AFTER MID-AIR COLLISION—This DC-3 Capital airliner, damaged in a mid-air collision with a small plane over Milwaukee, Wis., flew on for six miles after the accident to land safely at Milwaukee County Airport. None of the 20 passengers aboard were injured. The pilot of the small plane, Arthur Rapps, 32, was killed when his craft crashed following the collision, which tore off a six-foot section of the airliner's right wing. (AP Wirephoto)

FIFTEEN DIE IN FLAMING WRECKAGE OF INDIANA BUS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Fifteen persons died in the flaming wreckage of a Greyhound bus that burned after smashing into a bridge abutment near here early today.

None of the dead has been identified.

The bus, bound from Indianapolis to Bloomington, hit the bridge on a winding, hilly road shortly after midnight. Seconds later it was in flames.

Coroner Robert W. Lyons of Monroe County said 15 would be the death toll.

Twelve other persons were injured. They are in a Bloomington hospital.

The bodies removed from the wreckage were brought to the Indiana National Guard Army here to await identification.

The bus was so badly smashed that it was necessary to cut it to pieces to pull aside the debris to reach the bodies. As each piece was removed, another part of a body would be found.

The exact death toll cannot be known until the gruesome job is complete and the survivors who scattered are all accounted for.

Driver Wayne Cramer of Indianapolis, one of the survivors, said a front tire may have blown out, causing him to lose control of the bus. After striking the abutment it skidded 150 feet down winding Highway 47 and came to rest on its left side, blocking the emergency door.

Flames enveloped the vehicle almost immediately. The driver said he and "two or three" passengers got out the front door. The other survivors escaped through a rear window which a passenger kicked out.

A Greyhound spokesman in Indianapolis confirmed that there were 37 passengers on the bus when it left Indianapolis for Bloomington.

Glen Van Horn, manager of radio stations WTTS in Bloomington, said one of the survivors told him he "walked through five feet of flames" to get off the bus.

The survivor, Wells Richardson of Evansville, Ind., told Van Horn he was dozing when the bus struck the bridge.

First estimates on the number of passengers who were trapped and burned to death were more than 20. As daylight broke, workers removed 13 bodies, including 11 adults and two children and parts of at least two more were visible.

Woods Points To Vaughan In Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said today he recalls that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan asked him to "hurry along a construction permit for the Tanforan Race Track."

Woods told a Senate investigation subcommittee that Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, came to his office Jan. 12, 1948, to make the plea. He said Vaughan was accompanied by Eugene Mori of Camden, N. J., listed as Tanforan's president.

Woods previously had told the subcommittee only of being called to the White House Jan. 9 last year by Vaughan to discuss the Tanforan matter. He quoted Vaughan as telling him at the White House meeting that "some of my friends" were interested in the case.

Woods said that at the meeting three days later he believed that Vaughan asked him to "please hurry" along the permit because there was "something" before the California Race Track Commission which would make Tanforan lose its franchise if the construction work could not proceed.

Woods sent letters to the Justice Department the next day urging modification of a court order issued against the former owners of the track to stop construction.

Meanwhile, the White House again said that Vaughan has Mr. Truman's permission to testify in the committee's so-called "five percent" inquiry if the senators want him to do so.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said he had "no comment" concerning testimony linking Vaughan's name with the Tanforan Race Track matter.

Committee Chairman Hines (D-NC) said his group is especially interested in getting all the details as to why the Tanforan Track finally got government blessing for the construction after approval had been denied repeatedly.

Guard Lists Promotions

Ten promotions in the local National Guard unit were announced at the battery's regular weekly drill meeting Monday night.

Sgt. William Leonard, 937 S. Nelson, was promoted to master sergeant. Sgt. Gordon E. Mitchell, 303 N. Dwight, was promoted to sergeant first class, and Pvt. Bohie T. Culpepper, 533 N. Zimmers, was made private first class.

The following recruits were promoted to privates: Charles A. Adamson, 931 E. Murphy; Billy Blue, 925 E. Gordon; Paul V. Combs, Rte. 1; Charles E. Everett, 844 E. Campbell; Earl H. Wallin, 425 N. Dwight; and Andrew J. Williams, Kingsmill.

A new mascot to replace Pecos has been obtained by the Gatesville Chamber of Commerce, and the two Gatesville newspapers are holding a contest to name the dog. The contest will close Aug. 12.

Jeep was lost when the unit stopped in Gatesville on the way back from summer camp at North Camp Hood. The dog was found about a week later after it apparently had been poisoned.

Capt. W. J. Eagsdale, commanding officer of Battery A, 54th FA Observation Battalion, expressed the unit's thanks to all the rodeo patrons. The Guard provided ushers at Recreation Park during the rodeo last week and "we wish to express our sincere thanks for the excellent cooperation we received," Eagsdale said.

KPDN to Broadcast Heavyweight Fight

The heavyweight championship fight between Ezzard Charles and Gus Lesnevich, broadcast by the American Broadcasting Company, will be carried by KPDN, the only station in this part of the Panhandle to air the fight.

KPDN purchased broadcast rights from ABC for this all-important bout, Manager Ken Palmer said, and authorization from ABC was received shortly before press-time today.

The broadcast will begin at 8 p. m. today. The fight is being staged in New York City.

Johnson Agrees to Split-Cost Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson told senators today the military department is willing to accept 60 percent in cash and 40 percent in contract authority to launch President Truman's arms program.

It is agreeable to the military, he said, to spread the cost of the $1,450,000,000 program over two or even three years.

America's three top military men—the joint chiefs of staff—waited for Johnson to conclude his testimony before they made their report to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) yesterday proposed a 50-50 split in the cash and contract authority to carry out the re-arming of the North Atlantic Pact nations.

But Johnson said his staff has advised him that 60 percent of the $1,450,000,000 for Western Europe must be in cash. The remainder can be in authority to make contracts which will be paid for in cash later, he said.

Congress is wrangling over the amount of military aid that should be given to the North Atlantic Pact nations, plus Greece, Turkey, Iran, the Philippines and Korea.

In addition to the Senate hearing, Secretary of State Acheson is scheduled for a closed-door meeting of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

After Johnson completed his testimony, Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, took over. He said that if the American people want to use the advantage gained in the "cold war," they must move quickly at establishing a long range plan of defense.

Bradley and the military heads of the Navy and Air Force, Admiral Louis Denfeld and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, have just returned from a 10-day trip to Europe where they conferred with military chiefs of Atlantic Pact nations.

Bradley said the five nations—Britain, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, France and Belgium— which signed the Western Union Pact "are the nucleus of resistance on which any North Atlantic defense plans must be based."

"Your joint chiefs of staff have examined the defense concept of the Western Union and have found that it is in accordance with our strategic thinking," he said.

Bradley said no longer can the U. S. go it alone on its military planning.

"Exhaustion of our moral and material resources would be the result," he said. "For that reason, the joint chiefs of staff urge the enactment of this legislation."

Bradley vigorously opposed any reduction in the proposed amount. He said every item in the bill had been carefully considered, and had been found essential.

The tide of communism is being stemmed in Europe, he declared, and added:

"We are not impelled by crisis, or desperation, or fear of impending war."

Bradley said that if there were such a crisis he would recommend "and I am sure you would (See ARMS PLAN, Page 6)

Tabulation Oil Values Winding Up

Tabulating of values on oil, gas and related properties was winding up this morning in the County Court Room with the last few oil companies and members of the Pickett firm of valuation engineers.

Yesterday the commissioners signed a contract with the Pickett firm for the same services for the next two years of $9,000 per year—or a total of $18,000.

Two years ago the County Commissioners' Board refused to go along with the city and Pampa Independent School Board when the two joined forces and had a tax survey made by the Southwestern Tax Assessor-Collector Office to the county would have approximately been $400,000 and everything in the county including the oil properties would have come under that survey.

The Pickett firm, however, is employed only to work on the oil, gas and related properties. The Commissioners' Court and the County Tax Assessor-Collector Office will have to do that work themselves this year. The entire program may take a year or more, leaving everyone guessing just what the county's total taxable value is from here in.

County Commissioners W. J. Gray and Fred Vanderburg were not on the Court at the time former County Judge Sherman White, and the county commissioners, met with the City Commission and steadfastly refused to come in on the plan.

So far the county's total taxable value for the year has been roughly set at 35 million dollars plus. Added to this figure will be the total taxable value of cattle, wheels and tractor type vehicles, plus expected raises in residential property valuations and those unentered properties that were promised to be put on the rolls by County Judge Bruce Parker.

Tributes Are Paid Hoover On Birthday

Stanford University, Calif. (AP)—Herbert Clark Hoover is 75 years old today, and tributes for the country's only living ex-president poured in from all over the world.

Late today Stanford University will honor its most illustrious graduate in the most Amphitheater. A crowd of 12,000 to 14,000 was expected.

The program will be climaxed by a major address by Mr. Hoover, beginning at 7 p. m., CST. His topic will be "Think of the Next Generation."

Even Mr. Hoover, who once said "I have had every honor to which any man could aspire," probably was surprised by the stir created by his birthday anniversary and by the congratulatory letters by the thousands.

Two states, Arkansas and Missouri, proclaimed today "Hoover Day." Governor Earl Warren of California issued a proclamation in which he said: "Few men anywhere have lived more useful lives, and none with greater devotion, both at home and throughout the world."

The Governors of New Mexico and Vermont extended greetings to Mr. Hoover in proclamations.

Mr. Hoover, born in Iowa and a member of the first graduating class of Leland Stanford University, was the 30th president of the United States—from 1929 to 1933.

At 75 he is, as always, a hard worker, usually putting in a 20-hour day. His chief concern for many years has been for national and international affairs.

Even when on fishing trips or at the annual encampment of the Bohemian Club on the Russian River, he usually works at least part of the day. At his New York hotel residence, he keeps four secretaries busy.

Pampan Contributes To Ecuador Relief

E. G. Barrett, 522 E. Francis, was the first Pampan to contribute $100 for the Ecuador disaster relief. Mrs. Mildred Hill, executive secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, said:

"Basil O'Connor has announced donations will be accepted in all Red Cross chapters for the Ecuador relief. Also $50,000 has been allocated for relief work from the national Red Cross office."

He is survived by his wife, Agnes, by a daughter, Martha, and by a son, Frank Jr., all of Pampa; and by two sisters, Mrs. Agnes McMorde, and Mrs. Don Carter of Loving, N.M.

Berends Rites 2:30 Tomorrow

Funeral services for Frank Berends, 64, who died unexpectedly at his residence, 321 E. Francis, yesterday morning, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Rites will be conducted from the Presbyterian Church in Canadian with the Rev. Harvey Parker, pastor of the church officiating. Burial will be in the direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home, will be in the Canadian Cemetery.

Berends was born March 23, 1865, in Canadian and had lived all his life in the Pampa-Canadian area. He had been living here since a year ago last February.

He is survived by his wife, Agnes, by a daughter, Martha, and by a son, Frank Jr., all of Pampa; and by two sisters, Mrs. Agnes McMorde, and Mrs. Don Carter of Loving, N.M.

Firemen Prove to Wives They Can Cook and Fight Fires Too

Many towns have a low fire-loss rate annually just as does Pampa. However, few other towns have firemen who are all versatile cooks.

Last night the local firemen entertained their wives at the fire station with a regular chuck wagon feed—and was it a feed!

Starting with barbecued beef, the dinner was composed of all the potato salad, stewed apricots, pickles, baked beans and coffee they could eat. The wives had to make the potato salad and Mrs. Ernest Winborne took care of the stewed apricots, but the firemen did all the rest—with the exception of the dishes.

After the firemen and their wives had "seconds" and a few "thirds," they relaxed and called the evening complete. The firemen put 25 cents out of his pay check every time he gets one into a "kitty."

When the fund has increased enough, a family style dinner is the result.

JONES PAYS WITH LIFE

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—W. Fred Jones died in the state's electric chair early today saying a prayer for "all who prosecuted me and lied about me."

It was the second trip to the death house for the convicted slayer of H. C. Love, Jr., in 1946. He was saved from electrocution early Sunday morning by a dramatic last-minute reprieve.

At 12:03 a. m. the Floydada grocer calmly walked into the execution chamber.

At 12:11 a. m. the prison doctor said Jones' had paid his debt to society.

"Tell Thelma this wife I love," Jones said as they strapped him in the chair, "and say bye to the children and be sure to tell my enemies that I love them."

"I am stepping out into eternity," the dignified-looking 40-year-old man said to the assembled officials, witnesses and newspapermen. "I am a saved man, and I know my God if any of you here do not know Him, let me recommend Him to you. I love all who prosecuted me and lied about me."

"Goodnight, everybody. I love all of you."

Within minutes after Jones' body was removed from the chair, General Kerzee, 57-year-old Dallas Negro convicted of the mutilation slaying of a Negro woman in 1948, was electrocuted. He died at 12:21 a. m.

It was the first double electrocution in Texas since 1935. On his way to the death house he was recommended by (See JONES PAYS, Page 6)

New Case Polio Is Reported; Disease on Increase in North

Pampa's fourth case of polio was reported this morning although another polio epidemic probably will not reach Pampa this year, Dr. Julian M. Key, city and county health officer, said.

George Adamie, Jr., two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Adamie, Route 2, has been taken to the West Texas Polio Clinic at Plainview. His illness was diagnosed yesterday as probable polio.

"It is highly unusual for polio epidemics to strike twice in the same locale in two successive years," Dr. Key said.

Meanwhile Texas polio incidence during the past week bounced back up to 121 new cases to match the state's all-time high mark, the state Health Department reported. According to the Associated Press, the incidence record was set only four weeks ago.

The matching of the figure last week came after state health officials said they believed polio had already reached its peak and might begin to level off somewhat.

State Health Officer George W. Cox said there are indications that a directional movement of the disease is usual this time of the summer, he said.

The total incidence of polio now stands at 1,339 for the year, the Associated Press said.

"The jump in incidence this week demonstrated the unpredictable nature of polio," Dr. Cox said.

"If people in the northern part of the state adopt individual clean-up campaigns, they might stave off fresh outbreaks of the disease," Dr. Cox added.

"One thing everyone ought to be careful of is to stay out of vacation camps that haven't been approved by officers charged with sanitation."

He said clean-up drives should be directed at insect breeding places, rather than at the insects themselves.

Pampa has had three other cases of polio this summer. Carol Ann McClelland, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luke McClelland, 805 N. Somerville, was admitted to the West Texas Polio Clinic July 26. Her illness was diagnosed as relatively mild polio.

Linda Ousley, eight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hansford E. Imel, John Pitts, Irvin Cole and Ralph Jullard appeared before the commission asking that the (See ANNEXATION, Page 6)

Annexation Of Additions Is Delayed

Annexation of the Love and Seeds Additions will be held up for an indefinite length of time because descriptions in some property deeds are overlapping.

This was brought to the attention of the City Commission yesterday by City Engineer Ray Evans in his report of the Engineering Department's finding after a three-day check of property deeds in the Seeds Addition.

Descriptions in some of the deeds have some properties extending into the streets and into the alley.

The city, City Manager Dick Pepin told the commission, will attempt to straighten out the descriptions with those property owners, whose deeds show the overlapping descriptions, before the two additions are voted into the city.

The city wants to iron out these difficulties, Pepin said, before work is begun on sewer or water lines after the two areas become a part of Pampa proper.

Two residents from the Yeager Street area appeared before the commission seeking construction of a bridge for Yeager across the creek that runs through the north section of town.

The representatives were told by the commission that a serviceable bridge over the creek now would run from at least $7,500 to approximately $10,000, and at present there isn't enough money in the city treasury to construct the bridge.

Five representatives from the Board of City Development, including Fred Thompson, Floyd Imel, John Pitts, Irvin Cole and Ralph Jullard appeared before the commission asking that the (See ANNEXATION, Page 6)

New Earth Tremors Hit At Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—New earth tremors and pillaging by unruly Indians spread fear and panic today among the thousands of survivors left homeless by Ecuador's destructive earthquake. Official government estimates of the death toll in Friday's quake rose to 6,000. But truth is no one knows for sure how many perished, as the piles of rubble that litter 600 demolished towns in the populous Andes Mountain region south of here.

Fresh tremors yesterday tumbled weakened walls in Azuato and other cities, adding to the terror of some 150,000 homeless.

Groups of workers attempted to dig their way through the blocked highway to Pelileo, 40 miles south of Quito, were reported buried under a landslide loosed by the new tremors.

Shoot-to-kill orders were issued to troops guarding Pelileo against looting by the wild tribes of Salasacas Indians. Defense Minister Manuel Diaz Ganaños said one band of Salasacas has been driven off when caught ransacking the ruins.

The Salasacas have been the fiercest warriors in the Andes region for 400 years. Driven (See TREMORS, Page 6)

Services Set For Mrs. Darby

Funeral services for Mary Ann Darby, 77, who died unexpectedly at the home of her son, Hermond, 619 N. Somerville, last night, will be held tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Darby was returned from a Fort Worth hospital Sunday after spending six weeks there, and was recuperating rapidly until she had a sudden relapse last night and died about 8:30 p. m.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow in the Duenkel-Carmichael Chapel with J. P. Crenshaw, minister of the Francis Avenue Church of Christ, officiating.

The body will be taken to Henrietta, Texas, where grave services will be held and she will be buried beside the body of her husband, James T. Darby, who died in 1918.

For the past several years, Mrs. Darby has been dividing her time among her children at Pampa, Andrews, and Wichita Falls.

She is survived by three sons, Hermond of Pampa, David of Fort Worth, and W. M. Reed of Artesia, Calif.; son by a previous marriage, by three daughters, Mrs. Tom Swift of Andrews, Texas, Mrs. Troy Clontz of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. George Cleveland of Hamilton, Texas; and by 34 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

British Polio Victim Gives Birth to Son

HOUSTON (AP)—A British war bride and polio victim gave birth to a son today.

AMERICA FOREIGN TO BOY AFTER NINE YEARS IN CENTRAL AFRICA

When Stanford Shewmaker, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shewmaker, was a real "What do you think of home after you've spent so many years away?" he answered, "You mean what do I think of America now that I'm away from home?"

Young Shewmaker has spent nine of his years in Central Africa where his father has been a Church of Christ missionary.

The term "missionary" would actually be a misnomer, the elder Shewmaker pointed out. "Northern Rhodesia, where we have been the past nine years he said, "is more than 90 percent illiterate. Our first task is to teach the people to read and write before we can bring the Bible to them."

The natives in his part of Rhodesia are members of the Bantu, Baloi, Baika and Angon tribes, which speak dialects of the great Bantu family of languages that is spoken by nearly all of Black Africa below the Equator.

It has only been within the past generation that these people have been given a written tongue. They speak a musical language—"every word ends in a vowel"—and they have a rich traditional history. Shewmaker explained, but it has only been through the painstaking efforts of American missionaries that their language has been put in written form.

Stanford, incidentally, his father said, can speak three of the native dialects perfectly. "I can barely a year after we went over there Stan had no children his own age to play with except natives. They learned from him, and he from them."

Shewmaker, who had been superintendent of 20 schools in Northern Rhodesia, was in Africa in July, 1929, principally as a teacher. He was superintendent of the 29 schools in Northern Rhodesia operated by the federated Churches of Christ in America when he left Africa last October.

The schools vary in instruction through from the first to the 10th grade, plus two years of teacher training for selected older natives who wanted to help educate their people.

There are about 2,300 students, from 25 years old down, in the 29 schools. In addition there are about 40 Churches of Christ congregations in Northern Rhodesia.

The Shewmakers, until they returned to the States last October, lived well back into the bush, 50 miles from the town of Livingston.

At this point, the elder Shewmaker turned to his son for a little Bantu history. The town was named for David Livingston, an explorer, who is reported to have been the first white man to cross the Zambezi River and the first to have seen the mighty Victoria Falls. The falls, not far from

Division Exists on Question of Placing Germany in Council

STRASBOURG, France — Former French Premier Edouard Herriot said today a division of minds exists on the question of admitting Germany to the new Council of Europe.

In an address to the opening session of the council's consultative assembly Herriot indicated Western Germany would have to work her way into the organization with proofs that she no longer harbors aggressive intentions.

He told the 101 delegates from 12 nations that the assembly would deal with questions of life and death for Europe. "A closer association of Europe presents itself as a matter of urgency," he said.

Many political leaders of Western Europe hope that the discussions here will mark a long advance toward the goal of full unity of that portion of Europe outside the Soviet orbit.

There have been proposals to include Western Germany in the organization as soon as the new West German government is functioning. It was thought that Herriot's statement on the question perhaps reflected the point of view of the French delegation.

Herriot listed the achievements of Germany's great scientific, artistic and literary work. "If Germany had remained faithful to these great examples, how eagerly we should work with her for the organization of a liberal Europe."

Herriot, a leader in the movement for European unity, paid special tribute to Winston Churchill, declaring: "From his mind sprang the movement which has brought us together here."

Churchill, one of the British parliamentary delegates, was seated in the second row.

Earlier members of the consultative assembly talked revolt against the dominating powers of the Ministerial Committee within the council.

I LOVE A PARADE—There is no reasonable way of determining just how many people were drawn into town Wednesday, Aug. 3, for the fifth annual celebration of Pampa's Top o' Texas parade and the following rodeo and horse show.

Pampans and visitors commandeered cars, store windows, building tops and stood in deep rows all along the route from West Foster and Hobart to the Cuyler Street underpass to catch a glimpse of the 27 units included in the two-mile parade.

Above is only a small part of the show and spectators in town that day. In the foreground is shown a portion of the entry of the Amarillo Range Riders.

Winners in the parade announced by Paul Crouch, parade marshal, were Winford Maddox, Rainbow Girls, Elmer Melton, C. C. Matheny, Price Greenhouse and Jimmy King, Linda Kay Andis and Betty Lee Fry.

Income of Consumers Is Higher

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Incomes of consumers ran 2.6 percent higher in the first half of this year than in the same period of 1948, when the boom was in full swing.

Retail buying power thus was fattened by the flow of income to people — as distinguished from corporations — at an annual rate of $213,400,000,000 in the first six months of this year. Commerce Department figures showed. That was a record high.

The stream of cash was on the increase at mid-year, too, according to revised data from the department. Personal incomes rose in total from April through June after having bumped down from last December's peak annual rate of $212,400,000,000 in March. By June the rate was back to $213,500,000,000.

The main cause of an increase in the annual note of personal incomes from May to June was higher farm receipts due to disposal of a larger volume of crops — either on the market or in loans from the government.

Possibly of greater significance was the first increase in factory payrolls since last September. The steady decline in that interim had resulted from worker layoffs, which in turn showed up in increased unemployment.

In June, the department said, wages rose in the non-durable goods industries and "steadied" in the durable group.

Another Commerce Department report showed that the book value of business inventories had been cut back about $1,000,000,000 in June, chiefly by manufacturers and retailers — to an estimated total of $51,579,000,000.

Some economists have dubbed the business downturn this year an "inventory recession." As they see it, the chief cause of the downside has been unwillingness of business men to increase or maintain stocks for fear they would get stuck with the goods in a period of declining prices.

Average Guy Jimmy Stewart Has Average American Wedding

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — James Stewart, who gained film fame portraying the average guy, had an average American wedding — except for the crowd and the star-studded audience.

The actor married Gloria Hatrick McLean late yesterday and the ceremony almost fulfilled his hopes for a small quiet wedding untinged by the Hollywood touch.

The couple took their vows in the Presbyterian Church before 50 friends of the film colony while an orderly crowd of 500 waited outside.

Like the average bridegroom, Stewart was nervous. He fidgeted as he watched his sociable bride walk down the aisle in a cocktail dress or grey satin, carrying white orchids and a prayer-book.

Stewart's replies of the Rev. Dan Osterberg could hardly be heard. "I got a frog in my throat," he said afterwards.

He murmured "I will" and slipped a plain gold band inscribed "Gloria and Jimmy 8-9-49" on the bride's finger.

The pair appeared in front of the small neighborhood church after the ceremony and were greeted by cheers from the crowd. Jimmy grinned broadly and kissed photographers' request by kissing his bride three times.

"Feel fine," he smiled. The couple was driven around the block, then returned for more photos inside the church.

The crowd began gathering in midafternoon before the new church, which Stewart, a member for two years, helped to build. Many came from the nearby beach in bathing suits and one girl watched astride a horse.

The bride, 31, was formerly married to Ned McLean, son of the late Evelyn Walsh McLean, owner of the Hope Diamond. She has two young sons, who did not attend the festivities.

Stewart, 41, was long Hollywood's most noted bachelor. He is cles will be a lesson hand on bidding. I have taken both lesson hands this week from an article by Alfred P. Sheinwald entitled "Practical Bridge," which he recently wrote for The Bridge World magazine.

Freddy, as he is well known to that after a short time any person can learn all of the rules of the play of the hand. But in order to win at bridge, you must be able to apply some deceptive tactics at times.

When the dummy goes down after the opening lead of the queen of clubs, North can see that if the heart finesse loses, the opponents would immediately cash the ace of spades and defeat the contract. What tactics could North employ to throw the opponents off their guard?

Don't take the heart finesse immediately. Cash dummy's high club and discard the nine of diamonds. Now take the heart finesse. East will win with the king. He will think to himself, why was declarer so anxious to discard the small diamond? East now might make the mistake of returning a diamond, hoping that declarer might have another losing diamond. Or he might lead a trump, wanting to cut down the ruffing value in dummy. Of course, if East does either of these, declarer is home, because he can discard the king-queen-nine of spades on dummy's good diamonds.

Miss Eva McGee Shower Honoree at Nuptial Courtesy by Miss Matheny

Miss Eva McGee, bride-elect of Twiford Schloeman, Gatesville, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Miss Romona Matheny.

Miss McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stull, and Mr. Schloeman will be married September 16 in Berger.

The bride's chosen color scheme was carried out in the table decorations. Bronze and white chrysanthemums complemented the bronze and white refreshments.

The hostess presented Miss McGee a corsage of white gladioli tied with bronze ribbon, and her mother, Mrs. Stull, was presented a similar corsage tied with green ribbon.

The guest book was a large wedding bell made with white slipper satin from Miss McGee's wedding dress. It was tied with white satin ribbons and lilies of the valley.

Those attending were: Misses Betty Mosley, Wanda Giles, Beverly Candler, Alberta Williams, Grace Gotcher, Doris Stull, and Mrs. Bob Rose, Floyd Hatcher, F. L. Barrett and Martha, W. E. Rheudasil, C. C. Matheny, H. H. Stull, Jim McCluskey, and the honoree and hostess.

Oil News Oil Mirror Reflects Trouble, Ample Oil

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — (AP) — The oil cauldron is bubbling over again. The fires of discontent in the industry are being fed by those who produce oil here and see their production being cut back, and by those who import oil from their rich overseas fields to supply the huge American market for oil and gasoline.

Anadarko Reports

Reports by reliable sources indicate there may be another abandonment in the Anadarko Basin. Gulf is considering plugging their Stump No. 1 in Ochiltree County.

Operators recovered 510 feet of drilling mud in a test taken earlier this week in the Simpson. Top of Ellenberger was topped at 10,480 feet.

Another test taken in the Ellenberger from 10,480 to 10,558 showed a recovery of 180 feet of drilling fluid and 1,410 feet of salt water under a 775 pound flowing pressure.

Tests were also taken on the Sinclair Lips No. 2 this week. Oilitic lime with good fluorescence was encountered between 8,640 and 8,700 feet. Drilling test was taken then between 8,615 and 8,711 feet with a recovery of 280 feet of drilling mud and a 1,400-foot water blanket. Flowing pressure was 800 with bottom hole pressure of 2,600.

This is the same depth at which the Lips No. 1 encountered 328,000 cubic feet of gas in a drillstem test taken while the well was being drilled.

Gulf Cementfield in Hansford County topped the Ellenberger and is drilling at 9,122 in dolomite while the Gulf Porter in Lipscomb County is trying to make a new hole at 11,200 feet after having trouble setting a whipstock at 12,908 feet.

Gulf Harbaugh in Ochiltree County is drilling in Pennsylvanian shale at 9,864 feet and Gulf Wamble, also in Ochiltree County, is drilling at 9,260 feet in streaks of black and red shale.

Gas Blowout Threatens Rodessa Area

MARSHALL, Texas. — (AP) — Ten state highway patrolmen have been sent to an old slough on Black Cypress River near Jefferson to guard against the threat of fire from a gas blowout which occurred Monday.

A Jefferson geologist, Dave F. H. said he believed the gas was seeping up through the slough from a gas-producing formation about 7,000 feet under the earth.

The blowout is about a mile south and west of production in the big Rodessa gas field in Marion County.

Sheriff Joe Riggs of Marion County said that a Texas Railroad Commission engineer had been asked to assist in controlling the escaping gas.

Riggs said the gas is coming from an area about 50 yards wide and about 300 yards long.

Easterners Warned Deadline Nearing on Gas, Oil Buying

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON — (AP) — Consumers of heating fuel oils may be starting to take the advice offered by the petroleum industry — buy early.

Refinery operations increased slightly last week, despite a decline in gasoline output. More crude oil also was received at the plants than in the previous week and light fuel stocks jumped about 1,400,000 barrels.

In recent weeks industry spokesmen frequently have warned that sales of winter heating fuels are lagging. They warned that should the trend continue critical transportation problems might develop at the time consumers want to be heating their homes this winter.

The increase in plant operations was not much — just 0.6 percent over the previous week — but oilmen are hopeful a trend is under way. Operations have been sliding downward since cutbacks in domestic crude production began early this year.

There is hope, too, the situation may be the first hint toward the accuracy of recent predictions of increased demand for crude oil the remainder of the year.

Most predictions have said the upward swing will become noticeable in September.

The next two weekly statistical reports by the American Petroleum Institute probably will be watched very closely by state oil regulatory commissions.

The Texas Railroad Commission, for instance, meets August 19 to set September production allowances. Eight monthly cutback orders, approximating 1,000,000 barrels of crude daily, have been signed by the commission this year.

Three consecutive reports of an upward trend in refinery operations and in crude runs to stills could determine whether Texas is to have a ninth cutback.

API's report for the week ending July 30 placed daily average crude production at 4,678,000, a decline of 8100. Crude runs to refineries, however, increased 39,000 barrels during the week. Gasoline production declined 243,000 barrels.

Along with the stocks increase for light fuel oils, kerosene climbed by 3000 barrels.

Oilmen are cautious as to optimism. It is normal, they say, for summer gasoline demand to begin to fall when winter fuel demand becomes more active. Less gasoline for summer travel will be needed.

At any rate, the refiners' change-over from summer to winter production schedules probably will be watched more closely this year than in a long while.

GIANT TANKERS

Oil company executives at a port officials in Houston last week said the Navy Department in Washington is planning to build six super-giant oil tankers of 36,000 ton cargo capacity.

W. F. Heavey, Port Houston general manager, said port officials over the nation for some while have been aware of the plans.

An oil company official, declining to be quoted by name, said the tankers are a national defense project and will be loaned or leased to oil companies.

In a national emergency, Heavey said, the tankers immediately would revert to the Navy Department as part of the defense fleet.

Heavey is rather concerned about one point — few United States ports at present could receive the vessels.

New York and San Francisco, he believes, are the only ports with channels of sufficient depth.

PIPE LINE NOTES

Humble Oil and Refining Co. has announced plans for construction of an $18,000,000 pipe line from West Texas to its big refinery at Baytown on the Texas Gulf Coast. The line's capacity will be 50,000 barrels daily.

Imports Hit Highest Point In History

TULSA — Imports of crude oil and refined products averaged 807,000 barrels daily during the second quarter of 1949, the highest three months' daily average in history.

The average for June, according to figures compiled by the Independent Petroleum Association of America from Department of Commerce statistics, was a 632,000 barrels a day. Imports volume increased steadily during the three months ending June 30.

Commenting on spiraling imports, Russell B. Brown, IPAA general counsel, declared that "these facts should provide final and conclusive evidence of the disregard and violation of accepted industry policy by the management of a few large importing companies."

"Worse than the increase in imports, from the standpoint of future threat to the domestic petroleum industry," Brown said, "is the failure to live up to the assurances given several months ago that imports would be reduced."

"Sincere men in both the industry and government accepted those assurances from responsible officials of the importing companies. They were misled. Final proof had to await the facts as officially reported by government statisticians. The facts show no decrease, but rather a steady climb to new record levels."

Daily average second quarter imports from areas outside this country were: Venezuela, 270,000 barrels daily; Netherlands West Indies, 181,000 barrels; Middle East, 98,000; Columbia, 29,000; Mexico, 25,000, and all others 4,000. Averages were considerably above this for the month of June.

Railroad Commission Sets Hearings Through August

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission this week gave notice of the following public hearings:

Aug. 18 — Application of F. M. Boykin, Jr., for discovery allowable rights for his Mullen No. 1, East Taft field, San Patricio County.

Aug. 19 — Application of the Lone Star Gas Co. to conduct gas storage operations in a Straw sand reservoir in Stephens County.

Aug. 19 — Application of the Lone Star Producing Co. for discovery allowable rights and new field designation for oil production for its J. L. Moore estate No. 1, Buffalo field, Leon County.

Aug. 19 — Application of the Lone Star Producing Co. to carry on a pilot waterflooding project on its Warren Lease, Stephens County regular field.

Aug. 19 — Application of the Woods Drilling Co. for a discovery allowable for its J. P. McCord No. 3, Coleman County regular field.

Aug. 23 — Application of Lenoir M. Josey et al for a discovery allowable for their Ashbird No. 1, South Liberty field, Liberty County.

Sept. 1 — Application of C. V. Lyman and others for the adoption of a net gas-oil ratio rule to apply to the Emperor Deep and Emporor Holt fields, Winkler County.

Sept. 12 — Application of Rowan and Hope for a discovery allowable for their McKin-Alvarez No. 4, Garcia field, Starr County. (originally set for Aug. 18).

The commission also granted discovery allowables for the following new wells:

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. Pace No. 1, Haskell County, Field designated as the Southern Haskell field.

G. W. Strake's Jacob Nos. 2 and 4, North Winters field, Rumples County.

Albania Claims Greek Invasion

LONDON — (AP) — Albania said today she is being invaded by Greece and that fighting is in progress along a 30-mile front.

A broadcast by the official Tirana radio said bloody clashes with Athens government troops began four days ago.

It added that hundreds of Greek soldiers have been killed or taken prisoner.

Police Fire Into Mashed Crowd of DP's

MUNICH, Germany — (AP) — German police today fired into a crowd of 1,000 Jewish displaced persons they said had stoned them and defied orders to disperse.

The police said three of the DP's were wounded.

The crowd, without obtaining a license for a meeting, had gathered to protest an alleged anti-Semitic letter in a Munich newspaper, police said.

tax rate of 11 cents for the board to be held at the same figure for next year.

They cited that work the board has been doing for city improvement and development has cost them money and the developments benefit everyone—not only a few.

A. A. Schuneman, president of the First National Bank, told the commission the bank had received a statement from the City Tax Assessor-Collector's Office for seven years' back taxes on a grain elevator the bank purchased in 1940. These seven years covered the period of 1933 to 1940. Schuneman declared it was not the bank's fault the taxes were unpaid and that no record could be found as to whether the taxes were paid during that period. The bank, he added, had bought the elevator, located on E. Tyng and S. Stark weather, at a sheriff's sale in 1940. He told the commission the bank was ready to pay those back taxes immediately but that he felt they should not be penalized.

After a lengthy discussion, the commission and Schuneman agreed to a $122 slash in penalties making the total payment due of $891. The tax alone was over $600.

The commission will convene at 10 a. m. next week for an all-day session on the budget for the next fiscal year starting on October 1.

ENMESHED—This ship looks as if it's caught in a gigantic spider web—and that's not far from the truth. The ship is a brass scale model miniature "long hull" destroyer, whose topside structures are precisely scaled counterparts of those on full-sized naval vessels. The "web" in which it is apparently caught is a mesh of hardware cloth, mounted on a turntable. The set-up is used by the U. S. Navy Electronics Laboratory at San Diego, Calif., in investigating radiation characteristics of shipboard radio antennas. The hardware cloth stimulates the conductivity of the ocean at regular communications frequencies.

Continuing landslides and sulphurous fumes oozing from jagged crevices have terrorized the countryfolk who escaped the worst effects of the shocks.

This correspondent flew over the area yesterday to Ambato with some of the U. S. Air Force transports helping out in the "little airlift" which is dropping food and medical supplies to isolated towns.

Pelileo, a town of 3,500 population, resembles a garbage dump surrounded by bright green grass and trees. Not a house escaped damage. Block after block is a jumble of adobe walls and bamboo poles.

house, Jones stopped in front of Kerzee's cell.

"Don't be afraid, General," he said. "You're going to Heaven and I'll see you very soon."

Kerzee's last words were brief. "I ain't got no hatred against my enemies," the Negro said. "I want to love everybody. Jesus is my Lord."

Jones was twice tried and convicted for shooting Love, 23-year-old Purple Heart war veteran, outside Jones' grocery in the small West Texas town. Jones also was a World War II veteran.

He pleaded the "unwritten law" as his defense.

On Sunday, Jones was saved from the chair by a three-day reprieve granted by Gov. Allan Shivers. Shivers granted the stay on the recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles that it would receive new evidence in the case.

After a hearing yesterday, the board ruled, in effect, that the new evidence failed to materialize. The board refused to make any further recommendations for clemency.

Principal witness at the hearing was Kenneth Bain, former district judge at Floydada. He urged two points:

1. That the condemned man was not an outlaw and that this feature had been "overplayed" to the board.

2. That while people in Floyd County considered Jones guilty, they also felt that he was "crazy drunk" and that the death sentence was too severe.

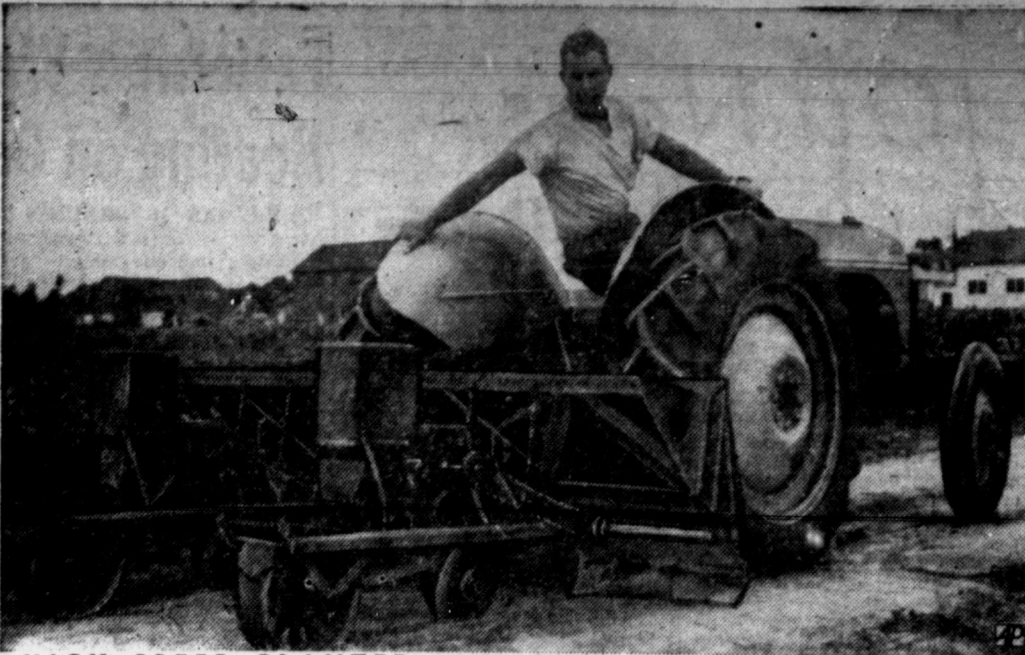

Jones' wife, Thelma Jones, 35, and his father, Edgar Jones, 70, both of Stockton, Calif., visited Jones yesterday. The father is recovering from a heart attack suffered Saturday night a few minutes before his son was scheduled to die.

Word of the execution was brought to the father and wife in a Huntsville hotel room by Roy Ling, a Pentecostal minister of Wichita Falls, who accompanied Jones to the death house.

Funeral services for Jones are scheduled today (1 p. m.) at the Pearson Funeral Home Chapel in Wichita Falls. Ling will officiate.

Burial will be in Floydada.

It was feared identification and even an accurate count of the bodies would be a slow process.

Van Horn said Edgar Davis of Indianapolis, a Negro, was credited by other survivors with kicking out a rear window through which most of the survivors escaped. Davis suffered a back injury and was brought to the Bloomington hospital.

Billy Ellerbrook of Evansville, another survivor, said he was riding right behind the driver. He said his impression was that the bus hit a bump in the road and went out of control.

"I'm afraid my mother and father are still in the wreck," Ellerbrook said.

Survivors set the time of the accident at 12:40 a. m. Bloomington, seat of Indiana University, is about 60 miles southwest of Indianapolis.

10,000 Polio Cases Reported

NEW YORK — (AP) — About 10,000 cases of infantile paralysis are reported in the country, with 36 states having more cases now than they had at this time last year.

The figures were given yesterday by Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

An Associated Press survey Aug. 8 showed about 9,400 cases throughout the country.

The states most in need of help, Van Riper said, are Arkansas, with 490 cases as of July 30, and Oklahoma, with 821 cases.

ROUGH SAILING ON ITS WAY OUT—This will be the coming thing in large passenger ships and luxury liners, according to speedboat designer and manufacturer Gar Wood. It's the Venturi, Wood's newest design, shown in Detroit. The twin-hulled yacht is said to be able to ride the roughest type of water and still maintain its even keel. Wood says the unique "tunnel" construction pockets air on which the craft rides, preventing rough sailing even in heavy seas at high speed.

ization of my husband's own family," said Mrs. Morse. "His father and mother are a wonderful couple. They just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary." Morse rises every morning at 6:30 and cooks breakfast. By seven he is at his typewriter. He is a swift writer. By 9:30 he has finished his stint for the day. It takes him two mornings to write the weekly program, and his mythical family has grown so large he needs a chart now to keep the relations straight. His listeners take the Barbour family very seriously.

"Four years ago I killed off one of the characters in an auto accident," Morse said, "since death must come to every family. But hundreds of people wrote in and protested. Some said they would never listen to the program again."

Since then he has kept his characters alive and talking. They grow older as ordinary people do, and one of his biggest problems came when all his characters were there.

"There was a little slump there," he admitted, "until the children grew up, and created some new love interest."

BOMBS FOR BRITAIN—German bombs, this time without their "blitz" effect, are once again reaching Britain. The lodge will hold an open house Saturday night with a dance and food show in the old Rainbow Gardens in Amarillo. All members are invited.

Governor J. B. Maguire, Jr., said that he had applied to the secretary of state in Austin for the domestic charter required for all fraternal organizations in Texas.

Six applications for new members were received last night, and the transfer of E. F. Adington from the Harrisburg, Pa., lodge to Pampa was approved. The quarterly financial audit required by the Supreme Lodge was read and approved.

Health Inspector Asks You 'Read the Labels'

Read the labels — know what to buy, urges R. M. Mundine, city and county sanitary inspector. "Food is a strategic commodity and every buyer is therefore urged to follow a few simple suggestions which will aid him as well as save him money by preventing the imposition of adulterated, misbranded and otherwise unsatisfactory foods and drugs," he said.

He suggested buyers purchase supplies from well-known firms, thereby being assured of fair dealings. If it becomes necessary to patronize new or unknown firms or buy unknown brands, the information concerning the reliability of the firm may be obtained from the local or state health department.

"Do not buy imitations or substitutes," he said. "Such foods may show a saving in money, but are deficient in food value."

He further suggests patrons accept no food or drug with a misleading label or one that does not give full information. "Seek out obscure or ambiguous statements. Read every word both in small and large print. Refuse foods and drugs bearing tricky labels," he warned.

Special attention should be given to the purchase of milk and milk products. Consult the health department as to the sanitary quality of milk and the dependability of the distributor, the health inspector said. "Milk is the most perfect food, but it can be the most dangerous from the standpoint of the transmission of disease if it is not properly protected from contamination," Mundine continued.

Meat supplies should be carefully selected and purchased through recognized sources. Meat peddled at the door may be the product of a diseased animal or one that died from disease or injury, he said.

"By all means, report known or suspected violations of food laws and ordinances to the local or state health department. The food and drug laws were passed for the protection of public health," he concluded.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Basketball Association of America and the National Basketball League merged into one 18-club league yesterday which will be known as the National Basketball Association.

He also eats steak and potatoes for breakfast — seven days a week — and believes he makes the best apple pie in America. "It's an apple pie with pears in it — and a little dash of rum," he explained.

Morse is better known for his skill at the typewriter, however, than his skill with the skillet. Since 1929 he has turned out 20 million words of radio drama. His most durable breadwinner has been "One Man's Family," a weekly NBC half-hour program he has written, produced and directed for 18 continuous years. Morse believes this is a record for this type of dramatic serial.

The program tells the trials, tribulations, and victories of an American family — Henry Barbour, a retired stockbroker, his wife, Fanny, and their offspring. It has gone on so long it makes "Abie's Irish Rose" and "Oklahoma" seem like one-night-stand tent shows.

"When I started there were only seven characters," said Morse. "Now there are 18 active characters, and I'm in the third generation of the family."

He is proud that six of the seven actors who appeared on the first broadcast of the program still play their original roles. Members of the live cast have had a total of 22 children during the 18 years.

Morse and his wife, Patricia, are childless. "The program is really an ideal," Nickie Lewter, Nancy Sharp, Gale Herring, Doris Mann, Marvau Stone, Alice Seawright, Julia Martin and Nancy Harrison.

Charles and Lesnevich to Meet Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) - Ezzard Charles rules a solid 5 to 13 favorite to punch 34-year-old Gus Lesnevich full of holes tonight at Yankee Stadium in the first defense of his newly won NBA heavyweight boxing championship. The 15-round bout is scheduled for 8 p. m. (CST).

Only 49 days after he cautiously outboxed Jersey Joe Walcott to win the crown, the 28-year-old Cincinnati Negro rushed to the post in an effort to convince New York skeptics of his right to be called "champ."

No matter how soon he may knock out Gus, if at all, Charles will not be champ in New York state. Eddie Egan, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, has ruled the winner must meet Lee Savold or "some suitable opponent" before he gives his official blessing. Ezzard is king in the other 47 states.

"Hitting for Distance"

AP Newfeatures MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.—Pitchers Jim Wallace, Michigan City, and Al Hazel, Lafayette, of the Michigan-Indiana semi-pro league are the authorities for this story about George Metkovich, Chicago White Sox outfielder.

The time was 1941 and the scene was Evansville, where Metkovich, Wallace and Hazel were teammates in the Three-I League. Sent in to pinch-hit, Metkovich solemnly informed the umpire: "Metkovich hitting for distance."
