AUSTIN — (A) — The Sheriffs Thompson Speaks

LEFORS — (Special) — Fred Thompson of Pampa spoke on "The Home—a Place to Develop Citizenship and Responsibility," at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday evening in the school Auditorium.

Thompson said "home is the place to teach children to live place to teach children to live honestly" and that children are profoundly affected by the attitudes of their parents toward government and public issues. Also parents should guide their children toward good reading and good radio listening, he said.

Mrs. Catherine Andrews' third grade had the program which con-sisted of a number of songs and folk dances. Miss Geraldine Dunn, a high school student, was accompanist. Mrs. L. R. THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Comover, vacationing in the desert, are entangled in a murder involving the "Queen," an 18th Century Spanish treasure galleon, which sailed up the flooded Colerado River and was stranded on the desert. The clue to the lost ship are in directions given in cipher by the murder victim to Johnny. Sin's trick memory retains these directions and Johnny offers them to Barselou, who is holding the Conovers prisoner, if Sin is released. Barnelou agrees, but after Sin is released Johnny is alugged as he trice to escape.
