

Ecuador Quake Leaves Hundreds Dead

Industrial Ambato Almost Destroyed

By The Associated Press
Late reports from inside and outside Ecuador last night said that probably as many as 2,700 persons were killed in Friday's devastating earthquakes. The injured ran into many thousands.

QUITO, Ecuador.—(AP)—Ambato counted more than 400 dead and 1,000 injured yesterday in an earthquake which virtually destroyed the industrial city of 50,000. The casualty list was mounting steadily. Hundreds more may be buried in the rubble.

(Ecuadorian radio stations heard in Colombia said estimates of the Ambato death toll ranged up to 1,500.)
(The Ecuadorian Embassy in Washington said it had been officially confirmed that 500 were dead in Ambato alone. Ambassador Augusto Dillon said 70 percent of the provincial capital's buildings were laid waste.)

The earthquake struck at noon (CST) Friday and continued until 12:45 p. m. in a series of six violent shocks. During the longest shock—which lasted 40 seconds—most of Ambato's big and best buildings crashed. It was Ecuador's worst disaster since colonial times.

The entire Ecuadorian cabinet, except Interior Minister Salazar Gomez who went to Ambato with President Galo Plaza Lasso, was on 24-hour relief work duty.

Highway officials said the Quito-Guayaquil line was blocked by so many landslides it will take a week to reopen it. Twenty-seven slides were reported on one 3-mile stretch.

Floods added to the distress in the quake area. Landslides blocked streams which then changed their courses and inundated farm-lands. The first troops helped calm panicky Ambato residents when they arrived there yesterday morning.

The earthquake struck a wide mountainous area of the Andes Range surrounding Ambato, which lies 55 miles due south of Quito. The cities of Latacunga, Guaranda and Riobamba also were hit.

The governor of Chimborazo Province reported there were numerous dead and many injured in Riobamba, the provincial capital. (See QUAKE, Page 8)

Body of Man Identified as James Taylor

The body of the unidentified man, who was struck and killed by an automobile at 3:10 a. m. Friday, was positively identified Friday night as James C. Taylor, 25, of 408 S. Harrison, Amarillo.

The identification was made by his sister, Mrs. F. P. Fitzsimmons, of the same address, with whom he made his home.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons read the story of an unidentified man being struck and killed in newspapers and went to the Clyde Poston Funeral Home, Panhandle. She identified the dead man as her brother about 8:30 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons told attendants at the Poston Funeral Home her brother had left home about 7:30 p. m. Thursday and said he was going to Pampa to see a brother, George Taylor, and a sister, Mrs. W. M. Welch. At approximately 11:45 p. m. he asked two young men for a ride to Pampa at the Triangle Cafe, Amarillo. The two brought him as far as Panhandle where they let him off.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons also said her brother had lost his wallet about (See BODY, Page 8)

Cowpuncher Says He'll Ride 'im Yet

"I'll ride that bull yet," nineteen-year-old Johnnie McKee said from his bed in the Pampa Hospital yesterday.

Johnnie of Breckenridge was trampled by a bull Thursday night in the bull riding contest. After a thorough examination, it was disclosed Johnnie suffered four broken ribs, punctured lung and other internal injuries. He will be moved to his home at Breckenridge the first part of this week.

The generous rodeo attendees took up a collection during the third rodeo performance for Johnnie. With a tear in his eye, he graciously accepted the donation and said he thanks everyone who had a part in it.

Johnnie's mother, Mrs. Lee McKee, arrived from Breckenridge yesterday to be with him. She too says she wishes to thank the generous rodeo attendees.

Even with the donation, Pampa seems to be a "jinxed" spot for Johnnie. When he was here three years ago as a contestant in the Pampa Roping Club's Junior Rodeo, his leg was caught in a chute and broken.

The young cowboy says he will be ready to try again at next year's Breckenridge rodeo. Don Mayo, who furnishes the stock for the Top O' Texas Rodeo, also furnishes stock for the Breckenridge event. And Johnnie wants another stab at the very same bull he tangled with this year.

U. S. CHIEFS CONCLUDE 10-DAY TOUR

PARIS.—(AP)—America's three top military men completed their preliminary survey of Western European defense needs yesterday, apparently optimistic but strictly non-committal on their findings.

"We had most successful talks. There was great unanimity of opinion on almost all questions," Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, U. S. chief of Naval operations, told a news conference at the American Embassy here.

Denfeld stressed, however, that "no decisions were made" on key points of the future organization of North Atlantic Treaty countries against aggression.

The naval chief spoke for himself, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief. The three since last week-end have seen the military leaders of all nine Western European members of the 12-nation Atlantic Pact, concluding yesterday with The Netherlands, Belgium and Portugal.

Today they fly to Vienna, but that trip is for inspection of American occupation forces. Austria is not a member of the pact. The Americans gave no solid answers to a dozen or more questions fired at them by correspondents. Points on which they parried included where the Atlantic Pact organization will have headquarters and whether and where it will put up a defense line facing Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe. How and when it will absorb the existing Brussels Alliance of Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg also went unanswered.

Denfeld even cast some doubt on whether the Atlantic Pact organization would be completed by the end of this year, as he had indicated earlier last week in London.

"That was just a date I picked up out of the air," he told the press. (See U. S., Page 8)

Rodeo Ramblings

Those Sons of Satan bulls really have been giving rodeo contestants a run for the $40 tied around one of their necks. No one got the $40 the first performance, but Pewee Benart, Shamrock, managed to grab the full $80 during the second show, Friday night. Bud Parsons, Woodward, Okla., got away with the $40.

Heard Mrs. O. H. Ingram was judged the most typical cowgirl over 16 years of age in the Top O' Texas parade. Close followers for the honor were Mrs. Claude Organ and Mrs. Press Wilson.

Glad to report Frank McMullan Big Lake, is back in the rodeo with the best of them. Somehow he managed to lose all his breath when a bull got a little too tough during Friday night's bull dogging contest. The crowd was afraid the bull had jabbed his horns into McMullan, but the only reason he fell was that he was fighting the breath being knocked out of the man.

Mary Jane Montgomery came out winner for the parade's most typical cowgirl under 16. Second and third place winners were Malene Schaffer and Bobby Andis.

Alton Cooper, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Cooper, 1337 N. Starkweather, is getting over Friday night's accident at the rodeo. A member of Boy Scout Troop 80, Alton was selling pop in the grandstand when he fell, broke a bottle and cut a vein in his arm. He was taken to the hospital by Fire Chief Ernest Winborne. About 10 stitches in Alton's arm fixed him up and he's ready for another rodeo.

Pampans have been lucky during this year's rodeo. To be able to view the $5,000 cowboy boots, which were made by the cowboy boot and shoe manufacturer, Tony Lama, El Paso. It's the first time the boots have ever been displayed here. They are being displayed in Mack's Shoe Store. Studded with eight blue-white perfect diamonds, eight emeralds and 16 rubies, the boots are inlaid with gold and silver tanned kid leather. — Something to see.

Gladys Ash, Pampa, charged as an accomplice in the July 28 burglary of the Southwestern Public Service Co. yard when five spoils of insulated copper wire were stolen, was released at 6 p. m. Friday from the County Jail after posting $2,500 bond.

Friday, July 20, was picked up with Freddy Paronto, Pampa, also charged in the July 28 burglary, who was released last week after posting $2,500 bond.

Still in jail in default of bond are Cecil Leroy Jones, charged with the July 17 and July 28 burglaries of the yard, and Bob Luster, ex-convict, charged with the July 1 burglary when six spoils of wire were taken.

B-36 Probe Set
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—More than 30 of the nation's highest military and civilian defense leaders, and leading airplane manufacturers, will testify in a Congressional investigation of the B-36 bomber opening Tuesday.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, and Joseph B. Keenan, special counsel for the probe, announced the witnesses yesterday.

The witnesses include such leaders as General Dwight D. Eisenhower, General Carl A. Spaatz, Admiral W. F. Halsey, and former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

Infantile Paralysis Mounted Sharply in Nation Past Week

By The Associated Press
Infantile paralysis mounted sharply in the nation last week, but there are signs the peak has passed in some hardest hit areas.

A state by state survey by the Associated Press showed some 1,400 new cases developed in the last four days. This boosted the 1949 total to date to approximately 9,400, more than half again as high as for the comparable period in 1948, second worst polio year on record.

A note of cheer, however, was heard from health officials in Texas, Arkansas and in Detroit. And the U. S. Public Health Service in Washington also reported some evidence of a slackening in the upward pace in the country as a whole. A health service spokesman said there was a chance the polio season might end earlier this year.

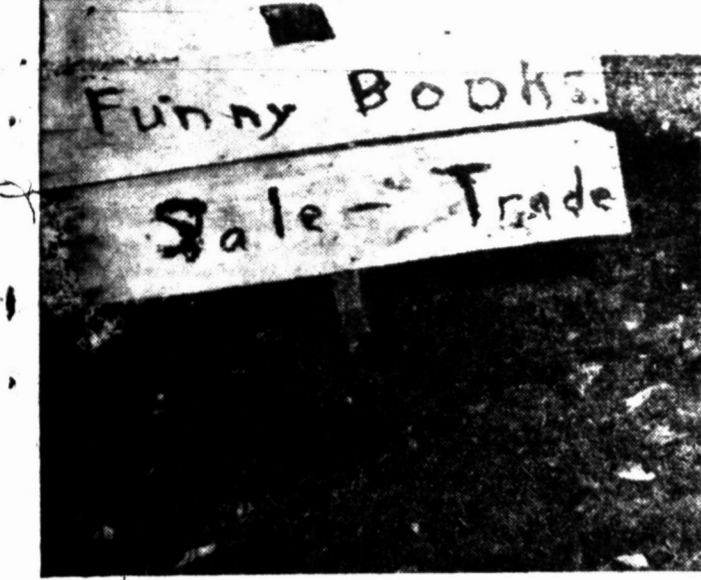

In Texas, which is experiencing its worst polio year with 1,218 cases through June 30, Dr. George Cox, state health officer, expressed the cautious view that the disease has leveled out somewhat.

In only three states, the survey showed, the number of cases reported through June 30, was higher than in any other state. These include Delaware, Maine, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

Several Eastern states are having a light year, with the disease running well behind a year ago.

In 1948 there were 5,793 polio cases reported through June 30. The total for the year soared to 27,680, topped only by the approximately 30,000 in 1916.

The survey showed Texas has the greatest number of polio cases reported this year, 1,218. Other hardest hit states were California 794, New York 721, Oklahoma 650, Arkansas 637, and Illinois 522.

It's Young Business Man's World

Maybe it's a malt down at the drugstore, a new bicycle, a movie with the cute little girl next door, or just wanting something to do that turns a schoolboy's mind to some way of supplementing an always-too-meager allowance.

The red-blooded "Amurrican" boy is just falling back to a common habit of his forebears when he sets himself up in business — free enterprise, it is called.

One young capitalist, 11-year-old D. I. Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson, 815 N. Somerville, founded a funnybook brokerage in his front yard this summer. According to his mother, the youngster, who will be in the seventh grade come next September, "... did a thriving business."

"He found out a little neighbor girl made some easy money selling cinnamon toothpicks, so he immediately sold her a bunch of his funnybooks," Mrs. Wilkinson said. "I think that just about ate up the toothpick profits."

At present, D. I. is on an extended vacation. It seems he wore down all the grass under the neighbor's tree.

VANDENBURG ASKS FRESH LOOK AT CHINA POLICIES

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg said last night the United States must take a fresh look at its China policies and determine its course "unhampered by past prejudices or emotions."

Speaking out on the government's China policy "white paper," the Michigan Republican said this country must make "reliently clear" its support for the Chinese people and for freedom in the Far East.

Patriotic J. Hurley, who headed a wartime mission to China, assailed the white paper in a statement as "a smooth alibi for the pro-Communists in the State Department."

In several ways Vandenberg's statement coincided with views expressed by Secretary of State Acheson.

Acheson, who has abandoned hope of saving China by juggling the Nationalist regime, has before now the problem of shaping a positive new approach.

Aides and associates expected him to move along three lines in directing new administration moves against communism in the Far East. This possibly includes assistance to anti-Communist forces which may remain or spring up to oppose Chinese Red control.

Vandenberg, top Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, declared the United States must not accept results of aggression in China can permanently succeed.

Vandenberg called for "a fresh look, unhampered by past prejudices or emotions." Acheson has announced he was bringing in outside advisers to work with State Department officials on revising new moves with respect to China and the Far East.

Vandenberg further declared (See VANDENBURG, Page 8)

Man Wanted in Slayings Located on Mexican Ranch

LAREDO.—(AP)—Chief of Police David O. Gallagher said yesterday that George Ochoa, wanted for questioning in two slayings, "is on a ranch in Northern Mexico and I have sent men in to talk to him."

"He is on a ranch not far from Nuevo Laredo," said the chief. "It is the second ranch he has been on."

The chief indicated that Ochoa had already been contacted, and stated:

"If George doesn't come in after a few days, we're going in after him."

By this, the chief meant that he and his men would "go after" George, since Gallagher would have no legal right to arrest Ochoa in Mexico alone.

"George is hunting and we have reason to believe he is not keeping up with all the latest news reports," Gallagher stated. "He has lots of friends down there and could make himself very hard to find. That's the reason we aren't crowding him."

Ochoa, handsome, debonair and well dressed, was charged with murdering Henry D. Whitteburg, 31 South Texas, gunner at a downtown Laredo hotel early last Sunday, and Ochoa also is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Air Force Cpl. James Lindsay, 30 Jones of Omaha, Tenn., who was slain Monday in another part of the hotel and then went to Austin to make a last-minute plea for clemency for his son before the state Board of Pardons and Paroles. He was expected back before last night.

"It is getting all the latest news," Jones said. "Jones has not made any last news reports," the Rev. Anderson said. "But he does say this: he has nothing in his heart against anyone, and if anyone has anything against him, he wants to be forgiven."

The chaplain accompanied two newspaper reporters and a man named James Jones, a relation of Ochoa, to the state Board of Pardons and Paroles. Jones was sentenced to death for Ochoa's slaying of H. C. Love, an ex-convict, in 1948.

"I would like for you folks to give him life instead of the chair. I'd appreciate it." "He's a good boy. He was in here before and had come back some when he did it." The pardons board listened to (See PLEA, Page 8)

'Big Devil' Back in U. S.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and his son came back to the United States yesterday after a mountain-climbing jaunt that set off an official uproar inside Russia.

The Russian radio protested that Douglas was accompanied by "a gang of spies" as he and his 17-year-old son, William, Jr., hiked through the mountains of Iran on Russia's southern borders.

"They dubbed me as 'the big devil from the United States,'" Douglas said, "and my son as 'the little devil.'"

The justice and his son arrived by plane after a seven weeks vacation in the Middle East and Europe.

On a pack trip through the Iranian Mountains, Douglas said, the Russian radio "started blasting away to the effect that I was going up and down the southern border of Russia trying to find out what was going on inside Russia."

Justice Douglas said he was greatly upset by the news of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy's death. He called Murphy's successor, Attorney General Tom Clark, "a very dear friend of mine for years."

Douglas said he visited front-line troops in the Greek war and predicted that the conflict "will be resolved in a satisfactory way very soon."

State Income Figures Both Bright, Dark

AUSTIN — (AP) — Motor fuel tax collections in Texas hit a record high of nearly nine million dollars in July.

This was one of the more optimistic items in the comptroller's latest report on the condition of Texas finances, which also included some items on the gloomy side.

The July statement of cash receipts issued by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert Saturday showed a continuing decline in revenue from gross production tax on crude oil.

This slumped to $6,122,070 from $6,590,090 in June. For the fiscal year to date, however, oil tax collections were still ahead of last year. The total for this year so far is $82,968,521 compared with $79,208,795 in a like period during the last fiscal year.

The crude oil tax — one of the state's financial mainstays — has been steadily declining in recent months as production slowed down. The outlook was this fiscal year and last fiscal year would bring approximately equal revenues. If the production slump keeps up, the full impact on the state's finances will not be felt until next year.

Heavy automobile travel is reflected in the motor fuel tax receipts. They totaled $8,524,815 in July compared with $8,500,000 in June. For the year to date, motor fuel taxes have brought in $84,009,014 compared with $78,276,048 in the same months last fiscal year.

One-fourth of this revenue goes to the schools and the balance for highways or road bond assumption purposes.

Illinois was second last year with $652,609,000 and Texas' total months with $601,000,000, with California and Texas the big four came Minnesota, Nebraska, Missouri, and Michigan. California, Texas, Missouri, and Michigan.

The agent cited the case of one of his clients, a well-known star. Last year he earned $185,000. So far this year he has earned only $10,000.

Merchants Asked To Move Signs

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Merchants who have outdoor advertising signs on the north side of U. S. Highway 66 between Shamrock and the Oklahoma State line are reminded by County Commissioner D. P. Rives that they should be moved before work begins on converting the route into a four-lane highway.

Most of the signs are near the city limits east of Shamrock. Rives stated that they might be destroyed by the construction company which will begin work the latter part of this month if they are not moved.

All buildings along the route have been moved, providing the right-of-way for the four-lane highway.

THE STORY: A wealthy widow, Mrs. Everson, has fled with her servants in two giant trailers to escape destruction if atomic war comes. She has sold all her property, converted her cash to jewelry, and is waiting for the atomic war to start. With her in her cook Mrs. Malone, her chauffeur Rudy, her houseboy Victor, and her companion the Marchese. Arriving at a sheltered desolate spot in canyon country, Mrs. Everson announces that this place is safe and prepares to camp for several months. She holds a dinner in celebration of their arrival. After dinner, Victor informs Rudy, with whom Mrs. Everson is in love, that the widow has gone out alone and is waiting for him. Rudy, who thinks of Mrs. Everson only in terms of her wealth, follows. Mrs. Malone goes to her quarters, but the sky is dark, the atmosphere is heavy. Mrs. Malone begins to wonder if it is the Bomb or a storm.

XXII.

THE heat, even at this time of night, was still oppressive, but Mrs. Malone shivered. Quickly she made her way to the trailer, caught the hand-rails and pulled herself up into the bluish gloom of the entry.

The salon door was open and she saw that the Marchese was lying on the sofa. A bucket containing ice and a bottle of champagne stood on the floor within reach. His eyes were open; he was listening now to a recording of Respighi's "Pines of Rome."

"Come here, Malone," he said.

"Yes, sir."

"Do you hear that? The Janiculum. I was born in Rome. Sixty years ago. Listen. The nightingales in the ilex groves. Have you ever been there?"

"No, sir."

"Beautiful. Sad and lonely and haunted. Once you have seen Rome, you carry it with you forever in your mind and heart. Crumbling. Rich as old ivory. Old . . . old . . ."

"Is there anything more I can do?" Mrs. Malone said.

"Oh. No. No—nothing. Good night, Malone."

In spite of the throttling heat, she closed the door of her cubicle, undressed and lay down on top of the covers.

MRS. MALONE must have slept an hour, perhaps. She awoke with a start to hear the roaring of a motor and the grinding of tires as they fought the sand for traction. She sat up, reaching for her robe. The truck! Someone was driving it away!

She groped with her bare feet, found her slippers, ran to the door. Standing on the top step she leaned forward to look. The lightening had increased now to an almost continuous flickering and dancing of blue fire. By this unholy light Mrs. Malone could see the great unwieldy shape of the truck lurching toward the bank. Gears crashed violently, and of a sudden the headlights bored into the forest. The truck climbed, rocked, straightened out and roared off in a diminishing thunder of exhaust.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone called.

"Victor!"

She was answered by a shriek that came from the direction of the falls. Her blood froze. Animal or human? The sound ripped the silence like tearing a cloth. Mrs. Malone felt it in her teeth, along her spine; it was both a screech and a wail, a demon sound.

"Victor!" Mrs. Malone cried again.

She saw him running with a flashlight through the sand. Then he seemed fairly to leap across the stream in the direction from which that single hair-raising scream had come.

"Mrs. Everson!" he shouted. "The round spot of intense light from his flash swung, wavered, paused, and Mrs. Malone saw Mrs. Everson stumbling out of the forest."

"What is the matter?" the Marchese asked.

He came up behind Mrs. Malone.

"Mrs. Everson . . ." she began.

THE Marchese pushed her aside, ran down the steps and started across the stream. Mrs. Malone fumbled along the wall, found the switch panel. The lights came on, bright and steady and reassuring after the tumult outside. Then Victor and the Marchese appeared with Mrs. Everson between them.

She was pale as death, with her face bloody and the gold dress in ribbons—and no jewels. No jewels at all. The necklace of great emeralds was gone, the bracelets, the rings . . .

"Quick!" the Marchese called. "Brandy!"

They carried Mrs. Everson into the salon and put her down on the sofa, piling the satin cushions under her head. With scratched, shaking hands she tried to hold the small glass of brandy to her lips. Her teeth chattered against the rim, and the liquid spilled down into her bosom.

"Rudy . . ." she gasped. "He tried to kill me. He got the jewels. He's gone."

"I will go after him in the car," Victor said. "I can make it faster than he can. I will tell the police and they will stop him."

Mrs. Everson shook her head. She looked up at the Filipino with a strange, unreadable expression.

"No," she said. "You mustn't go. It is too late. You wouldn't come back. And I need you here."

1949 Called Best Auto Year So Far

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — With few exceptions the auto companies are reporting the first half of 1949 as their biggest sales period since 1929.

They are talking about unit sales. However, the earnings statements thus far disclosed indicate the first six months of 1949 probably will be among the best dollar volume periods in their history.

So far this year there have been no great increases in manufacturing costs or labor charges. In fact, some materials costs have gone down. So net earnings generally are likely to exceed those of the same period last year.

What will happen in labor costs during the remainder of the year is yet to be determined. Overall earnings for the full year could be sharply reduced.

Generally the car makers are as optimistic as ever about their sales prospects. They say demand still is excellent and has held up much farther into the present summer than most of them expected.

Experts on car sales insist the leveling off expected this winter will be followed by a sharp upturn in demand again next spring. That demand, these experts say, will exceed the supply.

This view, of course, assumes there will be no major business decline in the meantime.

Heads of the auto industry's merchandising division keep a close watch on total bank deposits — especially savings accounts — and bond purchases. Right now, they say, the public has more money than at any previous time and can well afford to buy more new automobiles.

School Board to Act on Transfers

It will not be known until then the total number of scholastics

Transfers may be made until Aug. 10.

Farley stated:

"Thank you very much for helping Boy's Ranch with the check of $150. This is certainly a very fine thing, we think, for a city to do. In fact, it's never been done before."

"I want you to know how much we appreciate your thinking of the boys at the ranch — the 487 who have gone through there since we started 11 years ago, and for the 114 who are now there."

Veto May Snag Reorganization

CONGRESS has erected a sturdy road block in the path of Hoover reorganization. Thoughtful citizens must hope that the men who approved this action will get the stern rebuke they deserve from the people for their unstatesmanlike behavior.

The labor of the Hoover Commission on reorganization have been hailed by both major parties as a magnificent contribution toward better government.

Former President Hoover, head of the project, estimated that $3,000,000,000 annually might be saved by putting the commission's recommendations for a vast reshuffling into effect promptly.

But it has been felt by many months that many of the suggestions for revamping could not be carried out without giving the President broad new powers. Thus it has been up to Congress to clear the way.

The House passed an enabling bill early in the year. But not without raising immediate doubts about the depth of Congressional enthusiasm for reorganization. For it exempted several federal agencies, including the powerful military establishment, from the grant of authority.

Hoover himself protested any major exemptions would wreck the plan and defeat its purpose.

THE SENATE heeded his warning and eliminated the exemptions. But then it proceeded to put up a barrier of its own.

It is a barrier which any reorganization proposal could be killed by a veto from a single branch of Congress.

The administration had wanted a bill that required a veto by both branches. It was not sufficient to require one of the reorganization powers.

For a month the two chambers battled, most of the time in deadlock, over which of these obstructions — the exemptions or the single House veto — should remain in the bill.

Finally the Senate triumphed and the single House veto stayed in. The only concession was a requirement that a veto must be by a majority of all the members, rather than of just those voting at the time.

Many veteran observers in the capital predict this obstacle means we are going to get very little reorganization. They say it will be easy for either house concerned by possible loss of patronage through the reorganization.

At reducing government personnel, to make the majority needed to block such plans.

THESE OBSERVERS may be unduly pessimistic. We hope they are. For Hoover recommendations provide the biggest opportunity ever presented to reduce the confusion, overlapping, inefficiency and waste that have accompanied the headlong growth of government in Washington.

Congress has been shouting about these matters for some time, and now it is daily sounding the economy song.

If it fails to seize this unparalleled chance to act, the American people are not likely to listen seriously to any future Congressional cries on this theme. How could they believe them sincere?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Moe Berg, the ex-American League catcher, intellectual and wartime Office of Strategic Services operative, came back to Washington on one of his big private business deals recently.

At a hotel coffee shop he spotted an old OSS clerk and dagger associate and went over to his table to greet him.

"How does he look?" asked the careful what you mock seriousness. "That's Harry Bridges at the table next to you."

Moe looked around in a quick OSS once-over, and sure enough it was Harry Bridges. "What should I do?" asked Moe.

"No," whispered the friend. "Go back and shadow him."

Moe went back to his table. When he had finished his breakfast he came back and reported, "Bridges is reading a piece in the paper about how he has just been elected president of some world organization of maritime workers."

"How does he like it?" asked the friend, still playing the gag deadpan.

"He likes it fine," said Moe, and departed.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1949) NEW YORK — Pursuing my opposition to the evil institution of unionism, I should like to release those delegates who have been loyal to me on the ground that was not anti-union but only anti-Communist and anti-racketeering. I appreciate their moral support over these 15 years.

But I would not put them in the false position of defending me against a charge which I defiantly admit. For a long time it was true that I was not anti-union. But I have now come to the conclusion that the evil of unionism is worse than the evil which it was intended to correct.

Yes, I am now anti-union, although I was not always thus, not realizing until long last that its evils are inherent and incurable.

Every stout union advocate, from the hot-eyed zealot of the picket line to the hilly-handed warmaker in the great offices in Washington, admits that unions must possess a power of authority over their members who are in overwhelming majority mere subjects of the bosses or night executives. This authority is stronger, more abrupt, arbitrary and heartless than the authority of any branch or level of the public government from Washington down to the village, except the special authority of government over members of the armed forces. Even this military authority is exercised tactfully in time of peace. Union authority, on the other hand, is terrible.

No other authority in the country, including employers, would think of imposing a fine on a citizen because he refused to attend a political rally on behalf of some candidate whom he opposed. Yet some unions, including the "progressive" outfits, the Garment and Clothing Workers, reserve this authority and defend it. They say they do not exercise it, but it is there to be exercised at the moment of their choosing for political activity in foreign countries, principally Israel and Italy. Those who refuse to pay this assessment, actually a tax, cease to be in "good standing" and are deprived of other money which they have actually earned for their vacations, and they can be thrown out of work. The national government does assert a similar power over the earnings of the citizens through various measures, and permit them to refuse such a law or regulation. The Supreme Court, even in its present degraded condition, would uphold it.

The Garment Workers Union also makes a practice of collecting a day's pay from each worker for political activity in foreign countries, principally Israel and Italy. Those who refuse to pay this assessment, actually a tax, cease to be in "good standing" and are deprived of other money which they have actually earned for their vacations, and they can be thrown out of work. The national government does assert a similar power over the earnings of the citizens through various measures, and permit them to refuse such a law or regulation. The Supreme Court, even in its present degraded condition, would uphold it.

The money that goes to Italy is the political largess of one Luigi Antonini who controls the Italian block in this union. This makes an important fellow of Antonini both in Italy and in the Italian colony in New York, but there is no excuse for the tax on American workers for their union to swing elections in Italy. It makes no difference that the money was spent to defeat the Communists. The next padrone might take up a similar tax on American workers to elect the Communist fact, that has been done in lots of unions subcommittees, had criticized the stockpiling of 200,000 pounds of pepper and the request for funds to stockpile a lot more. "That pepper is a great defense weapon," snorted the senator.

But the armed services maintain that pepper is one of the most critical of strategic materials in short supply. Reason is that it's an indispensable ingredient of all canned meats. Troops simply won't eat canned meats that have no pepper in them. Much research has been conducted to discover a synthetic pepper. Plenty of things that look like pepper have been devised. But the taste is always wrong. Principle supplies of natural pepper now come from India, Indo-China and Indonesia.

REASON WHY Uncle Sam's efforts to pay his employees according to the letter of the law sometimes turns up weird rulings from the General Accounting Office. For instance, daylight savings adds a horrible complication to federal payroll procedure because of right interpretation of regulations on when night differential rates of pay apply.

As a result, several hundred night employees of the Department of Agriculture who check airplanes arriving from foreign ports to be inspected, lose five hours per week because of the gobbledygook in GAO rulings on the subject. These employees put in the same number of hours, summer or winter. But when daylight savings goes into effect, they have to take a pay cut. Back on standard time, they as chairman of an appropriations get their full salary.

LIBERTY

By F. A. HARPER
A Member of the Staff of Foundation for Economic Education

INSTALLMENT VI
RULES OF CONDUCT IN A LIBERAL SOCIETY

Liberty has been defined in this discussion as a strictly individual matter. Further, as a problem of our concern, it has been limited to the area where relationships exist between persons, "society."

All who favor liberty, therefore, must favor the liberal society. They must favor "liberalism" as a synonym for the doctrine or practice.

The structure of a liberal society is that which promises to preserve the greatest possible degree of liberty among those living in that society. The degree of liberty which a liberal society requires the formulation of rules, acceptable to the participants, that will accomplish this purpose. The rules must apply to all who are subject to the law.

Colored people are discriminated against in restaurants, stores and similar places. We have no legitimate theater because the owners would not operate under an equality system. President Truman does not seek racial equality — simply equal economic opportunity. And there is almost no hope of enactment of his civil rights program, with the exception of the anti-poll tax bill.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — How did Tom Dewey figure in discussion of 1952 presidential possibilities when the Republican National Committee recently met in Washington to choose a new chairman? Inquires M.R. of Auburn, N.Y.

Answer: He didn't. The tone of the talk was distinctly anti-Dewey for three main reasons. "He's had his," as Calvin Coolidge once replied when his wife, Grace, suggested that he offer a second drink to a henchman at an election victory celebration in Boston.

Secondly, the Western, Southern and even Far Western members think that he simply "missed" the New Deal and Fair Deal. Next time they would like a once-and-for-all showdown with the Roosevelt-Truman philosophy of politics and government. Third, they doubt if the GOP should again pick its nominee from the Empire State. They prefer a "grass rooter," whatever that may be.

ADJUSTMENT — Viewing the economic scene from the broad rather than the narrow, statistical outlook, note that the decline from the 1949 peak in almost every field — manufacturing and soft goods production; income and spending, wages and prices — has been from 5 to 15 percent. In view of the post-war heights we had reached a year ago, they do not consider such a drop to be abnormal or dangerous. On the contrary, they consider it to have been an inevitable and necessary readjustment.

EXAMPLES — Here are a few examples: Manufacturing output is down only 13 percent. Wholesale prices are off by 9 percent. Consumer income and spending are near 1948 levels. More autos and trucks were sold in June than in any previous June. Despite the rise in unemployment, payments to individuals this year have been higher than during the corresponding period in 1948.

Inventories have dropped 25 percent, but that is regarded as a favorable factor. In many lines, especially metals, lumber, textiles and shoes, consumption exceeds output, which will mean reopening of mills and reemployment. Even hard-pressed New England is perking up. Durable production is still down save in certain lines, but barring strikes in steel and automobiles, even that is expected to improve.

CONFIDENCE — A generally unnoticed feature of the recent decline in activity is that the South and the farm areas have held up better than New England, Atlantic coast states and Midwest manufacturing sections. Although normally the first to feel the effects of recession, Dixie and wheat-cattle-oil producing regions are helping to bulwark the economy.

The rise of consumer credit to an all-time high seems to reflect general confidence among the people, and that is a tremendous asset. They are not talking or acting as if they expected hard times. It is especially significant that there has been an increase in charge accounts, for these reflect the expectations of people in the lower income brackets.

PREJUDICE — "I have gained the impression," writes E.E.V.H. of Buhl, Idaho, "that racial discrimination is as prevalent in Washington, D.C., as anywhere in the South. If the President and Congress are so devoted to the cause of civil rights, why do they not work to make the nation's Capital an example to the rest of the country?"

Answer: As a 25-year resident of Washington, I must answer in the affirmative. With the exception of certain sections in the South, which are rapidly disappearing under the inspiration of enlightened editors, officials and public-spirited citizens, I can say that race prejudice is strong at the Capital, even under the dome of the structure where our laws are made.

RIGHTS — A recent attempt to end segregation in swimming pools precipitated riots, and forced their closing. When Negroes moved into white neighborhoods after a recent Supreme Court decision, there were stonings and other violent scenes. Colored people are discriminated against in restaurants, stores and similar places. We have no legitimate theater because the owners would not operate under an equality system. President Truman does not seek racial equality — simply equal economic opportunity. And there is almost no hope of enactment of his civil rights program, with the exception of the anti-poll tax bill.

On the contrary, they consider it to have been an inevitable and necessary readjustment.

EXAMPLES — Here are a few examples: Manufacturing output is down only 13 percent. Wholesale prices are off by 9 percent. Consumer income and spending are near 1948 levels. More autos and trucks were sold in June than in any previous June. Despite the rise in unemployment, payments to individuals this year have been higher than during the corresponding period in 1948.

Inventories have dropped 25 percent, but that is regarded as a favorable factor. In many lines, especially metals, lumber, textiles and shoes, consumption exceeds output, which will mean reopening of mills and reemployment. Even hard-pressed New England is perking up. Durable production is still down save in certain lines, but barring strikes in steel and automobiles, even that is expected to improve.

CONFIDENCE — A generally unnoticed feature of the recent decline in activity is that the South and the farm areas have held up better than New England, Atlantic coast states and Midwest manufacturing sections. Although normally the first to feel the effects of recession, Dixie and wheat-cattle-oil producing regions are helping to bulwark the economy.

The rise of consumer credit to an all-time high seems to reflect general confidence among the people, and that is a tremendous asset. They are not talking or acting as if they expected hard times. It is especially significant that there has been an increase in charge accounts, for these reflect the expectations of people in the lower income brackets.

PREJUDICE — "I have gained the impression," writes E.E.V.H. of Buhl, Idaho, "that racial discrimination is as prevalent in Washington, D.C., as anywhere in the South. If the President and Congress are so devoted to the cause of civil rights, why do they not work to make the nation's Capital an example to the rest of the country?"

Answer: As a 25-year resident of Washington, I must answer in the affirmative. With the exception of certain sections in the South, which are rapidly disappearing under the inspiration of enlightened editors, officials and public-spirited citizens, I can say that race prejudice is strong at the Capital, even under the dome of the structure where our laws are made.

RIGHTS — A recent attempt to end segregation in swimming pools precipitated riots, and forced their closing. When Negroes moved into white neighborhoods

after a recent Supreme Court decision, there were stonings and other violent scenes. Colored people are discriminated against in restaurants, stores and similar places. We have no legitimate theater because the owners would not operate under an equality system. President Truman does not seek racial equality — simply equal economic opportunity. And there is almost no hope of enactment of his civil rights program, with the exception of the anti-poll tax bill.

news behind the news

Once a week this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — How did Tom Dewey figure in discussion of 1952 presidential possibilities when the Republican National Committee recently met in Washington to choose a new chairman? Inquires M.R. of Auburn, N.Y.

Answer: He didn't. The tone of the talk was distinctly anti-Dewey for three main reasons. "He's had his," as Calvin Coolidge once replied when his wife, Grace, suggested that he offer a second drink to a henchman at an election victory celebration in Boston.

Secondly, the Western, Southern and even Far Western members think that he simply "missed" the New Deal and Fair Deal. Next time they would like a once-and-for-all showdown with the Roosevelt-Truman philosophy of politics and government. Third, they doubt if the GOP should again pick its nominee from the Empire State. They prefer a "grass rooter," whatever that may be.

ADJUSTMENT — Viewing the economic scene from the broad rather than the narrow, statistical outlook, note that the decline from the 1949 peak in almost every field — manufacturing and soft goods production; income and spending, wages and prices — has been from 5 to 15 percent. In view of the post-war heights we had reached a year ago, they do not consider such a drop to be abnormal or dangerous. On the contrary, they consider it to have been an inevitable and necessary readjustment.

EXAMPLES — Here are a few examples: Manufacturing output is down only 13 percent. Wholesale prices are off by 9 percent. Consumer income and spending are near 1948 levels. Sun-Tanned Pans

There was once a time when women feared the scorch of summer sun, and kept their light complexions, there was nothing left undone. They would stay indoors when sunlight flared to save their creamy skin, and a sunburn was regarded as an awful female sin. But those days have gone, and now the girls must have a heavy tan, for they've changed their way of thinking on what makes a pretty pan.

If you've got a light complexion, you are just a clinging vine, should a man prefer you sun-tan on his darling Clementine. If you guard against the freckles which the sun grows on your nose, you are simply called old-fashioned and a droopy house rose. So you toss away your beauty creams and gambol in the sun, and ere long you've got a skin just like a streak that's overdone.

Then to help the sun perform its task, you buy yourself a lamp, and the other girls admit you're sure become the sun-tan champ. But you find you overdid it, when your boy friend takes you out, since he looks so pale up side of you, his manhood is in doubt. So you let your sun-tan wear away through autumn's chilly clime, and you hope that you'll look human once again.

Paintings of Pempan on Exhibit at City Library

By ART FERRER
Pampa News Staff

Although Derrell Ramey, six of whose paintings are on exhibit at the City Library this week, has had only a year of training in school, his work shows a painstaking attention to getting just the effect he wants.

No part of any of the pictures is slighted with a "good enough" attitude; Ramey, obviously, spent a great deal of time thinking over what he wanted to put on canvas, and then spent an equally painstaking period of painting not only the obvious foreground, but the more easily slighted background as well.

Ramey is not a delicate watercolorist; his paint is laid on with a bold and vigorous hand. For that reason they cannot be viewed too closely, because they separate into mere blobs of color.

But from only a few feet, the shadows on the trees in his "City Creek" and "Ten-Mile Hole" lend a three-dimensional effect to the paintings as a whole. The only fault with these two—if it may be called a fault—is that the scenery is a little idealized; Pampa scenery doesn't look that good.

Two of his paintings are experiments in technique. One, which he describes as a "landscape in wavy-line technique with quiet colors to produce a restful mood," induces the exact mood that he wanted to convey.

But in the other he was too cautious. He called it "Chrysanthemums, a modernistic still-life," but he did not go far enough in trying to present an idea by means of planes of color. His natural caution asserted itself too early and he did not carry through the bold plan that such an experiment implies. As a still-life, it is excellent, but it is not cubism.

Also on exhibit at the library in the basement of the City Hall are about 35 new children's books for youngsters from pre-school age to the third or fourth grade.

Included are "Rudolph, The Red-Nosed Reindeer," and three books published by the Encyclopedia Britannica Press illustrated with beautiful photographs of animals. An animated cartoon based on "Rudolph" was shown in Pampa last Christmas through the courtesy of Montgomery, Ward & Co.

Gunman Sets Off Trail of Events

OAKLAND, Calif. — (AP) — A gunman ran from a grocery store Friday night with $179.

It touched off these events: He escaped in a pistol duel with two patrolmen; He slipped while trying to board a freight train, and lost a foot and an arm; The train engineer collapsed from the excitement, and died; Police Patrolmen Rudolph Messtrovich and Charles Razmor said the man who fired at them, escaped, and then was gravely injured by the train was Alvis Moore, 45, a laborer. They said they found the $179 and a pistol in his pockets.

The train engineer was 57-year-old Hans P. Hanson. He died while police were questioning him about the accident.

MIDLAND, Mich. — (AP) — Dr. and Mrs. Willard H. Dow, who were killed in an airplane crash March 31 near London, Ont., left estates totaling $8,372,376.01.

This was shown in inventories filed in Midland County Probate Court.

Dr. Dow was president of the Dow Chemical Company. His estate was valued at $4,326,135.81 and his wife's at $4,046,240.20.

Mrs. Myrtis McDonald, the probate judge, admitted the estates for probate.

The Dows willed their property to their two children, Herbert H. Dow II and Mrs. Macaulay Whiting. They share equally.

Mrs. Alta Koch Campbell, another victim of the crash, left an estate of $50,065.78, including $50,000 life insurance. Her estate was willed to her husband, Calvin A. Campbell, head of Dow's Legal Department and lone survivor of the crash. The plane's pilot and co-pilot were killed.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas said Dallas stores reported 12 percent drop. The loss was three percent at Houston, less than one-half of one percent at Fort Worth.

Traffic Death Toll Slightly Under 1948

CHICAGO — (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll for the first six months of 1949 was 13,810 — only 100 lower than for the comparable 1948 period.

The National Safety Council, which reported the figures, said that a five-month comparison however, showed that the nation's motorists rolled up six percent more mileage this year than last, and the ratio dropped to 7 deaths per 100 million miles of travel.

This compared with a rate of 7.2 percent for the equivalent period last year — the previous low rate.

Revising its estimate of output last week Ward's upped the total of the United States and Canadian production to 160,173 vehicles.

Korea May Be Spawning Ground of Third War

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Foreign News Analyst
(For Dewitt MacKenzie)

Korea upheld its growing reputation last week as a likely spot for the birth of World War III.

In Southern Korea, officials of the American-sponsored government reached the stage of talking openly about invading the Soviet-sponsored North before the North beats them to the punch.

These officials still would not let correspondents attribute such statements to them personally, but AP correspondent William R. Moore radioed from Seoul: "Some very significant figures in the . . . government think the time must come soon when this infant republic must invade the Communist-ruled North as a self-defense measure."

Moore said moderate Koreans advised against this. But the talk of beating the North to the punch obviously has increased recently.

Moore cabled that the Northerners had invaded the southern part of the Ongjin Peninsula, which is intersected by the 38th parallel that divides Korea into two separate countries. Each is recognized by its respective sponsor in the cold war and by some of each sponsor's allies.

This little war at Ongjin has been going on since late May, when a Southern expedition by sea drove the Northerners out. The Northerners kept coming back, however, and did so in force last week.

The Southern chief of staff revealed that this last show of Northern force occurred after his troops had occupied two strong points just over the border in the North. He said these cost about 200 Southern lives.

The question of who actually invaded whom may not be as important as this question:

Wifely Kiss Leads to Fine

GALESVILLE, Md. — (AP) — Because he was so vehement about his right to be kissed in public by his wife, Roy Miffleton, 31, of Washington is $10 poorer today.

Miffleton was fined that amount by Trial Magistrate Norman Hazard after testimony at a hearing developed that quite a rumpus ensued following a wifely kiss on an outing Sunday at Mayo Beach on Chesapeake Bay.

Mrs. Mary Trabling, wife of the resort owner, objected to such goings-on in public.

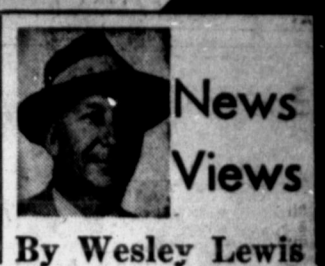

Miffleton objected to her objecting. Words flew hot and heavy. A crowd gathered. And then the police came.

At the trial, Judge Hazard said he wasn't fining Miffleton for publicly kissing his wife but for disorderly conduct afterward. The judge also levied a fine against a friend of Miffleton's, John Cain, a 26-year-old Washington policeman. Cain had been loud in supporting Miffleton's side of the controversy, testimony showed.

A group of women wrote to see if the Interior Dept. would help them to find husbands. They figured the Int. Dept. would have some men stuck out alone in far away places who would appreciate having a little woman around the shack. This is approaching matrimony the hard way. Being sold on the age of chivalry, we hesitate to mention it . . . but if the ladies can't do any good for themselves in the U. S., they may not look much better ten thousand miles from home. Maybe that's why the fellows went to those faraway places originally. Perhaps the ladies got carried away by seeing too many Esther Williams movies.

Greens Gossip

by Hogan O'Snead

The Pampa Country Club Junior Golf Tournament was a huge success again this year, with Jimmie Howard repeating as champion. Jimmie shot some very nice golf for this total of 143 for the 36-hole route. He had to, because Dick Frigore was right on his heels with a total of 146. All the boys in "A" flight played good golf and I'm sure all of them who will be eligible will participate in next year's event.

The big noise word created by the boys in "B" flight. Their champion was not decided until the last group came in. Don "Hamphrey" Hicks came in as champion with a total of 147 strokes against 148 for Leroy Ellis. Dwayne Kuntz made the trip in 152 shots while David "Man Mountain" Fatheree required 153 blows. So there it is; it was a tossup all the way.

All of the boys who participated in the tournament have asked me to say a word of thanks to Johnny Austin, Ham Luna, and all the other gentlemen who made the tournament and the trophies possible. They all had a very good time and hope to play again next season.

Mr. Ham Luna presented loving cups to winners in each flight and told all the boys that they had just finished playing in the largest junior tournament ever held in this section of the country. Mr. Luna did a fine job with these boys and I'm taking my hat off to him and the other business men who made this year's junior tourney the best yet.

Seeing all you boys again next year - good luck until then. I saw Dan Gribbon out on number one fairway last Friday afternoon and he was using a number two shovel, the latest in golfing equipment. It seems that Dan hit his shot down the middle of the fairway and his ball found a gopher hole; so he promptly returned to the club's tool shed, borrowed the shovel, did a good job of excavating and found a little white pill down below. But the ball wasn't his. He is still rolling toward China. Dan, did you find the gopher?

I understand that Johnny Muna, Amarillo city champion, and Homer Smith, Ross Rogers president, came to town last Thursday and taught Johnny Austin and Johnny Forman a lesson. I asked Johnny Austin what kind of a round he had. "I shot my best Sunday shot," said Johnny. "and came in with a smooth 70. But Muna had a 66, which tied our course record." It looks as if football isn't the only game Amarillo plays well.

Sincerely yours,
HOGAN

Disputed Play Gives Blue Sox 10-9 Win

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Frank Okrie missed second base in a double play attempt in the top half of the 11th, which led to a run that gave Abilene a 10 to 9 victory over Albuquerque Friday night.

The win ended the series at one game each. It put the Dukes only two games ahead of the second place Abilene Blue Sox. Manager Hayden Greer walked with one away in the 11th and stole second base. George Sturdivant was purposely passed to get to leftfielder Danny Conception. Conception hit an easy grounder to pitcher Nino Barnise. Barnise threw to Okrie and Okrie relayed to Manager Hershel Martin at first base to catch Conception.

The umpire ruled Okrie did not touch second base and Greer went around to score. Abilene AB R H C (Abilene) AB R H C (Albuquerque) ...

Superstitious Leo Could Upset Dope by Bringing Giants Ahead

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK — (AP) — It will be a body blow to the master-minding business if the New York Giants win the National League pennant.

Leo Durocher, jostled into a corner by reporters, eager for knowledge of the managerial strategy which brought the triumph, will lower his eyes, blush modestly, and say: "We won because I didn't change my clothes." Durocher isn't superstitious, of course. The only reason he doesn't walk under ladders is because a bucket of paint might put his sparse hair.

The dapper skipper has been wearing the same slacks and jacket every day while the Giants have been on a winning streak. It's just a coincidence, naturally, that it is the same outfit he wore during a three-week stretch in 1941 when the Brooklyn Dodgers, under his leadership, were making the big push that won them the pennant.

Durocher has no corner on this wooing of lady luck, however. Baseball managers, and players, are notorious for their pet superstitions.

Pioneers Defeat Lobos Second Straight
CLOVIS — (AP) — The Clovis Pioneers made it two in a row over the Lamesa Lobos here Friday night slaying three visiting hurriers for 13 hits, six of them for extra bases, and a 15-9 conquest.

Catcher I. B. Palmer's grand-slam homer in the first inning off right-hander Carroll Dial, a new addition to the Lobo mound corps, gave the Pioneers a big jump. They didn't need any more as Bill Ross scattered 11 safeties to coast to his seventh victory. Tempers flared briefly in the fifth inning, Miller and Palmer exchanging words after the former had fled out easily for the third time in succession. Blows were prevented by the intervention of the umpires as things got hot quickly.

When Miller took the mound he struck Palmer in the back the first time the Pioneer catcher faced him. And again words were flung back and forth, but that was all. Miller took a riding from the fans for the remainder of the game.

Choice of Ben Hogan to be honorary captain of the Ryder Cup team is a happy one. It is acknowledged by his fellow players that the little guy was Mr. Big before cut down by injuries which still leave his golf future a question.

Headline: "Kinder Fans 14, Boxer win." What do you mean, Kinder fans when he really fanned them. Jackie Robinson has stolen more bases than the total thefts of any one of six of the National League clubs. His value can be figured by the foot, no doubt. A bow to Harry Bitman, the Denver tailor who didn't default when a backfiring offer of a new wardrobe for the football 10 football winners left him 412 suits in the red. Clothes didn't make the man in his case, but the man certainly made the clothes.

If Gertrude Ederle were to offer an suggestion to Shirley Mary France on what to expect in her attempt to swim the English Channel she'd probably say: "Baby, it's cold out there." The dog days when tempers flare on baseball fields rally are with us when more cases than the total man such as Bucky Walters gets himself suspended and fined. Golf has been barred from Gus Lesnevich in his training for his fight with Ezzard Charles. And we always thought a slight left was an asset to a fighter.

Where they are division: Rudy York has just been named manager of the Union City, Tenn., team in the Kitty League, and Jimmy Foy is the pilot of the Bridgeport, Conn., team in the Colonial League. So you want to be a fight promoter? A story one day carries the news that the Bruce Woodcock-Lee Savold fight in London is a sellout, and the next day we hear Woodcock gets himself banged up in a truck accident. After his experience with Joe Bakshi the truck accident must have seemed a minor matter.

Tulsa and Fort Worth Only Teams in TL Race
It's all Fort Worth and Tulsa in the Texas League pennant chase these days and the teams apparently intend to keep it strictly a personal fight.

The Fort Worth Cats rallied Friday night to nudge Oklahoma City, 5-4, and keep a two and one-half game edge over Tulsa. The Oilers blanked Dallas, 4-0, to keep from sliding behind.

In the only other game Friday night, San Antonio knocked off Shreveport, 9-5. Beaumont and Houston were rained out.

From Tulsa down there's a sad gap in what used to be such close knit company. Third place Dallas trails by eight games, Oklahoma City is nine and one-half back and the gap gets wider down the standings.

Errors by Cox Lead to 5 Runs Parnell Wins His 16th of Season

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds scored five runs in the eighth inning Saturday with the aid of three errors by third baseman Billy Cox to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2. Johnny Wyrostek homered to start the eighth for the Reds and Cox then came up with a siege of butter fingers.

The loss snapped a six-game Brooklyn winning streak. Cox's three errors tied the National League record for most errors in an inning by a third baseman established by Phil Geyer of Boston and Lew Riggs of Brooklyn.

Skeet Shooting Runs A Wee Bit Expensive
Associated Press Staff
Did it hurt to lose that $1 golf ball in the woods? Then pity the poor duffer in skeet shooting. It cost from $5 to $45 to enter one of the numerous events at the National Skeet Shooting tournament in Dallas this week.

You don't have to be a champion or even a runnerup to shoot in this world series of target breaking. You just have to be a member of the association, have the desire to shoot and the cash to do it.

If you wanted to enter every event in the tournament it would cost as much as a lot of people make in a month.

There are 13 events that require entry fees. These amount to $28. Then there are some extras, available if you want.

Of course, no one enters all of the events. But quite a few enter two, three, four or more.

The big one is the national all-gauge championship. For 250 target and shells the entry fee is $45.

Several division championships are shot concurrently with the big one. These additional entry fees ranging from $3 to $16 for these.

The Skeet Shooting Association makes no bones that the sport is an expensive one. But they figure the shooters get enough enjoyment out of it to make the cost worth while.

Friday's Major League Ball Results
By The Associated Press
Jack Kramer's return to 1948 from with a six-hit shutout for Boston may be the most important development in the American League race since Joe DiMaggio rejoined the Yankees.

Failure of handsome Jack to measure up to his brilliant 18-5 record of last year almost ruined the Red Sox in early season.

When Kramer cooled off the meek umpire, a batter, thus maintained his record of never having been defeated by the Tigers. He now has beaten them nine times.

Home Run Bats Give Yankees Win in Ninth
NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York Yankees belted six home runs Saturday including successive ninth inning homers by Tommy Henrich and Joe DiMaggio to come from behind and nip the St. Louis Browns, 9-8.

DiMaggio's blow was his second of the game and snapped an 8-8 tie. Phil Rizzuto also hit two homers and Yogi Berra one in the Yankees. Gerry Priddy, Sherm Lollar and Paul Lehner homered for the Browns.

Ambato, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1797, again was desolated. When the first shock rocked the city, many residents dashed into streets and parks for safety. Hundreds took refuge in churches and prayed. Great cracks opened in the streets. Water mains burst and communication lines were ripped apart. Bridges crumbled into bits. Nearly the whole population was left homeless.

The cathedral was destroyed while 50 children were inside taking a catechism lesson. The school barracks crashed to the ground killing 150 soldiers and injuring 60 others. The palace of the provincial government was a heap of ruins. Four other churches also were demolished—Santo Domingo, San Francisco, La Merced and the Church of the Josephine Fathers.

Authorities ordered everyone out of all buildings to avoid injury from falling walls. Army demolition squads were called upon to raze hazardous structures.

Attorney General Price Daniel was also on the road, and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles stayed in Washington on the lands fight, and kept his name in the news.

In Austin, there was growing belief that state School Superintendent L. A. Woods would get into the race on the Gilmer-Aikin school issue. C. W. March, the former Baylor law professor, started on what he called the "second phase" of his campaign for governor, and at Dallas, Charles B. Municipal Judge Perry B. Jackson yesterday ruled, in effect, that you can't.

He explained he had celebrated after a friend in Washington said he would help arrange an eye operation.

Nation Up a Tree Over What to Do About China

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This country doesn't know what to do next. That's about the best that can be said of the United States policy toward China.

The Communists are in control there. This country doesn't like it. But what this country should do about it is something that hasn't been figured out yet. It's up a tree.

That's what you have left when you cut through a river of words that came out of the State Department last week in a 1,054-page report called a "white paper," explaining why things went wrong in China.

Summed up, the paper says:

1. The Chinese Communists have taken over most of the country and can take over all of it, any time they want to.

2. The only opposition to the Communists — the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek — was rotten and it's not worth a dime anymore.
3. This government had helped Chiang's outfit but has washed its hands of the Chiang crew now. And that polishes off the last real block inside China to the Communists.

The white paper says more: We were in there pitching for Chiang, and we poured help into him, but he didn't know what to do with it. He was bullheaded, and he blew the help we gave, and messed up his armies. And instead of reforming his rotten government into one the Chinese people could have faith in and rally round, he let it stay rotten. The government and his armies melted away and the Communists took over.

That's a pretty gloomy picture in the white paper, when you remember it's a great boon to Russia by its side and a great blow to this country since a huge chunk of friendly Asia is lost to us.

At this moment it seems the only thing this country can do is help China's neighbors in Asia if the Chinese Communists try to run over them.

One thing the white paper makes clear: in its fight against communism, the Western world suffered a tremendous disaster in China. About 300,000,000 people in China were lined up with the 200,000,000 in Russia.

'Sailors' Get Awards

HONG KONG — (AP) — Able Seaman Simon and Guardsman Peggy received campaign ribbons Saturday with all the modesty of heroes. In their case it was a purr and a wag of the tail.

As members of the crew of the British sloop Amethyst during the dash down the Yangtze from Communist captivity, they were honored in a ceremony at the British navy's Fleet Club, complete with honor guard.

Said Petty Officer Griffiths, who officiated at the ship's dog: "Guardsman Peggy, for distinguished and meritorious service on HMS Amethyst, is hereby awarded the Distinguished Amethyst Campaign ribbon."

Simon, the cat, got the same, word for word — and this additional citation: "Be it known that on April 26, 1949, though recovering from wounds, Simon did singlehanded and unarmed take down and destroy Mao Tse-tung's force guilty of raiding food supplies. Another Mao Tse-tung is the leader of China's Communists."

Senator Helps Boy Find Home In New Mexico

YOKOHAMA — (AP) — A half-English, half-Japanese boy is going to find a new home in New Mexico, thanks to a special order of the State Department at Washington.

He is William Henry Tickner, aged six.

Cpl. Arthur L. Prior, 23, Vaughn, N.M., fell in love with the boy's mother when he was assigned to occupation duty in Japan.

The mother is Vera May Tickner, a native of Sussex, England. She married a Japanese, a fellow student at the University of London, came to Japan a year before the Pearl Harbor attack, and divorced him three years ago. She then took back her maiden name.

Prior and Miss Tickner wanted to be married, but they ran into a world of trouble, he related. First, Prior could not marry in Japan under Army regulations. Second, even if he and Miss Tickner married, the immigration laws of the United States would bar William Henry.

So he wrote his troubles to Senator Anderson (D-N.M.). He got a bill passed permitting young Henry to enter the United States.

Now Prior, his bride-to-be, and young William Henry expect to leave for the United States about the middle of August.

If he can't marry Miss Tickner in Japan, he'll marry her in the United States, he said. Then they are going to settle down in Vaughn.

Mr. Hoover was in Stanford University's first graduating class.

Rates Raised for Ferry-Riding Jumbos

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Things looked dark today for elephants who like to ride the Weehawken ferry across the Hudson River.

An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended new fares for the ferry, which runs from New York City to Weehawken, N.J.

Among the suggested changes: Elephants, who have been riding for $1.04, would have to pay $2.80. Not in peanuts, either.

Psychology Student Is Miss Texas

PORT ARTHUR — (AP) — A blue-eyed blonde who studies psychology, Ysela Leissner 19, is, officially, the prettiest thing in Texas.

The University of Texas student, entered as "Miss Austin," was crowned "Miss Texas" Friday night and won the right to represent the Lone Star State in the "Miss America" contest.

Jerry Gibbons, 20, of Fort Arthur, entered as "Miss American Legion" by the Fort Arthur American Post, was second and "Miss Port Arthur," Mary Longman, 18, was third.

Miss Leissner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Leissner of Port Worth.

Miss Texas is five feet, four inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has a 34-inch bust, a 23 inch waist and 34 inch hips.

Her hobby is dancing and her talent number was a ballet routine, "Valse Bluette."

After she gets her Masters Degree in Clinical Psychology, Miss Leissner hopes to work in a public hospital.

Miss Gibbons, a brown-eyed brunette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gibbons of Port Arthur. She did a Hawaiian dance in a grass skirt in the talent contest.

Miss Longman is also a brown-eyed brunette. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Longman of Port Arthur. She sketched a dress design to display her talent.

Five girls were selected as finalists. There was no fourth or fifth place.

The last two members of the five were "Miss Gregg County," blonde Anne Price, 18, of Longview and "Miss Uvalde," black-haired Joy Fulewider, 17, of Uvalde.

Collections from customers were most difficult, he replied. Had to get money some way to pay the help.

Miss America Gets Welcome From French

PARIS —(AP)— A French customs officer took one look at the current Miss America of 1949 Saturday and exclaimed: "Quelle femme!" (what a woman!)
The bathing beauty queen—blonde Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn.—got an enthusiastic welcome in Paris, but she said she hasn't changed her mind about French swim suits. She still doesn't like them.

The 19-year-old beauty is on a 23-day European tour to show herself at leading beaches. She came out in London against fashions and abbreviated beachwear.

"I don't approve of Bikini suits for American girls," Bebe told her French interviewers. "The French girls can wear them if they want to, but I still don't approve of them on American girls. After all, they are the ones I represent."

She was wearing a bright red suit when she stepped off a Pan-American plane at Orly Airfield. Traffic in all directions stopped as word spread throughout the place that the prettiest girl in America had just arrived in France.

"She's awfully tall," one Frenchman said with an appreciative eye on the body beautiful, measuring 5 feet 9 inches.

"She towers over the French girls."
Miss Shopp and her traveling companion, Virginia Safford of The Minneapolis Star, are going to spend Sunday in Deauville, too

Japan Is Key To Far East

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP)— Japan is the key to the entire Far Eastern situation, the war-time commander of the Eighth Army said.

"So long as Russia does not control the island chain, and particularly the main islands of Japan," said Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, "the further advancement of the Reds is to a very large extent stymied."

General Eichelberger spoke at the opening session of the 31st annual convention of the Ohio Department of the American Legion.

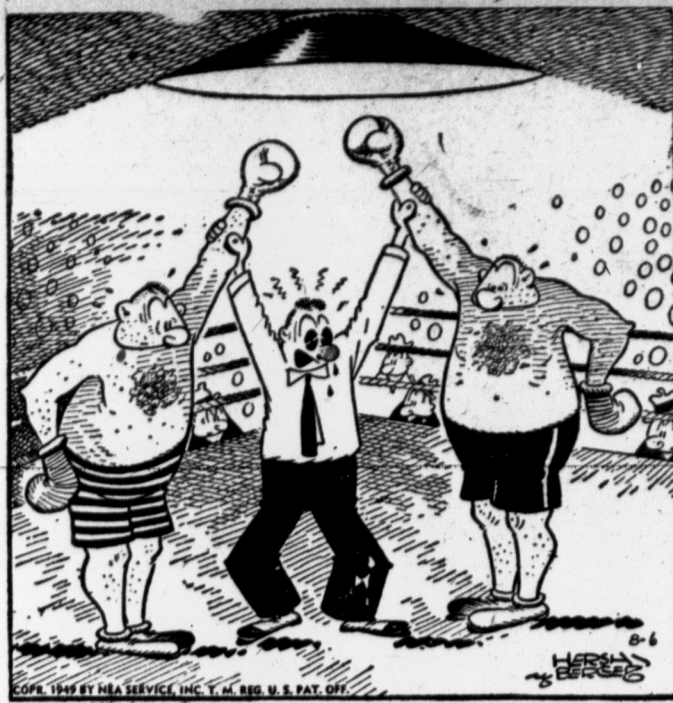

"... If we can make sure that the Japanese are reasonably able to protect themselves after a peace treaty is concluded," the Ohio-born soldier continued, "the sales will be tipped the other way."

"That is why I consider Japan as the key to the entire Far Eastern situation at this time."

Spectacular 'Skyway' for Cars Planned

HOUSTON —(AP)— A spectacular "skyway" for motor vehicles, carrying speeding traffic across the city on double-decker four-lane roadways reaching up to six stories in height, is in the planning stage for Houston.
The project, according to engineers of the State Highway Department will cost about 30 million dollars, and will extend from a junction with the Houston-Port Arthur highway on the east, to Eureka, just west of the present city limits.

The proposed elevated highway system, which has yet to be approved by city officials and the State Highway Commission, contemplates an intricate set of approaches and exits to tie in with other urban expressways.

The engineers explained that their plan — one of five or six ideas for improvement of arterial highway problems here — is considered more feasible than surface roadways or tunnels because of the prohibitive costs of both.

According to tentative plans for the structure, which would provide some five miles of double-decker highways, height of the upper deck would range from 40 feet above surface level to approximately six stories. A lower roadway would be 15 feet under the upper roadway.

The engineers pointed out that there is nothing certain that the plan will ever become an actuality, since many aspects of securing rights-of-way and financing the structures have not yet been discussed.

Negro Used 'X' To Forge Checks

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— A 25-year-old Negro who says he cannot read or write is serving a prison term for forgery.

The Negro, Lewis West, was sentenced to one year and 11 months in federal prison by Federal Judge John W. Holland. He pleaded guilty to forging endorsements on four government checks totaling $100.

Secret Service agents said West simply marked an "x" on the backs of the checks which he told them he obtained from a mail box at the address where he lived.

Nudists Receive Calls From Would Be 'Bathers'

DENVER —(AP)— The boss nudist at a camp near here said he's received a flood of phone calls from folks who want to take nature in the raw.

John Garrison, president of the National Sunbathers' Association, says most of the people don't realize that "you don't become a nudist overnight."

Apparently it involves much more than twiddling a few buttons.

"Before you can join any nudist group your past is pretty thoroughly checked," the portly Garrison says. "It's a long process. We don't want any crack-pots. You must be passed by a committee."

"Of course we realize that some of the phone calls we've gotten in the past few days are from jokers. But others are sincere. I suppose they're beginning to realize that sunshine really does bring health."

The sunbathers' camp is set up about 25 miles southwest of here on a site cluttered with knife-edged drifts of rock. Most of the group wear shoes and some use sun-visors. The only thing remotely resembling a beach cloth is owned by an elderly Canadian who travelled 1,600 miles to attend the camp. He brought his cello with him and wears a pad on his stomach to keep the cello from rubbing.

When the nudists attend camp movies at night they wear clothing in deference to the chill mountain breezes. "And of course there's no sun at night," they explain.

Only rebel in the camp is a pert California miss.

She was quoted in an interview with a Rocky Mountain News reporter as saying:

"I don't mind stripping to take a sun bath. But the folks here aren't consistent. They insist they are running around without their clothes in order to get healthy — or to stay healthy."

"Okay, why don't they quit smoking? And why don't they eat right? Most of them are eating out of cans and the food in the kitchens isn't so hot, either."

Meantime, she has not indicated she will cut short her stay at the camp.

Palaver de Pampa

FIRST-NIGHTERS — I think Mr. Peg's and my clothes—our best, by the way—will be dry by church-time ... I'm surely—oh, so surely—glad that we didn't take the kids ... I never have seen so many sad-sack faces ... You can depend on Mother Nature to bring something like that, and, yet, you can't get mad at HER ... No, laying all the kidding aside, the farmers will need that moisture (The Pampa News said .45 of an inch), come what time next year ... But more than anything else, I felt sorry for those folks whose cars bogged down in the slick; and there they sat, wetter than a dry county ... But the rodeo was great anyhow ...

FOR INGENUITY, you should have taken a look at that car-full of "zanies" sponsored by the VFW Women's Auxiliary ... I overheard a couple of good character-friends of mine, Gladys Robinson and Jay Flanagan, talking about this unusual "float." I understand the women put dry ice in the radiator of that relic which bounced and jumped, started and stopped up and down the parade streets ... the old umbrella, opening and shutting like the stock market, brought a laugh every time ... and one member of the get-up used a tooth-brush and what looked like snuff (could it have been "Rooster brand?"), adding the color of the '90s, or some era of the long-gone past ... those old clothes they wore must have been used sometime prior to the Roosevelt New Deal era—a long time ago ...

UNIQUE FEATURE of the Thomas Carruth-Owen Hedley wedding of two weeks past ... it was the gowns of the bride and bridesmaids, stitched by the attractive bride herself: of ice-blue slipper satin ... another newcomer is the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Barnett of Blue Jacket, Oklahoma ... Mrs. Barnett is the former Margaret Stockstill of Pampa ... the father is even doing well, even though he suffered a broken leg the week before the young man arrived ... Margaret is going to be awfully busy making cakes on the birthday of the new son, as his date is the same as his sister's who is three years older ...

GOING SOMEWHERE? — Childcraft Advisory Service, Chicago, says take these pointers: 1. Fill a thermos bottle with water, so that the family won't be causing stops all along the way ... 2. Put in a handy supply of crackers, popcorn and chewing gum against Junior's continual hunger pains ... 3. Fasten a shoe bag to the inside of the car door, to provide a convenient storage space for toys the kids will be losing ... 4. Make it clear to the small-fry that a vacation isn't a tooth-brushing and hand-washing holiday, but a period of normal relaxation and enjoyment for the entire family ...

PANORAMA — Managed to get in a ball game or two last week, even with the rodeo in full swing ... the biggest crowd of the season seemed to be Monday night when the Kiwanis Club sponsored the game — for benefit of the softball teams ... this is a nice thing, keeps a lot of children in Sunday School, who, we're sorry to say, would not be there otherwise ... I saw the B. M. Behrman, Lillian McWhirter, and Betty Pinkstein, with guests of the Behrman from New York ... they seemed to be enjoying our Texas way of cheering and jeering ... the Hal McCrays and D. C. Houks were out, and it's the first time this year we've seen them ... hope to see you out again, folks ... the Clayton Husted, John Rankins, and Waldon Moores were also enthusiastic fans ... the Doc Williamses and Doc Donaldsons shared a box (and also the telephone calls) for the evening ... enjoyed the whole game, but most of all the score ... Noticed Doris Boyd wearing a new ring ... don't know who he is, but do know that he's a fellow from Minnesota, now in the Army at Wichita Falls ... our congratulations to you, Doris ... Something new has been added for the younger set of the city: Jess Hatcher, an old-timer of the county, is the whistle-blowing engineer of the miniature train for children out on the Borger highway across from Miller Drug ... and, kids, you get to go around the track four or five times ... my kids went almost blind themselves with joy ... Harold and Betty Wright have just returned from vacationing ... and the Lee Newsoms from Colorado Springs ... that's some country up there, incidentally ... Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Curtis will soon be taking off for parts unknown to my spies, for a week or two of rest ...

IT'S WORTH KNOWING: to wit, the Junior High Auditorium is being remodeled ... Oh, yes, school is just around the corner ...

I KNOW the little city Derby champion's mother, Mrs. J. G. Doggett ... they have a cute little girl, Joyce, who, by the way, has been OUT of the limelight since her brother won the race ... I heard a close friend of the Doggetts say that they would arrive in the Ohio city, Akron, in time for the weekend race ...

HEARD that Mrs. Doggett said the family had big plans for a vacation trip to Colorado, or somewhere, but "Jerry ruined the plans." She was kidding, of course, because the Ohio thrills will be super-deluxe ...

'Tis time to go; My clothes are dry. 'Twas a fine rodeo, Though 'twasn't dry! Panoramically, PEG O' PAMPA.

In a candle-light service Tuesday evening, August 2, at the First Methodist Church, Miss Pauline Cotner, daughter of Mrs. Ethel T. Cotner, Perryton, became the bride of Leon W. Daugherty, son of Mrs. J. M. Daugherty of Hoover.

Vows were exchanged before an altar spaced with large baskets of white gladioli flanked by fernery and palms. Numerous seven-branch candelabra with white cathedral tapers lighted the setting and white tapers held by white satin ribbons marked the pews.

Dr. Orion W. Carter officiated in the double-ring ceremony. An organ prelude of nuptial selections was played by Mrs. G. L. Dauner, and immediately preceding the entering of the bride party, Mrs. Loyd Wilson sang "Thine Alone" by Herbert.

During the service, Mrs. Dauner played soft background music and following the exchange of vows, with the couple kneeling, Mrs. Wilson sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Mrs. Carson E. Tank of Ann Arbor, Mich., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in orchid organdy over slipper satin designed with a fitted bodice, full floor-length skirt over a hoop. Her coronet was braided satin and organdy intertwined with flowerettes of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole's necklace of pearls, a gift from the bride, and carried a colonial bouquet of Esther Reed daisies and showered gladioli blossoms. Her long mitts were of matching organdy.

Miss Verda Elkins, Mrs. Donald Cole, and Mrs. Charles Shelton were bridesmaids. They wore identical attire to that of the matron of honor, and carried the white colonial bouquets of Esther Reed daisies tied with orchid streamers. They also had pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Miss Sammie Sue Cook, flower girl, was attired in orchid organdy and satin. She wore a small gold locket, a gift from the bride, and carried a basket of rose petals.

The soloist and organist were also gowned in orchid and wore similar gift necklaces. Their corsages were of split carnations.

Frank Daugherty attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Don Duggin and Joe Black. Pampa, and Jack Nichols of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her brother, Wilbur C. Cotner, Jr., the bride was attired in a gown of white silk lace and marquisette over slipper satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a lace outlined yoke. Long sleeves came to points at the wrists and self-covered buttons extended full length at the back. The bouffant skirt, edged with lace, terminated in a court train. Her lace-edged fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and satin and she carried a colonial bouquet of white satin streamers and white California roses, centered with a single orchid.

Mrs. Cotner chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of navy with white accessories. Mrs. Daugherty, mother of the bridegroom, also wore a navy gown with white accessories. Their corsages were fashioned of white gardenias.

Registering the guests at the church were Mrs. Don Duggin, wearing identical corsages of split carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception honoring the couple was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole. The serving table had at one end a tiered wedding cake encircled with a garland of white daisies and gladioli buds. Placed at the opposite end was the crystal punch service.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. W. G. Dunn, sister of the bride from Canadian; Mrs. Dare Locke, sister of the bridegroom, Amarillo; and Mrs. Frank Daugherty, Mrs. Jack Nichols, Canyon, was in charge of the guest book. They wore white split carnation corsages.

For her going away attire, the bride chose a suit of shell pink silk shantung with toast brown accessories. Her orchid corsage was encircled with white stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty departed immediately for Niagara Falls, N.Y., and other points of interest. They plan to return September 1 and will make their home in Pampa.

Mrs. Daugherty was graduated from Perryton High School and attended West Texas State, at Canyon and North Texas at Denton. She is employed as secretary of the First Methodist Church and has served in that capacity for the past two years.

Mr. Daugherty attended Pampa schools and was graduated from West Texas. He also attended Coe College at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and was commissioned Lieutenant during his service in the Air Corps. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and of the Pampa, Maternity of the First Methodist Church and has served in that capacity for the past two years.

Federal Announcement Lifts Cottonseed Price

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The price of Texas cotton seed rose $8 to $10 per ton, Rep. Poage (D-Texas) said, with the announcement last week that the government planned to bolster the market with a loan program.

A member of the House Agriculture Committee, the Texan had issued a statement to the press on the situation, quoting Agriculture Department officials to the effect that the Commodity Credit Corporation would initiate a price support program for cottonseed.

"Details of the program have not yet been definitely approved," Poage said.

"The announcement of support plans, however, materially strengthened the market. I understand that it has increased the price that farmers in South Texas are receiving for their seed from $8 to $10 a ton."

The price in Texas has dropped to as low as $32 per ton from war-time highs of $100, Poage declared, observing that the proposed loan will guarantee growers about $50 per ton.

In order to qualify for the loan, the Texan added, a farmer will be required to store his cottonseed in some approved storage space. This may be any public warehouse or farm storage in some instances. Approval will be left to the local county PMA committee.

"It is assumed that any farm building with a rain-proof roof and floor that will keep seed dry will be adequate," he continued. "Many structures that will not qualify for wheat or grain storage will be satisfactory for the storage of cotton seed. The seed must have less than 10 percent moisture to qualify for a loan. Most of our Texas seed normally runs less than that amount."

The various county PMA offices in cotton-growing areas will be provided with a machine to determine moisture content.

Along with the loan program, he said, the Commodity Credit Corporation will make loans up to 85 percent of the cost of storage space for farmers or farm groups which want to erect such facilities. They have to be repaid in five years.

Poage said that farmers putting their cotton seed into the loan may withdraw it at anytime prior to April 30, 1950, if the market should rise up above the amount they received.

Otherwise, it is taken over by the government on that date.

End of Polio Is Predicted

DALLAS — (AP) — Infantile paralysis may be whipped by 1952, an official of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said here.

"For the first time, medical science has set a date by which it hopes to conquer poliomyelitis," said Joe W. Savage of New York City, executive director of the foundation.

The official has been in Texas to study the heavier-hit epidemic areas.

Hope that a vaccine to immunize against polio infection will be developed by 1952, Savage said, is based on experiments at four centers financed by the foundation.

Patriarch Says No Church-State Conflict Exists

MOSCOW — (AP) — Alexei, patriarch of Moscow and all Russia, said Saturday in a newspaper statement that no conflict exists between loyalty to the Soviet state and loyalty to the Russian Orthodox Church.

"Such a conflict not only does not exist but cannot exist if believers adhere to the exact meaning of teachings of the Gospel and testaments of the Apostles," the Patriarch said. The statement was carried by Ivestia, official organ of the Soviet government.

Ivestia said the statement was given in answer to questions put by the Moscow correspondent of Reuters, a British news agency, on July 27.

(Alexei's statement, at a time when the Roman Catholic Church has toughened its stand against communism, reaffirmed the church-state relationship which has existed in the U.S.S.R. since the Soviet government permitted re-establishment of the Russian Orthodox Church in 1943. Critics have charged the Russian church

Bathing Suits Called Immodest

DENVER — (AP) — Women nationalists consider bathing suits—especially the French ones—"The most sex-provocative things in existence."

This comes from Mildred of Topeka, Kans., who is attending the nudist conference near here. Mildred (they don't use last names), interviewed in her "nothing-at-all, explained:

"They're simply horrible, those French suits. And they're no good for swimming. You get out of the water and they're soaking wet. The water drips down your body. Ugh."

Mildred said also that nudism was a handy thing around the house. "I get twice as much housework done in the nude than when I'm wearing a house dress. No clothes to bind me. I feel free."

Ed, from Texas, supported Mildred's arguments. He strode up during the interview, dressed handsomely in sun visor and shoes and said: "Folks don't understand our attitude. But shucks, you'd think you were in the dressingroom of any respectable golf club if it weren't for the mixed company. Now, wouldn't you? I ask you?"

Improved Conditions for Teachers Already Being Felt

AUSTIN — Impact of the improved financial conditions for teachers under the new educational program for Texas has already been felt.

A survey of sixteen private and state-supported colleges and universities by the Texas State Teachers Association shows an increased enrollment of graduate students this summer over last year of 2,957.

All told, the sixteen schools have 9,599 students taking postgraduate work as compared with 6,642 last summer, an increase of 44.5 percent.

Comments of educators also show that passage of the Gilmer-Aikin bills, which completely reorganized the state school system, definitely has caused teachers to seek masters degrees or take refresher courses.

"Better prepared teachers will be reflected in more adequate education of our children," Charles H. Tennyson, director of public relations for the teachers association, said.

"Our survey of the colleges indicates that most of the students in the first summer term of the graduate schools are teachers.

"Under terms of the Gilmer-Aikin bills, teachers receive substantial pay increases, but those holding masters degrees and who have several years classroom experience are especially benefited."

The increase in post-graduate work in all sixteen of the colleges is specially outstanding, Tennyson pointed out, in view of the fact that in many of the schools enrollment for the summer courses other than graduate work decreased.

The University of Texas and Southern Methodist University, Dallas, are examples. The University's regular enrollment dropped nearly 600 when compared with last summer. Southern Methodist is down 200. Yet the University's postgraduate classes have 350 more students enrolled than last summer and SMU has 23.

The increased attendance is particularly heavy in the postgraduate classes of State Teachers Colleges and at North Texas State College, which was known until this spring as North Texas State College, San Marcos, has an increase of 85.9 percent and Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College, Nacogdoches, has 83.7 percent.

North Texas State led in increased enrollment with 1,842 postgraduate students as compared with 758 last year, a hike of 143 percent.

Southwest Texas State Teachers College, Nacogdoches, has 73.7

"Our institutions of higher learning certainly play an important part in the education of our children, their work being reflected down to even the smallest grade school pupils through the education they give our teachers," Tennyson commented.

Treasury Shows Government in Red

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Treasury reported the government ran $1,487,000,000 in the red for July, the first month of fiscal 1950.

The first month's deficit, or excess of spending over income, was less than in the first month of the last fiscal year.

Fiscal 1949 showed a $1,644,856,000 deficit for the first month. (July is always a poor month for government income).

Expert Care Only Treatment When the Crippler Strikes

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Editor

NEW YORK — (AP) — When your child gets polio — infantile paralysis — his fate passes out of your hands.

All you can do is to turn him over to specialists, doctors and nurses, and there are not many of these specialists in the entire United States.

That's where the dimes you and the children gave last winter come to your aid. They produced more than $20,000,000 now ready to do the incredible medical job of making this scarce aid ready everywhere.

Your community has a local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, one of 2,800 in the United States.

Call the community or nearest national foundation office. They have plans ready. For those unable to pay the full expenses, the foundation expects to pay the balance. And this is a lot of money, about $1,000 being an average expense for a single case. Some run far higher.

Local chapters of the foundation keep half of the March of Dimes funds collected, and most of this goes to pay patients' bills, the policy of the foundation is to pay all or part of the expense, depending upon each family's need for help. When local funds are exhausted, the national headquarters advances money to help meet the costs. Last year the foundation and its chapters spent $17,000,000 for patient care, including $6,700,000 from the national headquarters.

Where cases are numerous, the foundation maintains teams of expert doctors and nurses to go to that area and train nurses and advise local doctors. These teams are top men in polio, in the leading medical institutions of the United States.

Some things which the experts will do can later be done at home by you. That will be in the cases where it takes years of training stricken muscles.

Where children are unable to move a muscle nurses or parents or apparatus built for the purpose does this exercise. Some day the weakened muscles get able to do some of their own work. Results sometimes look like miracles. The reasons are intricate, but there is little guess-work.

Bulbar polio, the kind that comes from damage to the "bulb" at the top of the spinal cord, has lost some of its death-dealing power. Bulbar kills in several ways. It may paralyze swallowing muscles, or breathing muscles or interfere with heart action. In the swallowing trouble, the child chokes to death. Opening the windpipe saves most of these, and that was discovered only two years ago. Iron lungs keep them alive in the breathing apparatus and pure oxygen helps tide over the heart crisis.

The doctors say give the suffer myanasin of prisol to relieve pain, but not because they think there is any curative effect. They use curare to loosen muscles that insist on tying themselves into knots. They have tried new remedies like darivusul and gureopycin. There are swimming pools, rocking beds and other devices for mild exercises.

There are more than a score of medicines being used on animals, with hopeful effects, and two vaccines, again for animals. Whether any of these will work for human beings is unknown.

The best and only remedies go under the broad name of physiotherapy, which means long, patient, understanding and affectionate care and painstaking direction in teaching stricken muscles to make a comeback.

Nudists Go On Their Own 5-Year Plan

HORLEY, Eng. — (AP) — So now it's the nudists who have a five-year plan.

In five years of campaigning, the British Sun Bathing Association (BSBA) disclosed last week nudists hope to win the right to bathe in their birthday suits on approved public beaches.

And frolic in the raw in approved public parks.

Mrs. Sylvia Bassam, attractive, 34-year-old secretary of the BSBA said the society will win its point by bold publicity.

The nudists don't want mixed nudists and non-nudists taking the sun together. They want certain public beaches set aside for the 60,000 Britons who go "in for nudity."

The BSBA doesn't like even g-string swim suits.

"Girls find them flattering and love to wear them on the beaches," said Mrs. Bassam, whose own sun-tan, she says, stretches unspooled from top to toe.

"We get many many applications from single men, but not enough from the right-type girls."

The BSBA central organization of nudists prizes propriety above all. No beer or liquor is sold at the camps, although many of the members love their pint of mild and bitter.

"If clubs applied for drink licenses, some people would think we're going in for orgies," explained Mrs. Bassam.

The BSBA's emblem is a pot-bellied bear.

WELL ---

It's ME, AGAIN ---

Honestly, you would think that Daddy would at least try to write an ad every once in a while. I have the all-time best time trying to think up all this stuff to put in here.

The other day, I was walking down town minding my own business and bumped right into that crazy Jim Arndt. (He always has to gab awhile). He told me a story which just took hours (it seemed like) to tell. But then Jim is full of them.

Since this is rodeo week—My Father has been wearing his boots. Poor Daddy! His feet hurt, and they are so heavy for him to carry around, but he smiles, and bravely tries to walk on... and that red shirt with the yellow flowers he wears is a killer!

Wasn't the parade nice Wednesday? I really enjoyed it. I have never seen so many pretty horses, and those cowboys! Well! They shore are a handsome bunch.

It seems that I have run out of anything to say—and after all, I don't want to cost Boss and Boss Jr., to much so I will stop this nonsense.

Just remember that they (Wade & Jim) are still in the business for SELLING, BUYING—REAL ESTATEING ---

U.S. to Decide Between Doom And Salvation, Writer Says

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is like a man searching for a door marked "doom" and another marked "salvation."
 This is the picture given by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) in a 200-page report of its work.
 The story of the AEC's search for bigger and better bombs that would spell doom where they fall is stated almost dryly. It says:
 "New and more effective atomic weapons which were tested at Eniwetok in 1948 are in production. Not much more than that. But much of the report is like stepping into a world of sunlight and magic."
 Here the AEC tells what's being done with the atom in searching for a richer and better life. There is a little section called "benefits from atomic energy" and in part it says:

 "Radiation that destroys the cells of cancer is one of the few effective means of controlling some forms of the disease. . . . Scientists have used radiiodine to treat people with an over-active thyroid gland, or with cancer of the thyroid. . . .
 "Surgeons have used radiophosphorus to locate brain tumors accurately during a dozen or more successful operations. . . .
 "Physicians have had time to test only a few radiotopes in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. They are broadening their efforts month by month, improving their techniques and working toward a wider understanding of radiotopes and their uses.
 "In laboratory research, radiotopes are proving of even greater value. As 'tracers' they are helping scientists to understand life processes and mechanisms which have been only partly understood for lack of such a key to unlock their secrets."
 The items listed here were picked at random from among many. It's a rich book.

BOSTON BEGINNING

American vaudeville had its beginning in Boston, Mass., in 1833, when a former circus performer, Benjamin F. Keith, opened a small museum and show next to the old Adams House on Washington Street.

Pre-School Checkup Said Important

AUSTIN — The month of September brings a return of school days, and thousands of Texas boys and girls will be returning to classrooms for the next nine months.
 Every one of these children, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, should be as free as possible from all physical defects that can be corrected, and protected against other diseases which frequently spread through classrooms.
 A complete medical and dental pre-school check-up is of the utmost importance in getting the child ready for school. Eyes, ears, nose, throat, and teeth should be carefully examined and all remediable defects corrected or placed under treatment. Such defects can lead to serious impairment of growth and progress academically, socially, and emotionally.
 Defects of hearing and vision handicap a child in his class work, and often result in the false impression that he is backward and unable to learn. Such defects can often be corrected, and the child is not only more progressive in his school work, but is a happier, better balanced individual as a result of being more socially acceptable.
 Dental defects should be corrected not only for cosmetic reasons, but because good teeth enable a child to chew his food properly and thus promote good digestion and bodily nourishment.
 "In addition to correcting such defects as already exist, young children should be protected by immunization against disease, when possible," Dr. Cox said.
 "Immunization is safe and dependable, and every child is entitled to this protection against disease."
