Free on Bond, Man Picked Up for Forgery

Free on bond on a burglary charge, Cecil Leroy Jones, Pampa, was back in jail today charged with forgery.

Jones was picked up last night by City Police Capt. James B. Conner shortly after Jones was reported attempting to cash a forged check.

The checks, police said were forged on O. C. Vance, Pampa moving contractor.

Police quoted Jones as readily admitting the forgeries, five checks actually cashed, and two torn up and hidden under his porch. Police recovered the two torn checks and picked up the cashed checks amounting to $38.60.

Jones is now under bond on a charge of burglary of the Southwestern Public Service yard where several spools of copper wire were taken, the insulation burned off and sold for scrap copper to a Borger junk yard. Two other local men and a woman were implicated with Jones in the burglaries.

Last year, Jones was implicated with his father in the forgery of a government check that had been sent to his sister in Haskell, Okla.

The father went to the federal penitentiary, but young Jones was turned loose.

Woman Held For Murder

CISCO, Texas — (AP) — The estranged wife of a Cisco cafe cook was held on a murder charge today after her husband died of gunshot wounds.

Emory Moad, son of the Rev. C. S. Moad of Cisco, died yesterday, two days after he was shot while sitting in a car in front of his wife's home.

His wife, Alba, 36, was charged with murder.

Last week Mrs. Moad, carrying her arm in a sling, tried to get a restraining order against Moad. She accused him of beating her and displayed severe bruises.

Moad formerly owned a tourist court here. His father has been pastor of the Church of God Church here more than 25 years. Services for Moad were arranged for today in the Church of God Church, with an out-of-town minister officiating. Survivors include his parents, widow, four brothers, three sisters, and two daughters, both in high school.

WE SAW ...

A turnip, which, like Texas, is big. It was raised in the corner of a garden at 726 W. Kingsmill, the home of P. E. Meadows. There is three pounds of profit in this turnip that, with rain, big fruit and vegetables will grow in the Panhandle.

WE HEARD ...

Panhandle winds are at it again. We saw a large ant yesterday trying to make his way down the sidewalk. However, the wind caused him to lose more ground than he gained.

MAYOR OF GIRLSTOWN—Little Marie, the youngest member and also the oldest citizen of Girlstown, breaks ground for Girlstown new home south of Whiteface, Texas. Miss Amelia Anthon, founder and director of the home for needy girls, helps Little Marie, who is just 20 months old, has been designated mayor of Girlstown. T. B. Duggan of Lubbock recently donated a 1,400 acre site near Whiteface to Girlstown and which will be constructed a $125,000 home for 64 girls. (AP Photo)

Reciprocal Trade Bill Is Debated

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate came up today to debate on the sharply contested reciprocal trade agreements bill.

Passage of this measure is one of the most urgent demands President Truman has made of his Senate leaders. It passed the House by a 319

Author of B-36 Memo Ask Immunity

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Undersecretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball testified today that the author of the once-anonymous memo that touched off the B-36 bomber investigation once asked him for immunity.

Kimball said his suspended special assistant, Cedric Worth, author of the document, told him last May "if I would promise immunity."

That was before Worth acknowledged in Congressional investigation that he was the author.

Kimball, a witness in a special Navy court investigation of the background of the paper said he couldn't offer immunity. He added that he didn't even know what the immunity would be from.

Furthermore, Kimball said, he doesn't know anybody else in the Navy who might have prepared the memo. He said if he had "I would have had them suspended or court martialled."

The document suggested that frauds and politics surrounded development of the B-36 bomber by the Air Force. It reflected on Secretary of Defense Johnson and Secretary of Air Symington.

Worth retracted all the charges when grilled by the House armed services committee. The committee exonerated Johnson, Symington, and everybody else of any corruption.

Now the Navy is trying to find out whether anyone else in the Navy helped Worth prepare the anonymous memo.

Cmdr. W. E. Sweeney, now on the staff of the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, testified that most of three sections of the anonymous document were based on a memorandum he gave Worth, and on a document whose contents were kept secret by the court. These sections dealt with prospects of using jet propulsion for the B-36.

Sweeney formerly was a special assistant to Kimball along with Worth.

School Basement Set as Smoker

GOSHEN, N.Y. — (AP) — School Principal Charles Hooker doesn't like the idea personally, but it's now officially okay for his teenage students to smoke in the school basement.

After a pool of parents, Hooker ordered a special basement smoking room set up for the opening of Central District school's new term today.

The school has pupils from the fourth grade through high school.

Hooker sent out questionnaires asking parents about it. Most of the 86 out of 287 who replied said "let the youngsters smoke."

So Hooker opened the smoking room — for use by students who have written approval of their parents.

Canadian River Compact Agred Upon at Meeting

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — (AP) — A spokesman called yesterday for a Canadian River compact.

The compact would affect Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and possibly Arkansas.

The group agreed that a bill authorizing a dam on the river in the Texas Panhandle should be amended to include formation of an interstate compact.

The conference was attended by Senators Anderson and Chavez of New Mexico, the New Mexico state engineer, and Judge Marvin Jones and Lawrence Hays of Amarillo, Texas.

Other Texans attending included Rex Baxter, Amarillo; Joe Cooley, Borger; Mayor C. A. Huff, Pampa; and E. K. Hufstedy and Clarence Whiteside, Lubbock. Attorney Fred E. Wilson represented the New Mexico Interstate Stream Commission.

Anderson said he was not satisfied with the present bill before Congress. He added that New Mexico water rights in the river basin should be protected fully.

The Democratic senator asked New Mexico Engineer John Bliss to work out the amendment to the Panhandle dam bill. Anderson said he thought the bill could be reported from a Senate committee within a few days after a satisfactory amendment is ready.

But he said at least a year of negotiations would be needed on a compact agreement before legislation on the matter would be ready for state legislatures.

Soldiers on Spree Kill One German

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — One German was killed and another severely beaten by an intoxicated group of American infantrymen assigned to current war maneuvers on the Rhine, U. S. authorities reported today.

Five soldiers of the First Division are under arrest pending further investigation of the violence at Mainz, a French Zone city on the West bank of the Rhine, two nights ago.

Dulles Would Gladly Accept Nomination

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator John Foster Dulles (R-NY) said today he would "gladly accept" the Republican nomination to run for the Senate in this fall's special New York election.

New York Republican leaders have been pressing Dulles to make the race.

Former Governor Herbert Lehman has announced he will accept the Democratic nomination if it is offered.

The contest is to fill the unexpired term of Senator Robert F. Wagner, Democrat, who resigned. The term ends Jan. 3, 1951.

When Wagner resigned in July, E. D. Kewey named Dulles to fill the seat until November's election.

At that time, Dulles said he would not be a candidate. Since then, however, party leaders have pressed him to make the race. They argue that he has a better chance than any other prospective candidate of keeping the seat for the GOP.

New York Republican and Democratic parties will hold conventions later this month to name senatorial candidates. Present indications are that neither Dulles nor Lehman will be opposed.

Dulles made known his decision at a news conference. He read a statement to reporters which said:

"As you know, I had not expected or desired to become a candidate for a further term in the United States Senate.

"I would greatly prefer that another carried that responsibility. However, I do not see how our free society can survive if those who have deep convictions reject the opportunity to carry these convictions into public life.

"Therefore, if the state Republican convention, knowing my views, should nominate me, I would gladly accept and respond to the best of my ability."

Texas Junior Bar Receives Award

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The Junior Bar of Texas was presented yesterday an award of merit for outstanding activities.

The city of Milwaukee, Wis., received a similar award. Dallas won an honorable mention in the local classification.

Junior bars are made up of lawyers under 35. The awards were presented at the convention of the American Bar Association.

Aviation Group Meet Thursday

The Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee will meet at 7 p. m. Thursday at the Schneider Hotel to discuss the county's airport expansion program, Hugh Burdette, chairman, said.

Special guests at the meeting will include city and county officials. Burdette urges all committee members to attend.

Included on the Aviation Committee are: Frank Culbertson, C. P. Buckler, H. E. McCarty, G. B. Cree, Wesley Lewis, Charles Duneke and Russell McConnell.

Mayor Attends Meet on Dam

The City Commission postponed its regular Tuesday afternoon meeting yesterday until a later date because of the absence of Mayor C. A. Huff who was in New Mexico conferring with Sen. Clinton Anderson on the Canadian Dam jam in Washington.

In addition, the monthly bills scheduled to be presented to the commission were not prepared due to the Labor Day holiday.

Mayor Huff, along with other Panhandle officials including City Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, Lubbock, with whom he flew, attended the conference centered around the Canadian Dam bill that has been jammed in committee by Anderson until he could determine if "New Mexico water rights were being imperiled by it, following an objection by the New Mexico state engineer.

Although there was nothing definite this morning, the City Commission is scheduled to meet Thursday afternoon. Outside of the monthly bills and a report by the mayor, nothing of too much importance is expected to come up, City Manager Dick Pepin said.

Joe Wells to Direct Girl Scout Drive

Joe Wells, finance chairman of the Pampa Girl Scout Association, has been named general chairman of the annual Girl Scout Drive which will begin the first part of November, Mrs. K. E. Thornton, executive, said this morning.

The drive will be started immediately after the 1949 Girl Scout Week, beginning Oct. 30, she continued.

The budget for the 1949-50 Scout year will not be increased. Membership in the association during the past year, however, has been greatly increased, the Scout executive added.

Pampa Girl Scout Association now includes troops from Pampa, surrounding communities, Le-

New Appeals For American Help Pending

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States, Britain and Canada began momentous talks today on the financial disaster which threatens Britain.

The three delegations arrived at the department with split second timing.

First were Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and his chief assistant, William McChesney Martin.

Snyder was "grim-lipped" as he stepped out of his limousine. He looked very much the banker in his dark blue suit, white shirt and dark blue tie.

Photographers were taking their pictures when some one shouted: "The British are coming."

Up drove British Foreign Minister Bevin, accompanied by Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, and British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks.

A few moments later, the Canadian delegation, led by Finance Minister Douglas C. Abbott, arrived.

Bevin described the three-power conference as a means "to win the struggle for one world, one world of free and democratic peoples."

Bevin gave his views in New York and he declined to amplify them upon reaching Washington today.

A reporter told him that Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Charles Abbott said yesterday (See BRITISH, Page 2)

Polio Drops In Texas Past Week

AUSTIN — (AP) — Polio continued to drop in Texas last week, with a total of 63 new cases reported, the lowest weekly number since June 4.

State Health Officer George W. Cox cautiously said he thought the relatively low incidence confirmed his prediction that the "time for a natural drop in polio incidence has been reached."

The 63 cases for the week ending Sept. 3 marked the fourth consecutive week in which polio has been on the decrease since the report of 121 cases for the week ending Aug. 6.

The year's total of polio in Texas now stands at 1,684, 375 cases more than for the same time last year. The outbreak this year comes within 81 cases of the all-time high of 1,765 cases for the entire year of 1948.

Dr. Cox said, "without trying to minimize the gravity of the polio situation in Texas, I think we have some cause for optimism now. If we take common sense precautions regarding basic sanitation — insect spraying and refuse clearance — I think the biggest threat from polio is over for this year."

The week's report include new cases from 33 counties, three of those — Hamilton, Hemphill and Kinney — each reported one case for the first time.

200 Attend Annual Picnic

CANADIAN — (Special) — About 200 members, their families, and guests of the Northeast Panhandle Feeders Association, gathered at the White House Country Club Monday evening for the annual picnic and get-together of the association.

The menu included steaks, cooked over an open fire, potato salad, beans, apricots, cookies and coffee.

The Picnic Committee was headed by Wayne Cleveland. Other members were Lee George, George Earl Tubbs and Sam Kreibler, Canadian; W. R. Heat Glazier; and Boone Tyson of Higgins. Assisting with the cooking was Homer Jamison of Glazier.

Guests present were Dave Savage and party of the Western Great Plains Experiment Station, Woodward, Okla.; Lee Welch of Ferriss; and the E. F. Tapp family of Canadian. Welch is brand inspector for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in this area.

Officers of the host association are R. T. Kelley, Jr., president; E. S. F. Brainerd, vice president; Calvin Isaacs, secretary; treasurer.

White Deer Lions Hold Steak Fry

WHITE DEER — (Special) — The White Deer Lions Club entertained the Lionesses and members of the White Deer-Skellytown faculty with a steak fry, Friday evening, at Cargray Lake.

Wendell Cain, president, was in charge; Lontamer H. T. Peacock, Fred Mullings, and Ray Vineyard introduced the faculty; and B. O. Bentley, vice president of the Lions Club, introduced the members of the White Deer-Skellytown faculty.

The Rev. I. T. Hucklebee, pastor of the White Deer Methodist Church, and Mrs. Hucklebee.

Lions H. T. Dickens and George Coffee turned out some fine speeches, trying to stop it, and E. E. Poose provided the french fries to accompany them.

Senator Pays Tribute to Texas Publisher Carl Estes

LONGVIEW — (AP) — An East Texas publisher, Carl Estes of Longview, last night heard people from many stations in life pay tribute to his leadership in the industrialization of East Texas.

The climax of "Carl Estes Day" came in a ceremony on the campus of Letourneau Technical Institute.

Heading the list of notables was Senator George W. Malone (R-Nev.).

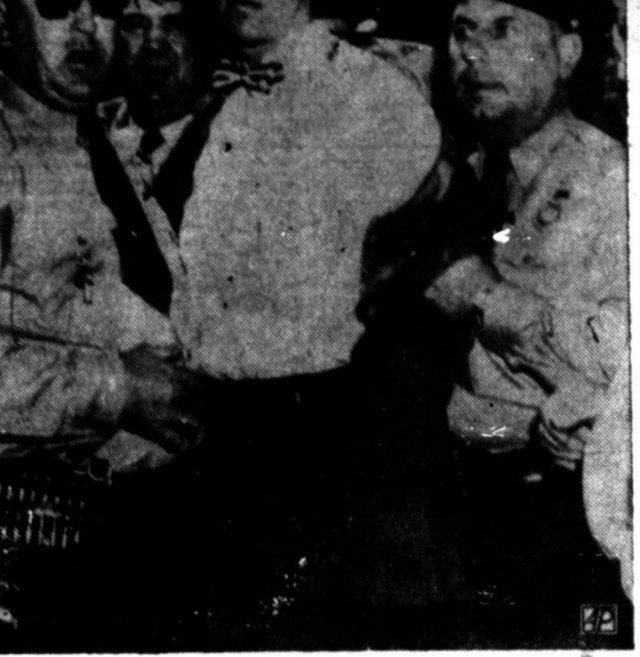

Business and civic leaders arranged the appreciation day as a tribute to Estes for his leadership over a period of years in attracting new industry to this sector.

The publisher of the Longview News and Journal was given a Cadillac sedan on behalf of business and friends. He, in turn, presented it to Letourneau Tech as the first $5,000 contribution to a fund to build a $200,000 building for the school. Mrs. Estes added another $5,000 check to the fund in lieu of a second Cadillac presented to Estes a short time ago by Harrison County citizens.

Responding to the tributes, Estes promised that a steel mill would shortly be built in East Texas. He did not elaborate on his statement.

Estes helped effect purchase of Lone Star Steel Company facilities from the federal government two years ago.

Three Texas congressmen and a number of judges were present at the ceremonies.

CAPTURED AFTER MASS SHOOTING—Howard Unruh (center), who police said shot and killed at least 12 persons and wounded five others in Camden, N. J., is forcibly restrained by officers after he was routed from his barricaded room by tear gas. (AP Wirephoto)

Psychiatrists See Killer of Thirteen

CAMDEN, N.J. — (AP) — Two psychiatrists today questioned Howard Unruh, 28-year-old war veteran who massacred 13 persons on River Road.

Twelve — five men, five women and two children — were killed yesterday as the silent, methodical Unruh put his "preconceived plan into execution."

Three others — a woman and two youths — were wounded.

The 13th, John Wilson, 10, died this morning at Cooper Hospital, where Unruh underwent an unsuccessful operation for the removal of a bullet from his hip.

Prosecutor Mitchell Cohen said Unruh's wound is not serious. Should the psychiatrists find that Unruh was sane, Cohen said he will press for an immediate grand jury indictment, early trial and death by hanging, the penalty for murder in New Jersey. Unruh already has been charged with murder.

The prosecutor told newsmen that Unruh, a Bible-reading war veteran, with an "arsenal of weapons," said in his statement yesterday that he killed because of "resentment against his neighbors."

Cohen was asked whether the Unruh was sane when he shot two women and a boy in car; a six-year-old boy getting a haircut in Hoover's barber shop, and a two-year-old boy who poked his head out of a window.

Cohen was asked whether Unruh said anything of his reaction to having killed innocent men, women and children.

"He wasn't asked that question," Cohen said. "And he didn't volunteer any motive other than the fact that he said he had been building up a grudge against his neighbors for two years since he returned from the Army."

Scout Mothers To Organize

Paul Reisenberger, executive of the Adobe Walls Area Council, will address a Scout mothers' club's organizational meeting at 7 p. m. today at the First Christian Church.

Troop 4, sponsored by the First Christian Church, plans to start the mothers' club to promote interest in the troop's activities and to stimulate individual advancement in the troop. R. M. Barrett, Scoutmaster, and his wife are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Dividend Not Subject to Tax

John B. Dunlap, collector of internal revenue, Dallas, advised veterans today that the forthcoming special dividend to be paid by the Veterans Administration on National Service Life Insurance will not be subject to income tax.

In response to numerous inquiries, the collector explained that the so-called dividends are in reality only adjustments of the premiums paid by the veterans on their insurance, and therefore do not constitute "income" under the tax laws.

Accordingly, veterans who receive these dividends should not include them in their tax returns.

Shirley May Says She Will 'Try Again'

DOVER, Eng. — (AP) — Shirley May France, red-eyed, a string-haired and tired, said today she will have another try at swimming the English Channel.

"I beat me yesterday, but I am sure I can get it next time," said the 37-year-old Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl.

She does not know when "next time" will be, but it may be in a year or two.

Shirley May was pulled out of the water yesterday afternoon after she had tried courageously for 10 1/2 hours to swim from France to England.

She was hauled out at a point estimated to be six miles from her goal, a very cold, but determined girl.

She protested violently. Her shouts of "No, No," rang out over the waves.

"I am very disappointed," Shirley May said after a warm bath and shampoo to take the grease out of her hair. "It was the first five hours of the swim that beat me."

"Those awful, chopping waves washed the grease from my shoulders and after that, of course, I got cold quickly."

The temperature of the water was never above the low sixties and in some frigid currents might have been under 60 degrees, her handlers said.

"I wonder what could have happened if I had had a good day," said Shirley May. "Anyway I am sure I can do it."

Rail Strike Planned for Friday at 3

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Representatives of three railroad operating brotherhoods with headquarters here decided today to make "no change whatsoever" in a plan to strike the Missouri Pacific Railroad at 3 p. m. Friday.

The unions were considering a National (railway) Mediation Board proposal for arbitration of grievances by a specially appointed board a proposal which Frank Douglass, a board member, said had been accepted by the railroad.

The dispute involves some 382 unsettled claims and an estimated $3,000,000. A walkout would idle about 30,000 workers.

A spokesman at one of the brotherhood headquarters here said the decision to go through with the strike was reached in a 40-minute meeting of top officials of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, brotherhood of engineers and firemen, and a brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

The Order of Railway Conductors, fourth operating brotherhood involved in the dispute, has headquarters in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and did not have a representative among the half-dozen union officials who met today at the BLE's building.

Earlier in Washington Douglass told a reporter that the mediation board had "done everything we can under the law, and then some, trying to stop it, and had no success. We've given up entirely now, and it looks like a strike."

A spokesman for the Missouri Pacific said today the railroad now is accepting no freight that cannot be delivered by 2 p. m. (CDT) Friday.

That's the effect of a freight embargo imposed by the railroad last midnight.

Fertilizer Called Not Dangerous

HOUSTON — (AP) — The fertilizer compound involved in the Texas City disaster was not a dangerous product, a chemical engineer claims.

A. M. Miller, former director of chemical engineering for the Tennessee Valley Authority, testified Tuesday in the mass trial of 200 million dollars in damage suits against the federal government.

Miller said ammonium nitrate is not a dangerous product, and declared all precautions dictated by prudence were taken in handling the fertilizer.

Miller was the first witness as the government began its case in an effort to prove it was not responsible for the 1947 disaster. Some 200 plaintiffs claim the government is liable in that ammonium nitrate fertilizer in the cargo of two vessels which exploded was manufactured at government owned ordnance plants.

Miller told Federal District Judge T. M. Keenly to be supervised research, engineering and manufacturing for TVA when production of the fertilizer began. He admitted under cross-examination it could be dangerous under some conditions.

Miller asserted the fertilizer compound involved in the disaster was not a dangerous product.

Tests of the explosibility of the material were made by the Bureau of Mines, War Production Board and other agencies, the engineer testified.

Toastmasters In New Series

The Pampa Toastmaster Club has begun a new series of dinner meetings, the first being held last night at the Courthouse Cafe. Eleven members were present.

It was announced that there is an opening for eight members, and those persons interested should attend the next meeting which will be next Tuesday night, beginning at 6:30, same place.

On next week's program will be Quentin Williams, Carl Jaynes, Ralph Thomas, Hugh Peoples, Walton Moore, Irvin Cole, and Clyde Carruth.

Grand Jury to Probe Shooting

DALLAS — (AP) — Keith Lewis Petersen, handsome Southern Methodist University student charged with shooting to death the girl who spurned his love, may go before the grand jury today.

If not today, Petersen will face the jury later this week, first Assistant District Attorney Robert H. Singleton said yesterday. Petersen, 21, has admitted he shot his sweetheart, Carolyn Schofield, 20, in the office where she worked after she told him she intended to marry another man. He has been charged with murder.

BRITISH

Bevin smiled over this idea for a moment, said he had no comment but then added, "It sounds rather good, anyway."

In three power talks starting at 10 a. m. CST the British leaders are expected to seek American agreement to speed up spending of dollars for strategic materials such as tin and rubber.

At the same time they want to relax a 1946 Anglo-American Loan Agreement provision so that Britain can increase discrimination against buying American goods.

These and other measures, which American officials are expected to receive sympathetically, are designed to (1) increase the flow of badly needed dollars to Britain and (2) enable the British to curtail the spending of the dollars and gold they now have.

Bevin was ready to argue, should the point come up, that the troubles which beset Britain are not due to its socialist government programs. He was somewhat edgy when a newsmag asked him last night about charges that British socialism has bungled the nation's economic affairs.

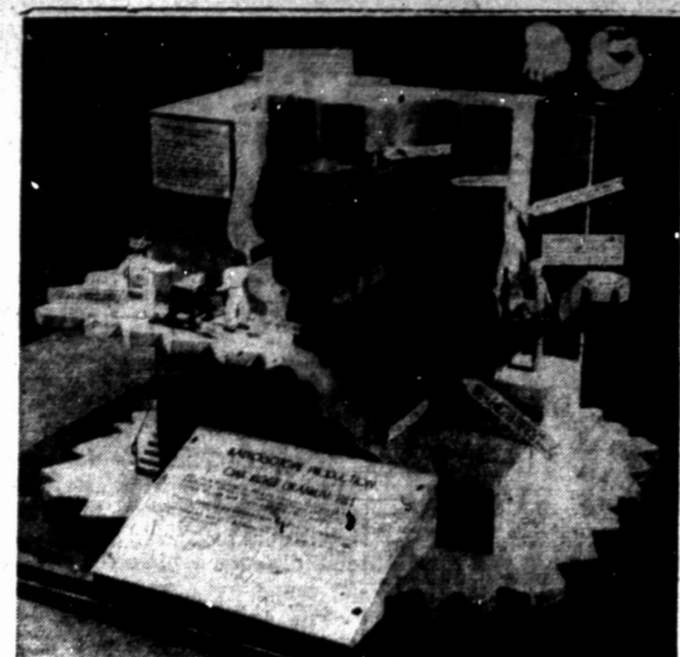

"Unintelligent people always look for a scapegoat," he replied. And later: "We are not here to blame anybody and we're not going to allow anyone to blame us."

Carrier Practices Public Relations

WATERBURY, Conn. — (AP) — The Waterbury Republican reported today that it has a route carrier who knows the value of public relations.

The Republican intended to publish an edition Labor Day morning, but couldn't because a repair job on its press was not completed in time.

When Delivery Boy Ronald Parent learned of this, he covered his route anyway, leaving this note at each customer's door: "Press broke down. Sorry, no paper today. "Your paper boy."

Little Wizards Vanish in Dallas

DALLAS — (AP) — The City Water Department wants the City Council to buy it 1,440 Little Wizards.

Why so many? City Manager Roderic B. Thomas told the council that people keep stealing the Little Wizards—the little red lanterns posted on construction jobs at night.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The cold war is a bore. A third world war is something few even wish to think about.

But the second world war is still of tremendous public interest. Politically, that war is still continuing, but its combat phase has been over for four years. And it is the period of actual fighting that people want to know more about. What was it really like? What really happened at places like Iwo Jima, Saipan, Anzio, Bastogne?

Year by year, as the memoirs and the novels pile up, the real story of mankind's greatest test-of-arms is filtering through. For war is a kind of huge jigsaw puzzle. You can't put it together and understand it all at once because the pieces come to you slowly.

The general pattern of the war can best be found in the memoirs of people who usually write the memoirs—generals and statesmen. To get the real feel of battle and the hurts it gave, you have to turn to books written by the men who fought the war and best knew its boredom and danger—the junior officers and enlisted men.

Two of the latest are "A Tent on Corsica," by Martin Quigley, an ex-sergeant in the 12th Air Force, and "Day Without End," by Van Van Praag, a former infantry platoon leader.

Both explore new territory. Van Praag tells a one-day tale of the life and death of a Doughboy platoon in the heart-breaking hedgerows of Normandy. It is rough and bitter and true. Quigley's book deals with the adventures, sometimes fatal, of a group of P-51 bomber pilots who knew they had one chance in four of getting home. It is the best story yet on the boys who rode the medium bombers.

In the pictorial field, the most ambitious presentation of the second world war is the series of 28 television films prepared by March of Time and based on Gen. Eisenhower's book, "Crusade in Europe."

This series shows the impact of war—its brutality and devastation—more graphically than any novel, merely because it is so terribly factual.

I went to a preview of one of the films with two soldiers who had fought over the area shown. "That's the way it was," said Corp. Seals W. Knight, 29, a bronze-star winner. "I don't want anymore of things like that. It was rough there."

"The public ought to know more about what war is like," said the other soldier, Corp. Oliver G. Snow, 42. "But you can't put it all in pictures. You can't put in the smell."

"If you could do that, there wouldn't be any more wars."

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcostate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, its ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcostate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

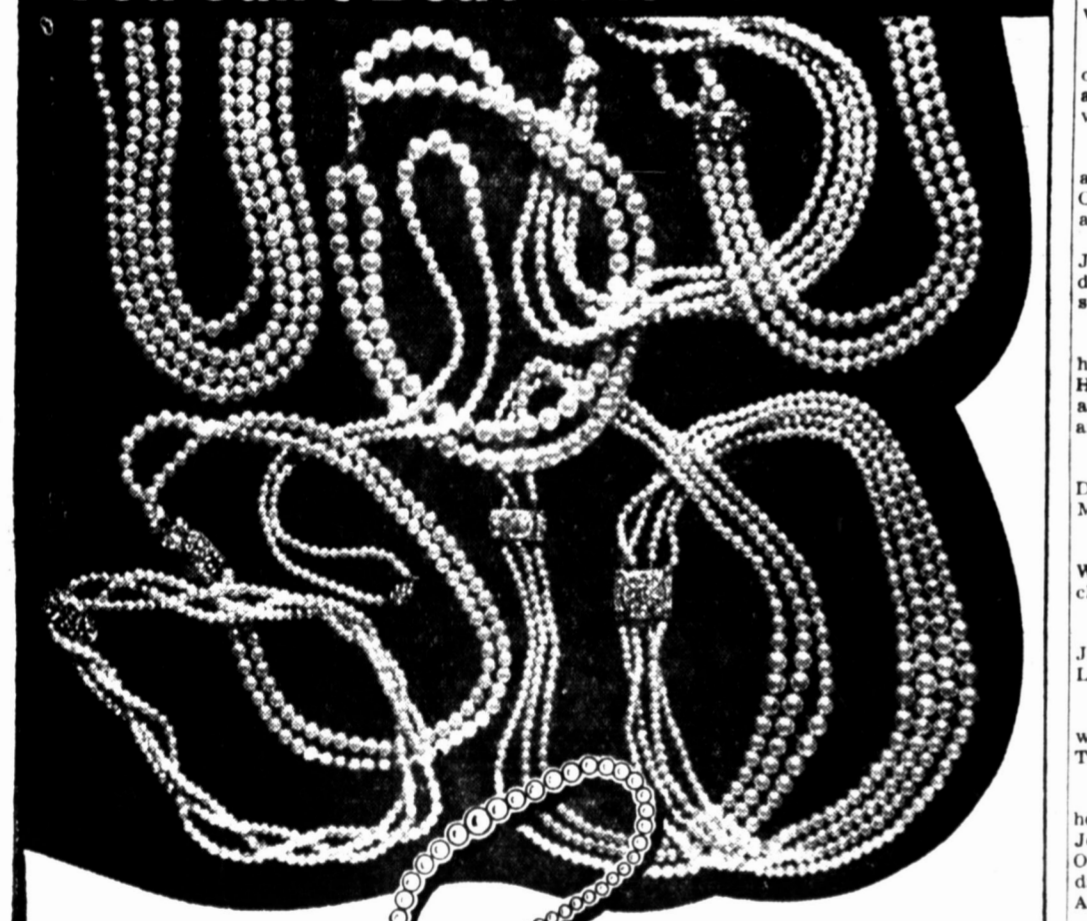

Here is proof

"I want to tell you what weight I have lost in 2 1/2 months by using Barcostate. I weighed 242 pounds when I started. I now weigh 184. I am so proud I tried it. I was told that I could not live a year unless I lost some weight. You may see my name on the bottle. —Mrs. J. B. Moore, 1824 Meser Street, Dallas, Texas.

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off extra fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcostate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two to three tablespoons twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Ex-Air Force Sergeant Sets Out to Conquer Wall Street

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — A 26-year-old ex-Air Force sergeant has set out to become the new wonder of Wall Street.

Robert M. Tannev, he said, has middle initials "doesn't stand for Midas" — opened a stock market office of his own today. Thereby, he believes, he became the nation's youngest independent broker.

As yet he hasn't tried to buy a seat on the Curb Exchange (cost: about $4,000) nor the Stock Exchange (around $40,000). But they are his next goals.

"I am primarily going after the working and middle classes for business rather than the top executives," he said.

"You don't have to be a Morgan or a DuPont to own stocks. His idea: to ring the doorbell of the common man and convince him that buying common stock in sound American industries is today's best investment bet. He plans a staff of 40 salesmen to wage a door-to-door selling campaign. He already has hired four.

Tannev, who has been buying and selling stocks since he was 11, thinks that one of the biggest things wrong with Wall Street is that too many stock salesmen merely wait for investors to phone them.

"The older men rather resent the younger generation coming in," he said. "I know some young men who are making $500 to $800 a week selling securities because they go after new business."

"And I know some oldtime customers' men who earn only $20 to $25 a week because they sit in their offices and do nothing. They put up a big front, but they eat two-bit lunches. And they have to be careful how they cross their legs — or else the hole in their shoe will show."

But Tannev thinks Wall Street has a sound future even though the flow of risk capital today is slow.

"I'll pick up," he said. "There's plenty of cash around, and banks aren't paying more than 3 percent. The public knows very little about securities."

"They need to be educated to the fact there are good stocks available now that pay from 10 to 15 percent."

Tannev plans to specialize in marketing such high-yield securities, and intends to sell them to low-income people on an allotment basis, if necessary, in the same way the government sold its wartime bonds.

"The best way to accumulate wealth," he said, "is to buy large blocks of low-priced stocks in operating companies that aren't marginal — companies that won't go under in a depression."

"In a bull market these stocks will make you many times the money that higher-priced stocks will."

The problem is to pick them. Tannev, who had to trade through his father's account until he himself was of legal age, thinks his judgment is as sound as anybody's.

MacArthur Asks Again For Treaty

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
General Douglas MacArthur's renewed call for negotiation of a peace treaty with Japan is couched in such laudatory terms regarding that defeated country's progress as to demand careful consideration by the Allied powers.

There are, however, stubborn complications to be overcome before headway can be made toward implementing the general's recommendation. Divergence of views among the Allies thus far has precluded a settlement.

MacArthur first advocated a peace treaty more than two years ago. Subsequently the Far Eastern Big Four (America, Britain, Russia and China) considered ways and means but couldn't agree on the method of procedure.

Russia wanted a treaty drafted by the four powers; America and Britain thought it should be done by the Far Eastern Commission comprising the 11 nations which fought against Japan—the United States, Russia, Britain, France, China, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Canada, Australia, India, and New Zealand. China offered an unsuccessful compromise that the Far Eastern Commission draft the treaty but that decisions be subject to the unanimity of the Big Four.

Since then the situation has become immeasurably complicated by the success of the Chinese Communists against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government. Should the Chinese Reds establish a stable regime it would split the Far Eastern Big Four into two equal camps—Russia and Communist China on one side and the Anglo-American pair on the other. It would be communism versus democracy again.

Despite the difficulties, however, the time is rapidly approaching when action will have to be taken. MacArthur says the Japanese have "fully and faithfully observed their surrender commitments" and "have well earned freedom and dignity and the opportunity which alone can come with the restoration of peace."

The general asserts that the "threat of communism as a major issue in Japanese life is past... the basic causes of social unrest throughout Asia have largely been eradicated in Japan by a re-education of the social structure to permit equalization of individual opportunity and personal privilege." The budget has been balanced.

New Type Ball, Chain Not So Hot, Bride Finds

DALLAS — (AP) — City Fireman Bill Wheelless and his bride, Miss Ruth Adams, tied the knot throughout Asia have largely been eradicated in Japan by a re-education of the social structure to permit equalization of individual opportunity and personal privilege. The budget has been balanced.

Wheelless heard that the boys down at Central Fire Station intended to stage an old-fashioned charivari. He borrowed a pair of handcuffs and snapped them on himself and his bride eight after the ceremony.

The strategy worked fine until the wedding reception was almost over and the couple was ready to leave. In the excitement Wheelless lost the key to the handcuffs.

As a result, the first honeymoon stop was at the police station to get the handcuffs unlocked.

"Believe me this is one tie that binds," said the new Mrs. Wheelless.

Hidden Camera Snaps Burglars At Their Work

HOUSTON — (AP) — Two thugs who visited a jewelry store might have worn their best bib-and-tuck. They had their pictures taken.

As they were trying to burglarize the place the early morning quiet was shattered by a loud clanging bell. A flash bulb went off for a picture. There they were — one in overalls and the other in coveralls. Not the most flattering attire for the well dressed burglar.

Police developed the film. One of the burglars was kneeling behind a counter trying to find something to steal. His back was to the camera.

The other was looking right at the birds, but looking a little frightened.

The owner of the stand rigged up the camera to discourage thieves.

Club Purchases Library Books

Among the new books to be added soon to the City Library's shelves will be 20 bought for the library by the Newcomer's Club, Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian, said.

Those 20 are serious adult works dealing primarily with family life and problems and religion and education in the home.

The library will receive soon, however, about 15 new adult fiction and non-fiction books and about 10 juveniles.

Included in the list for older readers is F. Van Wyck Mason's newest historical romance, "Cutlass Empire," a fictionalized treatment of the life of Sir Henry Morgan, famed English buccaner.

Also on the list is "The Golden Apple," by Eudora Welty, a Mississippi woman who is rated as one of the best writers to come out of the modern South.

A new biography of Charles Dickens by Hesketh Pearson will also be added to the shelves soon.

Airplanes to Use New Teletype

NEW YORK — You'll now be able to send and receive telegrams while aboard a plane, thanks to a new lightweight air-to-ground teletype unit which has just been placed on the commercial market, Aviation Week reports.

The telegraph printer terminal, manufactured by Radio Frequency Laboratories, Inc., Boonton, N. J., weighs only 15 pounds. With a shock-mounted base, it is pressurized for service up to 50,000 feet, and is completely automatic. It is a long way in weight from the 70 to 100-pound units which have kept radio telegraph tied to the ground or a vessel.

The unit permits improved air-to-ground weather reporting and gives more reliable communication than voice or code, since it eliminates possible mistakes of hearing or decoding. Also, Personnel can be more quickly trained to proficiently operate a teletypewriter than code key.

Writer Checks Dictionary on 'Statism'—Now He's Confused

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — They've got me over a barrel and all confused.

I mean President Truman, General Eisenhower, former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, and Senators Bridges, Pepper and Capehart.

They've been throwing around the word "statism" like it was a bad word that we don't want any part of.

But I looked it up in the dictionary — and there "statism" seems like a nice word about something that's always been here.

Byrnes, who once was one of the most powerful Democrats close to Mr. Truman, made a speech June 18.

He warned that "we are going down the road to statism." And he called for a cut in federal power and spending.

That, said Senator Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, in a speech about the Byrnes speech, "is quite a statement... this man has taken off the blinders."

Senator Capehart, Indiana Republican, didn't seem sure what Byrnes had in mind.

That's when I ran for the dictionary — the latest unabridged Webster's dictionary. It said "statism" means "the doctrine of state ownership of property."

Belief in a government, as in a republic, in contrast with belief in communism or a soviet government.

Now you can see why I'm confused. All these big men talking against statism and from the dictionary it seems that "statism" is a belief in the republican form of government we've always had.

We have repeatedly recognized in this country that the first priority of the joint defense program is our ability to deliver the atomic bomb.

Movie ads make it look like all the pictures are full of cheap, lurid sex. They give the whole industry a black eye.

The gangster menace (in Los Angeles) is very real. The big timers would like to break in because California is becoming a populous, wealthy and free-swinging state.

There is said to be an arbitrariness about applying customs rates that makes it impossible for the exporter to know what he is going to be charged.

All "ad valorem" or value prices used in computing customs duties are now said to be based on their fair market value in the United Kingdom at the retail level.

But a more unimpeachable source it can be revealed that the British case is being presented along two main lines.

Those school bells are ringing again, marking another milestone in the child's life.

An annual physical examination serves many purposes, keeping the child well because it locates conditions which may lead to trouble.

Your doctor will check for infected tonsils or adenoids, nose and ear infections.

The complete examination will include an analysis of the child's urine and perhaps a blood count and hemoglobin test.

If the child has not already had a smallpox vaccination, this is the time to get it.

Whether the child is just beginning his formal education or returning to an accustomed school, there will be emotional problems developing.

Almost at the same time Mr. Truman was making a Labor Day speech in Pittsburgh.

We have had three rounds of wage increases in the past three years. The country was assured that such was possible without price increases.

ATTACKS — The plain fact is that many Laborites of influence suspect that certain American interests, financial as well as political, deliberately seek the embarrassment and downfall of the Attlee-Bevins Ministry.

PERSONALLY offered Earl Bunting, as former president of the N.E.M., $10,000 to help him attempt to answer questions in defense of his belief in collective bargaining.

Dr. Sproul, do you believe that if enough people or the majority had to try to force people to pay for men you select to make speeches?

It will be remembered that I offered Dr. Sproul $1,000 if he would attempt to harmonize tax support education with the Ten Commandments or the Declaration of Independence on the sole condition that he wouldn't take up the time in answering questions by making long speeches.

It is essential for the great powers to keep in contact, to talk things over, and seriously to negotiate with one another.

The acts of the present Czechoslovak regime, directed toward the tyrannical domination of religious organizations by the police state, are clearly contrary to UN standards and as such are deplored by the United States.

Robert Sproul President University of California Requests Publication of Letter on William Green Speech

I am reproducing below a letter written to me in care of the Appeal Democrat, Marysville, California, from Dr. Robert Sproul, president of the University of California.

Dr. Sproul seems to think that I did the University an injustice when I commented on the University of California inviting William Green to give a talk on the Economics of Collective Bargaining and to pay the expenses of same.

I am glad to publish Dr. Sproul's full letter. I quote:

"Mr. R. C. Holles Appeal-Democrat Marysville, California "Dear Mr. Holles: "In your column 'Common Ground,' appearing in the Appeal Democrat on June 20, 1949, you criticize the University of California for having invited to invite William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, to speak on its campus.

"You fail to point out, however, that Mr. Green was one of a long series of speakers invited under the auspices of the Institute of Industrial Relations, organized at the suggestion of Governor Earl Warren, and dedicated to the purpose of minimizing labor-management disputes leading to strikes, and of seeking to protect the interests of the consumer, the ordinary citizen and taxpayer, in this era of costly struggles between organized labor, management and organized labor.

"In order to correct the record for your readers, I request that you publish this letter, and present the list of speakers who have appeared on the platform with Mr. Green during the past two years of discussion over labor problems. We are seeking to get all arguments on both sides, and to provide for earlier and reasonable discussion. The speakers are as follows:

1948—Economics of Collective Bargaining: Wallace Bennett, President, National Association of Manufacturers; William Green, President, American Federation of Labor; Wayne Morse, Senator from Oregon; Edwin Nourse, Chairman, Council of Economic Advisers to the President; Walter Reuther, President, United Auto Workers, CIO; Maurice Tobin, Secretary of Labor.

1948—Wages, Prices and the National Welfare: Earl Bunting, Chairman of the Board, National Association of Manufacturers; Alvin H. Hansen, Professor, Harvard University, Former Chairman, Economic Commission; John L. Lovett, Secretary and General Manager, Michigan Manufacturers' Association; Stanley H. Rutenber, Assistant Director, U. S. Bureau of Economic Warfare; Boris Shishkin, Economist, American Federation of Labor; George W. Taylor, Professor of Industry at Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania; 1949—Industrial Relations in World Affairs (On the occasion of the meetings of the International Labor Organization in San Francisco): Wilhelm Bjork, Director, Paymaster General's Office Sweden; Sir Guldhaume Myrdin-Evans, Chairman, Governing Body of the International Labor Organization, former Undersecretary, Deputy Secretary, Ministry of Labor, England; Frank Fenton (deceased), International Representative and Director of Organization, American Federation of Labor; Wou Sanjong, Director, Woodchefe Institute of New York, China; Henry Hauck, Labor Attache, French Embassy, London; S. Lally Secretary, Ministry of Labor Government of India; David A. Morse, Undersecretary of Labor, United States (at time of conference); F. Yllanes Ramos, Counsel, Textile Manufacturers Association, Mexico; Pierre Walline, General Secretary of Metal and Mining Industries; former Professor, Institute of Political Studies, University of Paris, France; J. D. Zellerbach, Chief, U. S. Special Mission to Italy for Economic Cooperation; President, Crown Zellerbach Corporation.

Sincerely yours, Robert Sproul

The list of men the University has invited to talk on the so-called "Economics of Collective Bargaining" indicates, as could be expected, how socialistic a state university is bound to be.

While it is generally believed that U. S. tariff rates are exceedingly low — too low, according to many U. S. manufacturers — a list of over 100 lines of merchandise which bear duties of over 40 percent has been prepared. The British claim they could sell this country many of these items if duties were lower.

Here are some examples: Mechanical toys, 70 percent; Paints, stains and enamels assembled in artists' sets, 50 percent; Anything manufactured out of transparent plastic sheets, 30 to 60 percent; Mica films, 40 percent; Lamp globes and shades, 45 percent; Bottles, vials and jars, 50 percent; Lenses of glass, 40 percent; Optical glass for spectacles, microscopes and similar instruments, 50 to 60 percent; Scientific instruments, 60 percent; Glass windows, if stained or painted, 40 percent; Slates, 6 percent; Watch crystals, 80 percent; Twist drills, and other cutting tools, 45 to 50 percent.

Dolls and doll clothing containing artificial flowers, 60 percent; Lamp globes and shades, 45 percent; Mesh bags, 110 percent.

How then could even this one man, the most probable man in the group to properly oppose collective bargaining, defend an unhampered market and oppose collective bargaining?

The rest of the group are either connected with professional labor unions or are on the "New Deal" government payroll. They are not making their living on a competitive unhampered market basis. They naturally believe in special privileges. They naturally

WASHINGTON — The British Labor government may call a national election late this fall instead of waiting for 1950 if the current Snyder-Cripps conferences at Washington do not lead to a long-time arrangement for solution of England's economic crisis.

A successful outcome of the conference appears unlikely now because it is doubtful if Congress would approve any additional large-scale aid.

Even before the present conference some sort of token assistance, such as lowering tariffs or waiving the British discrimination against our exports, which will not require Congressional approval, but which will be a real remedy.

BOILING — The White House realizes that anti-American sentiment is boiling among Labor members of Parliament and among the people, who resent official and unofficial slurs at the benefits they enjoy from their "welfare state."

Even before the present Congressional and editorial outburst against our financing of "British socialism," they showed their bitterness toward us when Gerhard Eisler was hailed off the Batory, struggling a nail kicking, by a British hobo after this country's No. 1 Communist had skipped bond here.

ATTACKS — The plain fact is that many Laborites of influence suspect that certain American interests, financial as well as political, deliberately seek the embarrassment and downfall of the Attlee-Bevins Ministry.

PERSONALLY offered Earl Bunting, as former president of the N.E.M., $10,000 to help him attempt to answer questions in defense of his belief in collective bargaining.

Dr. Sproul, do you believe that if enough people or the majority had to try to force people to pay for men you select to make speeches?

It will be remembered that I offered Dr. Sproul $1,000 if he would attempt to harmonize tax support education with the Ten Commandments or the Declaration of Independence on the sole condition that he wouldn't take up the time in answering questions by making long speeches.

It is essential for the great powers to keep in contact, to talk things over, and seriously to negotiate with one another.

The acts of the present Czechoslovak regime, directed toward the tyrannical domination of religious organizations by the police state, are clearly contrary to UN standards and as such are deplored by the United States.

The Little Lady's Bargains

By GORDON MARTIN

In the rush of daily living women folk will find the time to devise some strange and wondrous ways to spend an extra dime. They will study advertisements and peruse the shopping news, in a never-ending search to find some gadget they can use.

But that doesn't damp her ardor or preclude her right to rave that she surely knows a bargain and the way a gal can save. And her "bargains" fill the basement shelves with things you never see, though she keeps right on collecting stuff on each new shopping cruise.

QUICK CHILI CON CARNE
(Serves 6)
One onion, diced, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 (8-oz.) cans tomato sauce, 1 pound ground beef, 2 cups canned red kidney beans, salt and pepper, 1-2 teaspoon chili powder. Sauté fat in onion until slightly browned. Add tomato sauce, ground meat, beans and seasoning. Simmer 20 minutes. Add a little water if sauce seems dry. Serve with cooked rice.

SIMPLE MEAT LOAF

(Serves 6)
One pound ground beef (chuck), 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 1 egg, 1 medium onion, minced, 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon melted fat. Mix all ingredients except fat and pack into well-greased loaf pan; or shape into loaf on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 50 minutes.

Here's a new cole slaw recipe: DUTCH TOMATO SLAW (Serves 6)

One and one-half pounds green or white cabbage, 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1 egg-well beaten. Shred cabbage very fine; put in saucepan, add tomato sauce, vinegar and sugar. Blend well and sauté over very low flame for three minutes; cover and steam for 10 minutes. Add egg; stir well and heat until egg is set. Serve immediately.

TEEN-TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

So, you've just taken a job. Congratulations! If this is your first business experience, perhaps you are puzzled about a few things—your obligation to your job and how much of your time the boss actually buys.

Young people are likely to get unusual ideas, these days, about holding a job. In the first place they expect much more of the boss, as far as the working day goes, than they give in exchange. They might be late 15 or 20 minutes three times a week, but let the boss ask them to work ten minutes overtime some night, and they resent the intrusion on their private time.

At home, instead of getting good sound advice about work experiences, perhaps you hear snatches of conversation from which you make unwise deductions. Mom might good naturedly tease Pop about his pretty secretary. Or you might hear stories about the girl next door who was lucky enough to marry her boss. Or perhaps you've been inspired by reading love stories about secretaries, who always are (in fiction) much more sympathetic to the boss than his wife.

Is it any wonder that the neophyte gets the impression that the success of her job depends entirely on whether she can win the boss' attentions, whether she happens to be a handsome young man or a doddering old man?

A competent girl need have no fears about losing her job, if she does not take him up on that dinner date or sly innuendo. If she does accept his attentions, she might lose her job anyway, because perhaps he'll tire of her after those first few dinners—his philandering usually being of cautious interest. Few bosses ever marry love-sick stenographers. A few of them divorce their wives to do it.

The salary your boss pays you each week does not entitle him to your company after business hours. Smart girls have found ways to discourage the idea this way:

1. Have a boy friend or a brother or your father pick you up at the office once in a while. If the boss gets friendly with them, fine.
2. If he makes suggestive remarks about dates, play dumb.
3. Get chummy with his wife as soon as possible. You can do this by having friendly chats with her on the phone, when she calls the office.
4. If he has a daughter your age, talk about her occasionally to him.

Of course, you can't blame it all on the boss. Some girls set out to get him interested by any means. Then there are the girls who do it unwittingly by dressing in poor taste—heavy rouged lips and faces, mascara, short skirts, low-cut dresses — easy ways to give any man the wrong impression.

If you want to be treated like a lady, act like one. This is a steel armor of itself. Sit with your two feet flat on the floor when you take dictation. Don't slump into the chair, cooly eyeing your employer. When at the filing cabinet, stand like a lady. Your charms won't help him overlook filing or typing errors. . . . not for long, anyway. Other ways to be faithful to your job are:

1. Be poised, neat and pleasant. Skip the heavy makeup but use a deodorant and don't forget tooth paste.
2. Wear tailored clothes, not sequin drapes or sloppy sweaters.
3. Give your boss all the time he is entitled to. Save your office discussions about that new book or new shade of lipstick until after hours.
4. Don't curl up at your desk or sit with knees crossed in a sloppy posture. Do office tasks with enthusiasm.

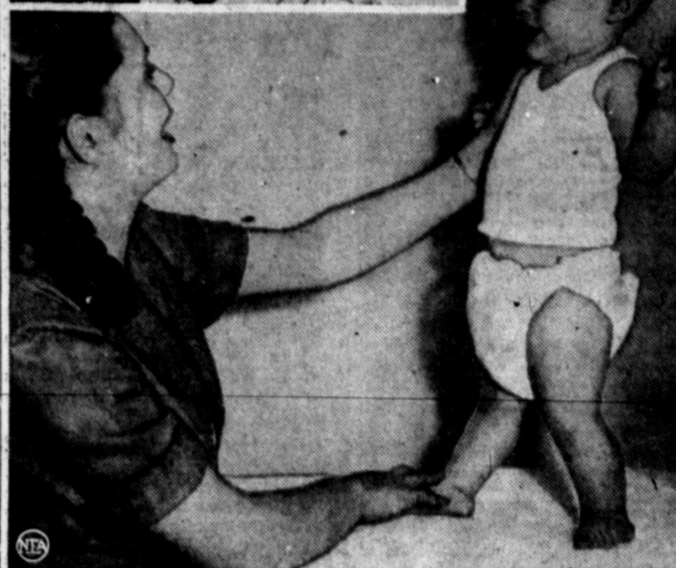

To Save Collars

Your husband's shirt collar will last longer if he remembers to slip his necktie into place before donning his shirt. This, according to the American Institute of Laundering, is better than knick-knacks with left and right hands. To remove dust from mitts simply clap hands together.

Little Tot Comes in for Attention; New 'Wrinkle' in Eternal Triangle

James H. Rand, III, (left) has made the latest change in three-cornered baby's pants and mom (below) approves the new disposable, absorbent pad concealed by plastic "envelope" diaper. Outer covering is pre-cut to fit snugly about waist.

CLEVELAND — (NEA) — In the matter of baby diapers a certain amount of change is inevitable.

But a Cleveland inventor has produced a fundamental change in baby's diapers which, in the end, should make more comfortable the swaddling days of every mother's son—and daughter.

James H. Rand, III, working in his converted stable laboratory at Bratenahl, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, has developed a radically new disposable diaper said to be longer-wearing, more sanitary, more comfortable than anything previously developed in its line.

The Rand diaper consists of a plastic outer "envelope" into which is inserted a newly-developed, highly absorbent pad of non-woven cellulose cloth and similar materials. The diaper and pad are so designed that they scarcely touch the baby's tender skin at any place except the waistline. And the pad is chemically treated to absorb hurriedly and carry away from the baby's skin the wetness which so often causes diaper rash and bladder infections.

Rand tackled the problem at the request of Dr. Charles F. McKennan, head of Babies' and Children's Hospital in Cleveland, and professor of pediatrics at Western Reserve University.

"It was just about the peakiest job we've ever tackled," says Rand with a grin. "The first thing we had to do, believe it or not," Rand says, "was to measure the bottoms of hundreds of babies. Strange as it seems, nobody apparently had previously taken such measurements. At least there weren't any figures available on them."

Cooper, Taylor to Head Harvesters

CO-CAPTAIN COOPER

Tickets Still Available for Friday's Opener

Halfback Pete Cooper and center Leon Taylor have been named to co-captain the Pampa Harvesters Green and Gold clad football squad this season.

Cooper last season received the "Fightin' Heart Award" for his team spirit both during games and practice sessions. Much is expected of him as a running back and defensive back this season.

With the opening of school yesterday, the Harvesters went through a long, hard practice session, that included an hour of chalk talks and three hours of work on the field.

The team looked anything but brilliant yesterday. The playing was unsound, blocking insecure, and unsure. Several of the players didn't even know their assignments or the signals.

The team looked anything but brilliant yesterday. The playing was unsound, blocking insecure, and unsure. Several of the players didn't even know their assignments or the signals.

Several minor injuries have hampered the Harvesters' work-outs. Scatback Elmer Wilson has been handicapped by a pulled muscle in his leg which has kept him from turning on his full speed.

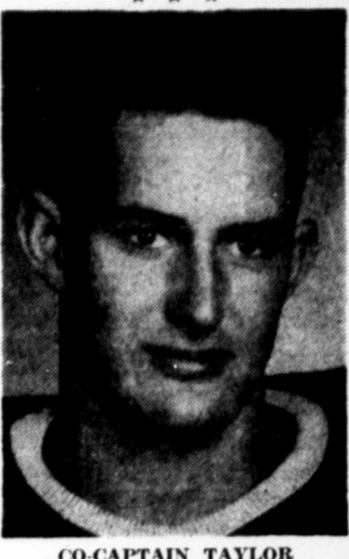

Some tickets are still available for the season and for the opening game. They may be obtained at the School Business Office in the City Hall.

Gardner Leaves Fight To Two Ball Clubs
DALLAS — (AP) — Texas League President J. Alvin Gardner Tuesday said Tulsa's protest over Tulsa's playing Monday night is "something between the two clubs."

Grayle Howlett, president of the Tulsa club, charged Fort Worth with a "farcical exhibition" in the second game of the Labor Day doubleheader.

Fort Worth won the first game, 3-2, to clinch first place. Tulsa's victory enabled it to nail down second place in the standings.

Bob Bragan, manager of the Fort Worth team, said there was "no intention of making a farce of the game."

Shaughnessy Playoffs Start in Three Texas Ball Leagues Tonight

Three Texas baseball leagues begin Shaughnessy Playoffs tonight and the state's four other circuits are in the last days of play.

The first four teams in the class B Big State and Class C East Texas and West Texas-New Mexico Leagues square off tonight in the best four-of-seven game series.

Wichita Falls, which finished first in the Big State League, is host to Waco tonight and second place Texarkana entertains Austin.

First place Longview opens at home against Kilgore, while second place Gladewater is host to third place Paris in the East Texas League.

Albuquerque, which topped West Texas-New Mexico League standings for the second straight year, meets fourth place Lamesa at Albuquerque and Amarillo is host to Abilene in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Texas, Longhorn and Rio Grande finish regular season play by midnight Sunday. The Arizona-Texas finished last night.

Amarillo and Abilene Monday finished in a second place deadlock. A telephone conference and remote control coin flipping gave Amarillo the choice of holding the first two games of the initial playoff at Amarillo.

In the Big State League, two games will be played at Texarkana and Wichita Falls. The teams will then switch to Austin and Waco. If more games are needed, the series will be finished at the original game sites.

Two-three-two series—will also be played in the West Texas-New Mexico League. East Texas League teams, however, will switch game sites after the first tilt.

First round playoff survivors will tangle in best four-of-seven game series for the league championship.

The East Texas League champion and the Evangeline League winner will play an inter-league series. So will the winners in the Longhorn and Rio Grande circuits.

Waco will pitch its strikeout artist, Bill Pierre, tonight and Wichita Falls will offer veteran Ed Cole.

Austin's opening mound choice is Dinty Moore, Texarkana's Jodie Phipps.

Joe Jones of Longview will oppose Red Fahr of Rudy Belakovsky of Longview. Green midget and standard car racer of Houston, was seriously injured during a race here Friday night.

RACER INJURED
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — (AP) — Cecil Green, well known midget and standard car racer of Houston, was seriously injured during a race here Friday night.

MOBILE MUSTANGS—With three of the best college backs in the nation operating behind a big and agile line, Southern Methodist bids for its third straight Southwest Conference championship.

WT-NM Opens at Amarillo and Albuquerque

The Shaughnessy Playoffs start Wednesday night in Albuquerque and Amarillo to determine the West Texas-New Mexico League pennant winner.

The Albuquerque Dukes will meet the Lamesa Lobos for a two-game series, and Abilene goes to Amarillo for a couple.

After the initial round, Albuquerque goes to Lamesa, and Amarillo to Abilene for three-game series. The teams play for the best four out of seven. If it goes the full seven in the first go-round, the teams will return to the original field.

The first round in the final-between the winners of the Lamesa-Albuquerque and Amarillo-Abilene—will be played on the field of the winner with the highest standing at the close of regular play.

First round pitchers are: Don Ferrarese for Albuquerque, Foss for Lamesa, Jim Reynolds for Amarillo and Rudy Lorna for Abilene.

Sports Round-Up
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Report trickling in from Brooklyn via the Brighton Beach local is that some of the Dodger players are distinctly unhappy about Barney Shotton's handling of the club.

Regardless, there's a strong feeling that Shotton will be allowed his wish to retire to Bartow, Fla., next season. Come to think of it, more than one major league manager must be feeling uneasy now that the season is in the homestretch—noticeably, of course, Jack Onslow of the White Sox.

There's a growing suspicion that Billy Southworth won't return to the Braves. Bill Pierce, a First National Banker, might renew his efforts to depose Lou Roudreau, unless he disposes of the Indians first. And who'd want to say for sure that Billy Meyer, whose health isn't too good, Frank Frisch, Leo DuRoche or Zack Taylor will be on duty next spring?

If Pancho Gonzales turns pro, as expected, Australia's Frank Sedgman should clean up in amateur tennis next year. And the pros likely make him their next objective. The Yankees are expecting Hugh Casey and Spec Shea to throw their weight around during the final pennant drive—and that's a lot of weight to throw.

Texas report says Bill Pierce, a First National Banker, might renew his efforts to depose Lou Roudreau, unless he disposes of the Indians first. And who'd want to say for sure that Billy Meyer, whose health isn't too good, Frank Frisch, Leo DuRoche or Zack Taylor will be on duty next spring?

Walker Not Unhappy Over Fine For Tirade Against Umpire Goetz

Walker's 11-year burn at umpire Larry Goetz cost him $100 and a three-day suspension Tuesday, but Dixie figured he got a bargain.

"I waited 11 years to tell Goetz off and believe me it was worth the money," the 39-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder declared.

National League President Ford Frick levied the fine and suspension for Walker's altercation Monday with Goetz in St. Louis.

Goetz tossed Dixie out of the second St. Louis-Pittsburgh game in the tenth inning, accusing him of stretching across the plate while being given an intentional pass.

Dixie's very vocal protests brought the old heavy-hitter back. "I was not stretching across the plate," Walker still protested yesterday.

"I saw an outside chance to drive a ball in an opening between second and third and break up the ball game."

"I even showed Goetz my fresh footprints. He tried to shove me back like he always does with players. Only this time I didn't feel like being shoved."

The Pirates eventually won the game in the tenth, 5-4. Dixie said his burn at Goetz stems mainly from the umpire's treatment of younger players.

"I've resented his attitude toward young players since I've been in the big league," Dixie said. "He takes the attitude that be-

Egyptian Swim Team Sets New Channel Record
CAP GRIS NEZ, France — (AP) — A six-man Egyptian team swam the English Channel in 11 hours, 11 minutes and claimed a new record early yesterday.

The team's anchor man waded ashore on the beach at St. Paul, near here, at 2:11 a. m. French time (8:11 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

The leadoff swimmer, Sgt. Marie Hassan Hamad, took to the water at 3:10 p. m. (9:10 p. m. EST) two miles southwest of Dover and made almost five miles before he entered an accompanying boat.

The English Channel relay speed record of 12 hours 35 minutes and four seconds was set by a French team in 1938. The Egyptians swim two hours each, because a player is young, he has no right to speak his piece.

The indestructible Dixie rounds up 18 years in the big leagues this season. There is talk that this is Dixie's last year in the big leagues. At any rate, Dixie doesn't have to worry about the future. He owns a liquor store in Long Island, N. Y., and a hardware store in Alabama.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE—Every game counts for a contender these days, and when a batter smacks a two-run homer in the ninth to beat a three-hit pitching job, he is accorded this kind of a reception at the plate. Gil Hodges is the smiling hero. Eager to clasp his hand are, left to right, Roy Campanella, Jackie Robinson, Gene Hermanski, Don Newcombe and Pee Wee Reese. The blow off Murry Dickson, gave the Dodgers three-game sweep against the Pirates at Ebbets Field, enabled the Brooklyn club to pick up a game on the Cardinals.

Displaced Yanks Make Grid Machines for South Schools

ATLANTA — (AP) — If Pennsylvania and Ohio colleges are running short of football talent, look South. That's where the boys have gone.

And the sad part about this migration as far as the Northern schools are concerned is that the Southeastern Conference isn't getting the scrapings off the bottom of the prep football barrel.

This year's contribution is 149 players, and that's more than a fifth of the 713-man Southeastern rosters. Dixie's leading kidnapers are Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee. Without Georgia's 28 Yankees and Tennessee's 25, those two football institutes wouldn't be ranked in the top half of the Southeastern this season.

Kentucky has the excuse of being the width of the Ohio River from Yankeeedom, but Georgia and Tennessee are deep South from whatever direction you're looking.

While those three make the best use of Yanks, the states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana are the most cooperative in the building of Southern football.

Pennsylvania has 43 players on Southeastern teams. More than Kentucky supplies, and Kentucky is a bulwark of Southern football.

Ohio State, Ohio University, Ohio Wesleyan and Miami University of Ohio, are short 30 ball players this year who strayed

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hassel—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What major league player, famous for his World Series "snooze," hit into the most double plays in a season?

SPORT SIDELIGHTS: Ralph Kiner's biggest handicap in keeping on his home run pace at the tail end of the season is his hay fever, an ailment that has plagued the Pirates' home run slugger for many years. "It doesn't bother me so much," Kiner explains, "except that it leaves me worn out. I just lose my pep." Clayde "Smackover" Scott, the Philadelphia Eagles' rookie backfield ace from Arkansas, maintains that his greatest disappointment in sports was not winning a gold medal at the 1948 Olympics.

JERRY WITTE, Dallas home run specialist, was helping take up a collection for a polo fund at a Texas League game in Dallas a couple of weeks ago. An 8-year-old girl extended a quarter and said "You can have it if you'll hit a homer for me." "O.K.," promised Witte, who had been in an extended slump that had put him on the bench for a while. When the game got underway Jerry belted No. 38.

Football brochures put out by the St. Mary's, California, college athletic department carry the slogan "NOT GREAT IN '48, FINE IN '49, NIFTY IN '50." In seven years of coaching football at the University of Southern California, Jeff Cravath has lost only seven Pacific Coast Conference games, none by more than one touchdown.

LEFTY GOMEZ, former New York Yankee pitching ace, recently encountered Will Harridge, president of the American League, and asked: "Hi, Mr. Harridge, is the league running on its own money these days?" That was just Lefty's way of asking how the American League gains its revenue in these days when Gomez no longer is a steady contributor in fines assessed by the front office. One of the most tedious of jobs that baseball umpires have is the chore of rubbing up baseballs to be used in the contest. Perhaps the 1949 College All-Star team wasn't too bad after all, despite their 38-0 trouncing at the hands of the Philadelphia Eagles. Since that game the Eagles have posted two National Football League rivals by comparable scores. They defeated the Green Bay Packers 35 to 0 and the Chicago Cardinals 61 to 14. The Eagles are making the All-Stars and the split-T look good.

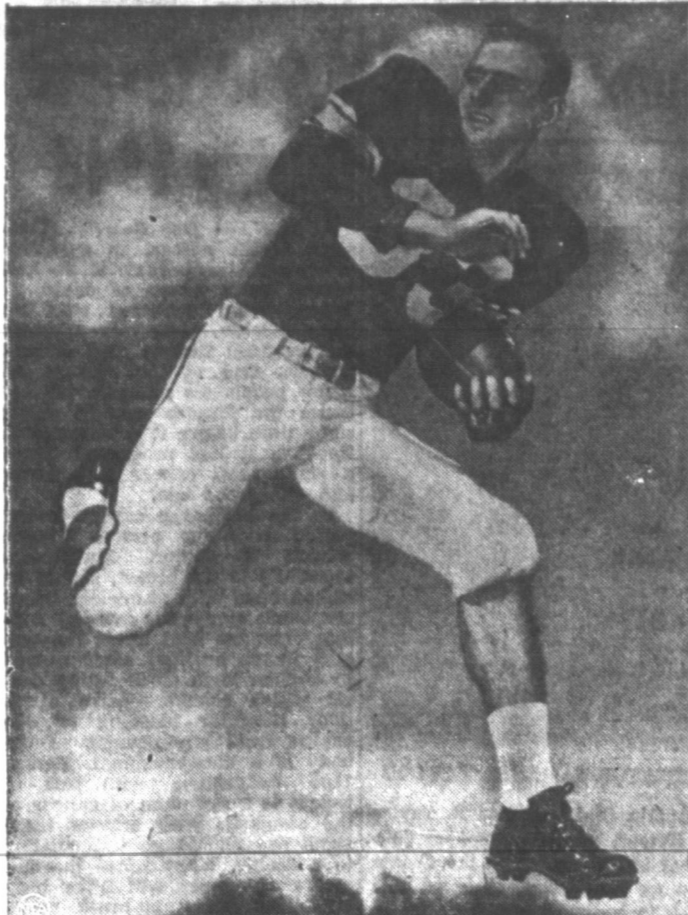

CASEY STENGEL, manager of the Yankees, has a sure fire way of winning the approval of the men who play for him. Frequently, when the team is on the train traveling between points, Casey invites the railroad diner and hands a $10 bill to each player with the remark: "Have a good dinner on the manager." Charley Comiskey, vice president of the White Sox of Chicago, went into his office following a recent Sox night game and worked until the wee hours of the morning. Just as Chuck was planning to call it a night, a telephone jangled and a faint feminine voice inquired,

"Why don't you people call that night game off so my husband can come home? I told him he could stay to the finish, but I don't want him out all night!" Chuck gulped and thought fast. He says he finally admitted that the game had ended "about midnight," but still ponders the fate of the husband when he finally did check in.

EDDIE SAWYER, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, confesses he will not attain "I'd like to win 154 games in a season," Eddie chuckles. "In fact, I'd just like to win the first 140 and the take my chances on the rest." Bill Veck's latest argument with Cleveland's city officials is over the aerial bombs he uses at the Indians night games. The rulers contend that the shock from the bombs gradually is weakening Municipal Stadium walls. Dick Todd, Texas A&M's new backfield coach, was Sammy Baugh's favorite target last season. Dick, playing his final season with the Washington Redskins, caught 37 of Sam's pitches for 550 yards and six touchdowns. When Notre Dame and Michigan played football against each other in Toledo, Ohio, in 1902, the gate receipts did not amount to enough to pay an advertising bill of 8 dollars. Each team paid its own expenses to the site. Today they would draw the biggest gate that the largest stadium in the country could stand.

ANSWER: Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati Reds catcher, hit into 30 double plays in 1939.

Slaughter Moves in On Robinson's Lead
NEW YORK (AP)—Enos (Country) Slaughter, of the St. Louis Cardinals, is stirring up quite a fuss in the National League's individual batting race. Slaughter today was seriously challenging Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson's lead. Robinson is but six points in front of Slaughter. Jackie is moving at a 346 gain, including games of Labor Day. Slaughter is hard on his heels at 342. The Dodger sparkplug dropped game and worked until the wee hours of the morning. Just as Chuck was planning to call it a night, a telephone jangled and a faint feminine voice inquired, TREE-TOP HIGH—Buddy Jones appears to be running in the clouds, which is where a lot of people are when discussing Oklahoma's football outlook. The 132-pound safety man's pass defense held the Sooners' opponents to a 36.9 completion percentage in '48.

PIGSKIN PARADE Lively Race in Skyline Seen

DENVER (AP)—An exciting, airtight football campaign is in prospect in the Skyline Six conference. Five of the six teams are given a chance to win the title owned by the Utah Redskins.

Four coaches say Utah and Denver have the strongest teams with Colorado A&M, Wyoming and Utah State just a whisker behind. Brigham Young is awarded last place. Utah lost 16 lettermen, and Coach "Crying Ike" Armstrong never misses an opportunity to call attention to it. He says "I lost every good boy I had." Other folks think differently. Ike's team looks fast and aggressive, although lighter. Denver has virtually all its veterans back. Coach John Baker's Pioneers last fall lost five straight then suddenly found themselves as they tied Georgetown and defeated Detroit, Utah State and Wyoming in succession. Some changes are in order at Utah State under new coach George Melinkovich. He replaces the veteran Dick Romney, who resigned to become conference commissioner. He will keep the "T," but will feature short passes. Melinkovich says State is a "year away." Coach Bob Davis of Colorado A&M has 22 lettermen back. At Wyoming, Coach Bowden Wyatt has a good crop of transfers to add to 16 returning lettermen, including his ace backs, Eddie Talboom and Walker (Sonny) Jones. Next: Southeast.

LIGHT TOUCH—Tex Coulter, burly lineman of professional New York Giants, works at drawing board in Fort Worth, Tex. When not busy on the football field, Tex draws a sports cartoon which he syndicates to 26 Texas newspapers.

1949 Make or Break Year for Minnesota
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—If Minnesota's Golden Gophers have any Rose Bowl ambitions, they'd better realize them this year. After this season prospects look pretty dim. At the end of this football campaign, Coach Bernie Bierman loses 22 of the 30 little help, and this year's may not be much better. That makes the 1950 Minnesota picture pretty bleak. So if Bierman's charges are to cop the Western Conference crown and the Rose Bowl bid that goes with it in the near future this is the year. A powerful line that includes Bud Grant and Gordon Spitzau at ends, Leo Nomellini at guard and Clayton Tommeaker at center, among other giants, and Backs Billy Bye and Frank Kuzma are some of the reasons why Gopher fans have hopes for 1949.

Yankees and Red Sox Open Crucial 3-Game Set Tonight

(By The Associated Press) The New York Yankees, leading the American League since the opening gun, face their severest test of the season tonight when they open a vital three-game series with the challenging Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

Casey Stengel's crippled Yankees lead the sizzling Sox by a game and a half and a Boston sweep would dump the Yanks into second place. Stengel has selected Allie Reynolds (13-4) to face Ellis Kinder (18-5) before an estimated 75,000 plus crowd. Lefty Ed Lopat is the probable Yankee pitcher for the second encounter and Vic Raschi or Tommy Byrne for the third. The Sox are expected to counter with Jack Kramer and 21-game winner Mel Parnell.

The return to action of Joe DiMaggio and possibly catcher Yogi Berra greatly enhances the Yankee chances. DiMaggio bowled out of the second game in the Labor Day doubleheader in Philadelphia because of a leg cramp, but the Jolter reported the ailment has disappeared. Berra, out with a fractured left thumb since Aug. 7, participated in a "pepper game" yesterday. He reported the digit "felt swell and I guess I'll play." The Yogi's big bat will receive a royal welcome.

While the Yanks and Red Sox go at each other in the third place Cleveland Indians and fourth place Detroit Tigers will be having. The Tigers entertain the Indians in a two-game series. The Indians trail the Yanks by four and one half games and the Tigers by six and one half.

Irish Come Up With Quarterback

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK (NEA)—Bob Williams, on no less authority than Frank Leahy, will continue the dynasty of remarkable Notre Dame quarterbacks—Dorris, Brady, Stuhldreher, Caride, Bertelli, Ratterman, Lujack and Tripucka, down through the years. Praising Williams, Coach Leahy quickly gets back in stride. "Our fingers will be crossed in the hope that Bob remains in good health," he says. "There is no depth behind him." Ratterman and Lujack backed up Bertelli. Tripucka spelled Lujack. Baltimore's Bob Williams stepped in for Tripucka.

And it is, of course, an understatement of understatements to say that a clever ball-handler and passer is most important in the Modern T with man-in-motion. NOTRE DAME men and supporters expect to see the Irish out to a greater extent than they have been in more recent years. Tulane, Michigan State, North Carolina and Southern Methodist offer genuine opposition, and the Master has no reason to pull punches against them. If Matty Bell walks a line in front of Doak Walker, Kyle Rote and McKissack, people are likely to be still talking about Notre Dame's trip to Dallas Dec. 5, when the New Year's Day Bowl games roll around.

Violating all the rules of the coaches' fraternity, Joe Bedenk says there's no reason to believe that Penn State will be worse than last fall. "As it would be difficult to imagine better teams than we fielded in 1947 and '48," says the Nittany Lions' new coach. State won 17 of 18 over that stretch. Yet the consensus is that Army will prove too fast for Penn State at West Point, Oct. 7. Currently working in the Cadets' backfield on the attack are Galiffa, Cain, Fischl and Kuckhaun. Arnold Galiffa last autumn took his place among the standout passers and field marshals. Jimmy Crocker led off the Soldiers' 440-yard relay team in the Heptagonal Games. Frank Fischl is a shifty scooter. Karl Kuckhaun a vicious line-cracker.

They shortly will be joined by Gil Stephenson, who runs as well as he does in. A calcium deposit had to be removed from the Georgia fullback's thigh. West Point has offensive and defensive linemen to match extraordinary backs. Close observers predicting that Army will turn out to be too rapid for Penn State gives you a rough idea of the size of the big stick carried by Red Blaik.

After Bad Season, TU Hires, Not Fires
TULSA (AP)—After a disastrous 1948 football season—ended, nine lost—Tulsa University didn't fire the coach; it hired five new assistants. Coach J. O. (Buddy) Brothers has Bernie Witucki, former Notre Dame and Georgetown lineman and assistant coach of the Chicago Rockets, as new line coach along with DeWitt Weaver, ex-Tennessee line star and assistant at Mississippi State last year. Saxton Judd is the new end mentor. He comes from the Brooklyn Dodgers of the All-America Conference. Jerry D'Arcy, former Tulsa griddler, will coach the backs on a full-time basis. Previously he was a part-time coach.

Tough Sked, Johnson Loss, Worries Bell
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—HOT SPRINGS Bell thinks he may have overstepped his purpose in booking such a tough football schedule for his Southern Methodist University Mustangs this year. In addition to six rugged Southwest conference opponents, the Mustangs will play Notre Dame, Wake Forest, Kentucky and Missouri. "I didn't want any breathers because our boys have been winning so much the last two years I thought they might get a little cocky as seniors," he said in an interview here. "I wanted a tough enough schedule to keep them hopping every week." "Of course, our schedule will be good for our gate receipts, but now I kinda wish I hadn't gone quite so strong." "I had figured that our best chance of beating Notre Dame would be Gil Johnson to throw a jillion passes to Doak Walker. But now that Johnson, whose throwing has pulled so many games out of the fire for us, had decided to turn pro it looks pretty dark. We'll miss him in all our games."

Birmingham Baseball Club on Sales Block
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association are on the sales block. President G. J. (Gus) Jebels announced last night that he is ready to sell his 51 percent share of the stock for a "fair price." He said he prefers to sell to a Birmingham group. If the Aiken (farm price support) law has any friends, I don't know them.

Mexican Leaguers Aid Cardinals More Than Any Other Ball Club

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Should the St. Louis Cardinals win the National League pennant maybe they should cut in Commissioner A. B. Chandler on a share in the World Series loot. That is, beyond the cut the commissioner's office customarily gets, although that's not exactly a cut. It's an amputation.

Anyway, the commissioner's action in authorizing the jumpers to the Mexican League to apply for reinstatement aided the Cardinals more than any other club, just as the Cardinals suffered more than any other club when the big leap was made. The fact that Max Lanier and Fred Martin, two of the reinstated players, pitched complete games as the Cardinals won both ends of a doubleheader last Sunday shows how much they mean to the club, and infielder Lou Klein has been a valuable utility man.

It was a terrific blow to Manager Eddie Dyer when the players went south of the border in 1946. Lanier, in fact, had won six straight games at the time. Dyer took it in stride, and only if pressed would he even mention the missing players as an alibi. It's only poetic justice that he should get the major benefit from the return of the players to good standing.

The panic really is on among the pennant contenders when the Yankees sign the venerable Hugh Casey for a relief role and call back Frank Shea and the hard-luck kid, Bob Porterfield. Casey could prove valuable, at that. He'd apparently worn out his welcome in the National League, but he still has plenty of savvy and coolness under fire, and against American League batters who haven't seen much of his offerings he could be effective, at least for a short time. Even the calm and collected Burt Shotton is showing signs of butterflies in his stomach. He read the riot act to his Brooklyn Dodgers the other day, then got himself tossed out of the park for the first time in his major league career.

Then Sunday, he yanked a relief pitcher who had pitched seven innings of hitless ball when the chucker walked two men in a row. The stakes are just too big right now to take any chances, that's all.

Pirates Recall 12 Farmhands to Majors
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates recalled 12 minor leaguers today. They included outfielder John Fosciano of Waco, Texas, in the Big State League. General Manager R. O. Hamery said how many of the 12 will be brought up before the end of the season will depend on needs and the duration of playoffs in which some of the players may participate.

British Jets To Be Bought

NEW YORK — Several U. S. airline presidents have arranged to purchase British jet transports during the next three years, according to a statement made by Sen. The chairman of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee told the magazine that once world air routes are taken over by sterling bloc countries with their lower wages it will be difficult for American carriers to recapture supremacy without increased government subsidies.

Association Survey Reveals Indians in 'Sub-Human Slums'

Long overlooked, the remnants of four or five great Indian tribes in the mid-west are now living in "hopeless poverty and squalor," the Association on American Indian Affairs, 48 East 86 Street, New York City, declares. Association experts who have completed an investigation of the Winnebago, Nebraska, Reservation called for prompt federal action to rehabilitate 5,000 residents of the Winnebago, Omaha, Santee Sioux and Ponca tribes.

A team of social scientists headed by Dr. Alexander Lesser, executive director, is studying conditions on Western reservations in line with the watch-dog policy of the association's American Indian Fund. Dr. Lesser also reported on the Cheyenne River, South Dakota Reservation where he found the tribe "progressing steadily toward economic and human independence, but requiring specific help measures." Some of the reservation's best bottom land will be flooded by the new Oahe Dam planned for the Missouri River. The association's group is now visiting Oklahoma reservations and will make recommendations next on the future of the Wichita, Kiowa and Pawnee tribes in this state. "The government program at Winnebago is based in a farm economy," Dr. Lesser said, "yet more than one-half of the resident Winnebago, Omaha, Santee Sioux and Ponca Indians are entirely landless. The little farms on which they do own is not enough for their own maintenance, and inadequately used and developed at that. A sound area program must be initiated to provide these people with income-earning skills and new opportunities."

Oliver La Farge, chairman of the American Indian Fund, said "the federal government is tolerating sub-human slums at Winnebago. Clearly, housing conditions on federally controlled land such as Indian reservations are a federal responsibility. Reports of a high incidence of broken families and delinquency can be attributed directly to the housing and low-income status of these Indians. Something must be done to bring their homes up to the utter minimum decency." "We found usually two families consisting of about fourteen persons living in two-room shacks (about 20 by 15 feet)," Dr. Lesser reported from Winnebago. "And Mike Isely demanded of his folks: 'Where's Chin Chin?'"

"Health services are far from adequate. Children do receive vaccinations and inoculations as part of the school clinic program. They also receive treatment at the hospital when they are ill or infected with contagious diseases. But they go right back to home conditions which return them to the hospital again in short order." The association survey team found a brighter picture at the Cheyenne River Indian Reservation in South Dakota. Here 4,000 people, about 600 families, control nearly 1,500,000 acres of good grazing land in contrast to the diminished 70,000 acres at Winnebago. Government policy is to establish individual families on appropriate land units so they can be economically independent livestock ranchers. "This policy has paid off," Dr. Lesser reported. "No single federal dollar of relief money is used on the Cheyenne River reservation."

"Sympathetic Indian Service officials have guided and helped—rather than commanded—the tribal organization in its conduct of business. The result is that the people themselves are making various plans for reservation developments and managing an annual tribal income of $80,000 (distinct from the income of individual families). They now own about 20,000 head of fine white-face breed cattle." In order to expand the livestock program to all families and provide other individual enterprise, the tribe is now seeking a loan of $150,000 from the revolving federal fund available for Indian projects. Association President La Farge urged speedy approval of the loan, pointing out that the tribe faces destruction of its best bottom land with the building of the Oahe Dam along the Missouri below the Cheyenne River. More than 100,000 acres will be flooded. "The dam will bring irrigation to eastern South Dakota," Dr. Lesser said. "Not, however, to the reservation which is too high to benefit. It will bring electric power in time, and the tribe is demanding as part of its compensation for the serious loss anticipated some assurance of sufficient cheap electric power. Also the dam will mean employment for wages for some during the period of construction. But the net effect of this public development is tragedy for the hopeful progressive trend of the Cheyenne River Indian Reservation."

The cost of progress for others along the Missouri is the tragic impairment of this hopeful self-managed development of a proud Indian people. The least that the American people can do is to make sure that the very real losses of these people are compensated—not in money, merely, but in all the ways possible so that they can continue to find their own way effectively toward a full life as Americans. Else we will once again have plunged an Indian people backward to poverty and degradation instead of forward to real American freedom." Dr. Lesser is being accompanied on his swing through the West by Joseph Jablow and Alta Guas, social scientists of the Brooklyn College, New York, faculty.

Cancer Killed 6,900 Texans During 1948

AUSTIN — Dr. Geo W. Cox, state health officer, in speaking of cancer, said that it ranked second as a cause of death in Texas, being exceeded only by heart disease. Last year approximately 6,900 Texans died of this disease. One of the reasons so many people die of cancer is because the disease usually acquires some time before it is recognized. By then it has progressed from a small local cancer to a large and dangerous one. In the beginning cancer is not painful so many persons do not consult a doctor. Any lump, especially in the breast, should be looked upon with suspicion. Other suspicious symptoms are any sore that does not heal about the tongue, mouth or lips; sores caused by broken teeth or ill fitting dental plates should receive attention; irregular bleeding or discharge from any opening of the body is a danger signal. Persistent indigestion with loss of weight is a symptom of cancer of the stomach. With any of these signs one should go immediately to a doctor. Many times the suspicion of cancer will have been unfounded but it is much better to be safe. It is desirable to treat all diseases in their early stages, but in no case is it more important than cancer. Periodic examinations made with cancer in mind affords the best protection against this disease. Surgery, x-ray and radium are the main weapons which are used to combat cancer.

Smog Turns Yellow House to Black

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — When Francis L. Oberg decided on a paint job for his house 18 months ago he chose yellow. Tuesday Oberg stepped outside and peered through a heavy morning smog. His house was black. He thinks chemical action of sulphur in smog from harbor oil refineries may have been the "costly painter."

The phone rang. It was the veterinarian. Chin Chin, he told them, had just left for home. The Iselys looked out the door. Here came Chin Chin, proudly. He'd gone to the vets and got his bandages changed.

SEATTLE — (AP) — Chin Chin, part bulldog and part shepherd, hadn't been in Seattle long from his birthplace on Sisters Island near Juneau, Alaska, when he got in a fight. So Mr. and Mrs. Gene Isely took him to a veterinarian to get patched up. That was on a Friday. The following Tuesday Chin Chin made it known he'd like to go outdoors for a stroll. A couple hours passed. Four-year-old Mike Isely demanded of his folks: "Where's Chin Chin?"

Documentary Honesty Asked For by Screen Writer, Author

By ROBERT ANDREWS (For Bob Thomas)
EDITOR'S NOTE: Novelist Robert Hardy Andrews, one-time prolific writer of radio serials (40,000,000 words), has penned 33 screen-plays, including the forthcoming "I Married a Communist" and "Bagdad." His new "Legend of a Lady" hit the best-seller list, and his next will be "Great Day in the Morning," an historical novel of Colorado in 1859.

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Dear Bob Thomas: If you happened to run into Aunt Minnie or Joe Zilch on your vacation, I wish you'd ask them what they really think, if anything, about Hollywood history. They're supposed to know nothing, and care less, about history as long as they get Yvonne DeCarlo. Documentary honesty about what happened in New England five years ago is demonstrably more audience-interesting than clutches about what didn't happen anywhere at any time. And so I'm wondering why documentary honesty, as applied to what happened in the West while this country was being built, might not be more audience-interesting than the same old formula in-terminably re-used. I discovered when I was writing "The Kid From Texas" about William Bonney, alias Billy the Kid, that the Billy the Kids in pictures of the past made a lot of people awfully mad. Nonetheless, I read recently a script in which the principal characters were Billy the Kid (killed in New Mexico in 1881, at 20), Jesse James (36 when killed in Missouri in 1882), Cole Younger (in a Minnesota prison for murder from 1876 to 1903), Frank Dalton (killed chasing outlaws in 1889), John Wesley Harpago (he chose yellow in 1881, until 1894) and Bill Doolin (arrested, naked and unarmed, in an Arkansas bathhouse in 1895). But in the picture they're all pals together in the outlaw business, in a part of the country that didn't exist politically until 1888. We have one playing now which depicts the love affair of Yvonne DeCarlo, who is not a bit ugly, and Howard Duff, only slightly less beautiful. They play Calamity Jane and Sam Bass. The truth is, Mary Jane Burke was the homeliest woman in the Dakotas, and they called her Calamity for her ugliness, not for her guns. At Jane's peak, Sam Bass was a boy of 12. Further, it didn't happen in Dakota, it happened in Nebraska. Otherwise the story news fairly close to the line. Oh: except that Calamity and Sam never met.

Levees Will Be Widened

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Bids are to be opened here Sept. 23 on construction of 120,000 cubic yards of semi-compacted earthwork on the left descending bank of the Red River, Lafayette County, Ark. Col. Charles Hollis, district engineer, said the levee enlargement is one of a series of projects to enlarge existing levees along the main stem of the Red River below Denison Dam. The projects are designed to provide protection against floods approaching the equivalent in magnitude of that of 1945. The work is to be completed in 120 calendar days. Henry G. Casserleigh, field assistant for the engineer at Shreveport, La., is to be in charge of the work. Warren G. Harding was the first president to ride to his inaugural in an automobile. There are no land areas lower than 3,340 feet above sea level in Colorado.

THE STORY: Gaynel Yearo has chosen Fritz Frymann, a young newspaper man, in preference to Harry Balabandige, a young Detroit millionaire, after both have proposed marriage. She tells herself, and Fritz too, that it looks hopeless. Fritz, even with his new job with a graduate, could hardly do more than support her. And Gaynel's brother can contribute only a few dollars to the family, although he seldom has held a job long in the past. Fritz offers to help Gaynel tell her family, but Gaynel says she'll do it herself.

XXV
NOTHING that's worth having is easy and it was not going to be easy to tell Barry that her answer was no, that she loved someone else. Gaynel would rather have cut off her right hand than hurt him so.

She realized, with a little guilty qualm, that she had not told Fritz how much she owed Barry. In actual cash, besides in so many intangible ways. She had a suspicion that Fritz would not relish the idea of her being in debt to Barry for Fritz's illness; he would think she should have managed to meet those obligations in some other manner, as perhaps she should, though she did not see just what other means she could have taken. She was paying Barry back. She must tell him about Fritz at the first opportunity.

The opportunity to present itself was when Barry drove her to Ann Arbor to the football game between Michigan and Ohio State—always the most exciting and hardest-fought battle of the season. Gaynel sported two big yellow chrysanthemums—from Barry, of course; Barry never forgot flowers. Her cheeks were whipped to a most becoming flush from the wind. It was impossible not to feel scarily happy and light-hearted, though she knew this was the day when she must tell Barry about Fritz.

Time enough after the game was over, when the exaltation of victory, or the acceptance of well-braved defeat, would twilit this radiance to a softer mood. Yes, she would tell Barry on the way home.

"By the way," Barry broke the silence, "I found out about Denny's new heart-throb—as a matter of fact I met the lady. Made a point to do so. You'll be pleased to hear that she is really most acceptable person. Exceptional, might be a better term."

"I'm not sure whether I should be pleased or not," Gaynel considered. "It all depends, I guess, on what you mean by exceptional."

"Madeline Day, this particular lady's name, would be a lady under any circumstances."

"Even in a divorce court—twice?" She supposed she was being catty; but she believed she would have preferred someone not quite so sure of herself for Denny as this lady sounded.

Barry said, "I found out about that, too. The first wasn't a divorce; her husband died. The second was most unfortunate; Clinton Day was a rascal. No one could blame a woman for being unable to live with him."

Gaynel said, "I'm not blaming anyone. Unless Denny really loses his head. Which he shows every sign of doing at present. I never knew him to remain faithful to one love so long. And he's actually sticking to his new job with surprising doggedness—for him."

"You should be pleased with that, at least. You remember I promised I wouldn't place Denny in this job until he had given his word to stick. I felt sure all he needed was the proper incentive. 'I know, I am pleased he's making good. Did you know he got a raise last week? But I'm not sure that I consider Mrs. Day the 'proper incentive.' Certainly I wouldn't be pleased if Denny got it into his handsome head that he'd like to be her third matrimonial experiment." Denny might not be any too pleased when he learned that she was going to marry Fritz, instead of Barry. But of course that was different.

Barry said, "Mrs. Day may have something to say about that. I think you should meet her."

"Good heavens, Barry, anyone would think you had been taken in by this female, too!"

Barry smiled. "You know better than that. But really, my dear, I think you're borrowing trouble. Madeline Day is a good influence for Denny."

"I hope you're right," Gaynel said. He usually was. And, as always, just talking it over with him had made her feel better.

THEY were nearing the University. Barry turned in toward the bowl. Cars were jammed on all sides in the wide fields that served as parking lots.

"There'll be a nice jam afterwards," Barry observed. "We'd never get out if we'd tried to come closer. May take an hour or so, at that."

Gaynel said all of that was part of the fun. The crowd to her was as thrilling as the game. She always experienced a prickle down her spine at the spectacular sight the big bowl presented, the rainbow of colors surrounding that smooth green carpet it enclosed.

Their seats were on the 40-yard line in the sixth row. By the time they reached them the players had come out, amidst frantic cheers from each side, to begin a few preliminary formations.

The first half was thrilling and its end brought out the bands for their turn at providing a thrill. They spelled out Michigan and then Ohio State; the drum majors were magnificent in pompous dignity, with their antics with their batons.

"Isn't that Denny down there?" Barry had been employing Barry's field glasses. "Near the 50-yard line. . . Here, Barry, take a look. No. . . wait. . . it is Denny, speaking of the devil—and is that Mrs. Day with him?"

It's A Fine Thing, This Art, Yes?

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) — People attending the Ohio State Fair here have "ohed" and "ahed" over a large oil painting in the Arts and Crafts Building. Painted by Columbus artist Emerson C. Burkhart, it is titled "The Light Is Greater. Hence the Shadows More."

Echoes of the praise reached Burkhart. He decided to see how his work compared with other paintings. Imagine his surprise on finding the picture hanging vertically when it was intended to be horizontal.

Burkhart protested to Harvis A. Stewart, director of the show. The artist said he had sought "a sense of mechanical movement." It was lost as the picture hung, he declared.

Stewart disagreed. He is an art teacher at Ohio Wesleyan University. "Everybody liked this picture as it is now exhibited, why change it?" he asked.

Burkhart accepted the verdict philosophically. He said the underside of an old automobile in a junk yard served as his model. He tried to show a "sense of

Consumer Income Shown By Survey Less Than 1948's

MINNEAPOLIS — As compared with a year ago, mid-summer of 1949 showed the average consumer with but 97 cents in real income, according to the latest monthly study of buying power by Investors Diversified Services.

Increase in rent and miscellaneous costs have practically cancelled out benefits gained by consumers through somewhat lower food and clothing prices. On the other hand, diminishing employment has affected the important wage-salary source of cash income. Farm income, though still high, is less than it was a year ago.

E. E. Crabb, president of Investors Diversified Services, points out that income from dividends and interest has continued consistently higher during the first six months of 1949 than in the same period last year.

"The dividend distributions of this period were derived, of course, largely from earnings of 1948. While the 1949 earnings in some industries have fallen short of last year's levels, there are growing indications of a substantial fall revival. Earnings for the last half of this year may well equal, if not exceed, those of the same period last year," said Mr. Crabb.

"That view is bolstered," he added, "by the increased efficiency which many managements are now reporting."

Health Service Experts Checking Flies and Polio

ATLANTA — (AP) — Five U. S. Public Health Service experts on epidemics took off hurriedly for Muskegon, Mich., to find out more about flies and polio.

For the past two years the health service has been trapping flies in Muskegon as part of a long-range program to end speculation over the question: "Do flies transmit polio?"

Right now Muskegon and the surrounding county is suffering an outbreak of infantile paralysis with 55 cases reported so far, 14 in the last two weeks.

Dr. R. A. Vonderlehr, medical director of the health service's Communicable Disease Center here, described the combination of fly-trapping and polio outbreak as a "rare opportunity" to do some first hand field research.

Dr. Vonderlehr said the fly trapping program and polio study, was a five-year plan and is being carried out in Muskegon, Troy, N. Y., Charleston, W. Va., Topeka, Kans., and Phoenix, Ariz.

Plane Finest Invention Says Elderly Dane

DALLAS — (AP) — The energetic little man climbed down from the big airliner, shook his umbrella happily at the big plane, and declared "A man never gets too old to do new things."

Jakob Christensen, 84-year-old retired Wichita Falls businessman, was returning from his 15th trip to his native Denmark. It was his first by plane.

"Wonderful invention, the airplane," he said expansively. "Should have tried it sooner. All that speed, you know. Wonderful."

Mrs. Christensen accompanied him on his latest trip. Christensen, president of the Wichita Falls Foundry and Machine Company before his retirement, said he won't visit Denmark again.

"I don't have any brothers or sisters there any more," he said sadly. "Just nephews and nieces. And I guess I am getting up in years."

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991 —
A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (Taylor 3991).

7:00 Saved my husband's pocket knife with an early call to Cleo. She found it in his navy pants before she started our family washing.

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

8:20 Called Mrs. Charlot to see whether she can stay with Beaver (our son, age 3½) while I go to the luncheon. My lucky day! She can.

9:45 Mother phoned from Austin, wanted to hear Beaver's voice, said she was lonesome for her grandson. He was cute, carried on quite a conversation.

10:30 Called a real estate agent about a house I saw advertised in the newspaper. Only five rooms and too high priced. So-o we're still looking!

10:45 My good friend, Jen, called to exchange the latest news. We made a date to spend the day together a week from tomorrow.

11:30 Dorothy had to hunt for her car keys, called to tell me she would be a few minutes late. That gives me a few more minutes to get ready.

"Thanks so much for the lift" to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary — "Thanks for a wonderful bargain."

Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

Delay in Getting Mexican Workers Explained by USES

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican and U.S. officials said recently they are trying to speed up approval of U.S. farmer requests for Mexican harvest workers. They said they realized there is "an emergency situation" in some parts of the U.S. cotton belt. Therefore they are trying to streamline the machinery for approval of U.S. farmer requests for Mexican harvest workers. Officials here said they hoped the new measures would speed approval of the requests for the braceros. But they said the minimum delay would be around a week, and that farmers should ask for workers "as far in advance as possible."

When one man can, before leaving his office in the evening, dictate a message of one short paragraph to a small group of individuals throughout the country, go home and to his bed with the full knowledge that when he awakens in the morning 800,000 men will remain away from their customary employment, millions more will be indirectly affected and every part of the nation's economy jeopardized, it's time to do something about it. —Walter R. Thurmond, secretary, Southern Coal Producers Association, criticizing John L. Lewis.

"PAWN MY WORD"—Picketing can get mighty monotonous. So two strikers at the Bell Aircraft plant in Buffalo, N. Y., go in for a quiet game of chess as they make their rounds. Don King makes a move on the tiny chessboard he's holding, then places a piece back to his opponent, John Staughenbaupt, walking behind him. Never a moment wasted.

NEWS CLASSIFIED GETS RESULTS

SUPER-ACTOR - Handsome actor Paul Lees must overcome more than ordinary obstacles to make a name for himself in Hollywood. He must memorize, not only his script, but also the location of every object on the movie set. A bemused Marine hero, he is 90 per cent blind as a result of acid burns received on Corregidor. He has developed such a fantastic memory that he learns his lines from hearing them read once. His wife, a nurse, is an eye specialist.

THANK YOU MICHAEL J. GAGAN, 299 SHAN ST., BUFFALO, N.Y.

PAWN MY WORD - Picketing can get mighty monotonous. So two strikers at the Bell Aircraft plant in Buffalo, N. Y., go in for a quiet game of chess as they make their rounds. Don King makes a move on the tiny chessboard he's holding, then places a piece back to his opponent, John Staughenbaupt, walking behind him. Never a moment wasted.

CARRIER BOYS—Pampa News' carriers are shown above at Palo Duro Canyon just before they boarded a bus for the return home after a picnic given as a reward for news subscribers obtained in a recent circulation contest. On the way home, they stopped in Canyon to visit the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum on the campus of West Texas State College. A state ranger on duty at the entrance to the canyon told Francis L. Green, News' circulation manager, that this was "the best behaved group of boys" he'd seen "in a long time." Jay Nichols, new owner of the City Bus Line, drove the chartered bus, and other members of the circulation and editorial departments accompanied the boys.

Fair to Feature Hereford Cattle Judging and Quarter Horse Races

The Hereford cattle division of the second annual Top of Texas Fair, Sept. 28 through Oct. 1, will have nine classes, Frank Carter, division superintendent, said. Cash prizes will be awarded through the first three places in each class, except class 3 and 7, he continued. Classes are as follows: 1, yearling bulls, calved Jan. 1, 1948, to Aug. 31, 1948; 2, bull calves, calved after Sept. 1, 1948; 4, two bulls, bred and owned by exhibitor; 5, yearling heifers, calved Jan. 1, 1948 through Aug. 31, 1948; 6, heifer calves, calved after Sept. 1, 1948.

Class 8, two females, bred and owned by exhibitor; 9, pair of calves, one bull and one heifer from classes 2 and 7; 10, get of sire consisting of four animals by same sire, both sexes represented. Class 3 will be the grand and reserve champion bulls. The second place winner will be eligible to show for reserve champion. Class 7 will consist of the champion and reserve champion female, with the second place winner being eligible for the reserve champion showing. Banners will be presented in each of these divisions. Meanwhile, afternoon horse races have been announced for all horses entered in the open quarter horse show. Ten percent of the gate fees will be added to the purse of each purse race, plus all entry fees added back—50, 30, 20 percent.

Electronics Used to Trap Wire-Tappers

NEW YORK — Thanks to a new electronic device, Teletap, you'll be able to trap any wire-tapping being done on your telephone line, according to Business Week. The magazine says Teletap signals you when someone is listening in on a wire-tapping device or on another extension, and the device doesn't have to be hooked up directly to the phone wires. Teletap consists of: — a metal box containing electronic and signaling circuits; — a pickup detector enclosed in a thin rubber pad; and — a 6-ft. length of insulated wire that connects the box to the pickup.

"The rubber pad is located somewhere inside a desk drawer or under a table top directly beneath the telephone instrument," says the article. "The electronic and signaling unit is placed in some convenient spot away from the telephone. Then the unit is plugged into an electrical outlet and grounded with a lead attached to the electric cord." "The electronic unit and pickup distinguish between normal voice voltages and abnormal line disturbances caused by wire snooping methods. When the pickup detects a line disturbance, it relays the disturbance to the electronic unit which starts on warning light. The warning light, which tells you that someone is listening in on your conversation, may be turned off by a reset button."

card system. Prizes will be all of the entry fees returned to the highest three places. Chester Thompson, superintendent of the division, said the supreme quarter horse contest is strictly a horse contest and only the horses and their actions will be judged. The riders and their abilities will not count.

East Texas Wild Gas Well Tames Down

MARSHALL — (AP) — East Texas' wild gas well tamed down considerably last night. No longer was the escaping gas throwing up geysers of water, mud and sand as it had been doing most of the time since Sunday morning. Instead gas was escaping safely through a drill pipe. The crater which had been gushing and erupting at the drill site — and into which much valuable drilling equipment fell — was quiet. "Apparently it sealed itself off," explained Ed Stanley, chief engineer of the Oil and Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission Field Office at Kilgore. Stanley inspected the site. He said the well will have to be abandoned. "There's nothing else to do," he said. "If they drill at that spot again, the same thing's likely to happen. We don't know where the gas is coming from. Apparently the water sands are pretty well charged."

"The well — 18 miles north of here and about two miles north-east of Jefferson — had been drilled to about 380 feet when it blew out of control Sunday morning. Stanley said gas usually is not found at that level. "It's under control as much as it ever will be," he added. "The drill pipe is bleeding off the underground gas pressure." He said gas found at such a high level often is found to originate from a crack in a casing of a nearby well. The 130-foot derrick collapsed with much popping and creaking Sunday night, dropping a 60-ton, $85,000 worth of drilling equipment into the geysering crater. Stanley said much of the equipment was recovered.

East Texas Wild Gas Well Tames Down

AUSTIN — (AP) — Major reservoirs reported loss of stored water last month, the State Board of Water Engineers reported yesterday. Losses in seven reservoirs totaled 189,000 acre feet. This was slightly more than 6 percent of the storage at the beginning of August, but storage still was 10 percent more than a year ago. Decreases of runoff created each by Buchanan and Marshall Ford Reservoirs on the Colorado River accounted for more than half the loss. Possum Kingdom on the Brazos River fell from 613,000 to 558,000 acre feet. Three reservoirs on the upper Trinity River — Eagle Mountain, Bridgeport, and Lake Dallas — had losses totaling 30,000 acre feet. Medina Reservoir near San Antonio and Red Bluff Reservoir near Pecos reported small losses. Surface water runoff created a peculiar pattern over Texas, the result of thunderstorms, the board reported. Runoff of the North Bosque River near Clifton was only 18 percent of normal, while that of the Guadalupe River at New Braunfels was 148 percent of normal. At Evadale in East Texas the Neches River flowed 124 percent of normal. In West Texas near Carlsbad, the North Concho River had only 39 percent of normal flow. There were no extreme lows. Normal flows were reported in the Upper Trinity River Basin in the Houston area from the Sabine River to the Lower Colorado River.

Sterling Bloc Partners Help Drain Britain

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON — (AP) — Talks begin here today on the British dollar crisis. Taking part are some top officials of the United States, Canada and Britain. What is the crisis? The British are running out of American dollars which they badly need for buying American goods. But — the British are not here looking for another loan. The talks aim at this: to work out some way by which Britain won't have to use up so fast the dollars it has. No one expects a miracle solution. At this moment the problem is to find a stop-gap way of getting Britain out of its jam. Britain was short of dollars after the war, since it used up so many of them buying war supplies from the U.S. and Canada gave Britain loans. The U.S. even helped out with the Marshall Plan. But now Britain is running short of dollars again. Why? For one thing, Britain hasn't been selling enough goods to the dollar nations to get dollars with which to buy from them in turn. Something else has been using up Britain's dollar supply, also. Britain is linked with a lot of other countries in what is called the "Sterling Bloc." Those bloc countries, including Britain, use the pound as their money in trading with one another. But, when they want to buy from the U.S., they need dollars. Where have they been getting the dollars? A big chunk of them from Britain. Why from Britain, if Britain is short of dollars herself? During the war, when Britain needed dollars so badly, it worked out a deal with its partners in the Sterling Bloc. Instead of paying them off in dollars for the things it bought from them, it gave them credit for dollars to be drawn on later. So now, when one of them wants to buy from America, it tells Britain to shell out dollars. By the end of 1946 Britain had about $2.2 billion in dollar reserves. Slowly, by having to buy from us more than it sold us, plus the drain on its dollar supply by the Sterling Bloc, Britain's dollar supply went down. Now its supply is around $1,600,000,000. The British figure they need a minimum of $2,000,000,000 to be on safe ground.
