PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Twinkles

The Donley County Leader calls them "illegal" dust storms. Liqueur also is illegal, but plenty of it flows.

The West Foster grouch says time has lacerated his face and that the soil which falls on it is conserved.

Europe must have come out of the depression ahead of us—at least we don't see any of our jobless men hunting a job to fight for practically nothing.

Students might well spend their summer vacation studying what is wrong with their elders.

They call it "soft" ball—this summer game. But a hard-hit one on the end of a finger isn't to be desired.

Musing of the moment: Listening to a series of long-winded speeches, air and otherwise, last week, we wondered again how many millions are thus wasted monthly in this country. If every speaker would write out his speech, check the worthwhile paragraphs, and discard the rest, we would be getting somewhere.

Brevitorials

THE AGREEMENT was, we understood, that if Pampa lost the golf match Sunday, the grid chances would be greatly enhanced in next Thanksgiving's football game. Maybe we were wrongly informed, but we had it direct from Mr. Erasmus Tack and Mr. Hunka-pillar, initials unknown. Anyhow, after carrying out our opponent, Mr. Mason King, an affiliate of Mr. Tack, around the course for 16 holes, we decided it was time to be astute enough to put in a good lick for the Harvesters. Accordingly, and with precision, we drove straight for the only water hole in this part of the country. Result, shortly, was that we lost 2 and 1.

IMAGINE, if you can, our embarrassment when we found that there had been no such general understanding and that we were among the Pampans who have lost. That is our story, and we can verify it. There will be those who will guffaw, but let 'em. We are always ready to make sacrifices for the Harvesters. We regret that the outlook is considerably clouded by Sunday's result. We'll have to make the best of it. Another opportunity may be presented in a return engagement.

WE HAVE another alibi but one that we hesitate to mention. However, since we occasionally and not always with deliberate intent embarrass other folks, we'll hood square and tell one which we'd rather own. During a very recent dust storm we not only filtered through a man-hole, or what-ever-you-call-it-through which you reach the bottom side of the shunters. Flung in the wind, we climbed up and went snooping. It is surprising how many odd and ends carpenters leave in such places. The exposed wiring is something to contemplate with interest. The dust was deep as the dirt in some window boxes.

THEN the flashlight went out. The dust aroused a sneeze just as we poised in the middle of a step from one 2-by-6—or was it 4?—to another. We missed the timber and this is the truth—plunged through the light ceiling to the hall-way floor below, carrying a "ton" of dust, numerous blocks, nails, and boards of many sizes. That is, we almost hit the floor. En route down, we threw out an arm, losing a considerable amount of skin and another score of Darwinians. Finally stopping as we clung for a moment like a monkey who sees danger below. Everyone laughed who has heard about this dustiest stunt of the week except the carpenter and paper-hanger, who thought it was pretty good exhibition. The wise newspaper man prints such things on other folks but never on himself. . . . Which rather definitely catalogs us among the unwise, we suppose.

MORE than a year ago, we made the talk on Europe's "hot spots" and called attention to predictions about events likely to take place in the coming two years. The remarks of that time have been more than justified by the rise of Hitler, the foreign policy of Japan and Italy, the continuing tension between France and the diplomacy of Russia. Pierre Laval, as quoted by the Literary Digest for March 30, tells once more the story of national hatreds, economic pressure, and the necessity of fighting for existence. No nation was so completely "whipped" for all time. Germany had to choose between a dictatorship and the restoration of national pride or communism, with a world program of revolution. It is difficult now to say which would have been the more dangerous course. The present one leads to external menaces; the other would likely have been equally dangerous to France through its boring from within. . . . As Laval says, France was asked to victory then abandoned, most, "to the ranking leopards and the potentially formidable strength of the

Panhandle Tax Burglary Nets $240 In Cash

Vault Is Drilled Open and Several Thousand Dollars Worth of Checks Stolen.

PANHANDLE, April 2. (AP)—A sub-machine gun, $240 in cash and several thousand dollars in checks were stolen from the Carson county courthouse last night, T. B. Harris, Carson sheriff and tax assessor-collector, reported today.

Harris said the loot was taken from a vault, which had been drilled open in a back room of his offices. He said the fact that a larger safe in the front office was not touched indicated that the robber had inside information as to where the money was kept.

PENSION BILL REPORTED BY HOUSE GROUP

'GAG RULE' WOULD BE USED TO BLOCK AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—The ways and means committee agreed today to report to the house the administration's social security bill.

Formal action will be taken after Chairman Doughton (D-NC) introduces a new bill embodying the many amendments inserted by the committee in the original Wagner-Lewis-Doughton bill.

The formal agreement to report the measure followed a vote on a motion by Representative Cooper (D-Tenn.) to accept as a part of the bill the sections levying taxes on payrolls and earnings for old-age annuities to workers.

This motion was supported by 17 of the 19 committee democrats with the 7 republicans voting present. Representative Lamneck (D-Ohio), who is ill, was absent.

Democratic leaders meanwhile planned a conference to divide whether a "gag rule" should be employed to block amendments when floor consideration of the bill begins next week.

In its final form, the bill still establishes old-age pension and annuity systems for persons over 65 and unemployment insurance, as recommended by the president's cabinet committee on economic security.

Many changes in administrative features were voted by the committee, however. One of the most important was that taking the new social insurance board, which will handle much of the new program, out of the labor department and making it an independent agency.

This change was made with the approval of President Roosevelt and over the objections of Secretary Perkins.

Mrs. Dodson Is Named President Of Philharmonic

Mrs. J. M. Dodson has been elected president of the Philharmonic chorus, to succeed John Skelly next fall.

Other officers are Mrs. A. N. Dilley, vice-president; Miss Jean Bagdale, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, treasurer; Mrs. John Skelly, representative to Council of Clubs; Mrs. May Foreman Carr, director; and C. O. Huber, assistant director.

The chorus is preparing a program for Music week at this time.

House Shortage Is Still Acute

Despite a good building month, Pampa is still facing a shortage of houses. Building Inspector J. R. McKinley this morning reported that 18 houses had been moved to the lot during March. He also issued permits for new houses and remodeling work.

Total permits issued for March amounted to $20,727 to bring the total for the year to $70,000, compared with $105,000 for 1934.

During the last three months of 1935, 45 houses were moved to the city. The building issued 51 permits for new residences and building remodeling during the same period.

Gas, water, and light connections responded to the activity. The inspector's office took in $183 for permits in March.

NEGRO EXECUTED

FORTSMITH, April 2. (AP)—Ira Porter, 26-year-old negro, was executed in the state's electric chair early today for the slaying of H. R. Jones, an Anderson merchant, who was killed in a robbery at his home last fall. The negro was arrested shortly afterward and was taken to the state penitentiary for safe keeping until his trial.

I Heard . . .

J. T. Crawford, Pampa's oldest citizen, wondering what was falling this morning as a light mist hung over the city.

City Manager C. L. Bine declaring that the other corner's April Fool cracker yesterday was on the wick. C. L. had to stand on his head and turn cartwheels while surveying the circle for the Rotary club wading pool.

GERMANY GETS PROTEST FROM SWITZERLAND

CLAIM NAZIS KIDNAPED NEWSPAPERMAN IN SWITZERLAND

PARIS, April 2. (AP)—Premier Pierre-Etienne Flandin sounded a cry of unity in France to face German rearmament today and declared the army high command had decided to keep the French ring of steel fortifications permanently garrisoned on the frontier.

The premier confirmed reports of the movement of troops close to the eastern border as part of the nation's precautionary measures of defense.

Outlining the rearmament of Germany, the premier declared to the chamber of deputies:

"To face this powerfully organized army, France must organize her security—first, by having a strong army; second, by organizing military alliances for the organization of peace."

Free Show for Relief Group to Be Given Thought

Tickets for an entertainment this evening may be obtained at the relief office by persons on local relief rolls, who will be admitted free to the city auditorium for the variety program.

Twentieth Century Forum is sponsoring the entertainment, with Mrs. Dick Walker heading the arrangements committee. High school students will present one-act comedies, songs by a quartet, and orchestra music.

Postal Receipts Reach New High

Postal receipts, usually considered a guide to business, reached a new high in the first quarter of 1935, Assistant Postmaster O. K. Gaylor reported this morning. He reported to Postmaster D. E. Cecil that the local office had done $17,100.59 worth of business in that period, compared with $13,834.39 in 1934.

The quarterly report was the third largest in the history of the local office, only being surpassed by the Christmas quarters of 1930 and 1934. It was the largest first quarter by more than $3,000 of any previous period.

Receipts for last month were $5,342.00 compared with $3,988.66 for the same month last year.

Other departments showed large increases, both for the month and for the quarter.

2,000 Vehicles In Gray County Still Unlicensed

Although about 5,400 automobile licenses have been issued here and at McLean, there are probably nearly 2,000 motor vehicles in the county which are as yet unlicensed. It was estimated by the county clerk, Johnnie Beck, who went to McLean to issue licenses exhausted his supply of plates and more were sent him today.

The deadline for paying the license fees expired last night. Many persons have been heard to say that they were not going to risk a $14 fine for operation of their cars without licenses. In addition, 20 percent penalties are now assessable against those persons who have used their cars this year and have not bought licenses.

MISSING WITNESS, L. D. LEWIS, TESTIFIES IN TRIAL OF HAMLIN

AMARILLO, April 2. (AP)—L. D. Lewis, sought as a defense witness since the first of the George S. Hamlin murder case, was placed on the stand today in Hamlin's trial for the hammer slaying of his wife here last January 4.

E. T. Miller, defense counsel, created a small sensation as court opened by placing special Prosecutor E. A. Simpson on the stand. Simpson testified that Lewis was and had been since Sunday night in an Amarillo hotel.

Presiding Judge E. C. Nelson, also sworn as a witness, testified that he knew that the missing witness had been located.

Lewis stated that he was at the home of friends, two blocks from the scene of the slaying, on the night of January 4.

Testimony by a previous defense witness that Lewis left his friends' home several times that night was refuted by Lewis.

Lewis admitted he had written his former employer that he was not coming back to Amarillo to have his "personal affairs aired." He said the personal affairs referred to have had "no connection with this case."

Special Prosecutor Simpson testified that he was hiding Lewis, but said he had assured Judge Nelson that the witness would be produced in open court before the defense rested its case.

BUSINESS MEN COMMEND PRE-CENTENNIAL; WILL SUPPORT IT; SUGGESTIONS ACCEPTED

Enthusiastic support of the Panhandle Pre-Centennial celebration and Pioneers Roundup to be held here this spring was again promised by business men and women and civic leaders last night at a banquet-conference at the Schneller hotel. High praise for the 1934 celebration and for the plans for this year was spoken by more than a dozen men and women.

The Pre-Centennial committee which sponsored the banquet felt that the celebration probably received its greatest boost to date, and was satisfied to the point of

Centennial Bill Passed By Senate But House Is Not Likely To Accept Changes And Bill May Be Reshaped

HOME LOANS FOR BUILDING TO BE AVAILABLE AT ONCE

Government Now Chartering Many Lending Agencies—Here's How to Obtain Them.

The insured mortgage plan for speeding home ownership in this country is swinging into effect and should be felt in Pampa soon, according to R. E. Sikes, director of the Federal Housing Administration's Fort Worth office, who was here yesterday.

Mr. Sikes, executive assistant director, conferred with local bankers and said, later, that he found them interested and in touch with the situation.

The original section of the housing act was in the form of credit for repair and home modernization. This has been signally successful in many places. It will expire next December unless renewed. The second section, a permanent one, is for new construction primarily, though it may be used for buying or re-financing under certain conditions. Interest is 5 per cent on new construction, plus some necessary brokerage and service charges. Taxes, insurance and interest and principal payments are merged. It is figured that the average cost per $1,000 borrowed on a 20-year plan is $11.90, though the figures will vary according to the tax levies.

Privately owned mortgage companies will administer the act. These are being chartered now by the government and, presumably, will be ready soon to make loans. The following question and answers were given by Mr. Sikes as explanation of the second section of the housing act:

1. What is the insured mortgage plan? A new mortgage system created under the National Housing act under which mortgage lenders are insured against loss through a mutual mortgage insurance fund applying to a standardized form of home mortgage lending.
2. Who can borrow under this new system? Any responsible person with a steady income and a good credit record.
3. To whom do I apply? To any lending institution approved by the Federal Housing administration to make insured mortgage loans. A list of such institutions in your city will be supplied on request to the Federal Housing administration office in your state nearest to you.
4. What kind of property may be financed by an insured mortgage loan? Any property primarily to be used as a residence, provided it meets the simple requirements as to location, character of neighborhood, and type of construction.
5. What is the maximum amount of a loan under an insured mortgage? Not more than a maximum of 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property, land and dwelling included, and not more than $16,000 in any case.
6. Must the residence be a detached dwelling? No; it may be detached, semi-detached, one of a row, or a building providing for not more than four families.
7. What is the major requirement as to location? It must be in an urban community with the usual services, such as water supply, sewerage, and paving. It must be in a reasonably stabilized section, and the property must conform reasonably to the general character of the neighborhood.
8. What type of construction will be approved? Construction types customary to the locality in which they are to be used will be accepted generally, if constructed of material and methods of proven durability and suitability. New materials and methods will not necessarily be excluded, but will be approved upon satisfactory evidence of durability and marketability.
9. How must the mortgage loan be repaid? In equal monthly amounts.
10. What do these monthly payments cover? Interest on the outstanding balance of the loan, pay-

'KINGFISH' LONG PLAYS ROLE OF 'SCROOTCH OWL'

Huey's Owl Remarks Arouse Farmers Over Land

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long completely lost himself today in his latest role—that of an old Louisiana "scrootch" owl.

It all came out of the latest controversy stirred up by the Kingfish, the differences between a regular boot owl and this other kind of winged mesmerizer from the Red river valley of the senator's boyhood days—the "scrootch."

Huey, in decrying the policies of two presidents, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, compared the first to a boot owl and the second to a "scrootch" owl, explaining that the boot boomed into a chicken roost when in a raiding mood and flattened the fat hen of his choice with one belt, while the "scrootch" owl snuck up softly, with the chickens' confidence with sweet murmurs, and then proceeded to devour her.

Not Screech Owl

But farmers out through the southern states, knowing their owls, started writing in for money and, confusing the common screech owl, which is too little to hunt hens, with the "scrootch" that Huey used to wait for night with a shotgun across his knees when the winged raiding parties were out during his booting years.

"Why one of my friends told me about passing through a small Kentucky town and seeing 150 people in the square talking about my 'scrootch' owl," said Huey. "That's how serious this thing has gotten to be. So I decided to check up on my owls at the Smithsonian institute."

Check he did, with the following results:

"My 'scrootch' owl," he said "is a member of the family of the great horned owl, or bubo virginianus, and he preys on small animals and birds, and mice. You, has a particular weakness for chicken."

Owl Is Versatile

"Besides that, his nocturnal cries, of which I will give you an authentic sample later, frighten the superstitious and have even been known to unnerve the godly. He shrieks and yells like an unearthly creature. Then he barks like a dog, a startling transition unless you know him as we farm boys know

Garbage Removal Is Now City-Wide

Garbage collections are now city-wide under the new municipal plan, although rates have been set only on collections from residences.

The costs from business firms, hotels and other establishments vary so much that a study of them is being made prior to setting the rates. The rates, however, will be set before the May 1 bills are sent out.

It is believed that the rates will mean a net saving to those who have been buying garbage removal service. In addition, the city will be cleaner than it has ever been because of the mandatory collections from all residences.

VFW WILL MEET

Pampa Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Legion out on West Foster avenue. Commander Ham Westfall urges members to attend the important business session.

Compromise on Fund Allocation Is Adopted

AUSTIN, April 2. (AP)—The senate today passed finally, 17 to 12, a house bill to appropriate $3,000,000 to aid celebrations next year of Texas 100th anniversary of independence.

The bill was jammed through by a strong Centennial bloc which cut off debate in the fifth day of argument.

It was passed to third reading, 16 to 13, after a compromise substitute drafted over the week-end by the Centennial bloc in the senate and leaders of the exposition was adopted, 19 to 10.

It was likely Centennial leaders in the house would refuse to accept senate changes and ask for a conference committee to reshape the bill. Another factor pointing to a conference committee was failure of the bill to receive the required two-thirds affirmative vote on final passage to make it effective immediately. That could be overcome by the necessary majority on adoption of the conference report.

Centennial leaders in the senate successfully thwarted attempts to amend the compromise, preventing a recurrence of a tumultuous session last week in which a previous plan was wrecked by allocations of funds for particular districts. The compromise substitute superseded all other amendments and substitutes adopted in five days of debate.

It would allocate the $3,000,000 appropriation as follows: $1,000,000 for buildings and $200,000 for equipment at the central exposition, located at Dallas; $500,000 for advertising and publicity; and $1,300,000 for historical celebrations at other places, including an extension of $200,000 to equip a memorial museum to be constructed on the University of Texas campus by the American Legion at a cost of $750,000.

The Texas Centennial commission would be retained as directors of celebrations other than in Dallas by a commission of control for Centennial celebrations, of seven members, the lieutenant governor would be an ex-officio member, and two would be appointed by each of the governors from business firms, hotels and other establishments vary so much that a study of them is being made prior to setting the rates. The rates, however, will be set before the May 1 bills are sent out.

RANGERS SENT TO CORPUS IN HOT ELECTION

OFFICERS PATROL CITY; WOULD PREVENT 'BLOODSHED'

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 2. (AP)—Armed with submachine guns, rifles and revolvers, six Texas Rangers and as many city policemen began what promised to be a continuous tour of Corpus Christi today—shortly after the polls opened at 8 a. m.

The city was tense as it balloted on candidates for municipal offices. Bloodshed today was predicted yesterday by the mayor, district attorney and sheriff in telegrams to Adjutant General Carl Nesbitt as they urged him to recall the Rangers.

Nesbitt's answer was to send four more Rangers to join the two who had been here since last Friday. "We are not looking for trouble," Police Chief A. R. Mace, himself a former Ranger, said today, "but you never can tell what may happen."

The early balloting was light. Nesbitt yesterday denied the Rangers were sent here in connection with the election, although he said they had found evidence of illegal poll tax receipts distribution and had taken a man to police headquarters for questioning. Nesbitt said the Rangers were in this area in connection with a recent drive against liquor and gambling.

The Rangers arriving this morning were Captains Bill McMurray, Zeno Smith and Will Wright, the former Nueces county deputy sheriff, and M. W. Williams. They joined Rangers Al Alee and Edgar Neal.

Trouble began yesterday with a fight in front of the police station between Alee and Maxwell Dunne, an undertaker and political leader. Police Chief Mace filed assault charges against the Ranger in corporation court, and he was released on $50 bond.

Dunne later filed charges of false imprisonment against both Alee and City Detective Ed Flint. The fight followed the arrest of Dave Allen, a political ally of Dunne.

I Saw . . .

NEED FOR HOUSING NOW INVOLVES CONCRETE OPPORTUNITIES FOR GROWTH

COMMUNITIES in the past have done many things to obtain industries—such as the offering of free sites. The cry of "We need more dinner-pails" has been heard from one end of the country to the other.

Pampa, too, wishes more industries, more families, more payrolls.

Pampa is in the somewhat freakish position of refusing—in a sense—the very opportunities which other cities so much desire. No free sites are necessary. No bonuses are requested. No local capital is required to finance many of the industries which are desirous of coming here.

Pampa is expected to furnish rent houses. This is not an idle statement. At least two oil companies wish to move their Panhandle headquarters here. This would mean a population increase of several hundred persons within the city and as many more in camps. The officials and office staffs wish to live here. The personnel wishes to maintain standards of living equal to that of the average Pampa family. The men are willing to pay rentals at the current level.

This is not theory. The Board of City Development has the facts. The NEWS has verified them through its own investigations. Those citizens who have the means to build a number of houses for desirable, longtime renters are appealed to give the proposition earnest consideration. Situations which in the past have caused hesitation are not present in the instances at hand. But quick action is necessary. The companies through their decision will go far in determining which Panhandle city is to be made the oil company operating center.

WHAT IS PAMPA'S ANSWER?

THE PEOPLE WANT THE LEGISLATURE TO SHOW SOME SPEED

The horde of men in the Texas legislature whom we sometimes call statesmen and at other times call something else, are not always correct on what they think that the people they represent are thinking, although it is said that they keep their ears to the ground. Based upon the speed with which the average legislature (except Huey Long's, of course) accomplishes things, the solons indeed must keep their ears to the ground most of the time.

Generally we might complain that the Texas legislature is not adequately informed on the people's attitude toward many matters pending in the two houses, else it would act on them; but maybe it doesn't care what the people think. Above all things, the people want speed and action in the state and national legislative bodies, and that is exactly what they are not getting.

Right now, the Texas legislature is several "up" on the national congress because that body is still entangled in the meshes of the work relief bill. The Texas houses have at least passed more than one bill. However, as the legislature enters its final phase, the people want speed. They want the legislature to dispose of many matters in the next month. Is there any reason except perversity why the legislature cannot pass or refuse to pass all the important bills now pending in the next month?

There is talk of forcing a special session. If the various representatives and senators would listen to the people and quit listening to each other, they might know that if they want to please the people they can show some speed.

There is one matter pending in the senate that that body seems to be trying to consider without the benefit of the public attitude. It is the Centennial bill. Opponents of the Centennial every now and then rise to declare that if Texas had another chance to vote on the birthday celebration it would turn it down. Reports from all the state indicate that Texas is supporting the Centennial now more than ever. Three years ago when the voters overwhelmingly approved a Centennial appropriation of $5,000,000, more than the current bill calls for, the Centennial was a new subject to the voters.

Now when it is the subject of much oratory and many newspaper stories and editorials, they are still for it. We would point out to the legislature that 25 of those impoverished communities which the Centennial foes say cannot afford to help pay for a central celebration, will this year hold pre-Centennial celebrations.

Such celebrations were urged in the Texas Weekly last summer by Dale Miller after Pampa had successfully staged one. Many of the towns in Texas adopted the idea. This week, Corpus Christi is producing a pre-Centennial. The largest one probably will be the pre-Centennial by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce at Henderson.

This is cited as only one point in an argument to prove that Texans are expecting the legislature to appropriate funds for the Centennial. They want the Centennial. It seems to us that the Centennial is a part of Texas' destiny and that destiny cannot be circumvented. We believe that the legislature will act; but we are urging them to show some speed.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Fear of old Justice Brandeis and a violent disagreement among New Deal lawyers led the government to drop the Belcher case—though it had been picked as the strongest supreme court test of NRA constitutionality.

Circumstances of the retreat are almost, though perhaps not quite, as ridiculous as the incident appears on the surface.

Stanley Reed, new solicitor general, made the decision and persuaded Attorney General Cummings, Donald Richberg, and Roosevelt to concur with him.

The Belcher case, involving violation of wage and hour provisions under the lumber code which defense lawyers insisted were illegal along with the code itself, was due to be argued by Reed before the high court.

NRA and Justice Department lawyers had nursed it tenderly, speeding it along for what they fondly hoped would be the most complete vindication of the New Deal in the courts.

Reed took a good look at the case and said: "Hell, no!"

The logic behind the decision was this:

The administration can count on adverse decisions from four of the nine justices any time it goes before the supreme court with a New Deal measure. To win, it must be sure of support from Hughes, Brandeis, Stone, Roberts, and Cardozo.

Brandeis is known to be violently opposed to improper delegations of power. The lumber code goes to the almost incredible extreme of permitting a code authority consisting of private individuals to allocate production among lumber manufacturers with no provision for NRA review.

Reed felt—and he was supported by Prof. Felix Frankfurter, chief apostle of Brandeis—that Brandeis would rip the code to shreds with a roar that might shake New Deal foundations.

At least one high NRA official refers to the lumber code privately as "our filthiest, lousiest code." Big fellows in the industry have been permitted to do the allocating and many serious abuses have been reported to NRA. The code is going to be changed.

Previous buildup and ballyhoo of the Belcher case as NRA's "perfect test case" are what make the whole episode seem so silly now. And silly is exactly the way quite a few NRA people are feeling.

Certain munitions makers are exerting influence in a field which won't be touched by the Senate committee. They're opposed to a closed season on wild ducks and geese this year, which has been advocated because of decimation of the birds.

Drouth and dust storms, drying up feeding places, have added to the havoc of hunters—who took out more than 5,000,000 licenses last year to hunt ducks and other wild life.

The American Nature Association and other groups seek to persuade Chief J. N. Darling of the Biological Survey to bar duck-shooting next fall and give the birds a chance.

Pressure against a closed season comes from makers of powder, shells, and guns, from many game associations, and from many state game departments which depend on fees from hunting licenses to support themselves and pay salaries. Thus far this pressure has been stronger than the other.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, April 1. (AP)—Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul will be given opportunity to feel the sensation of being chief executive when Governor James V. Alfred home spun clothing but one of his most prized gifts is a picture of Texas at hearings before congressional committees on oil control bills.

Woodul will be the first lieutenant governor to act as governor since Dan Moody's first term when the late Barry Miller took over the office for a few days. Former Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt served two terms without sitting in the governor's chair.

It is generally known, however, that Miller was governor in fact several times although he didn't know it until days later. Moody squandered his hunting trips that took him out of the state for a few hours or days.

Former Governor R. S. Sterling and former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson stuck closely to the home fires. Mrs. Ferguson never left the state during her terms and Sterling was absent about an hour.

Governor Alfred is beginning to acquire the usual collection of curios and gifts that come to all chief executives. He has been presented with pens, canes, hats, and when Governor James V. Alfred home spun clothing but one of his most prized gifts is a picture of Texas at hearings before congressional committees on oil control bills.

The picture is a gift from Emil Hurja, assistant to the chairman of the democratic national committee, Postmaster General James A. Farley. Hurja failed to send along a history of the picture and Alfred is wondering where he got it.

The photograph has been given a position of honor in Alfred's office.

The governor also has been presented with another excellent photograph of the famous general by Temple Houston Morrow of Dallas, a grandson of Texas' first president. It has been placed in the governor's mansion along with Houston's four poster bed and other mementoes.

principal vanquished nation—Germany." Thus France in reality won no permanent victory but increased the prejudices which lead to wars. The dangers of Russian communism are added to the issues of 1870. France seeks the security of pacts with her neighbors. The old balance-of-power theory holds sway despite the work of the League of Nations. And Japan and Russia rise as representing the challenge of Asiatic powers. In what particular are we growing more "civilized?"

REPORT OF PERSONAL SERVICE WORK IS OUTSTANDING

Receiving for the sixth time the monthly attendance award in First Baptist Missionary union, Anna Saltee circle members were told in a general meeting yesterday that they will be guests of honor at the next social.

The pin for having most daily Bible readers went to Elkin Lockett circle. Mrs. E. L. Anderson, general chairman, was in charge of the business meeting in which all five circles participated.

Good reports were heard from chairmen of standing committees. Outstanding was the report of Mrs. H. T. Cox, chairman of personal service. She told of 447 visits made by members of the union the past month, 233 pieces of literature distributed, 21 meals, 28 garments, and 10 bouquets given.

Mrs. R. W. Tucker presented the missionary program, scanning the pages of Royal Service Magazine. Prayer for the revival which will start Sunday ended the meeting.

Members present were Mrs. E. Leech, Louis Tarpley, F. W. Smith, Keith Caldwell, R. M. Mitchell, J. C. Bernard, Calvin Whitley, K. T. May, David Campbell, C. E. Cheatham, Herman Whitley, Othie Hawkins, W. H. Hawkins, A. L. Lee, A. A. Neal.

Pampa Youth Is To Head District Endeavor Again

Fred Lamb of Pampa was re-elected president of the Panhandle Christian Endeavor convention when it met in Memphis over the week-end with about 150 young people and adult leaders registered.

John S. Mullen, First Christian minister here, was named pastoral counselor from Christian churches, and the Rev. Charles Dickey of Canyon has the same position from Presbyterian churches.

Other Pampans named to district offices were Charles Frost Madeira, who is chairman of extension, and John Martin, publicity chairman.

The convention opened Friday evening with a welcome from Norman Eyer of the First Christian church of Memphis. Fred Lamb gave the president's message then.

The feature address was on "The Task of the Church in Today's World," by Dr. R. C. Snodgrass of marillo.

Mr. Mullen spoke Saturday on "The Youth Building a New World," a foundation for the Christian world. Travis White of Dallas, state secretary, also spoke Saturday.

Discussion groups were organized during the day. A banquet was enjoyed in the evening, when officers were elected. The main speaker Sunday was Dr. J. A. MacMillan of Memphis Presbyterian church.

Those who attended from Pampa were Wayne Hutchens, Morris Bewley, Ruth Ann Plunk, Alice Reedy, Doris Hall, Madge Tiemann, Turner Ferrall, Fred Johnson, Maurice Wooten, Charles Madeira, Fred Lamb, John Martin, and Mr. Mullen.

BRIDAL SHOWER IS ONE RECENT MIAMI EVENT

MIAMI, April 2.—Mrs. Bill Day of LeFors, recent bride, was complimented with a lovely shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Hayter with Mrs. L. B. Cross and Mrs. John Airington assisting as hostesses. The bride received a great number of beautiful and useful gifts.

Mmes. Holt Barber, C. B. Locke, Wesley Davis and Miss Juanita Haynes will appear on the program at the Lions club district meeting at McLean Tuesday evening. These young ladies recently entertained at a local Lions club banquet and received great favor.

A very impressive program and pageant was presented at the Baptist church Sunday evening, depicting the coming of Christ and the parable of the ten virgins. A very large crowd attended the services and heard the beautiful songs of accomplished singers.

Miss Betty Wycoff, a freshman at W. T. S. T. C., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wycoff.

Holt Barber has returned from Jacksonville, Texas, where he spent several days visiting his parents and attending to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Dial and son plan to leave this week to make their home in Plainview where Mr. Dial has accepted a position.

Mrs. Ivan Conklin and son returned to their home in Shattuck Monday after a pleasant visit with her mother, Mrs. E. G. George.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Low and daughters returned home Monday evening from a visit with relatives in Greenville.

Club members who attended the district federation convention at Plainview last week were: Mrs. E. F. Ritchey, Child Study club; Mrs. Holt Barber, Junior Home Progress club; Mrs. Kenneth Mead and Miss Anne Hopkins, Junior Culture club.

Music Clubs of State Convene Thursday Night

SAN ANGELO, April 2.—State and district officials of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs will meet in executive session here Wednesday with the twentieth annual convention of the state unit to open officially Thursday.

Mrs. I. D. Cole of Amarillo, state president, and Mrs. John Alexander Jardine, of Fargo, N. D., national president, are expected to arrive tonight. Outstanding features of the conclave will be the artist concert on Thursday night when Edward Kane will be presented, the Texas composers program Friday night and junior day Saturday, the closing session. Arrangements have been made for 300 adult delegates and visitors and more than 2,000 juniors. The Philharmonic society of this city is the hostess club.

CLERK SILENT ABOUT DIVORCE FROM HEIRESS

WON'T LEAVE JOB TO JOIN FORMER ANNE GOULD

SAN ANTONIO, April 2.—(AP)—Young Frank Meador, the bank clerk, preferred not to discuss reasons for his separation from his bride of less than a year, Mrs. Anne Gould Meador, saying today "I wouldn't want to say anything to hurt her feelings."

"I'm still very fond of my wife," he said in explaining his reticence. He could see no chance for a reconciliation.

Meador, who revealed yesterday that they had been separated for "more than a month," said divorce proceedings would not be started immediately.

The Texas said he and his wife, heiress to the Gould railroad fortune, were "waiting to see who made the next move."

Meador said he had no idea his wife would fall to return when she went east to attend the funeral of her father about a month ago. Instead of coming back to San Antonio, she went to Florida.

Meador minimized his refusal to accompany his wife to her father's funeral as a factor in the separation. He said his business didn't allow him to make trips on the spur of the moment.

"My wife is very decided in her refusal to return and I'll certainly not leave my business connections here," he said. Meador explained the Hi-Lo club at her home, 221 N. Sumner.

to Reign at A

Miss Elizabeth Pool, San Antonio, will reign as queen over the 1935 Cotton Style Show and Pageant at Texas A. & M. college April 5 with W. A. Moseley, Quannah, as king. Miss Pool was elected by the student council of Texas State College for Women (CIA) upon the Aggie invitation. Seventy-five young women representing educational institutions of Texas are expected to appear in the royal court.

SIMSES WHITTLE OPPONENTS' LEAD IN FIRST DAY OF PLAY WITH THE NEW BRIDGE RULES

NEW YORK, April 2.—(AP)—Hal Sims is confident today that all is not lost in his 150-rubber bridge tussle with Ely Culbertson, the new bridge rules notwithstanding.

In the face of pessimistic predictions that the new scoring would make it difficult to overcome a Culbertson lead of nearly 10,000 points, Sims and his wife, Dorothy, proceeded to win 9 of the 13 rubbers played yesterday, reducing the Culbertson advantage to 5,940 at the end of 52 rubbers.

As has been the case almost every night since the match started, Culbertson and his wife, Josephine, rallied late in the evening, winning the last two rubbers and bolstering a lead that had dwindled to 3,160 at the end of the 50th rubber.

Mrs. Sims was sure the swing to the Culbertsons on the last two rubbers was because she had sent her pet poodle, "Manx," home for the night just before the second last rubber started. "Manx" will be at her side when the match is resumed this afternoon.

The fact that the new rules were in effect for the first time in the match yesterday did not seem to make any change in the bidding, and those who looked for sensational bids were disappointed.

Two small slams were bid during the day, both by the Culbertsons and both successful. The Simses accounted for their success during the afternoon and early evening by making the most of a good run of cards and avoiding, for the most part, any dangerous contracts.

Of 52 rubbers already played, the Culbertsons have won 29 and the Simses 23, with a total point score of 46,000 to 40,000. The honor count shows the Culbertsons leading in aces, 648 to 634, trailing in kings, 623 to 657, and ahead in queens, 689 to 691.

CANADIAN NEWS

CANADIAN, April 2.—Georgine Henderson, who attends school at Canyon, is visiting here.

Ross Cornelius of Pampa was here on business yesterday. Mrs. George Ayers of Shattuck visited here Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Dingwall entertained the Bid-a-Bit club with husbands of members and other guests Saturday night.

BYPU Program Is Given as Broadcast A "broadcast" from the Senior Prep B. Y. P. U. meeting rooms was presented in the general assembly of First Baptist training unions Sunday evening. Harold McMurtry acted as announcer.

The program was given an authentic air by use of microphone and amplifier arranged with the help of Carl Benefiel and Mr. Harvey of the local theaters.

After a devotional conducted by R. E. Gatlin, a talk was given by Melvin Lancaster, a reading by Albertine Schukley, and a song by a girls' quartet: Rita Holmes, Inez Hawkins, Frances Coffey, and Marie Mathews.

Recent Marriage Here Announced

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Allegra King of Sentinel, Okla., and Roy Van Kirk of Pampa, on March 30. The ceremony was read by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, First Baptist minister, at the parsonage.

Mr. Van Kirk is the brother of Mrs. Joe Vincent here. The couple are at home in Pampa.

Party and a Picnic Given by Young People

April Fool entertainment was followed by a business meeting when officers were elected by the young couples' class of the Presbyterian church yesterday evening in the church annex.

Mrs. A. F. Smith was chosen president, Mrs. Ted White vice president, and Miss Dorothy Mullen secretary and treasurer. Mrs. L. Burney Shell is teacher of the church annex.

Plans were made for a program to be presented at the monthly church dinner next week. After the "foolish" games and the business meeting, Mmes. Smith and Shell served refreshments.

Several cars loaded with young people were driven to the Ledrick ranch yesterday evening, when Berean class of First Christian church enjoyed a picnic.

After an hour of games, the delicious picnic lunch was spread for the large crowd present. Class members and guests were accompanied by the teacher, John S. Mullen.

LAND FAVORS STRENGTHENING LEAGUE SYSTEM

British Diplomat Is Now Confering In Poland

By A. D. STEFFERUD, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

WARSAW, April 2 (AP)—A hint that Polish statesmen may propose strengthening of the League of Nations in their talk with Captain Anthony Eden was contained today in the Gazeta Polska, whose information is regarded as officially inspired.

The visit of the British diplomat, the organ said editorially, comes at a time when the European system based on the Geneva organization "begins to shiver."

"One must either modify and fortify the league or create a new system," Gazeta Polska said. "The latter proposal is very difficult because such a new plan would have to be general and elastic to prove effective."

A full day was outlined for Eden, beginning with preliminary conferences with English officials. He will lunch with President Ignace Moscicki and join Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish dictator, for tea in the afternoon. There the principal discussions for which he came to Warsaw probably will take place.

Tonight Eden was to dine with Burgomaster Adolphe Max. The British lord privy seal, whose pilgrimage in the cause of peace has carried him so far on a 2,500-mile trip from London to Paris, Berlin, and Moscow, appeared fatigued when he stepped from his railway coach last night. The entire foreign office staff was on hand to welcome him.

The Gazeta sounded the note of cordiality which everywhere appeared to attend Eden's reception. "There is a close bond between Polish and British foreign policies," the organ said. "Both countries are earnestly concerned with stabilizing peace. Both are against groups opposing one another."

"Their methods are also similar in that they are quiet and pointed. Poland is confident that Great Britain wants to have European questions settled fairly and loyally. We hope Eden's visit will greatly help clearly present conditions."

Repercussions in some quarters that Eden was bringing with him from Moscow a suggestion that the proposed eastern security pact be split into Baltic and Danubian agreements.

SYNOPSIS: Being James Stinson, III, of New Concord, Kas., is a considerable distinction, especially now that the death of his grandparent has made the boy head of his family. But James believes that their death has also robbed him of his faith in a commiserate God. Judge Holcomb, his good friend, is explaining a similar situation in his own youth to the boy.

Chapter Seven

HOPE AGAIN

"And you went on believing in God?" asked James. "In a pitting God?"

"I went on hating Him," the Judge said. "I strutted around hating Him like a pompous little barium cock. It gave me an enormous satisfaction, I can tell you."

"And then what?" James asked, interested.

"Then I grew up and realized I was a confounded ass and that my picaresque hates and despairs mattered no more to the Almighty than the love affairs of a house-maid."

James laughed. He said shyly: "It was kind of you to tell me. But I don't hate God. I just don't believe in Him or in a Hereafter."

"I think men just made Him up because they couldn't bear not to." "There are a lot of arguments, I might give you, but you probably know most of them. Here's the best one, one I got hold of a thousand years ago and leached onto and never let go."

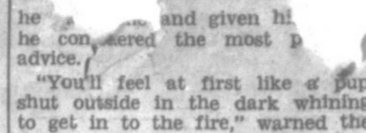

He leaned over the desk, tore a sheet off a pad, held it over Lulu's black and crimson beak and lighted it, letting the ash fall into the tray.

Speaking slowly and authoritatively the Judge went on to explain the law of physics, that nothing in or on or under this earth can be lost or done away with, only changed as the paper had changed under their eyes to ashes and ash, but never by any possibility blotted out or annihilated—all a commonplace to any but a school boy.

To James it was both new and revolutionary. With his quick intelligence he grasped it instantly and a God-given hope sprang to life in his heart. If even his flesh could only be changed into its original elements would his intelligence, his personality change in some unimaginable manner, but still survive? Unaccountably he did not like to ask the Judge.

"But how about goodness and honor and intangibles like that?" he finally questioned.

"I believe that the things of the spirit must go on. They are stronger, more powerful than organic matter. The faith that moves mountains, builds cathedrals . . . I am certain that they are not lost, though I am not wise enough with my finite mind to under-

BRIEFS FROM TRAINING CAMPS

By The Associated Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 2.—There's been little mention of Bob Rolfe in the New York Yankees' spring training news, but the red-head from Dartmouth goes quietly about his job, a certain infield starter when the season gets under way. Some expert baseball critics believe Rolfe is the best third baseman the Yankees have had since Joe Dugan's day.

ORLANDO, Fla., April 2.—Harry Eisenstat, New York schoolboy pitcher, not only has won himself a berth on the Brooklyn Dodger staff but Casey Stengel is thinking of using him in a starting role. So far this spring, the youngster has pitched seven innings in relief and no one has scored on him yet. He pitched the last two innings against Cincinnati yesterday and allowed one hit.

McCOMB, Miss., April 2.—The New York Giants' lineup for 1935 is set with the single exception of center field, where either Hank Leiber or George Davis will get the call. Leiber has been doing most of the playing there, but that's mainly because Terry already knows what Davis can do. Leiber will have to prove he can hit major league pitching before he can "push Davis out of the regular job."

GALVESTON, April 2.—As pruning time nears for the Pirates it looks as if First Baseman Earl Browne and Catcher Aubrey Epps will be given assignments with Birmingham for a little more seasoning. Pitchers Mace Brown and Wayne Osborn and Catcher Malcolm de Weese, all promising youngsters, probably will find berths on the Bucs' eastern farms for training.

HELEN WOULD NEVER BE PRO SHE DECLARES

BUT SHE WOULD LIKE TO PLAY TENNIS IN MOVIES

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND, Associated Press Sports Writer.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2 (AP)—Helen Wills Moody, now testing her physical condition for a possible comeback, hopes to scale the international tennis heights once more but whether or not she is destined to rule the courts again she never will turn professional.

"The one time queen of the net sport also thinks 'it would be fun' to act in a motion picture based on tennis.

Reactions of the young matron, whose parabolic sweep through the tennis skies saw her start as a girl in pigtail in 1923 and finished with a disheartening back injury and default to Helen Jacobs a decade later, were set down in a series of questions answered today for the Associated Press.

Mrs. Moody's fondest hopes are to return to international competition. "I would like to take part in the big events in tennis, provided my game gets a good start now. It is a little hard to tell just now when I will be able to play in a tournament. It is better to play in some small tournaments first," she wrote.

An emphatic "no" was her reply to the query would she "consider turning professional?"

"In round about fashion she disclosed she would enjoy acting in a movie. 'Almost everyone imagines it would be fun to be in a movie, I should think,' she replied.

On the subject of liberalizing the amateur tennis rules to permit players to act in motion pictures with a tennis plot without jeopardizing their standing, Mrs. Moody expressed the belief "eventually some provision will be made by the various tennis associations permitting players to play tennis in the movies."

Comparing the brand of tennis played today with that in 1923 when she won her first American title, Mrs. Moody said, "I should say there are no players the equal of Suzanne Lenglen, the great French player, but that there are many more good women players than there used to be."

TO TRY METHVIN AGAIN
 MIAMI, Okla., April 2 (AP)—Henry Methvin, former pal of Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker charged with the murder of a constable at Commerce April 6, will not be released to Texas or Louisiana until another attempt to convict him is made here. A. Clark, Ottawa county attorney, insisted today on another trial, and said he was confident of a conviction, in view of additional testimony he expects.

Overcame Her Nervousness

"A few years ago," writes Mrs. Charles Shill, of Hattiesburg, Okla., "I was weak and run-down. It seemed that nervousness was about to get the best of me. My mother told me about Cardui and that is what I decided to take. After I began taking Cardui, my appetite was better. I gained strength and was less nervous. By the time I had taken two bottles, I felt fine."

First, better appetite, and then more strength and a feeling of wellbeing! Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Robinson Breaks With Authors Of Wage Amendment

WASHINGTON, April 2. (AP)—Resignation of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, smoldered today among senators who wrote the wage amendment which has stirred up a dispute delaying final action on the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill.

They met to decide whether to resign from the conference committee charged with settling congressional differences over the measure. Prior to their meeting Senator Glass (D., Va.) asserted that Robinson had reflected upon the ability of the conferees to carry out their duty conscientiously.

He referred to the Arkansasian's assertion that it was "regrettable that the custom has prevailed in the senate of too frequently committing a bill to its enemies."

At the heart of the controversy between the two southerners was an amendment which would require that one-third of the $90,000,000 set aside in the works bill for loans and grants to states and local governments be spent directly for labor.

In an effort to eliminate this requirement, the house sent the measure back to conference yesterday after hearing that was what President Roosevelt wanted it to do.

Glass then asserted that he might decline to serve in a new conference on the measure. If he continued on the committee, he would require that the administration's desire for elimination of the wage amendment.

It was indicated that should Glass resign, Senators Hale (R., Maine) and Keyes (R., N. H.) also would leave the committee. The possibility that Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.) might resign, too, was suggested in some quarters.

If these four stepped out, new senate conferees would be appointed to serve with Senator McKellar (T., Tenn.), the only member of the committee at the event he decided to continue.

Should the present conferees forget their dissatisfaction with the situation sufficiently to participate in another conference with house representatives, it was expected generally that a conference would be called for later in the day.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 2. (AP)—After trailing the utilities and rails to slightly higher levels today, the stock market later ran into difficulties through selling of some of the metals and a few industrials. The heavy spots were effectively scattered, however, and the close was only about easy. Transfers approximated 550,000 shares.

BUSINESS MEN

be held separately from the Pioneers Roundup, and special amusements would be promoted for the visitors.

Supt. R. B. Risher of the Pampa Independent school district suggested that the Pre-Centennial committee submit a detailed outline of the plans and subjects to be portrayed in the pageant and parade to the local schools, and that the 3,500 pupils in the system could learn the historical significance of the period to be studied, the Texas history stories to be celebrated. This suggestion was also adopted, and the historical events to be covered in fete will be given to the schools very soon.

All speakers expressed satisfaction that horses and wagons will be used in the parade instead of trucks on which the floats were built last year.

Mrs. Finis Jordan suggested that Pampa people wear costumes of the era to be celebrated before the event. She suggested men wear hirsute adornments, beards and whiskers, that were the fashion in 1835, and that the women also wear costumes. This was done on a small scale last year.

Clyde Fathree suggested that all the stores decorate their windows with historical relics for the celebration. Ivy E. Duncan, member of the Centennial advisory board for Gray county, was the first speaker. He praised last year's celebration and the plans for this year. He suggested that chuck wagons at which ranch food such as beans, son-of-a-gun and other cowboy fare be let as concessions and operated during the celebration.

J. N. Duncan said that the Pre-Centennial last year was a success and that he favored staging another as successful. He approved his son Ivy's suggestion that a street dance be held. He recalled a street dance held here a number of years ago which drew a mammoth crowd.

Judge Newton P. Willis said he did not see how the floats the pageant, the square dances, the barbecue and the Pioneers Roundup of last year could be improved upon, but that he was sure it would be after he heard the plans. He suggested that the date be changed because May 30 falls on decoration day, and the committee will meet soon to consider that point. Judge Willis offered numerous plans to improve the event. Co-operation and approval were expressed in other short talks by C. P. Buckler, Hollis Keys, Fred Cullum, Charlie Thomas, C. T. Hunkapillar, chairman of the band committee.

Mack Graham, president of the Board of City Development, promised the support and cooperation of that body, expressing approval and praise for the Pre-Centennial. He urged the business men and the citizenship of Pampa to assist in any way possible.

H. L. Polley presided at the meeting. Dick Hughes, chairman of the pageant committee, stated the purpose of conference was to crystallize the attitude of the business men, to ask their cooperation and to receive suggestions. He said ment on account of the principal of the loan, the service fee, and the estimated monthly proportion of the annual taxes and insurance premiums on the property and the mortgage.

11. What insurance is required. Fire and other hazard insurance protecting the interest of the lender as well as the borrower, and the mutual mortgage insurance, the basis of this new system.

12. Does this plan apply only to new dwelling constructions? No; it applies equally to present dwellings conforming to the standard requirements under the new plan.

13. Does that mean I can refinance my present home now carrying an old-style mortgage under the new mortgage plan? Yes.

14. What advantage would this give me? It changes your obligation under your present mortgage to a new mortgage at more or one lump sum at maturity date, into an obligation to pay off in convenient monthly payments over a term of years usually substantially longer than provided in your present mortgage. It makes possible the merging of your mortgage with the second mortgage if there is one at present upon your home, thus eliminating the danger to you in owing money to two or more lenders whose interests may conflict. It eliminates the necessity for paying late on your mortgage, or less frequent intervals. It provides for regular payments well within your income. It reduces the cost of your mortgage financing.

15. How does it reduce my cost of mortgage financing? By setting maximum permitted rates of interest for the type of transaction you contemplate and maximum permitted fees for appraisal and closing fees now necessary when refinancing the present type of mortgage.

16. How much time am I given to repay the insured mortgage loan? Whatever time is reasonable under the circumstances applying in your case, up to a total maximum permitted period of 20 years.

17. If my future circumstances permit, can I pay off the entire mortgage in full before it matures on the monthly payment basis? Yes.

18. Can I secure an insured mortgage and leave another mortgage on the property? No.

19. Does the government provide the money under the insured mortgage plan? No. It is private money, loaned by approved institutions who are simply beneficiaries under the mutual mortgage insurance fund administered by the Federal Housing Administration.

20. What do I do first to replace my present mortgage with an insured mortgage on my present home? See your own bank or Building and Loan association or Insurance company. If it is not an approved institution, write the Federal Housing Administration in your state, and secure the name of an approved institution. Then see it; secure a mortgage application form; fill this form out. One of the officers of the institution will help you complete this form.

21. What happens next? The lending institution will determine whether it desires to make the loan. If so, it will submit the application to the Federal Housing Administration for approval. If approved, the institution will be authorized to complete the transaction with you.

22. Am I limited under the new plan to borrowing only what I now owe under my present mortgage? Not necessarily; in many cases it will be possible to borrow enough more to provide money for modernizing your home, or for other purposes.

23. If I want to build a new home, what do I do? Discuss the matter in general with an approved lending institution. Tell them how much cash you can invest in the deal and the value of the land if you already own it. Indicate about the price of the house you wish to build, and how much you can afford to pay each month. With these tentative figures it can determine whether such a loan would be acceptable to it from a credit standpoint. If so, you should have the plans and specifications drawn by a competent architect and estimates made by one or more competent and responsible contractors. With these prepared, you should then make a mortgage application as outlined above.

24. What happens next? If the location and type of house and the mortgage application are approved by the Federal Housing Administration, it will give a firm commitment to the lending institution that it will insure your mortgage when the job and transactions are complete. With this commitment made, your or your contractor can secure a construction loan and proceed with the erection of your home.

25. Will having an insured mortgage prevent me selling my house? No.

26. I have $1,500 cash, $200 a month income, and the house I want to buy is worth $5,000. What sort of a deal could I make? Your $1,500 cash will provide a 30 percent down-payment on a $5,000 house. This will leave $3,500 to be financed. Interest, repayment of principal, mortgage insurance premium, and service fee will not exceed $31 a month over a period of 15 years (you will not require the maximum period of 20 years). Taxes and fire and other "hazard" insurance premiums are in addition to this, and, of course, vary with the type of construction, the city in which the house is located, and other circumstances. It is considered good budgeting if shelter does not cost more than 25 percent of your income. There is more than an adequate margin between the monthly payments of $31 and 25 percent of your income ($50 per month) to cover taxes, insurance, and a fair amount for maintenance.

27. Why was this new system not established long ago? Because never before have such large numbers of both lenders and borrowers realized at the same time the fundamental faults of the old system, and recognized through their representatives in congress the ne-

"Now this owl I'm talking about inhabits eastern North America from Florida, Louisiana and Eastern Texas all the way up to Minnesota. He stands about 14 inches high. For the rest of these horned owls there's the long eared owl, no relation, the arctic horned owl, dusky horned owl, eastern horned owl, little elf owl, and the biggest horned owl, the lapp, snowy, and great grey owls."

Huey took another deep breath and 15 girls, busily engaged with their typing but with one ear open to all this explanation, paused in general with an approved lending institution. ## Wading Pool Is Located in Park

Survey for the Rotary club wading pool, to be constructed in the city park, was made yesterday. Work will be started immediately. The pool will be the first of several to be constructed in various parts of the city.

The pool will be constructed in the form of a Rotary wheel, with the outside wall being part blue and part gold, the Rotary colors. In the center of the circle, which will be 28 feet in diameter, will be a spray. It will be built in the northwest corner of the park, opposite the north entrance, off Cuyler street.

tion were sent there to try to avert "bloodshed."

Some of the city and county officials had said there might be bloodshed today and we wanted to get enough Rangers there to prevent any disturbances," Nesbitt said. The four supplemented the two already in the coast city.

"Our Rangers are under instruction to prevent bloodshed if possible," the adjutant general said.

The mayor, district attorney and sheriff of Corpus Christi had appealed to Nesbitt to withdraw Rangers to avert "bloodshed." Their telegram was sent the night between Ranger Al Ale and a Corpus Christi political leader. The adjutant general's answer was to send the additional men there. He said they would remain "for a few days."

Lions to Divide Time Between 2 Meetings Tonight

Pampa Lions tonight will divide their time between two meetings. One will be a zone meeting at McLean, at which an international director of the organization will be honored. The session will start at 8 p. m.

Other Lions will attend a rehearsal of the Lions 1935 musical show at the cafeteria in the red building on the central campus. This will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Because of the necessity of staging the minstrel and musical revue this month, it was regarded as necessary to hold a practice tonight. A better turnout of club men will be necessary to make the show a success.

IF YOU FEEL "USED UP"... GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"FIRE FIGHTING IS MY JOB," says Stanley Adams, fireman. "It's exciting, yes—but it's difficult, exhausting work, too. There's a lot of pleasure in a Camel, especially when you're tired out. When I feel 'all in,' I like a Camel to freshen me up. Camels give me new pep' and energy. Camels have more flavor—add yet they're mild, for I've found I can smoke them steadily and they never upset my nerves. I'm ready any time to 'walk a mile for a Camel!'" (Signed) STANLEY ADAMS
