Senators Disagree With President

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman declared today that he still wants his anti-inflation program and higher taxes. He spoke of the recent drop in prices as only a temporary lull in inflation pressure.

At the same time, he said his request for stand-by price controls has been a factor in checking price rises.

This administration program has not been shelved, Mr. Truman asserted, certainly not on the basis of any consultation with him.

As for taxes, the President said a federal deficit would be much more dangerous to the country's economic health than a tax increase.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that he does not agree with Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, that a tax increase at this time might bring about a depression.

George's view is that taking that much money out of the hands of the people would mean less spending for consumer goods and thus contribute to a slackening of business.

What Mr. Truman argues is that it would be worse for the government to spend more than it takes in through taxes, creating a deficit in its accounts.

In his message to Congress last January, Mr. Truman proposed a 4 billion dollar increase in taxes to come chiefly from corporations and perhaps from individuals in higher income brackets.

Several key Democratic senators told reporters in interviews prior to the President's news conference that they believed the nation is in for a period of "readjustment" that probably has not yet reached its present stage.

There can be no doubt that recent price decreases have reduced demand for controls," Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) told a reporter.

As chairman of the joint Senate-House Economic Committee O'Mahoney previously had urged (See SENATORS, Page 6)

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman declared today that he is confident the Atlantic Pact will be ratified by the Senate.

He said the defense alliance is absolutely necessary.

The President took this position at a news conference when he was told that Senator Taft (R-O) has questioned the advisability of going into the Pact. He said he thought the majority of the senators would go along with him.

Mr. Truman restated his stand as Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Bevin scheduled the first of a series of major conferences to help line up the solid front of Western Powers.

While the main reason for Bevin's visit to this country is the signing of the North Atlantic Security Treaty Monday, the meetings were expected to cover the whole problem of reinforcing the unity of the West against Russia.

IMPRISONED BY CZECHS AS SPIES—Two American soldiers who wandered into Czechoslovakia from Germany while absent without leave have been sentenced to ten to twelve years in prison as spies by a Czech State court.

Passage Assured For Treaty—HST

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman declared today that he is confident the Atlantic Pact will be ratified by the Senate.

He said the defense alliance is absolutely necessary.

The President took this position at a news conference when he was told that Senator Taft (R-O) has questioned the advisability of going into the Pact.

Mr. Truman restated his stand as Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Bevin scheduled the first of a series of major conferences to help line up the solid front of Western Powers.

While the main reason for Bevin's visit to this country is the signing of the North Atlantic Security Treaty Monday, the meetings were expected to cover the whole problem of reinforcing the unity of the West against Russia.

Diplomatic authorities agreed that by far the most important matters facing Bevin and Acheson as well as French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman—concern Western Germany.

Schuman probably will see Acheson tomorrow and the three foreign ministers will make a determined effort to end policy differences preventing creation of a single German government over the American, British and French occupation zones.

Bevin takes the stand there will be no trouble settling this issue. Other questions which may come up in the discussions, particularly between Bevin and Acheson, include:

(1) The security of the Middle Eastern countries such as Turkey, Greece and Iran; (2) the possibility of forming a Mediterranean defense treaty; and (3) how to block the spread of communism in Southeast Asia.

On his arrival yesterday from New York, Bevin said the Atlantic Pact, which he and 11 other foreign ministers are to sign, will mean "peace for a long time."

In a radio talk last night, Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee suggested that such a pact, together with the proposed rearmament of Europe, might lead Russia to attack before these arrangements are built up.

Others scheduled to arrive during the next two days include Foreign Ministers Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium, Joseph Bech of Luxembourg, and Count Carlo Strozzi of Italy.

The foreign ministers of Iceland, Denmark, Norway and Portugal likewise are expected. Iceland and Portugal decided only yesterday to join the alliance. Their action assured a solid lineup of all the nations geographically qualified to join the pact except for two: Germany and Spain.

The conferences here may bring some discussion of policies toward Spain.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The familiar yellow-lettered, black-backed 1948 Texas license tags are becoming more scarce as the bright yellow-backed, black-lettered 1949 tags are taking their place on Gray County cars, trucks and motorcycles.

Tomorrow, April 1, will be the last day 1948 tags will be permitted on Texas cars, Deputy Assessor-Collector Jack Back said this morning.

Back said owners are given through April 1 to purchase their 1949 tags and the tax office will remain open until 7 p.m. to take care of the last minute tag-buyers.

Back reported no immediate and accurate account of how many license plates have been issued by the tax office other than a rough estimate of over 6,200 passenger car tags secured up until mid-morning today.

By midnight tomorrow all cars, trucks, and motorcycles must bear their 1949 tags.

Aunt of Pampa Woman Succumbs

Mrs. Mildred Hill, executive secretary of the local Red Cross Chapter, flew to Pasadena, Calif., this afternoon to attend the funeral of her aunt, Miss Lydia Ferguson.

Miss Ferguson, who served as a Methodist missionary in Brazil for 38 years died yesterday at the Robinscroft Missionary Home at Pasadena. Services will be held there tomorrow and Mrs. Hill will return to Pampa Saturday.

Youth Gets Life Term For Killing

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. — (AP) — Robert C. Bagwill, 17, was sentenced to life imprisonment 30 minutes after a jury convicted him of murdering Crockett C. Ross.

The youth wept as District Attorney Sam Cleveland laid yesterday reenacted the killing of the 38-year-old Stephenville filling station operator.

His sister, Mrs. Carl W. Grounds, 20, of Tulsa, cried out "No, no" as she wiped the tears from Bagwill's eyes as Cleveland called the youth a "confirmed graduate in crime."

Bagwill had pleaded innocent to the slaying of Ross on Jan. 28. The state had asked he be sent to the electric chair.

The case reached the jury of 11 farmers and a grocery clerk at 6:30 p.m. A verdict was returned at 8:00 p.m.

Bagwill and his uncle, Daniel White, 48, were arrested at Vernon on Feb. 6.

Officers recovered $12,000 in loot allegedly taken in a series of Texas and Oklahoma burglaries.

White, charged as an accomplice in the Ross slaying, was granted a separate trial.

J. C. Cunningham, president of the Chamber of Commerce at Dallas, will serve as moderator at the conference. Tom V. Watson, also of the Dallas office, will be here to assist with the general arrangements of the program.

Towns expected to send delegations include Miami, Canadian, Wheeler, McLean, Shamrock, Panhandle, Berger, Stinnett, Dumas, Amarillo, Claude, Vega, Stratford, Dalhart, Perrytown, Clarendon, Higgins, Mobeetie, Spearman, Gruver, Hereford, Canyon and White Deer.

Bodies of War Dead Returned

The bodies of three men of the Pampa area are among the remains of 1,147 Americans who lost their lives in World War II now being returned to the United States from the Pacific area aboard the Army transport, Sgt. Jack J. Fendleton, the Department of the Army announced today.

A total of 89 remains are being returned to next of kin in Texas from temporary military cemeteries in South Korea and the Philippine Islands.

Those being returned to relatives in this area are Pfc. Tandy W. Collinsworth, son of E. C. Collinsworth of Pampa; E. N. James, Everett, son of P. E. Perry, Everett of McLean; and Pfc. Marion L. Welch, son of M. L. Welch of Letors.

Paving City Streets Is Complicated Job

Paving a city street in Pampa is a long and complicated job that requires careful preparation and constant watchfulness at each of several different stages.

The first step in actual paving — after the street has been designated and the property owners lined up for their share of the costs — is to lay an eight-inch layer of mixed sand and clay.

Although caliche is widely used as a paving base in West Texas, the caliche found in the Pampa area will not stand up under hard pounding, City Engineer Ray Evans said.

Under the covering canopy that keeps the dirt from flying are baffle-boards that help to thoroughly mix the soil and cement as well as break it up to a uniform consistency.

It is this stage of wetting down the base that requires the most careful checking. If it is too wet, it will get spongy, it will pack unevenly, and will crawl away from under the rollers; if it is too dry, it won't pack at all.

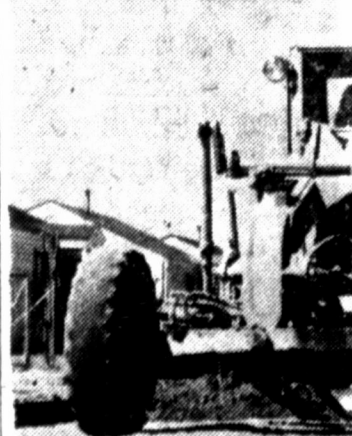

the pulverizer returns to begin a ceaseless churning up and down the length of the street while water is gradually added to bring the mixture to a uniform consistency.

The pulverizer looks something like a large carpet sweeper dragged behind a tractor. It is nothing more than a whirling cylinder bristling with teeth that bite into the loose base and throw it back.

After this first loose base is laid it has to be thoroughly broken up by a tractor-drawn pulverizer that does the double job of breaking up the clods and mixing the sand and clay evenly.

The second step, or the third stage, if the pulverizing is counted, is to mix cement with the sand-clay base. A ratio of one bag of cement to approximately six square feet of road surface is used to give an eight percent soil-cement mixture.

Graham Street, shown in the above picture, is one long block from E. Frederic to Barnard. This block, approximately 700 feet long, took a little over 1,000 bags of cement.

On the right, the six-ton, rubber-tired roller, driven by J. L. Hampton, 1029 E. Scott, is giving the street a last rolling before it was covered with a fine asphalt layer to prevent its drying out too quickly.

Graham was the second street completed as the city began its 50-block 1949 summer paving program.

It begins riding higher and higher on the base. It has packed down until the "sheep's feet" are sinking in only about two inches.

The street is now ready for a final shaping by a maintainer and for a rolling by a six-ton rubber-tired roller to pack down the loose top.

After the street is shaped to give it the proper pitch for drainage, and after the roller has made its last pass, it is ready for the final stage. The street is "shot" with a fine layer of asphalt that keeps it from drying out too rapidly.

Then, depending on the moisture in the air, the street is ready for traffic in 24 to 48 hours.

All these operations of ceaseless mixing, packing and rolling streets will keep a 50-man crew under R. B. "Jiggs" Cooke, street superintendent, busy on nothing but paving the remainder of the summer. With no major breakdowns and with a steady run of good weather, Evans said, this crew can maintain an average of four blocks of new paving per week (See PAVING, Page 6)

Churchill To Talk on Hope of Man

BOSTON - (AP) - Winston Churchill tells the world tonight what hope he sees for man in this war-mattered century. The 74-year-old statesman, who spared battling Britain with his call to "blood, sweat, and tears," will speak on "The 20th Century, its Promise and its Realization." His views are awaited with the urgency that surrounded his "iron curtain" speech at Fulton, N.Y., March 5, 1946. Then he lauded the lowering of an "iron curtain" across Europe, assailed Soviet Russian expansion, and called for the fraternal association of the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States. Tonight in his immediate audience of 13,900 at Boston Garden will be some of the ablest thinkers of the Western world; statesmen, educators, scientists and philosophers.

They are gathered for a three-day mid-century survey, initiated by Massachusetts Institute of Technology on the "social implications of scientific progress." The occasion is the inauguration Saturday of Tech's tenth president, Dr. James Rhyne Killian, Jr. Over the country and much of the world, the words of Churchill will be carried by radio (8 p.m. CST) to one of the largest audiences ever to hear a speaker. Churchill has agreed that his address will be "of some importance."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Remember How We Talked? From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

Nurses Class Still Open

"Whoever you are, you need to know Red Cross home nursing," Mrs. Mildred Hill, executive secretary of the local Red Cross, said this morning.

More than 25 women have registered for the first postwar home nurses training course which will begin the night of April 4 at the Red Cross office in the City Hall. Several women from neighboring towns have written for reservations and others are expected to arrive Friday.

the deadline for signing up for the course.

Three local nurses will instruct the 30-hour course which will be given to teach housewives how to care for their families. The course will include instruction that is beneficial to brides, mothers, grandmothers and single girls.

Mrs. Joe Stevens, who annually gives tuberculosis tests to Pampa school children, Mrs. Margaret Dial, who is the Lefors school nurse, and Miss Margaret Wallace, who annually goes to polo and disaster areas, represent the Red Cross, which alternate the instruction of the classes.

First Grand Jury In Four Years Meets

SARITA, Tex. —(AP)— Charges of theft of edible meat will result April 4 in Kenedy County's first grand jury in four years.

Ranger T. E. Seay Monday night filed the charges against Ollie Kent, 24, and Edwin Crocker, 21. They are accused of killing a prize bull belonging to Earl Thomas and taking part of the carcass. It is alleged the theft occurred on Thomas' ranch in extreme south Kenedy County.

The last felony case requiring grand jury action in the county was on Jan. 4, 1945. Adan Flores was indicted in the slaying of Manuel Riojos. The case was transferred to Kieberg County, where Flores was given a five-year prison term.

Pipeline Cuts Price for Crude

DALLAS —(AP)— A 30-cent cut in the price paid for heavy crude oil by the Talco Pipeline Company in four East Texas oil fields will become effective Friday.

D.R. Zachry of Dallas, vice president of the purchasing firm, made the announcement yesterday. He said the adjustment was made to cover handling costs.

He said 55,000 barrels monthly of low gravity crude will be effected from Coke, Manziel and Alba fields in Wood County and the Mitchell Creek field in Hopkins County. Light crudes are not affected.

The new price schedule starts at $1.80 a barrel.

Girl's Intuition Foils Burglars

Monday she took the Senior class fund, $469, from the school safe and carried it home with her. She is class secretary.

That night burglars broke into the safe. The burglars took what they found—$659 in cash and checks.

The Pecos High School safe was robbed of $500 last January.

Pilot Claims Air Speed Record

NEW YORK —(AP)— The official report isn't in yet, but former Army Major Joe de Bona claims he has set a new transcontinental air speed record of four hours and 57 minutes.

Flying an F-51 fighter owned by actor Jimmy Stewart, De Bona landed at La Guardia Field here yesterday after a dash from Burbank, Calif.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barconate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barconate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two table spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

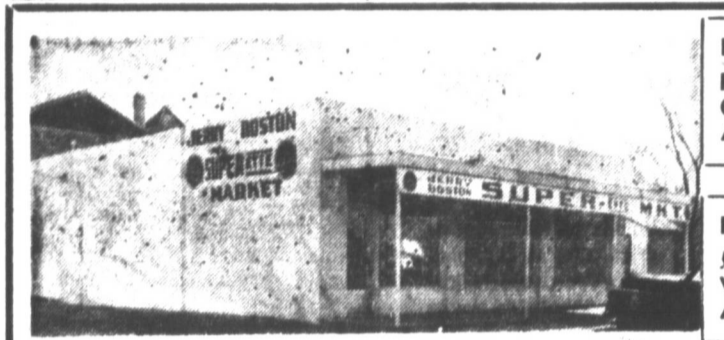

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 54, Whitewright, Texas, wrote me: "I want to tell you what Barconate has done for me. I weighed 245 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212. I have taken my dress size down from size 56 to 44 and never felt better in my life and ever body tells me how much nicer I look than I did."

"I am still taking Barconate as I want to get my weight down to 160 or 170 pounds."

In 1853, Isaac Walton described 12 fishermen's flies used to imitate insects which fish were thought to like.

The classes will be taught in the afternoon and at night. The advantage of holding two classes daily is that each woman will be able to learn by doing, which she would be unable to do at one large class.

Meanwhile, the 1949 Gray County Red Cross drive lacks only $1,436 of the $8,749 goal. When the volunteer workers turn in their solicitations, it is expected the goal will be reached.

Cooperative Gets Loan from REA

Congressman Eugene Worley has advised J. A. Coleman, president of the Greenbelt Electric Cooperative, Wellington, that REA has approved loan of $80,000 for improvements and extension of electric service by the cooperative.

Rep. Worley said in a message to The News that the money was for improvements and extension of services in Wheeler, Gray, Donley, Armstrong, and Collingsworth Counties.

Senate Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois said the presidential controls bill is not on a list of measures now being pushed.

And Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking Committee said any hearings on controls probably will be delayed for some time.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Expenditures Committee, said in a separate interview: "Frankly, I think the danger of inflation is passed."

War Dead to Be Returned

The body of T-5 James C. Zuspan of Miami will arrive in Pampa at 8:25 a. m. Saturday for final burial from a temporary military cemetery at Floss, Belgium. Zuspan, who was born Aug. 26, 1920, in Valley View, Tex., died at Leige, Belgium, on Sept. 10, 1944, as a result of wounds received in combat. He was a member of the 237th Combat Engineer Battalion.

Since 1930, Zuspan had been living at Miami, where he attended school and played football on the Miami High School team. He entered the Army from there in June, 1939, and was stationed at El Paso until he was sent overseas in November, 1943.

He is survived by his wife, the former Doris Myatt of McLean, whom he married on April 13, 1941, and by a son, Jerry Charles, both of Amarillo; by his mother, Mrs. W. E. Melton of Pampa; and by a grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Edwards of Miami.

Funeral arrangements to be conducted by the Duenkel-Carr Michael Funeral Home, are pending.

Kidnaping Charge Dismissed Against Two Brothers

Such a sampling of costs and rental income would take some time no immediate rush of landlords for rent boosts is expected, therefore, meantime the old rules governing "hardship" increases will continue to apply.

The rent agency understands that Congress intended some liberalization of ceilings, a spokesman said. There is no ground, he indicated, for the belief voiced by some republicans during the debate that the "fair income" guarantee might mean merely the continuing of present standards.

On this point, Mr. Truman's statement said the law will help "to correct injustices against landlords."

"In particular, the act will be helpful in the case of many small landlords who may not be obtaining an adequate net operating income," the President said.

The Truman statement was notable for its conciliatory tone. It was completely in line with the new White House policy of kindness to Congress.

He did not denounce the "home rule" provision, even though he charged last week that this decontrol device was backed by the real estate lobby as a means of scattering rent control.

Instead, Mr. Truman described the system as one which extends the principle of the local rent advisory boards—a grant of greater authority to local officials to say whether federal rent control is no longer needed. Decontrol decisions by cities, towns and villages must be approved by state governors.

An Associated Press survey of governors and big-city mayors indicated that most of them will move slowly in using the local decontrol machinery.

The President did not discuss the failure of Congress to grant the two-year extension he requested, and its refusal to allow criminal action against rent violators.

The producer statement was in reply to charges by Jean Hersholt, Academy president, that they were withdrawing support because "voices in the industry" wanted to make commercial pictures, unhampered by artistic standards.

The Academy gave the top prize "Oscar" to Sir Laurence Olivier's British film "Hamlet." It was the first time a foreign picture had received this award.

"The only thing I regret in the whole mess," said Montgomery, "is the rambling dissent over the British picture winning. I'd say it was bad sportsmanship."

Absentee Voting In City Light

Featherweight absentee voting has been registered with a mere total of only two ballots cast in both the city and school board elections coming up over the weekend.

The two absentee votes were cast for trustees in the school board election to be held Saturday.

In the city election to be held Tuesday, April 5, the absentee vote count remained at zero, City Secretary R. E. Anderson reported. Today is the deadline for absentee ballots to be cast for mayor and city commissioners.

Other than a possible last minute write in campaign, only two contests for city commissioner will appear on the ballot: W. E. Ballard and H. H. Nichols in Ward 3 and F. H. Paronto and E. C. Saffner in Ward 4. Mayor C. A. "Lefty" Huff, Commissioners Crawford Atkinson and Vernon L. Hobbs are unopposed for reelection.

week.

This soil-cement base, however, does not yet represent a fully paved street. Although it is a firm, all-weather surface that can be opened to traffic the day after it is laid, it will not be completed until later this year. Then, when all, or nearly all, of the 50 blocks planned for this year have had the base laid, the city's contractor will come in and lay a wearing surface over the base, consisting of two layers of asphalt and fine rock.

Last year's 50-block program was halted when only half finished by a nationwide shortage of cement. Only 28 of the 50 blocks were paved, 22 of which were fully completed with the two-course penetration asphalt surface that will be laid again this year. The remaining six blocks were paved only with the soil-cement base, the preparation of which was described above.

A close examination of these six blocks last week showed that they came through the terrific beating that winter's snow, ice and slush gives to streets unharmed. There were no spots, no holes, and no cracks in any of these streets, even though they came through the winter without the protective coating they will now get.

Bob McDowell, a technician from the Portland Cement Association of Dallas, arrived here last week when the city began its 1949 program to lend his technical assistance in starting the project. "McDowell was sent here through the courtesy of the cement association at no cost to the city," Evans said, "to help us get a better completed program."

During the winter the city stockpiled cement to insure as far as possible continuing this year's paving program without a halt. Altogether, the city stored about 13 carloads of cement that will be just about enough to complete the 22 blocks left over from last year.

Then, a contract was recently awarded to the Monarch Cement Company of Humboldt, Kans., that agreed to ship all the cement needed for the 1949 program according to any shipping schedule the city might set up.

So it looks now, Evans said, as though this year's program will be able to go along without a hitch.

Stan Mustal of the Cardinals, Johnny Mize of the Giants and Tommy Holmes of the Braves rank 1-2-3 among active National Leaguers in hitting. Their lifetime marks are .348, .323 and .308, respectively.

BILL

pass a bill by Rep. Herman Yeak of Franklin to liberalize the old age assistance law. The proposal would give pensioners $50 a month, if sufficient funds were available. It also would permit them to appeal decisions on their allowances. Yeak said he would seek a minority report.

Favorable action was accorded a bill by Rep. A. J. Rogers of Childress authorizing commissioners courts to purchase county road machinery or equipment through the State Board of Control.

The Senate Committee on Highways and Roads last night killed a bill under which the State Highway Commission would be permitted to buy rights-of-way for state highway improvements within cities. Backers of the bill said cities are hard-pressed for funds and that expressway projects are endangered. Opponents said the Highway Commission doesn't have the money, either.

The House Appropriations Committee recommended establishment of another medical college branch of the University of Texas, this one at Temple. It would cost $500,000. The House has passed a bill establishing medical school at Dallas and San Antonio.

High School 'Day' Aids Boy's Ranch

ABILENE — (AP) — Today is "Boy's Ranch Day" at Abilene High School. It will mean much more now.

The "day" at the school had been designated to receive contributions of money, clothing and food for the ranch.

Texan Found Guilty Of Cigarette Deals

BURTONWOOD, Eng. —(AP)— A court martial found a Texas Air Force sergeant guilty of illegal deals in American cigarettes. The sergeant, Joseph B. Murphy, 24, of El Paso, was sentenced to forfeit two thirds of his pay for six months on charges of trying to sell 55 cartons of smokes to a Briton and unlawfully having three post exchange ration cards. No verdict has yet been announced on two officers being tried in the same case. They are Capt. Thomas A. Goff and First Lieut. James C. Walker, both of El Paso.

Five Tips Needed for Planting a Lawn

By HENRY L. FREE
Written for NEA Service

Making an attractive lawn and keeping it that way is no great trick, but many homeowners make a lot more of the job than is necessary. It all depends on getting off to the right start.

Five factors of equal importance must be considered in a lawn. They are: foundation, topsoil, seed selection, seeding, and general maintenance. Each factor bears a relationship to the others and each has a simple fundamental principle.

The foundation should be uniform in texture and in grade. Otherwise there will be unequal distribution of soil moisture and fertility and uneven heating and settling.

The topsoil need not be more than four or five inches in depth, but it must be friable, well supplied with fertilizer and contain that will stand up long enough for a man to earn enough money to go back to college and get another education.

At least 20 percent organic material. Ideal topsoil is a sandy loam. Heavy soils are likely to become packed and should be improved by adding sand, peat and lime. Sandy soils drain rapidly, soil moisture and plant food are quickly dissipated. Sandy soils are benefited by the addition of equal parts of clay soil and organic material such as peat. Friability or topsoil is more important than fertility.

As it is more important for the young grass plants to develop roots than tops, the initial application of fertilizer should be low in nitrogen and high in phosphorus, such as 4-12-4. Spread over the area at the rate of 30 pounds per 1000 square feet and rake well into the soil at least a day before seeding. The best seed is the cheapest. For general lawn conditions, sow at the rate of four to five pounds for each 1000 square feet of area. If shade is light, sow at the rate of six pounds, and, if shade is dense, do not expect a lawn.

After sowing, the seed should be lightly covered by brushing or raking. Care should be taken not to cover the seed more than 1-8 inch and the presence of 20 percent of the seeds on the surface after raking or brushing should cause no worry.

Roll with a roller weighing not more than 100 pounds.

Newly seeded areas should be kept moist by sprinkling, but overwatering and puddling must be avoided, especially if the soil is "heavy." Time between sprinklings and the amount of water applied should be increased as the plants grow. Three saturating waterings a week are better than light daily sprinklings. The moisture should go two inches or more into the soil.

There are about six thousand different species of grass, but only a few of these concern Joe Homeowner. Most widely used for lawns is Kentucky bluegrass, because it adapts itself to a wide range of soils and is relatively resistant to insect pests and plant diseases. Not blue, as its name suggests, but a bright rich green, it produces a mighty pretty lawn. Blue grass will turn somewhat brown in winter and if left unwatered in midsummer.

Second only to Kentucky Blue in lawn mixtures is red top. While not as permanent as blue grass, it is invaluable in wet and heavy soils.

A good bet to produce excellent turf on poor, light and sandy soils is New Zealand or Oregon Chew- ing's Fescue, which has the prime virtue of rooting deeply. Its inherent ability to live under adverse soil and climate conditions enables it to grow well in a shady situation.

But the best grass for a shady lawn is rough bluegrass, usually sold under its botanical name, poa trivialis. Unlike other bluegrasses, it spreads by runners or stolons and is of bright yellow-green hue rather than dark green or gray green.

Practically indispensable are the bent grasses. These—not to be confused with the creeping varieties which are so highly advertised—grow naturally along the Atlantic seaboard from Labrador to Florida. The better strains, Astoria and Colonial, are invaluable where a tough mixture is necessary. In the Eastern states, it is successfully competing with Kentucky blue and red top. The popular but unpredictable creeping bent, of which there are many strains, produces the best-looking lawns. However, it has its drawbacks. Subject to several fungus diseases, it will not stand drought and, owing to its rapid growth, requires a great deal of cutting.

While creeping bent has been called the aristocrat of the grasses it is my belief that it should be used only if the homeowner is willing to cater to its whims and wrestle with the problems they present.

Bent lawns are not recommended for the Southwest, except along the coast, as they can't stand the prolonged heat of summer. A highly recommended mixture for interior valley conditions is: Kentucky bluegrass, 85 percent; clover, 5 percent, and red top, 10 percent.

Perennial ryegrass is the most lasting of the ryegrasses, remaining in the lawn for as long as two years. Germinating quickly and growing rapidly, it is a good nurse grass for Kentucky blue and mixtures sown in the spring. Ryegrass should never be sown alone for permanent turf, but

Conference Seeks Puerto Rican Freedom

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — The Latin-American Conference on Colonies voted to include Puerto Rico in the dependencies for which freedom should be sought.

The conference, attended by 13 nations, adjourned indefinitely after acting on the case of Puerto Rico, U. S. territory.

The meeting here was established by the Bogota Conference of American States to seek "peaceful means" of eliminating colonialism in the Americas.

should be used as a nurse grass only.

Zoysia matrella and bermuda grass, much used in the South, are low creeping plants that make a dense mat. They are excellent where water is scarce and the climate is hot.

White clover is an excellent plant for all types of sod, except where its presence might interfere with the use of the turf—as on putting greens. It is best used in combination with all other grasses except the creeping bent.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(AP)— I would like to trade my education in for a new one, just as you trade in a broken down car for a later model.

I grew up in what was supposed to be the most widely educated generation in history. But it appears now that practically everything I learned was wrong.

Today it is hard to believe in anything, because a thing that is accepted as a fact in the morning may be regarded as a superstition by evening.

Let us take a simple subject like the human body, something every normal person has. But how shall you take care of this marvelous machine? Well, what they teach you to do today they'll probably tell you to shun tomorrow.

I was told, on the teacher's word of honor, that a clean tooth never decays. Everybody today knows darn well it will — if it wants to.

The school dentist showed us the right way to brush our teeth — sideways. A couple of years later we were being taught to use a rotary motion. Now my dentist is in favor of brushing up and down. And I am looking forward to a day, coming fast, when I can avoid all doubt in the matter by taking 'em out and soaking 'em in a glass.

Take spinach. Everybody was sure in the days when I played marbles that spinach was the best source of iron outside the Mesabi Range. Now practically everybody knows better. People are reduced to eating spinach for pleasure.

Take mold. I was told mold was poisonous. Now if you don't swallow mold three times a day — in the form of penicillin — people get the idea there's nothing wrong with you.

The benefits of sunshine, fresh air and exercise — faiths of my childhood — have been debunked as over-rated. I used to believe people worried and grew thin. Now, they worry and grow fat. They used to say, "eat hearty." Now they say that if you do you'll become overweight and won't live long.

As a result of all these changes, a man no longer can afford to do anything to his body without running the risk of being out-of-date before his last wonder pill has been digested. About the only safe thing to believe in is the circulation of the blood.

Russian Works Longer for His Food and Clothes

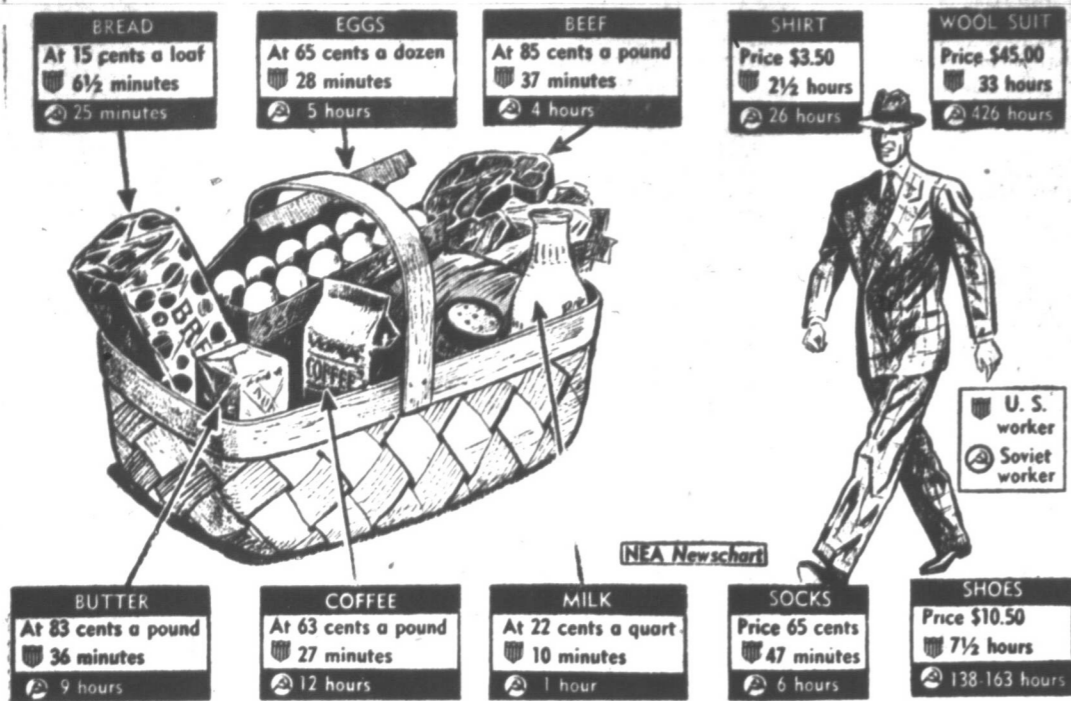

Diagram above compares the length of time the average Russian industrial worker must stay on the job to earn enough money to buy basic food and clothing items. Purchasing powers like these were revealed in a Bureau of Labor Statistics study undertaken after Moscow ordered retail price reductions ranging from 10 to 30 per cent for Soviet consumers. While the American works about 160 hours a month, the Russian must put in the legal 204-hour work month.

The Also Ran

Rene Henry, NEA-Acme staff correspondent, had the tables turned on him when he went to cover a beauty contest among Paris fashion models. They thought he was "tres beau" and made him an entry in their contest, measuring him lengthwise, sidewise and observing his form. Henry didn't win, however.

NTSC Celebrates 50th Anniversary

DENTON — (AP) — North Texas State College today celebrates its 50th anniversary as a state school. Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramsey, commander of the Eighth Air Force and a former student, is to be the principal speaker. Feature of the first annual North Texas Day will be the dedication of a new memorial student union building. Gov. Joseph D. Sayers on March 31, 1899, signed a bill that provided for NTSC's establishment as a state institution. It had been founded as a private school in 1890.

The city of Denton offered the building and grounds to the state to establish the state normal college.

Wag Predicts Future Of Pentagon Building

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A picture of a bleak, uninhabited Arizona landscape was pinned to a Pentagon bulletin board yesterday. Some wag put it up after Secretary of Defense Johnson warned that he plans to trim deadwood from the military establishment. The picture carried this caption: "The Pentagon, following changes ordered by the new Secretary of Defense."

Mirrors exposed to strong sunlight will become cloudy.

Oil Reserves Said Ample

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Texas is "not running out of oil," Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said here, and declared the best place for reserves "is in the natural warehouse underground." Thompson spoke at the Western Petroleum Refiners Association convention which ended Wednesday.

He said the Railroad Commission, watchdog of the state's oil production, would stand by its policies of equitable production from all Texas fields to curb selective buying. The association in its final day passed a resolution opposing several bills in Congress. These bills, the resolution said, would prohibit common carrier pipelines from transporting commodities in which such carriers or their owners have an interest; divorce the business of producing, refining and transporting from the business of marketing petroleum products; and prohibit producers, refiners and marketers from operating tankers and barges. The resolution said such laws would "dismember" the oil industry.

Slayer Given 10-Year Term

WACO — (AP) — Cyril J. Thibodeaux was sentenced to ten years in prison for the slaying of Staaden Sawyer at a tavern near West, Tex., Dec. 26, 1948.

A 56th District Court jury returned a verdict of guilty late yesterday afternoon. Defense counsel announced a motion for a new trial in the case would be filed this week. Thibodeaux and Sawyer were both from Hillsboro, Tex. Thibodeaux pleaded temporary insanity as his defense.

Texas Sculptor Dies at 41

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Joseph Eddy Lipe, a sculptor who came to Texas because of stories of Davy Crockett, will be buried here tomorrow.

Lipe, 41, did the bust of Will Rogers which stands in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum here. He died in a hospital yesterday.

Lipe retired as a professional sculptor three years ago and became a dental technician. He heard the Davy Crockett stories when he was a child. "They roused my interest in Texas and I determined to make my home here when I grew up," he once said. He moved here from Michigan 12 years ago.

GERMANS WILL STICK WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dr. Ernest Reuter, mayor of blockaded Berlin, said he and his people will never bow to Russian pressure. They will stick to the city, he said, until "freedom and peace are won." Reuter spoke to the United States Conference of Mayors.

Trio Sues Tax Collector

DALLAS — (AP) — Suits to recover about $100,000 in alleged overpayment of income taxes have been filed here by three Wichita Falls families. The three suits were filed yesterday in federal court. They are against the collector of internal revenue here.

The Dallas tax office handles collections for North Texas. Plaintiffs are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hair, now residents of Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Christie, and Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Bullington. All were partners in the construction firm of Hair, Christie and Mason. This firm built barracks and other installations for the Air Force during World War II.

The three couples claim federal tax collectors overstated their net income by taxing them for the 1948 earnings of their children, who also were named as partners in the firm.

Man Released on Bond in Charge

Clifford Townsend, 23, formerly of Rogers, Ark., and now living in Pampa, was released late yesterday on $1,000 bond on charges of disposing of mortgaged property.

Townsend was apprehended earlier in the day by the Sheriff's Department on a complaint filed by Joe Taylor, formerly of Pampa, and now of Shattuck, Okla., with whom the car was mortgaged.

Officers said Townsend had purchased the car from Taylor approximately three months ago and later sold it to another man, now in Oklahoma, for $80 before the mortgage on the car was satisfied.

There are only two species of beaver, the European which is now almost extinct, and the American, which is increasing in numbers because it has been protected by law.

Hopper Plague Looks Worst In 10 Years

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — This appears to be the year of the grasshoppers, H. G. Johnston warns.

Johnston is state grasshopper control leader and head of the Texas A&M College Department of Entomology.

He said the hoppers will begin to hatch in South Texas in about two weeks. Texas can look forward to the worst infestation in 10 years, he said.

Johnston's warning follows a count of eggs by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Grasshopper Control Division.

Areas along the Brazos River between Waco and Richmond and along the Trinity as far south as Folk and San Jacinto counties will have the worst infestation of the big, yellow differential type grasshopper.

Creek bottoms as far east as Titus County and west to the West Cross-timbers are expected to have catered outbreaks. West Texas, the South Plains

Baptist Convention Opens at Abilene

ABILENE — (AP) — The 59th annual Baptist Training Union Convention of Texas opens here today.

The convention, which lasts through Saturday, will be held at Hardin-Simmons University.

Dr. Robert G. Lee, Memphis, Tenn., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, is to address the meeting this morning and again tonight.

The keynote address is to be delivered by Dr. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Lubbock.

Dr. Guy Newman of Denison is another scheduled speaker. Officials expect around 8,000 persons.

and the Panhandle will have a smaller but above-normal number of hoppers, the count shows. Johnston suggested dusting along fence rows and ditches where the differential hopper hatches for control. He said effective dusting agents are 15 pounds of 10 percent toxaphene or 15 pounds of 10 percent chlordane per acre.

Mexico Insures Gasoline Supply

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico is making sure tourists who run out of gas won't be stuck for same.

A new plan of gasoline transport was announced by Pemex, the government oil industry.

The plan provides for the northeastern part of the country to be supplied by tankers. These will take gasoline from Gulf Coast refineries to Brownsville by sea.

From Brownsville the gasoline will be distributed by tank truck as far south as Monterrey.

From Monterrey south filling stations will be supplied by tank truck direct from the refineries at Tampico.

18 Girl Scouts Receive Badges

Eighteen Girl Scouts of Troop 34 received badges at 3:45 p. m. yesterday at a Court of Awards, held by Mrs. C. D. Herring, and Mrs. Wayne Couch, leaders, at the Horace Mann Cafeteria.

Following a candlelight and flag ceremony, the Scouts repeated the Girl Scout Promise in unison. Second class badges were awarded to Donna Lee Coomer, Oleta Green, Gayle Herring, Frances McDaniel, Carolyn Schultz, Anna Joe Walker and Crystal Chambliss.

Receiving cooking proficiency badges were Patsy Darby, Nita Ford, Donna Franklin, Jean Ritzenhouse, Bernadine Schultz, Wanda Joe Scott, Ann Snyder, Doris Sheriff, Maxine Watson, Nancy Presnell and Ada Jean Morgan.

Washington Is Having Word Worry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Washington is having word trouble, mostly over what to say about business conditions. The economic word game was going along fine until recently. "Inflation" with its pressures, forces, influences, tides, etc., had a clean monopoly, and seemed pretty well understood by everybody alike after a few years' run.

Then new economic problems came along and today's trouble is, "what's the situation we're in?"

"Disinflation," said Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, head of the three-man Economic Advisory Council to the President which the Hoover Commission calls a "multi-headed body" and smarties call "the three wise men."

"Recession," said Marriner S. Eccles, a member and former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

"Depression," said Robert R. Young, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, using a Washington news conference to import a word that makes him politically conscious city wince.

"Deflation" has become a chorus or community word, with no special titleholder. It may be that one man's "recession" is another's "disinflation," or maybe "deflation," and even "depression."

"Disinflation," according to Nourse, takes "pressures off prices" while "deflation" might mean a "price collapse." Only if people get "jittery" will disinflation "snowball into a recession."

Nourse described disinflation so far as "healthy," which happens to be exactly what Eccles said his "recession" has been so far, especially since "some recession is desirable."

Young, stuck with a word that is unlikely to go over as "desirable," didn't bother to assess the state of health indicated by his entry.

The general impression seemed to be that if things got a bit worse, they'd be better; if there's less "prosperity" at one time, there may be more of it spread out over a longer period.

President Truman has been keeping pretty quiet about economics since "inflation" was on everybody's lips.

Rotarians See Magic Show

D. C. Ash, local insurance man, yesterday presented a three-quarter hour magic show to the Pampa Rotary Club during its weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.
While all the tricks brought a great deal of laughter, Ash "brought down the house" when he pumped a glass full of milk from George "Pinky" Vineyard's elbow with the help of Don Foster.
Before the program secretary, and past president, DeLea Vicars, inducted City Commissioner Vernon Hobbs and Don Conley into the club after an introductory speech by Travis Lively.
Derral Davis, retiring junior Rotarian, made a short farewell address thanking the club for the opportunity of meeting with them for one month.
It was announced that several foreign students from Wayland College would furnish the program next week, and that the annual election of club officers would start next week.
Four visiting Rotarians attended the meeting as well as three non-Rotarian guests.

Allen Plans Quitting Air

By BOB THOMAS
NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Allen, busy turning down radio and television offers, has added a new triumph:
"I just talked a guy out of putting me in a movie."
Allen is a fast-talking man with baggy eyes and high blood pressure. The latter is the reason he has decided to bow out of radio after this season.
If he had any doubts about his decision, they were shattered with the sudden death of his friend Jack Kapp, Decca record boss. Show business folk always slow down for a while when one of their number dies suddenly.
Allen's health is not the sole reason he is hopping off the airwaves. "Everything in radio is in a turmoil," he told me. "Nobody knows what is funny."
And there is that favorite topic among star performers—taxes. "I figured out that out of 39 shows a year, I do 31 for nothing. Why should I work so hard just to get paid for those eight shows? I might better be doing guest shots or writing for Jack Benny."
This might seem surprising in view of the Allen-Benny "feud." Among other things, Allen has accused the comedian of being unable to ad lib a belch after a Hungarian dinner. Actually, the feud exists only in such quips. Both admire each other as creative comedians.

Old Dream of United States Of Europe Nears Reality

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Hopes of generations of great idealists for creation of a United States of Europe are moving closer to fruition—closer to peace.

Diplomatic representatives of ten nations are meeting in London to complete details for the establishment of a Parliament of Europe. These ten are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Luxembourg and Eire. It is hoped to see this Parliament in session by the coming summer, probably in Strasbourg, France.

When this congress opens it will represent a brave beginning of the United States of Europe for which famous statesmen have labored so earnestly and so long. Prominent among these was France's famous Aristide Briand—winner and player of an important part in bringing about the Kellogg Pact to outlaw war.

As one of the old timers I had the privilege of knowing the humanitarian Briand. I'm sure his spirit, with his old-time genial smile, will be standing beside the presiding official when the gavel falls to signal the opening of the first session of that Parliament.

There was a lot of talk about a United States of Europe in the last century as a means of fostering peace. At that time the so-called "balance of power" was depended on to prevent conflict.

World War I demonstrated that the balance of power was outmoded and must be replaced. The result was the League of Nations. However, it quickly became apparent that the League was too heterogeneous in structure to function well. There was too great divergence of race and customs among the world-wide membership. The same regulations wouldn't fit all cases.

This weakness gave a fillip to the idea of a United States of Europe. It was recognized that Europe was the greatest danger spot as a breeder of world wars.

Well, the plan didn't jell quickly enough and another world war blazed out from the continent. Now the project is being revived and spurred by the anxiety to do all possible to prevent the development of a third global catastrophe.

Bob Feller leads the American League's active pitchers with 177 victories. He is followed by Hal Newhouser's 162, Dizzy Trout's 135 and Denny Galehouse's 109. Harris, ex-Yankee manager, is getting $2,500 for piloting San Diego this season.

Dorothy Parker To Attend Premier

The play will be given by a Dallas professional group, Theatre '49, under the direction of Margot Jones.

WORTHWHILE HD CLUB TO HOLD A LIGHTING DEMONSTRATION

Clifford Milner of Amarillo, representing the Southwestern Public Service Co., in cooperation with Murray Sealey of the Pampa office, will demonstrate proper lighting in the home at the open meeting of the Worthwhile Club to be held in the City Club Room, City Hall, at 2 p. m. April 1.

Plans for the meeting were discussed by Mrs. Mary Anne Duke, Gray County home demonstration agent, at the Gray County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs meeting March 28. Mrs. H. E. Taylor, Jr., presided at the meeting.

After roll call and reading of minutes, the committee chairmen reported as follows: Mrs. O. A. Wagner, yearbook; Mrs. C. L. Cudney, exhibit; Mrs. Harold Osborne, finance; Mrs. Lowell Osborne, recreation; Mrs. E. Osborn, 4-H Club sponsor; Mrs. Ernest McKnight, education and expansion; Mrs. Chas. Warminski, fair.

Money was allotted the 4-H Committee for prizes for the dress review to be held May 14. Each Home Demonstration Club will furnish six dozen cookies for the affair. A prize will be awarded this year, for the first time, to the 4-H Club having the most mothers present. This prize will be awarded on a percentage basis.

The president appointed two new members to the 4-H Committee: Mrs. T. D. Anderwald and Mrs. Roy Sherrod. Mrs. O. A. Wagner was appointed assistant reporter.

All club presidents were present and gave reports on their club's achievements, as follows: Mrs. Chas. Warminski, Bell; Mrs. Paul Rice, Hopkins; Mrs. Hugh Braley, Lefors; Mrs. C. L. Cudney, Merte; Mrs. Harold Osborne, Wayside; Mrs. Ray Robertson, Worthwhile.

"Beautiful Texas" was chosen as the Gray County song.

For entertainment each member was asked to bring her favorite poem. Those forgetting to bring one had to compose a short verse.

"I wish my mother didn't have that old job," said a second-grader who goes from school to his grandparents' home to stay until 6 o'clock when he is picked up by his working parents.

There must be lots of school age children who have the same heartfelt wish, a wish that their mothers were on the main job full time.

ers of school children who don't actually have to work, but who think they have a right to, so long as they make adequate provision for their children.

They've been told over and over they have the right — that once a woman's children reach school age she is free to do as she pleases.

Of course they may tell themselves, too, that while it may not be absolutely necessary for them to hold down a job, the extra money buys luxuries the family couldn't otherwise have.

But if the children in such families were given a hearing, the mothers might get a different slant on whether or not they have a right to work outside the home.

The right society has bestowed on mothers to work outside the home so long as they can have their children cared for may not be a right the children themselves would grant if they had their way.

But most of them don't have any say-so in the matter.

Davis Receives Invitation To Play at Coach's School

DERRAL DAVIS lays a shot over the rim of the basket during a practice session this season at the Junior High gymnasium.

Derral Davis, outstanding schoolboy basketball star, has received an invitation to play in the annual all-star basketball game to be played at Beaumont during the coach's school August 1-5.

Davis, a 6-foot 4-inch Senior, led both the district and the Harvester team for the second consecutive season. This year he scored a total of 322 points, 133 of them coming in conference play. He was a unanimous choice among coaches and sports writers for the District 1AA all-star team.

The invitation was received yesterday from Cattfish Smith, Mt. Vernon, Texas, chairman of the selection committee of the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Derral makes the second Pampa boy to be invited to Beaumont at this time. Philip Payne, star lineman on the football team, received a similar invitation several days ago.

Davis has indicated that he will accept the invitation. His basketball coach, Clifton McNeely, plans to make the trip to Beaumont for the school.

Coaches who will handle the two all-star teams are the mentors of the two teams that battled it out for national honors, Adolph Rupp of Kentucky and Hank Iba of Oklahoma A&M.

Oilers Growl As Weather Remains Bad

A bunch of disgruntled ball-players sat around in the dressing room at Oiler Park yesterday noon, calmly cursing out the weatherman. With only four days remaining until their opening exhibition game they were ready to put in a hard day's work in the batting cage and on the field. But a cold wind, damp air and muddy ground kept them from doing little more than run around the field a few laps and engage in some short pepper games.

In the afternoon, after school was dismissed, several of the pitchers worked their arms out in the gymnasium. The pitching staff is furthest advanced in training due to the two weeks spent at Shreveport. In all probability left Roy Parker will be the starting hurler next Sunday when the Oilers play at Amarillo. He appears to be in the best shape, but Manager Grover Seitz hasn't made any definite plans for that game as yet. If this weather persists there might not be a game that day.

The players have been spending their time between playing cards, seeing movies and hunting down living quarters. A couple of the married fellows have been fortunate enough to get places, but about four more are still needed.

The front office has no word of a third baseman as yet, and nothing definite has been forthcoming on another backstop to aid the lone workhorse, Mike Faduniak. Talk has persisted that the Oilers were going to obtain a veteran catcher, but that is still in the rumor stage. Manager Seitz, sliding pads and all, may be holding down that third base bag on opening day if something isn't forthcoming pretty soon from one of the three clubs who have promised a guardian of the hot corner.

Detton, Sandow On Friday Night Wrestling Card

Tomorrow night the local wrestling fans will have an opportunity to see a battle between the forces of law and evil. In the corner of the law will be the cleanest and fairest fighters to ever grace this area. In the corner facing him will be Alex Kasaboski, a villain's villain.

The two fought last week, though they were supposed to be teammates on one of the three-man teams in the tag match. Sandow didn't approve of Kasaboski's use of gang-fighting tactics, so he proceeded to bounce his partners around in the ring and in their corner. Sandow's methods greatly pleased the large crowd that was present, and they will receive another opportunity to cheer for Billy tomorrow night.

In the preliminary event, Glen Detton will battle a veteran who is returning to the area after a long absence, Hy Sharran. First fall will begin at 8:15.

Texas and Baylor Open SWC Race

The "favorite" in the Southwest Conference baseball race will be determined today. Defending champion University of Texas and No. 1 challenger, Baylor, tangle at Austin.

Baylor opened its conference season Monday with sound, 14-2 victory over Southern Methodist University.

Today's game will open Texas' quest for its sixth straight crown. One other game is on the conference schedule today. Texas A&M meets Rice at Houston.

Texas has won 35 straight conference games on its home diamond, Clark Field, and has beaten Baylor 11 times in this park.

WARREN'S WARM UP

By Warren Hanes—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What player was responsible for baseball's first double play?

ANSWER: George Wright, a shortstop for the Cincinnati Red Stockings in 1870, used the trapped ball trick in a game against the Athletics, and converted it into a double play to stop a tenth inning rally. This was the first time it had ever been seen.

DOTS & DASHES: Maybe some of the Oilers remember this occasion. Mason Leeper, rookie left hander who hopes to make the grade with the Washington Senators, claims some sort of record for wildness on the mound. . . . Playing for Gainesville, Fla., in 1947, Leeper had a fine strikeout record, but never will forget one of the most bizarre afternoons against Daytona Beach. . . . The Daytona manager instructed his hitters to keep their bats on their shoulders and not to swing at a single pitch Leeper threw. . . . They followed orders for five innings, not taking a single cut, yet Daytona led at the end of the fifth when Leeper was removed. . . . The scores came on walks, wild pitches, hit batsmen and a couple of balks. . . . Leeper was with Atlanta in 1948 — one of the most bizarre afternoons with the Oilers was the game with Warmup. . . . He was stationed only a few miles from our Air Corps base, and pitched against our base team regularly. . . . One time he had to go 27 innings. . . . Another game he beat us 3-0. . . . His name is Al Peirlaard, a lefty from Michigan. . . . Dave Teyema, incidentally, informs us that his name is pronounced "time-uh," not "tee yee-mah."

RULE 1: No onlooker or caddy should move or talk while a player is making a stroke.

RULE 2: Caddy bags with extra clubs must not lie on the greens.

RULE 3: Fences are the only boundary line. Ball out of bounds—shoot another. Penalty—distance. Lost ball—drop another near where you think first ball is. Penalty—stroke.

RULE 4: No player should play from the tee until the players in front have played their second strokes and are out of range, nor play up to the putting-green until the players in front have holed out and moved away.

RULE 5: Players who have holed out should not try their putts over again while other players are following them.

RULE 6: Players who have holed out should not stand around on the green marking their scorecards when other players are following them.

RULE 7: Players looking for a lost ball should allow other matches coming up to pass them; they should signal to the players following them to pass, and having given such signal, they SHOULD NOT CONTINUE THEIR PLAY UNTIL THESE PLAYERS HAVE PASSED AND ARE OUT OF REACH.

RULE 8: Turf cut or displaced by a player should be at once replaced and pressed down with the foot.

RULE 9: The player who has the honor should be allowed to play before his opponent tees his ball.

RULE 10: Players should play without undue delay. A player who by delay in play unfairly interferes with the play of any other player shall be disqualified, in either match play or stroke play.

RULE 11: High-heeled shoes are not to be worn on the golf course at any time.

RULE 12: No club but a putter should be used on any putting greens.

RULE 13: All balls must be played from between or behind tee markers.

Training Camp Baseball Briefs Of Wednesday Grapefruit Games

Cubs-Browns Feast — ALPINE — (AP) — A big antelope barbecue was to be the fare of the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Browns here after they finish their exhibition game today. Alpine, a new stop on the Texas exhibition route, is about 200 miles east of El Paso.

The Browns evened their spring series with the Cubs at two victories apiece by taking the opener of the 10-game Texas tour, 8 to 4, yesterday at El Paso.

Charlie Grimm, Cub manager, called on Doyle Lade and Ralph Hamner to pitch against the Browns' Cliff Fannin and Karl Drews today.

Dodger Hurlers Ready — SAN ANTONIO — For the next two weeks Brooklyn pitchers will go as far as the other teams will let them. Manager Burt Shotton said today.

Lefty Joe Hatten drew today's assignment against the San Antonio club of the Texas League. Ralph Branca went all the way yesterday against Beaumont, an other Texas League outfit, as the Dodgers posted a 14-2 decision on a muddy field. He gave up four hits including a home run to Keith Thomas. He struck out one and walked six.

Phils vs. Cards — ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Manager Eddie Sawyer brought his Philadelphia Phillies here today for their Florida finale against the St. Louis Cardinals.

A's Meet Newark — HAINES CITY, Fla. — The Philadelphia Athletics interrupted their 16-day homeward trek today to stop over here for an exhibition game with Newark of the International League.

The A's broke camp at West Palm Beach yesterday. They will reach Philadelphia April 15, the day they open their three-game city series with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Braves Top Cards — ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The St. Louis Cardinals will entertain the Philadelphia Phillies today, with Geralk Staley, Bill Reeder and Al Pappi scheduled to pitch for the Cards. St. Louis lost its seventh game yesterday to the Boston Braves. The score was 7-2. The Cards have won 11 games.

Red Sox Stars Rest — SARASOTA, Fla. — The Boston Red Sox will leave four of their top players — Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio and Birdie Tebbets — at home today when they travel 80 miles to Lakeland to play the Detroit

Look Out for Yankees; DiMag Says Heel Is Ready for Work

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees' $90,000 "if," smiled as he peeled off a sock in the clubhouse at Miller Huggins Field. The old toothy grin was back.

"I'm afraid I'll play another year. Every blankly blank inning," he said. "It looks like I'll have to work for my money." DiMaggio had just passed his first test with flying colors. The tender right heel that threatened to end his career gave him no trouble in a six-inning chore against Cincinnati. It was his first start.

"The pain is not completely gone," said Joe, "if it (the heel) improves a little more, I'll be very happy."

After a hurried trip to Johns Hopkins for observation, DiMaggio was sidelined. Until yesterday he appeared in exhibitions only as a pinch hitter. He had not been too optimistic.

In yesterday's game he made two easy catches, almost without moving, fielded a grounder and went hitless in three trips.

DiMaggio wears baseball shoes with a pad in the heel. When the season starts he expects to use golf spikes around the back of the heel to keep him from sliding on quick starts.

More than three fourths of the ties men buy are of the bold variety despite the howls of pain over gifts frequently heard from men after Christmas.

Softball Meeting Scheduled for All Persons Interested Tonight

There will be a softball meeting tonight at 7:30 in the County Court room of the Courthouse. All interested players, sponsors and managers are asked to be present.

Star-Studded Field to Open Relays Tomorrow

AUSTIN — (AP) — Fifteen former champions will be back when the 28th annual Texas Relays open tomorrow.

They'll be among the 1,128 athletes entered, the largest list since 1938. A total of 113 teams have signed up.

Texas Longhorn boosters got good news today when broad jumper John Robertson worked out for the first time since injuring his leg two weeks ago.

Longhorn Charley Parker was still having leg trouble. Trainer Frank Medina was doubtful if Parker would be available. Parker won the 100-yard dash last year. He anchored Texas' 440-yard relay team to 29 straight victories.

Even in top shape, Texas would be challenged by Nebraska and Texas A&M in the sprint relays.

The mile feature will be on Saturday's schedule of 19 championship track events and six field finals. Jerry Thompson, one of the relay's most consistent performers, who concluded his collegiate competition last year, will be favored in the special mile run.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — When the Phillies' Richie Ashburn was beamed while trying to score on a short passed ball in a recent exhibition game, he was carried into the clubhouse, blood gushing from a cut over his eye, and laid on a rubbing table.

Coach Dusty Cooke looked at him sympathetically and remarked: "Gee, it's just a year ago today that the kid almost broke his back in an accident."

Whereupon the supposedly unconscious Ashburn raised his head, wiped away some blood and gasped: "Hey, maybe that's good luck. I had a great year last year. Does this mean I'll have another?"

Chisox Look Up; Can't Go Lower

By BOB MYERS

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — Things are looking up for the Chicago White Sox. That's because there's no looking down for a club that finished deep in the cellar of the American League last year. The Chisox were 44 1/2 games behind Cleveland.

There is some new talent on hand and a new manager in veteran Jack Onslow, who is a stickler for details and conscientious effort.

But veteran White Sox observers think it will be a battle between Chicago and Washington.

Onslow, whose action and thoughts belie his 59 years and 65 in baseball, is up from the minor leagues—Memphis the last stop. He might pull a Bill Meyer miracle. But the Onslow manager doesn't measure up to the talent Meyer had when he took over Pittsburgh in 1948.

The ace of the Wright, acquired the title by hurling the Sox to nine triumphs. Since the club on 51 games and lost 101, the achievement perhaps isn't as bad as it sounds.

Four hurlers, who might be possible regulars, are doubtful starters because of ailing arms. All right-handers, they are Fred Bradley, Marino Pieretti and Floyd Bevans, the latter being the gent who came within a bing of no-hit fame for the Yankees in the World Series against Brooklyn in 1947, and Johnny Eriqvist, a 14 game winner for Onslow last year at Memphis.

SPORTS AFIELD

With another hunting season behind us, the sportsman who loves the smell of burned powder and delights in hearing the crack of a gun only needs to look around him to discover that there is no necessity for him to let his favorite gun lie idle until fall rolls around again.

For the shotgun fan, there are skeet and trapshooting tournaments, both informal weekly practice affairs and organized competitions, held in practically every section of the country. These are generally in easy driving distance of all. But if the gunner does not like to shoot in competition, says Henry P. Davis public relations division, Remington Arms Company, fine shooting sport in private can be enjoyed with a hand trap.

"The shooter has to give these handy little target-throwers a whirl before he can fully appreciate the possibilities they offer for top shooting enjoyment, as well as the finest field practice. Every type of game shot may be simulated and targets thrown at every distance desired. You can offer open field shots such as you might get on quail or pheasants, and in fairly open woods, the grouse hunter can find fine practice on targets thrown against a heavily wooded background. Of course, no clay target can simulate the twisting whizz of a ruffed grouse or the peculiar wobble of a woodcock, but these saucers can be tossed in covers often frequented by these birds and the hunters can sharpen his eye for snap shooting.

"All manner of duck shots can be thrown, and from every angle and shooting distance. One good method is to mark off the distance, Ozzark Gus Zernial, last year, Zernial .322 in the Coast League. With holdovers Dave Philley and James Patrick Seery, who showed up in camp with a stomach bulge that matched his hitting last year—231 for hitting, 231 on the scales—Onslow might see a little brightness in the outfield.

He might even beat Washington for eighth place.

To the Editor:

The Women's Society of Christian Services of the Methodist Church wishes to commend the Griffith Theatres and the present management on the discontinuing of the midnight preview in Pampa.

We have worked for this movement for a long time because we believe teen-age boys and girls who were the ones mainly affected needed their rest at this hour of the night.

We believe the midnight preview kept many boys and girls away from religious services the following morning, and tended to increase juvenile delinquency in Pampa.

Respectfully yours, Women's Society of Christian Service

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Air Force officials would like to suck back some of the more extravagant claims that foreign air bases are no longer necessary. Over-enthusiastic generals made these statements following the flight of the B-50 Lady II, around the world non-stop.

The bomber could take off fully loaded, accompanied by a tanker plane. Two thousand miles after takeoff, the bomber would be refueled by the tanker, which would then return to base. The bomber would complete its mission, drop its bomb and start back home. Two thousand miles out it would be met by another tanker plane and refueled again for the last lap.

But if the tanker and bomber failed to make their rendezvous for refueling, it would be just too bad. A foreign base then would be mighty convenient.

CLOSE ENOUGH FOR LEWIS When United Mine Workers boss John L. Lewis received the Economic Cooperation Administration news photographers tried to get them together for a group picture.

Fair Enough — Pegler

President Truman's attack on the punching-dummy which he labeled "the trouble-makers" would be comic if he were not mayor of Chicago in a quagmire of a scandal.

President of the United States at the start of a four-year term, this poor attempt to blame some imaginary force for the defeat which he suffered at the hands of his own party's 81st Congress is pathetic and ominous. The people of the United States are stuck with this ignorant alumnus of the political underworld of Kansas City.

Mr. Truman has tried to represent his licking by his own Congress as no licking at all but a scene working of the kind of a can system and to blame "the trouble-makers" for spreading the popular impression that he did get licked. Well, he was licked, and not merely out-pointed but knocked through the sky-light in a fight of his own pickings at the instigation of a strange menacing gang of mock-Democrats who penetrated the disorganized convention in Philadelphia and put over a monstrosity called the civil rights program.

He was as much surprised as anyone else when he got the nomination in the end and meanwhile a diluted civil rights fake had been rejected by the strange intruders who insisted on a tougher and nastier one, and got it.

This was put over Herbert H. Humphrey, of Minneapolis, a former mayor and leafy-roof professor, whose opportunist seizure of power was a dramatic demonstration of the confusion and weakness of the convention. Minneapolis has no Negro problem, having few Negroes and those few Negroes persons of superior quality.

Consequently, Minneapolis, indeed Minnesota, Negroes, are not a dominant political power as the Deep South would be. Neither is there an important problem of discrimination in employment in Minneapolis or Minnesota, although surely Humphrey understood that an anti-discrimination law imposed on the South would be a death warrant for many innocent persons.

Goodness, I sometimes wonder what happened in the old days when people got allergic to things, before doctors had invented the word "allergic."

I remember dear old papa used to wake up mornings and say he didn't feel like working, and mama had to rouse him out with a broomstick. If papa had only known, he was really sick from an allergy called "acute repugnance to sustained commercialized exertion," which in therapeutic terms, mama cured by "medical and diligent application of cylindrical hickory compresses."

Man Held in Death Of Nightwatchman

HOLISTON — (AP) — Officers are holding a man here for questioning in the stabbing death of Charlie Carlos, 63, New Caney sawmill nightwatchman.

The man is being held in the Harris County jail. He was a brought here after officers determined the slaying occurred in Harris County.

Carlos died early yesterday in a Cleveland hospital. He was wounded Monday night at his home, eight miles from New Caney.

Growled Lewis: "Men don't get close to each other." And he wouldn't budge.

Incidentally, Lewis and Dr. James Boyd, who was opposed by Lewis for Senate confirmation as director of the Bureau of Mines, are believed to have met only once. That was in a Senate committee hearing room when they were introduced.

Major-General Albert M. Jones, recently returned to Washington from his post as head of an American military advisory commission to the Philippines, has denied cabled reports from Manila that he recommended abolition of the Philippine Army.

Before the Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

"THE MIDDLE-WAY" How will future historians describe this confused and frightened twentieth-century of ours? Among many other labels, I suggest one may be "the Middle-Way century."

Month by month, it becomes more and more obvious that millions of the world's people are being "get in the middle" of something. Black and white principles are falling like ten-pins, while nation after nation seeks a good gray compromise.

Unfortunately, the world is full of "middle-ways," with countless explanations of what they are in the middle of. Governor Dewey, in his recent Lincoln Day speech, repudiated what he called the "left and right wings" of his Party, and advocated a course straight down the middle.

Mr. Truman expected him to be a chance of victory last fall, several of Mr. McGrath's aides made rash promises of key federal jobs to their Southern friends. They never thought they would have to redeem them.

CRUSADE — The Tammany congressmen who conferred with Mayor William F. O'Dwyer of New York over his political enemies alleged tapping of his telephone do not intend to be dragged into the City Hall mess.

LOCAL — But the Tammany delegation sees no reason why it should become involved. They think that the mayor is trying to use them for his own political interests.

Now, however, Chairman McGrath and other Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill advise against the party vendetta that the Kansas City cop was supposed to inaugurate.

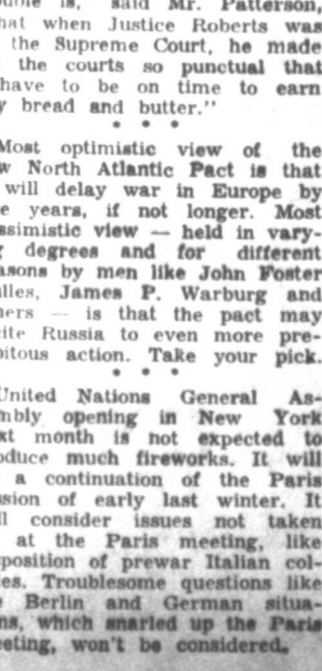

SMARTING — Although President Truman is still smarting under the Senate's rejection of Mon C. Wallgren as chairman of the National Security Resources Board, he plans to appoint the former governor to a federal post if canvass of Senate sentiment convinces him that his playmate from the Northwest can be confirmed.

Mr. Wallgren, who was deemed unfit for the national defense portfolio, may be named as secretary of the interior if J. A. Krug resigns, or if he is shifted to Paul G. Hoffman's post as head of ECA.

Mr. Hoffman feels that he ought to return to his job as head of Studebaker because competition in the automobile field has become tougher than it was when he came to Washington.

WASHINGTON — President Truman now faces a major political dilemma inside the National Democratic Committee. It involves his future relationship with the rebellious Southern bloc on Capitol Hill, and it may get him into difficulties with the Northern wing of the party because of his friendship for National Chairman J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island.

When nobody except possibly Mr. Truman expected him to be a chance of victory last fall, several of Mr. McGrath's aides made rash promises of key federal jobs to their Southern friends. They never thought they would have to redeem them.

Sensitive Genius Forced To Apologize for Work

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A thin, sensitive, 42-year old genius traveled all the way from Russia to the United States and apologized for his work.

Dmitri Shostakovich, who has written some of the finest music of our time, said he was sorry. He had made a mistake in his music.

His music didn't fit the Communist Party line in Russia, where the line extends to telling musicians what to compose. He came here with six other Russians for the "Cultured and Scientific Conference for World Peace" at Madison Square Garden.

What he had to say was read for him, although other in this country knows whether he wrote it himself or had it written for him.

It doesn't matter much, judging from his past experience. He has made the same apology before, and he wouldn't do anything that would cause him more trouble in Russia.

There, some time ago, he was slapped down by the Central Committee of the Communist Party which has slapped down with equal ferocity scientists, writers, scientists and economists, one after another.

When that happened to him, Shostakovich, who seems to want to continue writing music, said he was sorry for being a bad boy and wouldn't do it any more. Since that Central Committee tells Russians what to think and do, if they want to stay out of trouble, it could be expected he'd come here and speak his piece over again.

He recalled the "bourgeois formalism" of some of his fellow-Americans. At the same time he condemned the "cosmopolitanism" of the West.

The dictionary defines "cosmopolitanism" as "belonging to all the world; not restricted to any locality, field of activity or sphere of thought." In other words, international.

Ironically, Shostakovich was given a scroll signed by 42 prominent representatives of the music world here. It said: "Music is an international language and your visit will serve to symbolize the bond which music can create among all peoples."

FIVE ENLISTED Capt. Jessie Williams, a senior Reserve training officer from Amarillo, enlisted five men in the Organized Reserve yesterday at the Pampa Army recruiting office. M-Sgt. Davis A. Brown, recruiting officer, said today.

The average American husband knows about his rockets — most of them four-in-hand. They were sitting in the first three rows of the studio theater. They wanted all the monkeys to look up at the screen.

"I'm glad to see you on the screen and talk to the monkeys in a gibberish reminiscent of a Tarzan film or an out-of-focus television set.

The monkeys paid no attention. Koonin then stamped his feet and waved his arms. The monkeys paid no attention.

Somebody handed Koonin a big box full of popcorn bags. That did it. The monkeys gave the popcorn their undivided attention.

After the monkeys had seen the picture, been photographed from every angle and put back in their cages, I overheard somebody say: "Wow, I'm convinced publicity men are crazy."

I was convinced a long time ago.

He just sat there, his brown eyes as hard as marbles. "We're awfully sorry," Sin added weakly. "Does your head hurt much?"

"Never mind that," he said curtly. "I had worse days. You've seen the papers. I suppose Geyner's dead. Whoever killed him made off with the route to the galloons."

"We guessed that from the pencil," John Henry interposed. "And that means two people know how to get there now." He elaborated eagerly, as if he were turning state's evidence, telling Trim how they had bargained with Barselou during the afternoon. For ever so long they had been waiting for the "Reins" right now, the same as Barselou. That's for sure. We thought you had the combination. That's why we searched you. I'm sorry."

Trim stood up and worked his shoulder muscles. "Where's the rest of my clothes?"

"In the front seat," said Sin, getting out of his way. "We're awfully sorry."

"I know," Trim snapped. He opened the car door and put on his coat. He donned the pirate hat at a rakish angle and jammed the wooden pistol back into his belt. Then he faced the fearful Conover.

"Very well," he said, "we'll call it quits. You probably thought you were doing the best thing and you haven't exactly gotten in the way—yet. Besides, as the Bry-Ter Tooth-paste man here, I haven't been any great help to your vacation."

John Henry thought it was to keep silent. But Sin asked, "There's really supposed to be a tooth-paste man here?"

Trim grimaced. "Yes, I'm taking his place for a while—I deal a good reason for wandering around town. As you've found out by now, Barselou's got it pretty well sewed up."

"You're after Barselou?" John Henry burst out.

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Twenty monkeys and Johnson went to a studio preview of "Bomba, the Jungle Boy."

The monkeys sat there with their popcorn and crackerjack and I sat there with my air clarifier (the big economy size).

The monkeys were asked to fill out the usual audience reaction cards: Some of the questions were: "Does the picture qualify to play in an 'A' jungle?" "Did you see any monkeys you'd like to be stranded in a tree with?"

"A four-banana picture?" "Plenty of sex appeal?" "Plenty of monkey will this ring up at the box office?" I was asked the usual question, too. Walter Mirisch, the film's producer, stopped me after the preview and nervously inquired: "Did they show any signs that they liked it?"

I still don't know whether he was kidding. But I do know that the Allied Artists publicity boys were kidding. They announced the stunt "solely to study the psychological effect a jungle picture has on monkeys."

WHO'S STUDYING WHO? I'm not so sure but what it turned out to be a clinical study for the monkeys on the psychological effect a Hollywood publicity stunt has on humans.

Despite the clinical atmosphere, I don't know whether the monkeys liked the picture or not. If they didn't, there wasn't much they could do about it, as they were chained to their chairs.

If Hollywood's movies get any worse, this may give theater managers an idea. I don't know whether the film is good, either. I was too busy watching the monkeys.

Otherwise, the studio theater resembled a typical movie house any evening of the week. There was usual chattering among the customers, the lovers in the back row (two monkeys insisted on occupying the same chair) and there was the lobby buffet of popcorn, crackerjack, bananas, oranges, apples and coconuts.

One little monkey persisted in trying to break its leash. His trainer apologized to press agents Johnny Flynn and Lou Lifton and then with twinkling eyes added: "Maybe he's bored. He saw 'Joan or Arc' last week."

SIMIAN STAR A monkey named Junior, who plays the role of Otis in the picture (the film co-stars Johnny Sheffield and Peggy Ann Garner) and thus rates a star on his cage, suffered an indignity which may cause him to break all news up to photographers' cameras in the future.

Junior was sitting there, ready to enjoy himself on the screen, when an Acme photographer asked a trainer: "Can you get him to hold his nose up, if he didn't like the picture?"

The trainer bribed poor Junior with a banana and Junior did it. But I caught him giving the photographer very nasty looks and I didn't blame him. The photographer insisted on a group shot of the monkeys, who gubernatorial candidate in 1950.

So, until the White House disposes of whether it wants to build up or break down New York's podesta, the Tammany clique here will keep its fingers crossed in the wiretapping scandal.

Mr. Trim wiped fine white dust from his face and considered them through narrowed eyes. He seemed taller. And when he spoke, his voice had dropped a full octave. He said, unsmiling, "Well, you stumbled into everything else."

"We didn't have any idea before we searched you," John Henry explained resignedly. "Your badge, I mean." He held out his wrists for the cuffs. "Here."

"Oh-huh. Just who the devil did you think I was?" "Well, I figured—"

"No, Johnny," Sin spoke up. "We figured. You see, Mr. Trim, we thought you were this Jones that Barselou had—"

"Start from the beginning," Trim said wearily and sat down on the running board to hold his head.

John Henry felt more and more like holding his toes as Sin explained the famous reasoning that had led him to believe that Trim was the mysterious Jones who was leagued against Barselou in the race for the galloons. It all sounded pretty thin now. "We thought we'd be smart and capture you first," Sin concluded.

Start Spading Garden as Soon as Soil Crumbles

If you want your garden plot to be well prepared, spade it yourself. Weeks may slip by waiting for a plowman to do a job which, by the proper approach, can be reduced to enjoyable and beneficial exercise.

The secret is to take it easy. Spading is not hard work if done a little at a time. A space 30x50 feet can be spaded in a leisurely way in eight hours. One hour a day for eight days, and the job is done.

But first, be sure the soil is in condition to spade. Never work soil which is too wet; and if the soil is heavy, don't wait until it has become too dry. There is a point between extremes when even heavy clay can easily be lifted, and will crumble under a blow from the spade. You can tell this point by using the "mud pie" test.

Mould a ball of earth in your hand, and pat it to make a mud pie. If the pie holds together, the soil is too wet to spade. If it crumbles, then you can go ahead.

Systematic spading makes the job easier, and more complete. Here is one way to do it: Set a definite task for your first day's work, say a strip six feet wide, running the shortest dimension of the garden. At one end dig a ditch, say one foot wide and the depth of the spade, removing all soil from it. Fill this soil near the opposite end of the strip.

Now begin to spade with the blade not parallel to the trench, but at right angles to it. This enables you to lift the soil more easily, and deposit it in the trench. The spade should be driven down, not on a slant, but perpendicularly to its full depth. Take a small slice of the soil so your back is not strained. Lift it up, turn the spade over, so that the top soil falls underneath and bottom soil on top. In filling the first trench, you have opened a second.

If you wish to spade under manure, spread it evenly over the area, except for the top of your initial trench. When this first trench has been dug, clean the manure from the top of the next trench and throw it into the bottom of the first; then proceed with your spading, piling the soil on top of the manure.

When you have finished your day's quota, you will have an empty trench, which should be filled with the soil you removed from the initial trench.

Last in Series of Wheat Schools to Be at Abilene

The last of a series of wheat variety identification schools in the Panhandle will be held at Abilene on Wednesday, it has been announced.

Total attendance at 10 such schools held in the Texas Panhandle and North Texas areas during the past three weeks is 312, according to Keats E. Soder, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program, sponsor of the schools, along with Tex-O-Kan Flour Mills and Texas A&M.

The grain buyers, county agents, vocation and veterans agriculture teachers, and certified wheat growers attending learned in a few hours the kernel characteristics of the varieties that would make baker's bread or family flour or were suitable only for export, it was said.

Certificates of merit as primary selectors will be mailed soon to 200 grain buyers and others who completed the courses and were able to distinguish the principal groups of wheat in the majority of the test samples, Soder announced from Oklahoma City, headquarters of Improvement Program.

A recent meeting was held at Amarillo, where Gray County and surrounding county growers and agents attended.

Hoppers May Hop More Than Ever in 1949

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Grasshoppers may hop in greater numbers in Texas this year than in 1948 when they caused plenty of trouble.

This is the tenth year of the 10-year grasshopper cycle.

The prediction is based on egg counts made by workers of the USDA Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine Grasshopper Control Division, J. M. Landrum directs USDA hopper control activities for Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico from headquarters in Waco.

South Texas grasshopper eggs will begin to hatch on April 10-15, H. G. Johnston, state grasshopper control leader and head of the Texas A&M College Entomology Department, estimated.

Texas is plagued with two types of the insects—the differential, a big yellow hopper with sergeant stripes on his legs, and the migratory grasshopper.

The west cross timbers is the dividing line between the two types. Grasshoppers deposit their eggs in heavy soil and the sandy cross timbers area is almost free of the pests.

The worst centers of infestation of the differential grasshopper are expected to be along the Brazos between Waco and Richmond, and along the Trinity as far South as San Jacinto and Polk Counties.

Scattered infestations are forecast along creek bottoms in North Texas as far East as Titus county.

To a lesser degree but above normal—outbreak of the migratory grasshopper is expected in West Texas, the South Plains and the Panhandle.

When the differential hopper first hatches, he can be controlled by dusting along fer e rows and ditches.

County agents in the migratory grasshopper area will again set up poison bran mash mixtures if the outbreak warrants control on a large, organized scale, Johnston said.

4-H Safety Workers Striving To Reduce Farm Accident Toll

More than one and one-half million farm residents took enforced vacations last year due to accidents. In short, one out of every 17 farm people suffered a disabling accident.

Motor vehicle accidents now head the list of causes of fatalities to rural people, 7,300 of whom were killed due to collisions, blowouts and other highway mishaps in 1948.

The annual economic toll due to all types of farm accidents is now nearly one billion dollars.

In an all-out attempt to reduce these staggering figures, 4-H Club members throughout the nation are already engaged in the 1949 National 4-H farm safety program, reports Guy L. Noble, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls club work.

Daily safety practice is stressed in farm buildings and yards, in use of farm machinery, handling livestock and in driving or walking on highways. Through county extension agents and local 4-H Club leaders, rural boys and girls are encouraged to check and remove conditions likely to cause accidents and fires and promote safety practices in farm life. They are also taught to cooperate in community safety activities. The entire program is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

As added incentives to produce good safety records, General Motors is again donating awards. Five sterling silver medals of honor are presented members in each county for best safety achievements. The state winner is given an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, and also an opportunity to be selected for national honors and one of the eight $300 scholarships. The county reporting the most outstanding safety program in each state receives an engraved plaque of merit.

Cavallaro comes to Wellington on a stage of his tour of the Southwest that includes engagements at Amarillo, Lubbock and the fabulous new Shamrock Hotel in Houston.

Cavallaro, "poet of the piano," is one of the outstanding pianists and is leading one of the finest musical groups in the business, Moore said.

DDT Doesn't Get Under Skin

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — DDT sprayed on orchards apparently does not get under the skin of fruit, six University of California experimenters reported yesterday.

Both DDT and parathion, the latter a new insect poison, were found in small amounts in the peel of Valencia oranges, lemons and grapefruit, researchers said in a report for delivery to the American Chemical Society.

None of the spray materials were found in the pulp of the fruit, the experimenters said.

DDT in recommended dosages remains on citrus, pears and apple only in small amounts at harvest, the experimenters said. Removal of the spray from the skin of apples and pears is done efficiently with a solution of sodium silicate. Alkaline soap worked well on oranges.

Purpose of the project is to reduce livestock and poultry losses caused by disease, parasites and injury, the American Foundation for Animal Health announced here.

"By taking a little time for a cleanup of lots and buildings now farmers can add materially to their 1948 livestock and poultry profits," the foundation urged today to aid in the annual observance of national Farm Cleanup Week, set this year for the week of April 3 to 9.

Heading the list of cleanup measures were: "Clean and disinfect livestock quarters, particularly those where young animals or birds are to be born or housed.

"Clean out refuse in barnyards and feed lots. Old piles of manure and rubbish may be heavily infested with livestock parasites.

"Drain or fence off low, muddy spots in yards and pastures to protect stock against the germs and parasites that thrive in stagnant water.

"Remove or destroy old straw stacks that harbor parasites and germs. Scatter the straw or plow it under.

"Pick up and remove nails, glass and other sharp objects which might cause skin wounds and infections, or might be swallowed by livestock.

"Move young animals to fresh, clean ground as early as weather permits, and around weaning time have pigs vaccinated against hog cholera. Check also on the advisability of vaccination against other diseases which may be problems in the area."

Wet Weather Causes Lack In Field Work

AUSTIN — (AP) — Field work in East Texas counties fell behind last week because of continued wet weather, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Wet fields also hampered work in the eastern area.

In other areas of the state, field work was generally up to schedule because the two prior weeks of open weather were ideal for plowing, bedding and planting.

The USDA report for the week ending March 25 said wheat made rank growth in the plains counties. Oats in northern blackland counties had some green bug infestation but damage was light. The rust infestation in southern counties spread some. Early planted corn was up to a stand as far north as the Red River. Considerable cotton was up to a stand in the coastal bend area.

Conditions continued favorable for field work in most vegetable areas.

Onions in the coastal bend showed damage from blight and thrips. In the Laredo, Winter Garden and Eagle Pass areas onions made fair to good growth with little thrip damage. North Texas onions made good progress although wet fields made setting later than usual. Cullworms caused heavy damage in some East Texas tomato fields.

Auto Mechanics Attend Clinic

Two hundred and twenty-five auto mechanics from Pampa and from 24 towns in the Panhandle and Oklahoma attended a clinic on auto ignition problems in the Palm Room of the City Hall Tuesday night.

The clinic, sponsored locally by the Motor Inn Supply Co., was conducted by Carrol Canning, field engineer for Standard Motor Products, Long Island City, N. Y.

The first part of Canning's lecture was illustrated by a color film and he covered all phases of the theory, maintenance and adjustment of automobile ignition systems. The meeting was then opened to a roundtable discussion of individual problems.

Refreshments were served.

Clay Says Reds Can't Stop Germany

BERLIN — (AP) — If the German people want a separate Western German government the Russians cannot prevent its formation by lifting the Berlin blockade, U. S. Military Governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay said.

The Russians have indicated in their official press that at least part of their price for lifting the blockade would be abandonment of plans for setting up a West German state and a new foreign ministers conference to reopen the entire German problem.

Meanwhile the Communists have advanced plans for establishing a separate government in Eastern Germany and recently Eastern Germany and recently adopted a Constitution for such a state.

Hester Indicted For Dean's Murder

CLEBURNE — (AP) — Arthur Clayton Hester today was under indictment for murder with malice and robbery by assault in the slaying of Dr. John Lord, Texas Christian University dean.

Hester, 18, was indicted by a Johnson County grand jury.

Dr. Lord's body was found in his country home March 10.

Hester, former inmate of the state orphan home at Corsicana, was arrested in Los Angeles March 12.
