

PERRYTON BADLY DAMAGED BY HAILSTORM

Pampa Also in Path of Big Pellets

Damage from a hailstorm Friday night at Perryton was estimated yesterday by the Ochiltree County Herald to be at least a million dollars.

Almost every west window in the wheat-country town of 2,500 people was broken, according to The Associated Press.

Wheat farmers felt fortunate, however. Two weeks ago they completed a rich wheat harvest. A similar storm two or three weeks ago would have done many times more in damage.

Hailstones from pellets to the size of baseballs drubbed shingles loose from roofs, splintered main-street plate glass windows, and pounded huge dents in cars. One car body shop manager estimated damage to automobiles alone at about $250,000.

Every window on the west side of Perryton school buildings was broken. The Boxwell Brothers Greenhouse was ruined.

Greenhouses in Pampa fared better during the vicious hailstorm. Approximately 85 windows were broken out of the Clayton Floral Greenhouse running damage there more than $100. The small conservatory belonging to the Parker Blossom Shop, lost one glass and the Eric Greenhouse was a pair of completely.

Reds Declare Finish Fight With Church

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — The Communist Party yesterday called for a no-quarter fight to crush the Czechoslovak hierarchy of "our greatest enemy — the church."

A party manifesto which reached Western hands declared victory was necessary to complete communization of the nation, especially the collectivization of farms against peasant resistance.

"We want to give good Catholics the opportunity to get rid of elements which are damaging us," the manifesto said. "It is not a question of liquidating churches entirely, but of liquidating the church order."

About three-fourths of Czechoslovakia's 12,000,000 people are Roman Catholics. The archives of the National Parliament list three ministers of the Communist government of Catholics.

One of the three is Justice Minister Alexej Cepicka, who Friday accused Czechoslovak bishops of treason. He termed the Vatican a foe of the state and threatened to prosecute anyone who tried to enforce the decree of Pope Pius XII excommunicating Communists.

(A Vatican source said no physical enforcement is necessary, that the consciences of the guilty take care of that.)

The archives also name Defense Minister Ludvik Svoboda and Trade Minister Antonin Gregor as Catholics. Most of the other ministers are listed as "without religion." These include President Klement Gottwald, Cepicka's father-in-law.

The manifesto said there would be no compromise in the fight against the church.

As long as they (Catholics) are not completely divided, we will not be able to liquidate the church question," the statement said. "The bishops fear the government, but they are more afraid of Vatican authorities."

J. J. Dyer Is School Head

WHEELER (Special) — Jesse J. Dyer has been appointed Wheeler County school superintendent to fill the unexpired term of Allan Kavanaugh, who recently resigned to take the superintendency of the New London schools.

Dyer was born in Nashville, Tenn., came to Texas with his parents in 1900, and settled at Tolar in Hood County. He served overseas in the first World War. Upon his return he and Mrs. Dyer taught at Prairie School near Burleson. They later moved to Joshua, where he spent 10 years in the school system there.

Dyer came to Wheeler County in 1938 and taught in Twitty and Shamrock. In 1942, when Kavanaugh went into the Navy, Dyer served as acting county superintendent. When Kavanaugh returned, Dyer took over as superintendent of Wheeler schools and later headed the Alton schools. The position he held when the commissioners' court appointed him to the county superintendency Monday.

Dyer holds a BS Degree from East Texas State College and a Master's Degree from West Texas State College at Canyon.

Army Officers Suspended in Investigation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army suspended its quartermaster general and the chief of the Chemical Corps yesterday because of evidence in a Senate committee investigating alleged influence in Army contract awards.

Relieved of duty were Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, 57, who enlisted as a private 42 years ago and rose to head the Quartermaster Section.

Maj. Gen. Alden Harry Watt, 56, who has served most of his 26 years in the Army as a chemical warfare specialist.

Secretary of the Army Gray said a Senate committee "has evidence which indicates that General Watt improperly furnished personnel data to an individual not in the military service and who was not entitled to receive such data, and that General Feldman furnished to a contractor's representative procurement information under circumstances which appear irregular."

Gray said he was "not attempting to draw conclusions on the basis of an incomplete investigation," but that he had ordered the officers' release pending the outcome of a complete inquiry by the Army inspector general.

He said he acted because evidence "indicates that each officer had exhibited a lack of that judgment and sense of propriety which must be expected of persons in their position."

Watt left the Pentagon saying he had no comment. Feldman, reached by telephone, also was silent.

The suspension order first was disclosed by Chairman H. C. Byrd (D-NC) of the Senate expenditures subcommittee which has set out to find out about persons "who hold themselves out as peddlers of information."

Shivers Takes Oath for State's Number 1 Job

By DAVE CHEAVENS
WOODVILLE, Tex. — (AP) — Allan Shivers of Port Arthur took the oath as Governor of Texas yesterday.

Shivers, tall, handsome, and 41, made a brief speech of acceptance. Then he kissed his pretty brunette wife, Marialice.

He became the 36th individual Governor of Texas in a 15-minute ceremony at Magnolia Hills, the 103-year-old Shivers family homestead near this little South-east Texas town. Here he spent his boyhood before he began his meteoric rise in Texas politics.

Shivers held his hand lightly on the 23rd Psalm as he repeated the oath of office in a clear, crisp voice. It was read in phrases by District Judge Clyde E. Smith of Woodville.

Shivers opened the ceremony by reading the sixth verse of the fourth chapter of Philipians, an admonition to prayer that says: "Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be known unto God."

He finished his oath to uphold the Constitution and laws of Texas and the nation, then made an eight-minute acceptance address.

DEPARTMENT ON ALERT TO PREVENT POLIO HERE

The Pampa-Gray County Health Department is doing all it can to prevent another polio epidemic in Pampa this year. R. M. Mundine, city and county sanitary inspector, said yesterday.

"As most people know, polio in Texas is at its peak right now," he added.

The first point the sanitary inspector emphasized to prevent polio here is to clean up and keep Pampa clean.

"To keep Pampa clean, we must improve our garbage situation," he said. "We must not use our trash or garbage cans to burn trash in."

The Health Department has asked each home owner to take an inventory of his garbage situation. He should see that the garbage can has a lid in good condition, is on a stand and is located in a convenient place for garbage pick-ups.

Further, each resident should make sure his garbage can can't be gotten into by dogs and cats, he said. "Take pride in your trash premises and be a 'show-off' about it. The public is getting more public health minded each day and Pampans are noticing unsanitary conditions more and more."

Garbage can lids may be ordered at the City Hall.

"In conclusion," Mundine said, "your Health Department wishes to re-emphasize the fact that Pampans have a most important responsibility to exert efforts for adequate health protection and the prevention of polio."

Taft Musters Vote Against Atlantic Pact

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Nearly a dozen Senate Republicans seemed likely today to vote with Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) against the North Atlantic Pact Thursday.

Informal checks yesterday indicated more than two-thirds of the party's 43 Senate members will support the treaty. They will be casting their lots with Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) in a foreign policy split between the two GOP leaders.

Sen. Connally of Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he doesn't think there will be more than 15 votes against the treaty. Ratification requires two-thirds.

Taft's decision to oppose the treaty because he said it can't be separated from the proposed $1,000,000,000 foreign arm program may have repercussions in 1950.

As a candidate for reelection, the Ohio senator is certain to be called upon to explain.

Of 12 Republicans up in next year's elections, only two others — Senators Donnell of Missouri and Young of North Dakota — have said they will vote against the treaty.

Taft has demonstrated he doesn't mind playing a lone hand. He has told friends he knows he will be attacked as an isolationist, despite his stand for extending the Monroe Doctrine to Europe as a substitute for the security alliance.

Taft's announcement that he intends to vote against the treaty jelled the tumbling Senate opposition.

New Law Needed To Cover Case

FLORENCE, Italy — (AP) — Florence Appeals Court ruled yesterday that the birth of a mulatto child to Italian parents is not proof of adultery under present legislation.

The judgment upheld a decision of a lower tribunal that the father had pointed out the need of new legislation to cover such cases. The father planned an appeal to the nation's highest court.

ALIENS ADMITTED WHO HAVE SPY BACKGROUND

State Dept. Charged With Indifference

By Francis J. Kelly
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senators were informed yesterday that the State Department repeatedly has overruled its Visa Division and ordered the admission to the United States of foreign officials whose entry had been questioned on security grounds.

Herve J. L'Heureux, chief of the Visa Division, told a Senate judiciary subcommittee that he had appealed such decisions of the department's "political desk" three to five times in the past five years. In each case, he testified, "higher echelons" rejected the appeal, permitting entry of the officials.

In earlier testimony, a department official said about 10 aliens were admitted despite objections because other factors outweighed the security angle.

The subcommittee, which is considering legislation to tighten the laws against admission of subversive aliens, also got a study of 100 foreign representatives from the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

The senators had picked out the 100 names of persons who had been granted visas for entry into the United States as affiliates of international organizations or as officers.

A FEW HARD KNOCKS... Kind-Hearted Man Is The Good Samaritan

PORTLAND, Ore. — (AP) — A big-hearted Californian with a passion for anonymity arranged for the burial of a seven-year-old hero.

It was Thursday when seven-year-old Jacob Charles Summers, one of the six children of transient berry pickers, heard a little boy yell that his head was caught in rocks of the Sandy River.

Little Jacob, wading on the other side, started a plashing across the river to help. The mid-stream current caught him.

The body was restored to the dazed parents, who had stopped their trailer on the sandy banks to let their children cool off. The family had just $25.

"I don't know what we'll do," said Mrs. Joe Summers next day. "We'd like to bury him in the family plot near Sedalia, Mo. I hate to leave him alone here."

Friday night a sport-shirted man in his overalls strode into the police station and ordered a reporter:

"Find out what it costs to send the kid back home."

Solon From Missouri to Face Charge

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Charges that Rep. Leonard Irving, Missouri Democrat, and two other men had diverted labor union funds to their own use were made yesterday in a petition for an accounting.

Irving, elected last November in President Truman's home district, is president and business agent of the AFL Hod Carriers, Building, and Common Laborers' Union of America, Local 264.

Named with him by 88 members of the union, were Roy E. Livingston, treasurer, and Alvin Butcher, secretary.

The petition in circuit court alleged that the defendants and other members of the Executive Board conspired "to divert funds of the local union to their own use and the use of the defendants severally, and to various purposes not authorized by the local union or its members."

Livingston, the 32-year-old full-time treasurer, was the first of the three reached for comment.

"We don't have anything to worry about," he said. "Our books are in good shape."

Irving, whose career includes stretches as a semi-pro baseball pitcher, movie extra, railroad and farm laborer, became head of the local in 1940. In Washington, he denied the charges.

The 51-year-old congressman won the Democratic nomination in a field last August after a Hollywood flavored campaign. He had the backing of only one of five of Jackson County's party factions, that of James Pendergast. In the election he easily defeated his Republican opponent, Richard A. Erickson.

Candidate Is Put on New Jury Panel

Murray E. Body, candidate for Ward 2 city commissioner, could be in a very peculiar spot when 31st District Court reconvenes a week from tomorrow.

He might well be selected to judge someone while citizens are judging him — at the polls.

Body was one of 45 Gray County men summoned for petit jury service and ordered to appear in court at 10 a. m. July 25, special city commission election day.

About the only ones Body could challenge to sit on that day are the judge, attorneys and the other jurors. Many of them though aren't qualified to vote anyway not being residents of Ward 2.

Subpoenas were sent over the weekend to the prospective jurors and a report at 10 a. m. July 25 in 31st District Court. Of these 31 are from Pampa, eight from McLean, four from Lefors and one each from Laketon and Mobeetie.

Fourth Round Of Pay Hike Aims at Ford

By The Associated Press
The CIO's battle for a fourth round wage boost now centers on the automobile industry, with the truce on the steel front.

This shift and the death of Alexander P. Whitney, colorful president of the 215,000-man Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, highlighted labor developments Saturday. Whitney, 76, died in his Cleveland, Ohio, suburban home. (Story on Page 9.)

Vital to residents of the New York metropolitan area was the bus strike which has knocked out transportation for 1,250,000 riders and may hit nearly 3,000,000 this week.

With the strike threat in big steel's operations put off for 60 days as an unofficial fact-finding board can try to work out a solution, current CIO wage negotiations with the auto industry became sharply critical.

The United Automobile Workers wound up their annual convention in Milwaukee with a $10,000,000 strike assessment fund backing their talks with the Ford Motor Company.

Talks between the UAW and Ford, underway since June 2, resumed in Detroit Monday. Their contract expired Friday night and is being continued on a day-to-day basis. A strike can be called any time. The UAW says its Ford membership has voted 7 to 1 to authorize a walkout in support of wage, insurance and pension demands.

The CIO is driving for a Ford settlement which will set a pattern for the still booming automobile industry. Wage increase demands have not been announced, but the union wants a $100-a-month pension arrangement for its members and a health and welfare plan.

In the steel dispute, President Truman's fact-finding board arranged to assemble in Washington Monday for a preliminary planning session. It has until August 30 to report to President Truman. The strike, averted by a last-minute decision of three big steel companies to go along, was put off until Sept. 12. The board will not act under the Taft-Hartley Law.

Parade Entry Blanks Out

Entry applications for the fifth annual Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show parade have been mailed to practically all organizations in Pampa. Paul Crouch, parade marshal, said yesterday.

The annual parade will be held at 4 p. m. Aug. 3, beginning at W. Foster and Hobart.

This year, as in the past, nine kinds of entries will be judged and awarded first, second and third place prizes.

Ribbons will be presented to three winners in the most attractive commercial entries, while cash prizes of $3, $2 and $1 will be awarded to the winners in the other eight events.

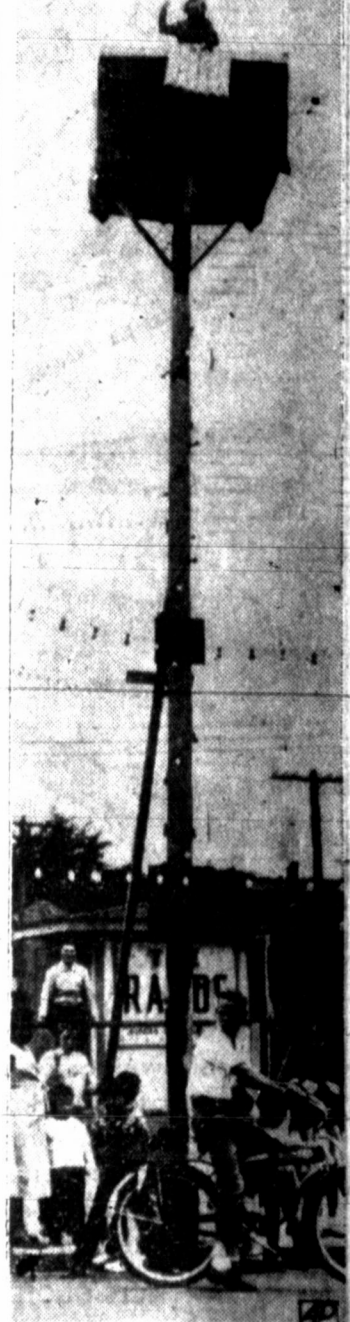

Events include: most typical cowboy under 16 years of age, most typical cowgirl under 16, most typical cowgirl over 16, best decorated bicycle, oldest cowboy or cowgirl, youngest cowboy or cowgirl, and most comical entry.

Organizations have been asked to return their entry blanks at the earliest possible date.

CITIES SERVICE OPENS NEW PLANT NEAR HERE

By BUD ANDERSON
OH Editor

The first load of oil Friday morning began circulating in the Pampa's newest and most modern gasoline plant.

The Cities Service plant, located two miles out of Pampa on the Amarillo highway, got its first gasoline production that night.

Actual operation began four days ago. According to Cities Service officials, it takes about four days to open lines and push the crude oil through the refining operation.

Exact cost of the new high pressure plant was not available for release Saturday, although company officials conceded the cost went well over a million dollars.

Ultimate production capacity of the plant, which covers 15 acres, is 18 million cubic feet of gas daily from crude piped directly to the refinery. From this 18 million feet of crude, the plant can extract approximately 50 thousand gallons daily of natural gasoline, butane and propane. Lighter gases such as methane and ethane are to be piped to residue lines for repressuring.

The plant, constructed by Wallace Engineering and Construction Co. of Tulsa, is the second repressuring station for the West Pampa Refining Association. Slightly has been supplying gas for the association before now. Actually, the repressuring stages of the plant have been in operation since May 15. This was in conjunction with the old Cities Service plant which was in operation until the newer one was opened.

The plant is piping seven million cubic feet of residue gas to be repressured. This can be increased on demand.

Construction on the plant began the first part of July, 1948. Although now operating, construction will not be completed for about two months, according to Harold Frye, construction superintendent. Two boilers are still to be installed.

The old plant was opened about 20 years ago and operated until this week. It would handle the same volume as the new plant but at a greatly reduced pressure. The plant will handle 500,000 to 500,000 pounds per square inch while the old could handle only 50 pounds. Production was only half. It could produce about 25,000 gallons compared to the 50,000 gallons produced by the new plant.

Absorption, distillation and fractionation equipment in the new plant is of the high pressure type and requires about 1000 horsepower for pumps and equipment.

An inspection party from the Cities Service office in Bartlesville was expected in late Saturday. They are Tom Steeper, Sam Harlan, Frank Perry and Jack Cleverly. Another Cities Service official, Dick Rogers, has been in Pampa since early last week.

Victim Sees War—Unless

NEW YORK — (AP) — H. R. Knickerbocker, veteran foreign correspondent, who died in a plane crash last Tuesday, said in his last broadcast that "world war three looks inevitable" unless the U. S. goes all out against communism in Asia.

Knickerbocker was one of 13 American newsmen killed in the crash of a Dutch airliner near Bombay.

The broadcast, aired last night (Station WOR) at Knickerbocker's regular program time, was recorded in Singapore before the crash.

"Communism is moving so fast that within a few years Moscow may feel itself strong enough to challenge the power of the United States," Knickerbocker said.

He said the U. S. should immediately appoint a high caliber official to coordinate the battle for its interests in Asia.

Her Ills Worth Quarter-Million

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mae West wants the management of her hotel (Chatham) to come up and see her sometime — and bring along $250,000.

In a suit filed in State Supreme Court Friday, Miss West charged that a defective floor mat in the bathroom at the hotel caused her to tumble and break her ankle, last Feb. 26.

She claimed she also suffered other lacerations and bruises which made her "sick, sore, lame and disabled" and kept her from earning $3,000 a week as star of the stage revival of "Diamond Lil."

The show has been closed since Miss West's accident.

ments on W. Francis, reported he found on his car small rocks encased in ice—as a hailstone would form—as he was coming to Pampa on the Borger Highway during the storm.

The phenomenon is explainable probably in the fact that high winds will ship rocks into the air and, if they are sent high enough into the air, ice will form around them.

Hailstones left no appreciable property damage, as 38 of an inch of rain was added to a good soil moisture already deposited here.

The second game of a double-header at Oiler Park was rained out. Friday night's total made the year's 16.72 inches, or about three inches short of the annual normal.

During the past week Pampa Radio Station KPND recorded on a government gauge a total of 2.59 inches of rain. The total for July is 3.05. Six and .03 inches of rain fell here in May, 4.04 in June, making for a big year so far as rain is concerned.

A 7.6-inch rain fell at Rockport on the Texas Gulf Coast Saturday.

At Houston—where wet cables knocked 1,500 telephones out of order Saturday afternoon—1949 rainfall far exceeds the same period last year.

The cloudburst at Rockport caused little damage. Few crops are grown close to the town of about 2,000 northeast of Corpus Christi.

The heavy, drumming rain sent high water coursing around homes in low parts of Rockport. Lightning knocked out power for several hours before dawn. It brought Rockport's rainfall since Friday noon to 9 1/2 inches.

A two-inch rain at the peak of the morning rush hour Saturday stopped four bus lines in Southeastern Houston for two hours, and flooded streets and buildings in the south and east parts of Houston. Saturday morning's rain raised Houston's total to more than 5 1/2 inches since Thursday morning.

followed by $500 monthly payments for a year, plus five percent of the gross on any government contract he received. Grindle said Hunt had mentioned several government officials, implying he had considerable influence.

Hunt denied ever trying to sell "influence." He said his services were an aid to small businessmen.

Both Feldman and Waitt were listed by Grindle as among those Hunt had mentioned as contacts in the Army. Both officers denied "influence" figured in the award of contracts.

'Pop Gun' Kills Grocer

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Seven-year-old Teddy Moreno, calmly chewed gum and told police how he shot and killed an elderly neighborhood grocer.

"I decided him," said the little boy. "The pop gun made a noise like a firecracker."

The gun was a .32 caliber revolver. The grocer was Fred Throckmorton, 67.

The boy told police he went to the store Friday night with his five-year-old sister. He had a note from his stepmother asking for hamburger.

Police said Throckmorton started to wrap the hamburger and the boy walked behind the counter. He picked up the revolver and asked:

"Does this gun work?"

Throckmorton said, "Look out." The boy aimed, pulled the trigger and Throckmorton fell.

The child was not held and there was no indication that charges would be filed against him.

Driver Will Think Twice

AUSTIN—(AP)—Thomas O. Shell, a lumber company employe, says he will think twice next time before following directions in dumping trash.

It was Shell's turn to drive the big company truck to get rid of an accumulation of trash.

As Shell drove in, a man came up and began directing him to a place to unload.

"Come on back some more," the man kept saying as Shell backed the heavily loaded truck. Shell backed and backed. Suddenly he remembered the dropped off at the dump. He slapped on the brakes, climbed out of the truck. The rear wheels were three inches from the edge of a 60-foot drop.

"What's the matter with you? Are you crazy?" he asked the man.

"I guess so. I'm a patient at the Austin State Hospital out here with a working party unloading garbage. Guess you're right," the man replied.

Old Flags Should Be Burned, Buried

Burn or bury those old worn-out American flags and order new ones, urge members of the VFW and VFW Auxiliary.

Burning or burying torn and worn flags is the only respectable way of getting rid of them, it was said.

Members of the two organizations hope to have flags installed in front of every place of business and every home in Pampa before the opening of the fifth annual Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show.

VFW members will supply and install flags at all places of business that request it. The flags, measuring four by six feet, may be obtained from either VFW or its auxiliary.

The organization hopes that flags will be displayed from now on during all national holidays when flags are supposed to be displayed. The goal of the organization is that the city will be 100 percent patriotic by having flags flying in front of each residence and place of business.

Dallas Gets TU Medical Branch

AUSTIN (AP)—A new medical branch of the University of Texas will begin enrolling students Sept. 1 at Dallas.

The Board of Regents chose Dallas Thursday to be the home of the new school, naming it the Southwestern Medical School of the University of Texas. Thus the name of the private school being turned over to the state was retained.

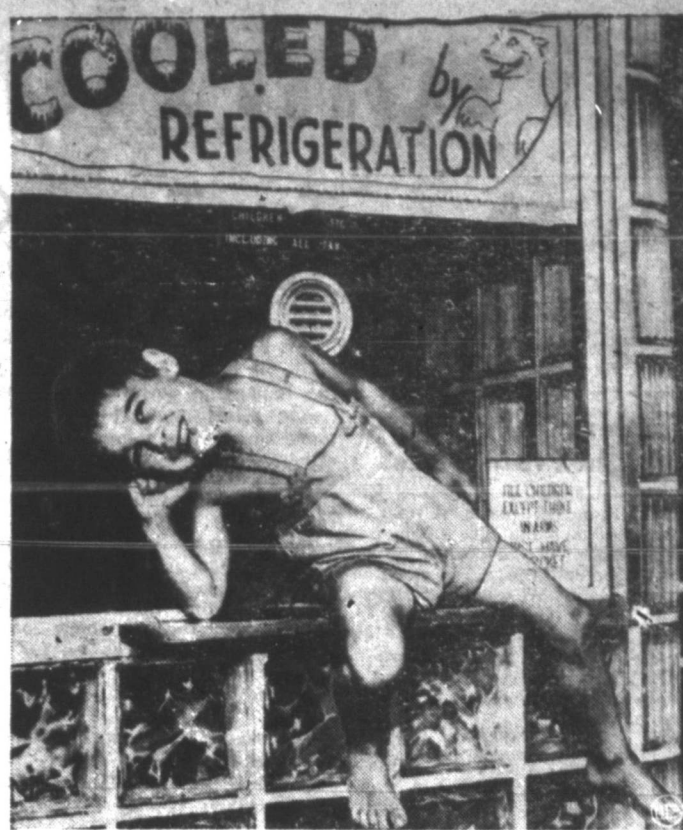

A special committee of four regents, President T. S. Painter and Vice President-Comptroller C. D. Simmons of the university was directed to complete details of transferring privately endowed Southwestern Medical College to the state without cost.

Retention of the school's present staff for one year was approved by the regents. Tuition fees of the new school will be the same as those of the Galveston medical branch.

Students for the coming year having been accepted already under entrance requirements of the private school, requirements of the two medical branches will not become the same until the fall of 1950.

A spokesman for the regents said it would be "impossible" to enroll 164 beginning students—100 more than the enrollment for the current year—this fall.

This indicated the board did not agree with San Antonio and Temple delegations who said the law authorizing the new medical school required that its first-year enrollment be 100 additional to

HOLLYWOOD, HERE'S A CRITIC—Melvin Edwards, 6, went to an air-conditioned theater early one afternoon in Nameoki, Ill., to see a double feature and escape the heat. The movies bored him. The cool air soothed him. So he fell asleep in the aisle and was still sleeping when searchers found him the next morning. Melvin yawned, "The show wasn't so hot, but that was the best sleep I've had in a long time."

Hear 'n There

By "CHUCK" INMAN

There's something new in Pampa. Yes, the staff at KPDM changed quite a lot in the last few weeks, and I'm going to try to tell you a little about the new members of the staff as well as something about the members that have been with us for quite a while. Since this column is the idea of our manager, I think that it is in order to start off with him. Of course, you all know him. Ken Palmer.

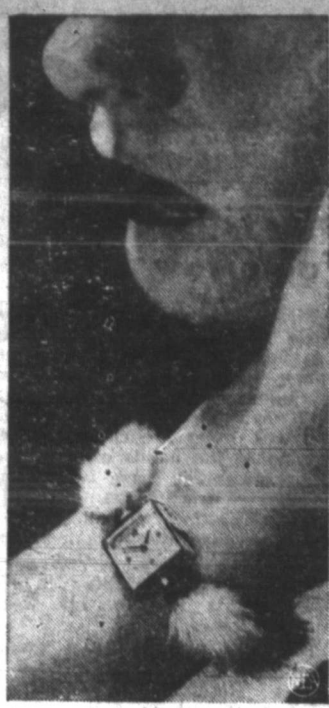

There is only one proper way to describe Ken. He voice, a smile, and a set of golf clubs. The voice gives him the ability to demonstrate the proper way to announce to the unbelievers that join the staff, and the smile makes it possible for him to rake you over the coals; and then by smiling at you get your forgiveness instantly.

As to the golf clubs, Ken says there is no better way to strengthen your vocabulary than to chase a little white ball over a cow pasture. Wherever you find happiness in a group of people working, you can say that they admire and respect their manager, and that condition is prevalent at KPDM. Everyone is happy and everyone is striving to do his job well in order to bring the best in radio to Pampa. So much for the manager.

Now a word about additions to the staff. We have a new program director, namely George Letson. You'll be hearing more about this fellow later in this column. Then we have Denny Sullivan, an Irishman with a golden voice and eleven years' experience in radio. If any of you see a voice and a beard floating down the main street of Pampa, don't be alarmed—it's just Denny Carr. Denny has had about 20 years' experience in radio, and knowing about our Western week, he came prepared, beard and Western clothes greatly in evidence.

Now, I must mention another addition to the staff. His name, "Chuck" Inman. I could go into beautiful words to describe him, but Ken, the manager, is looking over my shoulder, so I must tell the truth. Chuck, that's me, is promotion manager for the station. Some nine years' experience in radio, plus the world's championship for throwing the ball, has made me a member of the staff. Frankly, I'm glad, I like the staff, the town, and I've made friends with a stray dog that you'll see in front of one of the local business houses.

and I'll bring you some more foolishness, some stories on members of the staff, reports on what's doing in the world of radio, and tips for good listening in my next visit with you.

More Scouts to Got o Camp

Four more Pampa Girl Scouts will go to Camp Kiwanis, 10 miles west of Amarillo, tomorrow. Mrs. K. E. Thornton, executive of the Pampa Girl Scout Association, said yesterday.

Janice Kretzmeier, Ella Gayle Braly, Nickie Lester and Ruth Roberts tomorrow will join Adelaide Skelly, Martha Skelly, Carol Hughes and Carol Miller, who has spent the past week at the camp. Carol Carnes attended the camp during the past week, but will return home today.

Girl Scouts from all over the Panhandle and parts of New Mexico are attending the 18th season of camp at Camp Kiwanis. The Scouts live in unit houses and have a large and varied program.

Activities the Scouts engage in are: campcraft, nature, dramatics, sports, swimming, special events, arts and crafts, singing, folk games, square dancing and photography.

Parents and friends of the Scouts have been invited to visit from 4 to 6 p.m. today.

Meanwhile, the local Girl Scout association's Camp Sullivan is continuing to receive improvements. M. V. Ward, during the past week, put aluminum shutters on the north side of the cabin and a tid on the water tank.

Scouts from Wheeler will attend Sullivan the last week this month.

3 Million New Yorkers May Be Afoot

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's giant network of bus lines, already severely crippled, faces the threat of a greatly widened strike this week.

With bus service of some 1,125,000 daily riders now shut down, the CIO Transport Workers Union made plans for possible extension of the strike to lines used by 1,800,000 more passengers.

This would tie up virtually all privately operated bus transportation in the metropolis, halting bus service on a total of 106 routes and affecting nearly three million riders a day.

TWU President Michael J. Quill said a meeting of union leaders Monday night would give "serious consideration" to extending the stoppage to the big Third Avenue transit system.

The strike started unexpectedly early Thursday as a protest against the layoff of four mechanics for allegedly refusing to accept new company work schedules.

But the stoppage now has developed into a full-fledged union battle for new contract concessions including a 21-cent hourly wage boost, a 40- instead of a

Alarm Itself Proves False

Pampa firemen are beginning to think "wolf, wolf" whenever the automatic alarm connects with Cabot warehouses goes off at the Fire Station.

Saturday night, a week ago yesterday, firemen answered alarm to the warehouses. Upon arrival they discovered a hole in the lead sheathing covering telephone cables had got wet and automatically sounded the alarm. The firemen, though a little weary from going out in the heavy rain, returned to the station and had no more calls that night.

During Friday night's rain a hail storm the alarm connected to the warehouses went off once more. Once again the firemen went out in the rain, only to discover they were having a great performance. No fire.

Legion Head Predicts UMT

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The national commander of the American Legion predicts a mutual enactment of a universal military training law.

Commander Perry Brown of Beaumont, Tex., said in an interview that UMT was one aspect of a national security program possible without crushing cost.

Brown arrived in Baton Rouge late Friday for the annual convention of the Legion's Louisiana Department.

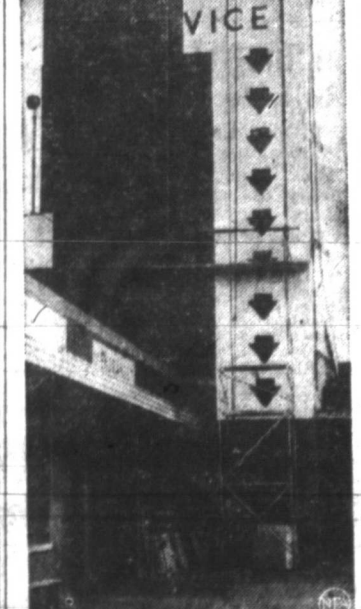

He said that "a reaction against selective service already is building up in this country and will reach full force in Congress within a year."

The reaction against selective service, Brown said, comes from youths who enlisted and found that their neighbors did not and never had to.

Brown said the country "cannot afford the kind of military establishment we now have." He said only a security system built around a small professional force, with plenty of opportunity for advancement of specialists and exceptionally qualified men would work.

Warren's Warmup

QUESTION: What player on the National League All-Star team this year was considered the veteran of the club point of All-Star Games participated in?

OILER AVERAGES remained pretty steady again the last week. No great changes were made by any of the tets, with the exception of A. B. Everett, whose batting rage dropped 100 points, from .415 to .316. The rest of the hitters remained at about their usual averages.

Warren's average took such a drop, but he still hit straight. Payne has hung up five on the ball on the nose, on the wins in the three weeks he has through New Mexico, last been with the team. Bass has hit several balls on a been the hard luck pitcher, having, but there was always on the best earned-run average, ebody in the way when it but getting no hitting support led to fall.

Richardson still holds the RBI crown. He has leadership on the team, holding in to the aid of the Oiler. A two-point margin over Homer Knappling staff with fine work Matney. Velasquez is nearing the both the receiving job and at 100th mark, only four blows away. He is hitting the ball away. Velasquez also leads in extra base knocks. A big vote. Surprising thing in the records banks should go out to him is that Roy Parker, who has a Oiler fans. He took over in played in only about two-thirds in George failed to return to runs scored. He has gotten 57 of his injured hand. Warren has hit and scored 49 times. He has made the most hits in the record, but been on plenty of times on errors. His speed and the fact he pulls a ball solidly has caused the enemy fielders to err.

The complete team batting and fielding averages follow:

Greens Gossip

Well, I saw something happen last Wednesday that I may never see again. One of the members of the Ladies Golf Association played the front nine holes in 41 strokes. But this wasn't the amazing part. On numbers 4, 3 and 7 holes she knocked the ball into the cup from off the green. Most of us are very happy if we can find the cup with one of those shots in 100 holes of play. I offered the lady a week's wages for the one-shot implement, but no sale. That was nice shooting, Joe Duenkel.

Two Teams Go to Lubbock To Start New Series Today

The Oilers swept a twin-bill from the Lubbock Hubbers last night to make a clean sweep of the four-game series. Today they travel to Lubbock to open a four-game series there. It will be either John Martin or Charley Bodine starting for the Oilers as they seek their fifth straight over the Hubbers.

Howard Bass was the winning hurler in the first game, as the Oilers bunched all of their hits, three, in the third inning for a home run with two on for all the Oiler scoring. The victory was the eighth of the season for Bass.

The second game was a knock-down and drag out battle, with the Oilers taking their usual first inning lead on a home run by Engle and then seeing the Hubbers tie the count with a two-on home run.

The Oilers put on a four-run rally in the sixth to ice the game for Merlin Hubbard. Big blow of the inning was a base-clearing double by Ernie Velasquez.

The double-victory, coupled with a 5-0 victory by the Amarillo Gold Sox over the Borger Gassers moved the Oilers into fifth place, only a short leap out of the first division.

Roy Parker racked up his thirteenth win of the year and his eighth straight as he outpitched Russell for a 3-2 victory. The lone run off of Parker came in the sixth inning on a two-on home run by Huber Manager Jackie Sullivan. Parker coasted through most of the game, attempting to save himself as much as possible in anticipation of hurling the second game, also.

Prior to the start of the game Manager Grover Seitz was officially removed from the league docthouse, owned and operated by Milton E. Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico League. A truck rolled up to home plate with a huge doghouse on the back. Sticking out of the doghouse was the smiling face of Seitz.

As he crawled out of the doghouse you could see he was wrapped in chains and handcuffs. Oiler catcher Whitey Warren, wearing protective shin guards, wielded the key to unlock Seitz from the shackles.

Pirates Sweep Two From New York Giants

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates swept a doubleheader from the New York Giants Saturday, 9-0 and 7-6. The Pirates pounded Clint Hartung and Sheldon Jones with six home runs in the first game, but had to go to 11 innings to win the nightcap. Eastland — (AP) — Old Rip again! The famed Eastland horned toad alleged to have lived 30 years in the cornerstone of the old Eastland County Courthouse attended the Eastland Horned Toad Derby Saturday.

The mummified body of Old Rip now rests in a glass-covered case in the lobby of the present Eastland County Courthouse. The case was taken to the scene of the horned toad races.

The derby was held at 8 p. m. Saturday at Fireman's Field in Eastland.

Over 100 horned toads ran in the derby, which was run off in 10 heats and a sweepstakes event.

HOUSTON — (AP) — The Houston Buffs Saturday returned pitcher Marty Errante to the Texarkana club of the East Texas League. Errante had been purchased conditionally last month by the Texas League club.

The finish was so close the judges had to take a long look at the photo before posting the winner. Three lengths further away, Stunta, owned by G. H. (Fefe) Bostwick, took third money, a length in front of Mrs. Deering Howe's Donor. The Butler was won by Donor last year.

Famous Passing Combination of West Point Is Finally Stopped

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK — (AP) — "Prichard to Merrill," the famous passing combination of West Point and Eastern football fans in general — that combination was as famous 35 years ago as the Blanchard-and-Davis of a later era.

They are only a memory now. Maj. Gen. Vernon E. Prichard lost his life in a motorboat blast on the Potomac River last weekend. Louis A. Merrill, Jr., died two years ago in Chicago.

But on the plains up the river the memory is very vivid indeed. The gridiron exploits of this fine passing combination have become a virtual tradition of the academy, with time only etching it deeper.

Friday's Major League Ball Results

Howie Pollet, who peddled insurance for skipper Eddie Dyer in the winter, is selling many National League fans a pennant policy on the St. Louis Cards.

The slim lefthanded pitcher is helping boss Dyer meet his premiums as Card manager with a fine 12-9 record that makes him top winner in the league.

Dyer has been criticized freely for stringing along with his veteran players. Pollet, because he showed nothing in 1947 and only fair stuff last season, was an open target. Eddie never gave up on Howard, who pitched for him back in this old Texas League days at Houston.

Pollet didn't let Dyer down either. He lost his first two this season and readily retired to the bullpen to find his stuff. After four relief jobs he found the old 1946 pennant charm.

Pollet and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts hooked up in a 0-0 duel Friday night. It went down to the seventh with no score until Pollet's single drove home Eddie Kozak, who had walked. That was all the scoring of another 1-0 game.

Brooklyn's lead remained at 1-2 games however, as it defeated Cincinnati, 11-6.

Warren Spahn of Boston had errorless support from the Braves in his 6-1 win over Chicago.

The Pittsburgh-New York game was rained out.

Another shutout pitching job stretched the New York Yankees' American League lead to 8-2 games. Eddie Lopat blanked the St. Louis Browns, 6-0, while runner-up Cleveland lost to Philadelphia 4-0.

Miss Them When They Are Gone

We were struck "low" in three places last week. While the blows were indirect, they brought home to us the mortality of man. We lost our Governor, and The News lost two reporters.

Gov. Jester died on a train enroute to Galveston where he was to have rested after a check-up at the university hospital. He probably wore himself out working.

Across the world—in India, a group of correspondents were coming home after a tour of the Far East, sponsored by the Dutch government. Their plane crashed on a hillside near Bombay. Aboard that plane was a man who once worked for this writer and for The News—James (Jim) H. Brannan. Also on this ship was S. Burton Heath whose by-line has many times been seen in this newspaper.

Heath, the "Yankee Reporter" (from Massachusetts), has been cited in this paper on such subjects as the atomic bomb (which he saw in action in the Pacific test), politics, and ironically enough, air safety.

Brannan was at Pampa only a short while—on August 1, through September 15, 1946. But during that time we came to know him as a careful, methodical reporter, who, when he went out to get the facts, got them, and wrote them down just as straight as human beings can write them.

Beauford Jester wasn't a reporter, but he did the same kind of work—that of dealing with people.

The loss of these three people emphasizes a point we don't miss: useful people very much worth while are gone for good.

Gracie Says

Oh, goodness, if that Illinois Health Department has okayed this! It pooh-poos the cowardly-cats who are afraid of catching colds from kisses, and that is the mental health, anyway.

Naturally, I don't know much about the run-down state that Illinois has got into in 1948 for the "public" National Convention when my husband says they kiss and write them down just as straight as human beings can write them.

But goodness, if that Illinois Health Department has okayed this! It pooh-poos the cowardly-cats who are afraid of catching colds from kisses, and that is the mental health, anyway.

Washington by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (AP)—End Electric at Hanford cost $7,000,000 more than original estimates. Contracts were made to buy natural gas as primary fuel for Oak Ridge, Tenn., when plenty of gas was available.

Some 350 leaky-roofed houses were built at Los Alamos, N. M. DEGREE DOUBTFUL These and other mistakes exposed in the hearings thus far will show signs of some mismanagement. Whether they are evidence of what Senator Hickenlooper called "incalculable mismanagement and maladministration" is something else again.

One effect of these disclosures has been that the Congress is slipping a new rider on the 1949-50 AEC appropriation bill. It will require Congressional approval on all future expenditures in such expenditures over authorized amounts.

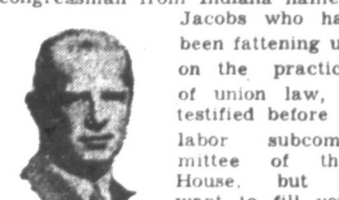

AEC's justification of over-spending is that it is in a new business in which new problems are constantly being encountered and that much overtime had to be ordered to speed up the job. Also that the government, as sole owner of its "company towns," had to do things which no private landlord could be forced to do by his tenants.

But even Senator Hickenlooper himself now says that these particular matters of mismanagement and waste are not what he is driving at. His primary objective, he says, is the most important thing about the atomic energy project is the safeguarding of secrecy.

SECURITY LAXITY He makes three principal charges of laxity in security regulations: 1. That nearly 4000 employees

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER Copyright, 1949 WASHINGTON—I know you told you last week, in response to a subpoena from a congressman from Indiana named Jacobs who has been fattening up on the practice of union law, I testified before a labor subcommittee of the House, but I want to fill you in on some more. This Jacobs, as I said in a check-off of a fee of $80,000 from just one local carpenter's union over in Baltimore in a jam with the parent, or international, union and he sent me a pink writ demanding all my documents and so forth bearing on "black of democracy" in unions.

Well, that was a lot to ask of a fellow as busy as I am, but I scratched up a satchel of stuff and came on down. A couple of friends in Washington had telephoned me to get a barber shop because this might be a trap and I had better be in shape, but I figured that nobody would be mean to me because my heart is pure and in a scowled at the thirty-hour-of-half-past-aim when decent, God-fearing people ought to be in bed where they belong.

As far as I am concerned there can't be so much lack of democracy in unions or anywhere else because in my scale democracy reeks on rye bread and the republican process is what our unions and the entire glorious United States of A. suffers most from the lack of.

We tangled slightly on that, but I got in the zing about the republican process just the same because I figured that this show was strictly a Barney by this Jacobs and the Democratic Party, and I wasn't wrong.

As I look back now, I certainly am glad I didn't bring the letters from the poor stiff who have been hooded around by the union officials. One guy showed up on the bench, a fellow from Harry Truman's home town named Irving and a member of Congress who runs a grave yard.

One guy showed up on the bench, a fellow from Harry Truman's home town named Irving and a member of Congress who runs a grave yard.

Myself and the Democratic Party, and I wasn't wrong. As I look back now, I certainly am glad I didn't bring the letters from the poor stiff who have been hooded around by the union officials. Before The Dishes Are Done

By Betty Knowles Hunt OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE While the drums roll, and Old Glory flies in the breeze—our political orators will be eloquent of have if this is published after July 4th, on this patriotic subject. Yet that we come Fourth of July, and then rush back to Congress and rip it to shreds in the days that follow.

Our American heritage is worth a lot more than a speech on national holidays. It is something to believe in, and love, and defend all the days in between. Do we really believe in it and love it? Sadly enough, that is a legitimate question to ask Americans today, because our actions speak a whole lot louder than our fancy words.

When we love something, we don't sneer at it, belittle it, and seek to change it into something else. We love it as it is, and just what Americans have been doing in recent years. Let's not kid ourselves. Let's at least be honest enough to admit the truth.

Ever since the New Deal began it has been almost a national fashion to deride and scoff at the very foundations of our American heritage. The Supreme Court, our Congress, our independence of our states, our individual liberty, equality before the law, and our economic system of free, competitive enterprise.

We have blasted them all from head to kingdom-ome, as "out-of-date," "reactionary," "un-social," "un-Christian." Personally, if I had any sense, I would be ashamed enough to stand up on a platform and drool about "our great American dream" on Fourth of July!

Why do we indulge in this strange hypocrisy? Why do we attack and smear our own great traditions and systems? What has happened to our sense of honor? Are we ashamed because we are not yet perfect human beings, —all-wise, all-just, all-good? If that is the case, it would be a healthy, and worthy, goal. But that isn't the case at all! We're not ashamed of ourselves, as we should be. — we just blame America.

Why do we blame America? We have fallen for the utterly crazy notion that we just write some new laws, or change our economic and political rules, we can go right on being in-lazy and selfish, immoral, stupid and un-American. It is our human weakness itself which made us fall for this idea in the first place.

It excuses us from the necessity of changing ourselves! If we would only stop and think for a minute, we'd realize that these very obvious shortcomings of ours are the most potent defense of our free system. Because we pit all our faults and errors, they have still made us the freest, most prosperous nation in all history!

It is our freedom that has attracted the admiration of the world. It is our freedom that has helped our neighbor, if no one else, to get on his feet. It is our freedom that has made us a nation of free men and women. It is our freedom that has made us a nation of free men and women.

WASHINGTON — "Is the CIO's Political Action Committee a power behind the throne in our government?" asks P. J. W. of Varnville, N. C. I have been told by some leading politicians that they are, and that they had more to do with election of the Democratic ticket last fall than any other group. Also that they work in the dark and behind the scenes."

Answer: There can be no doubt that the CIO is an extremely powerful organization, probably exercising more influence in national and local contests than the National Democratic Committee.

Without its support, which took the form of registering union members and getting them to the polls, it is doubtful whether President Truman would have been reelected. They tipped the balance in many key electoral states.

Louisiana Official Sees End to Tideland Issue

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — The tidelands controversy between the federal government and three coastal states will likely be settled next week, Lt. Gov. William A. Dodd predicted here.

Dodd, who represented Louisiana in Washington conferences on the issue, said Louisiana was ready to accept a legislative settlement sponsored by House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), and that he agreed with Rayburn that all the states involved were "closer to agreement than ever before."

The Louisiana executive said the speaker had assured him that if the states — Texas, Louisiana and California — accepted the legislation, it would be passed at the present session of Congress and signed by President Truman.

Thus it would become effective before the Supreme Court decides the United States' case against Texas and Louisiana for possession and control of the tidelands.

The High Court already has ruled in a suit against California that the federal government has paramount rights and control over the oil-rich submerged lands.

Dodd said the proposed legislation covered the two crucial questions of leasing and division of revenues from the tidelands, but that he was bound by an agreement with Rayburn not to disclose the details.

"Of course we would like to keep all the tidelands," Dodd said. "But the situation now is such that all the states involved must get together on some sort of bill. There is not much doubt how the Supreme Court will rule and we are in better position to bargain now than we will be after the ruling. Governor (Earl K.) Long is in favor of a reasonable settlement."

"Nobody will be completely satisfied with this one, but it is probably the best we can get. And a settlement has to be made now, or the legislation could not get through Congress at this session."

Papers Are Using More Newsprint

NEW YORK — (AP) — American daily newspapers are using more newsprint than a year ago and have a better supply on hand, American Newspaper Publishers Association said today.

The association said that daily newspapers from which it receives reports consumed 349,944 tons of newsprint in June, compared with 327,050 a year ago.

Stocks of newsprint on hand and in transit at the end of June, the association said, was 39 days supply for the average of all dailies reporting.

This is an increase of four days over the end of May and an increase of five days supply over a year ago.

Jury Ponders Tokyo Rose's Interview

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — What did Tokyo Rose say, or what didn't she say, in her first interview after the Japanese collapsed?

That was something for the jurors to ponder as they got a weekend breather before the start Monday of the third week of the treason trial of Los Angeles-born Iva Toguri d'Aquino. She is charged with eight overt acts of treason in trying to lower morale of United States troops and impede this country's war effort with wartime broadcasts from Radio Tokyo.

When the trial recessed Friday, former war correspondent Clark Lee had been recalled to the stand. Earlier, he had told how he and Harry Brundage, then an associate editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, had obtained an interview with the defendant as the first Americans were moving into Tokyo.

Defense Attorney Wayne Collins said Lee had testified Mrs. d'Aquino had told him she had told him she had broadcast that sweethearts and wives of the Americans were being unfaithful while you are fighting in the jungle.

But there was no such statement in Lee's notes of the interview, which already had been read in court, Collins said.

Lee then testified that he had finished with his notes, but that the defendant made the statement while Brundage was taking penciled notes, and he heard it. He

Parolee Killed Near Houston

HOUSTON — (AP) — A blast of buckshot through the rear window of his automobile killed Vincent Vallone, 65, paroled murderer and former Houston night club owner, here Friday night.

The Italian-born Vallone was driving to his home on Chocolate Bayou Road in his Cadillac sedan. Officers said the killer apparently fired twice with a shotgun from another moving car.

Vallone was sentenced in 1941 to 99 years in the penitentiary for the murder of J. I. Thomas, a railroad man. Later he was paroled.

State Wins In Suit

AUSTIN — (AP) — The state Saturday won another anti-trust suit as District Judge Harris Gardner rendered judgment against the National Pressure Cooker Company of Eau Claire, Wis., for $17,000.

Conviction was on a charge that the company had violated Texas anti-trust laws in fixing and maintaining retail prices at while Presto cookers and National pressure cookers and canners were to be sold in Texas.

The defendant also was found guilty of retail price fixing on Martin outdoor motors, a division of the pressure cooker company.

Judge Gardner yesterday permanently enjoined the company from maintaining, fixing or affecting the retail price of any of its products in Texas and from pursuing any course of conduct designed to accomplish such a purpose.

Assistant Attorney General Clinton Foshee investigated and tried the case. He introduced evidence that the defendant had notified its distributors that even though Texas did not have a fair trade law allowing price fixing, the company would make an effort to control prices on its products sold by independent Texas merchants.

Rail Strike to Affect El Paso

HOUSTON — (AP) — Officials of the Texas-Louisiana Division of the Southern Pacific Railroad said that a strike called by trainmen in seven Western states will not affect this area.

The strike is set for July 22. The dispute involves the number of brakemen to be employed. Officials said the strike would affect the division only in El Paso where the Texas-Louisiana Division meets the Pacific Division.

Airline Hearing To Resume Tuesday

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Hearing on applications of two airlines to expand service in South Texas was adjourned until Tuesday by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The adjournment was called after counsel for one line, Trans-Texas, disclosed the charter of the other applicant, Val-Air Lines, Inc., had been revoked.

Val-Air Lines proposed to expand its Harlingen, San Antonio and Houston service to make a regular stop in Alice. Trans-Texas seeks permission to fly from McAllen to Alice with "legs" branching off to San Antonio and Houston.

Wandering Polly Decides to Come Home to Fatten

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Polly, the parrot who thought a bird in the bush was worth two in a cage, has come home.

And he doesn't seem too sad that his three-day escape into the world at large is over.

It was a bowl of sunflower seeds that proved Polly's downfall. A fellow parrot hungry after three days of fasting.

He was a weary fowl when his mistress, Mrs. Virginia Morris, plucked him from a low branch Friday morning. He wasted no time in regrets. First he ate. Then he slept most of the day.

Polly won't say much about his adventure. He'd rather say "hello" and let it go at that.

A body doesn't just shoot off his beak about the sparrow bullies a fifth his size who treated him mean. Nor about the fire hose that dampened his ardor.

Polly didn't have a chance. Everybody ganged up against him. Advice came from as far away as Chicago on how to defeat his bid for liberty.

But he has the last laugh. They think he's thinner, so they're trying to fatten him up.

He gets all he wants to eat. Say, now!

Hearings Scheduled By Commission

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission yesterday announced the following schedule of public hearings:

Board Overrules State School Head

AUSTIN — (AP) — The State Board of Education held in effect that Del Rio's system of handling Anglo- and Latin-American school children does not constitute segregation.

The board overruled an order by State School Sup. L. A. Woods removing Del Rio schools from the accredited list because of alleged segregation of Latin-American children.

The board said Friday it disagreed with Dr. Woods' ruling and a "free-choice" system constituted segregation. The system permitted pupils to attend whatever school their parents chose.

Humble's Cut Sets Mood for Lowered Crude Prices

Discussion by the Senate Finance Committee has been slated to begin within a few days on amendments to the Reciprocity Trade Agreements Act.

It is the hope of oil men, particularly the independents, that some legislative action will follow the investigation concerning the importation of petroleum products in the U. S.

So far, three separate amendments have been suggested to Senator Walter George, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Senator Millikin, of Colorado, proposes an amendment giving the Tariff Commission authority to study imports as they come in and what their relation is to domestic industry.

Senator Thomas, of Oklahoma, has a specific amendment with relation to oil which would provide quotas limiting the amount of imports to an amount not to exceed five percent of our domestic requirements.

Senator Thomas would use figures supplied by the U. S. Bureau of Mines as to the amount of oil used by the U. S. the year before.

There is nothing like the oil game," says Fred W. Shield, president of Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Young men walking a way from the campus... might give thought to the domestic petroleum industry.

H. P. Doster and Mrs. Doster returned last week from a vacation trip to the mountains.

The development of a news story isn't always a matter of planning. Sometimes it's a matter of luck and sometimes a necessity is the result of a picture.

I had heard that Oilwell Supply had installed a new compressor on the Gulf-Worley lease for repressuring.

Doc Schwartz took his family to Red River last week, but Doc didn't do any fishing on the six-day vacation.

A possible break in the oil industry's crude price stalemate was seen last week with Humble Oil & Refining Co.'s decision to cut the price it pays for low gravity crude oil along the Texas Gulf Coast.

Decision on Tidelands Is Expected Soon

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), after another conference last week with state and federal authorities on the tidelands ownership dispute, said the question should come to a head this week.

Rayburn held a two-hour conference with U. S. Attorney General Clark, and Secretary of the Interior Krug, representing the government's position and spokesmen for the big oil tidelands states.

Rayburn said that neither they nor the states were in complete agreement. He said there were many areas of agreement reached in the conference, but would not elaborate.

He refused to disclose provisions in the legislation, notwithstanding the suggestion of one reporter that the people of the states primarily concerned — Texas, Louisiana, and California, had much at stake and would appreciate knowing more about "the areas of agreement."

Responding to a question, Rayburn said that Allan Shivers, who succeeded the late Beauford Jester as governor of Texas, had discussed the tidelands situation in the last two days with Giles.

Lone Star Steel to Build Texas' First Tube Mill

DALLAS (AP) — A completely integrated steel mill in East Texas is a possibility now, E. B. Germany, president of Lone Star Steel Co., has announced.

Lone Star officials received notification Thursday the RFC had authorized a $34,000,000 loan to the company.

Humble cut its posted field price for low gravity Mirando grade crude 10 cents a barrel, effective July 8.

Posted purchase prices of specified grades of crude oil were cut 10-cents a barrel later by five other companies.

Meeting the price cut started by Humble were The Texas Co., Gulf Oil Co., Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., Sun Oil Co., and Sinclair Oil & Gas Co.

An "adjustment" in the posted prices for these grades of crude was made a differential in their favor brought about in November, 1948, when the posted prices for such crudes were increased by 10 cents a barrel more than increases in prices of other crudes made at the same time.

Over the Panhandle there were 14 oil and four gas completions. Texas County's two gas wells made a majority with Moore and Potter County each filling one gas completion.

United seeks Okay on New Pipeline
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission concurred last week in approving the United Gas Pipe Line Co. of Shreveport, La., for permission to build a 26-mile pipeline to link four gas fields in southwestern Louisiana with United's system in Eastern Texas.

Gaswell Blowout Injures Two Men
SHREVEPORT (AP) — Two men seriously burned Friday when a gas well blew out and caught fire in the Bellevue field in Bossier Parish, were reported doing fairly well today.

Oil & Gas News

This single stage compressor powered by a four cylinder VIKU Waukesha engine is one of several small units in the Panhandle field being used for secondary recovery by gas injection. This unit, set up on the Gulf-Worley lease, has an intake capacity of 181,000 cubic feet of gas at 20 pounds pressure and will discharge the gas at 200 p.s.i. The five by seven inch compressor utilizes residue gas from the Shell Gasoline Plant.

Completions Remain Stable; Gray County Reports Gassers

Completions in the Panhandle last week remained on par with those the week before. There were 18 wells finished according to officials of the Railroad Commission.

Gray County reported no oil completions but two gas wells were reported completed for the county. The week before there were two oil completions and one gas completion.

Over the Panhandle there were 14 oil and four gas completions. Texas County's two gas wells made a majority with Moore and Potter County each filling one gas completion.

Small Units Being Used In Recovery

In an attempt to extract further production from the 30-year-old, plus, Panhandle field, several oil producing companies in the area have begun gas injection for secondary recovery by use of small compressors.

These compressors, both single and double stage units, service a single lease using one well, centrally located, for the injection well and supplying pressure for only four or five wells.

This program, of course, supplements the multi-million dollar West Pampa Repressuring Association with its two refinery compressors.

One lease utilizing the small-scale repressuring program is the Gulf-Worley which is one section of the Binkley-Holmes-Worley secondary recovery program.

One of the major phases of the program is the compressors used. Gulf is using the first Oilwell Supply compressor in this area on its Worley lease. It is a five by seven inch single stage compressor set up by Gulf June 15. It is powered by a four cylinder VIKU Waukesha engine.

The unit, occupying some 40 square feet of space, utilizes residue gas from the Shell Gasoline Plant. The compressor will take in 181,000 cubic feet of gas at 20 pounds pressure and discharge it at 200 pounds pressure to be injected into the well.

Lesson Learned Hard Way Inspires New Pipelines

The American Petroleum Institute has placed crude production for the week ending July 9 at a daily average of 4,687,708 barrels daily, compared to 4,791,000 a year earlier.

The Bureau of Mines estimated domestic crude stocks, as of July 2, at 274,313,000 barrels, a hike of 169,000 barrels over the previous week.

Even though the industry was at work on projects it believed would clinch its argument — new pipelines.

A gigantic network of pipelines, it was maintained, would overcome problems such as weather or strikes.

Steel shortages had delayed plans for new major lines. This week one project materialized with opening of the 1000 mile, $60,000,000 Basin-Ozark pipeline.

The line runs from Jal, N. M., to Patoka and Wood River, Ill. It ties the West Texas-New Mexico Permian Basin with oil producing Oklahoma.

Intentions on Rise; Gray Reports One

Intentions to drill took a slight upswing last week in the Panhandle. Fifteen locations were filed with the District 10 Railroad Commission. This is an increase of three over the two weeks preceding when 12 pieces were reported.

Told with warmth, humor and bits of revealing humanity, this is a legend of the old west—a version of the Peter B. Kyne tale of three hardy men who became godfathers to a baby boy. You'll chuckle at their clumsy adventures in caring for the child as they resume their desperate trek across the salt flat wastelands.

Because the sequence of events build up to the final climax, the picture should be seen from the beginning.

Railroad Labor Head Dies at 76

CLEVELAND (AP)—Alexander Pell Whitney, 76, fiery labor leader who was a friend and sometimes bitter opponent of United States Presidents, died at his home early yesterday of a heart attack.

The peppery president of the 215,000-man Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was stricken late yesterday full day at his office and died, lying with friends.

His wife, Dorothy Mae Whitney, said she heard him call out that he was not feeling well. She telephoned for help, returned to his side and found him dead.

Outspoken for the policies of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Whitney served on several national committees, including the one which guided the annual President's birthday balls for infantile paralysis victims. He also served on the seven-member United States delegation to the Inter-American peace conference at Buenos Aires in 1936.

Acutely intelligent and well read, Whitney was the son of a Methodist minister. He was reared in Cedar Falls, Iowa, and went to work as a "sandy butcher" on the Illinois Central Railroad there in the late 20s.

Whitney was a political liberal who jumped from party to party to side with men with his ideals. From 1908 to 1932, he sided with Theodore Roosevelt, Republican; Roosevelt, as a "bull moose"; Woodrow Wilson, Democrat; Robert M. LaFollette, Progressive; Herbert Hoover, Republican and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat.

Besides his wife, Whitney is survived by two sons and a daughter.

Secretary-Treasurer W. P. Kennedy said the brotherhood's constitution specifies that the Board of Directors shall name a successor to Whitney within 30 days.

Bill Would Give ICC More Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee has approved for full committee consideration a bill (HR 278) to give the Interstate Commerce Commission more control over railroad safety operations.

The legislation is supported by railway workers' unions and opposed by the Association of American Railroads.

It would allow the ICC to order carriers to install intercommunication systems as an added safety measure, and to establish rules, regulations and practices with respect to operation of trains intended to promote safety of railroad operation.

It is expected to be considered by the full committee late this month.

Railroad opposition to the bill is based on the claim of the operating association that it is too broad and sweeping.

Neckline Ain't Where It Used To Be—Now It Reaches Out

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — (AP) — The battle of the neckline goes on apace in fashions currently being prepared for the nation's press. Designers vie for the most daring décolletage, and one of the west and most startling is worn variously as the "fan neck," crumb catcher, balcony and elf. It consists of a bodice flaring upward and outward from the waist, with no apparent means of support. It is calculated to offend the opposite sex, who are deemed to be disappointed in finding that a bra arrangement behind the "fan" makes it all dead, after all.

to Copeland, known for her sophisticated after-five costumes, plays the crumb-catcher's silhouette to distinct advantage on striped green surah cocktail as guaranteed to break the icy gathering.

This designer also shows a collection of slim city suits. In dressmaker touches such as velvet trim, braided banding, rows of small pearl buttons and such, the suits are slim and jackets gently longer. Miss Copeland likes straining apron panels in dark evening gowns, goes in for elaborate side drapes on her more formal designs.

ten Reig concentrates on sleeve detail for fall, introducing the mercury wing silhouette, which a flaring lapel arrangement is also the mousquetaire eye, which is buttoned from the elbow and suggests the mousquetaire glove.

High Court Asked To Settle Dispute

DALLAS — (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court has been asked to settle the controversy between Dallas and Fort Worth over Midway Airport.

Dallas City Attorney Henry P. Kucera announced that Dallas has appealed the ruling of the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals which refused to overturn the action of the Civil Aeronautics Administration in granting federal moneys for Midway. The airport is located about half-way between Dallas and Fort Worth. Dallas contends that Midway would destroy the operations of Love Field, the Dallas municipal port. The protest was rejected by the CAA after a hearing in Austin last year.

Engineers To Inspect Projects

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — American civil engineers scattered to inspect several Mexican projects after three days of hearing about them.

An El Paso, Tex., demand for irrigation water was one of the last reports heard. El Paso claims the water is available, but the record of it is lost in the water-accounting system.

The engineers closed their summer convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers yesterday. For three days they had discussed such problems of Mexican interest as irrigation, road-building and dam construction.

The report of the El Paso situation was made in a paper by Raymond A. Hill, Los Angeles consulting engineer. Hill, discussing "operation and maintenance of irrigation systems," said the practice of delivering more irrigation water to farmers than they are charged for is general and reasonable. But he warned that it could lead to difficulties.

"At the present time," he said, "there is pending before the State Water Board of Texas an application by the city of El Paso to appropriate certain waters of the Rio Grande. This application is based in considerable part upon the apparent availability of water which was diverted to lands in the Rio Grande project but which was not accounted for in the records of deliveries to farms.

"Actually, most of the presumed excess supply of water was used beneficially, but this will be extremely difficult to prove because records kept in the normal course of business are considered the best evidence."

Hill also said that the cost of maintaining irrigation projects was tending to increase. In 1940, he said, maintenance costs in Western irrigation districts ranged from 69 cents to $2.40 an acre. The 1948 cost for the Salt River project, he added, was nearly $10 an acre.

Many projects, he went on, have been operated in effect as cooperatives. For this reason, they have not had to conform to federal labor laws. But he said that when such laws do apply, "the costs of operation and maintenance must increase tremendously."

Last Triplet Has Diarrhea

KINGSVILLE, Tex. — (AP) — Three-month-old Velma Garza was still in serious condition today, and her jobless father was back in jail.

Ascension Garza was released from jail to attend funeral services Tuesday for Velma's triplet sisters, Delma and Thelma. They died of diarrhea in county hospital. Velma has the same disease.

After the services, Garza went back to jail to serve a two-year sentence after his conviction on a charge of assault with an automobile. A woman was injured.

After Garza was convicted, the sentence was suspended on condition that he pay the woman's hospital bill. The woman, a Mexican citizen, went home after she recovered from her injuries.

Then Garza's triplets were born. He lost his job, failed to make payments on the woman's hospital bill and the sentence was invoked. His wife and four other children are under state care at the Garzas' small, unpainted shack. Some rich men have worked for all their worth.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Wanted: One top grade comedian. Potential salary — $1,000 a year. One who has put an ad like this in the paper. But that's the situation today in show business. There's a crop shortage on Broadway and Radio Row a shortage of fresh new funny men.

"There's really a tremendous city of comedians," said Irving Berlin, CBS executive producer and originator of the "Talent City" program.

All the old ones seem to be going over themselves," he said, "they imitate each other so much they can hardly tell them apart more."

But who's coming along to take their places? Nobody's in the picture.

Trying to build a little known star into a public favorite is a laughing matter. It's a big statement.

A network can easily spend $100,000 in an effort to popularize a new comedian," said Mansfield, "and end up with nothing but a lame gag artist and no honor."

But the rewards are high. A successful comedian can make $100 a week.

What explains the dearth of comedy talent? Mansfield says the decline of the old vaudeville circuits is the real answer.

"Vaudeville houses were great theaters of comies," he said, "there's no place left today for comedians to try out their material, and they have to work audiences to perfect themselves."

A comedian doesn't need a great deal of personal originality to succeed. A writer can supply that. But he has to be able to sell his stuff to an audience. He has to learn timing and everything.

Take Fred Allen, probably the showman of our times. He has a perfect sense of timing. He learned it in vaudeville.

MORE ICE? — Marcia Perry works in an ice show. Like everyone else she likes to get off once in a while when she hangs up her skates and swimming instead. Marcia hangs up before hitting the water at Malibu Beach, Calif., as she's "cooling off" from her job as ice skater.

MISUSED NAME—The editor hands me a letter from Father Flanagan's Boys' Home, Boys Town, Neb., telling about the misuse of Boys Town's name. Magazine salesmen have been reported selling their wares purporting to be in the interest of that name. The letter says: "We have no authorized representatives selling books or magazine subscriptions. None of our boys are permitted to do so and we have no arrangements with any solicitors whereby a portion of their commissions is turned over to Boys Town."

THE COUNTRY CLUB pool these days is a popular respite from the July heat. Young and not-so-young are turning out to test their aquatic abilities. One attractive group of matrons spied improving their overhead stroke included Albertine Triplehorn, Jerry Smith, Margaret Payne, Velma Baker and Alice Warner. The real young set is putting the seasoned swimmers to shame. Kay Layne, Janis Foster, Jean Thompson, which reminds me that Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nassenk were in town recently. Mr. Nassenk is former pro at the Country Club.

Speaking of the CC, after the way Murray Body and his committee handled arrangements for the CC July 4 celebration, I think, as a commissioner, Body could get Browning Ave., and some others paved. Say, Murray, if you are a commissioner following the election, use your influence. I saw young are turning out to test their aquatic abilities. I saw young are turning out to test their aquatic abilities. I saw young are turning out to test their aquatic abilities.

PANORAMA—Was good to see Mr. and Mrs. DeWeese enjoying a set of reminiscing with the Delbert Hartmans (also former Pampans) with the Fred Thompson while dining at the CC. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander and children are here from California visiting with sisters, Mmes. Ray Kuhn, Jim Nation and Charlie Ford, and their families. Mr. Alexander who is in the Marine Corps, has recently returned from Hawaii. The ball game Thursday night was a little different: Grover (The Gab) was viewing it from a box in the grandstand. However, he added a dash of his usual seasoning to the game, for he was out on the field after the game, having a little "discussion" with the umpire. Understand that since Friday night Grover is out of the doghouse with the league—he's reinstated, following the alleged kicking of an ump July 4. George Payte made the homerun of the evening. His attractive better half, June Marie, was right there to urge him on. My eyes didn't rove as much as usual, but I did see J. P. Wehrung, the Paul Kasiahkes, and C. A. Huff. The Rufe Jordans were in the usual place. The Jaycee-Pampa Roping Club donkey ball game was a riot. Those boys put their hearts into the game, and it wasn't without a few casualties. Jim Arndt, Kirk Duncan and Frank Fata will remember the game for some time. Skipper Johnson finally took all he could from his trusty mount and gave him a dose of his own medicine. A good swift kick did the most good. Louie Hooper found it more comfortable to remain on his feet all the following day. Don Foster took his share of punishment. Gene Cooper managed to stay with his donkey as did Bill Stockstill and Lee Cisneros. Just remember you missed a good evening of entertainment if you weren't there.

BEVERLY Candler and Lynn Cornelius make a melody in their white pipe suitresses. Something just as cute as a cute button are Mrs. Lee Newsom's hand-crocheted gold sandals. Jane Hampton is especially pretty in a light blue decollete dress. Pete Link, who has always been one of my favorites, is saying his "I do's" in Dallas today. She's a Dallas girl. We're eager to meet her, Pete. The Aubrey Steeles are leaving for Missouri where they will visit his people. It's good to hear that Walter Beauchamp is improved after a serious illness. Walter is in the Worley. Pearl Mitchell is the envy of everyone out at the CC these days. She is several dollars better off due to some good luck. One of the prettiest of Canadian are new members in the club now. One of the prettiest of Canadian are new members in the club now. One of the prettiest of Canadian are new members in the club now.

DAYDREAMING—Will it come to pass that all the neon lights on the Purr Food Store will shine at one time. That Pampa will ever have storm sewers. That the DDT truck will spray every street in Pampa every day. That there will be a modernistic office building at the corner of Kingsmill and Caylor. That there will be a four-lane highway between Pampa and Borger. That school will start a month earlier.

MIRACULOUS METAMORPHOSIS—Golfers arrive meticulously attired in cool, crisp summer garb and, preparatory to chasing the golf ball all over the course, they emerge from the locker room in a get-up that would put Bing Crosby to shame.

Congratulations to Dr. and Mrs. Phillip Gates on the new baby boy born Friday morning. Former Pampans, now of Perryton, Mary Lane is up and about after recent operation. Dr. Wyatt and family left Friday for Chicago. Margaret Dial and daughter Patsy returned from Ft. Worth last Sunday, accompanied by sister-in-law Mary Schwind. A fellow with lots of personality is Pete Brownlee at the Kaiser-Frazier establishment.

about an old mutual friend, the late P. Hal Sims. Hal was a great story teller, and one of the few people who liked to tell a story on himself. We recalled today's hand, which was one that Hal liked to tell about.

When asked why he went to three spades after being doubled at three hearts, Hal said, "East looked too happy and prosperous after doubling the three-heart contract." "How did West look when he doubled?" we asked Hal. "Wasn't looking at West," was his reply. He used to say that anything could happen at the bridge table, and this hand proved it.

West's opening lead of the king of spades was won by Hal with the ace. He cashed the ace of diamonds, led a small heart to the ace in dummy, and on the king and queen of diamonds he discarded his two losing clubs. The five of clubs was ruffed with the five of spades. The king of hearts was led and West trumped with the ten of spades. West won the ace of clubs, which Hal trumped with the seven of spades.

Hal led the jack of hearts and West discarded the queen of clubs. Now the queen of hearts was led and West was helpless, as he had to let Hal make another trump trick.

In his subtle way, Hal remarked, "Remember to give the opponents one hundred honors." In those days honors still counted in tournament bridge.

Clean Up and Slim Down... It Says Here

Joyce Mathews, New York actress, makes out-of-door tasks yield exercise benefits as she sun-tans on terrace. A tall stretch to overhead vines (left) gives arms a tugging. A deep-knee bend for dusting up (center) and a simulated back-bend (right) strengthens muscles.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Turn the puttering that you do in the back yard or garden or terrace into a game of figure-improvement. You can slim down, get a tan and knock off your "green-thumb" chores all at the same time.

This three-way ticket to a beautiful figure with a handsome tan thrown in is only good if you use your body with supple know-how while you work.

Vines to train? Exaggerate your reach and give arm muscles a good overhead tug. This is a chest-firming exercise and the overhead stretch, tall and tense one moment, relaxed all-of-a-heap the next, will also build up a taut, muscular girdle. Cutting tall shrubbery or pruning dead boughs from fruit trees will give arm, chest and waist the same kind of overhead stretch.

A quick cleanup of the backyard can mean as many as two-dozen arm-stretching exercises as you sweep the rake forward, elbows stiff, and haul it back with elbows bent. The forward and back movement will also help to firm up flabby flesh on upper arms.

Deep-knee bends you'll take to gather up the collected pile of leaves and trash for burning will be as good as supervised calisthenics if you slide down slowly, using your spine as axis, back straight—heart held high.

Don't let the men in the family reap all of the benefits from mowing the lawn. Latch on to this exercise for strengthening your own back muscles, whittling down your own waistline. The push of the mower will be more rewarding if you'll keep the bend out of your back, keep elbows at chest level.

When freeing the mower from grass snags or when weeding the garden, stoop over from the waist with straight knees; this is a classic waist-reducing exercise. It can be too strenuous! There is another way weeds and a spreading hipline can be reduced at the same time: Smooth a mat out alongside your flower bed. Sit flat with both feet outstretched but together. Now weed and work yourself down the row in a sit-down walk which is achieved by pushing one hip, arm and heel at the same time. Keep your body tight to the mat and the back of your hips really bumping.

Final tidying up around the garden and terrace can be body firming, too, if occasionally you stoop over in a simulated back-bend for books, papers and yarn baskets left lying around. This kind of muscular tug helps to tighten a slack tummy.

Greer Garson Is Wed at Santa Fe

SANTA FE —(AP)—Movie actress Greer Garson and Col. E. E. (Buddy) Fogelson, 48, Texas rancher, oil man and sportsman, were married here Friday.

It was the third marriage for the 36-year-old star of "Mrs. Miniver." Her first was to Edward Abbott Snelson, British civil service employe. She divorced him in 1940 and married actor Richard Ney who she recently divorced.

The marriage was the second for Fogelson.

Legion Hall Gets Face Lifting

McLEAN — (Special) — The American Legion Hall in McLean is undergoing a general overhauling.
The Andrew H. Floyd Post let a contract recently to Ed Jones and Herschel Smith, and work on the building is progressing rapidly.
Stuccoing and painting of the exterior is about complete. In addition, the hall will have new concrete walks to the front and side entrances; screens will be replaced or repaired and painted; and new uprights will be fitted on the porches. New studdings have been placed around the sides.
The hall formerly served as the commissioned officers' mess hall at the McLean prisoner of war camp.

Minister to Take Over Sept. 1

McLEAN — (Special) — T. A. Robertson of Woodward, Okla., will take over his new duties as minister of the McLean Church of Christ Sept. 1, elders of the church announced.
He succeeds John R. Fulmer, who resigned last week to take over the ministry of the Oilton Church of Christ.
Robertson, 25, was born and reared in Oklahoma City. He held the ministry of the Church of Christ at Edmond, Okla., and then moved to Woodward, where he has served the past three years.
He is married and has two children.

53 Boys Are Shell Guests

Harry C. Eells, of the Shell Oil Company Public Relations Department, Tulsa, was master of ceremonies. The boys ate ice cream and cake and drank soda pop. They afterward were entertained by a magician from Amarillo.
Shell offers the party as a part of the Derby events here every year. The Derby is sponsored by The Lions Club, Culberson Chevrolet, and the Pampa News, in cooperation with Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

Love Held Threat To Friendship

LONDON — (AP) — Can young love break up American-British friendship?
The London Daily Mirror said yesterday that U. S. Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas is afraid it might — if Princess Margaret and his daughter Sharman should fall for the same man.
So, Columnist Noel Whitecomb told his four and one-half million readers, Sharman has had orders to stay home more than she has in the past.

"Not that Princess Margaret minds about a spot of lendlease in reverse as far as her dance partners are concerned," said Whitecomb, "but I hear that Mr. Douglas has had an uncomfortable feeling that both girls might end up with a preference for the same young man, which would be awkward."
Both Margaret, 19, and Sharman, 20, have been seen out with the same men — notably the Marquess of Blandford and the Marquess of Milford Haven. But there's been no indication either was serious about them.

7 Events Are Listed in Kid Pony Phase of Show

Seven events in the Kid Pony Show, Aug. 2, this year will highlight the fifth annual Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show for 15-year-old participants, Leo M. Fry, Kid Pony chairman, said. All junior cowboys and cowgirls who wish to take part in this year's show have been asked to fill out the following application and mail it to Box 1942, Pampa.

ENTRY APPLICATION
Please enter my name in the following events:

NAME Age

Four age groups will participate in the barrel race, the main event of the show. Each contestant will be required to ride a "figure eight" around three barrels. Although the barrel race is not a timed event, the speed and ease with which each contestant and his pony perform will be the governing factors for the selection of winners. First place winners in each group of last year's show will be required to compete in the next oldest group. No entry fee is required in this event, but ribbons and cash prizes will be awarded to winners of the first three places in each group. Contestants must be 15 years of age or older to be eligible for any of the other six events in the Kid Pony Show. The doughnut race is open to girls in groups 1 and 2. Contestants will be lined up on their left. The barrel race is held on the right side of the arena and will race to the other end and back to the starting line without using their hands. The flag race, open to boys in groups 1 and 2, will be similar to the doughnut race except the contestants will use flags rather than doughnuts. Group 3 and 4 girls will participate in the tournament race and will furnish their own lances. They will ride by the ring stands at a gallop, attempting to spear suspended two-inch rings. Calf roping will be open only to boys in groups 3 and 4. This event will be a regulation tie-down event and winners will be determined by their times. Group 1 and 2 boys may participate in the bull riding contest and both boys and girls in groups 1 and 2 are eligible to participate in the bull fight. All Kid Pony Show applications must be in the hands of officials by noon Aug. 2.

INDIAN MAIDENS FROM THREE TRIBES will be represented at the evening performances of the fifth annual Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show. Comanches, Kiowas and Apaches from the Anadarko, Okla., Indian Reservation will give off with war and tribal dances each night of the rodeo.

Slow Edging Up Noted in Stock Market

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN
NEW YORK — (AP) The stock market was unpredictable last week but its summer rally kept rolling along. A steel strike threatened a slow throttling of the nation's industrial life but the market advanced to a seven-week high. A 60-day truce agreement was reached and the market greeted this with a calmness bordering on stupor. On Monday President Truman delivered his mid-year economic report to Congress. The report was encouraging and optimistic from a long-range viewpoint. Bankers and businessmen liked the tone, considered it conciliatory to business. But so far as any response in the stock market on Monday was concerned, the report could just as well have been filed in the waste basket. When the Stock Exchange rang the bell Friday and closed trading for the week the market was only a trifling distance below a seven-week peak. For four straight weeks prices have advanced—a feat not matched since last October. A few brokers, and most of them bashfully, began to talk of a bull market. In the past week alone roughly a billion dollars was added to the market value of all stocks, since the rally got underway around four billion has been tacked on the market value. On June 13, at the end of a month-long price slide, the market tumbled to a 4 1/2-year low. Two-thirds of the distance of that slide has been regained. Final prices, and changes for the week, of some leading stocks: U. S. Steel up 75 cents at $22.25; Bethlehem Steel up 87 cents at $26.37; Republic Steel up $1.25 at $19.00; Youngstown Sheet & Tube up $2.25 at $61.75; General Motors up 37 cents at $59.12; Montgomery Ward up $1.25 at $52.12; American Telephone unchanged at $141.25; Anaconda Copper up 37 cents at $28.25; General Electric up 75 cents at $38.75; Du Pont up $1.50 at $47.25; Radio Corp. up 28 cents at $10.77; American Woolen off 25 cents at $28.87; Santa Fe up $1.62 at $84.87; and Southern Pacific up $1.25 at $36.87.

Believed Dead for 26 Years, Man Dies At Blackwell, Okla.

Mrs. H. C. Payne, 943 E. Francis, received word Friday of the death of her father who she thought had been dead 26 years. She was informed her father, Andrew S. Sligh, 79, died earlier this week at Blackwell, Okla. Sligh had disappeared from his home in Slick, Okla., when Mrs. Payne was seven years old, and for 26 years the family had thought him dead. The Blackwell Police Department told Payne, however, that Sligh had been living there for the past 20 years. He was an oil well driller until he retired a few years ago. Blackwell is almost in the center of the state in the top tier of counties next to the Kansas border. Slick is only a little over a hundred miles to the southeast in Creek County, but in all those years, Mrs. Payne said, the family had no idea her father was still alive. Funeral services will be held in Blackwell at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow. Mrs. Payne is now the last of her family. Her mother died two years ago and was buried at Bristow, Okla.

Resources Board Suggested for Texas

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Because of the differences in water problems across the state, Secretary of the Interior Krug suggested that Texas create an "overall resources agency." Krug expressed this in a letter to Senator Johnson (D-Texas) which reviewed the department's work in the state. He said his department had some "difficulty in determining the wishes of the state" and such an agency would be helpful in future water resource programs.

Clowningest Clown Will Be Back This Year With His Clown Horse

Buddy'll be back! Yippee, the fifth annual Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show is bound to be a success.

Buddy Heaton, "imported clown," from Hugoton, Kans., will soon be back in town. He is the clowningest clown who ever clowned.

Pictured in his female bullfighting costume, Buddy last year delighted all attendees of the rodeo. Some of his antics included putting panties on a calf, participating in the Cowgirl Sponsor Contest under the pen name of Daisy June, wrestling with a bareback rider and pulling cows' tails.

He poured water on one of the bareback riders who had "hit the dust," and even went so far as to put on his red dress and wave a red flag at all bulls.

Better known as the "Gas House Kid," Buddy is only 20 years old. He was pants during the final performance of last year's rodeo. Buddy proved he was a real horseman besides being a real clown. He exhibited his dark brown Palomino, El Roco, about as good a trick horse as Bud is a trick man.

First El Roco untied a rope with his teeth. Then he spun a rope with his mouth, walked on his hind feet, stretched, sat down and stayed down until Buddy asked him if he would please get up. After nodding his head "yes" twice, El Roco got up and galloped from the arena with clowning Buddy on his back.

Motion in Civil Suit Overruled

A motion for judgment "notwithstanding the jury's verdict" in the disaffirmation of contract brought by W. W. Hughes, for his son, Billy Pete Hughes, against M. M. Rutherford et al., was overruled Friday by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 51st District Court.

The motion was filed on grounds of misconduct of the jury in arriving at their verdict in favor of Hughes in May. The defense claimed some jurors discussed matters surrounding the case that were not to be considered in arriving at their verdict. Friday's hearing was an aftermath of a civil suit in which Billy Pete Hughes was found not to have represented himself as 21 years of age at the time he purchased an amusement machine route from Rutherford and also entered a financing contract with them and M. P. Downs who acted as agent in the sale.

Three jurors were subpoenaed as witnesses by Defense Counsel Aaron Sturgeon and E. A. Simpson.

According to questions propounded by Atty. Aaron Sturgeon and the answers given by the three jurors on the stand, John Kelly, E. L. Gallemore, and Earl Wallin, some of the jurors discussed "what would happen to M. P. Downs and his interest in the case if they rendered a verdict in favor of Hughes." Another juror was reported to have said "the Court would take care of Mr. Downs' interests."

This, the defense claimed, constituted misconduct in that the case was given to them on one special issue to which they were to answer "yes" or "no." The special issue asked the jurors if they believed Billy Pete Hughes represented himself as being 21 years of age at the time he made the transaction. The jury answered "no."

Judge Goodrich at the end of the hearing denied the motion for judgment and took under advisement a follow up motion by defense attorneys for a new trial. The Court announced from the bench that he would hand down a decision on that, this week, but did not name the day.

Should the Court deny a new trial, the case can still be appealed in the Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

The Hughes' are being represented by County Attorney John Studer.

Grand Jury Asks Probe Of Members

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP) — A grand jury investigating hooded terrorists has asked for a close check of its own members after learning that one juror is a former Ku Klux Klansman. The jury asked that each member be examined for possible disqualification. The request was made to Circuit Judge George Lewis Bailes, who told the grand jury Friday that a former Klansman was among the jurors. Judge Bailes said the juror, Alexander Brewis of Gardendale, Ala., has been excused from considering any case which might affect the Klan. Brewis declined to discuss whether he is a member of the Klan with newsmen. Judges Bailes charged the jury Monday to look into "this business of night riders taking people out... and whipping them."

REFUGEE

By Mildred Cram and Harwood White

THE STORY: Mrs. Malone, a widow, has become the cook on a strange caravan bound for a mysterious destination. The caravan consists of a gigantic motor pulled by a truck and driven by a uniformed chauffeur, Rudy, and a smaller trailer pulled by a sedan which Victor, the Filipino who speaks like a cultured professor, drives. Everything is efficient and well planned, but already Mrs. Malone is beginning to wonder what kind of people she is working for. Her employer is Mrs. Everson, middle aged, but still good looking and who has the manners of an aristocrat. With her is a guest, the Marchese Delacoste, who speaks with a foreign accent. Even Rudy, the chauffeur, seems strangely familiar to Mrs. Malone. "You were carry civilization with you," she tells Rudy. "That was the idea," he replies.

RUDY removed his cap and sat facing her. He wore a thin white sweatshirt under his apron; his powerful and hairy arms were bare; a strapped watch accented his lean wrist; his nails were short, well cared for, healthy. He lifted his cup of steaming coffee with both hands and something in the gesture rang another bell in Mrs. Malone's memory. "Wait!" she cried aloud. "I'm remembering! A movie a long time ago..." "You're getting warmer," Rudy interrupted harshly. "But what do you say we drop the subject?" "That's fine with me. But I do want the truth about my boss. After all, I'd like to know where I'm going. And why. If there's anything crooked about this deal, I'd better know it. I've told you all about myself. Now just explain who is this Mrs. Everson, and who's the foreign gentleman with the bracelet? And why this million dollar outfit?" Rudy and Victor exchanged a glance. The look might have meant anything.

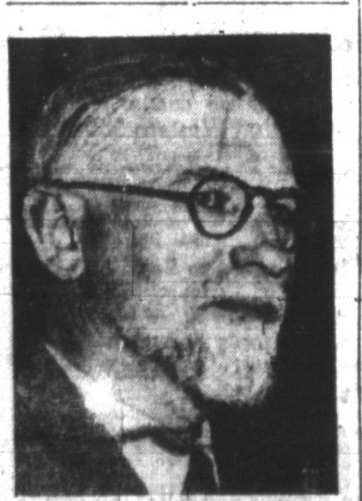

"I can tell you the story," Rudy began. And then hesitated. "I'm all ears," Mrs. Malone said. "YOU don't have to believe anything I tell you," Rudy continued. "I'll give it to you straight, and you can take it or leave it..." He rubbed his head reflectively. "To go back a ways: Mrs. Everson wasn't always rich. She started out as a waitress in Oklahoma and married a man much older than herself. I figure she had her eye on some oil leases he held. Anyway his wells came in." "Lucky," Rudy said. "Rudy shook his head. "No. She wasn't. They moved West and built a little house on top of a hill near Los Angeles. Pappy was a millionaire, all right, but he turned out to be ignorant and jealous and tight as the dickens. She did all her own housework, made her own clothes, never went anywhere. But she stayed with it. Twenty years. I guess she figured he'd die first, and then she'd have his fling." "That's what I call a smart woman," Mrs. Malone said. "If you like them smart, I don't." "You've got to hand it to her. She was patient... and faithful. She never let on she was unhappy, and she kept herself young. Not so bad! Then the old man died off—that was three years ago—and left her his millions." "It wasn't in the papers." "No. She didn't want publicity. She was after position. A real place in the social sun. I know, because I was one of her first employees. I answered an ad in the papers, and here I am: driver, mechanic, bodyguard and father confessor to a rich dame." Mrs. Malone inclined her head toward the Filipino. "And Victor?" "She stole Victor from a cock-

Mysterious Blast Startled New Mexico—Four Years Ago

LAMOGORDO, N. M. — (AP) — It happened just four years ago yesterday — a mysterious explosion that excited and alarmed early risers over a 400-mile radius. That was the explosion of the first atomic bomb, a desert wastelands blast due to alter the course of the civilized world. New Mexico residents and their neighbors in West Texas and Arizona had a ringside seat, although few learned what they had witnessed for a full three weeks. The earth-shaking blast was touched off at 5:30 a. m. (MST) on July 16, 1945. But not until after U. S. airmen had directed the fury of a second A-bomb on Japan's Hiroshima did the secret come out, on Aug. 6.

Until then, awe-stricken and uninformed observers could only speculate. The bomb was touched off less than half an hour after sunrise. Moments later a flood of excited inquiries were unleashed. Windows rattled in numerous Southern New Mexico towns, cracking some in Silver City. Across the state line in El Paso residents saw a sudden glow illuminating Mount Franklin. Near Albuquerque, around 125 miles north from the test site, a blind girl was enraptured by automobile to University of New Mexico classes.

As the sky blazed and before the explosion could be heard, she turned to a companion and inquired: "What was that?" Inquiries were directed to the Alamogordo Army Air Base, but it was hours later before an official explanation came. Then the commanding officer, William O. Eareckson, issued a statement. He said: "A remotely located ammunition magazine containing a considerable amount of high explosives and pyrotechnics exploded. There was no loss of life nor injury to anyone, and the property damage outside of the explosives' magazine itself was negligible. "Weather conditions affecting the content of gas shells exploded by the blast may make it desirable for the Army to evacuate temporarily a few civilians from their homes." Months later the Army disclosed it had made elaborate plans to evacuate towns as far away as Roswell, N. M., in event the bomb's mushrooming cloud veered too close. It was an exciting day for New Mexico.

Texans Promised Import Analysis

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A group of Texas Congressmen, led by Rep. Gossett, was promised by state department and Tariff Commission officials yesterday they would study the foreign oil import situation. This meeting grew out of a request last week from oil industry leaders that possible cuts should be made in the imports to prevent further cuts in domestic production.

Chiang Assumes Top Leadership

CANTON, China — (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek took over leadership of Nationalist China's top policy board. He was formally named by the Kuomintang (Nationalist Party) Central Political Council and Central Executive Committee to head the new 12-man Emergency Council. It will replace the Central Political Council. The Emergency Council is virtually a supreme war cabinet. It was created as part of the Nationalist effort toward a hoped-for comeback against the Communists. Chiang declared two days ago he would fight on until victory. The Generalissimo retired as President of China in January. But he has remained the top leader of Nationalist China. His visit here — the provisional Nationalist capital — has injected new life into the Kuomintang cause. Read The News, Classified Ads.

Censorship Imposed by Communists

SHANGHAI — (AP) — The Communist Military Control Commission has listed censorship regulations for outgoing news dispatches during the "military period." Another communique announced new rules for foreigners.

Censorship has been in effect several days.

The regulations specify that dispatches should not directly or indirectly report weather conditions, targets, damage or casualties of (Chinese) Nationalist bombings and strafings; other security information and the location of Communist headquarters and billets.

Offending words will be struck out, the commission said; repeated violators will be "appropriately punished."

Correspondents have not complained about censorship. So far it has been fair and concerned only with military security. However, there have been many complaints about delays.

Dispatches have been held up from two to 30 hours. Frequently this is because no censor is on duty or there are not enough censors to handle the volume. There has been no evidence of political censorship, even of dispatches unfavorable to the Communists.

Meanwhile, Shanghai's Security Bureau announced regulations governing travel by foreigners in Communist China.

Heretofore, foreigners have not been permitted to leave the city. Those in Nanking and other Communist cities have been allowed to travel, within limitations.

Travel time out of Shanghai will be limited to two weeks except in unusual cases. Only two points can be visited on a single trip without special permission.

Permits to leave China now are being issued — but there are no means of getting out. Foreigners wanting to leave China from Shanghai must state why. Another requirement: the departing foreigner must have settled his labor problems. Several hundred Americans indicate they want to go home.

U. S. Consul General John Vabot left Shanghai Friday for Nanking to confer with Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart. He may accompany Stuart to the United States, possibly next week, if he can obtain permission to leave China.

George Has Substitute Arms Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator George (D-Ga.) said the Senate program and, instead, authorize the Army to furnish arms to Europe from surplus stocks.

"This move could be made by resolution, George told reporters, without taking formal action on the disputed arms program.

The veteran Georgian said the plan is not yet under active study — but it is one of the possibilities in sight to achieve an Atlantic defense against possible attack from Russia. He added he has grave doubts Congress will act at this session on the President's proposed arms plan.

George's statement came as foes of the North Atlantic Treaty pacted to confer with Senate ratification of the pact. Four other senators were listed in doubtful.

The showdown will come on the final vote next Thursday. And Senate leaders saw little chance of any important change of sentiment by then.

The opposition total is far short of the 33 votes needed to defeat the pact if all 96 senators cast their ballots. The treaty becomes binding on the United States if approved by two-thirds of members voting.

Opposition centered its attack in the legal or moral obligation in the treaty to supply arms to Europe.
