

Reds in Propaganda Peace Offensive

HST-Stalin Meet Is Principal Tool

PARIS (AP)—High Western Delegation sources said today Russia has launched a new "propaganda peace offensive" around the world. The West, they said, plans to meet it at every point.

One leading delegate to the United Nations Assembly told reporters privately that Russia is exploiting the reported possibility of a meeting between President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin for such propaganda purposes.

The delegate, who refused identity, said the Russians are becoming more disturbed because, despite their propaganda, the line-up in the Assembly against them is 52 to 6. Their propaganda had more effect when the Assembly was meeting in New York, he said, but here the West consistently has won bigger majorities.

Therefore the Russians seized upon the Truman-Stalin conference idea in an effort to dent the Western position, and turned all their propaganda guns loose on it, the delegate added.

The United States delegation to the Assembly, meanwhile, refused to say anything on the reports of a possible meeting of Stalin and Mr. Truman. They maintained they knew nothing about it here.

The delegation spokesman would not confirm or deny whether the subject would be discussed by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall and President Truman when Marshall returns to Washington.

There was no indication at U. S. headquarters as to when Marshall will return to the United States.

Informed sources said they expected that the secretary of state would remain in Paris as long as developments warranted.

It is known here, however, that Marshall stands on his desire to return to private life.

Informants said that the actual progress made by the European recovery program is best indicated by the violent opposition on all fronts by the Russian-dominated eastern bloc.

Far greater progress has been made on the rehabilitation of Western Europe than is generally supposed.

TOJO AND SIX OF HIS LIEUTENANTS TO HANG

Hideki Tojo

TOKYO (AP)—Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, premier of Japan during the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including the Marquis Koki Kido, close adviser to the emperor.

A seventeenth, Shigenori Togo, foreign minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, drew 20 years in prison.

Aging, peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobbled aboard the Battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo Bay, got seven years imprisonment.

An 11-nation court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It sat for more than two and a half years.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deadly silent and packed courtroom.

Each man filed in separately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

4th Round of Wage Boosts In Prospect

WASHINGTON (AP)—Predictions of a fourth and final round of postwar wage boosts came today from an administration official weighing prospects for labor peace.

The policy shaper, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he looks for the pay increases to average between seven and ten cents an hour.

But he qualified his final round forecast by pegging it to another—that living costs are about to level off.

If they do, he told a reporter, future wage talks will shift emphasis from prices to productivity.

His contention is that only by boosting output can workers be sure of pushing their earnings upward, once their pay has caught up with prices.

Since the war, wages have gone up three times, by roughly 12, 15 and 11 cents an hour, with some fourth round increases of around 9-12 cents. These last, however, have not yet spread to the big, basic industries.

The administration labor official said preliminary plans being studied for President Truman's study call for a "reasonable compromise" on labor legislation and a greatly strengthened Labor Department.

On the issue of what to do with the Taft-Hartley Act which the Democrats are pledged to repeal and replace—the official mark down two provisions as the toughest to remove.

He listed them as (A) the provision dealing with national emergency strikes such as industry-paralyzing coal mine shut-downs—and (B) the requirement that labor leaders disavow Communist affiliations.

Current plans for rebuilding the Department call for returning it to the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the U. S. Employment Service and the Unemployment Compensation Bureau.

Testimony on the plea of abatement in the suit for rental between Mrs. Lucille Orr and Mrs. Orla Max Orr was started this morning before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court here.

The litigation centered around an undivided one-eighth interest in the New Town Courts located on Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 of J. D. White subdivision in the south side section of the city.

Demonstrations Will Be Tonight

The demonstration is being held, it was said, in order to stimulate more interest in the forthcoming season decorations contest being conducted city-wide.

Premier of Greece Quits Government

ATHENS (AP)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis handed the resignation of his coalition Greek government to King Paul today.

Sophoulis said the King would summon Foreign Minister Constantinos Tsaldaris, leader of the Populist Party, to the Palace to discuss the cabinet crisis before asking any leader or group to form a new government.

Sophoulis' coalition Liberal-Populist cabinet had been in power since Sept. 7, 1947.

Tsaldaris still is in the United Nations session in Paris. Sophoulis called him last night, asking him to return, but so far there has been no indication of when Tsaldaris would arrive.

The outgoing premier said the King's summons of Tsaldaris for discussion of the cabinet crisis before asking any leader or group to form a new government.

Sophoulis resigned under pressure from Sophocles Venizelos, deputy leader of his own liberal party.

Venizelos charged the government in 14 months had failed to suppress the Communist rebellion and lacked the confidence of the Greek people. He claimed enough support from his followers in the Liberal Party to combine with opposition parties and overthrow the government in Parliament.

He held off action while the Greek case was before the U. N. Political Committee, reportedly at the request of King Paul.

Sophoulis met with his cabinet before handing his resignation to the King. He thanked the ministers for their services and told them every effort should be made to obtain a strong government for Greece.

Texas Editor Wins Election Guessing Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Editor Lynn A. Wortham of the Corsican, Tex. Sun was the nation's best in picking the outcome of the presidential balloting.

The Texan guessed the outcome correctly in 38 of the 48 states, in a contest of "political prophecy and perspicacity" among newspaper editors over the country.

At the annual meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association yesterday he was awarded the title "political prophet."

Runners-up were John M. O'Connell, Jr., of the Bangor, Me., Daily News and Frederick S. Fox of the Norristown, Pa., Charles B. Saylor, orthopedist of Times Herald.

Editors from over the nation are here for a three-day meeting.

Medical Society To Hold Meeting

The Top of Texas Medical Society will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m. at the Pampa Country Club.

Crash-Landing Ends Attempt of Texans to Break Endurance Record

LONGVIEW (AP)—The attempt of endurance fliers Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons to crack the world's record of 726 hours ended last night in a crash-landing.

The two men had been in the air 829 hours when they were forced to come down about 11 p. m. (CST).

Vinmont suffered a fractured nose in the landing. Both men were hurt from the plane.

Houston Dean, ground chief for the fliers, said the plane's engine "froze" at between 900 and 1,000 feet. The pilots radioed they were coming down.

The landing occurred approximately a mile and one-half from the Gregg County Airport, their operations base.

The two men were just starting their fourth week in the air. They had taken turns flying the specially equipped single-engine plane they had dubbed "Miss Texas."

They picked up fuel and other supplies from a speeding car by use of a hook and a rope.

The record of 26 hours was set in 1939 at Long Beach, Calif.

GOP Pledges to Aid Friendly Nations Raises Demo Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new GOP pledge to help friendly nations regain their feet defensively raised administration hopes today for Republican backing of the forthcoming arms-for-Europe program.

In a declaration aimed pointedly at Moscow, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan put his fellow Congressional Republicans on record—as nearly as any one man can—in favor of helping Western Europe to defend itself.

The Michigan Senator, who steps down in January as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Reserve Officers Association in Philadelphia last night:

"While never neglecting prudent conservation of our own resources, we shall aid other friendly, independent nations to stand on their own feet in defense of their own freedom. Western civilization shall survive."

Vandenberg put this warning to Moscow on top of another assertion: that it would be a dangerous miscalculation for the Kremlin to believe that President Truman

Phone Workers May Take Strike Vote in 20 Days

DALLAS (AP)—A strike vote will be taken among union employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in six sites within "15 or 20 days," a union official said here.

Ray Hackney, Texas director of the communications workers of America, revealed the strike plan yesterday.

He declared the offer ranged from 60 increase for 20 percent of the union's membership to 35 cents a week for highest paid jobs. The average, he said, was four cents to five cents an hour.

The Texas official said the union wanted a "fair offer equal to the industry's national pattern probably 10 cents to 15 cents an hour."

The strike vote will be taken among employees in Texas, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and a part of Illinois next to St. Louis.

Farmers to Feed Hogs With Shovel

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn today is fed to hogs with a shovel instead of a spoon. That's the opposite of last year at this time.

And it's all right with hogs. Furthermore, the little pigs of next spring's crop are going to find living—and eating—just grand. In comparison with the number of animals to eat it, there's never been so much food around for livestock.

It isn't just hogs which will enjoy this increased feeding. Cattle and poultry also will share in it. And, eventually, it will mean more food for humans.

By now, nearly everyone knows about the record-breaking corn crop. But there's a lot of oat, barley and sorghum grain. There probably will be a good supply of molasses—it's sprayed on coarse grains because then the livestock eat more of them.

The Agriculture Department today estimated "the total supply of all feed concentrates for the year which began in October is 23 percent larger than the 1947-48 supply."

The big supply of feed in relation to livestock probably will mean a substantial increase in total quantity of concentrates fed to livestock. This increase will result principally from increased feeding per animal, although livestock numbers may also increase somewhat.

Much lower prices already have made it more profitable to feed corn to livestock than sell it as grain, even though hog prices are slipping. The careful spooning out of corn last winter, following the short crop, is no longer necessary.

In October, the Agriculture Department said, the average price received by farmers for each 100 pounds of live hog was equal to about 17 bushels of corn. This compared with the long-time October average of only 12.7 bushels.

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) will support Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) for speaker of the House of Representatives and Rep. John McCarmack (D-Mass.) for Democratic floor leader when the 81st Congress convenes in January.

Brooks said "both men have shown themselves fully capable of genuine bipartisan legislation where it should be had."

Government Troops Force Communists Back at Suchow

NANKING (AP)—Savage nationalist attacks reportedly routed nine Red columns at the Grand Canal today in the m. m. o. t. h. Suchow battle.

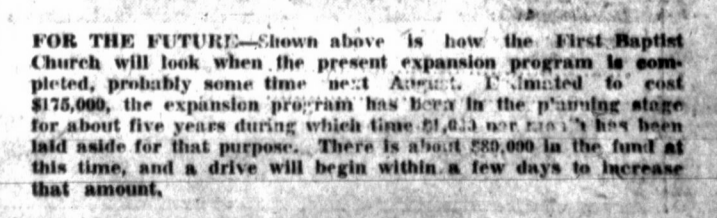

The Communists, progovernment newspapers said, withdrew in disorder, leaving 37,000 dead and wounded. They had tried to break 135,000 Nationalist veterans across the canal for an attack on Suchow's left flank, 30 miles east of the government bastion.

The Communist radio heard in Peiping, said the Reds were annihilating the Seventh National Army Corps east of Suchow and had cooped up the Second Army Corps west of the town. The Red radio said two national divisions went over to the Communists Monday.

The fight at the canal was bloody. The nationalists were credited with turning back more than 20 Red charges. The Reds, reports said, were using what the Chinese call "human sea" tactics —waves of men charging almost shoulder to shoulder.

American dependents were leaving in U. S. Air Force and Marine transport planes from the same busy Nanking Airport. They were being flown to Shanghai and Tsingtao to board ships for home.

FOR THE FUTURE—Shown above is how the First Baptist Church will look when the present expansion program is completed, probably some time next August. Limited to cost $175,000, the expansion program has been in the planning stage for about five years during which time $1,000,000 has been laid out for that purpose. There is about 250,000 in the fund at this time, and a drive will begin within a few days to increase that amount.

Fruit Men Air Gripes Before ICC

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Growers testified Thursday that fresh fruits and vegetables can not be considered manufactured products when washed and packaged for market.

The testimony was given at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing before Examiner C. Evans Brooks. The hearing is to determine what is an agricultural commodity and what is a manufactured product. The definition is of importance because Congress has exempted trucks carrying agricultural commodities from ICC regulations.

One division of the commission has ruled that washed and packaged spinach is a manufactured product and that trucks carrying it are subject to ICC regulations. This decision, protested by farm

Hartley Sees Changes in His Protege

WASHINGTON — (AP)— One of the Taft-Hartley Law's parents expects to see his "baby" rechristened but in only a slightly different dress.

Retiring Chairman Fred A. Hartley (R-NJ) of the House Labor Committee made these predictions to reporters:

1. The ban on the closed shop will be junked by the new Congress.
2. The prohibition against secondary boycotts will be modified.
3. Jurisdictional strikes will remain outlawed, and—
4. The injunction and other procedures for dealing with strikes affecting the national health and safety will be retained.

groups, is being reviewed.

A. C. Thompson, Morrisville, Pa., vice president of the Vegetable Growers Association, testified that the growers he represents are convinced "that it was the intent of Congress to exclude all vehicles used in carrying fresh vegetables that have been washed, cleaned and packaged."

"Packaging does not constitute manufacturing," he said.

FANS PUT HIM IN THE HOSPITAL—Jack Carroll, 24-year-old crooner who won a nationwide talent show, leaves his New York broadcast and is mobbed by autograph-seeking fans whose enthusiasm put him in a hospital. A policeman rescued him and put him in a taxi, headed for Carroll's Belleville, N. J., home. The singer collapsed in the cab and was taken to a Newark, N. J., hospital, where he is in serious condition with bruises and internal injuries.

Nation's Granary At Highest Level

WASHINGTON — (AP)— The nation's granary is chock full. A prolonged growing season together with excellent conditions for late-maturing crops have prompted the Agriculture Department to raise its 1948 production estimates still higher.

In its semi-final report, the department figured the 1948 corn crop at 3,649,510,000 bushels above the previous record in 1946 and 82,000,000 bushels above the Oct. 1 forecast.

Last year corn production totaled only 2,400,952,000 bushels. The 1937-46 average was 2,813,529,000 bushels.

The department also upped its estimates on such major crops as soybeans, sorghum grain, rice, buckwheat, dry beans, potatoes and tobacco.

Only a few crops are smaller than appeared likely on Oct. 1. These include peanuts, sweet potatoes, sugar beets, apples, pears and grapes.

The mammoth corn crop means more and better pork chops and probably lower prices eventually.

Good Neighbor Week Observance Slated

AUSTIN — (AP)— Celebration of Good Neighbor Week in Texas will begin with a statewide broadcast from San Antonio Monday night, the Good Neighbor Commission announced Wednesday.

Commission Executive Secretary Tom Sutherland said Gov. Beauford H. Jester, a high Mexican official yet to be named, commission Chairman R. E. Smith of Houston, and Dr. George Sanchez, professor of Latin American education at the University of Texas, will participate on the program.

Gov. Jester designated Nov. 15-20 for observance of Good Neighbor Week.

Fire Destroys Old Berger Landmark

BORGER — (AP)— A building housing the Big Heart Cafe, a school supply firm and three apartments was destroyed by fire here early Thursday. Loss was estimated at $50,000.

The Berger Fire Department, aided by a fire truck from nearby Buravista, fought the blaze from 9:30 a. m. until 10:35 a. m. Cause was not immediately determined. Fireman Dick Price was slightly injured.

The building was a Berger landmark, having housed a dance hall during boom days.

How to Spot A Comet Is Oh So Easy

DALLAS — (AP)— A Dallas astronomer, said he spotted Thursday morning the new comet which has created a stir among astronomers throughout the world.

Using a six-inch reflector and three-inch refractor telescopes and 10-power binoculars, W. L. Oliver spotted the giant new comet at 8:30 a. m. from his backyard observatory in Cedar Crest. Oliver is president of the Texas Astronomical Research Society.

"The comet is visible to the naked eye after the observer first has located it with binoculars and telescope and knows exactly where to look," Oliver said.

The comet climbs above the horizon into the range of Dallas visibility about 5 a. m. and is obscured by approaching daylight shortly before 6 a. m., he said.

Oliver said the comet appears to be about two-thirds the size of the famed Halley's Comet.

The Dallas astronomer gave the following advice to Texans who plan to arise early today to seek the comet:

Sight a perpendicular line from the telescope to the planet Venus, then drop to the star Spica, southwest of Venus. Complete the triangle by drawing a line from Spica back to the telescope.

Erect a perpendicular from the base of the triangle through Spica, extending 12 degrees beyond Spica. Go straight north five degrees from the western end of the perpendicular and there is the comet.

Chicago is the study subject when the Civic Culture Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. E. Cool, Cities Service Production Camp.

Mrs. W. F. Showell was leader on the subject and spoke of Chicago's past, present and future plans. She said Chicagoans believe in their city with a fierce pride and are overcoming many obstacles. She showed magazine pictures with her talk.

Mrs. Irwin Thompson presided at the meeting in the absence of the president. It was announced that the next regular meeting would be in City Club Room and would be a guest tea. Roll call was answered with favorite recipes. Mrs. Emmett Gee drew the lucky number from the gift box.

Refreshments were served to Meses. Ge. L. J. McCarty, J. B. Townsend, Irvin Cole, Thompson, H. W. Waters, Showell, Lloyd Rinehart and the hostess.

BARBECUE SAUCE

To make a sauce for barbecued spare ribs combine a quarter cup of cider vinegar, a half cup of savory bottled thick brown sauce (the kind usually used as an accompaniment for cold meat or steak), one and a half teaspoons salt and two teaspoons prepared mustard. Pour the liquid mixture over about three pounds of fresh pork ribs and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour and a half. Baste frequently with the sauce, adding a little water at the end of the roasting time if necessary.

fascinating and difficult play in bridge, the smoother play.

Every few years, by popular request, I run a series of articles on the smoother play. This is the most difficult of all plays to recognize in actual competition. Few of the top ranking experts of the country have had the actual thrill of executing the play. Occasionally at the end of a hand, they suddenly realize that if they had done so and so, they could have made a smoother play. If you study this week's articles carefully and become familiar with all the angles of the play, it may be your pleasure to run across one soon.

Years ago today's hand was shown to me by the late Phil Leon, of Cleveland, who was considered one of the greatest card analysts of the country.

The point is, how can West be kept from making the king of trumps?

The first two tricks are won by West with the king and ace of clubs, and the third club is trumped by declarer with the four of spades. South then leads the queen of spades, and West refuses to cover. The jack of spades is led, and again West will not cover.

Now declarer cashes three diamond tricks, the ace and king of hearts, and leads the third heart. All hands are down to the cards underlined. Dummy has the ace of spades and deuce of hearts. Declarer holds the ten and nine of trumps. East is forced to lead either the ten of diamonds or queen of clubs, either of which South will trump with the nine of spades. West has only the king-eight of spades. If he over-trumps with the king, dummy's ace will win. If he under-trumps with the eight-spot, the nine holds the trick and the ace of trumps will win the last trick.

Mrs. Horn Tells Of New York Trip At Century Club

A whirlwind trip around New York City was featured when Mrs. Bruce Frait was hostess Tuesday afternoon to Twentieth Century Forum Club members.

Mrs. Biggs Horn told of her recent trip to New York City by way of Washington, D. C., where she was impressed by the beauty and dignity of the Lincoln Memorial.

In New York City among the highlights to remember were United Nations in session, the beauty of St. Patrick's Cathedral, the immensity of Madison Square Gardens, the amazing precision of the Rockettes, and the wonders of Rockefeller Center.

The vast and intricate transportation system of the city was amazing to a visitor, she said.

Mrs. Horn illustrated her talk with moving pictures in color. The boat trip on the Hudson to Albany, the delicately colored Chinese flower gardens in Toronto and the shops of Niagara Falls were illustrated on the film.

The hostess served refreshments to: Mesdames E. J. Dummigan, Jr., Gene Fatheree, E. L. Green, Jr., Horn, Dick Hughes, Frank Kelley, John Ketter, J. B. McCreery, M. C. Overton, Walter Rogers, R. P. Rossman, Aubrey L. Steele, Ar-

Coercion—a Part of Democracy

There has been a good deal of prattle in recent years about America being the land which one "can exercise the democratic prerogative of collective bargaining," which includes force. The piece usually goes ahead to say that, as long as this "prerogative" is in effect, there can be no slipping away into the hands of dictatorial government.

But we wonder if these apologists have ever concluded that a country can lose its freedom just as easily by countenancing unbridled union activity, as by denying force employers to their will and disposal.

Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn (NY), in a speech before the House of Representatives a few months ago, discussing the findings of a committee to investigate restrictive practices in labor unions, had this to say:

"Whenever a monopoly takes over an industry, it is a logical necessity for the ruling powers to impose all kinds of restrictions both on production and on personnel. Our subcommittee hearings brought out the fact that the present-day American housing is subjected to an almost unbelievable degree by restrictive rules and restrictive practices."

"Limitation of daily work, as enforced by the labor unions, now permit a back mason to lay from 1,000 to 800 bricks a day, against 3,000 a day in 1940. Similar restrictions apply to lathers, who usually finish their day's work at 2 to 2:30 p.m. as soon as they have placed 30 bundles of lath or 100 square feet of gypsum board. Under these rules, the workmen draw 8 hours pay for about 3-2 hours work, or less."

Here is a demonstration of power placed in the hands of a group of men—to be exercised upon the businesses of other men. Under such conditions, a man would be better off to take a leave from his work and build his own house. In that way, he might be solvent.

This is but one of the inroads being made upon the solvency of American enterprise. It is very difficult to understand how Americans can view with pride and joy the coercion in the hands of the labor groups, condoning it as an act of great democratic process.

It is nothing of the kind, as we see it.

Fair Enough -- by Westbrook Pegler

There has been an ignoble note of humility in most of the stated comment of the American press on the recent solemn referendum. The editorial remarks of the Hearst publications are an honorable exception although Mr. Howard of the Scripps-Howard group seemed to be cheering the conqueror. I listened closely and when he really said something about suckers reproducing their kind.

There may be others who have stood to their convictions, but of the whole there has been a tendency to throw in with President Truman with a frightened and trite observation that the people have spoken and that the people can't be wrong. There is a distinct exception although Mr. Howard of the Scripps-Howard group seemed to be cheering the conqueror. I listened closely and when he really said something about suckers reproducing their kind.

News Clearing House

To the Editor:

In regards to the recent presidential election, the public set. There could be no doubt as to who was up set, with ninety percent of the press and radio advocating a Republican land slide, it would insult the intelligence of some of our most intelligent men, the news paper editors of America, for one to believe this was a prediction of their own ideas.

The President told the American people that the National Association of Manufacturers had paid three million dollars to kill OPA in order to double the cost of hamburger a chuck roast, the papers an radio were in direct sympathy with this, the press and radio were still in favor of John Lewis paying the million dollar in fines for wanting to raise his miners pay seventeen cents to off set this double take hamburger. Unfortunately labor unions an farmers don't advertise with papers or radio, it would be only natural for the press to adhere to big business. NAM paid three million dollars to kill the OPA, the next step was to put over the T-1 Hartley slave act, so when labor asked a few cents raise they would be put in jail, then to make the kill complete, take the income tax off of hamburger, to make all this complete the NAM gained the cooperation of the press, an such goons as Pegler, Henry J Taylor, an a score of less infamous characters.

The worst make NAM made was to out entire the average American citizen intelligence, as can be seen when the election was over, an eighty of these same values in congress who helped Taft an Hartley put over their crime, an sold out to the NAM to kill the OPA, are out on a job, an on the same soup line they predicted labor would be on come nineteen forty nine.

Tax-Supported School a Most Violent Instrument Undermining the Concept of Liberty

Yesterday I quoted in part an article appearing in the October issue of Analysis magazine under the heading of "Why Free Schools Are Not Free." Because this column has been continuously warning that tax-supported schools can not teach the principles embodied in the Ten Commandments, this article was of special interest to the writer.

In yesterday's column Frank Chodorov, editor of Analysis magazine, discussed the demand of the clerical fraternity and subsequent grant of "released time" for religious education in New York; and that in this matter and the demand that public funds be used to convey children to parochial schools they have shown they can "throw their political weight around." Then Mr. Chodorov asks, "How can they be prevented from asking that their teachers be instructed to give religious instruction in the school buildings? Or that these teachers be put on the public payroll?"

I continue:

"Let us extend the doctrine of 'separation' to other than religious subjects. Large bodies of Socialistic doctrine have seeped into our school text books and teachers of that persuasion are its protagonists. Socialism is not an organized religion. Church lines, the element of faith in it gives that ideology a religious tinge, and the attitude of Socialists toward non-believers as sinful and wicked suggests further similarity. Well, how did Socialism creep into the school curriculum if not by the political power acquired by its devotees? The outlawing of the teaching of evolution by the anti-Darwinians is another case in point. Then again, because the Constitutionalists were in the ascendancy in the beginning of our country, the Federalist point of view never got into our history books. How can it be otherwise? As long as schooling is a function of the State, the dominant political group will determine what and how the children will be trained.

"The business of education is the transmission of ideas from those who have them to those who are lacking; that is, from elders to youngsters. But, all ideas acquire weight with the elders are the ones which the pupils will be exposed to. Education, therefore, can never be free from the bias of the teacher. One may question, even if the teacher enjoys 'academic freedom' he is not free from the values he has built up in his mind. Objectivity is impossible in a natural case in capable of weighing facts. A transcendentalist will somehow drag in the concept of 'natural laws' even in teaching physics, and the pragmatist will go out of his way to denounce it as collectivist cannot help insisting that Jefferson's 'natural rights' is an archaism, nor from extolling the modernism of Hamilton's centralization idea. Can the free teacher avoid bearing protectionist history?"

"It is because of this value emphasis that private schools are established and endowed. The parent selects for his son a classical school or a military school because he puts a higher value on that kind of education; he believes his son is deserving of what he considers better, even if 'better' is mere ostentation. One may question the judgment of the parent, but one does not question his right; it is his son and his money.

"When we get into adult education the heterogeneity of values is more obvious. One may question the teaching of anarchism, the mystic religions, existentialism, decentralism, every shade of Marxism, the ideas of Mary Baker Eddy, of Henry George—of purely vocational schools. Every enthusiasm has its discipline, and so long as private opinion and private property are not outlawed through the influence of the State to propagate it. Society is none the worse for this practice; in fact, it can be socially beneficial, so long as it remains a private pursuit for the more values flying around in the air, the likelihood of its being fouled up with a dead uniformity.

"The tax-supported school cannot permit such free flight to intellectual enthusiasm. By right of ownership every citizen then that his values should be included in the curriculum, but by the same right others press their values and in the end somebody must be cheated. The monopolists objects because his line of business is disparaged in the economic course, the chauvinist denounces the history teacher for debunking national heroes, the classicist decries the emphasis on modernism, and above all the secularization made necessary by a diversity of creeds satisfies nobody except the irreligious. The tax-supported school is abomination to somebody no matter what or how it teaches.

"The State as teacher tries to keep to the middle road, which is a denial of all values and satisfies nobody. But, even as a compromiser the State is a failure, for it is compelled by political considerations to favor the values of the dominant elements in the community. The Texas school reader glorifies the oil industry, trade unionism must be treated gingerly in industrial centers, and in the remote rural sections is indulged even by the fact of segregation. Furthermore, the attempt to find a compromise is abandoned and bias reigns supreme when the State grants its own axe in the school room. In mentioning our fiscal system can the tax-paid teacher even hint at the immorality of taxation? Can he void the glorification of political scoundrels in the school books? And now that we have gone in for State-capitalism in a big way, how can he question the correctness of TVA, public housing or the monopoly of the mails?"

 news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Republican politicians returning to the Capitol with plans for rebuilding their Trumanized party have only three names on their lips as presidential possibilities for 1952. They are Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, president of the University of Pennsylvania, Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower, president of Columbia University, and Governor Earl Warren of California.

The political phynoxeny of this distinguished trio, as well as the geographical fact that all are from the Midwest, reflects the new kind of planning and thinking which the Democrats sweep has stirred within the GOP.

It may mark the end of the old order and organization and the dawn of a different kind of day for the Republicans. With such transformation, it may be years before they occupy a renovated White House.

CRITICAL — The three vocal prospects are regarded as representatives of the liberalized and humanitarian wing of the Republican Party. Each has been critical, publicly or privately, of the Congressional leadership responsible for the "do nothing" charges that apparently won so many votes for President Truman. But it is believed that they could give new spirit and direction to the GOP if they were given the opportunity.

Mr. Stassen, of course, has already handed out hints that he expects to be summoned to the task of rehabilitation. Never timid or humble, he was the inspiration for recent newspaper stories that letters, telegrams and phone calls have flooded his academic office, urging him to shove Governor Thomas E. Dewey aside as titular leader.

WEST — In view of the Democrats' conquest of the Midwest and Far West, a formidable argument against Mr. Stassen's leadership and nomination has disappeared.

No longer can the backroom boys dismiss him with the remark that "No major party chooses its candidate from such a politically unimportant state as Minnesota."

The new alignment suggests that a Minnesota background may tell what or how it teaches.

"The State as teacher tries to keep to the middle road, which is a denial of all values and satisfies nobody. But, even as a compromiser the State is a failure, for it is compelled by political considerations to favor the values of the dominant elements in the community. The Texas school reader glorifies the oil industry, trade unionism must be treated gingerly in industrial centers, and in the remote rural sections is indulged even by the fact of segregation. Success Secrets

Today's column is directed to office boys who want to learn the tested road to becoming president of their company.

The first rule is — don't be a clock watcher.

Instead, hang around the plant after hours and learn all you can about the jobs above you. You might try working holidays and weekends.

Next, fit yourself for the job above you by taking special courses of instruction at night.

Try to do your job a little better than anyone else. You can't have the respect of your boss until you are doing it better than he.

When you're offered a soft job turn it down if a back-breaking job in the plant will teach you more about the overall picture of your company.

Learn the knack of getting along with people. Never try to "lick" anyone. Help everybody around you; make lots of friends. And the only technique you need for influencing people is just to be sincere.

When you get your first executive job, remember to give others credit for what they do. Build up those around you and they'll build you up.

Don't be afraid to set your sights high. Develop a passionate desire to get ahead and keep that desire first up every day.

Try to work a little harder and a little longer than the other fellows.

These are some of the things that Charles R. Hook, Chairman of American Steel Company, did to rise from the job of office boy at $2.00 per week to the highest job in his company.

Hook still gets to work before anyone else in the plant. He still works overtime and can frequently be found in his office on weekends and holidays. He still takes time to take a personal interest in the people who work with him.

And, if you're wondering whether such a thing could happen today, Charles R. Hook says that the opportunities that are open to young people today have been multiplied many times since he started out at the bottom of the ladder.

Maybe you're thinking that's a hard program to follow. I'm not arguing it isn't. I'm just offering it in case you want to use it.

And, if you're wondering whether an old proverb gives — "You can have anything you want if you're willing to pay the price."

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Van Johnson will hide behind a hand-drawn mustache for his role as a young man in "Good Old Summer Time." Well, for one reason, anyway. . . .

There is also the fact that he did not carry his own state of California. However, he made many friends during the campaign, and he could possibly make the removal of J. Parnell Thomas as chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee a positive sort of way.

George "Gabby" Hayes had his whiskers tinted to make them photograph a nice clean snow white for "El Paso." "I feel like an awful scoundrel," he said, "I've got to take care of 'em. Those whiskers are the only talent I have."

HARD TIMES — More economy: Paramount balked at the price of an ermine coat they wanted for Lucille Goddard in "The Girl of Luccetta." So Bibbo when he is in the mood, she's wearing white rabbit instead—only it's supposed to be ermine. . . . Frank McHugh returns to Broadway after 20 years for "It Still Happens," a new comedy. . . . Finky Lee's summary of what's wrong with Hollywood: "There's two cars in every garage and no chicken in any pot."

Groucho Marx goes as far as the Jonathan office will permit in a love scene with Bette Davis in "Love Happy." Then he turns to the audience and says: "If this were a French picture I could go a lot farther."

Anything is possible in Hollywood departments. In the Viceroy plays a blue-eyed Italian gal in "Daughter of Roma." . . . New threat to the blood-pressure of film producers—the growing mob of amateur photographers using flash bulbs. They made life hectic for Maxwell Smart when he was shooting scenes in Brooklyn streets for "The Amboy Dukes."

Sight of the week: Betty Grable in a red satin Rene Hubert evening gown with a peek-a-boo slit that reveals only one leg at a time.

Kiddie romance department: YOUNG LOVE — Gary Gray, the 12-year-old actor, called Daria Massey, the 12-year-old actress, and said: "There will be some publicity in the papers for a few days linking my name to Margaret O'Brien. But don't worry about it. It won't be true."

Jimmy Dykes, the former Chicago White Sox manager, will play himself in "The Stratton Story." Yes, they decided he was the baseball type.

Susanna Foster's marriage in the East to Wilbur W. Evans, the musical comedy singer, was a big surprise in the Hollywood circles. They had never heard of the romance. . . . Now it's "The Last Side Story," with Eddie Robinson in the lead. . . . UT will send a film copy to Italy to produce "Paradise Lost—1948."

FUNNY BUSINESS

BY HERSHBERGER

Well, I see that the man who gets out dictionaries is complaining because there are so many new words to put in that he is on the verge of a "tizzy," a highly nervous condition.

Goodness, I don't know what he's complaining about. If there weren't so many words, we wouldn't need dictionaries in the first place, and then the dictionary editors would be complaining because they'd be out of work.

My husband, George, says the human race was a lot better off when there weren't any words but "up" and if people got into an argument, they could settle it by breaking clubs over each other's head.

Goodness, I'm certainly sound silly on the phone with Mary Livingston for three hours just saying "up" over and over again.

The critical world situation . . . will require a great deal of wisdom. I hope the discussions in Paris will bring us toward a more peaceful world, but hope alone is not enough.—Secretary of State Marshall.

NEW SOUTH

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— "The Negro is the compelling political issue in the South in 1948. . . . It is no longer good politics to stand up in the South and proclaim that the Negro is all right in his place, but his place is not at the polls. . . . Segregation can be defended—but the denial of civil rights that has always gone with it has become indefensible. . . . The Negro voter has arrived in the South."

This is no damn Yankee that is being quoted. For a Northerner to say such things would be not only presumptuous but also misguided, ignorant and wrong.

The man who made these statements was Harry S. Ashmore, new editor of the Little Rock, Ark., Gazette, speaking a few days ago before the Southern Political Science Association at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. Ashmore's talk got little coverage at the time. Now that the election is all over and the passion fires have died down, it may be safe to dust it off.

TWO MILLION VOTERS — Some 700,000 Negroes were qualified to vote in this year's elections, Ashmore points out. This is a 600 percent increase over 1940. At the same rate of progression, 2,000,000 Negroes could be expected to vote in 1952. They will vote not only in the general elections, but in the primaries as well.

With this rise in enfranchisement of the Negro, the one-party system that has dominated the South for 50 years is doomed to pass, says Ashmore. It was doomed on the day the U. S. Supreme Court struck down all previous Court rulings that ruled that the primary election is a fundamental part of the American political system. It is therefore subject to the suffrage provisions of the Constitution, guaranteeing the vote to all, regardless of creed or color.

Realistically, this should not be taken to mean that extra-legal means may not be found in some states to discourage Negro voters. There were numerous attempts at intimidation in the last campaign. The egging of Progressive presidential candidate Henry Wallace himself was the most notorious.

Progressive Party leaders charged that the worst offenses were in Georgia. There were two instances reported where Progressive Party candidates were "kidnaped" and threatened, then released. A number of their party workers, including James L. Barfoot, the Progressive candidate for governor, were arrested on the sidewalks of Atlanta. More incidents of this sort must be expected in future campaigns.

But, says editor Ashmore, it is unlikely that the Democratic Party will ever repudiate its civil rights platform. It has abandoned the doctrine of states' rights as traditionally conceived by Southerners. The civil rights platforms of the two major parties are now practically identical.

NEGRO VOTE INEVITABLE
 When the Democratic Conven-

NEW SOUTH

tion at Philadelphia made its 1951-1952 to 582-1-2 vote in favor of a strong civil rights platform. It was merely expressing the fact that a majority of the Americans who live outside the South consider civil rights desirable for the whole of the country. "It is this pressure of public opinion which has made the enfranchisement of the Negro in the South inevitable," he says.

With that enfranchisement, Ashmore believes that the one-party system of the South has been killed thereby. Every table and chart showing the standing of the South on matters of health, education and capital reveals how the South has suffered from one-party domination. The old system may have maintained order and stability, but it was "a motionless order of stagnation."

Ashmore said repeatedly that the establishment of a two-party system in the South is the greatest single reform that can be worked in the South. Out of it will come gains not only for the Negro minority but for the white majority.

The transition probably cannot be made smoothly. Ashmore looks with some gloom on the rise of Herman Talmadge in Georgia, Russell Long in Louisiana and the old worn-out prejudices of three generations. There may be chaos for another generation or two. But the political system must be changed to accommodate the mass of new voters now emerging as a political factor in the South.

Organized in the defeated Republican candidate's home town, Owosso, Mich., with members pledged to grow Dewey hair-lips, it recently held final rites, with victorious Democrats shaving off the GOP mustaches. Chinese Situation Near 'Desperate' Analyst Says

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
This column rarely uses the term "desperate" in describing a situation because that word implies hopelessness, but the position in China has deteriorated to a point which certainly is crowding desperation.

That unhappy land—housing close to a quarter of the globe's population—has sunk so deep in the chaos of civil war and economic collapse that no man can predict her fate.

The question of whether Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek can maintain his nationalist government and defeat the red rebellion is a matter of anxious speculation.

The Chinese Communists, having overrun strategic Manchuria are now driving southward in China. The great northern metropolis of Peiping, spiritual capital of the country, is in a state of panic—a city of doom. The Communists continue their drive towards Suchow, the last northern gateway to Chiang's capital—Nanking.

Meantime the economic situation has worsened. The military disasters in the north have further shaken the confidence of the people in the ability of the government to cope with the situation. The economic crisis has hit a new low and one of the immediate results has been a grave increase in the food shortage, said to be due in considerable degree to hoarding. AP Correspondent Roy Essoyan reports from Shanghai:

"Shanghai today is facing its most critical food situation in modern times. The lack of food, choking economic restrictions and ten days of frantic, unbridled inflation which followed have left the once great center of commerce a city of closed shops, sporadic rice raids and strikes. Chinese reports from the immediate interior add tales of gang raids on surrounding villages, which are being stripped clean of edibles."

So goes the grim story. Small wonder that officials in Washington are deeply concerned. Small wonder that there should be speculation whether the generalissimo's government can triumph over the Communists.

As for Chiang, he gives the impression of having no doubts of success. He has called on his followers to prepare for eight more years of war against the Chinese Communists, thus tacitly admitting that it is a long, tough job, but he maintains an air of confidence. He declares that peace can only be attained by destroying the Communists throughout the nation.

Secretary of State Marshall conferred privately in Paris Tuesday with China's United Nations delegation chief, Dr. T. F. Tsing. The future extent of American military and economic aid to Chiang's regime is said to have been discussed. American sources said the whole question of Chinese aid is being studied against a general background of feeling that there is not much point in pouring water into a leaking bucket.

American delegation officials in Paris said U.S. State Department experts are seeking a plan to reconcile the realities of the Red military gains with the U.S. desire to give effective aid to the nationalist government. At the same time William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France and Russia, said in Washington he was leaving for China to make a survey for the joint Congressional Economic Cooperation Association watchdog committee. He hopes to return by Christmas with a report of China's needs to meet the Communist military threat.

Thus the indications are that America intends to pursue a program of aid to China. The Chinese civil war is a vital part of the conflict with Russian communism, and China is likely to be an increasingly important theatre of operations in the Orient.

It wouldn't be profitable to win the cold war in Europe but lose the fight in the Far East.

$20 Note to Show White House Balcony

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said that the $20 Federal Reserve note has been modernized to show the present-day appearance of the White House's south front and grounds.

The $20 notes circulating now show the same general scene.

New Wage Hike Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government report that wages still are lagging behind prices gave unions fresh ammunition for their fourth round pay boost offensive.

The new wage demands already are developing. The AFL recently called for worker-employer cooperation to step up productive efficiency and cut costs to clear the way for pay raises without new price hikes.

about 18 1/2 cents, 15 cents and 11 cents an hour, respectively. The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said in its report that wage rates for factory workers have jumped 43 percent since V-J day but price increases have "largely cancelled out the advance."

However, the actual pay received by factory workers—as distinguished from their pay rates—increased an average of 30 percent a week and 33 percent an hour in the three years since Japan surrendered. This led the bureau to observe that:

"Rising prices have more than offset the increases in gross weekly and hourly earnings. The consumers price (cost of living) index for moderate income families in large cities rose by about 35 percent over the three-year period."

National League umpire Artie Gore hit one home run in 66 games of organized ball. It came in 1929 with Nashua, N.H.

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR
Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXVII

"Lucas' house late that night, Carmen laid out the fortune-telling cards with great care. She said, 'The cards never lie to a kypsy, my friend.' But she looked moody, and her mind was not on the cards. Lucas watched indolently, more interested in Carmen than in the fortune. 'They always tell the truth, Lucas,' she went on. 'He leaned forward, casually. 'And what are they telling you at this minute that makes you look like such a beautiful thundercloud, my Carmen?'

She touched a card, her voice low. 'They tell me that the thing I have been expecting is coming nearer, Lucas.'

Pablo's face appeared at the edge of the window. Only his eyes were showing. They saw but were not seen.

'They tell it might be soon now, Lucas,' she said.

Pablo's face slid away from the window, with narrow-eyed satisfaction.

Lucas smiled. 'You're really afraid of something you see there, aren't you, Carmen?'

Carmen patted his hand. 'You are not the only one who has death for a business partner, little bullfighter. Death travels with me, too, in the shape of a man who loves me. The cards have always said that, Lucas. They said that such a man would kill me.' Her voice rose restlessly, became harsh. 'And I know such a man.'

In the cave Don Jose's face was reflected in the broken piece of mirror resting on Carmen's shelf. His face was a bad face, changed and fallen, harsh and ugly. His eyes were tortured and cruel.

gan to select garments from a heap in the corner and prepared to change his clothes.

Dancaire said, 'Don't be a idiot! You can't go into the city. They'll shoot you down without even thinking about it.'

At this Pablo crawled out of the cave and disappeared into the darkness.

Dancaire went on in his cool detached way. 'Be patient, amigo, she'll be back one of these days. You must get used to this sort of thing.'

Don Jose turned his head sharply to look at him, his eyes blazing. 'Never!'

OUTSIDE the arena of the Corral de la Plaza, Carmen leaned to kiss Lucas, laughing happily. He looked magnificent in full matador fighting regalia and she had never looked so beautiful as at that moment. 'There, little bullfighter,' she said, 'you will get another one for each bull you kill.'

There was excitement and activity all around them. In the Corral the processions were being made up for the formal opening march into the arena itself. The spasmodic roars of the crowd in the stands attested that the preliminary fights of the afternoon were taking place. The main event was being readied, the corrida featuring Lucas. The horses were being jockeyed into place. The parade was being formed and spirits were high.

Lucas lingered, to take another kiss, and then said with mock gravity, 'Be careful, you have me killing every bull in Spain!'

Over near the gate stood a furtive and grim trio, out of key with the high excitement and gala spirit of the fiesta. It was Pablo and two policemen.

Pablo was excited and nervous. He said urgently, 'Don't forget the reward. Five thousand dollars. I get half, and don't tell Carmen who told you.' He looked around. 'He'll be here, you'll see. He'll be coming here to get her. Just keep your eye on her and you'll get him.'

The police, eyes on Carmen, walked to their vantage points, their guns ready.

Israel Prophets Have Moral Message

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

What of the past, present, and future? Among almost all peoples there have been wise men, soothsayers, magicians, who professed to have an uncanny knowledge of events and an insight into the future. But the prophets of Israel are unique in history in the place that they occupied in the life of the nation and in their character of courage, firmness and integrity.

The threats of kings or the violence of their enemies never dissuaded them from their purpose or turned them from their task of declaring the judgments of God against tyranny and iniquity.

Who were these prophets and what exactly was their role? They were many, as we can see from various references in the Old Testament. But the prophecies of only 12 "Major Prophets," and a few "Minor Prophets," have come down to us.

The "Minor Prophets" were not minor in the sense of being inferior in character, courage or forcefulness to the "Major Prophets," but only in the fact that their prophecies and their careers were on a lesser scale. Also, here and there we have glimpses in the pages of the Old Testament of prophets of whom we have no recorded writings, but whose integrity and moral courage reveal the high quality of the prophetic office—men like Nathan, who rebuked King David in a display of fine fearlessness (1 Samuel 12), and Micah (1 Kings 22), who had equal courage in speaking the unpleasant truth to kings.

The Hebrew prophets had convictions, and they suffered for their convictions and their words. But they never flinched, or compromised the word of God.

What, then, was their role? Two views, sometimes conflicting, prevail. In the one view these Hebrew prophets were foretellers, predicting events to come, reaching even far down into the future. In their prophecies many have seen a plan of the ages, though the plan has not always been the same. The end of the world has been predicted again and again on the supposed evidence of the prophets, but the world still stands. The "key" to the prophecies is an uncertain thing.

In the other view the prophets were forthtellers, speaking to

Christian Science Sunday Services

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 14.

The Golden Text is: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil" (1 John 3:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man. Mortality is finally swallowed up in immortality" (page 478).

Lutheran Church's Activities Announced

Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church, the pastor will speak on the doctrine of the resurrection from the dead, his sermon on the words of Scripture as found in John 11: 21-27. At 8 p. m. Wednesday the Sunday School teachers will meet in the church, and at 8 p. m. Thursday the Adult Membership Class meets in the church.

Plans Made for Gasoline Plant To End Flaring

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP)—Plans for a natural gasoline plant to eliminate flaring at gas in the Kirk Pool of Eastland and Comanche counties were under way here as a result of the organization of the Kirk Pool Operators' Committee. Less than a year old, the pool now had 90 oil producers.

C. P. Porter of Dallas and Eastland was elected president; Bud Loomis, Longview, vice president; and I. C. Heck, Eastland, secretary-treasurer. Named to the Engineering Committee were Joe Cable, Wichita Falls, Frank Speller, Tyler, and W. R. Stearns, Austin.

Representatives of four companies appeared at the meeting with proposals for construction of the plant, with tentative plans calling for two units, each with a capacity of 10 million cubic feet of gas daily. Total cost would be approximately $1 million with an additional $200,000 necessary for a gathering system.

T. A. Kirk, Fort Worth, Robert McKissick, Abilene, J. W. Baldwin, Wichita Falls, F. O. Penn, Longview and Jay Mann, Wichita Falls, were selected to study the construction.

Hearing has been set at Austin Nov. 16 by the Railroad Commission to consider whether the Kirk Pool should be shut in until gas flaring is stopped. Request for a reduction in the field oil allowable also will be heard.

Harvesters Engage Amarillo Sandies Tomorrow

Canadians to Wrestle at Local Arena

A pair of unfriendly neighbors from Canada will attempt to bring a wrestling success to their American audience tonight when they wrestle at the local arena. The two young Americans are the Sportatorium.

Billy Red Fenton, husky gladiator from Edmonton, Canada is scheduled to match holds with Dick Trout, personable young wrestler from Hollywood, California. The unruly Fenton met Trout two weeks ago and was disqualified for unnecessary roughness.

Tonight's match will be a grudge affair and should pack a plenty of thrills.

Bearded Beau Truedell, another neighbor from up north, will meet Dory Funk, graduate of Indiana University and holder of the "Big 10" championships.

Beau wrestled here earlier in the year and proved to be a real crowd pleaser.

"The Flatbush Flooner," Vic Webber will referee the matches. Webber hails from Brooklyn and has returned to the wrestling arena after being critically injured and told that he would never wrestle again. He received a crushed pelvis while working in a train switchyard in New York. The first match begins at 8 and both will be best two out of three fall affairs with a one hour time-limit.

Hardin-Simmons Comes Up Front To Down WT, 28-7

ARLENE (AP)—Hardin-Simmons University came from behind to hand West Texas State a 28-7 licking in an Armistice Day Border Conference tilt.

West Texas State moved 66 yards for a touchdown at the piling over the goal line to climax the drive.

Wilton Davis raced 36 yards for the Cowboys' first touchdown in the second quarter and Paul Bailey kicked the first of four extra points.

Davis accounted for another Hardin-Simmons tally on an eight yard run and Nolan scored one on a 22-yard jaunt. Nolan Harvey chalked up the final Cowboy tally with a 19-yard return of an intercepted pass in the fourth quarter.

It is estimated there are still at least 2,000 covered bridges in the United States.

Irishmen Favored Over Northwestern

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
 NEW YORK (AP)—Sliding down from the top of the football peak with another hatful of forecasts.

Last week's 62 correct picks in 75 chances meant an average of .827, that brought the season's total to 451 correct and 501 incorrect for an average of .818.

This week's forecasts:

Northwestern at Notre Dame: Notre Dame will get four touchdowns at least. Notre Dame.

Army at Penn: The Quakers have been minus a consistent attack all season. Army.

Indiana at Michigan: Wolverine reserves have practiced all week. Even they should be able to handle the Hoosiers. Michigan.

Washington State at California: Either Fullback Jackie Jensen or Halfback Jack Swanner should have a good day. If both do, 'twill be murder. California.

Southern Methodist at Arkansas: Doak Walker gives the Mustangs the edge even if Clyde Scott plays for Arkansas. Southern Methodist.

North Carolina vs Maryland: North Carolina will score and score. North Carolina.

Princeton at Yale: There have been hints that Yale will be at full strength for the first time this season. But Princeton isn't exactly crippled with Weber, Leibert and Sella all operating. Princeton.

Alabama at Georgia Tech: The loss to Tennessee last week has awakened the engineers. Georgia Tech.

Dartmouth at Cornell: Each defeated Columbia by a touchdown in earlier games. Dean's punting and the home field give the big red an edge. Cornell.

Baylor at Tulane: Eddie Price, Tulane fullback, should riddle the Baylor line. Tulane.

Temple at Penn State: That victory over Penn convinced everyone that the Nittany Lions do have sharp teeth. Penn State.

Mississippi vs Tennessee: Mississippi lacks its early season zest, Tennessee seems to grow stronger week by week. Tennessee.

Clemson vs Wake Forest: Bobby Gage to be the difference. Clemson.

Nebraska at Oklahoma: Buddy Burris is labeled the best lineman in the area. He plays for the Sooners. Oklahoma.

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

Friday

Oregon over UCLA, Villanova over Georgetown, Arizona (Tempe) State over Loyola of Los Angeles.

Saturday

Most Important Game of Year Scheduled to Begin at 2:30

Texas Schoolboy rivalry at its best is what is on tap tomorrow afternoon at Amarillo's Butler Field when the Amarillo Golden Sandies and the Pampa Harvesters get together at 2:30 for their annual grid contest.

Scores of Panhandle grid enthusiasts are expected to flock to the famed stadium to see the clash that is known school football. Year after year, the two teams stage 40- to be one of the best in high minutes of warfare that could hold its own among many colleges.

Although they will be definite underdogs, the local griders will also be striving to break an old jinx that has haunted them since 1931. The Harvesters will be trying for their first win in history on Butler Field, and also their last. The two teams will probably get together for the 1949 on a new field, which it seems certain that the Amarillo School board is going to sponsor.

Both clubs will be in near top shape for the great battle, as all Sandie regulars are ready to go and all but one Harvester starter will be ready.

Bo Jack Phillips, rugged 185-pound tackle, has been out most of the past week with an attack of flu. He may, however, see a little action.

In his place will be capable LeRoy Troop, 180-pound senior, who has seen lots of action already this campaign.

The two teams are about average in weight, although the Sandies command a slight edge in experience.

The Sandie big guns are expected to be the pass combination of Garner-to-McNeil, which has previously been unstoppage and rated as the state's best. If the local schoolboys can stop the combo, then half of their task will probably be completed.

But the Sandies also possess a potent ground game. And in the pilot's seat of this department is also McNeil and Garner. Although Garner plays end, his "end around" plays are very dangerous, and McNeil has also perfected a hand-off system on punts that is very deceptive.

Charley Priolo is the Sandie speed-demon while blockbusters Noah Davis and Claude Fox are two big boys who have averaged almost four yards per carry.

In the Harvester backfield, if Wesley Klatt and Jack Williams are in usual shape, an upset could be pulled that would stir sports scribblers all over the state.

And as for passing combinations go, the Harvesters' Derral Davis is a receiver that may even outshine Garner. His passing mate will be either Carroll Smith or Lamar Lively.

The Harvester forward wall, renowned to be one of the toughest in the state, seems like it may be the one to halt the Sandies ground game. And if they do, and the Harvester pass defense is alert, then it looks like the Panhandle by six points.

Shamrock Downs Skyrockets 7-6 In Armistice Day Clash

WELLINGTON — After scoring one touchdown and adding the extra point early in the first quarter, the Shamrock Irishmen kept their faint hopes for a District crown alive by subduing the Wellington Skyrockets, 7-6, here yesterday afternoon.

After receiving the kick-off, the Irishmen drove 70 yards without ever losing possession of the ball, with Wayne Martin changing the final three yards. Oliver McLemore, added the extra point, which proved to be the deciding point.

In the third period, after the Skyrockets had thrown the Shamrock lead back to their own 10, Jerry Strickland hurried himself in front on an Irish punt. After recovering on the one, Kenneth Strickland plowed over for the tally. The attempted conversion was no good.

The Skyrockets threatened continuously in the last half, but could never quite reach pay-dirt. Gaston Williams spun off tackle, broke into the clear and raced 80 yards to Irish 30. But there the Shamrock line held and took over on downs, shortly before the game-ended.

If the Lefors Pirates should stumble before the McLean Tigers tonight in McLean, then the Irishmen would rate a tie with the unbeaten Pirates. The Lefors protégés of Coach James Lave already hold one conference victory over the Irishmen.

Skellytown Wins Junior High Class B Title With 52-0 Win

Skellytown Junior High School is undisputed champion of the Class B, 1948 Panhandle Junior High School Conference by virtue of a 52-0 massacre last night, at the expense of the Panhandle Kittens.

Halfback Carl McCabe and Tackle Dick Shipley led the pint sized Skellytowners to their fifth consecutive victory without being scored upon.

Leading 31-0 at the half, the winners were never in any kind of trouble and the battle was never in doubt. McCabe and Donald Carpenter led the scoring parade in the initial two periods. Ronald Mills turned in a sparkling 75-yard dash to cap the barrage. McCabe raced 40 and 20 yards for his two, and Carpenter went 55 and 40 yards, respectively, for his tallies.

The accurate passing of Wylie Demoss sparked the last half Skellytown drive. After taking a pass from Demoss on the Kitten 41, McCabe sped the remaining distance to pay-dirt.

Cordell Fugh broke loose on a naked reverse and spun 80 yards to score in the fourth quarter and Mills got the final tally when he raced 25 yards on a quarterback sneak.

On a slow alley, the stride to the line must be STRAIGHT so that the arm swings in a straight line for accuracy and consistency.

Sandies Not Expecting an Easy 'Cinch'

By RUTE POWELL
 Amarillo Globe-News

AMARILLO — The undefeated, untied Amarillo Golden Sandies football power in Texas will be favored over the once beaten Pampa Harvesters when the rival clash Saturday afternoon here on Butler Field for the District 1-AA championship.

But the Harvesters and their backers are going to be badly fooled if they are counting on their gridders running into an over-confident Sandstorm crew. The Amarillo teams of yesterday in both 1941 and 1943. But, if isn't likely to happen again, especially not this campaign. The members of the present edition are old enough to remember the sad mistakes of the Amarillo teams of yesterday. In 1941 an undefeated, untied Golden Sandie club was highly favored over the Harvesters. Pampa had been outscored by Lubbock and the Sandies had defeated the Westovers. But Pampa shelled Amarillo 16-12.

Two years later Amarillo faced Pampa with another undefeated, untied football team. Never in history had the Sandies been favored any stronger. The Harvesters had lost to Lubbock, 12-0, and the Sandies had blasted the Westovers 47-0. But Pampa trounced Amarillo 7-0. Yet, if Pampa wins this year it will be because of boasting a superior team.

BETTER BOWLING

By BILLY SIXTY
 SLOW ALLEY! It doesn't take much to make bowling alley surfaces differ. Just a difference in the wood, or even in the method used to polish it, are enough to change the action of the ball.

Operators make every effort to make the alleys identical, but it is a rare thing when two alleys are alike. Some alleys RUN, which means that the ball turns readily from right to left, and are called "slow alleys."

Such an alley will help any natural hook spin you give and so, to play this kind of alley successfully, start the ball a little to the right. The "help" amounts to allowing the ball to turn more easily.

Different deliveries on a "slow alley" require varying adjustments. For instance, the straight ball is aimed at the No. 3 pin, and a short, finger-spun hook is directed to the RIGHT SIDE of the No. 3 pin. Of course, this is only approximate and the rule of thumb assumes a ball of medium speed.

When you get into bigger hooks that break widely, changing the direction may not be enough; you have to change the stance position. You can see in the illustration, the starting position has to go more and more toward the center of the alley, as a bigger hook is thrown. Also, the angle to the right side of the headpin is increased to control the inward (hook) break for a counter. The attempted conversion was no good. Just before the half ended, Cudney turned in the most sparkling performance of the day when he took a Whirlwind punt off the mid-field stripe and sped all the way to the double-stripe, to score, standing up.

The final Reaper tally came when Billy Davis went 35 yards to pay-dirt in the third quarter. Tollie Hutchens converted and all Reaper scoring was completed.

Coach Dwayne Lyons played his second and third strings throughout the entire fourth quarter and it was not until the closing minutes of the game that the Nixon club shoved across their six-point and converted.

Reapers Blast Amarillo 33-7 In Conference

The Pampa Junior High School Reapers blasted the Elizabeth Nixon club, 33-7, yesterday afternoon in Harvesters' stadium in the week's Pampa-Amarillo rivalry was put officially underway.

The Pampa triumph enabled them to keep their district hopes alive, after losing to Sam Houston of Amarillo, 6-0, two weeks ago. Should someone pin Horace Mann of Amarillo's ears back, then the Reapers would be district champs provided they don't stumble again. The Reapers trail the Horace Mann club by one-half game.

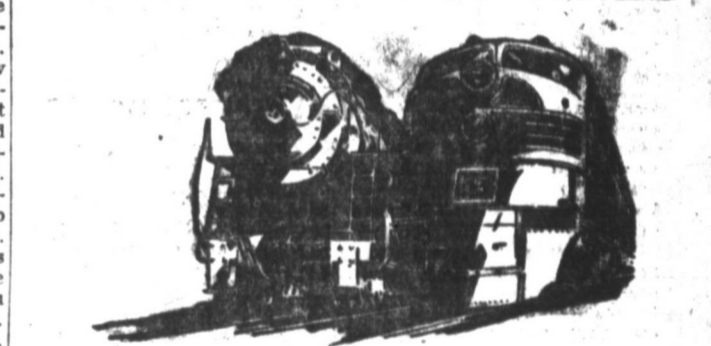

De Wey Cudney, rugged Reaper quarterback, sparked an offensive attack that plowed the Whirlwinds under yesterday, while Marvin Bond, Roy Pool and Bill McPherson were outstanding on defense.

Playing without the services of running mate Charles Ely, Cudney scored the first Reaper tally in the opening minutes of the game. The Pampans took the kick-off, and without losing possession drove to the five where Cudney dashed across. Tollie Hutchens added the extra point.

Still in the first quarter, Halfback Billy Davis broke into the scoring driving over from the nine. Hutchens again converted and the locals led, 14-0, at the end of the first quarter.

Cudney limbered up his passing arm in the second period and let fly with an aerial to Ray Pool that netted 60 yards and another

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
 NEW YORK (AP)—The fact that Dan Topping has hung a "for sale" sign on the Newark Bears emphasizes that everything isn't rosy in minor league baseball despite a record attendance of nearly 43,000 people for 58 leagues during the past season. . . . late Judge W. G. Bramham issued a stern warning to club owners some years ago that they'd better cut out the reckless spending. . . . maybe the Bears haven't been too reckless, considering present-day baseball salaries, but they haven't made money or produced enough major league ball players to justify the expense. . . . and when you get down to Class "D" the problem is even more acute. . . . the farm operators are beginning to drop out and the independents can't come back when it costs around $50,000 a season to operate a Class "D" club and they can't raise ticket prices above the 50-75 level because that would just send the customers to the movies.

A Handful of Joy

Weighing only a pound and 14 ounces, tiny Mary Ruth DeVor can barely cover the tip of the doctor's thumb with her hand. Born two months prematurely in Cleveland, O., the baby makes her camera debut at the age of two weeks. She weighed the same at birth, and attending physicians say babies, born under two pounds, rarely do well. Mary Ruth is kept in an incubator, and taken out for a few minutes every other day to be weighed. "My daughter has an awful lot of spunk," says mother Mrs. Walter F. DeVor.

Mode O' Day Shop Opens Tomorrow

An orchid will be presented to the first 500 women visiting the new Mode O' Day Ladies Ready-to-Wear Shop at 223 N. Cuyler tomorrow, Mrs. Jimmy D. Cole, owner and manager, said today.

The formal opening of the store will be tomorrow, Pampa's Mode O' Day is the 54th one in Texas, Mrs. Cole said.

Nine factories produce the merchandise for the 375 Mode O' Day Stores in the United States. Each factory is individually owned and operated. Since selling is directly from the factory to the consumers, the middleman is eliminated.

The store will feature lingerie, hosiery, dresses, blouses, slips, chemise robes, housecoats, and gowns. Only two prices of dresses will be kept in stock. Spun rayon and cotton will be included.

Lions Hear Sextette

The Pampa High School Sextet entertained members of the Lions Club at the luncheon meeting in the basement of the First Methodist Church yesterday.

The sextet is composed of Nathan Campbell, Arvilla Patterson, first soprano; Barbara Blair, second soprano; Ann Fisher, second alto; and Johnny Sue Hart and Betty Joyce Scott, altos. After singing "In the Still of the Night" and "Ave Maria," the sextet was called back for an encore number, "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

Dr. Benefield, past president of Pampa Lions Club and LaNora Thigpen manager, who now lives at Los Angeles, Calif., was a guest at the meeting. Members of the club said they doubted his "fish story" so gave him a chance to prove he was a real fisherman.

November 12 is "Lion Sweetheart," Catherine McNamara and Benefield were each given a doughnut tied on a string which was held by a two-foot stick. A single cup of coffee was placed on a table and the contestants started after much laughing, contestants dived their doughnuts in the coffee and tried to eat them without the use of their hands. Benefield finally won the contest and was awarded an extra doughnut.

Dr. Benefield introduced by the club, Jimmie Jones, chairman of the September Club, Joe McNamara, Don Thigpen, president of the High School student council, attended the luncheon meeting and made an announcement concerning the Pampa-Ainsworth game Saturday.

17 Texas Oil Fields Closed

AUSTIN (AP)—Orders closing 17 Texas oil fields to halt wasteful flaring of gas have been authorized by the Railroad Commission.

Announcement of the forthcoming orders was made Wednesday by Olin Cuberson, commission member. It was understood the orders will be issued Monday.

The shutdown orders will slash daily Texas production of crude oil by approximately 400,000 barrels, Jack Baumel, chief engineer of the commission's Oil and Gas Division, estimated.

The commission held a hearing Oct. 26 at which operators in the 17 fields were asked to show cause why they should not be closed in until they are prepared to conserve the flare gas produced as an incident to the production of oil.

Fields involved are the following, by districts:
District 2, Southwest Texas—South Caesar and Heyser.
District 3, Gulf Coast—Conroe, North Withers and Magnet Withers.
District 4, Southwest Texas—Flour Bluff, Tijerina Canales and La Gloria.
District 8, West Texas—North Cowden, Foster, Fullerton, Goldsmith, Levelland, McElroy, Semole, Slaughter and Wasson.

Commonwealth To Celebrate Birth of Baby

LONDON (AP)—The birth of Princess Elizabeth's baby—expected this weekend—will be hailed throughout the British commonwealth with music, flag waving and a flood of good wishes.

The commonwealth lands are no less eager than Britain herself to welcome a royal heir in a spirit unmatchable since last November, when in Westminster Abbey against a background of centuries-old English tradition, Elizabeth became Prince Philip's wife.

In Sydney and Melbourne electric carillons will signal the birth. Excitement is rising throughout Australia and New Zealand which the royal family will visit next year. Most cities as well as small towns plan a festive weekend.

New Congress to Consider Federal Aid to Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government aid to education is one of the problems the new Congress has to tackle in 1949.

Such aid would mean giving federal money to the states to help them educate grammar and high school children.

The new Congress may approve, although the idea has been battling around a long time without getting anywhere.

Under the bill the states would receive at least $5 per child a year. When he argued for his bill last spring, Taft pointed out that about 2,000,000 children between six and 17 attended no school at all.

Chinese Change Value of Money
NANKING (AP)—The Chinese government increased the rate of its "gold yuan" money 20 to the U.S. dollar, from four to the dollar.
Possession of gold, silver and foreign currency was legalized.
The revision was ordered in an effort to halt economic collapse. The gold yuan has fallen to nearly 10 to the U.S. dollar in the past few days.
The gold yuan was adopted Aug. 19 to replace the old yuan dollar which had plummeted from 2,500 to $1, in 1946, to about 12,000,000 to the U.S. dollar.
