Fresh Vegetables Hold Spotlight in Food Field

By The Associated Press
Fresh vegetables held the spotlight this week as midsummer's bumper supplies pushed prices downward.

Meat, poultry, dairy products and other items on the housewife's shopping list held mostly unchanged price-wise.

However, higher wholesale and livestock quotations for pork pointed to higher retail prices soon.

At mid-week, live hogs at the huge Chicago livestock market were at the highest price since last November, around $23.65 a hundred pounds, compared with a year's low of $18.25 late in April.

Nearly all vegetables with the exception of top quality iceberg lettuce and carrots were lower this week.

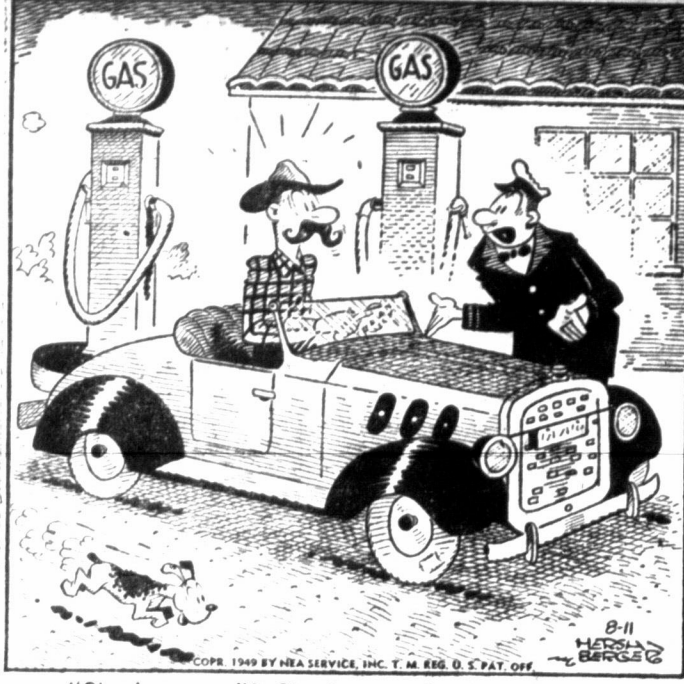

The government's Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported this week that retail prices for most of the fresh fruits are expected to decline more than seasonally this summer, and by fall should be lower than a year earlier.

However, for both fresh and canned citrus, prices will continue substantially higher this summer than last, the report added. Citrus will continue in short supply until the new crop gains volume next fall.

Other price predictions by the bureau most probably will decline seasonally this fall, but not as sharply as in the same months last year. Eggs probably will rise seasonally during the next few months, moving toward the peak generally reached in the last quarter of the year.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale price index this week advanced $5.85 from $5.84 a week ago, but was 18 percent below the year-ago level of $7.18. This index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Young Boy, Dying With Cancer, Looks Forward to 'Mail Call'

RISEING STAR — (AP) — Clar Linden Underwood, 9, no longer props himself up on his elbows to watch youngsters chase each other through the sprinkler on the hospital lawn.

The skinny, brown-haired lad from Buckeye, N. M., is too weak from the ravages of a cancer, which already has closed his left eye. Doctors say it will take his life.

Clar is the oldest of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Drexel Clar Underwood of Buckeye, former residents of this area. The Underwoods brought their son to the immaculate white hospital here two weeks ago. His grandparents live here, and they want the family to be together.

Nurses say the boy was alert and "bounced around quite a bit" when he was brought here after treatment at Dallas. But he has steadily weakened.

He is strongest in the morning, when his father brings him the daily stack of cards, letters and packages. The boy treasures the letters and fondles the candy and cookies, even though he can't eat them. "He seems sort of hurt," said the father, "if there isn't much mail."

In the two weeks he's been here more than 1,800 letters, cards and packages have arrived. Clar's mother, an attractive woman, wishes there were even more. Some of the letters are childish scrawls from his Buckeye playmates.

Underwood is a production employee for Phillips Petroleum. The family has lived in the Buckeye and Jal, N. M., areas since leaving this West Central Texas area.

The 9-year-old boy has won the hearts of townspeople here. He smiles painfully when they talk to him. The cancer — the malignant sort called sarcoma — was discovered in February of 1948 when he was in the third grade at Buckeye.

House Members Plan Vacation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — House members started planning hopefully Wednesday on a one-month vacation, starting possibly at the end of next week.

The word has been quietly passed around in the cloakrooms that if several major bills still on the House docket can be disposed of by Aug. 19, the House can get out of town and let the Senate sweat it out alone.

Majority Leader McCormack of Massachusetts virtually assured members of a long recess. He did so in saying that House recesses might be in order after House passage of the President's arms-aid proposal and a bill for economic assistance to Korea.

"We are far ahead of the Senate," McCormack noted. The arms-aid measure is due to come out of the House Foreign Affairs Committee late this week.

The Korean aid bill has been approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee and now is before the Rules Committee. The House leadership expects a Rules Committee go-ahead for it shortly.

Testimony Heard on Nomination

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A veteran Washington trial lawyer told senators that most of the opposition to placing Attorney General Tom C. Clark on the Supreme Court "comes from Communist sources."

James J. Laughlin, counsel in the many sensational criminal trials here, urged the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve Clark's nomination as an associate justice.

Other witnesses sharply protested the nomination. Among these were members of two organizations listed by the attorney general as subversive.

The Rev. Clarence Parker, a fired white-haired Episcopal rector from Chicago, said Clark had done "a wicked thing" by placing organizations and individuals on sequential lawyer's "subversive list" without giving them a chance for "defense or recourse." The elderly clergyman who he belongs to two groups on the list.

Alfred Henley, a trustee of the Washington Cooperative Book Shop, which is on Clark's list, described the book shop and its program of discussions in which he said white and colored persons meet on a basis of equality and non-discrimination.

Henley said Clark's "early training for the Supreme Court" included wire-tapping, "ill-gotten" search and seizure and other unconstitutional tactics that might better suit "a traffic cop" or police officer.

Despite unfriendly testimony, the general belief was that Clark's confirmation is assured.

Harold L. Jiles, ex-secretary of the interior, fired away at his former Cabinet colleague in an article in the New Republic. Jiles called Clark an "incompetent" and "unconsequential lawyer."

"a second-rate political hack who has known what backs to slap and when."

O. John Rogge, who served for a time as assistant attorney general under Clark, told the Judiciary Committee that his former chief "has neither the stature nor integrity or ability" required of a member of the nation's highest court.

Court Upholds Government Right

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The U. S. Court of Appeals has upheld the government's right to label certain groups "subversive."

The 2-to-1 decision was handed down in the case of the joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, which had appealed to the courts after it was included on Attorney General Clark's "subversive list" two years ago.

The appeals court affirmed the U. S. District Court here in dismissing the committee's suit on a motion by the government.

'Real Man' Club Topic

J. P. Crenshaw, minister of the Church of Christ, addressed yesterday's Lions Club luncheon meeting in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

The topic of his speech was "Real Man," which he said the Bible defines as one who "excuteh righteousness and seeketh truth."

"Today the 'real man' is one who tries to do all he knows he ought to do, he said.

"The 'real man' was rare in Bible times and is just as rare today," he said. "Christianity is the only thing on earth that can make for a 'real man.'"

Crenshaw was introduced by Ray Salmon, program chairman.

Hebrews Sang Praises of the Lord In Exile and Post-Exilic Psalms

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. The writer of the 137th Psalm, in his vivid historical record, tells how their Babylonian captors required mirth of the Jewish Exiles, in Babylon, saying: "Sing us one of the songs of Zion."

Just what these songs of Zion were we do not know, for many of the finest Psalms seem to have come out of the Exile, and the post-Exilic period.

Oilers Sweep Series From Gassers 11-6

Bodine Wins Seventh; Pioneers Here Tonight

Righthander Charley Bodine came through with another pitching victory last night as he hurled the Oilers to an 11 to 6 victory over the Borger Gassers. The win enabled the Oilers to sweep the two-game series and strengthen their hold on sixth place and keep pace with the Hubbers and Gold Sox who both won last night. The win was the seventh of the year for Bodine and his third in this final stretch drive.

Tonight the Oilers open against the Clovis Pioneers with Johnny Wood slated to start. He was originally named to start last night's game but due to insufficient rest he was put in the outfield, where he connected for two safeties. Game time tonight is 8:15.

The Oilers defeated one of their old pests last night, lefty George Matthews. Pampa tagged Matthews, Jim Bachelor, from Wellington, and Marty Errante for a total of 16 hits, to run their three-game total to 52 safeties, their most consistent attack of the year.

The Oilers got to Matthews for two runs in the first after a snappy double play in the top of the inning kept the Gassers from scoring. With one out, Valasquez singled and Matney doubled him to third. Virg Richardson then dropped a Texas leaguer in right field to score both runners.

The Gassers tied the score in the second on four hits, but the Oilers took the lead for keeps in the fourth. Engel opened the fourth with a walk and went to second on a leg hit by Wood. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Everett went down swinging but Martin walked to load the base to capacity. Chas Ely Bodine went down swinging, and it looked like the threat was over. But Tooter Harper supplied the tie-breaking punch with a single to right that scored Engel and Wood. Velasquez singled to right to plate Martin. Then Homer Matney lined the ball to left center field, and while Jim Free was chasing the ball down Harper and Velasquez scored and Matney pulled up at third with a triple.

A double by Wood and a single by Everett made the score 4-1 in the fifth. The Gassers got one run in the sixth and three more in the seventh on a single and three doubles.

But the Oilers got the final three runs of the game in the seventh on three hits and an error. Richardson opened the inning with a ball down the right field line that Nell let go through him for a two-base error. Os Engel then clubbed his third home run of the year over the leftfield fence. After Wood bounced out, Everett dumped a double in leftfield and came in to score on a single by Martin.

OILER OZZINGS: Erratic fielding by the Oilers got Bodine into trouble several times, but he managed to stagger through and get the side out. A beautiful play by Harper in the second saved a couple of runs. Os Engel turned in a fine running catch in the fourth. Johnny Wood, not to be outdone, grabbed a similar

Lobos Rally in Last Inning to Top Dukes

LAMESA — (P) — Shortstop Glenn Selbo's single with the bases loaded and one out in the last of the ninth gave the Lamesa Lobos a 5 to 4 victory over the Albuquerque Dukes here last night and a sweep of the two-game series with the league leaders.

Stan Grayzac bested Frank Shone in a battle of unearned runs as both hurlers allowed only seven hits, but were the victims of three errors by each team. Grayzac allowed one earned run in chalking up his 14th win, while Shone gave up two earned tallies in suffering his sixth setback.

Dick Dawson, Duke outfielder injured Wednesday night, was in uniform last night, but will be out of the lineup several days.

Headner Leads World Golfing Championship

CHICAGO — (P) — Clayton Headner, 240-pound Charlotte, N. C., pro, was burning up the trail to golf's biggest bonanza today with a one-stroke lead entering the second round of the Tam O'Shanter $35,200 "World" Championship.

Headner grabbed the brass ring yesterday with a sizzling six-under-par 66 for a slight edge over two other seasoned campaigners, Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., and Henry Ransom, the transplanted Texan now in Chicago.

Palmer and Ransom each banged 67's. In all, 29 pros broke par 72 in a terrific opening round, pace in the chase for the $10,000 first prize.

So hot was the rivalry that Lloyd Mangrum's dismal 75 all but knocked him out of contention.

Another favorite, Sam Snead, runner-up to Mangrum in the All-American competition, also skidded. Sambo's regulation par 72 left him stranded in a tie for 30th place. Mangrum was buried in a tie for 56th.

Four players were grouped at 68 in the tightly-packed start of the 72-hole scramble for golf's largest jackpot.

They were Jim Ferrier, Ed Furgol, Jim Turnesa, and Dick Metz. Ferrier particularly blew Sweden's chance to become the frontrunner when he climbed to a last nine 36 after opening with 32.

Locked at 69 were National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff, Willie Hunter, Jr., Chandler Harper and Jimmy Demaret.

Pro Eagles Rate as Favorites In Tonight's All-Star Classic

CHICAGO — (P) — Football's gaudy, glimmering extravaganza — the 18th annual All-Star classic tonight will pit a squad of 70 collegians against the Philadelphia Eagles before upwards of 50,000 spectators in Soldier's Field.

Coch Greasy Neale's National Football League Champion Eagles were rated last night as 10 point favorites over the All-Star retinue coached by Bud Wilkinson, the split-T mentor from Oklahoma.

The over-all series stands at eight victories for the pros, five for the collegians, and two ties. The first game of the series between the All Stars and the Chicago Bears in 1934 wound up in a scoreless tie.

The collegians' line will be just as big, just as tough and just as aply as anything the Eagles might display.

The probable starting lineups: College All Stars: LE Barney Pook (Miss) LT Phil O'Reilly (Purdue) LG Marty Wendell (ND) C Charles Bednarik (Penn) RT Al De Rogatis (Duke) RE Mel Sheehan (MO) RB Pete Elliott (Mich) QB George Talaferro (Ind) RB Jerry Williams (Wash St) FB Elwyn Rowan (Army)

Philadelphia Eagles: LB Jack Errante (no school) LT Vic Sears (Ore. St) LG Cliff Patton (TCU) C Vic Lindskog (Stanford) RG Frank Kilroy (Temple) RT Al Wikart (Mich) RE Pete Pihos (Ind) QB Tommy Thompson (Tulsa) LH Steve Van Buren (LSU) RB Bob Pritchard (VMI) FB Joe Muha (VMI) Kickoff: 7:30 p. m. (CST) Broadcasting: Mutual Broad-casting System starting at 7:30 p. m.

Dodgers Move Into National Loop Lead

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — Pee Wee Reese's 14th home run, hit in the eighth inning with two on, gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 10 to 7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and a clean sweep of the three-game series last night.

The victory gave the Dodgers undisputed possession of first place with a half-game margin over the idle St. Louis Cardinals.

Albuquerque Fans Start Fund for Polio-Stricken Shortstop Okrie

ALBUQUERQUE — (P) — Purses opened wide today for a baseball player critically ill with polio. The gesture was for Frank Okrie, shortstop for Albuquerque in the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League. He was stricken with infantile paralysis Wednesday and is in an iron lung in a Lamesa, Texas, hospital.

Contributions have passed the $2,000 mark. Eight-year-old Dorothy Cramp-ton said she had no money. But she offered to sell her prize possession—a ball autographed by the World Champion Detroit Tigers. She said Okrie and his family could have what she gets from the sale.

A ball bearing the names of the greats of the 1915 New York Yankees was offered by 64-year-old C. H. Baird.

Albuquerque fans organized a radio appeal for financial aid for the family last night. More than $2,000 was pledged in the first three hours. Contributions continued pouring in throughout the night. A "Frank Okrie" night already is being planned at the Albuquerque Park.

The 27-year-old player is a former infantry sergeant with the Purple Heart received in the Battle of the Bulge. He was on his way to a possible league fielding record and was considered a threat for national fielding honors. At the halfway mark, his fielding percentage was .945.

NEW YORK (AP) — Any discussion on the political activity of David Dubinsky and his garment workers' union necessarily involves Italy, the state of Israel, the United Jewish Appeal and China, because they enjoy Dubinsky's personal and political patronage at the expense of the workers in the shops. This union enjoys a public license as bargaining agent in dealings with employers. It has become so arrogant, however, that the workers now actually need a defender to protect their rights against the denunciations of Dubinsky and the union. Most of them earn small pay, but they often find themselves called upon to give up a day's pay or half a day's pay for projects which Dubinsky adopts to further his own political and financial ends. It would have no right to put through a tax of a day's pay to buy a pig or a suit of clothes for every farmer in Ireland. A descendant of recent Irish forbes, I would criticize such a project for the same reason that I criticize the substitution of this union's power and resources to the service of the state of Israel. Dubinsky's self-serving, demagogic statements that the workers' desire to help the oppressed everywhere without discrimination are entirely irrelevant. "Workers" do not help others elsewhere spontaneously, but must be coerced and persuaded by pressure and propaganda. Contrary to political slogans wrought by fakers, they do exercise a certain amount of initiative, and it is possible to do so. The "Irish" of the United States take pride in the fact that they carried the financial burden of the fight for Irish freedom for years without help from any other nation. They are not Irish were not compelled by fictitious "majority" votes to help in the cause. There seems to be great need in Spain of the same kind of financial help that Dubinsky has directed to Israel and Italy. Spain has more legitimate claims on American generosity than Italy has, assuming that Italy has a claim, which is not the case. Italy was an aggressor against the United States and in a very real sense against the American people. It was Italy that was the enemy of the United States and the British Labor Cabinet. It must be made clear that the United States has no intention, in the event of aggression, of allowing the peoples of Western Europe to be overrun before its own power can be brought to bear. — President Truman. Death, now knocking at my door, is not an unwelcome guest. — George Bernard Shaw. How any human being can fire bullets into a crowd of people beats me. They're animals. They ain't human. — Los Angeles gang boss Mickey Cohen, after being shot with three others by unknown gunmen.

LIBERTY

By F. A. HARPER
A Member of the Staff of Foundation for Economic Education

INSTALLMENT XI
It is commonly believed that the "democratic process" will assure progress. But there is no way of designing excessive governmental activity so as to assure that it will aid progress rather than stop progress. Progress arises in every instance out of an extreme minority of opinion, not the majority of opinion. The seedlings of progress are trampled so small and unnoticed that they are ignored by those who would otherwise destroy them in ignorance as "evil" thought or acts. But if everything were to be subjected to majority rule, every step of progress would presumably be destroyed in its infancy. When we consider the separate historic events that comprise what we now accept as the steps of progress, and if we note how unacceptable they were in the early days, it should be clear that little progress could have occurred under a rule of the majority over the ages. As illustration, the potato, a marvelously productive new crop from South America, was barred from introduction into the agriculture of England during the extended time when this type of rule by the members of each community was in operation; it barred individual freedom of decision and action, and prevented the progress that always arises because someone is willing to hazard the trying of something new. Neither does the device of compromise prevent the act of government from stopping progress. Truth is not a thing that can be compromised. A thing is right or it is wrong. Principle cannot be compromised; it can only be abandoned. The route to this discovery of truth is to allow a person to be wholly right or wholly wrong. The search for truth is impeded by the fact that a person who thus abandons reason and who adopts the compromise means of always being right is so commonly tolerated a reasonable person, and crowned a virtue and perhaps given a position of power! Ignorance and false beliefs, the barriers to truth and progress, are caused by the majority rule. Truth is about all things except the core of "accepted truth." Their numbers make them the rulers in the democratic process. They should not be empowered with rule over the "creative minority" at the crucial time when these steps of progress are being taken and an acceptance of newly discovered truth is being slowly gained. An essential feature of a liberal government is the protection of minorities against the plunder of the majority. The ultimate of minorities is one person. And so the ultimate of liberalism, as it has been defined herein, is the protection of each person against the plunder of one or more other persons. This makes it possible for one person to be protected while he sows the seeds of progress, by withdrawing from the stampede of unreason which is around him. The protection must be provided else there can be no progress, covering all persons equally, because there can be no way to know in advance who is the person whose work is the contribution to progress. Progress always hangs by a slender thread, which can easily be severed. That is why progress has been so slow and uncommensurate with the history of the human race. Progress is but a step away from retrogression. And whereas progress is a difficult upward climb, the slide down the slope of retrogression is so easy that the ignorant can negotiate it. A dictator who is totally incapable of any contribution to progress is likely to be skilled in its destruction. Retrogression, once started, tends to accelerate. That is why in the past the slow advancement of various "civilizations" have quickly dissolved into "dark ages." The slow and painful gains of centuries, whereby progress under liberty is built upon the accumulated experience of the ages and wisdom of the sages, can become lost in a short space of time. The same stroke that destroys liberty and the chance for progress creates a power which is introduced by the ignorant, under a false prophet who forces wholesale adherence to untruth among those within his domain. The many users of the benefits of progress, especially in a democracy, hold in their hands the tools for the destruction of the fruits of progress. When once they have destroyed the liberty on which progress feeds and grows, they will have destroyed the ideas and the rights of their children's children — to generation on generation that is to follow — an age of poverty and of social disintegration. That is our present threat. Variation must be restricted and progress must be introduced by the source of progress. To impose punishment on all that is at variance is to poison all progress. Nature's law of variation deserves full sway over wide scope, and it is improper for government to interfere to keep where one person trespasses on the rights of another under liberty. (To be continued)

When I testified before a House subcommittee on labor in June regarding oppression under unionism only one rank and file witness appeared. Mrs. Helen Kulesha came voluntarily from New York and swore that she had been done out of her vacation because she had refused to contribute $7 to the United Jewish Appeal, the Italian American Labor Council, the Jewish Labor Committee, Histadrut and many other organizations who carry on relief and reconstruction in foreign lands. Mrs. Kulesha earned about $20 a week and was entitled to about $22 vacation money, paid by her employer to the union to her credit for that specific purpose. When the vacation checks were being passed out by the union, hers was put in her hand and then was snatched back because she had refused to pay $7 to this collection. The $7 was not just one day's pay, but one-third of a week's pay. Also, it was about one-third of her total vacation check. Dubinsky prints at rank and file expense a propaganda paper for his own glorification, and praisings Dubinsky. But it did not mention Mrs. Helen Kulesha. At last reports, Mrs. Kulesha was trying to recover her vacation money in the small claims court in New York. If there are two nations between whom war is unthinkable, it is Britain and America. — Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council in the British Labor Cabinet. It must be made clear that the United States has no intention, in the event of aggression, of allowing the peoples of Western Europe to be overrun before its own power can be brought to bear. — President Truman. Death, now knocking at my door, is not an unwelcome guest. — George Bernard Shaw. How any human being can fire bullets into a crowd of people beats me. They're animals. They ain't human. — Los Angeles gang boss Mickey Cohen, after being shot with three others by unknown gunmen.

QUICKIES

By Ken Reynolds
I hope these worthies are as good as the Halt Shop News. Want Ad said they were.
The cold war is a kind of wager. Each of the two competitors is betting that he can make his own way of life so manifestly superior to his rival's that all mankind is bound to become his customer and thereby put the rival firm out of business. — Historian Arnold J. Toynbee.

Washington . . . . . by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Young Bob Wagner's candidacy for the U. S. Senate seat vacated by his father may lead to an early election on labor legislation. Democratic National Committee is arranging another regional political conference for St. Paul, Minneapolis this fall. It will consider electric power and river valley development. Party leaders at recent Des Moines conference on farm issues was so successful that other regional political conferences can't miss. It was generally noticed, but at Des Moines closing session a resolution was passed endorsing "integration of river resources" patterned on the Tennessee Valley Authority. Original draft of this resolution called for endorsement of a Missouri Valley Authority only. It was broadened to take in all valleys and to specify that development should be on the TVA pattern. Another angle on the B-36 controversy concerns the fate of Gen. George C. Kenney, second ranking Air Force officer. Kenney's health bill is the biggest concession yet made by opponents of compulsory health insurance. They see it as much closer to the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill than the substitute offered by Senator Taft and his cohorts. Composition of U. S. Navy's active fleet will be changed somewhat during the next year. The 11 aircraft carriers will be reduced to eight. The 31 cruisers will be reduced to 18. The 130 destroyers will be increased to 170. The fleet of some 80 submarines will be kept at about the same strength. Two of the three carriers withdrawn from the active fleet will go to drydock, as announced recently by Defense Secretary Johnson. Their flight decks will be strengthened and their armament increased. The Navy hopes eventually to have 36 carriers in this manner. Two years are required to complete each job. All changes proposed are based on experience with carriers in the last war. Maxwell Field are also critical of the B-36 and the official strategic bombing concept as outlined by the Air Force today. GOP BILL A SURPRISE Supporters of President Truman's health insurance program were very much surprised when they looked over the new Republican health bill introduced by two senators and seven representatives. Rep. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts and Jacob K. Javits of New York did most of the work on this measure. Administration bill backers say this new Republican bill is the biggest concession yet made by opponents of compulsory health insurance. They see it as much closer to the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill than the substitute offered by Senator Taft and his cohorts.

While imagining herself to be the victim of exploitation, she (the American woman) is in fact pathetically naive and embarrassed exhibitionist. Lacking consideration for others, she has the conceit to assume that she is the focal point of every situation in which she is involved. — Flight Corbett. British editor who has lived in the U. S. for three years. Instead of spending millions on European countries, we should re-build our own defenses, which have been let down to a low level. — Gen. Jonathan Wainwright. Football fields are called grid-iron because the white lines crossing the field resemble a grid-iron. Senator Vandenberg was the first to perceive the direction in which GOP policy was driving the party — namely, into acquiescence in what now appears to have been irremediable and fundamental blunders. Despite many other explanations for his position, this is the reason for his new and cautious attitude. AUTHORITIES — Two of President Truman's favorite appointees and friends are quietly defying him on several projects which he has advocated as appeasement to the "liberal bloc" headed by power-minded Democrats and Rooseveltians. They are New Jersey Reclamation Commissioner "Mike" Straus and Chief of Army Engineers Lewis A. Pick. Mr. Truman has committed himself privately and publicly to the creation of Missouri and Columbia Valley Authorities along the line of the Tennessee Valley agency. MVA and CVA would develop under a uniform plan all the resources of those regions — water power, irrigation, flood control and navigation, soil, timber, etc. His 1948 pledges in this field helped him to sweep supposedly Dewey states in these areas. PICEMEAL — Commissioner Straus and General Pick, however, have other ideas. They would be swept aside by a CVA-MVA program. They would lose prestige, power and Congressional funds. Their vast agencies would become behind-the-scenes ball units. So, they have combined forces behind a Pick-Straus program for development of these areas. Under their plan, according to "official" critics, both valleys would be developed on a piecemeal basis rather than under a centralized scheme. The Authorities would also be independent of bureaucratic Pick-Straus control from Washington. The Pick-Straus scheme would stymie the program which Mr. Truman says he wants, although he has made no great effort to obtain necessary legislation from Congress. Ironically, the Reclamation and Army Engineers lobbies have been fierce foes in the past, often having buried their differences in order to ward off even a White House invasion of their provinces. If we sink through socialism into economic decline and collapse, not only will our sufferings be intense, but we shall carry many other nations with us into chaos and communism. — Winston Churchill.

BLUNDERS — Other day-by-day disclosures convince the Republican strategists that they cannot afford to continue to play second fiddle in an orchestra whose words symphonies were improvised long ago by Democratic music masters like Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Truman and Dean Acheson. They realize, many years later, that they were called into conference only after basic decisions had been made. Up to now, their willingness to cooperate places them in the awkward place of approving policies in which they had no voice — and policies which, as in China and Indonesia, threaten to surrender the Orient and Asia, with its tremendous and beautiful resources, to the Red menace. By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — The State Department's White Paper on China furnishes partial explanation for Capitol Hill Republicans' reluctant decision to cut loose from their unquestioning support of the Roosevelt-Tamm-Acheson foreign policy in the Far East and elsewhere, including Western Europe.

Even such cooperative and internationally minded figures as Senator Vandenberg, Senator Dulles and Representative Station New Jersey, ranking minority member on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, begin to feel that their unwavering endorsement places them in the position of covering up or liquidating the crucial time when these steps of progress are being taken and an acceptance of newly discovered truth is being slowly gained. An essential feature of a liberal government is the protection of minorities against the plunder of the majority. The ultimate of minorities is one person. And so the ultimate of liberalism, as it has been defined herein, is the protection of each person against the plunder of one or more other persons. This makes it possible for one person to be protected while he sows the seeds of progress, by withdrawing from the stampede of unreason which is around him. The protection must be provided else there can be no progress, covering all persons equally, because there can be no way to know in advance who is the person whose work is the contribution to progress. Progress always hangs by a slender thread, which can easily be severed. That is why progress has been so slow and uncommensurate with the history of the human race. Progress is but a step away from retrogression. And whereas progress is a difficult upward climb, the slide down the slope of retrogression is so easy that the ignorant can negotiate it. A dictator who is totally incapable of any contribution to progress is likely to be skilled in its destruction. Retrogression, once started, tends to accelerate. That is why in the past the slow advancement of various "civilizations" have quickly dissolved into "dark ages." The slow and painful gains of centuries, whereby progress under liberty is built upon the accumulated experience of the ages and wisdom of the sages, can become lost in a short space of time. The same stroke that destroys liberty and the chance for progress creates a power which is introduced by the ignorant, under a false prophet who forces wholesale adherence to untruth among those within his domain. The many users of the benefits of progress, especially in a democracy, hold in their hands the tools for the destruction of the fruits of progress. When once they have destroyed the liberty on which progress feeds and grows, they will have destroyed the ideas and the rights of their children's children — to generation on generation that is to follow — an age of poverty and of social disintegration. That is our present threat. Variation must be restricted and progress must be introduced by the source of progress. To impose punishment on all that is at variance is to poison all progress. Nature's law of variation deserves full sway over wide scope, and it is improper for government to interfere to keep where one person trespasses on the rights of another under liberty. (To be continued)

VIEWPOINT — With respect to China, for instance, the opposition disregarded the anti-Chinese warnings voiced by the late Lieutenant General Joseph W. Stilwell and ex-Ambassador Patrick Hurley. They permitted State to suppress the Wendenmyer report, although he advanced a program which might have saved the Nationalist Government if it had been applied at the time. The GOP accepted State's earlier viewpoint that the Communists were mere agrarian reformers, with no Moscow connections. They proceeded on this now exploded viewpoint, although a Congressional committee headed by Mrs. Frances Bolton, Ohio, when the Truman-Cheney program, and to make our general foreign policy an issue in the 1950 Congressional elections and in the 1952 presidential campaign, barring the outbreak of war. The "Yalta and Teheran sell-out" to Russia, which broke our pledges to Chiang by giving Moscow a foothold in Manchuria, lies at the root of current Chinese difficulties, in the Republican opinion. Japan was so near collapse when this deal was made, according to new information, that there was no need to offer these concessions to Stalin to persuade him to attack Japan after Germany's defeat. The Republicans were never consulted about the Truman and Marshall plans for bolstering Turkey, Greece and Western Europe, although military and financial intervention in these areas was necessitated by Roosevelt-Truman promises giving Moscow her historic demand for power and territory in Central Europe, the Middle East and the Balkans, as well as in Manchuria.

McGinley's Painted Too

By GORDON MARTIN

When the clap-board paint is peeling and the shutters start to fade, and the shingles on the roof begin to look somewhat decayed, then a man has got to realize it's painting time once more, since the place is needing color from the roof-top to the floor. It's no time to loaf in comfort and it doesn't help to grouse, for it's quite an undertaking when McGinley paints his house.

First he tours around the paint stores, studies color charts for days, and he mixes many pigments till his mind's a color haze. Then he goes to find his ladders and erects his scaffolds high, and he squares his sagging shoulders and resolves to do or die. And McGinley keeps on painting 'til the house begins to shine, while he smells of lead and linseed oil and pungent turpentine.

But McGinley's not a quitter and he spreads the second coat, and at times he mutters to himself some things you couldn't quote. He's a tired and drooping hunk or man whose muscles ache like sin, and his hair is full of drops of paint and so's his unburned skin. But at last he makes the final sweep, then eyes his color true, and altho the house is painted, poor McGinley's painted too!

Health Talks

Prepared by the State Medical Association of Texas

There's a great day coming, many mananans away, when protruding and dog ears will no longer be the object of mirth.

For there are indications that some day the external ear of man may disappear entirely. The external ear of woman is not being considered here because no matter how weird a shape her ears may have assumed, she is an artist at camouflage and she keeps the secret well-hidden by clever hair arrangements.

Protruding ears are as unnecessary as the external ear itself, but until that day of final regression when man has evolved the disappearance of the outer auditory shell those who are suffering the razing of oddly formed ears have hopes of relief in plastic surgery.

Simple plastic surgery can correct protruding ears. Dog ears, where the top of the external ear droops over the shell, require more extensive surgery. Neither of these malformations have any importance in the function of the ear, but many times the psychological reaction to the jokes and razzing makes such a corrective procedure desirable. It never seemed to hamper Clark Gable, but others react differently.

Children especially seem to react unfavorably, developing a feeling of insecurity over the mirth caused by the deformity. If surgical correction is planned, the pre-schooler is considered preferable before any real psychic injury can be inflicted. Correction of the protruding ear consists of removal of some of the cartilage in the external ear, thus reducing the angle of the ear with respect to the head. The folds are re-formed so that they have normal contours, and other parts of the ear are brought in line to resemble the normal ear.

The stages of surgery for dog ear correction are slightly more complex, but every bit as successful a piece of plastic surgery as in the cases of protruding ears. This, of course, is in the realm of medicine where there is no actual physical necessity for remedying a defect of nature. But in the event of unfavorable mental reaction to such a defect, the results are gratifying.

HE'S NOT SO QUIET! LET'S GO DOWN ON ANOTHER BEACH!

Well, I hope you're going away far away on your vacation, Erskine, for here is what happens when you spend one at home. This is how a typical day goes: The doorbell rings at 8:30 a.m. and it is a man to fix the telephone which is out of order (why dang we and fix it? he says?) and it's in the bedroom so he has to get up. The workman has a hard time fixing it because it rings every 10 minutes from then on. Why is it the people who want you to donate to their pet charity, buy an ad in a trade paper, appear at their swimming meet, always call early in the morning? Finally Ben has to go in town on business and I decide to take a swim—quickly before anything else happens. I've just started to relax and enjoy myself when I look up and there is a perfectly strange man standing there staring at me. When I inquires as to his business, he fumbles for a while and finally says, "I was just passing and saw you. You don't mind if I watch, do you?" So there goes my swim.

PHONE AGAIN About that time a photographer from the studio arrives. Oh yes—they found me! That's talking the best part of the afternoon and then it's time to start dinner. By the time I get Ben fed and off to work, the phone rings again and it's a columnist wanting to know if it's true we're "fitting."

I settle down to read the script for my next picture, "Duchess of Idaho," and finally go to bed about 10 o'clock dead tired. I'm just dozing off into dreamland when that familiar bell rings again.

I say "Hello" and a voice says "Esther?" I say "Yes" and the voice says "Thanks a lot—I just won bet that I could get you on the telephone."

Sometimes I wonder what I would say to Mr. Bell if I ever met him face to face.

Texas Keeps Up Fight on Dread Cancer

DALLAS — Where would your doctor send you for a diagnosis if he suspected that you had cancer?

"That is a question few Texans can answer," Dr. William F. Mengert of Dallas, chairman of the Committee on Projects and Allocation of Funds of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, points out.

"Few Texans realize the great strides toward a control of cancer which have been achieved in Texas in just a few short years," Dr. Mengert says. "Four organizations are devoting almost constant effort to improve cancer diagnostic and treatment facilities in the state, and their results have been very noteworthy. They have sponsored and assisted the establishment of 20 tumor clinics. It is to one of these tumor clinics that your doctor would send you for a diagnosis and treatment. These four organizations are also conducting a cancer educational program to warn Texans that cancer can be cured, if caught in time."

Dr. Mengert listed the four organizations as the American Cancer Society, Texas Division; the Cancer Committee of the State Medical Association of Texas; the State Board of Health; and M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research.

The 20 Texas tumor clinics which are doing so much to combat the nation's second major cause of death are as follows: The Potter County Medical Society Tumor Clinic, Amarillo; The Wichita County Medical Society Tumor Clinic, Wichita Falls; The El Paso County Medical Society Tumor Clinic, El Paso; Tarrant County Cancer Clinic at City-County Hospital, Fort Worth; Harris Hospital Tumor Clinic, Fort Worth; Baylor University Hospital Tumor Clinic, Dallas; Parkland Hospital Tumor Clinic, Dallas; St. Paul's Hospital Tumor Clinic, Dallas; Bowie-Miller County Medical Society Tumor Clinic, Medicine; The University of Texas Medical Branch, John Sealy Hospital, Galveston; Robert B. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research in Houston; Jefferson Davis Hospital Tumor Clinic, Houston; and the tumor clinic at the University of Texas Medical Branch, John Sealy Hospital, Galveston.

The committee was told by Albert J. Gross, a Milwaukee businessman, that he shipped Vaughan a home freezer unit four years ago. Gross said it was paid for by the Albert Verley Company of Chicago. That's the perfume firm which fast-talking John Maragon, one of the key figures in the investigation, had said he worked for at that time.

Gross was all set to go on from there and name committee members said later, other Washingtonians to whom he said he sent freezers for the Verley Company.

But the probes cut him off short after talking down the mild protests of two Republican members of the group, McCarthy and Senator Mundt of South Dakota. Mundt, who remarked that the hush-hush business created an "aura of mystery," managed to get into the record before the hold-everything order that it was his assumption Vaughan had not paid for them.

Later Hoey told reports he called a halt to Gross' testimony because shipment of the freezers "might have been a perfectly innocent thing."

Refugee National Government At Canton Is Breaking Up

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Foreign News Analyst

What is there left in China, by way of unconquered areas and leaders, to combat communism? American planners reportedly are looking into this question as they form a new policy toward China. The picture is roughly like this:

The refugee nationalist government at Canton, rejected as hopeless by the white paper, is breaking up as predicted. Its fragments may keep going for some time. The real source of central authority, Chiang Kai-shek, is repairing to Formosa. There he will be safe for the time being, as the Communists have no navy or air force. The influence may grow, however, among resolute Formosans who dislike Chiang's rule as much or more than they did the Japanese.

Canton and Kwangtung province appear to be left more or less open to Red conquest. Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, defense commander, is pulling his troops off into his native province of Kwangsi. He reportedly had asked Chiang for money and men to defend Canton, and did not get them. Cantonese militarists might get their troops to fight, but Kwangtung Province is saturated with well-established guerrilla outfits.

Hainan Island, off the Kwangtung coast, might supply resistance in these two provinces, but it has its own growing guerrilla trouble.

The administrative shell of the Canton government, under President Li Sun-ien and Premier Yen Hsi-shan, is headed for the wartime capital at Chungking in Szechwan Province. The folks there do not welcome its return.

Szechwan's northern flank, meanwhile, is directly menaced by a Red field army striking at its northern border—the historic invasion route—from South Shensi Province. Its chief commercial outlets, the Yangtze River ports of Ichang and Shasi, have already fallen to another Red army.

The only other areas of significance are Yunnan Province in the southwest, and the Moslem areas in the northwest.

In the northwest the Reds are within 95 miles of Langchow, key to the corridor running through the Moslem country toward Soviet Russia. They appear likely to envelop Ningxia, the right flank province, whose Governor Ma Hung-kwei left months ago for Canton and Formosa.

Mexico Students Join in Strike

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Thousands of preparatory and university students have joined the school strike demanding the dismissal of a state Governor.

Leaders of the technical school students who started the strike Wednesday said they had been joined by the preparatory school pupils and by some from the National University of Mexico City. The rest are due to strike later if demands are not met. Leaders said 40,000 youths now are out of classes.

The students asked dismissal of the Governor of Michoacan State, where two students were killed during a demonstration July 28. They also want a promise that troops will not be called to deal with student demonstrators.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — When you grow from a boy into a man you are short-changed in many ways.

You trade the simple life for the complicated life. And one of the things you trade is the "ole swimming hole" for the beach. It is a poor swap. It turns the carefree barefoot boy of yore into a groaning, grumbling grownup beast of burden.

When I was a boy and summered in the country, going swimming was no problem. We just peeled off our overalls behind a bush and waded into the stream or pool, bare as a bluejay and happy as a hound dog.

When the evening train passed by on the way to Kansas City, most of the kids ducked down to their necks in the water. But

Lefors

LEFORS — (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrod are building a new addition to their home.

The Rev. E. A. Stewart announced services times at his United Pentecostal Church: Sunday School, 10 a.m., and devotional service at 11 a.m. Sunday, and evening services at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Guests visiting the Jim Libbys are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Philip and children, Billie Ruth, Bonnie Lee, Alvin, and Vance, of Portland, Ore.

The Lefors RA organization plays the White Deer RAs at Lefors tonight, and the Baptist group played the McLean group at Lefors Wednesday evening.

The Baptist Training Union will hold a revival at 7:30 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, next week. Two state workers, the Misses Sue Barkdale and Thurma Dean Miller, will assist.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Campbell are in California for a 10-day vacation.

The Methodist WSCS will hold a bake sale at 10 a.m. at Grave's Grocery tomorrow.

In the 20 years after 1929, when Turkey replaced the old Arabic script with the Latin alphabet, she published 40,000 books compared to only 30,000 published during the two centuries before 1929.

DEE-LIGHTED—Mary Jane Hayes, 18-year-old Washington, D. C., beauty, registers high emotion as she learns she has been chosen "Miss Washington of 1949." She gets $5000 in prize and a chance at the "Miss America" title at Atlantic City next month.

there was always one who climbed up on the grass and paraded back and forth in view of the passengers.

as "that bank strutter." It was a popular term among politicians. Going home from the "ole swimming hole" a boy might get a thorn in his foot. But, all in all, his dunking had been as artless and easy as the first dive by Adam into the Garden of Eden's pool.

ruined all that. After a man marries, he finds that going to the beach is a ritual and an industry. Getting properly undressed for the ocean's foamy touch takes more trouble and clothing than dressing for a fancy dress ball. It is more like going on an African safari than going for a swim.

recently with Frances. She packed two heavy suitcases. In the suitcases were two bathrobes, enough towels to dry a battalion of porpoises, two pairs of slippers, sunglasses, four bathing suits, socks, slacks, shirts, dresses, fountain pens, pins, combs, books, magazines, vitamin pills and an unanswered letter from a friend in Montana. There also was a battery of bottles loaded with lotions and creams sufficient to grease Shirley May France for a swim from Dover to Boston. "I don't want you to get sunburned," explained Frances. That afternoon as we lay on the beach Frances mused: "Wouldn't it be nice if we had brought along the portable radio?"
