WAR BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—With little debate the House unanimously passed and sent to the Senate today an authorization for a $500,000,000 appropriation to aid China.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The navy announced today that the freighter San Gil, owned by United Fruit company, had been torpedoed by an enemy submarine off the Atlantic coast.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The British have withdrawn from Derina, 160 miles northeast of Benghazi and 95 miles from Tobruk, in their retreat in Libya, a military commentator said today.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Lord Beaverbrook was made Minister of War Production today and Sir Andrew Buxton succeeded him as Minister of Supply in the long-anticipated realignment of Britain's war cabinet.

Few Exceptions To February 16 Registration

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Asserting the selective service registration Feb. 16 would complete an inventory of the nation's potential military manpower, General J. Watt Page, state director, today pointed out it affected every male resident in Texas between the ages of 20 and 45 years, with few exceptions.

The requirement, General Page explained, is that all male persons not previously registered, who attained their 20th birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1941, and who have not attained their 45th birthday on or before Feb. 16, 1942, must register as of their home address between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. Feb. 16. In other words, all unregistered men who were born between Feb. 17, 1897, and Dec. 31, 1921, must register.

Men between 21 and 36 years of age who registered in 1940 and 1941 are not required to register again, the director said. While anyone who is unavoidably away from his home on Feb. 16 may register at the registration place most convenient on that day, General Page continued, he urged that Texas registrants to make every effort to register with their own local boards to avoid possible confusion. Any person who must register see EXCEPTIONS, Page 8.

Shelterbelt Trees Will Be Planted

An appropriation of $52,003 from the Work Projects administration and $68,986 from the U. S. Department of Agriculture was made this week for the planting of trees in shelterbelts in Gray, Donley, Hall, Wheeler, and Collingsworth counties. Most of the work on shelterbelts in Gray has been centered in the southeastern part of the county. The project is under the U. S. Forestry service and was started in Gray in 1938.

There will be 73 workers employed in all in the project in the five counties.

Mary Hardin-Baylor Exes Have Breakfast On Founders' Day

In commemoration of the founding of Baylor college at Independence, Texas, on Feb. 1, 1845, and the receiving of its charter by the Republic of Texas, a breakfast was given for the alumnae and co-residents of Mary Hardin-Baylor college Sunday morning.

The girls' branch of the college was moved to Belton in 1866, and the boys' branch was moved to Waco.

The local meeting was in conjunction with a similar one being held at the college and wherever graduates of the college are around the world. Mary Hardin-Baylor college is the oldest woman's college west of the Mississippi river.

The college colors of purple, gold, and white were carried out effectively in the decorations. As a culminating of the entertainment, each guest lighted a candle.

Permanent officers of the local organization who were elected are: President, Muriel Kitchens; vice-president, Eloise Lane; and secretary-treasurer, Lorene Winton.

Those present were Mrs. Graham Reeves, Mrs. Garnet Reeves, and Misses Eloise Lane, Lorene Winton, Muriel Kitchens, and a guest, Miss Idelle Gadsberry of McLean.

LEFORS, Feb. 4. — Miss Maxine Houchin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Houchin, and Raymond Carruth, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Carruth, were married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. James Todd of Panhandle officiating.

White candelabra and vases of white lilies formed the background for the altar. The wedding march was played by Margie Taylor.

The bride, who was wearing a marriage by her father, wore a soldier blue suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Earl Atkinson. Also Miss Jinkie Carruth, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride. Mrs. Atkinson chose a steel blue suit with a corsage of white stock, while Miss Carruth wore a beige suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white lilies.

The bridegroom's attendants were Ralph Carruth and Earl Atkinson. Messrs. Atkinson, and Butrum, Floyd Mathis, Bud Cumberlege, Bill Watson, Elvis Mathis, Ralph Carruth and daughter, Carlene, Billy Taylor and children, Leon and Margie, Scott Hall, Ray Boyd, W. C. Bobby, and Sammy Joe Houchin, were bridesmaids.

Mr. Carruth, a graduate of LeFors High school in 1939, is employed by the Danciger gasoline company.

The couple is at home in LeFors.

Helpful Hints

You can easily clean silverware—especially the encrusted kind—with a sponge dipped in silver polish. Rinse off the silver with hot water and then wash in hot suds and wipe once with a soft cloth. The silver will be "as bright as new." Wash and dry the sponge after each using.

As soon as the oven is cool enough, clean up.

Burned food, which will help prevent stale odors. Leave the door open until oven is well dried and aired. A well cared for oven will do efficient work.

When two shelves in the oven are used for making food at one time, shift the pans around so that they are not directly under each other. This allows the hot air to circulate and do the baking.

To press puffed sleeves, so popular today, turn the sleeves wrong side out, slip a folded towel under the puffs and then quickly press with a warm iron.

STORE SUMMER THINGS

Summer shirtings, curtains, bedspreads, etc., usually are washable, and should be thoroughly cleaned before putting away for the winter. If you have any doubt at all about the fabrics being colorfast or preshrunk, a test is in order. Take a small bit of the material, trace an outline of it on a piece of paper, then wash it in lukewarm, mild suds. Rinse as usual. If the test piece washes satisfactorily—that is, if when dry, it conforms with the paper pattern and the colors have neither faded nor run—you can proceed to wash the entire article in the same manner. If the pieces are exceptionally soiled, use a second mild suds. Then rinse until the water comes out entirely clear. Have everything smoothed and perfectly dry before storing.

Royal Raiment Sets Pace For British Women In Cutting Clothes Budget

LONDON, Feb. 4.—It is too early yet to see results of England's rather drastic clothes-rationing. The test will come a year from now when reserves will have been used up by both men and women. Meanwhile, make-and-mend schemes are making great progress.

Every department store has an expert to advise and also superintendent to assist them to the store. They report good business.

The exclusive dress designers of the West End also alter, transform, and otherwise "pep up" clothes, but only those that originally came from their own workrooms. The charge is anything from three to five guineas, around 15 to 20 dollars, which is not considered excessive, especially in view of the rising prices on all sides.

Most women have used up their clothes coupons for the year. The Queen is the one shining example of a girl in wearing gowns, coats and dresses—hats made two years old, and shoes bought in the spring of 1939. The argument is, of course, that there was plenty to fall back on in her wardrobe and that the Queen is sufficiently clever to make done-over clothes look like new.

Rationing has meant a cut of at least 80 per cent in the clothes budget of Queen Elizabeth of England. She used to buy around 400 coupons worth of clothes a year from which man Hartnell alone, apart from gloves and shoes.

PRICE CEILING ON CLOTHES LIKELY

"Utility clothes" are said to be scheduled to make their appearance in the shops. An idea of the Director of Civilian Clothing, this simply means that the average man or woman will be assured of buying value for their money. Prices will be set for various categories of clothing. Cloth and madeup garments will be classed into two groups: utility and general.

It is a great scheme, because many people had soon realized that clothes coupons were going to be worse than useless if prices were to be uncontrolled. Now clothes will bear not only a government guarantee of quality, but also of price.

In this way too, the bigger share of raw materials will go into making clothes for people of moderate incomes. There will always be sufficient luxury fabric and clothes for the wealthy.

The project covers suits, coats, skirts and dresses, and slacks, as well as the types of underwear, corsets, and blouses. Fashion, it is averred, will still flourish, as competition among manufacturers will be very active to offer good style and fittings in "utility" clothes.

These that come under the "general" heading will be uncontrolled so far as prices go, but both yardage fabric and finished goods will MAKE-BELIEVE WAR prepares and protects children from the real thing.

Let The Children Play At Battle

By DOROTHY ROE

If your children like to play war games, with realistic-looking tanks and planes and guns, don't try to stop them.

The make-believe war may prepare them mentally for the dangers of actual warfare, and an air raid may seem just a more exciting form of a familiar game.

This is the advice of officials of the Child Study Association of America, now devoting a concentrated program to the training of parents in the best means of protecting their children from "war nerves."

FRIGHT PSYCHOSIS

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt advises parents to teach small children to make games of bombing raids, to protect them against a fright psychosis.

She tells of her two-year-old grandson, Haven Roosevelt, son of Engston John Roosevelt, who has been taught to say "Boom!" whenever he hears the big guns at the San Diego Naval base.

"Now the child thinks he is creating the explosion and is delighted every time he hears one," says the First Lady. "As a result of this method, the child will not be frightened if there is a real bombing."

WAR GAMES

Older children may play more intricate war games, plan battle strategy, and take an academic interest in any actual warfare that may come.

It is natural for children to imitate their environment when they play. And so we may expect to see little boys playing with toy tanks and anti-aircraft guns, small girls dressing their dolls as Red Cross nurses.

It is an escape from all to grim realities, and the sign of a healthy, normal imagination.

CLEAN CLOTHES FOR BABY

Just as important as having every item of the baby's layette on hand when he arrives is having every item scrupulously clean. For sake of his protection, the entire wardrobe should be carefully washed and ironed before initial use, whether purchased brand new from the store or hand-made. Wash garments with a very mild lukewarm suds; boil diapers, rinsed repeatedly until no trace of soap remains. Crib and carriage accessories as well as baby's exclusive towels and washcloths come under this rule, also. Rubber Pilot Plant To Be Constructed

(By The Associated Press) Hopes for a synthetic rubber industry in Texas to augment the nation's war effort were nearer realization today.

Gov. Coke Stevenson authorized a $20,000 deficiency appropriation for construction of a pilot plant which would test production of acetylene from natural gas—a primary step in making the synthetic.

The process was developed by Dr. E. P. Schoch of the University of Texas Bureau of Industrial Chemistry. He discharges electricity in natural gas to obtain acetylene.

President Homer Rainey of the university said the $20,000 appropriation would be made available to the bureau for extension of the scientist's experiments and particularly for the pilot plant.

Other activities at the university dominated the Texas war scene. The university reported to the navy it could arrange housing for 500 men who would be trained as part of the program of assigning men to universities for a three-months' program of educational and athletic courses, a conditioner for more strenuous work at naval air bases.

Only one of its kind in the nation, a course for army and navy photographers will begin at the university next week. The course will run six weeks and students' expenses—except room and board—will be paid by the U. S. Office of Education.

Rainey announced organization of the 127th general army hospital in Galveston, part of whose personnel will come from faculty members of the university's medical branch, which will be completed within a few days.

Meanwhile, Texas school children who have been chipping in their pennies for Defense Stamps and Bonds now have a definite job in the war effort.

The State Department of Education said they had been assigned to build 20,000 model aircraft, tiny planes that range in wing span from 5 1/2 inches to 25 inches.

The Navy Bureau of Aeronautics recently decided to provide thousands of models for use by military and civilian defense forces.

Paint manufacturers and distributors of the Southwest will meet in Dallas Thursday for a discussion of the raw materials situation and priorities which affect their industry.

In Longview, representatives of four counties in the East Texas oil belt Tuesday studied a program to coordinate protective measures in the oil field. The program calls for joint use of equipment and trained men throughout the area in case of an emergency.

Movement Of Axis National Restricted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Attorney General E. A. Tamm designated as an area of sharply restricted movements for German, Japanese, and Italian nationals, the California coast from the Oregon border south to a point 50 miles above Los Angeles and running inland from 20 to 150 miles.

The order is effective Feb. 24. After that date, enemy aliens in that area must remain in their residences from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m., and at all other times they must be at their homes or their places of employment or en route between the two, or in any case within five miles of their residences.

Interment is the penalty for violations. United States attorneys may grant exceptions to the restrictions, "only in cases where a compelling reason exists and after completion of a suitable investigation."

Russians Drag Guns On Sleds

By EDDY GILMORE MOSCOW, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Germans are sending air and tank reinforcements to parts of the southern front to combat Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's increasingly active army but are being more than matched by Red army weapons, Soviet dispatches reported today.

"Despite the reinforcements which have already been brought up to the Russian front from the German-occupied countries, the German generals have demanded from Hitler the immediate dispatch of 20 fresh, picked divisions," the BBC said in a broadcast heard by NBC in New York.

"The generals have threatened," it added, "that otherwise it would be very hard, if not impossible, to prevent a general Russian breakthrough."

Testifying to Red air force superiority, dispatches from the front accredited one Russian air unit with destroying 17 Nazi planes in a week and long-range bombers with deepening their offensives far into the German rear.

At one vital German railroad junction, they said, three supply trains of more than 200 cars, were destroyed.

Dragging machine-guns and cannon on sledges in 40-below-zero (Fahrenheit) cold over the same roads used against Napoleon, the Russians were pressing forward on several fronts, all pointed toward Smolensk, 210 miles west of Moscow, and keeping up their fast pace despite determined German resistance.

Russian forces were reported to have killed more than 1,400 Germans in three different sectors of the front and to have thrown back Nazi counterattacks launched in a vain effort to stem the retreat.

Luzon Troops Talk Longingly Of Arrival Of Convoy 100 Miles Long

By CLARK LEE

WITH THE U. S. ARMY IN LUZON, Feb. 3 (Delayed)—(P)—The scene is Corregidor Island and two day-announced that Corregidor's big guns had wiped out a concentration of Japanese barges and troops assembled at Ternate, 25 miles to the south across Manila Bay, apparently for an assault on the island fortress.

Private Howe Williams, 21, a lanky, red-headed Southerner, begins the conversation: "Well, I sure wish I could let my family know I'm okay."

Sergeant Ken Johnson, a midwesterner in his thirties with six years in the army, has a ready answer: "Sure—a convoy a hundred miles long and 30 miles wide'll be here in three days. They're goin' to land a million men at Lingayen behind the Japs, while the navy closes in between Formosa and Luzon and bottles up all their ships and the B-17s (long range bombers) blast hell out of Tokyo."

Pvt. Williams: "Sure, I heard those rumors two weeks ago."

Sergeant Johnson: "Okay, Okay. Well, seriously though, here's some dope I got from a pal who works in MacArthur's headquarters. You know how our help's comin'? They're buildin' a bridge from San Francisco to Manila—and they've already finished the first quarter mile."

Pvt. Williams: "While they're finishing it, I sure wish that fourth army'd hike out here across the water double-quick."

Sergeant Johnson: "Keep your shirt on, fella. Uncle Sam is gettin' busy and he's gonna start really buildin' those airplanes."

Pvt. Williams (waxing enthusiastic): "You bet! When he gets his sleeves rolled up he'll turn out so many they'll fly over here all day long so thick we can't even see the sun."

Sergeant Johnson: "Yes, sir! They'll do slow rolls over the rock (Corregidor) for 48 hours straight. Certainly will be a pretty sight."

Pvt. Williams (coming back to earth): "Yeah—if we're here to see it."

Sergeant Johnson: "Well, I guess we can wait awhile for our help provided those boys over on Bataan know for sure it's wishin' some day before too long. They're doin' all right."

Pvt. Williams: "Those American fliers at Rangoon are right on the beam, too."

Sergeant Johnson: "So was the navy down in Malacca or Macassar or whatever they call those straits. Those japs sure are spread out, an' one good lickin' any place oughta gum up their whole schedule."

Pvt. Williams: "That artillery fire over on Bataan keep you awake?"

Sergeant Johnson: "Hell, no. I'm used to it. You hear us poundin' them on the other side, too?"

(Corregidor is only one of the islands guarding the mouth of Manila Bay. By "the other side" Williams meant the islands south of Corregidor, which constitute the southern front of the American forces.)

Pvt. Williams: "Yeah, we sure poured it into 'em at Ternate the other day. That dust shot 300 feet up into the air. That was my battery."

(A communique issued from General MacArthur's headquarters Sunday announced that Corregidor's big guns had wiped out a concentration of Japanese barges and troops assembled at Ternate, 25 miles to the south across Manila Bay, apparently for an assault on the island fortress.)

Sergeant Johnson: "Well, I sure wish I could let my family know I'm okay."

Pvt. Williams: "I bet my mammy and pappy done forgot they had a son. They probably saved my corner off the dinner table."

Sergeant Johnson: "Well, let's leave the war to Roosevelt and MacArthur and get back to work."

Pvt. Williams: "Yeah, I gotta go write Tojo's name on some 12-inch shells."

Sergeant Johnson: "See you in Manila."

Pvt. Williams: "Manila? You mean Tokyo. If they send us five or six airplanes we'll be in Tokyo by the Fourth of July eating that sooky yakus."

Sergeant Johnson: "I'll settle for a small steak, well done. But we can try some of that Jap beer, anyhow. It sure will be good to taste beer again."

Two Pledges For Americans:

I PLEDGE myself to be a little thoughtful every day about the meaning of freedom and how and why I am a citizen of a republic of free men and women, and how and why men and women toiled and fought yesterday for my freedom today. I PLEDGE myself to do a little thinking every day about the need of discipline and how, in a time of national danger more than ever, my own rights as a citizen are tangled and interwoven with the rights of others and these rights always deserve a decent respect.

Pampa Should Change Clocks, Nothing Else!

The proposal being considered by various educational, governmental and business units in Pampa to set up their clocks, but to abide by the time that now prevails is defeating the purpose of the War Time Law, and in the final analysis it will amount to sabotaging of a vital aspect of the national war effort.

Such a proposal would lead to demoralizing confusion. It would make a mockery of the law, and would make it the subject of ridicule. Furthermore it would tend to create disunity.

Instead of claiming exceptions, educational, governmental and business units should take the lead in changing their clocks and in changing nothing else.

LABOR UNIONS NOT QUALIFIED FOR MANAGEMENT

The desire of the labor unions to have the government take over the automobile industry and give them a place on the Board of Management, raises the question as to the utter absurdity of thinking of giving organized labor a place in management. In the first place, organized labor's ideas are exactly opposite from those of management. Organized labor's whole theory of improving the lot of man is to produce less and make things scarce and make work instead of reducing work.

On the other hand, the objective of successful business men is to reduce the work, to satisfy a given want, to make things plentiful and supply the consumer with his wants with less effort on the part of the consumer.

Labor unions attempt to do exactly the opposite; namely, make it so that the workers in a plant get an abnormal reward, no matter how much it raises the real labor required for the customers to get the product produced by union labor.

It certainly would be the height of inconsistency to think of giving organized labor with their cockeyed ideas any share in management, when their whole scheme, as demonstrated by their acts, is exactly the opposite from what is beneficial to the consumers.

And every worker in the land is a consumer.

COMPETITION IS COOPERATION

Most theorists and utopians are constantly saying that they want cooperation rather than competition.

But the mind of man has never devised a better form of cooperation than competition.

Competition simply means that we permit each man to do the things he is best fitted to do and that he freely exchange his production with the production of other people producing what they are best qualified to do. This is cooperation. It raises the standard of living of all people in a truly effective manner.

But this is not cooperation. It is tyranny and slavery. Real cooperation is the free market, or competitive, system.

CHRISTIANITY AND UNEMPLOYMENT

I have repeatedly said that the church leader who did not understand why we have unemployment did not understand Christianity.

Christianity and unemployment are not natural laws; that God can be and not be at the same time; then, of course, it is very difficult for him to understand the immutable laws that govern social relations.

If there is one thing we need, it is a better understanding of the religion taught by Jesus, rather than the arbitrary interpretations of what He taught by people who would perpetuate their position of having the exclusive right to interpret Christianity.

speaker say that we are no better than the nazis? Before the speaker could frame his reply a Negro minister rose. "May I answer that question," he asked. "A few days ago my little girl came home from school and said to her mother, 'Mother, I just hate those wicked Japs!' When her mother asked her why she said such a thing she answered, 'My teacher has been telling us in school all about those wicked people those Japs are, and how we must see if any of our toys were made in Japan and, if they were, destroy them.' Here the Negro minister turned to face his entire audience of clerical colleagues. "What am I to tell my little girl?" he demanded. "What am I to say to her, this little girl of mine who is being taught by the American school system to crucify the Japanese on the same cross on which she herself is being crucified?"

THE BRITISH PRESS WAKES UP

In peace as well as in war British newspapers have generally been amenable to suggestions from official quarters. Thus it was that the British were virtually the last literate people to learn to learn the lessons of the past.

This disposition to print nothing displeasing to those in power had more serious repercussions on the military defense of the British empire than it had on its social system.

There has been a sharp change, of late, in this attitude. The press in Great Britain is alert. The bad news from Malaya has resulted in sharp criticism of those responsible for the losses there in demands by the newspapers that matters be set aright.

The American press must learn from the British example that its duty is eternal vigilance. It has a civic duty in time of peace and a patriotic duty in time of war. It is the duty not to condone or console jacks in office, but to expose their shortcomings and demand that they be replaced by competent men.

SPEAKING OF AIRM

Senator Vandenberg's discovery that despite the rubber shortage the Army has called for bids for 3000 rubber mats, each weighing one and one-half pounds, to be placed under cuspidors, illustrates some of the developments of armament effort.

The suggestion of a Senator that instead of purchasing the mats the Army teach its armchair generals to have better aim is not a bad one.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4.—Blond, blue-eyed and pleasantly-proportioned Betty Hutton has insinuated herself into Hollywood's consciousness with about the same degree of gentleness and subtlety as a major earthquake.

Her movie debut will burst on the screen soon in a vaudevillesque musical called "The Fleet's In," and somewhat to the detriment of the star, Dorothy Lamour, Miss Hutton is all over the place.

Your Federal Income Tax

INCOME CONSTRUCTIVELY RECEIVED

Income which becomes the property of a person during the taxable year should be included in his gross income even though he does not have physical possession of it. This occurs where income is unconditionally credited to his account or set apart subject to his order at any time, and such income is said to have been constructively received.

If, under an agreement, a taxpayer's debt is paid for his benefit by another, the effect is the same as if the money had been paid to the taxpayer and he had transmitted it to his creditor. It often happens that a taxpayer who owns property agrees that the income from such property shall be paid to a third party, or he may contract to perform services for a second party, and it is agreed that the compensation shall be paid to a third party. In each case the amount paid to the third party at the taxpayer's order is taxable to the taxpayer as constructively received income.

Where interest coupons have matured and are payable, such interest, though not yet collected, is to be included in gross income of the owner of the coupons for the year during which the coupons mature, unless it can be shown that there are no funds available for payment of the interest during that year.

Interest credited on a savings bank deposit is income to the depositor when credited. Interest or dividends credited unconditionally to shareholders of a building and loan association are taxable income of the shareholder for the year of the credit. If, however, the amount of such credits cannot be drawn by the shareholder until the maturity of the share in a future year, then it is not income to him during the year of the credit.

Income received for a taxpayer by his agent, such as rental payments, is taxable income to the taxpayer for the year of its receipt by the agent.

LEFORS BOXERS WIN 11 OUT OF 14 FIGHTS FROM BORGANS

Fraley Ekes Out Win Over McLaughlin

LEFORS, Feb. 4 (NS)—Toby Waggoner's Lefors Pirate boxers won 11 out of 14 bouts from the Borger Bulldog boxers here last night before a full house. John Rankin was third man in the ring with McLaughlin and Hill of Pampa, and King, as judges.

Six wins had been registered by Lefors before Borger was able to break into the win column. Then the Pirates took five more before Borger took command.

Two of the bouts ended in knockouts when Bobby Dunn, the Lefors 75-pound sensation, dropped Earl for the count in the first round, and when Stephens of Lefors kayoed Wood of Borger, at 135 pounds, in the second round.

Most popular bout of the night was Charles Vanlandingham's sensational victory over Grape, Borger's top-notch 135 pounder.

Fraley, ace of the Borger team, eked out a split decision over McLaughlin in the 115-pound class. Fraley entered the fight at 118 pounds and McLaughlin at 109 pounds.

Childress will bring a team of boxers to Lefors next Tuesday night. Results last night (Borger boxer named first):

65 pounds—Goodwin lost to Farless; McQuarry lost to Woods.

75 pounds—Lewis lost to Larkin; Earl was kayoed by Dunn; Hogg lost to McLaughlin.

125 pounds—Charles lost to Krouse.

135 pounds—Uarka defeated Cheek; Grape lost to Vanlandingham; Wood was kayoed by Stephens.

85 pounder—L. Mays lost to Cooper.

95 pounds—Hale lost to Clemmons; Prince lost to L. Hughes.

105 pounds—T. Mays defeated Tubbs.

115 pounds—Fraley beat McLaughlin.

Trampoline takes a flip.

Trampolining Makes 'Em Sharp For Other Sports

By WILLIAM J. KEHOE
NEA Special Correspondent
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 3.—Trampolining is the funniest word. When I first saw it in print, I thought it was part of a war dispatch from the Far East. Imagine my amazement when a student at Pennsylvania State College advised it was the name of a new sport.

Well, not exactly a new game, but maybe a new word. You will be hearing a lot about trampolining from now on.

Aviators and paratroops use it as a conditioner.

Trampolining can be done at home if you have a tolerant mother. You can jump up and down on the bed springs and be a novice trampoliner, for that's what it entails.

CANVAS IS STRETCHED OVER A STEEL FRAME

Many colleges now have trampolines. They are nothing more than resilient platforms, made from a steel frame, over which is stretched a strip of canvas.

You can drop to the platform from a trapeze just as they do in the circus. Trampolining is pretty much of a lot of fun.

Who ever went to a circus and didn't want to do that himself? Trampolining in the colleges is a little different, but the idea is the same. You land on the trampoline and take flippers in the air. Before long you have learned to do all sorts of fancy tricks.

DEVELOP COMPETITION BY SCORING SYSTEM

They've got it down to the point now where you can trampolines against someone else if you have a penchant for the competitive. A scoring system has been worked out in which you get so many points for this trick and so many for the other. Grace, poise and rhythm count.

This newest thing in collegiate pastimes is a fine conditioner for other sports.

Basketball men, especially, find it puts them in fine fettle. Orthodox tumbler and gymnasts are running away from mats and spending most of their time on trampolines.

To be a good trampoliner you must first get your self into a state of mind that makes you believe you aren't going to get hurt. Something like the feeling you had when you took your second jump off the diving board as a boy.

Confidence, agility, a certain amount of daring, and you're a trampoliner.

Keep 'em bouncing.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (Wide World)—Inside report is that Billy Conn and Manager Johnny Ray aren't interested in a bust-up as has been rumored but they have been exchanging some pretty hot words about Billy's refusal to train. . . . Nat Flescher has quit giving his championship belts to fighters for the duration. They're now on the priority list for medals. . . . Two hours after the major league meetings ended Judge Landis was aboard a train for Florida. . . . Maybe that's why they settled things so quickly.

Not A Dark Horse

Greg Rice, who will be shooting for his 39th consecutive victory in the Millrose track meet Saturday, won't have to worry about the possibility of a blackout during the race. . . . He trains at night on the Columbia university outdoor track, a half block away from the nearest light. . . . Greg probably won't have to worry about the opposition, either.

Hot Steve Warmup

Connie Mack and Gerry Nugent have been conducting surveys around Philadelphia industrial plants to learn when they should start their daylight ball games in order to catch the customers before and after work. . . . Minor league baseballers, who formerly could hardly wait for spring training and free grub, now are complaining because the training season is too long. It will take a lot of them off high pay defense jobs. . . . Jo McCarthy says he isn't worrying about his night-game pitchers but he'd like to know who his is best night-game hitter. . . . Leo Durocher, trapped in a hotel talking to four umpires, explained: "I never gave them any trouble." He was right. All four were American leaguers.

Future Book

Texas apparently is getting set for another big football season. Four stars of the Temple team that went to the state high school championship final in 1941 are due to become Longhorns at mid-term. If they work through the spring and summer sessions they'll be eligible for the varsity next fall.

Senators Get Permission For 21 After-Dark Games

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Those capital city cities who drew a congressman's ripostes for not going to bed early now have 21 more reasons to avoid staying at home evenings with a good book this summer.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, obtained permission from baseball's major league bosses yesterday for 21 after-dark contests—to aid the war effort by bolstering Washington morale.

The remaining 15 big league clubs may play up to 14 games under the lights in their own parks. Griffith demanded 28 contests but the others opposed it. The compromise was effected by Commissioner K. M. Landis.

Not only did Griffith and his major league pals give the fans more night baseball but they extended the curfew as well. In the past no inning was allowed to start after 11:30. With the coming of wartime universal daylight saving time, however, the rule was amended to read 12:30 a. m.

The increase of eve contests didn't receive universal approval. Larry McPherson, general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who introduced the after-dark phase to the majors, said he wasn't sure his club would take advantage of the increase.

Roger Peckinpah, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, indicated his club might play some of the allotted contests as twilight affairs, starting at 6:30 p. m.

After their joint meeting with the American League bosses, the National League chiefs immediately began revising their schedule to accommodate the extra night games. Both leagues, however, retained Tuesday, April 14, as the starting date, with these pairings:

American League
New York at Washington.
Philadelphia at Boston.
Cleveland at Detroit.
St. Louis at Chicago.

National League
Brooklyn at New York.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.
Chicago at St. Louis.

Conn Issues Dire Threats Against Zale

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Even the phone bell sounded peevish, and the operator barely cleared "Pittsburgh calling" before a snarl chased her off the line. It might have been a slightly angry dog, only you know dogs didn't make calls from Pittsburgh.

"Hey," the voice hey-ed, "this is Billy Conn, and I wanna announce something. I see by the papers where Tony Zale says he's gonna punch me all over the ring in Madison Square Garden Feb. 13. Well, the first time I see that mug on the street or in a movie or having a chocolate soda, I'm gonna walk up and knock his ears off. And you can tell him so."

This was definitely not Sweet William, the Smokytown pretty boy. It was more like the fierce flailer of the second Fred Apostoli fight a couple of years back. Or maybe the cold-blooded hot-headed who tossed the heavyweight championship away one night last summer because he wanted to slug it out with Joe Louis. Something, no doubt, had riled him.

"Yeah—you bet," he went on, accompanying his remarks with some of the choicest—and gaudiest—vocabulary ever to smoke up the Pittsburgh-New York line. "Who does he think I am? One of those bums he's been lucky enough to get in the ring with him. I'm promising right now. As soon as I see him, I'm goin' right to work. And when I finish, he's gonna look like a plate of salami and eggs right here in Goldstein's delicatessen in Pittsburgh."

Baylor Comes From Behind To Whip Ags

(By The Associated Press)
Baylor's embattled Bears were still in the running today for the Southwest conference basketball title.

The Bruins came from behind to whip the Texas Aggies last night in Waco 38 to 26, giving them a season record of four wins and two losses.

Tied for the top are Texas Christian and Arkansas with three wins and one tie each.

The Baylor win was an old story in Southwest basketball—the Bears are tough to beat on their own court.

With only 30 seconds to play the score was 35-all.

That grand little money-player, Dwight Parks, sank a free shot to give the Bruins a one-point lead and with fifteen seconds left L. V. Arnett made it 38 to 26 with a brilliant field goal.

There never was more than a four-point difference during the game.

Rice, tied with Baylor with four wins and two losses, meets dangerous East Texas State tonight at Commerce in a non-conference game. Tomorrow night Texas plays Sam Houston at Austin, also a non-conference affair.

Friday night Arkansas comes to Waco to meet the Bears and Rice will tangle with the Phillips Oilers at Bartlesville, Okla., in an exhibition clash.

Saturday night Arkansas plays Baylor again and T. C. U. meets Texas in Austin.

TAMBAY GOLD

IN THE CABIN

CHAPTER XXVII

WHILE I was waiting on them, Juddy slipped across to the plane and pinched the revolver. She wasn't for letting Angel shoot some poor slob that might be perfectly innocent. They put off without noticing their loss.

They hadn't been gone half an hour when Doc showed up at the Feederia. He was in his working clothes, and he looked white and grave.

"Old Swoby is back," Doc said. "I've got him in the shelter."

"Then everything's jake," I said. "No. He's been shot."

"Shot?" Juddy forgot her feud with Doc. "What—why—?" "It isn't serious. Flesh wound. I've dressed his arm."

"What have they got on him?" "He was found hiding in a barn near the place."

"Hiding from the airplanes?" "Of course. But could you get a mob to believe that? There's something else. The woman, before she died, muttered something about a man with a red head. Swoby had that infernal red cap of his on. When they found him, he ran."

"What'll we do, Doc?" "I've telephoned the State Police."

"Did you get 'em out?" "No, they're all out on the hunt. I left word."

I hustled across to the Feederia and brought back my good old forty-five.

"Look," I said. "Give this to Old Swoby and head him for the Big Swamp. They won't find him there. Not tonight. Lord! What's that?"

"But I'd heard that lost-soul wailing before."

"Bloodhounds," he said. "The swamp is hopeless. He's further to Juddy. Is there a bar to the door of the log shed in your back yard?"

"Yes."

"My God, Doc!" I said. "Are you crazy? You can't stand 'em off here."

"Have you got any better plan?" "No. But—"

"You don't expect me to give Swoby up, surely?" "I'd rather have him killed than you."

"We're wasting time," he said. Juddy spoke up, kind of desperate.

"Yes, we're wasting time. Don't you see you can't do anything with him?"

She didn't look at Doc. I think she was afraid to.

"Come, Swoby," he called.

Swoby came out. He stared from one to the other of us and then said something that made me almost cry. "Why must they kill me?" he said. "This is not my country."

"You must do what Mr. Oliver tells you," Juddy said to him. "Something shoved against my leg. It was Wolf."

"Okay, boy," I said. "Trail along. You like trouble."

WE all went across the road to make ready. Doc sized up the log cabin and the lay of the land around it. He had his pistol. I had my old forty-five whanger. Juddy's twelve-gauge stood in the hall corner. I sneaked it and a box of shells and gave the lot to Old Swoby who'd been in the war and knew a gun when he saw it.

Juddy had hung on to the gat she swiped from Hendy's plane.

"They might try to burn us out," Doc said. "We'd better roll that rain barrel in. We'll need buckets." That guy thought of everything.

While Juddy and I were getting out the buckets for water the sound of the dogs got nearer and more mournful. They were baying at the forest where Old Swoby waded the stream. That didn't give us too much time. Doc spoke up, quiet and business like.

"This is the plan. When they come, I shall try to get a hearing. I don't want to hurt anyone. But I do want them to believe that we're prepared to shoot if necessary. Now you two go back to the mansion and keep after the troopers."

"And leave you here?" Juddy said. "This is no time to argue," he said. "Go back."

Juddy didn't argue. She just walked into the shack. I trailed. Wolf followed me.

"For God's sake, Juddy!" Her voice shook, too, when she spoke. "I'm not afraid. At least, not very."

"Mom!" he said. "Mom! Get her out!"

"Don't start anything Doc," I warned him. "I was base of a living pyramid once. You can't shove me around. And I won't let you shove Juddy. We're staying."

"They come now," Old Swoby said. "The hounds were yelling for blood; the mob, too. The front line of the chase straggled into the yard. Doc pushed the big door shut and slipped the bar. Old Swoby took his place at the rear window with Juddy's gun. It all looked to me like bad trouble.

Doc stood by the small front window next the door. "Everybody quiet, please," he said. "I'll do the talking."

HE stuck his pistol through the window and fired a shot in the air. A car swung into the grounds. By its lights I could see the advance guard taking cover in the thickets. Bixie Groff and a bunch of his townies were behind one clump.

"Don't come any further," Doc said. "You'd have thought he was in his classroom. Quiet authority; that was his pitch. Some bird behind a live oak called out.

"Give the fella up, Prof. We got nothing against you."

"Anybody interferes, they're right liable to get hurt."

Groff, with a couple of his pals, was edging over to the left. A bullet plunked into the log above my head. Some more followed. They were firing high. The car lights were switched off now, but there was enough moon so we could see a man moving forward alone.

"Stop that shooting," he said. "Maurie Sears," Juddy said. "Quiet!" Doc snapped at her.

"Oliver!" Sears called. "Can I have a word with you?" "Certainly."

He walked up to the door. Through my chink between the logs, I could see his face, stern and set.

"You might as well give him up, Oliver."

"So that you and your friends can lynch him?" "I'll never have a hand in another lynching. Not at Tambay." (Well, I knew why that was.)

Doc said: "Will you guarantee to deliver him safely to jail?" "I'll do my best."

"I believe that, Sears. But I don't believe it would be good enough."

"There isn't much time," Maurice Sears said. "As your friend, Oliver, I beg you to turn the man over to me."

Doc seemed to be thinking about it, for he didn't say anything for a few seconds. Then, "That's your best advice?" "It is."

"Would you do it in my place?" "The case is differ—"

"Would you do it in my place, Sears?" "No."

"I thought not. But you expect me to?" "No."

"Thank you, Sears. Neither will I."
