One Killed, 31 Injured as Bus Overturns

Driver Same Involved in Hogan Wreck

LORAIN — (AP) — A loaded Greyhound bus overturned on a rain-slicked curve in the pre-dawn darkness near here yesterday. One passenger was killed and 31 injured, one critically.

Killed was T. M. Harris, 57, of Bartlesville, Okla., who had been working for Magnolia Petroleum Company at Odessa, Tex.

Approaching an underpass on Highway 30 west of here, the bus skidded, turned over once and landed back on its wheels in a shallow ditch to the right of the highway, headed in the opposite direction. The back-end of the bus was crushed.

A heavy rain and hail storm was underway at the time of the accident. The rain continued falling through the morning, soaking the blood-stained passengers and rescuers alike. Amputees from hospitals at Roscoe and Colorado City, Colo., were brought to a hospital here for a helping hand to Loraine ambulance crews.

Critically hurt was Mrs. Roy Blackmon, 53, Blanket, Tex., hospitalized at Colorado City with head injuries and a possibly fractured pelvis.

Hours after the accident, dazed, bloody and bandaged victims of the crash still crowded lobbies and halls of hospitals at Roscoe and Colorado City. Those with superficial hurts stood or sat in the halls.

The bus driver, Alvin H. Logan, 27, was the same Greyhound driver involved in the Feb. 9 accident 20 miles west of Van Horn, Tex., in which Collier Ben Hogan was seriously hurt. Logan is to be tried at Van Horn May 11 on charges of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, as a (See BUS WRECK, Page 8)

Teaching Profession Offers New Perils

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — New perils in the teaching profession.

Walter Newland, 31, math instructor at Washington Junior High School, was taken to Seaside Hospital because a student bit him on the hand.

School officials said the student, 12-year-old Snow Ann Mangrum, had been disciplined by Newland.

Certain Areas Are in the City, Yet Not In the City — You Figure This One Out

Mathematicians have long maintained that "no two solid objects can occupy the same given space at the same given time," but this theory, strange as it seems, doesn't work out in Pampa.

There are spots on the city's geographical physiognomy to prove that certain areas are in the city, yet not in the city. One in particular is actually an island surrounded on all sides by the city limits.

This particular area, City Engineer Ray Evans said, has no identification by name of addition, annex or heights, such as are others in the city, and lies almost in the heart of the town's northeastern residential district.

The area is bounded on the south by Short and runs north for one and a half blocks where it abuts onto the southeastern corner of the Carr-Terrace Addition and just west of the swimming pool. Evans estimated there was sufficient room to build at least 10 good sized homes there and two are now in process of construction.

Should a fire break out in that area, now or after it is built up, the county would have to pay the city $50 to send fire equipment there. No sewer lines or water lines can be laid in the area at city expense and home owners will pay double the monthly sewer charge, and 50 percent over the city rate for water if they lay extension lines to mains at their own expense.

They will have no police protection and their fire insurance rates will be as high as 40 percent over the city rate. They will be unable to have paved streets until the majority of property owners there petition the City Commission to annex them into the city.

Although this is the only completely surrounded portion in the city, there are others that are surrounded on two or three sides by city limits and actually abut onto city streets.

For those residents, and there are approximately 256 inhabited homes now in the city — but outside the city limits, there can be no other sanitation but cess pools unless they are fortunate enough to be able to lay their own extension lines to a nearby sewer main.

Officials estimate the population of Pampa would be increased by 1,215 if these areas should elect to come into the city.

Within the past week, Jerry Nelson, 729 Wilks, has pioneered the first move to bring two of the outlying additions into the city fold. He and other residents of the Seeds and Love Additions, lying in a bay-like area, running from Barrett west to S. Hobart (Clarendon Road) and bounded on the north by Wilks, received petitions for the city to annex them for them and will commence circulating them among the 35 to 45 residents in those sectors petitioning the commission to bring them into the city.

Another area in the northeastern part of the city also forms a bay-like picture on the map. It is the area comprising Wynne, Sloan, Warren and Hughes running north from Jordan. There is room for at least 50 good-sized homes and it is rated as an ideal location — one of the best of the remaining undeveloped areas in, or out, of the city limits. A few houses have already been built.

PAMPA GETS MORE RAIN THAN NEEDED

The cool front visited upon the Panhandle area dumped more rain than was needed by the farmers. Some wheat farmers said their crops had been damaged by the arid pelting rain and the hail.

If the hail had continued for any length of time Friday afternoon, the crops where it fell might have been wiped out. If percent, it was said. Considerable wheat damage was reported near White Deer.

KPND weather observers said the rain gauge there recorded 1.76 inches of rain during the Wednesday night downpour; an other gauge 1.58 inches of rain recorded for Friday night. During Saturday from 7 a. m. to p. m., when the rain had stopped another .25 of an inch was measured. There was still prospect of more rain last night. The West Texas forecast, which Oklahoma forecast, which frequently in Texas Panhandle weather, called for more thunder showers today. There would be much change in temperature according to the forecast.

Friday's rain came in a succession of short bursts. The streets were inundated, and for a while the road to Borger was closed. Several cars were "drowned out" (See PAMPA, Page 8)

Allies to Hold Parley Before Meet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States, Britain and France quietly discussed yesterday that they will talk over major German questions before meeting with Russia in Paris two weeks hence.

They asserted the Western powers were not in any sense "negotiating" on Russia.

"Nevertheless," developments spotlighted the dramatic possibility that Russia will enter the conference with a "divide and conquer" strategy toward the West. The Western powers evidently anticipate this and intend to reassert their unity and establish their common policies ahead of time.

Secretary of State Acheson, the State Department said, is sending roving Ambassador Philip Jessup and department Counselor Charles E. Bohlen to Paris late next week. They will meet high-ranking British and French officials. Acheson will go to Paris about a week later for his first full four-power meeting. He will sit down with Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, Britain's Ernest Bevin and Robert Schumann of France.

The State Department said it was logical the preliminary three-power talks should be held since the Western powers had agreed only last month on their own program "Western Germany." This includes the establishment — against bitter Russian objection — of a Western German government.

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said the three-power discussions "are the result of contacts" among Bevin, Schumann and Acheson in the earlier Washington conference.

It was then the West finally achieved complete agreement on Germany. When Germans accepted the plans to set up their own government, Russia announced willingness to lift the blockade of Berlin provided mainly that the Western nations would agree to a Council of Foreign Ministers.

Some officials here believe the Soviets looked to the foreign ministers meeting at least to test and at most to disrupt the unity among the Western powers.

Perhaps only after the Russians have sounded Western strength and determination can the West finally determine the Soviet attitude. This may bring out whether the Russians are prepared to make substantial concessions in their position on Germany and agree to the unification of the Eastern and Western zones and the establishment of an all-German federal republic.

Communists Aim Drive at U. S. Fleet

SHANGHAI — (AP) — The Chinese Communists announced last night capture of a town 33 miles north of Tsingtao in a drive aimed at that anchorage of the U. S. Western Pacific Fleet.

The Communists, in a broadcast from Peiping, also reported capture of the last two Nationalist holdout cities in the north on the Peiping-Hankow railway and declared:

"Now all North China is liberated."

Actually, Tsingtao and the far Northeastern provinces remain in Nationalist hands.

The Shanghai Nationalist garrison reported continuing Red pressure on the other defenses of Shanghai but said attacks were repelled in sharp fighting.

"As heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, the Red broadcast also announced a further 17-mile advance southward in the main Communist drive into South China, now nearly 200 miles south of the Yangtze River."

On May 3 the U. S. Navy reported its main Western Pacific force was anchored in the open sea outside Tsingtao, not at its former stations within the inner harbor. (The Navy previously had quit its shore installations and billets.)

The warships of Tsingtao were listed as the light cruisers Pasadena and Springfield and ten destroyers.

Also last reported off Tsingtao were the Eldorado, flagship of Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger, fleet commander, and the transport Chilton, with about 700 Marines aboard. The Navy also has three Martin Mariner seaplanes at Tsingtao.

The Navy has frequently reiterated its intention to avoid becoming embroiled in the Chinese civil war.

The Shanghai garrison communicated said 10,000 Reds attacked Kunshar, 35 miles west of Shanghai, but were driven back after an 8-hour fight that ended late Friday night. It said 5,000 Reds were hurled back from Taichang, 30 miles northeast of Shanghai.

It also said Red attackers were (See COMMUNISTS, Page 8)

Colorado Wreck Claims 2 Texans

J. L. (Tubby) Angel, 25, a nephew of Bill Fraser of Pampa, and an Amarillo youth were killed Friday afternoon when the car in which they were riding collided with a train at Wiley, Colo.

Mr. Angel and the youth, Edward Johnson, age 14, who worked for him, had been transacting business at Haswell, Colo. He operates a farm east of Groom.

The bodies were returned to Texas yesterday by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Services for Tubby Angel will be held this afternoon at 8:30 at the First Methodist Church at Groom. With the Rev. Carl McMaisters, pastor, officiating. Duenkel-Carmichael will be in charge.

Mr. Angel was the son of Edward Johnson, who was born at Groom, Mar. 8, 1924, and lived most of his life in the Boydston Community east of Groom, was captain of the 1940 Groom football team.

He attended Texas A&M prior to his entering the Army April 1, 1944. Serving in Germany and France, he was honorably discharged.

Thieves Enter Three Pampa Businesses

Burglars Thursday night struck at five Pampa business establishments getting into three of them and falling at the other two.

Chief of Police Louis Allen reported the break-ins Friday morning, but said at that time the loss reports were still being investigated by police.

Hardest hit was the Redcliff Electric Co. where $13 in cash was taken along with one quarter inch Black and Decker electric drill, one crescent wrench, one pair of lineman's pliers, and two boxes of small wrenches.

A piece of corrugated iron was ripped from the top of the rear door by the thieves to get into the establishment.

Three cans of Casite, one box of sparkplugs, and a six-foot tapeline were taken from the North Texas Buda Wholesale Service where the thieves went through a hole in the outside wall and broke the glass of an inner door.

Prying the lock from the front door of the Santa Fe Railroad signalman's maintenance house, the burglars stole one black raincoat, one pea coat, and one 24-inch Stilson wrench.

At the Conoco Wholesale Gas and Oil warehouse and Motor Inn Supply warehouse, the thieves were unsuccessful in prying open the door locks.

Opportunity Drive Begins Next Week

The nation-wide Opportunity Drive will open in Gray County next week from tomorrow, Sherman White, county Savings Bond chairman, said.

Gray County's quota is $120,000; Texas' is $36,950,000 and the national quota is $1,040,000. All quotas apply only to the sale of Series E Savings Bonds.

Series F and G Savings Bonds will be sold as usual throughout the drive, but their sale will not be counted against the quota.

Series E bonds yield about 2.9 percent compounded semiannually when held to maturity.

Series E bonds may be purchased in $25, $50, $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 denominations with the corresponding face price $18.75, $37.50, $75, $150, $375 and $750, he said.

"The bonds may be issued to one or two persons, but are not transferable. The limit of ownership is $10,000 maturity value for each calendar year."

At the option of the owner, the bonds may be redeemed any time after 60 days from the issue date.

"I urge the residents of Gray County to participate in this drive to the fullest of their ability," the county chairman said.

Morgan Head Of Lions Club

CANADIAN — (Special) — M. A. (Nick) Morgan was elected president of the Canadian Lions Club at the regular luncheon meeting Friday. He succeeds Harvey K. Parker who has been the "Boss Lion" since the club was organized nearly a year ago.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Russell Carver, 3rd vice president, Max Callaway, (re-elected) secretary-treasurer, J. L. (Jerry) McElreath, Lion-lamer, Clyde Riley, tail-twister, and Dale Nix and Walter Grist, directors. A. H. Brezoznik and Carl W. Zybacz are holdover directors.

The new officers assume their duties July 1. The intervening time is an "induction period" during which they learn their duties.

The Lions were entertained by Margaret Will, Donna Abraham and Ruth Ann McDaniels, playing clarinets, and Izzetta Byars, saxophone. The girls are members of the grade school band.

Chamber Good Will Group Will Meet

Chamber of Commerce Good Will and Reception Committee will meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Chamber of Commerce office to arrange for the reception of the Amarillo Good Will train, Laeb Langston, chairman, said yesterday.

The special train will arrive in Pampa Thursday.

Benningfield Pleads Innocent in Court

GALVESTON — (AP) — David Benningfield, former Amarillo policeman, pleaded innocent in district court yesterday to an indictment charging him with murdering his wife, Geraldine.

Trial was set for the June Term of 10th District Court. Mrs. Benningfield was stabbed fatally Feb. 11 during a quarrel in a beachfront cabin.

Benningfield is free under a $5,000 bond. The arraignment was before Judge Charles G. Dibrell.

Renters Getting Increase Notices

UNIVERSITY PARK — (AP) — Some tenants in this swank Dallas suburb began receiving notices Friday of $20 to $120 a month rent increases. The town is awaiting a final okay from Washington on its rent decontrol resolution.

All the reported increases came from the same landlord. Most were effective as of June 1. In two cases, the landlord demanded raises retroactive for 12 months, amounting to a total of $900 in one case and $265 in the other.

"We have asked the landlords not to raise rents like that," Mayor H. E. Yarborough said. The mayor said he expected final word on rent decontrol before June 1.

Brownie and Girl Scouts 'Remember Mama' Today

"I Remembered Mama," boasted practically the whole rabble of Pampa Brownie Girl Scouts yesterday as they put the finishing touches on their Mother's Day presents.

During the past two weeks the Scouts have been making everything from Mother's Day cards to bread baskets for the once-a-year occasion today.

Fifteen third-grade Scouts of Troop 1 have been working diligently with the assistance of their leader, Mrs. H. W. Becker, to have picture frames to present their mothers today.

Troops 10, 23, 26 and 30 have held teas honoring their mothers during the past week. Troop 10 composed of third-grade Brownie Scouts had its tea Wednesday at Horace Mann School. Brownies entertained their mothers with dramatized ballads. Troops 23 and 26 held their teas at the Scout House and Troop 30 had its tea at the new Hopkins Scout House.

New Satellite of Neptune Noted

FORT DAVIS — (AP) — What may be a previously unreported satellite of the planet Neptune has been noted by McDonald Observatory, Director Gerard P. Kuiper has reported.

Although unable to confirm his discovery immediately, Dr. Kuiper said he has reported the find to the Harvard Observatory's Donald Osservatory's prior claim in case future observations bear out his belief. He believed two more weeks of observations will be needed to confirm the observation.

Harvard Observatory is an international clearing house for astronomical reports.

Operated jointly by the Universities of Texas and Chicago, McDonald Observatory is located at the Davis Mountains of West Texas.

Taft Asks About HST's Proposals

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said yesterday that major domestic legislation passed by the Senate is part of "the Republican program" and inquired, "what's happened to Mr. Truman's proposals?"

Sen. Myers of Pennsylvania, acting Democratic floor leader, retorted promptly that his party not only has "corrected some of the mistakes" of the Republican Congress, but is moving ahead with the President's program.

In separate interviews, Taft and Myers claimed credit for their respective parties in Senate approval of housing, aid to education and school health bills.

"These were part of the Republican program that the Senate passed last year," said Taft, who heads the GOP Policy Committee. "On the other hand, the President's proposals haven't brought forth anything new."

They have talked about a national health program, including socialized medicine, but it doesn't look now as though they are going to try to pass this year.

"Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has suggested a new farm program, but they don't seem to have been able yet to get it into bill form."

"We are getting through some important parts of the President's program," Myers said. "The housing, education and school health bills were all in our platform. We have voted to correct the mistake the Republican 80th Congress made in restricting the Commodity Credit Corporation's ability to acquire grain storage facilities."

"We have passed the Marshall Plan bill. Next week we are going to take up the measure, which the House already has voted, to correct the mistakes the Republicans made in continuing the reciprocal trade agreements program."

Students Will Return to Class

SULPHUR SPRINGS — (AP) High School students will return to their two-day strike and return classes here Monday, but they may not be happy about the resignation of their principal, H. Clay Cheek.

Following a meeting Friday night, a spokesman for the students, Billy Wayne Harry, said his group decided to demand recall of Cheek by the board.

"If they don't recall Cheek," he said, "the people Sulphur Springs are going to demand the resignation of school board."

Both Cheek and Superintendent Ercell Brooks resigned Friday. Their resignations were accepted by the board.

The student strike grew out of a demand by the students to dismiss Cheek. About 150 High School students struck Thursday and some 400 cut classes Friday.

The chairman of the school board, John M. Sheffield, said Cheek and Brooks both felt it for the good of all concerned they should resign.

Extra Patrol Added at Park

With the hapless Oilers of El Paso home today, Chief of Police Louie Allen revealed an extra patrol will be maintained during game hours to keep young, old alike, from seeing the game from the tops of parked cars.

Allen said numerous complaints have come in from irate owners that boys and grown men were climbing on the roof of parked cars, kicking dents and knocking out the glass. One car virtually had its roof caved in from some one apparently stamping on it during excitement of the game.

"The 'roof watchers' are charged with destruction of property, the chief added, caught."

The idea of work startles children, says a doctor. Those kids are smarter than we thought.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — This is an ABC on the new way for landlords to figure their case if they want permission to raise rents.

The government has issued a formula for them. It divides landlords into two groups:

1. The small one. He has a place with one to four dwelling units.
2. The large one. He has a place with more than four units.

The small landlord gets a rent increase if his net operating income is less than 25 percent of his gross income. He'll get an increase bringing his net operating income up to 30 percent of his gross income.

The large landlord gets an increase if his net operating income is less than 20 percent of his gross income. He'll get an increase bringing his net operating income up to 25 percent.

Gross income is his total income before expenses. Net operating income is simply what he has left of his gross income after (1) paying expenses — including taxes — and (2) making an allowance for depreciation on his property.

A small landlord will not be allowed more than 21 percent of his gross income for depreciation; a large landlord will not be allowed more than 16 percent of his gross income for depreciation.

Take a small landlord, he has $1,000 gross income, $600 expenses, and was left with a net income of $400, which is only 40 percent of gross income. But he's entitled to a 30 percent net income.

He multiplies the expense ($600) by 100 and divides the result (in this case $60,000) by 70 and gets $1,143.

The $1,143 represents a rent increase of $143 a year over the $1,000 rental Jones got before.

So now his gross income is $1,143, his expense is $600, and his net income is $543, whereas it used to be $400. So that $343 gives him a 30 percent net income on his gross income of $1,143.

In the case of a large landlord, the formula goes like this: multiply the operating expense by 100 and divide by 75 (not by 70). But what of the small landlord whose net income already is 25 percent, or the large one whose net income already is 20 percent? Do they get boosted up to 30 percent and 25 percent? No.

If you're a landlord and think you're entitled to a rent raise under this formula, get a petition from your area rent control office.

Women eventually will be bald, says a scientist. There go your front row seats, men!

Canadian '49 Class Totals Thirty-Two

CANADIAN — (Special) — Graduation exercises for thirty-two Canadian High School Seniors will begin on Sunday, May 15, with baccalaureate services at the High School Auditorium, and will be concluded Friday night, May 20, with commencement exercises and awarding of diplomas, Supt. A. H. Breazale has announced.

Junior High graduation exercises will be on Thursday evening, May 19, Mrs. Maudelene Hutton, principal, announced.

Fifty-five students will graduate from the 8th grade to high school.

High School honor students are Selma Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Peterson, valedictorian, with a four-year grade average of 92.

Herbert Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams, is salutatorian with a four-year grade average of 90.3.

Baccalaureate services for the class will be conducted at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, May 15, by the Rev. Joe E. Boyd, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, and a former superintendent of Canadian schools, will deliver the commencement address on Friday night, May 20.

Members of the graduating class will leave Sunday, May 15, immediately after baccalaureate services, on the annual trip to Colorado Springs, to return on May 19. They will be accompanied by their class sponsor, Mrs. Marion Karr.

The graduating class includes 15 boys and 17 girls.

Honor students for 8th grade graduation will be Stan Douglas, valedictorian; and Betty Jean Pigg, salutatorian.

Upward Trend in General Death Rate Predicted by State Doctor

SAN ANTONIO — An upward trend in the general death rate was predicted by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, Texas state health officer, in an address before the public health section of the annual State Medical Association meeting in San Antonio.

Cox explained his prediction by quoting statistical figures to show that the increase in the life span causes degenerative diseases inherent in old age.

He said the 1946 general death rate of 8.6 per 1000 population was an all-time low, and one which in his opinion would never be equalled.

"The death rate will turn upward," Cox predicted.

The man whose tenure of more than 12 years as state health officer is the longest in the history of the Health Department, told his audience that, assuming measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, typhoid fever, malaria, typhus fever, and pellagra, had not caused a single death in 1948, the gain in lives saved would be nullified by last year's increase in heart

SAN ANTONIO — An upward trend in the general death rate was predicted by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, Texas state health officer, in an address before the public health section of the annual State Medical Association meeting in San Antonio.

Cox explained his prediction by quoting statistical figures to show that the increase in the life span causes degenerative diseases inherent in old age.

He said the 1946 general death rate of 8.6 per 1000 population was an all-time low, and one which in his opinion would never be equalled.

"The death rate will turn upward," Cox predicted.

The man whose tenure of more than 12 years as state health officer is the longest in the history of the Health Department, told his audience that, assuming measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria, poliomyelitis, typhoid fever, malaria, typhus fever, and pellagra, had not caused a single death in 1948, the gain in lives saved would be nullified by last year's increase in heart

Here's '49 Model of Flying Boxcar

A passenger car prepares to climb the ramp leading into this new C-119 cargo plane, latest of the flying boxcar line, in Hagerstown, Md. The clam-like door is 14 inches wider than those used on the C-52, providing an entrance opening as wide as the cargo hold itself. Note comparative size of man standing in doorway. It also allows for the simultaneous jumping of two sticks of paratroopers. The Air Force now has 100 of them on order.

'Adult Outlook on Life' Needed Says Professor

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — Romantic traditions concerning marriage are "blown to smithereens" when preparing young couples for the occasion, Dr. Ivan Little of Texas Tech, said.

Dr. Little, of the Department of Philosophy and Sociology at the Lubbock college, was guest speaker at the Planned Parenthood League of Texas, meeting here.

The Texas Tech professor said it is his belief the world is in the "red state that it is" because those who are supposed to be adults do not have an "adult outlook on life." Dr. Little teaches a course on marriage at Lubbock.

Mrs. George Ripley of Dallas spoke on her early associations with Margaret Sanger, which was followed by a luncheon at which Mrs. Sanger was guest speaker.

This was the first convention Mrs. Sanger has attended in years. She said, "but I couldn't resist the urgent invitation of these Texas women."

Mrs. Sanger, an exponent of birth control, said she feels that the work she first began before World War I is well established in America.

She said she now spends her time and efforts in crusades for "better health for mothers in European countries which are over populated and underfed."

Lubbock Getting New Air School

Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N. M. — The United States Air Force will place Lubbock Air Force Base, Lubbock, Texas, on the active status basis as soon as possible and move the advanced twin-engine school of Air Training Command there in November from Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La.

Approximately 2,700 officers, airmen, and aviation cadets will be involved in the move. In addition, approximately 600 civilians will be employed at Lubbock AFB.

Air Training Command Headquarters and the 47th Light Bomb Group will remain at Barksdale AFB. The base will be further utilized by the Strategic Air units to be moved there have not been announced.

Local authorities have assured the Air Force that families of veterans now housed at Lubbock AFB will be moved by Aug 1 to other housing.

Fields' Widow and Alleged Illegitimate Son Meet in Court

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The long-estranged widow and the alleged illegitimate son of W. C. Fields met and shook hands after both made strong pleas for major portions of the late comedian's $771,428 estate.

The widow, Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, who seeks a half share of the fortune under California community property laws, instead of the $10,000 she received from the comedian's will, told the court: "Mr. Fields never gave me a home."

She testified that she and Fields ceased to live as man and wife in 1907, shortly after the birth of their son, W. Claude Fields, Jr. The latter also seeks more than the $10,000 left him.

The cause of the rift, she said, was another woman.

But to her attorney's question, "did the marriage last until death?" Mrs. Fields replied: "Oh, yes."

The alleged son, William Rexford Fields Morris, 31, of Dallas, Texas, said he received only $250 from Fields while the comedian was alive. On a visit to California he got about $150 in 1938. When he was married in 1941, Morris said, Fields sent him $100.

Morris said he was "stunned" when he found out at the age of 17 that the man he knew as "Uncle Bill" was really his father and that "Aunt Bessie" (Follies girl Bessie Poole) was his mother.

Morris testified that after he learned Fields was his father he called him "W. C." instead of "Uncle Bill." At no time, said Morris, did Fields ever address him as "son."

'Big Eye' to Be Polished

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — Palomar's "big eye" — already the apple of astronomers' eyes — is going to be even better than expected after a final polishing.

That's the opinion of Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, chief stargazer at the observatory atop Mount Palomar. The lens of the 200-inch telescope will be polished again this month — for the last time it is hoped — to remove about 20-millionths of an inch thickness from an 18-inch spot on the mirror's outer edge.

The job will take six months. Dr. Ira S. Bowen, director of Palomar and Mt. Wilson Observatories, announced.

With a 10 percent improvement expected from the final ground, Dr. Hubble predicts that it may be possible to photograph stars 100 million light years further away than the big telescope-camera actually was designed to reach. It was designed to see one billion light years into space — twice the range of the 100-inch Mt. Wilson telescope heretofore the world's largest.

Undercover Agent in Communist Ranks Testifies

NEW YORK — (AP) — Expenses money paid by the FBI to an undercover agent in Communist ranks was not reported in his income tax returns for "security reasons."

But the money will be accounted for at the conclusion of the Communist conspiracy trial, the FBI informant, Thomas A. Younglove, testified Thursday.

Defense cross-examination of the St. Louis business man began during his third day on the witness stand at the trial of eleven top Communist Party leaders on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Younglove testified he joined the Communist Party early in 1945 after talking with FBI Agent Carl R. (Bucky) O'Connor.

The FBI, the witness said, reimbursed him for his expenses and, in addition, paid him sums ranging between $35 and $125 in some months.

Younglove said he received no money from the FBI after March, 1947. That was when he was promoted to general foreman of a St. Louis Gas Company.

The witness said he dropped most of his work for the Communists at that time, after a foreman's union informed him he would not be admitted to membership "unless I ceased my activities in the Communist Party."

Broken Hearts Are Mended

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Two broken hearts were mended Thursday when 15-year-old Rosa Lena Arington and Grady Van Over, 24, found each other — and a justice of the peace to make them "Mr. and Mrs."

Mrs. W. E. Arington, Sr., her mother, had refused to allow Rosa Lena to marry the Dallas man. The girl fled from her home Tuesday.

Mrs. Arington combed the city, and in a Fort Worth Star-Telegram told her daughter — "come home to mother — all is well for the wedding bell."

Then the mother and Van Over drove to Granbury, where they found Rosa Lena boarding a bus.

The sweethearts fell into each other's arms.

Justice of the Peace A. F. Larned of Granbury performed the ceremony.

All was rosy until Mrs. Arington returned home. She found another daughter, Clara Lena, 13, had run away from home in her absence.

Now Mrs. Arington has renewed her plea: "Come home, Clara Lena."

Flying School Bus Used by High School Juniors Daily

By BOB VICKERY

PARIS — (AP) — Look up, Texas. You probably have another "first" you didn't know about. It's a flying school bus and it is operating daily in the wide open spaces of Eastern Lamar County.

Two youths are flying daily to East Lamar Consolidated School in a private airplane. They are believed to be the only rural school computers-by-plane in the United States.

The boys who are making history in high school transportation are 18-year-old Dan McGee, owner of the plane, and his friend, Leroy Kimball, 17.

The school in the Pattonville community, has a brand new building, and the boys are bringing it a brand-new mode of student travel.

"It's not the way we used to do it," old-timers around Pattonville say as they look up every morning to see a Piper Cub plane come roaring in out of the Western sky. It sweeps gracefully down for a smooth landing in Clarence Williams' cow pasture just south of the school building.

The two youngsters "jump" out and rabe for the school building with school books under their arms.

Leroy, who has a private flying license, does most of the piloting, the boys say. Young McGee has a student's license and will get a private license on his 17th birthday.

The boys, who are inseparable pals, are juniors in school, and both have the same ambition: To finish high school and join the Air Force.

Dan's father, C. E. McGee, bought the plane for his son January 6, "with the understanding that I will pay him for it by working in his store and service station at our home-town community of Marvin," Dan says. They keep the plane at a Paris airport. The flight to the school is about six miles and takes them about 15 minutes.

"They've had no major accidents. About the nearest thing they've had to real trouble was when a door came loose one Sunday on a breakfast flight to Longview. They just landed in a pasture and took the door off."

"Our biggest problem is keeping her gassed up," they explain. Aviation gasoline costs them 34 cents a gallon and the plane uses about two gallons a day on the six-mile flight from the Paris airport to the school. "That just about keeps us broke," they grin.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

LANSING, Mich. — (AP) — A young Democratic Governor works all day at a wide desk here in a time-worn statehouse that looks across a lawn loud with robins.

He is 38-year-old G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, whose friends believe he will some day dwell in the White House.

Right now the robins on the statehouse lawn aren't making nearly as much noise as the Republican legislators inside. And what these legislators are doing to the young Governor's New Deal program is something he feels shouldn't happen to a Democrat.

For he works in a house divided. There is a broad river of dissent between the young Governor and the Republican-dominated Legislature, and the river is in flood.

There are those who think Williams became "the miracle man of Michigan politics" last November when, solidly backed by labor, he defeated Kim Sigler by 168,894 votes. But there are those, too, who think this victory merely reflected a decline in the popularity of Sigler, who was seeking reelection.

The new Governor has both class and mass appeal. He has been a political protégé of Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy and he is an heir to the Mennen shaving soap fortune.

Williams is 6 feet 3-1/2 inches tall, friendly and easy going. He invariably wears a bow tie, an engaging grin — and a cowlick of stubborn black hair.

When I went in to see him, I had a moment of wonder. The first flash of his smile was startlingly reminiscent of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Governor is personally popular with the Republican legislators, who regard him tolerantly as "a well-intentioned young man." But he is acutely aware of the fact that in the last five months they have jettisoned most of his New Deal program.

"The Republicans have sabotaged my program as a matter of policy. I guess we'll have to take it to the people," he said.

Observers feel that the 1950 election will provide the key test of Williams' popularity in the state — and probably also determine whether he'll emerge as a national political figure in his party.

Airlift Has Been Costly But Blessing in Disguise

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The heroic airlift which finally has forced the raising of the Russian blockade of Berlin has been a labor of Hercules and costly in many respects, but it represents blessings in disguise for the Western Allies.

U.S. Secretary of Defense Johnson characterized this task as "one of the greatest transportation feats in history." British Prime Minister Attlee described it as "one of the wonders of the world."

The airlift has been an unprecedented demonstration of power, of technical skill, of vast resources of courage, of determination — and of allied unity.

Because the allied airlift represents all these things there is no doubt, as I see it, that it must have a huge influence in welding together the nations of Western Europe into the Atlantic Pact. That airlift has been a mighty builder of morale among the democracies.

This grueling and dangerous task has provided America and her Allies with technical knowledge which could have been acquired in no other way and which might be invaluable in event of another war.

What a difference between this and the days of the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71, when Paris started the world by breaking through the German siege with balloons!

Pampa News, Sunday, May 8, 1949

The biggest airlift operation prior to the Berlin story was that operated over the "hump" in the Himalayas between Southeast Asia and China.

The hump airlift did a great job with scanty equipment but naturally it wasn't on the scale of the Berlin lift.

We have gained all the knowledge we need for the time being, thanks. We don't want any further experience.

First of the High-Compression Engines of the Future OLDSMOBILE'S "ROCKET" GETS MORE POWER MORE MILEAGE... FROM TODAY'S GASOLINE

Power! Completely new, high-compression power! Power that sets this "88" Oldsmobile apart from every other car! That's the "New Thrill" action of the "Rocket" — Oldsmobile's ultra-advanced new engine that takes fullest advantage of today's fuels! It gets more exciting energy from less gas by using the Futuramic principle of high-compression. And the revolutionary thinking behind the "Rocket" makes possible magical smoothness and quietness!

To point up this brand new kind of performance, Oldsmobile built a brand new kind of car — the Futuramic "88"! The "88's" compact new body by Fisher accentuates that "Rocket" Engine flash and dash! The "88" has Futuramic styling! And, in the "88," Hydra-Matic Drive teams up with the "Rocket" to give you extra gas economy and greater driving ease! You've got to try it to believe it! ("Rocket" Engine, and Hydra-Matic Drive as standard equipment, are also featured in the Series "98" Oldsmobile.)

Right now the young Governor just laughs at talk of any national ambitions in his party. "That's way in the background," he grinned. "I think I'll stick around here a long time."

Jimmy Looks Like Any Boy at 11 Years—But He Has Leprosy

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

CARVILLE, La. — (AP) — Eleven-year-old Jimmy is nonchalantly chewing a wad of bubble gum. He's wearing a yellow-checked sport blouse. His hair is neatly combed, and he is grinning a friendly grin.

He looks like any number of kids you'd see in your neighborhood. But he isn't. Jimmy has leprosy.

So have his father, his mother, his grandmother and his two older brothers. They are all here together at the U. S. Marine Hospital — the National Leprosarium conducted by the Public Health Service.

They are all under treatment for a disease of the skin and nerves which, authorities say, is not necessarily disfiguring, is not incurable, and is less communicable than tuberculosis.

Leprosy — it's called "Hansen's Disease" here where there is a campaign against use of the words "leper" and "leprosy" — has two forms:

1. A skin type. As the disease advances the skin thickens around the forehead, eyebrows, ears, cheeks and nose. In the most advanced cases the face takes on a lion-like expression.

2. A "nerve" type. The disease attacks the nerve structure while at the same time discoloring, but not raising, patches of skin. Affected areas become powerless to feel heat, cold or pain. The face, with its muscles weakened, assumes a make-like expression. Blindness may develop.

Fewer than 100 patients are bed-ridden here, and of the hospital's total 400 patients, doctors say, many have no outward signs of the disease.

Other patients have some skin blemishes, ulcers, lumps. A few marked disfigurement, and one man is going blind. But the doctors say all have shown improvement under treatment with "sulfone" drugs, the latest and most promising weapons against the disease. Carville has been discharging more and more patients with the disease "a-verted" each year since the sulfones came in.

Jimmy and his family are examples of what one here calls "the real public health problem" in leprosy — an instance of the disease going through an entire household before any member of the family was brought under treatment. It is the general opinion of experts that children are born free of the disease. However, it is not common for the disease to go through the entire family. It is the exception rather than the rule.

The Public Health Service has launched a new program designed to meet this and related problems, says Dr. F. A. Johansen, medical director of the hospital.

It is a plan under which the service, instead of attempting to confine all patients in Carville, would attempt to establish diagnostic and treatment centers in each of the four states where the disease is prevalent — Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California. The plan has already been launched on a limited experimental basis.

Johansen says extensive trial of the plan would require training of large numbers of workers and funds from Congress.

The philosophy behind the idea is this: Undetected persons who know or suspect that they have leprosy will be encouraged to seek treatment voluntarily — if they know that leprosy is being approached like any other public health problem.

With the plan, Johansen says, must go an intensified educational program "to change public opinion" in regard to Hansen's Disease.

"It is not an easy job to change notions that have gone unchallenged for thousands of years," he says, "but the success we have had so far is of great encouragement to us."

Water Compact Bill in House

AUSTIN — (AP) — Rep. Byron Tinsley of Greenville has announced a coordinated plan for negotiating water use compacts for the Sabine, Red and Canadian Rivers.

Tinsley is author of a House bill which would set up a compact commissioner to negotiate an agreement with Louisiana over the division of Sabine River waters. Two other bills pending in the Legislature would establish compact commissioners to work with New Mexico and Oklahoma for a Canadian River compact and with Oklahoma for a Red River compact.

Tinsley has prepared a substitute for his Sabine compact bill which would provide one commissioner for the three rivers. The commissioner, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate for a two-year term, would get an annual salary of $5,400.

Officer Offers Blanket Denial of Mistreatment of German Prisoners

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A blanket denial of torture or mistreatment of German prisoners accused of the Malmady Massacre of U.S. soldiers came Friday from the former Army officer in charge of the prison where they were held.

John T. Evans of Crystal City, Tex., told a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee that he was in command of the American Army prison guards at Schwabische Hall from December, 1945, to March, 1946.

"There was no evidence of mistreatment or torture" in that period, he said.

The former major specifically denied under oath that the Germans had been beaten in the face, jaws broken and teeth knocked out, kneed in the groin, starved or kept on short rations. All these charges have been made for Germans now protesting death sentences and prison terms.

Evans said he recalled that when the Germans finally were removed he noted "how fat they have gotten."

Evans said he now is employed by the Farm and Home Administration of the Department of Agriculture.

"I saw each prisoner at least once a week," he said.

He was asked about an affidavit filed by a German dentist saying that many of the prisoners had teeth knocked out or jaws broken.

Evans said he remembers the dentist, but denied the charges. He said that at times prisoners were put on "bread and water diet or placed in solitary confinement for violation of prison rules."

But Evans denied one story that the entire Malmady group had been put on the bread and water fare for five days.

He said several prisoners were put on the light diet for trying to communicate by tapping pipes of the prison heating system "in Morse Code."

Evans also recalled that one of the Malmady prisoners hanged himself early one morning but he denied knowledge of why. Earlier witnesses said the German had been beaten and had refused to sign a false purported confession.

Evans also agreed that a "black hood" was placed over heads of prisoners when they were moved for questioning. This was done to prevent the men from communicating with each other or know who was present.

Evans denied that the black hoods were "bloody or dirty when I inspected them."

A 91-year-old Cleveland woman, who weighs 99 pounds, was hospitalized after literally being carried away by a puff of wind. She took the mishap lightly.

Outsider Bails HSTites Out of a Very Bad Jam

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It was an outsider who bailed the Truman administration out of a bad jam.

He's Rep. Vito Marcantonio. He's the only member in Congress from the American Labor Party.

He bailed out the Trumanites when they were on the edge of a great defeat.

Short, dark, 46, and a lawyer with a fast mind, Marcantonio always votes on the side of labor. In this he is in tune with President Truman.

He's a shrewd master of parliamentary tricks. With that equipment, even though he stands alone, he's blocked things he didn't like.

On Tuesday around 7 p.m. Marcantonio was very much present when it came time for a vote on a new labor bill.

The Truman Democrats had wanted to wipe out the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and replace it with a bill to labor's liking.

But Southern Democrats and the Republicans had teamed up to push along a bill that kept much of the Taft-Hartley Act. Came the vote. It was 217 to 203 for the bill the Trumanites and Marcantonio didn't want.

Because of a special rule of the House, it had to vote all over again. This second vote would be final.

And it seemed certain that if the vote came right away the result would be the same.

But Marcantonio waved his arms for attention, got it, and said:

Before the final vote, he wanted an "engrossed copy of the bill" on which the House was going to vote.

Nobody in the House needed to see a copy of the bill. Everyone knew what he was voting on, including Marcantonio. But —

When any member asks for an engrossed copy of a bill no vote can be taken until the copy has been made by the government printer and presented to the House.

An "engrossed copy takes hours to print. It was already 7 p.m., so the final vote couldn't be taken that night.

Couldn't the other House members have voted down Marcantonio's request? No.

This gave the Trumanites and labor union leaders a chance to try to swing to their side some of the congressmen who had voted against them.

Next day the House came back and voted 212 to 209 to shelve the bill the Trumanites didn't want.

You can't exactly blame some folks overseas for thinking that the dove of peace looks like a vulture.

A manufacturer of a nationally known stove has just cut prices. Must be something cooking in the economic world.

It's time to remind all members of API of Tuesday night's meeting to be held in the Palm Room of the City Hall in Pampa at 8 o'clock. It is the second regular meeting of the year and the program will be of interest to all API members and also business men of the area who are invited and urged to attend. J. B. Cruise, engineer for Lane Wells Gun Perforating Co. will discuss radio activity in well logging and you can be sure his remarks will be well worth your going to the meeting. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. The last meeting was so well attended that extra chairs had to be obtained to care for the overflow. The program committee is hoping for the same response to this meeting.

Allowable for the Sinclair-Lips No. 1 well, Roberts County, was set at 180 barrels per day by the Railroad Commission. This is a temporary schedule set up until a hearing can be held in Austin, set for June 8. This increase in allowable was given because the well is a new discovery.

There is a current rumor afloat that Gulf Oil is soon to locate another deep test location, probably south of the Canadian River. Gulf has a good share of deep test wells in operation at the present time but I'm sure a lot of people would be very happy to see another well tried south of the Canadian River. Gulf-Porter, Lipscomb County, is still going down. They have now attained a depth of over 12,438 feet. The Gulf-Collard, Hansford County, is down to below 7,773 feet, and the Gulf-Hemphill, same county, is 8,700 feet. The Gulf-Strump, Co. Three County, ran nine 150-foot tests casing to 2,723 feet, perforated 1,100 shafts of cement and drilling ahead below 3,523 feet. The Gulf-Wamble, Ochiltree County, is running casing to 3,740 feet.

Other deep tests and wildcats: The Shamrock-Freeman, Dallam County, cored from 4,555 to 4,560 1-2 feet and report four feet of dolomite; the Honolulu-Ponder, A. Deaf Smith County, is drilling below 7,974 feet; no information is obtainable at present time on the Hooper-Duke well in Oldham County. Informants say this is as secret a well as they have encountered in some time and chances of information being obtained other than by rumor are slim. Pacific Western-Brown No. 1, Lamb County, has reported dry and abandoned at 8,135 feet; the Sinclair-Lips, No. 2, spudded in 1934. A new location has been filed by Humble Oil, the Roach No. 1, 600 from South and east lines, Section 5, Block C-4, TTY Survey, Donley County.

A great many Pampa people were very concerned about friends and relatives in Sundown, Texas, after the report of the tornado there Friday night. Many Pampa oil workers have lived in Sundown at some time or another and have many acquaintances there. It is to be hoped that by the time this column is in print that communications with the town will be in operation so that authentic information can be obtained.

Those of you who subscribe to World Oil Magazine will be interested in an article on page 29 of the May issue. It is written by Ray L. Dudley, president and publisher of the magazine, and is written about crude oil prices. According to Dudley, prices of oil are dropping. He says that the situation is in good shape. Sweet oil continues to be short and prospects for heavy gasoline demand is good. According to Dudley, there is a good prospect in June for an increase in Texas allowables. Demand, he says, is shaping up to make such a procedure a necessity. He also says there is a lack of balance on sour crudes. According to the article nearly half the additions to crude oil in the first 3 1/2 months of the year were West Texas crudes, much of it sour crude. Some companies are short on it and some long, with the short ones buying from the ones with an excess. All in all, your columnist believes it well worth your time in reading.

Bible Continues As Best Seller
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bible is still the best seller that book publishers produce. It recorded almost two and one-half times as many sales in 1947 as in pre-war 1939. Sales in that year totaled 9,248,000 copies have a "factory value" of $9,285,000, the Census Bureau said.

Mexican Peso Leveling Off
MEXICO CITY (AP) — The peso strengthened slightly Saturday and seemed to have found a new level at 7.85 to the dollar. Exchange transactions are light on Saturday but bankers thought it probable Monday's market would range around the same figure. This is about one-eighth loss since April 25 when the peso was 6.97.

The Bank of Mexico's action in restricting credit and its warning to speculators appeared to have quieted nervousness.

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News
By MAX M. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — Independent oilmen still want Congress to answer a question: "Are domestic markets to be surrendered to foreign oil?"

The mid-year meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America last week in New Orleans concentrated its attention on demands to curb foreign imports.

Each barrel of foreign oil brought into the United States, he said, still means the shutting in of another barrel of domestic production.

Russell B. Brown, Washington, the IPAA general counsel, repeated demands for "definite legal restrictions" on petroleum imports.

Crude and refined products imports for the two months were placed at 35,947,000 barrels, all increase of 6,399,000 or 22.4 percent over the same period last year.

Crude accounted for 26,268,000 barrels, an increase of 9,457,000 or 56.3 percent from 1946.

Exports of crude and refined products in January and February totaled 20,606,000 barrels, an increase of 2,709,000 or 15.1 percent.

Crude exports, however, totaled only 4,000,000 barrels, a decline of 1,549,000 or 27.6 percent.

Brown said imports now are being made at the rate of 500,000 barrels daily.

Shelton said crude imports already have forced domestic production to be cut back 1,000,000 barrels daily.

Gaines County Test Producing

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — An other drill stem test has further confirmed the discovery of a deeper oil producing pay from the Pennsylvania zone at Ralph Lowe's Cunningham No. 1, Section 4, Block A-24, PSL Survey. It is located north of the Shallow Doss Clear Fork Pool of Gaines County.

On a third test of the deep zone from 9,241-84 feet with tool open four hours, recovery was 150 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 300 feet of clean oil. Hole was then deepened and another test was being run from 9,242-9.307 feet.

First indication of production from the new zone came on test from 8,900-8,961 feet, where the well flowed at the rate of 17 barrels of oil per hour. Second test was run from 8,900-89 feet and the well flowed 57 barrels of 47.2 gravity oil the last three hours of a four-hour and 57 minute test.

156 Oil Wells Are Completed in Week
AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission reported that 156 oil wells and 14 gas wells were completed the past week. Eighty-eight dry holes were drilled.

Last week's completions brought the totals so far this year to 2,985 oil wells and 1,389 gas wells.

The total average calendar day allowable as of Saturday was 2,010,026 barrels compared to 2,052,644 for the previous week.

Price and Income Protection Needed To Keep Farmers Prosperous — Brannan

LUBBOCK (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said last night "the only answer" to the problem of keeping farmers prosperous is "some form of price and income protection."

This protection, he said in remarks prepared for a $10-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day barbecue here, should "enable commodities in temporary surplus to fall to the level met by supply and demand."

There had been some doubt that Brannan would be able to get here for the third fund-raising dinner staged this year by Texas Democrats. The Lubbock Airfield was flooded by heavy rains.

But Brannan made it, arriving in an Army plane during the afternoon from Waco, where he also had discussed the administration's new farm program in a speech Friday.

He said his respects to the party gathering: "It is a real privilege to join the people of the largest state in the union in honoring memories of two great Democrats."

He paid his respects to Texas: "Your state was one of those that came in mighty handy last November."

And he said the administration farm program he presented to Congress recently would do these things:

"Protect the purchasing power of farmers, and thus help prevent depression.

"Make farmers better customers for industry—and thus provide jobs.

"Give farmers incentive to produce abundantly—and that's good news for city people, many of whom need still more milk, meat, fruits and vegetables."

The Brannan farm plan would introduce a new method of supporting farmer income on perishables. He would give the farmers "production payments" when market prices failed to give them the support return. Under the present plan, the government's chief device for assuring support prices is removal of the price-depressing part of the supply from the market by means of government purchase.

Critics of the plan say that it would mean more control of the farmer. Brannan says it would not, that there are no regulations on the farmer in the new proposal not already in law.

"Despite the amazing production

Agreed Judgment Is Handed Down In District Court

An agreed judgment in a civil action and one divorce decree were handed down Friday afternoon by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court here.

The judgment was an award of $450 personal injuries to Lanora Lanese, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. U. V. Brannon, Santa Fe Hotel, who was injured Feb. 28 when struck by a car in front of the Charlie Burton Service Station. The child suffered a broken leg and was hospitalized in Worley Hospital.

The judgment was secured from the Sides Fruit Co. whose car, driven at the time by Woodrow J. Burden, struck the child as she darted across the street in front of it.

The suit was filed Friday in 31st District Court, all legal technicalities put through and the judgment rendered.

The divorce decree was granted to Betty G. Sweetwood from L. A. Sweetwood on charges of cruelty. They were married in January, 1944 and separated in June, 1946. Friday morning two other divorces were granted by the Court: one on desertion charges, the other claiming cruelty.

Authorities May Exhume Body to Solve Mystery

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — (AP) — Authorities may exhume the body of a Las Cruces waitress to aid in solving the mystery of her death.

District Judge W. T. Scroggin, Jr., said Friday he had granted an order permitting the action.

Meanwhile, peace officers continued questioning Jerry Nuzum, professional football player, in connection with the death of pretty Ovida Coogler, the 18-year-old waitress.

Officers were reluctant to discuss their progress in the case. State Police headquarters reported merely that "new evidence" is being submitted for laboratory examination.

Rabbit hunters discovered the body of the girl buried in a shallow grave on a country road 18 days after she disappeared while going home from work.

Nuzum, 23, has been held without charge since Tuesday, Dist. Atty. T. K. Campbell said. The district attorney said Nuzum returned voluntarily from Littlefield, Tex., for questioning.

Nuzum played with the Pittsburgh Steelers last season and prior to that with the New Mexico Aggies.

State Police reported a microscopic examination of Nuzum's automobile disclosed human blood around the right rear spring. They did not elaborate.

'Motorcade' Formed to Aid Officer

HOUSTON (AP)—As the grand jury entered its second day of investigation to the recent activities of LaPorte, Tex., Constable Dale Richardson, plans were underway in that East Harris County town to promote "motorcade" to take witnesses before the investigating body of the girl buried in the constable's behalf.

Richardson has been conducting one-man raids on alleged gambling joints in Houston. In one instance he broke up equipment with a baseball bat. He has declared he will clean up all gambling here.

At the same time, the burly constable, one of the most controversial peace officers of recent years, started an investigation on his own to see what a 44-year-old convict "had in mind" Thursday night when he approached the constable with a "proposition."

Arrested and placed in the LaPorte jail, the man was reported by Richardson to have "lied to me last night in an effort to get some information from me."

The "pro Richardson" residents of LaPorte and neighboring towns are reportedly gathering many witnesses for a grand jury appearance along with the constable.

Sheriff Adds 'Thank You'

Sheriff G. H. "Skinner" Kyle yesterday told The News that he had inadvertently let out a public "thank you" to Paul West, manager of the Griffith Theaters here when the list of contributors to Pampa's two safety films were made.

Kyle said that when the pictures were made no one ever approached West for permission to run them in the theaters. The pictures were made and sent back to Pampa, turned over to West who was asked to run them. West did so without any questioning and consistently, refused being paid for running them in the theaters, the sheriff said.

"In fact," Kyle added, "I've public, through the press, knew about it before West did and we want to thank him for his full cooperation."

The pictures will run again at intervals in the Rex and Lanora theaters.

Barbara Ruth Morrison's Engagement Is Announced

Barbara Ruth Morrison

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morrison, 1221 Mary Ellen, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ruth, to F. Tuck Focht, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Focht, Austin, Tex.

The wedding will take place at 8:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church, June 18.

Music Judge To Give Recital At Tea Today

As a climax to National Music Week, this afternoon in the City Club Rooms the Pampa Music Teachers Association will present Thurmond Morrison in a short recital which he will give with comments for advanced students. A tea and reception will be given in his honor in connection with his recital.

Morrison, B-Music, M-Music, who has been here this week as adjudicator for the 1948 National Piano Auditions, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons and Texas Universities.

He has also done work at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, under the direction of Allen Spencer.

Formal Dance At Country Club Given by ESA

The Epsilon sigma Alpha sorority entertained with a formal dance at the Country Club April 29, honoring the club's four new members.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the honored guests by the president, Mrs. Oran Payne. As each new member, attested by her escort, entered the ballroom she was presented an arrangement of yellow and blue balloons and ribbon surmounted by jonquils to symbolize the club colors and flower.

New members are: Mmes. Joe A. Mitchell, Charles Robison, Harvey Longren and Florene Duke. The rooms were decorated with spring flowers. The ice-carved letters, ESA, were illuminated by indirect lighting and flanked by flowers.

Ken Bennett, at the Hammond electric organ, presented the music for the evening. Approximately 200 guests attended the affair.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mmes. Oran Payne, Jean Haw, Berton Doucette, Edwin Givens, Herman Foster, Lillian Kelley, Bert Arney, Bruce Parker, Margaret Dial, Bill Ragdale, Irvin Akst, Albert Doucette, Parks Brumley, Robert Burks, Guy LeMond, John Nutting, Tom Lindsey and Miss VaRue Dyson.

23 Eighth-Grade Students Make Posters Announcing Poppy Day, May 28, When War Dead Will Be Honored

Twenty-three eighth-grade students of Miss Roy Riley have made posters that will be used in store windows, advertising Poppy Day, May 28, Mrs. J. M. Turner, American Legion Auxiliary poppy chairman, said yesterday.

The posters of Jack Traywick, Charles Austin and Freddy Woods were deemed first, second and third place winners, respectively, and were awarded cash prizes.

Their posters have been sent to Austin to compete in the American Legion Poppy Poster contest. The winners at Austin will be sent on to the national contest.

"Poppies by the thousands are coming from the skilled fingers of disabled war veterans at hospitals in preparation for Poppy Day," Mrs. Turner said.

Mrs. Turner is directing the arrangements for the observance of Poppy Day here, when the veteran-made poppies will be worn to honor the dead of both world wars and to aid the disabled and children of veterans.

"Describing the poppy - making activities, she said:

"It is interesting to see the way a veteran makes a poppy, taking petals of crepe paper and a stem of wire and shaping them into an attractive replica of the wild poppies which grew on the battle field and around the graves of Europe during both wars.

Bell Home Demonstration Club Meets Needs of Community

By MRS. T. D. ANDERWALD

Several communities in Gray County are quite a distance from the county seat. It is especially important in these communities to have an activity of interest to the people working together and to provide needed recreation.

This need has been adequately provided for in the Bell community, which lies about twelve miles southwest of Pampa. The women have their home demonstration club which helps them become better homemakers, and also provides them with opportunities for social contacts with their neighbors and other home demonstration women in the county.

Recently the women realized that many young mothers were unable to attend club meetings regularly because they have small children who are too active to stay still very long.

They decided to provide planned recreation for these youngsters.

The mothers take turns in supervising the children's activities. The children play games and make small toys and favors for their mothers. Now both mothers and children look forward to club days.

The Bell Home Demonstration Club also gives some kind of entertainment once each month in the Bell School. Since the school is not used for teaching at this time, the building is always available.

The women decided it would be best to set aside one special night for the parties and they chose the third Saturday of the month.

On party night folks gather from all around for an evening of fun. The school board has had the building wired for electricity, and has provided a hot plate and tables for serving.

The parties have proven very popular and now the entire community looks forward to fun night at the Bell School.

160 Attend Woman's Club Guest Day Affair

CANADIAN (Special) — One hundred sixty members and guests of the Canadian Woman's Club were entertained Tuesday evening at the High School Auditorium at the club's annual Guest Day affair.

Mrs. Paul Bryant, president of the club, welcomed members and guests with an original poem in blank verse.

Miss Georgia Engle, music chairman, introduced the program, which was in keeping with National Music Week and featured a biographical piano-play on the life and works of Beethoven.

The play was a dramatic and contained piano recital in one act directed by Mrs. John Waters with the assistance of Mrs. Preston Hutton.

Featured in the cast were Sammie Wilbur, Alice Detweiler, Jean Waters, Norma Bernson, Jeanette Raymond, Nancy Williams, Tommy Holyby, Bill Flewelling, LaJuana Ballard, Dorothy Bernson, Phil Love, Leroy Williams, and Shirley Terrel.

Following the play, members and guests adjourned to the dining room of the First Christian Church, where a tea was served by the ladies of the church.

The Fellowship Hall, where the tea was served, was decorated with baskets of gladioli, tulip, spirea and iris.

The tea table was centered with a May Pole and favors were May baskets in pastel colors.

Mesdames John Waters, and Maurice Hobby, vice presidents of the club, presided at the tea service. Sandwiches, nuts, mints and cake were served.

Specialist to Talk On Family Life Education May 14

Mrs. Eloise Trigg Johnson, extension specialist in family life education, Texas A. & M. College, will be guest speaker following the County 4-H Girls' Clothing Revue, which will be held in the City Club Room May 14.

The clothing revue will start at 1:30, and Mrs. Johnson will speak at 2:30.

Mrs. Johnson, who is both mother and grandmother, was formerly a member of the home economics staff at the Texas State College for Women. She joined the extension staff as specialist in 1944.

She attended the National Council on Family Life Education which was held in Washington, D. C. and assisted in this state's follow-up conference on family life education which was held in Houston last November.

Mrs. Johnson's "Tater Family," including little "Spec Tater" (the set of colored slides on the Tater Family were developed by Mrs. Johnson), has been very popular.

One of Mrs. Johnson's dreams is to see every county in Texas with a "County Council on Family Life Education."

Home Demonstration Club members, the mothers and fathers of 4-H Club girls, and others interested in the promotion of family life education are invited to hear Mrs. Johnson.

Model Meeting Held by ESA

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority held a model meeting Thursday, April 28, in the City Club Rooms to welcome its four new members into the club.

The opening ritual was given by Mrs. Oran Payne who then gave a report to the club from National Headquarters on the untimely death of Mrs. Maye Halvert, organizer of the Pampa Alpha Omicron chapter, who was fatally injured in Oklahoma City when she was struck by a car.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Payne introduced Mrs. Edwin Givens and Miss VaRue Dyson, hostesses for the evening, who presented a sketch on "Acquiring Poise."

The main points brought out in the discussion were: 1. Poise is both inward as well as outward. 2. Understand yourself. 3. Laugh at yourself. 4. Be tolerant toward others. 5. Keep some goal always in mind. 6. Think. 7. Keep in good health. 8. Control your emotions. 9. Appreciate and value yourself. 10. Learn to relax. A person who knows how to relax is usually a poised person.

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. Harvey Longren, Joe A. Mitchell, Charles Robison, Oran Payne, Bill Ragdale, Robert Burks, Guy LeMond, Tom Lindsey, Berton Doucette, Parks Brumley, Jean Haw, John Nutting, Lillian Kelley, Herman Foster, Bert Arney, Margaret Dial, and Miss VaRue Dyson.

Hostesses for the next meeting which will be held May 12, at 3:30 p. m., will be Mrs. Mmes. Bruce Parker and Parks Brumley.

In measuring liquids in cooking use a cup that has a space above the one cup mark. This will prevent spilling and you are less likely to skimp in measuring liquids.

Mrs. Myles Morgan Elected President of Club Council

Mrs. Myles Morgan

Mrs. Myles Morgan was elected president of the Council of Clubs at its regular monthly session Thursday morning. She succeeds Mrs. Ed Weiss, Jr.

The other newly elected officers are: Mrs. Erwin Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Oran Payne, secretary; Mrs. Melvin Watkins, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Chisum, parliamentarian.

Ladies Golf Club In Handicap Play

The Ladies Golf Association met Wednesday at the Country Club for a short business meeting, after which a handicap play was held on the first nine holes.

Winner of the first flight was Mrs. Jean Duengel. Winner of the second flight was Mrs. Melvin Watkins. Prizes were golf balls and the privilege of wearing the golf bracelets until the next meeting, May 11. Twenty-three were present for the luncheon.

During the city tournament, Mrs. Gus Howard won the trophy donated by Country Club pro Johnny Austin, for having the least number of putts for 18 holes.

Mrs. Jean Duengel and Mrs. Carl Leuders left Saturday morning for Fort Worth to enter the state tournament.

Berenice Homer, Soprano, Gives Voice Recital Today

Berenice Homer

Miss Berenice Homer, lyric soprano, pupil of Mrs. May Foreman Carr, will present a voice recital in the Church of the Brethren at 3 p. m. today. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Homer, 1317 Charles.

Miss Homer is a member of Las Cresas Club, Spanish Club and the High School Band. She was also a member of the Messiah Chorus.

Baker P-TA to Have Tea for Mothers

B. M. Baker School P-TA will hold a pre-school tea Thursday for pre-school mothers.

Dr. Edward Williams will address the group on "Summer Roundup."

Following the address, blanks for the summer roundup will be passed out to the pre-school mothers.

It is best to use fractional measuring spoons and measuring cups for dry ingredients in making cake or cookies.

If bacon is cooked over low heat the fat will be white-colored and sweet-tasting and may be used thriftily for frying other foods such as potatoes, eggs, chicken.

June Laverne Guill Gives Spring Piano Recital May 13

June Guill

At 8 p. m. Friday, May 13, Miss June Laverne Guill, pupil of Mrs. H. A. Yoder, will be presented in her spring piano recital at the Church of the Brethren.

Miss Guill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Guill, 815 N. Frost. She has studied piano playing since she was eight years old.

For the past four years she has participated in the National Piano Playing Auditions, rating superior.

She has again prepared a program of 15 and 20 pieces respectively.

Venado Blanco Club Hears Short Sketches

WHITE DEER — (Special) — A miscellany of thumb-nail sketches made up the program for the Venado Blanco Club Tuesday evening, in the high school home-making department. Mrs. Olive Jordan and Miss Mary Green were hostesses.

With Mrs. Fred Mullings in charge, the members presented a summary of a short story, "Reverend New York," a selection from "Cheaper by the Dozen," brief reviews of a novel, "Rain-tree County," a drama, "The Ice-man Cometh," a biography, "Abigail Adams," and two professional books for teachers—accounts of the origin of finger painting and the origin of the song, "America, the Beautiful," a description of an ice show in Dallas, and a summary of a radio program on health legislation.

Present, besides those mentioned above, were: Mmes. D. V. Biggers, Joe Skaggs, B. R. Weeks, Hope Rusk, Kattie Allison, Kenneth Gibson, and Bob Farley; and Misses Winnie Warren, Helen Walker, Ruby Lee Hill, Gertrude Golladay, and Claudia Everly.

The final meeting of the year will be a breakfast at the Schneider Hotel in Pampa at 9 a. m. May 21.

Bridal Shower Given Kathryn Crowley

Miss Kathryn Crowley, bride-to-be of Elmo Hargis, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower May 1 at the home of Mrs. Homer Taylor. The bride's chosen colors, green and white, were carried out in table decorations.

The centerpiece consisted of a miniature bride and bridal wreath. Favors were white napkins with "Kathryn and Elmo" written in green.

Mrs. Alvin Reeves served the cake and Mrs. Chris Walsh served the punch. Mrs. Eugene Cooper presided at the guest register.

Hostesses were: Mmes. Homer Taylor, Eugene Cooper, J. B. Taylor, Jr., Alvin Reeves and Chris Walsh.

Miss Crowley was presented with a gardenia corsage. Mrs. S. N. Crowley, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. B. Hargis, mother of the bridegroom-to-be, were presented with white carnation corsages.

Fifty-seven guests signed the register.

Honored at Shower

Mrs. C. N. Ellis was honored recently with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. N. A. Cobb, 1104 Christine.

Those assisting the hostess were: Mmes. G. F. Alexander, C. F. Pursley, Jim Cornutt, Canara Carruth and H. W. Waters.

The lace-covered table was decorated with a mixed bouquet of tulips and a pair of storks holding a streamer in their bills with the word baby spelled out.

Pink and blue cakes and punch were served to: Mmes. H. A. Layne, Elmer Balch, E. G. Frasher, J. J. Schmidt, W. E. Boudreau, M. C. Allison, D. W. Coffman, E. W. Cabe, A. C. Houchin, A. C. Cox, Velma Heil, Rex McKay, M. Williams, J. L. Carlton, J. P. Crenshaw, T. C. Carter, and Myria Hodges.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Lillie Dean, Amarillo, and Mrs. A. A. Gannaway, Dalhart.

Quick-frozen lima beans may be cooked, chilled and served in a salad. Combine with finely diced celery and moisten with mayonnaise, adding a little pickle relish if desired.

Parent Education Club Has Program For Music Week

In observance of National Music Week, Parent Education Club members enjoyed a musical program in the home of Mrs. Ed Weiss, Jr., 1019 Christine.

Mrs. N. Dudley Steele, president, directed the business session, and members joined in reading the club collect. Reports were heard from various committees.

Mrs. L. G. Langston, program chairman, introduced the young artists, Thera Lee Warner who played "Fireflies," by Grant Schaeffer; Pamela Ketter who played "Nocturne in E Flat" by Chopin, and "Hungarian" by McDowell; Jan Ethridge who sang "Kashmir Song" by Woodforde Pindon and "The Forsaken Maid" by Thomas Smart. She was accompanied on the piano by Phoebe Osborne.

To conclude the program, Phoebe Osborne played "revolutionary Etude" by Chopin, "La Plus Quelenza" by Debussy.

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. L. N. Atchison, E. L. Biggerstaff, Bob Curry, Joe Gordon, R. F. Gordon, John Hines, John Ketter, Joe Key, Ray Kuhn, L. G. Langston, Ferris Oden, Al N. Dudley Steele, Joe Tooley.

The club year will close May 17 with a coffee and the installation of officers to be held in the home of Mrs. Bob Curry, 1126 Charles.

Jaycee-Ettes Have Musical Program

The Jaycee-Ettes held their regular meeting in the City Club Rooms at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Hostesses in charge of the program were Mrs. Jack Vaughn and Mrs. Tom Tipps.

The subject was music.

Piano pupils of Mrs. May Foreman Carr presented the following numbers, plus an encore each: Carol Reynolds, "Rustle of Spring"; Fat Reynolds played "Impromptu in C Sharp" by Minar. Gay Stone, a pupil of Ernestine Holmes, presented five numbers on the accordion.

Following the formal program, a short business meeting was held, in which final plans were laid for the spring formal dance. The dance is to be May 13 at the Terrace Grill, from 8:30 p. m. to 12, with music furnished by Ken Bennett's combo, and his organ. All Jaycee-Ettes, Jaycees, and guests are invited to attend.

The business meeting was in the charge of the president, Mrs. E. A. Johnson. Chairman of the dance committee is Mrs. Zelto Osborn.

The square dancing sessions will be discontinued until fall.

Following the meeting, the members went to the Court House Cafe for refreshments.

Present were: Mmes. D. A. Brown, Lee Cimeron, Bill Fannon, Joe Fisher, Don Foster, Louise Hood, R. V. Johnson, E. A. Johnson, Zelto Osborn, T. O. Tipps, Jack Vaughn, and Floyd Watson.

STUFFED PRUNES

To stuff prunes for salad or dessert, steam them over hot water until they are plump and soft; slit, remove pits and then use as desired. For salad they may be stuffed with pimento cheese and served on greens; for dessert they may be stuffed with chopped preserved ginger and nuts and served with soft custard sauce or whipped cream.

A pound of beets, when cooked, peeled and diced, will make about two cups, enough for four persons. Season them with a little butter or margarine, salt, a dash of sugar and a little wine vinegar before serving.

How HD Clubs Help 4-H Clubs

In observance of National Home Demonstration Club week, the following article is written to show how Home Demonstration Club women assist the girls' 4-H Club programs in Gray County.

Home Demonstration members encourage youth in better home-making practices and in developing leadership.

They are assisting the county agent and 4-H Club sponsors with the clothing review to be held May 14. They urge 100 percent attendance of the mothers of 4-H Club girls in the county.

Arrangements for the prizes have been worked out and arrangements made for judges.

Each Home Demonstration Club is providing six dozen cookies for the Clothing Review Tea. Each 4-H Club sponsors committee to help finance 4-H Club work.

The 4-H Club girls are invited for a second program during the summer months.

gram of 20 pieces which she will play in the auditions tomorrow. Her recital program will be selected from this repertoire, which includes the Beethoven B flat Concerto, Czardas by MacDowell, and the Hungarian Rhapsody No. 11 by Franz Liszt.

Miss Guill is now an eighth-grade student at Junior High School. She has served at various times as accompanist for her school choir, orchestra, and numerous band soloists. She plays regularly for the Junior High Dept. in Sunday School at the First Methodist Church and is also accompanist for the Beaux Arts Dance Studio.

She will be assisted by Miss Dorothy Loewen, contralto. The public is invited to attend.

Salvation Army Has Mothers Day Program Set

A Mothers Day program will be presented at 8 p. m. today by the Salvation Army.

The young people will present a play, "The Mother's Choice," and another item, "Pictures of Living Mothers."

Each mother present will be recognized with a gift, and special recognition will be given the oldest and youngest mother, and the mother with the largest family.

Honored at Party

On May 5, Mrs. Derrel B. Hogssett and Lloyd King were honored by Mrs. King with a surprise birthday party.

The living room was decorated with spring flowers. The white cake was decorated with yellow roses and written in the corners were Lloyd and Jean.

During the evening movies were taken, table games played and movies shown.

Refreshments of cake, homemade ice cream and iced tea were served.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lee May, Edwin Blanton and Holly, Roland Baily and Sylvia, James H. Enloe and Craig, Duane F. Hogssett and Rita Lynne, Derrel B. Hogssett and Denny, and Lloyd King and Dennis.

When making raisin pie, sprinkle the raisins with a little grated lemon rind and cinnamon.

Faithful Workers Give Mother's Day Tea

Faithful Workers Class of the First Baptist Church held a Mother's Day Tea at the church Tuesday afternoon.

After opening prayer by Mrs. J. H. Tucker, each member was asked to stand and introduce herself. A corsage of red roses was presented to Mrs. J. H. Richey, class mother.

Mrs. Lester Brown brought the devotional, and Mrs. O. B. Schiffman read three poems: "Mother's Way," "Picture of Mother," and "Mother Love."

Mrs. Lee Newsom sang "Mother McCree" and "Mother Knows." She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Frank Turpin.

Class colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and a centerpiece of white spirea lined blue with blue candles in silver holders on each side.

As favors each member was presented with a corsage of spirea tied with blue ribbon.

Mrs. Ernest Arey and Mrs. O. W. Hampton presided at the refreshment table.

Hostesses were the members of group one: Meses. Hampton, Schiffman, Q. E. Beavers, and Emmett Forrester.

Mothers honored were: Mrs. J. H. Richey, and Mrs. J. S. Jameson. Mothers attending were those mentioned and: Meses. A. A. McAlrath, Val Mathes, W. H. Thomas, H. W. Kiser, W. H. Lewis, Bob Clements, Louis Turpley, Max Crocker, D. B. Jameson, Myron Spencer, Spencer Matlock, Minor Langford, James A. Hopkins.

'Curbstone' To Harvest More Corn

KELLEY

Well, it says here that Kelley's back and KPND's got 'im.

Harry Kelley, the "Curbstone Farmer," will be back on the air tomorrow morning according to an announcement by Radio Station KPND. Kelley, who is considered one of the Panhandle's outstanding entertainers and masters of ceremonies, will be on the air for 30 minutes every morning from 6:30 until 7.

According to Kelley, the program will consist of "a trading post, where farmers and ranchers and any city folks listenin' in can trade off something they don't need for something else they don't have no use for."

Kelley went on to say that he's going to include his own personalized analysis of local, Panhandle, national and world affairs, as well as "some other things I ain't fully figured out yet."

Kelley was master of ceremonies on the popular "Farm Fair" program carried over KPND last winter and summer, before going into business for himself. It has been estimated that at the peak of the program's popularity, Kelley had one of the largest audiences in the Panhandle.

Library Gets Glass Showcase

A two-sided glass showcase has been donated to the Pampa Public Library, Mrs. Lillian E. Snow, librarian, said yesterday.

Murfee's Inc. Department Store donated the case so unusual hobbies and special events could be exhibited.

The showcase, equipped with shelves and lights, is currently displaying Gray County 4-H Club girls' clothing. The clothing is advertising the county 4-H Clothing Revue, which will be held at 1:30 p. m. next Saturday at the City Club Rooms.

The 4-H display will remain at the library until Wednesday, at which time Pampa Boy Scouts will enter an exhibit. The exhibits will be changed weekly, with hobbies being played up primarily.

The present exhibit includes an apron, made by Janice Wein-

Slipcovers Studied By Bell HD Club

Mrs. D. W. Swain demonstrated the proper way to measure material for slip covers at a meeting of the Bell Home Demonstration Club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. David Collis, 1209 N. Russell.

Mrs. Swain discussed the color and design of material and gave the steps in making slip covers for furniture.

Mrs. Henry Urbanczyk gave the council report. Mrs. Grace Morris talked about suggestions for the new yearbook. The 4-H Club committee chairman, Mrs. T. Anderwald, invited the women to the 4-H Club clothing review to be held in the Palm Room May 14.

Mrs. Warminski and Mrs. Urbanczyk supervised the children for the afternoon.

The next meeting will be May 18 with Mrs. Conner O'Neal.

Present were: those mentioned and Mrs. Clifford Arrington, Mrs. Emmett Osborne, and Mrs. H. C. Dusterhaus.

Simple Tricks Pep Up Old Coat

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The junior miss who went all out for the ankle-dusting greatcoat last spring is faced with the problem of bringing it up to date.

Although there have been few radical fashion changes, hemlines this season are just enough shorter to make an ankle-length coat look outdated. By simply turning up the hem to mid-calf length, you will see for yourself how much smarter your coat looks.

Another simple refurbishing device is to change the buttons, adding more to a front closing for a newer-looking display. If you can salvage enough material from the hemline, use the fabric for self-covered buttons which will add a smart "dressmaker" touch to your last year's coat.

Or you may use the excess fabric to make a belt which will reef in excessive fullness to give a new and trimmer-looking silhouette. If there is not enough fabric for a belt, a leather belt of a color exactly matched to the color of your coat will provide an equally smart waistline accent.

LEFTOVER LAMB
Leftover lamb may be diced and moistened with leftover gravy, then topped with mashed potatoes and heated in a moderate oven. Add a small can of drained chopped mushrooms and a little minced parsley to the lamb for a company touch.

A thin sugar glaze for cookies may be made by mixing sifted confectioners' sugar with milk, fruit juice, or water so that it is about the consistency of thin cream.

Difficult Task Is Seen Facing 'Stock Industry'

CHICAGO — The livestock industry "faces a difficult task to provide a high quality diet for our rapidly growing population," Dr. W. I. Myers, dean of agriculture at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., said.

In a prepared speech, he told the American Feed Manufacturers Association Convention:

"There have been only five years during the last half century when the numbers of livestock per capita were lower than they are now. These were the drought years of the '30's," he said. "With the average of pasture relatively fixed and the increase of feed crops increasing more slowly than population, the U. S. must expect a continuation of the downward trend of livestock numbers per capita that has prevailed since 1890."

Automatic Pay Cut Due Wednesday May Speed Up Work of Legislature

AUSTIN — (AP) — Legislators take an automatic 50 percent pay cut Wednesday. This may help bring the 51st regular session to a whirlwind finish.

A strong movement to get the job done was taking shape as the session neared the 120-day mark. It is Tuesday. The Constitution provides that senators and representatives be paid $5 a day instead of 10 after the 120th day.

The two main jobs unfinished are a final solution of the spending-taxation issue and final enactment of the last of the Gitterman school bills.

Major accomplishment last week was completion of legislative action on two of the school measures: S. B. 115 by Jim Taylor of Kerens and S. B. 117 by A. M. Aikin, Jr. of Paris. They are on Gov. Beauford H. Jester's desk.

A conference committee was named to adjust House and Senate differences in S. B. 116 by Otis Lock of Lufkin, the minimum school foundation program measure. The Senate accepted House changes in the other two.

News that the general revenue fund has exactly 134 million dollars left for spending will put the issue of appropriations and possible new taxes into the spotlight the remainder of the session. A House subcommittee is preparing an omnibus tax measure that the Legislature can go to work on if spending can not be trimmed down to fit revenue.

All but one of the major money bills that must be passed before the session can end have been sent to the floor by House and Senate Finance Committees. That is the eleventh-hour appropriation, still in Senate finance. These bills have top priority and debate could start at any time.

Here in brief was last week's major action:

Approved and sent the Senate

Rayburn and Vandenburg Get Awards

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman Saturday presented to Senator Vandenburg (R-Mich.) and Representative Rayburn (D-Tex.) the annual Colliers Congressional Awards for distinguished service to the nation in 1948.

The ceremony took place in the rose garden at the White House before a distinguished audience of persons in and out of official life.

To each went an engraved silver plaque and a check for $10,000 to be given to whatever public purposes the winners designate.

Vandenburg said his check will go to the First Congregational Church in his home town of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Rayburn said his check will go toward establishing a public library in his home town of Bonham, Tex., for the benefits of residents of Bonham and Fannin County.

He said his own documents and books will be housed in the library and that it will be a general library for the people "who have voted me into office 22 straight times."

Committee Set Up to Study Clubhouse Needs

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Dalton Ford was elected chairman of the Community Clubhouse Committee at an organizational meeting Tuesday attended by 22 voting delegates and interested citizens at the High School Cafeteria.

The group will study plans for proposed community clubhouse. Mrs. Ernest Richardson was named secretary; and J. C. Freeman, treasurer.

Mrs. Jay Phillips, president of the Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club, presided as temporary chairman for the selection of permanent officers.

After considerable discussion of the proposed plans of the organization, Mr. Ford appointed the following committees to report at the next meeting on May 17, at 7:30, in the cafeteria:

Location — Mayor B. R. Weeks, Mrs. Weeks, and County Commissioner J. C. Jackson.

Building needs and plans — Mrs. Alvin Lewis, T. C. Jackson, J. C. Nichols, Zane Hall, and W. W. Wells.

Uses — E. E. Foose, Mrs. J. C. Jackson, and Miss Claude Every. Survey of present facilities — Winfield Powers, Mrs. Ernest Richardson, and Rev. S. Duane Bruce.

Finance — J. C. Freeman, chairman, and a jury members whom he will choose.

After the meeting, refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by the Busy Bee Home Demonstration Club.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

Copyright by Greenberg Publishers
Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Mr. and Mrs. Roberts take in problems with their lodger when they attempt to relieve the war-time housing shortage in Great Falls, Mont. Roger, who was the Roberts' possession as if they were his own, is a big problem, but recently Captain Dick Morgan, his wife Betty and their baby, who live in the main's basement apartment, have created a problem with their assortment of baby sisters.

XXIII

I ASKED Betty to instruct her sitters to stay out of my part of the house. Betty sighed, said she'd get a new girl. The implication was that none who had worked for her—and me—would be willing to return to the job. She hinted that possibly I'd find it more to my liking to sit with the baby myself.

"I'd love to," I agreed, "when I'm home, anyway. But I can't make any promises to stay home, because sometimes I change my plans on the spur of the moment. I've got to be free to do that," I said, annoyed at being on the defensive. "But when I'm settled for the night, or lashed to the washing machine, I'll be delighted to take care of Caroline." Betty got a new girl. She didn't fat, and she didn't have dancing parties. But she must have had a tapeworm. The refrigerator door banged on the hour and on the half hour like a faithful old clock. The sixth or so time it banged, I couldn't control myself. I look off for the kitchen, my kitchen. Standing by the sink, leaning over it so the juice wouldn't run down her front, was the sitter, eating a slice of watermelon.

I opened and shut my mouth a few times, priming the pump, before any words came. "Why are you eating out of my refrigerator?" I asked.

"I'm hungry," she replied accusingly.

"Didn't Mrs. Morgan tell you what to have for your lunch?"

"Sure. I ate the icebox. You're not supposed to be in my kitchen at all," I snapped.

"There's nothing left downstairs to eat," she snapped back.

I ASKED Betty to explain to her sitters that they mustn't use my kitchen nor help themselves to my food.

"Oh, dear," she cried. "I don't believe I'll ever be able to find a sitter to suit you. I guess I'll just have to stay home all the time myself." She looked at me as though I were deliberately making trouble for her.

"Surely there must be someone you can make understand that this is a two-family house now and that our half is not for her to make use of."

"Well, I'll try," Betty said, "but I'm about out of names."

She found one more girl to put up with me—a child of about 13. She arrived alone, but within a matter of minutes had spirited three little companions into the basement. I saw them sink up the garden walk, piping all the windows on that side of the house, but though they looked cautiously, they did not see me behind a Venetian blind. They tip-toed down the basement stairs, quiet as mice.

The house began to rock on its foundation. I allowed four or five tremors to pass unnoted and then proceeded to the basement. The children were making so much noise they didn't hear me as I called to them, and when I didn't find them in the laundry or sitting room, I continued to the bedroom where I discovered them all in the closet. They screamed at my unannounced appearance.

"Girls, what are you up to?" I asked.

They giggled. One was clutching a large book in her arms. I looked at it. It was Betty's scrapbook.

"Where did you get this?" I asked.

"From the top shelf," one answered.

I looked at the height of the shelf and the size of the girls and wondered aloud how they had got the book down.

"Oh, we've been jumping for it. Mazie," indicating a wiry child, jumped the highest. She reached it."

Leaving out the ethics of their helping themselves to things put up on top shelves, I suggested they might have got it more easily and more quietly by standing on a chair.

"Oh, jumping's more fun!" they chorused.

ON the days that Betty did stay home and take care of the Little Character herself, she had groups of other young mothers and their children to keep her company. From every nook and cranny they came—rooms over grocery stores, back houses in backyards, hotels downtown. Often they were wheeling baby carriages piled with lap robes, pillows, books, sun-tan oil, bottles, diapers, and, of course, the baby: it was a pleasant sight to look out on: a large circle of young mothers lying around sunning themselves, smoking, drinking cokes, occasionally turning a baby over to brown on the other side or moving it out of the sun altogether, or changing it, or giving it a bottle. It made our garden seem useful and worth the effort to keep it in order.

I never had time to sit in it; it was as much as I could manage to mow the lawn. I never decided whether Rob was too heavy for such light work, or vice versa, or just allergic to work, period. He traded on the theory that outside work was gardeners' work, and if there weren't gardeners to be had, it wasn't his fault and he couldn't be expected to take a ball of clay in his hands and create one. Snow shovelers ditto. Each time I mowed the lawn mower or the snow shovel, he followed me around, moving from window to window inside the house, tapping with his finger to get my attention; and when I looked up, he would shake his head dolefully and wig-wag me not to do it, that that work was too hard for me.

Well, as I said before, it was gratifying to see the nicely mowed lawn being appreciated.

Because of the additional expense entailed by the necessary correspondence in inaugurating this annual affair, a charge of $2 will be made for each ticket, to cover the cost of the banquet, decorations and other expenses.

Since it is impossible to secure all the addresses, all graduates who are interested in attending this banquet have been asked to send their present addresses to Mrs. Richard Barnes, that she may send out any further information necessary.

Named as chairmen of the following committees were: tickets — Mrs. Wayne Jordan, White Deer; food — Frank Rapsline, Pampa; program — Willis Albert, Jr., Skellytown; correspondence — Mrs. Richard Barnes, White Deer; decorations — Mrs. H. T. Dickens, White Deer; and tables — Nathan Edwards, White Deer.

Student Leaders Are Named For Higgins Class of '49

FRANCES BREITTKREUTZ

JEAN BROWN

HIGGINS — (Special)—Frances Breittkreutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breittkreutz, has been named valedictorian of the Higgins Class of '49; and Jean Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, has been named salutatorian. The announcement was made by Charles E. Gourley, superintendent. At the same time he announced that commencement exercises would be held in the school Auditorium Thursday, May 19, with baccalaureate services to be conducted in the First Baptist Church on May 15. The Rev. Lewis Hancock will be the principal speaker at the baccalaureate. Both services will begin at 8 p.m. Special activities for the group have been planned. The Junior-Senior Class trip to Oklahoma City was scheduled to be last Friday; and the annual Senior trip will be on May 23, which will include visiting a number of points in Colorado. Through the courtesy of the J. C. Daniels Motor Co., Pampa, the class will ride in style on their annual sight-seeing trip. Daniels has placed at their disposal a new Mercury station wagon. The group will be chaperoned by Mrs. Warren Jenkins and Harold Mason. Members of the Senior Class are Miss Breittkreutz, president; Miss Brown; Jack Detrick, vice president; Darlene Appel, treasurer; Berylene Sell, secretary; and Erna Satterwhite, Vernon Bruce, and Nona Litchfield. Mason is the class sponsor.

China's Greatest Need Is U. S. Moral Support

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Your columnist has encountered an unusual analysis of China's crisis, by an interesting personality—Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese philosopher, educator and diplomat who was ambassador in Washington in 1938-42. Dr. Hu has just arrived in New York from China homeland on a tour to study the world situation. I asked him what he thought of the testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee by General Claire Chennault who said America still could save China (and Asia) from the Communist control by assistance costing about $1,000,000 a day. "I'm not a military expert," replied Dr. Hu, "and am not qualified to pass judgment on that estimate. Of course material aid is needed but I don't believe the exact amount of help matters nearly so much as would the moral support of America. "That's the great thing—the assurance that the United States is with us. "The greatest weakness of Nationalist China now is lowered morale due to the belief that she has lost American support. I can tell you now that the collapse of the Nanking government resulted from the reports that the United States could do nothing more for China. "Such news spreads rapidly in my country. You mustn't forget that at least 50,000 of our intellectuals were educated in the United States. Naturally any reaction here towards China is quickly recognized and the news spreads. I asked Dr. Hu if he felt the Nationalists still had a chance to win. He nodded, and said: "As I see it, our position is no worse, today than was that of say France and Belgium after they were invaded by the Germans in the late war. The people didn't lose their courage. Why? Because they knew the Allied powers would stand by them. And in due course the Germans were evicted. "I believe the Nationalist cause isn't lost. We still can win."

Homemade Bomb Works Too Well

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.Y.—(AP)—Some Rutgers University Freshman chemistry students decided to concoct a bomb in a paper drinking cup Thursday as a prank. The instructor was out of the room for moment, and it seemed like fun. The bomb was all too effective. It blew up suddenly. As a result, Anthony J. Iannarone is without hands today. The average person says 10,000 words a day. Mister, do you have an average wife?

Ways to Save

If you were a native of Angola your "wealth" would be in the form of surplus grain which you would protect from marauding animals by storing it in large woven baskets on the top of high poles. Whenever you wanted to use some of your "savings" it would be necessary to cut down the pole and start over again.

West's Worst Winter Has Turned Out to Be Blessing in Disguise

By BEN FUNK DENVER — (AP)—The most terrible winter in Western history has turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Soil in the blizzard belt is packed with moisture. Crop prospects are fine in most areas. Enough snow is piled in mountain ranges to assure ample irrigation water through the summer. Ranchers in the arid west, where water or the lack of it spells the difference between prosperity and ruin, figure the water supplies left by the big snows will more than offset the winter's losses. For seven straight weeks, a terrifying cataract of snow enveloped the plains and mountains of eight states. Winds blew up to 80 miles an hour. Temperatures fell as low as 49 degrees below zero. Snow drifted 30 feet deep. On the ranges, cattle and sheep perished by thousands. Whole herds of deer and antelope died of freezing and starvation. More than 100 humans were killed. The livestock toll still isn't fully known and won't be until after the spring calving and lambing season. But Westerners can count their blessing now. In the first place, they got a great break when flood threats, potentially the most dangerous in 68 years, failed to materialize. Temperatures — freezing by night and thawing by day—were just right. The soil absorbed much of the water as the snow melted gradually. The weather warmed up in orderly fashion from south to north. Ice on the Missouri River moved out first from the lower reaches and then, by successive steps, from upstream. Snow in the high mountains of the Columbia basin still hasn't melted much and the U.S. Geological Survey sees a threat of floods in a sudden big thaw, but at present cold nights and warm days are ideal for a slow runoff. The big blizzards struck the first of January. They continued until late in February, and Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah, and even reached down into sunny Arizona and New Mexico. Military planes, augmented by civilian craft, dropped food and fodder to isolated humans and animals. Army bulldozers opened thousands of miles of drifted roads. Behind them went trucks carrying food and medicine to people in snowy exile. It took until mid-March to break the paralyzing hold of the storm. Nebraska, probably the hardest hit of all the states, figures it lost five percent of its livestock in January and February, and more in a late March snowstorm that picked off calves and cold-weakened cattle. In Wyoming, unofficial estimates range from two to four percent. Kansas, outside the disaster area, lost 45,000 to 50,000 head of sheep and lambs and 10,000 head of cattle over and above the normal winter toll, according to the state board of agriculture. South Dakota's loss is figured now at 22,000 cattle and 17,000 sheep. In other states officials report the loss was much less than they had anticipated in the excitement of the blizzard period. Nebraska is the only state reporting severe damage to crops. There the estimate winter wheat yield was cut by 1,254,000 bushels to 78,872,000. The Kansas wheat crop is estimated at 244,878,000 bushels, the third largest on record. Colorado expects a smaller crop. Conditions are poor in some sections of Montana. Prospects are reported "good" in Utah, Wyoming and Idaho and a little better than average in North Dakota. There's a bright side to the crop picture even in Nebraska where spring-seeded crop prospects are reported good. With ranges well moistened, livestock prospects are said to be good in North Dakota, and "normal" in Montana.

Jet-Transport Market in Hand Of the British

NEW YORK — The race for the jet-transport market is heading for a showdown this year between Great Britain and the United States, according to Business Week. The magazine says the British now have a comfortable lead, but that America still stands a chance of getting to first place. American aircraft manufacturers haven't been able to get their jet-transport designs off the drawing boards, the article explains, while in Great Britain, experimental jet transports are already flying and a third production model is well into construction. The article warns that unless the U. S. begins building before the year's end, the British dream of recapturing the world's air-transport markets in the early 1950's may well come true. Manufacturers in the two countries have different views on the jet-transport development. The British are pinning their hopes on the De Havilland Comet, a swept-wing, four-jet transport, designed to make the London-New York crossing non-stop in a six hours. In contrast, top U.S. transport manufacturers are trying to sell U.S. airlines a short-haul, twin-jet transport, cruising at 400 m.p.h. for fast interurban service over 400-700-mile hops. The article notes that U.S. jet-transport designs have not passed the drawing board stage because of the lack of money. "Unless something breaks the financing bottleneck within the next six months," says the publication, "U.S. transport manufacturers stand little chance of overcoming the British lead. What they face is the loss of their present unchallenged supremacy in the international airliner market."

Abilene High Wins State Play Contest

AUSTIN — (AP)—"Skin of Teeth," presented by Abilene High School, won first place in the Inter-scholastic League's Class AA one-act play contest Thursday night. Austin High School placed second for act one of "Barretts of Wimpole Street." Third went to Lubbock for "Jazz and Minuet." Myrna Ruff, Austin, and Wayne Thomas, Abilene, won the annual Samuel French Awards for best actress and best actor respectively. Nancy Davis, Lubbock; Jackie Sue Seay, Abilene; Jac Farmer, Austin, and Jack Yantibus, Beaumont, won gold medals as outstanding actors. Read The News Classified Ads.

Cisco Kid Goes on and On Forever

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—"Like Tennyson's brook," said the screen's original Cisco Kid, "he goes on and on forever." Warner Baxter could have been talking about the kid — or himself. Both have had long histories in the motion picture business, and neither seems to be coming to a halt. "It's a thrill every time a new 'kid' picture comes out," Baxter said on the "Beyond These Walls" set. "The Oscar I won as the original Cisco Kid has a place of honor in my house. The role has been played by Cesar Romero, Gilbert Roland and Duncan Renaldo since my time. Now the Cisco Kid has a radio show and is a good bet for television. In recent years, Baxter has been identified as Dr. Ordway in the "Crime Doctor" series. Instead of yelping about being typed, he says of the role: "It's a very comfortable way to continue a long career. When you are doing a familiar character, he practically becomes a friend of yours, and more important, a friend of the audience." Picture making occupies only a small amount of Baxter's time now. His energies are also devoted to his real estate, his office as mayor of Malibu and his collection of motion picture curios. Highlights and sidelights in the Hollywood news: Humphrey Bogart was discussing the sudden fame of Kirk Douglas. "Now his trouble starts," said Bogart with a sigh.

British Radio Sinks 'Slow Boat to China'

LONDON — (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation sank the "Slow Boat to China" Thursday. BBC ruled the tune off the air "for the time being, in deference to the families of British sailors who were killed in the recent Yangtze River incidents."

DEATH SENTENCE

DALLAS — (AP)—A sentence of death in the electric chair at Huntsville June 7 was pronounced Friday for Umberto Remines Vallero in the 1947 slaying of Thomas Gentry Taylor, retired McKinney railroad man. "When he's a star, he gets put on the spot. "When I was in his position, I tried to get Warners not to star me. I wanted to be the other guy in a Jimmy Cagney picture or a 'George Raft picture.' Then if the picture was bad, people would say 'Raff stunk, but Bogart was okay.' "When you're the star, you have to take all the rap yourself." Yeah, but look at the money you get, Bogie.

According to Red Army Paper There'll Be No Four-Power Agreement at Paris

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If Russia adheres to a German policy like the one ascribed her by the Red Army newspaper in Berlin, there will be no four-power agreement at the Paris conference.

The paper says the Soviets will demand a peace treaty which would:

- 1 - Exclude Germany from the new Council of Europe and
- 2 - Discard the Allied Control Statute for the Ruhr and admit Russian interest. A large possibility, but only under strict safeguards against Russian obstructionism, without the veto power which Moscow always demands to prevent being outvoted in any international organization. Russia herself would probably refuse to meet the requirements.
- 3 - Discard Allied policies (including plans for a federal government) which have been adopted since Russia withdrew from four-power control of Germany. The Allies have said flatly that they will do no such thing.
- 4 - Establish a government of all Germany which will follow the lines laid down in the Soviet Zone for "People's Democracy." This is a try for communism and Soviet control following the pattern of Eastern Europe, and is utterly impossible of acceptance. Every Western statesman has emphasized Allied determination on true personal freedom and Democratic political institutions. And the memory of Yalta is still fresh.

3 - Limit the military occupation of Germany in one year. Which, of course, would permit the highly organized Communist cadres, the Russian-picked German police of the East and perhaps even a von Paulus army (which has been reported but not verified as organizing under Russian auspices) to begin using the tactics which conquered Eastern Europe. And which would violate every Frenchman's sense of safety, even possibly bringing on a "preventive" war. No soap.

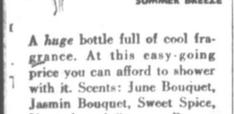

The Russian Army paper, of course, may not be correctly presenting the Kremlin's view, knowing that it will not get into trouble by advance toughness which would permit Soviet diplomats to appear milder when they get to Paris. Or these could be extreme demands, put forward for the purpose of horse trading.

Whatever the purpose of this publication, few students of Russian tactics are expecting the lifting of the Berlin blockade to be anything more than a Russian withdrawal in one sector in order to press her fight for control or Germany on other fronts.

Newly Found Virus May Cause Second Kind Polio

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Science Reporter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A newly found virus causes either a second kind of polio, or a disease much like polio, Dr. Gilbert Daildorf of Albany has reported.

This virus was obtained from 17 humans who had a disease that appeared to be infantile paralysis, he told the New York State Medical Society.

But it's quite different from the kinds of virus which are known to cause typical polio in humans, said Dr. Daildorf, director of the Division of Laboratories and Research, New York State Health Department.

It causes paralysis in humans about as often as the known kinds of virus do. But the paralysis seems to be less severe, and usually doesn't last as long.

Viruses are disease-causing agents, much smaller than bacteria, that can live and reproduce

Chimpanzee Finally Taken From Mother

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—After one year's effort, David, a baby chimpanzee, has been taken away from his mother in the Audubon Park Zoo.

George Douglas, park superintendent, said it took a powerful drug—a shot in the arm big enough to knock out a 200-pound man—to pacify the chimp's mother, Lucette.

Once mother and baby were separated, the papa chimp, Duffy, was moved back into its cage.

At the reunion, Duffy rushed up to Lucette, grabbed her in his arms and kissed her. Duffy had been gone for two years and three months—ever since David was born—while Lucette devoted her talents to rearing the baby.

But chimps "dry up fast," Douglas explained, "and the baby was not getting the proper food." This was the 18-year-old Lucette's fourth offspring.

"We took her first baby away by building a trap door in the cage," Douglas said, "but when we tried that a second time she remembered that trick and would have nothing of it. Her second baby died of pneumonia. Her third one we took away by getting her drunk on port wine."

"But that made a teetotaler out of her. We offered her wine when we undertook to take David away but she refused it."

The U. S. is being flooded with get-rich-quick offerings of stock in new Canadian mining syndicates. Investors should not confuse these stocks with Social Securities.
