Salary Slash for Congress Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), one of the leaders of the current economy drive, branded as "ridiculous" today a suggestion that congressmen take a 5 percent pay cut to help cut government costs.

At the same time Bridges agreed with Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Congress should remain in session "until Christmas, if necessary" to consider $3,000,000 of savings in government costs proposed by former President Hoover.

Bridges, former chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, testified before the Senate Expenditures Committee in support of a resolution that would direct President Truman to balance the budget.

He said Congress can do one of four things: increase taxes, encourage deficit spending, simply drift along with the tide, or revise expenditures to the level of estimated revenues.

Bridges said he reports indicate that Senator Tydings (D-Md.), author of another proposal for cutting government costs, suggested congressmen take a 5 percent pay cut.

"I disagree with Senator Tydings," Bridges said emphatically. "I think it's ridiculous to ask that Congress take a 5 percent cut in salaries. The cost of Congress is a very minor item and beside the point."

Sensors hating the economy drive had little to say about a veterans pension bill passed overwhelmingly by the House.

Instead the sponsors applauded action of their Appropriations Committee in whacking off nearly $13,000,000 cash from operating funds voted by the House for the State and Justice departments.

The Senate Expenditures Committee, too, recalled Budget Bureau officials for testimony on plans to lop off from one to more than three billion dollars from President Truman's spending plans.

By a 365 to 27 roll call vote, the House quickly stamped approval yesterday on a $72-million increase to be given World War II veterans when they become 65 years old.

Lucas said the bill probably will go to the Senate Finance Committee.

Clean-Up to Be Finished

Pampa will complete the current clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign during June or else according to Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, member of the Steering Committee.

There have been 152 loads of trash hauled from Pampa alleys. Four trucks furnished by Irvin Cole, Curly Boyd, Panhandle Lumber Company and Culberson Chevrolet Company hauled 26 loads from Ward 3 alleys yesterday. The same trucks are hauling from Ward 3 and Ward 2 alleys today.

"If the weather stays permissible, we'll probably get started on Ward 1 tomorrow evening," Winborne said.

The city's DDT fog machine is being used in both alleys and streets this year. Also the city's graders and maintainers have been put to use ironing out ruts and knocking down high spots through the alleys.

'Screening' Given All Says Lilienthal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) accused the Atomic Energy Commission today of letting 3,200 persons have access to atomic information, or work around secret projects, without a full FBI check first on their loyalty.

He called this violating the atomic energy law with "brazen effrontery."

Hickenlooper said the commission granted "emergency clearance" (without full investigation) to restricted data or restricted areas in 1947 to 818 persons, in 1948 to 2,103 and has granted 359 thus far in 1949.

He said that in 1947 there were 419 others given emergency clearance but not to restricted data. He did not give any similar figure for the other years.

AEC Chairman David E. Lilienthal retorted that all of the persons so cleared had undergone some FBI investigation and the procedure "is a matter of difference of judgment between Hickenlooper and those who have responsibility for getting things done."

"Our judgment was neither arbitrary nor whimsical," Lilienthal said. "We believe it to have been sound."

Hickenlooper raised this issue when the Senate-House Atomic Committee went into its second day of hearings on his charges of incredible mismanagement in AEC affairs. He demands that Lilienthal be fired.

Lilienthal declared that all persons had some kind of "screening" by the FBI before being granted an emergency clearance.

Hickenlooper has said that he believes the overwhelming majority of those cleared on an emergency basis were loyal and patriotic Americans.

Lilienthal said he was glad to note Hickenlooper's comment in that respect since the list "included emergency clearance for such people as General Eisenhower."

Lilienthal added that he was sure Eisenhower "will be relieved."

Hickenlooper snapped back that before he was through he would show that there are names of other persons on the list "who do not have the trust and confidence of the American people" that Eisenhower does.

Hickenlooper contended that Congress never intended that there should be many emergency clearances.

The Atomic Act of 1946, Hickenlooper went on, has specific and "mandatory" requirements for FBI investigation and clearance of individuals prior to employment on atomic projects. He (See SCREENING, Page 7)

Truman May Visit Texas

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Mrs. H. W. Weir, state Democratic committeewoman, announced today that she is "almost positive" President Truman will visit this city during a celebration beginning June 11.

"The 'build democracy' celebration will honor the 31st 'Lost Battalion' which fought at Bataan."

She had talked with the White House, she said, and today she talked with phone with Rep. Sam Rayburn, the speaker of the House. I am very confident — I am almost positive, that Mr. Truman will come to Wichita Falls. I cannot make any definite announcement however. The announcement must come from the White House.

The celebration will run through June 11.

"We hope Mr. Truman will be here on June 11," Mrs. Weir said. "On June 10 and 11 he is scheduled to be in Little Rock."

The White House announced yesterday the President would make an important speech at Little Rock June 11 during the annual reunion of the 38th Division.

Tenants Will Refuse to Pay Hikes in Rent

ORANGE (AP)—Tenants of a big housing project for war workers here, it was said by the Public Housing Administration last year for $1,300,000 to a corporation headed by A. Pollard Simons of Fort Worth.

A $7,000,000 mortgage to a large insurance company is on file in the county clerk's office here.

Last week the Rent Control Division, on the application of the firm which now owns the project, granted rent increases ranging from $3.50 to $10 per apartment on 146 units.

Jasper Inmon, Beaumont area rent control director, said the increases were granted on "the recommendation of the regional office in Fort Worth." At the same time Inmon's office denied applications of tenants for rent decreases.

John Q. Young of Orange, attorney for the tenants, accused Inmon of a "preposterous and unreasonable" change of mind.

Young said Inmon had assured him less than a week earlier that the increase applications would be rejected. Inmon contended that the tenants' applications for decreases would be denied.

Young met with about 350 of the tenants last night. The group voted almost unanimously to "continue paying rent at the rates called in our contracts and to refuse to pay present or any future increases."

Two Fined At Borger For Assault

BORGER—A man and woman were fined $25 and court costs yesterday by Carson County Judge E. O. Beddingfield for aggravated assault arising out of a fracas in which 10-year-old Patricia Ann Gibson was critically wounded by a .22 calibre pistol.

The shooting took place in the Columbia Carbon Company's Westcar Camp, four miles from Borger, May 31.

According to reports coming from the Associated Press, the Borger News Herald and officers Mrs. Hazel Bates was fined $25 and costs for accidentally shooting the child while C. A. Johnson was given a similar fine for striking Mrs. Bates.

The child was a bystander in the Bates' home when Johnson came in to take his two children home. An argument ensued between Johnson and Mrs. Bates and a pistol appeared. During the scuffle for the gun the child was shot through the left side of the abdomen, the bullet lodging in the kidney. Attendants at the hospital, where the child was taken, expressed high hopes for her recovery.

Johnson, officers said, walked in to the office of Sheriff Clarence Williams a short time after the shooting and told his story of the affair. The arrests and subsequent fines followed the next day.

Nurses Love Boy's Fussing

VERNON (AP)—Donnie Wood, a small nurse last night and they loved him for it. It meant he might have won his fight for life.

Last night was extremely critical for the ten-year-old farm boy burned over 70 percent of his body during a fire at the period doctors said could be a turning point in his grim, 22-day battle to survive third-degree burns.

"He's just as fine as could possibly be expected," said a hospital attendant shortly before midnight. "He's fussing at his nurses—and that's a good indication he's feeling pretty good."

Tom L. Tyson, Secretary of Demos, Dies

CORSICANA (AP)—Tom L. Tyson, 44, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, died of a heart attack at 7:45 a.m. today.

A power in Texas Democratic and Baptist circles, Tyson suffered a heart attack at 7:40 a.m. at his Corsicana home and died five minutes later.

The stocky, personable Tyson was permanent chairman of the State Democratic Convention in Fort Worth last September.

He had been a strong supporter of both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

Tyson was born in Calvert, Robertson County, August 12, 1904, and served two terms as Robertson County attorney. He had lived in Corsicana since June 14, 1937.

At the bedside when Tyson died were his wife, a law partner, Matt Dawson and a neighbor, Mrs. J. J. McColpin.

Tyson had been ill since a heart attack three weeks ago. He was taken to a hospital then but had recently been returned to his home.

He was appointed secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee by state Chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, shortly after the September State Democratic Convention.

Tyson was a man of many affiliations. He was a member of the board of Mary Hardin Baylor College at Belton, Tex.; a member of the board of the Buckners Orphans Home, a Baptist institution at Dallas; a trustee of the Navarro County Foundation; the chairman of the Board of Deacons (See TYSON, Page 7)

Firemen Extinguish Board Walk Blaze

Firemen were called to the location of the new Hughes Building, 200 N. Somerville, at 10:30 p.m. yesterday to extinguish a fire on the board walk surrounding the location.

Some car had evidently overturned a flare which ignited several boards on the board walk. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said. Slight damage occurred to the walk.

The fire was burned on May 10 when an older brother accidentally threw a bucket of burning gasoline on him while the two were burning weeds.

Hundreds of persons have contributed to a fund to pay Donnie's hospital bills. And one, Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Texas, has promised him a pony. That's a big reason to live—for Donnie.

West Hands Soviet Plan for Berlin

PARIS (AP)—The West handed Russia today its plan for restoring four-power control in Berlin.

A French informant said the American, British and French terms were placed before the Soviet Union in a 90-minute meeting of the Foreign Ministers Council, the shortest of this 10-day-old session.

The ministers will meet again tomorrow in a secret session, presumably to get down to business on the opposing plans of the East and West for Berlin. They are agreed thus far only in principle that the divided German city should be reunited under a single governing body.

Yesterday they split on a Western proposal to limit exercise of the veto power in the four-power body. Today the Western ministers weighed a vague Soviet hint that the Russians might agree to limit the Kommandatura's area of authority.

Western representatives at the foreign ministers conference, spearheaded by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson—insisted firmly on modification of the old rule that all decisions of the Kommandatura must be unanimous agreement. This rule, in effect, armed each of the four members with veto power.

Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman urged that unanimity be required only for major issues. They proposed that majority rule be adopted for secondary decisions.

Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky insisted that the Kommandatura retain unanimity rule. At yesterday's meeting, however, according to French sources, Vishinsky said the Kommandatura's functions might be re-examined.

His statement was interpreted to mean that some authority might be withdrawn from the Kommandatura and delegated to local German administration. It followed Acheson's statement that he saw a reason why such things as garbage collection, water supply and street cleaning should become matters of international debate.

Vishinsky insisted that the Kommandatura on the powers which Russia (See WEST, Page 7)

Tornadoes Hit Midwest

CHICAGO (AP)—Fourteen persons were injured and several farm homes were destroyed yesterday as tornadoes skipped over areas in four Midwest states.

The small twisters hit rural areas of southwestern Iowa, Northwestern Missouri, Northeastern Kansas and Southeastern Nebraska. Eleven persons in the vicinity of Tarkio, Mo., were injured, while the twister which hit near Essex, Ia., injured a family of three.

The tornado winds followed thunderstorms over Midwest activity yesterday. The showery activity today was in parts of Iowa, Northwest Illinois and Southwestern Wisconsin.

Most of the country had fair weather and mild temperatures today. Some rain fell in Wyoming and Montana and in the Pacific Northwest. Highest temperatures in the gulf states. The country's top mark yesterday was 106 at Presidio, Tex.

New U.N. Program

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—A plan for spending more than $35,000,000 in two years to put new life into under-developed countries was outlined by the United Nations today.

The plan is the U.N. response to President Truman's call for a bold new program designed to spread technical know-how around the world and raise the standards of living. This program must be approved by the U.N. Economic and Social Council and by the U.N. General Assembly.

It is not likely to get underway even if only partially approved until early in 1950.

The estimated cost of the technical assistance proposed in a 328-page report issued by U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie would be $35,822,676 the first year and $50,079,807 the second year.

Gilmer-Aikin School Reform Program Is Finally Enacted

AUSTIN (AP)—The Gilmer-Aikin school reform program was finally enacted by the 51st Legislature yesterday.

The House voted 110 to 24 to accept a Conference Committee report on the minimum foundation measure, the last of three bills to give Texas a new public school system.

The action sent the bill to the desk of Gov. Beauford H. Jester, whose signature was a certainty. The Senate accepted the committee report Tuesday.

Final House action came after backers of the bill beat down an effort to reject the Conference Committee report.

The bill will go into immediate effect upon the Governor's signature. One hundred votes were needed to make the measure immediately effective.

Foes of the Gilmer-Aikin program battled against a plan for temporarily administering the effect upon the Governor's signature. Three acts until the newly provided for elective board of education can go to work.

Wanda Giles Gets Private Pilot's License

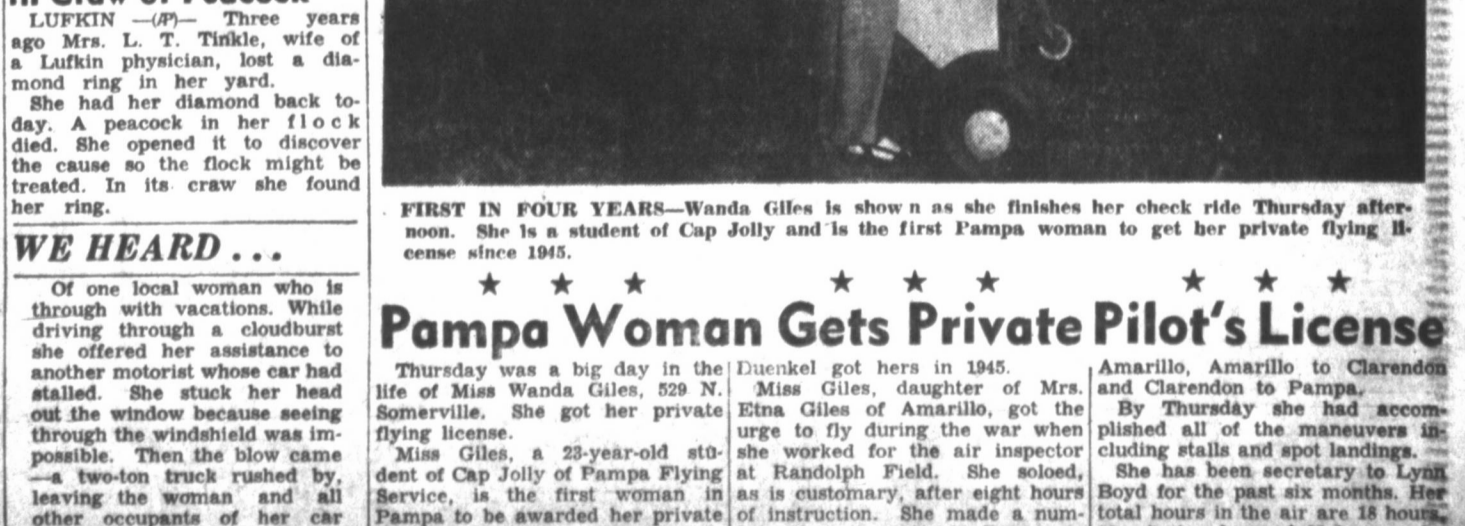

Thursday was a big day in the life of Miss Wanda Giles, 29 N. Somerville. She got her private flying license.

Miss Giles, a 23-year-old student of Cap Jolly of Pampa Flying Service, is the first woman in Pampa to be awarded her private license since Mrs. Charles O. Duenkel got hers in 1945.

Miss Giles, daughter of Mrs. Etta Giles of Amarillo, got the urge to fly during the war when she worked for the air inspector at Randolph Field. She soloed, as is customary, after eight hours of instruction. She made a number of cross-country—Pampa to Amarillo, Amarillo to Clarendon and Clarendon to Pampa.

By Thursday she had accomplished all of the maneuvers including stalls and spot landings.

She has been secretary to Lynn Boyd for the past six months. Her total hours in the air are 18 hours, 10 minutes duo and 32 hours solo.

FIRST IN FOUR YEARS—Wanda Giles is shown as she finishes her check ride Thursday afternoon. She is a student of Cap Jolly and is the first Pampa woman to get her private flying license since 1945.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcinate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any injected diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcinate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your draught and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcinate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 56, Whitesburg, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Barcinate has done for me. I weighed 265 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212. "I have taken my dress size down from size 56 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much slimmer I look than I did. "I am still taking Barcinate as I want to get my weight down to 160 or 170 pounds."

Texas Production Of Oil Unchanged

TULSA, Okla., (AP) — The United States' daily average crude oil production during the week ended May 28 dropped 12,378 barrels under the previous week's figure to a total average of 4,306,125 barrels, the Oil & Gas Journal reported.

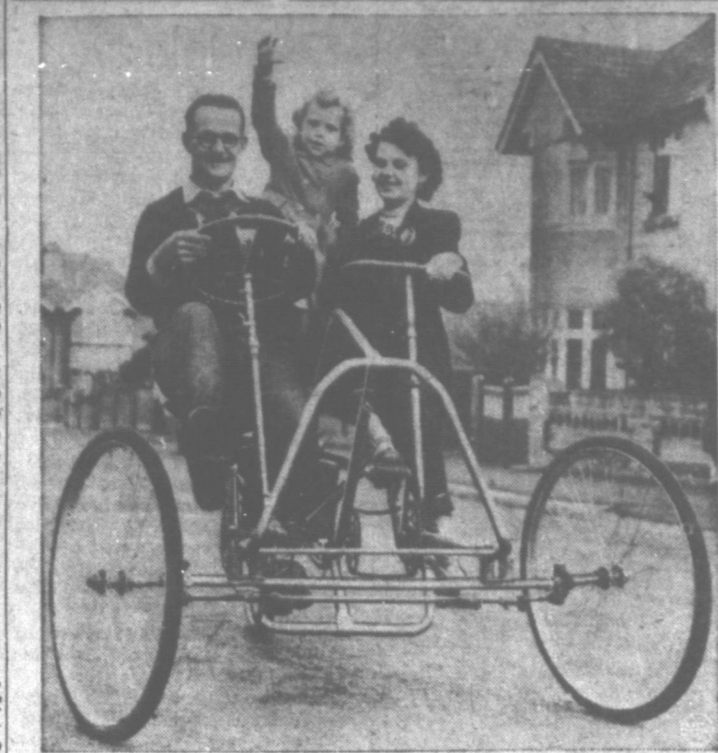

Greatest declines were in Michigan, down 3,000 barrels to 42,300 barrels; Kansas, off 30,450 barrels to 285,950; Mississippi, 1,900 to 106,600, and Wyoming, 1,800 to 121,300.

States with the best gains were Illinois, up 1,600 barrels to 177,000; Oklahoma, up 1,400 to 430,100; Louisiana, 1,200 to 502,205, and California, 1,000 to 839,200.

Arkansas climbed 250 barrels to 80,250, and Colorado gained 200 to 66,100.

Production was unchanged in Alabama, 1,200 barrels; Texas, 1,584,800; New Mexico, 129,825, and Montana, 28,700.

Clyde Littlefield, Texas' successful track coach, is one of the few — perhaps the only — Southwest Conference athletes to be the leading scorer in three sports during one school year. In 1915-16 he led the football scorers with 66 points, the basketballers with 87 in six games, and was high point man in track with 11.

Eisler Wants His Bail Back

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia. (AP) — Gerhart Eisler said Wednesday he is going to try to get back his $25,500 bail from the United States.

The German Communist said if he collects he will use the money to pay back a group in the United States who put up the bail he caused to be forfeited when he stole out of the United States on the Polish Liner Batory.

"I have instructed my British solicitors to see what grounds they can sue for," he said.

He told the Communist newspaper Rudo Pravo that if he can't collect the money he will "start to pay the sum from my income as soon as I can work for a democratic, unified and peaceful Germany."

Eisler arrived here by plane from London, enroute to Soviet-occupied Germany and a professorship at Leipzig University.

'Old Charlie' Given to College

CANYON—Old Charlie, a cement statue of a buffalo, was formally presented to West Texas State College last week at the annual Senior Day exercises. Sculptured by Clarence Kincaid of Amarillo, it was presented by Howard Moore, Dalhart Senior president, as the 1949 class gift.

Vaughn Vandergriff, Canyon, was awarded the Epsilon Beta award as the Senior boy who performed the most outstanding service to the college this year. A similar award was presented to June Wimberly, Canyon, by Pi Omega sorority.

The Seniors also honored Dr. D. A. Shirley, dean emeritus, and Dr. S. H. Condon, class sponsor who has been absent the past month because of illness.

Texas Business Law Said Archaic

AUSTIN — Texas laws regulating business corporations need revision, says a law professor in the current issue of Texas Law Review.

view, publication of the University of Texas Law School.

"The legislators who enacted in 1874 the last complete revision of the Texas corporation statutes probably had little idea of the dominant role that the corporate system would play in the economic life of the state today," Edmund O. Belsham, University of Nebraska law professor writes.

Belsham taught a course in corporations at the University Law School during the 1948 summer session. His article in the latest issue of Texas Law Review, "The Need for Revising the Texas Corporation Statutes," is material used in that country.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1943)

Shortly before President Truman and the Democrats recaptured control of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, two Republican members of the old Thomas Committee and three professional investigators held a final, comprehensive session with Whittaker Chambers, the repentant chief of a Soviet spy apparatus, at his farm home at Westminster, Md. The two congressmen sat as representatives and got from Chambers, under oath, statements which he had never made in any of his previous examinations by either the committee or the federal grand jury in New York. This material all has been suppressed by the new committee of lawyers chosen by the Democrats in obedience to President Truman's desire to discredit as a "red herring" proof that a Roosevelt administration was writing mass treacherous corruption and that his own administration was equally guilty or traitorously negligent.

This final examination of Chambers was held on Dec. 28, 1942, just before the power of the old committee under Republican control expired. It lasted from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until ten minutes of 8 in the evening. The congressmen, acting as a subcommittee, were Mundt and Nixon. The present members of the committee are Wheeler and Donald F. Appel, also investigators, who did such astonishing work last year uncovering traitorous conduct in the State Department and other departments. Mr. Mundt, since then elected senator, presided.

Discussing his own experiences, his "contacts" and the activities of others during a period from 1932 to 1934, Chambers swore that a Russian whom he knew as both Ulrich and Walter sent him to Dr. Philip Rosenblitt, a dentist, whose office was in the Western Union Building at 41st St. and Broadway, New York.

"I was sent there," Chambers swore, "to have work done on my teeth, but Doctor Rosenblitt did a minimum of work on my teeth but became very friendly and told me a number of interesting facts about underground work and Russian espionage."

Stripling: "Who sent you to Dr. Rosenblitt?"

Chambers: "Ulrich."

Mundt: "To get your teeth fixed?"

Chambers: "Yes. Actually I was sent to Rosenblitt so he could make personal observations about me. It was my understanding that Dr. Rosenblitt was a member of the secret service and through his office passed a great many, if not most, of the Soviet agents in this country over a number of years."

"One operation Dr. Rosenblitt told me about and which I am convinced was a matter of considerable importance was the mechanism of the Red Army. The doctor's story was that representatives of the Irish Republican Army in London made contact with the Soviet underground in New York and worked out a deal whereby an officer of the General Staff in Washington would turn over to a Soviet agent here various information that he had access to. In return, the Russians would furnish him with machine guns and other arms to the West Coast of Ireland. The submarines never showed up, but the deal was consummated at this end. At this end it was arranged by a man whose name I cannot recall, a sportsman and politician in Queens and who knew the general on the staff."

"The general agreed to turn over to Soviet agents all the material relating to Christie tanks, and did so, which was why the foreign representatives were surprised to see those rather American-looking tanks that paraded during one of the celebrations in Red Square. The big main I understand, and during prohibition they used to smuggle liquor — that is, Russian agents had to smuggle liquor into the country, to keep the general supplied. They did this through the same couriers as the communications. Somewhere, I heard that the general died in the '30's but I gather that he had practically mechanized the Red Army. The deal in London was that, in return for the general's services, the Russian government would send two submarines with arms to the West Coast of Ireland for the Irish Republican Army. The missing connection, perhaps is that the general was an Irish patriot or in touch with them and he has been quoted to me as saying he was doing it for the sake of Ireland but if he thought he was doing it for those dirty Communists or dirty Russians, he would never do it, which is probably the best evidence you need that he knew what he was doing. When the submarines failed to show up, two of these IRA (Irish Republican Army) boys appeared in Rosenblitt's office and threatened his life, but he managed to talk them out of it."

Chambers said that Adolf Hitler, not F. D. Roosevelt or any underling of his administration, finally frustrated the Russian spies in the United States, although only for a short time. He said that within about two weeks after he came to power, Hitler completely destroyed the communications system of the Russian espionage operating out of Germany on German ships.

"The Russian apparatus (in the United States) was actually cut off in that period," Chambers said.

Common Ground

Necessary Attitude Towards Government

The attitude people have towards government will largely determine the kind of government people have. Our attitude has materially changed from what was current in this country at the time of the Revolution of 1776 and throughout the early years of the Republic.

I know of no one who has explained this better than the playwright, Maxwell Anderson, in his comments on the politics of his play "Knickerbocker Holiday". The article was written in 1938. Mr. Anderson has written many plays and been awarded the Pulitzer prize several times. Two of his best known plays are "Night Over Toots" and "Joan of Lorraine".

He has about the same confidence in the government as this column has. I quote from this article about the necessity for a "Knickerbocker Holiday", I quote: "Knickerbocker Holiday" was obviously written to make an occasion for Kurt Weill's music, and since Mr. Weill responded by writing the best score in the history of the theatre, the play has been awarded the Pulitzer prize several times. Two of his best known plays are "Night Over Toots" and "Joan of Lorraine".

There was plenty of land available for such a layout, and it is generally conceded by physicians and medical experts that hospitals, schools and similar institutions should be built in accordance with this design if acquisition of sufficient ground does not prove too costly.

But when the plans were shown to the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, he protested, and drew a rough sketch of the present skyscraper hospital. "As finally developed and constructed, Bethesda Naval Hospital is one of the most beautiful buildings of its kind in the country. Architects approaching the Capital guide their flights by it."

TOWER — Specific criticism resulting from the Forrestal tragedy centers on the practice of placing patients, known to have suicidal tendencies high up in the tower.

Navy spokesmen explain that it is the custom to place "high hats" and "the brass" in this section of the hospital, whence they have an excellent view of the lovely countryside.

It is here that dignitaries like Cordell Hull, Harold L. Ickes and members of Congress are generally assigned. But the medical logical answer is that a "high hat" should not count when it is a matter of a man's life or death.

Were ground floor suites available for men like Mr. Forrestal, and had other elementary precautions been taken, he would probably be alive today. In fact, it is understood that this tragic incident may lead to a rearrangement of the institution's facilities from top to bottom.

SNUBBED — Representative Francis E. (Thad) Walter of Pennsylvania can hardly be blamed for his alleged attempt to get Roy E. James, who ran against Mr. Walter in the Congressional elections last fall, fired from his $8,500 post as a War Department program manager.

WASHINGTON — The most serious and constructive criticism of the Forrestal suicide revolves around the architecture of the Bethesda Naval Hospital, where he plunged to his death from the thirteenth floor.

The original architect's drawings of the structure, which stands only a mile from the writer's home, were for a two-story building sprawling across Maryland's rolling acres.

There was plenty of land available for such a layout, and it is generally conceded by physicians and medical experts that hospitals, schools and similar institutions should be built in accordance with this design if acquisition of sufficient ground does not prove too costly.

WHEELER — (Special) — Mrs. Ethel Armstrong of Pampa visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Black, last week.

Mrs. Mary Green of Binger, Okla., arrived Saturday to spend the holiday weekend with her father, Mr. F. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dequesne returned Saturday from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sells, and other relatives in Binger.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Warshaw of Binger arrived Sunday for a visit with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. S. Y. Algood.

Miss Bonnie Rae Tilley accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Bob Myers to Houston, where she will spend a two-week visit with them and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy Farmer of Mobeetie were guests in the E. E. Farmer home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Johnston of Mobeetie visited in Wheeler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Speck have as their guests this week Mrs. Speck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spears of Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker and son, Frank, Jr., were business visitors in Wheeler Saturday.

Pat Beene and Ray Hart of Andrews visited in Wheeler Saturday.

Thomas S. Jones of Canadian transacted business in Wheeler Saturday.

Mrs. R. D. Holt, who recently sold her home east of town to the Frank Wolfords, moved to Amarillo last Wednesday to make her home.

Mrs. Rev. and Mrs. S. Y. Algood returned home Sunday from Amarillo where they had attended the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference.

Rev. Algood was transferred to Gore, and his place in the local pulpit will be taken by the Rev. Darris Egger.

Rev. and Mrs. Algood came to Wheeler three years ago and have made many friends. The church has prospered under his direction and a successful revival was held just before the conference when 30 new members were added to the church roll.

REPLACEMENT — Messrs. Walter and Myers have not complained openly about their neglect at the hands of President Truman, but they have grumbled in the cloakrooms. But the avowed partisan attack on the James Byrd appointment by Mr. Walter was, presumably, his way of letting the White House know how he and his friends felt about this cold-shouldering.

When Mr. Truman looked around for a conservative replacement for Marriner S. Eccles as head of the Federal Reserve Board, he picked Thomas B. McCabe of Chester, Pa., a Union League Republican.

Although it is difficult to criticize this appointment, Messrs. Myers and Walter feel that there were plenty of able Democratic bankers and financiers in Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and points between on this influential position.

UNGRACIOUS — The naming of Carson to a Republican vacancy on the Federal Trade Commission was an even more ungracious treatment of the Pennsylvania politician.

As an extreme "liberal," the former secretary of Senator James Connors and admirer of the "Old Bob" La Follette-E or a h-Norris philosophy, Mr. Carson's attitude on this agency will not advantage Pennsylvania business and industry.

He will undoubtedly vote with the FTC group whose original action led to the Supreme Court decision wiping out the basing-point system that has enabled Pennsylvania and many other Northeastern industries to compete on equal terms with competitors in other sections of the country.

He will also go along with Mr. Truman's demand, even though changing conditions have made it obsolete, that the government finance steel expansion if the private companies do not increase their facilities.

Storage Space Needed for Crop

ABILENE — (AP) — Texas Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and seven Texas congressmen have been called on for aid in obtaining desperately needed storage space for this summer's wheat crop.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce wired Washington asking that the senators and congressmen contact the War Assets Administration or other agencies about obtaining some 100,000 Army tents or tarpaulins. The tents would provide shelter for the wheat.

Besides Connally and Johnson, the wires went to Reps. W. P. Foy, O. C. Fisher, Ed Gossett, George Mahon, Eugene Worley, Ken Regan and Omar Burleson.

Eisler Case Fully Proves Rights of Individual in Democratic Society

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Communist Gerhart Eisler is a living memorial to one of the most priceless treasures of the West: The rights of an individual in a democratic society, even when he'd like to destroy that society.

Twice convicted in the United States, but free on bail, pending appeal, he fled the U. S., was seized in England, was brought before an English judge, was freed on a legal technicality, and is now safe in Communist Eastern Europe.

His case was judged entirely on legal grounds, on what his rights were under the law—and not on political grounds, although a Congressional committee had called him America's No. 1 Communist and he had a notorious history of intrigue.

Suppose the situation had been reversed and Communist Eisler was in Russia, was considered the No. 1 foe of the Soviet regime, had committed a crime, fled, and was caught in another Communist country behind the Iron Curtain.

There isn't much doubt he would have been whisked back to Russia, probably without a court hearing at all, and for a reason that illustrates perfectly the difference in the attitude of the East and West toward an individual.

Under communism, an individual exists for the state, not the state for the individual. It's just the other way around in a democracy like America's or England's.

In the West, every individual has certain guaranteed rights, and he can appeal to the courts for protection of those rights if they're interfered with.

In this country Eisler was convicted of contempt of Congress and of falsifying a passport. He was sentenced to prison but got out on bail while he appealed to a higher court. Then he skipped to England.

In 1870 England and this country signed an agreement to return to one another a person who had been convicted of perjury in either country.

But the English judge decided that Eisler's falsification of a document here couldn't be considered perjury under the meaning of the treaty, because it didn't cover falsification of documents. So he refused to send Eisler back here.

Knowing perfectly well that Eisler, once let loose again, would be free to continue to try to destroy Western democratic government, the judge considered first and only what his rights were under the law, as an individual.

Oklahoma Wheat Harvest Continues

7 New Postal Boxes Erected

Seven new Post Office collection boxes have been added to various street corners in Pampa. W. B. Weathered, postmaster, said this morning.

New boxes have been added to the following corners: Summer and Alcock, S. Gray and Maple, Barnes and S. Cuyler, Frederic and Barnes, Faulkner and Wilks, Rose and Browning, Starkweather and Louisiana.

Postal carriers will pick up mail from these boxes twice a day on weekdays and once a day on Sundays and holidays. Residents using the boxes may observe the time the carriers will gather the mail, for a time schedule is attached to each box.

The new boxes are the first to be installed in Pampa in about three years, Weathered said. Applications have been made by the Post Office for additional boxes which will be installed upon arrival.

Hammond Receives Reappointment

GALVESTON, (AP) — Frank Hammond of Houston was temporarily reappointed U. S. marshal for the Southern District of Texas. President Truman has not named a successor to that post.

Banker Saves Children From Serious Injury

(CANADIAN) (Special)—Canadian's only near-serious Memorial Day accident occurred on the playground adjoining the First Baptist Church where some basketball goals were being moved and erected by a group of men including Harry Wilbur, Jr.

A winch truck was employed to handle the heavy poles with back-stap and goal attached. One of these poles was being lowered into its hole when the butt of the pole caught on the side of the hole. The resulting slack loosened the cable and allowed the pole to fall.

Wilbur saw it happen, but was concerned about some children who were watching the opera-

Soil Conservation, College Get Attention of Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—The lid on legislative spending was ajar today. The Senate in a long afternoon session yesterday stamped its approval on expenditure of $11,000,000 on two projects—$5,000,000 more than the House had approved for the same projects.

The House took yesterday afternoon off.

Approved were $10,000,000 for soil conservation and $100,000,000 to raise Lamar Junior College at Beaumont to a full four-year technological college.

The Senate doubled the House Soil Conservation figure.

If accepted by the House, it will boost the deficit already threatening the state to approximately $56,000,000, Senate Finance Chief James Taylor estimated.

Also written into the soil conservation bill by the Senate was an amendment to require a rental fee on machinery to be purchased under the provisions of the bill. The fee would never be less than the cost of labor, maintenance, depreciation and replacement of the equipment.

Adoption of the amendment followed two hours of filibuster by Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth who argued that the amendment was necessary to provide for replacement of the machinery when it wears out. The Senate adopted it after a rewriting acceptable to the bill's author.

The bill would provide the money for the use of soil conservation districts throughout the state to purchase machinery and equipment needed in each district. Purchases amounting to more than $1,000 would be made through the state Board of Control.

As originally drawn by Senator W. A. Shotner of Temple in the Senate and Rep. J. A. Luedemann of Brenham in the House, the bill called for the higher figure but had been pared by a House Committee.

"If we can afford to make state colleges out of junior colleges then let's help the farmers of this state conserve the soil they're going to have to dig into to provide for what we've already spent," argued Senator Hill Hudson of Pecos in recommending the increase.

Final approval of the bill was 22-3. The bill must return to the House for consideration of the Senate changes.

The Lamar College bill was passed 16-12. It goes to the Governor.

President Thinks We're Close to World Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman says he believes "we are closer to world peace now than at any other time in the past three years."

Former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill declares he has the growing hope "that we may avert forever the horrible vision of a third world war."

What justification is there for such optimism in view of the continued clashes between the Russians and the Western democracies in Europe, and the sweeping victories of the Moscow-inspired Communists in China?

There are plenty of signs that the dangers of world war have receded greatly in recent weeks. The chief reason is that the Communist drive westward across Europe has been stopped by the power of the democracies' counter-offensive. Not only has it been stopped but it has very largely spent its force and is without the sinews for recovery.

But what of China, which houses close to a quarter of the world's population and is possessed of vast natural resources? China certainly does present grave dangers, but at this stage they are more ideological than military. It is quite in the cards that Russia, even though dominating that vast country politically, would find it a white elephant.

This is so because China, while potentially a great power, is backward and undeveloped. From the military aspect she not only would not be any great asset to Russia, but on the contrary would involve heavy expenditures for development. Progress calls for mountainous efforts and great sums of money.

Putting China on her feet isn't a matter of years. It involves decades.

So at this juncture neither Europe nor the Orient hold threats of another world war in anything like the near future. Perhaps as Churchill says, it may be averted forever.

Hollywood Has Opinion On 'Greatest'

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What was the greatest performance in the history of motion pictures?

This is a question that draws sharply divided opinion in Hollywood. I have asked more film stars for their verdicts. Here are some of the latest answers:

Gene Autry—"The one I remember most is Greta Garbo in 'Camille.' I don't think that will ever be topped."

Lucille Ball—"Vivien Leigh in 'Gone With the Wind.' It's a difficult role and she did a great job."

Fred MacMurray—"It's hard to pick one, but I think Barbara Stanwyck in 'Stella Dallas' left the biggest impression with me."

Claudette Colbert—"I'll never forget Helen Hayes in 'The Sin of Madelon Claudet.' I cried and cried."

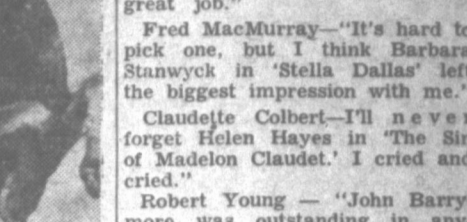

Robert Young—"John Barrymore was outstanding in anything... to name one, 'Topaz.' And Laurence Olivier's job in 'Hamlet' was one of the best of all time."

Irene Dunne—"Diana Wynyard in 'Cavalcade' stays in my memory as the best. She was fascinating."

Alan Ladd—"Clark Gable in 'Gone With the Wind.' That was the most perfect casting in history."

Jimmy Stewart—"I think maybe Frederick March in 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.' It was a frightening thing to watch."

Marie Wilson—"Charles Coburn in 'More the Merrier' was the funniest thing I've ever seen, especially the scene where he lost his pants."

 thinks can safely be taken from the Kommandatura.
 A clash between Acheson and Vishinsky developed yesterday when the Soviet minister declared the Western powers were in Berlin only because of international agreements at Potsdam.
 Acheson declared that in the West's view, the Americans, British and French were in Berlin because their armies had participated in a joint victory over the Nazis.
 Schuman, opening discussion on the Berlin situation, said the council was faced with three main problems:
 1. Reestablishment of four-power control of the city, including a decision on what to control.
 2. Establishment of a unified city government—the city is now split between the Eastern regime in the Soviet sector and a Western regime in the American, British and French sectors.
 3. Settlement of problems arising from the city's twin currency system—the Soviet sector uses East German marks and the other three sectors West German marks.

Officers Seeking Wielder of Gun

KAUFMAN, Tex. —(P)—Officers were searching the wooded areas in the deep forks of the Trinity River here today for a paroled convict believed to have shot three men last night.
 Kaufman County Sheriff Fred Guthrie said none of the three was injured, seriously when he sprayed with shotgun pellets in a domestic argument. The shooting occurred at a tenant house on the C. L. Wilson place in the Combine Community near here.
 The injured, all residents of Combine, were R. W. Walker, about 32; J. N. Battentine, about 30, and L. D. Gragone about 30, the sheriff said.

 pension bill before deciding what they propose.
 The pension bill would assume that any veteran is totally and permanently disabled at 65 years. That would remove a present standard which denies a pension to the 65-year-old veteran who can work half a day, or earn half a normal day's pay.
 The Veterans' Administration now requires a medical test showing at least 10 percent disability before the old veteran gets the $72 monthly pension.
 The bill also would allow a single veteran to earn up to $1,200 a year and receive a pension, now denied if he earns $1,000 or more. No change is made in the $2,500 income limit for a veteran with dependents.

 Some committee members are talking of calling Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves to answer Lillenthal's assertion that the atomic project was "bogged down" when the commission took over from the military.
 Groves was the Army officer in charge of the project.
 The committee gave Hickenlooper half-way backing yesterday in his demand that the atomic agency produce a dozen sets of documents to support his "maladministration" accusation.
 The joint Congressional group asked Lillenthal and his aides to lay before it: overtime pay for personnel in the commission's Washington headquarters.

 Commission General M. A. G. Carroll L. Wilson said he had ordered two of these persons kept on atomic laboratory payroll after 'Adm. John G. G. Hines, security officer, had held them were "poor risks."

 Speaker Rayburn summed up his impression of yesterday's talks:
 "I'm not overly optimistic, but I'm not overly pessimistic."
 The state officials agreed at the conclusion of the session to remain in the capital for possible talks today.
 Robert Lee Bobbitt, San Antonio and Laredo attorney, head of the Texas State Bar's Tideland Committee, and Fred Messing, editor of the Terrell, Tex., Tribune, also sat in on yesterday's conference. The latter was invited by Rayburn as a visiting constituent to attend the meeting.

 The matter was brought up at his news conference, in connection with talks going on here among state and federal officials trying to reach an agreement.
 House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), spokesman for the conferees, described their meeting yesterday as "very fruitful" though he said no agreement was reached.
 Today a reporter asked Mr. Truman if he would approve the legislation in case Rayburn's group reached a compromise. The President replied that he will answer that question when legislation reaches him.

Miss Wilson, who majored in religion, received her Bachelor's Degree in May. Smith, whose major is business administration, and Miss Kirk, whose major is biology, will receive their diplomas at the end of August.

Harlem Prison Farm Leads In System's Reorganization

SUGAR LAND — (P) — The 4,000-acre Harlem Prison Farm is leading the way in the Texas Prison System's new agriculture program.
 Prison General Manager O. R. Ellis says the Sugar Land farm is ahead of all other units in the agriculture program which is being emphasized in Ellis' reorganization plan for the system.
 Ellis and Harlem Warden Joe Hines say the farm this year will produce more Irish potatoes than the entire system did last year. Production is expected to jump from last year's 3,700 sacks to 100 acres to about 14,000 from 200 acres.
 Last year the entire system's potato crop totaled 13,000 sacks. But this isn't the main crop at Harlem.
 Cotton still is king in the Texas Prison System and Ellis hopes to get at least 1,800 bales out of the 2,500 acres planted this year, compared with 601 bales out of 1,136 acres in 1948.
 Hines, an employee of the prison system 20 years and a farm warden the past six years, credits mechanized equipment for a large portion of the progress made in agriculture at Harlem.
 A year ago the farm was being worked with mules and outmoded equipment.
 The Ellis plan for reorganization and mechanization of the prison system was approved early this year by the 51st Legislature.
 The Roanoke, Va., club of the Piedmont League is spurring attendance by having "Men's Nights."

Petroleum Fire Still Blazing

OMAHA — (P) — A spectacular fire which already had destroyed more than a half million gallons of oil continued to flare up intermittently Wednesday.

Firemen, more than 17 hours after the fire's outbreak, continued trying to keep the blaze from spreading to a mammoth crude oil tank holding approximately 800,000 gallons.

Approximately a dozen — the counts varied — smaller tanks at the Searle Petroleum Company storage yards already had gone up in bursts of flame and acid

IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Dorothy Sarnoff, the prima donna who looks like Mariette Dietrich and who chins herself on a gymnast's bar before singing, gave me the lowdown on backstage manners of light opera.

Scene-stealing in Hollywood, it appears, is harmless fun compared to the nasty things that go on while the ballet is tripping the light fantastic or the soubrette is making eyes at the tenor with the pearly store teeth and curly toupée.

Dorothy wouldn't name a any names, of course. She wants to go on singing without having a potted palm fall on her, some night.

As a matter of fact, a chunk of glass from an exploding stage light did land in her hair one night.

It was hot and it singed her hair. But she went right on singing, oblivious of what was happening. When she got into the wings she discovered she was a singer with a singe on top.

But that wasn't backstage skulduggery. Strictly accidental, she assured me.

I found Dorothy, a New York-born Cornell U. graduate, who has been singing professionally only eight years, putting on make-up in her dressing room before a performance here of "The Great Waltz."

I had to duck under a portable gymnast's bar stretched across the dressing-room door. The chin-ups are great, she said, for stomach muscles and for limbering up.

PRIMA DONNA PROBLEMS

But about those backstage temperaments:

Dorothy had some notes in her purse because, she said, "I want to tell the truth."

Last season she starred in "Magdalene," which requires two prima donnas. The author didn't realize, apparently, that two prima donnas in one company can be the equivalent of two of Artie Shaw's ex-wives at a party. (I've known several who could start riots all by their little selves.)

There were two prima donnas. The other warbler then developed a little trick to make Dorothy late for a singing cue. Dorothy had to lead her across the stage, help her to a seat and simultaneously go into a song. The nasty prima donna discovered that by hesitating a few seconds before sitting down she could throw Dorothy off cue.

It happened several times and then Dorothy chinned herself a couple of extra times on her portable gym bar. At the next performance she put a vice-like grip on the singer's arm, practically dragged her across the stage and whispered:

"You sit down this time or I'll knock you down."

Dorothy said she didn't have any more trouble after that.

CURING "ROSALINDA"

Then there was "Rosalinda" and the soubrette who was playing the role of Dorothy's maid. A very jealous soubrette, we should say. The young lady just didn't like her. One scene had Dorothy removing her dress and five petticoats (I can't understand why I missed "Rosalinda") with assistance.

Came one night and the soubrette knelt down to help her out of the clothes. The dress and the five petticoats dropped but the soubrette made no move to pick them up, as the script said. She just leered up at Dorothy with a "well, what are you going to do now?" expression.

"She finally picked them up and left the stage in a hurry," Dorothy said. "I stepped on her hand lightly, I could have crushed it and she knew it."

Naturally, there's all kinds of upstaging to steal scenes. It reminded Dorothy of talking about said she was bothered with a leading man who continually upstaged her until one night Jane invited him to her dressing room and said:

"Young man, would you do me a tremendous favor tonight and downstage me for a change?"

Highly-seasoned foods are synonymous with all male opera stars. Dorothy told me about the tenor with the perpetual garlic breath who was turning her face sour in their love scenes. She finally got him to promise that he would eat garlic only after the performance.

He kept the promise for a week and then, just before curtain time, she received a note from the fellow. He enclosed a clove of garlic and wrote:

"I have erred tonight. Here's the antidote."

"Sure, I ate it," Dorothy said, "and it was the best love scene we ever played together—even if we did stink."

Well, anyway, light opera music is sweet.

MAJOR VICTORY

LONDON — (P) — Greek guerrillas claimed a "major victory" today in the Grammos Mountains.

The guerrilla radio said as a result of 11 hours fighting which ended near dawn today "the key position of Fikomata" was captured, with 291 government troops killed and 177 taken prisoner.

High Water Brings About Good Fishing

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff
AUSTIN —(AP)— High water on the Colorado River Lakes and other Texas streams has brought reports of phenomenal catfish catches to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

It seems that flood water washes fish food into the water, stirs up the big cats and puts them on the prowl for goodies. Fishermen smart enough to offer them grasshoppers, shrimp, bloodbait or anything edible or apparently edible cash in.

One of the hottest spots in the state in recent weeks has been the fast water below the old dam at Marble Falls in Burnet County.

This is actually the upper end of Lake Travis. This lake, especially around the creeks and sloughs feeding into it, has paid off. The same is true for Roy Inks and Buchanan Lakes.

Reports from Marble Falls say fishermen have been lining the banks below the old dam shoulder-to-shoulder, hauling in big catches of catfish, "barn-door" white perch and white bass.

A "barn-door" white perch is a white perch that looks as big as a barn door, but really isn't.

Some of the Marble Falls fishermen have said they were catching salt water cats, but Marion Toole, chief aquatic biologist of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission doesn't think so.

The commission doesn't stock fresh water with salt water cats because they can't live in that habitat. They stock channel cats and blue cats. They look something like salt water hard-heads and gafftops, but they aren't.

There is one sure way of knowing whether a catfish is a salt water or fresh water fish, Toole says.

A salt water cat has six barbels, or whiskers. A fresh water cat has eight whiskers.

All you have to do is count the cat's whiskers.

Science Is Making Progress In Learning About Polio Bug

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Science is just beginning to learn how to grow the virus, or germ, that causes infantile paralysis, Dr. Kenneth R. Maxcey of Baltimore said Monday.

But this is the next major step toward the hoped-for development of a preventive vaccine, he said.

Meanwhile, there are no known specific means of combating epidemics of poliomyelitis except those recognized for years as helpful in curbing the spread of the disease, he told public health officers of 11 Western states and Hawaii.

These familiar municipal measures are:

Quarantine of known cases, maintenance of high sanitary standards, decrease of contact among children during outbreaks, and other restrictions on the population which may seem necessary under variable conditions.

Maxcey is professor of epidemiology at Johns Hopkins University's School of Hygiene and Public Health. He addressed 1000 delegates to the annual meeting of the Western branch, American Public Health Association.

Maxcey said that infantile paralysis apparently is far more widely distributed in the population than is indicated by the number of known cases. For every case in which paralysis occurs, there may be as many as 100 cases so minor that only temporary discomfort is noted. Most of these, as a result, are never specifically identified as poliomyelitis.

In California, which had an exceptionally high number of recognized cases last year, about 45 percent of adults seem to have acquired immunity, he said. The disease everywhere is far more prevalent among children. Others of his observations:

Research indicates this immunity is acquired by direct contact with the disease—in other words, by a mild attack, usually unidentifiable as polio, occurring most often in childhood.

All evidence points to transmission of the disease by human contact, since polio does not seem to occur naturally among any animals, birds or fishes.

The virus has been found occasionally of flies, by analysis of cultures from thousands of insects gathered during epidemics. But flies have never been established as an important carrier.

Neither has a water supply, sewage disposal or milk been shown conclusively to be a dangerous source of a carrier. Conditions must be simple, because polio occurs everywhere in the world, in all climates and seasons. Its prevalence is higher, however, during hot weather.

Despite greatly improved sanitation methods and water supply, the paralytic form of polio seems to have increased in recent years, although percentages are to determine because of the number of unrecognized mild cases.

A vaccine, or an anti-biotic (an organism that fights germs by arresting their development), appears to be the best ammunition against the disease. No effective anti-biotic has been developed, but a vaccine that immunizes safely has been used on monkeys and chimpanzees.

This vaccine is not yet considered safe for humans, but may be made so when scientists are able to grow the virus readily in laboratories. Several universities, including Johns Hopkins, are doing intensive work in this field.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

Copyright by Hugh Lawrence Nelson
Distributed by M&A Service Inc.

THE STORY: Four lonely women, selected through a matrimonial club are guests of Henry Gough Harding, eccentric master of Spear Island, who seeks to create a "New Eden" and new way of life. Four fresh graves on the island testify to the fate of the women, all of it explained in this story.

These are graves of workmen killed by accidents. Then Bea, Grace and Harding and four others, stranded her were Agnes and Mabel Jones.

"I'm reading aloud," Bea said. "Reading? Well think of that. Come on girls. Let's have a drink." Harding had paid no attention to the interruption so Bea went on.

"But when one of the sailors braver than the rest, approached the pile of precious metal and snatched up a small piece, from the depth of the cave was heard the continuous rattling of the monster guardian of the treasure."

The terror of the men was so great they would not leave the tiny beach again, and in fact only a small part of the water casks were filled.

"Lured by the piece of gold the sailor had clutched even in his fight, Sir Rodney had himself rowed ashore and since no one would accompany him, went alone to investigate. He did not return. For two days the Lightningbolt lay offshore, until driven before a violent storm."

"Reaching England eventually, the tiny island was given the name of the man it had killed. Spear Island. And the sailors themselves spoke often of the 'Place of the Monster and the Cave of the Gaspas.'"

Harding interrupted. "How do you like it?" he asked with pretended indifference.

"It's very interesting," Bea said carefully.

"I found the cave you mentioned," she added.

"I wondered if you had. I was going to show it to you on our way back up. There really isn't any mystery about it. The cave drops deeply at one end. There is a huge rock, balanced, caught between immovable masses that form a perfect natural hinge. The action of tides in the underground opening to the sea makes the rock swing back and forth. It makes the sound."

"What makes the smell?"

"The smell? There's no smell but the sea."

"It's really sweet to me like the hair of a wild animal."

Harding chuckled. "Your imagination. Or it's possible a sheep might have wandered inside and fallen. That rock moves its top end enough to crush out a life. Now, I'd better fix drinks for the others. Read on if you like."

When she was alone she skimmed quickly through the pages. She read carefully the part which told of Harding's acquisition of the island, his first landing with gangs of men and loads of materials to begin the construction work. One paragraph dated only a few months previously called for special attention.

The first accident today. A premature blast caught four workmen, carried them with a mass of rubble down a steep slope and left them at the cliff foot half in and half out of the water. A quick dead, stupid look. How was I to know they did not understand when I told them to get out and set off the blast?

A few pages later she found the entry:

"This day I have chosen from the applicants four who might prove worthy to share the life on Spear Island with me. Astonishingly few applied, which I cannot understand. But in a few short weeks now the new era of life on Spear Island will begin—"

Bea looked up again, saw Harding watching her from the doorway. "How much of this is true? I mean of the old history of the island?"

"You're discerning," Harding said. "I was right to trust you to read. I am making history here. What is written is the way I want it to be. So it is true. The past and the present, I control and make them both."

"And the future?"

"That too I shall control," Harding said firmly.

Mabel Jones called. "There's something at the door."

"Impossible," Harding snapped. "It's the wind."

Lilly Warren screamed. "A face! A face I tell you. A white face at the door."

Russians Free Four Consular Employees

HAMBURG, Germany—(AP)— A Texas woman and three other U. S. consular employees have been freed by the Russians after being held for over 24 hours.

Miss Katherine Davis, Conroe, Texas; Miss Mona Meier, Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Margery Ann Combs, Montclair, N. J.; and Vice Consul John Perry, Boston, Mass., were the temporary prisoners.

Their sail boat drifted onto the shore of the Soviet Zone of Germany during a weekend holiday. They had set out from the British side of Travemunde Bay, but a strong wind took them to the Red side, and they went ashore for food and safety.

The next evening the Russians permitted them to return to the British Zone.

Miss Davis said Wednesday they were all well treated "by Russian standards."

Man, Center of Marital Mixup, Back in Army

NEW YORK, (AP)— Anthony Martino, listed official as dead or missing for five years and center of a two-family marital mixup, is back in the Army.

The Army, after he had reported for a checkup of his nebulous status, announced he returned to its ranks "technically" May 8 when he first informed military authorities he was alive.

Martino, 40, who had been given up for dead in action in France in 1944 said he had no desire to see his legal wife, Mrs. Mary Martino, 37, of Waterbury, Conn.

In Waterbury, Mrs. Martino, who learned that her husband had a wartime mate and one child on Staten Island, announced she would seek a legal separation.

Col. John S. Rosama, First Army provost marshal, said "as of now we're bring him back into the Army like any other soldier who surrenders himself after being absent from his unit."

Martino appeared at the Army Recruiting Station, where he called a few weeks ago to get his Army records straight. He said he didn't know how he got home from Europe. He was identified through fingerprints as the man carried on Army lists of dead.

15 of 21 Lawmakers Approve Vet Pensions

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Fifteen of Texas' 21 Congressmen have voted for the Veterans' Pension Bill.

Only two, 14ps. Teague and Wilson, voted against the measure.

Absent or not voting were Reps. Rayburn, Combs, Lucas and Reagan.

Speaker Rayburn does not vote except when there is a tie vote. The measure was approved 365 to 27.

Orchestra Leader To Fight Annulment

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)— Orchestra Leader Don Sylvio said he would fight any attempt of his wife Gladys, who is the mother of Screen Actress Margaret O'Brien, to obtain an annulment of their marriage.

"There was no fraud in our marriage and the marriage was consummated," he said. "How can it be annulled?"

Mrs. Sylvio's announcement said had nothing to do with the decision "but she is very happy about the whole thing."

Margaret has made no secret of her dislike for her mother's marriage.

San Angelo Has 36 Polio Cases

SAN ANGELO, (AP)— SAN Angelo's polio epidemic continued Wednesday with 36 persons in polio wards in local hospitals.

The local Health Department officially reported the count reached 37 since Jan. 1—exactly the same number of cases tallied here for all of 1948. Twenty-seven of these cases were reported to the health unit since May 16.

There is a time lag in reports to the health unit. Actually there have been an estimated 65 cases since Jan. 1.

So far this year there have been three deaths, one officially reported as polio-caused and the other two reported by hospitals as polio.

One of the youngsters was from Sonora and another from Miles, a community near San Angelo. The third was from Christoval about 20 miles south of here.

The third child, Donald Shipley, 7, son of Mr and Mrs. Sid Shipley died at 4 a.m. Wednesday morning, reportedly a victim of polio.

George Gebhardt, captain of the championship Syracuse University wrestling team, is a low 70 golfer.

Jaycees Collecting Fishing Equipment for Boy's Ranch

ADDED ATTRACTION—Model Jo Jordan shows off a novel button on-off strap on a new plunging neckline, off-shoulder swim suit in Chicago. Idea of the new addition is to promote an even tan, unmarked by bra straps.

Nearly a dozen pieces of fishing equipment have been collected by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for the boys at Boy's Ranch. Don Foster announced at this week's Jaycee luncheon meeting.

When a cattle guard for the ranch, adopted as a club project, was delivered recently, the club learned that there is only one rod and reel available for 114 boys, and that is privately owned.

Dory Funk, a professional wrestler of Hammond, Ind., is athletic director at the ranch west of Amarillo and his rod and reel is the only fishing tackle available for the boys' use. During the past winter, Funk appeared at the Sportatorium several times, and at one time held the Southwest junior heavyweight wrestling title.

The Pampa Jaycees during the past few weeks have been collecting donated fishing tackle, and they now have a half-dozen rods and several reels. This, however, is a very small amount for 114 boys to use, Foster said, and if anyone who has not been contacted yet has any spare tackle, regardless of its state of repair, he is asked to bring it to Rusty Ward, at the Texas Printing Co., 313 N. Ballard, or call Foster at the Pampa Furniture Co. and arrangements will be made to pick it up.

Bill Braly of Lubbock, who is now associated with the Modern Appliance Co., was introduced this week at the Pampa club's newest member.

Earl McConnell showed a motion picture taken at the fishing city of Gloucester, Mass., showing in color the life of the men who go down to the sea in ships. Other guests, besides McConnell, were L. G. Earhart and Paul West.

family would hold an emergency conference. "The old man's crazy," they'd say in chorus. "And they'd send for the sheriff. And by the time he arrived, there would be Chief Harper. The neighbors would have sent for him. If there are people anywhere like I saw in 'The Death of a Salesman', I don't know them."

Herb Hoene, sophomore tennis prospect at Notre Dame, is the brother of Dave Hoene, Marquette's tennis coach.

APPLIED TO BE RED—Dr. Isador S. Edelman, 39, holder of a $3750-a-year Atomic Energy Commission fellowship, told a joint congressional atomic committee he applied for Communist Party membership in 1943 but was never admitted. The committee is investigating the commission's policy of making education grants without screening Reds from the applicants. Edelman is on the medical staff of Harvard University.

Hank Baron, captain of last year's Syracuse University tennis team, is the coach of this year's squad.

Dazzles Neighbors

"Last week my backyard became the showplace of the neighborhood," says Mrs. William Cummerow, 214 Sunset Blvd., Toledo, "because it was the first Perk wash I'd ever hung out on the line—and it was literally dazzling white. What with all the compliments I got, I wouldn't use anything else now—besides Perk saves me money to boot." Mrs. Cummerow's experience proves like 1218 washing tests before her, that Perk washes better... faster... and saves you money. Only Perk contains miracle washing ingredient, Armocel. WHAT DID YOUR MOTHER GIVE HIS BIRTHDAY?

MOTHER AND I GAVE HIM A PERFECTLY LOVELY LAWN-MOWER.

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. WILLIAMS OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Heeplo

SH-H-H! THE BOOTS ARE IN CASE THE THING BITES WHEN HE COMES OUT! GIVE ME TH' CLAM HAMMER AND WE'LL MAKE IT LOOK AS THOUGH HE'D SQUEEZED OUT—I COULDN'T SLEEP FOR THINKING OF THAT POOR WILD THING PACING AND PACING BACK AND FORTH!

UM! "THE SMELL WOULD MAKE A GOAT LEAVE HOME!" HEH-HEH! "SAMB EFFECT AS EMERY PAPER!" HEH-HEH! UM!

YOU'RE ONE OF THE GUIDES IN THIS PARK, TWIGGS—WHAT'S HE FISHING FOR? ALL WE CAN GET OUT OF HIM IS CORROSIVE BURPS!

THIS IS AS SECRET AS A BILLBOARD—JUST STICK AROUND AND YOU'LL FEEL THE QUAKE WHEN IT HITS!

HE'S BEEN THERE PUNCHING AWAY FOUR HOURS!

Born Thirty Years Too Soon

DADDY, WILL YOU GIVE ME TEN CENTS, PLEASE?

NOPE! FIVE CENTS THE LIMIT!

TEN CENTS

FIVE CENTS

TEN CENTS

FIVE CENTS

TEN CENTS

OKAY, I'LL TAKE THE TEN CENTS

I'M GLAD YOU SAW IT MY WAY

WE'LL SPLIT UP HERE, OVVLE! AN' REMEMBER—YOUR ONE ASSET IS YOUR HEALTH! KEEP IT... DON'T TRY DOUBLE-CROSSIN' JAKE PILCHER!

NO INDEED, UNCLE JAKE! IF I GOT YER DIRECTIONS FIXED IN ME HEAD... IFFEN I CAN FIND BUGGYWHIP TEXAS, DA LOOT IS IN DA BAG!

MEANWHILE, IN BUGGYWHIP—

I GOTTA GET BACK TO WICHTA FALLS AND LOOK AFTER CATHY, EASY. SORRY WE DIDN'T CATCH LEW KASKY AT HOME!

THINK I'LL STAY HERE TILL I SEE HIM, GIG—MAYBE SLEEP IN YOUR BUILDING AND CATCH THAT GHOST!

OKAY, AND SINCE YOU'RE SO INTERESTED IN THAT OLD BANK ROBBERY, TOO, WHY NOT TALK TO MR. WEEDE? HE SAW THE OUTLAWS CAPTURED!

JUSTICE PEAC!

BE CAREFUL TONIGHT, STAN!

DON'T WORRY, DAD! BUCK AND I SAW WHAT TO DO—IF THE SHERIFF GETS NOSEY!

MEANWHILE

OH-OH MRS. HOYT, I MEAN MOTHER—DONT GET EXCITED IT MAY BRING ON A SETBACK...

I REALIZE THAT A PERSON OF YOUR AGE DISLIKES CHANGES... BUT I THOUGHT A FEW DAYS AT OUR HOUSE MIGHT...

MIGHT HOLD MR. ROCKWELL IN TOWN LONG ENOUGH FOR YOU TO FINISH THAT BUSINESS DEAL?

WHY DON'T YOU COME RIGHT OUT INSTEAD OF BEATING AROUND THE BUSHES MY STARS!

AND, OF COURSE, I COULDN'T TELL WHY BRUNCH HATES ME BECAUSE I DON'T WANT TO DRAG MINNY AND CHARLIE INTO IT!

IF THEY WERE HERE, PHIL, I'M SURE THEY WOULD WISE UP UPON YOUR TELLING THE WHOLE STORY!

I KNOW THAT WOULD CONRAD—BUT WITH THEM NOT BEING HERE, I—

PHIL—AND I CAN SPEAK FOR THEM! AND WHEN THE GOVERNOR CALLS YOU UP THERE AGAIN, I'LL GO WITH YOU!

WHY NOT COME HOME WITH ME—AND SPEND THE NIGHT? SO WE CAN DISCUSS THINGS THOROUGHLY!

THAT MIGHT BE A GOOD IDEA, CONRAD! I'VE ONLY TOLD YOU HALF THE THINGS THAT KRUNCH HAS SAID!

TAXI STAND!

DO YOU THINK WE SHOULD'VE LET HIM GO HOME WITH A CONRAD, SERGEANT? HE MAY STAY OUT THERE A COUPLE OF DAYS!

FRANKLY, MICKEY, I HOPE HE DOES! THERE'LL BE A FLOCK OF REPORTERS TOMORROW—AND IT'LL BE BETTER IF HE ISN'T AROUND!

YOU'LL STAY IN UNTIL YOU STRAIGHTEN YOUR ROOM!

YOU SURE WILL!

IT'S TIME YOU LEARN TO DO AS YOU'RE TOLD!

IT SURE IS!!

YOU'RE MAKING A REGULAR CRANK OUT OF ME!!

YOU SURE ARE!

SHORTY POPS OFF—A striking western Berlin railway worker loudly jeers at Soviet army officer at Templehof railway station during a demonstration. But the Red officer unconcernedly puts a cigaret in his mouth. Mob violence has flared several times in the strike of 15,000 workers against the Russian-controlled city railway system.

AIR FORCE MAPS ALASKAN "WASTELANDS"—With mounted aerial cameras shooting every 30 seconds, a B-29 of the Air Force's 72nd Reconnaissance Squadron tracks south over typically rugged Alaskan terrain on a photo-run. Since 1946, the unit has mapped more than 2,400,000 square miles of Alaska and Arctic regions, once labeled wasteland because it defied exploration.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

I recently met Hildegard and while she is not on the radio at the present time, she still keeps night club crowds in a jovial mood with her songs. She has a distinct personality of her own.

We were discussing the great number of people who play cards.

Hildegard said interest in cards would never die out. This is her reason for saying, "People are a lot of fun and bridge especially provides the opportunity for a person to meet a lot of people. And if they will play bridge for fun, they will have a lot of fun."

Hildegard is from Milwaukee, Wis., and her mother and sisters are still there. She got her start with "Jerry and her baby grand pianos." When you meet her you can well understand why the Veterans of Foreign Wars presented her with a gold poppy and made her a Buddy Poppy aide.

Hildegard claims she makes a bad partner at bridge. They even object to the way she plays gin rummy, because she plays only her own hand. "But I always win and then they get mad at me," she says.

I can well understand all this when things happen like they did on today's hand, in a recent tournament.

Strangely enough some players will not open with the South hand. Personally, it is my ideal three-diamond bid, which shows a six-card suit headed by the ace, king and queen. The declarer I was playing did bid three diamonds. His partner bid three no trump.

The opening heart lead was a won with the king. Declarer went over to the dummy's jack of diamonds. The dealer of clubs was led and when West played low the jack won the trick. Now the declarer had nine tricks for his contract. At another table I saw the East and West players make six spades on this hand.

Secret of Creamy Fudge

When your youngsters make fudge, suggest that they put it over low heat at the beginning and stir constantly until every grain of sugar is dissolved. This careful dissolution of the sugar is one of the secrets of making creamy fudge.

Catholic Women Hold Annual Tea

The Parish Council of Catholic Women held an annual tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. D. McNamara with Mrs. C. A. Husted and Mrs. Frank Walker as co-hostesses.

A white linen cloth covered the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of roses and mock oranges. Individual white cakes topped with blue rose buds and nuts were served to the guests. Miss Ann McNamara presided at the punch bowl. Miss Jeanne Wade and Miss Delores Blymiller played background music during the entertaining hour.

A film, "Charity In Action," was shown followed by a panel discussion, "Women of the Bible." Mrs. Paul Kiem was discussion leader and Mrs. Margaret Dial, S. N. Hills, and J. W. Garman III, were members of the panel.

Nut sandwiches make a fine addition to a summer salad plate of vegetables or fruit. To make the nut butter for the sandwich filling simply cream the butter well and add finely ground pecan or walnut meats. Season with salt.

WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Lots of housewives who think they are overworked and tied down have time for things a working girl can't manage.

Time for long, chatty telephone conversations with other housewives.

Time for an afternoon tea or bridge game now and then.

Time to shop leisurely enough to hunt for bargains or find just the right dress or hat.

Time to catch a short nap when the children are taking theirs, if the day has been especially hard.

Time to do their marketing in the morning before the markets are crowded, instead of having to wait until the five to six o'clock rush.

TIME FOR PARTIES

Time to spend hours preparing for a party, when they entertain.

Perhaps, even time for membership in a club or two, or for some handicraft that can be done in the home.

Time to put things off until tomorrow, if today isn't going too well.

What the woman who feels she is tied to her home fails to take into consideration is the fact that the working girl whose freedom she sometimes envies is also tied—only she is tied to an office. And being tied to a home is in no way as confining as being tied to an office day after day.

Remember that next time you get to feeling sorry for yourself because you are tied down.

Kit Kat Klub Will Have Elections At Next Meeting

Miss Arvilla Patterson, president, conducted the business meeting, which was held in the home of Miss Jan Sanders, club parliamentarian.

Refreshments of cookies and cakes were served to those present.

Members attending were: Misses Arvilla Patterson, Nancy Patterson, Laura Nell Berry, Vivian Brake, Beverly Brandt, Eulaine Ellis, Jane Hampton, Eamelle Johnson, Berdene Laycock, Cheri McDaniels, Virginia McNaughton, Delores Miller, Jewell Moseley, Donna Nestel, Tyke Noel, Phoebe Osborne, Clarice Parks, Martha Parks, Ann Perkins, Harriet Schwartz, Betty Fern Wilson, Jane Wilson, and the hostess.

Mrs. Harris to Join Army Pilot Husband

WHEELER—(Special)—Mrs. Wallace Harris, accompanied by her two children and father, Wallace Robison, left for New Orleans last Thursday. She will board a ship bound for the Panama Canal where her husband, Major Wallace Harris, will be stationed.

Major Harris is a pilot in the Army Air Force and spent several years overseas during the war. While on Guam for the last ten months, he was elected as mayor of the island.

Navy Mars flying boats carried 21,277 passengers without a n accident during 1948.

Texas City Explosions Described

GALVESTON, (AP)—A man who counts himself lucky to be alive described two explosions—only seconds apart—which started the Texas City disaster of April 16-17, 1947.

Harley Bowen, foreman then for the Texas City Terminal Railway, said he was only about 25 feet from the French Freighter Grandcamp when the ship blew up.

Bowen testified in a $200,000 damage suit growing out of the disaster. The Grandcamp explosion touched off a series of blasts and fires that left more than 500 persons dead or missing, about 4,000 injured, and millions in damages.

Bowen, closest person to the Grandcamp to survive, said the first explosion knocked him into the water. Seconds later another blast knocked him 100 feet across the dock, he testified.

E. J. Kinser, a longshoreman, testified that in handling bags of ammonium nitrate fertilizer—which was aboard the Grandcamp—he noticed that the bags often were so hot as to be uncomfortable to handle.

Some of the bags were parched, and the bottoms often broke open, he testified. He said that he reached only the 5th or 6th grade in school and knew nothing about chemistry, but thought smoke he saw coming from the Grandcamp was from the fertilizer burning because it was the same deep orange color as the fertilizer itself.

Pretty Salad Dessert

For a pretty fruit salad dessert, peel oranges so that no white membrane remains. Cut in circles. Arrange the orange slices on a bed of watercress, wheel-fashion, and center with a square of cream cheese and ripe strawberries that have not been hulled. A good dressing for this dessert salad is a mixture of mayonnaise and sour cream, or mayonnaise folded into sweetened whipped cream.
