicants was decisively beaten in a special election yesterday.

With 3,684 out of 3,770 precincts reported, the unofficial returns were:

For repeal—284,661.
Against repeal—313,017.

Victory was conceded to the dry forces at 10:35 p. m. (CST) last night by A. G. Kulp, Tulsa attorney who headed the repeal organization incorporated as the Oklahoma Economic Institute.

The chairman of the victorious United Dry Association, David W. Shumard, promptly announced a campaign for "ridding our state of bootleggers and the evils of the whisky traffic."

But the wets said the bootleggers were the real winners. Kulp called the outcome a "tragedy."

He added:

"It is a pity that the professional dregs convinced the people it is better to trust control of the enormously big liquor business that now exists in Oklahoma to the bootlegger rather than their legislators."

Pension Plan Costs Cause Of Difference

NEW YORK (AP)—Retirees' new hope for peace in the steel industry developed today with reliable reports that the U. S. Steel Corporation had agreed to grant a 10-cent-an-hour pension and welfare package.

The steel company, nevertheless, reported still insisting that employees contribute something to the pension program.

The United Steelworkers' Union was silent. The union previously had stood flat on demands that the steel companies pay the entire cost of the pension plan.

However peace hopes rose on reliable information that U. S. Steel would have a statement later in the day, and on announcement by Cyrus Ching, federal conciliation director, that he would have a statement on the steel dispute about 3 p. m. CST.

Ching was reported ready to offer services of his conciliator to speed bargaining over the U. S. Steel offer.

The new proposal was reported to provide for a higher company outlay than previously offered.

Reliable reports said this offer provides that:

U. S. Steel would pay four cents an hour to support a welfare program if the employees pay an (See PENSION, Page 8)

Matina Zanga of Greece Tells of Love for Texas

"I think I am so much blessed," fervently declared a small attractive girl in Greek accented English at a meeting of club women at the Country Club yesterday morning.

Poised, gracious and deeply serious, 20-year-old Matina Zanga of Athens, Greece, spoke at the initial fall meeting of the Twentieth Century Club, Twentieth Century Culture Club, Twentieth Century Forum, and the newly formed Twentieth Century Allegro. The meeting was in the form of a president's coffee.

Matina's presence in the United States is due to a series of small happenings. This was explained by her foster mother, Mrs. G. R. Kennedy of Lubbock, who, along with Mr. Kennedy, accompanied the talented young speaker to Pampa. Mrs. Kennedy's story was briefly this: About four years ago the Kennedy's young daughter, Dorothy, insisted upon sending a package of cosmetics and other small luxuries to a Greek girl between the land of her birth and cause an older cousin, a Home Economics student at Texas Tech was sending such packages as a school project.

The girl who received Dorothy's package knew no English, so could not read the accompanying message, but she had a good friend who had been studying English in a Greek-American club to which she belonged. The friend was Matina Zanga, whose hobby was corresponding with young people of other nations. In addition, Matina harbored a great passion for Texas with its cowboys and cowgirls, who, in her fertile mind, roamed the streets in colorful splendor. She begged permission to answer the message from the girl from Texas, and a friendship sprang up between the two girls, close together in age and ambition, but so far apart geographically. The girls wrote letters over a period of three years, then Dorothy and her parents invited Matina to come to Lubbock and live with them, so she might go to an American college.

When Matina accepted the invitation and arrived in Lubbock it was, to quote Mrs. Kennedy, "a dream come true," for the girl's fine mind and great ambition were well known to them through her letters. For the girl, too, it was an ambition realized, as it means an education unhopied for in her native land, where women are meant to be homemakers only, where professions and politics are still the domain of the male, as they have been for so many centuries.

Arriving in Lubbock a year ago Thanksgiving, Matina looked about expectantly, then asked in disappointment, "But where are the cowboys and cowgirls." Her foster mother explained that her disappointment turned to joy a few days later, when, on a trip to Dallas, they saw a large herd of cattle being driven by genuine cowboys. It was a happy coincidence for the foreign girl, Matina further explained that being permitted to wear blue jeans and to attend a rodeo completely removed her disappointment at not seeing everyone in Texas dressed in cowboy regalia.

Showing poise very rare in one so young, and with bright flashes of humor, the young student gave her listeners a clear and interesting picture of her country's plight at the present time. Sufferers of the Hitler regime, her parents still live in Athens, as do her young brother and sister. Her father's status has changed from that of a banker to a shopkeeper.

Speaking of the contrast between the land of her birth and her land of adoption, the girl told of fighting for food and other necessities so vividly that several of her listeners wept. She told of the present hardships endured by her people after a brief freedom between the world war and the present civil war. Of the seven million people making up Greece's population, three million of them live in Athens, as most of the villages have been destroyed, she said. Of the children, she said, "They do not have the faces of children—they have seen too much of the faces of philosophers."

She spoke of Russia's part in the present Greek picture—told how Russia and Jugoslavia play the role of good Samaritans, take the young Greek children and clothe and educate them, for four or five years, then return them to their parents well steeped in Communist ideas. She said it is a sad bio to a country that has been fighting communism for years.

MAY BE TEXAN

Of Texas Tech Matina said "It is huge the love I have for this school. American students should appreciate what they have."

When asked if she expected to remain a Texan, she said promptly, "I think I will," but her eyes held reservations. They recalled the spirit with which she had said "The women in my country are not citizens—only homemakers. You women in the United States are leaders—you will lead the women of all the world." (Does Matina, perhaps dream of helping her sex take a more prominent place in her own country? It is quite possible. She is a brilliant and ambitious girl.)

Guests at the morning coffee were the presidents or representatives from various clubs of Pam-

From California, the home of iceberg lettuce, come these tested recipes for perfect salad dressings:

BASIC FRENCH DRESSING
(Makes 3-4 cup-serves 4)
One-half teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, dash pepper, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-4 cup cider vinegar or lemon juice, 1-2 cup salad oil. Blend the dry ingredients. Add the vinegar or lemon juice and stir or shake thoroughly. Add the oil and shake or stir again. Always shake or stir just before serving.

(Serves 4)
Three-quarters cup basic French dressing, 1 hard-boiled egg yolk, 1-2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1-2 teaspoon chili powder, 1 green onion or scallion, 1 clove garlic.

Sieve egg yolk into the French dressing. Blend the Worcestershire sauce and chili powder together and stir into the dressing. Add the finely cut green onion or scallion—top and all. Jab a toothpick through the garlic clove and drop into the dressing. (You'll remove the garlic before serving.) This dressing is best made several hours in advance, and at the last minute poured over a bowl of shredded lettuce.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

If front tires on your automobile wear faster than those on the rear, you may be sure the car has lost balance, because wear on the rear tires normally is more rapid.

The car that likes to be compared!

PLYMOUTH

Great Value is built into every beautiful inch of the new Plymouth. For the positive proof—compare! Put this greatest Plymouth ever built up against the other cars—feature for feature, dollar for dollar, mile for mile!

Look at all three of the leading low-priced cars. Plymouth—and only Plymouth—has the famous Air Pillow Ride—now smoother than ever.

The new, more powerful Plymouth engine has a compression ratio of 7 to 1—low-priced car "A" has 6.8 to 1—low-priced car "B" has 6.6 to 1. You get greater performance because Plymouth's higher compression squeezes more power out of every drop of gas.

Plymouth is the only low-priced car with the spectacular new double safety feature—Safety-Rim Wheels with Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes. Patented retaining humps hold the tire straight on the rim in the event of a blowout. Powerful brakes give quick, safe, accurate stops, without grabbing or biting.

These are just some of the reasons why the new Plymouth is the car that likes to be compared—not just to other low-priced cars—but even to cars costing hundreds of dollars more!

Visit your Plymouth dealer who will be glad to arrange a demonstration ride.

White sidewall tires, chrome wheel covers and rear fender scuff guards optional at extra cost.

Of 22 quality features found in high-priced cars—the new Plymouth has 21... low-priced car "A" has 13... low-priced car "B" has 4. That's why the Plymouth today—more than ever before—is the low-priced car most like high-priced cars!

'Teamwork for Home and School'
Kinard's Topic at P-TA Meeting

Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa Schools, was guest speaker at the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday. His topic was "Teamwork for Home and School."

Mr. Kinard stated "This is a joint business that we, as parents and teachers, are in, and the aim of this, one of the biggest business in the whole world is the education of our children. The teaching personnel is very interested in your children, but they need the cooperation and help of each parent, because school cannot take the place of home. Mr. Kinard also stressed the importance of an acquaintance and understanding between parent and teacher. He said "The better you know and understand your teacher, the better the job of teaching your child will be done. The parent and teacher need to form a cooperative partnership in the development of our children and youth."

Mrs. D. V. Burton presented the devotional, using as her text 127-128 Psalms. She stressed the need of keeping the peace in the children in mind, including their mental, physical, spiritual and emotional development.

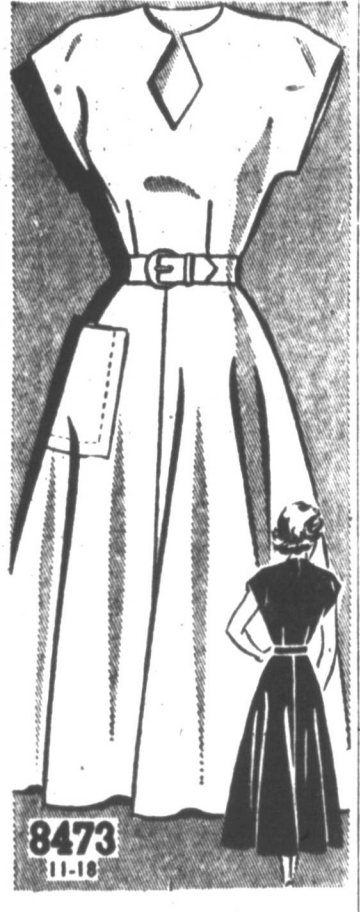

Assembly singing was led by Mrs. John Branham, accompanied at the piano by Miss Frances McCue. The group then repeated the P-TA collect in unison. Business was presided over by the president, Mrs. L. J. Zachry, who called membership dues to the attention of her listeners, and announced a School of Instruction for P-TA workers, to be held in Berger at the Phillips Junior College Auditorium on Oct. 3 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Mrs. F. C. Connell of Austin, state chairman of "Home and Family Life," will be in charge of the meeting. Other state workers will assist her.

The faculty was introduced by Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann. The executive committee and standing committee chairmen were introduced by Mrs. Zachry.

The rooms winning awards for having the most parents present were: first, Mrs. Helen Angle's first grade; second place on the south wing to Miss Mary Reeve's second grade, and on the north wing, second place to Mrs. C. E. Willingham's third grade.

A reception was held in the cafeteria, and was in honor of the new mothers and faculty.

Kiwanis Clubs Will Observe Special Week

Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada will observe National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1 to 8, by inviting publishers, editors and reporters to meetings designed primarily to draw public attention to the importance of maintaining freedom of the press.

Kiwanis International has participated in the observance of National Newspaper Week almost from its inception 10 years ago. Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., sponsor of the week, announced recently that this year's slogan will be "Freedom Goes Where the Newspaper Goes."

Kiwanis International each year urges its more than 3,000 clubs to observe the week because "it believes that freedom is the lifeblood of both the newspaper industry and the community service organization."

J. Hugh Jackson, president, said that if freedom of the press should be curtailed, the United States and Canada would be threatened by the "same subtle invasion that has brought downfall to nations across the seas. It would be only a short time before the similar freedoms of speech, public assembly and worship would disappear completely."

Boston Red Sox and Game Lead Over Yanks

McCarthy men Top Nats, 6-4; Yankees Trim A's 3-1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox last night maintained their one-game lead over the New York Yankees in the hot American League pennant race by beating the Washington Senators, 6 to 4.

A four-run sixth inning gave the Sox a 6 to 0 lead, sufficient to stave Washington's late rallies in the seventh and eighth when Walter Masterson relieved starter Joe Dobson.

Before he was knocked out in the eighth Dobson had singled home the last run of the Red Sox big sixth. It followed Birdie Tebbetts' two-run single. Earlier in the sixth Vern Stephens' one-baser had driven in Johnny Pesky.

Dobson held the Senators to one hit over the first six innings, but began to weaken in the seventh. Dobson walked Ed Stewart to start the seventh. Roberto Ortiz followed with a single to left.

Ed Robinson connected off a drive against the rightfield wall but no one scored as it appeared that Al Zarilla might catch the ball.

Dobson bore down and got former Red Soxer Sam Mele to foul out. Sam Dente flew out. Stewart scoring after the catch and Jake Early ended the frame by grounding out.

The Senators knocked out Dobson in the next round. Fitch-hitter Gil Cofer opened the frame with a single. Ed Yost walked and Sherry Robertson singled to score Coon. Yost moving to third.

Stewart followed with a single to right to cash in Yost and Robertson moving to third. Masterson look over at this point and induced Ortiz to bang into a double play, Robertson scoring. Robinson then flied out to end the bid.

Mele opened the Senator ninth with a single but Dente hit into a twin-killing and Early flied out to end the game.

NEW YORK (AP)—Still boiling with a charge that umpire Bill Grieve "blew" the big decision in Monday's game with Boston, the New York Yankees kept their pennant hopes alive yesterday by downing Philadelphia, 3-1.

Shortly after hearing that outfielder Cliff Mapes had been fined $200 and Manager Casey Stengel and Ralph Houk, $150 each, for Monday's argument with Grieve, the Yanks ripped into Dick Fowler for three big runs in the third inning.

Raschi, the Yanks' first 20-game winner since Spud Chandler in 1946, allowed only four hits in a workmanlike job. It was his third try at the American's 20 club and he finally made it to join Boston's Ellis Kinder and Mel Parnell and Cleveland's Bobby Lemon.

The team that led the league all season until Monday's disaster, had dropped three in a row, all to Boston, and lost five of its last six starts before the A's came to town.

Cards Lead Trimmings by Loss to Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Rookie outfielder Tom Saffell's home run with the bases loaded off Red Mungler climaxed a five-run second inning and gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night.

The loss cut the Cards' first place margin over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers to one full game.

The Cards fought back valiantly, closing the gap to 6-4 with a three-run uprising against Willie Werble in the eighth, but were stopped cold by relief pitcher Vic Lombardi, who once toiled for the Dodgers.

The defeat was St. Louis' sixth in 10 games here and gave the Pirates' eighth, his, in 10-10. The two teams meet again in the final this afternoon.

Both the Cards and Dodgers now have four games left to play all on the road.

Peppy Blunt Quits Professional Game AUSTIN (AP)—R. F. Peppy Blunt is through with pro football. He's more interested in a career at law and politics than he is in playing football for money. Blunt said today he would concentrate on two things this winter: 1. Representing the people of the 91st District in the Texas House of Representatives; 2. Studying hard for that law degree in the University of Texas. Blunt, 26, Georgia Tech boy whose sticky pass-catching fingers made him a valued end for the University of Texas Longhorns. He was signed by the New York Bulldogs last spring and played in several games. "It came to the point where I realized I would have to choose between pro football and my law studies and politics," Blunt said today. "I took politics." Blunt said he still loves the game and hopes to keep his fingers in by officiating. One New York hotel has a restaurant on the top floor with a roof that can be rolled back in hot weather.

Browns Plan to Use Full Mound Staff ST. LOUIS (AP)—Whether they need 'em or not the St. Louis Browns plan to use nine pitchers in the second game of next Sunday's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. "It's part of a plan of the Brownie management to let the fans get a look at each player in the final game of the season." "Actually we have 10 pitchers," a club spokesman said. "Maybe we'll need all of them." Benjamin Franklin was the 15th in a family of 17 children. Rheumatic fever is the chief killer of children of school age.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What active player leads the majors in grand-slam home runs in a major league career?

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: Jeff Cravath, whose Southern California eleven has been installed as favorite in the Pacific Coast race, is asking sportswriters to get him off the spot... "Just because you have a big team is no reason that you have a good one," Cravath says... "Our kids played over their heads in the Notre Dame game last December and then you guys shove me way up there. It's all wrong. California, Oregon and Stanford, in that order, are the logical favorites."

ROBERT "SKEE" RIEGEL, Western Amateur Golf Association champion, didn't take up the game until he was 24 years old.

Taylor Spink, publisher of baseball's newspaper, the Sporting News, has just completed another of his whirlwind vacations.

He and Mrs. Spink visited Paris, London, Nice, Cannes, Munich, Berchtesgaden, Frankfurt and Brussels, and were back in St. Louis after missing only six working days. Notre Dame is using the numerical system of numbering their backs from 10 to 49, centers in the 50s, guards in the 60s, tackles 70s and ends 80s, just as the Harvesters.

An exception to the rule will be Elmer Layden, Jr., a halfback, who will be wearing number 5.

That's the number that his daddy made famous playing with the famed Four Horsemen.

BOBBY HAWK, much traveled major league infielder, who has spent parts of this season with the New York Giants, Chicago White Sox, Los Angeles Angels, and Pittsburgh Pirates, says, "If I could get a steady job at half the salary I'd throw baseball overboard just like that. I've found that a $7,000 salary in the minors will go farther than $10,000 in the majors. It's no soft touch, either, never to get a chance to settle in one spot and play some steady baseball. You lose your edge and sometimes never get it back."

Southeastern Conference coaches are operating in complete secrecy in practice sessions. Vanderbilt has erected a 20-foot canvas wall around the playing field. Louisiana State erected an iron fence and then planted sorghum, which has now grown to a height of 6 feet, around the outside of the fence. Georgia Tech is said to be the only school that spurns iron curtain methods.

THE PAMPA QUARTERBACK club is going to charter a bus to make the trip to Vernon and back this weekend. The trip is open to anyone, club members or not, who wants to see the game... The charge for the trip is far below the cost of driving, and in addition all you have to do is sit and ride. Further information or reservations on the bus may be obtained by calling Warmup at 666 or Jim Arndt at 739.

DIZZY TROUT, Detroit Tiger driver, is one of the longest drivers among the golfers in baseball. Steve Owen of the professional grid circuit is the latest to come up with an explanation about the decline of Pacific Coast football... "back in the days of Pop Warner and Howard Jones the California teams were the best in the country because they were well drilled in fundamentals. Now in the rush to master the T formation the West coaches have forgotten fundamentals and the calibre of the game has suffered," says Owen. "Already the football season is getting some of the coaches. John Kovatch, Northwestern line coach, is a perfectly normal individual. The other morning he stepped into his car to drive to the office but couldn't get the motor started. Finally he hailed a passing motorist, who pushed him a mile to the nearest garage. John told the mechanic to check the engine. The mechanic checked only a brief look before remarking: 'Mr. Kovatch, they are working on an automobile engine that will run without gasoline, but it hasn't been perfected yet.'"

ANSWER: Bill Nicholson of the Philadelphia Phillies is the current grand-slam home run leader in the major leagues, having hit 8. Ron Northey of the Cardinals is second with 7.

DR. Blunder Buss, famed authority on the nothing ball, discusses the crucial flag races.

Q.—In your opinion, what is the deciding factor in any crucial pennant race?

A.—I am of the persuasion that breaks decide close games. For example, if two teams — say the Yanks and Red Sox — are locked in a vital struggle, a simple thing like one team being offside might decide.

Toward the end, a five-yard penalty could be decisive.

Q.—What player seems to have displayed the most courage this year?

A.—Unquestionably, that honor falls on Shirley May France. Despite a bad heel at the beginning of the season, he has gone on to become the top reliever pitcher of the league.

He's really in the swim.

Q.—Does umpiring ever decide pennants?

A.—Oh, I seriously doubt it. It is true, of course, that an umpire, through his unlimited power to put players in prison, does wield a modicum of influence. But most umpires do not take advantage of their position.

Some, however, do sic their seeing-eye dogs on players.

Q.—Who is the most improved ballplayer you've seen this year?

A.—Ty Cobb.

Q.—Who is 1949's best rookie?

A.—That's a toss-up between Joseph Stalin, who is quite adept at pivoting on the double-cross, and Jane Russell, who has shown some sharp-breaking curves.

Kiner Threatens Ruth's Home Run Mark With Golf Swing

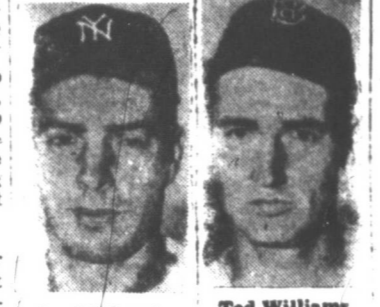

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — A lot of people would dislike to see Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 broken.

The Bam was so great they would prefer to see it stand.

But Ruth's seasonal mark is going to go some day, sure pop, and it might as well be Ralph Kiner of the Pirates and Greenberg Gardens.

When Kiner blasted his 51st and 52nd homers the same night against the Braves, most everybody expected Hack Wilson's National League mark of 56 to be broken, but time was running out on Mr. Slug, and Ruth's 60 seemed beyond reach. Still you wonder about Kiner, who manufacturers home runs in clusters.

The Alhambra lad is one of the mighty few individualistic ball-players. He holds the bat directly in front of him, straight up and down, swats the ball with his wrists and forearm adopting a perfect golf swing for baseball.

Kiner is anything but a swing of the deadly level swing that belonged to Shoeless Joe Jackson, Lefty O'Doul, the Waners and other remarkable hitters.

Kiner rifles the ball into the left field stands simply by uncorking his wrists. This buggy whip, or twist of the wrists, enables him to hit the ball at the last instant, after the pitch has done everything it is supposed to do. It gives him the tremendous advantage of not having to commit himself.

Kiner furnishes additional evidence that any style is good, as long as coordination and the eye are there, and the batter brings the bat into the ball correctly.

Forbes Field's Greenberg Gardens were built for Old Hankus Pankus, but blossomed into a tagger for Kiner.

Because he performs half the time in Pittsburgh, Kiner is a right-hand put hitter unhandicapped by spacious left fields.

He enjoys the same home advantage that Junior Stephens has at Fenway Park.

The left-hand put hitter has all the best of it at other parks. Shooting at Greenberg Gardens, Kiner has but to smack the sphere 334 feet and into a screen-off area with a 18-foot fence.

I was a bit what Joe DiMaggio would do to that, or for that matter, what Ted Williams would accomplish aiming at the Yankee Stadium right field stands 296 feet from the plate throughout half the schedule.

Kiner, 27, has his best three years as a distance hitter ahead of him, for extraordinary hitters are at their peak around 30.

Babe Ruth's record will take a lot of breaking, but Ralph Kiner really tees off.

Almost three-fourths of pedestrians killed in traffic accidents are struck down between 5 p. m. and 8 p. m. during the seasons when these hours are dark.

BOWLING Harvard Tackle Lineman of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Harvard took a 44-0 drubbing from Stanford on the Pacific Coast last Saturday, but nevertheless came up with the football lineman of the week in 23-year-old Howard Houston.

In the first Associated Press poll of the grid season the 200-pound senior tackle from Harvard, Mass., today was named the top lineman of 38 nominations.

Houston, who served three years in the Army Air Corps from 1943 to 1946 and who was one of the East's top heavyweight collegiate wrestlers last year, earned an unusual tribute from Marchie Schwartz, Stanford coach.

"Houston undoubtedly was an all-American again last year," Schwartz told San Francisco football writers. "This is something I seldom do. I intend to write Houston a personal letter congratulating him on his fine play. He made 90 percent of the tackles on defense and was hard to block out."

"Even when the Harvard cause was utterly hopeless in the fourth period Houston played his heart out. He is one of the best I have seen in years."

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

One hundred years ago this August the U. S. Patent Office issued a patent which helped change the course of history in almost every land on earth. It was Walter Hunt's patent No. 6663 for the "Volition Repeater" and was the first appearance of what became the lever-action repeating rifle.

That few persons associate Hunt with the lever-action rifle is understandable only after it was refined and suitable fixed ammunition was invented.

Today, looking back over the hundred-year pedigree of the rifle that's operated by a lever, this gun holds its own with the more recent bolt- and slide-action rifles. Its influence on history was immense, according to arms expert Bill Depperman.

Those who claim the Model 73 lever-action was "the rifle that won the West" are quite right. However, Hunt had bitten off more than he could chew. His conical bullets which he called "rocket balls" were reluctant to perform according to the directions that Mr. Hunt wrote on the label. And lacking a proper cartridge, no lever-action could have hunted properly.

From Hunt patents for the lever-action moved through several phases until the repeater was acquired by a Connecticut shirt manufacturer named Winchester. He fought a losing battle to have the rifle perfected. With all the inventive talent lavished upon the lever-action it was still a flop. Then, in a move that is now recognized as a stroke of genius, Winchester gave B. Tyler Henry the job of making the rifle work.

The solution is simple to write down on paper today—Henry's modification was to make the rifle take his new rim-fire cartridge. There is considerable dispute about the genius of the first metallic cartridge, but the fact remains it was Henry's 44 flat that pulled the lever-action from a succession of ever-hopeful but ever-failing ventures into a success.

Gratefully, Winchester put the lever-action into production as the Henry rifle somewhere around 1862. In 1866, with further modification and a side-loading port, the company presented the first rifle under its own name, the Winchester Model 1866.

The "West" winning Model 1873 introduced the firm's first center-fire ammunition, the famous .44-40. It was considerably more effective than its predecessors because it could step out and knock 'em over at greater ranges.

Next important contribution to the lever-action came from John Browning in improvements that resulted in the famed Model 1885 single-shot lever-action.

All these lever-action rifles had been made for black powder cartridges. In 1894 the company brought out a sporting rifle for smokeless powder cartridge and a smokeless powder sporting cartridge, the .30-30. This Model 94 is still being manufactured, and it is still America's top deer rifle.

Yankees Get Fines Worth a Total of $500 for Rhubarb

NEW YORK (AP) — American League President Will Harridge Tuesday fined three New York Yankees a total of $500 for alleged mistreatment of an umpire—a move that led the pennant contenders to charge their league chief with being as wrong as the umpire involved.

Repercussions resulting from Monday's dispute over the winning run in a game which the Yanks lost to the Boston Red Sox rebounded between Harridge's Chicago office and Yankee Stadium.

NEW YORK - I have a letter from Danbury, Conn., asking for information on the organization known as Americans for Democratic Action. It says: Governor Chester Bowles is sending an organizer to Danbury to organize a local chapter. I am quite sure this is a left wing and radical organization but have no facts to prove that contention. I wanted to write an article for our local paper and need facts. Can you help me out?

The meeting referred to has been held and I have read in the Danbury News-Times that A.D.A. made no impression. Mrs. Lucy Conniff, a local Democratic leader, a member of the Legislature turned down the organizer for A.D.A. and would have nothing to do with the meeting, which was in words of one syllable, a flop. She said the local Democrats had always done all right as Democrats and needed no help from any city slicker from New York, especially one who didn't know where he was going to Democrat or a Republican. However, Mrs. Conniff is one of those unfortunate captive Irish Catholic Democrats of the old style who hope they are still working for their own old Democratic Party but their party is being used by carpetbaggers and adventurers for the ultimate purposes of the Communists.

It is not easy to describe the A.D.A. in definite terms, but first of all it is a political parasite which feeds on the influence which confused issues, inflamed feelings and abolished practically all party lines except the Communist Party line in Europe. It is not yet frankly a Communist force. Some professed and Communist notably David Dubinsky of the Garment Workers' Union, are using it for their own political and revolutionary purposes. You could put it this way, however: The A.D.A. advocates nothing which a Communist would oppose except the North Atlantic Pact and a strong American war machine, the intention being to create a very radical socialist world here and in Europe. Once its own objectives were accomplished under the control of such a Communist as David Dubinsky, the subject citizen of the United States would be indifferent to communism because it would be almost impossible to tell the difference.

The A.D.A. maintains a private and rather secret headquarters in the Sherby-Netherlands Hotel, in New York, run by Leon Henderson, late administrator of the OPA and an inveterate bureaucrat of impatient temper. He is one of those who hold that the people's individuality can be an obstacle to those who know what the best way is. A fair illustration of this attitude occurs where a minority of the members of a union appear at a meeting and, by a small plurality, enact some irrevocable and irreparable result of the policeman in control of the meeting. This is the "democratic process." By that process it was possible one day to formally revoke "democracy" and, in plain language, adopt a dictatorship.

The national chairman of A.D.A. is Hubert Humphrey, a senator from Minnesota who has made the so-called civil rights program down Harry S. Truman's neck at the 1948 Democratic convention. The vice chairman is Chester Bowles, the Governor of Connecticut; Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., the United States president of the Textile Union of the CIO, and William H. Haston.

How the Money Is Divided

Those who believe that the owners of industry get the lion's share of the money taken in and hold to this misconception should read some of the corporation reports which are required by law and are published each year. American Locomotive Co., which manufactures locomotives, diesel engines, drilling equipment, and other heavy products, is typical of its field. Here is how it fared during the first six months of 1949. It took in nearly $80,000,000 from the sale of its products. It paid out more than $52,000,000 for materials and services purchased from other concerns. Its next biggest item of operating expense was labor. Wages, salaries, and other employee costs came to more than $21,000,000. Depreciation, which simply means wear and obsolescence of machinery and other facilities, accounted for a trifling over $1,000,000 and a substantial sum was retained in the business to provide adequate operating capital. Federal and state income taxes called for $2,060,000. Finally, cash dividends of just under $2,000,000 were paid to the stockholders whose money built the company. In other words, government through taxes, got more than the owners - and labor got ten times as much.

Gracie Says

By GRACIE ALLEN
GRACIE ALLEN and the United States are different at that. In this country, the pinnacle of success is to be able to answer correctly the jackpot question on a radio giveaway show. In Russia, the most successful people are those who can think up the fanciest titles for Mr. Stalin. As for instance, "Snowy Peak," "Lat-le Red Sun," "Conquering Lion" and "Genius of Strategy." Goodness, no wonder Mr. Stalin's so slippery if they keep butting him like that. Except for imagining all the butter must get a little rancid, I do think, however, we might be a little more poetic with our own government head. The only colorful phrases our presidents get come from the other political party and these are scarcely printable. Of course, everyone - except the Indians - knows he is known to the Indians as "The Great White Father."

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON (NEA) Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson may be asked to turn his economy guns on the fancy yacht sequoia which is assigned to the secretary of the Navy. A congressman happened to be on a small cruiser on the Potomac River one Sunday recently when the Sequoia steamed by him. A very lively party was in progress on board but none of the crew appeared to be uniform. He started the congressman wondering. A quick investigation showed that Secretary Matthews seldom used the ship except for a rare dinner party. But Dan Kimball, undersecretary of the Navy, and a couple of other high civilian officials were in the habit of entertaining guests on the luxury craft quite frequently.

The ship serves little useful purpose except for entertaining. But a crew of 27 men, mostly waiters and stewards in uniform, is assigned to it 24 hours a day. Most of the time it is just tied up to the dock at the Anacostia, Va., air station. SHORN OF ALL MEANING Uncle Sam now has an official definition of swearing on the record. It is supplied by Louis Post, a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board. In recommending reinstatement of a woman employee of the Indianapolis Glove Co., of Marion, Ind., who had been fired for profanity, he said: "The day when a curse was designed and intended to do down the wrath of heaven upon object, animate or inanimate, has happily passed. Today the words of imprecation, cursing and blasphemy survive in our speech shorn of their real meaning.

In the armies of the past, the cavalryman, the artilleryman, but most of all the mule skinner, mastered the art and raised it to great heights. But alas, the coming of the gasoline engine has removed the living spur to expressive, nonblasphemous profanity until now only a pale substitute survives. The words are remembered, but the music has been lost. NOT EASY TO FORGET The U. S. Maritime Commission has now written off the books the 86 merchant vessels which Uncle Sam loaned to Russia during the war. Maritime officials never expect to see them again. The State Department, however, says the issue is nowhere near concluded as far as it is concerned. YOU'LL KNOW HIM Although the secretary of Navy, Francis P. Matthews, seldom shows up at any of the town's social functions, the few times he has, he has been inevitably mistaken for Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. The resemblance between the two men is startling. To avoid this mistaken identity, however, Matthews has hit upon a very smart gimmick. Whenever there is a chance that Snyder might be at some function which he is also going to attend, Matthews wears a special pair of thick-tinted glasses. MATTHEWS HAS BEEN SO BUSY traveling around the country visiting Navy bases, few of the members of the rank and file have had a chance to meet him. When a captain was assigned to act as greeter and official host to the secretary for a visit Matthews was going to make to a local naval establishment, the captain had to go to Matthews's office and ask for a peek at him so he could be sure to recognize him that night. After seeing the secretary through the open door several times as visitors went in, the captain asked for a picture of Matthews so he could study the features more closely and make sure there was no mistake. Thoughts from Departed Great American

I just received a pamphlet in memory of the late John W. Scoville who passed away in 1949. Mr. Scoville was former economist for Chrysler. He was also head of the Society of Sentinels. The booklet contains many quotations from his recent writings. It starts out by saying: "John Scoville was a rarity in these days of mass psychology and 'me too' thinking, for he was first of all an individualist, an independent thinker with the courage to take a definite public stand in defense of what he deemed right, no matter how out-numbered he might happen to be.

"His passing is a great loss to freedom-loving people everywhere." I certainly think the above statements are true. I have never known John W. Scoville personally, but have had considerable correspondence with him. Here are some quotations from his recent articles: "Some organizations are predatory. Their purpose is to benefit members regardless of injury to others. Most predatory organizations seek to establish a monopoly and to reduce or eliminate competition.

"But no labor union, or any other group, should be allowed to establish a monopoly or to use the mass power of the group to injure other people. A labor union should be judged by its acts. The law should not prevent workers from withdrawing from a union, but the law should prevent these unions from injuring other people, and from interfering with the rights and liberties of other people.

"The purpose of the labor union monopoly is the same as the purpose of every other monopoly. The monopoly is formed to get a price for its product. The purpose of a monopoly is exploitation." "The facts are that nearly all persons condemn all monopolies except the one to which they belong. Competition is the principle which brings freedom and abundance.

"In studying the events of the past few years, can we truthfully say that collective bargaining has brought contentment, peace or prosperity? "Most of us cannot learn out of books, we learn by experience and in the school of hard knocks. "Wherever there is evil, there is always something that we can do about it. It is all a matter of education. When we think straight on the subject, we will get proper legislation.

"Some day it may dawn on the majority of our citizens that the bargaining itself—that competition is superior to monopoly—and that economic freedom is better than compulsion. "The prosperity of workers is advanced by producing more goods and not by passing laws. "If wage increases are obtained by lowering the returns to investors (rent, interest and dividends), the workers will be unwilling to invest in factories and machines. This will cause the unemployment of those who would otherwise be building additional machines and equipment.

"The Western powers agreed on this program only after receipt of confidential advice from many sources that the Russians have not found conditions for conquest so easy as they were in the now troubled Balkans and Eastern Europe." They indicate that Stalin will here have a more massive and monolithic Tito. In agreeing to this program, administration spokesmen also admitted that it would aid them politically at home. For one thing, it may take the sting from the indictment that our attitudes toward Tito in Yugoslavia and the anti-Soviet attitude are irreconcilable.

RESISTANCE - Although the Chinese Communies have seized the great part of China, so that the people live by digging a hole to jump into if a dog barks. If he is too lazy to dig a hole, he sits and waits for the dog to live? Do human beings have the right to live if he is too lazy to work to provide himself with food? Or so foolish as to spend his money for alcohol instead of bread? Is not the right to live limited to those who deserve to live—who have enough ambition and foresight to acquire the necessities of life? "The philosophy of individualism assumes that it is the function of government to protect the individual, in his struggle to live, from aggressors who would take away his property, liberty or life. The opposite philosophy—Communism, assumes that it is the function of government to support all by taking property or labor from some and giving it to others, and to deny liberty and even life to those who do not acquiesce in the program of theft and murder carried out by public officials.

WASHINGTON - Under a new Bevin-Acheson program still in the embryonic stage, a large American force will pool their resources with anti-Communist, Chinese military leaders and pro-Western factions in Asia to make the Orient so indigestible that it will give Stalin the worst stomach ache in history.

While not yet a formal or avowed political program, it is a definite advance over Secretary Acheson's original plan to do nothing on that vast and important continent "until the dust settles." Now we intend to raise a dust storm of our own. In a way, the two Western powers will try to mount guerrilla warfare on a grand and continental scale against the increasingly unpopular invader.

GRIP - The leading proponents of more aggressive action have been National Defense Secretary Louis A. Johnson, Senate Armed Services Chairman Millard L. Tydings of Maryland, General George C. Marshall and Douglas A. MacArthur. Their arguments for this kind of intervention were reinforced by strong statements from Foreign Minister Bevin during his recent visit to Washington to discuss the dollar crisis. The plan is to determine to retain at least some grip on England's vast possessions and interests in South China, the Malay Peninsula and Asia. Both Washington and London realize that these rich areas must be kept out of Moscow's greedy grasp.

TITO - These general considerations lie, in part at least, behind the Truman-Acheson willingness to accept a discretionary, $75 million appropriation from Congress, to be used in the Orient to give aid whenever the White House deems it advisable. Mr. Truman had hitherto opposed such a grant. The Western powers agreed on this program only after receipt of confidential advice from many sources that the Russians have not found conditions for conquest so easy as they were in the now troubled Balkans and Eastern Europe. They indicate that Stalin will here have a more massive and monolithic Tito.

WEAKNESS - The Communist naval blockade has made life even more sordid and tragic, in fact, the Reds' inability to cope with Chiang's few destroyers and American-trained air forces in off-shore operations provides revealing evidence of their general weakness, economic and administrative weakness. Washington and London hope to take advantage of this internal breakdown before the Chinese Communies have time to dig in and entrench, not only in China but in all the Far East.

The War Is Over, Brother

By GORDON MARTIN
Now and then you find some people who are living in the past, when they shovelled around the public and collected profits fast. In the rush of wartime living they forgot the other guy, and he rudely got the brush-off when he came around to buy. And you'd think by now they'd realize they ought to mend their ways, and that ordinary courtesy's a thing that always pays. For it's true in any business, if you want to get along, that a fellow who's polite can make some friendships mighty strong. And no matter if there's big demand for what you have to sell, you'll have friends as well as customers if all are treated well. For there comes a time when friendship aids a fellow in distress, and it turns the path of failure toward the highway of success. You can push around the people, if you've got some things they want, cut 'em off without a hearing by your independent front. Sure, you may amass a million while you ride the driver's seat, but in time the people's memory is plenty hard to beat. Learn the hard way, if you want to, that politeness always pays, but the war is over, brother, and you'd better mend your ways.

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

Typoid fever is spread by the four F's, fingers, flies, food and filth. Sanitation and immunization have worked together so successfully in the past 50 years that the water-borne diseases have declined almost to the vanishing point in many large cities in the United States. Medical and engineering officials, however, are not content to rest upon the laurels of their efforts are still directed at writing "The End" to the literature on typhoid fever and keeping the book closed. Typhoid fever is an acute infectious disease, entering the body by way of the mouth primarily through food and drinking water. In many areas pollution of rivers and streams continues because municipalities cannot afford to install and maintain sewage disposal plants. As sanitation measures increase, and perhaps reach that Utopian ideal of all sewage being treated before being dumped into rivers, typhoid fever can be expected to exact fewer and fewer lives.

In addition to sanitation, there is also immunization to offset the possibilities of contacting typhoid fever. It must be remembered that typhoid immunization does not provide 100 percent protection but for practical purposes it may be considered as such. This protection is particularly recommended for those living in communities where sanitation facilities are not what they should be and for those on vacations and outings in areas where the safety of the water supply is not known and sanitation in general is below par. Typhoid has a two-to-three-week incubation period, the disease setting in with weakness, headache, vague pains, the tendency to diarrhea and nosebleed. The temperature gradually rises, being higher each evening than the previous evening until it reaches the maximum of 104 to 105 degrees in a week or two, and then remains at this level for another week or two, gradually going down. The tongue may be coated with a red tip, becoming dry and cracked. There is usually a lack of appetite and a cough.

From the seventh to the ninth day the eruption may appear over the body as small, slightly elevated, rose-colored spots which appear on pressure. These are not always seen, however, and are sometimes difficult to find. There are nervous symptoms prominent in typhoid fever, consisting of headache, slight deafness, stupor or milder delirium, and there are frequently complications such as intestinal hemorrhage, pneumonia and kidney inflammation. Relapses are fairly common, though not as serious as the initial stage, and second attacks are rare. This disease should not be confused with a similarly named disease, typhus fever, which is caused by a germ known as rickettsia and transmitted by the body louse or rat flea. Though the symptoms are sometimes all semblance typhoid fever, the spots break out earlier, usually the fourth or fifth day, and do not disappear on pressure. Typhus fever has also been called camp fever and jail fever.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART

Copyright, 1949, MCA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Ted Conover, who has eloped with another woman, Jenny Palmer, an old friend of Liz's who has a crush on him, tries to persuade his self-sufficient, but still young, father to let him marry her. Liz, who has loved him since she was a girl, is torn between her love for him and her duty to her father.

All day long he had been haunted by that picture. Liz's smile, her dark, mocking eyes had obsessed his thoughts.

"YES, Ted." Her voice was a husky whisper. "I'll marry you."

A strange smile caught them now. They tumbled things into the picnic basket better shelter.

"We'll get our blood tests tomorrow," Ted said. "I'll pick you up during your lunch hour."

Jenny nodded, her eyes lustrous.

"I'll see about the license, Jenny, and then, let's see, the Thursday would make it Thursday."

"Thursday will be wonderful, Ted. Oh darling, I'm so incredibly happy!"

Ted had a crazy idea they ought to go somewhere and celebrate their engagement, but Jenny wanted to go home. She had so many things to do.

Jenny had picked up the Sunday morning paper from the porch and brought it into the house with her and, as she thumbed idly through it after Ted had left, her attention was caught by a large picture in the society section.

It was a shipboard pose of Liz and Jim Courtney, Liz, as usual, looked sophisticated and charming.

"Mr. and Mrs. James B. Courtney, III, whose surprise elopement took place in March, will return next week to their new home in Shawnee Place."

WHAT Jenny did not know was that Ted had seen the picture of Liz. All day long he had been

Liz, but he was sure they could be happy together.

His mother and Harriet and Joe would not be pleased, because they used to think the Poleskas, Pop and the motherless Jenny, were high and mighty acting in the old days when the two families lived in the same neighborhood.

Ma used to disapprove of his being at the Poleskas so much. She had been pleased when he quit seeing Jenny altogether. Ma had always bragged about him when he was in college, and she had worked hard and deprived Joe and Harriet of things to send him extra money.

They'd kept a scrapbook of clippings from the sports pages and showed it to everyone they knew. When he became engaged to Liz Conover, Ma had been half hysterical with joy.

MONDAY evening he came home to find Ma all up in the air.

"Ted, Mr. Conover phoned you. He wants a definite answer about the job he offered you. You're going to take it, ain't you, hon?"

Her voice was shrill with urgency. "Besides there's always the chance that Liz—"

"Look, Ma, I've got a job, and I've got other plans, too."

"What plans, son? Why do you be so stubborn when somebody tries to be nice to you?"

There was a lot more. Ma even cried. She made him so mad he almost blurted it out that he was going to marry Jenny, but he didn't.

He just smoothed things over and jollied his up the best he could. And he was sure now it was best not to tell her.

He lay awake a long time that night, torturing himself with conflicting thoughts about Jenny and Liz and the job with the Conover Agency; how he would get through that last year of college; how horrible it would be if he made a mistake marrying Jenny, hurting her. He must never hurt Jenny.

Size of Atom Bomb Not All Circus of Thrills Will Conclude Annual Fair

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—Russia need not possess atom bombs as powerful as American atomic weapons to be on about equal footing for atomic war.

If the Soviets have the bomb, it is probably not as powerful as this country's newest bombs. But the power of the bomb usually does not determine its effectiveness.

A small bomb often can do just as much damage as a big one. A ruling factor in governing the extent of damage is the terrain—the hills and shape of the earth in the area where the bomb is dropped.

The more powerful atomic bombs, if only two or three times more destructive than a small bomb, will not destroy an area noticeably greater than the smallest possible atom bomb.

The United States today has a bomb more powerful than any other in the world. However, that has been announced by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The U. S. bomb may be two or three times, or even 10 times more powerful than any bomb the Russians may have. However, 10 times is unlikely so soon.

But, depending on the terrain, the more powerful American bomb might not do any more damage than our first "baby" bombs.

However, if terrain is just right, the greater destruction of the bigger bombs would be noticeable.

It is possible to produce dud atom bombs, but in science, nobody expects Russia or anyone else to be handicapped seriously by dud bombs.

YOU CAN BE SURE I'LL NOT MISS ANYTHING

HOW HOT CAN IT GET? Dee Allison will drive a car, head-on into a stack of flaming barrels for one of the thrilling stunts to be performed at Recreation Park on the final night of the Top of Texas Fair. The death-defying hell drivers of the Circus of Thrills will take over.

Ken Baker's drivers for the Circus of Thrills probably wouldn't mind driving under a ladder, but a few other superstitions have found the way under their skins.

The Circus of Thrills, death-defying automobile stunts, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Recreation Park and will climax the second annual Top of Texas Fair.

The old superstition about not having women on ships has been adapted by the hell drivers into a ruling that no women are ever to be allowed on the Circus of Thrills track. Nothing will stop the show more rapidly than a woman standing on the track.

Also, the drivers have a phobia about the color green. They will not wreck green autos, nor will they wear green apparel while going through the show.

Then of course certain drivers have their own little superstitions. For instance, Al Allison, one of the "Flying Twins," refuses to enter his car from the right side. He did once and got several broken bones.

Dee Allison, the other twin, isn't superstitious—not much

The action, widening the iron curtain rift between Premier Marshal Tito and the Russian bloc, followed by 24 hours Hungary's action in giving walking papers to 10 Yugoslav legation officials in Budapest.

Judge Michael J. Roche urged them to "reconsider and reexamine all the evidence," as leisurely as they liked, to prevent if possible a second long and expensive trial. This trial is its 12th week.

would be receiving free paving in front of their property.

"In other parts of the city, property owners are paying $4.70 per foot for paving while the Hobart Street owners are paying nothing," he revealed. Also, although the acquired property would be part of the right-of-way, several feet could still be used by the owners for yard space.

He pointed out, owners were getting free curb and gutters to facilitate drainage.

Commissioners proposed to have drawings made by the highway department showing a cross section of the paving to illustrate their points to the property owners.

County Commissioners offered to pay $350 to Frank and Leon Dougherty for the option to designate which portion of their lease on the PAAF auxiliary landing field should be left fallow.

The $350 represents one-half the annual rent paid by the brothers to the county for the lease. Under the Farm Support Plan, the Dougherty brothers are required to leave unplanted, one fourth their total acreage to receive government crop support.

The county wants a hundred-acre tract to build administration buildings and hangars in the event this site is approved for the new Pampa air terminal.

Therefore, they would return half the rent paid by the brothers for the right to designate that portion of the lease which the county selects as site for the buildings. The Doughertys would leave this portion fallow and the county could begin building.

This type of arrangement was necessary since the lease will be in effect for two more years but construction would begin within a year if the site is approved.

Commissioners agreed this would be the proper site for the new airport since the county owns the land and almost 3 miles of concrete runways are already built.

The county will collect taxes for three school districts, Kepingler, Laketon and Farrington this year. The three districts were consolidated into the Pampa area under the Gilmer-Aikup plan, but so far, no tax collection process has been set up.

Cotton Men Try to Hold Exports Up

WASHINGTON — A group of cotton men set out Monday to find out how to prevent any drop in U.S. cotton shipments to other countries as a result of the cut in the value of the British pound.

They are members of the Cotton Export Advisory Board. It helps the secretary of agriculture to make policies affecting production and marketing of cotton.

Burrus Jackson, Hillsboro, Tex., a member of the group, told a reporter the cotton men will discuss with State Department and Economic Cooperation Administration officials as well as with Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

Jackson is chairman of the Texas Statewide Cotton Committee. It represents growers as well as marketing and shipping interests. He expressed fear the British would want to turn to other cotton-producing countries of the world because of their devalued money.

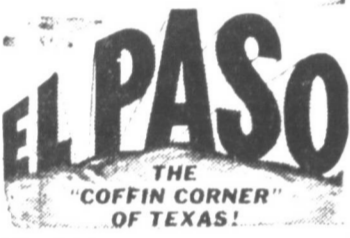

"I personally don't think that situation will have any effect this year on our exports," he said. "Our biggest worry will come when Britain and other European countries run out of Marshall Plan funds."

"So long as we are lending them aid we are in a position to influence them in their purchases of goods. With their pound now worth fewer American dollars, they will want to shop around and buy from cheaper countries with lower standards of living and lower production costs."

Jackson said the government loan program designed to keep up the price of cotton must include a plan for moving the crop into channels of trade.

It's Proven 75 Is Unlucky Number

DALLAS — (AP) — R. C. Vickers says 75 is his unlucky number.

Thugs held up the gas station attendant a month ago and got $75. They did it again early Tuesday. You guessed it: Vickers lost $75 again.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sam, a cigar-smoking, saki-drinking big wheel from Osaka, thinks one American product has only a limited future in Japan.

The product is—falsies.

"If Japanese girls wear European dress," said Sam, "maybe falsies all right."

"But if she wear kimono—no!"

It seems the Japanese feminine ideal is a bumpless silhouette.

"Sam"—a nickname he picked up here—is Isamu Saheki, 47, managing director of the Kinki Nippon Railway, the largest independently owned railroad in the Orient.

The railroad owns a chain of hotels, department stores and theaters, and Saheki is visiting America to drum up some tourist business for the land of cherry blossoms.

"Business bad now, better next spring," he said. "How's stock market doing?"

We had a long talk with Sam, and the interpreter he leaned on when his own thoughts exceeded his English—George Alexander, Tokyo traffic manager for the North Airlines.

The Japanese Silk Association asked him to find out why American women prefer nylon stockings, and Saheki is visiting America to drum up some tourist business for the land of cherry blossoms.

"I feel that silk stockings are more flattering to women's legs than nylon."

Thoroughly broad-minded as well as keen-eyed, he gestured with his hands as if outlining a barrel, and remarked:

"American women beautiful, very shapely. All have originality in dressing."

Sam made a trip on the subway, but it failed to give him any new ideas on how to sardine more passengers onto his own railway. It already carries from one to two million commuters daily. He does plan, however, to put on some cute girl hostesses. They'll peddle tea.

He felt Japan could adopt a proper respect for women, a thing that struck him about the United States.

"In Japan woman walks behind," he said.

And what Japanese custom did he think America might follow to its advantage?

Sam thought and thought.

"Well, Japanese men very patient under bad luck," he said, and—his face became bland and innocent—

"Japanese women very, very faithful to their menfolks."

Confederates Too Slow for Texan

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) — The annual Confederate Veterans Reunion started out too slowly for one of the Texas veterans.

Thomas E. Riddle, 103, Wichita Falls, Texas, sent an aide from his hotel room to notify reunion officials that "if they didn't get something stirred up, he was going back home."

The country with the densest population is Java, with 737 people to the square mile.

Investment Expected To Be Rather Slow

NEW YORK — Although the ban is being lifted on foreign investments in western Germany, there won't be the heavy flow of capital that came after World War I, according to Business Week.

The magazine explains that the danger makes long-term investments too risky and the threat of public ownership hangs over Ruhr coal and steel where much of the foreign money went last time.

The fields that look most promising for investment in Germany are machinery, electrical equipment and optical goods. However, the bulk of outside capital that Germany wants may come through reinvestment of foreign holdings that have been blocked since 1939.

Proposed investments will have to contribute to the German economy by (1) boosting exports, or (2) replacing imports, especially from hard currency countries.

THE RAIDER: XC-125 looks like an old Ford tri-motor, with some shrewd new ideas in its design.

For New Plane Designs Air Force Turns Back

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A look at two of the Air Force's newest planes may make you think aviation is going backwards.

And the simple fact is that the experts have reached back into aviation history to find some "revolutionary" ideas for the transportation of ground troops.

It all started when the Army complained to the Air Force that its aircraft needs were being sadly neglected at the expense of the development of super fast jets and giant intercontinental bombers.

Heeding the Army's plea for some better means than parachutes and gliders for getting troops into combat from the air, the Air Force appealed to the aviation industry. Of the ideas that resulted, the two that at first glance seemed most ridiculous, have now proved to be among the most practical.

The Northrop Company offered what at first glance seemed to be the funniest idea of all, its "Pioneer." It was almost an exact copy of an old Ford tri-motor, but with some shrewd ideas in its design. The old tri-motor was the aviation sensation of the '20's, but has since become a museum piece.

When Northrop's engineers began explaining their antique-looking plane, the Air Force experts' laughs turned to amazement. Its old-fashioned fixed landing gear is lighter and stronger than the new retractable gear.

The old-fashioned high wing makes for greater stability and slower landing. Three motors with one in the center of the fuselage makes for more efficient flight.

Moreover, the plane could be produced cheaply and quickly; it could be easily fitted with skis for arctic use and floats for water landing. The tail could easily be jacked up and a ramp lowered through the opening for easy loading.

After that sales talk, the Air Force ordered Northrop to build 23 experimental models, numbered the plane the XC-125 and named it the "Raider." It has a wing span of 87 feet. The first one has already flown successfully. Just as the old Ford tri-motor used to land in any cow pasture to pick up sightseers and give them a ride at one cent a pound, so can the Raider land in any kind of a cow pasture and at amazingly slow speeds. Other details of this ancient-looking aircraft are being kept a secret.

outward appearances are deceptive as far as its troop-carrying performance is concerned.

Its construction is so simple and cheap, it is almost considered expendable. Top speed is 232 miles per hour, fast for a cargo plane. Its glider wing is extremely efficient and makes for slow, safe landings. It can carry a 155-man howitzer and one truck, 60 fully-equipped troops or 50 litter patients. Wing span is 110 feet and length is 77 feet.

In addition to special gear, which makes loading the plane very easy, it has numerous special safety features. The pilot is safe from minor accidents as a result of a steel cage built around his compartment. He rides above the load and consequently isn't crushed by heavy cargo in the case of a belly landing or a mishap, which may occur in landing troops near a battlefield.

Both the C-123 and the XC-125 have good possibilities for commercial use.

Q—How soon after Hitler's declaration of war on Poland in 1939 did hostilities begin?
A—They began five hours before the declaration. German bombers and tanks in a sneak attack launched the world's first "Blitzkrieg."

Q—Who is "Willy Loman?"
A—Arthur Miller's prize-winning drama, "Death of a Salesman," current hit on Broadway and in London.

Q—What is "Canasta?"
A—The latest fad in card games. It follows basic rummy principles, but is much more complicated, having four jokers and eight deuces wild for the four-handed game.

Q—Approximately how many workers are insured by social security at present?
A—About 35,000,000 workers are now insured. It has been proposed that a total of 46,000,000 be covered.

Q—What is "britannia" metal?
A—A kind of pewter, used in the 18th century for table ware that was turned on a lathe rather than being cast in a mold, as is ordinary pewter.

Q—Who composed the music for "Home Sweet Home?"
A—The words of this song were written by John Payne for a play, "Clari, the Maid of Milan." The play was converted into an opera by Sir Henry Rowley Bishop and first produced at Covent Garden Theatre, London, in 1823.

Q—What are the abecedarian Psalms?
A—They are the Psalms in which the verses of successive portions are arranged in alphabetical order, such as the 119th.

Q—Have scientists established the fact that the temperature can be estimated from the chirps of a cricket?
A—There is a definite relationship between a cricket's chirp and the prevailing temperature. The rate of chirp depends upon the temperature. The rapidity of its chirps is so affected by heat and cold that a formula has been devised for getting the temperature.

Q—What is the nationality of Michael Arlen?
A—Michael Arlen is a pseudonym. The British novelist's name is Dikran Kuyumdjian. He is of Armenian parentage.

Q—What Mississippi steamboat made the famous race with the Robert E. Lee?
A—The Natchez. The race was won by the Robert E. Lee.

Q—Is it true that a person comes up three times before drowning?
A—This popular notion is a fallacy. A person may come up many times, or not at all, depending upon various conditions.

Q—Are there any gas turbine-electric powered locomotives in operation?
A—The first gas turbine-electric powered locomotive to be built and operated in the United States has completed its preliminary tests, and is now being tested further in freight service. The huge locomotive is geared for speeds up to 69 miles per hour.

Q—What is the record number of base hits held by a major league baseball player?
A—Ty Cobb holds the major league record with 4191.

Q—Who will select the Unknown Serviceman of World War II for burial at Arlington National Cemetery?
A—The selection of the unidentified man to be buried in Arlington will be the task of the Army's Quartermaster Corps' Memorial Division.

Q—Who was the Man With the Iron Mask?
A—A mysterious French prisoner of state, whose identity never has been satisfactorily explained. While traveling from prison to prison he wore a mask of black velvet, not iron, which he was forbidden to uncover on pain of instant death.

Sheik Objected, But Now Arabs Take Baths

RUBA-DUB-DUB—Three Arab children in Mrs. Ada Hegnauer's tub means a triumph for her Swiss ideas of cleanliness over aged Bedouin belief that bathing is a semi-religious function.

By CORINNE HARDESTY
GAZA, Palestine — (NEA) — Mrs. Ida Hegnauer's Swiss passion for cleanliness almost touched off an international incident among Arab refugees in Gaza, but at last, in a manner of speaking, it's all come out in the wash.

Mrs. Hegnauer, who manages the food distribution center for 40,000 homeless in this area, thought it would be a good idea if the refugee women and children could stop off to take a bath or do some laundry during the long waits for their food rations.

So she set about getting a laundry, showers and baby baths built next to the unused mosque which houses the food center.

When it was finished, she showed it off to the refugee women by gently bathing a little Bedouin girl in one of the tubs, and then taking a shower herself.

The youngster went away scrubbed and happy. But the next day, the sheik and other dignitaries of the Bedouin tribe called on Mrs. Hegnauer. What, they wanted to know, was the reason for her enormous crime? Why had she outraged a time-honored custom among Bedouins, who keep themselves clean but consider bathing a semi-religious function?

Mrs. Hegnauer had no intention of giving up her idea without an argument. As one of a team of 45 volunteers from 11 nations who work for the American Friends Service Committee to administer UN relief in southern Palestine, she had fought hard to build this "plus" item, for which no funds are available.

She suggested that the sheik let the women of the tribe decide whether any crime had been committed. That meant she had to demonstrate the showers and tubs all over again for the women and children.

First thing she knew, so many women and children — including the Bedouins — wanted to use the bathhouse that Mrs. Hegnauer had to ration baths just the way she rations food.

Now 20 women can use it at one time and stay there, scrubbing their clothes, their youngsters and themselves, for three hours.

No one can use the bathhouse more than once in 10 days, but all day long, six days a week, it's a scene of amiable uproar. A jolly Sudanese woman manages matters inside and serves as wet nurse for hungry infants whose mothers are too busy. Outside on elderly refugee man runs the pump and water while he nods and smiles at the feminine chatter on the other side of the wall.

And the Bedouin sheik no longer regards the Quaker woman with her Swiss ideas of bathing as a criminal.

West Agreed On Controls For A-Bomb

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Analyst
Russia's demand for international control of the atom bomb (which she now claims to possess, and quite likely does), finds complete agreement among the Western powers — providing an acceptable method of control can be devised.

However, there's nothing new in that. It's a statement which could have been made at any time since June of 1946 when the subject first came before the United Nations in a big way. Both sides call for control, but the trouble has been that the Soviet and the West have been as far apart as the poles on what the controls should be.

Moscow calls for the absolute prohibition of atomic weapons. Well and good — and three cheers by all concerned. However, the Russians want the destruction of present atomic stockpiles before any convention is signed. They also insist on the retention of the veto in matters affecting atomic control, and this veto power could virtually nullify the terms of an agreement.

One of the hottest points of controversy is Moscow's insistence that each nation — rather than a United Nations commission — should do its own inspections to make sure that there are no violations.

Well, I ask you! This old world of ours would indeed be a paradise if all nations could be trusted to check on themselves. However, human nature still is too tricky for that. You could trust it with hand-grenades but in the matter of atomic bombs, "nyet," which is Russian for the veto.

So the way things stand there can be no agreement unless Moscow retreats from qualifications which the United States and its Western allies feel not only would nullify its value but would create an extremely dangerous international situation. Pending the happy day of compromise, America is losing no time in tightening up military economic and political unity of the Western world in view of the disclosure that Russia has succeeded in making an atomic weapon.

Rainbows in Living Room In Future

By HAL BOYLE
PASSAIC, N. J. — (AP) — A video pioneer says it will probably be at least a decade before you can have rainbows in your living room.

"I figure color television is still 10 to 20 years away," said Dr. Allen B. Du Mont, one of the "big three" TV manufacturers.

The Federal Communications Commission is currently holding hearings on whether to authorize color telecasts.

"I think the FCC will postpone the thing until they have something decent to go ahead with," said Du Mont. "There has been no real change in either the CBS or RCA systems in the last three years."

The FCC announced in advance of its hearings that it would approve any color system that would make television sets now on the market obsolete.

Du Mont believes that by 1953 there will be 13,500,000 video boxes in use, 1,000 TV stations on the air, and some 950,000 persons in the mushrooming new industry.

The stock, 48-year-old scientist-businessman began at the bottom. In 1931 the young inventor made the biggest decision of his life—"to be my own boss."

He began turning out cathode-ray tubes in a remodelled garage. He has his own television network now.

He feels that radio will soon be secondary to television and believes this is already true in the larger cities. And he stubbornly contests the contention by some that radio will retain its dominance during daytime hours.

"We already have a bigger audience on some of our daytime TV programs than competing radio stations," he said.

Water Lines to Be Replaced

MIAMI — (Special) — Four streets in Miami are scheduled to get new water lines, replacing old and small lines in parts of the city, Mayor R. J. Bean has announced. The streets will be Cuarter, Summitt, Birge and Tascosa, perhaps others later.

In addition, a new fire plug will be installed at the corner of Summitt and Harvey Streets, next to Sheriff W. H. Carr's residence. This will give water protection to property in that part of the city.

A spokesman for the Southwestern Public Service Company stated that construction on the new water lines will start soon.

The placing of street lights, which was to have been completed by October 1, has been delayed by shortage of some necessary material, it was also stated.

Location County Library Changed

MIAMI — (Special) — The Robert County Library which is housed in the courthouse has been moved from the present location on the first floor, to the basement, across from the county agent's office. This will give the library the same amount of space as was available before.

The office of County Attorney Frank Potter, Jr., will be in the room formerly occupied by the library.

The Statue of Freedom atop the Capitol dome in Washington, D. C., weighs 14,968 pounds and cost about $23,700.

Vitamin E Holds Punch In Operations

HOUSTON — (AP) — Vitamin E may hold the knockout punch for the last of three major post-operative killers still worrying surgeons.

Dr. Alton Ochser of Tulane University said one of the fractions of Vitamin E—"alpha toopherol"—can be effective in preventing thrombosis—coagulation of blood elements.

Ochser was to present a technical paper on post-operative killers before the first annual conference of the Southwestern Surgical Congress.

The head of the Department of Surgery at Tulane explained surgeons have three great fears in operations: infections, shock and thrombosis.

Development of antibiotic drugs limited infection, he said, while shock ceased to be a threat with discovery that blood balance must be maintained by transfusions.

Three developments left thrombosis as the greatest cause of post-operative death.

Ochser cited two examples. One form, thrombophlebitis or "milk leg" causes a blood clot which produces disability, swollen legs and pain but not fatal. Fibrin thrombosis causes a clot in a vein to detach itself and when it strikes the heart, kills the patient.

"At first we thought we could prevent the clot from forming by keeping the legs moving and by wrapping," Ochser said. "And we could prevent many that way. Where we could detect the clot, we could tie off the vein. But despite all this, we still had deaths."

Ochser said the solution was found in two elements of body chemistry—prothrombin and anti-thrombin. The first is conducive to coagulation, the second has the opposite effect.

"When the proportion of the anti-thrombin begins to fall," he declared, "the patient develops a clot."

"Now by keeping a steady check on the balance, we can give anti-thrombin to the potential thrombosis patient."

The element given the patient is alpha tocopherol of Vitamin E.

FIRE VS. BLITZ
Fire losses in the United States in 1946 exceeded by almost 25 percent the damage done by the German incendiary blitz on England during 1940 and 1941.

DIGESTIVE AID?
Wine has an appreciable medicinal value when consumed in reasonable amount. Some wines have definite therapeutic use, besides being an aid to digestion.

Experiment Farm Set at Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Lonnie Burks has volunteered to furnish land for an experiment farm near Shamrock. A 30-acre tract located one and one-half miles north of Midway is being converted into a sandy land experiment place by the Wheeler County Soil Conservation District and the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

Farming operations will be carried on under the direction of County Agent W. K. Frey and the officials of the soil conservation district.

Part of the acreage will be fertilized by phosphate and 16-20-0 fertilizer will be used on another part. No fertilizer will be used on one acre.

The first year's crop will be:

10 acres to vetch and rye; 10 acres to Austrian winter peas; and 10 acres to Dixie Wonder peas.

Purpose of the experiment is to impress on Wheeler County producers what proper care and modern methods will do in building soil.

MOST SUCCESSFUL
Ants, if judged by the number of individuals, the number of species, and their geographic range, are said to be the most successful creatures, past or present, to inhabit the earth.

Polio Victim Marries in Wheelchair NEW YORK - (AP) - Pretty Inez Basilico, confined to a wheelchair by polio for most of her 27 years, was wheeled down a church aisle Sunday to become a bride.

The dark-haired girl - her sweeping white lace wedding gown all but concealing the wheelchair - was married to a 25-year-old Canadian war veteran, Rene Gautreaux.

They met at Bellevue Hospital, where both work. Inez, unable to walk since she was nine years old, regained the use of her arms a few years ago.

Rene, an attendant at the hospital, fell in love with the crippled girl and asked her to marry him. She said yes.

Sunday, her father, Angelo Basilico, proudly pushed the wheelchair down the center aisle of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church. Well-wishers reached out to pat Inez reassuringly on the shoulder.

Never Too Late To Get an M.A. LUBBOCK - After 25 years of service with the Texas A&M extension service, Kate Adele Hill has enrolled at Texas Technological College to complete requirements for the M. A. degree.

Miss Hill began working on her degree in 1946, and transferred credits here from the University of Missouri and Texas A&M.
