Japs Fear Attack From Aleutians

TOKYO, (From Japanese broadcasts), Feb. 28 (AP)—The newspaper Nichi Nichi warned today of the possibility of a United States attack upon Japan from the Aleutian Islands. The newspaper referred to "a recent American attempt to attack from a southerly direction." "This was frustrated by the vigilance of Japanese naval planes which some 100 miles northeast of New Orleans spotted the squadron and damaged an aircraft carrier," the newspaper said. (The Aleutians stretch like a bowstring from the tip of Alaska to bowing Japan. The chief base, Dutch Harbor, is 2,835 miles from Tokyo, but Kiska at the extreme western extremity near the international date line is within 2,000 miles of Tokyo. Weather in the Aleutians usually is bad, making air operations difficult.)

Contraband Seized By FBI At El Paso

EL PASO, Feb. 28 (AP)—In a series of simultaneous raids, federal agents today swooped down upon an unspecified number of enemy aliens in this border city and made a heavy seizure of contraband. It was announced that an "unusually large amount of ammunition, photography equipment, and short-wave radios" was seized. Agents at one place confiscated two short-wave radios, two rifles, two pistols, 3,000 rounds of ammunition, and two cameras. For some weeks, it was disclosed, agents had been watching suspected establishments and aliens in El Paso, and it was indicated that some of those taken into custody had been in communication with the enemy.

Earl Lewis For Constable Precinct 2

Earl Lewis, a native Texan and resident of Gray county for forty years, today authorized the Pampa News to announce his candidacy for Constable of Precinct 2. Mr. Lewis is a married man with a family, and served as Deputy Constable under the late H. S. Shannon in 1935 and 1936. He made the race two years ago and was defeated in the run-off by a small margin. "My reputation and record as a peace officer is known to most of the citizens of this precinct, and if elected your constable I will do my best to enforce the laws fairly and impartially."

Baby Bottle Nipples Doing Part For National Defense

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 28 (AP)—Baby bottle nipples are doing their part for national defense. In fact, the nation's largest user of the nipples is one of its leading airplane manufacturers, the Wright Aeronautical Corporation. They are slipped over small openings to make certain no foreign objects fall into the engines during manufacture. Other household materials also contribute.

Waterproof shower curtaining protects magnets while the big cycles are in the "engine bath." Old telephone directories are bought wholesale and their pages laid over openings in moulds to keep out dirt. When the molten metal is poured into the mould, the intense heat burns the thin paper away without leaving any residue. The dry-sand moulds which form the water-thin cooling fins are inserted by hand—1,500 to the cylinder—to reinforce the mould. Erasers, the kind you slip over the end of a pencil, make swell ear stoppers for engineers in some of the test cells.

Tom Cox Will Be Auctioneer At Beef Sale

Everything is shaping up in good condition for the fourth annual Gray County Junior Livestock show. Otis R. Pumphrey, chairman of the committee, has announced. The show, sponsored by the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce will be held at Recreation park next Wednesday. Roy W. Snyder, meats specialist of the Texas Extension Service, College Station, will judge the baby weaves.

Knox Parr, district agent for the Texas Extension Service, College Station, who has recently taken over in this capacity, will be here to judge the fat pigs. Accompanying the officials will be George W. Barnes, beef specialist of the Texas Extension Service, and Doss Bunton, AAA official, both of College Station. Bunton, a former 4-H club boy of Plainview, was a former livestock exhibitor in the Panhandle shows at Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo and while attending the Texas A. & M. college he was a member of the livestock judging team that won third place in the International Livestock show at Chicago.

The Gray County Show committee are still working to get a large group of bidders out for the auction sale Wednesday afternoon when Auctioneer Tom Cox will cry the sale. New bidders who have signed up in the past few days include the following: Danciger Oil and Refineries, Inc.; Dr. Pepper Co.; John Haggard, Mel Davis, Irvin Cole, Tom Cox, Panhandle Packing Co.; Lynn Boyd, Northeast Dairy, Barrett's Frozen Foods, Ideal Food Markets, Mitchell's Grocery, Murfee's, Inc., Wm. T. Fraser and Co.; Pampa Hardware & Supply Co.; Nehi Royal Crown Bottling Co.; McConnell Implement Co.; Citizens National Bank, C. H. Byrd grocery, J. C. Penney Co., Dr. M. C. Overton, Sutties Grocery & Market, Riskey Implement Co., Montgomery Ward & Co., First National bank, Culbertson Chevrolet Co., Harris Food No. 3, Southwestern Public Service Co., and Levine's. A number of buyers from McLean are expected since a number of baby weaves and fat pigs will come from McLean.

Guard Non-Coms Have First Written Exam

Members of the Texas Defense Guard attending the non-commissioned officers drill at the high school Friday night had their first written examination in several weeks. Questions asked included an explanation of how a guard detail was formed, respective positions of old and new corporals in the guard, how many steps a pivot man took in executing column left. There was also a question on comparing ranks of army officers with naval.

While the non-coms were taking the examination, instruction in the school of the soldier, school of the squad, and the manual of arms was being given to two other groups, one taught by First Sergeant Paul F. Blankenburg, the other by Sergeant Preston Kromer.

Members of Flight D also assembled at the high school Friday night and had practice in the manual of arms, using the rifles of Company D.

Barr 'Played Field,' State To Allege

DALLAS, Feb. 28 (AP)—The trial of Juanita Barr, charged with murdering night club dancer Blanche Woodall, recessed today on the state's promise to prove that the defendant's husband "knew many women, that he played the field." The prosecution hoped thus to refute the defense's efforts to show that Barr, a former gossip columnist for a Dallas newspaper, had been in love with only one woman at the time. The defense has put on a score of witnesses to show that Mrs. Barr, 28, was driven to the slaying because her husband's love had been stolen by the blond dancer. "The defense contention all throughout this case has been," said District Attorney Deas Gaudin, "that Eddie Barr never went with any other woman except his own wife until he met Blanche Woodall. The state expects to prove that he knew many women, that he played the field."

The trial was recessed until Monday. BUY DEFENSE BONDS It Started His Hobby When a lawyer gave him an unusual pencil about two years ago, Mike Hampton, Memphis, Tenn., decided to make a hobby of collecting them, and now has 1000 different pencils.

BRITISH

mander P. C. Pickard, here of the documentary "British" was filmed "Target for Tonight," creating a diversion for main attack at the mouth of the river which leads directly to Paris.

Although strong resistance was encountered, the communiqué said, the radio location apparatus used to warn of the approach of raiding British planes to the Brittany peninsula, was "completely destroyed and heavy casualties inflicted by our parachutists."

Meanwhile, operating with split-minute precision, British fleet units approaching the Brest area and put out assault boats with infantry which overran the beach defenses, in cooperation with the parachutists attacking from the rear.

To this cleared beach, the parachutists then escaped with their prisoners, the remnants of the radio center garrison, and were taken aboard by the light naval forces offshore.

The Russians appeared to be acquitting themselves far more than adequately in the campaign. They reported that the Germans, desperately seeking to break the steel ring throttling some 90,000 troops near Staraya Russa, were flying in reserves by transport plane—and that Soviet anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes were blasting these cumbersome craft out of the skies.

In other sectors of the long, snow-bound fronts the Axis divisions admittedly were staging counterattacks. But these, said Moscow, were being beaten back constantly by their tanks—which, according to Berlin, were leading new Red army charges on the German lines around Kaniouk and Kerch in the Crimea.

German, who dismissed as "minor raids" new RAF bombing attacks aimed at the docked battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst in Kiel and Wilhelmshaven, also made a minor matter of the British foray against the French coast. The raiders, said Berlin, overcame what were only weak defenses.

The Libyan battlefield leaped back into life as the British forces, getting strong air support, dispersed and tank-led Axis patrols. Far to the west of the land fighting RAF bombers set a ship afire in an attack on the Axis supply port of Tripoli.

The Red army acknowledged that at one place on the southern front the Germans drove a wedge four miles wide and six miles deep into the Russian line, but said Russian counter measures straightened the front and wiped out the assault force.

On another part of the same front 600 Germans were reported killed in a one-day fight.

On the southwestern front the Germans were said to have attempted successive counter attacks,

Price Ceilings Put On Canned Goods

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The government clamped price ceilings on 25 canned fruits and vegetables today in the first application of such regulations to any food other than sugar.

Announcing simultaneously further details of sugar rationing plans, the Office of Price Administration said ration books would be denied to persons having more than two months' supply.

The OPA's canned goods order forbade canners and wholesalers to charge more for a selected list of items than the highest price they received in the period between Feb. 23 and Feb. 27.

Retailers will be responsible for stabilizing their own prices. Administrator Leon Henderson declared, adding that should this responsibility prove too much, OPA will take steps to control prices at the retail source.

Blanketed under the ceiling, effective Monday, were canned apples, applesauce, apricots, cherries, fruit cocktail, fruit salad, peaches, pears, pineapples, plums, asparagus, all dried beans, lima beans, snap beans, beets, carrots, corn, peas, pumpkins, sauerkraut, spinach, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, tomato juice, and tomato catsup.

Henderson said the action to be superseded within 60 days by a permanent price schedule, was necessary to halt speculation, profiteering, and price increases which since last August have amounted to about 20 per cent at the canners' level and about 10 per cent at the retail level.

At the same time, Henderson cautioned housewives against hoarding canned goods, declaring that present supplies were adequate for "reasonable consumer needs" despite heavy demands of the armed services and lend-lease requirements.

OPA announced that a registration for sugar rationing books would be held during a four-day period late in March. No ration book will be issued to a person possessing a supply of sugar equivalent to more than eight weeks' supply.

Officials said the amount of sugar representing eight weeks' supply had not yet been determined, since no definite decision has yet been made as to the individual weekly sugar ration. Although OPA has tentatively placed the allotment per person at 12 ounces a week, it is understood that this figure is possibly subject to downward revision.

Naval Recruit Seeks Revenge Against Japs

NEW HAVEN Conn., Feb. 28 (AP)—Michael Povesko, 25, joined the navy today, hoping for just one thing—"revenge."

Povesko, a worker in a Bridgeport munitions plant, walked into a recruiting station a couple of weeks ago carrying a letter from Navy Secretary Knox to his mother. It told of the death of his sailor-brother, George, 19, at Pearl Harbor December 7.

He applied to take George's place. In the space on the application blank asking his reason for enlistment, he wrote simply, "Revenge."

One thing stood in his way. He was color blind.

But today an order came from the navy department, recruiting officers here said, waiving the defect "in view of the extraordinary circumstances."

And Michael took the oath, beginning a navy career that, he said, was his cherished hope, a crack at the Japs.

These were reported beaten back with heavy losses to the Germans.

Dispatches from the central front west of Moscow also mentioned German counter thrusts but said they failed and that the Germans left 550 dead on a single battlefield.

Red Star, mouthpiece of the army, predicted that Russia's growing tank strength would be felt increasingly in the spring battle.

Red Star said the Germans were losing men at the rate of a million a month, killed, captured and wounded.

14 Injured In Negro-White Clash

DETROIT, Feb. 28. (AP)—Fourteen persons were injured in clashes between white persons and negroes as the latter sought today to move into a federal defense housing project designated for them.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries ordered police to halt further attempts to move families into the new unit.

Twenty persons were jailed as police were forced to use tear gas to disperse a crowd armed with steel bars, clubs and bricks. At least two shots were fired by unidentified persons.

Seven white persons and seven negroes were injured. The whites included five policemen and a young woman.

White pickets surrounded the $1,000,000 unit before dawn and awaited arrival of trucks carrying negroes' furniture.

column work in conjunction with the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Made public while a resolution for continuance of the committee from April 1 to Jan. 3 was pending on the house calendar, the report said that much of the committee's information was available last fall but was withheld at the request of the state and justice departments and, indirectly, of President Roosevelt.

The committee reproduced excerpts from a book by a Japanese army leader who outlined a plan of attack against the United States. The committee's translation said that the program called for taking Hawaii first. The Panama Canal and the United States fleet next were to be destroyed in order to make more easy the conquest of the Pacific coast. Then the timetable called for a Japanese defensive stand in the Rocky mountains in preparation for a move to the eastern seaboard.

Elmo Bernhard explained his father was a native of Germany but was an American citizen. Many new mechanics had been placed under his charge at Duncan field. Much material had been wasted, he said, and plant officials questioned the elder Bernhard. The latter sought to convince them it was not sabotage but the inexperience of the workers causing the loss.

Destroyer Will Be Launched At Orange

ORANGE, Feb. 28. (AP)—The first destroyer built in Texas will be launched here Monday, Texas Independence Day, in a brief ceremony significant of the fact this state's coastal yards now form an integral part of the nation's vast shipbuilding program.

Tanker's merchant ships, subchasers, torpedo boats and other naval auxiliary craft—and destroyers—are being produced and launched in ever-increasing number and swiftness.

The U. S. S. Aulick, named for Commander John H. Aulick, who commanded the East Indian squadron from 1851-1853, will slide the ways of the Consolidated Ship Corporation at 11:30 a. m. Monday—first destroyer completed under a 12-destroyer, $100,000,000 contract.

Rear Admiral A. H. Van Keuren, chief of the bureau of ships, will make an address prior to the launching.

Mrs. T. A. Thomson, Jr., of New Orleans, selected by the secretary of the navy as sponsor of the Aulick, will christen the big instrument of war. Mrs. Thomson is the wife of the commandant of the eighth naval district, Camp T. A. Thomson, Jr.

PHILLIPS READY TO DRILL 17 WELLS IN PANHANDLE FIELD

Warner Will Try Wildcat Test In Gray

The Phillips Petroleum company stands ready to drill many wells in the Panhandle field if the office of the petroleum coordinator will "turn them loose." Last week Phillips filed 17 first intentions to drill with the local office of the Texas Railroad commission and now its up to the OPC whether or not drilling in the Panhandle field lives or dies.

A total of 19 new locations were filed last week. Phillips reporting 17, Sinclair-Prarie one and Warner Oil company one.

Under the federal 40-acre spacing rule no well can be drilled unless on a 40-acre plot. There are very few such plots in the Panhandle field. Unless some relief is given the Panhandle there'll be little drilling done for the duration.

The Warner Oil company location is in wildcat territory in south-central Gray county, on the Warner lease, section 5, block H. A. W. Wallace survey. The test is two miles southeast of the prolific Taylor Ranch pool and is a mile northwest of a dry hole drilled some years ago by the same company. It is believed by many geologists that a pay streak runs southeast of the Taylor pool. The test is six miles due south of LeFors.

Phillips will ask for permission to drill 10 wells in Gray county, all west of the Pampa city limits, six in Hutchinson county, all on their Whittenburg leases, and the other in Wheeler county. The locations west of Pampa are on leases recently purchased by Pan Oil company of Pennsylvania from the King Oil company and then farmed out to Phillips.

Hope of discovering oil in Briscoe county waned Friday when the Phillips Petroleum company asked for permission to plug and abandon its wildcat test on the Montague lease. The hole was bottomed at 8,200 feet in hard shale. Only pay formation uncovered was a gas pocket between 4,300 and 4,400 feet.

In Swisher county, Devore, Slade, and Gourley have set casing in their No. 1 Klein and are ready to resume drilling at 4,000 feet.

Only two new wells were gauged in the Panhandle field last week. Things look no brighter because few wells can be drilled under the OPC's 40-acre spacing rule.

Wells completed, by counties, were:

In Gray County
The Texas co., No. 9 Chapman "B," section 69, block 25, H&GN survey, tested 138 barrels.

In Wheeler County

J. V. New For Commissioner Pct. 2

Two years ago I ran for County Clerk and carried Precinct 2 in the race. Many friends have pointed this fact out to me and after much solicitation and encouragement from them I have decided to enter the race for Commissioner of Precinct 2.

"I am a native Texan, 47 years of age, and a resident and taxpayer of Pampa for the past 16 years. My business education, backed up by 27 years of actual business experience, qualify me to efficiently execute the duties attached to this very important public office.

"Should the people see fit to elect me I pledge my every effort to an honest, fair and economical administration.

"I will make an active campaign and a special effort to see personally each and every voter in the precinct. However in these trying times this may turn out to be an impossible feat to accomplish and at this time I solicit the vote and support of every voter at the Democratic Primaries July 25th."

Ickes Orders Cut In Oil Production

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Texas oil production, which averaged 1,544,231 barrels daily this week, or 51,769 under the recommendations of Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes, will decrease 68,076, to a total of 1,476,155 tomorrow.

Tomorrow the March proration order will effect an actual flow of 34,445 barrels daily under the federal coordinator's suggested 1,510,600 with an allowable production of 1,536,061 as compared to 1,606,389 Feb. 1.

Actually, all except certain fields which cannot, due to physical reasons, will be shut down tomorrow, the first of nine shutdown days in the new month as compared to seven in February.

Also effective tomorrow, will be the commission's order permitting shutting in of East Texas field wells making more than 100 barrels of salt water a day and transferring the allowable to other wells on the lease.

Well pluggings overlook new well completions this week, reducing the state's total by 13 to 99,565.

Stevenson Cheers Texans On Java

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28. (AP)—Texas troops fighting the Japanese alongside the Dutch defenders of Java have the staunch support of 6,000,000 Texans, they were informed by cablegram last week.

Messages of good will and encouragement, representing the feeling of all of Texas and reminding the soldiers of the fighting traditions of the state, were cabled direct to Lieut. Col. Blucher S. Tharp at Batavia by Governor Stevenson and the Star-Telegram. Colonel Tharp in private life is a resident of Amarillo.

Governor Stevenson, at the request of the Star-Telegram, sent the following cable:

"Texas is hearing and confident with arrival you and your Texans to guard freedom's ramparts. Six million Texans salute you and all other Texans now fighting their country's battles around the world, from Ireland to Java."

You Can Put License Plates On Your Car

If you want to get out and wrestle around in the snow you can put the new 1942 Texas license plates on your car today—it's legal.

Today marks the premiere of the 1942 editions of plates which reverse the color scheme of 1941, and today is the first day for the plates to be legally affixed. April 1 is the deadline.

So far, Gray county motorists have been slow to obtain new plates, with less than 180 issued to date from the office of the tax assessor collector.

House Passes Second War Powers Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—The second war powers bill, vesting emergency authority in the hands of federal agencies and the President, was passed today by the house little changed from the form originally advocated by the administration.

The action came on voice vote as the climax to four days of heated debate.

As finally passed and sent back to the senate for concurrent action on comparatively minor amendments, the measure contained a controversial provision giving federal reserve banks limited authority to purchase government obligations directly from the treasury. Under present statutes, they must be purchased on the open market.

As passed by the house, the bill contained these thirteen emergency provisions:

1. Gives the interstate commerce commission the same emergency powers over motor carriers it now exercises over railroads.

2. Extends the government's power to acquire real as well as personal property for emergency use.

3. Provides penalties for violation of priorities orders.

4. Authorizes federal reserve banks to purchase government obligations directly from the treasury.

5. Permits the waiver of navigation and marine inspection laws in emergency cases.

6. Removes from the requisitioning law the prohibition against taking machinery or equipment in actual use and necessary for the operation of a business.

7. Excludes certain part-time officers and employees of the government serving in the war effort from the Hatch act.

8. Permits the assignment of CCC workers as guards for war industries, utilities and natural resources.

9. Provides free postage for the armed forces at home or abroad.

10. Allows the treasury department to accept gifts made on condition they be used for a particular purpose.

11. Permits mining of 5-cent pieces from silver and copper in order to save nickel for war tools.

12. Gives the government power to inspect the plants and audit the books of war contractors and subcontractors.

13. Permits the commerce department to furnish previously confidential census information to other departments for private use in evaluating war resources.

Indoor Oil Field Proposed For Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES CITY COUNCIL is considering a proposal to drill oil wells within a $3,000,000 concrete building. The wells would tap pools for a mile on each side in the city area, developing a new source of oil suitable for production of high octane aviation gas. Field couldn't be heard, seen, or smelled. Sketches show the building, left, and how the pools would be tapped, below.

Jap submarine attack on a nearby coast refinery may give impetus to the idea.

Regents Order New Hearing On Spies

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Board of Regents of the University of Texas tonight ordered a hearing here March 16 to take testimony on charges made by persons seeking the removal of Dr. John W. Spies as dean of the medical branch at Galveston.

"The board gave notice that all persons who have requested removal of the dean must file specific charges against him with the secretary of the board on or before 9 p. m. March 7.

In a formal statement issued at the close of a lengthy meeting of the university governing board said it had received requests that Dr. Spies be dismissed.

The board did not elaborate on the requests.

A legislative investigating committee has recommended the discharge of the dean and certain faculty members as well. Testimony at a hearing conducted by the investigators developed also that a petition from faculty members at the medical branch requested the dean's dismissal.

The board said further: "It should be understood that, while the board of regents can refuse to re-elect a dean, once a dean has been elected for a definite term as dean of a school the board, under its rules, is obligated to retain him for that term, unless specific charges of unfitness are filed against him and substantiated by evidence satisfactory to the board at a hearing duly called for that purpose.

"At such a hearing those preferring the charges and the dean have the right to present evidence supporting or denying such charges, and ample notice of such hearing should be given."

435 Tons Of Scrap Metal Sold In Week

Although the campaign was scheduled, Gray county oil producers and farmers have turned in a total of 435 tons of scrap metal to the petroleum industry's scrap metal campaign which opened Sunday, a week ago. C. K. Trease, county scrap metal chairman, reported today.

Trease said the drive would continue "for the duration."

"We have only scratched the surface," he said.

The metal has been collected by junk dealers going out and purchasing the scrap from farmers and oil companies, and by companies and individuals bringing in loads of junk. All of the metal collected has been shipped.

Charles F. Roesser of Fort Worth, general chairman of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association's drive, said that many of the Texas operators have surprised themselves at the amount of scrap they found at their leases, yards and plants. One oilman reported 10 tons, another 20 and another 40 tons, he said. Some of the larger companies which had been selling their scrap for some time, made a re-check and discovered additional scrap which they are disposing of.

The first carload from the campaign moved from Corpus Christi the day before the drive officially opened. Since then dozens of cars have been loaded and many more are due to go out next week.

"The chairmen and co-chairmen and Texas oil and gas operators are doing a remarkable job," Mr. Roesser said. "I have never seen such whole-hearted co-operation. In fact, our campaign has attracted the attention of national salvage officials, and may furnish a pattern for similar drives by other industries to collect their own scrap."

Taking No Chances

RIDGEWOOD, N. J. Feb. 28. (AP)—Two soldiers took no chances when they saw a man sitting in a parked automobile near an army encampment studying a map. They took him before their commanding officer, who summoned Ridgewood police.

Before he was released the man explained he had purchased the map at the village hall and was studying the locality for prospective customers. He said he was a cemetery plot salesman.

OWNER AND FANS BOTH WANT CLUB TO STAY HERE

Meeting Fails To Result In An Agreement

You could have said, "This is where I came in" at 11:30 o'clock Friday night when a meeting between fans and the two owners of the Oiler baseball club ended.

At that hour the situation was the same as it was when the meeting began at 8:30. Hal Lucas and Harold Miller, owners of the Oilers, and a group of fans were as far as the two poles apart on any deal that would result in the fans operating the club.

However, the situation after the lengthy session looked more hopeful than it did before it began. Both fans and owners were agreed on one thing. Both want to keep the club here. Indications are that an agreement MITE be worked out later, but of course a mite is pretty small. Both Lucas and Miller said they wanted to keep the franchise here, but they didn't want to take it to Albuquerque or to El Paso. The fans offered to buy it, at their price, or to support the club if it stayed here. But the two groups couldn't agree Friday night. Indications were that if they didn't work out more similar sessions they might get together through sheer exhaustion.

The question, "What's your low dollar?" directed at the owners several times by the fans, finally sent the two owners to the meeting. This conference between the two men came after the fans had offered the owners $1,500 for the franchise. When they returned they said they were unable to agree on a price that would turn the club over to the fans lock, stock, and barrel, provided the fans could raise the money.

Miller had previously announced that the club's debts amounted to $4,000. He will attend the annual meeting of the West Texas-New Mexico league today, and a decision probably will be made whether the Oiler franchise owners will operate the club in Albuquerque.

If it is operated in Albuquerque, the Pampa men will remain owners, because a deal to sell the club to Albuquerque fell through, Miller said.

In the event any decision was made on the sales price, R. L. Edmondson, one of the fans present, was to have been notified. Last night he said that he had not been contacted yesterday.

If the owners decide to operate the club here this season the fans promised all possible support. The fans said they would support any arrangement that they could finance. The owners said it had been a losing proposition, but pointed out that last year was the hardest year in the history of the club. Due to rain it was impossible to play a number of scheduled games last season.

All the fans argued that if 50 or 100 fans had control of the club, it would go over this year. Among the fans present were Edmondson, J. R. Posey, Dr. Malcolm Brown, Dr. Calvin Jones, Bob Huff, Maurice Pollard, "Heavy" Ingram, and others. They represented many who could not be present.

Among the proposals discussed was one that the fans organize an operating unit, hire a business manager, pay on the debts, with the present ownership remaining. Another was that the fans buy the club for $1,500, assuming ownership of the franchise, the players, suits, but not the debts. Another was that the fans pay the above price, but allowing the present ownership to retain the concessions.

The fans were positive in their conviction that this year more than ever before baseball will go over in Pampa for the reasons that the president has said that the nation must have baseball and because the tire shortage will result in bigger crowds at the games.

The Berger franchise is also in doubt. Over the fans are trying to raise enough money to guarantee operation of the team, and they are having a hard time getting it, but they are confident of raising the necessary amount.

Gallagher's Pupils Feed Oklahoma Aggie Champions

By BURTON BENJAMIN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent CHICAGO, Feb. 27—This is the story of an ex-farm boy who made a school famous and brought a state renown through an obscure college sport.

The man is the late Edward Clark Gallagher. The school is Oklahoma A. & M. and the sport, wrestling. When Ed Gallagher died in 1940, the Aggie Rock, as they called him, left the state a heritage—the home of wrestling champions.

The Little Irishman graduated from A. & M. in 1909, returned to Stillwater in 1915 as director of physical education and wrestling coach. Wrestling was then an important part of the gymnasium course, and Gallagher had never wrestled.

Yet with no precedent to follow, Gallagher compiled a phenomenal record in 23 seasons. Won 137 meets, lost five, tied four. Copped 17 national team championships, 11 National Collegiate crowns.

Were undefeated in 19 seasons. Annexed 70 consecutive dual meets from 1921-32. GALLAGHER'S PUPILS BECAME PEP COACHES

Certainly, boys from the Sooner state are no stronger, faster or clearer than the average collegian from Texas, California, Minnesota, or Pennsylvania.

What then is the success formula behind Oklahoma A. & M. wrestling? The answer is specialization and expansion from the top rather than the bottom.

As Aggie wrestlers became intercollegiate terrors during the 20s, they were funneled into Oklahoma high schools as coaches. Soon A. & M. talent was being sent to Gallagher by former pupils.

State championship and invitational tournaments spread. Junior high schools introduced the sport. It is not uncommon for an A. & M. sophomore to have a background of eight years of competition.

ROLE ON TO FALLS Gallagher's most brilliant student, Art Griffith, succeeded the old master after his death. Griffith, "the dean of Oklahoma high school wrestling," tutored Tulsa Central High to state and national titles for 15 years.

In 1941, his first season, Griffith maintained Gallagher tradition by winning six dual meets, losing none and adding the Aggies' 18th and fifth straight national championship.

War crippled the 1942 edition. Captain-elect Al Whitehurst, twice N. C. A. A. king at 136 pounds, and Earl Van Beber, national 155-pound titleholder, are working in defense plants. Whitehurst was voted the nation's outstanding college wrestler last season.

Buddy Arndt at 145 and Virgil Smith at 165 pounds are returning N. C. A. A. prize winners. Others are seniors Dillard Talbut, 136, and Vernon Logan, 155-pounder but was an N. C. A. A. champion in 1940. Sid Marks is handling the 128-pound bracket, Leon McKenzie, 175, and Loyd Arms, heavyweight. All are juniors.

The "crippled" Aggies won the Midwest Invitational Tournament at Ames, trounced Findlay College, 26-0, powerful Michigan State, 19-15, and Minnesota, 28-0. They can't be so bad, even for Oklahoma A. & M.

All-Southwest Quint Selected

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

The game of basketball hasn't been turned completely over to the giants in the hurly-burly Southwest conference.

The boys who vie with skyscrapers dominated the All-Southwest conference team, selected for the Associated Press by the coaches, but a couple of the half-pints pushed their way to the top.

The team averages almost 6 feet 2 inches in height but one of the forwards is Chester Palmer, 5 feet 9 inch scrapper from Rice, and one of the guards is little Dwight Parks, the 5 feet 2 inch scoring bantam of Baylor's Bears.

Here is the team selected by a composite vote of the seven coaches:

Player	School	Pos.	Height
Chester Palmer	Forward	5-9
Bill Henderson	A. & M.	Forward	6-4
Bill Clancy	Rice	Forward	6-6
Bob Kinney	Rice	Center	6-6
R. C. Pitts	Arkansas	Guard	6-4
Dwight Parks	Baylor	Guard	5-2

Buffaloes To Invade Texas Tech March 2

CANYON, March 1.—Only a small percent of the local fans who follow the world's tallest team will witness the Buffaloes of West Texas State in action against Texas Tech's Red Raiders at Lubbock March 2. Interest in this inter-sectional game has reached a point exceeding the gymnasium capacity of either school.

Faculty members will join Lubbock ex-students at a dinner at Lubbock at 6:15 p. m. This will be served in the Mexican Inn. Students will follow by various means of travel, but only half a hundred expect to obtain admission.

West Texas State's cagers may be Border conference champions when they reach Lubbock. They will be if they win two more games on the current road trip. Through Monday the Buffs had won 25 of the games of 27 played this season, including 21 straight Border conference contests.

All American Price Brookfield continued to lead the squad in scoring, with a top of 438 points. The Buffs had averaged 71 points a game despite a schedule which has included some of the strongest teams in the nation.

Local fans regard the coming Lubbock game as one in which anything might happen. The Raiders have an edge in speed, which they use effectively on both offense and defense. Much will depend upon the physical condition of the locals when they return from their road trip.

Last week's schedule left several Buffs bruised, sore, and slowed somewhat. Forward Jack Maddox was limping. Captain, Frank Stockman was ill of a cold.

Dodgers Beat Yanks

HAVANA, Feb. 28 (AP)—National League opposition continued to look just about like it did last season to the Brooklyn Dodgers as they won the 1942 training-camp opener with a thumping 6 to 3 victory over a slightly air-licked crew of New York Giants today.

The Giants, still jittery from a wind-tossed plane voyage from Miami, pounded out all their runs in the first inning and then quietly subsided in the face of some excellent pitching by a trio of Dodger rookies.

GRAYSON'S
SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Service Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Officials of the St. Louis Browns still profess to believe there will be a chance to move the franchise to Los Angeles following the war, when night baseball will be permissible on the golden slope.

"This is the height of optimism, wishing thinking that could come only from such as those stuck with the Browns in Mississippi mud. The truth is that the oft-discussed proposal to switch a major league club to California is ridiculous."

While too much time would not now be lost by train, the cost of transportation would be prohibitive. "The distance would call for long series on the coast, and the trend in the big show last year was to make them shorter."

While it is true that under the present major-league agreement a big league club can go into a minor league by paying $5,000, there is the little matter of damages. "Wiley interests have a million-dollar park in Los Angeles, and the Hollywood club its own plant and a sizeable investment. One of the other and the entire Pacific Coast league would have to be satisfied."

The situation would come down to a league meeting. The Seattle club, for example, would have a claim as a component part of the circuit. If the Browns had the fresh money it would take to put them in Los Angeles, they could remain in St. Louis and obtain material. Going to Los Angeles, they would have to pay the damages and raise

Sandies Lose To Childress In Bidistrict

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-four teams were qualified Saturday night for the state basketball tournament to be held at Austin next week-end.

There will be three champions determined when they meet in the capitol city—Class AA, Class A, and Class B.

Heading the eight representatives of Class AA were Austin (El Paso), which dethroned last year's state title El Paso high team and Jeff Davis of Houston, favored for one of the final spots.

Others in this division were Childress, Denton, Dallas Tech, Waco, Lufkin, and Robstown, the latter a surprise entry as the result of beating out the strong Austin quintet. Lufkin also was something of a surprise, winning out in a district that carried the headlined Livingston Lions.

The eight teams to play in the Class A division at the state tournament are: Lakeview, Crane, Gatesville, Van, Elkhart, Nederland, Sidney Lanier (San Antonio), and Arkansas Pass.

Van is considered the favorite for the title. This team has been a stand-out all season. Sidney Lanier of San Antonio probably is next in line.

Candler, Fade Join Famed Blitz Division

Two former Pampa Harvester football stars have signed up, not to play but to fight for their Uncle Sam. They are E. G. Candler and Wayne W. Fade.

Candler, star tackle for three years, has enlisted in the 33rd armored battalion and is stationed at Camp Polk, La. Fade, star guard for three years, has enlisted in the 33rd armored regiment, and is also stationed at Camp Polk. Both are in the famous Bayou Blitz division.

R. G. son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Candler, Sr., 509 North Cuyler street, has been a student at the University of Texas. Wayne, son of Mrs. Nola G. Fade, has been attending Texas Technological college at Lubbock.

Clair Bee tells why eastern teams play a slower, set-shot game instead of the driving type of ball played in the west.

"I don't believe New York kids can take it as well as the boys from the prairies," explains the Long Island university coach.

"Some western teams come into New York and never use a substitute. "I doubt that there is a boy on my team who can play first-rate basketball for 40 minutes. "Out there in the hinterland—and I know, for I was born and raised out there—they feed boys the meat and wheat that makes them stronger and bigger than city youths. "City boys live in an environment that pays off on being quick and tricky rather than on sheer drive. "Modesty, no doubt, prevents Playmaker Bee from adding that this quickness and trickiness enabled the Blackbirds to come from behind and outsmart and shade the lowering meat-and-wheat boys of West Texas State college.

Tunney Prefers Joe Doakes To Men With M. A. Degrees

By FRANK B. GILBRETH RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 28 (AP)—If Lieutenant Commander Gene Tunney ever had to send a landing party ashore to capture an enemy position, he'd rather have the party headed by Bob Feller than by Joe Doakes, an individual with a master's degree in physical education.

Gene said so in an interview today designed to explain why, as director of physical fitness for the navy, he has grabbed up such box office glamour guys as Feller, Billy Soose, and Freddy Apostoli.

"In the recreational end—why Feller can entertain thousands," said Gene. "And the boys will listen to what a chap like Feller tells them to do to improve their physical fitness."

The psychology, you see, is quite simple, Joe Doaks tells the navy boys to do this and that and they will become strong. The navy boys reply with a mental, "Nerts to you, Joe." But when Feller—or someone like him—tells the boys what to do, they reply with a mental:

"Well, Feller himself must have done that, and look how far he got. I'll do it, too, by golly."

At that, though, about 97 per cent of the men Tunney has recruited are college graduates with degrees in physical education.

Tunney believes the physical fitness program is very important because "the average recruit of today's war is not in as good shape as the average for the last World War."

"Too much riding in cars, riding in elevators, and smoking cigarettes," said Gene.

Arkansas And Rice Finish In Cage Tie

(By The Associated Press) Southwest conference basketball championship was considered strong Saturday night after Rice and Arkansas had finished in a tie for the lead.

At Austin Coach Buster Brannon of Rice said he wanted a play-off as the two teams and West Texas State, champion of the Border conference, might have to determine the Southwest representative in the National Collegiate tournament.

West Texas already has been invited to meet the Southwest conference champion to determine that honor.

At Fayetteville, Coach Glen Rose of Arkansas was non-committal saying he was awaiting word from the conference on whether it wanted a play-off.

McCosky A Hold-Out LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Barney McCoskey arrived in the Detroit Tiger training camp today and in his mild sort of way announced that he would not accept salary terms offered him for the 1942 season.

Flying Cadet Dies ENID, Okla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Flying Cadet Carroll W. Jones, 21, Okemah, Okla., died today, three hours after his training plane crashed near Waukomis, nine miles south of here. Lieut. ## Razorbacks Clinch Tie In Conference

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 28 (AP)—Arkansas' Razorbacks clinched at least a tie for the Southwest conference basketball championship tonight by sweeping the Texas Christian series with an impressive 63 to 37 win.

The Razorbacks, 1941 champions met the Horned Frogs first break with an even faster floor game and held the lead from the six-minute mark. At halftime, the score was 25 to 15.

Big Clayton Wynne, who missed the Porkers' split series with Texas last week that dropped them out of first place into a tie with Rice, was a big Arkansas factor after being substituted midway in the opening half and his play tonight may mean that Coach Glen Rose will favor a play-off with the Owls if they win tonight over Texas and denude the title chase.

Gordon Carpenter, Arkansas giant, scored 10 points in the first half. Long field goals by W. G. Blackmon and Max Humphries were all that kept the Frogs alive during the period against Arkansas' stout defense.

Arkansas' O'Neal Adams, R. C. Pitts, and Wynne hit the basket from all angles in the second half and the Razorbacks during most of the period held leads of 20 points or more.

Adams was high scorer with 15 points. Humphries paced the Frogs for the second straight night with 13 points.

A near capacity crowd of 3,000 watched the final conference game, which gave the Razorbacks a 10-2 standing. The Porkers won from T.C.U. last night, 41 to 33.

Baylor Guard Sets New Scoring Record

WACO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Little Dwight Parks, Baylor university's half-pint basketball guard, scored 28 points tonight to bring his total record to 214 to set a new Southwest conference individual scoring record as the Bears swept Southern Methodist 48 to 38.

Parks' 214 points put him four ahead of the former record of Hub Kirkpatrick of Baylor in 1937, and closed out his brilliant career on a high note. This was his last game.

Evashevski's appointment coincided with the resignations of Dr. Arnold Greene and Harold Stebbins, both ex-Pitt stars, from head football Coach Charley Bowser's staff.

Bomb Shelters Discussed At Kiwanis Club

If the United States is invaded, all construction except that of bomb shelters, is likely to be ended, Jim Nally told members of the Pampa Kiwanis club at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Friday.

Mr. Nally's talk was on "Civilian Defense." In his speech he presented these facts:

The primary purpose of civilian defense is to guard against air raids.

Most popular type of bomb shelter requires 224 man-hours to build, costs $1,800.

Most destructive bomb that has fallen in England is the 100-pounders dropped from a height of 8,000 feet.

Coastal cities first feel the brunt of air attack and by coastal is meant any city located from the coast to a point 3,000 miles from the coast.

The death rate in England last year was the lowest of any year since World War I.

Attendance at the luncheon was 56. Ben R. Solnick and Ben Lipsky, both of Amarillo, were visiting Kiwanians. Lipsky is a former Pampanian. Guests were W. P. Clements, Jr., and Steve Matthews, both of

Today's War Analysis

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Wide World War Analyst

The second World War enters the mad month of March amid a fury of conflicting expressions from Allied spokesmen on how it should be fought—which would bode no good for unity of action but for one circumstance.

All such discussions, whether by British, Dutch, Russian, Australian, or Chinese debaters of strategy, agree that the weapons to achieve ultimate victory over the Axis can be forged only in the American arsenal of democracy.

Accept that thesis—and none challenges it—and it follows inevitably that the final decisions on when, where, and how those made-in-U.S.A. war weapons are to be used must rest with Washington. That is the reason the great general staff of the United Nations is located in Washington; that tends to force unity of action by the Allies.

There can be small doubt that Japanese success in breaching the United Nations' defense line at Singapore imposed grave new problems. Singapore, even when closely besieged, was the connecting link of the Australia-Dutch Indies-China-India front. It is obvious that it was greatly hoped at the time of the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences that Singapore could hold out for months.

Churchill all but said so in his recent accounting to parliament. He deferred discussion of why Singapore collapsed so quickly, saying there were more urgent matters to be dealt with. He made no effort, however, to conceal his feelings that there was ground for criticism of the way the final defense of Singapore was handled.

That is water over the dam. The fall of the great British citadel has thrown upon Java the burden of holding the already dangerously breached Allied defense front while American power is mustered to turn the tables on Japan. That is why strategists watched breathlessly as the United Nations and Japan locked in a great sea battle off the Java coast over the week-end.

If Java should fall, the breach in the Allied front in the western Pacific-Indian ocean area would be very great. It would mean probably a complete revision of the single-command arrangement of the Allies in the area with General Sir Archibald Wavell as generalissimo. His recall from Java to centralize British-Chinese efforts in the west would be logical. A separate Dutch-American-Australian command on the eastern flank of the breached line probably would evolve—and with it pressure in this country to recall General Douglas MacArthur from Luzon to head the new command.

The obvious key to the situation from the American-Australian viewpoint is Australia. There seems small doubt that it must be in Australia that the main concentration for defensive and ultimately offensive action in the Pacific theater, as distinct from the Burma-Indian ocean sector, is to be expected.

Australia is a continent, not an island. Its natural resources are vast although its population is small. The task of feeding a and clothing a great army, American or Allied, would be easier there than anywhere else because of Australia's abundant flocks and herds and crops. Australian war industries are expanding. Its raw materials resources are great. All that would ease the strain on Pacific supply lines.

Passenger Wrecked At Sooner Bridge

MARIETTA, Okla., Feb. 28. (AP)—The ten-car Santa Fe Ranger, fast northbound passenger train, was wrecked at the approach to a bridge three miles north of here today, injuring two trainmen, shanking up its passengers and tearing up the track for about a quarter of a mile.

The engine and three coaches rolled down an embankment for a distance of about 100 feet, pinning Engineer C. A. Seltzer, 55, Cleburne, Tex., under a pile of wreckage. He was extricated by rescuers after about an hour and rushed to a Gainesville, Tex., hospital where he was reported in a serious condition.

He suffered a fractured skull, scalds, broken foot and possible internal injuries.

L. W. Grubb, 40, of Cleburne, the fireman, was injured slightly and was released after receiving emergency treatment here.

Several of the remaining coaches were derailed in the accident which occurred shortly after 10 a. m.

Farm Bloc Will Confer With FDR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—The senate farm bloc decided today to seek an agreement with President Roosevelt on commodity price policies rather than pressing efforts aimed at forcing the administration to let corn, wheat, and cotton prices rise.

This was agreed on at a conference which selected a committee to ask Mr. Roosevelt for a conference next week.

In explanation of the change of tactics, one member of the group told reporters: "Sometimes a brief retreat brings victory."

While Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) did not comment, other senators predicted he would abandon his attempt to attach a "parity price rider" to the pending $32,000,000,000 war appropriation bill. The measure has been held up in the senate for a week by a dispute over price restrictions.

The proposed Thomas rider would forbid the government from selling its stocks of surplus farm products at prices below parity.

In order to hold down prices, the government has been selling commodities below parity.

Just Between Us Girls

BY JOHNNIE DAVIS

"To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; He formed it, and that was sculpture; He varied and colored it, and that was painting, and then, crowning all, He peopled it with living beings and that was the grand, divine, eternal drama."—Charlotte Cushman.

With the announcement that some Pampa business girls will go to work in the morning wearing slacks, we are reminded that Miss America of today, the career, white collar or business girl, call her what you will, is setting the styles of tomorrow. . . There are six millions of her in the United States, earning from $18 to $35 a week, which adds up to a total buying power of something like $150,000,000 every payday. . . The day of the glamor girl is gone. Workaday America turns to a new goddess, the all-American working girl. . . That's one reason why stylists, designers and hardheaded merchants suddenly have become highly business-girl conscious. . . You'll be seeing her in the home-town shop windows soon. . . She's a composite Kitty Foye. Her creator is Lois Pelice, who studied thousands of photographs of stenographers, salesgirls, defense workers and file clerks before she started modeling her all-American girl.

She says the working girl has these characteristics:
1. She's proud of her pretty legs, spends a lot on sheer stockings.
2. She's particular about good grooming, spends considerable time and money on attractive, suitable hair styles.
3. She likes simple, well-tailored clothes, has definite ideas about cut, style and color.
4. She's smart, modern to her capable fingertips, efficient and unassuming.
5. She's no exhibitionist, is inclined rather to be unassuming, sometimes even self-effacing.
6. She has good taste in clothes and makeup.

No. 1 romantic American novel of the year is Mildred Jordon's "One Red Rose Forever," the life story of William Henry Stiegel, which was reviewed last week when Twentieth Century club was hostess to Parent Education and Twentieth Century Progressive clubs. . . The incident which provided the title for the book is as appealing as the fascinating character study itself. . . When deeding a plot of ground to a pioneer church in Manheim, Pennsylvania, Stiegel requested the rental be paid with "one red rose in the month of June forever, if the same shall be lawfully demanded by the heirs, executors or assigns." . . Those interested in reading this novel will find it in the local library.

Since completing the Red Cross first aid course, 36 members of the Business and Professional Women's club have enrolled in a physical education class to be conducted by Miss Maxine Richardson in connection with "keep fit for defense" program. . . They will learn to roller skate and to play volleyball, badminton, ping pong, basketball, and kick ball. . . In addition, the 12 lessons will include various exercises, relays, tumbling, and archery.

Mrs. J. S. Wynne, who grew up without knowing her grandparents, is very proud of tiny Elizabeth Wynne Livermore, her new great granddaughter. . . Elizabeth Wynne, whose father, Captain F. S. Livermore, is stationed at Fort Lewis, is named for her mother and great grandmother. . . The baby's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Crawford of Amarillo, and Mrs. De Lea Vickers are daughters of Mrs. Wynne.

The friendly old tune of "Happy Birthday to You" is now accompanied by a streamlined 1942 gift idea. Since Pearl Harbor, birthday gifts of defense bonds and stamps are the number one favorite throughout the country. Children and oldsters, alike, feel a sense of pride as they watch their stamp albums fill up with 10 cent, 25 cent and 50 cent stamps. . . The new album, free with stamp purchases, conveniently slips into an envelope for easy mailing. . . Join the Birthday Victory Parade by giving defense bonds and stamps. . . Bright little figures made of gum drops, marbles and place cards guided guests to their seats at many a dinner. . . But that was before December 7. . . Now, with Victory parties in full-swing, defense stamp albums bearing names of guests are being used. The booklets, initially filled with defense stamps, serve double duty as place cards and favors wrapped into one.

In the mail: One of the most congenial couples one can be with is that nice looking, wavy-haired Ernest James, second year man at Texas Tech college from Pampa, and his blond girl friend, Juanita (Nita) Caldwell, who also is from Pampa.

There is no cosmetic for homely folks like character. Even the plainest face becomes beautiful in noble and radiant moods. . . The most wasted of all days is on which one has not laughed. . . Could we see when and where we are to meet again, we would be more tender when we bid our friends goodbye.

Pampans are anxiously awaiting the opportunity to hear Rubinoff, violin-conductor, play his famous "Strad," insured for $100,000, here next Thursday when his concert will include his own original compositions and adaptations, many from his motion pictures, and some of the lighter classics. . . All club women in the City Council of Clubs are selling tickets to the concert which is being sponsored by the Pampa Civilian Defense Council.

"Not everyone can get into the armed forces, but I think today that this country swarms with men and women who are aching to help. Each asks a single question. What can I do? There is just one answer to that—your best."—Alexander Woolcott.

Red Cross champions: Mrs. Charles Still, 76 year-old grandmother of Greenwood, Rhode Island, has knit 45 sweaters, eight children's suits and various other articles in one year.

Mrs. Mary Thurman of Alhambra, California, celebrated her 85th anniversary by completing her 86th garment in one year.

Mrs. Vincent Washburn of Rapid City, South Dakota, has turned out 40 large sweaters, four small sweaters and two knitted children's suits in less than a year.

Mrs. Jake Van Zant of Duncan, Oklahoma, who is confined to her bed a considerable part of the time, has two boys in the service, has knit 71 sweaters and 42 pairs of socks in 12 months.

Mrs. Mina Shafer of Santa Ana, California, knits 2½ shawls a week when she can get the yarn. One in her knitting bag—one in her desk at the office—one in the kitchen—one in the front room—and one in her bedroom.

Already the school teachers are planning to attend the annual Northwest Texas Conference of Education which will be held in Amarillo March 20 and 21, rather than in Canyon as usual. . . This event, which is made very colorful by the new spring ensembles worn by the feminine faculty members, is being arranged by County Superintendent W. B. Weathered of Pampa. . . Pampans who will serve as sectional chairmen are E. W. Cobe, Jr., guidance; Miss Helen Martin, music; Oscar Hinger, physical education; Mrs. Sam Irwin, primary teachers; and Kenneth Carman, speech.

Style flashes from the fashion front tell us that pastels are patriotic, and if they are lauderable, they are double patriotic. . . Topping the list of fabrics that are being shown in the popular "victory" fabrics are cottons and it's a wise shopper who does a double-take on patriotism and plans as much of her wardrobe as possible in light-colored cottons.

Pastel cottons that are washable are a Number One fashion favorite on the victory program for there is an acute shortage of some types of chemicals used in dyeing and cleaning the darker colored materials. The same chemicals used in dyeing and cleaning are used in defense industries. Usually, the lighter the shade, the less amount of chemicals used, so women are encouraged to wear light-colored, lauderable fabrics.

War-time is no time for a depression in fashions and the feminine psychology in dress can do a lot to lighten the atmosphere. If you notice, the new defense uniforms are mostly made up of light blues. Color should be an important part in the victory psychology and there will be a decided trend to the feminine pastel shades, especially in the popular "defense blues."

"He stopped to pat a small dog's head—
A tiny thing to see,
And yet the dog remembering,
Was glad the whole day through,
He gave a rose into the hand
Of one who loved it much;
'Twas just a rose—but, o, the joy
That lay in its soft touch!
He spoke a word so tenderly—
A word's a word, small thing,
And yet it stirred a weary heart
To hope again, and sing!"
—Lois Snelling

If Your Spring Bag Is Bigger -- It's Better; Some Look Like Knapsacks

Maybe its war's influence, but spring 1942's featured handbags are big as soldiers' knapsacks. The three shown here are typical of the bigness that's news throughout spring purses of the modest budget price range. And this same commodiousness characterizes outstanding new designs by makers of the finest leather pouches. The latter stress accessories that will last through coming pinched supplies, will tie in with almost everything. For instance, a navy blue calf double-duty handbag with a double handle and white trim: it flatters many suits this year and hereafter, also summer frocks; and with wrist handle unsnapped it is a distinguished over-the-shoulder bag for uniform or country tweeds.

Discerning women have appreciated soft, big bags for a long time, but fashion didn't always provide them widely. Nowdays, fashion recognizes that most women want a bag that's not only a pretty, but also something big enough to carry lots of things besides compacts and money.

Girl Scouts Will Buy Defense Stamps On 30th Anniversary

More than 650,000 Girl Scouts and their leaders in all parts of the United States will celebrate their organization's Thirtieth Birthday on March 12 by giving someone else a present. The someone else is Uncle Sam and the present is all the defense stamps that Girl Scout pennies can buy. In many communities, girls have planned to buy in units of 30 cents or 30 stamps if youthful earning power will stretch that far.

Thousands of Girl Scouts, in addition to buying stamps, will observe the day with special service projects or meetings planned to emphasize the qualities of courage, thrift, and resourcefulness needed for America's victory. Some of the meetings will take the form of reports on service rendered to community and country, accompanied by pledges of redoubled effort for the crucial year that lies ahead.

Girl Scout service activities have covered a wide range. They include caring for young children in day nurseries or at home; growing, canning, and preserving food; sewing and knitting for relief organizations, carrying messages for offices of civilian defense and welfare groups; making surveys of emergency hospital space and acting as assistants in hospitals; studying first aid; doing clerical work; and carrying on training within their troops for future citizenship and wider responsibilities.

Special rallies in many towns and cities will emphasize the importance of Girl Scout leadership as a defense job. The organization reports that although the present membership is at an all-time high, many girls are still on local waiting lists. Responsible women are needed to volunteer and be trained as leaders before troops can be formed.

Present were Misses Bass Brown, L. C. Vanderburg, Buster Black, C. C. Teague, E. M. Dunsworth, W. F. Slaton, L. L. Brewer, Sam Riley, Clyde Prince, J. H. Tucker, Addie Buzbee, Charlie Pixler, R. F. McCalip, Dan Williamson, and J. D. Hunt.

The circles will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church for a Royal Service program.

G. A. R. A., and Sunbeam groups of the church meet each Friday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

VITAMIN "H"

Happiness Is The Essential
Vitamin To Civilian Morale

War is grim — so be gay! And if this sounds like a paradox, it's still sane advice.

When bombs crashed in Piccadilly, the four Marx brothers played to their biggest screen audience in London town. Fun was the antidote for misfortune—gaily the escape from war.

And here in America it's not enough to "let the show go on" . . . the show needs a new touch of lightness, brightness, allure.

To you—the women of this nation—go the leading roles . . . yours, the job to spread happiness without rationing—without stint.

And like all good actors—LOOK THE PART! Look glamorous—feminine—gay! For in bringing color to your life, you will bring color to the lives of men—husbands, sweethearts, fighters, toilers.

The war will teach us that there is job in giving—and that happiness is the greatest gift of all.

SO DRESS WELL — FOR "THE DURATION" — NOT EXTRAVAGANTLY . . . NOT FOOLISHLY . . . BUT MAKE IT THE BUSINESS OF YOUR LIFE TO LOOK YOUR BEST!

Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

By MRS. FRED ROBERTS

The following are excerpts from an article by Pauline Sabin Davis, national director of volunteer service.

America is in a war which encircles the earth. America is fighting a world revolution which would destroy us.

The old adage that "Men must work and women must weep" no longer holds good, and in the hard months ahead if some American women weep they will be working too.

There is plenty of work to be done. For many of us, the first job is to reexamine our own values. Each, for herself, must resolve the creed, the code of action which will best help her to serve her country.

Be generous. When you enroll for a job give it all the time you can spare. Train for full time service, such as nursing, if you can. If you can't, train for part time service.

Give your money—again—and again, all you can spare—10 cents or $100.00—and whether it be a contribution to the Red Cross or whether it is in the form of defense bonds or increased taxes, give it cheerfully.

These are tangible services, but it is in "The Things of the Spirit" that American women can make the contribution which is peculiarly and particularly ours.

Behind every man in the armed forces stands a woman. We too are a mighty army. Our courage is their strength. Our self-control, our common sense in crises, their peace of mind. Our confidence in them, our loyalty to them and to their leader and ours—the president, is the rock on which they build.

Above all things, we must keep faith. Sewing on hand to be done now consists of a few remaining robes and plenty of men's hospital pajamas. Half of the 120 robes in this lot are already finished and ready for shipment. There will be 25 more later and 100 men's bed jackets for army and navy hospitals which will be made from similar material.

We still have several hundred yards of outing to be cut into men's pajamas and will continue cutting Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Roy Bourland is back on the job after an absence of several weeks during which time Mrs. Charles Thut served in her place as knitting chairman. Mrs. Bourland is pleased with the improvement in the knitted garments since the checkups have been made. She is calling a meeting of all knitting assistants at the production room Tuesday morning at 9:30 in order that they can go over the knitting requirements together again. It is important that all knitting assistants attend this meeting because it seems that some of the variations in handling knitters may have been due to misunderstandings on the part of the instructors.

It is the aim of the knitting corps of course to treat everyone alike—to require the same thing of all. Rather than pass judgment on knitters and say that one is good enough that she does not have to come in for check-ups, while requiring another to come in, the corps, beginning with the issuing of new yarn on February first, has been instructed to require check-ups of everyone. After February first when a woman took out her first yarn she agreed to return for check-ups! Of course when she has knitted one garment satisfactorily with the check-ups she need not come back for them on other garments of the same type. However, when she starts knitting a garment of another type, the check-ups are required again.

May we repeat the purpose of the check-ups? It is three-fold: (1) to catch mistakes before a great deal has to be raveled; (2) to measure garments to see if they are conforming to those specifications the Red Cross says we must follow if we use Red Cross yarn, and (3) to see if the knitter understands the directions for the next step and can get started on it right.

These check-ups are necessary because it has been found that many women do not always knit according to scale, they do not measure accurately, and they make mistakes and either do not notice them or willfully leave them in rather than go to the trouble to ravel.

On the whole the women of Pampa have cooperated wonderfully. They are really trying hard to do things right," Mrs. Wagner says.

Several elderly women have been busy the past few months making baby comforters from outing scraps. They are really lovely! Among the women are: Mrs. T. B. Bentley who celebrated her 80th birthday this week and Mrs. Alice Potter.

We have quite a few scraps on hand now to be pieced into quilts. There are no quilt tops at present to be tackled or quilted.

Knitting to be issued now includes men's, women's and children's sweaters (Brooks type), and stump socks. Stump socks (for amputations) have to be knit on four double pointed needles. Probably only persons

Mother-Daughter Banquet Sponsored By FHT Club Girls

MIAMI, Feb. 28.—Places were laid for 56 guests at three long tables in the dining room of the home economics department, Wednesday evening when girls of the F. H. T. club were sponsors of an annual Mother-Daughter banquet.

Students of the three home economics classes prepared the banquet and all decorations, favors, and planned the program under the direction of Miss Cleve Laman, head of the department.

The banquet was carried out in the patriotic theme. Gay bunting draped the walls and chairs, and insignia of the different branches of service of the United States army were drawn beneath the bunting on the wall-boards.

Centering the tables were groups of toy cannons, Red Cross ambulances and army vehicles. Battleships formed a combination place-card and nut cup, which had been made by the girls from gray construction paper. The program, in each of the apartments, also gave the menu, were of white paper bearing the caption, "Victuals for Victory," in red and blue. They were decorated with a large red and blue "V" upon which a liberty bell was superimposed.

The program was given as follows: "Remember Pearl Harbor," Mae Nelson, Carrie Jo Heare; "The Homecoming," Part in National Defense," Mildred Ann Kivlieh; "Little Dorothy Entertains the Minister," Bonnie Howard; "Angels of Mercy," Mrs. C. T. Locke; "Victuals for Victory," Virginia Bailey; song, group;

Work Outlined By Committees Of First Methodist Society

At the meeting of the executive board of Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church Thursday morning in the parlour, Mrs. H. H. Boynton, president, opened the meeting with a call to worship on "Be Calm."

Mrs. Boynton announced that circle two will have charge of the flowers for the church for the month of March. The group was asked to cooperate with the H-Y conference by assisting in the house-visitations.

Mrs. Walter Purviance gave the devotional from Matthew 16, and spoke on "The Rock Call Truth," after which Mrs. E. B. Bowen placed emphasis on "Facing Our Tasks" as missionary women and workers in the church. The spiritual life work under the direction of Mrs. Purviance was presented.

Mrs. Purviance stated that her committee meets once each week for prayer and conference. Also she told that plans are being made to hold coffee hour services during March and April. The circles will cooperate in this project. Each member is to take her Bible and a notebook to the circle meetings Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Bowen presented the children's church. Estimates of classes and league work were discussed.

A covered dish luncheon was served at 1 o'clock to Meses H. H. Boynton, Carlston Nance, J. A. Knox, Luther Pearson, W. Purviance, Brownlee, S. A. Hurst, Joan Hensley, Travis Livsey, Dan Leitch, R. H. Thompson, Joe Shelton, Sherman White, F. R. Krulish, W. R. Crowson, Harold Wright, Harry Holter, F. W. Showell, H. P. Dosier, and the Rev. and Mrs. Bowen.

After lunch, recommendations from the Southwestern Jurisdictional conference were read by Mrs. Hensley. Student work was introduced by Mrs. Knox who urged members to take good books to the library to be sent to army camps. Supply work was discussed by Mrs. Shelton, and the group voted to give a love offering during the month of March to be sent to some needed place.

The group discussed plans for the annual mother and daughter banquet to be given in April. Committees were appointed by the president to make the arrangements.

Mrs. Bowen concluded with the thought that we are being rationed in many ways; however let us preserve our democracy by not rationing the good things of life. Let us be more diligent in Bible reading, praying, and giving of our means and our time so that the kingdom "may come on earth as it is in heaven."

BUY DEFENSE BONDS
When purchasing bedding, choosing the correct size is of utmost importance. Bedding that is over-large is unwieldy; under-size is uncomfortable, to say the least. There should be sufficient allowance, both as to length and width, for generous tuck-in. For instance, for a blanket, at least six or eight inches over the length of the mattress on which the blanket is to be used and eighteen or more inches over the width should be allowed for sufficient tuck-in.

Prepare For Income Tax Shock

People are beginning to realize that their income taxes, payable this year on last year's earnings, will be much higher than ever before—and that many will be permitted to pay income taxes who have not heretofore been thus favored.

Final date for report on last year's income, from earnings and other sources, is March 15, but an unusually large number of persons are making their reports early, so as to "learn the bad news" quickly and get ready to pay all or at least one-fourth of the total by the middle of next month.

It has been roughly estimated, for those who have previously paid income taxes, and on the basis of approximately the same net earnings, that the amount this year will be from three to three-and-a-half times as much as was paid on 1940 income, which will be recalled as a considerable increase over the 1939 requirement.

An unfortunate phase of the present boost is the long delay last year in announcing the extent of step-up of income tax rates and the reduction of exempted earnings of single and married persons.

It is being forecast that taxes on 1942 income will be materially increased over those in effect now—possibly as much as a 50 per cent raise in corporation taxes and around 75 per cent on individual income—with some talk of a 5 per cent tax on gross incomes to be withheld at their source.

Appropriations for war purposes, and for this far uninterrupted non-military federal expenditures, indicate that continued tax rises are unavoidable, and congress still engaged in the effort "to get the most feathers with the least squawk."

All necessary time should be given to drafting an equitable tax law, but the public should be informed, as quickly as possible, just what the increased percentage will be—so that people can begin setting aside money out of 1942 income to pay 1942 taxes, instead of anticipating later earnings, as some are now finding it necessary to do.

Pass the Biscuits, Pappy!

Bulletin 201 from the War Production board sweetens things a bit. It seems bees must have sugar melted in water at certain times in order to keep alive and maintain production of honey. And bee producers and apiarists, the WPB solemnly assures us, will get all the sugar they need to keep their bees buzzing.

Three cheers and a loud bang on the dinner bell for hot biscuits and butter and honey.

INEXCUSABLE STRIKES (Editorial Opinion of the Cincinnati Enquirer)

In the main, production has mounted steadily since December in the defense industries without interference from labor disputes. There has been a gratifying response to the grim fact of war, a resolute determination on the part of workers and employers to renounce strikes for the duration of the war. But at Madison, Ill., and Detroit needless strikes in vital defense industries have developed.

In the American Car and Foundry strike, where the production of rolling stock is halted, union officials called out about 1,200 men—not to enforce any wage demand, not to alter working hours, but to bring pressure on a few workers who have not paid union dues as expected. This is a singularly irresponsible tactic, and one which public opinion and also higher union officials are bound to condemn.

The strike in Detroit, which holds up production of gun and tank parts was called to enforce new wage demands. This is precisely the sort of question which the federal government has provided new machinery to settle without loss of working time. There is no possible excuse for interrupting production without even resorting to the mediation and arbitration procedures available.

The government is sending young Americans into battle to defend our very existence as an independent nation. Some thousands already have made the supreme sacrifice. Against this background, the irresponsible behavior of defense workers or their union officials in halting production looks absolutely shameful.

GOVERNMENT IN SECRET

Attorney General Biddle has asked congress to pass a law making it a criminal offense to publish or otherwise divulge without permission the contents of any government document or record termed secret or confidential by the department or agency by which it is drawn.

This is an attempt to protect the grafters, fellow travelers, and wasters in the New Deal from exposure by placing a gag on their critics. That would be its only purpose, for the censorship and the espionage act already provide sufficient protection against the disclosure of any confidential material that might harm our national defense. Mr. Biddle's proposed bill, in fact, contains no reference to military or naval information or records that would give aid and comfort to the enemy.

Under the proposal, any government official could enter a scheme to defraud the treasury or to use his official power for undermining our system of government and protect himself against exposure merely by declaring the records of his acts to be secret or confidential. Mr. Biddle proposes that records could be declared confidential not only by a statute but by a rule or regulation promulgated by any department or agency.

A PREACHER'S CONFUSION AS TO WHO PAYS WAGES

I was recently talking to a prominent preacher who occupies a pulpit in one of the most beautiful churches in California. He is a preacher who believes in a lot of man-made laws, such as minimum wages. He related that when he was in Pennsylvania, he visited a coal operator on the question of wages. He explained that the coal operator said he would be glad to raise wages to his employees, if other employers would raise the price of his coal, so that he could raise the price of his coal, thus, raise wages.

The preacher was of the opinion, as the coal operator seemed to be, that the employer paid the wages; that it is only a question of employers getting together and greatly benefiting all their employees.

But this preacher and the operator, if the operator really meant what he said, did not seem to realize that the consumers who buy the coal were the men who really paid the wages of the workers in the coal mine; that the more the consumers, who are also workers, paid for coal, the less they had of their wages left to buy other things they wanted. So to arbitrarily raise coal prices in order to raise wages by a combination of coal operators was, in reality, to lower the wages of every consumer of coal. Every one knows that the poor man as a whole consumes infinitely more coal than the rich man. What little coal the rich consume for personal use, is infinitesimally small.

No, the employer does not pay the wages nor the taxes, nor the expenses. If he attempts to do this, he does not last long as an employer.

The more workers as a whole produce, the higher the wages of all the workers can be. Wages are a result of production and free exchanges of production. Any attempt to artificially raise one group can only result in lowering the real wages of other groups. This sort of humanitarianism—raising the standard of living of those one is immediately associating with by lowering the wages and the living standard of those one does not see—is not humanitarianism. It is blind egoism. It evidently makes the party feel that he is important and a good man. He sees the benefit, but fails to see the harm he has done.

Yes, workers pay their own wages.

JAPAN'S FABULOUS GAINS IN TWO MONTHS

One of the investment counsellors contends that Japan has gained in booty in two months as much as their war has cost them in ten years; that the possession of the oil in the Far East will mean an oil shortage for the Allies.

The same counsellor points out that oil will now have to come from the United States; that it will have to be shipped 7,000 miles to Australia and 5,000 miles from Australia to Singapore in order to be used there to regain our possessions. This, the counsellor contends, will require more oil than we can produce if we permit unlimited domestic consumption.

The statement that Japan in two months has gained the equivalent to their cost of ten years of war should cause the Administration and those responsible for our method of defense to realize the difficulty in the undertaking to establishing the four freedoms throughout the world. We are not so far making much progress in establishing these four freedoms everywhere for everybody.

or transactions were so classified would be publication of the regulation in the federal register. This provision would make the proposed act an easy instrument of entrapment. The federal register publishes hundreds of administrative rulings and orders daily. It would be impossible for any newspaper or any one else to keep track of all the material which the bureaucrats might choose to place on the verboten list.

That, however, is a minor phase of a thoroughly vicious proposal. The affairs and transactions of government should at all times be subjected to the closest public scrutiny. In attempting to give bureaucrats the right to say what shall and shall not be published concerning their activities Mr. Biddle is seeking to transform the servants of the people into their masters.

CAN CCC CHANGE COLOR?

(Baltimore Evening Sun)

CCC has been slower than some other depression-born relief agencies in getting help to its outlived usefulness. But at last it is aroused to the importance (to itself) of hooking up somehow with the war program if it is to survive the attacks now being directed at it.

Social Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, who now is the CCC boss, announces that hereafter this organization will concentrate on "war projects" and moreover, will be shrunk from 800 to 600 camps.

"War projects," as Mr. McNutt defines them, include "work on military reservations or military areas for the army and protection and development of natural resources essential to the war effort."

BEST CURE FOR LAZY WIFE

In Guatemala an American Ditcher Easiest Way to Buy a Loom

(Robert Wauchope in South and World Affairs)

We found an Indian girl kneeling on the dirt floor of her hut, weaving a new blouse. She wanted to know why I, a man, wanted to buy a loom for weaving, which is woman's work. Seven years before in this same village I was refused a loom on identical grounds, so my answer was ready this time: I wanted my wife to learn to weave; she was lazy and must be put to work.

All the women who had gathered broke into large smiles and discreet chuckles. The young wife quietly rolled up the unfinished textile on its primitive 2-bar loom and handed it over to me. I paid her husband, said good-by, and walked out through the door, Mrs. Wauchope standing respectfully aside to let me pass first.

Are you a henpecked husband? Try Guatemala.

FIRST CHINESE RAILROAD

China's first railroad was built in 1876 between Shanghai and Wusung. It was viewed with such superstition that the rails were torn up.

KEY LETTERS IN THE WAR EFFORT

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28—"I've been hearing about you," I said to Donna Reed. "You seem to be a remarkable story."

"Why, no," she said, looking a little startled and probably wondering whether the press agents had dreamed up a glamorous history for her. "You see, with me, everything has happened pretty simply. I—"

"That's just the point," I insisted. "And I still think so. Here is the living, prospering refutation of all the legends, foibles, angles, and traditions about breaking into Hollywood and making good."

In the first place, she never dreamed of becoming an actress. Back on the farm near Denison, Ia., Donna Mullenger never dangled her pigtails from the window of the layoff and spouted Juliet's lines at a barnyard audience. Her idea of a career was to become a private secretary in a big office building and maybe marry the bright young assistant manager.

WENT WEST

If Miss Mullenger had wanted to crash the movies she never would have come to Hollywood, because everyone knows the studios watch only Broadway and the little theaters and never pay any attention to talent already here. Miss Mullenger came here to attend City college because she could live economically with an aunt.

After a couple of years, being a conventioneer co-ed with arresting dark blue eyes, she was chosen Campus Queen. Her picture got into the local papers and most of the studios asked if she wanted a screen test. Miss Mullenger, who must have read somewhere about the brief movie careers of campus queens, said no. A man from a talent agency offered to represent her if she ever wanted to become an actress. It didn't cost anything, so she signed.

After that, she gambled a couple of months in brushing up on rudimentary dramatics, and finally she telephoned the agency she was ready for a screen test. They went out to Metro, and she went through some scenes from "The World We Make."

Miss Mullenger wasn't especially nervous because she knew of a very good secretarial job she could get the next Monday.

Instead, she got a movie contract. It was as simple as that. Before they could even decide to change her name from Mullenger to Reed, she was working in a picture called "The Getaway."

Had the leading feminine role, too.

By this time she was nervous, all right. O dazed, really. Miss Reed declares that she can't remember anything about acting in that picture, or in "The Shadow of the Thin Man," or even in "The Bugle Sounds."

Along about the time she was cast in "The Mokeys" and then in "The Romance of Andy Hardy," she regained consciousness.

She is now working in one of those Dr. Kildare yarns, and that makes six pictures in 11 months, unprecedented for a newcomer. After the preview of the Hardy picture, in which she really has some acting to do in the spill-personality of ugly duckling and glamor deb, the studio knew it really had something in this earnest, soft-spoken youngster.

A few days ago she was being tested and sought for the role in which she really has some acting to do in the spill-personality of ugly duckling and glamor deb, the studio knew it really had something in this earnest, soft-spoken youngster.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

The other day I was walking along thinking about a certain man, and I saw Curtis Douglass at a station getting his car serviced and I spoke to Curtis, calling him by the name of the man of whom I had been thinking, and Curtis made me feel good because he had had the same habit himself, and was always calling somebody by somebody else's name.

Speaking of Curtis reminds me of the last time he saw Curtis' son, Malcolm. It was at a basketball game during the past season, and if the boy and his parents had ever been to a basketball game before I'd never seen them. Later I saw Curtis and mentioned seeing he and Mrs. Douglas and Malcolm at the game, and Curtis said that if he was the first basketball game Malcolm ever saw, that night Malcolm just up and told his folks, "Well I guess it's about time I was going to a basketball game."

And there was nothing Curtis and Nadine could do but take him. I could hardly keep my eyes off that kid that night, and I was trying to keep score at the same time. His power to concentrate is astounding and it shows all over his face, and nothing that took place in that game missed him. But it's not basketball either that Malcolm likes. It's football. He eats it and sleeps it, and plays it or thinks about it the rest of the time. He was a star on the Sam Houston team last year. He's little but he's got spirit, and you can keep your eye on him for more reasons than football.

Anybody who can concentrate even on watching a basketball game, as he can, has something not one in a hundred has received.

And may the time come, Lord, when I can show my Uncle Sam, Not what I was, or want to be but what I really am. I want to be the best Draftee Fort Jackson ever knew.

And if I am, I won't forget to give my thanks to You. Now, Lord, since you're a busy man, I'll stop and call again; You won't forget to answer this, my prayer, O Lord.—Amen.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Saying things in terms of billions of dollars—the way government statisticians do—doesn't mean much to the average person and may not mean much to the economists themselves, for no one ever saw a billion dollars except as a figure on a piece of paper. Thus, most people get lost when it's mentioned glibly that national income will rise from the $90 billion of 1941 to $101 billion in 1942 with taxes and savings at $21 billion, leaving a net national income of $80 billion while production of civilian consumer goods and services drop from the $74.2 billion of 1941 to an estimated $95 billion for 1942. What!

When you divide all those figures by 130 million—the estimated population of the country—to find out what's going to happen to the average inhabitant, then these figures begin to make sense. Performing that trick, you determine these approximate but simple facts:

The per capita income in 1942 will rise to $777. ($101 billion divided by 130 million). The per capita savings and taxes will be $161. ($21 billion divided by 130 million). The per capita income will be $616. ($777 minus $161). The per capita production of civilian goods and services will be $500. ($65 billion divided by 130 million).

Now, subtract that $500 worth of goods and services which will be available to civilians from the $616 per capita net income. The difference is $116.

What that $116 represents is the difference between what the mathematical average person has to spend ($616) and the amount of goods and services that will be made available for the average person to buy. ($500 worth).

This $116 per capita average excess spending power is what's worrying the economists and congressmen and treasury experts and the people who have to get up the new tax bill. It's worrying them more, even, than the possibilities of a Jap or a Nazi invasion. What worries them is what you and you and you—all 130 million of you—are going to do, collectively, with your individual $116, which adds up to $15 billion.

At first glance, you would say why worry about a lousy $116 a head for poor Joe Doakes, his wife and three kids. Isn't it dandy that the Doakes family is going to have five times $116 or $580 more to spend. Let 'em buy that new car, those new tires, that new radio, and stop at two movies and a night club on the way home.

That's just where things get difficult.

Supplies slip. You can't buy a new auto. You can't buy a new tire. Pretty soon there won't be new radios or refrigerators. But that extra money is burning a hole in your pocket. You go to the stores and you start buying. Business gets good. But because factories are now making goods for war, the supply of goods for you to buy goes way down.

Meanwhile, there is an increasing demand from the buyers, all with this mathematical average of $116 more to spend. Buyers start competing with each other. What follows is that prices start rising and the next thing you know you have dat ol' debbil inflation. That's what worries the national smart men. Nobody loves a fat man when his name is inflation.

The question then is what to do with that extra $116 that every man, woman and child theoretically is going to have this year. No one will stand for having his pay reduced, his profits cut.

There are suggestions for enforced savings plans—various proposals to take 10 per cent of every one's pay envelope away and give defense bonds in exchange, and make the bonds in such form that they couldn't be cashed, all with the war in over. The advantage of this is it might give everyone a cushion of post-war spending capacity.

The government will take some of that $116 in increased taxes. Just how much is a question. Some tax experts think a government should take it all. Gosh knows the government will need it. The only hesitation is over the question of how much of an increased tax load you'll stand for.

WASHINGTON ALL OUTS

The automobile industry is 54 per cent converted to war work. . . . Fully converted, the auto industry will employ a million workers as compared with a peacetime employment of around 550,000. . . . Curtailment of the amount of printing on bread wrappers has been ordered to save engraving materials and color pigments for ink. . . . An effort is being made to assure sugar supplies for the home canning season. . . . All raw silk stocks are now in the hands of the government. . . . Manufacturers of merry-go-rounds and orange juice squeezers are among the firms that have converted to war production. . . . Sell back that hoarded sugar.

So They Say

The world situation at the present time indicates that the hopes of civilization rest upon the worthy banners of the courageous Russian army. —Gen. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR in radiogram to Soviet army on its 24th anniversary.

TEX'S TOPICS

CITY Editor Archer Fullingim of The Pampa News has been called an ostrich by Amarillo's Old Tack (Gene Howe, publisher of The Amarillo Globe-News). . . . It seems as though Mr. Fullingim must have called Mr. Howe something, too, in an earlier edition of The News. . . . Judging from what Old Tack wrote about Mr. F. in Saturday's paper, it must have been something stronger than an ostrich that Mr. F. called Mr. H. . . . However, it feels good to sit back and see somebody else on this paper get it poured on them. . . . During the city election a couple of years ago I was called things much lower than an ostrich. . . . After all, an ostrich is a pretty tall, and what they called me two years ago and many times since doesn't have even the faintest semblance of a truth. . . . The thing they called me is much further back in the dictionary than "ostrich."

Personally, we will sit back and watch the developments of this controversy. . . . It may grow and it may not. . . . Personally, we would suggest that the boys call it off. . . . Mr. F. and Mr. H. both are pretty good politicians and pretty slick in a suave sort of way. . . . The only reaction I have had so far to Mr. Worley's not being in Washington is that if Mr. Worley's arrangements at Washington take care of things while he is away in the armed service were not okay, certainly the President would have prevented his going in the first place. . . . That's what Mr. F. and Mr. H. available to civilians from the $616 per capita net income. The difference is $116.

Mr. Fullingim believes Mr. Worley did right by keeping his campaign promise, that if he got what he wanted, he went to congress he would be one of the first to go to war. . . . Outside of that there is no sense to the argument between these two men. . . . It is our belief that both Amarillo and Pampa should get defense projects. . . . Both are strategically located and both have plenty of the natural resources and facilities needed for such projects. . . . So do a lot of other cities and towns on the Panhandle and Plains region.

WE ARE just a little bit jealous of Mr. Fullingim in that argument. . . . When you get the big-wigs of Amarillo to recognize you and begin to pour it on you, it could be that you've got something. . . . But, let's change the subject. . . . Has you got what you want at the Radio-Off concert? . . . That's coming up next Thursday night and the Saturday reports were that the reserved seat sale at Cretney's drugstore is going briskly. . . . Indications are that it will get out house. . . . Incidentally, there will be a school children's 25-cent matinee at the junior high auditorium at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. . . . Mr. Rubino will speak at a school assembly Thursday morning and at an open meeting of the Lions club Thursday noon. . . . If you want to attend the Lions club luncheon, notify the Chamber of Commerce office at telephone 384.

The mumps have invaded the office force here at The News. . . . Sports Editor Harry Hoare is laid up with 'em. . . . Ditto Miss Marie Frazier of the stenographic staff. . . . They say that Bob Thompson laid 'em in the aisles at the Lions club luncheon Thursday when he came back with the report superb while he and Jack Johnson were arguing the respective merits of their recently arrived offspring. . . . It can't be repeated here, but you might ask Mr. Johnson about it.

PERSONALLY, we are fed up on this cold weather. . . . Harry Walborn's recent addition to KPDN's announcing staff, wants to know whatever became of the warm weather of this country which was so beautifully pictured to him before coming to Pampa. . . . It vanishes with a rust that same made the area infamous as the Dust Bowl. . . . No doubt you have noticed that we do not have dust storms any more. . . . When we first came to the Panhandle you couldn't see across the street, half of the time because of the dust. . . . Now you can't see across because of the snow. . . . The time of that morning program "Behind the News" by KPDN has been changed to 7:30 o'clock. . . . The old time of 7:30 was too early for the sponsor to check up on us, one suspects. . . . How do you like the way Gen. MacArthur's holding off the Japs? . . . Okay, buy bonds and stamps so we can't get off hold 'em off, but PUSH 'em off.

SERIAL STORY

KINGS ROW

BY HENRY BELLAMANN

TIME IS SHORT

CHAPTER XVI

"SAY—when are you going to Europe? Not soon?"

"In September."

"Why don't you tell me?"

"I didn't know it until today."

"Say—that's tough! I'll be darned if I know what I'm going to do without you." Drake thumped Parris resoundingly to lessen the sentiment of the remark.

"Parris, you and me have been in pretty much the same kind of boat so much of the time. You remember I said that right here at this corner about three years ago. We still are, in lots of ways. My girl can't see me, and won't, and yours can't come out in the open either and go around with you like other girls and their fellows."

"Cassie's not exactly my girl, Drake. Dr. Tower is very peculiar."

"I should say he is. I think he's kind of crazy—keeping Cassie shut up all the time away from everybody. But Dr. Gordon's not crazy. He just don't like me."

"Drake, you take on like everything was over. You can get things fixed up all right."

"Oh, let me alone! You don't know how I feel. Don't talk to me, Parris, I—I just can't stand any more." He turned quickly and almost ran up Federal street.

FOR the first time Parris drew back a little from Drake to get a better perspective. He realized, as he never had, that Drake could be completely illogical and inconsistent, and then feel terribly hurt because he was misunderstood.

A new and deep fear for Drake arose like a physical ache in his heart. Drake was the best friend he had, probably the best he would ever have. But even as he thought about it he knew that his hopes for Drake had always been unrealistic.

The chances of terrible frustration lay deep in Drake's character—chances, even, of disaster.

PARRIS worked hard. He read day and night, and for the first time prepared digests for his reading for Dr. Tower.

There was a conspiracy of silence among Madame's older friends. Most of them knew of Parris' almost fanatical devotion to his grandmother. They looked at him a little pityingly, but said nothing. Even Drake seldom asked about Madame, but he knew.

Anna looked with wide, dry, wondering eyes at the seemingly unbreakable old woman, so slight and thin now she scarcely dented the heaped-up pillows. Each day she smiled and spoke casually to Parris. Then she gave over to the interminable hours of incredible horror—one minute at a time until tomorrow.

The next two weeks, Dr. Gordon came every day. It was no longer possible to put Parris off with childish answers.

He was eating breakfast absent-mindedly and gloomily. Anna came downstairs. He looked up quickly. "She is terribly ill, isn't she, now?"

"Very ill, yes. But the weather will be cooler soon—it is usually better the last two weeks of August, you know."

Parris went quietly upstairs and into his grandmother's room. The table was covered with medicines. A hypodermic case was lying open; the needle and piston evidently freshly dried had not been replaced. He picked up the tube of white tablets and read the label.

Just then Anna returned. He pointed at the hypodermic case. Anna blanched a little.

"How long has—has this been necessary, Anna?" His voice shook slightly.

"Yes, yes. For several weeks, Parris."

He waited as if he could not say the next word. He picked up the shining hypodermic needle and laid it down again.

"Cancer?" He was surprised that he could say it.

Anna answered in the same tone of voice. "Yes, Parris."

"Why wasn't I told?"

"Madame wished it, Parris. She wanted you to finish your work without worry. She insisted, Parris; she made me promise."

"Yes, yes. I guess so. So that's it! But why did she make plans for me to go to Europe in September? Didn't she—doesn't she know?"

"Yes, of course she knows. She—she thought she would live through September."

The last tinge of color left his face. Anna moved instinctively nearer.

"And—she won't. Is that what you mean?"

"It is impossible that she should live more than a few days. I had made up my mind after Dr. Gordon's visit yesterday to tell you."

He turned and left the room without speaking. Anna heard the door of his room close softly.

"PARRIS!" Cassie's voice over the telephone sounded bright and anxious. "Listen, Parris, I've got to see you."

"Oh, I can't now, Cassie."

"Parris, I wouldn't call you if it wasn't important!"

"All right. Nine o'clock at the corner of Aberdeen campus." Of course she couldn't understand what was happening to him just now. He'd have to tell her.

But Cassie had come to tell him. "You know—well—you love your grandmother terribly much, don't you?"

"She's all my world, Cassie."

"Everybody's been trying to keep you from knowing how sick she is."

Parris did not reply. Cassie's words struck through him.

"Parris," she took hold of his arms and shook him slightly. "Parris, your grandmother is dying, and you don't tell me!"

"Who told you?" He asked the question roughly.

"Papa talked to Dr. Gordon, I guess. You know you're the only person I ever saw Papa be interested in. Your grandmother is dying of cancer. I know how you feel about her—and Parris, darling, I was afraid of what the sudden shock might do to you. I guess it's been just as much of a shock the way I've told you."

"No, it's all right, Cassie. I knew it."

They sat in silence for a long while, watching the fireflies, and then talked in gentle voices of other things.

"I'll have no one when you leave, Parris," Cassie whispered.

"You're not like anybody else, Parris. Do you know that?"

"I don't know. How, Cassie?"

"Of course, I just know anybody. But—I just know you're altogether different. Even Papa says you are."

"Does he? I've wondered what he does think about me. I like him an awful lot, Cassie. He's taught me everything."

"I wouldn't want you to be different. When I think about you, you seem kind of mysterious, almost. Just kind of enigmatic. Papa talks about you sometimes—not often."

"What does he really say about me, Cassie?"

"Well, he said one day that you were—now, let me see, I want to get it just right. He said you were a very rare personality."

"What do you suppose he meant by that?"

"I don't know. He said you were going to be a great doctor someday."

Parris stopped and held her by the arms. "Listen, Cassie: I want to be a good doctor—a great one if I can. When I come back—maybe, somehow the time'll pass quickly—when I come back will you marry me?"

Certificates Of Title Required By Car Owners

When you go to the county tax assessor collector's office to get your 1942 automobile license plates, remember to bring along your certificate of title.

If you don't have a certificate, make your application for one first before you apply for registration of your motor vehicle.

This is the first year the certificate of title has been required in Texas, and some motorists are still not aware of the new law.

"They come in and say, 'Why, we never had to have a certificate of title before,'" one of the employees at the office said today. "Then, too, there are many who have certificates but either forget or don't think it is necessary to bring them along."

"We just have to send them back after their certificates and some of them seem to get mad at us."

F. E. Leech, county tax assessor collector, explained that the title number is required on the motor registration certificate.

He said that the certificate of title law went into effect January 1 and that it was the rule that no motor vehicle registrations could be made until the photostatic copy of the certificate of title had been received back from the assessor, and presented at the same time application for registration was made.

Lately, however, the regulation has been "eased up," so that it is now possible to secure registration of a vehicle if application for a certificate of title is made at the same time. The applications are mailed to Austin. Fee for the certificate is 50 cents.

Henderson Acts To Curb Boom Rentals

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Price Administrator Leon Henderson within a few days will take firm action to curb inflationary rentals in war-boom cities and towns housing upwards of 7,000,000 persons, it was learned today.

The office of price administration will designate officially the first group of defense rental areas, with recommended ceilings to be applied, and with the boundaries of each area defined by local maps.

The designation will put the communities on 60-days notice to reduce rents to the government-recommended levels. If this is not accomplished by state or local action, OPA may move in with powers conferred in the price control bill to enforce lower rentals.

The number of areas to be designated was not divulged, but there was good indication they would total more than a dozen. Rent surveys have been conducted by OPA in approximately 230 communities.

It was assumed the first group of defense housing areas would be cities and communities where rent levels have soared farthest above normal. Rent increases ranging between 5 and 100 per cent have been reported from numerous communities, particularly ordnance, shipbuilding and aircraft manufacturing centers and in areas swollen because of the expansion of nearby military establishments.
