Policeman Attacked With Long Hat Pin

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Mardi Gras fun: Police arrested a purse snatcher who lost his shoes in an effort to escape. He was taken into custody at a bar because he was the only barefooted man there.

He Planned on Cleaning Up—With Soap

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—This is the story of a robbery suspect who thought he was going to clean up with soap. A cashier in a Sears, Roebuck store was confronted with a man holding a small bottle. He gave her a note reading: "We want $10,000. We came in here to commit suicide, or else." The note said the bottle contained nitro-glycerine.

Stripper Evelyn West Changes Courts

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—The justice is blind, so strip-teaser Evelyn West has received a change of venue so the court can see for itself if her show is indecent. The curvaceous brunette, who bills herself as the gal with a $50,000 treasure chest, was arrested for putting on an indecent performance. She was arraigned before Wayland McCarty, a blind justice of the peace.

What! No Lariat in Oklahoma City?

DENVER—(AP)—Getting a lariat in Oklahoma City was harder than pushing the cow out of the silo. That was the conclusion of Ralph Partridge, Denver Post farm editor. He flew to Oklahoma and devised the slick trick—grease, muscle and rope—that freed Bill Mach's cow. Partridge wrote for the Post that a persevering taxi driver finally found the lariat—a Western-style rope—in Oklahoma City. The cab driver ran up a $6 meter fee before he found the rope.

Killer Makes Good Boast, Dies Firing

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(AP)—The vicious killer, Bill Ray Gilbert, made good his boast he would never be taken alive. He fell dead before a blaze of police gunfire here last night.

He almost made good his second boast — "I'll take two officers with me when I die." He shot a policeman three times in the leg.

The 28-year-old Arizona ex-convict killed a woman and two men near Needles, Calif., last Wednesday. The gun battle with police ended a crime foray in which Gilbert, and a prison pal, George Adolph Schmid, 22, kidnaped a Phoenix woman, killed the three Californians, and returned to Arizona with a plan to kill the state prison warden and other officials.

Schmid was captured without resistance by two city policemen here early yesterday as he tried to reach his mother's home. He was armed with two pistols.

Police surrounded a tourist court cabin in the southwestern section of the city last night when the operator, C. A. Jensen, reported a man he recognized as Gilbert had registered during the afternoon.

Two policemen battered on the cabin door and ordered the occupant to come out. The answer was a blast of pistol fire from the cabin's attic. Detective Ed Langevin fell wounded.

Police poured bullets through the thin cabin walls. They knew their man was hit when blood streaked the white exterior of the cabin.

"Don't shoot anymore. I'm hit in the head," Gilbert shouted above the gunfire.

As police held their fire, Gilbert came to the door. He threw it open and, blood streaming down his naked body, stood swaying in the glare of

Five Other Clergymen Say 'Guilty'

SOFIA, Bulgaria—(AP)—Five more Protestant clergymen pleaded guilty today in Bulgaria's spy trial.

By the end of the day's session, eight in all had entered guilty pleas. Seven others still must plead. All who pleaded guilty went through the now familiar routine, denouncing themselves, expressing repentance and pleading for a new chance to work for the Communist-controlled government.

All said they had seen the error of their ways in their opposition to communism. All of them told the court that the secret security police who took their confessions of spying for Britain and the United States had displayed a "surprisingly noble attitude."

The first to take the stand was the Rev. Georgi Chernov, 46, a balding Pentecostal pastor. He lost no time in pleading guilty, as the first three had done.

Like the others who preceded him on the stand, he launched into a long public confession of espionage for the United States and Britain.

Chernov had written a 250-page "confession" while in jail—the longest preliminary deposition taken from any of the defendants. All are charged with treason, spying and black market money dealings.

Chernov said he had been ordered to collect espionage by Cyril Black, former U. S. political mission secretary here. He claimed he had talked with Black during the period from November, 1944, to the middle of 1945.

(Black, now a professor at Princeton University, has denied the charges made by the Communist-dominated Bulgarian government, as have other Americans accused of complicity.)

Woman Burned in Explosion, Fire

Mrs. D. H. Baggerman, 622 N. Russell, suffered burns on her arms, legs, hands and had her hair singed at 2:35 p. m. yesterday when gasoline in the bath tub exploded.

Mrs. Baggerman was cleaning clothes with gasoline which was ignited by a nearby automatic water heater, causing the explosion.

She was taken to the Worley Hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance. Attendants at the hospital said this morning that she is doing well.

Firemen arrived at the Baggerman home before the fire had spread. They extinguished the bath tub fire and the only damage was to the clothes Mrs. Baggerman was cleaning.

Educational Matters Expected Main Business Before Legislature This Week

AUSTIN—(AP)—A busy eighth week for the Legislature—likely to be heavily weighted with educational matters—was in prospect today.

Early Senate consideration was expected on a proposed Constitutional amendment to legalize the west-bound Sunset Limited without question the payment of a $3 million shortage in the state's rural aid last year.

Senator R. B. Cousins, Jr., of Beaumont authored the amendment after a bill to cover the shortage bogged down under an unconstitutional cloud in the House. Rural-aid school districts at Gov. Beauford H. Jester's suggestion borrowed money from banks to pay their teachers after state funds ran out. The Governor assured the banks that he would recommend covering the shortage as top emergency to the Legislature.

Critics in both House and Senate said the Governor overstepped his authority and that the Legislature is without Constitutional power to do anything about it. The Constitutional amendment—if passed—would settle the matter.

Report Backs Truman Plan For Economy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A preliminary Congressional report generally backing President Truman's idea of a sound economy—and full of inflation warnings—comes up for committee appraisal today.

The report, a worksheet draft, is before the Senate-House Economic Committee. It might be approved by the Democratic majority, but the Republican members plan to file a vigorous dissent.

The confidential document shown to a reporter was circulated to committee members over the weekend for study in advance of today's session. It was prepared by the chairman, Senator Mahoney (D-Wyo.), and the committee staff.

The committee is supposed to submit to Congress tomorrow a final report on the President's economic program.

The preliminary draft comes out strongly for granting Mr. Truman's request for standby authority to reimpose price and wage controls on a selective basis. It plugs for extension and tightening up of rent control, for mandatory rationing of scarce materials, continuation of consumer credit program, an increase in the minimum wage, a broader social security program and larger benefits, public housing and slum clearance, federal aid for education, a flexible and "well integrated" farm program, and other programs the President wants.

As for Mr. Truman's demand for a $4 billion tax increase, the report suggests approval of that but does not come right out and say so. There is no flat endorsement, either, of the President's controversial proposal for federal authority to build industrial plants.

60 Artists Available For Concerts

The Pampa Community Concert Association will have a complete list of 60 artists from which to select the 1949-50 artists, Donovan C. Witham, representative of the Community Concert Service of Columbia Artists' Management, said this morning.

Witham will further explain the Community Concert Service at the annual association banquet at 7 p. m. today in the Palm Room of the City Hall when the 57 volunteer workers convene to begin this year's campaign.

"There are 1,000 cities in the United States that participate in the Columbia Artists' Management series," he continued.

He said there are 24 Texas towns besides Pampa taking the service, which is the largest service of its kind in the world.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, dinner chairman for the Pampa Community Concert Service, said she has completed for tonight's kickoff banquet.

The annual drive will begin tomorrow morning and close at noon Saturday. Witham will remain in Pampa throughout the campaign. Memberships will be accepted after the closing hour Saturday.

Dr. Douglas Nelson, association president, will preside at the banquet and will introduce the principal speaker, Ed Weiss, Jr.

Speaker Asks for Strong Support of National Guard and Organized Reserve

Col. Selden Simpson, Amarillo attorney, issued a strong plea for support of the National Guard and Organized Reserve yesterday when he said, "The only way to keep from war is to have so strong a force that no one will dare attack us."

Col. Simpson, National Guard area commander, spoke at a banquet in the Palm Room of the City Hall yesterday noon that concluded a two-day convention here of the ninth Veterans of Foreign Wars district.

In asking greater support of the civilian defense program, Simpson pointed out that historically the defense of this country has rested on the citizen soldier rather than on a large standing army.

He said that veterans especially should support the Guard and the Reserve Corps because, they more than anyone else, know the value of adequate training before battle.

During World War II, Simpson commanded the same battalion in the same regiment that his father commanded in the first World War.

called upon seven times to defend his country, the colonel went on: first in 1870, then in 1872, 1880, 1888, 1917 and 1941. Fortunately, we have had time to give the citizen-soldier a measure of training—in 1917, there was an ocean between us and hostilities, and in 1941 we had Britain to absorb some of the shock—but we cannot be sure that time will always work in our favor, he said.

The civilian defense program, which has been set at 27 National Guard divisions, is bogging down through disinterest, he continued.

The National Guard area Simpson commands, which extends from Perryton to San Angelo, is at best only 50 percent of authorized strength.

He said that veterans especially should support the Guard and the Reserve Corps because, they more than anyone else, know the value of adequate training before battle.

During World War II, Simpson commanded the same battalion in the same regiment that his father commanded in the first World War.

He was commanding officer of the 3rd Battalion, 142nd Infantry Regiment, 36th Division.

Among the more than 200 VFW members attending yesterday's banquet were J. Henry Perry of Belton, former state commander of the VFW, and Mrs. Violet Kinney of Borger, present state commander of the VFW Auxiliary.

W. C. Williams, commander of Pampa Post No. 1687, host to the district, was master of ceremonies yesterday, and O. C. Watson of Perryton, district commander, announced that the next meeting, to elect district officers, would be held in Amarillo.

For a half hour before the banquet, the Misses Charlotte Allison, 523 W. Francis, pianist, and Dorothy Myers of south of town, violinist, presented a dinner music program.

Red Officer Admits Taking Information

PARIS—(AP)—The French government said today a Communist army major has confessed turning army documents over to "a foreign military attaché."

The name of the attaché was not identified, nor was the country he represented named.

A communique issued by the Interior Ministry said an army captain was questioned about his "relations with the major" and about "defense documents" he is charged with turning over to a Communist magazine.

The officers, turned over to military authorities, were identified later only as "Major Teulery" and "Captain Azema."

Teulery was reported to have been active in the service of the French army. Azema was described as an instructor of airborne troops.

The communique said Teulery admitted handing over numerous documents which he had for a time collected in his jobs in the offices of the Ministry of Munitions and National Defense.

The ministry said the case was connected with the one against Robert Fenillet, business manager of the Communist weekly "France d'Abord" (France First), who was arrested Friday.

The major was identified as a stockholder in the weekly.

Another officer, a captain charged with giving defense secrets to the press, also will be court-martialed, the ministry said.

The announcement came as Frenchmen wondered nervously how far their government would go in present moves for a purge of Communists.

The campaign against Communists in the parliamentary from continued today with an official request for lifting the immunity of Florimond Bonte, one of the Communist leaders in the National Assembly and the party's press spokesman.

On Friday the National Assembly is due to debate a similar request. (See OFFICER, Page 3)

Denmark Is Lining Up With West

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(AP)—Appeared lined up firmly with the west in the cold war today, and there were indications that Sweden, too, is leaning in that direction.

Denmark's position on the North Atlantic defense line—proposed Western military alliance against Russian expansion—was made clear yesterday when the country's largest political party, the Social Democrats, decided to look to the West for security.

It was also predicted that Sweden will join the projected North Atlantic agreement within six months. One informed source said "sooner, if the Russians make any move toward Finland."

Norway, the other Scandinavian country, already has turned to the West for military security. Norway said an all-Scandinavian defense arrangement with no links to the West, as proposed some time ago by Sweden, would be rejected.

British Aid Request Said 'Tight Fit'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The administration advised Congress today the proposed $940 million in new aid to Britain is a "tight fit"—the absolute minimum needed.

"Any reduction in it," declared Paul Hoffman, head of the Economic Cooperation Administration, "would adversely affect continued recovery in both the United Kingdom and Western Europe."

He and a group of advisers from various branches of the government appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the aftermath of a trans-Atlantic discussion of the state of Britain's economic health.

Because of varying official British statements as to how far she has recovered from the strains of war, the committee called in Hoffman to justify Britain's share of the new $5,580,000,000 European Recovery Program.

That was the sole purpose of today's hearings.

The question of cutting the British program by at least $200 million had been explored, Hoffman said.

He not only pictured the adverse effect he said it would have on the British economy but also detailed how it might cut into United States' exports in cotton, foods, tobacco, and industrial goods.

Hoffman expressed serious concern lest British progress be reversed and a "stultifying and generally demoralizing influence on the whole pace and vigor of British recovery" be substituted.

In describing the $940 million as the "absolute minimum," Hoffman said the program it would cover had been screened not only by the British, and the Economic Cooperation Administration, but also by the State, Treasury, Agriculture and Commerce Departments.

Water Bill Is Protested

AUSTIN—(AP)—Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are in Austin for a final compromise session over the proposed revision of state surface water laws.

J. E. Sturrock, manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, said today that officials of his group and the WTCC would go into a conference later today.

Representing the WTCC will be John D. Mitchell of Odessa, WTCC president; D. A. Bandeen of Abilene, WTCC manager; and R. M. Wagstaff, co-chairman of the WTCC Municipal Water Rights Committee.

Meeting with them will be Sturrock, Victor W. Bouldin of Houston, TWCA Water Law Committee chairman, and Paul Weaver of Houston, water laws committee man.

Recently the WTCC filed 17 protests to the suggested water code under consideration of a House compromise session was held in Austin and the TWCA suggested three amendments to its bill.

Sturrock said today that the WTCC had accepted two of the suggested amendments and "I think the difference over the third amendment is merely a matter of phrasing." Sturrock said the amendment still under consideration concerned the rights of municipalities to recapture water from industrial and irrigation users.

The proposed surface water codes have been introduced in both the Senate and House. The approved amendments will be offered when the bill is considered by committees.

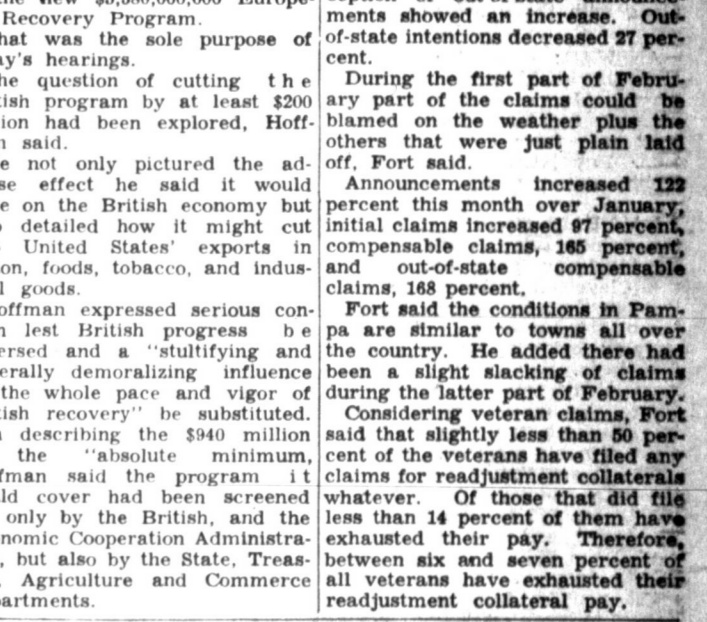

Graveside Rites Set for Infant

Graveside services were held at 2 p. m. today in the Baby Garden of Fairview Cemetery for Mary Culbertson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Culbertson of White Deer.

The child died at birth at 2:45 a. m. yesterday.

Burial was under the direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

WARREN'S WARM UP

By Warren Messersmith—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Did Grover Cleveland Alexander ever pitch a no-hit, no-run ball game?

WELCOME BACK: To the baseball season. Tomorrow the major league clubs can officially open their spring training period, although some have had some of their squad at it for a week or more. Some of the teams inviting their older players and pitchers and catchers to "vacation" at their training base several days prior to the March 1 deadline.

The training bases for the major leaguers are spread out all over the United States. For the first time since the war, none of them are training out of the country. In Florida are both Boston teams, Detroit, New York Yankees, both Philadelphia teams, Washington, Brooklyn, Cincinnati, and the St. Louis Cardinals. The Indians and the Giants are training in Arizona, while both Chicago entries, the St. Louis Browns and the Pittsburgh Pirates are in sunny California. For local fans who want to get a glimpse of the big leaguers the Giants and Indians meet at Lubbock on April 3. That is about the closest any of the teams will come to the Panhandle.

Already the predictions are flying as to what teams will be meeting in the World Series next fall. Most predictors like the Indians and Braves to repeat in their league, and Warmup will go along with that prediction all the way. This corner can see no opposition to the Cleveland entry in the junior loop. Their infield and pitching staff should far outdistance the field.

In the National League the Braves should encounter a bit more opposition. The lowly Phillies look like a coming team and should cause much havoc to pennant aspirations of several teams in the senior league. They have been considerably strengthened by deals during the winter. They improved both their infield and their mound staff in trades that brought Russ Meyer and Eddie Watkins from the Cubs. Both are young ballplayers who have yet to reach their peak in the big time. The Cardinals are still bothered with aches and pains and are growing older each day. But they have Stan Musial, the most dangerous hitter in either league. The Giants lack pitching as do the Pirates.

The most likely opposition to the Indians in the American League should be the Red Sox, managed by that crafty Joe McCarthy. But the big question to mark on his team is the score arms of the pitchers. Warmup would like to see Connie Mack surprise everyone, but it's very unlikely. His youth still lacks the proper seasoning in the majors.

The first exhibition games of the training season will be played March 12, at which time the true strength of most of the teams will be more easily gauged. But until such a time as Johnny Sain, Warren Spahn, Bob Feller, Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden break their arms, and Dark, Elliott, Boudreau and Gordon break a leg apiece, we will string along with the above predictions.

ANSWER: Alexander hurled 90 shutouts in 20 years as a big leaguer. He turned in 4 one-hit shutouts for the Phillies when they won their only pennant in 1915. But he never pitched a no-hit, no-run game.

BASEBALL STORY: It's a long time since Ivy Olson broke into the big league as a shortstop with the Cleveland Indians. He lived through that trying experience to patrol the crescent of dirt, with varying fortunes, for the Dodgers for years. But there's an afternoon at the old Hilltop grounds where the Indians were playing the Yankees that stands out starkly in his memory. Olson got into the game in the late innings, and a Yankee rookie doubled to left. Olson took the throw and immediately executed the hidden ball trick, then in his infancy "I sat up all night waiting for the morning papers to come out," Ivy recounts bitterly. "And what do you think those so-and-so reporters said?"

"The headlines on the sport page hit me right in the eye: ONE BUSH LEAGUER PUTS BUSH LEAGUE TRICK ON ANOTHER," groaned Olson, remembering every word.

Coach Bob Grievie's Syracuse University country team was undefeated last season.

Colleges Prepare for NCAA Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Kentucky's mighty Wildcats today appeared to have a clear path to both the National Invitation and NCAA post season basketball tournaments.

Kentucky, overwhelmingly voted the No. 1 team in the country in the latest Associated Press poll, is a cinch for a bid to the invitation. It starts March 12 in New York's Madison Square Garden.

The Wildcats probably will accept, since it will give them the only chance to avenge their lone defeat of the season. St. Louis, defending invitation champion, beat Kentucky, 42-40, in the Sugar Bowl finals. And St. Louis will be back.

Kentucky also is interested in the NCAA merry-go-round in which it is the defending champion. Any doubts that it would be welcome in the NCAA if it played in the NIT apparently were dispelled by A. K. Tebell of the University of Virginia, chairman of the NCAA District Three Selection Committee.

Kentucky ended its eighth unbeaten Southeastern Conference season Saturday night by trouncing Vanderbilt, 70-37, for its 28th victory against the single loss.

St. Louis (18-3) and Kentucky, naturally, are the top choices for the invitation. But the New York tourney is still hopeful of luring Oklahoma A&M (19-3) to the Big City. The Aggies whipped St. Louis, 40-37, Saturday night and also hold a 29-27 overtime decision over the Billikens. St. Louis' other loss was to Ohio State.

Other teams under consideration for the eight NIT spots are San Francisco (21-5), Utah (22-6), Texas (17-6), North Carolina State (22-8), Duquesne (17-4), Bradley (24-5), Bowling Green (20-6), Butler (18-4), Chicago Loyola (20-5), and LaSalle (19-6) from out of town and CCNY (16-5), Manhattan (16-7), St. John's of Brooklyn (13-8) and New York University (10-8) from New York.

Some of the invitation teams may be announced this afternoon. All eight probably will be disclosed by the end of the week. The NCAA doesn't get started until as soon as its choices probably won't be forthcoming for at least a week.

Texas Sportsmen Shell Out Heavily to Hunt and Fish

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff
Texans paid more than three-quarters of a million dollars in hunting and fishing license fees in a twelve month period from July 1, 1947 to June 30, 1948.

This was part of the nearly fifty million dollars collected by the 48 states from hunters and anglers in this time.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports that anglers paid a total of $28,350,079 in license fees. Hunters shelled out $28,558,447.

Fishing license sales increased over the nation, but the number of hunting permits declined. Revenue from hunting license sales, however, increased.

In Texas, 250,724 resident hunting permits were sold and 1,241 non-resident permits purchased. The financial return was $536,175.50.

A total of 255,615 Texans bought resident fishing permits. Non-resident license fees were paid by 5,108 persons. Fees amounted to $257,456.

The announcement from Coach John Barnhill that Arkansas will experiment with the formation in spring football training indicates the Razorbacks will become the fifth Southwest Conference team to use this style of play.

Football fans all over the state will have their eyes on the little Austin College next season. Return of Ray Morrison to the state as coach of the Kangaroos is the reason. It will be interesting to see if Morrison, the daddy of razor-die-coaching football, can duplicate his coaching performance of more than a generation ago—when he took a small, new school and laid the groundwork for sensational success on the gridiron. The school was Southern Methodist University.

BETTER BOWLING
By BILLY SIXTY
TIMING TROUBLE: One thing about teaching bowling beginners always intrigues me. It is the way they all gradually develop their own individual styles, all shaped out of the same fundamentals of stance, proper grip position in which the ball is held and the stride, and the swing, and the swing-through.

Arkansas, Baylor and Rice May End SWC in Triple Tie

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff
Arkansas and Baylor can officially claim part of the Southwest Conference basketball championship tonight by winning final games.

The Razorbacks close their season against Texas A&M at College Station and Baylor ends against Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Rice, the third team now tied for the lead, can make it a three-way tie for the title by whipping A&M Friday at College Station.

Lambert was answering a question as to how the District Six NCAA Selection Committee would pick a representative for the Western regional playoff for the seas City early next month.

The Arkansas coach and chairman of the selection committee brought out just how complicated it is by figuring Texas could slip in for a fourth share of the crown if the results broke right this week.

Lambert, Jack Gray, University of Texas coach, and Jim McKale, Arizona University athletic director, form the committee.

If either of these men have schools being considered for the invitation they automatically step off the committee and a successor is appointed to decide the issue.

Dutch Lonberg, Northwestern basketball coach and chairman of the NCAA Basketball Committee, may have to appoint a whole new committee.

Lambert's Razorbacks are heavy favorites to beat A&M and come up for consideration.

Arizona is leading the Border Conference race, looks like a good bet to win the title and is in region six of the NCAA.

Texas can only hope. Outside of the all-important games among the "big three" this week, Texas takes on Southern Methodist at Austin tomorrow night.

For Texas to go "fourths" on the championship, Texas Christian will have to beat Baylor, Texas beat Southern Methodist and A&M knock off both Arkansas and Rice.

James H. Stewart, executive director of the Southwest Conference, has said there will be no playoff about the race and in a tie there will be co-champions, or tri-champions or quadruple-champions.

In a wild week, Rice thumped Texas, 65-49, and Arkansas, 64-48, to take the three-way tie and lead. Other results were not expected, one instance excepted: Texas' 81-60 victory over Texas Christian.

Schoolboy Cagers Readied For State Meet at Austin

By The Associated Press
Twenty-four schoolboy basketball teams converge on Austin this week to battle for state titles in Class AA, A and B divisions.

Action in the three, eight-team meets opens Thursday. Champions will be crowned Saturday.

Brand new titlists will come out of the three tournaments. The last defending champion with a chance for a return trip to Austin was Maydelle, Class B kingpin in 1948. Martins Mill beat Maydelle in the region 4-B finals, 35-28.

Crosier Tech, defending Class AA champion, failed to place in the Dallas city race of the City Conference and Mt. Vernon, defending Class A titlist, didn't scratch in its division.

The lineup for the state tournaments:

Class AA: Lubbock, Bowie of El Paso, Highland Park of Dallas; Brownwood, Waco, Port Arthur, Texas City and Austin.

Class A: Memphis, Coleman, Nocona, Gaston, Madisonville, Lampasas, French (Beaumont), Uvalde.

Class B: Shallowater, Gustine, Slidell, Martins Mill, Big Sandy, Waeldeer, Woodboro, Maria.

This Is the 'Railroad of Future'

A 120-mile long elevated belt conveyor, linking Lake Erie with the Ohio River, will be built at a cost of $210,000,000. The Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, announced in Cleveland, O., will carry iron ore south to the river, and simultaneously carry coal north to the lake. This is an artist's conception of how the conveyor will look.

REPORT
On that issue, the document cites testimony by one of Mr. Truman's economic advisers that the President feels the matter should be studied.
In urging economic controls, the report says:
"It seems premature to speak of recession and absurd to speak of depression when all the basic industries are continuing to produce at capacity."
"All that has happened (with respect to recent price declines) has been the return in a few areas to buyers' markets, to pre-war or post-war patterns of seasonal fluctuations, to competitive markdowns on slow-moving items . . ."
"In short, 1949 is probably going to be a boom year, perhaps not as good as 1948 in dollar terms, but no worse than 1947."
"If that is the case, the report adds, 'it is decidedly the kind of a year in which this government should at least attempt to retire at least three or four billion dollars of the federal debt.'"

Drivers' License Handbooks Needed

The state is still critically short of drivers' license handbooks, and by today there were only two left in Examiner Patrolman Walter Roberts' possession.
"Because we're short, we have been asking people to return them when they are finished or have no further use for the books," Roberts said.
So, the drivers' license man this morning asked everyone who has a book, and is finished with it, to return it to him in the Courthouse or turn it in at the Sheriff's office so it can be redistributed to other people who need one.
The books may also be turned in to the Police Department at City Hall.

ABC ON USING SHORT FORM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of 12 stories on who is doing what about making his 1948 income tax return, for the deadline is March 15.)
BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) This is an ABC on filing out your 1948 income tax return on the 1948 short-form.
Like anyone else with income under $5,000, Jones can use the short-form. His income was $4,500. His wife had none. They are dependent children.
But his first problem is: should he file alone, separately, since his wife had no income and doesn't have to file? Or jointly?
1. When a husband has income, but not the wife, he can file for himself and get an exemption for himself, his wife, and any dependent. But—
Note this: under the new law many husbands and wives—although not all—save money by filing jointly, even though the wife had no income.
Because the new law permits "splitting" income, as if husband and wife each were claiming half the total income.
2. NO exemption can be claimed for a wife who had income, no matter how tiny, unless she files jointly with her husband, or separately.
3. When husband and wife have income which is individually less than $5,000 but combined is more than $5,000, they can file separately on the short-form, but not jointly. Or, they can file separately or jointly on the 1948 long-form.
Since Jones had income but his wife didn't, he comes under No. 1 above. So, to find out whether he saves by filing separately or jointly, he turns to the tax table on Page 4.
He looks at the columns which show the tax on a person whose income was $4,500 and wants to claim three exemptions, as Jones does. They show the tax, in a case like that, when a return is made separately or jointly.
In Jones' case, the tax is $437, if he files alone. It's only $422, a saving of $15, if he files jointly with his wife. So he'll do that. Now return to Page One. Start down, answering the questions at the top. Then—
No. 1. Jones lists himself, his wife, his dependent child. He enters "no" to the questions about blindness and age, since neither he nor his wife is 65 or blind.
No. 2. He writes his employer's name and title of business. Right beside it he lists his salary, $4,500, which was his entire income. And, besides that, he lists—say, for illustration—$460 which his boss withheld from him in taxes during the year.
He skips the next questions which don't apply to him, or fills in those that do, and makes it clear at No. 10 that he had already overpaid his tax by $38; the difference between the $460 his boss withheld from him and the $422 the tax table shows his tax should be.
And under No. 10, since he wants a refund, he checks off the refund box.
Then he answers the rest of the questions and he and his wife both sign the return. Unless husband and wife both sign a joint return, the collector will consider it a separate return, which may mean a higher tax for the couple.
Then Jones tears off that first page of Form 1040 and sends it into the tax collector for his district, but, before he does, he does this:
He attaches to it the Form W-2, the withholding receipt his boss gave him for the tax withheld from his salary during the year.

KILLER

Miss Chisholm, a sister of John Chisholm, Pampa, is held as a material witness.
Schmid, in a statement to District Attorney Jerome D. Kavanaugh of San Bernardino, Calif., said he and Gilbert abducted Miss Chisholm from the riding stable she managed here last Tuesday.
They took her with them to Needles, where they joined acquaintances of Gilbert. Later, at a nearby ranch Ernest Winsted, 21, Needles city employee; his wife, Frances, 22, and Willis Pugh, 70, were shot to death.
Schmid was seized on the bank or an irrigation canal, five blocks from his mother's home after a motorist had flagged down two Phoenix police officers and told them he had seen a man sulking in the darkness along the canal.
Schmid admitted that he and Gilbert had kidnapped Miss Chisholm Tuesday.
"Gilbert cased the place first, and then told me to go in," he said.
"I covered her with a pistol while Gilbert took the money from the cash register and the guns from the house."
Miss Chisholm, who eluded Gilbert in nearby Scottsdale Friday night, already had told of witnessing the killings. She said Gilbert fired all of the shots but one; Schmid the other.
Schmid slipped away from Gilbert and Miss Chisholm when posted as a lookout in the desert about 80 miles east of Phoenix Friday.
"I figured it was a good time to leave," he told officers. "I thought Gilbert was crazy."
Gilbert, according to Miss Chisholm, shot Mrs. Winsted when she jumped in front of her husband as Gilbert threatened him with a gun Wednesday afternoon. As Winsted turned and ran, she said, Gilbert fired several shots at him and Schmid fired one. Then, she said, Gilbert shot Pugh between the eyes.

FILIBUSTER

posals to change the rules.
Barkley was at the White House with Lucas. Asked how he would rule if the matter was raised, Barkley said:
"I'll pass on no question until it arises."
Lucas, Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn met for upwards of 40 minutes with Mr. Truman.
Lucas said that he is hopeful that the rule change can be put through, but he declined to speculate on how long it might take to stop a filibuster against it.
At the present time, he said, the President is not particularly worried that his legislative program will be stymied by the fight over the filibuster.
"There is no doubt, of course," Lucas said, that it will "delay" action on many administration proposals but "this issue has to be met sooner or later and we might as well meet it now." He said he was "pretty confident of success."
While he said it would delay action on rent control extension, he said that measure was not yet out of the House and that the reciprocal trade deadline would not come until June 12.

in the case of Marcel Cachin, 70-year-old editor of the Communist daily, L'Humanite. As in most countries, members of the French Parliament are protected by law against arrest while the house is in session.
The Interior Ministry declined to give any details not contained in the communique.
Press reports that other requests have been made for lifting of immunity of 20 other Communist deputies were not confirmed.
It has been reported, however, that War Minister Paul Ramadier has filed complaints against all 84 members of the party's Central Committee.
Three pro-Communist newsmen and a draftsman in an anti-aircraft plant are in the hands of military courts, charged with endangering national security by possession of national defense secrets. The offense is punishable by one to five years in prison. They were picked up in a police dragnet last week in raids on several newspaper offices.
Complaints against the Communists now are based on charge of:
1. Incitements to sabotage in last fall's bitter coal strike.
2. Appeals to soldiers not to fire on the strikers.
3. Statements in Communist speeches and articles that "France will never fight the Soviet Union" and that Frenchmen should welcome the Red Army if it occupied France.

not be strong enough to make her feel secure.
Norway, Sweden and Denmark had accepted economic ties with the West in the Marshall Plan. Until recently, however, they had been reluctant to forge any military links for fear of Russian reaction. All are within easy range of Soviet forces. Norway has a far northern common border with the Soviet and Denmark is 10 minutes flight from Russian air bases. Sweden borders on Finland, tightly tied by treaty to the Kremlin.
Denmark's Social Democrats, with only one dissenting vote reported, approved through the party's Executive Committee a resolution calling for "increased political and military cooperation" with the Western democracies. The resolution said an all-Scandinavian alliance is "not possible at present."
The party's vote in Parliament, added to that of smaller parties already committed to the North Atlantic agreement, provides a clear-cut majority in both houses.

Damage to Car in Wreck Heavy Move Affects 150 Texas Theaters

Considerable damage was done to a 1946 Ford coupe about 9 o'clock this morning at the S. Cuyler and Ford intersection when it was struck by a city maintenance truck.
Chief of Police Louis Allen reported the Ford, driven by Dale E. Everson, 801 E. Malone, was traveling north on Cuyler and the maintainer, driven by Robert Bansol, 304 S. Finley, was going south on Cuyler, and made a left turn into Finley in front of the coupe.
Little or no damage was done to the maintainer. However, the coupe was badly damaged. It was left standing for body repairmen to make estimates on the cost of repairs.
There were no injuries, Allen said.

Standard Kitchen Units Now Allow Easy Remodeling

Standardized sizes for kitchen cabinets and other equipment now make it easy to modernize any kitchen by fitting units together into a unified whole. Every inch of space is thus utilized.

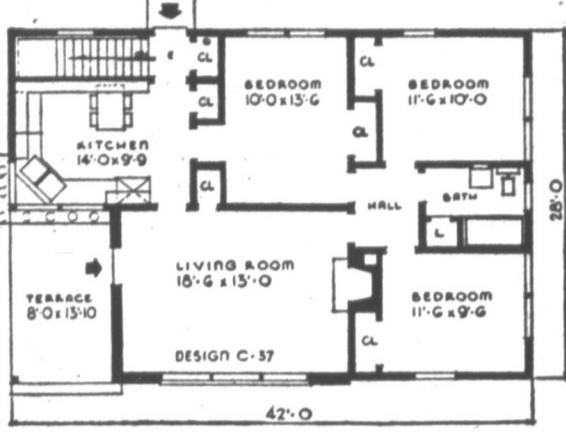

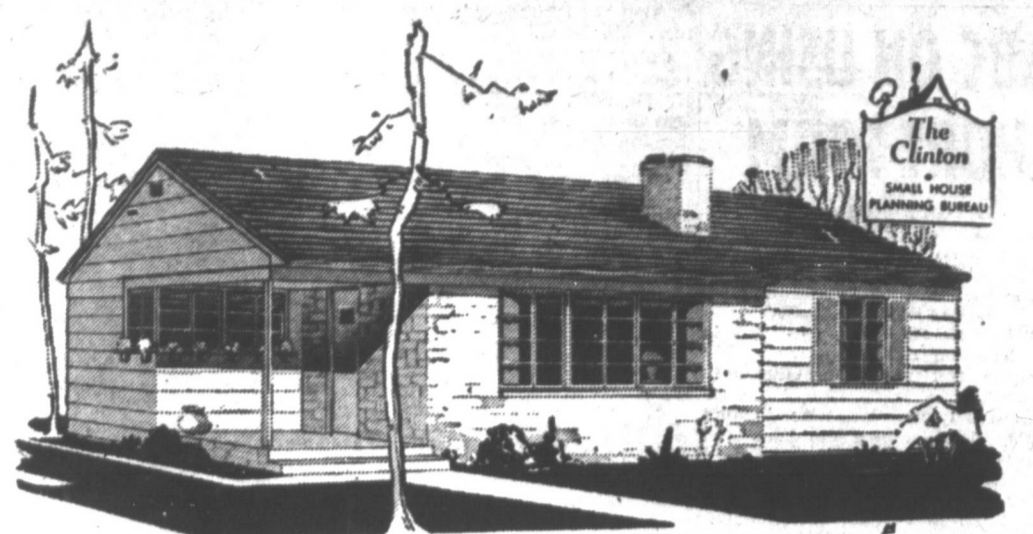

Cabinet units are now available with counter-tops a standard 25 1/4 inches from front to back and 36 inches above the floor; widths of base and wall cabinets increase by multiples of 3 inches from 12 inches to 39 inches. Widths of ranges are standardized at 20, 42 and 48 inches; sinks, 20, 42 and 48 inches; refrigerator widths, 25, 30 and 32 inches. Side-by-side laundry tubs are 24 inches deep, 42 inches wide.

Tar Paper Will Drain Water From House

Water basements are often caused by surface water seeping down beside the foundation after rain or snow storms. This rarely occurs if the yard-grade slopes away from the house. Since new grading is costly, inexpensive and effective drainage can be obtained by burying sheets of tarred roofing paper in the ground beside the foundation.

Starting at the basement wall about 3 inches below the surface, the earth is scraped back for a distance of 3 feet from the wall, slanting downward and outward to a depth of about 18 inches. The tarred paper, with joints overlapped, is placed on this slope and the earth tamped back in place over it.

BUILDING NEWS

THE CLINTON has a rear bedroom located to give its floor plan a most interesting flexibility. If this room is not needed as a third bedroom it can be used as a den, workshop or nursery, as it is situated between the kitchen and the bathroom. Another possibility is a door in the living room partition. This would convert the rear room into a separate dining room. If the partition between the two rooms were eliminated completely, it would make a beautiful L-shaped combination living room and dining room. Chest space in The Clinton is plentiful. There are coat closets at both entrances. The kitchen sink is placed under the corner windows. This provides a view of the front and side yards.

The exterior walls of The Clinton are faced with stone. However, if desired, the stone can be replaced by brick with good results. The Clinton's dimensions are 42 feet by 28 feet with a floor area of 1088 square feet and a volume of 21,576 cubic feet. This includes the basement.

For further information about THE CLINTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Convectors Give Fast Home Heat

The growing popularity of gas for home heating is reflected in the steady increase of gas heating and the large percentage of builders who plan to put gas in new construction.

Along with the growing popularity of natural and manufactured gas as home heating fuel has come the development of new heating units that respond rapidly to demands for heat. Inasmuch as gas fuel produces rapid heating of the boiler, the speed factor in the room heating units becomes important.

Convectors radiators are an example of these modern heating units. Convectors heat rapidly and cool down quickly because of their relatively light mass weight. This means that the heating units in the home are able to keep pace with the rapid heating characteristics of the gas fuel.

The new convectors, as well as the gas heating equipment, are extremely compact and make possible full utilization of available space in rooms and basement. Convectors radiators for the home can be recessed in walls without occupying any floor space or, when installed flush against

Alterations May Affect Insurance

Before making alterations, home-owners are advised by insurance companies to check their policies and make sure the changes are permitted.

It is possible to void a policy with such apparently simple walls, extend little more than four inches into rooms. A gas boiler for the average house takes little more space than a refrigerator.

Convectors may be used on steam or hot water systems fired with coal or oil, as well as gas.

changes as installation of additional electric wiring, the relocation of a fuel oil tank, a change in type of heating fuel used or even the construction of a porch. If there is any question consultation with the insurance agent is recommended before starting work. If it develops that the planned alteration is prohibited, a rider can usually be attached to the policy and a method of safeguarded construction suggested by the agent that will conform to the existing policy, or a new contract written at a slight increase in premium.

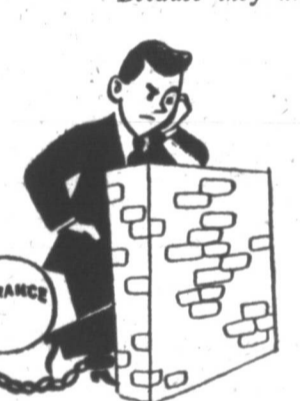

Lou Groza, ace place-kicker for the Cleveland Browns of the All-American pro Conference, recently missed a record 56-yard goal when the ball hit the cross-bar and bounced back.

Your right to know!

A newspaper, like a lamp, is valued for the light it gives. The more you see and know the greater your freedom of action. The facts and opinions, good and bad, pleasing and displeasing, that are brought to you by the newspaper give you knowledge on which to base your decisions about what to do to get more out of life—to earn more money, raise your family, protect your home and to enjoy all the rights of a free citizen. Some men and women don't think you should have such freedom. They have other plans for you. They think you should change your way of life to fit their ideas. And as a part of their planning they include the newspaper.

Because they know they can control your thinking if they control your sources of knowledge, they are agitating for control of the press. Not only of newspapers but of all publications. And in the background is control of the radio and the movies. Each of these supplies information to you and helps you remain free. The newspaper is first on their list because it is your main source of facts and opinions. From the newspaper you get the kind of information you need to see that you get the right representation in government and the right laws. You learn of crime and corruption, of good deeds and better products. You know what is happening and have a free choice of ideas.

That doesn't fit in with what certain individuals and groups have decided. They claim that editors are irresponsible and that you can't be trusted to read what the editors print. They propose a sort of over-all agency to pass on what shall be printed and what shall be read. Hitler had such a set-up. Stalin still has.

You may disagree with much that now appears in newspapers. You may argue for a more enlightened press. But, in place of the great variety of facts and opinions which newspapers now print, what is in prospect is one kind of facts and opinions selected and published to keep you incompletely informed and dutifully subservient.

The attack on a free press is an attack on your freedom. Freedom of the press is not the exclusive property of newspapers. It is your right also. It includes your right to print. And equally important, your right to read and know.

You can, if you wish, be passive and permit your enemies to shut you off from what is going on outside your own neighborhood. On the other hand, you can refuse to give up your right to read and decide for yourself according to your own common sense and conscience. Which do you want?

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Small Shrubs Best With Low House

Dwarf, tree- or low-growing shrubs are best for landscaping the plot around a low ranch-style house. Evergreens should grow no higher than the window sill, and a variety chosen that will spread its foliage, not grow slender and spiked.

Dwarf varieties last a generation or more, do not shut light out of the rooms nor destroy the effect of picture windows. Ordinary evergreens outgrow their positions within 10 years, require annual pruning.

A normal flowering shrub requires a space 5 feet across; dwarf variety 3 feet. Three plants of either type in 15 linear feet are enough. Overplanting on a small plot with a large number of varieties gives a crowded effect.

Choose symmetrical, slow-growing plants and avoid freak shapes with startling foliage color; dark green is best. Plants which seed abundantly require yearly removal of new seedlings.

1949 Trends Show Carpets Not Costly

This is a lucky year for the homemaker who is planning to buy a wool carpet or rug. The current national-wide Carpet Fashion Opening shows a remarkable selection of different types of carpeting and at a price.

This is indeed good news in the year when the first annual Carpet Fashion Opening is making its debut in the home furnishings departments and carpet specialty shops across the country. The consumer who visits her favorite local store to see just what a Carpet Fashion Opening is, will find a little of everything in carpet and rug designs and weaves, and all of it good.

Of course texture is the darling of the Opening as it has been in the past few years at the Trade Openings. Rough-surfaced fabrics in floorcoverings, drapery and upholstery fabrics are natural complements for the satiny smoothness of light functional furniture and offer a pleasing contemporary feeling to the polished beauty of the dark woods used in traditional pieces. Texture weaves are very versatile, indeed. Several leading manufacturers are offering dramatic new texture weave carpets at a modest cost this year. This is interesting news for the average consumer whose interest in the magnificent developments in texture weave carpeting has been greatly stimulated in the past few years by the spectacular color photography used in national carpet advertising. She has also been influenced by the amount of editorial content devoted to the new fabrics carpet stylists have produced.

Today there is no premium on texture. It can be had on all price levels. The current additions to the textured field are not cheap adaptations or even imitations but excellent carpets in their own right.

There is far more pattern in texture than ever before. These are the thick piled beauties usually composed of two different types of yarn and on two or more levels of pile. The ground pile may be a hard twist to give a nubby, pebbled surface. The top design is frequently in closely clipped pile. Sometimes the design is done in a soft, low pile but sturdy yarn to give fleeciness to the top surface. Occasionally the ground pile is tightly looped with a clipped top pile. One finds pattern in texture in both luxury and popular price groups.

Patterned carpets and rugs are enjoying a field day this season with designs running the gamut, from over-scale florals with great dramatic possibilities to small repeat patterns of engaging primeness. A few modern abstract designs are noteworthy additions to carpets intended for modern decor where a plain carpet is not wanted.

All of the patterned carpets are as modern as next season's hat. The design areas are uncluttered, free flowing and magnificently woven to give the much desired third dimension effect. Colors are as light, dark, or muted as one wishes. Carpet colorists are not playing the middle of the road on the color question as might be indicated from the range of colors. Carpet colors follow closely the trends in the colors of drapery and upholstery fabric. Mutation colors are good and give scope to the home decorator's imagination as she plays with an interesting personal color scheme. The mutation makes it easier not to go astray yet there is nothing dull about the off-colors.

For example, there is a wonderfully versatile beige which isn't beige at all but grey. A rose which is really a cedar or a light value of henna. Black grounds are very successful for the lovely modern florals. A new amenable blue suggests wonderful possibilities as the key color for a room.

Of course plain colors are to be found in abundance. These can be found in both Axminsters as well as in Wiltons. The lowly Axminster is having a renaissance we never dreamed possible.

New Russian Road Blocks Up in Berlin

BERLIN — (AP)—New Soviet road blocks appeared yesterday on the American sector borders of Berlin, where blockade runners have been involved in recent shooting incidents.

Behind the Soviet blockade, the Russians announced a new form of Communist justice. A new judge and prosecutors, not required to have legal training, were placed in office.

N. Y. Housing Division Finds Answer to Shortage in Plans For Middle Income Bracket

By S. BURTON HEAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York State's Division of Housing has found the answer to the shortage of plans for a middle income bracket today that the average wage-earner can afford to buy and live in, without subsidy.

New York State's Division of Housing thinks the answer is yes, and has the designs to prove it. The answer was found by plans submitted in a state-sponsored competition for a two-bedroom living room-kitchen home, capable of later expansion, built and located for middle income conditions, within reach of the $40-to-$55 a week wage earner. No specific cost was prescribed, but selection was based on the thought that no such family could properly pay more than $1500 for a home.

The two winning designs—one by a professional and one by a student—were picked by five of the nation's top architects. The professional winner, Seymour R. Joseph of New York, also won an honorable mention with a second entry; the student winner was Albert J. Marie of Brooklyn. Both winning designs call for a modern-type house with shed-type roof, with ample window space on the south and roof overhang to provide shade in summer. There were a few conventional designs among the offerings, but they were eliminated early on the basis that they did not give the most efficient use of available money and materials, and also because they were not considered as suitable for modern living.

"What we were looking for," said William Lescaze, one of the country's foremost architects, who acted as professional adviser to the division, "was a compact arrangement that would be economical; for an arrangement that would give privacy in the living room and would give the servant-less mother a chance to keep an eye on her children playing behind the house; for a plan that would let youngsters come from the play without trooping into the living room. We felt that the living room should have its main view toward the back of the 60-by-100-foot plot, which meant placing the garden there."

"This year we expect some 225,000 non-war houses will be started in the U. S.," N. Y. Housing Commissioner Herman T. Stiehm explained. "Most of them are beyond the financial reach of middle income people. I feel that in the past 20 or 30 years professional architects have concentrated too much on rather expensive types of housing, and that most instruction in architectural schools features these types."

"That's why we place so much importance on the competition for students, who needed to be reminded that architecture doesn't consist only of the designing of skyscrapers and enormous industrial plants. The number of entries indicates that the state has succeeded in arousing interest in designing homes for low income families."

Most of the entries were for cellars houses, with heating plants in centrally located utility rooms. Many included radiant heating. Most took oil for granted as the heating fuel.

Conditions of the competition provided for a 60-by-100-foot lot, which Commissioner Stiehm describes as a compromise between the over-crowding of 40-foot lots, which might breed slum conditions, and the over-expense of the 75-foot lots required in some New York State towns.

The competition was restricted to architects licensed in this state, and to draftsmen and students in New York architectural schools. But among the 30 professional and 105 student designs received were entries from Washington state, Florida, Massachusetts, Michigan, Illinois and Tennessee by architects who were licensed in New York.

"I think we have succeeded in getting designs that are engineered to meet the requirements of modern living, at a price the wage earner can pay," Commissioner Stiehm said.

"The wife in such a family has no maid; she doesn't want to be running up and down stairs, she doesn't want a lot of moulding to clean all the time, she doesn't want to support and care for rooms that are used only a couple of hours a day. She wants a maximum of efficient living at a minimum of cost. I feel we have that in these winning designs."

Stiehm's next step: to get the state working to encourage building these homes on a quantity basis, both in cities and small towns.

Dingy Basement Turns Into Playroom With Proper Change

Convenience, warmth, light and beauty are to be taken into account when converting a basement into a recreation room or living quarters. If carefully planned and executed, such conversion is the easiest, most economical way to add living space and value to a home. If done haphazardly, space is wasted, costs mount and fullest livability is not achieved. First, determine how the greatest space can be obtained for the finished room without interfering with heating plant, laundry, workbench and storage, all concealed yet readily accessible. If the furnace is located in or near a corner, consider placing the workbench in the opposite corner, with laundry equipment against the wall between and each partitioned from the other. A partition with a door to each compartment will hide them effectively, give easy access, allow maximum space for the finished room without protruding wall angles.

Group overhead pipes, ducts and wiring and conceal them with false beams. If they are run around the perimeter of the basement, storage cabinets can be built down from the boxed-in piping to the floor and appear to be part of the walls.

Dryness and warmth are of top importance. Paint concrete walls with a good waterproofing compound to seal out moisture. Attach furring strips to the walls, insulate between them and cover this with sheets of building board which can be painted; or cover with knotty pine or pecky cypress.

Heat is seldom a problem in the finished basement, it being adequately warmed by the exposed furnace and heat pipes or ducts. When these sources are closed off, as is necessary in a finished basement, heat does become a problem.

If the house is heated with warm air, a grilled opening should be made in one or two of the warm air ducts and surrounding enclosure. If steam or hot water is the heating medium, the best way to avoid sacrificing space and to provide a warm floor where children can play in comfort is to install radiant heat pipes. This piping can be easily tapped into the boiler and is laid on top of the existing concrete floor. The pipes, which should be of copper, are then completely imbedded in two inches of concrete. This layer of concrete should then be covered with asphalt tile to provide a finished floor surface. The wide choice of colors in asphalt tile flooring makes possible a brightness and individuality of design not easily achieved otherwise. The asphalt tile is unaffected by the heat from the floor; and cannot be damaged by alkali and moisture present in concrete contacting the ground. Asphalt tile is the only smooth-surfaced, resilient flooring recommended for basement installation.

If a ventilating fan is installed in one of the basement windows and the other windows are kept open, the room will be comfortable on hot, humid days. Before enclosing cold-water pipes, insulate them to prevent sweating.

A fire-resistant ceiling of gypsum plaster on metal lath or similar construction should be installed. Many building boards have high fire-retardant properties. It is especially important that the walls and ceiling of the furnace compartment be protected against fire.

Since headroom is sometimes at a premium in a basement, lighting fixtures should be chosen that fit closely against the ceiling or which can be recessed between ceiling joists. Long fluorescent tubes, fitted between joists and covered with glass panels flush with the ceiling finish, eliminate dust-catching, provide more and brighter light than other types of fixtures. Bright colors and light are musts in a basement. The addition of a window or two, or enlarging existing windows, is relatively simple and adds much to the cheerfulness of the basement room.

Improved Equipment Helps Cut Costs of Home Heating

When it comes to heating a new home, home owners should bear in mind that each house presents a separate problem. Even a similarly designed house built of different materials or facing in another direction will introduce new factors in calculating requirements for heating equipment. The amount a home owner can afford to spend without getting beyond the limits of a balanced budget—usually six to ten percent—will be an important factor in selecting new heating equipment also.

Recent developments in the home heating field have helped cut initial cost of equipment and have enhanced heating economy considerably. Where the room heating units of old were soups of heat waste, new units have been developed to assure close control of heat output, eliminating much of the heat waste. The new convective radiator is a good example. This modern unit is much lighter in weight than older units and is constructed of metals that conduct heat faster. This makes it much more sensitive to control from the central thermostat. The light weight of the unit and its method of construction permit the unit to cool rapidly when the heat supply is shut off, thereby eliminating the needless waste of valuable energy which is a characteristic of the long cooling periods of bulky cast iron radiators.

New boilers have been developed to assure the most complete utilization of fuel possible. Many of these type boilers are equipped with built-in domestic ing to clean all the time, she doesn't want to support and care for rooms that are used only a couple of hours a day. She wants a maximum of efficient living at a minimum of cost. I feel we have that in these winning designs."

Analyst Says Bunche Due High Award

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

If I were a ruling king, and United Nations mediator Ralph Bunche were one of my subjects, I should call him before me and touch him on either shoulder with my sword in token of knighthood, saying: "Well done! rise."

As a matter of fact, I think I'll confer a knighthood on him anyway. He has done a grand job in bringing about an armistice between warring Israel and Egypt.

That will open the way for peace talks between Israel and the other Arab countries with which she has been in conflict. As Bunche himself said to the Israeli-Egyptian delegations at Thursday's signing: "Important history is being recorded here today. You have made a significant contribution to the cause of world peace."

This grandson of an American slave has an outstanding record of achievement since youth. He was a Phi Beta Kappa student at the University of California, has a doctorate from Harvard, was a star athlete, has been college professor, has written several books, and has served in notable positions for the United States government.

House of Pleasing Design

This attractive modified Cape Cod colonial is planned so that a room or two can be added to side or rear to enhance the popular ranch-house effect. Instead of a garage, a carport is provided. This can be converted into an enclosed attached garage or an additional room without destroying the pleasing architectural style. The moderate-cost home is erected on a 25 x 27-foot concrete slab in which radiant heat copper pipe is embedded. Interior features include five closets, utility room for heating plant, oversized living-dining-room with complete space-and-labor-saving kitchen tucked into one corner, two comfortable bedrooms, and tiled bath with shower. Howard A. Burkland of Long Island has designed this house. Cost without land is under $7,000 and includes kitchen range, refrigerator, oil burner, plumbing connections for washing machine, Venetian blinds, finished interior walls, fire-resistant roof, full-thick mineral wool insulation in roof and walls, and asbestos siding on standard frame construction. Since the Long Island community in which the house has been built is in the highest construction cost area of the country, it is estimated that the efficiently-planned house can be duplicated for less in many other sections.

Bedstead Maker Credited For Modern Skyscrapers

The modern skyscraper was made possible because a bedstead manufacturer in Yonkers, N.Y., wanted a hoist to move material from one floor of his factory to another almost 100 years ago.

Joshua Maize was the bedstead maker who in 1852 told his master mechanic, Elijah Graves, Otis, to build a hoist. During his building of the elevator, Otis devised a ratchet to grip the guide rails in the elevator shaft and keep the platform from falling in case the rope broke.

It was the first elevator equipped with an automatic safety device. This basic idea, the patent on which is now owned by the Otis Elevator Company, is used on all present-day elevators.

Without this and other elevator safety devices, engineers declare, skyscrapers could not be built.

In Palestine, when the Count was assassinated in Jerusalem last September, The American took over what many observers regarded as an almost "impossible" task. In five months he has delivered the goods.

With the Israeli-Egyptian armistice effective, Israel and the Arab state of Trans-Jordan are scheduled to open similar talks next Monday. The other Arab nations are giving indications that they will fall in line.

Does the present armistice mean that we have seen the end of quarrels between the Arab state and Israel? Let us hope for such a happy conclusion—but keep our fingers crossed.

New Heating Units Easy To Decorate

Ever tried painting old style cast iron radiators? Then you know what a chore it is to put a smooth coat of paint on surfaces made almost inaccessible by the deep ribbed design of the units.

In contrast to old radiators, new heating units are easy to decorate. The heating element of new convective radiators, for example, is enclosed in a streamlined metal cabinet with rounded corners and flat surfaces. Painting is simple for there are no crevices difficult to reach with the paint brush. Cabinets may be painted either to blend with adjacent walls or draperies, or to contrast with them to add a distinctive note to room interiors. The streamlined design permits easy recessing of the units in the walls, usually beneath windows, or installation flat against walls if recessing is impractical.

Varnish Must Be Mated With Floor

In finishing an oak or other hardwood floor with varnish, flooring experts say, it is wise to make certain that the varnish selected is recommended specifically for that use. So-called all-purpose varnishes, while entirely satisfactory for many jobs, are not suitable for finishing hardwood floors. They lack the durability possessed by floor varnish. Properly waxed and cleaned at regular intervals, a varnished oak floor will retain its luster for long periods without re-finishing.

Convectors Control Exact Heat Supply

Personal heat requirements can be satisfied when modern heating units are installed in the house or apartment. The new convective radiators, for example, usually are equipped with manually operated dampers on each unit. By adjusting the damper from fully open to completely closed, modulation of heat delivery is quick, convenient and positive. This is especially valuable in apartment buildings where individual apartments may not be equipped with a central control thermostat.

Berry's Pharmacy Has a Little Bit of Everything

Here it is the last day of February and we haven't yet lived up to one of our new year's resolutions. Our resolution number three this year was that we'd refill our medicine cabinet and get rid of all those old empty bottles. Let's see, we need a mild disinfectant, we see we're almost ready for more tooth paste, my razor blade stock is getting low and the wife's cosmetics are needing a refill.

Items in one stop. Berry's Pharmacy, 100 S. Cuyler, and take care of all the needed. We'll make a stop today at At Berry's we will be able to take care of all our drug store needs all at once. The men's department has complete lines of "His," "Courtley's," "Old Spice," "King's Men" and many others. Many brands of perfumes and colognes are to be found in the cosmetic lines. Besides featuring the "Helena Rubinstein," line, others carried are "Dorothy Perkins," "Lavin's," "Ciro's," "Tabu" and "Evening in Paris."

And for the baby—the baby's department is just as complete. Several nationally known baby cosmetics, powders, soaps and oils are there. In addition, toys of all types, including magic skin baby dolls are there for the kiddies.

Wholesale Co. Has It All

Top o' Texans need look no further than the Pampa Wholesale Company, 420 W. Kingsmill, to satisfy their wholesale needs.

The company has been operated from its present location on the ground floor of the Masonic Temple Building for the past year. Within the walls of the building, Top o' Texans are able to find endless wholesale items. The products sold cover everything from pocket combs to plug tobacco.

V. E. Fatheree and his two sons, Clyde and Gene, are the owners of the company. They have spent the past 16 years in Pampa.

The year 1949 marks the beginning of the seventh year that Charlie Ford has managed the Shamrock Service Station, 400 W. Foster. He resides at 1116 N. Starkweather with his wife, Mabel.

After seven years of providing the best of service to Pampans, it is no wonder that the little green and white service station is the daily stopping place for so many Pampans' cars.

Charlie was born in Paris, Texas, and has been selling gas and oil since he was old enough to sell. His friendly manner in itself is enough to bring many customers to the station.

Ivan Marlin, Orvil Keeton and Jerry Davis complete the company. The slogan for the station is "Made in the Southwest for the Southwest." Yes, that Shamrock gasoline is the gas for those living in the Southwest. Marlin, Orvil and Jerry specialize in service and satisfying customers. All of the customers at the station, whether they be Pampa regulars or transients, receive kind and courteous service at all hours of the day from the four men.

Many car owners wait until they completely ruin a tire before they get around to get another. Then many of them feel as if one tire is just as good as another. However, once a car owner has purchased a Dunlop tire, he realizes there is a big difference in tires.

Shamrock Service carries a large stock of Dunlop tires and tubes -- so rather than wait until a blowout necessitates the purchase of a tire, it's a good idea to make a trip to 400 W. Foster to have a Dunlop for an emergency.

Dunlop Gold Cup heavy duty tubes are also items that motorists should not be caught without. It takes only one use of Dunlop tires and tubes to convince most motorists.

Exide batteries also may be purchased at the station as may all leading brands of oil. Then too, besides selling Shamrock gasoline, the station employees are tops when it comes to doing lubrication jobs, washing cars and fixing flats.

Shamrock Service Station is open from sun up to sun down, that is from 7:30 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. So if it's courtesy and service you need, drop by 400 W. Foster.

'Golden Loaf' Has Become Regular Household Word

Who Wants to Walk? Call 94

How many times have you said, "I'd rather walk, and I'd get there sooner too, than waiting for that old taxi?"

If you're one of the ones who has made just such a statement, you should call another number -- 94 for instance.

By changing over to Peg's Cab Company, you will also change your attitude about walking. Fourteen drivers at Peg's are eagerly waiting to serve you. Besides the drivers, there are three dispatch clerks who keep the taxis speeding toward your door.

With the eight two-way radio equipped cabs used by the company, it is possible for one of Peg's cabs to be at your door almost before you get the telephone receiver back on the hook.

The company also provides other services for Pampans. It is known as the "town alarm clock." The company, upon request, will phone resident.

time, as so specified by the home in Pampa at a certain hour.

Other special services offered are giving out information from the city and rural directories and providing messenger service on long distance calls for the telephone company.

Golden Loaf is a name that has become one of the main household words around Pampa. Frank Rapstine, who is starting on his third year this month as owner of the Pampa Baking Company, has left nothing undone to furnish Golden Loaf bread to all Top o' Texans.

Pampa Baking Company uses much more of the basic elements in the bread. Most bakeries use four percent milk and sugar and three percent shortening—but not so for the Pampa Bakery. In Golden Loaf bread six percent milk and sugar and four percent shortening is used to give the Pampa-made bread that extra flavor and nourishment.

The bakery, located at 848 W. Foster, provides pastries, breads, cakes, pies and all other baked goods. Besides placing these specialties in local groceries, Rapstine sends trucks daily to White Deer, Sikeleytown, Panhandle and Borger.

Few people dispute the old saying "Bread is the Staff of Life." When one considers the extra nourishment he is getting by using Golden Loaf, he will seldom buy any kind of bread other than Pampa's own Golden Loaf bread.

Regardless of one's desire to eat bread and pastry lines, Pampa Baking Company is the place to contact.

Henderson-Wilson Service Station Features Phillips 66 Products

Henderson-Wilson Service Station, 301 W. Kingsmill, specializes in Phillips 66 products. It is the regular stopping place for many Pampa cars.

Lee tires and tubes, Phillips radium, irons and batteries and a full line of Phillips chemical products such as polishes, waxes, radiator cleaners and so forth, are sold at the local station.

R. F. Henderson and J. B. Wilson have owned the company for the past two years. Besides the owners, three other men are employed. Ray Sanger, who specializes in lubrication work, has had more than 10 years of experience in his field. Bob Lawless and A. V. Adkison are filling station attendant and porter respectively.

Customers are quick to note that the washing and lubrication jobs, pick up and greasing services and tire repair jobs are done especially well at Henderson-Wilson Service Station. A tow truck is kept on hand at all times to be ready for any emergency.

Thompson Glass and Paint Company Has the Only Complete Paint Stock

During an off-painting season, Thompson Glass and Paint Company, 219 N. Ballard, was able to stock every conceivable kind of paint. Consequently, Pampans should drop by when they are desirous of a particular color of paint, that is unavailable elsewhere in Pampa.

The company has the most complete paint stock here. Then, too, it stocks wallpaper, wall covering, Wall-Tex and other accessories that one would expect to find in a paint store.

Also, when needing glass to replace broken windows, store fronts, auto windshields, and so forth, again 219 N. Ballard should be your first stop!

Other household "musts" to be found at Thompson's are asphalt tile, plastic tile, rubber tile and sheet rubber. Frank Nelson is in charge of the floor-covering department.

The company has been operated from its present location for the past eight months. It was formerly located at 119 W. Foster. Now it occupies about the most modern building in Pampa.

The new Fi-Blak Home Insulation Company is located at 835 S. Barnes Lane, who has been in business in Pampa for the past 20 years, will offer free estimates of the total cost of an insulation job on your home.

To the ordinary home owner, insulation is simply a more or less effective barrier to retain heat in winter and keep it out in summer. However, Fi-Blak provides more than that.

Insulation is no better than the man who installs it. That is another reason why Pampans should contact Lane and get the job done right with Fi-Blak.

Walls Sweat? Use Fi-Blak See Difference

"What makes my walls sweat every year?" many Pampans continually ask. "This—Panhandle weather must be responsible."

However, if these Pampans would see that the walls of their homes were properly insulated they would find sweating walls a thing of the past.

If people will contact Henry Lane, who now offers Fi-Blak to those who want to live in comfort, they will find their problems solved. It is needless to re-wallpaper homes every few years because of wall sweating.

The new Fi-Blak Home Insulation Company is located at 835 S. Barnes Lane, who has been in business in Pampa for the past 20 years, will offer free estimates of the total cost of an insulation job on your home.

Serve wide noodles smothered in mushrooms meat sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Here are two recipes that use very little meat to get a delicious meaty result:

MUSHROOM MEAT SAUCE WITH NOODLES

(4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, 1-3 cup finely diced onion, 1-2 pound chopped beef, 1-2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 cup tomato puree, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon powdered oregano, 8 ounces wide noodles.

Melt fat over moderate heat. Add garlic and cook 1 minute. Add onion and continue cooking about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add meat and continue cooking until crumbly. Stir in kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce. Add contents of can of mushrooms and tomato puree. Add salt, sugar, pepper and oregano. Bring to boil and cook sauce, covered, over low heat for about 15 minutes. Cook noodles until barely tender in boiling salted water. Drain well. Add sauce and serve immediately with grated Parmesan cheese, hard rolls and a salad. (Note: This makes an excellent spaghetti sauce of course.)

in pan. Blend smooth. Form into 10 thin patties. Then dust with a little flour. Brown slowly on all sides in remaining 1 tablespoon hot fat in skillet.

MEAT SAVORIES

(Makes 10 patties 2-1/2 inches in diameter)

Three tablespoons fat, 2-3 tablespoon minced onion, 3-4 pound chuck beef, veal or lamb breast or shoulder, ground, 1-4 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 teaspoon celery salt, 1-2 cup rolled oats, 1-3 cup milk, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon bottled horse-radish.

Melt 2 tablespoons fat, add onion, and simmer 3 minutes. Mix all remaining ingredients except 1 tablespoon fat and flour. Add minced onion and fat remaining

Twentieth Century Culture Club Has Election, Program on Science

Officers for the coming year were elected when members of the Twentieth Century Culture Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Earle Scheig, 1428 N. Russell.

Elected were Mrs. Huelyn Laycock, president; Mrs. E. L. Henderson, vice president; Mrs. Myles Morgan, secretary; Mrs. M. K. Griffith, treasurer; Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, parliamentarian; Mrs. Jeff Bearden, reporter; Mrs. Fred Thompson, representative to council.

Mrs. Laycock was designated delegate to the district convention in Lubbock and Mrs. E. L. Henderson her alternate.

The resignation of Mrs. Steve Matthews was accepted and Mrs. Julian Key was welcomed back as an active member.

Mrs. Morgan was program chairman on "Science in Review," and Mrs. L. Craddock talked on "Mental Health."

Mrs. Aaron Sturgeon traced the procedure the law takes in cases of juvenile delinquency in the make-up program on "Youth."

Mrs. Bearden talked on "Home-work for Parents" and Mrs. Griffith spoke on "What Do We Expect of Our Children?"

Refreshments appropriate to the Washington's birthday were served to fifteen members and a guest, Mrs. C. D. Craddock.

Today I am using a hand dealt to me from Bladenboro, N. C. I do not quite agree with South's opening bid of one heart. I would prefer a diamond bid, then when North bids a spade, South would rebid diamonds and North would bid the hearts. Nevertheless, North and South arrived at the right contract of six hearts.

The opening lead of the ten of clubs was won by declarer, who was Henry M. Woods, Jr. of Bladenboro. His partner in the North was Henry Bridger, Mr. Woods' problem was to decide whether he should cross-ruff the hand out, or set the spade suit. Deciding on the latter course, he cashed the king of hearts, then led the deuce of hearts, and when West played the queen, declarer won the trick in dummy with the ace.

His next play was the King of spades, which East won. East returned the queen of clubs, which was won in dummy with the king, and on the good queen of spades Mr. Woods discarded the deuce of diamonds.

Now he led the ten of spades and trumped it in his own hand with the three of hearts. This of course established the spade suit. All he had to do was to lead the eight of hearts win it in dummy, and discard his losing diamonds on the good spades.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

Don't keep reminding him of his duties, the way you remind Junior of his manners. Give him a chance to notice that glasses need refilling, instead of pointing it out to him.

Don't set yourself up as a censor of his conversation. If he starts to tell a story, let him tell it. If he wants to talk shop, let him talk shop.

If he's the quiet type, don't talk constantly to try to "cover up" for him. That will just make him draw further into his shell. HE'S TOP MAN.

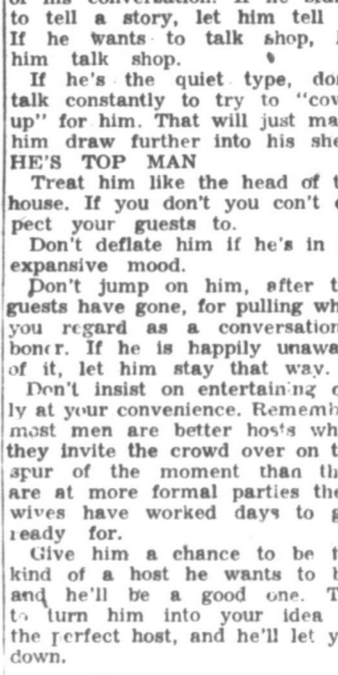

Treat him like the head of the house. If you don't you can't expect your guests to.

Don't deflate him if he's in an expansive mood.

Don't jump on him, after the guests have gone, for pulling what you regard as a conversational boner. If he is happily unaware of it, let him stay that way.

Don't insist on entertaining only at your convenience. Remember most men are better hosts when they invite the crowd over on the spur of the moment than they are at more formal parties their wives have worked days to get ready for.

Give him a chance to be the kind of a host he wants to be, and he'll be a good one. Try to turn him into your idea of the perfect host, and he'll let you down.

"English Literature as A Road to Wisdom"

Since this column has had a great deal to say about education, I was very much interested in the Human Affairs Pamphlet under the heading "English Literature as A Road to Wisdom" by Samuel A. Nock.

The argument that English is not Greek and that whereas Greek is sufficient unto itself, English is not, is one that may impress those who have never read nor written English; but to any one who has not been caught young and indoctrinated in the schools, the study of Greek is not likely to make very much sense.

CONTAINING COMMUNISM

(The Chicago Daily Tribune)

The economic co-operation administration's report to congress affirmed the report, earlier subjected to denials and equivocations, that Britain has been shipping jet aircraft engines to Russia.

He assumed that no nation could be so foolish as to begin itself under attack by a foreign power.

Mr. Truman and Gen. Marshall then switched their story. The Marshall plan, Americans were told, was to "contain communism," prevent its spread into western Europe, and eventually protect the United States against the menace.

At the very time that the Truman administration is protesting the Minszenty trial in Hungary, seeking to bolster Norvigin courage against Russian threats.

King's Comments

By DR. WILLFORD L. KING, Nationally Recognized Economic Professor, Emory University, New York University

Children may outgrow their belief in fairy tales but evidently this does not hold in the case of labor leaders - and even of many Congressmen.

Some of the statements lie in the fact that these gentlemen are now striving vigorously to pay standard wages rates at the legal minimum hourly wage from $0.40 to $0.75.

The effects of the raising of legal minimum wage rates are likely to be more extensive than one would at first expect.

Will not advancing wage rates soon elevate the price level and also increase the total demand for goods?

Fair enough - by Westbrook Pegler

The people of the United States have lived under partial fascism long enough now to have made up our minds whether we like it or whether we want to go back to the republican system defined in our Constitution or go on to real, total fascism.

As a fair sample, I have here a page clipped from the New York Journal-American of Jan. 12, a whole page of income-tax questions, answers and instructions to a typical citizen making $4,787 a year.

Here is one question: "What is the major requirement if I use form 1040-A? Here is another: "If my wife itemizes her deductions on Form 1040 in a separate return, may I use form 1040-A?"

The Supreme Court recently upheld the authority of the federal government to continue to control rents on the ground that certain extraordinary wartime powers were still in legal force because we were still at war.

TEST OF FREEDOM by Thurman Sensing

After serving as the arsenal of democracy through two world wars, when the preservation of freedom was hanging in the balance, the people of this nation should realize more than ever before the truth of the statement that "the price of liberty is eternal vigilance."

The tests of freedom are rather simple, even though they are often not recognized. Among them is the requirement of affirmative answers, for instance, to such questions as: Does the individual freely have the right to choose and change occupations?

Common Ground

Since this column has had a great deal to say about education, I was very much interested in the Human Affairs Pamphlet under the heading "English Literature as A Road to Wisdom" by Samuel A. Nock.

The argument that English is not Greek and that whereas Greek is sufficient unto itself, English is not, is one that may impress those who have never read nor written English; but to any one who has not been caught young and indoctrinated in the schools, the study of Greek is not likely to make very much sense.

King's Comments

By DR. WILLFORD L. KING, Nationally Recognized Economic Professor, Emory University, New York University

Children may outgrow their belief in fairy tales but evidently this does not hold in the case of labor leaders - and even of many Congressmen.

Some of the statements lie in the fact that these gentlemen are now striving vigorously to pay standard wages rates at the legal minimum hourly wage from $0.40 to $0.75.

The effects of the raising of legal minimum wage rates are likely to be more extensive than one would at first expect.

Will not advancing wage rates soon elevate the price level and also increase the total demand for goods?

The economic co-operation administration's report to congress affirmed the report, earlier subjected to denials and equivocations, that Britain has been shipping jet aircraft engines to Russia.

Mr. Truman and Gen. Marshall then switched their story. The Marshall plan, Americans were told, was to "contain communism," prevent its spread into western Europe, and eventually protect the United States against the menace.

At the very time that the Truman administration is protesting the Minszenty trial in Hungary, seeking to bolster Norvigin courage against Russian threats.

What Good Is An Alliance?

The Constitution as written and adopted in 1789 says in Chapter I, Section 8:

"The Congress shall have power... to declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal... and so forth.

Yet, daily now for weeks Washington diplomats and members of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee have been crypto-advocates of giving carte blanche assurance to those countries who would join the North Atlantic Alliance.

They tried to talk out of both sides of their mouths, are still trying to.

They implied to the people of Europe that the U. S. would be a part of such agreement through press statements with phrases like "military commitments that can be made," "strong reassurance."

Let's look at this question for a moment. Just what is the intrinsic value of the Alliance from the U. S. standpoint, if we join it and at the same time observe the letter of the Constitution?

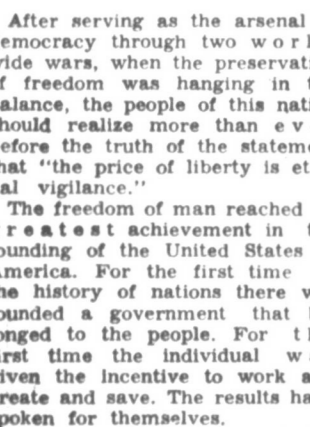

We would like to have it explained to us just what good there would be in forming such alliance if only Congress has the power to declare war.

We can declare that war is inimical to our way of life, that it is immoral as an instrument of assuasion against any nation-but we have said that already, many many times.

What good is the North Atlantic Alliance? It presupposes the condition of events of some indefinite time in the future. It would commit us to a policy which we cannot fulfill if we are to conform to the Constitution.

There is but one way we could join the Alliance and put teeth in it: by amending the Constitution of the U. S., and that can be done only when two-thirds of the membership of both Houses vote it, or by application of the Legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Peonage Said Widespread in Southern U.S.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Thousands of Americans are being held under forced labor conditions, according to testimony before a special inquiry commission here.

Witnesses claim that virtual slavery exists among many Southern sharecroppers, and that laborers in several areas are held in bondage by poor pay, usury and sometimes, by armed guards.

The conditions were described at a hearing of the Commission of Inquiry into Forced Labor, an unofficial group, which previously heard testimony about forced labor in Communist-dominated lands.

Rowland Watts, Baltimore and National Security of the Workers Defense League, said an estimated 20,000 families are in peonage in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Most of them are Negroes, he said, but there are many whites. He said the civil rights section of the Department of Justice is handicapped in prosecuting the cases by lack of personnel.

Of about 20 cases presented by the league in 1948, he said, there were about 10 convictions.

Edwin C. Mitchell, of the AFL National Farm Labor Union, said that "slavery and near-slavery" exists among Southern sharecroppers in many states.

He said peonage is permitted by the INSURANCE Men local laws in Georgia and Mississippi, although the Supreme Court has declared the laws unconstitutional. Peonage is also found in Northern Louisiana and Alabama, he said.

Mitchell and Mrs. Pauline R. Kibbe, of the CIO Oil Workers Union, claimed that the federal government "sponsors" forced labor in the South and Southwest by making agreements with Mexico for seasonal farm laborers.

Mrs. Kibbe said Mexicans who cross the Rio Grande illegally are paid 10 to 12 cents an hour although their employers have certified that they pay 25 cents.

She was formerly with the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Plan Vast Radar Warning System for U. S. and Canada

Congress is considering an Air Force proposal for a joint U. S.-Canada radar network to warn against the approach of hostile aircraft. The U. S. share of the cost would be $161,000,000. While warning that the system will not provide anything like an "airtight" radar fence, the Air Force said it would provide warning of planes up to 300 miles away—sufficient to enable the Air Force to prepare a defense. The map above illustrates one plan for such a radar network as urged recently by P. H. Lack, chairman of the radio industry's mobilization committee, in the magazine Mechanix Illustrated. The radar stations would be in touch with the central control post (inset) by television.

Ex-Warlord May Be Ruler of One-Fifth of Humanity Soon

By WALTER BRIGGS

HONG KONG — (NEA) — An elderly, unobtrusive little man who recently slipped out of this British crown colony for Chinese Communist territory may become the next leader — in name, at least — of one-fifth of humanity.

He is Marshal Li Chi-sen, 64-year-old former warlord, who aspires to the presidency of the Communist proposed "coalition" government for China's 450,000,000 people.

Around New Year's Day the marshal quietly vacated his apartment on the side of the peak above Hong Kong harbor and boarded a ship—variously reported to be Soviet, British and Filipino.

His arrival in Communist North China was heralded in a broadcast by the Communist North Shensi radio. Li's name headed a list of 45 non-Communist "democratic" figures who, having arrived there, issued a statement of "our opinion on the current situation."

The Communists, who soon may exercise most of the political power in China, are likely, many observers believe, to support Li for president.

The marshal sees himself as a rallying figure for China's anti-Chiang Kai-shek, but non-Communist left-wingers and moderates. He believes that this group as a "third force" can share the governing of China with the Communists. But the way Li talks places him very close to the Communists, and many observers think he has been completely taken in by the Reds.

The Communists have strong reason for building a "coalition" facade rather than ruling the nation on an all-out Communist basis. Such a government might attract greatly-needed technicians, engineers, administrators and the like who would shy from participating in a straight Red regime.

Li is a short, fat man who usually wears the traditional Chinese skull cap, gown and cloth slippers. His face is round and kindly, making him look more a teacher than a soldier. Li hails from Kwangsi Province in South China. Kwangsi is famous for rebels — and native home of several other Chinese leaders, notably Acting President Li Tsung-jen and Central China Commander Pai Chung-hsi.

Like the marshal, they all have variously cooperated with the generalissimo, then revolted months after eating a lizard tail. What can be done about it? Well, one way would be either to teach cats more tolerance—or give them some kind of lessons in lizard identification.

No one yet has come up with what may turn out to be the most interesting aspect of the whole feud. That is, what if a surly lizard rebels some day and chews off a cat's tail? Will the lizard get cross-eyed?

Only if that happens can the problem be attacked from both ends.

MARSHAL LI Chi-sen, former Chinese warlord turned Communist, aspires to coalition presidency of China.

against him. Li broke with him in January, 1947, on the grounds that Chiang had "betrayed" the Chinese people.

Li regards Chiang as a tyrant.

who has failed to carry out the reforms in the direction of democracy and economic welfare which were announced by Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the late father of the Chinese Republic.

Before Li left, this correspondent visited his apartment, with its hanging paintings of birds and bamboo. Asked how soon he expected to become president, the marshal said:

"It's not for me to say. It's up to the people."

But he had no doubt that he wanted the job.

POP Goes the QUEEN

By Bob Wade and Bill Miller

THE STORY: John Henry and his Conover win an expense-paid week at a swank California resort after a successful appearance on a quiz program. After being assigned a cottage at the Las Dunas hotel, a wounded man, Homer Anglin, appears, flourishing a gun. Anglin leaves abruptly believing he has made a mistake. Then Mr. Trimm, representing the quiz show sponsors, appears and introduces himself. Sin and John Henry dine at the Ship of the Desert, an exclusive cafe where waiters are in Arab costume. As John Henry starts to pick up the check, he discovers that the waiter has left a Queen of Diamonds on which was scrawled "Your deal." They ask to see the manager.

The Legionnaire left, closing the door softly. "Now, Mr. and Mrs. Conover," Barselou rumbled in a slow-freight voice, "suppose you sit down and tell me what seems to be the trouble."

Overwhelming as both the man and his huge desk were, Barselou didn't gain complete domination. Sin sank gratefully into the leather embrace of a chair, but John Henry advanced belligerently to the older man. "This," he said, and flipped the pastboard queen face up on the desk's surface.

THE headwaiter, colorful in his Foreign Legion uniform, paused at the top of the staircase and waited for the Conovers to reach the balcony. Sin held tight to John Henry's arm. He could feel her trembling a little.

Behind them, down the twisted staircase, there dined the renewed clatter of dishes as the Ship of the Desert continued business as usual. The headwaiter knocked on the oak-paneled door at the east end of the balcony. A man's bass grated, "Come in," and the Foreign Legionnaire opened the door to bow the Conovers into the office ahead of him.

It was all leather except for the spacious plate-glass window at the other end. A burly man stood there contemplating the glowing pattern of Azure, his light-blue suit contrasting with the brown walls and the moon-touched velvet outside. He wheeled and took his hands from his pockets as the headwaiter closed the door.

"This is the owner, Mr. Barselou," he said. "Mr. and Mrs.—ah—"

"Conover," John Henry filled in. Barselou inclined his bold head.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. —(AP)—Florida has an unusual animal feud.

something else like that happened?"

"Not exactly," said John Henry, silencing his wife with a husky bandy glance. "My wife means we're tired from our trip, that's all."

"Yes, quite a drive from San Diego," agreed the restaurant owner, fiddling with the card again. "The quiz symbol intrigues me—it might be the calling card of a wealthy woman. Yet you say it or this 'your deal' inscription has no significance for you." Impatience raised subtle spikes in his deep voice. Sin shook her dark-red locks.

"WHAT are you going to do about the waiter responsible?" John Henry wanted to know. "Get him up here," said Barselou decisively. "What'd he look like?"

That stopped Conover. How do you remember a waiter? "I think he was short and kind of fatisht—"

"He had red eyes, added Sin. Barselou said, "I know all the waiters who work here at the Ship—I should, since I see to my own hiring and firing. The simple fact, Mr. Conover, is that we have no such waiter."

"That's ridiculous." The young man shoved to his feet. "Don't tell me a stranger could walk in here, serve us our meal—and nobody would know the difference! How about the headwaiter? How about the cook?"

Barselou remained undisturbed, almost mocking. "Perhaps it was a joke, Mr. Conover. Perhaps even a joke intended for somebody else. About all I can do is apologize profoundly—which I do—on behalf of the Ship of the Desert. And to pick up your check, of course."

Sin's hand was tugging at his sleeve but John Henry's stubborn chin jutted out. Barselou's bland assumption annoyed him. "That's very nice," he said, "but if it's all the same to you I think we'll take a look around before we go."

When Barselou spoke his voice had changed but his words were still polite. "Naturally, I'm anxious to find out anything I can."

docile tourist sheep, bleating at $25-a-day hotel bills.

A stranger animal problem in Florida is the problem of cross-eyed house cats. And what makes them cross-eyed? Lizards do. And thereby hangs a tale:

House cats, like anything else, do well under the Florida sun. And they like lizard-tail lunches. Lizards, who were here long before house cats or Ponce de Leon, like Florida's sun, too. And they don't have any personal dislike for cats. But they don't look with favor on one bad habit that some dumb cats have. That is the habit of chasing and biting off their tails.

If the cat is particularly dumb

he sits down and eats the lizard's tail. But eating lizard tails is pretty much like eating mushrooms and toadstools. There's a whole lot of difference in them. If it's one kind of lizard's tail, nothing happens. But if it is the wrong kind of lizard's tail, the tale of what follows has this ending:

The cat becomes cross-eyed. He wobbles around the yard like a drunken sailor on a shifting deck. He loses his sense of direction. It is a real cat-astrophe for him.

"Veterinarians don't seem to know just how to cure a cat in this condition," said Mrs. Polly Dickey. Her own cat was in this cross-eyed, confused state for
